Claim 5 Intruders Taken

HAVANA (AP) — The government announced today it has captured five Cuban exiles who landed with arms on Cuba's north coast Dec. 2.

The announcement, published in the Communist party newspaper Granma, identified all five as from Miami, Fla.

It said the five made their landing from a small launch in Pinar del Rio Province, which makes up the western end of Cuba, and split up into two groups, but were seized two days later by units of the armed forces and the Interior Ministry.

The launch was described as "of a type used by the CIA (meaning the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency) in its incursions against our country."

The announcement said the group was armed with six grenades, a signal pistol, three rifles, two .45-caliber pistols and a quantity of ammunition.

Four Study Reports Due

RALEIGH (AP) — Reports from four state study commissions will be made to Gov. Dan Moore this week.

The Commission on Vocational Rehabilitation is to report to the governor at 10:30 a.m. Wednesday; the Commission on Economic Development at 2 p.m. Wednesday; the Cancer Study Commission at 10:30 a.m. Friday; and the Zoological Garden Commission at 2 p.m. Friday.

Moore will be in Asheville at 10 a.m. Thursday for a meeting of the Coastal Plains Regional Development Commission.

He will attend swearing-in ceremonies in Raleigh on Friday for Marvin Wooten, a newly-appointed member of the state Utilities Commission, and Wade Brown, who succeeds Wooten as chairman of the Paden Board.

Lauds Doctor's Courage

NEW YORK (AP) — The world's longest lived heart transplant patient has defended the "cold, calculated courage" of Dr. Christiaan Barnard, who performed the controversial operation.

The patient, Philip Blaiberg, said of the pioneer surgeon, "He it was who had the courage to transplant a new heart in me after his first patient died."

"The cold, calculated courage he has shown, while the world watched him, was courage in deed," Blaiberg wrote in a book, "Looking at My Heart," published today by Stein and Day.

The transplant operation had been criticized as premature before Blaiberg, a retired dentist, became the world's third transplant patient last Jan. 2. Before the operation, Blaiberg's condition had been considered hopeless.

In the book, Blaiberg says he and his wife resumed marital relations on April 5, their wedding anniversary. He had left Groote Schuur Hospital in Cape-town, South Africa, on March 16.

Blaiberg said Barnard suggested he relate this "to allay the fears of some men who believe their potency might be impaired after cardiac surgery."

A Priority For Children

RALEIGH (AP)—The Governor's Advisory Council on Mental Health wants the governor and General Assembly to give high priority to "all mental health services pertaining to children."

At a meeting in Raleigh Friday the council also approved manpower requests of "all mental health-related agencies for retaining, training and promoting of personnel."

The council also urged that every effort be made to "bring the services of these personnel to the community level when they are needed."

A 10-point series of goals for future mental health planning in the state, which was endorsed by the council, called for:

—Expansion of state services into more district areas and counties.

—Better diagnostic and evaluation services for people needing care.

—Expansion of hospital and clinic services for citizens.

—Strengthening of the network of rebuilding, restorative and rehabilitative services to serve more citizens closer to their homes.

Firewalls Saved Large Complex

RALEIGH (AP) — Firewalls separating each apartment from the one next to it was credited Sunday with keeping a fire from spreading through a huge multi-story apartment complex.

The blaze destroyed the apartment of Mrs. Debra Stelle in the Beckanna Apartments, located on U. S. 70 near the Raleigh city limits. Two persons were treated for smoke inhalation and there was water and smoke damage to other parts of the building.

Study Commission Will Advise Voting Machines For Tar Heels

RALEIGH (AP) — A study commission co-chairman told the North Carolina Board of Elections today the group would recommend that the state encourage the use of voting machines by putting up a matching fund to assist counties in buying them.

L. A. Grooms of Lincolnton, co-chairman of the Governor's Elections Task Force, made the report.

Grooms said the Task force will propose that the General Assembly establish a system of matching funds under which the state would equally share cost of the voting machines with North Carolina's 100 counties.

"We realize it may be two years or perhaps four years before this can be put into effect," Grooms said.

The committee has indicated at a meeting in Charlotte a week ago that it would not recommend compulsory voting machines in small counties.

One member said at the time, "There are many small counties that get along well with paper ballots. There's no reason to make them change."

In an interview after his appearance before the board, Grooms said the study group had made no estimate of the cost of the project. He said the group would not recommend a time table for the program.

Grooms said the study commission's recommendations also would include extending voting hours after voting machines are in use on a statewide basis, making election day an official holiday, and revising absentee ballot laws.

Grooms said extending voting hours by "one or two hours" had been discussed but that "we probably will leave that to the judgment of the General Assembly."

He said the group will recommend making it easier to cast absentee ballots with two groups particularly in mind — traveling salesmen and truck drivers.

"Mecklenburg County alone has approximately 12,000 people who leave the county every week, going out on the road," he said, "and there are also sizeable numbers in Raleigh, Greensboro and other cities. Election is a working day for them and many cannot vote."

He estimated there are a total of about half a million North Carolinians in this category.

Grooms said his group's formal report will be made public late this month.

Alex Brock, executive secretary of the State Elections Board, said he believes the report will be "the most complete study ever made of elections in North Carolina."

The 27-member study committee was appointed after voting jams at the polls in the May primaries.

Co-chairman with Grooms is Fitzhugh Wallace of Kinston.

Shortly after Nixon's arrival here from New York for a visit of several hours, press spokesman Ronald L. Ziegler told newsmen Nixon had talked secretly and face to face with both Hoover and Helms in New York and had asked them to retain their posts. He said they had agreed to do so.

The two men apparently will stay on their jobs indefinitely.

Aides said Nixon could hardly talk seriously about the policies and programs his administration will push since task forces studying major problem areas — and recommending programs for the future — have yet to report to him.

The President-elect will begin receiving these reports this week.

While in the capital, Nixon also will announce he is retaining 73-year-old J. Edgar Hoover as director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. By federal law, Hoover would have been forced to retire in 1964 at age 70 except for an exemption granted him by President Johnson. Nixon will continue to honor the exemption.

It was not certain, however, that Hoover would remain at the helm of the FBI throughout the new president's term. Some sources said he was considering retirement in the next few years.

FBI And CIA Directors Will Stay On Job In Nixon Administration

By FRANK CORMIER

WASHINGTON (AP) — President-elect Nixon, here to confer with Republican congressional chiefs, announced today that J. Edgar Hoover has agreed to continue as FBI director and Richard Helms will remain on the job as director of the Central Intelligence Agency.

The Nixon meeting with Republican leaders of Congress was a bit unusual in that one outsider was included among the conferees—Ray Bliss, chairman of the GOP National Committee.

Once in office, presidents normally do not invite their party chairman to such sessions.

But at this preinaugural meeting it was apparent that Nixon and those meeting with him would have to give particular attention to partisan strategy in the coming congressional session, where Democrats will outnumber Republicans in both houses.

On Sunday, Nixon and daughter Julie attended morning services at the Marble Collegiate Church and heard a prayer by the minister, the Rev. Dr. Norman Vincent Peale, for Johnson and the president-elect.

Julie will be married in Dr. Peale's church next Sunday to David Eisenhower, grandson of the former president.

In the afternoon, Nixon walked up Fifth Avenue from his apartment through streets covered with ice and snow to Temple Emanu-El for memorial services for Arthur Hays Sulzberger, retired publisher of the New York Times.

The President-elect returned to his apartment with Mrs. Nelson A. Rockefeller, wife of the New York governor, at his side. Rockefeller walked behind, chatting with Lt. Gov. Robert Finch of California, Nixon's choice to be secretary of health, education and welfare. The Nixons and the Rockefellers have apartments in the same building.

Morgan Naming SBI Director In 2 Weeks

By BILL CHAZE Associated Press Writer

Atty. Gen.-elect Robert Morgan said today he will name the new director of the State Bureau of Investigation within the next two weeks.

Morgan said he may take the action as early as the middle of next week at a news conference.

Myron McBryde, who has been director for about 18 months, resigned effective Jan. 1.

McBryde was hired by Atty. Gen. Wade Bruton, who was defeated by Morgan, a Lillington attorney and state senator, in the May Democratic primary election.

Morgan takes office Jan. 1. He said today the interviewing of candidates for the job should be completed by Friday and added, "I'm talking with many men both in an out of law enforcement."

"I'm not at all convinced that the job requires a lot of experience carrying a pistol or swinging a club," Morgan said.

There has been speculation that Morgan will name Charles Dunn, an aide to Gov. Dan Moore, as the SBI director.

Morgan confirmed that he has discussed the job with Dunn, a former newspaperman with no law enforcement experience, and said Dunn "is being seriously considered."

Morgan said that while Dunn is without law enforcement experience, "he has worked closely with North Carolina law enforcement officials during the past two years."

Dunn's most recent assignment was to try to help ease racial tension in Swan Quarter where Negroes staged a series of demonstrations protesting a school desegregation plan.

The attorney general-elect said earlier there would be no mass turnover within the SBI. He said for the most part the state agents were highly capable men.

Clerk, reported that: "Out of about 1,700 possible voters, only 441 people voted. Of these, 158 voted for, and 283 voted against the referendum. I feel this may not have been the best time for this vote, with Christmas coming up and the national elections just out of the way."

Both Allen and Beaman feel that there will be considerably greater interest in the matter comes up again in May. "With such a small number voting, it was really more a skeleton vote," stated Allen.

Wachovia Branch Bank Is Robbed

CHARLOTTE (AP) — The Arrowood branch of Wachovia Bank and Trust Co. was robbed shortly before noon today by two armed gunmen.

County police said between $4,000 and $5,000 was taken. They said the bandits were described as Negroes wearing raincoats. They apparently escaped in a car, police said.

The branch is on U.S. 49 south of the city limits.

Auditorium Of Grifton School Burns

GRIFTON—The auditorium of Grifton Elementary School, a formerly predominantly Negro school which was closed by court order in September was destroyed by fire about noon today.

Grifton, Ayden and Greenville fire departments and the Lenoir County truck from the Kinston Fire Department responded to the alarm which was sounded at 12:05 p.m. Persons who had passed the school only minutes earlier reported that they saw no smoke or other signs of fire.

By the time the Grifton firefighters reached the scene, the fire was blazing through the roof of the front portion of the auditorium.

Investigation is being made to determine the cause of the fire, Michael Worthington, Pitt County fire marshal said. The damage had not been estimated.

According to Arthur S. Alford, the auditorium was built about eight years ago. It was being used by a Grifton church group while repairs were being made on the church building.

House Fire Kills Woman Here Sunday

A 76-year-old Negro woman died in a fire which heavily damaged her Clark Street home here Sunday.

The victim of the 12:52 p.m. blaze was identified as Janie Arthur, Pitt County Coroner E. W. Harvey said. He ruled the death was accidental.

Firemen were called to the 1211 Clark St. home when Box 221 at the intersection of 12th and Clark Street was sounded at 12:45 p.m.

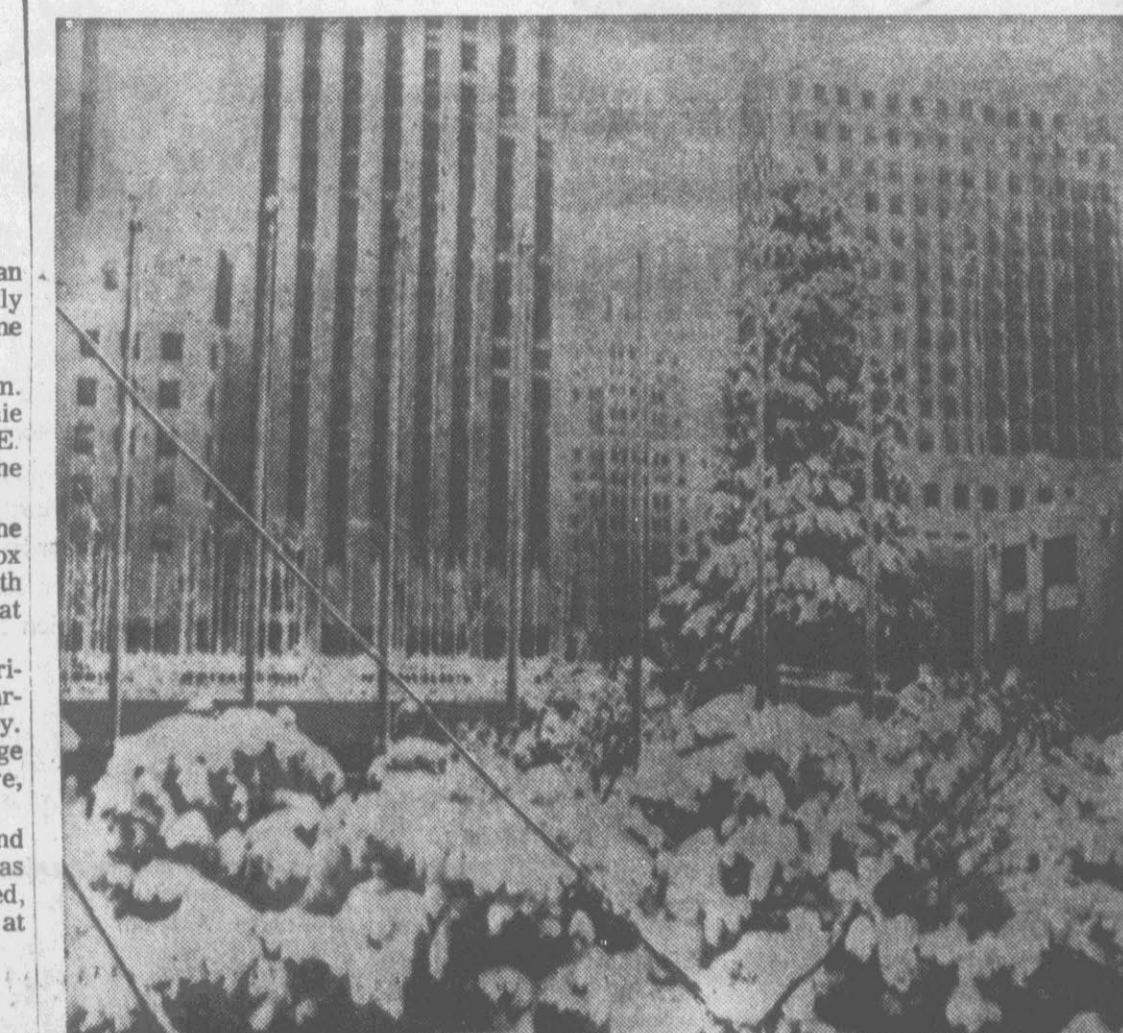

They reported the blaze originated in the bedroom, apparently from a faulty chimney. The fire caused heavy damage to the wood-frame structure, firefighters reported.

The dead woman was found on her bed. She reportedly was an invalid, Harvey explained, and was alone in the house at the time of the fire.

Farmville Referendum Might Be Possible In May Election

FARMVILLE — Mayor Frank Allen of Farmville believes it may be possible to include a referendum for voting on the Council-Manager form of government in the forthcoming May elections.

The referendum had been voted on in Farmville on December 7, with a very small turnout of about 25 percent of eligible voters. "The vote would have been larger if more people had registered in time. Many people came in to vote and discovered they could not."

Indicating that there was still much interest in the idea of a Council-Manager form of government, Allen said: "Although we have not explored it much yet, there is the possibility the referendum may come up again in the regular elections for town commissioners which is to be held in May. We certainly anticipate going on with the idea. Perhaps between now and then the people of Farmville will have time to consider the idea more fully."

Woman's Club Officers Installed Friday

New officers were installed at the meeting of the Greenville Woman's Club held Friday afternoon at the club bldg.

Officers are: Mrs. George Clapp, president; Mrs. Sylvester Green, first vice president; Mrs. J. L. Savage, second vice president; Miss Agnes Fullilove, recording secretary; Mrs. C. T. Fleming, corresponding secretary; Mrs. C. M. Respass, treasurer; Mrs. George Fleming and Mrs. Paul Stokes, historians; Mrs. Dink James, reporter. Mrs. W. E. Roseveare was the installing officer.

Mrs. George Snyder gave the program on "Sources of Many of Our Christmas Customs and Carols."

Mrs. Snyder said that the birthday of Christ was officially designated between 325-350 A. D. and the tree, as a symbol of Christmas, comes to us from Germany.

Mrs. W. A. Pollard, chairman of the Fine Arts Department, presented an early American sofa and picture as a gift to the club from the department.

Mrs. Roseveare, chairman of the Home Life Department, urged all members to attend the meeting and party on Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Nursing Home.

Mrs. Delbert Roscoe was introduced as new chairman of the Public Affairs Department.

Mrs. Savage presented the gavel, a gift of the first club president, Mrs. Rosa Forbes Quinley, to the new president, Mrs. Clapp. Mrs. Clapp told of some of her aims and ideas for the next administration.

A gift of silver candlesticks were presented to Mrs. Savage, retiring president, by Mrs. Snyder.

In giving a summary of the year's work, Mrs. Savage reported that contributions were made to the following: Vietnam Village; Sheltered Workshop; Meadowbrook Day Care Center; United Fund; Sunshine Center; Trainable School; O'Berry School; Cherry Hospital; Caswell Center; Samuel Leonard School; and Pitt Technical Institute.

Birthday gifts were sent to each child from Pitt County in a correctional school. Two patients at Cherry Hospital have been adopted by the club and will be remembered monthly. Club members have given many hours to the Eastern TB and Respiratory Center, dressed 20 dolls for the Salvation Army Christmas project and gave bulbs for planting at the Salvation Army Citadel.

Members also visited the Nursing Home, remembered patients with gifts, sponsored the Newcomers Club, one member gives two mornings each week to the Trainable School, sponsored the Author's Luncheon, presenting awards in creative writing, Sidewalk Art Show and held a study course on "Great Decisions" with 12 members participating, served as hostess to the District 15 Fine Arts Festival and District Summer Workshop.

A history of the 50 years of the Woman's Club of Greenville by Mrs. H. L. Rives and Mrs. Roseveare has had state recognition.

Mrs. J. Vance Perkins, club hostess, was thanked for her dedication and service to the club. Hostesses for the meeting were Mrs. Preston Cannon, Mrs. J. R. Carrington and Mrs. Savage.

Don't Bug Your Husband About Mother-In-Law

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I have always had the feeling that my mother-in-law never cared for me very much although heaven knows I have tried my best to make her like me. I married her favorite son, but I am far from her favorite daughter-in-law.

What bothers me most is this: Everywhere you look in her house you see pictures of her "children"—sons, daughters, and their husbands and wives, but there is not one picture of me.

I gave her a big tinted picture of me in my wedding gown, but I have never seen it displayed anywhere. Since that time I have given her other pictures of me, but she hasn't put any of them out either. I am not an ugly girl, Abby. In fact people say I am the prettiest of her four-daughters-in-law.

I keep asking my husband what his mother has against me and he says, "Nothing." What should I do? About the pictures I mean?

HURT

DEAR HURT: I'll tell you what NOT to do. Don't bug your husband about it. He is not his mother's keeper.

DEAR ABBY: With the holidays just around the corner, I'd like to say something about the way some people "entertain."

When I entertain guests in MY home, I invite them into my LIVING ROOM. I have friends who invite us over for a party, and everybody is herded down the basement. It's fixed up real nice down there, but it's always a little bit damp, and dark and uncomfortable. Besides, I resent getting all dressed up to stand around in somebody's cellar.

What are these people afraid of? That somebody might mess up their living room?

DECORAMA

BY TOMMIE WILLIS FLOOR FASHIONS

Look where you walk! That is not a danger warning but sound advice from decorators and experts in the carpet industry. The foundation of every decorating plan is the floor covering. Like walls, floors make a contribution to decorating in their own right, not merely serving as a background for furniture. Properly selected floor coverings coordinate all other elements of room decoration and the choice of carpeting or rug should be based on durability and ease of care as well as beauty.

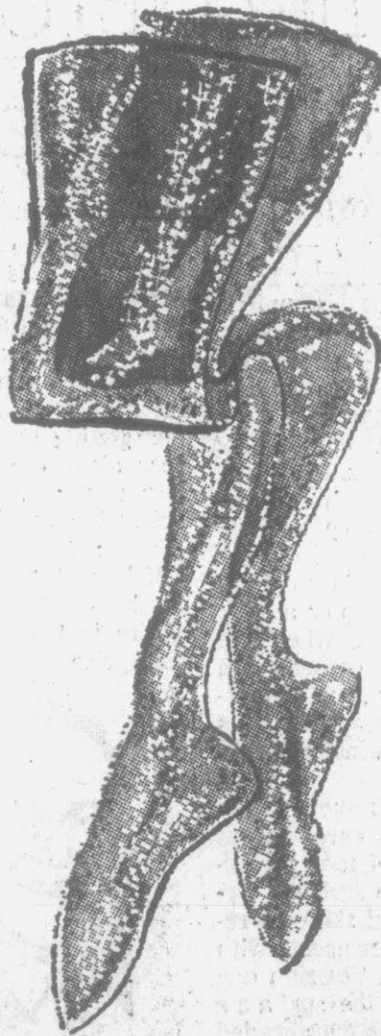

Add true beauty and comfort to your home with beautiful wall to wall carpet. A Very Merry Christmas from Tommie Willis Interiors, 425 Greenville Blvd., Greenville, 756-1336.

GREENVILLE, N. C.

To Open Up The Booming Frontier

R. Harold Seburn, chairman of Heart of Wide Awake Wilson Associates, has charged a lack of understanding by highway planners about the needs of mid eastern and northeastern areas of the state.

Seburn pointed out that Wilson is "the largest farm marketing center in eastern America and does not have adequate highways." Rocky Mount has experienced tremendous industrial development but has poor roads, he continued.

"Greenville, our eastern university center is one of the fastest growing cities in the state and has poor roads. Washington has the largest percentage gain in retail sales of any city in the state this year but is getting no roads."

Seburn had an answer to the problem. He suggested a new east-west interstate highway plan to solve the problem. It consists of extending Interstate 40 from its eastern terminus at Greensboro along

I-85 to Durham and then along a new right-of-way to Wake Forest area near Dunn, then past Elm City, Greenville and Washington. There it would tie in with a four lane U. S. 17 from Washington to Elizabeth City.

"We feel that eastern North Carolinians are working hard to develop their area, Seburn said. "The people in Wilson, Rocky Mount, Greenville, and Washington areas are paying their share of taxes to build highways in North Carolina and want consideration for adequate roads in a booming frontier."

Mr. Seburn has come up with a good suggestion for opening our area with an adequate highway. There have been other proposals for dual laned highways in the eastern and northern section. It would be nice if the Highway Commission would at least give some indication that it is even considering one or more of these suggestions.

Seeks An SBI Administrator

By WILLIAM A. SHIRES
Reflector Raleigh Bureau
RALEIGH — It is not surprising to insiders in Raleigh that Atty-Gen. elect Robert Morgan is actively seeking an administrator to head the controversially-riden State Bureau of Investigation.

The report, first published by the Charlotte News, that Charles Dunn of Raleigh, administrative assistant to Gov. Dan K. Moore, is a leading candidate for the SBI post appears well founded.

Morgan has not made a final decision but Dunn definitely is under consideration. Morgan feels he would be effective despite the fact that he has no previous law enforcement experience.

Dunn's strong points in-the super-secret SBI. Outside his SBI job, Anderson was well-liked and respected. He was both a veteran law enforcement officer, a churchman and humanitarian. His firing was shrouded with mystery but it was already known that both the posts of SBI director and Law and Order chairmen were hot spots. Former Atty. Gen. Malcolm B. Seawell had resigned as Law and Order chairman after a rift with Moore over the committee's role in regard to investigating and prosecuting the Ku Klux Klan.

Before the Anderson and Seawell incidents, another former attorney general, Judge George B. Patton, had fired Jimmy Powell as SBI director and hired Anderson.

Bruton's Silence
Bruton's silence about the reasons for firing Anderson remains one of the unearthen secrets in state government. Bruton vowed never to disclose more than his perfunctory prepared statement saying he had "reluctantly reached the conclusion that a more effective and harmonious administration of the affairs of the bureau (SBI) requires a change..."

To replace Anderson Bruton chose an outsider, Myron McBride, who really was a native of North Carolina, a veteran of both law enforcement and the practice of law—then living and working in Mississippi.

Morgan's Choice
It is, of course, Morgan's prerogative to decide on a successor, and on whether McBride should be retained. He made the decision to replace the SBI chief on several grounds.

One was political—apparently McBride had been engaged in certain political activity while director of the SBI. Another was the SBI's record under both Anderson's and McBride's directorships. This did not, according to Morgan's standards, measure up to the level of satisfactory.

There are numerous unsolved cases outstanding in the SBI files, and there is a feeling of loss of public confidence in this state law enforcement agency. Morgan wants to correct this.

Christmas Help Rests On Dollars You Give

The extent to which hundreds of needy families throughout Pitt County will be aided at this Christmas season will be in direct proportion to the genuine spirit of the season which prevails in the hearts of their more fortunate neighbors.

Like every other county or community, Pitt has its needy families who must look to the generosity of others if they are to have anything special at Christmas. Without that generosity being expressed, there would be many youngsters whose eyes would not be brightened by a new toy or doll on Christmas, would find no fuel to ward off the cold or insufficient food to calm the gnawing hunger of young and old alike.

Fortunately, the wheels are already in motion to provide for the needy throughout the county at this season. The Salvation Army, acting as clearing house and coordinating agent for the efforts of many individuals and groups, has plans well advanced. Food baskets are planned for some 500 families. Another 300 youngsters will be guests of honor at special parties and an estimated 700 children are expected to receive toys through the effort.

But behind this effort there must be dollars with which to foot the bills. Individuals who would like to participate in this effort may do so by contacting the local Salvation Army office, or by putting a check in the mail to the Salvation Army, Greenville.

Script For Campus Riot

WASHINGTON—Those of us try to keep abreast of student affairs have noticed that student riots are taking on a pattern. The script reads something like this:

Dean of students arrives on campus. Students start throwing rocks, dirt and tomatoes at him, and try to hit him over the head as they scream, "Amnesty! Amnesty!"

Dean of students, as he tries to protect himself, yells back, "What do you want amnesty from?"

Students: "From attacking

you. We demand that you sign a paper that we won't be punished for throwing things at you and trying to hit you over the head."

Dean: "But why should I do that? Wouldn't it be better if you didn't attack me?"

Students: "Spoken like a bourgeois racist. You don't even care to listen to what we have to say."

Dean: "I'd be happy to hear what you've got to say, if you'd just stop throwing things at me. I can't listen when I'm constantly ducking."

Students: "Obscenity—what do you have to say to that?"

Dean: "I didn't understand the question."

Students: "You don't want to understand the question. Obscenity, obscenity, obscenity."

Dean: "Very interesting."

Students: "What about the draft?"

Other Editors Say Hope In Ship-Watching

(Greensboro News)

The best hope for the release of the Pueblo may rest, oddly enough, in a Rotterdam shipyard.

There, nearing completion by a Dutch shipbuilder, is the first of two fish-processing ships ordered a year ago by the North Koreans. The Koreans now fear, with reason, that the U. S. will seize the ship as soon as it reaches the open sea; thus they may be pressured into returning the Pueblo, or at least its crew, to the U. S. Navy.

When the intelligence ship was captured off the port of Wonsan last January an appropriate retaliation would have been for the U. S. to seize some North Korean vessel in international waters. The North Koreans realized that at once, and since the incident they have kept their entire fishing fleet within territorial waters.

But their newest and costliest ship is in the Netherlands, and its captain and crew already are in Rotterdam waiting to board it. So are American agents. They keep showing up at the shipyard, taking pictures and asking when the ship, will be ready to sail.

This naturally makes the North Koreans anxious. They know it will take them 30 days to sail the ship home and much of the voyage will be through waters controlled by the U. S. Navy. Although the United States has made no explicit threat on the ship the North Koreans know the threat exists. If they want to see their new fishing vessel and its sister ship they may have to release the Pueblo first.

The Rotterdam plot sounds rather like a scene from a military comedy, but it could bring the satisfactory solution of a most vexing problem. It could be the most appropriate method, firm but restrained, for bringing the Pueblo crewmen safely home. That has been this country's reasonable objective since last January, and the fishing boat in Rotterdam at last has given the U. S. the upper hand.

Reasons For Santa's Tardiness

By ELMER ROESSNER

Christmas Day will come on time, all right, on Dec. 25. But a lot of gifts will be slow in arriving. However, this may serve to spread the joy to New Year's Day.

Reasons for Santa's tardiness are:

1. Thanksgiving was late this year, falling on Nov. 28, making only 22 shopping days in the traditional shopping season. Many people are now frantically buying gifts they had intended to buy a week ago. Next year, incidentally, won't be much better, with Thanksgiving Day coming on Nov. 27.

2. The wildcat strike of PEA employees in the New York area has delayed the delivery of re-orders from New York suppliers to other areas, and the shipment of re-orders to New York merchants.

3. The lateness of Thanksgiving has intensified the post office jam.

4. This week's cold wave in the East has delayed considerable shopping.

The Bright Side
Despite these handicaps, Christmas sales still appear to be heading for a new record.

The Toy Manufacturers of America report that toy sales will reach a new high of $2.5 billion this year. All other retail sales have been running ahead of last year's records.

More Forecasts
Other look-aheads in business:

Plywood pricing will remain scrambled until spring, when demand will tend to stabilize the market. Prices have been soaring sometimes as much as $10 in a week, although they did not reach the record prices of 1950. The Georgia-Pacific Corp., the nation's largest manufacturer, rolled back some softwood grades, and announced its intentions of holding the line on other grades.

Georgia-Pacific cut the mill price of 3/4-inch sanded plywood, which had been $118 a thousand square feet, to $110. Other plywood makers are being forced to meet it.

Business Futures
Trade sources regard this rarity of price cutting in 1968 as a bid for a larger share of the market. Georgia-Pacific is increasing its capacity from 2 billion square feet a year to 2.5 billion and is counting on the coming building boom

Hanoi, Peking At Odds

By ARTHUR L. GAVSHON
Associated Press Writer

PARIS (AP) — Red China is so displeased with Hanoi's willingness to negotiate a peace settlement, it is slashing aid to North Vietnam, western diplomats claim.

The diplomats say they have detected a steady scaling-down of Chinese military aid to North Vietnam since March 31, when President Johnson first limited the bombing of the North. Since then the Chinese were said to have withdrawn nearly half their estimated 50,000-man labor force from within North Vietnam.

Indications are the total cessation of bombing Nov. 1 and preparations for expanded peace talks here have infuriated Peking even more.

Without making any official pronouncements, Peking is allowing its mass media to feature anti-Hanoi criticism, a favorite ploy of propagandists in Communist capitals.

Reports reaching the West also tell of more forceful expressions of displeasure, such as popular demonstrations against the North Vietnamese inside Red China.

One dispatch said a North Vietnamese consulate in Nanking recently was surrounded and attacked by Red Guards. Others tell of Red Guards seizing shipments of Chinese arms bound for Hanoi.

After one such seizure of a munitions train, Prime Minister Chou En-lai was moved to complain against Red Guard behaviour.

Some diplomats claim an angry Peking is trying to disengage from the North Vietnamese war effort. Other say that Chinese labor for rebuilding roads, railways and other communications was no longer needed as bombing contracted, so it was simply withdrawn without any substitute aid offered.

Allied experts note the following significant developments since last spring: —Leading Albanians from Premier Mehmet Shehu down have been criticizing Hanoi's participation in the Paris peace talks since October. Albania, China's only European ally, portrays such participation as "revisionism," taboo in the Communist rule-book. And Chinese organs have been publishing these criticisms.

—Eight days ago Chinese papers printed an Albanian leader's call on the North Vietnamese to quit the Paris talks and keep fighting until complete victory. Vice Premier and Defense Minister Begir Balluku accused the Americans of plotting with the Russians to crush the Vietnamese.

—Again last week Peking publicized a statement by Shehu claiming peace is not going to be achieved at the Paris talks but on the battlefields of Vietnam.

—In Hanoi, Albania's ambassador sounded off at a national day reception against revisionists. His speech was so heated the envoys of nearly all Communist states staged a walkout. The Chinese stayed.

In the early stages of the Vietnam war, when Moscow and Peking were competing for influence in Hanoi, the volume of Chinese aid roughly matched that of the Russians.

But as the nature of fighting charged to require the

Strength For Today

SUPPORT THE CHURCH

A person told recently of distributing cards which announced a meeting being held in a church. To the amazement of the person who was distributing these cards a well-dressed and apparently intelligent man about sixty said, "Give me one of those cards. I haven't been in church since I was a kid."

Imagine — fifty years and no connection with a church. There are some shocking losses going on in certain religious bodies today and many of us are worried no end about the matter.

We confront the disconcerting phenomenon of a decline in morals when with our education, sophistication, advantages, and things for which to be thankful we ought to be praising God and supporting the church with every adequate means at our disposal.

For centuries people have been making much of the differences between the churches. Let us get well in mind that all churches, regardless of their individual differences, are doing a sincere and earnest job on the souls of mankind. You and I do not need to change our churches in order to find salvation for our souls. What we need to do is so to change our habits of life that the church will be getting its proper share of our interest, support and devotion.

There can be heathenism in right where we live if by our neglect we allow it to grow up. We can make contact with God anywhere we happen to be, but the best place for making such a contact is the church.

Another Arab Guerrilla Organization Forms

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A new Arab guerrilla organization has emerged to combat Israeli forces on the east side of the Suez Canal, the semi-official Egyptian newspaper Al Ahram reported today.

It said the Organization for the Liberation of Sinai, whose activities have been kept secret to date, will shortly issue military communiqués and "assume responsibility for resistance actions against the Israeli imperialist presence."

Al Ahram said the Israelis have been "trying to hide" news of encounters with the guerrillas. These included several Arab ambushes in Sinai in the past few months, presumably those blamed by Israel on regular Egyptian army units, said the Cairo newspaper.

The announcement apparently marked the beginning of organized guerrilla activity against Israeli forces in the Suez Canal Zone and promised to heat up the Egyptian-Israeli cease-fire line, usually the quietest in the Middle East.

Israel has been plagued by almost daily guerrilla forays from Jordanian territory, and the Israeli army reported that two Arab saboteurs and an Israeli border soldier were killed in such incidents Saturday night and Sunday.

The army said the two saboteurs were killed in a clash with

N.C. Weekend Traffic Kills 10

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Traffic accidents killed at least 10 persons in North Carolina during the weekend, pushing the state's annual death toll to 1,764—or 100 above the same period last year.

Three young Marines and a teen-age New Bern girl died in a head-on collision about five miles north of Jacksonville on U. S. 17. They were: S. R. Smith, 21, Ernesto Martinez, 19, Gary A. Goderre, 22, all stationed at Camp Lejeune, and Beatrice York, 18, of New Bern.

William Bishop, 59, Wilmington, was killed by a hit-and-run driver in Wilmington.

Oliver Housier, 60, Statesville, was killed when he stepped into the path of an approaching vehicle near Statesville.

Dorothy Beatty, 37, Atkinson, died in a two-car smashup near Atkinson in Pender County.

Others killed in weekend traffic accidents were: Teresa Marie Sturdmont, 7, Spencer; Mary Frances Lassiter, 17, Battleboro; and Dennis Gray Payne, 18, Walnut Grove.

an army patrol after they crossed the Jordan River 30 miles north of the Dead Sea, while the soldier was killed while driving a jeep through occupied Hebron.

The Amman newspaper Ab Dastour claimed three Israelis were killed in Hebron and that "hundreds of Arabs" had been arrested as Israeli troops searched for the saboteurs. It said a curfew was slapped on the town, and military road-blocks sealed all access.

A Jordanian military spokesman in Amman also claimed the Israelis shelled the town of Wadi Safi, on the southern tip of the Dead Sea, for 25 minutes, killing a woman and wounding five civilians.

Also in Amman, a palace spokesman rejected a statement attributed to King Hussein that he is willing to renounce sovereignty over the Israeli-occupied west bank to achieve a peace settlement with Israel.

The spokesman said Hussein's remarks were misinterpreted by the London Observer and that the king spoke only of "plans and opinion" to introduce more decentralization in the government after the liberation of the west bank.

The Observer said the king spoke of the fertile area west of the Jordan River being made into an autonomous, demilitarized Arab state as a means toward a peace settlement.

Goren on BRIDGE

BY CHARLES H. GOREN
(C 1948 by The Chicago Tribune)
ANSWERS TO BRIDGE QUIZ

Q. 1—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠ 10 6 ♥ Q 9 5 4 ♦ 6 ♣ A J 9 5 2
The bidding has proceeded:
North East South West
1 ♠ 2 ♠ Pass Pass
2 ♥ 3 ♦ ?
What do you bid now?
A.—Four hearts. A single raise would not do justice to the hand and, even if partner has a mild rebid, you should have a good play for 10 tricks.

Q. 2—Neither vulnerable. Partner opens with one spade and you hold:
♠ Q J 7 5 3 ♥ 6 2 ♦ K 9 5 ♣ A 10 3
What is your response?
A.—There is no satisfactory bid with this hand. It is too good for a jump to three, which guarantees game. Nor is it the proper type for a jump to four. The best bet is to make a temporary bid of two clubs, intending to give a spade raise on the next round.

Q. 3—As South, vulnerable, you hold:
♠ J 8 3 ♥ A 2 ♦ K 7 5 3 ♣ Q 9 6 3
The bidding has proceeded:
West North East South
Pass 1 ♠ 4 ♣ ?
What do you bid?
A.—With a likelihood that you can win two tricks defensively, the indicated procedure is a penalty double. There would be no justification for a bid of four spades, which would be a shot in the dark.

Q. 4—As South, vulnerable, you hold:
♠ K 8 6 ♥ Q 10 5 4 ♦ K 8 2 2 ♣ 4 2
The bidding has proceeded:
North East South West
1 ♠ Pass 1 ♥ Pass 1 ♠ Pass ?
What do you bid now?
A.—One no trump. While partner's rebid is by no means forcing, another bid is recommended in case he has a pretty good hand. The one no trump rebid in this case does not show substantial values and can be made with as little as eight or nine high card points.

Q. 5—Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠ A Q 10 ♥ K J 10 6 2 ♦ 5 2 ♣ Q J
The bidding has proceeded:

South West North East
1 ♥ Pass 3 ♦ Pass
3 ♥ Pass 6 NT Pass ?

What do you bid now?
A.—A grand slam bid is clearly indicated. Partner has contracted for a small slam on the basis of a mere opening bid from you with only the added information that you have a rebiddable heart suit. As far as high cards are concerned, he could not count on you for more than 13 points. He, therefore, must have 20. Inasmuch as you have 17, you know that you have the necessary 37, together with a good six-card suit.

Q. 6—Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠ 8 7 2 ♥ J 8 6 ♦ A 10 6 5 4 ♣ 8 5
The bidding has proceeded:
North East South West
1 ♠ Pass 1 ♦ Pass 2 NT Pass ?
What do you bid now?
A.—Pass. You fully exhausted your values when you responded with one diamond. If this were all partner needed to produce a game, he would have been in position to jump to three no trump instead of only two.

Q. 7—East-West vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠ Q J 5 ♥ A J 7 6 2 ♦ 9 6 2 ♣ 5 3
The bidding has proceeded:
North East South West
1 ♦ Pass 1 ♥ Pass 2 ♣ Pass ?
What do you bid now?
A.—A return to two diamonds is clearly indicated. There is no justification for a bid of two no trump merely to describe a spade stopper. Such a rebid should be based on a stronger holding.

Q. 8—As South, vulnerable, you hold:
♠ K 9 ♥ A Q 7 ♦ A J 8 4 ♣ A 9 7 6
The bidding has proceeded:
East South West North
1 ♥ 1 NT Pass 2 ♣ Pass ?
What do you bid now?
A.—That East has dragged a red herring across the scene has just become apparent. In view of the fact that North has sufficient high card strength to justify a jump shift, it is barely possible that East may have stretched the truth. In an effort to shed more light on the situation and to expose the gay deceiver, a sue bid of three hearts is recommended with the intention of supporting clubs vigorously on the next round.

NASA Says Astronauts Needn't Fear Radiation

By JIM STROTHMAN
AP Aerospace Writer
CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Despite concern expressed by some scientists, the space agency predicts America's Apollo 8 astronauts will be exposed to radiation no greater than the total equivalent of three chest X rays when they fly around the moon. Solar flares erupting on the sun's surface could spew radiation into space between earth and the moon, but "it would take a very unusual flare" to prevent or alter the mission, said an Apollo 8 astronaut, William A. Anders.

Dr. Harold Zirin, professor of astrophysics at the California Institute of Technology, said earlier this month that Cal Tech astronomers observed a new sunspot group which "has grown rapidly and will be facing the earth at the center of the sun on Dec. 23."

"They probably haven't seen more than one or two in the last decade large enough to cause concern," said Air Force Maj. Anders, who plans to blast off Saturday for a 10-orbit flight around the moon with Air Force Col. Frank Borman and Navy Capt. James A. Lovell Jr.

While NASA said it has no grounds for worry, concern has been expressed elsewhere in the scientific community.

Scientists in the Soviet Union and other Communist countries have said in recent weeks that further biological testing would be necessary before the Russians would attempt a deep-space flight. Radiation hazards were among questions needed to be answered, they said.

A network of radiation-measuring U.S. satellites circling the sun and ground-based observatories are keeping track of solar storms for NASA. The satellites can give warning of active solar regions as much as 16 days in advance. If an unusually hazardous flare spilled radiation into space while the astronauts were in flight, "we could stay in orbit around the moon to take advantage of its one-half shielding effect," Anders said. He meant that high radiation levels could be avoided for about half of every two-hour orbit when the moon was between Apollo 8 and the sun.

Youngsters Stay With The Guitar

CHICAGO (UPI)—A life-long hobby often begins when a teenager picks up his first guitar. A survey taken by the American Music Conference of guitar playing by young people across the country found that 96 per cent plan to continue playing after they graduate from high school.

The AMC survey also revealed that young people today are very serious about their guitar playing. On the average, respondents practice nine hours a week, with two-thirds taking formal lessons. Also, of the youths responding, 85 per cent paid for part or all of their instrument expenses.

Took Hostages, Then Give Up To Newsmen

HOLLYWOOD, Fla. (AP) — A former patient forced his way into a mental hospital Sunday, took three hostages, then surrendered when a newspaper reporter promised to get him promised to help him. While a patient there, Meagher had twice broken out. The three hostages, guard Edward T. Smith and aides Fred Horton and Raymond Dorry, were released unhurt.

Meagher announced his siege at 5:30 a.m. when he telephoned Dr. Richard Parks, hospital superintendent; Dr. Arthur Stillman, clinical director; and Gibson at their homes.

Gibson said Meagher told him: "I have a sawed-off shotgun and a pistol—and plenty of ammunition. I have three aides as hostages and if they don't close down this ward for good, I'm going to tear it apart and kill the three hostages."

The reporter met Meagher in June when Meagher then a prisoner in a Miami jail, wrote to him to complain about the treatment mental patients receive in Florida.

During the siege, Meagher gave beer to inmates in maximum security cells and forced his hostages to drink. Meagher fired shots through the ward's windows, but police who surrounded the building did not return the fire.

Gibson promised by telephone to deliver the drugs and get treatment for him. Meagher then surrendered. Outside, Meagher immediately swallowed four pills that were given to him, by Stillman. They were tranquilizers and Meagher soon fell asleep.

He was taken by ambulance to another hospital.

Next Labor Secretary Believes In Innovation

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — George P. Shultz, chosen by President-elect Nixon as his secretary of labor, considers unemployment among young nonwhites as a "large, serious and growing" problem underlying urban unrest.

Shultz meticulously dissected the dilemma of ghetto unemployment early this year in an address before the Center for Policy Study, based at the University of Chicago, where he is dean of the Graduate School of Business.

In the paper, which Shultz reworked this summer, the next labor secretary revealed himself as in favor of innovation and a "flavor of experimentation," and as a man who believes that slum residents should be heavily involved in their own job-opportunity programs.

Shultz said that private money inevitably must be involved in developing training programs and jobs for young nonwhites. He said he foresees a large role for corporate-government efforts and suggested a novel financing method.

The method would involve an annual appropriation of funds by Congress, but buying power would then be given to individuals, though not necessarily in the form of money.

"A person could receive credits entitling him to $5,000 worth of training, counseling and wage subsidy benefits. It would be up to him to exercise these credits to his best advantage, as in the operation of the G.I. Bill," he said.

Shultz conceded that this approach unnerves some planners, but maintained that if experimented with, the rewards might be great both for the job seeker and the school system.

"The expectation would be," he said, "that new or drastically altered institutions of training would emerge, tailored much more to the needs of the disadvantaged."

"Alternatively or concurrent-

Gave Himself Up To A Detective

GASTONIA, N. C. (AP) — Gary Eugene Hollingsworth, 20, sought in connection with a bank robbery with which his father is charged, went to the home of a detective captain Sunday and surrendered.

He was charged with aiding and abetting in Friday's $3,600 robbery of the Northwest Branch of the Citizens National Bank in Gastonia last Wednesday.

The detective, Gene Posey, said Hollingsworth's 17-year-old sister called and said the youth wanted to give himself up. Shortly afterward, she, her brother, and another couple arrived at Posey's home.

Hollingsworth was placed under $25,000 bond, the same amount imposed on his father, Lawrence Lee Hollingsworth, 43, a Gastonia textile worker, who had been arrested Friday and charged with bank robbery.

The father was apprehended at Gaston Memorial Hospital where he had requested treatment and then began flashing money.

Police said $600 of the loot has been recovered.

Police said they believed the bank bandit had an accomplice waiting on a motorcycle.

ly, experimental schools might be established in the ghetto, directly addressing themselves to the problems of their people without respect to the rest of the school system."

Shultz suggested that a federal-city-neighborhood private school might be established in the slums, operated by a non-school system group, specifically for experimentation on such education problems.

One objective, he said, would be to place control in the hands of the people to be helped, and to encourage the development of an education system keyed to the problems of ghetto unemployment.

In stating his opinions, Shultz observed that "unemployment today is a disease that is endemic among nonwhite teenagers while the general population enjoys robust health."

While joblessness among whites declined from 1961 to 1967, he observed, the unemployment rate for teen-age nonwhites remained the same at 23 per cent, or seven times the national average.

Shultz said the enlistment of the private sector was desirable but that it raised issues of its own. What, he asked, should be done about tardy workers, absences, conflicts, unproductiveness? How should a company maintain its efficiency while forced to be more tolerant and permissive?

To discharge the employee, he contended, would hardly solve the problem. Instead, he suggested the unsatisfactory worker might be dropped from one company but automatically employed by another firm.

Shultz expressed his thoughts at a conference on "Race and Unemployment" held by the Center for Policy Study, and organization founded in 1965 to promote dialogue between scholars and public figures.

Today In Washington

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
WASHINGTON (AP) — The FBI reports a 42 per cent rise in purse snatchings led an overall 19 per cent crime rate increase the first nine months of this year.

In violent crimes, robbery was up 32 per cent, forcible rape 17 per cent, murder 15 per cent and aggravated assault 13 per cent, according to the FBI's Uniform Crime Report released today.

Every category of crime showed an increase over the comparable period for 1967. The smallest was a 3 per cent rise in bank robberies.

In property crimes, thefts involving $50 value or more were up 23 per cent, auto thefts 22 per cent and burglary 16 per cent.

Crime in cities over 250,000 population increased an average 21 per cent to 19 per cent for the suburbs and 13 per cent for rural areas, the report showed.

It showed crime increased 25 per cent in the Northeast states, 19 per cent in the West, 17 per cent in the South and 16 per cent in the North Central states.

The FAA responded that there was nothing new in the complaint by the professional air traffic division of the National Association of Government Employees, including the complaint of understaffed control centers.

"That's why we got permission to hire 2,000 more controllers," the FAA man said.

Horse-Shoeing's Scientific Side

ST. LOUIS (UPI)—An advertisement by a company describing itself as "scientific horse-shoers" is contained in a reproduction of the first issue of The Sporting News, founded in 1886.

The advertiser boasted that its horse-shoeing "will prevent horses from slipping" and claimed that the horse's "calks will not get caught in the cable railroad slot."

Old Knowledge Is Used Today

The study said the Indians use astronomy to regulate cattle breeding and planting seasons.

If the Shoe Fits...

BY LARRY AVERETTE

Can children feel short shoes?

There is a saying in the shoe trade, "Children's feet seldom hurt". Why? Growing children have soft bones in their formative years and if their feet are in tight shoes, the children might not complain. However, the bone structure is changing which will create problems later on. We have often seen shoes two sizes too small on children and yet they say they feel fine. But where are growing feet to go in a small shoe? Many times you will not see the bunions, ingrown toenails, corns developing, but a basic change in foot proportions may show up in 6 months or a year or two. Basic weakness in arches, or the most common of rotating heels are hard to correct. Ask any mother who has had a child wear corrective shoes, braces or splints. It is an expensive nightmare and progress toward correction is usually slow.

We have all types of insurance for life, health, and property. For proper foot insurance, have your children's feet checked regularly and make sure the shoes you buy them are fitted by persons who consider shoe fitting a profession — not a sideline.

306 EVANS ST. GREENVILLE, N. C. TELEPHONE 752-5734

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — 'Tis the season for trade-paper ad salesmen to be jolly and for film critics to be sullen. The reason: the Oscar race has begun.

The trade papers are starting to bulge with ads calling attention to this performance and that. Academy voters are invited to present membership cards at local box offices for a free view of Oscar hopefuls.

The film critics are cursing the film companies' habit of glutting the holiday market with top attractions. The purpose is two-fold: to lure customers during the lush Christmas season; to meet the Dec. 31 deadline for academy consideration.

A glance over the Oscar possibilities indicates that 1968 was not a bumper-crop year. There were some acceptable entertainment films, but few that were as innovative as last year's "Bonnie and Clyde" and "The Graduate."

Here are the films which the companies hope will win best-picture nominations: "The Lion in Winter," "Rachel, Rachel," "Isadora," "Rosemary's Baby," "Oliver!" "2001: A Space Odyssey," "The Odd Couple," "Funny Girl," "The Sea Gull," "Romeo and Juliet," "The Subject Was Roses," "Star!" "Faces," "The Fixer," "Hell in the Pacific," "Planet of the Apes," "Candy," "Chitty Chitty Bang Bang," "Finian's Rainbow."

A lengthy list, including some titles that won't be seriously considered. With some of the contenders still unseen, it appears that "The Lion in Winter" is the leader thus far.

Best actor— It shapes up as a diverse race, with characterizations ranging from a Pope (Anthony Quinn, "Shoes of the Fisherman") to a mass murderer (Tony Curtis, "The Boston Strangler").

Also in contention: Peter O'Toole, "The Lion in Winter"; Jack Albertson, "The Subject Was Roses"; Walter Matthau and Jack Lemmon, "The Odd Couple"; Cliff Robertson, "Charly"; Lee Marvin and Toshirō Mifune, "Hell in the Pacific"; Rod Steiger, "The Sergeant"; Ron Moody, "Oliver"; Alan Arkin, "The Heart is a Lonely Hunter"; Kirk Douglas, "The Brotherhood"; Julian Mayfield, "Uptight"; Patrick McGouhan, "Ice Station Zebra"; Alan Bates, "The Fixer"; Charlton Heston, "Planet of the Apes."

The leaders: Robertson, Matthau, O'Toole.

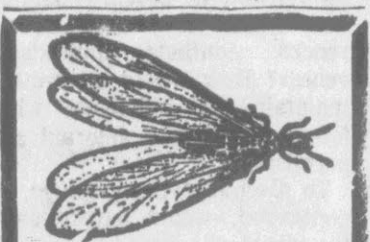

Best actress— The year saw a number of strong female performances, although the movies are predominantly a man's world. Katharine Hepburn is a good bet to win her second Oscar in a row for "The Lion in Winter." If she did, it would be the first time that a star has won three awards.

Providing strong contention are Joanne Woodward for "Rachel, Rachel"; Barbra Streisand, "Funny Girl"; Mia Farrow, "Rosemary's Baby" and "Secret Ceremony"; Patricia Neal, "The Subject Was Roses"; Vanessa Redgrave, "Isadora" and "The Seagull"; Beryl Reid and Susannah York in "The Killing of Sister George"; plus Anne Heywood, "The Fox"; Julie Andrews, "Star!"; and Joanna Shimkus, "Cita."

Best directors—

It looks like a warm race, with such possibilities as Anthony Harvey, "The Lion in Winter"; Paul Newman, "Rachel, Rachel"; William Wyler, "Funny Girl"; Stanley Kubrick, "001"; Carol Reed, "Oliver!"; John Frankenheimer, "The Fixer"; Franco Zeffirelli, "Romeo and Juliet"; Roman Polanski, "Rosemary's Baby"; Martin Ritt, "The Brotherhood"; John Cassavetes, "Faces"; Gene Saks, "The Odd Couple"; Jules Dassin, "Uptight"; Karel Reisz, "Isadora"; Sidney Lumet, "The Sea Gull"; Peter Yates, "Bullitt"; Ulu Grosbard, "The Subject Was Roses." At this early stage, the front-runner appears to be Anthony Harvey.

Some Warm-Ups, Then Tar Heels To Face UCLA

By MIKE BRYSON
A couple of warmup games—that could be a little hot—stand in the way of UCLA and North Carolina this week before what could be a climactic showdown for college basketball's No. 1 ranking.

The top-ranked Bruins and runner-up Tar Heels will compete in the New York Holiday Festival Tournament Christmas week, and if all goes according to form will collide in the championship game.

But first, UCLA, 3-0 and idle all last week, must get by a couple of home dates with Minnesota and West Virginia, a pair of teams boasting some early season success.

The Gophers, unbeaten since losing their opener, furnish the opposition Friday night, while West Virginia, winner of five in a row, tests the Bruins the next evening.

North Carolina, riding a four-game streak, ends a week layoff at Clemson, 1-1, tonight, then follows up by playing host to stubborn Virginia, 3-1, Tuesday night.

Meanwhile, Duke Coach Vic Bubas was still shaking his head today over a sudden reversal of success that undoubtedly will knock his ninth-ranked Blue Devils out of the ratings.

Duke breezed to victory in its first three games—but lost all three starts last week, including a 71-63 decision on its own court to once-beaten East Tennessee Saturday night.

Bubas, witnessing a team of his lose three straight for the first time in a decade labeled the Blue Devils' showing a disgrace.

Jess Willard Dies; Won And Lost Ring Title Amidst Controversies

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Jess Willard, the giant boxer who was The Great White Hope of those who wanted the world's heavyweight title taken from Negro champion Jack Johnson, is dead at 86.

Willard won the crown in one of history's greatest fights, now fictionalized in the Broadway play, The Great White Hope.

The 230-pound Willard lost his title four years later to Jack Dempsey. It was 45 years after that before boxing experts, studying films, acknowledged Willard's greatness.

He died Sunday in Pacoima Memorial Lutheran Hospital of a cerebral hemorrhage following treatment for a heart attack. His wife Hattie was by his side.

In 1911, at the age of 30, Willard began a boxing career from which he retired 12 years later.

Johnson was champion when Willard became a boxer, in Willard's words, because "everyone was looking for what they called a white hope."

On a hot day in 1915 in Havana, Cuba, Willard knocked out the 205½-pound Johnson in the 26th round of a scheduled 45-round match.

Controversy over the fight started five years later when Johnson, broke and living in Paris, sold a magazine article in which he claimed he took a dive in Havana.

On a hot day in 1915 in Havana, Cuba, Willard knocked out the 205½-pound Johnson in the 26th round of a scheduled 45-round match.

Controversy over the fight started five years later when Johnson, broke and living in Paris, sold a magazine article in which he claimed he took a dive in Havana.

Willard denied it. He said he beat Johnson "fair and square and knocked him out with a right hand punch."

When he lost the title to Dempsey in 1919 more controversy ensued. Again it was a broiling hot day—July 4 in Toledo, Ohio.

Willard, who had never been knocked off his feet, was floored by Dempsey seven times in the first round. By the fourth round, Willard, with a broken jaw and cheek bones, one eye closed, was unable to get off his stool.

Films showed that Dempsey stood over the fallen Willard and hit him before he could get to his feet.

"I'd say," commented Willard, "the referee didn't exactly give me the best of it."

All his life, Willard contended that Dempsey's gloves—or at least the left one which did all the damage—contained something more than the usual padding.

He blamed Dempsey's manager, the late Jack Kearns. Kearns joked off the accusation, telling The Associated Press: "Naw, I didn't use plaster of Paris on the bandages. It was cement."

The Willards had two sons, Jess Jr. and Alan, who live with their families in the metropolitan Los Angeles area.

Funeral arrangements are pending.

Delaware Brings Capable Team To Eastern Classic

By WOODY PEELE Reflector Sports Editor (Second in a series)

The University of Delaware's Blue Hens don't have much to be blue about this year. Going into Wednesday night's game with Bucknell, Delaware has posted a 3-1 record.

They have beaten West Chester, 81-62, downed Lafayette, 91-89 in four overtimes, beaten Lehigh, 67-45, and then suffered their first loss against Penn, 58-39.

The loss to Penn can be somewhat excused. It came right in the middle of a bout with the flu, and the Hens played the game with three of their starters in the infirmary instead of the gymnasium.

Two starters are back this year on the all junior starting five. They are 6-1 guard Jim Couch and 6-4 forward Loren Pratt. Couch so far is averaging 15.3 points per game, while Pratt has a 20.7 average.

Joining those two in the starting lineup are 6-4 Steve Jackson at one guard position, 6-7 Ed Roth at forward, and 6-6 John McMillen at center.

Jackson is the team's leading scorer with a 22.0 average, while Roth is hitting 15.0 and McMillen has a 3.7 mark. Coach Dan Peterson pointed out, however, that McMillen doesn't shoot much (only seven times in the first of three games).

"McMillen is rather inexperienced," the coach said. "He didn't play last year, and sat out most of his freshman year. So we just don't build our offense around him much. He is the leading rebounder, however, averaging 13.3 per game."

In the Penn game, McMillen had to carry most of the load. Jackson, Pratt and Couch all three were out of the lineup with the flu.

"We have five sophomores on the bench, and they've scored a total of nine points in three games between all of them. So you can see we don't rely on them much."

On defense, the Blue Hens like to go to a man-to-man, but can play a good zone if they are forced into it by foul trouble. Offensively, Delaware will use the single and double pivot and an open floor offense. "We're not the type of team who has much personnel," Peterson said. "We have to try and mix it up. We out-rebound our opponents fairly well, and we use a disciplined fast break. We look for the opportunity to run, but they'd better score on it or they'll hear from me."

Peterson said the team has worked hard to get a balance between offense and defense. "We're primarily a defensive club. We don't have the real tall men, so we look for a balance in scoring."

Delaware will be meeting Virginia Tech in their opening game in the Eastern Carolina Classic on December 26. "They're a real tough team," Peterson said. "They lost to Duke by only 11, so they just have to be good. They're probably the tournament favorite, but we want this type of experience and exposure, and I think it will be good for us to play in the Classic."

Bubas Suspects Duke Is Overrated

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

"We are playing terribly, but then we could be overrated," said Coach Vic Bubas after his ninth-rated Duke basketball team lost its third straight game, the first time it has happened in his 10 years as head coach.

Duke shot only 36.5 per cent from the floor in losing 71-63 to East Tennessee Saturday night. The game was a late addition to the Blue Devil schedule and was not listed in the Atlantic Coast Conference brochure.

"We have disgraced ourselves by the way we played tonight," Bubas said. "We have got to shake some things up, but I've got to give it some thought. Anyone who is critical of what we are doing would be absolutely right. I have told them (the players) to get ready for a ton or tons of criticism."

East Tennessee is strong this year, having lost only one of six games, to Mississippi Southern in the finals of a tournament in Hattiesburg, Miss.

The Blue Devils had been rated in the top 10 by virtue of their indicated pre-season strength and their three opening victories — over Virginia Tech, Alabama and Princeton. They now have lost to Michigan, Virginia and East Tennessee.

Surprising Virginia moved to the head of the class in the ACC by handing South Carolina its first defeat, 88-70, on a 76 per cent shooting average during the final half and control of the backboards. Virginia is 2-0 in the conference and 3-1 in all games. South Carolina is 2-1 and 3-1.

South Carolina's John Ribcock on a chin-to-chin word battle between coaches Frank McGuire of South Carolina and Bill Gibson of Virginia, but both coach-and Virginia's Norm Carmichael were ejected early in the game for slugging. This brought es were allowed to stay on.

North Carolina State also lost its first game of the season, 77-62 to Indiana at Bloomington, Ind. The Hoosiers flew to a 20-point lead early in the second half.

Wake Forest, which has lost only one game, made Maryland its fourth victim, 95-87, aided by a 23-point performance by Jerry Montgomery and 15, all in the first half, by fellow backcourt man, Charlie Davis. Davis played only three minutes in the second half before he fouled out.

Mickey Wiles scored 19 points for the Terrapins, who fell to the bottom on a 0-2 conference record. They are 1-4 in all games. Wake Forest is 1-1 in the conference.

Second-ranked North Carolina and Clemson open their conference season this week. North Carolina State doesn't play a conference game until it meets Virginia in Greensboro on Jan.

3. Clemson, 1-1, is at North Carolina, 4-0, in tonight's only game.

Tuesday — George Washington at Maryland, Virginia at North Carolina, Wake Forest at William and Mary.

Wednesday — East Carolina at South Carolina.

Thursday — Clemson at Alabama, Virginia in Virginia Invitational at Salem.

Friday — Maryland in Marshall Invitational at Huntington, W. Va.; Duke vs. Wake Forest at Greensboro; N. C. State in Vanderbilt Invitational in Nashville, Tenn.; South Carolina vs. Davidson at Charlotte; Virginia in Virginia Invitational.

Saturday — Maryland in Marshall Invitational; Clemson vs. Auburn in Birmingham, Ala.; N. C. State in Vanderbilt Invitational; Virginia in Virginia Invitational.

FCIC Notices Due By December 31

Policyholders with the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation holding contracts on cotton, peanuts, soybeans, and corn in 1968 will have until December 31 to give signed and written notice to discontinue such contracts for 1969 or the policies will be continued for next year according to Julian Mann, State Director of FCIC.

The FCIC has the same privilege of discontinuance except that contracts will be terminated for non-payment of 1968 premiums.

The amount of guarantees for cotton in 1969 and the premium cost will be the same as they were in 1968.

The peanut contracts for 1969 are about the same as they were in 1968. There will be an increase of a few dollars in guarantees and the premium rates per acre will be a few cents up in some counties and a few cents less in others.

FCIC protection on soybeans will be considerably higher in most counties in 1969 than in 1968 with premium costs up fifty cents or less per acre. Guarantees will be up as much as 35 percent in some counties.

Considerably higher guarantees on corn will prevail in Beaufort, Pamlico, and Washington counties than was the case this year, provided that growers will use sufficient nitrogen, have adequate plant populations, and seed their land by certain planting dates. The minimum amount of nitrogen and plant population, as well as the latest planting dates, will be furnished by FCIC personnel and county offices over the State where corn insurance is available. Hyde and Nash counties have had the privilege of these higher guarantees in the past. Pamlico and Washington counties can elect a maximum of $1.20 per bushel for payment of claims and determination of premiums in 1969, compared with $1.40 this year. All counties in which corn is offered can select $.80, $1.00, or $1.20 next year.

In 1969 insurance will be offered on cotton, corn, and soybeans for the first time in Anson and Union counties. Protection will be available on corn and soybeans for the first time in Pitt and Robeson counties.

Information will be available later on tobacco protection next year since discontinuance date is January 31 for this crop.

Voted Against Larger Council

GREENSBORO (AP) — Greensboro voters have defeated one plan to widen representation on the city council, but the effort apparently will continue.

At present there are seven council members, all elected at large, and a city manager. A proposal for a 12-ward system was voted down 12,176-5,552 Saturday.

In the pre-election debate, the chief argument against the present system was that the affluent, predominantly white northwest section of the city dominated the council.

Even opponents of the proposal voted down issued post-election statements calling for a new effort to widen representation, probably through a modified ward system.

The 12-ward system was opposed primarily on the ground that it would need amendment to assure continuation of a career executive — the city manager — and part-time policy-making elected officials.

Tobacco

Tips

By S. J. WEEKS
Pitt County Tobacco Agent

Agricultural Extension Agent
During the past few years, the tobacco farmers have not received as much net profit from their tobacco crops as was received in earlier years, for example 1951-1960. One reason for this is that the production costs have increased more rapidly than the prices received for the cured leaf.

If we were to single out one production cost that is causing the largest reduction in profits, labor cost would be close to the top of the list.

New innovations in tobacco mechanization are being introduced each year. These innovations will help reduce the labor requirements, but not enough to counteract the high labor cost enough to bring the margin of profit back in line.

There are some management alternatives that should be considered on many farms what will help increase the margin of profit. Listed below are some of the practices that can be used:

1. Crop rotation, (2) Variety selection, (3) selection of nutrient source, (4) replanting, (5) number of leaves produced per acre, (6) chemical sucker control, (7) harvesting at proper maturity stage, and (8) application of insecticides on a needed basis. Most of these practices will require little or no additional investment.

There are also some alternatives that require investment that have a high probability of being profitable.

I will be glad to discuss any of these alternatives in more detail with you upon request.

Two Injured In Sunday Collision

Two persons were reported injured in a 3:20 p.m. collision yesterday on Cotanche Street, 25 feet north of the 14th Street intersection.

Officers said vehicles involved in the mishap were driven by George Hilton Brannon, 37, of Greenville, and Judy Carolyn Little, 21, of 1009 West Wright Rd. Both drivers were reported injured in the mishap.

Damage to the Brannon car was set at $450 while damage to the Little vehicle was placed at $400.

Miss Little was charged with failing to see her intended movement could be made in safety.

Give someone a nice habit for Christmas.

Kids don't think much about saving money. You have to give them a nudge. And a nice way to give them a nudge is to give them a start.

It doesn't take much. Just a small amount in a savings account can mean a lot to them.

Maybe they'll add to it on their birthday.

And when Uncle Ed gives them a little something, just for being nice.

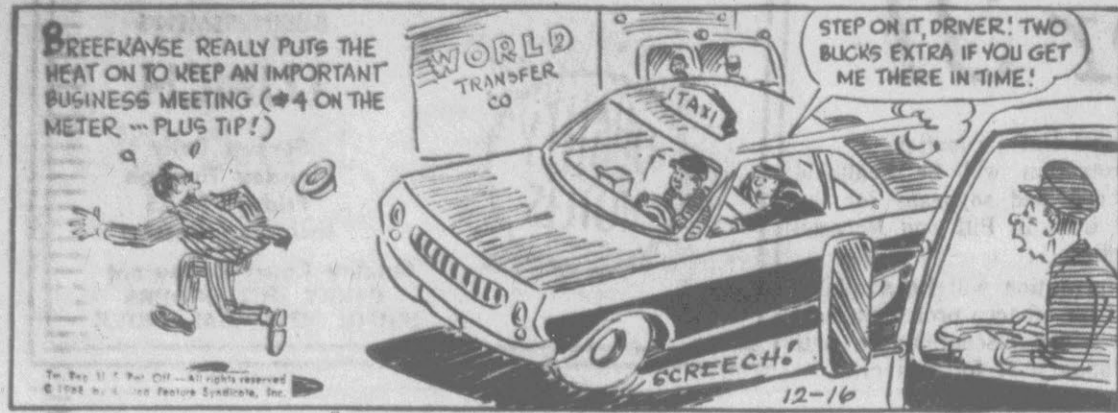

And when they're rewarded for a good report card.

And so on, until, first thing you know, they've got the habit of saving money.

And a habit like that, at an early age, is about as nice a Christmas gift as we can think of.

Two Dots On The Map For Raleigh

RALEIGH (AP) — The City of Raleigh today became the only municipality in North Carolina with two dots on the map. Under a "satellite city" law enacted by the 1967 General Assembly, Raleigh annexed two new subdivisions today which will be a little city unto themselves, located two miles north of the city limits of Raleigh proper.

Limited Edition Of Pierce Novel Printed By Smiley

A limited paperback edition of the novel, "The Plantation," by East Carolina University writer in residence Ovid W. Pierce has been printed by ECU librarian Wendell W. Smiley. Smiley's private printing of the book, which was first copyrighted in 1951 by Southern Methodist University Press, was arranged by special permission of the author and Doubleday and Co. "The Plantation" was published in a hardback edition by Doubleday in 1953 and is now out of print. Two hundred copies of the novel were printed and are currently on sale at the ECU Student Supply Store. Smiley, noting the scarcity of copies of the book, said his edition was published "as a service, to make the novel available to libraries and to the public." Any profits gained from sale of the book, he noted, will go to the university. The book, which won widespread critical claim, was Pierce's first.

The Worry Clinic Marriage Foundation Has Rate Of Success

Rabbi Grossman is typical of the 2,000 dedicated clergymen Counsellors who have volunteered to help produce happy marriages via the computer method of the Scientific Marriage Foundation. Its thousands of happy marriages include many where half-orphaned kiddies are now delighted to have two parents once more!

By GEORGE W. CRANE
Ph. D., M. D.

CASE H-561: Rabbi Herman Grossman of Pottstown, Pennsylvania, offers some very wise advice in his essay in the JEWISH EXPONENT.

"If marriages are made in heaven," Rabbi Grossman begins, "they are consummated on earth. "If the Almighty is occupied in making marriages. He welcomes the cooperation of human beings. "Jewish tradition calls these the 'partners of the Almighty.' "Jewish tradition has assigned an honorable place to the matchmaker. "The Shadhan was a classic type in Jewish folklore but today he has virtually disappeared. "But modern science has blessed us with an alternative—the computer!"

Then Rabbi Grossman outlined the advantages of the Scientific Marriage Foundation, of which he is one of the 2,000 dedicated, volunteer Counsellors. Since this is strictly an interfaith, non-profit charitable foundation, it merits wide support.

Jewish, Catholic and Protestant clergymen serve as the local or "grass roots" Counsellors and interview every applicant.

Then these clergymen mail their report to the Home Office and either reject or recommend the applicant.

In the latter case, an IBM card is punched for use on the computer.

This card is retained permanently, so if a suitable member of the opposite sex is not available at once, the card may be run through the computer each week, hoping that a new applicant will ultimately prove O.K.

The computer merely matches 2 people on 10 compatible counts, so it serves as a scientific "blind date" medium, leaving the development of the actual romance to the couple after they meet.

READER'S DIGEST and other leading magazines, plus newspapers and radio or TV stations, generously have "plugged" for this organization, since its goal is to create happy marriages and thus reduce the divorce rate.

Every applicant pays a modest $25 lifetime registration fee. This doesn't even finance the bare operation of the service, so other philanthropic Americans make up the deficits.

By contrast, certain commercial "Introduction Services" charge $250 for a 6-months' registration, plus an additional $100 for each extra 6 months.

And they may guarantee their women applicants 3 dates.

But they often keep a "stable" of gigolo males who take these women to 3 dinner and theater dates, but the gigolos may be married so they are obviously not prospects for marriage!

Even so, these commercial "Introductory Services" and some of the college computer projects occasionally produce happy marriages.

But the Scientific Marriage Foundation offers these extra advantages:

(1) All applicants are personally interviewed by a local clergyman Counsellor, who also checks with their 3 references;

(2) All members receive continuing advice and literature to help them improve their personalities, whether or not they get married;

(3) The lifetime fee is but $25 in contrast to $250 or more elsewhere;

(4) No dates are guaranteed so you are not introduced to already married gigolos or gold diggers (no financial date are ever mentioned);

(5) The divorce rate is almost nil (0.1 of one percent, in contrast to well over 25 percent for the nation at large).

If you know of any eligible person wishing a chance to widen his prospects for happy marriage, send a long stamped, return envelope, plus 20 cents, for the "Scientific Marriage Questionnaire."

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

Pet Horned Owl, Age 12, Dies

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP) — 02, a horned owl called the most loved bird in Pennsylvania after being petted by an estimated 135,000 persons in 10 years at Washington Crossing State Park, died here Sunday.

The owl was owned by Dr. Paul H. Fluck, who directed the nature education center at the state park. "02" was shot early in his 12 years of life and was unable to fly.

"He thinks that all people do is go around petting owls because he's never seen them do anything else," Fluck once said.

Fluck brought the owl to the Lakeland area about three weeks ago and toured Polk County schools with 02 perched on his shoulder during nature education talks.

Stengel Reports He 'Feels Fine'

GLENDALE, CALIF. (AP) — "I'm all right now," says Casey Stengel after being treated at Gendale Memorial Hospital for injuries suffered in a traffic accident. "I feel fairly good. I've just got a slight abrasion on my eye. But I really feel fine."

The 78-year-old former manager of the New York Yankees and Mets was injured Wednesday. Police said his and another car collided. The other driver, Elsie Rickey, 27, suffered knee injuries but was not hospitalized.

Stengel was released from the hospital Saturday.

Found Purse In Her Milkbox

FARMINGTON, Conn. (AP) — A Farmington housewife found a surprise in her milkbox last week. Tucked alongside the milk was a purse she had lost when it fell out of her car.

A note attached explained that a Lincoln Dairy deliveryman Parker Kendall, making rounds in Hartford early in the morning found the purse and turned it in at the dairy office. There an employee noticed the owner was a customer.

ON THE MATTER OF THE ADOPTION OF RESOLUTION BY THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF GREENVILLE, NORTH CAROLINA CLOSING A SECTION OF CAROLINA STREET

Pursuant to the provisions of Chapter 153, Section 9, Subsection 17, of the General Statutes of North Carolina, notice is hereby given that the City Council of the City of Greenville, North Carolina, will hold and conduct a public hearing on the 9th day of January, 1969, at eight o'clock p.m. in the Council Room of the Municipal Building in Greenville, North Carolina, for the purpose of the adoption of a resolution closing the following portion of Carolina Street, to wit:

Living and being situated in the City of Greenville, North Carolina, and being all of that portion of Carolina Street described as follows: Beginning at the northeast corner of Albemarle Avenue and Carolina Street and running thence in an easterly direction, with the northerly line of Carolina Street, a distance of 50 feet, more or less, to a point in the westerly right of way line of the Atlantic Coast Railroad (now Seaboard Coast Line Railroad) right of way running thence in a southerly direction, with the westerly right of way line of the aforesaid right of way, 50 feet, more or less, to the northeasterly corner of Lot 19, Block C, as shown on the hereinafter referred to map running thence in a westerly direction, with the southerly line of Carolina Street, 132 feet, more or less, to the southeasterly intersection of Albemarle Avenue and Carolina Street; running thence in a northerly direction, a straight line, 50 feet, more or less, to the point of beginning. Further, reference is hereby made and directed to map of the Mumford & Higgs Property as per map of record in Map Book 1, page 106, Pitt County Registry.

Notice of this public hearing will be given to all adjoining owners siting that portion of Carolina Street asked to be closed and who have not joined in the petition requesting same. Further, all citizens interested in this matter are requested to be present at the aforesaid public hearing and at which time they will be heard.

This 6 day of December, 1968.
W. N. Moore
Clerk, City of Greenville
North Carolina

Stock And Market Reports

RALEIGH (AP)—(NCDA)—North Carolina hog markets today were 25 to 50 cents higher. Tops of 18.50-19.00 at Siler City and Denton; 18.00 - 18.50 at Rocky Mount; 17.75 - 18.25 at Bethel; 18.50 at Greensboro; 18.00 at Salisbury.

RALEIGH (AP)—(NCDA)—The North Carolina poultry market today was steady. Price of live poultry at the farms was 11-12½, mostly 12 cents per pound.

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market remained higher early this afternoon but backed away from its best level made in the morning. Trading was fairly active.

Gains outnumbered losses by about 140 issues as the session wore on into the afternoon, trimming a 200-point margin shown earlier.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up .37 at 982.16, having trimmed a gain of 1.93.

The market advanced at the start as the momentum of Friday's brisk rally pushed prices higher, and there was little in the weekend news to discourage investors. On the other hand, as the hours passed there was not much to stimulate more-active buying. Published forecasts tended to be contradictory.

Steels were a bit higher on balance, but motors were scrambled with Chrysler down more than a point. Several specially situated issues enlivened trading interest.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon held a thin gain of .2 at 368.6 with industrials up .3, rails off .4 and utilities up .2.

General Motors eased, although its announced plans to raise its capital outlays by 22 per cent next year to $1.1 billion was believed generally bullish. GM also forecast slightly lower industry sales, however.

Anacoda jumped 2½ points in a move linked with a favorable cover story in a financial magazine (Forbes).

Youngstown Sheet jumped nearly 3 points, following a report that Lykes Corp. was attempting to accumulate 2.5 million shares of Youngstown. Lykes tacked on a point.

Intruders Broke In School Units

The home economics building and two mobile classroom units at Chicod School were entered during the weekend.

Sheriff Ralph Tyson said the intruders broke windows to gain entrance. Nothing was reported missing.

Community Notes

Vote Recount Is Slow Process

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—More than eight per cent of the ballots already recounted in Oregon's U.S. Senate race have been challenged and, as a result, observers say it may be Christmas before the recount is complete.

No significant change has emerged in the recount requested by Democrat Wayne Morse, a senator for 24 years who lost by a margin of 3,445 votes to Republican Robert Packwood.

Reports Theft Of Young Calf

A Black Angus calf, born last Wednesday, was reported stolen from Paul Whitley of Box 11, Grifton over the weekend.

Whitley's farm is located about six miles east of Grifton. The sheriff's department is investigating.

Oil was first discovered in the Netherlands in 1944.

High Court Rules Out Draft 'Vindictiveness'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Draft boards may not use "delinquency" regulations to take away the exemptions of divinity students and groups of other young men shielded from the draft by Congress, the Supreme Court ruled 6 to 3 today.

At the same time, however, the court held that draft registrars who do not have a congressional exemption must—in order to test their 1-A classifications—chance prosecution for draft evasion.

The first ruling, protecting exempted young men from forced induction if draft boards disapprove of their behavior, was given in the case of James J. Oestereich, a ministerial student at Andover-Newton Theological School, Newton Center, Mass.

Oestereich, of Cheyenne, Wyo., was one of 357 people who returned their draft cards to the Justice Department in a protest Oct. 10, 1967, against U.S. war action in Vietnam. Three weeks later he was declared a delinquent, stripped of his IV-D theological exemption and put into 1-A.

The court, in a decision delivered by Justice William O. Douglas, declared that Congress had made divinity students draft exempt and that Oestereich was entitled to a chance to contest his reclassification in court.

That is, the court said, he did not have to refuse the draft, chancing a jail term, to get a ruling.

Besides, Douglas said, exempt young men cannot be declared delinquent and pushed up to the 1-A slot for activity that has nothing to do with the functioning of the Selective Service system.

Draft boards, he said, cannot make themselves "free wheeling agencies meting out their brand of justice in a vindictive manner."

In the Oestereich situation, Douglas said, "We deal with conduct of a local board that is basically lawless."

Cold Front Hit Eastern N. C.

Relatively warm temperatures in the Greenville area Saturday gave way to a cold front that dumped .32 of an inch of rain in Greenville Saturday and sent temperatures falling.

According to the Greenville Utilities Commission weather station, the low temperature today was set at 5 a.m. when the mercury dropped to the 21 degree mark. At 10 a.m. the temperature stood at 32 degrees and the wind was from the northwest at 12 to 15 miles per hour.

Sunday, the high temperature was reached at 12 noon when the mercury stood at 39 degrees. Low for the day was set at 11 p.m. when the temperature stood at 25 degrees.

Saturday was a relatively warm day. At noon the temperature was 60 degrees. Low for the day was reported at 39 degrees.

Rainfall Saturday totaled .32 of an inch. No rain was recorded Sunday.

The Tar River level at mid-morning today stood at 2.2 feet.

Man Jailed For Theft Of Copper Tubing In Pitt

A man has been charged with the theft of copper tubing from tobacco barns on two farms during the weekend.

Sheriff Ralph Tyson said Whit Salisbury, 55 year old Negro of Rt. 1, Box 354, Tarboro is in Pitt County Jail under $500 bond on charges of larceny.

Floyd P. Harris, whose farm is on N. C. 43, reported that copper tubing was taken from ten barns. The value was set at $300.

Jimmy O. Whichard of Rt. 6, Box 13, Greenville reported tubing was missing from six barns. Total value was $180.

The sheriff said the tubing was recovered from a junk dealer where it had been sold for $28. The tubing had been cut up.

CAP Squadron Meets Tonight

The Greenville squadron of the Civil Air Patrol will meet tonight at 7:30 in Room 132 of the ROTC section of Austin.

USAF Lt. Ira Witham will conduct the class program.

Lt. Walter E. Briley, commander of the local unit, urged all members to be present and in uniform.

Vending Machine Coins Stolen

Approximately $10 in change was reported taken from a soft drink vending machine at Craft Machine Shop in Farmville over the weekend.

The theft was reported by Jim Craft, the sheriff's department reported.

Twelve Died In Michigan Fires

KALAMAZOO, Mich. (AP)—Twelve persons, 10 of them children died in a fiery gas explosion over the weekend.

A mother and her three children died in a fiery gas explosion which blew their home apart Sunday on Kalamazoo's South Side.

Five children perished in a Saturday fire on Detroit's West Side.

Other victims included a 2-year-old boy, Joey Bincsik, once rescued by his parents, who broke loose and ran back into his burning home in Lapeer County. His body later was found under a bed.

The parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bincsik, were awakened by the fire and managed to escape through a picture window with Joey and two brothers before Joey darted back inside.

A 14-month-old child, Charlene Downum, succumbed in a Saturday night Detroit blaze blamed on a defective heater at her home, and Alex Lin, 11, of the Upper Peninsula community of Gwin was fatally burned in a fire that destroyed his home Saturday night.

The United States was first in world copper production in 1967 with 22.47 per cent of the supply, while Chile was second with 17.27 per cent.
