Mike McGee, 31-year old assistant coach at Minnesota, was named today as the new head football coach at East Carolina University. He replaced Clarence Stasavich who resigned last month to become fulltime athletic director.

"I am tremendously excited about coming to East Carolina," McGee said this morning as the appointment was announced. "I'm looking forward to coming here and getting busy. We look for a lot of tremendous Saturdays in the future as East Carolina moves into an era of major scheduling."

McGee, a native of Elizabeth City, was an All-America athlete at Duke University, graduating in 1960. He holds a masters degree from the University of North Carolina.

While at Duke, he was named to the 1958 and 1959 All-Atlantic Coast Conference teams, and was the 1959 captain of the Blue Devils. He received the 1959 Outland Trophy, signifying his being named as the National Lineman of the Year. He also made the 1959 Look, and Time All-America teams. He was the ACC's Athlete of the Year for 1959 and was chosen to Who's Who Among College Students.

He played in the East-West Shrine Game, the Hula Bowl and the College All-Star game where he served as offensive team captain.

Following his collegiate career, McGee played for three years with the St. Louis Cardinals in the National Football League.

In 1960-62 he served during the spring months as the linebacking coach at Duke, while playing football with the Cards in the fall. In 1963, he came to Duke as a full-time assistant under Bill Murray. The 1965 Blue Devil team won the conference championship. In 1966, McGee moved on to Wisconsin of the Big Ten, where he served as an assistant under Milt Bruhn.

Separate Suites For Newlyweds

FREEMONT, Bahamas (AP) — Along with 20 pieces of luggage and six ukuleles, Tiny Tim and his maxi-dressed bride checked into separate suites here Thursday to start a 2½-week honeymoon.

In keeping with what the falsetto singer called an Old Testament tradition, he and his 17-year-old wife planned to spend the first three days apart.

Rita Goodman, a hotel spokeswoman, said Tiny Tim would appear in a night club during the stay.

The following year, he moved on to Minnesota, where he served until today, as offensive tackle and end coach. The 1967 Minnesota team won the Big Ten Championship.

At all three schools, McGee gained the reputation as a fine recruiter. During the last three years at Minnesota, he recruited 26 of the 85 freshmen the University has tendered.

McGee is married to the former Virginia Allison of Charlotte, and has three children, Kathleen Bridget, five Michael Burnette, four, and Matthew Edwards, four months.

McGee expects to start to work immediately. "Just as soon as I can get to a phone, I'll be working on it," he said. "I'm going to be in the area for a while to get organized. Most of our recruiting will be in the North Carolina and Virginia areas; and the fringes beyond that. But the heart of our program will be North Carolina boys."

As far as his staff is concerned, McGee said he has made some contacts with people he is interested in, but has nothing definite yet.

Alert Ordered For Red Blows

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. and South Vietnamese forces were alerted today for increased enemy attacks in observance of two major Vietnamese Communist anniversaries.

Captured enemy documents called for a stepup to mark the 23rd anniversary today of the start of the war that drove the French from Indochina and the ninth anniversary Saturday of the founding of the National Liberation Front, the Viet Cong's political arm.

Saigon's sprawling Tan Son Nhut Air Base came under enemy rocket attack today for the first time in 5½ months as Viet Cong gunners slammed four 100-pound rockets into the base before dawn.

Two of the missiles landed in a housing complex where families of South Vietnamese paratroopers and airmen live, killing a Vietnamese woman and wounding 17 persons, five of them children.

The other two rockets hit U.S. military positions on the base, wounding several Americans and causing light damage, spokesmen said.

As dawn broke, South Vietnamese troops began sweeping through the region immediately northwest of Saigon, searching for the launching sites from which the rockets were fired into the air base.

The sounds of air attack could also be heard from the city as bombers cleared a path for definite yet. "I hope that I can get Jerry (Mike's brother, who played with him at Duke and is as assistant at Southern Illinois). I feel like he'll come here."

McGee said he didn't want to comment at this time on any of the present assistants. "I plan to talk with them later."

When asked what style of football his East Carolina teams will play, McGee replied, "The quarterback will be up underneath the center."

Stasavich, who helped to select his successor, said that the athletic committee was very pleased to find someone of McGee's ability to take over the program. "It was a difficult task to pick someone. He is an outstanding choice. He has shown that he can be successful."

Following the announcement, McGee attended a student assembly on the East Carolina campus, his first public appearance since taking over.

"I don't know how much time I'll have today, but I know of one person I want to see," McGee said, referring to a possible recruit in the area.

Alert Ordered For Red Blows

American troops maneuvering south of the capital.

It was the third attack in Saigon this week. On Tuesday, Viet Cong terrorists blew up a newspaper printing plant, and the next day a 100-pound rocket destroyed three houses and wounded four civilians.

One official source said there did not appear to be a major drive developing against the capital, but he added the Viet Cong have "the capability of firing rockets into Saigon any time they desire."

The Viet Cong has declared a three-day cease-fire for Christmas beginning next Wednesday. They did the same thing last Christmas—and preceded it by a series of heavy attacks across South Vietnam during the 48 hours before the start of the cease-fire.

Elsewhere: Enemy troops opened fire with machine guns and rocket grenades on a column of armored personnel carriers from the U.S. 25th Division 36 miles northwest of Saigon. Two Americans and 14 of the enemy were reported killed in the three-hour fight, and six Americans were wounded.

The U.S. Command reported 14 enemy rocket and mortar attacks between 8 a.m. Thursday and 8 a.m. today, including the shelling of Tan Son Nhut. Only four of the attacks caused casualties, and five Americans were wounded, the command said.

Completing Work Today Overtime Tax Reformers

By JOE HALL
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate-House tax reform conferees have reached tentative agreement on a relief package that includes a boost in the personal income tax exemption from $600 to $750.

The conferees worked 16½ hours until 3 o'clock this morning and still didn't quite finish their work on the entire tax reform bill, but conference chairman Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., said there was no doubt action would be completed today.

It was understood the relief package decided on as the last major compromise between the widely differing House and Senate versions provided:

—An increase in the exemption to $650 starting next July. This would be coupled with a $1,100 low income allowance to help poor families and an increase in the standard deduction from the present 10 per cent with a $1,000 ceiling to 13 per cent with a $1,400 ceiling.

—A $650 personal exemption for all of 1971, with a $1,050 low-income allowance, and a standard deduction of 14 per cent and a $1,700 ceiling.

—For 1972 and thereafter, a $750 personal exemption, with a $1,000 low income allowance and a standard deduction of 15 per cent with a $2,000 ceiling.

The conferees also were reported to have agreed to accept the across-the-board 15 per cent increase in Social Security benefits of the Senate bill.

But they did not go along with the $100 minimum monthly payment for an individual which that measure also included.

President Nixon had objected to the 15 per cent boost. But the House voted for it unanimously Monday in a separate bill.

The low income allowance, which may be deducted from income in figuring taxes, will remove about 5 million poor families from the tax rolls entirely.

The conferees rejected entirely the cuts in all tax bracket rates voted by the House in favor of giving general relief through an increase in the personal exemption, the form favored by the Senate.

However, the Senate had voted for an $800 exemption by 1971, a figure which along with the Social Security benefit boost, had brought on threats of a veto by President Nixon.

Thus the conferees moved to meet his objections in part by holding the exemption to $750 and delaying the final effective date to 1972.

It was reported that Sen. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., author of the tax relief package in the Senate bill, was highly pleased with the agreement.

In spite of his prediction that the conference work would end today, Mills said it was almost certain the compromise version of the bill could not be acted on in both branches until Monday.

It was also understood the conferees finished work on virtually all of the dozens of reform provisions in the bill aimed at tax loopholes.

Arab Chiefs Gathering For Summit Meet To Map New War Strategy

By ELIAS ANTAR
Associated Press Writer

RABAT, Morocco (AP) — Arab leaders headed for Morocco today for their first summit meeting in two years. Their goal was a new unified war strategy against Israel.

The meeting, called by President Gamal Abdel Nasser of Egypt, is intended to lead the Arabs out of the present impasse in which they seem neither able to go forward and conquer Israel nor willing to retreat into a peace agreement which they see as a surrender.

The first session will be held Saturday.

The summit conference is the first since the Khartoum meeting of August 1967, two months after the disastrous Arab defeat. There the leaders agreed they would accept a political settlement with their adversary only on the basis of three noes—no recognition of Israel, no negotiations with Israel, and no peace with Israel.

These still stand, and the so-called cease-fire lines roar daily with gunfire. The United Nations and the Big Four powers have been unable to find a peace formula.

Militarily, the Arabs and particularly Egypt, are believed to be up to their prewar strength and to have improved their quality as modern fighters. But it is generally conceded that they still lack the force and unity to win another war.

Nasser said last month that political efforts had failed and the Arabs have no recourse but war to regain their rights and conquered territories. He said it was imperative for Arab states far from the front line to throw their weight into the battle.

The semiofficial Cairo newspaper Al Ahran said today that Egypt would call on Arab countries not immediately engaged in hostilities with Israel to provide ground and air force units, as well as weapons and equipment, to the "confrontation line states"—Egypt, Jordan, Syria

Israeli Raid 19 Miles Inside Egypt

TEL AVIV (AP) — Israel claimed today its commandos struck 19 miles into Egypt and bombed an army camp with rockets during the night in a ground raid that raised the fighting temperature along the Suez Canal.

Egypt denied the attack took place.

Military spokesmen in Tel Aviv said the commando force penetrated to the edge of Egypt's populous Nile Delta before returning safely to base on the Israeli-held east side of the canal.

It was the first officially reported Israeli thrust into Egypt for nearly two months—and the first time Israeli authorities have announced a ground sortie west of the canal.

Previous Israeli commando attacks have been into upper Egypt or along the west coast of the Gulf of Suez.

The Israelis gave scant details, making no claims of casualties or damage to Egyptian installations.

The commandos apparently went in after Israeli war planes had softened up Egyptian positions in a series of bombing attacks culminating in a three-hour raid on the canal's west bank Thursday night.

The Egyptians have recently made three strikes across the canal into Israeli-held Sinai. Three Israelis, including a male nurse died in these attacks. The bodies of two Egyptian soldiers were left behind by the raiders. The latest Egyptian raid was Wednesday and the commando strike may have been in retaliation.

Abernathy Vows Fast

Chief District Judge J.W.H. Roberts yesterday found 17 persons guilty of parading without a permit in District Court here and handed each a 30-day jail sentence but suspended all but one of the terms.

Donovan Phillips, identified as the leader of the protest march, was given an active 30-day term.

All of the defendants gave notice of appeal to Pitt County Superior Court.

The 17 were among 30 persons charged with violating the city's parade ordinance by marching here last Friday in protest of the death sentence handed Rocky Mount Negro Marie Hill, 18, who killed a store keeper.

A dozen of these arrested were juveniles. They will be tried in juvenile court here today. One of the 18 adults charged, Larry James Stokes, 16 of 1209 Fleming St., failed to appear for trial yesterday and a capias was issued for his arrest.

After initially requesting separate trials for the 17 defendants yesterday defense attorney Jerry Paul agreed to consolidate the cases for trial. Testimony then began.

Police told the court that the group marched along Albemarle Avenue carrying signs and a casket, was stopped and warned that if they continued they would be arrested, then the marchers were placed in custody after they continued.

Phillips said the parade was a "mock funeral."

Judge Roberts, who said the question before the court was whether or not the group marched without a permit in violation of the city ordinance, told Paul and other defense witnesses that his court would not become a forum for racial speeches. After warning Paul more than once against bringing the race issue before the court, the Judge said, "I warned you and will not warn you again," when the defense counsel continued.

Judge Roberts, in sentencing the group said, "It seems that someone has misled these folks."

He suspended all of the sentences, with the exception of the 30-day term handed Phillips, on payment of $50 and costs. Appeal bond for each defendant was set at $200.

Auto Liability Rate Hike May See Test

RALEIGH (AP) — A 2.8 per cent increase in North Carolina's auto liability insurance rates, scheduled to go into effect Jan. 28, may be headed for a court battle.

State Insurance Commissioner Edwin Lanier announced Thursday he had approved a 2.8 per cent increase, considerably less than the 5.3 per cent requested by the insurance industry.

The increase will cost about $2 in annual premium rates on each automobile insured. Auto liability insurance is compulsory in North Carolina.

During hearings before Lanier, Deputy State Atty. Gen. Jean Benoy said the attorney general's office would appeal "any substantial increase."

Benoy said Thursday he would have to discuss Lanier's opinion with Atty. Gen. Robert Morgan before deciding whether to appeal.

Paul Mize, general manager of the North Carolina Auto Rate Administrative Office, which requested the 5.3 per cent increase, was not immediately available to comment.

In his decision, Lanier noted that the 5.3 per cent increase "was not fully supported by the petitioner."

premium rate beyond that which under the insurance laws of this state I cannot deny," Lanier said.

He added, "Let's remind ourselves that it does cost a lot of money to get and keep dependable insurance protections and services. Until those circumstances are reversed, the cost of insurance protection will cost us more than we are willing to pay without protest."

If the rate increase is appealed, it will not go into effect until the matter is settled in the courts.

Lanier turned down an industry request that motorists under the so-called assigned risk plan bear the brunt of the rate boost. He also rejected without comment an industry request that policy holders in certain areas of the state, where accident rates are higher, pay higher rates.

Notice Of Appeal Given By No-Permit Paraders

failed to appear for trial yesterday and a capias was issued for his arrest.

Police told the court that the group marched along Albemarle Avenue carrying signs and a casket, was stopped and warned that if they continued they would be arrested, then the marchers were placed in custody after they continued.

Shopping For Gift Cookbooks? This Year's Prices Are High

By JEANNE LESEM
UPI Food Editor

NEW YORK (UPI)—If you think food prices are high, wait 'til you shop for gift cookbooks this Christmas! So if you're in the market for a cookbook, a few guidelines may be helpful.

The unit price of a book is rarely a clue to its usefulness. A cookbook that requires a lot of expensive and hard-to-find ingredients for a wide variety of recipes is less valuable to most of us than a less expensive book that deals clearly with a single subject.

Two of this writer's favorites among recent publications sell for about $3 each. Admittedly, each contains fewer than 100 recipes—but good ones.

Patricia White's "Pie" (Simon and Schuster) takes nothing for granted. Each recipe, be it classic or innovative, is clearly written and preceded by the kind of information you need before you start to cook—the course for which the pie is suitable, baking time, temperature, pan size, crust type and how many the pie will serve. Except for a turkey-ham pie that calls for chicken instead of turkey, we can't fault the author on a single thing.

"The Crepe Cookbook" by Paulette Fono and Maria Stacho (Doubleday) comes remarkably close to ideal in explaining how to make appetizers, main dish and dessert crepes, other pancakes and other foods using crepe batter. But the authors are too vague for beginners on the subject of freezing cooked, filled crepes and the specifics of flaming them. Dorothy Ivens also takes nothing for granted in "Glorious Stew" (Harper & Row), she repeats instructions when necessary in a recipe, gives pan sizes and storage instructions. Suggestions for other courses and beverages are excellent. And, glory be, the type used is large enough to read without squinting.

But when, oh, when, are cookbook authors going to write "Red Bordeaux" instead of the anglicized "claret" for the French regional wine that never is labeled with its English nickname in U.S. shops? Lucky the retail customer who can find a clerk who knows what claret really is.

We like Mary Savage's "Savory Stews" (Doubleday) chiefly for the chapters on 2-serving stews and economy stews. But she seasons a lot with dried soup mixes—okay if you're short of time or herbs and spices, but it's monotonous.

"The Art of Turkish Cooking" by Neset Eren (Doubleday) is simultaneously fascinating and exasperating. It explains at length a national cuisine unfamiliar to most Americans, but the directions for preparing some recipes are inadequate. We're still trying to figure out whether to deep fry or shallow fry one dessert because the author, wife of Turkey's deputy ambassador to the United Nations, calls for an exact measure of fat but omits the pan size.

Concealed in the light-hearted, amusing style of "Alice's Restaurant Cookbook" by Alice May Brock (Random House) is some sound advice on cookery in general and improvising in the kitchen. Her remarks on timing meal preparation are as good as anything we've read in sober-sided books, and a lot more fun to read.

If ham sandwiches, deviled eggs and potato salad are your idea of la fresco eating, forget about Nika Hazelton's "The Picnic Book" (Atheneum). This is a collection of sophisticated, for people who prefer champagne to beer for picnicking and who don't mind doing a little work in the kitchen beforehand.

Recipes range from mustard-roasted chicken and cheese-stuffed raw mushrooms to more mundane but delicious chili and peanut butter cookies. Each chapter contains a menu as well as recipes, and all would be as suitable for at-home entertaining as they are for excursions.

Some others worth looking at:

Suzanne Huntley's "The Year-round Holiday Cookbook" (Atheneum) provides menus and recipes using traditional ingredients in sometimes untraditional ways, and good ideas for holidays lacking established traditions.

Time-Life Books' "Cooking of Japan" is pictorially exciting and has an interesting text.

FIREPROOF TREES—NOT REALLY!

Last year many people received information on Christmas tree safety. The advice given that Christmas trees may be "fireproof" by spraying them with a borax-boric acid solution is in error. This recommendation has been in circulation for a number of years and originated due to the success of this solution "fireproofing" certain fabrics. It works well on certain fabrics because it is absorbed by the fibers. However, it is not absorbed by a Christmas tree and it is wholly ineffective as a fire retardant treatment. There is only one chemical treatment for Christmas trees which has so far passed. Underwriters' Laboratories test for effectiveness, and this requires total immersion of the tree. Aerosol cans of Christmas tree coating are sold during the season, and tests indicate some of the coatings are partly effective if the coating is thick enough - a process that requires six or more cans of the chemical and a lot of care and work. This makes the aerosol spray treatment prohibitively expensive.

In short, there is actually no satisfactory home treatment and only one type of commercial treatment - by immersion - which will reliably retard fire in Christmas trees.

For a safe Christmas, follow the following suggestions:

—For a natural looking tree, pick a fresh looking one, saw off the butt an inch above the old cut, stand it in water and keep it in water until you dispose of it.

—With metal trees, use only indirect lighting to avoid shock hazard.

—Check lighting strings for frayed wires, loose connections, broken sockets.

—Use non-combustible decorating materials, metal, glass, asbestos - where possible.

—Dispose of gift wrappings promptly and safely.
MERRY CHRISTMAS TO YOU AND YOUR FAMILY

BARGAIN?

...only a professional knows

Today, all diamonds have determinable value. If a stone has any worthy quality to it, a jeweler can obtain the standard price for it and doesn't need to sell it to you "wholesale." Many so-called "bargain" diamonds have first been marked up in order to be "slashed down." It costs no more to buy your diamond from a reputable firm with qualified personnel to properly evaluate the stone you select. Streamlining Will Be Welcome

Sen. John Henley's special commission will have done a pretty good job if it is able to chop North Carolina's 316 budgetary agencies down to 19 functional units.

Henley has said that the commission's goal is to streamline this hodgepodge of government agencies so that they fit in the eight Council of State departments or one of 11 other departments.

The eight Council of State functions are attorney general, secretary of state, auditor, treasurer, superintendent of public instruction, agriculture commissioner, labor commissioner and insurance commissioner.

The 11 other functions being considered are: social and health services, culture and history, corrections, finance, local affairs administration, natural resources, manpower, transportation and safety, commerce and education.

Henley said that the commission is not considering abolishing any of the agencies. "What we want first to do is put each agency in a department under one of these functions. Each agency would maintain its own autonomy and continue doing the things it's doing now."

If the commission can come up with recommendations which can be carried out, it will be performing an invaluable service to the state. Certainly there should be no wholesale elimination of services to North Carolinians. On the other hand with the present 316 budgetary agencies, there is bound to be confusion insofar as administering the many programs that the state has underway.

The Henley Commission is on the right track in setting up a system of administration which will operate more efficiently. The commission must now come up with specific recommendations which can be acted upon by the State Legislature. It is clear to us that as North Carolina continues to grow there is going to have to be constant improvement in administration of government if the various agencies

Retail Sales Boom Is Good Local Indicator

Greenville's retail sales boom continued in September, according to recent figures.

Greenville's sales that month amounted to $8,990,138 compared to $7,768,469 for the same month last year.

Rocky Mount and Goldsboro led Greenville in sales for that month, but such active cities as Wilson and Kinston registered sales which were below Greenville's.

Growing retail sales do not mean that a community has solved all its problems. However it is a barometer of progress. Retail sales reports seem to indicate that things are improving economically in our city.

Back-Patting At A Briefing

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration, after taking a look at 1969, is doing a bit of back patting for what it says is a better mood in America at year's end.

It also has decided self-congratulations are in order for attempts at reforming the government and for shifting homefront priorities, all under the banner of "The New Federalism."

This developed during a briefing at which the White House turned up a trio of top officials to talk to some 20 reporters on domestic matters. The White House stipulated ground rules barred naming the officials or quoting them directly.

When they seemed to be the administration has made progress in putting a new facade on government, although it isn't getting all it wants out of Congress and is having some troubles with a financial crunch.

There were other plusses and minuses. In the plus column one or another of the three spokesmen put what they interpreted as:

A lowering of voices and a good deal less stridency in the national rhetoric—the whole war moratorium thing has run its course.

An attempt to make the government work better in such problem areas as taxes and the draft.

Steps to broaden the base for handling problems that involve more than one department or agency by creating councils on urban affairs, environmental quality control and rural affairs, to go along with the National Security Council in the field of defense and foreign policy—plus another Advisory Council on Executive Organization.

Additional questions have been raised, one official said, about the responsiveness of the government to such recognizable problems as population. Some of them require congressional action and the administration, the spokesman said, still is waiting for the fruit to drop off the trees in some areas.

One such area takes in measures to fulfill Nixon campaign promises to bring law and order to the land.

On the minus side, one spokesman conceded the obvious—that Senate rejection of Judge Clement F. Haynsworth, Jr. for the Supreme Court was a straight away defeat.

"This isn't the tax package I asked for," he said tearfully. "And it's all smashed up." "It's the best one they could find," David Kennedy said nervously.

Another lamented that problems of welfare, education and unemployment still defy solution in times of unprecedented prosperity. He also said he would have to agree with a newsman that some of the administration's stands on civil rights appeared to be heel dragging to black and other Americans—and represent a primary failure.

Asked how the intellectual community reacts to the President, he said it sort of dislikes Nixon whereas it loathed, feared, hated and despised Lyndon B. Johnson.

One gratifying development for the administration has been what it considers a show of limited but growing cooperation from Democratic leaders in Congress, especially in the Senate. The names figuring in this included Majority Leader Mike Mansfield, J. W. Fulbright, Chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, and Albert Gore of Tennessee, who has had a key role in

Package For Christmas

WASHINGTON — Little Dickey Nixon in his pajamas ran down the stairs of his big house on Christmas morning directly to the Christmas tree. There was one large package all wrapped up under the tree.

"What could it be?" he asked, as all the people who loved him gathered around and watched.

"It's your tax package," said David Kennedy.

"Oh, boy," said Dickey. "I've been waiting for this some time. Look, there's a card with it. It says 'From your loving cousins who live on the Hill.'"

Dickey started taking off all the tissue paper which was wrapped around the tax package. There were four layers of it. Suddenly his face fell with disappointment.

"This isn't the tax package I asked for," he said tearfully. "And it's all smashed up."

"It's the best one they could find," David Kennedy said nervously.

"There's things in here I didn't even ask for," Dickey stomped around.

"Your cousins on the Hill wanted to surprise you, Dickey. That's why they put in all that Social Security."

"But I told you I didn't want more Social Security. I've got enough already."

"Your cousins are a bunch of effete snobs," Dickey's good friend, Spiro, said. "And they've given you a Rube Goldberg toy."

"Before you get too upset, Dickey, take a look in the package. There are some good things in it. The oil-depletion allowance has only been cut a little bit and can probably be saved, and the higher income brackets haven't been damaged much, and most of the depreciation items are in perfect working order."

"But look at the tax exemption they railroaded through," Dickey said. "I can't play with that. I specifically asked for a $600 tax-exemption gauge and they threw in an $800 gauge which doesn't fit on my tracks."

"That's your cousin, Gore, who did that," Spiro said. "If I were you, I wouldn't even wish him a Merry Christmas."

"Why can't I get what I want for Christmas?" Dickey cried as everyone stood around in embarrassed silence.

"It was a good package at the beginning," his pal, Gerry Ford, said. "It must have gotten damaged in the shipping."

"I'm going to send it back." "Please don't, Dickey," his other pal, Hugh Scott, said. "If you send it back now, you may not get another tax package this year."

Proponents of an increase argue that it is Social Security recipients and others on fixed incomes who are hurt most by inflation and thus need wage increases. Opponents argue that the increase will only prolong inflation.

A painless cooling off period? For a while some administration figures seemed to think it could be done. But now the raw issues have to be faced and there is no hiding from the realization that there must be pain. The big challenge to the Nixon program now may be from the people. Are they willing to undergo pain? There are suspicions in Congress that maybe they are not—that the needs of education, for example, might encourage spending rather than restraint.

Even in the Federal Reserve, which regulates the supply of money, there appears to be some dissension. At least two prominent members of the Fed's Open Market Committee have indicated a need to loosen restraints on the money supply. The President, therefore, must now battle for the survival of a program that he feels might bring some immediate pain but which promises long-term benefits for everyone in the form of economic stability.

While fighting for this plan, however, he must also run the risk that he will plunge the country into a recession.

"I don't care. I have to play with it, and if they're going to change everything I asked for, I don't want their old package."

"Take it, Dickey, and try to put the pieces together with glue," Gerry said.

"No, I won't. It will cost me more money than not to have any tax present at all. I'm going to wrap it up and send it back, and I's never going to speak to anyone on the Hill again."

"That's telling them," Spiro said.

"What else is there for Christmas?" Dickey asked. "Nothing else, Dickey. That's all your cousins decided to give you this year."

Crucial Days In Finance

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — These are crucial days for the Nixon administration's economic program—a program that has promised much but which has been able to show very little until very recently.

Its purpose is to contain inflation by reducing demands on the economy by consumers, business and government. But business and consumers, while they have lessened their demands, haven't done so markedly.

Prices continue to rise sharply for both business and consumers, although not quite at the same rate that prevailed earlier this year. And there are suspicions that even if the economy cools, prices might continue rising.

Even Nixon's own administration has found it difficult to slow spending.

About $4 billion was pared from budget estimates made by the previous administration. And the President directed another cut of $3.5 billion in outlays, particularly for military affairs.

But, $6 billion has been added this year to the budget for "uncontrollable" items, such as rising interest on the national debt.

Just at the time when, in the President's words, "there is tangible evidence that we are beginning to make some progress," there are indications also that Congress and the people may be getting tired of waiting.

Instead of cooperating with the President, Congress seems intent on passing legislation that might fuel demand. Or at least that is the way the President interprets Congress' intention of raising Social Security benefits by 15 per cent.

The Social Security issue really symbolizes the problem of growing demands for spending and the need for keeping the lid on.

Proponents of an increase argue that it is Social Security recipients and others on fixed incomes who are hurt most by inflation and thus need wage increases. Opponents argue that the increase will only prolong inflation.

Costs Defeat Their Purpose

By WILLIAM A. SHIRES
RALEIGH

State revenue officials chuckled at reports of merchants and manufacturers reducing inventories and removing goods to lower their 1969 inventory tax liability at this time of year.

"It's understandable," says one revenue official. "But what are they going to do with it?"

He pointed out that both South Carolina and Virginia have similar property tax levies covering goods stored in warehouses.

"They can only try to hide it somewhere," he said. "But won't the cost of packing and moving and storage defeat their purpose?"

WILLIAM SHIRES

In the 100 counties, there are 100 different rates of taxation. But the last legislature insisted upon a "uniform" valuation of property for tax purposes. Tax officials contend this is impossible and at least one controversy on the point has reached the State Supreme Court. In addition to the state law requires a revaluation every eight years. This is a further complication because, as the taxing authorities claim, property values are in a constant state of change and flux.

STUDY — Several years ago, former Rep. Clyde Harriss of Salisbury, later a chairman of the House Finance committee, a member of the Tax Study Commission and of the Advisory Budget Commission, called for a study.

By legislative edict, Harriss had revenue officials inspect the tax books in all counties of the state to determine the extent and affect of the inventory (tangible property) tax.

Revenue officers went to each courthouse in the state and examined the records. For that year, 1962, the inventory tax—variously applied—brought in $11.8 million to local government treasuries.

REPEAL — In the 1963 legislative session Harriss introduced a bill which would repeal the inventory tax. Under his measure the state would reimburse the various localities for their proportionate amount of revenue loss.

The localities would not stand for it. Suddenly they recognized it was a rather rich and untapped revenue source. Under lobbying pressure, Harriss' bill was defeated. He had suggested that the inventory tax be replaced by an increased sales tax.

GROWTH — Instead, because of pressure on local government, financing, localities have turned enforcement onto the tangible property tax as a source of revenue in a greater degree.

Instead of the $11.8 million figure turned up in the 1962 investigation, the revenue department now estimates taxation at the local level on all inventories, retail and wholesale, at approximately $35 million per year.

Strength For Today

LIFE IS WONDERFUL. The statement is often made that God and one sincere man or woman constitute a majority. They constitute such a majority because they are in tune with the universe. They are going the same way the universe seems to be going, namely, in the direction of fair and righteous living, honesty, helpfulness. When God and his divine purposes are going one way and we in our perversity are going in the opposite direction, we may expect a traffic jam, a pile-up, an explosion that will be indeed catastrophic. The God Who made the world still manages its affairs. He is perfect in every aspect of his being. Certainly there is purpose in the world else God would not have created the world in the beginning. We are happy only if we identify ourselves with that purpose—if we keep on going in the direction that the Creator has evidently indicated for us. To try to make a U-turn in the face of oncoming traffic is liable to lead to a traffic jam of unprecedented importance. Everyone will be blowing his horn in angry remonstrance.

Now it needs to be said that the people in history who have bucked the traffic and insisted on going along over new pathways have been the great discoverers. But Hitler tried to turn back the progress of peace, and criminals in every generation try to go one way while their honest contemporaries are going the other way.

Life is wonderful, but we can make it precisely the opposite unless we are careful, sacrificial and thoughtful in all our dealings. By Earl L. Douglas

Curbing Cost Of Construction

By ELMER ROESSNER
Roger M. Blough, former chief executive of U.S. Steel and now a partner in the New York law firm of White and Case, has proposed a nine-point plan to curb the rising costs in the construction industry.

ELMER ROESSNER

Construction costs have been soaring, with higher costs for almost all materials, higher interest rates and higher wages. Construction union contracts in the first nine months of this year resulted in 16.3 per cent pay boosts.

This, as Blough pointed out, not only boosts construction costs but also spurs other unions into demanding ever higher pay scales.

In consequence of higher construction costs, homebuilding has slowed almost to a standstill, plant and equipment costs have risen and rentals for new office space have set new high marks.

Nine Clinchers
Here are Blough's suggested nine steps:

1. Use overtime only in the case of genuine emergencies. Avoid contractual scheduled overtime.
2. If local contractors are jointly engaged in a strike, authorize work on a project in the same area only if consonant with the local negotiations.
3. In your own best interest, schedule significant construction with a view toward the labor demand and supply in a given area.

4. Support efforts to expand the available supply of workers in skilled crafts, including minorities.

5. Assist in removing work restrictions and impediments to increased productivity, short-term and long-term.

Support Other Employers
6. Cooperate with like-minded construction users and contractors in organizing and supporting stronger contractor negotiating groups in specific areas or geographical regions.

7. Foster efforts directed at exploring legislative needs in construction.

8. Make key people in your organization available for special projects often involving significant time demands.

9. As a top executive, give this matter high priority and provide direct access for decision-making.

The Blough program might be effective in many other, if not all, industries and businesses. In fact, it would seem to have better chance of success in some other industries than in construction.

Glass Industry Spending $7.5 Million In Container War
The Glass Container Manufacturers Institute, whose members constitute more than 90 per cent of the country's jar and bottle producers, has announced plans to spend $7.5 million to promote sales of soft drinks in no-return bottles.

While the Institute isn't saying much about the reasons for the campaign, the main thrust is to offset the gains of the can-making industry and threatening competition from the plastics industry.

DRAMATIC REALITY
WALDRIDGE, England (AP) — The state-run National Coal Board planned to demolish the disused coal mine here, but the BBC stepped in and stopped the operation at the last minute—so it could blow the pit up instead. The explosion will be the high spot of the BBC's most ambitious location drama broadcast, a five-part serial based on Emile Zola's novel Germinal about socialist revolution in 19th century France.

One spokesman said Mansfield's disposition to work with Nixon in a more or less understanding way in foreign policy is far out and beyond what it was toward the end of the Johnson administration and the early days of the present one.

Describing Fulbright as far less caustic, far less disposed to carp, he listed the senator's postponement of additional hearings on Vietnam as an act of cooperation the Arkansas senator did not manifest for the last two presidents.

$2,000 Reward Offered In Shooting At Home

RALEIGH (AP) — A $2,000 reward is offered by the state of North Carolina for information leading to the arrest and conviction of anyone involved in a shooting at the home of a Wake Forest minister Saturday night.
 The shotgun blast was fired into the living room of the home of the Rev. J. Wesley Shipp while white and Negro teenagers were entertained at a party. The Shipp family is white.

Gov. Bob Scott announced the reward Thursday.
 The Wake County sheriff's office says it has no clues in the shooting, but Sheriff Robert Pleasants said he had asked the State Bureau of Investigation to assist his department.

Most dress designers began working in unpretentious, often poorly paid jobs. Country clubs, European royalty and headwaiters, who once snubbed them, now seek these wealthy celebrities' friendship.
 Mollie Parnis, born into a poor New York family, worked hard for her education. She cannot sketch nor cut a garment. Yet, she has amassed a fortune in a business where failure to read her public's mind could bankrupt her. She is Mamie Eisenhower's favorite designer and serves many other prominent women.
 Former tailor, Ben Zuckermann cleverly improves upon Paris designers' work. His creations, sometimes labelled "Made by Harry Schacter", often appear at White House affairs.

 Designer Larry Aldrich was once a dress salesman. His present income enables him to collect expensive artworks.
 David Schwartz is the stocky giant of empire behind the "Bobbie Brooks" label.
 Designer Harvey Berin once sold cigars.

Probe Vandalism Of Mail Boxes

Pre-Christmas pranks have resulted in the destruction of around 10 mail boxes in the Stokes area, according to Pitt County Sheriff Ralph Tyson.

Tyson said that a number of the boxes were blown up with some type of explosives, probably fireworks. A few of the boxes were pushed down or torn from the supports, he added.

All of the incidents were in the same general area near Stokes and investigation was continuing this morning.

Whales Off California Coast

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—The first gray whales of the annual migration from the Bering Sea to Lower California have been spotted off Carmel and San Diego.

By next week the number passing is expected to reach 20 to 30 a day by mid-January 50 to 80. In all, 8,000 to 10,000 of the big mammals—once near extinction, but protected since 1937 by international treaty—are expected to swim by en route to the Lower California lagoons where the young are born.

The migration period lasts until February and in past years up to 12,000 whale-watchers have gathered on Point Loma in a single day.

Ready To Sell New Gasoline

RICHMOND, Calif. (AP)—Standard Oil Co. of California plans to start retailing next month a gasoline it says will reduce smog-causing automobile exhausts by 50 per cent.

An announcement Thursday said the gasoline contains a new ingredient called F310. Just how it works and what it is made of was not disclosed.

A demonstration of the fuel was given for state and federal pollution control officials at the Richmond laboratories of Standard's Chevron Research Co.

Pilots Face Global Crime

LONDON (AP)—Men who pilot the planes of the world's airlines declared today that hijacking has become a global crime, must be met with global assault, and any nation which countenances such conduct should be ostracized.

The International Federation of Airline Pilots, after a two-day meeting here, issued a statement which gave the United Nations high credit for paying attention to the mounting problem.

But, the pilots decided:

1. Any nation which accepts hijacking and does nothing about it should be frozen out of all civilian traffic.
2. All international units concerned should be coordinated so that movements of passengers and freight cargo would be restricted immediately.
3. In the event of a hijacking, there should be a 24-hour stop to all air traffic of the country involved.

Reaction Is Divided On 'Stop Stealing' Posters

By ROY MALONE
Associated Press Writer

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The poster shows a black man behind bars and says: "Don't give your family this for Christmas."

Another says: "Stop stealing to celebrate Christmas."

More than 5,000 of the posters are being distributed in the Negro community by a civil rights group called ACTION.

The posters are part of ACTION's "Black Christmas Plan" which also urges Negroes to stay out of debt by avoiding purchases they cannot afford.

"Many good people have gotten addicted to this commercialized Christmas," an ACTION pamphlet says. "Some are willing to take all kinds of senseless changes to gain materialistically."

"I'm not against Christmas."

EXTENDED WEATHER OUTLOOK FOR N.C.

Temperatures will average much below normal through Wednesday with little daily change. Precipitation expected Tuesday.

said ACTION leader Percy Green, 34, "but human values should take precedence over material values ... We're saying to the black man 'don't put your life on the line for the sake of one day. It's better to sacrifice it and spend the day at home with the kids. Just be thankful for being with them.'"

ACTION asks Negroes to make their own Christmas gifts. "Part of an individual's character is built into an item which is made by his own hands. It takes on human values," the pamphlet says.

The organization set up eight Sunday workshops for making candles, decorations, ornaments, toys, cards and candy. Participants were asked to bring their own materials but "don't spend money."

The board of the Human Development Corporation, the St. Louis anti-poverty agency, voted narrowly against a resolution endorsing the plan. Catholic Bishop Joseph McNicholas said such a motion tended "to divide the community."

Police Board President James

Sanders said the department would not formally endorse the plan but said police were glad to get such help in curbing crime.

County Schools Closing Today

The Christmas holidays for students in the Pitt County Schools began with the close of school today. The schools will resume their normal operations on Monday, Jan. 5.

The Pitt County Board of Education office will be closed Wednesday through Friday for Christmas and on Jan. 1 for the New Year.

The county maintenance department will observe the Christmas holidays Dec. 24-29. The transportation department will be closed Dec. 23-31 for the holidays.

Professor Fatally Shot

WINSTON-SALEM (AP)—A professor of Spanish at Wake Forest University was found shot to death Thursday night at the small grocery store where he worked part time.

He was Marceleno Delgado, 53. Sheriff's deputies said he was shot three times in the back, chest and legs with a small-caliber weapon. A neighbor who heard shots called the deputies but Delgado was able only to mumble and point to a nearby bank before he died.

The officers said Delgado carried a .38-caliber pistol and had fired it five times.

Bloodhounds were brought to the scene and deputies said they picked up two fresh sets of tracks. No arrests have been made.

The deputies said the night's receipts at the grocery was locked in an undisturbed safe and that Delgado had $40 in his wallet when they found him.

Oilers Could Spoil Playoff Theory

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — The Houston Oilers are the prime example of legislated success.

For what the Oilers have been unable to do this season on the field—prove that they are a championship caliber team—was accomplished for them at the conference table when the American Football League decided on the one-year trial of a unique playoff system.

Designed, according to league officials, to guarantee that the best AFL team eventually winds up in the Super Bowl, it also has provided for the possibility that a team that doesn't belong could wind up as the AFL representatives.

That, of course, would be the Oilers.

Unable to put together a consistent offense, the Oilers finished the regular season with a 6-6-2 record and were unable to show a victory over any of the other teams that qualified for the playoffs—Oakland, Kansas City or New York.

Yet, by the magic of the system that qualifies both the division winners and runners-up for playoff berths, the Oilers have a shot at it all, meeting Oakland Sunday in one playoff with the winner taking on the New York-Kansas City survivor in the championship game Jan. 4.

The trouble spot for the Oilers is obvious from the league statistics. There are 10 teams in the AFL. Pete Beathard, the Oilers' starting quarterback, is rated 11th. Finishing his third year with the Houston Oilers, Beathard rarely has lived up to expectations.

Behind him are Don Trull, with many trials and few successes, and young Bob Davis, a relatively untested product despite having been on the scene the same length of time as Beathard.

With the obvious deficiencies at quarterback, the Oilers rely heavily on ball control. They led the league in that department with a trio of strong rushers, Hoyle Granger, Roy Hopkins and Woody Campbell, back after a tour of duty in Vietnam.

At the same time, the Oilers have relied on a plodding offense they have unveiled a rookie sensation in 5-foot-10, 175-pound Jerry Levias, who has been a threat to go all the way at any time either on a pass reception or while returning a kick.

But despite Levias' rapid development, the Houston offense does leave something to be desired, placing the burden on the strong defense to compensate. It has, at times, but it is a burden that can't always be borne without breaking down.

The ends are solid in veteran Pat Holmes and rapidly-developing sophomore Elvin Bethea. Carel Stith and Tom Domres man the tackles with George Webster the standout on a line-backing corps that includes Garland Boyette and Olen Underwood.

The defensive secondary has a proven standout in Miller Farr, plus Zeke Morre, Johnny Peacock and Ken Houston, who has the credentials for stardom.

What are the Oilers' chances against the AFL's Big Three? Realistically, not very good. Off their record and their performance, the Oilers do not belong. But as long as they belong, they have a chance. They do, however, have to be considered extreme longshots.

Buc Matmen Take Third

East Carolina University ran its wrestling record to 3-0 yesterday with a 25-9 victory over Ohio Northern.

The Bucs lost only three of the 10 matches on the way to the victory. Two of the Buc wins came by pins.

East Carolina's next mat outing will be December 29 and 30 in the Wilkes Tournament in Wilkes-Barre, Pa.

Summary:
118: Tom Ellenberger (EC) decided Dave McDole, 6-0.
126: John Meros (ON) decided Ron Williams, 9-5.

134: Steve Morgan (EC) decided Bob Pine, 7-1.

142: Robert Corbo (EC) decided Bon Coniam, 6-2.

150: John Carroll (EC) pinned Bob Simrak, 5-41.

158: Stan Bastian (EC) decided Vince Smith, 3-0.

167: Mike Spohn (EC) pinned Tom Bailey, 7-08.

177: Dennis Nostrand (ON) decided Joe Daversa, 10-5.

190: Sam McDowell (EC) decided Roger Vowell, 4-0.

Unlimited: Andy Fabris (ON) decided Bob Jaronezyk, 4-1.

Cain Named To New ECU Post

Bill Cain, who has served the past two seasons as freshman football coach at East Carolina University, has been appointed business manager of athletics.

Cain succeeds Maurice Allen who has resigned effective Jan. 1 to go into the insurance field.

"We are happy to have Bill Cain accept the responsibility of the position of business manager," Athletic Director Clarence Stasavich said in making the announcement.

"Maurice Allen has performed an outstanding service to East Carolina and has made a wonderful contribution to our program through his ability to manage the booster clubs, tickets and administration of home athletic events.

"He has been very industrious and loyal in his work in helping to advance our athletic programs. We look forward to continued advancement in this phase of the athletic programs through the efforts of Bill Cain."

Cain, like Allen, is a former East Carolina football captain. He hitch-hiked his way to the campus and later found his last ride into town was with the football coach at that time, Jack Boone.

A scrawny youngster who had to virtually beg for a chance to try out for the team, Cain went on to become a three-year starter at end. Following graduation he coached high school football for seven years before joining the East Carolina staff in the spring of 1968.

Over the two seasons, Cain's freshmen teams posted six victories against four defeats. The 1969 outfit finished with four straight wins after losing their opener. The highlight of his first season was a victory over the N. C. State Wolflets.

Cain, a native of Rockingham, is married to the former Frances Johnson of Roanoke Rapids, also an East Carolina graduate. They are the parents of two sons, Lance 8 and Tracy 5.

Brawl Spoils, Stops Contest

By KEN RAPPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

What makes Jack run? Simple, an unruly basketball crowd.

"When they come at you out of the stands, it's time to get out," Coach Jack Magee of Georgetown said Thursday night after taking his team off the floor with 1:23 left in the first half of a blood-stained college game with Jacksonville.

The action gave the 18th-ranked Dolphins a forfeit 41-26 victory and overshadowed another crackling performance by Pete Maravich of Louisiana State University. Pistol Pete, the nation's leading scorer, fired in 50 points as No. 15 LSU bowed to No. 13 Southern California 101-98.

In some of the night's other top games, South Carolina's fifth-ranked Gamecocks whacked Long Island University 89-52 and No. 12 Purdue spilled Kent State 65-64.

"I'm responsible for 18 people," Magee said after fists flew on the Jacksonville court. "I can't risk having them hurt."

Things began happening when Arthur White of Georgetown decked Jacksonville's Mike Blevins under the Dolphin basket. Shortly thereafter, Blevins followed White down court in an apparent effort to shake hands.

"But someone said something to me," Blevins said, "and I hit the guy."

Then the crowd joined in. Students rolled down from the stands to get into the action. Rex Morgan of Jacksonville ended up at the bottom of the pack and suffered a small puncture near his right eye which bled profusely.

After the melee on the Jacksonville court, someone asked Magee if he'd like to play the Dolphins again next year.

"No, I don't think we'll try it," he said, "not next year. But what happened here tonight doesn't mean we won't work with JU in the future."

Joe Williams, the Jacksonville coach, said his team was wrong in joining the free-for-all.

"That's the last time you'll see a Jacksonville team come off the bench," he said, "Regardless of what happened, our team should not have come onto the floor."

P.S. Artis Gilmore helped the Dolphins' cause, taking down 21 rebounds and scoring 11 points in the abbreviated match.

Southern Cal spurred to an early lead and survived Maravich's 50-point performance to hand the Tigers their first loss in five starts.

The Trojans built a 21-point lead in the first half, and then held off LSU's second half comeback. The Tigers pulled to within a point on a Maravich layup, but Southern California added the clincher on a score by Danny Hester to take a 99-96 lead in the closing seconds.

John Roche, Tom Owens and Tom Tiker combined for 67 points as South Carolina pounded LIU in the first game of a doubleheader at Madison Square Garden in New York. Calvin Murphy, who ranks second in the nation in scoring, pocketed 27 points as Niagara dumped Rutgers in the nightcap 73-61.

Larry Weatherford put in a layup with 47 seconds to go, giving Purdue its last-minute victory over Kent State.

Davidson Faces St. John's; Three SC Teams In Va. Tourney

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Davidson's undefeated Wildcats, a blend of the old and the new, travel to New York tonight to put in a bid for possible improvement in their No. 4 spot in the national basketball rankings. The Wildcats, who've overpowered two Southern Conference opponents and have beaten Michigan, take on St. John's, a team they last saw in the NCAA regional tournament last spring. Davidson won that meeting 79-69.

Davidson has some of its old familiar faces in Mike Maloy, Doug Cook and Jerry Kroll. But there's a new starter, sophomore Brian Adrian, who's leading the Wildcats in scoring with a 20.7 average, and a new coach in former Wildcats star Terry Holland.

The game is one of four tonight for conference teams. Three will be involved in the Virginia Big Five tournament at Hampton with Richmond's Spiders going against Virginia of the Atlantic Coast Conference and William and Mary tackling Virginia Military Institute. George Washington's Colonials take on Fordham as part of a doubleheader at College Park, Md., in which Maryland also plays Army.

William and Mary advanced to the Big Five tournament semifinals with an 84-79 victory Thursday night over former league member Virginia Tech that avenged an earlier setback at the hands of the Techmen. In Thursday night's only other action, The Citadel's Bulldogs were handed a shocking 107-67 shellacking by Roanoke College's Maroons, whose Frankie Allen went on a 49-point scoring spree.

There were nine ties and eight lead changes in the first half of the W&M-Tech game in which the Indians finally went ahead for good with 4:21 left in the first half. Leading by three points just after the second half opened, the Indians scored nine in a row and never were threatened.

Bob Sherwood scored 23 points in W&M's first victory over Tech since 1965. Charlie Lipscomb had 20 points for Tech.

Allen hit 20 of 26 shots from the floor and hauled down 16 rebounds as Roanoke, shooting 53 per cent from the floor, bolted to a 52-30 halftime lead and never let up. Willie Taylor had 14 points for the Bulldogs.

South Carolina 'Goes Home' To Get Victory Over Long Island

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Who says "you can't go home again?"

Three South Carolina basketball players went to their home state last night and came away with an 89-52 victory.

The victim was Long Island University and the three who were instrumental in that triumph were John Roche (New York City), Tom Owens (New York City) and Tom Riker (Hicksville, N.Y.).

The trio combined for 67 points to outclass LIU in Manhattan's Madison Square Garden. Roche finished with 27 points, while Riker and Owens tallied 20 apiece for the fifth-place Gamecocks.

Wilbur Jones put in 15 for LIU and Fred Ephraim bucketed 13.

The Gamecocks were the only Atlantic Coast Conference team which played Thursday night.

In tonight's schedule Duke plays Dayton in the opening round of the Kentucky Invitational Tournament, Virginia battles Richmond in the Virginia Big Eight Classic in Hampton, Va., while Maryland hosts Army.

The undefeated Blue Devils, which have played unevenly in four victories, boast a rugged front line of Randy Denton, Larry Saunders and Rick Katherman.

Dayton, also undefeated, is fresh from a 67-63 triumph over Eastern Kentucky, a game marred by poor shooting for both teams. Dayton hit fewer than 40 per cent of its field goals in the contest.

Virginia's bout with Richmond features two teams which have not performed well this season. The Cavaliers have won only one in six attempts. Its victory was over Virginia Military Institute, which is expected to finish poorly in the Southern Conference.

The Terps, 2-5 for the season, have lost their last three games. The most recent pasting came at the hands of South Carolina, which registered a 101-68 victory in the Terps' field house.

Rod Horst and Charlie Blank have been the mainstays of the Maryland offense this year.

In Saturday's competition, Duke will continue in the Kentucky Classic; Clemson plays Louisiana State and Pete Maravich in Charlotte, N. C.; Maryland hosts Fordham and North Carolina travels to Tulane.

Council Postpones Action On Withdrawal

DURHAM, N. C. (AP) — Duke University's academic council wants control and direction of athletics at Duke brought under the school's administration.

The council made this recommendation Thursday as it adopted three major general recommendations of a five-member faculty committee.

It postponed until Jan 22 any discussion on several recommendations concerning Duke athletics, including withdrawal of the school from the Atlantic Coast Conference.

Other recommendations unanimously approved by the council were:

—The university should determine "the inherent value, place and priority of athletics" at Duke.

—Duke should adopt a "policy and framework" on athletics "compatible with its educational goals, standards and resources."

At present, Duke's athletics are administered independently by the Duke Athletic Association, which has been operating at a deficit for the past three years.

In its 50-page report, the faculty committee of the council had recommended that Duke's athletic teams withdraw from the ACC "as soon as contractual and other arrangements permit."

The university says it has obligations for ACC football games for the next five years.

The committee also proposed that athletic scholarships be given on the basis of need if Duke withdraws from the ACC.

Its chairman, Dr. Barney Jones, told the council Duke could not "unilaterally" begin giving athletic scholarships on a need basis. He said this would destroy intercollegiate football and basketball at the University.

Other recommendations to be discussed Jan. 22 include proposals that men be permitted to major in physical education and that "redshirting" of athletes—holding them out of competition a year so they can play a fifth year—be terminated.

Prep Jobs Are Best Teachers

By DEL BOOTH

Associated Press Writer

CLEMSON, S. C. (AP) — Cecil (Hootie) Ingram, the new head football coach at Clemson University, believes the best background in football and the best experience for coaching are gained during "those years spent in the high school ranks."

"That," he says, "is where you really learn what football is all about, who likes it, what kind of boy plays it with satisfaction, and — perhaps most important — how to handle young men."

"Actually," Ingram says, "I think the key to handling young men is to handle them as little as possible."

Ingram, a 35-year-old who has had four years of high school coaching experience and the rest as an assistant at several colleges, was named the new Clemson coach Wednesday.

After his appointment, he was asked what coach had influenced him the most. He promptly paid equal tribute to those he has served under at Wake Forest, Virginia Tech, Georgia, and, most recently, Arkansas, where he currently is defensive backfield coach.

Later, he said, "my years at Bradenton, Fla., and the three years at Tuscaloosa, Ala., my home town, as the high school coach gave me the basic course in football and in coaching."

The solidly built former triple-threat back on Alabama teams in 1952-53-54 says he is "happy to be part of the Atlantic Coast Conference again. It's a very fine conference, very competitive, very compact."

He expects the biggest change from Arkansas, a member of the Southwest Conference, will be recruiting.

"In the Southwest Conference," he says, "we can't approach any high school player until the season is over, and then only the seniors. And none can sign grants-in-aid until Feb. 12."

"But in the ACC, you can talk to players and their families anytime, and they can be offered athletic scholarships the second week in December."

"But that's not all. At Arkansas, all we had to do was put a contract in front of a boy, just leave it at his house, and there was no question that he would sign."

"But in the ACC area, there are so many big colleges, all competing; and not only in the ACC states, but with colleges outside the area, that is the difference."

Ingram will remain with Arkansas until after the Razorbacks play Mississippi in the Sugar Bowl Jan. 1.

Savannah Downs Sugg

FARMVILLE — Savannah High School held off H.B. Sugg last night to take a 67-63 victory over the Lions.

Savannah took a 17-12 lead in the first period, but couldn't hold onto it. Sugg battled back and outscored Savannah, 18-13, in the second quarter, to tie it up at 30-30 at the half.

The game remained close throughout the third period, with Savannah inching out into a 48-47 lead as the final period began. Then, in the last quarter, Savannah outlit Sugg, 19-16, to take the win.

Holmes led Savannah with 29 points, while King had 18.

For Sugg, Cornell Barnes had 14, while Donald Gay, Ronald Edmonds and Devonda Phillips each had 10.

In the junior varsity game, Sugg downed Savannah, 55-43.

JV: Savannah 43, Sugg 55.

Visit Makes Game Worth It

By EDITH M. LEDERER

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — With tears in his eyes, University of Indiana running back John Isenberger leaned over the bedside of 11-year-old Fotula and offered her some Christmas toys and candy.

The dark-haired Greek girl, flat on her back with a dislocated right hip, turned away shyly from her 6-foot-3, 265-pound "Santa Claus" in a blue blazer.

In another room, Stanford linebacker Don Parish made small talk with 14-year-old Norman, a brown-haired youth suspended in a bicycle wheel brace, recuperating from an operation for curvature of the spine.

From football fields across the nation, members of the 45th annual Shrine East-West teams came Thursday to the San Francisco Shriners Hospital for Crippled Children to visit the youngsters who wouldn't be able to make the Dec. 27th classic at Stanford Stadium.

"It adds a lot to the game, that's for sure," said Army's star running back, Lynn Moore, as he wound up talking with 15-year-old Pam, bedridden with a knee problem.

"I really admire these kids," he said. "It makes you wonder about yourself. They've been in the hospital so long and they're in great spirits and we're out in the world running around and complaining."

As he sat on the edge of 9-year-old Mike's bed, helping him figure out a new game, UCLA running back Greg Jones echoed Moore's sentiments.

Noting that all proceeds from the game go to the hospital, Jones said: "It's such a big honor or really to be able to help these kids by doing something we can do well. They're just great."

Nearby, University of Oregon end-tackle Andy Maurer and his wife sat on chairs in front of 9-year-old Rudy, strapped to a standing board.

Halfway through a skiing game, Maurer realized that Rudy's green and gold Oregon sweater with two stripes on the sleeve made him a second-year letterman. "He's got more letters than I've got," quipped Maurer.

Ask Christmas Card For Foe

An unusual idea is being sponsored by the American Red Cross for Christmas 1969. With the theme, "Send a Christmas card to an enemy this year," the Red Cross is publicizing a campaign for Americans to mail a Christmas card to the president of the North Vietnam.

"The idea of it probably shocks you," the Red Cross message says. "Especially when you consider that 1,300 Americans are believed to be prisoners in his country."

"But that's exactly the reason for doing it. He has the power to guarantee that our boys will be treated humanely. That they don't be starved. Beaten. Humiliated. Or tortured."

The message prepared for this project by the Red Cross asks that people sending cards ask for certain conditions and actions.

"Plead with him to release the names of the prisoners. To allow communication between the men and their families. To let the Red Cross inspect the prisons to insure proper medical treatment and living conditions."

Other suggestions are that persons writing cards "ask him to see that the prisoners are treated like humans. Remind him that he is bound by the Geneva Conventions which his country signed in 1957."

People interested in sending a card should address it to: Office of the President, Democratic Republic of Vietnam, Hanoi, North Vietnam, Airmail, at the rate of 25 cents, is required to send a lightweight card or airmail weight letter to North Vietnam.

Pedestrian Is Hurt In Traffic

James Edward Wooten, 45, of 825 Fleming St. was injured yesterday when struck by a car on West Fifth Street, 250 feet West of the Davis Street intersection.

Police identified the driver of the vehicle involved in the 6:15 p.m. mishap as Jarvis Franklin Harris, 27, of Winterville.

Police, who placed no charges, said Wooten allegedly walked into the path of the oncoming Harris vehicle.

Wooten was taken to Pitt Memorial Hospital for treatment of injuries he received in the mishap.

Bobbie And Harrah Wed

RENO, Nev. (AP) — Newlyweds Bobbie Gentry and William Harrah joined 80 relatives and friends in an informal champagne and caviar reception after their wedding here Thursday.

The millionaire gambling casino owner kept details of his wedding to the popular young singer-composer secret, but reception guests said there were 100 kinds of hors d'oeuvres to sample as they moved around a five-foot white cake in an intimate Harrah's Hotel restaurant.

Atress Amandah Peppar was maid of honor at the private wedding in a Presbyterian church.

The bride's ring featured a large, pear-shaped diamond worth a reported $150,000.

Harrah, 58, and his bride, 27, stayed at the reception a little more than an hour, then went to the Reno airport, where their private jet took them to a three-day honeymoon at Harrah's 80-acre ranch in the central Idaho wilderness.

Astronauts Try Walks On Lava

HILO, Hawaii (AP) — James A. Lovell Jr. and Fred W. Haise, due to be the next two Americans to walk on the moon, are in Hawaii walking on lava fields in preparation for their lunar landing next March in the Apollo 13 mission.

Lovell and Haise started their field study Thursday in the Aho-Alae crater area, site of the latest eruptions in Kilauea volcano.

The Apollo 13 backup team of John W. Young and Charles M. Duke Jr., along with Jack R. Louisiana and Vance D. Brand of the support unit, began geological reviews in another area.

CONFIRMED WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate confirmed Thursday without dissent the nomination of Dr. Arthur F. Burns to head the Federal Reserve System's Board of Governors.

Has Respect For Concern

RALEIGH (AP) — Chancellor John T. Caldwell of North Carolina State University said Thursday night he has "enormous respect for the concerned voices" of the new generations of Americans.

"I do not judge the merits of their message by the length of their hair or the style of their dress or the decibels of their music," Caldwell said. "If I did so judge, I would be deceiving myself."

He spoke at a meeting of the Wake County Medical Society and the Wake County Bar Association.

He said problems accounting for student unrest are race, poverty, pollution, urban chaos, crime and disorder and war.

"The extrication of this nation from Vietnam would remove one celebrated cause of" student unrest, "but not end it," Caldwell said in a prepared talk.

Plan Christmas Program Sunday

BETHEL—The annual Christmas program and party will be held at the Bethel Baptist Church Sunday beginning 7 p.m. The regular vesper service will not be held.

The program will include congregational singing, presentations by the adult and junior choirs and Christmas readings by the Bob Bowers family.

A party will follow in the fellowship hall.

A candlelight Communion service will be held on Christmas eve starting at 7 p.m.

NOTICE OF SALE
North Carolina
Pitt County
Under and by virtue of the power of sale contained in those two (2) certain deeds of trust, one (1) deed of trust being dated November 9, 1966 and of record in Book N-36, page 278, Pitt County Registry, unto J. T. Marston, Jr., Trustee, and that other deed of trust bearing date of November 17, 1967, of record in Book I-37, page 525, Pitt County Registry, unto J. T. Marston, Jr., Trustee, both of said deeds of trust now securing indebtedness due by Nannie Mazingo (divorced), default having been made in the payment of the indebtedness secured by both said deeds of trust and the said deeds of trust being by the terms thereof subject to foreclosure, and the holder of the indebtedness thereby secured having demanded a foreclosure hereof for the purpose of satisfying said indebtedness, the undersigned Trustee will offer for sale at public auction to the highest bidder for cash at the Court House door in Greenville, Pitt County, North Carolina, at 12:00 Noon on the 9th day of January, 1970, the lot or parcel of land conveyed in said deeds of trust, the same lying and being in Pitt County, North Carolina, and more particularly described as follows:

That certain lot or parcel of land situate lying and being in the Town of Farmville, Pitt County, North Carolina and beginning at a stake on the East side of Main Street at the corner of lot no. 56 and running thence with the line of lot no. 56, South 50 degrees 30 feet East 237 feet to a stake in W.E. Murphy's line; thence with his line, North 43 degrees 20 feet East 50 feet to a stake, corner of lot no. 58; thence with the line of lot no. 58, North 50 degrees 30 feet West 236.8 feet to a stake on Main Street; thence with Main Street South 43 degrees 40 feet West 50 feet to the beginning, and being the same property conveyed to Nannie Mazingo by Beatrice Donkle by deed dated January 24, 1922, and recorded in Book Q-14, at page 26 of the Pitt County Registry.

The proceeds of said sale will first be applied to the indebtedness secured by that deed of trust of record in Book N-36, page 278, and then to the indebtedness described in Book I-37, page 525. This sale will be made subject to all ad valorem taxes or other assessments now due or which constitute a lien on the above described lot or parcel of land and the highest bidder at said sale will be required to deposit with said trustee the sum of ten percent (10 percent) of the amount of his bid to show good faith pending the confirmation of this sale.

Opening lead: Deuce of ♣. When the common sense of the situation makes it apparent that a passive line of defense is destined to fail, desperate measures are clearly in order. East realized in defending against South's four spade contract, that unless a specific holding existed, he might just as well abandon hope—and so his campaign was not culled from any text it was nevertheless a soundly conceived strategy and resulted in a well earned upset on the deal.

West opened the deuce of clubs and dummy's ten held the first trick. A small spade

Scouts Hold Yule Party

Boy Scout Troop 362 held its annual Christmas party at the Moose lodge Wednesday evening. Instead of exchanging gifts, the Scouts decided to donate the money to buy clothing, food and toys for a needy family this Christmas.

They presented a gift to Mrs. Ola Ray McLawhorn, and a gift to Scoutmaster Tom Butts, for their exceptional services to the troop during the year.

DINER'S DICTIONARY

GUESTS (gēsts), n. 1. Too many people to cook for.

PAR-TY (par'ti), n. 1. "Good grief, Harry! You mean you asked them to dinner?"

DIN-ER (din'ner), n. 1. Served at The Niblick. You don't lift a finger.

Have your next dinner party at Greenville's finest Steak House The Niblick for your guests, or just yourself!

Community Chorus Offering 'Messiah' Sunday Afternoon

READY. . . conductor Dr. Paul Aliapoulos raises his hand as members of the male chorus prepare to rehearse for one of their numbers in Handel's "The Messiah," to be presented Sunday afternoon at Jarvis Methodist Church.

By JERRY RAYNOR
Reflector Staff Writer

For the second successive Sunday, the citizens of Greenville and Eastern North Carolina will be afforded an opportunity to hear a major Christmas musical program, in a live performance.

On Sunday, at 4:30 p. m., in the Jarvis Memorial United Methodist Church, the Greenville Community Chorus will present Handel's "Messiah."

The Greenville Community Chorus, made up of citizens of Greenville and student and faculty members of East Carolina University, will be conducted by Dr. Paul Aliapoulos, who was also conductor for the Mozart's "Requiem" presented last Sunday at ECU's Wright Auditorium.

Wilson Nichols is organist for this production of the "Messiah." About 120 singers, including chorus and soloists, will take part in singing this most beloved of all Christmas oratorios.

The Christmas portion of the "Messiah" and the "Hallelujah Chorus" are to be performed. Soloists, in order of appearance, and the arias they will sing are: Bruce Frazier, tenor—"Comfort Ye My People;" Jim Powers, tenor—"Every Valley Shall Be Exalted;" Pete Joyner, bass—"Thus Saith The Lord;" Rev. Graham Nahouse, bass—"But Who May Abide The Day of His Coming;" Donna Stephenson, alto—"Behold, A Virgin Shall Conceive" and "Thou That Tellest Good Tidings to Zion;" Dana Early Joyner, soprano—"And Lo! The Angel of The Lord Came Upon Them"; "There Were Sheperds Abiding In The Field;" "And The Angel Said Unto Them;" and "And Suddenly There Was With The Angel."

Dottie Jo Knight, soprano—"Rejoice Greatly, O Daughter of Zion;" Cynthia Mendenhall, alto—"Then Shall The Eyes Of The Blind Be Opened" and "He Shall Feed His Flock Like A Sheperd;" and Fran Cherry, soprano—"Come Unto Him."

The chorus will sing "And The Glory Of The Lord," "And He Shall Purify," "For Unto Us A Child Is Born," "Glorious To God," and "His Yoke Is Easy, And His Burden Is Light," and the well-known "Halleluiah Chorus", one of the great musical heritages of Christendom.

In addition to accompanying the singers, organist Wilson Nichols will play the "Overture," and "Pastoral Symphony."

From the time of its first presentation in Dublin, Ireland in 1742, the "Messiah" has been a great favorite throughout the world.

The tradition of the audience standing for the "Halleluiah Chorus" dates from March 1743, when the first performance was given in London. King George II, roused by the splendor of the chorus, rose to his feet after the first few bars of the soaring music. The audience followed his lead, thus establishing this tradition.

This is the only music accorded this honor, with the exception of national anthems.

The organization of the Greenville Community Chorus was initiated by a group of county church choir directors and members of the faculty of the school of Music at East Carolina University.

Under this joint program of city and university, present plans call for a spring concert. Interested persons are asked to call the School of Music—758-6331 and have their names put on the Community Chorus Mailing list.

Admission to Sunday's performance is free of charge. The public is invited to attend singing of "The Messiah".

The concert will be taped and broadcast over Radio Station WNCT-FM, Greenville at 8 p.m. on Christmas Eve, December 24.

Pledges Find Extra Funds

RALEIGH (AP) — John R. Jordan Jr., chairman of the state's Social Services Board, says extra money will be found to prevent cuts in welfare payments.

"I will personally see that no stone is left unturned," Jordan said, "in trying to secure the additional state funds necessary to make up for the deficit we are faced with."

The board had previously announced a statewide reduction due to a surge in the number enrolled for welfare benefits.

Also, the federal government has required the states to re-adjust their payment scale to meet rising costs of living.

Despite Jordan's statement, a spokesman for the Social Services Department said there is no possibility of heading off reductions in Aid to Families with Dependent Children before Jan. 1.
