At Least 4 Tornadoes

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Eastern North Carolina was hit by at least four tornadoes Thursday afternoon. The winds destroyed a church and damaged several houses and farm buildings. Bethlehem Church near Lake Gaston in Warren County was destroyed. The same storm badly damaged two houses and a barn. No one was injured. Near Oak City in Martin County an estimated $20,000 damage was caused by a tornado that destroyed a tenant house, stables, a pack house and destroyed three tobacco barns and a pack house on a nearby farm. A third farm in the area received some damage. Nashville in Nash County and Windsor in Bertie County reported other twisters hit.

Predicts New Offensive

TOKYO (AP) — Laotian Premier Souvanna Phouma predicted today 40,000 North Vietnamese regulars will soon launch a dry season offensive in his country. He said the assault had been delayed by the seizure—with the help of Laotian peasants—of large caches of North Vietnamese arms by Laotian government troops. Souvanna spoke here before boarding an afternoon flight for New York. The prince who leads Laos' nominal government challenged U.S. Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield's recent report that U.S. troops are increasingly involved in Laos and the recommendation that aid be slashed. Speaking to the Foreign Correspondents Club of Japan, Souvanna said, "There is not a single U.S. soldier in Laos." He charged that Mansfield's understanding of Laos was limited by the fact he spent only one hour in the country, including a 40-minute talk with Souvanna, on his last visit.

ROTC Program Endorsed

WASHINGTON (AP) — A special Pentagon committee today endorsed ROTC as a "highly desirable method" of supplying military officers and recommended a greater university role in overseeing a strengthened program. Six college educators and three senior military officers issued the 61-page report which urged a more active role for college faculty and administrators in picking instructors and shaping curriculum.

The committee challenged foes of ROTC by recommending appropriate academic credit for the courses, faculty status for the officer-instructors and continued wearing of uniforms and military drill on campus. Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird appointed the committee last spring amid rising campus opposition to ROTC. It was headed by Dr. George C. S. Benson, political science professor at Claremont Men's College, Calif.

Damage From 3 Tremors

SANTA ROSA, Calif. (AP) — Officials say three earthquakes centered about five miles north of this Northern California city left this damage: Twenty-five injuries, mostly from flying glass; property damage of $1 million or more; indefinite closure of a department store, and a shift in foundations that forced authorities to halt traffic on a freeway overpass on the main north-south highway—U.S. 101.

Additionally, said City Manager George Minturn, numerous water and gas lines ruptured and electric service was interrupted in some areas. The quakes rocked a 150-mile section of the San Francisco Bay area but no serious damage was reported in other cities. The first two shocks Wednesday night were recorded at 5.6 and 5.5 on the Richter scale. A third one early Thursday was 3.8. Santa Rosa is 60 miles north of San Francisco.

Israeli Jets Again Raid

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Israeli warplanes struck at Egyptian positions on the Gulf of Suez and in the southern sector of the Suez Canal today for the second straight day, an Israeli spokesman said. The action followed "continued Egyptian aggression," he added, saying all planes returned safely to base. Earlier, he reported small arms fire from across the Lebanese border toward soldiers standing on a road. He said the soldiers returned the fire and there were no casualties. Egypt claimed Thursday it shot down one Israeli plane and hit another with anti-aircraft fire south of the Suez Canal. Israel denied it. The official Middle East News Agency in Cairo quoted a spokesman as saying, "A number of Israeli jets attempted raids in the south Suez in retaliation for an Egyptian commando raid. Our anti-aircraft guns intercepted the Israeli planes and shot down one which was seen exploding over Red Sea waters. Another one was hit." An Israeli spokesman said all the Israeli planes returned safely. He said they made two attacks across the canal after Egyptian forces opened artillery fire along the 103-mile waterway. Israel had previously denied Egypt's claims of carrying out a successful commando raid.

Sex Education Going On Ballot

DEARBORN, Mich. (AP) — Mayor Orville Hubbard plans to submit the question of sex education to the people in a city-wide referendum in November. "I'm dead set against sex education in the schools," said Hubbard. "Putting the matter on the next ballot may help clear up a lot of muddied waters around here." Hubbard said he would ask the City Council at its meeting Oct. 14 to include the question on the November ballot devoted mainly to millage taxes. Local schools would not be bound by the sex education vote. Last year, Hubbard won support for his anti-Vietnam war stand with a similar advisory ballot.

Plays And Sings Way To Freedom

LEE, Mass. (AP) — Long-haired Richard Biers, 21, Philadelphia, was arrested Thursday on a charge of trying to hitch a ride on the Massachusetts Turnpike. He pleaded guilty to the charge in District Court but told Judge John Dwyer he did not have the money to pay the $10 fine. Noticing the youth carried a guitar, the judge asked if he would like to sing a song for the court in lieu of the fine. Biers complied with "The Call of the Waterfall," and went on his way.

SCHOOL PROJECT PRODUCES — Sen. Charles Mathias, R-Md., presents a pen used by President Nixon in signing the National Youth-Adult Communications Week proclamation to students from Ridgeley Junior High School. What began as a ninth grade project ended up as federal legislation. (AP Wirephoto)

Legislation Produced By Ninth Graders' Project

By JOHN WOODFIELD Associated Press Writer LUTHERVILLE, Md. (AP) — What began as a ninth grade project to show how a bill is drafted has ended as federal legislation signed by President Nixon. Ralph Jaffe, the young social studies teacher at Ridgeley Junior High School who started the whole thing, is shaking his head in disbelief. Jaffe said the idea originated last March while he was teaching two sections of the ninth grade at Ridgeley a course in how the government operates. "We decided to try to draft a bill and after some discussion we came up with the idea of a bill that would create an adult-youth communications week, what with everybody talking about the generation gap," he said. But once the bill was drafted, Jaffe added, the two sections some 65 students decided to see if they could get it enacted by Congress. So a delegation approached Rep. Clarence Long, D-Md., in whose district the school is located. "He was very receptive to the bill," Jaffe said, "and he introduced it in the House." "As far as the kids were concerned, the real enthusiasm started when they found their bill had actually been introduced," he said. The measure set aside Sept. 29 through Oct. 4 as Adult-Youth Communications Week and urged adults and youths as well as communication media to encourage dialogue between adults and youths. Jaffe said that once the bill was introduced, the two classes started a letter-writing campaign to gain support for it. "We found that the kids had at least one friend or relative in every state in the union, and they wrote to them and asked that they write their friends and get them to write their senators and congressmen," he said. Jaffe said hundreds of letters went to Congress from across the country, but that the one the classes were the proudest of came from Vietnam. "One of the children's father was stationed there," he explained, "and he got his entire battalion to write a letter to President Nixon urging support of the bill." On July 29 the bill passed the House. It was enacted by the Senate on Sept. 10 and President Nixon signed it into law last Thursday.

Claims General Squelched Probe

WASHINGTON (AP) — A high-ranking Army general squelched an investigation of alleged currency manipulation, influence peddling, liquor smuggling and multimillion-dollar thefts by a clique of career sergeants, the Senate has been told. The testimony came Thursday before a Senate subcommittee looking into charges that a group of top NCOs—including the one-time sergeant major of the Army—banded together to loot Army service club funds in a mutual-protection scheme that spread through top Army echelons on three continents. The senators were told when Army Provost Marshal Maj. Gen. Carl C. Turner was warned of the situation in 1967 he blocked efforts of official investigators.

"After you've spent your life in the Army you lock your heels and obey your orders," said Lt. Col. Jack Pruett, explaining why he did not challenge a directive from Turner to close a probe into the affairs of William O. Woodriddle, then the Army's No. 1 enlisted man. Pruett said his plea for firing Woodriddle, whom he said had a court martial conviction in his record, met this response from Gen. Turner: "Many people are accused of many things, Sgt. Woodriddle is just a good old country boy." In testifying that he had been ordered by Gen. Turner to have Woodriddle's name removed from investigators' files concerning the probe, Pruett said: "I must admit I was extremely upset because we realized that if you omit one offender from the file you might as well close the case. I knew no reason why the case should be closed." At the time Pruett commanded the Army's Criminal Investigations Division, responsible directly to Turner, the provost marshal. Turner has since retired. He was appointed chief U.S. marshal by President Nixon earlier this year but suddenly resigned when a renewed Defense Department investigation of the affair became known. Pruett testified Turner told him he was personally taking responsibility in the case at the request of Gen. Harold K. Johnson, then Army chief of staff. Johnson had named Woodriddle to his position in July 1966. Gen. Johnson, who retired last year, told a reporter that in his official duties, he thought Woodriddle "conducted himself in a way that I thought was proper."

After Arrest In Asheville Suspended

RALEIGH (AP) — Shaw University announced Thursday it has suspended a 22-year-old employe, Preston Dobbins, until an investigation can be made of the circumstances of his arrest in racially troubled Asheville Tuesday night. Dobbins was employed by a Shaw extension division youth program in Asheville at the time of his arrest for violation of curfew and possession of explosives, firearms and ammunition.

Airborne Is Fighting On DMZ Front

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. paratroopers fought North Vietnamese forces along the demilitarized zone and closer to Saigon while the United States lost three more aircraft in the war, military spokesmen said today. Two observation helicopters of the 82nd Airborne Division were shot down early today in a firefight 20 miles north of Saigon. Paratroopers on the ground lost one man killed and 10 wounded in the engagement, reports from the field said. The 82nd Airborne has only its 3rd Brigade in Vietnam. That, together with one regiment of the 3rd Marine Division, are the major combat units being redeployed under President Nixon's second round of troop withdrawals. A U.S. Air Force Phantom fighter-bomber crashed Thursday 95 miles northeast of Saigon, killing one crewman. The U.S. Command said the plane was believed shot down by enemy ground fire. Two Americans were reported killed and 20 wounded in 20 enemy rocket and mortar attacks during the past 24 hours, the U.S. Command said. The DMZ action involved paratroopers of the 101st Airborne Division, moved up to replace departing Marines, spokesmen said.

Missing 6 Days, Reached Safety

LENOIR, N. C. (AP) — Robert Debrer, 78, missing for six days, made his way through wooded Caldwell County countryside to a farmhouse Thursday. An intensive search planned this weekend for the man was canceled. Searchers had been out in force last weekend and during the week looking for Debrer, who lives near Lenoir. Despite rain and chilly weather, Debrer appeared to be in good condition.

Computer Operation Gov. Scott Unveils Project To Put Unemployed In Jobs And To Train The Untrained

By NOEL YANCEY RALEIGH (AP) — Gov. Bob Scott today made public details of a program aimed at reaching many of North Carolina's unemployed and placing them in jobs. Scott said he believed the program "will help raise North Carolina's per capita income and provide present and new industry in the state with a qualified, trained work force." The governor told a news conference that the North Carolina Manpower Development Corporation has developed training methods designed to help unemployed individuals get jobs and to help individuals with poor jobs get better ones. "They also have developed a way of matching on a computer unemployed individuals to available jobs around the state," the governor added. Scott said MDC has worked closely with the community college system and with the Employment Security Commission in establishing the computer operations. "At the heart of this program," he said will be the use of one community college in the state to demonstrate how manpower training can be made relevant both to the poor and to the needs of industry. The community college selected for the program is Lenoir County College at Kinston. There an enlarged college staff "will train up to 100 disadvantaged individuals in a year's time, fine jobs for them and provide on-the-job coaching." The program calls for MDC to prepare a plan for spreading the full range of manpower services throughout the community college system. It is anticipated, those attending the governor's news conference were told, that this one-year demonstration will help North Carolina develop the kind of manpower services necessary to make an impact on the state's low per capita income. Plans call for Gov. Scott and the Employment Security Commission to work with MDC to try to attract federal financing to computerize the ESC people-to-jobs operation. For this a computer system capable of matching individuals to jobs or training has been developed and tested.

Nixon Expands Welfare Plans In Legislation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Increased financial aid to the needy aged, blind and disabled has been added to the Nixon administration welfare program, now ready for Congress in bill form. President Nixon sent the legislation to the Capitol Thursday, spelling out his Aug. 11 proposals for replacement of present aid programs with national minimums and a family assistance plan. The proposals contain a $1,600-a-year floor for a family of four and for the first time would allow persons holding a job to qualify for assistance. The Nixon plan also requires mothers now receiving Aid to Dependent Children—ADC—to work or take job training if possible—a provision which has drawn criticism in Congress and elsewhere. The new proposal for increased payments to persons receiving aid to the blind, aged or disabled was announced by Robert H. Finch, secretary of health, education and welfare. It would provide a minimum of $90 a month—$63.75 to be paid by the federal government and the rest by the states. Such categorical assistance now ranges from $35.75 a month for elderly persons in Mississippi to $144.20 a month for blind persons in California. Finch said the increase would be made possible by a 10 percent increase in Social Security benefits, taking enough elderly persons off welfare rolls to boost payments for those who remain.

Executive Plane

RALEIGH (AP) — North Carolina is going to get an executive airplane to transport industrial prospects around the state. The Department of Conservation and Development announced Thursday that its request to purchase a twin-engine plane had been approved by the state board of award. The plane, a 1968 Cessna 440, will be bought for $83,300 from the Twin City Leasing Corp., which submitted the lowest of the 12 bids entered.

Will Crash Their Craft Into Moon

By HOWARD BENEDICT AP Aerospace Writer CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — After they explore the moon next month, the Apollo 12 astronauts plan to send their unmanned landing craft crashing to the surface from a height of 65 miles to create a giant seismic shock. The impact, measured by a seismometer, could reveal much about the internal structure of the lunar mass. Assigned to the mission, scheduled for launching Nov. 14, is an all-Navy crew of Cmdrs. Charles Conrad and Richard F. Gordon Jr. and Lt. Cmdr. Alan L. Bean. Conrad and Bean are to land in the Ocean of Storms while Gordon orbits overhead. Bean, the only rookie on the team, described the project's planned experiments at a news conference Thursday night. He said the deliberate crashing of the lunar module, or LM, is to occur after the two explorers launch themselves off the moon and rejoin Gordon in the command ship, 65 miles above the surface. "Gordon will maneuver the LM to the proper attitude for the burn," Bean explained. "Then we'll move away and fire up the jets to start the LM out of orbit. We hope to track it all the way down. "We'd like to crash it about one kilometer from the seismometer. The impact ought to really excite it and we can infer a lot about the internal structure of the moon." A record of the resulting shock wave, for example, could tell whether the moon is layered, like the earth, or more solid. The seismometer, intended mainly to record moonquakes and meteoroid hits, is one of five scientific experiments Conrad and Bean are to deploy during seven hours walking around on the lunar surface. That's more than triple the time the Apollo 11 astronauts spent outside their module in July. Four of the experiments will measure such things as the solar wind, magnetic fields and the pressure of the atmosphere.

An Engagement Is Advertised

BOSTON (AP) — The three-line advertisement on page 7 was in bold type, single column, about an inch deep. It said: "Kenneth Gidge. What do you think of that?" That was how Judy, a 22-year-old advertising copy writer, and Ken, 23, a bartender, announced their engagement Thursday in the Boston Globe. The bride-to-be said they plan to be married New Year's Eve in an airplane over Boston.

Greenville Mart Had $69.48 Day

The average price per hundred pounds of leaf paid on the Greenville Tobacco Market yesterday was $69.48. The average was based on the 995,895 pounds of tobacco sold for $691,934. Wilson, still leading the markets in the Eastern Belt, yesterday averaged $75.53 by selling 1,353,174 pounds of leaf for $1,022,089. The Rocky Mount tobacco market yesterday sold 1,048,674 pounds of tobacco for $746,700, giving an average of $71.20. The Kinston market averaged $69.48, the same as Greenville, after selling 969,399 pounds of tobacco for $673,497. The Farmville market yesterday sold 524,211 pounds of leaf for $372,224.74, yielding an average of $71 per hundred pounds. According to Louis Williams, sales supervisor for the Farmville market, the quality of marketing yesterday consisted of more poor and low grades of tobacco than any previous sales day. A large amount of damaged tobacco appeared on the Farmville warehouse floors yesterday. More nondescript and variegated grades accounted for the slight decline in average on the Farmville market, Williams said. Stabilization received 16.5 percent of gross sales on the Farmville market yesterday. So far this season, including yesterday's sales, the Farmville market has sold 16,612,024 pounds of tobacco for $12,635,687 for a season average of $72.45. Totals for the Greenville market so far this year include 40,632,351 pounds of leaf for $29,486,655 for an average of $72.37. Sales figures for the individual markets on the Eastern Belt as compiled by the Federal-State Market News Service includes:

Three People Injured In Traffic Accidents

Three persons were reported injured in a series of seven traffic mishaps here yesterday that according to police estimates resulted in more than $3,400 property damage.

Heaviest damage resulted from a 7:50 a.m. collision involving three cars, at the intersection of N. C. 11 and U.S. 29.

Drivers involved in that mishap were identified as Lillian Rhodes Eastwood of Route 5, Greenville, Joann Barber Leith of 207 South Warren St., and Irene Barnard Williams, Negrin, of Elizabeth City.

Mrs. Williams was charged with failing to reduce her speed enough to avoid an accident.

Damage was placed at $200 to the Eastwood vehicle, $800 to the Leith car and $150 to the Williams vehicle.

Elisha Dildy, 66, of 1013 Forbes St. was charged with failing to yield the right of way in a 1:05 p.m. crash at the intersection of Cotanche and Eleventh Streets. Officers said the Dildy car collided with a vehicle driven by Walter Frederick Scheper Jr., 19, of New Bern, causing an estimated $500 damage to the Scheper car and about $200 damage to the Dildy vehicle.

An estimated $1,000 damage was caused when a car driven by Jo Beddard Faison of 1900 South Charles St. struck a utility pole on Greenville Boulevard a quarter-mile East of the Evans Street intersection about 8 p.m.

Police charged Mrs. Faison with exceeding a safe speed.

Gail Anne Sykes, 21, of 810 Cotanche St. was reported injured when the car she was driving was involved in a collision with a vehicle driven by Samuel Joshua Weeks, 53, of Greenville.

Weeks was charged with failing to reduce speed enough to avoid an accident as the result of the investigation into the 4 p.m. mishap on 10th Street, 150 feet East of the Anderson Street intersection.

Damage to the Weeks car was set at $500 while damage to the Sykes car was placed at $150.

Twelve-year-old Wilbur Ray Manning Jr. of 203 North Eastern St. was injured when pinned between a car and truck in a 4-10 p.m. mishap on Memorial Drive 212 feet South of the West Sixth Street intersection.

Investigators reported a truck driven by Charlie Larry Knowles, 18, of 1503 B. Halifax St. stalled on Memorial Drive. Knowles and Manning, a passenger in the vehicle, got out to push the vehicle to the side of the roadway.

A car driven by Johnnie William Simmons, 19, of 504 Church St. police said, struck Manning and the truck, causing an estimated $850 damage to the car and about $15 to the truck.

Manning was taken to Pitt Memorial Hospital for treatment.

Simmons was charged with exceeding a safe speed.

Robert Edward Jolly, 21, of Route 1, Dover was reported injured when the car he was driving collided with a vehicle operated by Joseph Higgs Goodson, 41, of 105 Martinsboro Rd. about 6:32 p.m. on Charles Street, 1500 feet north of the Greenville Blvd. intersection.

Police estimated damage to be about $200 to the Jolly car and about $185 to the Goodson vehicle.

Roy Wooten, 48-year-old Negro of Route 1, Greenville was charged with failing to keep a proper lookout while backing following investigation of a 1:30 a.m. collision at the intersection of Fifth Street and N.C. 11.

Officers said the Wooten car collided with a vehicle driven by Jeanette Parker Artis, of 602 Roosevelt Ave.

Damage to the Wooten vehicle was set at $75 while damage to the Artis vehicle was placed at $200.

Revival Services Through Sunday

Evangelist Kenneth Dix is now conducting revival services at the Winterville Pentecostal Holiness Church.

Services begin each night at 7:45 and will be held nightly through Sunday.

Homecoming will be observed on the church grounds Sunday at 1 p.m.

HEALTH AND CHIROPRACTIC

By Dr. W. C. Chapel, Former President Lincoln Chiropractic College

Q. I have been told that I have a "slipped disc." What is this and what should I do about it?

A. The term "slipped disc" refers to a herniation or bulging of the cushion between two spinal vertebrae. Try bed rest on a firm mattress. Use hot towels on the painful hip and leg. Refrain from bending the back or prolonged sitting. If your discomfort persists, see your D. C. (Doctor of Chiropractic) for examination and professional advice.

Q. I frequently awake in the morning with a "crick" in my neck. It usually lasts only a few hours but seems to be getting worse. What do you think is wrong?

A. You may have a poor bed posture or be a headboard rooler in your sleep. Try changing your pillow. If your problem continues, consult your D. C. (Doctor of Chiropractic) for professional examination and advice.

Grifton Police Chief Is Named

GRIFTON—Jimmie Lewis has been appointed chief of police and superintendent of utilities here. He assumed the duties of both offices today.

Lewis, a native of Nash County, graduated from Middlesex High School in 1955. He has been a Pitt County Deputy Sheriff for the past two years. Prior to that time, he served for about four years as a Grifton policeman.

Lewis' father, Luther Lewis, served as chief of police in Grifton for about 11 years. He died Dec. 31, 1968 while still in office.

The 33-year-old officer has attended several police schools, including a special crowd and riot control school, a school for jailers and a criminal investigation school.

The new chief is married to the former Ann Craft of Grifton and they live on Gordon St. here.

Plan Prosecute Viet Absentees

SAIGON (AP) — Premier Tran Thien Kham has distributed a directive calling for strong measures against military men and civil servants who refuse to return to South Vietnam after receiving training abroad, the government news agency said today.

Vietnam Press reported the directive said that in "the present war situation, this desertion from service cannot be tolerated, especially when it is committed by elements who have enjoyed such privilege."

The instructions called for stern punitive measures, including prosecution before military courts. There was no mention of how many persons might be involved.

Open House Held Thursday At The Children's Home Society

GREENSBORO — North Carolina's Junior Woman's Clubs observed the 20th anniversary of their statewide project for The Children's Home Society of North Carolina, Inc. yesterday.

The Juniors' annual open house was held at the Society's nursery. Junior members from throughout the state met here yesterday for a tour of the nursery and a luncheon program, featuring a puppet show about adoption.

When the Juniors adopted the society in 1949 as a project for all their clubs, their primary goal was to help raise funds for the voluntarily-supported agency.

Their interest in the program for finding permanent homes for homeless children soon prompted an expansion of their volunteer service into myriad ways of assisting the Society.

The project is coordinated among North Carolina's 97 Junior Woman's Clubs through a statewide advisory group, composed of 10 regional representatives and chaired by Mrs. Bill C. Murphy of Thomasville.

Each year, the committee awards trophies to the two clubs submitting the most outstanding report of activities in behalf of the society. Certificates of merit are presented to five other clubs selected for their exceptional service.

Perhaps the Juniors' favorite volunteer service is their Stork Brigade, a statewide transportation arrangement for bringing babies from the hospitals where they are born to the Society's nursery in Greensboro.

In 1968, members of 22 clubs traveled 31,633 miles in the Stork Brigade. Juniors stuff envelopes, address letters, file, zip code bulk mailing, make posters, distribute brochures, have baby clothing and supplies

Tell Husband To Unwind By Himself

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: For the first eight years of our marriage Hank worked from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. — a civilized shift. I always got up first and prepared a good hot breakfast for him.

Suddenly, two years ago Hank decided that he HATED to get up in the morning, so he got on the 4 p.m. to midnight shift. This gets him home about one o'clock in the morning! Abby, he insists that I be up waiting for him so we can have coffee together while he "unwinds." This takes at least an hour. I still have to get up early with the children, and I just can't get along on four or five hours sleep.

I have never been able to "nap" in the afternoon. I've tried, but it just doesn't work for me.

I think Hank is being selfish and inconsiderate, so what is your advice to me?

HANK'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: Hank's reason for working the 4 p.m. to midnight shift, strikes me as being somewhat childish. Tell him if he wants you to "unwind" with him after work, he'll have to get back on the "civilized" shift, otherwise he'll have to unwind by himself.

DEAR ABBY: Is it true that if a person buys a ring which has a birthstone in it, and it is not that person's birthstone, it will put a curse on him?

PAULA

DEAR PAULA: Only if that person can't meet the payments.

DEAR ABBY: Why would a respectable 30-year-old man with a wife who adores him, and two lovely children, keep obscene pictures of himself and a former conquest lying around in a plain view in his work-shop? Aren't decent men usually ashamed of such pictures? Does he want to humiliate me? Or does he want our children, or anyone else who happens to come in, to see them? We are both college graduates and from good families. I am not looking for trouble, Abby, but I don't know how much longer I can let this go without mentioning it. Please, please help me.

TORTURED WIFE

DEAR WIFE: It's difficult to believe that a "decent" man would deliberately leave such pictures lying around in plain view, so I would have to assume that his "carelessness" is an unconscious cry for help. He wants to be "caught" and punished. Discuss it with him without delay. He may need professional help.

DEAR ABBY: Some smart mouthed girl wrote saying she thought it was a "sin" for her mother to be having a baby at age 45. Well, I don't think it is a "sin" exactly, but I would like to say that I doubt if any woman in her right mind would have a baby on purpose at age 45.

I am 44 and I have a new grandchild who is 8 weeks old. My daughter and her husband went on a vacation and left the baby with me, and I don't mind telling you I must have been crazy to take this child for two weeks. I haven't had a night's sleep in six days, and I am so tired all day I can't see straight—but the baby is going strong.

Women past 40 should leave well enough alone and let the younger ones increase the pop-

Christmas In October Program Held By WOTM

SWANSBORO — The Mooseheart Chairman was in charge of the chapter might program for the meeting of Women of the Moose Chapter 1232 held last night.

The program theme was a Christmas in October. All co-workers brought gifts for the children at Mooseheart and the aged in Moosehaven.

Official visitors for the meeting were Edna Coniffe, president of College of Regents, Maggie Lou George, former dean of Academy of Friendship, and Elizabeth Gardner, former deputy grand regent.

Members from Greenville Chapter 1308 attending were Marga Ross, recorder, Peggy Roberson, graduate regent, and Elizabeth Moore, scrapbook chairman.

For the program, all officers, chairmen and escorts wore dresses in formal attire to carry out the theme of Christmas in October.

Seven chapters were present: New Bern; Jones County; Havelock; Wilmington; Fayetteville; Greenville; and Swansboro.

Swansboro Chapter enrolled five new members in the defending Circle. Dinner was served after the meeting.

Careful Medical School Approach

Dr. Edwin Monroe, dean of the Allied Health Professions School at East Carolina University, has assured Tar Heels that his school has accepted the challenge given it by the Legislature.

In an interview with the Associated Press, Dr. Monroe said he has been obtaining the services of consultants who will assist in developing a basic medical sciences curriculum at ECU.

The General Assembly this year appropriated $375,000 to plan a medical curriculum.

Dr. Monroe indicated that initially qualified students will be able to take one or two years of medical training and then transfer to four year medical schools.

That the school expects to plan its curriculum carefully is shown by the fact that Dr. Monroe believes it will be late 1970 or early 1971 before a curriculum can be presented to the Higher Board of Education and to the accrediting committee.

Long Planning For Highways

By WILLIAM A. SHIRES

RALEIGH—Inked lines, dots, circles, and squares drawn on precisely scaled and measured maps are only a beginning of building highways.

It takes a long time from the drawing board stage to completion of any proposed highway project, whether new construction or improvement.

is "pork barrel," and a honey pot for members of Congress. Nixon has said he wants an overall trimming of this sort of thing to combat inflation.

One of the federal administration's targets is the expenditure of some $3 to $5 billion by several—at least seven—of the regional federal-state "partnership" arrangements across the country.

Funding—Funding of a requested $115 million program for the Coastal Plains Regional Commission for the next two years is in dispute, and in doubt.

The Senate sliced a preliminary request for $15 million to $10 million. The House gave it a zero. Nothing. This sent chills through officials in the Carolinas - Georgia area. There has been some vigorous lobbying aimed at restoring at least some of the federal money.

The idea that the federal government would reject some of the proposed Eastern seaboard projects while continuing and expanding the Appalachia program is repugnant to many political leaders in the Seaboard area. They threaten political revolt.

Taxes—It is now October and impossible to overlook or ignore the fact of additional taxes. There will be no special session for repeal as suggested and urged by Sen. Julian Allsbrook, D - Halifax, and others. Halifax's senior legislator made the most dramatic appeal on the eve of the effective date of the new taxation.

He knew that it would be rejected summarily by Gov. Bob Scott. But his statement calling for a special session was nonetheless sincere.

Political sources in Raleigh knew of Allsbrook's intentions nearly a week in advance. Allsbrook was not the only legislator to suggest the idea of a special session to take another look at the state's fiscal situation, especially in light of recent political developments. There were others. Certain of those who suggested this are also being mentioned as possible future political candidates.

WILLIAM A. SHIRES

Involved in the interim are politics and money. Often interrelated.

The relationship is likely to be illustrated graphically in North Carolina during the next two or three years, possibly a longer period. The focal point of attention will be on Gov. Bob Scott's highway construction plans and promises, and specifically on the lines, dots, squares and circles drawn on maps in offices of the Coastal Plains Regional Commission.

Links—Scott has pledged efforts his administration toward completing four lane expressway links between the state's port cities, Wilmington and Morehead City, and the industrial Piedmont.

Almost instantly there was renewed political activity about approving this route or that.

At the same time, anxious eyes were cast at Washington where there were reports that the Nixon administration will attempt to block funding of all of the recommended Coastal Plains Regional commission roads unless states such as North Carolina, South Carolina, and Georgia agree to a curback in federal aid construction projects. The usual description of these projects

If all goes well, though, the first students could be enrolled in the fall of 1971.

Thus, at long last East Carolina University is on the way toward planning the education of physicians. We believe that the vast majority of North Carolinians, and those in state government, see the need for the program being developed here and support ECU in its efforts.

We would be the first to say that the medical curriculum should be planned carefully so that a superior program can be offered. At the same time there must be no unnecessary delays. The need for doctors is critical and, at best, it will be a decade before ECU can admit its first year medical class.

Successful Season On Tobacco Mart Seen

As Greenville's tobacco market sales move along there seems to be the strong likelihood that total poundage will exceed that of last year.

For the entire sales season last year the Greenville market sold 41,071,923 pounds. Through Wednesday, the local market has sold 39,636,460 pounds and tobacco was still being sold at the rate of better than a million pounds daily.

This is remarkable considering that a good amount of tobacco was destroyed by hail in the Greenville area.

Money paid out by the Greenville market has already exceeded last year, due to the higher average. Through Wednesday the market had paid out $28,794,721 compared to $27,909,951 for the entire season last year. The average through Wednesday was $72.65 compared with a $67.95 average for all of last year.

It all points to a successful season for the Greenville market, despite the clouds that hang over the tobacco industry.

Nixon Pressured Schwartzkopf's War On Haynsworth

By H.L. SCHATZ III

WASHINGTON (AP) President Nixon has come under mounting pressure from his own party in the Senate, reportedly including the GOP's No. 2 leader, to pull back his nomination of Judge Clement F. Haynsworth to the Supreme Court.

Congressional sources indicated that Senate Republican Whip Robert P. Griffin suggested to the President during his Tuesday meeting with GOP CONGRESS LEAD that Haynsworth's name come down.

A spokesman for Griffin declined Wednesday either to confirm or deny the report. The spokesman said Griffin considered any conversation he had with the President as strictly confidential.

A spokesman for Griffin declined Wednesday either to confirm or deny the report. The spokesman said Griffin considered any conversation he had with the President as strictly confidential.

There was no doubt other Senate Republicans were anxious to see the appointment of Haynsworth, new chief judge of the 4th U.S. Court of Appeals, withdrawn.

The only Negro senator, Massachusetts Republican Edward W. Brooke, Wednesday released a letter he had written to Nixon urging the President to withdraw the nomination or face an "embarrassingly" close vote and possibly even defeat.

Brooke became the first Republican senator to publicly urge withdrawal of the name and the first senator of either party to actually predict the nomination might be defeated. Brooke declined to say how many committed anti-Haynsworth votes he came up with in his own nose count.

But he said he had found a substantial number of Republicans willing to break with tradition and go against their President.

"It's more than any five or six, I'll tell you that," he said.

said. An aide to Brooke put the total somewhat higher, saying "more than 10, or enough of a trend so the vote could be very substantial."

It was understood that Brooke acted without consulting the Senate Republican leadership and had hoped to join some colleagues, who have been privately critical, into taking a public stand.

One that spoke up right away, was New York's Charles Goodell, currently the Senate GOP's leading maverick.

"A bold and courageous move," said Goodell who stopped short of seconding the call for withdrawal or even pledging his own vote against Haynsworth.

There was no immediate comment from the White House on the Griffin report or the Brooke letter.

However, there were various reports about Nixon's reaction to Griffin's suggestion. One had it that the President caustically rejected the idea. Another report said Griffin was given a dressing down.

Nixon's latest public situation on the Haynsworth situation had come last Friday when he told a news conference he had no intention of taking Haynsworth's name from the lists.

Opinions In Brief

Strength For Today

Need For A Check-Up
Is your life going forward or backward? You may be sure that it is going one way or the other. We never stand still. We look at the table before us and it appears to be made of solid material. But that solid material is composed of atoms, all in violent agitation, revolving about orbits.

Everything in the universe, so far as we are able to observe, appears to be in motion. There is no such thing as absolute stillness and inactivity anywhere. If you think that your life has attained a certain stability and will there remain, dismiss that idea from your mind instantly. To the last moment of our lives we will either go forward or backward. After a certain age we start to go backward physically—to decline. But there is no reason why we should ever cease to go forward morally, mentally, spiritually. To the last moment of our lives we can learn something. To the last moment of our lives we can do something which the world needs to have done.

Titian painted his greatest picture when he was ninety-six. Old people have contributions to make to the world which young people cannot possibly make. All men, women and children can make contributions of vital significance to the world's welfare. Check up on yourself. You are not standing still. You are going forward or backward. By Earl L. Douglass

Other Editors Say Could Go Too Far

(Henderson Dispatch)

It has never been our understanding that Social Security payments were intended to put anybody on easy street, nor even to pay all living expenses for beneficiaries. To go that far would involve an unreasonable tax burden upon those who work and earn and who have their own obligations to be met.

Frequent increases in payments to the elderly have been imposed by politically minded congressmen and administration leaders of both parties. Social Security has come to be a political football, with higher payments set up during election years.

At present, workers liable to the tax which supports the system are paying almost five percent of their income, and employers are compelled to match those amounts, to the extent of a small fraction under ten percent. That's as far as government can reasonably expect. But the President is asking for still more generous payments to become effective next year—which, by way, is an election year. Any such expansion would be accompanied by still deeper digs in taxes upon people who work and earn.

We hope no one accuses us of being hardboiled against the elderly. Far, far from it. We are fully in favor of the country doing for them what it reasonably can. But there simply is a limit at some point, if we are to stop short of total socialism.

Carried to the ultimate extreme, Social Security, medicare and Medicaid could bankrupt the government. It already involves multiplied billions of dollars a year and is increasing. And there are, if reports can be taken at face value, countless instances of fraud, padding of claims and other abuses that are bleeding the treasury of huge sums that have no basis under the law.

Beneficiaries do not expect to be set up in luxury, and even they surely know there is a point beyond which the government cannot safely go. It were better to keep the good of what there is than to stretch the blanket beyond what it can stand and have the whole system collapse to the total detriment of those it is designed to help.

And a 4.8 per cent Social Security withholding, or $4.80.

A state income tax of 1.8 per cent is sliced off the top; that's $1.80.

And a city income tax withholding, snickersneeing 0.45 per cent off.

So Joe Schlobb gets $77.45 for $100 worth of labor.

Now suppose Joe Schlobb set out to buy a chaise longue, although for his money a chaise would have to be pretty short.

He would have to pay 6 per cent sales tax on the price.

And, since he'd like to sustain life during the next week, he'd have to put it on his revolving credit account, which costs 18 per cent a year. But since he'd pay off monthly, the average cost would be 9 per cent.

It's a $67.35 Chaise. Therefore, the most that Joe could pay for his chaise would be about $67.35.

So Joe Schlobb must earn at least $100 to buy a $67.35 paper Publishers Association. He made his prediction at the 1969-70 advertising and marketing course conducted by the Advertising Club of New York.

New York Policemen Now Highest Paid In World
New York policemen yesterday became the highest paid cops in the world, Leo J. Margolin points out in the Christian Science Monitor. The force, 31,700, is also the largest in the world.

After three years of service, policemen now get a base pay of $10,950. In addition, each gets a $2,567 pension fund contribution, medical and hospitalization allowance Social Security, longevity pay and a 5 per cent premium for work from 4 p. m. to 5 a. m., bringing the cost to the city of each copper up to $16,185. Margolin failed to add that police also ride free on subways and buses.

Policemen were paid $2,900 in the early 1930s.

Words That Hurt

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Well, it finally happened. Somebody called me an old-timer.

I was walking down the office hall, mulling over what advice to give President Nixon next, when a young fellow employe approached.

"Hi there, old-timer," he said giving a half-salute.

I looked behind me to see whom he had spoken to. There was no one there. By the time I realized the young fellow had been speaking to me, he had passed me and turned a corner.

His salutation rang in my ears: "Hi there, old-timer. ... Hi there, old-timer. ... Hi there, old-timer."

At first I thought of running after the whippersnapper and giving him a karate chop behind his right ear. But I didn't—for several reasons. First, I don't like to run; second, my karate chop hasn't been too successful since 1945; third, I realized the whippersnapper thought he was giving me a compliment by calling me an old-timer.

But his three-word remark had changed my world forever. There are several landmark days in a man's life, such as the day he first puts on long trousers, the day he gets his first paycheck, and the day he marries.

So is the day he is first called an old-timer.

Now I have always had a great respect for old-timers. But you can respect a sword swallower, a lion tamer, or even a female impersonator without wishing to be one yourself.

That's the way I've always felt about old-timers.

The trouble with becoming an old-timer is that you have no power of selection in the matter yourself. You become an old-timer when other people decide you are one.

Unaccustomed as I am yet to this unasked promotion, I can see that certain perquisites accrue to the state of old-timerhood.

For example: The younger employe no longer try to pre-empt your favorite coat hanger, knowing that trifling upsets such as this can ruin your whole day.

If there's a long line at the morning office coffee cart, you can ease your way in at the head of it without starting a major war.

You can brag as much as you wish about your grandchildren, as everyone charitably realizes you don't have much else to boast about.

The boss doesn't bother to call you on the carpet over every small error you make. He recognizes that an old dog can't go through all his old tricks perfectly, let alone learn new ones.

If there is no one else to listen to your long-winded reminiscences, you can talk out loud to that best of all audiences—yourself.

Yes, after the first shock of becoming an old-timer passes, you find there are certain rewards. But still, as Gelett Burgess once said about purple cows, "I'd rather see than be one."

Outstanding Teacher Missed Presentation

Pitt County's outstanding and Country Club. But Mrs. Smith, teacher for the 1968-69 school Wilma Lewis Smith, who was year was honored by a luncheon named to receive the honor yesterday at the Greenville Golf was unable to attend the lunchcon because of sickness. The luncheon, and a 100 cash award, was sponsored by the American Defender Insurance Company to honor the county's outstanding teacher.

The award and plaque were presented to Grady Smith, Mrs. Smith's husband, by Carlton Simmons, representative of the insurance company.

Mrs. Smith, a first grade teacher at Chicod School, is a native of Bladen County. She earned her A.B. degree and M. A. degree from East Carolina University.

Mrs. Smith, a first grade teacher for 26 years (23 in Pitt), has continued to further her training with 12 additional hours beyond her Master's degree and is an enrollee in at least one workshop each year. In the summer, Mrs. Smith spends much of her time compiling approximately 70 illustrated pre-primer vocabulary books for her new students. She also makes hundreds of experience charts, bulletin board materials and other visual aids for the children.

Her hobbies include sewing and cooking. The faculty of each school nominated a teacher to represent them and the outstanding teacher was selected by a committee from the Pitt County Board of Education Office.

The award will be presented annually.

REFERENDUM SET

SEOUL (AP)—A controversial constitutional amendment that would allow President Chung Kee Park to seek a third four-year term will go to a national referendum Oct. 17, the presidential office announced today.

JCs To Select 'Outstanding' Young Educator

The Greenville Jaycees have announced plans to select the "Outstanding Young Educator" of Greenville, according to project chairman Jimmy Lassiter. Lassiter said that the project is a nationwide Jaycee program designed to "recognize the dedication and contribution of professional educators, male and female, between the ages of 21 and 35." These educators, Lassiter added, must work with students in grades one through 12 to be nominated.

Anyone wishing to make a nomination may do so, he added. "The Greenville Jaycees are most interested in recognizing outstanding educators of the city of Greenville, or Greenville residents employed in the surrounding areas," the chairman added. The names and school address of nominees should be sent to Jimmy Lassiter, 207 Kent Drive in Greenville.

Nominees for the award will be judged by a panel of civic leaders and professional educators. The local winner will be honored during a special meeting of the Jaycees on Thursday, Nov. 20. The winner will then be eligible to participate in state and possibly, national competition.

Part-Time Jobs Earn Luxuries

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Did you ever figure out how your neighbor can afford to have a bigger car than yours and own a place at the shore or in the mountains while you manage only to rent a place for a week or two each year?

Assuming he's earning these luxuries legitimately, the answer might be revealed by keeping track of the hours your neighbor and his wife keep working hours, that is.

According to the Labor Department, about 3.6 million wage and salary workers hold two or more jobs, the second one usually being a part-time occupation averaging about 13 hours a week.

And this figure doesn't count the moonlighting families—where mother goes to work when father comes home.

Just as significant perhaps is the discovery, disclosed in the Department of Commerce "Survey of Current Business," that some retail trade and service industries are adjusting their work weeks to the habits of part-timers.

"In retail trade," the report states, "the employment of part-time workers appears to be a deliberate policy of department stores" to adjust to shoppers' habits.

With the development of suburban shopping centers, for example, traffic has become especially heavy during after-dinner hours. Rather than employ full-time help throughout the day, many stores hire mothers for few hours during the evening while the kids stay home and wash the dishes.

There are other probable reasons as well, such as the notion that two-part-timers being more effective—and perhaps less expensive—than one full-timer.

"Government regulations concerning overtime premiums may... have encouraged the replacement of the long-week workers by two short-week workers," the Commerce Department report states, continuing:

"Another stimulus... is the saving in the cost of fringe benefits, such as sick leave, vacation and holiday pay, which are generally not paid to part-time personnel..."

Whatever the reasons, official

QUIET ANNIVERSARY

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Extra police and security agents patrolled the city Thursday night, but officials reported no public demonstrations on the first anniversary of a bloody clash between the army and students at the downtown Culture Plaza.

statistics show that more than 37 per cent of employees working in department stores in 1968 were on part-time schedules, compared with only 26 per cent 10 years earlier. And presumably the trend continues.

In food stores about 41 per cent of employees worked less than 35 hours in 1966 compared with 33 per cent a decade earlier. In 1963 less than 20 per cent of laundry workers were part-timers; in 1968 the percentage was 30.

Increasingly, retail stores and service industries have turned to women in their quest for help. In 1964, the study shows, women accounted for 47 per cent of all retail trade help. Now the percentage is 60.

To show his good faith, President Goodbody, when he took over, said that he would let the Vietnamese have Australia as well. This might have broken the ice in Paris, except that Australia got wind of it and leaked the story to the press. Once it was in the newspapers, Hanoi said it had

AEC Plans More Nuclear Blasts On Amchitka

Hoffa Loses Appeal For Parole; Will Try Again

WASHINGTON (AP) — James R. Hoffa, once counted among the nation's most powerful labor leaders, faces at least another year-and-a-half behind bars of a federal prison following rejection of his plea for parole.

Hoffa, who has served two years and eight months of an eight-year conviction for jury tampering, lost his try for early release Thursday when the U.S. Parole Board rejected his bid. The board said it would reconsider his case in March 1971.

Hoffa, the stocky, defiant leader of the two-million-member Teamsters Union whose legal battles with the government began under the Kennedy administration, were continued during the Johnson administration and still are going on, is in the Lewisburg, Pa., federal prison.

He entered there in late 1967 after failing in his attempts to overturn a 1967 conviction on charges of tampering with a Nashville, Tenn., jury.

Hoffa's lawyers currently are appealing to the Supreme Court another conviction in 1964 on charges of using Teamster pension funds to finance a Florida real estate deal. He was sentenced to five years in prison, and a $10,000 fine, the jail term to run consecutively with his present sentence.

While in prison the 56-year-old Hoffa has continued as president of the Teamsters, leaving direction of the union to Teamsters Vice President Frank Fitzsimmons. The union re-elected Hoffa to a five-year term in 1966 before he entered prison.

In 1968, while in jail, Hoffa was re-elected president of his home local in Detroit.

Hoffa would have been eligible for parole Nov. 6, one-third of the way through his jury tampering sentence. His lawyers still maintain both his convictions were obtained with illegal wiretap evidence. He was denied freedom on bail this spring pending determination if the alleged wiretapping had violated his civil rights.

While in prison, Hoffa has been described as taking life "like a soldier, asking no favors," although the former convict friend who provided the description said imprisonment "is bothering him, but he won't admit it."

In Detroit Mrs. Hoffa, their son James P., and Princess, a part-Collie mongrel, still live in the house Hoffa purchased for $6,800 in 1939. She visits Hoffa each month, writes him three or four letters a week.

While her husband is in prison, said Mrs. Hoffa in a recent interview, "I'm living on hope and prayers."

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP) — The Atomic Energy Commission plans two more nuclear test explosions on Amchitka Island in the Aleutian chain after Thursday's blast which did not yield an earthquake or a tidal wave.

The Soviet Union, Japan and Canada as well as numerous U.S. scientists and political figures had objected to the one-megaton underground explosion because they feared it would cause seismic disturbances in the tremor-prone Alaskan or Aleutian faults.

But the blast yielded only a ground roll on the desolate, windswept island, and apparently didn't even bother 25 sea otters swimming in pens near ground zero.

AEC officials at a control center in Anchorage said two more nuclear tests were planned under the island Tundra during the test project.

"We're looking forward to finishing the project. We're hoping we will not have to return to the Aleutians," said Maj. Gen. Edward B. Giller, assistant general manager of military applications for the AEC.

Gov. Keith Miller, a Republican who supported the test, said the commission had advised him that it would be at least two years before another test would be set off on Amchitka. "It turned out about the way I expected," Miller said. "Everything looks all right. I'm pleased that it's over and there are no apparent ill effects."

Scientists said there were no visible aftershocks but that scientific instruments may register unfelt aftershocks for days or weeks. They said no radiation escaped from the 4,000-foot deep hole in which the blast was detonated, and that a building atop the hole was not damaged.

The hole was 64 inches in diameter. Another hole 6,000 feet deep and 90 inches in diameter had been drilled. A third hole 6,000 feet deep and 120 inches in diameter is being drilled.

The AEC said the first explosion was a suitability test and indicated the results were satisfactory. It has not announced a reason for the next two. Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., noted this week reports that warheads of the antiballistic missile would be tested at the site.

The Soviet government newspaper Izvestia condemned the test Thursday, saying such an explosion could set off an earthquake and tidal wave, and constituted a U.S. escalation of the arms race. The blast was 700 miles from the Soviet mainland.

Japan and Canada made formal protests and Canada said it would bill the United States for any damage.

Canadian students demonstrated against the test Wednesday at U.S.-Canada border entry points, and closed the border between British Columbia and Washington for a short time.

The AEC said the test was so successful that it planned to fly other scientific personnel and workers back to the island Friday instead of Saturday as planned.

A total of 152 scientists and other personnel on the island felt the explosion in a concrete bunker 28 miles from ground zero. The rolling shock was felt on the island of Adak, 200 miles away. But Alaskan cities of Kodiak, Anchorage and Juneau felt nothing. Amchitka is 1,400 miles southwest of Anchorage.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Food and Drug Administration says it is considering restrictions on the use of artificial sweeteners known as cyclamates, consumed by millions of Americans in diet foods and drinks.

FDA Commissioner Herbert L. Ley Jr. said Thursday he has asked the National Academy of Sciences-National Research Council to study laboratory reports the substance has caused birth defects in chickens and genetic damage in rats. They are to report in 30 days, he said.

"At that time I will decide the best method of restricting the use of cyclamates," Ley added.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The average middle-aged, overweight and underexercised congressman is a good example of what's wrong with the flabby American, says a White House nutrition expert.

"If you defined a group that most needed to be reached by a nutrition and health program it would be members of Congress," said Dr. Jean Mayer, President Nixon's consultant on nutrition and health, to a committee headed by five-foot-six 240-pound Rep. John C. Kluczynski, D-Ill.

Kluczynski's committee is charged with improving the fare in the House restaurant, but Mayer suggested its members could set an example for the rest of the country by adhering to a low-calorie, low-cholesterol diet, getting more exercise, drinking less coffee and smoking fewer cigarettes.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Convicted financier Louis E. Wolfson, whose financial connections with Abe Fortas led to the associate Supreme Court justice's resignation, has been denied parole from his one-year federal prison term.

Wolfson is serving the sentence in the Eglin, Fla., prison camp for selling unregistered stock. His bid was turned down Thursday by the U.S. Parole Board.

Disclosure that Fortas had accepted—and returned—a $20,000 check from Wolfson's family foundation set off a congressional controversy which ended in Fortas' resignation.

"Stapedial otosclerosis and Fluorine in the Drinking Water," by Dr. Hal J. Daniel III of the East Carolina University faculty, will appear in the November issue of "Archives of Otolaryngology," a publication of the American Medical Association.

Dr. Daniel has found that the incidence of medically diagnosed otosclerosis was 4.5 times more prevalent in low fluoride areas as opposed to high fluoride areas. Otosclerosis, a disease prevalent in young adults, is one of the most common of all conductive-type hearing losses.

According to Dr. Daniel, "Fluoridated water may possibly have the same effect on the ossification of the middle ear bones as it does on other human bones as well as the teeth."

Dr. Daniel is continuing his research of fluoride's effect on the middle ear structure of guinea pigs.

Pirates Look For First Win Against Bulldogs

Meet The Pirates

Wes Rothrock, left, and Paul Weathersbee are two members of this year's East Carolina University football team. Rothrock, a 6-0, 190-pound junior from Enfield, is a wrecker back. He has seen action as a starter at the position. Weathersbee, a 6-0, 200-pound senior from Norwood, is the starting middle linebacker on defense. East Carolina plays host to The Citadel Saturday at 7:30 p.m. in Ficklen Stadium.

East Carolina, The Citadel Will Celebrate Centennial During Game

The Citadel and East Carolina University tie up Saturday night at 7:30 in Ficklen Stadium to celebrate the 100th anniversary of collegiate football.

But there's a whole lot more at stake than the game's centennial trophy. For East Carolina, there is the desire to get a victory, the first of the season in three outings. For The Citadel, there is a desire to get a victory, the third of the season in three outings.

The Citadel hasn't lost, and East Carolina hasn't won, but all of that goes out the window if past history of the two teams' meetings is upheld. The game adds even more importance because it is the first Southern Conference game for both teams, and a loss almost assures the loser of no chance at the conference title.

"They have a good football team," Coach Clarence Stasavich said. "They run an offense similar to the split-T, but they call it the 'veer' and base it on the Houston option play." So far, the Bulldogs have made the veer click, and they have some impressive figures to back it up. Quarterback Tony Passander, the most valuable man in the pattern, because he decided whether to run, pass, pitchout, or handoff, depending on his reaction to the defense, has picked up 375 yards in total offense this year. He is only 19 yards away from setting a new Citadel passing career record.

Fullback Tom Sanches, who was an end when the season began, is the fourth leading rusher in the conference, with 168 yards. But he is averaging 6.0 yards per carry. Running mate Bob Duncan, a sophomore tailback, had 118 yards so far, and averages 5.9 yards per lug. Passander ranks third in the conference in passing. He has hit on 20 of 29 attempts for 317 yards and three touchdowns. Three of his attempts have been picked off, however.

His leading target is end Gene Shields, who has caught eight passes for 133 yards and a touchdown. Passander leads the conference in scoring with three touchdowns for 18 points. "Passander runs quite a bit," Stasavich said. "Because of this, and the overall veer pattern, their offense is rather difficult to defend." Stasavich admitted that the Pirates have been working on some new wrinkles to try and stop the Bulldogs.

The Citadel is not extremely big in the line, the coach pointed out. "They average maybe 205 pounds. Their defense is somewhat larger." Stasavich added that the Bulldogs do not have any really big players. "They are very aggressive, however, and have excellent speed." In the defensive secondary, there is only one veteran, but apparently the Bulldog newcomers are learning their lessons well. Against the pass, they have allowed an average of 153 yards per game, second best in the Southern. They have intercepted seven passes in two games.

"This is a vital statistic when you go to plan your pass offense," Stasavich said. "The Bucs have been unable, to date, to come up with any real passing attack, ranking last in the conference in that category." Another defensive factor to worry about is linebacker John Small, rated by many as the best in his business in the country. He has sparked Davidson to the third spot in rushing defense, allowing only 143.5 yards per game on the ground.

The Citadel also has a fine punt return game. Billy Watson, their return man, leads the nation in this. He has returned eight punts for 181 yards, an average of 22.6 per carry. The Pirates, meanwhile, still feel they have a winning team. In their first two games, they dominated play, outgaining both of their opponents, but have failed to win. The Bucs lead the conference in rushing offense, picking up 231.5 yards per game. Their total offense, however, is fourth, due to the last place finish in passing.

Defense is also good for the Pirates. They are second in total and rushing defense, and third in pass defense.

"The team feels pretty good about the game," Stasavich said. "They are looking forward to it since it is the first conference game."

The Bucs have spent a lot of time working on their passing attack this week, and Stasavich feels that there has been some improvement. "We haven't done anything dramatic, but there is improvement. If we can just open up the game a little more, I think we can score a lot more."

There are no injuries to interfere with the Buc plans, and Stasavich feels it will be a close game. "It's a matter of whether we can run against them, and stop the veer."

The starting offensive lineup for the Bucs will have Dick Corrada and Tom Pulley at the ends, John Rowe and Garland Ballard at tackles, Butch Britton and John Hollingsworth at guards, Terry Edmondson at center, Butch Colson at fullback, Billy Wightman at tailback, David Brill at blocking back and Dwight Flanagan at wing-back.

Defensively, the Bucs will start Danny Wilmer and Roger Bost at ends, Walter Adams and George Wheeler at tackles, Jim Guder at middle guard, Paul Weathersbee and Monty Kiernan at linebackers, Mike Boaz at rover, Stu Garrett and Tommy Bullock at halfbacks and George Whitley at safety.

Oh, for another one like last week. This column zeroed in on 16 winners among the 19 picked here last week. Actually, there were 20 picks, but one game turned out to be a misprint in that school's schedule, and that game isn't until this week.

And an 84.2 per cent week is one we could do with every week.

This time, however, it looks like things might be just a little harder.

Rose High School, which nearly pulled off that upset over Jacksonville, travels to Rocky Mount this week. The Rampants will be hurt by the loss of Bubba Rawl to a back injury, but the Gryphons aren't the team Jacksonville is, or was.

It still could be an exciting game, and a lot of people are saying that Rocky Mount should be the one to pick because of their momentum. (They won their last outing.) But this time, it should be the Rampants. I'll go with them.

In a top Eastern Plains game, Northern Nash plays Farmville's Red Devils. The two teams just could be battling for what proved to be the conference championship in this game. The Northern Nash team is a tough one, and this could be Farmville's toughest game. I'm going to stick with Farmville in this one, however.

Greene Central goes to Southern Wayne in another top Eastern Plains game. Both are 2-0 in the conference, and the winner will hold at least a share of first. Greene Central has been going along strong, but I'll stick with Southern Wayne.

A crippled Williamston team, after dropping its last two games, goes to Roanoke Rapids, battling another tough 3-A school. It's going to be another long weekend for the Green Wave. Roanoke Rapids is our choice.

Elm City visits Robersonville in a Tobacco Belt Conference game. The Rams came up with a big win over Bath last week to re-emerge as a conference title threat. I'll stick with the Rams to win this one.

Grifton travels to Ayden in one of the top inter-conference games around. Both came up with wins in last week's games after upsets the previous week. Grifton wants this one badly, while Ayden has a tradition to uphold. A Grifton team has never scored on them. It won't be the same this game, Grifton will score, and should win it.

Southern Seeks Outside Wins

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Southern Conference football teams are battling .500 thus far against nonconference opposition, and if they're still doing that well after this weekend's games it will be an occasion for dizzy celebration.

Of the six games scheduled Saturday afternoon and night, only one — The Citadel's visit to East Carolina — is between SC rivals. The others are outside tests, and in nearly all the SC club is the underdog.

Unbeaten Davidson is the closest thing to a favorite. The Wildcats, 2-0 and fresh from a riotous 77-14 conquest of Furman, travel to Texas to take on Trinity, 1-1, of the Southland Conference.

Expected to come in second-best are Richmond's SC champions, now 1-1, who entertain winless but rugged Virginia Tech, 0-2; William and Mary, 1-1, which is host-to Virginia, 1-1; Furman, 1-1, which tries to throw off the shock of the Davidson rout in a home meeting with Carson-Newman, 1-1; and VMI, 0-2, which plays at unbeaten, 18th-ranked West Virginia, 3-0.

The Citadel, unbeaten after two nonleague starts, will be favored to climb into a tie for first place in the SC standings by handing winless East Carolina its third straight setback, but Bulldog coach Red Parker is wary.

"East Carolina is a team ready to go 'Bang,'" says Parker. "It's hard to understand how that team has scored only once while running all over the place against the two teams it has faced. We have a big defensive job to do."

ECU's Pirates, however, figure to have a sizable defensive job of their own in stopping the Bulldogs' "Veer" offense featuring versatile Tony Passander and the league's No. 2 rusher, Tom Sanchez, who is averaging six yards a carry.

Richmond's Spiders will be meeting Virginia Tech, a bitter state rival, before what's believed to be the biggest crowd ever to see a Spider game in Richmond City Stadium — an anticipated throng of 27,000, beyond a sellout.

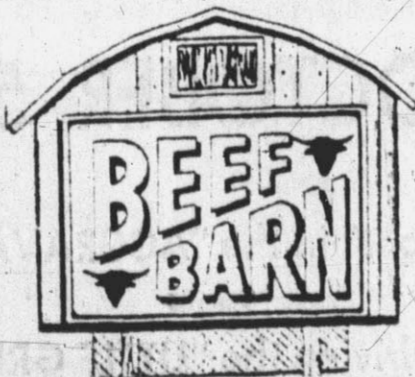

The Spiders' chances are lessened because it will be an angry Tech team they are meeting — one mad at itself and the world after dropping two close games to Alabama and Wake Forest.

Furman's chance to beat Carson-Newman, a small college toughie, depends to a large extent on how well the Paladins have recovered from that colossal loss to Davidson a week ago.

"If we don't get better at defending against passes, I'm going to ask the commissioner for permission to use butterfly nets," says Furman coach Bob King.

Stars Tame Cougars, 117-96 Before 6,000

By WOODY PEELE
Reflector Sports Editor

The Carolina Cougars were given a rousing welcome by Eastern North Carolina last night in Minges Coliseum, but the first major league professional team in the state didn't quite return the favor.

The Cougars fell behind in the opening seconds of play, and trailed all the way, as the Los Angeles Stars took a 117-96 victory. It was the first loss of the exhibition season for the Cougars, who bopped the Stars on Wednesday night in the opener for the two teams.

Cougar President Jim Gardner summed it up. "Wednesday, we ran and went to the boards. We did everything right. Tonight, we just didn't do it, and the Stars did. I'm sorry we couldn't have given the folks here a better showing."

If the game wasn't an artistic success by the Cougars, it was a smashing success at the gate and in the eyes of most of the fans, despite the score. A capacity crowd jammed into Minges Coliseum, where over 6,000 screamed their pleasure when former North Carolina greats such as Larry Miller of the Stars, and Doug Moe, Bill Bunting and Bob Verga of the Cougars were introduced.

Moe and Verga responded with fine games, but Bunting, playing closer to home than he ever has in the past five years, and Miller, were disappointing. Moe and Verga each popped in 24 points in their vain effort to pull the Cougars through. Miller didn't start for the Stars, and played only briefly. Bunting, a native of New Bern, didn't have a good night, scoring only two points after a 12-point output in the opener.

The Jaycees, who sponsored the event were also happy with the turnout, and the enthusiasm shown by the fans, Jack Wall, state chairman for the sponsorship of the game, felt that the heavy rains which fell in the area before and during the game cut the turnout somewhat. "But maybe it's a good thing," he said. "We'd have had to turn people away then."

The crowd contrasted with pro basketball's first venture into Minges. Last year, a game between the Baltimore Bullets and the Atlanta Hawks, two of the top teams in the National Basketball Association, drew only about 500 people.

The game was decided mostly on the boards, which the Stars controlled. With Wayne Hightower (6-9) and Warren Davis (6-7), and an A&T graduate leading the way, the Stars pulled down 70 rebounds, while the Cougars could get but 59. Both Hightower and Davis had 14 rebounds.

Willie Wise added eight, while the leading Cougar rebounder, 6-7 Hank Whitley and Moe each had nine.

Hightower pushed the Stars into the lead at the start at 2-0, and Bob Warren hit on a basket and a free throw to push the margin out to 5-0. Moe finally connected for the Cougars with a free throw, but the Stars wouldn't let them ever catch up.

Throughout the first period, the score remained close. The Stars at one point built up to a 10-point lead, but the Cougars clawed back and cut the margin to as little as two, and trailed 33-30 at the end of the first period.

Both teams fell off in their performance in the second period, as the Cougars again pushed hard to gain the lead, but never again came closer than two. Late in the period, the Stars began to pull away and built their lead up to 59-47 by halftime.

The margin didn't get much more than that the rest of the way, thanks to the shooting of Verga and Moe, who pulled the Cougars back to within six, but the board play was the difference. He quarter finally ended with the Stars holding a 88-78 lead.

Midway through the final period, the Stars began to pull away, taking advantage of catch-up mistakes the Cougars made, and that turned it into the rout it became.

Besides the two 24-point efforts by Moe and Verga, Hank Whitley had 14 points for the Cougars.

For the Stars, Mack Calvin led the way with 21 points, while Bob Warren and Davis had 20 each. Hightower had 19, Merv Jackson had 14, and Willie Wise had 12.

The Cougar officials were quite impressed by the crowd, which outdrew the opening night attendance in Winston-Salem. "It was really a welcome," Gardner said. "We'll certainly be back this way."

Come Back Here, Ball

Doug Moe of the Carolina Cougars reaches for a loose ball in last night's exhibition game in Minges Coliseum against the Los Angeles Stars. At right are Willie Wise of the Stars (42) and Bob Verga of the Cougars (11). Moe and Verga each pumped in 24 points for the Cougars, but the Stars pulled out a 117-96 victory in the contest. A crowd of over 6,000 watched the contest. (Reflector Photo)

Centennial Celebration Set

Coach Clarence Stasavich of East Carolina University and Miss Susan Walton, Miss ECU Football, herald the start of a week-end in which the Pirates will celebrate the 100th anniversary of Collegiate Football. Miss Walton admires the participation medallion, while Coach Stasavich shows off the participation certificate each member of the East Carolina and The Citadel football team will receive. A trophy will be presented to the winning school, in addition to the individual awards. The game will be played Saturday night at 7:30 p.m. in Ficklen Stadium.

Rose Takes NL Batting Title

Atlanta (AP) — Cincinnati's Pete Rose won the National League batting championship for the second straight year Thursday night with a bunt single against Atlanta he called "the biggest hit I ever got—not the longest, the biggest."

The tap down the third base line came with two out and runners at first and second in the eighth inning after Rose had gone 0-for-3 while his closest contender, Roberto Clemente of Pittsburgh, was 3 for 3.

At that point, Clemente had climbed to within .0008 of Rose, who finished with an unofficial .348. Clemente went out fourth trip against Montreal and ended the year with an unofficial .345 average.

Saturday night, the action focuses on the East Carolina-Citadel game. This is a very important contest for East Carolina. It is their first conference game. They feel that a win would boost their chances for the title, despite the poor start they got off to.

The Citadel, always tough against the Pirates, spoiled things for them two years ago, and the Bucs returned the favor last year. It could be quite close, but I'll have to pick The Citadel to win it.

Other Southern Conference games should find Davidson losing to Trinity, Carson-Newman stopping Furman, Richmond nipping Virginia Tech, West Virginia taking VMI, and Virginia beating William & Mary.

In the Atlantic Coast Conference, I'll choose Clemson over Georgia Tech, Duke over Pitt, Georgia over South Carolina, Wake Forest over Maryland, Vanderbilt over North Carolina, and N. C. State over Miami.

Rounding out the week's action, it'll be Bowling Green over Western Michigan, and California over Rice.

Season's record: 42 right, 15 wrong, 73.7 per cent.

Sees Pneumatic Tubes For Trash
 NEW YORK (UPI)—The garbage truck as we know it may be heaved for the scrap heap.
 The ultimate solution to the nation's mounting refuse problem will include removal of trash and garbage from the home by pipelines or pneumatic tubes, according to John H. Abrahams Jr., manager of environmental pollution control programs for the Glass Container Manufacturers Institute.
 He said studies at Philadelphia and the University of Pennsylvania have proved that refuse can be removed pneumatically from the home and ground up and piped as a slurry to a central collection point.

Haynsworth Denies He Requested Withdrawal

By OARRY SCHWEID
 Associated Press Writer
 WASHINGTON (AP) — Judge Clement F. Haynsworth today denied reports by congressional sources that he had sought to have his nomination to the Supreme Court withdrawn.
 "I did not think about such a thing," Haynsworth told a reporter who asked whether he had asked President Nixon to call back the appointment. "I don't know where you all got such a thing. Somebody else dreamed the thing up."
 When then asked whether he anticipated asking that the nomination be withdrawn, Haynsworth replied: "I have not and I don't."
 Despite Haynsworth's denial, and one from the White House, the congressional sources who disclosed the original reports to the Associated Press Thursday remained firm today.
 The sources said the White House had concluded after an informal headcount that at least 40 of the 100 senators were prepared to vote against confirmation of the 56-year-old U.S. appeals court judge.
 One midwestern senator was reported to have told his staff hours before the reports were published Thursday that Haynsworth was asking that his name be withdrawn and that a statement from the White House be imminent.
 But afterward and following a talk with Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell, White House Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said the latest information "indicates that this report is absolutely untrue."
 Two of Haynsworth's strongest backers in the Senate took a similar tack. Sen. Ernest F. Hol-ings, D.S.C., the initial sponsor of the nomination, called the withdrawal report ridiculous.

 And Sen. James O. Eastland, D-Miss., the chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee, said after talking with Haynsworth: "The man's had no idea of coming down. He has had no idea of doing such a thing. He's never had such an idea."
 Haynsworth had called at the Justice Department to confer with Mitchell earlier in the day. A department spokesman said there would be no comment on the conversation.
 Still, the congressional sources said Haynsworth had been seeking withdrawal of his nomination to succeed Abe Fortas on the high court.
 The nomination is in the hands of the Judiciary Committee, which completed seven days of hearings last Friday.
 Further action in the committee has been delayed until next Wednesday at the earliest.
 Withdrawal of the nomination would spare several Republican senators a painful dilemma.
 If they had to cast a vote on the Senate floor and it was for Haynsworth they could chance resentment among labor, liberal and Negro groups that oppose the nomination.

 If they voted against the nominee they would be bucking the White House and its Republican occupant.
 Opposition to Haynsworth appears to be growing within the Senate.
 Republican Charles E. Goodell of New York and Democrat Walter Mondale of Minnesota called on President Nixon Thursday to withdraw the nomination.
 Sen. Thomas F. Eagleton, D-Mo., announced he would vote against Haynsworth. And in Chicago, Sen. Ralph Smith, R-Ill., the newest member of the Senate, told a news conference he does not support the nomination because justices "should be above reproach and above suspicion of reproach."
 Besides criticism about Haynsworth's record as a judge on the U.S. Court of Appeals concerning labor and civil rights, he has also been accused of possible conflicts of interest while on the federal bench.
 Sen. Charles McC. Mathias, R-Md., told a reporter: "A close conclusion."

 Judge Haynsworth personally, for the Supreme Court and the administration and I don't think you could draw any other conclusion."
 Mathias, a member of the Judiciary Committee, has not committed himself publicly on the nomination.

"What's in the cup, Granddad?"

Not many bother to answer the countless questions he loves to ask. But usually he can count on Granddad.
 "What was in the Cup at church this morning?" It's a question many people ask — people sincerely wanting to know its significance... people who like to argue. (Is it wine or grape juice?) Theists... theologians... people older and wiser than a little boy.
 "Why can't I drink the Cup, like you and all the others, Granddad?"
 "You're a little young, Sonny. It's one of the important things in life... a privilege... a part of growing up!"
 "What does it mean, Granddad?"
 "It means remembering... remembering what God gave us — what Christ did for us — what the Church is to us. It means being truly sorry that we have failed to do our very best."
 "I don't understand, Granddad."
 "But you will. That's why we all go to church... to learn... to understand... to remember... to love our Lord."
 "Maybe I do understand, Granddad, about the Cup — 'cause I already love the Lord."

Record Rate Of New Car Sales

DETROIT (AP) — Americans, though growing cautious in their purchase of nonessentials, bought new cars at a record rate in September.
 All four American automakers announced records of one sort or another.
 Even American Motors, which often discloses sales figures only when asked, volunteered that September sales were 21,121, "the highest for that month in five years."
 Sales during the month were spurred by introduction of the 1970 models and bargains on remaining stocks of 1969s. Industry sales for September totaled 709,388 cars, compared with the previous record of 601,375 in 1968.
 Sales for the first three quarters were 6,303,636, second only to 1965 when the industry registered 6,397,199 new car sales through September.
 Last year through nine months the automakers sold 6,275,829 cars.
 The University of Michigan's Survey Research Center reports that consumer willingness to spend lessened sharply in the third quarter, but that this apparently did not extend to cars.
 "Expressed intentions to buy continue to be relatively frequent, especially for used cars," the center's report stated.
 With a strong finish—the industry could top the record 1965 domestic sales figure of 8.7 million cars.

Lions Endorse Special Week

In observance of National Employ the Physically Handicapped Week, Oct. 5-11, the Greenville Lions Club has announced its endorsement of the week, urging employees to "do all you can to help the handicapped help themselves."
 The purpose of the week is "to create awareness of the employing public's responsibility to assist the vocationally rehabilitated handicapped citizen to become self-supporting through opportunity for work," the endorsement reads.

Lady Marines Get New Styles

CAMP PENDLETON, Calif. (AP) — A snappier outlook is in store for lady Marines.
 Col. Jeanette I. Sustad, director of Women Marines, said Wednesday three New York designers are working on new outfits for the girls.
 "We are looking for something more modern to wear," she said. "The uniforms we are now wearing were designed in 1950."
 In training, Marine women are getting a grooming course which shows them how to apply makeup and style their hair, Col. Sustad said.

Stock And Market Reports

RALEIGH (AP)—(NCDA)—North Carolina egg markets steady to slightly stronger Thursday, supplies adequate demand fair. Prices paid producers and handlers for consumer grade eggs in cartons delivered nearby outlets:
Grade A large whites: 51½-52; medium, whites: 48½-49½; small, whites: 36½.

RALEIGH (AP)—(NCDA)—The North Carolina hog market today was mostly steady to 25 cents lower. Tops of 25.75-26.25 at Wilson; 25.50-26.00 at Rocky Mount; 25.00-25.50 at Siler City and Denton; and 24.50-25.50 at Tarboro.

RALEIGH (AP)—(NCDA)—The North Carolina poultry market today was one cent lower. Prices at farms are mostly 12½.

Rain and more rain is the general report from Pitt County grain buying stations this morning. Conditions before yesterday's participation were already bad for harvesting and the heavy rains received have completely halted marketing activity.

Only one market reports a change in corn prices and that change occurred yesterday afternoon after this release went to press. Other buyers report a hold of their grain prices and a marketing standstill. The 11 a. m. price quotes follow:
Greenville: yellow corn, $1.15 wheat, $1.12; oats, $.62 — all holding.

Ayden: yellow corn, $1.16 up slightly.
Winterville: yellow corn, $1.15 — holding.
Farmville: not available.
Bethel: yellow corn, $1.15 — holding.

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market continued this afternoon to ride the waves of a rally spawned late Thursday, as advances outstripped declines by nearly 500 issues.
The Dow Jones industrial average appeared to sputter at noon, however, reaching 813.82, up 1.98, after having been ahead more than 3 points in moderate trading earlier.

Analysts still see the market climb as somewhat technical in nature, after six straight days of decline that led to an over-sold condition.

"It would be nice now if we could get some positive economic news to keep it going," observed a broker.

The Associated Press 60-stock average at noon was up .4 at 284.8 with industrials up .6, rails off .1, and utilities up .7. Steels, aircrafts, electronics, utilities, metals, chemicals, glamors, oils, airlines and drugs were issues moving to higher ground in midday trading. Motors and rails were mixed, while rubber issues were mostly off.

Twelve of the New York Stock Exchange's 20 most-active issues were head, 7 were behind, and 1 was unchanged. Pennzoil United topped the active list at 30%, off ½, on 162,500 shares. Airlines were among the big gainers, after a statement by Secor D. Browne, President Nixon's nominee for Civil Aeronautics Board Chairman, that more air-fare boosts may be in order.

Among airline issues, United Airlines was up 1¼ to 29¾, American Airlines up 1½ at 33, and Pan American ahead ½ at 14¾.

Chrysler was off ¼ at 36½, after a report that retrenchment was being stepped up through new budget cuts and a reduction of employees.

Eleven of the American Stock Exchange's 20 most-active issues were ahead in midday trading, while 5 were down, and 4 unchanged.

Dollar Declines As Marks Rise

FRANKFORT, Germany (AP) — The West German mark rose to new highs in relation to the U.S. dollar here today, and a newspaper quoted the president of the Central Bank as saying he considered a 6.5 per cent revaluation of the mark would be reasonable.

An open market price of 3.7650 marks to the dollar was quoted. It was the fourth successive day that the mark's value has increased after a government decision to let the price float as a way to stop speculation.

Bundesbank President Karl Blessing was interviewed by the Munich newspaper Sueddeutsche Zeitung in Washington, where he is attending the International Monetary Fund meeting. Asked if he would favor an 8 per cent mark revaluation, Blessing was quoted as replying: "Eight per cent appears to me to be the extreme maximum. At that we'd enter a risky zone. More reasonable appears to me a revaluation rate of 6.5 per cent."

Blessing indicated that there is a bottom under which the dollar won't be allowed to drop against the mark.

Pitt Projects Included In New Road Contract

The State Highway Commission Thursday awarded a contract to Barrus Construction Co., Kinston, for resurfacing 43.60 miles of secondary roads in Pitt, Lenoir, Carteret, Craven, Beaufort, Greene and Jones Counties.

Barrus Construction Company submitted a bid of $232,356.30 for the project, which includes resurfacing 20 sections of roads in the seven counties.

Projects for Pitt included in the bid are:
—Resurfacing 4 mile of Church St in Farmville from the west city limits eastward to U.S. 264;
—Resurfacing secondary road 1400 from N.C. 43 to secondary road 1001;

—Resurfacing secondary road 1133 from east city limits of Winterville to secondary road 1700;

—Resurfacing secondary road 1226 from U.S. 264A to west city limits of Farmville;

—Resurfacing secondary road 1533 to U.S. 264 northeast to dead end;

—Resurfacing portions of the Forts Hills subdivision, Grifton, including secondary roads 1100, 1101 and 1146;

—Bituminous concrete resurfacing on U.S. 264A from U.S. 264 eastward to west city limits of Farmville.

Also included in the bidding was the bituminous concrete surfacing of a section of road from the Wilson-Greene counties line to the Greene-Pitt counties line.

Arrest 34 For Demonstrating

BEAUFORT, N. C. (AP) — Thirty-four Negroes were arrested Thursday night following a demonstration in support of strikers at the Atlantic Veneer Co. in Beaufort.

The demonstrators were charged under state statutes enacted this year which govern gatherings in excess of three persons, demonstrations at gatherings and disorderly conduct. They were released on bond.

Groups of Negroes gathered around the county courthouse about 10 p. m. Law officers warned the demonstrators to disperse, and when they refused, Sheriff Ralph Thomas and his deputies arrested them. All of those arrested were from Carteret County, the sheriff said.

About 110 workers are on strike at Atlantic Veneer for higher pay and more fringe benefits.

Golden Anniversary Is Marked By Federation

Bill Little, commodity chairman with the North Carolina Farm Bureau Federation, spoke to approximately 80 farmers and their wives on the highlights of the federation during the past 50 years at the Farm Bureau's Ladies Night Banquet held last night at the Moose Lodge.

The occasion marked the golden anniversary of the national organization, founded in November of 1919. Little said that in 1920, a total of 15 million persons were engaged in farming. Today, he added, only five million are actively farming.

In comparing production of 50 years ago with that of today, Little told farmers that in 1919, one farmer produced food enough for eight people. Today, he said, one man grows food for 45 people.

Little contended that the Farm Bureau Federation has been "the eyes and ears of American agriculture for the past 50 years." The marketing of farm products will be the chief concern of the federation in the future, he promised.

Serving as master of ceremonies last night was J.C. Galloway, president of the Pitt County Farm Bureau. Special recognition was paid by Chester Don Worthington Jr. to the Pitt County Young Farmer of the Year, Wayne K. Stokes.

Police Officers Will Wear Flag

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. (AP) — Police officers in Tuscaloosa have been instructed to replace the Confederate flag on their uniform sleeves with an American flag.

In issuing the directive Wednesday, Chief W. M. Marble said there is "all too often a tendency toward being timid or apologetic about waving the Stars and Stripes. Police should never be."

Each uniformed officer was issued a 2-by-3-inch flag to sew on his sleeve.

The human body is made up of 206 bones.
