Furniture Store Guttled By Fire Here Last Night

By STUART SAVAGE
Reflector Staff Writer

A fire reported at 8:40 last night completely gutted the Heilig-Meyers furniture store at 117 East Third St., causing damage estimated at between $350,000 and $400,000. Officers riding first in fire units reported the building was completely engulfed in flames when they arrived. One off-duty fireman, on his way to the central fire station in downtown Greenville, passed the furniture store minutes before the alarm was sounded and said he saw no fire. Another passing motorist said his daughter saw fire inside the store. Investigating, he said it was only a matter of seconds before the building exploded in flames. The build-up of heat caused windows in the front of the building to blow out, and when fire units arrived, utility poles across the street from the front of the store were blazing, set afire by the intense heat coming from the open store. Another passerby said he saw fire inside the building at the corner of Third and Cotanche Streets, and ran toward the fire alarm box one block away at the Evans and Third Streets intersection. He said the front of the glass windows blew out just after he passed. Fire Chief Ray Smith reported firemen had the blaze under control within a short time after they arrived. Three pumpers and the department's aerial ladder truck were used along with 3,650 feet of hose. Light fire, water and smoke damage resulted to the adjacent Lee Building to the West of the destroyed furniture firm, fire officers reported. Windows in several buildings across the street were cracked from heat. Two firemen were injured. Chief Smith was cut on the face by flying glass, and fireman Dewey Hardison was overcome by smoke. Hardison had to be carried from the top of the Lee Building and was taken to Pitt Memorial Hospital for treatment.

The major portion of the fire had been extinguished by 10:30, but some firemen remained at the scene during the night and this morning to keep check on the smoldering ruins.

Dee Vinson, manager of the store, said total damage to the building and stock would amount to $350,000 to $400,000. He estimated value of the building alone would be $150,000. Heilig-Meyers has been located in the building for nine years and has enlarged several times, according to Vinson. He said the Heilig-Meyers firm will re-build in Greenville but said a "quick decision" will be made whether to relocate at another spot or remain at the present site.

The building contained 18,000 square feet of space. Vinson said the firm's credit records were microfilmed last week and safe in a central storage area. Store officials early this morning had not been able to get to the company's safe which contained printed records.

He added the loss is partially insured.

Firemen from Winterville stood by with a truck at the central station during the fire to respond to other calls in the city if needed, while firefighters from several other departments in the county volunteered their assistance at the fire.

A false alarm was received from Box 135 at the intersection of Third and White Streets at 9:45.

The origin and cause of the fire were listed as undetermined by Chief Smith, who said an investigation will be made in an effort to determine the cause.

Third Street between Evans and Cotanche Streets was blocked to traffic this morning because of debris from the fire in the street.

About 65 Greenville firemen including paid and volunteer men and volunteers from other departments in the county were used in combatting the blaze, officers reported today.

Several groups and individuals including among them the Salvation Army and the Winterville Fire Department supplied coffee, fried chicken and other refreshments to firemen during the blaze.

Military Manpower Cut Seen Pointing To New Viet Cutback

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird's disclosure of a bigger cut in total U.S. armed forces indicates the likelihood of another sizable troop withdrawal from Vietnam by midsummer.

It also could mean a further reduction in the draft.

Speaking in Los Angeles Thursday, Laird said over-all U.S. military manpower will be down by about 300,000 men by June.

This is about 35,000 more than the force reduction Laird projected for this fiscal year at a news conference here last month.

At that time, Laird linked his projection to President Nixon's latest order calling for a pull-back of some 50,000 more U.S. troops from Vietnam by April 15.

Slashes in the size of the nation's armed forces have been tied closely to the paced withdrawal of American troops from the war.

Thus, Laird's hike in the anticipated reduction in over-all U.S. armed manpower suggests accompanying additional pull-outs from Vietnam between mid-April and possibly July. Withdrawals which began last summer will reach a net of about 108,500 by mid-April. Officials have hinted at another increment, perhaps in the 50,000 range, in the ensuing three or four months.

Such a development would bring the U.S. commitment in Vietnam below 400,000.

And the 300,000 man rollback would bring the total U.S. troop strength down to about 3,155,000.

Because of the force reductions, the draft already has been reduced from about 290,000 last year to an anticipated 225,000 this year. Further force cuts could carry the total draft call below 225,000.

Laird told the Los Angeles news conference that budget reductions, disengagement of the United States from Vietnam, and accompanying purchasing slashes could reduce by about 1,250,000 the number of persons involved in national defense.

Under this, he listed military manpower, civil service employees of the Defense Department and its agencies, and workers for defense contractors.

He did not give specific figures for each category.

However, a total reduction in uniformed strength of 600,000 men and an indicated pruning of perhaps 150,000 from the civil service roles would suggest that defense contractor employment might go down by about 500,000.

In talking about "Vietnamization" of the war, Laird said that between 45 per cent and 50 per cent of a transitional U.S. force would be combat troops. Their mission would be to safeguard American support elements remaining behind to back up the South Vietnamese after native forces take over the full job of fighting the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong. This indicates such security troops would total about 100,000 or more men. Pentagon officials draw a distinction between combat troops carrying battlefield operations against the enemy and the same combat troops having a security mission guarding U.S. support elements from attack.

High School Sees No New Incidents

By JERRY RAYNOR
Reflector Staff Reporter

No new major incidents have been reported yesterday or today in Rose High School as a tense week in which violence erupted Monday afternoon draws to a close. Police remain in the school.

"The situation is still tense," stated principal Glenn Cox, "and we are hoping the week can close without any further trouble."

Attendance again dropped today. The preliminary attendance report shows that approximately 450 students were out of school today, as contrasted to 423 who were absent yesterday. Cox disclosed that three more students were temporarily suspended from school yesterday, two white and one Negro, all male. "Again, this is due to misconduct on the part of these students and has no bearing on Monday's disturbance," he noted.

This brings to 20 the number of high school students suspended on a temporary basis during the week. In each instance, the students will have a hearing to determine when they will be readmitted to school.

Cox stated that plans still hold for the scheduled basketball game tonight at Rose High with the Junior Varsity game at 6:00 and the Senior Varsity game at 8:00 p.m.

Betty Wilkinson of Rt. 2, Washington, reported to police that a rear window and the side of her car, parked in front of the Christian Church across the street from Rose High School, was hit with BB shot.

Mrs. Olga Dawkins, the Negro teacher for whom a warrant charging assault was signed by Negro student Jesse Lee Daniels Jr. late Wednesday, was served with the warrant late yesterday afternoon. She was recognized to appear in court.

Daniels is one of the students under temporary suspension. Students at Rose High were given an opportunity to attend the Martin Luther King celebration yesterday afternoon at the Pitt County Courthouse, provided they brought a note from home stating they had their parents' permission to be absent for this purpose.

Hayes To Head Council

RALEIGH (AP)—Gov. Bob Scott has picked former Arkansas congressman Brooks Hayes as chairman of the North Carolina Good Neighbor Council, it was learned today.

Sources said the governor would announce the appointment of the 71-year-old director of the Ecumenical Institute at Wake Forest University this afternoon.

Scott called a news conference in his office for 2 p.m.

The council—the state's racial trouble-shooting agency—is currently headed by Fred Cooper, who is acting chairman and its fulltime executive director. The 1969 General Assembly reorganized the structure of the council and made the chairmanship into a parttime post.

The council's first and only chairman, David S. Coltrane, died last year.

Hayes was defeated in his bid for reelection to Congress after he spoke against violence when Little Rock, Ark., schools were integrated in 1958. He was president of the Southern Baptist Convention from 1957-59.

EXTENDED WEATHER OUTLOOK FOR N.C.

Temperatures through Wednesday are expected to average a few degrees below normal and precipitation a half inch or more, occurring mainly as rain, over the weekend.

Several Plans Are Offered To Nursing Home Operators

RALEIGH (AP)—North Carolina nursing home operators will decide within the next few weeks which of several plans they want the state to use in reimbursing them in caring for welfare patients under the Medicaid program.

At a meeting Thursday, the operators indicated none of the proposed plans is entirely satisfactory.

Meanwhile, a threat by 61 nursing homes to refuse to care for Medicaid patients was temporarily forestalled when the state Department of Social Services mailed checks totaling $775,000 to cover current expenses for Medicaid patients.

The Medicaid program went into operation Jan. 1 and brought a threat by the nursing homes not to care for patients under the federally funded program.

The reimbursement plans were developed during a four-hour meeting Thursday attended by members of the North Carolina Association of Nursing Homes, the Department of Social Services, Blue Cross, Blue Shield, and several other federal, state and local officials.

John R. Jordan Jr., chairman of the state Board of Social Services, offered the first plan. It would pay nursing homes $300 per month for patients requiring minimal medical care; $339 for patients needing professional nursing care and other professional services; and $420 for patients requiring maximum professional services.

Jordan said he developed his plan in discussion with several nursing home operators and noted it was designed to give the maximum amount available under federal guidelines.

John A. McMahon, president of North Carolina Blue Cross-Blue Shield, proposed a slight variation of the Jordan plan except that it would not give the homes the federal maximum. McMahon's plan is intended to keep the homes from having to pay back large sums to the government later.

The third plan, proposed by the Nursing Home Association, would base the amount of payment on the determined cost of each individual nursing home, plus a 15 per cent profit margin. A ceiling of $16 per patient per day would be established.

Moussaka Is Beef, Potato Casserole

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor
One of the best meat and potato dishes you can possibly make comes from Greek cuisine. It's a Moussaka—a delightful layered affair that we found interesting and delicious enough to serve to company.

For this dish thinly sliced potatoes are arranged in a casserole with a beef-and-tomato mixture in between; over the top goes a creamy sauce containing eggs and Parmesan cheese.

Serve this casserole with a green salad and some crusty bread. Fruit compote with cookies makes a good dessert.

BEEF AND POTATO MOUSSAKA

6 medium (about 2 pounds) potatoes
1 tablespoon olive oil
1 medium onion, chopped
1 clove garlic, minced
1 pound ground chuck beef
1 can (8 ounces) tomato sauce
Salt and pepper
½ teaspoon dried mint
¼ teaspoon cinnamon
¼ cup finely chopped parsley
¼ cup butter
2 tablespoons flour
2 cups milk
2 large eggs, slightly beaten
¼ cup grated Parmesan cheese

With olive oil, grease an oblong glass three-quart baking dish (13½ by 8¾ by 1¾ inches) or similar utensil.
Peel potatoes; slice about ¼-inch thick; cover with cold water.
In a 10-inch skillet heat one tablespoon olive oil; add onion, garlic and beef and cook gently, crumbling with a fork, until meat loses its red color. Add tomato sauce, 1 teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, mint, cinnamon and parsley. Cover and simmer five minutes.

In a medium saucepan over low heat, melt butter; stir in flour. Off heat gradually stir in milk, keeping smooth. Cook over moderately low heat, stirring constantly, until smooth and thickened. Stir a small amount of hot mixture into beaten eggs, then stir back into sauce in saucepan; stir in ½ teaspoon salt, a dash of pepper and the Parmesan.

Drain potatoes; arrange half the slices in the bottom of prepared baking dish. Sprinkle lightly with salt and pepper. Spread meat mixture over potatoes, then add remaining potatoes. Sprinkle lightly with salt and pepper. Pour sauce over dish.

Bake in preheated 375-degree oven until potatoes are tender—about one hour.
Makes six average servings.

If you place a small piece of cotton in the fingers of rubber gloves, it will help prevent holes from long, pointed fingernails.

Miss Laurie Fiser Is Bride

FARMVILLE—Miss Laurie Lang Fiser, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rob Vernon Fiser of Farmville, became the bride of Robert Lee Currie Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lee Currie of Lumberton.

The double ring ceremony took place in the First Christian Church. The Rev. Jack M. Daniell officiated at the rites on Saturday at 4:00 p.m. Given in marriage by her father, the bride selected a gown of silk peau de soie. The empire styling was complimented by the use of French chantilly lace and seed pearls around the scoop neckline and extended down the front in a panel to the hemline. The sleeves, in a modified bell shape, were banded in the French lace and pearls. Miss Fiser's detachable chapel train was outlined in French chantilly lace and appliqued with lace rosettes down the center of the back.

Her mantilla veil of silk illusion was edged with matching lace extending one-third the length of the train. The bride carried a prayerbook centered with an orchid outlined in aliencon with sprays of miniature carnations, showered with white satin streamers interspersed with pearl seeded hearts. Her only jewelry was pearls, a gift of the bridegroom.

Miss Rachel Lawrence Watson of Atlanta, Ga., cousin of the bride, was maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Miss Nancy Elizabeth Currie, sister of the bridegroom, Miss Mary Elizabeth Newton of Farmville, Miss Ann Patterson of Raleigh, and Mrs. Robert Belvin Howard of Raleigh.

The maid of honor and bridesmaids were attired in identical ankle length gowns of hunter green pan velvet. The empire designed gowns were banded at the neck and hemline in ivory satin and the headpieces were also in matching satin. The attendants carried ivory snow drift pom poms outlined with French tulle and tied with ivory velvet ribbons.

Robert Lee Currie served as his son's best man. Ushers were Rob Vernon Fiser Jr. of Columbia, S.C., brother of the bride, William Oliver Currie, of Lumberton brother of the bridegroom, Robert Belvin Howard of Raleigh, and Glenn Lewis Kling of Greenville, Harry Albritton and Edwin Bynum Jr. cousin of the bride.

Miss Edith Allen, organist, of Farmville, provided music prior to the ceremony. Arthur Joyner Jr., soloist, sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer".

The vows were spoken before an altar banked with all white flowers, pom poms, snapdragons, mums and gladioli. Two brass spiral candelabras with white tapers were placed on each side.

Two brass tree candelabras with fern greenery were used on the floor level. The bride and bridegroom knelt on a prie-dieu for Communion and the Lord's Prayer. The family pew was marked with white gladioli tied with white satin bows.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Fiser chose an A-line ensemble of silk shantung in pale apricot. The V-neck and hemline were accented with soft pleats. Complimenting her dress were matching accessories and her corsage was a green cymbidium orchid.

Mrs. Currie, mother of the bridegroom, chose a petal pink ensemble in silk shantung of A-line styling with covered buttons down the front and three-quarter length sleeves. Her accessories were of matching petal pink and she wore a white cymbidium orchid.

Mrs. Leila Smith Oliver of Fairmont, maternal grandmother of the bridegroom, was attired in a dress of royal blue and wore a white mum corsage.

For a wedding trip to Williamsburg, Va., the bride chose a dress and coat ensemble by Capriel in navy blue piped and lined in white. Navy blue accessories and the orchid from the bridal bouquet completed her outfit.

The bride is a graduate of Peace College, class of 1967, and is presently employed at the I.B.M. Corp., Raleigh. The bridegroom is completing his senior year at N.C. State University, Raleigh, where his major is mechanical engineering.

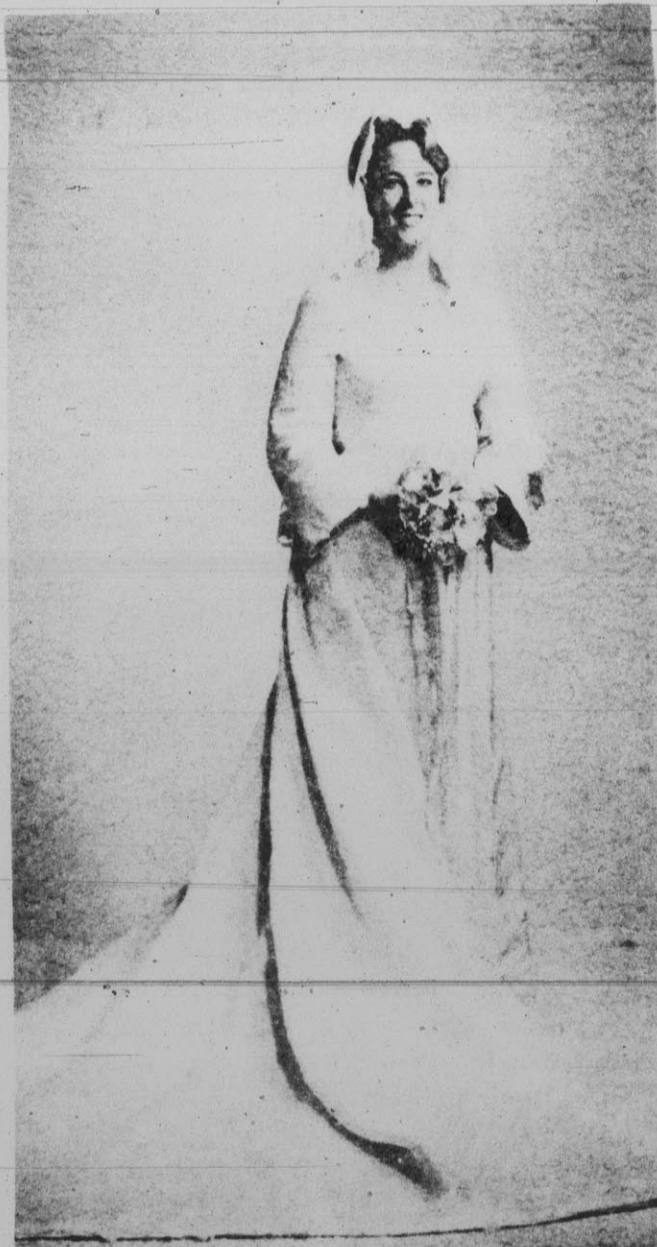

The couple will reside in Raleigh.
Mrs. T. L. Albritton and Mrs. J. Y. Monk directed the wedding.
A reception followed the ceremony in the fellowship hall of the church.

Program Given By Mrs. May

Mrs. Sue May presented the program at the meeting of the Stokes Extension Homemakers on Monday.

She spoke on various types of furniture.
During the business session, members discussed plans for the February supper.

Mrs. Ed Hawkins gave the devotional. Mrs. Daniel Boone was hostess for the meeting.

FASHION FORECASTS
by C. Heber Forbes

(More Lace Facts)
Rose Point lace, so often the choice for bridal veils, owes its popularity to its exquisite and elaborate daintiness. It is identified by the rose motif, foliage and scrolls on a fine net background.
Chantilly lace, featuring bases, baskets, or floral designs in its pattern, is corded in a manner similar to re-embroidered lace. However, it may be made from fibers other than cotton. Some laces (Venice) are joined by bars or "legwork" instead of net. In some (Duchesse) the floral design is constructed from narrow tapelike bands. Aliencon lace is identified by the heavy thread that outlines the floral design which is filled in with solid thread.
These are only some of the better known types of the many laces manufactured today and seen everywhere in current styles.

Ovid Pierce Is Club Department Speaker Tuesday

The Fine Arts Department of the Woman's Club held its first meeting of the New Year on Tuesday with the chairman, Mrs. George Snyder, presiding.

Ovid Pierce, author in residence at East Carolina University, and a recipient of the Sir Walter Raleigh Award for fiction, was guest speaker.

His subject was "The Death of the Novel," or what is happening to the novel of the nineteenth century, with its serenity, sequence, cause and effect, tall and wide frames of reference, and the assurance that things were not so bad as they seemed.

He pointed out that scope and sequence are giving way to fragmentation, and our cultural heritage is being subjected to endless questioning. It seems that the point of departure in any critical approach is "repudiation of the past."

This seems true in so many areas of experience: morality, education, the arts, the military, and in society in general. How does the novelist see his function in treating the past?

Many writers have found the answer in retreating from any firm moral judgments, and in fracturing time, space, groups, and experiences of man. Fiction no longer seems to be concerned with the total man; but, rather, the component parts of man's behavior have become ends in themselves, he added.

The business session included Mrs. John Miller's report on the planning of the local Fine Arts Festival, which will be held at the club building on Saturday, Feb. 21, at nine o'clock in the morning.

Screening and eliminating contestants in public speaking, art, crafts, sewing, music, and literature will take place at that time. Winners in those categories will represent the local club at the District Fine Arts Festival to be held in Washington on March 7th.

Mrs. Green Is Club Speaker

Mrs. C. Sylvester Green presented the program at the meeting of the Inglis Fletcher Book Club held Tuesday at her home.

She spoke on "What We Have a Family Name and What it Means To Us." Personal names doubtless originated soon after use of spoken language and the date of the first use was lost in the dark ages preceding recorded history, said the speaker.

Continuing she added, as civilization progressed, it became necessary for full names to come into use about 900 years ago.

Mrs. W. G. Garner, president, presided over a short business meeting. Refreshments were served members prior to the meeting.

Park Area Requires Planning

No doubt the Redevelopment Commission is correct in concentrating its attention on the erosion problem at the east end of the Shore Drive project. A high bank on Town Creek is rapidly washing away. At the east entrance to the riverside walkway erosion has left a deep ditch despite efforts to stabilize the area. Both these situations are dangerous for the people using the park and they are also causing serious damage.

So it is obvious that these situations need immediate attention and the commission is proceeding properly in turning its attention to them.

At the same time, however, there should be no undue delay in commencing planning for development of this park area. The land has already been cleared and grassed, and the retaining wall and walkway are in place. It has also been determined that the land will become city property.

Now it is time for the city to come up with some definite plans for development of the area. At one time there was the strong possibility of a new City Hall being constructed on the land. That may still be a possibility, but this is something that the City Council should soon decide.

It has long been our feeling that this riverside land would best serve the citizens of Greenville if it were kept clear of any buildings and developed as a municipal park, although there are arguments for using the land as a City Hall site.

But, these are things that should be decided soon by the City Council. Then professional assistance should be obtained to plan landscaping of the area and funds available for this work should be put to use.

It has taken years to carve this prime riverside park area out of a slum section. Now the land is available and it is time to determine its use and begin developing it for Greenville citizens.

Some Sort Of Limit On Autos Seems Looming

Ownership and use of the automobile has long been considered an American right; yet there seems to be a growing threat that eventually there is going to have to be some limit on autos.

Transportation Secretary John A. Volpe recently warned he was "skeptical that we can continue to plan around the automobile as we have been doing."

There have also been predictions in recent years of the eventual banning of private autos from the central areas of large cities.

Fortunately for small cities such as Greenville the auto has not create mountainous problems as yet, but we can expect to hear more talk of limiting vehicles in the nation's largest cities in the future.

Ties Befouled By Deception

By ROWLAND EVANS and ROBERT NOVAK

WASHINGTON — Soon after the fatal shooting of two Black Panther leaders in last month's Chicago police raid, an immensely popular Negro entertainer — long a vocal foe of violence and extremism — privately donated $5,000 to the Black Panther party.

He specifically earmarked the contribution to the Panthers' never got there. The check had no sooner been cashed than the money was sent directly to Black Panther national headquarters in Berkeley, Calif., which has a voracious appetite for cash to finance its weekly newspaper and incessant travels by party functionaries around the nation and the world.

The incident is unhappily typical of the new relationship between some liberals, black and white, and the Panthers. Since the Chicago police raid, liberals who question the police tactics in that raid have rushed in with money and kind words for the Panthers. They have been welcomed with open arms by Panther leaders, who do not share the racist contempt for white liberals that distinguishes most other black extremist organizations.

But the basic deception inherent in the misappropriation of the $5,000 contribution befoils this relationship between liberals and Panthers. The liberals choose to believe that the Panthers, while outrageously bellicose and obscene in their rhetoric, are really nothing more than a small, badly divided civil rights group under constant police harassment. In truth, they are far more: a well-disciplined and centrally directed party with potential for growth and — most alarming — with a criminal record much longer and stronger than any civil rights record.

The present Panther organization of some 30 chapters and from 1,000 to 1,500 members is down from the peak of a year ago at the Panthers' own choosing — to maintain a tighter discipline. For example, Stokely Carmichael (briefly "prime minister" of the Panthers) and his followers were purged for black racism deviating from Marxist-Leninist orthodoxy. A tight central control, formerly maintained by "enforcers" who travelled the country, now comes straight from national headquarters.

More than any other black revolutionary organization, the Panthers maintain close ties with overseas Communist parties. Whether or not they have been the beneficiary of Communist contributions from abroad is a matter of debate, but there is at least suspicion of financial aid from countries that receive regular and unremitting praise in the weekly newspaper, "The Black Panther."

Ever since exiled Panther leader Eldridge Cleaver (a fugitive from U. S. justice) turned up in Pyongyang last year, the newspaper has regularly carried the picture and words of North Korean leader Kim Il Sung — a most mundane and non-charismatic Communist leader. Cleaver has met three times with Arab commando chief Yasser Arafat, leading to shrill diatribes against Israel and for the Arab cause, including an attack on "kosher nationalism" in the Jan. 3 issue.

But if civil libertarians can overlook Panther ties with overseas Communist governments, it is hard to see how they can close their eyes to the extensive evidence of Panther criminal records. Nobody knows the full extent of Panther involvement in extortion, robbery, and burglary. The arrest of more than 350 Panthers on criminal charges in 1969 alone barely scratches the surface of suspected Panther participation in unsolved and undetected crime.

Extortion from white merchants in the ghetto, much of it unreported to authorities, is a regular source of funding in Panther grand strategy. Moreover, there is hard information from former Panthers that bank robberies to obtain funds for the party — in the old Bolshevik tradition of "expropriation" — were planned and executed in 1968 and perhaps into early 1969 (although recently Panther leaders have discouraged such activity).

Nevertheless, so great is the Panther attraction for ghetto capers that known members of the Panthers keep appearing on police blotters for spontaneous non-

Strength For Today

CALLED?

The word "called" is important in the Christian way of life. One is "called" to be a minister or to be the pastor of a certain church. Throughout the whole of the New Testament, however, runs the conviction that a true Christian believer who lives up to his faith is under the direct guidance of God. He is still a sinner, falling down at times but picking himself up and pressing forward to "the high calling of God in Christ Jesus" (Philippians 3:14).

In other words, a person who confesses Christian faith and tries as best he can to live a Christian life is a person "called" by God and appointed by God to certain tasks and objectives. This call may send him into the Christian ministry, or out on the mission field, or into some particular position in the Church. More often than not, however, it simply points out a pathway which the sincere and honest Christian believer must follow. The hand of God rests upon such a person, keeping him safe in the pathway he has chosen.

When a person becomes a Christian he places his life completely in the hands of God. His faith is that he will be divinely directed. If this surrender of his life to divine guidance is sincere, he will come to the end of his life realizing that in spite of many failures he has kept the faith and is trying to live up to the demands God would make of him.

Signing Black Scholars

WASHINGTON — There was a time when the major preoccupation of our nation's universities was recruiting athletes for their football and basketball teams. But all this has changed. Now the big recruiting drive among our schools is to find qualified black students for their scholastic programs.

Every university president knows his school is no longer judged by any other standard than how many black students are enrolled in the school.

Alumni have been alerted to immediately report on any outstanding black scholar, and alumni clubs have been set up to get around the strict "black student scholastic recruiting code."

It's hard to keep your head if you're a high school student and you're suddenly in demand.

Take the case of Bernard Jefferson Smith, a straight-A black student at Central High School in Maple County, Penn. Reports about Bernard's scholastic achievements started leaking out in his sophomore year,

Other Editors Say Hess Should Be Freed

(Henderson Dispatch)

Rudolf Hess is the last member of the Nazi hierarchy in Germany in World War II who is still alive. He has been held in confinement in Spandau war crimes prison in Berlin since receiving a life sentence in the Nuremberg trials in 1946. That is, he was there until last November, when he was transferred to the British military hospital suffering from a bleeding ulcer.

At Christmas he was allowed a visit from his wife and their son for the first time he had seen them in 28 years. Russia claims his sensational flight to Britain in 1941 was to urge peace by the Allies with Germany so that the Nazis could concentrate their military might against Russia. They wanted Hess sentenced to death along with other Nazi leaders convicted at the postwar trials.

The Western Allies of World War II, including the United States, are willing and eager for Hess to be freed. He is now 75, and at that age could hardly constitute a threat to any country. For that matter, democratic West Germany would not tolerate such a move even if he were foolish enough at his age to contemplate that sort of thing.

The full story has never been told as to why Hess got into a Nazi plane and flew solo to England, landing unexpectedly and creating something of a sensation in Allied circles. He was imprisoned and kept in England until the war ended, and then placed on trial at Nuremberg along with others of Hitler's inner circle as a war criminal. The war continued three years after his bold venture, and hence he was not directly involved in the intrigue headed by the Nazi dictator, and for which some half a dozen or more changed.

The clamor for release of Hess is based on humanitarian grounds, and that he has paid dearly for his part in the war. At best, he has only a relatively few more years of life. It would be only logical for him to be allowed freedom during his sunset years. It was not his fault that Hitler did not win, but at least he had no hand in the final desperate era of the ruling hierarchy. Few people anywhere, unless in Russia, would object to his release.

and scouts from every major university in the country started sneaking in the back of Bernard's math classes to see if he was as good as they said he was.

What they saw amazed them. Bernard was even better at geometry and calculus than his press notices indicated.

According to the "black student scholastic recruiting code," scouts are not permitted to approach a black student about a scholarship until he is in his senior year. But this didn't stop eager alumni from making approaches on their own.

One day, during his junior year, Bernard found a brand-new Corvette in his driveway with a note on it. The unsigned note said: "MIT has the best bio-chemistry department in the country."

A few weeks later, the paid-up mortgage on his parents' house arrived in an unmarked envelope which had just two words on the top: "Think Stanford."

Cities Now Out Of Date

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Man in the future will become much more of a homebody if the day-dream of Alfie Windfall comes true.

Alfie, who earns a munificent salary writing toothpaste ads, explained his plan the other morning as we jolted into town on a suburban train.

"The world outside the home is getting too dangerous and inconvenient," he remarked. "It is time for smart people to start spending their lives at home."

"How's that?"
"Well, cities today have become anachronistic," said Alfie. "The air is befouled by automobiles driving around looking for a parking place that isn't there, and you have to stand in line to buy anything from lunch to a pair of socks.

"By day cities are a nuisance, and by night they are a danger, full of muggers, insolent hackmen, and people who want to charge you $15 or more to see a second-rate musical play or eat a third-rate dinner."

"Why wouldn't you be better off to stay at home, eat a decent, inexpensive well-cooked meal, and spend the evening playing cribbage or reading a good book?"

"City life actually has become a form of oppression to the spirit of man. Cities were originally designed to serve man; but now man serves the city. They crowd him, destroy his dignity, and make him nervous and violent."

"Yes, but where else can a man earn a better living?"

"Why do I have to go to a cubicle in the city to write toothpaste ads?" argued Alfie. "I can write them just as well at home while I'm sitting on the sun porch drinking a martini and getting a suntan."

"Most of the reasons or even having cities are now out of date. Most of the work of the world could be done better at home, in factories or offices in rural areas. Sales meetings and conventions? In a few years they can be held just as well by picture phone."

"The same thing is true of shopping. You won't need cities as shopping places. You'll simply dial the store—and the store would probably be more efficient in a cornfield than in a city—and select from items the salesman shows you over the picture phone. Actually, right now you can think of any good reasons for keeping old cities—and building new ones—except to give jobs to unnecessary politicians?"

"But if man now flees to a home in the suburbs to get away from it all in the city, Alfie, when the time comes that it's all at home, won't he then find it necessary to flee back to the city to get away from it all?"

"Oh, shut up," said Alfie crossly, as the train slowed. "Here's where we get off."

Reports Point To A Busy Year

RALEIGH — A year-end report by the North Carolina Department of Agriculture indicates a very busy year by department personnel facing new problems and new opportunities in various areas.

Some problems have been those of hog cholera, DDT, and the uses of cyclamates in diet foods.

HOG CHOLERA — The commissioner of Agriculture issued emergency quarantine proclamations on cholera million bushels of grain. —140,000 head of feeder pigs were sold through the 14 monthly graded quality feeder pig sales in the state at seven locations.

—105,000 soil samples were tested. Of these, 83.5 per cent for farms; 9 per cent educational institutions; 2.7 per cent lawns and gardens; 2.7 per cent greenhouses; and 1.3 per cent golf courses.

—150,333 tons of peanuts were graded.

—9,883 fertilizer samples were tested by the state chemist, making a total of 78,160 separate analyses. They also tested 1,620 samples of foods and meats, 1,860 pesticide samples and 3,300 samples of feed. The total number of tests run by the division was 101,300.

—16,304,771 pounds of meat were produced and processed in the state under state meat inspection in 206 plants.

—2,601 inspections were made by the structural pest control division to assure North Carolina Consumers that they get their money's worth from pest control operators. Fourteen persons were tried for violations of this law.

The first nine-day N. C. State Fair showed a profit. The fairgrounds and arena were used 319 times, with attendance of 360,000 persons, not including the State Fair. Some 250,000 visitors toured the Museum of Natural History.

Eugene Carroll was named as a full-time specialist in working with foreign trade in promoting the export of North Carolina products. Commissioner Jim Graham participated in an Agribusiness tour to Australia, Hong Kong, Taiwan and Japan. North Carolina products were shown at a Trade Fair in Cologne, Germany.

later formally approved by the Board of Agriculture. The Department then paid out nearly $300,000 in indemnities on hog cholera under the law. It also cooperated with federal quarantines designed to work toward eradication of hog cholera.

DDT — Pressure to ban DDT and restrict other pesticides was faced by the Board of Agriculture and the commissioner. They are considering restrictions on registration and sales of DDT for most uses.

After changes in federal regulations concerning the use of cyclamates in diet foods, the Board met in an emergency session and changed state regulations to permit soft drink bottlers in the state to mix saccharin and sugar in beverages.

SERVICES — Other services of the department have been felt by a wide spectrum of the state's population.

A Total of 4,393 lots of grain were inspected to determine the grade of 8

Inventories A Bigger Gamble

By ELMER ROESSNER

Inventories are a growing problem for both retailing and manufacturing businesses. That's why there have been so many clearance sales at retail; that's why there have been so many gambling instincts of corporate buyers, especially since they are gambling with other people's money.

Inventories are costly to maintain. Inventories must be warehoused, insured, serviced. Furthermore, money tied up in inventories is expensive these days. It must be borrowed at present high interest rates, or it must come out of funds that could be otherwise loaned profitably.

Taking A Chance

Thus, when a buyer orders, say a thousand tons of peat moss, he is gambling that the costs of maintaining that inventory will be less than the rise in price until it is used or sold. If he is right, he is regarded as a genius and probably can swing a raise in pay. If he is wrong, he can always say he tried.

Furthermore, inventory building appeals, to the

At the present time, the chances of being wrong are greater than they have been.

Prices will continue to rise, as has been reported here, so often readers must be tired of hearing it. But they are likely to rise at a slower rate. Worse, the volume of sales is likely to drop. These probabilities mean that inventories must be held long at high cost, and the risks of deterioration and obsolescence is greater.

The Case Of Autos

That's why all auto makers except American, whose inventories were cut by its strike last year, have been cutting back on production. Note that on Dec. 1 the industry had 47 days of stock on hand compared with 44½ days on the same date in 1968. And sales were slowing down. This cutback in production has hurt supplying industries. Industry Week magazine, formerly Steel, reports that no new steel business has developed to offset the decline in the auto industry, the largest user of steel.

Every recent consumer survey has shown consumer intentions to buy, while still strong, are weaker than they were last year or the year before. This applies to housing and home furnishings as well as autos.

Therefore, reduction in inventory positions has become the prime problem in many industries and many businesses. The slide rules are in use as executives try to determine whether it will be more profitable to cut production and reduce inventories even at a loss than to hang on in expectations of a rise in dollar value.

started on a swimming pool in Bernard's yard. When Bernard inquired as to who was paying for it, the contractor said, "I have no idea. We were told to send the bill to the Harvard Club in Philadelphia."

Bernard's father, who worked as a porter at the local bank, was suddenly and mysteriously made a vice president. The president of the bank, a University of Pennsylvania graduate, told Bernard's father the promotion was long overdue and invited him and Bernard to have dinner with the dean of the Penn's Wharton School of Business Administration.

But the pressure really didn't start until Bernard began his senior year. There were so many university chancellors camped on Bernard's doorstep every night that he had to sneak in the house disguised as a welfare worker.

The telephone never stopped ringing.

Numbered Swiss bank accounts were opened in Bernard's name.

A wealthy alumnus at Yale said he would build a new library and name it the Bernard Jefferson Smith Building, if Bernard would go to New Haven.

Finally, as Bernard was still trying to make up his mind, the phone rang. The voice on the other end said, "Bernard, this is the President of the United States, Richard Nixon. Have you ever thought of going to Whittier College?"

Centrally planned or not, such activity is implicitly condoned by Panther leader Bobby Seale in the peroration of "Off the Pigs" (translation: kill the cops), the widely distributed Panther propaganda film:

Deep inside each person, where no one can see, stands a dream castle. The nature of it varies according to one's character and personality. An artist may dream of creating a masterpiece—not yet painted—which will inspire many people. Another person may see a vision of how he can make life happier for others.

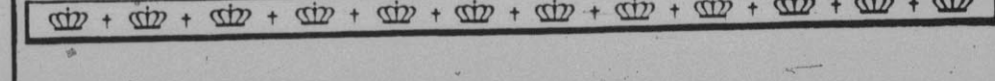

Everyone must believe in his dream in order to go forward with patience.

Jesus hoped that the world would hear His message through the uneducated fishermen He chose as His close companions. He did not give up His dream that the disciples would carry on His work . . . even when they argued over places of honor in heaven . . . or when Peter denied any connection with Him.

His dream came true. Showing courage and faith, this small group of twelve grew through centuries into today's worldwide congregation of millions.

You will find inspiration and help for your dreams of spiritual accomplishment when you attend the church of your choice.

NEW YORK (AP) — Stocks were moderately higher early today and the trading pace had quickened from recent dull sessions.

They said the rise could be counterbalanced later in the day by the usual preweekend portfolio lightening.

The Dow Jones industrial average at 11 a.m. was up 1.32 to 786.36. Stocks that rose in price on the Big Board held a 200-issue margin over declines.

Pitt Ass'n Hears Tatem

Jack Tatem, manager of the local U.S. Social Security office, spoke to 13 members of the Pitt County Association of Life Underwriters yesterday at the first meeting of 1970 for PCALU.

Using the "Latest Developments in the Social Security Law" as his topic, Tatem explained a number of new changes in the social security law that are now effective.

The major change, Tatem said, involves the 15 per cent increase in social security retirement checks. Other changes, he pointed out, affect individuals qualifying for maximum insurance.

W.R. Nichols, president of the Pitt association, presided at the monthly meeting, held at the Three Steers Restaurant on Memorial Drive.

Art Museum To 'Suspend' Fee

NEW YORK (AP) — The Museum of Modern Art has announced it will suspend its $1.50 entrance fee on Mondays to make its facilities "available to more members of the community."

"The museum has long been concerned that its admission fees may have precluded access to its resources by many people in the city," Walter Bareiss, chairman of the museum's operating committee, said Thursday.

The museum, which does not receive a public subsidy but relies on public fees and endowments for its support, has been under pressure from various groups to adopt a free admissions policy.

No Need For Quarantine

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — "There is no need to impose quarantine on the crews, the lunar samples or equipment on subsequent Apollo missions," official advisers told the space agency Thursday.

As a result, Dr. Thomas O. Paine, head of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, is expected to discontinue the 21-day periods of isolation required for astronauts and lunar samples returned aboard Apollo spacecraft.

The quarantines were imposed to prevent exposure of earth dwellers to any possible germs brought from the moon.

The recommendation went to Paine from the Interagency Committee on Back Contamination, which noted that comprehensive tests had yielded no trace of past or present life on the moon.

GNP Jump Attributed Largely To Price Rise

By JOHN M. PEARCE
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Propped by the most vicious inflation since 1951, the Gross National Produce jumped to $932.3 billion in 1969, with most of the increase resulting from soaring prices.

The Commerce Department reported Thursday the GNP rose $66.6 billion from the 1968 figure of $865.7 billion. Of the 7.75 per cent yearly increase, price increases accounted for about 4.75 per cent and real production for the remaining 3 per cent. In 1968 the increase was 9 per cent—4 per cent prices and 5 per cent real output.

GNP is the market value of all the goods and services produced in the country and, when compared to the value of the dollar in 1958, gives a clear indication of the rate of inflation.

The department's report also showed real production made almost no change during the October-December quarter, which on its face indicated the nation may be teetering on the brink of its fifth post-World War II recession.

But two prominent government economists cautioned against such a conclusion because a strike against the General Electric Co.—the nation's fifth largest corporation—cut about $2 billion off of total production in the last two months.

Without the strike, they said, real production might have gone up a moderate 1 per cent in the last quarter. The figures for one quarter are important, because a recession is defined as two consecutive quarters of declining real production.

The department said 1969 was characterized by "a gradual slowing in the expansion" as a result of the Nixon administration's anti-inflation campaign.

As evidence, it cited the declining real production increases—2 1/2 per cent in the first quarter, declining to 2 per cent in the second and third and none in the fourth.

The report also drove home the uncomfortable anomaly economists have been predicting for the transition period between inflation and a more normal economy: Although production slowed, price increases did not and no one knows when they will. Forecasts range from this month to sometime this year.

The year's increase was the second highest on record, behind only the 1968 rise. Commerce attributed the decline to smaller increases in purchases by the federal government and consumers and in residential construction. Purchases by state and local governments increased as much as they did in 1968. Commerce analysts were doubtful that the economy would pass the trillion-dollar mark this year, although one said the level might be passed in one quarter.

Quarterly reports are figured at an "annual rate," or its actual figure multiplied by four to show what the GNP would be if it stood at that level all year.

State Holds Off Bucs For 100-81 Win

By WOODY PEELE
N. C. State University used a 10-point burst at the start of the second half to pull away from East Carolina University last night, and then fought off a Pirate rally to take a 100-81 victory last night.

It was the second straight loss by the Bucs to a nationally ranked team this week. Tuesday, the fell, 91-76 to eighth-ranked Davidson, and they failed this time in their attempt against the 11th ranked Wolfpack.

The final score was not indicative of the game. State pulled away in the final five minutes when Ed Leftwich got hot from the outside. Depth then became a problem as both Lyn Green, who played a fine job as a reserve, and Jim Modlin, who led the game in rebounding, fouled out. Jim Gregory, another Pirate starter, got into foul trouble early in the game, and sat out most of the first half. Jim Fairley joined him in trouble in the second half, and both finished the game with four personals on them. For Tom Miller, it was another fine evening. Coming off a 29 point performance against Davidson, Miller burned the nets for 32 points against the Wolfpack, his high for the year. Modlin followed behind with 21, while Fairley came back from a disappointing game against the Wildcats with 18.

State was paced by star Vann Williford with 25. Leftwich had 18, 16 of which came in the second half. Paul Coder and Dan Wells each had 15, and Rich Anheuser had 14.

East Carolina took the initial lead on Miller's jumper in the first 30 seconds. Williford tied it up, but the Bucs moved out again on a free throw by the sharpshooting Buc guard.

Anheuser was awarded a goal on goaltending by Gregory, and moved into the lead, 4-3. Al Heartley hit on a fast break and Williford scored a jumper. Wells dropped in a free throw, and the Wolfpack has moved out into a six-point spread, 9-3 with 15:20 left in the half.

And Away It Goes

A loose ball goes flying out of bounds during Thursday night's basketball game between East Carolina University and North Carolina State University. State players are Paul Coder (12), and Al Heartley (32).

But Bucs swapped shots with State for a minute, then fought back. After Fairley hit at the line, Miller got a jumper and Gregory scored on a drive to cut the lead to 11-10 with 12:42 left. Miller followed with a free throw to tie it up and Modlin hit from underneath to put the Bucs ahead, 13-11. State tied it up at 13-13 and again at 15-15 before Modlin hit again to push the Bucs into a 17-15 lead. Miller followed with another charity shot and Fairley's jumper connected to run the Bucs into a five-point spread, 20-15.

But State came back behind Williford to close the gap, and then take a 22-21 lead as Williford tapped in a shot with 7:56 to go. The Bucs went back out on a Miller jumper, but Wells tied it at the line and Anheuser put State back up 25-23, and they never fell behind again.

East Carolina tied it up at 25-25 and 27-27, but State finally got a little breathing room as Paul Coder hit from underneath and Wells scored on a hook, making it 31-27 with 4:40 to go. The margin held right at that point until the closing minute.

State Highway maintained its unbeaten mark in the Industrial Basketball League last night with a 62-52 victory over Fieldcrest Mills. Union Carbide edged by WNCT, 55-52, in the second game, while Wachovia rolled over the Jaycees, 56-25, in the other.

Parnelli Jones' Ford Grabs Riverside Pole Over Gurney

RIVERSIDE, Calif. (AP) — Traditional rivalries between major automobile manufacturers in stock car racing were compounded today with a controversy over tires.

Parnelli Jones, driving a Ford Torino, posted the fastest qualifying time Thursday for Sunday's Riverside-Motor Trend 500 averaging 112.337 miles per hour for his test.

With a late start, Jones beat out Dan Gurney, who switched from Ford to Plymouth this season and drove a Roadrunner Super Bird at 111.087.

Then followed the controversy over tires which could cost Jones his pole position in the 500-mile race. He drove on Firestone tires despite a NASCAR rule that any brand of tire used in the racing association's competitions must be made available to all racers.

At least one other racer, Ray Elder, West Coast NASCAR champ, also drove on Firestone and is involved, officials said. Elder, of Caruthers, Calif., placed ninth in Thursday's qualifying.

Lyn Kuchler, vice president of NASCAR, said the tire availability rule was to prevent any racer from obtaining a specially designed tire, not available to anyone, and thus bring "unfair competition" to events supposedly pitting standard car models against each other instead of specially built race cars.

"Ordinarily we wouldn't have checked the tires," Kuchler said, "but last year Firestone announced that it was not going to supply racing tires for our races this year."

He said Firestone had been given a deadline of later today to supply any needed tires and "if Firestone is unable to do so, Jones and Elder would be forced to switch to another tire and would be moved to the rear of the field."

Many of the other drivers are using Goodyear tires. Plymouth, meanwhile, makes its first big 1970 bid with a new team headed by Gurney and Richard Petty of Randleman, N.C., who rejoined the Plymouth outfit this season after a year with Ford.

Petty, who won the race here in 1969, finished seventh in the opening day qualification run with a speed of 109.168 mph. Plymouth had to build about 2,000 of the Super Birds to qualify under the NASCAR ruling which requires competitive stock cars to be of general availability.

Southern Loop Strikes Out

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Southern Conference basketball teams were singing a sad song today. The tune was familiar, but the words sounded suspiciously like "Everything's Coming Up Losses" — and no wonder, for it certainly is.

Aside from the fact that nobody can handle Davidson, SC teams generally do pretty well against each other. Outside the league, though, the opposition seems to throw nothing but strikes.

It was that way all over again Thursday night when a trio of conference clubs squared off against strike-throwing outsiders and went whiff, whiff, whiff.

The scores were N.C. State 100, East Carolina 81; Georgia Tech 88, Furman 61; and Virginia Tech 66, Richmond 59.

Nothing like that will happen tonight, for sure, because nobody in the conference has a game.

Two of Thursday night's SC losers had bright prospects for a half. Richmond, for instance, led Virginia Tech 32-29 at halftime, and potent N.C. State led East Carolina only 37-35 at intermission.

But Richmond lost the ball seven times in the opening moments of the second half, yielding the lead to Tech and wound up losing its sixth game in a row. For whatever consolation it might be, the Spiders—now 3-11—had the game's high scorer in Picot Frazier, who collected 18 points.

N.C. State scored 10 quick points at the end of the second half against East Carolina and coasted to victory over the Pirates despite a 32-point barrage by Tom Miller. ECU's record fell to 8-7.

One thing about Furman, the Paladins never had to worry about beating Georgia Tech. The Paladins fell behind 48-25 by halftime and never really made things close, mainly because Tech's Rich Yunkus went wild with 47 points. Lisco Thomas' 20 points led Furman, now 7-6 over-all.

Immanuel Still In Church Lead

Immanuel Baptist picked up its fourth victory without a loss last night in the Church Basketball League, downing Black Jack, 51-31. In the other games, Presbyterian beat Oakmont, 50-30, and St. James downed Piney Grove, 63-44.

Immanuel leads the loop with a 4-0 record, while St. James is second with a 3-1 mark. Next comes, Presbyterian, 2-1, Piney Grove and Black Jack, both 1-2. Oakmont, 1-3, and Mt. Pleasant, 0-3.

In the opener, St. James pushed out into a 10-point lead in the first half was play, and was in no trouble after that. By the half, the Methodists held a 32-22 lead. The second half found St. James dropping its performance to 31, while Piney Grove could do no better than duplicate its 22 of the first half.

Clinton Gentry led Immanuel with 21, while Dick Evans added 20. Tal Adams led Black Jack with 10.

In the final game, Presbyterian built up a slim 22-17 lead at halftime, then pulled away in the second half. In that period, they outthit Oakmont, 28-13, to take the win going away.

Robert Oswald led Presbyterian with 10 points, while Benton had 13 to pace Oakmont.

Walter Jones led Wachovia with 17, while Terry Sparrow had 16 and Bill Baggett had 12.

Union Carbide moved out into a 34-22 lead in the first period, then had to hang on as WNCT put on a rally that almost did the trick. WNCT outthit Union Carbide 30-21 in the second half, but it wasn't quite enough to overcome UC's lead.

Donald Redmond led Union Carbide with 14, while Larry Daniels had 13, and Richard Hardee had 10. Joe Jenkins paced WNCT with 22 while Ike Arnold had 16.

Winding things up, Wachovia won its game in the first half, outscoring the Jaycees, 27-7. In the second, Wachovia again outthit the Jaycees, 29-18, to wrap it up.

Walter Jones led Wachovia with 17, while Terry Sparrow had 16 and Bill Baggett had 12.

Rose Matmen Rally To Win

Rose High School rallied to take a 26-25 victory over Wilmington New Hanover last night in a non-conference wrestling match.

The victory gave the Ram-pants a 5-2 record for the season. Rose dropped the first two matches, they battled back from a 20-5 deficit to wrap up the win on the next to last match. The Bucs took their final three wins on pins, and that did the trick.

Hiwaymen Win Again

State Highway maintained its unbeaten mark in the Industrial Basketball League last night with a 62-52 victory over Fieldcrest Mills. Union Carbide edged by WNCT, 55-52, in the second game, while Wachovia rolled over the Jaycees, 56-25, in the other.

Baby Bucs Fall To Wolflets

RALEIGH — The North Carolina State freshmen pushed off to an early 17 point lead, then held off several East Carolina rallies to take a 90-77 victory over the Baby Bucs last night.

The Baby Bucs, trailing by as much as 20 points, rallied in the second half to as much as five points, but couldn't close the final gap. State used the foul line to great advantage, hitting on 20 of 31 shots, and that provided much of the final margin.

State got the opening basket, but buckets by Steve McKenzie and Ernie Pope put the Bucs into a 4-2 lead. They led again at 6-4, but State tied it up on a pair of free throws by Richard Curran, then took the lead on two straight baskets by Curran, 10-6.

State followed that up with baskets by Rich Holdt and Mike Gillespie and a pair of free throws by Curran to run the lead out to 10, 16-6 with 11:56 to play in the half. A minute later, State stretched the lead out to 12, and slowly built it to as much as 17 at 34-37 with 4:55 to go.

But the Bucs put on a rally the rest of the way, and outscored State 12-4 to cut the lead back to 40-29 by the half. The lead dropped to as little as seven at 36-29 as McKenzie paced the comeback with 14 points in the first half.

In the second frame, State began to inch away again. They got the opening bucket, a jumper by Bob Huets, and from there edged away until they led by 22 points at 68-46 with 7:20 to go.

But again, the Pirates put together a rally this time cutting the margin back to five points before giving way again. During the rally, the Bucs outthit State, 25-8, and trailed only 76-61 with 2:48 left. Al Faber and Ernie Pope were the chief leaders of the rally, hitting six and 12 points respectively in the rally.

But the Bucs couldn't keep it up, and State began to pull away again as Holdt hit to return the lead to seven. Two free throws by Gillespie, and a driving basket by Bill Benson pushed it to 11. Benson was fouled on his shot and awarded two free throws. He made them both and that broke the Bucs' back, running the lead to 13 with two minutes to play.

East Carolina goes to Mt. Olive today to take part in the Pickle Classic, playing Louisville tonight. Davidson's freshmen meet Mt. Olive in the other game. The consolation and championships will be played Saturday night.

East Carolina: Pope 16, McNeil, Franklin 12, McKenzie 20, Faber 19, Leggett 4, Shaffer, Redmond 6, Downing, Hammond.

N.C. State: Curran 21, Benson 26, Gillespie 8, Huets 10, Holdt 25, Bayer, London, Wilkinson.

Clemson Nearly Upsets Carolina

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
North Carolina, seventh-ranked in the nation but trailing South Carolina in both the national standings and the Atlantic Coast Conference lineup, nearly got knocked off its lofty basketball perch Thursday night.

The Tar Heels' All-America, Charlie Scott, had to personally subdue stubborn Clemson as North Carolina whipped the Tigers, 97-91, at Clemson, S. C.

In other games involving ACC teams, Wake Forest downed Virginia, 89-79; and North Carolina State disposed of nonconference East Carolina, 100-81.

Tonight, for the fourth Friday night in five this season, all ACC teams are idle Saturday's schedule has Wake Forest at North Carolina in an afternoon game to be televised regionally, and Clemson at Furman.

Scott scored 35 points, 23 in the second half, to pull the Tar Heels ahead to stay in the nip-and-tuck game.

There were three ties in the first eight minutes in the final period and, with one exception, Clemson was ahead until Scott went to work. He scored eight of the last 13 Tar-Heel baskets and added three assists.

Richie Mahaffey kept Clemson alive as he scored 18 points.

in his second game of the season. He was given a hardship deferment last season after several injuries kept him from playing in all but four ACC games.

UNC's coach Dean Smith said, "We were fortunate to escape with a victory. Clemson was sky high and they outplayed us on the boards. Charlie Scott's offensive performance brought us back as he frequently does."

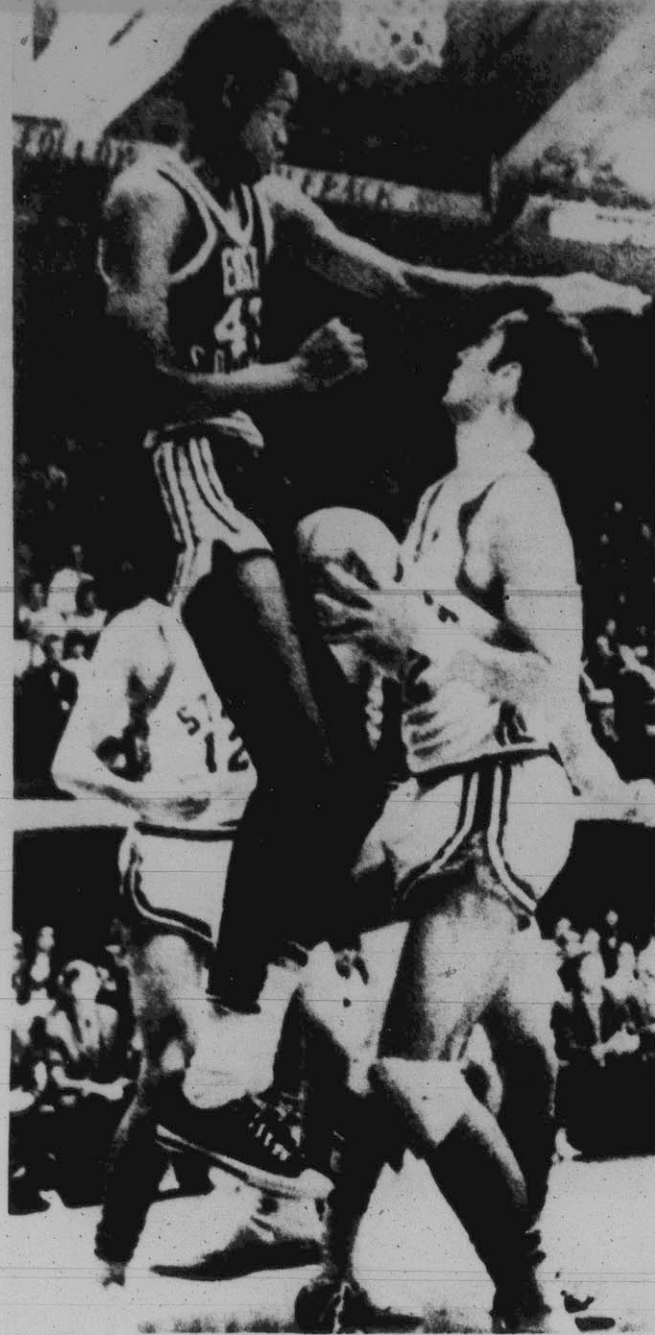

Clemson's Bobby Roberts said, "Charlie Scott hurts you in so many ways. He had three straight baskets and an assist and that broke us." Roberts called his team's effort "the best so far."

Senior forward Dickie Walker pumped in 41 points as he led Wake Forest over league-cellar dweller Virginia. He hit 16 of 22 field goals and nine of 11 free throws as he pushed his career scoring total over the 1,000 mark.

Wake contained Virginia for most of the game but allowed the Cavaliers a 41-41 tie at the beginning of the final period before pulling away.

East Carolina of the Southern Conference was no match for N. C. State at Raleigh.

Vann Williford pumped in 25 points in the Wolfpack win.

Joe, Dawson Check Lawyers

NEW YORK (AP) — Joe Namath and Len Dawson are having their lawyers look into the possibility of damage suits against persons responsible for naming them in a nationwide probe of gambling in sports.

"This is a cruel thing," added Dawson, who led the Kansas City Chiefs to an upset 23-7 victory over the Minnesota Vikings last Sunday in the Super Bowl at New Orleans.

Both Namath and Dawson were mentioned in a list of sports personalities who, it was reported, will be summoned for questioning by government investigative forces working out of Detroit.

The report was made by the National Broadcasting Company, which said its information came from unnamed government officials.

Namath and Dawson together for the taping of an American Broadcasting Company show reviewing the Super Bowl (Wide World of Sports, Saturday, 5-6:30 p.m. EST), both sharply criticized the loose usage of their names in connection with a gambling scandal.

Namath said he had turned the matter over to his attorneys. Dawson said he had a conference with his lawyer Thursday afternoon before returning to Kansas City. Asked if his attorney was looking into the situation, Dawson said:

"Definitely."

Hank Stram received a telephone call from President Nixon before the Super Bowl Game in which the President said he knew of no substance to rumors that had been floating around before the game.

"Dismiss it from your mind and go out and play like champions," the President was quoted as saying to Stram.

The President telephoned Dawson after the game and congratulated the quarterback, who was voted the game's outstanding player.

On the television tape broadcast Thursday, both Namath and Dawson said they had received no subpoenas.

"This is a guilt by implication," Namath said. "It was worse on Dawson than on me. He had a big game to play. He had a wife and family back in Kansas City. It must have upset them."

Dawson said, "I don't know what the reason was behind it. No matter what comes out, there are people who will believe what they want to believe. I have worked hard to do the right thing, to be an example to the youth of the country and my kids. I can't understand why this happened to me."

Green: Don't Wake Me Up

PHOENIX (AP) — Bert Greene has a simple request: Quiet please.

"I just hope nobody makes a loud noise and wakes me up," the blond, hard-fitting youngster said after a near-miraculous, seven-under-par 64—with a ball out of bounds—in the first round of the $100,000 Phoenix Open Golf Tournament.

"It's got to be the best round I ever had," said the 25-year-old, now in his fourth year on the tour and still seeking his first victory.

Normally a quiet, drawing character, Greene was almost babbling in excitement when he finished his round on the 6,763-yard, par 71 Phoenix Country Club course Thursday.

"Just fantastic," he muttered. "Fantastic. Never hit it that close to the hole—and putting wow."

He calmed down later on however, and observed: "If I can shoot a 64, there's got to be a lot of guys out there still playing who can shoot a 60 or 62."

He was wrong. Only a couple of veterans, Paul Harney and Dick Mayer, could come close. Harney, who led the second round at last week's Los Angeles Open, had a 65 and the 46-year-old Mayer posted a 66.

A group at 67 was headed by defending champion Gene Littler, with Don January in the bunch at 68. Frank Beard, Dave Hill and British Open champion Tony Jacklin had 69s, but some of the other major names in the game had their troubles.

Masters champion George Archer took a 73. Billy Casper had a 72 and U.S. Open titleholder Orville Moody a 71. PGA champ Ray Floyd was well back at 75, as almost half the field matched or lettered par.

Yale Feels Moral Win In NCAA Penalty

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Despite being placed on two years' probation by the National Collegiate Athletic Association for its willing and continued use of a basketball player declared ineligible by the nation's two largest college sports groups, Yale University today considered itself a moral victor.

"It is important to record that Jack Langer was not penalized in any way," Henry Chauncey Jr., special assistant to the president of Yale, said Thursday night after the school was punished for not backing the NCAA in its latest power struggle with the Amateur Athletic Union.

Langer, a 6-foot-8 reserve center, had become a pawn in the battle between the NCAA and AAU for control over amateur basketball in the United States.

He was ruled ineligible by the NCAA and its affiliate, the Eastern College Athletic Conference, for participating—even though he had Yale's permission—in the Maccabiah Games in Tel Aviv last summer.

Although other Maccabiah sports had NCAA approval, basketball was not sanctioned in another effort to persuade the AAU to give up its fight.

The two-year probation means Yale cannot participate in any NCAA championships or post-season meets and tournaments and is ineligible to appear on any national television program or series administered by the NCAA.

The NCAA Council, the national group's policy making body and the committee which handed out the probation, also reprimanded and censured the prestigious Ivy League institution and said that before the probation expires Jan. 15, 1972, the NCAA's infractions committee will review Yale's athletic policies and practices.

Although Yale said it considered the probation a harsh penalty—Florida State's basketball team was given the same punishment for severe recruiting violations—there was no word on whether Yale would appeal the decision.

The NCAA's action, however, may have eased the pressure on the ECAC to punish Yale. In a stormy session Tuesday in conjunction with the NCAA's annual convention, the ECAC slapped Yale with probation until June 30, 1971, and then withdrew it three hours later after heated floor debate.

The ECAC's executive council will meet in New York next Friday to decide whether to take action against Yale at the annual ECAC convention late next month.

The ECAC contends it has the power to hand out probationary penalties while Yale contends the group's constitution calls for expulsion as the only punishment.

If the ECAC were to take the unlikely step of expelling Yale, the other seven Ivy League members undoubtedly would quit the nation's largest conference.

Schembechler Gets Honor

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — "This is an honor so great," Michigan football Coach Bo Schembechler said from his hospital bed, "that it would hardly seem possible that my efforts the last few months should warrant such praise."

Schembechler, recuperating in St. Luke's hospital from a mild heart attack suffered a few hours before his Wolverines lost to Southern California 10-3 in the Rose Bowl, was named Thursday as the American Football Coaches Association 1969 Coach of the Year.

Bo's assistant coach, Jim Young, accepted the award for his boss in Washington, D.C.

Boston University's Larry Naviaux, whose Terriers finished with a 9-1 record, was named the NCAA college division Coach of the Year.

Association President Paul Dietzel said the balloting for the awards was the closest in history. Darrell Royal, coach of Texas' No. 1 ranked Longhorns, and North Dakota State's Ron Ehrhardt were runners-up to Schembechler and Naviaux, he said.

Young said Schembechler, 39, is expected to return to Ann Arbor, Mich., next week and resume his job in about a month.

It was the Wolverines, who finished the regular season at 8-2, that knocked Ohio State from the No. 1 spot, stunning the Buckeyes 24-12.

Schembechler coached six seasons at Miami of Ohio before taking over at Michigan. Naviaux, at 33 BU's youngest head coach ever, had been an assistant for the Terriers for five years before becoming head coach.

AFL All-Stars Set For Game

By B. F. KELLUM
HOUSTON (AP) — The American Football League all-stars wound up practice today for the annual game Saturday that will signal the end of the league's 10-year existence.

Next season the AFL becomes the American Conference of the merged AFL and National Football Leagues.

Mike Teliaferro of Boston will start at quarterback for the East in the nationally televised AstroDome contest.

John Hadl will be the West's starting quarterback.

East coach George Wilson cleared up the quarterback situation Thursday when he officially gave the starting nod to Taliaferro. All week he had been undecided between Taliaferro and Jack Kemp of Buffalo.

The league also honored its all-time heroes picked by the Pro Football Hall of Fame and rewarded the squads which will play in the all-star game.

K. S. (Bud) Adams, owner of the Houston Oilers and one of the founders of the league, passed out plaques to the all-time greats, including 11 who will participate in the all-star game and seven others who were on hand for the ceremonies.

Milt Woodward, president of the league, presented certificates to the all-star squads.

Members of the all-time team who also will participate in the all-star game include linebackers Bobby Bell, Kansas City; Nick Buoniconti, Miami; and George Webster, Houston; and Gerry Philbin, New York; cornerbacks Dave Grayson, Oakland, and Willie Brown, Denver; wide receiver Lance Alworth, San Diego; tackle Jim Tyer, Kansas City; guards Billy Shaw, Buffalo and Ed Budde, Kansas City; and center Jim Otto, Oakland.

Also honored was Weeb Ewbank, coach of the New York Jets, who was named AFL coach of the decade.

Back on the practice field following the awards ceremonies, Kemp and Taliaferro threw exceptionally well on deep passes to O. J. Simpson and Haven Moses of Buffalo as well as hitting Alvin Reed and Jim Beirne of Houston on the short-to-medium throws.

Jim Turner, New York's fine placekicker, also practiced but he indicated there were other stadiums he appreciated more than the AstroDome for his specialty.

"My left foot stops too quickly here," he said of the artificial turf. "It's like stubbing your toe—and follow through is very important in place kicking. Besides, I have to change to a different shoe and I don't like that."

"But it's better than Shea Stadium," he added. "In Shea there's a 20-mile wind on the calmest day...and the wind blows from all directions. It bothers us less because we work out there every day. But it's tricky."

Wishing Wells Show Inflation

manager of Bridal Cave at the nearby Lake of the Ozarks, said Thursday.

Bridal Cave's wishing well is cleaned out yearly of its coins and the money is put into a college scholarship fund for a Camdenton High School Graduate. Miller said among the coins recovered for 1969 there were more than four times the number of quarters and nearly twice the number of dimes as in the previous two years.

The sum collected for 1969, Miller said, was $423. Total for the previous two years was $457.05. The number of visitors to the cave was nearly the same each year, Miller added.

keep East out of the lead, for a play thru declarer's jack of hearts would be fatal if West held the ace.

Since the ace of diamonds must be driven out in any event, South began to work on that suit first. A small diamond was led to the ten and the jack was returned. West was in with the ace and he shifted to a small spade. East covered North's jack with the queen and South played the ace.

Declarer was now ready to tackle the clubs. He led the five from his hand. If West played low, it was South's intention to go up with the king, return a low club and attempt to duck the trick into West so that the suit could be established without letting East in.

However, West was on the alert and on the first club he played the jack. Declarer could not afford to duck at this point, for East could overtake the jack with the queen to return a heart. The king of clubs was played from dummy, a club was returned and East followed with the ten. South went up with the ace, cashed his diamonds and led a third club, hoping that West held the queen. East went in, however, and the heart return settled declarer's hash.

The Worry Clinic Get Attention On New Topics

Dr. David Crane faced many tragic psychiatric cases as soon as he landed in Vietnam. His first patient was the 19-year-old mentioned below. If his frightful psychic "trauma" had not been erased quickly, that soldier would have awakened from screaming nightmares all the rest of his life!

By GEORGE W. CRANE
Ph. D., M. D.

CASE L-504: When my youngest son, Dr. David G. Crane, arrived in Vietnam to serve as the psychiatrist for the 25th Infantry Division, his first case was a 19-year-old soldier.

This boy had been on guard duty one night.

A rustle in the bushes out in front alerted him to the fact that a Viet Cong foe might be ready to toss a grenade in his face.

So the American soldier pumped many rounds from his machine gun into the bushes and heard a piercing scream.

Alas, he later found out that he had almost cut his own bunkmate in half!

Thereafter he couldn't sleep for he could hear his victim's screams and visualize his pal's face. The experience was driving him mad.

So he was referred by other doctors to my son.

Our medical policy in Vietnam was to get the American soldiers back on duty within 72 hours, unless they were too seriously injured, physically or mentally.

So my son talked to him at length, reassuring him that he had acted properly and it was not his fault that American troops were out on the prowl without his being warned of that fact.

Then he gave the boy some heavy tranquilizer medication.

And within 72 hours had him back on active front line duty!

For one of the best types of mental therapy is to restore a patient to his normal activities where the new problems will force him to externalize his attention upon his present environment.

That prevents his going back in his memory to the harrowing details of the shocking scene that upset him so terribly in the past.

It is the same therapy that I have routinely urged upon you men and women who have been jilted in a love affair or who have lost your sweetheart due to an auto accident.

In such cases, I have warned you to force yourself to date other attractive members of the opposite sex.

It may require a deliberate act of your will, but if you date another person, her gay chatter and myriad questions will compel you to pay attention to the present and thus retard your slipping into the melancholic

Roundtree Will Address Meet

Benny Roundtree, a leading member of the Southern Christian Leadership Council in Greenville, will speak at the Sunday evening meeting of the Community Awareness Conference.

The meeting will be held in St. Gabriel's School Jan. 18 at 7 p.m. Questions and discussion will follow the talk. The public is invited to attend.

The Sunday evening Community Awareness Conferences are sponsored by the campus chaplains of East Carolina University.

They provide a forum where persons of position and influence in the community can discuss policies and opinions. Anyone wishing to address this group may contact one of the campus chaplains.

Offering Class In Resin Crafts

The Greenville Recreation Department will offer a class in Resin Crafts beginning Tuesday. Resin is a clear polyester product in liquid form. A catalyst is added, resulting in the liquid becoming a solid.

Instruction will be given in the creation of decorator grape clusters, napkin holders, cathedral lamps, and trivets. The cost of materials used is slightly higher than in other crafts recently offered.

Interested adults are asked to wear old clothes. For further information call the Recreation Department at 752-2355, and ask for Mrs. Linda Burrell.

In medieval times, the word "garbage" applied to a combination of chicken head, feet and innards stewed as a delicacy by creative chefs.

memories of your past disaster. "Time heals all wounds," is an old adage that is partly true. However, it really isn't "time" but the intrusion of many other interests which thus wear your attention away from the past and focus it upon the living present.

Sometimes a temporary use of tranquilizer drugs is a big aid, but hypnosis can also be invoked to help speed up the derivation of some hidden "complex."

For example, another of Dr. David Crane's patients suddenly developed a phobia against piloting his helicopter by night. He could still fly by daylight, but simply couldn't take his plane off the ground after dark.

By use of hypnosis, my son took the pilot back into his past and uncovered the shocking event therein which had caused this present phobia about night flying.

Common sense is still the best ally of all you laymen in facing your problems and analyzing your problem dilemmas.

So send for my booklet "How to Prevent Nervous Breakdowns," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 20 cents.

New Reflective Safety Items

NEW YORK (UPI)—In order to improve nighttime pedestrian safety, several manufacturing companies have introduced a new retro-reflective material. The material, which uses large numbers of tiny glass balls suspended in a plastic adhesive, is more efficient in reflecting light than the familiar prism reflector used on bicycles and at highway construction sites.

The glass ball method can be applied to many different kinds of materials. Sew-on cloth and stick-on plastic, highway signs and auto license plates are only a few examples.

Today In Washington

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
WASHINGTON (AP)—Trans World Airlines and the International Association of Machinists (AFL-CIO) have reached tentative agreement on a new three-year contract that could mean a pay hike from $4.14 to $5.62 per hour.

The agreement, reached Thursday night by negotiators for both sides who met with federal mediators, averted a strike that was scheduled for 3 a. m. today. A 30-day cooling off period following a December negotiations breakdown ended at 3 a. m. Thursday but negotiators had agreed on a 24-hour extension.

Although terms of the agreement—which must be ratified by the union's membership—were not released, it was reported the crewmen were seeking settlements similar to those of other airlines such as Northwest Airlines where mechanics will make $5.62 per hour under a new contract.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Construction workers led all industry in wage increases during 1969 with a 14 per cent increase on the first year of their contracts.

The 1969 median wage increase for all industry—manufacturing and nonmanufacturing—was 7.4 per cent, the Labor Department said Thursday. The department said major collective bargaining settlements during the year covered nearly 2.5 million workers.

Although contracts were not signed in the electrical equipment manufacturing industry and railroad shopcraft industry, key settlements in other areas brought a 10.4 per cent median first year negotiated wage hike in nonmanufacturing compared with 7.1 per cent in manufacturing industries.

To Discuss Drug Danger

"The Dangers of Drugs" will be the subject of a program at the First Presbyterian Church Sunday evening at 7:15.

A short, professionally produced film on the use of drugs and its effects, will be followed by a panel discussion of local implications of the use of drugs and narcotics.

Members of the panel will be Dr. William S. Dawson, local physician, Dr. Walter Savage, director of the Coastal Plains Mental Health Clinic, and Judge Charles H. Whedbee.

This program has been arranged by the Committee on Church and Society of Albemarle Presbytery, and seeks to bring an awareness of the widespread use of various types of drugs and narcotics and the threats this poses to the physical, mental, and moral health of the individual and society.

The program is prepared by a committee of Albemarle Presbytery for Presbyterian churches in and around Greenville and the general public is invited.

The program is planned as part of the monthly family night suppers held by the congregation of First Presbyterian Church.

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: About six months ago I met a very kind and compassionate widower who seemed very compatible as far as mutual interests are concerned. He's getting very serious, and has talked of changing my life very soon.

I want to know how much a woman should tell about her past to a very special person. I am afraid if I don't tell him everything, he might find out some day and he will be more than hurt and disappointed.

My past involves a very intimate relationship with a man who was supposed to be getting divorced, but he never was. It so happens that this former lover works for the same company as the new man in my life, but they don't know each other. Should I tell "all" and let the new man decide if he still wants me or not?

DEAR SOMETHING: If the "new" man in your life asks you pointedly if there were any other men in your life, don't lie. Say, "Yes, but that is behind me now, just as the other women in your life are behind you." Then add, "Don't ask ME any questions, and I'll not ask YOU any."

DEAR ABBY: You recently advised a young girl, whose child was being brought up by the girl's parents as her "little sister," to seek advice from her minister, lawyer or doctor, and to behave so that her child would be proud to call her "Mother."

This advice may be of some help, but it certainly is not sufficient. When a girl has a child out of wedlock only to have the child "adopted" (really "stolen") by her own parents while she continues to live in the home as if an older sister to her own child, the foundation is being laid for many serious problems later on, for both the girl and her child.

As a social worker, I have seen many a girl in such a situation deliberately get pregnant again in order to punish her parents and in order to have a child she can call her own.

I have also known youngsters who have been brought up as a "younger sister" to their own mother, only to suffer far more than the usual serious identity problems during adolescence.

My suggestion is that the girl and her parents seek professional counseling at once in order to work out, as soon as possible, an arrangement which is both honest and psychologically sound for all concerned.

DEAR J. T. C.: Thank you for your fine letter. But not everyone WILL seek "professional" counseling. I still think a good beginning is the minister, doctor, or lawyer (there are legal aspects to consider here), and if professional counseling beyond that is indicated, you can depend on the minister, doctor or lawyer to recommend it.

DEAR ABBY: Tell that service man's wife who had to put up with a demanding neighbor just to get a ride to the Community PX to get in touch with the FAMILY SERVICES at the base where she does her shopping. They will provide her with transportation. FAMILY SERVICES is a group of volunteers at each base, offering help to service families on the move, or to wives whose husbands are overseas. At some bases there are even day-care centers for children of working mothers. These volunteers rarely get the praise they richly deserve, but every service family that has received their help says a big "Thanks."

DEAR WIFE: Thanks for your suggestion. And if there is no FAMILY SERVICES at the base, I'll bet there is a RED CROSS who will also come to the aid of service men's wives without wheels.

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

For Abby's new booklet, "What Teen-Agers Want to Know," send $1 to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069.

Police Investigate 3 Wrecks Thursday

An estimated $2,500 property damage resulted yesterday in three traffic collisions investigated by Greenville police.

Heaviest damage resulted from a 7:30 p.m. collision at the intersection of Memorial Drive and Farmville Boulevard which involved vehicles drive by Johnnie Ray Fleming, 26, of 1811 Norcott Cir. and Johnny Arthur Wooten, 37, of 700 McDowell St. Wooten was charged with failing to yield the right of way in the mishap—which caused an estimated $500 damage to the Fleming vehicle and $800 damage to the Wooten car.

Sherwood House Allsbrook, 55, of 1013 Chestnut St. was charged with failing to see his intended movement could be made in safety following investigation of an 11:20 mishap at the intersection of Hooker Road and Fairlane Drive.

Officers said the Allsbrook vehicle collided with a car driven by Joseph Charles Batemen, 54, of 200 Memorial Dr. and caused an estimated $500 damage to the Allsbrook car and $400 damage to the Batemen vehicle.

Cars drive by Claxton Godfrey Stancill Jr., 33, of Route 7, Greenville and Eddie Lee Powell, 22, of 206 Ridgeway St. were involved in a 1:40 p.m. mishap on Eighth Street, 240 Feet South of the Dickinson Avenue intersection.

Police reported Powell was charged with no operators license and failing to keep a proper lookout while backing following investigation of the mishap.

Damage to the Stancill car was set at $300 while officers reported no damage resulted to the Powell vehicle.

C&D Director Backs Reforms

CONOVER, N. C. (AP)—State Conservation and Development Director Roy Sowers Thursday night strongly endorsed reforms adopted earlier this week by the state Democratic Executive Committee.

The changes were intended to give young people and Negroes a stronger voice in party affairs.

"Young people today are no longer willing to take a back seat in the decision-making processes that affect all people—young and old," Sowers told the Catawba County Young Democratic Club.

"They are demanding their rightful place at the conference tables that determine their future—and I do not blame them."

INSCRIPTION TO UNKNOWN SOLDIER

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The inscription on the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier in Arlington National Cemetery is:

Here rests in honored glory an American soldier known but to God.
