Tobacco Disease Loss

RALEIGH (AP) — Tobacco diseases reduced the value of North Carolina's $500 million flue-cured tobacco crop this year by about $20,250,000, or slightly more than 4 per cent. The estimates were released Tuesday by Furney A. Todd, North Carolina State University extension professor of plant pathology. The figures were compiled by Todd in cooperation with county agents.

Endorse Peace Effort

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon, who claimed one month ago today that the "silent majority" of Americans support his efforts to end the Vietnam war, has a 333-55 voting majority backing him in the House of Representatives. The 6-1 margin came Tuesday on a resolution supporting the administration's "efforts to negotiate a just peace in Vietnam." Some of those voting for the resolution did so with reservations, however. A last-minute addition to the resolution requests Nixon "to continue to press" North Vietnam to abide by a Geneva convention providing for the humane treatment of prisoners of war. The POW vote was 392-0.

Helicopter Crew Freed

SEOUL (AP) — Three American helicopter crewmen, released today after 3 1/2 months of captivity in North Korea, were reported in generally good condition after initial medical checkups. An Army spokesman said they are tentatively scheduled to leave for the United States Thursday morning—about 8 p.m. EST Wednesday. Col. Paul Sheffer, commanding officer of the 121st Evacuation Hospital 10 miles west of Seoul, reported that the three men "are happy to be out" and said their psychological outlook is good. He reported that all three had talked to their families. Their first destination in the United States was not disclosed.

Black Box For Jupiter

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The first spacecraft launched to orbit Jupiter in 1972 will carry a two-pound "black box" now being developed by scientists at the University of Southern California to provide a close-up study of the planet's atmosphere. Dr. Darrell L. Judge and Robert Carlson of the university's physics department are designing the instrument with a $750,000 grant from the National Aeronautics and Space Administration. "We only know about Jupiter's atmosphere from remote observation," Judge said Tuesday. "The planned fly-by of the planet with our instrumentation will give science the first close-up analysis of it."

Highway Safety Drive

RALEIGH (AP) — An intensified highway safety campaign will be conducted on television in North Carolina during December and January, the two most dangerous driving months of the year. Gov. Bob Scott announced Tuesday the campaign will be financed by the North Carolina Traffic Safety Council. He said the council was allocating funds to purchase prime time spot announcements. The campaign, Scott added, will be a joint undertaking by the safety council and the Department of Motor Vehicles. The governor noted that a similar undertaking was conducted as a pilot project in 1968 and contributed to the lowest accident and death rate in North Carolina during the past decade. Scott said he is hopeful of ending 1969 with fewer traffic fatalities than in 1968. If this happens it will be the first time in 15 years that traffic deaths have been fewer than in a previous year.

A freshman at N.C.S.U., she received a $600 scholarship. Temperatures through Monday will average below normal. Cold Thursday, warming through weekend and cold again Monday. Chance of a few showers late Saturday.

Peace Corps Recruiters Firm Believers In Value Of Their Work

By JERRY RAYNOR, Reflector Staff Writer
"I believe deeply in the work of the Peace Corps," comments Ivan Rosales, a native of Managua, Nicaragua, now on a recruitment campaign at East Carolina University. Rosales and John Collis, Peace Corps area representative from Chapel Hill, came to ECU Tuesday and will remain through Friday in an effort to interest volunteers in a number of fields of work with the worldwide Peace Corps program. Both are young men who are obviously dedicated to a movement which has won acclaim both at home and abroad as one of the most unusual—and effective programs ever put into operation. The work is often arduous, hours are long, conditions are often relatively primitive and the pay scale is very low—yet today there are 15,000 Americans of a wide range in ages, experience and economic levels actively serving in 60 countries throughout the world. Perhaps the answer to this appeal lies in the basic simplicity of the program. "The Peace Corps is an individual thing," Rosales declares. "It is not just another organization, it is a place where people can find a chance to work with and serve his fellow-man." Collis explains, "While we are at ECU, we will be meeting with classes, groups, individuals, fraternities... in fact any people who have time to let us tell them about the work." "There are many fields in which volunteers are needed," he remarks. "The greatest needs now are in agriculture, health and in teaching. This of course covers many jobs and many individual positions." Rosales adds, "There is also a need for plumbers, mechanics, and many other manual workers." Openings for the varied occupational positions are not predetermined by any set pattern. "Each participating country submits its needs from time to time," Collis comments. "Often the pattern of need remains fairly predictable. Sometimes we have a heavy demand for a particular type of worker. For example, India has requested a number of hydrologists." Both men are bachelors and not many years out of school.

Nearly a thousand persons turned out yesterday in Greenville to vote on the $4 million utility bond program and by roughly a three to one margin, all four sections of the issue were passed.

Voters in the Elm Street Gym precinct responded to the election in much greater numbers than those residing in the Main Fire Station area as over 700 voted at the gym and slightly less than 250 turned out at the fire station.

The four sections of the bond program; sewer, water, electricity, and gas, all received a wide margin of affirmative votes at both precincts.

The approval of the issue yesterday will mean $1 million in bond revenue for the water, $1.5 million for sewer $5 million for gas, and $1 million for electricity.

The water bonds, along with federal grants, are to be used to increase the current water treatment plant capacity from three to six million gallons of water per day and to provide for expansions of the plant facilities.

Also, funds will be used to reinforce mains in the city and to extend water mains to the new residential and commercial sites, and an extension of transmission mains to serve the industrial park area.

Sewer bonds will be used for the expansion of the waste treatment plant from a four to eight million gallons per day capacity. Funds will also provide for an extension of sewer outfalls to industrial sites and areas of the city not currently being served.

The half-a-million earmarked for the gas bonds will go for an extension of natural gas mains into the industrial park area and into other areas where it has been determined economical to convert bottle gas customers to natural gas usage.

Adequate transmission lines and new substations to serve the heavy industrial, commercial and residential loads of the city will be built with funds from electric bonds. In addition, a general upgrading of the city's street light system, to include replacing some of the old lighting units, will require a portion of the funds.

The authorization of the bond program yesterday qualified the city for federal grant assistance on water, sewer and gas programs. Applications totaling $1,341,433 have been filed by the Utilities Commission with the Economic Development Administration for funding assistance and their commitments were pending the bond passage.

A grant of $278,500 has been requested from EDA for water treatment plant expansions and $303,133 has been sought for work on the water transmission mains.

Assistance totaling $602,300 has been requested from EDA for expansions of the sewage treatment plant and outfalls and matching funds of $157,500 is the request for the gas mains project.

In all cases, grants from EDA will be on a matching funds basis with GUC providing half of the total and EDA the rest. Local funds will come from the bond sales and sale of all the bonds at any one time will not be necessary barring an emergency.

GUC director Charles Horne said that the bonds will be sold only when revenue is needed and if possible only when the bond market is favorable. Commitments to bid on the bonds have been received from Wachovia, Planters National and North Carolina National Bank.

Applications for a ten per cent grant on the projects has been filed with the Coastal Plains Regional Commission and commitment from them was also pending the bond passage.

"I was very pleased that the people understood and passed the program yesterday," Horne said, "and steps will be taken at the next commission meeting to determine just where we will start our program."

Horne said that the Commission would wait until word is received from EDA before any action is taken. The EDA office has been notified already of the passage of the bond program, Horne added.

A general breakdown of the voting yesterday showed that the four-part issues all received firm approval at both voting precincts.

At the fire station, 181 votes were cast for the sewer issue and 62 voted against. Elm Street Gym voters passed the bond by a 588 to 163 margin.

At the water bonds reflected a 170 affirmative showing and 65 against at the fire station. At the gym, 585 voted for the issue and 172 voted against.

Fire station tabulations were 171 for the electrical bonds and 63 against. Results at the gym were 580 for an 166 against the issue.

The gas bond segment of the program was passed by a margin of 173 to 65 at the fire station and 570 to 176 at the gym.

Overall, 769 voted for the sewer bond and 225 voted against. Water bonds votes total was 755 for and 227 against. The electrical bond issue was passed by a total vote of 751 for an 229 against and the gas bonds were authorized by a 743 to 241 margin.

Mekong Village Attack By N. Viets Repulsed

By GEORGE ESPER, Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — North Vietnamese troops attacked a district town in the Mekong Delta today, but 300 militiamen, police, civilians and government pacification workers repelled them and claimed 150 of the attackers killed.

Field reports said 29 of the defenders were killed, 15 of them civilians, and another 50 persons were wounded, 30 of them civilians.

It was the biggest enemy assault in the delta in six months. The attack on Tuyen Binh, 58 miles west of Saigon, began with a nightlong barrage of nearly 300 rockets and mortar rounds from across the Cambodian border 800 yards away. Then as many as 500 North Vietnamese army regulars followed up with three ground assaults, storming the town from all sides.

The third and final assault came at daylight. The North Vietnamese withdrew into Cambodia after the five-hour fight, leaving many dead hanging on the barbed wire perimeter. Some North Vietnamese broke through the perimeter but were cut down.

American advisers said the "defenders acquitted themselves extremely well." They considered the victory significant because of a number of government reverses in the delta since American infantrymen were withdrawn from the region last summer as part of the Vietnamization program.

The advisers speculated that the attack was a "training exercise" for soldiers who recently arrived in Cambodia from North Vietnam. No South Vietnamese army troops were stationed in Tuyen Binh, and the Americans said there have been several such training attacks against targets considered pushovers.

American fighter-bombers and armed helicopters supported the defenders, but by the time they got into action, much of the fighting was over. Two American crewmen were injured when their helicopter was shot down.

The North Vietnamese left behind a large amount of equipment including 47 rifles, six machine guns, 300 hand grenades and more than 200 pounds of TNT. One North Vietnamese soldier was captured.

Elsewhere in the northern sector of the delta, a company of 70 South Vietnamese militiamen was ambushed for the second time in less than 24 hours, and 10 militiamen were killed.

The company was returning from an operation when it was ambushed for the first time Tuesday night, losing an unreported number of men. Nearing its headquarters about 50 miles south of Saigon this afternoon, the remainder of the company was hit again by Viet Cong soldiers hidden along a paddy dike. There was no report of any enemy casualties.

These were the only major ground assaults reported today, but the U.S. Command said there were 58 enemy rocket and mortar attacks in various parts of the country from 8 a.m. Tuesday to 8 a.m. today. It was the largest number of such attacks in nearly a month, and one American was reported killed and 16 wounded.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Foreign Relations Committee has quietly shelved Sen. J. W. Fulbright's bid for an inquiry into the impact of the Vietnam war on the mood and morality of America.

Fulbright, the Arkansas Democrat who heads the committee, said his idea was motivated by the alleged massacre of South Vietnamese civilians by U.S. soldiers.

Fulbright said he did not propose an inquiry into the alleged slayings at My Lai itself. Instead, he said he wanted a hearing soon on the significance of the incident: "What is happening to us as a result of the war?"

Sen. George D. Aiken, the senior Republican member, said the proposal was an effort to see what ails the world. "I told him we ought to call some Washington taxicab drivers in and they could tell us what was wrong with the world," Aiken said. "He didn't laugh."

Sen. Daniel K. Inouye, D-Hawaii, called the My Lai incident a national disgrace, and said if there is a way out "it is to be found only through the prompt, complete and public investigation of what has occurred, the proper punishment of those responsible, and through every effort to determine why My Lai happened."

In a Senate speech Tuesday, Inouye, who lost his right arm in World War II combat, asked whether the nation can condemn the men accused of the My Lai killings while justifying "a policy of indiscriminate bombing and artillery attacks on inhabited villages and hamlets."

He also criticized U.S. military training, which he said permits references to the Vietnamese as "gooks, dinks, or slopes."

"I think you can have war without shooting down women and children," said Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex. "These are war crimes and are against civilized law."

But Aiken said "I expect this kind of thing happens in every war."

New Efforts On Mideast

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The Big Four have agreed to make new efforts to keep the Arab-Israeli conflict from endangering world peace. Their representatives met for almost four hours Tuesday, resuming talks broken off five months ago, then issued a communique describing the situation in the Middle East as "increasingly serious and urgent." They reaffirmed their conviction that it must not be permitted to risk world peace and security.

U.S. Ambassador Charles W. Yost, Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Ignaty A. Malik, French Ambassador Armand Berard and Lord Caradon of Britain declared in their communique that their objective remained unchanged—to promote establishment of a lasting peace in the Middle East on the basis of the U.N. Security Council resolution approved unanimously Nov. 20, 1967.

The resolution called for withdrawal of Israeli forces from Arab territory occupied in the 1967 war and recognition of permanent boundaries. It envisaged a negotiated durable peace. But neither the Arabs and Israelis nor the Big Four can agree on how the resolution should be implemented.

The Big Four representatives will meet again Saturday.

Israeli Destroy Base In Lebanon

By RONALD THOMSON, Associated Press Writer
TEL AVIV (AP) — Israeli troops raided southeast Lebanon this morning, destroyed an Arab guerrilla base, killed 12 Arabs and wounded many others, the Israeli military command reported. It said one Israeli soldier was killed and five wounded.

The Israelis said the camp destroyed was Jebel Rus, on the southwest slope of Mt. Hermon. A spokesman said the raiders captured a large number of weapons and destroyed equipment, ammunition and guerrilla positions. It was the first Israeli raid into Lebanon since the Lebanese government early in November agreed to allow Arab guerrillas to operate freely in some parts of southern Lebanon. The agreement was reached after two weeks of clashes between the Lebanese army and the guerrillas and extreme pressure from Egypt and Syria on the Lebanese regime.

The Lebanese army also reported the Israeli raid but made no mention of casualties. It said the Israelis were flown across the border and withdrew after a 2 1/2-hour battle. The Lebanese communique said Israeli artillery started shelling the hills around Kfar Chouba and Chebaa mountain villages held by Arab guerrilla forces, and followed up the artillery barrage by landing infantrymen on the slopes overlooking the villages.

The villages are just over a mile from the Israeli border. Israeli forces attacked both villages earlier this year.

The mountainous Arkoub area encompassing them has become a stronghold of Arab guerrilla forces, but contingents of Lebanese army troops have been reported stationed there recently.

Adopt Rules For NATO

BRUSSELS (AP) — Twelve nations approved today new rules to guide the North Atlantic Treaty Organization in the use of tactical nuclear weapons if Communist forces should thrust in strength toward the West.

Defense ministers of the NATO alliance also accepted updated plans for a streamlined system of crisis management.

Informants said this centers on arrangements for improved political consultations with the President of the United States — as custodian of the allied deterrent — in the period preceding any decision to initiate nuclear warfare against an invader.

NATO's defense planning committee — with France maintaining its boycott — also reaffirmed that the strategy of the alliance remains based on the principle of flexible response. There have been fears in some European countries that a shortage of conventional force is driving allied military leaders back to their old strategy of massive retaliation even against a conventional attacker.

Surf Wrecks 81 Hawaii Homes

HONOLULU (AP) — A swollen surf continued to batter Oahu's devastated north shore today where 81 homes were destroyed or damaged by 50-foot breakers. Officials called it Hawaii's worst natural disaster since a 1960 tidal wave. Authorities reported at least two storm-related deaths, including that of a man swept out to sea by a monster wave. They said at least 15 persons had been injured, three seriously.

The requirements volunteers must meet are only that they must be 18 years or older, have some skill which is needed, and be in good physical condition," Collis enumerated. "Many of our workers are not young people. Some are retired farmers, technicians, teachers and people from all walks of life.

Double-Duty Sleepwear Stars At Holiday Time

Throw away the traditional this holiday season and enjoy a potpourri of sleepwear and loungewear fashions that capture all the frivolity of the festive period.

The layer-on-layer concept, the season's hottest news, is based on garments that can lead double or triple lives. Mini shifts, tunics, jumpers and pants are all part of the excitement. Each piece can be teamed with others or go it alone ... and the trick is to put on or take off as many layers as you like.

Amid all the versatility and individuality, femininity reigns supreme. Filmy, body-shaping fabrics, sheers and see-throughs, flurries of pleats and touches of luxurious lace add a romanticism and ultra-feminine feeling to the twilight hours that is reminiscent of the luxury of past decades.

In short, the mood is soft, sexy and sensual.

Double-duty interchangeable sleepwear—loungewear—helps you make the most of the holiday mood. Longitunics or mini sleep shifts can top pants or go it alone for bed-time, lounging or parties. Add vests or jumpers to long, liquid gowns. Add or subtract pants to suit your mood or occasion. Accessorize with chunky chains or layers of scarves. It's

One of the best put-ons of the season are pants. Whether shown in culotte gowns, or teamed up with long tunics that also can be worn separately, pants are becoming a way of life. What's more, pants are taking on a dressed-up look that makes the fashion point in the most feminine manner.

Shower Given Miss Lois James

Miss Lois James, December bride-elect, was honored at a miscellaneous shower Saturday night in the Falkland Community Building.

Hostesses were Mrs. Bobby Ray Harris, Mrs. John Tripp, Mrs. Jack Harris and Mrs. Roy Parker.

Upon arrival, the bride-elect, wearing a burgandy knit dress trimmed in white victorian lace, was presented a corsage of white pom poms and ribbon.

Guests were greeted by Mrs. Jack Harris. Games were led by Mrs. Tripp. After the games, gifts of china, crystal, linen and other miscellaneous items were opened by the bride-elect.

The guests were then invited to the refreshment table which was covered with a white linen cloth. The centerpiece was made of pink and white snapdragons and white pom poms. One each side of the centerpiece were three branched candelabra holding burning pink tapers.

Mrs. Jack James, mother of the bride-elect, served bridal squares and Mrs. John Tripp poured punch.

Good-byes were said to approximately 25 guests.

Big Snow Job Strands Group

NICE, France (WNS)—Huguette Carcassonne, who was born and brought up in the sun of the French Riviera, always dreamed of being married in the snow of the Alps. She more than got her wish when she wed Bernard Giraudon in the Refuge of the Madonna in mountainous Fenestre. There was so much snow that the bride, groom, priest and 60 guests were stranded in the tiny chapel. Special equipment had to be sent to rescue them. "We shall have our honeymoon in Africa," decreed the groom.

Central to the holiday fashion versatility and feminine feeling are new super-soft fabrics. Supple fabrics such as Enkalure nylon, Encon polyester and Crepeset nylon drape, cling and swing to capture the body-shaping mood of today, and though they look as delicate and fragile as silk or crepe, they are completely machine-washable and dryable, wrinkle-resistant and won't stretch out of shape.

His Snoring Drives New Bride Nutty!

By Abigail Van Buren

(© 1969 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd., Inc.)

DEAR ABBY: Now please don't get me wrong, I am not knocking my bride, I am only telling you this so you can make a fair judgment. Before Mary [not her real name] and I were married we stayed together in plenty of motels over week-ends and like that. She seemed to be satisfied with me, but right after we got married, Mary decided that my snoring drove her nuts, and she couldn't sleep in the same room with me. So now I have to go sleep on the couch in the other room. This is not like I pictured married life.

We can't afford a two-bedroom apartment as yet, but Mary says that is the next step. Maybe I'm wrong, but if my snoring didn't drive her nuts BEFORE we were married, how come it drives her nuts now? SLEEPING ALONE

DEAR SLEEPING: Maybe your snoring DID "drive her nuts" before you were married, but not quite "nuts" enough for her to send you to separate sleeping quarters. Lovers seem able to tolerate far more than married folks.

DEAR ABBY: I am 24 and just got out of prison. I pulled my time but none of my so-called friends will have anything to do with me. I've thought of moving to a new town, but they say that running away is not the answer.

What should I do, Abby? I trust you, and will look for your answer. NO SAINT

DEAR "NO SAINT": I don't know who "they" are, but "they" could be wrong. In order to start life over with a clean slate, perhaps it would be better to go to new surroundings where you are not known. "Old friends" are frequently the worst for one who has pulled his time. I vote for a move, and new friends. And good luck.

DEAR ABBY: Why are people so mean? My daughter is in a home for unwed mothers. The baby is due soon and everybody knows where she is, and who got her pregnant.

So why is it that everywhere I go, friends and relatives have to ask, "How is she? When is the baby due? Is she going to keep the baby?"

Abby, I have nearly cracked up over this, and am under psychiatric care right now. I am told to put it "out" of my mind. How can I when people keep reminding me?

I am sure the daughters of these people are no better than mine. It's just that mine got caught.

It hurts enough knowing I will never be able to hold my first grandchild, and I can't sleep at night for wondering who will get it and raise it.

Please say something to help me. Or tell everybody else to keep their big mouths shut! Sign me . . . MISERABLE

DEAR MISERABLE: Avoid all those who have been so cruel and tasteless as to mention your daughter's present situation. If someone brings up the subject, cut him or her off in mid-sentence saying you don't care to discuss it. And if necessary, walk away.

Bride-Elect Entertained

Miss Sandra Lee Lance, bride-elect of David M. Peele of Raleigh, was honored at an open house given by her mother, Mrs. Lee J. Lance, on Sunday afternoon.

Special guests were Mrs. Elwood Cox Peele of Raleigh, mother of the bridegroom-elect, and Mrs. Marvin O. Causey of Greensboro, grandmother of the bride-elect.

A green and white theme was used throughout the house. The refreshment table was covered with a floor length pale green satin cloth overlaid with a green floor length net which was caught up at intervals with greens bows. The centerpiece was a bride doll.

Presiding at the punch bowl and Mrs. R. F. Williamson, assisted by Miss Ann Gilbreath of Greensboro, who will be maid of honor in the Dec. 14 wedding to be held in Montreat at Gaither Chapel, Montreat-Anderson College.

The open house was held to give local friends an opportunity to see the bridal gown, attendants' dresses, trousseau items and wedding gifts.

For the event, the bride-elect wore a corsage of white mums which complimented her kelly green dress.

Should Children Eat Separately During The Holiday Season?

AP Newsfeatures
Should children eat Thanksgiving or Christmas dinner at a separate table? This is a question that plagues many mothers during the holidays and, unfortunately, there is no pat answer. Ideally, of course, says Good Housekeeping Institute, children who are old enough to be on a diet of solid food should take their meals with adults during the holidays. The holidays, traditionally, are a family time and often they are the only occasions when various relatives gather together. Allowing children to eat at the same table not only gives them a chance to be with seldom-seen relatives it also eliminates many cooking and serving problems. If children eat before the adults, keeping the turkey and vegetables fresh and warm until the adults are ready to sit down can be a problem. Keeping meats and gravy at room temperature after serving may promote bacterial growth, which can cause food poisoning. So if at all possible serve adults and children at the same time. After a busy day of opening and playing with new presents, and greeting favorite relatives, children are likely to work up an appetite sooner than adults. If you plan to feed the whole family at once, make sure the children have a large breakfast or lunch, whichever precedes the dinner, to keep them from clamoring to be fed until the adults are ready to eat. When it is impossible to feed the whole family together—perhaps you don't have the room or the table space—don't worry about it. Youngsters will not feel cheated or deprived if parents explain why they are eating at a separate table. However, when a large age gap exists between the youngsters—for example one or two are teen-agers and the others are 7 or 8—let the teen-agers eat with the adults. Otherwise, they may feel slighted.

New Registration Explains It

A big decrease in registered North Carolina voters would normally be a cause of alarm, but this time there is an explanation.

The state Board of Elections reported the voter registrations now total 1,867,327, which is a decrease of 210,277 during the past year.

The big drop was due to new registrations which removed from the books persons who had died or moved from the state.

Other than that, little seemed to be changed. Democrat registration dropped by 153,427 to 1,415,432. The Republican total declined by 48,623 to 400,104. Thus both parties decreased by about the same percentage.

American party registration increased by 211, but the total is still only a very small percent of the registered voters at 6,795. Independents and no party designation dropped by 7,148 to 45,086.

White registration totalled 1,571,508, a drop of 173,982. Negro registration decreased by 29,383 to a total of 285,745. This represents about a 10 percent drop for both races.

So it appears that Tar Heels are not inclined to change their party registrations, even though Republicans are running stronger in the state races and there was considerable sentiment for the American party last year.

What is happening in North Carolina is that most Democrats are clinging to their party registration, but they are showing more willingness to vote independently in general elections. While this trend might prove uncomfortable for Democrats, the party faithful can take hope from the fact that not too many Democrats are switching their registrations. Because of this many disgruntled Democrats can be expected to return to the ranks of the faithful at some time in the future.

New Justice Moore Is Setting Good Example

Former governor Dan Moore is setting a good example in resigning from the boards of two corporations now that he has become an associate justice on the North Carolina Supreme Court.

Justice Moore announced that he would resign from the boards of Durham Life Insurance Co. and Wachovia Corp.

"In serving the people of North Carolina as an associate justice of the Supreme Court it is my personal belief that it would be advisable for me to resign my position as director of these two companies," he said.

Judges and all persons in public life are going to have to watch more closely their private business ties in the future if they are to avoid criticism of their public activities. Justice Moore has shown that he recognizes this and he has taken the necessary steps to remove any possible chance of conflict of interest.

The Re-Examined Policy

WASHINGTON—It is 1970, the networks have all re-examined their news policies as requested by the Administration and here is the result.

"Direct from our newsroom here in the White House is the evening news with Ronald Ziegler and Herb Klein in Washington, Strom Thurmond in Athens, Ga., and Ronald Reagan in Sacramento, Calif. And here is Ron Ziegler."

"Good evening, ladies and gentlemen. All was peaceful and tranquil at the White House today. President Nixon worked in his office conferring with advisers and visitors. The President lunched with Mrs. Nixon and took a walk in the rose garden, stopping to talk with a 6-year-old boy who was peeking his head through the fence. The boy, whose name was Michael Redfern, of Boise, Ida., told the President he was a member of the Silent Majority and supported his efforts to find a just and honorable solution to the war in Vietnam and that he was proud of the job the President was doing. The President was so pleased he presented Michael with a meat-loaf sandwich. And now to Herb Klein in the Executive Building."

"Thank you, Ron. The latest Gallup Poll has just revealed that 98 per cent of the people support President Nixon's domestic policies. This was two points up from last month when the President's popularity sagged momentarily, when milk was raised to $1 a quart. And now to John Volpe at the Department of Transportation."

"Administration officials said they were terribly pleased with the progress being made on the SST airplane. In a test yesterday only 7,000 windows were broken in Boston as opposed to previous tests when 10,000 windows were shattered in Providence, R.I. Engineers hope to have all the bugs worked out of the SST by 1967, at which time the costs, now running at $4 billion, will start going down.

Other Editors Say Should Show Colors

(Henderson Dispatch) Thinking in Washington is that President Nixon may nominate another Southern judge or lawyer to the Supreme Court vacancy following rejection of Judge Clement Haynsworth of South Carolina. Senator Ervin is of that opinion, and Senator Hugh Scott, Pennsylvania, Republican leader in the Senate, said a conservative should be chosen.

Some comment has been that the seventeen Republicans who deserted the GOP President would rally to a Southern conservative if he were free of unethical charges aimed at Judge Haynsworth. Well, Nixon should give them a chance to show their colors. Widespread belief is that Haynsworth was rejected more because he was a Southerner than because of his investments or other dealings. If another man from this section were nominated, it would at least put them on the spot, forcing either acceptance or trumphing up some theoretical or imaginary excuse. Senator Ervin has proposed appointment of Associate Justice Susie Sharp of the North Carolina Supreme Court. But Nixon is not likely to name a woman jurist. There are too many male politicians in a receptive mood. Judge Sharp is abundantly qualified, but she is too wise to be investing as yet in the black robes of the high court.

Judge Haynsworth is reported to be considering resigning from the Federal Circuit Court of Appeals. But that would be a course of unwisdom. Not the least question has been raised as to his fitness for that duty; nor were there valid reasons for denying him the office to which he had been named by the President. It would be more to his discredit to quit than to remain, although in the sincerity of his thinking he must be disgusted with what happened in the Senate Friday. He would have the right to be.

ART BUCHWALD

"There was more integration in the South this week and for that story we go to Strom Thurmond in Athens, Ga."

"Despite Justice Department pleas to give the school boards more time to work out a reasonable plan, two black children were admitted to a school in Mississippi yesterday. The integration took place peacefully and without violence and Administration officials said they were very pleased. The institution admitting the black students was the Mountain Valley School for the Blind. And now to Atlanta, Ga., and our correspondent John Mitchell."

"Thanks, Strom. Gov. Lester Maddox entertained leaders of the Republican

Morgan Cited Role Of Office

By WILLIAM A. SHIRES RALEIGH The aim of the state's new consumer protection law, according to Atty Gen Robert Morgan, is to keep the free enterprise system free.

Morgan is preaching this in speeches and statements across the state and is prodding the consumer protection office of his Justice Department to pursue that broad goal as vigorously as possible.

"The concept of free enterprise has never included freedom to injure buyers through deceit, to overcharge through conspiratorially rigged prices, to run a government granted regulated monopoly into a private freedom.

WILLIAM SHIRES

"Thus we do not view the effects of our office in the field of consumer protection as anti-business—rather as efforts to keep the free enterprise system free," Morgan says.

Protection—Morgan feels strongly that the consumer protection division is a result of public demand that the average citizen be protected from "deceptive and fraudulent practices.

It means simply, he says, that the state has a duty to intervene on behalf of its citizens in cases in which their interests might not otherwise be protected. He feels that in many instances, regulatory law places other elected or appointed officials in an "untenable" position insofar as the public is concerned.

Clashed—Taking such a position, Morgan already has clashed with the Commissioners of Insurance and Agriculture by sending consumer protection at torneys or appearing himself at hearings on insurance rates and milk price controls.

Both Insurance Commissioner Edwin S. Lanier and Agriculture Commissioner James A. Graham took exception to any inference that they were not looking after the public interest.

Morgan replied that under existing law these officials must act both as hearing officer, prosecutor and defender and often find that their hands are tied in making decisions. He cited the fact that Lanier's denial of insurance rate increases regularly have been overturned by the courts.

Of course, Morgan says, the rights of industry must be recognized and respected, including a right to a fair return on investment and to a fair hearing and due process.

"But the very nature of the adversary system of our common law requires an advocate for the consumer," Morgan says. He contends that perhaps many such hearings are one-sided. The petitioner or petitioners have a battery of attorneys and experts on hand to offer testimony. They present facts and figures which they have prepared. Who is to speak and present the case for the public?

Morgan believes that a more vigorous consumer protection policy will give the people more confidence in regulatory authority.

Youth—Leaders of both major political parties are becoming increasingly aware that young voters soon—in fact already may—hold the balance of power in elections. It is estimated that more than 35 million citizens reached legal voting age this year alone. In 1970 there will be as many or more.

Conferences are being held to discuss the matter of how to attract these new voters to a party allegiance and bring them actively into party affairs. How successful either party will be remains to be seen.

Claim Blunder By McCormack

By ROWLAND EVANS and ROBERT NOVAK

WASHINGTON—On the day before Thanksgiving, when Capitol Hill is usually deserted, liberal Democratic Congressmen met privately to protest the complexity of their leader, Speaker John McCormack, of Massachusetts, in helping the Nixon administration set a trap on the politically tender Vietnam issue.

The trap is a resolution introduced by Rep. Jim Wright, a moderate Democrat from Texas, affirming House support "for the President in his efforts to negotiate a just peace in Vietnam."

With 310 sponsors, the resolution is assured of passage. But it poses this dilemma: should liberal Democrats give a Republican President a blank check on Vietnam that never mentions troop withdrawals or should they risk the ignominy of voting against a "just peace"?

Some Democrats fear their 1970 reelection hinges on this vote. "This is going to cost us 40 seats," Rep. Phillip Burton of California shouted at Wednesday's meeting of the liberal Democratic Study Group (DSG). That may have been deliberate hyperbole. But several others present talked about "walking the plank" on the Wright resolution.

What particularly frustrates DSG liberals is that the trap could have been avoided. It would have been easy for Speaker McCormack and the majority leader, Rep. Carl Albert of Oklahoma, to bottle up the resolution in the House Foreign Affairs Committee and block a vote.

Thus, DSG members view leadership handling of the resolution as another political blunder by McCormack, displaying insensitivity to political needs of rank-and-file Congressmen. The incident, accordingly, could cast a long shadow toward January, 1971, when McCormack seeks reelection as Speaker.

Wright introduced his resolution Nov. 4, the day after President Nixon's Vietnam speech. A few days later, Mr. Nixon himself interpreted it as an endorsement of his policy. Hawkish Democrats headed by the vociferous Rep. Wayne Hays of Ohio promptly called on McCormack to bring the resolution immediately to the House floor.

McCormack resisted, but he did assure priority treatment by the House Foreign Affairs Committee, graveyard for all Vietnam proposals ever since Lyndon B. Johnson rushed his Tonkin Bay resolution through in 1964. McCormack asked the committee chairman, Rep. Thomas E. Morgan of Pennsylvania, to report the Wright resolution to the floor without delay. That's what happened, with a coalition of Democratic and Republican hawks beating down efforts to delay by holding hearings.

Nor did the McCormack-Albert leadership lift a finger when the House Rules Committee, acting under White House pressure, approved a floor procedure barring all amendments. This prevents Democrats from going on record for Vietnamization and troop withdrawal.

So, in frustration, more than 50 DSG members gathered in the Foreign Affairs hearing room of the Rayburn Building Wednesday morning. Of these, only three—Ed Edmondson of Oklahoma, John Murphy of New York, and Wright himself—defended the leadership. All others, including many McCormack stalwarts, were outraged.

Specifically, the liberals were trying to establish that, contrary to Wright's argument, the resolution was

Strength For Today

THE DRUG MENACE
 The use of habit-forming drugs is becoming the greatest menace of modern times. Every day brings accounts of sons and daughters of prominent persons who got "hooked" and either committed suicide or went to prison.

Alcohol keeps the world up to its neck in trouble. Smoking undoubtedly has caused plenty of lung cancer. But there is more danger in a habit-forming drug such as heroin or LSD or marijuana than most people like to think about.

First of all, we need severe laws that will be continuously and strictly enforced. A dope-pusher needs everything a hard and realistic judge can give him. Anyone selling or giving habit-forming drugs to a minor is worthy of the most extreme penalty.

How about the doctors of our nation getting together, instructing parents, then preparing courses that can be given to young people warning them of this fearful menace. The testimony of those who ought to know is that young people try it first as a lark. "I'm just going to try it this once to see what it does to me." Snake-charmers in India play a pleasant melody and make cobra snakes do whatever the charmer wants them to do—but the amateur had better not try this. Twenty thousand people are said to die every year in India from the bite of the cobra, but drug addiction is even worse—it's a living death.

Let us be merciful—not on the pushers but on the victims.

Some Kind Of Recession Ahead

By ELMER ROESSNER

In olden times, the bearer of bad tidings to the king was slain. So kill me. It will not be a depression, but a recession which, by definition, is at least two quarters in which the growth of the economy fails to materialize.

Mind you, I am not creating a recession. I am merely bringing the tidings.

ELMER ROESSNER

Tidings: Paul W. McCracken, chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisors, writes in the Michigan Business Review that "restrictive monetary and fiscal policies are beginning to cool America's long overheated economy."

The Department of Commerce states that "the scattered evidence now available... appears to confirm that there has been some further slackening in the economy's momentum. With manhours, personal income, industrial production and residential construction signaling less strength, and with important strikes exerting a dampening influence, it is likely that the gross national product will expand less in the current quarter than in the third."

Consumers Planning To Spend Less
 The National Industrial Conference Board reports that consumer buying plans in September and October dropped moderately from last spring and slightly from July and August.

Milton Friedman, the distinguished economist who is reported to have considerable influence on the Nixon administration, told a conference in Phoenix that the nation is in the first stages of a moderate slowdown and is likely to experience a severe recession.

"If the Federal Reserve continues to keep the growth of the money supply at zero for another two or three months, I find it hard to see how we can avoid a severe recession," he said.

Dr. Friedman added, "We are already needed for a recession at least as sharp as that in 1960-61. There is more than a 90 per cent chance of that. There's more than a 50 per cent chance of a really severe recession such as occurred in 1957-58, when unemployment reached 8 per cent."

Banker Sights Depression
 William F. Butler, vice president and chief economist of the Chase Manhattan Bank, told the Sugar Club in New York that there is a big chance of a

With Tongue In Cheek

By LYNN SHERR

Associated Press Writer
 NEW YORK (AP) — Once it took fig leaves to make the world's great art works acceptable to a prudish public.

Then came centuries of social change, and the fig leaves dropped away from the likes of Adam, David and Venus.

Now, author-humorist Dan Greenburg thinks the bodies ought to be covered up again.

With tongue planted morally in cheek, Greenburg, best known for writing "How to Be a Jewish Mother," recommends clothing naked paintings and statues in the interest of decency. And he does it, not with fig leaves, but with painted-on clothing.

Greenburg's book, "Porno-Graphics—The Shame of our Art Museums," is a super put-on which is really more of a takeoff. It consists of 19 reproductions of the world's nudist art works, demurely camouflaged beneath acetate overlays and cardboard cutouts in the style of the original artist.

Venus de Milo wears a toga to cover her armless torso. A Mughliani nude sports a slinky red dress. Michaelangelo's Adam and Eve, together with the snake, are attired in bright-hued bikinis.

And Botticelli's Venus sails along on her half-shell with yards more golden hair than the artist intended.

All the cover-ups are removable—to expose the works au naturel.

Even the $2.95 price tag peels off from the book cover.

"I used to do these in my spare time—as a joke," Greenburg, 33, explained in his East Side Manhattan duplex apartment where the walls are decorated with a real Campbell's soup can and an empty cheese carton.

"I had all these nudist magazines, see, and I wanted to clean them up," he said. "And then I realized there were a lot of other filthy pictures in the house and so I cleaned them up, too."

It began, he recalled, with a post card of two birds touching beaks. Greenburg pasted a snip of black tape over the point of beak contact.

"He had it framed and hanging up when I first met him," explained his wife, Nora Ephron Greenburg, a free-lance writer herself. "I was glad to see he was a man with the right values."

From post cards and nudist magazines, Greenburg graduated to art books with high quality reproductions. Now, at least one friend—actor George Segal and his wife—has asked him to clothe a full-sized painting of a naked lady on the wall.

Trained as an artist at the University of Illinois, Greenburg earned a master's degree at UCLA and spent several years in advertising before turning to full-time writing.

He has written several novels, many magazine articles and two one-act off-Broadway plays besides the best-selling "Jewish Mother."

This One's Best To Jack Benny

By BOB THOMAS
Associated Press Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—An advance review on Jack Benny's television special for tonight: "Sensational!" The reviewer: Jack Benny.

The reviewer bears the best of credentials for his evaluation: lengthy service in his field; sagacity in judging performances; articulate judgments. The only thing he might lack is objectivity.

Yet Benny, ageless, though 75, remains as enthralled by show business as the most green of juveniles. The results can be seen tonight on "Jack Benny's New Look" over NBC.

"I think it's just great," he remarked with sincerity in an interview at his office in Beverly Hills. "Every show I've ever done on television I've found some fault with. I mean, I always find something that could have been better, once the show was put together."

"This one, no. I liked every inch of the film, and I even saw it without color. Now if a show looks good to me in black and white, you can imagine how it would look in color!"

Benny was proudest of his coup in snagging Gregory Peck as song-and-dance man on the show. He admitted his reluctance to approach the actor, but his producer, Irving Fein, said, "Ask him—the worst he can do is say no." Benny asked, Peck pondered, later said, "Why not?"

"This one, no. I liked every inch of the film, and I even saw it without color. Now if a show looks good to me in black and white, you can imagine how it would look in color!"

Benny was proudest of his coup in snagging Gregory Peck as song-and-dance man on the show. He admitted his reluctance to approach the actor, but his producer, Irving Fein, said, "Ask him—the worst he can do is say no." Benny asked, Peck pondered, later said, "Why not?"

Yet Benny, ageless, though 75, remains as enthralled by show business as the most green of juveniles. The results can be seen tonight on "Jack Benny's New Look" over NBC.

"I think it's just great," he remarked with sincerity in an interview at his office in Beverly Hills. "Every show I've ever done on television I've found some fault with. I mean, I always find something that could have been better, once the show was put together."

The theme for the meeting will be "Family Life—The Role of the Public Health Nurse session: Sex Education".

Safety Club To Meet Thursday

A program entitled, "The Christian and Christmas" will be presented by Rev. Richard Knowles, assistant pastor of the First Presbyterian Church here.

Evans-Novak...

(Continued From Page 4) not necessary to end the Paris negotiating stalemate. Averell Harriman, President Johnson's negotiator there, was brought into the meeting to say that the Wright resolution was a lot of bunk that would not make the slightest impression on the Communists.

Wright was then pressed to say whether his resolution is a flat endorsement of the Nixon policy. He replied that he drafted his proposal before the President's Nov. 3 speech, but aside from that gave no clear reply.

Irritation was directed mainly at Edmondson, the conduit between the DSG and his friend, Majority Leader Albert. Edmondson won no converts with his claim that the Wright amendment was a political coup by the McCormack-Albert leadership that would prevent Republican campaigners next year from attacking Democrats for undercutting their President on the war.

Rather, the linkage of Albert, the choice of DSG leaders to replace McCormack as Speaker, with the McCormack strategy has now cost him heavily among the liberals. "Carl may wind up as minority leader instead of Speaker," grumbled one gloomy liberal.

"Thank you, Governor. President Nixon was asked today at an impromptu press conference whether he supported Vice President Spiro Agnew's plan to withhold Social Security from anyone over 65 criticizing the Administration and living within the geographical confines of New York or Washington, D.C. The President said he was aware of the speech but had no comment. And that's the way it is May 12, 1970. This is Ron Ziegler saying good night."

Plan Grand Jury Case For 7 In Tate Slayings

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Police prepared a grand jury case against at least seven persons today in the Sharon Tate slaying, linked by an attorney to a cult of hippies who knew their leader as "God" and "Satan."

A preliminary hearing was also scheduled in Independence, near Death Valley, for Charles Miles Manson, 34, described as head of the occult group. He is charged with possession of stolen property.

Testimony probably would be confined to a raid on a hippie commune last October in the Death Valley area, said Dist. Atty. Frank Fowles. Deputies arrested 23, then released all but 17. The latter were held on a variety of charges including auto theft. They included Manson.

Miss Tate, 26, blonde actress wife of Polish film director Roman Polanski, was shot and stabbed last Aug. 9 at her plush, rented Bel Air estate. Also murdered were three of her jet set friends — Hollywood hair stylist Jay Sebring, coffee heiress Abigail Folger and Polish playboy Volodyk Frokowsky — and Steven Parent, 18, a friend of the estate's caretaker.

The following morning, Leo and Rosemary LaBianca, wealthy owners of a Hollywood market chain, were slain in what police described as an attempt to copy the Tate killings.

Under arrest in different areas of the country in the Tate case are Linda Kasabian, 20, taken into custody in Concord N.H.; Charles D. Watson, 24, who surrendered in McKinney, Tex.; and Patricia Krenwinkel, 21, apprehended in Mobile, Ala. Authorities were preparing extradition papers to have them returned to California.

Police said several members of a nomadic group of hippies, last camped near Death Valley and including Watson and Misses Krenwinkel and Kasabian, committed all seven killings. They declined comment on statements by an attorney linking this group of hippies with Manson's cult.

Chief Edward M. Davis said indictments would be sought from the county grand jury Friday against the three arrested and "four or five others" whom he wouldn't name. Davis has said, however, that some of those in custody in Independence "may be involved."

Richard Caballero, the attorney who connected the slayings with Manson's group, represents Susan Denise Atkins. Miss Atkins, 21, is charged with murder in the slaying of musician Gary Hinman in his Topanga Canyon home last July. Caballero entered a plea of innocent on Miss Atkins' behalf. He said, however, she was present when Hinman was slain.

Caballero said Miss Atkins was among several persons whom he said Manson "hypnotized" and "intrigued" into believing they "belonged to him." He said most were women.

Caballero said Miss Atkins, known as Sadie Glutz when she was picked up in the Independence raid, and others among Manson's followers were present at the Tate and LaBianca slayings.

Caballero said his client "had nothing to do with the murders," as she was under what he described as Manson's "hypnotic spell."

Caballero said Manson was known as "God," "Jesus" and "Satan" among his followers.

Author Will Visit Here Wednesday

The "Yankee Revenooer" man is coming to Greenville Thursday. Author John Kearns, a retired U. S. Treasury Agent, will make a full day of appearances beginning at 7:15 a. m., when he will be a guest on "Carolina Today" on WNCT-TV, Channel 9.

Beginning at 4:00 p. m. and until 6:00 p. m., Kearns will be at the Book Barn downtown Greenville to autograph copies of his just published book, "Yankee Revenooer." The autograph party is being sponsored by the Lambda Chi Alpha national fraternity.

Proceeds from this activity will be for the benefit of the Arthritis Foundation. This is his third autograph appearance in North Carolina. Previous ones were held in Charlotte and Raleigh.

Dr. Leo Jenkins, president of East Carolina University, is scheduled to attend the autographing party.

At 8:00 p. m., Kearns will be a guest at the meeting of the Greenville Writers Group meeting at the home of Mrs. Betty Casey.

Kearns, a resident of Raleigh, for many years was a revenue agent with the U. S. Treasury Department. His book, with its opening theme set in New York City and Washington, D. C. relates in the greater part to moonshine activities in Eastern North Carolina. It has been called a man's story, and is a series of personal reminiscences gathered from on the scene observations. Better known as "Jack" or "Race", John Kearns has been credited with raiding more illicit stills of all sorts and sizes than any man of his age in America.

His varied experiences in long years of liquor law enforcement activities are vividly recorded in "Yankee Revenooer."

Playhouse Tickets To Go On Sale

Tickets become available tomorrow (Thursday, December 4) for the East Carolina Playhouse production of "A Flea in Her Ear" which runs December 10-13 in McGinnis Auditorium.

Playhouse General Manager James Slaughter has advised those people wishing to attend the production to purchase tickets early.

"Approximately 750 people were turned away without tickets for 'Finian's Rainbow', Slaughter said, "and we feel 'A Flea in Her Ear' will be just as popular."

The French comedy, which has been termed "one of the funniest plays ever written," was recently made into a motion picture starring Rex Harrison.

The Playhouse box office is open in McGinnis Auditorium 10:00 A.M. to 4:00 P.M., Monday - Friday and 10:00 - noon on Saturday.

Mail orders are accepted at Box 2712 in Greenville, and telephone reservations at 758-6390. The tickets are $2.00 to the general public.

Scott Backs Power Plants

SOUTHPORT, N. C. (AP) — Gov. Bob Scott and several state agencies are supporting the plans of Carolina Power & Light Co. to build two nuclear power plants, the atomic energy Commission was told Tuesday.

Roy Sowers, director of the Department of Conservation and Development, said his agency and the governor "are convinced that the electric power to be provided by these plants is essential to the growth and development of the state, and more particularly eastern North Carolina."

The AEC held a hearing on the petitions of CP&L for permission to build two nuclear power plants near Southport.

Sowers said the state agencies supporting CP&L are the Board of Water and Air Resources, the Department of Administration, the Wildlife Resources Commission and the Board of Health.

He released a statement from Dr. Jacob Koomen, state health director, who said the board "believes that the proposed facility can be operated without undue hazards to the public's health."

Organized labor in North Carolina charged that a nonunion company scheduled to build the two plants for CP&L cannot hire enough skilled workmen to construct safe facilities.

Tickets As Gifts Ready

Christmas Gift subscriptions to the 1970 East Carolina University Summer Theater season are now available, according to an announcement by general manager James Slaughter.

The Christmas subscriptions will be available through December 20. In announcing this special plan for purchasing tickets to the five musicals to be given in the 1970 season, Slaughter commented: "Numerous patrons have pointed out to us that Summer Theater subscriptions make delightfully original Christmas gifts for family and friends."

"We want to make it possible for residents of Eastern North Carolina who want to give something really special a chance to do so."

The gift subscriptions will be mailed in an attractive greeting card with the sender's name affixed.

A one-year subscription, priced at $18., entitles the holder to see five musical productions. These are: "Hello, Dolly," "The Pirates of Panzance," "George M," "A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum," and "Man of La Mancha."

Christmas subscriptions (and regular subscriptions also) may be purchased at McGinnis Auditorium at ECU, by mail at Box 2712, Greenville, or by telephoning 758-6390.

Insulation At Plant Site Caught Fire

Fire trucks from Greenville, Winterville, Staton House and Bethel departments were called to the Burroughs-Wellcome plant site on N.C. 11 north of Greenville yesterday when a stack of roofing insulation caught fire. Firemen remained on the scene for several hours pulling insulation from the pile and wetting it down to insure against the fire rekindling. The insulation, stacked on the ground outside the office section of the new facility, was ignited, officers said, by sparks from a welding torch in the area. No estimate of the damage was available this morning.

Rampants Open Season With 76-52 Win

By WOODY PEELE
BEAUFORT—The Rose High School Rampants opened their 1969-70 basketball season last night with a 76-52 victory over East Carteret.

The Rampants, looking very good at times, and ragged at others, fought off challenge after challenge by the Mariners to record their first win as a 4-A Conference cage team, and their first under new coach O. A. Meteye.

Balanced scoring, and complete control of the backboards did most of the damage for the Rampants, and the defense showed signs of becoming very tough in the coming weeks.

East Carteret got most of its scoring from Alton and Billy Best, a brother combination. Alton did most of his shooting from behind screens set up by the weaving offense of the Mariners, which Billy got his points from underneath the basket.

Rose got almost equal scoring from four of its five starters. Charlie Harris led the way with 16 points, while Willie Smith, Ray Peszko and Mike Harrington each contributed 15. The Rampants never allowed East Carteret to hold the lead in the game, and after the first half, they seldom came within 10 points of the Rose quintet.

But it was only in the final few minutes of the game that the Rampants were able to wear down the resistance of the Mariners and streak away to their seemingly easy victory.

The Rampants showed much potential, however, and may be a team to be reckoned with before the season is much further along.

Harrington pushed the Rampants into the lead in the game, hitting on a rebound after just over 30 seconds had elapsed.

Peszko then hit on one of his push shots for a 4-0 lead before East Carteret finally got on the board with a pair of free throws, one by Alton Best and the other by Dave Booth. Peszko then picked up two more baskets to run the margin out to six at 8:2 before the first Mariner field goal, a hook by Billy Best with a minute and a half left in the frame.

Willie Smith hit on a driving shot, and another fast break by Harris, coupled with a free throw pushed the Rampants to a 13-4 lead at the end of the period.

Alton Best scored to start off the second period on a steal, but a free throw by Smith and a tap by Peszko pushed the margin to 10 at 16:6 with 6:51 to go in the half. Smith struck again, and the margin moved out to 12.

But East Carteret fought back, the first of several times. Both hit on a push shot, and the Best brothers combined on a couple of jumpers to cut the lead to 18-12 with 4:47 to go.

Again, Rose pulled away. Harrington hit from underneath, and Trent Hill picked up the second Rampant three-point play on another driving layup, and it was 25-14. East Carteret again came back, with a pair of Best baskets, cutting it to 27-20.

But Buckets by Peszko and Billy Clark ran the lead back out to 31-20 by intermission.

Another three-point play, this time by Peszko, ran the lead to 14 at 36:22, early in the third period, but the Mariners just refused to quit, and battled back again. The lead fell back to eight at 36:28, and then again at 42:34 to make it 18, and Joe West followed with a basket to run the lead over 20, sealing the victory.

The Rampants continue their non-conference competition against former Northeastern foes on Friday, traveling to Roanoke Rapids. They play their home opener Tuesday against East Carteret.

Bethel Indians Go On Warpath, Scalp Robersonville, 81-36

By CARL TYER
REFLECTOR Sports Writer
BETHEL—Bethel High School's girls basketball team extended an impressive win string streak to 36-1 last night, taking a 45-32 non-conference victory over Robersonville. The Indian's boys team also took top honors, downing the Rams boys 81-36, to make their record 6-1 for this season.

The Squaws are the defending Pitt County Champions, and were undefeated last year. Their only defeat this year so far is at the hands of South Edgecombe, also a non-conference game.

With four returning starters on the girls team, the Bethel squad had little trouble with their visitors, although they had a cold spell in the first quarter and had to come back from a 11-5 margin to take their win. They outscored their opponents 14-4 in the second quarter to lead at the half 19-15, and went on to take their win by out scoring Robersonville 14-8 in the third frame, and 12-9 in the fourth.

Debbie Purvis tied it up at 13-13 for Bethel in the second quarter with 3:16 to play, but Robersonville went ahead with a basket by Debbie Edmondson to make it 15-13 before Susan James put in two to tie it up for the last time of the evening. Brenda Ippock put Bethel ahead for good on the last score of the first half.

Susan James was high scorer for Bethel with 16 while Carolyn Whichard had 11, and Miss Purvis had 13.

Nan Roberson led Robersonville with 13, while Miss Edmondson had 11.

The boys contest was never close, with Robersonville's man to man not being tight enough to hold the Indians.

Bethel poured in six points before Timmy James hit for the Rams. From then on Bethel continued to pour in the points, ending the first quarter with 22, while the Rams had eight.

The second frame was not much better for the Rams, as they dropped off to five points, while Bethel was picking up 26.

Returning starter Eddie Stokes paced the Indians scoring with 32 points, sitting on the bench for a majority of the second half.

The Indians used a fast break that seldom failed in the closing minutes of the second half to mount up their 48-13 half time lead.

The Rams made a game of it in the third frame, even though they did not out score their opponents, picking up 12 points to Bethel's 15.

Stokes was followed by Gary

Whitfield Nips Stokes, 69-67

STOKES—Things are not looking too good for the defending Pitt County Boys Basketball champions Stokes Blue Jays as they took their fifth defeat last night, falling to G. R. Whitfield 69-67. It was the second time Whitfield has defeated the Blue Jays this year. Whitfield won the game in the last three seconds of play with a basket by Harold Jones, who also led the Whitfield scoring with 23.

The Blue Jay girls team also ended up on the low end of the pole in their game falling 43-37.

In the girls game, Stokes led 9-7 at the end of the first frame, but Whitfield outscored them in the next two quarters, 12-9 and 16-7 to take their win. The Blue Jays pushed in 12 in the fourth quarter to eight for Whitfield to end the game at 43-37.

The defeat also gives the Stokes girls a 2-5 record, the same as the boys. Jane Johnson and Cherry Fleming had 10 each for Stokes, while Barbara Johnson had 12, Carolyn Hawkins 15, and Mavis Thompson 16 for Whitfield.

In the boys game, Stokes had to come from behind in the third frame to narrow a lead

S.C. Ticket Plans Given

Due to heavy demand for tickets to the South Carolina-East Carolina basketball game, next Wednesday, it has been necessary to establish a special policy for this one game, Athletic Director Clarence Stasavich said today.

"We regret this move is necessary," Stasavich said, "but in order to accommodate our students, we find it necessary to limit ticket sales to the general public."

"Students will be allowed to pick up tickets until 5 p.m. on Friday, with remaining tickets going on sale to the general public at the ticket office in Minges Coliseum at 8:30 a.m. Monday.

"We regret any inconvenience this might cause our supporters, but it was determined this was the only feasible way to handle the problem," Stasavich said.

When tickets go on sale to the general public, no person will be allowed to buy more than six. It has been previously announced that only season ticket purchasers, and members of East Carolina boosters clubs would be guaranteed seats for the South Carolina game.

Bryant Sparks Robinson Win

WINTERVILLE — Robinson High School broke open a close game in the second half to roll to a 91-67 victory over Newbold High School last night as Ivey Bryant turned in his second straight 40-point plus night.

Bryant, who connected for 40 in his last outing, dumped in 20 field goals and eight free throws against Newbold for a total of 48 points.

Newbold slipped into a slim 19-18 lead at the end of the first period of play in the game. Both teams played even ball in the second period, each with 19, and Newbold held on for a 38-37 edge at halftime.

But after that, it was all Robinson. The Tigers came back and clawed out 27 points in the third period, while holding Newbold to 15. That pushed Robinson into a 64-53 lead. Then, in the final period of play, Robinson outpointed Newbold, 27-14, to win going away.

Besides Bryant's 48 points, Ernest Hyman dumped in 23. Kilpatrick had 24. W. Counce had 16 and Jenkins had 10 to pace Newbold.

In the junior varsity preliminary, Robinson romped to a 76-48 victory.

Temple Returns With An Upset

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Temple Owls have taken right up where they left off at the end of last season's college basketball campaign. They won a game most everyone expected them to lose.

Boston College was supposed to beat Temple in the final of the NIT post-season tourney last March, but it was the Owls who won 89-76. On Tuesday night the Owls, with only one starter back from their NIT championship team, upset 14th-ranked St. John's of New York 60-59.

Two free throws by Drew Nolan with 45 seconds left won for the Owls as they dedicated their new $9.2 million gymnasium, McConigle Hall, at Broad Street and Montgomery Ave. in Philadelphia.

"The kids knew they had a challenge in St. John's and they did a good job," said Harry Litwack, veteran Temple coach, after Nolan's free throws erased a 59-58 St. John's lead gained on a three-point play by Ralph Abraham with 52 seconds on the clock.

Boston College again was upset, this time by Boston University 76-70. It was the first victory by the Terriers over the Eagles in 10 years and came on the sharpshooting of Jimmy Hayes. He threw in 33 points.

Eighth-ranked Marquette, the only team in the Associated Press Top Ten to play, crushed Northern Michigan 98-60.

Illinois, led by Greg Jackson's 26-points, bowled over Butler 83-67. Julius Eving, a sophomore, scored 27 points to lead Massachusetts over Providence 90-85, and Artis Gilmore, Jacksonville's 7-foot-2 junior, tallied 31 points to lead the Dolphins over Morehead State 117-63 and the championship of the Sunshine Tournament at Jacksonville.

Skip Young's conversion on a technical foul shot with two seconds left gave Florida State a 69-68 squeaker over Oregon State at Tallahassee. Oregon, also on a road trip, fell before Wichita State 97-84.

Southern Illinois defeated Texas, Arlington, 82-73. St. Louis overcame St. Cloud State 65-62. Army whipped Lehigh 74-61. Cincinnati humbled Macmurray 99-64 and Georgetown, D.C. shadded American U. 80-78.

In other games, Utah State downed Sacramento State 85-65, Washington trampled slidaho 105-58. U. of Pacific beat Hayward State 75-60. Baylor routed Texas Wesleyan 89-49 and Dartmouth, paced by Alex Winn's 29 points, whipped Worcester Tech 67-58.

South Lenoir Rips Grifton

GRIFTON—South Lenoir took two basketball games from Grifton last night, with the girls winning 39-28, and the boys going by the home team 70-49.

The Lenoir girls outscored their opponents in three quarters to take their win, picking up 11 in the first to eight for Grifton, nine in the second to one for the Rams, and 11 in the fourth to seven.

Grifton picked up 12 in the third to eight for Lenoir in their only high scoring frame.

Carol Posey led South Lenoir with 15 points, while Donna Smith had 14. Grifton did not have anyone in double figures.

In the boys contest, Grifton led at the end of the first quarter 14-13, but fell behind in the second, with 12 to 27 for their visitors, and that led to their defeat.

South Lenoir outscored them in the remaining two quarters with 14-11 and 16-12 scores.

John Bird led the South Lenoir scoring with 25 points, their only player in double figures. Grifton also had one man in double figures with Mike Foss pouring in 14.

Teddy Kennedy Feels His Burden As Family's Elder

By JOSEPH E. MOHBAT
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Anticipating the death of his aged father not long ago, Edward M. Kennedy said: "Well, then I'll really be it. And that's a lot."
Now he is it.
In six wrenching years he has gone from Teddy, the carefree kid brother, to eldest male and leader of the famous family.

The newest burden, descending late in his 38th year, fell at a time when Kennedy was moving at a dead run to escape the long shadow of the midsummer tragedy of Chappaquiddick Island.
He still bears heavily the death of Mary Jo Kopechne. But all things considered—for a man who had survived the murders of two brothers and the violent deaths of three companions within arm's reach in vehicle accidents, and whose name and future had come under a nasty cloud—the young senator is recovering remarkably.
Four months after the night on Chappaquiddick, those who know Kennedy best testify that he is regaining confidence and spirit, walking taller, and even getting more satisfaction than ever from his work as a senator.

The nightmarish night off Martha's Vineyard and Kennedy's subsequent moves had virtually stilled the incessant talk about his running for president in 1972. It's now evident that for him, it was the lifting of a millstone from his shoulders.
"Now," a close friend said, "Teddy's in the position of being able to concentrate on those issues he's interested in—Vietnam, the draft, pollution, the poor—and handle them as he himself would like, rather than as he might think he has to as a presidential contender—you know, less candidly."

"He can take things on squarely and say what he feels without worrying about what people, and the Nixon administration, are going to say about his motives.
Even at a glance, it's apparent Edward Kennedy has come a long way from the gloom that gripped him after Chappaquiddick. Great spells of depression were commonplace then as he wondered who his friends were, what would become of his political effectiveness—and, most important to him, what he had done to the family name and the memory of his slain brothers.
He still keeps in close touch with Miss Kopechne's parents. His battle against a belated autopsy on the girl is less for legal reasons—his advisers think it could only help him—than in sympathy with their opposition.
But now, as he awaits the long-delayed inquest into her death, expressing eagerness to clear up at last the remaining unanswered questions, he is able again, among friends, to laugh and enjoy himself. He continues to keep his public appearances businesslike and still hasn't reached the point where he will again dress up his speeches with humor. But those who know Kennedy well report that he's "snapping back."
"I guess not having to read about it in the press every day helps," Kennedy said recently, admitting that he was feeling better.
"Now I'm looking forward to next March. By then the legal things (meaning the pending inquest into Miss Kopechne's death) should be cleared away, and then we can ... You know, March has always been sort of a good month. The sap's rising on up, there's the St. Pat's parade in Boston ..."
Kennedy missed the traditional Columbus Day parade in Boston's North End, usually a must for Boston politicians. The sign of his complete emergency from the gloom of 1969 will probably be his appearance at the head of the St. Patrick's Day parade. It also will mark the beginning of an all-out re-election campaign against a Republican who hasn't even come forward yet to challenge him.

But now, with his father dead, December has been cleared of most official business to allow Kennedy to assume leadership of the vast family.
Joseph P. Kennedy had been gravely ill for most of eight years and was 81 when he died. But he had been there, a symbol and rallying point for the troubled, clannish Kennedy progeny. Now he is not.
"You watch Teddy," a family intimate had predicted. "His father's death is really going to hit him hard, even if it isn't a matter of shock or prolonged grief. But this thing about representing the family, being the last of that bunch of brothers, the last Kennedy—he takes that terribly seriously."
And soon after the Kennedy sire's death, the same friend reported from Hyannis Port:
"Almost immediately you could see very well in Teddy's face, his eyes, his whole manner, the mantle shifting to his shoulders."
Dozing in a chair, then shifting to a sleeping-bag when his ailing back pained him too much, the only survivor of four sons had spent all of the last nights of his father's life at the bedside. The first night after his death, the senator again camped beside the brown steel coffin in the sun-room of the rambling white frame house on Nantucket Sound.
"Watching him around the compound after that," the friend recounted, "walking on the beach with his mother, having lunch with Ethel, playing soccer and touch football and painting with the kids—he's truly determined to lead the family now and do well by it. He's obviously trying to be all things to all people: a son, a father, a husband, a brother—a patriarch, if you can say that about some one Teddy's age."

Kennedy has changed physically since Chappaquiddick. He has dropped at least 15 pounds from his huge frame—"a hell of a way to lose weight," he says wryly—and allowed his hair to grow longer.
With the shedding of weight his face has thinned, his eyes have become more intense, to a point where more often than ever now, he shows traces of Robert Kennedy, even to the dry, humorless, hissing laugh, the cold, upward glances from the downcast face.
Before the accident, the Senate's No. 2 Democrat had followed a full, varied schedule. Now he has seemingly doubled the tempo. At the time of his father's death, he and his staff were planning a crushing schedule of subcommittee hearings into air and water pollution, air traffic congestion and other issues.

He had already begun a series of pre-campaign visits to Massachusetts, where he is hoping for an overwhelming vote of confidence in seeking a second full Senate term next year.
Kennedy coyly denies any hope of surpassing the record 1.2-million-vote margin by which he won in 1964.
"But I think we'll win big," he says—a fairly safe prediction in the continuing absence of an opponent and the evidence that the Bay State is still very much Kennedy country.
Early in November, Kennedy made his first extended tour through the state since Chappaquiddick, testing the climate of public opinion through a number of visits carefully linked to his role as member of a number of Senate subcommittees.
In Springfield, Northampton, North Andover, Boston, the response was as warm as ever.

Driver Again Makes Trip

POUGHKEEPSIE, N.Y. (AP) — Mrs. Alice Ramsey, who in 1909 became the first woman to drive an automobile across the United States, celebrated the 60th anniversary of the event by doing it again—this time from her home in Covina, Calif., eastward.
Accompanied by Miss Elizabeth Elliott, Mrs. Ramsey made the trip to attend the reunion here of the Vassar College class of 1907, of which she was a member. She also visited her son, the Rev. John R. Ramsey of Ogdensburg, N.Y., and her daughter, Mrs. R.S. Bruns, of Largo, Fla.
"This is probably my last long automobile trip and I wanted to see all my friends," she explained.
In 1909, when she lived in Hackensack, N.J., she drove west in a four cylinder Maxwell that was capable of a top speed of 42 m.p.h. This year she drove a Mercedes Benz, at speeds ranging up to 75 m.p.h.

Millions Attend 'Colorama' Show
NEW YORK (AP) — When Edward T. Simms, Jr. of La Jolla, Calif., walked into the exhibit area under the famed giant color photograph in Grand Central terminal recently, Eastman Kodak chalked up its 20 millionth visitor.
Opened in May, 1950, the exhibit center and its companion photo gallery have drawn approximately one million New Yorkers and out-of-towners annually. Typical of many of the visitors, Mr. Simms, vice president of a San Diego bank was in New York attending a convention.

NEW YORK (AP) — One of the nation's business leaders has urged that the country's business community lead a comprehensive effort to revitalize Washington, D. C., and its environs.

Robert W. Sarnoff, president of RCA, called for a massive pilot program involving housing, transportation, race relations, employment, health, welfare, education, communications, law enforcement and air and water pollution to provide a full-scale test of the "system approach" as a means of solving the nation's urban problems.

"The capital belongs to all our people. A comprehensive systems effort to revitalize the city should evoke a nation-wide response as broad and enthusiastic as that inspired by the Apollo moon landings," Sarnoff said.

Businessmen can correct the notion that planning is an attempt to impose a rigid outline of the future and to make reality conform to it, he added. "The fact is that a workable plan must be an open-ended system designed to allow for all foreseeable contingencies, for changing conditions and for feedback from all the interests affected," Sarnoff said.

MSGT. Palmer White Jr., son of Mrs. Palmer White of Williamston, is on duty as a member of the Aerospace Defense Command air and ground support crews who are operating the experimental prototype YF-12A aircraft at Edwards AFB, Calif. White is an aircraft pneumatic technician with ADC. He attended Williamston High School and is married to the former Feliz G. Gutierrez.

ECU Will Host Meet Of Ass'n

Minges Coliseum at East Carolina University will be convention center for an expected 700 participants in the 22nd annual convention of the N.C. Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation (NCAHER) this week.

NCAHER president Dr. Edgar Hooks Jr. of ECU said the theme of this year's convention is "Tell It Like It Is." Dr. Hooks, a professor of health and physical education here, announced that the convention will open Thursday, Dec. 4, at 11 a.m. with an executive board meeting.

The three-day convention will consist of a series of general sessions and business meetings which will feature a number of presentations and lectures dealing with various aspects of health, physical education and recreation.

Opening the first general session Thursday at 8 p.m. will be Dr. Celeste Ulrich, professor of physical education at the University of North Carolina at Greensboro. Anationally known speaker, Dr. Ulrich has chosen the topic "This is For Real."

ECU President Leo W. Jenkins will welcome the convention at of physical education and recreation for the Joseph P. Kennedy Jr. Foundation, will be guest speaker at Friday's convention luncheon.

Among the many topics to be discussed throughout the convention are: "Back to the South's final decision in today's fiercely contested auction proved costly to his side.

South opened the bidding with one heart and West overcalled with two diamonds. From this point the contest waxed furiously until West got up to five diamonds. North doubled; however, South proved unwilling to defend inasmuch as his holding appeared to lack defensive merit. He persisted to five hearts which was doubled by East.

West opened the king of diamonds on which East signaled mildly with the five. West promptly switched to the four of spades in an attempt to obtain a ruff. He reasoned, from his partner's penalty double, that the latter was certain to hold either the king of spades or else a trump trick.

South could have saved a trick by going up with the ace from dummy and drawing trump. However, he was unwilling to settle for down one and, in an all-out attempt to make the contract, he put in the jack of spades from dummy. East played the king and returned a spade of which West trumped. The ace of clubs completed the damages, and the defenders registered a tidy profit of 500 points on the deal.

Had South stood for his partner's double of five diamonds, that contract would have been defeated one trick—declarer losing a spade, a heart, and a club. The situation was admittedly difficult to judge, particularly since South lacked defensive strength, and his partner's double might have been based on the expectation that the opening bidder would take two or three tricks.

Our criticism of South is directed against his free bid of four hearts. He would have placed himself in a better strategic position by passing at this point, to let his partner have a voice. Observe that North's original jump response is forcing to game, so that he must take some action when the four diamond bid comes around to him.

If North chooses to double, South may now bid four hearts—thereby making it clear to partner that he lacks defensive strength. If the opponents persist to five diamonds and North doubles again, South may place his reliance in partner's decision.

Track." "What's Happening in Black Dance?" "Stop the Class, I Want to Get Out," "A Child Is Waiting" and "New Teaching Ideas."

The convention will close Saturday afternoon with a joint meeting of old and new officers, including Dr. Hooks and incoming president Mrs. Jay Massey of Meredith College, Raleigh.

NCAHER is a component of the American Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation. It takes its membership from among teachers of health, physical education and recreation, safety, driver training and outdoor education in the schools, colleges and universities of North Carolina. Staff members of any official public health, recreation or athletic agency in the state, superintendents, principals, supervisors and classroom teachers of public and private schools, and college and university students majoring in health, physical education and recreation.

According to Dr. Hooks, the aims of the organization are to stimulate interest in the fields and to advance standards of teaching. The association is governed by an executive board of eight members.

Venice Turandot For Washington

NEW YORK (AP) — Julius Rudel, director of the New York City Opera Company, will open the season at the Teatro Fenice in Venice on Dec. 12, conducting a new production of Puccini's "Turandot."

Settings have been designed by Beni Montresor.

Rudel plans to bring this production to the United States for the opening festivities of the Kennedy Center in Washington, during the fall of 1971.

HERE'S A SWITCH
PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — A new spotlight switch for trucks and trailers that has been turned on and off in a million tests without failing has been developed by engineers of the Williams Air Controls Division of Omark Industries. The engineers claim the switch is so reliable that a driver could apply his brakes 50 times a day for 20,000 days—54.8 years—without having to replace it.

Succeeds In A Man's World

NEW YORK (AP) — Brushing aside the old adage that business is a man's world, Jacqueline Sher, 25-year-old president of the Madjac Data Co., Inc., a leading data processing center, has introduced the first magnetic tape encoder service here.

"Businessmen who thought computer punchcards were the greatest thing that had ever happened to simplify and speed up their business operations will be amazed when they see the new magnetic keytapes," said the youthful president. She points out that magnetic keytapes eliminate the need for punch cards and reduce the amount of file space needed.

Miss Sher is a perfect example of how quickly one can advance in a new and growing industry. In 1962 she started as a key punch operator. Now she is president of a publicly owned company, which employs more than 40 operators and almost 100 people in total.

Our tennis, volley and basketball facilities are useable practically year-round.

Swimming and wading pools are, of course, seasonal. Adult Club and Children's Playrooms are there anytime.

Mainly we've tried to create something you can't buy — a happy atmosphere. A rare thing these days. Come and see and feel it.

Sorry our 3-bedroom apartments are all gone. But we have a few 1 and 2 bedroomers of infinite charm.
