Price Boost

NEW YORK (AP) — Five leading cigarette manufacturers announced increases in the wholesale price for cigarettes today which almost certainly will be passed on to the retail customer.

Four companies will boost their wholesale prices 45 cents per thousand while a fifth, Phillip Morris, will post a 35 cent increase.

Morris Weintraub, managing director of the Wholesale Tobacco Distributors of New York forecast a minimum increase of two cents a pack, or 20 cents a carton, at the retail level in New York.

He added that the impact on vending machines was less certain. But he said one possibility might be a five cent increase in the price of 100-millimeter cigarettes sold by machine.

Other companies which raised prices included American Brands Inc., which initiated the hike, Lorillard Corp., Liggett & Myers Inc., and Brown & Williamson Tobacco Corp. The industry's sales leader, R. J. Reynolds, hasn't joined the round of increases.

The price increases of American Brands and Brown & Williamson have already taken effect. The boosts of the other companies will be effective June 1. The price increases were initiated over the past week and were not immediately made known to the public.

Syrians Cross Into Israel And Meet Death

By MICHAEL GROSS
Associated Press Writer

TEL AVIV (AP) — Israeli troops killed 10 Syrian guerrillas early today after the Syrians crossed into Israeli territory from Jordan, the military command announced.

It was one of the highest tolls of Syrians claimed by the Israelis in a single clash since the 1967 Middle East war.

No Israeli casualties were reported.

A spokesman said the guerrillas crossed the Jordan River near the Maoz Haim settlement 12 miles south of the Sea of Galilee and apparently were headed toward the settlement when patrolling Israeli troops encountered them.

During the 30 minute battle, bazookas and light arms were fired from Jordanian territory to support the raiders, informed sources said.

The Israelis said they found Soviet rifles, bazookas and sabotage materials near the bodies of the guerrillas.

The military spokesman also said a number of rockets were fired from Jordan early today into the Israeli border settlement of Yotveta, in the Negev desert south of the Dead Sea. He said the settlement of Idmit, in western Galilee, came under bazooka fire from inside Lebanon Thursday night.

No casualties were reported in either shelling.

Israeli soldiers continued their daily hilltop patrolling just across the Lebanese border Thursday, but the military spokesman said there were no encounters with Lebanese troops or Arab guerrillas. The Israelis began the patrols after guerrillas ambushed an Israeli school bus near the border last Friday.

Israeli planes made two raids Thursday against Egyptian targets along the Suez Canal. A spokesman said all planes returned safely from both strikes, one a daytime raid along the northern sector and the other an attack after sundown.

The Tel Aviv newspaper Yediot Aharonot reported that the Soviet Union is shipping large quantities of amphibious military equipment to Egypt. The report speculated that the equipment might be earmarked for an Egyptian assault across the Suez Canal or the Gulf of Suez. Military officials had no comment on the report.

Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser said in a broadcast from Khartoum, the capital of Sudan, that the Soviets had supplied Cairo with "modern weapons capable of preventing Israeli air strikes deep into Egypt's heartland."

"These weapons enable us to prevent Israeli air penetration into the Nile delta and the Nile valley," Nasser said. "Without them, Cairo and our vital installations in the delta and the Nile valley would have been within the destructive reach of the Israeli Phantom and Skyhawk planes."

Nasser apparently was referring to the SAM3 anti-aircraft missiles the Russians reportedly have installed in Egypt. The word in Israel is that the Israeli air force is staying away from the Nile region not because of the new missiles but because Soviet pilots are flying for the Egyptian air force there, and the Israelis fear international repercussions if they shoot down any of the Russians.

Nasser said he had written President Nixon on May 1 that if the United States genuinely wants peace in the Middle East, it should order Israel to withdraw from all Arab territories captured in the 1967 war. He said the United States could make such an order stick "because Israel is its protegee and lives on the United States' account."

Short Session On Arms Talks

VIENNA (AP) — American and Soviet negotiators today held their shortest session in the present round of strategic arms limitation talks, but a conference source said this had no significance.

It was the 12th meeting since the SALT talks opened here April 16. It lasted 40 minutes in the American Embassy with 30 more minutes for informal discussions.

The next meeting will be held on Tuesday in the Soviet Embassy.

Hundreds Held In Paris Riots

PARIS (AP) — Police were questioning more than 400 youths today following two days of rioting in Paris' Latin Quarter.

Officers charged into two University of Paris buildings Thursday night, cleared out the youths, and hauled them away in their police vans. Authorities said that so far it appeared that criminal charges might be filed against 30 of the youths. Those not charged were to be released.

University buildings are off limits to police unless a rector asks them in. The request Thursday night came from the rector of the faculty of science, who said he feared the militant students would damage university equipment.

The gendarmes hauled away between 400 and 500 young people although they had been given orders to clear the buildings without making arrests.

There was no official word on the number of persons injured.

Earlier in the day, youths threw objects at police from the roof of a building at the Sorbonne and the police fired tear gas grenades back.

The rioting began Wednesday after the government ordered dissolution of a pro-Peking group called the Proletarian Left and continued after the editors of a Maoist newspaper were sentenced to jail on charges of inciting crimes against the state.

Eighty-one policemen were injured in Wednesday's riots, and one was hurt Thursday in an attack on a police bus.

Support for the youths appeared limited. Newspapers on both the right and the left assailed them.

Prison Building Needs Mapped

RALEIGH (AP) — The North Carolina Correction Commission plans to ask the 1971 General Assembly for $9.9 million for prison construction.

"These are our most pressing needs," Correction Commissioner V. Lee Bounds told the commission at a meeting Thursday. The request is $6 million less than the request made two years ago for the current biennium.

"We are asking for what we have a reasonable hope of getting," Bounds said. "This isn't all we'd like to have."

"We have to put a wet finger into the winds of taxation before we make up our budgets. I also think we can make a better fight for our requests if we can show we have been realistic and conservative."

The requests include $1.4 million for a 72-bed special treatment center at Central Prison in Raleigh; $6.3 million for a 460-man medium custody prison in eastern North Carolina; $1.2 million for a 96-man close custody unit at Caledonia Prison Farm, and $191,000 for a gymnasium and chapel at Western Correction Center being built near Morganton.

Bounds said the special treatment center would be used to find solutions to department-wide problems while treating some inmates at the same time.

The proposed eastern prison unit would be roughly similar to the western center at Morganton. Bounds originally asked for three such centers, with the third to be in the Piedmont. The 1967 General Assembly, however, appropriated for only one and the 1969 legislature refused to add another.

The Caledonia unit would be used to phase out several large dormitory units where guards have no control over inmates at night.

"Many times we have serious assaults — resulting sometimes in death — and because of the (inadequate) staffing we can't stop it," Bounds said.

Pope Plans Flying Tour

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI will visit the Philippines and Australia next November, the Vatican announced today.

The Vatican said the 72-year-old Pontiff would fly to Manila in the second half of November to take part in a conference of Roman Catholic bishops in the Far East. Then he will fly to Sydney to participate in a conference of bishops from Oceania and in celebrations of the 200th anniversary of the discovery of Australia.

It will be the Pope's ninth trip outside Italy and the first visit by any pontiff to the Far East and Australia.

It will also be the longest trip by the Pope since he became spiritual ruler of the world's half-billion Roman Catholics seven years ago.

Previously he made jet journeys to the Holy Land, to India, New York, Portugal, Turkey, Bogota, Geneva and Uganda.

Last April the pontiff made yet another jet trip, to the Italian island of Sardinia.

Never before Pope Paul came to power had a reigning pontiff made any airplane trip.

Space Center Cutting Back On Personnel

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The Kennedy Space Center, which has released nearly 7,000 workers in 10 months, will dismiss another 500 to 1,000 in the next month because of a diminished launch schedule.

More may go later this year. The National Aeronautics and Space Administration announced Thursday that a work force of contractor and civil service personnel at the center will drop by July 1 from the present 17,500 to between 16,500 and 17,000.

Before the Apollo 11 moon landing last July, nearly 24,000 were employed here on Apollo and other NASA projects, most of them contractor personnel. After Apollo 11, the moon launch schedule was stretched out and the work force gradually reduced.

South Viets Punch Toward Besieged Cambodia Center

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — More than 1,000 South Vietnamese marines pushed toward the besieged Cambodian provincial capital of Prey Veng today to reinforce Cambodian troops battling North Vietnamese and Viet Cong for the second day.

A high-ranking Cambodian military source said Prey Veng, 30 miles east of Phnom Penh, was surrounded and apparently only the provincial headquarters and the center of the town was still firmly held by government forces.

A South Vietnamese military spokesman in Saigon reported the marines had entered Prey Veng, but Cambodian military sources said the marines were still pressing toward the town, supported by helicopters.

The marines pushed up the east bank of the Mekong River and ran into strong North Vietnamese forces near the town of Banam, about 10 miles southwest of Prey Veng.

The marines reported killing 19 North Vietnamese soldiers and capturing eight prisoners and 11 weapons. South Vietnamese losses were put at four killed and 21 wounded.

Official sources in Saigon said the attack on Prey Veng, the second in two days, was an attempt by the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong to solidify their positions east of the Mekong River and to secure a new supply route replacing those disrupted by American and South Vietnamese forces. Prey Veng is one of the Cambodian government's last major strongholds east of the Mekong. The Cambodian spokesman said street fighting was under way in Prey Veng but that Cambodian fighter-bombers could not go to the aid of the town's defenders for fear of hitting civilians.

Communist forces have surrounded Prey Veng for more than two weeks. They assaulted the town early Thursday but pulled back to the outskirts later in the day. After being reinforced, they resumed the assault today.

Unconfirmed reports in Phnom Penh said the town was defended mainly by militiamen, and it was feared they would be no match for the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong.

Associated Press Correspondent John T. Wheeler reported from Phnom Penh that the loss of Prey Veng would be a serious blow to the Cambodian army, which he said had recovered some elan in recent weeks because of the disruption of enemy forces by the American and South Vietnamese operations in eastern Cambodia.

The Cambodian spokesman also reported that a small Viet Cong unit attacked a village near a ferry across the Sap River 17 miles north of Phnom Penh on Wednesday. The ferry is on Highway 5, the main road from Phnom Penh to northern Cambodia.

Although the spokesman described the attack as harassment, it was the closest reported to the capital.

The spokesman said Cambodian forces farther north had withdrawn from the Prek Kak rubber plantation to the town of Prek Kak, about 20 miles north of Kompong Cham, after suffering heavy casualties in fighting Thursday. Kompong Cham, Cambodia's third largest city, is 50 miles northeast of Phnom Penh on the west bank of the Mekong River.

desegregation plans with the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

One of the federal officials, Stanley Pottinger, director of HEW's Office of Civil Rights, said after closed sessions with individual units that "eight — possibly nine" units made verbal agreements to comply with the HEW guidelines. He did not name the units.

Before the sessions the officials said that "time is no longer negotiable" and that September is the deadline for complete desegregation.

Strother said, "Many of the units were told they will be notified whether they're in compliance or not within the next two working days."

He said this could pave the way for suits to be filed next week.

One of the individual sessions scheduled Thursday was cancelled a few hours before it was to have taken place. Pottinger informed the Raleigh Board of Education that officials would not have time to discuss Raleigh's situation in the 45 minutes allotted. He said the meeting would be rescheduled.

Choi maintained that the U.S.-Korean mutual security pact prevents the United States from pulling out its troops without the consent of the Korean government.

Sources in Washington reported this week that the Pentagon has begun planning for gradual withdrawal which may start late next year. The United States has more than 60,000 Army and Air Force troops stationed in Korea.

With the state's present system of a bureau setting mandatory rates, "there is no incentive in N.C.," he said for insurance companies.

J.T. Sutton of Kinston told the commission, in his opinion, there is not too much wrong with the present rating system in the state.

Oil Befouls Gulf Coast

By PAUL RECER
Associated Press Writer
GALVESTON, Tex. (AP) — Oil from an offshore oil rig explosion and fire that killed four and left six missing moved today onto a portion of Galveston's extensive beaches, fouling a mile-long stretch.

The explosion and fire in the Gulf of Mexico erupted Thursday, 12 miles offshore. Fifteen persons suffered injuries. An oil storage tank on the platform of the oil rig ruptured, pouring oil into the gulf.

Coast Guard Lt. R. E. Harrington said origin of the explosion is unknown. The blast apparently set off a fire which quickly spread to a repair boat floating underneath the rig's platform.

The oil slick spread from the swank Flagship Hotel, built on a pier, westward about a mile.

The Coast Guard issued a plea for hay to help absorb the oil from the beaches.

There was no evidence of birds being oil coated.

Gov. Preston Smith sent pollution experts to Galveston.

Of 17 known survivors, only two escaped injuries. Four of the injured were hospitalized.

Hearing Told Insurance Laws Are Restrictive

By STUART SAVAGE
Reflector Staff Writer

"It appears we have an unhealthy situation or else you gentlemen would not be here. We have the most restrictive rating laws in the country," Ray M. Galloway of Goldsboro told the Governor's Study Commission on Automobile Liability Insurance and Rates at a hearing here yesterday.

Galloway was one of a half-dozen persons to testify before the rate hearing — one of several being held across the state in an effort to identify problem areas in the state's auto liability insurance laws and give the commission a basis for any changes they may recommend.

"The biggest problem in the state," Galloway commented, is our assigned risk plan. "We have more cars in our assigned risk than any other state in the union."

With the state's present system of a bureau setting mandatory rates, "there is no incentive in N.C.," he said for insurance companies.

Galloway sold the commission an open law, one that would allow competitive rating in the state, would allow the customer to have the ultimate decision on the rate. "Each group would pay its fair share, with those causing the losses paying more and the safe drivers paying less. And the companies would be more willing to right coverage."

Desegregation Suit Could Be Filed In Week

RALEIGH (AP) — A state education official says a federal desegregation suit could be filed as early as the middle of next week against both the state of North Carolina and school units which have not complied with federal guidelines.

The comment came from Robert Strother, head of the human relations division of the Department of Public Instruction.

Strother spoke to reporters after a meeting Thursday between federal officials and representatives of 18 school districts in North Carolina which are still negotiating acceptable desegregation plans with the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

He said this could pave the way for suits to be filed next week.

One of the individual sessions scheduled Thursday was cancelled a few hours before it was to have taken place. Pottinger informed the Raleigh Board of Education that officials would not have time to discuss Raleigh's situation in the 45 minutes allotted. He said the meeting would be rescheduled.

Belgian Cardinal Chooses To Risk Challenging Papal Power

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

For several days, he later related, he remained in seclusion, praying, wrestling with his conscience. Then he emerged to hurl the thunderbolt that is reverberating through the ruling echelons of Roman Catholicism. In a rare skirmish, on a basic issue, it has pitted a cardinal in contention with the Pope. "I will not hide from you the suffering this entailed," Cardinal Leo Joseph Suenens commented in an ensuing sermon last week in his home Cathedral of Malines in Belgium. "But I felt obliged, in conscience, before God, to assume my responsibilities as bishop."

He says the primary issue, underlying the incidental matters that have brought it into focus, is how the Church is to be governed, whether by jointly shared deliberation, or only by papal decision. "It is a deadlock," he said in the controversial interview in France two weeks ago that touched off the repercussions. The full text was published this week in a major Catholic weekly in this country, the National Register.

What brought the issue to a head, he said, was the action of Pope Paul VI in forbidding collegial consideration with the Church's bishops of the question of mandatory celibacy of priests.

The Pope earlier also excluded the problem of birth control from joint consideration by the bishops, the cardinal said, adding that these rulings disallowed exercise of the principle of co-responsibility espoused by the 1962-'65 Second Vatican Council. It puts the bishops in an "impossible situation," he said, of being barred from discussing a question (of priestly celibacy) that is being widely and openly discussed by others in the Church—laity, priests and theologians.

"The bishops are apparently caught between two conflicting choices: either they appear disloyal to Rome, or they appear to dodge their responsibility in their local churches. Either lose credit or lose credibility." Pope Paul subsequently has expressed "pained astonishment" at the criticism. He said it was delivered "in a manner that does not seem to us fitting to the brotherly style required by collegiality itself."

He emphasized his respect for the Vatican Council's teaching in regard to the "collegiality of bishops" in sharing guidance of the Church.

Cardinal Suenens, 66, a learned, frank-talking prelate, a former university rector and theologian, said later in an interview in the Long Island Catholic this week that his criticisms were aimed only at the way the Church government was operating.

"It was not an attack on the Pope, the person, but an attack on the Church government—the system," he told the paper's Vatican correspondent, Robert R. Holton.

He said that actually, his views were in support of papal primacy since, in order to strengthen present-day authority in Church leadership, it should be used in a shared, collegial way, rather than in the opposite way.

Asked about speculation that he sought to develop the issue as a springboard toward becoming the next Pope, he chuckled and said, "That's nonsense. If you wish to aim at that, you must not take the positions I am taking."

He said he realized he had risked being removed from his position as cardinal by his criticisms, but was willing to face the costs. He said his main hope is "that the Church today should be adapted to the needs of today."

Marry Cousin Or Stranger?

THE 4-H PROGRAM . . . includes a project, clothing, wherein girls as young as nine years learn to sew.

Homemaker's Haven

By Mrs. Phyllis Wooten

Pitt Home Agent

One of the booming home arts today is sewing. Technology has made available a wide array of miracle fabrics, invisible thread, hidden zippers, and sewing machines that all but sew by themselves.

Learnings to sew is no longer the tedious, baste-and-rip, time consuming chore it once was. More young girls are making their own clothes today than ever before: in school, at home, and especially through 4-H youth groups.

Nearly one million girls from nine to 19 are currently working on 4-H clothing projects. They decide what to make, get pointers from their volunteer clothing project leaders, salesclerks, Extension Service personnel, and various sewing bulletins.

These talented seamstresses compete for local, county, district, state, and national awards and scholarships. The state winners are the guests of the national sponsor, Coats and Clark, Inc., at the annual National 4-H Congress in Chicago. At this time the sponsor's representative presents a $600 Scholarship to the six new national champions.

Girls who would like to be a part of this teen home fashion scene can get into the act by contacting a local 4-H group or your County Extension office. The Cooperative Extension Service supervises all 4-H programs.

Miss Faye Manning, a student at Rose High School and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Manning Jr. of Greenville will represent Pitt County in the Dress Revue competition.

Anyone interested in obtaining more information should contact Mrs. Phyllis L. Wooten, at the Pitt County Extension office, 203 W. 3rd Street, Greenville or call 758-1196 between 8:30 a.m. - 5:00 p.m., Monday through Friday.

DEAR ABBY: I read in your column where someone wanted to know if she should marry her first cousin. Glory be! Now why would anybody want to marry their cousin? The way most people get along with their relatives, it's bad enough to be related to them accidentally, but to marry them on purpose is really insane.

Me? I'd rather take my chances and marry a stranger. "FREE AND ENJOYING IT"

DEAR ABBY: You stated, "If there is an International Brotherhood of Mountain Goats, I hereby offer my most humble apologies for saying they smell bad."

You were probably joking, but there is an "International Order of Rocky Mountain Goats," and no apologies are in order for your remarks concerning the odor of goats, domestic or mountain. [Neither variety smells like Chanel No. 5.]

Unfortunately women cannot join this organization or I would submit your name for honorary membership, but at our next meeting I shall propose a toast to you.

STEVE FRAZEE
Salida, Colo.

DEAR STEVE: I don't know that many women would care to butt into the "International Order of Rocky Mountain Goats," but those who do shouldn't be denied membership because of their sex. Perhaps you'll be hearing from the Women's Liberation Movement about this.

DEAR ABBY: "KNOWS HIS GOATS" doesn't know his goats! It's true, the Barnyard Billy goat may not smell very good to humans, but he smells fine to the Nanny goat who is just about as particular an animal as you can find anywhere.

You hear a lot of stupid jokes about goats, but they are not true. They say goats eat tin cans, rags, garbage—anything. They won't. Goats will "investigate" and nibble, but they are very particular about what they eat. How else could goat's milk be considered therapeutic?

Goats are much maligned. They are intelligent and clean, and they have "kids" as humans do. So if you want to brag about your kids—try goats. They are something to brag about.

KNOWS MY GOATS

DEAR ABBY: One of the best reasons for reading "advice columns" is that they whittle down our own problems to their proper dimensions. When we are in the throes of despair because of a serious illness, a marriage on the rocks, or a cherished relationship smashed forever—let us be reminded of what it means to really "suffer."

That was my reaction when I read the heartbreaking story of that poor woman who watches TV from 7 in the morning until midnight, daily. Her problem? The increasing number of actors who are letting their hair grow longer and longer. "I have watched some formerly good-looking actors transformed into something rather sickening," she said.

Could anyone read that and fail to respond with deepest compassion? And shouldn't that make us ashamed to complain about our petty troubles? My heart aches for that poor woman who spends 17 hours a day sadly and helplessly watching hair grow longer on TV!

FASHION FORECASTS

by C. Heber Forbes

(A Unique Fashion Magazine)

Harper's Bazaar and Vogue were the pioneers in fashion magazines, and are still formidable powers, although others have come into their realm. Some have been short-lived, as was Vanity Fair. Others, Glamour and Mademoiselle, for example, seem destined for a happier life.

However, Elegance, a twelve-year-old French magazine (also published in English) is probably the most unique in the field. It is intended for women who sew and are interested in copying current Parisian styles, using identical materials and similar patterns (available from an American firm).

Elegance has the world's only fashion fabrics presentation featuring full-color photography and actual sample swatches. Anyone who has access to this extravagantly expensive magazine, issued twice yearly, should look through it. "Elegance" adds another dimension to fashion for every woman, whether she sews, or not.

For that special occasion, select your outfit from C. HEBER FORBES. We carry only the finest in clothing and accessories, and will be happy to assist you in that all-important selection. Special Registration Saturday

Voters should not forget that registration for the school tax referendum in Greenville School District begins tomorrow.

Registration will be at the two polling places, Elm St. gym and Third St. School.

Registrars will be on hand May 30, June 6 and June 13 from 9 a. m. until 6 p. m.

It is important to remember that regular registration for state or local elections does not count for this special referendum. Only voters who place their names on the books during the special registration will be eligible to vote on the school tax.

It should also be remembered that the voting covers the entire Greenville School District and does not stop at the city limits.

The voters will be deciding whether or not to increase the property tax devoted to school district needs by 25 cents per $100 valuation.

It is something that every taxpayer in the school district will have to decide upon. But regardless of how each one of us decides on the issue, there is only one way to express that opinion — and that is to register between May 30 and June 13 so that we can vote on June 27.

Grads To Hear Ballet Dancer

By BRYAN HAISLIP
WINSTON-SALEM, N. C. — a ballet dancer for a commencement speaker?

Yes. At the North Carolina School of the Arts on Saturday, May 30, when 45 college seniors and 70 high school students will receive diplomas.

Agnes de Mille may not pirouette (she could) when she mounts the podium but it's a safe bet she won't speak the usual commencement bromides, either. As the girl who put fresh kick into musical comedy dance and broke ground for a truly American ballet style, she is a witty and trenchant spokesman for the arts. Her address is likely to be as out of the ordinary as her audience, a collection of creative young people bursting to make their mark in dance, drama and music.

The choice of Miss de Mille as commencement speaker may seem to bear out the remark of the gloomy legislator who said North Carolina was fixing to educate "tippy-toe" dancers when it established the School of the Arts. It does, too; but the result is not so frivolous as the lawmaker implied.

In its first five years the school has graduated (including this year's class) 385 student, 85 with bachelor of fine arts or bachelor of music degrees, and 300 with high school diplomas. Many of those who completed college here are continuing graduate study elsewhere (the School of the Arts has no graduate program), or are actively employed as actors, musicians or dancers. Most of the high school graduates are continuing their education in the arts, either here or elsewhere.

It's a fact that 25 School of the Arts alumni are dancing with major ballet companies throughout the country. Bryan Pitts of Winston Salem left as a 17-year-old high school junior to join the prestigious New York City Ballet. Cam Lorenzo of Auburn, Ala., also went from the School of the Arts to the New York City Ballet Company.

Ballet is only one field recruiting from the school. Singers, instrumentalists, actors, stage and costume designers — all the talents demanded by the performing arts are nurtured.

What the School of the Arts means is that Tar Heel young people with talent, however off-beat that creative impulse may seem to others, have the opportunity to develop their ability without the handicap or sacrifice of going out of state. Of course, the school, also attracts students from neighboring and distant states.

This opportunity saves artistic talent that might otherwise be lost; it also avoids the frustration and economic loss of secretaries, store clerks and salesmen who took a second-choice vocation because they couldn't follow the line of native ability.

Miss de Mille has more than a visiting celebrity interest in the School of the Arts. Before its establishment she was one of those bemoaning the lack in this country of schools to give dancers training in professional technique as well as a general education. Since its founding she has served by appointment of the Governor on the 12-member Advisory Board.

Not incidentally, she has kinship ties with the state. Her uncle, Cecil B. de Mille, the late producer of film epics, was born in Washington, N. C.

Individuals are better than statistics in making the case for the School of the Arts. Here are some student examples.

Three students were selected by audition to perform as guest artists with the North Carolina Symphony next season. John Prince Williams of Raleigh is a bass-baritone, and a college junior. Marsha Pobanz of Hawaii, a pianist, is a college freshman. Cynthia Mechem of Kingsport, Tenn., also a pianist, is a high school sophomore.

Michele Marsh (stage name), daughter of Phillippe Buhler, head of the school's choral department, has been selected for the role of Hadel in the movie version of the musical, "Fiddler on the Roof."

Annabelle Lea Bailey of Salisbury, graduating with a major in drama design and production, will take a summer job with the Pacific Repertory Company and in the fall will become costume designer for the Catawba College drama department. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. Bailey.

Gwen Spear, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Richard Spear of Greenville, is a ballet major who will dance this summer with the Pennsylvania Ballet at the Temple Music Festival, and may remain with the company next fall. She danced the Sugar Plum Fairy in the School of the Arts production of "The Nutcracker."

Lynn Bernhardt, Jr., of Lenoir, a music graduate with a major in percussion, will play tympani and percussion with the North Carolina Symphony next season.

Ira David Wood, son of Mrs. Betty W. Wood of Raleigh, is a drama graduate who will play Old Tom in this season's production of "The Lost Colony." For the past several seasons, he has filled the role of Sir Walter Raleigh in the outdoor drama. With the encouragement of Andy Griffith, young Wood will go to the West Coast next fall to look for further career opportunities in television or repertory.

Expectable Verdict On Assembly Legislation

It is hardly surprising that the U.S. Eastern District Court has ruled that legislation which created three largely white separate school systems in heavily black Halifax and Warren counties is unconstitutional.

The decisions were signed jointly by Judges Algernon L. Butler and John D. Larkins. It said the Legislature's action establishing the systems "violates the state's duty to effectuate a unitary system of public schools in North Carolina."

Proponents of the school systems could point to many situations outside the south where such similar divisions exist. However, the courts at present are applying desegregation rulings to areas where legal segregation once existed and that means the south.

So it could be expected that the controversial school districts in Halifax and Warren Counties would run into trouble in the federal courts.

Reagan Facing Critical Test

By ROWLANDEVANS and ROBERT NOVAK
SACRAMENTO, Cal. —

Only a threat of devastating possibilities could have made Gov. Ronald Reagan act as he did last week, breaking his accustomed regal serenity to lobby Democratic legislators for their votes.

Reagan startled idlers in state capitol corridors early in the week by emerging from the splendid isolation of his office to take an elevator upstairs (his bodyguards in tow) and visit the offices of two Democratic assemblymen. His purpose: to break an impasse on his tax reform program. Two days later, Reagan invited two other Democratic assemblymen to his office to assure them he would somehow find extra money for education if only they passed his tax reform.

Such arm-twisting by the usually aloof governor had only one explanation: Reagan was plainly worried by a referendum proposal on next Tuesday's primary election ballot — Proposition Eight — advertised as providing property tax relief and extra school funds in one blow.

Actually, Proposition Eight is almost wholly fraudulent and would require Reagan to seek massive state tax increases. As such, it poses a visible threat to his reelection for a second term in November.

Reagan's effort to avert this has been only partially successful. He did convince enough Democrats in the Assembly to pass his tax reform package last week but not in time for Senate enactment before Tuesday's primary. Besides, voters about to swallow Proposition Eight are unlikely to be dissuaded by anything so rational as tax reform — including property tax relief and the promise of more school money — in the legislature.

As a result, chances are better than even that California voters on Tuesday will pass Proposition Eight and thereby require the state to assume 80 percent of local welfare costs and 50 percent of local school costs.

As for the political consequences, lobbyists and legislators in Sacramento have evolved this formula: "If Proposition Eight passes in '70, we have a new governor in '71."

Though this analysis is exaggerated, the governor's men are jittery. If Proposition Eight passes, Reagan must ask the legislature immediately for over $1 billion in new taxes. Democratic legislators including Assemblyman Jess Unruh, expected to win the Democratic nomination for governor Tuesday — will demand that the extra tax burden be borne by big business.

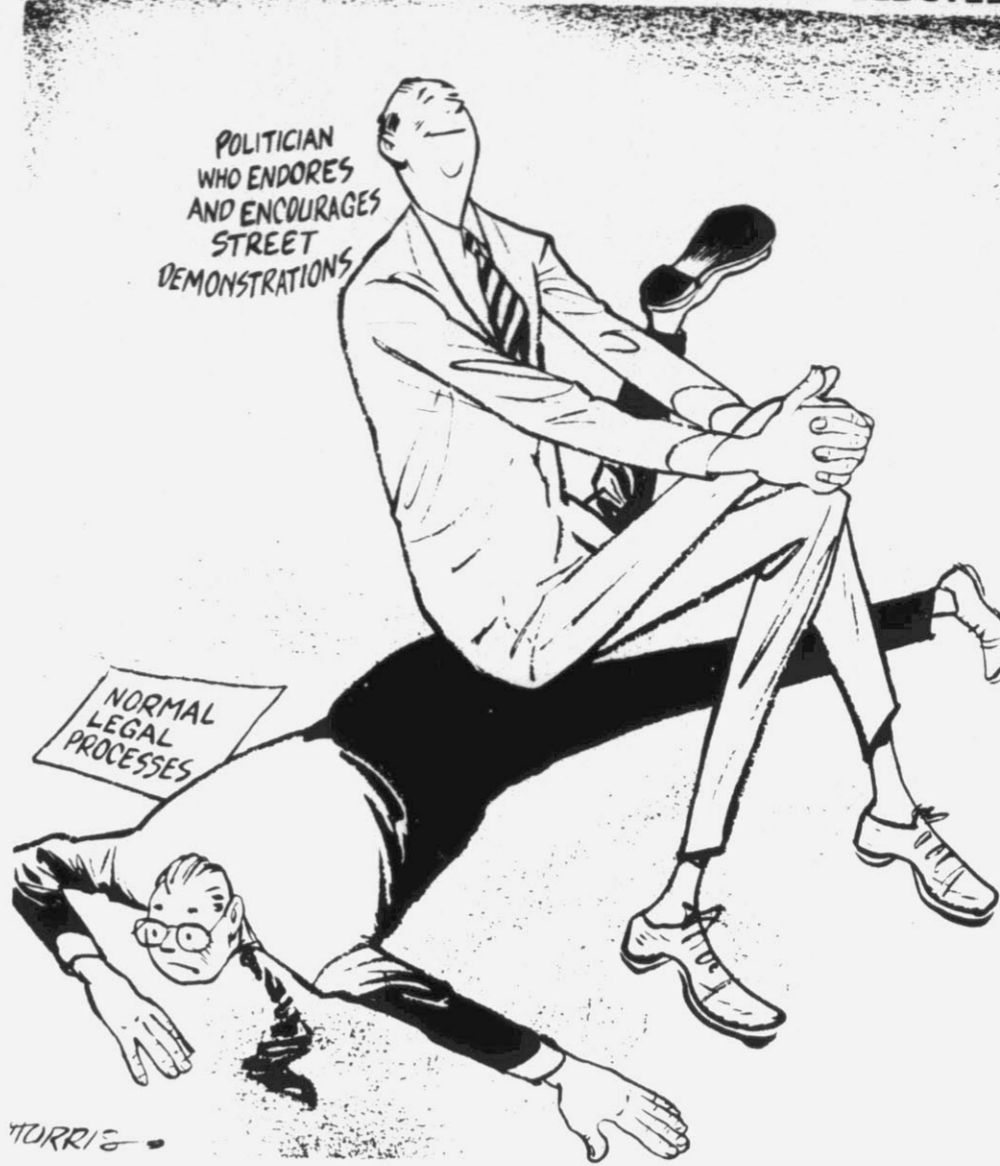

That probably will put Reagan in the untenable election-year position of asking higher taxes on the ordinary Californian. Combined with spiraling California unemployment caused by the slumping aerospace industry, this might tarnish the Reagan mystique sufficiently to make him vulnerable in November.

Such external economic factors seem the only way Reagan can be defeated. Unruh's campaign so far, though apparently sufficient to defeat Mayor Sam Yorty of Los Angeles in the primary, is disappointingly bland. Contrary to prejudices of the increasingly leftist state Democratic party, Reagan's hard line against campus disorders remains popular. His statewide television address announcing the temporary closing of the University of California was another masterpiece.

Given those realities, Proposition Eight is the most important vote in Tuesday's election. Whittaker & Baxter, an old Republican-oriented

Raw Meat On The Table

WASHINGTON — Probably the most misunderstood person in the Nixon Administration is Vice President Spiro T. Agnew. Everyone believes that just because he attacks the press and TV media twice a week, Agnew is hostile to the communications people. But this is not the case. I have it from a reliable source that Agnew finds no pleasure in his work, and is constantly hoping that the President will give him something important to do.

My source, who claimed to be so close to the Vice President that he had once been hit in the head by a volley ball Agnew was trying to serve, told me "The Vice President is as upset as anybody about having to take after the Eastern Establishment press in every speech." "Then why does he do it?" I asked. "They make him do it." "Who does?" "The Republican fund raisers. It's money in the bank." "I don't understand." "Well, take his speech in Houston last week. It was a $500-a-plate dinner. When a guy shells out that kind of money, he doesn't want to hear the same old stuff about how well the President is doing with the war and the economy. The contributor knows that already. He wants some raw meat on that $500-plate."

"You mean Mr. Agnew is supposed to supply the raw meat?"

"Exactly. He has to get the juices flowing or those people will just keep their hands in their pockets. Let us suppose you were a Texan and you had just paid $1,000 for your wife and yourself. What could possibly make a dinner of that kind worthwhile?"

"An attack on the New York Times, the Washington Post and the three television networks!"

"Of course. And, if you throw in the students and the professors for dessert, you've given those Texans a helluva meal."

"You can say that again," I said.

"It's no accident the Vice President always uses a Republican fund-raising dinner to take off on the communications media," he said.

"Why doesn't he attack the Democrats? Surely the Republicans would enjoy that?"

"Not half as much as they enjoy him knocking the media. The people in the White House who writes his speeches know what raw meats works and what raw meat doesn't work at a fund raiser. One chunk out of CBS' hide is worth 10 bites out of Sen. Fulbright's."

"Then you mean all the Vice President is doing when he attacks the press is raising money for the Republicans?"

"Of course. Mr. Agnew loves the press. Some of his best friends are newspapermen. He reads the Washington Post and New York Times religiously every morning. You don't think he'd read those papers if he didn't like them. He watches ABC, NBC and CBS every night. Surely he wouldn't watch the news on television if he thought it was slanted."

"I never thought of that." "You must understand a Vice President's job is not an easy one. There isn't much for him to do except raise money for his party."

"But isn't the Vice President finding it hard to say something new about the media after speaking to so many dinners?"

"He's finding it harder all the time. That's why in Houston he started to attack people by name, instead of just the publications they worked for."

"I noticed that," I said. "And I, frankly, was very disappointed."

"Why?" "Well, if he was going to start attacking columnists by name, I was hoping he would do it alphabetically."

Public Forum

To The Editor: If I wanted something for nothing done for me, I would gladly go to council meetings. Especially if I owned property in Downtown Greenville.

Let's let the Honorable Mayor Wooten attend to the citizens' welfare of this fine city. We have the most wonderful people in the world living right here, but they cannot continue to feed their families and lead a reasonable decent way of life, if they are taxed to death for individual businessmen profits.

Even if the federal government DOES provide the majority of the capital to be spent on renovating Downtown Greenville, who has to pay for the rise in their Federal Income Taxes? or perhaps City taxes too?

Mayor Wooten is the only attorney in the City Government, except the appointed City Attorney. With his past experience as our State Representative, should we be stupid enough to follow the minority group, who favor us renovating THEIR buildings??

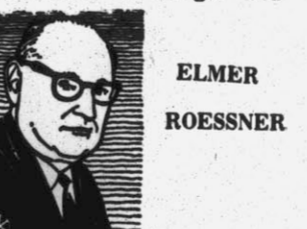

I don't believe we were taxed to pay for Pitt Plaza, Kings, Colonial Heights, Clarks, West End Shopping nor will we be taxed for another shopping center, that I heard was interested in locating here in the Greenville area.

We need a man who will stand up for the citizens and not the minority, who — in my opinion — want Downtown Businesses renovated, a thing they should really do for themselves.

Licensed Industry Vs. Bootleg

By ELMER ROESSNER
Bootlegging is one of the bigger industries in the United States, turning out more than 36 million gallons of mountain dew a year. The tax alone on that much production of illegal and untaxed hooch would be half a billion dollars. The moonshine industry, unlike most others, has no trade association, no publications, no lobbyists. Therefore, to get information on the industry it is necessary to turn to the moonshiners' competitors, the tax-paying makers and mongers of alcoholic beverages. The Licensed Beverages Industries Inc. has published a 34-page booklet, "Moonshine: Public Enemy," exposing, denouncing and plain raising hell with their competitors. The figures cited are largely based on 1968 records; the 1969 figures are not yet available.

Heavy Producers The booklet declares that the heaviest production of bootleg booze occurs in what it called the "moonshine belt." By coincidence, this area is often referred to in other fields as "the Bible belt." It consists of the states of Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, Mississippi, North Carolina, Oklahoma, South Carolina, Tennessee, Virginia and West Virginia.

It comments: "These states which have the heaviest Dry population produce 90 per cent of the illegal liquor in the United States. For example, Alabama, 25.6 per cent dry;

Arkansas, 43 per cent; Georgia, 57.3 per cent; Kentucky 49.7 per cent; Mississippi, 30.3 per cent; North Carolina, 41.2 per cent; Tennessee, 51 per cent dry. "While Texas is 39.7 per cent dry, this state is an exception, with almost no moonshine production because legal spirits can be obtained in Mexico at nominal costs."

White - Ribbon States The organization also lists Alaska, Nevada, New Mexico, Colorado, Wyoming, the Dakotas, Kansas, Iowa, Vermont, New Hampshire and Maine as states with no bootleg activities.

The booklet asserts that 13,065 stills were destroyed by federal, state and local agents in a year, and that a total of $506,000,000 was lost to federal, state and local treasuries because the moonshiners don't pay taxes on their home-made stuff.

Money Is The Spur

By FENTON WHEELER
Associated Press Writer
ARANJUEZ, Spain (AP) — Sebastian Palomo, known as Linarse, is a quiet young man. He has a haircut like a Spanish burro, wary eyes and an income five times that of the president of the United States.

Dripping wet, he might weigh 105 pounds. He rides like a cowboy, greets women with courtesy and has a country-boy smile. At times his voice fades, but not his nerve.

He is one of the new breed of Spanish bullfighters—young men after fame and money, much more money than his predecessors. At 21 he has enough to retire on. Yet 100 afternoons a year he and the others are hooked on proving something on the sand of bullrings from Caerres to Caracas.

Linares symbolizes the atmosphere, if not the youth, of modern Spain: the urge for money complicated by tradition.

"I will quit when they throw me out," he says. It is not clear whether he means the bulls or the fans.

Nobody would expect him to quit. After all, he has made it big and there is saying that Spain has two roads to success: politics and bullfighting.

He has a $300,000 house. Below it are 1,400 fertile acres with his workers, his private bull ring and his fighting bulls.

Linares, who took his ring name from the town of Linares in Jaen Province, got into the business more or less legitimately. He began at 15 in the tests for beginners called the "fights of opportunity" in the suburbs of Madrid.

At 16, Linares was a matador. He takes unnecessary chances. This sells bullfighting in modern Spain, the experts say. Linares averages about $11,000 a fight, two bulls an afternoon.

Linares has a scar running down his mouth, from a bull in Colombia.

At home he acts like a man who intends to live for years. While his house with 14 bedrooms is being finished, he sometimes sleeps at the undistinguished house of the cousin of his manager in the undistinguished town of Alameda de la Sagra. It respects his desire for peace. The town bar has a photo of him in the ring at age 10 but he can enter and drink wine without being disturbed. At his ranch he seems more interested in the young pigs and the strawberry and asparagus crops than in his swimming pool.

The third son of a shoemaker, Linares plans to move some of his seven brothers and sister into his new house.

He expresses worry about the future of bullfighting in Spain. The bulls are just as tough, just as big and just as mean as in the past, he says. Bulls no longer kill 20 horses an afternoon—the horses are well padded now—but the danger is still there, he contends.

Talking like a businessman, he says shaved horns, improperly prepared bulls and crooked promoters are not the principal problems.

"The prices of tickets are too high," he says. And he complains that Spanish youth don't get a chance to appreciate bullfighting.

"Youths 14 and under can't enter a plaza of toros, but they can go to movies to see violence and death."

Strength For Today

FIRST THINGS FIRST
If we are going to be happy in life we have to remember how to put first thing first and keep them there. If we think more of furniture, curtains and wallpaper than we do of persons who happen to live under the same roof with us, then the place in which we live is not a home but a house. Things do not come out right under such circumstances, and we should not be amazed when this happens.

Jesus commanded his disciples, saying "Seek ye first the kingdom of God and his righteousness." The kingdom of God means the rule of God. God forgives us for any sin we commit save the sin of being unwilling to put Him first and keep Him first. Also, we must put righteous living before success, character before reputation, the approbation of God before the applause of the world. The cheers of the crowd can quickly turn into jeers. The colleague of today may be the opponent of tomorrow. It would be pleasing if things went along smoothly every day and without a hitch. Or would it? We would have no moral stamina unless we had to stand up at times and fight temptation. We would be colorless and ineffective unless we had certain dispositions we find in our own hearts and in the hearts and lives of other people. Jesus made it plain that we are never to hate people, but we are to hate certain things that people do — certain things that we do, also.

Proportion and balance are to be classed with life's precious treasures. God does not intend life to be easy for us but to be significant.

Offers Drug 'Cool Line' Information

RALEIGH (AP) — Parents, teen-agers and other North Carolinians who have questions about drugs will be able to get the answers over a new "cool line" created by Gov. Bob Scott.

Scott announced Thursday that the line is "intended to provide information that may help solve drug abuse problems, and hopefully to prevent some."

He stressed that it will not be a "hot line." Scott said, "It is not intended to be a crisis service. Calls from persons who need immediate help will be referred to local hospitals or other agencies."

The number will be 829-3322 in Raleigh, and collect calls will not be accepted. The line will be open 24 hours a day.

It will be manned by staff members of the North Carolina Legislative Study Commission on the Use of Illegal and Harmful Drugs.

When a staff member is not present, a recording device will instruct the caller how to leave a question.

"When staff members cannot answer questions, they will turn to consultants in several fields who are well qualified to answer them," Scott said.

Housing Is Panel Topic

"Housing in North Carolina" is the scheduled program on "TOPIC" presented at 10 p.m., Tuesday, by WNCT-TV, Channel 9, Greenville.

This is the third in a series of programs designed to probe the problems confronting North Carolina communities.

G. Irvin Aldridge, Director of the Department of Local Affairs, R. Peyton Woodson, III, Chairman of the Board of Directors of the North Carolina Housing Commission, and Joe Eagles, Executive Director of the State Housing Corporation, will be on a panel moderated by East Carolina University President Leo W. Jenkins and WNCT News Director Ed Fields.

The panel will discuss housing problems facing North Carolina, efforts being made by the State to correct these problems facing North Carolina, efforts being made by the State to correct these problems and the effect the North Carolina Housing Corporation will have on individual attempts to build or buy homes at the low - moderate income level.

Award For NCSU Unit

RALEIGH — The North Carolina State University Student Chapter of American Society of Mechanical Engineers and one of its members have received the top student awards in the ASME Dixie Region.

The NCSU chapter is recipient of the society's Bendix Award, presented annually to the outstanding student chapter among the 11 in the nine - state region.

The NCSU chapter received the award for its outstanding programs and projects during the 1969-70 academic year that helped to enhance the professional development of mechanical engineering students. A check of $100 and a bronze plaque were presented with the citation.

Roy Fleming, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Fleming of Raleigh, won first place for his presentation in the Dixie Region's student technical paper competition.

J. David Mobley of Winterville, president of the NCSU chapter, said the NCSU chapter also won a $25 award for having the best student attendance record for the year.

political public relations firm, has managed the campaign for it. Harry Lerner, an old Democratic operative who wrote Gov. Pat Brown's speeches against Reagan in 1966, is masterminding Proposition Eight in Southern California. School teachers are propagandizing their students to get their parents to vote for it.

But Proposition Eight would have no chance were it not for the non-compromising style of Ronald Reagan. His refusal to meet liberal Republican legislators halfway during his first three years as governor delayed property tax relief, creating the climate for Proposition Eight.

The bidding:
 South West North East
 1♥ Pass 2♥ Pass
 4♥ Pass Pass Pass

Opening lead: Jack of ♠ South, the declarer at four hearts, did not take the proper measures to protect his weak suit from a direct assault and shortly found himself saddled with a lost cause.

West opened the jack of spades, the queen was played from dummy and East won the trick with the ace. The latter promptly shifted to a low club and the defense promptly cashed two more tricks in that suit to complete their book. West exited with the ten of spades and the declarer obtained a diamond sluff on the spade king, he was left with a losing diamond and he ultimately conceded himself to be set down by one.

South was in position to assure his contract by means of a simple—if rather unorthodox play. All he has to do is duck West's opening lead. Observe that if West is permitted to win the first trick with the jack of spades, South's club holding is preserved from a direct assault.

If West continues with a second spade, declarer ruffs away East's ace and after drawing trump, he can discard a club on North's established queen of spades. He loses, in all, one spade, one diamond and one club.

East cannot profit by overtaking the jack of spades with the ace at trick one, for even tho a club shift nets two more tricks, the defense is finished because South now has two diamond discards available on the king and queen of spades.

Declarer's main concern should have been to protect his club holding from attack, and it would have behooved him to make his opponents pay a high price for accomplishing that objective.

Stock And Market Reports

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market continued drifting lower early this afternoon in moderately active trading.

At noon the Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was off 5.82 to 678.33.

Analysts said the decline was due to profit taking, which they called normal after the market's meteoric rise in the previous two sessions.

They pointed out that the market was putting up some resistance to the profit taking, and advances still maintained a narrow lead over declines. Earlier, they had been ahead by 2 to 1.

Many investors were taking a three-day holiday weekend, which could account for the reduced profit-taking pressure, analysts said.

Airlines, rails, metals, motors, rubber issues, and mail order-retails were generally lower. Steels, aircrafts, electronics, and chemicals were mixed, while oils and utilities were higher.

Big blocks included 140,000 shares of R. R. Donnelly at 15 1/2, off 1/2, and 115,900 of Petrolane at 29 1/2, off 3.

Prices on the American Stock Exchange were fractionally higher. The Amex price change index at noon was up .01 to 20.37, and advances led declines by a large margin.

Florida State Nips Bucs In NCAA

GASTONIA, N.C. May 29 — AND A SEMINOLE BITES THE DUST — Florida State University's Harry Saferight is out as he bites the dust in a head-long slide into second base during Thursday's game against East Carolina University in the NCAA Baseball playoffs. Making the tag is East Carolina's Dennis Vick (14). Florida State won 2-0. (AP Wirephoto)

By WOODY PEELE
Reflector Sports Editor
 Gastonia — Florida State University got a two-hit performance from their ace Gene Ammann to take a 2-0 victory over the East Carolina University Pirates yesterday. The victory sent the Seminoles into the winners bracket of the NCAA District 3 regionals here, while the Bucs drop into the losers bracket.

Florida State will face Maryland, the winner of their contest with Mississippi State played Thursday night. East Carolina, facing an uphill battle in the regionals, will play Mississippi State this afternoon.

The Bucs got fine pitching from Ron Hastings, who absorbed his second loss of the season in the game. One of the runs came in the sixth after a ball fell in for a double, and the other came on three straight hits in the ninth inning.

The result lifted Hastings' earned run average up to 0.56 for the season.

Ammann hurled a fine game in collecting the win. He struck out seven, and walked three. He didn't let a Pirate get beyond second base and only two Bucs made it that far.

The contest was almost a replay of the 2-1 match between the two teams two years ago. That time, however, the Bucs came away with a win. Then, two days later, the Pirates lost to Florida State 3-2, in the semi-finals of the tournament.

Hastings ran into some rocky trouble in the early part of the game, loading the bases with none out in the second inning, only to get out of it. The Bucs played almost flawless ball behind him, committing only one error and coming up with three double plays. Florida State committed two miscues and made one double play.

The Seminoles got a mild threat going in the first inning when Hastings walked leadoff batter Dick Nichols. He moved down to second on an infield out, but stayed the rest of the frame there.

Then, in the second, it appeared Hastings was headed for disaster as he walked the first two batters and the next reached on an error. But the Hardy right-hander fanned the next batter, and the next, Ammann, grounded into a double play to finish the threat.

Hastings set down the Seminoles down in order the next three innings, although one reached in the fourth. He went down on a fielder's choice, and the remaining runner was cut down stealing.

John Grubb followed that up with a single through the middle but was easily cut down stealing.

But in the sixth, Florida State finally broke Hastings' luck. Leadoff batter Nichols lofted what appeared to be an easy fly ball to right. But the wind caught the ball and carried it just beyond Hal Baird's reach, and it fell in for a double. Greg Schnute grounded out, but the play served to move Nichols down to third.

John Grubb followed that up with a single through the middle, easily scoring Nichols with all FSU really needed. The Bucs again stayed out of trouble in the next two innings, but the Seminoles got their insurance run in the top of the ninth. With one out, Grubb hit a slow roller that just got by Skip Taylor and was too deep for Dennis Vick to handle between first and second. He stole second, and came over when Ron Cash lined a ball just past shortstop Dick Corrao, who made a diving try for the ball. Cash was thrown out stealing, and Larry Cocks singled, only to be thrown out as he also was caught stealing.

The chances for the Pirates were few and far between. Baird picked up one of the two hits in the first inning, but never got beyond first. A double play halted the Bucs in the second, and one of their two runners to reach second arrived in the third. Stan Sneeden walked and was sacrificed to second by Hastings.

Baird reached again on an error in the fourth, but was caught stealing. Another baserunner in the sixth was out stealing, too.

Baird walked to lead off the seventh and this time stole successfully, but again couldn't reach third. Mike Aldridge got the second Pirate hit in the eighth, but was picked off first after he strayed too far off on a bunt attempt.

Ammann, in picking up his 13th victory of the season, surpassed two FSU records in strikeouts, for a career, 293, and for a season with 132.

Now the Bucs must come back if they are to have any chance at all at the title. Baird is expected to get the call for mound duty in Friday's game, and a loss for the Bucs would mean their elimination from the tournament.

Lloyd Ruby Will Start His 11th Indianapolis 500 on Saturday

By LLOYD RUBY
 Written for
 The Associated Press
 INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Saturday will be the 11th time

I've started the Indy 500. It's the greatest event in racing... the biggest challenge.

This is my twenty-second year as a driver, and I enjoy running the 500 more than all the other races put together.

The crowd, and everything else surrounding the race, really gets you going. I guess football coaches call it getting fired up. I'll guarantee you when Tony Hulman says "Gentlemen, start your engines," the old heart will be running flat-out already.

It's hard to describe the tremendous feeling I get during the race. It's better'n hooking a 10-pound bass on a lazy day. Next to racing, I think fishing is the greatest thrill in the world... when they're biting.

You feel like there's more to run for at Indy. Aside from the money, the crowd affects everybody... makes you run harder.

I don't think anybody would feel like running 500 miles at the speed you have to run here if there were only three or four thousand people watching.

You feel like there's more to run for at Indy. Aside from the money, the crowd affects everybody... makes you run harder. I don't think anybody would feel like running 500 miles at the speed you have to run here if there were only three or four thousand people watching.

Lotsa people have asked me what I think about during the race itself. Well, the race itself takes all of your attention and you don't have time to think about anything else. I try to keep my mind on the track and what kind of shape it's in. I think about how hard I've got to run to catch up to the leaders. If I'm running with them, I think about how to stay there. I don't like to abuse my equipment.

If you have to abuse yourself and your equipment, you're cutting down your odds of finishing the race, much less winning it. For about three hours, you're trying to out-think the other drivers, trying to out-

Jaycees Rally To Top R. C.

The Jaycees came up with seven runs in the fourth inning yesterday and went on to defeat R.C. Cola 9-3 in a North State Little League game.

The win gives the Jaycees a 2-4 record and R.C. dipped to 3-2. Kiwanis still is unbeaten with a 5-0 record while Coke is 2-2, Lions are 2-3, and the Optimist are 1-4.

The Jaycees jumped out to a two run lead in the second inning. Robert Walters singled and moved on around to third on two passed balls. He scored on a single by Curtis Lee. Lee also moved around on a passed ball and wild pitch and scored on a fielders choice.

R.C. rallied for three runs in the third. Buster Howard walked and Jeff Bailey was safe on a fielders choice, Howard being tagged out. Bailey stole second. David Dixon followed with a single and a double by Gordon Sutton scored Dixon and Bailey. A single by Ricky Bolonde scored Sutton.

In the fourth, the Jaycees came back with their seven runs to put the game out of reach. Drew Taylor hit a home run and Garret followed with a single. A fielders choice left one out and Walters on base. A single by Lee moved the runners up and Mel Boyd reached on an error, Walters scoring. A single by Mike Briley scored Lee and another by Bill Collier scored Boyd. Kenneth Avery sacrificed Briley in and Wayne Miller followed with a homer bringing in the two final runs.

Wilkerson No-Hits Integon

Jim Wilkerson tossed a no-hitter as the Graniteers topped Integon 11-3 in action yesterday in the Tar Heel Little League. The only damage Integon could do against the southpaw resulted from the eight walks he issued.

The win boosted the Graniteers record to 5-1 while Integon's slate slipped to 1-5. Next comes the Moose at 4-1, Pepsi at 3-2, Exchange at 2-3, and Elks at 1-4.

Reds Host All-Stars?

CINCINNATI (AP) — Only a possibility of a construction workers strike now threatens to keep the 1970 All-Star game from being held in Cincinnati.

City Manager Richard Krabach disclosed Wednesday that the Cincinnati Reds can start using the new Cincinnati Riverfront Stadium June 30 and the All-Star game can be played there July 14 unless the walkout occurs.

Representatives of a majority of building trades unions have ironed out tentative agreements for the contracts of about 12,500 workers which expire June 1 at midnight. The proposals have to be ratified however, and negotiations were continuing with other unions.

in the first inning. James Weeks led off with a single, stole second base and moved to third on an error. A sacrifice fly by Wilkerson brought in the first tally.

Four more runs were added in the third. Chris Moyer singled but was forced at second by Weeks. Weeks stole second and scored on a double by Howard Cainright. Following a walk to Wilkerson, Macon Moyer lofted a home run over the center field fence scoring three runs.

Integon came up with a run in their half of the fifth. Jack Bratton walked, stole second, and moved to third on a wild pitch. An error on the play allowed him to score their first run.

The graniteers came right back with four in their half of the inning. A single by Weeks was followed by a hit by Vainright. A double by Wilkerson scored both runners. Moyer followed with a single and Joel Clark hit a double to score Wilkerson and Moyer.

Both teams pushed across two runs in the fifth. For Integon, Jimmy Radford and John Miles walked and after double steal, Radford scored on an error and Miles followed by scoring on a throwing miscue.

A single by Chris Moyer and a two-run homer by Weeks closed out the scoring for the Graniteers in the fifth.

For the Graniteers, Weeks led the hitting with three while Vainright, Wilkerson, Macon Moyer, Clark, and Chris Moyer each had two.

Mt. Pleasant In Win Over Trinity

Mt. Pleasant swamped Trinity Methodist 24-15 last night in Church League action while Black Jack topped Gum Swamp 13-10.

The win by Mt. Pleasant gives them a 2-4 record in the National League while Trinity's record slipped to 4-3. Grace leads the division with a 6-1 record and Immanuel, Oakmont, and Piney Grove each have 4-4 marks. Black Jack's record is 4-3.

In the American division, St. James leads with a 7-0 record, followed by Trinity at 4-3, Presbyterian at 4-4, Meadowbrook at 3-4, Gum Swamp at 2-5, and First Christian at 0-8.

Mt. Pleasant scored three runs in the first inning with Worthington hitting a home run. After adding a single run in the second, they pushed across three more in the third and seven in the fourth. In the fifth, Mt. Pleasant added three runs and finished the night with a seven run explosion in the sixth.

Trinity scored seven runs in the third to make the game close and added four in the fourth and two in the seventh but the damage had already been done by Mt. Pleasant.

Nobles led Mt. Pleasant with five hits, Bullock had four, and Barnes and Parker each had three hits. For Trinity, Davis had four, and Manning had three hits.

Black Jack scored two runs in the first inning of their game to take the lead while Gum Swamp scored one. A three-run second inning gave Black Jack a cushion but Gum Swamp came back with five in the third to take the lead. In the fourth, BJ pushed across five to regain the lead and added two in the fifth and one in the sixth to take the win. Gum Swamp scored single tallies in the fifth and sixth innings and added two in the seventh.

Buck led Black Jack's attack with three followed by Mills, R. Hardee, S. Peele and McCarter with two each. Pollard led Gum Swamp with three and no one else got more than one.

Cougars Sign Davidson Star

GREENSBORO, N. C. (AP) — The Carolina Cougars of the American Basketball Association have signed Davidson College standout Jerry Kroll, a 6-foot-4 guard.

Cougar General Manager Don DeJardin said at a news conference Thursday, "Jerry may be that big guard we've been seeking."

He was a first-team All-Southern Conference selection during his junior year and was on the second-team his senior year.

Kroll, a 21-year-old pre-law major from Houston, Tex., was drafted by the Indiana Pacers of the ABA and the Cougars acquired rights to negotiate with him from Indiana. He was picked by the Los Angeles Lakers in the sixth round of the NBA draft.

NORTH MYRTLE BEACH, S.C. (AP) — Curtis Person of Memphis, Tenn., came from two strokes behind to capture the 22nd annual Western Golf Association Seniors Championship Thursday at the Robbers Roost Club with a 218.

He was two over par with a 74 in the final 18-hole round of the three-day tournament.

Tiant Pitches, Hits in Twin Win

By TOM SALADINO
Associated Press Sports Writer
The Minnesota Twins acquired Luis Tiant for his pitching ability but the hard-throwing Mexican has shone at bat too, and is making the trade with the Cleveland Indians look like the steal of the year. The 29-year-old unbeaten right-hander rolled to his sixth consecutive victory Thursday and contributed three hits and three runs batted in as the Twins socked Milwaukee 11-2. In the only other American League contest, Oakland blanked California 2-0. In National League play, Philadelphia edged Montreal 5-3 in 11 innings, San Francisco nipped Los Angeles 4-3, St. Louis rocked the New York Mets 9-2 and Chicago beat Pittsburgh 8-7. Tiant, who raised his average to .434, led Minnesota's 16-hit attack against five Brewers pitchers, stroking a run-scoring single in Minnesota's four-run second and a two-run single in a four-run fourth as the Twins raced to an 11-0 edge.

Tiant, however, was forced to leave in the eighth inning with a tight shoulder muscle after giving the Brewers eight hits and both their runs.

Last year was a nightmare for the Mexico City native, who pitched ineffectively and wound up losing 20 games while winning only nine. His earned run average ballooned to 2.84 from his 1968 league-leading mark of 1.60 when he had a 21-9 record.

During the winter, Tiant along with right-hander Stan Williams were sent to the Twins for Dean Chance, Bob Miller, Graig Nettles and Ted Uhlaender.

The trade has been a great one for Minnesota to this point.

Tiant has a 6-0 mark and 3.11 ERA while Williams, in 19 relief appearances, is also unbeaten at 4-0.

On the Cleveland side of the ledger, Chance, sidelined most of last year by injuries while compiling a 5-4 record, is only 1-5 while Miller, a reliever, is 1-2.

Nettles, an infielder-outfielder, is hitting only .145 with centerfielder Uhlaender at .267.

And those statistics help to back up the standings of each club.

The Twins, leaders in the West Division of the AL, have a 29-12 record and are 2½ games in front of California. Cleveland, at 14-26 is last in the East, 15½ in back of Baltimore's front-runners.

Tony LaRussa, a second baseman recalled from the minors a week ago, rapped a two-run double in the seventh inning for the A's giving Chuck Dobson all the support he needed.

Dobson, 5-4, struck out three Angels and didn't walk a batter as he limited California to six singles.

Tony Taylor cracked a pair of solo homers but it was Terry Harmon's sacrifice fly in the 11th inning that gave the Phils their fourth straight victory and sent the skidding Expos to their fifth loss in a row.

Taylor's first homer tied the contest at 3-3 in the seventh and he followed Larry Bowa's triple and pinch hitter Harmon's fly ball with his second roundtrip-er.

The Expos scored all three runs in the second inning off Phils' starter Grant Jackson. Ron Stone had a two-run double for Philadelphia in the sixth.

Dick Dietz cracked a homer in the bottom of the ninth, giving the Giants their victory after the Dodgers had tied it in the top of the inning at 3-3 on Jim Lefebvre's run-scoring single.

Bobby Bonds and Ken Henderson also cracked homers for the Giants and winner Gaylord Perry, 7-5. Reliever Jim Brewer, who served up Dietz' 10th circuit of the season, was the loser.

Joe Hague drove in five runs with a homer and three singles behind Bob Gibson's strong 11-strikeout pitching in the Cards' triumph. Rich Allen contributed three hits to the winners' attack, who knocked out Mets' starter and loser Jim McAndrew in a four-run first inning.

Jim Hickman's two-run homer, his second blast of the game, gave the Cubs their victory.

Hickman's first two-run shot had tied the contest at 6-6 but the Pirates went in front 7-6 in the eighth on Matty Alou's RBI single before Hickman stroked his 10th homer of the year, his fifth in six games.

Cleo James had a solo belt for Chicago while Bob Robertson homered for the Pirates.

Little Mint, Foodmart, Nat. Products In Wins

The Little Mint downed Coke 26-2 last night in Ladies League action. In other games, Food Mart defeated Wachovia 11-6, and National Products topped Bob's Atlantic 10-1.

National Products and Little Mint each have 3-0 records, followed by Food Mart at 2-1, Bob's Atlantic at 1-2, and Coke and Wachovia at 0-3.

The Little Mint scored eight runs in the first inning to give them more than they needed and added five more in the second. Two more in the third, one in the fourth, four in the sixth and five in the seventh frame made up their scoring. Coke was able to score two runs in the sixth for their only markers.

National Products got all they needed in the first inning with three runs. After adding three more in the second, Bob's Atlantic came up with one in the third. A single run in the fifth and three more in the sixth finished up the scoring.

A five-run second inning put the Ford Mart on top and they went on from there to gain their second win of the season. After adding three runs in the third, Wachovia came up with three. Single tallies were also made in the second, fifth and sixth inning for their scoring. Food Mart closed out with two in the fifth and one in the sixth.

Doris Hancock and Betty Wilson both hit homers for Food Mart in the second inning.

Fenney To Testify In Anti-Trust Suit

NEW YORK (AP) — Curt Flood's $3 million antitrust suit against baseball started a weekend recess today with Chub Fenney, president of the National League, preparing to take the witness stand next.

Fenney will testify Monday when the trial moves into its eighth day.

Commissioner Bowie Kuhn completed his testimony Thursday and repeated an earlier stand that adoption of pro football's option system would be "very damaging" because of the possibility of tampering.

Pro football allows a player to become a free agent after playing out an option season. He is free to make his own deal once his option lapses and should he sign with another team, his old club receives another player as compensation.

Jay Topkis, one of Flood's attorneys, asked Kuhn why the system could not be adopted to baseball.

"It is inevitable," said Kuhn, "that any system such as professional football uses has the danger of tampering. I want baseball to be free of any damage."

Flood, former St. Louis outfielder who refused to report to Philadelphia after being traded last winter, is challenging baseball's reserve system which binds a player to one club for life unless he is traded, sold or released.

Kuhn also testified that collective bargaining between players and owners was the best way to affect changes in the reserve system that Flood is challenging.

The commissioner said one of the purposes of the reserve system was to equalize competition. Baseball maintains that without such a system, rich clubs could lure all the game's stars and wipe out poorer teams.

"It hasn't been perfect," said Kuhn, "but it has moved the game over-all in that direction.

Topkis pointed out that four teams, the New York Yankees, St. Louis Cardinals, Brooklyn-Los Angeles Dodgers and New York-San Francisco Giants had won a total of 63 pennants in the last 50 years. Kuhn replied that "in the last decade the concentration of winners has diminished."

Hill Shoots 63, Leads Memphis

By BOB GREEN

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — "I'm usually a slow starter here," Dave Hill said, then flashed that impish grin.

"But this time, everybody's got problems, cause ol' Davy got off and running."

And that he did, blasting out a remarkable 63, built on a fantastic string of six holes where he cut seven strokes off par for the first-round lead in the $150,000 Danny Thomas-Memphis open golf tournament.

"It's the greens," the slim, darkly handsome Hill said Thursday. "I just putt these greens so good."

But he missed a couple that could have put him in with a 61—matching the lowest score of the year on the pro tour.

One was for an eagle from four feet on the 18th hole—he played the back nine first. The other was for a birdie from six feet on the second "and I must have been afraid I was going to shoot a good score," said Hill, who has won this event twice in the last three years.

He held a one-stroke lead over Dick Crawford, who said he had been in a slump since early in March. Crawford had a 64 with five birdies, an eagle and a single bogey.

"My best round since the Citrus (in Orlando, Fla) has been a 72," Crawford said, "and I've had a lot of 74s. But I finally managed to cut across on 'em." Veteran Jack McGowan, rookie Handy Wolff and young Hale Irvin followed at 65 with seven more at 66, including Dean Beman, Grier Jones and Homero Blancas.

The huge group at 67 included Tom Shaw, George Archer and Gene Littler as 57 players—well over one-third of the field—broke par 70.

Some of the pre-tourney favorites for the $30,000 first prize had their troubles, however, and appeared in danger of missing the cut when the field is trimmed to the low 70 and they for the final two rounds Saturday and Sunday. Lee Trevino had a 73, Tony Jacklin a 71 and Frank Beard and U.S. Open champion Orville Moody matched par 70.

Arnold Palmer, Jack Nicklaus, Gary Player and Billy Casper are not competing.

Hill, a 33-year-old veteran of 12 years on the pro tour who came into his own last year, had seven birdies, an eagle and two bogeys "when my favorite club, a six iron, spit at me a couple of times." That was on the 12th and third when he bogeyed from traps.

Hill, a product of the caddy ranks who has drawn his share of suspensions and fines for his overly candid pronouncements, started his assault on par on the 13th hole of the short, 6,455-yard, par-70 Colonial Country Club course.

He reached the par five in two and two-putted from 18 feet, then ran in birdie putts of 25 and 18 feet on the next two holes, and canned a 12-foot eagle putt after two big hits on the par five 16th. He put a six iron five feet from the flag on the 17th and missed another eagle from four feet on the next.

Some Won't Face Label Of Criminal

RALEIGH (AP) — The North Carolina correction commissioner V. Lee Bounds, say drug offenders and political activists who consider themselves "victims of a social mistake . . . martyrs" are disrupting the state's prison system.

"We are getting people who are highly intelligent and educated," Bounds told the Correction Commission Thursday.

"When you put (these) in an inmate - controlled system, we have a most volatile situation," he said.

Earn Award For Beautification

Greenville's Sadie Sautler Elementary School has been Awarded the Silver Award of the Governor's Beautification Program, signed by Governor Bob Scott and Superintendent of Public Instruction Dr. Craig Phillips.

Johnson E. Spruill, principal of Sadie Sautler, received the certificate on behalf of the school. Also received was a letter of congratulations from the office of the superintendent, noting that "the response that has come from schools of North Carolina has been most gratifying . . . it provided excellent citizenship training."

Bounds said some inmates serving terms for drug abuse and radical activities suffer psychological problems in facing reality. "They have a problem facing up to the fact that they have been declared a criminal by the sovereign state of North Carolina.

"In my eyes these will be treated as criminals," he added. "I don't care what the attitude of the person is. He is a criminal after going through due process of law and being convicted."

Bounds cited an example of a recently committed inmate who declared he was a political prisoner and ought to be treated as a prisoner of war under terms of the Geneva Convention. He said these are the type of people who are creating tensions in the prisons.

He said about 300 of the estimated 2,000 youthful offenders in the state prisons were sentenced for drug-related offenses.

He told the commission that penal facilities are inadequate and understaffed and that responsibilities have expanded while funds have not.

In addition, the state youth council is authorized to consider problems affecting youth and recommend solutions or approaches to these problems to state and local governments and their officials as well as promoting state - wide activities for the benefit of youth.

What is believed to have been the first bullfight in Latin America occurred in Lima, Peru, in 1858.

JIM WAS GRADUATED TODAY

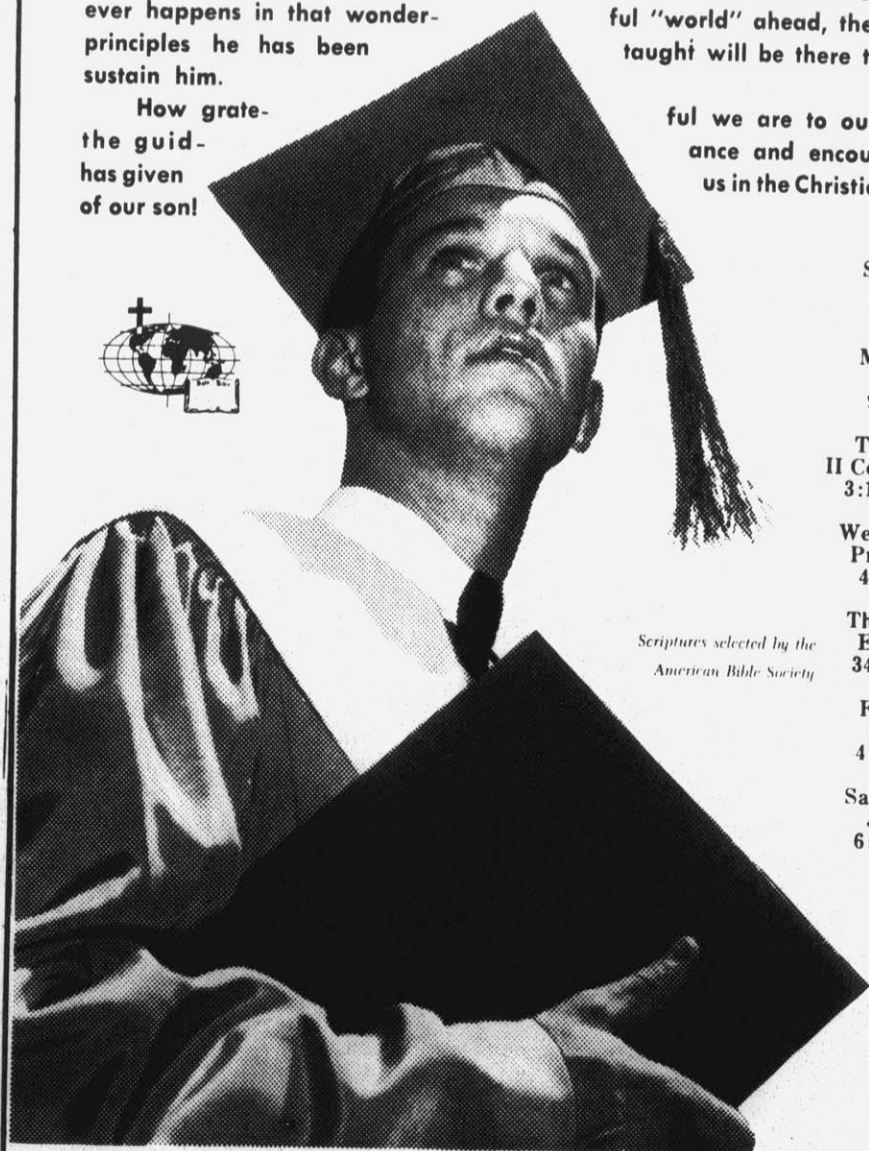

Mary and I sat on the bleachers overlooking the high school athletic field and watched him march in with his class. A bird glided overhead, and, from far off, a dog's bark and children's voices mingled on the evening air. Behind circling hills, blue mountains made a stately backdrop.

Jim avoided our glance, the habitual grin he's worn since babyhood stilled for a moment in a gaze of earnest solemnity. His first big milestone had come, and I smiled to myself remembering his eagerness to embark upon the "world of tomorrow."

I have no fears for his future . . . for Jim is a Christian. What a wonderful assurance it is to his mother and me to know that wherever he goes, whatever happens in that wonderful "world" ahead, the values and principles he has been taught will be there to guide and sustain him.

How grateful we are to our church for the guidance and encouragement it has given our son!

Worry Clinic Twig Is Bent In Early Years

Clifton Hirschman's boyhood example shows how "the twig was bent." But professional politicians soon learn to bow to the threats of well organized minorities, since the friendly majorities may fail to go to the polls. "All that is necessary for the triumph of evil," said Edmund Burke, "is that good men (and women) do nothing."

By GEORGE W. CRANE
Ph. D., M. D.

CASE N-512: Clifton Hirschman is a former prominent mattress manufacturer of Indianapolis.

His friends persuaded him to become assessor of the county that includes Indianapolis.

And he astounded many politicians by his rugged honesty and business efficiency during his 4-year term of office.

But that honesty was no accident. His parents were God-fearing folks who took their children to Sunday School and church every Sunday.

They didn't "send" their kiddies to Sunday School while they reneged by lazily remaining home to read the Sunday paper or play golf or mow the lawn.

And there was no "generation gap" in that family, either, for Clifton and his brothers were reared with a high regard for honesty and honor.

But when Clifton was about 10 years old, he grew very angry at a neighbor, whose cat had been trying to catch some of Clifton's pet pigeons.

And the peak of his ire, young Clifton decided to get even.

So he stole a bar of soap that was lying on the neighbor's back porch.

But that night his conscience bothered him so much that he couldn't sleep.

So he finally arose in the dark and sneaked over to the neighbor's house, carrying that bar of soap in his hand.

The basement window was open, so Clifton tossed the soap into the cellar, thus mollifying his conscience.

"As the twig is bent," runs an old proverb, "so will the tree be inclined."

This small episode from his youth many years ago, thus shows the caliber of the grown man.

So when Clifton Hirschman entered upon his initial job as an elected official of government, he was astonished to find how many taxpayers felt they could bribe him into reducing their assessments.

"The first years," Clifton recently informed me, "my secretary kept an exact record of the person, date and amount offered, and you may be surprised to realize it, but over 1,100 Indianapolis taxpayers had attempted to offer us an "under the table" payoff.

"And what was doubly shocking to me, they didn't even seem to feel any remorse or twinges of conscience whatsoever!

Alas, political bribery is not limited solely to a bundle of unmarked 20 ills, slipped to an official under the table.

He may also be threatened by a religious or labor leader who tells him he will be defeated at the next election unless he votes the way such a minority group demands.

And these forms of ballot-box "blackmail" are very effective, for the candidates know that the intelligent, and law-abiding folks may stay away from the polls if it is raining.

But the vociferous and often regimented minority bloc will turn out almost 100 percent, rain or shine.

And bring their relatives to the polls, too!

We newspaper columnists encounter the same opposition from dissident minorities, for though they may be only 5 percent, the 95 percent who are nominally our "fans" often say nothing.

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)
