Minor Snag For Countdown Of Apollo 8 Craft

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The lengthy Apollo 8 countdown hit its first technical snag today, but it was a minor one and was not expected to affect Saturday's planned blastoff of three astronauts toward an orbit around the moon.

The problem cropped up as the launch crew prepared to pipe supercold liquid hydrogen into the three fuel cells that will produce electricity for Apollo 8. A valve in the pumping system did not respond and had to be replaced.

A spokesman for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration said the problem delayed the fueling operation about four hours. He noted, however, that several aspects of the countdown, which started Sunday, were ahead of schedule and there was plenty of time to make up for time lost because of the faulty valve.

The spokesman said the launch team expected to catch up during a planned built-in hold of more than five hours, scheduled this afternoon before the so-called terminal countdown starts at 8:51 p.m. This is one of six such periods worked into the countdown to handle such contingencies.

During flight, the fuel cells combine liquid hydrogen, at a temperature of 423 degrees below zero, and liquid oxygen, at 297 below, to produce electricity and a byproduct of water for astronaut drinking.

The three astronauts who will fly the mission slowed their rugged training pace as Saturday's launch neared. They climbed into a spacecraft trainer in the morning and planned to huddle with launch officials in the afternoon.

Air Force Col. Frank Borman, Navy Capt. James A. Lovell Jr. and Air Force Maj. William A. Anders are to ride the awesome power of a Saturn 5 superrocket into space at 7:51 a.m. EST Saturday.

If all goes well, they'll orbit the moon for 20 hours at Christmas-time, paving the way for other astronauts to land next year.

The trio Wednesday night watched the fiery blastoff of a Delta rocket and probably expressed a wish that their Saturn 5 works as well. The Delta performed perfectly and hurled a communications satellite into orbit.

Lovell and Anders also spent a few hours with their wives, who flew here by private plane Wednesday from their homes near Houston, Tex.

Marilyn Lovell brought the four Lovell children with her, and they plan to remain here to watch the Apollo 8 launching. The children are Barbara, 15; James, 13; Susan, 10, and Jeffrey, 2.

Valerie Anders returns today to Houston, where she and Susan Borman will watch the blastoff of the Saturn 5 on television.

"I'm excited about the flight and looking forward to it," Mrs. Lovell said. "I think it's a fascinating thing."

The astronauts planned several meetings today with experts to discuss the flight procedures.

They'll be watching closely Friday when the terminal countdown begins. During this period, many vital operations will occur, including the pumping of tons of liquid hydrogen, liquid oxygen and kerosene into the mammoth fuel tanks of the 36-story-tall Saturn 5, the most powerful rocket ever built.

After the rocket hurls the three astronauts to the vicinity of the moon, they will act as explorers, geologists, photographers, physicists and navigators. And Lovell probably will have some fleeting thoughts of a family man as the spacecraft zips over a lunar mountain he has unofficially named "Mount Marilyn" for his wife.

"The reason for us going around the moon has been justified on the basis that this will teach us how to operate in this environment—how to communicate, how to track, how to determine the position of the spacecraft," said Anders, Apollo 8's systems expert and chief lunar photographer.

Families Plan Celebrate Return Of Captive Men

CHARLOTTE (AP) — The families of two soldiers from North Carolina and Virginia who are being released from Cambodia had reconciled themselves to a bleak Christmas without the men.

Now, however, Christmas will come when the men arrive home—even if it is later than Dec. 25.

The soldiers are Sgt. Floyd A. Wilmoth of Yadkinville and Spec. 4 Harley M. Cassell Jr. of Danville, Va., whose father lives in Charlotte.

They were among 11 American soldiers and a South Vietnamese captured last July when their river patrol boat strayed into Cambodian waters. The Cambodian government announced Wednesday the men will be released immediately.

"I still can't believe it," said Wilmoth's wife. "I just couldn't believe it when a friend heard it on the radio this morning. And then his picture was on the television news."

"I had bought us a Christmas present we both could use—a portable typewriter — because I didn't want to buy him something and have to see it go unopened on Christmas morning," she said. "That would just break our hearts."

The Wilmoths have four children ranging in age from four to 11. The youngest child received the news with her mother but the other three children were in school.

"As soon as I get the word from the Army I'm going right down to the school to tell them and everybody else," Mrs. Wilmoth laughed.

"My family from Arkansas is coming over next week and this will be a reunion to end all reunions," she said. "I don't know what I'll cook. Yes I do. I'll cook whatever he wants me to cook. We'll have Christmas when he gets here."

Wilmoth is a career Army man with 15 years service. Mrs. Wilmoth said her husband probably will remain in the Army another five years. He is 34.

The parents of the 22-year-old

Cassell, a draftee, are divorced. His mother, a mill worker, lives in Danville. His father, Harley Cassell Sr., a carpenter, has remarried and lives in Charlotte.

"I'm going out and buy the boy the biggest steak he, or anybody else, ever saw," said Cassell, who heard the news on the radio. "I'm going to take the steak and freeze it."

"Then," he added, "I'm going to set aside what's left for a Christmas present for Harley."

The elder Cassell said he was a prisoner of war in Germany in World War II, adding, "And I know what he's felt over there. You sit there and you wonder if you ever will see the United States again and it's a lousy feeling," he added.

Cassell's former wife said the release of her son, "is the finest Christmas present I'll ever have. Thank the Lord for answering our prayers. We'll have a special Christmas now that he's coming home."

The younger Cassell is unmarried. But some bad news awaits him: A favorite aunt—his father's sister—died Sunday in Virginia.

"I hate to tell him about that," said his father.

Ethel Kennedy Has Named Baby

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ethel Kennedy told a news conference at Georgetown University Hospital today she has named her 11th child Rory Elizabeth Catherine.

Accompanied by Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, brother of her late husband, Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, Mrs. Kennedy walked to the end of a hospital corridor jam-packed with newsmen, curious hospital employees and others to make the announcement before leaving the hospital.

U.S. Tells Hanoi Attack On Saigon Could End Pause In Bombing Of North Vietnam

PARIS (AP) — The United States has told North Vietnam that a Viet Cong attack on Saigon could bar serious peace talks and cause a resumption of the bombing of the North, the North Vietnamese said today.

The North Vietnamese informants reported this after a secret session with U.S. negotiators apparently failed to break the long deadlock over how to start an expanded conference on ending the war.

America's Cyrus R. Vance and Hanoi's Ha Van Lau traded charges and repeated their past rival proposals for conference table shape designs and other procedural items still in dispute, the North Vietnamese said.

Diplomats in close touch with developments agreed that the two deputy chiefs of their delegations had made no progress at their session, the first since last Friday.

The no-progress outcome of the private session—the fifth between the two conference procedures—left in doubt when there might be an opening of the conference that President Johnson once announced would begin Nov. 6.

Johnson's Nov. 1 order to stop U.S. bombing of North Vietnam was part of a package arrangement supposed to lead to an expanded peace parley but the rival diplomats have yet to agree on procedures.

A North Vietnamese communiqué said Vance called today's session and that he repeated "old American propositions concerning the conference table, the order of speakers according to the U.S. conception of the conference as two-sided."

"At the same time," the Hanoi delegation statement continued, "Mr. Vance said there was information that the armed forces of the South Vietnamese National Liberation Front (the Viet Cong) are preparing to attack Saigon."

Vance declared that if this happens, "it would create a situation such that it would be impossible to carry on serious talks and to continue the halt in bombing of North Vietnam."

Prices Steadied

LONDON (AP) — President-elect Nixon's backing of the effect U.S. gold price of $35 an ounce steadied Europe's bullion and foreign exchange markets today.

The price of gold eased off Wednesday's six-month high in European markets, and the dollar strengthened in the foreign exchanges.

David Kennedy, who is to be Nixon's treasury secretary, refused at a news conference in Washington Tuesday to commit the new administration to defending the official price. His comments touched off speculation the price might rise.

Old Socialist Norman Thomas Dies; Aged 84

HUNTINGTON, N.Y. (AP) — Norman Thomas, six times Socialist candidate for president and throughout his life a prodder of the American conscience, died today. He was 84.

The announcement was made at the Hilaire Farm Nursing Home here by Mrs. Margaret Gottsegen, director of nursing.

the North Vietnamese said.

South Vietnamese Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky exploded again Wednesday night when newsmen asked him about Sen. George McGovern's remark that Ky is a "little thorn dictator" who wastes American tax funds in Paris and American blood in Vietnam.

Ky said he had been working very hard and, "You can imagine my problem—I have to fight not only the enemy but also my so-called friends."

"I would like those irresponsible people to shut their mouths," he said, adding that "at this difficult and delicate moment" Peking and Moscow are not criticizing the Hanoi delegation.

Death Sentence For Young Girl

TARBORO, N. C. (AP) — A 17-year-old girl was sentenced to death in Edgecombe County Superior Court today, even though the death penalty in North Carolina was ruled illegal early this month by a federal appeals court.

Judge George M. Fountain made no reference to the ruling when he sentenced Marie Hill of Rocky Mount, who had been convicted Wednesday of murdering and robbing a Rocky Mount grocer.

The girl's attorneys appealed. Fountain set the execution date as Jan. 3, but the appeal will delay this.

Miss Hill pleaded innocent of the first-degree murder charge. An all-male jury deliberated one hour before convicting her. The trial had lasted two days.

North Carolina's death penalty was ruled unconstitutional by the U.S. Fourth Circuit Court of Appeals in Richmond, Va.

The court held that the penalty is illegal because the law allows a person to plead guilty of a capital offense and escape the possibility of receiving the death penalty. The court said a defendant, therefore, is under duress to plead guilty.

Miss Hill was arrested Oct. 26 near Dillon, S. C., and charged with the slaying of 65-year-old W. E. Strum, operator of a neighborhood grocery store. He was struck on the head, shot twice and robbed of about $1,000 on Oct. 7, police said.

UNC Faculty Council Urges Recruit Negroes

CHAPEL HILL, N.C. (AP) — The University of North Carolina Faculty Council recommended today that the university actively recruit more Negro students.

The council, which is the elected body representing the entire faculty, released a report a committee has had under study for six months. It proposed:

—The university initiate centrally directed efforts to increase the proportion of Negro students in all parts of the university.

—First priority should be given to a "talent search" to find those Negro students who qualify under present admission standards.

—An experimental program to seek worthy students, either Negro or white, who do not meet admission standards.

"The aim should be to learn how to identify worth and well-motivated students, whatever their race, who by reason of cultural, economic or education disadvantages have had clearly adequate intellectual capacities stunted to the point that by regular admission standards they are inadmissible."

Moores To Live On In Raleigh

RALEIGH (AP)—Chances are Gov. Dan Moore and his wife will continue to live in Raleigh after his term expires Jan. 3.

Jerry Elliott, the governor's secretary, confirmed Wednesday that the Moores were apartment hunting in Raleigh. He said the governor will probably engage in some type of legal work when he leaves office.

are inadmissible."

The recommendations, which were presented to the council by a committee headed by Dean Dickson Phillips of the university Law School, also urged that Negro personnel be added to the admissions and the student aid offices with the rank of assistant director. It called for hiring of more Negro secretaries.

The council also recommended that the UNC chancellor appoint a member of the faculty or administrative staff "to act in respect to specific racial grievances involving Negro students and other members of the university community."

It also called for creation of a standing committee of the faculty "to provide continuing oversight and energy to the areas of concern covered in this report."

The report noted that UNC at Chapel Hill now has 107 Negro undergraduates, 148 Negro graduate students (including those enrolled in off-campus centers) one law student, five Negro medical students and no Negro dental students.

Six Shows

SEOUL (AP) — Comedian Bob Hope and his troupe, split into four groups, put on six shows today for a total of 12,000 troops just south of the Korean demilitarized zone north of the Imin River.

Hope, ferrying aboard a helicopter, appeared briefly at four different shows at the U.S. 2nd Infantry Division's forward posts and positions and made two extra unscheduled stops.

U.S. Steel Says New Price Boosts Slated

PITTSBURGH (AP) — U.S. Steel Corp., which usually sets the nation's steel price trends, say it will hike the cost of the industry's basic product early next month.

The 4 per cent increase, which will boost the price of semifinished carbon steel $5 a ton and semifinished alloy steel $7 a ton, is the largest in a series of adjustments in the industry.

In addition to semifinished steel, the giant producer said Wednesday it's raising the price of steel pilings $7 a ton.

Semifinished steel is sold to mills in rough forms called billets, blooms and slabs. The mills then roll these into virtually all steel products, rods, wires, sheets and strips.

U.S. Steel said the increase affects products that account for 4 per cent of total industry shipments, making them one of the biggest tonnage items.

It said the price hikes are intended to raise the company's revenues less than one-tenth of one per cent. The new prices, it said, will go into effect Jan. 2, 1969.

It was unknown how the rest of the industry would react to the move. Steel prices have been fluctuating since Bethlehem Steel, the nation's second largest producer, rocked the industry earlier this year with a 22 per cent cut on the price of hot rolled carbon sheet, mostly used for autos and construction.

U.S. Steel and most of the industry followed. But then U.S. Steel said it was restoring hot rolled sheets to the former price of $1.25 a ton. Bethlehem said it would go up on the price, but only to $118 a ton.

As other producers followed, U.S. Steel made an about face and said it wouldn't put its higher price into effect. The company said it wanted to wait for "further clarification of the competitive situation."

Planning Said Vital To Growth

RALEIGH (AP) — A study commission says proper planning "is absolutely necessary" to assure continued growth of North Carolina's economy.

The governor's Council for Economic Development recommended also that the state Planning Task Force be strengthened and its financial backing enlarged.

The council further proposed Wednesday that a statewide system of multi-county planning districts be created to which the state would lend financial support.

The districts would facilitate the coordination of long-range development programs throughout the state.

Gov. Dan Moore commended the council on its 21-page study. The council also recommended creation of a new division of community services and of councils on planning and development, human resources and natural resources.

The community services division would provide technical assistance to local governments.

The report said studies indicate it will be necessary to create approximately 46,000 non-farm jobs a year between now and 1975 to keep up with the labor force.

"If the relative per capita income of the state is to be increased," the report stated, "there must be substantial improvements in the industry-mix and the occupational structure."

To Ask Re-Hearing On Merger Petition

TARBORO — Carolina Telephone and Telegraph Company and United Utilities, Inc., will ask for a rehearing of the petition to merge the two companies, according to Carolina's president, H. Dale Holderness.

Yesterday the N.C. Utilities Commission denied and dismissed the joint petition for the merger of the two companies. While the Commission's order stated that "possible interest of the public would not be adversely affected by the proposed merger, North Carolina law requires competent, material, and substantial evidence that the public convenience and necessity require approval of the proposed merger."

The Commission contended that the evidence presented in the initial hearing was not adequate to justify the merger approval.

"We have no intention of abandoning the merger which was approved by the stockholders and boards of directors of both companies," Holderness said. "If the North Carolina Utilities Commission will grant us another hearing, we will be pleased to provide the additional documentation which apparently the Commission needs to meet the requirements of the state statute."

Kidnap Ransom Payment Plans Upset By Policeman

By FRANK MURRAY Associated Press Writer

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A suitcase stuffed with an estimated half million dollars in used $10 bills was dumped into Biscayne Bay here today in an abortive attempt to ransom kidnaped coed Barbara Jane Mackle.

A police officer, unaware of the ransom effort, tried to arrest two men during a gun-splattered pursuit. But they escaped, dropping the money-crammed suitcase.

Millionaire land developer Robert Mackle said shortly afterward his daughter had not yet been released by the kidnapers small boat.

One of the men, wearing a skindiving suit, recovered the money from the water. Then the 12-foot outboard boat with the name, "Whaler," painted on it put ashore in an expensive residential area just south of downtown Miami.

Two days earlier, Barbara was taken away, wearing a red and white nightgown, by a man with a shotgun and a young boy. The Emory College student was staying in a motel with her mother before returning to their Coral Gables Florida home for Christmas vacation.

Barbara's father is secretary-treasurer of Deltona Corporation, a $65 million home building and land development firm in Miami.

At about six a.m., Dade County Deputy Sheriff Paul S. Self and Miami policeman William Sweeney were sitting in their cars talking near the Brickell Avenue area.

"I saw this car that just didn't belong there," Self said.

Self and Sweeney said they saw two men walking to the car, which had Massachusetts license tags, from the direction of the water. One carried a duffel bag and the other the suitcase.

When the police approached the men, they ran, dropping the suitcase and duffel bag but hanging on to a carbine from which several shots were fired, Self said.

After the men escaped, the police found the suitcase was crammed with money and the duffel bag contained the wet-suit, frogman's fins, and a underwater face mask.

At the shore line the police found the abandoned boat.

Using helicopters and dogs, police combed a jungle area near Biscayne Bay where the two men were first spotted as they ran toward their car. The search flushed an unidentified hermit, about 55, who was taken into custody for questioning.

Police said the hermit, whom neighbors said had lived in the lush undergrowth for years living mostly on coconuts, had $500 in his possession.

"My first concern and the father's concern is the girl's safety," said Fox.

Patrolman Self said he had been unaware that an effort was underway to ransom the kidnaped girl. When Fox was asked if the FBI knew in advance or had told local police about the ransom, he said, "We'd prefer not to comment on that."

Teacher Says Eskimo Children Are Friendly

By ELINOR READING
CORAL HARBOR, Northwest Territories, (AP) — The Friday night movies are old; it's 10 miles by snowmobile to the Saturday night dance, and Jennifer Mills' Eskimo pupils often come visiting at 10:30 p.m.
 But the 23-year-old Montreal schoolteacher is hooked on teaching in the Northwest Territories. The pastel-painted classroom and its familiar primers might belong to any first grade in a southern city. But Coral Harbor's school year starts in August and ends in May so the boys can join their fathers for seal hunting before the ice breaks up in June. The community of about 300 is at the north edge of Hudson Bay.

School starts at 8:30 with cocoa, biscuits and chewable vitamin tablets for everyone.

The 2 children are in two grades: 7-year-olds doing the usual first grade lessons and 6-year-old "beginners" who spend their first year learning English.

"It's mostly done through pictures because you've got no other way of getting through to them," Miss Mills said.

Jennifer said Eskimo children are "far better behaved, really" than their southern counterparts.

"They're very good-natured children—very friendly. When I started last year with kindergarten in Baker Lake, they were just like my own children, hugging me, and wanting to come up and hold my hand."

Christmas Party To Be Held Saturday

Luncheon Honors Miss Midgett

GRIFTON — Mrs. Ernest Sylvant entertained at a luncheon on Saturday honoring Miss Robbie Jean Midgett, bride-elect. In the living and dining area small tables were placed covered with white linen outwork cloths with bridal placecards.

The bride-elect was remembered with a white carnation corsage and a gift from the hostess.

Guests included bridal attendants of the wedding.

Order Of Eastern Star Holds Annual Christmas Party Tues.

Greenville Chapter No. 149, Order of The Eastern Star, held its annual Christmas meeting Tuesday night at the Masonic Temple.

The meeting was opened in ritualistic form by James E. Smith, Worthy Patron, and presided over by Mrs. Jean K. Tharp, Worthy Mason. At the close of the business session a Christmas program was presented featuring the Three Wise Men.

Gifts were presented by Mrs. Tharp, W. M., on behalf of the Chapter, to Greenville's Grand Chapter Committee Members, Mrs. Blanche W. Jackson, Member of Music, Mrs. Margaret C. Gray, Member of Estari and Mrs. Pauline O. Mooney, State Chairman of Grand Chapter Scholarships.

Gifts were also presented to Mrs. Jennie A. Stokes and Mrs. Mary O. Ross, recognizing them as top saleswomen for the Chapter's fund raising project.

Mrs. Tharp, W. M., and James Smith, W. P., presented the Chapter with a new Broken Column for the station of Martha and an engraved silver candy dish.

The meeting was adjourned and the annual Christmas party for members and their families was held in the Sugg-Whitard dining room.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Sadie Wray Carrington, Mrs. Eula Mae Cannon and Mrs. Ruth H. Harris.

The refreshment table was covered with a white linen cloth and centered with a pedestal arrangement of native greenery, white poinsettias, green balls, reindeer and red candles. Gifts were exchanged by everyone present.

Mrs. Tharp, W. M. presented her 17 officers with hand-painted tree ornaments. The Chapter presented Mrs. Tharp, W. M., with two silver candelabras and James E. Smith, W. P., was the recipient of a gift certificate.

Christmas fruit baskets were displayed on a large side table. These baskets are to be delivered to all sick, disabled or shut-in Eastern Star members. A number of other shut-ins will be remembered with Christmas baskets also.

The Greenville Chapter has also contributed gifts to the local Mental Health Association to be distributed between Cherry Hospital in Goldsboro and The Caswell Training School in Kinston. These gifts contained cosmetic items and children's toys. A contribution from the Chapter has been made to the local Salvation Army in the form of a white Christmas basket of staple food goods to be given to a needy family at Christmas time.

A TV Show With A Happy Ending

PARIS (WNS) — Josiane Bastet, 28, a polio victim who cannot walk, appeared on French TV last December when she received a scholarship to study nerve cells that might kill polio virus. Louis Gauge, 30, a garage mechanic in Corsica, saw the program and came to Paris to woo "the girl of my dreams." Gauge proved his love by giving up his garage in Corsica and becoming an automobile executive in Paris so that he can pay for his fiancée's research. The pair will wed on December 18, the anniversary of the TV show that brought them together.

A bauble or fancy bird can be attached to the inside of another and a tassle hung from the lower rim. Use to decorate doorways, fireplaces, or to fame windows.

'Holiday House' Held On Sunday

GRIFTON — The home of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Cox was the setting Sunday for the "Holiday House" sponsored by the Grifton Garden Club.

Traditional colors of red and green, silver and gold were used throughout the lower floor of the house except in the den where a color scheme of white and green was used.

The front door featured a wreath of boxwood trimmed with sliced red enameled pinecones with the side railings of the porch in matching garlands, tied on each side with a red ribbon bow.

Mrs. Cox greeted guests in the foyer. The outside entrance theme was carried out with garlands of greenery entwined in the stair railing interspersed with red velvet birds. A willow tree on the second floor of the foyer held red velvet birds.

In the living room, a formal green Christmas tree was decorated with red velvet ornaments with gold trim. The mantel featured a gold leaf framed mirror with a gold swag, with red tapers in brass holders.

In the dining room, the table was overlaid with a cutwork cloth centered with an arrangement of red carnations in a silver bowl.

The buffet featured a silver service with red tapers burned in a four branched silver candelabra trimmed with red net and a red velvet bow with streamers.

In the music room, a religious theme was carried out with an open Bible with a red and green velvet marker. The piano held a green velvet sleigh pulled by red velvet reindeer. During the afternoon Christmas carols were played by Mrs. W. T. Cox of Mt. Olive, mother of Mrs. Cox.

In the breakfast room, where refreshments were served the table was covered with a white net cloth decorated with green felt sequined trimmed Christmas trees over blue.

The den featured a green wreath with a red velvet bow hung on the brick of the cathedral ceiling fireplace. Noted on the credenza, where guests were asked to register, as a miniature Christmas tree. The coffee table held an arrangement of boxwood and red velvet grapes in a white compote. Standing in front of the sliding glass doors was a traditional green Christmas tree trimmed in all white ornaments, roping and tiny lights.

Frederick Cox greeted guests in the den and said the good-byes to approximately 150 guests.

Baggy Story Told Police

FRANCONVILLE, France (WNS) — Elisabeth Di Nola, 24, took the train from Marseilles to Paris with her three-year-old daughter Rose Marie and one large suitcase. One stranger on the train helped her put her bag on the rack over her head, and another helped her take it down in Paris. This happened again when Mrs. Di Nola and her daughter took a second train from Paris to Franconville. Arrived at her father's house, the French mother opened her bag and found that it contained a machine gun, two automatic revolvers, lots of ammunition and a black dress that was not hers. Police are looking for the gang to whom this identical bag belongs, and Mrs. Di Nola is pleading with them to find her clothes.

Coed Was Socked By College Man

BRUSSELS, Belgium (WNS) — Monique Berri, a 20-year-old coed, called the police when college man Robert Roder suddenly kissed her on one cheek, then slapped her on the other. Roder pointed out that she was wearing an American T-shirt that said, "Sock It To Me." Miss Berri explained that she did not know a word of English, and Roder admitted that he did not quite know the meaning of "sock" either.

Winning Deal Almost Ended

COLOGNE, Germany (WNS) — Ursula Schoener 39, has finally cured her husband of staying out with the boys and coming home drunk at midnight. "We made a deal that I could buy a new hat whenever he misbehaved," Frau Schoener explained. She now has a wardrobe of 37 hats but has not had occasion to buy a new one in months.

Taken For Ride By This Year's Model

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: I am a 47-year-old eligible man who is very much interested in a beautiful 26-year-old model. She has two children and her divorce (for which I am paying) is now pending.

I bought her a new car and have spent over $2,000 on clothes for her and her children in the last 6 months. She says she will marry me when her divorce is final, but in the meantime, I don't see much of her.

She sees me every Monday night, but on Tuesdays she sees an old boyfriend she says she is letting down easy. On Wednesdays she has to go out with her boss. On Thursday she goes out with the girls. On Friday she stays home and does her laundry, and the week ends she lets her husband come over (against the orders of his lawyer) because he misses the kids.

My friends say I am being taken for a ride. Am I?

LAKE FOREST
DEAR LAKE: Not only are you being taken for a ride, you'll be lucky if you aren't killed in the traffic.

DEAR ABBY: I have an uncle who is getting on in years. He has made a lot of money during his lifetime and has spent very little of it. He's a self-made man and never finished grammar school so we know he's not got any college to leave his money to. Also, he's not a church-type, so they aren't getting any.

What I am getting at is this: I know he has a will because he mentions from time to time that he has "changed" it. I don't want to ask any questions of him or the lawyer, but how can I find out how much he will leave when he goes?

RELATIVE
DEAR RELATIVE: I can tell you. He will leave it ALL.

DEAR ABBY: My father-in-law (I'll call him "Papa Joe") has been making his home with us every since my mother-in-law died 2 years ago.

I am by nature the affectionate type and think nothing of kissing relatives hello and goodbye. Yesterday when I came home from marketing I gave Papa Joe a little peck on the cheek like always. He grabbed me and said he didn't want THAT kind of kiss. Well, this floored me because he is 65 and I am 27. I told him that it was the only kind of kiss he was going to get from me, then he tried to force me to kiss him on the lips. I was petrified. Fortunately, he heard my husband's car pull into the carport, so he let me go.

ABBY, my father-in-law is retired and is home a lot, and now I don't want to be alone in the house with him. He begged me not to tell his son, but I feel so uncomfortable around the old man now I wish he would move. But what excuse can I give my husband? Should I tell him the truth: Papa Joe could afford to live alone if he wanted to, and he has other children he could live with. Please advise me soon.

FRIGHTENED
DEAR FRIGHTENED: Tell Papa Joe that he has one week to tell his son that he is moving out, and if he doesn't you will be forced to tell him that you no longer want his father living there. And, why?

BEVERLY: I agree, a man should be particular, but looking for a long time doesn't necessarily insure the best choice. Many a butterfly flits over all the flowers, only to land on a weed.

Everybody has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal., 90069 and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Highway Planners Ignore Obvious

No matter how much the North Carolina Highway Commission tells us that an interstate highway route is not needed through the northeastern section of the state, common sense dictates otherwise.

It must be perfectly clear to all who are willing to look at the broad system of interstate highways, that the Tidewater area of Virginia, which includes Norfolk, Portsmouth, Newport News, Virginia Beach and other areas should have an interstate highway leading to the south.

It should also be clear to anyone who is willing to consider overall highway planning that the huge amount of traffic coming from the northeastern states south would use the shorter route across the Chesapeake Bay bridge-tunnel if there were an interstate highway leading south from the Tidewater area of Virginia.

The Daily Reflector has for years advocated an interstate route south from Norfolk and roughly following the present U.S. 13 route to tie in with I-95 in the area of Fayetteville. Such a route would open up the vast area of Northeastern North Carolina. It would mean that growing cities such as Greenville and Goldsboro would be on the interstate system, and Kinston would be close to it. From a national standpoint it would mean that one of America's major metropolitan areas would have access to the south and a whole new, shorter route would be completed for millions in northeastern United States.

North Carolina highway planners apparently are not interested in the millions above the state line. After all, they can't vote. And so far as the planner's fellow North Carolinians who live in the northeastern section of the state, apparently the planners just don't care, for when the recent request for additional interstate mileage was made, this vital project was totally ignored.

If the people who live in the Virginia Tidewater area want to see their section reach its full potential they had better be working for an interstate route southward. They will be able to expect no assistance from the present North Carolina Highway Commission, despite all we who live in this area of the state can do.

Instead they will have to appeal to federal authorities. Maybe somewhere along the line they will find someone who is more interested in planning an adequate interstate highway system than they are in political expediency.

Would Abolish Many Licenses

By WILLIAM A. SHIRES
Reflector Raleigh Bureau

RALEIGH — The circus came to town and paid a license fee. The state alone collected nearly $30,000 during 1967-68 in license fees from circuses, carnivals and dog shows.

Counties and municipalities collected a little in circus license taxes, but it was less than $1,000.

pliance." The state's license taxation was only one per cent of the total General Fund Revenue. The amount collected by municipalities and counties was only $3.3 million excluding beer and wine licenses, motor vehicle tags and dog licenses. The commission concluded that the cost of administering such license taxes is "much greater" than in the case of other state collected taxes.

It said it found "many reasons" for eliminating most privilege licenses on trades, occupations and business and felt that none should be levied for revenue purposes. The only justification it found was regulation. The commission went on to urge the legislature not to grant authority to local governments to levy licenses not required for regulatory purposes.

Certain Licenses Needed
Marriage licenses would be required. A regulatory purpose. Dog tags. Motor vehicle licenses — also regulatory. Lightning rod salesmen and private detectives should be licensed, according to the commission.

The study commission points to other reasons for license levies, among them exercise of police power, elimination of undesirable business, payment for special privilege, franchise, payment for special benefits supplied by government.

It points to a "hodge podge" of bases, rates and methods and says other study groups have made efforts to "bring order out of the chaos," make license taxation more equitable and provide a logical separation of subjects. But all this, it says, has "invariably drawn emotional opposition". The reason, of course, is that municipalities and counties are starved for revenue sources. License taxes provide one, small source which localities are reluctant to give up. The say-so lies with the General Assembly but the legislators usually are sensitive to the wishes of their local governing boards. Unless an alternative source of revenue is provided — also a prerogative of the General Assembly — the lawmakers will not vote to reduce their local revenue producing base.

WILLIAM A. SHIRES

The state collected $29,287 from undertakers and coffin dealers and municipalities took $17,340. Also, the state collected $3,046 from horse and mule dealers and municipalities paid $303. Peddlers paid $27,373 in business and occupation license taxes to the state of North Carolina and $23,318 to municipalities. Gypsies and fortune tellers paid $4,140 in license fees to the state and $4,250 to counties. Detectives paid $2,926 in license fees to the state. Contractors paid $447,192 to the state and $58,712 to municipalities.

Doctors, lawyers and other professional people paid business and occupation license taxes totaling $427,329 — all to the state. Counties and municipalities are prohibited from levying a license tax in this and certain other categories.

Recommends Abolishing
All told, there are more than 100 different categories of license taxes levied in North Carolina and for 1967-68 they yielded a total of $11,302,785.

The Currie Tax Study Commission took a hard look at state and local license taxation. It looked into the reasons. It found that for the most part licenses are levied to produce revenue and concluded that this is an undesirable method.

For one thing, it said "the amount of revenue produced is not great enough to justify the higher cost of collections and the harassment of com-

Higher Income Areas In N.C. Concentrated

It should be a matter of concern to all North Carolinians that the counties with the highest per capita income are concentrated for the most part in one small geographic area of the state.

Of the 24 counties which have per capita income higher than the state average, two are located in the Asheville area, two in the coastal area where there are huge military installations, and the other twenty in a tight group in the Piedmont and central area. Certainly North Carolina must have some counties with higher per capita income than others. All 100 counties of the state cannot have per capita incomes equal to or above the state average. Yet, the situation as it exists today points up sharply the continuing need for further efforts to provide economic advancement for under-developed counties outside the prosperous Piedmont.

If North Carolina is to achieve as a state the economic advancement it seeks, it must give more attention to those areas where economic progress has not kept pace.

Boys under 17 rarely paid much attention to girls and thought they were all silly and flighty.

It wasn't an uncommon sight at all to see an old farm grandmother puffing contentedly on a corn cob pipe as she went about her household chores.

Strength For Today

REALITY OF WORSHIP

The word "worship" comes from an Anglo-Saxon word which means deference, honor, respect, and the act of paying divine honors to a deity. We can worship wherever we happen to be, but worship comes — or should come — to its fullest intensity in a church service. We may worship God as we walk down the street, or run a vacuum cleaner, or wash a car. It's not a matter of worship in just one place and no other. The privilege of worship can be ours anywhere provided we have a spirit of worship in our hearts.

Most truly religious persons are members of some church, but this is not always true. It is amazing — not to say disconcerting — to encounter the number of fine, religious people who practically never have anything to do with the church. Most of us would feel that they are missing something of great importance. The church is an institution that needs the support of all believing people, but it would get along if only one person in a hundred gave the church his support. This thing which we call the church is a divine institution and it is under the protection and guidance of God Himself.

The church full of hypocrites? Nonsense. The church is full of weak, stumbling persons like ourselves who fall flat on our faces every day but who are pleasing in God's sight if we pull ourselves to our feet and start the pilgrimage over again where we left off.

ART BUCHWALD

Art In Getting Refusal

WASHINGTON — One of the "tricks" every President-elect must learn is how to offer a job to somebody in such a way that he will have to refuse it.

While Mr. Nelson spent many hours selecting his Cabinet, he spent many other hours talking to men he had no intention of hiring. One of them was Gov. Nelson Rockefeller. How Mr. Nelson offered Gov. Rockefeller a job, without offering it to him, is something we'll have to wait to find out when their memoirs are written. But until then, there is no harm in guessing.

"Nelson, it's good you could stop by. How's Happy?"
"She's very happy, Dick. Well, I guess you've got a tough job selecting the right Cabinet for the country."

"I do, Nelson. It isn't easy to find dedicated, selfless men who are willing to come to Washington and spend four years making the great decisions of history."

"Oh, it can't be that hard, Dick. I imagine there are many men who would love to serve in your Cabinet."

"Do you know of any, Nelson?"
"Well, I haven't been thinking about it much. Let me see. For secretary of state, you ought to find someone with a prestigious name, identified with public service, with a clear, liberal image, who perhaps is the governor of a very large state."

"Exactly my thinking, Nelson. But I can't think of any one with all these qualifications. And, heaven knows, my people have looked. What about secretary of defense, Nelson? Do you have any ideas for me there?"

"Well, Dick, I think you ought to find someone with a prestigious name, identified with public service, with a clear liberal image, who perhaps is the governor of a very large state."

"I'd rather have Volpe for secretary of transportation."

"I wasn't thinking of Volpe, Dick."

"Well, Reagan's out of the question. If I put Finch in the Cabinet as HEW secretary, I can't put Reagan in, too."

"I wasn't thinking of Reagan, either."

"Then who were you thinking of, Nelson?"

"I wasn't thinking of anybody. I was trying to answer your question."

"How's Happy, Nelson?"

"You asked me that before. She's fine. Who have you got in mind for secretary of the treasury?"

"I was going to ask you about that, Nelson. Whom do you think I ought to get?"

"I think you ought to find someone with a prestigious name, identified with public service, someone with a clear image who perhaps is governor of a very large state."

"How about your brother, David?"

"He's not a governor."

"Incidentally, Nelson, how's Happy?"

"Look, Dick, I have to get back to Albany. Is there anything else you want to ask me about?"

"Well, frankly, Nelson, I'd like you to be on my team, and there is one key job that everyone is going to be watching so far as my appointments go."

"Anything you say, Dick."

Other Editors Say A Blow For Freedom

(The Raleigh Times)

The Supreme Court struck a badly needed blow for freedom yesterday when it ruled that draft boards can't punish Vietnam war protesters by mustering them into the Army.

The Court ruled that draft boards cannot operate as "free-wheeling agencies meting out their brand of justice in a vindictive manner." This was a direct slap of Lt. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, director of Selective Service, who had advised draft boards to put the top of the list of draft eligibles

General Hershey's attitude would have put American on the road to becoming a military-controlled country. Anybody disliked by any draft board for just about any reason could have been shanghaied off to military service.

Any man who followed the dictates of his conscience and protested something would have been in danger of being drafted.

Fortunately, the Court has stepped in. It ruled that the Cheyenne, Wyoming, draft board which reclassified a divinity student after he turned in his draft card to protest war policy, had acted in a "blatantly lawless manner." The Court ruled that it could find no authorization for use of draft delinquency regulations to strip a congressionally exempted man of his protection from induction. Men exempted by Congress included such classes as divinity students, veterans, National Guardsmen, reservists, sole surviving sons and youths under 19.

The decision doesn't cover the cases of young men who aren't specifically exempt from the draft. Still to be determined is whether they could be punished with immediate induction for protests against war.

The draft is designed only to provide the armed services with the men they must have to protect the national interest. This draft must not be used for any other purpose — especially not for the purpose of punishing those who may advocate unpopular causes.

Buy That New Equipment Today

By ELMER ROESSNER

Should a company needing new equipment buy now or postpone the purchase until next year?

Buy now, Prentice-Hall advises clients. Equipment purchased before the end of the year entitled the buyer to investment credit, no matter how late in the year purchased. The same holds true for the additional first-year allowance as long as some regular depreciation is claimed for the year. And both the credit and the extra allowance can be computed on the full cost of the equipment, including the down payment and any debt incurred in the purchase.

No To Nixon Offer

By ROWLAND EVANS and ROBERT NOVAK

WASHINGTON — The best evidence of how badly President-elect Nixon wanted Senator Eugene McCarthy to become U.S. Ambassador to the United Nations is the fact that Nixon sent William P. Rogers to McCarthy's Senate office a week ago (Dec. 9).

Nixon's assignment to Rogers, his Secretary of State designate, was pointed: use all your weapons of persuasion to talk McCarthy into taking the UN job.

That was not the first or the last effort by Nixon. The first came shortly after the election, when Nixon secretly met McCarthy in the National Airport here to sound him out. McCarthy at that point said he was not in the slightest interested.

But when Rogers came to his office to argue the case for Nixon, McCarthy, who fully intends to be a major factor in the 1972 Presidential campaign, was not so adamant. He began to see the job in a wholly new perspective, and it is this perspective that made Nixon's McCarthy play almost succeed.

Instead of fear at the prospect of being accused of "selling out" to the Nixon administration, McCarthy saw himself in the posture of heir to Adlai Stevenson (who sent to the UN at the start of the Kennedy administration). As an eloquent voice for peace with the world press as his audience, he began to view the UN as a natural platform to hold what is left of his national constituency and to build it anew.

It was at this meeting with Rogers that McCarthy laid down his one unalterable condition—that Minnesota Governor Harold LeVander, a Republican, appoint a Democrat to take McCarthy's vacated seat in the Senate.

That Democrat, McCarthy specified, by no means had to be Vice President Humphrey. In fact, McCarthy left little doubt that he preferred not Humphrey but some other Democrat, possibly Rep. John Blatnik—long as aspirant to the Senate.

Rogers replied that Nixon or his agents had already talked to LeVander, but that unfortunately LeVander did not "understand" Nixon's — and McCarthy's — problem (possibly because LeVander himself may run for the Senate in 1970 and would not want to build up a Democrat by putting him in the Senate now).

McCarthy's clear refusal to cede his Senate seat to a Republican revealing evidence of his future political plans. He reasoned that, while he could persuade his followers to support his move to the United Nations, where he would take over a forum to push peace, he would be condemned both by his own McCarthyites and the entire Democratic party if the UN job meant reducing the Democratic majority in the Senate.

No one, probably not even the enigmatic McCarthy himself, knows exactly what his future political plans are, beyond his statement that he will not run for reelection to

The Grinch On Christmas Scene

Santa Ticketed

WINSTON-SALEM, (AP)—Santa Claus was given a traffic ticket Wednesday.

"There was Santa, decked out in his white beard and red suit and all, standing beside his car while the cop wrote him a ticket," said Bob Gibson, who watched.

Gibson and some friends rode by in Gibson's car. "We rolled down the window and hollered 'Scrooge,'" he said.

The policeman didn't respond. "He just kept on writing that ticket in a very serious way," said Gibson.

Santa waved at all the cars driving along the busy street, but he wasn't saying "Ho, Ho, Ho."

PTI Will Offer Adult Driver Training Course

Pitt Technical Institute will offer an Adult Driver Training course for those 18 years or older, beginning Jan. 2.

The class will meet Monday and Thursday nights from 7:00 to 10:00 p.m. at Rose High School. The course is composed of 36 hours classroom work, a minimum of six hours behind the wheel driving, and 12 hours observation in a dual-controlled car.

The course will cost $16. The classroom instruction will meet on Monday and Thursday nights at Rose High School. The driving part of the class will be scheduled during the afternoons and Saturdays and each person can be picked up at their residence and returned after the driving period.

ABC Store Held Up By Rifleman

EAST SPENCER, N.C. (AP)—The East Spencer ABC liquor store was robbed of $500-$600 by a rifleman Wednesday.

Store manager W. E. Boone and clerk Billy Nichols said a customer entered while the intruder was in the store and he ordered them to wait on him, after which he emptied the cash register and also took money from Boone and Nichols. Then he joined an accomplice waiting outside the store.

By JOY STILLEY
Associated Press Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—The Grinch is taking his place alongside such characters as Rudolph the Red-nosed Reindeer and the Peanuts bunch as a perennial Christmas favorite on television, and it all came about by accident, as did many important events in the life of the Grinch's creator, Dr. Seuss.

"I'm a great believer in accidents," the tall, handsome writer and illustrator of rhymed children's books declared on a visit here.

Theodor Seuss Geisel of La Jolla, Calif., became an author of juveniles by chance, had his first book published by chance, acquired his pen name that way. And it was by chance that he wrote "How the Grinch Stole Christmas," which was adapted into a half-hour TV show and will get its third annual TV airing on Dec. 22.

"I happened to draw the Grinch and the Whos, some characters I had used before, confronting each other," he explains. "Then I had to figure out why the Grinch was mad at the Whos and what the Whos could do to protect themselves."

Will Lock Up Sirhan's Jury

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The jury hearing the murder trial of Sirhan Bishara Sirhan will be locked up nights and weekends, Judge Herbert V. Walker ruled Wednesday in Superior Court.

The prosecution objected that would make selection of a jury difficult since the trial of the man charged with slaying Sen. Robert F. Kennedy is likely to last three months.

Emile Zola Berman, New York attorney, was officially approved at the brief court session to join Sirhan's two other defense attorneys. Berman, 65, told newsmen he supported Kennedy for president. Sirhan, 24, a Jordanian, is to go on trial Jan. 7.

"When we decided to make the cartoon from my story," he continues, "our first problem was to figure out what color a Grinch is, since the book was in black and white. Designers made him every possible color and we chose a ghastly green."

of the original into 27,000 for the animation. Three songs, for which Geisel wrote the lyrics, were added.

Death Said Due Over-Medication

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP)—Actress Joan Tabor, 34, died in a hospital Wednesday after, police were told, accidentally taking influenza medicine more frequently than prescribed.

A former Chicago model, she married actor Broderick Crawford in 1961. They were divorced in 1965. Another former husband, David Gold, a Chicago financier, told police she mistakenly took too much medicine. Gold said he and Miss Tabor were reconciling.

An autopsy was scheduled by the Los Angeles County Coroner's office.

Miss Tabor appeared in the Perry Mason, Laramie and Laredo television series. She will be buried in Sioux Falls, S.D., home of her parents, after services here Friday.

Three Tar Heels Killed In Action

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Defense Department has announced that three more North Carolina soldiers have been killed in the Vietnam war.

They were identified as: Spec. 4 Guenter R. Thonus, brother of Mrs. Inge Byers, 570 Braxton Blvd., Fayetteville; Pfc. Thomas E. Ramsey, husband of Martha K. Ramsey, Rt. 5, Asheville; and Pfc. Charles E. Russell III, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Russell II, 223 W. Parker St., Graham.

Russell previously had been listed as missing.

When he produces one of his fantasies, sometimes the drawings of his imaginative brand of beasts come first and sometimes the story; sometimes they both progress together.

"The names are easy," says the 64-year-old author of 27 books and creator of the Sneetches, Horton the elephant, Yertle the Turtle and the Oobleck, among others. "I'll get an animal drawn and I'll know what his name is—it can't be anything else."

Geisel, who is president of Beginner Books, a division of Random House, never studied art but started drawing at an early age, eventually originating and carrying on for 17 years the "Quick Henry the Pit" advertising cartoons.

Getting into the juvenile field was one of the many unforeseen happenings that have shaped his life. Returning from Sweden by boat on a voyage so stormy that there was nothing else to do, he sat listening to the ship's motors churn in rhythm and began writing words to match. "I had it about half written when we landed," he recalls. "I couldn't get the meter out of my head and for therapy I had to finish it." He added pictures and that became "And To Think That I Saw It on Mulberry Street."

30th Time a Charm
He was an author, but still an unpublished author. The book went to one publisher after another and after being turned down by the 29th, he decided to take the manuscript home to burn it. On the way home—he bumped into a classmate from Dartmouth College who had just become juvenile editor of Vanguard Press and who arranged for his firm to bring it out.

Geisel took the name of Seuss, his mother's maiden name, because he was saving his real name for the great American novel he was going to write. His children's books became popular before he ever got that written and the pen name Dr. Seuss stuck.

Now it's official. He has two honorary doctorates—one from the American International College in Springfield, Mass., and another from Dartmouth, his alma mater. "They said I'd been masquerading for so many decades that they wanted to make an honest man out of me," he laughs.

Heavy Damage In Car Collision
Greenville police reported more than $2,500 damage resulted from a 7:10 p.m. collision last night on 14th Street, 300 feet west of the West Berkeley Road intersection.

Officers said a car driven by James Morris Nicholson, 21 of 2602 East 10th St. collided with a parked car owned by Southern Hospital Supply Corp. of Fayetteville. The force of the impact sent the Southern Hospital car crashing into a second parked vehicle owned by Joseph Thomas Sellers of Statesville.

Police set damage at $2,000 to the hospital supply firm vehicle, $395 to the Nicholson car and $195 to the Sellers vehicle.

Nicholson was charged with failing to see his intended movement could be made in safety.

Couple Observed 70th Anniversary

By ELGA NICHOLS
Goldsboro News-Argus Writer
Written For The AP

SEVEN SPRINGS, N.C. (AP) — Only a few people witnessed the ceremony Dec. 14, 1898, when Miss Sara Elizabeth Nunn became the bride of Daniel Potter. But they came by the scores the other day to help them celebrate their 70th wedding anniversary.

Sam Parrish, justice of the peace, married them at the home of a friend in Lenoir County. The newlyweds set up housekeeping in a house within sight of their present residence. The bride was 18 years old and the groom was 23.

Potter was introduced to his bride-to-be in the spring of 1898 and he won her hand that same year. They lived 15 miles apart and he remembers walking those miles most of the time when he went "a courting."

The two are still alert and both walk without canes. They can still recall the hardships as well as the pleasant years of their lives together, and both say they have never had a fight.

On the last day of December 1914, Potter brought his wife and children to a farm on Rt. 1, Seven Springs. There their eight children grew up. All are now married. Six of them reside on Rt. 1, Seven Springs, and the other two live in Kinston. Their first child, a son, Luther Wallace, died of diphtheria when he was only six years old.

All the children were there for the 70th anniversary celebration. So were most of the 19 grandchildren, 11 great-grandchildren and four great-great-grandchildren.

The youngest son, Milo Daniel Potter, now operates the farm at the homeplace. There are three generations living in the white frame house but "we haven't had any trouble yet," Potter says.

Potter seldom misses a Sunday church service. His neighbors describe him as honest, upright, kind, a good friend and neighbor.

The Potters do not smoke or drink strong drink, even tea or coffee. "I have not abused my body" Potter said when asked about his longevity.

On a warm afternoon, Mrs. Potter still walks down the road to the home of a son. And until this year she always had a row of collards in the family garden.

Federal Reserve May Decide 'Credit Crunch' Is Lesser Evil

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — The Federal Reserve may be willing to run the risk of a credit crunch in an effort to girdle an economy now bursting at the seams. It may be the lesser of two dangers.

The existing danger is from inflation. The risk in tightening credit is that it might provoke too great a slowdown.

The ingredients of a crunch seem to be present in the Fed's action this week. First it raised the discount rate, the rate at which banks borrow money, from 5.25 per cent to 5.50 per cent. Money thus was made more expensive.

Second, the Fed took no action to remove the lid on the rates banks may pay to attract deposits. If it had been raised the banks could attract more money from business for the purpose of relending. Money thus was made less available.

The net effect is that demand will far exceed the availability of loanable funds. Credit-sound customers may be refused loans. Tight money may be back with us.

The Fed seems to feel it has good reason to turn niggardly. This economy of the United States is out of shape, swollen too large for the frame. Not all the size is muscle; some is fat.

By making money less available the Fed hopes to slow economic activity to what is considered sustainable. And what better way of doing this than to make less available the credit that permits economic activity?

Credit demands today are phenomenal. Spending by corporations for expansion is forecast to run anywhere from 5 to 13 per cent, and most of this would be borrowed. Consumer credit demands also are near records.

Thrill For Great Grandmother

STONEBORO, Pa. (AP) — Dora Reiser is a great grandmother of 12, three of them born the same day in different cities.

"I was just thrilled," said Mrs. Reiser, a widow. "There hadn't been a boy in my family for 19 years until yesterday."

Two of the great grandchildren born Tuesday were boys. One is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Patterson of Cleveland, Ohio, born in a Cleveland hospital, the other the son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Reiser of Stone, born in the Franklin, Pa., hospital.

The great granddaughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. George Reiser Jr., of Sandy Lake, Pa., in a Greenville hospital.

Much of this demand is the result of an inflationary psychology, which means that although prices are high now, many individuals and corporations believe they will be even higher tomorrow.

When such a psychology grips an economy it means the very existence of inflation is the cause of still more inflation. People rush to buy now; tomorrow will be too expensive.

As an economic adviser to President Johnson once noted, this is like a fat lady eating chocolates. Knowing that she is overweight but unable to face the facts, she dispels her anguish by eating more chocolates.

In terms of that analogy, the fat lady is now being put on a more stringent diet. She won't starve, perhaps, even though she might believe the end is near. But she is likely to lose some weight.

There is a health hazard, of course, in restricting credit, which is the food and fuel of economic expansion. The danger is recession, an anemia of the economy whose onset is sometimes difficult to discern.

Helen Hayes To Conduct Seminar

CHICAGO (AP) — Helen Hayes will teach a seminar in playreading at the University of Illinois in Chicago beginning in February.

The appointment of Miss Hayes, known as first lady of the American theater, as distinguished professor of speech and theater at the university was announced Wednesday by Chancellor Norman A. Parker.

Miss Hayes, 68, is in Chicago winding up an engagement in George Kelley's "The Show Off."

Less than eight per cent of the Netherlands is covered by forest.

Opines Highway Plans Based On 'Yesterday'

WASHINGTON, N.C. — It appears that North Carolina State Highway Department planners have been using yesterday's facts to plan tomorrow's highways in eastern North Carolina, a Washington business leader asserted today.

"What they need to do is use today's facts to plan tomorrow's highways," Robert E. Farish, Washington automobile dealer and chairman of the Highway Development Council of the Washington Chamber of Commerce, said.

"The plan recently released by Mr. Babcock and his planners placing all new interstate highway requests in the southeastern part of the state is a gross injustice to the mid-eastern and northeastern areas," Farish said.

Farish maintained today that the northeastern and mid-eastern highway problems could be solved by extending Interstate Highway 40 from Greensboro to Washington, running it between Wilson and Rocky Mount and past Greenville, and then by four-laning U.S. Highway 17 from Washington to the Virginia border.

"It is along this proposed route that great growth is taking place," Farish explained. "Many times the traffic is bumper to bumper between Greenville and Wilson," he said.

"We have begged, we have requested, we have tried friendly persuasion, and nothing has worked," he said. "We now demand our share and we don't want it allotted on the basis of 1960 census figures," Farish said.

Mao Gets Into The Textbooks

TOKYO (AP) — Chinese toddlers who once began their lessons with "a cat catches fish" are in for sterner political stuff. Now the first textbook lesson is entitled "Long live Chairman Mao."

Dissatisfied with the old school books, peasants in one area of Honan Province have written their own, an example that is sure to be followed elsewhere.

Before doing so, according to the Peking People's Daily, they examined the standard textbooks which said: "School reopens. Taking our satchels we go to school. When meeting our teacher, we bow to him. When seeing a schoolmate, we say hello to him."

Said the peasant committee—one of thousands now running the mainland's rural schools: "Proletarian politics was not put to the fore in any degree. 'A cat catches fish, a crow drinks water. . . and other rubbish were included in the textbooks.' It was 'black goods' peddled by disgraced President Liu Shao-chi.

The next step was glorification of the sayings of Chairman Mao Tse-tung.

"Each of Chairman Mao's words is truth," the committee said. "Quotations from Chairman Mao must be taken as the most fundamental teaching material."

Other lessons "aim at cultivating the students' loyalty to Chairman Mao, Mao Tse-tung's thought and Chairman Mao's proletarian revolutionary line."

Thirty Suits Pending Over Airport Noise

CHARLOTTE (AP) — Thirty suits are pending asking more than $1 million in damages from the city by owners of property near Douglas Municipal Airport. Charlotte lost the first case Tuesday, but plans to appeal to the North Carolina Supreme Court a Superior Court jury's award of $16,800.

The judgment as won by G. D. Hoyle, who claimed that jet planes, which sometimes flew within 100 feet of his home, had shattered his nerves and lowered the value of his property to $6,000 from $52,000.

The city argued that it did not operate the planes and therefore was not responsible. It also says Hoyle's property was best suited for commercial development and had not been devalued.

Concerned Over Cattle Poisoning

REGINA, Sask. (UPI)—Farmers in Saskatchewan have been concerned this winter about the possibility of nitrate poisoning of livestock from oat hay, but the Provincial Department of Agriculture says the danger can be avoided by supplementing feed rations with grain or concentrates.

Flu May Ease Holiday Travel Congestion

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The nation's roads, rails and skies are getting more crowded every day as Christmas approaches and thousands of Americans head for home or vacation spots. There are indications, however, that the outbreak of Hong Kong flu may ease travel congestion.

An Associated Press survey showed airlines, bus companies and railroads in most major cities expect record crowds during the Christmas season.

In several areas, however, spokesmen for travel companies said the passenger load has been spread out somewhat because of early school and college closings due to flu.

"We're all getting a break with the flu epidemic," said Virgin McKibben, assistant regional manager of Greyhound Bus Co. in Washington. McKibben said the flu is "scattering the travel over an extended period."

He expects the congestion to get worse, however. "The day we're all dreading is the Sunday after New Year's when everybody is going to be returning at the same time," McKibben said. "Lord help us. It is going to be something out of this world."

In most cities, the question is not whether there will be record holiday crowds, but simply how high the records will be.

Italy Evicts Ex-Nazi Officer

ROME (AP) — Ex-Nazi Col. Otto Skorzeny, abductor of Mussolini in 1943, scribbled a few autographs for policemen Wednesday before being kicked out of Italy.

Skorzeny, who lives in Madrid, had landed in Italy with a Columbia Broadcasting System television crew. But because of his Nazi past he was banned from staying.

On Sept. 12, 1943, Skorzeny led a German parachutist team to Gran Sasso Mountain near Rome where Mussolini was held after his overthrow. The Germans then set him up as a puppet leader in northern Italy.

An Eastern Airlines spokesman in Philadelphia said the carrier expected a 60 per cent increase this year in travel to Florida and Puerto Rico. United Airlines said it has added 14 extra sections on flights from Philadelphia, expecting 33 per cent more passengers than usual.

Harry K. Malone, Jr., assistant manager of the Atlanta Airport, said he expected extreme congestion, but did not know whether the crowds would be worse than last year. Malone said much of the crush was due to military personnel from nearby Fort Benning and other installations.

The air traffic controllers—who staged a "follow-the-book" campaign and snarled travel last summer—apparently do not plan to resume their slowdown.

A spokesman for the Air Transport Association said in Chicago that airlines in the Windy City expect no unforeseen delays providing the weather is good. Dan Vucurevich, the tower chief at O'Hare International Airport, said he would have an "adequate" staff on hand to handle peak traffic, even though several controllers have the flu. Here's a rundown on expected travel situations in some major cities:

New York—Airlines have scheduled hundreds of extra flights and one carrier hired extra ground personnel to speed reservations and baggage handling. The Port of New York Authority said bus traffic at its midtown terminal was expected to peak Friday and said planners were having a difficult time scheduling extra runs because of the flu.

Philadelphia—Both Greyhound and Trailways Bus Coms. said they would have about 100 extra buses on hand each for weekend travelers. New York-Baltimore-Washington routes were expected to be heaviest. The Penn Central Railroad has scheduled extra trains on its New York and Washington runs for Friday and Dec. 26.

Dallas—American and Braniff Airlines just opened new passenger terminals and expect to handle the on-the-ground traffic more easily. Special arrangements have been made to handle the 4,000 military personnel expected to use the airport Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Washington—A Federal Aviation Agency spokesman said the capital's worst traffic problems were usually in summer and added, "It would surprise me if Christmas was as bad as this summer." He said traffic problems normally arising at Thanksgiving "just didn't materialize" this year. A Penn Central spokesman predicted a 20 per cent increase in the number of passengers traveling during the holiday season.

Boston—Travel was expected to peak Friday and American Airlines said it expected 5,000 passengers on outbound Boston flights Dec. 20—a record for a single day. Northeast Airlines said the heaviest bookings on its Florida flights are over the coming weekend.

Los Angeles—T.W. Morgan, a spokesman for Los Angeles International Airport said, "Every holiday has exceeded the preceding year. We're anticipating considerably more traffic this year..."

Father Shoots Up His Family Christmas Party

By DAVID L. ANDERSON
CARLINVILLE, Ill. (AP) — A father of 10 children opened fire on a welfare agency Christmas party for his family Wednesday, police said, killing four persons including his estranged wife and wounding four of his children. He then fled, shot himself and died hours later.

Authorities said Sherman Kline, 38, pulled out two pistols while gifts were being opened in the offices of the Illinois Department of Child and Family Services and began firing.

Killed were the wife, Lorraine, 33; two social workers, Frank Wildgrube, 24, and Bonnie Albracht, 23, both of Carlenville; and a receptionist, Ann Keppeler, 25, of Benld, Ill.

Two of the children, Michael, 14, and Diane, 8, were in critical condition in a Springfield hospital, while the other two wounded youngsters, Gene, 13 and Judy, 10, were in serious condition in a Carlenville hospital.

After the shooting, Kline drove some 60 miles to the home of a brother near O'Fallon, Mo., where, the brother said, he admitted the shootings, but refused to give himself up.

Vernon Kline said his brother ran into some nearby woods, he heard a shot and called police. Officers found Sherman Kline with a bullet wound in his head. He died later at a hospital.

A spokesman for the welfare agency said he believed Kline was upset because he thought the agency had "come between himself and his family."

Miss Keppeler, who was to have been married next March, was credited with saving the lives of two other secretaries in her office when she stepped between them and Kline as he fired into the office.

Kline, who separated from his wife in May, was reported to be a plumber for a St. Louis firm.

ECU Debaters 5th In Tourney

East Carolina University's debate team placed fifth in speaker points among 30 teams which participated in the recent annual invitational debate tournament at the University of Pittsburgh.

ECU's affirmative team, despite a won-lost record of 2-6, beat all but four of the participating teams in speaker points. Debate team sponsor Albert Peralton of the ECU drama and speech department reported a negative team record of four wins and only two losses.

Tournament participants from ECU were senior Barry Dressel and sophomores Bob Bowman, Nathan Weavil and Jim McCullough.

Other teams at the tournament included the Universities of Alabama, Virginia, Colorado, West Virginia and Connecticut, Wake Forest, Xavier, Brown and Syracuse.

Wife Sues Actor David Janssen

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — Actor David Janssen, 38, who starred in the television series "The Fugitive," was sued for separate maintenance Wednesday. His wife, Ellie, charging extreme cruelty, asked Superior Court for reasonable support and equitable division of community property. Married 10 years ago, they separated last August, her suit said.

Grand Jury Indicts 8 New Jersey Police

PATERSON, N.J. (AP) — 40,000 are Puerto Ricans and 20,000 Negroes, was hit by sporadic disorders early in July. Eight policemen have been indicted by a federal grand jury on charges of conspiracy to violate and violation of civil rights of Negro residents during racial disorders last summer.

The indictment said the policemen assaulted one Negro, and broke windows of several business establishments operated by Negroes.

U.S. Atty. David Satz Jr. of New Jersey said the policemen were charged with violating a 1872 Civil Rights Act, the first such indictments against policemen brought in the state.

"Enough people came forward immediately with enough evidence to warrant presentation to the grand jury," Satz said.

A coalition of civil rights groups charged that the police department "rioted against the citizens, uncontrolled by their own authorities," while suppressing the disorders.

Paterson, which has a population of 150,000 of which about lice attacks against Spanish-speaking citizens were so intense that "some of the innocent and frightened victims telephoned the governor of Puerto Rico for rescue."

The Civil Rights Act the policemen are accused of violating for bids "depriving of any rights, privileges or immunities secured by or protected by the Constitution or laws of the United States" to any citizen because of his race or color.

A spokesman for the U.S. attorney's office said the policemen will not be arrested but will receive notices of the indictment. He said the arraignment has been scheduled for Jan. 3.

The maximum penalty for each count of the six-count indictment is one year in prison and a $1,000 fine. Not all the policemen are mentioned in every count.

According to Chief H. F. Lawson, someone used a wooden crate to smash a window at Nobles' Fruit Stand on Dickinson Avenue about 10:50 p.m. The law-breaker then took 13 watches and a blank pistol which were on display in the window.

Value of the merchandise was set at $233.24.

Investigation of the theft is underway.

Commended By Southern Ass'n

East Carolina University has received commendation for its Fifth Year Report to the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools.

The Fifth Year Report is a progress review of the university covering the five years since its self-study for the Southern Association's accreditation program. The Southern Association is the recognized accrediting agency for the southern states.

John G. Barker of the association's Commission on Colleges, notified ECU President Leo W. Jenkins of the action on the ECU report.

Barker wrote: "The Commission on Colleges has reviewed carefully and accepted with commendation the fifth-year report of your institution."

President Jenkins said, "We are delighted at the acceptance of this report with commendation. It reflects great credit upon the splendid work our faculty and staff are doing at East Carolina University."

Dr. Robert L. Holt, vice president and dean of ECU, expressed appreciation to the faculty and staff whose efforts, he said, made possible the report and its acceptance with commendation.

"This honor," Dr. Holt added, "attests to the outstanding work of our faculty and staff and gives us renewed confidence for the future."

The Fifth Year Report covers changes at ECU over a five-year period in seven categories: institutional purpose, financial support, educational program, faculty, library, student life and physical facilities.

No Signs Of Very Big Arms Outlays By Soviet

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. experts say the Czech experience will strengthen the position of Kremlin dissidents who favor reducing the role of the Warsaw Pact nations in Central Europe. Until the move toward political liberalism by the Prague government and the resulting Soviet-led invasion of Czechoslovakia, the prevailing policy in Moscow was to place a great deal of reliance on Warsaw Pact armies in the upkeep of the Soviet defense in Central Europe. However, the deviation of the Czech government has put in a better position those Soviet leaders who have argued since the early 1960s against depending on Eastern European allies in defending that part of the world, the U.S. experts say.

"If the Czechs have gone sour so could others," one American expert said. If Moscow does decide to strengthen its military posture in Central Europe, it will force an increase in the Soviet defense budget, one U.S. Kremlinologist said. This might drain money from other Russian military programs and such civilian sectors as agriculture where the Soviet government has long promised improvements. The Kremlinologists say any such policy shift would eventually show up in the Russian "order of battle" in Central Europe and might be signaled by changes in the level of factory output. The Czech invasion already is believed to have placed some strain on the Soviet military budget because it required Russians to mobilize some reservists and undertake unexpected major troop movements. The Soviet defense budget announced last week was 17.7 billion rubles. At the official exchange rate a ruble is worth $1.11. American experts say that the announced figure is misleading because much of the Soviet military spending is disguised in such other categories as science and industry. They estimate the real figure spent on the military in the Soviet Union last year was really closer to $50 billion.

The announced defense figures, which represents on its face only a mild increase over last year, is looked on by U.S. officials as a message to the West that Moscow is not gearing up for any major increase in arms spending. And this message, the experts said, is believed designed to avoid propelling NATO into a major effort at boosting the Atlantic alliance's force levels. "What Russia is interested in now is getting NATO back on the track it was on before the invasion of Czechoslovakia—a track that seemed to be leading toward a weakening of the alliance," one authority said.

Aquanauts Conclude Depth Test

DIVERS EMERGE FROM CHAMBER — Five aquanauts who went to record depths beneath the sea in a simulated journey at Duke University are congratulated as they emerge from the

DURHAM, N. C. (AP) — Five aquanauts who successfully completed a simulated dive to a depth of one-fifth mile under the sea were being kept under observation today for possible signs of the bends.

They planned to hold a news conference at 1 p.m. today.

The divers, smiling and apparently in good physical condition, emerged at 7:02 p.m. Wednesday from the hyperbaric chamber in which they began their trip Dec. 2.

About 50 persons, including three Navy admirals, greeted the divers with cheers and applause. Rear Adm. O. D. Waters, head of the Navy's oceanography department, greeted them first.

"Welcome back and congratulations," he said.

One of the aquanauts, Navy Petty Officer Murray Cato, suffered a mild case of bends Monday night as pressure in the 11 by 34 foot chamber neared surface level. The pressure was quickly increased to ease the gas pain in Cato's joints, suffered by divers when they surface too rapidly.

Others who took part in the record 1,000 foot dive were Lt. Cmdr. James Kelly, Chief Petty Officer F. J. (Sam) Smeiko, Francis J. Falejczyk of Grand Island, N. Y., and Delmare L. Shelton of Durham.

Cato, Kelly and Smeiko are members of the Navy's experimental diving unit at the Washington Navy Yard. Falejczyk is an employe of Scott Aviation Corp. and Shelton is operator of the chamber in which the men made their simulated dive.

The chamber was kept dry but increased pressures were produced by changing the interior atmosphere. The divers were subjected to the same conditions they would find in an open sea at depths of 1,000 feet, far deeper than man has ever gone.

The aquanauts were breathing almost pure helium at the deepest point in their simulated dive. For the first 24 hours the chamber pressure was gradually increased, simulating the 1-000 foot descent. The pressure remained at that level for five days.

The ascent required 11 days to allow the divers to readjust slowly to the lessened pressure. The Navy plans to begin similar dives in the open sea next Lt. Cmdr. Kelly, a doctor, was the first to emerge from the pressure chamber.

The divers were taken immediately to the medical center where they underwent physical tests. There is danger of the bends for a 24 hour period after leaving the chamber.

Believe Biblical City Of Dan Was Fortress

TEL AVIV (AP) — Archaeologists believe the Biblical city of Dan—slowly emerging through layers of time in Upper Galilee—was a fortress and an important center for Northern Israel.

A huge city gate, a citadel and a stone pavement form the basis for their theories.

Dr. Avraham Biran, director of Israeli Antiquities and Museums, told newsmen that Dan probably served as a buffer against attack from Aramaean hordes from Damascus during the days of Jeroboam I, Ahab and Jeroboam II.

The gate, 84 by 65 feet with a paved entrance and exit, is the most important find made in the third season of excavations over 50 acres.

Other prime discoveries were an Israelite citadel, built of Ashlar masonry like King Ahab's palace in Samaria; a Hyksos glacis (a gradual slope leading to fortifications, designed to expose attackers to defending fire, named for the foreign kings of Egypt who formed dynasties in the 18th to 16th centuries B.C.); and a late 7th century B.C. Phoenician inscription.

The gate, similar to one unearthed in the city of Carchemish in Northern Syria, is the biggest ever discovered in Israel. It is adorned with two crowns, a feature found on Babylonian city gates and never before seen in Israel.

The inner slope of city ramparts appeared to have been used for living. Child burial jars, painted jugs, a scarab engraved with a griffin and cooking pots, jars and lamps were found there.

Dan, or Laish as it was then called, was razed by a conflagration about 1600 B.C. For 400 years it remained uninhabited until Canaanites settled at the beginning of the 11th century B.C. within the ramparts.

The tribe of Dan, which conquered the city in the early 11th century B.C., changed its name.

Excavations at the site are financed by the Department of Antiquities and by money from the United States.

Plan Regulating Region's Water

RALEIGH (AP)—The North Carolina Board of Water and Air Resources plans to regulate withdrawals of fresh water in an eight-county region in the eastern part of the state.

The board voted unanimously Wednesday to require that permits be obtained to extract more than 100,000 gallons of water a day.

The region includes Beaufort,

Pamlico and Washington counties and portions of Carteret, Craven, Hyde, Tyrrell and Martin counties.

The 100,000 gallon limit will go into effect in mid-June.

Public hearings will be held to determine how much water Texas Gulf Sulphur Co. near Aurora can withdraw. The company currently uses 59 million gallons of water a day in its phosphate mining operations in Beaufort County. It is believed to be the source of increasing salt water intrusion into the supply of fresh water.

The board invoked its control on water usage under an act adopted by the 1967 General Assembly which authorized the board to limit surface and ground water use in North Carolina.

The board noted that salt water could potentially contaminate the fresh water in the area and make it unfit for human consumption.

Composer Finds Musical Sounds In Junkyards

By CHRISTINE M. HANSON
Associated Press Writer

DALLAS (AP) — A brake drum from an automobile offers noble possibilities as a musical instrument, according to Dr. Donald Erb, the Dallas Symphony Orchestra's resident composer this season.

Erb, 41, says discarded pieces of metal, plastics and glass provide highly musical sounds of their own. He has tapped, clinked and rubbed together in just the right way.

"Any object you can strike with a stick can be a percussion instrument," Erb said. Incorporated into several of his chamber music pieces are the sounds of just such everyday objects: a policeman's whistle, a piece of steel pipe and various sizes of pop bottles.

Erb says a symphony in a junkyard will take place "at a place called Broadway Wrecking" when he gets back to Cleveland, Ohio, where he has spent most of his life. The piece of music he'll write will consist of a series of sounds produced in rhythmic sequence. Glass will shatter, a demolition ball will crash into piles of rubble, pipes will clank and bathtubs that are thumped will give off another bizarre sound.

Erb came to Dallas at the invitation of Donald Johanos, conductor of the Dallas Symphony Orchestra, in August. During his one year of residence he is composing music, some of it to be premiered by the Dallas orchestra.

Dallas symphony-goers have a surprise in store for them when Erb's "Percussion Concerto" is presented, an event tentatively for Jan. 4-6. His score calls for woodwind musicians to abandon their instruments and play only on their reads, brass players merely to breathe through their horns and the pianist to reach into his piano and pluck the wires with his hands or hit them with a mallet.

Also to be presented this season is a piece called "Christmas music" and the premiere in April of Erb's latest full orchestral composition.

The April premiere will probably incorporate electronic sound on pre-recorded tape, coordinated with the orchestral arrangement.

"I don't think there's any doubt in my mind that music is going to be influenced by electronics," the resident composer said. One of the trend-setters in music today is "music that will amalgamate itself with electronic sound."

Erb, predicts that, "The composer of the future is going to be as versed in electronics as he is in music as we know it."

"The young artist of the future is going to feel at home with electronics," said Erb, whose face crinkled in pleasure as he thought of it. His sandy hair snuggled up to the collar of his sport coat, patched at the sleeves and, like his trousers, slightly wrinkled. His bushy eyebrows worked up and down as he explained his ideas.

And his smile seemed to stretch all the way to his sideburns as he offered more predictions about the future of music.

Hesitated, And The Driver Lost

HARRODSBURG, Ky. (AP) — As the gasoline gauge neared zero, Tom Martin suggested to his father that they should stop for gas.

The father demurred, claiming he had enough gas even though the gauge indicated otherwise. Besides, continued the elder Martin, "I know there's a station just a few miles ahead."

They coasted into the station and Tom began to laugh. A cardboard sign on the pumps notified customers that the station was out of gas.

"The orchestra player of the future may well be sitting at a control panel, or rather than playing a violin, he's going to be playing an instrument that hasn't been invented yet."

"Music as we know it today is going to cease to exist," he added. "I think the functions of things are going to change. Symphonies are still going to be performed, but the way music will be performed will take on new forms."

Besides three major orchestral compositions, Erb has written several pieces of chamber music, including some protest music. "I call them my hate cantatas," he said, his eyebrows working again. He referred to them as pieces about ideas he considers "socially relevant."

Erb received his undergradate training in music from Kent State University in Ohio, then went on to earn his master's in 1953 from the Cleveland Institute and his doctorate from Indiana University in 1964.

He said he first became interested in music through his aunt, a schoolteacher who taught him how to play the trumpet. Erb "took to it," and later started playing the piano and arranging pop tunes during high school.

"Then in 1956 he started composing music seriously and he's been at it ever since, tapping, thumping and occasionally foraging around in junkyards.

Flanagan look over the booklet, "The Story of Land," furnished for sixth grade students of both the city and county schools by the Pitt Soil and Water Conservation District. Over 400 copies of the booklet were presented to Roy Marsh, director of elementary education of the Greenville City Schools, while Mrs. Bradley was given 1100 copies. The five supervisors furnishing the booklets were Flanagan, Robert G. Little, Truman Haddock, Curtis Martin and Hugh Winslow. # Peyton Place Begins Steps To Leave TV

By BOB THOMAS
Associated Press Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Next month "Peyton Place" cuts back to one chapter a week on television. At the end of the season, the long-run serial will shuffle off the network, leaving a number of plots still tangled.

As it must to all TV series, "Peyton Place" will soon be breathing its last, consigned to daytime programming by anemic ratings. Paul Monash, the man who conceived the series and saw it through the five years and 500-plus episodes, has this feeling about the end:

"It's like watching an old friend die. You know it's a terminal disease, and that makes your friendship more precious than ever. But you keep your emotional distance in order to prepare yourself for the loss."

He has no regrets. After all, "Peyton Place" has had a good long ride on ABC. The viewing public took immediately to the innovation of a continuing story on two nights a week. The success was such that the network added a third night, which seemed to some critics as being a bit greedy.

The third chapter was later dropped, and now the second one. Monash complained about how that was done: "ABC kept us on Monday opposite 'Laugh-in' 'Lucy' instead of Wednesday, where we were doing pretty well. That seems to be a sign that the network is abandoning the show, except in skeletal form. No show can hope to do well opposite 'Laugh-in.'"

Can "Peyton Place" be saved? "The only thing that can do it is an avalanche of mail," said the executive producer. Switching the metaphor, he reported, "so far there has been a current, but not a flood."

He added his own diagnosis of show. The longer it goes on, the more complicated the plot becomes. After we had done 250 shows, the viewer who tuned in and tried to follow the plot was apt to be fairly well confused.

"I have seen no survey on this, but I suspect that the bulk of our viewers have been watching the show since its beginnings. The others drifted away, and not enough new fans have been added.

"It's the fault of the form. Actually our shows this season have never been better; they're more vital, alive and contemporary. But we've succumbed to the erosion of five years of being on the air."

Prisoner Helps In Language Gap

ST. LOUIS (UPI)—An inmate of the St. Louis County jail bailed the county sheriff out of a language problem which began when Sheriff Fred M. Joseph received a divorce petition—written in Spanish—from the court at Juarez, Mexico to be served on a woman in suburban Glendale.

Joseph, unable to read Spanish, scanned the prisoner list until he found a Mexican-sounding name: Florencio Diaz. Diaz, held on a burglary charge, agreed to translate the document so the summons could be served.

South Carolina Rally Carries Past Pirates

Phantoms Close Out Dec. Slate

Rose High School's Phantoms close out their pre-holiday play tonight as they travel to pay a return visit to the Camp Lejeune Devil Pups.

The Phants suffered their first loss of the season Tuesday night at the hands of the tough Washington Pam Pack, 83-73. Rose fell 17 points behind in the second period, despite a rally in the final half, was unable to catch up.

Mike Harrington again put on a fine display on offense, pouring in 26 points to boost his average to 21.5 for the season. Billy Clark also had a fine game, hitting consistently from the outside for 20 points to keep the Phants in the game.

The Devil Pups will provide another stiff challenge to the Phants as they look for their fourth win in five starts. In last week's game in Greenville, Rose had to put on a fine final period rally to win, 65-56.

Camp Lejeune likes to run and score quickly, and also uses a fine pressing defense. This caused the Phants a lot of trouble in the early going, and they fell behind by as much as eight points in the first half and seven points in the second half.

Only a fine effort by Harrington and Clark in the closing quarter was able to turn the tide for the Phants.

Lejeune will be looking for revenge in the contest. Earl Smith and Ray Ogle are the two offensive stars for the Devil Pups. Smith pumped in 18 points while Ogle got 12 in the first meeting of the two teams.

Their defense held Harrington to his lowest total of the season, 17 points. But Billy Taylor had his best night against the Pups, also getting 17.

The Phants look for a tough contest from the Devil Pups. Following this game, they'll return to action on January 3 with a home date against West Carteret.

Shula Named Coach Of Year

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Don Shula, the boss man of the Baltimore Colts, has been named Coach of the Year in the National Football League by the overwhelming vote of a 48-man panel for The Associated Press.

A committee composed of three sports writers or sportscasters from each of the league's 16 cities gave Shula 31 votes.

Jim Dooley, who did such an outstanding job with the Chicago Bears despite a series of crippling injuries to his quarterbacks and Gale Sayers, received eight votes.

Balton Collier, whose Cleveland Browns will meet Dallas for the Eastern Conference title Saturday at Cleveland, drew six votes. To Landry, Dallas coach, got one vote. Two members of the panel did not vote in this category.

Shula shared the coach of the year honors with George Allen of Los Angeles last year and won it all alone in 1964, the year his Colts were knocked off by Cleveland in the title game.

The 38-year-old Baltimore coach has compiled an enviable record of 63-18-3 in his six seasons as head man of the Colts. A hard-nosed defensive back who spent seven years in the NFL, Shula was an assistant coach at Virginia and Kentucky before he went into the pros as a defensive coach at Detroit in 1960.

Despite his fine winning record at Baltimore, Shula's career has been marred by many heartbreaking setbacks. The Colts were the beaten favorites in Cleveland 27-0 in the 1964 title game and lost a sudden death tie playoff at Green Bay 13-10 for the Western Conference championship in 1965.

In 1967, they were unbeaten until the last game of the season when a 34-10 defeat in Los Angeles knocked them out of a shot at all the post season money.

Gimme That Ball

South Carolina's John Ribock (41) watches teammate Bob Cremens (21) wrestle Rick Collins of East Carolina for the ball in the two schools. South Carolina pulled early action in last night's game between away from the Bucs in the second half to win, 75-61. (AP Wirephoto)

Defense, Rebounding Are Keys To Gamecock Win

COLUMBIA, S.C.—South Carolina shook off a stubborn East Carolina University team in the second half and gained a 75-61 victory over the Bucs last night.

It was the first meeting between the two schools, and a sellout crowd of 12,131 watched the encounter in which the Bucs controlled the first half, and the Gamecocks, the second. The defense of the Gamecocks, plus their great height advantage proved to be the difference in the game. South Carolina kept the Pirates from working the ball inside and effectively cut off their outside shooting. Big Tom Owens, 6-10, dominated the boards, picking off 16, while teammate John Ribock hauled down 14.

Overall, the Gamecocks came away with a 48-28 advantage on the boards, getting their second and third attempts, while the Bucs had to settle for one shot most of the time.

Still, the Pirates dominated most of the first half. South Carolina scored first, but Jim Gregory came back to score the first four points for the Bucs and give them the lead. For the first four minutes of the game, the two teams swapped the lead, and then East Carolina began to inch ahead.

With Gregory and Tom Miller leading the way, the Bucs steadily built up their lead. Miller hit from outside consistently, pushing in 17 points during the half. He was seven for 10 from the floor during the period.

Gregory finally hit on a jumper with 11:50 left to push the Pirates into a 19-11 advantage.

At that point, South Carolina Coach Frank McGuire called time, and regrouped his team, and the tide began to turn.

With Owens and John Roche leading the way, the Gamecocks began to rally in the remaining 10 minutes of the half. Finally, Owens hit on a jumper with 1:41 left to put South Carolina into the lead at 30-29, and neither team scored again before the half ended.

South Carolina came back out after intermission and put up a new defense against the Bucs, running a box-and-one combination designed to stop Miller's fine outside shooting. Roche was assigned to the Pirate guard, and limited him to only two points in the last 20 minutes of the game.

Billy Walsh, who had gone scoreless in the first half, led the way in the second, getting all 11 of his points, as Owens and Roche also were effective.

The Gamecocks pulled again, and in the first five minutes built up a nine-point edge. Walsh hit with 14.59 to play, making it 42-33. Then, with 13:36 left, Walsh hit and Bob Cremens hit on a layup to make it 46-34, and the Gamecocks were in full control.

South Carolina eventually led by as much as 17 points when they held a 68-51 advantage on Owens' layup with 4:34 left.

Miller led the Buc attack, getting 19 points, while Gregory finished with 13.

For South Carolina, Owens topped the scoring with a big 31. Roche, the leading scorer in the Atlantic Coast Conference, got only 17, while Walsh had 11 and Ribock had 10.

The Bucs return home on Saturday to face the unbeaten Colonials of Georgia Washington University.

Southern Teams Join Tourneys

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

That annual early season basketball madness, the holiday tournament, puts in its initial appearance among Southern Conference teams tonight with Virginia lodge members the first victims.

Richmond's Spiders and Virginia Military Institute's Keydets, who have won just twice in 10 satrbs between them, play the opening game of the first Virginia Big Five tournament at Salem's new civic center.

The winner has a date in Friday night's semifinals against the probable favorite, Virginia's Cavaliers of the Atlantic Coast Conference. The other Friday night clash sends independent Virginia Tech against a third Southern Conference member, winless William and Mary.

Tonight's VMI - Richmond clash is one of just two involving conference quintets. The other has Furman's Paladins, winless after three starts, at Georgia for a nonconference scrap.

East Carolina's Pirates dropped a 75-61 decision to South Carolina of the ACC in Wednesday night's only action as Tom Owens scored 31 points and grabbed 16 rebounds for the Gamecocks.

Tom Miller had 19 points for East Carolina, 17 in the first half when the Pirates trailed by just one point. The Gamecocks shot 68 per cent from the floor in the second half as they handed ECU its third loss in five games.

Morrall Given Honor As NFL's Most Valuable

By GORDON BEARD

Associated Press Sports Writer

BALTIMORE (AP) — Earl Morrall, obtained in a trade as a backup quarterback for John Unitas, played the role to the hilt during the 1968 National Football League season.

Morrall not only replaced the ailing Unitas as the Baltimore Colts' quarterback, he also succeeded Unitas as the NFL's Most Valuable Player in the annual Associated Press poll.

The 34-year-old Morrall, playing for his fifth NFL team, accepted the honor Wednesday about as unobtrusively as he took over as Baltimore's No. 1 signal caller.

"This is certainly the biggest personal honor I've ever received," he said quietly. Then came a gross understatement: "Never in my wildest dreams did I think anything like this would develop at the time of the trade."

The Colts picked up their gem at bargain basement rates—swapping reserve tight end Butch Wilson to the New York Giants during the exhibition season.

At the time, Unitas was bothered by his chronic elbow tendonitis but performing capably.

An injury to reserve quarterback Jim Ward actually spurred the Colts to make the deal.

But Unitas tore a muscle in his elbow in the final preseason game and, suddenly, Morrall was No. 1.

In his 13th season, Morrall wound up as the league's top passer under the NFL's complicated grading system—about the only passing honor which has eluded Unitas during a distinguished career.

Morrall completed 182 of 317 passes for 2,909 yards and 6 touchdowns while leading Baltimore to a 13-1 record, the Coastal Division championship, and Sunday's Western Conference title game against the Minnesota Vikings.

Morrall, who also was named the NFL All-Star quarterback, received 33 votes in the balloting by a panel of 48 writers and sportscasters from the 16 league cities.

Leroy Kelly, the Cleveland running back who won the NFL rushing title, was a distant second with five votes, followed by Cleveland quarterback Bill Nelsen, who received four.

There was one vote each for John Macky, Baltimore tight end; Dick Butkus, Chicago middle linebacker; Bob Lilly, Dallas defensive tackle, and Gale Sayers, Chicago running back.

Baltimore Discovers Secret Of Leading NBA

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Baltimore Bullets have discovered the secret for keeping atop of things in the National Basketball Association's torrid Eastern Division race—don't lose. It's about the only way.
The Bullets rode some timely late shooting by Kevin Loughery to their sixth straight victory Wednesday night—a 109-100 conquest of San Francisco.
Since runner-up Philadelphia whipped Seattle 115-111, the Bullets needed the triumph to preserve their precarious one game edge over the 76ers.
In other games, Detroit survived a 40-point shelling by rookie Elvin Hayes for a 124-112 victory over San Diego, New York turned back Boston 104-98, Atlanta stopped Milwaukee 122-116 and Phoenix defeated Cincinnati 123-114.

In the American Basketball Association, Indiana topped Miami 122-118 in overtime, New Orleans whipped New York 117-113 at Jackson, Miss., Denver defeated Houston 111-102 and Kentucky checked Los Angeles 115-107.
The Bullets had only an 80-76 lead after three quarters against the crippled Warriors, but then Loughery scored 10 of his 28 points to put it away.

Philadelphia, in extending its mastery over Seattle, staved off a last-ditch rally by the Super Sonics and whipped them for the 10th consecutive time. The Sonics, who came into the league last season as an expansion club, never have beaten the 76ers.
Gulfstream Park racetrack at Hallandale, Fla., will award a record $2,170,000 in purses during the 1969 meeting which starts March 5 and ends April 24.

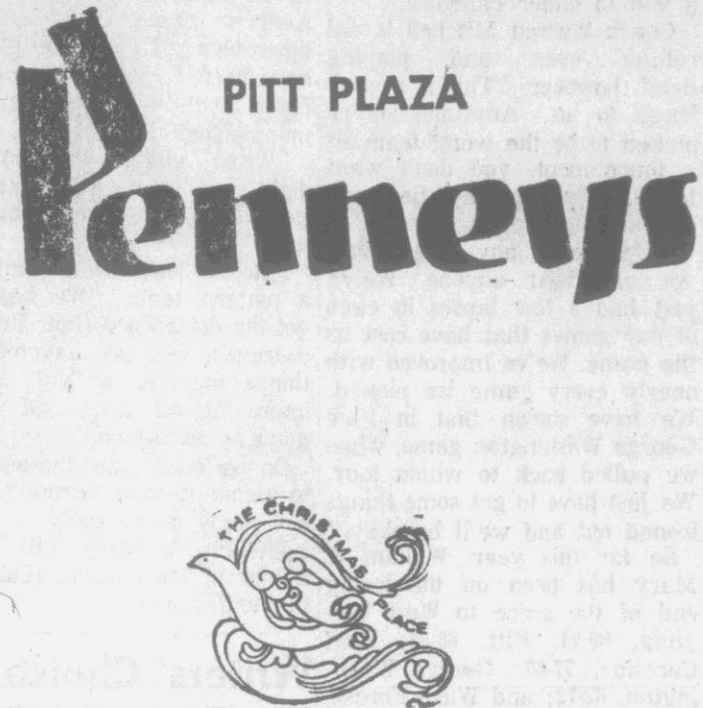

Philadelphia led 60-58 at halftime, and then pulled in front 101-85 early in the fourth period before the Sonics launched their spirited comeback.
Seattle closed within 112-111 with 61 seconds to go on a basket by Lenny Wilkens only to have the 76ers score the final three points.
The Sonics' Bob Rule garnered scoring laurels with 36 points and Chet Walker provided most of Philadelphia's punch with 30.
Phoenix reeled off the first nine points and was never headed after that in preventing Cincinnati from capitalizing on Boston's loss and moving into third place in the Eastern Division.

Gail Goodrich, who finished with 34, scored 15 points in the opening quarter to help stake the Suns to the early lead. Then, after being blanked in the second quarter, he came up with 17 in the third session to thwart a Royals' rally.
Jerry Lucas topped Cincinnati with 24 points, Oscar Robertson had 23 and Connie Dierking 22.
Atlanta shook off a late Milwaukee rally for its sixth straight victory to move to within 4½ games of idle Los Angeles in the Western Division.

The Bucks, down by as many as 16 points in the third quarter, moved to within three points before Joe Caldwell and Zelo Beatty keyed the Hawks' final period comeback.
Beatty finished with 27 points. Len Chappell and Jon McGlocklin each had 23 for the Bucks.
Detroit's triumph over the Rockets not only broke an eight-game losing streak, but also gave the Pistons their first victory since Paul Seymour took over as coach seven games ago.

125SPT1blyfyqysued21 eg19 NBA Rndup
Hayes, who also picked up 19 rebounds, had his production offset by a well-balanced Piston attack, topped by Jimmy Walker and Happy Hairston with 27 each.
The Rockets led 57-54 at the half before Walker dumped in 11 and Dave Bing nine in a third quarter spree that lifted the Pistons to an 81-78 lead. San Diego, which lost its fourth straight, managed to tie it in the final quarter, but then Detroit took control again.
New York rolled to a 64-48 halftime edge, then withstood a rally to hand the Celtics their third straight loss.

Boston slowly revived during the third quarter and tied it 71-71 on Don Nelson's hook. But Walt Bellamy, who scored 18 points, countered with six in a two-minute span to trigger the Knicks to an 82-78 lead.
The Celtics trimmed the lead to 99-97 late in the game before Walt Frazier and Dick Barnett each hit a pair of free throws to ensure New York's victory.
Barnett and Willis Reed each scored 24, while Bailey Howell had 32 for the Celtics.

Overtime Settles Miami Into American's Cellar

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Last place in the American Basketball Association's Eastern Division was the only thing at stake, but Fred Lewis and Bobby Hooper figured out a way to add a little drama to Indiana's 123-118 overtime victory over Miami Wednesday night.

Hooper calmly drilled in a 26-foot three-point shot with just 14 seconds left to tie the game 109-109 and force the overtime, then Lewis scored eight of the Pacers' 13 points in the extra session for the victory.
Meanwhile, New Orleans rallied from behind to trip New York 117-113 at Jackson, Miss., Denver whipped Houston 111-102 and Kentucky stopped Los Angeles 115-97 in the night's other games.

In the National Basketball Association, Baltimore topped San Francisco 109-100, Detroit shelled San Diego 124-112, New York beat Boston 104-98, Atlanta checked Milwaukee 122-116, Phoenix defeated Cincinnati 123-114 and Philadelphia whipped Seattle 115-111.

Indiana, paced by Bob Netolicky's career high 39 points, had led 58-55 at halftime in a game that was tight all the way. Lewis finished with 29, while Skip Thoren topped the Floridians with 28.

New Orleans trailed by nine points at the start of the final quarter before rallying to defeat the Nets. Gerald Govan's tip-in with 43 seconds left put the Bucs ahead 115-113, and Steve Jones iced with a pair of free throws with 14 seconds remaining.

James Jones and Austin "Red" Robbins each scored 27 for New Orleans, while Walt Simon had 28 for New York.

Larry Jones scored 15 of his 27 points in the last quarter to spark Denver past the Mavericks. Denver led 59-53 at the half, but Houston managed to trim the lead to 101-99 with 2:55 remaining. But then he Rockets outscored the Mavericks 10-1 to put it out of doubt.

Lonnie Wright shared scoring honors with Jones with 27, and Stew Johnson had 22 and Willie Somerset 20 for Houston.

Darrell Carriers and Louie Dampier teamed for 61 points in sparking Kentucky to its comeback-behind victory over the Stars.

The Colonels didn't lead until they took a 78-76 advantage midway through the third quarter. Los Angeles managed to stay close until Carrier and Dampier triggered a late spurt that put the game out of reach.
Carrier finished with 33 points and Dampier had 29. Ed Johnson had 24 for the Stars.

Area Cagers Close Out Pre-Holiday Schedule

Area basketball teams will close out their pre-Christmas play tonight and Friday with three Pitt County contests among the action.

Tonight, Ayden will be seeking its first win at Chicod in the only Pitt Conference action, while Robersonville visits Belhaven and South Ayden is at Robinson in other action.

Friday night, Belvoir will be at Stokes, Bethel is at Winterville, South Lenoir goes to Grifton, Four Oaks is at Farmville, Greene Central is at North Lenoir, and Warsaw goes to South Ayden. The Eppes Bulldogs will meet an alumni team.

The Bethel and Grifton boys have taken over the early lead in the Pitt County Conference. Both own 2-0 records. Chicod and Stokes are tied for third place with 1-1 marks, while Winterville and Ayden are 0-1 and Belvoir is 0-2.

In the girls race, Bethel is in sole possession of first place with a 2-0 mark. The Squaws are yet to lose in 11 appearances.

Winterville and Ayden are knotted for second at 1-0, while Belvoir and Grifton are both 1-1.

Chicod and Stokes are yet to win with 0-2 records.

There were a lot of changes in the area scoring race, but the top two positions remained the same. Mike Harrington of Rose High School still leads with a 21.5 average, the same mark he had last week. In second is Richard Roberson of Bethel Union with a 20.9 mark, slightly lower than last week.

After that, it's almost an entirely different list, as five newcomers make the list, replacing five others in the top 20.

Only two others held their position, with six advances and five declines among those back from last week.

Following the top two are Ron Bowen of Greene Central, 17.6, and Hoyt Haddock of Stokes, 17.4. Next comes Charlie Grimes of South Ayden at 16.5, and Robbie Hill of Greene Central and Eddie Stokes of Bethel, both 16.0.

Edmonds of H. B. Sugg and Willie Smith of Eppes are tied for eighth with 15.3 marks, while Ronnie Stokes of Winterville is 10th with a 15.2 average.

Danny Smith of Robinson leads off the second 10, with a 14.5 mark, with teammate Jeff Jones close behind at 14.4. Another step back is Farmville's George Moore with a 14.3 mark. William Shivar of Belvoir and Garland Warren of Chicod are tied for 14th with 14.1 averages.

Larry Sutton of Grifton is in 16th position with a 13.8 average, followed by Bethel's Douglas Dunning, 13.4. Andy McLawhorn of Ayden, 13.4, Carlton Highsmith of Bethel Union, 12.7, and John Corey of Stokes, 12.6.

Faye Everett continues to lead the girls scoring race. The Winterville star has a 15.3 average, up nearly a point from last week. Marion McLawhorn of Grifton moves up from third to second with a 14.6 mark, while Debbie Purvis of Bethel drops back to third with a 12.7 average.

Jackie Dail of Ayden breaks into the list with a 12.3 mark, followed by Susan James of Bethel, 11.7, Theresa Harrell of Belvoir, 10.9, and Carolyn Whichard of Bethel, 10.3.

William & Mary Seeking Victory

By WOODY PEELE
(Fifth of a series)

If anyone is picking someone to finish in eighth place in the eight team Eastern Carolina Classic, William & Mary would be the most likely candidate.

The Indians have lost five straight games, and have two remaining contests left prior to the Classic. Both are in the Big Five Tournament. They'll meet Virginia Tech in the first round on Friday, and then play another Big Five team in the final round on Saturday.

And it doesn't appear likely that they'll be able to pick up a win in either category.

Coach Warren Mitchell is not rolling over and playing dead, however. "This is a challenge to us. Anytime you're picked to be the worst team in a tournament, you don't want to be, so you try a little harder."

"I think on any given night we can beat anyone. We've just had a few lapses in each of our games that have cost us the game. We've improved with nearly every game we played. We have shown that in the George Washington game, when we pulled back to within four. We just have to get some things ironed out and we'll be okay."

So far this year, William & Mary has been on the losing end of the score to West Virginia, 89-74; Pitt, 68-62; East Carolina, 77-66; George Washington, 82-72; and Wake Forest, 98-53.

"We have only one starter back from last year's team, Dave Daugherty. We lost our first, second and third scorers and our first and second rebounder," Mitchell said. One of these losses, Bob Sherwood, was not due to graduation, however, but to hepatitis.

"He was our leading scorer, and we had hoped that he'd give us a lot of help this year," Mitchell said. "But it appears that he won't play any this year."

"We have some good freshmen this year, and a couple of transfer students who aren't eligible, so I think our program is on the upswing. We're going to be better in the future."

Mitchell pointed out that Daugherty is the only senior on the team. "We're using a lot of sophomores, and this can cause problems. They've played pretty good so far, and I'd say our worst game was against East Carolina."

Joining Daugherty in the starting lineup are Tom Jancaitis and Paul King, who alternate at forward, and either Harry Kent or Steve Dodge at the other forward post. The guards have been Scott Melennan and Dave Stout, with Neil Gewirtzman as their backup man.

"We're going with the eight men primarily, hoping to get them ready for the future."

Mitchell feels the Indians are a pattern team. "We have to get the disciplined shot. I'm encouraged, but we haven't put things together as yet. We're improving all along and we're going to click soon."

On defense, the Indians go to a man-to-man normally, and will press occasionally.

William & Mary will meet Baylor in the opening round of the tournament.

Clemson Faces Tough Contest

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
If the Clemson basketball team is to close out 1968 with a winning record, the Tigers will have to do something their football team couldn't do — beat Alabama and Auburn.

Coach Bobby Roberts has his charges in Tuscaloosa for a game tonight against Alabama, the only game on the Atlantic Coast Conference schedule.

On Saturday night Clemson winds up its Alabama sojourn, moving to Birmingham to play Auburn.

Clemson is 1-2, having followed an opening game victory over Georgia Tech with losses to LSU and North Carolina. The Tigers' only 1968 game remaining after the southern sojourn at Duke Dec. 28.

Junior Butch Zatezal scored 32 points for Clemson in the loss to North Carolina Monday night, bringing his average to 23, the same figure with which he led the ACC last season.

Only one ACC team saw action Wednesday night, South Carolina pulling away with a 45-point last half on its home court to trim East Carolina of the Southern Conference 75-61.

Tom Owens, one of four starting gamecock sophomores, had his biggest night of the season, scoring 31 points and grabbing 16 rebounds. He'd averaged 12 points in four previous games.

South Carolina led 30-29 at the half after trailing the Pirates most of the way in scoring its fourth victory in five games.

The Gamecocks hit 18 of 27 shots in the last half.

Tom Miller scored 17 of his 19 points in the first half in leading East Carolina.

Owners Meet To Choose Successor

By JERRY LISKA

CHICAGO (AP) — Deciding against a waiting game, baseball's major league owners meet Friday to consider a commissioner to succeed William D. Eckert who resigned just 13 days ago.

Eckert, 60, resigned Dec. 6 in a stunning winnow of the majors' winter meeting. The action, reportedly taken at the direction of club owners meeting in executive session, ended a criticized three-year regime.

The need for a baseball man seems the rallying cry in the owners' move to install the game's fifth czar as quickly as possible in the face of growing problems, such as a threatened player strike next spring.

Boomed as a prime candidate, at least in the past, is Mike Burke, who became a director of the New York Yankees four years ago when the Columbia Broadcasting system bought the club and then ascended to Yankee presidency in 1966.

Other potential candidates, more steeped in baseball than Burke, include Judge Robert Cannon of Milwaukee, knowledgeable on both sides of the player-owner fence; Chub Feeney, vice president of the San Francisco Giants; Jo Cronin, president of the American League, and general managers Lee MacPhail of the Yankees and Bing Dvigne of the St. Louis Cardinals.

A National-American League cleavage could develop as the owners size up the best candidate. One of the things that irked the NL about Eckert was the commissioner's failure to veto the AL's gun-jumping a year ago in expanding to 12 clubs in 1969.

Goalies Do Job In NHL Action

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The National Hockey League's goaltending story Wednesday night was something old, something new and something borrowed and the results left the Oakland Seals, Los Angeles Kings and New York Rangers feeling blue.

Something old was Toronto's 44-year-old Johnny Bower kicking out 30 shots as the red-hot Maple Leafs turned back Oakland 5-2 on third-period goals by Floyd Smith, Bob Pulford and George Armstrong.

Something new was Montreal rookie Tony Esposito, 25, still unbeaten after six NHL starts as the Canadiens rallied to tie the Los Angeles 2-2 on Yvan Cournoyer's goal with 3:25 to play.

Something borrowed was Chicago's Denis DeJordy, brilliant in a 3-1 victory over New York in his first game since coming back from a five-week exile in the minors.

The Maple Leafs struggled with Oakland for two periods before Smith snapped a 2-2 tie at 8:10 of the final stanza. Pulford scored 47 seconds later and Armstrong wrapped it up in the closing minutes.

Mike Pelyk and Jim Dorey also scored for the Leafs as Pelyk's first NHL goal — while Gary Jarrett and Mike Laughton tallied for the Seals.

The triumph gave the Leafs six wins and a tie in their last seven games and moved them within a point of second-place Boston in the NHL's East Division.

Esposito, a second-year pro, stepped in for Montreal after Gump Worsley was ordered to take a month's rest to cure his jangled nerves and Rogatien Vachon broke a hand. The NHL rookie has three wins and three ties in the six games he has started and the Canadiens have a three-point lead over Boston.

Another rookie goalie, Gerry Desjardins, was sensational as the Kings grabbed a 2-0 lead on second-period goals by Ron Anderson and Larry Cahen. But the Canadiens fired 42 shots at their ex-farmland and Dick Duff and Cournoyer finally beat him.

DeJordy was lend-leased to the Central League after allowing 40 goals in 12 games early this season.

Ky. Wesleyan Is Small Poll Leader

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Kentucky Wesleyan has almost doubled its lead today over runner-up Central State of Ohio in the latest Associated Press' small-college basketball poll after tacking two more victories onto its unbeaten record.

The Panthers, winners over Arkansas State and Southwest Missouri State last week for a 5-0 mark, drew 12 first-place votes and 268 points in the balloting by a national panel of 14 sports writers and broadcasters.

The Owensboro, Ky., team's lead is 62 points compared to 33 last week. Central State collected two votes for the top position and 206 points in the latest vote based on games through last Saturday. Central State was idle last week.

Trinity, Tex., and Ashland, Ohio, traded places, Trinity rising to third after winning three games last week. Fairmont, W. Va., climbed four positions to fifth. Long Beach State, Cheyenne State, Youngstown, Stephen F. Austin and Gannon, Pa., round out the Top Ten in that order.

Stephen F. Austin gained the most ground, advancing from a tie for 19th to the No. 9 spot. Stephen F. Austin is 6-1 after beating McNeese State 92-87 in its only game last week.

South Dakota State, 4-2, is the only new team in the rankings. SD State moved into 19th place. Winston-Salem State and Westminster, Pa., who were tied for ranking positions a week ago, dropped out of the Top 20.

The Top 20, with first-place votes, records and total points:
1. Ky. Wesleyan (12) 5-0 268
2. Cent. St., Ohio (2) 2-1 206
3. Trinity, Tex. 6-1 184
4. Ashland, Ohio 4-0 163
5. Fairmont, W. Va. 6-0 136

Judge Finds 90 Guilty Of Contempt Of Court

SWAN QUARTER, N.C. (AP) — The controversy over Hyde County school desegregation policies has resulted in 99 Negroes being found guilty of contempt of court.

U.S. 'Beat' Poet Receives Prize

TAORMINA, Sicily (AP) — An Italian jury Wednesday awarded a $4,800 "Etna Taormina" award to American beat poet Lawrence Ferlinghetti.

District Court Judge Hallett Ward found them in contempt Wednesday afternoon after he had found six teenagers guilty of disrupting school and damaging public property and then found 23 other Negroes guilty of blocking traffic during demonstrations last month.

Sheriff C. J. Cahoon said that Negro adults and teenagers created a disturbance in the courtroom by stomping their feet, clapping their hands and refusing to stand when court was to convene.

The judge found them guilty of contempt and sentenced them to 30 days in jail. The sheriff said they would be taken to county jail in Swan Quarter and other nearby jails.

No Robberies Under New Plan

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — The Indianapolis Transit System says it has had no bus robberies since Nov. 12 when passengers were required to have exact change. A company spokesman says only about 30 cash refund slips are issued each day, mainly because passengers help each other make change.

guilty of disrupting school and damaging public property at the O. A. Peay elementary school on Dec. 6. Last week he found seven others guilty of the same charges.

All 13 were given suspended sentences of four months and fined $100 and costs and ordered to be at home by 11:30 o'clock nightly unless given permission by a probation officer to remain away later.

All have been jailed, pending appeals.

The 23 persons charged with blocking traffic were fined and also jailed after giving notice of appeal. The women were fined $35 and costs, the men $50 and costs.

A final day of the special two-day court term to clear up the cases was scheduled today.

Negroes have objected to a proposal to close the county's two Negro schools in favor of a consolidated school. They say they want three mixed schools, and a Negro boycott has been in progress since September.

JERUSALEM (AP) — A kosher hotel, the Grand Vienna, has been opened in the Arab sector of Jerusalem. The four-story hotel—the first kosher one ever in East Jerusalem—is Arab-owned but will be run by Jewish management.

Santa Has Airplane, But Keeping Reindeer

NORTH POLE, Alaska (AP) — The mechanical revolution has finally caught up with Santa Claus—he's got an airplane now.

But Con Miller, 56, who doubles as Santa Claus during the Christmas season, said he'll still keep the reindeer team.

Miller said he's presently snowed under with Christmas mail that has been sent to this small town of 600 persons 14 miles southeast of Fairbanks, where he serves as mayor and postmaster.

But, as soon as the holiday season is over he intends to resume using a $14,000 plane he won in a recent contest.

"Once I get my license, I'll be able to get around a little faster," he said.

Miller estimates that when Christmas Day arrives he and Mrs. Miller and their 7-year-old daughter, Merry Christmas, will have processed about 700,000 letters.

"We are getting heavy mail this year from places like Australia, New Zealand, Ireland, Scotland. I had a letter from Kenya and we have had several from East Germany," he said.

There's also been mail from GI's in Vietnam. Many fathers in uniform write Santa here and ask him to re-mail their letters home with the North Pole postmark, he said.

Santa's family is now deeply involved in politics.

Miller's son Terry, 25, became the youngest man ever elected to the Alaska state Senate, last month. The elder Miller serves on the state board of paroles.

In 1967, 93 per cent of all U.S. households owned one or more television sets, 85 per cent owned a refrigerator and 72 per cent had a washing machine, according to the Census Bureau.

Create 'Portable' Fringe In Construction Industry

CHARLOTTE — Carolinas Branch, AGG, announced Tuesday that it has developed, and is ready to implement, a group life insurance and hospitalization program to be offered to members for their hourly construction workers. The program has a unique portability-of-benefits feature and is the first of its kind in this country.

Carolinas Branch President Marvin L. McCrory, McCrory-Sumwalt Construction Company, Columbia, S. C., in announcing the program, said, "The Portable Employees Program (referred to as PEP) scores another 'first' for Carolinas Branch in the area of good labor-management relations. It is one more part of our continuing effort to recognize and solve manpower problems in the Carolinas construction industry."

The program will operate under a trustee agreement.

The program is wholly financed by participating employers and provides life insurance and hospitalization benefits for eligible employees and their dependents. It is available to all regular and associate members. In the construction industry an employee may work for several firms in any given year. This is due to construction project phases and completions. Normally a worker does not remain with one company long enough to become eligible for its particular fringe benefit programs.

Under PEP an employee would be eligible for benefits, regardless of his mobility, as long as he works a required number of hours and works for any of the participation; contractors. The plan also features an "hours bank" system, which enables an employee to build up hours towards eligibility during periods of peak construction activity. These banked hours can be used to meet eligibility requirements during bad weather or slow periods.

Managing Director Henry J. Pierce described the program as "designed specifically for the Carolinas construction industry with its unique employee-employer relationships. It should be very helpful in attracting and holding people in our industry." Pierce said, "we recognize that a construction worker has problems and working conditions different from those of other industries. Because of this, we must use greater imagination and different yard-sticks in our attempts to maintain a capable and plentiful labor force. PEP is one result of this."

The Carolinas Branch Labor Relations Committee, The Industrial Relations Division, and the consulting firm of Alesler G. Furman Company, Greenville, S.C., spent over eighteen months developing the program, much of the work dealing with the portability feature.

The program carried is Continental National American Group and the administrator is Administration by Continental, Inc.

Dialogue Period Included In One Church's Service

By ED GROSSWILER
Associated Press Writer

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — The Roman Catholic churchgoer, long a silent participant in the Sunday Mass, gets an opportunity to express his views at a parish in northeast Portland.

In an experiment designed to involve the layman more fully in the Mass, the traditional sermon has been replaced by dialogue during the noon Mass at All Saints church, one of the city's largest parishes.

The Rt. Rev. Thomas J. Tobin, pastor of All Saints, says that attendance at the noon Mass in the first two months of the experiment has increased impressively.

More importantly, he says, the dialogue has brought back Catholics who had discontinued regular weekly attendance at Mass. It also has attracted many non-Catholics.

"There are two persons taking convert classes right now" as a result of the dialogue, Msgr. Tobin said.

The dialogue opens with a brief introduction of the topic by the moderator, who is one of the four priests in the parish.

The moderator comes down from the altar with a microphone and when a parishioner volunteers a comment, the moderator passes the microphone to him. The other priests also take part in the dialogue as part of the audience.

Topics have ranged from "The Obligations of Voting" to "What is Real Prayer." One week the dialogue centered on the problem of getting more people involved in the dialogue. It was decided at that session to publish the topic of each Sunday's dialogue in the parish bulletin the previous week.

The topic usually is selected from parishioners' suggestions. In contrast to many Catholic parishes where the priests celebrate Mass, then quickly return to the rectory on Sunday, the parishioners of All Saints have ample opportunity to see the four priests on Sunday.

Msgr. Tobin compared Sunday Mass to a big sale at a department store where all the salesmen are on duty. "The people get to church once a week and the priests should be available to talk with them."

Thus at noon Mass, Msgr. Tobin and his priests take part in the dialogue and afterwards talk to those who were reticent to speak during the Mass. They are usually swamped.

The dialogue also provokes discussion among families as they leave church and later at home.

"The response has been quite good so far," Msgr. Tobin says. He expects other parishes to introduce the dialogue at some Masses.

He doesn't know if the dialogue will replace the sermon at all Masses because of the time problem.

Most Catholic Masses on Sunday last 45 minutes to one hour and are scheduled hourly between 7 and noon to accommodate all the parishioners. The dialogue lengthens the Mass so that one or two of the morning Masses might have to be eliminated. This would strain the seating facilities of most churches.

Sweden Shows Bushmen's Art

GABERONES, Botswana (AP) — Swedish interest in African arts and crafts may soon come to the aid of the Kalahari Desert Bushmen, one of the world's most primitive peoples.

The Bushmen, many of whom still hunt with poisoned arrows and gather insect and plant foods in barren desert regions as did their Stone Age ancestors, are skilled at fashioning hunting bows, miniature love bows used in courtship, brown buckskin aprons, ostrich shield beads and other traditional items.

Now they will be able to make money from these handicrafts. Hundreds of Bushmen artifacts have been bought for the Swedish International Development Association for exhibition at Stockholm's Afro-Art Boutique.

Swedish ceramic artist Stefan Snidare, who bought the items for the association, said Afro-Art hopes to create a base for a handicrafts industry, where failing or declining handicrafts will be given new impetus.

Money obtained from the goods will form a new source of income for impoverished Botswana and Swedish teachers, and tools will help the Bushmen and Botswana's other indigenous tribes develop their traditional arts.

PLAQUE OF APPRECIATION . . . Claude J. Goodman, county agricultural extension agent, (right) was presented a plaque of appreciation by Jarvis Allen, outgoing president of the Pitt County Livestock Development Association, at the Association's annual banquet and ladies' night Monday night. Goodman was praised for his contributions to the Association and for his superior work with livestock producers and with 4-H Club members interested in livestock production.

Columbus Brought Chocolate To Old World; Taste Spread

NEW YORK (UPI)—Americans are a candy-loving people and their per capita consumption of sweets is among the world's highest. A variety of confections products made of chocolate seem to be favored.

The story of where chocolate comes from and how it is made into a confection is a fascinating one.

Cacao (pronounced ca-cow) is the Spanish word usually accepted as the name for the chocolate tree and its beans—though the English version, cocoa, is commonly used.

Columbus first brought cocoa beans back to Spain from the New World, where chocolate was the royal drink of the Aztecs, and of the Incas of Peru.

A later Spanish explorer, Hernando Cortez, introduced chocolate as a hot beverage, sweetening it with cane sugar and vanilla. The drink soon became a favorite with the Spanish court and eventually spread, first to France, then to England and the rest of Europe.

A pioneer in the introduction of chocolate into the United States was Domingo Ghirardelli, a merchant of Italian ancestry, who came to the New World and settled in Peru.

Enticed by the Gold Rush of 1848, Ghirardelli went to San Francisco and set up a store to supply gold miners with flour, lard and biscuits. But he also put on sale product he had found in ancient Lima—chocolate—and by the 1860's was selling it almost exclusively.

Year by year, the Ghirardelli business grew, and a series of red brick buildings near San Francisco Bay became its factory headquarters.

Today, the original factory is gone, but visitors to San Francisco can delight in a miniature chocolate factory which has been installed on the premises, where the various steps of chocolate-making may be seen and sampled. Across the Bay, in Oakland, the company processes its chocolate products in a modern, automated plant.

Gunman Robs A Blind Couple

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — A gunman robbed a blind couple of all their Christmas shopping money and threatened to kill their frightened, weeping son unless he kept quiet, police said Wednesday.

Deputy inspector of detectives Kenneth Marple said the robbery victims, Kenneth Northrop, 33, and his wife, Carolyn, had gone Christmas shopping Tuesday night, escorted by their sighted son, James, 8.

The gunman accosted the family on a South Side street, stuck a pistol in Northrop's ribs and told him, "I want your money." Mrs. Northrop told the man, "We are blind and we don't have much money. Let us keep what little we have."

"I don't have any money," the gunman answered. "I'm a hippie. I can't get a job."

The Northrop boy started to cry. The man pointed a gun at his head and told the parents, "keep him quiet or I'll kill him."

The gunman took $51, then fled.

Rent Strikers Buy Apartments

DETROIT (AP) — A Detroit inner city rent strikers organization has purchased nine apartment buildings and plans to rehabilitate them at a cost of $3 million.

The all Negro group, named the United Tenants for Collective Action, purchased the buildings from Albert Goodman for $710,000. It is said to be the largest land acquisition ever made in Detroit by an all-Negro group.

The group plans to use a Negro architect and contractor and as much Negro labor as possible.

A subsidiary of United Tenants financed the down payment from a loan by the Metropolitan Detroit Citizens Development Authority.

The subsidiary, United Tenants Rehabilitation Co., is negotiating for a $3 million loan from the federal housing authority to rehabilitate the buildings.

Entire Kitchen Sank In River

NEWPORT, Ky. (AP) — You've heard that old expression "everything but the kitchen sink"?... well, that aptly described the Newport Yacht Club.

Helen Enzweiler, a concessionaire at the floating club, said her steel-hull kitchen "just dropped out from underneath" and sank in about 20 feet of water Wednesday.

She estimated the loss at $80,000, but could not explain why the kitchen went down.

The sprawling club is composed of several connecting sections and sits on the Ohio River just across from Cincinnati.

NATO To Have Its Own Satellite

By CARL HARTMAN
Associated Press Writer

BRUSSELS (AP) — American forces and their European allies are getting a communications satellite that will help them keep in touch on any threat from the Soviet Union.

It is due to be launched from Cape Kennedy late next year. The satellite will look something like a silver-plated hatbox, some three feet across, with a stumpy antenna sticking out at the top. Its 100 to 200 pounds of electronic gear will cost about $20 million to build and shoot into orbit.

Another $30 million is being spent on ground and sea stations under the authority of 14 nations of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. France, though still a member of the alliance, is not participating.

NATO's satellite will enable a commander at a remote but important post in the Arctic, for example, to talk secretly and almost simultaneously with dozens of other posts. They would include not only NATO's main military headquarters near Casteau, Belgium, but also—for example—an airfield in the eastern Mediterranean or an aircraft carrier at the entrance to the Panama Canal. These are hypothetical examples: NATO is not saying where the equipment will be installed.

The satellite will be able to handle hundreds of communications at once, including voice transmissions as well as teletype messages. It will also have "conference capability." That is, a group of commanders—or chiefs of state—each sitting in his own office will be able to hold a discussion without using commercial cable or radio links.

"There was a time," a NATO publication recalls, "when one man armed with a pair of pliers could paralyze an entire army simply by snipping the telegraph wires. Today, instead of

Tips On Serving That Champagne

NEW YORK (AP) — If you're serving champagne this holiday season, here from David Kane, American representative for Henriot Champagne are some tips on what to serve with it:

Never serve sweets with a brut champagne.

Do not drink champagne immediately after a heavy red wine.

Begin a meal with a lighter wine and proceed to a heavier one.

Wine is not a friend of salads or eggs.

To analyze the qualities of a champagne serve a simple biscuit with as little taste as possible.

mile upon mile of exposed wire, a single satellite, placed beyond the reach of any but the most advanced—and still uncertain—forms of attack, acts as the link between a multitude of decision centers.

"Since one can only guess at the form an emergency might take, crisis planning is almost exclusively a matter of relying on sure communications."

NATO Satcom II is being built by the Philco-Ford Corp. at Palo Alto, Calif. Its eventual station will be an orbit 22,600 miles from the earth. Synchronized with the earth's movements, it will remain approximately over the same point on the earth's surface. Drift will be corrected by a motor on board, set going through radio impulses from the ground.

While waiting for Satcom II to be launched, experts from the other NATO countries are being trained on satellites belonging to the United States armed forces.

This phase of the work is called NATO Satcom I.

A group of NATO countries is also working on a system of tactical communications which may one day enable comparatively small units to keep in touch by satellite. If that succeeds, there could be a different look to such basic military problems as how units are best put together and deployed for action—problems that depend largely on communications.

NATO officials hope the satellite program can serve as a precedent for cooperation on other jointly used products and weapons. Costs are being shared according to an agreed table. The United States will bear 30 per cent of the cost. Of the money spent on the ground stations, each participating country—except for the United States—gets back 90 per cent of its contribution in the form of production contracts for industries within its frontiers.

This system is more costly and complicated than it would be if contracts were given entirely to advanced industrial countries, like the United States and West Germany, but it is the only way in which virtually all members of the alliance can be persuaded to work together. It also has the advantage of stimulating the electronics industry in countries where it is just beginning to develop.

See Reduction Of Holiday Toll

CHARLOTTE—With this season's holidays falling in the middle of the work week, North Carolina's traffic toll should be sharply reduced to no more than nine fatalities for the 30-hour Christmas period and perhaps only six for the similar New Year's period, the N. C. State Motor Club predicted today.

The state will officially count its Christmas holiday traffic deaths from 6 p.m. Tuesday, Dec. 24, through midnight Wednesday, Dec. 26, and its New Year's toll from 6 p.m. Tuesday, Dec. 31, through midnight Wednesday, Jan. 1. The Christmas count for a 78-hour period last year was 27 killed and 882 injured in 1,481 accidents, while for New Year's it was 17 killed and 515 injured in 879 accidents.

Leading driver violations involved in the Christmas accidents were: speeding, 313; failure to yield right of way, 195; driving left of center, 181; following too closely, 100; and driving under the influence of alcohol, 89. For New Year's they were: speeding, 201; failure to yield, 127; and driving left of center, 119.

Lunar Claim By Prospector

WINNEMUCCA, Nev. (AP) — A prospector has filed claim to 10,000 square miles on the moon to create a "new utopia" he calls "moonshine valley."

O. C. "Charlie" Norris filed his claim Tuesday with Humboldt County Recorder J.L. Germain. The property surrounds whatever point man first sets foot on the lunar surface.

"I can't see where it would harm anyone, so I recorded this one," Germain said.

UN Employe Becoming Authority On New York City By Walking

By TOM HOGE
Associated Press Writer

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — A U.N. information officer is becoming an authority on the lesser-known oddities in Manhattan by walking every street on the island.

"I have walked 560 streets so far and have only about 120 to go to cover Manhattan from tip to tip," said Frank Barabas, a tall, husky bachelor of 35.

That means covering nearly 1,000 miles on foot since Barabas and his girl friend, Philippine-born Anne Keenan, of the U.N. field service, began their streets and not blocks we are covering," said Barabas. "Some, like Broadway, run 200 blocks or more in Manhattan alone. And we cover both sides of every street; up one side and down the other.

"I have always been fascinated by Manhattan; I like walking, and I believe in doing things in an orderly manner," said Barabas, who lives in Jersey City, N.J.

Barabas does his walking weekends, evenings and in "any other spare time I have."

He has been struck by the distinctive national atmosphere of the ethnic communities scattered throughout the city.

"I remember one hot night when Anne and I walked through the Puerto Rican section of East Harlem," he said. "Families sat gossiping on the front stoops of their apartment houses, while peddlers hawked live crabs, crayfish and eels. Some had their pushcarts filled with Caribbean fruits. It was like being in a Latin American village."

Barabas and his girl friend have been intrigued by the odd eating places and strange stores they have stumbled upon; such as the tea shop in lower Manhattan where you enter a room out of Victorian England, and a quaint-looking old man ladles out bags of imported tea leaves for his patrons.

"Then there are the East European coffee houses and old brass shops on Allen Street, and the spice stores on East 23rd where you can buy all kinds of herbs from the Middle East," he said.

"I have been amazed to find how many things you can do in this town without spending any money," he added. "There are the parks and zoos of course, and also free movies at museums, art shows, street festivals and block dances."

One evening the couple dropped into Kelly's Temple on West 130th Street and watched a rousing revival service. During the evening, members of the audience swooning with ecstasy arose and announced that they were embracing the Pentecostal faith.

Barabas and his girl friend have never been molested on their strolls although they walked through Harlem during the 1964 riots.

The only incident they ever witnessed was a purse snatching in Midtown off Park Avenue, perhaps the most affluent neighborhood in town.

"There is always the unexpected," said Barabas, "like the time Anne and I were flagged down by a Coast Guard cutter when we ventured out onto an East River pier and were ordered to get back onto the mainland."

"Anyone can be stopped by the police for some infraction, but who would expect to run afoul of the Coast Guard in the heart of America's biggest city?"

Employe Award For 2 Students

Two East Carolina University students have been honored with ninth annual "Student-Employe-of-the-Year" awards from the ECU Students Supply Stores. Engraved plaques and $150 scholarships were presented to Judith Williams of Greenville and Cameron Cox of Sanford and Cary.

The co-winners were picked by a Students Supply Stores committee. Nominees were drawn from the 60 students who help pay their college expenses by working part-time in the student stores.

Joseph O. Clark, manager of or recognizes "students who get along well with fellow workers, who have a favorable attitude toward duties and who make a habit of outstanding performance of assignments."

Miss Williams and Cox, he noted, have been outstanding members of the student staff.

On hand at the awards ceremony and to make brief addresses were Dr. Leo W. Jenkins, president of the university, and Mrs. Jenkins; and F. D. Duncan, vice-president and business manager, and Mrs. Duncan.

Has International Connections In Bee-Breeding

By JACK HOLMES
Burlington Times-News Writer
Written for The AP

GRAHAM, N.C. (AP)—George F. Curtis and Sons near Graham, a family-oriented bee-breeding business with international connections, began almost by accident in the 1920s. Business has been literally buzzing ever since. The late W. O. Curtis just liked to "fool around" with bees at first, as early as 1913. Then came World War I and sugar, or any other sweetener, was hard to come by. You almost had to produce your own to get any. Besides, the Curtises had a deal sweet tooth for honey, and at that time they probably preferred it to sugar.

The late Mr. Curtis began breeding queen bees and went into the business commercially. Over the years, bees have taken more and more of the Curtis family's time.

Today, George Curtis, his sons, Harold and Elliott, the men's wives and children, have built their beekeeping into a $60,000 a year business.

The enterprise encompasses two states in its operation, North Carolina and Florida, and demands a family exodus twice a year.

The Curtises call the little spread south of Graham home, even though they actually live in LaBelle, Fla., a little longer each year. Weather conditions permit the breeding and honey-producing operations only a part of each year in either state.

The activity near Graham runs from July through October, and in the small, southwest coastal town in Florida from about the middle of November through June.

The family itself is able to handle the operation while it is centered in North Carolina, but in Florida they employ two full-time men to keep up with the pace of the business there.

Curtis and his sons note that the bulk of their income is derived from the sale of queen bees, honey (worker) bees, honey and the sale of wax.

However, they do have a sideline in Florida. They actually put the bees themselves to work—pollinating crops such as watermelons and cucumbers for the large agricultural operations there.

The men rent out hives of bees to the farmers in Florida, set them up properly, and then pick up their hives again after the growing season ends. This operation is not as easy as it sounds because in some cases the Curtises have to go into the croplands in rugged Florida marsh country by helicopter. George Curtis and Sons, formerly Alamance Bee Co., unique in its family-circle orientation, is perhaps best known for its Starline and Midnite Bees and Queens, which are shipped to beekeepers all over the world. The company also fills all orders for bees received by Carolina Biological Supply Co. in Burlington, itself an internationally known company, logical supply equipment firm.

The Curtises themselves ship about 14,000 queen bees per year, plus about 1,200 packages (including a queen and enough worker bees to start a beehive) to more than 15 foreign countries and to beekeepers throughout the United States.

They regularly ship bees they breed to such faraway places England, France, Germany and several other countries in Europe and such countries as Iran in the Middle East.

A package of bees contains about three to four pounds of bees, with around 5,000 bees to the pound. A hive started from such a package, under favorable conditions, produces enough honey that the beekeeper can start taking honey from it within about six months.

The Curtis operation includes more than 2,000 hives for production of honey packed under the George Curtis and Sons label and more than 4,000 mating boxes for breeding of worker and queen bees.

While the bee breeding side of the operation is the biggest money maker in most years honey production runs it a close second, with the company normally marketing 125 to 130 thousand pounds a year.

George Curtis bought of his late father in 1929, and he and his two sons operated the business of carpentry and other type of work the remainder of the year, until 1954, when they opened up the Florida operation.

Decorated Tar Heel Home From The Wars

RALEIGH — Capt. W. H. W. (Buck) Anderson, Jr., a much decorated young Army officer is back in Raleigh after an eventful year in Vietnam as a helicopter pilot.

Anderson, the son of the former Elizabeth Ferguson of Greenville, wears the Silver Star, the Distinguished Flying Cross, the Bronze Star and other medals as a result of the action he saw in Vietnam.

As an Army captain, he could have waited for a routine assignment to Vietnam. However, Anderson decided he wanted to be part of our struggle there. For this reason he volunteered to become a helicopter pilot, knowing this would result in an immediate assignment when training was completed.

The Silver Star was awarded for action on January 31, 1967. His commanding officer and executive officers had been shot down south of the Perfume River at Hue. Enemy forces were hitting Hue. In spite of the great danger involved, Anderson volunteered to fly his helicopter to rescue the men. He circled at 3,000 feet in the clouds, then suddenly pulled the stick and aimed for the crew of the downed helicopter. The enemy was everywhere, firing with everything available. He managed to rescue the five downed persons, who were wounded, and delivered them to a medical facility at Hue Phu Bai.

Now that he is back, he will be training pilots at Hunter Army Airfield at Savannah, Georgia. Capt. Anderson feels that in view of his combat experience as a helicopter pilot, he will be able to give the men he trains something which may help them save their lives when they are faced with a combat situation.

Biggest Indian Concentration

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—The city of Los Angeles has the largest concentration of American Indians of any metropolitan area—a population estimated at around 45,000 and constantly growing.

By the year 1970, the migration of Indians from economically deprived reservations is expected to draw more than half of the country's 600,000 Indians to urban centers—Los Angeles and Chicago particularly.

Many of those in Los Angeles are grouped in the Cudahy-Bell Gardens industrial area where jobs for unskilled laborers are available. The Bureau of Indian Affairs has a vocational training program which has an average of 500 young persons enrolled.

Most of the Los Angeles Indians have come from Arizona, particularly from the Navajo reservation which is the nation's largest with a tribal population of about 120,000 but spread over an area the size of the state of Massachusetts.

Booklet Helps The Handicapped

MELBOURNE (AP) — A booklet detailing facilities and obstacles for handicapped people in Melbourne has been printed.

The booklet is the first of its kind in Australia. It lists toilet facilities, door entrances, steps, ramps and handrails in banks, churches, government buildings, theaters, libraries and museums and transport facilities throughout this city of two million.

It uses a grading system ranging from "A" for buildings completely accessible by wheelchair to "C" for those which are impossible for handicapped people.

The booklet is free to those who need it.

Arrest Six For Robbery, Fire

CONWAY, S.C. (AP) — Four men and two women, all of the Charleston area, have been arrested on charges growing out of a $250,000 store fire Nov. 9 at Garden City Beach.

Horry County Police Chief Lee Johnson said a fire started during break-ins at adjoining grocery and variety stores.

The chief said thieves used an acetylene torch on a grocery store safe but were unable to open it. They then moved into a variety store in the other half of the building. While there, the officer said, sparks and heat from the first attempt ignited a fire in the food market.

Johnson said the group used walkie-talkie radios to keep in touch with one another during the break-ins. He said the fire scared them away from the variety store.

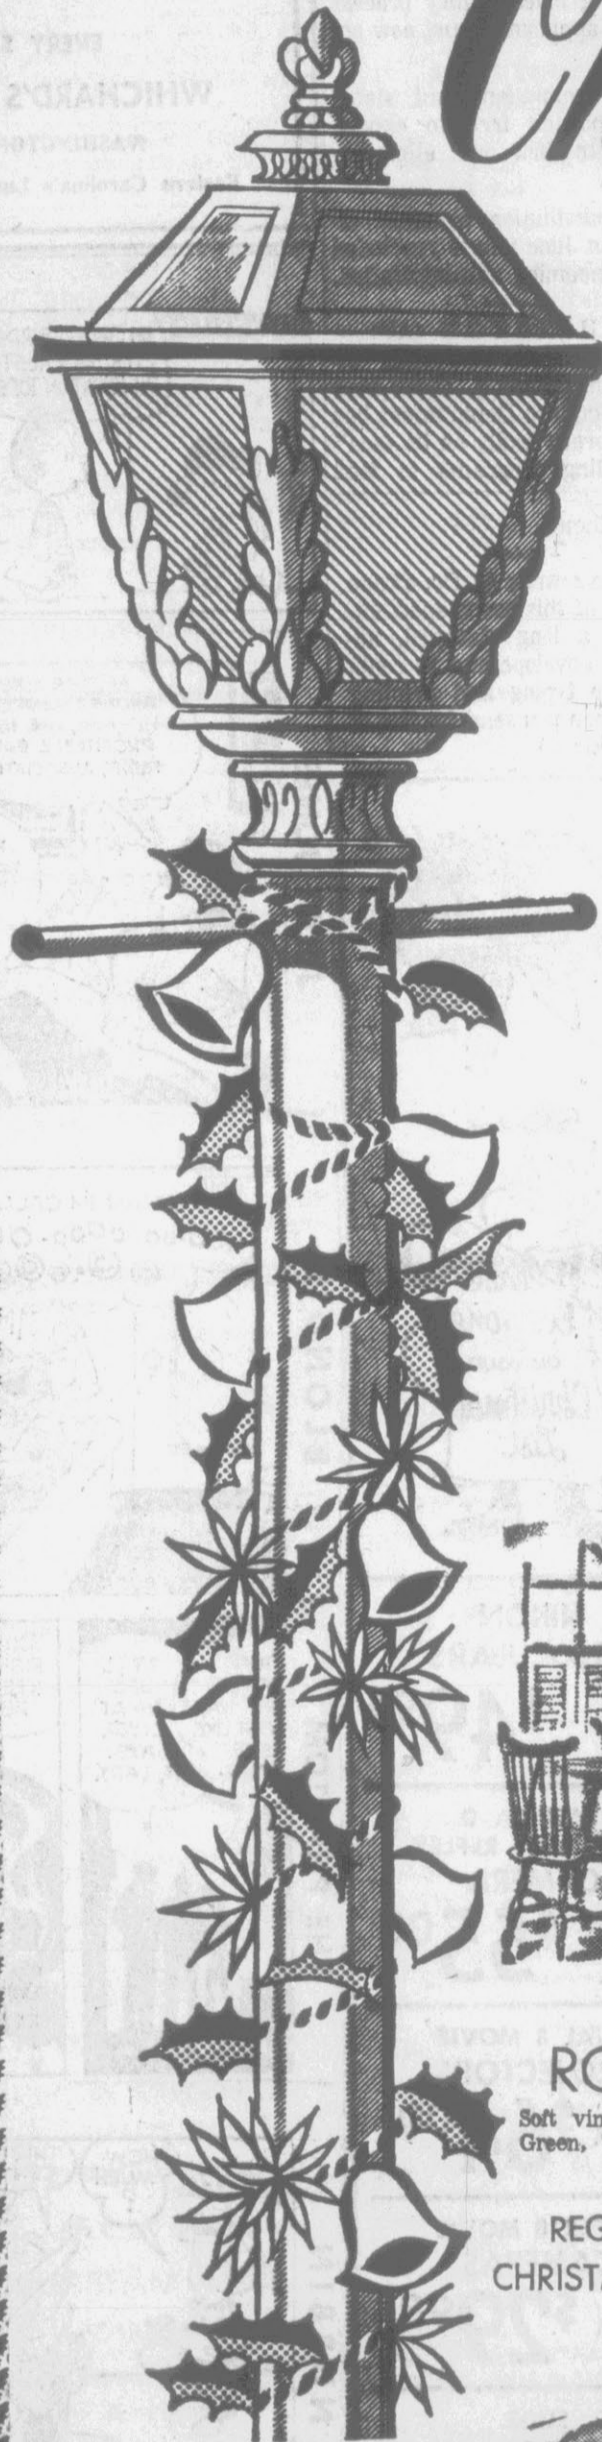

The chief said that breaking and entering, grand larceny, safecracking and arson are charged to the six, all of whom are in their 20s. He identified them as Santo Anthony Sottile Jr., Jack Newsome Jr., W. A. (Al) Evans, Eddie White, Diane Hubbard and a young woman whose name was withheld.

'SAMARITANS' ROBBED

CINCINNATI (AP) — Police say a young woman frantically waved down Fred Folsom, 18, and Clyde Black, 19, as they approached in a car, and they stopped and offered her assistance. She then confronted them with a large knife and robbed them of $18, police said.

Branded For Life By Being An Only Child

Toni is really a victim of his own home surroundings. His selfish mother has branded Toni for life, making him a shy introvert and a great hazard when he later marries. For "only" children are much more likely to enter divorce courts. So send for the "Pregnancy Booklet" and have your babies in pairs.

By GEORGE W. CRANE
Ph. D., M. D.

CASE H-564: Toni Z., aged 5, is lonely.

"Dr. Crane," his daddy began, "Toni is excessively shy each other to talk, to think and to fight.

"Oh, but Dr. Crane," some mothers may protest, "surely it isn't desirable to encourage children to fight!"

But it is by their quarrels and fights while growing up together in the same home, that children learn to avoid divorce late on!

For a child like Toni who has been a "loner," will suffer the following disadvantages when he later marries:

- (1) His 100 per cent monopoly of the adult spotlight will suddenly drop to 50 per cent, which is like cutting a dope addict's dosage in half;
- (2) He will not be as deft at carrying on ordinary conversation with his wife, yet a happy married couple should be able to chat together for hours;
- (3) When quarrels invariably will occur, as is true even in the best regulated marriages, he will not be experienced in compromising and "making up."

In the usual home where there are several children, though they quarrel, they know they must still sit down together at the same dinner table and also sleep under the same roof that very night.

Lacking this continual experience all throughout childhood, a "loner" may threaten to go home to mamma, or sulker for a week and otherwise perform like a grandstander.

(4) He will not have as good a sense of humor, for humor depends on much social experience with other human beings.

A Silas Maner or Robinson Crusoe will be far more literal-minded and thus miss much of the Bob Hope merriment.

You readers know that salesmen are much more humorous and laugh more readily at a speaker's jokes than do chemists or accountants or other introverts who have dealt primarily with inanimate objects.

So space your babies in pairs, with maybe a 4-year gap in between.

Don't let a child reach school age before you give him a baby brother or sister, for then the age gap is so great that the two will not have much in common.

As a result they will neither play together as much; converse as often, nor even get into as many quarrels.

And if children don't quarrel and learn to compromise before they are grown, pity their mates after the fireworks start following their wedding day!

So send for my booklet "Facts About Pregnancy" enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 20 cents.

It also contains a section on adopting children and how to

The bidding: North South West North Pass 1NT Pass 6NT Pass Pass Pass

Opening lead: Nine of ♣

When North heard South open the bidding with one no trump, he realized that the partnership held the required assets to attempt a slam inasmuch as he had 17 high card points and South had promised a minimum of 16. North accordingly proceeded directly to six no trump.

West opened the nine of clubs and the queen was played from dummy so that declarer could take a heart finesse. The jack of hearts lost to West's queen and a club was returned, which South won in his hand with the jack.

South had 11 top tricks — two spades, three hearts, two diamonds, and four clubs. Before trying to develop a 12th, he decided to cash his long cards first and oblige his opponents to make discards.

The remaining two clubs were run on which South parted with a spade and West with a diamond and a spade. The hearts came next and on the fourth round West was called on to make an important decision, for he had to unguard either the diamonds or the spades.

West finally decided to assume that his partner held three diamonds to the jack which would enable the latter to protect that suit. On the fourth heart, West discarded a diamond and North did likewise.

From West's reluctance to discard another spade, South concluded that his opponent had the queen and he decided to make an abnormal play in the suit. The jack of spades was led from the closed hand, West played low and, when declarer's jack went thru successfully, the latter claimed his contract.

It would not have availed West to cover the jack with the queen, for East's ten is subject to a finesse on the return and South's nine and jack provide declarer with his 12th trick.

West would, perhaps, have been better advised to discard a second spade on the fourth heart. First of all, East may have three spades, to the jack — in which case he still has a guard in that suit. What is more to the point, however, is that, if West does not act overly concerned about protecting his spade holding, South may be influenced into taking the normal spade finesse. If he leads a spade to the ace and puts in the jack on the return, West will score the setting trick.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A national commission has recommended against a new government order that would allow welfare applicants to sign a simple declaration of need instead of undergoing a lengthy investigation.

"In our judgment it is premature to impose such a mandate, despite the mounting criticism of the eligibility determination process," the commission said in a report Tuesday.

Called the Advisory Commission on Intergovernmental Relations, the panel counts among its members Vice President-elect Spiro T. Agnew.

Object of its criticism is a new order issued in the past month by the Health, Education and Welfare Department which would substitute a declaration of need for what some feel is the degrading investigatory process welfare applicants must now undergo.

The commission said states should be left free to experiment with their own eligibility systems.

The substitution becomes effective in June unless rescinded by the incoming administration.

America's hungry poor.

"It is just not set up to handle these welfare programs," the Pennsylvania Democrat commented Tuesday during a special Senate committee hearing on hunger programs.

Testifying at the time was Aaron M. Altschul, an Agriculture Department specialist on international nutrition improvement.

Clark and several other members said Altschul's own comments had indicated the Agriculture Department has given more attention to problems of the hungry abroad than at home.

"It is perfectly ridiculous for these programs to be in the Department of Agriculture," commented Illinois' Charles Percy, a Republican.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The highest radioactive fallout measured in six years spread through the West last week after an underground nuclear test in Nevada, reports the U.S. Public Health Service.

The agency said, however, that the level measured by its air monitoring network did not appear dangerous and subsided quickly after the Dec. 8 blast at Pahute Mesa.

Capital Footnote
By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Atomic Energy Commission has reported seismic signals indicating a possible underground nuclear blast in the Soviet Union. The AEC said six similar shock waves have been recorded this year.

Postmaster Gen. Marvin W. Watson said absenteeism among postal workers because of flu is growing and if it gets any worse may slow the delivery of Christmas mail.

"I think the right action now in the view of some of the troubles abroad and the temporary settlements is not to make any statements that will cause any speculation one way or the other." — Treasury Secretary-designate David Kennedy in a news conference that, despite attempts at caution, was followed by a rise in the gold price on European markets.

The windiest spot on earth is Adeline Land at the South Pole, where the average wind velocity is 50 miles per hour.

RALEIGH (AP) — (NCDA)—The North Carolina hog market was mostly steady. Tops of 18.50-19.00 Siler City and Denton; 18.25-18.75 Rocky Mount, 18.00-18.75 Wilson; 18.00-18.50 Bethel; 17.75-18.25 Selma; 19.00 Clinton, Fayetteville, Dunn, Elizabeth town, Pink Hill, Pine Level and Chadbourn; 18.75 Greensboro; 18.50 Salisbury.

RALEIGH (AP) — (NCDA)—The North Carolina poultry market today was steady. Price of live poultry at the farms was 11 to 12½, mostly 12½, cents per pound.

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market fell in heavy trading today as it reacted to news of higher interest rates, but scattered recovery was evident early in the afternoon.

Losses outnumbered gains by slightly less than the 3-to-1 margin of the downside that prevailed earlier.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon took a thumping loss of 3.0 at 361.9 with industrials off 5.5, rails off 1.6 and utilities off .2.

Key stocks fell along a broad front, with most losses going from fractions to a point or so. As the initial shock of the selloff waned, selected issues posted gains running to a point or more.

At noon the Dow Jones industrial average was down 8.27 at 96.64, trimming an earlier loss of 9.6.

Volume was swelled as usual by the backlog of orders from the Wednesday closing. First-hour volume was 5.4 million shares, far below the record 7.7 million on Oct. 17.

Youngstown Sheet, down nearly 3 points, was ahead of the rest of the stock list on volume. Lykes Corp. said it would not make a cash tender offer for Youngstown shares this week.

Also very active, California Financial and INA Corp. fell about a point, while gains of around a point were posted for Lionel, United Air Lines, United Utilities and Sinclair Oil.

Losses of about 2 points were taken by Goodyear, Sears Roebuck and Merck.

Most gold-mining stocks were fractionally higher. McIntyre Porcupine gained more than a point.

IBM recovered and advanced nearly 3 points. Control Data added a fraction.

Prices declined in heavy trading on the American Exchange.

Cambodia Will Free Americans

By GEORGE ESPER

SAIGON (AP) — Cambodia announced today that it is releasing 12 American soldiers captured in the past year, and the Viet Cong offered to free three U.S. troops it holds and possibly more.

Prince Norodom Sihanouk, the Cambodian chief of state, told a news conference in Phnom Penh he was freeing 11 American soldiers and a South Vietnamese captured last July when their river boat strayed into Cambodian waters and an American helicopter crewman captured last month.

A Viet Cong spokesman in Paris said the three soldiers it is offering to release are Thomas Nelson Jones, Donald L. Smith and James W. Brigham. He gave no home addresses or other information.

The Australian Embassy in Phnom Penh, which represents the U.S. government in Cambodia, said it expected that the 12 Americans being freed there would be flown by commercial airliner to Bangkok Friday.

The U.S. and South Vietnamese commands in Saigon announced, meanwhile, that American, South Vietnamese and enemy casualties all increased last week although no major sustained ground fighting reported. The U.S. Command also reported four sharp skirmishes Wednesday in which it said American forces killed 131 enemy troops.

Prince Norodom Sihanouk, the Cambodian chief of state, told a news conference in Phnom Penh he was releasing his prisoners so they can spend Christmas with their families.

Sihanouk called another news conference two hours later to announce he had received a "cordial" message from President Johnson. He said the President told him the release of the prisoners would contribute to an improvement in relations between their two countries. Johnson also assured him of "the continuing friendship of the American people for Cambodia and its people," Sihanouk said.

In his announcement that he was freeing the prisoners the prince complained that Washington had fulfilled none of the conditions he set for the release, and especially that Johnson had not acceded to his request for a personal letter saying efforts would be made to stop violation of Cambodian territory by U.S. and South Vietnamese troops.

Marriage Announced

Mr. and Mrs. John I. Outerbridge of Greenville announce the marriage of their daughter, Jackie, to Frederick Parks, son of Mrs. Penny Parks of Goldsboro, on Oct. 19, 1968.

In 1967, there were 1,318 bank robberies in the United States compared with 600 in 1932.

DEMONSTRATOR REMOVED . . . Police carry off Khan-Tineta Horn of the Caughnawaga reserve near Montreal as more than 150 Indians blocked the Seaway International Bridge at Cornwall, Ont., yesterday. The Indians were protesting against the recent imposition of customs duties on goods bought in the United States by members of the St. Regis reserve which straddles the international boundary. (AP Wirephoto)

All Quiet After Brief Uprising By Mohawks

MASSENA, N. Y. (AP) — All but three of 48 Mohawk Indians arrested after a two-hour uprising that blocked the international bridge linking the United States and Canada were released on bond early today.

A spokesman for the Cornwall City Jail said three persons remained in jail on charges stemming from the shouting, shoving demonstration Wednesday that blocked an international bridge for two hours in protest of Canada's failure to live up to the 1794 Jay Treaty.

Cornwall police said two shots from a hunting rifle slammed into the Canadian Customs House on the St. Regis Reservation, home of the protesting Mohawk Indians.

The Indians had fielded some 100 demonstrators for Wednesday's blockade.

The bridge was quiet early today.

Ernest Benedict, the craggy-faced, black-haired chief of the Indians, said there would be no repeat blockade.

"It is not the Indian way, to be arrested," Benedict said.

Canadian Police, unarmed, waded through a wall of angry Mohawks Wednesday and cleared away the 25 automobiles the Mohawks brought up to block the bridge.

There was no one hurt in the shots at the customs house. Cornwall police officers said they had no suspects.

A spokesman for the Cornwall jail said only three persons remained inside on charges stemming from the demonstration. The others were released shortly after midnight.

Benedict spoke to his tribesmen late Wednesday, making it clear that he was against further demonstrations against the Canadians, who drew the Indians' ire three weeks ago with the imposition of customs duties. The Mohawks, who live on both the Canadian and American sides of the bridge, contend the 1794 Jay Treaty guarantees them free passage.

Prime Interest Rates Boosted

CHARLOTTE (AP) — Three major North Carolina banks have raised prime interest rates from 6 1/2 per cent to 6 3/4 per cent, effective today.

Wachovia Bank and Trust Co., First Union National Bank and North Carolina National Bank made the announcements Wednesday.

Major banks in New York were the first to announce the hike. Others quickly followed suit.

They acted following Tuesday's announcement by the Federal Reserve Board that the discount rate was being raised from 5 1/4 to 5 1/2 per cent.

The discount rate is the interest charged member banks for borrowing from the Federal Reserve System.

The prime rate is that charged most credit worthy customers. The 6 3/4 per cent rate is the highest since such rates went into effect in 1947 at 1 1/2 per cent.

Intelsat 3 Up In 'Good' Orbit

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Intelsat 3, the most powerful communications satellite ever launched, sped through space today on target toward a stationary outpost high above the Atlantic Ocean.

"Based on preliminary data, it appears the spacecraft is in a good transfer orbit," project officials reported after tracking the spaceship nearly 12 hours.

Razing Old House, Shell's Be Homeless

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A wind-swept, abandoned house on the Philadelphia waterfront, being razed for an expressway, leaves a 70-year-old spinster homeless.

The state contractor boarded the lower part of the three-story house. Upstairs Stefanie Murawska snapped a piece of wood and tossed it into a stove.

Wind whistled through the narrow dwelling, which will be demolished soon.

Stefanie says she's independent and doesn't worry about her plight. The Polish immigrant has lived in this section of the city since coming to the United States as a teen-ager.

She says she is used to living in abandoned quarters, without lights or electricity.

For years she roomed with families in this neighborhood while she was drawing a weekly salary of $40 for rolling cigars. Later she went on Social Security. She continued working for a while as a domestic and began seeking abandoned houses for shelter.

Whatever belongings a family left behind, she had a use for. "Steffie," as she is known, ex-

Flora B. Suggs of near Farmville. Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

Medal Of Honor Man Re-Enlists

DETROIT (AP) — Dwight H. Johnson, 21, who won the Medal of Honor in Vietnam, is signing up today for another three-year hitch in the Army—but this time around, Johnson is not leaving the Detroit area.

The youthful hero, who was credited with pulling wounded comrades from burning tanks in a Viet Cong ambush and holding off the enemy unit until help arrived, will spend most of the time visiting Detroit schools and explaining Army programs to students, the spokesman said.
