Safe Again, Unhurt, With Mother

3-Year-Old Said Kidnaped, Sold

NEW YORK (AP) — A 3-year-old girl allegedly kidnaped here Thursday and "sold" to a South Carolina woman was carried sleeping from a plane at Kennedy Airport this morning and awakened by her mother's kisses.

They had received a tip that Tandalayo was taken to Charleston, where FBI agents found her Sunday at the home of William Jones, "a respected dentist," and his wife Irby, "a minister." The Joneses are not related to the child, police said.

Police said Mrs. Dezonie and Mrs. Coleman pointed Tondalayo out to the South Carolinian and said, "You can have her for $500."

The child's mother told police that Tondalayo disappeared while playing outside her Harlem home while she did housework to buy a child."

The FBI said Mrs. Irby Jones paid the price and "returned alone to her home in Charleston, where the child was turned over to her."

Message Of 'Mutual Acceptance' Is Expounded At Sunday Program

By JERRY RAYNOR Reflector Staff Writer

"You are facing the challenge of acceptance, of being accepted in society in roles involving responsibility and opportunity. What are you going to do with it? Make the most of it, or blow it?"

This was the question Bishop Wyoming Wells asked the congregation of white and black, young and old, at last night's "A Challenge to Youth Acceptance" program held at York Memorial A.M.E. Zion Church.

Bishop Wells compared the role of the Negro in the U.S. to that of the Israelites at the time of reaching the Promised Land after fleeing Egypt.

Dr. Andrew Best of Greenville told the congregation: "There is a great need for mutual acceptance. If our community moves forward and progresses, or even survives, there can be no black community, no white community. It must be a total community. We must survive together."

Noting that fear and distrust are still elements in the social structure, Dr. Best commented: "But we need not have fear, as long as we know that justice is the basis of policies governing our lives."

Music dominated the program. Two choirs of youthful singers, "The Crusade Choir" of York Memorial, and The Wells Temple Radio Choir of Greensboro joined forces in providing music—some simple and soulful; some jubilant and joyful.

Johnny Wooten, director of the music program, accompanied the massed singers on the organ. Miss Frances Baker, pianist for the Wells Temple Choir joined Wooten for several numbers.

The highlight of musical offerings was a special arrangement of "It Is Well With My Soul." Beginning with a slow-moving solo, the arrangement switched to an all-out jubilant expression of joy. The congregation picked up a steady rhythm of hand-clapping. This in turn developed into an intricate syncopation of singing, instruments and hand-clapping rhythm.

Earlier, the congregation had joined in singing an old traditional hymn, "Fairness Lord Jesus." This is the hymn chosen by the young people as their Crusade Hymn.

As a symbol of faith and mutual acceptance of each other, Johnny Wooten called on a number of citizens of both races to come to the front of the church and join hands. Mayor Frank M. Wooten Jr., Miss Phyllis Dawson, the Negro Miss Greenville; Truxton Whitney, assistant principal of Rose High School; Johnson Spruill, principal of Sadie Sauter School; Father H. C. Mulholland of St. Gabriel's Catholic Church, and several others were invited and participated in this symbolic ceremony—holding of hands in friendship while the choirs and congregation sang verses of "Jesus Loves Me."

Members of Rose High's Majorettes and the Marching Rampants served as ushers. Football players from Rose High School were special guests of honor.

Buck-Everett Vows Said In Ceremony On Sunday

Miss Carolyn Everett became the bride of William Buck Jr. in a ceremony performed at the Winterville Pentecostal Holiness Church on Sunday at 2:00 p. m.

The Rev. Jimmy Cole Williams and the Rev. Kenneth Dixon officiated at the ceremony. A program of wedding music was presented by Mrs. Shirley Harrington, organist, and Mrs. Earlene Stocks, soloist.

The church was decorated with a background of bridal palms centered with a floor basket of white mums and gladioli. Standing brass candelabra were placed on each side of the altar. The couple knelt for their vows on a satin covered prie-dieu.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Everett of Greenville. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. William Buck of Rt. 2, Grimesland.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal length gown of lace and organza. The gown was designed with a scalloped neckline and long lace sleeves ending in calla points over her hands. The skirt front featured rows of lace.

Her bouffant elbow length veil of illusion was attached to a headpiece trimmed with iridescents. She carried a lace-covered Bible centered with a corsage of white pixie carnations tied with streamers of satin.

Miss Patricia Wilson was maid of honor and Mrs. Frances Tripp, both of Greenville, sister of the bride, was matron of honor.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Anne Beachum and Mrs. Darlene Reed, both of Greenville. The attendants carried colonial nosegays of mixed summer flowers in pastel shades tied with streamers of matching satin.

Miss Sheila Tripp, niece of the bride, was flower girl. She carried a lace basket of rose petals. Obie Glenn Worthington, nephew of the bridegroom, was ring bearer.

Leroy Beachum of Greenville served as best man. Ushers were Linwood Everett, brother of the bride and Rudolph Ambrose, both of Greenville.

The bride's mother wore a blue bonded wool dress with pink accessories and a corsage of carnations. The mother of the bridegroom selected a navy blue A-line dress, matching accessories and a corsage of carnations.

For a wedding trip to unannounced points, the bride changed into a blue A-line dress with a coat.

The couple will reside in Winterville.

The bride is a graduate of Winterville High School and is employed at Roses Store, Greenville. The bridegroom attended Chocowinity High School and is employed by the Washington Utilities.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the Winterville Community Bldg. Assisting were Mrs. Christine Tyson, Mrs. Eunice Everett and Mrs. Lolita Pender.

The English Pub Is Changing Its Appearance In 1970

LONDON (WNS)—Women and children will change the entire look and behavior of the traditional English pub in the 1970s.

Sir Derek Pritchard whose Allied Breweries owns 8,200 pubs, has forecast in the Director Magazine that there will be ice-cream on tap for the kiddies and charcoal grilled steaks instead of just sandwiches so that wives need not go home to cook. Sir Derek predicts that the only male feature to remain will be the rail at the bar. "Even traditional draught beer will tend to disappear," he warned. "There will be serve-yourself machines for the drinkers."

Cooked mashed dried apricots are delicious added to a confectioners' sugar frosting.

Parents Should Be Firm With Children

By BIFAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: In two weeks my husband and I will be going on our vacation. After much persuasion, we agreed to let our sons, 17 and 20 stay home and "baty it."

Last week we discovejd that the boys are planning to invite about 15 couples, boys and girls, to a party at the house while we're gone.

We firmly told them that they could have the party only if an aunt and uncle chaperoned it. The boys didn't like that idea, and suggested instead that a newly-married couple of their acquaintance be the chaperones. (This couple is about the age of our elder son.) My husband properly vetoed that suggestion.

We then gave the boys a choice of postponing the party until we return, having the party before we go, or having the aunt and uncle chaperone it. Well, their noses have been out of joint ever since.

Abby, my husband and I have looked forward to a well-earned vacation, and we would not feel at ease unless we were reasonaply certain everyting would be all right at home. Do you think we are being fair in our demands?

DEAR J.K.: Yes. And hooray for you and for all other parents who insist on having a clear-cut understanding of what their children may and may not do in their absence.

DEAR ABBY: I am presently dating a young man who is wonderful in every way. He is studying for the ministry and has not been aring very much.

I noticed the first time we ate together that he cut his meat into little bite-size picks before eating the first piece.

DECORAMA

By TOMMIE WILLIS
A WAY WITH WALLS

Walls are all too often the most neglected areas in home decorating. This shouldn't be so, since the four walls, or five if you include the ceiling, occupy the largest amount of visual space in a room. Today a woman has little difficulty in finding the correct pieces of furniture for every room, which suit family taste and budget. But she reacts with hesitancy when she must dress the walls, although this is one area which can reveal her true likes and dislikes. The important points are the taste desired, budget available and the personality to be developed.

Speaking of correct furniture, we have a fine selection of Colonial pieces. You can also select the complimentary accessories. Tommie Willis Interiors, 425 Greenville Blvd. Greenville. 756-1336.

World Tour Is Begun Today By Moon Travelers

HOUSTON (AP) — The three Americans who went "in peace for all mankind" to the moon embark today on a world tour to promote good will on earth.

Bearing personal greetings to foreign heads of state from President Nixon, Apollo 11 astronauts Neil Armstrong, Edwin E. Aldrin Jr. and Michael Collins are scheduled to visit 27 nations in 38 days.

They will present to each country a replica of the moon landing plaque bearing the inscription "We came in peace for all mankind" and signed by each astronaut and the President.

The astronauts, scheduled to leave Houston today for the first stop in Mexico City, will be accompanied by their wives.

The three are the first astronauts to undertake a world tour in behalf of the United States and the first three-man American space team to go abroad.

Their itinerary does not—with the exception of Yugoslavia—take them to Communist controlled nations or to the warring countries of the Middle East, although they have scheduled stops in Iran and Turkey.

Col. Frank Borman, commander of the Apollo 8 lunar mission, visited the Soviet Union this spring, prior to the Apollo 11 moon shot.

In addition to replicas of the moon landing plaque, the astronauts will present heads of state with metal discs bearing messages—each reduced to the size of a pinhead—from 73 nations wishing the Apollo 11 mission success. The Original also was left on the moon.

No samples of lunar material gathered by Armstrong and Aldrin will be taken on the tour, National Aeronautics and Space Administration officials said.

Nixon telephoned Armstrong at his Seabrook, Tex., home Sunday to wish him and the others luck on the trip. The President invited the astronauts and their wives to dinner at the White House on the day they returned home, Nov. 5.

From Mexico City they will go to Bogota, Columbia; Buenos Aires, Argentina, and Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, in South America before flying to the Canary Islands Oct. 4.

In western Europe they have stops in Madrid, Paris, Amsterdam, Brussels, Oslo, Cologne, Berlin, London and Rome. After visiting Belgrade Oct. 18-19 they go to Ankara, Turkey; Kinshasa, The Congo, and Tehran, Iran; Asian and Pacific stops are Bombay, India; Dacca, Pakistan; Bangkok, Thailand; Darwin and Sydney, Australia; Guam; Seoul, and Tokyo. They will stop at Honolulu enroute to Houston.

At Least 12 Die In N.C. Traffic

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Four cyclists were among at least 12 persons killed in traffic accidents in North Carolina over the weekend.

These fatalities brought the state's highway death toll for the year to 1,278, compared with 1,346 deaths for the corresponding period of last year.

Robert Stewart, 27, of Rt. 1, Tobaccoville, and Carl Holder, 30, of Rural Hall, were killed when a car apparently struck the motorcycles they were riding on a rural road five miles north of Winston-Salem. The State Highway Patrol declined to immediately release details of the Saturday accident.

Authorities said two teen-age boys were fatally injured when a car ran off U. S. 42 near Forest City and struck the bicycles they were riding. The victims were identified as Allen Ray Pogue, 13, and Lester B. Rowland, 16, both of Rt. 2, Ellensboro.

Police in Forest City arrested Dale Allen Kimsey, 22, of Shelby after the accident and charged him with drunken driving. Charges filed against him by the highway patrol were driving after revocation of his license, leaving the scene of an accident resulting in death, two counts of manslaughter and two counts of hit and run. Kimsey was in Rutherford County jail in lieu of $30,000 bond.

Other weekend traffic victims include Thelma Maynor, 35, of Rt. 1, Raeford; Leon David Anderson, 42, of Rt. 1, Garland; J. In Roney Williams, 20, and Jack Delaney Riddick, 20, both of Camp Lejeune; Fay Maye McNeill, 44, of Rt. 3, Lillington; Bobby Hill, 20, of High Point; Alexander Johnson Jr., 21, of Rt. 1, Aurora, and Wade Carlton Teague, 42, of Rt. 3, Taylorsville.

Some Are Reluctant To See Change

Where small pockets of resistance to industrialization exist in North Carolina, they must realistically be viewed as opposition to change rather than an effort to prevent economic progress.

There are always people who are reluctant to see change regardless of the overall benefits which may accrue from the change. There are those who would rather not see a new superhighway built or a new airport constructed or a new superhighway built or a new airport constructed or a new hospital built. There are those who, for their own reason would rather see the road remain dirt than see it

Uphill Fight To Increase Taxes

By WILLIAM A. SHIRES
RALEIGH—The Association of County Commissioners has endorsed the idea of levying an additional one per cent local option sales tax in most if not all of North Carolina counties in a special referendum on Nov. 4.

WILLIAM A. SHIRES

But a top official of the Association, executive secretary John Morrissy, is saying frankly to the commissioners: "I don't guess you've ever faced worse odds in any election."

That's apparent. Sources in Raleigh, politically attuned across the state, believe that fewer than a dozen counties will approve the local levy. Says one, "The public attitude is against any new taxes. It's just that simple."

Argue—But the politically powerful Association of County Commissioners is carrying on a campaign on behalf of the local sales tax.

It has met rebuff and discouragement in most areas, but the proposal has been endorsed in others.

Morrissy feels that it is very important for local governments to obtain additional revenue from sources other than property taxes. He points out that local welfare budgets must be expanded and that counties are faced with the problem of supplementing funds for physical operation of the public school systems.

The state government, through the legislature and the administration, tried to take a "hands-off" position on increasing local government revenue, says Morrissy, but actually increased the demands on local treasuries.

And, at the same time, he says, the state took care of its own revenue needs by boosting taxes on liquor, soft drinks and cigarettes. Local governments were left only a "local option" plan.

And, somewhat bitterly, Morrissy said most officials are predicting that if counties do not increase the sales tax for local purposes the state will add it anyway in the next year or so. Growth—At present, the only major source of local government revenue is the property tax.

"There is a practical limit to ad valorem (Property) taxes," says Morrissy. "County tax bases must be broadened just as the state revenue base was broadened."

"Lord knows we need it, even more desperately, in the counties than the state does."

Morrissy, addressing a 14 county meeting in Williams- ton, called for "standing up for local government" by approving the levy.

"This tax will restore to local government the power to do what local government ought to be doing," he said.

"If we want to provide better schools, better law enforcement, health care, libraries, planning for the future and other vital services, we (the counties) will need more money," Morrissy said.

Penny—The Association of County Commissioners has prepared and published a brochure urging support for the local sales tax, entitled "A Penny For Progress."

The editor of this, Jerry Elliott, contends that the additional one per cent is actually a "growth" tax.

"The cost of labor and material of government have increased with almost everything else," he says. He says that the tax referendum is "a fairly clear challenge to grass roots government which, after all, is closest to the people."

And Elliott, formerly press secretary for Gov. Dan K. Moore, adds, "Our people want to run their affairs."

Endorse—Legislative action placing responsibility upon local governments to push for a local option sales tax was not very popular on the local level. In most localities included in a recent survey, the sentiment has been against such a move.

The prevailing feeling is that since the state of North Carolina has taken over so many local prerogatives and that state officials control such things as welfare, schools and highways then the state should make provision for the required local funding.

It is, of course, a silhouette of the earlier protests by the state against further and continuing federal government encroachment. Now the counties are being forced against the wall.

paved, or have the kids remain kids rather than see them grow up.

Many people have a natural aversion of change and would much prefer the comfort afforded by the status quo.

The very fact that every community in North Carolina has people who feel this way should not be construed by state officials or outside industrialists as meaning that this state is made up of people who do not want industrial or economic development. People with these attitudes are found in every community in every state and they are as much a part of the balance of our society as those people who are anxious to see progress with every tick of the clock.

Fortunately for North Carolina's communities, most of their people lean more to latter attitude than the former. They recognize that change is inevitable and it is better if it is accompanied by progress. They recognize the need for the state to raise its per capita income and this can only come through economic development. In most cases this economic development has its basis in industrial plants that can provide new jobs that in turn stimulate the growth of other new jobs.

While we can appreciate the concern that officials have if they think people in some communities are opposed to economic development, it is a fact of life that every community and every state lives with. From a realistic standpoint in North Carolina, the attitude toward industrial development probably is more positive than in most other states. And in all probability the attitude is better where the need for economic development is greater, contrary to what some people may hastily conclude.

Both Depend Heavily On Limiting Freedom

Regrettably a military group has taken over in still another country in South America. The military overthrew the government of Luis Siles Salinas of Bolivia and took over "to avoid the danger of anarchy, capitulation and disorder."

This means that Bolivia has joined Argentina, Paraguay, Brazil and Peru with military governments in South America. Panama, El Salvador, Honduras and Nicaragua are also under military rule.

There are other countries around the world, too, which are now operating under military rule. When you add them to the communist countries, whose regimes are another way of usurping the liberties of the people, then we see that far too many people in this world are still living without freedom.

Military dictatorships and communist regimes are often far removed from each other in philosophies, but the end result still seems to be the same. Both depend on the elimination of freedoms to maintain their hold. Someday, perhaps we will all come to realize that the real test of any government is whether or not it guarantees freedom for all of its citizens.

The Entrenched Bureaucrats

By ROWLAND EVANS and ROBERT NOVAK
WASHINGTON—Without the knowledge and against the wishes of their Nixon-appointed superiors, poverty program bureaucrats have drafted and distributed a manual listing demonstrations, economic boycotts, and ultimately, violence as legitimate weapons of the poor.

The manual, which despite lack of official sanction is now circulating through the network of local Community Action groups, merely puts in writing what is reality in the field. Regional officials of the Office of Economic Opportunity (OEO) have been prodding local Community Action leaders—many of them public spirited, middle-class professional men—to stir up the poor in revolt against the establishment. The fact that this violates the clear orders of Donald Rumsfeld, OEO's new director, has proved no inhibition.

Thus, the 37-year-old Rumsfeld, who surrendered a safe Congressional seat from Illinois to run the government's most battle-scarred program has collided with a permanent political fact of life: the difficulty of a Presidential appointee to enforce his wishes on an entrenched bureaucracy. What makes OEO different is that many of its bureaucrats feel their function is less to generate jobs for the poor than to promote social revolution.

This revolutionary bent, more than any other cause is what has contributed to the poverty program's loss of public support since 1964. In his effort to clear the bombthrowers out of OEO policymaking posts, Rumsfeld has been stymied by civil service consultants.

The provocation manual is a direct result of Rumsfeld's inability to completely clean house. Completed this summer by a mixed group of OEO employees and contract consultants, a draft copy of "A Trainer's Manual For Community Action Agency Boards" last month was mailed around the country to several local Community Action groups for comment. Although this draft was widely reproduced and distributed in poverty program channels, Rumsfeld had not even heard about it until we informed him.

What he has now seen runs almost directly contrary to his stated policy of opposition to high-pressure tactics

Strength For Today

Aim At High Targets
Psychology is making great emphasis today on the need of self-assurance. Believe in yourself. Believe that you can do certain necessary things, and the chances are that you can.

This is an old, old teaching—as old, in fact, as the Bible. Those who read the Bible superficially often fail to catch its great message about the power of belief. Jesus said, "What things soever ye desire, when ye pray, believe that ye receive them, and ye shall have them" (Mark 11:24). On another occasion he said, "All things are possible to him that believeth" (Mark 9:23).

Belief constitutes an instrument of vast power, ready for us to use. It is true that we can have almost anything we believe we can have. Something seems to happen to the vast pattern of life's events when a man gets the idea of achievement into his mind and holds it there. Successful businessmen are usually those who over a period of years have firmly believed in their ultimate success. Inventors are men who press toward a goal, confident that they can achieve it. Columbus, who changed all the maps of the world, insisted on believing that there was a new world beyond the western horizon. By his belief he laid hold on that new world.

"All things are possible to them that believe." Try it.

Put A Tax On Violence

WASHINGTON — My friend McCormick thinks he has an answer to all the violence in movies and on television.

"Tax the hell out of them," he said.

"But how?" I asked.

"You sell licenses to producers of movies and television shows. They'd be like a hunting permit. You wouldn't be allowed to kill anyone in a TV program or a film without first buying a license. It would cost you $1,000 to kill one man, $2,000 to kill a woman and $5,000 if you wanted to kill a child."

"Would you have a limit on how many people you could bag?"

"Not at the beginning. I think a producer could kill as many people as he wanted to, providing he had a license for each one."

"What about the method of killing people in movies and TV?"

"We might add a surcharge for unorthodox methods of killing, such as burning, garroting and throwing them off buildings. But I believe shooting or stabbing should be permitted for the straight $1,000 fee."

"McCormick, your idea has great merit, but it seems to me it would add tremendous costs to cowboy pictures."

"Exactly. I believe the producers of cowboy films and TV shows would have to be very discriminating in whom they killed. It will stop them from shooting everyone within camera range. If, for example, a producer had only three licenses, he'd have to choose his victims pretty carefully."

"It would certainly save a lot of Indians from being killed," I said.

"As far as war pictures are concerned, we might make a package deal. For a flat $100,000 the producers would be permitted to wipe out either one World War II German battalion or sink one Japanese aircraft carrier with all personnel on board."

"Would you require licenses for wounding and maiming people on TV and in films?"

"I would propose a rate card starting with knocking out a person in a fist fight, which would cost $10, to causing a severe brain concussion, which would cost the producer $500. Any open wound or dislay of blood would automatically be taxes an extra $100."

"It seems to me those prices are pretty high."

"That's the idea. The only way you're going to get anyone to cut down on violence (Continued On Page 5)

Fever Grips Giving

By ED ROGERS

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A political gamble Sen. Ernest F. Hollings, D-S.C., took last spring in making an issue of hunger in his state has paid off in a Senate food-stamp blitz that made some fellow Southerners angry.

Although House observers predict the Senate-approved bill cannot get enacted, there are more whispers that Hollings is bidding for the vice presidency.

The Senate appeared ready to endorse modest boosts in the food stamp program. But Sen. George S. McGovern, D-S.D., with Hollings and a dozen liberals in tow, offered a greatly expanded $1.2-billion substitute. The Senate voted 54 to 40 last to the surprise of the Senate Agriculture Committee, which had approved a $750 million measure.

The substitute bill McGovern drafted as chairman of the Senate Select Committee on Nutrition and Human Need would make sweeping changes in the basis for providing subsidized—and sometimes free—food for the needy.

It was not universally applauded.

Talmadge Critical
"The Senate has established a monster which will attempt to give food to everyone in the country on their own alone, on their affidavit, regardless of their financial circumstances," Sen. Herman E. Talmadge, D-Ga., said.

Hollings, a member of the Senate Agriculture Committee who followed Hollings' precedent with a "hunger tour" of his own state during an outburst of controversy earlier this year over domestic hunger, had plugged for an improved program.

"Thank God, I do not want to be president of the United States," Sen. George D. Aiken, R-Vt., said, apparently referring to McGovern, a 1968 contender for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Former Governor
Hollings, a former South Carolina governor who gained his Senate office less than three years ago, has for months been whispered about as a No. 2 aspirant, despite repeated denials.

As much as any other senator, Hollings made McGovern's food stamp blitz possible.

When the McGovern committee began setting up tours of alleged hunger areas last spring, Hollings suggested another plan. He had a wealth of information plus his own eyewitness account of hunger in his own state. Why not bring witnesses and facts to Washington instead of having committee members come to South Carolina?

The result was a round of sensational disclosures of malnutrition and worm infestation in Beaufort and Jasper counties, S. C., which later became the sites of the nation's first free food stamp experiments.

On Tour
The committee later went on tour anyway, choosing Florida, and became enmeshed in sectional controversies, a feud with the governor of Florida and even the White House.

But by then the committee's Washington hearings on South Carolina had placed hunger in America on the record books and paved the way for the success of the McGovern food stamp bill.

Hollings later said that publicizing hunger in one's own state is politically hazardous, but he added that he had no choice after seeing what he had of deprivation and near starvation.

Other Editors Say Where Is Wrongdoing?

(Henderson Dispatch)
When and where there is some sort of irregularity in private life on the part of public officials, it ought to be revealed. Plenty of effort to that end is going on these days, so much so that at times it seems investigations and charges are brought by some individuals or groups for personal reasons or merely because those responsible are in position to instigate inquiries.

If all the charges and questions now or recently in progress are justified, there is a woeful lack of individual integrity in this country. So far as public office is concerned, men tapped for responsibility should be above reproach. If their private business transactions or their own opinions are shady, it ought to be known. But these inquiries are no place for playing politics, and a lot of that is being done. Men are challenged sometimes for no other reason than that their convictions do not coincide with those who are trying to establish their faults. Questions at hearings seem bent upon having the subject trapped into making statements that might be interpreted in more ways than one, and which would at least disqualify him for public service.

It is but natural that senators would wish to know the views of Chief Judge Clement Haynsworth of the U.S. Circuit Court before confirming him as a Supreme Court justice. But some jibes at him seem to be largely irrelevant or non-essential. If Judge Haynsworth is qualified for the Federal judiciary where he is already serving, that of itself should go far in satisfying senators of his fitness for the highest court in the land.

It is generally conceded that he will be confirmed when the Senate votes on the nomination. And after reasonable investigation has been concluded, action ought to be taken without further delay. The South Carolina jurist, according to reputation, would be a credit to the high court. Or is there opposition solely on the ground of geography?

Guaranty Trust Co.'s gloomy outlook, there are countervailing facts:

Total personal income increased $5.25 billion in August to a seasonally adjusted annual rate of $756.5 billion. Even if two thirds of the rise is eroded by inflation, that's an increase of $1.75 billion in actual buying power.

The cost of living continued to rise in August and apparently is rising further this month. The August rise, 0.4

per cent, was less than the July rise of 0.5 per cent.

Wages, the backbone of consumer income, continue to rise with new union contracts and cost-of-living adjustments. The increase in August was at an annual rate of $4.2 billion.

The increase in auto prices and prospective increase in meat prices will continue to push up the total dollar value of retail sales, even if the physical volume drops.

Less For More
In summary, consumers will continue to spend more money at retail, even though they get less for their dollars.

Predictions made earlier in this column that December sales will once again set a new high dollar mark still stand.

Merry Christmas!

Goren on BRIDGE Award Winners At Art Show Listed Evans-Novak . . .

BY CHARLES H. GOREN
ANSWERS TO BRIDGE QUIZ
 Q. 1—As South, vulnerable, you hold:
 ♠10 6 3 ♥A 8 ♦K J 3 ♣A Q 10 2
 The bidding has proceeded:
 South West North East
 1 ♠ Pass 1 ♥ Pass
 2 ♠ Pass 2 ♥ Pass
 3 ♠ Pass 3 ♥ Pass

What do you bid now?
 A.—Three clubs. Altho partner's two club call is not forcing you should take further action inasmuch as your values should fit North's hand admirably. A five club contract may hinge on his having a few key cards.

Q. 2—Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:
 ♠Q 10 6 4 3 ♥8 5 2 ♦K 2 ♣7 4 3
 The bidding has proceeded:
 North East South West
 2 ♠ Pass 2 NT Pass
 3 ♠ Pass ?

What do you bid now?
 A.—Six spades. We cannot conceive of any sort of demand opening that partner might hold which would not be a laydown for slam. Your spades and diamonds should solidify his suit so that, if he holds the other controls, he may be in position to go all the way.

Q. 3—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:
 ♠A 10 8 ♥5 4 ♦9 5 4 ♣A K J 2
 The bidding has proceeded:
 North East South West
 1 ♥ Pass 2 ♣ Pass
 3 ♣ Pass ?

What do you bid now?
 A.—Inasmuch as you have a solid opening bid facing a partner who has opened and jumped, you must think in terms of slam and, as a temporary measure, you should bid three spades, which partner in the subsequent bidding will recognize as the ace. It is presumed, of course, that hearts are the agreed trumps.

Q. 4—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:
 ♠K 3 ♥9 8 7 ♦A 10 9 6 5 ♣Q 9 2
 The bidding has proceeded:
 North East South West
 Pass 1 NT Pass Pass
 Dble. Pass ?

What action do you take?
 A.—You have splendid defense against a no trump contract and should pass. We have not lost sight of partner's previous pass but, in view of the fact that he was willing to double a no trump bid, he must be just under an opening bid himself. It is plain to be seen that dummy will be trickless, and this places quite a job on East's shoulders.

Q. 5—As South, vulnerable, you hold:
 ♠K J 2 ♥K 9 ♦A 9 7 6 5 3 ♣10 2
 The bidding has proceeded:
 South West North East
 1 ♠ Pass 2 ♣ Pass
 2 ♠ Pass 3 ♠ Pass

What do you bid now?
 A.—We recommend taking a chance on a three no trump bid. Partner has shown better than an average hand by his two forward responses, and there is a good chance that he will be able to run the diamond suit. A lead up to one of your kings should prove helpful, and there appears a reasonable prospect of collecting nine tricks.

Q. 6—East-West vulnerable, and as South you hold:
 ♠J 9 6 5 2 ♥8 5 3 ♦6 ♣Q 9 6 2
 The bidding has proceeded:
 South West North East
 Pass 1 ♠ Dble. Pass ?

What do you bid now?
 A.—Give no consideration to a pass, for you have no reason to believe that you can defeat the one spade contract. Make an old fashioned response of two clubs, showing your best suit (outside of the one that has been bid).

Q. 7—Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:
 ♠A 7 5 ♥K 8 6 ♦Q J 9 5 2 ♣K 4
 The bidding has proceeded:
 South West North East
 1 ♠ Pass 1 ♥ Pass
 2 ♠ Pass 1 ♥ Pass

What is your rebid?
 A.—One on trump. With this minimum hand, it is better not to give an immediate raise even though you have adequate trump support.

Q. 8—As South, vulnerable, you hold:
 ♠A K J 9 6 2 ♥9 7 ♦A Q 10 9 5 2
 The bidding has proceeded:
 South West North East
 1 ♠ Pass 2 ♥ Pass
 2 ♠ Pass 2 ♥ Pass
 3 ♠ Pass 4 ♥ Pass

What do you bid now?
 A.—In our vernacular you have run out of bids. Do not permit the singleton heart to convert you into a nursemaid. You should proceed under the assumption that partner was tuned in when you bid spades three times. If he has chosen to override you, it must be with a suit that is at least as good as yours—and probably better.

Supports Lower Age For Voting

CHARLOTTE (AP)—Lt. Gov. Pat Taylor has become the highest elected official in North Carolina to go on record as being in favor of lowering the age for voting to 18.

Taylor made the recommendation to the North Carolina Democratic Women in Charlotte Friday.

"We have the brightest and best educated youngsters in this country's history and they have shown a genuine interest in the issues," he said.

Bills to allow 18-year-olds to vote were defeated in the 1967 and '69 sessions of the General Assembly.

D-Fla., called it a "very bad bill" and predicted it will meet an impasse in the House.

The bill goes into the Agriculture Committee headed by Rep. W. R. Poage, D-Tex., who told UPI, "I would be tremendously surprised if our committee approved that type of legislation—in fact, it would astound me."

the future of the McGovern bill is in question.

 by the poor. Says the manual: "The power strategies that community organization (sic) may apply to make their presence known and felt are: (1) vote power; (2) numbers power; (3) dollar power; and (4) threat power."

In discussing "vote power," the manual suggests community programs review "the positions of elected officials" in guiding the vote of the poor—directly conflicting with OEO's Congressional mandate. Numbers power is defined as "peaceful demonstration, parades, picketing (and) rallies."

The manual's analysis of "dollar power" carries a hint of even stronger pressure: "It (dollar power) can be significant in the very ability to withdraw dollars; therefore, boycotts and strikes can both act as dollar levers for the application of power by a community organization."

Where the manual has lifted most eyebrows, however, is its declaration that "the ultimate threat power is the riot" a clear threat of blackmail. While asserting that rioting is illegal, the manual adds that Community Action board members should "recognize the threat power of rioting as a very real power and possibility." It suggests that the threat of a riot can force concessions from the community after all else has failed. The manual's language is ambiguous enough to make unclear whether it is merely reporting a fact or endorsing a tactic.

The manual dovetails with peated urgings by OEO regional officials that Community Action leaders mobilize the poor in direct action—an activity which has spawned complaints both to Rumsfeld and Congressional offices.

One Midwestern Congressman sympathetic to the poverty program last week received a complaint from a Community Action chairman in his district that a regional OEO official in Chicago "has been subtly prodding us into organizing the poor to conduct marches, picketing, boycotts, and demonstrations." Simultaneously, a black Negro Community Action leader from Arkansas got word to his Congressman that two white OEO officials from Texas had recommended getting poor Negroes into the streets as demonstrators.

Such reports do not help the OEO renewal bill now languishing in the House Labor Committee.

HEALTH AND CHIROPRACTIC

By Dr. W. C. Chapel, Former President Lincoln Chiropractic College

Q. I have been under treatment some time now for a condition called "nervous stomach." Does chiropractic have anything to offer in this type of complaint?

A. Many thousands of people have found relief from various nervous disorders at the hands of Doctors of Chiropractic. In your case I would suggest that you consult a chiropractor for examination and advice. If he finds your case to be one that in his opinion will respond to his therapy, he will advise you as to treatment. If not, he may refer you to a specialist in another field.

Q. Do chiropractors use drugs in treating stomach problems?

A. No. Nor do they use drugs in treating any other type of problem.

Q. If my case is a chiropractic case, how long will it take to correct my problem?

A. This depends on several factors. How long you've had the problem — Your age and general health — How well you cooperate with your doctor.

Credit Will Be More Important

Credit for agriculture will be an even more important concern of farmers for 1970 than it has ever been. Money costs will be higher and lenders will require more detailed plans for use and repayment than has been the case. This means that farmers must be even more careful in making decisions on increased mechanization and enterprise adjustment or expansion.

Good farm business records, a must for efficient farm management and tax reporting, are being required more and more by lenders as a basis for loan decisions. In addition to the traditional net worth income and expense statements, cash flow projections are needed to evaluate the capital needs of the operation on its ability to repay any borrowed money.

Records Program

The farm business analysis program offered through the Agricultural Extension Service provides the type of record needed for credit procurement and farm management. Farmers on the program get a monthly net worth statement, profit and loss summary and cash flow picture. In addition they are provided with enterprise analysis information, depreciation schedules, and expense broken out on an income tax report basis. The program is available to all farmers at a very reasonable cost.

Horse Conference

The first Annual Horse Science Conference will be held at N.C. State University, October 31—November 1, 1969. A program covering horse industry health, feeding, and management is planned. An outstanding selection of horsemen and scientist in horse care will lead the discussions. Program and registration forms may be obtained by writing the Agricultural Extension Service, Box 147, Greenville, N.C. 27834 or by calling 758-1196.

County Fair

There will not be a swine show at the Pitt County fair this year. This is due to a ruling handed down by the North Carolina Department of Agriculture which resulted from the Hog Cholera eradication program. Other types of livestock will be shown as usual.

All persons are urged to plan to participate in the crops and horticultural exhibits. Prize money is good in these departments and it is always fun to have a part in the county fair. The pork cook out contest will be held at 5:30 p.m. on Wednesday, October 8, in the livestock exhibit building. Persons interested in entry blanks should contact the Agricultural Extension Service.

Huge Birthday Cake On Tuesday

RALEIGH (AP)—A birthday cake large enough to feed 200 persons will be cut Tuesday as part of the ceremonies marking the 80th anniversary of North Carolina State University.

The 25-pound cake, measuring a foot and a half in diameter, will be topped by a replica of the university's bell tower.

The day's events will be climaxed with a dutch supper at the university plaza where the massive cake will be cut.

Gov. Bob Scott, an alumnus of State, and Chancellor John Caldwell will be the keynote speakers.

N. C. State opened in the fall of 1889 with some 50 students and six professors. The faculty has increased to more than 1,000 and student enrollment totals 12,600.

RECEIVES AWARD — Roy Beck, right, of the Greenville Soil Conservation Service office received a United States Department of Agriculture Certificate of Merit for outstanding performance from Charles W. Bartlett, state conservationist, during ceremonies Thursday night. Beck was among eight SCS employees from throughout North Carolina to receive such an award. The award was presented at the Annual Awards Banquet held at the Sir Walter Hotel, Raleigh. Norman A. Berg, associate administrator of the Washington SCS office, was the featured speaker.

Plenty Of Life For The Swingin' Years

By GENE HANDSAKER
Associated Press Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The big-band era is mostly a memory, but there's plenty of life in the old beat yet.

The Modernaires get big hands in night clubs 30 years after they sang with Glenn Miller.

Billboard magazine reports that the 17-piece Thad Jones Mel Lewis band, "one of the most superb jazz big bands in the world," opened in London to standing room only.

Contemporary jazz outfits like Blood, Sweat & Tears and Chicago Transit Authority augment their rock sound with hard-driving reeds, brass and rhythms reminiscent to some of Woody Herman's Herd.

The latest evidence of big-band durability is the return of Chuck Cecil's "Swingin' Years" featuring bands of 1935-45 on 50,000-watt KFI-radio in Los Angeles.

The return, after a nine-month hiatus, was by popular demand.

"Keep it up!" one listener wrote. "It's like a breath of clear, smog-free air on a rare day in Los Angeles."

Cecil, a World War II carrier pilot, has been all-round staff announcer field newsman and disc jockey at KFI for 17 years.

In 1957 he asked listeners to his Saturday morning show whether they'd rather hear current Como, Shore, Sinatra and Presley records or the earlier big bands of Goodman, Miller, Ellington, Herman, etc.

"It was no contest," Cecil recalls. "The mail was 100 to 1 for the vintage things."

For 12 years "The Swingin' Years" played such requested favorites as Glen Gray's "No Name Jive", Coleman Hawkins' "Body and Soul," Harry James, "Two O'Clock Jump" and anything by Glenn Miller.

The album steadily most asked for was Bunny Berigan's 1937 "I Can't Get Started."

Nine months ago a new management, seeking middle-of-the-road appeal to an audience in the 20s and 30s, canceled the program.

Cecil received about 1,000 protests, the station about 2,000.

"I think now it was a mistake, taking it off," says Edmund C. Bunker, KFI's president and general manager. "We feel there's a resurgence of interest in this music. Our audience is going up, and Chuck is certainly helping us on Saturdays."

"The Swingin' Years" returned Sept. 6. Approving mail poured in.

A San Diego woman: "Thank you for remembering there were millions of use over 30...Every radio program but yours drives us out of our heads with raucous music..."

Many listeners tape record the music off the air. A youth of 21 has made 300 seven-inch reels.

Says Cecil, 46, the handsome honorary mayor of Suburban Woodland Hills: "I don't know whether the big bands will ever come back. If they don't thank goodness they left us all those great records."

UNEMPLOYED

PRETORIA, South Africa (AP) — South Africa had 11,213 unemployed at the end of June — 483 less than in the previous month. The Labor Department reported 4,521 of these were whites, 4,294 colored (mulatto) and 2,398 Asians.

Tips
By S. J. WEEKS
Pitt County Tobacco Agent

As the 1969 crop of tobacco is being sold it is not too early to begin considering ways and making plans to produce the highest net return from your 1970 crop. There are many production practices to consider as you formulate your tobacco production program. The first and one of the most important steps in a good tobacco production program is the plant bed.

Experimental results have shown that a good supply of quality plants at transplanting time will increase the net profit from the tobacco crop in order to have a good supply of strong, healthy plants, reasonably early in the transplanting season, a well planned plant bed program based on sound and proven production practices must be followed.

Careful attention should be given to the location of the plant bed site. Select a deep, fertile, loamy soil that warms up quickly. The soil should be well drained, but not one that dries too quickly. Avoid using soil that bakes or crusts easily. It is a good idea to locate the bed near a dependable source of water whenever possible, such as a pond or stream. Having plenty of water handy in dry weather may determine whether you have plants ready for an early setting.

Cold and drying winds can cause very serious damage to stands and earliness of plants; therefore, it is a good idea for all beds to have some type of windbreak on the north, northwest, and northeast sides especially on the north side. Woods hedgerows, buildings, and fences covered with vines, make good windbreaks. Avoid locating beds in shaded areas.

If you have a permanent plant bed site established and have a cover crop growing, it should be disced immediately. By discing in the cover crop now the organic matter will be decayed in time to treat the soil for weed and nematode control in the fall or early winter.

It is very important that you start planning your plant bed for the 1970 tobacco crop now by selecting your plant bed site, and beginning proper soil management.

If you have not already plowed out your tobacco stubbles, plan to do so "right now." OPERATION R-6-P (Reduce 6 Pests) will help produce a better crop.

Firemen Answer 2 Alarms Here

Greenville firemen responded to two calls Sunday, one a false alarm and the other to a burning truck.

Officers said the false call came at 2:52 a.m. from Box 227 at the intersection of Pitt and Arthur Streets.

The fire was reported at 2:02 p.m. when Box 127 at the intersection of Dickinson Avenue and Skinner Street was pulled.

Firemen reported a van-type truck owned by Colling J. Allen of Cedar Grove, N.J. flooded, bickered and caught fire.

Police, who investigated the incident, reported an estimated damage resulted to the truck and some band instruments being transported in the vehicle. Allen was taken to Pitt Memorial Hospital by the Greenville Rescue Unit after suffering burns to both hands.

Police said Allen received the burns while he and a companion attempted to pull some of the instruments from the burning truck.

Reports Beating And Theft Early Sunday Morning

A Camp Lejeune man reported he was beaten and robbed of $25 here early Sunday by two men.

Peter Davis told police that he was walking along Dickinson Avenue in the 1100 block and was being followed by two Negro men when one of the men walked up beside him and asked where he was going, according to acting Chief of Police T. E. Gladson.

When Davis gave the name of a local motel, located on Memorial Drive, one of the men told him to "turn here," the chief noted. Chief Gladson said when Davis found that he was on a side street, he turned around and was jumped by the

Four Injured In Sunday Accident

A 2:44 a.m. traffic collision Sunday caused an estimated $600 damage and injured four persons.

Police identified the driver of the only vehicle involved in the Memorial Drive and Ione Street intersection mishap as Clarence Fleming, 20-year-old Negro of Ayden. Fleming was charged with careless and reckless driving and no operators license.

Police said Fleming and three passengers in his car including 8-year-old Linwood Maye, 13-year-old Schiman Maye and 11-year-old Donnie Maye, all of Route 1, Greenville, were taken to Pitt Memorial Hospital for treatment of their injuries.

two men, who beat him and took his billfold with $25 inside. Investigation of the incident is underway.

If the Shoe Fits...

BY
AVERETTE

Why would my eight year old suddenly develop callouses on his 4th and 5th toes?

There could be a number of causes: He is wearing shoes too short — too narrow — or without adequate toe room in the forepart of the shoe. When toes are crowded, they tend to draw up and arch, causing them to rub against the shoe toe. This can only result in friction blisters, and eventually callouses or corns.

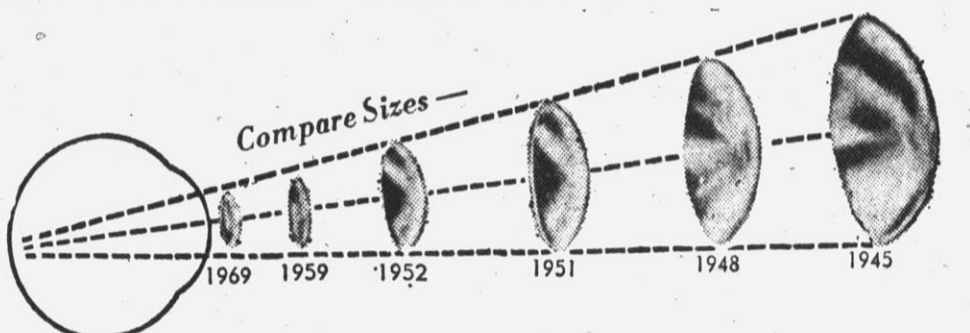

If his ankles are rolling inward (called 'pronation') these toes will turn outward and upward, creating friction at these points.

At the first sign of irritation or reddening, the parent should realize that the shoes are outgrown or improperly fitted and should bring the child in for a refitting. No item of clothing we buy is as important for health and comfort as the shoes on our feet!

Associated Press Sports Writer
Minnesota's Joe Kapp handed out passes all over the place—seven to the end zone but none to the Baltimore Colts' dressing room.

Kapp completed 28 of 43 passes for 449 yards and a record-equaling seven touchdowns Sunday as the Vikings routed Baltimore 52-14—and Colts Coach Don Shula asked writers not to interview his players after their second straight loss.

Kapp tied the National Football League record of seven touchdowns passes in a game held by Sid Luckman of the Chicago Bears, Y. A. Tittle of the New York Giants and Adrian Burk of the Philadelphia Eagles. Only George Blanda, when he was with the Houston Oilers, has thrown as many as seven scoring passes in a game in the American Football League.

In other NFL action, Los Angeles, 2-0, stopped Atlanta, 1-1, 17-7; Green Bay, 2-0, held off San Francisco, 0-2, 14-7; Cleveland, 2-0, edged Washington 27-23; Dallas, 2-0, nipped New Orleans, 0-2, 21-17; Detroit, 1-1, drubbed the New York Giants, 1-1, 24-0; St. Louis, 1-1, topped Chicago 0-2, 20-17, and Philadelphia, 1-1, outlasted Pittsburgh, 1-1, 41-27.

San Diego upended the New York Jets 34-27, Buffalo bashed Denver 41-28, Cincinnati upset Kansas City 24-19, Houston downed Miami 22-10 and Oakland trounced Boston 38-23 in the American Football League.

The Vikings "took a chapter out of Baltimore's book—striking early and controlling the ball," said Minnesota Coach Bud Grant.

Kapp, who did not play in the Vikings' 24-23, season-opening upset loss to the Giants, hit on his first six passes against the Colts and brought Minnesota its first touchdown with an 18-yarder to Dje Osborn after the first two minutes of play.

His other scoring strikes were of 83 and 41 yards to Gene Washington and of 21, 13, 1 and 15 yards to four other receivers.

Meanwhile, the Vikings defense harassed Baltimore quarterbacks Johnny Unitas and Earl Morrall. Unitas completed just two of his 13 passes and ended up eight for 22 for 68 yards with one interception. Morrall was 12 of 20 for 127 yards and had two interceptions.

"I'm ashamed of myself and I'm ashamed of my team," said Shula. "We were not ready to play when we hit the field."

Kapp said simply, "Our offensive line did a tremendous job."

Los Angeles, now two games ahead of arch-rival Baltimore and in first place in the Coastal Division, built a 17-0 halftime lead, then held off Atlanta. Larry Smith slammed one yard for the first Rams' touchdown and Roman Gjbriel threw a four-yard pass for the other.

Herb Adderley's interception of a John Brodie pass on the Green Bay goal line saved the victory over San Francisco for the Packers, who scored on an 87-yard return of the second-half kickoff by rookie Dave Hampton and a Bart Starr-to-Jim Grabowski swing pass for two yards. The 49ers' score came on an 80-yard bomb from Brodie to Clifton McNeil.

Cleveland handed Vince Lombardi his initial defeat as Washington coach when Bill Nelson passed 15 yards to Garry Collins for a touchdown with 1:19 left. The Redskins had come from a 20-10 deficit to a 23-20 lead by marching 70 yards for one touchdown and getting another on Sonny Jurgensen's 13-yard pass to Bob Long.

Rookie Calvin Hill bulled his way to touchdown runs of 23 and eight yards, and Craig Morton threw a 49-yard scoring strike to Les Shy to get Dallas past stubborn New Orleans, which saw its chance of an upset foiled when Bill Kilmer's pass, was intercepted near the Dallas goal line with 38 seconds remaining.

A New York gamble for a first down on fourth down which failed to set up a Detroit touchdown, a recovered fumble set up a field goal and Lem Barney's 75-yard punt return brought another touchdown in the Lions' blanketing of the Giants.

Willis Crenshaw barged over for a touchdown from the two-yard line late in the final quarter to bring St. Louis its comeback triumph over Chicago. The Bears had taken a 17-13 lead in the third period on Jack Conannon's 15-yard touchdown pass and Mac Percival's 21-yard field goal, then missed a chance to tie when Percival failed on a field goal attempt on the final play of the game.

Norm Snead threw five touchdown passes, four to flanker Ben Hawkins, as Philadelphia rallied from a 13-0 deficit to whip Pittsburgh. Down 31-13 Pittsburgh rallied to clinch 31-27, but the Eagles then clinched it on Sam Baker's 41-yard field goal and Snead's 56-yard scoring pass to Harold Jackson.

Casper Rallies To Edge Palmer

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Veteran golfer Billy Casper found it hard to believe in 1966 when he picked up five shots in four holes to tie and later defeat Arnold Palmer for the U.S. Open title.

And Sunday, when the California pro gained six strokes in the last three holes and defeated Lee Trevino by one stroke to win the $55,000 first prize in the Alcan Golfer of the Year Tournament, he didn't believe it either.

"I won't believe it until I get the check in the mail," said Casper of his surge of four birdies on the last four holes which gave him the victory when Trevino fell apart on the 16th and 17th holes.

Casper's final round gave him a 14-under-par 274 for the 72-hole tournament over the 6,541-yard Portland Golf Club course where par over 18 holes is 37-37-72. Trevino finished with a 275 and had a final round of 69.

The colorful Mexican-American was 17 under par after getting an eagle on the 15th hole. But then he bogeyed the 16th and had a disastrous triple bogey on the 17th, a 163-yard par 3 hole.

It was the first time the 3-year-old tournament has not been won by Gay Brewer, who finished tied for sixth with Jean Garaialde of Paris, the only foreign player to finish among the top 12. Brewer won the Alcan's played in Scotland and England.

Frank Beard, the leading money winner on the American pro tour, finished third, followed by Dan Sikes and Lou Graham, both tour veterans.

Yonkers, N.Y., Raceway averaged 20,091 fans for its first 102 nights of harness racing this season.

Learned Lesson The Hard Way

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Both Lee Trevino and Mrs. Dave Hill, wife of the golf pro from Jackson, Mich., know now not to lose their heads at a match.

Trevino, six strokes to the good with only five holes to play, picked the wrong club on the 17th hole and ultimately lost the $55,000 first-place prize to Bill Casper by a single stroke.

Mrs. Hill ducked under a gallery rope at the 15th hole to get a better view of her husband's next shot. She brushed off her wig.

"The car was running so good I was sure I could do it barring further trouble," Petty said later. "I wasn't about to quit, not with all that money waiting at the end."

Davidson Display Launches Big Shock Waves

By ED YOUNG
Associated Press Writer
Davidson's Southern Conference football game at Furman began at 7:30 p.m. Saturday, and at approximately 7:31 p.m., George Hannen grabbed a punt and raced 70 yards for a Davidson touchdown.

"I thought to myself, 'That doesn't look good,'" said Furman coach Bob King, "but the good Lord mercifully didn't let me realize how much worse it was going to get."

The final score was 77-14 in favor of Davidson — a conference record for points scored. By game's end, the Wildcats had gained a colossal 594 yards. Long before that — by halftime — they led 56-7.

"It was almost unbelievable," said King. "By halftime, we had gone into shock — players and coaches. This is by far the worst we ever got beat. Every one of us looked bad — the coach worst of all."

Shock waves from the offensive explosion by the Wildcats were not limited to Greenville, S.C. They extended all the way up to Richmond, where the Richmond Spiders, favored to repeat as conference champions, heard the score after coming home from a 20-0 SC victory at VMI.

"I was surprised by that score — who wouldn't be?" said Spider coach Frank Jones. "But the result didn't surprise me. I have said for a long time that Davidson will be a big threat for the championship this year."

After undergoing the exquisite torture of such a humiliation, did Furman's coach think Davidson might be championship material?

"I don't think they could possibly be as good as they looked against us, but I don't think we're that bad, either," said King. "I'd say yes, they're definitely a contender. But I might be wrong."

Right now the Paladin coach, perhaps the best-humored coach in the league, says he hopes that in the wake of the enormous defeat "our boys won't give up and quit. I don't think they will."

Davidson's defense accounted for two touchdowns and set up two more in a frantic 49-point second period after the game had been tied at 7-7 at the end of the opening stanza. Gordon Slade passed for three touchdowns for the Wildcats and scored one, himself, as the Cats' record became 2-0.

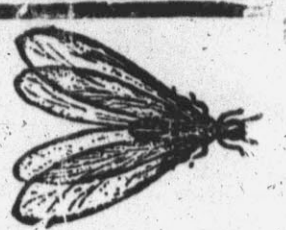

Richmond had no such waltz at VMI. Heavily favored in the regionally televised bout at Lexington, Va., the Spiders were held to a scoreless standstill for a half, but finally moved ahead for keeps when split end Walker Gillette grabbed his only pass of the day and raced 65 yards for a TD.

Southern Conference teams came off with a two-out-of-three showing in weekend games against nonconference foes.

The Citadel looked most impressive in a 14-10 decision over the No. 5 small college team in the country, Arkansas State. William and Mary also won, 7-6, at Temple, but East Carolina couldn't handle Louisiana Tech passing star Terry Bradshaw.

who pitched for two TD's, and lost 24-6.

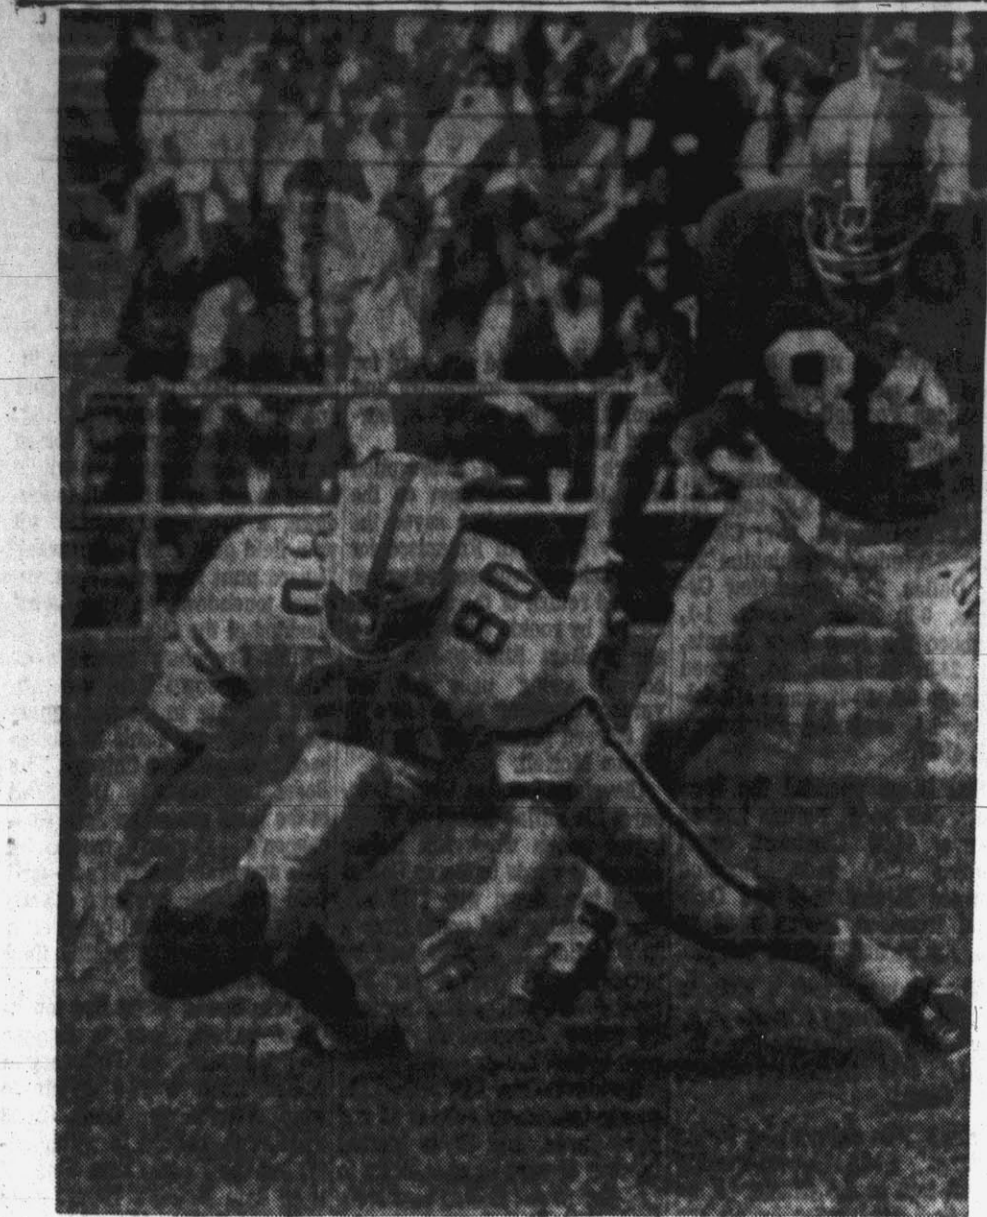

Tony Passander was The Citadel's stand-out, scoring his Bulldog touchdowns on short runs and hitting five of eight passes for 80 yards. Joe Pile's 26-yard touchdown run and Jim Pile's extra-point boot carried W&M to its first victory of the season at the expense of Temple.

Boswell Becomes Twins' Second 20-Game Winner

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer
Dave Boswell hasn't been the same pitcher since he saw stars a couple of months ago... and neither has John "Blue Moon" Odom.

Boswell, knocked dizzy by Minnesota Manager Billy Martin in an Aug. 6 family battle, capped a remarkable late season surge Sunday by defeating Seattle 5-2 in the opener of a doubleheader to become the Twins' second 20-game winner.

The Pilots took the second game 4-1 behind rookie Dick Baney after Boswell posted his eighth triumph in 10 decisions since the publicized brawl and joined teammate Jim Perry in a circle of six American League 20-game winners.

New York's Mel Stottlemyre also won his 20th Sunday, beating Baltimore 3-2.

But Odom, a 14-game winner for Oakland in July, remained in a tailspin that began for him in the All-Star game as the Athletics bowed to California 6-5 in 11 innings.

Odom, who was rocked for five runs in one third inning by the National League All-Stars and has won just one game in the AL since then, hit his fifth homer of the season to snap a seventh inning deadlock. But he blew the lead the following in-

Ex-Collegian Stars Stand Out In Cougar Trial Runs

BOONE, N. C. (AP) — Four former North Carolina college basketball stars were the scoring standouts when the Carolina Cougars of the American Basketball Association held a game-type scrimmage Sunday to end the team's tryout camp at Boone.

The ABA team, which opens exhibition play Wednesday at Winston-Salem against the Los Angeles Stars, cut its roster to 14 after the final workout.

Forward Bill Bunting of the University of North Carolina and guard Gene Littles of High Point College hit for 29 points each to lead the Reds to a 115 to 105 victory over the Whites. Both men are rookies.

Spider Bennett of Winston-Salem State with 22 points and Bob Verga of Duke with 21 were the top scorers for the Whites.

Those on the roster are: Bunting, 6-foot-9; Randy Mahaffey, 6-foot-7; Clemson; Verga, 6-foot-1; Steve Kramer, 6-foot-5; Brigham Young; Tom Kondle, 6-foot-8; Minnesota; Bennett, 6-foot-5; Art Becker, 6-foot-8; Arizona State; Cal Fowler, 6-foot-2, U. S. Olympic Team; George Sutor, 6-foot-9, LaSalle; Hank Whitney, 6-foot-7, Iowa State; Tony Jackson, 6-foot-4; St. Johnson, Carl Fuller, 6-foot-10; Bethune Cookman, Littles, 6-foot-0; and Doug Moe, 6-foot-6, University of North Carolina.

Cougars head coach Bones McKinney gave three players who were not on the final roster permission to try out for a team that will tour the world and the trio left Sunday for New York. However, the ABA team has

Ask Study Of Franchise Dream

CHARLOTTE (AP) — A committee may be named today to study the possibility of a professional football franchise for Charlotte.

Mecklenburg County commissioners were to receive a request for the study from state Rep. James H. Carson, R-Mecklenburg, and Jack Putt, a restaurateur in Charlotte who scouts for the Kansas City Chiefs. Carson and Putt were expected to be asked to be placed on the study group.

One of the requirements for a franchise in either the National or American Football leagues is a stadium seating 55,000 persons. Memorial Stadium, in Charlotte, site of the annual North Carolina - South Carolina Shrine game for high school players, seats about 26,000.

Champion Greg Campbell had 24 strikes, no opens in his 751 ABC regular singles series in 1969.

Morey And Welch Win In Playoff

NORTH WILKESBORO, N.C. (AP) — Dale Morey and Harry Welch won the first Carolinas Golf Association Senior Four-Ball Tournament Sunday by edging John Pottle and George Pottle in a sudden-death playoff.

Third place went to Dr. Marler Tuttle and Dixie Hill; the second light title went to Clay Felts and D. T. Legrone; and Rick Finley and Allie Hayes won the third flight.

Schubert Leads Deacs To Their 2nd Upset

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Unpredictable Wake Forest pulled off its second upset of the football season Saturday behind a ferocious defense led by defensive end Jim Schubert.

Schubert recovered two fumbles, intercepted a pass and caused another interception with a strong rush as the Demon Deacons toppled highly regarded Virginia Tech, 16-13.

Two weeks ago they defeated North Carolina State, Atlantic Coast Conference defending champion and the pre-season favorite to take the ACC football title again this year.

"We just said we're gonna go after 'em," Schubert said. "We figured one of us was gonna give up and it better be them."

Wake Forest Coach Cal Stoll said he didn't know how his team would react after last week's thumping at the hands of Auburn, 57-0. But he found out his team is "a real bunch of fighters. This was a dog fight," said Stoll, "and my kids never once backed off."

Virginia coach George Blackburn said, "This is our greatest win," after his Cavaliers had dumped Duke 10-0.

Virginia's pass rush, which kept Duke quarterbacks Leo Hart and Denny Satsyushur off balance throughout the game, was the key to their victory.

"Their defense was superb," said Duke coach Tom Harp. "We did not execute our offense at all, but that was largely due to the great job on defense that Virginia did. We knew they'd be tough, but we never expected to be shut out."

Schubert Leads Deacs To Their 2nd Upset

Blackburn said, "We played well but there's no room for gloating. We had planned to shut out Duke, just like we plan to shut out every team on our schedule. Every time Hart got off a pass he was hit, and that's the best pass defense because it softens up the passer. Our team like to hit and that's why Duke got so many boys hurt."

Hart had to sit out the second half because of a jammed finger.

North Carolina State beat Maryland for the seventh straight time, 24-7 Saturday, but Maryland coach Roy Lester says, "We lost the game, they didn't win it." But he added, "Maybe I'm not giving State enough credit. They took advantage of our mistakes. That's how we lost the game."

Maryland lost three fumbles, had three passes intercepted, and drew 13 penalties, including several in critical situations which killed sustained drives.

South Carolina, its offense contained by a determined North Carolina defense in the first half, exploded for two third-quarter touchdowns to maintain its unblemished record and hand the Tar Heels their second defeat.

North Carolina held a 6-0 lead at the half on two field goals by Don Hartig, his second and third of the season. His field goals have provided the Tar Heels with the only points they have scored in their two games.

feared "our boys won't give up and quit. I don't think they will."

Davidson's defense accounted for two touchdowns and set up two more in a frantic 49-point second period after the game had been tied at 7-7 at the end of the opening stanza. Gordon Slade passed for three touchdowns for the Wildcats and scored one, himself, as the Cats' record became 2-0.

'Forgotten Man' Hits Lenience To Militant

NEW YORK (AP) — White, middle-income Americans are resentful of gains they think blacks have made, Newsweek magazine says.

The magazine, in its Oct. 6 edition, says a poll of white, middle-income Americans shows that 85 per cent believe that black militants have been treated too leniently.

The survey showed that 44 per cent of this group—which President Nixon called the "forgotten man"—believe Negroes have a better chance to get good-paying jobs; 41 per cent believe that Negroes have a better opportunity to get a good education for their children; and 65 per cent believe that unemployed Negroes have a better chance to get financial help from the government.

The survey was prepared by the Gallup organization for a magazine article entitled "The Troubled American, A Special Report on the White Majority." It surveyed 2,165 households, 1,321 of them with an income between $5,000 and $15,000.

The article said these Americans were pessimistic about the direction of the country. Forty-six per cent believe the United States has changed for the worse over the past decade, and 58 per cent believe the nation is likely to change for the worse during the next decade, it said.

Asked about the top problems facing the country, nearly 2 out of 3 cited the Vietnam war, 41 per cent the racial crisis, 10 per cent crime and only 2 per cent nuclear war, the magazine said.

Newsweek said nearly 7 out of 10 persons conceded that some demands of Negro leaders are justified.

Although 78 per cent said that federal taxes are too high, Newsweek said many cited
