

White House Aides

Says Four Slackened Desegregation Work

By G. C. THELEN Jr.
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — A recently fired administration civil rights official says four powerful White House aides are to blame for slackened government school desegregation efforts.

The charges were made as Vice President Spiro T. Agnew, head of President Nixon's special cabinet-level task force on school desegregation, declared the panel would not "give support to any evasion of the law."

Leon S. Panetta, dumped by the White House as civil rights head for the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, also said the vice president and two senators played major roles in his ouster.

The four White House aides identified by Panetta as principal architects of the administration desegregation policy were: H. R. "Bob" Haldeman, the man who controls access to the President; Bryce N. Harlow, counselor and congressional relations expert; John D. Ehrlichman, domestic policy chief; and Harry C. Dent, No. 1 political strategist at the White House.

Panetta said Agnew, a former Maryland governor, and Sen. Robert Dole, R-Kan., became irritated after the department "indicated to Maryland its higher education (civil rights) program was not good enough."

Dole was mad because "we were moving on Wichita, Kan., which was a Northern system where we were able to establish discrimination and frankly where city leaders said there is discrimination," he said.

Panetta also blamed the administration's request last summer for a desegregation delay in 30 Mississippi school districts on Sen. John Stennis' threat to withdraw as floor leader of the President's hotly contested Safeguard antiballistic missile system.

Stennis, a Mississippi Democrat, is chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee.

The President's special school desegregation panel was viewed by some government officials as a means to decrease HEW's role in Southern school desegregation.

Agnew, however, said that the panel would not attempt to intrude in the "operating jurisdiction" of the departments of Justice and HEW.

Instead, Agnew said, it would work with black and white moderate community leaders to achieve court-ordered compliance in the least disruptive way.

The vice president emphasized it would not "be in any way an appeal body, permit any implication that it would or could change legal requirements, or give support to any evasion of the law."

In related matters, the Senate approved Saturday a $19 billion health-education money bill after turning thumbs down on three House-passed amendments aimed at slowing school desegregation.

Two would have forbidden the federal government to withhold federal funds to force busing of schoolchildren. The third amendment would have endorsed the so-called freedom-of-choice desegregation plan largely outlawed by the courts.

And HEW Secretary Robert H. Finch voiced Sunday the strongest administration complaint to date about court-ordered desegregation.

"They've really bitten the bullet in the South," Finch said. In most districts, he added, "the old dual systems have been broken up."

Cuban Patrol Craft Seizes American Boat

MIAMI (AP) — Ship radio reports today indicated a Cuban patrol boat had escorted into Cuban waters an American treasure-hunting craft it had boarded on the high seas.

A spokesman in Washington for the firm that chartered the Jocelyn-C for treasure-hunting tests said at least five persons were aboard.

The U.S. Coast Guard in Miami refused to comment.

Marine broadcasts monitored in Miami said Cuban seamen boarded the 65-foot red, white and blue Jocelyn-C Sunday and removed two Cuban crewmen before beginning escort of the American boat into Cuban territorial waters just off La Isabela on the island's northern coast.

As the Jocelyn-C and the patrol boat traveled the 140 miles from the point of the reported boarding to La Isabela, the U.S. Coast Guard cutter Steadfast watched off shore. The cutter remained outside Cuba's three-mile limit.

Only four of the persons reportedly aboard the Jocelyn-C were identified immediately.

Early morning Havana radio broadcasts monitored in Miami made no mention of the incident.

The Steadfast was dispatched to the Atlantic between Cuba and the Bahamas early Sunday afternoon when the Jocelyn-C, commanded by Capt. Sten Carlson of East Orleans, Mass., reported by radio that the Cuban craft was approaching it. The vessel was 15 miles offshore, the radio report said.

Moments before the Jocelyn-C's transmitter went silent, the captain reported: "They're lowering their guns on us."

The Steadfast, a 210-foot heavy-duty cutter armed with a three-inch cannon and several machine guns, reportedly was operating under instructions not to attempt an interception of the two vessels.

The Jocelyn-C, under charter to a Washington firm known as Sub Mar, sailed from Fort Lauderdale Friday after having repairs made to its electronic treasure-hunting equipment. The equipment was to be tested during the cruise.

The Cubans reportedly boarded it near Cay Lobos, an island in the old Bahama channel north of Cuba.

Carlson's wife, Jocelyn, for whom the boat was named, said she spoke to her husband Thursday. She reported he told her a shakedown cruise had been completed and that he would call her again in about 10 days.

Mrs. Carlson lives with the couple's two children in East Orleans, Mass.

The Jocelyn-C left Cape Cod harbor Jan. 1. Carlson, 37, said at the time he was starting a three-month search for sunken Spanish gold in the Caribbean.

With Carlson when he sailed last January was William Crockett, 27, a photographer and fisherman. Crockett, a bachelor, is a native of Richmond, Va., and has living in Chatham, Mass.

Two other members of the crew were identified as Pat Fitzsimmons and Joe Campbell. Their hometowns were not known.

A British vessel identified as the Arethusa, described in Lloyd's Registry of Ships as a 318-foot, 3,152-ton training ship registered in London, was nearby when the Jocelyn-C was boarded. It remained with the boat and the Cuban vessel until the Steadfast arrived, radio reports said.

The State Department said it had asked the Swiss government, which looks after U.S. interests in Cuba, to obtain information about the seizure. Washington has no diplomatic relations with Havana.

Peddle Parsley As 'Marijuana'

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Two detectives spotted a young man talking and gesturing to a soldier along a downtown street and decided something was wrong.

The detectives questioned the salesman and learned he was trying to sell the soldier an envelope supposedly containing marijuana.

It turned out to be dried parsley, and the salesman was asking $3 for it. At the station house, police said the salesman told them he sometimes deals in baking powder. He calls it heroin.

Marie's Death Due Blood Clot

MONTREAL (AP) — Marie Houle, one of the Dionne quintuplets, died of a blood clot, according to a preliminary autopsy report. She apparently died a week ago today. Her body was found Friday.

Marie, separated from her husband, was reported by Dr. Marcel Bernier, her physician, to have been in a state of depression for several weeks, but the autopsy report said death was due to natural causes.

Quintuplet Emilie died in 1954, and three of the sisters, born in 1934, survive: Cecile, Annette and Yvonne. They and their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oliva Dionne of Callender, Ont., will attend Marie's funeral services here Tuesday.

Two Named To Seats On Council

By STUART SAVAGE
Reflector Staff Writer

Sammy T. Carson of Bethel and Leroy James of Greenville were appointed to the Pitt County Good Neighbor Council this morning by the Pitt County Commissioners.

Carson and James were named to the Good Neighbor Council to replace the Rev. Dermont J. Reid of Greenville and Dudley Flood of Bethel, both of whom have resigned their posts because they are moving out of the county. The Rev. Mr. Reid has been serving as chairman of the Good Neighbor group while Flood has been vice chairman.

Commissioners deferred action on naming a chairman for the Good Neighbor Council.

Commissioners, in addition to hearing reports from various county agencies, named county board chairman J. Vance Perkins to the Mid-East Airport Authority. Pitt will be represented on the Mid-East Airport Authority by two representatives, one appointed by the County Commissioners and one named by the Greenville City Council.

Discussed at this morning's session were three appointments to the joint city-county Tar River Port Commission. Commissioners agreed for Perkins and vice-chairman Vernon Cox to meet with representatives of the Greenville city council to select three men for the commission.

Former members of the commission resigned several months ago because of the "inactivity" of the port commission.

PENANG, Malaysia (AP) — Troop reinforcements were dispatched to Malaysia's northern border today following clashes between joint Malaysian-Thai patrols and Communist terrorists.

Spoonful Of Moon Is Missing

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A vial containing about a spoonful of moon dust is missing, the first loss in 50 displays of priceless lunar samples.

Officials disclosed Sunday that the vial, containing 2.3 grams of material from lunar rock No. 50 brought to earth by Apollo 11, disappeared the night before during a charity affair for scientific research that included a $100-a-plate dinner.

"I'm going to call it a theft," said Steven Lawrence, business manager of the institute of Geophysics at the University of California at Los Angeles, who arranged the display. "But I hope it was a joke and we'll get it back."

Several persons from the institute were with the display, he said, but there was no guard "as such."

Police and the FBI said they were investigating.

In Houston, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration said it had not authorized the exhibit, and that about 50 samples had been displayed with authorization and without a loss.

Finish Probe Under Red Sniper Fire

QUE SON, Vietnam (AP) — U.S. and South Vietnamese officials, working under constant sniper fire, have completed their on-the-spot investigation of charges that a five-man U.S. Marine patrol killed 16 civilians, informed sources said today.

The Vietnamese provincial and district investigators who made an independent inquiry said they were satisfied with the Marine prosecution on the case and would take no further action.

The findings of the Marine probe will now be submitted to what is called an Article 32 Session—the military equivalent of a grand jury hearing. Its recommendations will be reported to Maj. Gen. Edwin B. Wheeler, commander of the 1st Marine Division, who will decide whether to bring the accused men before a court-martial.

The bodies of the victims—5 women and 11 children—were found Feb. 20 near Son Thang village, a highly contested settlement about 2½ miles southwest of this district capital and about 27 miles south of Da Nang.

Both French and American officials traveling with the president said he was distressed that 10,000 demonstrators were permitted by Chicago police to block his entrance from the hotel and force him to push his way through hostile crowds.

second day, but some youths said the main reason for the continued calm was the presence since Friday of guardsmen, many patrolling with bayonets fixed on rifles.

One Isla Vista youth who felt the violence would not resume after the guardsmen left said: "People have made their point that they're fed up. Hopefully, someone will listen."

The youths said they were protesting what they believe is harassment by local police, high rents in the community of 13,000 adjacent to the university campus, and the "capitalist establishment" in general.

Officers have arrested 141 persons since the trouble started last Tuesday.

Edwards Says 'A Coincidence'

"Nothing was done on my part toward the Carteret application that I have not done for each of the 66 North Carolina applications approved by the Economic Development Administration," Charles S. Edwards, state EDA coordinator, said this morning during a telephone interview.

Edwards was referring to a situation reported in an Associated Press story. According to the AP articles, which quoted a copyrighted Winston Salem Journal and Sentinel story, Edwards purchased land in Carteret County for which water projects financed by EDA were approved a short time later.

"The AP article was substantially correct," Edwards said. "My purchase of the property in Carteret County was coincidental with the filing of applications from that county. As well as those approved, there are some 30-plus other applications from throughout the state presently being processed by the agency, one of which is from the Greenville Utilities Commission."

Edwards has ties in Pitt County. He lived in Farmville and served the town as mayor and as director of its Tobacco Board of Trade.

Maddox Unable To Succeed Self

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gov. Lester Maddox lost unanimously in the Supreme Court today his bid to be allowed to file as a candidate to succeed himself as governor of Georgia.

The high court said that "for want of jurisdiction" it was rejecting Maddox's plea that it strike down Georgia's constitutional prohibition a governor from succeeding himself for a second four-year term.

Maddox had asked a Supreme Court review after the Georgia State Supreme Court found the state constitutional restriction on consecutive terms for governors to be valid and threw out his case.

Job Depression Awaiting Grads

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A "job market depression" faces 1970 college graduates, even those with advance degrees, says Ralph Keller, Stanford University director of placement.

The situation is "acute" in the San Francisco Bay Area, but also exists elsewhere in the nation, he said Sunday.

"Industries are releasing people," he added. "Even our graduates are asking help in finding jobs."

Pres. Pompidou Dismayed By His Reception

NEW YORK (AP) — French President Georges Pompidou meets today with leaders of Jewish organizations to discuss the pro-Israel demonstrations that have marred his visit to the United States.

More mass protests were expected today but spokesmen for the Jewish groups said Sunday night they "deplore any use of disorder or physical force to express our anguish over French Middle Eastern policy."

Pompidou's schedule also calls for a visit to the United Nations, where he will confer with Secretary-General U Thant on the Middle East situation. His schedule winds up with a dinner at the Waldorf-Astoria, where a major protest is planned.

Pompidou decided Sunday to go ahead with his scheduled two-day visit to New York despite misgivings and displeasure over hostile demonstrations in Chicago.

The decision came after Mayor John V. Lindsay appealed to New Yorkers to "avoid any discourtesy or other behavior that would mar this city's devotion to the lawful, peaceful resolution of all difficulties."

The demonstrations are to protest the French sale of 110 Mirage jet fighters to the Arab state of Libya while continuing to impose an embargo on the sale of military hardware to Israel.

Lindsay, who announced previously there would be no formal reception for Pompidou, will be in Washington during the president's two-day visit. He said his appeal did not question the right of peaceful expression of feelings.

Pompidou arrived at Westchester County Airport Sunday where he was greeted by about 1,000 demonstrators. He spent the night at the home of U.S. Protocol Chief Emil Mosbacher, a millionaire yachtsman, in White Plains.

In addition to the airport protest, demonstrations began Sunday in New York against Pompidou's visit. A rally at Hunter College drew 1,500 persons Sunday night.

Sen. Charles E. Goodell, R-N.Y., told the gathering that France was playing a "reckless and dangerous game of trading arms for oil in an attempt to regain its influence in the Middle East."

Manhattan Borough President Percy Sutton, a Democrat, said France "cannot deliver Mirages to Israel, but it had no difficulty in delivering Mirages to Libya that both you and I know are intended for Egyptian hands."

Pompidou has said that if the jets get to Egypt, France will revise its position toward non-combatant Libya.

There were rumors Sunday that Pompidou would cut short his tour in anger over the demonstrations but a spokesman said there had been no change in the itinerary.

Both French and American officials traveling with the president said he was distressed that 10,000 demonstrators were permitted by Chicago police to block his entrance from the hotel and force him to push his way through hostile crowds.

Some Dissidents Ready To Resume Ruinous Rampaging

By MARTIN KRUMING
Associated Press Writer
SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (AP) — Some dissident youths have vowed to resume a destructive rampage in the college community of Isla Vista when remaining National Guardsmen are withdrawn.

"We have nothing against the Guard," said one girl. "But when they leave get ready, 'cause we're going to give the pigs hell!" "Pigs" was a reference to peace officers.

More than half of the guardsmen were pulled out Sunday—leaving an estimated 200 to 300 to back up an equal number of sheriff's deputies, police and highway patrolmen.

Maj. Gen. Charles A. Ott Jr., the Guard commander, said all troops might leave Tuesday if all remains calm.

In three nights of violence last week, before the guardsmen arrived, youths fought police with rocks and bottles and burned a Bank of America branch office to the ground. They also smashed store windows and set fire to a patrol car.

Officers have arrested 141 persons since the trouble started last Tuesday.

Cosmetologists Hear Mrs. Lilly

Mrs. Julia Lilly, Official Hair Fashion Committee member, presented the program at the Pitt County Cosmetologist Association held Tuesday night.

Mrs. Lilly demonstrated the current trend the "question mark" using Lois Johnson as her model. She explained that from the profile view, the question mark established in the silhouette of the finished hair style could be seen. The style is enhanced around the hairline and nape with "squiggly tendrils."

Mrs. Patsy Paramore, chairman for National Beauty Salon Week, gave a report on the activities for the week. Toys were donated by members and presented to the children's ward of Pitt County Memorial Hospital. Favors, which were made of small net bags filled with candy, were presented to the Greenville Nursing and Convalescent Home to be put on each tray. Other activities which included a T. V. appearance, luncheon, and free services given at the local nursing home were reported.

The next meeting will be held March 24 at Mitchell's Hair Styling.

Readers Question Folks Downstairs

By Abigail Van Buren

(© 1970 by Chicago Tribune-H. V. News Synd., Inc.)

DEAR ABBY: The letter from "THE PEOPLE UPSTAIRS" who complained about the embarrassing sounds of lovemaking from the people downstairs struck me as being pretty ridiculous. Even in the flimsiest of constructed apartment buildings, I can't imagine anyone being able to hear such noises without straining their ears.

It reminded me of a story I heard years ago: A little old lady called the landlord of her apartment building to come up to hear her complaint.

"Why, it's positively disgraceful the way that man across the courtyard parades around in front of his window without a stitch of clothing on!" she said.

The landlord looked at her with disbelief and replied, "You can't possibly see into his window, madame. It's much too high." "Well, just you climb up here on top of this bureau, and you'll see plenty!" she said.

JOHN IN INKSTER, MICH.

DEAR ABBY: "THE PEOPLE UPSTAIRS" don't know how lucky they are. We have neighbors who make noise, too. But it's far from the lovemaking kind. This couple has a knock down drag out fight nearly every Saturday night. We should be so lucky as to have lovers for neighbors.

THE PEOPLE NEXT DOOR

DEAR ABBY: Will you please tell us if the letter signed "THE PEOPLE UPSTAIRS" came from Berkeley, California? This is VERY important. B AND P IN BERKELEY

DEAR B AND P: It didn't. Relax.

DEAR ABBY: We found the letter in your column about the noisy newlyweds whose ill-timed lovemaking kept the neighbors awake, carefully marked and slipped under our front door.

We don't know whether someone was attempting to play a prank on us, or if it was put under the wrong door by mistake, but it certainly could not have been meant for us. I am 78 and my wife is 77. We have been married for 58 years, and it has been so quiet down here for the past 20 years that you could have heard day break. Very truly yours,

"THE PEOPLE DOWNSTAIRS" TROY, N. Y.

DEAR ABBY: I have a suggestion for THE PEOPLE UPSTAIRS. Tell them to rent a tape recorder if they don't own one, and make tape recordings of the "noise" they hear from the people downstairs. Then invite the people downstairs to come upstairs and listen to it over a friendly cocktail.

I promise you, that will be the end of any more such "noises." And if the people downstairs are good sports, present them with the tapes, which they can play back in about 35 years. They can be titled, "When You And I Were Young, Maggie," or, "Those Were The Days" or, "Thanks For The Memories."

MAX IN ALLENTOWN, PA.

DEAR ABBY: The word has spread thru this building that WE are the people who wrote that letter signed "THE PEOPLE UPSTAIRS." We most certainly are not! Will you please print this to remove the suspicion. Mahalo nui.

MR. AND MRS. C. C., HONOLULU

DEAR MR. AND MRS. C. C.: You can bet your sweet pikaki I will.

DEAR ABBY: We wouldn't expect you to betray a confidence, but did that letter from THE PEOPLE UPSTAIRS come from New Bedford, Massachusetts?

"CURIOUS" IN NEW BEDFORD

DEAR CURIOUS: No, neither from NEW BEDFORD nor OLD BEDFORD.

DEAR ABBY: Thank you for printing that letter from THE PEOPLE UPSTAIRS. In the future we shall be more quiet.

THE COUPLE DOWNSTAIRS: SANTA BARBARA, CAL.

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

Homemaker's Haven By Mrs. Phyllis Wooten

With the knowledge that our wardrobes are predicted to become obsolete by next fall, what are the fashion predictions for spring and summer?

There will be a continuation of many skirt lengths. Minis, to the knee, below the knee, and Midi will all be prevalent. Few Maxis, except for evening and lounge wear will be seen. However, length isn't the important question. Proportion is. Lengths should be in proportion to the waist, hips and legs. The slinky, straight, string bean look is a fashion winner for anyone who is tall, thin, and without hips.

Suits are making a come-back. Peplum jackets have been revitalized making them one of the hottest items for spring. The short jacket, dubbed as the battlejacket, has gained favor with many designers.

Skirt dresses are at their best in soft crepe. Lovely at Midi or ankle length; the skirred waistline adds the romantic touch. Chemises that suggest the body all of the way are at their best when stark and simple as a tank suit.

T-shirts are everywhere from stevedore-inspired little nothings to a beautifully embroidered variation of last summer's grandfather's undershirt.

Sleeves take on a new importance in the modern woman's wardrobe. Watch for a wardrobe of sleeve lengths; nothing, to the elbow, or to the waist. And nearly always when there is a sleeve, it is slightly puffed or rounded at the shoulder.

The sleeveless coat is the new way with the vest. Watch coats, too, that snuggle in on the waist and flare widely.

When fashion covers the leg, the chest is discovered. Look for more batease, strapless, and round necklines. Halters are also making a comeback.

Scarfs drop down to the waist or around the hips. The long flowing scarfs are gone, but the gypsy look continues with scarfs tied around the head.

Hairdos will go short and wavy. Long straight hair is out and so are bangs. Hair will be soft, natural with no teasing.

The change in your wardrobe will be gradual, but look for these trends in the next few seasons. They will be seen.

Tomato Soup Crackers

Codfish Cakes Cole Slaw

Chocolate Cupcakes Beverage

COLESLAW

3 tablespoons undiluted evaporated milk

1 1/2 tablespoons cider vinegar

1 tablespoon commercial sour cream

1 1/2 teaspoons sugar

1/4 teaspoon salt

1/8 teaspoon white pepper

1/8 teaspoon dry mustard

1/8 teaspoon paprika

1 1/2 cups shredded green cabbage (green part only), packed down

In a medium mixing bowl, with a fork, thoroughly beat together all the ingredients except the cabbage. (Makes about 1-3rd cup.) Mix in cabbage. Cover and refrigerate for several hours to allow flavors to blend. Makes 3 servings.

Serve mint-flavored whipped cream over slices of fluffy chocolate cake. To concoct the cream, beat it and fold in a little creme de menthe.

Fayetteville Wife Leaves For Paris To Learn The Aswers

FAYETTEVILLE, N. C. (AP)—The wife of an Army major who was captured May 23, 1968, by the Viet Cong was to travel to Paris today in hopes of finding answers to her questions about her husband and statements attributed to him by a French Communist newspaper.

Mrs. Ann Schrupp said Sunday "It doesn't sound like him" when she heard the statements from the French newspaper L'Humanite Dimanche, Sunday supplement of the Communist party daily.

Mr. Raymond Schrupp was quoted in the newspaper as saying, "They (the Viet Cong) never did anything to hurt America." The paper said it was quoting a tape recording made by the major. Mrs. Schrupp said that if she can hear the tape, she would recognize her husband's voice — if it is his.

Mrs. Schrupp said Saturday she planned to leave this afternoon for Paris and hoped to meet with Viet Cong delegates to the Paris Peace talks. "I hope I can find out if there's any chance of him being freed," she said.

"This newspaper story gives me more reason to go there," she said.

Mrs. Schrupp said she has written to her husband about once a month since he was captured by the Viet Cong May 23, 1968, and has not received any of the letters back. "I wonder what has happened to them," she said.

She heard of a letter earlier this year which was allegedly written by her husband and said: "The Vietnam people have truly showed me that they loved peace and they only wish to live in independence and freedom."

That letter is one reason she is going to Paris. She said she wants to get it if possible, or at least find out to whom it was addressed.

Mrs. Schrupp said that her 20-year veteran husband has made a career of the Army since he was 17-year-olds and "I never got this impression any of his letters before he captured."

She said her husband had been in Vietnam about five months when he was captured and was on his first tour of duty in that country. She said it was about two months before she was notified that he was a prisoner of war.

School Uses A Hitching Post

LEADORE, Idaho (AP) — You can tell it's winter at Leadore High School.

Pal and Babe aren't tied up to a hitching post behind the school any more.

Steve Clark and Randy Peterson rode their horses seven miles to school during the fall. But they've switched to the school bus now.

But the two Leadore high seniors said they'll ride their horses again next spring. They say they can make better time than by bus.

If the Shoe Fits...

BY LARRY AVERETTE

It takes only five minutes to fit a pair of shoes correctly.

But this is the most important five minutes the customer spends in our store. There can be no guesswork in the science of shoefitting - just sure, accurate fitting. Our job is to fit the shoe to the customer, not the customer to the shoe.

One essential - the shoe must hug the customer's foot. If too tight, the shoe pinches the foot, restricts the flow of blood and of ventilating air, which will cause foot fatigue and even foot damage.

If the shoe is too loose, it fails to provide foot support, and allows the foot to slide up and down in the shoe as you walk. This friction leads to reddening, soreness, blisters, and callouses.

Fashion is one thing - but the most important thing is correct shoe fit and at our store, first things come first.

A Better Downtown In Future

With the approval of Greenville's Central Business District plan by the City Council last week, our city has embarked on a long-awaited improvement project for the downtown area.

In the years ahead a better street system, more adequate parking and an Evans Street mall will take shape in downtown Greenville. More land will be provided for Sheppard Memorial Library and this already attractive area will become even more beautiful.

Business buildings will be spruced up and dull entrances to stores will become equally as attractive as the fronts.

Broken sidewalks will be replaced with new ones and patched streets will be improved. Remaining overhead electric lines will go underground and a modern and adequate street lighting system will be installed.

When the project is completed it will provide an area that is totally modern as a shopping, financial and office and institutional area.

While the Central Business District area will complement the Shore Drive redevelopment area, it is important to remember that the CBD is not a clearance project such as Shore Drive was. Rather the Redevelopment Commission will work with businesses and property owners to improve many structures that are already there. The demolition that is done will be to provide space for streets, parking areas or additional space around the library.

Second we should remember that the CBD upgrading is not something that will be done overnight. Preliminary planning has been underway for five years. Execution of the project is projected over a ten year period. In addition, if conditions change over that time the project plans can be amended.

Councilmen Percy Cox, Frank Fuller, Johnny Edwards and Jerry Sutherland deserve commendations for acting promptly to get the Central Business District plan underway. Because of their action last week we will see a steadily improving downtown area unfolding in the years ahead. This will benefit all of Greenville and persons from all over Eastern North Carolina who come here for entertainment, sports and shopping.

Our Airport Already Part Of The Jet Age

Recently two huge DC-9 Southern Airlines jets landed at Pitt-Greenville Airport, guided by the improved lighting on the north-south runway.

The planes were bringing Burroughs Wellcome employees here for a weekend orientation. Two Southern DC-9s returned here last Monday afternoon to pick up the Burroughs Wellcome people for the return trip to New York.

Last Wednesday a jet landed at the airport carrying American Cyanamid executives who were visiting their Tarboro plant.

These flights, and other recent jet landings, show that Pitt-Greenville Airport has already entered the jet age. Its improved facilities even now can handle much of the jet traffic that is flying today.

Nixon Treads On Thin Ice

By ROWLAND EVANS and ROBERT NOVAK

CHICAGO — On Chicago's northwest side where the silent majority lives, President Nixon's popularity is so tenuous - thin that it could be shredded by his first major blunder or the beginnings of effective Democratic opposition.

This conclusion is drawn from a poll - taking trip we made there in cooperation with the Oliver Quayle polling organization. Conversations with 50 registered voters showed that Mr. Nixon's election strength is at the level of 1968 when he carried the district but also that confidence in his handling of the nation's problems has eroded and is in danger of eroding still more.

Moreover, this area is composed of precisely the lower - middle to middle income ethnic white homeowners who are essential for Mr. Nixon to build his new Republican majority. Although trending toward the Republicans over the last generation, the district is still inherently Democratic and is carried handsomely in Congressional elections by Rep. Roman Pucinski, an organization Democrat.

Even though the Pucinski district is assertively non-liberal, its basic alignment remains so Democratic that liberal Adlai Stevenson III begins his race to unseat Republican Sen. Ralph Smith with a huge advantage. Our interviews showed 32 for Stevenson, 14 for Smith, and 4 undecided.

Given that background, Mr. Nixon's strength here is superficially impressive. Our polltaking (conducted with the expert help of Mrs. Ilene Evins, Quayle's Chicago supervisor) showed these results: 26 for Nixon, 18 for Hubert H. Humphrey, 4 for George Wallace, and 2 undecided. A deadlock, 23 to 23, between Mr. Nixon and Sen. Edmund Muskie can be partially discounted because of the heavy Polish concentration in the district.

Furthermore, the overall job rating given Mr. Nixon was a solid if unspectacular 51 percent, slightly below his national average. Where the facade of Nixon popularity is shattered, however, is in the item - by item breakdown of his job performance.

Amazingly, our 50 voters did not give the President a passing grade on a single major issue. Only 24 percent thought he was doing a good job holding down the high cost of living. Only 24 percent approved his handling of crime in the streets. Only 32 percent had confidence in his anti-narcotics program. Only 28 percent approved his program for the cities. Only 28 percent backed his tax reform accomplishments. Only 38 percent endorsed his handling of race relations.

The highest rating - 44 percent - came on the issue where Democratic politicians (Continued on page 6)

Cleanest Shirt In Town

WASHINGTON — Everyone talks about water pollution, but no one seems to know who started it. The history of modern water pollution in the United States dates back to Feb. 28, 1931, when Mrs. Frieda Murphy leaned over her back yard fence and said to Mrs. Sophie Holbrook, "You call those shirts white?"

Mrs. Holbrook blushed and said, "They're as white as I can get them with this ordinary laundry soap."

"What you should use is this Formula Cake soap which guarantees against the dull washday-gray look that the family wash has always had."

Skeptical but adventurous, Mrs. Holbrook tried the Formula Cake soap, which happily did take the gray out of her husband's shirts. But what Mrs. Holbrook didn't know was that after the water was drained from the tub, it emptied into the sewer, which emptied into the Blue Sky River, killing two fish.

Three years later Mrs. Murphy leaned over the fence and said to Mrs. Holbrook, "It's none of my business, but are you still using that Formula Cake soap?"

"Yes I am."

"No wonder your husband's shirts always look dirty around the collar."

"I can never get the dirt off the collar," Mrs. Holbrook cried. "You can if you use Klunk Soap Chips. They were designed especially for collar dirt. Here, you can have my box."

Mrs. Holbrook used the Klunk Soap Chips and the next time her husband put on his shirt he remarked, "How on earth did you get the collar clean?"

"That's my secret," said Mrs. Holbrook, and then she whispered to no one in particular, "and Mrs. Murphy's."

But unbeknownst to Mrs. Holbrook, the water from Klunk Soap Chips prevented any fish downstream from hatching eggs.

Four years later, Mrs. Murphy was hanging up her shirts and Mrs. Holbrook said, "How did you ever get your cuffs so white, surely not with Klunk?"

"Not ordinary Klunk," Mrs. Murphy said. "But I did did with Super Fortified Klunk with the XLP additive. You see, Super Fortified Klunk attacks dirt and destroys it. Here, try it on your shirts."

Mrs. Holbrook did and discovered her husband's shirt cuffs turned pure white. What she couldn't possibly know was that it turned the river water pure white as well.

The years went by, and poor Mrs. Murphy died. Her daughter-in-law took over the house. Mrs. Holbrook noticed how the daughter-in-law used

Other Editors Say Good Riddance

ART BUCHWALD

(The Raleigh Times) This morning's paper had some good news out of Washington: The Army will no longer keep tabs on peaceful demonstrations or publish a list of individuals who "might be involved" in a riot.

Rep. Cornelius Gallagher, New Jersey Democrat who is chairman of the House invasion of privacy subcommittee, released a letter from Army General Counsel Robert E. Jordan III, stating that all copies of the Army's civil disturbance list "have been ordered withdrawn and destroyed." The list had been published from May 14, 1968 to February 24, 1969.

Gallagher also said the Army had discontinued operation of a computer data bank which included "information and potential incidents and individuals involved in potential civil disturbance incidents." And, Gallagher has been assured that the Army won't continue to monitor such "non-events" as the candlelight antiwar procession in front of the White House last October-15.

The Army's "big-brother-is-watching-role" never should have been started in the first place. It was an invasion of privacy of millions of law-abiding and patriotic Americans, who had no way to knowing what the Army might be filing away on them. The Army's operations in this field had proved disturbing to North Carolina Senator Sam J. Ervin Jr., who had protested the activities vigorously.

Apparently this activity is a thing of the past. It should never be attempted again.

Uncle Sam Is Shadow-Boxing

By ELMER ROESSNER
So your government is going to protect you from inflation? Tut! Bosh! And a couple more tuts!

ELMER ROESSNER

The government is one of the chief causes of inflation. The Consumer Price Index rose 0.4 per cent in January, an annual rate of 4.8 per cent. On a seasonally adjusted basis, the rise was 0.6 per cent, or 7.2 per cent, at an annual rate.

One of the important reasons for the rise was the sharp increase in the cost of home ownership. That increase started on April 19, 1968, when the Johnson administration the Federal Reserve Board to increase the rediscount rate (and all other rates by chain reaction) to 5 1/2 per cent and was worsened on April 4, 1969, when the Nixon administration induced the FRB to boost the rate to 6 per cent. This has shoved the mortgage rate well above 8 per cent today.

Other Boosts

The rise in service costs was largely due to the 50 per cent increase in subway and bus fares in New York, not by the federal government but by one of the many authorities by which voters put their affairs beyond their own control. Also effective were rises in auto registration and insurance, authorized by states.

Medical care rose again, partly because the government's Medicare and Medicaid encourage doctors and hospitals to raise fees. The cost of autos was shaved in January and the February index will probably show further declines, but the higher interest rates on time payments—courtesy of Johnson and Nixon—are offsetting the advantages.

Other federal actions will boost the price index even further. The Nixon budget is planned on higher postal rates. The Department of Health, Education, and Welfare has announced the necessity of increasing Medicare fees from $4 to $5.30 a month.

More To Come

The Federal Communications Commission last week proposed 500 per cent increase in the fees and licenses broadcasters pay. Henry T. Peszko, a Greenville, N.C. private pilot, points out that the Federal Communications Commission used to issue almost all types of operator licenses free; now it charges fees. And pending in the Senate is a bill that would levy heavy taxes on the private pilot, while not diminishing airline subsidies.

Congress has not only given all government employees raises, but has helped itself to lavish increases.

All these government price increases will naturally spur union demands for high wages for the simple reason that workers will get less for their paychecks as government-nudged prices rise.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics reported, along with the January price index, that the purchasing power of the average nonsupervisory worker had dropped for the twelfth consecutive month. Real spending power of the average worker with three children, measured by the 1957-59 average, dropped 13 cents to $77.78 a week.

The loss will guarantee strikes; strikes will guarantee further rises in prices; further rises in prices will mean losses in buying power and the nation is off on another ride on the carousel.

Make your husband wait in the car, and never shop when you're hungry.

Maybe your mother never told you this, but an economist would. If you go to the grocery store with a list, and some idea of a week's worth of meals in your head, you shop smarter. If you don't believe it, follow yourself through the store trying it both ways. The first way...the normal way...is to meander along trying to think of things to fix. You draw a blank for Monday night, so you pick up some steaks. There's a special on veal, but you've never fixed it, so you pass it up for some expensive pork chops. And already you've cost yourself about $2.83. Your husband is with you. Fine yourself three more dollars because that's what it's going to cost for the little knick-knacks he puts in the cart. Furthermore, it's right before dinner time so things look good to you that normally wouldn't. In goes the double-fudge cake, and ping! goes the egg-money. Go back. You forgot your head.

PLANTERS NATIONAL BANK

Now, start with a list. Which is based on a week's worth of menus. As a matter of fact, here are the menus. And while we're up, here are the recipes. This way, you buy exactly what you need. Nothing gets wasted. Left-overs? Don't throw anything away but the food wrappers. Everything else is calculated to be used.

Stuffed Roast of Veal with Potatoes

3 pounds veal roast, bone in
1 medium onion, chopped
2 stalks celery, chopped
6 tablespoons margarine
1 teaspoon poultry seasoning
salt and pepper to taste
1 cup water
2 cups dry bread cubes
1 egg, slightly beaten few sprigs of parsley, chopped paprika
4 medium potatoes, peeled and halved cherry tomatoes

Have your butcher cut a pocket in the veal roast and crack the bone for easier carving. Cook onion and celery in 2 tablespoons of the margarine until almost tender. Add poultry seasoning, salt, pepper, and water, and bring to a boil. Add mixture to bread cubes, egg, and part of the parsley. Mix well, and then fill veal pocket with stuffing, packing firmly and then sewing or skewering opening securely. Place roast in roasting pan; spread with remaining margarine; sprinkle with salt, pepper, and paprika, and roast, uncovered, in a 325° oven for about 2 1/4 hours, basting frequently with pan juices, and adding water if pan becomes too dry. Meanwhile, cook potatoes until partially done. When meat is tender, put potatoes in pan and sprinkle with salt, pepper, and paprika; continue roasting 45 minutes longer, or until potatoes are done. Garnish with tiny cherry tomatoes and rest of parsley, and you'll need only bread to complete your meal.

Hawaiian Pork Chops

1 No. 303 can crushed pineapple (2 cups)
3 medium sweet potatoes, thinly sliced
2 tablespoons brown sugar
4 pork chops (loin)
salt and pepper to taste
4 strips of bacon

Place pineapple in a large casserole; top with sweet potato slices and sprinkle with brown sugar. Sprinkle pork chops with salt and pepper, and place on top of potatoes. Arrange strips of bacon over all. Bake, covered, in a 350° oven for about 1 hour, or until tender. Then remove cover and bake 10 minutes at 450° to brown chops and bacon.

Liver Creole

4 slices bacon
1 pound liver, sliced
2 tablespoons flour
1/2 green pepper, diced
2 cups chopped tomatoes
1/4 teaspoon cayenne
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon chili powder

Cook bacon and set aside; reserve drippings. Dredge liver in flour and brown in bacon drippings. Add remaining ingredients and bacon; then simmer, tightly covered, for about 45 minutes, until tender. Serve immediately with hot buttered spaghetti or rice, stuffed zucchini, and crusty slices of garlic-buttered Russian rye bread.

Orange-Thyme Lamb

1 boned lamb breast
1/4 teaspoon crushed thyme
1/4 cup orange juice
1/2 teaspoon shredded orange peel

1 tablespoon hot fat
salt and pepper to taste
1 two-ounce can mushroom pieces, drained
Trim excess fat from breast and cut into serving-sized pieces. Combine thyme, orange juice, and orange peel; pour over lamb and marinate for 1 hour at room temperature. Drain, reserving marinade. Brown lamb on all sides in hot fat; season with salt and pepper. Add marinade and mushrooms; then simmer, tightly covered, about 1 1/2 hours, or until tender. Uncover the last few minutes of cooking. Serve with new potatoes, creamed carrots, and a crisp green salad.

Almond Fish

2 pounds fresh fish fillets
salt to taste
4 tablespoons flour
1 cup melted margarine
1/2 cup slivered blanched almonds
1/2 cup cream or half-and-half
1/4 cup chopped parsley

Sprinkle fish with salt to taste; then coat on all sides with flour. Sauté in melted margarine until golden brown on both sides. The fish should flake easily to the fork, but do not overcook. Remove fish to a hot platter and keep warm. Cook the almonds in remaining margarine, stirring constantly until they are golden; then stir in cream and cook for 2 or 3 minutes more, again stirring constantly. Pour sauce over fillets and sprinkle with parsley before serving.

Spanish Steak

1 1/2 pounds round steak,
1 inch thick
pepper to taste
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 medium onion, minced
1 small green pepper, minced
1/2 cup chopped green olives
1 two-ounce can mushroom pieces, drained
2 cups tomato sauce
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1 bay leaf

Place steak in a shallow baking pan; sprinkle meat with pepper and 1/2 teaspoon salt. Top with minced onion and green pepper, olives, and mushrooms. Combine tomato sauce, lemon juice, bay leaf, and rest of salt, and heat thoroughly; then pour over meat and vegetable mixture. Bake in a 400° oven for 5 minutes; then reduce heat to 325° and continue baking for 1 to 1 1/2 hours, or until tender.

Barbecued Chicken

Chicken:
2 pounds chicken parts
melted fat

Brush chicken with melted fat and place on a heated broiling rack, skin side up. Broil about 5 inches from flame for 15 minutes, turn, brush with fat and broil on other side; then turn again, skin-side up.

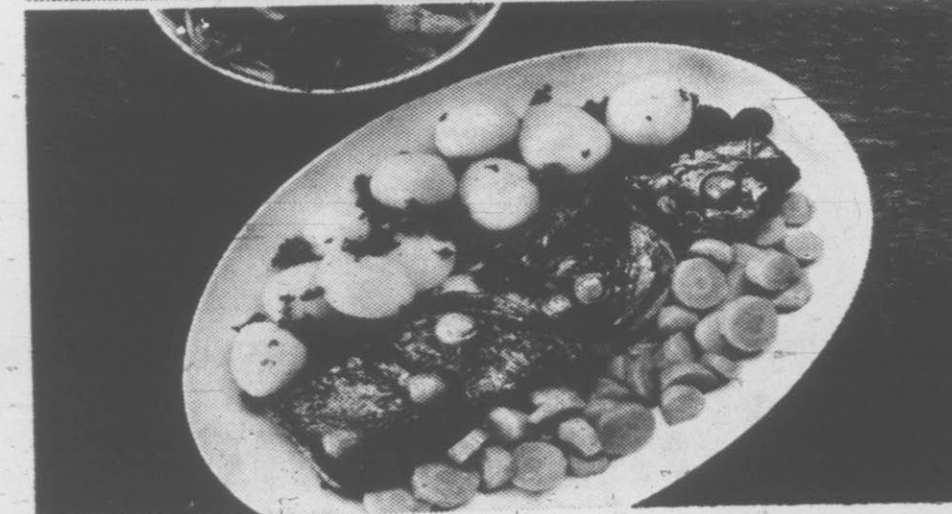

Sauce:

1/4 cup cider vinegar
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
dash of paprika
1 tablespoon tomato paste
1/2 teaspoon onion powder
1/4 teaspoon garlic salt
1/2 cup melted fat

During entire cooking time, baste with a sauce made by simmering the balance of the ingredients for twenty minutes over a low flame. This is a fix-ahead dish that is delicious either piping hot or icy cold.

See? Already you're eating better, spending less, and feeling smarter about the whole thing. And if it worked for a week, it'll work for a year. As a matter of fact, these menus came out of a book with a year's worth of good, inexpensive meals all planned for you. It normally costs $1.00. But if you write Planters National Bank, Box 1220, Rocky Mount, N.C., we'll send it to you for 60¢ just to get you started.

And that's the whole point... just getting started. Because once you do, you'll find ways to do more with your money in every area. And we'll help by passing along any money-saving ideas we have. Expect Soaring Coffee Prices

By DON KENDALL
AP Farm Writer
WASHINGTON (AP)—Retail coffee prices are expected to soar this year and may cut even deeper into American consumption of the country's favorite brew, government and industry experts say.

Average prices already have climbed to the highest levels in a dozen years and the ceiling is not in sight. The Bureau of Labor Statistics said retail coffee prices last month averaged 82.5 cents a pound, up more than two cents from December.

A year earlier the BLS average was 76.2 cents. And for all of 1969 the average price was 76.5 cents, only one-tenth of a cent more than in 1968.

But a killing frost last July in Brazil, the world's chief exporter, severely damaged trees which produce coffee beans.

The Agriculture Department says newly planted trees will not be ready for production until about 1975. Meantime, the experts say, world coffee supplies will be tight.

No one is predicting that prices will climb to the $1.23 per pound housewives paid in August 1954, but one official guessed the average could be near $1 per pound by next winter if current conditions persist.

An industry official, representing the Pan American Coffee Bureau, called the recent price increases a "psychological scare" resulting from the freeze last year in Brazil.

The coffee trade says retail prices generally have declined since the 1958 average of 84.6 cents a pound. The low mark was 67.4 cents in 1962, when the International Coffee Agreement was put forth to help with marketings and iron out price fluctuations.

Meantime, according to Pan American Coffee Bureau surveys, American per capita coffee drinking is shrinking.

In 1962, officials said Americans over 10 years of age drank an average of 3.12 cups a day. Last year Americans averaged only 2.68 cups of coffee per day, only one-third of a cup more than the all-time low of 2.38 cups in 1950—another period of high prices.

One reason, says a trade spokesman, is that Americans are using less coffee per cup. This began during the high price era of 20 years ago when housewives, hotels and restaurants perked less coffee longer to make more brew for more people.

"They got to liking it that way," the official said. "We recommend making 40 to 45 cups from a pound of coffee. Now they're making 70 to 75 cups—they're just drinking more water."

Also, he said, surveys indicate young people are not turning to coffee as rapidly as did their parents.

"They're on a soft drink kick right now," the spokesman said.

to always sing as she hung up her wash.

"Why do you always sing?" asked Mrs. Holbrook.

"Because of this New Dynamite detergent. It literally dynamites my clothes clean. Here, try it, and then let's go to a movie, since Dynamite detergent takes the drudgery out of washing."

Six months later the Blue Sky River was declared a health hazard.

Finally, last year Mrs. Murphy's daughter-in-law called over to Mrs. Holbrook. "Have you heard about Zap, the enzyme giant killer?"

A few days later, as Mr. Holbrook was walking home from work, he accidentally fell into the Blue Sky River, swallowed a mouthful of water and died immediately.

At the funeral services the minister said, "You can say anything you want about Holbrook, but no one can deny he had the cleanest shirts in town."

Cars Collided Here Saturday

An estimated $1,100 damage resulted from a two-vehicle collision Saturday afternoon at the intersection of Chestnut Street and Raleigh Avenue about 4 o'clock.

Drivers involved in the mishap were identified as Thurmond Decator Vincent, 66 of 214 Arlington Dr. and Morris Aulander Simpson, 34-year-old Negro of Route 1, Winterville.

Police set damages at $700 to the Vincent auto and $400 to the Simpson car and charged Simpson with failing to reduce his speed enough to avoid an accident.

have concentrated most fire: Vietnam. But even here are seeds of disaster for Mr. Nixon. With hawk sentiment almost completely gone in a neighborhood where it was once intense, the voters interviewed indicated they would support the President only so long as he kept pulling out the troops.

Indeed, defections are already appearing. A television repairman, a Democrat who voted Republican in 1968, is disillusioned by the President's failure to end the Vietnam war or slow down inflation. "I voted for Nixon only to see what he would do," he told us, "but he has done no better than the Democrats." As a result he plans to return to the Democrats in 1972.

Similarly, another Democrat—a Chicago city police officer—is sorry about his 1968 vote for Mr. Nixon. "He hasn't kept his word on reducing crime in the streets," said the policeman, adding he will switch to Wallace.

What has held down such defections among our 50 voters is a new skepticism about anybody's ability to be a good President—a fatalistic hangover from the dreary LBJ days.

"This job is too damn big," said a retired bricklayer, a Democrat—for Nixon. "So much comes to his attention. How can he possibly manage?" The young wife of a carpenter was bitter about Mr. Nixon's Vietnam policy, yet added: "I guess he really inherited a mess from Johnson." Typically, friend and foe alike commented that "he's trying" or "he's doing the best he can."

Report Theft

From Machines

An estimated $250 in change was taken from coin operated vending machines and a change machine at Aycock dormitory on the East Carolina University during last night.

Officers said someone forced open the machines located in the dorm's canteen.

The theft was discovered about 4:30 a.m. today. Investigation of the incident is under way.

ECU Invited Join In 'Business Game'

East Carolina is one of 40 universities from throughout the United States and Canada to match skills in the annual "Intercollegiate Business Game" competition of Emory University in Atlanta.

For the fourth year, ECU's School of Business has entered a team in the competition, which concludes with a trip to Atlanta.

Utilizing computer simulation techniques, the game provides the business student an opportunity to manage a company in a dynamic situation, testing his skills in the functional areas of finance, marketing and production. Depicting actual industry conditions, the game creates a business situation in which the student applies the functional principles he studies in his many business courses. The ECU team, with faculty advisors Leland Gustafson and William Kehoe, have met twice a week, making 10 business decisions at each meeting. The decisions are programmed for conditions in an actual industry. The team will go to Atlanta early in March to present the results of

Plans For Hunger-Relief And Welfare Await Senate Airing

WASHINGTON (AP) — Several Democratic sponsored welfare and hunger-relief plans get a Senate airing this week in the wake of unexpected action in the House boosting chances for President Nixon's own welfare proposal. Public hearings before Sen. George McGovern's Committee on Nutrition and Human Needs, opening today, will focus on plans the South Dakota Democrat says are intended to put a floor under family income and provide enough money for every family in the nation to have an adequate diet.

Among McGovern's witnesses called to testify on the "hunger and nutrition gap," is the Rev. Jesse Jackson, a top aide in the Poor People's Campaign of the late Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., and national director of Operation Breadbasket.

New York City Mayor John V. Lindsay is scheduled to testify Tuesday.

McGovern has promoted his own "human security plan" as a multistep measure for fighting poverty, including as a key element a guaranteed monthly payment of at least $50 for every American child.

The Nixon proposal, which emerged last week from the House Ways and Means Committee after languishing since August, calls, among other things, for a guaranteed family income of at least $1,600 a year.

McGovern's hearings are seen by some Capitol observers as an accepting-the-challenge response to the Republican administration's contentions that critics of its welfare ideas never offer workable alternatives.

McGovern said his plan would cost some $10 billion the first year, compared with the administration's allowance of $4 billion.

But he said the payments for children, to be accomplished through the elimination of personal tax exemptions, would all but end poverty among families with children.

"It would also provide a critical boost in the income of middle American families," he said.

The McGovern plan calls also for a guaranteed job for every able-bodied citizen of working age, improvements in the Social Security system, and a scaled-down Public Assistance welfare plan to provide income for those unable to work.

The Nixon program covers the working poor as well as families without a breadwinner. It would use food stamps to give a family of four an effective income of $2,400 annually. And it would allow states to provide additional help, with the federal government paying 30 per cent of the extra cost, up to a pre-set level.

The plan would also require able-bodied adults to register for job or job training and would provide day-care centers to provide an incentive for a mother to obtain work.

Police List 3 Traffic Accidents Here Sunday

An estimated $975 property damage resulted from three mishaps investigated Sunday by Greenville police.

Officers reported David Lee Williams, 22, of 405B Elks St. was injured when a car he was driving struck a fence and overturned on Garland Street, 100 feet South of the Howell Street intersection about 1:19 a.m.

Police set damage to the Williams car at $350 and charged him with careless and reckless driving.

Florence M. Manning, 24, of 109 East Mumford Rd. was charged with operating under the influence following investigation of a 9:25 p.m. collision on Myrtle Avenue, 40 feet East of the Raleigh Avenue intersection.

Police reported the Manning vehicle collided with a parked car owned by Lonnie Rouse Turner of Falkland.

Damage to the vehicles was set at $200 each.

No charges were placed in the third mishap which occurred about 7:03 p.m. at the intersection of Memorial Drive and Fairland Road.

Investigators said a car driven by Kay Lassiter Carroll, 25, of Route 3, Greenville struck a sign post at the intersection causing an estimated $200 damage to her car and about $25 damage to the sign.

Said Beaten And Robbed

Police today are continuing their investigation into an alleged robbery incident that occurred here sometime after 11:30 p.m. Friday night.

According to Chief T. E. Gladson, William T. Angle, 23, of Greenville reported to police at 12:15 a.m. Saturday that he had been beaten and robbed by "three or four" men.

Angle said he had come out of a night-spot near the Fourth and Cotanche Streets intersection after 11:30 p.m. Friday, gotten into his car, and then was accosted by a Negro who pulled a pistol on him and ordered him to drive to an alley behind the Roxie Theater on Albemarle Avenue. Angle was quoted as saying he was followed by another car to the location.

After pulling into the alley, Angle told officers he was beaten by the group on Negroes who then took his watch and billfold. The billfold contained $41, he said.

Angle was taken to Pitt Memorial Hospital for treatment of an eye injury and abrasions.

Geographic Split Added

By PATRICK O'KEEFE
VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Vatican is being split in two geographically, and the split falls largely along ideological lines. Some liberals don't think that's a coincidence.

On orders drawn up in the Secretariat of State and approved by Pope Paul VI, Vatican bodies created during and since the second Vatican Ecumenical Council are being relocated at some distance from Vatican City.

"Reasons of space" is the official explanation for the moves. But some liberal clerics working for the Vatican consider it an attempt by conservatives to isolate the new Vatican organs from the rest of the Roman Curia.

The new bodies, such as the Secretariat for Nonbelievers, hold a preponderance of moderates and liberals. The old bodies, such as the Congregation for the Doctrine of the Faith, are run largely by conservatives.

Vatican organs currently located in the new quarters—the sprawling four-story San Calistus Palace in Rome's colorful Trastevere quarter—are the Commission of Justice and Peace and the Council for the Laity, both originally located there; the Secretariat for Non-Christian Religions, moved there from quarters near St. Peter's Square three weeks ago, and the Secretariat for Nonbelievers, moved this week.

An attempt was made to relocate the Secretariat for Christian Unity to San Calistus but the staff declined to move.

Conservative thinking, one liberal asserted, came down to this: "To make sure you're not infected by the Council, put any of the germs that may be around, or those carrying them, in quarantine."

It is a comfortable quarantine, however. The San Calistus Palace has spacious, high-ceilinged rooms and corridors.

No announcements were made about the transfers, but a prelate in the Vatican's Territorial Administrative Office said the moves were initiated by the secretariat of state and approved by Pope Paul.

Msgr. Renzo Frana of the secretariat of state denied that any controversy was involved. "This was a purely logistical move. They needed more space."

Building Costs Vary

WASHINGTON (AP) — A frame house built for $20,000 in Charleston, S.C., would cost you $40,206 to duplicate in Fairbanks, Alaska.

A building cost index published by the Boeckh Division of the American Appraisal Co. of Milwaukee, Wis., for late 1969, pinpoints those as the low-cost and high-cost areas for construction among 99 U. S. cities and metropolitan areas surveyed.

On a national average, the Boeckh Index showed, the $20,000 Charleston house would cost $26,922. In all cases, the price is solely for construction and does not include land, mortgage, closing or other costs which may vary greatly from city to city without relation to construction costs.

Here is what the Charleston frame house would cost in 20 other selected cities:

Richmond, Va.	$21,818
Birmingham, Ala.	$22,106
Portland, Maine	$23,290
New Orleans, La.	$23,657

Law Confuses Kentucky Law

FRANKFURT, Ky. (AP) — Present confusion over the Sunday-closing laws in Kentucky could probably be summed up by a statement in a 1914 state Court of Appeals decision on the problem.

"The law regards that as necessary which the common sense of the country, in its ordinary mode of doing business, regards as being necessary."

Opines Automated Battlefield 'Near'

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — U.S. Army Chief of Staff Gen. William C. Westmoreland says this country's ground forces are on the verge of a new concept that will bring "automated" battlefields complete with maximum utilization of firepower and mobility.

"The Army of the 70s will fight within an integrated battlefield control system that exploits the advanced technology of firepower, communications, sensors and automatic data processing," he predicted here Saturday. "We will be able to destroy anything we locate..."

Westmoreland's comments came during a news conference and speech at the 22nd annual conference of the National Guard Association of Georgia.

He also: —Said he does not intend to testify at the upcoming hearing and trial of Lt. William L. Calley Jr., charged with slaying 102 civilians at the Vietnamese village of My Lai in March 1968. —Denied published accounts that he is considering retirement from the Army to become head of The Citadel, a South Carolina military college he once attended.

—Rejected as "inconceivable" a proposal that the United States form an all-volunteer military force by 1971.

—And said he believes "austere" military budgets, such as the one presently offered by President Richard M. Nixon, will continue throughout much of the next decade.

Flu Apparently Has Seen Peak

ATLANTA (AP) — Although a few sections of the United States are still experiencing significant influenza activity, this winter's flu seems to have peaked in many parts of the nation, the National Communicable Disease Center reports.

In its weekly report Saturday, the NCDC said Mississippi reported more cases of influenza-like illness during the week ending Feb. 21 than at any other time since 1958.

The flu was still considerably active in Maine, Virginia, Tennessee and Kentucky.

Iceland was not settled by the Scandinavians until late in the 9th century.

Woody's Ramblin's

By WOODY PEELE

The basketball season for East Carolina University came to an abrupt end Thursday night around 9:45 p.m. It left the shattered dreams of the Pirates lying among the trash in Charlotte Coliseum.

There was nothing Coach Tom Quinn could do. There is nothing any coach can do inside the brains of his players. This was where the trouble was. Mental preparation is something a coach cannot guarantee. If the players look beyond the game to another all the talk in the world will not change them.

This is what happened to East Carolina. They were in Charlotte for one reason only, to play Davidson for the title. But they forgot that they had to play Richmond first.

Oddly enough, Quinn had felt that the Bucs were least likely to be looking ahead against Richmond. The Spiders had shown they could beat the Bucs, and they were listed as being among the most dangerous of the others in the league.

But the team did not respond to this. They were ready for only one thing; Saturday's finals. Unfortunately, they didn't make it to the finals.

Attendance at the final game of the tournament Saturday night, was a slim 7,000-plus. The Charlotte Coliseum, in a town of 200,000-plus, seats over 11,000. And the crowd was the biggest of the event. Only some 2,000 showed up for the first round, and some 4,000 were there for the first night's games. About 6,000 showed up on Friday for the semi-finals.

Officials wonder whether the fact that the Atlantic Coast Conference Tournament will be in Charlotte this week is a key factor in this. The ACC moves to Greensboro next year, so a valid test of this theory will be given.

If the tournament is back in Charlotte next year, and attendance is still poor, it should be moved. There are several other players who are anxious for a change at the tournament. They should be given one.

It seems hardly fair that Rose High School should be seeded fourth in the District II tournament opening tonight in Wilson. The Rampants lost a toss of the coin to Wilson for third seeding after the two finished with 5-5 records.

Rose defeated Wilson in both of their meetings in regular season. The coin toss rule has practically been abandoned everywhere for seeding purposes. Only in extreme cases is this method used.

Normally, a conference gives the seeding to the team which defeated the other twice during the regular season. If the two split, the team with the biggest victory margin gets the seeding. If there is a further tie, then the coin toss is used.

Such a method should have been used by the Division II officials to maintain the fairness of the pairings.

NORTH ADAMS, Mass. (AP) — New England welterweight boxing champion Al Romano of North Adams has had his long unbeaten string snapped.

Hogan "Kid" Bassey of Jamaica floored Romano twice en route to a unanimous 10-round decision in a nontitle fight Saturday night. The loss was Romano's first in 26 pro bouts.

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The world champion Kansas City Chiefs announced today they will play the Atlanta Falcons in a preseason pro football game Saturday night, Aug. 29, at Atlanta Stadium.

JACKSON, N.H. (AP) — Jim Gerstang of Massachusetts captured individual honors in leading the Redmen to a giant slalom team victory Sunday in the Osborne Division of the New England Intercollegiate Ski Conference.

Gerstang had a total time of 163 seconds for two runs on the 62-gate course at Wildcat Mountain, helping Massachusetts to a low score of 671.1.

Maloy Chosen MVP

CHARLOTTE, N. C. (AP) — Mike Maloy of Davidson's champions was named for a third straight year to the Southern Conference All-Tournament basketball team announced today.

He was chosen by newsmen attending the weekend tournament at Charlotte, won by Davidson for the third year in a row.

Maloy, named Most Valuable Player of the tournament for second time in three years, was joined on the first team by two other Davidson seniors, Jerry Kroll and Doug Cook. Cook and Kroll were named to the first team last year and the second team two years ago.

Rounding out the first five were Picot Frazier of runnerup Richmond and Joe Brunson of first round loser Furman. Brunson scored 29 points and grabbed 18 rebounds in his team's first round loss to William and Mary.

Mike Maloy

Davidson's Mike Maloy is all smiles after receiving the most valuable player award after the final game of the Southern Conference Tournament Saturday night. Davidson downed Richmond 81-61 to capture the championship for the third year in a row.

Mike Hill Wins Doral

By HUBERT MIZELL

Associated Press Sports Writer
MIAVI&(AP) — Little Jackson, Mich., has long been famous as the site of the Michigan State Prison and as hometown to golf star Dave Hill. Now there's a new Hill in town.

Mike "Don't Call Me Dave" Hill pulled alongside his brother Sunday as a golfer of note by bagging the Doral Open Golf tournament and its $30,000 top money.

This fellow Mike is 31 years old, looks 21 and talks like he is 61. In the moment of his first great triumph, Hill No. 2 spoke of retirement.

"I was raised in a farming area and would like nothing better than to settle down on a spread of my own," said Mike. "I've seen this pro tour fray many a man's nerves. When that happens to me, I'm gone."

Hill grinned and said, "I guess I might have added a couple of acres with this $30,000 check."

Things haven't come easy for Mike. He tried twice to pass the golf tour's entrance exams at the PGA National Golf Club in Palm Beach Gardens, Fla., and twice he missed by one stroke. Hill survived the third time around 22 months ago.

Mike began Sunday's final round at Doral with a three-shot lead. He once dropped into a three-way deadlock but stormed back to win by four over Jim Colbert, a 165-pound former Kansas State football halfback.

"I didn't start matching myself against anybody until it was Colbert and me," said Hill. "I had a three-stroke lead then and decided to play for pars. If he could make three birdies in five holes on this course, Jim deserved to catch me."

Hill was calm as he picked up the check that nearly doubles his $16,239 earnings of last year. "I won't feel the true impact until Monday morning," he said. "I'm so pumped up now I'm numb."

Mike fired rounds of 70-69-69-71 for his nine-under par total of 279. He plans to lay around the plush Doral site for a couple of days, but won't play golf.

"I figure that I've licked this tough course to the tune of nine under par for four days," he said. "Well, I'm just going to let it lie until this time next year."

Bruins, Texas El Paso Win Way Into NCAA

By HERSCHEL NISSENSEN

Associated Press Writer

Two familiar faces—UCLA and Texas-El Paso—were among seven teams that won their way into the NCAA Basketball Tournament over the weekend.

The once-beaten and second-ranked Bruins, going for their fourth consecutive national championship, nailed down the Pacific Eight crown by routing California 109-95.

Actually, UCLA has won five of the last six NCAA tournaments. The only intruder was Texas-El Paso, then known as Texas Western, in 1966. The Miners gained one of the 25 berths Saturday by edging Utah 83-82 for the Western Athletic Conference title.

The other five conference champs to make it were Iowa in the Big Ten, Davidson in the Southern, Ohio U. in the Mid-American, Rice in the South-west and Temple in the Middle Atlantic.

Previous entrants were St. Bonaventure, Penn. Niagara, Villanova, Notre Dame, Western Kentucky, Jacksonville, Kentucky, Houston, Dayton, New Mexico State, Kansas State, Weber State, Long Beach State and Utah.

Three spots remain to be filled. Drake can take Missouri Valley laurels by beating St. Louis on Thursday, Santa Clara and Pacific are tied for the West Coast A.C. lead with two games left and the powerful Atlantic Coast Conference holds its post-season tournament next weekend to determine a representative.

Before UCLA begins NCAA play, the Bruins must play two games with Southern California. The games are meaningless, but the Bruins handed UCLA its only setback last season and the Bruins haven't forgotten.

UCLA meets the winner of the Weber State-Long Beach game in the West Regionals, March 12 and you can bet Coach John Wooden is thinking about that one.

Iowa, ranked ninth, withstood a Big Ten record 61 points by Purdue's Rick Mount and nipped the defending champs 108-107 on John Johnson's corner jump shot with 27 seconds left. It was the Hawkeyes' 14th consecutive victory.

Davidson won the Southern Conference tourney by trouncing Richmond 81-61. Ohio U. shaded Bowling Green 77-76 in the Mid-American showdown on two free throws by Tom Corde with seven seconds remaining and Temple, last season's National Invitation Tournament winner, beat St. Joseph's 63-59 for Middle Atlantic honors.

Rice nailed down the SWC title with an 82-73 decision over Texas Christian while Texas A&M and Texas Tech both lost. NCAA first-round play gets under way next Saturday.

The NIT, with four of its 16 berths filled, will name some more teams today. Likely picks include Army and Duquesne, but the NIT will draw some attractive teams from the Missouri Valley and Atlantic Coast also-rans.

In other weekend action, top-ranked Kentucky got by Vanderbilt 90-86 behind Dan Issel's 31 points; No. 3 St. Bonaventure crushed Niagara 104-68; No. 4 South Carolina drubbed North Carolina State 85-69; fifth-ranked New Mexico State defeated Utah State 104-92.

Pitt Has Three Teams In District

Pitt County will have three representatives at the District I Basketball Tournament, which opens tonight at Christenberry Gym on the campus of East Carolina University.

Regular season champion Bethel, and tournament champs Stokes will be there, along with Belvoir, who was selected to occupy the Berth at Large, by a committee of four in charge of making the pairings for the tournament, which will decide who will represent the district at the state Class A championships, to be held in Raleigh next week.

The committee, composed of Walter Latham, principal of Bethel High School, Jack Wallace, of Bath, Arthur Dempsey of Jamesville, and Walter Fulcher of Knapp, selected one team to hold the Berth at Large, based on the teams season record, and general performance during the season.

It has been five years since Pitt County had three teams represented in the District Tournament, according to Latham. Tonight's schedule calls for Bethel to meet Pantego at 7:00, while Jamesville will take on Columbia at 8:30.

Tuesday night, Camden will go after Belvoir at 7:00, and Stokes will play Aurora at 8:30.

The Winners of the Monday night games will meet Wednesday night at 7:00, and the victors of the Tuesday night game's will play at 8:30 on Wednesday, deciding the two teams that will meet in the finals, to be held Thursday night at 8:00.

Hylton Wins Richmond

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) —

James Hylton of Inman, S. C., has survived a duel down the stretch with Richard Petty of Randleman, N. C., for his first victory in a NASCAR Grand National stock car race.

Hylton, driving a 1969 Ford, took the lead on the 341st lap Sunday when Bobby Isaac went to the pits to have a leaking oil line replaced, and stayed there the rest of the way to finish half a lap in front of Petty in the Richmond 500.

Making his first start in a 1970 Roadrunner since he rejoined Plymouth, Petty made up 2½ laps on Hylton but couldn't quite catch him. Hylton had an average speed of 82.044 miles per hour for the 500 laps.

Petty had started on the pole after setting a record of 89.127 m.p.h. in Saturday's qualifying trials over the nine-sixteenths mile paved track.

Elmo Langley of Charlotte, N. C., driving a 1969 Ford, finished third and Isaac—who lost 16 laps while his 1970 Dodge was being repaired—was fourth.

Pairings For ACC Tournament Set

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The pairings for Thursday's first round of the Atlantic Coast Conference basketball tournament in Charlotte, N. C., matches higher seeded teams with lower ranked opponents they have beaten at least twice in the regular season.

Top-seeded South Carolina, ranked fourth in the nation, meets No. 8 Clemson at 1:30 p.m., second-seeded North Carolina plays seventh-place Virginia at 3:30 p.m., North Carolina State, seeded third, battles No. 6 Maryland at 7 p.m. and fourth-place Duke and fifth-seeded Wake Forest meet at 9 p.m.

In earlier games this season, South Carolina swept over Clemson 97-79 and 99-52, North Carolina downed Virginia 80-76 and 87-72, N. C. State topped Maryland 91-57 and 64-54, and Duke has knocked off Wake Forest 98-90, 78-72 and 67-65.

Wake Forest and the Blue Devils met in an extra game this season which did not count in the league standings.

The winners Thursday advance to the semifinals Friday night, and the playoff champion goes on to the NCAA Eastern Regionals at Columbia, S. C., for a crack at the national title. The first and fourth game pairings had been previously decided, but the others were set as a result of Saturday games. South Carolina's 85-69 sweep over N. C. State Saturday night put the Wolfpack in a tie with North Carolina for second place. However, second seeding went to the Tar Heels because of two previous victories over N. C. State.

Maryland's 79-71 victory Saturday over Virginia gave the Terps their sixth seeding. Had Virginia won, the Cavaliers would have advanced to a tie with the Terps and gained the seeding since they had beaten Maryland last month.

A 91-83 victory by Duke over archrival North Carolina kept the Tar Heels from sole possession of second place, although a Tar Heel victory would not have changed the seedings.

The Blue Devils mastered North Carolina with a blazing 62.2 field goal accuracy percentage. Brad Evans also held North Carolina's principal scorer, Charlie Scott, to a subpar 17 points.

Meanwhile, Duke's Randy Denton popped in 26 points, while Dennis Wuyck led the Tar Heels with 22 points. Duke took the lead for good late in the first half and widened the edge to as many as 13 points.

South Carolina's victory completed the Gamecock sweep of the conference and gave them a perfect league record for the season — a feat unmatched since Duke finished 14-0 in 1963.

As usual, South Carolina's chief scorer was John Roche who contributed 31 points, while N. C. State's leading point-getter was Vann Williford with 19.

The Gamecocks outscored N. C. State 33-23 in the first half and 52-46 in the second. N. C.

State stars Paul Coder and Rick Anheuser fouled out in the final period.

Clemson pulled the surprise of the day with a 105-95 triumph over visiting Wake Forest. The Tigers trailed by 13 points at halftime, but rallied behind a 23-point spurt by Butch Zatezalo.

The senior guard scored all but two of his 25 points after intermission, while accurate free throw shooting kept the Tigers out front. It was the final regular season game for Clemson Coach Bobby Roberts, who had announced his resignation.

Miami Takes Cougars, 109-99

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Rick Barry scored a near-record 55 points Sunday, but none of the Washington Caps could find the basket in the final 1½ crucial minutes.

The result was a 137-128 triumph for the Denver Rockets, their seventh consecutive American Basketball Association victory. The Rockets took a two-game Western Division lead over Dallas, which lost to the New York Nets 128-111. The Rockets and Caps meet Tuesday night in Dallas.

Barry sank 20 of 38 shots as he fell two points short of Connie Hawkins' ABA record. Washington narrowed a 14-point deficit to 133-128 with 1½ minutes left but failed to score another point.

Mizelle Speaks Tonight

Wilmer "Vinegar Bend" Mizelle, former major league great, and now a North Carolina Congressman, will speak tonight at the annual Batters Up Conference on the campus of East Carolina University.

The conference, attended by baseball coaches of the Southern and Atlantic Coast Conferences, along with major league scouts, kicks off the basketball season for the two conferences every year.

Larry Jones paced Denver with 34 points and Spencer Haywood had 31, along with 16 rebounds.

In other games, Los Angeles upset Indiana 108-105, Pittsburgh beat Kentucky 119-109 and Miami turned back Carolina 109-99.

Reserve guard Bob Warren scored 14 of his 19 points in the fourth period, rallying Los Angeles, cellar-dwellers in the West, to victory over Indiana's Eastern front-runners. George Stone led the Stars with 22 points while Bob Netolicky and Mel Daniels had 27 apiece for the losers.

Stew Johnson scored 25 points and put Pittsburgh in front of Kentucky to stay with less than five minutes remaining. Lou Dampier was high for the Colonels with 33.

The Nets edged back into third place in the East, one percentage point ahead of Carolina.

Dierker Won't Budge

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer
These are the times that try a holdout's willpower.

He sees television reports of his teammates working out in Florida or Arizona sunshine while outside, winter is taking its last swings and connecting regularly. The general manager says his last offer is final—"take it or leave it." And some rookie is filling in for him and looking pretty good.

But the holdout is adamant. And if you want to know why, just listen to one of this year's most stubborn cases, Houston's Larry Dierker, a 20-game winner last year.

"Every year," says Dierker, "almost every ball player you talk to says he signed for such-and-such a figure, but that he could have signed for more except he didn't want to go through all that rigamarole."

"Two or three thousand dollars may not seem like much over one season, until you start adding things up. Say you play for 10 years. Three-thousand a year over that period amounts to $30,000 and that is something. If you let them do it to you, then you're cutting your own throat."

Dierker is reportedly aiming for a $20,000 raise to about $50,000 but Astro GM Spec Richardson would like to get him for less.

"He won't budge," says Dierker of his negotiations with Richardson, "and I won't either."

Richardson is also locked in salary struggles with outfielders Jim Wynn and Tommy Davis who, like Dierker and several other name stars, became classified as holdouts Sunday—the official reporting date for spring training.

Baltimore also has a trio of dissatisfied front-liners and they are farther apart than the $2-3,000 Dierker talks about. Slugger Boog Powell, bidding for $75,000, and infielder Dave Johnson, who wants $35,000, are both about $10,000 higher than the club cares to go. Dave McNally, a 20-game winner, wants $70,000 but the Orioles are willing to pay only $62,500.

Washington's Frank Howard, who is usually one of the last players to agree to terms, is sitting at home in Green Bay, Wis., waiting for the Senators to agree to pay him 115,000 per year for each of the next two seasons. Another slugger, Oakland's Reggie Jackson, is also waiting for a better offer.

The Atlanta Braves want to trim the $83,000 they paid Orlando Cepeda last year but the big first baseman thinks he ought to get a raise to about $90,000 and these two parties remain at an impasse.

St. Louis is still trying to get Rich Allen's $140,000 demand down to reasonable terms and GM Bing Devine also has a problem in left-hander Steve Carlton, who wants $43,000.

Cincinnati still has headaches with pitcher Jim Maloney and infielders Tommy Helms and Tony Perez. The Reds, who had offered Maloney a conditional contract which depended on the number of innings he pitched, backed down from that position Sunday. But the big pitcher still turned down their latest offer.

Busby Berkeley Years For Return To Musicals

By BOB THOMAS
Associated Press Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Busby Berkeley was proud to be here for the premiere of two of his Depression-year musical extravaganzas. But he would rather be making new ones.

Buzz and his lovely wife came up from their Palm Desert home for the opening of "Gold Diggers of 1935" and "Footlight Parade," for which he created the dazzling musical numbers with 100 gorgeous girls. United Artists is bringing back the films to cash in on the high-camp craze which has brought Berkeley more attention than he has known in years.

He loves it. He especially enjoyed getting acquainted again with the 30 middle-aged matrons who once were Busby Berkeley girls. They showed up at the premiere to greet their old boss and enjoy reliving those happy days at Warner Brothers.

Before heading back to the desert, Berkeley reflected on the past and his hopes for the future.

"You know, if someone came along today and made a 'Gold Diggers of 1970' he'd make himself a bloody fortune. And I'd like to do it. Wow—what I could do with wide screen and color! I didn't have those things back in the Thirties. I had to stage the numbers in black-and-white on a normal screen."

"Yes, I know the studios are down on musicals because they cost too much money. But they don't have to. I hear 'Hello, Dolly' cost $20 million. I could have made it for $10 million. If they had just given me the chance."

Berkeley's films were considered lavish in their day, but all of the expense appeared on the screen; there was no waste. He dreamed up the idea for a musical number, then drilled his dancers—"This was in the days before the Guild and sometimes I'd work the girls until four in the morning."

He usually came in on schedule. The all-star "42nd Street," with five big numbers, cost only $343,000.

"One of the problems with movie musicals today," Berkeley added, "is that the studios won't take a chance on original stories. They wait until a hit shows up on Broadway, and they buy it."

"Hell, in my day the story was the least important thing. What we wanted to know was, who's going to write the score? It was the songs that sold the pictures. Now it's the reverse. They concentrate on the story. I think that's wrong."

Berkeley has no favorite among his films (he began as a dance director, later directed all of the film). He does have a favorite number: "The Lullaby of Broadway" for "Gold Diggers of 1935."

His last film was the 1963 "Jumbo," for which he staged all the musical numbers. Since then he has been living on the desert, playing some golf—and waiting for the phone to ring.

"I haven't been idle," he declared. "I keep getting ideas for numbers all the time. I develop them and file them away for future use."

One thing displeases him about today's films: the trend to nudity. "I never went in for it," he said. "Oh, in 'Fashions of 1937,' I had the girls do a fan number in G-strings and bras. But you didn't see anything. If you know your business, you don't need nudity. You can be sexy without it."

Exchanging Seed Data

MINNEAPOLIS (UPI) — An American company is trading secrets with Russia in the hope it will help the entire world.

Scientists of Cargill, Inc. and plant breeders in Russia have agreed to trade "seed secrets" years before the improved varieties are finally tested and released to farmers in their own areas. Previously seed men in this country could not obtain new seeds until long after they had been released in Russia.

Cargill, an international farm products firm with plant breeding stations throughout the world, said it expects to obtain Russian samples of wheat and sunflowers for planting this year. Early sharing of seed materials between the two countries could result in higher yielding grains to feed the world's hungry.

Russia Told Of China Build-Up

MOSCOW (AP) — A Soviet political journal said today that Communist China is building airfields, ammunition dumps and new highways near the Soviet border as part of a campaign of war hysteria.

The magazine Novoye Vremya reported the buildup is "intensive" and is concentrated in Chinese provinces near the border.

The article said the increasing emphasis on military propaganda in China can be explained partly by internal unrest but added that "it would be a mistake to believe it is connected only with domestic affairs."

NewResponseTo Jewish Values

NEW YORK (AP) — On the basis of reports from synagogues across the country, the president of the Jewish Theological Seminary of America says there is a "reviving interest" among Jewish youth in religious values.

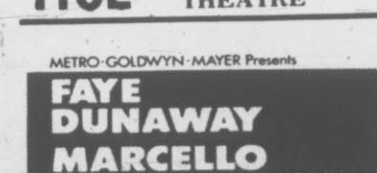

Dr. Bernard Mandelbaum attributes the upsurge in part to youthful response to "injustice generally and its particular manifestations" in Arab hostilities against Israel.

Two Non-Credit Counted 10 Course Slated N.C. Dead

Two non-credit music courses for adults have been announced by the East Carolina University Division of Continuing Education.

Beginning courses in guitar and piano are scheduled each Monday, March 16 through May 18. Registration and fee payment ($30 for each course) should be completed through the Division of Continuing Education.

Eugene Isabelle of the ECU School of Music, guitar instructor, said a limited number of instruments will be available. The course will be taught by group instruction.

Traffic accidents in North Carolina over the weekend claimed at least 10 victims, all of them persons under the age of 25.

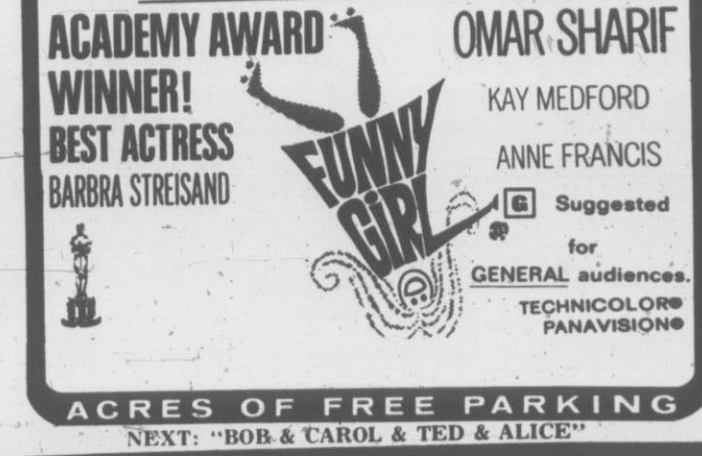

The State Highway Patrol said the weekend fatalities pushed the Tar Heel state's 1970 highway death toll to 235. During the corresponding period last year, 244 persons had died in traffic accidents in the state.

The youngest persons killed over the weekend was 16-year-old Thomas Hughes Jr. of Jacksonville. He was killed when the car in which he was riding struck a parked car on a residential street in Jacksonville.

At nearby Camp Lejeune, three persons were killed in two accidents on the Marine base. Two women Marines were killed in a head-on collision. They were identified as Cpl. Vicky A. Schielke, 19, of Gasport, N. Y., and L. Cpl. Martha A. Watson of Jonesboro, Ark. The Marines killed in the second on-base accident was identified as Cpl. Clarence H. Seipel of Cornelius, N. C.

Two sailors who were stationed on the U.S.S. El Paso at Portsmouth, Va., were killed in a two-car crash on Interstate 85 four miles west of Burlington. They were James H. Plank and Ronald Galloway, both 21.

Other weekend traffic accident victims included: Ronald Baxter, 22, of Bethesda, Md., a student at St. Andrews College in Laurinburg; Michael Kenneth Ashe, 19, of Rt. 4, Hendersonville; James Roberts Hadden, 22, of Pickens, S. C.; and Johnny Boyd Love, 22, of Rt. 5, Kernersville.

PECAN FERTILIZATION

Fertilization of pecan trees is necessary for good production and quality nuts. Bearing trees should have 2 pounds of 8-8-8 fertilizer for each inch of trunk diameter. Under most conditions the fertilizer should be applied in a circle at the drip of the branches. One-half should be applied now and the remainder when the nuts are set, which is generally the last of May. For new, or non-bearing, trees apply one pound of 8-8-8 fertilizer for each year of growth until the tree comes into production. This should be applied at least one foot from the trunk of the tree. For more complete information on planting, varieties, disease control, and cultivation, call or write the County Agricultural Extension Service. Ask for Horticultural leaflet No. 381.

SPOT HOG SALE

North Carolina Spotted Swine breeders will hold their Spring Sale of purebred boars and gilts at the Hollowell Livestock Arena at the Pitt Fairgrounds, Thursday, March 5. The show will begin at 10 a.m. and the sale will get under way at 1 p.m.

Approximately 35 animals will be offered. These will be some of the top animals from the herds of North Carolina's Spotted Swine producers. For more information contact D. R. House, R-5, Greenville, N.C., or the County Agricultural Extension Service.

Pitt County Market Hog Show
The Pitt County Livestock

Development Association will sponsor a market hog show which will be held March 24 in the Hollowell Livestock Arena at the Pitt Fairgrounds. The show will be open to all Pitt County pork producers. Juniors and adults will show separately until the Grand Champion competition.

A producers may show individuals and pens of three in both light weight (180-205 lbs.) and heavy weight (206-230 lbs.). A carcass contest will be a feature of the show with all carcass animals required to be barrows and to meet the meat hog certification standards.

Adults, Juniors, 4-H, and FFA teams will be invited to participate in a judging contest to be held at 4 p.m. on the show day. Dr. David Spruill, Extension Swine Specialist at N. C. State University will judge the show.

Elephant Tourns

On Police Car

SALISBURY, Rhodesia (AP) — Police patrolling near the border with Zambia were attacked by an angry bull elephant. With the elephant in hot pursuit, the police reversed their Land Rover for 300 yards along a narrow track until stopped by a tree, then fled into the bush. From a safe distance they watched the elephant roll the vehicle over and drive his tusks through it several times. "Then he presumed the Land Rover to be dead and ambled off," said one of the policemen.

Tobacco TIPS

By S.J. Weeks

Adequate amounts of the proper fertilizer is an important factor in producing a good yield of quality tobacco. Over-fertilization, however, will produce unsatisfactory quality and a reduction in the value of the crop.

Soils differ in their productive capacity and in their fertility level. Therefore, careful attention should be given to the physical and chemical characteristics of the soil when determining the rate and grade of fertilizer to be used. Soil tests, crop performance history and rainfall patterns are helpful in estimating the fertilizer and lime requirements of a special field.

Nitrogen is one of the key elements in the production of quality tobacco. A low level of total nitrogen will result in a low yield and quality. On the other hand, when an excess of nitrogen is used, the tobacco produced will be low in sugar, high in nicotine, undesirable in color, and generally poor in quality. The amount and form of organic matter, the texture of the surface soil and depth to the subsoil are important characteristics which influence the total amount of nitrogen required to grow a crop of good quality tobacco. As a general practice, tobacco should not be grown directly after a legume because it is difficult to predict the amount of nitrogen need from fertilizers.

Results from experimental tests and farm demonstrations have shown that the source of nitrogen, in both preplant and side dressing fertilizers, is very important. These results show that the best quality tobacco can be grown when 60 percent or more of the total nitrogen is in the nitrate form. This is especially true when tobacco is grown in fields that have been fumigated for nematode control.

Tobacco preplant fertilizer is available containing 50 percent nitrate nitrogen; 8-0-24 tobacco topdressing is available containing 100 percent nitrate nitrogen. Some farmers prefer to use a mixture of one bag of nitrate of soda and two bags of sulfate of Potash magnesia. A mixture of one bag of nitrate of soda and two bags of sulfate of potash magnesia makes a good tobacco top dressing. The readily available magnesium in this mixture gives you added protection against magnesium deficiency.

A—A jump rebid of some kind is in order. Without a heart stopper we are not inclined to jump in no trump, so that leaves a three spade bid as our choice. We try to avoid jumps with only three trumps whenever it is practical to do so, but, in this case, adherence to the four trump rule would result in our making a clumsy rebid.

If you have not already had a soil test made on your tobacco fields, plan to do it soon so that you can use this important information in determining the fertilization program for your tobacco fields.
