Letters Received By Abby Arrive Unopened

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
 DEAR ABBY: This is a VERY small town, and everybody I know reads DEAR ABBY. Now, here is something I have to know. Are all the letters people write to you delivered to you UNOPENED? This is important because I have a problem I would just love to write you about, but I have heard that our postmaster opens all the letters addressed to DEAR ABBY and he has the best time reading them.
 I am a married woman and my problem concerns a married man in this town and I am sure if I wrote the facts, the postmaster would know who he was, and I sure don't want that!
 Please answer in your column. If a letter came to me from DEAR ABBY, he'd open it for sure. I am taking this to another town to be mailed because I don't want to take any chances.
 CAREFUL
 DEAR CAREFUL: ALL my mail comes to me UNOPENED. Opening mail addressed to another is a federal offense. Your postmaster knows this, and he of all people would not want to be found guilty.

DEAR ABBY: About three months ago I met a very pretty Christian girl. She's 29 years old and still unmarried. I am 33 and divorced my wife 3 years ago when she ran out on me. Well, I informed this lovely Christian girl of my past, explaining to her that I had accepted Jesus Christ as my personal Savior three years ago, but prior to that time I could have said with the Apostle Paul that I was the "Chief Sinner."
 I asked her to marry me and she said she would think it over.
 The next day she handed me a piece of paper that looked like an application for a job with the FBI. She requested that I fill it out right then and there with a carbon copy, too! There were questions like, "Where have you been employed the past 10 years? Have you ever been fired? If so, state reasons. Where did you obtain your divorce? Have you ever had any communicable diseases? Do you have a police record? Do you owe any money?" I felt like telling her to take her piece of paper and get lost, but instead I filled it out and signed it because I really cared for her. Now I feel like a fool. What is your opinion of this girl?

 CARY
 DEAR CARY: One thing for certain, she is not stupid. Perhaps she was frightened by your confession of having been the "Chief Sinner" and wanted to know precisely what that involved.
 DEAR ABBY: I am 23 years old and will be married very soon. I have had dentures for nearly four years and not even my closest friends suspect. My problem: Should I tell my fiancée before we are married? Or should I wait until after? Or do you think it would be all right if I just didn't offer this information at all? I am absolutely positive that he doesn't know.
 UNDECIDED
 DEAR UNDECIDED: This is a decision which YOU must make for yourself. But since it's highly likely that he will learn the truth, eventually, he'll probably think you're more "real" if you tell him now that your teeth aren't.
 CONFIDENTIAL TO SWINGING GRANDPA IN LA JOLLA: Save your money. Fun is like insurance. The older you get, the more it costs you.
 What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

Six Are Charged For 'Incidents' During Parade

Six persons have been charged in connection with two incidents that occurred during Saturday's East Carolina University homecoming parade.

Five Negroes, identified as students or former students at ECU, were charged with assault, while one white, Aldine Blackman Jr., 19, also an ECU student, was arrested on disorderly conduct and carrying a concealed weapon charges.

Warrants charging Roosevelt Morton, William Owens, Johnny Williams, Kenneth Galloway and Luther Moore—all Negro—with assault were signed by ECU student Tommy Stephenson.

Stephenson said the five jumped him as he rode a minibike in the parade past the intersection of Fifth and Reade Streets about 10:45 a.m. He said he was knocked off the bike and alleged that a confederate flag he carried was taken from him by the five.

Four of the five—all but Owens—were arrested Sunday by Greenville police.

Blackman was charged, officers reported, after he allegedly threw eggs at Shelby Allen of Grifton during the parade.

That incident occurred about 10:30 a.m. near the intersection of Third and Cotanche Streets. Neither Blackman nor Allen was participating in the parade.

CREATIVE WINDOWS

Windows, ingeniously treated, can do everything in the world for a room. They create privacy, temper sunlight, air and sound, frame a lovely view and mask a tiresome one. They can also improve a room's proportions, help provide architectural interest—and, if need be, conceal such hangers-on as unsightly radiators and old-fashioned fire escapes. No matter what the shape of the window or its location, all these tricks can be turned in more and prettier ways than ever with exciting new materials and a variety of interesting hardware.

Select exciting new materials and let us custom draperies for your home. This is a sure-fire way of creating new interest where you want it most. Tommie Willis Interiors, 425 Greenville Blvd., Greenville, 756-1336.

Goren on BRIDGE

(1969: by The Chicago Tribune)

ANSWERS TO BRIDGE QUIZ

Q. 1—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠Q103 ♥54 ♦A10942 ♣854

The bidding has proceeded:

North East South West
1 ♠ Pass 2 ♠ Pass

2 NT Pass 3 ♥ Pass

3 NT Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—Three spades. An effort should be made to reach game, and a mere return to two spades or a call of three diamonds will sound forced to partner, and he may be reluctant to take further action. A jump bid cannot be considered drastic in light of your failure to bid freely on the previous round.

Q. 2—As South, vulnerable, you hold:

♠Q107 ♥QJ9874 ♦5 ♣532

The bidding has proceeded:

North East South West
1 ♠ Pass 1 ♥ Pass

2 NT Pass 3 ♥ Pass

3 NT Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—Hearts, it must be with this hand, and you must, therefore, dutifully continue to four. This does not show any additional values, for you bid each time at the lowest level that it was possible for you to do so.

Q. 3—As South, vulnerable, you hold:

♠K753 ♥AQ8 ♦AK82 ♣8

The bidding has proceeded:

North East South West
1 ♠ Pass 3 ♠ Pass

3 ♥ Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—We would be willing to assume at this time that your major suits were solid and consequently are concerned primarily with the number of aces. We would, therefore, bid four no trump (Blackwood) and, if partner showed two aces, we would risk a grand slam in spades.

Q. 4—As South, vulnerable, you hold:

♠A2 ♥K9 ♦K9532 ♣8543

The bidding has proceeded:

North East South West
1 ♠ 1 ♠ 2 ♠ 2 ♠

3 ♠ Pass 3 NT Pass

4 ♠ Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—You had a very sound raise to start with, we recommend a mere return to five clubs. The bidding has made it clear that your ace of spades is not as impressive a card as you thought it would be from the beginning, inasmuch as it duplicates partner's void.

Q. 5—Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠K6 ♥AQ763 ♦AQ73 ♣96

The bidding has proceeded:

South West North East
1 ♥ Pass 1 ♠ Pass

2 ♠ Pass 2 ♠ Pass

3 ♥ Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—You have more values than you have previously shown and, since partner has rebid spades, you have normal support for that suit. One more try is recommended in the form of a raise to three spades.

Q. 6—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠AJ95 ♥K5 ♦9852 ♣AQJ

What is your opening bid?

A.—This hand is just a shade light for an opening bid of one no trump, and it might be found convenient to open it with one club. The objection to bidding a spade is that a somewhat awkward rebid situation develops if partner responds with two hearts.

Q. 7—As South, vulnerable, you hold:

♠82 ♥J ♦AJ6 ♣AK8542

The bidding has proceeded:

North East South West
1 ♠ Pass 2 ♠ Pass

2 ♥ Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—No very convenient rebid is available at the moment. A mere return to two spades could not be considered on grounds of inadequacy. A jump to three spades is certainly not to be entertained with such a meager trump holding. We would temporarily with a bid of three diamonds. If partner proceeds to three no trump, we relax. If he rebids hearts, we return to three spades. If he rebids spades, we take him to four.

Q. 8—As dealer you hold:

♠85 ♥AQ103 ♦AQ542 ♣3

What is your opening bid?

A.—The better strategic call is one heart rather than one diamond. If you open with one diamond and partner responds two clubs, your hand is not quite strong enough for the reverse bid of two hearts. Therefore, it is better to treat those suits as tho they were the same length so that a convenient rebid is provided over partner's expected response.

American Policy Factions Launch An Active Week Of Demonstrating

By BOB MONROE
Associated Press Writer

Supporters and opponents of President Nixon's Vietnam policy hold new demonstrations this week in the continuing controversy over the nation's involvement in the war.

A week of activities by groups backing the President will be highlighted by Veterans Day ceremonies Tuesday in Washington. The focus returns to the nation's capital Saturday when critics plan a massive antiwar march on the rally.

As signs of support through the week for Nixon's Vietnam policies, administration backers called for participation in parades, burning of car headlights, waving flags and the wearing of buttons that say "I Love America."

"Tell It To Hanoi," "Operation Speakout," "Freedom Rally," "Honor America Week" and "National Confidence Week" are among the titles given the pro-administration demonstrations.

Activities by supporters and critics began early. A Veterans Day parade was held Saturday in Midland Park, N.J., a town of 8,000 that has lost eight sons in Vietnam. Police estimated there were 8,000 marchers and 25,000 spectators.

Sponsors of the parade said they wanted to dramatize their support of the President's policies and opposition to antiwar demonstrators.

In Houston, Tex., a "march for peace" covered 36 blocks Sunday. Police estimated there were 900 marchers and put the total attendance at a rally afterward at 1,900.

About 75 of the demonstrators identified themselves as soldiers from Ft. Hood, Tex. Dr. Howard Levy, a former Army physician who was court-martialed for refusing to train Green Beret medics, told the rally, "Mr. Nixon shouldn't worry about being the first president to lose a war—but should be worried about being the first president to lose the Army."

Prayers were offered in many churches throughout the nation Sunday for the estimated 1,300 American servicemen missing or held captive in Southeast Asia.

President Nixon had declared the day a National Day of Prayer and Concern. He did not attend church services in Key Biscayne, Fla., to join publicly in the observance.

A spokesman for the Washington Cathedral said services there were conducted as usual with "nothing" to commemorate the National Day of Prayer. In Newport News, Va., a prayer program at Todd Stadium drew crowds despite rain.

Today negotiations continue for the route to be followed by the antiwar demonstrators in Washington amid government warnings of violence and assurances from protesters that they plan only peaceful dissent.

Bryce Harlow, counselor to the President, repeated Sunday the government's contention "that there is an active possibility of violence."

Protest planners denied the predictions of violence. Dr. Benjamin Spock accused the administration of trying to frighten away demonstrators.

"It's perfectly clear that the talk of violence is all coming from the government," Spock said. "The government is trying in every way to intimidate people who are coming to protest against the war. President Nixon is desperately trying to make it appear the American people are behind him when in fact they are not."

The week's first demonstrations in Washington will come from the pro-administration side with two major events on Veterans Day.

Chief Justice Warren E. Burger, gospel singer Mahalia Jackson and Medal of Honor winner Rodolfo C. Hernandez will headline the official program Tuesday in Arlington National Cemetery.

This will be followed by a rally at Washington Monument being sponsored by the American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars. The rally is designed to provide those persons the President called the "silent majority" a chance to show their opposition to the war critics.

At 6 p.m. Thursday, antiwar group plan to begin a 36-hour "March Against Death" from Arlington National Cemetery to the Capitol with each of the expected 45,000 participants representing an American killed in Vietnam or a Vietnamese village destroyed in the war.

Friday a Youth International Party (Yippie) group will march with Spock to the Justice Department to present petitions demanding an end to the Chicago trial of seven persons on conspiracy charges in connection with disorders at the time of the 1968 Democratic National Convention.

The country urging people to "light the light for America during the week of Nov. 10-17" by keeping porch lights on 24 hours

The route of that march has been a matter of dispute with the organizers seeking a permit to go down Pennsylvania Avenue past the White House. The Justice Department turned down the request.

The protesters have agreed to settle for a route down Constitution Avenue but government officials say they can't come any closer to the White House than a distant view from the south side.

After the parade, a last major rally will be held on the Washington Monument grounds in sight of the White House. It will feature speeches by Mrs. Martin Luther King Jr. and Dr. George Wald, Nobel Prize winning Harvard biologist.

Entertainment will include performances by cast members of the musical "Hair" drawn from three national companies, comedian Dick Gregory and folk singers Arlo Guthrie, Pete Seeger, and Peter, Paul and Mary.

Pro-administration activities that will take place through the week include "Operation Speakout," sponsored by the Veterans of Foreign Wars. It calls on all citizens to join "in a civic or patriotic program in their communities."

The National Committee for Responsible Patriotism, based in New York, has distributed lapel buttons and bumper stickers reading "Honor America Week." It also urges burning car headlights.

One of the first pro-U.S. policy demonstrations to be organized was "National Confidence Week," conceived by Mrs. Barbara Crane, a 44-year-old housewife in Clinton, N.Y.

Displeased at last month's Moratorium Day antiwar demonstrations, she and her husband and their 18-year-old daughter sent letters across a day, by driving with head lights on and by wearing a sign reading "I Love America."

The Committee for a Week of National Unity, based in Washington, claims comedian Bob Hope as its chairman. Sunday it issued a statement over Hope's name inviting Congress members, governors and more than 500 mayors to join as co-chairmen in observances this week.

The committee said thousands of events are planned for the week with activities beginning today in Charleston, W.Va., Redlands, Calif., and Miami Beach, Fla.

The first Monday in September was designated as Labor Day in an Act of Congress in 1948.

The man grunted but refused to take his eyes off his TV set.

"Sir, don't you have any opinion on the efforts of the President to bring about peace with honor to the most troubled spot in all of Southeast Asia?"

A commercial came on and the man turned slowly to me. "Get the hell out of here."

I skipped two houses and then rang the bell. A man came to the door and smiled.

"Sir, are you one of the great majority of silent Americans to whom President Nixon addressed his remarks last Monday?" I asked.

"Well," he said, "if you ask me—" Suddenly his wife appeared at the door.

"Who is it? What does he want?" she asked.

"Fellow wants to talk to me about President Nixon's speech."

"Hah, that's the biggest joke of the year. When they start asking you what you think, the you know the country's in trouble," his wife shouted.

"But," the husband said, "I believe that—"

"Bowling!" his wife said to me. "Ask him about bowling. That's the only thing he knows anything about. The furnace is on the fritz, but that doesn't stop him from going out to bowl, while the rest of us catch pneumonia. Mister, you got the wrong house."

I decided to try one more house. I rang the bell, and there was no answer. I rang again. Still no answer. Then I saw a man jump out the back window in his underwear and run down the alley. I chased him. "Sir, could I speak to you a moment?"

"Don't kill me," he begged. "She told me she wasn't married."

"It's about Prsident Nixon and his silent majority."

"Believe," he said. "I'm not a guy who talks."

Union Carrying Protest To AEC

WILMINGTON, N. C. (AP)—Wilbur Hobby, president of the North Carolina AFL-CIO, says he plans to ask the Atomic Energy Commission to reject a Carolina Power and Light Co., application to build a nuclear power plant near Southport.

His threat is part of organized labor's campaign against CP&L for its decision to hire a Texas company to build power plants in North Carolina.

(Continued From Page 4) Virginia, though more sophisticated, are not much less severe. As we reported earlier from Virginia, moderate William Battle seemed to have patched up the ramshackle old Democratic coalition in his campaign for Governor. Election returns, however, showed Battle had made peace with the old Byrd machine on the right but not the followers of state Sen. Henry Howell on the left.

In the campaign's closing days, liberal pleas for a symbolic piece of the party action in the form of a state party vice-chairmanship were vetoed by the Byrd machine's guardians: Gov. Mills Godwin and State Chairman Watkins Abbott. Howell, who ran Battle a close race for the nomination, was not even seated at the head table at the $100-a-plate luncheon in Richmond, Oct. 27. Subsequently, Battle's upset loss to Republican Linwood Holton was fueled by liberal defections in the Tidewater and

What is Cordovan leather — and why so expensive?

Cordovan leather is a special horsehide first tanned by the Moors in Cordovan, Spain — hence its name. Some fine leathers are still imported from Spain and North Africa.

The high priced Cordovan is Shell Cordovan. This is a muscle or gristle-like layer — shell that is found at the hind quarters of a horse between the hide and the flesh. It is not found in steers or calves. Properly tanned, it is mirror-like in finish and very tough. It is used almost entirely for fine men's dress shoes.

Defiant Rhodesia Still Prospers

By ERIK VANEES
SALISBURY, Rhodesia (UPI)—It is four years this Tuesday since Rhodesia emulated the American colonies and made a unilateral declaration of independence from Britain.

If most of the rest of the world had its way, Rhodesia would be legally independent under the name of Zimbabwe and ruled by its African majority.

Instead, four years after Rhodesia remains firmly under the rule of a white minority government regarded as illegal by Britain and the United Nations, and is defiantly and apparently successfully making its way in the face of world economic sanctions. U.N. Sanctions The U.N. sanctions voted by the Security Council in May, 1968, while posing many difficult problems, have not to date bitten very hard and circumventing them has become a national preoccupation as well as a challenge.

For one thing the government allocates foreign exchange quotas to business and industry, foreign exchange being one of the hardest things to come by in the present situation. And getting foreign exchange for business requirements is part of the game of circumventing a Salisbury businessman explained the approach: "When I sell my goods overseas I'm doing something illegal. When I buy overseas I break the law. If I don't get the foreign exchange I need to buy the goods I need to carry on my business here, then I have to make a plan, don't I?"

Most Rhodesians doing business have "made a plan" one way or another. Their success may be deceptive, but superficially they seem to be thriving.

Clean Capital This Autumn Salisbury is a flower-filled, clean-looking capital city of 390,000 persons—97,700 whites and the rest African, Asians or people of mixed blood known here as "coloreds."

Purple jacaranda trees line the streets, littering the pavements with a fragrant carpet of flowers which pop and slither underfoot. Traffic islands in the center of the wide roads sprout shade-giving palm trees, yellow mimosa and pink roses. In the pre-rainy season heat the girls are mini-skirted as anywhere, the men in tropicals and shirt sleeves.

If the look of economic well-being is a puzzle, the puzzle extends to the experts. Prof. Paul Harris, head of the department of political science at the University College of Rhodesia, voiced the puzzle when he said:

"The Rhodesian economy is the graveyard of the prediction of economists. Rhodesia is the questionmark of southern Africa. There are so many imponderables ahead for the country it is not possible to speculate for more than a few years ahead."

If an observer digs too deeply or asks too many questions on how the economy functions, he courts trouble. Legislation passed in September cracked down on economic "spying." Fines of up to 1,000 pounds ($2,800) or two years imprisonment can be imposed on anyone found guilty of divulging information which might help the implementation of sanctions, or anyone who reveals how sanctions are bypassed.

With Christmas nearing, stores are full, money seems plentiful. Gasoline, though still rationed, is in such generous supply the government plans to do something about air pollution from car exhausts. Visitors are surprised to see the many new foreign cars on the roads.

Ask an owner how he got his and the answer is apt to be a laugh or a smile, without comment. Parts, however, are a problem—almost impossible to obtain.

Politically, the impasse with Britain—which demands majority, meaning African, rule before it will grant independence—shows no sign of imminent solution. This year the government of Premier Ian Smith moved further along the road. Decisions were made for the country to become a republic sometime in 1970 for a new constitution, and for 1970 elections on a date not yet set.

Painting 18,300 Miles In N.Y.

ALBANY (AP) — More than a half million gallons of paint will be spread on New York State highways this summer and fall to brighten traffic markings, the State transportation department reports.

Before the painting season ends, the agency says, maintenance crews will apply white or yellow paint to 18,300 miles of centerline markings and 15,000 miles of edge-lining.

This gallonage is enough to paint a six-inch-wide stripe around the earth's equator, or to cover 110,000 average-sized homes, the department said.

McLaren Looks For New Worlds

New Zealander Bruce McLaren is in Indianapolis today, $158,750 richer and looking for new worlds to conquer in auto racing.

The 33-year-old McLaren, one of the most respected race car builders and drivers in the world, began a week of testing his new McLaren car at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway in preparation for an assault on the Memorial Day 500 next May.

McLaren who now lives and has his headquarters in England, won the final race of the season in the rich Canadian-American Challenge Cup road series at College Station, Tex., Sunday.

His first-place finish gave him his second Can-Am driving title in three years and a bonus of $50,000 from the series championship point fund. In all, McLaren took home $158,750 from the 11-race series.

His driving partner Denis Hulme collected $156,350 despite the fact that he had to leave Sunday's race because of mechanical problems. It was the first time this season that Hulme failed to finish a Can Am race.

McLaren and Hulme, driving identical orange and black cars designed by McLaren, so dominated the 1969 Can-Am season that they took home almost half the available prize and accessory money. McLaren won six of the races, Hulme five.

Chuck Parsons of Deerfield, Ill., copped third place in the final standings and was paid $26,000. Parsons also collected $51,000 in purse money during the season. He finished fifth Sunday.

Young George Eaton, a 23-year-old heir to a Canadian department store fortune, finished second behind McLaren in the Texas race.

Jack Brabham of Australia, a former world driving champion, was third. Fourth place went to Jo Siffert of Switzerland, driving a 12-cylinder Porsche that is expected to be a threat in next year's Can-Am.

McLaren announced he would field two cars in the 1970 Indy 500. One will be handled by Hulme, the other by Chris Amon of New Zealand. McLaren said his tests at the Speedway this week will be with a turbocharger Offenhauser engine.

In other races, Bobby Allison urged his 1969 Dodge Charger past David Pearson with just 13 laps remaining and won the Georgia 500 for Grand National Stock cars at Macon, Ga. It was the second Georgia 500 victory for the Hueytown, Ala., driver and it earned him $3,050 from the $22,600 purse.

Allison covered the 274 miles in an average speed of 81.079 miles per hour.

In Martinsville, Va., Ray Hendrick roared to a one-lap victory over Carl "Burgs" Stevens in the $28,325 Cardinal 500 for modified cars at the Martinsville Speedway.

Driving a 1937 Chevrolet, Hendricks averaged a record 74.126 miles per hour in grabbing the $3,970 first prize. Stevens won $1,950 for clinching his third straight NASCAR modified title.

Five Frustrating Years End For Bruce Crampton

HONOLULU (AP)—It was a circle," the 34-year-old Australian said after a four-stroke victory over Jack Nicklaus for the top prize Sunday.

"It's been such a long time. I had a good year in 1965, won three tournaments. But I have not won since the passing of my father, very suddenly, late that year.

"It's been a long, hard thing to do to get things glued back together."

But Crampton, a tour regular since 1957, had it all glued together Sunday. He had come from eight strokes off the pace to establish a one-stroke lead three rounds Saturday.

Then he birdied his first two and won it going away. It really wasn't close. Bruce had a final 67, five under par on the 7,020 yard, par 72 Waialae Country Club course, and finished with a 274 total.

Nicklaus closed with a 70—never really getting untracked—and finished second at 278. He was followed by rookie John Schroeder and Chi Chi Rodriguez, tied at 280, with Jack McGowan and Tom Weiskopf at 281.

Crampton, who pushed his earnings for the year to $118,527, hadn't won an official tour event since the 500 Festival in Indianapolis and has finished second six times in the last two years.

Crampton, who now lives in Dallas, birdied the par five opening hole when he reached the green in two and then pitched to within five feet and canned the putt on the next hole.

He took his only bogey when he missed the green on the fifth hole, but got it back with another bird on the ninth, another par five that he two-putted.

He chipped to within three feet on the 13th, put it out of reach with a 14-foot putt on the next hole and iced it all when he put a four iron shot two feet from the pin on the 16th.

"I just didn't play very well," said Nicklaus, winner of his last two starts. He had only two birds, both on par fives. But big Jack pushed his season's earnings to $136,867, third on the money list.

Lee Trevino, the 1968 Hawaiian Open champion, had a final 71 and was one of several at 283. Arnold Palmer closed with a — and was far back at 286.

Davidson's Wildcats, wizards on offense, clutch defenders and, true to their nickname, never more dangerous than when cornered, are the 1969 champions of Southern Conference football. With an indomitable spirit that wouldn't recognize defeat, the Wildcats won their first SC title — and a berth in the Tangerine Bowl — Saturday by coming from 27 points behind to whip East Carolina, 42-27.

Thus they earned the right to represent the Southern in the Dec. 26 bowl game at Orlando, Fla., against Toledo's Rockets, the thus-far unbeaten champions of the Mid-American Conference.

"I can't believe it. I simply can't believe it. How about 'Gordon Slade for All - America?' rhapsodized coach Homer Smith after the Cats rallied on Slade's superb passing to win — when once they had trailed 27-0.

Slade passed for five touchdowns in the all-important victory, which gave the Wildcats a final 5-1 SC record and left them 7-1 over-all. Mike Kelly caught two TD passes, three other players one apiece.

But as Smith pointed out, it wasn't only the Wildcat offense that excelled. After yielding the possession - minded Pirates 27 points in the first half, the Davidson defense held them scoreless the last two periods.

"Our defensive coach, Dave Fagg, is as good as you'll find," said Smith. "If I were coaching defense and we were 27 points down, I might be rushing around in a panic.

"But Dave just keeps making adjustments and hanging on. In 1969, that's the way you have to play defense, because it's difficult to stop modern offenses."

East Carolina coach Clarence Stasavich, while giving credit to the Davidson comeback as "really an achievement," said the Pirates' inability to control the ball after intermission hurt badly — plus something else:

"We didn't fight as hard in the second half, after they got 21 points. We just didn't go after them like we should."

Davidson's triumph sounded the death knell for Richmond's hopes for a return trip to the Tangerine Bowl, even though the Spiders spent Saturday knocking Furman around 37-0, upping their SC record to 4-1.

The Spiders can still tie Davidson for the No. 1 spot in the conference standings by beating William and Mary Nov. 22, but their 37-7 loss to Davidson last month costs them any chance at the bowl game — plus, under new SC rules, the right to reign as co-champions with the Wildcats.

"I understand the bowl thing, but if we tie for first place, nobody can legislate us out of a share of the championship," said Spider coach Frank Jones. Someone, though apparently can. The new rules are quite explicit on that score.

Charlie Richards passed for 220 yards and three touchdowns in the Spiders' rout of Furman. Two of the TD throws went to end Walker Gillette. Furman's total offense was 27 yards — minus two yards rushing.

In other Saturday action, The Citadel was the only winner. The Bulldogs, now 6-2, lost seven fumbles but beat Maine 40-28 on 470 yards' offense and two TD's apiece by Bob Duncan and Ben Chavis.

Powerful West Virginia, however, stomped William and Mary 31-0 and North Carolina treated winless VMI even less respectfully, 61-11.

Wilt Vows He Will Return To Help Lakers' Triumph

By JACK STEVENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Los Angeles Lakers face the possibility of going the rest of this National Basketball Association season without superstar Wilt Chamberlain although he vows he'll be back.

"I am so positive that I'll be back that I promise Lakers fans and my teammates that in 13 weeks, give or take a week, I'll be out on the court again playing and helping the Lakers win the world championship," said the 7-foot-1 veteran of 11 grueling pro cage seasons.

Chamberlain's view appeared most optimistic. On the most pessimistic side lies a slim chance that at 33 his career could be finished.

Wilt completely ruptured the Patellar tendon at the base of his right knee cap during a Friday night game against the Phoenix Suns. Surgery lasting an hour and 40 minutes repaired the damage.

At a news conference Sunday night, Dr. Robert Kerlan, an orthopedic specialist who has treated scores of injured athletes, explained holes were drilled in the bone and the tendon pulled up and reattached.

"Getting a firm bond is what we're worried about," the doctor said.

Asked if he thought Chamberlain would be back this season, Dr. Kerlan answered, "I would say it is more probability than probability," but added that Chamberlain's determination could make it more probability than possibility.

"Basketball is tough on this tendon," the doctor explained. "There has been some attrition (damage) through the years." The Patellar tendon is part of the mechanism that straightens a knee and helps in jumping.

Chamberlain has a cast on his right leg from ankle to thigh and is expected to wear it from six to eight weeks while the knee heals.

"As soon as it is removed, I'll go to work on getting my leg and body into top shape," he said. Expectations are that he will leave Centinela Valley Community Hospital in Inglewood and return to his home by mid week.

Dr. Kerlan was asked if Chamberlain's size would make a difference in his recuperation.

"Yes," he replied. "If it occurred to a jockey, for instance, chances of coming back sooner are better. First, there is the total overall size and secondly treated scores of injured athletes, explained holes were drilled in the bone and the tendon pulled up and reattached.

"Getting a firm bond is what we're worried about," the doctor said.

Asked if he thought Chamberlain would be back this season, Dr. Kerlan answered, "I would say it is more probability than

"it was a couple of years before I could move freely."

Chamberlain joined the Lakers last season with a five-year contract calling for a reported total of $1 million or $200,000 a season. Los Angeles won the Western title in the NBA last season but lost the championships to the Boston Celtics.

Laker owner Jack Kent Cooke, who visited with Chamberlain on Sunday, reported the injured player actually hobbled around his hospital room with the aid of crutches. Dr. Kerlan said this was as planned.

There were some problems with the hospitalization of big Wilt. A special extension had to be devised for the operating table and a table put at the end of the bed to accommodate his full length.

ECU Apparently Only Real Threat To Indians' Bid

WILLIAMSBURG, Va. (AP)—William and Mary's Indians bid for their fourth straight team title and their sixth in seven years today in the Southern Conference cross country championships.

Led by junior Howell Michael, the NCAA regional champion, W&M was strongly favored in the competition over the Indians' own 5.2-mile course, with East Carolina apparently the only serious challenger.

Besides W&M and ECU, teams were entered from The Citadel, Davidson, Richmond, Furman and VMI.

Michael, seeking to become the seventh straight W&M runner to take the individual title, faced serious threats from East Carolina's Ken Voss and Neill Ross and Furman's Lee Fidler and Doug Nelson.

W&M nosed out ECU, 29-34, for the 1968 conference championship.

Bobby Allison Pockets $3,050

MACON, Ga. (AP) — Bobby Allison, racing his 1969 Dodge Charger at an average speed of 181.079 mph, Sunday won $3,050 and his second Georgia 500 Grand National Stock Car Race.

It was the third annual run on the nine-sixteenths of a mile Macon track.

Allison, of Hueytown, Ala., passed David Pearson's 1969 Ford Torino with only 13 laps remaining in the 500-lap, 274-mile contest. Pearson, of Spartanburg, S. C., came in second for $2,025 of the $22,600 prize money.

Bobby Isaac, of Catawba, N.C., also behind the wheel of a 1969 Dodge Charger, came in third one lap behind, failing to add another victory to the 16 he has racked up so far this year.

Defending champion Richard Petty, who won the race last year in a Plymouth, blew the engine in his 1969 Ford Torino, about 40 laps before the end of the race. His car spun and crashed into a wall, about 20 minutes before Allison won. The Randleman, N.C., resident was uninjured.

In contrast to Petty, Allison ended up with the right switch of cars, having won the 1967 race in a Ford.

About 9,500 persons watched the three and three-quarters hour race in clear, sunny weather with temperatures in the mid-70s.

Only 14 of the 29 starters finished the race, which was slowed down by ten caution flags for 62 laps.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Atlantic Coast Conference football race did little to settle anything this weekend. If it established anything, it is only more uncertain as to who the eventual winner will be.

League leading South Carolina went visiting at Tennessee and found that try as it might, it was no match for the mighty Southeastern Conference leader.

The Gamecocks were defeated 20-14 in the non-conference affair.

The Gamecocks were able to battle the Vols for 55 minutes on almost even terms and pulled the game within two points, 16-14, with less than six minutes to go.

Nationally ranked Tennessee then exploded with a 40-yard touchdown pass to put the game out of reach of the Gamecocks.

South Carolina is now 5-3 off the season and holds a perfect 5-0 record inside of the ACC.

Second place Clemson, hoping to even their ACC record with that of South Carolina, called on Leo Hart and Company at Duke and were outclassed by the Blue Devils, 34-27.

Quarterback Hart scored three touchdowns as he passed and ran the Blue Devils to upset Clemson, previously unbeaten in ACC action.

Hart passed and ran for 258 yards to give him a career total of 3,770 yards, a Duke record. He was also able to connect with 17 of his 27 attempted passes during the day as opposed to 15 completions in 31 tries for Clemson.

Duke spotted Clemson nine points at the outset and then charged back with two touchdowns in the second period. They came on a recovered fumble and a pass interception.

The Blue Devils put the icing on the cake in the third period when Hart raced over the eight to climax a 50-yard drive. Coach Bill Dooley's charges at North Carolina entertained non-conference foe Virginia Military Institute in a homecoming game and routed winless VMI 61-11 to become the third team in the conference with a possible shot at the crown.

Don McCauley had an 80-yard touchdown scam, in his brief appearance which netted three touchdowns within 18 minutes.

Dooley lifted the first team offensive unit after the first 19 minutes of the game.

Ricky Lanier led the offense as the Tar Heels rolled up 675 yards running and passing against VMI's total of 178.

Hapless Maryland continued its losing ways as Miami of Ohio hooded the Terps a 34-21 loss. It was the sixth loss in eight starts for the Terps and was "especially galling" to coach Roy Lester.

Qualifying Will Begin Tuesday

PINEHURST, N. C. (AP) — Qualifying rounds will begin Tuesday for the first annual Pinehurst Invitation Foursomes golf tournament.

After two days of qualifying the championship flight gets underway Thursday. The finals are set for Saturday.

Some 85 teams of senior men and women are expected to enter the competition.

Kevin Brennan, sophomore fullback from Chicago, plays for the Air Force Academy football team. His brother Terry is an offensive tackle for Notre Dame.

like Miami of Ohio. "Don't get me wrong, I'm not knocking Miami," Lester said. "They're well coached but the Maryland has no business losing to them."

Wake Forest defeated Virginia 23-21 Saturday in Charlottesville, Va., but there was still joy in the UVA camp. Virginia ended a 14 quarter scoring famine with a two touchdown outburst in the first period.

The fourth straight loss for the Cavaliers came on a last minute safety after a bad snap from center as Virginia at na State; Virginia at Tulare, tempted a fourth down punt and South Carolina at Wake Forest.

The ball rolled into the end zone, and Hal Trentham accidentally kicked the ball out of the end zone as he tried to recover it.

The defeat dropped Virginia into the ACC cellar with a 4 league record and a 35 record for the season.

North Carolina State was 1-16 for the second straight weekend.

Next weekend's schedule finds Clemson at North Carolina; Duke playing Virginia Tech in Norfolk; Maryland at Penn State; Houston at North Carolina State; Virginia at Tulare, and South Carolina at Wake Forest.

HEALTH AND CHIROPRACTIC
By
Dr. W. C. Chapel,
Former President
Lincoln Chiropractic College

Q. Do Chiropractic Doctors use or recommend physical therapy treatments in their practices?
A. The great majority do. In fact, the use of physiological therapeutics (physiotherapy) was first taught in a chiropractic college as early as 1924 (National College of Chiropractic, Chicago, Illinois) and has for many, many years been taught in other chiropractic institutions.

Q. As used by a Chiropractic Doctor, what does physical therapy encompass?
A. Depending on the individual practitioner, these may include the use (as an adjunctive treatment) of various types of heat such as hot packs, lamps or diathermy. It may include ice packs, certain electrotherapy treatments (galvanism or sinusoidal low volt currents), ultra sound, ultra violet rays, the use of therapeutic exercise, intermittent motorized traction, etc. The type of physiotherapy used would depend on the individual case and the methods of practice employed by the doctor handling the patient.

DDT Threat To Marine Life On Coast Is 'Real'

BEAUFORT, N. C. (AP) — Marine scientists at Duke University say that if the DDT level in estuaries continues to increase, it will pose a serious threat to the larvae of crabs, shrimp and all fish.

Two scientists from Duke's marine laboratory at Beaufort said their research indicates ordinarily non-fatal amounts of the insecticide introduced into estuary feeding grounds may kill off generations of important species of ocean life.

The experiments were conducted by Dr. C. G. Bookout, acting director of Duke's oceanographic program at Beaufort, and Dr. John D. Costlow, director of the marine laboratory.

The two pointed out that not only are estuarine waters in and around river mouths natural nurseries, but they also form natural collection points for DDT runoff from inland areas, which compounds the danger.

"Our studies indicate that DDT is a threat to estuarine larvae of crabs, shrimp and all fish and that if DDT levels in estuaries continue to increase, we are in serious trouble," Dr. Bookout said.

During the experiments, the scientists fed four types of crabs food containing small amounts of DDT in their early development stages. The crabs were not killed outright, but most became abnormal in later stages of development and few survived to maturity.

The scientists said that because of the cumulative nature of DDT, the similarity of developmental processes in other marine species and the interrelationship of the marine food chain, the findings indicated a clean danger to other ocean animals such as shrimp and fish.

At Least 21 Die In N.C. Traffic

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS — A triple-fatality wreck near Greensboro Sunday night pushed North Carolina's highway death toll for the weekend to at least 21 persons.

The State Highway Patrol said the three persons were killed when their car went out of control at a high rate of speed and ran off a rural road about a mile south of Greensboro.

Troopers said the victims were Jay Hicks, about 40, of Rt. 7, Greensboro, the driver; Robert Austin Nowling, 17, of Rt. 2, Greensboro and Edith Hamm Holiman, 44, of Greensboro.

The weekend fatalities brought the state's total number of traffic deaths for the year to 1,508, compared to 1,597 during the corresponding period of last year.

A Vietnam war veteran who recently returned to the United States was killed when his car hit a bank and overturned near his hometown, Laurinburg. He was William Eugene Evans, 21.

Other victims included: Simon C. Ferebee, 80, of South Mills; Herman Cletus Hudson, 28, of Rt. 1, Connally Springs; Clyde Junior Bowes, 32, of Rt. 2, Roxboro; Keister Vann Perkins, 21, of Rt. 1, Halifax, Va.; Isaac Gary Doney, 42, of Maple; Amanda Moore Singletary, 54, of Clarkton; and Hattie Emiline Mitchell, 19, also of Clarkton.

Also, Lee Nelson Williams, 23, of High Point; Stephen Douglas Gerringer, 20, of Whitsett; Ollie Seals, about 45, of Ransomville, N. Y.; Leonard Rosser, 21, of Newport News, Va.; Reginald Jerry Lossiah, 32, of Cherokee; Berry Gene Wooten, 42, of Rt. 1, Macclesfield; Steven Max Calhoun, 29, of Lexington; Donald William Leoman, 26, of Winston-Salem, and Robert W. Walker, 29, of Rt. 11, Lake Lure.

The Farm Scene

Those Nickels Helped

Farmers in Pitt County and throughout North Carolina are harvesting one of their most productive corn crops in history this fall. Much of this big yield is a result of good farming, some due to favorable weather and a lot due to vast amounts of research information.

We have many good corn growers in Pitt County. Much of their know-how comes from experience. But new research information is a necessity and is used extensively. We are fortunate that a wealth of new knowledge about growing corn pours out of research projects almost continuously.

The upcoming Nickels for Know-How referendum is the farmers' own program of supporting agricultural research at North Carolina State University.

Through the program, farmers chip in 5 cents for each ton of feed and fertilizer they buy to support NCSU research. The program will be up for renewal for six years on Nov. 25. Farm families and those with farm interests are eligible to vote.

This is one way farmers help pay their own way. Their money often comes back to them in the form of new information which they can use to improve their crops and livestock enterprises. One example is the internationally recognized corn breeding research that has been going on at NC State University. This study, which is concerned with the complex inheritance of yield and other agronomic characteristics of corn, is supported by money from the farmers' Nickels for Know-How program.

New varieties of corn represent one way this crop has improved by leaps and bounds in North Carolina. The state average corn yield this year is estimated at 72 bushels per acre. Many farmers can remember when they felt lucky to get that much corn from two or three acres.

This is the kind of progress

Future Tobacco Exports Said To Require Effort

By DON KENDAL
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States will have to fight hard to maintain its tobacco exports in the decade ahead, despite favorable upsurges in the 1960s, the Agriculture Department said today.

Exports of unmanufactured tobacco through September this year were 15 per cent behind last year's near-record shipments but still were larger than the 1961-65 average.

But the boom in tobacco exports, caused by dramatic shifts in consumption and supply, is in for troubled seas in the next few years, says the Foreign Agricultural Service.

"An increasing share of world tobacco consumption is in the form of cigarettes, primarily the American-blend type," the FAS said in a report, "and this has spurred several countries to supply more of their own needs of flue-cured and burley, and to nibble away at established world markets."

Last year tobacco leaf exports totaled 665 million pounds, farm weight equivalent, and were the largest since the record in 1946. Even with reduced shipments, this year's exports probably will be the second largest on record.

The United States is by far the world's leading producer and exporter of tobacco. At the beginning of the 1960s, however, the U.S. share of the world market dipped as other nations—particularly Russia—moved in.

Two major factors have contributed to the rise in U.S. exports: Improvement in quality of American tobacco and the United Nations embargo on Rhodesian trade imposed in 1965. Since then that country's exports have declined drastically and the United States filled the vacuum.

Another factor has been a rise in world cigarette consumption despite the controversy over tobacco's effect on health, the FAS said.

"The increasing growth rate of the population and the rising levels of incomes, especially in developing countries, will tend to spur tobacco consumption," the FAS said.

While U.S. tobacco traders have major advantages, including experience and superior product quality, the future of change the tobacco trade picture," the report said. It should be remembered, officials added, that tobacco can be stockpiled easily and that its trade throughout the world is affected by a number of economic and political factors.

The Worry Clinic No Cheating If You Would Lose Weight

Wives, beware, for Cupid usually shuns fat girls! Even rapists seldom attack a woman who waddles like a walrus and is a 2-legged twin for a hippo. But quit looking for a magical reducing plan. You can lose 10 pounds in 10 days by the sensible dieting formula below. But you must follow it every day, without "cheating!"

By GEORGE W. CRANE
Ph. D., M.D.

CASE L-553: Mrs. Crane has followed my 10-day diet several times over the past 25 years and shed poundage.

But each time it becomes harder to lose weight, for when you have dieted, slenderized and then later put that ugly blubber back again around your "equator," you lose motivation.

"A new dieting club has just been formed," she eagerly told me a few months ago.

"We meet and weigh in on Wednesday."

"If we have added pounds the preceding week, we are given a picture of a pig to wear."

"If we hold our own, we rate a turtle."

"But the one who loses 'he most then gets a queen's crown.'"

Like most dieters, Mrs. Crane is always looking for some magical formula that will pop off poundage without the conscious effort demanded for this task.

Most of the advertised dieting plans are sound, if.

And that big "IF" means, IF you fannies will follow orders!

But Mrs. Crane and most of her Dieting Club members have hardly shrunk a single pound in months. Why?

Because at meetings they tantalize themselves by discussing new low-calorie menu items and recipes!

That merely keeps their attention on their stomach and thus whets appetites!

Wouldn't it be equally insane for a group of drunkards to join a "Teetotaler's Club" and then sit around at their meeting, discussing the alcoholic content of ale, wine, beer gin, champagne and whiskey?

"Look not on the wine while it is red," warns the Bible.

That means, don't tempt yourself by watching, sipping, smelling or even talking about the thing that tempts you.

And don't bankrupt your household budget trying to buy "low calorie" foods or beverages! That's an inefficient drain on your pocketbook.

If you really want to lose weight fast, then try my dehydration plan in which you'll shed 10 pounds in 10 days.

But first strip the deck for action by cleaning out your refrigerator of all "snacks" or tempting odds and ends.

Limit your total fluid intake the first day to one full glass (8 ounces); then two glasses the second day and three for the third through the tenth day.

Meanwhile, stress protein foods, like cottage cheese, lean meat, beans, peas, etc., for your muscles require an intake of new protein every day to replace worn out muscle cells!

Remember, your body does not store protein, though it has plenty of sugar, starch and fat. And protein loses 15 percent of its calories in the process of digestion! No other food does so!

Also, ladle your food on your plate in the kitchen! Do NOT have extra viands on the dinner table to tempt you!

For your stomach lets out a notch when you view additional food and thus you grow hungrier!
Lettuce, celery and raw cabbage have few calories but are filling.
An entire cup of cottage cheese gives you 200 calories but makes you feel fairly full.
I add a spoonful of jam or honey on top, which means an extra 25 calories, but I like something sweet at meal time.

So seek for my sensible dieting booklet "How to Lose 10 Pounds in 10 Days," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 20 cents. It also contains a calorie chart.

The population of Colombia is about 20 million.

Veterans Day Salute To New Generation Nov. 11

"A salute to America's newest generation of war veterans will be emphasized during Greenville's observance of Veterans Day this year," comments William H. Moore, Post Commander of Pitt County Post No. 39 of the American Legion.

Tuesday, November 11, has been officially proclaimed as Veterans Day in Greenville in a proclamation signed by Mayor Frank M. Wooten Jr.

Stating that "the men and women who served in the uniform of our country have made a major contribution not only to the preservation of America's freedom but also toward the at-

Attendance Said Still Improving

Attendance of Negro students at Rose High School today rose to 77.6 percent, the highest attendance rate since re-opening of schools on October 30.

Stating that "the percentage," stated T. S. Whitney, assistant principal at Rose, "it must be remembered this is very near the average normal attendance figure for Negro students here."

Whitney explained that "a figure of 85 percent is about normal as many of the Negro students enrolled at Rose are working students. As a consequence their attendance average runs a little lower than a comparable group of white students."

In other schools, attendance continues high—at Agnes Fullilove, the Negro students are the only ones in the city today to have a one hundred percent attendance record.

At Epes and Aycock, the two junior high schools, attendance is normal.

A number of policemen are still on duty at Rose High, according to principal Ed Warren.

'Logic Machine' To Smithsonian

CHICAGO (AP) — A logic machine has gone to the Smithsonian Institute, the gadget's creator said Sunday.

"I figure that as I get older I may kick off and someone would find it in my closet and not now what to do with it," said Benjamin Burack, a professor of psychology at Roosevelt University.

He said the machine, which he dreamed up while an undergraduate at Illinois Institute of Technology, accepts premises fed into it by an operator and then tests the validity of a conclusion based on the premises.

If the conclusion is wrong a light flashes for a wrong answer.

The machine cost $40 and was fun to make, Burack said, but there wasn't much use for it.

Mayor Wooten called on all citizens to observe the day with appropriate ceremonies in honor of "those who have borne the burden in defense of our freedom."

The Veterans Day proclamation also asks for active participation for "all citizens and business firms to mark this day with the proud display of the flag of the United States as a reaffirmation of our national unity, a re-dedication of our support to our Nation in her defense of the cause of freedom, and especially, our recognition and appreciation of our newest generation of veterans whose willingness to serve the national purpose is in the finest tradition of our great nation."

Commander Moore notes that "Tuesday's observance marks the conclusion of the official observance of the American Legion's Golden Anniversary."

The American Legion, founded shortly after the end of World War I on March 15, 1919, is an organization originally devoted to serving veterans of the first great war. It has completed a half century of service to veterans of World War I, and has continued its tradition of service to veterans of World War II, the Korean War, and veterans of the current U.S. Participation in South Viet Nam.

For a number of years, November 11, the day on which an Armistice was declared marking the termination of active hostilities in World War I, was commemorated in the U.S. as Armistice Day.

In recent years, Congress authorized this date as Veterans Day. In changing the name to Veterans Day, the concept was also changed to include veterans of America's participation in wars since World War I.

Ask Guardsmen Show Feelings

RALEIGH (AP) — The state adjutant general of the North Carolina National Guard has urged national guardsmen and others to counteract Vietnam moratorium activities by flying the American flag, driving with their headlights on and turning on their porch lights at night from Tuesday, Veterans Day, through Saturday.

Gen. Claude Bowers Saturday endorsed the observances announced by the chief of the National Guard bureau in Washington, Maj. Gen. Winston P. Wilson.

Bowers joined Wilson in expressing concern that moratorium activities this month "might be misunderstood in North Vietnam."

Meanwhile, Hal A. Thompson, chairman of a Veterans Day program in Raleigh, announced there will be a mass meeting Tuesday at noon in front of the legislative building "by patriotic Americans (the silent majority) that want to express faith in America and what it stands for."

"We will not march or demonstrate — there has already been too much of this in the country," Thompson said.

"We feel that thousands of people would like to express their confidence in the democratic form of government, by attending a very short gathering," he added.

Pleasing Prospect On Sesame Street

By CYNTHIA LOWRY AP Television-Radio Writer NEW YORK (AP) — If "Sesame Street," which makes its debut today as a new, daily program for preschool children, fulfills the promise of its preview, it is bound to have many post-school fans. It is a delight.

The experimental series, made with government and foundation grants, is being shown on a lineup of educational stations. It uses cartoons, puppets, performers, film clips, music, talk and, above all, keen, kind humor. Little ones—age 3 to 5—ought to love it.

A half-hour preview on NBC Saturday included an excellent demonstration of the show's basic premise. "The idea," explained a voice behind some animation, "is to make use of the things kids like to watch on television and use them to teach."

Since kids are fascinated by commercials, "Wanda the Witch," was presented "through the courtesy of the letter W." With bright animation and simple but amusing dialogue, the letter W was flashed repeatedly on the screen along with numerous words beginning with W. Then came a short lesson on X, equally memorable, equally painless.

Numbers were taught by a similar method, beginning with a "commercial" in praise of 7. Some characters were introduced, a huge creature called Big Bird and another called Kermit the Frog. Many hand puppets are also used.

It looks like an exciting package—at last a children's show that children will like and learn from. "An Evening with Julie Andrews and Harry Belafonte" on NBC Sunday night was a real special—two talented performers rarely seen on television singing their best songs in effective style against colorful and imaginative backgrounds.

Solo and in tandem, they tackled the old and the new, the familiar and the novelties, touching a little calypso (Harry) and "My Fair Lady" (Julie). The comedy was gentle—perhaps the wittiest bit was a map showing Julie's idea of the United States when growing up in England—just New York, Washington, cowboys and Hollywood.

"Night gallery," a two-hour movie feature on NBC Saturday night, consisted of three off-beat Rod Serling playlets, all featuring fantasy and irony and hooked loosely together.

Roddy McDowall played an evil young man who, after murdering for his uncle's fortune, met his own end when a picture became a macabre mirror of terror and death. Richard Kiley played a Nazi war criminal haunted by his past and hoping to escape his nightmares. In the end he escaped—into a picture hanging on a museum wall. It was pretty far out and far too long.

The best and most effective segment starred Joan Crawford as a rich, selfish blind woman who acquired sight for 11 hours.
