New York-Bound Mail Bags In N.C. Post Offices Piling Up

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Bags of New York-bound mail are piling up in North Carolina post offices following a total freeze on mail movement to New York's stricken mail centers.

Because of the walkout of mail carriers in New York and the threat of more walkouts in other cities, the U. S. Post Office Department has ordered that all New York mail be held back for the duration of the mail carriers' strike.

Letters and packages will be stored at post offices in North Carolina until the New York ban is lifted.

Postal officials in North Carolina's major cities said they had ordered substations to refrain from accepting New York mail in an effort to avoid clogging storage space in central stations.

Some 740 bags of New York-bound mail had already piled up Thursday in Greensboro. There were 46 in Charlotte, 12 in Raleigh and six in Winston-Salem within 24 hours of the embargo on New York mail.

Cambodia Regime Warns Prepared To Use Force If Sihanouk Tries Return

By T. JEFF WILLIAMS

Associated Press Writer

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia

(AP)—The Cambodian government warned today that it is prepared to use force if Prince Norodom Sihanouk tries to return to power.

"Our army has the right to turn to arms and actions in all forms" if the deposed chief of state "attempts to use the legal authority which he no longer has," said a communique broadcast by Radio Phnom Penh.

The government radio also announced declaration of a "state of danger" and suspension of all constitutional rights for six months, but Phnom Penh remained quiet. Radio Phnom Penh carried reports from half a dozen provinces saying the overthrow of Sihanouk had won the support of students, other youths, local officials, the clergy and the population in general.

Dangerous times were seen ahead as the Cambodians waited nervously for their former ruler's next move. Two possible courses of action were foreseen:

—He can accede gracefully and return to France with his wife, Princess Monique.

—He can return to Cambodia and try to rally support for his cause.

It was considered doubtful that Hanoi and Peking would do nothing while the men who ousted Sihanouk—Gen. Lon Nol, the premier, and Deputy Premier Sirik Matak—moved Cambodia to the right.

Sihanouk's overthrow was carried out so swiftly and smoothly that it took both Western and Communist diplomats by surprise.

First the government removed two men close to the 47-year-old prince, the chief of the Phnom Penh police and the minister for ground defense, who is Sihanouk's brother-in-law. Then upwards of 300 troops were concentrated around the National Assembly, backed by five tanks. More troops took position near the telephone and telegraph office and around the office of Radio Phnom Penh. Then came the announcement that the National Assembly had unanimously withdrawn its confidence from Sihanouk and named the assembly president, Cheng Heng, acting chief of state.

Deputy Premier Matak is considered the strong man now. He also is a brother-in-law of Sihanouk, the half-brother of his wife, but is considered far to the right of the prince.

The Yugoslav news agency Tanjug reported from Peking that Sihanouk spent his second day in the Chinese capital conferring with members of the Cambodian embassy. It said nothing was known about his plans but there were indications from the embassy that all members of its staff "agree with the prince."

Council Of State Okays ECU Acquiring 8 Lots For Expansion Programs

The Council of State in Raleigh approved Thursday the acquisition of eight lots in Greenville for East Carolina University to expand the present library facility and to construct a new student union.

ECU Business Manager F.D. Duncan said this morning that the eight lots, to be acquired through negotiations with the various property owners, lie between the library and James Street.

Duncan said that he did not know the exact location of each lot this morning but that he understood they were in the vicinity of Charles and Eighth Street and up as far as James Street.

Negotiations with the owners for acquisition has been worked out by the Property Control Division in Raleigh, he said, and no property condemnation will be necessary.

The eight lots, approved for acquisition by the Council for approximately $155,000, are part of a total of 20 lots the University hopes to acquire to provide for future library expansion and construction of a new student union, he said.

Authorization for the expansion and construction of the student union was granted by the 1969 General Assembly.

Duncan added that the eight lots would probably be involved mostly in the student union construction and actually very little of the acreage would be used for the library expansion.

Land located at the end of Eighth Street will probably be utilized for the westerly library expansion and part of the Eighth and Charles Street vicinity would be used for student union construction.

Identification of each lot involved in the acquisition will be made by the first of the week he said.

Steinbeck Will Run For House

Pitt County Republican chairman Frank Steinbeck has filed as a Republican candidate for Pitt's seat number two in the state House of Representatives.

Steinbeck, who has no republican opposition, will face the winner of the May 2 democrat primary race in the November general election. David Reid of Greenville and Sam Bundy of Farmville will face each other as Democrats, in the May 2 primary.

A native of Weston, W. Va., Steinbeck has been a Greenville resident since 1950 when he moved here as manager of a large chain department store. He left the chain in 1957, after working his way up from his 1928 job as stockroom boy, to open Steinbeck's Men's Shop here.

Steinbeck is married and has four children, and is a charter member of St. James United Methodist Church where he has served as chairman of the official board and of the board of trustees, and is a certified lay speaker.

In addition to his church work, Steinbeck is active in Boy Scouting and is the holder of the Silver Beaver Award, the highest award given an adult in a Boy Scout Council.

In announcing his candidacy, Steinbeck said "politics have been left in the hands of politicians too long," and it is time "for businessmen to be concerned... the time has come to have law and order and respect in our society."

"We should get more value out of our tax dollar," the candidate said, noting that he is "not in favor of additional taxes."

"I will proudly support continued growth and progress for East Carolina University," he said, and "special education for handicapped children... vocational education and training at high school levels must be promoted."

Raise Doubt On Instant Schools

CHARLOTTE (AP)—Delegates to the North Carolina Education Association meeting debated today a resolution casting doubt on the quality of "instant" private schools thrown up to avoid integrated public education.

The resolution pledges the state's teachers to "extra effort" to maintain and improve the quality of teaching in integrated classrooms—whether they be public or in "our well housed, established and accredited private schools."

But it questions the wisdom of quickly formed private schools "whose purpose may be interpreted as being to avoid compliance with the law of the land and whose limited resources and facilities may provide poor quality education for those whom they enroll."

The 86th NCEA convention is scheduled to end tonight with an address by A. Craig Phillips, state superintendent of schools.

A spokesman for the teachers group said delegates—about 6,000 are attending—will discuss during the final day an agreement to merge with the state's predominantly Negro group, the North Carolina Teachers Association.

But the spokesman said the ratification vote on the merger agreement would come by mailed ballots due April 8.

Postal Strike At A Glance

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Parties: The Post Office Department of the U.S. government and striking members of the AFL-CIO National Letter Carriers Union, with other postal employees generally observing picket lines.

Issues: Money. Current annual salary for letter carriers ranges from $6,176 to $8,442 after 21 years. The strikers seek a salary schedule of $8,500 to $11,700.

Negotiations: There are no negotiations because the Post Office Department cannot grant a pay hike, Congress hold the purse strings.

Congress' Position: The House Post Office Committee in a statement said it could not work on a pay bill until the workers resume their duties. The Senate's counterpart committee took a similar position.

Administration position: "The essential thing is to get the employees back to work and then deal with the problems we face," according to Postmaster General Winton M. Blount.

Status of postal pay legislation: The House Post Office Committee has approved a 5.4 per cent postal pay increase in Nixon's postal corporation bill and the House has passed a separate federal pay bill including another 5.7 per cent increase. But the 5.7 per cent bill is deadlocked with a Senate-passed measure allocating a 4 per cent pay raise for all lower-ranking federal employees, including postal workers.

Six Candidates Beat Deadline

Six candidates — three seeking seats on the Pitt County Board of Education, and a like number seeking office as constables — filed with the Pitt County Board of Elections for inclusion on the May 2 primary ballot this morning before the noon deadline.

Mark Owens Jr. of Fountain was the only incumbent member of the Board of Education to file as a candidate for re-election. Others who filed as candidates today included Dr. Thomas H. Patterson Jr. of Farmville (for the Farmville-area seat) and William "Bill" McLawhorn of Route 1, Ayden (for the Ayden-area seat). Bruce Koonce, chairman of the Pitt election's Board reported.

Incumbents T.G. Worthington of Ayden, and Robert Pierce of Farmville are not seeking re-

Three men also filed as candidates for the post of constable, and elective post which is all but defunct since the re-organization of the courts in Pitt County in December 1968 under the statewide court reform act.

Candidates, who will unopposed, include Samuel Heath for constable of Grimesland Township; Clarence Harris Jr. for Pactolus Township; and Frank Peadar for Falkland Township.

Draft Evader Is Today A Man Without A Country

WASHINGTON (AP)—Thomas Glenn Jolley, a young Georgian who fled to Canada to avoid the draft and then renounced his U.S. citizenship, has become a man without a country.

Stripped of his American citizenship and without any other, the 26-year-old Atlanta resident was ordered Thursday to leave the country within 90 days.

In handing down the decision, the Board of Immigration Appeals laid the groundwork for a Supreme Court ruling that could affect the fate of thousands of young Americans who fled the country because of opposition to the draft and the Vietnam war. The next step for Jolley's lawyers will be an appeal to the U.S. Court of Appeals in Washington. Then the case most likely will be carried to the nation's highest court.

Jolley, a North Carolina native who married an Atlanta girl, went to Canada on March 31, 1967. A week later, he asked his draft board for classification as a conscientious objector—a request denied April 18.

Then on May 16, 1967, he went before the U.S. consul at Toronto, declared "I do not wish to break the laws of the United States—These (draft) laws con-

Greenville attorney, Jerry Paul, announced and filed Wednesday as a Democratic candidate for the State Senate, subject to the May 2 Democratic primary.

Paul, a native of Washington, filed as a candidate for seat number one in the Fourth District. He will oppose Sen. Julian R. Allsbrook who now holds the seat.

A 1965 graduate of East Carolina University, the attorney graduated from the University of North Carolina School of Law in 1968. He is married to the former Lula Hackney Thigpen of Tarboro and they have three children.

Paul said that his campaign will revolve around issues of today, with emphasis on "participation by all the people in their government and programs designed to move the state forward."

Among the issues that he identified are environmental control, low industrial wages, quality education, 18-year-old vote, collective bargaining for farmers, inequitable taxation, and development of East Carolina University.

Gov. Scott Warns Highway Chairman

RALEIGH (AP)—Gov. Bob Scott, apparently miffed, at statements by Highway Commission Chairman Lauch Faircloth on pollution, has made it plain he can fire Faircloth any time.

Faircloth said in a speech Wednesday to the Washington, N. C., Chamber of Commerce that fear of pollution shouldn't stand in the way of industrial-

One of the greatest issues and problems facing us today, Paul said, is how to unite the community to work for a better North Carolina.

The senatorial candidate is in his second year of law practice in Greenville.

The Fourth District covers the four eastern counties of Pitt, Halifax, Warren and Edgecombe.

State's GOP Is Convening

WINSTON-SALEM (AP)—Between 2,500 and 3,000 delegates and alternates were expected for today's opening session of the North Carolina Republican convention.

Party Chairman James Holsinger of Boone, a member of the State House of Representatives, is virtually certain of re-election Saturday. No formal opposition had been announced on the eve of the convention.

Republican national chairman Rogers C. B. Morton and Rep. Fletcher Thompson, R-Ga., will be the major speakers. Morton speaks at a banquet tonight.

Thompson will deliver the keynote address Saturday morning. The election of a party chairman and other officers is scheduled Saturday afternoon.

James Gardner of Rocky Mount, the party's most recent gubernatorial candidate, won't be present for the convention opening.

However, the governor added firmly: "Certainly there will be no conflict in the future by the Highway Commission in the actual implementation of policy. Of that I am sure. I took care of that in the last legislature."

This was an obvious reference to a law enacted by the 1969 General Assembly giving the governor the authority to fire the Highway Commission chairman and the commission members.

The legislature also gave the governor similar power over several other state boards.

Faircloth was out of town and not immediately available for comment.

Scott issued his statement through his press secretary after newsmen asked if he had any comment on the speech.

In his talk, Faircloth said the Highway Commission members "are extremely aware of the threats to our environment. We want to do everything possible to aid in the fight against pollution."

County's Blood Bank Falling Further And Further Behind

Collections of units of blood for Pitt County Bloodmobile slipped further behind as the two day drive in Ayden and Greenville on Wednesday and Thursday resulted in only 149 units.

"It would have been much better had it not been for the rather high number of rejects of persons who offered to donate," Douglas Morgan, chairman of the Pitt County Bloodmobile stated. "We had 12 rejects at Ayden and 37 in Greenville."

The tally shows 40 pints collected in Ayden, and 109 in Greenville, for a total of 149 units. This is less than half the goal of 165 units from each of the two places — 330 units, which was the established goal.

"This means at this date we are more than 500 units short of our goal for this time of year," Morgan stated. "And we have only two more drives in the county before the collection year ends on June 30."

Morgan expressed his appreciation to the Ayden Jaycees and Rescue Squad and to Jack Moye, Civic Affairs Chairman of the Moose Lodge, members of the Moose Lodge, Women of the Moose and members of the Greenville Service League. "All these people were most helpful with this drive," Morgan commented.

FASHION FORECASTS

by C. Heber Forbes

(Fibers, Finishes & Fabrics)

Changes in fibers, finishes and fabrics occur at a dizzying pace. Your best guide is the hang tags attached to the garment. Be sure to save any which contain washing or cleaning instructions.

Some fabrics, normally washable, will require dry cleaning when combined with another fabric or trim which is not washable. Check the label and ask the salesperson, who is trained to help you. Of course, the words "San-forized" and "Color-fast" on a garment are almost worth their weight in gold.

Stain repellent finishes can make fabrics resistant to both oil-borne and water-borne stains, even after repeated washing or dry cleaning.

Other fabrics are resin treated to make ironing almost unnecessary. But here again, it is vitally important to observe the manufacturer's instructions, regarding washing and dry cleaning, to prevent unhappy results.

Luncheon Given Ex Libris Club

The Ex Libris Book Club met on Tuesday at the home of Mrs. William Brewer for a luncheon meeting.

Mrs. Paul Erickman and Mrs. Al Ferguson were welcomed as new members in the club. Mrs. Stephen White is also a new member.

The nominating committee presented the following slate of officers for the coming year: President, Mrs. William Fore; Vice President, Mrs. Ledyard Ross; Secretary, Mrs. Allen Taylor; Treasurer, Mrs. Curtis Hendrix; and Librarian, Mrs. Ira Hardy.

Mrs. William Johnson, social chairman, gave proposed ideas for a party in May for husbands of club members.

The club voted to adopt permanent loose-leaf handbooks for the future. The club also decided to establish a program committee for next year, which will be headed by the vice president.

Writing Contest Deadline Set

Entries in the Creative Writing Contest, sponsored by the Fine Arts Department of the Greenville Woman's Club, must be submitted to Mrs. J. L. Savage by March 31.

There will be 11 traveling awards presented to this year's winners in the contest. The winners will be announced at the annual Fine Arts Luncheon on April 25 at the Woman's Club bldg.

"Last year's winners are reminded to return trophies and awards to me in order that engraving can be done for this year," said Mrs. Savage.

She continued, "I would like to also encourage last year's winners and other interested persons to enter the contest."

Old Friends Are Posing Problems

By Abigail Van Buren

(© 1970 by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd., Inc.)

DEAR ABBY: I am a man who has been divorced for several years. I am presently going with a woman who has also been divorced, and I am seriously considering marrying her.

She told me that since her divorce she has had numerous men in her life, but I am her first "true love." [She says the others were "mistakes."]

However, when she entertains, she always wants to include one or two of her former lovers in the guest list. She says that inasmuch as this is a "small town," I will be meeting them anyway. I say that if we meet somewhere besides in her home I wouldn't mind so much, but I do not care to have a circle of friends comprised of my wife's ex-lovers.

She is an intelligent woman, and logical most of the time. I would appreciate your views on this. MR. ANONYMOUS

DEAR MR. A.: Her first mistake was telling you about her previous "mistakes." However, if you intend to marry this woman, let her know that after your marriage you will insist on having for friends, gentlemen with whom she hasn't been so friendly. And if she doesn't see it your way, lose her. She's trouble-deferred.

DEAR ABBY: I have been reading your column for a long time, but you finally printed a letter which touched me so much I had to write to you. It was from a woman who was "hopelessly in love" with her best friend's husband. It would seem from the number of times this situation has appeared in your column, that it's a fairly common problem, and while I agree with your answer that this woman wasn't really looking for advice, but condonation of her activities, I have something to add, and hope that you see fit to print it.

A number of times I have found myself powerfully attracted to men who were considered "off limits," so to speak; one in particular. He was unhappily married with two children. I succumbed to it, feeling as the woman in the letter did, that our love was stronger than we were. The resulting affair was that bitter-sweet combination of stolen moments of bliss, followed by long hours of guilt.

I finally got a hold of myself and tried to analyze my feelings. I slowly came to realize that it wasn't the man himself that attracted me, but the fact that he was "forbidden," and that, when compared with the dull, rather boring aspects of day-to-day living which most of us lead, the intrigue of such an affair seemed so exciting and irresistible. [I proved this to myself on another occasion when a "forbidden" man suddenly became available, and the "magic" quickly disappeared.]

Fortunately I realized this in time to end the affair before anyone was hurt.

I offer my own experience to those who are involved in such an affair, and suggest that they consider the possibility that this could be the motive, rather than "hopeless love."

There are less selfish ways of putting excitement into your life. BEEN THRU IT IN SANTA BARBARA

Dr. Troutman Is Speaker For AAUW Meeting

Dr. Bill Troutman, chairman of the Political Science Department at ECU, was the featured speaker at the Monday meeting of the AAUW.

He gave a program linking the past history of China to the current attitudes of the Chinese to the western civilization.

The Greenville Branch of AAUW plans to have five members in attendance at the District Workshop in Rocky Mount on April 18.

Planning to attend are Mrs. Daniel R. Taylor, Miss Sudie Mae Cox, Miss Alice Wooten, Mrs. Charlotte Knighten and Miss Louise Williams.

The South Atlantic Regional Conference of AAUW will be held at Meredith College June 11-13.

The president, Mrs. Wellington Gray, introduced Miss Nancy Lewis as a guest. She reminded members that the Greenville Branch will be hostess for the State AAUW meeting in October, 1973.

Mrs. Taylor, treasurer, reminded members that dues for 1970-71 are due by July 31.

The program chairman for the meeting was Dr. Ruth Modlin. Mrs. H.T. Patterson, Miss Wooten and Miss Cox were hostesses.

Faculty Wives Antiques Group To Meet Tuesday

"Eighteenth Century Furniture" will be the topic of Tuesday night's meeting of the Antiques Committee of ECU Faculty Wives.

Dr. Patricia Hurley, chairman of the Housing and Management Department in the ECU School of Home Economics, will make the presentation, illustrating her talk with slides.

The meeting will begin at 7:30 p.m. and will be held at the home of Mrs. H. A. I. Sugg. Faculty wives not on the Antiques Committee but interested in attending should contact Mrs. Charles H. Moore, 756-2879, by Friday.

Dr. Hurley's talk will emphasize Chippendale furniture at Tryon Palace in New Bern, which the Antiques Committee will visit in April.

Last year, Dr. Hurley participated in the Tryon Palace Symposium speaking on eighteenth century furniture with emphasis on Chippendale. Her talk is based in part on research at Tryon Palace.

A native of Wilson County, she received her B. S. and M. S. degrees in housing and management at the University of North Carolina at Greensboro. She received her Ph. D. degree from Florida State University with a major in housing and interior design.

Spring Fashions Program Given At Tuesday Meet

"Fashions For Spring 1970" was the program topic for the Home Life Department of the Greenville Woman's Club on Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Eula Peele of Piedmont Fabrics was guest speaker. She told of texture, color and trends in 1970 fashions. In her discussion, she said that this is the year for vivid and bold prints with a combination of colors and a variety in patterns and texture.

Mrs. Eula Mae Cannon presided over the business session. The devotional was given by Mrs. Sadie Carrington. Hostesses for the meeting were Mrs. J.E. Ricks, Mrs. Eva Corbett, Mrs. A.C. Howard, Mrs. R.H. Bland, Mrs. Etta Gill and Mrs. T.I. Moore.

The April meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. R.E. Laughter.

Air Bag Approach To Safety

The long discussed "air bag", to cushion motorists in vehicle crashes will become a reality on all cars produced after Jan. 1, 1972.

Transportation Secretary John A. Volpe said the bags will first be required on the passenger side of the front seat. Later they will be required on the driver's side and still later in the rear seats.

The bag inflates instantly on crash impact and cushions the driver or passengers when they are thrown forward. The bags then deflate almost instantly so that the driver may regain control of the

Old Hotel Now Serves County

(The following article was written by Lois T. Byrd, State Editor, The Sanford Daily Herald.)

By LOIS T. BYRD
SANFORD — Mention the Wilrik Hotel, and many persons in various parts of North Carolina immediately associate the name with Sanford, the county seat of Lee County. Few outside of this thriving industrial city know that the city's lone skyscraper is now a new Lee County Office Building.

The hotel was erected by the late Lucian Perryman Wilkins, pioneer Sanford business man who came to Lee County in 1903 from Halifax County, Va., and engaged in a wide variety of enterprises. The hotel, which opened in 1925, was at the time one of the most elegant in the state. The name paid tribute to the family enterprise, the Wilkins — Ricks mercantile business which stood where the present Williams-Belk store is located.

For 42 years the hotel was a family owned operation never once changing hands, something of a record in hotel business in the Central Carolina area. On the first Monday in July, 1967, W. Banks Wilkins and Mrs. Frances Wilkins Muse, son and daughter of the hotel builder, appeared before the Lee County Commissioners with no advance notice. They offered to donate to the County five floors of the six-floor Wilrik Hotel to help alleviate the critical space needs of the growing county government.

"There are no strings attached, and I might add, no mortgage," said Wilkins. He explained that the hotel had always been a family owned operation and since no member wished to operate it personally he was pleased to be able to make such a donation to the county where various aspects of the family business have been successful. "We feel that if our father were living he would have done the same thing. This was the motivating reason for the offer of this gift to the county," he said.

The lavish gift, estimated roughly at one million dollars, was immediately accepted by the commissioners. The Wilkins interests retained the land on which the hotel stands, the basement, and the ground floor. At the time there was a dining room but that was soon converted into office space and soon all were rented and remodeled. With county Attorney K.R. Hoyle drawing the detailed papers, the county acquired title to the donate five floors under a special unit ownership law. Lee County had acquired a building with 80 to 100 rooms, access to the ballroom, the mezzanine and the newly installed $20,000 self-service elevator. The building is entirely fireproof with concrete roof and steel windows and not a single load bearing partition. This proved favorable as structural changes could be easily made in the building.

The ink was barely dry one the commission minutes when controversy rose as to whether the donation was in reality a valued gift or a white elephant. Some critics questioned the loss of the hotel to the county tax values, the plumbing, electrical, and heating aspects and expense of maintenance. But in November, 1967, the report of well-known architect Tommy Hayes of Southern Pines, a Lee native employed to make a feasibility study of county office space needs, was unfurled. The hotel was structurally sound, very sound, he reported.

Admittedly, the same report classified the wiring as impossible, and suggested that new plumbing and heating might be necessary. The hotel has 31,400 square feet of office space and the architects said it would take around $10 to $12 per square foot to renovate it entirely. However, the estimate on a new office building, regardless of place, furnishing the same space would cost an estimated $986,250.

After halts and delays, the county board on prodding of the Chairman, Dr. John E. Dotterer, finally moved ahead to remodel and occupy the Wilrik. The first county offices moved in Feb. 25, 1969. The final decision was to contract heating, cooling and electrical work, floor-by-floor and to have the county maintenance do the remodeling.

Results have pleased even the most severe critics. From the mezzanine has been carved spacious offices for the tax collector, the tax supervisor, and the accountant. Green and gold ornamented ceilings with Corinthian leaf motif have been painted off-white and the walls pale green, with harmonizing panel for added walls. Commissioners themselves meet regularly in the foyer of the old ballroom. Social Security has been given an office suite. The Sanford City school offices, formerly scattered in two rented buildings, were brought together on the third floor with school funds furnishing elegant carpets and draperies. Renovation of the fourth floor is in progress.

What has it cost? Not the sum the architect estimated. The do-it-yourself project has to date cost $33,000 reports accountant, Mrs. Beatrice Fields. The monies coming from some budgeted and some unappropriated surpluses. Maintenance, such as water, lights, heat, and maid service has run around $8,000 a year.

Air bags are considered particularly effective in head-on crashes and, of course, they work automatically, which makes them better than seat belts that motorists fail to fasten.

The objection to the air bags was the loud noise that they emitted, the possibility of their injuring a driver or passenger, and the possibility of their inflating accidentally.

Volpe said that highway safety officials assured him that the shotgun-like noise would not harm hearing permanently and that in experimental use only one minor injury, a bloody nose, was caused.

As far as accidental triggering, Volpe would say only that this is "unlikely."

The air bag approach to highway safety sounds like a good thing for saving lives. We also feel that car owners will appreciate the elimination of the overhead shoulder belts which proved so unsightly.

However, we doubt if federal officials have fully refuted the objections to the air bag. An accidental inflation of the driver's air bag at 60 miles per hour on the highway would be unnerving at the least and could in itself cause a serious traffic accident.

Federal authorities should make certain that air bags installed on autos are a hundred percent safe. They should not deteriorate during the life of the car, or else provision should be made for safety checking them periodically. A safety device should in no way add any hazards to driving.

Forgotten Veteran To Finally Get Attention

The United States' Vietnam veterans have been referred to as the forgotten veterans because so little attention has been paid to their benefits, as compared to veterans of other wars.

Congress has noticed the Vietnam ex-serviceman a little in an action completed in the House this week.

GI education benefits increased of 35 percent were approved, so that unmarried veterans would receive $175 per month rather than the old rate of $130.

The Senate is expected to act soon on the compromise bill which will then go to the president for his signature.

This increase does little more than allow for inflation, which affects veterans going to school as it does everybody else. The increase is well deserved.

Hickel Versus Oil Buccaneers

By ROWLAND EVANS and ROBERT NOVAK

WASHINGTON — Exactly five days before fire broke out on Feb. 10 in drilling platform Charlie of Chevron Oil's massive Gulf Coast oil operations, a confidential letter from the Interior Department's regional oil and gas supervisor warned the company to get busy and install officially-ordered safety equipment.

"There appears to be a certain hesitancy among some company field personnel to rely on such (safety) equipment," the letter said.

In fact, the phrase "certain hesitancy" was an extraordinarily mild form of official rebuke for suspected violations. The specific equipment that might have prevented the fire — a downhole storm choke—had been surreptitiously removed from the offending well several months ago, a clear violation of Interior Dept. regulations.

Had the choke been in place, the sudden release of pressure produced by the outbreak of fire probably would have choked off the flow of oil far beneath the surface of the water. As it is, after the fire was put out last week, the well started cascading an estimated 1,000 barrels of crude oil a day into the Gulf, threatening serious damage to the untold riches in oyster beds, fisheries, and wild life sanctuaries in coastal areas.

Chevron's willful disregard of Secretary of the Interior Walter Hickel's tightened anti-pollution regulations (resulting from the Santa Barbara blow-out last summer) is symptomatic of the oil buccaneers operating on the dirty-dirty Gulf Coast offshore drilling areas. So blatant have these violations been since the new regulations were issued last August that Hickel now has a prima facie case to collect millions of dollars in penalties if he chooses, and the Justice Department agrees, to invoke them.

Hickel is moving in that direction. He's drafting a report now that will claim a total of at least 137 downhole storm choke violations in (Continued On Page 6)

To the Editor,

Among our junior high school options the single junior high school is the only alternative which will not perpetuate discrimination toward someone and which will not consequently have to be changed again at some later date in circumstances of inevitably greater tensions. This is sufficient reason for putting all our eggs in one basket, but there is also the added advantage, if my understanding is correct, that a single junior high school will in practically every measurable category provide everyone more education for less money.

GUIDANCE

We read in the thirteenth chapter of the Book of Exodus that after the Lord had led the Israelites out of Egypt "He went before them by day in a pillar of a cloud, to lead them the way; and by night in a pillar of fire, to give them light. . . . He took not away the pillar of the cloud by day nor the pillar of fire by night from before the people."

We do not have that particular type of guidance today, but we have guidance at least as good, and probably better. If we put ourselves in the Lord's hands we can be sure of guidance. We may not at first like what the Lord has in store for us, but if we are patient we come to know his power, wisdom and love. And it will be as plain to us as the pillar of cloud by day and the pillar of fire by night which God gave the Israelites, pursued by Pharaoh's army.

The worst possible mistake we can make is the mistake of becoming hopeless about life. Let us not think for a single moment that after God had created the world and the creatures therein He went away and left it to its own devices. There is not a situation in life where God is not present. "But wait," you say. "I am only one of about three billion persons on the planet. Do you mean to say that God pays any attention to an inconsequential little nobody like me?"

Precisely. Divine guidance is the portion God has ordained for every one of us. Look up and have hope.

Market For Hot Memos

WASHINGTON — The market price on White House memorandums has tumbled in the past few weeks. At one time they were considered rare items that occasionally showed up for public inspection, but now it's impossible to walk down the street in Washington without someone trying to peddle memorandums.

The other day I was walking by 1600 Pennsylvania Ave. when a man sidled up to me and whispered, "Would you like to buy a hot memorandum that Daniel Patrick Moynihan wrote to the President last year on the guaranteed annual wage?" "I'm sorry," I said, trying to push past him. "I already have a dozen Moynihan memos that I'm trying to unload."

The man looked around furtively. "How about a memo from Spiro Agnew to President Nixon in which he suggests nationalizing the television industry?"

"No good. I found one in a Cracker Jack box this morning."

"Here's a note from Henry Kissinger to Herb Klein telling Klein to knock off the swinger image Kissinger's been getting."

"No, thank you."

"How about one from Herb Klein to Henry Kissinger telling Kissinger to knock off the swinger image?"

"I'm sorry, but someone left one of those memorandums in my milk bottle this morning."

"My, you're hard to please," he said. He started going through his trench coat. "Ah ha. Here's one you haven't got. A memo from Atty. Gen. Mitchell to press secretary Ron Ziegler telling him he wants to subpoena all the White House reporters' notebooks."

"Ziegler released that memo at the noon press briefing."

"All right. How about the memorandum telling him what he could do with his memorandum?"

"I was one of the people who wrote it," I said. "May I please go by?"

He opened up another large inside pocket and took out a fistful of memorandums. "Make a deal with you," he said. "Take any one blindly for $5."

But, I protested, "they're all Moynihan memos."

Lexicon Of The Age

By JOY STILLEY

NEW YORK (AP) — As a member of the over 30 set, I may not have bridged the generation gap, but I have at least broken the sound barrier.

Thanks to a careful study of the lexicon of youth, I am now able to converse intelligibly, if not intelligently, with my youngsters.

First step in the process of learning their language was unlearning my own. My outdated ideas on word meanings had to go, and now I tell it like it wasn't when I was their age.

Thus I have discarded the old-fashioned notion that a bag is something to carry groceries home in. Now your bag is just doing your thing.

Cool no longer serves merely as an adjective, adverb and verb. It has taken on added duty as a noun, and keeping your cool is very much "in" these days.

Today's bread comes from a banker instead of a baker. Split has nothing to do with bananas—it's the modern way of indicating you're leaving for where the action is.

Hip is still a joint solely to a doctor and, speaking of joints, they've come a long way, baby, since they were only the place where the leg bone was connected to the thigh bone.

As for hash and pot, where once you turned on the stove to cook the former in the latter, now you turn on yourself. "Keep Off the Grass," in the past used exclusively in the landscaping field, is at present an unheeded admonition to the young from the old folks.

Straight and square have left the realm of geometry and embarked on a new career as descriptions of life styles. When someone says "it's a bad scene" he's not necessarily criticizing a play. And when a group gets together to rap, they're not pounding on each other's heads, they're simply talking.

Despite my constant effort to update my vocabulary, I still slip up on occasion, and then my years are as apparent as though I were wearing my birth certificate pinned to me.

During a recent shopping the generation gap a chasm when I walked store and asked to see a slack set. The miniskirted young salesgirl looked at me first with puzzlement, then with pity.

"Oh," she said gently, "what you mean is you want to see a pants suit."

Well, it's like obviously, man. I'm still not with it.

Opinions In Brief

"A chip on the shoulder is too heavy a piece of baggage to carry through life." — John Hancock.

"It's a startling thought, that after his indicated retirement date, the garrulous Mr. Huntley will be part of the Silent Majority." — Nashville (Tenn.) Banner.

"Did you hear about the gay bachelor who was showing a beautiful but dumb blonde through his apartment. Here's the bathroom, the bedroom and den," he said. "Den, what?" she asked suspiciously. — Charleston (S.C. News and Courier).

Joe Doakes Feels The Strike

By ELMER ROESSNER

Almost every strike since the enactment of the Taft-Hartley Law has been against the public, not the employer. A few, of course, have blown the employer down, but even then the public was a large loser. The strikes that flattened the New York Mirror and the New York World-Journal-Tribune, for example, wiped out those newspapers, but they also wiped out the public's choice of media.

And almost every strike against the public is settled on terms on which the public meets the cost and yet the public has no voice in the settlement.

And there's another factor in this situation, a factor in which the public, once knocked down, is kicked in the face. About that, a few paragraphs below.

HOW STRIKES CLOBBER THE DOAKES

In almost every strike I remember since inflation began, the strikers won and the cost was simply passed on to the public. Take any strike. Better, let's take an imaginary strike, one that takes in all the elements of a typical dispute.

Let's say that the cake bakers of Rascalville, Pa., demand an increase in wages from $145 a week to $195 a week, pensions after 18 years, hospitalization for injuries suffered in barroom fights and paid legal aid in divorce suits. The three Rascalville bakeries turned down the demand, stating with bravado, "We'll take a strike first!"

They take the strike. Husbands go without cake for seven weeks, although a few wives try to make cakes with various results. Children at the Marie Antoinette school have to eat bread for dessert. The strikers get strike pay, welfare and perhaps other benefits; the company executives get their salaries.

Then, not after the strikers are beaten, not after the companies are beaten, but after the public is licked, the company makes a new offer, somewhat less than the demands; the bakers' wives, tired of having them hang around the house, insist they accept the offer, and the strike is over.

THE PAYOFF

The bakers have enjoyed a vacation on part pay, the executives have had time to chase their secretaries around the desk, and the public pays. It's an easy matter to turn the cake price signs upside down, changing the price from 69 to 96 cents.

Now for the public's kick in the face: It has never been proved, but the situations have been mighty suspicious, that union negotiators have discussed wage increases with management, and that management has said, "Sure, your boys ought to have a bit more trink gelt, but that will mean raising prices and that will make our customers sore. So why don't you stage a little strike, picket the joint, demonstrate and turn over a few cars, making sure they are cheap ones. Then when we give in, everybody will be willing to pay higher prices."

There may be an even more violent blows to Doakes's head.

The law prohibits companies from getting together to fix prices. But it allows them to get together to handle labor disputes. And when three Rascalville bakery owners get together on a labor dispute, what can the law do without wiretaps when one of them say, "Fellows, I think we are all losing money on jelly rolls. What say we boost the price to $1.09 a roll, and put a little less jam in each?"

Empire Brushes Found Home Here, And Likes It

Open house activities tomorrow afternoon at Empire Brushes Inc. highlight the firm's celebration of its Fifth Anniversary in Greenville.

Since locating here in 1964 with an initial building space consisting of 54,000 square feet for manufacturing and storage, the company has grown to a 108,000 square foot facility.

Empire currently employs over 225 persons locally and produces all of the company's line of plastic block hairbrushes, and any other product whose main component is molded plastic material.

A pioneer in the brush industry, Empire has established its own vertical setup with every operation in the manufacturing of brushes under direct supervision.

WALTER C. FAULKNER
Personnel Manager

The company was the first to introduce plastic bristles for household brushes. Introduction of color in both products and packaging has helped maintain Empire's position of leadership in the industry.

More than 1,500 different brushes are now being produced by Empire. Among these products are floor brooms, sponge mops, dust mops, hairbrushes, nail and cosmetic brushes, clothes brushes, and a wide assortment of cleaning tools for the kitchen.

Although the majority of brushes are machine made, there are still a few items made by hand, a unique process in the industry.

Jack Gantz, president of Empire Brushes, attributed the continuous growth of the company to a "staff of creative young men with corporate manufacturing and merchandising 'know-how'."

"We have had the foresight to keep abreast with the changing market and consequently, we are one of the first to introduce new design ideas to the trade," he commented.

Empire Brushes has a sales division which markets brushes under the company name, and also supplies brushes for major chain stores and catalogue sales firms for distribution under other brand names.

In recent years, Empire induced a line of battery-operated brushes, called "cordless" by the industry. They met instant success with a cordless shoe polisher and soon added cordless hairbrushes, fans, massagers, and manicure sets. The most recent addition is a cordless eraser.

Now celebrating its overall 60th anniversary of operation, Empire Brushes has become to be America's number one brush manufacturer with plants located, in addition to Greenville, in Meridian, Miss., and the Chester, N.Y.

Opening lead: Queen of ♦
Alertness on the part of East uncovered a brilliant defensive play which led to the defeat of South's four-heart contract, that appeared to be ironclad.

West opened the queen of diamonds—the suit bid by his partner—and the king was played from dummy. The closed hand was entered with the ace of spades to permit declarer to lead the jack of hearts. When West played low, the dummy followed with the three and East was in with the ace.

East was looking at two club tricks in his own hand provided that he could obtain the lead thru North's holding. This plus the ace of trumps brought his total to three. From the appearance of the dummy it looked as if the only hope for a fourth trick was in finding his partner with a singleton diamond. East was all set to try for a ruff by returning a small diamond when he observed another prospect.

Declarer had not led trumps from the dummy, but had carefully entered his hand with a spade in order to make his heart play. This strongly suggested that West rather than South held the queen of hearts. With dummy's spade removed, declarer had no quick reentry to his hand, and East saw a way to establish a trump trick for his partner even if West had started with two diamonds.

Instead of returning a small diamond, East exited with the jack forcing North to win the trick with the ace. If declarer tried to get back to his hand by ruffing a diamond, West would overruff with the queen of hearts. Similar'y, if he played a club, East would be in to make the diamond play for his partner.

Sensing what was taking place, South cashed dummy's king of trumps in an effort to drop the queen. West held out, however, and when he got in with the high heart, he shifted to a club which gave the defenders two more tricks.

Observe that, if East returns any diamond but the queen when he is in, South's nine of diamonds will hold the trick and permit him to draw the remaining trumps by taking another finesse thru West. By returning the jack of diamonds, East put the lethal touch to declarer's aspirations.

Efficient Personnel Are Vital To Plant's Success

Various departments, all boasting competent managers and efficient personnel, form the nucleus of all phases of operation of the Greenville branch plant of Empire Brushes, Inc.

Heading one of the plant's industrial service divisions, the Personnel Department, is Walter C. Faulkner, a Henderson native and graduate of East Carolina University.

One of Faulkner's main function as personnel manager is the hiring of personnel and maintaining comprehensive records on each Empire employee.

Health and Safety is another important aspect of the department's function and Faulkner, with the assistance of Mrs. Fulton Paris, maintains complete employee's physical examination records, records of flu shots and injury reports.

In addition, the department is in charge of administering the group hospitalization insurance, company - paid life insurance programs, keeping employees informed of holiday schedules, company training programs, payroll savings bond deductions, the employee picnic, and various other company benefits.

Faulkner, who has been with Empire since March, 1968, is a member of the Greenville Moose Lodge, and is a member of the board of directors for the Pitt County Chapter of the North Carolina Symphony Society.

The responsibility for planning, scheduling production, and controlling inventory in order to have adequate finished goods on hand for immediate customer shipment is delegated to the Production Control Department.

Serving as production control manager is Jerry Singleton, who joined Empire in 1968. A veteran of 20 years in the production and inventory field, Singleton is a Glenn Falls, New York native. Bobby Harris, a native of Pitt County, and a five-year veteran of Empire, serves as assistant production control manager. Harris is currently attending East Carolina University, evening division. He is married to the former Delores Roebuck of Greenville and they have three children.

The sales department issues a sales forecast covering a six-month period. Since forecasts are not based on exact sales, production control has the responsibility of adjusting the production scheduling to meet actual conditions.

The department must be flexible to adjust to changing marketing conditions. In order to maintain this flexibility, a constant review and control of raw materials must be followed. More than 1,000 items are needed to maintain an average of 400,000 brushes manufactured per week.

Other personnel within the department include Betty Coley, Mary Allen, Edna Stancill, Mildred Worsley, Margaret Hilliard, and Dale Pulliam.

East Carolina Takes Two From Ithaca

By WOODY PEELE

East Carolina University put together some hits, and a few timely walks to gain a pair of victories over Ithaca College yesterday, 3-1 and 6-3.

And the first passed another milestone for Coach Earl Smith. The victory in the first game was the 300th of his career as a head baseball coach. The Bucs followed that up by giving him a start on his fourth hundred with the second win.

Mike Aldridge proved to be the standout of the day for the Bucs. He collected a two-run homer to win the first game, and had a double and a pair of singles to round out the day. He also made three fine catches in his left field position.

The Bucs also got some fine pitching in the first game as Don Oxendine and Hal Baird combined for the win. Tim Bayliss hurled the second game, and despite having some control problems, had not given up an unearned run until the fifth inning, when Sonny Robinson came on in relief to set down Ithaca.

Not that Ithaca didn't give the Bucs a few moments during either game. They started off the first inning of the opener with a single, and then put the first man up in the second inning on base with another hit. But the first died at second, and the other was cut down in a double play. Oxendine had control problems in the third, walking one and hitting another, but no damage was done. He set Ithaca down in order in the fourth, but one reached on the pitcher's own error in the fifth. Ithaca again went down in order in the sixth and seventh, but Ithaca finally got to him in the seventh.

Already leading 3-0, Oxendine let up, and Jon Speich singled to right center. Kent Scriber walked, and Baird came on in relief. He struck out the next batter, but Gary Warden rapped a single down the first base line, scoring Speich for the only Ithaca run of the game.

The Bucs meanwhile, had already scored all they needed. They had put a man on in the second with a single, and two on in the third with hits before a pickoff play ended their hopes. But in the fourth, they got the jump on Ithaca. With two outs, Bryan McNeely walked, bringing up Aldridge, who had singled in the second. He lined the ball over the fence in left about 345 from home, sending in McNeely ahead of him for a 2-0 lead.

The Bucs next struck again in the seventh. With one out, Stan Sneed was hit by a pitch. Dennis Vick grounded to first, and the relay to try and get Sneed at second hit him and rebounded into center. Sneed raced on to third safely. Oxendine banded the ball sharply to short, and the fielder fell down before he could make the play, as Sneed scored with the third and final run.

East Carolina again threatened in the eighth, but could not push any more runs across.

East Carolina went to work in the second inning of the nightcap, but found themselves already behind 1-0 when they came to bat in the frame.

In the top of the inning, Warden led off with a walk and Dick Collins reached when the ball was bobbled at shortstop. Both runners advanced on a wild pitch, and then Skip Borowicz hit a sacrifice fly to right, scoring Warden.

But the lead lasted only briefly, as starting Ithaca hurler Tony Vizzi could not find home. Lyn Dowd led off with a walk and Aldridge followed that up with a double down the third base line. Ken Graver walked to load the bases, and Dennis Vick drew another walk, forcing in Dowd. Bayliss sacrificed Aldridge in, and another walk to Matt Walker reloaded the bases. Stu Garrett was hit by a pitch, bringing Graver in, and another walk to Skip Taylor brought Vick home for a 4-1 lead.

In the third, the Bucs picked up their other two runs. Aldridge opened up with a single and Graver walked again. Bayliss sacrificed them up, and Dick Corrada hit a high fly that fell in between the fielders, scoring both runners and putting Corrada on second.

But the Bucs couldn't hold off Ithaca from attempting a comeback. Bayliss stayed in trouble, but each time pitched himself out of it. Finally, in the fourth, however, he was tagged again. Collins led off with a single off Bayliss' glove that couldn't be recovered in time. And with two away, Vizzi and John Timmons both walked, loading the bases. Speich grounded to third, but the ball was booted, allowing Collins to score, making it 6-2.

The final Ithaca run scored in the fifth. Again with two away, the run came. Collins walked, and Dan Murphy also got a free trip to first. Skip Borowicz banded a single to center, scoring Collins to make it 6-3, the final margin.

East Carolina, now 2-1, returns to action on Saturday, making its first road appearance, traveling to Chapel Hill to meet the University of JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—The young Californians are making hay on Florida golf courses, and Ron Cerrudo pointed it out after shooting 68 Thursday to share the first-round lead in the $100,000 Greater Jacksonville Open with veteran Dan January.

"How about the Californians?" Cerrudo asked. "Three out of four; that's not bad."

He's from Napa, two other northern California golf products, Dick Lotz of Graeagle and Bob Lunn of Sacramento, won top prizes the past two weeks at Pensacola and Orlando.

Cerrudo, typical of the confident young man on his way to the top, won at San Antonio and could be predicting a double although he didn't go that far with three rounds yet to play on the tough 6,943-yard Hidden Hills course.

The 25-year-old in his mod striped slacks, conquered the twin hazards of wind and sand fleas as well as a high powered field of top pros through the first round.

"I'll take the wind over the bugs," Cerrudo said. "I scratched half the night from those bugs in Wednesday's pro-am."

A breeze that threatened to bring on rain, but never did, drove the sand fleas away. The wind brought complaints from some pros, but home pro Dan Sikes who had a 71—said they will really have something to complain about if strong winds sweep across the rolling fairways and undulating greens.

He predicts a 10-under-par 274 or possibly higher will be good enough to win the $20,000 first prize Sunday.

January, 40-year-old veteran who hasn't won since the PGA tourney of 1967, was the only tourist able to match Cerrudo's opening 68.

"The putts went in for me on the second nine," January said with quiet satisfaction.

Defending champion Ray Floyd is one of seven only a stroke behind the two leaders. Bobby Mitchell, Don Bies, Jack McGowan, Gardner Dickinson, Dale Douglass and R. H. Sikes also had 69's.

Mt. Pleasant, as they did many times during the season, grabbed off the half-time lead, 16-14, but couldn't hold to it. Presbyterian came back to outthrust them, 25-14, in the second half, and gain the semifinals.

No one on either team broke into double figures.

In the final game, Oakmont built up a slim 22-22 lead at the half, but like Mt. Pleasant, could not hold on. Black Jack pushed through 33 points while Oakmont got only 19 in the second half, and Black Jack took the win.

Tal Adams and Tay Hardee each had 17 and Ephraim Smith had 12 for Black Jack. Bob Benton led Oakmont with 17.

A THINKING MAN'S MESSAGE about Diamonds

Buying a diamond soon? Confused about diamond pricing? We wouldn't blame you a bit. A 1/4 carat diamond may cost a variety of prices. The size may remain the same, but the quality of every diamond differs slightly from that of every other stone mined. Diamonds are a unique gem that require specialized knowledge on the part of a jeweler. As members of the American Gem Society, you may depend on our diamond specialists to properly explain the subtle differences. Come in soon and see for yourself.

Ayden Nips North Lenoir

AYDEN — The Ayden Tornados opened their baseball season yesterday with a 9-7 victory over Eastern Plains member North Lenoir.

Ayden took the lead in the third inning, when the Tornados pushed over four runs. But it didn't last long.

North Lenoir came up with five runs in the top of the fifth, as they banged out two home runs. One was hit by Cashwell with one on board, while the other was a solo affair by Williams, accounting for three of the five.

Ayden came back with two in the bottom of the fifth on a homer by Alan Wilson with one on board. That put the Tornados up, 6-5.

Ayden then added three more in the sixth to put the icing on the cake. Lloyd Eichorn walked and Ken Cleaten singled. Dail Griffin walked to load the bases, and Wilson tripled to drive in all three runs.

North Lenoir came up with two more in the seventh, but it wasn't enough.

Marquette's Defenses Burn Pistol Pete, LSU

By KEN RAPPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — "We come out smoking," said Coach Al McGuire of Marquette ... and that's how his Warriors kept the heat on Pistol Pete Maravich.

Marquette's fiery defense shot down Louisiana State's one-man basketball show and took a run-away 101-79 victory Thursday night to advance to the finals of the 33rd National Invitation Tournament.

St. John's of New York earlier advanced to the finals with a heart-thumping 60-59 victory over Army before 19,500 hysterical fans at Madison Square Garden.

"Any man can be stopped," said McGuire after Marquette used a variety of defenses to hold Maravich to only 20 points, almost 27 below his game average. "Where is he gonna go with men in front of him and behind him?"

"Teams know we're going to come out smoking," said McGuire. "They know we're going to be on their chest and belly from the start."

There were times Marquette had three men draped over the Pistol ... and sometimes zone combinations ate him up. Maravich also admitted that a sore left ankle hindered his lateral movement and negated his feared outside jump shot.

"I come down on my left foot with the jump, and I wasn't able

NBA Sets Draft

NEW YORK (AP) — College basketball's fast-diminishing class of draft eligibles gets its final going over Monday when the two professional leagues complete their 1970 selections.

The American Basketball Association has already corralled three of the big names with huge contracts attracting Purdue's Rick Mount to Indiana, Davidson's Mike Maloy to Pittsburgh and Charlie Scott of North Carolina to Washington.

That leaves St. Bonaventure's giant Bob Lanier, Pistol Pete Maravich of Louisiana State, Niagara's flashy Calvin Murphy and Michigan's Rudy Tomjanovich as the top glamour names still up for grabs.

The ABA got the jump on the rival National Basketball Association by holding its first draft rounds last month. At Monday's meeting, the ABA will complete the balance of its draft.

A flip of the coin assigned the first pick in the NBA draft to the last place team in the East Division. Detroit and Boston are battling for that dubious distinction and both need help at center, making Lanier the likely No. 1 pick by the older league.

The ABA draft begins at 10 a.m., EST, Monday, two hours before the NBA swings into action.

The New York Mets will get a break this season. Their first visit of the year to the Houston Astrodome will not be until June 8. Last year the Astros won the season series from the Mets.

to get it off as often in the second half," said Maravich, who only took four shots in that stanza. "But don't get the idea I'm apologizing. I'm not."

"I don't feel bad for myself. I've had my share of good games. But ... I wanted to win the tourney championship for my father (LSU Coach Press Maravich). That's all down the drain now."

Maravich was held to 20 points only two other times this season—once during the regular season by Tennessee and last Sunday by Georgetown in their opening NIT game.

Press Maravich took the loss philosophically: "I'd rather lose playing our wide-open scoring style than playing ball control. Pete had a bad game, but I don't feel sorry for him. Not for all the great games he's played for me."

Dean Meminger, Marquette's fleet guard, scored a sub-par 16 points, but helped guard Maravich and kept the offense in high gear most of the night with his bullet passes.

Sophomore Rich Lyons dropped in two foul shots with one second left in the opener as St. John's stole the game from Army's game Cadets.

"What can you say about Lyons?" exulted St. John's Coach Lou Carnesecca. "Talk about pressure! It was all there. A sophomore with all the pressure in the world ... and he makes the big shots."

"He's been in situations like that before, blew them and went home and cried. But ... tonight he's a pretty happy kid."

Army had a 59-58 lead with 21 seconds left. St. John's ate up most of the clock while trying to work the ball inside, and Lyons finally took a desperation shot and was fouled by Jim Oxley with just a second remaining.

LSU meets Army in a game for third place prior to the title game Saturday afternoon.

Cleveland Has A New Image

By RON RAPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer
TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — The 1970 version of Cleveland Indians bares such a faint resemblance to the 1969 club as to be almost totally unrecognizable.

And it is this fact, says Manager Alvin Dark, that will help the Indians climb out of the cellar of the American League's Eastern Division where they found themselves buried last year, 18 games out of fifth.

Dark, who also took over the general managing duties of the Indians in everything but name during the winter, spent much of the off-season trading away players and getting new ones.

Such established players as outfielders Vada Pinson and Ted Uhlaender, infielder Graig Nettles and pitchers Dean Chance, Barry Moore and Dennis Higgins are now on the club and Dark plans key roles for all of them.

Primarily, Dark hopes he has given the Indians the hitting punch they lacked last season, particularly in the power department.

"Last year," he says, "if we didn't get a shutout or a low-run game we were in trouble."

But whether he has the depth on his pitching staff — both among the starters and in the bullpen — remains to be seen.

Dark is counting on Chance, whose shoulder injury held him to a 5-4 record with Minnesota last season, and Sam McDowell, who had a fine 18-14 record in 1969, as his two top starters, but after that it's a dogfight.

Moore, who started out well with Washington last season and finished at 9-8, Mike Paul, Phil Hennigan, Larry Staab, Dick Ellsworth and Rich Hand are all possibilities for the third and fourth spots.

Dark has Higgins in the bullpen along with Bob Miller and perhaps Paul if one of the youngsters sticks as a starter.

Tony Horton, who hit .278 last season, should open the season at first base with Vern Fuller and young Eddie Leon set at second and shortstop respectively. Nettles has the third-base spot and veterans Max Alvis and Larry Brown are in reserve.

Pinson, Uhlaender and Ken Harrelson are the outfielders with Chuck Hinton, Russ Snyder and young Frank Baker as back-up men. Duke Sims, who hit 18 home runs last season, will open behind the plate with Ray Fosse and Ken Suarez possible part-time replacements.

UCLA, Jacksonville In Finals Of NCAA Tourney

By TOM SEPPY
Associated Press Sports Writer
COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP) — Defending champion UCLA, seeking an unprecedented fourth consecutive title and sixth in seven years, will match its speed and balance Saturday against the height of tourney newcomer Jacksonville University in the finals of the NCAA basketball championship.

"They have such great balance," said Jacksonville Coach Joe Williams after UCLA demolished New Mexico State 93-77 in the semifinals Thursday night. "There isn't any one on their ball club that is weak, no one you can really play off of."

"We're going to try to make some kind of effort to get them out of their pattern," he said. "We can't make them play their game."

UCLA Coach John Wooden, not over-enthusiased with his club's offensive game against the amazon Aggies, also had lots of praise for Jacksonville which squeezed past outmanned and foul-plagued St. Bonaventure 91-83 in the other semifinal.

"I would think it would be our speed against their height," Wooden said. "I think we're much quicker but they have those big boys."

One of those boys he was talking about is 7-foot-2 Artis Gilmore, who scored 29 points and grabbed 21 rebounds to lead the Dolphins over a charged up St. Bonaventure club that played without injured All-American Bob Lanier.

John Vallely, Sidney Wicks and Henry Bibby led second-ranked UCLA with 23, 22 and 19 points, respectively. But the scoring star of the game was the Amazon Aggie Jimmy Collins, who pumped in 28 points, most with his deadly jumper.

Wooden said he was pleased with UCLA's over-all performance but "our turnovers displeased me. We made some bad mistakes on defense, but overall we played pretty well on defense."

Coach Lou Henson of New Mexico State said fourth-ranked Jacksonville will have to play an outstanding game to beat second-ranked UCLA even with Gilmore, 7-foot Pembroke Burrows III and 6-foot-10 Rod McIntyre.

"This UCLA team is well balanced and we have faced them three years in a row now," said Henson. "And I think this team (UCLA) may be the equal if not better than the past."

UCLA knocked New Mexico

State out of the Western quarter-finals in 1968 and 1969.

Williams said Jacksonville played very poorly against St. Bonaventure and "we all feel badly that we didn't play a better ball game."

"We are in the finals, though," he said, "and that's what counts. As long as we win by one point, I'm happy."

Coach Larry Weise said the Bonnies "played their hearts out."

"I'm very proud of them," he said. "Jacksonville is big and strong and their guards handle the ball very well and the team as a unit shoots well."

OLYMPIA, Wash. (AP) — Gov. Dan Evans said Thursday attendance during the first week of Expo 70 in Osaka, Japan passed the half-million mark.

A reporter asked him how the world fair could draw more people in a week than the Seattle Pilots baseball team of the American League attracted their first season, last year.

"Maybe it's because they keep it in one place," the governor replied, "and haven't thought of moving it from Osaka to Kobe."

Sports Briefs

SARASOTA, Fla. (AP) — The Chicago White Sox made out their first squad of the spring Thursday, sending six nonroster players back to the minors.

The six were pitchers Dan Neumeier, Durant Cooper, Jim Magnuson and Duane Shaffer; infielder Glenn Redmon, and catcher Ron Davini.

The Worry Clinic

Rules Violated For Attention

Prof. Larry offers some very stimulating data on "hippies." Despite their attempt to assert their independence, hippies haven't cut their financial umbilical cord! Self-reliant, working kids who were made to earn their own money, haven't time or inclination for such juvenile "kicks" as smoking "pot."

By - GEORGE W. CRANE, Ph. D. M. D.

CASE M-562: Larry T., aged 38, is a psychology professor. "Dr. Crane," he began, "I conducted a survey of 43 so-called 'hippies' on our college campus.

"And I found that every one of them had been reared on the 'allowance' plan, where they didn't work for their spending money.

"Furthermore, most of them had never been a member of any high school or college athletic teams.

"Only 2 had belonged to any glee club or school orchestra.

"Apparently, the typical hippie crowd is composed of iconoclasts who crave attention and thus resort to violating the usual rules of society to rate headlines."

Did you ever watch a youngster who suddenly craved praise for baking a cake?

Such a youngster may waste an hour of its mother's time as she brings out the ingredients and even helps with suggestions or actual stirring and pouring of those ingredients.

Then the child may let Mamma take the cake out of the oven.

The youngster may apply the frosting after Mamma again finds the ingredients.

But it is Mamma who is usually left with the "clean" job of washing pots and pans, as well as restoring them to their respective shelves in the cupboard.

"Look at the cake I baked," then gloats the youngster, as it "fishes" for praise from Daddy and the guests.

Actually, Mamma did most of the headwork and handwork, but the youngster wants the headlines!

So it is with the typical hippie! He tries to turn his back on his parents and thus show his complete freedom from the "old-fashioned" methods and money of papa and mamma.

Yet their "old-fashioned" money is still paying his college tuition and permitting him to eat 3 meals per day!

Hippies thus haven't cut the financial umbilical cord to their parents!

Meanwhile, they gloat over their apparent freedom and brilliant ideas, much like that young cake baker!

Alas, it is overly indulgent parents who are largely to blame for the hippie craze.

For good parents realize that one of their main duties is to produce self-reliant, stable citizens who recognize the merits in our Republic and "free enterprise" system.

You can't produce self-reliant children by rearing them on the "allowance" plan! Get hep!

Instead, let them earn their own money, even before kindergarten! Pay them on the piecework plan, but see that plenty of pay tasks are available.

Remember, money should always be a symbol of sweat and toil and calloused palms, as well as deprivation of play time.

But if you parents subsidize your children with free money, plus sports cars and other unearned luxuries, then you become accessories to their later hippie conduct, delinquency and desire to smoke.

It is usually the "kept" and overly indulged kids who seek "kicks."

Working children haven't time for such juvenility!

STALLED CARS

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP)—A gasoline truck mistakenly filled with water pumped its load into the underground tanks of a Pensacola service station. Within a few hours stalled automobiles were scattered all over town.

The service station was closed until the watered gas could be pumped out of its tanks.

IN MEMORIAM

IN APPRECIATION
Perhaps you sang a lovely song.
Or sat quietly in a chair.
Perhaps you sent some lovely flowers.
If so, we saw them there.
Perhaps you spoke the kindest words.
That any friend could say.
Perhaps you were not there at all.
Just thought of us that day.
What ever deed done, great or small,
The family thanks you for it all.
The Family of the late John Arthur Wiggins, Sr.

You've got a lot to live Pepsi's got a lot to give

What we mean is this: living isn't always easy, but it never has to be dull. There's too much to see, to do, to enjoy. Put yourself behind a Pepsi-Cola and get started. You've got a lot to live.
