Special Study Committee To Be Named Demo Chairman Seeks Organization Changes

RALEIGH (AP) — State Democratic Chairman Jimmy Johnson says some changes are needed in the Democratic Party's organization in North Carolina.

"I'm not sure the Democratic Party is entirely democratic," said the Charlotte soft drink executive who stepped in as party chairman after masterminding Gov. Bob Scott's primary election campaign.

Johnson said party leaders hope some changes will be proposed by a special study committee Scott is expected to appoint soon. Johnson said he expects the study group to take a look at the way national convention delegates are selected.

"The winner-take-all philosophy is apparently becoming repugnant to most people," he said. "And that's the way our district delegates are elected. Fifty per cent plus one vote is all you need."

"Our last delegation wound up 58 for Humphrey and one for McCarthy, but we had polls that showed public opinion was considerably different.

"It was about a third for Humphrey, 27 per cent for (Sen. Robert) Kennedy and the rest for McCarthy, but our delegation didn't represent that."

"This effectively shuts a lot of people out of our party," Johnson said. "We can't afford to shut these people out either. We've got to keep every Democrat we can get."

Johnson said the committee should do something about the rules for naming a national committeeman when a vacancy exists. He noted that Jack Kirksey of Morganton resigned the post a few weeks ago when he was appointed to the North Carolina Highway Commission.

"I looked in our little book on party organization to see how to replace Jack," said Johnson. "I couldn't find a word about it anywhere."

"We have precinct officials as well as county officials who have overstayed their time," he continued. "They've picked up scars in battles over the years and they're not really representative any more."

"We need to spell out terms of office and whether such officials can be reelected," Johnson said.

State Bank And National Bank Officially Merge

The State Bank and Trust Company and North Carolina National Bank of Charlotte officially merged at 9 a.m. this morning, but the union of the two banks is being questioned by a complaint in U.S. Eastern District Court.

The complaint, filed Friday by Judson H. Blount Jr.—"a minority stockholder" according to the legal paper—is an anti-trust action to restrain the merger of the two banks, according to federal court officials.

According to T.H. Stubbs, law clerk for Federal Judge John Larkins, the paper would normally have stayed today's merger. "But in this case," Stubbs noted, "the judge (Larkins) ordered the complaint would not stay the merger . . . in accordance with an order from the Comptroller of the Currency . . . which set the 9 a.m. merger time."

Stubbs said a hearing on the complaint is scheduled for 12 noon Wednesday.

When asked for comment on the merger this morning and on the court action, State Bank president J.T. Marston said only "the merger was effective at 9 a.m. this morning . . . it has been consummated."

"I really can't tell you anything," Marston continued. "The merger was effective this morning at 9."

Marston did say, however, that the local firm "will retain the State Bank name for the time being."

The State-NCNB merger was approved earlier this month by the U.S. Comptroller of the Currency. State Bank shareholders voted their approval of the union on May 8.

Blount has consistently opposed the merger and voiced his opposition at the May 8 meeting. On a one vote per share basis, however, there were 17,070 votes for the merger, with 1,630 against and 3,056 abstentions. Blount owns 840 shares of State Bank stock valued at $42,000.

The merger proposal calls for a tax-free exchange of one share of State Bank stock for 6 1/2 shares of NCNB Corporation stock.

In addition to the NCNB proposal, First National Bank of Eastern North Carolina has attempted to gain control of the local bank by purchasing privately owned shares of stock. That move began on November 13, 1968, when the Jacksonville-based bank chain purchased about 13 per cent of State stock, owned by Judson H. Blount Sr., at that time the largest single shareholder in the bank.

First National also made a bid at the May 8 stockholders meeting to dissuade stockholders from approving the NCNB offer.

Cost Of Living Again Inched Up

WASHINGTON (AP) — Paced by higher costs for food, housing and medical care, the cost of living went up another notch in August, four-tenths of one per cent, the government reported today.

Egg prices went up 20 per cent from July to August. Arnold Chase, assistant commissioner of the Bureau of Labor Statistics, said the demand for eggs and consequent lower supplies reflected a shift from higher priced red meats to eggs.

Rents went up four-tenths of one percent, the largest monthly increase in 13 years.

The Consumer Price Index rose to 128.7, in August, meaning it cost $12.87 to buy the same goods and services that were bought for $10 in the 1967-68 base period.

The August price rise was slightly less than the five-tenths of one per cent from June to July. It meant that the annual rate of increase is 4.8 per cent, compared to the 6 per cent annual rate reflected in the June-July increase.

Prices on women's apparel declined more than usual for this time of the year. Chase said the decline may be significant, "but we may have to wait a few months to see that confirmed."

Transportation costs were off slightly, mainly because prices for new and used cars declined with the approach of the 1970 model year.

Some 155,000 workers, mostly in the aerospace industry, will get cost of living pay increases on the basis of the index increases. They have contracts tied to the index.

The purchasing power of the average worker in August showed little change both from July and June. A small gain in weekly take-home pay was offset by the rise in consumer prices.

Gross weekly earnings advanced to $116.43 in August, an increase of 61 cents from July and $7.27 from a year ago.

Spensible earnings, or take-home pay, for the worker with three dependents rose to $101.38 in August, a gain of 46 cents over the month and $5.09 over the year.

Real spendable earnings, take-home pay expressed in 1967-68 dollars to reflect consumer price changes, were about unchanged at $78.77 in August for the worker with three dependents.

Airliner's Crash Takes Lives Of 24

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Twenty-four of the 118 persons aboard were killed in the crash of a Mexicana Airlines plane as it came in for a landing after a flight from Chicago Sunday night, the airline reported today.

The fact that it crashed into swampy ground off the end of the runway at Mexico City's International Airport probably saved the lives of the others.

Among the dead, Mexicana Airlines said, were five crewmembers. Three crewmen's bodies remained trapped in the plane's nose which was buried in mud 3,000 feet from the end of the runway.

Paulino Perez Martinez, an airlines official, said he did not know if there were other bodies trapped in the wreckage.

The Boeing 727 was carrying 111 passengers, many of them U.S. tourists bound for Mexico City and Acapulco, and a crew of seven.

Mao Rumors Termed Lies And Slander

MOSCOW (AP) — The Chinese Communist Embassy denounced as "lies and slander" today reports circulating in Moscow that Chairman Mao Tse-tung is critically ill.

The reports, lacking any official Soviet confirmation, have been attributed to "reliable Communist sources." One report said Mao had suffered a stroke Sept. 2 and that only massive medical attention was keeping him alive.

"This is typical of the lies and slander of the American bourgeois press which is always hostile to People's China," said a Chinese Embassy spokesman. Informed that Communist sources in Moscow had circulated the report, he snapped "That is the same thing."

Western diplomats commenting on the reports said they were impressed by the specific detail of some of the accounts, adding that illness of Mao would help explain such events as Premier Chou En-lai's abrupt departure Sept. 4 from Hanoi in advance of the funeral of Ho Chi Minh, president of North Vietnam.

Skeptics here, however, noted that there have been many Moscow reports in recent years on Mao's failing health, and that despite specific details, the reports later proved to be untrue. Observers in Hong Kong generally discounted the rumors.

Islam Chiefs Hold Summit In Morocco

RABAT, Morocco (AP) — Leaders of 24 Moslem countries — most of them moderates on the Arab-Israeli question — assembled in Morocco's capital today to condemn Israel's annexation of Jerusalem. But a dispute appeared likely over Arab demands for stronger words.

Revolutionary Arab leaders, including Egypt's President Gamal Abdel Nasser, sent word they would not attend the three-day meeting.

Non-Arab leaders were expected to limit their protests to adoption of resolutions condemning the annexation of Jerusalem by Israel after the 1967 war and the fire Aug. 19 in Jerusalem's Al Aksah mosque, one of Islam's most holy places.

U.S. Curtails Its Far East Involvements

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. missions in the Far East are under "new orders to heed President's Nixon's policy of reducing American involvement in Asia, according to Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield.

The orders were issued after he had complained to Nixon the missions were not following the new Asian policy outlined by the President at Guam last July.

Mansfield said in an interview. The Montana Democrat spent two weeks on a tour of the same Asian countries the President took this summer after being asked by Nixon "to study reactions to his new Asian doctrine."

Mansfield returned Aug. 27 and reported to the President at San Clemente, Calif.

Mansfield said his journey to the Philippines, Indonesia, Cambodia, Burma and Laos produced no evidence of a follow up by U.S. missions there.

He said he told Nixon "the concepts, practices and programs by which U.S. missions in Asia have operated for many years remain the same."

But since his conference with Nixon at the Western White House Mansfield said, he understood "instructions have gone out" recalling the President's Guam statement explaining its policy significance.

Mansfield made public Sunday a report on his findings which he said was along the lines of what he told Nixon: The Democratic leader said he described the Republican President's new policy to Asian leaders this way: "The United States will maintain its treaty commitments, but it is anticipated that Asian nations will be able to handle their own defense problems, perhaps with some outside material assistance but without outside manpower."

From now on, Mansfield told the Asian leaders, U.S. assistance will take the form of cooperative economic help and not military aid. Asian nations, he said, must make their own collective security arrangements.

Cornerstone And Box Are Salvaged

The cornerstone, and a sealed metal box which was in it, were salvaged from the old high school which is now being demolished.

The box and cornerstone were turned over to J.H. Rose, retired school superintendent, who said that the box will be unsealed at 8 p.m. Wednesday in the Third Street School auditorium.

Rose said the public is invited to be on hand and he particularly urged members of the class of 1925 to attend. The school, which stood at Fifth and Reids Streets, was built in 1925 and the cornerstone was laid at that time.

In recent years the building had been used as a junior high school. It was hit by a major fire last year and had not been used since. The property was sold to the Redevelopment Commission, which recently awarded contracts for its demolition. The building has almost entirely been cleared from the property.

Overwhelming No To School Bonds

CURRITUCK, N. C. (AP) — Voters of Currituck County Saturday overwhelmingly defeated a $500,000 school bond issue.

Returns from 8 of 10 precincts gave only 379 votes for and 763 against.

The money was to be used to finance construction of new classrooms and lunchrooms at existing schools.

Storm 'Inga' Is Moving Slowly

MIAMI (AP) — Tropical Storm Inga was reported 950 miles east of Puerto Rico today, and was expected to move slowly northwestward on a course that would send it north of the Leeward Islands.

The National Hurricane Center estimated highest winds at 45 m.p.h. It said conditions did not favor rapid intensification.

The storm, born in the Atlantic Sunday, was reported almost stationary during the night.

Five Helicopters Are Shot Down By Reds

SAIGON (AP) — North Vietnamese troops shot down five American helicopters, including three during an infantry assault today on the edge of the Que Son Valley south of Da Nang.

A U.S. spokesman said it was not known immediately how badly the three choppers were damaged.

A fleet of helicopters landed American infantrymen from the 196th Brigade in a hilly area 34 miles south of Da Nang. The men immediately made contact with North Vietnamese troops, triggering a 3 1/2-hour fight.

The U.S. Command said one American was killed and nine wounded, but it could not say whether any of the casualties were in the helicopters shot down or all were in the ground fighting.

Three North Vietnamese soldiers were reported killed.

The fighting occurred eight miles east of Hiep Duc, a refugee resettlement town which has been threatened since last month by two regiments of the North Vietnamese 2nd Division. In two weeks of heavy fighting in the area last month, the U.S. Command reported 75 Americans and up to 1,000 North Vietnamese killed.

The other two American helicopters shot down were destroyed and raised to 3,040 the total of U.S. helicopters reported lost in Vietnam.

One of them, a small Army observation helicopter, was downed last Friday about 12 miles west of where the three troop-carrying helicopters were hit Monday, the U.S. Command said. Three Americans were wounded.

An Army Cobra gunship was downed in Thua Thien province Sunday 26 miles northwest of Da Nang, wounding one man aboard.

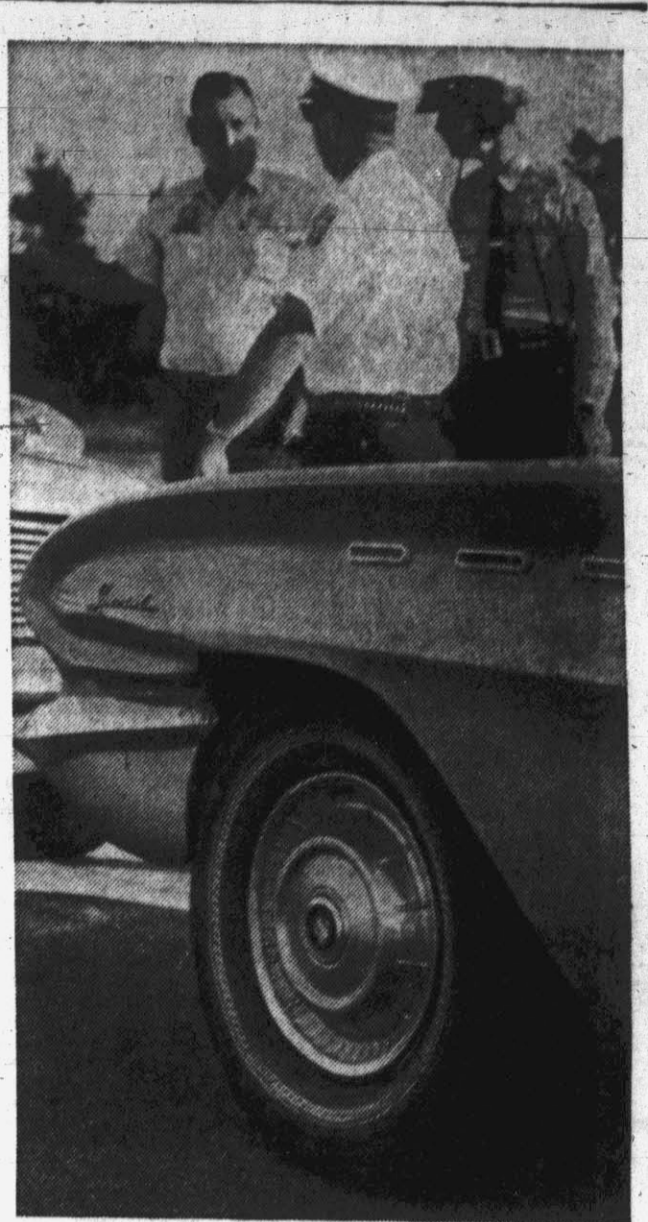

The South Vietnamese government reported that Viet Cong terrorists raided two refugee camps in Quang Ngai Province early Saturday and killed 19 persons, including eight members of the family of a national policeman.

Eleven other civilians or militiamen were wounded in the attacks, about 100 miles south of Da Nang.

North Vietnamese soldiers surprised American infantrymen who had just dug shallow foxholes Sunday night along a ridgeline 92 miles southeast of Da Nang and blasted them with heavy mortar and rifle fire. Eleven Americans were killed and 10 others wounded. U.S. headquarters said enemy losses were not known.

School-Bound Eighth Grader Killed By Car

By STUART SAVAGE
Reflector Staff Writer

A junior high student on his way to school today was fatally injured when struck by two cars as he crossed N.C. 43 at the Red Banks Road intersection near the Aycock School.

Mark Stewart Williams, 14 of 1900 Charles St. was pronounced dead on arrival at Pitt Memorial Hospital. Pitt County Coroner E. W. Harvey said death resulted from severe head and chest injuries.

Greenville police investigators reported that Williams was struck by a car driven by Susan K. Fornes, 20 of Route 2, Greenville as he ran from the west side of the highway.

The boy collided with the north-bound Fornes vehicle, was thrown 13 feet back across the center line and landed under a south-bound vehicle driven by Mrs. Wilma S. Pescatore of 409 West Fourth St. That car, officers reported, came to rest with one rear wheel on the boy's chest.

A group of men lifted the car from the boy who was taken to Pitt Memorial Hospital by the Greenville Rescue Squad.

Witnesses said Williams darted from the side of the road in front of the Pescatore car and behind a truck which apparently obscured his view of the north-bound lane of traffic.

School officials said it was Williams' first year in school here. He was in the eighth grade.

Superintendent of schools Dr. C. C. Cleetwood reported Williams' mother Mrs. Vernon (Mary Lou) Williams is an art instructor at East Carolina University and his sister, Martha, is a senior at Rose High School. Mrs. Williams and the children, Dr. Cleetwood said, moved to Greenville this year from Samoa "chiefly to put the daughter in high school . . . so she could graduate from an American high school."

Mr. Williams, the school official noted, is a civilian employee of the U.S. Government in Samoa.

Williams was described as a "tremendously popular" student at Aycock Junior High, and a member of the junior high football team.

The fatal collision occurred about 8:33 a.m. Williams was "on time" Cleetwood said, for the beginning of school at 8:45.

Police, who said investigation of the mishap is continuing, reported that an estimated $100 damage resulted to the Fornes car.

Further Cutback

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon announced plans today to cut U.S. armed strength by another 77,500 men, sidelining more than 200 planes and mothballing another 22 ships.

The new economy moves will save an estimated $356 million this year.

The manpower reductions include deactivation of two-thirds of the 5th Marine Division which was activated for the Vietnam war in March 1966.

A total of 20,300 Marines are involved but the division's 26th Regiment will stay in Vietnam.

The Navy ship layup, which brings the total for the year to 98, includes the intelligence gathering ships Banner — sister ship of the USS Pueblo which was seized by North Korea — and the Palm Beach.

The Air Force will reduce its manpower strength by 50,000 and is to cut its civilian employe payroll by 13,000.

Fourth Satellite Attempt Fails

UCHINOURA, Japan (AP) — Japan failed today in its fourth attempt to put a satellite into earth orbit when the uncoupling third stage of the rocket bumped the fourth payload stage and threw it off the planned trajectory at an altitude of 100 to 124 miles.

Japanese space scientists said the third stage burnt out and uncoupled normally but its momentum caused it to bump into the final stage, which was carrying instruments to measure radiation.

Postal Workers Ask Retroactive Pay Increase

WASHINGTON (AP) — A spokesman for 650,000 federal postal workers asked the Senate Post Office Committee today to grant them a 5.4 per cent pay raise and make it retroactive to July 12.

The increase, urged by James H. Rademacher, president of the National Association of Letter Carriers, AFL-CIO, and chairman of the Government Employees Council, would be on top of the 4.1 per cent raise the postal employes received July 1.

In addition, Rademacher called for establishment of a new federal salary commission to evaluate postal pay in comparison with private industry. He said the workers would require another increase on Jan. 1, 1970, for their pay to become comparable to private industry.

ANSWERS TO BRIDGE QUIZ
Q. 1—Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠9 6 2 ♥K 10 ♠A 9 5 3 ♣Q 10 8 2

The bidding has proceeded:
North East South West
1 ♠ Pass 2 ♠ Pass
3 ♠ Pass ?

What do you bid now?
A.—A bid of three trump strikes us as a reasonable gamble. Having protection in three suits and a maximum raise, you should be willing to risk the spade suit in the quest for the shortest road to game.

Q. 2—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠J 10 6 ♥K 10 8 5 4 ♠Q 8 2 ♣9 5

The bidding has proceeded:
West North East South
1 ♠ Dbl. Pass 1 ♥
Pass 1 NT Pass ?

What do you bid now?
A.—Our vote is for a raise to two no trump. While normally such a raise denotes a holding of eight points for seven points with a five card suit, we choose to raise with a point less than is normally prescribed because a suit double followed by a bid of one no trump will usually indicate a hand that is slightly better than an ordinary one no trump overall.

Q. 3—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠K 9 7 ♥A J 6 4 2 ♠K 10 8 3 ♣7 4

The bidding has proceeded:
North East South West
1 ♠ Pass 1 ♥ Pass
1 ♠ Pass ?

What do you bid now?
A.—This hand is just a shade too good for a rebid of one no trump, and yet it is not quite strong enough for a jump to two no trump, which is forcing to game. We suggest a raise to two spades, the normally we avoid this with only three trumps when partner presumably has a four card suit. If partner rebids, we will then try three no trump on the next round.

Q. 4—As South, vulnerable, you hold:
♠A 9 8 ♥A 10 7 5 4 ♠J ♣A Q 10 3

The bidding has proceeded:
North East South West
1 ♠ Pass 2 ♥ 3 ♠
Pass Pass ?

What do you bid?
A.—In order to determine the best final contract, a temporary bid is in order and the suggested call is four clubs. If partner returns to four hearts, a further bid may be made, if you feel so inclined, in the form of a four spade bid. This will describe a strong hand with a singleton diamond.

Q. 5—As South, vulnerable, you hold:
♠AKQJ 9 5 2 ♥A ♣AKQJ ♣7

The bidding has proceeded:
East South

What do you bid?
A.—Your first duty is to make a bid which is forcing a game. The only one available is a cue bid of two hearts. Regardless of partner's response, you will then embark on a Blackwood bid to determine the number of aces he holds. An immediate four no trump call might be misunderstood.

Q. 6—Both sides vulnerable. You are South, and hold:
♠KQ 10 6 2 ♥7 ♠AK 5 3 ♣J 9 7

The bidding has proceeded:
North East South
1 ♥ 2 ♠ ?

What do you bid?
A.—Double. You should be able to take at least four tricks against a club contract, which with partner's expected three, will come to a 500 point penalty. With no sign of a fit, you should resist the temptation to bid two spades.

Q. 7—Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠8 4 3 ♥Q J 9 8 6 2 ♠10 2 ♣9 5

The bidding has proceeded:
North East South West
2 ♠ Pass 2 NT Pass
3 NT Pass ?

What do you bid now?
A.—Partner has a powerful hand with values distributed in all suits. You may be sure, therefore, that he has some reasonably good heart support, and the proper bid is four hearts. A no trump contract might not work out well if the enemy is able to shut you out of your heart suit.

Q. 8—As South you hold:
♠KQ 8 5 ♥5 ♠A 9 8 6 ♣KQ 4 3

The bidding has proceeded:
East South West North
1 ♥ Dbl. Pass Pass

What is your opening lead?
A.—The opening lead of a trump is clearly indicated. Your partner by leaving in the double has predicted that your side will win more tricks with hearts as trump than will the opponents. It is, therefore, important not to permit declarer to win tricks with any of his low trumps, and the extracting process must be started at once.

Three Sunday Afternoon Collisions; Child Injured

One person was injured and an estimated $1,500 property damage reported in three Sunday afternoon collisions investigated by Greenville police.

Officers said the one injury resulted when six-year-old Lawrence Pondexter Perkins of 310 Conley St. was struck by a car on Fifth Street, 50 feet west of the Memorial Drive intersection.

Investigators identified the driver of the auto that struck the child as William Zeno Worsley, 40, of 1308 Dickinson Ave. Police said the Perkins boy ran into the path of the car about 3:55 p.m., but was not seriously injured. He was taken to Pitt Memorial Hospital for treatment.

No charges were made. Jimmy Lee Nelson, 19-year-old Negro of Simpson was charged with leaving the scene of an accident following investigation of a 12:30 p.m. collision at the intersection of Howell and Garland Streets with a parked car.

Police identified the owner of the parked car involved in the mishap as Willie A. Daniels of Grimesland.

Damage to the Nelson car was set at $500 while damage to the Daniels car was set $400.

No charges were placed in a 2:05 p.m. collision at the intersection of Fifth Street and Memorial Drive.

Officers, who set damage to each of the two cars involved at $300, identified the drivers of the vehicles as Brinda Alligood Modlin, 26, of Washington and Wesley Theodore Godley, 66, of 200 Manhattan Ave.

Old Landmark On Broadway Closes

NEW YORK (AP) — Many of the old customers stopped by for a quiet snack at Lindy's—a Broadway landmark for 42 years—closed its doors early Sunday for the last time.

"They came in here like locusts and cleaned us out of cheesecake and pastry for auld lang syne," said Christopher Rudd, night manager for 20 years.

The restaurant, which was frequented by the theater district crowd and immortalized as "Mindy's" in Damon Runyon's stories, has been sold to Longchamps, to be transmuted into a steakhouse.

The original Lindy's was opened by Leo "Lindy" Lindemann on Aug. 20, 1921, as an all-night delicatessen.

Nab 4 Tar Heels At 'Pot Party'

NEW YORK (AP) — Four North Carolina men were arrested Sunday in New York at what police described as a pot party. All four of the men were described as executives of a photo sales corporation.

Charged with violations of narcotics laws were Arthur Cashwell, 27, Grady Montsinger, 36, and Binny Orrell, 28, of Winston-Salem, N. C.

Arthur Blue, 27, and Nancy Darnell and Debbie Triplett, both 21, of Elmhurst, Queens, were charged with loitering but won dismissals in court.

Police confiscated marijuana and hashish and pipes to smoke it in at the posh $250-a-day presidential suite of the Americana Hotel.

Women Stole Highway Signs

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Two Cordova housewives have both been sentenced to one year on probation after being convicted of stealing 10 highway signs.

Ann Addison and Billie Jo Roberts tearfully told Judge Robert Gwin they took the signs to decorate their teen-agers' rooms. The women were fined $100 each and sentenced to 90 days at hard labor, suspended for 12 months, on conviction for malicious destruction of property.

Sheriff's deputies testified during the trial this weekend that the signs taken by the women included "stop," "Dangerous Intersection" and "Bad Curve" warnings, and the heavy reflector strip from the end of a bridge.

Record rainfall continued along the Ochlocknee River system, a sprawling agricultural area curving west and north of Tallahassee to the Georgia border.

The Weather Bureau said Tallahassee had received 12 inches and Blountstown 11 inches during the 24-hour period ending late Sunday night.

The Tallahassee Weather Bureau issued flood warnings for Blountstown, Bloxham and Quincy, and predicted the waters would rise above the disastrous flood levels of 1964. Havana, Fla., and Thomasville, Ga. were also threatened.

Gov. Claude Kirk, who viewed the stricken area from the air Sunday night, said 26 bridges and culverts were out.

Kirk ordered the Division of Emergency Government to coordinate relief action. Schools in Leon, Liberty and Gadsden counties were closed.

"So far no one has been ordered evacuated, but water is creeping into houses and Civil Defense units are standing by," a Florida Highway Patrol spokesman said. The storm was a tropical depression. Such depressions have the same counter-clockwise circulation found in hurricanes, but are not as severe. The depression that swept inland across Florida Sunday had top winds estimated at 40 miles an hour—about half the minimum for a hurricane.

WCS Fall Sub-District Meeting Set

The Womens' Society of Christian Service of the Greenville Sub-District of the Methodist Church will hold its fall meeting at Jarvis Memorial Methodist Church on Tuesday at 10 a. m. in the chapel.

If the Shoe Fits...

BY LARRY AVERETTE

Do ill-fitting shoes affect a child's disposition?
The obvious answer is 'yes' but shoemen would differ. Probably 95% of the children's shoes that we take off are outgrown, and the only unhappy children are those who can't have the style they want. Contrary to all of that evidence we frequently hear that babies are fussy until their mothers take off the outgrown shoes. That seems to be quite conclusive, but mothers whose babies wear corrective casts or braces usually report that the babies don't seem to mind a bit. In view of the conflicting evidence, we can be sure that it is not safe to allow children to wear tight shoes with any confidence that they will get crabby before they get bunions.

Jamison-Lewis Vows Said Sunday Afternoon

MRS. ROBERT-PAUL JAMISON

Miss Pamela Marie Lewis, daughter of Mr. Willie Jacob Lewis of Raleigh, and Mrs. H. D. Parker of Alexandria, Va., and Robert Paul Jamison, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Jamison of Vienna, Va., were united in a formal double ring ceremony in the Greenville Pentecostal Holiness Church Sunday afternoon.

The Right Rev. J. Floyd Williams, Bishop of the Pentecostal Holiness Church and great uncle of the bride, officiated.

A program of nuptial music was presented by Mrs. D. L. Le Roux of Greenville, organist, and Miss Marylou Jamison, sister of the bridegroom, soloist.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a long-sleeved gown of tulle-lined white silk organza trimmed with lace and seed pearls fashioned with a princess skirt matching veil was fingertip length. She carried a bouquet of white orchids and stephanotis.

The bride's aunt, Mrs. William Arthur Crawford of Falcon, was matron of honor. She wore a gold peau de soie gown with fitted bodice, full skirt, and cathedral train. Her tulle headdress and she carried a nosegay of bronze chrysanthemums.

The bridesmaids were Miss Judy Crawford, cousin of the bride, of Falcon, Miss Betty Ward of Greenville, Miss Judy Jamison, sister of the bridegroom of Vienna, Va., and Miss Mary Collander of Vienna, Va.

They wore moss green peau de soie dresses and matching tulle headdresses styled like that worn by the matron of honor. They carried nosegays of yellow chrysanthemums.

Attending the bridegroom as best man was his brother, Ronald Jamison, of Falls Church, Va. Ushers were Mitchell Jones, Jerry Jones, and Wayne Pollard, cousins of the bride, all of Greenville; and Michael Stuart of Silver Springs, Md.

The bride's mother wore a mink-trimmed beige two-piece dress with bronze accessories and a white orchid corsage. The bridegroom's mother wore a pale blue ensemble with white orchid corsage.

A reception was held at the Candlewick Inn immediately following the ceremony. A musical group provided entertainment for the occasion.

After the reception, the bridal couple left for a wedding trip. For traveling, the bride wore a white wool knit ensemble.

The couple will make their home in Springfield, Va.

Mrs. Smith Is Club Department Speaker Tuesday

Mrs. Argent Q. Smith gave a talk on safety at the meeting of the Home Life Department of the Woman's Club at the home of Mrs. Eli Bloom Tuesday afternoon.

The safety suggestions given pertained especially to the home and mainly to fire, the causes and precautions that should be taken. Every home should have at least one fire extinguisher. The use of the extinguisher the fire department could get there, said the speaker.

Another phase of safety discussed was the disposal of "spray cans". If a pressure can or bomb which has contained insecticide, deodorant, shaving lotion, hair spray or any of the dozens of products which are put up in pressure cans today are thrown in the fire or punctured they might explode causing fragments of the can to blind a person or injure them in some way. Either bury the pressure cans or have them hauled away for experience disposal crews to handle, she added.

The meeting was opened with a devotional by the chaplain, Mrs. W. C. Harris followed by the business being conducted by the chairman, Mrs. W. E. Roseveare. Hostesses for the afternoon were Mrs. Eli Bloom, Mrs. Hinton Best, Mrs. J. Con Lanier and Miss Eunice McGee.

Dress Daughter In One Of Her Creations When She Visits

By Abigail Van Buren
DEAR ABBY: My husband's grandmother is a dear little lady of 79, and my problem is that she loves to sew. I only wish she knew how.

She insists on making things for Tammy, my four-year-old daughter, and Abby, some of those creations are pretty awful. I don't know where she finds the material, and she must use patterns from 1922.

Also her workmanship leaves much to be desired. (Crooked collars and button holes so large she doesn't "finish" a hem—she just hacks off the bottom with a pinkish shears).

She keeps asking me, "Why doesn't Tammy ever wear that little dress I made for her?" I keep saying, "Oh, it's too nice, Nana. She's saving it for a special occasion." I hate to lie. But what can I do?

IN A PICKLE
DEAR IN: Have Tammy wear one of Nana's "creations" when you visit Nana—or when Nana visits you. That's not much of a sacrifice considering the pleasure it would give an elderly lady.

DEAR ABBY: I read with interest the letter from "FAT MAN'S WIFE," because I am a fat man. I am 20 years old, 6 feet tall, and weigh 285 pounds.

Your contention that "there are a lot of fat men who haven't suffered any loss of love" is ridiculous.

I haven't had a date in months and I don't blame any girl for finding me repulsive. But it's a vicious circle, because feeling unloved, I eat more and more and get fatter and fatter. I've been told that I am intelligent, have a good personality, a good sense of humor, and it is only my bulk that keeps the girls away.

So, Abby, you are wrong, and here is one fat man to prove it.

FATSO ON PHILLY
DEAR FATSO: There are no statistics available on the amount of loving one gets in relation to his weight, but I do know that not all fat men (or fat women) are "repulsive" to the opposite sex.

DEAR ABBY: Please try to make this letter good enough to use in your column. It is a message on behalf of all the adopted kids in this country.

Dear Adults: Please, please give us a chance. Why do some of you keep remarking about how we are bound to turn out "bad" like our unwed mothers? I am proud to say that I am adopted. To all parents who have adopted children: We love you. YOU are our REAL parents. Everything we learn, we learn from you. All we inherit from our other parents are our looks, but YOU make us what we are. It is YOU and your friends we watch and try to be like.

How could any mother look at a tiny infant and think she may turn out "bad" because of a mistake made by a man and woman that child never even knew?

And to those people who think you can inherit a bad character, how do you account for the minister's child who goes to prison for rape? Or the police chief's daughter who gets hooked on drugs? Inheritance? I don't think so.

Please give us adopted kids a chance. God bless you, Abby.

ADOPTED AND GRATEFUL
DEAR ABBY: May I say a few words to "ADOPTED AND HURT?" I don't believe adopted children are products of "bad" parents.

A child is like a rose. Well-tended and cultivated it will bloom into a beautiful flower. Unattended it is starved and choked with weeds. The results are not due to the seed—but the "care."

So if you have kind and loving parents who care, you will be a winner in any show. PROUD ADOPTED PARENTS

DECORAMA

By TOMMIE WILLIS
THOUGHTFUL DECORATION

Far too often, interior design is regarded by the amateur and by some professionals who should know better, as merely a device for filling space as quickly as possible. The idea seems to be that, once walls are covered, the requisite furniture included and the job "done," the result will somehow be a well decorated room or home.

Sound decoration is a thoughtful process which encompasses far more than just filling space. A room of character is never "done." As tastes and fancies change—modification must be made.

Perhaps your living room is in need of change for the coming season when you'll spend more and more time indoors. We have a very fine home decorating service. Tommie Willis Interiors, 425 Greenville Blvd., Greenville, 756-1336.

Anticipated Commission's Views

It was impressive to us, that much of Carnegie Commission on Higher Education thinking has been expounded by Dr. Leo Jenkins, president of East Carolina University for almost a decade now.

Dr. Clark Kerr, chairman of the Carnegie Commission on Higher Education, told the Southern Governor's Conference last week that higher education is in the deepest crisis in "all the 333 years since the founding of Harvard."

"This is a sad commentary to make when it has also just completed its decade of greatest advance," he said.

Among the points which have been made by the Carnegie Commission on Higher Education report are:

—Medical schools must be created in population centers without such facilities, and substantial numbers of new doctors and related health personnel must be educated.

—Research support must be gradually but steadily expanded to serve greater numbers of graduate students and to help finance additional institutions and additional areas of investigation appropriate to national needs.

—Facilities to train 60 percent more medical students and 60 percent more PhDs will be needed by 1975 to meet the nation's requirements for doctors, researchers and teachers," according to the report.

Well, after long years of saying these very things, East Carolina University is at last launched on a program of providing allied health services training. It also received funds from the Legislature this year to begin developing a curriculum for medical education.

This year, also the university received legislative authority for offering doctorate programs beginning in 1972 with Higher Board of Education approval. This came after opponents had maintained for years that no further doctorate programs were needed.

Thus it now appears that Dr. Jenkins and East Carolina University have been working for years to provide what the Carnegie Commission on Higher Education says the nation's colleges and universities need to do most.

Perhaps East Carolina was ahead of its time, but its program are now being proved wise.

Possible Remedy By Hijacking Agreement

If, as a dispatch from Cuba says, the government there has enacted an anti-hijacking law, then the United States should do all it can to reach an agreement on the issue.

According to the news report, a law signed by Fidel Castro would allow the return of persons who hijack planes, although it would not apply to those who the Castro government considers political refugees.

That exception might be interpreted very broadly so far as planes coming from the United States. Nevertheless our government should not exclude the possibilities of ending hijackings through agreement with Cuba.

Hijackings encourage other hijackings and each of them carries its own dangers. The sooner governments reach agreements to end air piracy, the better off the entire world will be.

Helpless Over Spending Boom

By ROWLAND EVANS and ROBERT NOVAK

WASHINGTON — When a private survey on Tuesday forecast a shocking rise in corporate spending next year for plant and equipment, the nonchalance displayed by Nixon administration spokesmen was simply a cloak to hide their deep feeling of helplessness over runaway inflation.

Indeed, before the bad news that the investment boom is continuing was released to the public, it had become known to President Nixon's top economic policy-makers and was muffled over by them. The astounding forecast by the Rinfret-Boston Corp., an economic consulting firm, that corporate investment would rise 9 percent in 1970 was slipped to the White House on the previous Thursday—five days before its public unveiling.

Unknown to Rinfret-Boston, the Administration had almost identical information of its own. A highly secret, experimental survey of business investment conducted by the Commerce Department foreshadowed what one economist there described as a "huge surge of spending next year. So incendiary is this information that the report has not yet been released and may never see the light of day.

Given this advance warning, the Administration could have announced the results of both its own and the Rinfret-Boston survey, expressed alarm over the inflationary pace, and called for new tactics in the war against inflation. Instead, the calculated decision is to play it cool.

Thus, the Administration's public response is to suggest that the Rinfret-Boston forecast is just a shade exaggerated (while suppressing its own corroborating survey), to express doubt that it means all that much anyway and, finally, to voice confidence that present policies are slowing down the inflationary engine.

In truth, however, that posture is less a product of confidence than of despair. Nixon economic advisors confide that, based on past records, the Rinfret-Boston survey is probably very accurate indeed and that it spells the worst possible economic news. Furthermore, they admit that the Administration simple has no new weapons to use in the war against inflation and claim that the bevy of proposals being thrust upon it from alarmed quarters are all defective. In that helpless position, the reaction has been to put up a sunny front.

What makes all this so remarkable is that only a few weeks ago, as we reported, Nixon economic policy-makers were confident that the tight monetary policy had brought inflation under control and that a possibly severe recession loomed for next spring. Now, based on the new investment data, they believe a 1970 recession is most unlikely.

But worse things than a recession may be just over the horizon. The new demand for funds to fuel corporate investment is expected to push interest rates to new highs, further depressing both the bond market and the stock market. That would extend Wall Street's mood of growing panic into 1970.

There is now fear in Wall Street that the Federal Reserve Board may overreact to the bad news and further tighten the already tight screws on the money supply, inducing an economic crash. The Administration, however, (Continued On Page 5)

Strength For Today

Advantage Of The Doubt Many years ago Tennyson expressed the importance of reverence when he wrote: "I would the great world grew like that:— Who grows not alone in Power."

And Knowledge, but by year and hour In reverence and in Charity." How many people have true charity? The word is derived from a Latin word which means "high regard; love and an attitude of good will and helpfulness toward fellowmen."

Gossip is such a hateful practice because it involves the spreading of bad news and critical opinions about others. When nodding heads get together and gossiping tongues begin to wag, somebody is in for a bad time and the world is not going to be a happier place when their exchange of opinions and evaluations are over—if they ever are.

Certainly it would seem to be sensible and considerate to spread good opinions about one's contemporaries instead of evil. We are worthy of a great deal of criticism, but the right to pass judgment on people is not given to any of us. We may and often should, disagree with what certain people say and stand for. There is nothing wrong about this provided we do not judge the motives of the people with whom we disagree. The two-party system in politics is advantageous because one of the parties is continuously criticizing the other. But they are not judging each other and attributing the wrong, dishonest and selfish motives to what they do.

We believe that God smiles on us when we give anybody the advantage of the doubt. Holding one's tongue is often a distinct Christian virtue. By Earl L. Douglass

The Foe Of Hurricanes

WASHINGTON — With all the excitement going on in Washington these days, hardly anyone noticed that President Nixon has come out against hurricanes.

In one of the strongest statements he has made since he took office, the President said that his Administration would do everything in its power to eradicate the threat of hurricanes in the United States. A friend of Bebe Rebozo told me, "The President has always been against hurricanes, and he vowed during his campaign that if he were elected, he would make it the first order of the nation's business."

"But in spite of that," I said, "we still seem to have hurricanes, particularly in the South. Haven't the courts laid down certain guidelines for each state to follow in regard to the hurricane problem?"

his attorney general and his secretary of health, education and welfare all feel that these guidelines are unrealistic, and that the South should be given more time to work out its anti-hurricane plans before the federal government steps in.

ART BUCHWALD

Other Editors Say Pushing Postal Reform

(Montgomery, Ala., Advertiser)

The plan to take the Post Office out of the pork barrel and place it in the hands of a public corporation received its biggest boost the other day when President Nixon praised the proposal. After describing postal service as inefficient and inadequate, Nixon said:

"Our present postal system is obsolete. It has broken down. It is not what it ought to be for a nation of 200,000,000 people and a nation that will be 300,000,000 within 30 years. Now is the time to act."

With Nixon at San Clemente when he officially endorsed the plan were its three major proponents, Postmaster General Blount, former Postmaster Lawrence O'Brien and Senator Thurston Morton. The latter two are co-chairmen of a citizens group for postal reform. The nonpartisan appeal of the proposal is indicated in the fact that both men have been national chairmen of their respective political parties.

The reform plan would give control of the postal service to a nine-member board, seven appointed by the President and two named by the board to act as operating managers.

The board would make the basic decisions on rates, personnel, wages and expenditures. Congress now controls the Post Office.

O'Brien, Morton and Blount went to San Clemente to enlist the President's support for a last-minute push for the proposal, which is currently being considered by a House committee. It will probably come up for a vote within two weeks. Postal reformers have run into heavy but expected opposition from postal employes unions, bulk mailers and many congressmen, who have used the Post Office as a dumping ground for political favorites.

Nixon's exhortation that now is the time to act actually comes a little late. The Post Office will operate at a deficit of $1.3 billion this fiscal year. If the reform proposal is adopted, which is unlikely this year according to most observers, it would take at least five years under the public corporation to erase the deficit. It would undoubtedly take longer to weed out the dead wood and improve service.

If it isn't done, the entire system stands a good chance of collapsing.

"Some people say the reason the President has gone easy on hurricanes since he's been in office is because he hopes to win the South to the Republican Party in 1972."

"That's nonsense. The President has always believed that local governments should solve their own weather problems. He prefers to implement federal storm legislation only after all other means of fighting hurricanes are exhausted."

"Then you feel is not playing politics with the pro-hurricane lobby?"

"Absolutely not. He has told the Justice Department to make sure that all anti-hurricane laws are obeyed. And Atty. Gen. Mitchell has said that the American public should watch what he does and not what he says when it comes to prosecuting storm violators."

"I remember his saying it," I said.

"Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare Robert Finch has predicted that this Administration will do more to wipe out storms than any administration in history. But both Cabinet officers realize that you can't shove anti-hurricane legislation down the throats of the South, who have managed to live with hurricanes for so many years." (Continued On Page 5)

School Busing Debate

By ED ROGERS

WASHINGTON (UPI)—If the South's school buses followed the route taken by the latest debate over busing for balance, they would always end in the "neighborhoods," they started from.

A debate last week, to some southern governors, took an "encouraging" turn. But by week's end the debate itself had ended about where it had begun.

Vice President Spiro T. Agnew told the Southern Governors Conference he opposes busing children "to other neighborhoods simply to achieve an integrated status of a larger geographic entity."

Agnew addressed a state dinner highlighting the annual meeting of the 17-state conference at Williamsburg, Va.

The next day the 12 governors still on hand passed, 9-3, a resolution urging the federal government to use restraint and good judgment in requiring busing to meet its desegregation goals.

The three voting against this official stand—the governors of Georgia, Alabama and Mississippi—did so only because it was not strong enough to suit them.

Eight Deep South governors had supported a much stronger resolution demanding the federal government require nothing more than allowing pupils freedom of choice in school attendance.

But this resolution, requiring a three-fourths vote to pass, was defeated by three border-state votes and the abstention of Arkansas Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller.

Rockefeller, later to be elected new conference chairman, said he abstained because the resolution did not follow a form agreed to in an earlier executive meeting.

The Deep South governors said the federal enforcement agency—the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, is placing integration ahead of education.

Two governors, Mills B. Godwin of Virginia and Robert E. McNair of South Carolina, said Negro parents at some localities rebelled at losing use of neighborhood schools to achieve integration.

The first reaction of the governors to Agnew's statement was that it seemed "encouraging" if the administration would adopt Agnew's view as official policy.

The White House quickly issued a confirmation statement: "The President," the statement said, "is not for imposing busing as a way to achieve racial balance."

There remained only one more step—for the administration's enforcement people to acknowledge the Agnew policy and this, too, came quickly.

A reporter who questioned HEW spokesmen was told the Agnew policy was already the HEW policy—HEW has never required busing to achieve racial balance because the law forbids it.

This was a reference to language in the 1964 Civil Rights Act which declares its intention was to outlaw segregation and discrimination, but not to require busing or integration per se.

A formal HEW statement issued at about the same time put it this way:

"The position of this administration has always been quite clear:

"To achieve quality education while carrying out the congress-

Sun Claims No Damage By Oil

By ELMER ROESSNER

Speaking of oil, Sun Oil Co. would have you believe that the oil spill in the Santa Barbara Channel wasn't so bad. In Our Sun magazine, the company says that oil has always been present in Santa Barbara waters because of natural leaks in the ocean floor, that there was no extensive or permanent damage to wildlife or marine life in the channel, and that the beaches and coastal areas have been restored to usefulness for residents, tourists, fishermen and boating enthusiasts. Santa Barbara papers please copy.

U. S. Cracks Down On Sock-Tourist Deals

The Department of Justice has filed an antitrust suit against 22 Virgin Island retailers charging conspiracy to fix prices on gift-shop items. The DOJ is going to be busy if it plans to end all such deals around the country. For a starter, it might look into San Francisco's Chinatown.

What May Happen If prices continue to rise, as they will, and anti-inflation measures continue to constrict business, the economy will head into trouble. Employment will be cut back, slowly at first and then faster. Unprofitable lines will be dropped, then money-losing plants will be closed, faced with new demands because of rising prices, more employers will choose to take strikes. Many prices will fall as layoffs lessen buying power. But falls will be largely in luxuries as manufacturers and retailers cut inventories, often taking losses. But prices of necessities may continue to rise.

The First National Bank of Boston states, "For still another month little success is apparent in efforts to check the inflationary boom. . . . Most key indicators, particularly production and income, have continued on the strong side."

A few disquieting signs have developed which suggest that obstacles are becoming more formidable. The profit squeeze is likely to be intensified. That may be the message telegraphed by recent weakness in securities markets."

Old Promoter Becomes A Temperature-Taker

"I see," said Wunderbar von Garfinkel, the old promoter, on his weekly visit today "that Barnes Engineering of Stamford, Conn., is making an infrared radiation thermometer that, without touching the object measured, can tell the temperature of a butterfly's wing, or the temperature of a crocus bursting

"Interesting," I said, "but I don't see it as a department store item."

"Your imagination is slipping," the old one replied. "I am going to lay in a stock of them and sell them to young men going to dances. They can tell in an instant which girls sizzle."

Home For Over 1,500 Convicts

By WILLIAM A. SHIRES Reflector Raleigh Bureau

RALEIGH — Central Prison in Raleigh is a grim place. It is a bleak structure of thick stone walls, steel bars and lonely isolation, and it is the home of more than 1,500 convicts.

Last week three more were led in, handcuffed and forlorn, and placed in separate cells in the maximum security section which is called "Death Row." They wait there for execution.

Down a dimly-lighted corridor, past the cells of other condemned men, is a pale green door. Beyond that is a storekeeper in Rocky Mount. The jury which convicted her of international, first degree murder did not recommend mercy.

Under North Carolina law, the death sentence was mandatory and Superior Court Judge George M. Fountain had no alternative. Marie Hill is at Woman's Correctional Center," the new name for Woman's Prison.

Every official contacted expressed doubt that the state will ever execute Marie Hill. They did not want to be quoted by name, but pointed out that the case is in the courts.

OTHERS — What about the others on "Death Row" in Central Prison? There is an equal question there. It has been eight years since Theodore Boykin, a Negro, from Duplin County, gasped his last breath and died in the lethal gas chamber at Central Prison. He was executed for rape and murder in Duplin County.

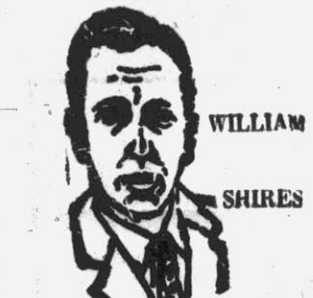

Since then no one else has been led into that chamber and strapped in a chair.

APPEALS — The fact is that it is doubtful that any one of the 11 people sentenced to death under North Carolina law and justice will ever be executed.

The three young people, ranging in age from 19 to 23, led into those grim death row cells for eventual execution, are not likely to be put to death. Appeals have been filed. The U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals already has cast doubt upon the manner in which juries in North Carolina pass out death sentences. This may soon be upheld, and legal sources think it will be.

After then, what? North Carolina General Assembly will finally repeal the death penalty. This is the general prediction. The legislature has refused this for several sessions despite increasing pressure. The vote has been narrower each time.

But this young girl, incarcerated in jails and prison for more than a year, is condemned to die.

Eighteen Killed 'Operation Intercept' Is Netting Pills, Marijuana

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The State Highway Patrol reported 18 persons died on North Carolina highways during the weekend, including three persons who drowned when their car went into the Broad River near Chimney Rock.

The weekend traffic count raised the death toll for the year to 1,245, as compared with 1,315 for the corresponding period last year.

Drowned were Robert McClain, 35, his wife, Barbara; and their son, Robbie, 7, of East Flat Rock. The accident occurred on U. S. 17 in Rutherford County when the car failed to make a curve Saturday night. The car was discovered Sunday morning.

Robert K. Billett, 22, stationed at Camp Lejeune, was killed Sunday night when his car ran off a rural paved road four miles west of Swanesboro in Onslow County and hit a tree.

Dallas Eugene Harper, 30, of Asheville was killed when his motorcycle ran off an Asheville street Sunday and overturned.

Bruce Arrington Coggins, 57, of Winston-Salem was killed in a two-car accident in Winston-Salem Saturday night.

Other victims included Joseph Gilliam, 31, of Winston-Salem; Linda Lewis Davis, 17, and Tracy Marie Davis, 3 months, both of Rt. 2, Plymouth; Edward Hayden, 33, of Hartsville, S. C.; Sophie Suratski, 75, of Miami, Fla.; Robert Henry Falbert, 27, of Rt. 2, Mount Gilead; James Stanley Stewart Jr., 9 months, and Welthy Fay Brock

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Operation Intercept, the government's drive to cut off drugs from Mexico, netted uncounted illegal pills and thousands of pounds of marijuana as it reached full operation over the weekend along 2,500 miles of the U.S.-Mexico border.

The intercepted contraband included half a ton of marijuana aboard a plane that was seized.

Some 90,000 persons in 30,000 cars who went to Mexico for a bullfight at Tijuana and horse racing at Agua Caliente Sunday found themselves waiting in line for inspection at San Ysidro south of San Diego on their return.

Taxpayers Get Something Free

FRESNO, Calif. (AP) — City Council is getting a new electronic machine to count its votes, but it isn't going to cost the taxpayers a cent.

Councilman P.J. Camaroda agreed to pay for the $1,700 machine after he failed to get approval of his motion to use money from the council's budget.

He indicated, however, that he may solicit donations, from other councilmen who voted for the machine.

29, of Vass. Also, John Henry Paschall, 25, of Greedmoor; Floyd W. Clayton, 21, of Durham; Tuanor Blount, 6, of Mt. Olive; and Wallace Anthony, 9, of Rt. 1, Scotland Neck.

Authorities said Mitchell told them he had paid $27,000 for the marijuana in Mazatlan and planned to take it to Berkeley.

A car abandoned in line at San Ysidro was found to contain 2,000 pills classified as dangerous drugs, customs officers reported.

The car's young driver, not immediately identified, was caught as he tried to flee on foot into the United States. He was turned over to San Diego police.

Operation Intercept headquarters in Los Angeles said five men and a woman from New York City were arrested Sunday south of the border by Mexican officers who reported the group possessed 140 kilos of marijuana.

A spokesman said the six were jailed at Sonita, Mexico, a mile south of Lukeville, Ariz. Customs agents at Laredo, Tex., reported they seized 1,400 pounds of marijuana from Mexico over the weekend.

At sea, Navy patrol boats joined Coast Guard cutters in checking small craft.

In the air, planes crossing from Mexico were being monitored on military radar planted at known smugglers, routes across the border.

Recognized The Local Talent

KUOPIO, Finland (UPI) — When four stripteasers failed to arrive from the exotic East for work in this town a night club owner hired four local girls to perform and billed them as the Eastern exotics.

"Foul!" cried customers who recognized the local talent. In court, the owner was fined 100 marks ($24) for false advertising.

Fire-Bombing Is Charged Youths

GASTONIA, N. C. (AP) — A fire-bombing at a barn in Gastonia County has been charged to five youths who lived nearby.

Gaston Rural Police Chief William Brooks identified them as Larry Benton, 17; Thadus Benton, 23; Elmore Lynch Jr., 16; Jerry Flood and Emory Wingate, all Negroes. The chief said the barn was owned by Marshall Welch of Stanley, who is white.

sional mandate of the 1964 Civil Rights Act and the decisions of the U. S. Supreme Court.

"Administratively, we have told our compliance people to let local school officials, the greatest extent possible under the law, work out their individual busing schools and route."

While these words apparently brought the debate back to the point it started from it touched off a new round of arguments—this time in Congress.

At week's end southern congressmen who claim the HEW requirements have been illegal all along began drafting new speeches for the House of Representatives.

One of the first to reach the floor was Rep. Fletcher Thompson, R-Ga., who said the "faceless bureaucrats" in HEW "are more powerful in imposing their will on the American people than the President and vice president."

Evans-Novak . . .

is confident that Chairman William McCleskey Martin of the Fed will keep monetary policy at its present tight level and no tighter.

But the forecasts of more inflation ahead require much more than a continuation of present policy in the opinion of several economists, including Dr. Pierre Rinfret, president of Rinfret-Boston. Rinfret, a 1968 Nixon campaign consultant, who is still in frequent contact with the White House, feels that radical new tactics, including selective credit controls, are necessary.

Rinfret is not alone. There is a considerable body of opinion which feels that, while the present tight money policy is crippling the housing industry, it has done nothing to curb consumer credit aggravated by the proliferating credit cards.

On top of all this, the Administration's past fiscal decisions are coming back to haunt it. Assuming that inflation would be under control by 1970, President Nixon had proposed that the present 10 percent surtax fall to 5 percent on Jan. 1. Now, with surtax extension enmeshed in the tax reform imbroglio, it is at least possible that the entire surtax may go off the books by then.

Ills Fester And Grow In Nursing Home Program

By JAMES R. POLK
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Despite a billion-dollar bonanza from the federal government, America's nursing homes are a stark and lonely place to die. Abuses in money and medicine, an air of death and despair shadow the aged through the dusk of their days.

Studies show some doctors rarely see their nursing home tents. Nurses use drugs freely to restrain the elderly. Mental patients are dumped into nursing homes by the thousands. And fraud feeds on the federal dollar.

Through Medicaid and Medicare, the government suddenly has taken over financial responsibility for most of the nursing home care in this nation. The taxpayer now pays $2 out of every $3 pouring into private nursing homes.

Profits are healthier than ever. But other ills fester—tough federal regulations have been slower than federal dollars in reaching nursing homes.

For this hidden million Americans, the end can be an empty, grim, even degrading tragedy. The Associated Press, in an extensive nationwide study of nursing homes, found facts and cases like these:

—In El Graniada, Calif., a nursing home operator is accused of stealing a dying patient's savings of $13,000 after she and a lawyer lifted his feeble hand to guide his signature on a legal paper.

—A suburban New York City nursing home billed Medicare for nearly $400,000 for physical therapy in one year. When the government tried to recoup part of the money by suspending Medicare payments, the nursing home discharged all its Medicare patients.

—Some physicians, dentists, X-ray firms and other medical specialists have been accused by Senate investigators of making profitable "mass visits" to nursing homes where patients are plentiful. Records show one doctor who operates his own nursing home in Jefferson, Tex., billed Medicare last year for 4,560 visits to just 54 patients.

—For the most part, however, doctors' care in many nursing homes across the country is so scarce that it is a national scandal. In one large home in Topeka, Kan., a survey showed three-fourths of the patients checked had not been seen by a doctor in at least half a year.

—Tranquilizers, sedatives and other drugs are used in abundance to keep patients quiet. Doctors agree to prescriptions over the telephone to nursing homes without examining their patients. One Michigan woman was thought to be speechless for two years until a new doctor stopped the sedatives and found she could talk.

—Nursing homes have become warehouses for elderly mental patients that state hospitals turn down or turn out. Few homes have any hint of psychiatric care, and most use drugs—or keep the patients belted in chairs. A woman who spent almost 50 years in a mental hospital now sits and stares in a Detroit nursing home, tied in a chair.

—Perhaps most distressing, studies show nursing home patients may die quicker than ailing patients on the outside. For example, when Dr. Morton A. Leiber of the University of Chicago examined the cases of 800 elderly persons, he found that the mortality rate of those on the waiting list to enter a nursing home was 10.4 per cent, while that of those already in a nursing home was 24.7 per cent. The researcher also cited five other studies which "reported marked increases in mortality rates for aged persons entering mental institutions or homes for the aged."

The AP survey showed that in many nursing homes the patients receive compassionate attention and adequate medical care. All told, nearly a million people are confined to the nation's 23,000 nursing homes and other homes for the aged. Most are past 75. And, studies have found, many patients are senile or mentally confused, their minds fuzzy with the cobwebs that come with old age.

The old are also the poor. And because of this, the federal government has made nursing homes a rich business.

Medicaid, the vast federal-state program that pays the health costs for the poor, now pumps more than $1.1 billion a year into private nursing homes.

Other federal programs, including Medicare which pays for brief stays in nursing homes after leaving a hospital, raise the total outlay by the taxpayer to $1.6 billion—more than two-thirds of all the money that nursing homes took in last year.

About 90 per cent if the nation's nursing homes are run for profit. And with the government now paying for care that the old and needy couldn't afford before, business is booming.

The president of Four Seasons, one of the biggest and best nursing home chains, has reported an anticipated annual pre-tax profit of $1,000 a bed.

The owners of one rural home in Tennessee reached that profit figure on welfare payments of less than $2,000 a year per bed.

More than 50 nursing home chains have burst onto the stock market in the past two years as prices soared. Four Seasons went on sale last year at $11 a share. Now its stock is selling at $60, and that's after a 2-for-1 split.

The big boom has built hundreds of new nursing homes, with shining equipment, soft carpets and smiling administrators, to replace the fetid, faded boarding houses of a past era.

Real efforts are being made today at recreation and physical rehabilitation. Many homes attempt therapy programs. The facilities are cleaner, more modern, more attractive. And there has not been a disastrous nursing home fire for nearly five years.

But the better carpeting does not always mean better care.

In the money-minded world of big business, profits can depend on keeping the basic cost of medical care as cheap as possible.

Greenville Area Opened To Mormon Ministers

The Greenville area has been opened to ministers from the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints, or Mormons.

The Greenville area is within the boundaries of the Central Atlantic States Mission with headquarters in Roanoke, Va. This is one of some 80 Mormon missions throughout the world with 16,000 young men and women who feel it is a pleasure to tell people of the true message of Mormonism.

In this area, Elder Gene Stewart 20, of Magna, Utah, and Elder Steve Nannini, 19, of Hayward, Calif., are laboring with the people.

The Mormon elders serve for two years at their own expense with no remuneration.

Their message deals with the restored gospel. The Mormons believe in the Bible and the Book of Mormon. The Book of Mormon is a religious history of the ancient inhabitants of the western hemisphere and God's dealings with these people through living prophets.

The Mormons also believe that God has spoken to a prophet in our own time beginning with the Prophet Joseph Smith in 1820.

The Mormon Church, numbering about three million members, has its headquarters in Salt Lake City, Utah, with David O. McKay serving as president and prophet.

The Mormon Elders in Greenville are sharing a 30-minute travelogue of the Mormon settlement called "A Visit to Temple Square" with all groups or individuals who are interested.

The Mormons have a local congregation which meets each Sunday at 10:30 a.m. and 6:30 p.m. in the Rawl Building, Room 130, East Carolina University campus.

For further information concerning the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints, call President Lionel Kendrick, 756-5145, or the Mormon Elders, 756-4900.

Q. One of my neighbors goes to see a Doctor of Chiropractic periodically even though there is nothing wrong with him now. Can you tell me why he does this?

A. Not knowing the specific problem involved, I can only assume that your friend must have had a particular problem that his chiropractor has managed to control and he is now under preventive care.

Q. Do you think it wise to have a chiropractic check up at regular intervals?

A. I certainly do. In my own case I have a complete examination yearly and a spinal balance check up each month. Preventing problems is frequently much easier than correcting them once they develop. I'm sure you have heard the saying that "an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure."

Giants Maintain Half-Game Lead With Help Of 4-3 Win Over LA

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer
Gaylord Perry went for a stroll in San Francisco Sunday and some roughnecks from Los Angeles jumped him. But Willie McCovey went for a walk and arrived home safely.

The adventures of the two San Francisco Giants on the base-paths were the highlights of a 10-inning 4-3 victory over the Los Angeles Dodgers that enabled the Giants to maintain their one-half game lead in the National League West.

While the third-place Dodgers were falling 3½ games back, the runner-up Atlanta Braves kept pace with the Giants by whipping San Diego 8-2.

Fourth-place Cincinnati stayed four games out with a 4-1 triumph over Houston.

The New York Mets increased their lead over Chicago in the NL East to 4½ games and lowered their magic number to four with a 5-3, 6-1 doubleheader sweep of Pittsburgh while the Cubs were nipping St. Louis 4-3 in a single game. Montreal edged Philadelphia 7-6.

In the American League, Seattle shaded Minnesota 4-3, Oakland drubbed California 12-2, Detroit blanked Boston 9-0, Cleveland downed Washington 4-3 and the Chicago White Sox routed Kansas City 10-2.

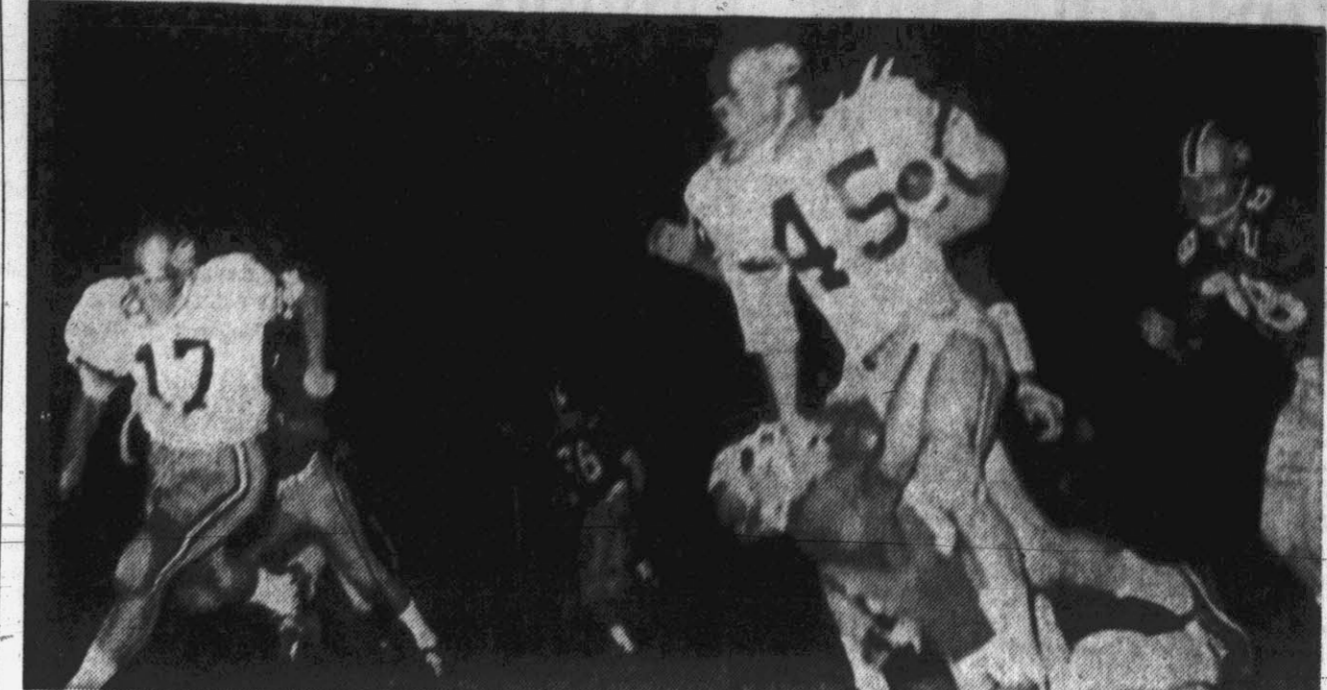

Perry took his exercise in the fourth inning with the Giants nursing a slim 2-1 lead. Jackie Hiatt was on third and Perry on second with two out when Ron Hunt walked.

But Perry, apparently thinking the bases were loaded before the walk to Hunt, headed for third, which Hiatt had no intention of leaving. Catcher Tom Haller fired to shortstop Maury Wills, trapping Perry, a .140 hitter who's more at home on the pitching mound than the base-paths.

Hiatt broke for the plate and Wills' return throw nailed him easily.

Wills, however, was the goat in the 10th when his two-out bases-loaded boot of Jim Davenport's grounder enabled McCovey to lumber home with the winning run.

With two out in the seventh, Ted Savage doubled and Denny Lemaster passed Darrel Cheney, bring up Nolan. After the pitcher's triple, Pete Rose singled home.

Strong pitching by Jerry Koosman and Don Cardwell sparked the Mets to their double win over Pittsburgh and the Pirates helped out with seven errors.

Richmond Shows No QB Problem

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Southern Conference football teams emerged from their Saturday openers with three victories, four defeats, and lots of sobering news from rivals of the teams ranked 1-2 in the coming SC championship race.

Richmond's Spiders, favored for a second straight title, were among the weekend losers, bowing 17-14 at Mississippi State. But in defeat, the Spiders squashed any notion they had a quarterback problem.

Making his first start after laboring in the long shadow of pass-master Buster O'Brien, junior Charlie Richards threw for a conference-record 373 yards against the Southeastern Conference Bulldogs.

The Citadel, rated Richmond's sternest challenger, was a Saturday winner against a lesser caliber foe, humbling Lehigh 41-16. In winning this easy one, though, the Bulldogs showed they're ready for tougher opposition.

Quarterback Tony Passander, in particular, showed he's ready, willing and able to run the new triple-option offense by passing for 237 yards and three touchdowns and scoring once on a one-yard plunge.

Quarterbacks also were prominent figures in the two other victories logged by SC teams—Davidson's 21-8 prance past Guilford and Furman's 14-12 nose-out of Presbyterian.

Gordon Slade, picking up where he left off last year, threw for 189 yards and three touchdowns in the first half for Davidson, two of the TD passes going to star end Mike Kelly.

Cleve Hightower was the quarterback hero for Furman pitching for a touchdown as the Paladins, thanks to Jim Newmeyer's two conversion kicks, beat the only team they kicked last year in a 1-9 season.

William and Mary lost at Cincinnati, 26-18, despite two touchdowns by Joe Pilch; East Carolina was blanked at East Tennessee, 7-0, and VMI was blasted at Rice, 55-0, in other Saturday action.

Richmond coach Frank Jon came out of the narrow loss at Mississippi State feeling "not so very disappointed." Richards' performance was one reason.

Another was the brilliant job done by split end Walker Gillette, who speared 16 Richards passes for an SC-record 264 yards.

The Spiders get their first conference test this coming Saturday afternoon when they play VMI in a regionally televised game at Lexington, Va.

The five-game weekend schedule also includes another game that will count in the standings, Davidson's night contest at Furman.

The other three Saturday games, all nonconference affairs, find The Citadel entertaining Arkansas State, East Carolina playing host to Louisiana Tech, and William and Mary at Temple.

$1799*

What's the catch? There isn't any. $1799* is the suggested retail price of the port of entry for the VW sedan. The price includes the Federal excise tax and import duty.

It also includes the built-in heater/defroster, windshield washer, electric windshield wipers, outside rearview mirror, padded dashboard, armrests and sunvisors, front seat headrests, and seat belts front and back.

Not to mention the new electric rear-window defogger and the new ignition/steering lock. (When the key is removed, the steering wheel is locked in place.) It's the price of the real thing, not a stripped-down economy model.

What else do you have to pay? The charge for transporting the car from the port of entry. The dealer delivery charge. And local sales tax.

There is one optional that makes a lot of sense. The automatic stick shift. (It eliminates the clutch pedal.) Well, that's it.

Unless, of course, you count the cost of gas and oil it takes you to get here in your present car.

Andretti Wins Driving Title For Third Time With Trenton Scalp

By BLOYS BRITT
AP Auto Racing Writer

Mario Andretti, who began racing in Italy before his parents brought him to America at age 13, capped his most successful year in motorsports Sunday by winning the U. S. driving title for the third time.

Cougars Cut 3 From Squad

BOONE, N. C. (AP) — Two veterans and a rookie were cut from the Carolina Cougars squad Sunday. The American Basketball Association rules say the Cougars must cut its squad to 12 by the beginning of the regular season Oct. 18.

Coach Bones McKinney identified the players as Don Carlos, a 6-foot-5 guard who started for the Houston Mavericks last year; Bobby Rascoe, a 6-foot-4 guard obtained in a trade with the Kentucky Colonels two weeks ago; and Mike Nordholz a 6-foot-1 rookie.

McKinney said after a 50-minute game-type scrimmage Sunday, "We still have a long way to go, but the play today picked up my spirits."

ship cars at Trenton, N. J., to clinch the title.

It was his sixth victory on the USAC championship trail this season and the $19,000 first prize money boosted his 1969 earnings past the $250,000 mark. His average speed was 134.381 miles per hour.

Roger McCluskey finished second, five laps back of Andretti, while Bud Tingstad was third, Sam Sessioms fourth and George Snider fifth.

Mechanical woes struck out such contenders as Bobby Unser, the 1968 champion; his brother, Al Unser, five-times champion A. J. Foyt and New Jersey favorite Wally Dallenbach, all of whom led the race at one time or another.

Andretti's title wasn't the only one settled during a busy weekend of auto racing.

Mark Donohue of Media, Pa., drove a Camaro to his sixth victory of the season and handed General Motors its second straight manufacturers trophy in the Trans-Am American road racing series for small sporty sedans.

The 30-year-old Donohue beat former Indianapolis winner Parnelli Jones to the finish line in a 200-mile at Sonoma, Calif., by 2.4 seconds. Jones drove a Mustang and clinched second place in the championship series for Ford.

Ramo Stott, a 28-year-old veteran from Keokuk, Iowa, won the Auto Racing Club of America (ARCA) driving title when he drove a 1969 Plymouth of a 14 second victory over Bobby Watson of Lexington, Ky., in a stock car feature at Dayton, Ohio.

Jackie Ickx, the Belgian star, pocketed $20,000 when he won the Canadian Grand Prix for

All Teams Meet Loop Members

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
All six league teams of the Carolinas Conference will face conference opponents this Saturday in the opening of the inter-conference skirmishing.

Lenoir Rhyne will visit Presbyterian in which is thought to be a game which will prove to be important in the final outcome of the season.

Lenoir, a preseason favorite along with Elon, broke open a tight contest by scoring three touchdowns in the final quarter Saturday and routing Wofford, 38-11.

Elon mauled Concord 42-0 Saturday to prove the fact they are considered the co-favorite to win the conference.

Three other interconference games were played over the weekend and saw Guilford lose to Davidson, 21-8; Newberry whip Gardner-Webb, 27-15; and Furman edge Presbyterian, 14-12.

In other Saturday's games, Catawba will be at Newberry and Guilford will visit Elon.

"This was the biggest game of my career," said Deacon Jones, who has played in some big ones. "We went out and hit. We knocked hell out of 'em."

The defensive Goliath of the Los Angeles Rams expressed the sentiment of most of his teammates and of Coach George Allen after the Rams stunned Baltimore 27-20 in Sunday's National Football League opener.

Allen said the game was the biggest in his three years with the Rams, bigger even than Los Angeles' 34-10 victory over Baltimore for the conference title in 1967.

"It was the biggest because the odds were against us," said Allen. "He gave us a chance."

In other surprises, the New York Giants stopped Minnesota 24-23, Pittsburgh beat Detroit 16-13 and Atlanta whipped San Francisco 24-12. In other games, Dallas whipped St. Louis 24-3, Green Bay blanked Chicago 17-0, Cleveland stopped Philadelphia 27-20, and Washington turned back New Orleans 26-20 in a successful debut for Redskins Coach Vince Lombardi.

In the American Football League, Kansas City overpowered Boston 31-0, Denver upset the New York Jets 21-19, Houston beat Buffalo 17-3 and Cincinnati surprised San Diego 34-20. Oakland nipped Miami 20-17 in a Saturday night game.

Baltimore Coach Don Shula pinned the defeat—only the second in the defending NFL champs' last 15 home openers—largely on two fumbles and three interceptions of John Unitas passes, although he said a lot of things weren't his quarterback's fault.

With the score tied 17-17 in the third quarter, Rams safety Ed Meador picked off a Unitas pass and returned it 24 yards to the Baltimore 11. Bruce Gossett's 15-yard field goal put the Rams ahead 20-17.

In the final quarter, Baltimore's Preston Pearson fumbled Pat Studstill's punt and Rams rookie Bob Klein recovered at the Baltimore 16. Two plays later, quarterback Roman Gabriel increased the Rams' lead to 27-17 with his third touchdown pass to Wednell Tucker.

Unitas, who said his chronic sore elbow didn't hurt him, threatened to wipe out the deficit in the final minutes, but he was plagued by incomplections and an interception and the Colts had to settle for a 41-yard field goal by Lou Michaels.

The Giants' victory over the Vikings, last year's Central Division champs, marked an auspicious debut for new head Coach Alex Webster, who said

ACC Teams Do Better At Home

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
As usual, members of the Atlantic Coast Conference football teams did better at home than out of the conference.

Wake Forest stepped out of the ACC to battle Auburn and owned the short end of a 57-0 score at the game's end. Maryland also was mauled by a team outside of the ACC, West Virginia, by the score of 31-7.

South Carolina and Duke played before a capacity crowd in Columbia, S. C., and South Carolina was able to gain a 27-20 win over the Blue Devils.

Duke lost the services of sophomore guard Bob Fitch for the season. He was injured during the game and operated on Sunday at Duke Hospital for torn ligaments.

North Carolina is now in first place, along with Clemson and Wake Forest, in the ACC. The Gamecocks have never won a conference football title.

Clemson gained its share of the position with a 21-14 win over Virginia. Clemson scored two touchdowns in the final five minutes.

North Carolina State and North Carolina played before a capacity crowd in the rain Saturday and the Wolfpack fashioned a 10-3 win at Carter Stadium.

Next week's schedule has Georgia at Clemson, Duke at Virginia, N. C. State at Maryland, UNC at South Carolina and Virginia Tech at Wake Forest.

before the game. "We don't know how good we are and I want to find out fast."

Trailing 3-10 on two touchdowns passes by Gary Cuzzo and three field goals by Fred Cox, Webster found out in the final five minutes when the Giants started to move.

Quarterback Fran Tarkenton hit rookie Don Herrmann with a 16-yard scoring pass. A fumble by Gene Washington recovered on the Vikings' 36 by Ralph Heck set up the winning opportunity. Tarkenton's 33-yard desperation toss bounced off Earl Call Mackbee, a Viking defender, into the hands of Butch Wilton on the 10. Tarkenton then hit Herrmann in the end zone for the winner.

Rookie Warren Bankston scored the winning touchdown from the six for Pittsburgh with three minutes remaining. The Lions had grabbed a 13-9 lead two minutes before when quarterback Bill Munson hit on a 12-yard pass to Earl McCullough after the Lions recovered a Bankston fumble on the Steelers' seven.

Quarterback Bob Berry paced Atlanta with two touchdowns passes to tight end Jim Mitchell. Atlanta widened the cushion to three touchdowns early in the fourth period on rookie Paul Gipson's nine-yard run. The Oilers tallied a safety, a field goal, and, in the last nine minutes, a touchdown.

Rookies starred for Dallas, Quarterback Roger Staubach tossed a 75-yard scoring bomb to Lance Rentzel in the opening period and running back Calvin Hill stunned the Cardinals with a 53-yard touchdown pass to Rentzel in the third. The Cowboys' famed Doomsday Defense limited the Cardinals to a 30-14 field goal.

Quarterback Bart Starr collaborated with speedy Travis Williams on a 31-yard touchdown pass, Jim Grabowski bulled over from the one, and Mike Mercer booted a 32-yard field goal for all the Packer scoring. The Packer defense from the six for Pittsburgh with three minutes remaining. The Gayle Sayers to 31 yards in seven carries.

Cleveland's Leroy Kelly, the NFL ground gain champion last year, suffered a hamstring pull in the first quarter, but Reece Morrison and rookie Ron Johnson took over and ripped the Eagles' defense to shreds. Johnson gained 118 yards on 17 carries for two touchdowns and Morrison picked up 48 on 16 attempts.

The Farm Scene

Factor Of Peanut Maturity.

Its peanut digging time again and the time of digging greatly influences yield per acre, market value per ton and the end product quality. Research has proven in every peanut producing state that several hundred additional pounds per acre can be added to yield during the last 7 to 10 days of peanut maturity. This in turn adds to the value of the peanut since for each percentage of immature kernels failing to ride the prescribed screen brings the farmer less than half the value received for a mature kernel.

The science of digging peanuts is very exact because every field has its own set of circumstances. Peanuts that have been dusted or sprayed at recommended intervals usually can be dug ten to fourteen days later than fields with a severe case of leafspots. Thus allowing the peanuts to fully mature and harvesting the highest percentage of sound mature kernels.

By knowing that the floriant variety matures in 130 to 135 days doesn't necessarily mean they will be dug then but it does give a farmer a point of reference. That it gives the farmer the chance to start checking for maturity.

One way for checking for maturity in runner type peanuts is to pull plants from different section of the field and delay digging until two thirds of the kernels are a deep pink color. That is if all other condition are good.

If Southern Stem Rot is a problem late in the season all these guides are worthless because the pod stem is being weakened and severely diseased plants will be unable to dig. If it seems to be a problem in just a section of the field and not spreading, the farmer may wish to ignore the disease and dig at maturity.

Digging peanuts at the optimum maturity point is very difficult because of different circumstances that surround each field but when dug at maturity this means higher yield and quality for the farmer and manufacture.

Tobacco stalks have been cut and the stubbles have been plowed out in approximately 65 percent of the tobacco fields in Pitt County. It is not too late to perform this important cultural practice in the other 35 percent of the tobacco fields.

Nematodes will continue feeding on tobacco roots and multiplying until December in those fields where the tobacco stubbles have not been plowed out. If the roots are plowed out and exposed to the drying action of the sun and wind the nematode build-up will be greatly reduced.

Cleaning up old tobacco fields from brown spot and mosaic as well as causing a reduction in next years tobacco insect population.

Budworm pupae over-winter in the top two or three inches of the soil. Turning the stubbles for nematode control also reduces the number of moths which will emerge next spring to lay eggs from which the larvae that destroys tobacco will develop.

Hornworm population can also be reduced substantially by destroying the tobacco stalks and plowing out the stubbles.

About two weeks after the stubbles have been plowed out, the field should be harrowed and disced so that the crop residue will be completely buried where it will decay before spring.

Every day of decay will mean more nematodes, more mosaic, more brown spot, more insects, drain in 1970.

Let's make Pitt County a 100 percent REDUCE & PESTS COUNTY by cutting tobacco stubbles right now.

Resume Pilot Strings Project

By JERRY RAYNOR
Reflector Staff Writer

"We are now ready to consider applications for new students in the Pilot String Project," states Rodney Schmidt, Assistant Professor of Music at East Carolina University and director of the string project.

In its third consecutive year, this project is a cooperative one arranged between the university and the city school system to furnish youngsters an opportunity to master the fundamentals of playing stringed instruments. . . the cello, violin and viola.

Schmidt was director when the program was inaugurated in 1967, and continues for the third year in this role. "This project is based on the successful method perfected by the Japanese teacher Suzuki," Schmidt observed. "We use the same methods and even much of the literature Suzuki employs."

Approximately 30 to 35 vacancies are available for the current school year. "With the increase in the number of musical instruments made available by the city schools, our programming will be simplified," Schmidt observed.

Outlining plans for this year, he explained that beginners accepted for classes will meet at the university after school.

"As in past years, a parent will be required to attend with the child and learn to play an instrument along with the child," Schmidt said. "This is also true for second year students, but does not apply to third year students."

Instrements for the child to take home for practice will be available, although this is not possible in the case of parents.

"For second and third year students in the project, we will be giving lessons in the public school they attend. This means, that with the new geographical zoning for elementary schools, we'll be conducting classes in all the city schools except Rose High."

Although preference for beginning students will be given to pupils in the first through fourth grades, Schmidt says he strongly urges older pupils with an interest in music to apply.

A new phase is being added to the project to give a greater degree of experience to more advanced students. "Commencing on Saturday, October 4th, we will conduct classes at the university for pupils to participate in string orchestras and in string quartets," Schmidt revealed.

For these classes simplified arrangements of music by Bach, Handel and even earlier composers will be used.

Already underfoot are plans for a student concert to be held next spring, possibly in May. "We hope to go beyond anything we've done before," Schmidt comments, "depending on the development shown by our students."

Persons interested in arranging applications for beginner students are urged to apply as soon as possible to Schmidt by telephoning 758-6257.

First Pork Cookout Champ Contest Set With Fairs

The first annual North Carolina Pork Cookout Champ Contest will begin with the opening of county and district fairs across the state, Jim Butler, executive secretary of the N. C. Pork Producers Association, has announced. The Pitt County Agricultural Fair is a participating fair.

The purpose of this competition for cash prizes is to stimulate interest in the use of pork cuts for the outdoor grill. Contestants, who must be male residents of North Carolina over 12 years of age, will be judged on several points including imaginative use of pork, appetizing appearance of the entry, and actual taste and tenderness of the prepared meat. Sauces, garnishes, and special methods of cooking will also be considered, along with the "showmanship" of the chef.

Local prize-winners will enter a state cook-off to be held at the state fair Sunday, October 19. The state winner will be named North Carolina Cookout Champ and will receive a cash prize of $1,000 plus an expense-paid trip to Des Moines, Iowa to represent the state in the National Pork Cookout King Contest.

Brochures containing local contest dates and rules and a complete list of participating fairs are available from county agents or from the N. C. Pork Producers Association, P. O. Box 2924, Raleigh, N. C. 27602.

CHAIRMAN.

Walk in, America.

Top of the line Kingswood Estate Walk-In: 3 seats, more powerful standard V8 at 250 hp, 115-inch wheelbase, 216.7 inches total length.

You'll have a hard time finding a wagon as easy to get into as a 1970 Chevrolet.

Try it sometime. Climb into any other wagon, then climb into one of ours. Chevrolet wins in a walk: With a dual-action door that swings open without any jutting hinges. With a rubbered stair built right into the bumper. With a roof that slants thoughtfully forward so you won't hit your head. We've got eight models this year, all with an Anti-theft steering column lock, steel side guard beams, Full Coil suspension, Body by Fisher, Engines by Chevy. And an awful lot of room. Look into a walk-in at your Chevrolet dealer's soop.

Putting you first, keeps us first

The United States was the first country to place men on the moon.

The scientist, an assistant professor of neurology at the University of Texas Medical School in Dallas, discussed tests in an interview at the International Congress of Encephalography and Clinical Neurophysiology.

Caterpillar Sign Of Cold Winter

LANCASTER, Pa. (AP) — Winter will hit suddenly and be rough from beginning to end if you believe in the forecast of the woolly bear caterpillar.

This prognostication was made Thursday by Herbert B. Krone, a retired Lancaster newsman who spends much of his time studying the fuzzy worms.

"The woolly bear is rolling again and he is black from stem to stern, blacker than I ever saw before," he said.

Krone said that black segments on the caterpillar indicate a hard wintery period... brown segments indicate mild winters.

Krone said of the coming winter: "There will be no mercy. It will be cold straight through. Around Christmas either corner the snow shovel supply or lock yourself in for a long stay."

Strip Of Paint Separates Irish

LONDONDERRY, Northern Ireland (AP) — The Roman Catholics of Bogside took down more barricades today as a three-man tribunal opened a public inquiry into the religious warfare that rocked Northern Ireland last month.

The tribunal, headed by British High Court Justice Sir Leslie Scarman, met under the guard of British troops in Londonderry's county court house.

As three more barricades came down today, residents immediately painted a four-inch-wide white line across their street as a symbolic barrier.

The Derry Citizens Association will retain control of the district, and Northern Ireland police may not cross the line.

Troops took up positions outside the line but did not put up barbed wire checkpoints as they have done in Belfast. The barricades came down there last
