

Financial, Business Leaders Summoned To White House

By JOHN M. PEARCE
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon summoned financial and business leaders from across the nation to a White House dinner tonight in an effort to calm their fears about the sluggish economy and explain the U.S. move into Cambodia.

He announced the session Tuesday during a day of mixed economic news that varied between a stock market plunge to its lowest level in 7½ years and a Labor Department report that wholesale prices are rising less than last year.

—On Capitol Hill, a House subcommittee voted 5-1 along party lines to require Nixon's Council of Economic Advisers to set wage and price guidelines each year and require Nixon to set up a watchdog agency to oversee them.

White House press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said Lasker told Nixon last week the Cambodia decision was widely misunderstood. Some analysts think doubts over administration policies have contributed to the sharp drop in the market.

The Dow-Jones average of 30 industrial stocks plunged 10.20 points Tuesday to 631.16, the lowest since Nov. 19, 1962. It fell 20 points Monday and is more than 90 points under April 28, when Nixon told a group of visiting businessmen he would be buying stock if he had any money.

The House subcommittee on executive reorganization approved a bill sprinkled with the commanding word "shall," but Nixon and his economic spokesmen have said repeatedly they want nothing to do with formal wage-price guidelines. They contend the method failed during the Johnson administration and has been less than completely successful in European countries.

Nonetheless there have been recent chinks in the government armor, most notably when Federal Reserve Board Chairman Arthur F. Burns said an "incomes policy"—which some observers took to mean some form of persuasion—might make a modest contribution to curbing inflation.

And George Romney, secretary of the Department of Housing and Urban Development, recommended a presidential committee be set up to draw public attention to wage and price increases the administration thinks are inflationary.

But the subcommittee's bill appeared to be more a measure of Democratic discontent with a Republican administration and a reflection of the upcoming congressional elections than a measure destined for enactment.

Similar proposals have been before the subcommittee since 1958 without action, and Democratic leaders in the House and Senate declared Monday the economy is in a crisis and urged Nixon to consider broad economic controls.

—In addition, the staff of the Joint Committee on Internal Revenue Taxation predicted the federal budget for the fiscal year beginning July 1, will show a $4.5 billion deficit instead of the administration's projected $1.3 billion even if all the Nixon's revenue-producing measures take effect.

—The House Ways and Means Committee approved the administration's request for an $18 billion increase in the national debt ceiling to $395 billion.

Referendum Committee Leadership Announced

By JERRY RAYNOR
Reflector Staff Writer
Officers of the Referendum Steering Committee, a general structure of the organization of sub-committees and their chairmen were named at last night's meeting in further efforts to launch a program to inform citizens of the need for additional money to meet the 1970-71 operating expenses in the city schools.

Dr. William Sanderson, two nights ago elected temporary chairman, was confirmed as permanent chairman of the committee. William Gildewell was elected vice-chairman; Mrs. Louis Clark, secretary; and Donovan Phillips, treasurer.

Four major sub-committees were agreed upon — Finance; Communications; Services; and Registration and Voting.

Named as chairmen for the sub-committees were — Finance, Frank Petska; Communications, Danny Jacobson and David J. Whichard II as co-chairman; Services, Mrs. W. B. Bond; and ROME (AP) — The United States and France joined today in holding back efforts to move the North Atlantic allies toward big meetings with the Soviet bloc on keeping the peace in Europe.

Registration and Voting, Rev. Tommy Payne.

The four officers and five chairmen of the sub-committees together will constitute the Executive Committee. At an early date, it is expected area chairmen will be appointed to head up committees working with community areas such as industry, churches, schools (PTAs), clubs and organizations, and government agencies.

Under the sub-committees, various other committees were tentatively agreed upon. Confirmation of these within the overall structure and naming of persons to serve on such committees will be dealt with at the third meeting of the steering committee which will take place tonight at 8:00 o'clock in the board room of the City School Office. This will be followed by a workshop meeting at 9:00 o'clock.

Plans will be outlined to form a working arrangement between the various committees and the Executive Committee. The possibility of forming committees to work separately with geographical areas within the city based on individual school areas will also be open to further discussion.

Fatal Shooting 'Justifiable'

ROCKY MOUNT, N. C. (AP) — A Nash county coroner's jury has ruled that a Rocky Mount policeman was justified in shooting a barber because the officer was protecting another policeman.

Two new members were added to the Referendum Steering Committee — Mrs. Barry Shanks and John Taylor. Another member, listed previously as Mrs. Diane Rives, was in error. The correct name is Mrs. Diane Rees.

The jury Tuesday called the death of 55-year-old Russell Lancaster "justifiable homicide."

Police Chief D. C. Hooker said Lancaster was shot at his home Monday night by patrolman Steve R. Winstead after the barber had threatened to kill another officer and put a pistol to his head.

Today's verbal battle occurred at the climax of a two day meeting of the North Atlantic Council. Twice a year these meetings bring together foreign ministers from the 15 countries of NATO.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — It is reported in Tennessee today, but not yet confirmed by the White House, that President Nixon may visit evangelist Billy Graham's crusade here Thursday night.

Court Order On Bussing Set Aside

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — The U. S. 4th Circuit Court of Appeals set aside today a federal district court's order for total desegregation of public schools through massive bussing in the Charlotte-Mecklenburg County, N.C., school district.

The appeals court sent back to the U.S. District Court of the Western District of North Carolina the case in which the Justice Department had raised the question whether a school board actually has a legal obligation to abolish all black public schools.

In arguments before the appeals court in April, government attorneys had suggested that District Judge James B. McMillan may have overstepped his discretionary authority in ordering bussing of pupils to achieve total desegregation.

Judge Albert V. Bryan dissented, but joined Chief Judge Clement F. Haynsworth Jr. and Judge Herbert Boreman in voting to vacate the judgment of the district court and to remand the case in accordance with the majority opinion written by Judge John D. Butzner Jr. Bryan said he did so "for the sake of creating a clear majority for the decision to remand."

Raises Point On Timing

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Republican Leader Hugh Scott said today the withdrawal of U.S. forces from Cambodia could render moot—or unnecessary—an amendment to halt spending for American operations there. But Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said the issue "cannot and will not be avoided."

Scott said he considers a Senate vote likely by June 15. He said by that time, he expects most American troops will be out of Cambodia.

"It would seem to me that it would moot the thrust of the amendment," Scott said.

But Mansfield said the Senate will vote on the legislation even if action is stalled until June 30, President Nixon's Cambodian withdrawal deadline. He said the amendment would bar any future incursions into Cambodia by U.S. forces.

Mansfield said opponents of the amendment will be making a serious mistake if they delay action "on this issue which cannot and will not be avoided."

Unconstitutional

RALEIGH (AP) — The U. S. Eastern District Court ruled Tuesday that legislation creating three largely white separate school systems in heavily black Halifax and Warren counties of northeastern North Carolina is unconstitutional.

The decisions, signed jointly by Judges Algernon L. Butler and John D. Larkins, said that the 1969 General Assembly's attempt to establish the schools "violates the state's duty to effectuate a unitary system of public schools in North Carolina."

The laws establishing the separate units were challenged in court last summer by U. S. Justice Department attorneys and black parents in the two counties.

The court issued temporary injunctions, just before school started last fall, barring the separate units from operating. Tuesday's decisions made the injunctions permanent.

The units would have been located at Warrenton, Scotland Neck and Littleton-Lake Gaston.

The court also ruled that the separate units would have prevented the counties from complying with court desegregation orders.

The Justice Department had charged that the laws authorizing the separate units would create "white islands" in the two counties. All three municipal units had prepared to accept a substantial number of white transfer students from the areas remaining in the county school systems.

In Warren County, blacks and Indians constitute 73 per cent of the student population. The separate school unit at Warrenton would have been 94 per cent white with 876 pupils. Some 685 of these pupils would have been white students transferring into the Warrenton schools from the county.

The LittletonLake Gaston unit would have had a little more than 600 students, 46 per cent of them black.

Lebanon Defers Appeal For Help

TEL AVIV (AP) — The Lebanese Cabinet put off today a decision on whether to ask Morocco and Tunisia for help in defending Lebanon from Israeli attacks and instead will crack down on guerrillas operating in southern Lebanon.

The decision came as Arab-Israeli fighting flared on two other fronts, those of Jordan and Egypt. At the same time, an Israeli patrol entered southern Lebanon for the third straight day of action against Arab guerrillas.

Ministerial sources in Beirut said that beginning June 16 the Lebanese army will be empowered to shoot at any Arab guerrillas firing from Lebanon across the border into Israel. Ministers also agreed that the army may fire on any Arab commando carrying a weapon in any Lebanese town or city.

Premier Rashid Karami told Parliament Tuesday he was considering asking Morocco and Tunisia to send troops to help Lebanon defend its southern border against repeated Israeli attacks.

Today's decision at the weekly Cabinet session means that no action will be taken on an appeal to the two Arab countries at least until results of the new measures against guerrillas as assessed.

Israeli newspapers quoted Defense Minister Moshe Dayan today as saying a confrontation between Israel and Soviet forces on the Suez Canal "is only a hairbreadth away."

But he apparently added that the two sides will avoid a direct confrontation probably "for a long time."

WAGE INCREASE
GREENSBORO (AP) — Blue Bell Inc., manufacturer of work and play clothes, has announced a wage increase of approximately 10 cents an hour for its 16,000 production employees.

Postal Bill Has Cleared Hurdle

WASHINGTON (AP) — Legislation intended to put the postal service on a more business-like basis, and largely divorced from politics, has won the approval of the Senate Post Office and Civil Service Committee.

The Post Office Department would be replaced by an independent U.S. Postal Service run by a board of governors, who would select the Postmaster General and have authority to issue up to $10 billion in bonds for operating costs and capital improvements.

Postal rates no longer would be set by Congress. Instead, they would be set by a 5-member rate-making commission, subject to review by the Postmaster General and the board of governors.

Also included in the reform measure is an 8 per cent pay raise for postal workers, but the committee took no action on President Nixon's request for a $1.5 billion increase in postal rates.

The only dissent came from Sen. Ralph W. Yarborough, D-Tex. Shortly before the committee acted yesterday.

New Cornea For A Local Patient

By CAROL TYER
Reflector Staff Writer
Mrs. Charlotte Martin of Greenville expects to have 20-20 vision in her left eye, which has been severely diseased, because of the gift of a cornea from the eye of Tate Nabors Jr., a 20-year-old East Carolina University student who died in Pitt Memorial Hospital last Thursday.

Dr. Stephen White, a local ophthalmologist, performed the grafting operation the same night at the county hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Tate Nabors Sr. of Mount Pleasant, near Greensboro, were approached about the possibility of donating their son's eyes immediately after his death as a result of injuries received in a motorcycle accident near here May 16. They were told that Mrs. Martin, a nursing instructor at East Carolina University, was in desperate need of a corneal transplant and were asked if they would give permission for one of their son's eyes to be used.

Dr. White said they did not hesitate. The father said, "I am a Lion's Club's member so I understand. We agree."

Mrs. Martin was called in her office at East Carolina at 1:30 (Continued On Page 8)

Some Counties Unable To Meet Medicaid Bills

RALEIGH (AP) — Twenty-eight of North Carolina's 100 counties probably will not be able to meet their bills for the Medicaid program during June, the Department of Social Services says.

If the extra funds cannot be found at the county, state or federal level, druggists, hospitals, nursing homes, optometrists, chiropractors, dentists and all other medical services covered by Medicaid in the 28 counties will not be paid in full in June.

The state social services commissioner, Clifton Craig, said the department is considering legal action against counties that fail to pay their share of Medicaid costs.

The latest in a string of financial crises in the state's social services programs was revealed by the department Tuesday.

The department predicted on the basis of April figures that if expenses for May and June remain at the same level, the following counties will have to come up with extra funds or default on their Medicaid payments:

Bladen, Caldwell, Chatham, Columbus, Cumberland, Davidson, Duplin, Durham, Edgecombe, Guilford, Jackson, Jones, Lee, Mitchell, Orange, Pasquotank, Richmond, Robeson, Rowan, Sampson, Surry, Swain, Union, Wake, Washington, Wayne, Wilson and Yadkin.

One county — Columbus — is already in the red and was unable to pay its full share of its Medicaid bills for May.

Craig said Columbus was $3,000 short and that the state supplemented the county's funds to make the payments.

Craig said the county commissioners informed him Monday they could not find the funds to repay the state's loan in the current budget and will have no way of paying their bill in June.

Deficits in the counties could range from $375 to $44,000. Craig said he expects that in at least half of the counties, the county commissioners will divert money from other departments to make up the deficit in social services funds.

Craig said little money is available in the state department's budget for helping the counties pay their bills. The department's budget is very tight since the number of welfare recipients in the aid to dependent children category skyrocketed unexpectedly this year.

Craig said he has not discussed the situation with federal officials. But he hoped the federal government would be able to pick up the tab for some of the deficits.

He said that presently only Medicaid payments are threatened, but he feared that if local departments transfer funds into the Medicaid budget, they may elect to cut welfare checks.

Welfare checks were cut at the first of the year because of the increase in the number of cases of aid to families with dependent children. The cuts were restored after vociferous protests from the recipients. At that time, counties were asked to come up with extra funds to restore the cuts.

Girls Need Equal Rights

MANCHESTER, England (WNS) — Kenneth Marks, a member of parliament, has called upon working-class parents here to give their daughters equal rights with their sons. According to Marks, such parents sacrifice much in order to educate their boys but "waste the abilities of their daughters" by letting them drop out of school in their early teens. "The percentage of women working in unskilled jobs is going up, not down," he said. "We must correct the traditional idea that advanced education is not really worthwhile for a girl."

Helen Rose, designer of clothes worn by movie stars, says "nude" fashions are "perpetrated by designers who do not give top priority to women's best interests." She maintains the see-through shirts and pants and such essentially are anti-feminine, anti-fashion. "Good fashions enhance — not destroy — a woman's mystique," she said.

Well-Meaning Friend Made Mistake

By Abigail Van Buren

(© 1970 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd., Inc.)
DEAR ABBY: Recently a friend of mine had an operation, and shortly before she was taken to the operating room I called her on the telephone and read a little prayer to her. She thanked me for calling and hung up.
 The next thing I knew, I got a call from her husband, telling me in no uncertain terms that I shouldn't have done that as I had upset his wife, but plenty.
 Abby, I had an operation a few years ago myself, and before my surgery, my doctor came in and asked me to say a little prayer with him, and it made me feel better.
 Please tell me if I made a mistake. MEANT WELL

DEAR MEANT: Even though you "meant well," if it upset your friend, you made a mistake. (P. S. I believe in prayer, but if my surgeon came in and asked me to "pray" with him, I don't know whether I'd pray doubly hard or find another surgeon.)

DEAR ABBY: You told LONG BEACH WIFE to quit nagging her husband about not wearing his wedding band, and my husband pointed out your answer victoriously. However, our problem is slightly different.

My husband wears his wedding band only when it suits him. For instance, he takes it off and leaves it home when he has class (he's still in college), or if he's going to have a "night out" with the boys.

I'm not saying he is up to anything, but it sure looks suspicious. I would rather he didn't wear his ring at all than to have him pick it up and put it down like a yo yo.

To me, a wedding band is not just a piece of jewelry, it's a symbol of a commitment. This part-time wedding band business is driving us apart. How do you feel about it?
FULL-TIME WIFE

DEAR FULL: Either your husband is intentionally trying to make you jealous, or he needs to take a course in elementary psychology.

DEAR ABBY: My son will be married soon and he and his bride-to-be have decided that an evening sit-down dinner reception for 200 guests should not include small children.

I want very much to have my three grandchildren present at the wedding and reception. They are 6, 4, and 3 years old. I am sure it would be a wonderful memory for them.

Doesn't a parent of the bride or groom have a say in this matter? Who is the final authority? GRANDFATHER

DEAR GRANDFATHER: The final "authority" is the bridal couple. Don't press it. To attempt to make "exceptions" of your grandchildren would be unfair. And unwise.

DEAR ABBY: My husband wears a hearing aid, and when we're at a cocktail party he turns off his hearing aid and goes to sit in a corner. Many people think he's anti-social or snobbish, but it's not true. He says that when some folks (especially women) get a few drinks in them, they tend to laugh and shriek extra loud, and the sound, when amplified thru his hearing aid, feels like a "knife" in his ear.

 Abby, you would be doing people who wear hearing aids a big favor if you asked your readers to be a little more considerate.

Of Concern To Man In Street

The huge losses now being shown on Wall Street should be of concern to the average man who owns little or no shares of stock; however it is not necessarily true that the bear market means economic collapse is on the way.

We say this because those who buy and sell stocks had bid prices of so many issues far above what should have been their fair market value as a property. Some stocks, before the fall, were selling at 50 or 60 times their annual earnings. This value was far too high, but the stock traders justified it because they projected the earnings growth several years in the future. The future has now arrived and many of these overvalued stocks have seen their earnings down — or perhaps earnings have leveled

Education Has Scarred Image

By BRYAN HAINSLIP
RALEIGH, N. C. — The top priority in North Carolina public education today is education itself.

It's a far cry from the days when goals could be set simply on the basis of quantity — teachers, equipment, buildings — with the easy assumption that methods and programs were fine and all that was needed was more of the same.

The wrench and pull of social change, the demands of advancing technology, have raised insistent questions about what takes place in the classroom. Are the schools really in touch with the world outside? Does education prepare young people for a creative and productive place in life, or only leave them restless in frustration?

Dr. A. Craig Phillips, State Superintendent of Public Instruction hears the questions. His effort and energy is directed to finding the answers.

"Most of the public we serve is pretty shaken up by the unrest and social change our society is going through. We overwork the word, but the 'image' of education is scarred. There is a deep and serious feeling that we are not really getting at the demands of students," he said.

Our number one need in public education today is to improve dramatically what's happening in the classrooms of our schools."

Dr. Phillips and his staff are now engaged in making up budget requests to place before the Advisory Budget Commission and the 1971 General Assembly. The decisions made, choosing between the challenge of what is needed and the reality of what can be attained, will give North Carolinians an opportunity to say how far and how fast they want to go in bringing about improvement in the classroom.

Dr. Phillips raised a hand in caution. "As we talk about needs, I hope we don't become over-critical of what we are doing," he said. "There is a heck of a lot of good, exciting educational effort going on in North Carolina today."

Early childhood education is getting close and careful scrutiny with new programs being developed to give the young child a sound start in learning experiences. Pilot public kindergartens are launched. Kindergarten is regarded, not as an island, but a unit in a block of time through the third grade. Ungraded classes and team teaching are among other aspects of innovation at this level.

off — but they were still far from the earnings on which their prices had been projected.

When this happens the prices tumble as institutions and individuals seek to unload overvalued shares before the avalanche of falling prices overtake them.

Given the psychological aspects of stock trading it is likely that stocks will be undervalued before the bear market ends.

There are no particular villains in the market's downfall. It is simply that those who buy stocks, individuals and institutions, overvalued too many issues. So when corporate profits failed to live up to expectations a correction — probably over-correction — took place.

We wouldn't recommend to anyone that they buy stocks now on the strength of this. There may be more losses ahead. However, we don't feel that a Great Depression is bound to follow the present stock market slide. Eventually investors will realize this and the slide will be halted.

Need Everyone's Help In Air Service Drive

Businesses and individuals should cooperate with the Chamber of Commerce - Merchants Association in filling out survey forms in an effort to obtain air service for the Greenville area.

A survey is being conducted to determine the present passenger and freight use of commercial air service by businesses and individuals in Beaufort, Martin and Pitt Counties.

"It will not be easy to obtain this service, and we need all the help we can get in this effort," Manager Harold Creech said.

This survey could be vital to obtain air service for the three county area. It is important that everyone participate in it.

Agnew Wasn't Put On Leash

By ROWLANDE EVANS and ROBERT NOVAK
WASHINGTON — Although the White House has been paying close attention to Vice President Agnew's speeches since the killing of four Kent State students, President Nixon sent Agnew a private message that he could say whatever he wanted in his political speeches.

That word went to the Vice President on May 8. When Mr. Nixon read in the newspapers that morning that he had ordered Agnew to stop "hostile comments about students," he instructed his top White House aide, H.R. (Bob) Haldeman, to track down Agnew by telephone and tell him the stories were incorrect and that Agnew should "use his own judgment" on what to say.

The reports that Mr. Nixon had muzzled his Vice President came from his May 7 meeting with university presidents, who said after their 80-minute Oval Office chat that that's what the President had told them. The facts were different. The college presidents raised the question of Agnew's speeches and warned Mr. Nixon that Agnew's rhetoric was dangerously widening the gap between the anti-war students and the Administration. Mr. Nixon then promised the presidents that they would find nothing to complain of in an Agnew speech to be made two days later at Stone Mountain, Ga.

The college presidents read into that carefully limited promise the much broader interpretation that Mr. Nixon had indeed put a muzzle on his Vice President. A footnote: Despite the fact that the college presidents specifically singled out Agnew for censure, Chancellor Alexander Heard of Vanderbilt, Mr. Nixon's new special adviser on campus problems, has yet to see the Vice President.

Cramer vs. Carswell
Despite squeals of pleasure by the Republican high command when G. Harold Carswell announced for the Senate, Carswell is having serious trouble getting his Florida campaign off the ground.

A statewide poll financed by the Florida Democratic party, which threw in a question on Carswell and his Republican Senatorial primary opponent, Rep. William Cramer, shows Cramer with close to a two-to-one edge over the former U.S. Circuit Court judge, with the undecided vote topping 30 percent.

Worse yet for "strict constructionist" ex-Judge Carswell, whose Supreme Court nomination was defeated in the Senate, Cramer runs far ahead in Pinellas County (St. Petersburg), where 25 percent of Florida's registered Republican voters live. St. Petersburg is Cramer's home county.

Moreover, in a closely fought battle for chairmanship of the activist Young Republicans of Florida, Dennis O'Grady beat back an effort by Gov. Claude Kirk to oust him as chairman. It was Kirk who wrote the original Carswell-for-Senate script, after getting top-level approval from both the Republican National Committee and White House political aide Harry Dent.

Kirk's effort to oust O'Grady, who was backed by Cramer, was one more indication that the party's regular organization is something less than ecstatic over candidate Carswell.

"Of Course It Would Become Him! And Why Shouldn't It?"

By ART BUCHWALD If God Had Intended—

WASHINGTON — There are several groups lobbying against the building of the SST, otherwise known as the supersonic transport airplane. One of the most active groups is known as PSST! which stands for "please stop sonic booms."

I pointed out to Hadley V. Baxendale, the president of the organization, that the first letters of "please stop sonic booms" did not spell PSST!

He wrote it out on a slip of paper and then said, "By George, you're right."

"Will you change the name of the organization?" I asked. "It's too late; we have all our bumper stickers printed."

"What do they say?" He showed me one, "Speed Kills."

"In campaign will be based on the fact that the SST is really a Communist plot."

"How's that?" I asked. "We have data, confirmed from CIA sources, that sonic booms from test flights of Russia's SST have caused total deafness in 70 percent of all listeners of Radio Free Europe and The Voice of America. Of course the American SST sonic boom would be much greater than the Russian one, and we could have a nation of deaf people one year after our first plane was built."

"That would be terrible," I said. "We wouldn't be able to hear our leaders."

"One of the reasons Stocks on the Paris Bourse fell over a wide range, and continued to do so despite a statement of confidence by the French finance minister."

"Wall Street is in full disarray," said the evening paper Paris Presse. It added that a mere stock exchange crisis had developed into a crisis of confidence in the Nixon administration.

In Switzerland, the Zurich market closed sharply down with losses in all sectors. Financial writers there also said that Wall Street's plunge, which triggered the European declines, were caused by a loss of faith in the administration.

Prices on the Frankfurt exchange declined across the board in heavy selling. Brokers reported an increasing number of foreign sell orders. And in Amsterdam, all foreign stocks closed lower.

The only major stock markets to withstand the downward pressure emanating from Wall Street were Tokyo and Milan. Both exchanges enjoyed late rallies.

The Tokyo exchange's index rose 0.75 to 149.60. Milan's stock market closed mixed.

Bradbury K. Thurlow, analyst for Hoppin Bros., a New York brokerage firm, said the drop in foreign stock prices was due to "Europeans who are saying, 'We're got a lifetime opportunity to buy U.S. stocks at bargain levels.' So they're dumping their own stocks, causing prices to fall," he said.

universal health insurance can solve the problem of rising expenditures in any rational way is political mischief.

"I do not see universal and compulsory health insurance, in itself, necessarily equalizing access if all it does is help people pay for services when the supply is not assured."

"Universal and compulsory health insurance not only over-promises what it can deliver but it is also the wrong way to set priorities."

A healthy sign of growing skepticism of political plans for a government-sponsored health care Utopia is implicit in the comment of the president of the American Medical Association, Dr. Gerald D. Dorman, who observed that "the counsel of medicine is being sought by the government to an increasing extent."

Since it is the physicians to whom we turn in medical emergencies, what is more logical than that we should turn to them for expert help in improving the health care system?

Other Editors Say 'Political Mischief'

(Rocky Mount Telegram)

A few years ago, when a politician advocated compulsory government health insurance and "free" medical care, he could do so with a reasonable certainty of putting himself on the side of God and Motherhood in the minds of a lot of voters.

In the United States, government-managed medical care had never been tried, so there was no precedent on which to judge performance. Now, the situation is different. We have Medicare and Medicaid and a growing crisis in health care.

People are beginning to ask questions about the efficacy of all-out government with new respect, the broad-ranging programs of the medical profession to expand the ranks of physicians and greatly extend system of tax credits.

On the subject of government medicine, one eminent authority, Odin W. Anderson, Ph. D., of the University of Chicago Center for Health Administration Studies, declared that "To imply that Baxendale continued: "The entire SST program smacks of pinko socialism. According to the latest reports, nine-tenths of the cost of building the first SST will be borne by the government. This threatened takeover of the private SST program would destroy the initiative of General Electric and Boeing Aircraft directors. If the handout is granted, these men will be groveling for more financial support each year, just like so many of our shiftless welfare recipients."

Baxendale said that PSST! had a computer working on the economics of the plane. "Before one rivet has been (Continued on page 6)

Strength For Today

TWO GREAT MEN
Almost sixty years ago a Princeton University student stood on the curb of Nassau Street and looked up to a balcony on which a man with a large mouth, huge teeth and thick eyeglasses was walking back and forth on the balcony denouncing somebody or something. Suddenly the student noticed that someone was standing beside him. The person standing beside the student was Woodrow Wilson, candidate for President on the Democratic ticket, and the man on the balcony was his opponent, Theodore Roosevelt, who had started what he called the Bull Moose Party, intent on defeating President Taft for reelection.

Here were two great men — truly great, yet they had no use whatsoever for each other. Wilson regarded Theodore Roosevelt as a ruffian. Roosevelt despised Wilson as a cloistered scholar able to do nothing but write books and give pretty lectures.

Both these men were great — but in different ways. They made plenty of mistakes during their careers for they were only human beings. They would have scorned the idea of sitting down together and talking things over.

About a hundred and thirty years before the Wilson-Roosevelt episode Washington defeated Lord Cornwallis at Yorktown. But Washington and Cornwallis had a real liking for each other, and after the surrender at Yorktown Washington gave a great banquet for his defeated opponent.

How can we account for these historical inconsistencies? We can't. We have to take history as it comes to us and make the best of it. A.D. 2000 (if we live that long) may correct many of our misconceptions.

By ELMER ROESSNER
The price of Excabur autos has just gone up. The price of the economy model has been raised from $11,000 to $12,000, and the luxury model from $12,000 to $12,900.

The Excabur? Everybody knows the names of the four largest auto manufacturers in the United States, General Motors, Ford, Chrysler and American Motors, and quite a few know that Checker makes about a thousand passenger cars a year in addition to taxis.

And the Excabur is number six, produced by SS Automobiles of Milwaukee.

chassis and the fiberglass body; the motor and rear-end assembly is purchased from Chevrolet, and the leather-upholstered seats are imported from England. Repairs and service are available at Chevrolet agencies.

SS is unusual in other ways. It has no agency or franchised dealers. It does no selling; buyers must come to the Stevens.

And while a few individuals have purchased Excaburs to impress other members of the country club set, most sales are made to corporations, and these sales create the Excabur advertising. Currently, Turtle Wax — a $5-a-can product — is running a contest and advertisements include pictures and puffis for the Excaburs. Banks have been persuaded to use pictures of the Excabur in ads in the Wall Street Journal. Gillette will feature the auto in its world series promotions this year.

Duke Power Co. Is Allowed Rate Boost

RALEIGH (AP) — The average North Carolina household served by Duke Power Co. will find its monthly electric bill up about 38 cents after June 1, and perhaps more later.

The Utilities Commission announced Tuesday that it had approved Duke Power's unusual request for a 4.2 per cent emergency increase.

The emergency increase will be effective until the commission can consider the power company's request for an 18 per cent overall increase later this year. A hearing on that request is scheduled for Aug. 25.

Earlier this year the commission denied a Duke Power request for a fuel adjustment clause that would have allowed the firm to hike its rates as the cost of fuel rose.

At a hearing last week on the emergency rate hike request, a company spokesman said the firm would face "grave difficulties" marketing securities if the increase were not approved.

The company expects the 4.2 per cent hike to net some $8.9 million in additional revenue to enhance the firm's financial position as it seeks to market bonds or common stock.

In granting the hike, the commission noted that the firm's credit rating had dropped from AAA to AA with two leading credit organizations.

It also noted the increasing costs of fuel and said that the power company is "now engaged in the largest expansion program in its history." It said the company expects to double its assets within the next seven years.

Duke has not had a rate increase since 1966, the order pointed out, and between 1960 and 1966 the firm's rate had been reduced six times.

The order required Duke Power to make adjustments with its customers when the determination is made later this year on the request for the overall rate increase.

Hayes Had Dry White House

(Continued from page 4) welded, the program has been announced as costing $3 billion more than anticipated. We believe that President Nixon could make hay with these figures. He could say that if he canceled the SST program last year he would have saved the country only $1 billion. But by waiting $5 months he can now save us $4 billion.

"But", I protested, "despite the costs, the United States needs the SST for prestige reasons."

"We're aware of this and we're not hardheaded about it. If we have to have a supersonic plane for prestige reasons, then we suggest it be built by the same company that built the TFX. In that way, we'd have a very good chance that the SST would never fly."

"You're pretty persuasive in your arguments," I admitted. "Do you have any other thoughts on the subject?"

Baxendale said, "If God had intended us to fly faster than sound, he would have given each of us 67,000 pounds of thrust."

a hospital for a minor operation but does not plan to resume the campaign trail for nearly a month. The smart political money is now betting on Cramer's quinning the September primary.

A footnote: National party leaders, who privately predicted that Carswell's entry into the race would scare Cramer out, now say that, win or lose, getting Carswell to run was a political coup. If Cramer wins, they claim, he will go into the November campaign with the reputation of a giant-killer, hence a better chance to win in November.

The failure of Sen. Birch Bayh of Indiana to topple Gordon St. Angelo as Democratic state chairman in a vicious battle last week is the first serious setback in his unannounced campaign for the Democratic Presidential nomination.

Bayh made no secret in his personal, all-out fight against St. Angelo that he thought his Presidential chances would be helped by the election of 26-year-old Kenneth Cragen, Morgan County chairman. He specifically recalled how John F. Kennedy had taken over the Massachusetts party organization in a bitter fight in 1956, an important stepping-stone to his 1960 Presidential nomination.

But despite deploying some 16 members of his staff at strategic county and district conventions leading up to last weekend's state convention, Bayh couldn't make it. He even lost his home district to forces backing St. Angelo, and ended up with control of only four of Indiana's eleven districts. St. Angelo was reelected unanimously.

'Sick' Yearbook Right Defended

DURHAM (AP) — The chancellor of Duke University says students should be able to edit their own yearbook without interference from the university administration or trustees.

"The students who work on the book are not responsible to the president — not in a country of free speech," Dr. Barnes Woodhall said Tuesday.

Woodhall, who headed the university while the search for a new president was on earlier this year, came under criticism Monday from P. Huber Hanes Jr. of Winston-Salem. Hanes, a third-generation trustee, resigned because he found the yearbook "pornographic." It contains a photograph of a nude and four-letter words.

Woodhall said he didn't think much of the publication either. "It's not satisfactory in my opinion," he said. "It's sick."

But he defended the students' right to put out the yearbook they choose without censorship by the trustees or university president Hanes had suggested the trustees should have some power of review over student publications.

The chairman of the Duke board of trustees, Charles B. Wade, said, "I understand it is a very bad book."

The first part of the yearbook is called "nostalgia Dump" and has the usual pictures of school activity. It's the second part, called "faces," an avant garde arrangement of photographs, writing and art work which has drawn the criticism.

Arthur McTigh, student photographer and copy editor of the yearbook, responded to the criticism by calling the publication "the one real picture of the university." "We wanted to show how people think and feel and most important, how they relate to each other," he said. "It's the biggest problem of Duke." He added that the yearbook is to endorse Duke's "unconquered" but to be a part of the "unconquered."

McTigh said he would rather see the yearbook go to the trash can than have it censored by the trustees.

Children Rescued From Runaway Car

WAYNESVILLE, N. C. (AP) — A runaway auto with no driver traveled in reverse at an estimated 30 miles an hour on a school parking lot with five frightened children in the back seat Tuesday. It circled for about 15 minutes before a wrecker truck was backed into its path and the children, aged 4 to 6, got out unharmed.

Mrs. Floyd Comer had picked up the children to take them on a field trip as part of their Head Start preschool training program. She told authorities the accelerator stuck as she started to drive off. She put the car in "park" and started to look under the hood to find the trouble.

For some unexplained reason the car lurched away in reverse.

Police Chief A. P. Evans, who estimated the car was traveling 30 miles an hour, said a tragedy was averted because the wheels were locked in a way that made the car spin.

Mrs. Comer said she tried to stop the car, but she missed, was knocked down and suffered a bruise on her leg.

Teachers at the Central Elementary School said what was happening and summoned help.

A fireman said he called the Fire Department, the Rescue Squad and a nearby fire station.

During the rescue the car moved about 100 feet.

The children were described as "frightened to death" after their ordeal.

Today In Washington

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon received a construction worker's hard hat inscribed "Commander in Chief" and was told by the gift givers there will continue to be demonstrations in support of Nixon's Southeast Asian policies.

The hat was the offering of 23 construction union leaders who met with Nixon at the White House Tuesday. Peter J. Brennan, president of the New York Building and Construction Trades Council, handed the hat to the President and pinned a small metal U.S. flag to Nixon's lapel.

The leaders had asked to meet with Nixon after their massive demonstrations staged in support of the administration.

WASHINGTON (AP) — If the Soviet government gave its Ambassador to the United States any new instructions on Middle East policy, he is keeping quiet about them.

Ambassador Anatoly F. Dobrynin arrived back in the U.S. from a five week visit in Russia May 21, but officials say he hasn't contacted his American counterpart, Asst. Secretary of State Joseph J. Sisco, on the Mideast.

The Nixon administration is looking for Soviet response to urgings that Russia agree on an arms ceiling for shipments to the Middle East, that a flexible line be adopted on a pair of American peace proposals and that Russia cooperate in efforts to restore a ceasefire.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's visit to the White House on Tuesday was a Thursday to mark the Memorial Day holiday.

President Nixon's family will probably move back to the capital Monday.

Zogler left open the possibility of a stop-off for a special trip to the coast, but said there were no plans for an overnight stop.

Urgent Efforts To Put Some Curb On Cost Of Medicare, Medicaid

By JOE HALL
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — A prediction that hospital costs will reach $1,000 per day in the nation's major cities in 10 years has spurred new efforts in the Senate Finance Committee to put restraints on medicare and medicaid outlays.

Sen. Abraham Ribicoff, D-Conn., told a reporter as committee hearings resumed Tuesday, "We simply must find some effective way to control these costs."

"They affect all segments of the health industry—physicians, hospitals, nursing homes, and other providers of services."

Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., senior Republican on the panel, said he feared the spiraling costs of the two big health programs could affect the solvency of the federal government.

Ribicoff said the prediction about 1980 costs were made by highly competent sources—Mark Berke of San Francisco, former president of the American Hospital Association, and Dr. Philip Lee, former assistant secretary for health and scientific affairs in the Health, Education and Welfare Department.

He said they forecast daily costs of $400 in rural areas, $600 in medium-size cities, and $1,000 in major urban centers.

The $1,000 figure would be almost 10 times the highest rate now, even in New York City.

Jack A. L. Hahn of Indianapolis, AHA president-elect, disagreed that hospital costs would reach such heights in the next decade except in very special situations.

However, Hahn conceded costs were going to continue to increase sharply. AHA studies show that the average cost will likely reach $119.50 in 1973 compared with $31.66 per inpatient day this year, he told the panel.

When asked if the average person would pay such fees, Hahn said he did not believe the individual could do so.

"He is going to have to spread the costs over his entire lifetime through some form of insurance and they are going to have to be spread over all of society," he said.

Hahn said hospitals are particularly vulnerable to cost hikes because of their intensive use of labor and the need to purchase advanced and extremely expensive equipment.

One way to help old people, the AHA spokesman said, would be to combine the hospitalization and doctors' services of medicare and eliminate the monthly fee charge for the latter. This fee, now $4, goes up to $5.30 July 1.

If this were done, however, the payroll tax which now finances only hospitalization services would have to be raised.

Seed Of Future Already Planted

By JOSEPH L. MYLER
UPI Senior Editor
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Man can have "a shining, hopeful future."

On the other hand, he may be doomed—by himself.

Whatever the future's fruit, its seeds have long since been planted deep in man's body and mind. By careful selection and cultivation he can determine what the crop will be.

It is up to him. And "the time of decision is at hand."

This is the message—the promise and the warning—of biology and the future of man, just published by Oxford University Press.

The book, 936 pages long, was put together by 21 panels of life scientists recruited by the committee of science and public policy of the National Academy of Sciences. It was edited by Philip Handler, president of the academy. No other book quite like it has ever been published before.

ders these dangers—nuclear war, uncontrolled population growth, a poisoned environment, worldwide famine—and as unblinkingly examines the toil and cost of preventing them. It also looks, though dubiously, at the possibility that man may turn themselves into supermen through manipulation of their genetic heritage.

"A future for man can be assured only when the ultimate danger of modern war is fully recognized and mankind abandons warfare."

From this premise, the authors go on to the next greatest danger.

"The upsurge in the growth of human populations constitutes the major problem for the immediate future of man."

Food production cannot keep pace with population at present growth rates. Worldwide famines and further decay of the environment are bound to result from failure to cut down on births.

restraint; he is threatening the whole life-supporting basis of his planet by polluting its air and waters.

Deterioration All Around
There are many things we think we could not live without today—soap, detergents, oil, autos, highways, various chemicals, paper, paper board, plastics.

There also are such things as rising noise levels, thermal pollution, the increasing replacement of green countryside by towns and airports and highways, soil erosion, the over fertilization of waters with the very chemicals that have increased our food production.

If all these are expanded—as growth charts indicate they will be—without consideration of their environmental effect, "the totality could constitute the saddest, most brutal, and most disastrous act of vandalism in history."

human brain. The book is both candid and grim on this score.

"Biology, the science of life, has to be complemented by new insights into the biology of death," it says. "The application of such insights will intensify concern with questions which already demand answers."

"Is society justified in keeping the aged alive when those mental functions which distinguish human beings from vegetating bodies have ceased?"

"Shining Future"

"Where is the limit of anguish and material burden which the relatives of such aged persons and society at large can bear, a problem which is increasing in frequency and severity?"

Although biology has come a long way toward solving some of the great mysteries of life and death, there remain "major challenges for today and tomorrow."

16 Tobacco Markets To Hold Meet

WILSON, N. C. (AP) — A meeting has been called Monday in Wilson for representatives of all 16 tobacco markets from which Imperial Tobacco Co. plans to withhold buyers this season.

R. Frank Everett of Robertsonville, N.C., a tobacco grower, warehouseman and equipment dealer, announced the meeting Tuesday. He said Under secretary of Agriculture J. Phil Campbell is expected to attend.

North Carolina's Gov. Bob Scott and Agriculture Commissioner Jim Graham have been invited.

Imperial, a British firm, one of the larger buyers, plans to withhold buyers from eight North Carolina markets: Clinton, Robertsonville, Greensboro, Mebane, Aberdeen, Carthage, Clarkton and Fayetteville.

Also affected are Chase City, Va.; Dillon, S.C.; and six Georgia markets: Fitzgerald, Hahira, Pelham, Quitman, Sylvester, and Thomasville.

All 16 are small markets with one set of buyers. Imperial cited business reasons.

Everett spent last week in England and conferred with officials of Imperial's home office there. He said he couldn't say how successful he had been.

"It's my personal opinion, however, that we will have Imperial Tobacco buyers on all our warehouse floors this year," he said.

Church Note-Burning Is Well Ahead Of Schedule

NOTE BURNING . . . at First Pentecostal Holiness Church. Left to right are, J. Melvin Moore, H. L. Austin, H. Marvin Gardner, the Rev. W. Harvey Morris, Daniel LeRoux and K. O. Radford, all trustees of the church. Gene Adams, a trustee, was not present when photo was made.

Burning of a $23,000 note on an indebtedness assumed by the First Pentecostal Holiness Church of Greenville when it began an expansion program less than four years ago, in 1967, represents an accomplishment years ahead of schedule.

On February 6, 1967, the congregation of the First Church acquired a site of 4.2 acres of Brinley Road and Plaza Drive on which to build a sanctuary, an education building, and a parsonage.

Two notes of $23,000 each were signed to obtain funds to pay for the site and to build a parsonage. Terms of the notes varied, but both notes totalling $46,000 plus interest, were paid off in three years and three months, the latter note being paid six years and nine months before maturity date.

The parsonage, occupied by the pastor and his wife, the Rev. and Mrs. W. Harvey Morris, is valued at $36,500.

Estimated value of the entire property today is $85,000.

Pastor Morris said the trustees (and official board) of the church are now studying plans for an education building to contain 20 classrooms, offices for the pastor and Sunday school officials, and a sanctuary (40 feet by 70 feet) with seating capacity of 350 persons. The education building will also include an assembly hall and kitchen facilities.

Members of the official board: The Rev. W. Harvey Morris, chairman, J. Melvin Moore, Daneel LeRoux, K. O. Radford, Gene Adams, H. Marvin Gardner, and H. L. Austin.

Free Dentures If An Emergency

TORONTO (UPI) — Welfare recipients in Toronto will be able to obtain dentures free only in emergency situations this year.

The Metropolitan Toronto Welfare Committee made the decision after learning that $42,000 already had been spent on free dentures and this represented a "drastic increase" over last year's expenditure.

New Cornea . . .

p.m. and was told that the operation would be performed at 7:30 p.m. This was the call she had been hoping for for weeks because her left eye was in the critical stage of keratoconus, a rare pathological condition.

"The cause of keratoconus is not known, but it always affects both eyes though not to the same degree simultaneously," Mrs. Martin said. "It causes a gradual coning of the cornea. Dr. White has compared it to the wearing thin and blowing out of a tire tube, because it is part of the covering of the eyeball and like a tire tube, one spot was wearing thin so there was danger of a rupture that would have blinded me and caused extreme pain also."

"I learned I had the disease seven years ago. Although I had never worn glasses, when I went to take my North Carolina driver's test, I failed the vision examination because of near-sightedness. Dr. Kenneth Quiggins, a local optometrist, recognized I had a pathological condition and referred me to an ophthalmologist. I was prescribed contact lenses, which sometimes arrest the condition. However, my left eye continued to worsen and I had to have new contacts blown numerous times."

"Dr. White had my name put at the top of the list of potential North Carolina Eye Bank recipients more than three months ago. He told me he wanted to use the eye of a young person, preferably one under 25 years of age, since I am relatively young. The eye tissue ages just like any other, so, had I been given the cornea of an elderly person, it could deteriorate because of age as I grow older. None had been forthcoming however, and he had also alerted other doctors at Pitt Memorial of my need for a young, healthy cornea."

Other Used In Asheville
Nabors' other cornea was also put to use. Dr. White called the Eye Bank in Winston Salem and learned that there was an emergency case in Asheville. He sealed the eye in a prescribed container and with the help of the Pitt County Sheriff Department and the North Carolina Highway Patrol, it was rushed to New Bern and flown to the waiting surgeon and patient at the other end of the state.

"I shall always be grateful to Mr. and Mrs. Nabors," Mrs. Martin said. "I feel new responsibility now, that I must be deserving of this wonderful gift. I saw through this boy's cornea the second postoperative day and today (the fifth postoperative day) Dr. White said I can begin reading with my right eye."

The left is still covered with a patch, but Dr. White examines the eye daily and each time she is reassured she can see. Of course, there is some chance of rejection, but she said there is less chance with a skillfully done corneal transplant than with any other kind of transplant now being done.

Mrs. Martin teaches ECU senior nursing students their final course at the hospital, which is comparable to practice teaching in the classroom. She is looking forward this summer to conducting a workshop here for professional nurses from throughout the state and to helping her husband, Dr. Bill Martin of the ECU School of Education, with a summer camp for retarded children he conducts annually.

City's Summer School Program Begin June 15

The Greenville City Schools will conduct a summer school program for grades seven through twelve at J.H. Rose High School. It will begin on June 15, 1970 and end on July 24, 1970. Hours of operation will be 8:00-10:30 a.m. and 11:00 a.m.-1:30 p.m. each day.

A brief assembly will be held in the cafeteria of Rose High School at 8:00 a.m., June 15, 1970. Students planning to attend the summer program are required to attend this assembly, which will cover operating procedures, attendance requirements, assignment to classes, etc.

Any course available during the normal school year may be offered in the summer program if there is sufficient numbers of interested students and a qualified teacher available.

Each course offered will follow the scope and sequence used for the regular school year. However, material covered will be compressed into six weeks of classroom work.

A tuition fee of $40.00 will cover the cost of the full six week program. A tuition fee of $25.00 will cover the cost of three week instruction or one-half credit.

Registration for the summer school program may be made at C.M. Eppes School and E.B. Aycock School for grades seven, eight, and nine. Grades ten, eleven, and twelve may register at Rose High School. Registration should be accomplished on or before June 12, 1970.

Students desiring driver's education and summer band programs will be taking these in the afternoons.

The tentative transportation schedule in effect for the six week summer session, for grades 7-12 is as follows: (Times and pick up points are listed)—7:15 a.m. corner Greenfield Blvd. and Woodside Road; 7:25 a.m. Meadowbrook Day Care Center; 7:30 a.m., Meadowbrook Park Recreation Center; 7:40 a.m. Third Street School. A second route begins at 7:20 a.m. at C.M. Eppes School; 7:30 a.m. Sauter Elementary School; 7:40 a.m. Agnes Fullilove School; and 7:50 a.m. South Greenville School. Since the time table noted above is fairly rigid, punctuality will be strongly emphasized.

Emphasis will be placed upon attendance and promptness. The summer school program is designed so that each student will receive 150 hours of classroom work. During the regular school year, the student receives 180 hours of classroom time. Students must attend every day and be prompt every day. In an effort to control the absentee situation, the administration will permit an excused absence only upon the written advise of a doctor. Students will be afforded the opportunity to make up work that is missed when an absence is excused.

Scott Expects Democrat Gain

RALEIGH (AP) — Gov. Bob Scott is predicting Democratic party gains in North Carolina next November. And he doesn't think many Republicans are going to try "riding on Nixon's coattails" this time, as they did two years ago when the Republicans made gains in the state.

Scott told a news conference Tuesday that President Nixon has caused "factors on the national scene" which will result in Democratic victories.

He said the Nixon administration "has been ineffective in dealing with many problems."

He listed a worsening economic picture, the "failure of the national administration to cope with inflation," the administration's "failure to cope with the textile import problem which has shortened the work-week in the textile industry," and the administration's move to close a Marine aviation repair center at Cherry Point, which was modified.

Also at the news conference, the state Democratic chairman, Gene Simmons, announced the appointment of former State Sen. John Boger Jr. of Concord as his assistant.

Boger, a 41-year-old attorney, will replace James B. Hunt Jr. of Wilson, who resigned.

Simmons also announced the appointment of nine members of the Platform and Resolutions Committee for the Democratic convention.

In answer to questions, Simmons said he had met with black leaders at Southport recently and asked them to submit to him the names of three persons for the new post of state vice chairman for minority groups. He said he expects to get the recommendations and make the appointment soon.

Those named to the Platform and Resolutions Committee were:

Robert Spivey of Windsor, William W. Aycock Jr. of Tarboro, C. Louis Shields of Jacksonville, Mrs. Jo Ann Smith of Raleigh, Robert Bingham of Boone, Jim Fain of Asheville, James B. Hunt Jr. of Wilson.

Fired Official Is Lindsay Aide

NEW YORK (AP) — Leon E. Panetta, who left a federal civil rights post claiming President Nixon fired him for pushing school desegregation, has been named an aide to Mayor John V. Lindsay.

Announcing the appointment Tuesday, Lindsay said Panetta would coordinate the work of the city's offices in Albany, the state capital, and Washington. His salary has not been fixed.

Panetta, 31, left the post of head of the Civil Rights Division of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare in February.

Robert H. Finch, secretary of the department, said Panetta "could have stayed on" if he had so desired.

Denies Onassis Marital Rift

ATHENS, Greece (AP) — A spokesman for Aristotle Onassis, husband of the former Jacqueline Kennedy, denies they have had a spat involving opera singer Maria Callas, an old time companion of the shipping magnate.

Onassis and Miss Callas dined together in Paris last week while Mrs. Onassis was in the United States, but the spokesman said Tuesday published reports that this had led to a marital tiff were "silly with no basis."

Mr. and Mrs. Onassis flew into Athens together Sunday.

N.C. To Get $9 Million

CHAPEL HILL (AP) — Irvin Aldridge, director of the Department of Local Affairs, says North Carolina will receive about $9 million under the Federal Omnibus Crime Control and Safe Streets Act during the next year.

"We cannot afford to use this money to perpetuate a criminal justice system which, though effective in some areas, has been unable to control and solve the numerous crime problems facing North Carolina," he said.

Aldridge spoke Tuesday during the opening of a three-day workshop on "Criminal Justice Planning" at the Institute of Government.

Attending are members of the Governor's Committee on Law and Order, members of all task forces appointed by that committee, district project directors, judges, solicitors and state government representatives.

"We are going to need to set new goals and establish new programs which get at root causes of criminality," Aldridge said.

Pirates Face Florida State In NCAA

Woody's Ramblin's

By WOODY PEELE

Chips and putts from area golf courses:
Greenville

The Greenville Golf and Country Club's championship tournament play draws to a close this weekend. Final matches are slated in the men's and junior's fields, while the women's has been completed.

In the men's division, Reynolds May meets Jim Ward in the championship flight. First flight finalists are Ed Harris and Joe Murad; second flight, Dan Wooten and Don Patrick; third flight, Joe Honeycutt and Jerry Southerland; fourth flight, Walter Williams and Roger Mann.

Junior tournament finalists are Trent Hill and Dean Wilkerson in the championship flight, and Cam Dudley and Dorsett Ward in the first flight.

Women's results were: champion flight, Bernie Rawl defeating Mavis Lupton; first flight, Irene Birchler over Mildred Evans; second flight; Dardie Longino over Peg Haigwood; third flight, Clare Shackell over Margaret Sutton, and fourth flight, Joan Hooper over Mary Dale White.

Ray Maston holed out a 160-yard shot for an eagle of the 18th hole at the club.

Farmville

Jimmy Hillard, who won the Farmville Golf and Country Club's championship tournament last week, also fired a course record tying 63 during the past week. He picked up seven birdies in the round, and was par for the remaining 11 holes. He downed his father to win the club title.

Other winners in the tournament include Jack Connell, second flight; John Barefoot, third flight; Gene Eason, fourth flight; Lloyd Engelhart, fifth flight; and Dawson Jefferson, sixth flight. The first flight has not been completed.

A Memorial Day Tournament will be held at the club Saturday. It will be a four-ball tournament, with the best ball of the foursome winning the hole. Interested members should contact the pro shop for further details.

Plans are also underway for the annual Pitt County Invitational, held each year at Farmville. Pro Ed Smoot is hoping to make this year's tournament the best ever. The tournament will be held June 20-21.

Brook Valley

A number of golfers had fine reports at Brook Valley Country Club during the past week.

Mrs. Jeanette Thomas eagled the 17th hole and finished with a 74 to defeat Sandy Barnhill for the Ladies Club Championship. Sandy is the defending State Women's champ.

Marion Gardner picked up an eagle on the third hole. Joanne Proctor had a 98 for her first sub-hundred round. Dr. W. S. Dawson had a 98 for his best nine-hole score.

Special Ball For Youngster

Tim Hawks is eight years old. Because he has a bone disease he is now lying on a bed in Duke Hospital in Durham, N.C.

During the idle hours in the hospital, the Norlina youngster has had lots of time to think about his favorite baseball team — the East Carolina University Pirates. His biggest wish was for autographs of ECU stars like Ron Hastings, Skip Taylor, Dennis Vick and Hal Baird.

He got his wish. One of the last things Coach Earl Smith's Pirates did before leaving for the NCAA District 3 Playoffs in Gastonia Wednesday was to autograph a baseball for

Tim. All 24 players signed it. "This is really going to make Tim happy," said ECU student James Hicks of Norlina, a close friend of the Hawks family who was going to deliver the ball to the hospitalized boy Thursday night in Durham.

The Pirates, who recently won their third Southern Conference Championship in five years, became the big favorites of Tim because his older brother, Jack Lee Hawks Jr., is an ECU student.

Tim is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Lee Hawks of Norlina. Besides his brother, Tim also has two older sisters.

The East Carolina University Pirates, two years ago, went down to Gastonia for the District III NCAA Baseball playoffs, and were quickly informed that they were there simply to fill the field of four teams.

Everywhere they turned they heard about the strength of Florida State University. "They are solid favorites to win it this year," they were told from every quarter.

And if the Seminoles faltered, it would be either Alabama or possibly N.C. State that slipped through for the title. The Bucs simply were just not possible. They were there for the two game minimum and would be the first team eliminated.

But by the time the dust had cleared on Thursday afternoon, the Pirates had taken a 1-0 victory over the Seminoles, and Alabama was the first team on its way home. The Pirates, on the strong right arm of Vince Colbert, had made their way into the winners' bracket.

Unfortunately, they committed too many errors in the next two games, and were eliminated, losing close games to both N.C. State and a return match with Florida State. But they had firmly established the fact that they were simply not there just to be the fourth team in the field.

And this year, echoes of the 1968 tournament are ringing in the ears of the Pirates. Florida State, in the tournament nearly every year, is back again, and is the first opponent for the Bucs. They have just been dropped from the number one perch in the nation to the number three spot, but are seen as solid favorites for the district crown again.

They reportedly have the hitting, the defense and the pitching to go all the way in the tournament this year. Maryland, a surprise winner in the Atlantic Coast Conference, is a slight favorite to down Mississippi State, the SEC winner, in the other game Thursday. Maryland won a playoff with Clemson for the ACC title, while Mississippi State topped Tennessee for the SEC crown. But Mississippi State has lost its two top pitchers, and its starters at first and third base, and remains somewhat of a mystery team.

The Bucs go into the game with the reputation as a pitching rather than a hitting team. Their team batting average was only .258 through 29 games. But the pitching was among the best around. The team held a 1.57 earned run average, and boasted the second leading ERA man in the country in Ron Hastings.

The slick junior wove a 0.39 ERA for the regular season, and worked his way to an 8-1 record for the year. The lone loss came in an inning of relief work against Campbell in a day when nothing went right for the Bucs.

Hastings is almost certain to receive the call against Florida State, and if he can do the same type of job Colbert did two years ago, the Seminoles may be in for trouble.

And right behind Hastings will be Hal Baird, who, despite his 5-3 record, had his moments of brilliance. He struck out 79 batters during the season, including 16 against VMI and 20 against George Washington in the Southern Conference playoff finals. His ERA is a respectable 1.50. Behind him will be Sonny Robinson, who sports a 1.83 ERA.

At the plate, the Bucs can send up several hitters with good marks. Mike Aldridge, who has seen action in 17 games, leads the team hitting with a .389 mark. Larry Walters, a regular, has a .327 mark, while Baird, who plays outfield occasionally, is hitting .327 also.

Leading the group of players who saw action all the way is Dennis Vick, a solid glove man at second, who blossomed into a hitter this year. He sports a .315 average, and leads in the team in hits (28).

Skip Taylor, another regular is batting at a .308 clip. "We expect to beat them," Coach Earl Smith said. "That's the reason we're going down there."

"They get good pitching, good

The game will be played Saturday at 4 p.m. at Guy Smith Stadium.

defense and they'll peck away at you. They don't have too many power hitters, but they have those fellows that can run and can bunt. So we expect them to be the same type club they've always been," he said.

Reportedly, Mississippi State will not be hurt too much by the loss of their players, according to Smith, who spoke with someone from the area. They have plenty of reserve strength. "And anytime you win the ACC, you have a pretty good ball club," Smith added, speaking of Maryland.

The real key to the tournament will be mental attitude, Smith pointed out. "Whichever team wants it the most will get it," he said.

"I think FSU is stronger with the bat, but we're a little stronger in our pitching," Smith said.

The Pirates and Florida State will battle Thursday afternoon, while Mississippi State and Maryland tangle Thursday night. The two losers meet Friday afternoon, with the loser in the game going home. The two winners meet Friday night. Saturday afternoon, the teams with one loss meet, and the survivor of that game meets the unbeaten team Saturday night. A final game, if necessary, would be played on Monday.

The East Carolina games will be carried live over WNCT-Radio, with Jim Woods doing the play-by-play.

Rained Out

WILSON — The Class A playoff game between Robersonville and Lee Woodard High School was postponed yesterday by rain.

Hastings, Vick Named All-State

East Carolina pitching ace Ron Hastings and second baseman Dennis Vick, the Pirates' hottest hitter, have been named to the 1970 All-State College Baseball Team.

The team is selected by the Greensboro (N.C.) Daily News. Hastings, a junior from Connelly Springs, N.C., ranked second in the nation among NCAA major college pitchers this season with a remarkable C.38 earned run average. The fireballing righthander gave up only three earned runs in 72 innings as he erased the old Southern Conference record of 0.65 ERA, set by West Virginia's Vaughn Kovach in 1966.

Just as impressive was Hastings' 8-1 won - lost record. Vick, a senior from Wilson, N.C., has been respected as one of the best defensive second basemen ever to play in the Southern Conference since he first joined the Pirates in 1967. However, this season his bat came alive. Batting only .179 through ECU's first 14 games this spring, the blond line-drive hitter went on a torrid streak the final 17 games of the regular season. In that stretch he hit a gaudy 446 (25 for 56) to raise his final batting average to .337.

The little second sacker also led the Pirates in base hits (32), runs batted in (15) and total bases (39). He struck out only six times in 104 plate appearances and did not hit into a doubleplay all season. He carried an eight-game hitting streak — longest of the season for any Pirate — into the NCAA District 3 Playoffs which opened Thursday in Gastonia, N.C.

Felton Is MVP

Graham Felton, a tall junior from Rocky Mount, N.C., has been named the Most Valuable Player for the 1970 East Carolina University tennis team.

The 6-4, 175-pound Felton played No. 1 singles all spring for Coach Bill Dickens' net squad and compiled a good 10-5 record against the toughest schedule the Pirates have ever faced. He was seeded third in the Southern Conference Championship Tournament and advanced to the semifinals before losing to Furman's Dave Ellison.

"This is by far the best season Graham has ever had," said Dickens, announcing the MVP honor this week. "We played the best competition any ECU team has every played and Graham came out with an impressive record."

"Needless to say, we look forward to next year with Graham back for his senior season."

Already considered by many as the best tennis player in the history of the school, Felton won honorable mention All-Southern Conference as a freshman in 1968. Good range coupled with a powerful serve are his big assets.

Felton captained the Pirate netters this past season.

"Now all they need is the powdered wigs." — George Jessel, upon viewing some of the more elaborate formal shirts. "But I like them", he added.

Today's white formal shirts are frequently bedecked with pleats and ruffles. George Washington and Thomas Jefferson might have had similar shirts.

Almost any style of pleat or ruffle a man desires is available.

There are approximately 26 styles of white, formal wear shirts. Although pleats and ruffles are returning there are shirts without them.

However, jewelry is not as lavish as was worn in Colonial days. Studs may be black onyx, pearl or mother-of-pearl. Cuff links should match the studs.

FACIAL FACTS — Use salt on a washcloth or your wife's cleansing cream. Either makes an effective facial and removes hidden dirt from pores.

Padres Swat Cincy Twice

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

By the time the hunters finally caught up with Clarence Gaston and Nate Colbert, the hounds had Charlie Fox by the throat. Gaston lashed six straight hits, including two triples and a three-run homer, before Cincinnati got him out and Colbert walloped a pair of two-run homers before a stray pitch knocked him out as the San Diego Padres stunned the Reds 8-1 and 4-1 in a Tuesday night doubleheader.

The Los Angeles Dodgers, meanwhile, brought Fox, San Francisco's new manager, crashing to earth with a 20-hit salvo that riddled the Giants 19-3.

It was the Dodgers' biggest offensive binge and the worst beating absorbed by the Giants since both clubs moved to the West Coast in 1958. And it was a shattering experience for Fox, following the Giants' doubleheader sweep over San Diego last Sunday in his managerial debut.

In other National League games, Philadelphia nipped Montreal 3-2; Atlanta beat Houston 5-3; the New York Mets trimmed St. Louis 5-1 and the Chicago Cubs downed Pittsburgh 6-3.

In American League play, Baltimore whipped Cleveland 7-0; Detroit topped the New York Yankees 3-0; Washington shaded Boston 7-5; Minnesota defeated Milwaukee 6-2; California beat Oakland 4-2 and the Chicago White Sox took Kansas City 3-1.

Gaston, a .230 hitter for the Padres last year as a rookie, banded triples in the first and fifth innings of the opener. Each time, Colbert followed with a homer off Cincinnati pitching ace Jim Merritt, giving him 16 for the season and a share of the major league lead. Two singles by Gaston and a three-run homer by Ollie Brown helped the Padres' Mike Corkins even his pitching record at 4-4 while Merritt slipped to 9-3.

In the first inning of the nightcap, Gaston sent the Padres ahead to stay with his three-run blast off Pedro Borbon, who was making his first start in the majors. Borbon then hit Colbert on the right cheekbone with a pitch, finishing the San Diego slugger for the rest of the night.

Colbert lay dazed for about 30 seconds, then got up and started toward Borbon, but was restrained by teammates. He was sent to a hospital for X-rays, which proved negative.

After Borbon was brushed back by a Danny Coombs pitch in the third, creating a mob scene on the field as both benches emptied, Gaston singled in the bottom half for his sixth consecutive hit in the twin bill and seventh in a row going back to a ninth inning single Monday night against the Reds.

The San Diego outfielder's streak ended three short of the NL record when reliever Clay Carroll retired him in the fifth, but he finished the night with a .342 batting average ... eighth best in the league.

Pitcher Claude Osteen led the Dodgers' assault on five San Francisco pitchers with two singles, a double and a homer good for four RBI. Catcher Tom Haller also cracked four hits and Billy Grabarkewitz had a single, double and triple ... and scored five runs.

The Dodgers took a 2-0 lead against Rich Robertson in the second inning, then erupted for four runs in the fourth, three in the fifth, four more in the sixth, three in the seventh and the last three in the eighth.

Ron Hastings Named To All-District Team

GASTONIA, N. C. (AP) — Florida State, which plays in the NCAA District 3 baseball tournament opening Thursday, is the only team to place two players on the all-district first team.

They are second baseman Dick Nichols and third baseman Ron Cash.

The other three teams in the tournament, Mississippi State, Maryland and East Carolina, placed one player each on the team announced Tuesday by Bill Wilhelm, Clemson University coach and the district baseball committee chairman.

Mississippi State placed pitcher Brantley Jones, Maryland is represented by outfielder Gene Hiser, and East Carolina by pitcher Ron Hastings.

Mississippi State will play Maryland and Florida State will play East Carolina in Gastonia Thursday afternoon in opening games of the double-elimination tournament. The tournament winner, who will emerge Saturday, will gain entry into the college World Series starting June

Durham, Lee Honored At Rose Baseball Fete

Tommy Durham and Bill Lee were honored as top players at the annual Rose High School baseball banquet last night. Durham was named the team's Most Valuable Player, while Lee was accorded Rookie of the Year honors.

Durham, third baseman for the Rampants, was one of the top defensive stars, and a steady hitter for the team this past season. Lee, who saw action in various positions, was cited for his play in winning a letter for the first time.

George Williams, assistant baseball coach at East Carolina University was the guest speaker for the banquet, which was held at the Three Steers on Memorial Drive.

Williams spoke to the players on "Wealth."

"When I say wealth," Williams said, "I'm not speaking about money or riches in that sense of the word. Wealth means more to me."

He listed a meaning for each letter of the word.

"W" is the first of these meanings," he said. "You would have never had a winning season without work. You only get out of the game what you put into it. You have to have pride, and it is a privilege to be a member of a team, but you have to work and put a 100 per cent effort into something if you expect a 100 per cent return. You must accept the responsibility and the challenge. Most athletes do, and that's why they are the true leaders."

The second meaning is "enthusiasm." Williams said that this meant intense interest. "If you are a winner, it is because the players and coaches are enthusiastic about what they are doing. It is the greatest motivator."

"Attitude is the third meaning. This is the way you indicate your mood and feelings to other people. It's your personality. It's the way you behave, especially toward other people."

The next was "loyalty," Williams pointed out. "This is faithfulness, to country, to parents, to teachers, to coaches and to teammates. You win together, and you lose together. You don't blame others when you do lose, but accept it gracefully."

The "T" stands for tactfulness. "This is the skill of saying or doing what is best in a given circumstance. It is whether you deal wisely with others."

Williams said the final meaning is honesty. "It's being fair, being above cheating."

"These are the virtues of the game of athletics, and they are the virtues of the game of life," he said.

Pepsi Rally Tops Integon

Pepsi-Cola came up with nine runs in the fifth inning to take a 10-5 victory over Integon yesterday in the Tar Heel Little League.

Pepsi took the initial lead with a run in the first. Lee Shearin reached on an error and Ricky Avery doubled. Danny Bowman and Roy Oldham walked, forcing in Shearin with the run.

In the second, Integon came up with two to take the lead. Buddy Boyd reached on a fielder's choice and Don Blanchard walked. John Miles also got a walk, loading the bases. Ricky Overman singled, driving in Boyd and Blanchard with the go-ahead runs.

In the fourth, Pepsi added three more and moved out into a 5-1 lead. Blanchard singled and moved around to third on a passed ball and a stolen base. Overman walked and stole second. Worth Albea singled to score Blanchard, and he stole second. Jack Bratton walked, loading the bases, and walks to Jimmy Miles and Sandy Abbott forced in Overman and Albea.

But in the bottom of the fifth, Pepsi exploded for nine runs to chalk up the victory. David Davis doubled and Danny Bowman singled. He stole second, and Roy Oldham singled to score Davis. Mark Conway walked, loading the bases. Dana Kendrick walked, forcing in Bowman, and Mike Shank walked, bringing in Oldham. Steve McCalahan was hit by a pitch, forcing in Conway with the tying run, and a balk brought Kendrick home with the go-ahead run. Shearin grounded out, but scored Shank, and McCalahan scored on Avery's single. Davis doubled, and Avery scored on a passed ball. An error brought Davis home with the final Pepsi run.

About One-Fifth Of ECU Students On Honor Roll

Nearly one in five East Carolina University students last fall made high enough grades to earn places on the university's official honor lists. About 18 percent of the students — a total of 1736 were officially commended on the three honors lists. The honorees include 1397 North Carolinians and 339 from out of state.

Most elite among the honor students are the 167 who made all A's (1). Next are those who made the Dean's List (2) by earning a solid B-plus average with no grade below C.

The Honor Roll (3) includes those students who made a B average with no grade below C. Those from Pitt and adjacent counties include:

Theft Of Furs Up In Germany

BONN (UPI)—Thefts of furs by organized gangs who steal them by the carload and smuggle them across national borders for resale has increased sharply in recent years in West Germany as well as in neighboring countries. In 1969, furs worth 13 million marks (13,500,000) were stolen from German stores and warehouses, the Federal Criminal Police said in a report to Parliament. Gaveston Island, 45 minutes by car south of Houston, Tex., is the only major seaside city on the North American continent on a natural island.

Accidents With Freak Twist

CHICAGO (UPI)—In its annual search for accidents with a freak twist, the National Safety Council has uncovered quite an assortment for 1969 of what it calls "humorous happenings."

Such as—

The Red Boiling Springs, Tenn., wife who backed up the car when she wanted to go forward. Seems she backed right into an outhouse with enough force to knock it over. Her husband, unfortunately, was occupying it at the time.

Another male mishap occurred when Lloyd Adams of Jackson, Mich., was following his wife's car because she was having trouble with it. He wanted to be near it and when her car acted up. But he followed too closely and crashed into his wife's car as she made a turn. Along with cuts and bruises, Adams got a ticket for tail gating.

Then there was Glen M. Clark, of Dayton, Ohio, who decided to

Called To Discuss Summer Job Drought Prospects

By KEN HARTNETT
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Spiro T. Agnew has summoned the President's Council on Youth opportunity to a rare meeting amid signs that a summer unemployment problem of massive proportions is building in the nation's cities.

Cabinet departments and the Office of Economic Opportunity has met in general session only once in the past eight months. But an administration spokesman denied the meeting, set for Thursday, was an emergency session. He said it was called to bring the various domestic departments together for an estimate of employment commitments and to discuss summer recreational plans and needs. Government figures show the unemployment rate among black teenagers has hit 45 per cent in Los Angeles and 40 per cent in Detroit. Nationwide, urban specialists are forecasting a 30 per cent unemployment rate among black youths this summer.

The spokesman, who asked not to be identified, said it was coincidental that the council was meeting on the same day that Sen. Jacob Javits, R-N.Y., plans to introduce a bill that would add $100 million and 227,000 job slots to the Neighborhood Youth Corps summer program. The Nixon administration has announced a $146 million program that would provide 328,000 summer jobs. A Labor Department spokesman said this would be augmented later with special contingency funds for the nation's 50 largest cities.

The need for an expanded NYC program and continuation of the $35 million OEO summer recreation program have been championed for weeks by urban advocates, particularly the National League of Cities and the U.S. Conference of Mayors.

The joint organization, the lobbying and research arm for the nation's cities, citing Bureau of Labor Statistics figures, says one of every three ghetto dwellers between the ages of 16 and 21 will be unemployed this summer, barring government intervention or a sudden economic upswing. The League says there is a need for 555,000 NYC job slots.

Ailing Comedian Robbed In Sleep

BRENTWOOD, Calif. (AP) — Veteran comedian Joe E. Brown, ailing and under sedation, slept through a robbery by three masked men in which his wife said the loot included jewelry, furs and non-negotiable bonds worth $100,000.

The robbers bound and gagged Mrs. Kathryn Brown, 77, and two male nurses at the Brown home Tuesday. Brown also is 77.

Mrs. Brown said a main target of the raid apparently was a 40-carat simulated diamond she wore at a banquet last Saturday. She said the men took it in the apparent belief it was real.

Another supplementary request, $150,000 for civic arts, also was turned down, by only 40 votes. Some 9,100 persons voted.

Asheville Bond Issue Rejected

ASHEVILLE (AP) — Citizens narrowly declined Tuesday to authorize a supplementary bond issue for construction of an auditorium in a planned civic center.

The negative vote leaves Asheville with $5.3 million already approved to build the civic center. The additional $1.85 million in auditorium bonds was rejected by only 78 votes.

Another supplementary request, $150,000 for civic arts, also was turned down, by only 40 votes. Some 9,100 persons voted.

Speeding patrolman facing forwards...

... changes his position without stopping

Two men control three bikes at speed without sitting in the saddle.

Nine men and one bike add up to "Apollo 11" stunt.

With motorcycle patrolmen like these on their tails, motorists in and around Mexico City rush enough to break the law aren't very likely to get away with it.

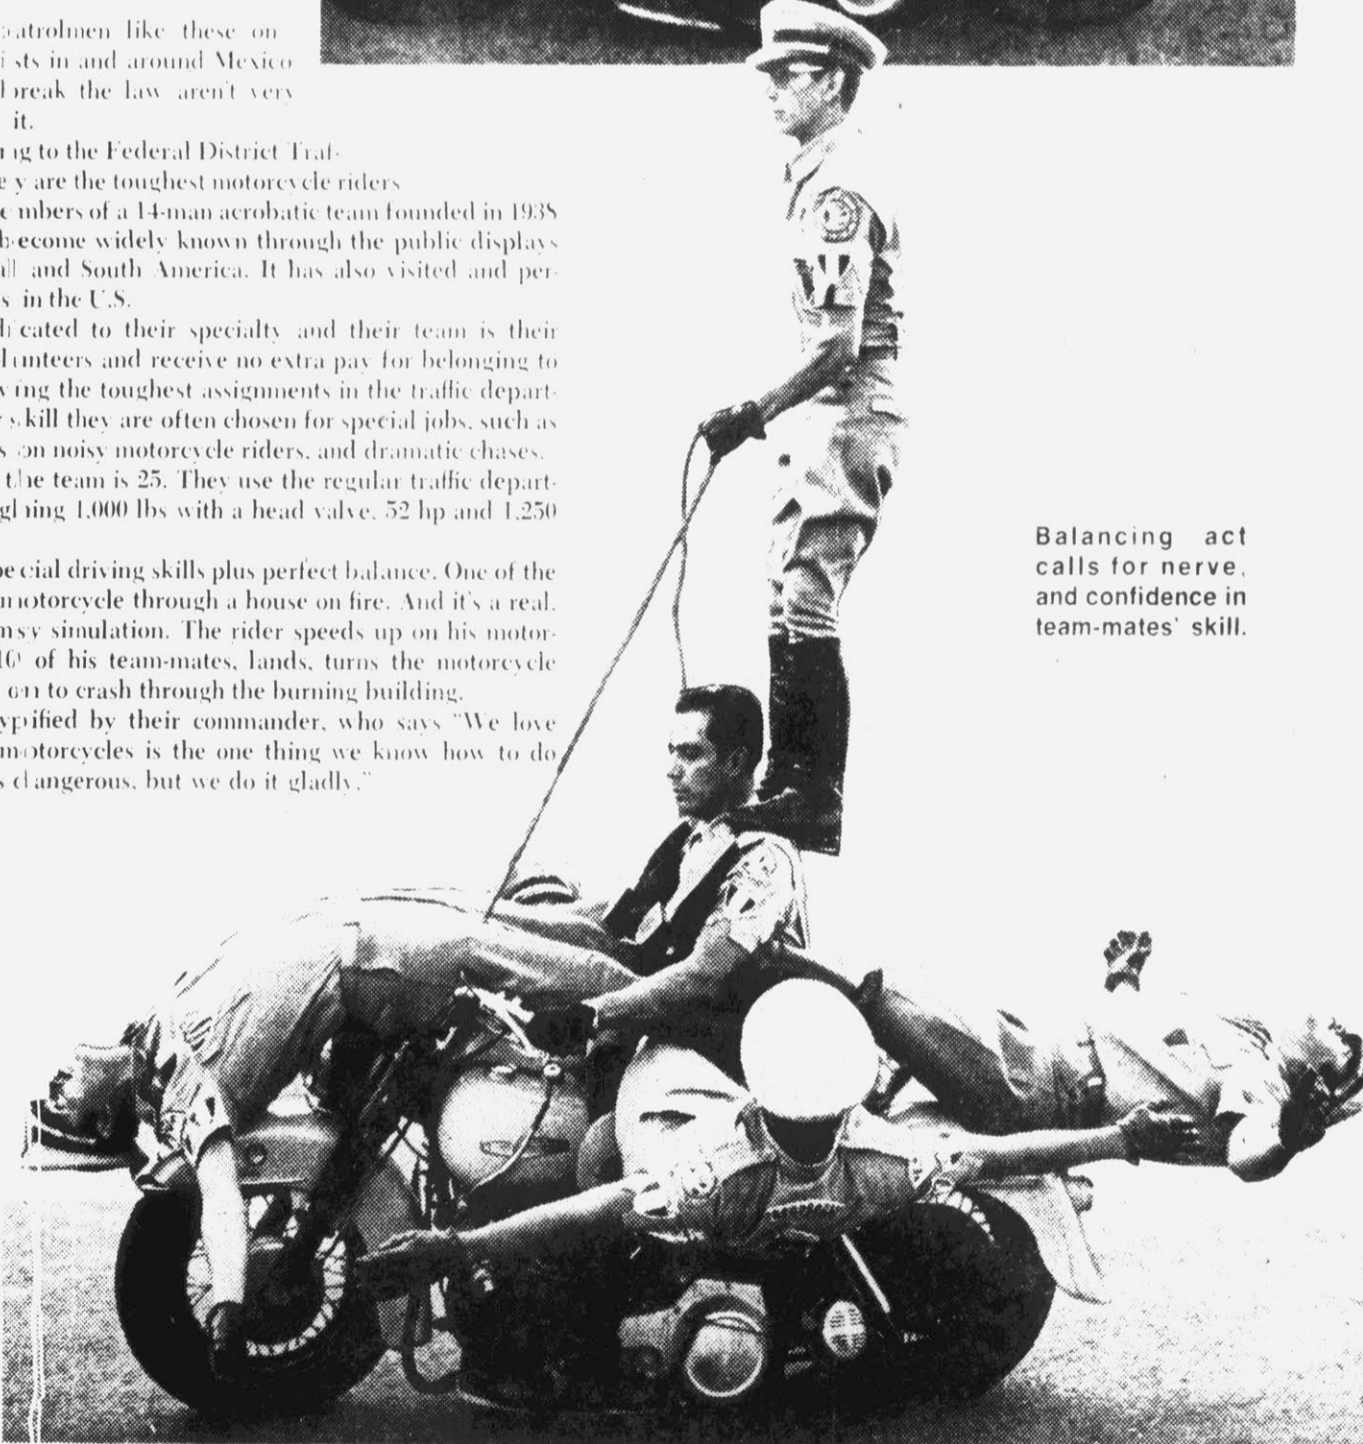

The patrolmen belong to the Federal District Traffic Department and they are the toughest motorcycle riders in Mexico. They are members of a 14-man acrobatic team founded in 1938 which has since then become widely known through the public displays it has given in Central and South America. It has also visited and performed in several cities in the U.S.

The riders are dedicated to their specialty and their team is their pride. They are all volunteers and receive no extra pay for belonging to the team, nor for drawing the toughest assignments in the traffic department. Because of their skill they are often chosen for special jobs, such as crack-down campaigns on noisy motorcycle riders, and dramatic chases.

The average age of the team is 25. They use the regular traffic department motorcycles weighing 1,000 lbs with a head valve, 52 hp and 1.250 cc.

Each act calls for special driving skills plus perfect balance. One of the acts includes riding a motorcycle through a house on fire. And it's a real, solid house—not a flimsy simulation. The rider speeds up on his motorcycle, jumps it over 10' of his team-mates, lands, turns the motorcycle around and then races on to crash through the burning building.

The acrobats are typified by their commander, who says "We love motorcycles. Driving motorcycles is the one thing we know how to do best... What we do is dangerous, but we do it gladly."

Balancing act calls for nerve, and confidence in team-mates' skill.

Team spirit carried to great lengths!

Worry Clinic Golden Rule Is For Every Day

Judge Sharp's test of the mother of a defendant in his courtroom should be a challenge to all our churches and moral agencies. Supplement it with former assessor Clifton Hirschman's remarks and you can see why the so-called "generation gap" has existed for a long time. Discuss this at Sunday School!

By GEORGE W. CRANE
 Ph. D., M. D.

CASE N-509: Judge Wm T. Sharp, of Indianapolis, recently had a juvenile offender before his court.

The teen-ager's mother was also present to testify in her child's defense.

"Have you ever taught your child the difference between right and wrong?" inquired Judge Sharp.

"Oh, yes," quickly replied the mother.

"Well, have you taught him the Golden Rule?" Judge Sharp persisted.

"Yes, Your Honor," immediately answered the mother.

But Judge Sharp still felt there had been some generation gap regarding lawful behavior, so he asked:

"Do you know the Golden Rule, yourself?"

The mother nodded.

"Well," persisted Judge Sharp, "please recite it for me."

She stuttered awhile, then lamely confessed she had forgotten it.

So the judge asked her to complete it where he left off, and Judge Sharp then quoted:

"Do unto others what you'd have others —"

But this mother couldn't even fill in those 3 blanks!

Is it any wonder, therefore, that criminality abounds when millions of Americans parents don't even know the basic differences between right vs. wrong?

And when they are pagan regarding moral laws, like the Golden Rule?

Others, though possibly able to recite the Golden Rule, still seem to relish dishonesty.

Urges Phosphate Detergents Be Ended In Canada

OTTAWA (UPI)—New Democratic party member Grace MacInnis suggested in the House of Commons that the government buy up existing stocks of high phosphate content detergents and destroy them, as it did with DDT pesticide.

J.J. Greene, Ministry of Energy, Mines and Resources, replied that a gradual ban on phosphates in detergents was scheduled to start in Canada Aug. 1. Unlike DDT, he said, phosphates are not a poison and "the delay of a few more months after the many, many years of phosphate use will not make a great deal of difference to the total problem."

Early Compliance Has Its Benefits

Farmers who are participating in the feed grain, wheat and cotton programs are being reminded that early compliance and early certification will mean early payments this year.

Stacy J. Evans, county executive director of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, said that while farmers should certify compliance as soon as possible, they also must understand that acreage certifications are not to be made until they know they are in compliance with all program regulations.

"When a participant in a 1970 farm program certifies compliance, he certifies accurately to acreages in the program crops and to diverted acreage. He also certifies that he has complied with conserving base provisions, with regulations that apply if he has an interest in more than one farm, that the diverted acres on his farm are devoted to an approved conserving use, and that all other program requirements have been met." Evans explained.

As soon as a program participant is certified, the County ASCS office begins processing papers for his full payment for 1970 program participation. Payments to producers will begin soon after July 1 and are expected to be completed by the end of August.

"After a farm has been certified to be in compliance with farm programs, it may be checked at any time to determine if any errors were made in certification. Evans emphasized. "If errors are found, the producer will be determined to have not fully complied and may lose some of all of his farm program payments."

A substantial number of farms in the county will be selected at random for these checks, noted Evans. Also, every farm in which an ASCS official has an interest will be checked.

"Generally, the percentage of errors found is quite small and usually the result of carelessness or misunderstanding. We hope this year to find fewer certification mistakes than ever before," Evans said.

'Camp-Out' On Saturday

FARMVILLE — A camp-out will take place on the grounds of Monk Memorial Methodist Church on Memorial Day, Saturday.

The camp-meeting will begin at 4 p.m. Saturday and supper will be at 7 p.m. The camp-out will conclude before breakfast on Sunday morning.

The camp-meeting will be held for families of all religious denominations. Space will be provided for tents, camp trucks and camp trailers. In case of rain, the camp-meeting will be postponed one week.

A gospel trio "The Singing Spiritual Heirs" of Greenville will provide special music. Chap Tucker of Greenville and Miss Debbie Mazingo of Farmville will lead the spiritual camp fire hours.

The event is being sponsored by Monk Memorial Methodist Church, which is located on the Farmville - Fountain Highway, Wesley Methodist Church and Bethlehem Methodist Church, Bell Arthur.

No Strip Shows For Under-21

KUALA LUMPUR (UPI)—The state government of Selangor, which includes this Malaysian capital, has barred persons under 21 years old from seeing striptease shows.

The move followed criticism of the shows by the state's Sultan, Abdul Aziz Shah, who said they were damaging the Islamic image and were not good for youngsters.

QUESTION
HONG KONG (UPI)—Is Hong Kong cleaner? In March, 43,339 tons of refuse were collected, compared with 45,062 tons in March, 1969.

"Thank You Mrs Dixon, for Always Paying Me On My First Call"

* HE MAY not say so very often, but your friendly newspaper carrier deeply appreciates the fact that most of his route customers always pay him the very first time he calls to collect.

HE'S GRATEFUL for their cooperation because prompt collections mean so much to him as a young businessman. They give him full profits from his efforts, enable him to pay his route bill when due, and minimize call-backs — thus leaving him more time free for school work, sports, and other activities in a busy boy's life.

ALSO, they enable him to keep the other half of his bargain with you — provide on time delivery of your newspaper every day! You see how many ways it pays to have the change ready for him on collection days!

No one else delivers so much for so little, as does your newspaper boy!
