Lt. Gov. Taylor Reminds Influence Of Politics Is Major Factor In Living

"Politics is never over. . . It is not a lake. It is a river, because people's lives, individually and collectively, and the forces which influence those lives are in perpetual motion," Lt. Gov. H. Patrick Taylor told the Pitt County Democratic Women, who met at the Greenville Golf and Country Club last night.

He said he favors extending suffrage to 18-year-olds "because they are just as well qualified to vote as many of those who vote now and better qualified than some. They need a constructive channel for their energy, their concern, and their idealism. And our party and our state need that energy and that idealism."

He said the Democratic Party should be modernized from within "all the way down to precinct level—involving more people and making that involvement more meaningful. The Democratic Party will stand or fall on its contemporary merits, with little or no support left over from our past," he said. "We Democrats need to take the lead in making state government more responsive."

The lieutenant governor was presented a key to the City of Greenville by Mayor Frank Wooten, the first such key Mayor Wooten has given.

Mrs. Joseph Steelman presided at the meeting and Miss Janice Hardison introduced the speaker. Mrs. Dave Speir, as program chairman, arranged for the speech.

Grifton Crowds Turned Out To Greet Arrival Of Santa

THE WINNING FLOAT. . . sponsored by the Grifton Rescue Squad, shows rescue aid being given to Santa and his reindeer. The Future Homemakers of America, sponsoring a "Joy" of Christmas float, took second place in the competition, while the Grifton Pharmacy and the Lion's Club floats tied for third. (Reflector Staff Photo by Lorraine Sullivan)

Reflector Staff Writer
GRIFTON—A throng of people, two thirds of them children, stood along Grifton's Queen Street yesterday afternoon to see the "jolly red fat man" in the annual Christmas parade here. Marching to the musical strains of "O Christmas Tree," the Kinston High School Band led the parade. They were followed by a float depicting a cozy Christmas Eve night, complete with fireplace, entered in the float competition, by the local Lions Club.

Then came floats sponsored by Herring's Department Store and the Grifton Rescue Squad. Brownie Troops 279 and 36 and Girl Scout Troop 222 rode on trucks trying their best to sing Christmas carols above the roar of the motors, while Cub Scout Troop 24 braved the cold as they marched not in formation down Queen Street.

A number of beauty queens, including Cheryl Franklin Grainger High School homecoming queen; Bonnie Hahn, Rose High queen; and Sue Wade, Grifton High School queen, rode in convertibles—some with tops left up.

The North Lenoir High School Band, followed by the South Lenoir High School Chorus, added to the festivities with a chorus of "Jingle Bells."

Finally Jolly Ole St. Nick made the scene, bombarding kids with bubble gum and candy as he cruised along the parade route.

Even after the parade had disappeared around the corner, the kids remained seated on the curb trying to absorb more of the "merry" of Christmas.

Bond Election Results Are Ruled Official

A resolution declaring official the results of the special bond election held Tuesday was passed by the City Council at a call meeting Wednesday. Council members reviewed the final tally of votes, and noted that registers and oaths of registrars and judges were in order in accordance with legal requirements.

City Manager Harry Hagerty informed the Council that longevity checks for city employees were ready for distribution and would be given to employees this week and early next week.

The regular meeting of the City Council will be held tonight at the city hall at 8:00 p.m.

'PRESIDENT' RESIGNS

'Experiment' By State Board Pitt School District Is Chosen For Vocational Education Plan

By BLANCHE HARDEE
Reflector Staff Writer
Pitt County is one of 21 school districts approved by the North Carolina Board of Education for experimental vocational education programs aimed at keeping potential dropouts in school.

The General Assembly this year allocated $3 million for the programs in the middle grades. Of the total, $2.1 million was covered by Wednesday's approvals at a board meeting in Charlotte.

School officials have expressed continuing concern over the growing number of pupils who drop out when they become occupational education as "general education."

Pitt County will receive $82,400 from the State Board of Education to establish the program for the remainder of this school year. Next year, the county school system will receive an estimated $148,100 for the project. The county school system will not have to match funds for the program, Alford said. The project is free to the county.

Alford said three positions, an occupational guidance counselor and two occupational teachers, will be added to each of the five schools participating in the program.

Alford said adequate facilities already exist in each of the schools for the program. More facilities will be available for the increased enrollment in 1970-71 because of high school consolidation, leaving all the currently used high school facilities for the middle school, Alford explained.

Other administrative units selected for the program include:

Washington County, Charlotte-Mecklenburg, Lenoir County, Wayne County, Sampson County, Nash County, Rocky Mount, Cumberland County, Robeson County, Stokes County, Guilford County, Greensboro, Eden, Gaston County, Kanawha County, Davie County, Watauga County, Newton-Conover, Rutherford County and Madison County.

Greenville 'In'

Greenville and Lexington have been selected by the Low Income Housing Corporation of North Carolina as one of the target areas for participation in a new low income rural housing project in the state.

Bill Currin of the Durham-based LIHC said that the program would be involved with providing rural low income housing for families by building 1,200 housing units and offering them for sale.

The new houses will be mostly of three bedroom construction and will all sell for about $12,000. Low income families involved in occupancy of the units will receive assistance from the government in buying the houses. Assistance will include helping families pay interest on their housing loans.

Grants have been received by LIHC from the Office of Economic Opportunity for funding of the project.

The selection of Greenville, along with Lexington and surrounding areas, came in the first phase of the program, Currin said. Phase two will begin almost immediately with implementation of the project and further announcement of target areas.

Council Agenda Set For Tonight

The agenda for the City Council meeting tonight include several items:

—A public hearing on the request for a dine and dance permit for the Stone Fox Inn on Cotanche Street.

—A public hearing on the request for rezoning U.S. 264 by-pass of the Ed Tipton property known as Tipton Annex from highway commercial to shopping center.

—Consideration of street improvement assessment rolls for certain streets in Cherry View. A public hearing will be held on January 8, 1970.

—Supplemental agreements between the Seaboard Coastline

Railroad and the City of Greenville.

—Consideration of a parade permit for December 12 by the Vietnam Moratorium Committee.

—Refund of taxes paid in error.

—Consideration of abandonment of McClellan Street from Howe to Wyatt Street.

—Consideration of a request by the Wahi-Coates PTA for two additional school crossing guards.

Haynsworth Staying On Looking Into Coverup Talk

WASHINGTON (AP) — Army investigators probing a possible coverup of the alleged My Lai massacre of South Vietnamese civilians called for questioning today Capt. Ernest Medina, commander of the unit reportedly involved in the incident.

Medina was the immediate superior of 1st Lt. William L. Calley Jr., the Army platoon leader charged with premeditated murder in the deaths of at least 109 civilians at My Lai March 16, 1968.

The inquiry is an attempt to determine if a brigade-level investigation last year into reports civilians were killed unnecessarily was whitewashed. Interviewed Wednesday were five officers who were in Vietnam at the time of the incident.

A spokesman for the panel, headed by Lt. Gen. William R. Peers, said it was not satisfied with the scope and nature of the investigation by the 11th Infantry Brigade of the Army's Americal Divisional, which concluded 20 civilians had been killed in exchanges of gunfire between allied and enemy troops.

Accounts by soldiers and ex-soldiers who said they witnessed the killings have put the figure as high as 300.

Haynsworth Staying On

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon announced today that Judge Clement F. Haynsworth Jr. will continue to serve as chief judge of the Fourth U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals.

With Haynsworth standing at his side, Nixon went before newsmen at the White House to describe his rejected nominee for the Supreme Court as a victim of "brutally vicious" attacks.

In the face of these, the President said, the judge might well have considered stepping down from the circuit bench.

"A weak man would," said Nixon. "A fearful man would. The judge is not a weak man."

Nixon said he was delighted by Haynsworth's decision and cited what he described as his own philosophy that an individual is never without defeat somewhere along the line but he should never be fearful.

Stepping to the microphone, Haynsworth acknowledged that "no one likes to lose."

But he said he had been greatly encouraged, since the 55-45 Senate vote against his nomination on Nov. 21, by thousands of letters.

Haynsworth said he has learned that the judges of the Fourth Circuit want him to retain the chief judgeship and that the bar "wants me back."

Turning to Nixon, Haynsworth said: "I am very grateful to you for your steadfast support."

Exemptions Boost Still Has Obstacle

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Albert Gore predicts his Senate-adopted proposal to raise the personal income tax exemption from $600 to $800 will survive the Senate-House conference and be in the final tax reform bill.

But other congressional sources said it is more likely the two chambers will compromise on a $700 exemption.

There are two major obstacles to survival of the Tennessee Democrat's amendment as it passed the Senate Wednesday.

—President Nixon, who indicated earlier this week he would veto the bill if it included the Gore amendment.

—Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, who has said many times an exemption increase is not the best way to give tax relief.

Nixon said that "to be acceptable" the tax reform bill "must meet the test of fiscal responsibility." The Gore exemption flunked this test, Nixon has indicated, because it would cause too much of a drain too soon on the Treasury.

However, White House Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler would not comment Wednesday on whether Nixon would veto the bill if it contained Gore's amendment. He said the President would want to see the entire bill first.

Congressional sources also said the conferees undoubtedly will make the bill more palatable to the President, and they discounted the likelihood of a veto.

Mills, who will head the House conferees, guided the massive tax reform bill through his chamber last August. It provided for cuts in individual tax rates.

The Senate, in adopting Gore's amendment 58-37 Wednesday, substituted an $800 exemption for all of the rate cuts in the bill.

However, some House sources indicated Mills might be willing to compromise the issue in conference, particularly if the Arkansas Democrat is convinced the exemption plan has strong House support.

PTI Accepted, Accredited, By Southern Ass'n.

The Southern Association of Colleges and Schools announced today at their annual meeting in Dallas, Texas, that Pitt Technical Institute has been accepted as a member of the association and is fully accredited.

Following this visit and evaluation by the state team, the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools sent an eight-member team of competent vocational educators to assess Pitt Technical Institute's program. The Institute responded with enthusiasm and vigor in attempting to improve its weaknesses which were pointed out in the evaluations made by both groups.

On October 27, 1969, President W. E. Fuiford appeared before a group of scholars who were assembled by the association. This group was charged with the responsibility of determining the adequacies of Pitt Tech's reactions and responses to the evaluations and recommendations made by the Association's visiting committee during April, 1969. This committee recommended that Pitt Technical Institute be accepted as a member.

President Fuiford, commenting on this achievement, said: "We are very happy that the Association has accredited and accepted Pitt Technical Institute as a member of the Association. However, the Institute's objective is to provide a superior educational program. In order to accomplish this we must not be satisfied with meeting the minimum requirements developed by an accrediting organization. We must set our own standards and goals which surpass those thought to be sufficient."

Dr. Fuiford continued, "Our objective, as such, has never been to become a member of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools. First and foremost, we are seeking a quality program. However, if we qualify for membership with various accrediting organizations, it should emphasize to the public that Pitt Technical Institute is seeking and constantly striving to refine and improve the quality of its services to the people."

Arrest Two For Illegal Posting Handbills Here

Two young women were arrested early this morning on charges of posting handbills illegally.

Police said a white girl, 20-year-old Margaret M. Marshall of 1133 South Evans St. and 22-year-old Negro Daisy L. Albritton of 1113 South Evans St., were taken into custody about 2:30 a.m. today at the intersection of 10th and Washington Streets.

The two were charged with violating a city ordinance making it unlawful to post advertisements on utility poles or trees.

The posters allegedly being tacked up by the two women, investigators said, advertised a state-wide workshop in Raleigh Saturday being sponsored by the Southern Christian Leadership Conference.

Hunt For Prexy 'Down To Four'

DURHAM (AP) — The Duke Chronicle said in a copyrighted story today that the search for a president of Duke University has narrowed to four candidates, one of whom is former Gov. Terry Sanford.

The others were said to be Dr. Roger W. Heyns, chancellor of the University of California at Berkeley, Dr. Edward Busse, J. P. Gibbons professor of psychiatry at Duke, and an official at Johns Hopkins University in Baltimore.

The search committee will make its report to the Duke Board of Trustees Dec. 13. Douglas M. Knight resigned as president June 1.

Sixteen Pups In First Litter

HONOLULU (AP) — Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Cox are boasting about their small pet mongrel, Ginger, who's just had her first litter.

"She's a very good mother," says Mrs. Cox.

The first pup arrived at 9:30 a.m. By 5 p.m. there were 16.

Children's Christmas Party Scheduled Saturday

A Christmas party for local children will be held in Ficklen Memorial Stadium on the East Carolina University campus Saturday morning, beginning at 10 o'clock.

The party is being sponsored by the Greenville Chamber of Commerce and Merchants Association and is being held in lieu of the annual Christmas parade, which is not being held this year.

According to Harold Creech, manager of the Greenville Chamber of Commerce and Merchants Association, scheduled events include acts by a magician, tumblers, trained dogs and the Batonetts, a group of girls who do twirling and strutting.

There will also be Christmas music and clowns.

The party is free. In addition to entertainment, a contest will be held with awards being made for the largest, smallest, cutest and best dressed pet; the best decorated bicycle; and the best Christmas costume.

"Boys and girls who wish to enter one or more of the contests should attend the party with a pet, bicycle or costume," noted Creech. "Contestants will be asked to walk across the stage for the approval of the crowd and judges."

Children are urged to bring their letters to Santa to the party where they may be left for Santa in a big container.

"Santa has promised to answer all letters that have the name and address of the boy or girl writing the letter," stated Creech.

Creech said those attending the event should dress warmly.

The party will be held in the north stands and persons attending should park and enter on the north side of the stadium.

The party will be concluded by the appearance of Santa Claus.

Mrs. Harriett James named Mrs. Savage as "stamp champ" for this year and remembered her with a gift.

Mrs. Sara West, outgoing president, presided during the

A reception was held at the home of Mrs. Diana Nordan prior to the dinner.

What is wrong with evaluating an individual for his own worth, but not accepting interracial marriage as the answer?

Interracial Dating Poses Some Problems

By Abigail Van Buren

(© 1969 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd., Inc.)

DEAR ABBY: When young people date one of a different race (and I mean "color") they tend to develop stronger relationships because they are defensive about the raised eyebrows and stares that follow them in public.

A child will say to his parents, "If I marry one of another race, it's MY life and MY business!"

This is not quite true, because the parents will have to bear the stares and raised eyebrows with him.

And if their "great love" miraculously survives the rejection they are sure to meet on both sides, their children will have to pay the price of never fully belonging to one race or the other.

Don't we have the right to speak for our unborn grandchildren who cannot as yet speak for themselves?

I am sure that if the truth were told, most Oriental and Negro parents are as much opposed to these mixed marriages as we Caucasian parents. And where do the "white" kids get the supreme arrogance to think that other races have less pride and are better off diluted by Caucasian blood?

What is wrong with evaluating an individual for his own worth, but not accepting interracial marriage as the answer?
ACCUSED OF PREJUDICE

DEAR ACCUSED: Witness the unconventional appearance adopted by so many of our young people today, and it is obvious that they aren't as disturbed by raised eyebrows and stares as their parents.

I, too, believe that most Oriental and Negro parents would prefer that their children marry within their own races. I also think that many of our fine, liberal young whites go in for interracial marriage in a conscious effort to give more than lip service to the lofty ideals of "equality and brotherhood." But many are motivated by the unconscious desire to have that which has been forbidden by their parents. And parents who discourage such marriages are unfairly labeled "bigots."

DEAR ABBY: We have a Tuesday afternoon bridge club, and the same women have been playing together for a number of years. I win my share, but this last year I found that I had been winning less and less. I just happened to check over the scores and I discovered that one of the girls has been padding her score, like putting a "one" in front of a "200" when she added the scores for the day's game.

I am just sick to think that she would do such a thing. What is the best way to solve this problem without embarrassing her?
NO NAME OR TOWN PLEASE

DEAR NO NAME: Tell her privately. Of course she'll be "embarrassed," but the embarrassment will be minimized, which is more consideration than she deserves.

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

Displayed Faith In Greenville

Greenville voters have shown that they have faith in the growth of their city by approving $4 million in bonds for expansion of electric, water, sewer and gas facilities.

The funds will be used to enlarge the water treatment plant and the sewage disposal plant; and also to extend Greenville Utilities' service lines.

There is a good chance that all of the bonds will never be issued and certainly the full $4 million will not be issued immediately. Rather the Utilities Commission will explore all possibilities of obtaining federal grants through various agencies to meet a portion of the cost of the projects outlined. Since many such grants are up to 50 percent of the total cost, this can mean a considerable savings for the city.

The important thing now is that Greenville can show that it has its funds available when it makes application for federal grants and this can make a great deal of difference in the rapidity with which the applications can be processed and the projects initiated.

The Utilities Commission has moved promptly in the past to obtain federal grants for its improvements projects. This has saved considerable money. At that time the commission had reserves so that it could show that it had funds available to immediately carry out the projects.

Much Depends On Geo. Tillett

By WILLIAM A. SHIRES
RALEIGH—Circling the square:

A new employe—rather a new official—moved into an office in the State Highway Building last week and quietly went to work.

Many millions of dollars in federal highway aid for North Carolina may depend on how well he does his $14,500 a year job and how effective are the results.

It is believed that this new official, George Tillett, is the highest salaried member of the Negro race employed in state government. His post is an important one—assistant coordinator of the Highway Commission's equal opportunity policy.

WILLIAM SHIRES

Federal law now requires that contractors on highway projects involving federal funds must not discriminate in hiring practices.

Check—Because of this requirement, the Highway Commission is establishing an equal opportunity division. Prior to Tillett's appointment the division had only a coordinator, Curtis Collier, a career highway engineer.

Highway administrator George Willoughby says there are plans to expand the division even further. Close check will be kept on a list of non-discrimination requirements including not only hiring but treatment of employes and rates of pay.

List—The checklist includes: —Hiring, placement, upgrading, transfer or demotion.

—Recruitment, advertising and soliciting for employes.

—Treatment of employes.

—Rates of pay or other forms of compensation.

—Selection for training or apprenticeship.

—Layoffs or termination.

"On none of these points," says Willoughby, "can there be any discrimination because of race, creed, color or national origin."

Tillett — Tillett, 46, from Edenton, N.C., is a former assistant U.S. district attorney having served on the staff of Robert Cowen, U.S. attorney for Eastern North Carolina. Both recently resigned.

Thus Tillett is experienced in identifying and defining discrimination in legal terms.

There is a fine line here. Discrimination, in the legal sense, does not mean drawing a distinction between individuals possessing different capabilities. It means, as the state's policy attempts to say, there must be no discrimination because of race, creed or color. Employment opportunity and terms of employment must be equal.

Registration — Registration figures reported in the annual analysis by the State Board of Elections resulted in some raised eyebrows.

While the population of North Carolina has been increasing steadily and political interest going up, total voter registration has dropped.

According to the report by Elections Board executive secretary Alex K. Brock, total registration has declined by 210,211 during the past year.

Most of the decrease, Brock says, must be attributed to persons deceased or removed from the state over the years but never purged from registration rolls.

In the past year, however, there was an unprecedented number of new county-wide registrations. Brock and Board members are quite proud of what they consider the "most accurate accounting" of registered, qualified voters ever compiled.

Mandatory — Fulltime or modified full-time voter registration in each of the 100 counties was made mandatory by an act of the 1969 General Assembly. Presently there are 37 counties operating under this system. All 100 must install it within the next year.

Meanwhile, only 23 counties have voting machines. The chief reason here is the cost of such equipment which is more than many of the smaller counties can bear.

Now, thanks to the farsightedness of the voters, the Utilities Commission can again show that it has the funds available to meet federal grants. This should further savings on future Utilities projects.

Charlotte Campus Has Reason For Its Growth

A news story from UNC at Charlotte proudly proclaims that that university is the fastest growing four-year institution in the state.

Says Chancellor D. W. Colvard, "We fully expected that the institution would reach a point of substantial visibility and acceptance by the people of North Carolina."

Figures were cited which showed that Charlotte's enrollment this year is 3,085, an increase of 31.2 percent over last year. Growth of other Greater University campuses over last year: Asheville, 16.2 percent; Chapel Hill, 1.2, Greensboro, 9.1, Raleigh, 5.8, Wilmington, 14.9.

Dr. Colvard feels that there will be a continued high rate of growth for his institution.

There is no reason why the Charlotte campus shouldn't continue to grow and fill the need of a university in the populous Charlotte area. The institution has already shown that it can be of great service to the people of that area and that is what state universities should do, serve the needs of the people.

Nixon's Asset In S. Vietnam

By ROWLAND EVANS and ROBERT NOVAK
WASHINGTON—New

evidence in President Nixon's hands hints strongly that his "Vietnamization" policy, coupled with the slow phaseout of U.S. troops, is creating a more severe problem for Hanoi than foreseen six months ago.

Now deeply worrying the Communist government in North Vietnam is the fact that the U.S. may so strengthen the South Vietnamese army that even after the U.S. pull-out and the probable installation of a coalition government, anti-Communist political and military forces will be powerful enough to stand off and perhaps defeat Hanoi-backed forces in South Vietnam.

The most definitive intelligence on this comes from the long (75 pages in translation) policy statement known as Resolution Nine, issued by the Communist party's clandestine headquarters in the South.

It was Resolution Nine and subsequent enemy directives this fall that led Secretary of Defense Melvin Laird to make his prediction to Congress, in testimony made public this week, that a "military victory" of the South over the North was by no means impossible.

To avoid this possibility, Resolution Nine states that the Americans "must be forced to end the war quickly by withdrawing all their troops. Since the puppet (Saigon) troops and puppet government are weak, they will be incapable of carrying out the task assigned them by the U.S."

It continues: "Therefore, we must force them to accept a political solution; that is, establish a coalition... and then reunify the country" under Hanoi's rule.

To deny this Communist hope of a timetable tailored to their needs, President Nixon flatly refuses to set a rigid schedule of U.S. troop withdrawals running into the future.

But already, according to Resolution Nine, the Communists have suffered severe setbacks from the program of Vietnamizing the war, along with the accelerated pacification program and the "Phoenix" police operation designed to kill, arrest, or subvert local Communist cadres in the villages—the backbone of the guerrilla war.

The fact that local recruitment of Vietcong guerrillas has not come close to meeting the demand is implicit, for example, in new directives to military commanders of large, main force units—presumably including those infiltrated from North Vietnam.

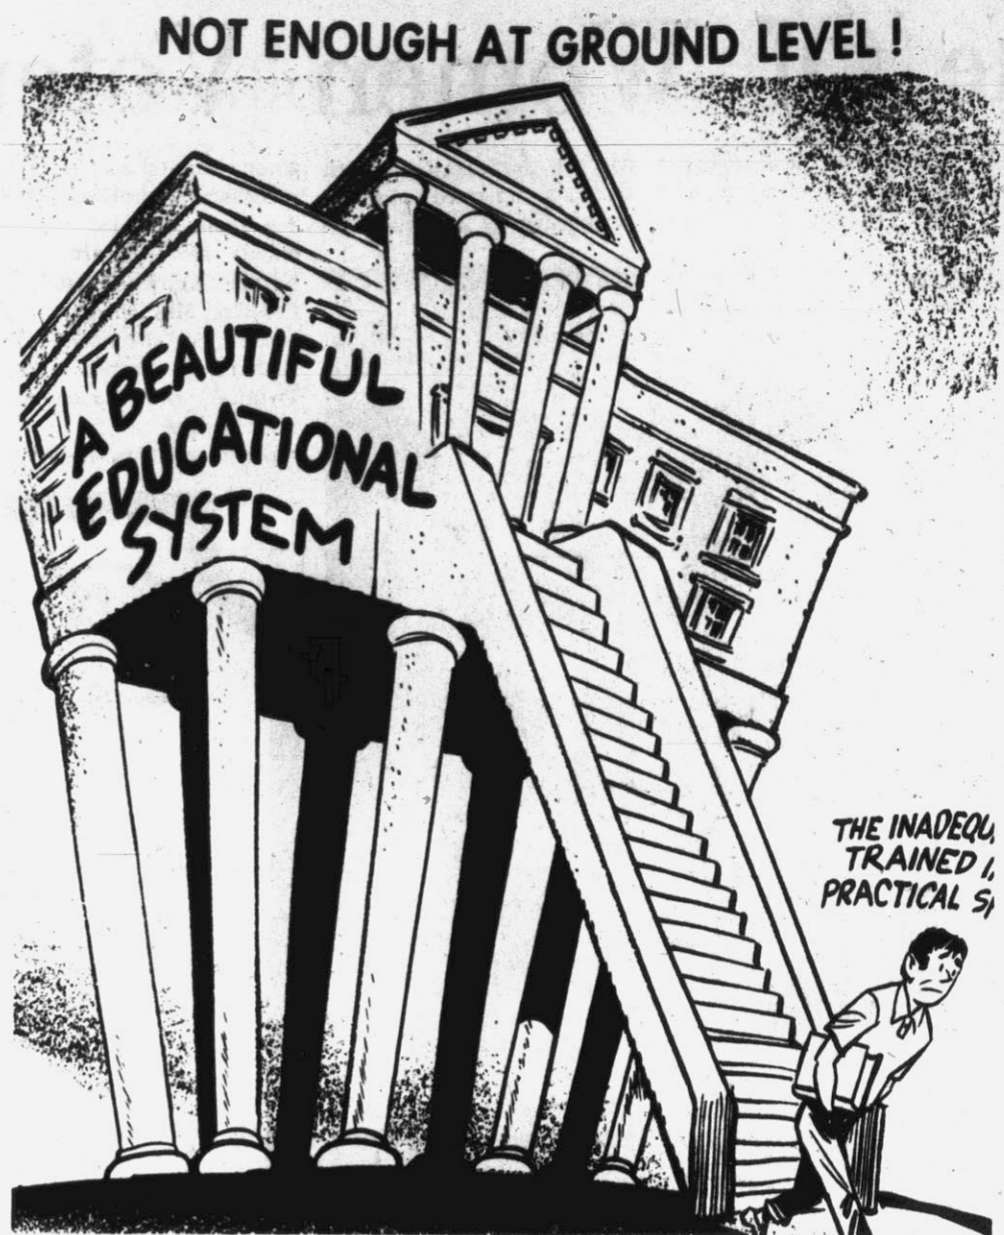

These main force units must now be prepared to "disperse" into small sapper units, and to act the part of local guerrilla forces, when the occasion requires. Three main targets are outlined: U. S. command posts to inflict casualties on American troops and thus increase demands at home for faster troop withdrawals, South Vietnamese army units newly brought into the field to replace U.S. units, and all areas involved in pacification, particularly the populated delta.

The most interesting reading in Resolution Nine is its recitation of rising Communist problems in the field. Exhortation to do better—"criticism and self-criticism"—is standard Communist rhetoric, but in Resolution Nine this criticism is abnormally blunt, as follows:

"Efforts to destroy the enemy are still poor" and the three types of Communist military units—local forces, guerrilla forces, and main forces—are all far understrength and out of correct proportion to one another.

Supply problems are critical, partly due to destruction of vast underground supply depots and arms caches, partly to disappearing sources of rice as the pacification program wins over more and more rice-producing areas.

Reason Serves Us Better

The terrible sickness exposed at Mylai, we may be certain, will not be cured by an emotional blood-letting here at home. A sense of national shame cannot be suppressed—it ought not to be suppressed—but reason will serve us better than revulsion.

The damning facts are now unfolding one by one. It is tempting to say that "we don't know" what happened at Mylai that day in March of 1968. True; but true only in a lawyer's eye. It can no longer be denied that something happened—that a platoon from Company C, First Battalion, 20th Infantry, 11th Brigade, entered a village in the Pinkville sector, and there gunned the peasants down.

It is immaterial—it is merely a dimension of the news—to ask how many died. The shame of 300 is not six times the shame of fifty. It is the act itself that sears the soul. These were our men, bearing our flag; and some of them, at least, committed wanton murder on command.

That is the reality, the point of beginning. We work forward and backward from there. If anything of value can be salvaged from Mylai, a host of questions must be answered.

Why was the story so long in breaking? How could these graves stay covered up for twenty months? This poor platoon was part of a vast organization, the U.S. Army, that crawls like a centipede upon its own reports. For five years, correspondents at Saigon have been fed on body-counts. It is impossible to believe that no report of the Mylai incident was ever filed.

We have to assume, out of some general knowledge of these things, that there were indeed reports, tips, telephone calls, headshaking conferences in Washington and Saigon. Who failed to follow up? If timely action had been taken months ago, at least the forms of decency and order might have been preserved: A presidential apology, official condemnation of the acts, courts martial for the men involved. Now the most fervent expression of national regret must have a faintly hollow ring, as if we rued only the sin of being caught; and most of the madmen (for so we must suppose them) have left service and escaped the risk of trial.

Defense Secretary Laird already has put his sleuths to backtracking through the maze of pigeonholed reports and classified papers. A separate line of inquiry suggests itself: Are the Army's procedures sufficient—truly sufficient—for detecting battle fatigue before men snap and break? The massacre at Mylai was not the first such incident in warfare; doubtless it will not be the last. But perhaps the Army has something more to learn from scholars of behavioral science. Military training makes men kill, but it ought not, in the usual sense, to make killers out of men. There must be some way to reduce the odds against recurrence.

It is not enough, of course, merely to pursue stupidity or to lock barn doors. If any deep value is to be drawn from the shock of Mylai, it will come with a renewed examination of war as an instrument of national policy—not merely in Vietnam, but everywhere else in this dwindling world. Some of these considerations were in the President's mind last week, when he renounced the use of bacteriological weapons. He was defining a point, drawing back from one abyss, fencing off a half-acre of hell.

In the somber mood of national self-examination that has developed with the disclosures of Mylai, perhaps a there about cashing a traveler's check that unlayers the larceny lurking in the hearts of all men? Why does the hand tremble and the pulse palpitate? Signing an ordinary bank check, even a dubious, post-dated one, doesn't summon up similar feelings of guilt.

You've paid for the traveler's checks: They're perfectly valid and up to date and suitably crisp, just like real money. There is even a picture of justice or Mercury or some classic cat in his skivvies to denote legal tender, and check is spelled cheque to show that the World Bank or the International Monetary Fund or maybe the Indian money changers have been dealt in on the deal.

Yet, here you are in a crowded shop on an alien shore trembling at the mere formality of duplicating your own signature. Bonnie and Clyde on their first job couldn't have been this jumpy.

"Great day out, ain't it Mac?" You say to the sales clerk to divert attention from your quivering hand, realizing too late that it is raining buckets outside and that Mac happens to be a girl.

Her smile is tentative and too quickly withdrawn, a flash of tolerance followed by a lingering glow of suspicion.

Disconcertingly, accusingly, the signature at the top of the check, when you bought it, bears no resemblance to what you have just scrawled at the bottom. You've left out your middle initial, failed to dot the "I" and dangled a nervous curlicue in the wake of the whole miserable effort.

"It's hard to make 'em both look alike," you explain with a light hearted laugh, but even that has a counterfeit ring.

If the sales girl is French and weaned on tales of international intrigue, she is by now trying to recall the number of Interpol and to place your face among the placards in the post and telegraph office.

If she is miniskirted and British and brought up on a brace of Alex Guinness movies, she is in tears or panic or both.

If she is Spanish, as many of them are in this rocky tourist outcropping, and used to dealing with shady characters from all over, she already is stamping on the foot lever that summons the carabinieri or the grand inquisitors of whoever deals with global riff-raff hereabouts.

By now, the manager is out of the back of the shop and the identity cards are out of the windows of your wallet, spread out under the white, hot glare of a lamp that has materialized somehow from the third-degree room in the second act of "Detective Story." Voila: Your driver's license, your air credit card, your First Communion picture, your Social Security number.

"Solid as the rock of Gibraltar," you laugh, trying to establish local identity with your credit references. "Or Alcatraz." That last touch was boldly light-hearted, but no one else is laughing.

When you inadvertently tear the traveler's check in half in trying to follow the perforated line, that really tears it.

At the end of your tether, you take the only decent way out.

"You don't, by any chance, accept American dollars, do you?"

Public Forum

To The Editor:

I have a question for our Greenville merchants. Perhaps there is an answer that I can give my children and many other parents can give their children. Why will there be no Christmas parade in Greenville this year? Why will it be necessary for us to go to another town to treat our children to one of the traditional introductions to the Christmas season?

The first answer I might receive is: "Greenville merchants are graciously giving a gigantic party at Ficklen Stadium instead". Can enough activities, interest and diversion keep the anticipated hundreds of children and parents satisfied? I don't think so. Children do watch parades with satisfaction... eyes wide and smiles glowing. There is a magic about a parade, the anticipation of seeing santa escorted and preceeded by bands, majorettes, floats and clowns that cannot be matched in any other circumstance.

The second answer I might receive is: "There was just not enough interest from merchants to enter floats, nor schools to enter bands or drill teams to organize a parade this year. Surely, considering the size of Greenville and outlying areas, there are enough merchants in the county who would want the opportunity to advertise by entering some type of "float", even if only a car with the firm name bannered across the side, and enough schools in the area that would be honored to display their band's ability. Even with the past strife and misunderstanding at Rose High School this year, at least there were enough interested parties to organize a homecoming parade... or is this misunderstanding at our school the real reason for no parade?

Perhaps because of a few isolated incidents at past parades this year, or because of problems that have arisen at our high school, is the third possible answer this: "The citizens of Greenville must be protected from any problems that might arise during a parade". Any occasion that attracts a grouping of people can cause problems. The small minority that perhaps might find an opportunity to cause trouble under the label of "racial disturbance" will certainly find a party at the stadium a fertile ground... or is "police protection" included in activity plans? # Strength For Today Hushing Cheap Money Rumors

THE CHURCH IN THE WORLD

The giving of the Holy Spirit on the first day of Pentecost following the crucifixion of Christ has always played an important part in the life of the Church. Up to that time a comparatively insignificant number of Jews who believed in Jesus were accustomed to meet at least once a week, study the teachings of Jesus, heal in the name of Jesus and bind themselves together in a spirit of fellowship and service. With the coming of the Holy Spirit, however, the Church that believed in Jesus and fondly recalled his ministry among men was made a missionary Church. Today in its different branches the Christian Church goes forth to conquer the world spiritually.

No one claims that the Church is perfect. The Church is not full of hypocrites, as some maintain, but it is full of persons who frequently stumble and fall but who get on their feet again and press on, as the Apostle Paul put it, toward the mark for the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus (Philippinas 3:14). To the extent that the Church loses a sense of the Holy Spirit in its midst, the Church declines in spiritual power. To the extent that the Church is conscious of the Holy Spirit in its midst, the Church is outgoing, missionary and fruitful in its work.

Life is a mystery. The spiritual aspects of life constitute its greatest mysteries. The Church looks forward to that Second Coming of Christ when a spiritual transformation will occur and the Church and the world press forward to greater spiritual triumphs.

By EARL L. DOUGLASS

By ELMER TOESSNER

The Nixon administration is using the surtax and higher interest rates to check inflation. But it is also using jawbone tactics.

ELMER TOESSNER

There was an example a few days ago when rumors flew that interest rates were to be slightly lowered. Lowering of the rates at this time would be inflationary, of course. But even rumors of cheaper money would be slightly inflationary, since they would invite speculation and create commitments for spending.

So the jawbone battalion was sent into action.

Secretary of the Treasury David Kennedy said there would be no easing of interest rates.

Secretary of Commerce Maurice Stans announced that the government's tight money and fiscal policies would likely continue for three or four months more. More Fire Federal Reserve Governor J. Deway Daane, speaking in London, declared "There are risks of holding on to restraints too long, but there are also risks of letting go too early... The danger of prematurely letting go especially in the face of potential slippage on the fiscal side, is much the greater danger... Getting the rate of price down to tolerable, acceptable limits will take time. I doubt that we can achieve this by the end of next year, but, hopefully, we shall make appreciable progress and achieve our goal of price stability sometime there after." That could read: "No interest cuts through all of 1970."

Budget Director Robert P. Mayo told the U.S. Savings and Loan League in Chicago that restraints had been relaxed too soon in late 1966 and 1967. "Instead of inflation and inflationary expectations being subdued, they moved ahead with renewed vigor—in fact, right up to the present." He said the administration would stick to a policy of restraint, even if it means a further squeeze on corporate profits. Gross National Product Leveling

He also said that the rate of growth as measured by the gross national product would be less than the average increase during the first three quarters of the year, roughly 2 per cent, and is expected to level off in the first half of 1970.

The Federal Reserve Bank of New York has pointed out that third quarter advance in the GNP appeared to rise at an annual rate of 5 1/2 per cent. The rise in the third quarter over the second, it said, "was more than accounted for by the July federal pay increase, which directly added about $3 billion to the rate of federal government purchasing." Real output, measured by the GNP adjusted for price increases, rose at an annual rate of 2 per cent on the third quarter, band added.

fresh start can be made toward greater renunciations still. The arms limitation talks at Helsinki offer a convenient and immediate forum. And the personal, human aspects of the Pinkville massacre provide a motivation that is oddly more powerful than the unimaginable terrors of nuclear bombardment.

I am surely no optimist. Men have waged war since tribal cavemen carried clubs. The perils of Communist duplicity are real, not imagined. And the probabilities are that the catharsis of Mylai will be quite invisible by, let us say, Christmas. But these pitiful peasants cry from the grave for men to reason together; and time grows short.

But worse still, Resolution Nine lists serious "weaknesses" that go to the heart of the morale and will-to-win of Communist cadres in the South. This list includes such grave sins as "fear of the rigors of war, fear of death, distrust in people's revolutionary capabilities, peace illusions, poor sense of organization and discipline. . ."

"In addition," states Resolution Nine, "a number of party members have even gone so far as to surrender to the enemy and betray the nation, causing a disastrous effect on the party and people."

It would, of course, be the worst kind of error for President Nixon's Vietnam advisers to read too much into this catalogue of enemy weaknesses, an error repeatedly committed in the Lyndon Johnson White House. But they do seem to reveal one hard fact—that the U.S. bargaining position is neither hopeless nor deteriorating at this particular moment in the endless war.

seems incongruous at such an occasion. Children are not interested in or aware of racial differences. For them—unless their parents have insisted on discrimination, all stand side by side—no matter their color or religious belief—to see and mutually enjoy the thrill of a parade. If this is the reason, it is a poor one. Don't impress upon my children that because blacks and whites are "so different" that they cannot risk being together to share the happiness of a Christmas parade. Children are all the same. . . no matter what color. Don't make them begin to wonder about any "differences". This is where the trouble all begins.

Police Have 39 Unclaimed Bikes

The Greenville Police Department has 39 bicycles it would like to return to their rightful owners, but if they are not claimed by mid-December, the bicycles will be sold at auction.

Each year, the department "collects" a number of bicycles, most of them recovered stolen property. Proper registration of the bicycles help return may to their owners, but others have had license tags removed from them.

Persons missing bicycles this year are encouraged to come by the police department in an attempt to identify their property. Proof of ownership is required for return of bicycles, however, according to Police Chief T. E. Gladson.

Chief Gladson said bicycles that have been registered can be checked against registration records to determine ownership if the owners name is known. Eleven bicycles were sold last December.

Of the 39 on hand at the department now, 33 are boys bikes and a half-dozen are girls bicycles. All but five of them have serial numbers. The bicycles, unless claimed, will be sold at auction about December 17.

Despite his opponents' best efforts to mislead him, declarer in today's hand never varied his course and wound up a winner.

West led the six of spades and East put up the queen which was permitted to hold the trick. The return was ducked around the West's jack, but declarer won the king on the third round with the ace of spades as North discarded a heart and East a small diamond.

South made an effort to develop an additional club trick by leading the nine and passing it into East's hand. The latter was in with the jack of clubs and he returned a club. South played the four and West's queen fell to the dummy's ace. Declarer returned the king of clubs, crossed over to the North hand with the ace of hearts and cashed the long club — discarding a spade from his hand.

Declarer played the king and queen of hearts next as both opponents followed suit. At this point, he had seven tricks in one spade, three hearts, and three clubs, and the ace of diamonds was a sure eighth trick. The ninth could come only from the dummy's queen.

To play West for the king of diamonds would be a fruitless proposition, for if the latter secured the lead, he would be able to cash out his spades to set the contract. South must therefore assume that East has the king of diamonds. He accordingly led a small diamond from his hand intending to put in the nine from dummy and force East into an endplay position.

West was aware of his opponent's intentions and in an effort to prevent an endplay on East, he put up the ten of diamonds on South's lead. Dummy covered with the queen and East was in with the king. On the diamond return, declarer was confronted with a choice of plays. If he thought that West started with the jack-ten of diamonds doubleton, the proper course would be to play the ace from his hand in order to drop the jack.

South decided not to be influenced by West's previous play, and sticking to his original resolution, declarer ducked the diamond return around to the dummy. When North's nine won the trick, he was home.

Medicare May Not Pay For Nursing Home Care

Elderly patients should know that their stay in a nursing home may not be covered by Medicare. Even though these senior citizens have entered an extended care facility directly from a hospital, Medicare pays only when the care they need calls for the services of skilled, professional personnel.

The nursing homes in the Greenville area, as elsewhere, often provide post-hospital care for people who must be helped to walk, feed or wash themselves, or assisted in taking care of their personal needs. This kind of care is not covered by Medicare.

Further, a stay in a nursing home is covered by Medicare if the patient is receiving treatment for the same condition for which he was recently hospitalized. After a stay of three or more days in the hospital, the Medicare patient may qualify for nursing home care, provided (1) his doctor recommends it; and (2) he is admitted to the home within two weeks after he leaves the hospital; and (3) the level of care he needs can be given only by qualified professional personnel; and (4) this skilled professional nursing care must be required and given on a continuous basis.

Legion's Drive For Members Said Successful

Greenville American Legion Post No. 39 has conducted a highly successful membership drive, according to announcement from North Carolina Legion headquarters. William H. Moore, local Commander, has received a letter from Department Adjutant J. Carroll Wilson reporting that Post No. 39 has exceeded its Legion Membership Incentive Goal for 1970. Moore said, "We are accepting dues payments now from Legionnaires and eligible veterans whose membership is essential if the local organization is to continue its service programs. We are planning to expand our local programs and activities depending on the final results of the 1970 membership drive."

Stock And Market Reports

RALEIGH (AP) — (NCDA)—North Carolina egg markets slightly stronger Wednesday, supplies barely adequate, demand good. Prices paid producers and handlers for consumer grade eggs in cartons delivered nearby outlets:
Grade A large whites 69-69½; medium whites 66½-67½; small whites 52-54.

RALEIGH (AP) — (NCDA)—North Carolina hog markets today were mostly steady. Tops of 26.25 to 27.25 at Rocky Mount and Scotland Neck; 26.50 to 26.75 at Wilson; 26.25 to 26.75 at Siler City and Denton; 26.75 at Salisbury; 26.50 at Greensboro; and 26.00 at Bethel.

Countries under hog cholera quarantine are Cumberland, Duplin, Edgecombe, Wayne, Wilson and Johnston.

RALEIGH (AP) — (NCDA)—The North Carolina poultry market today was steady. Live at farm base 13 cents per pound.

Hens trading light. Supplies in balance to a bare to good buying interest. Heavy hens at farm, 20 cents a pound. Light type too few to report.

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock market prices were sharply and broadly lower early today, with the Dow Jones industrial average off 5.81 to 787.55 at 11 a.m. Declining stocks stretched their lead over advances to more than 4 to 1.

Trading was moderate. Brokers said the market's drop Wednesday through the 800 level of the Dow had triggered some emotional selling today.

The market is somewhere near bottom, said Lucien O. Hooper, senior analyst for W. E. Hutton & Co.

"Morale is bad now," he said but added he would be more inclined to buy now than to sell.

Another slow morning has been reported on Pitt County grain buying stations and with the exception of slight buying of ear corn and soybeans, marketing is almost at a standstill. Most stations report varying volume of corn coming in and a fairly light buying of soybeans. All prices remain the same as Wednesday's quotes except a three cent increase on soybeans on the Greenville market. Following are per bushel price quotes reported at 11 a.m.

Greenville: yellow corn, $1.25; wheat, $1.20; oats, $.65—all steady; soybeans, $2.35—up.
Ayden: yellow corn, shell, $1.30; ear corn, $1.20; soybeans, $2.30—all steady.

Winterville: yellow corn, shell, $1.27; ear corn, $1.17—steady.

Farmville: yellow corn, $1.32; soybeans, $2.28—steady.

Bethel: yellow corn, shell, $1.25; ear corn, $1.15; soybeans, $2.32—all steady.

Snow Hill Board Defers Action On Zoning Rules

SNOW HILL—David Jarrell, chairman of the Snow Hill Planning and Zoning Board, Tuesday night requested the town board to adopt various changes that have been properly advertised in the zoning ordinances.

No action was taken in the matter. Mayor Melvin Oliver reviewed with the board plans for implementing the recent acquired grant from the Economic Development Administration.

The grant, in the amount of $131,200, will be used for water and sewer extension in the town. The board also reviewed the audit report for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1969, and heard the financial statement.

The First National Bank of Boston was founded in 1784.

Pirates Edge Past Roanoke, 78-75

By WOODY PEELE
Reflector Sports Editor

East Carolina's Pirates played a cat-and-mouse game with Roanoke College last night, and found out that not only did the mouse bite back, but it almost stole the cheese as well.

East Carolina, leading by 17 at halftime, and by 15 on three occasions at halftime, had to battle for its life to come away with a 78-75 victory over the stubborn Maroons. It was the second straight victory for the Pirates, and the first loss for Roanoke, which is now 1-1.

Deadly outside shooting kept the Maroons in the game, as nearly all of their 32 field goals came from outside, mainly on the fine corner shooting of Gene Luna, and the jump shots of Frank Allen and John Lang.

But the combined accuracy of Tom Miller, who burned the nets from outside, and got several from underneath, and the deadly hitting of Jim Gregory, was too much for the Maroon. Miller hit on 12 of 22 shots from the floor, while Gregory was making good on an amazing 11 of 15.

Gregory currently is hitting a blazing 71 per cent of his shots. The Pirates also killed the Maroons on the boards, outbounding them, 51-32. Again, it was the strong Pirate front-court that did the damage there. Jim Fairley, sophomore forward, pulled down 13, while Jim Modlin had 12 and Gregory got 10.

Miller finished the evening with 29 points to lead the team's scoring, while Gregory was just behind with 26. Modlin, who set a school record of 42 points in Monday's opener, was held to 10 points against Roanoke.

Both Modlin and Gregory picked up their fourth fouls with 13 minutes to play, and both managed to remain in the game the rest of the way without drawing the fatal fifth personal, but it was a contributing factor to the rally of the Maroons, since they had to play a looser defense.

The game was close only in the opening minutes and the closing seconds. For most of the time in between, the Bucs enjoyed a lead of from eight to 15 points.

John Lang hit a jumper to put Roanoke into the initial lead after a minute had passed, and the Bucs got on the board with a free throw by Jim Fairley. Luna hit a shot from the corner to make it 4-1, but a pair of jumpers by Miller pushed the Bucs into a 5-4 lead with 17:42 to play in the half.

For the next minute, the two teams swapped buckets until Gregory hit a turnaround jumper for a 9-8 Pirate lead with 16:05 to go. After that, the Bucs never trailed again.

Miller and Modlin both hit on jumpers, and Gregory hit from underneath to push the margin out to seven at 15-8. It became a swapping contest for most of the remaining part of the half from then on. The lead moved out to as much as eight, at 22-14, and fell to as little as four, at 28-24, and 30-26, but there was really no basic change in the scoring.

Then, in the closing five minutes of the half, the Bucs slowly pulled away again, building up a 17-point lead just before halftime. From the 30-26 margin, the Bucs outthrew Roanoke, 17-8. Gregory hit from under the basket, then followed up with two free throws. A technical was also charged at the same time, and Gregory dropped that in. Seconds later, after the Bucs brought the ball in-bounds, Fairley tapped in a rebound, and the Bucs held a 37-26 edge with 5:38 to go.

After the two teams swapped a bucket, Miller hit a jumper to push the lead to 13. Roanoke cut it back to 11, but two free throws by Mike Henrich and a pair by Miller moved the margin to 15. Miller then hit another jumper to make it 47-30 with 1:33 to go.

In the closing minute, Roanoke got a three-point play from Lang, plus another free throw by him to cut the lead to 47-34 at the buzzer.

Roanoke cut the lead back to 10 in the opening seconds of the second half, but the Bucs pulled away again, moving out by 15 at 58-43 with 14:30 to go. The margin fell back to eight again with Luna hitting from the outside, but again, it climbed back to 15, at 70-55 with 6:17 to play. Both Gregory and Modlin were then operating with four fouls. With 4:05 to play, Gregory hit again to make it 74-61, and it appeared the Bucs had it locked up, but Roanoke went on a scoring spree to nearly pull it out.

Lang hit from underneath, and Luna drove in for a score with 10 seconds left to cut it to three, but Jim Kiernan hit two free throws to push it back to five with seven seconds left. Luna then hit a final shot with two seconds left to end it.

Luna finished the game with 22 points, while Lang had 18 and Allen had 17 for the Maroons.

The Bucs, now 2-0 for the year, and riding a 10-game home winning streak, play host to Atlantic Christian Saturday night. The ECU freshmen open the evening with a 5:50 game with Fort Jackson.

Frank Allen hit on a shot from underneath, then made two free throws. He stole the ball for another score, and the lead fell to 74-67. Another long Luna shot cut the margin to five, but the Bucs got a bucket from Gregory with 2:02 left to move it back to

Davidson Opens Year With Win Over Furman

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Davidson's fifth-ranked Wildcats have opened their new basketball season by jumping out in front—as expected—in the Southern Conference race, and new coach Terry Holland isn't at all displeased.

"There were some ragged edges, being the opener, but I was encouraged," said Holland Wednesday night after the Wildcats rolled to a 109-90 victory over Furman's Paladins in the year's first league test.

After five ties in the first five minutes, Davidson went in front for good on two free throws by Doug Cook and led by 56-35 at halftime. The Wildcats, winning for the 50th time in a row on their home court, had no difficulty after that.

Cook had 23 points, Mike Maloy 21 and sophomore backcourt ace Brian Adrian 18 for Davidson, and Holland said Adrian "earned a starting job" with his performance. Holland also praised the play of Fox DeMoisey and Ron Stelzer, who alternated in replacing the graduated Dave Moser.

The Paladins were led by Jerry Martin with 21 points and Steve McCammon with 20.

East Carolina edged Roanoke College 78-75 and The Citadel whipped Wofford 87-75, but three other league teams went down in nonleague action—George Washington to Maryland 92-71, Virginia Military to Navy 71-66 and William and Mary to West Virginia 106-80.

The Citadel shot 51 per cent from the floor in beating Wofford as Jerry Hirsch scored 32 points and sophomore Mike Ruddle added 19.

All conference teams are idle tonight.

Notre Dame Looms As Power In Cage Ranks After 2 Wins

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer
The Fighting Irish of Notre Dame loom as a strong contender for the national collegiate basketball championship this season.

They wiped out a 12-point deficit with a second half rally to pull out a 87-86 victory over Michigan Wednesday night. It was the second straight victory of Coach Johnny Dee's quintet over a Big Ten team. They beat Minnesota 84-75 Monday on the opening night of the 1970 campaign.

The Irish compiled a 20-7 record last season, but were beaten by Miami of Ohio in the first round of the NCAA championship tourney last March. The Irish vow it will be different in the new decade.

Sid Catlett, hampered by an ankle injury and who was not expected to play, came off the bench in the second half and sparked the 13th-ranked Irish to their come-back triumph at South Bend.

Catlett scored only six points, but he grabbed five rebounds and blocked two key shots. His work backed up the shooting of Austin Carr who tossed in 37 points for Notre Dame on 14 field goals and nine of nine free throws.

Davidson, No. 5 in the pre-season Associated Press poll, rolled over Furman 109-90, North Carolina, No. 7, smashed Mercer 100-52 and Colorado, No. 10, crushed UCAL, Irvine 80-65. St. Bonaventure, No. 17 and the only other team in the AP Top Twenty to see action, also won easily. The Bonnies humbled Detroit College 106-54.

Mike Malloy threw in 21 points as Davidson won its 50th straight on its home court and successfully launched Terry Holland's coaching era. Soph Bill Chamberlain led North Carolina with 18 points while Cliff Meely paced Colorado with 27. Big Bob Lanier tallied 36 points to lead the Bonnies in their easy triumph.

Jim McMillan threw in 27 points to help Columbia come from behind and down Northwestern 83-68 in the opener of a doubleheader at Chicago. Ken Johnson's 35 points led Indiana over Chicago Loyola 100-95 in the second game.

LaSalle beat Albright 95-59 and St. Joseph's, Pa., humbled Hofstra 98-57 in a twin bill at Philadelphia.

Fordham tripped Yale 92-67, Penn State shaded Kent State 61-57 and Colgate beat Cornell for the first time in nine years 78-76.

In other games Penn beat Rutgers 80-71, Maryland walloped George Washington 92-71,

Baby Bucs Lose Second In Row As Louisburg Rallies, 76-73

East Carolina University's freshman basketballers lost their second straight game last night, bowing to once-beaten Louisburg, 76-73. The Baby Bucs had blown a five point lead in the final 10 minutes of play in the game.

The Baby Bucs and Louisburg fought throughout the first half, with the lead changing hands nine times. It was tied on six occasions.

Finally, however, Ernie Pope hit a free throw with 2:22 to play giving the Bucs a 35-34 lead. Steve McKenzie followed with a pair of hook shots to give the Bucs a 39-34 lead, with 1:20 left. Louisburg managed to cut that back to 41-38 by halftime.

In the second half, Louisburg came back to take the lead, but they couldn't hold onto it, and the Bucs moved back out again, this time with Al Faber hitting to give East Carolina a 47-45 lead with 15:38 to go in the game. A free throw by Roland Leggett and a basket by Dave McNeil moved the margin out to five at 50-45, and it looked like the Bucs were going to pull away.

But Louisburg hung in there, and fought back, finally slipping ahead, 58-57 on a shot by Ricky Richardson. Pope returned the Bucs to the lead, but a free throw by Terry Davis and a tap in of a field goal by him returned Louisburg to the lead, 61-59, and they never trailed again.

Louisburg built the lead up to seven, at 66-59, and held onto that margin until the closing seconds, when the Bucs managed to cut it back to one with 26 seconds left, but a bucket by Mark Wilson sealed the Louisburg win.

Larry Paschall led Louisburg with 21 points, while Wilson had 17, Richardson had 13 and Davis had 12.

For East Carolina, McKenzie had 21, Faber had 19, and McNeil and Pope each had 11.

The Baby Bucs play host to Fort Jackson Saturday at 5:30 p.m. in a preliminary to the East Carolina-Atlantic Christian game.

Louisburg: Davis 12, Wilson 17, Richardson 13, Bowden 6, Paschall 21, Frazier 1, Spence 6.

Oscar's 36 All In Vain

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Oscar Robertson tossed in 36 points and moved into the third spot among all-time scorers in National Basketball Association Wednesday night but the Big O's heroics were in vain as the Seattle SuperSonics downed the Cincinnati Royals 118-117.

In other games Boston whipped Baltimore 113-105, San Diego bombed Chicago 146-131 and Detroit squeezed past San Francisco, 106-102.

In the American Basketball Association Kentucky beat Dallas 123-109, Indiana stopped Miami, 126-117, Washington topped Denver 99-87 and New York tripped Los Angeles 108-97.

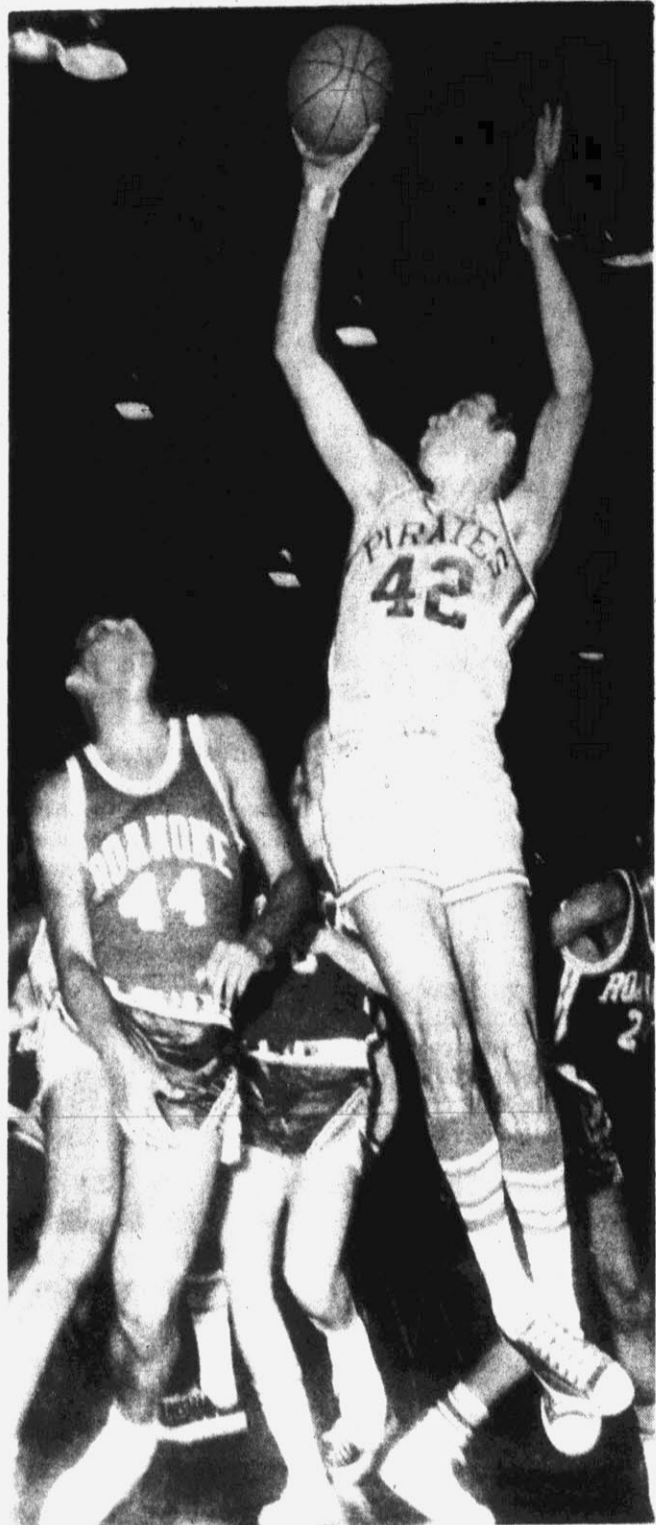

Robertson, who has now scored 20,881 career NBA points, moved ahead of Bob Pettit, former St. Louis Hawks star on the all-time list. Pettit had 20,880 points. Wilt Chamberlain and Los Angeles teammate Elgin Baylor remain 1-2 on the list.

The Big O led a futile final period charge as the Royals gained a 112-112 tie with Robertson hitting for eight points. But a pair of free throws by Seattle's Bob Boozer gave the Sonics a 118-115 lead and a basket at the buzzer by Tom Van Arsdale was not enough.

Boston got 31 points from Larry Siegfried and 27 from John Havlicek as the Celtics opened up an 18-point lead before intermission and hung on for their victory. Gus Johnson led the Bullets with 26 points.

Howie Komives hit four foul shots in the final minutes to give the Pistons their victory at San Francisco. Komives hit two free throws with 1:11 left to put Detroit ahead 102-98 and clinched the triumph with two more with two seconds left.

Eddie Miles led the Pistons with 29 points while Jeff Mullins had 31 for the Warriors.

Gregory For Two

Difficult Year Confronting Auto-Makers

By LOWELL MCKIRGAN
Associated Press Writer
DETROIT (AP)—The leaders of the U.S. auto industry are set to embark on the decade of the 70s with slumping sales and unwieldy inventories scattered around the country.

They also have memories of near-record 1968 sales and substantial profits.

PUBLIC NOTICES

NOTICE OF SALE
North Carolina
County of Pitt
Under and by virtue of the power of sale contained in those two (2) certain deeds of trust, one (1) deed of trust being dated November 7, 1964 and of record in Book U-34, page 438, Pitt County Registry, unto Jink James, Trustee, and another deed of trust bearing date of July 5, 1966, of record in Book G-36, page 349, Pitt County Registry, unto R. S. Langley, Trustee, both of said deeds of trust now securing indebtedness due by Eastern Food Products, Incorporated, and under and by virtue of the authority vested in the undersigned as substitute Trustee by an instrument of writing dated the 11th day of November, 1969, and recorded November 12, 1969, in Book V-38, page 113, Pitt County Registry, default having been made in the payment of the indebtedness secured by both of said deeds of trust and the said deeds of trust being by the terms thereof subject to foreclosure, and the holder of the indebtedness thereby secured having demanded a foreclosure hereof for the purpose of satisfying said indebtedness, the undersigned substitute Trustee will offer for sale at public auction to the highest bidder for cash at the Courthouse door in Greenville, Pitt County, North Carolina, at 12:00 noon on the 7th day of December, 1969, the lot or parcel of land conveyed in said deeds of trust, the same lying and being in Pitt County, North Carolina, and more particularly described as follows:

Situate and being in the Town of Lyden, North Carolina, North of 2nd Street and East of the alley between the P. R. Taylor Store property and the W. O. Jolly property and BEGINNING at a point on the North side of 2nd Street where the dividing wall between the first and second stores to the East of the alley, if extended, would strike the street and running thence along the center of the dividing wall between said first and second stores to the East of the alley in a westerly course to the center of the rear wall, being the dividing wall between these stores and the store owned by Boyce and Brantley Jolly; thence with the center of the dividing wall between these stores and the store owned by Boyce and Brantley Jolly an easterly course to the center of the dividing wall between the second store East of the alley and the rear wall of the stores owned by W. O. Jolly and Hubert Jolly; thence with the center of the dividing wall between the second store East of the alley and the stores owned by Hubert Jolly and W. O. Jolly, and the dividing wall between the small office now occupied by A. R. Cannon and owned by Boyce and Brantley Jolly, a Southerly course to a point on the North side of 2nd Street where said wall, if extended, would strike 2nd Street; thence with the North side of 2nd Street a westerly course to the BEGINNING, and being the second store immediately to the East of said alley and the same that was occupied by Frances Sugg Florist formerly J. E. Jones, and being conveyed by Grace Jolly Ewing and husband, D. C. Ewing, Jr. to F. J. Skinner and wife, Stella W. Skinner by deed dated the 12th day of March, 1946, of record in Book O-24, at page 297 of the Pitt County Registry, and from F. J. Skinner and wife, to Alton Sugg and wife, Adelle Sugg by deed of record in Book A-25, at page 311 of the Pitt County Registry. And further, being the same and identical property as conveyed by C. A. Sugg (unmarried), to Johnnie Sugg and wife, Frances Sugg, by that deed dated March 7, 1961, and recorded in Book I-32, at page 308, in the office of the Register of Deeds of Pitt County, to which reference is hereby made. And further, being the same and identical property as conveyed by Johnnie Sugg and wife, Frances Sugg to Eastern Food Products, Incorporated, by deed dated May 31, 1965, and recorded in Book H-35, at page 644, to which reference is hereby made and incorporated.

The proceeds of said sale will first be applied to the indebtedness secured by that deed of trust of record in Book U-34, page 438, and then to the indebtedness described in Book G-36, page 349. This sale will be made subject to all ad valorem taxes or other assessments now due or which constitute a lien on the above described lot or parcel of land and the highest bidder at said sale will be required to deposit with said Substitute Trustee ten per cent (10 per cent) of the amount of his bid up to $1,000.00 and five per cent (5 per cent) on all in excess of $1,000.00 to show his good faith.

Publish: Nov. 20, 27; Dec. 4, 11.

And for industry leaders James Roche, Edward N. Cole, Lynn Townsend, Virgil Boyd and Henry Ford II there are memories of substantial personal salaries.

But the motor industry, like some others, is faced with major difficulties.

With 28 days left in December, here are some of the problems facing Roche and Cole of General Motors Corp., Townsend and Boyd of Chrysler Corp. and Ford of Ford:

—The highest inventories ever accumulated after 11 months in any year.

—Soft consumer interest in some of the intermediate and larger cars.

—Rising costs of materials.

—Higher labor costs.

—The prospect of an extremely certain year during 1970 because of contract negotiations with the United Auto Workers union (UAW) and the possibility of strikes.

The same problems, of course, apply to Roy D. Chapin

Jr., and William V. Luneburg of American Motors Corp., but on a smaller scale. Chapin, the board chairman, and Luneburg, the president, got an advance taste of what may prevail in 1970 when their plants in Wisconsin and Ontario were closed by strikes for about six weeks. After a one-year contract was tentatively approved, dissidents at Kenosha, Wis., prolonged the strike by refusal to ratify initial plant provisions as recommended by the international union leadership.

AMC felt it had hit the mark with its new compact Hornet and sales were zooming when the UAW struck in mid-October. Unable to promise delivery, sales by AMC dealers fell by nearly 50 per cent during November from the preceding year and production was held to just 933 cars in U.S. plants.

Although AMC is probably not getting much consolation from the thought, the tiny automaker is the only U.S. manufacturer with a clear path to follow during December. The industry is holding a record 49-day supply of cars, according to Ward's Automotive Reports, the industry statistical service, and production cutbacks are likely during the holiday periods of December and early January.

Harry Stark, Ward's editor, said there might be some plants closed on Dec. 22 and 23, probably Chrysler, which seems to be holding the biggest stock of unsold cars. Under UAW contracts with the Big Three, hourly rated employees will be off

Dec. 24, 25 and 26 and Dec. 31, Jan. 1 and 2. By closing their plants for the four days between the contractual holidays the automakers could eliminate two weeks of production.

Ford said, "It looks like sales will be lower next year, but we are still in the process of working out our forecast."

Ford's assessment agreed with a measurement of consumer sentiment by the authoritative Consumers Research Survey of the University of Michigan. George Katona, director of the survey, stated recently that his interviews show 1970 now car sales may be down from 5 to 10 per cent from 1969.

Through the first 11 months of 1969, the U.S. automakers recars, down about 1.5 per cent from the 7,946,109 a year earlier. General Motors and Ford maintained slightly higher sales during 1969, but Chrysler continued its divergence from its record performance in 1968.

Chrysler reported Tuesday it has sold 1,334,931 cars through November, a drop of 7.4 per cent from the 1968 figure of 1,441,842.

Chrysler's sales dive began early this year and was accompanied by large inventories. Chrysler executives acknowledged that the high inventories resulted from a miscalculation of the public's interest in the large cars in its line. For the 1969 model year, Chrysler had no direct competitor for Chevrolet's Camaro, AMC's Javelin and Ford's Mustang. This year a direct competitor, the Dodge Challenger, is reportedly well received.

"Our all-new entries, the Plymouth Barracuda, Dodge Challenger and Valiant Duster have given our dealers better balanced selling in what is

Arrest Man For Local Break-In

A 19-year-old Negro, Angelo M. Hooker of Plymouth, was charged by police with breaking and entering here last night.

The arrest came after a caller reported someone removing tape playing equipment from a car at the Hillcrest Lanes Parking lot on Memorial Dr., according to investigators.

Police, who said Hooker was taken into custody about 9:40 p. m. on Hudson Street said Hooker allegedly used a piece of wire to open the locked car.

Investigation of the incident is continuing.

Two Wrecks Fire Volunteers' Bonus Plan Set For Farmville Yesterday

An estimated $1,700 damage was reported in two collisions investigated here yesterday by local police.

Heaviest damage resulted from a three-car collision at the intersection of Ninth and Washington Streets.

Drivers involved were identified as Magdaline Willie Byrd of Ayden, and Willie Graham, 37-year-old Negro of 510B Tyson St. Owner of the parked car involved was listed as Mike F. Edwards, 605 Eastern St.

Officers, who charged Mrs. Byrd with failing to stop for a stop sign, listed damage at $800 to the Byrd auto, $500 to the Graham car and $200 to the Edwards vehicle.

The mishap occurred about 11 a.m.

John Ralph Rachal III, 21 of Raleigh was charged with failing to see his intended movement could be made in safety after his vehicle collided with a sign post causing an estimated $200 damage to the car and about $20 damage to the sign.

That collision was reported at 4:25 p.m. at the intersection of First and Greene Streets.

By CAROL TYER
Reflector Staff Writer
FARMVILLE—Town Commissioners here voted Tuesday night to give each volunteer fireman 15 percent of his yearly salary as a Christmas bonus.

Since a volunteer fireman's salary is based on the number of meetings he has attended and the number of fire-fighting operations he has participated in, this method of determining bonuses would tend to reward each on his degree of service to the town and perhaps would be an incentive for greater activity within the Fire Department.

Chief H. P. Norman said. Last year each fireman was given a $10 Christmas bonus. Whether a frame house now being bricked for use as office space in the town's fire district was discussed, but no conclusion was reached. Extensive improvement to any frame building within the fire district is prohibited under the town's fire ordinances. The fire district supposedly covers an approximately square area whose four extremities are the center of the intersection of Grimmersburg and Contentnea, the center of the intersection of Church and Contentnea, the center of the intersection of Walnut and Church and the center of the intersection of Belcher and Walnut.

Mayor Joyner announced that each commissioner is invited to a meeting of the Mideast Economic Council today at 8:30 a.m.

Eugene Moore appeared before the Board to ask consideration since his lot has been inclined to flood since the street his home is built on has been curbed and paved. Town engineer Jack McDavid said Moore's house is a foot higher than the highest point of pavement, but that too much soil was removed from the lawn during landscaping and probably will have to be replaced to eliminate his problem.

The Board voted to change insurance coverage on all town employees to State Life, a company represented by Lonnie Pierce, a local man. The increased cost per person per month will be 46 cents, but coverage is said to be more extensive.

The Board tabled a request by Isaac Joyner Jr. for a beer license for the "Playboy Club" he plans to open at 410 South Main Street. Police Chief Creel was asked to investigate the request.

Cecil King's request to take orders for the sale of candy on a house-to-house basis was approved. Any feasible complaints against him would automatically revoke this approval.

The Board decided to run a waterline to the WFAG radio station here, provided easements are accepted, since the present one has given considerable trouble.

A minimum charge of $2.50 was set for sewage when the town's water is not put chased. J. A. "Bud" Wooten, head of the Water and Light Department, said there are three places, one business and two residences, where "running water" is not used, yet the sewage system is used. The usual manner of assessing the cost of sewage disposal is to make it equal to the cost of water.

Wooten was approved to attend a Utility Management School at the Institute of Government in Chapel Hill January 12-15.

Chief Creel and Bill Garner, chairman of the Police Committee, told the board the town has been promised a breathalyzer by a representative of the Governor's Committee on Traffic Safety. Creel said he would send three policemen to a breathalyzer operator's school as soon as possible.

The Board decided to have a pipe four feet in diameter installed and covered in a ditch which has been open and considered hazardous for some time. The estimated cost of the part of the project to be done immediately will be about $3,000 according to the estimated cost of 250 feet of 48-inch pipe and its installation. The part of the ditch to be fixed extends from the East Carolina Railroad to George Street.

E. P. Freuler, head of the Street Department, was approved to attend a HUD-financed school in Raleigh December 15-19.

Commissioner Robert Lee Smith asked Freuler to investigate the existence of large numbers of rats in the Allen Acres subdivision of Farmville and to begin steps to exterminate these pests.

Commissioners Smith, Lum Wooten, and Garner discussed rides they have taken in police patrol cars recently and made recommendations about certain stretches of the regular route that need to be improved to avoid disalignment and other damages to the cars. Most of these rutted and otherwise harmful stretches are on private property that is being patrolled as a service. Creel was instructed to contact the owners of these and ask that they be made passable at once.

ECU Plans New Police Program

Plans to institute North Carolina higher education's first educational program in police administration and corrections have been announced at East Carolina University.

ECU President Leo W. Jenkins said today that the university's current base of courses dealing with crime and delinquency will be used to develop significant curriculum and structures for a comprehensive program in the field. An advisory committee pavement, and trash cans in need of paint. While some Commissioners seemed to want to wait and let Urban Renewal funds pay for these improvements, Joyner said some need to be done immediately. No decision on the matter was made.

Water and light employee, Ernest Jones' salary was raised to $100 a week.

Street lights were approved for Main Street in front of Farmville High School and Moyer Drive.

It was asked that dog ordinances be more strictly enforced.

will be immediately formed to help facilitate development of the program.

"Higher education in North Carolina does not provide academic training for persons who wish to pursue a career in police administration or the correction field," Dr. Jenkins said.

"We are faced with a demanding crisis in the field and recent events have illustrated the need for and the role of law enforcement in human relations and the prevention of crime."

ECU's program, he explained, will at first be coordinated through the new Department of Social Welfare and Social Work in collaboration with the Departments of Psychology, Sociology and Political Science.

As additional resources become available, a department of police administration and corrections will then be able to complete a major or a minor in the field.

Dr. Jenkins added that although great strides have been made in the area of juvenile correction and adult correctional programs in the state, "it is timely for a university to be cognizant of these developments and the need for trained personnel and to focus some of its resources on developing the needed manpower."
