B-52 Raids Are Suspended

RAIDS SUSPENDED — Conventional 750-pound bombs are ready to be loaded aboard B-52 jet bombers at U. S. airfield in Guam, some 2,000 miles from Saigon. But it was announced today the bombing runs by the huge eight-engine craft, a frequent occurrence during the Vietnam War, have been suspended as a "gesture of de-escalating". (AP Wirephoto)

Nixon And Top Advisers Study Vietnam Action

By LEWIS GULICK

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon called in his highest diplomatic and military advisers today for a broadscale look at Vietnam strategy as reports from military sources in Saigon pointed to a new U.S. peace effort.

The meeting, which was called several days ago, took on added significance in the light of reports that the U.S. Command in a move to de-escalate the fighting, had halted B2 bombing raids across South Vietnam.

"It's a gesture of de-escalation, a political move," one Saigon source said. "There is a new leadership in Hanoi." Presidential news secretary Ronald L. Ziegler, who said there would be no announcement immediately following this morning's meeting, gave this list of officials called in by Nixon:

Vice President Spiro T. Agnew, Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell, U.S. Commander in Vietnam Gen. Creighton W. Abrams, U.S. Ambassador to Saigon Ellsworth Bunker; Secretary of State William P. Rogers; Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird, Gen. Earle G.

Wheeler, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff; Pacific commander-in chief Adm. John S. McCain, CIA chief Richard Helms, Philip Habib, senior professional diplomat on the U.S. negotiating team at Paris, and Henry A. Kissinger, presidential assistant for national security affairs.

Word of the bombing suspension, which was greeted with initial no comments by administration spokesmen, followed suggestions by some influential officials here that the United States take new peace initiatives aimed at the new leadership in North Vietnam.

How the current Hanoi leaders, who succeeded the late Ho Chi Minh, respond to the latest U.S. de-escalation could have a strong effect on any further American troop cutbacks, another topic certain for discussion at today's White House meeting.

Although U.S. military advisers have given positive reports about the increased fighting ability of South Vietnam's army, there has been little progress, according to reports reaching Washington, toward meeting President Nixon's other two criteria.

109 New And Expanded Plants Investments Rate Increases In N.C.

KINSTON, N. C. (AP) — Capital investments in new and expanded industry in North Carolina for the period April through June totaled $244.4 million, an increase of $96.6 million over the same period last year.

This was shown in a report presented to the North Carolina Board of Conservation and Development today by the Division of Commerce and Industry.

A total of 109 new and expanded plants were announced for the three-month period, as compared with 31 for the corresponding period last year. The 109 plants will have added payrolls totaling $37,093,000 and provide employment for 7,850 persons.

The board was told that textile mill products led the investment totals for the three-month period, with $94.9 million. Others included chemicals and allied products $58.1 million and metalworking $57.8 million. The report showed that for the first six months of this year, capital investments in 221 new and expanded plants totaled a record $372 million. These provided added payrolls of more than $85 million a year and jobs for 16,800.

Meanwhile, the Division of Commercial and Sports Fisheries reported production of hard crabs along the Tar Heel coast for the first six months of this year totaled more than 10.5 million pounds, an increase of 3.8 million over the same period last year.

Clam production totaled 11,876 bushels, an increase of 5,300 bushels. The division attributed the increase to the use of hydraulic dredges which were allowed in designated areas by special permit.

Production of finfish for food totaled 26.7 million, as compared with 24.5 million during the same period last year. The division reported that 96,000 bushels of oyster shells and 61,719 bushels of seed oysters were planted in selected estuarine areas of the coast at a cost of $46,976.

The Forest Service Division reported there were 3,222 forest fires in North Carolina during the first six months of this year. They burned 59,568 acres of woodland. This compares with 4,928 fires and 65,235 acres burned during the same period last year.

The Division of State Parks said attendance at state parks for the first six months of this year was running 18 per cent above that for the corresponding period of 1968.

$126,770 In Powell Bill Funds Scheduled For Greenville Share

The city of Greenville will receive a check for $126,770.61 as its share of the Powell Bill Funds allocated for city street improvements, State Highway Commission chairman Lauch Faircloth announced yesterday.

The funds, enacted by Legislature in 1961 and provided by one-half cent of the regular gasoline tax, are returned annually to municipalities across the state based on city population and non-state street mileage.

According to city engineer Charles Holliday, the funds allocated for Greenville will be used for the purpose of making street improvements and financing street maintenance.

Holliday said that the funds can not be used for the purpose of developing new streets or areas but must be channeled into improvement projects on existing non-state controlled streets within the city.

Need Personnel For Pitt Census

Preparations for lining up approximately 450 personnel to conduct the Pitt County 1970 census, part of the nationwide 10 year census program, is the primary task facing the Pitt County Republican Party at this time, according to Frank Steinbeck, chairman of the Pitt County Republican Executive Committee.

Reporting on an executive committee meeting held Thursday night, Steinbeck said, "The most important matter facing us now deals with securing about 450 personnel to participate in the 1970 census." Steinbeck remarked, "These will be paid jobs, and we need qualified persons. At this time we are interested in getting names. Later we will accept application forms and process them." He noted this work is expected to run roughly from about the first of February through June of 1970.

Plans are being made to coordinate work of young Republicans at East Carolina University and the teen-age group at Rose High School, Steinbeck revealed.

Re-Bidding Cut School Cost $5,000

The cost of the new Ayden-Grifton High School was reduced by more than $5,000 by rebidding the project, according to Pitt County Superintendent Arthur S. Alford.

The low bid submitted by contractor J. Leo Hawkins Wednesday, Alford explained, caused the board to realize the reduction of $5,574 in the cost of building by rebidding. A typographical error made the figure incorrect in yesterday's edition.

The board opened new bids for the general construction of the facility Wednesday after ruling the first bids received in July were too high.

Alford also said figures reported as low bids received in July for general construction contracts for the Ayden-Grifton and Farmville schools, should have been identified as bids including sub-contracts.

Low bids for general construction of the Ayden-Grifton school in July totaled $1,272,272 as submitted by R. N. Rouse of Goldsboro and for the Farmville school, $1,229,860, submitted by Dawson Construction Company of Kinston.

Speculating On Kosygin's Visit In Red China

MOSCOW (AP) — Some Western diplomats in Moscow said today that Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin may have gone to Peking to warn Communist China against more attacks across the Soviet-Chinese border.

The diplomats speculated that Kosygin would not have flown so far out of his way unless he had something more to say to Premier Chou En-lai than to suggest resumption of talks on border questions. These observers speculated that the Soviet premier told the Chinese premier the Kremlin's patience is not unlimited.

The Russians said the surprise meeting, Thursday was "useful," but they gave no indication anything was achieved.

Lost 90-Minute Battle For Life

A team of doctors, nurses and other attendants failed in their attempts yesterday afternoon to save the life of a 19-month-old boy involved in a farm pond accident.

Warren Bailey died about 4:30 p.m. He had stopped breathing for himself more than 90 minutes earlier when he fell into a pond at the home of Mrs. J. T. Dupree near Belvoir.

Attendants, which at one time totaled more than a dozen persons and included three doctors, had worked on the child in one of the hospital's emergency rooms and had breathed through a tube inserted in the infant's lungs—for him.

But according to Pitt County Coroner E. W. Harvey, the child's heart gave up the battle at 4:30.

The Greenville Rescue Squad was called to the pond about 2:55 p.m. The caller reported the child was floating in the pond.

When they arrived, the rescuers reported, the child had been taken from the water by an unidentified man and was being given artificial respiration.

The rescue men took up the task of breathing for the child and transported him to the hospital. Doctors quickly determined that the child's heart was still active and the resuscitation was continued. They could not, however, overcome the shock of the incident and the child died.

According to Harvey, young Bailey, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Boyd Bailey of Route 6, Greenville, had been left by his parents at Mrs. Dupree's residence.

Mrs. Dupree and the child had been in the yard, the coroner explained, when Mrs. Dupree went into the house. She returned shortly to find the boy floating in the pond.

Harvey said the death was ruled accidental.

Return Visit To Egypt By Israeli Jets

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Israeli warplanes swept across the Gulf of Suez today in an attack on Egyptian military objectives on Egypt's eastern coast, the Israeli military announced in Tel Aviv.

It was the fourth straight day of aerial activity on the Egyptian-Israeli cease-fire line. It came 2 hours after fierce air battles with Egyptian aircraft in which Israel claimed shooting down 11 Soviet-made planes and Cairo claimed the downing of six Israeli aircraft.

A brief announcement said the planes today went in at 10:30 a.m. and returned to Israel unharmed.

Singled out for attack, a Tel Aviv spokesman said, were Ras Za'farana, 55 miles south of Port Suez, and Ras Gharib, about 120 miles south of Port Suez, which is on the southern end of the Suez Canal.

Under-18 School Bus Drivers Are Again Approved

RALEIGH (AP) — Gov. Bob Scott said today that federal officials had approved for another year North Carolina's use of school bus drivers under 18 years of age.

Scott said he was notified of the exemption from a federal requirement by Secretary of Labor George P. Shultz. The governor said about 5,600 of the state's 9,275 school bus drivers are 16 and 17-year-old students.

"Undoubtedly the safety record of our student school bus drivers, their training programs, their training procedures—at both the state and local levels — have been instrumental in North Carolina being allowed to continue to use 16 and 17-year-old drivers," Scott said.

"I congratulate all those involved."

A total of 10,548,412 pounds of leaf have been sold so far this season for $7,609,886, giving an average of $72.14 for the season.

No Money For Baldhead Isle Says Governor

KINSTON, N. C. (AP) — The next move in the battle over Baldhead Island apparently is up to South Carolina developer Charles Fraser.

This developed Thursday night when Gov. Bob Scott said the state should acquire the semi-tropical island, which has been a center of controversy recently. However, Scott also said the state would have no money to buy it until the 1971 General Assembly meets.

This apparently would leave Fraser free to proceed with his plans to develop the 12,000-acre island in the mouth of the Cape Fear River into a posh resort. Whether Fraser would choose to do this was the question.

Scott, who had been urged by conservation forces to block Fraser's plans and preserve the island in its wilderness state, stated his position in a speech to the North Carolina Board of Conservation and Development at Kinston.

Scott agreed that the island should be preserved in its natural state, but he pointed out that the state doesn't have the money to buy it and stands little chance of obtaining it from the federal government or a foundation.

Fraser has been negotiating with a Charlotte businessman, Frank Sherrill, to purchase the island, reportedly for $5.5 million. He said Thursday he had paid Sherrill $25,000 for an option which expires next Feb. 1.

Al Adams, a member of the law firm of former Gov. Terry Sanford which is representing Fraser, said:

"We haven't had time to digest the governor's statement and assess it and have no comment at this time" on whether Fraser will proceed with the development.

At Kinston, Scott reviewed the situation and made a three-point recommendation.

He said the acquisition question should be submitted to the 1971 General Assembly; that in the meantime the Research Triangle Institute should undertake a comprehensive study of the use of the island and its adjacent marshlands, and that the possibility of establishing a research foundation, supported by the corporate interests of our state, which would acquire and determine the future use of the island should be explored.

Scott pointed out that Fraser's plan "calls for rigidly controlled development and seeks diligently to protect the marshlands."

Saying he had given the situation much study Scott said, "It is the age-old question of conservation versus development."

Fraser said his group would be "glad to assist in organizing the non-profit research foundation proposed by the governor. We would be glad to hold the island during the study period and cooperate in any way."

$72.61 Day Reported On Greenville Market

The Greenville Tobacco Market yesterday averaged $72.61 per hundred pounds, placing it in fourth place among the four top markets in the Eastern Belt. Greenville's average was based on the 1,507,793 pounds of leaf sold yesterday for $1,094,874.82.

Wilson continued to lead the four top markets — Greenville, Rocky Mount, Kinston and Wilson—with an average of $74.85. A total of 1,522,469 pounds of tobacco was sold for $1,139,622.

Rocky Mount's average yesterday was $72.95, while Kinston's market set an average of $73.47.

Williamston reported the second highest average in the Eastern Belt yesterday. A total of 303,648 pounds of leaf were sold on the Williamston market for $227,205 for an average of $74.82.

The Cooperative Stabilization Corporation yesterday received 99,179 pounds for 6.58 per cent of the gross sales on the Greenville market.

N.C. Would Ask For Extradition

MONROE, N. C. (AP) — Gov. Bob Scott says he would request that Negro militant Robert F. Williams be "extradited from Michigan or any other state if the solicitor wanted to press charges and have him stand trial" on kidnap charges in Monroe.

Solicitor M. G. Boyette, the prosecutor of Union County Superior Court, said Thursday, he would not institute extradition proceedings unless Williams does not agree to return voluntarily. "In that event," he said, "we are prepared."

Williams was expected to fly from London to Detroit today on a special flight by Trans

World Airways.

He is charged on two counts of kidnaping in the August 1961 abduction of a white couple in Monroe. The kidnaping occurred after a day of racial turmoil in the Union County town. The couple was released unharmed after being held for a day.

Williams fled the country after the indictment was returned against him, and has lived in Cuba, Red China, North Vietnam and Tanzania since leaving the United States.

Four others charged with Williams were convicted, but their convictions were overturned because the indictments were returned by a grand jury that did not include Negroes. They failed to appear for retrial after an integrated grand jury in Union County indicted them again. Their bonds were forfeited and they remain indicted on a special flight by Trans

South overtook his most promising prospect in playing the six heart contract, and the result was a totally unnecessary loss on the deal.

When North raised South's jump rebid in hearts, the latter checked back for controls. If his partner had shown one ace and three kings, he would have been in position to count 13 tricks. North announced only two kings however, and South chose to settle for a small slam.

West opened the queen of clubs which was taken in the closed hand with the ace. Trumps were drawn in three pulls and a diamond was led to the king. The ace of diamonds was cashed followed by a diamond ruff—in the hope that the suit would divide evenly, in which case declarer's spades could be discarded on the established diamonds.

West showed out on the third round of the suit, however, and everything now hinged on the spade finesse. A club was led to the king and a spade was returned. South played the queen from his hand, however West turned up with the king and the defense subsequently took another spade trick to hand South a setback.

Declarer had neglected to avail himself of an additional opportunity to succeed. South is, in fact, in position to assure his contract provided the diamonds are divided no worse than four-two.

When South leads a diamond, instead of going up with the king, it is suggested that he put in the seven from dummy—conceding a cheap trick to East. If a spade comes back, declarer puts up the ace and leads another diamond to the king. When all hands follow, a small diamond is ruffed to establish the rest of the suit. One spade is discarded on the ace of diamonds and the other on North's long card which is now the 13er in the suit. Declarer loses only one trick—a diamond.

Classes began Wednesday for a main campus student body of about 9,500, launching East Carolina's 61st academic year, its third as a university.

Most registrations were completed this week but late registrations and class schedule changes will be accepted through Tuesday. Official enrollment figures will be announced after all registrations are completed.

A series of orientation activities and meetings for students and various campus-wide and departmental sessions for faculty and staff preceded the beginning of classes.

For the newly-assembled students, a busy first weekend included an open house for freshmen and a street dance for students, both sponsored by the University Union.

Other fall quarter events this year include a week of pre-registration for winter quarter Oct. 13-17 and ECU's annual homecoming weekend, Nov. 8 and 9.

Campus-wide Student Government Association elections are scheduled Tuesday, Sept. 23.

The football team opens its 1969 schedule away from home on Saturday, Sept. 20, against Tennessee State University.

Final examinations for fall quarter will end on Wednesday, Nov. 26, and winter quarter will begin after a Thanksgiving holiday.

Would That It Happened To N.C.

In light of the staggering figures that are coming out of the Alaska oil lands bidding, one wonders if the Russians will not attempt to reclaim America's 50th state and repudiate the deal which transferred this valuable property to the United States.

Alaska state officials yesterday opened bids which ran up to $12,000 per acre for the first parcels of 450,858 acres of oil land.

It is now being estimated that the oil land sales will mean a bonanza to the state of Alaska of between $2 and $3 billion.

The money that will pour into the state coffers is in such huge amounts that there are really no concrete plans as to how it should be spent. There are plenty of suggestions though, ranging from a bridge to Siberia to distributing it as a dividend to all the state's citizens.

The amounts of money prompted Bank of America, the state's fiscal agent to have an airliner standing by for flying the 20 percent deposit checks to New York and other commercial centers. This is practical because sending the checks

Talk Not Ended Over Baldhead

By WILLIAM A. SHIRES
Reflector Raleigh Bureau
RALEIGH — There will be more prolonged and perplexed discussion about the future of Baldhead, or Smith, Island.

It cannot be avoided because the controversy has reached its boiling point and can no longer be shoved aside to cool. The subject is likely to overshadow everything else at the session of the new C and D board in Kinston.

and finfish industries, according to experts. Ecological value of such marshland to the life of the sea and sound is unquestioned. Biologists, fisheries experts and conservationists insist that it must be preserved, and they feel it should be preserved in a natural state. Another argument is that Baldhead, northernmost of the so-called chain of sea islands stretching from the north Florida and Georgia coasts is North Carolina's only remaining ecological and biological laboratory which has been preserved in a truly natural state.

It is so because the state, while ignoring the question of what it might do about Baldhead, also has refused to provide any public access to the island—either by ferry, bridge or causeway. The island has remained relatively pristine.

Questions — The state attorney general's office has issued opinions that, yes, the marshlands belong to the state. Another case on this point is in the courts, has been to the State Supreme Court and has been remanded to the Superior Court of Brunswick County. It revolves around a claim by an owner of coastal land that he may develop private oyster beds in a tidal stream under title dating from a royal grant in colonial times.

And another opinion says that, no, the state has no legal authority to build a causeway or toll road to Baldhead Island so long as the public interest is in question.

Those interested in developing Baldhead Island as a swank, luxurious vacation area and copying developments of the Golden Isles of the Georgia coast and some in South Carolina say access provided by the state is essential. They point specifically to the Georgia and South Carolina island developments as examples of what North Carolina might do—and has not done. Nowhere along the North Carolina coast is there anything to equal Jekyll Island in Georgia or Hilton Head Island in South Carolina.

Claims — To give up Baldhead's marshes, those vast fringes inundated by shallow salt water at mean (extreme) high tide, would in effect be giving up all of the precious coastal marshes.

Dredging and filling of these would be disastrous to the state's shrimp, shellfish by more conventional methods would mean loss of interest on the funds. And when the interest runs $50,000 daily it can be seen that time is of the essence.

Alaska is the northernmost state — and it may now be the richest per capita, based on the sale of its natural resources. Oh that it could happen to North Carolina!

Senate Revolt By Young GOP

By ROWLAND EVANS and ROBERT NOVAK

WASHINGTON — Within 24 hours of the death of Everett McKinley Dirksen, covert but intense lobbying had generated heavy support for a surprise long-shot possibility to succeed him: Sen. Howard Baker of Tennessee, Dirksen's 43-year-old son-in-law now finishing just his third year in the Senate.

Chances are that Sen. Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania, a 68-year-old veteran of the Republican wars and a former national chairman of his party, will ride the escalator from minority whip to minority leader to succeed Dirksen. But the fact that Baker is now given at least an outside chance to defeat him and, failing in that, an excellent prospect to replace him as whip (No. 2 in the Republican hierarchy) signifies a revolt by the younger generation of Senate Republicans that has long been brewing.

On Monday morning, Senate office building corridors were buzzing with conservative talk about either Roman Hruska of Nebraska or Gordon Allott of Colorado (chairman of the Republican Policy Committee) to take on liberal Scott.

But by midday, conservatives became convinced that Hruska—defeated by Scott for whip in January despite Dirksen's backing, would not even make a race of it against Scott. Furthermore, they decided Scott had so strengthened his own internal position among conservative Republicans in the Senate—mainly by backing President Nixon's A-BM—that Allott also would lose to him.

Accordingly, conservatives began turning to Baker, a moderate conservative with feet in both conservative and liberal camps. That coincided with a demand by younger Republicans, particularly the freshman class of 1968, that one of their own be named leader or, at least, whip. This fierce demand was the result of their boiling frustrations over the past six months that they had been given no voice in the Dirksen leadership.

Specifically, they are insisting that a leadership post be given to one of these three: Baker, Sen. Ribert P. Griffin of Michigan, 45, or Sen. James Pearson of Kansas, 49. Of these, Baker has by far the most support.

Led by freshman Sen. Robert Packwood, 37, of Oregon, these younger Senators are pushing hard for a radical change in the usual pedestrian pattern of Senate Republican succession to the top party post. What's more, they are finding unexpected support from some veterans, both conservatives and liberals, who sense that not only Scott but also Hruska, 65, and Allott, 62, are too much tied to the old politics.

The boyish, highly articulate Baker was included on Richard M. Nixon's list of Vice Presidential prospects in Miami Beach last summer and now has the confidence of the White House. Moreover, as a moderate Southerner, he fits Mr. Nixon's national political strategy of seeking a permanent Republican majority in the South.

In the Senate, Baker is highly popular, with close allies ranging from Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona on the right to such Senators as Charles Percy of Illinois on the left.

Neither Pearson nor Griffin carry such political weaponry. Pearson, regarded as a loner, lost ground among Republicans by opposing President Nixon on the A-BM. Griffin's campaign against Abe Fortas for Chief Justice was spectacularly successful, but some Republicans now count that as a distinct liability.

Strength For Today

A Great Evangelist
Dwight L. Moody was one of the greatest evangelists the Christian church has produced in its history. As a boy he attended Sunday school and his teacher was a consecrated Christian although not a man of outstanding abilities.

Young Dwight worked in a shoe store in Boston, and one day the Sunday school teacher appeared at the store, asked him to step over into a quiet corner where he could have a word with him and then told him that he had a compulsion to confront his young pupil with a spiritual problem. He felt the young man had never given himself wholeheartedly to God. This, he felt, was the time to do so. That afternoon as young Moody left the store and walked out on the Boston Commons he declared that the whole scene was lightened up with a light he had never observed before. It was something glorious and heavenly. Moody's life and consecration changed as the result of that experience.

Years later as he was walking along the street of a great city the Holy Spirit came upon Moody as it had upon the believers centuries before at Pentecost. As the result of these experiences Moody is classed as one of the greatest evangelists of all time. It is believed that he led a half million persons to surrender their lives to Christ.

Moody never got much of an education. He was no spell-binder in the pulpit. But there was something about the man that enabled him to lead others into the happiness and power he experienced.

Moody heard the good news and spent his life proclaiming it.

Everybody To Benefit

WASHINGTON — President Nixon's new tax reform program, presented by Secretary of the Treasury David M. Kennedy to the Senate Finance Committee, has been greeted with joy by taxpayers all over the country.

The President's tax proposals are very similar to those suggested by tax reformers, with just a few exceptions.

In order to understand the tax-reform measures as outlined by the Nixon Administration, I went to see Prof. Heinrich Applebaum, the economist, whose best-selling book, "How to Avoid Taxes by Going to Jail," is the last word on the subject.

"Professor, what does the Nixon tax-reform package mean as far as the average taxpayer is concerned?" I asked.

"Well, we're not very sure, because there are still many vested interest groups to be heard from. But from what I can gather, everyone stands to gain. If you're married and have two children and make less than $3,500 a year, which means you're starving, you don't have to pay any taxes at all."

"If you make over $3,500, you must pay taxes. But there will be great savings. For example, if you earn $5,000, the savings on your taxes will permit you to go to one extra movie a year."

"As we get into the middle-class income brackets, the savings will be enormous. A married couple with two children in a lower middle-income bracket will save enough money under the Nixon tax reform program to buy a tire for their car."

"Suppose they can't afford a car?"

"Then the taxes saved will allow them to purchase 200 bus tokens, providing, of course, they have the correct change."

"The Nixon Administration has really gone out on a limb," I said.

"That's true, and you have to admire the President for it. He's made it possible for

Other Editors Say Muskie Leading Pack

(Henderson Dispatch)

Various segments of the press are from time to time, thus early, continuing to speculate on the Democratic nominee for President three years hence. From what we read, Senator Muskie of Maine is the man to watch. Muskie, it will be remembered, was Hubert Humphrey's running-mate for vice-president last year. It appears that Muskie is steadily gaining in preferences indicated in informal polls of party leaders.

Latest sounding of sentiment to come to notice is a poll of Democratic "leaders" made by The Christian Science Monitor of Boston. In that tabulation, Muskie had forty supporters, Humphrey sixteen and Kennedy five. Kennedy was the runaway choice six months ago, but the tragedy of last month has dropped his rating to almost the vanishing point. Senator McGovern of South Dakota had no first choice supporters when named alone, but ten in company with others.

The Monitor said Muskie's support came from every geographical section of the United States. In the Midwest, South and New England he was given a major share of the "most likely" votes included. The Maine senator was the clear-cut choice among party leaders in the remainder of the East, in the Far West and the Southwest.

Who would ever have thought, for example that Teddy Kennedy's eminence would have plummeted overnight, as it were, as happened within a short few days after the young secretary in his car was drowned when they went off a bridge on the coast of Massachusetts?

The entire picture could change in the three years before another national convention. The Monitor's survey, of course, embraced only a few of the party leaders, but the implications were there. That also could change by 1972. Meantime, however, the popular pastime and gossip takes on momentum which will increase as the months roll along.

Votes Weighted Against Bonds

By ELMER ROESSNER

From the University of California — Where else? — comes a slashing attack on provisions of 24 state constitutions requiring more than a majority of voters, usually two thirds, to authorize the issuance of local bonds.

It also adds the prediction that these requirements "will probably be struck down as unconstitutional in the near future," presumably by the U. S. Supreme Court.

The attack has been launched by the University of California Institute of Governmental Studies at Berkeley and, says the university, is "authored" by Stanley Scott, assistant director, and Randy Hamilton, executive director of the off-campus Institute for Local Self-Government.

It says that "a negative vote, in effect, has the force of two ballots against a single positive ballot vote in California bond elections." It adds that a growing number of recent court decisions— it cites three—are holding that this violates the "one man, one vote" principle.

More Inflation, More Socialism
If, as the Scott-Hamilton report predicts, these so-called super-majorities are declared unconstitutional, the United States will get an enormous shove toward more inflation and encroaching socialism will get a firmer grip on the nation.

These two-third vote provisions were originally written into state constitutions because states felt that bonding commitments should not be undertaken unless a substantial majority approved; that because state and local bonds must be paid off by property owners and those with high incomes, bonds should not be voted recklessly and, as Scott and Hamilton said, in California when the constitution was written in 1879, there was public distrust of state and local management.

In recent years, tax-seared voters, using the two-third rule, have rejected billions of dollars in state and local bond issues. This is a form of tax rebellion.

State and municipal bonds interest is tax-free, nevertheless, with the present tight money situation, they must pay around 6 per cent interest. Thus any billion dollars in bonds would not only be inflationary by that much, but the inflation would be doubled every 16 years, doubling the inflationary impact.

Furthermore, giving the poor majority the privilege of taxing the middle-class and rich minority for every city- and state-paid benefit it can invent will be super-socialism, and the bones of Karl Marx will chatter in laughter in his grave in London's Highgate Cemetery.

Offers Better System

By WAYNE EISENMAN
AP Business Writer

NEW YORK (AP) The administration of public school systems is big business—expenditures of $20 billion a year are not uncommon—but comparatively few schools have taken advantage of modern business methods.

One of the largest educational consulting firms in the nation estimates average elementary and high schools could improve efficiency by 35 per cent employing a business-like approach to administration and expenditures.

The crux of the problem, according to Englehardt & Englehardt Inc., of Purdy Station New York, is that educators traditionally are the ones who become financial managers and administrators.

"Just because a man is a great educator, it doesn't mean he can administer a multimillion budget," said Emerson W. Mitchell, an Englehardt business and systems analyst.

The school scene has changed since the days of the little red schoolhouse, when 40 or 50 pupils gathered in a few rooms to learn the three Rs.

Today, public schools reflect the sprawling megalopolises they serve.

They run their own transportation systems, process mountains of paper work and decide how to spend millions of dollars to the best advantage of thousands of students.

Outside the major population belts, many school systems operate the largest food distribution and personnel systems in their counties.

The system in North Carolina, for example, last year spent $54 million educating, feeding and transporting 78,000 students and employed 3,600 professional and 1,600 non-professionals.

"The average system is operating at about 50 per cent efficiency," says Mitchell. "With the application of management principles long ago accepted by businessmen with far smaller budgets, they could boost efficiency to 85 per cent."

Budgetary and cost control, systems research, the use of computers and other techniques would free superintendents and others from administrative busywork to improve the education system, he says.

The superintendent of one large school district in the Northeast now has 20 department heads reporting to him.

"In industry, it's recommended that no more than seven or nine department heads report to the top man," Mitchell said. "That man can't possibly do his primary job. He's too busy hearing reports from subordinates."

In addition to the administrative tasks of purchasing, planning, food service, maintenance, payroll preparation, Englehardt said systematic data processing could simplify the following areas, now done as much as 80 per cent manually in the schools:

- Student testing, including mechanical; teacher-originated diagnostic testing.
- Attendance record keeping.
- Scheduling of facilities and personnel.
- Computer assisted instruction including problem solving, and tutorial logics.
- Keeping student records such as transcript preparation, and data needed for guidance programs and progress reports.
- Library materials control.

New Library At Peace College Named For Mrs. George Finch

RALEIGH—The newly completed $350,000 library on the Peace College campus here will be named for Mrs. George Davis Finch, mother of Mrs. William H. Taft Jr. of Greenville. The Lucy Cooper Finch Library is to be formally dedicated in ceremonies Friday, Oct. 17.

Mr. and Mrs. Finch of Thomasville and daughters Mrs. Charles, F. Lambeth Jr. of Thomasville, Mrs. Taft, and Mrs. Charles W. Gaddy of Raleigh gave $100,000 to the library fund last fall.

Finch is the retired vice-president-treasurer of Thomasville Furniture Industries, Inc. Mrs. Finch, who attended Peace in the 1920s, is an alumnae representative on the college's executive committee of the Board of Trustees.

The Finch family previously established a scholarship named for Mrs. Finch's mother. The late Emily Faucette Cooper, a student at Peace College from 1888 to 1890, was the first of three generations to study at the Presbyterian School.

Peace College is not the Finch's only beneficiary. The family has supported a medical missionary for many years; donated funds for the Brown Finch Physical Education Building at Thomasville Senior High School, named in memory of their son; contributed toward a church camp at Lake Junaluska; given land for the Thomasville Woman's Club; supplied funds for the Hannah Brown Finch Chapel on the Greensboro College campus; and established scholarships at Woman's Medical College in Philadelphia in memory of Dr. Catherine McFarlane, at Duke Divinity School in memory of his father Thomas J. Finch, and at Guilford College in memory of his brother A. Brown Finch.

Their latest gift, the two-story brick library, will house over 50,000 volumes and seat 230 students. Featured in the 14,000 square-foot building are rooms for audio-visual aids, listening, typing, study, lounging, conference and rare books and archives.

Human Relations Course Planned

Pitt Technical Institute, in cooperation with the Educational Institute of the American Hotel-Motel Association, is offering a 30-hour course in Hotel-Motel Human Relations. The first meeting will be held Monday at 7 o'clock.

The class will meet Monday and Wednesday nights from 7 o'clock until 10 o'clock, at Pitt Technical Institute.

Registration will be conducted at the first meeting attended. Tuition is $3 and book cost is approximately $21.50.

"I hope the little guy is not the only one getting the benefit of the tax-reform bill."

"You have nothing to worry about on that score. The Nixon Administration people are aware that you can't just give tax relief to the little guy without getting the people in the upper brackets and the corporations mad. So, he's done all he could to make things easier for them. For example, a family of four earning $200,000 a year from municipal bonds and oil investments will be put in the same tax bracket as a family on welfare.

"That's only fair," I said. "If the poor don't pay taxes, the rich shouldn't be asked to carry the burden."

"Where Nixon really showed courage as far as I'm concerned," said Applebaum, "is when he decided to aid companies suffering from corporate taxes that have been siphoning away profits. If you're with two dependent companies, your tax savings under the new reform plan will give you enough money to buy three more companies."

"That should take the strain off a lot of corporations."

"Of course, the Nixon tax proposals may not please everyone. But you have to help those in the greatest need, and if we can ease the burden on our large companies and upper-income bracket

Tim Ilderton, left, and Earl Burton are two members of this year's East Carolina University football team. Ilderton, a 5-11, 200-pound sophomore from High Point, was the signal caller for the freshmen last year. Currently he is running as the number two blocking back on the varsity. He is expected to see a lot of action. Burton, a 5-10, 202-pound junior from Charlottesville, Va., is an offensive guard. He started in four games last year, and is expected to see a good deal of play this fall.

Orioles Win, Tigers Lose; Magic Number For Birds Falls To Three

By MIKE BRYSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

Hey, guess what? Dave McNally won a ball game.

That wouldn't have been much news a couple of months ago when the big left-hander was winging along toward a phenomenal 17-game victory string.

But, McNally's four-hitter in Baltimore's 4-2 victory over Boston Thursday night was only the second triumph in eight decisions for Dave since his two-season 17-game streak was broken Aug. 3. It was his first complete game since Aug. 7.

The victory, coupled with Detroit's 5-2 loss at Cleveland, boosted the Orioles' runaway lead in the American League East to 16½ games and cut to three their magic number for clinching the divisional crown.

Any combination of three Oriole victories or losses by Detroit will mathematically end the race. In fact, the Orioles could clinch a share of the title tonight by beating Cleveland, if Detroit loses at Washington.

In other AL games, Kansas City blanked California 3-0 on Wally Bunker's one-hitter, Washington beat the New York Yankees 7-3, Chicago tripped Minnesota's West Division leaders 4-0 and Oakland stopped Seattle 6-3.

In the National League, the New York Mets blanked Montreal 4-0, Philadelphia edged the Chicago Cubs 4-3, Pittsburgh nipped St. Louis 3-2, Los Angeles blanked Houston 1-0, Cincinnati topped San Diego 6-4 and Atlanta slipped past San Francisco 5-3.

Dave Johnson, Andy Etchebarren and Mark Belanger lashed consecutive doubles for two more in the fourth, and the Orioles added another in the fifth when Paul Blair was caught on the front end of a double steal, but Boog Powell scored all the way from first on errors by third baseman Syd O'Brien and catcher Russ Gibson.

Rico Petrocelli's 37th homer, a two-run shot in the fourth, was the only damage off McNally, who had lost his previous fool starts. The only other Red Sox to reach second was Gibson, who doubled in the third.

"Mac was spotting his fast ball, and getting his curve and slider over," said catcher Etchebarren. "Maybe that got him over the hump."

"When he was going bad recently, he'd get only one pitch over, and that wouldn't be consistently."

Luis Tiant, 9-18, scattered eight hits in shaking off a personal eight-game losing streak and won his first game since July 13 in besting the Tigers and Denny McLain, 22-7.

The only hit off Bunker, 10-10, was Jay Johnstone's leadoff single in the seventh. Ed Kirkpatrick, a former Angel, backed Bunker with solo homers in the fourth and sixth, while Jerry Adair had an RBI single in the ninth.

Sal Bando hit his 24th homer of the season and a single, driving in three runs, in helping Oakland break a five-game losing streak.

Veteran Joe Horlen checked Minnesota on three hits and rookie Bob Christian knocked in two runs as the White Sox beat the Twins for the second straight night.

Mike Epstein's three run homer, his 26th, and Brant Alvey's solo blast helped Washington past the Yankees. Joe Pepitone and Bobby Murcer had solo homers for New York.

Giants Beaten, Fall From First; Mets Win, Build Lead To A Pair

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

The only Chinese-Hawaiian in the majors and a pitcher just up from the minors played key roles Thursday night in an amazing National League division races.

The first would be Mike Lum, No. 5 in the Braves' outfield but No. 1 in all Atlanta today after a pinch single that beat San Francisco 5-3.

The other is Jeff James a right-hander making his first NL appearance of 1969, who tamed Chicago 4-3 with last-out help from Grant Jackson as Philadelphia sent the Cubs plummeting to their eighth consecutive defeat.

Elsewhere, the New York Mets blanked Montreal 4-0, Cincinnati held off San Diego 6-4, Los Angeles nipped Houston 1-0 and Pittsburgh edged St. Louis 3-2.

The standings in the East find the Mets two games ahead of the Cubs, with Pittsburgh eight out and St. Louis 8½ back. In the West, it's Cincinnati back on top by one percentage point over Atlanta. San Francisco is one-half game out, Los Angeles 1½ back and Houston 2½ out.

Lum came to bat in the eighth inning of a 3-3 game with two out and the bases loaded after the Giants issued an intentional walk to Sonny Jackson. His single to center off Frank Linzy scored Oscar Brown, running for Rico Carty, and Orlando Cepeda. Carty and Cepeda opened the inning with singles.

"I can't think of a better extra outfielder on any club," is the way manager Luman Harris described Lum earlier in the season. "and there are plenty of major league clubs he could play for regularly."

"I'd rather be a regular," says Lum, "but if I can't, then this is the next best thing. When you have guys in the outfield like Aaron, Alou, Carty and Gonzalez, what can you do?"

Willie McCovey slammed two homers for the Giants, his 43rd and 44th of the season, while Hank Aaron hammered No. 41 for the Braves.

Lum's pinch hit gave the victory to Ron Reed, 16-9. Hoyt Wilhelm, the 46-year-old knuckleballer recently acquired from California, made his first NL appearance since 1957 and worked a scoreless ninth inning.

Bobby Bonds of the Giants struck out for the 164th time this season, a league record.

The Cubs and Phillies were tied 1-1 in the eighth when Ernie Banks homered for Chicago, No. 22. But the Phils came right back to tie the score on consecutive doubles by Tony Taylor and Johnny Briggs and Richie Allen followed with his 30th homer.

That gave James a 4-lead, Willie Smith hit a pinch homer for the Cubs with one out in the ninth and with two away Glenn Beckert singled. Jackson came on and retired Billy Williams on a pop fly.

James, just up from the Pacific Coast League, started in place of the injured Jerry Johnson. The right-hander spent 1968 with the Phillies and compiled a 4-4 record—2-0 against the Cubs—with one complete game—an 8-0 blanking of the Cubs.

The Phillies scored their first run on an odd play. With Taylor on second, Briggs on first and two out, Dick Selma wound up on a 3-2 pitch to Allen and the runners took off. Selma changed course and fired to third, shouting, "Ron, Ron."

But Ron Santo was concentrating on the plate and the ball sailed into left field as Taylor raced home.

The Cubs' skis has left them in a state of confusion. Banks wandered around the clubhouse after the defeat chanting, "We're gonna win, we're gonna win, we're gonna win." Then he turned to pitcher Ken Holtzman and asked, "Ain't we?"

Pete Rose drove in three runs with a double and bunt single as the Reds ran up a 6-0 lead on the "Low!" Padres. Wayne Granger came in for his 76th appearance to save the victory for Gary Nolan after Roberto Pena hit a two-run homer in the fifth and the Padres got two more in the eighth.

The Mets increased their East Division lead to two games—three in the loss column—as Gary Gentry stopped the Expos on six hits. It was New York's seventh consecutive triumph and 23rd in the last 29 games.

Claude Osteen protected the Dodgers' 1-0 lead after Maury Wills and Manny Mota opened the game with doubles off Don Wilson. It was Osteen's 19th victory and the fifth time he has beaten Houston this season.

The southpaw allowed only four hits but was in trouble twice. Both times, however, he escaped by fanning Jim Wynn and Tommy Davis.

Bob Veale scattered eight hits and struck out 12 for his eighth consecutive triumph in Pittsburgh's victory over St. Louis.

If there is anything that helps out a predictions column, it is getting off to a flying start.

That's how things came out last week, with a perfect week, discounting ties (as most of the type do). The results saw a 4-0 week.

This week, however, things get a little tougher, as some of the games look very difficult to take a peak at. Some of the college teams also get on the bandwagon, and the first crack is taken at them.

Rose High School's Rampants nearly pulled off an upset of this column last week. But some defensive lapses enabled a correct pick here. This week, the Rampants play host to Sanderson High School of Raleigh. The Spartans got it put to them by Garner last week, another tough 3-A power.

It is the first 4-A game of the year for both schools, and both should show some improvement. I'm going to pick Rose to show the most improvement and come away with the win.

Farmville travels over to Southern Nash for an Eastern Plains Conference game. The Red Devils tied Hobbs last week, while Southern Nash was losing again. Southern's never won in 11 games in their brief history. They'll be trying for that first win Friday, but I'm sticking with Farmville to pull off the win.

Greene Central travels down to Pamlico County for a game. The Rams almost came away with an upset over Ayden last week and it was only in the final seconds that the Tornadoes pulled it out. The loss could hurt the Rams, and I'll go with Pamlico in this one.

Williamston goes over to Scotland Neck for its first Albemarle Conference game of the year. The Green Wave appears at flood tide again, so I'll go with them to win.

Chocowinity is entertained by Robersonville. The Rams got bumped by Williamston last week, while Chocowinity was taking a big victory. I'll go with Chocowinity to win this one too.

Grifton goes to Aurora seeking its second straight win. The Bulldogs have shown that they must be considered a title threat again. I'll stay with them to win this one.

Swansboro invades Ayden looking for revenge for the beating it took last year. The Tornadoes should have gotten rid of some of their opening game problems, but for some reason, I'm going to desert Ayden this week and go with Swansboro.

The Atlantic Coast Conference season gets underway with N. C. State taking on Wake Forest. The Wolfpack is coming off another good year, and Wake Forest has a new coach. It could be a very close game, but I'll stick with a winner and choose the Wolfpack.

Elsewhere it'll be Dayton over Kent State, Miami, Ohio, over Xavier, Oregon State over UCLA, Air Force over SMU, Utah State over Wichita, and West Virginia over Cincinnati.

Season's record: right 4, wrong 0, percentage 1.000.

Bucs Review, Set Scrimmage

Today was review day for East Carolina's Pirates.

The Bucs will hold a full scale game scrimmage Saturday at 3 p.m. and Coach Clarence Stasavich hopes this will prove revealing enough to decide on his starting lineup for the season's opener with East Tennessee a week from tomorrow night.

"We will go over all of our material in the workout," Stasavich said before taking the field. "We need a lot more work on our offensive line because the offense has been so sporadic.

"It just hasn't been consistent and we hope to learn a lot of things Saturday. We still aren't set on several positions and we hope to get a better idea about who we want to start."

Stasavich said the second chief purpose of the Saturday workout would be to acquaint the players with game conditions.

The Pirates are in fairly good physical condition after two weeks of drills. Injuries have been few, but the players who have been hurt figure strongly in the Pirate plans.

Earl Burton, a lineman and William Mitchell, a sophomore wingback, were the first to miss workouts because of injuries.

Gerald Wrenn joined the list because of a knee injury earlier in the week and then Alternate Captain Mike Boaz hurt his knee on Thursday.

Other than that, the Pirates have come through some tough scrimmage sessions in good condition.

Stasavich was somewhat displeased with his offensive unit after last Saturday's scrimmage and continued to be dissatisfied until mid-week when he scheduled another scrimmage session. In this one, conducted in a rain on Wednesday afternoon, the Pirates appeared to regain the vigor they had displayed when practice first began.

"This probably was due to the cool weather we experienced," Stasavich said.

In Thursday's practice, the Pirates reviewed their mistakes in the Wednesday practice and then went into a long kickoff return workout that proved satisfying.

Tommy Bullock and George Whitley both got off several long returns and drew praise from Stasavich, who also lauded the kicking of Earl Clary.

"He was getting the ball down around the goal line most of the time," the Pirate coach said.

There have been some bright spots offensively. Senior tailback Billy Wightman was impressive running the ball in the Wednesday workout and with an additional 10 pounds of weight over last year he appears to be much stronger.

Senior fullback Butch Colson also has been running well in the pass catching of Richard Corrada has been impressive. Corrada was Colson's favorite target last season running from wingback. This year Corrada has been shifted to split end and is doing a good job.

Dwight Flanagan, who was out most of last season with an injury, has moved to the wingback slot vacated by Corrada and likewise has been looking good as a receiver.

Ford, Chrysler, AMC Eye GMC Price Boost

DETROIT (AP) — Chrysler, Ford and American Motors had a new factor to consider today as they formulated their 1970 car prices—the 1970 General Motors price list which boosts price tags an average of about $125.

GM, however, puts the average hike at $119. It says that because of higher volume more weight should be given the lower-priced Chevrolets than the more expensive Cadillacs.

GM also announced Thursday it was continuing its warranty plan which provides coverage for the power train—engine, transmission and rear axle—for five years or 50,000 miles.

Henry Ford II, Ford Motor Co., board chairman, said a staff of executives was at work today considering the competitive impact of the GM warranty.

Ford previously had announced a one year, unlimited mileage plan covering the entire car, including power train. GM's coverage for the entire car is for one year or 12,000 miles.

Ford, speaking at a news conference called after he announced he had fired Ford President Semon E. Knudsen, declined comment on prices. "We will have our answer next week," he said.

GM begins sales on Sept. 18. Ford the next day and Chrysler on Sept. 23. It was the first time in four years that GM had announced prices first.

Because of its tremendous sales volume—it sells more cars than the other three automakers together—GM can operate on a lower per-car profit basis.

In announcing the price increases, GM Board Chairman James Roche cited payroll increases during the past year of 6 per cent, higher prices for metals and increases in state and local taxes.

The firm-supplied average price was an increase of 3.9 per cent over 1969 while the average increase of all models—$124.14—was an increase of 3.6 per cent from 1969 cars.

Thoughts are what we are

We are what we think all day long. Never underestimate the power of your thoughts. They are tremendously influential in molding character and action. They are, in truth, the parents of our behavior. Disposition and personality — even character — will very largely be determined by the thoughts we welcome to our minds each day.

Since it is true that a soul is dyed the color of its thoughts, it is imperative that everyone be given guidance in thinking about truths and values that are noble and eternal.

The Church stands in your community to help you and your children. Worship this week in your church, and find the joy that comes when life is centered upon values that last.

Ground Broken For Plant

P.F.I. GROUNDBREAKING . . . owner Salem Van Every turns first spade of dirt. Others pictured include his wife and children, Harold Creech of the Chamber of Commerce-Merchants Association; Ross Bryant, Bill Castell and D. R. Smith, Kodak technical representative.

Ground breaking ceremonies were held Thursday for a $250,000 photo finishing plant here, the first in Eastern Carolina. The 10,000 square foot building will be erected on Trade Street, and according to owner Salem Van Every, will employ between 15 and 25 persons at start of operation. Van Every said the plant should be in operation by mid-October. Payroll for the firm which will process both color and black and white film, will be in excess of $100,000 per year, he said. The firm name will be P.F.I.,

Photo Finish, Inc. Construction and installation of the equipment, according to Van Every, will take about six weeks.

P.F.I. will feature 24 hour service on color film and prints, and will have a capacity of 3,000 rolls of color and black and white film daily. They will be able to produce from 2,000 to 2,500 color prints per day. Cost of the equipment for processing and printing, all Eastman Kodak equipment, is about $160,000, Van Every explained. All of the firm's employees will be trained in the equip-ment's operation by Kodak technical representatives. According to Van Every, Ross Bryant of Greenville will serve as customer service representative for P.F.I., handling public relations and customer relations matters, while Bill Castell will be in charge of quality control. General contractor for the building is Home Services of Greenville. Sub-contractors include: electrical, Wilson Rhodes Electrical Contractor, Greenville; plumbing, Thompson Plumbing of Wilson; and heating and air conditioning, Greenville Heating and Air Conditioning.

An open house is tentatively planned for the public in November. Greenville Mayor Frank M. Wooten participated in the ground breaking ceremonies.

Sidewalk Art Show Project Shaping Up

An Autumn Sidewalk Art Show is being shaped up for a two-day run at Greenville's Pitt Plaza. Scheduled for Friday and Saturday, September 26 and 27, the show is open to all artists in the area. An outdoor showing is planned.

This show is under the joint chairmanship of Robert Allen (Slim Short), local TV personality, and Robert Pittman, engineer-artist of Greenville.

Entries in practically all areas of fine arts will be accepted, to include paintings, sculpture, drawings, watercolors, collages, prints, and assemblages. Craft items are not being accepted for this exhibition.

Artists in the professional, amateur, college and high school categories are invited to submit works for the autumn sidewalk show. Each artist can submit up to 8 items. Entry fee is 25 cents for each work entered. Prizes will be awarded. The top one will be a $100 best in show, with $25 for first place in each category and class; a merchandise gift certificate for second place; and ribbons for third place winners.

Proceeds (in the form of commissions on sales) will go to the Greenville Art Center, which is sponsoring the exhibition. Entry blanks can be picked up at the Greenville Art Center, which is open Mondays through Fridays from 9:00 a.m. to 12 noon, and from 2:00 to 5:00 p.m., and from 9:30 a.m. to 12:30 on Saturdays.

"We hope this initial autumn show will be a highly successful affair," says co-chairman Pittman.

Area Evacuated Due Lethal Gas

GLENDORA, Miss. (AP) — Clouds of lethal phosgene gas, spewed from four railroad tank cars that exploded near here Thursday night, endangering areas as far away as 30 miles today after forcing the evacuation of thousands of persons.

No fatalities and one injury were reported, although some livestock was killed, authorities said. Glendora is about 30 miles north of Greenwood.

The tank cars were carrying highly flammable vinyl chloride which was transformed into phosgene gas by the fire which followed the explosion. Officials said the blaze would have to burn itself out and refused to speculate how long the gas would be a threat.

A shifting southerly breeze forced numerous changes in the evacuation area and estimates of the number of persons evacuated ranged as high as 25,000. The Pentagon, already smarting from the controversy surrounding shipments of poison gas from its Rocky Mountain Arsenal, issued a statement early today denying any connection with today's shipment.

The area of Austria is 32,374 square miles.
