Closed Due Violence

SALISBURY, N.C. (AP) — Livingstone College was closed by its president Thursday following an outbreak of violence in the school's dining hall.

Dr. George Shipman, Livingstone president, closed the predominantly Negro school at 6 p.m. and cited the 5:30 p.m. dining hall incident and a minor fire in a gymnasium building as the reasons.

Seniors were to have taken their final examinations this week and undergraduates were to have had their exams next week. Shipman asked the students to leave the campus as soon as they could arrange transportation and this morning he said very few students remained. The school has an enrollment of around 900.

Shipman said the dining hall incident involved the throwing of plates and chairs. He said damage was confined to "moveable" objects and that no injuries were reported.

12 Heroes Honored

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon awarded the Medal of Honor Thursday to 12 heroes of the Vietnam war, assuring them that millions of their countrymen also honor their "magnificent effort to keep this the land of the free."

The President told the men and their families that the war is "not understood and not supported by some in this country," but went on to assure them: "As time goes on, millions more of your countrymen will look back at this experience that you have participated in, and they too will realize that you served the land of the free by being brave—brave beyond the call of duty."

Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird and other top military officials attended the ceremony in the East Room of the White House, along with the honored servicemen, their wives, children and parents.

Last-Chance Meeting

RALEIGH (AP) — A meeting is scheduled in Raleigh May 28-29 to give officials of 19 North Carolina school units a final chance to avoid desegregation suits through voluntary compliance.

Spokesmen for the State Department of Public Instruction said Thursday the meeting was set with top federal officials in an attempt to head off a federal desegregation suit aimed at the state and the 19 local units.

The Justice Department is expected to file suit against any districts that fail to comply after the Raleigh meeting. Failure to comply will result in loss of federal funds.

The 19 units are Raleigh, Burlington, Fairmont, Goldsboro, Kinston, Maxton, Rocky Mount, Tarboro and Wilson city units and the Camden, Chatham, Edgecombe, Guilford, Lenoir, Martin, Nash, Robeson, Vance and Wilson county units.

Find Credentials

WITH TASK FORCE 318 IN CAMBODIA (AP) — South Vietnamese forces, battling through a tiny hamlet, have discovered the press credentials of three American correspondents missing and believed captured by the enemy.

The credentials were found in a house in which three enemy soldiers were killed during a fierce gun battle late Thursday. They belonged to Richard B.

Dubman, 52, of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch; Elizabeth A. Pond, 33, of the Christian Science Monitor; and Michael D. Morrow, 24, of Dispatch News Service, Washington.

The trio were last seen by fellow correspondents at the eastern edge of the Cambodian provincial capital of Svay Rieng on May 7 in a car they had driven across the border from Saigon.

Attack Laos Outposts

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — Enemy forces have attacked several outposts west and southwest of Saravane and fired two rockets at Saravane itself Thursday, a Defense Ministry spokesman said today.

Since Tuesday, North Vietnamese forces have attacked four outposts there to five miles west and southwest of Saravane but were repulsed, said the spokesman, Col. Thongphanh Knoksy.

Thursday night, two rockets hit Saravane but did not cause any damage, he added.

Thongphanh confirmed that civilians have been evacuated from Saravane, leaving only the defenders of the town.

A North Vietnamese regiment, the 927th, has moved down from Laongam, 30 miles north of Pakson, toward Pakson, which is now encircled by enemy forces, Thongphanh said.

NYC Budget Of $7.8 Billion

NEW YORK (AP) — Mayor John V. Lindsay has submitted a $7.8 billion expense budget for New York City in the next fiscal year, an outlay larger than any state budget and second only to the federal government.

The proposal, which is subject to approval by the City Council and the Board of Estimate, represents an increase of $1.1 billion over the $6.7 billion budget for the fiscal year ending June 30.

Say Moderates Losing Control

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — A group of college students who say moderates are losing control on campuses have registered as lobbyists—under the initials USA—with the 1970 Florida legislature.

Commission Refuses School Bus Money

RALEIGH (AP) — North Carolina school officials apparently will have to find some way to provide equal bus transportation for city school pupils next fall without using any extra funds.

The North Carolina Advisory Budget Commission refused Thursday to act on a board of education request that $1.8 million be transferred from surplus teacher salary funds to the transportation fund.

The board had contended that the funds were needed to provide busing for an extra 56,708 city pupils living 1½ miles or more from school, and that the only alternative was to cut off bus service to 41,000 urban children now receiving it.

The transfer of funds was approved by Gov. Bob Scott. But the powerful Advisory Budget Commission issued a brief statement saying that the proposal raised "serious questions both of fiscal policy and of law."

The statement was issued through Dr. William L. Turner, director of the Department of Administration, who refused to elaborate on the written statement.

Administration Has Uphill Senate Fight On Cambodia

WASHINGTON (AP) — Administration forces in the Senate, facing an uphill fight, say approval of restrictions on U.S. military spending in Indochina would cast doubt on President Nixon's judgment and credibility.

Republican Whip Robert P. Griffin of Michigan told newsmen Thursday Senate approval of the Church-Cooper amendment to bar further use of U.S. troops in Cambodia "would suggest the President doesn't mean what he says and that the Senate doesn't believe him."

"It appears to question his judgment. It appears to question his word as a commander-in-chief," declared Sen. Robert J. Dole, R-Kan., in a floor speech comments as the administration sent a top-level three-man team to lobby at a closed-door meeting for the support of the 43-Dole, R-Kan., in a floor speech.

Griffin and Dole made their comments as the administration sent a top-level three-man team to lobby at a closed-door meeting for the support of the 43-member GOP bloc.

Secretary of Defense Melvin Laird, national security adviser Henry Kissinger and Undersecretary of State Elliot Richardson told the divided Republicans the administration vigorously opposes approval of any amendment appearing to tie the President's hands in Southeast Asia.

Reaction to the session was mixed. Some senators came away saying Nixon seems bent on forcing a constitutional confrontation, but others said they saw no such prospects.

The floor debate, meanwhile, moved swiftly to the heart of the issue—the President's powers to protect U.S. troops whether Congress restricts funds or not.

Voting on the first in a series of amendments aimed at curbing funds was put off until next week at the earliest, probably Tuesday.

Republicans denied any intention to stall. But Griffin conceded to a newsman delay won't hurt administration efforts to defeat or water down the crucial Cooper-Church amendment to a $300-million foreign military sales bill.

Although Griffin would not comment, other GOP leaders said the amendment would carry on a straight up or down vote now.

The amendment, sponsored by Sens. John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., and Frank Church, D-Idaho, would bar the use of funds for retaining U.S. troops in Cambodia after July 1 and would allow no money after that to support advisers or instructors for Cambodian troops or U.S. air support for Cambodian soldiers.

"We're not trying to restrict the presidential rights. We're trying to exert some of our own," Church told the Senate.

"Do you agree that the President has the right to protect our forces?" asked Dole, who introduced an amendment that would bar funds except for this purpose.

Govm't Statistics Are Painting Glum Picture Of Economic Slowdown

By JOHN M. PEARCE
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The newest government statistics paint a picture of gloom, a full-fledged economic slowdown not at the crisis stage but still troublesome.

Despite the uncontradicted negative figures indicating lower profits and higher prices, the Nixon administration remains publicly convinced its policies are working and business will start upward sometime between June and December.

"We're traveling a narrow path between recession and inflation," Arthur F. Burns, the Federal Reserve Board chairman, told Congress Thursday.

Although not an official member of the administration, Burns was President Nixon's chief domestic adviser until January and now is as responsible as any other individual for the health of the money and credit systems. These were the developments Thursday, a day heavy with economic news:

—The Commerce Department said prices during January, February and March rose at an annual rate of 5¼ per cent, a quarter of a point higher than its earlier estimate. With the recent 6 per cent federal pay raise figured in, the increase was 6¼ per cent, highest since the Korean war.

At the same time, actual production dropped 3 per cent, the largest since the 1960 recession, instead of the 1½ per cent listed in preliminary figures.

—Output of the nation's factories dropped almost one-half of one per cent during April to 170.4 per cent of the 1957-59 benchmark. It reversed a similar March increase and continued a general slide that began last August.

—The stock market dropped 9.05 points, bringing the bellwether Dow-Jones industrial average to 684.79, the lowest in more than seven years.

The market has slid almost 40 points since April 28, when President Nixon assured a group of visiting businessmen, "Frankly, if I had any money, I'd be buying stocks right now." Asked Thursday at a news briefing if Nixon still stood by that, Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler smiled, took a sip of coffee, and went on to the next question.

—Personal income gained a record $17.8 billion during April, due entirely to the Social Security and federal pay increases. Private wages and salaries declined $1.5 billion, at an annual rate after seasonal adjustment.

—To the surprise of almost no one, corporate profits dipped $6¼ billion to an annual rate of $85 billion during the first quarter. As a result, corporations' tax liability fell $3¼ billion, giving strength to administration fears the current fiscal year—ending next month—may produce a budget deficit.

—The balance of payments took a sharp turn for the worse in the first quarter, with all international transactions, showing a deficit of $1.73 billion after a $532 million surplus in the October-December quarter last year.

Government economists said the figures weren't unexpected. Treasury Undersecretary Charles E. Walker said the figures "would not indicate to me that the picture was any different from yesterday before the figures came out."

And Treasury Secretary David M. Kennedy, speaking in Utah, said he saw signs "that the worst may be over."

Will Probe Augusta Case

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Justice Department has announced plans to investigate the deaths of six Augusta, Ga., Negroes who were shot during rioting there Monday night.

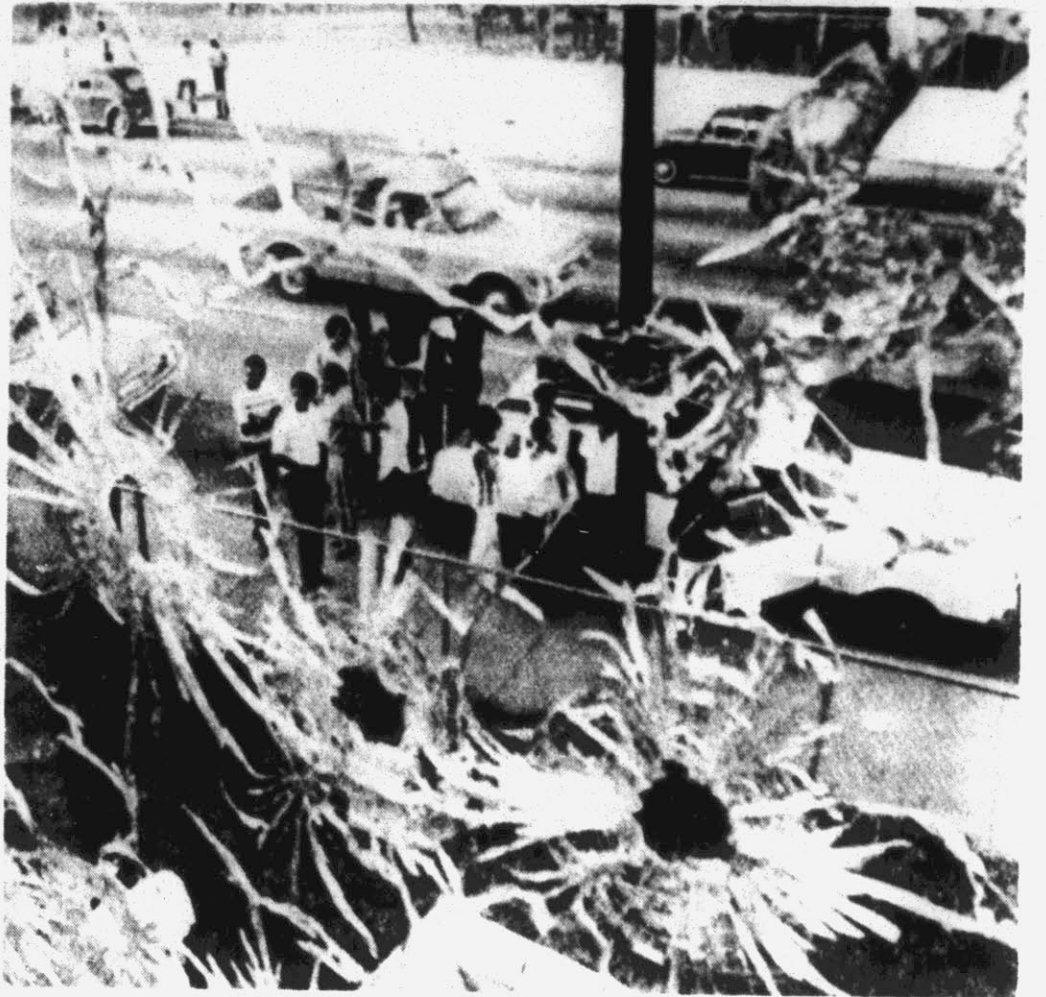

Meanwhile, doctors who have examined the bodies are unable to agree on how many times the victims were shot.

The Justice Department's Civil Rights Division will conduct the investigation in an attempt to determine whether federal civil rights laws were violated, the department said Thursday.

The men were killed during Monday night's disorders, in which Augusta police said there were incidents of looting and arson.

The disorders were touched off by the beating death of a Negro youth in the Richmond County jail in Augusta. The civil rights division is also investigating that death, the department said.

The Richmond County Commission Thursday ordered immediate autopsies on all six victims after doctors disagreed earlier over the number of times the victims were wounded and whether they were shot in the back.

Two Are Killed In Campus Disorders

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A barrage of police gunfire killed two Negro men and wounded five others today as they stood in front of a women's dormitory at predominantly Negro Jackson State College in Jackson, Miss.

It was not immediately known whether the victims were students. City police and state troopers had gone to the campus to investigate complaints from passing motorists that rocks were thrown at their cars. Students said the rocks had been thrown by nonstudents.

Police said they opened fire after someone fired at them from the building. National Guardsmen were in the area with unloaded weapons but not at the scene of the shooting.

Early last week four students were shot to death in a confrontation with Ohio National Guardsmen at Kent State University during a protest over President Nixon's decision to send U.S. troops into Cambodia.

Witnesses in Jackson today said the policemen confronted a crowd of men standing in front of the dormitory and opened with a 7 to 10 second barrage after hearing a sound like a shot or a firecracker. Neither police nor the college issued a statement on the shooting or the cause of the rock throwing.

There has been discontent on the campus for some time, with many students claiming too many blacks are sent to Vietnam immediately after graduation.

After the shooting, students screamed at the policemen from windows of other dormitories while students in front of the building dropped to the ground to take cover.

National Guard troops in armored personnel carriers with .30-caliber machine guns on top moved on to the scene on the 3,500-student campus.

Hinds County Coroner B. R. Billock identified the dead as James Earl Green and Philip L. Gibbs, 21. He said autopsies would be performed.

Another 11 persons were treated for minor injuries after the violence. All were blacks except a highway patrolman who received minor laceration.

One student said, "They said somebody shot but it was just a bottle. It made a popping sound when it hit."

In Athens, Ohio, the president of Ohio University ordered the school closed early today after 1,000 National Guardsmen were ordered into the city following day-long campus disorders.

Police earlier fired tear gas to disperse about 2,000 rock-throwing students at the school while the highway patrol sealed off the southwestern Ohio town of 17,000 people.

An aide to Gov. James A. Rhodes, who ordered the guardsmen onto the Kent State campus last week, said there was no immediate plan to use them at Ohio University.

At the 41,000-student University of Maryland in College Park, National Guardsmen and state policemen fired tear gas and marched shoulder to shoulder Thursday night to clear 5,000 students off U.S. Highway 1.

The new violence came as many striking students around the country mapped plans to move their protests off campus—to streets, factories and legislative chambers.

A nationwide survey showed 14 schools officially closed and the student strike information center at Brandeis University in Waltham, Mass., reported student strikes at 278 colleges and universities.

He'll See Her True Face Soon Enough

By Abigail Van Buren

(© 1970 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd., Inc.)

DEAR ABBY: I have been engaged to a wonderful girl for over a year. A week ago I called on her unexpectedly, and to my surprise, she refused to see me, and told me to come back in half an hour. She explained later that she wanted time to put her make-up on.

We plan to get married soon. Abby, I love her with or without make-up. Why won't she let me see her like she really is?

ROME, ITALY

DEAR ROME: Before the honeymoon, most girls "make-up" and kiss. After the honeymoon they kiss and make up. Don't pout. You'll see her "like she really is" soon enough.

DEAR ABBY: My husband had a birthday last week and the children and I spent the afternoon baking and decorating a birthday cake for him.

When he came home that evening he told us he had already had a birthday "party" at the office. The children looked so hurt, and I was mad!

It seems the "girls" in his office took it upon themselves to give him a birthday party with cake and ice cream and all the trimmings.

If they want their boss to know they "remembered" him on his birthday, why don't they just buy him a nice card and have everybody sign it?

I told my husband I was going to call his office and tell his "girls" how I felt about this, but he wouldn't let me. However, he didn't say I couldn't write to you because I didn't ask him.

Do you think I am making too much of this? And is there some way to stop this asinine practice?

HURT WIFE

DEAR HURT: Yes, I think you are making "too much" of it, and there is NO way to stop this practice. [I wouldn't call it "asinine."] Your husband's "crime" wasn't eating his cake and having it, too, it was his lack of judgment. Knowing that you're the kind of woman who might become upset over something like this, he should have kept his mouth shut and spared you the anguish.

DEAR "CAN'T SLEEP": It is not too late to profit by your mistake in not being more thoughtful to your mother while she still lived. She does not need you now, but there are homes filled with old folks who would thrill to be paid a little regular attention. Drop in with a few flowers from your garden, magazines you only stack up or throw away, some home made goodies, etc., etc. Devote at least one day a week to take one or two or as many as you can manage in your car for a little spin. Interest your neighbors to join you. Bring the children along on occasion. Old folks love children.

Do this, at first, in reparation, and in time it will become a labor of love. True, of course, we can only have one mother, but, in the family of God we are all one: He loves us, He forgives us.

Cheer up by cheering others up. It is a beautiful formula for sleep and peace.

J. E. B., NEWTON, MASS.

DEAR J. E. B.: And yours is a beautiful letter. Thanks for writing.

Family, Friends And Fads Are Enemies Of Dieter

By PAT ROBERTSON
Columbia Record Writer
Written For The AP
COLUMBIA (AP)—The worst enemies of a man on a diet are the three F's—Family, Friends and Fads.

Take it from one who knows. These three should be avoided like the plague if the dieter is to keep his determination and peace of mind.

Some months ago, following a trip to New York City which took me to some rather nice restaurants, I stepped on the bathroom scales at home and pretty near scared myself to death.

The needle bounced over and back, over and back, finally settling at about 255.

That is a lot of weight for a 5-foot-10 frame. Weigh-ins like that spell heart attacks.

Shaken, I quietly announced to my wife that I planned to see my doctor, a promise I'd made hundreds of times before to myself, but never kept.

But this time I was determined. Scenes of my friends attending a funeral following my early demise at the tender age of 31 kept filtering through my head.

Monday I made an appointment with the doctor. I ate very little that whole week. Those dreams about the funeral killed my appetite.

On Friday came the big examination. I weighed in at 244. "You should get down to at least 165 for your height," said the doctor.

Another 79 pounds? Impossible, I thought.

Luckily, all other systems checked out A-Okay. No heart damage; the fact that I'd quit smoking a year before was a plus in my favor, the doctor said.

The weight of what I was expected to do began to bear down on me.

I can do it, I told myself determinedly, but how can I convince my family and friends that I have to be on this diet just like a sick person has to watch what he eats?

"Doctor," I said, "Give me an appointment for my wife, too. Tell her just exactly what you've told me."

"Does your wife have a weight problem?" he asked.

"Yeah, me," I answered.

So, the next week, the two of us went to the doctor. My wife took notes as he outlined my diet.

"Nothing with any sugar in it. That means no soft drinks, no candy, no sweets, no deserts. No starches. That means no pizza, potatoes, bread, crackers, rice, gravies . . . nothing with flour or meal."

Also banned were dairy products, except for an occasional small helping of cottage cheese.

"He's deleted 90 per cent of my regular diet," I thought dimly.

Later, in the car, my wife and I talked over the battle plan.

"You'll have to run interference for me," I told her.

I could just hear family and friends: "Oh, it won't hurt you to go off your diet just once."

"Just a little piece of this cake will be all right."

"Are you sure you don't want a hot buttered biscuit?"

"I just don't see how you can pass up fried chicken and potatoes and gravy."

Their well-meaning comments are deadly. Each one weakens determination, makes you want that piece of contraband food even more than usual.

So much for family and friends. They'll kill you if you let them.

As for fad diets, they'll do the same. Sure, they cause you to shed 10 to 15 pounds in a short period of time, but just how long can you survive on one of them? And how long can you keep that weight off?

So much for fads.

I decided the only way to make it was to plug away at the plan outlined by the doctor.

That was last Nov. 1.

The other night I weighed at the gym.

The tally: 155 pounds.

That, friends, is 100 pounds . . . was carrying around, 100 pounds containing thousands of miles of blood vessels through which my overworked heart was trying to pump blood.

It was not easy. There were times I felt like breaking.

I took prescribed diet depressants for a while, but gave them up voluntarily after I proved to myself I could lose without them.

The hardest times came when family and friends tried to push food at me. Sometimes relations became strained when I would respond with anger.

But, the rewards far outweigh a few frayed nerves and some disgruntled relatives.

I recently a pair of 32-inch waist rousers, the first time in my life I ever bought a pair of trousers in that size. I went from husky boys sizes right into men's sizes growing up.

Last October, before dieting, I bought a pair of trousers in size 40, and they were tight.

My wife says she got two husbands for the price of one. I was big when she married me, but now I'm a completely different person. And she didn't have to go through the rigors of divorce to get the new me.

I've increased my chances of living to be 40 by about 100 per cent.

Don't be fooled and don't fool yourself. If you're fat you can lose weight. There are very few people with gland disorders that just won't let them lose.

If you want to lose you can. But, go to your doctor, and follow his advice to the letter.

Set a goal and don't give up. You can reach it. Live from week to week, watching those pounds come off.

When you've reached your goal, stay there. Don't think you can pick up your old eating habits again and keep your weight down. And, above all, beware the three F's.

Price Supports For Peanuts Announced

The minimum price support on 1970-crop peanuts will be at a National average of $255 per short ton, the U.S. Department of Agriculture has announced.

This represents 75 percent of the estimated peanut parity price for Aug. 1. This is $7.50 more per ton than the 1969 final support price of $247.50 per ton.

According to Stacy Evans, manager of the Pitt County ASCS office, today's announced support price will be lowered but it may be increased later. It will be increased if the parity price and the supply percentage at the beginning of the marketing year result in a higher legal minimum support price.

"The Agricultural Act of 1949 provides for peanut price support at a level between 75 and 90 percent of parity depending upon the percentage which the total supply of peanuts is in relation to the normal supply at the beginning of the marketing year," Evans reported.

Today's minimum support price announcement is made in accordance with "forward pricing" provisions of current legislation which provided for such determination in advance of the planting season.

A later announcement will list support prices of 1970-crop peanuts by type and area, as well as premiums and discounts for various types of kernels, foreign material, and other factors, Evans explained.

Price support will be available through loans and purchases. Loans to approved grower associations cooperating in making price support available to farmers will mature on demand by the Commodity Credit Corporation.

"A producer needs to comply with his 1970 crop peanut acreage allotment to be eligible for price support," explained Evans.

FASHION FORECASTS

by C. Heber Forbes

(Teenagers' Trends)

For years, teenagers have been blazing the trail of trends. Their influence upon fashions has been fantastic! Many of those fashions have been adopted by adults.

Most parents want to manifest genuine interest in the clothes of their teenager daughter of daughters, without playing down set trends.

A good way to study teenage fashions is for the mother to invite her daughter's girl friends over to see whether or not they are adhering to current trends.

Mothers should be adroit in guiding their daughters in selection of clothing. Also the care of clothes should be stressed. In order to win the daughter's confidence, mothers always dress to create a feeling of pride on the part of the daughter.

Opening Doors To Censorship

Rep. David N. Henderson would open the doors to government censorship in his questioning of mail subsidies for Readers Digest and Evergreen magazine.

Rep. Henderson accused Readers Digest of a "biased and slanted" attack on farm subsidies. In an appearance before the House Postals Rates subcommittee the congressman said Evergreen is pornographic.

The second class mail subsidy is based on the theory that "the widest possible dissemination of information is in the public interest," he said. "Is it in the public interest to disseminate information which is not factually true, or which is deliberately distorted or biased?"

"Is it in the public interest to subsidize publications like Evergreen magazine which the overwhelming majority of Americans consider indecent and pornographic?" he was quoted as saying.

Well we don't agree with Readers Digest on the Practice Run On Tax Repeal

By BRYAN HAISLIP

RALEIGH, N.C. — Dress rehearsal for the tax repeal drama to be played for the 1971 General Assembly will be staged before the North Carolina Tax Study Commission in Raleigh next week.

How convincing the performance is the 11-member commission at hearings on Monday and Tuesday, May 18-19, could have important bearing on the legislature's action.

Scheduled to lead off the hearings is Executive Director Sam L. Whitehurst of the North Carolina Soft Drink Association. He will be followed by James C. Little, counsel for the North Carolina Oil Jobbers Association.

The soft drink industry is engaged in a campaign to persuade the '71 General Assembly to repeal the tax imposed on its product by the '69 session. Likewise, the oil jobbers are active on behalf of repeal (or reduction by half) of the two-cent per gallon gasoline tax increase voted by the last legislature.

Presiding for the hearings will be State Sen. Herman A. Moore of Charlotte, commission chairman. Does he expect the commission to consider recommendations dealing with repeal of the taxes at the '71 session?

"I sure do," Moore replied.

"My guess is that the commission will seek to correct inequities or recommend repeal — whatever the commission feels should be done."

The commission is studying the state's entire tax structure, with particular attention to exemptions. Its final report is not due until late 1972. However, Moore said an interim report covering matters requiring action by the '71 General Assembly will be submitted to Governor Scott this fall.

This presents tax repeal advocates with something of a dilemma. Should they make their most convincing arguments to the study commission, staking hopes on its recommendation for repeal and the advantage this might give for the legislative battle — or save their ammunition for the legislators who will really make the decision?

On the other hand, what if the commission and Governor do not recommend repeal — how much of a handicap would this be in the General Assembly?

Whatever its recommendations — for or against repeal — a majority of the tax study commission's members expect to be in the '71 General Assembly (subject to the general election) and undoubtedly would carry the ball for the commission's point of view.

Members of the '69 legislature (all Democrats) serving on the commission in addition to Sen. Moore, are: Rep. Clarence E. Leatherman of Lincolnton, vice chairman; State Sens. Gordon Allen of Roxboro, Frank N. Patterson, Jr., of Albemarle, and Sankey W. Robinson of Whiteville; Reps. John T. Church of Henderson, Jimmy L. Love of Sanford. With the exception of Allen and Robinson, all are candidates for the '71 General Assembly.

Public members are: Douglas F. Powell, Morganton attorney; W. J. Smith, Jr., Charlotte banker; J. Melvin Thompson, Pres. of Home Federal Savings & Loan Association, Fayetteville; and Robert W. Wynne, III, Raleigh, who since his appointment has won Democratic nomination to the House.

Or course, repeal of the new '69 taxes is only one aspect of the tax study commission's work. Its assignment is broad and open-ended, covering the whole tax structure.

To date, its four meetings have been devoted to briefing by Revenue Department officials and others. After the hearings, Chairman Moore said, the work will be divided up for more detailed study.

In addition to the soft drink and oil jobbers associations, those scheduled for the hearings include:

Monday, May 18 — Executive Director John Morrissey, Sr., N.C. Association of County Commissioners; Chairman John R. Gamble, Jr., Lincoln County Commissioners; President B. C. Mangum, N.C. Farm Bureau Federation; General Counsel Howard Manning, N.C. Savings and Loan League.

Tuesday, May 19 — Executive Vice President Harry Gatton, N.C. Bankers Association; Rep. Samuel H. Johnson, Raleigh; Secretary - Treasurer Simmons Andrews, N.C. Bear Wholesalers Association; and Director Philip R. Elam, Industry and Business Department, Asheville Chamber of Commerce.

farm subsidy issue and we are sure that we would find some things in Evergreen that would be objectionable to us. On the other hand none of us have to read either magazine. It is a matter of choice. The second class rates are applied to all magazines in order that we might have the widest range of opinions as possible available to the public.

If it becomes necessary to increase second class rates because of over all postal costs then that is the way it will have to be.

In our opinion, however, any increase in mail rates for publications should not be a matter of their content. Such an action would be punitive and a violation of the spirit of freedom of the press and freedom of speech.

Whatever the subcommittee decides on second class rates the content of the Readers Digest or any other publication should not be a consideration.

N.C. Is Honored By The French Invitation

It is an honor for North Carolina that Gov. and Mrs. Scott were chosen with five other governors to be the guests of the French government for ten days.

The visit will include an audience with French Premier Jacques Chaban - Delmas, as well as a number of other official affairs.

The functions of our states and their governor are not as well known to Europeans as are the activities of the federal government.

Gov. Scott and the other governors will be good will ambassadors to France. They will give to the French people a view of American government that should be helpful.

U.S. Resuming Aid To Greece

By ROWLAND EVANS and ROBERT NOVAK

WASHINGTON — Renewal of full - scale U.S. arms shipments to Greece threatens an explosion at the meeting of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) later this month in Rome, with several NATO countries threatening to reappraise their NATO membership.

The U.S. slapped its arms embargo on the Greek junta three years ago, after the coup by army colonels established a military dictatorship. Now, however, with Soviet power growing in the Eastern Mediterranean and the Arab world, the U.S. has reached a hard — but not yet announced — decision to resume full - scale shipment of heavy armaments to the junta. Small arms shipments have been going on for many months.

The U.S. decision has not been announced for one reason: fear that making it public now would envenom the Rome NATO meeting by further exacerbating rising bitterness against the junta throughout Europe, particularly in the Scandinavian countries, Belgium, and Holland.

Top Nixon administration diplomats have been warned that the intense feeling against the junta in Denmark and Norway is creating a political backlash against their conservative governments that might get out of control.

In Denmark, for example, the opposition Social Democratic Party, single largest party in parliament, is pushing a resolution that would put the government formally on record as against any new arms shipments to Greece designed to strengthen NATO's southern flank.

That resolution, which will be taken up any day now in the parliament, would cut across the official position of Denmark's conservative government that, for reasons of European security, Greece should not be expelled from NATO.

With public sentiment in Denmark against the junta now reaching what one diplomat called a "fantastic" level, the conservative government may have to rewrite that official policy (set forth last February). Announcement by the Nixon administration of full - scale arms shipments before the Rome meeting would be the final straw, forcing the government to yield or risk grave political reprisal.

What is happening in Denmark is even more intense than in Norway, where popular fury at the Greek colonels has reached explosive proportions. Moreover, the U.S. decision to move troops into Cambodia is being used by the political left as another potent tool to build political opposition against Washington as the promoter of new arms shipments to the junta.

A little - noticed signal that European hostility to the Greek colonels is still rising came in the April 16 communique of the Common Market. For the first time in Common Market history, a communique dealt with a purely political matter—the Greek dictatorship. It had ominous overtones for Athens.

Reviewing "with growing concern" the failure of the junta to adopt democratic procedures and end the terror of imprisonment and torture, this communique warned Greece that its formal association with the Common Market "must be" reconsidered. The reason: "the repeated offenses against human and civil rights."

That harsh language followed — by several months — the junta's angry withdrawal from the semi - official Council of Europe last Dec. 12. The withdrawal was a face - saving move to prevent certain expulsion. Despite this clear handwriting on the wall, the Nixon

Strength For Today

SINCERITY SUPREME

A minister called upon to say words of comfort to a dying woman was amazed to have her express a bitter enmity against God. She believed in God's existence, but she evidently felt that God had not given her a square deal. She said nothing about her own sins and weaknesses. Her attitude toward God was one of bitterness and reproach.

An attitude such as this is indeed rare. As people approach death they are usually humble, and remembering the sins and mistakes they have made they plead for God's forgiveness and understanding.

And this, of course, is as it should be. There are about three billion people in the world today, and everyone is a sinner. Does this mean that the human race is under God's heavy condemnation? Not at all. God knows our sins and weaknesses better than we know them. He is more anxious to accord us his forgiveness than we are to seek that forgiveness. If God were as hard on us as we are on ourselves, death would be a horrifying reality for everybody.

But death is not a horrifying reality for everybody and indeed should not be. The Bible assures us that God has a plan for every life born into the world. We all fail to live up to this plan perfectly. What God is interested in most is not how successful we have been in our efforts to live a significant life but how hard we have tried. It would appear that God loves sincerity above all human qualities. By Earl L. Douglass

Working With System

WASHINGTON — For years now, our congressmen on Capitol Hill have been urging students to "work within the system." You can imagine their surprise and consternation last week when the students took them up on it.

Congressman Halyard Hoakum was just putting some balls in his golf bag when his secretary came in and said, "Sir, there's a delegation of students outside from your district and they want to see you."

Congressman Hoakum said, "For heaven's sakes, it's Friday. Don't they know we don't work on Friday?" "I told them that, but they still insisted on seeing you. They said they're from Fairweather State, your alma mater."

"All right, show them in," Congressman Hoakum said, but he sure interrupted me in 20 minutes. You can say the White House is calling." The secretary showed 10 students in.

Congressman Hoakum stuck his hand out, "Well, this is a great honor ... a great honor. How's everything at Fairweather State?"

A young girl said, "Congressman Hoakum, we've come to discuss with you what is going on in Vietnam."

Congressman Hoakum said, "Of course you have. Say, let's pose for a photo together." He buzzed his press man, "Jack, you want to bring in the camera and take some shots of me talking to a group of fine, dedicated Americans from Fairweather State? We could air mail it out there for Monday morning's papers. Good."

Jack came in with his camera. Congressman Hoakum said, "Now gather around the desk here and pretend like you have something really serious to say."

"We do have something serious to say," a boy said. "Congressman Hoakum, the students at Fairweather

State are concerned over the way the President has been ...

"Say, how's the football team going to be?" the congressman asked. "Coach Fogel told me he might get a bowl invitation this year." A girl pursued the subject, "We are fed up with rhetoric and pabulum. We want our representatives in Congress to do something."

"I know exactly how you feel," Congressman Hoakum said. "When I was a student I felt the same way. I said, 'Why can't we change things?' But since I've been in public life, I've taken a more realistic view. But you're too young to know that, and I envy your idealism. If I were your age, I'd be doing the same thing you're doing."

"How can we change things," Congressman Hoakum?" "By working through the system ... that's the American way. Our government with its checks and balances provides for everyone to have a voice in this country. And no one believes in the right of peaceful dissent more than I do. You getting all this on tape, Jack?"

"Congressman Hoakum," the girl spokesman said, "you have been a great help to us and have shown us what we have to do." "It's wonderful that we can still communicate. What are you going to do?"

Well Known Words

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Husbandly remarks that wives get tired of hearing:

"Yes, I heard every word you said. The trouble is that I've heard them all 10,000 times before."

"Nagging will get you nowhere."

"Well, how can I take you out, when you say you have absolutely nothing to wear?"

"This meal looks awful familiar. Didn't you cook it before?" "I don't mind ordinary leftovers, but I don't like leftover leftover leftovers."

"If you wanted to live like a rich woman, why didn't you marry a rich man?"

"You pick up after the children—so why do you holler so much about picking up after me?"

"What on God's green earth do women know about politics any way? They never vote for the man they vote for or against his face."

"How many times have I told you not to phone me at the office unless it's a real emergency? I don't feel that the fact you've just found your first gray hair is that kind of an emergency."

"What if junior doesn't want to go to college? Maybe he can become a plumber or a television repair man and keep us all in comfort."

"You run the home; I'll run the office."

"Lower your voice, Bert. Here comes my battle ax—and she's got ears like three microphones."

"Go on a second honeymoon? Are you out of your mind? Do you know what our first honeymoon cost? And what did we really get out of it?"

"I wouldn't mind if your mother just visited us now and then, but does she have to try and haunt our house on a permanent basis? Why don't you just invite her for next Halloween?"

All right, now that I've got a firm grip on my Martini, calm down and tell me what happened. Did one of the kids lose a front tooth or the car have kittens in the shower?"

"If I ran my job the way you do this house, the whole family would be in a breadline by the end of the week."

"Okay, if you have to get it off your chest, get it off your chest. But when you finally run out of breath, let me remind you of one thing: there are laws now about creating noise pollution."

"I'm not knocking marriage but, looking back, all in all I had even more fun in the army."

Opinions In Brief

Vice President Spiro Agnew has stated that North Vietnam is overstretched and is weakening in the war. Perhaps. But we have heard such statements too many times in the past to accept them unquestioningly. — The Christian Science Monitor.

It is entirely possible that if Governor Scott can push his plans for public ownership and conservation of Bald Head through to completion, it would ultimately be the most significant single step of his own admission — Fayetteville Observer.

With total retail sales slipping, most merchants are stepping up selling efforts. Here are ideas some retailers are using to increase volume:

● Remember that the quickest price cut is the least costly. When sales of an item drag, a 10 to 20 per cent price cut taken quickly may stop losses. If the cut is delayed, it may have to be 20 to 50 per cent to move the item.

● Review advertising. New approaches, new ideas and even new media may attract new customers. This may be the time to try out new ideas.

● Step up the smiles!

American salespeople have developed a reputation for indifference and even surliness. Encourage them to smile. Warn them of the big truth: their jobs may depend on smiles.

Benefit From Consumerism

● Consumerism is here to stay. Don't fight it. Try to make it work for you. In advertising, in buying policy and in attitudes within the store stress the fact that you are on the consumer's side, and many stores that aren't will be out of business if they do not. Note what many merchants, notably super chains, are doing: carrying heavy explanatory advertising telling how to select the best buys, how to judge items, helping shoppers to become experts.

● Review signing. Make helpfulness the theme of store signs.

● Consider package sales, offering special prices on combinations of related items or of multiple identical items. Try case pricing as the liquor shops do.

● Recognize the fact that consumers are more sophisticated than they were last year. They want more facts about goods and services. Arm salespeople with them.

Ah, Youth!

● Remember that from now on our youth will occupy a larger part of the market place. Stress youth appeal without going hippie. Try for younger salespeople; make store attitudes young. Even the oldesters will like it.

● Play up to the senses. Review the color scheme of store or showroom. Make sure it is bright, gay, youthful. Keep lights bright and colorful. Check odors, too. There is a sweet smell of success in many lines. Auto makers have been giving cars "new" smells for years. In other lines, appropriate odors strongly influence customers. And repulsive smells can kill sales.

● Review public relations. That doesn't mean hiring a girl to send notices of staff promotions to newspapers. PR involves a store's total image, it's relation to the community, the image the public has of the operation. One Western advertising agency requires every employee to devote 20 per cent of his time to community or charitable work.

● Take a lesson from the Japanese merchants and give unadvertised premiums or gifts to customers. Do it subtly: slip an unnoticed item in a package. Your psychiatrist can tell you why this pleases a customer more than advertised free balloons or candy bars.

And more of us will need psychiatrists these days.

vitality of a Russian literary underground, despite all efforts by the Communist regime to suppress it.

Out of the U.S.S.R. comes novels, poems political pamphlets, and tracts, some disclosing information which ordinarily would be available only to the Soviet secret police.

Much of this stream of dissidence finds its way to the Frankfurt office of Michel Slavinsky, a manuscript editor for the Russian-language publishing house dalled Posev—Sowing. The presses of Posev produced works by Nobel Prize winner Boris Pasternak before he received international acclaim, and by Alexander Solzhenitsyn, considered by many to be Russia's greatest living writer.

Slavinsky, French-born son of a czarist naval officer, says he expects that the Soviet crackdown on Solzhenitsyn, author of "Cancer Ward" and "The First Circle," to inspire an even greater output of underground works by defiant Russian writers.

administration's decision to resume heavy arms shipments soon after the Rome meeting will not be changed.

The only concession the U.S. has made to its anti-junta NATO friends is to postpone the announcement until after the NATO meeting, and even that concession involved hard political infighting within the Administration. Some top Administration officials, arguing privately that the junta actually has eased its repressive rule, wanted to meet the issue head-on before the Rome conference.

Pentagon officials, in fact, flatly informed Greek Adm. Constantine Margaritis during his informal visit to Washington three weeks ago that U. S. naval aircraft had already been "released" for early shipment to Greece. There will be no backdown here.

joined battle with the regime Slavinsky points to the growing number of "samizdat"—self-publication — works being produced in the U.S.S.R. These reach wide audiences through a simple device. The originator of the pamphlet makes four copies to send to four friends. Each is asked to make four copies to send to four others, a process by which hundreds of thousands can be reached eventually.

Underground manuscripts get to the West in a number of ways. Some simply are mailed by way of neutral countries. Others are carried out by travelers. Some are on microfilm, some on sound tapes.

One underground periodical comes out at regular intervals and is considered by many the most important of its kind. Called "Chronicles of Current Events," it began publication two years and a dozen issues ago.

Since then Chronicles has brought to light many aspects of Soviet dissent. It has detailed Russian criticism of the invasion of Czechoslovakia. It carried material on the confinement of dissident writers to asylums. It even carried textual extracts of KGB interrogations, which caused some in the West to speculate that Chronicles had contacts within the secret police organization.

Posev publishes much of what Chronicles produces.

"Ten years ago, the Soviets tried to tell such writers they were working for nothing because no Soviet citizen would read what they wrote," says Slavinsky. "Five years ago, the officials said the stuff was laughable and called them outsiders and lunatics."

Now, he says, Soviet officials take the writers seriously and call them dangerous tools of the anti-Communist NTS—League of Russian Solidarists—which is based in West Germany. Slavinsky admits that he and some other Posev editors are NTS members, but says Posev is independent of it and all outside organizations.

Posev, he says, manages to earn enough to divert part of its money to printing digests of its two periodicals, a political monthly called Posev and a literary quarterly called Grani—Aspects. Both are mailed at random to the Soviet Union and Slavinsky says up to 70 per cent of the digests, copies numbering in the thousands, get through because postal employees cannot open all the mail. Posev also publishes books in Russian and German.

Today In Washington

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration has just about finished writing proposed legislation seeking as much as $1.5 billion for Southern school desegregation in the coming fiscal year, says the government's top antipoverty official.

Donald Rumsfeld, director of the Office of Economic Opportunity, said Thursday the administration will probably ask Congress for $300 million to $500 million between now and September and another $1 billion in authorization and appropriations for the remainder of the year that begins July 1.

The money will go for interracial experiments and desegregation, according to a source in the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House has approved 173 to 88 a bill authorizing expenditure of $45 million over the next three fiscal years to lure more foreign travelers to the United States.

The bill authorizes $15 million each year for the United States Travel Service.

Earlier in the day the House had passed a bill actually appropriating $4.5 million for the same purpose for the coming fiscal year. If the Senate goes along with the House authorization measure Congress could later increase that figure.

Rep. H. R. Gross, R-Iowa, opposed the measure, saying "Lord knows we've spent enough money nursing foreigners. They surely ought to know where the United States is by this time."

WASHINGTON (AP) — In an action almost unheard of in the federal government, the U.S. Forest Service has asked that Congress cut back its budget authorization for the fiscal year beginning July 1.

Deputy Chief M. M. Nelson Thursday asked the House public works roadssubcommittee to slash the authorization from $170 million to $100 million for forest development roads and trails.

Nelson told the subcommittee that although the service wants the figure restored to $170 million the following year, "we have substantial carry-over authorization" this year.

B52s Hit Logjam Of Red Supplies Found In Laos

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — U.S. B52s struck today at North Vietnamese supply trails and depots in eastern Laos jammed with war materials that the allied offensive have kept out of Cambodia, informed sources said.

The sources said the supplies were backed up in Laos because allied operations on a dozen fronts inside Cambodia have deprived the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong of many base camps at the end of the Ho Chi Minh trail.

"All those supplies are moving from North Vietnam and there's no where to put them," said one source.

The sources said the raids extended from south of the Mu Gia pass in North Vietnam along more than 200 miles of the Lao frontier. They were the heaviest in the Laos panhandle in two weeks.

Scores of smaller Navy tactical fighter-bombers flying out three 7th Fleet carriers in the Gulf of Tonkin also raided supply routes and depots in Laos.

The allied commands began pulling additional forces out of Cambodia and switching others around to explore previously untouched zones.

UNDULATORS UNMASKED
LEXINGTON, Ky. (UPI)—City police raided a downtown bar and arrested four "women" go-go dancers. But not to their surprise the "women" turned out to be female impersonators. They were taken into custody and charged with violating a city ordinance which prohibits "wearing disguises."

Prince Cutting Down His Staff

LONDON (AP) — Prince Philip, who said six months ago that the royal family was "going into the red," is getting rid of his private secretary to cut costs, a Buckingham Palace spokesman said today.

The secretary, James Orr, 52, is retiring early and the post is being abolished.

Philip's personal staff will now consist of his treasurer, Rear Adm. Sir Christopher Bonham-Carter, and his equerry, Maj. Randle Cooke.

Philip is paid $96,000 a year, mostly tax free, by the state. He has not had an increase since 1952.

The U.S. Command announced that elements of a brigade task force of the U.S. 25th Infantry Division maneuvered from the western front of War Zone C northwest of Saigon 40 miles northeastward toward the Cambodian town of Mimot on Highway 7.

The 1,500 American troops joined another task force exploring an area about eight miles long and four miles wide. South Vietnamese headquarters announced that thousands of infantrymen had been withdrawn from another front in Cambodia bordering the western Mekong Delta.

The allied drives in Cambodia also have restricted the enemy's efforts in South Vietnam, informants said.

"Continuing personnel and logistics problems also hamper our efforts," said one source. "We expect our operations in Cambodia to compound his problems in the border provinces."

Informed sources said they have seen Communist command campaign plans calling for sustained action in South Vietnam and stepped up activity in certain areas, but that the allied thrusts in Cambodia have prevented them from carrying out the plans.

U.S. troops worked to move out hundreds of tons of munitions and food found in North Vietnamese base camps.

The allied commands say their drives into Cambodia have killed 7,209 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong troops and captured 11,731 weapons, hundreds of tons of ammunition and 2,650 tons of rice.

American losses were put at 115 killed and 474 wounded; while South Vietnamese reported their casualties at 397 soldiers killed and 1,690 wounded.

About 14,000 U.S. troops and 20,000 South Vietnamese are committed to the drive aimed at destroying North Vietnamese and Viet Cong bases inside Cambodia which have been used to launch numerous attacks across the 600-mile border with South Vietnam.

U.S. forces have made small contacts over the past 24 hours. Four Americans and 14 North Vietnamese were reported killed and 14 Americans wounded in four clashes inside Cambodia ranging from 100 to more than 200 miles north of Saigon.

Sources said the enemy appears to be evacuating rear bases and establishing new ones deeper inside Cambodia.

An American helicopter gunship supporting South Vietnamese troops under mortar attack 19 miles south of the demilitarized zone accidentally fired on government soldiers, U.S. officials said. One South Vietnamese soldier was killed and nine were wounded.

The South Vietnamese troops were hit with more than 200 mortar rounds. Headquarters said the shelling caused light casualties with no fatalities.

Campuses Said Absorbing Brunt Of Social Unrest

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The head of one of the nation's most troubled campuses says colleges and universities have performed "an important service" to the country by absorbing the initial brunt of social unrest and discontent.

Roger W. Heyns, chancellor of the University of California at Berkeley, told the American Society of Newspaper Editors Thursday that "had the unrest and discontent initially been targeted on other institutions, the impact on society might have been much worse."

Despite the uproar and violence on the nation's campuses, he said, "universities have strengthened our students' faith in our basic freedoms and democratic ideals."

"Hostility on the part of the public complicated our task not a little," he added.

What has been learned by the establishment because of campus turmoil has helped the other institutions of society, he said.

In a question-answer session following his speech, he was asked his reaction to Gov. Ronald Reagan's statement that there is something conspiratorial behind campus turmoil. "I don't believe it," Heyns said.

Heyns added that radicals may communicate with each other but said there is no "apparatus giving orders."

Regarding the governor's statement that trouble makers should be expelled if they are students and fired if they are professors, he said:

"Probation by far has been the most effective technique for modifying behavior. If you kick someone out, that means he goes across the street and works at disruptive activity full time."

In a panel discussion, Sam Brown, a leader of the defunct Vietnam Moratorium, told the editors they had failed to establish communications with persons under 25.

W. D. Workman, Jr., editor of the Columbia, S.C. State-Record, responded, "We can't find anyone who speaks for young people any more than for black people."

Workman said newspapers, particularly in the South, have restrained many people from attacking demonstrators and "those who destroy universities."

Without such restraint, Workman said, dissidents "would be stomped into the ground."

The society also announced Thursday elections of board of directors members: three-year terms, Howard H. Hays, Riverside, Calif., Press-Enterprise; Warren H. Phillips, Wall Street Journal; John H. Sengstacke, Chicago Defender; Sylvan Meyer, Miami, Fla. News, and Emmett Dedmon, Chicago Sun-Times and Daily News; two-year term, George Chaplin, Honolulu Advertiser.

Outgoing president Norman

E. Isaacs, 62-year-old, executive editor and vice president of the Courier-Journal and the Louisville Times, announced he is retiring from active newspaper work.

Two Tar Heels Killed In Action

WASHINGTON (AP) — The latest list of servicemen killed in action in the war in Southeast Asia includes two Army men from North Carolina.

They were S. Sgt. William T. Waddell of Rockingham and Pfc. Dickie W. Reagan of Lumberton.

The infant mortality rate in Hong Kong is 23.03 per 1,000 live births.

Teacher Fired For Role In School Demonstration

CHAPEL HILL (AP) — One teacher has been fired and several others are being investigated by the school administration after a demonstration at a junior high school last week resulted in the suspension of 82 pupils.

The assistant superintendent of the Chapel Hill school system, William C. Foil, announced Thursday that Scott Bradley, a permanent substitute teacher at Guy B. Phillips Junior High School, was being fired for giving

"tacit support to the illegal and improper behavior of the students."

The demonstration occurred when about 100 black and white pupils stayed out of school last Friday morning to protest the war in Cambodia and prove that blacks and whites at the school could work together.

Pupils learned of Bradley's dismissal Wednesday. Some of them carried placards Thursday protesting the firing, and others used a school-sponsored forum to criticize it.

Foil said Bradley was dismissed because he failed to report the pupil's names and behavior to school officials. Bradley also said the administration is looking into possible disciplinary action against other teachers who also reportedly failed to turn in the pupils.

Bradley said Thursday, "I think even the people who fired me understand that I didn't lead the students down there. They knew what they were doing. They wouldn't have listened to me one way or the other, and I didn't think it was my role to interfere with their plans one way or the other."

But Principal Austin Simpson said "it was a matter of law" that Bradley was required to try to get the students to return to their classes or report them.

The suspensions drew opposition from the parents of many pupils involved.

At a forum which Simpson allowed the pupils to hold Thursday, about 120 of the school's 600 pupils listened to other pupils criticize the firing.

One said Bradley was just "down there to look after us so we wouldn't run off in all directions."

"Maybe this gave the authorities the feeling Scott was siding with the students against them," another youngster added. "That isn't true. Just because he listens to the students is no reason to fire him."

Police Hunt 4 In Bank Holdup

LAKE WACCAMAW, N. C. (AP)—Police are looking today for three men and the getaway driver who stuck up a Lake Waccamaw branch bank Thursday and escaped with $25,000.

Three men, armed with pistols and wearing ski masks and tennis shoes cleaned out the tellers' cages and the safe of the branch of the Waccamaw Bank & Trust Co.

The getaway driver did his part by eluding a Highway Patrol car in hot pursuit. The robbers' auto took to a railroad track to avoid a construction roadblock. Heavy traffic cut off the Highway Patrol car.

Toothpaste All Over The Place

BURLINGTON, N.C. (AP)—When a Burlington dentist, Dr. Ludwig Scott, got to work Thursday in the white stuff all over his parking lot and the shrubbery looked like toothpaste.

When he got a little closer he found out that's exactly what it was—yards and yards and yards of toothpaste, $10.95 worth.

A delivery boy had left a box of the stuff on the porch of the office and someone had broken into it during the night.

BUBBLING FOR HAPPINESS — Members of a group called Headquarters of World Happiness in Los Angeles display some of the thousands of pieces of bubble gum they plan to distribute on the University of California campuses to promote peace and happiness. Doctors Choose 'Nurse Of The Year' At Meeting

Mrs. Mattie Clyde Bryan was honored as "Pitt County Nurse of the Year" by the doctors who chose her at a meeting of the Pitt County Medical - Dental Society Thursday night.

Mrs. Bryan is night supervisor at Pitt Memorial Hospital and has served in almost every nursing capacity at the hospital since she first started working there in 1952.

She will be entered into competition with nurses nominated by various medical society chapters from throughout the state. A "Nurse of the Year" for the state will be chosen during the summer.

Her husband, Larry Bryan, was a guest of the society, as were Dr. John Tayloe of Washington, N.C. and Dr. Pete Brittain of Tazewell, Va.

The speaker for the evening, Dr. Eleanor Easley, chief of obstetrics and gynecology at

MRS. MATTIE BRYAN

Watts Hospital in Durham, discussed pre - marital counseling. She said the success of most marriages depends on two major things — the social conditioning of children about sexuality and the sexual adjustment of the partner, especially the wife. She urged the doctors to support and help formulate sex education programs in schools and social institutions. She also commented on pressures to reduce the size of families which are creating problems of adjustment for many women who must find other uses for time once spent in rearing large families.

A resolution expressing approval of a state resolution for uniform payments to be made for various medical services under Medicare and Medicaid was made. The local chapter's delegates to the N.C. Medical Society meeting in Pinehurst, which begins Saturday, will relay the feelings of the local group on this matter which now causes doctors in Eastern North Carolina to receive smaller payment than doctors elsewhere in the state for the same services. Official delegates are Dr. Jack Wilkerson, Dr. Elliott Dixon, and Dr. Earl Trevathan.

"The sad thing about this," Warfield later said, was that 30,500 students were seeking a good education at the university, while 500 "are down here to destroy something built up over 163 years ago."

Governor Vows Keep Univ. Open

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP) —Gov. Marvin Mandel vowed today to keep open the University of Maryland campus with National Guardsmen and state police following a clash in which tear gas was used to clear 5,000 students from U.S. 1 and the university grounds.

Mandel issued a proclamation giving the Guard authority to bar all persons from the campus who participated in the Thursday night disorder, including 28 persons arrested on charges ranging from assault to obstructing a highway.

The governor, speaking at a 2 a.m. news conference at the Greenbelt state police barracks, placed all law enforcement authority in the hands of Maj. Gen. Edwin H. Warfield III, state adjutant general.

Twelve guardsmen and troopers were injured by flying rocks and bottles, with eight hospitalized.

There were no reports of major injuries to students, who did not clash physically with the police units.

The disorders, triggered by a dispute over grading policies for students striking against President Nixon's Cambodian policy, have continued since May 1.

Police said the damage was considerable in the main lobby of the administration building, which students had ransacked. Almost all windows on the first floor were broken out.

After burning oil paintings, furniture and cabinets in the street near the administration building, the crowd headed for U.S. 1, which has been a rallying point for the dissidents.

Law enforcement officials began to move to disburse the students when flames from a bonfire grew. Warfield warned the students they had 10 minutes to move out and said later his force of 400 was overwhelmed. Students started heaving rocks and bottles as guardsmen and troopers massed elbow to elbow.

The force donned gas masks and began firing tear gas, which was largely ineffective because of winds. Students separated as the police unit swept from the north to the south end of the sprawling campus, then returned.

By then Warfield had called for additional guardsmen and 150 members of the Baltimore City police tactical unit.

Exchange Downs Graniteers, 4-0

The Exchange's Mike Belton scattered five Graniteer hits yesterday in hurling his team to a 4-0 victory over the defending Tar Heel League champs.

The loss was the first for the Graniteers, and it was the first win for the Exchange. The moose and Pepsi-Cola lead the league with 1-0 records, while the Graniteers and Exchange are 1-1. The Elks and Integon are 0-1.

The Exchange pushed over three of their runs in the first inning. Darrell Roebuck led off with a walk and moved to third on a pair of passed balls. He scored on an error. Belton walked and Mike Brewington also got a walk. Doug Pashal singled to drive in both Belton and Brewington for a 3-0 lead.

It stayed that way until the fourth. Billy Tedder was hit by a pitch and Thil Hurley walked. Roebuck doubled, driving in Tedder with the fourth Exchange run.

The Exchange had opportunities with men at second in the second and third, but failed to make them pay off.

The Graniteers also had several chances to score. They put runners on third in the first, third and fourth innings, and had one on second in the second, but failed to bring them around.

Jim Wilkerson tossed a two-hitter for the Graniteers, but was unable to halt the scoring and took the loss. Howard Vainright was the only hitter in the game with two, leading the Graniteers at the plate.

Grace Takes National Lead

Grace Free Will Baptist knocked Black Jack off the unbeaten list in the Church Softball League and took over the top of the National Division with an 11-2 victory last night. In the other game, Meadowbrook defeated Gum Swamp, 10-2.

St. James leads the American Division of the league with a 4-0 record, followed by Meadowbrook at 2-1. Next comes Gum Swamp at 2-2, Trinity at 1-1, Presbyterian, 1-3, and Christian, 0-3.

Grace now heads the National Division with a 3-0 record, followed by Black Jack at 3-1, Oakmont, 2-2, Immanuel, 1-2, Piney Grove, 1-3, and Mt. Pleasant, 0-2.

In the opener, Meadowbrook pushed over a run in the first inning. Gum Swamp scored once in the fourth to tie it up, but Meadowbrook pushed over another in the fourth to gain all it really needed. Bobby Harris reached on an error, advanced on Beeny Garrett's single and scored when Carson Heath reached on an error.

McCovey-Less Giants Stung As Marichal Is Pasted By Dodgers

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON Associated Press Sports Writer

Just when the San Francisco Giants figured things couldn't get much worse, guess what happened. They did.

The Giants opened a series in Los Angeles Thursday night with slugging first baseman Willie McCovey (10 homers, 32 RBI) doubtful for the entire four-game set with a lingering minor eye ailment and a sore shoulder, to boot.

Then, the Dodgers shelled ace right-hander Juan Marichal with a five-run third inning, boosting his earned run average to a whopping 6.94.

In the fifth, catcher Dick Dietz was struck on the left foot by a foul ball and had to take his .375 batting average and league-leading 35 RBI to the sidelines.

To top it all off, the Dodgers sent a pitcher named Sandy to the mound and the result was a 6-3 triumph.

That was one of only four games in the majors Thursday. Elsewhere in the National League, Houston defeated San Diego 3-1 and St. Louis out-slugged Pittsburgh 11-7. The New York Mets-Chicago Cubs and Montreal-Philadelphia games were rained out.

Minnesota turned back Kansas City 5-2 in the only scheduled American League action.

Marichal, 1-1, was staked to a 1-0 lead in the first inning on Bobby Bonds' single, Don Mason's double and a sacrifice fly by Willie Mays, who was playing first in place of McCovey.

But the Dodgers erupted in the third. Singles by Maury Wills and Manny Mota put runners on second and third, Mota taking second on the throw. Willie Davis singled them both home, stole second, went to third on Wes Parker's infield hit and scored on Willie Crawford's grounder. Billy Grabarkewitz capped the outburst with his third homer of the season and Tom Haller's single kayoed Marichal.

Sandy-Vance, not Koufax—checked the Giants on eight hits for his third victory in four decisions before Jim Brewer came on to get the last out.

Joe Pepitone's tie-breaking home run in the sixth helped Houston's Larry Dierjer run his record to 7-2. It was Dierker's fourth consecutive triumph this season and the sixth straight time he has beaten the Padres, after losing his first meeting last year.

The Astros got an insurance run in the seventh when Clarence Gaston dropped Jim Wynn's long drive for a three-base error and Denis Menke hit a sacrifice fly.

The Cardinals snapped a 7-7 tie with Pittsburgh by scoring four times with two out in the eighth. Lou Brock hit the tie-breaking single and Joe Hague drove in two more runs with another single.

The Cards scored five times in the sixth, featuring Richie Allen's 12th homer, a solo shot, and Vic Davalillo's three-run double. Willie Stargell homered twice for the Pirates, driving in three runs.

Tom Hall, who took over for Luis Tiant in the fifth, allowed only one hit over the final five innings and fanned seven.

Lions Defeat Jaycees By 9-5

The Lions rolled to a 9-5 victory over the Jaycees yesterday in the North State Little League. It was the first win for the Lions of the year.

R. C. Cola, the Kiwanis and Coca-Cola lead the league with 1-0 records while the Lions are 1-1, the Optimists are 0-1, and the Jaycees are 0-2.

The Jaycees scored first, with a run in the first. Bill Collier reached on a fielder's choice and moved up on an error on an attempted double play. From third, he scored on Wayne Miller's sacrifice fly.

The Lions came back with three in the bottom of the first to take the lead. Mike Adams walked and Dale Steele also got a walk. Jeff Smith also walked and Jimmy Averette slammed a double to drive in all three runners for the 3-1 lead.

In the second, the Lions got another run. Edsel Garris wangled and advanced on walks to Guy Bradbury and Mike Adams. Jeff Smith reached on an error, scoring Garris to make it 4-1.

The Lions pushed over their remaining five runs in the third.

Averette walked and Wright Hooks reached on an error. Both moved up on a passed ball and Mike Adams walked, loading the bases. Steele singled to drive in all three runners, and Harry Pair walked. Jeff Smith singled, scoring Steele, and an error on the play let Pair come in.

The Jaycees tried to rally, picking up two in the fourth. Drew Taylor singled and scored when Christ Garrett's singled was errored. Garrett went to third on the play and scored on Robert Walters' sacrifice.

In the sixth, the Jaycees picked up two more. Garrett walked and moved to third on passed balls. David Phillips walked, and Mel Boyd reached the same way. Erros let Garrett score, while Phillips came over on a passed ball.

Trevino, Player Tie At Colonial

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Golf Writer
FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Lee Trevino paid tribute to Gary Player after tying the little South African for the first round lead in the $125,000 Colonial National Invitation Golf Tournament.

"It always helps to play behind Gary," the quick-quipping Mexican-American said Thursday. "He does such a wonderful job repairing the greens. He's out there tamping down every spike mark on every green."

"Why, that little man is bent over so much he looks like he's planting corn."

Trevino and Player, the top two money winners this year, matched 66s, four-under-par and led the massive assault on the proud old Colonial Country club course.

In all, a record 27 players bettered par 70 on the 7,142-yard layout, breaking the previous record of 20.

Among them was the limping little figure of Ben Hogan, a five-time winner of this event and playing in his home town for the first time in three years. He birdied the 18th and 17th for a 69.

well among the leaders.

"It's always tough to play in your hometown," the 57-year old master said.

Most of the leaders said the demanding layout played easier than in the past, citing the relatively short rough in particular. But both Player and Trevino had a different idea.

"I don't know of a better or tougher golf course in the world," said the globe-trotting Player. "It was everything a good golf course should have. It's an ideal course."

"I've always said this is the hardest golf course I've ever played," said Trevino, the No. 1 money-winner this season and already a two-time champion.

"I think the changes have made it easier. But any course is easy when you're hitting the ball like I am."

He didn't miss a green, hitting his irons with rifle accuracy.

But he and Player held only a one-stroke lead over a group of five at 67-Frank Beard, R.H. Skes, Johnny Pott, Gay Brewer and Bob Smith. Four more, Bruce Devlin, Jim Weichers, Terry Wilcox and Tom Shaw, were locked at 68.

Hogan, of course, headed the group at 69 that also included Bert Yancey, Gene Littler, Art Wall and Dave Stockton.

Jack Nicklaus had a 71. Defending champion Gardner Dickinson took a 73. Arnold Palmer and Billy Casper are not competing.

"I putted extremely well," said Player, who has had troubles on the green in recent weeks. "I played well, but it was the putting that did it. The ones I missed just burned the hole."

A check for $12,000, which also covered the normal entry and starting fees of $1,000 each, was signed by and presented to the racing secretary by Lehmann's 19-year-old son, Fred.

Seven of the 17 colts beaten by Dust Commander in the Derby also were entered for the

Indiana Favored In ABA Finals

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Denver businessman Bill Daniels can catch two of his sports enterprises in action in the same city when the Los Angeles Stars open against the Indiana Pacers tonight in the American Basketball Association championship playoff series.

Daniels, who recently purchased the Stars, also has entered several cars for the Indianapolis 500-mile race, including one Lloyd Ruby of Wichita Falls, Tex., is driving in week-end qualifications.

Indiana, runnerup in last year's ABA championship to Oakland, is favored over the young Los Angeles team. The Pacers, coached by Bob Leonard, had a 59-25 season record, best in the league. They breezed through the two rounds of the Eastern Division playoffs with an 8-1 mark, brushing off Carolina 4-0 and taking Kentucky 4-1.

Coach Bill Sharman's Stars finished strong in the Western loop, making fourth place with a 43-41 record and earning a playoff berth for the first time in the club history.

If underdog Los Angeles wins the title, the Stars will maintain a trend of ABA winners by moving next season. Although not finalized, the team's new headquarters probably will be Albuquerque, N.M.

Each starter will carry 126 pounds.

Mike Manganello will send Dust Commander, the early favorite, out of the No. 10 post with early second pick My Dad George, ridden by Ray Broussard just inside of him. Silent Screen, third choice and ridden by John L. Rotz, will leave from No. 3, just outside of the Jacobs entry of High Echelon on the rail and Personality. Larry Adams will ride High Echelon, and Eddie Belmonte will have the mount on Personality.

Personality scared trainer John Jacobs when he shied, un-

Other jockey assignments are Naskra, Ron Turcotte; Stop Time, Bill Hartack; Buzkashi, Michael Hole; Sir Wiggle, Howard Grant; Admiral's Shield, Jimmy Nichols; Plenty Old, Hank Moreno, and Robin's Bug, Leroy Moyers.

No riding assignments have been made for Hark The Lark and Oh Fudge.

The bidding:
South West North East
1 ♥ Pass 2 ♥ Pass
4 ♥ Pass Pass Pass

Opening lead: Four of ♠

A resourceful play at trick one by South, declarer at four hearts, netted a substantial profit for him on the deal when it led to the development of a vital 10th trick.

The bidding was routine and West opened fire with the four of diamonds. With scarcely a flicker, declarer played the three from dummy and East put up the queen which held the trick. A spade was returned and ducked in the closed hand. West was in with the queen and continued the suit. East covered North's ten with the jack which dislodged South's ace.

Declarer led a diamond and put in the ten from dummy. East won the trick with the ace and the king of spades was returned and ruffed by North with the deuce of hearts. The king of diamonds was cashed and South discarded his remaining spade. The six of hearts was led. East followed with the seven and declarer put in the ten. When the finesse succeeded, he continued with the king and ace of hearts to draw the remaining trump, and the rest of the tricks were his. In all South lost one spade and two diamonds.

Observe that if declarer plays the ten of diamonds from dummy on the opening lead, he is unable subsequently to develop a trick for himself in that suit, and is left with a losing spade at the end.

East can counter South's strategy by putting in the seven of diamonds after dummy has played the three, but to do so would lay him open to the charge of having peeked into the declarer's hand. If South has either the eight, nine or jack of diamonds instead of West, then East would be surrendering a trick by failing to put up the

Regional Airport Group Prepares Travel Survey

A survey is being prepared by the Mid-East Regional Airport Authority as a means of gathering information on the Pitt, Beaufort, Martin County area travel habits.

Through the business industries and individual surveys, the Authority hopes to learn how often persons travel and where. The organization was formed with the goal of developing air service for the three-county area.

According to Authority member J. Vance Perkins, chairman of the Pitt County Board of Commissioners, "The information gathered from area residents and industries through this survey will be used to support an application to the CAB (Civil Aeronautics Board) for commercial air service into Greenville."

"No one likes to take part in a survey but it is essential that we get community support in gathering this information," Perkins added.

The Authority was formed following an area-wide meeting of business, civic and government leaders seeking action for commercial air freight and passenger service for the area.

The Counties of Beaufort, Martin and Pitt, and the towns of Washington, Williamston and Greenville joined together in a combined effort. Each participating local government and Governor Bob Scott appointed a representative to the Authority.

An organizational meeting was held recently with T. H. Patterson elected chairman. Perkins was elected treasurer and Frank Kivett of Washington was appointed secretary.

Persons and firms receiving the surveys are asked to complete and return the forms by June 1.

Resolves By Pitt GOP Committee

Two resolutions dealing with the present Indochina situation and home-front unrest were passed last night by the Pitt County Republican Executive Committee.

Frank Steinbeck, chairman of the Pitt County Executive Committee for the Republican Party, reporting on the monthly meeting, said, "The committee voted unanimously in support of President Nixon's plans for Cambodia and Vietnam, and his efforts to end the war with honor as quickly as possible and to get our boys home."

The second resolution, according to Steinbeck, resolved "that rioting, destroying property, showing disrespect for authority and the American flag, risking lives and creating havoc is not our constitutional way of ending the Vietnamese war with honor."

The committee members, meeting at the Home Savings Loan building, discussed plans and made suggestions on how to organize each precinct most effectively for the coming November elections.

GOOD NEWS

"Too good to believe!" Sometimes we receive news so joyous that we are almost afraid to accept it — the birth of a child, a crisis past, a successful business venture. Yet the greatest good news that can be ours, we often take for granted and lose the profound joy of it.

What if we had never heard the message which the Christian Church proclaims? What if we knew nothing of a Saviour who died that all men might be forgiven, who gives us the assurance of everlasting life!

If this good news were revealed to us suddenly, we might well say, "It's so good that it's hard to believe." But it has been verified by countless millions of believers in all lands, through many generations. We accept it in our own hearts, and the confirmation becomes personal.

We know, then, that in the Christian Church we hear the best news that has ever come to the human race.

Worry Clinic

Often Inept At Crucial Point

Max Huber's suggestion should prove a boon to all seminaries. For many topnotch sermonizers still don't know how to enter the "dotted line" stage gracefully as they try to call converts to the altar. Ineptness at this crucial point can neutralize the effectiveness of a superb sermon!

By GEORGE W. CRANE, Ph.D., M.D.
CASE M-596: Max Huber is a lifelong churchman from Terre Haute, Indiana.
Recently he asked me to come down there on Sunday to address the prisoners at the U.S. Penitentiary.

But when we dined earlier and discussed religious psychology, he made a very challenging remark.

"Dr. Crane," he said, "I have listened to many superb pulpits orators in my lifetime.
"But, if I may employ a business analogy, they don't seem trained in how to close the sale.
"They may work up their congregation to a high state of idealism and altruistic desire to help their fellowmen.
"But when they try to bring converts to the altar, they are awkward in what we might call the 'dotted line' stage.
"Why when they try to bring converts to the altar, they are awkward in what we might call the 'dotted line' stage.

"Why don't our seminaries teach their students this crucial technique?
"For the most beautiful sales talk (sermon) still doesn't accomplish its purpose unless it gets commitments (names on the dotted line)."
Max Huber has pointed out one of the flaws that reduces the effectiveness of even our best pulpits orators.
In fact, I have often listened to superb clergymen, who were topnotchers in their dramatic sermonizing.
But they dissipated much of their congregation's fervor by not entering the "dotted line" stage with psychological skill.
It would be a great boon to churches if you presidents of theological seminaries would import a talented insurance sales manager and let him show your young clergymen how to close the sale.
At present, many of your students may rate an "A" in their general sales presentation (sermon), but then stall around and repeat and destroy the fervor of their listeners by awkwardness in trying to call converts to the altar.
Often I have wished the clergymen to whom I have listened would stop at the proper climax of their sermon and then neatly slip into the "dotted line" stage.
But they frequently destroy their effectiveness by wandering around in uncertain sentences as they grope for some way to terminate their address with a climatic "bang."
And they may then shatter the religious "aura" which a good sermon has created by an abrupt, "Do you want to go to Heaven or Hell?"
This "closing" is typical of the novice salesman who worked his prospect up to the dotted line stage by an excellent memorized sales talk but then forgot his closing.
"Well," he bluntly broke the sales trance, "take it or leave it! What do you say?"
In such cases, the usual prospect will not sign!
There are various deft ways to glide gracefully into that "dotted line" stage, but these must be memorized precisely, for the absence of a single word, or the inclusion of an extra syllable, may thwart the entire sale!
Clergymen, send for my booklet, "The Psychology of Advertising and Selling," enclosing a long stamped, return

You've got a lot to live
Pepsi's got a lot to give

What we mean is this: living isn't always easy, but it never has to be dull. There's too much to see, to do, to enjoy. Put yourself behind a Pepsi-Cola and get started.
You've got a lot to live.
