City Councilmen Back Tripp For Highways Post

By STUART SAVAGE
Reflector Staff Writer

The Greenville City Council joined a move last night to gain the appointment of W. Arthur Tripp to the North Carolina Highway Commission.

At a special meeting, the Council approved a resolution to be forwarded to Governor-elect Robert W. Scott, recommending Tripp.

ARTHUR TRIPP

The resolution, pointing out that Pitt as the largest county in the eight-county district "has not been honored by the appointment of a highway commissioner from among its citizens since 1944," said the Greenville governing body "enthusiastically and wholeheartedly recommends the appointment of . . . Tripp."

It named to the Highway

Commission by Scott, Tripp would represent Division Two, including Pitt, Beaufort, Pamlico, Jones, Craven, Carteret, Lenoir and Greene counties.

Last night's action by the Greenville council followed an endorsement of Tripp for the post made by the Greenville Chamber of Commerce and Merchants Association at its annual meeting November 14, and earlier action by The Bethel Townboro.

Tripp, a Greenville warehouseman and farmer, has been active in civic projects and in programs supporting economic advancement in the area. He has also been a leader in the Democratic party in the county.

Pitt Democratic party officials said today that other resolutions supporting the appointment of Tripp are expected to come from the governing boards of various other municipalities in the county, as well as the county governing board.

Support, too, is expected from leaders in other counties in the Second Highway Division.

W. W. Exum of Snow Hill is presently serving as commissioner from the Second District and is eligible for re-appointment by Scott.

Greenville oil distributor John Clark was the last Pitt County man to serve as a member of the State Highway Commission. Clark was named to the Commission by the late Gov. Gregg Cherry and served on the highway body during the mid-1960's.

Da Nang Is Pounded By Red Gunners

SAIGON (AP) — Communist gunners stepped up their rocket and mortar attacks Tuesday night, giving Da Nang its heaviest pounding in three months and hitting two American infantry units, five district towns and one provincial capital.

Casualties and damage generally were light. But one of the mortar attacks, on a night bivouac of U.S. 1st Division infantry units 24 miles north of Saigon, was followed by a ground attack by 150 enemy soldiers hurling grenades and blazing away with machine guns.

Artillery and gunships drove the attackers off at daybreak after three hours of fighting. U.S. Headquarters said the bodies of 12 of the enemy were found just outside the American lines and 14 weapons were captured.

One American was killed and 12 were wounded. Military spokesmen said in the other attacks one American and nine South Vietnamese were killed, and nine Americans and 13 South Vietnamese were wounded.

Sixty-five rockets and mortar rounds hit U.S. and South Vietnamese military installations in Da Nang, South Vietnam's second largest city and the biggest military complex north of Saigon.

Several shells slammed into a U.S. Navy hospital area, but initial reports said they caused no damage or casualties.

A South Vietnamese spokesman said there now have been 74 rocket and mortar attacks on population centers since President Johnson halted the bombing of North Vietnam Nov. 1. He said 33 civilians have been killed and 192 wounded in the attacks.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Students swarmed back to troubled San Francisco State college today as plainclothes police stood by near the campus. The campus of 18,000 students was closed last Wednesday because of violence in connection with demands to improve educational advantages for minority students and reinstate a Negro instructor.

As the college reopened in the foggy San Francisco suburbs, representatives of the Student Strike Committee picketed for a continuance of a classroom boycott.

A committee statement released Tuesday, after college President Robert D. Smith ordered classes resumed "with police protection if necessary," said: "The only way to establish a meaningful position is for students to continue mass unified action in the form of this strike."

President Smith said Tuesday night, "The dean of the seven schools and I have decided to resume a full class schedule." He rejected a faculty proposal for a single campuswide class today.

The faculty called for a dialogue between Smith and the striking Black Students Union which would be piped to classrooms.

Smith earlier had told students that the campus would reopen in compliance with a state college trustees order, but police protection would be necessary. The trustees said violence and threat of violence would not be tolerated on any of the 19 state college campuses.

Smith was booed and jeered when he said: "It is crucial that we turn more to the community—to law enforcement agencies—to try to control violence on this campus."

Some white students later said they had voted to picket all classes, conduct classroom education disruptions and "defend ourselves if attacked by police."

Campus disorders erupted after the state college system chancellor, Glenn Dumke, ordered Black Panther George Murray suspended for 30 days as a part-time instructor and graduate student pending an investigation. Murray had urged Negro students to carry guns on campus.

The Black Students Union demanded Murray's reinstatement and also called for more courses in Negro culture and admission of more minority students. Most of the school's 18,000 students are white.

Grand Jury Probe Of Black Panthers Asked

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Mayor Joseph L. Alioto called for a grand jury investigation of the Black Panthers following a gun battle in which three policemen were wounded, two critically. Eight Negroes were arrested.

The shooting Tuesday erupted within 100 yards of a police station after two cruising patrolmen stopped a panel truck minutes after a service station hold-up.

Police said Sgt. Robert Flynn, 51, was shot in the groin while questioning the driver of the "ice" painted on the side.

"He had the driver with his hands on the side of the truck when someone inside the front seat shot him," said John Palou, a fireman at a station directly across the street.

Lt. Dermott Creedon, 49, was shot in the chest as he stepped out of the patrol car, revolver in hand, police said.

Alioto called Tuesday night for a grand jury investigation

"into any organization which advocates shooting of policemen and to which any of the defendants belong."

Creedon and Flynn remained in critical condition today.

Three officers were in a car which answered an emergency call from Creedon.

Lt. Michael O'Mahoney said: "I saw three men pour out of the van and I ordered them to halt, but they fired at me and ran into an areaway next to a church."

O'Mahoney was wounded in the hand, but said the three came out of the church with their hands up after he fired three warning shots.

The other officers with O'Mahoney ran to the van.

"Five men in the back of the truck started to get out and I covered them with my gun and ordered them back in and locked them in," said officer John Hanfin.

The gunfire brought other officers running from the nearby Hall of Justice.

Entryway Is Destroyed Fear As Many As 75 Coal Miners Trapped By Blast In W. Va. Mine Tunnel

MANNINGTON, W.Va. (AP) —Thundering explosions ripped through a rich coal mine early today, trapping as many as 75 miners. But the Marion County sheriff's office and coal company officials said 21 had been located or rescued.

Smoke and fire billowed from one entrance to the mine and smoke clogged others.

Sheriff Robert Tennant said eight men had been found at the bottom of a shaft and were scooped out, two at a time, by a bucket lowered into the shaft by a crane.

The mine is the Mountaineer Coal Company's No. 9 located just west of Mannington in the coal country of north-central West Virginia, near the Pennsylvania state line. Mountaineer is the state's third largest coal producing company and is a division of Consolidation Coal Co.

Mountaineer president Dave Davis said 13 miners had come out of the mine at the slope opening near the coal preparation plant.

"The severity of the explosive forces in the Llewellyn portal area were of such great magnitude as to place in jeopardy the lives of the employees working in the immediate area," Davis said. The company said 360 men work the mine in three shifts. The more than 70 men on the third shift were due off about 7:30 a.m. (EST). But the first explosion rumbled through the long shaft about an hour and a half earlier.

Wives and children of the miners rushed to the entrance, as did rescue teams from across the area.

Tennant said seven to nine men reached the surface safely just after the first blast. The force of the blast, Tennant said, blew machinery through the Llewellyn portal and destroyed. Rescuers concentrated on the Farmington portal, about one mile from the Llewellyn entrance.

West Virginia Gov. Hulet C. Smith said in Charleston that he sent mine experts to the scene and that he had received an offer of assistant from Washington.

Tennant said the first explosion was just before 6 a.m. (EST) but he added there were "at least" two more explosions around 8:30 a.m.

Most of the men were due off their shift at 7:30 a.m. The mine normally employs about 360 men who work in three shifts. State Mines Director Elmer Workman rushed to the scene to direct rescue efforts.

The Mannington mine produced more than two million tons of coal last year. The shaft has a 98-inch coal seam which is an abnormally large seam and the mine's production indicates its richness. Daily production averages 9,434 tons.

A slope mine is a shaft burrowed into the side of a mountain at a low angle and the coal is pulled from the mine on cars riding a narrow-gauge track.

The West Virginia Department of mines said there were no fatal accidents at the mine last year, but there have been 18 nonfatal incidents this year.

Finance Chiefs Huddling Over Another Crisis

By COLIN FORST
Associated Press Writer

LONDON (AP) — The leading finance ministers of the Western world hurried to Bonn today to try to halt the second major crisis in the international monetary system this year.

Most Western money markets were shut to check speculators' attacks on major Western currencies.

With the money exchanges closed, the speculators switched to gold and sent its price soaring.

Many financial experts in London considered the present emergency even more serious than the March gold crisis because three of the world's principal trading currencies—the French franc, the pound sterling and the dollar — were simultaneously under attack by the speculators.

The crisis was sparked by belief that a devaluation of the franc and a revaluation upward of the West German deutschemark—the world's strongest currency—were imminent.

Speculators rushed to change francs for marks and the fever soon spread to include both the pound and the dollar. But the franc was hardest hit.

In an attempt to check the flight to the mark, the West German government announced that it would not revalue the currency but instead was making tax changes to reduce the large foreign trade surplus responsible for the expectation of revaluation.

In what London's Financial Times called a "backdoor revaluation," the Bonn government said it would reduce its tax on imports and the tax rebate it pays on exports. This should reduce the flow of West German exports and increase imports, resulting in a reduction of the surplus trade balance.

To strengthen confidence in the franc, the French National Assembly approved Premier Maurice Couve de Murville's proposal to reduce 1969 budget expenditures $400 million, which he said would cut the deficit for the year to $1.88 billion. The premier called the cut a "first leg" but gave no indication what spending programs would suffer.

To give the governments a breathing space while the financial community evaluated these measures, the French government closed all financial markets today. West German markets were closed because the day is a national holiday, and the British government ordered the London foreign exchange market closed.

West German Economics Minister Karl Schiller called an emergency meeting in Bonn today of the "Group of 10," the finance ministers of Belgium, Britain, Canada, France, West Germany, the Netherlands, Italy, Japan, Sweden and the United States. U.S. Treasury Secretary Henry H. Fowler already was there, taking a roundabout route back to Washington from the NATO meeting in Brussels last week. But the United States so far appeared to be taking only a standby role in the crisis.

Youth Dies In Burning Plant

JACKSONVILLE, N.C. (AP) — John Maness, 19-year-old son of Swansboro Police Chief M. T. Maness, died Tuesday night in a fire that swept through a section of the Swansboro Garment Co. plant.

The Swansboro Rescue Squad said young Maness, a cleaning man, was alone in the plant at the time, and apparently was trapped in an office by the flames.

Swansboro firemen estimated damage at more than $100,000 and said the cause of the blaze was under investigation.

Red China's UN Entry Again Beaten

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Advocates of U.N. membership for Red China suffered their worst defeat in four years Tuesday. By a vote of 58-44 with 23 abstentions, the General Assembly rejected a resolution to expel Nationalist China and seat the Chinese Communists.

A similar resolution was defeated last year by a vote of 58-45 with 17 abstentions. The Peking forces came closest to victory in 1965 when the vote was a 47-47 tie.

This year's resolution was sponsored by 15 nations headed by Albania, Peking's mouthpiece in the United Nations.

Only two other Communist nations, Cuba and Romania, joined in sponsoring the draft. The Soviet Union, locked in an ideological dispute with the Chinese Reds, voted for the proposal after giving it only perfunctory support.

The assembly adhered to its previous policy of requiring a two-thirds vote.

Feel Targets Of 'Birth Control'

RALEIGH (AP) — The governor's committee on population control was told Tuesday that the present emphasis on birth control in poverty programs adds to racial tension.

"Negroes see attempts to control their families as unconscious attempts by whites to end the Negro race," said Dr. L. Swift, an obstetrician and gynecologist representing the Negro Old North State Medical Society.

Scout 'Compass' Award To Adams

Heber Adams, an engineer at television station WNCT-TV, has been awarded the "Compass" award as the outstanding Scout leader of the year in Pitt County.

The "Compass" award is given annually to the one person who contributes most to the advancement of Scout work in Pitt County during a one-year period.

The "Green Arm Band" awards, which are given in recognition to outstanding service by Scout leaders during the year, were presented to Mrs.

HEBER ADAMS

Sam Weeks; Tom Butts of Greenville, and to Dr. Bert Warren of Farmville. Once awarded, the recipient is authorized to wear the "Green Arm Band" to all scouting functions.

A record breaking crowd of more than 400 people were present at the Pitt County District of the Boy Scouts of America's annual Recognition Banquet last night at the Moose Lodge, when the awards were presented.

A new slate of officers was elected for the coming year. The new officers are: Knott Proctor, District Chairman; Frank Saunders, Vice-Chairman; Heber Adams, District Commissioner.

The current District Chairman, Fred Bauman, presided over the banquet. Sam D Bundy was the guest speaker for the evening. Invocation was by Rev. William Quick, minister of St. James United Methodist Church.

Thirteen Scouts who earned the Eagle Rank, the highest in scouting were presented to the assembled guests by Bob Mosley, District Scout Executive. The 13 Eagle Award recipients during 1968 are: William R. Burton and David D. Perry, Troop 15; Joshua H. Weeks, Troop 30; William F. Whiteford, Troop 340; John H. Banks, Jr., Troop 362; John D. Lambeth, Troop 386; Jack E. Corbett and Dana A. Mills, Troop 452; Edwin Congleton, David M. Nobles, Lennie H. Harris, Richard Ward Parker, and John B. Winn, Troop 491.

The second group presented were the winners of the God and Country Award. This is a religious award in scouting, and is awarded by the church to which the scout is affiliated. Recipients of this honor in 1968 are: William Roger Cates and Kim Elmore Hodge, Troop 200; Thomas Henry Brown, Jeff S. Cargile, Maurice G. Sheppard, Jeffrey Steig, Joe O. Swain, Jr., and William H. Watson, Jr., Troop 40; Thomas N. Drake and Pete Horton, Troop 386; Bryant Hines, Jr., Troop 452.

O. B. Roberts, East Carolina Council Executive, and Greenville, were guests at the Mr. and Mrs. Ed Rawl of Greenville, were guests at the banquet. Rawl is Council President. Roberts installed the new officers for the coming year.

Outgoing Chairman Fred Baumann congratulated the Scout leaders on the outstanding work they have achieved during the 1968. In all aspects, it has been a record-breaking year.

"We have had an all time high of advancements - in rank, 377 through October, compared to 340 for all of 1967. Scouts have earned 658 merit badges this year compared to 391 in 1967," Baumann said.

"The new Weblo program for Cub Scouts has met with overwhelming success. Every Cub Pack in the district now has at least one Weblo Den and 75 Activity Badges have already been earned by Weblos."

Baumann noted that the Boy over two thousand boys in Pitt County to date this year.

Canada Is 'Reconsidering' Commitments To NORAD

OTTAWA (AP) — The Canadian government is considering whether to increase its forces assigned to the North American Defense Command, decrease them or pull out of NORAD, Prime Minister Pierre Elliott Trudeau told the House of Commons Tuesday.

Trudeau said Canada's part in the command, in which it is the junior partner to the United States, is "indirectly" included in a government review of foreign and defense policy now being made.

If Canada decides to contribute nothing to the joint U.S.-Canada command, established in 1958 with headquarters in Colorado, the agreement would become defunct, he said.

If Canada decreases its commitment but does not eliminate it, Trudeau continued, the NORAD agreement can exist with "very little arms from one side or the other."

He added that Canada might decide to increase its arms commitment.

Canada renewed the NORAD pact with the United States last spring for a five-year term expiring in 1973. The Canadian commitment includes three Voodoo interceptor squadrons and two Bomarc missile sites, both defenses against bombers.

Canada and the United States have the right to withdraw from NORAD on a year's notice.

Asked whether additional U.S. troops might be stationed on Canadian soil if Ottawa reduces its commitment to NORAD, Trudeau said: "Of course it is a possibility, but I would not suggest it as a likelihood."

He refused to elaborate on whether any definite policy decision had been made beyond saying "the government may or may not change its mind."

Canadians have a right to know, said Trudeau, "but the trouble is, if we are to tell them our policy before reviewing it, there would be little purpose in reviewing it."

Months ago Trudeau had indicated his interest in maintaining good North American defense system. There has been talk in Ottawa that Canada might reduce its North Atlantic Treaty Organization force in Europe, which consists of a 5,000-man brigade and an air division.

Trudeau said Tuesday that the policy review which began last May involves "what kind of defense policy we need, whether in or out of NATO, in or out of NORAD and so on."

DEAR ABBY: I am 19 and have a beautiful baby whom my husband and I both adore. I was 6 months pregnant when I got married, but my husband and I are very much in love, and we are not ashamed of it. My problem is my mother. She is so ashamed of me that she's gone around saying we were "secretly" married for 6 months, and I guess some believe her and some don't.

I just tell people the truth. We're going to a family wedding out of state soon and my mother says if she hears me tell anybody we were married in January and the baby was born in April she will take me bodily from the room. I told her I wasn't going to lie about it, but she has already lied so much she looks silly. Now she says I don't have the right to make a liar out of her. So what would you do?

NO LIAR
DEAR NO LIAR: If you have been telling people the truth, I doubt if your mother's story has fooled many. Don't volunteer any of the specific dates, but if you're pinned down, stick with the truth.

DEAR READER: With pleasure, and here it is:

DEAR ABBY: I am the mother of three daughters, ages 11, 13, and 15. These girls are driving me crazy! There is never a peaceful minute in this house. They are always fighting. When they were small they were constantly at each other's throat but I thought they would get along better when they got older. Well, they've gotten worse, not better. We have done everything to teach them love and respect for each other, but we've failed. My husband still insists they will "outgrow" this hatred they seem to have for one another. Will they? If so, when?

GOING CRAZY
DEAR GOING: Be patient. Girls between 11 and 14 are generally stubborn, selfish, and moody. They will become more reasonable and considerate of each other when they mature. Unfortunately by that time, they'll be ready to leave home. Sorry, Mother, but why should it be any different at your house?

You Can Be Copycat Cooking Candy

By CECILY BROWNSTONE

Associated Press Food Editor

One of the most delicious hard candies is the coffee-flavored variety that has become known to candy devotees throughout the country. Because it's not sold everywhere, we decided to ferret out a recipe for it.

Here it is, and a delicious hard candy it makes. But one suggestion. This recipe tells you how to finish the candy two ways—by turning it into a pan or dropping it from a spoon. Unless you are an experienced candymaker, we suggest that you use the former method. Keeping the candy malleable enough to be dropped takes a bit of doing.

COFFEE TAFFY
2-3rds cup ground (percolator or drip) coffee
2-3rds cup water
1 tablespoon white or cider vinegar

2-3rds cup light corn syrup
1/2 cup heavy cream
Pinch of salt

Prepare coffee essence by simmering ground coffee, water and vinegar until about two tablespoons liquid or less remain. Drain liquid from grounds using filter paper in closely woven cloth; set aside.

Into a heavy three-quart saucepan, stir together sugar, corn syrup, cream and salt. Stirring constantly, cook over medium low heat until mixture comes to a boil. Cover and boil for three minutes. Remove cover and continue cooking without stirring until temperature reaches 260 degrees on a candy thermometer or until a small amount of mixture dropped into very cold water forms a ball that is hard enough to hold its shape, yet plastic. Then, stirring constantly, continue cooking until temperature reaches 300 degrees or until a small amount of mixture dropped into very cold water separates into threads that are hard and brittle. Remove from heat. Gently stir in coffee essence.

Pour into a buttered 8-by 8-by 2-inch pan. Cool until almost set, about 10 minutes. Mark into squares. Cool completely; remove from pan and break apart. Wrap individually in plastic wrap or wax paper and store in a tightly covered container.

NOTE
Instant coffee may be used in place of coffee essence. Dissolve two tablespoons instant coffee in one tablespoon milk and use as directed.

In extremely humid weather expect some change in color of finished candies after they have been standing. They may appear lighter in color in contrast to appearance when just dropped. This does not affect taste or texture.

set, about 10 minutes. Mark into squares. Cool completely; remove from pan and break apart. Wrap individually in plastic wrap or wax paper and store in a tightly covered container.

Makes about one and a quarter pounds.
To make Coffee Drops: As soon as candy is removed from heat and coffee essence is stirred in, pour boiling water into a skillet, turn the heat low and set pan of candy in the skillet. Working fast, drop the candy from the edge of a spoon onto a greased cookie sheet to make one-inch wide patties. Cool, then wrap and store as directed above.

NOTE
Instant coffee may be used in place of coffee essence. Dissolve two tablespoons instant coffee in one tablespoon milk and use as directed.

In extremely humid weather expect some change in color of finished candies after they have been standing. They may appear lighter in color in contrast to appearance when just dropped. This does not affect taste or texture.

Alumnae Members To Sell Cookies

At a recent meeting of the Greenville Salem College Alumnae Association, members voted to sell Old Salem Moravian cookies and Christmas stars for the holiday season.

Orders are currently being taken by Mrs. Luther Moore, 752-3711, or after 5 p.m. by Miss Eleanor Quick, 756-9349.

The Moravian cookies are available in eight-ounce tubes.

If you are investing in new cookie sheets, buy those with no sides at all or with partial rims on a couple of sides for ease in handling. Cookie sheets without sides help cookies to bake and brown well. The cookie sheets should be made of a dull metal because the dulled surface also helps the browning process.

One penny brings you four quarters

A penny's worth of electricity will bring you two hours of TV. So for a penny you can see four quarters of the Super Bowl. A nickel would bring you the NFL Championship, the Rose Bowl, the Orange Bowl, the Cotton Bowl and the Sugar Bowl. And did you know that Vepco has reduced the rates residential customers pay three times in the last five years? As a matter of fact, electricity is one thing that actually costs less than it did in 1941. If your bill is a little higher, it's because you're using a lot more electricity today. How many football games did you see on TV in 1941?

Artist Does Her Thingie: Whimsical Jigsaws

By ARLEEN ABRAHAM
Associated Press Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Sandy Miller Papchick is afraid that doing her Thingies will be her undoing.

"I can just see everyone in the world hating me in 10 years," says the pretty brunette newlywed.

Thingies, the whimsical jigsaw puzzles Sandy designs are getting so popular that people are beginning to pun on them, she complains. "Friends and even strangers who've seen me on TV shows greet me with corny sayings like 'Love is a many splendid thingie' and

"Sandy, you really do your own thingie.' I just feel that in five or ten years everyone will be sick of the expression."

Thingies, however, always have been Sandy's thingie. "I've always doodled since I was a little kid," she recalls. "And I always called them thingies... you know... rather than thingamajig or whatdoyoucallit."

"I just have to pinch myself every once in awhile to believe I'm actually getting paid to do this."

Sandy, who describes her age as 23½, explains that her designs must be completely spontaneous. "If I had to plan them and then create them according to detail, I wouldn't enjoy it." She gets her inspirations sitting on rooftops, getting a good view of the beach.

"The e was this fat man buried in the sand with hairy legs."

If you ask her to explain their meaning, she cautions you against any general interpretation. "The meaning is mine; what I see in it," she says.

How, as Sandy puts it, "I became a successful Thingie designer" goes back to her college days (Maine) and her love for jigsaws.

While a student at the American High School in Paris (her father was an engineer with the department of transportation), she became interested in Batik printing, "but I hadn't the foggiest idea of how to go about it. Then for my free study month at Colby, I proposed the idea of doing Batik printing if I could find out how it was done."

Sandy discovered the secret, set up a studio in basement at school and proceeded to design and produce a lovely collection of silk-dyed-with-wax scarves.

"They sold like hot cakes. I'd come back from class to find a mob at the door and maybe $15 in the bedroll."

One of the girls who loved her scarves was Laurie Lewin, the daughter of Katie Lewin, president of a firm that makes adult jigsaw puzzles. "One vacation I went to visit them, and they suggested marketing my designs."

But two years elapsed before Sandy's puzzles saw the light of day. Meanwhile the company kept looking for the perfect box. Finally Mrs. Lewin, searching through her daughter's box collection, came upon a small round box that Sandy had designed for Laurie on Laurie's birthday. "That was it—or as Sandy comments, "It was my own thing all round."

During the interval between design and distribution Sandy attended the Graduate School of Art in Denver. There she met and married Richard Lapchick, the son of Hall of Fame baseball coach Joe Lapchick, who is studying for his Ph.D. in African Affairs. Sandy proudly points out that Richard has organized his own movement, PRIDE, which aims to get Negro history taught on a national basis.

At present Sandy, who says she's looking forward to motherhood, commutes back and forth to Denver each weekend. "I really spoil Richard," she says wistfully. "I just feel so guilty for all the days during the week that I'm not home."

Glazed chintz curtains should not be wrung but allowed to drip dry. When they are just damp enough to iron, press on the right side.

Slipcovers should be stretched over furniture while they are still a little damp. This way they will dry to an exact fit and look better than when ironed.

Assistant Director Named To EC University Union

Patricia Maynard of Harrells has joined the staff of East Carolina University as assistant director of the university union.

Miss Maynard, a graduate of Meredith College, has already assumed her duties with union director Cynthia Mendenhall. She replaces Mrs. Anne Sayetta who resigned the position following her marriage.

Miss Maynard is a former teacher at Hobbs High School in Newton Grove and was an archivist at the Virginia State Library in 1959-'60.

She served for one year as recreation director of a U. S. Army Special Services center in Karlsruhe, Germany. From 1962 until her tenure at ECU she was a program correlator for the Raleigh YWCA.

Miss Mendenhall, in announcing the appointment, said, "Miss Maynard comes very highly recommended and with good qualifications and experience in recreational and social programming."

As assistant director Miss Maynard will be in charge of programs and facilities at the university union, center of student recreational, social and cultural activities on the ECU campus.

In Greenville, Miss Maynard makes her home at 1809 E. 5th St., Apt. 12.

Juvenile Court Bailiff In Nebraska Is Female

By ODELL HANSON
Associated Press Writer

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP) — If your image of a court bailiff is that of an austere gentleman who delivers a stenorian "Hear ye, Hear ye" to signal the start of a court session, the juvenile court in Lincoln will surprise you.

The bailiff to Juvenile Judge W. W. Nuernberger of Lincoln is attractive, 5-foot-5, 27-year-old blue-eyed blonde, Shirley Adams.

Lancaster County commissioners recently approved her appointment to the post at a salary of $485 per month, the same pay received by male bailiffs in the four district courts in the same county courthouse.

A native of Lincoln who learned shorthand at Lincoln's Pius X Catholic High School and began secretarial work after graduation, Miss Adams has been associated with the juvenile court as secretary-receptionist for the juvenile probation office. She continues in that capacity while absorbing a few additional duties as bailiff.

She helps the judge schedule hearings, answers the telephone, does filing and takes notes during hearings when a court reporter is not present.

Judge Nuernberger said a bailiff who performs other duties as well fits the needs of juvenile court ideally.

Unlike conventional courts, the juvenile court operates informally, with hearings closed except to those granted judicial permission to attend.

Nobody needs to announce that the court is in session, and maintaining order in the court, normally a principal function of the bailiff, poses no problem in juvenile court.

New Trend In Beachwear: Back To The Swimsuit

By LINDA DEUTSCH
Associated Press Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The word from California's swimwear designers for 1969 is "head for cover!"

Some suits in the spring swimsuit show of the California fashion creators still show the maximum of skin, but the new trend is away from the bikini and back to the swimsuit.

Wraps are going on these bikinis, literally from head to foot. The beach pajama is "in." "Obvious sexline is out," said one swimsuit maker Tuesday, "but there's a game of intrigue going on."

If the look in recent years was tough, the new look turns around and becomes decidedly feminine.

Cole of California calls its collection "Love," with several styles resembling frilly lingerie. One style is simply called a "Swim Slip," and in soft blue jersey it looks like just that.

Deweese Designs includes a black lace bikini in their lingerie look and borrows from the bedroom a "Karate Coat" for coverup.

Another designer, Alexa, brings the Japanese "Happi Coat" to the beach.

Everyone shows a version of what Catalina dubs the "Trikini," a blushing interpretation of the bikini with a short skirt wrapped around the brief bottom.

The shocker of this year's collection is the covered look. As one observer put it: "It's nice not to see so many navels for a change."

DOWNTOWN GREENVILLE

Safety Record Must Be Improved

Greenville placed among the top 10 safest cities of North Carolina for 1967.

The rankings are maintained by the North Carolina State Motor Club and they are based on the number of traffic deaths per 10,000 auto registrations.

Wilson ranked as the safest in the annual ratings of the state's 37 cities and towns with over 10,000 population.

Greenville's rank was ninth among the top ten cities.

There were six cities on the list which did not have any fatalities during 1967. Unfortunately Greenville was not among these. Our city recorded one fatality during the year.

Some other cities and their rankings were: Jacksonville, seventh; Kinston, 15th; Goldsboro, 17th; Charlotte, 26th; Rocky Mount, 30th and New Bern, 33rd.

While it is pleasing to know that Greenville is among the top ten in safety record so far as fatalities are concerned, all who deal with traffic know that there are still a great number of wrecks here.

Hopefully Greenville's drivers can go on to improve our record so that not even one fatality occurs during a year. We also need to improve our record so that the number of injuries resulting from traffic accidents are reduced and the staggering financial losses incurred through property damage are brought down.

There is so much to be done in making our streets and thoroughfares safer and it is going to take further efforts on the part of every citizen to cut down on traffic accidents.

Contributed Much To Quality Of Continuity

President Lyndon Johnson and President-elect Richard Nixon have contributed a great deal to the spirit of continuity in government.

President Johnson, by his pledging to make no unacceptable commitments; and Mr. Nixon in reminding the world that the United States are truly "united," have made a valuable contribution to the future.

Continuity is a major item.

It represents a delicate changeover of the reins of government, as well as policies. Many, perhaps most, other governments simply do not have this capability. The agreement to provide for continuity in United States policies is something Democrats and Republicans take pride. It is an auspicious portent of our nation's responsibility in its global role.

America's responsibility is not merely to itself. It is a matter of life and death to too many thousands of people, to too many countries, and to too many freedom-loving peoples.

The high degree of rapport between the outgoing and incoming administrations is a most promising development.

Missourian Is Trying Collect

By ROWLAND EVANS and ROBERT NOVAK

WASHINGTON—One day last week, Washington lobbyist John Graves stopped in at the office of the Democratic chairman of a Midwest state and asked him to support Delton L. Houtchens for Democratic National Chairman when Lawrence F. O'Brien resigns probably within the next couple of weeks.

This visitation is the first clear sign that Houtchens, now the Missouri State Chairman, and Missouri Gov. Warren Hearnes are trying to collect on an ill-advised promise made by Vice President Hubert Humphrey last May, when Humphrey was bidding for the support of Missouri's delegation to the national convention.

Most Democratic politicians have written off Houtchens as O'Brien's replacement, for one simple reason: he, Hearnes, and much of the party apparatus sabotaged Humphrey's Missouri campaign. They did this in a variety of ways, including the omission of Humphrey's name from billboards and newspaper ads.

Moreover, some sample ballots passed out in Jackson County (Kansas City) by the leader of the Hearnes-Houtchens faction actually listed George Wallace and Republican Rep. Tom Curtis, along with Hearnes, ignoring Humphrey and Lt. Gov. Thomas Eagleton (who, despite this sabotage, defeated Curtis for the U.S. Senate). Partly responsible for this party treason was state Rep. William (Bill) Royster, Jackson County leader of the remnant of the old Pendergast machine.

That Royster would snub Humphrey and Eagleton without a wink from Houtchens and Hearnes (who won reelection handily) stretches credibility. Royster's political power depends on the statewide patronage of Gov. Hearnes, not Jackson County, which is now controlled by anti-Royster reform elements.

This plug for Wallace and Curtis paid handsome dividends on Election Day. In three Kansas City awards—the 11th, 12th, and 13th, all of them Democratic where a single pull of the lever votes the straight ticket—Hearnes ran 50 percent ahead of Humphrey and Eagleton. In fact, one-third of the statewide Humphrey deficit of some 15,000 votes would have been eliminated if Humphrey had received the normal Democratic vote there.

The reason for sabotaging Humphrey was a Hearnes-Houtchens conviction that he left Chicago politically dead. Boycotting Humphrey would thus rescue Hearnes from the taint of Humphreyism.

It is against that backdrop that the pledge Humphrey made last May to Hearnes and Houtchens must be examined. As a non-primary state, Missouri's convention delegates would go pretty much as the power in the state—Hearnes and Houtchens—dictated. Bidding hard for the support of Missouri's 60 delegate-votes, Humphrey or his agents made two promises: to name Houtchens National Chairman right after the Chicago convention and, if elected, to put Hearnes in the Humphrey Cabinet at the end of Hearnes' second term as Governor four years hence.

Also wooing Hearnes and Houtchens was Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, working for his brother's nomination. Kennedy lunched with Hearnes on May 31, one day before the state convention that would pick the convention delegates.

Kennedy was less expansive than Humphrey had been. All that Hearnes got was a pledge that at the end of Hearnes' second term, Bobby Kennedy—if elected President—would make Hearnes an ambassador to an unspecified foreign country. (Continued On Page 5)

Strength For Today Voters Adopted More Inflation

By EARL L. DOUGLASS THE ECUMENICAL CHURCH

The coming together of the different branches of the Christian church with a new sense of understanding and appreciation is one of the outstanding achievements and blessings of this century. Controversy is never so unbecoming as when it is waged among Christian believers. Today we are coming to see that all branches of the Christian church have their place, and that each stands for some necessary emphasis. If we should come to the place where all branches of the Christian church were to be joined together in some kind of workable union we would still have to admit that there are vast areas in the realm of religion which these human minds of ours cannot as yet fully comprehend. This new movement toward church union is known as the ecumenical movement. The word "ecumenical" comes from a Greek word meaning "the inhabited world." The ecumenical church, therefore, if this ideal is really achieved, would mean a church union worldwide in extent and influence.

The divisions of hundreds of years are not going to be put aside and forgotten in a new union. We are headed toward church union and if we are wise this union will be effected, although not tomorrow or the next day and not with the completeness some would like to see, but with a cooperation and understanding that would cause all followers of Christ to join in the realization of his kingdom of love.

We live in an age of violence, and the possibility of substantial union among Christian believers would go a long way toward stemming this violence.

Plan For Next 4 Years

WASHINGTON—The most important thing, now that the election is over, is for Americans to prepare themselves for the next four years. It isn't too early to start putting catnip on your cottage cheese, because that's the way President-elect Nixon likes it.

The first thing you have to do is stop calling Mr. Nixon "tricky Dick." That was all well and good during the campaign, but as every one keeps saying on television, Mr. Nixon is the only President we've got for the next four years and Americans must treat him with respect. From now on if you don't agree with him you can call him "crafty Richard."

Other Editors Say Other Side Of Coin

(Rocky Mount Telegram)

Not long ago a proposal was offered by the American Insurance Association which would do away with the traditional concept of traffic liability based on fault. The idea is to save money, both for the policy holder and the company in the face of rising costs.

Now the other side of the proposal is presented. According to Wilbur V. Jones, president of the Federation of Insurance Counsel, the adoption of this "no-fault" auto accident compensation system would dash all hope for resolving the nation's intolerable traffic accident situation.

Jones insists that such a plan — by doing away with the concept of liability based on fault — would remove every incentive for people to exercise care in the operation of their vehicles.

The FIC is composed of defense trial lawyers from throughout the U. S. and several foreign countries. They represent defendants insured by firms that comprise all segments of the casualty insurance business. "In this country liability has traditionally been based on personal fault and the liability imposed is a penalty for disobedience," Jones points out. And he believes that elimination of the principle that each man be held responsible for his own acts would have disastrous consequences, for this liability principle encourages a person to take great care in performing his activities.

According to Jones, the no-fault plan as proposed by the American Insurance Association is a dangerous approach which the American public has rejected repeatedly over the past few decades. One major point Jones brings up is the fact that the AIA plan, in addition to destroying incentive to drive carefully, would abolish the jury trial in auto accident cases.

People want to know why, Jones said, should the jury system be eliminated in auto accident cases and retained in slip-and-fall cases, sporting accidents, commercial transactions or even in criminal actions.

That may be a question that proponents of the no-fault proposal will find difficult to answer. In any case, there is likely to be much debate over this matter before action is finally taken.

We must also start getting used to a different cast of family characters in the White House. In place of Lady Bird, there will be Pat; in place of Lynda Bird, there will be Tricia; in place of Luci, there will be Julie.

If nothing happens with the engagement between now and Inauguration Day, Julie will marry David Eisenhower. So the new first family will consist of Dick, Pat, Tricia, Julie and David, but not Chet.

As for the first lady, Pat will have to do her own thing. Mrs. Kennedy was big on redecorating the White House, Mrs. Johnson beautified America, and Mrs. Nixon will have to find something else to do so she won't look as if she's copying the Democratic first ladies.

Perhaps Mrs. Nixon could get Americans to eat a good breakfast.

Obviously, there is going to be a change in style in the White House.

Barbecues will be out — meat loaf will be in.

Cloth coats will be in — fur coats will be out.

Martha Raye will be out — John Wayne will be in.

Billy Graham, who always is in, no matter who is President, will effect the smooth religious transition between the Johnson and Nixon Administrations.

Already Bidding For Key Posts

By WILLIAM A. SHIRES Reflector Raleigh Bureau

RALEIGH—Three men presently appear to be top contenders for the important and powerful post of chairman of the State Highway Commission in the Scott administration.

One of the three, Carl Renfro of Wilson, already is actively and openly—and in writ-for a governor of North Carolina, other than his popular mandate. And traditionally, an incoming governor who does not squander this power usually has success in getting his legislative program enacted about as he wants it. It should be remembered that North Carolina governors do not wield the veto.

Did You Know Complications department. Did anyone realize that the date set for Gov.-elect Bob Scott's inauguration, Jan. 3, is the same date on which the new Congress convenes in Washington?

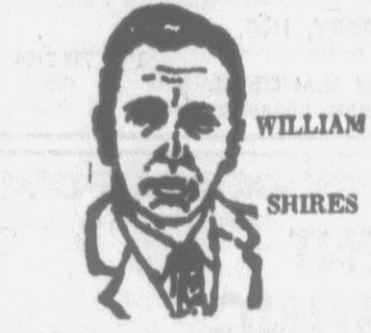

Apparently few did. This means that such prominent figures as Sen. Sam J. Ervin, Re-elect L. Richardson Preyer, rep. Nick Galifianakis and, in fact, all of the members of Congress from North Carolina may miss much or all of the inaugural ceremonies for the new governor. And their supporters also will have to choose whether to be on hand in Washington or attend the Swearing in of Gov.-elect Bob Scott.

This conflict is causing some headaches for the inaugural committee, and for the electees as well.

Another complication could come about if there should be even a slight hitch in certifying the official returns from Nov. 5 in legislative races.

The date set for Democrats in the 1969 General Assembly to caucus is Nov. 26—next Tuesday — a few hours after the State Board of Elections convenes to certify the returns. It appears that there are few if any contests, and things may run smoothly.

House Democrats are to convene at 2 p.m. Senate Democrats will caucus shortly after the House finishes. A definite time—in fact a definite date — was difficult for the Senate leaders until someone could contact the senior member of the Senate, Sen. Claude Currie of Durham. Currie was vacationing out of state. He was accompanying the state's travel mission to South America.

ing—seeking and support and endorsement for the chairmanship.

The other two are Cliff Benson of Raleigh, vice chairman of the Highway Commission during the Sanford administration, and State Sen. Jeff Allen of Biscoe, a leading political aide to Gov.-elect Bob Scott. Politically all three are close to Scott.

Renfro is serving on the present Highway Commission as an appointee of present governor Dan K. Moore. He has received endorsement for the chairmanship by his hometown newspaper, the Wilson Daily Times.

Scott Appointments Undoubtedly more names will be mentioned, endorsed and considered for the $22,000 a year post. The next Highway chairman and 14 commission members will not take office until next July 1, thus giving Scott plenty of time to choose carefully.

Most observers expect that Scott will follow the custom of delaying certain major appointments while the 1969 General Assembly is in session.

In this way he can hold them out as plums to get his legislative program enacted.

Appointive power constitutes one of the best and most effective means of persuasion

Social Role Is 'In'

By JOHN CUNIFF

NEW YORK (AP) — Early in the 1960s the most frequent topic in executive speeches was business-government relations. Today, just as clearly, the subject is the social responsibilities of business.

Although not an infallible guide, executive speeches by their nature do tend to reveal what businessmen consider most pressing or disturbing or most worthwhile.

The first topic resulted from business anger at what it considered to be interference by the Kennedy administration in the market place, specifically in the pricing of goods, an area which business felt to be its own alone.

The remarks were consistent: government and business should not intrude into each other's areas. Each had its role, and if they were to play these roles effectively they had best keep out of each other's sandbox.

The second topic shows how much business' attitude has changed in these few years, for in concerning itself with social progress, business is taking on a role that customarily has been handled by government.

Among the projects: restoring the core cities, improving education, reducing water-air-pollution, training dropouts—all areas of endeavor by corporations with a growing social awareness.

Although some of the problems are indeed business-created, seldom in the past has business on a large scale attempted to seek solutions, for that was considered the job of government.

Broadly speaking, there are two categories in which business is participating: —First, as a corporate citizen concerned with the environment in which business exists and resolved to do something about it, even if it puts into profits temporarily.

The insurance industry has pledged $1 billion toward the rehabilitation of core cities, for example, not unaware that if it doesn't improve its own neighborhoods it eventually will fail to obtain the clerks and secretaries it needs.

Just a few years ago many companies risked irritating stockholders by involving themselves. A reliable poll now shows 65 per cent of stockholders feel corporations should participate in the war on poverty.

Surprising to some companies, unexpected profits sometimes do result from activities in the social area. One company after another expresses surprise today at how training programs for dropouts are easing their labor shortage.

Secondly, in search of profits. Perhaps belatedly, business has learned that there is money to be made in pollution control, in education in slum rehabilitation.

The discovery, although new to most businessmen, was foreseen years ago by David Lilienthal, former chairman of both the Tennessee Valley Authority and the Atomic Energy Commission.

Lilienthal founded and now heads a private concern, Development and Resources Corp., that has been making healthy profits in areas once thought to be the sole responsibility of government.

ELMER ROESSNER

By ELMER ROESSNER

The people voted for a bit more inflation on Nov. 5.

The headlines said that voters rejected more than half of $9 billion in bond proposals. So they did. But they also approved $4.1 billion worth, the highest at one time in history. This is inflationary by $4.1 billion.

It was also a great boon to the upper middle class and the wealthy because the interest on those bonds will be tax exempt. This means people in the upper brackets can escape a sizable amount of federal income taxes. A recent calculation showed that people with incomes down to $35,000 a year could make significant savings on what money they had to invest by buying state and city bonds.

What they escape in income taxes of course must be made up by taxes on others. The new bonds will generate $200 millions a year, tax free.

Why Bonds Are Inflationary

The $4 billion in bonds will create jobs, sales and profits for industry. But it will do it on borrowed money, which will eventually cost them or their children $8 billion or large amount of bonds voted. In many fields the government offers federal funds to supplement state spending.

West Virginians, for instance, gaily and overwhelmingly voted for a $350 million bond issue to take advantage of the Appalachian Act to construct 41 miles of roads costing an estimated $704 million. The federal government puts up the rest.

Over the years, the interest will double the cost to Virginia and, unless inflation unexpectedly drops dead, rising prices will probably increase the costs considerably or cut the mileage.

Tax Revolt?

The defeat of the almost $5 billion in proposed issues has been hailed as the Bunker Hill of a tax revolt. In many states and cities resistance to rising taxes was a factor. But there were other reasons. In some places school

Crippled Children Choose Dolls That Can Walk

By DEE WEDEMEYER
Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — A gaily dressed young woman held up a selection of dolls for the child to select from among fairy princess, a bride, a skater. Shyly, the crippled child picked the skater.

"The children identify with the dolls," says Clare Young, the 48-year-old Forest Hills, Queens, housewife who founded Volun-toys, a program for distributing toys in New York hospitals.

"The skater is a very, very popular doll," she says. "It does their skating and walking for them."

What makes Volun-toys different from other programs is that the 30 volunteers who make up the organization provide toys on a year-round basis, not just during the holidays.

They also send two Dutch-capped young girls to visit the children while distributing the toys, and they also try to make toys available in emergency rooms.

It was, in fact, in an emergency room where Mrs. Young was doing volunteer work that she saw most poignantly the need for toys.

"After an accident, the child may be all right. But while they are checking the mother, 'I've seen a child sit in a corner more than two hours—not making a sound, just petrified,' she said. Mrs. Young has been hospitalized because of a back injury—and says she can well understand "what it's like to have a little bit of kindness and the need to have it."

For her Christmas present

last year, she asked her husband to give her enough money to buy toys to distribute in the coming year at one hospital. He agreed. And while she was shopping for the toys, a Queens toy store owner, gave her 500 fashion dolls which had been returned in a trade-in sales promotion.

The Health Department provided instructions for cleaning the dolls, and Mrs. Young and a small group of friends began making costumes.

As women will, one told another and another—and soon there were 30 happily outfitting dolls.

The group eventually became Volun-toy, Inc., complete with a Madison Avenue office—also donated—and quite a following among the hospital set.

Gardner Opines Should Hold Off-Year Elections

CHARLOTTE (AP) — Republican Rep. Jim Gardner is convinced the 1968 North Carolina gubernatorial race "was completely dominated by the presidential election" with important state issues shoved into the background.

Gardner, beaten in his bid to become the state's first GOP governor in 68 years, said Tuesday North Carolina should select its governor in off-year elections.

Appearing on the "For The Record" show over Charlotte television station WBTV, Gardner said, "Important state issues should not be dominated by anything else and if the gubernatorial election was held in off years people would become more aware of the problems of North Carolina."

Gardner, who gave up his congressional seat to run for governor, said also he would support a constitutional amendment to permit a North Carolina chief executive to succeed himself in office.

Gardner was beaten by Democratic Lt. Gov. Bob Scott in the Nov. 5 general election.

And in speaking of Scott, Gardner said, "We'd love to have another shot at him in 1972."

Then he quickly added, "By we, mean we the Republicans. It's too early to say what I'll be doing in 1972."

His defeat by Scott, the GOP congressman said, was probably because of the Negro vote.

"I don't think any Republican candidate is going to be elected in this state," he continued, "without being able to break up the solid Negro vote in North Carolina."

Negroes, Gardner said, "blindly" support the Democratic candidates and "are getting nothing for it."

Gardner also said the fact "that we had to run independent of Mr. Nixon (Republican presidential candidate Richard M. Nixon) more so than I would have wanted to do, certainly hurt us in the Piedmont, particularly in the big cities."

Gardner also renewed his attack on the state's largest newspapers, saying, "If they don't meet their responsibilities they should be put under federal regulations."

The Republican candidate was sharply critical of several North Carolina dailies during the gubernatorial race and criticized them repeatedly for their coverage of the campaign.

Played Role In Oklahoma's Past

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — The man who drove the covered wagon carrying the state seal when the Oklahoma capital was secretly moved late at night from Guthrie to Oklahoma City has died.

William E. Kile died Monday night at the age of 89. Kile was among a small band of citizens who slipped into Guthrie on the night of June 11, 1910, and took the state seal to Oklahoma City.

A few hours after Oklahomans had voted to move the state capital. The secret transfer was made to forestall legal maneuvering by Guthrie citizens.

Broadcaster In A Phone Booth

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla.

(AP) — Newsmen Bob Krauser's radio broadcasting studio has standing room only—for one person at a time. Krauser, a reporter for Miami's WIOD, was plagued by busy signals, long lines and no dimes when he wanted to telephone with news from Broward County's courthouse. So Krauser negotiated the $5 monthly rental of a phone booth from the Telephone Company. Engineers from WIOD wired the booth with a microphone, control panel, lighting and a clock with sweep second hand to time his frequent news reports.

School Boycott In Hyde Appears Nearing Its End

SWAN QUARTER, N. C. (AP) — W. A. Miller, director of the Hyde County Welfare Department, believes some 45 pupils from families on welfare will return to school soon, ending their two-month boycott. Miller said Tuesday that there would be no reduction in the welfare checks since the children are returning to school. About 800 Negro students have boycotted classes in Hyde County since Sept. 5 in a protest over school desegregation plans. There have been outbreaks of trouble during some of the demonstrations by the teen-age Negro pupils. Miller told the Charlotte Observer that his department had notified families with school-age children that their welfare grants would be reduced by Dec. 1 if children were not back in school. These families, he said, receive an additional $3.50 a month for each child to cover school expenses. Miller stressed the fact that the entire welfare check would not be lost, only that part earmarked for school expenses. The welfare director said his department had no intention of getting involved in the boycott, but was simply "following a policy set under the state rules." Meanwhile, 28 young Negroes staged a brief, peaceful demonstration against Hyde County school desegregation policies Tuesday and dispersed with no arrests made. Sheriff Charles Cahoon said 62 of the 120 persons arrested during demonstrations last week are still jailed in Swan Quarter and nearby towns. Most have been charged with blocking traffic, he said. The demonstrators have been protesting a plan to close two all-Negro school and assign the pupils to the county's all-white facility. Negroes want all schools to remain open on a mixed basis.

Early Cases Of Hong Kong Flu Said 'Mild'

By JACK MILLER Associated Press Writer WASHINGTON (AP) — The surgeon general says early cases of the new Hong Kong flu have been mild, but a lot of people will still spend two or three days in bed with the disease this winter. Dr. William H. Stewart said in an interview the new flu appears free of complications or aftereffects, even though "you still don't feel very good when you have it." After two or three days "you're back on your feet, but you don't feel quite up to par. It's no more serious than ordinary influenza." Stewart said persons in good health and under 65 years of age won't even need the vaccine developed to ward off the disease. But the surgeon general said he expects the disease to reach epidemic proportions. "I think it's safe to say that we will have an active year—that we will have a lot of people who have this kind of flu," Dr. Stewart said. So far public health officials have identified flu outbreaks among Marines in San Diego and civilians in Needles, Calif., being of the Hong Kong variety. But flu outbreaks suspected to be of the Hong Kong variety have occurred in Colorado and New Jersey. Officials expect to know within a few days whether the new strain was involved. The surgeon general noted that absentee rates in Needles schools ran about 20 per cent, compared to rates of up to 40 per cent past flu outbreaks. He said it is too early to tell whether this is a hopeful sign. The new strain, officially designated A2-Hong Kong-68 because it was first noted in Hong Kong this year, is a variety of the A2 flu that went around last year. Stewart said vaccine supplies should be adequate for those who noted protection. The Hong Kong strain is the most different since the 1957 epidemic that drove flu deaths 100,000 above normal for the year in the U.S. Stewart said vaccination against last year's rash of flu, caused by the same strain as in 1957, offers little protection this winter.

Pravda Charges U.S. Roadblock

MOSCOW (AP) — Pravda accused the United States today of blocking the Vietnam peace talks and demanded that it get them started. The Communist party newspaper, which reflects the official Soviet viewpoint, also called for an end to U.S. reconnaissance flights over North Vietnam, calling them "provocative overflights." The article noted that the United States had stopped bombing North Vietnam nearly three weeks ago but since then had made no further progress toward peace. The Soviet Union, which welcomed the bombing halt as a favorable step toward peace, has recently shown signs of impatience over delay of the Paris peace talks because of South Vietnam's objections. The official press has urged the United States to put pressure on the South Vietnamese to go to the peace table.

Another Freeze Slated Tonight

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Temperatures dropped to the freezing level in North Carolina again this morning, and another hard freeze is predicted for tonight. Considerably less cloudiness was in evidence during the day, but temperatures remained on the cool side despite the increase in sunshine. Afternoon readings were mostly in the 30s in the mountains and in the 40s and lower 50s elsewhere over the state. The Weather Bureau said there was a chance of a few light snow flurries in the northern mountains, but that no measurable snow was expected. The cold air spread into North Carolina Monday and Tuesday, on the heels of cold northwesterly winds. These winds are expected to prevail over the Tar Heel state until about Thursday, when a warming trend is expected. There were some snow flurries in the mountains and northern Piedmont Tuesday, but no measurable amounts were reported. Lows tonight again are expected to be in the 20s in the mountains and Piedmont, and in the 30s elsewhere.

Late In Filing Fund Reports

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Clerk W. Pat Jennings says the names of 21 campaign fund-raising committees, 20 of them Republican, that filed late financial reports have been sent to Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark. The committees' treasurers, Jennings said Tuesday, "did not comply with the time requirements as set forth in the Federal Corrupt Practices Act." With a change of administrations less than two months away, it appeared likely enforcement of the statute's provisions would be left to Clark's successor. Reports to the House Clerk are required 10 days and again five days before the election.

Doctors Using Art To Probe Minds Of Sick

By LEE LINDER
Associated Press Writer

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Art, in scrawny pictures and bold, wild colors, is now being used to help doctors probe the minds of the sick.

At Philadelphia's famed Hahnemann Medical College and Hospital the illness of some mental patients can be partly diagnosed by the drawings they make.

This is a pioneering field: art therapy. And it appears to be fast becoming a more exciting step toward a cure of mental illness than the traditional occupational therapy. Many hospitals are now following Hahnemann's lead, and switching.

"In art therapy, no one can be a failure," says Myra Levick, mother of three, who is director of Hahnemann's art therapy training program.

"It's an excellent key to opening up a person's mind. Especially, in cases where the patient is nonverbal and just is not communicating at all."

While the majority of art therapy is with paint, water or oil, some patients—in the hospital's encouragement of free expression—use pencil, or other art crafts such as tiles.

Mrs. Levick, who has a bachelor's degree in fine arts and a masters' in educational psychology, says art offers patients creative activity that substitutes for their neurotic symptoms.

Patients ventilate their feelings on the paper or canvas, and the drawing seems to help relax tensions—acting almost like a combination tranquilizer and mirror.

"A patient's art work can demonstrate improvement, regression or a cycle of both," says Mrs. Levick. "This depends on the nature of the illness, and the length of time in treatment."

Psychiatrists don't judge the art esthetically, she asserts, "but rather look at the way the patient organizes his work and uses space and color in relation to reality."

To illustrate: One patient on admission to the hospital sat down and drew a vase with flowers. It was rigidly composed, the flowers massed together and the picture covering only a small part of the page. Psychiatrists said it displayed anxiety, defensiveness and a poor self-image. Three weeks later the same patient drew a much larger flowerpot, free flowing and colorful, showing he had loosened up quite a bit.

Mrs. Levick gives these other hints on what drawings mean: —Boundary lines that continue off the page usually indicate the patient has little idea where he, as an individual, ends, and the world begins.

—Tiny figures, drawn into a small part of the space, shows the patient has a poor self-image, a low opinion of himself.

—Confused forms show a confused identity.

—Large, staring eyes in a distorted face are the sign of the paranoid.

—A crowded picture with objects overshadowing each other pourport a lack of sense of purpose and direction.

Mrs. Levick says Hahnemann is the only hospital in the United States now offering a graduate program in art therapy—and six students were graduated last June. There are nine in the present class.

Similar community mental health centers, like Hahnemann organized last year, now are being planned in Massachusetts, Kansas and Texas.

Man Jailed On Larceny Count

Elton Ray Hardee, Box 276, Simpson has been charged with larceny of $300, Sheriff Ralph Tyson reported.

The money was allegedly taken from James Smith, 49 year old Negro of Box 276, Simpson.

Hardee, 24 year old Negro, was placed in jail under $300 bond.

A portion of the missing money was recovered. The theft was reported at 9:15 a.m. Sunday and an arrest was made at 10:45 p.m.

Fishermen say a nail dropped into the Hudson River will not rust because there isn't enough oxygen left in the water.

AT THE CITADEL — Cadet Frederick Lincoln Smith of Greenville, a member of the Citadel's bagpipe unit, is briefed by Capt. L. J. Grant-Alexander, pipemajor, prior to the Charleston military college's weekly Friday afternoon dress parade. A senior there, Cadet Smith is majoring in electrical engineering and is enrolled in the Air Force ROTC program. He is the son of Lt. Col. and Mrs. G. F. Smith Jr., of 114 King George Road, Greenville.

4th Class Postoffice, First Class Service

CUBAGE, Ky. (AP) — This southeastern Kentucky mountain village may have a fourth class Post Office, but most any of its 75 families will tell you it's got a first-class post-master.

And Olin Cowan, a disabled farmer celebrating his 20th anniversary as postmaster here, figures he may be the last to hold the job. The Post Office Department has announced it plans to suspend service at several similar fourth class Post Offices across the country.

But while he's here, Cowan says he intends to see that Cubage's postal patrons get the best service Uncle Sam's Post Office can offer.

"I can handle anything here that they can in the big city of fices," he says, "all except international money orders, that is, and I don't get no calls for them."

Cowan conducts the Post Office business from a small shelf built under the window of a tiny, unpainted frame building beside a rural road in southeastern Bell County.

He doesn't sort or deliver mail. Cubage is on a Star Route and the mail for its patrons is sorted at nearby Pineville and delivered by a carrier working out of Calvin, about 10 miles north of Middlesboro.

But Cowan accepts mail to give to the carrier each morning. He also sells stamps and domestic money orders, handles collect-on-delivery and parcel post packages, and certifies and insures letters.

In addition, he offers, free of charge, a service few postal patrons anywhere enjoy—package wrapping.

"Mostly," he explains, "when folks want to mail a package, they just bring me what they want to send and ask me to wrap and address it for them."

"That's why I've generally get some paper and twine around the place. But if I don't, I just keep their package until I get home and get some and fix it up for them."

OCEANOGRAPHY COURSE

WILMINGTON, N.C. (AP) —

The New Hanover County school board has approved plans for offering high school students courses in oceanography next fall.

A school official said he expected most class hours to be spent along the sounds and marshes and on the nearby ocean.

Vlasits Gives Appeal Notice

CHAPEL HILL, N. C. (AP)—Draft protester George Vlasits has given notice of appeal to Orange County Superior Court following his conviction Tuesday on charges of assaulting an officer and obstructing traffic.

He was sentenced to four months in jail, but was released under $400 bond when he appealed.

Vlasits and four other persons were convicted on charges growing out of a disturbance in Chapel Hill on election night.

Others convicted were: —Lawrence Kesler, 32, University of North Carolina history instructor, fined $25 on a charge of obstructing traffic.

—Walter Hicks, 26, part time English instructor at UNC, fined $50 on a charge of disorderly conduct.

—Peter Hulth, 18, fined $25 on a charge of disorderly conduct.

—Mrs. Meri Robings, 22, fined $35 on a charge of assaulting an officer.

Fines for Kesler and Hulth were suspended on condition they not take part in such activities in the future.

Two other persons arrested when police attempted to clear a gathering of about 400 from a downtown street were not tried Tuesday.

The case of one, Lee Clay, 20, was continued until next Tuesday and police reported the other, Brian McKay, 22, had left the country.

Vlasits also is appealing a sentence he received in federal court recently following his conviction on a draft evasion charge.

Wanger Wanted To Be A Diplomat

By BOB THOMAS
Associated Press Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Throughout his long career in films, Walter Wanger seemed torn between two elements of his character: showman and statesman.

Wanger, who died Monday in New York at 74, was a curiosity among movie moguls. For one thing, he was a college graduate—Dartmouth '15. That alone set him apart from the empire-building primitives of Hollywood.

A man addicted to pipes and tweeds, he seemed almost professional in manner and appearance. Indeed, he enjoyed visiting campuses to expound to students on economics and international politics, as well as movies. He told of his ambitions to become a diplomat after Air Corps service in World War I.

He served as president of the Motion Picture Academy and sparked industry drives for charity and good will. He visited the White House and offered his advice on national and world problems.

Wanger also knew how to survive in the Hollywood jungle. He could wheel and deal with the toughest studio bosses—Louis B. Mayer, Harry Cohn, etc.—and escape unharmed. He could produce classics like "stagecoach" and "The Long Voyage Home," as well as "Salome, Where She Danced" and "Invasion of the Body Snatcher." He also managed to precipitate—and survive—one of the biggest Hollywood scandals of the 1950s.

Wanger produced plays in London and New York before starting in films as eastern production manager for Paramount. Film-making jobs at Columbia and MGM convinced him to pursue an independent course, and he started his own company in 1935.

In 1951, Hollywood was shaken by the news that Walter Jennings Lang, agent for Mrs. Wanger, actress Joan Bennett, "I shot him because I thought he was breaking up my home," Wanger told police. Lang recovered from a groin wound, and Wanger pleaded guilty to assault with a deadly weapon.

Wanger had fired a pistol at Jennings Lang, agent for Mrs. Wanger, actress Joan Bennett. "I shot him because I thought he was breaking up my home," Wanger told police. Lang recovered from a groin wound, and Wanger pleaded guilty to assault with a deadly weapon.

Wanger had fired a pistol at Jennings Lang, agent for Mrs. Wanger, actress Joan Bennett. "I shot him because I thought he was breaking up my home," Wanger told police. Lang recovered from a groin wound, and Wanger pleaded guilty to assault with a deadly weapon.

He was sentenced to four months in jail.

Wanger demonstrated his own recuperative powers by resuming his career and marriage after serving time. He capitalized on the experience by writing magazine articles on penology and producing a film against capital punishment, "I Want To Live," which won an Academy Award for Susan Hayward in 1958.

Save 8¢ here

Save a total of 16¢ when you buy two 1-lb. packages of Miracle brand margarine. Each specially marked package offers you a 4¢ saving, and the coupon above saves you 8¢ more.

What better time to discover Miracle... the whipped margarine with the delicate flavor?

It's soft because it's whipped. Whipped so light and fluffy that it spreads smoothly even when cold.

It ought to be your regular brand of margarine—for flavor... softness... and the economy of six sticks per pound.

Hurry, and get yours... while specially marked packages are still available.

A turkey is a turkey... not really!

Take A&P's "Super-Right" Turkeys, for example. Because we understand how important the turkey is to your dinner, we do everything possible to be sure there are none finer than "Super-Right" Turkeys.

We start by carefully selecting the growers from whom we buy. To assure perfect turkeys, we buy only U.S. Inspected Grade "A" birds. To assure tenderness, we buy only young turkeys from this year's flock.

Because we care this much about "Super-Right" Turkeys, we know you can't buy better... even at a premium price.

So, we don't hesitate to offer you DOUBLE YOUR MONEY BACK if our turkey isn't everything you think it should be.

Now that you know you can't lose on the turkey, here's something else that's important: If you make A&P your store for all holiday needs, you're sure to be satisfied, because we guarantee everything we sell, no matter who makes it.

Isn't this the week to give A&P a try?

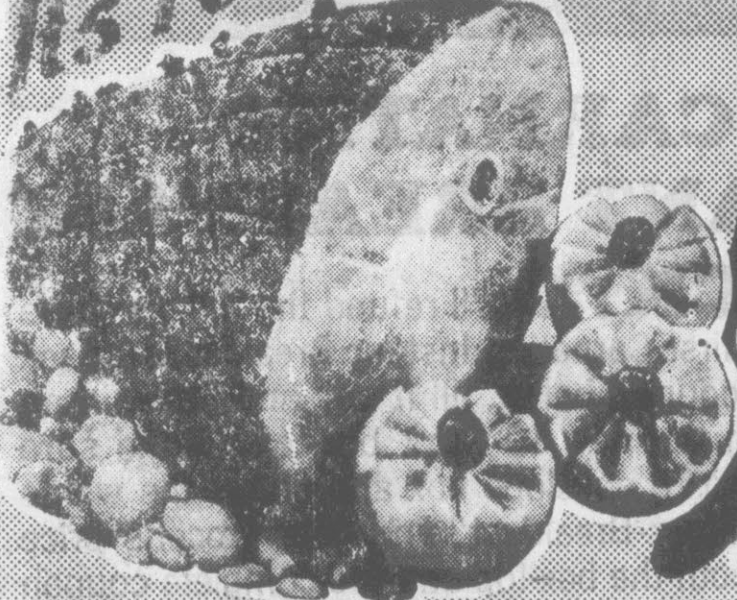

*Bring in the price label or register tape, of course.

New Jersey Turnpike To Get A Parallel Addition

By CAUSEWELL VAUGHN
Associated Press Writer
NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — Take 2,900 workers, 2,000 pieces of heavy equipment enough steel to build eight Eiffel Towers and you have just part of the mass being used to double the capacity of the New Jersey Turnpike. The 127-mile-long superhighway—a corridor for traffic between New York and Philadelphia, New England and the South Atlantic States—was used by 74 million vehicles in 1967. When the highway opened in 1952, officials estimated traffic would gradually increase to 21.5 million cars in 1975. But, as these estimates fell short plans were made to construct an innovation in highway engineering, the dual-dual road. Six new lanes, three in each direction will be constructed alongside the six existing lanes on a 30-mile strip. However, the new lanes will be independent of the original ones at all toll plazas and service areas. They will also be separated by a resilient steel guard rail. Consequently, the highway will be two different roads. The New Jersey Turnpike Authority is optimistic that the improvements will be adequate for 15 to 20 years. To turn this optimism into reality will require 722,000 tons of concrete, one million pounds of asphalt, 22 million cubic yards of dirt, 44 million pounds of reinforcing materials and enough steel to build eight Eiffel Towers—118 million pounds. An additional 196 miles of piling will be used to build bridges and approximately 150 other structures. The total cost of construction will be $351 million. This figure includes right of way, utility adjustments and relocation costs. The cost of the roadway itself will be $9.8 million per mile, more than four times the cost of the original turnpike. When finished in 1970, the highway will run from Ridgefield Park, in the north, to Edison, a distance of 30 miles along the 127-mile strip. Buses and trucks will be directed to use the two outer roadways. Cars will be permitted to use either. Several traffic control centers will allow vehicles to change from one roadway to another whenever conditions warrant. Emergency vehicles should be able to reach the scene of an accident without being delayed by tie-ups. Bridges will be built over the Hackensack and Passaic rivers. The structures will have shoulders to allow inoperative vehicles to pull off the roadway. This is not possible on the turnpike's existing bridges. EXTENDED WEATHER OUTLOOK FOR N. C. Temperatures through Monday will average above normal except near normal for coast sections of the state. Daytime highs will run between 57 and 67. Warming in early part of period, turning cooler by latter part of weekend. Some rain toward end of week.

Early Christmas Mailing Is Urged By Postmaster

Postmaster Joseph C. Dudley today urged Greenville residents to start their Christmas shopping and mailing now.

"On December 1 the Post Office will be hard pressed to handle the tremendous volume of Christmas mail that is expected," he said.

"Billions of pieces of mail will be delivered between now and Christmas, and if everyone were to wait until the last week to mail gifts and greetings, postal facilities would be severely overloaded. More important, special greetings would not be delivered on time. Public cooperation is the key to fast and prompt delivery at this time of year."

He asked citizens to purchase and mail gifts as soon as possible and to use ZIP code in each address. He encouraged all persons receiving mail to make a special effort to update mailing lists by recording ZIP codes in return addresses of incoming mail.

Postmaster Dudley noted, "Since most Christmas cards weigh under one ounce, mailing usually costs six cents whether it is first class or third class (unsealed)." He recommended that cards be sent sealed first class with return addresses so they can be forwarded or returned if they are undeliverable. Packages should be packed in a strong box, wrapped with heavy paper, and tied securely with strong cord. Plenty of packing material should be used so gifts will not rattle or break.

The recommended time on mailing parcels is as follows: to distant states, by December 6; to nearby states, by December 9; in Greenville and to nearby cities, by December 11. The recommended letter mailing schedule is as follows: to distant states, by December 11; to nearby states, by December 14; in Greenville and to nearby cities, by December 16.

"Write legibly, use complete street names and house numbers, and always use ZIP code numbers on each item mailed," Dudley advised.

Book Collection Given Library

Sam Ragan, one of North Carolina's best known newspaper executives, has contributed a collection of his books to the Henry Belk Journalism Library at East Carolina University.

Ragan's contribution of about 75 volumes is the second collection acquired by the Belk library. The specialized library was established last summer in honor of Goldsboro editor and ECU trustee Henry Belk. It was launched by the contribution of the personal collection of Raleigh author-editor Jonathan Daniels.

Among volumes in the Ragan gift are books on journalism and distinguished journalists as well as analytical works on the South.

Ragan, a close personal friend of Belk's, is serving as chairman of the Belk Journalism Library Committee. He has invited journalists and others throughout the state to add to the Belk collection.

Ragan has served as an executive of the Raleigh News and Observer for many years and is currently completing his tenure as executive Sunday editor. Recently he bought the Southern Pines Pilot and will soon begin his new work as its editor and publisher.

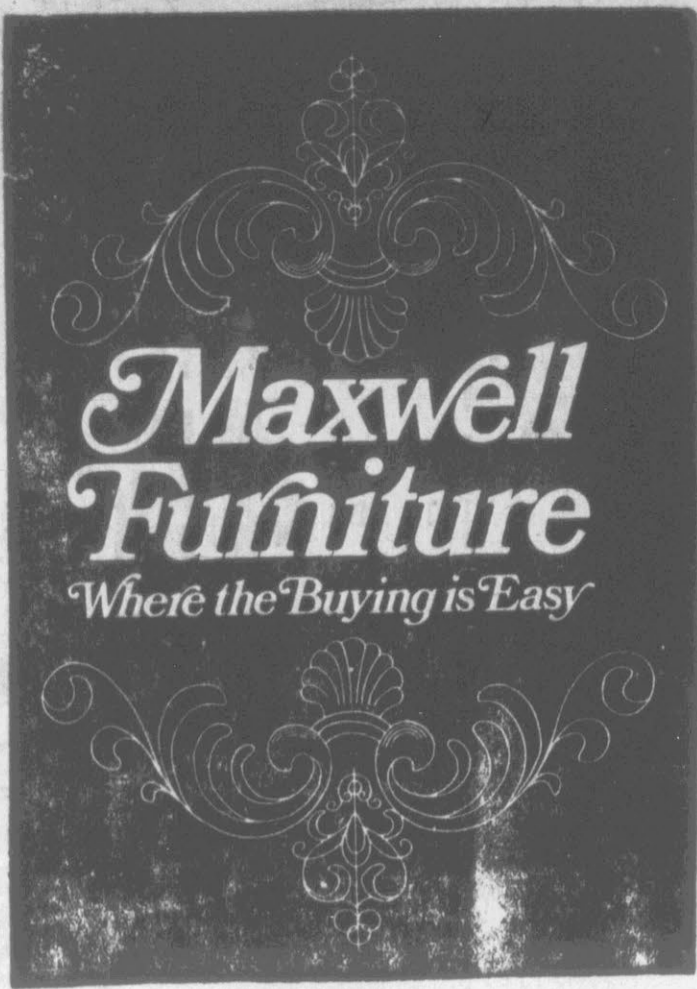

Death Is Ruled 'Accidental'

OAK CITY — The death of Willie R. Williams, 64 year old Negro of near Oak City, as the result of wounds from a shotgun, is apparently accidental, according to Oak City Chief of Police Doyle Bunting.

Bunting stated that investigation is being continued. He, and Coroner C. B. Taylor and Martin County Deputy Sheriff Jerry Beach arrived at the Williams home at 9:15 a.m. Monday morning after being summoned.

Bunting stated that Irma Dean Davis, housekeeper for Williams, believes the loaded gun went off when Williams set it down on the floor.

CATERPILLARS SAY—
SCHENECTADY, N.Y. (AP) — Kenry Kunze, a gardening expert, says the bands on caterpillars this fall indicate a long, hard beginning to winter, a generally mild period through the middle and another hard, though briefer, spell at the end.

Nixon To Reassess International Situation Before Okaying Treaty

KEY BISCAIYNE, Fla. (AP) — President-elect Richard M. Nixon intends to reassess the international situation, particularly in Czechoslovakia, before deciding when he wants the United States to proceed with the treaty to control the spread of nuclear weapons.

A source close to Nixon outlined that position today as the President-elect neared the end of a five-day vacation in Florida and the Bahamas.

This left unclear the timing the new administration will seek on the nuclear nonproliferation treaty, which Nixon has endorsed and promised to implement. He has maintained, however, that ratification by the United States should await a normalization of the situation in Nixon took that position as a candidate, after the Soviet invasion last Aug. 20.

A Nixon source said that remains his view, that he has set no timetable for U.S. ratification, and that he will not announce a judgment until the matter is once again before the Senate, which has yet to approve the treaty.

The probably will be shortly after Congress reconvenes on Jan. 3. Nixon takes office on Jan. 20.

Indications are that President Johnson would like to see U.S. action on the treaty completed before he leaves office. But Washington sources indicate they do not believe such swift action would be possible without Nixon's concurrence and full support.

In a series of campaign position statements, Nixon said that, "at a later point, when the situation may be more normalized," the United States should act on the treaty.

On Oct. 26, Nixon said Senate approval and ratification of the treaty had been properly delayed "because of the sudden, brutal Soviet invasion of Czechoslovakia."

"In January the Senate will undoubtedly reassess Soviet intentions in Central and Western Europe; I am hopeful that we can then proceed with this important treaty."

Nixon, who returned Tuesday from two days of seclusion on campaign manager. Grand Cay in the Bahamas. He was to leave Key Biscayne planned to confer today with late in the day to fly to New York. But he is expected to see Robert Finch of California and turn to the Florida resort soon, John N. Mitchell, a partner in perhaps for the Thanksgiving his law firm and his presidential holiday.

More Sympathy Is Stirred By A Mini

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Standing forlornly beside an automobile stalled just off the Pacific Coast highway stood, on different days; (1) A shapely lass of 19 in a miniskirt and (2) A grandmotherly type of 75.

It was a test of who does best among ladies in distress.

Within three minutes after pretty Temre Jaco took up her position beside the car the first of a parade of males stopped to try to rescue her. Each time the scene was restaged at a different location, she had an offer of assistance within three minutes.

But 17 minutes went by before the first good Samaritan stopped for the older hitchhiker, Ula B. Scanlon.

The Long Beach Independent Press-Telegram staged the test. A photographer lurking on the other side of the heavily traveled highway reported he got finger cramps from snapping pictures of males who wanted to help Miss Jaco.

Her offers included one of a ride, "Anywhere."

"They were all nice," she reported. "I think people are willing to get involved."

A junior at California State College in Long Beach, she conceded that the miniskirt encouraged involvement.

Mrs. Scanlon drew Sir Galahads, after the initial try, at an average of one every eight minutes. She said her would-be helpers were nice, too.

As to the comparative roadside fortunes, she offered this philosophical comment: "That's show business. The young ones have more to show than the old ones."

COAST GUARD GIFT

NEWBURYPORT, Mass. (AP) — Newburyport, known as the birthplace of the U.S. Coast Guard, has received a retired 125-foot cutter as a gift from the Coast Guard. The General Greene, decommissioned after 41 years of service, is credited with sinking a German submarine off Nantucket during World War II. Town officials said the vessel will be used as a museum.

Man Is Arrested By FBI For Explosion, Fire In Airliner

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — An explosion and fire endangered a Continental Airlines 707 jetliner as it approached Denver Tuesday carrying seven crewmen and 63 passengers, including Sen. Clifford Hansen, R-Wyo.

The fire was put out and when the plane descended from 18,000 feet and landed safely on a foam-covered runway, FBI agents arrested one passenger, Lawrence B. Havelock, 47, of Lake George, Colo.

"It was like a sonic boom," said Helga Wood, 31, a hostess. "Like the whole tail was blowing off."

"The smoke got so bad I felt like kicking out a window," said Hansen who was bound for a speaking engagement in Lander, Wyo.

"We don't know what caused it," the senator said, "although there was speculation saboteurs were aboard."

Havelock was arraigned before a U.S. commissioner in Denver on charges of violating the federal aircraft destruction statute and was held in lieu of $10,000 bail. He sobbed during the hearing, and said he was tired and "a little upset."

Mrs. Havelock said her husband had undergone follow-up surgery about three weeks ago in connection with earlier removal of a tumor from beneath his skull. Officials at the Denver Veterans Administration Hospital said Havelock was discharged Oct. 23.

The FBI said smoke started pouring into the passenger cabin and a concussion was felt just 12 minutes before the plane was to have touched down.

Mrs. Wood said a lavatory door was blown off with a rush of flames and smoke. She said she ran to the cockpit, shouted to the pilot, Ken Tiegs, Littleton, Colo., "There's a fire back there!" and grabbed a fire extinguisher.

By the time she got back, another hostess, Gunnel Eriksen, 31, was calmly spraying the fire with another extinguisher.

"She was the hero," said Mrs. Wood, who is from Augsburg, Germany. Miss Eriksen is from Sweden.

Plastic fixtures in the lavatory were charred and melted. The heat activated sensors which dropped oxygen masks to the passengers. The outer shell of the aircraft was not penetrated.

The FBI said Havelock was born in Czechoslovakia, but was a naturalized American citizen with 20 years military service.

years with the British Army. [His wife said he also served 6 1/2

Awards, Recognition In 4-H Achievement Night

Four Literary Awards Will Be Made Dec. 6

By Christopher Crittenden
N.C. Department of Archives and History

Written for The AP
RALEIGH (AP) — Four literary awards will be announced at the annual meeting of the North Carolina Literary and Historical Association in Charlotte Dec. 6.

Oldest and best known is the Mayflower Cup. It has been given every year since 1930 by the Society of Mayflower Descendants to the author of the best non-fiction work.

Next oldest is the Sir Walter Raleigh Award, made each year since 1952 by the Historical Book Club of North Carolina for the best work of fiction.

The American Association of University Women Award in juvenile literature is made by that organization.

The Roanoke-Chowan cup is awarded in the field of poetry. To be eligible for any of these awards, a book must have been published during the twelve months ending the previous June 30.

Also, the author must "have maintained either legal residence or actual physical residence, or a combination of both, in the state" for the three years immediately preceding the close of the contest period.

For each contest the board of award consists of the president of the Literary and Historical Association, the heads of the English and History departments of one of six colleges or universities, and two literary critics.

Winners of these four awards have included many of the state's leading authors—Archibald Henderson, Rupert P. Vance, James Boyd, Jonathan Daniels, Wilbur J. Cash, Phillip Russell, LeGette Blythe, Hugh T. Lefler, Paul Green, Inglis Fletcher, Ovid Pierce, Frances Gray Patton, Betty Smith, Frank Borden Hanes, Reynolds Price, Thad Stem, Carl Sandburg, and Manly Wade Wellman.

In addition, the R. D. W. Connor Award is presented through the association by the Historical Society of North Carolina for the best article published during the year in the North Carolina Historical Review.

The Junior Historian awards are made by the association to Junior Historian (public school) groups and individuals for outstanding achievement during the year.

Disintegrating Packages Urged

NEW YORK (AP) C—Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson, saluted as "The First Lady of Beautification," urges manufacturers to help solve the litter problem by producing a package "that will disintegrate or is worth redeeming."

The nation's First Lady was honored Tuesday by Keep America Beautiful, Inc., for her endeavors to clean up and beautify both cities and the countryside.

"It will take effort and money to develop ways to salvage and reuse the products that have been so lavishly discarded," she said, "but the social cost of not doing so is even higher."

After four years of "watching antilitter efforts," she continued, "I hope some day soon their (industry's) public relations men... will sit down with their research and production men and explore new paths."

Mrs. Johnson, who begins a farewell tour of the nation Friday, later told newsmen she would "continue my interest in beautification," adding: "My heart will always be in it and some of my hours."

Grimesland School Menu

Lunchroom menus for the remainder of the week at Grimesland School have been announced as follows:

Thursday — orange juice, tuna salad, buttered potatoes, pickled beets, hot rolls, milk;
Friday — peanut butter and jelly sandwich, pimiento cheese sandwich, vegetable soup, crackers, fruit, milk.

Certificates of appreciation was given to Wilson Rhodes, Bob Smith, Frank Wooten, Col. Harry Hagerty, the Paul Thompson family, the Ruel Dilda family, Greenville City Schools, and Pitt County Schools.

4-H Club charters were given to the Helping Hands Club, the Hornets Club, the Golden Eagle Club and the Freedom Club.

Third year seals were given the Pine Woods and the Shamrock Clubs, Eastern Pines, St. Johns, and Thrivers Clubs received fourth year seals. Piney Grove Club was given a sixth year seal and Red Oak a ninth year seal.

Missile System Tests Scheduled

HOLLOMAN AIR FORCE BASE, N.M. (AP) — The guidance and computer systems of the Air Force's new air-ground short range attack missile (SRAM) are to be tested Friday over White Sands Missile Range.

The Air Force is saying very little about the missile except that it has a range of more than 100 miles and can be launched by aircraft well out of range of enemy defenses.

Offers Red China $1 Million For Information

By JOHN VINOCUR
Associated Press Writer
PARIS (AP) — An American offering $1 million for information about Hugh Francis Redmond sits in a hotel room here and waits for the Red Chinese to call.
They didn't in London, the Hague or Stockholm, and it doesn't seem likely they will call here either.
The man is Sol Friedman, a Yonkers, N.Y., lawyer who is administrator of a $1 million fund for Redmond, an American who has been in Shanghai jails for the last 17 years on spy charges.
The money was raised by public subscription to buy Redmond's release. But since July 4, 1967 the Red Chinese have cut off all news about him.
"We're now at the point where the money is for buying information," said Friedman. "Is he dead or alive? How can we find out? His 72-year-old mother is literally tortured by not knowing."
Redmond, 48, also of Yonkers, was arrested in Shanghai in 1951 and sentenced to life imprisonment in 1954 on charges of maintaining contact with U.S. intelligence agents in Hong Kong.

Advertisements placed in newspapers in the cities where Communist China has diplomatic representatives have netted Friedman many calls from men with schemes and price tags, ranging from $10,000 to $250,000.
Other callers "just seem kooky, fortune-hunting types," Friedman said.
The lawyer said he fears for Redmond's safety because three other Americans imprisoned in Communist China have been allowed to correspond regularly with their families.
The other prisoners are Roman Catholic Bishop James E. Walsh, now 76, of Cumberland, Md., serving a 20-year term imposed in 1960; John T. Downey, 37, of Wallingford, Conn., serving a life term since 1954 on espionage charges; and Richard G. Fecteau, 39, of Lynn, Mass., sentenced in 1952 to 20 years imprisonment on spy charges.
In each European capital where he waits, Friedman has made a perfunctory trip to the Red Chinese mission to deposit a form letter concerning Redmond.

It was refused in the Hague and accepted in Stockholm. In London, "I was told, Did I know that America was a war-mongering nation? Did I know that America has committed an act of hostility towards the People's Republic of China by occupying and permitting the occupation of Taiwan?

"I said I was aware of the Chinese position on these things, and I thought for a second we were moving. But that was all. The man went away," said Friedman.
"It's been a frustrating trip."

Today In Washington

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Selective Service System says the proportion of minority group members serving on local draft boards has doubled in the last year.

The system said Tuesday the number of Negroes, Spanish-Americans Indians and Orientals serving on the nation's 4,000 boards went from 1,001 in October last year to 2,198 this year. Six per cent of draft board members last year were drawn from the four groups, compared to 12 per cent this year.
Selective Service adopted about a year ago the goal of increasing minority representation.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon says it will have to pay $1.2 billion more than planned for the first 120 C5A cargo planes, biggest planes ever made.

The report from the Pentagon Tuesday differed from a statement by A. E. Fitzgerald, an Air Force financial management official, who said last week the cost could rise to $2 billion over estimates.
The Defense Department said the Air Force estimated the cost for the 120 airplanes—the first of which flew last March—would be $3.1 billion. The revised figure is $4.3 billion.
The Pentagon said the increase is due to higher labor and material costs, new technologies and unexpected technical difficulties. The aircraft is built by Lockheed Aircraft Co. Fitzgerald had told Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., chairman of the Joint Economic Committee that the price increase was due to faulty cost estimating, poor cost control and "corporate strategy."

Attend Seminar At Chapel Hill

Daniel E. Gilbert of Greenville and C. C. Rower, Assistant Dean of Men East Carolina University, attended a two-day seminar held last week at the Institute of Pharmacy in Chapel Hill.

The subject of the seminary was drug abuse. It was sponsored by the N. C. Association of Professions; the N. C. Highway Patrol; and the State Bureau of Investigation.

Law enforcement officers, doctors and educators warned that teenagers, young adults, or anyone who experiments with narcotics or many of the so-called "nice" drugs, such as amphetamines and barbiturates, or who uses them carelessly for medical purposes — is asking for trouble. Amphetamines are commonly called pep pills or bennies. Barbiturates are sleeping pills, also called goofballs.

Films, including one reconstructing a "trip" by LSD, were shown. The topic of drunken driving was one of the items on the agenda of the seminar. The use of chemical testing to determine alcohol content in the blood of drivers were discussed.

It was pointed out that action has been taken by the Medical Society of the State of North Carolina to form a new committee to study ways local physicians can assist in combating the increase in mis-use and abuse of drugs.

Probing For Oil Underneath The Courthouse

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Signal Oil & Gas Co. will slant drill for oil under the downtown civic center, digging under and around the music center, hall of records, the courthouse and the county jail.

The contract was awarded Tuesday by the board of supervisors on Signal's high bid of $137,085. The county will get one-sixth royalty on all produced in the 65-acre lease.

In a separate lease, the county retirement board accepted Signal's high bid of $41,180, plus one-sixth royalty, to drill under 20 acres held by the board—including the hall of administration.

Local governmental units receive several million dollars annually from oil royalties.

Return Visit After 62 Years

SEATTLE (AP) — A man who says he "used to take Teddy Roosevelt's kids to roller skate" plans to return to the White House tonight for his first visit since 1906.

William R. Fletcher, 84, commander-in-chief of the United Spanish War Veterans, and his wife have been invited to a White House reception for the heads of the nation's veterans organizations.

Fletcher said his earlier White House visits came while he was stationed at a gun factory in Washington.

"I used to take Teddy Roosevelt's kids to roller skate Saturday mornings," he said. "I guess it was because I was a pretty good roller skater. I used to pick them up at the White House."

House Election Cost $56,750

RALEIGH (AP) — The successful bid of Republican Earl Ruth for election to Congress in North Carolina's 5th District cost $56,750.

This was shown Tuesday in reports filed with Secretary of State Thad Eure by Ruth and two committees that supported his candidacy.

Ruth reported he spent $39,356 and received contributions totaling $37,107; the Earl Ruth Boosters Club reported expenses and contributions totaling $10,000; and Democrats for Earl Ruth reported $7,394 in expenses and contributions.

United Citizens for Nixon reported it spent $17,751 and received $16,243 in contributions.

Robert V. Somers of Salisbury and the Somers for U.S. Senate Committee reported expenditures totaling $9,173 and contributions of $7,243 in Somers' unsuccessful attempt to unseat Sen. Sam Ervin Jr.

Robert B. Morgan reported his successful race for state attorney general cost $6,035 and that he received contributions totaling $3,857.

Dr. John P. East of Greenville reported that he received contributions of $1,490 and spent the same amount in his unsuccessful bid for secretary of state.

Everett Peterson reported he spent $528 in his unsuccessful try for commissioner of insurance.

HARD DIET

OPORTO, Portugal (UPI) — Augusto Sampaio, 48, went to St. Anthony's Hospital complaining of severe abdominal pains. After taking X-rays doctors decided to operate. They found in Sampaio a cache of 3,418 cherry stones and about 100 olive pits.

NASA Centrifuge Moved Bullet In Victim's Brain

SUNNYVALE, Calif. (AP) — A bullet inside the brain of a hold-up victim was re-positioned Tuesday by whirling him in a centrifuge normally used in space research by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.
Joseph Barrios, 63, a cook, was wounded during a restaurant robbery last Oct. 7. He was strapped into the scientific whirling at the NASA's Ames Research Laboratory and spun at speeds subjecting him to as much as six times the force of gravity.
He emerged smiling and talking after one test of 30 seconds at four GS and a second which whirled him at 5 GS for 20 seconds and at 6 GS for five more seconds.

Doctors at O'Connor Hospital at San Jose had removed bone and bullet fragments from Barrios' head, but the main part of a .22 bullet remained. Then it shifted into a more critical area of the brain, the third ventricle.
As he took the spin in the big centrifuge, which has the names of many astronauts on its log, sensors recorded his heartbeat and respiration. He was under constant observation by closed-circuit television.
The motion moved the bullet out of the third ventricle into a safer area—a lateral ventricle where it cannot return to the dangerous third ventricle area, the doctors said.

The report from the Pentagon Tuesday differed from a statement by A. E. Fitzgerald, an Air Force financial management official, who said last week the cost could rise to $2 billion over estimates.
The Defense Department said the Air Force estimated the cost for the 120 airplanes—the first of which flew last March—would be $3.1 billion. The revised figure is $4.3 billion.

LBJ Says Nation Far From Civil Rights Goals

By TOM SEPPY
Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — President Johnson, in an indirect challenge to his Republican successor, says many civil rights gains have been made in the last five years "but we are nowhere in sight of where we must be before we can rest."

Addressing the National Urban League here Tuesday night, Johnson called on government, business and labor as well as the news media and schools to give all Americans what he called "the right to opportunity."

He said, "we can expand our economy and resist those voices who call for a little more unemployment as medicine for inflation"—an indirect criticism of some economic advisers to President-elect Richard M. Nixon who have said an increase in unemployment would help fight inflation.

"I promise you one thing," Johnson said. "For as long as I live, I shall remain joined with you in fighting for that right to opportunity."

Johnson made his remarks, which were relatively short and laudatory in tone, in an address at the New York Hilton Hotel to the 12th annual Equal Opportunity Days awards dinner of the Urban League, an organization devoted to the promotion of civil rights.

Whitney M. Youn', executive director of the league, announced at the meeting the establishment of a $100,000 Lyndon Baines Johnson scholarship fund at the University of Texas to annually aid a "deserving black youngster" studying public affairs.

In his speech Johnson recounted the strides—and some of the setbacks—Negroes had made during the past five years of his administration. He noted that incomes for Negroes had risen and the infant mortality rate among Negroes had declined.

But he also noted that income of Negroes is still only 60 per cent of whites' incomes; one Negro family in three still lives in poverty; millions of Negroes are still relegated to menial jobs; one out of four Negro teen-agers is unemployed and the Negro infant mortality rate is still three times that of whites.

"We have come a long way," he said. "We have made a lot of verbal commitments. We have even changed a great many lives already for the better. But we are nowhere in sight of where we must be before we can rest."

Johnson said Americans must protect and extend the right to opportunity "to make it just as real for the child of Harlem as it is for the child of the most prosperous suburbs."

The President received a standing ovation when he finished his speech. As he left the ballroom of the Midtown hotel he stopped to shake hands, wave and smile. He was greeted warmly by the crowd, mostly Negroes.

Sales Tax Hike Is Before Bureau

DURHAM (AP)—An increase in North Carolina's statewide sales tax was proposed in a resolution due for consideration today by the North Carolina Farm Bureau convention.

The sales tax increase was proposed in lieu of increasing property taxes to provide money for hard-pressed local governments.

There was debate over wording of the resolution when it came up for consideration Tuesday, and action was postponed until a special committee could give it further study.

Also up for consideration before the convention adjourned today was a resolution calling for a cut of from 5 to 15 per cent in flue-cured tobacco acreage next year.

This resolution won the approval of the convention's resolution committee by a 29 to 20 vote in surprise action Monday.

Resolutions adopted by the convention Tuesday called for (1) a cutback in Daylight Saving Time by starting it a month later and ending it a month sooner, and (2) return of the public schools to state and local control with freedom of choice school attendance as a guideline.

The convention Tuesday elected B. C. Mangum of Rouge-mont for an 11th term as president of the state farm bureau. Elected vice presidents were John Sledge of Oak City, Elmer Burt of Fuquay-Varina, and Frank Bryant of Boonville.

Will Propose New Path For Security Life

WINSTON-SALEM (AP) — J. Edwin Collette, president of Security Life and Trust Co. of Winston-Salem, was to meet with shareholders today to outline a proposed corporate reorganization plan.

Collette will suggest the creation of a holding company, to be called Integon Corp.

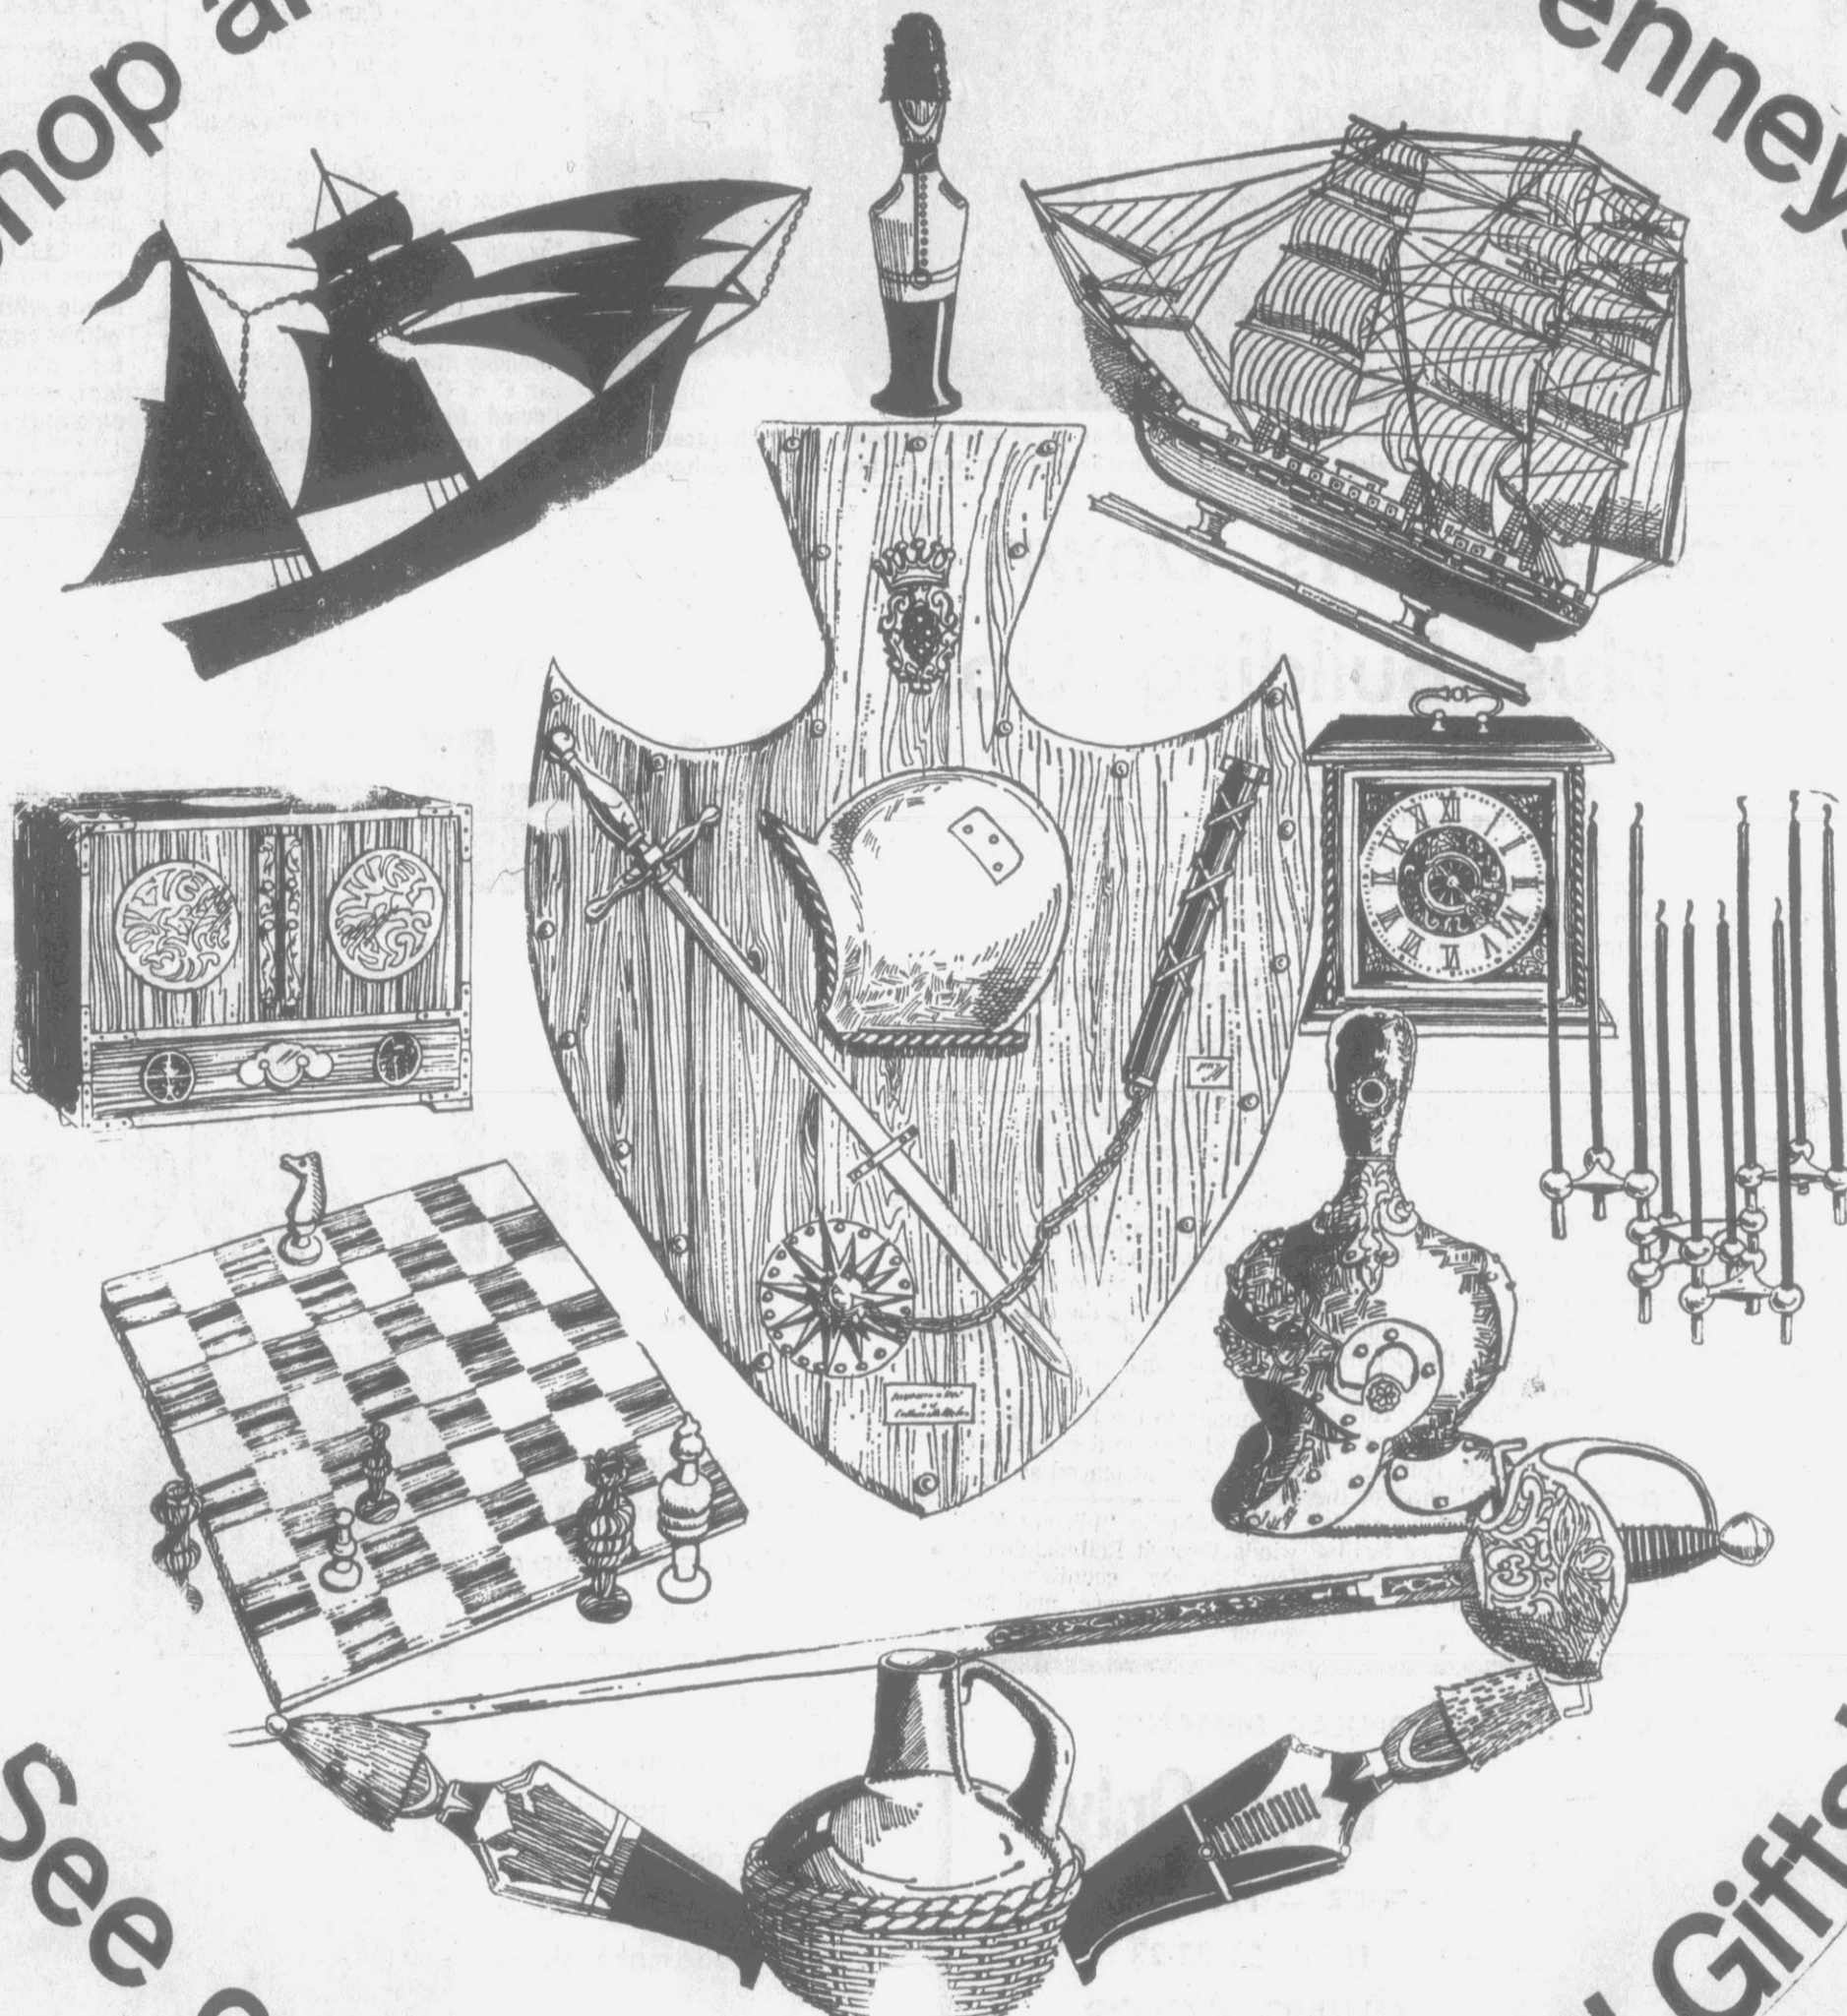

Integon would become the parent company for Security Life and Trust, Security Fire and Indemnity Co., Security General Insurance Co., Security Diversified Shares Management Inc., and Security Services Inc. Under the proposal, shareholders would exchange one share of Security stock for each share of Integon.

The holding company is to be in operation by Jan. 2.

Shareholders will vote today on whether to accept the proposal.

Humphrey Predicts Nation Will Pay A Price For Space Funds Cut

By JIM SHROTHMAN
CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Declaring America's space program a wise investment, Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey predicts the nation "will pay the price" for not investing more funds for future space research. "The space program has contributed greatly to the structure of our nation," Humphrey told National Aeronautics and Space Administration officials here Tuesday to review preparations for an around-the-moon flight by the three Apollo 8 astronauts at Christmastime. "I have felt it has been underfunded at times and we will pay the price," the vice president said while explaining that Congress and the Johnson administration cut space spending because of other priorities. "I feel it is a wise investment on the part of Congress and the public," Humphrey said referring to space research. "I'll do what I can as a private citizen and a former chairman of the space council to see it is funded." Humphrey, who as vice president is chairman of the National Aeronautics and Space Council which advises President Johnson on space policy, visited

Cape Kennedy for five hours Tuesday en route to Washington from Miami, where he and his wife Muriel were vacationing. He received a first-hand report from the three Apollo 8 pilots who plan to fly around the moon at Christmastime—Air Force Col. Frank Borman, Navy Capt. James A. Lovell Jr. and Air Force Maj. William A. Anders—then made like an astronaut himself by performing a make-believe rendezvous inside a mock spaceship.

Lying on the command pilot's couch inside the spacecraft simulator, Humphrey operated controls while two other astronauts involved with the Apollo 9 mission scheduled for launching in February, Air Force Lt. Col. David R. Scott and Navy Cmdr. Richard F. Gordon, told him how to perform a rendezvous. "I think you better stop that, Mr. Vice President," Gordon quipped one time when sightings on a spaceship television screen indicated Humphrey was approaching the target too rapidly. "You're going to run right through it."

Humphrey received briefings at the base of the Apollo 9 moon rocket.

Board Planning Welcome Signs

GRIFTON — Plans were made at a board meeting of the Grifton Chamber of Commerce Thursday night to erect welcome signs on all approaches to the town.

Preparations for the Christmas parade, scheduled for 5:30 p.m. Tuesday, December 3, were reported progressing.

Plans have been made to place a large Christmas tree in the center of town. Children may visit Santa Claus at the Chamber of Commerce office each Saturday in December before Christmas.

The Board voted to purchase a desk for the office. The treasurer reported a balance of $1,062.50 and requested that all members pay dues promptly.

The Chamber of Commerce office is open from 1 to 3 p.m. Monday through Friday. Regular C of C meetings were scheduled for the first Friday in each month at 8 p.m. in the court room.

U.S. Food Exports Down And Surplus Building Up

WASHINGTON (AP) — With more of the world's developing nations learning how to feed their hungry millions, the United States faces the problem of what to do with food surpluses. This crunch in world supply and demand for farm products was underscored today in separate reports from the Agriculture Department and the Agency for International Development—AID.

In a summary of the quarterly wheat report, the Agriculture Department says indications carryover stocks next July 1 will be 600 million to 650 million bushels, compared with 537 million this year.

The preliminary report also said the department's 1968-69 export target of 750 million bushels "looks increasingly difficult to attain" and that exports definitely are not expected to match the 761 million shipped abroad last year.

The situation today first includes a problem of world plenty, the department said.

The report stated there has been a slackening of imports by big customers in the world market, notably the Soviet Union and Red China. Food aid recipients, including India and Pakistan, also have reduced their requirements from previous levels.

"Thus, at least for the current year, the world not only has more than enough wheat for its needs, but the grain is so adequately distributed that trade expansion is not expected," the report said.

A speech by the administrator of the Agency for International Development offers an explanation for the excess in wheat and other products.

In a talk prepared for the International Development Conference, William S. Gaud cited India, Pakistan, Turkey and the Philippines among the nations that have launched a "green revolution" through the use of new high yielding seeds, better use of water and fertilizer and more effective economic policies to double and triple their yields of rice and wheat.

He said the green revolution is more than a hope, it is now here in parts of east and south Asia and the Middle east. The question is whether it will be sustained and will spread, he added.

Three Convicted Of Intimidation Given A Lecture

GREENSBORO (AP) — Superior Court Judge Allen Gwyn, after a one hour lecture on rights of free men, has even suspended sentences, with certain stiff requirements, to three men charged with intimidating a Negro minister.

The three defendants, who had pleaded no contest to the charges, were Robert Roseman, 24, Franklin D. Meade, 34, and James G. Buck, 27, all of Greensboro.

Gwyn sentenced the men to terms of 20-24 months each, suspended for five years under these conditions:

—The men work regularly; voluntarily spend weekends in the county jail for an indefinite period; pay court costs; reimburse damages to the car and the home of the Negro pastor.

The intimidation charges were filed after the Rev. Frank Williams had moved into a previously all-white neighborhood in Greensboro.

A tarred dummy allegedly was displayed in front of the Williams home, a cross was burned and, according to the minister's wife, rocks were thrown through the windows and shots fired into a garage.

The trial of two other men accused in the same case—George Dorsett and Clyde Webster—has been continued. Dorsett and Webster pleaded innocent.

The jurist said he wasn't without sympathy for the feelings of the men, who asserted they sought to make the Negro minister move because Negroes "had overrun" a private housing project in the northeast section of Greensboro and "transformed it into a mostly Negro neighborhood."

But, the judge added, "No crime, be it rape or murder, so affects the public welfare today as the one with which you are charged. It is inconsistent with our whole form of government . . . with freedom, which appeals to the finest instincts of humanity."

Judges Rebuke Prexy And Cornell Students

NEW YORK (AP) — Two federal judges have rebuked the president and 5,000 students of Cornell University for "seeking to sway" a decision in behalf of a student convicted of tearing up his draft card.

The student, Bruce D. Dancis, 20, was freed without bail by a three-judge U.S. 2nd Court of Appeals panel Tuesday pending a hearing Dec. 16 on appeal of his conviction.

But two of the judges criticized Cornell President James A. Perkins, who sent a letter and telegram to the appeals court, which also received a petition containing 5,000 student signatures urging leniency for Dancis.

Said Judge Irving R. Kaufman: "A court is not a political forum; nor should an issue be decided in favor of the litigant who can produce the more influential and more numerous supporters," adding:

"We believe it would be highly improper to receive the petition or to consider the telegram and letter, just as we would refuse similar blandishments if offered by the prosecution."

Judge Robert P. Anderson said it was "shocking" that an educational institution was unaware it was acting improperly in seeking to influence a court in a specific case.

The third jurist on the panel, Judge Charles H. Tenney, did not comment from the bench.

Turmoil Said To Be Inevitable

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Turmoil on college campuses today is "the inevitable characteristic of a rapidly changing world," says the president of the California Institute of Technology.

"An educational system not in turmoil," Dr. Lee A. Dubridge said Tuesday in his annual report to the school's trustees, "would be one that is surely dead."

The universities' success—not failure—have brought on disruptions, Dubridge said, adding that "despite its faults, our educational system gives more and better opportunities to young people than any other in existence—or in the history of civilization."

Battery Car Hit 138.8 MPH

BONNEVILLE SALT FLATS, Utah (AP) — A battery-powered vehicle whisked across the salt flats at an average speed of 138.862 miles an hour Tuesday.

"I expect we're starting a whole new game," said a spokesman for Ford Motor Co., which promoted the speed run by driver Jerry Kugel.

The car, named the Autolite Lead Wedge, has 20 regular production lead acid batteries, 10 on each side. They are wired in series to power a rear-mounted motor similar to those used in fork-lift trucks.

The car went 139.8 miles an hour one way and 17.8 miles an hour one way and 137.8 miles an hour one way.

The United States exported $596 million worth of food to Germany last year.

Pirate Varsity Rolls To 95-60 Win Over Frosh

By WOODY PEELE
Reflector Sports Editor

East Carolina University's varsity basketball team rolled to an easy 95-60 victory over the freshmen last night in the annual Purple-Gold game. Coach Tom Quian's charges were never in any trouble after the first five minutes of play, leading by as much as 45 points in the one-sided contest. The varsity showed improvement in board play and in shooting and defense, but was hampered by a large number of fouls. Three members of the varsity fouled out during the game, as the freshmen went to the line for 41 shots, making 28 of them. The freshmen showed very poor shooting, making only 32 per cent of their field goals while the varsity hit on 55 per cent of their attempts.

The varsity had little trouble in out-rebounding the freshmen, pulling down 52 to the frosh's 37, for a wide margin of control.

Senior forward Richard Keir led the rebounding with nine, while junior center Jim Modlin had eight. Sophomore forward Jim Gregory had six.

Leading the freshmen with seven was center Ronnie Lepors.

Keir also led the scoring, dumping in 18 points. Half of those came with the completion of three three-point plays, good for nine points. Keir made eight of eight attempts from the line and hit on five of 11 field goals.

Gregory was next with 15 points, while Modlin and junior guard Richie Williams each had 12 and sophomore guard Bob McKillop had 10.

Leading the freshmen was guard Julius Prince, who dropped in 13 of 16 free throws, and picked up two field goals for 17 points. Randy Longworth added 14 points and LePors had 13.

Perhaps the man most to watch from the game is Williams. Returning to East Carolina, where he played as a freshman and sophomore early in the decade, Williams shows the talent to become an outstanding guard. He returns to the Pirates after a tour of duty with the Armed Forces. Williams, besides dropping in double figures, was a key man on defense for the varsity, causing a number of steals and misplays by the freshmen.

The varsity took the early lead on a free throw by Gregory after 15 seconds of play. But with 19:22 left in the half, Prince got his first two free throws, and put the freshmen into their only lead of the evening, 2-1.

They were never in it after that. Gregory came back with a layup with 19:12 left to put the varsity back on top, 3-2, and they were in command from there on out. Gregory hit again on a steal a few seconds later and it was 5-2. Tom Miller then made good on a jumper for a 7-2 lead, before the freshmen could score again.

The frosh didn't manage a field goal until over five minutes of the game had passed. Greg Crouse then hit to cut the score back to 15-7.

But the varsity wasn't to be denied. Gregory hit again to make it 17-7, and Keir made good on a three-point play for a 20-7 lead. Gregory made two more free throws to push the lead to 15 before the freshmen got back into the game.

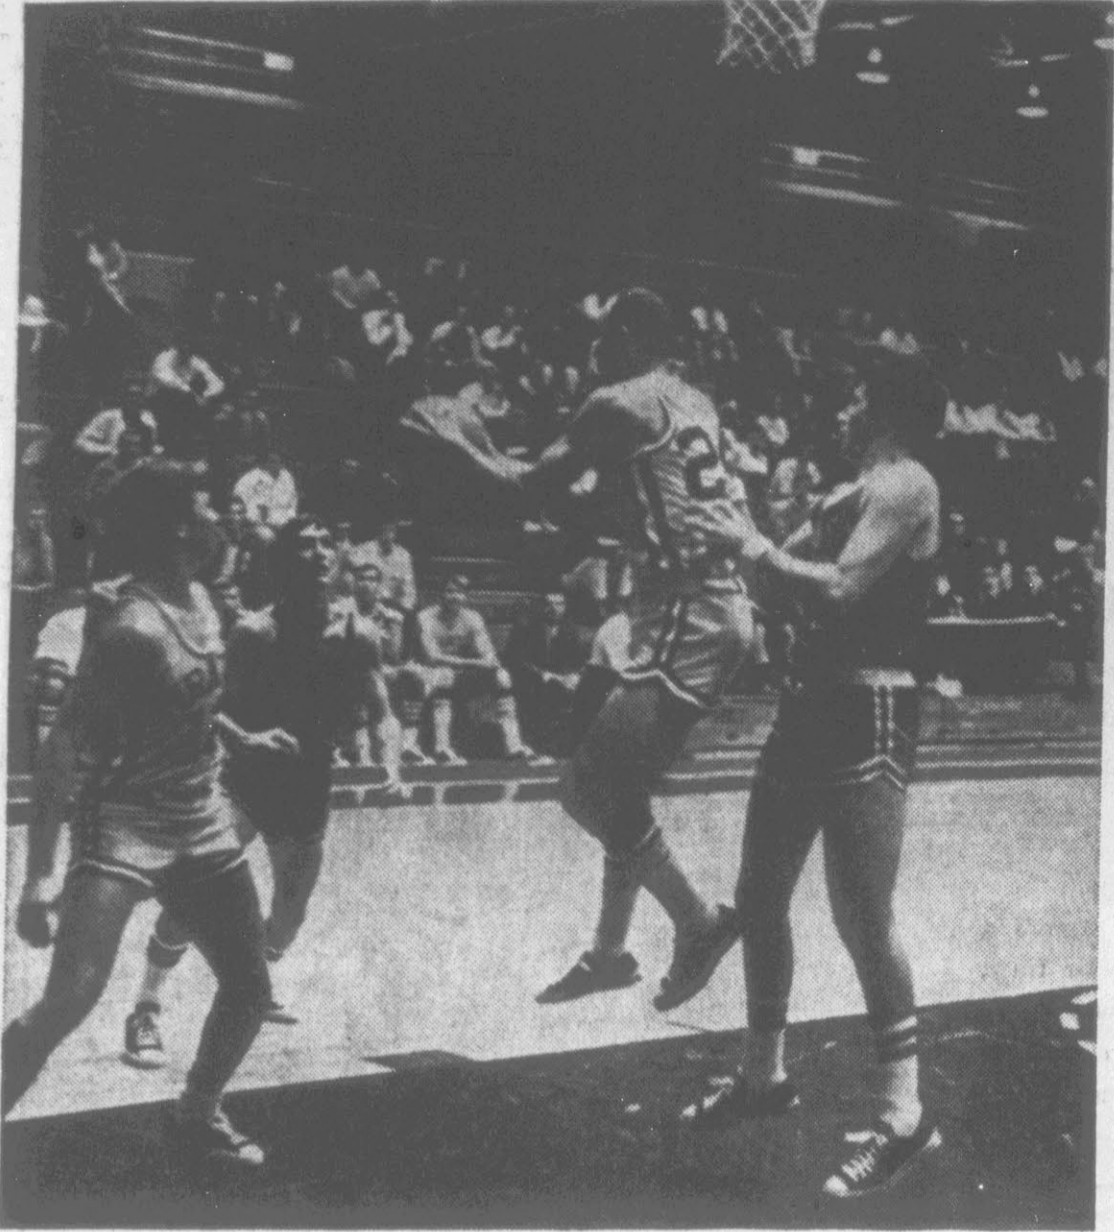

The lead climbed steadily after that. It reached 21 on a shot by Mike Dunn with 5:10 to play, as the varsity led 39-18. It passed 49-18 with 2:23 left, as the varsity refused to let the freshmen score.

By the end of the half, it was 55-22, and the game was virtually over.

The varsity continued to build its lead, passing 40 at 64-24, and then reaching as high as 45 at 82-27 on another three-pointer by Keir. After that, the freshmen managed to cut into the lead as all of the varsity players saw action. East Carolina's varsity opens action on Saturday, November 30, traveling to meet former conference rival West Virginia. The freshmen open on Monday, December 2, in Durham against the Duke frosh.

Oak City Edges By Winterville

WINTERVILLE — Oak City edged past Winterville in the final period last night to take a 47-42 victory over the Wolves.

The Winterville girls got some measure of revenge in the opener, with a close 25-24 win.

In that game, Winterville edged out into a 4-2 lead, and then built that to 13-8 by the half.

Both teams scored seven points in the third period to push the score to 20-15, but in the final period, Oak City rallied, outscoring Winterville, 9-5. The rally fell just short, however, as Oak City could never quite catch the Lady Wolves.

Carrie Carr led Winterville with 10 points.

In the boys contest, Oak City led, to lead 32-29. But in the final period, Oak City rallied, outscoring Winterville, 18-9, to carry them into the lead and give them the win.

Brown led Oak City with 21 points, while Ronnie Stokes had 14 and William Wilson had 10 for Winterville.

The Wolves travel to Jamesville on Friday.

Tickets for the annual Rose High School Football Banquet are on sale at Hodges Hardware, Coffman's, and Bigg's Drug Store, it was announced today.

The banquet will be held Monday at 8:45 p.m. at the school cafeteria. Tom Harp, coach of the Duke Blue Devils, will be the featured speaker.

Various awards will be made to Rose High School football victory of the season last night, dumping South Edgecombe, 67-47. The Stokes girls, however, were not as lucky, coming out on the low end of a 45-36 score.

In the girls game, South Edgecombe inched away to a 9-8 lead in the first period, and managed to hold on to a 22-20 lead at the half.

It was the third period that proved decisive. South Edgecombe dumped in 14 points to Stokes' four, and that made it 36-24. Stokes tried to rally in the final period, outscoring South Edgecombe, 12-9, but the rally fell far short.

Debbie Webb led South Edgecombe with 16 points, while Betty Varnell and Sandra Shelton each had 10.

For Stokes, Theresa Cherry had 13 and Judy Leggett and Patrice Warren each had 11.

In the boys game, Stokes pulled out to a 12-8 lead in the first period, then built that to 28-19 by the half.

The third period again was the big one, as Stokes outscored their guests, 22-8, and built up a 50-27 edge. South Edgecombe managed to snip off three points in the final period, outscoring Stokes, 20-17.

Stokes' defense, led by Jake Gray, Ward Parker and Eddie Hudson limited South Edgecombe to just 12 field goals in the game. South Edgecombe got one in the first period, three in the second, two in the third, and then, as the bench was cleared by the Blue Jays, they dumped in six in the final period.

Hoyt Haddock again led Stokes with 18 points, while John Corey had 17 and Gray had 15.

Bobby Webb had 11 and Thomas Smith had 10 for South Edgecombe.

Stokes travels to Bear Grass on Monday night.

West Edgecombe Nips B-F, 48-46

BELVOIR—The Belvoir-Falkland Eagles took a pair of blows on the chin last night, as West Edgecombe swept both sides of a boys-girls basketball night. West Edgecombe's boys won, 48-46, while the girls took a 29-18 decision.

In the girls game, the two teams swapped points in the first quarter, ending up in a 7-7 tie. In the second quarter, however, West Edgecombe edged out into a 17-14 lead.

Neither team had much luck in the third period, with West Edgecombe getting three and Belvoir two for a 20-16 West Edgecombe lead at the end of the frame. In the final quarter, West Edgecombe outscored Belvoir, 9-2, to win it easily.

Joanne Walker led West Edgecombe with 16 points, while Cecil Dickens had 11. Judy Scott had nine to pace Belvoir.

In the boys game, the final two seconds of the game was decisive. Belvoir had moved into a 12-9 lead in the first period, and held on for a 24-20 lead at the half.

But in the third period, the Belvoir shooting went cold and West Edgecombe rallied to take the lead at 35-28. Belvoir came charging back in the final period and tied the game up at 46-46 in the closing seconds, but a West Edgecombe basket with two seconds left, sealed the defeat for the Eagles.

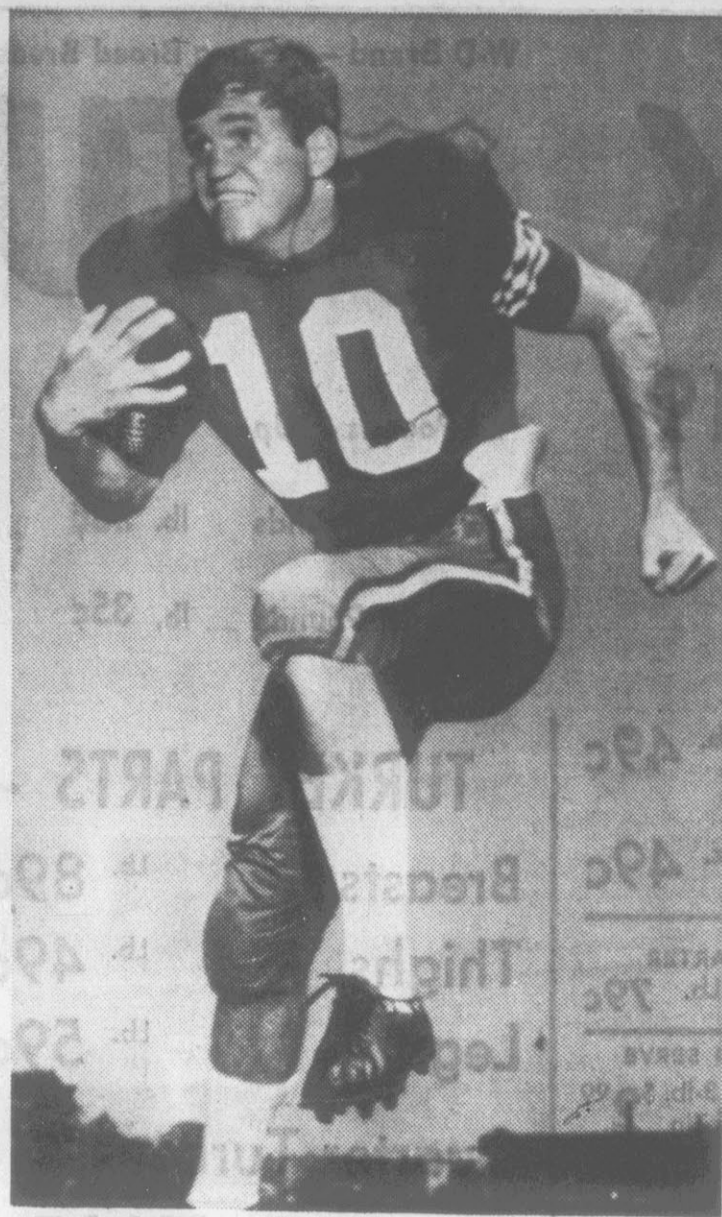

Fred Taylor led West Edgecombe to their win with 15 points, while Pat Alexander and Larry Proctor had 11 each.

For Belvoir, David Nichols had 11 and William Shivar and Timmy Tyner each had 10.

Robinson Lost To Savannah

WINTERVILLE — Savannah High School handed Robinson Union its first defeat in three starts last night with a 57-41 win over the Tigers.

Savannah jumped on the Tigers for a 10-point edge in the first period, 14-4. Then in the second frame, Savannah held off a Robinson rally to keep the lead at 31-19.

In the third period, Savannah again kept Robinson away from the scoreboard, outscoring the Tigers, 13-7, to build the lead to 44-26. In the final period, Robinson finally managed to outscore their guests, 15-13, but it was too late then.

Holmes led Savannah with 16 points, while Cratch had 12 and Cantey had 11.

Ivory Bryant led Robinson with 12, while Danny Smith had 10.

In the junior varsity game, Savannah made it a sweep with a 56-50 win.

Conetoe shot away to a 22-10 lead in the first period, then built that to 39-23 by the end of the half.

In the third period, Conetoe got the decisive points, outscoring Bethel, 27-15. Bethel rallied in the final period, outscoring Conetoe, 24-18, but they were too far back to catch up.

Curtis Jordan led Conetoe with 36 points, while Lynn Long and Howard Andrews each poured in 14.

Walter Hill had 14 and Richard Roberson had 11 and Joe Hardison had 13 to pace Bethel.

The Citadel's Problem Is Finding Replacements For Their Injured

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Citadel, which still has hopes of sharing the Southern Conference football championship, plays host Saturday to East Carolina and coach Red Parker says the big problem "will be juggling people to replace injured personnel."

Defensive halfback Billy Watson is out with a knee injury and that doesn't make Parker feel any better because, he says, "our scouts tell me that East Carolina will score at least three times on our defense."

The Bulldogs, to hear Parker tell it, are even worse off on offense — particularly up front. Guard Creig Tyler is scheduled for a knee operation next week; guard Mike Crowley, center Phil Hofmann and tackle Marion Glover have leg injuries; and guard Don Dease is doubtful because of a concussion.

But the offensive backfield of Tony Passander, Joe Bedenbaugh, Gene Hightower, Jim McMillan and Steve Brackett "appears to be set and coming back stronger with each game," says Parker.

"Except for the Chattanooga and West Virginia games, we have had a pretty fair offensive line like we did last week, I'll be happy."

Last Saturday, The Citadel came from behind in the last two minutes for a 24-21 victory over William and Mary — a comeback which leads Parker to comment that "this team has already overcome more adversity than anyone believed possible.

They have had a hundred chances to fail . . ."

Bethel Takes Win Over Pantego Five

BETHEL — Bethel's Indians picked up their third win in four starts last night, while the Squaws were winning their fourth in a row over Pantego. The boys took a 64-55 decision, while the girls rolled, 47-17.

In the girls game, Bethel shot away to a 12-4 lead in the first period, and then built the lead to 22-6 by the end of the first.

After intermission, Bethel came back to add 10 more points to its lead, outscoring Pantego, 17-7, for a 39-13 edge. In the final period, Bethel outscored the Braves, 8-4, to win handily.

Carolyn Whichard led Bethel with 14 points, while Debbie Purvis had 12.

In the boys contest, Bethel built up a 21-16 lead in the first period, and inched that out to 36-23 by the end of the half.

Pantego managed to snip away one point in the third period, cutting it to 46-39, but Bethel got it back, plus another, outscoring Pantego, 18-16, in the final frame.

Leading the Bethel victory was Eddie Stokes, who dropped in 21 points, while Douglas Dunning had 16, Gary James had 14 and Rickie Parker had 12.

Leathers had 17 for Pantego, while Spruill had 14 and O'Neal had 11.

Bethel travels to Chicod on Monday to open the Pitt County Conference battles.

Students Helped EC Scholarship Weekend Event

Twenty-six East Carolina University academic and merit scholarship recipients acted as host and hostesses for the fifth annual ECU Scholars Hip Weekend held Nov. 14-16. Each of these ECU students is the recipient of either ECU Academic or Merit Scholarships with values ranging from $500 to $1,000 per year, awarded on the basis of high school achievement, S. A. T. and National Merit Scores.

The special weekend program brought to the ECU campus about 150 of North Carolina's most outstanding high school seniors. Activities included class visitation, seminars, campus tours, concerts, a football game and a banquet with university President Leo W. Jenkins as speaker.

Five of the students guides made a television appearance Saturday morning, Nov. 16, to discuss the weekend program: Sonya Boyd, Jeanette Carter, Thomas H. Clay, William Ransone and Darrell Vodopich.

Included are:
PITT COUNTY, Greenville—Sonya Marie Boyd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hilton E. Boyd, 1501 Brownlea Dr.; Thomas Howard Clay, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard B. Clay, 129 N. Harding St.; Virginia Arlene Craft, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Livingston Craft, 2618 Jefferson Dr.; Frances Margaret Gibbs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sullivan Grant Gibbs, 1901 E. 8th St.

Colossal Housing Shortage Felt

NEW DELHI (AP) — India's housing shortage is colossal. Its present need is estimated at 81.4 million houses and will increase at the rate of one million a year. The housing ministry has calculated that it will need 300 billion rupees ($40 billion) to provide a roof for every Indian. It is estimated 41.33 per cent of India's 520 million population have one-room tenements, 28.28 per cent two rooms, 13.25 per cent three rooms, 7.64 per cent four rooms and 9.5 per cent five or more rooms.

Farm Income In India Is Rising

NEW DELHI (AP) — India's current rural boom is expected to raise this country's national income in 1967-1968 by nine per cent.

Deputy Prime Minister Morarji Desai, who also is finance minister, told Parliament the industrial sector's contribution to this rise would be nil. Nearly 14 different units of the industrial sector showed a significant decline in production, he said.

The Worry Clinic Many Cannot Believe Fear Has An Impact

Martin's problem is faced by millions of men, as well as wives. For women can be psychologically impotent even though they may still satisfy their mates. So study this case with special care. It reveals some basic marital psychiatry, too little understood by husbands and wives!

By GEORGE W. CRANE, Ph. D., M. D.
CASE H-539: Martin T., aged 45, is the dental patient who had 2 abscessed teeth removed. "Dr. Crane," he later informed me, "I had been a platonic husband for 6 months prior to my visit to the dental surgeon. "But within a couple of weeks following the removal of those infected molars, my erotic vigor came back with a bang. "In fact, I was rejuvenated at least 20 years! "But 3 months have passed and now I am impotent again, so how do you explain my case? And what can I do to regain my vigor?" All throughout history men have sought magic potions and "witch doctor" concoctions to rejuvenate their eroticism. In modern times, men as well as women often pester physicians for surgery, vaguely believing that such an operation will be the magical elixir they crave. Thus, thousands of neurotic women, who consider themselves impotent, will complain of vague pain in the pelvis, vainly hoping that the doctor may be able to discover and excise the cause of their impotence. "But, Dr. Crane," you may protest, "I didn't know wives were ever impotent!" "As millions of them are! For when a wife obtains little excitement out of the marital relationship, she vaguely wonders if she is "all there as a woman."

That often starts her "shopping" among doctors, vainly hoping that some anatomical defect may be found and removed. In fact, I've had wives referred to me by irritated physicians, because the women were considered sexually neurotic and had even submitted to 5 or 6 minor and major operations in the pelvic and lower abdominal area. Yet the underlying element that drove those wives to the surgeons was their unvoiced dread that they were "not all there as a woman."

Obviously a wife can function in the marital bond merely as a passive partner. Her husband cannot do so, which is why impotence causes far more panic among males.

But though a passive wife may satisfy her mate, she herself may obtain little pleasure and this is what causes "psychic impotence," despite her physical cooperation with her husband.

Martin subconsciously used his infected teeth as an alibi for his previous platonic role as a husband.

And within two weeks thereafter, he said he was rejuvenated by 20 years.

But then the old fear of impotence returned and again rendered him platonic. For fear can kill both gastric as well as erotic function. If you are terrified when you sit down to eat, your stomach may thus reject food, either via nausea and vomiting, or by indigestion, cramps and abdominal distress.

Similar upsets occur in the erotic realm. A frightened man may force himself to sit down at the dinner table and eat.

But he cannot force himself to function erotically, for eroticism is an emotional reaction and emotions are not dictated by will power!

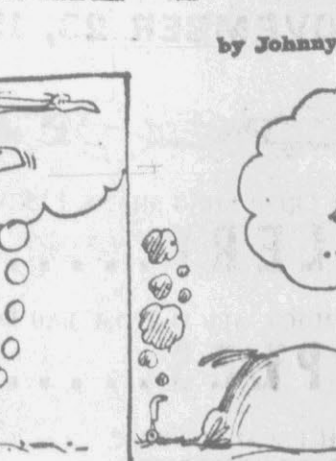

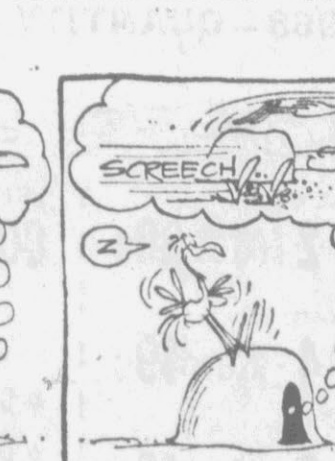

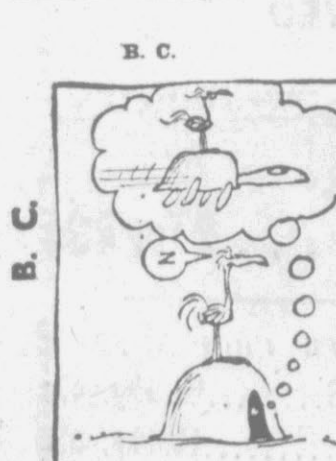

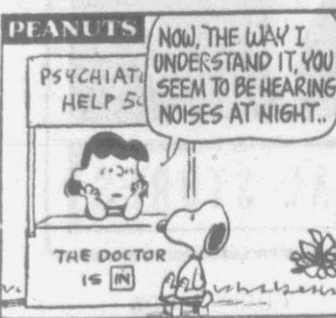

Martin's platonic role was eliminated by changing his outlook and enlisting more aggressive cooperation from his wife in their boudoir.

So send for the booklet "Sex Problems in Marriage," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 20 cents.

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

 The small slam contract in hearts reached by North and South was a sound undertaking. South lacked perhaps by a fraction the values to make his jump shift response of two hearts, inasmuch as he held 17 points including high cards and distribution. However, the diamond void—the suit in which East had overcalled—provided a measure of compensation. Once he was able to secure a raise from partner, he proceeded without further ado to six hearts.

West opened the four of diamonds, the five was played from dummy and declarer ruffed away East's jack with the three of hearts. He proceeded to draw the outstanding trumps with three pulls.

South observed the dummy's readily establishable club suit should provide him with a comfortable margin of tricks, and he proceeded to cash the ace and king of that suit. When West showed out, South was obliged to revise his estimate for, with the king of spades as the only remaining entry to the North hand, declarer was no longer in position to develop the clubs profitably.

A third round of clubs was led, but East was not obliging enough to continue the suit. He shifted to the ten of spades and South ultimately resorted to a finesse of the jack of spades. When West turned up with the queen, a one trick set was registered.

Declarer was guilty of gross carelessness in the management of his resources. He requires only one additional trick in the club suit to take care of his potential spade loser, and should therefore take measure to protect himself against adverse distribution.

Since dummy has only one side entry, South should surrender a club trick early to maintain his communications with the North hand. After cashing the ace of clubs, it is suggested that he continue with a small club, conceding this trick to the opposition.

When declarer regains the lead, he can lead a third club to the king—and then ruff the next round establishing North's long card in the suit for his 12th trick. The king of spades now provides the necessary access to the dummy.

Portugal's Birth Rate Still High

LISBON (AP) — The annual number of births in Catholic Portugal has been steadily declining in this decade, but the birth rate remains one of the highest in Europe.

In 1961, there were 217,916 live births in continental Portugal. In 1965, the figure was 210,590. During last year live births dropped to 202,061. That was roughly the figure 20 years ago, when Portugal had 1.2 million fewer inhabitants than the nearly 10 million it has today.

But the birth rate, at 21.4 per thousand, trails in Europe only those of Albania—34 per thousand—and Ireland—21.6 per thousand.

Specialists attribute the drop in births to continuing heavy emigration abroad and the rising cost of living.

No Shortage Of Dried Codfish

LISBON (AP) — Residents of Portugal have been officially reassured that there will be plenty of bacalhau—dried codfish—on the market for the rest of the year.

There had been reports of a possible shortage of the national dish, which would be roughly equivalent to a shortage of spaghetti in Italy. A period of high prices started the alarm.

Now official agencies have said that there will be enough bacalhau for the next nine months, and pointed out that production of the boardlike, salted fish actually increased 23 per cent during the first seven months of this year. Prices are now down to normal.

About 230 different species of birds live in Florida's Everglades National Park.

less invalid confined to her bed. Tuesday Slusher used one shot from his rusting .32 caliber revolver to kill his wife, police said. Then he called his stepdaughter in Opa-locks to report what he had done and shot himself fatally in the brain, officers said.

"It's a case of a man with not enough money to give her care in a private nursing home and too much to put her in a public nursing home," said the heartbroken stepdaughter, Mrs. James Lightner.

Joseph Kleiman, administrator of the nursing home, said Medicare paid the bills when Mrs. Slusher first came to the home 13 months ago. In the spring Slusher's Blue Cross policy took over, a benefit he earned before retiring from the Chrysler Corp. plant at Port Huron, Mich.

Last Wednesday Blue Cross told Kleiman Mrs. Slusher was not sick enough for insurance benefits despite the fact she was bedridden, could not feed herself and could not straighten her body.

"That left him high and dry," Kleiman said. "He was hit with three months of bills he didn't know he would have and he found out he'd have to pay $19 a day to keep her here."

"He took her home right away," Kleiman said. "I don't see why they didn't consider her sick enough," Kleiman said. "She required constant care."

County welfare rules prohibit assistance to anyone with more than $1,200 in savings. After Slusher paid the bill he had $1,600. And he owned the small fenced and landscaped home on Wiley Street.

Just before noon Tuesday Slusher sent the $1,600 to his sister, Mrs. Mary Gull of Detroit. Then he shot Mary Madeline Slusher in the head and killed himself, police said.

"Perhaps caring for her was too much for him," said Mrs. Lightner. "But he never said so. He never complained."

Orchestra Plans Taiwan Concerts

CAMDEN, N. J. (AP) — The first Japanese orchestra to visit any part of China will play Nov. 14 in Taiwan.

The Japan Philharmonic will perform four concerts in Taipei under the sponsorship of the Chinese government in Taiwan. It later will give concerts in Hong Kong.

Conductor will be Ling Tung, music director of the Camden (N.J.) Symphony, making his third guest engagement with the Japan Philharmonic. Tung was born in Shanghai and now is an American citizen. He is music director both of the Camden Symphony and the Jackson Hole (Wyo.) Fine Arts Festival.

The Camden Symphony is affiliated with Rutgers University.

Carnegie Won't Book Experience

NEW YORK (AP)—Carnegie Hall has refused to accept a booking for the Jimi Hendrix Experience.

Mrs. Iona Satescu, booking manager for Carnegie Hall, said, "We have information that in his (Hendrix's) other appearances in other places the audience got very much out of hand. They destroyed furniture and draperies. We cannot afford to take that chance."

The concert promoter offered to post a surety bond and was told that Hendrix could not play Carnegie Hall even with a surety bond.

Hendrix is booked into Philharmonic Hall in Lincoln Center, for Nov. 28.

Flute And Voice Recital Tonight

A flute and voice recital will be presented in the recital hall of the East Carolina University School of Music tonight at 8:15.

Kathryn Heimbach, flutist, and Jeanne Smith Piland, mezzo soprano, are the artists.

Miss Heimbach, a sophomore, will be accompanied by Karen McCann Hause, and Mrs. Piland's accompanist will be William Nichols Jr.

Miss Heimbach has appeared as a soloist with the North Carolina Governor's School orchestra. She is a student of Miss Beatrice Chauncey.

Mrs. Piland, a graduate student, is an experienced recitalist and is the recipient of many awards, including second place in the Southeastern United States Singer of the Year auditions, sponsored by the National Association of Teachers of Singing. Her teacher is Mrs. Gladys White.

The public is invited to attend the recital without charge.

Token Strikes In Prague Plants

PRAGUE (AP) — Scattered token strikes broke out in Prague plants today in support of students, who announced they would prolong their massive sit-in demonstration by 24 hours.

The worker and student action was to protest loss of freedom following the Soviet-led invasion. It is a challenge to the country's Communist leaders, who have accommodated themselves to Moscow's demands.

In a few plants work actually was halted for 15 or 30 minutes. Whistles sounded from several factories in the industrial Vysochany district as a show of worker solidarity in plants where there were no work stoppages.

The Prague Student Action Committee met overnight and said the occupation of university and college buildings scheduled to end at 8 p.m. would continue another 24 hours.

The committee said students are preparing with other young people, workers, farmers and intellectuals for "a decisive clash with home political reaction represented by disguised Neo-Stalinists." It appealed for similar action from other universities in Bohemia and Moravia.

Israel Building New Highways

TEL AVIV (AP) —More than 75 miles of roads have been built along the new ceasefire lines with Syria and Jordan since the war last year, according to the director of the Jewish National Fund, Ya'acov Tsur.

A new highway is cutting through to the 10,000-foot Mount Hermon in the occupied Golan Heights and a highway is being opened up along the Jordan River between Beit Shean, in the Belsan Valley, and the Dead Sea.

PTI Will Offer 9 Trade Courses

Pitt Technical Institute will sponsor nine short courses designed for the person who desires to acquire a limited knowledge of a new trade for personal use or part-time work.

The classes will get underway in December and will be conducted in the daytime with the hours and length depending on the type of course and interest shown.

Registrar Douglas Morgan said that many farmers desire to learn a second useful trade or, as in the case of farmers and others with seasonal work, want to find something to do in slack time. "This should be of particular interest to our farmers for the courses will be offered at such a time that they are not rushed and many would find a place for knowledge gained here on the farm," commented Morgan.

Included in the courses now planned, depending on final enrollment are: Farm Tractor Maintenance, Automotive Wheel Alignment and Balancing, Basic Plumbing, Masonry, Electric Arc Welding, Fundamental Filing, Office Machines, Cash Register Procedures, and Residential Wiring.

Also there is a possibility of follow-up courses if the interest is shown, Morgan points out.

Residential Wiring would be taught for 12 weeks, covering 300 hours of instruction; Electric Arc Welding, eight weeks and 200 hours; Masonry 12 weeks covering 300 hours of instruction. Farm Tractor Maintenance would cover a period of 5 weeks and 120 hours of actual instruction. The other courses would run from 20 hours to 62 hours of total instruction.

Those interested in securing further information about the short courses should contact Pitt Tech Registrar Douglas Morgan at his office.

Teachers Return To N. Y. Schools

NEW YORK (AP) — Union teachers returned today to three schools in Ocean Hill-Brownsville after angry groups of parents ended overnight sit-ins protesting part of the agreement that ended the citywide teachers' strike.

The teachers and students entered the schools after a state trustee running the experimental, decentralized Brooklyn district gave the three principals at the schools letters removing them from authority.

The letters also required that unauthorized persons be out of the school buildings before students would be allowed to enter. The protesters left the buildings without incident.

The sit-in protest followed the generally peaceful reopening of the city's 900 schools Tuesday after a citywide strike that kept most of the 1.1 million public school pupils out of class for 35 days.

A key point in settlement with the AFL-CIO United Federation of Teachers was the reassignment of the three Ocean Hill principals pending a court hearing on the legality of their appointment.

Portugal Begins Farm Loan Plan

LISBON (AP) — In its continuing effort to modernize Portugal's agriculture, the government is making available 26,652,500 escudos ($932,837) in loans to farmers and cooperatives.

The money will go for machinery, rural construction and other purposes, including the purchase of cattle.

Portuguese agriculture has long been plagued by emigration and lack of adequate mechanization.

Nude Appears At Art Lecture

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — A lecture on art criticism at the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee got sidetracked for a moment Tuesday with the appearance of a nude young lady wearing a paper bag on her head.

John Colt, chairman of the Art Department course, intercepted the woman as she started to walk on-stage.

Some bird calls are too high or too low for human ears.

Sees N.C. Loss In Highway Work

RALEIGH (AP) — Highway administrator W. F. Babcock says a government freeze or federal aid highway funds will mean a loss of about $25 million in highway construction for North Carolina.

Babcock made this estimate Tuesday in commenting on reports from Washington that the freeze on highway funds imposed Sept. 6 as an anti-inflation measure had been lifted.

The highway administrator said North Carolina will receive $45.7 million in federal aid funds during the remainder of this fiscal year. The money will be divided as follows: December $700,000, January $4.3 million, February $4.3 million, March $8.4 million, April $9 million and June $9.6 million.

Revival Services Through Sunday

Revival services began Monday night at Winterville Pentecostal Holiness Church and will continue through Sunday starting at 7:30 p.m. each night.

Led by Evangelist Tim Henry, pastor of St. Paul's Pentecostal Church, each service will include special singing. Rev. Jimmy Cole Williams, the church pastor, invites public attendance.

Upholds Privacy Of The Unborn

CHRISTCHURCH, New Zealand (AP) — Unborn babies have the right to the secret of their sex, says Professor A. William Liley, New Zealand pioneer of blood transfusion techniques for unborn babies.

Addressing a medical seminar, he said doctors could determine the sex of unborn babies, but: "There would have to be considerable justification before we would invade the privacy of the baby. It would be like unwrapping a Christmas present before Christmas."

Church Census

GRIFTON—The churches in Grifton are cooperating in conducting a community-wide family religious census which is planned for Sunday, Nov. 24.

Workers will meet at their respective churches at 2 p.m. for instructions and to secure forms to be used in recording information. Each church has been assigned an area in the community.

Residents will be asked information about church affiliation or preference. From the census information, each church will be able to set up a directory on the community.

Red Intruders Murder Family

SEOUL (AP) — A South Korean reserve officer returned home from a night of searching for North Korean guerrillas today and found his parents, wife and two daughters massacred, apparently by the North Koreans, the Defense Ministry reported.

The North Koreans have been the object of a massive search since about 60 of them landed on South Korea's east coast early this month. Thirty-seven have been killed and two captured.

Ko Ul-Shik, 37, a reserve corps platoon leader, had been taking part in a night search through the rugged, mountainous area about 100 miles east of Seoul. When he returned to his home in Pyongchang, County this morning, he found his whole family beaten and stabbed to death and his cow and 10 fowl stolen.

The Defense ministry said the footprints of a group of men led from Ko's isolated farm home into the uninhabited mountains.

Two Greenville Policemen At Special Course

Patrolman Joseph Earl Lassiter and Patrolman Charles N. Cox are among 15 law enforcement officers from eastern North Carolina who are attending a 120 hour Introduction to Police Science course.

The course is offered by Wilson County Technical Institute in cooperation with the Coastal Plain Law Enforcement Association.

While attending, they will receive instructions in courts and law, elements of offenses, laws of arrest, search and seizure, evidence, general criminal investigation, special courses, motor vehicle laws, liquor laws, court structure and procedure, police administration and juvenile enforcement.

These patrolmen are members of the Greenville Police Department.

There are 28 lakes and 153 parks in the Minnesota city of Minneapolis.

Lassiter
BETHEL — Funeral services for Herbert B. Lassiter of Charlotte, who died Tuesday in Charlotte Memorial Hospital, will be conducted at the Bethel Methodist Church Thursday at 3 p.m. Burial will follow in the Bethel Cemetery.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Margaret Bullock Lassiter, formerly of Bethel; two daughters, Mrs. Thomas Wallace of Smithfield and Mrs. William Kline of Charlotte; a son, Herbert Lassiter Jr. of Charlotte; two grandchildren; two brothers, Perry Lassiter of Richmond, Va., and Lewis Lassiter of Woodland; a sister, Mrs. Essie McDaniel of Woodland.

Mr. Lassiter was a retired school principal.

Sets An Example By Telling All

MEHSANA, India (AP) — A member of the Gujarat state assembly has set this example for his legislative colleagues around the world.

Vasant Parikh convened a mass meeting in his constituency and submitted a detailed account of his income and expenditure during his first year as their elected representative in the legislature.

"You are my masters and here is the account of your servant," he said.

Muskox were exterminated in America because they never learned that the ring-of-bulls formation that warded off wolves successfully was useless against men with rifles.
