Eclipse Of Sun By Earth Among Apollo Pictures

By PAUL RECER
AP Aerospace Writer
SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — A black silhouette that is the earth chokes off the sun. As the light dies, it bursts into space with blues and reds and pinks and pure white rimming the earth.

It is a scene never seen before Apollo 12—an eclipse of the sun by the earth.

Movies of the scene and others released Thursday by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration gave science and the public their first views also of man's second moonwalking excursion. A camera failure prevented all but a few minutes of live-television transmissions on the moon's surface.

The eclipse footage was taken by astronauts as they started back to earth. Alan L. Bean called it "the most spectacular sight of the whole flight."

A final view is in black and white and the earth appears coal black with the dying sunlight rimming its edge in white.

The view is as old as earth and sun, but Apollo 12 was the first space flight to put men and cameras in the right location in space to capture the scene on film.

The short film, a compilation of scenes taken throughout the 10-day Apollo 12 flight, also included views of Charles Conrad Jr. walking on the surface of the moon.

He appears as a white-suited, faceless figure walking stiff-legged across a field of charcoal. The lunar soil appears dark grey, pitted with craters and strewn with rocks.

Conrad is seen in a small crater, gathering rock with a scoop. His space suit is startling in its whiteness against that gloomy world of black ground.

Another view shows the spider-like lunar module edging away from the command ship to start its final sloop toward a landing on the moon. It seems.

A number of still pictures, taken by Conrad and Bean on the moon's surface, also were released.

They showed the dust-covered astronauts working in the reduced gravity of the moon, wearing the heavy suits that protect their bodies but obscure their identities.

There's also a portrait of another space traveler—the unmanned Surveyor 3 spacecraft that landed on the moon's Ocean of Storms 31 months before man.

A spectacular view taken by the astronauts shows the surveyor inside a crater with the Apollo 12 lunar module on the rim of the crater, just on the horizon.

The flag planted on the surface by Conrad and the dish antenna he raised can also be seen.

Demo Hearing

A regional hearing of the North Carolina Democratic Party Study Commission will be held Saturday morning at 10 at the Holiday Inn in Greenville.

Party chairman James B. Hunt said that problem areas and issues will be studied and proposals will be received by the commission for consideration from anyone desiring to testify.

Hunt said that anyone wishing to testify at the hearing should notify the state democratic executive director of his intent by today. Time periods will be allotted each speaker and anyone who does not get a chance to testify due to time limitations will be rescheduled to appear at a hearing elsewhere in the state, or his testimony will be accepted in written form.

The commission will make further recommendations to the North Carolina Democratic Executive Committee.

Among the issues expected to be studied include: Should the Democratic Party in North Carolina elect its national convention delegates by indirect election, or should a presidential preferential primary be established?

The Greenville hearing is the last of four scheduled for the state this year. Meetings have already been held in Asheville, Charlotte and Raleigh.

Plan Dedication Of Black Town This Weekend

GREENEVEERS, N. C. (AP)—Negroes who outnumber whites by a 4 to 1 margin in an eastern North Carolina area have incorporated the section for the mutual benefit of both races. The state's newest municipality, Greeneveers in Duplin County about 40 miles north of Wilmington, will be dedicated in ceremonies this weekend.

The population is 1,500, of whom 1,200 are black.

The idea for the town is credited to Tim Herring, a native of the area who is now a Washington, D. C., contractor.

Herring said he hoped to build homes in the $10,000 price range for sale and for rent. No roads or streets have been cut yet in the wooded area of 1,800 acres.

Acting Mayor Alex Brown said the town hopes to receive $1 million through grants and donations from businesses and foundations. Brown said two industries have expressed interest in locating in Greeneveers, a tobacco farming area.

Three chartered buses filled with people from Washington, mostly Negroes, arrived Thursday for the dedication ceremonies, which Brown said are expected to draw 20,000 persons.

Parking areas, tents and speaker platforms have been prepared at the townsite.

The town was chartered last month by Secretary of State Thad Eure.

"Its purpose is to help people enjoy the better life and to bring hope and economic opportunity to all residents," Brown said. "Our white and black residents are in complete accord with this project."

Acting officials are Brown and seven commissioners — three white and four black. The first municipal election is scheduled to be held May 4, 1971.

Floyd McKissick, a civil rights leader, announced plans last summer for Soul City, a predominantly black town in Northampton County, northeastern North Carolina.

Won't Take A Coalition

SAIGON (AP) — The South Vietnamese government repeated today that it will never accept a coalition government in any form or grant territorial concessions to the Viet Cong.

The Foreign Affairs Ministry issued a statement to clear up what it termed a misunderstanding of remarks by Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge after the 44th meeting of the Paris peace talks Wednesday.

Lodge had told newsmen the United States would be willing to talk to Hanoi about a new coalition government in South Vietnam, but stipulated that the Saigon government would have to ratify any agreement on this or any other question.

The Foreign Affairs Ministry said: "What resulted in the misunderstanding of Ambassador Cabot Lodge's statement by public opinion derived from the fact that the Vietnamese and American governments in their devotion to search for peace, have emphasized their readiness to discuss whatever problems are initiated by the other side. However, we will never accept coalition under whatever form and territorial concession to the Communists."

However, serious questions confront government legal authorities on the course to follow in trying to prosecute any of the ex-soldiers deemed to have been involved.

This is because the Supreme Court in 1955 rejected military court martial for former servicemen in freeing a discharged Air Force sergeant who had been arrested by military authorities and flown to Korea to face a murder charge after he had gone back to civilian life.

Lawyers for the Pentagon, the Justice Department and other federal agencies have been studying possible courses of action against ex-soldiers in the My Lai case.

Senior legal officers said a likely path would be to try to invoke either Article 18 or Article 21 or both. They said the sections have not yet been tested before the Supreme Court.

Army May Try Its Discharged Soldiers, Too

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Pentagon officials may invoke two never-before-tested sections of the military justice code to try any former soldiers accused in the alleged My Lai massacre.

One of these in Article 18, generally applying to war crimes, and the other is Article 21 which, lawyers said, was intended to preserve common law permitting military commissions to sit in criminal cases.

Fifteen of the 24 men now under investigation, but not yet charged, have returned to civilian life since the alleged mass slaying of more than 100 South Vietnamese civilians on March 16, 1968.

Prosecution of the nine soldiers still on active duty poses no legal problem. They clearly are subject to the military justice code under which 1st Lt. William L. Calley Jr. faces court martial on premeditated murder charges and S. Sgt. David Mitchell has been charged with assault with intent to kill.

However, serious questions confront government legal authorities on the course to follow in trying to prosecute any of the ex-soldiers deemed to have been involved.

Operation Survived By Siamese Twins

BOSTON (AP) — Siamese twin girls separated in a 10½-hour operation emerged from the surgery in very good condition but doctors caution they face "many possible complications over the next few weeks."

Among these are "the hazards of infection and nutritional problems," a spokesman at Massachusetts General Hospital said.

The twins were born by Caesarean section to an unidentified woman Sunday in Danvers and were separated Wednesday night.

The outcome of the surgery marked only the 17th time in recorded medical history that Siamese twins have survived such an operation.

The spokesman said one infant suffered a heart stoppage during the surgery but massage restored the heart beat without any apparent injury.

The twins shared an intestinal system insufficient to meet the needs of both, so that immediate surgery was necessary, doctors said.

The twins still must undergo several less serious operations, hospital officials explained.

The twins were joined from the lower chest through the abdomen to the pelvis. Their livers also were joined.

"Never before in medical history had a case been reported in which Siamese twins were joined the way the Danvers girls were," the statement said.

BONN, Germany (AP) — Chancellor Willy Brandt announced today that West Germany will sign the treaty to halt the spread of nuclear weapons.

Brandt told a news conference that West German ambassadors in Moscow, London and Washington had been instructed to sign the treaty later in the day.

He said the decision to add West Germany's signature was made at a cabinet meeting this morning.

West Germany thus becomes the 25th of the 43 nations needed to approve the pact. The United States and the Soviet Union completed their ratification Monday.

Couple Speaks Vows Thursday

FARMVILLE — Miss Marilyn Joyce Mitchell and Hubert Chester Outland Jr. were joined in marriage in a double ring ceremony in the First Baptist Church Thursday afternoon.

The service was celebrated by the Rev. Marion Lark and the Rev. Robert W. Morgan.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Moore Tucker of Farmville and the late Mr. Morris Milton Mitchell of Spring Hope. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Chester Outland Sr. of Farmville.

The vows were spoken before a candlelight setting of palms, tall baskets of white chrysanthemums, gladioli and tuppary trees of green foliage. The sacrament of Holy Communion concluded the service.

Wilson Nichols Jr. presented a program of wedding music. Robert Williamson of Alexandria, Va., cousin of the bride, sang "I Love You" prior to the ceremony and sang "The Lord's Prayer" during the service.

The bride wore a formal gown of candlelight velvet and Venice lace. A line silhouette style with scalloped neckline and Bishop sleeves. The bodice was fashioned with Venice lace and the full length veil of illusion, worn as a mantilla and chapel length train was bordered with matching lace. She wore cultured pearls presented to her as a wedding gift from the bridegroom. She carried a pearl Bible showered with an orchid.

Miss Carolyn Wood from Spring Hope was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Nancy Ann Morgan and Miss Brenda Lou Tucker, cousins of the bride from Garner. Mrs. Kenneth Dilda of Fountain, Miss Mary Glen Mitchell, cousin of the bride of Bunn and Miss Outland, sister of the bridegroom.

Their formal gowns were light blue velvet bodice with a royal blue velvet bodice. A panel embroidered with royal blue design fell the length of the dresses and a velvet bow accented the empire waist and panel in the back. Each wore a fingertip veil accented with a royal blue velvet rose, designed and made by the bride's mother. They carried bouquets of sweetheart roses with full length ribbons of royal blue velvet.

Mr. Outland was his son's best man. Ushers were Ted Cox of Winterville, Allen Benfield, Andy Crowder, and Roger Marston, cousin of the bridegroom all of Farmville, Lowell Liles Jr., cousin of the bridegroom of Sumter, S.C., and Dan Edwards, cousin of the bride, from Spring Hope.

Lighting the candles were Allen Barbee Jr. of Spring Hope and Miss Wyette Morgan of Garner, who were dressed in formal attire like the rest of the wedding party.

The bride's mother wore a wine dress and full length coat with shocking pink hat, matching wine accessories, and orchid corsage. Mrs. Outland wore aqua with accessories to match and an orchid.

The wedding was directed by Mrs. Bernice Turnage.

For a wedding trip, the bride chose a gold coat and dress with a long scarf with which she wore matching accessories and the orchid from her Bible.

The bride studied interior design at Richmond Professional Institute, graduated from Mitchell's Hair Styling Academy and is presently employed with N.C. Blue Cross and Blue Shield Inc., Greenville. The bridegroom graduated from Campbell College and is presently employed with Collins and Aikman of Farmville.

The couple will reside in Farmville.

Reception
Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Moore Tucker, the bride's parents, entertained at a wedding reception in the fellowship hall of the church following the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Fields, Mr. and Mrs. H.B. Humphrey, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Raspberry, and Mr. and Mrs. John Ervin Wilkerson greeted guests through the hallway and invited them into the fellowship hall.

Rev. and Mrs. Robert W. Morgan introduced guests to the receiving line and Mrs. Gordon Lee and Mrs. Bill Marston showed guests to the refreshment table. The table was covered with a linen and lace cloth.

The refreshment buffet was centered with a silver candelabra and an arrangement of assorted flowers of white.

Pouring punch was Miss Bettie Joyner and Mrs. J.B. Joyner. Assisting in serving were Mrs. Gordon Lee and Mrs. Bill Marston. Mrs. Thad Nichols and Mrs. A.B. Moore served petit fours. Allyson Andrews, Lilly Andrews, Beth Field, Mary Dell Pope, and Wyette Morgan assisted in serving.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Raspberry presided at the register, an arrangement of white and a portrait of the bride enhanced this table.

Background music was provided by Gordon Lee Sr., organist.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Pope said good-byes.

An after-rehearsal dinner was given Wednesday evening by the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Outland Sr. for the wedding party in the fellowship hall of the church.

Bridesmaid's Luncheon
Mrs. Alfred Moore and Mrs. David Wood were hostesses at a luncheon in the Dublin Room at the Shamrock Saturday honoring Miss Mitchell and her bridesmaids.

Mrs. Tucker and Mrs. Outland, mothers of the bride and groom, also were present. Special guests were Mrs. J.B. Joyner, Miss Bettie Joyner, Mrs. Charles Raspberry, Mrs. Clovis Bowen, Mrs. Wilbur Coulmerman, and Mrs. Billy Marston.

You are needed for an important job — being a 4-H Leader. Why? There are boys and girls in your community who can not participate in 4-H work because of a lack of adult leadership. These boys and girls need you to guide and direct them in the 4-H Program.

It is through you who accept leadership in 4-H that there is a Pitt County 4-H program. And through 4-H leadership, we would hope that your own life would be enriched.

The 4-H in Pitt County is carried out through clubs set up on a community level. These may be rural or urban. Boys and girls can be members of the same club or each may have their own club. Members enroll in projects, attend club meetings, and have the chance to participate in 4-H activities such as camps, tours, demonstrations, achievement days and exhibits.

The 4-H is recognized as a great character building organization. It is a form of experience and training for boys and girls that supplements the training received in the home, the school, and the church. The program today seeks to develop the individual intellectually, socially, spiritually and physically.

In Pitt County the need for adult leaders is great. There are approximately 17,029 youth between the ages of 19 and nine and only 350 are enrolled in 4-H. In many rural communities the interest in becoming 4-H'ers is high among the boys and girls, but the adults show no interest in guiding the youth in 4-H.

You are needed and we beseech thee to take stock of yourself and think about what you want your child to be and how important it is to guide the youth of today.

Miss Rhonda Joyce Reel Weds L. H. Nethercutt

Miss Rhonda Joyce Reel became the bride of Lawrence Nethercutt Jr. on Thursday at 4:00 p.m. in a ceremony performed at the home of the bride.

The Rev. David Paramore of Kinston, uncle of the bride, officiated at the ceremony.

Arrangements of white gladioli and mums were used in decorating. A palm was used on each side of the fireplace with a candelabra in front of the fireplace.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Elton Dawson Reel of Rt. 1, Greenville, and Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Harvey Nethercutt of Rt. 1, Snow Hill.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white street length double-knit dress with satin trim. She wore a shoulder length veil attached to a satin bow and carried a nosegay of white miniature carnations with a white orchid.

Miss Candace Marie Reel was maid of honor. She wore a street length crepe dress and a matching veil. She carried a long-stemmed red rose.

The father of the bride groom was best man.

The bride's stepmother wore a beige dress with a corsage of pink carnations. The bridegroom's mother wore a cranberry dress and a corsage of pink carnations.

Following a wedding trip to the mountains of North Carolina, the couple will reside at Rt. 1, Snow Hill.

The bride is a senior at East Carolina University. The bridegroom is a graduate of North Carolina State University.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held.

The bride's table was covered with a white cloth and centered with an arrangement of white snapdragons.

Mrs. Lawrence Nethercutt, mother of the bridegroom, poured punch and Mrs. David Paramore, aunt of the bride, served cake.

SPECIAL HAM-CHEESE SANDWICHES

1 cup firmly packed ground cooked ham
1 cup lightly packed finely grated Swiss cheese
½ cup mayonnaise
¼ cup drained sweet pickle relish
Thinly sliced bread
Butter, soft

Mix together the ham, cheese, mayonnaise and relish—there will be about two cups. Make sandwiches of the filling and unbuttered bread, using three to four tablespoons of the filling for each sandwich. Spread outside surfaces of sandwiches with butter. Broil sandwiches on both sides until golden brown. Cut in triangular halves and serve at once. Makes 16 to 20 sandwich halves.

Payne-Craft Vows Said In Double Ring Ceremony

The Hollywood Presbyterian Church was the scene of the wedding of Miss Virginia Arlene Craft and James Shelton Payne on Thursday at 3:00 p.m.

The Rev. Roy Sharrett of Fuquay-Varina, pastor of the bride, officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Richard Livingston Craft and Mrs. Bessie Payne Gunther, all of Greenville, and the late Mr. Joseph Brown Payne.

A program of wedding music was presented by Mrs. Leida McGowan, organist, and the Rev. Sharrett, soloist.

The church was decorated with a wedding arch entwined with ivy and white roses with a prie-dieu beneath. Two wedding baskets of gladioli and mums with emerald greenery was used on each side of the arch. Two seven branch candelabra with palms was placed in front of the arch.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown designed and fashioned by her mother. The gown was designed with a skirt of satin peau which fell from a high waist of lace peau d'ange. Lace sleeves ended in calla points over her hands. The chapel length train was attached with a crushed bow of satin peau.

Her elbow length veil of silk illusion was arranged from a bow of matching satin peau. Her only jewelry was a sterling cross. She carried a cascade bouquet of pom pons and carnations centered with a white mum, green springerli and ivy.

Miss Marsha Ailene Craft of Greenville, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a floor length gown of gold satin peau and matching lace fashioned similar to the bride's gown with a bow and streamers attached to the back of the high waist. Her headpiece was a bow of matching peau and maline. She carried gold and yellow pom pons centered with a gold mum tied with a gold satin bow.

Mrs. Judy Honeycutt of Fuquay-Varina, sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Jean Stancil of Greenville, were bridesmaids.

They wore identical gowns of yellow satin peau and matching headpieces and carried gold and yellow pom pons centered with a yellow mum tied with a yellow satin bow.

Miss Sheila Craft, sister of the bride, was flower girl. She wore a floor length gown of white satin peau and headpiece identical to the other attendants. She carried a basket of petals. Charles Gunther, brother of the bridegroom, was ring bearer. Wayne Honeycutt of Fuquay-Varina was best man. Ushers were Walter Hearne of Greenville and Jerry Honeycutt of Fuquay-Varina, brother-in-law of the bridegroom.

The bride's mother wore a mauve pink dress of worsted silk with matching accessories and a white mum corsage. The bridegroom's mother selected a romance blue dress of worsted silk with matching accessories and a white mum corsage.

Mrs. Nancy Gurganus, grandmother of the bride, wore a bonded crepe dress, black accessories and a white mum corsage.

For a wedding trip to unannounced points, the bride changed into a royal blue wool dress with a matching coat and accessories. She wore a mum corsage lifted from her bridal bouquet.

The couple will reside in Greenville.

The bride graduated from Rose High School and is a junior at ECU School of Nursing. She works part-time at Pitt Memorial Hospital. The bridegroom graduated from Fuquay Springs High School and attended East Carolina University. He is assistant manager of Zale's Jewelry Store, Greenville.

Following the ceremony, the bridal party received in the church.

An after-rehearsal party was held Wednesday night honoring the Payne-Craft wedding party.

Ready And Willing To Step In

Attorney General Robert Morgan has stirred another hornet's nest with his forthright declaration that North Carolina's controversial marketing controls on milk should be removed.

It is another case of the forceful Attorney General rocking the boat rather than following the easy path of not getting involved in things which he could stay out of if he chose. He is sure to be accused again—as he has been in the past—of sticking his nose into something which is none of his official business.

It should be reassuring to most North Carolinians, however, to know that the state now has an Attorney General who is willing to stick his nose into matters he feels needs his attention. For too many years North Carolina has seen its top legal office operated in a passive manner, making no utterance unless called on to do so, and then sometimes reluctantly. There were too many times in the past when more forceful leadership in that office would have brought about needed reforms for the public good.

Attorney General Morgan, in less than a year in office, has stepped on a good many toes around Raleigh and elsewhere. His latest statement to the Milk Commission, urging them to do away with the marketing controls on the product under their jurisdiction, is another example of what Morgan meant when he said the Attorney General's office would become more deeply involved in protecting consumers in this state. The Attorney General has taken the position that marketing controls on milk are holding the product at artificially high prices in this state, a point that is heatedly disputed by many associated with agriculture and the milk industry.

Whether Attorney General Morgan's position is right or wrong in this instance, his voice is being heard and it is causing another more penetrating look at the status quo. That in itself helps to set the stage for something constructive to come out of this latest controversy in which his office has involved itself.

A Vote Of Confidence In Value Of Research

North Carolina farmers have again shown they recognize the value of research by approving the nickels-for-know-how assessment program for another six years.

The program is expected to bring in almost $1 million for agricultural research during the period. It was favored by almost 90 percent of the farm families in the Tuesday referendum.

A five-cent per ton assessment is made on feed and fertilizer with the funds supporting agricultural research and education at N.C. State University.

Nickels-for-know-how was begun in 1951 and it has proven to be a successful program. Our farmers are progressive enough to know this and they have shown it by overwhelmingly approving its continuation.

Cautious Over Passion Play

By BENNET BOLTON
AP Religion Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The American Jewish Congress wants to see the tangible evidence of the text itself before it will believe that a revised version of the famous Oberammergau Passion Play has really rid itself of "notoriously anti-semitic" overtones.

"It is unlikely they can cure a defect they cannot even perceive," says Dr. Joachim Prinz, chairman of the AJC's international affairs commission, about changes the Bavarian town has made after long reluctance. Oberammergau has been famous since 1634 for its lavish pageant portraying the final days and death of Christ, a spectacle staged every 10 years as an expression of popular religious fervor over the theology of mankind's salvation from its sins.

The story of Jesus is the Christian story of God come to earth as a Jewish man in a Jewish carpenter's household and preaching to his fellow Jews as he promised Messiah, only to be crucified by some of those Jews and their Roman colonialists—a self-sacrifice required in a heavenly plan to redeem man's fall from grace.

Christ started a new religion which became non-Jewish in its first few centuries. Christian culture was gradually dotted at times and places with the notion that all Jews—and they alone—were to blame for the sorrows of Good Friday.

A high point in correcting this idea came in 1965 when the Vatican Council declared that such hinking was both theologically and historically wrong. It said God never rejected the Jews, and any injustices of any kind toward them can never get Roman Catholic support.

Prinz, a Berlin rabbi expelled by the Nazis in 1937 for opposing Adolf Hitler, said the Oberammergau play version used since 1860 was praised by Hitler in 1942 as a help to German war-time morale. Hitler called it "vital in convincingly portraying the menace of Jewry."

Rabbi Prinz and the AJC appealed to Julius Cardinal Doepfer, the archbishop of Munich, to try to get the townspeople to revise the play before it goes on for more than 500,000 international tourists from May to September 1970.

The cardinal already had asked a local priest to prepare a new script, but the town rejected it. The priest told the AJC here that Oberammergau's citizens had learned from world-wide travel agencies that the 1970 play tickets were sold out, therefore "their already weak will to reform the play disappeared completely." They had been promising to modernize since the 1950 play.

Two weeks ago Mayor Ernst Zwick of Oberammergau announced the adoption of revisions which he said freed the play of anti-Semitic tendencies and "will stand up to any criticism."

The AJC attitude is that seeing is believing, and it has asked the mayor to please send over a copy.

Other Editors Say Need Not Have Been

(Henderson Dispatch)

True enough that Nixon is the first President since Hoover to lost his fight for a nominee to the Supreme Court by Senate rejection. But he might not have been. President Johnson avoided that rating by withdrawing his appointment of Abe Fortas last year before a vote was taken. Actually, that was a defeat for him. Nixon could have kept his record clear, too, had he pulled back on Judge Haynsworth. The President might have done that had there been greater certainty as to how the vote would turn out. He didn't know he was beaten. Johnson did and decided to avoid the snub to his own prestige.

No President wants to lost his fights. But Nixon is not the first to have that experience. Nor have past chief executives been limited to court appointments. President Wilson, for instance, lost his fight to have the United States join the old League of Nations at the end of World War I. It broke his heart, resulted in a stroke from which he never recovered, and contributed to his death at the age of 67 two years after he left office. Had this country joined the League of Nations, World War II may never have occurred. But a little handful of senators defeated the proposal, largely through political maneuvering, even as that was a factor also in the defeat of Judge Haynsworth.

That's all part of the game as politics is played in this democracy. Senators, as well as other public officials, act at times, and perhaps often, through expediency, meaning what they consider the effect will be on their future fortunes on the public payroll.

President Nixon will come up with another nominee to the court to fill the vacancy which still exists. When that happens he will win, both because of the caution with which he acts and because senators will not repeat the performance of last week. Even a conservative, if appointed, will not be turned back next time. Nixon is not expected to act until after the first of the year when the second session of the 91st Congress convenes. At that time, he will fare better.

Explaining Thanksgiving

WASHINGTON—(A little girl in Orleans, France, has written to me. "Please, dear sir, would you explain your great Thanksgiving to me? I understand you have explained it before, but I was too young then to read the newspaper." So, for that little girl in France and little girls everywhere, I shall try once more.)

One of our most important holidays is Thanksgiving Day (known in France as le jour de merci d'automne).

Le jour de merci d'automne was first started by a group of Pilgrims (pelerins) who fled from L'Angleterre before the McCarran Act to found a colony in the new world (le nouveau monde) where they could shoot Indians (les peaux-rouges) and eat turkey (dinde) to their heart's content. They landed at a place called Plymouth (now a famous voiture Americaine) in a wooden sailing ship called the Mayflower (or Fleur de mai) in 1620. But while the pelerins were killing the dindes, the peaux-rouges were killing the pelerins, and there were several hard winters ahead for both of them. The only way the peaux-rouges helped the pelerins was when they taught them to grow corn (maïs). The reason they did this was because they liked corn with their pelerins.

In 1623, after another harsh year, the pelerins' crops were so good that they decided to have a celebration and give thanks because more maïs was raised by the pelerins than pelerins were killed by the les peaux-rouges.

Every year on the jour de merci d'automne, parents tell their children an amusing story about the first celebration.

It concerns a brave capitaine named Miles Standish (known in France as Kilometres Deboutish) and a young, shy lieutenant named Jean Alden. Both of them were in love with a flower of Plymouth called Priscilla Mullens (no translation). The vieux capitaine said to the jeune lieutenant:

"Go to the damsel Priscilla (allez tres vite chez Priscilla), the loveliest maiden of Plymouth (la plus jolie demoiselle de Plymouth). Say that a blunt

One of the worst mistakes people can make is to omit God from their lives—from their thinking, planning, pondering. From their little two-cent decisions and their million-dollar decisions—if they are ever called upon to make such. Religion cannot be handed over to the minister, the assumption being that since he has been trained in such matters he will know what to do and will do it. The six-year-old child can be taught to think in terms of God. For such, God is Father, the Good Man in Heaven, the Person the minister preaches about on Sunday, the Being people mention when they say grace before meals.

There are people who will argue for atheism any time they have a chance. You can't see God, they say. What proof do you have that He exists? The simplest answer to that is to raise the question as to whether the created world we see round about us could just have appeared to come into being. Is there no Creator behind the stars? Is history just a record of stupid mistakes made by unbelievably stupid men?

When we see sunlight, playing over the fields and the starry heavens at night apparently looking upon us with something akin to benevolence, the contentions of the atheists go out the window. There must be design behind all this. That design is good. We call the design God.

We all make mistakes. Let us not make the biggest of all possible mistakes by omitting God in thoughts, plans and aspirations.

You, bred as a scholar (vous, qui êtes pain comme un étudiant), can say it in elegant language, such as you read in your books of the pledging and wooings of lovers, such as you think best adapted to win the heart of the maiden."

Although Jean was fit to be tied (convenable a etre emballé), friendship prevailed over love and he went to do his duty. But instead of using elegant language he blurted out his mission. Priscilla was muted

Tourist Imports Tangle

By WHAYNE EISENMAN
AP Business Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — On a trip to Europe you took advantage of low foreign prices to buy Christmas gifts and you're going to bring in two Leica cameras, three bottles of Chanel No. 5 and two Caravelle watches.

Legally, however, you're entitled to return with only one of each of these trademarked products, regardless of duty paid.

And if you exceed the limit, customs officials will hold the merchandise until you get a letter of permission from the various U.S. companies that own the exclusive rights to bring these and some 4,000 other foreign-made products into this country.

"We were catching hell from tourists all the time," said a Treasury Department official.

One extreme example, he said, was the soldier returning from Vietnam who had bought a camera at the post exchange. The GI had asked the trademark owner in the United States for permission to bring it home, and was refused.

To get permission for the soldier, the Treasury official said he had threatened to advertise the company's attitude "all over Vietnam."

There is one way around some import restrictions, however.

If you remove the trademark, you can bring in an unlimited amount as long as you pay the duty.

That's an easy job for a bottle of perfume — wash off the label. For a camera, or silverware, it's more difficult when the trademark or company symbol is engraved on the product.

Proponents of the restrictions say they prevent bootlegging imports from getting a "free ride" on the advertising and marketing expenditures of authorized U.S. trademark owners.

Even the foreign manufacturer is prohibited from importing his own merchandise once he has granted the rights to a U.S. company and that company registers the trademark with the Treasury.

The laws have been criticized as a barrier to competition.

"The practical effect... is to permit a foreign manufacturer indirectly to enlist the aid of the U.S. Bureau of Customs to exclude goods... which might undercut a higher price charged in the United States than abroad," said Chicago Law School Prof. Kenneth W. Dam in a law journal article.

In 1954, the Justice Department brought suit against three American marketers of trademarked toilet goods, alleging they were really just an arm of foreign manufacturers—not independent-American trademark owners—and their practices constituted a form of monopoly selling.

The Justice Department won its case in district court, but withdrew after the firms appealed to the Supreme Court—a move some experts believe has contributed to the confusion over the laws as they apply to "affiliates" of foreign manufacturers.

FTC Rules For Supermarkets

By ELMER ROESSNER

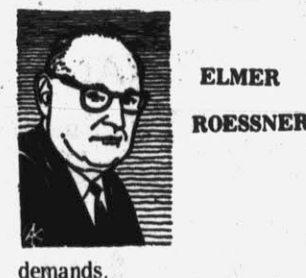

There will be differences of opinion, to put it mildly, before the Federal Trade Commission in Washington on Jan. 20 and 21, when the FTC holds a hearing on two proposed new rules for supermarkets.

The rules appear reasonable; the appended "notes" will probably draw fire.

The rules are that it is an unfair practice to: (1) Offer any product for sale at a stated price... any advertisement disseminated in an area served by any of its stores which do not have such products in stock and readily available to customers in self-service areas of such stores. (If not readily available on a self-service basis, clear and adequate notice shall be provided at the point where customers would normally expect the products to be offered for sale, that the item or items may be obtained upon request.)

...It shall constitute a defense to a charge... if the retailer maintains records sufficient to show that the advertised products were delivered to the stores in quantities sufficient to meet reasonably anticipated and conspicuous disclosure in all... advertisements as to all exceptions with respect to specific stores, products, or

If Not At All Stores—

(2) Fail to make the advertised items conspicuously and readily available for sale at or below the advertised prices unless... there is clear prices otherwise included within the advertisement."

The notes that may rile merchants are:

"NOTE: I. General disclaimers in advertising relating to product availability will not be considered to be in compliance with the disclosure provisions of the rule. Examples of such general disclaimers would be: (a) 'Not all items available at all stores.' (b) A statement that a particular item... is 'Available at most stores.' (c) 'Available at stores featuring delicatessen departments.' In this case the specific stores where the advertised item is either available or unavailable shall be disclosed."

"NOTE: II. Some food retailers have utilized a 'raincheck' policy whereby customers may subsequently purchase at the advertised prices, items which were unavailable during the effective period of the advertisement. Such a system will not be considered as compliance with part (1) of the rule."

Tough On Merchants

These "notes," rather than the rules, appear to burden supermarket managers. They would have to guess accurately what demand a bargain would create.

If they ran out of an advertised item, they would have to produce books to show that what they ordered was a reasonable guess as to demand; if they order too much, they risk being stuck. If the excess is perishable, the waste would tend to increase food costs.

The outlawing of the raincheck, which supermarkets developed, without nudging from the government seems particularly unfair.

Mortgage Rates Rose

WASHINGTON (AP) — The average effective mortgage rate for new homes rose to 8.12 per cent in October, continuing an upward spiral for the 11th straight month.

The Federal Home and Loan Bank Board reported the bad news for homebuyers and the construction industry Thursday. There was a wide range in rates charged across the country with the highest average of 9.13 per cent in Seattle, Wash. This was a jump of about 1 1/2 per cent over a year earlier.

The San Francisco-Oakland, Calif., area also had a high rate of 8.97 per cent.

On the other end of the scale, Philadelphia, Pa., had an average effective rate of 7.07 per cent.

The board's report shows life insurance companies charged an average 8.48 per cent and mortgage companies were right behind at 8.45 per cent on their new home loans.

Preston Martin, chairman of the board, said the curtailed supply of money mortgage funds at a time when housing is in strong demand accounted for

One of the problems, the report said, is that investors were taking their money out of savings and loan institutions which provide mortgages and putting their funds where they can earn a higher interest.

Treatments Halt Growth

BOSTON (AP) — The growth of a 20-year-old man who had stretched to 7 feet 2 inches and was still growing has been halted with the help of a new technique developed at Massachusetts General Hospital.

The man was a victim of acromegaly, a disease resulting from overproduction of hormones. MGH News said Harvard University's 160-million-volt cyclotron was used to concentrate proton beams on the front of the pituitary gland, where growth hormone is produced.

Dr. Leonard Deftos of the hospital's endocrine unit said one treatment was sufficient and the patient has since gained both strength and energy.

MGH News said that in studying 46 such cases, Drs. Raymond N. Kjellberg and Bernard Kliman of Harvard Medical School found the growth hormone in the blood dropped to normal levels 21 times. In 15 cases it dropped to less than half the pretreatment level, and the remaining 10 cases failed to show improvement.

with amazement and sorrow. (rendue muette par l'étonnement et la tristesse).

At length she exclaimed, interrupting the ominous silence: "If the great captain of Plymouth is so very eager to wed me, why does he not come himself and take the trouble to woo me?" (O est-il, le vieux Kilometres? Pourquoi ne vient-il pas auprès de moi pour tenter sa chance?)

Jean said that Kilometres Deboutish was very busy and didn't have time for those things. He staggered on, telling what a wonderful husband Kilometres would make. But finally Priscilla arched her eyebrows and said in a tremulous voice: "Why don't you speak for yourself, John?" (A chacun son gout.) And so, on the fourth Thursday in November, American families sit down at a large table brimming with tasty dishes and for the only time during the year eat better than the French do.

No one can deny that le jour de merci d'automne is a grand fête and no matter how well-fed American families are, they never forget to give thanks to Kilometres Deboutish, who made this great day possible.

Stock And Market Reports

RALEIGH (AP)—(NCDA) — North Carolina hog markets to-day were mostly steady. Tops of 26.50 to 27.50 Rocky Mount; 26.25 to 26.50 Wilson; 26.00 to 26.50 Siler City; 25.50 to 26.50 Bethel; 26.50 Greensboro; 26.00 Salisbury.

RALEIGH (AP)—(NCDA) — The North Carolina poultry market today was mostly steady. Price of live poultry at the farm was 13 cents per pound. No sales were reported for hens.

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market held a small gain, in moderately active trading early today.

At 11 a.m. the Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was up 0.73 to 811.25 after having been ahead more than a point earlier.

Advances of individual issues topped declines by nearly 200 on the New York Stock Exchange.

Analysts expressed hope that the market could muster enough strength to follow through on a modest rally Wednesday that interrupted a long decline.

Among the 20 most-active issues on the Big Board 12 rose, 6 fell, and two were unchanged.

Varied activity is reported this morning on Pitt County grain buying stations following the Thanksgiving day off from harvesting.

Little or no shell corn is coming in now and only a moderate volume of ear corn. The Greenville market reports the heaviest activity with most other stations only slight buying of beans.

All prices remain unchanged from Wednesday's quotes. Following are per bushel prices reported at 11:15 a.m.

Greenville: yellow corn, $1.25; wheat, $1.20; oats, $.65; soybeans, $2.32—all steady.

Ayden: yellow corn, shell, $1.27; ear corn, $1.17; soybeans, $2.30—all steady.

Winterville: yellow corn shell, $1.27; ear corn, $1.17—steady.

Farmville: yellow corn, $1.27; soybeans, $2.28—steady.

Bethel: yellow corn, shell, $1.25; ear corn, $1.15; soybeans, $2.32—all steady.

Tot Victim Of Terrorists

ATHENS (AP) — Doctors gave up hope today for George Nastos, the 2½-year-old boy critically injured in an Arab commando bomb attack at the El Al airline offices in Athens Thursday.

A surgeon at Children's Hospital in Athens said the boy was still in a comma and "unfortunately he has no chances of survival" despite brain surgery performed all day Thursday.

Nastos' 4-year-old brother, Athanasios, lost an eye in the blast and was also in serious condition, but not on the same degree as his brother, the surgeon said.

Six other persons, including four women—one of them Mrs. Charles Macleyn, 50, Dallas, Tex.—were still in hospital but not on the critical list. Six of the 14 victims were released from the hospital after treatment for minor injuries.

Police are holding Elias Berg Dergarabedian, a 23-year-old tailor from Amman, Jordan, apprehended after the attack, and another accomplice identified as Mansour Seifeddin Murad Zugagh, 21, also of Amman and a medical student at Athens University.

Dergarabedian told police that he belonged to a Jordanian commando organization and that he was sent on a "special mission" to Athens to attack the El Al offices.

Glisson
Funeral services for Mr. Richard F. Glisson, 68, will be held Saturday afternoon at two o'clock at the Wilkerson Chapel by the Rev. R. M. Stewart, pastor of the Black Jack Pentecostal Free Will Baptist Church. Burial will be in the Wynne Family Cemetery.

Mr. Glisson, a native of Pitt County, had lived in the Black Jack Community until he moved to the Greenville area 10 years ago. A retired farmer, he was a member of the Red Oak Christian Church.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Sallie Mills Glisson; four sons, Walter E. and W. Kelly Glisson of Black Jack, James H. Glisson of Houston, Tex., and Richard F. Glisson Jr. of Greenville; three daughters, Mrs. Herman Lee Hannah of Norfolk, Va., Mrs. Robert Lloyd of Black Jack and Miss Sallie Glisson of Norfolk, Va.; and 16 grandchildren.

Opening lead: Eight of ♥
A defensive slip at the opening gun enabled South, the declarer at three no trump, to sever his opponents' line of communication and completely disorganize their efforts for the balance of the deal.

West opened the eight of hearts, the queen was played from dummy and East covered with the king which declarer permitted to hold the trick by following suit with the nine from his hand. East continued with a small heart and South was in with the ten.

A small diamond to the jack put North in to lead a club. Declarer finessed the nine losing to West's queen. The latter was out of hearts so he switched to a spade. Declarer was determined to keep East out of the lead until the clubs were established, so he put up the ace of spades from dummy.

By continuing the clubs, South was able to dislodge East's ace and since declarer still retained the ace of hearts, he was in position to claim nine tricks as soon as he regained the lead. The defense was limited to four tricks on the deal—one spade, one heart, and two clubs.

East could have defeated the contract by ducking the queen of hearts at the opening gun. This served the purpose of preserving the line of communication with his partner, for when West gets in with the queen of clubs, he still has a heart left to return. South's second stopper in the suit is thereby dislodged while East still retains the ace of clubs and when he gets in with that card the entire heart suit is run to administer a two trick setback.

Inasmuch as East knows from West's lead of the eight of hearts that South has the A-10-9, he has nothing to lose by giving his opponent the first trick because the latter is clearly marked with two stoppers in the suit.

Texas, Arkansas Roll To Victory

By KEN RAPPOPORT

Associated Press Sports Writer
Texas A&M tried to grab a Texas Wishbone Thanksgiving Day and wound up empty-handed ... and Texas Tech just got the bird from Arkansas.

Texas' bone-jarring Longhorns smashed Texas A&M 49-12 despite the Aggies' use of the Wishbone-T offense and Arkansas smothered Texas Tech 33-0 in traditional holiday games Thursday.

Their victories set up a classic battle between top-ranked Texas and second-ranked Arkansas on Dec. 6. Both undefeated in nine games, the Longhorns and Razorbacks meet that day for the Southwest Conference title, a spot in the Cotton Bowl and probably No. 1 ranking.

"We used the Wishbone-T to get fullback Steve Burks and tailback Larry Stegert into the game at the same time," said Texas Tech Coach Gene Stallings. "Our line just wasn't blocking as good as needed."

Stallings added: "Texas is as good a football team as I've ever seen. I know they're the best I've ever played. They are better than I thought."

Arkansas' brutish linemen gobbled up Red Raiders' quarterback Charles Napper.

"Our defense was magnificent," exulted Razorback Coach

Frank Broyles.

In the day's only other major game, 14th-ranked Mississippi clouted Mississippi State 48-22 behind the artistry of Archie Manning.

The Longhorns' nation-leading rushers roamed all over the Aggies' defense. Jim Bertelson raced 63 yards for a touchdown on the fourth play of the game—and the Longhorns were off and running for 330 yards.

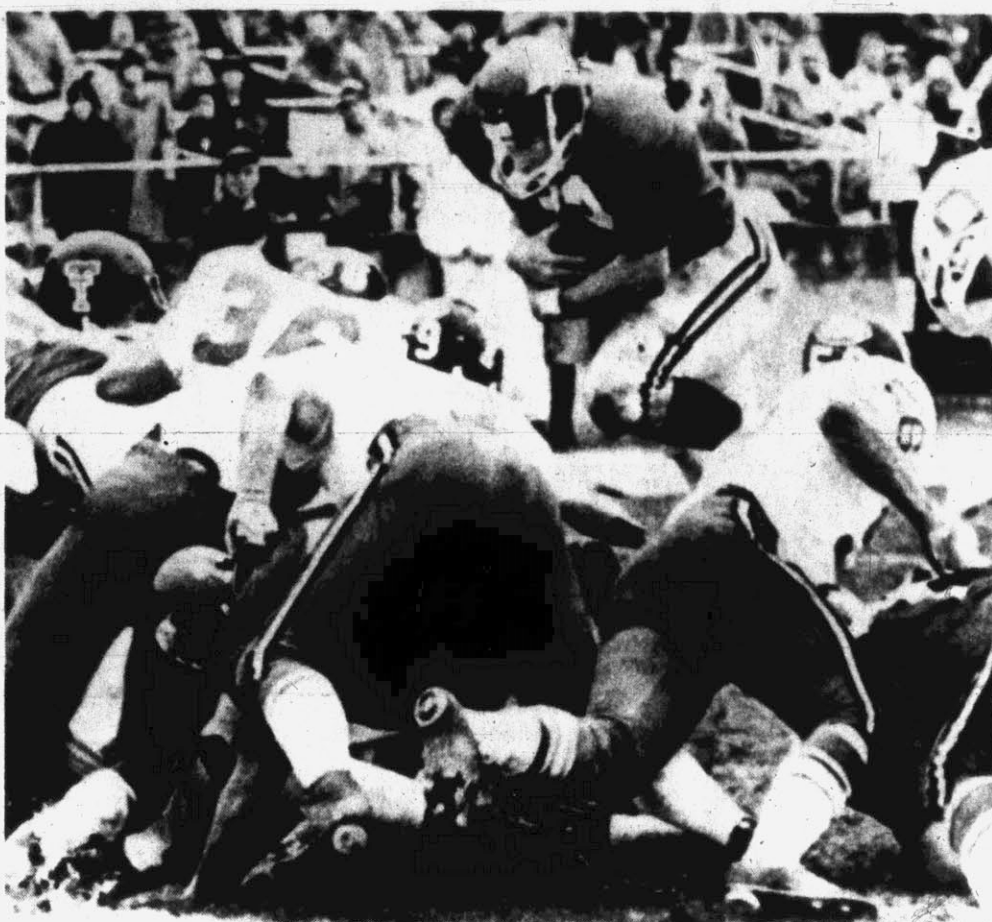

Meanwhile, in Little Rock, Arkansas was having a regular Thanksgiving Day picnic with Texas Tech. The Razorbacks intercepted five passes and dumped Napper nine times.

"Our game plan against a team that likes to throw is to blitz," said Broyles. "If we are successful we stay with it. And we were successful today."

Texas Tech Coach J. T. King, who lost 49-7 early in the season to Texas, wouldn't compare the two.

Manning passed for two touchdowns and scored two more himself as Mississippi came up with some late lightning to rip Mississippi State.

The Army-Navy game highlights a light football card Saturday. While the two tangle in their annual battle in Philadelphia, 12th-ranked Auburn plays Alabama and third-rated Penn State meets North Carolina State.

A Razorback Touchdown

Tailback Bill Burnett flies a yard over Texas Tech defenders for the first of his three touchdowns in second-ranked Arkansas' 33-0 victory over the Red Raiders Thursday afternoon. Burnett upped his season's touchdown total to 19 and his total for less than two years to 33. He gained 100 yards on 20 rushes. (AP Wirephoto)

Vikings Stun Detroit; Dallas, 49ers In Tie

By ED SCHUYLER JR.

Associated Press Sports Writer
Championship football teams come up with the unexpected—like the 12-foot-7, 503-pound razzle-dazzle combination of the Minnesota Vikings.

The Vikings clinched the title in the Central Division of the National Football League by blanking Detroit in the snow Thursday, 27-0, and the final Minnesota touchdown was a real stunner.

In the fourth quarter, Alan Page, a 6-foot-4, 255-pound defensive tackle tipped a pass by Detroit quarterback Greg Landry and Jim Marshall, a 6-foot-3, 248-pound defensive end intercepted it on the Lions' 41-yard line.

Marshall chugged toward the end zone, and when it looked like Landry might force him out of bounds on the 12, he lateraled the ball to Page, who rumbled in for the touchdown.

In three other Thanksgiving Day games, Dallas tied San Francisco 24-24 in the NFL, while Kansas City trounced Denver 31-17 and San Diego upset Houston 21-17 in the American Football League.

Los Angeles is at Washington, Cleveland at Chicago, Atlanta at Baltimore, Philadelphia at New Orleans; New York at Green Bay and Pittsburgh at St. Louis in the NFL Sunday while in the AFL Oakland is at New York, Cincinnati at Buffalo and Boston plays Miami at Tampa, Fla.

Minnesota's victory was its 10th straight after an opening-game defeat. Detroit now is 7-4.

Dave Osborn scored on a two-yard run for Minnesota in the first quarter and Joe Kapp passed six yards to Oscar Reed for a third-quarter touchdown. Fred Cox kicked a 41-yard field goal in second period and added a 38-yarder after Page's touchdown.

Dallas lost a chance to win when, with 12 seconds left, tackle Charlie Krueger blocked Mike Clark's 37-yard field goal attempt. The tie left Dallas with an 8-2-1 record and a 1½-game lead over Washington in the Capitol Division.

The Cowboys gained the tie when Lance Rentzel made a sensational catch of Craig Morton's 19-yard touchdown pass with 4:13 left. San Francisco, 2-7-2, tied the game on Momoilo Gavric's 21-yard field goal and moved in front on John Brodie's 19-yard pass to Gene Washington.

Linebacker Bobby Bell returned a kickoff 53 yards for a touchdown and Jan Stenerud kicked a league-record 11th straight field goal, a 16-yarder, as Kansas City boosted its record to 10-2 and moved to within percentage points of first-place Oakland in the Western Division. Warren McVea ran for two touchdowns and Emmitt Thomas scored with an interception as the Chiefs built up a 24-3 lead over Denver, 4-7-1.

Kenny Graham's 19-yard run with an interception produced the winning touchdown for San Diego, 6-6, which fought back from a 17-7 deficit. The loss for Houston, 5-5-2, means New York can win the Eastern Division by beating Oakland Sunday.

Houston quarterback Pete Beathard sprained his right foot in the second quarter.

Three Teams Pace Stars

ROBERSONVILLE—Champion Vanceboro, runner-up Robersonville, and Bath led selections on the All-conference team selected by the Tobacco Belt Conference. Each of the teams placed four members on the team.

Chocowinity added three to the list, while Belhaven, Saratoga, and Grifton each had two and Aurora had one.

From Vanceboro were back Roland Hooks, and linemen Cornelius Dowson, Robert Baker and Cornell Wise. Robersonville's selections included backs Joe Pilgreen and Johnny Beach, and linemen Jimmy Hagwood and Jerry Carson.

Chosen from Bath were backs Arnold Cooke and Neal Sawyer, and linemen Jolmodge Woolard and Donnie Woolard.

Others on the team include C. G. Tinker and Lonnie Sparrow of Belhaven, Jimmy DeRatt and Bobby Gardner of Saratoga, Dowell Rogers, Galvin Buck and Milton Linton of Chocowinity, Tim Craft and Tony Grifon of Grifton, and Johnny Windley of Aurora.

Roy Lupton of Vanceboro was named the Coach of the Year.

Pirates Swimmers Open In Penn State Relays

The East Carolina University swimming team will open its season tomorrow, competing in the Penn State University Relays. A total of 10 teams will compete in the meet, which is attracting some of the best on the East Coast.

Among the entries are Bethany College, which was first in the President's Conference last year, and finished third in the NAIA; Bucknell, winner in the Mid-Atlantic Conference; Lasalle, the Mid-Atlantic runner-up; Maryland, a strong Atlantic Coast Conference team; host Penn State; Villanova, the favorite in the meet; West Virginia, Elizabethtown, and Hampton.

Villanova, the odds-on choice to win the meet, features two members of the German Olympic team among its number. Maryland is favored to step into the leader's role should Villanova falter.

"We hope to finish third," Coach Ray Scharf of East Carolina said. "And with a little luck, we could do better."

The meet features nine events, all relays except for the diving. They are the 400-yard freestyle, the 400-yard backstroke, the 400-yard breast-fly (in which both breaststroke and butterfly strokes are used), the 500-yard crescendo (in which two swimmers cover 50 yards, two cover 100 and one goes for 200 yards), the 200-yard medley, the 400-yard individual medley, the 200-yard freestyle, the 400 yard medley, and diving from both one and three meter boards.

S. Edgecombe Skins Wolves

South Edgecombe High School pounded Winterville Wednesday night in a pair of basketball games. The boys took a 105-38 romp over the Wolves, while the girls fell, 47-21.

In the girls game, South Edgecombe pushed out into a 10-4 lead in the first period, then outscored the Wolf Gals, 13-3, to gain a 23-7 lead at halftime.

South Edgecombe wasted no time in shooting away from Winterville in the boys game. By the end of the first period, South Edgecombe had built up a 22-5 lead. The South Edgecombe shooting didn't stop there, either, as it blasted Winterville, 28-6 in the second period, running the score to 50-11 by half-time.

In the third period, South Edgecombe still found the goal to its best advantage, dumping in 21 points, while Winterville advanced its output to 12. That left the Wolves trailing, 71-23, with a period to play. South Edgecombe then had its best quarter, outscoring Winterville, 34-15, to wind up the rout.

Tim Smith led Winterville with 13 points

Field Goal Was Too Much

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

If there's one thing Virginia Military Institute football coach Vito Ragazzo doesn't particularly appreciate, it's being kicked when he's down.

And so it was that Ragazzo wasn't especially happy Thursday when Virginia Tech's Jack Simscak kicked a field goal on the game's final play that boosted the Techmen's final victory margin over the winless Keydets to 52-0.

As Tech coach Jerry Claiborne rushed across the field to explain his reasons — he wanted Simscak to set a Tech kicking record — he appeared to be waved away by Ragazzo.

"He said he (Simscak) wanted to break a record," Ragazzo said later. "If they wanted to set a record, let them set a record."

Claiborne said "at no time during the game did we have an opportunity to kick a field goal," so he let Simscak kick the 34-yarder that gave him a season's total of 12, one more than the previous mark.

Tailback Terry Smoot scored four of Tech's touchdowns and set two more school records —

940 yards rushing for a season and 24 touchdowns in a three-season career. Smoot gained 171 yards on 29 carries Thursday as the Techmen broke the game open with 35 points in the last 18 minutes of the first half.

Tech, which lost its first five starts, wound up 4-5-1 for the season. VMI was 0-10, the first time the Keydets have failed to win at least one game in 79 years of football competition.

VMI's defeat was one of two suffered by Southern Conference teams Thursday at the hands of nonleague opposition. Furman's Paladins dropped a 31-21 decision to Wofford, a small college power to whom they had bowed 49-7 in an earlier meeting this season.

Wofford, winding up a 9 - 2 campaign, scored 10 points in the fourth quarter to break a 21-21 tie and leave Furman 1-9-1 for the year.

Pat Carroll scored twice for the Paladins and quarterback Cleve Hightower set three school passing records with 32 completions in 67 attempts for 356 yards. Wofford came up with six interceptions, however.

Sizemore NL's Rookie Of Year

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK (AP) — Ted Sizemore, the versatile Los Angeles Dodger infielder who alternated between shortstop and second base, was named today the Rookie-of-the-Year in the National League.

Sizemore, 24, converted into a shortstop by Manager Walter Alston last spring after spending 1968 in the minors as a catcher, won by a surprisingly large margin in the vote of a 24-man committee of the Baseball Writers Association of America, two from each league city.

The seventh Dodger to win the rookie award received 14 votes in his landslide victory. Coco Laboy, Montreal third baseman, and Al Oliver, Pittsburgh first baseman, each received three votes. Bob Didier, Atlanta catcher, and Larry Hise, Philadelphia outfielder, each drew two votes.

The award, announced by Jack Lang, secretary-treasurer of the writers association, was based on a secret vote that covered only regular season play.

It was the final award of the annual series by the writers, all of which went to players on different clubs.

Lou Piniella of Kansas City was the American League's top rookie. Harmon Killebrew of Minnesota won the American League's Most Valuable Player

Award and Willie McCovey of San Francisco won the same MVP honors in the National League.

The Cy Young Award for pitchers was taken by Tom Seaver of New York in the National and shared by Denny McLain of Detroit and Mike Cuellar of Baltimore in the American.

Sizemore, 24, succeeded Johnny Bench, Cincinnati catcher, who was the 1968 winner. He joined such other former Dodger winners as Don Newcombe, Jackie Robinson, Joe Black, Junior Gilliam, Frank Howard and Jim Lefebvre.

A graduate of the University of Michigan, Sizemore taught in Detroit last winter but this year has been employed in the Dodgers' speaking bureau.

He hit .271 in 159 games and had 20 doubles, five triples, four homers and 46 runs batted in.

Arnie In Lead, But Not Happy

By BOB GREEN

AP Golf Writer
HILTON HEAD ISLAND, S.C. (AP) — Arnold Palmer held a share of the lead going into today's second round of the $100,000 Heritage Golf Classic — the first time he's been in such a position since his comeback — but the old charger is far, far from satisfied.

"It's one of the best rounds I've had in a long time," Palmer said after shooting a three-under par 68 Thursday for a tie with George Archer in the No. 1 spot.

"But I'm still not putting," Palmer continued. "If I'd putted like I have in the past, I could have been eight under par after seven holes. It would have been unusual, but it was very possible."

As it was, he birdied three of the first seven, just missing an eagle on the par five second, and played par golf the rest of the way. In all, he missed five putts of six feet or less, and two more from eight feet, an indication of just how strong his long game is.

Archer had more trouble with the double-tough little Harbour

Town golf links, an oceanside, 6,655 yard, par 71 layout that Jim Colbert called "the toughest course we've played all year."

Big George had three bogeys, once from a trap, once from the deep rough and once from the water. But he had six birds, o.y one from more than 10 feet.

Colbert, a balding young tour regular, was tied for third with veterans Charley Sifford and B. R. (Mac) McLendon, all at 69. Terry Wilcox, Fred Marti, Dave Ragen and Grier Jones, all at 70, rounded out the list of those who managed to break par.

DEAR ABBY: We are a group of girls in our late 20s who love to ski! The social life at night is marvelous. But we have one big problem.

MARRIED MEN! What is wrong with wives who let their husbands come up to a ski resort alone for a week-end? Are they naive? Or just plain stupid?

We girls are free, and are out for a good time, but basically we are looking for husbands. These married men probably tell their wives they ski all day and are too tired at night to do anything but sleep. [I wish their wives could see them at night. They are peppier than the bachelors.]

We do not want to get involved with married men, but how can we tell who is married?

Our only hope is for you to tell the wives to smarten up and either go with their husbands or keep them at home.

BUNNY

DEAR BUNNY: There is no way for a girl to tell whether or not a man she meets on the slopes, the beach or any other place men hang out is on the level. Her only protection is her own common sense. She should beware of giving too much of her heart [or anything else] to a man she knows only casually.

DEAR ABBY: My mother died recently, and the night she died Mom's sisters went over to Dad's house and went thru all Mom's things and took what they wanted. My dad was home, but he is blind, and was still in a state of shock over Mom's death so he couldn't be expected to stop them.

My question is this: Did they have a right to do this without first consulting my brother and me? And isn't it considered unethical to do this before the funeral?

I might add that I am furious because I left a pair of MY shoes at the house while I was staying there taking care of Dad during Mom's illness, and they even took THEM.

MRS. B.

DEAR MRS. B.: I can't imagine anyone wanting ANYTHING that desperately. Your aunts were clearly out of line. Ask your Dad to tell them to bring back everything they took until HE decides who shall get what. And if he's too timid, your lawyer can put it in a letter.

DEAR ABBY: I am an amateur photographer and I process my own film.

When my wife first became pregnant, several months ago, I asked if I could accompany her into the delivery room to take pictures of her giving birth to our firstborn child. At first she hesitated, but she finally agreed.

I purchased a very expensive high quality camera and have been looking forward to getting some exceptional shots of this "big event."

Now as the time draws nearer, my wife tells me that she has changed her mind and would be "embarrassed" for me to take such pictures. I would do my own developing so no one but my wife and I would see these photos.

Do you think she is being fair to me?

STATEN ISLANDER

DEAR STATEN ISLANDER: It's a woman's prerogative to change her mind, and I don't blame her.

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

For Abby's new booklet, "What Teen-Agers Want to Know," send $1 to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069.

Ever More Added To N.C. Campuses

RALEIGH (AP)—State-supported colleges and universities in North Carolina now enroll 64 per cent of the state's college students, an increase of 2 per cent over last year.

Dr. Cameron West, state director of higher education, reported Thursday that total college and university enrollment increased by 4.2 per cent this year to a total of 132,145.

Enrollment in public colleges showed a 6.3 per cent increase to 84,427. Private institutions, however, showed an enrollment drop of 0.1 per cent to 47,708.

A total of 40,923 students are enrolled in the six branches of the Consolidated University of North Carolina, a gain of 6.5 per cent. North Carolina State University had the biggest gain, 16.2 per cent to a total of 12,691. UNC at Chapel Hill was up only 1.2 per cent to 16,430.

The state's regional universities showed an overall gain of 5.7 per cent to 32,932. However, two of the institutions showed a loss. Fayetteville State University with 1,137 was down 8.5 per cent, and North Carolina A&T University with 3,714 was off 3.4 per cent.

East Carolina remained the largest of the regional universities. Its enrollment of 9,788 was up 5.7 per cent. Appalachian State University registered a 12 per cent gain with an enrollment of 6,252.

Among the private institutions, Duke University remained the largest, with 7,734 students; a gain of 5.6 per cent. Wake Forest University, with 3,210 students, was up only 1 per cent. Enrollment at 20 of the private colleges showed declines.

FAIREST OF THEM ALL—Miss World 1969, 20-year-old Eva Rueber-Staier of Austria, was crowned Thursday night in London as thousands cheered the blonde model from Vienna. As actor Omar Sharif placed the crown on the winner's head, women demonstrators demanding "liberation" of their sex booed the proceedings. Miss United States, Gail Renshaw, 22, of Arlington, Va., was second. (AP Wirephoto)

Offers Help Filling That Leisure Time

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Patsy Edwards says Americans, capable of great achievement on the job, sometimes can't find satisfying things to do in their leisure time.

So, for a fee of $27.50, she tries to help anyone who has that "ugh" feeling when days off roll around.

Her business is called "Creative Leisure." She and two part-time assistants provide suggestions for those who find weekends disappointing, vacations hard to fill and who dread retirement.

"People are getting more and more leisure time every year," 51-year-old Mrs. Edwards said. "The average man or woman has 25 hours a week of leisure time—and soon it will be up to 35 hours."

What's more, the pert, brunette housewife said, surveys show 30 per cent of all Americans are unhappy with the way they spend their free time.

A secretary in her 30s told Mrs. Edwards she felt a need to "express myself." But she didn't know where to begin.

Vocational interest tests indicated the client was highly interested in paleontology and archeology. Now the secretary spends six hours each weekend as a volunteer worker at the county museum.

A high school counselor and his wife were worried both about unfulfilling leisure hours and forthcoming retirement.

The wire was steered to a book study club. Her husband, oriented to the outdoors, was guided toward volunteer work in parks and a welding course that led to weekend mechanical chores.

A retired executive secretary, bored with efforts at creative writing, learned through testing that—although childless herself—she had a tremendous interest in youngsters.

She was directed to a center for early education of 3-to-6 year-olds.

Chains Her Car After Parking

VENICE, Calif. (AP)—When Pauline Cooper parks her 1957 Chevrolet after dark, she chains it to a lamp post.

She turned to the technique after the car had been stolen three times, twice in the last six weeks.

Police, who recovered the car each time, told her that the model is a favorite with auto thieves. Each time it has had parts missing when it was recovered.

In addition to buying a heavy chain and lock, Mrs. Cooper has had a burglar alarm installed.

"I'm a big woman. I have a rather large stomach. I don't fit so well in some of those new cars," the portly grandmother said in explaining why she wants to keep the car.

Warsaw Honors Revival Will Native Of Pitt BeLaunched

WARSAW—Francis Oakley of Kenansville, formerly of Greenville, was honored last Sunday night with a "This Is Your Life" program here.

Oakley, personnel director for the National Spinning Company's Warsaw plant, was born in Greenville, the son of John Beverly and Addie Porter Oakley.

He attended grade school on the East Carolina University campus and graduated from the Greenville High School in 1938. He re-enlisted in the U.S. Navy in 1950 and received his discharge in 1954. He then attended Pineland College in Salem, Va.

Members of Oakley's family participating in the program Sunday night were: Mrs. Henry Andrews of Greenville, a sister; John Oakley of Reidsville, the oldest brother; Rebecca Oakley, now Mrs. Scotty Lockamy of Greenville, Oakley's daughter.

The voice of Oakley's son, Woody, who is now serving in the U.S. Air Force, stationed in Florida, was heard on tape. Letters were read from Oakley's sister, Mrs. James Danford of Williamsburg, Va., and his brother, Godfrey Oakley of Toledo, Ohio, who were unable to attend.

The Oakleys have a third child, Margaret Ann, born May 26, 1959.

Two more sisters, Mrs. Floyd Peardon of Huntsville, Ala., and Mrs. Gertrude Ballard of Greenville, told of highlights in their brother's life.

Others participating in the program included: Miss Rosa Exum, Miss Novella Exum and Miss Bruce Exum, all of Greenville; Herbert Peirce of Hallsboro; Mrs. Mary Grey

FRANCIS OAKLEY

McNeill; Graham A. Phillips Sr.; Mrs. Kathleen Miller of Swansboro; Freddie Bell of Warsaw; Mrs. Janet Suttles of Warsaw and the Rev. Lauren Sharpe.

Oakley has been assistant Sunday School superintendent for the Baptist Church, Kenansville; chairman of the Officers and Teachers Committee; and teacher of the Men's Bible Class.

Oakley has served as chairman of the Duplin County Airport Commission; director of the Warsaw Little League; a member of the Boy Scout Committee; Past Master and Chaplain of the Warsaw Masonic Lodge; Scottish Rite Bodies; Duplin County Shrine Club and the James Kenan Boosters Club.

Following the program, a reception was held in the Original Free Will Baptist Church.

Revival services will be held at the Maranatha Free Will Baptist Church Monday through Saturday.

The guest speaker will be the Rev. Gordon Sebastian, pastor of the Peace Free Will Baptist Church, Wilson.

A native of Illinois, the Rev. Sebastian was converted and called to preach while serving aboard a battleship during the Korean War. He attended the University of Illinois and graduated from the Free Will

REV. GORDON SEBASTIAN

Baptist College.

He has pastored in three states and has ministered as an evangelist extensively. Services will begin at 7:30 each night. On Saturday evening, the service will start at 7 o'clock and a special youth night will be held.

The church is located on 14th Street East Extension.

There will be special music each evening. Nursery facilities will be provided.

SOLUTION OF YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE

Farmville Will Intent On Making FTC Hold Christmas A Consumer Instrument Parade Dec. 4

FARMVILLE — Farmville's annual Christmas parade will be held next Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Forming on Horne Avenue adjacent to the Farmville High School athletic field, the parade will move southward down Main Street to Cotton Street, where it will turn west and continue to George Street, turning northward to Wilson Street. It will then move eastward on Wilson, back through the central business district to Contentnea Street, northward on Contentnea to Grimmersburg, then back to the starting point.

The Chamber of Commerce, which sponsors the event, has received word that Santa Claus will be present.

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Caspar W. Weinberger says he is determined to make the Federal Trade Commission a tool for the average consumer to get a fair deal at the grocery store or the repair shop.

"I think the public in general doesn't have any idea of the functions of the FTC," Weinberger said during an interview in his Capitol office where he is winding up his work as state finance director.

Weinberger will take over as trade commission chairman about Jan. 1. He was confirmed by the Senate last week.

Weinberger, 52, a San Francisco lawyer, said he intends to use the FTC's 13 field offices for mobilizing task forces that will "go out in the communities and find out what are some of the consumer fraud practices and see what we can do to eliminate them."

He added that "we're not just going out on Main Street and into every supermarket," but will concentrate on working with local and state governments to see that consumers are armed with the information they need to make wise and safe purchases.

The biggest problem is that of the businessman who tells half truths or bends the facts," Weinberger said.

Weinberger said he hopes to convince businessmen that full truth in labeling, advertising and lending will inspire "much greater confidence in the private enterprise system."

who can drive a crooked nail?

No heartache surpasses that of earnest parents trying to mold the character of their child . . . and seeing daily the ominous signs of failure. But all the urging, pleading, coaxing and punishing we can muster is unlikely to change the course of a life that lacks spiritual backbone.

Who can drive a crooked nail?
The sooner religious training begins, the earlier its results become evident in a child's attitude and behavior. Your child's readiness to respond to parental encouragement and discipline is merely the reflection of those deeper qualities of personal integrity which spiritual growth will foster.

Let the Church help you raise your family.
God never meant you to try it alone!
