Cambodia Policy Critic Sees Compromise Hope On Curbing Of President

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF

Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — A leading Senate critic of the administration's Indochina policy says there remains hope for a compromise in the fight over limiting President Nixon's range of action in Cambodia.

Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said Tuesday "some sort of an accommodation" might still be reached in the struggle over an attempt to cut off funds for U.S. military operations in Cambodia.

In spite of Mansfield's statement, there has been no indication the White House intends to back off from its stand that, as commander in chief, the President has the unrestricted right to use American troops as he did in sending U.S. ground forces into Cambodia.

Administration supporters, apparently outnumbered if the issue came down to the showdown stage, have sufficient numbers to keep the debate going for a long time—possibly right up to the June 30 date set by President Nixon for withdrawal of the U.S. force currently in Cambodia.

"There are a lot of us who want to discuss this pretty thoroughly," Sen. Gordon Allott of Colorado told reporters Tuesday, but added "I'm not talking in terms of a filibuster."

"We'll just debate as long as we have to to help educate the public," he said.

Earlier in the day, Mansfield pointed out that if opponents of the fund-cut-off proposal, sponsored by Sens. John Sherman Cooper and Frank Church, delay a vote "it will hold up legislation in which the administration is interested, appropriations and the like."

Republican Leader Hugh

Scott was reported by aides to be engaged in "very delicate" negotiations in efforts to find a compromise that would water down the Cooper-Church proposal, which would bar funds for "retaining" U.S. forces in Cambodia.

The Associated Press lists 47 senators in favor of Cooper-Church, five others leaning in favor, and 34 opposed with the rest undecided.

A basic problem in devising a compromise is that all of the possibilities suggested so far give authority to the President to order U.S. troops into Cambodia, or Laos, or Thailand, or all of them, if needed to protect U.S. forces in South Vietnam.

Since this was the stated purpose of the current operation in Cambodia, those opposed to it are unwilling to go along with any such authorization.

Although administration supporters have insisted the

The Pitt County - City of Greenville Airport Authority held its regular meeting Monday night and approved purchase of a sprayer for the Authority's tractor.

The spray unit will be used in the control of weeds on the facilities runways and costs about $150.

The Authority also approved the purchase of insurance to cover breakage of glass at the airport administration building.

A committee working on a five-year long range plan indicated they would make a report on the plan at the Authority's next regular meeting.

Budget Surpluses Turn Into Red Ink

By JAMES PHILLIPS

Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon, conceding his predicted budget surpluses for this fiscal year and next have turned into red-ink deficits, has called for a tax on leaded gasoline to raise $1.6 billion a year more in government funds and fight pollution.

Other revenue increases to balance the budget will not be sought, said Budget Director Robert P. Mayo, because higher taxes "would be inappropriate when we have an increase in unemployment."

Another administration spokesman told Southern businessmen to forget about wage and price controls as a means of halting continuing inflation.

The announcements were made Tuesday as the administration sought to reassure investors and businessmen they can count on "a new steadiness of progress."

Nixon, who said in February a balanced budget was crucial to control inflation, said declining revenues and rising federal costs would result in a $1.8 billion deficit in the 1970 fiscal year ending June 30 and a $1.3 billion deficit for fiscal 1971.

Nixon had predicted a $1.5 billion surplus for the current fiscal year and a $1.3 billion surplus for the following fiscal year.

Sagging corporate profits were cited as the reason for the 1970 deficit.

Atty. Gen. John Mitchell, in a speech written for him at the White House, told the Delta Council in Cleveland, Miss., they can count on "a new steadiness of progress."

The stock market's sinking spells, he added, are "based on fears rather than facts." When asked about wage and price controls to stabilize the economy, Mitchell replied, "Forget about them."

Sen. Jacob Javits of New York, ranking Republican on the Senate-House Economic Committee, urged Nixon in a Senate speech Tuesday to pay more serious attention "to the urgent need for an incomes policy which would put more restraint" on wages, prices and interest rates.

Nixon said in a statement the administration remains "determined to curb inflation." But he added:

"Frankly, my concern about unemployment and my desire to bring about price stability without economic dislocation is why the campaign to control inflation cannot be accomplished quickly."

Tax revenues this fiscal year, Nixon said, are running about $3 billion below expectations.

The proposed tax on lead in gasoline would boost the cost of motor fuel by an average of 2.3 cents a gallon, spokesmen said, and is intended to reduce and eventually eliminate the additive in gasoline.

The budget deficits, the President said, would be permitted to avoid the possibility of a recession and higher unemployment.

If another deficit appears probable for fiscal 1972, Mayo added, "I would not hesitate to ask the Congress for further increases in taxes when I present my new budget in January."

The only other proposal to increase government revenues was made earlier this year. It calls for accelerating the collection of estate and gift taxes.

In another development, a report by a private government information service released Tuesday said withdrawal from Vietnam could result in "non-existent" benefits to the civilian economy because the war funds would be consumed by other areas of the budget, including defense

For Addition To Present Facilities

Hospital Trustees Seek A $9 Million Bond Issue

By CAROL TYER

Reflector Staff Writer

Members of the Pitt Memorial Hospital trustees unanimously voted last night to request that the County Commissioners ask Pitt County citizens to approve a nine million dollar bond issue for additional bed space at the hospital.

After considering for some time possibilities ranging from adding modular units to the present facilities to building an entirely new hospital on a new site, the trustees say they believe the best plan is to add onto the present facility so it can be utilized, also.

Tentative plans drawn up by Freeman White Associates at the request of the executive board call for an addition of two floors housing 42 beds above the present emergency area of the hospital. Then a new building would be constructed in front of the hospital (roughly where the circle is now). When first built, it would house some 125 beds, 25 of which would be for intensive care. Its foundation would be constructed so it could be built ten or even 12 stories high as need dictates. Also, its medical base would be large enough and capable of adequately providing x-ray, laboratory, and surgical facilities for a 500-bed hospital.

The trustees expressed interest not only in getting patients out of the halls, a practice which has been necessary for several months now, but of providing a hospital that will not be obsolete within a few years. They also said they want to continue to make use of the present structure, perhaps using it for extended care later on.

Besides the present needs, which they termed urgent, the commissioners said they are considering expected population growth in Pitt County, more use of medical facilities as East Carolina University moves into more medical education, and new physicians and other paramedical personnel coming to the area.

The board members said they hope immediate action will be taken by the Commissioners because, if the addition were started tomorrow, it would take nine months to complete. One reason for choosing this course over a completely new hospital is that a new hospital probably would take close to three years to complete.

The hospital base, i. e. labs, operating rooms, x-ray rooms, and the like, is expected to cost $75 a square foot, while bedrooms will cost approximately $32 a square foot. If present trends continue, the sooner construction could be begun the less these costs would be.

The Commissioners, if they take the course the hospital board is requesting, would be asking the voters for the authority to issue up to nine million dollars worth of bonds. However, it is hoped that, because of grants and gifts, bonds amounting to less will be issued.

Three New Doctors Coming

The Board gave tentative approval, pending the approval of the medical staff, to three new physicians' use of the hospital facilities. Expected to begin practicing here in June are Dr. (Continued From Page 12)

Assault Last Of Known Sanctuaries South Viets Open New Front

By GEORGE ESPER

Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — Thousands of South Vietnamese infantrymen opened a new front in Cambodia today, assaulting the last of the known North Vietnamese and Viet Cong sanctuaries near the border.

The South Vietnamese Defense Ministry said the operation was under way at least 10 miles inside Cambodia, west of the Bu Prang and Duc Lap Special Forces camps which North Vietnamese troops laid siege to last year. The area is opposite Vietnam's southern Central Highlands and about 125 miles northeast of Saigon.

It was the 13th allied front opened in Cambodia. The South Vietnamese infantrymen went in after massive raids by the U.S. Air Force's big B52 bombers.

U.S. helicopters began landing several thousand South Vietnamese infantrymen from the 23rd Division and their American advisers in the thickly jungled region at dawn. A U.S. spokesman said probably less than 100 advisers were taking part.

"There are no U.S. ground forces involved in the operation," the U.S. Command said, adding that U.S. support of the operation included "helicopter and logistics support, tactical air, artillery and advisers."

The drive was preceded by nearly 100 B52 raids along the border in the past four days to soften up the suspected North Vietnamese bunkers and gun positions.

Field reports said the South Vietnamese had made no contact by afternoon and were consolidating their positions and preparing for a night bivouac.

The new operation is an extension of the sweep which the South Vietnamese 22nd Infantry Division is making in the Se San area to the north of today's landing.

Between 25,000 and 30,000 South Vietnamese troops and more than 10,000 Americans now are operating inside Cambodia along a 600-mile stretch of border.

At the southern end of the frontier, a task force of more than 10,000 South Vietnamese troops with armored cars, gunboats and U.S. warplanes in support, pushed deeper into southern Cambodia today after smashing a North Vietnamese base camp and sampan fleet, South.

Vietnamese military headquarters announced.

In a drive launched Sunday, the big land and river force is trying to destroy base camps from which the North Vietnamese 1st Infantry Division attacks South Vietnam's southernmost provinces and the sampans in which it moves about the delta area's network of rivers and canals.

The three-prong force is moving northward, along Highways 2 and 3 and the Bassac River, from the southernmost stretch of the Vietnamese-Cambodian border between Ha Tien and Tinh Bien.

A South Vietnamese communique said 96 North Vietnamese soldiers were killed Tuesday and 100 sampans and 30 storage huts were destroyed.

Eight South Vietnamese troops were reported killed and 25 wounded.

The major part of the task force was reported about 35 miles south of Phnom Penh, midway between the Cambodian capital and the border. It was not known how far north the South Vietnamese planned to go. The Cambodian army on Tuesday was reported battling Viet Cong and North Vietnamese platoons about 12 miles farther north on Highway 3.

Many of the 200 American advisers who entered Cambodia with the force left their South Vietnamese units two days ago.

New President

Ernest Adams, Jr., was elected this morning as 1970-71 president of Rose High Student Government Association.

The Negro youth, who is completing his second year at Rose High, was announced winner of the top student school post just before noon. "It's just wonderful," Ernest stated on being informed of his victory. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Adams.

Other students elected to next year's SGA officer body are: Connie Minges, vice-president, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Max Minges; Susan Leggett, secretary, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. A.C. Pitt Summer School Program Plans Are Approved By Board

By BLANCHE HARDEE

Reflector Staff Writer

The Pitt County Board of Education yesterday approved the summer school program for the coming summer.

Jamie L. Keeter, assistant superintendent of the Pitt County schools, told the board yesterday the program will run from June 11 through July 23, and will cost approximately $171,665.

A total of 449 pre-school children will participate in the readiness program, which is designed to give incoming first graders an opportunity to develop social competencies needed, as well as develop a sense of responsibility whether working with a group or independently. Preschoolers will also be given an opportunity to develop the ability to distinguish between personal possessions and those of others.

The pre-school program will be taught in the following schools: Ayden Elementary, Grifton High School, Chicod Elementary, Grimesland Elementary, Pactolus Elementary, Stokes Elementary, Bethel Elementary, Belvoir Elementary, Falkland Primary, Sam D. Bundy, Winterville Elementary, W. H. Robinson and Bethel Union. Summer school classes will also be provided for students in grades one through five and students in grades nine through 12. Summer school has been eliminated for students in grades six through eight due to lack of participation, Keeter reported.

Students in grades one through five will attend classes at Ayden Elementary, Grifton High School, Chicod Elementary, Grimesland Elementary, Pactolus Elementary, Stokes Elementary, Bethel Elementary, Belvoir Elementary, Falkland Primary, Sam D. Bundy, Winterville High School, W. H. Robinson and Bethel Union.

High school enrichment courses will be taught at Winterville, Bethel Union and W. H. Robinson. Classes to be taught include science, mathematics, history, English, physical education and recreation.

The lunch program will provide an early morning snack for all students attending the summer session.

Summer school will begin for teachers on June 10 and will conclude on July 24.

In other business yesterday, a committee of teachers from the D. H. Conley School (as proposed) appeared before the board to discuss the status of the schools for the 1970-71 school year.

The group, representing 60 teachers in the Winterville -

Grimesland - Chicod area, appeared before the board in an effort to learn the board's plan of organization next year in the event the new schools are not ready for occupancy.

The teachers recommended that the board, since there is some question as to when the new schools will be completed, approach the courts to see what will be expected next fall.

The board members voted to consult with their attorney, W. W. Speight, and if he is in agreement, advise the courts the timetable on construction of the four high schools and ask the courts to direct them further as to what plans should be made for the fall of 1970.

Having Children Is Up To You

By Abigail Van Buren

(© 1970 by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd., Inc.)

DEAR ABBY: My problem isn't an uncommon one from talking to some of my friends, but I've never seen anything in your column about it.

My husband and I have been married for 5 years. We have two small children, and another on the way. Abby, we WANTED these children!

We haven't told my parents about the one on the way yet because we know they are going to take fits! [Especially my mother.]

Every time I get pregnant there is a noisy scene. We're well able to support these children, and we've never asked our parents to baby-sit or help out financially, but they make us feel so guilty. They say we are "crazy" to tie ourselves down to so much responsibility while we're young—that we should enjoy ourselves and be "free" for the first 10 years. But, Abby, we want to be young with our children.

I am a nervous wreck! How should I break the news that No. 3 will be here for Christmas? NERVOUS

DEAR NERVOUS: Save the news, appropriately enough, for Father's day—since you just missed Mother's day. In any case, it sounds as though you're strangling on a cord between you and your mother which should have been cut years ago. Live your own adult life and don't feel guilty.

DEAR ABBY: I am a married woman who has had a very unsatisfactory marriage for nearly 20 years, but I won't go into that because that's not my problem.

My problem is my gentleman friend. Walter is not married. [He's divorced.] We've been seeing each other [discreetly] for nearly 3 years, and it's no cheap love affair, Abby, it's the best thing that has ever happened to me.

Walter and I can't be seen together in public because my husband is a fairly prominent professional man, and I still put up a good front as a happily married wife and mother.

Every once in a while Walter takes a lady out. He says he HAS to, because if he isn't seen in public once in a while with a woman, people will think there is something wrong with him.

Well, every time Walter has a date with another woman, I go to pieces. I suppose it's wrong of me, but I can't help it. Do you think if he really loved me he'd date another woman? Even for appearances sake? TEARS IN MY WINE

DEAR TEARS: I can't tell you if Walter "really" loves you or not. But the "suffering" you endure every time he dates another woman is part of the price you're paying for this affair. [The "best" things in life are very expensive.]

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a man who publicly refers to his secretary as his "office wife?" HIS HOME WIFE

DEAR HOME: He's either looking for trouble. Or has found it.

DEAR ABBY: Please tell that man whose wife rejected him 97 times last year to send her to San Francisco and let her ride the cable cars. I understand a woman there claims that after she got shook up in a cable car she couldn't say "no" to anybody. RESPECTFULLY YOURS, D. W.

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

Hate to write letters? Send $1 to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069, for Abby's booklet, "How to Write Letters for All Occasions."

Church Women Hold Annual Event Sunday

The women of the First Presbyterian Church held their annual birthday party Sunday evening. Dinner was served to 65 guests by Mrs. Thomas Broadbent, Mrs. Fred Webb, Mrs. Harry Allen and Mrs. H.H. Bryant.

After dinner, Mrs. Brooks Beddingfield, president, presided. Mrs. Joe Paulk introduced the speaker, Mrs. Harding Sugg, who had the program on the 1970 Birthday Objective for the Women of the Presbyterian Church, U.S.

It was on Villa International, a housing project for international representatives being trained at the Communicable Disease Center and the Protestant Radio and Television Center, Atlanta, Ga. The offering for Villa International was dedicated by Mrs. James Lanier.

The Rev. Richard R. Gammon, a guest of the women, dismissed the group with prayer.

It's a good idea to prepare fresh vegetables shortly before cooking them.

Couple Weds In Double Ring Ceremony On Sunday

Miss Dora Glenn Nobles became the bride of Chester Darius Gower on Sunday at 3:00 p.m. in the Piney Grove Free Will Baptist Church.

The Rev. Roland Murphy of Kinston officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. William H. Nobles of Rt. 1, Winterville, and Mr. and Mrs. Chester F. Gower of Greenville.

A program of wedding music was presented by Mrs. Rex Wainwright of Rt. 1, Winterville, organist.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white satin empire gown trimmed in Brussels lace and seeded pearls with a cathedral train.

She wore an elbow length veil of tulle gathered with satin petals embossed with pearls. She carried a bridal bouquet of sweetheart roses.

Miss Joan Vickers of Durham was maid of honor. She wore a yellow empire lace and peau de soie ensemble with a yellow veil attached to a yellow bow. She carried a nosegay of green carnations.

The father of the bridegroom was best man. Ushers were William E. Nobles of Rt. 1, Winterville, brother of the bride, and Wayne Gower of Greenville, brother of the bridegroom.

The mother of the bride wore a blue lace dress with matching accessories and a corsage of white carnations. The mother of the bridegroom selected a pink crepe dress, matching accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

Mrs. Allie B. Nobles, grandmother of the bride, wore a lavender crepe dress and a corsage of white carnations.

For a wedding trip to unannounced points, the bride changed into a navy and white ensemble. The couple will reside in Greenville.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Hathaway, Rt. 1, Winterville.

Assisting were Mr. and Mrs. Harold Lockmay. Mrs. Jasper Nobles, aunt of the bride, served wedding cake and Mrs. Lockmay poured punch.

The Gower-Nobles wedding party and guests were honored at an after-rehearsal party Saturday night at the home of the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chester F. Gower.

They were assisted by the bridegroom's sisters and brothers-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Grady of New Bern and Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Garrison of Wilmington.

Cambodia Didn't Unite Them

Any critics of the Cambodian move, who based their criticism on the possibility of the action bringing Red China and Soviet Union closer together, now have to reassess their reasoning.

This week the Soviet Union, in a 6,000 word editorial in Pravda, made a sharp attack on Red China. The editorial accused Mao Tse-Tung and the Communist Chinese leadership of seeking total domination of Asia, rejecting calls for concerted action in Indochina and creating an anti-Soviet war psychosis at home.

Since the statement appeared in Pravda it represents an official line for the Soviet government and is expected to set the tone of official pronouncements on the China situation for some time.

It is, of course, only another in a series of verbal exchanges which have erupted between the Soviet Union and Red China over a period of time. It is of significance this time, however, that this more recent editorial appeared after the United States and South Vietnam excursion into Cambodia.

There were those in our country who felt that the Cambodian operation would drive the two Communist giants to an accommodation concerning their differences, since both were involved in supporting the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong in their military efforts.

However, it has long been obvious that the Red China - Soviet Union argument involves strong differences — those which could even lead to war between the two neighbors. It was doubtful that the Cambodian excursion could cause the two to resolve their differences. This most recent Pravda statement is proof that little has changed between Red China and the Soviet Union.

The Surprise Would Be If Strategy Didn't

The Associated Press has quoted a Communist source as saying that the allied Cambodian offensive has upset Hanoi's timetable for Indochina. The surprise to us would be if the offensive had not upset the timetable.

It seems likely that the Communist has some forwarning of the offensive. On the other hand the capturing of huge amounts of supplies and some intact enemy headquarters shows the Communist had little time to do anything about the raids except to move the men out.

Critics of the raids have made much of the fact that the supplies can be replaced. However, the logistics of replacing supplies are formidable, especially with the rainy season ahead in Cambodia.

The United States and South Vietnam have bought time with their daring raids in Cambodia and with the strategic withdrawal we are now carrying out, this is important.

Nixon-Senate Split Widens

By ROWLAND EVANS and ROBERT NOVAK

WASHINGTON — The widening breach between President Nixon and the Senate over the use of U.S. troops in Cambodia was quietly revealed one day last week when a Republican Senator abruptly cancelled an appointment in his office with a White House aide.

The Senator, a political moderate from the Midwest, gave a "scheduled onflict" as the reason, but the real reason was more fundamental. He did not want to waste time explaining to the Presidential aide that nothing could change his mind about supporting the amendment to compel Mr. Nixon to withdraw all U.S. troops from Cambodia by June 30.

Another Republican moderate, also from the party's Middle West heartland, told us that he had no qualms at all about voting to impose the June 30 deadline in the amendment of Republican Sen. John Sherman Cooper of Kentucky and Democratic Sen. Frank Church of Idaho to the Military Sales Act.

"Sure it'll hurt the President," he told us, "but damn it, he brought it on himself."

Even such conservative pillars of the Republican establishment as Sen. Norris Totten of New Hampshire are now leaning toward the Cooper - Church amendment, partly to protest the Cambodian intervention, partly to assert Senatorial prerogatives.

Furthermore, all but overlooked in the bitter political struggle over the Cooper - Church amendment is the fact that the increasingly hostile Foreign Relations Committee has made other, far-reaching changes in the Military Sales Act, drastically cutting the power of the executive branch. These were slipped into the Housepassed bill last week.

For example, the committee banned the sale of the so-called International Fighter aircraft to all nations except South Vietnam without specific Congressional approval. It limited to $35 million a year the amount of excess military equipment that can go to foreign countries without express Congressional approval. It ordered a counterpart fund to be set up in foreign countries receiving excess U.S. military equipment, for the first time treating surplus arms sales in the same way that surplus food sales have been handled for years.

All these amendments were passed by the Foreign Relations Committee after the Cambodian intervention, and all passed without any opposition vote.

While these Senate lines were tightening on the Nixon administration, Republican leaders in the Senate were definitely grappling with the far graver political issue posed by the Cooper - Church amendment. As a legal restraint on President Nixon, this amendment is meaningless. It will never pass the more conservative and hawkish House. But as a political blow, passage by the Senate would be more damaging even than the President's rebuff by the Senate on two successive nominees to the Supreme Court.

Smelling defeat on the amendment, Sen. Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania, the Republican leader, found that the White House had no fall-back position but instead was hoping (as another Senator told us) "that the amendment would blow away and disappear."

Scott knew otherwise. By the weekend, his agents were counting between 53 and 57 possible votes for the amendment and no more

Strength For Today

THERE IT STANDS

As the American army swept across France in the last war, a colonel marching his regiment into action was greatly impressed by something he saw in a church which had been bombed. The whole area was rubble save the huge crucifix depicting the suffering Christ. Believing that this scene might impress his men the same way it impressed him, the colonel gave the command "Eyes right!" As the regiment passed the church, the men looked on this symbol of sacrifice standing stark and alone amid the rubble of what was once a house of worship.

Amid the rubble of a world wrecked by war and torn in every generation by selfishness, greed and lust, the principle of sacrifice set forth by Jesus Christ remains a fact with which men must deal. After everything else is destroyed, that remains. It is the only hope for the rebuilding of a new world. Let men put the principle of sacrifice into operation, let them believe the gospel of Jesus Christ and practice it, and out of the rubble of the present world order will come something new and inspiring.

The cross of Christ stands above the moral wreckage of every age—stark, arresting, challenging.

A Communications Gap

WASHINGTON — "If I had any money, I'd be buying stocks now," President Nixon said on April 28, 1970.

Since the President uttered those immortal words, the Dow Jones industrial average has nose-dived well below 700 points. The opinion of most experts on Wall Street is that if Mr. Nixon had invested in the market on April 28, he would be jumping out of the window of his White House bedroom this morning.

A haggard investment analyst told me, "The only thing the President could have made money on since April 28 is Cambodian railroad bonds."

"Why do you think the President went out on a limb like that?"

"He was trying to restore faith in the stock market."

"Why did he fail?"

"Any time the President of the United States takes time out to buck up the market, Wall Street panics. After his statement, everyone said, 'Why would he say something like that unless the country was really in bad shape?"

"Then you think the President could have done more if he'd said, 'If I had any money I would sell all my stocks?'"

"If he had said that, I believe Dow Jones would have gone through the roof."

"Surely the President must have known that by making his state of April 28, he would have caused the market to go down."

"Not true. Since the President has been in the Other Editors Say No Free Lunch!

(The Raleigh Times) Somebody once said that there is no such thing as a free lunch.

This applies very much to the weekend junket which United Airlines provided for a party of congressmen and other government officials to Hawaii and return. United picked up the check for the $604 round trip flight for each person, and United reserved 51 rooms for the guests at the Royal Hawaiian Hotel.

The junket flight was a pre-inaugural trip to the regular non-stop service to Hawaii which United plans to begin on June 1. The airline refused to disclose the names of those aboard. Other sources disclosed, however, that four Congressmen and their wives were aboard. One was Sen. Hiram Fong, Republican of Hawaii. The other three are members of the House Commerce Committee's subcommittee on transportation, a committee which would have dealings with airlines.

Other officials reported to be aboard were the counsel for the House Commerce Committee, officials from The Civil Aeronautics Board, and officials from the departments of Transportation, Interior, Post Office, Defense and Commerce. An airline, it should be noted, would welcome friends in any of those departments.

Last month, Rep. Glenn Cunningham, Nebraska Republican, read aloud at a meeting of the subcommittee, a letter from the airline inviting all members of the committee to the flight. Cunningham then commented:

"I certainly am not going to take that flight. I don't happen to like to take junkets to begin with. I don't know under what section of the law it is that airlines are allowed to give, offer members of Congress or anybody else free transportation."

He has the right idea.

White House, there has been a communications gap between himself and Wall Street. The President is so protected by his White House staff that he has no idea what is happening in the financial world. He believes the people who are doing all the selling on the street are a small minority of malcontents, troublemakers and bums. He has no idea that it's really Middle America that's causing the stock market to go down."

"Why in heaven's name doesn't someone tell him?" I cried.

Secretary of Commerce Maurice Stans tried to see the President to tell him but he wasn't successful, so he wrote his now famous letter."

"The one that was leaked to the press?"

Boyle Views Life

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Jumping to conclusions:

Few people ever really give up on life as long as they feel they have even a bare chance of inheriting money. It's the last hope to die in the human heart.

It is easier to become a millionaire in 10 years than it is to keep up alone a daily program of calisthenics for that long. But the average person wouldn't have much fun in doing either.

Greater love hath no man than he who publicly wears the first sweater his girl friend ever knitted.

A woman never really feels secure in marriage until she no longer thinks it necessary to wear her husband away from the friends who have a bad influence on him.

You may hate to quit any game while you're a winner—but at least you ought to be smart enough to get out of it before you lose all your marbles.

An optimist is an executive who thinks he can buy an electric typewriter for his own personal secretary without having to buy one for every other secretary in the office.

Before marrying the boy next door, a wise girl first talks her parents into moving to a better neighborhood.

We live in a time when a fellow can make more profit out of being a character than in having it.

Women will never have equal rights in this country until they can scratch in public, as men often do, and still keep their social standing.

An old-timer is a guy who can remember away back when the reason most men carried knives in their pockets was to cut off a chunk of chewing tobacco—or to pare an apple.

One of the hardest things for an office peasant to figure out is why the telephone always rings just as he reached the climax of a funny story, but never does when the boss is telling one. It wouldn't dare.

Whenever I see anyone in a restaurant peeling off artichoke leaves and dipping them in butter, I always wonder why he can't find a more constructive way to kill time.

There's nothing that gives a man a headier feeling of philanthropy than ordering a box of cookies from the Girl Scouts. But you kind of lose respect for him if he tries to deduct the amount from his income tax.

The millenium is supposed to be on its way, but now and then we get the distinct feeling it must have had to take a detour.

Signals For Small Enterprises

By ELMER ROESSNER

There are definite, very apparent, danger signals as a small store approaches trouble, according to a leaflet by the Small Business Administration. The leaflet,

Many old customers no longer visit the store.

Traffic in front of the store has fallen off.

Customers are not urged to buy additional or more expensive items.

Customers are returning more merchandise than they should.

Sales are down this month over the same month last year.

Warning From Displays Goodpasture adds that customers will stay away, if: The display window is not trimmed with new and exciting merchandise.

Display racks, shelves and counters are dusty.

Some stock looks shopworn.

The store has a rundown look.

Crowded aisles make it hard for people to reach merchandise.

Merchandise is often damaged because of crowded displays and mishandling in the storage area.

These danger signals in buying and selling were cited:

Prices are not in line with those of competitors.

Dollars that can be spent for new stock are limited because the backroom is full of slow-moving items.

Stocks are not flagged to remind the owner - manager to reorder in time.

Markdowns on style items are not taken quickly when customers begin to discard a style.

Cash discounts are not taken on purchases.

Signals From Employees Here are danger signals that employees may flash:

Employees are slow in greeting customers.

Salespeople lack knowledge of the store's merchandise.

Customers complain of employee lack of interest in their problems.

Mistakes which employees make are increasing.

Qualified employees leave for jobs with the store's competitors. And some frightening signals:

The owner - manager pays his personal expenses out of the same checking account as his business expenses.

The recordkeeping system does not help the owner-manager to pay bills including taxes on time.

Credit customers are behind with their payments.

Stock turnover is slower than the average for the type of merchandise.

Gross profit is less than the average for the type of merchandise.

The net worth of the business has decreased.

There are a few more flashing red lights. For a free copy of this leaflet, ask the nearest SBA office or the SBA, Washington, D.C. 20416.

Senior Faculty Member Honored Upon Retirement

A brick from Old Austin, chalk on a string, ingredients for making peanut brittle and an engraved silver tray. These were among the mementoes and tokens of respect, fondness and affection presented to Louise Love Williams at a dinner marking her retirement from the faculty of East Carolina University.

Miss Williams, a professor of mathematics, is completing 40 years of service at East Carolina and is the oldest member of the faculty in point of service and perhaps the most beloved.

She recalled things as they were when she first came to "East Carolina Teachers Training School" in the days when Old Austin, one of the most famous of campus buildings, now demolished, was new. She now has a brick from that revered old edifice.

The chairman of the ECU Board of Trustees, Atty. Gen. Robert B. Morgan, a former student, paid tribute to Miss Williams as "an example of inspiration, self-sacrifice, dedication and success."

Morgan spoke of Miss Williams' teaching. It was in her class, he said, "where I first learned to like math because for the first time I understood math." She "guided, but more truthfully prodded, and nursed" her students into the art of "logical conclusion," he said.

"Long before the phrase 'generation gap' emerged, Miss Williams had bridged that gap with a personal relationship to her students that was both warm and rewarding," Morgan said.

He said she "made me a discoverer" of the process of methodical step by step preparation by which a logical conclusion can be reached.

And, Morgan added, "As a teacher, Miss Williams has recognized that through students, education reaches and serves society as a whole and a teacher's reward is how well her students serve that society."

The chalk on a string was symbolic of her tools in presenting geometry sketches. For many years at Christmas time, Miss Williams always served department members peanut brittle. The silver tray was a gift of the Mathematics Department.

Others who spoke included Dr. John O. Reynolds, former dean of the Graduate School and Professor of Mathematics; Dr. Tullio J. Pignani, chairman of the Mathematics Department; Vice President and Dean Robert L. Holt and John Daniels who made the presentations.

Miss Williams was born in Greenville, Ky., and studied at Kentucky Wesleyan College and Columbia University. She began teaching mathematics in high schools of Kentucky and moved to North Carolina to join the East Carolina faculty in 1903.

Shower Honors Miss Edwards

Miss Cheryl Edwards, bride-elect of May, was honored Thursday night at a miscellaneous shower at the home of Miss Patsy Patrick. Miss Jean Stancil was co-hostess.

The hostesses greeted guests upon arrival. The honoree was presented a yellow and white carnation corsage and remembered with gifts.

The refreshment table was covered with a white linen cloth and centered with an arrangement of spring flowers and candles. Mrs. John Patrick assisted in serving.

Good-byes were said by the hostesses and the honoree.

Unable to arrange a private meeting with the President, the Republican leaders strongly advised Mr. Nixon through intermediaries to announce that, although he wanted no limiting language in the bill, he could accept any proviso that did not specifically weaken his power as Commander-in-Chief of the Armed Forces.

That was the way the matter stood on Friday. Then, without a word of advance notice to Scott, Ron Ziegler, Mr. Nixon's press secretary, announced that the President would accept no amendment at all.

Accordingly, the stage now seems irremediably set for the Senate to deliver a punishing blow at the President.

"That letter had a tremendous effect on the President, didn't it?"

"Well, it came as a shock to him and after it was published the President agreed to see the head of the Chase Manhattan Bank. The head told him that unless the President took back his words about buying stocks, the Dow Jones could go below 500."

"What was the President's reaction to that?"

"He expressed concern. That night he couldn't sleep so early in the morning the President and his valet went up to Lincoln Memorial where they saw several brokers from Merrill, Lynch, Pierce, Fenner and Smith sleeping on the stone steps. He woke them up and told them he understood their problems, and he tried to explain to them why he made his decision to announce that if he had any money he would buy stocks."

"Did they understand?" I asked.

"Let's say they listened, but they didn't promise him a ticker tape parade in New York this year."

Violent Students Can Cost Vote

By JOHN BECKLER
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The recent outbreaks of campus violence may have endangered one of the students' prized goals—lowering the voting age to 18.

With a House vote on the 18-year-old vote due next month, sponsors are worried a backlash effect may be building as anti-war sentiment continues to disrupt the colleges.

There is also concern the strongly anti-Nixon stance of the protesting students will make it harder to pick up the 40 or so Republican votes needed to pass the measure.

"I'd have to say it's going to be tougher now," said Rep. Tom Railsback, R-Ill., who is leading the effort to build House Republican support for the bill.

Rep. Abner J. Mikva, D-Ill., a Democrat working actively for the measure, shares Railsback's concern. "Before all this," Mikva said, "studies showed that the students weren't in anybody's bag. In states where there is a lower voting age, they haven't changed the voting patterns much. But now Mr. Nixon has good reason to believe they are against him."

President Nixon already has come out against the Senate-passed bill, which calls for lowering the voting age by federal statute. Nixon has said it should be done by constitutional amendment.

House GOP Leader Gerald R. Ford is supporting the President's position, which makes Railsback's job even tougher.

Mikva said the 40 necessary Republican votes were in hand a few days ago, but there is some doubt about the GOP support now.

The backlash effect of student demonstrations and riots can be seen in letters coming into the House Judiciary Committee.

A man in Hackensack, N.J., said no country where students have political power is in very good shape, and a man in St. Louis wrote, "The past week has shown to the nation the irresponsibility and the lack of making qualified judgments by the students of this country."

On the other side, the mass of students crowding the Capitol corridors the past several days, lobbying for various antiwar amendments, have made a good impression on Congress.

Many have had their hair cut. They are neatly dressed, courteous and orderly, and show a keen awareness of what is going on.

"They have behaved in an exemplary fashion," said Rep. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., who, as chairman of the Judiciary Committee, will handle the age-vote bill on the floor.

"They have shown their interest in politics and their belief in the democratic process by coming here," Celler said. "It would be a devastating blow if they were to be rejected now."

The students' interest in political activity should cause concern among members who are thinking about denying them the vote, said Rep. Andrew Jacobs Jr., D-Ind., who strongly supports the lowered voting age.

"There are a lot of them," said Jacobs, "and they'll work for your opponent for nothing. Why agitate the tiger?"

Timothy Leary's Plea Rejected

WASHINGTON (AP) — Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas has turned down a request by Dr. Timothy Leary to be freed on bail while appealing a California state prison sentence of 1 to 10 years for possessing marijuana cigarettes.

In rejecting the petition Tuesday, Douglas said he had no power to act until the California Supreme Court had a chance to review the conviction.

Cambodian Mission Cost Pres. Nixon Soldier-Supporter

HONOLULU (AP) — Hours after learning their soldier son had been killed in Cambodia, Edmund and Wattie Mae Hedemann cabled President Nixon: "If we could help you make others realize that your decision is right, we stand ready to serve you."

The Hedemanns learned of their son Wayne's death the same day the local newspapers published a letter from him that said: "With this attack, Nixon is getting my vote in the next election."

Hedemann, 24, a helicopter copilot, was Hawaii's first casualty of the Cambodia campaign. He was killed May 13 while flying a combat mission.

His father, commenting Tuesday on his cable to the President, urged a reporter to "tell them—tell them all—his parents are not going to quit. Good citizens must get together and do something about how they feel."

"My son was a good American," he said. "He backed his President, it didn't make any difference if he was a Democrat or Republican."

In his last letter to his mother, Wayne wrote: "Mom, I hope everyone back home is for Nixon. Because this should have been done three years ago."

Mrs. Hedemann in recent weeks had been busy traveling between her Hawaii Island home and Honolulu, where she urged state legislators to reverse their stand against the move into Cambodia.

Both houses had passed resolutions opposing the Cambodian action.

Mrs. Hedemann said her son had had doubts and moments of confusion about policies in Southeast Asia, but in recent weeks his letters had shown full support of Nixon.

"If this had happened two months ago I would be bitter," she said. "But now I know my son believed in what he was doing."

Horse Show To Be Held Sunday

WILLIAMSTON — The tenth annual Williamston Lions Club Horse Show will be held Sunday afternoon in Kehukee Park, located just west of Williamston and a quarter mile off Highways 13-64.

A large number of owners of ponies and horses in this area are preparing to enter one or more of the 27 different classes which will be featured in the Sunday afternoon show, which begins at 1 o'clock.

Coastal Plain Horse Show events only will be run this year in the facilities at Kehukee Park which has a show ring.

NEA EXCUSE

SALEM, Ore. (UPI)—The husband who returns late from work can tell his wife he was getting culture.

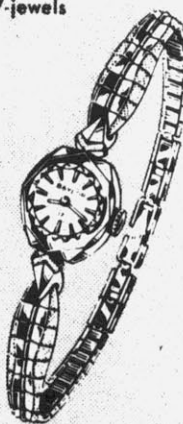

A local tavern has been renamed the "Oregon Museum."

Farmville, 2 p.m. - dinner will be served; 3 p.m. - the Rev. Best and his choir from Life Oaks will render the afternoon service.

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market early this afternoon managed to retrieve a good share of the sharp losses suffered in the morning session. At noon, the Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was off 5.54 at 685.86.

The average had been off 8.21 points an hour earlier at 686.20, the low for the session. That was below the seven-year closing low of 684.79 set last Thursday.

Declining issues on the New York Stock Exchange led winners by more than 4 to 1. That was an improvement, however, since the losers had held a 6-to-1 advantage only an hour earlier.

Analysts attributed the market's performance today to continuing investor disillusionment.

The Associated Press 60-stock average was off 2.2 at 241.1. Industrials were off 3.4, rails, off 8 and utilities, off 1.2.

Declines ran through motors, farm implements, electronics, tobaccos, building materials and drugs.

Of the 20 most-active issues on the Big Board, 7 were glamor issues, most of which declined.

Prices of these issues included Memorex, off 3¼ at 71½; Telex, up ¼ at 14¾; University Computing, off 1½ at 22; Polaroid, off 2½ at 67¾; IBM, off 3¾ at 254¾; Fairchild Camera, up ¾ at 31; and Burroughs, off 3½ at 114.

The Board congratulated Mrs. Mattie Bryan on being named "Pitt County Nurse of the Year" by the medical staff and commented here for her service to the patients of Pitt Memorial.

The funds of the hospital will be rotated among Greenville banks on a two-year basis beginning with the next fiscal year, the Board decided. Wachovia Bank has had the hospital's account since the hospital was opened. The trustees said they have received good service from this bank, but that for fairness's sake, they think the funds should be rotated.

Jack Richardson, assistant hospital administrator, said a rough draft of next year's budget will be submitted next month.

Estimated earnings for the quarter were up 19.7 per cent from last year. This amounted to 87 cents a share of common stock compared with 70 cents last year, the report stated.

It said the improvement reflected a carryover of last year's cigarette price increase coupled with a 1.7 per cent rise in cigarette sales.

Raise New Flag At Junior High

A new American flag, presented to Aycock Junior High School by the Pilot Club of Greenville, was flown for the first time yesterday in a flag raising ceremony held at 2:00 p.m.

Principal John Jones accepted the flag on behalf of the school from Mrs. Robert Starling, first vice-president of the Pilot Club. In presenting the flag, Mrs. Starling spoke of patriotism and friendship. Choosing a theme of R.S.V.P., Mrs. Starling told the assembled students that R could stand for respect for our flag; s for service to others; v for victory for things that are right, and p for patriotism.

The Junior High School Band, under the direction of Thomas Smith, played three selections. Invocation was given by Julian Cleveland, Industrial Art teacher at Aycock who is also a retired Marine. Cleveland later led the students in the pledge of allegiance.

The Junior High School Band, under the direction of Thomas Smith, played three selections. Kirk Stewart Leaving Post As East Carolina Cage Assistant

East Carolina University assistant basketball coach Kirk Stewart will leave his post July 1 to accept a coaching position in Florida.

In announcing that Stewart was leaving to accept the head coaching job at Titusville (Fla.) High School, ECU Head Coach Tom Quinn also said that East Carolina will begin immediately to screen applicants for this and an additional position on the Pirate basketball staff.

"I'm leaving with a good relationship with Coach Quinn and the other members of the ECU athletic department," said Stewart. "Coaching at East Carolina for the past four seasons has been a very profitable and rewarding experience. However, I've never been a head coach before nor have I ever worked on the high school level before. So the Titusville position will be a new and challenging experience for me."

"That's why when they offered me this position I accepted it," continued Stewart. "I've been with Coach Quinn eight years now as a player and coach and I'm indebted to him. If I come up with a good kid at Titusville, Coach Quinn will be the first one I'll contact."

An All-Metro high school cager in the Washington, D.C., area, Stewart played under Quinn at High Point (N.C.) College and joined the ECU staff when Quinn left High Point to come to East Carolina in 1966.

"Kirk has done an outstanding job here and I am personally grateful for his efforts in helping establish us as a strong contender in the Southern Conference," said Quinn. "It will be most difficult for us to find another person who is as thoroughly familiar with our system. But I understand completely Kirk's desire to establish his own program."

Pepsi Defeats Exchange, 12-6

Pepsi-Cola rolled to a 12-6 victory over the Exchange yesterday in the Tar Heel Little League, and pulled into a tie for second place.

The Moose lead the league with a 2-0 record, while the Graniteers and Pepsi are both 2-1. Integon is 1-1 followed by Exchange, 1-2, and the Elks, 0-3.

Pepsi started the scoring in the first inning, driving in seven runs before the Exchange had a chance with the bat. Ricky Avery reached on a fielder's choice and was safe at second on an error when David Davis reached on a fielder's choice. Roy Oldham walked, loading the bases. A wild pitch scored Avery and allowed the others to move up. Danny Bowman singled, driving in both Davis and Oldham. Dan Kendrick walked, and Mark Conway also walked, reloading the bases. Mike Shank doubled, driving in Bowman, Kendrick and Conway. Lee Shearin singled, scoring Shank with the seventh, and winning, run.

In the third, Pepsi pushed over four more, moving out by 11-0. Steve McClanahan singled and was safe at second on an error as Shank reached on a fielder's choice. Shearin singled in McClanahan and an error let the runners advance. Avery walked, loading the bases and a wild pitch scored Shank. Davis walked, loading the bases again, and Bowman reached on an error, scoring Shearin and Avery.

Exchange got into the act in the bottom of the third. Doug Paschal walked and Mike Belton reached on a fielder's choice. Both advanced on a balk, and Mike Brewington grounded out, scoring Paschal. Gene Bunn reached on an error, scoring Belton.

In the top of the fourth, Pepsi got its final run. McClanahan doubled and scored on John Coffman's single.

The Exchange added three more runs to its total in the fifth. Paschal led off with a double and Belton was hit by a pitch. Brewington singled in Paschal, but Belton was out as Bunn hit into a fielder's choice. An error

Trinity, Grace Win

Grace Free Will Baptist remained unbeaten, and Trinity kept close to St. James with wins last night in the Church Softball League. Trinity downed Gum Swamp, 8-0, and Grace rolled to a 13-1 win over Oakmont.

In the opener, Trinity scored all it needed in the first inning, with three. They added one in the third, and two in the fourth and sixth innings. The two in the fourth came on a homer by Doug Norville.

Grace pushed ahead in its game in the second inning, getting three runs. They added four more in the third, including a two-run homer by Sammy Pugh, making it 7-0. They picked up the remaining six in the fourth, including a homer by Lindsey Hardee.

The lone Oakmont run came in the sixth inning.

"In an effort to bring our staff up to the number necessary to handle recruiting on a level with the best basketball schools in the country and to coach the varsity and freshman teams, we will hire two assistants," said Quinn. "One coach will coordinate our recruiting and assist with the varsity. The other will coach the freshmen, assist with the varsity, help recruit, and will be an instructor in the physical education department."

Stewart will remain at East Carolina through June in order to help direct the first two sessions of Tom Quinn's Buccaneers Basketball School.

In addition to being head basketball coach at Titusville High, which is one of the largest schools in Florida, Stewart will teach physical education.

Coke Upends Lions By 11-2

Coca-Cola rolled to an 11-2 victory over the Lions in the North State Little League yesterday.

R.C. and the Kiwanis lead the league with 2-0 records, while Coke is third with a 2-1 mark. They are followed by the Lions and Optimists, both 1-2, and the Jaycees, 0-3.

Coke pushed over a pair of runs in the first inning. Molt Massey walked and stole second. Keith James also walked, and another to Max Joyner loaded the bases. Massey scored on a wild pitch, and an error let James come across for a 2-0 lead.

In the second, Coke struck for five more runs, running its lead to 7-0. Mike Sutton walked, as did Tim Cottle and Joe Downing, loading the bases. Jeff Barber singled to score Sutton, and a hit by James scored Cottle. Joyner doubled across Downing and Barber, and Jerome Ross got a hit to score James with the fifth run of the inning.

The Lions picked up the first of their runs in the bottom of the second. Connor Merritt walked and moved up on an error on Jim Averette's grounder. He scored on Wright Hooks' fielder's choice.

Coke added two more in the third. Cottle reached on an error and scored when Barber also was safe on an error. James singled to score Barber.

In the fifth, Coke got its last two runs. Randy Allen walked and Massey singled. Barber walked to load the bases, and a wild pitch let Allen in. Massey scored on a passed ball.

The Lions picked up their last run in the sixth. Dale Steele doubled and scored on Harry Pair's double.

James and Ross led the Coke hitting with two each, while Barber limited the Lions to just two hits, both doubles.

Robersonville Edges Past Ayden To Advance In State Playoffs

By WOODY PEELE
Reflector Sports Editor

The Robersonville Rams got good fielding and fine pitching to edge past Ayden's Tornadoes yesterday in the first round of the State Class A Baseball Playoffs, 2-0.

The difference in the two teams was in the field. Both Robersonville's Glenn Forbes and Ayden's Bennett Tyson hurled fine games, giving up four hits each. Forbes struck out five and walked two, while Tyson fanned six and gave none free passes to first, although he did hit one.

But Robersonville backed up Forbes with only two miscues during the afternoon. Ayden committed five errors, and therein lay the difference.

The Rams now advance to the second round of the playoffs, facing the winner of the Matamuskeet-Creswell game. The second game is slated for Friday, at a site to be set.

Both teams used errors to put up a threat in the first inning. Ed Warren led off for Robersonville, reaching on an error. He stole second, but remained there the rest of the game.

Ayden's Ken Cleaton reached the same way to start the Ayden first inning. He also stole second, and was sacrificed to second by Alan Wilson. But like Warren, he too, couldn't come around to score.

Ayden got off another threat in the third inning. Robert Twilley singled and moved up when Dail Griffin walked. Griffin was caught in a rundown off first, but Twilley didn't move down on the play. A pinch-runner, Doug Pierce, later reached third on a balk.

The Rams, meanwhile, had been working on a few rallies on their own. The next one came in the second inning. Phil James led off with a single, and was sacrificed to second. Lang Hardison reached on an error, and Joe Pilgreen was hit by a pitch, loading the bases. Forbes grounded back to third, and that caught James at the plate. The next batter appeared to have a hit through the middle, but Cleaton made a fine play on the ball behind second base in time to get the out.

But in the third, the Rams finally pushed over a run, and it was all they needed. Timmy James reached on an error with one out, and the overthrown at first allowed him to reach second. Danny Stalls singled to left, moving James to third, and when the ball got away from the fielder, he streaked home with the first Ram run. Stalls later stole second, but could not be advanced.

The Rams were shut out after that until the seventh inning, when they scored again. Lang Hardison reached on an error, but was cut down when Joe Pilgreen grounded back to third. Glenn Forbes singled to center, moving Pilgreen to second, and a hit by Warren to center, brought Pilgreen home with the second Robersonville run.

Pacers Win Third

ANAHEIM (AP)—Coach Bob Leonard of the Indiana Pacers predicted early in the season that Roger Brown would score 50 to 60 points in a game.

What a time he picked to do it. The 53 points by the 6-foot-5 forward on Tuesday night propelled his club to a 142-120 victory over the Los Angeles Stars and a commanding three-games-to-one lead in their American Basketball Association title series.

Now the Pacers need just one more victory to take the championship. They get their chance on their home court Saturday afternoon before a national television audience.

Brown's total set an ABA playoff record, one point more than Washington's Rick Barry scored against Denver in their opening set. Brown hit 18 field goals, three of them from the three-point area 25 feet beyond the basket. He also hit 14 of 16 free throws, grabbed 13 rebounds and contributed six assists.

Despite his phenomenal shooting, Brown drew the most plaudits from Leonard for his defense. "He was all over the court tonight."

(Shoes) As with the rest of a man's wardrobe shoes should be conservative.

They should be moderate in style and color. It is well to avoid higher-than-average heels. Shun ornamental innovations. Choose medium toes instead of pointed or square. These are always good.

Black, dark brown or cordovan are colors in good taste. Two-tones are fine for sports dress. The three colors first mentioned are pleasing with sports or business wear. For formal wear black patent leathers are still recommended. Some men prefer highly polished black leather shoes.

Capped shoes or perforated toes and insteps should be selected with care. They may be worn in business but never for dress.

SHOE COMFORT — Examine lining and insoles before buying shoes. Test for smoothness. Raised stitches or ridges will prove uncomfortable.

Ladies League Opens Season

The Little Mint downed Wachovia, 27-10, Foodmart rolled to a 28-0 victory over Coca-Cola, and National Products Co. beat Bob's Atlantic, 19-2, in the opening games of the Ladies Softball League last night.

Little Mint, Foodmart and NPC are all 1-0.

In the opener, NPC got all it needed in the first inning of play, pushing over six runs. They added four more in the third, and came up with nine in the fourth inning.

Bob's Atlantic got one each in the second and fourth.

Gloria Lassiter and Majorie Harris each had two hits for Bob's, while Betty Frances had four. Joyce Sawyer, and Kathy Davis had three, and Dianne Gibson, Elisi Hannah, and Sylvia Jefferson each had two.

In the second game, Foodmart held Coke scoreless while they rolled up a 28-run total. They picked up four in the first, then added seven in the second. Homers by Betty Nichols and Tess Jackson featured the second.

In the third, they added 17 more runs, including homers by Tess Jackson, Doris Hancock and Betty Wilson.

The Little Mint spotted Wachovia a home run by Sandra Forehand in the top of the first, then stormed back to score 10 in the bottom of the first. They added three more in the second on a homer by Nancy Taylor, then went on to add five in the third, two in the fourth on Linda Tripp's homer, and finish up

Short Helps Phils Snap 10-Game Losing Steak With Shutout Win

By TOM SALADINO Associated Press Sports Writer

Two hours of surgery was necessary last June to put Chris Short back together again, exactly the same amount of time it took the slick Philadelphia southpaw to operate on Pittsburgh and get the Phillies in working order again.

Both operations were successful—the first, last June 13 was needed to remove a herniated disc from Short's back—and the latest, performed Tuesday with seven in the fifth.

Wachovia picked up two more in the third as Camille Venters homered, then added seven more in the fifth as she homered again.

night, helped the Phils snap a 10-game losing string.

The strapping 6-foot-4, 215-pounder limited the powerful Pirates to four scattered hits while walking none and striking out 10 in the Phils' 2-0 triumph.

In other NL action, New York socked Montreal 7-4, Cincinnati downed Chicago 3-1, St. Louis trounced Houston 12-2, Los Angeles routed San Diego 8-3 and Atlanta downed San Francisco 4-2.

In the American League, Milwaukee drilled Oakland 6-3, Minnesota nipped Kansas City 5-4 in 10 innings, California blanked Chicago 3-0, Baltimore drubbed New York 5-1 and Boston edged Detroit 5-4.

The 33-year-old Short, a 20-game winner in 1966, captured 19 games in 1968 before suffering the painful back injury which sidelined the 10-year veteran for all but 10 innings last season.

A two-time All-Star, Short has won 119 contests in his major league career and is now 3-4 for the season.

"I had a better fastball tonight than I can remember," Short said. "Everything I was throwing went right where I wanted it to go."

Short got all the support he needed in the opening inning when Deron Johnson drove in John Briggs with a single. The Phils added a run in the second as Larry Bowa reached first on a forceout, stole second, moved to third on a wild pitch by loser Dock Ellis, 2-4, and stole home.

The Mets cracked five home runs, a pair by Tommie Agee and one apiece from Ron Swoboda, Cleon Jones and Don Clendenon in slamming the Expos and gaining a virtual first-place tie with the Cubs in the NL East. Chicago is ahead of New York by one percentage point.

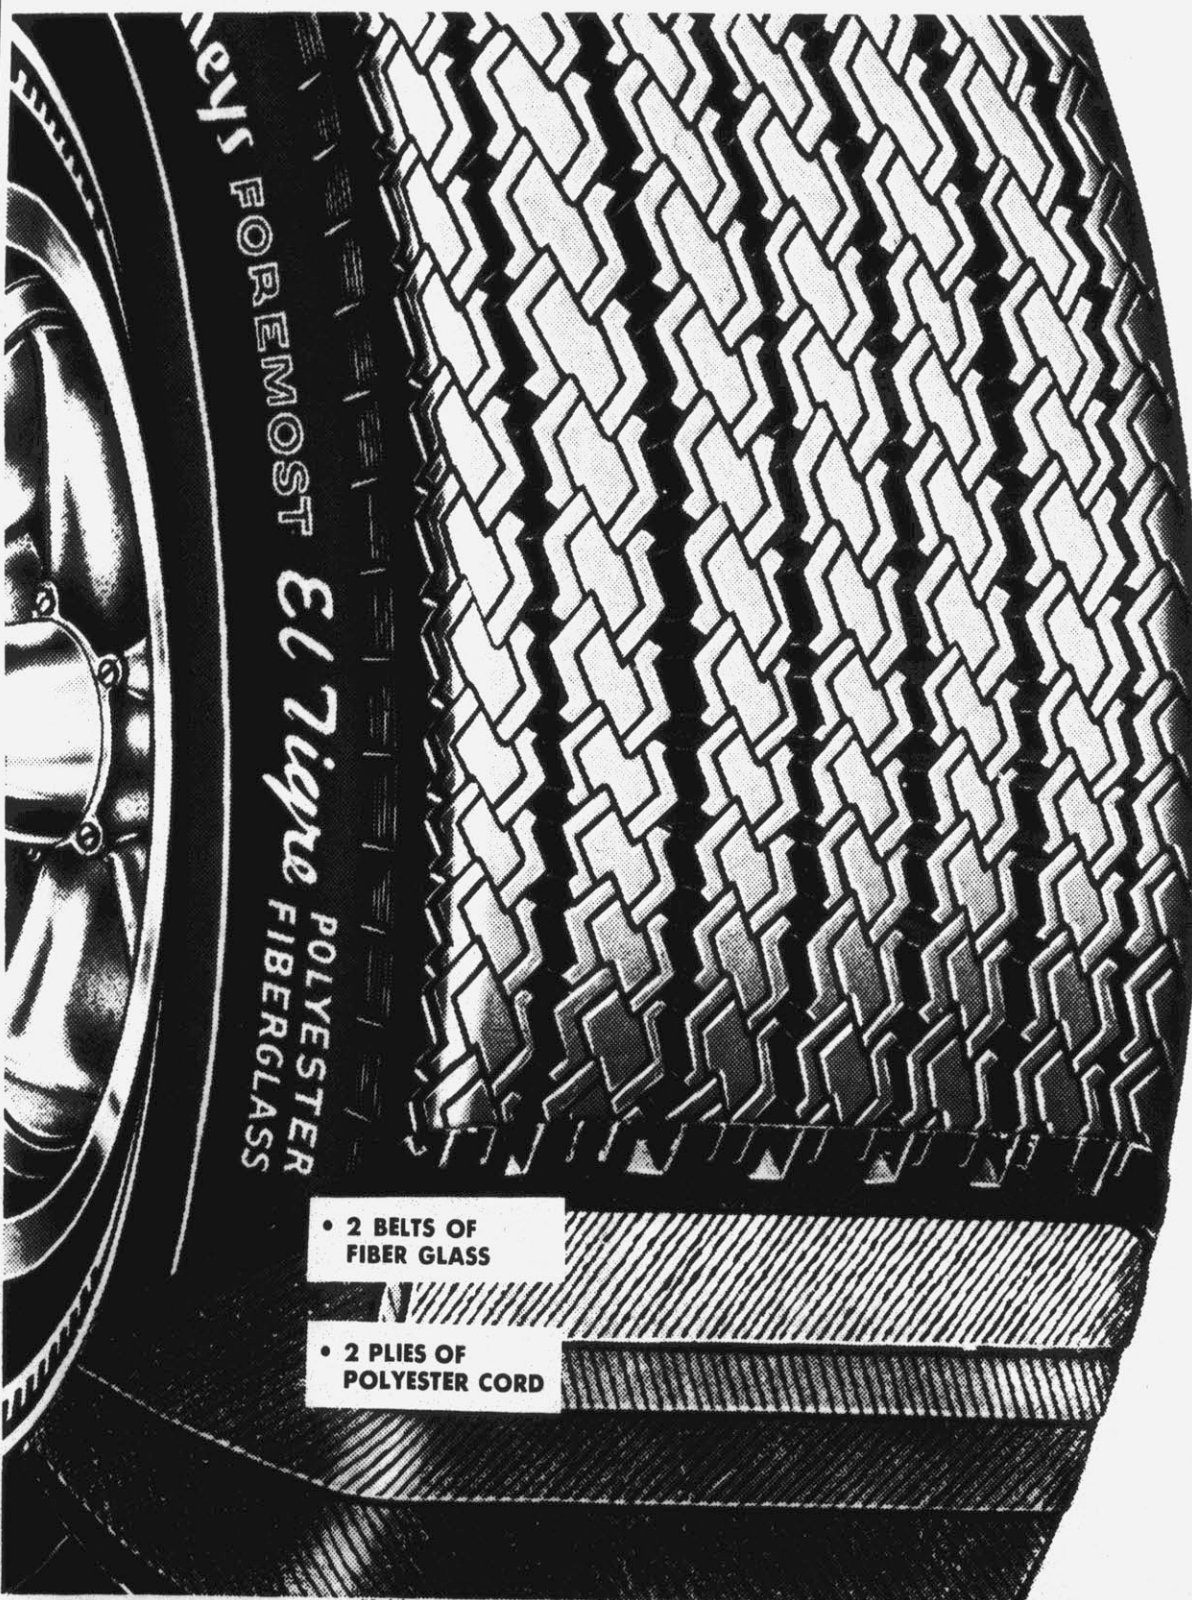

Montreal added a pair of homers to the slugfest, a two-run shot by Adolfo Phillips and a solo blast by John Bocabella.

Bernie Carbo's seventh inning two-run triple followed by Tommy Helms' single gave the Reds all the runs they needed against the Cubs. Gary Nolan, 6-2, scattered five hits but needed relief help in the eighth.

Obscenities By Driver Is Severely Painted For 250 Protestors Injured In Accident Happiness

WINSTON - SALEM (AP) — Students shouted obscenities at Dr. James R. Scales, president of Wake Forest University, after he refused Tuesday night to allow them to skip final exams so they could protest the war in Southeast Asia.

About 250 members of the student body of 2,400 had marched to his home to demand they be given the grades they have earned up to now, so they could participate in "political indoctrination sessions."

Dr. Scales told the shouting group he would not be coerced, and that students failing to take their exams would suffer the consequences. The group headed back to the campus, a few members splitting away after the obscenities.

About 200 members of the group then went into the university administration building, Reynolda Hall, discussed the situation for half an hour or so, and drifted out peacefully.

The chief security officer of the school said it could not be considered a takeover of the building, because it is open 24 hours a day and also is used as a study hall. No outside police were called and no damage was done to the building, he said.

Dean Thomas Mullen of the School of Arts and Sciences, who had been asked by some of the students to call an emergency meeting of a faculty committee to consider their demands, told newsmen that such a meeting would require 48 hours written notice.

The world's largest fresh water fish hatchery is located in Lonoke, Ark.

FARMVILLE — A Farmville man sustained serious injury when his car was hit by a new car being tried out here minutes after midnight Sunday.

Bobby Ellis of Route 1, Farmville received severe hip injuries as a result of the collision, according to investigating officer, John Farr of the Farmville Police Department. Ellis is a patient at Pitt Memorial Hospital.

Richard Rupert, driver of the 1970 model automobile was charged with careless and reckless driving. Police said the car gave Ellis' car a glancing blow, overturned, slid through an intersection with an unnamed street, stood on end, and fell over striking a large Farmville Corporation billboard.

Investigation showed the driver began braking some 240 feet before impact and that the car traveled another hundred feet after striking Ellis' auto. No one in the new car was seriously injured, although Roger Baker, a passenger, was treated at Pitt Memorial for a bump on the head. Bright Leaf Motors in Greenville was listed as the owner of the new car. Damage to the new car was set at $3,200. Ellis' car, valued at $650, was totalled and damage to the sign was estimated at $600.

BOUNTY IS BOUNTIFUL

PORTLAND, Ore. (UPI)—Within nine days after a local grocery chain owner announced he would pay a half-cent bounty for all non-returnable beverage cans and bottles, his 60 stores were swamped with 1 million cans and bottles.

FRESNO, Calif. (AP) — The unsolicited effort of 23 teenagers has brought happiness to Mrs. Maggie Williams, a 76-year-old Fresno woman who says of America's young generation:

"They're not all bad." Mrs. Williams today has a brightly painted house, white and with the blue trim she had been wanting for so long. "Oh, isn't it wonderful?" she said. "They talk about teenagers all the time but these are the good ones."

Mrs. Williams and her husband, Percy, 78, live in a small six-room house. They live on Social Security payments and the checks just "cover expenses— we couldn't afford to paint," Mrs. Williams says.

So Diane Lee, 18, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Stanley Lee of Fresno, organized a weekend paint-in. She and 22 other persons, mostly from Bullard High School, showed up with brushes and $40 worth of white and blue paint they picked up on sale.

"I was Diane's babysitter since just after she was born. Of course, she hasn't needed one for quite a while. Now I'm her adopted grandmother," beams Mrs. Williams.

State Tax Foes Strike Again At Tuesday Hearing

Castro Admits Big Sugar Goal May Not Be Met

By THEODORE A. EDIGER
Associated Press Writer
MIAMI (AP) — Fidel Castro has admitted for the first time that he may not reach this year the record 10 million-ton sugar crop on which he repeatedly has staked the honor of his revolution.

Castro made the admission in a speech at a Havana welcome rally Tuesday night for the return of 11 Cuban fishermen who were kidnaped by U.S.-based exiles and later released. The broadcast speech was monitored in Miami.

The Cuban prime minister said his enemies had speculated that he was seeking an incident such as the fishermen kidnappings or recent exile guerrilla landings on which to blame sugar difficulties.

But he told cheering thousands in front of the former U.S. Embassy: "If the goal is not reached, we will have two things, a moral defeat without a doubt, and we will have to find among ourselves the blame and study with courage the causes."

Seated with Castro on a platform set up atop two trucks were the fishermen, just flown to Cuba from the Bahamas. They had been stranded on tiny William Island there after their capture in Cuban waters more than a week ago.

Alpha 66, an anti-Castro organization, held them hostage for some Alpha 66 men held captive inside Cuba, but released them after Castro spurned any exchange and the U.S. government expressed displeasure over the incident.

Castro blamed rains, equipment trouble at mills, low yield and other factors for falling behind schedule in the harvesting of his dollar-producing crop.

Castro's timetable called for 8 million tons by May 7. Havana Radio reported recently that the harvest still was short of 7.5 million.

Castro blamed the U.S. government for the capture of the fishermen, though not for the crop shortfall.

Citing U.S. campus and racial strife, Castro said: "There are already those who are talking in the United States about the possibility of a revolution."

President Nixon "reminds us of Hitler," said Castro. "When he made the decision to invade Cambodia, he did not advise Cambodia, he did not even advise his own government."

hardest by sales and consumer taxes, and that the state's income tax is not as progressive as it appears.

Hobby's testimony came during the second and final day of hearings. During the sessions the commission heard appeals for repeal or modification of the gasoline, cigarettes, soft drinks, sales, bank excise, intangibles, and inventory taxes.

Hobby said under his plan taxpayers would pay the state a flat percentage of the amount they pay in federal income taxes. The general assembly could adjust the state income tax rates "simply by varying the percentage applied to the federal levy," he said.

Taking figures from the 1967-68 fiscal year, Hobby added up the amount of state sales and income taxes collected and the amount of federal income tax paid by North Carolinians. And he concluded that if the state income tax were pegged at 24.9 percent of the amount of federal income tax a person paid, the state would have collected $1.3 million more than it collected from both sales and individual income taxes.

He said such a plan offers equity, simplicity, low cost to the state, assured enforcement, easy withholding and flexibility.

The commission was also told that provisions of the state's one-cent local option sales tax are "unfair and require immediate action."

J. B. Brame of Durham, a former member of the Highway Commission, noted that provisions of the law require merchants in counties having the local option tax to levy it on goods delivered into a county without the special tax.

"When we sell tires or even when we're selling to the state in public bids, we're automatically at a 1 per cent disadvantage over counties who don't have the tax," he said.

Jack Barfield, representing the Asheville Chamber of Commerce and Board of Realtors, presented two resolutions to the commission. One requested that street aid allocations to municipalities under the Powell Bill be doubled, or that they receive one cent per gallon on the state gasoline tax.

Barfield's other resolution asked that the intangible tax on monies on hand and bank deposits be eliminated, and the intangibles tax on securities be reduced from 25 cents per $100 to 15 cents per $100.

Harold R. Corey, representing the Asheville Chamber of Commerce, asked for modification of the state manufacturers inventory tax on raw materials, processing equipment and finished goods.

Rep. Sam Johnson of Wake County suggested that the commission launch a study of a possible airport users tax.

Method To Save Infants

BOSTON (UPI)—The lives of 40 infants dying in spite of corrective surgery for stomach and intestinal defects have been saved in the last two years by a new method being refined by the Children's Hospital Medical Center in Boston.

This method, which doctors at Children's call the lifeline, consists of a tube inserted near the baby's heart through an incision made in the jugular vein.

Jobless Payments To Veterans Rising

Separations from the armed forces in North Carolina during the first three months of 1970 have increased over the same period of 1969, causing a 60 per cent jump in unemployment insurance payments to ex-servicemen.

According to Kendrick Taylor, veterans employment officer with the local State Employment Office, unemployment insurance benefits to former servicemen, which are paid by the State with federal funds, increased from $244,500 during the first quarter of 1969 to $354,200 in the same period of 1970.

Jobless benefit payments have increased because a higher proportion of persons being discharged from the military are filing claims, Taylor noted.

The duration of payments is somewhat longer, and the average weekly benefit amount is higher, he added. In North Carolina the maximum payment is $50 a week.

Taylor also said that unemployment among ex-servicemen is higher now because school terms are in session, and persons intending to enter vocational or education courses are biding their time waiting for new courses to begin.

Figures from the Veterans Administration show that 38,000 armed forces personnel have separated in and returned to North Carolina in the past nine months, "and I estimate that at least 3,000 veterans are being discharged each month from our military bases," Taylor said.

Alcohol Studies Slated June 9

The 20th consecutive summer workshop in alcohol studies begins at East Carolina University Tuesday, June 9, and will coincide with the first 10 days of summer school.

Purpose of the 10-day course, sponsored by the university and the Walter B. Jones Alcoholic Center, is to help teachers gain a better understanding of the problems arising through the use or misuse of alcohol.

Dr. N. M. Jorgensen, Chairman of the ECU Health and Physical Education Department and coordinator of the workshop, said the problems involved in the study are sociological, psychological and physiological.

Professional Food Taster Never Tires

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Ray says. "Or corn chips or tortilla mond Vandaveer just eats his chips or pretzels."

He's a guy who eats for a living as an organic chemist and a food taster for a Dallas-based food company.

Vandaveer can nibble professionally at potato chips all day, then enjoy them at home at night.

"I prefer potato chips," he

Don't think it's all eat and no drink, either. Vandaveer has been known to sample 100 cans of cream at one sitting.

"You don't get tired of sampling the same thing over and over, if it's a good food. That's the key. On my first job, I tasted and tested the No. 10 cans of pineapple being used by the Army. It was a lot of pineapple, but it was good pineapple."

Vandaveer admits to some over-eating, but he says it's not the food he eats while at work that results in the excess poundage.

"I have developed my taste buds to such an extent that I am very aware of good food, and it does tend to make me over eat after hours," he says.

Vandaveer also doesn't take his food lightly.

"Some people are influenced by the color of foods. They judge a glass of tomato juice on how red it is. They taste the same juice that has a greenish tint and they won't touch it. We put on special lights and all the food is the same color."

Aspiring food testers should be made aware of the fact that the tester has to pass some tests before he can administer them.

Team Adopted Foster Child

WINSTON-SALEM, N.C. (AP) —

Wake Forest's basketball players have adopted a 12-year-old Filipino girl, Esperanza Tolentino, and coach Jack McCloskey hopes the "foster child" program will spread to college athletes around the nation.

The players will pay $16 a month under a foster parents plan to help give Esperanza some of the necessities she has lacked while living in the slums of Manila.

"I got the idea last year when the Wake Forest students assisted Biafra," said McCloskey.

"And I kept thinking how wonderful it would be if college athletes all over the country could get behind some sort of program."

Opening lead: Five of ♣
An astute bit of card reading enabled East to uncover the killing defense and thereby promote a substantial swing for his side in a team-of-four.

The bidding was essentially the same at both tables. East opened with one club, South overcalled with one diamond and West made a free bid of one spade. In the subsequent competition, South bid and rebid hearts, North, who had remained silent thruout, finally came to life and raised South to four hearts. West opened the five of clubs and for East, the moment of decision was at hand. At one table, he put up the king and continued with the ace, declarer ruffing with the seven of hearts.

The dummy was entered with the ace of spades to lead a trump. East played the five, South the ten and West was in with the king. The club return was ruffed with the eight of hearts and declarer led the queen of trumps. East played the ace and returned a diamond, South was in to draw the last trump with the jack of hearts and claimed the balance with good diamonds. He lost two hearts and one club.

At the other table, East took a different course after winning the original club lead. He reasoned on the basis of South's original overcall in diamonds, that the latter probably held six diamonds and five hearts. Repeated diamond leads might therefore put West in position to overruff the dummy, if he had a spot in hearts to top North's six.

At trick two, East shifted to a diamond, and North was in with the ten to lead a trump. South's ten was taken by West's king and the latter returned a second diamond. East won the next heart lead with the king and led a third diamond. West scored the setting trick by ruffing in with the nine of hearts.

to the placid draft horses of the Percheron type.

They apparently inherit this different glandular make-up, and so do people.

Due to our thyroid glands and gonadal hormones, some people are more interested in boudoir calories than in the dining room variety.

Others are more susceptible to delicious food and would rather pick a good restaurant in preference to a burlesque show.

The creatures that are endowed with a strong erotic heritage are usually more combative.

They relish competition both in pur "Free enterprise" economic system, as well as in the boxing ring or on the football field.

Others are much less gungacious and thus shun a fight or severe competition.

They have more of the docile sheep's nature instead of the lion's.

In Nature, we thus see the virile stallions and bulls driving the meek males away.

So there has been a general tendency for the virile males to produce the offspring for succeeding generations as per survival of the fit.

But psychological and chemical elements also can exert a marked reduction in the erotic verve of even the most virile male.

For example, excessive parental frowning upon erotic matters in childhood can inhibit the sexual aggressiveness of otherwise normal children and even drive them into complete avoidance of the opposite sex, as in the monk's asceticism.

And chemicals likewise can tranquilize a naturally erotic male.

Anesthetics obviously allay both gastric and erotic hungers, but so do alcohol, tobacco and even aspirin!

For any chemical that dulls the sensory nerves, thus tends to checkmate some of the body's innate hungers.

Tobacco has long been known to produce premature impotence, which is possibly one reason why the first husband of Mavis was placid.

So send for my booklet "How to Break the Tobacco and Liquor Habits," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 20 cents.

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

Worry Clinic
Males Vary In Inborn Energy

Mavis is puzzled by the different sexual ardor of her two husbands. How do you readers explain the fact that her youthful first husband was so placid and meek in contrast to her present mate? Heredity, psychology and chemistry all are involved, so send for the booklet below if you wish to renew your virility!

By GEORGE W. CRANE,
Ph. D., M. D.

CASE N-501: Mavis T., aged 31, has been married twice.

"Dr. Crane," she began, "my first husband was very different from my present mate in his sexual ardor."

"He was of a placid temperament and somewhat passive in his erotic life."

"He liked good food and was a heavy smoker, so could that have reduced his virility?"

"When he died in an auto wreck at the age of 28, I was a widow for a couple of years."

"Then I met my second husband, who is a dynamic personality with a lot of virility, even though he is 40 years of age. "And he never smokes at all!"

"So what could cause this wide difference in the sexual behavior of my two husbands?"

"Human males are much like horses in their different amounts of inborn energy and excitability."

You readers know that a race horse or Arabian steed is high strung and dynamic in contrast
