Developer Waives Option

Fate Of Baldhead Island In 1971 Assembly Hands

RALEIGH (AP) — The fate of Baldhead Island now apparently lies in the hands of the 1971 General Assembly.

A South Carolina developer, Charles Fraser, has waived his option to buy the land for a vacation resort area since he could not get the cooperation of the State of North Carolina.

Gov. Bob Scott said in September he feels the uninhabited island in the mouth of the Cape Fear River in Brunswick County should be preserved in its natural state as a wildlife refuge. But he left the decision of state purchase of the 12,000-acre island to the next legislature, saying the state has no funds with which to buy the island now.

The island is owned by Frank Sherrill, a Charlotte businessman, who was reported to be asking $5.5 million for the land.

Sunday, after it was made public that Fraser had waived his option to buy the island, the Conservation Council of North Carolina passed a resolution relating its request that the State purchase the island as a wildlife refuge.

Conservation groups, legislators and others raised a storm of protest during the summer after word of Fraser's plan for development of the island were made public.

Fraser is the developer of the plush Hilton Head Island, S.C., resort. He planned a similar vacation area for Baldhead.

Under pressure from both sides, Scott told the Board of Conservation and Development in September the next legislature should decide whether the state should purchase the island.

Scott's move left the way open for Fraser to exercise his option to buy the land. But parts of the development plan rested too heavily on state cooperation.

Fraser's Raleigh lawyer, Hugh Cannon, confirmed Saturday that his client has dropped purchase plans until the legislature decides whether to buy the island for the state.

"Until the state indicates it is not interested," Cannon said, "it is hard to proceed with development plans. We can't develop it against the wishes of the state."

The plan called for the state to build a toll road and causeway to the island.

"If the state wants to buy it, fine," Cannon said, "but we think its best use is for development, and we hope the state will let us go ahead."

Bonn, Moscow Talk Pact Of Nonaggression

By MICHAEL JOHNSON
Associated Press Writer

MOSCOW (AP) — West Germany and the Soviet Union today began talks on a formal agreement to renounce the use of force against each other.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko and West German Ambassador Helmut Alldorf opened the negotiations at the Foreign Ministry, an official German source reported.

With the opening of today's talks, the Soviet Union now is engaged in negotiations with the three countries that until recently have been its favorite propaganda targets—Communist China, the United States and West Germany.

U.S.-Soviet talks on the limitation of strategic weaponry are under way in Helsinki and Soviet-Chinese negotiations on border problems are in progress in Peking.

Soviet Ambassador Semyon Tsarapkin handed a note to the West German foreign office in Bonn Sunday, saying his government was ready to start the talks in Moscow today.

The Soviet go-ahead followed a declaration by the Soviet bloc nations at a summit meeting in Moscow last week which said the new West German government of Chancellor Willy Brandt has shown a "tendency toward a realistic policy."

The West Germans have been seeking talks to improve relations with the Soviet Union ever since Brandt became foreign minister in 1966, when his Socialist party first entered the government as the junior partner to the Christian Democrats.

The Moscow summit meeting last week also repeated the long-standing demands that the Bonn government recognize East Germany and accept as final the German borders that now exist.

But West German officials viewed the communique at the end of the meeting as conciliatory.

Viet Cong Still Push Withdrawal

PARIS (AP) — A Viet Cong spokesman said today that if the United States and its allies agreed to an unconditional withdrawal from Vietnam over a six-month period, the parties would then discuss "guarantees for safety during the withdrawal."

The mentioning of a six-month period was a new element in the Paris peace talks scene but the demand for an unconditional withdrawal—a stumbling block—remained. Previously the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese had spoken of a rapid withdrawal over a period of a few months.

The Viet Cong position was put forward by Ly Van Sau at a news conference.

He said, "If the United States says that it will unconditionally withdraw all its troops from South Vietnam in a period of six months and the members of the American camp follow suit, the parties will discuss the calendar for the withdrawal and guarantees for security during the withdrawal."

Sau said the United States had the means to rapidly pull out its troops and referred to a statement he attributed to an American commander that a withdrawal could be made in three or four months.

"We give them six months," Sau said. "How can we show a more comprehending attitude? I think this is reasonable."

Credit Card Crime Rising

WASHINGTON (AP) — Organized crime is profiting from the unsolicited mass mailings of credit cards by selling them on the black market for as much as $100, a Senate subcommittee has been told.

The subcommittee, headed by Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., held a rare Sunday session to hear testimony on bills to restrict or ban the widespread mailing of unasked for credit cards.

Robert L. Mead, a spokesman for the President's Committee on Consumer Interests, said Post Office officials have told him mass mailings of credit cards have caused a 700 per cent increase in mail-fraud cases in recent years.

Dist. Atty. Eugene Gold of Brooklyn, N.Y., said a $500 price tag has been put on forged identification kits for those seeking to use lost or stolen credit cards.

$15,000 Grant To Association

CHARLOTTE (AP) — The national Episcopal Church has granted $15,000 to the Black Cultural Association of Charlotte.

The grant, similar to a $45,000 award that went to Malcolm X Liberation University in Durham, came from the church's General Convention Special Program after recommendations from local clergymen.

Vietnamization Is Foreign Aid Regarded Best Bet Slashed To A New Low

PARIS (AP) — In the absence of a breakthrough in the Paris peace talks, the United States looks to Vietnamization as the fastest way to get Americans out of Vietnam and the best way to achieve the U.S. objective there, Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird said today.

At the same time, Secretary of State William P. Rogers told an interviewer here President Nixon has no plans for the immediate appointment of a successor to Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, the chief U.S. negotiator in Paris who has quit.

Rogers seemed to suggest he saw no prospects at this time for a break in the Paris deadlock. Laird spoke at a news conference.

"Barring a breakthrough in Paris, for which we all hope, Vietnamization still provides the best and quickest route to achieving our objective," Laird said.

Vietnamization is Nixon's program for turning over to the South Vietnamese military forces the burden of carrying on the fight against the Viet Cong and the North Vietnamese.

Rogers, in an interview with a correspondent of the American Broadcasting Co., said Philip C. Habib will carry on for Lodge.

"If it should appear that there is a prospect for some more active negotiations, then we would want to consider sending another delegate," Rogers said.

Court Won't Reconsider

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court refused today to reconsider or amplify its Oct. 29 decision that required school districts in Mississippi to operate, at once, only "unitary schools."

The U.S. Circuit Court in New Orleans followed the decision Nov. 6 by ordering desegregation of public schools in 27 districts by the end of 1969 and in three other districts by next fall.

The state, in petitioning the Supreme Court for a rehearing or "clarification," said the circuit court had violated "the fundamental concept of due process of law" by ordering implementation of desegregation plans prepared earlier by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare without holding a court hearing.

The Supreme Court turned down the plea without amplification. Mississippi had told the high court that no court has ever conducted a hearing on the HEW plans. Additionally, the state contended, the Supreme Court's position in schools has been misunderstood.

Blue Laws Bring Eight Arrests

ASHEVILLE (AP) — Eight persons were arrested in Asheville Sunday on charges of violating the city's blue laws.

Police chief J. C. Hall said the arrests were prompted by complaints filed with him last week.

Two Policemen Wounded In Series Of Raids

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Two policemen were wounded in an exchange of gunfire today as about 300 officers began raids against two Black Panther headquarters and a private home, police said.

Police said they still had not been able to enter the group's main headquarters 2½ hours after the raids began. They described the other buildings as "secured."

Police said the simultaneous raids were to serve warrants on two persons after authorities received information machine guns and other weapons had been stored at the two headquarters.

Large Turnout For Program Of School Dedication Sunday

By JERRY RAYNOR
Reflector Staff Writer

A full house of guests, parents and children yesterday gave a standing ovation to Dr. E. B. Aycock at the conclusion of remarks made by J. H. Rose at the dedication of Aycock Junior High, Eastern Elementary and the addition to Rose High School.

"Dr. Aycock is a man of the highest type. He is one who views with distaste some of the loose practices in education in America today," Rose commented. "In these days when any member of a board of education has much to face, many pressures to bear, Aycock is calm and collected. . . he keeps his cool."

Dr. J. L. Pierce, director, Division of School Planning of the Department of Public Instruction in Raleigh, who was principal speaker, touched on a number of developments and needs in education in a fast changing environment. "Changes are demanding higher standards of education. The man of the future must be more broadly educated and more thoroughly educated if he is to cope with the problems that he will have to face," Dr. Pierce remarked.

He called attention to social changes which in turn affect the pattern of education. "One of the most important changes taking place today is urbanization. . . with urbanization comes regimentation and restriction on the freedom of the individual. Urbanization brings . . . many social problems otherwise overlooked which must be considered."

Dr. Pierce remarked that the educational establishment has a tremendous responsibility in preparing students to "extend the scope of his learning and understanding to peoples of many lands. . . the language, customs, the government, political situation, and many other conditions." He emphasized mobility of people as a factor in the necessity for extending the scope of outlook and education. "People are more and more moving about, not only within the immediate vicinity . . . but within the country, and even within the world."

In meeting the challenges offered by these changes and modern developments, Dr. Pierce said it is necessary "to emphasize a higher quality of education that will meet the needs of the individual as well as those of society. . . we must in the years immediately ahead concern ourselves specifically with the quality of education that the individual receives."

"In the years ahead we will see our public school system utilizing not only the traditional school facilities, but many, many more community facilities. Libraries, art and music centers, and industry, business, trade and commercial facilities will be used."

In accepting the keys to the school from architect George Shoe, Mrs. Robert Kittrell, chairman, School Facilities Committee, state "We, the school board members, pledge our continued efforts to see that all students get the kind of education needed to prepare them as leaders for tomorrow. We ask the parents to pledge their continued support to our efforts."

Leroy James recognized a number of special guests present for the ceremony, including Congressman Walter B. Jones, Mayor Frank M. Wooten, Jr., East Carolina University president Dr. Leo Jenkins, members of the City Council, State Senator Vernon White, members of the Pitt County Commissioners and a number of other prominent citizens.

At the conclusion of the formal ceremony, parents and other interested persons toured the facilities of the new school facilities.

Tax Reform Action Has Large Stumbling Block

By JOE HALL
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — An amendment that would remove much of the political clout from labor unions by eliminating their tax-exempt status is presenting a major stumbling block to an early Senate vote this week on the tax reform bill.

Managers of the bill, now in its third week of Senate debate, say a final vote can be held Tuesday or Wednesday. But the amendment, sponsored by Arizona Republican Sen. Paul Fannin must be dealt with first, and a tough floor battle is expected over the politically charged issue.

Fannin's proposal would deny tax-exempt status to unions and other organizations using members' dues and assessments to support or oppose political candidates.

"It has been estimated," he says, "that over $100 million were spent by labor unions in the last national elections, not including wages and salaries of those in every-day activities that are truly involved in political endeavors."

"One of the things which makes this practice so iniquitous is that much of this money is collected by the union leaders under arrangements which give a man no choice but to belong to a union."

The AFL-CIO contends these activities are legitimate because the funds are received in voluntary contributions from union members and because they are paid out not by the labor organization itself but by a separate group, the Committee on Political Organization—COPE.

So far during floor debate, the Senate has cut back substantially on the House-passed tax reform bill while voting for a number of politically popular riders, including a big increase in Social Security benefits.

Two leading Senate Republicans suggest these votes are part of a Democratic scheme to pack the bill with costly provisions which would force President Nixon to veto it.

"I expect there are a lot of people who would like to see it vetoed, either for political or pecuniary reasons," said Sen. George D. Aiken, R-Vt., the Senate senior Republican.

Assistant GOP Senate Leader Robert P. Griffin of Michigan said "if you get a President to veto a social security and tax relief bill, it looks like a clever political maneuver."

But Griffin added "I think it will backfire. I think the people will see through it—if that is the strategy."

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield denied there is a plot to bring on a veto.

Wisconsin Rep. John W. Byrnes, the GOP's House fiscal expert, also attacked the Senate's work so far on the bill.

He said unless the conference committee which will consider the Senate and House versions end up with a fiscally responsible measure, President Nixon will have "no alternative but to veto the bill."

Tentative Pact In Food Strike

By RICHARD DAW
Associated Press Writer

CHAPEL HILL, N.C. (AP) — A tentative agreement was reached today to end a month-long food service workers strike at the University of North Carolina and head off a planned mass demonstration by black students.

Shortly after agreement was reached about 3:30 a.m., union officials began trying to turn back what they said was an expected gathering of 3,000 students from neighboring colleges who had been called to demonstrate in support of strikers.

Jim Pierce of Charlotte, southeast area director of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, said he expected several hundred students to reach the campus but that it would be "a joyous victory celebration instead of a protest demonstration."

Pierce said workers would return to their jobs Tuesday.

"We got almost everything we asked for," Pierce stated.

He said the only important point on which the union failed to win was a proposed hike in the minimum wage to $2.25 an hour. The contract proposes a $1.80 minimum.

Representatives of the workers and Saga Food Services Inc., which operates the university dining halls, had been meeting since Saturday.

The union called a meeting on whether to accept the terms. The contract was expected to be accepted.

Under terms of the tentative agreement, all workers who had been dismissed immediately before and during the strike will be rehired. Any worker who loses his job with Saga as a result of planned reduction in personnel will be assured of a job by the university. These were the two points which had held up settlement.

A Good News Story

College Campus In Turmoil, But No One Is Complaining

HARRISONBURG, Va. (AP) — The campus of Eastern Mennonite College was in turmoil for the third day in a row today, but not a soul was complaining. Coeds poised for invasion of the home economics building and a final assault on their goal of baking hundreds of pies, cakes and cookies by nightfall.

Male students girded for penetration of the town and countryside to chop wood, wash cars, clean up yards, do odd repairs, and knock on doors for donations.

It all began Friday when college trustees announced they were $110,000 short of the $400,000 needed to approve plans for a new $1.5 million college library. Tonight was the deadline the trustees had set for the fund raising.

By early Saturday, the word was out and so were the students, all 950 of them, all over town.

One man paid $1,000 to a student for chopping wood. Several others agreed to have their cars washed and waxed for $200.

Efforts were to be redoubled today and would be capped with a three hour auction sale on campus tonight. That's when all those pies, cakes and cookies, as well as hundreds of items donated by students and townsfolk, will go on the block.

DEAR ABBY: My husband is in a profession which caters to women. [It's a personal service, but please don't say what kind.] He is of Italian descent and speaks the language very well, altho he was born and raised in the U. S. A.

One of his clients recently returned from a vacation in Rome. She is fiftyish and married to a rich man. She's very attractive and obviously a swinger because while in Rome she met and had an affair with an Italian. [Don't ask me how an American woman who can't speak Italian, and an Italian man who can't speak English ever got to this point, but they did.] Well, this woman got a love letter from this Italian man, and since it was written in Italian she asked my husband to translate it for her. He did. Then she dictated a letter to her lover in English, and my husband wrote it for her in Italian.

At first I thought this was funny, but I don't think it's funny anymore. [The Italian is also married.]

I told my husband I didn't think he should be doing this. He thinks I'm "square." What do you think? "SQUARE"

DEAR "SQUARE": If you're "square," I want to be in all four of your corners.

DEAR ABBY: Lately my husband just loves to go to these discount stores to buy groceries for me. Abby, my kitchen cupboards are filled with things I have no use for. I would prefer to buy my own groceries as no one knows better than I what I need in my kitchen.

Also, lately, he won't allow me to wash his socks and underwear. He washes them out himself every night. I tell him I can do it like I always did, once a week, but he says I "lose" them for him! Now, Abby, I've been married to this man for nearly 40 years and I haven't lost any of his laundry yet.

We raised four nice children who are all married and gone now, and there are just the two of us home. He retired last year and this should be the happiest time of our lives, but his strange ways are making me nervous. What should I do? Don't tell me to send him to the doctor. If you could see him eat, you'd know he wasn't sick. NERVOUS IN MAINE

DEAR NERVOUS: A "healthy appetite" doesn't necessarily indicate good mental health. Your husband's sudden "strange ways" could be a signal that there is something "wrong" with him. By all means, get him to a doctor for a thoro examination from the neck both ways.

CONFIDENTIAL TO EARL: Money IS important. But only because it enables you to buy the things that are more important than money.

Teacher Groups Nearer Merger

DURHAM (AP) — Merger is in sight between the North Carolina Teachers Association and the North Carolina Education Association.

Negotiations, spurred by a directive from both groups' parent National Education Association, have proceeded fitfully for the last few years between the NEA and its Negro counterpart, the NCTA.

But acceptance at the NCTA's annual meeting Saturday of 14 recommendations for organizing a merged teacher group dropped the last tough barrier, said NCTA executive secretary E. B. Palmer.

The recommendations came from a fact-finding committee of the National Education Association and from the liaison committee set up by the two North Carolina associations.

Palmer said the merger would become final only after both state groups vote separately on the proposed new constitution. He said the votes should be tallied by April 3, 1970.

The new organization, to go under the name "North Carolina Association of Educators," will set up its governing body according to the 14 recommendations, including the following:

—A black president will govern during the group's second and fifth years. And if a Negro is not elected in the sixth or seventh year, a black educator will serve as president in the eighth year.

—The first year of merger will put Mrs. Ruth B. Jones, now president of NCTA, in line for the second-year presidency. She will be vice president the first year, president the next.

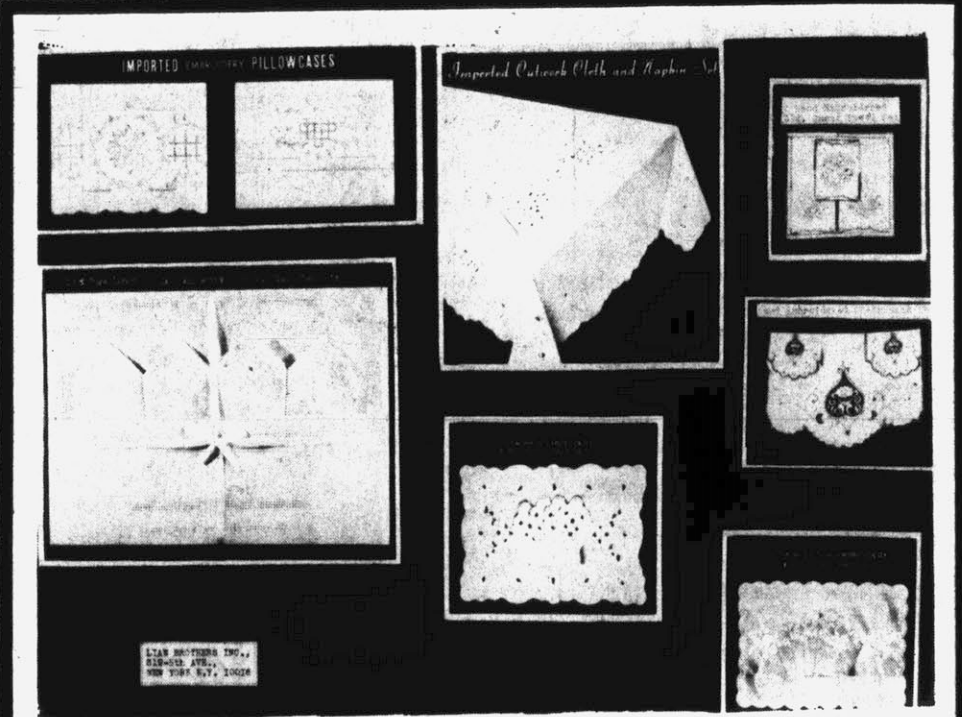

—Thirteen whites and eight blacks will make up the new board of directors.

Three of the 14 recommendations were left hanging for resolution by the executive committee of the National Education Association.

They include a rule that racial questions must be decided on a two-thirds board majority,

If the Shoe Fits.

BY LARRY AVERETTE

What is an arch shoe? An arch shoe naturally is one that supports the arch. Manufacturers attempt arch supports in various ways, depending on their ability, and the price bracket they wish to compete in. Usually an arch shoe has these features:

1. A steel shank bridges the shoe from heel to just back of the ball of the foot. The front part of the steel shank should rest on the ground when you stand.
  2. A long firm counter lies along the inside of the shoe, which prevents the bones of the heel from rolling inward. There may or may not be a pad on the insole under the long arch and up under the metatarsal arch.
- Other features in arch shoes, depending on price and design, are a broad heel, cupped heel seat, cushion insoles, padded tongues, broad toe, and leather soles.

Miss Jo Ann Jones Is Bride Of William Gray

The Shelmertine Pentecostal Holiness Church was the scene of the wedding of Miss Jo Ann Jones and William Lee Gray on Nov. 29.

Roy Williams officiated at the 4:00 p.m. ceremony.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Billy L. Jones of Rt. 2, Greenville, and Mrs. Dell Moye Gray of Robersonville and the late Mr. James H. Gray Jr.

A program of wedding music was presented by Mrs. Grady Smith, organist, and Mrs. Bobby Dixon, soloist.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a bell shaped gown of chiffon over peau de soie with five petaled flowers of velvet applied on the gown. The gown featured full chiffon sleeves and wide velvet cuffs with a velvet band around the waistline. The chiffon train was attached in back centered with a velvet bow.

Her four-tiered fingertip veil of silk illusion was attached to a crown of seed pearls and sequins. She carried a bouquet of white pom poms centered with two light green orchids with a lace satin bow.

Miss April Adams of Winterville was maid of honor. Honorary attendants were Miss Linda Kaye Haddock, Mrs. John Best, Mrs. Charles Crisp and Mrs. Charles Beaman.

James H. Gray III of Raleigh, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Ushers were Billy Wayne Jones of Rt. 2, Greenville, brother of the bride, and Michael Yelverton of Greenville. Following a wedding trip to Williamsburg, Va., the couple will reside in Greenville.

The bride is a graduate of Chicod High School and is employed at Wachovia Bank. The bridegroom is a graduate of Robersonville High School and is employed by Davis Electric.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride. Assisting were Mrs. Johnny Hunt, Mrs. Lyman Haddock and Mrs. Jesse Haddock, all aunts of the bride, and Mrs. Mayme Jones, grandmother of the bride.

Fresh dairy cottage cheese is made from pasteurized skim milk separated into curds and whey. The salted dry curd is sold as plain cottage cheese. Creamed cottage cheese is the same curd with three tablespoons of light cream per cup added.

Brooks' Work Should Not End

The resignation of John Brooks as the first permanent employe of North Carolina's General Assembly should not mean an end to the important post he has held, nor to the important work he has done for the state and its legislature.

Although he became the center of controversy during the recent legislative session for doing the job he was hired to do — that of administrative officer and director of research — there can be no question that he did an excellent job for the legislature. The long and difficult session would have been even longer and more difficult had it not been for the advance planning and research, and for the business-like approach to their duties that Brooks insisted upon from employes of the legislature.

It is understandable that in such an institution as the legislature where everyone is a Chief and there are no Indians, an administrator is bound to step on toes trying to create efficiency in a chaotic situation. Such was the case with Brooks and that was the source of the controversy. Some legislators just didn't like the idea of his doing the job he was hired to do... seeing that the non-law-making functions associated with the General Assembly were carried out efficiently. The very fact that those who yelped for Brooks' scalp during the session were unable to get him fired, attests to the majority opinion that the job he was doing was a constructive one and well done.

By organizing the administrative work of the General Assembly, John Brooks has provided for North Carolina an important framework for future biennial legislative sessions. His work enhanced the efficiency and effectiveness of the 1969 General Assembly and provided important tools that may be used in future sessions.

Whatever his reasons now for resigning as the General Assembly's first administrator, John Brooks should do so with the feeling he has done a fine job for the state and for its legislature.

Another Opportunity For Pitt County Area

Selection of Greenville as one of the communities in which North Carolina's new experiment in low cost housing will be conducted offers another opportunity for this section.

The program, designed to produce some 1,200 housing units across the state to be offered for sale to low income families, represents a new effort by the state to assist lower income families in owning their own homes. At this point in the program, no one can say how successful it will be. There is every reason to expect, however, that the program will answer one of the growing needs in this state.

By being named as one of the initial areas to participate in this new program, Greenville has before it another opportunity and another challenge. It stands to gain early whatever advantages will be realized from this new housing undertaking. It also assumes some responsibility in providing assistance to make the new program a success.

Greenville's selection is another indication of the place of leadership this community occupies in this area of the state.

Wallace Takes Chance In Ala.

By ROWLAND EVANS and ROBERT NOVAK

MONTGOMERY, Ala. — Unabashed and unrestrained support by Postmaster General Winton M. (Red) Blount for Gov. Albert Brewer in his forthcoming collision with George C. Wallace could turn out to be just the campaign ammunition Wallace needs to beat Brewer.

Blount, a millionaire construction tycoon from Montgomery, has publicly bubbled over about Brewer's 19 months as governor being the best in Alabama's history and privately urged well-heeled friends to unzip their wallets for Brewer in next May's Democratic primary against Wallace's probable challenge. But because Blount is a Cabinet member and a prominent Alabama Republican, his indiscreet cheerleading perfectly fits Wallace's emerging strategy.

That policy is designed for what Wallace calls "the fellows who work in the filling stations and textile mills." It would wrap around Brewer's neck what Wallace will call an unholy coalition of the Republican and Democratic national parties, militant blacks and country club millionaires, the White House and Alabama white liberals. The most superficially plausible and potentially damaging is the accusation that President Nixon is pulling the strings for Brewer in Montgomery — a devastating charge in a state still xenophobic.

In fact, the charge will have substance. Even White House political aides admit that they regard Brewer as a shortcut to their goal of combining the Nixon and Wallace votes of 1968 into a national Republican majority.

Contrary to the conventional wisdom of Alabama politicians that Wallace is unbeatable, confidential surveys show amazing strength for Brewer after a year of relative inactivity by Wallace. Brewer, 41, a Wallace lieutenant of years who was lieutenant governor when Gov. Lurleen Wallace died in May, 1968, has been quietly competent. His political ideology would be described elsewhere as "moderate" (still a poison word in the Deep South).

But since Wallace feels he must regain the Governor's chair for a second Presidential campaign in 1972, he is risking his future against Brewer. The Alabama Republican party, reduced to impotency by five years of ideological fratricide, is mobilizing behind Brewer and has no plans to field its own candidate. Big money interests typified by Blount overwhelmingly oppose Wallace.

What the Brewer camp wants is less public support from the Republicans. With his imposing mansion outside Montgomery, Blount is the perfect foil for Wallace's little-man populism and an integral part of his strategy. Thus, Brewer was careful not to see Blount between President Nixon's inauguration and Vice President Spiro Agnew's visit to Montgomery, Nov. 20. When publicly asked about President Nixon's record, Brewer is cool and critical. That's a wise reaction considering the fact that Alabama is one Deep South state where George Wallace remains a no-contest choice over Richard Nixon. Although Agnew is enjoying a popularity spurt from his Montgomery visit, the President himself is a murky figure whose tacit endorsement would be no help to Brewer.

Moreover, Brewer is no Republican. James Martin, the state's rambunctious Republican National Committeeman, has met only rebuffs in private suggestions to Brewer emissaries that the governor switch parties. No

The Mitchells At Home

WASHINGTON—All of Washington is talking about Attorney General John Mitchell's wife, Martha. Mrs. Mitchell has made almost as big a splash as Vice President Spiro Agnew, with such remarks on TV as the one that her husband would like to trade some American liberals for some Russian Communists.

She also told Time magazine's Dean Fischer, "Any time you get somebody marching in the streets, it's catering to revolution. My family worked for everything. We even had a deed from the king of England for property in South Carolina. Now these jerks come along and try to give it to the Communists."

Commenting on life in Washington, she said, "It's quite a comedown in many ways. We're not living on the same means we had in Rye, N.Y. I think the government should give us free housing. We'll be happy to go back and make some money."

Mrs. Mitchell in her TV broadcasts and interviews has given us an insight into a Cabinet officer's life that we never had before, and I can imagine what happens when the Mitchells return home in the evening to their posh apartment at the Watergate in the Foggy Bottom part of Washington.

The attorney general enters first and checks all the closets.

"There's none in here," Mrs. Mitchell looks under the bed. "There's none here."

Other Editors Say A Valuable Step

(Raleigh Times) So many jokes have been made about the nut behind the wheel being the most important part of an automobile's mechanical makeup, but so little serious effort has been made to try to understand what makes that nut a dangerous one.

This is the aim of the Center for Driver Evaluation, Research and Education, whose creation was announced yesterday by Governor Scott. Such a long-range study is long overdue, and out of it may come information which will make it possible to take real steps toward highway safety.

The center will be located in the Research Triangle Park. Eventually, the Governor said, it will be a multi-million dollar facility paid for in private funds. The Governor described it as: "It will be unique in America. In the years to come, we hope it will offer findings that will bring fact to a belief that there is, indeed, a correlation between the multi-accident, multiple violation driver and his medical and behavioral background." That is a large order, but it is an order which would help fill in the gaps of the knowledge about the people who operate the automobiles which crowd our streets and highways.

Governor Scott noted that one objective of the center's studies would be "the possibility of this accumulated knowledge leading to the recognition of some potential problem drivers before they become problem drivers. This would enable us to offer educational and training courses with truly preventive value to especially our youthful and aging drivers."

The Center will be operated by Duke University. Other agencies cooperating will be the University at Chapel Hill, N.C. State University, Bowman Gray School of Medicine at Winston-Salem, the State Medical Society and the North Carolina Association of Independent Insurance Agents. The insurance agents contributed $50,000 toward creation of the center.

Dr. Barnes Woodhall, chancellor of Duke University, noted yesterday that "there is widespread public apathy and an almost fatalistic acceptance of death and injury on the highways." This attitude of the public is one of the major bars in the way toward safer highways, and if this Center could find ways to overcome this attitude, it would have accomplished a near miracle.

They both look in the laundry room. "There's none here," the attorney general says.

Mrs. Mitchell sighs. "Oh, John, can't you do something about the liberals, so we don't have to go through this every night?"

"I'm trying, Martha. I'm working on a list of liberals to exchange for Communists with the Soviet Union. Once we get it drawn up, we'll present it to Russians at the SALT talks in Helsinki."

"Good," Mrs. Mitchell replies. "I'd rather have out and out Communists in this country, than people with Marxist ideas who won't admit their true colors."

"Well, let's go to bed, Martha."

"Suppose they march tonight?" Mrs. Mitchell says.

"I don't think they will. The Justice Department would have let me know if they had any plans. We should be able to get a good night's sleep."

"How do we know they're not in the lobby waiting for us to go to bed?"

"Don't you remember? I

No Hesitation On Burke Jail

By WILLIAM A. SHIRES

RALEIGH — The Burke County jail in Morganton, N.C., is dreary, drab and gloomy — and, by today's standards, inadequate.

By order of the state's Commissioner of Social Services (Public Welfare) the jail in Morganton must be closed a month from now, by Jan. 7. Other arrangements for housing prisoners must be made.

The order issued by Commissioner Clifton M. Craig is backed up by law enacted by the 1969 General Assembly authorizing the closing of jails which fail to meet standards for safety and sanitation. Craig, a former U.S. Marine officer, has served notice he does not intend to dilly-dally about carrying out the legislative mandate.

WILLIAM SHIRES

He conducted a personal inspection of the jail facilities in Morganton on Nov. 25 and promptly notified county officials that "the deficiencies of the Burke County jail are such that safe custody, health, and welfare of prisoners confined therein, as well as the safety of staff, are in jeopardy... I have no choice but to advise you that it is my intention to issue a order closing this facility January 7, 1970."

Prerogatives — The Burke County jail is no big operation. It accommodates only 16 prisoners, all male.

Yet it serves or has served incarceration requirements for almost the entire county including arrests by the Highway Patrol and in the Burke County town of Valdese, Drexel, Icard, Hildebran, Oak Hill, Glen Alpine and other small communities. Valdese has a small jail.

But Burke County itself has recognized deficiencies in its jail. All female prisoners and most felony prisoners have been confined to an approved jail in Lenoir, in neighboring Caldwell County, 20 miles distant. This requires transportation expense especially on days when the district or criminal Superior Courts are in session.

Decision — Craig's action calls for a decision immediately by the Burke County commissioners on what course of action they will take.

There are plans for a new courthouse in Morganton but the initial construction phase does not include plans for a jail. The reason is that funds are not available.

An alternate idea is to gain approval of a multi-county jail which would serve Burke, Catawba, Caldwell and Alexander counties. However no funds have been made available for such a project. Still another idea is possible use of a modern state prisons facility which is to be located in Burke County. This has been approved by the legislature but construction has not been started.

Prison officials in Raleigh express doubt as to whether this might include local jail facilities. "It is not contemplated," says a state prisons official.

Strength For Today More Ads, More Loan Sharking

THAT NEW WORLD Conformity. Going with the crowd. Not being thought of as pious or religious. Turning from a person who is having the life pounded out of him and saying, "I don't want to be involved."

But why not? Every time a crime is committed we are all of us in some measure involved. We may not actually commit a crime, but our attitude of tolerance, our desire not to be bothered, our desire to stand right where we are and let the world go where it will—these are factors out of which crime sometimes emerges, and frequently unhappiness. No greater privilege has ever come to any generation than the privilege we enjoy of being alive in the midst of this twentieth century and living day by day in a free country. There is still tyranny in the world. There are wars and rumors of war. People of high station disappoint their contemporaries, and most important of all, disappoint themselves. It was a wonderful feat to have landed men on the moon. It will be more wonderful if we can put some of our own breed on other planets. Worth the cost? Undoubtedly so if other planets are populated and have knowledge that would be valuable for us to possess.

Every age can with some justification be called a period of transition, but the transition through which we are going at present is certainly enough to make our heads swim.

This is not a day for compromise, loose thinking, selfish projects. A new world is opening up for ourselves and our descendants.

By Earl L. Douglass

By ELMER ROESSNER Here are more look-aheads in business:

A surge in retail advertising is coming. Not only will Christmas promotions be heavier this year but post-holiday advertising will break records. Merchants will try to counteract a drop in consumer spending caused by unemployment and other results of the anti-inflation campaign, including yield from savings. Several surveys have shown a drop in consumer plans for spending.

Loan sharks will grow richer. Banks are being more selective in whom they will lend to, forcing marginal operations to turn to the sharks, whose interest rates are often 10 per cent a month or more. The Mafia have already taken over many businesses that couldn't pay up.

How To Wash, Clean

How-to-care labels are coming. The Federal Trade Commission is working on regulations to require makers of all textiles to add permanent labels telling how they should be care for. It will hold public hearings on Jan. 13 and 14 in Washington to air proposals and objections.

Trailer homes will sell more. With the high cost on land, labor and money for permanent homes, the boom in sales of mobile homes will get even bigger. In September, normally a dull month, sales rose 3 per cent.

Bonds will pay even better.

The upward trend in bond yields this week will continue. Big investors who have been staying out of stocks are also avoiding bonds unless returns appear able to offset further inflation.

Steel prices will rise further. Most producers will make more selective increases, especially in types that require nickel and other costly alloys. The ceilings are the prices at which foreign producers can deliver here. With Russia buying considerable amounts of steel in foreign markets, these producers are not now eager to dump steel on the U.S. market.

More Retreads

More temporary employees are coming to the labor market. More wives, with family incomes pinched by inflation, are polishing up old skills for part-time work.

The desire for Christmas money is a big factor right now, but as prices keep rising and husbands are laid off, more "retreads" will seek temporary employment.

Color TV will get better. Every manufacturer is researching ways to improve brightness, color and tuning. Philco-Ford is bringing out a new line with tubes said to be 50 per cent brighter. Most makers are working on the theory that the public likes to be fooled. As with color photography, the public prefers colors that are brighter and more vivid than they are in real life.

Posted octane ratings are coming. Nudged by the Department of Justice, the Federal Trade Commission is working on regulations to require the octane ratings to be posted on all gasoline pumps.

Ancient Hue Peaceful, Tense Two Years After Its Ordeal

By WILLIS JOHNSON
Associated Press Writer
HUE, Vietnam (AP) — The mood is peaceful but tense, wistful but optimistic in this ancient imperial capital nearly two years after its ordeal in one of the war's most savage battles.

The Tet offensive of February 1968 left the city 75 per cent destroyed in a 25-day battle. Everything here is dated from that time. People speak of things having happened "before Tet," or "after Tet."

Much of the old grandeur is smashed and overgrown with moss. A hole still gapes in the inner Citadel wall, through which South Vietnamese rangers stormed to trap the last enemy holdouts.

Tin roofs shimmer atop houses once sheltered by rich terra cotta. The left wing of the imperial palace inside the Citadel, damaged in the battle, is patched with tin.

But across the Perfume River, in the newer part of the city, shoppers crowd the rebuilt stores and a shiny new market.

With aid from Saigon, the local economy is recovering slowly. The Long Tho lime factory six miles west of Hue has reopened, employing more than 200. Refugees are being resettled. Offshore fishing restrictions have been eased. More people are working in the rice fields and timber forests. Sawmills are starting up. Still, tax revenues are lagging and working capital and loans are scarce.

Most people, one municipal government official said, have snapped out of the stupor that followed the devastating offensive.

"They sat around and did nothing—perhaps from shock, perhaps from fear that whatever they built would be torn down again," he said.

The Tet offensive was not only the fire that nearly destroyed Hue. It also was the crucible in which its new character, attitudes and programs were forged.

For most residents, it was the dramatic turning point when Hue's people turned from what Col. Le Van Than, the Thua Thien province chief, likes to call "nonaligned" to embittered anticommunist.

"The Communists made their biggest mistake when they tried to lay this city low," says a resident.

"I'm so proud of you, John. Have you done anything yet about the 55 senators who voted against Judge Haynsworth?"

"I've got everyone at Justice working on it now. We think we may be able to prove a conspiracy between the mobilization organizers, the Eastern Liberal Establishment, Joan Baez and the senators who voted against Haynsworth."

"That would be wonderful. John, did you hear something in the bathroom?"

"The water's running. Stay back Martha."

The attorney general goes into the bathroom and comes out white-faced.

"It's John Kenneth Galbraith. He's taking a shower!"

"I knew it," Matha cries. "I told you we should have never come to Washington."

not openly sympathetic with the V.C. Now they either hate the Viet Cong or they just don't say anything."

A major reason for the change of attitude is that the North Vietnamese and the Viet Cong slaughtered about 3,000 residents while they occupied the city. Bodies are still being dug up from mass graves.

The once militant Buddhist and student factions have adopted a passive stance, officials say. Many of the people who were passive before Tet are now openly pro-government.

"Martha, you shouldn't fret."

"Why shouldn't I? This place is costing us a pretty packet and it's certainly a comedown from Rye, N.Y. Why don't we go back and make some money, John?"

"We will, Martha, but there is important work to be done. Do you know I managed to keep a Marxist Belgian professor from entering the United States last week, over the objections of the secretary of state?"

matter how much Republican aid he receives next year, Brewer will remain a Democrat.

Similarly, although Brewer will have nearly unanimous support of Alabama Negroes against Wallace, he will rigorously avoid any identification with them. For example, the governor has flatly turned down requests for a meeting in the state capitol with John Cashion, a Negro who leads the black-dominated "National Democratic Party" of Alabama. Such a meeting would play into Wallace's plans to put a black imprint on Brewer, far more difficult but potentially far more lethal than pinning him to Mr. Nixon.

To the Brewer camp, the race question which has dominated Alabama politics through the '60s is the one absolutely certain path to victory for Wallace. To avoid race, Brewer's campaign will concentrate on comparing his Administration with what he regards as the spendthrift conduct of the Wallace era.

That comparison by itself will stir deep personal animosities and campaign bitterness.

Plan Speedup Reimbursing The Hospitals

CHAPEL HILL (AP) — North Carolina Blue Cross and Blue Shield has announced plans to reimburse hospitals for services "when they are rendered rather than a month or so later."

J. A. McMahon, Blue Cross and Blue Shield president, said Saturday the insurance firm is putting up $2.5 million to put payments to hospitals for treatment of patients on a current basis.

He pointed out hospitals are currently having to finance the cost of medical care of their patients until hospitalization claims are paid.

"Some hospitals do have enough operating capital," McMahon said. "Others don't." He said under the new program, hospitals will be given the opportunity to receive in advance the equivalent of one month's hospitalization claims.

The Italian actress had previously postponed the marriage from the original date of Dec. 18 until January.

Two Houses Hit By Fire

Two wooden frame houses suffered fire damage over the weekend in Pitt County—one extensively and another only minor damage.

At 11:02 p. m. Friday, the Falkland Fire Department reported to the D. B. Small house near the Belvoir Elementary School. The fire began in the kitchen, from a chimney. Damage to the house, valued at about $6,000 was held to approximately $300.

The Larry Blow house, one half mile west of Candlewick Inn, was a near total loss as the result of an oil fire reported at 3:00 a. m. Saturday morning. Bell Arthur answered the alarm. Fire Chief Raymond Webb of Bell Arthur reported the fire beginning from an oil heater. Damage to the wooden home amounted to approximately $4,000, against an estimated value of $5,000 for the house.

Pitt County Fire Marshal Mike Worthington says "we are glad to see this rain, as it should help us on grass fires. We had a total of 12 from last Monday up to the weekend. Maybe now the rate will slacken up a little."

Woodall Named To Office In AIA Chapter

RALEIGH—Charles E. Woodall of Greenville was named vice president of the Eastern North Carolina Section of the North Carolina Chapter of the American Institute of Architects at the group's meeting held here recently.

Other officers named include: William L. Laslett, Fayetteville, president; William R. Wyatt Jr., Rocky Mount, secretary-treasurer.

The Eastern Council is composed of about 70 member architects.

The program theme adopted for the year will be "Regionalism: Eastern North Carolina," a series of presentations to evaluate the change of rural-urban areas, transportation, economies, housing and land planning on a large scale.

Dietzel Is ACC Coach Of The Year

RALEIGH (AP) — Paul Dietzel's South Carolina team won each of its six conference football games on its way to an invitation to the Peach Bowl in Atlanta. Members of the Atlantic Coast Sports Writers Association have recognized the achievement by naming Dietzel Coach of the Year in the ACC.

He is the first South Carolina coach so honored. He won handily in the voting, being named on 77 ballots. Bill Dooley of North Carolina was a distant runner-up, with 16.

Dietzel, who is serving now as president of the American Football Coaches Association and president of the athletic directors of the ACC, is in his fourth season as South Carolina's coach.

His Gamecocks played before sellout crowds in all of their home games and compiled a 7-3 overall record.

Many football honors have come to Dietzel in his playing and coaching career.

He won Little All-America honors as a center at Miami of Ohio. In 1958 he was national Coach of the Year because of his success at Louisiana State where he produced a national championship team.

He has been a president of the board of directors of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes and has been very active in that organization.

His first South Carolina team in 1966 won only one game, so the growth of his program there is apparent. He came to Columbia in April, 1966, after four years as head coach of the United States Military Academy. His first head coaching position was at Louisiana State, where he stayed seven years.

Buc Grapplers Take Crowns

CHAPEL HILL—East Carolina University dominated the North Carolina Collegiate Wrestling Tournament, held Friday and Saturday in Chapel Hill at the University of North Carolina.

Four of the Bucs picked up State championships in the meet, and one, Tom Ellenberger, was named the Outstanding Wrestler in the Tournament.

All told, a total of 11 East Carolina matmen placed in the meet. Championships went to Ellenberger in the 188-pound class, to his brother, Tim Ellenberger in the 126-pound class, to Stan Bastian in the 142-pound class, and to Mike Spohn in the 150-pound class.

Each school in the tournament was allowed to enter two men in each class, and in three, the 118, 142 and 150-pound classes, Pirates also made up the other finalist. Ron Williams was second in the 118, losing to Tom Ellenberger, 4-2. Robert Corba lost to Bastian, 1-0, in overtime, and John Carroll lost to Spohn in the 150-class, by a similar overtime score.

Other Buc finishers included Roger Lundy, third in the 126-pound class; Steve Morgan, third at 134; Sam McDowell,

No. 1 Cage Position Is Not Easy To Hold

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer
The basketball marked No. 1 is already taking crazy bounces after only one week of the college season and now that it seems headed for Kentucky or UCLA, coaches Adolph Rupp and John Wooden aren't too certain they can hang on.

Either the Wildcats of Rupp or the Bruins of Wooden appear headed for top ranking in the weekly Associated Press major college poll after No. 1 South Carolina was beaten by Tennessee 55-54 and No. 3 Purdue lost to Ohio U. 80-79 Saturday night.

Kentucky, No. 2, enhanced its standin by clubbing Kansas 115-85 while No. 4 UCLA nipped Minnesota 72-71 in overtime.

"Come to think of it," Rupp said when giving South Carolina's loss some thought, "that doesn't make me too happy. We have to play Tennessee twice."

However, tonight Rupp must worry about seventh-ranked North Carolina, which routed Mercer 100-52 and has beaten Kentucky in their last four meetings.

Wooden also sees rougher times ahead, calling his team overrated by noting the loss of three regulars, including Lew Alcindor, to graduation.

He felt his team was lucky to beat the Gophers on Henry Bibby's basket with 44 seconds left in overtime after Sid Wicks had tied the score with two seconds remaining in regulation time.

Meanwhile, Frank McGuire, South Carolina's coach, looked at the bright side of a defeat to the unranked Vols. "Losing was a heartbreaker," he said, "but it relieves the pressure. We'll bounce back."

South Carolina expects to regain some prestige against Erskine tonight, East Carolina Wednesday and Virginia Saturday while Purdue meets Butler Tuesday and Idaho State Thursday.

Minn. Slaps Rams

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer
An early happening in Los Angeles helped shatter the Rams' dreams of an unbeaten season and left them thinking about a Dec. 27 date in the Minnesota northland when a lot more than pride will be at stake.

"That kickoff return was something that just happened," Minnesota Coach Bud Grant said Sunday after the Vikings handed the Rams their first defeat of the season after 11 straight victories.

What happened on the return of the kickoff—the opening one of the game—was a 78-yard run by Charlie West to the Los Angeles 22 to set up Dave Osborn's four-yard touchdown run that gave the Vikings a lead they never lost.

It was the 11th straight victory after a season-opening loss for the Central Division champion Vikings, who will play the Coastal Division champion Rams for the Western Conference title Dec. 27 in Minnesota.

Dallas, 9-2-1, struggled through the rain and snow in Pittsburgh to edge the Steelers, 1-10, and clinch the Capitol Division and the right to meet Century Division winner Cleveland for the Eastern Conference championship.

In other NFL action Sunday, Washington, 6-4-2, outlasted Philadelphia, 4-7-1, 34-29; the New York Giants, 4-8, smashed St. Louis, 4-8-1, 49-6; Cleveland, 9-2-1, topped Green Bay, 6-6, 20-7; Atlanta, 4-8, drubbed New Orleans, 4-8, 45-18, and Detroit, 7-4-1, tied Baltimore, 7-4-1, 17-17. San Francisco, 3-7-2, walloped Chicago, 1-11, 42-21 Saturday.

Kansas City edged Buffalo 22-19, San Diego downed Boston 28-19, Oakland took Cincinnati 37-18 and Miami nipped Denver 27-24 Sunday and the New York Jets defeated Houston 34-26 Saturday in the American Football League.

After Osborn scored, Minnesota took a 14-0 lead on Bill Brown's one-yard touchdown run. Bruce Gossett then kicked a 37-yard field goal and the Vikings' Fred Cox booted a 39-yarder as Minnesota built up a 17-7 halftime lead. Cox and Osborne exchanged second half field goals and then Roman Gabriel brought the Rams their touchdown, on a four-yard pass to Larry Smith with about three minutes left. The Rams got the ball again but couldn't move out of their own territory.

Dallas built a 10-0 halftime lead on Mike Clark's 32-yard field goal and quarterback Craig Morton's 12-yard touchdown run, then held off Pittsburgh the fourth quarter. The Steelers' touchdown came on a 29-yard pass from Dick Shiner to Jon Henderson.

Vince Lombardi, in his first season as Washington coach, was assured of at least a .500 season when the Redskins got past Philadelphia. Trailing 16-13 at halftime, Washington came back as rookie defensive end John Hoffman recovered a Norm Snead fumble for a touchdown. Sonny Jurgensen fired his second scoring strike and Larry Brown scored from one yard out. Snead passed for two Philadelphia touchdowns.

Veterans Joe Morrison and Fran Tarkenton sparked New York past St. Louis, snapping the Giants' losing streak at seven games. Morrison caught six passes for 96 yards and two touchdowns and ran 36 yards for another score. Tarkenton connected on 19 of 31 passes for 252 yards and four touchdowns.

Leroy Kelly turned in the best individual rushing performance of the season, rambling for 151 yards in Cleveland's victory over Green Bay. It was the 20th time in his career he has gained more than 100 yards in a game. Bill Nelsen passed for one Cleveland touchdown and Ernie Kellerman ran 40 yards with an interception for another. Don Horn threw for Green Bay's score.

Running back Harmon Wages and quarterback Bob Berry were the big guns in Atlanta's trouncing of New Orleans. Wages scored on an 88-yard pass from Berry, ran 66 yards for a touchdown and passed for another. Berry also passed for two other touchdowns. Bill Kilmer passed for a touchdown and Ernie Wheelright ran for one for the Saints who had a three-game winning streak stopped.

Errol Mann, who missed four previous attempts, kicked a 12-yard field goal late in the game to give Detroit its tie with Baltimore. Detroit built up a 14-3 lead on Bill Triplett's 22-yard touchdown run and John Wright 26-yard scoring trip with a recovered fumble. Baltimore came back on two touchdown passes by Earl Morrall.

Cal Stoll, head coach at Wake Forest University, will be guest speaker tonight at the Rose High School Athletic Banquet. Tickets are on sale at Hodges Hardware, or may be obtained from any member of the Rose football team. The banquet will begin at 6:45 in the high school cafeteria.

RANGOON (AP) — Thailand today won the gold medal in the Seap ladies tennis team competition, capturing both singles matches and the doubles. Burma took the silver medal for second and Malaysia was awarded the bronze for third.

Volkswagen introduces Medi-car.

We don't change our car outside each year to make it look different. But we constantly change it inside to make it run better. And last longer. This year, we're introducing the biggest change of all: A system to spot trouble early. And help extend your car's life even longer.

Medi-car.
When you buy a new VW, you get a series of 4 free check-ups where we use special diagnostic equipment to check out just about everything that can affect your car's health.

Getting each check-up is like getting an X-ray.

Our special equipment can see things no human eyes can. In fact, it's so advanced, it can actually spot problems before they can become real problems. For example, let's say the resistance in your spark plug wires is too high. (Unchecked, that can eventually foul your plugs and cut gas mileage.) During a normal check-up, no mechanic alive could spot that problem. But our Medi-car equipment would. Volkswagen Medi-car: It's a whole new way of life.

Arnie Hitches Britches And Charges Into Lead

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Golf Writer
MIAMI (AP) — The charge was there, the shouting, stampeding gallery was there and it was the Palmer of old. "Charge, Arnie, Charge," they shouted, and Arnold Palmer grinned that infectious grin, hitched up his britches with a characteristic gesture, and responded.

He responded like the Palmer of years gone by, charging up from six strokes off the pace with a seven-under-par 65 that brought him the title in the $125,000 Danny Thomas-Diplomat Golf Classic and left Gay Brewer—the front-runner for three days—panting in the dust of Arnie's whooping army.

"This thing, this winning, means everything to me," said Palmer, a non-winner for more than a year and now author of consecutive triumphs, the only player to score that feat this year.

"Getting it going again is probably the thing I wanted most in my life. I knew I was going to play again, but I didn't know how successfully. There were some doubts in my own mind."

If anyone had any lingering doubts, any thoughts that last week's victory was a fluke, the old master dispelled them with a game from out of his past, a game in the tradition of the dramatic style that was his trademark in the decade he dominated the game.

The gallery was relatively small, about 10,000, but they all were with Palmer.

"Go, Baby, Go," they pleaded. He started to move on the fifth hole, canning a 10-foot birdie putt while Brewer, with a six-shot lead going into the day's play and playing one two-some back, took the first of three consecutive bogeys.

"You have a feeling, a sixth sense sort of thing when it's going to happen," Palmer said. "I thought at six, when I birdied and Gay bogeyed, that I might have it going."

Brewer, who finished with a 73 for 272, and Palmer parred the next three holes but Gay went one more ahead with a birdie on 13. He might as well have waved a red flag at a bull.

Palmer put a four iron eight feet from the hole on 14 and made the putt. He was one stroke back. A nine iron to four feet on the 15 and it was even.

Gay bogeyed the 16th from the woods and Arnold was alone in front.

He nailed it down with birds on the last two holes, two-putting the par five 17th and running in a 12-footer on the last hole.

"Nothing went right," Brewer said.

Lee Trevino closed with a 66 to take third at 274 with Hal Underwood and Larry Hinson sharing fourth at 275, each with a final 69. Masters champion George Archer had a course record 64 and was alone at 276.

Palmer's victory pushed his earnings past $105,000 for the year and put him in the top 10. It was only the third time in his remarkable career—which now includes 55 tour victories—that he had scored consecutive triumphs. The last time was in 1962.

Chiefs And Raiders Rely On 'Sick' Players

By HERSHEL NISSENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer
The Oakland Raiders and Kansas City Chiefs promise to show up for their Blue Cross Bowl showdown next Saturday... and they'll be wearing football uniforms, not hospital pajamas.

Daryle Lamonica and Jan Stenerud, two of the healthiest outpatients around, sparked their respective teams to victory Sunday and set up the forthcoming battle for the American Football League's Western Division title.

Lamonica got out of a hospital bed and threw three touchdown passes as the Raiders avenged their only defeat of the season — they have an 11-1 record — by defeating the Cincinnati Bengals 37-17.

The Chiefs, 11-2, kept pace, edging the Buffalo Bills 22-19 on the flu-ridden Stenerud's fifth field goal of the game, a 25-yarder with two minutes left.

Elsewhere, San Diego beat Boston 28-18 and Miami downed Denver 27-24. The New York Jets clinched the Eastern Division crown Saturday with a 34-26 triumph over Houston.

Cougars Down Miami, 136-123

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
How the mighty have fallen.

Last season, the Oakland Oaks were champions of the American Basketball Association. Today, playing as the Washington Caps, they hold the record for the most one-sided defeat in the league's three-year history, a 143-92 trouncing Sunday night by the Dallas Chaparrals.

By winning, the Caps also moved past the Caps into second place in the Western Division. Glen Combs led the winners with 27 points. Cincy Powell had 26 and John Beasley and Manny Leaks 21 each.

Elsewhere, Carolina downed Miami 136-123. Indiana beat Los Angeles 108-99. Pittsburgh nipped Kentucky 92-90 and New York stopped Denver 102-96.

In the National Basketball Association, it was Atlanta 104, Los Angeles 103 and Detroit 118, Phoenix 113.

Two newly acquired players — Larry Miller and 7-foot Rich Niemann — helped Carolina defeat Miami. Miller hit 14 of 18 shots and scored 36 points while Niemann, just dropped by Boston of the NBA, grabbed 19 rebounds.

Earlier this season, Lamonica was hospitalized with the flu the night before a game against San Diego but got up long enough to pass well as the Raiders won.

This time, he had a pain under his shoulder blade and received heat pad treatment during the game after spending the night in a hospital.

"We were just having a slight drill," said Lamonica, after raising his season total to 33 touchdown passes, three short of the pro record. "I went back to throw and got this bad pain.

Teammate George Blanda, who shares the mark of 36 scoring passes with Y.A. Tittle, kicked three field goals and four extra points, giving him an AFL record 153 consecutive conversions. His passing late in the game also enabled him to pass the 20,000 career mark, another AFL record.

debut and followed up with 24, plus 12 rebounds, against Michigan. DeMoisey and Stelzer performed well as floor generals. And with Mike Maloy, Jerry Kroll and Doug Cook starring as usual, the "Cat claws seemed sharp as ever.

East Carolina, which downed Atlantic Christian 106-97, and previously winless George Washington, which nosed out VMI 80-78 in the conference opener for each team, were the only other Saturday victors.

Richmond's Spiders, who hope to offer an SC challenge, were mauled at West Virginia, 97-720. The Citadel fared even worse at N.C. State, 105-59; and William and Mary took it on the chin at Virginia Tech, 76-65.

The first intimidating sign came in a 109-90 scot past a greatly improved Furman team on the Davidson court. Then, Saturday night, the fifth-ranked Wildcats clipped intersectional foe Michigan 91-87.

After a single week of action, only one other SC team remains unbeaten. East Carolina's Pirates, second in the conference race last year, are 3-0 but have not yet shown their wares against a conference rival.

This situation will be remedied this week when the Pirates visit Richmond Saturday night. The week's lone other intracference affair finds Richmond, 1-1, at William and Mary, 0-3 on Thursday.

Furman, 2-1 over-all is host to Chattanooga and Richmond entertains East Tennessee in a pair of nonconference encounters tonight.

Davidson, which lost two starters from last year's 27-3 club, showed in its two games last week that sophomore Brian Adrian and lettermen Fox DeMoisey and Ron Stelzer will do very well as replacements, thank you.

Adrian scored 18 points against Furman in his varsity

Isaac Says Luck Aided His Win

By MIKE COCHRAN
Associated Press Writer
COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — Bobby Isaac, contending lady luck was his co-pilot, streaked to a two-lap victory Sunday in NASCAR's inaugural Texas 500 stock car race.

"It's my biggest win," he said, "and the happiest day of my life. Things just went my way after a lot of bad luck. I'm sorry some of the other boys had bad luck...but now they know how I've felt."

Averaging 144.265 miles an hour on the two-mile Texas International speedway, Isaac, 34, drove a 1969 Dodge Daytona Charger to his first super speedway triumph.

"I've had 16 wins this year, and nobody pays any attention to me, like I haven't won a race," he said. "This is my 17th win, but I would trade the other 16 for this one."

He plucked $15,640 from the $93,000 purse, moving him up into fourth place for the year in the final 1969 standings of NASCAR Grand National stock car competition with $79,760. It was his best season.

"Years ago," he said, "I used to drive several hundred miles to a track with no money in my pocket. I knew I had to run well to have enough money just to buy gas to get back home."

Four Violent Deaths In Wake Of Rock Festival

TRACY, Calif. (AP) — A free rock music festival that police estimated drew 300,000 young people to the dry brown hills east of here left behind it a blanket of litter, four violent deaths, and four new babies.

The babies arrived prematurely to mothers who were taken to medical-aid tents staffed by 19 doctors and six psychiatrists. The staff also reported treating many youths for overdoses of drugs.

Authorities said the four men who died were: —Meredith Hunter, 18, of Berkeley, Calif., stabbed in the back and face during a scuffle in front of the stage, where members of the Hells Angels motorcycle clan guarded the featured British Rolling Stones and other rock groups during the six-hour concert.

—An unidentified youth who toppled down a bank into a canal and drowned.

—Richard Salvo, 22, of Elizabeth, N.J., and Mark Feiger, 22, of Union, N.J., who were run over by a car leaving the speedway site Saturday night after the concert. The two were lying on the ground in a group bedding down around one of the many campfires.

Thousands of youngsters had poured into the area near the Altomont Speedway auto race track on Friday, the night before the concert, and hundreds stayed over Saturday night rather than fight what highway patrolmen called one of the Bay Area's most massive traffic jams.

The major highways into the isolated area were blocked for about 30 miles in the concert vicinity Saturday morning. Thousands of vehicles were parked while their occupants walked miles to the festival. Some 200 cars were impounded for blocking roads or being on private property.

There was much wine drinking, pot smoking and a few instances of open nudity, but police said most in the turnout were seeking to avoid trouble.

The Rolling Stones arrived late, near the end of the concert, which began about noon, and one fan swung at one of the Stones as they were being escorted to the dressing tent, said John Jones, a representative of the rock group.

A volunteer crew of about 12 turned out Sunday to clean up the wine bottles, papers and other litter.

Proceeds from commercial films made at the festival were to be donated to a charity selected by the Rolling Stones, promoters said.

Building Trade Unions Lean To Assembly Line

By NORMAN KEMPSTER WASHINGTON (UPI) — Three of the nation's biggest building trade unions have reached an agreement that may eliminate union opposition to manufacture of low-cost assembly line homes.

Housing Secretary George Romney, the former auto maker who thinks some form of mass production is necessary if the nation ever hopes to provide adequate housing, was enthusiastic about the new labor contract.

"This is a significant step forward... toward helping us meet the increasingly desperate housing needs of this country," Romney said.

The carpenters, plumbers and electricians unions signed a joint contract with Prestige Structures, Inc., a Charlotte, Mich. manufacturer of prefabricated "modular" homes.

Peter T. Schoemann, general president of the United Association of Journeymen and Apprentices of the plumbing and pipe fitting industry of the United States and Canada, said he hoped the tri-craft approach could be extended to the 150 or so other firms in the modular home industry.

A modular home is built in a factory like an automobile. It is shipped to the lot in two, three or sometimes four sections or modules. The modules are connected at the site to form a house.

Under such a system, on-site construction work takes less than a day. Prestige homes says it can deliver a three bedroom, one-bath home with all appliances for less than $16,000 including the lot.

Some other manufacturers who specialize in deluxe models say they can deliver a four-bedroom, two-bath home for less than $20,000 if suitable land can be obtained.

Modular homes so far account for a small fragment of the nation's construction of more than 1 million dwellings a year. But many Housing Department officials believe production of prefabricated homes must be increased to help the nation meet its goal of 26 million new homes in the next 10 years.

Use of prefabricated housing has been slowed by the

Saw 'Vision' On Day Body Of Husband Found

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — The widow of former Episcopal Bishop James A. Pike saw a vision the day her husband's body was found in the Judean desert and "I made me almost envious."

In the vision, she told a standing-room crowd at All Saints Episcopal Church Sunday, "I saw all the people who previously had died waiting for him. It was very strange."

Diane Kennedy Pike and her husband were in Israel in September doing research on Christ when Pike became lost in the desert.

"When Jim died," said the attractive 32-year-old bride, "I was walking through the desert, and suddenly I knew that death had no power over me, and I felt his body, and I felt not one tiny, tiny, tiny bit of fear... This means that what we can expect is that we will be here and in this living moment, free from the power of death forever."

Mrs. Pike's husband originally had agreed to speak at Sunday's forum.

'Gunsmoke' Series Keeps Ever Fresh

By BOB THOMAS Associated Press Writer HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Once given up for dead, "Gunsmoke" has turned into a television series of amazing liveliness.

When a 16-year-old show turns up No. 1 in the television ratings, that's a remarkable achievement. But then "Gunsmoke" has a record of doing what seems to be impossible.

This year was the acid test. Not only did the veteran series face the upstart "Laugh-In" during its last half-hour, it also was forced to contend with Operation Holddown, the industry's reaction to the nation's outcry against televised violence.

"Gunsmoke" has never been a polite show. Part of its appeal was the no-nonsense portrayal of the West as a place where the gun and fist provided the balance of power.

The political assassinations of

GOREN ON BRIDGE

BY CHARLES H. GOREN
 (to 100; by the Chicago Tribune)
ANSWERS TO BRIDGE QUIZ
 Q. 1—As South, vulnerable, you hold:
 ♠A ♠K 5 2 ♠9 7 3 ♠10 6 5 4
 The bidding has proceeded:
 North East South West
 1 ♠ 1 ♠ 2 ♣ Pass
 3 ♣ 1 ♠ 2 ♣ Pass
 4 ♣ Pass ?

What do you bid now?
 A.—Five diamonds. Partner obviously has a fine diamond suit for which our three small will be adequate support. On the other hand his clubs are only four in number and a bad break there might make five clubs an unplayable contract. An alternative call is four spades, but that might be a little drastic with such a weak holding in the minors.

Q. 2—Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:
 ♠10 6 4 3 ♠K 10 ♠AKQ 6 3 ♠7 5
 The bidding has proceeded:
 North East South West
 1 ♠ Pass 2 ♣ Pass
 3 ♣ Pass ?

What do you bid now?
 A.—Five hearts. Partner has shown a big hand with a solid spade suit. There should be slam if the opponents are unable to grab a couple of quick tricks. Your leap over game will indicate to partner that he needs controls in the unbid suits.

Q. 3—East-West vulnerable, as South you hold:
 ♠Q 10 6 3 ♠J 6 3 ♠J 9 5 3
 The bidding has proceeded:
 West North East South
 1 ♠ 1 ♠ Pass ?

What do you bid now?
 A.—Four spades. This bid serves a twofold purpose. The partner could muster a mere overall, your hands could fit well enough to make the contract. Furthermore, should the hand belong to the opposition, your bid makes it extremely difficult for them to get together.

Q. 4—As South, vulnerable, you hold:
 ♠AKJ ♠AJ 10 8 3 ♠2 ♠K 9 8 4
 The bidding has proceeded:
 East South West North
 Pass 1 ♠ Pass 1 ♠ Pass ?

What do you bid now?
 A.—Two clubs. The temptation is to raise spades immediately. However, a single raise would be inadequate, and a double raise should be avoided when holding only three trumps, even such good ones as these. The compromise choice is a temporary bid of two clubs intending to raise spades subsequently.

Q. 5—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:
 ♠Q J 10 7 6 5 4 ♠J 8 2 ♠Q 6 3
 The bidding has proceeded:
 North East South West
 1 ♠ 2 ♣ ?

What do you bid now?
 A.—Four hearts. Your hand has great playing strength but virtually no defense, so every effort should be exerted to prevent the opponents from getting together. This is the same response you would have made if East had not entered the auction.

Q. 6—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:
 ♠AKJ 10 7 5 3 ♠A 8 6 2 ♠7 ♠4 5
 The bidding has proceeded:
 South West North East
 1 ♠ 2 ♣ Pass Pass
 2 ♠ 3 ♣ 3 ♣ 4 ♣
 4 ♣ 5 ♣ Dbl. Pass ?

What do you bid now?
 A.—Five hearts. This hand will be a disappointment defensively but, if your partner has merely five hearts to the king-queen, you will be an outstanding favorite to make five hearts.

Q. 7—As South vulnerable, you hold:
 ♠AQ 8 6 3 ♠4 ♠J 3 ♠10 9 8 6 5
 The bidding has proceeded:
 North East South West
 1 ♠ Pass 1 ♠ Pass
 2 NT Pass 3 ♣ Pass
 3 NT Pass ?

What do you bid now?
 A.—Pass. You have told your story. If partner had a fit with either of your suits or if he did not have hearts adequately controlled, he would not have persisted with no trump.

Q. 8—Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:
 ♠J 6 ♠9 3 ♠AQ 10 8 6 4 2 ♠8 5
 The bidding has proceeded:
 West North East South
 Pass 1 NT Dbl. ?

What do you bid now?
 A.—Three no trump. This may seem a bit unusual, but your hand is a reasonable prospect to produce seven tricks which your partner will certainly be able to fill out to nine. Furthermore, it is possible the opponents will have a good save in one of the major suits against which this bid may serve as an effective barricade.

Today in Washington

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
 WASHINGTON (AP) — Donald Rumsfeld, director of the Office of Economic Opportunity, says the vote in Congress on a two-year extension of the federal antipoverty act will be a close one.

Rumsfeld said Sunday that President Nixon fully supports him in opposing efforts to turn major responsibility for the program to the states. But he said he didn't know if the administration could come up with the necessary votes.

He said the substitute bill offered in the House is very undesirable. But House Republican leader Gerald R. Ford said last week Nixon had voiced no opposition to the substitute.

Rumsfeld was interviewed on the CBS radio-television program, "Face the Nation."

WASHINGTON (AP) — Justice Department figures show the antiwar movement in the United States is increasing the work of the nation's courts and federal prosecutors.

Asst. Atty. Gen. Will R. Wilson said prosecutions are being initiated against more than 300 young men each month for refusing induction. This is about the number for an entire year only three years ago.

Wilson also said convictions and the length of sentences are going up, too, indicating that judges are getting tougher.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mrs. Edward M. Kennedy was smoothly narrating Prokofiev's "Peter and the Wolf" at a Christmas concert of the Washington National Symphony Sunday when a voice from the audience interrupted her.

"Hi, Mommy," yelled out her 2-year-old son, Patrick, several times after recognizing his mother on stage.

His mother smiled and attempted to continue but lost her temper momentarily. She recovered and her husband, Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass.,

took Patrick on his lap and pacified him.

Scott To Watch Burning Of Paid-Up Bonds

RALEIGH (AP) — Gov. Bob Scott and the Council of State Friday will witness the burning of paid state bonds at the North Carolina State University heating plant.

The council will meet at 9:15 a.m. before going to the bond burning ceremony.

At 3 p.m. Friday, the governor will attend portrait presentation ceremonies in the old House chamber of the Capitol. A portrait of former Gov. Dan Moore will be presented to the state.

On Wednesday at 11 a.m. Scott will cut a ribbon at a Rockwell plant expansion in Raleigh.

He will attend a meeting of the board of science and technology in the Research Triangle at 3 p.m. Thursday.

Two Collisions Here Yesterday

Damage estimates exceeding $900 were reported in two collisions investigated here Sunday afternoon.

Police said heaviest damage resulted from a 1:45 p.m. mishap at the intersection of Wade and Factory Streets involving cars driving by Roy Lee Baker, 22 of Route 2, Farmville and Godfrey Chance, 46, of 423 Cadillac St.

Officers who set damage at $300 to the Baker vehicle and $400 to the Chance car reported no charges.

Cars driven by David Cleveland Boyd, 79, of Route 2, Greenville and Martha S. Honeycutt of Route 1, Greenville collided at the intersection of 11th and Evans Streets about 5:30 p.m.

Damage was set at $200 to the Boyd auto and $75 to the Honeycutt car.

No charges were reported.

Farm Scene

Select Your Variety Of Tobacco

By S. J. WEEKS
Agricultural Extension Agent

There are twenty or more varieties of tobacco from which farmers can select their variety or varieties to be grown in 1970. Several factors should be considered when selecting a tobacco variety for a given farm.

Since most fields are infested with one or more diseases, some consideration should be given to disease control. If you know what disease or diseases are present you should eliminate all varieties that do not carry resistance to the specific disease such as blackshank. Where two diseases such as Granville wilt and blackshank are present, a variety with resistance to both diseases should be selected. The degree of disease infestation should also be taken into consideration. For example, if heavy loss from black shank occurred in 1968 and corn was grown in 1969, a variety with a high level of resistance should be grown in 1970. If tobacco is to be grown in a field where tobacco was grown in 1969, a high resistant variety should be grown. A variety with a moderate level of resistance could be safely used in fields where at least a two year rotation is being followed, and previous blackshank loss had been light.

The use of varieties with low resistance is risky even in fields where the infestation of the disease is low and a rotation is being followed. Avoid using low resistant varieties when tobacco follows tobacco. Root Knot resistant varieties could also help reduce disease losses from such disease as blackshank.

Once you have eliminated varieties that will not be suitable to use with your disease problems—the list will probably be quite small. Then you might consider past performance of the resistant varieties that you can safely use. If a variety has performed well for you in the previous years move slowly in selecting a new variety.

Also the type of tobacco "domestic or export" you want to produce should be taken in consideration.

Chances are by the time you have taken the factors listed above into consideration you will only have two or three varieties to select from.

It is usually a good idea to plant only part of your crop with a new variety. After you have had experience growing a certain variety that gave good results then it would be advisable to plant a larger acreage with the variety.

Market Hog Show Slated

The Pitt Livestock Development Association announced plans at its regular November meeting to hold a Pitt County Market Hog Show on March 17 or 1970.

This event replaces the annual livestock show and sale which was discontinued earlier because of a lack of interest in fitting and showing steers.

Tentative plans are to have classes for adults and juniors in the market hog show, allowing each one to show both individual and pens of three animals, as well as carcass animals.

The carcass contest will be a featured part of the show, with animals being shown on foot then slaughtered for carcass measurement. A judging contest is also planned as a feature of this event. Hog producers, FFA, 4-H members and other youth, are urged to make plans now to enter hogs in this spring show.

More details about the show will be announced in the very near future.

Hussein's Sister Plans Wedding

AMMAN, Jordan (AP) — King Hussein's only sister, Princess Basma, and Lt. Teymour Daghistani signed Sunday a document called the "Kitab" which legally binds them together as husband and wife.

The marriage, under Islamic tradition, will take the form of a religious ceremony called "Zifaf," which it has been agreed will occur after six months.

Basma, 19, is a student at England's Oxford University. The lieutenant is an officer in the Jordanian tank corps and the son of the late Maj. Gen. Ghazi Daghistani.

Senator Suggests Repeal Of 'Gulf Of Tonkin' Resolution

By WALTER R. MEARS
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Charles McC. Mathias proposed today that Congress repeal the Gulf of Tonkin resolution, prod Saigon toward reform, and endorse President Nixon's "plan for accelerated withdrawal of all American forces from South Vietnam."

The Maryland Republican advocated those steps as part of a foreign policy resolution aimed at "clearing away the debris of cold war dogmas."

In a speech prepared for the Senate Mathias proposed repeal of a package of past congressional resolutions he said were "interpreted as relinquishing broad authority to the executive to intervene militarily around the world."

Mathias called the Tonkin measure, cited by former President Lyndon B. Johnson as authority for the stepup in U.S.

involvement in Vietnam, "the most questionable of all."

"As long as the resolution remains on the books, it may be interpreted as authorizing further authority for the stepup in U.S. involvement in Vietnam, as 'the most questionable of all.'"

"As long as the resolution remains on the books, it may be interpreted as authorizing further attacks," he said. "Yet American public opinion would not accept such a drastic step nor would the Congress acquiesce in it."

Mathias said in his speech "we discover that in a very real sense, the war has Vietnamized American diplomacy."

"This is no criticism of our present leaders," the Republican senator said. "They are the inheritors and victims, not creators, of this Asian thralldom."

In addition, Mathias said a state of national emergency dating from Dec. 16, 1950, during the Korean War, should be declared at an end.

The Mathias resolution would have Congress declare support for Nixon's efforts at a political solution in Vietnam, and for the administration's troop withdrawal program.

It also would urge representatives of all political, religious and racial groups in South Vietnam to begin discussions "designed eventually to produce a new broadly based government — a government that can survive our departure and prevent resumption of the conflict."

HEALTH AND CHIROPRACTIC

By Dr. W. C. Chapel, Former President Lincoln Chiropractic College

Q. Many of my friends have suggested that I have my child examined by a Doctor of Chiropractic. What is the value in such an examination for a child?

A. You have your child's eyes examined periodically and no doubt have his teeth checked regularly. These are important habits to have. It is also important to have a postural check-up and spinal examination to prevent the development of spinal or postural distortions that may endanger his future health.

Q. My child injured his neck at school in a gym class. Is he covered by the school insurance we purchased in the beginning of the school year?

A. YES.

Q. Can I take him to a Doctor of Chiropractic under this policy?

A. In the vast majority of school insurance policies, chiropractic care is included on the same basis as other health services.

Constables Up In Arms

WINSTON-SALEM (AP) — A group of twenty-four North Carolina constables and former constables met in Winston-Salem Sunday to voice grievances against the state's district court system.

The constables made plans to organize into a state association to press for return of income taken from them by the district court.

"We're the oldest elected police officers," said Paul A. Stout of Haw River, president of the group, "and we were here even before the country was. But we've been swept under the rug."

Stout told the constables, who represented 10 counties, the new district court system has taken duties once assigned to constables, such as serving legal papers, and assigned them to sheriffs' departments.

The protests came in the wake of the district court implementation in Winston-Salem in 1968. The system, which began in 1966, is now in use in all but about 20 counties in the state.

Constables at the meeting represented Forsyth, Guilford, Alamance, Burke, Stokes, Caldwell, Union, Caswell, Rockingham and Wilkes counties.

The group plans to meet again next month in Valdese.

Arlene Dahl Wed For Fifth Time

NEW YORK (AP) — Actress Arlene Dahl has married for the fifth time. The bridegroom Sunday was Rounseville W. Schaum, chairman of Western Video Industries, Inc.

The ceremony was performed by Dr. Norman Vincent Peale at Marble Collegiate Church.

It was the second marriage for Schaum, 37.

Miss Dahl, 40, previously was married to Lex Barker, Fernando Lamas, Christian R. Holmes III and Alexis Lichine.

Leader among Wyoming industries in 1968 was oil and gas.

Tobacco TIPS

By S. J. WEEKS
Agricultural Extension Agent

There will be three new tobacco varieties available to the growers for the 1970 growing season. Speight G-28, Coker 213 and McNair 133, meet the minimum standards for release as specified by the five-state Tobacco Advisory Committee.

The Advisory Committee is made up of 16 members representing tobacco companies, state experiment stations, U.S. Department of Agriculture, commercial seed breeders and farmers.

These three varieties were approved for release in 1968 after reviewing data from tests conducted in Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia and Florida. Seeds were increased by the breeders and are now available for the 1970 crop.

All three new varieties have the necessary physical and chemical characteristics to produce the quality of flue-cured tobacco that is desired by the tobacco trade. Each of the new varieties compares favorably with the two standard varieties, Hicks and NC 95.

Speight G-28 carries a high level of resistance to black shank and Granville wilt, and a moderate resistance to Fusarium wilt. It is also resistant to root knot nematode and is moderately resistant to brown spot. It grows with a low number of ground suckers.

Coker 213 has high resistance to black shank and Fusarium wilt, and a moderate resistance to Granville wilt. It is susceptible to root knot and sensitive to brown spot. It has a high number of ground suckers.

McNair 133 has high resistance to black shank and Granville wilt and a low level of resistance to Fusarium wilt. It is susceptible to root knot and is sensitive to brown spot. It has a relatively high number of ground suckers.
