

Uniform Standards Advocated

Nixon Desegregation Views Applauded

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., D.N. C., applauded President Nixon's statement Thursday in favor of uniform school desegregation policies in the North and South, but said the President should have endorsed a freedom of choice plan for pupil assignment.

"If the President would just go back to that Charlotte speech (made during the 1968 presidential campaign) where he said he is opposed to busing, everything would be all right," he said.

While campaigning in Charlotte, Nixon said he was against busing because "I believe you pick up children who are two or three grades behind and bus them over to a school in a neighborhood and what you do is destroy their ability ever to compete."

Nixon's news secretary, Ronald Zeigler, said Thursday the President favors uniform standards and opposes busing pupils to achieve racial integration "to the maximum extent possible."

The statement followed a telephone conversation Wednesday with Rep. Charles R. Jonas-RN, C., whose district includes Charlotte, in which the GOP lawmaker asked for intervention in the Charlotte-Mecklenburg desegregation fight.

The Charlotte-Mecklenburg school system, the state's largest, is under federal court orders to implement a desegregation plan by spring which will entail widespread busing.

Jonas said in Mooresville he hoped he "had something to do" with the President's position, and was pleased with the announcement.

Gov. Bob Scott, who Wednesday had pledged to prohibit the use of state funds for busing, said he was "delighted to learn of the President's decision."

Scott had said Wednesday that had no choice but to withhold funds in light of a 1969 law which prohibits the use of state funds to finance involuntary busing.

After praising Nixon's stand, Scott a Democrat, cautioned: "One of his problems's has been that he talked a lot but without much result."

In Charlotte, white leaders praised the statement but at least one Negro leader was unhappy with it.

Kelly Alexander, state president of the NAACP, said the stand "gives comfort to the supporters of the segregationist way of life," said accused Nixon of using "Wallace rhetoric."

However, members of the Concerned Parents Association, an antibusing group which is threatening a boycott of schools, greeted the message with joy.

Thomas B. Harris, a leader of the CPA, said he hopes Nixon will show all persons that "freedom of choice is not a process of avoiding desegregation in the South, but a means of letting students decide where they will attend school."

Declares Vietnamization Is 'Working'

Laird Warns Hanoi Over Violations

By WILLIS JOHNSON
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird issued a cautious warning today to North Vietnam not to violate the understanding which resulted in the Nov. 1, 1968, bombing halt.

At an airport news conference after a three-day inspection trip to the war zone, Laird was asked if the U.S. policy of striking back at enemy forces that attack from sanctuaries outside Vietnam included the right to make air strikes on anti-aircraft positions which could fire on U.S. reconnaissance planes.

The secretary replied, "If the North Vietnamese violate the supposed understanding of more than a year ago, the consequences of their violation as it relates to the theory of protective reaction is something that they should bear in mind."

Laird refused to be more specific, and later an aide explained that U.S. officials never disclose so-called "rules of engagement" outlining military action to be taken in given circumstances.

The U.S. version of the "understanding" with North Vietnam is that Washington made clear American reconnaissance flights over the North would continue to check on possible enemy buildups. Hanoi denies there was any understanding and says American reconnaissance planes are violators of its air space and liable to be shot down.

The question was prompted by recent American air attacks on anti-aircraft positions inside North Vietnam which the U.S. Command said fired on American reconnaissance planes and their armed escorts.

Laird said earlier that "solid progress" in Vietnamization of the war will permit more American troop withdrawals despite a continuing enemy threat and lack of progress in the Paris peace talks. He warned, however, that "the road to Vietnamization will not be free of hard knocks and some disappointments."

Laird termed his tour to see how President Nixon's Vietnamization program is working "profitable." He said he had "informative and meaningful" talks with President Nguyen Van Thieu and other top South Vietnamese and U.S. officials.

But he declined to forecast when more U.S. forces might be pulled out of Vietnam. He said periodic announcements of troop withdrawals would be made by Nixon. Laird said the fact that 110,000 Americans can be withdrawn by April 15 proves that Vietnamization is working.

He said the United States and South Vietnam continue to hope for a breakthrough in the Paris peace talks. He said that in his discussions with South Vietnamese leaders they explored ways to "encourage the enemy to be more receptive to the route of peaceful negotiations in Paris."

Before the news conference, Laird took a first-hand look at Vietnamization and said he was impressed by a Vietnamese general's report of how he is reducing desertions.

Board's Reply:

Principal Fired As Incompetent

The Pitt County Board of Education, in its answer to a complaint filed in U. S. Eastern District Court last month by a former principal charging his firing was due to discrimination, said "as the petitioner well knows," his dismissal "was actually based on his incompetence and not on the basis of his race or color."

Eddie L. Smith, a Negro and former principal of the Falkland Elementary School, last month petitioned the federal court to make him party, as plaintiff, in the case of Harry Teel, et al, against the county's board of education. In that case, filed on January, 1965, the plaintiffs have sought relief against the alleged racially discriminatory practices of the defendant in the operation of the Pitt County public schools. (It is under the supervision from the court in this case that the schools have moved toward total desegregation over the past few years.)

"And in addition to a complaint charging that his firing was due to 'discrimination' and asking, 'the court to enjoin the defendant, to reinstate him in the same or comparable position and be awarded back pay and expenses,' Smith entered a Motion for Further Relief, calling for the immediate desegregation of the county's schools.

In the Board of Education's answer, filed by its attorney W. W. Speight, it contends that Smith's petition is an attempt on his part to air out a personal grievance because of his dismissal for incompetence.

"Smith," the board said, "served as principal of the completely desegregated school for a year (before his dismissal at the end of the 1968-69 school year) and was dismissed because of his incompetence and, furthermore, his replacement was and is a Negro principal."

"Obviously," the board contends, "if he had been dismissed because of his race, the Board would not have employed another Negro to replace him. Would Smith have the court reinstate him as principal when he was fired for incompetence and dismiss his replacement, also a Negro, who is competent?"

Responding to Smith's "Motion for Further Relief" asking for immediate desegregation of the schools, the Board replied that the order of the Court dated April 21, 1969, contemplated the construction of new school buildings to house all of the 3,700 high school students in Pitt in adequate new facilities.

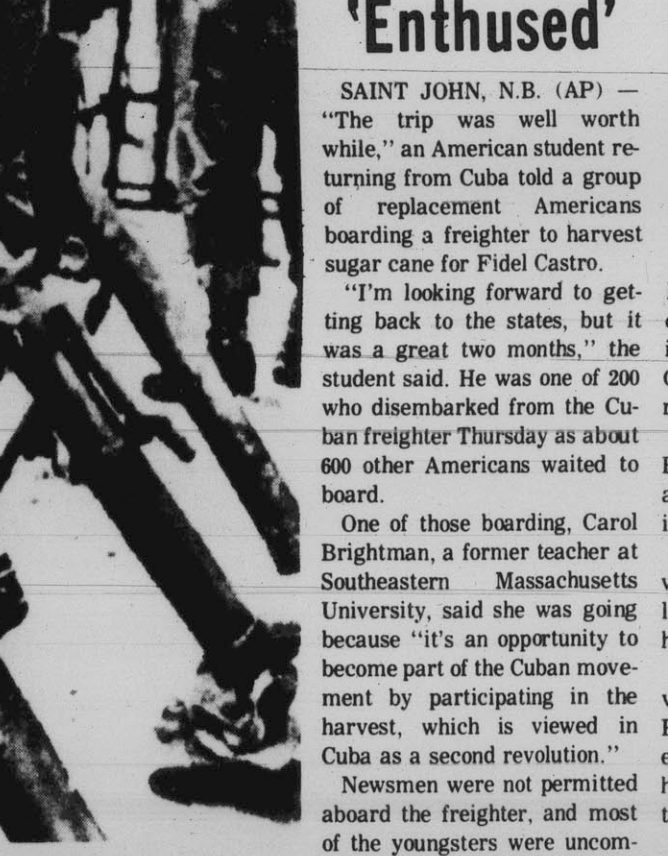

"Psychologically, this move was not only farsighted, but, in the opinion of the Pitt County Board of Education, would prevent the disruptive riots and panic that have resulted in Greenville and in other schools where members of one race have to be transferred to a building which previously housed the school children of another race."

"It is hoped," the Board's response noted, "the court still contemplates that the Desegregation Plan presently approved by the court will not be disturbed. We have four new buildings for consolidation of high schools in Pitt County that are now being constructed and can be occupied to serve all high schools in Pitt County for the year 1970-71, with some available for the opening of the school year 1970-71.

"The Board respectfully moves and urges the court not to comply with the motion for that would result in a complete disruption of the organization and administration of the Pitt County Schools for the remainder of the year. The school children themselves would be the losers as their education would certainly suffer."

Thus, according to its response, the Board of Education "prays that the petition for intervention and the relief requested in Smith's complaint be denied. In addition, the Board requested that a hearing be allowed, both on Smith's Motion of Further Relief, and his petition for intervention, at which time the board can present evidence."

According to Speight no action has been taken by the court and no date has been set for a hearing.

Agnew Raps

Shelving Of Ability

CHICAGO (AP) — Vice President Spiro T. Agnew says colleges and universities should take in students and teachers on the basis of their ability and that the idea of quota systems of admissions is "some strange madness."

Agnew addressed a $100-a-plate Lincoln Day Republican fund-raising dinner Thursday night, and much of his speech was aimed at campus dissenters, both student and faculty. But his sharpest remarks were leveled at school admissions policies.

"For those who think that there should be ethnic quotas or race quotas, or socio-economic class quotas in the admissions to colleges or universities," he said, "I would address this question: When next you are sick, do you wish to be attended by a physician who entered medical school to fill a quota or because his medical aptitude was high?"

"By some strange madness," he added, "we find the thought seriously entertained among men in responsible positions in the academy itself ... that the untrained should help choose those to be trained and that membership, whether as students or teachers, in institutions of higher learning should be determined fundamentally by considerations other than aptitude."

Returnee From Cuba 'Enthused'

SAINT JOHN, N.B. (AP) — "The trip was well worth while," an American student returning from Cuba told a group of replacement Americans boarding a freighter to harvest sugar cane for Fidel Castro.

"I'm looking forward to getting back to the states, but it was a great two months," the student said. He was one of 200 who disembarked from the Cuban freighter Thursday as about 600 other Americans waited to board.

One of those boarding, Carol Brightman, a former teacher at Southeastern Massachusetts University, said she was going because "it's an opportunity to become part of the Cuban movement by participating in the harvest, which is viewed in Cuba as a second revolution."

Newsman were not permitted aboard the freighter, and most of the youngsters were uncommunicative and kept to themselves.

Three chartered buses carrying 127 of the returning youths crossed the border at Calais, Maine Thursday night and were quickly cleared through customs. The buses were bound for San Francisco, Chicago and Washington, D.C.

The outgoing harvesters, who traveled across the United States in midwinter to assemble at Boston, were warmly dressed and heavily burdened with knapsacks and sleeping bags.

But the returning travelers, lightly clad for their work in Cuba's warm climate, shivered in New Brunswick's cold. They said the freighter, the Luis Arcos Bergnes, rode out a heavy sleet and snowstorm on its way into Saint John.

Paper Reports

Pres. Nixon May Intervene

COLUMBIA (AP) — The Columbia State reports in today's editions that the Nixon administration may intervene in the Charlotte, N. C., school desegregation case.

The newspaper's Washington Bureau quoted an unidentified administration source as saying: "I believe the administration will involve itself in the Charlotte case. The only question is how we will become involved."

The dispatch said the intervention may come because President Nixon feels the Southern school desegregation matter has reached "crisis proportions."

Charlotte officials claim it would cost more than $4 million for in new buses to transport the more than 12,500 children under a desegregation plan ordered by the federal courts.

The newspaper quoted its source as saying that "the president has been totally briefed on the subject and he considers what's going on in the South a crisis."

The paper reported that Rep. Charles Raper Jonas, R-N. C., has briefed Nixon on the problem.

The story said the administration is considering going into court "as a friend of the people."

"We want to avoid crisis and confrontation and hurting public education," it quoted the administration source.

The report followed President Nixon's stand for a uniform nationwide school desegregation, and against compulsory busing to bring it about.

The paper also reported that the White House may announce over the weekend the composition of Vice President Spiro Agnew's cabinet level committee to study the desegregation problem in the South.

Sources said that South Carolina's Harry Dent, the principal political aide to Nixon, will be on the committee, according to the dispatch.

The paper quoted another administration source as saying the role of the committee will be to "have some beneficial effect on the courts."

"There is unanimous opinion among the committee members that the South is faced with a serious problem and that something must be done," the source was quoted as saying.

Everett Addresses Meeting Of Pitt County GOP

By TOM BAINES
Reflector Staff Writer

"Opportunity is here for the Republicans as it never has been before," Congressional candidate R. Frank Everett of Robersonville told those attending the Pitt County GOP meeting last night at the courthouse.

Speaking briefly after winding up a "whirlwind" visit to several Eastern North Carolina towns, Everett promised, "If you send me to Washington, you'll hear from me."

A former Democratic representative to the North Carolina General Assembly, Everett announced his candidacy yesterday for the House seat now occupied by Jones and followed his Raleigh news conference with brief visits by plane to Kinston, New Bern, Washington, Elizabeth City, Ahoskie and Greenville, to meet with GOP supporters.

Following Everett's remarks last night, the delegation approved by acclamation a slate of officers to serve the Pitt Republican Party for a one year term.

Selected previously by nominating committee and approved by vote last night were: Frank Steinbeck, chairman; Jackie McAlpine, vice chairman; Joan Hooper, secretary, and Herb Lee, treasurer.

Also elected last night were members of the party executive committee to include: Irma Carson, James Keel, Dick Greene, Sam Sewall, John Behr, Dr. John East, Henry Smith, Bart Reilly, Bill Dansey, Tom Herndon, Ken McAlpine, Mildred York, Mary Ann Manning, Jerry Sutherland and Bill Cuthrell.

The president and vice president of the East Carolina University Young Republican Club, John Dixon and Robert Griffin, were also named to serve on the party executive committee.

Capt. Wayne McHargue, commanding officer of the Pitt County unit of the Salvation Army for the past four years, has been assigned to the Divisional Headquarters of the Army in Richmond Va.

Capt. McHargue will assume his new duties March 4. No replacement has been named for the local Salvation Army post, he explained.

During his service here in the Salvation has been able to cancel all indebtedness from the building program, and has established a Service Unit in Farmville for better service to that area of the county.

While in Greenville, Capt. McHargue has served as secretary, vice-president and president of the Greenville Ministerial Association, has served on the Citizens Advisory Council and has been a member of the Greenville Rotary Club and Crown Point Masonic Lodge.

His new duties with the Divisional Headquarters will place him in charge of the Salvation Army youth program throughout Virginia and Southern West Virginia. He grew up in Anderson, S.C.

ANGEL FLIGHT MEMBER... Mary Taylor selects the ensemble she will model in the fashion show scheduled for Monday night.

Angel Flight Sponsors Spring Fashion Show

"Pleasant Valley Monday" will be the theme of a spring fashion show to be sponsored by the Angel Flight of East Carolina University on Monday night, Feb. 16.

The show will be held in Wright Auditorium beginning at 8 o'clock.

Fashions will range from swim suits to formal attire. Emphasis will be on the coordinated look with total ensemble outfits being modeled.

Serving as models will be Angel Flight members Mary Taylor, Sonya Boyd, Marcia Pierce, Jenny Leggett, Hope Denmark, Lee Williamson and Nancy Dean.

The show is an effort to raise money for the group's activities for underprivileged children. Funds will also be used to send representatives to the national convocation this spring in California and to purchase uniforms for the new pledges.

Miss Sandy Long is chairman for the event.

Among the notables expected to attend the showing are the former Miss North Carolina, Anita Johnson, and Miss Greenville 1970, Helen Parker.

Tickets may be purchased at the door, from any Angel Flight member or from participating merchants in downtown Greenville. The fashion show is open to the public.

The Angel Flight was affiliated in 1960 with the National Angel Flight as an honorary organization dedicated to serving the interests of the Air Force ROTC Unit on campus.

The Angels are mainly a service organization and frequently volunteer their efforts to aid both the university and Greenville projects.

Bible Lesson Given Patient Circle Members

William Zackman gave the Bible lesson at the meeting of The Patient Circle of The King's Daughters and Sons on Tuesday evening.

He told the story of Elisha and Elijah taken from the Second Book of Kings.

During the business session, presided over by Mrs. Cora Powell, committee reports were given. More stress will be placed on Social Service work for the coming year. Mrs. Luther Moore serves as Social Service Chairman.

Progress is being made in the Building Fund for a Home for the aged. Miss Martha Lee Cowell, treasurer of the Building Fund, reported a gift of $5,000 to the circle, provided the home is started by 1973.

Year Books were distributed. It was announced that The North Carolina Branch of The King's Daughters and Sons has raised and donated $885 toward an organ for Samarcand Chapel.

Mrs. William Zachman was welcomed as a guest.

During the fellowship hour, the hostesses, Mrs. Harvey Turnage, Mrs. Clara Moye Shackell and Mrs. Powell, served refreshments.

(Allover Lace)

Have you often read, "The bride's gown was of re-embroidered lace", and wondered just what the term meant? So much lace is being used these days. So many types (each with distinct characteristics) are being made, that bewilderment is unavoidable.

All lace of the allover type has a pattern. The pattern may be connected as in Valenciennes (Val) lace, resembling a print which is not clearly defined. Other patterns, such as Duchesse may be clearly defined and run the length or the width of the material, lending themselves admirably for edging sleeves and neckline of a lace dress. Many dresses are made from Re-embroidered lace, which is quite expensive since the design is emphasized by cording added after the lace is finished. It is constructed from cotton fibers.

Counseling Is Really Needed

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My New Year really started off well! New Year's Eve my boyfriend admitted to me that another girl is going to have his baby in about five months. We tried to break up because of this but we just couldn't. John (not his real name) and I love each other too much, Abby. We've gone steady nearly a whole year. John said he ran into this old girl friend of his a few months back and they both had too much to drink, and it just happened. He says she doesn't mean anything to him anymore, and she knows it. Now John tells me that this girl plans to give up the baby for adoption, and, Abby, I want it! It's John's baby, and we planned to be married next year, but if we could adopt this baby, we'd get married sooner. John is all for the idea. The girl says it doesn't matter to her who gets the baby as long as she's giving it up. John would pay all her expenses. What do you think?

DEAR GIRL: How old are you? And how old is John? Have you discussed this with your parents? And with John's? Is the girl mature and stable enough to let you adopt the child without causing trouble later? You had better get some counseling from your local clergyman, or from someone who sees the total picture clearly and objectively before making such an important decision. Good luck.

DEAR ABBY: In his explanation of the derivation of the word "cop" [slang for police officer] your correspondent made an error. He stated that "cop" came from the Latin word "capare."

There is no such word in Latin. However, there is a word, "capare," a verb of the third conjugation which means to seize or to capture. Perhaps that is what he meant.

LATIN TEACHER

DEAR TEACHER: Thank you [and many, many others] for pointing this out. Latin may be a "dead" language, but there are plenty of living Latin scholars.

DEAR ABBY: My sister became disenchanted with her husband of nearly 10 years, and confided in me that she was going to get a divorce. She complained that her husband was dull, never sent her flowers, never said, "I love you," and had a nasty disposition. I am quite sure she is correct on all four counts, but in his defense I must say that he was not a drinker or gambler, and he didn't chase women. He provided her with a de luxe apartment and the best of everything. She contacted an attorney who advised her to snatch the furniture while her husband was at work, and since their savings were in both names, she should draw out all the money, which I'm sure runs into a considerable sum. My question: Would a reputable attorney give such advice, and would a decent woman do this sort of thing?

JUST ASKING

DEAR JUST: In my opinion, no reputable attorney would give such advice, and no decent woman would do this sort of thing. Furthermore, the wife's "possession" of the furniture and money would not confirm her right to it.

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69706, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

Greene Gets N.C. Grant

SNOW HILL — J. Roy Vandiford, chairman of the Greene County Board of Commissioners announced today that the Neuse River Regional Planning and Development Council had obtained a $11,480 grant for Greene County from the Governor's Committee on Law and Order.

Funds from the grant will allow the Greene County Sheriffs Department to hire an additional deputy, purchase four patrol cars, increase the salary of four deputies by $1,000, Vandiford said.

The purpose of the Governor's Committee on Law and Order Program is to encourage local government units to prepare and adopt comprehensive plans based on evaluation of local law enforcement problems and needs and to authorize grants to units of local government in order to improve and strengthen law enforcement. The committee also encourages research and development directed toward the improvement of law enforcement.

Additional grants for Greene County, Snow Hill and Hookerton, Vandiford said, will be announced later. The funds will be used for purchasing standard operating equipment, training and communications.

Pink Petunia Planter Probes To Be Explosive

CHINA LAKE, Calif. (AP) — The China Lake Naval Ordnance Test Station, a desert facility dedicated to sophisticated weaponry, has a new project: a pink petunia planter.

It's destined for Beverly Duval of San Bernardino, 80 miles south of here.

Mrs. Duval's daughter, after an outing at a beach, hauled home a 100-pound "piece of junk." Her mother decided to paint it pink and use it as a petunia planter.

Just in time, she learned from watching television that dangerous explosives sometimes wash ashore during Navy maneuvers. She called an expert, who confirmed that it was a depth charge loaded with explosives.

The Navy rushed to her home, brought it here and planned to blow it up.

Citizens Can Stop Vandalism

It does little good to appeal to vandals who shoot out street lights in whole areas of the city. Obviously these irresponsible people could care less as to what their acts cost the taxpayers in outright cash. Nor are they particularly concerned about the inconvenience or the danger their vandalism creates for the people living in the affected areas.

Yet, like so many cities these days, Greenville has its share of problems with punks who think it is great fun to shoot out street lights and, of course, the city is seeking an answer to the problem.

City Manager Harry Hagerty reported that on Feb. 9 a large number of light fixtures had been destroyed, either by gun shots or by stones.

He noted that on one day many lights were reported out on Sixth, Hudson, Davenport, Cadillac, Nash, Tyson, Bancroft and Stutz Streets.

Bulbs run from $1.50 to $7.50 with some types running as high as $25. Added to this is an estimated cost of $4 for the crew and truck to replace each light.

The city is beginning a campaign to crack down on vandals who willfully destroy street lights. Such a campaign will not succeed, however, unless each citizen takes it upon himself to report any vandalism he observes. Since the street lights are there for the surrounding areas it is to the benefit of every citizen to report it when a street light is shot out.

Willful destruction of street lights, as all vandalism, can be stopped only when all citizens recognize that the property being destroyed belongs to them and report such incidents.

No Question Now But President Thinks Big

If there is any doubt that President Nixon is thinking big, the news that he is preparing a "State of the World Report" should dispell it.

The Associated Press reported that Nixon was at his Key Biscayne home for a brief vacation and was working on the book-size effort.

The first of an annual foreign policy report is to be sent to Congress next Wednesday.

We can understand why the report is book sized, considering the subject. And if things keep going as they are, in a few years several volumes won't do it.

Harris Pushed By HHH Men

By ROWLANDE EVANS and ROBERT NOVAK

WASHINGTON — Having deftly engineered the exit of Sen. Fred Harris as Democratic National Chairman, the political operatives of Hubert H. Humphrey immediately began seeking a successor who would bear not the slightest similarity to the departed party leader.

Although the timing of Harris's resignation last Friday was a surprise to the Humphrey men, they had been quietly pushing for him to go and were certain that he would, sooner or later. Thus, they were promptly on the telephone last weekend testing the availability of possible replacements.

Those calls revealed what the Humphreyites want as National Chairman. Unlike Harris, he would (1) have to devote full time to the party job, (2) have to be free of personal ambition for public office, and (3) be essentially a technician rather than a policy-maker.

Thus, one of the first calls went out to Lawrence F. O'Brien, the party's universally respected professional and National Chairman during the 1968 campaign. O'Brien, who has just opened his own public relations firm in New York, was noncommittal and probably would return to the chairmanship only if absolutely convinced that there was no alternative choice.

If O'Brien turns down the offer, however, the Humphrey camp is not committed to a big name and, indeed, is positively interested in a fresh face. For instance, James Wimmer, 35, Wisconsin state Democratic chairman and an absolute unknown nationally, was flabbergasted on Sunday afternoon when he received a telephone call from Humphrey aide William Connell. Would Wimmer, asked Connell, be interested in the national chairmanship? The reply was not in the negative.

The fact that the search for the man to shoulder the party's $8 million debt and decrepit organization could seriously turn to an anonymous, apparently non-ideological technician is a sign of Humphrey's full repudiation of his selection a year ago of glib, publicity-minded Harris to become National Chairman.

That decision was made by Humphrey against the advice of O'Brien and most other party pros, who preferred former Gov. Terry Sanford of North Carolina (now out of politics as president of Duke University). But Humphrey, having turned down Harris for Vice President, could not spurn his pleas to be chairman. It was a decision Humphrey regretted almost immediately.

Seeking to appease dissident anti-Humphrey elements in the party, Harris moved leftward—at the cost of support from more conservative elements whose financial backing was essential to reduce the staggering campaign debt. By the fall of 1969, Humphrey and his closest political supporters grimly concluded that Harris as National Chairman had been a horrible mistake.

Accordingly, Humphrey a month ago told a small circle of close political associates that Harris could not wear the two hats of Senator and National Chairman and, for his own sake as well as the party's, should resign. That conclusion was discreetly but firmly relayed to Harris, and the Humphrey camp was dead certain he would soon be gone.

For his part, Harris responded with some of the misdirection that characterized his term at national headquarters. In private, he ridiculed Humphrey's own hopes for a second shot at the Presidency and, with considerable justification, criticized Humphrey's lack of help in reducing his 1968 campaign debt. In response to questions from newsmen, he asserted he would stay as National Chairman at least through the 1970 elections. He even made that promise to one skilled party technician he was recruiting for the committee's staff.

Nobody knows whether Harris was serious about holding out all year or was merely stalling until after the Feb. 5 fund-raising gala in Miami Beach. But his departure was assured as early as Jan. 25 when Humphrey appeared on ABC's "Issues and Answers." Asked about an erroneous published report that he and Lyndon B. Johnson had discussed removing Harris, Humphrey replied lamely: "Not to my recollection." When he read the transcript, Harris was furious.

Strength For Today

Mind and Heart In Religion

There is a deepening need today for more definite religious belief. Few people know what they believe about Christian truth. Ask the average church member about what he believes, and except for a few homemade aphorisms which have emerged from the more or less tumultuous experiences of life, a few little practical rules-of-thumb, he has little to offer. In learned circles, religious thinkers seem anxious above all things to be considered intellectually respectable. There are styles in thinking as there are styles in hats, and many religious thinkers today are as fearful of being considered intellectually out of style as a woman is of wearing a hat five years old.

Reporter With A Badge

WASHINGTON — Atty. Gen. John Mitchell backtracked slightly last week in the Justice Department's desire to use TV, magazine and newspaper reporters as deputies in the fight against crime. Before the attorney general's statement, the Justice Department was handing out blanket subpoenas demanding that the networks, TV stations, magazines and newspapers turn over their unused film, photographs and even newspaper reporters' notebooks to be used as evidence in court.

While the news media feel threatened by such a policy, I don't know one reporter or commentator who wouldn't enjoy being an informer or a stool pigeon.

I can see the day when the news media would serve two masters with pride as well as efficiency.

"Hello, Jordan, Kelly here. There's been a bank robbery at Fifth and Maple. Three masked men got away with $500,000."

"Great, Kelly, give me the facts."

"I don't have them."

ART BUCHWALD

"What do you mean you don't have them?"

"The cops subpoenaed my notebook."

"Well, just tell me what happened."

"I can't. The FBI said I couldn't talk about the case."

"Look, Kelly, I didn't send you out to cover a story so you'd keep your mouth shut. This is news."

"I told that to the deputy attorney general, but he said when three people are kidnapped in a bank robbery, my first obligation is to the courts."

"Three people were kidnapped?"

"I wasn't supposed to tell you that. If you print it, I'll be held in contempt."

"Good grief, Kelly, your loyalties are to the paper. What happened?"

"It's no good, Jordan. Even if I told you the bank manger's wife's boyfriend is believed to have engineered the robbery, I'd be in dutch."

"The boyfriend of the bank manager's wife?"

"Yah. Jerry got a great photo of him coming out of the bank with the money in one hand and the wife of the bank manager on his other arm. They escaped on top of a Greyhound bus."

"Jerry got a picture of that?"

Office Secret Aired

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — For years, like most patients, I had idly wondered while sitting in the waiting rooms of doctors and dentists why they were stocked with old magazines from three months to 50 years out-of-date.

There must be some reason that current issues of any periodical were rarely, if ever, available. I decided to find out why.

After consulting the musty

and dusty dens of several magazine dealers, I was referred to a Mr. Irving F. Teetlebaum, whose shop was in a third-floor walkup near Times Square.

"Mr. Teetlebaum," I said, "I understand you are a specialist dealing in back issues of magazines to be sold to doctors and dentists."

"I'm the biggest in the world," he said. "Tell me how big your office is and I'll tell you how many you need."

Teetlebaum looked bitterly disappointed when I told him I was no customer but merely wanted to know why doctors and dentists keep old rather than new magazines in their anterooms.

"If they kept new magazines, their patients would steal them," he said. "And doctors and dentists are like everyone else—they have a distinct aversion to giving away something for nothing."

The explanation was so obvious that I felt let down. Then I noticed his face wore a crafty expression. Suddenly I reached out and grasped him by the throat.

"Teetlebaum, you're lying. I shall not release you until you tell me the full truth."

"All right," he said, as I let up a big on my grasp to permit him to talk. "I'll do it, even though it will ruin me. But as I was going to retire next month anyway, I might as well tell you the secret."

"Go on."

"Well, the real reason doctors and dentists keep only old magazines around is because it saves them from embarrassment."

"Why is that, old man?"

"The new magazines have articles about the latest drugs and newest medical treatments, things a busy doctor hasn't yet had time to find out about. If a patient starts asking the doctor about them, he doesn't know what the patient is talking about. That doesn't make him look so good."

"On the other hand, if the patient has read a health article in a magazine 10 years or more old, the doctor or dentist isn't so likely to be surprised by the information in it. Most medical men, however, prefer magazines from 20 to 50 years out of date."

"Where do you get most of these magazines?"

"Some come from the cornerstones of old buildings being torn down. But most of them I buy from old doctors when they quit their practice. Those most in demand are back copies of the National Geographic. Most health articles it carries are

Other Editors Say Wise Investment

(Rocky Mount Telegram)
You hear a lot of complaints from people who resent the space program because they believe it takes large amounts of funds that could be used for programs on earth, such as slum clearance, anti-pollution work and the like. Well, this is a common fallacy that ought to be put to rest.

Landing men on the moon was not simply a costly stunt wholly unrelated to earthly well-being. As Robert Anderson, executive vice president of the North American Rockwell Corporation, declared recently: "Space activities are not competing with programs of ecological importance or social betterment. They are actually complementing them."

"The sweeping scope of space technology will be felt more and more in the vast programs being planned to change the course of rivers and the flow of electricity over thousands of miles. It will reach into the purification of our waters and the desalting of the sea. It will have a bearing on the revitalization of our earth transportation system, and it will have a great influence in the field of medicine."

Other direct beneficiaries of continuing advances in space will be urban affairs, education, law enforcement and city planning.

Again in the words of Anderson: "We are in considerable trouble today. That trouble could be compounded as our technological society advances toward the year 2000 if we do not make use of the extraordinary new tools that are now within our grasp."

What tools? These new tools are largely a by-product of the space program. They are the keys to the apparently insoluble riddle of an over-populated earth. The billions of dollars that have been spent on research and development of space technology could one day be recorded as the wisest public investment this nation ever made.

Reform Power In Tax Powers

By ELMER ROESSNER
Some glorious day some national leader might consider proposing a new amendment to the United States Constitution to the effect that:

"Congress nor any state or subdivision shall impose any tax except for the purpose of raising funds for the operation of government and national defense."

Once passed, it would provide a new era of freedom for the people.

Under present techniques of government, taxes are being used to reform the people: to keep them righteous, moral, disciplined; to redistribute the wealth; to strengthen whatever party is in power—in short, to make Uncle Sam into Big Brother Sam.

Behave Or Pay

Some of the heaviest taxes are levied on alcoholic beverages and cigarettes. They raise money, to be sure. But the basic reason that bourbon is taxed more heavily than soda pop, and tobacco cigarettes more heavily than cubed cigarettes is that lawmakers want to save people from themselves. For instance, as has been pointed out frequently, Congress has imposed much heavier taxes on champagne than on still wines because somebody once drank champagne out of a chorus girl's slipper.

Mark this: Before it is declared whether marijuana is really harmful, somebody is going to propose that it be legalized and taxed. A tax of, say, $1 a pot cigarette would raise a lot of money but it would also tend to discourage the use of grass.

Taxes are also used to subsidize religion, contrary to another part of the Constitution. This is done by exempting religious and charitable organizations from taxes, despite the fact that they get police, fire, and other services—including protection from Black Panthers—that the rest of the people pay billions of dollars a year to support.

Our income taxes at all levels of government are based upon the Marxist doctrine of "from each according to his means, to each according to his needs." Have you ever wondered what typist in Washington or what little family on welfare you are supporting?

This system is never called "socialist" or "communist," which it is, but "progressive," which is much more palatable to the people.

Progressive" taxes have not reached the point where they discourage people from working, although it can be demonstrated that if a man has a good income it doesn't pay his wife to work. A worse evil may be the fact that it has created a class of tax avoiders, who have used lobbyists, friendly and often wealthy legislators, and contributions to political parties in power to chisel loopholes in taxlaws.

Taxes have been imposed or remitted for other purposes: to restrict travel, to encourage drilling for oil and minerals, to provide jobs for the politically successful and their relatives, to discourage people from saving (by taxes on bank interest) while the government is trying to get them to save more, and to regulate the intimate details of citizen's lives.

Scout-o-Rama Opens Here Saturday Afternoon

By JERRY RAYNOR
Reflector Staff Writer

Scout-O-Rama 1970 will open in Greenville at 12:45 p.m. Saturday at the Memorial Gymnasium on East Carolina University Campus, as Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts, Explorer Scouts and members of the Order of the Arrow converge here for a day of scouting festivities.

George Evans, general chairman for Scout-O-Rama, outlined a number of plans and events which are scheduled to show the accomplishments of the nearly 1,200 scouts of all categories represented in the Pitt District of the East Carolina Council.

Rev. House says that in addition to a representative from the governor's office, Mayor Frank Wooten, City Councilmen and a number of other local officials have stated they will be on hand for the formal opening.

The actual events being long before the official opening ceremony, however, as activities both inside and outside the gymnasium get underway at 9 a.m. and continue until the 8 p.m. closing hour.

The public will be able to see the events planned by the Scouts, as admission is open by the purchase of tickets at $1 each (which includes admission for a family or a single individual).

Among the highlight events will be approximately 40 individual pack, troop or unit booths which will be manned by scouts. Each will feature a living show every hour on the hour, with Scouts in full uniform and decorations participating in their particular skit or demonstration.

The Pinewood Derby, a special event by the Cub Scouts, is expected to draw considerable attention. The youngsters will compete in a continuous derby, with each cub racing in his own pine auto which he has made himself.

Another feature will be the four mile relay race to be held during the day.

Groups from Grimesland will conduct a series of water safety and rescue techniques in the pool of the gym.

It has been announced that beginning at 5 p.m. today, the Tenth Street entrance to the parking lot in front of the Memorial Gym will be closed to traffic and will remain blocked off until the close of the show at 8 p.m. Saturday.

To head up various divisions under Evans, a number of Greenville and Pitt County citizens were appointed in special fields to lend assistance in formulating plans. Among these are: Frank W. Saunders, Supporting Services; Harold Bowers, Physical Arrangements; Dr. Herbert Hadley, Health and Safety; Promotion and publicity vice-chairman are: Norfleet Sugg, Garland F. Buck, J. Fred Baumann and Dr. J.E. Clement. In the production part of the program, Samuel A. Sewall, Jesse Jones, Henry H. Flake and J. Knott Proctor, Jr., were selected vice-chairmen.

Each community area in the county had one or more representative staff assistants selected to help plan and coordinate the Scout-O-Rama. These assistants and their areas are: Ayden - Charles T. Dunn; Belvoir - Eugene James; Bethel - Dalton Perry and Joe Honeycutt; Farmville - William A. Brady; Grifton - Tobias S.J. Casoli; Grimesland - Robert L. Wilson; Stokes - J. Beverly Congleton, Jr.; Winterville - Walter Dail, Jr.; and Greenville - Donald B. Jeffreys, Clark Mills and Robert L. Mosley.

License Tag Sales Described 'Steady'

License plate sales are "steady" in both Greenville and Farmville, according to agents, Mrs. Anna Garris and Mrs. Darius White.

Mrs. Garris said lines at Home and Auto Supply here, where she sells the state auto licenses, have not become long yet, but that buyers are keeping her and other sales persons busy. Sales are a little ahead of last year at this time, she said.

According to Mrs. White, who sells tags at Whites' Auto Store in Farmville, sales have picked up considerably there since last Friday, but they are running about equal to those of last year at this time.

The number of sold so far for each type of vehicle is as follows: 5,500 cars; 17 motorcycles; 910 private trucks; 365 farm trucks; and 780 trailers. Some 72 transfers have been registered and 73 plates have been returned.

The deadline for displaying this year's plates has been postponed until Monday at midnight since the usual deadline, February 15, falls on Sunday.

All during the day, judges will be on hand to award points to Scouts for their displays and degree of efficiency in their events.

At 7:00 p.m. the results of the judging will be made known, and awards announced and presented by J. Knott Proctor, Jr., who is in charge of the judging and awards program.

Absenteeism Rate At School Lower

Assistant Principal Truxton Whitney of Rose High School reports "attendance has been very good at Rose all week. With the absentee rate each day this week under 100, we are approaching a normally acceptable absentee rate."

"This is particularly good for this time of year, when you consider that usually the absentee rate is highest at this time due to colds and minor illnesses."

absent.

"I want to say that in 99 percent of all our contacts, the cooperation and appreciation expressed by the parents relative to our efforts has been truly superb."

According to Whitney, the school is averaging 40 to 50 contacts daily, through telephone calls and letters to parents, in checks made on students absent from school.

"Where are the photos?"

"The cops took them as evidence. They also arrested Jerry for being at the scene of a crime. I would have gone to his aid, but I heard over the police radio that the Greyhound bus had been stopped at a roadblock, so I rushed over there just as the cops were climbing on the bus to make the arrests."

"They got the people who heisted the bank?"

"Can't tell you that."

"Kelly, please, Kelly. We go to press in an hour. Were they arrested?"

"I'm not at liberty to divulge any facts other than to say that the explosions I heard going on for over an hour did not come from the exhaust pipe of the bus."

"For God's sake, Kelly, give me anything—the name of the bank—anything."

"I'm sorry, Jordan, I probably should not even have called in."

"Where the devil are you?"

"Down here at the Justice Department. They let me make one phone call."

"Have you been arrested, too?"

"Not exactly, but the Justice Department said that without influencing what I wrote they were holding me as a material witness until the final edition of our paper hits the stand."

"I'll get you out, Kelly."

"I might as well stay here. I have to testify in the Morgan hijacking case that I covered for you last week."

Marine Seeking Sheriff Office

GASTONIA, N.C. (AP) — A 20-year veteran of the Marine Corps has decided to run for sheriff of Gaston County while serving in Vietnam.

Sgt. C.W. Waldrep, who leaves for a second tour in Vietnam Monday, has been a recruiting sergeant in Gastonia for two years.

While he's in Vietnam, campaign work will be done by his wife and four children and the Republican party.

In case he wins, Waldrep will retire from the Marines in November.

He is opposed by Dwight Beam, a Democrat who has been sheriff for 16 years.

Large Narcotics Supply Seized

NEW YORK (AP) — Heroin and cocaine worth $9 million retail were seized from three persons arrested Thursday, Queens Dist. atty. Thomas J. Mackell said today.

He said the drugs, seized at a Manhattan apartment and two in Queens, were believed to have come from France. The nine kilograms of heroin and five kilograms of cocaine could be sold for $9,150,000 on the street after being cut and prepared, Mackell said. A kilogram is 2.2 pounds.

Mackell said $12,500 in cash also was seized.

The nation's leading cotton producing state is Texas. Mississippi and California share second place honors.

West chose to ignore his partner's overcall in hearts, and selected the king of diamonds instead as his opening lead against South's four spade contract. East followed with the deuce and, when the king held the trick, West continued with a small diamond. East was in with the ace and he shifted to the king of hearts which was won in dummy.

South correctly diagnosed that from East's failure to continue diamonds, that he was out of the suit which made it appear likely that he had length in both hearts and clubs. Declarer accordingly decided to see if some pressure could be applied in that direction. His first step was to ruff a heart in his hand. Next came the ace of spades and a spade to the jack. When everyone followed, South was in position to ruff another heart removing West's last card in that suit.

Declarer now played his last trump. East still had two hearts left in addition to his original club holding, and he was able to discard a heart safely, retaining the queen as protection against North's ten of hearts. When the clubs failed to break, declarer fell one trick short of his goal.

South made his mistake relatively early in the play. After winning East's heart shift at trick three with dummy's ace, it was all right to ruff a heart in his hand, but he should take this opportunity to concede another diamond trick to West. East will be forced to make an immediate discard, presumably a small heart. When South plays off his last trump subsequently, East is down to one heart and four clubs and is unable to defend. If he throws the queen of hearts, North's ten becomes established. If he discards a club instead, South will be able to win four clubs.

PEARLS and oyster shells

A pearl is a thing of beauty—iridescent—a precious gem. An oyster shell is rather ugly—a remnant of a marine mollusk much esteemed as a delicacy. And yet both are built of identical shell-producing cells.

It is happenstance that causes tiny parasites or grains of sand to penetrate the oyster, severing the shell-producing cells and carrying them deep into the oyster to form perfect pearls.

It is no accident that some men from poor beginnings have become great leaders, statesmen or educators. Others from identical surroundings live out their lives in poverty and despair.

The difference is integrity and a yearning for excellence in every part of life—that love of God that illumines and elevates.

Your church can help you to make the most of your life. As you grow to understand God as a part of any real achievement, strength and vitality and joy will enrich your days.

Extra Day To Get Tag

Greenville residents who have not purchased 1970 city registration plates for their cars will have an additional 24 hours in which to buy their tags, according to an announcement by Police Chief T.E. Gladson.

According to the police officials, Greenville officers will begin enforcing the city ordinance which requires that vehicles garaged in the city be registered, at midnight February 16. That same time has been set by the State of North Carolina as the deadline for displaying North Carolina registration plates. The midnight February 15 deadline normally observed has been postponed by the State and the city, Chief Gladson noted, because the 15th is on Sunday, thus giving car owners an extra day to purchase plates.

Drivers not displaying 1970 city and state registration plates on their vehicles after the midnight Monday deadline will be subject to court action, he emphasized.

Charge Driver

In Car Collision

Walter Franklin Yarrell, 27-year-old Negro of Route 4, Greenville was charged with failing to reduce his speed enough to avoid an accident yesterday following investigation of a 5 p.m. mishap on Greene Street, 250 feet North of the First Street intersection.

Officers said the Yarrell vehicle collided with a car driven by James Henry Hardy Jr., 54, of 108 Ashton Dr.

Damage was set at $400 to the Yarrell car and $175 to the Hardy vehicle.

Decides Against Any Separatism

NEW YORK (AP) — Charles Evers, a Negro and mayor of Fayette, Miss., says he has refused an invitation to address an all-black gathering and will never again address any audience from which members of other races were excluded.

"I'm not going to be part of any group that believes in separatism," he said Thursday, "and I hope my black brothers will understand me."

He said the decision was based on his belief in the cause of racial integration. He did not specify who had issued the spurned invitation.

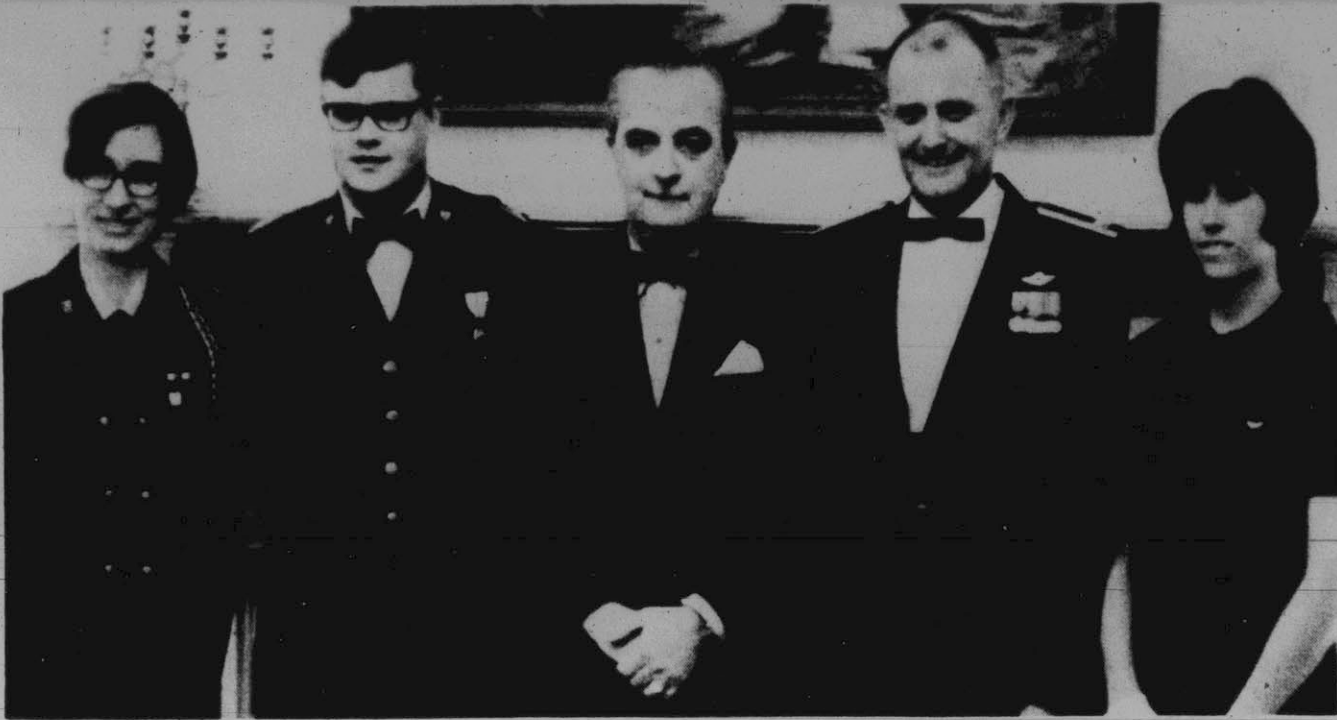

He spoke on the WOR Radio program "Martha Deane Show."

Robbers Entered

Wrong House

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Police say robbers who thought they were in the home of actor Charlton Heston hit a neighbor's home, where they tied up two children and a woman they kept calling "Mrs. Heston."

The neighboring home was that of William Isaac, a building contractor, whose wife and two children were tied with rope by two men who took more than $15,000 in money and jewelry Thursday and fled.

AT DINNER — East Carolina University's Air Force ROTC held its annual dining-in here Thursday night, hosting as guest speaker ECU President Leo W. Jenkins. The formal military affair, an Air Force tradition since World War II, was preceded by a reception at the Jenkins home. Shown here are ECU's first female cadet,

TV Programs On Estate Planning Begin Saturday

WASHINGTON — A special series of three, thirty-minute television programs on real estate planning is being presented by television station WITN-TV Channel 7, in cooperation with the North Carolina Agricultural Service and North Carolina State University at Raleigh.

The programs, to be seen on three succeeding Saturday, February 14, 21 and 28, will be aired from 1:00 to 1:30 p.m.

Tomorrow's program, the first, will deal with the subject "Why Make A Will?" The following Saturday, February 21, the topic will be "Property Transfer Methods"; and the final program covers "Estate Settlement and Death Taxes."

Hosts for the program will be D.G. Harwood, Jr. and R.C. Wells, extension economists and farm management; and Mrs. Justine Rozier, home management specialist, N.C. State University at Raleigh.

Big Ink Spot On Chicago Street

CHICAGO (AP) — What was really needed after a three-truck pileup on the Dan Ryan expressway was a huge blotter. But nobody had one, so police called the fire department.

Firemen responded and washed a 120-gallon black ink spot from the pavement, spilled there from one of the three trucks.

No one was injured seriously in the accident Thursday.

Arrest Boy For Local Break-In

A 13-year-old Negro was charged with breaking, entering and larceny by police yesterday after allegedly breaking through a rear door at 1022 Fleming St. and taking some jewelry and 50-cents in change.

The incident occurred between 10:30 a.m. and 1 p.m. police said. They recovered the jewelry and change.

HAM Radio Film Will Be Seen On TV Sunday

The Brightleaf Amateur Radio Club of Greenville was able to obtain the color film produced by the American Radio Relay League, the national association of radio amateurs, for a premiere showing. The new film is entitled "THE HAM'S WIDE WORLD", and will be featured on WNCT-TV, Sunday February 15th at 12 Noon.

The film dramatizes the exciting hobby of amateur radio in many varied forms and is narrated by Arthur Godfrey, featuring such personalities as Senator Barry Goldwater and newsmen Bill Leonard. All three have their own amateur (Ham) radio stations. With appeal for young and old alike, the film portrays the vital role played by radio amateurs relaying communications in emergency situations similar to recent hurricane Camille. Actual footage of the great Alaskan earthquake and of California forest fires is featured. The public service efforts of amateurs in relaying messages for servicemen overseas are seen during a visit to the personal amateur station of Barry Goldwater in his Arizona home. Person to person communication is a central theme of "HAM'S WIDE WORLD". The film presents sequences in amateur stations from tiny Pitcairn Island, to Mexico, to California, and shows how international friendships unfold via amateur radio.

Youth Wounded In Gun Mishap

Greenville police today reported an 18-year-old local youth was shot in the left hand early last night while cleaning a .22 caliber rifle.

Detectives, according to Chief T.E. Gladson, reported that Robert Edwin Hill of White Trailer Park was treated at Pitt Memorial Hospital for the wound, about 7:30 p.m.

Hill told investigators the rifle discharged accidentally.

False Alarm Brings Firemen

Greenville firemen were called to the intersection of East Rock Springs Road and 14th Street at 9:15 p.m. last night when a false alarm was turned in at Box 231.

The City of Greenville offers a $100 reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of anyone turning in a false alarm.

Clinch Tie Converge On ECU Pool Final Minges Showing

State Highway clinched at least a tie for the regular season championship in the Industrial League last night with a 73-35 victory over last-place Jaycees. In the other games, Wachovia beat Union Carbide, 66-58, and Fieldcrest downed WNCT, 67-47.

State Highway, 11-1, needs only one more win to wrap up the title, Fieldcrest and Wachovia, both 8-4, can do no more than tie it for the crown. Fourth place is held by Union Carbide, 5-7, while WNCT, 4-8, and the Jaycees, 0-12, bring up the rear.

In the opening contest, Fieldcrest shot away to a 32-19 lead in the first half. They also outscored WNCT in the second half, 35-28, to wrap up the win and keep their fading hopes alive.

Clarence Taft led Fieldcrest with 18, while Billy Stokes had 16 and Hertford Parker had 11. For WNCT, Ikie Arnold had 21 and Joe Jenkins had 17.

Wachovia edged out into a 31-16 lead in its game by the half, and then held off Union Carbide rally efforts in the second half. Wachovia came out on top in the second period, 35-32, to take the win.

Indians Top

Citadel, 79-74

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

William and Mary's Indians have moved into sole occupancy of fourth place in the Southern Conference basketball standings — thanks to the reversal of what had almost become a trend.

Technical fouls late in the game that set up multi-point plays eventually led to recent defeats for Virginia Tech against Davidson and North Carolina against Wake Forest.

William and Mary got hit with a technical late in the game Thursday night, and The Citadel converted it into a five-point play — but the Indians survived for a 79-74 victory that snapped a three-game losing streak and also broke the fourth-place tie between the two teams.

The Citadel had overcome a 10-point deficit to tie it at 60-60 before the Indians rolled up a 76-69 margin that appeared safe with less than a minute remaining.

But the Bulldogs' Willie Taylor broke down the middle, scored and was fouled. When

Caps Capture

Winning Mark

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Washington Caps have made an American Basketball Association breakthrough — with a capital B.

Rick Barry and rookie Mike Barrett combined for 75 points and playmaker Larry Brown contributed 15 assists Thursday night as the Caps topped the 500 mark with a 138-122 victory over Miami.

Barry scored 40 points and Barrett put in 35 — 22 above his season average — to trigger the romp.

Eastern Carolina's Largest Saturday Night Round-Up!

The 15th annual Atlantic Seaboard Interscholastic Swimming and Diving Championships, formerly known as the East Carolina Invitational, will be held in the Minges Natatorium Saturday, beginning at 10:30 a.m.

The largest field ever is expected for the event, which has grown into one of the largest high school meets in the country. "We have entries coming from North Carolina, Virginia, Maryland, South Carolina, New Jersey and the District of Columbia," Ray Scharf, the meet director said. A total of 46 schools are expected to enter the meet.

The preliminaries to the diving competition will get underway at 10:30 a.m., with the swimming trials starting at 1 p.m. The diving semi-finals will get underway at approximately 4:15.

The finals in both swimming and diving will get underway at 7:30 p.m., winding up the meet.

The defending champion in the meet is Walt Whitman High School of Bethesda, Maryland, and it is expected to be in the thick of the battle this time. Others rated as top contenders include Grimsley of Greensboro,

North-South

Games Are Set

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The annual North-South Doubleheader is scheduled for tonight in Charlotte, N. C., but for the first time in 12 seasons it won't be a family basketball affair.

Outsider Georgia Tech will be in the lineup, filling a spot which had traditionally been held by an Atlantic Coast Conference team.

However, this season South Carolina, with an eye on the national title and a comfortable coliseum in Columbia, didn't want to give up a home game to play in unfriendly territory.

Clemson, North Carolina and North Carolina State will join Tech in the lineup for the two-day event. Clemson plays North Carolina and N. C. State battles Georgia Tech in tonight's round. Saturday's pairing features Clemson vs. N. C. State and North Carolina vs. Georgia Tech.

Georgia Tech, led by 6-foot-9 center Rich Yunkus, will be the underdog against powerful N.C. State, which is ranked fifth nationally. The Yellow Jackets have a 12-5 record, including losses to Clemson and UCLA.

The Wolfpack builds its offense around big guns like Vann Williford and Ed Leftwich. Williford, a consistent player, averages 23 points and has provided many clutch shots.

N. C. State will be out to rebound from its second loss of the season, which came Monday at the hands of North Carolina.

The Tar Heels, ranked no. 10 nationally, should have an edge over Clemson, which must play without Randy Mahaffey.

Mahaffey has played against North Carolina six times and is ineligible for further regular season games against the Tar Heels. The Tigers lost to North Carolina in Clemson last month.

In the 50-yard freestyle, Roger Rice of Wade Hampton is favored. His entered time is :22.7. The meet record is :22.9.

Rose High School could crack through in the 1-meter diving with Bubba Rawl, who is capable of winning. Jack Morrow of Myers Park in Charlotte, is the defending state champion, and is the likely favorite.

Schlietstett could become a double winner in the 100-yard butterfly. He is entered in :55.0, and is a heavy favorite. The meet record is :53.

In the 100-yard freestyle, there are six or seven with a good chance to win. Poliquin is the leading entry at :50.1, ahead of the meet record of :50.5. Others include Burnett and Johnny Pool of Wade Hampton.

In the 100-yard backstroke, David Marlin of McLean, Va., High School, has the best time of :57.5. But Joseph Seehausen of Calvert Hall College High School of Towson, Md., and Robert Cunningham of West Springfield, Va., are top challengers. The meet record is :55.85.

Lewis Allen of Grimsley, entered in 3:57.0, is the leading contender in the 400-yard freestyle. That tops the meet mark of 3:57.47. Skip Snable of Middletown, N. J., Robert Thomas of Washington & Lee High School in Fairfax, and Bruce Dickson of Myers Park are top threats.

Steve Sommer of Walter Johnson tops the field for the 100-yard breaststroke with a time of 1:04.3. The meet record is 1:05.83. Don Berry of Grimsley is his top challenger.

Rounding out the 11-event field is the 400-yard freestyle relay, with Calvert Hall leading the list with a time of 3:26. But Wade Hampton, Crimsley and Walt Whitman are all bunched closely and could win it. The record here is 3:28.14.

"It promises to be an outstanding meet, with some great future All-Americans taking part," Scharf said.

Immanuel Baptist gained a little breathing room at the top of the Church Basketball League last night with a 42-37 victory over Presbyterian. At the same time, Black Jack downed Piney Grove, 59-35, and St. James won forfeit over Mt. Pleasant.

Immanuel, 8-3, now holds a full game lead over St. James, 7-4, while Piney Grove, Black Jack and Presbyterian are bunched at 6-4. Oakmont is next at 3-6, followed by Mt. Pleasant, 0-10.

Immanuel moved out into a 23-17 lead in the first half of its game with Presbyterian. Then, in the second half, Immanuel pulled away, outscoring Presbyterian, 29-20, to take the win.

Clinton Gentry led Immanuel with 20, while Brazel Moore had 12 for Presbyterian.

Black Jack worked up a 29-20 lead in the end of the first half in its game. They then doubled the output of Piney Grove in the second half, 30-15, to win handily.

East Carolina University's Pirates, currently tied for second place in the Southern Conference race, seeks to wrap up a finish of no worse than third tomorrow night at 8 p.m. when they entertain The Citadel in Minges Coliseum.

The Pirates, 6-2, are tied with George Washington, and have already assured themselves of an upper bracket berth in the eight-team Southern Conference tournament two weeks away. By beating The Citadel, they can assure themselves of no worse than a 7-4 mark, one which the current fourth place team, William & Mary, could not overcome.

They could also be helped along by other games slated for Saturday night in the conference. They include Richmond at Davidson, George Washington at Furman and VMI at William & Mary.

"We expect them to play some sort of zone defense against us, and use a possession type offense to keep the ball away from us," East Carolina Coach Tom Quinn said. The Citadel has been averaging only about 69 points per game, while the Bucs are averaging close to 82. Last night, they lost to William & Mary in the Indians' tough teepee, Blow Gym, 79-74.

Jerry Hirsch is the leading scorer for the Bulldogs, pumping in at a 20-point per game slip. He is the third leading scorer in the conference behind Bob Tallent and Bob Sherwood of GW and W&M, respectively.

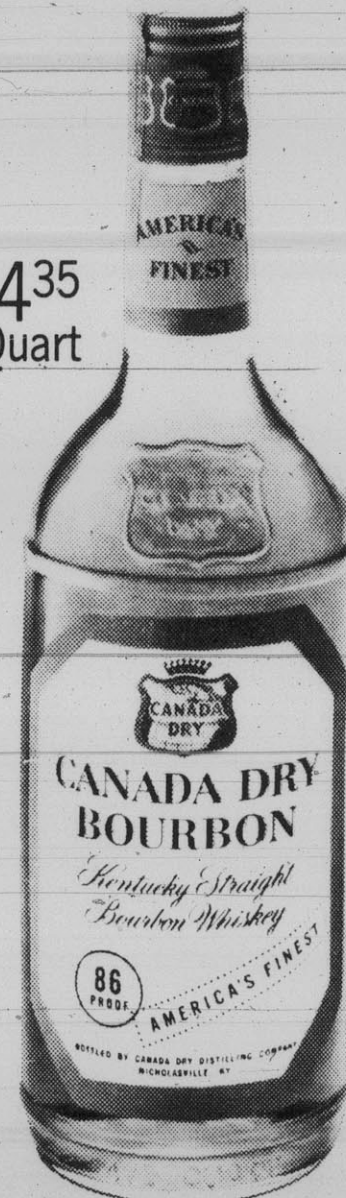

Willie Taylor, a native of Kinston, and Lou Meckstroth are the only others averaging in double figures, both in the low teens.

Hirsch, a swing man, normally operated out of the forward position, along with Meckstroth, while Taylor and Ben Ledbetter handle the guard slots. Mike Ruddle is the center and the team's leading rebounder.

Ellis Ready For Action

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — The talking is over for Jimmy Ellis, the easy-going World Boxing Association champion. He wants action.

And action is what he'll get Monday night in Madison Square Garden when he meets Joe Frazier, champion of six states including New York, in a scheduled 15-round fight for the undisputed heavyweight title.

"I'm tired of talking about the fight," Ellis said Thursday before completing his sparring. "It's here. He (Frazier) is talking. He better save his wind."

Frazier, a puncher who applies pressure by constantly moving to his opponent, said earlier in the week:

"I don't think Ellis can move away from me as fast as I can move in on him."

"We'll see about that Monday night," said Ellis. "How fast he can go, how fast he can come—we'll see. He talked about me running out. I'll be there Monday night."

If anything has annoyed Ellis, it has been Frazier's charges that Ellis, until now, has been ducking a fight with him. Ellis and his manager, Angelo Dundee, are leaving nothing to chance.

Ellis went to see the New York Knicks of the National Basketball Association play in the Garden Wednesday night.

He went to relax, but there was another reason.

"He went there to get the feel of the crowd," said Dundee. Since his last fight—a 15-round victory over Floyd Patterson Sept. 14, 1968—Ellis has done all of his boxing in the gym, three planned fights never coming off.

Dundee said they left the game before the start of an overtime period so they could avoid the crush of the crowd, something they would welcome Monday night.

"No sir," said Dundee, "they can step all over us after he flattens the guy."

Frazier worked out first Thursday, boxing two rounds with Billy "Moleman" Williams. Then, Ellis took over for what Dundee said was his final four rounds of sparring—two each against Joe "Shotgun" Shelton and Stanford Harris.

Putting Could Make Difference At Tucson

By BOB GREEN

Associated Press Golf Writer
TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — It's a putter's course," said Lee Trevino.

"It's a putter's course, definitely," said Bob Murphy.

And Billy Casper, considered by many to be the putter of them all, was just one stroke back of the leading Trevino and Murphy going into today's second round of the $100,000 Tucson Open golf tournament.

Murphy and Trevino matched six under par 66's—Trevino with a double bogey six on the last hole—Thursday on the flat, wide open Tucson National Golf Club course.

The steady Casper and Dudley Wyson, an 8-year tour veteran who hasn't won in four years, were just one stroke back at 67.

The group of eight at 68 included 49-year-old Julius Boros, Mason Rudolph, Tom Shaw, and J.C. Snead, nephew of Sam Snead.

Frank Beard, last year's leading money winner, was in a large group at 69 and U.S. Open title holder Orville Moody had a par 72 in the near perfect golfing conditions—warm, sunny weather with virtually no wind.

Casper, one of only three men to reach $1 million in winnings and the winner of the Los Angeles Open earlier this year, loomed as a definite threat.

He had six birdies including long putts of 25, 14, 20, and 25 feet, and a single bogey, three putting the last green.

Both Murphy and Trevino said the flat course is made for the good putter.

"You can miss the fairways and still hit the green," Trevino said.

no said. Trevino, who scored his last victory in this tournament a year ago, was extremely annoyed with his double bogey on the final hole.

"It's as much my fault as it is my caddy's," he said. "Except one thing. I'm going to kill him."

He was eight-under-par when he stepped to the last tee. He had to wait a couple of minutes while "two ladies walked down the middle of the fairway. I guess they were out for their Sunday stroll. I waited because I didn't want to hit anyone. But if I knew I was going to take a six, I'd have hit them."

His caddy handed him a driver. "I wasn't thinking," Trevino said. "The weight had broken my concentration. The caddy's supposed to think for me. He knows I'm charged up. He's been with me for two years. So he hands me a driver. I'm eight-under with out of bounds on one side and water on the other and I shouldn't have been playing for anything but a five and he hands me a driver."

Trevino promptly put the shot in the water. He had seven birdies, three after irons left him five-foot putts, the others on putts ranging from 10 to 30 feet, and he eagled the par-five 11th after a three-wood shot put him eight-feet away.

Murphy bogied the first hole but birdied three of the four par-fives, had a pair of deuces and reeled off a string of three consecutive birdies coming home. But he said a 12-foot par saving putt on the ninth was the key to his round.

Drake Rally Holds To Tie With Louisville

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer
The tie at the top of the Missouri Valley Conference is still intact today but Friday the 13th almost came a little early for Drake.

The Bulldogs needed a second half rally capped by Rick Wanamaker's basket with 25 seconds left to play to beat underdog Bradley 68-65 Thursday night.

That kept Drake tied with Louisville for the MVC lead. The Cardinals had an easier time maintaining their share of first place with a 77-67 victory against over-matched Tulsa.

Meanwhile, streaking Cincinnati won its seventh straight game, walloping Wichita State 94-57 to stay two games back of the conference co-leaders.

Elsewhere Army, the nation's leading defensive team, whipped Iona 60-34, Georgetown battered New York University 94-72, Marquette took St. Louis 66-54, Niagara downed Fordham 77-68 with Calvin Murphy scoring 25 and Villanova defeated St. Peter's 108-91.

Also, William and Mary defeated The Citadel 79-74, Centenary whipped Miami, Fla. 107-86, Utah whipped Arizona 92-75, Brigham Young downed Arizona State 97-91, Colorado State topped New Mexico 64-57, and Houston belted Hardin-Simmons 109-91.

Drake, 17-5 for the season and 10-1 in the MVC and playing at home, was down by 10 points early in the second half against lightly regarded Bradley, which has won only three of 11 conference games this season.

But Wanamaker and reserve Carl Salyers came off the Drake bench to bring the Bulldogs back. Bradley rallied again to tie the game with just over one half minute left before Wanamaker's bucket sent the fans home happy.

Wanamaker had 15 points and Salyers 12 while Al Williams led Drake with 19 and 15 rebounds. Rich Schultz led Bradley with 20.

Larry Carter's 18 points led a balanced Louisville attack that had four players in double figures and carried the Cardinals past game Tulsa.

Tulsa, playing at home, got 22 points from Ron Carson and staged a second half rally before Louisville pulled away for the victory.

Marquette, ranked 12th, got a scare in St. Louis before pouring it on in the second half to batter the Billikens.

Dean Meminger poured in 26 points to lead Marquette, which trailed at halftime against fired-up St. Louis. But the Billikens managed only four field goals in the second half, shooting a paltry .190 for the final 20 minutes as the Warriors stormed to the victory.

Cincinnati, hanging on in the MVC race, hit two-thirds of its shots in the first half and stormed past Wichita State, running its record to 16-4 and 8-3 in the conference. John Fraley and Jim Ard led the Bearcats with 17 points each.

Army allowed the opposition 34 points for the second straight game, whipping Iona handily. The Cadets, who defeated the Coast Guard 85-34 on Tuesday, got 16 points from Jim Oxley and allowed the Gaels just 12 field goals.

Murphy, stunned by an errant elbow late in the game, came back to pace Niagara past Fordham. He threw in 12 of his 25 points in the last seven minutes as Niagara wiped out a 10-point Ram lead to win.

Howard Porter poured in 37 points and grabbed 32 rebounds leading Villanova over St. Peter's. In addition, the 6-foot-8 junior blocked at least a dozen St. Peter's shots. Villanova's 60 per cent shooting accuracy proved the difference.

Perry Honored By Hot Stovers

RALEIGH (AP) — The Will Wynne Award for the North Carolinian contributing the most to baseball was presented Thursday night to pitcher Jim Perry, a Williamston native who won 20 games for the Minnesota Twins last year.

The presentation came at the annual banquet of the Raleigh Hot Stove League. Special presentations were made by Gov. Bob Scott to Washington Senator Manager Ted Williams and to Dick Herbert, sports editor of the Raleigh News and Observer.

An award for a sportscaster was presented to Don Shea, sports director of WTVD, Durham. A sportswriters award went to William (Bill) Hunter, sports editor of the Times-News at Burlington.

The award to Perry was presented by Fred McCall, vice president of Campbell College, who coached Perry when he was a student at Campbell.

Scott said Williams and Herbert were "being honored for their excellence."

He said Herbert was "a sage, a giant among sportswriters."

Scott said the award to Williams was presented for his "outstanding achievements in our national pastime, baseball," and "for his continuing interest in North Carolina," and in recognition of "his superlative performance as American League manager for 1969."

West, Baylor Spark Lakers

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
When Jerry West and Elgin Baylor are putting it all together, even Atlanta's tough Hawks can become clay pigeons for the Los Angeles Lakers.

West and Baylor clicked for a total of 74 points Thursday night, leading the Lakers to a 136-114 romp over Atlanta that left them just one-half game behind the Hawks in the National Basketball Association's Western Division race.

Chicago edged Phoenix 122-121 in the only other game on the NBA schedule.

In the American Basketball Association, Indiana topped Pittsburgh 119-106. Denver trimmed Kentucky 125-111 and Washington belted Miami 138-122.

With West and Baylor scoring, rebounding and passing off in tandem, the Lakers shot to a five-point lead in a blistering 77-point first quarter. They increased the margin to 53-42 early in the second quarter and were in command the rest of the way.

West finished with 42 points and Baylor netted 32, one more than the Hawks' Walt Bellamy. Shaler Halimon, guilty of three throw-aways during a fourth quarter Phoenix rally that put the Suns ahead 113-107 with three minutes to play, came back with three big field goals and a pair of decisive free throws for Chicago.

The Bulls' rookie sewed up the victory from the foul line with 15 seconds remaining. Chet Walker paced Chicago's attack with 30 points, but yielded game honors to the Suns' Connie Hawkins, who scored 37.

DRAW ONE: Electronics has taken over the drawing of draft beer in taverns. BREWMASTER INTERNATIONAL of Albuquerque, New Mexico, is marketing a beer tap that looks exactly like the conventional tap, except that the pull handle is inoperative. The bartender instead touches a button and a "perfect" glass of beer pours forth. The Brewmaster unit features easy, quick connection, trouble free operation, accurate booking and unusually high profits for distributors. For the tavern owner, this does away with waste, unauthorized give-away, over-pulls and spillage.

Investment required $5,250 and up, completely secure by equipment. For complete details regarding a distributorship available in your area, write, wire or phone:

The Worry Clinic A Free Field And No Favors

Robert Nevin is a white educator and editor who nominates Silas Purnell, a black man, as worthy of the "Black Educator of the Year." See if you don't agree with Mr. Nevin's splendid comments.

By-GEORGE W. CRANE
Ph. D., M.D.

CASE M-521: Robert L. Nevin edits a popular dental journal. But he is also a dedicated Director of the Ada S. McKinley Community Services which operates a splendid Job Training Center, as well as college placement service, too, for Negroes.

"Dr. Crane," Editor Nevin recently informed me, "you would really enjoy meeting Silas Purnell."

"He is a black man who graduated from college and then started working as a route salesman for a soft drink company, with his territory being the South Side of Chicago."

"But his hobby has been helping youngsters get into college."

"Starting first with his own son, he actually helped more than 1,000 boys and girls enter college in the past five years alone!"

"And this year Si Purnell will send 1,800 academically qualified black boys and girls to college!"

"For Si is literally a one-man college placement bureau!"

"His slogan is this: 'Give me

$10 and I can send one boy to college for four years."

"He does it by finding scholarships and sponsors."

"Si takes his students on college campus visits, many times at his own expense."

"He rents a bus, makes appointments for interviews with the college admissions counselors and has an unusual knack for placing students in just the right schools."

"His students also do as well academically as students coming from any state high school."

"And the drop-out rate among his students is so low that many colleges now come to him for advice when selecting applicants from the inner city area."

"Si will even turn down a scholarship occasionally if he doesn't happen to have a student which he thinks is properly suited either by temperament or academic achievement to merit that scholarship."

"We Directors have finally coaxed Si to join our staff and leave his former job, so now his former hobby has become a great boom to students wishing to go onward to college."

SALUTE TO SI
It is a delight to salute Si Purnell and all the other dedicated men and women who are helping build character in our oncoming youth.

Woodrow Wilson stated the proper goal for all Americans when he said:

"All any American should ask is a free field and no favors!"

Si Purnell ably attests to that superb motto.
So does Mattie Coney at Indianapolis, plus Rev. Henry Mitchell of Chicago, and many other outstanding Negro leaders.

They all agree that, in effect, it isn't the color or the wrapping paper but the merchandise inside the box, that determines its worth!

Alas, some Americans lazily try to place a chip on their shoulder and then do sloppy work, after which they cry "Racism" if they are demoted or fired from their jobs.

That is a disservice to their race, religion, color or European nationality.

Dr. T.K. Lawless, also a member of the Board of the Ada S. McKinley organization, was one of my best teachers at our Northwestern University Medical School.

Although a black man, he is regarded as tops among dermatologists but he also never asked for anything but Woodrow Wilson's "free field."

Just a roof over your head or a happy place to live

There's a big difference.

At Stratford Arms we never stop trying to add to the amenities of life.

Some folks think it is priceless even though our rentals are moderate.

Come and see and feel the pleasant atmosphere we have created.

Sorry, all our 3-bedroom apartments are leased. But our 1 and 2 bedrooms are a surprise and a delight.

Pepsi

You've got a lot to live
Pepsi's got a lot to give

What we mean is this: living isn't always easy, but it never has to be dull. There's too much to see, to do, to enjoy. Put yourself behind a Pepsi-Cola and get started.
You've got a lot to live.
