Awarded N. C. 11 Contract

Sherman Simpson, Inc., of Ma. Airy, has been awarded the contract for constructing an additional lane on N.C. 11 from the Grifton by-pass to Greenville. It was announced by the North Carolina Highway Commission.

The contract, awarded at the commission's regular meeting in Raleigh Friday, totaled $2,763,535.73.

The project includes dual-laning a 9.545 mile portion of N.C. 11 from the Grifton by-pass south of Ayden, to the intersection of N.C. 11-U.S. 264 by-pass inside the Greenville city limits.

The project for which bids were taken Monday will complete the four-laning of N.C. 11 from Kinston to Greenville.

Construction is scheduled to begin about the first of the year.

Deadly Costume Jewelry

CHICAGO (AP) — Sears, Roebuck & Co. officials are continuing a nationwide search for 300 to 400 pieces of costume jewelry, which are decorated with a poisonous tropical bean that could cause death if swallowed.

A Sears spokesman, Ernest L. Arms, Sunday urged buyers of the $1 pins to return them to the store where they were purchased.

Arms estimated that 31 pins imported from Japan by a New York firm were sold to customers in the Chicago area and more than 300 nationwide through 138 Sears outlets in at least 110 cities.

A Food and Drug Administration spokesman in Washington said Sears received 200 boxes, each containing 48 pins. About 12 pins in each box were decorated with the deadly jequirity bean.

The FDA spokesman said some 30 other firms also received one or two boxes each, but there was no way of knowing whether the deadly pins were placed on sale.

The jewelry is made in two designs, a clown face with beans for eyes and a flower with a bean in the center.

After 11 Years, 4 Tries

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Younger men than Carl E. Herring join the U.S. Marines. But few are so persistent.

After 11 years and four tries he graduates from boot camp today.

"I never dreamed of any other life," says Herring, now 28, who wants to be a drill instructor.

In Temple, Tex., Herring quit school after the sixth grade at 10 years old and worked in a variety store, then in a Dallas cafe until his 17th birthday arrived and he could enlist.

His determination started to get a real test. On a Marine obstacle course Herring broke his knee and was sent home with a medical discharge. He paid for corrective surgery, then flooded the Corps with letters asking for a medical waiver to get back in.

The Marines said yes, on condition Herring pass his physical requirements. In June he re-enlisted. He broke his arm July 7. On July 28, the day the cast came off, he was washed out of boot camp again, a victim of meningitis.

After three weeks in a hospital, he was back beginning boot camp the fourth time.

"The training is getting easier over the years—a little too easy, I think," says Herring.

First Day For New Court

The first session of the new District Court got under way here today, presided over by Judge Charles H. Whedbee.

The District Court—scheduled to be held Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of each week in Greenville and a half-day each Thursday in Ayden and Farmville—replaces the former system of recorders courts.

Makistrates, working under the direction of the court, may accept guilty pleas and the resulting fine and costs from persons wishing to plead guilty to misdemeanors and first-offense traffic violations in which the fine is $50 or less.

One Of Quads Just Too Small

LOS ANGELES (AP) — One of the quadruplets born to James and Lorraine Gallion Sunday in the County-University of Southern California Medical Center.

The tiniest of the quadruplets, a girl, who weighed one pound, 11 ounces at birth last Friday, was "just too small to make it," a hospital spokesman said.

Major Departures Await 1969 General Assembly

First Significant Revision In 100 Years Facing Constitution

RALEIGH (AP) — The first significant revision of the North Carolina Constitution in 100 years will be considered by the 1969 General Assembly.

Major new provisions include gubernatorial veto power, the possibility of two successive terms for the governor, and reduction of the Council of State.

North Carolina has operated under a Reconstruction Era constitution since 1868, with occasional changes over the years by way of amendment but with no major updating of the document.

The North Carolina State Constitution Study Commission, headed by former state Supreme Court Chief Justice Emery B. Denny, was given the task of bringing the charter up to date.

After months of study, the commission finalized its work in the form of 10 amendments. The first amendment would be a complete updating revision of the constitution of 1868. The other nine would be significant departures from the present constitution.

The significant departures would include:

1. Requiring all judges and solicitors to be licensed attorneys and requiring the General Assembly to establish a mandatory retirement age for judges and procedures for the disciplining and removal of judicial officers.

2. Granting the veto power to the governor.

3. Empowering the voters to elect the governor and lieutenant governor for two successive terms.

4. Removing from the Council of State the offices of secretary of state, superintendent of public instruction and the commissioners of agriculture, insurance and labor. Of these, all but the superintendent of public instruction would be appointed by the governor instead of elected as they now are. The superintendent of public instruction would be selected by the state Board of Education. The new Council of State would consist of the governor, lieutenant governor, attorney general, auditor and treasurer, all of whom would be elected officials.

5. Reducing the residence time for voting in state elections to six months from the present 12 months.

6. Authorizing trial on information (rather than by indictment of a grand jury) and waiver of jury trial in all but capital cases.

7. Requiring the General Assembly to reduce administrative departments in state government to 25 and authorizing the governor to reorganize the administrative departments, subject to legislative approval.

8. Putting a ceiling of 10 percent on income tax and continuing the personal exemptions and deductions.

9. Making property that escheats to the state available for use to aid worthy and needy students who are residents of North Carolina and are enrolled in public institutions of higher education in the state, rather than having the property go to the University of North Carolina.

Other states have recently attempted to incorporate in one document significant changes while making an updating revision of their old constitution. As a result of opposition to some of the changes, the non-controversial updating revision has been defeated in some cases.

The North Carolina study commission set out to avoid this pitfall by separating the non-controversial revision from the significant changes. In this manner it is likely that opposition to any one or more significant change would only affect that change, and—at the minimum—the updating revision will be assured of passage.

The commission presented its findings and a detailed copy of the updating revision and the significant changes Saturday in Chapel Hill to members of the 1969 General Assembly attending one in a series of briefings for legislators. It plans to discuss its findings with Gov. Dan Moore in the near future.

In order for any of the proposed 10 amendments to be adopted, they would have to gain approval by a 60-per cent margin of each house of the General Assembly and would then have to be approved by a majority of voters at the next following general election.

As recommended by the commission, each of the proposed 10 amendments would be placed on a separate proposition on the ballot, thus allowing the voter to approve or disapprove each, independently of the others.

Change In Utilities Commission

RALEIGH (AP) — Gov. Dan Moore announced today the resignation of Thomas R. Eller Jr. as a member of the North Carolina Utilities Commission and the appointment of Marvin R. Wooten, now chairman of the State Board of Paroles, to succeed him.

Eller, who was appointed to the utilities commission in 1959 by Gov. Luther H. Hodges, said he would resume the practice of law in Charlotte.

Wooten, a former municipal court judge and juvenile court judge at Hickory, is a native of Sampson County and has been chairman of the paroles board since July 1965. He is a graduate of Presbyterian Junior College and received his law degree from Wake Forest University in 1950.

Eller's resignation is effective Dec. 20. He said he will join the law firm of Cansler and Lockhart in Charlotte.

Eller practiced law at Brevard before his appointment to the utilities commission. He was reappointed by Moore in 1965 for a term expiring July 1, 1973.

In accepting Eller's resignation, Moore said, "He is a man of high intellectual honesty and courage who has been invaluable on the utilities commission. He will be missed, but we wish him well."

"At the same time," Moore continued, "We are delighted to have a man of Marvin Wooten's caliber and competence to succeed him. He is a man of integrity, experience and ability who has proven his worth in a number of official positions."

Verbal War Is Launched At Ky Of Saigon

PARIS (AP) — A spokesman for North Vietnam's delegation to the Paris peace talks lashed at South Vietnamese Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky today, calling him "a puppet, a servant of the United States and a devotee of Hitler."

It was a forerunner of many charges and countercharges expected as the Vietnamese rivals maneuver toward the enlarged peace talks.

The U.S. and South Vietnamese teams set up a strategy sessions later in the day with Ambassadors W. Averell Harriman and Cyrus R. Vance on the American side and Pham Dang Lam and Bui Diem, the ambassador to Washington, on Saigon's side.

The North Vietnamese blast at Ky came from Hanoi delegation spokesman Bui Nhan and referred to past remarks Ky had made about Hitler in South Vietnam.

Ky denied at the time that he was voicing any admiration for the former Nazi dictator. And in the course of his exuberant arrival here Sunday the jaunty former combat pilot repeatedly stressed he was no puppet of Uncle Sam.

Home Destroyed By Sunday Fire

ROBERSONVILLE — The home of E. T. Everett, four miles east of Robersonville, on the Prison Camp Road, was destroyed by fire Sunday night.

Fire trucks from Robersonville and Williamston reported to the scene. The house was a total loss, but most of the furniture was removed and saved. No estimate of the value of the house is available.

Foundation Gift

East Carolina University President Leo W. Jenkins announced Saturday a gift of $4,000 to the ECU Foundation by W. Evan Bissette of Grifton.

Dr. Jenkins said the university is "very grateful to Mr. Bissette for this generous contribution." He added, "This is typical of the support Mr. Bissette has given us over the years in everything we have tried to do."

The Bissette donation, a $2,500 cash gift with a $1,500 pledge, is the largest single contribution to the current ECU Foundation drive for "seed money" to launch a full-time fund raising office.

Rep. Melvin Laird To Be Nixon's Defense Secretary After Persuasion

By ROWLAND EVANTS and ROBERT NOVAK

WASHINGTON — Representative Melvin R. Laird of Wisconsin will be secretary of Defense in the Nixon cabinet — a wholly unexpected appointment of the most far-ranging importance.

Laird, who agreed Friday night to sacrifice his powerful position in Congress for the Pentagon post, will thus become a prime arbiter of the new administration's foreign-military policy and perhaps eventually strong man of the Nixon cabinet on a wide variety of issues. In particular, he will be a strong force for a quickly negotiated settlement of the Vietnam War.

Although he was an increasingly influential adviser to president-elect Nixon during the past campaign, Laird was not seriously considered for a cabinet post — at his own choosing.

As the most powerful Republican in the House, he was reluctant to give up 16 years of seniority built up by the relatively early age of 46. Besides, Nixon wanted a Democrat in the Pentagon and appeared to have an impressive one in Senator Henry M. Jackson of Washington (who had Laird's strong endorsement).

But much to the surprise of Nixon insiders, Jackson last week rejected the offer — by heeding the pleas of several Democratic senators who warned him Nixon would use him as the scapegoat for reduced domestic spending due to his defense spending. Whether Jackson agreed with that view or not, he did feel — and so informed Nixon aides — that liberal Democrats in the Senate would make his life miserable as Secretary of Defense.

With Jackson out, with Gov. John Connally of Texas (another Democratic possibility) almost surely unavailable and with time running out, Nixon late last week turned to Laird. After much discussion, Laird's agreement came Friday night and his appointment is to be announced by Nixon Wednesday announced by Nixon Wednesday in New York.

In leaving Congress, Laird sacrifices the near certainty that he would soon be promoted from Republican caucus chairman to floor leader and the chance of one day being speaker of the house.

But Laird is exchanging a Capitol Hill barony for a central place on a less parochial stage. Filling a post once held by such giants as James For-restal George Marshall, and Robert Lovett, he becomes a national and international figure. Moreover, considering Laird's wide-ranging interests and energy, it is inconceivable he will not exert influence on non-defense and non-foreign policy matters such as social welfare schemes, the rebuilding of the cities, federal-state relations, fiscal policy, and Republican party politics.

Superficially, Republican Laird seems similar to Democrat Jackson: A hard-line anti-communist in foreign policy, highly regarded by the uniformed military and a sharp critic of Robert S. McNamara during his days as Secretary of Defense.

Beneath the surface, however, Laird is considerably more subtle in his outlook.

In private conversation, for example, Laird tells friends he is neither a hawk nor a dove on Vietnam, adding: "I am a pessimist." As such, he had long been anxious for quick negotiations and has acknowledged the probability of a coalition government in Saigon.

Similarly, Laird is not about to give the military a blank check for hardware spending and, indeed, is more cautious in that regard than the president-elect. In particular, he will move quite slowly in committing funds for the super-expensive anti-ballistic missile system (ABM).

McNamara privately considered Laird his toughest critic on Capitol Hill and his most difficult interrogator in Congressional hearings. For his part, Laird privately regarded McNamara as a brilliant Secretary of Defense in his first three years when he achieved civilian supremacy over the military.

But Laird felt McNamara blundered in insisting on a common air force—Navy plane in the TFX case, in spending money for deploying an ABM thin system instead of less expensive research for a full system and, most important, in his prosecution of the Vietnam war.

As the tenth Secretary of Defense and the first to come from Congress, Laird carries no administrative experience into one of the world's toughest administrative positions. But Governor Nelson Rockefeller (who wanted the post himself) advised Nixon in Pal Springs, Calif., last week, that a McNamara-type administrator would be a mistake in the Pentagon today and what was needed now was a student-an-practitioner of Geopolitics. In Mel Laird, Nixon has exactly that Rockefeller recommend-

BLACK SEA VISITORS — Two American destroyers, the USS Turner (top) and the USS Dyess, head for the Black Sea on a U. S. naval operation that angered the Soviet Union. (AP Wirephoto)

Two 6th Fleet Warships Sail Through Bosphorus

By THALIA DONAS
Associated Press Writer

ISTANBUL, Turkey (AP) — Two destroyers of the U.S. 6th Fleet sailed through the Bosphorus today for a five-day cruise along Turkey's Black Sea coast. The Russians called the American naval visit to their southern doorstep a provocation, a threat to peace and Soviet security, and a violation of the 1936 Montreux Convention.

The 3,500-ton Dyess led the way through the narrow strait between the Sea of Marmara and the Black Sea. Her sister ship the Turner followed about an hour later.

The Soviet government newspaper Izvestia reported Sunday that its correspondent had seen the two destroyers pass through the Bosphorus and slip "like thieves" into the landlocked Black Sea. But the ships anchored in the Sea of Marmara for the night, abiding by the provision of the Montreux Convention that bars transit of the strait after nightfall.

Izvestia claimed that the ships' passage through the Bosphorus violated the Montreux Convention regulating use of the strait because the two destroyers were equipped with missiles capable of delivering nuclear weapons and because the convention bars ships of any nation at war.

Turkish and American officials rejected the Soviet charges and said the ships were making a routine visit that was in conformity with the convention.

The Turkish Foreign Ministry said the Russians "had some complaints, but Turkey rejected them since the passage is entirely in conformity with the Montreux Convention." The convention allows non-Black Sea powers to send "light surface vessels" of under 30,000 tons into the Black Sea.

Turkish newspapers viewed the destroyers' visit as a demonstration of American naval strength occasioned by the steady Soviet naval buildup in the Mediterranean during the past year. The Russians now have about 60 warships in the Mediterranean, a sea where previously the U.S. 6th Fleet was unchallenged.

More Needed By Retired Couple

RALEIGH (AP)—The Governor's Coordinating Council on Aging says it takes slightly more than $300 a month for living expenses of a retired couple in North Carolina.

Jack W. Hickman, supervisor of the older worker program of the state Employment Security Commission, reported in the council's latest newsletter that an average couple will need about $2,180 a year more than provided by Social Security in order to meet a monthly budget of $304.

If the Shoe Fits...

BY

How can I give my feet a 'shoe break'?

Our fast paced life of today can catch up with the healthiest human being. Long hours of standing, working, and even the carefree recreation hours make heavy demands on legs and feet.

A 'shoe break' is one of the answers to fatigue. Like a coffee break, a change of shoes lifts the spirits and certainly gives a fresh, lighter feel to those on-the-go feet.

Ladies might start out the day with a soft-lined slipper, allowing feet to wake up from the night's sleep. The new daytime shoes with their flatter heels lead into the day and go anywhere in town, from office to supermarket. A change into a slightly higher heel — maybe one of the snappy sling backs — for lunch is a good idea, for fashion and for your feet's sake.

Whenever time permits, add to the benefits of your 'shoe break' by placing your feet on a stool, desk or sofa. This aids circulation and helps relax foot and leg muscles. Proper fit is vital to healthy feet, and a shoe break is a true break for feet.

Parents Should Make Children Behave When Visiting Others

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I just finished a best-selling book on child rearing. The author said that when a child and his parents visit people, the burden of responsibility for the child's behavior is left with the child and the HOST! In other words, a child is more apt to obey an outsider than his own parents.

This really upsets me, Abby.
When parents come to visit me and bring their children along,
I don't think it's MY place to discipline their children. Can't parents see a child walking on the sofa? Why should I have to tell somebody's else's child how to behave when his own mother is sitting right there? What your idea?

MRS. G. W.

DEAR MRS. G. W.: Same as yours. Some of the theories in child rearing books make fascinating reading, but unless they "work" they aren't much good. Don't believe everything you read.

DEAR ABBY: Larry and I are high school sophomores. We have been going steady for a year and plan to marry when we graduate.

Larry heard about a very good book on sex and marriage, and he wants to get it so we can study it together. It is not dirty, Abby, it was written by a doctor and is suppose to have a lot of good stuff about the importance of sex as it relates to married life.

The reason I am writing is because I have always told my mother everything, and for some reason I haven't told her about this. I hate to sneak. What do you think?

LARRY'S GIRL

DEAR GIRL: I think you haven't told your mother because deep down you know it's wrong. "Studying" a subject is sure to stimulate one's curiosity and interest. And there's no point in "studying" the violin if you have to wait 2 years to practice.

DEAR ABBY: I answer the telephone for a rather large concern. We have these two nice young fellows who do a real good job. But they could do better if their wives would quit calling them at work so much.

I can understand emergency calls, but these wives call up to ask, "Are you planning to work late?" Or, "We got a letter from Joe today." Or, "The baby cut a tooth." Abby, I know both these wives and I wouldn't hurt their feelings for the world, and I certainly wouldn't say anything to the fellows, but if you print this, they may get the hint. Besides, it's not fair to call a person at work to just gab about nothing on campany time.

DEAR GIRL: Your point is well taken. And may I add that when a man comes home after work and asks his wife

"What's new?" it will give them something to talk about.

TELEPHONE GIRL
DEAR ABBY: Tell "FLAT

sorry for herself. If it weren't for US, those gorgeous, full-bosomed gals wouldn't look so good.

'Metrolina' Goes A Bit Too Far

Every populous section likes to gain high ranking as a metropolitan area but we fear that Metrolina is carrying it a bit far.

Metrolina, if you don't know, is an 11-county area situated around Charlotte. The name was chosen by an advertising firm and backers of the plan hope to have this vast area of 5,700 square miles and 1,113,000 people designated as a metropolitan area. The designation, which is given by the U. S.

Big Month For State Planners

By WILLIAM A. SHIRES
Reflector Raleigh Bureau

RALEIGH—This last month of the year 1968 already is a momentous one in terms of looking toward the future of North Carolina.

Perhaps never before have so many documents of major importance and significance in statewide planning been delivered in so short a space of time.

And there is more to come before Christmas and before the convening of the 1969 session of the General Assembly next month.

WILLIAM A. SHIRES

Already special study commissions have submitted reports based on months and years of work dealing with longrange plans for higher education, the state's public school system and highway needs for the next 20 years.

Others coming during the next week or so will report on the state and local tax situation, upon possible constitutional revision, upon local government matters, upon certain proposed state government reorganization.

The so-called "little General Assembly," the State Legislative Council, will be reporting its findings in a number of areas.

All told, this means that the 1969 Assembly probably will be the best prepared in history from the standpoint of assembled data, information, criticism and concrete recommendations.

Moore's Goal

That it should be was the idea and goal of the outgoing governor, Dan Moore, who found himself confronted by a maze of problems, demands, and conflicting views four years ago.

It may be remembered too that this also is Moore's final month in the governor's office. He is passing along to future administrations and future legislatures a huge legacy in thorough study and solid information.

Staggering Sums

The most immediate, overpowering aspect of recommendations for the public schools, colleges and universities and highways is the staggering amount of money required.

The sums total literally in the billions of dollars. For higher education, the need is cited for $300 million in new money over a period of six years.

During the same period, normal operating budgets for these institutions are expected to double and the total will come to $1.3 billion.

For the public schools, another $300 million in new money—above and beyond normal growth—will be needed to implement the fiscal recommendations submitted.

Bureau of the budget, would make Metrolina the largest North Carolina Metropolitan area, an honor now held by the Piedmont Triad which embraces Guilford, Forsythe, Randolph and Yadkin Counties. Metrolina would also be the 28th metropolitan area in the United States.

The only trouble with Metrolina is that it is some 100 miles across and embraces such widely separated cities as Salisbury and Statesville on the north and Lancaster and Rock Hill, S. C. on the south.

If we were to create Metroeast with Greenville in the center, the center, the same area would embrace such cities as Rocky Mount, Wilson, Goldsboro, Kinston, New Bern, Washington, Tarboro, Windsor, Farmville, Williamston, Scotland Neck, Plymouth and a number of other municipalities. From a population standpoint we could have quite a metropolitan area right here.

Maybe Metrolina will become North Carolina's largest metropolitan area. However in the Triad area which embraces Greensboro, High Point, Winston-Salem and other municipalities, the word of their new rival has been received. There are reports that the Piedmont Triad will be extended to embrace other counties.

SBI Personnel Have Some Reassurance

The statement of Robert Morgan, attorney-general elect, that there will be no wholesale changes in the State Bureau of Investigation should be reassuring to the agents who are serving in the bureau.

Morgan has said that while he plans to make two or three changes, "I want to make it perfectly clear I think the vast majority of agents are capable and dedicated men."

SBI director Myron H. McBride announced that he was resigning after a conference with Morgan. This led to some speculation that there would be wholesale changes in the bureau.

Morgan's statement should end this speculation. It is important that the SBI be able to go about its work for the next few months without fear of major changes hanging over it.

We believe Morgan has made it clear that SBI personnel need not fear for their jobs.

The Old Guard Supports Bliss

By ROWLAND EVANS and ROBERT NOVAK

WASHINGTON — Shortly after stories were published that President-elect Nixon planned to purge Ray C. Bliss as Republican National Chairman, one influential state chairman slipped into Washington for a visit to party headquarters.

He told Bliss the vast majority of National Committee members were incensed by the purge reports and would stand by him if they could be sure that Bliss himself would not buckle under pressure from Nixon. Bliss replied he had no intention of resigning—even though, he added, that was precisely what the Nixon-inspired leaks were trying to accomplish.

Next came the really critical question: would Bliss mind if a quiet campaign to retain him were started? Bliss hemmed and hawed a bit, sucking on a chain-smoked cigarette, then said that, although he himself naturally couldn't take part in such a campaign, he would have no objections.

What followed in the two weeks since that meeting was a back-lash against the Bliss purge of surprising magnitude and intensity. The back-lash has encompassed pro-Bliss state chairmen, national committeemen, governors, members of Congress, and other Republican notables—cutting across all geographical and ideological lines except for the South, where Bliss was no favorite for election as chairman in January, 1965.

In fact, the reaction has been so violent that some Nixon advisors ruefully admit the President-elect has brought himself a bundle of unnecessary trouble. While these Nixon men agree with Nixon's plan to find a more articulate, telegenic national chairman than old pro technician Bliss could ever be, they admit he blundered badly in leaking his intentions months before the actual benching of Bliss.

Moreover, the intense feeling among party officials reveals not only an unexpected depth of support for the party chairman but also shocking hostility by party leaders for their own brand-new President. Several state chairmen are saying privately that Nixon's own campaign (in which Bliss's role was zero minus) was so lackluster and so thin in coattails for lesser Republicans that he has no right to dictate party policy.

These strong protestations have come from some Republicans not normally concerned with National Committee affairs. Former Gov. William Scranton of Pennsylvania, Nixon's diplomatic troubleshooter, has personally urged Nixon to retain Bliss. Similar pleas have come from Gov. James A. Rhodes of Ohio (by no means a Bliss buddy in Ohio politics) and Rep. Gerald Ford of Michigan, the House minority leader.

William C. Devlin, the Philadelphia Republican chairman, has said that Bliss's organizational talents are essential to reverse the dismal Republican urban showing on Nov. 5. Other big city party leaders agree.

Ody Fish, Wisconsin state chairman and head of the state chairman's organization, is almost beside himself with anger, even though he long has been considered a Nixonite and has so identified himself to the Nixon inner circle. Telegrams of protest from party leaders such as these are cascading into Nixon's Pierre Hotel headquarters on Fifth Avenue.

A climax may come at the Republican governors' meeting at Palm Springs, Calif. Bliss defenders plan to state their position in no uncertain language to the three Nixon political operatives scheduled to be there—Robert Ellsworth, John Sears, and Charles McWhorter.

What has made this protest particularly emotional is the totally unfounded rumor that Nixon was scheming to replace Bliss with Richard Kleindienst, the tactless former Arizona state chairman Nixon installed as the National Committee's general counsel during the campaign ("to spy on Ray Bliss," in the words of one state chairman). In truth, Kleindienst would be no improvement over Bliss as a television personality and would not fill the Nixon prescription.

Russian Waiting Game

Just behind the Pushkin Museum, off the 6th of March Alley, is a nondescript brownstone which houses the super-secret Soviet espionage organization known as GRUB.

Last week, at 3 o'clock in the morning, a meeting of Soviet leaders was called at the request of Vladimir Kov, the chief of GRUB's infamous American Desk.

Kov opened the meeting by stating that he had just made a discovery which could affect Soviet-American relations for years to come.

"So speak, Kov," said Comrade Kosygin irritably. "It better be important, to get us out of bed at 3 o'clock in the morning."

"Comrades," said Kov, "I have startling information that the American male is atrophying!"

"What are you talking about?" Comrade Gromyko shouted.

"Americans are getting smaller. Look at these charts. This is the American male in 1958—and this is the American male in 1968. In 10 years his arms have become two inches shorter and his legs three inches shorter."

The Kremlin power structure looked at the charts in amazement.

"What has caused it?" Comrade Brezhnev asked.

"Football," Kov said. "It appears that American men have been watching so much football on television that they are no longer using their limbs. Over a period of time their arms and legs have gotten smaller and smaller."

"Are you sure, Kov?" Comrade Suslov asked.

"This transitional assistance could take the form of substantial land retirement programs, indemnity or adjustment payments to compensate for the capitalized value of allotments, loans to facilitate orderly marketing, and protection against dumping of government-held stocks on the market to depress prices," Shuman said.

Exports of U.S. farm products could be doubled in nine next four or five years, Shuman said, if federal trade negotiators would bargain "with any or all free nations" either unilaterally or among several at one time.

"In order to pursue this hard-nosed bargaining policy successfully, it will be necessary for Congress to discontinue direct subsidies to farmers," Shuman said. "These payments are recognized by foreign nations as a form of export subsidy."

He said Congress must resist demands for import barriers to protect domestic goods which have met increased competition from foreign producers. "Trade is a two-way street," Shuman added.

The farm leader called for "badly needed reorganization" of agricultural research and programs to help land grant colleges improve their research functions.

Shuman said Congress also has the responsibility for bringing government spending in line with income.

Farm Bureau officials were met Sunday by pickets who said they supported the United Farm Workers national boycott of California table grapes.

"Of course I'm sure. These charts were compiled from stolen X rays in over 200 American hospitals. Notice that not only are the American male's limbs atrophying, but his spine has been steadily curving from sitting in soft chairs. On the basis of our studies, we predict that in 20 years the average American male will be 4 feet, 3 inches tall."

Comrade Kosygin shook his head. "But how are we sure the Americans will continue to shrink?"

"Because there will be more and more football on U.S. television. In five years there will be six hours of football every night, and 48 hours on the weekends. It's possible that the American man may never leave his chair in front of the television set, except to get a beer."

Comrade Brezhnev said, "What does this all mean, Kov?"

"It means, comrades, that there is no reason to build an antiballistic missile system. In 10 years the Americans will be so small that

The price rises generated by these actions will follow a 0.6 per cent rise in consumer prices in October, the largest jump of the year and for many months before that. This is an annual rate of 7.2 per cent. The rise for all of 1967 was 3.1 per cent.

up 0.4 per cent, according to preliminary estimates. There were rises in farm products and food, in lumber, machinery and nonferrous metals.

Rises For Many
The Labor Department reports that the October increase in the consumers price index will give 460,000 workers automatic pay increases under existing contracts. This will undoubtedly be followed by further price increases in the industries involved.

Those who saw the television show about the sinking of the Titanic will recall that one of the designers of the vessel, on the fateful trip, when told the size of the hole the iceberg gashed, accurately predicted the time the ship would sink.

Perhaps some economist can soon calculate how long it will take the dollar to sink into the ocean of inflation.

The figures for November have not yet been announced by the Department of Labor, but they may be as high or even higher since the wholesale price index, which did not rise in October, went

Farm Bureau Won?

By DON KENDALL

AP Farm Writer

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Present government farm programs should be dismantled and replaced with devices to help successful farmers move gradually into a market-oriented economy free of federal controls and payments, says Charles B. Shuman, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation.

"It should be recognized that the low-income problems in agriculture are of two distinct different kinds—those of the commercial farmers who receive most of their income from farming, and those of the part-time, subsistence and rural resident farmers," Shuman said.

The latter type, he said, needs a program offering help to become more productive either in agriculture or in some other job.

Shuman's speech was prepared for delivery today at the annual meeting of the Farm Bureau.

About 5,000 persons are expected for the meeting, which runs through Thursday.

The Farm Bureau, which represents about 1.8 million families, has vigorously opposed the farm programs of the Democratic administration.

Shuman said that with a change to a Republican administration the Farm Bureau has won, "for all practical purposes." Its long fight to end acreage controls and "government management of farm prices" through existing programs.

"The general public is finally beginning to recognize that a government-planned agriculture is a costly exercise in futility," he said.

But the present programs should not be dumped all at once, Shuman said. Instead, "transitional assistance or a reasonable assurance" against losses during an adjustment toward a free economy should be provided, he said.

"This transitional assistance could take the form of substantial land retirement programs, indemnity or adjustment payments to compensate for the capitalized value of allotments, loans to facilitate orderly marketing, and protection against dumping of government-held stocks on the market to depress prices," Shuman said.

Exports of U.S. farm products could be doubled in nine next four or five years, Shuman said, if federal trade negotiators would bargain "with any or all free nations" either unilaterally or among several at one time.

"In order to pursue this hard-nosed bargaining policy successfully, it will be necessary for Congress to discontinue direct subsidies to farmers," Shuman said. "These payments are recognized by foreign nations as a form of export subsidy."

Prepare Tests For 'Stargazers'

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Stargazers the heaviest and most complex scientific spacecraft ever launched by the United States, sped through space today as flight controllers prepared a series of tests on its star-tracking equipment.

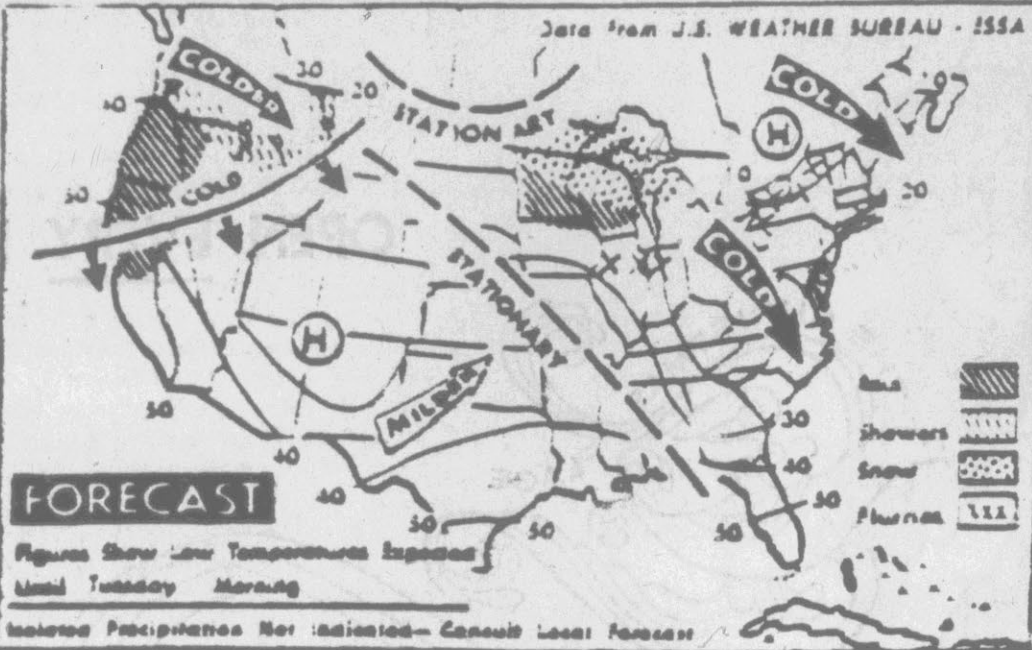

A spokesman for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration said Sunday the spacecraft, Orbiting Astronomical Observatory 2, was functioning properly.

"Everything's fine. The satellite is in good shape," the NASA spokesman said. Scientists planned today to exercise a major component of OAO's control system, the six trackers designed to acquire selected guide stars for use in aiming the craft's telescopes.

The craft's 11 telescopes are scheduled to be switched on Wednesday. The two-ton satellite, launched from Cape Kennedy Saturday, is designed to provide astronomers with their first glimpse at the universe unobstructed by the earth's atmosphere.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
WASHINGTON (AP) — A physicist says the Apollo 8 moon orbital mission is an unwarranted gamble. An astronaut who will fly the mission says he's willing to take the chance.

Dr. Ralph E. Lapp, assistant laboratory director of the team that developed the atomic bomb, said in a magazine interview the project should be delayed until there is some way to assist Apollo 8 if it becomes stranded in space during its Christmas flight.

But Astronaut Frank Borman, speaking at a news conference in Houston, Tex., Saturday said, "As I look at it, it's something like a combat tour in Vietnam."

"The risks we take are acceptable ones. We have to accept them to believe it's worth while. If I ever feel it's not worthwhile, then I'll quit." British astronomer Sir Bernard Lovell of Jodrell Bank Observatory had said earlier Apollo 8 poses "undue risks to human life."

Lapp said in an interview for the Dec. 14 issue of "The New Republic" magazine the oxygen in the ship could keep the three astronauts alive for only two weeks and no other craft is available yet to go to their rescue.

If the engine fails, the astronauts would be "unable to get out and fix the engine. They are completely dependent on that engine firing."

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three Republican freshmen senators have advocated retention of Ray Bliss as Republican national chairman.

Marlow Cook of Kentucky, Robert Dole of Kansas and Richard S. Schweiker of Pennsylvania, appearing together on ABC's "Issues and Answers" Sunday, matched the praise for Bliss generated by the Republican governors conference in Palm Springs, Calif., Saturday. "I think he's done a good job and should be retained," said Schweiker.

"I'm on his side," said Cook. President elect Richard M. Nixon has not said so far whether he favors keeping Bliss in the post.

Retired Liner Has New Home

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP) — The Queen Elizabeth, a ruler of the Atlantic for 30 years, has eased into what its owners hope will be a new monarchy—a reign as a showpiece hotel on Florida's Gold Coast.

Six tugboats and the Queen's own quarter-million horsepower engines carefully backed the ship into a temporary berth Sunday during a three-hour docking maneuver. The ship's 82,997-ton hull skimmed within six inches of a channel bottom dredged to a depth of 38 feet just hours before the docking.

Cunard Lines, owner of the 1031-foot ship, will move the Elizabeth to its permanent berth at Port Everglades in about six months. Cunard has not announced when the Elizabeth's multimillion-dollar conversion to a 700-room luxury hotel and convention center will be completed.

Because of declining revenue from its transatlantic passenger service, Cunard decided to operate the ship as a resort.

"I'd rather have her here as a hotel than have somebody make razor blades out of her," said Commodore Geoffrey Thrippleton Marr, 60, the ship's captain.

Wants Statutes Be Computerized

CHAPEL HILL (AP) — The North Carolina Legislature was urged Saturday to approve funds for storing the state's general statutes on computer tape.

State Sen. Herman Moore, D-Mecklenburg, said the proposal would cost $70,000 for the next biennium. The plan would allow easier correction of the state's laws when they are amended and would permit a quick search for specific laws.

"And it didn't cost us a kopek," Kosygin said happily.

"But," said Comrade Suslov, "what about the average American woman?"

Kov said, "Because she now has to do all the work around the house while the American man watches television, she is getting larger and stronger. This chart shows that in 10 years her arms and legs will have got the three inches longer."

"This is bad," Comrade Brezhnev said.

"It's good," Kov said. "As American women get larger, their demands on their men become greater, so the men in turn become weaker. If the trend keeps up, by 1978 every man in the United States could become a vegetable."

Comrade Kosygin jumped on the table. "Let's hear it for the Baltimore Colts."

By S. J. WEEKS
Pitt County Tobacco Agent

Fertilization plays an important role in the production of a tobacco crop. In order to attain the best yield and quality from your tobacco the fertilizer must be applied properly and at a rate that is best suited for your specific needs.

Quite often, when determining the fertilizer requirements for a given field, the decision is based on the number of bags used instead of the number of pounds of the actual fertilizer. For high quality in tobacco and high net return, you should fertilize properly.

Nitrogen is the fertilizer ingredient that needs to be given the most careful consideration. This is true because nitrogen determines to a great extent the amount of growth the tobacco plant will make. The amount of nitrogen used also affects the ripening of the tobacco leaves. Therefore, it is imperative that an ample amount of nitrogen be used to assure growth, but at the same time that it not be used in excess which will delay maturity and ripening of the leaf.

Most of the tobacco soils in Pitt are rated as either high or very high in phosphorus. Unless a field is rated medium or low in phosphorus, 72 pounds can be obtained in 1000 pounds of 4-8-12 or 3-9-9.

Additional nitrogen and potash needed to grow a desirable crop can be applied as top dressing. A desirable top dressing can be made by mixing Nitrate of Soda and Sulfate of Potash - Magnesia.

New Chairman Of Duke Board

DURHAM (AP) — Charles B. Wade Jr. of Winston-Salem, a vice president of the R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co., is the new chairman of the Duke University board of trustees.

He was elected Saturday to succeed Wright Tisdale of Dearborn, Mich., a vice president and general counsel of the Ford Motor Co. Tisdale, who had served five years, requested he not be reelected to the chairmanship, but continues as a board member. Wade was graduated from Duke in 1938.

Soldiers Rip Up Antiwar Leaflets

FAYETTEVILLE, N. C. (AP) — Several soldiers ripped up antiwar leaflets they were handed by college students Saturday, and told the distributors to move off a downtown sidewalk.

The 20 or so distributors, from the University of North Carolina and Duke University, then went into a department store. When it started to sleet and snow, the group left town.

It was the third Saturday in a row they had distributed such literature in Fayetteville, which is near Ft. Bragg, home of the 82nd Airborne Division and Special Forces troops.

Also, a commercially prepared mixture of Nitrate of Soda and Sulfate of Potash can be used. Nitrate of Soda - Potash and Nitrate of Potash are satisfactory sources of nitrogen and potash that can be used as a top dressing.

If the potassium level of the soil is medium or higher 110 to 120 pounds of actual potash is usually sufficient for good tobacco production.

Since the soil fertility level determines the fertilizer needs of your soil, it is a good practice to have your soil tested by the Soil Testing Division of the N. C. Department of Agriculture. Now is a good time to take soil samples. By using the soil test recommendations as a guide, you can more accurately determine the fertilizer requirements for your tobacco crop.

Hulking Chiefs Pose A Big Aerial Problem

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

Ever try to throw a football over a 10-story building and know where it's going? Quarterback John Hadl of the San Diego Chargers had a similar problem—throwing over the hulking, hard-charging Kansas City defensive line.

"Those guys 6-foot-7 look 100 feet tall when you try and throw over them," Hadl said Sunday. Hadl managed to get the ball over them most of the time, but on six occasions it went into the hands of Kansas City players as the Chiefs trounced San Diego 40-3 and knocked the Chargers out of the Western Division race in the American Football League.

The victory kept the Chiefs, 11-2, in a first-place tie with the Oakland Raiders, who edged Denver 33-7. Kansas City is at Denver and Oakland at San win, a playoff will be held in Oakland.

In other AFL action Sunday, the New York Jets, 10-3 and the Eastern Division champions, downed Cincinnati 31-17. 27-14 and Miami 57-1, blasted Boston 4-9, 38-7. Saturday, Houston, 6-7, ripped Buffalo 1-12-1, 35-6.

In the National Football League, Chicago upset Los Angeles 17-10 Cleveland 24-21, Minnesota topped San Francisco 30-20, St. Louis beat New York 28-21, Philadelphia defeated New Orleans 29-17, Detroit took Atlanta 24-7 and Dallas upended Pittsburgh 28-7. Baltimore defeated Green Bay 16-3 Saturday.

Buffalo's season-ending loss became a victory of sorts when Philadelphia won its second game to make the Bills' record the worst in pro football. Because of this record, Buffalo now will get the first shot at Southern California's I. J. Simpson in the combined college draft.

San Diego opened the scoring with a 28-yard field goal by Dennis Partridge in the first period, but from then on the hometown crowd had little to cheer about. One of Hadl's passes was grabbed by Kansas City line-backer Willie Lanier who rumbled 75 yards for a touchdown. Two other interceptions were followed by touchdown passes by Len Dawson—five yards to Gloster Richardson and seven yards to Mike Garrett. Dawson also connected on 68-yard scoring strike to Frank Pitts.

Kansas City also intercepted a Jon Brittenum pass, and the seven thefts gave the Chiefs 34 for the season, just one shy of a team record. The six interceptions put Hadl into the AFL record book with five other quarterbacks.

George Blanda kicked four field goals as Oakland came from a 17-7 deficit to beat Denver. Blanda's second field goal tied it at 0-20 and his third put the Raiders ahead to stay, 23-20. Daryle Lamonica's six-yard touchdown pass to Warren Wells

Hornsby Howell Named District Coach Of Year

WINSTON - SALEM (AP) — Hornsby Howell of North Carolina A&T University has been named football coach of the year in NAIA District 28.

Howell guided A&T, the runner-up in the CIAA, to an 8-1 record in his first season as a college head coach. His team posted two of the season's biggest upsets, 7-6, over Morgan State and 9-6 over Florida A&M.

A&T had 3-5-1 records for the two seasons before Howell took over from Bert C. Piggott. The 8-1 record was the school's best in more than 10 years.

Ironically there was some reluctance in giving the position to Howell. His only coaching experience had been three years at Jordan - Sellers High School in Burlington, three years as an assistant at Southern (La.) University and three years as an assistant at A&T.

It was little more than a case of circumstance that he became head coach. Piggott's resignation did not come until March, and there just weren't many coaches in the market for a job at that time. Howell just happened to be on the AIT staff at the time and he was given the job.

Howell's success in part has come because of his ability to relate to his players. He spends much time counseling, and at his urging 35 of his players attended Sunday School classes at a church near the university.

At 41 years of age he still looks as though he could handle a starting assignment. Howell stands 6-5½ and is a trim 245-pounder.

Howell has been connected with athletics almost all of his life. His father was the trainer at the University of Georgia in the early 1940s when Wally Butts was the coach. Howell himself later served under Butts as Georgia's trainer.

Howell, who was a top center at AvT in the late 1940s, has served as a trainer with AvT, the Cleveland Indians, the Greensboro Baseball Club and at Southern University.

gave the Raiders a 30-20 lead in the third period and clinched it. Joe Namath's two touchdown passes, one by Babe Parilli and two field goals by Jim Turner led the Jets over Cincinnati, which closed out its first season. Turner also converted after the touchdowns and his nine points gave him 138 for the season, tying him with Don Hutson for fifth in points scored in a single pro football season.

Cincinnati's Paul Robinson ran for 33 yards and became the first AFL rookie to gain 1,000 yards in a season. He finished with 1,023.

Bob Griese passed for two touchdowns and fullback Larry Csonka ran for two to pace Miami past Boston. Jim Nance scored on a 30-yard run for Boston.

Roman Gabriel got a close-up look at the broken down Chicago Bears ... and found himself eyeball to eyeball with the Monsters of the Midway.

The Baltimore Colts watched Gabriel's nightmare—including a misplaced fourth down—unfold from a safe distance. But those big, bad Bears looked beautiful to them. Just beautiful.

The Bears, riddled by injuries earlier in the National Football League season, rose up Sunday to terrorize Gabriel and topple Los Angeles 17-16, handing Baltimore the Coastal Division title and keeping their own championship hopes alive.

The loss eliminated the Rams one week before their anticipated season-closing showdown with the Colts. The victory kept Chicago tied for first place with the Minnesota Vikings, who trimmed San Francisco 30-20, in the Central Division stretch

Allison Slipped By Richard Petty

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—If there's an omen in what happened in the Alabama 200 Grand National stock car race Sunday, Bobby Allison hopes it's a good one.

Allison, driving a 1968 Plymouth, slipped by Richard Petty in the final turn on the last lap to win the 100-mile race.

It was Petty's last trip to the post in a Plymouth. Allison expects to campaign for Plymouth this season — perhaps as the company's top driver replacing Petty, who has switched to Ford.

Petty had led the twice-postponed Alabama 200 for much of the race before a caution flag went up nine laps from the end. This allowed Allison, who was running well back in the same lap, to close Petty's lead and set up the duel on the final circuit.

The victory was worth $1,000 to Allison, who says he hasn't firmed his deal with Plymouth for the heavy campaigning next year. But reports have it that the 32-year-old Hueytown, Ala., veteran probably will get a big part of the performance money dished out by the company.

James Hylton finished third on a Dodge, Bobby Isaac was fourth in another Dodge, and Neil Castles was fifth in a Plymouth.

SHARE CROWN

ATLANTA (AP) — Michigan State shares the NCAA soccer co-championship with Maryland after playing a 2-2 double overtime tie Saturday.

race. The Bears take on Green Bay and the Vikings meet Philadelphia next Sunday.

Cleveland nailed the Century Division crown with a 24-21 victory over Washington; St. Louis beat Atlanta 24-7 and Philadelphia outscored New Orleans 29-18 in other games.

The Eagles' second successive victory after 11 straight setbacks cost them the No. 1 pick ... most likely Heisman Trophy winner O.J. Simpson ... in the upcoming college draft.

The Buffalo Bills, who bowed to Houston 35-6 Saturday for a 1-12-1 American Football League finish, inherited the top draft choice. In Sunday's AFL action, Kansas City crushed San Diego 40-3; Oakland slipped past Denver 33-27; New York defeated Cincinnati 27-14 and Miami trounced Boston 38-7.

The Colts eliminated Green Bay's defending NFL champs 16-3 Saturday, then sat back and watched the Bears-Rams thriller on television along with a national video audience.

They saw Gabriel, the Rams' gifted quarterback, harassed by Chicago's fierce defenders and then knocked out of the game temporarily by a blind-side tackle in the second quarter.

With Gabriel on the sidelines, they saw the Bears seize a 10-7 lead after Clarence Childs' 88-yard kickoff return and move ahead 17-7 following Dick Butkus' interception of a Milt Plum pass.

Then they saw the Rams close the gap on a third quarter safety and Gabriel's three-yard scoring jaunt with 2:42 left in the game. They squirmed as the Rams mounted a last-ditch drive to the Chicago 32, within field goal range, with 24 seconds remaining.

Finally, they saw the drive fizzle ... thanks to a 15-yard holding penalty and an apparent plunder by the officials. According to the official play-by-play sheet, the Rams were allowed three downs, instead of four, following the first-down infraction.

Before anyone, including the Rams, caught the mistake, the game was over ... leaving Los Angeles out in the cold and the Colts limp, but exuberant.

"Fantastic!" echoed veteran defensive back Bob Boyd. "I'm a nervous wreck, completely wrung out. It's hell to watch. I'd rather play."

"The Bears did a helluva job," said Johnny Unitas. "They got to Gabriel early and seemed to shake him up. I guess he was knocked dizzy. He didn't seem to call his game after that."

Gabriel completed seven of 23 passes for 118 yards. His net passing yardage in the first half was zero.

The Bears awarded one game ball to Butkus and another to ex-coach and club owner George Halas, the 77-year-old Monster Maker who is recuperating from a serious hip operation.

Joe Kapp passed for one touchdown and ran for two more, staking Minnesota to a 27-6 lead, but the Vikings barely withstood a fourth quarter 49er rally to keep pace with the Bears at 7-6 in the Central derby.

Don Cockroft booted a tie-breaking field goal and Bill Nelson fired a 38-yard touchdown pass to Paul Warfield in a two-minute, fourth-quarter burst that gave the Browns their Century-clinching eighth straight victory.

The Cardinals outscored the Giants behind fullback Willis Crenshaw, who rambled for 162 yards and three touchdowns, including a 66-yard gallop. But they remained 1 game behind Cleveland with just one to play ... against the Browns next Saturday at St. Louis.

Bob Hayes bolted 90 yards with a punt for one touchdown and scored another on a 53-yard pass from Don Meredith at Dallas' Capitol Division kings battered Pittsburgh. Meredith also hit Lance Rentzel with a 65-yard TD bomb and Craig Baynham with a five-yard payoff pitch.

Little Billy Gambrell grabbed three scoring passes from Bill Munson, good for 26, 7 and 22 yards, sparking Detroit to its first victory in two months.

Norm Snead threw his third scoring pass of the game and Tom Woodeshick broke loose for a 30-yard touchdown run in the last four minutes, sending the Eagles past New Orleans and making a happy man of Coach Joe Kuharich.

A planned boycott of the game by Philadelphia fans who had become disenchanted with Kuharich appeared to fizzle as 57,128 turned out in 60,000-seat Franklin Field.

"There's no substitute for victory," purred Kuharich.

Then how come we call it a sedan?

Is there a law that says every sedan must end with a slope?

Nope. So while we endowed that car up there with a perfectly sedan-like length (13'10"), and a perfectly sedan-like seating capacity (4), we also endowed it with something perfectly un-sedan-like:

A rear end usually reserved for station wagons. That way you get an advantage no other sedan the same size can possibly give you.

A luggage capacity of 42.4 cu. ft. Add that to the 6.5 cu. ft. trunk in front and chances are you'll have all the carrying space you'll ever need.

The full name of this ingenious little car is the Volkswagen Squareback Sedan.

Oh, a few of you may still think that something shaped like a station wagon has no business being called a sedan.

But then there were those who thought something shaped like a bug had no business being called an automobile.

Southern Conf. Cagers Show An Offensive Fury

THE REFEREE COMES BETWEEN — Field Judge Charles Musser jumps between Oakland Raiders linebacker Ralph Oliver and Denver Broncos tackle Sam Brunelli and end Rich Jackson at Oakland Sunday in which both teams were charged with unsportsmanlike conduct. Southern Conference basketball teams have opened fire in the new season with an offensive fury that indicates it's going to be a long and extra-busy winter for the fellows who run the scoreboards.

With the first full week of the season completed, East Carolina's Pirates are averaging 100.5 points a game; George Washington, 98.6; Davidson, 96.0; The Citadel, 90.6; and Richmond, 82.0.

But if these figures prompt a conclusion that the 1968-69 breed of SC player has an unerring eye for the basket, others offer clues that he still has something to learn about defense.

Richmond, for instance, hasn't won in three tries for the simple reason its foes are averaging 102 points. East Carolina is yielding an average of 96.5; George Washington, 89.3; The Citadel, 82.0.

The presumption that Davidson again is the SC's premier team is strengthened by the statistics, which show the unbeaten Wildcats also can play defense. Their opponents are averaging only 75.3 points.

Unquestionably, the eye-popping offensive averages will become more modest as the season grows older, but there was no sign of reluctance to shoot as SC teams swept four games from outside opposition Saturday night.

Davidson, tied for sixth in the national rankings, struck a blow for a higher position by blitzing previously unbeaten Vanderbilt, 101-84, at Charlotte as Mike Mayo scored 29 points and speared 13 rebounds.

George Washington, like Davidson 3-0 for the season, got 33 points from Bob Tallent and 26 from his brother Mike and remained undefeated by whipping Virginia of the Atlantic Coast Conference, 98-84.

Tee Hooper's 26 points and 22 by Willie Taylor keyed The Citadel to its second victory in three starts, a 93-75 pasting of

But the greatest derring-do was at East Carolina, where the Pirates sank 73 per cent of their shots—44 of 60—in a merry 126-111 go-around with Atlantic Christian. This evened the ECU record at 1-1.

ECU's Earl Thompson, who didn't play in the Pirates' previous game at West Virginia, had the most fun with a 40-point barrage that fell one point shy of the school-record 41 he scored against ACC last year.

This week begins with Davidson and GW tied for the conference lead with 2-0 league records, followed by The Citadel, 1-1, and VMI, 1-2. Nine games are on the week's card, only three of them conference matches.

Not Much Changed, The Tar Heels Still In Pursuit

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Hundred of college basketball games have been played in the first two weeks of the new season, but things haven't changed much at the top.

North Carolina is still chasing UCLA. Last March the Uclans smashed the Atlantic Coast Conference Tar Heels in the NCAA tournament finals to retain their national title.

When the pre-season Associated Press poll came out last month there was UCLA ranked No. 1 with North Carolina No. 2.

In the most recent poll since action began it still was UCLA-North Carolina.

Last Saturday night North Carolina invaded dangerous territory to do battle with Kentucky, which was No. 3, both in pre-season and latest rankings, and the Tar Heels showed that No. 2 is better than No. 3 with a convincing 87-77 victory. Olympic player Charlie Scott led the way with 19 points.

But less than two hours later along came UCLA to trim Notre Dame, the No. 5 team, to show why it is No. 1.

Tonight North Carolina goes after its fourth straight against Vanderbilt at the Charlotte Coliseum. Vanderbilt handed the Tar Heels a 13-point lacing last season, when North Carolina went 28-4 en route to the national runnerup spot.

Thus, Coach Dean Smith's Tar Heels have a score to settle with the Commodores, ranked No. 12. Vanderbilt already has felt the wrath of a revenge-seeking team at Charlotte. The Commodores were trounced Saturday night by Davidson, Southern Conference defending champion, 101-84. Vanderbilt had beaten Davidson twice last season.

After tonight's game, North Carolina will have a week off before launching its conference schedule with home games against Clemson next Monday night and Virginia the following night.

Duke, which is 16th nationally and geared to climb, is at home against Michigan in tonight's other game involving an ACC team.

Coach Vic Bubas' Blue Devils ran their unbeaten string to three games with an 81-6 rout of Princeton at Madison Square Garden in New York Saturday. Duke's sophomore dandies led the way. Randy Denton, a 240-pounder who is 6-foot-10, scored 22 points and Dick DeVenzio, a foot shorter, added 17.

Wake Forest got 45 points from sparkling sophs Charles Davis and Gil McGregor and two vital late freethrows from Jerry Montgomery to win a sizzler on the road from Temple 87-86.

Those three victories for the ACC against outsiders, offset losses by Virginia and Clemson and brought to 14-3 the conference basketball record so far this season against "the world."

Pete Maravich, last year's national scoring champion and his father, Coach Press Maravich of Louisiana State, returned to their former home at Clemson and had all sorts of trouble before escaping with an 86-85 victory. Pete finished with 38 points.

Those Hour Shows Give Lucy Trouble

By BOB THOMAS
Associated Press Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "It's those darned hour shows, they've been giving trouble to a lot of us half-hours," said Lucille Ball in analyzing the fortunes of the first season of her third television series.

To the outsider, "Here's Lucy" would seem to be far from being in trouble. The latest rating showed the half-hour comedy show in 15th place, a highly respectable position.

But to Lucille Ball the perfectionist that isn't good enough. For most of the past 18 years, Monday night has been Lucy's special property. Then along came a show called "Laugh-in." The Rowan and Martin madhouse precedes "Here's Lucy" by a half-hour, and therein lies the trouble, opines Miss Ball.

"People get hooked on hour shows and they just won't switch," she remarked in her

Concerning the "Laugh-in" competition, she remarked: "I never think about the opposition. I simply try to do the best job I can, and I think we've done quite well. We've had some bad shows, but we've managed some darned good ones, too. And I'm proud of the way the children have come through."

The children are her own: Lucie Arnaz, 17, and Desi Arnaz Jr., nearly 16. They are the co-stars of "Here's Lucy," and their mother explained how it happened:

"When Paramount bought out Desilu, they also bought the format of 'The Lucy Show.' It became theirs, completely. So I either had to negotiate with them to use the format, or I had to find a new one."

What Lucille wants to do is CBS's annual question mark.

She is nearing the last of the 24 scheduled shows for this season, and soon she will make up her mind whether to try for another. The children are eager to do so, and it appears likely that "Here's Lucy" will be back next fall.

"If I do go back, I'll do some things differently," she commented. "I might film six of the 24 outside the studio on location. I don't really like to, nor do the children; we all like that instant response from the studio audience—it's like opening night every week."

New MVD In Russia May Signal Shockwaves From Czech Incident

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent
The initials "MVD" which long inspired Russian dread are back again.

The reappearance can mean a number of things: an echo of shockwaves from what happened in Czechoslovakia, a growing problem with crime and disorder, and perhaps a cautious jockeying for position among the dominant group in the Kremlin.

The letters stand for the Russian words "Ministerstvo Vnutrennikh Del," or Ministry of Internal Affairs. Under the notorious Lavrenty P. Beria, the MVD operated a vast secret police net. Beria was executed 15 years ago in the power struggle which followed Stalin's death. The MVD structure was dismantled, and the initials were forgotten. Security police came under organs with less power.

In mid-1966 Moscow suddenly announced formation of an all-Union "Ministry for the Protection of Public Order," called MOOP for its Russian initials. It was placed under Col. Gen. Nikolai Shchelokov, 58, a colleague of the present party chief, Leonid Brezhnev, as a political officer in the army.

Now Pravda and Izvestia have announced that MOOP henceforth will be the "Ministry of Internal Affairs," that the militia forces under it will be beefed up and that it will carry on a determined drive to stamp out crime and "strengthen public order."

The leadership long has conceded it has a big crime problem. This embarrassment the Communist party. Doctrine insists that crime is only a survival of capitalism and must disappear under "socialism."

One persistent problem has been the steady rise of theft and embezzlement of "Socialist property." Another has been hooliganism among youth, a term which can mean anything from drunkenness and rioting to rape and murder.

But there was more to it than that. One of the most worrisome of "crimes against the state" has involved "anti-Soviet literature." Police have been frustrated by the smuggling of contraband manuscripts abroad.

The authorities also have been baffled by the reaction of shock and dissent among intellectuals after the occupation of Czechoslovakia. It led to open defiance in the form of protests and demonstrations, for which a number of intellectuals are in prison or in exile.

These events seemed to accentuate an existing spirit of apathy among young people. En-

Wanted Man Shot Self In Front Of Police

RALEIGH (AP) — A man wanted by police walked into the Raleigh police station Sunday and shot himself twice in the chest before officers could stop him.

Lee Alex Rogers, 21, had been sought by officers for questioning in connection with larceny of an automobile and armed robbery. He walked into the detective division Sunday and announced he was going to kill himself.

Before officers Larry Barbour or Lee Barham could stop him, Rogers pointed a .22 caliber pistol at his chest and shot twice. He was rushed to a hospital where he was reported to be in serious condition. Officers said they found a four-page note in his pocket. However, they refused to reveal its contents.

DAV OF MOURNING

MOBILE, Ala. (AP) — Today was a proclaimed day of mourning in Mobile as a protest by city officials against an Alabama Supreme Court ruling that the controversial film "The Fox" could be shown here.

Flags were flown at half-staff and black ribbon adorned the doors of City Hall.

Mayor Lambert C. Mims said the court's ruling was another slap at local government in that it nullified a city ordinance against the showing of obscene movies.

"The Fox" portrays a lesbian relationship.

Eye Changes In Special Field

NEW YORK (AP) — A presidential panel has drafted a report recommending vast changes in the nation's communications industry, the New York Times reported today.

A Washington dispatch by John W. Finney said the committee would submit shortly a report urging a government-sponsored monopoly to transmit all international communications, a pilot project to develop a domestic communications satellite system, and an arrangement to permit Western Union Telegraph Co. to operate from the nation's post offices.

The suggestions were called "probably the most far-reaching recommendations for revamping the nation's communications structure since the passage of the Communications Act of 1934."

The 15-man committee, set up in August 1967 by President Johnson, is headed by Eugene V. Rostow, undersecretary of state for political affairs.

Submission of the report was said to have been delayed—"probably until late this week"—by industry pleas for changes and dissent within the committee.

The Times said "the basic proposal" would merge all international transmission facilities, now owned by several companies, into one privately owned company.

Names Of Witnesses

To Be Public

CHICAGO (AP) — The names of persons who made statements concerning violence during the Democratic National Convention, and whose statements appeared in a report on that violence, will be made public, a Chicago congressman says.

The records of the Chicago study team which prepared the report for the National Commission on the Causes and Prevention of Violence will be stored in the National Archives, Rep. Roman Pucinski, D-Ill., said Saturday.

Mayor Richard J. Daley and other critics of the report said names of witnesses should have been published so police officials could investigate charges made against policemen. The report accused some police of using unrestrained and indiscriminate force.

Daniel Walker, who headed the Chicago study team, said names of persons who testified were kept from the report to protect their privacy.

Egypt Said Ready To Accept A Peace Force

By WILLIAM N. OATIS
Associated Press Writer
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y.

(AP) — Egypt is reported willing to accept another U.N. force to help safeguard a peace settlement with Israel, diplomatic sources at the United Nations report.

The sources said Egypt's delegate to the United Nations, Mohamed Awad El Kony included the idea in a seven-point statement he gave to Chief U.S. delegate J.R. Wiggins Thursday.

Egypt accepted a U.N. force after the 1956 Suez invasion, and the force prevented Egypt from closing the Gulf of Aqaba, alongside the Sinai desert, to Israeli shipping.

Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser ordered the force out in 1967 and said Israel couldn't use the gulf. Shortly afterward, Israel drove the Egyptians out of Sinai in the six days' war.

The diplomatic sources said Egypt now would accept a new U.N. force to supervise Israel's withdrawal from the peninsula and remain at mutually agreed on places, including the entrance to the Gulf of Aqaba.

El Kony's proposal came in response to a seven-point program U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk was said to have outlined a month ago to Egyptian Foreign Minister Mahmoud Riad. The State Department denied the existence of such a program last week.

Meanwhile, the U.N. special envoy for the Middle East, Gunnar V. Jarring of Sweden, flew back to his headquarters in Cyprus after talks with Jordanian leaders in Amman.

Jordan Premier Bahjat Talhouni told his Parliament that Israel's attitude is preventing progress by Jarring's mission, and that Jordan and Egypt will go no further with Jarring until Israel expresses willingness to implement the U.N. Security Council resolution calling for Israel's withdrawal from the Arab territory it occupied in the 1967 war.

However, Talhouni and Foreign Minister Abdul Munem Rifai told President-elect Richard M. Nixon's special Middle East envoy, William W. Scranton, that Jordan still is willing to cooperate with Jarring.

Scranton said at a news conference in Amman Sunday that Arab leaders with whom he had talked expected a change in U.S. policy in the Middle East.

"Precisely what they have in mind I do not think is actually completely specific," said Scranton, "but they are hopeful that there will be what they call a change."

Scranton has conferred with the leaders of Iran, Lebanon, Egypt, Saudi Arabia and Jordan. He went on to Jerusalem.

Predicts End

Of Universities

HAVANA (AP) — Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro predicted Sunday night that universities eventually would disappear from Cuba.

"This is not a play on words and not a joke," Castro told the graduating class at the University of Oriente in Santiago.

University training will be given "in each factory, each agricultural unit, each hospital and each school," he said. The country will practically be a university.

Castro has mentioned this idea in previous speeches.

Marines Close Massive Operation; Heavy Toll

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Marines closed out their massive cordon operation south of Da Nang today with another flurry of stiff bunker fighting.

At least 862 North Vietnamese soldiers were claimed killed in the 20-day campaign.

Some field reports were still missing, and some senior officers estimated the total enemy losses may approach 1,000 when the final count is made. A hundred North Vietnamese troops were taken prisoner.

Marine casualties for the entire operation, called Meade River, were 95 killed and 504 wounded. Nearly half of the U.S. and enemy casualties were taken in the last five days as the Leathernecks' encirclement shrank to less than a square mile.

Staff officers said preliminary intelligence indicated that major portions of four battalions of the North Vietnamese Army's 38th Regiment had been trapped in the cordon following an enemy attack on the district town of Dien Ban, 15 miles south of Da Nang.

As the Marines were being pulled out for operations elsewhere, there was still light sniping fire and some mortaring from their rear, showing that swept territory had already been infiltrated again by at least token enemy forces.

The cordon operation was the largest ever conducted by the Marines in Vietnam and their most successful.

It began Nov. 20 within nearly 7,000 U.S. and Korean Marines and Vietnamese infantrymen placed in position in half a day, mainly by helicopter. The area inside the cordon at the outset was approximately 50 square miles.

Government officials evacuated 2,600 peasants and later returned them to their homes after screening them in an effort to trap Viet Cong political officials and agents. Some 73 of these were seized.

The final fighting Sunday and today involved five Marine companies and Vietnamese in 10 armored personnel carriers mopping up enemy soldiers dug into bunkers at the edge of a muddy river. A spokesman said one Marine company had worked into the bunkers before being hit with heavy enemy fire Sunday night. In the darkness, groups of three and four North Vietnamese probed along the Leatherneck lines trying to escape.

This morning, the Marines attacked again, dropping grenades into bunkers while the Vietnamese armored troops fired recoilless rifles mounted on the personnel carriers.

In a last spring, the Marines covered a final, small rectangle 200 yards wide and 100 yards deep. The toll for the last battle was 91 enemy soldiers slain, 16 Marines killed and 37 wounded, and light casualties among the government troops.

One North Vietnamese popped out of a bunker pleading to be taken prisoner. A young Marine rushed forward. The North Vietnamese shot the American in the head and killed him. Other Marines finished off the North Vietnamese.

Another Marine leaned against a dead tree and it collapsed. Inside the hollow trunk was a North Vietnamese warrant officer who surrendered, saying he was a communications officer.

"We gave them the coup de grace this morning," said Lt. Col. J. W. Peton Robertson, 42, of Prince William County, Va., the commander of the 26th Marine Regiment's 3rd Battalion.
