City Budget Picture Is Shaping Up

By JERRY RAYNOR
Reflector Staff Writer

The basic outlines of Greenville's city budget for the coming fiscal year are beginning to emerge as City Manager Harry Hagerty and the City Councilmen completed round two in the budget battle at a four hour meeting last night.

Based on a number of suggested adjustments—most of them reductions with some deletions and a few additions—Hagerty came up with a budget which would provide for $2,293,003.76 in anticipated revenues with estimated expenditures of $2,262,719.36.

If this general outline can be maintained in later workshops, it would of course show a credit margin of $30,284.40 in the proposed budget.

The consensus of the city manager and the councilmen is that every effort will be made to keep the current $1.54 tax per $100 valuation in effect for another year.

Hagerty explained at the beginning of the session that he was basing his suggested adjustments on the basis of the current $1.54 tax base.

A look at adjustments considered show: (These all represent reductions in original budget estimates or complete deletion of items, unless otherwise noted).

—Mayor and City Council — Reduction in proposed purchase of council chairs, carpet, etc. for a total of $940.

—City Manager — Omit support to Redevelopment Commission's Neighborhood Organization program, Citizens Advisory Council, and Workable Program preparation assistance, $4,992; Assistant City Manager for only six months, to give a minus of $5,100; long range study, $2,500; other items for a total of $625.

—City Clerk and Tax Collector — New employees working for the tax collector, $12,540. (This salary item would be added to prior years' taxes to be collected); new automobile, $1,700 (with an added item of $500 to pay the tax collector for the use of his personal car); parking lot rental, minus $2,000; other items, $800.

—Building and grounds — A total of eight suggested adjustments for items such as utilities, janitor supplies, painting, deletion of voting booths, etc. amounting to $3,400.

—City Engineer — Cuts in office supplies and deletion of proposed map cabinets, $600.

—Police Department — Reducing the originally proposed addition of eight men to a new proposal to hire only four new men for the force, with a consequent adjustment of $11,512; motor fuel, $1,000; uniforms for reserves, $500; In the capital outlay expenses — automobiles, $11,000; radio equipment, $7,200; and traffic control devices $2,500.

—Fire Department — As in the police department, first estimates had shown a provision for hiring eight additional men. With a suggested reduction from the originally proposed eight to hiring four new men, this will result in a savings of $10,464; other items are travel and education $500; janitor and office supplies; general supplies and beds, totaling $550; and in the matter of the ladder truck for which some $61,000 will be due, a reduction from this year's budget of $40,000 by proposing a four year payment plan.

—Rescue Department — Volunteers' uniforms, minus $800. Adjustments considered in the Public Works Department, the largest city government

Railroad Facility Struck By Blaze

By STUART SAVAGE
Reflector Staff Writer

Fire destroyed much of the Seaboard Coastline Railroad's warehouse facilities here and damaged a storage building at Third Street School last night.

Fire units were called to the school at 9:32 p.m. after responding to a false alarm from Box 72 at Sadie Sautler School on Fleming Street about an hour earlier at 8:36 p.m.

Responding fire units found a storage building at the Third Street facility engulfed in flames. The small building sustained heavy damage and much of the material stored there was destroyed.

Greenville school officials said insurance coverage on the building listed its value at $5,000 and listed the value of its contents at $5,000.

City school superintendent Dr. C.C. Cleetwood said he would consider the building and its contents a total loss.

While firemen were still at the scene of the school fire, the SCL fire was reported, and firemen and trucks sped to the train depot. That was reported at 10 p.m.

When firemen arrived, the entire south end of the main SCL depot was ablaze.

Although the intense heat from the fire caught a second SCL storage building — separated from the first by a wide alleyway — firemen were able to halt the spread of flames in both buildings before they were destroyed.

The main office and storage facility is some 30 feet wide by 440 feet long while the second building to catch fire was about 24 feet wide by 300 feet long.

SCL officials this morning indicated that about 90 feet of the main building will be salvaged and renovated to provide an office area of about 30 feet and a 60-foot long storage warehouse. The remainder of that structure and the second storage shed will be torn down and abandoned.

Railway officials, who said they were unable to estimate the loss to their buildings, reported that about $1,000 worth of merchandise was lost.

In addition to the railway company's loss, Bilbro Wholesale Co. and Branch Tile Co. suffered losses in the fire. Both firms had merchandise stored in rented space in the two warehouses.

Branch Tile officials estimated their loss at $8,000 while Bilbro officials set their loss at about $25,000.

Bilbro material stored in the warehouse included mostly paper goods, tin, heaters, anti freeze and salt. Branch Tile used their space for storage of cement and marble chips.

Greenville fire officials listed the cause of both fires as "undetermined" but said an investigation is under way.

One railway official said he had been told that several youths had been seen playing with matches in the area sometime before the fire erupted.

Firemen from several fire departments in the county volunteered their services to help combat the blaze and pumpers from Farmville, Winterville and Bethel were also on hand.

City Officials Taking Charge Of Follow-Up Census In Greenville

The City Council and Mayor Frank M. Wooten last night agreed to be responsible for taking charge of a follow-up census count of Greenville citizens.

Okay Public Works Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — A $5.24 billion public works bill stressing construction of municipal waste treatment plants and improvement of water quality was approved today by the House Appropriations Committee.

Subject to House consideration next week, it would provide financing for the fiscal year starting July 1 for the Army Engineer Corps, the Bureau of Reclamation, the Tennessee Valley Authority, the Atomic Energy Commission and several other agencies.

In a report accompanying the bill, the committee approved "the concept that mankind can find a reasonable balance between the demands of the natural environment and those of its own man-made environment."

Congress Asked For Emergency Govm't Money

WASHINGTON (AP) — Faced by one of the worst appropriation jams in history, Congress was asked today to provide limited emergency financing for the entire government for the year starting July 1.

The financing was called for in a resolution sent to the House floor by the Appropriations Committee. It would be a one-month measure but could be expected to be extended month by month.

The appropriation crisis stems from the fact that not one of the 14 annual money bills has cleared Congress and none is likely to become law before the new government year starts next month.

NEAR DEATH

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — Former President Sukarno was reported near death today. "It is only a matter of time now," said one of the relatives.

Exact arrangements for efforts to include any citizen who may have been missed by the official census takers earlier this year have not been firmed up. In general, census forms will be made available through the city hall for persons who were not included in the 1970 headcount in Greenville. City officials will take steps to gather these and forward them to census officials at the state headquarters.

Harold Creech, manager of Chamber of Commerce and Merchants Association, several days ago expressed surprise the census results released as unofficial figures did not show a greater increase. Others in Greenville have also stated a belief residents may have been missed in the census headcount.

In Wilson, officials have publicly voiced grave concern over the first returns. Preliminary figures released by the Census Bureau for that city showed a gain of only 600 over the past decade. Rocky Mount and Tarboro city officials have also reportedly been concerned about what is considered low population readings given them by census takers this spring.

Anyone in Greenville who has missed being tallied is asked to contact the office of the city manager for further instructions in assuring they will be included in the Greenville count.

Hunt Killer Of VISTA Worker

MARSHALL, N. C. (AP)—An intensive investigation of the slaying of a young VISTA worker whose nude body was found early Wednesday in her government-owned car is being continued by state, local and federal authorities.

The victim, Nancy Morgan, 24, of Baton Rouge, La., had her hands and feet bound behind her back and her face bound by part of her clothing when she was found. A nylon cord was deeply imbedded in her neck.

NANCY MORGAN

Dr. R. Page Hudson, North Carolina's chief medical examiner, conducted a preliminary autopsy Wednesday night. He said today that death was result of strangulation, and that there were no signs of beating or sexual assault.

Miss Morgan's body was found in the Pisgah National Forest just off U.S. 25-70 in Madison County, 25 miles north of Asheville.

A question about jurisdiction in the case arose Wednesday night, since Miss Morgan was a federal worker driving a federal car whose body was found on federal property. But a meeting of law enforcement officials determined that state and local police would have charge of the investigation, with the assistance of the FBI.

Miss Morgan rented a house at Shelton Laurel and worked with young people in the area. She left the house Sunday to visit James Adams, a fellow VISTA worker, at his home about 22 miles away at Bluff. Adams said she left his house at 3:30 a.m. Monday to return home.

Her landlady said the young woman was well liked in the mountain community, helping youngsters organize recreational projects and outings.

Fell Short

In the first Bloodmobile collection for the summer months and the last one for the 1969-70 drive, a total of 84 units were collected at the Moose Lodge yesterday.

Douglas Morgan, chairman of the Pitt County Bloodmobile commented: "We had many problems this year, including health problems of colds and flue which had a bearing on the amount collected."

"The collection yesterday means we finished the year 490 units short of our annual quota of 1920 units," Morgan said. "Next year the quota will be even larger, so we hope to somehow get the idea across to more people that more donations are needed for this vital program."

Morgan noted that one of the reasons Pitt County has a special need for an adequate donation of blood is that more is used here than in many places because of the number of specialists in medical fields in Greenville.

"I am very grateful to the Service League, the Women of the Moose, and the volunteer nurses who helped yesterday," Morgan remarked.

A full schedule of the collection dates and points for the 1970-71 Bloodmobile drive is to be published soon.

Cost Of Living Continues Rise

WASHINGTON (AP) — Living costs rose four-tenths of one per cent last month, continuing the nation's worst inflationary rate in 20 years of more than 6 per cent annually, the government reported today.

Costs of all major categories were up, with transportation and clothing posting the largest price hikes in May, said the Bureau of Labor Statistics.

The May increase was lower than the rise of six-tenths of one per cent in April, but the Bureau of Labor Statistics figured the rises in both months the same on a seasonally-adjusted basis—five-tenths of one per cent.

The May increase boosted the government's consumer price index to 134.6, meaning it cost $13.46 for every $10 worth of typical family purchases in the 1957-59 period on which the index is based.

The bureau said food prices rose three-tenths of one per cent, housing and medical care five-tenths of one per cent each, clothing six-tenths of one per cent and transportation eight-tenths of one per cent.

The report said the May rise was less than April because of smaller price hikes for most services and for commodities other than food.

Prices of food and consumer durable goods accelerated from April, it said.

The May report said living costs were 6.2 per cent above a year earlier, continuing the more than 6 per cent annual rate of climb that has prevailed for more than a year.

"Charges for consumer services in May showed their smallest monthly rise since late last year. Price increases for nearly all the important groups of services were noticeably smaller than in recent months," the bureau said.

Bullets Hit Six

MIAMI (AP) — Six persons suffered gunshot wounds during the night as Miami moved into a fourth day of racial violence.

Police said the victims, including a 60-year-old woman, were struck by bullets as snipers hidden in darkened buildings traded shots with officers.

Gunfire crackled in most Negro sections of the city with heavy exchanges in the Brownsville district where the violence first erupted Monday in a dispute between a white grocer and his black customers.

Despite a curfew covering nearly half of the city, scattered groups of young Negroes ranged through the streets throwing bottles and stones and looting.

More than a dozen firebombings were reported. Two schools were slightly damaged.

None of the six wounded in the latest outburst was reported in serious condition. Two of five wounded Tuesday night were critically injured.

Police said more than 50 persons were arrested, mostly for curfew violations. One teen-ager was charged with attempted arson.

Order Trial Of 2 For Slaying Of Young Boy

By STUART SAVAGE
Reflector Staff Writer

Two escaped federal prisoners, charged with murdering a 15-year-old Winterville boy June 4, were ordered held for trial in Pitt County Superior Court following a preliminary hearing in District Court here yesterday afternoon.

District Judge Robert Wheeler ordered Henry Manning, 27 of Ayden, and Owen Doss, 22 of Martinsville, Va., held after hearing testimony at the probable cause hearing.

The two are charged with killing William Raymond Pearce. The youngster's body — nude except for a pair of socks — was found June 5 in a wooded area behind the trailer home in which he lived with his father. He had been stabbed 21 times.

Pearce's father, Paul Pearce was the first witness to testify. He told the court that Manning and Doss came to his home, one mile West of Winterville, "after midnight" (the early morning hours of June 4).

After awaking in the morning, Pearce said he fed his son and the two men, and later left for work. He told that his teenaged son was with Doss and Manning when he left.

After work, Pearce said he returned home to find law enforcement officers in the area around his home looking for Doss. Manning, he testified, had been taken into custody near his home earlier.

Pearce found his son's body about 7 a.m. June 5.

The father said he followed a foot trail into the woods and went directly to the spot where his son had died.

Deputy Sheriff W. M. Forrest said he and other officers went to the Pearce home during the afternoon of June 4 to check on a report that two escapees had been seen there.

He said that no one was found inside the Pearce trailer, but that as he and deputy Ivan Harris went to the rear of the home, Manning and Doss "came out of the woods behind the trailer."

"They ran," Forrest continued, saying Manning was chased for about 80 feet into the woods before he was apprehended. Doss escaped, the officer noted.

Manning, Forrest testified, was about 100 feet from where young Pearce's body was found when he stopped. Forrest set the time at about 5 p.m.

Doss was found the following day hiding in the attic of the Reedy Branch Baptist Church, about two miles from the Pearce home, other officers testified.

Dr. Lee West, a pathologist at Pitt Memorial Hospital testified that he performed an autopsy on Pearce's body. Present in the body, the doctor said, were 21 major wounds, made "in my opinion by some type of sharp instrument that had some length to it."

The lethal wound, the pathologist described as a "large wound in the left side of the neck that severed the left jugular vein."

The time of death was set by West 18 to 20 hours prior to the beginning of the autopsy examination which was started at 11:30 a.m. June 5. This would put the time of death at between 3:30 and 5:30 p.m. June 4.

Miss Debra Jones Weds Sunday Roberts-Corbett Vows Spoken In Ceremony

At three o'clock in the afternoon on Sunday, in the Saint James Methodist Church sanctuary, Miss Debra Marie Jones became the bride of John Franklin Carson Jr., in a double ring ceremony.

The Rev. Christian White officiated at the ceremony. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Linwood Earl Jones of Greenville. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Franklin Carson Sr. of Greenville.

For the wedding, the church was decorated with two nine branch candelabra and two baskets of palms. The altar was decorated with an arrangement of large mums and gladioli backed with greenery placed between two single candles. The family pews were designated by white bows and palm.

The organist, Mrs. Herbert Carter, and soloist, Miss Julie Harris, presented the wedding music. The songs rendered were "The Wedding Prayer", "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer", which was sung as the couple knelt after taking their vows.

The bride's father gave her in marriage. Miss Jones wore a white formal gown of peau de soie under a voile overlay cage with imported hand-crocheted lace on the bodice, sleeves, hem and train. The Juliet style dress had long puffed sheer sleeves, attached at the wrists by a circle of scalloped lace. The lace bodice was scalloped and the hem of the gown was trimmed in scalloped lace. The three point chapel length train was made into the gown and trimmed in scalloped lace. The train was highlighted at the back by a white voile bow.

The bride's elbow length veil of silk illusion was attached by a white lace bow to a pearl trimmed crown of leaves with a single pearl hanging from the point of each of the leaves, topped by tiny flowers and satin bows.

She carried a bouquet of white baby carnations with baby's breath and ivy, including a satin lace-covered prayerbook with satin and lace streamers featuring a lift-out corsage of white carnations.

Mrs. Judy Powell, aunt of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore an empire style formal gown of pink with short puffed sleeves featuring white imported hand crocheted lace trimming the neckline and under the bodice. The train was made into the gown and decorated with a pink bow. The matching headpiece featured a rose with leaves which was similar to that of the bride. She carried a bouquet of blue, yellow, violet and pink pastel spring flowers and baby's breath with blue streamers. The bouquet was highlighted by a large pink rose in the center.

Miss Tamara Jones, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a dress and headpiece identical to those of the matron's and carried an identical bouquet.

Miss Donna Dudley, Miss Deborah Jean Warren, Miss Katherine King and Miss Cindy Nabors were bridesmaids. Their gowns and headpieces were identical to those of the matron and maid of honor's. They carried bouquets of blue, yellow, violet and pink pastel spring flowers and baby's breath with pastel streamers.

Miss Deidre Diane Jones, sister of the bride, was flower girl. She wore a dress and headpiece and accessories identical to those of the bridesmaids. She carried a white basket with pastel flowers and streamers attached and dropped rose petals. She wore a wrist corsage of pastel ribbons encircling white daisies and baby's breath.

Linwood Earl Jones Jr., brother of the bride, served as ring bearer. He carried a heart-shaped white satin pillow.

David Carter served as best man. The ushers were George Harvey, Vic King, Larry Greene, all of Greenville, Pete Credle of Swansboro, and Roddy Woolard of Virginia Beach, Va. All the bridesmaids, maid of honor, flower girl and ring bearer are of Greenville. The matron of honor is from Murfreesboro.

For her daughter's wedding,

Mrs. Jones chose a mint green lace dress with three-quarter full lace sleeves and white accessories. The mother of the bridegroom chose a dress of light blue polyester knit with short sleeves and white accessories.

Mrs. Faye Little directed the wedding.

Reception The reception immediately following the ceremony was held in the fellowship hall of the church.

The table was decorated with a white linen cloth trimmed with white net drape connected at the corners and in the front center by white wedding bells. The table was centered with a white floral arrangement flanked on both sides by two single offset candles.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Adams greeted the guests. Mr. and Mrs. Ed Parker, aunt and uncle of the bride, said good-byes.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Barnes served the cake, and the punch was poured by Mr. and Mrs. Osborne Clark. Ann and Paula Jones, sisters of the bride, assisted in serving.

The reception was directed by Miss Kathryn Smith.

For a wedding trip to unannounced points, the bride wore a pink linen coat and dress ensemble with white accessories and the corsage lifted from her bouquet.

FARMVILLE — In a double ring ceremony on Sunday at 4:00 p.m. at the First Baptist Church here, Miss Phyllis Ann Corbett became the bride of William Blalock Roberts.

The Rev. Marion D. Lark officiated at the ceremony. A program of wedding music was presented by Wilson Nichols Jr., organist, and Connie McGhee, soloist.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dalton Lee Corbett of Farmville and parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Lane Davis Roberts of Farmville.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of chantilly lace designed with scalloped ruffles of lace at the neckline and on the long sleeves. The empire waist was accented with a satin ribbon with back streamers. The train flowed from the waist.

Her shoulder length veil of silk bridal illusion was attached to a lace and pearl tiara. She carried a nosegay centered with white roses tied with peacock blue ribbon streamers which matched the bridesmaids' dresses, yellow and white daisies outlined in bridal satin interspersed with nylon tulle.

Mrs. Randall Grove of Newport News, Va., aunt of the bride, was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Thomas Griggs of Rural Hall, Mrs. James Ivey Smith of Fountain, Miss Nancy Thomas of Richmond, Va., and Miss Dottie Newton of Hampton, Va.

The attendants wore gowns fashioned with peacock blue chiffon skirts with bodices of white. The gowns featured empire waistlines, roll collars and long sheer sleeves trimmed in peacock blue braid. They carried nosegays of white, yellow and pink pom poms and daisies.

Larry Roberts of Athens, Ga., cousin of the bridegroom, was best man. Ushers were Larry Whitlow and Jack Rollins, both of Greenville, Todd Holmes of Flint, Mich., and Allen Harris of Oxon Hill, Md.

Following a wedding trip to unannounced points, the couple will reside in Reisterstown, Md.

The bride is a graduate of East Carolina University and is attending Peabody Music Conservatory, Baltimore, Md., doing graduate work. The bridegroom attended East Carolina University.

The Roberts-Corbett wedding party was entertained at a luncheon on Sunday at the Shamrock given by aunts, uncles and grandparents of the bride.

Miss Delphia Parker, Mrs. L.S. Welloughby and Mrs. R.L. Joyner entertained at an after-rehearsal party on Saturday night for the Roberts-Corbett wedding party.

The Roberts-Corbett wedding party was honored at a rehearsal dinner at the Farmville Country Club given by parents of the bridegroom, Judge and Mrs. J.W.H. Roberts and Miss Bessie Blalock.

Census Figures Not Pleasing

More and more reports are coming from Eastern North Carolina cities which are dismayed with the preliminary population figures that are now being released by the U. S. Census bureau.

Officials in Greenville, where the population grew by 7,056 over the ten year period, did not feel that the growth was near what was expected. However, Greenville's growth to 29,916, according to the preliminary figures, was of boom town proportions compared to some other cities.

Wilson, for instance, received their preliminary figures just this week and they showed that bustling city grew by only 600 people over the decade. The report showed Wilson with a 1970 population of 29,325. If the figures are correct, Greenville for the first time will exceed Wilson in population.

Rocky Mount, it was reported, grew by only 1,149 to 33,296. Tarboro's increase was said to be only 854 to 9,265; This, despite the fact that Tarboro annexed some areas four years ago which included 1,700 people.

It was expected that Eastern counties would lose population over the decade. In fact this was looked on as a healthy development from a humanitarian and economic standpoint as laborers left the farms, where they were being replaced by machines, and moved to the cities.

However, in Greenville and other eastern cities, new housing construction, increased utilities services, growing numbers of telephones pointed to considerable increase in population.

It remains to be seen whether the final figures will help the situation to any extent. However, we believe officials in all of the cities are right in questioning the accuracy of these figures.

AP Labor Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Every month 240 men and women fan out in 56 cities, large and small, across the land to find out how much you're paying to bring home the bacon, and a lot of other items.

They check the prices in 18,000 retail stores and service establishments, from shopping center supermarkets to the little laundry on the corner.

The figures they compile are sent to the Labor Department's Bureau of Labor Statistics which uses them to put together one of the nation's most vital economic indicators, the Consumer Price Index.

This is the monthly report that shows the price trends for food, clothing, housing, transportation, medical care and recreation—that pinpoints the pinch you feel as the cost of living continues to rise.

"On the whole, it is quite an accurate statistic," said Dr. Joel Popkin, the bureau's assistant commissioner for prices. Government statisticians figure on no more than a one-tenth of one per cent error in the figures.

The bureau has been compiling the living cost reports for 50 years, periodically updating the items sampled to account for changing spending patterns and new products. The latest revision was in 1964.

The inflex for the past year has shown a steady rise in prices at a rate of 6 per cent or more, the worst inflationary climb in 20 years.

The report is compiled in terms of index points and percentages, not in dollars and cents, but can be readily converted into money terms.

For instance, the April index for all items showed a climb of eight index points from March, up from 133.2 to 134. This represented a rise of six-tenths of one per cent for the month.

The index figure, based on averaged 1957-59 prices, means it took $134 in April to pay for the same "market basket" of typical family goods and services that cost $100 a little more than a decade ago.

A companion report, based on industry payroll figures, shows average weekly wages for some 45 million rank-and-file workers and how they are faring with inflation. The April report said the weekly wage of $117.98 was up 6 cents in pay, but down 43 cents in purchasing power because of inflation. The average wage was up $6.23 over the year, but down 20 cents in purchasing power.

The price index covers costs "of everything people buy for living—food, clothing, automobiles, homes, house furnishings, household supplies, fuel, drugs and recreational goods; fees to doctors, lawyers, beauty shops; rent, repair costs, transportation fares, public utility rates, etc.," the bureau said.

"In pricing lawyers fees, for instance, a sampler will price the fee for a short form will," Popkin said.

The price index also includes sales, excise and real estate taxes, but not income or personal property taxes because they are not directly associated with the costs of goods or services.

Some items are priced every month over a period of several days or weeks; other items that do not show too frequent cost changes will be sampled only ever three months or so.

The various items are weighted for the index computation, according to the estimated importance of each.

Food is given a weight of 22.68 per cent of the "market basket" on the estimation that the average city workers' family spends that much of its budget on food. Housing gets 33.20 per cent of the weight of the index, clothing 10.73 per cent, transportation 13.31 per cent, health and recreation 19.70 per cent including 6.25 per cent for medical care, and 5.12 per cent for other goods and services.

The samplers price 400 different items in all.

"Prices are obtained by personal visit to a representative sample of about 18,000 retail stores and service establishments where wage and clerical workers buy goods and services, including among the establishments chain stores, independent grocery stores, department and specialty stores, restaurants, professional people, and repair and service shops. Rental rates are obtained from about 40,000 tenants," the bureau said.

The field samples are mailed to the bureau's Washington office, where Louis B. Woytych's Division of Data Collection handles it.

Many of the bureau's 200 clerical and statistical experts then pore through the stacks of raw data and prepare it for feeding into a computer for the final compilation of the price figures.

The final figures are closely guarded until Popkin announces and analyzes them for newsmen at a scheduled news conference every month.

"The Consumer Price Index is used widely to guide family budgeting and to understand what is happening to family finances," the bureau said.

"It is used extensively in

Ayden Recognition Is Well Deserved

Ayden town officials and citizens should be pleased that they have been presented the Governor's Award for community development.

Ayden was one of four North Carolina municipalities, and the only one in the east, to receive the award.

The town was recognized for its work aimed at attracting industry and for its successful clean-up, fix-up campaign.

Ayden citizens have shown an enthusiasm for improving their town and the Governor's Award is a fitting recognition of these successes.

Hanoi Trying Smash Lon Nol

By JOHN T. WHEELER
Associated Press Writer

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP) — Hanoi apparently had decided it must smash the government of Gen. Lon Nol in a matter of months, qualified diplomatic and intelligence sources report. It looks like a major change of strategy.

The aim of a major drive now under way and said to be aimed at Phnom Penh seems to be to give the Communists a major victory that will in part divert attention from their inability so far to make good on promises to "liberate" South Vietnam.

Only a month ago both Communist and Western sources believed Hanoi's Cambodian offensive was launched to widen its supply routes toward South Vietnam and to set up new base camps well removed from the Cambodian border area entered by American and South Vietnamese troops last month.

Communist sources say that now the major target is Phnom Penh and the Lon Nol government. A Western source says the primary objective in Indochina is to destroy the pro-Western government that seized power from Prince Norodom Sihanouk March 18.

The Communist scenario, as pieced together from various sources, apparently is supposed to go something like this:

Elements of five North Vietnamese divisions now within fairly easy striking distance of Phnom Penh will begin closing in on the capital. One of the first major attacks will be against Cambodia's small air force, based almost exclusively at Phnom Penh. This will throw the burden of the air war on South Vietnam, or possibly the United States.

Part of Phnom Penh would be taken in an offensive. The hope seemingly is that South Vietnamese aircraft would bomb occupied parts of the city.

North Vietnamese cadre are reported to be training upwards of 6,000 Cambodians about 40 miles west of Phnom Penh to be sent into the capital after North Vietnamese and Viet Cong troops do the heavy fighting. However, Communist sources say the recently recruited Cambodians have proved extremely disappointing, placing their military role in doubt. Part of the reasoning for sending Cambodians into Phnom Penh could be that these forces would suffer most of any bombing casualties if the South Vietnamese react.

Such a bombing together with continuing rumors—mostly with some foundation—of largescale South Vietnamese looting in Cambodia might discredit Lon Nol's regime. The new government won a major part of its support by claiming Sihanouk was in collusion with Cambodia's ancient foe, the Vietnamese.

To all this pressure, the Communist may hope to add popular unrest at having Cambodia turned into a major battleground because of a war that basically involves only South and North Vietnamese and their allies. The Communist hope, perhaps slim, is that peace front would emerge.

Given this pressure from below, the Communists may believe that Lon Nol's government will disintegrate. Diplomatic sources say some sort of power crisis is developing here. Power plays in Saigon have weakened the government's ability to deal with enemy forces in the countryside there and were one factor that led to American military involvement in South Vietnam.

Who Will Bell Panthers?

It is about time—come to think of it, it is way past time—for some first-rate reporter with room enough to turn around in to work up a comprehensive piece on the Black Panther Party. The impression continues to grow that the Panthers are nothing more than lovable kittens, the helpless victims of police brutality. The impression is as phony as a $40 diamond.

Nevertheless, the myth takes hold and the big lie grows. Eldridge Cleaver, kindness of Dell Books, delivered himself some months ago of an impassioned defense. Now Bobby Seale, kindness of Random House, has produced his own story of these innocent targets of oppression. Leonard Bernstein gave them a certain respectability. Out on the Coast, Angela Davis, the Communist professor at UCLA, says the Panthers are being harassed on "trumped-up charges to stifle political dissent."

The statement that has gained widest circulation—it has become practically an article of liberal faith—can be traced to a press release last December from Charles Garry, a top Panther attorney. He charged that over a 16-month period, police officers had killed 28 Panthers "in cold blood." The figure of 28 has stuck.

Now, if the charge were true—or even substantially true—it would be a matter of grave concern. Officers of the law are just that: officers. They are not executioners. The circumstances surrounding the killing of Panthers Fred Hampton and Mark Clark in the Chicago shoot-out of December 4 have created doubts that ought to be resolved. A top-notch reporter—a Clark Mollenhoff or a Haynes Johnson—could perform a useful public service by digging in depth for the truth.

My own understanding is that the figure of 28, upon cursory examination, swiftly comes down to 20. That is the number of named, identified Panthers who have died under violent circumstances since August of 1968. But the dimensions of the great Panther myth can be guessed when it is noted that of these 20, ten were not killed by police "in cold blood" or otherwise.

Specifically, the list of 20 includes Alprentice "Bunchy" Carter and John Jerome Huggins. They were killed in a gun battle in January of 1969 on the UCLA campus, but not by police: They were killed by a rival black gang known as "U.S." Panthers Sylvester Bell and John Savage met the same fate in San Diego a few months later.

The list includes a Panther named Nathaniel Clark. He was killed by his own wife in September of last year as the outgrowth of an extra-marital affair.

Still another is Panther Charles Cox, who was pronounced dead on arrival at a Chicago hospital in May of 1969. The coroner's office found that he had died of barbiturate intoxication.

Other Editors Say Strange Silence

(Washington Daily News)

It appears to us that the proposal, made several times of late, by Robert Morgan, N.C. Attorney General, that auto liability insurance rates be determined by open competition among companies doing business in our state rather than by the state itself, is being met with a strange silence.

This apparent silence is difficult to interpret. And it is rather difficult to understand.

Mr. Morgan reasons that if competition among companies is allowed to guide the insurance rates, and if so, then of course the people of North Carolina will like it. Perhaps as of now, the people just do not know enough about the proposal to have an opinion on what it might do.

As it is now, if we understand correctly, the Insurance Rating bureau gathers statistics from all companies doing business in our state and from the information received, sets the rates for all. Thus every company must charge the same fixed amount for insurance.

A company operating more efficiently than some other company cannot lower its rates even if it wanted to do so.

Mr. Morgan can fight this thing out in one sense through judicial actions but in reality he might go to the legislature with his proposal. And it would appear to us to represent a drastic departure from what the state is doing now.

We feel that it is true that the average person knows very little about insurance and insurance rates. Strangely, we have seen no comments from insurance company spokesmen regarding the Morgan proposal. Maybe they will want to have an open market where competition is prevalent and where each company can set its own rate. Or maybe they prefer the present system. We just do not know.

We do know that there is a lot of dissatisfaction in some quarters about the present method. But again no one really knows whether open competition will solve the questions or not. But at least the attorney general or "peoples' lawyer" has made a rather dynamic proposal. And it should be weighed carefully and the strange silence which is prevailing now should be replaced with some expressed opinions among those in position to know the score.

Boyle Views Life

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Jumping to conclusions:

The two most troubled periods in most people's lives are adolescence and middle age. They are startlingly alike in that during their reign a person's thoughts and actions are deeply influenced by an inner hysteria and insecurity of which outsiders may be almost totally unaware. The cure for both adolescence and middle age is the same: you simply have to outgrow them—and go on to a calmer and better time.

An old-timer is a guy who can remember when a girl going out on a date took along only a dollar bill for her mad money.

You rarely learn anything very interesting from talking to people at a cocktail party who wear sunglasses to cover up the way they still look from the cocktail party they went to the night before.

No one looks so hopeful as the old maid the day the cruise ship sails—or so forlorn the day it returns.

One of the things men wonder about all their lives is why girls tend to go to the powder room in pairs and what they talk about when they get there. Well, what they generally do is exchange opinions about their escorts, and the longer they linger in the powder room the less flattering those opinions are.

Nothing arouses the hidden paranoia in every office worker more than putting a dime in the office vending machine and getting back neither the soft drink nor the coin. It brings all the woes of his lifetime to a peak.

One of the first lessons of maturity is to have a wholesome distrust of anybody who is always telling you where to buy things wholesale. He's usually no bargain himself.

Strength For Today

THAT STUPENDOUS DRAMA

Is God really in the world? How can we think otherwise? Of course, if one takes the position that the universe in its present form "just happened," then reasoning of that sort (if we can call it reasoning) might lead us to almost any absurd conclusion. The sensible thing is certainly to admit the fact that a created universe presupposes a Creator. And having admitted this are we not logically required to go further and admit that in some way the Creator has not lost connection with his creation but supervises it and is quite evidently bringing it to an end He had always had in mind? Atheists believe they are logical. As a matter of fact, they are anything but logical. After all is said and done, the explanations found in the Bible as to how certain things came to pass are usually the most sensible that could be made.

And of course if God is in the world and human beings are the highest creation, He is in some way influencing their lives and bringing them to a definite destiny. Just as there are not two leaves in the forest exactly alike, so there are not any two persons in the world exactly alike. It was discovered some years ago that everyone's fingerprints are different from those of any other person.

It is hard to get away from the fact that we are in the midst of a stupendous drama presided over by a Being of complete intelligence and power. The admonition to get right with God is still the best of all possible advice.

Merge All Of U.S. Railroads?

By ELMER ROESSNER

Three significant events point to the problems of American railroads and point to a solution.

Those events, all in the last few days, are:

- The Penn Central Co., owner of the nation's largest railway system, is in trouble. It has plenty of assets, refrigerated if not frozen, but Commission examiner has recommended approval of a merger of Illinois Central and the Gulf, Mobile and Ohio Railroads.

Saving The Passenger Train

- With railroads still protesting that they are losing money on inter-city passenger runs, Transportation Secretary John A. Volpe has renewed pleas to the House to accept the Senate's bill to establish a quasi-public corporation to operate the nation's passenger trains.
- If that were not enough, commuter transportation is getting worse and losing more money and metropolitan areas are demanding that the federal government pump more money into commuter services, forgetting that any money pumped in comes not from a golden well but from pockets and savings of metropolitan residents.
- One solution, perhaps imperfect, to all these problems is a merger of all American railroads perhaps under federal administration.

What It Would Do

Such a merger would be scored as a gigantic trust. But we have other gigantic trusts: the Army, the Navy, the Air Force. It would be just as silly to operate with two armies as it was to operate two main lines between New York and Chicago.

Such a merger would create almost unbelievable economies:

- Thousands of miles of parallel operations could be eliminated.
- Thousands of high-salary executives could be retired.
- The non-operating assets of the railroads could be sold, perhaps yielding more than enough to pay for the acquisitions, such as unimproved land, farm land, office buildings, hotels coal mines, oil wells and the hundred of other ventures.

Idle Assets

Thousands of tons of unneeded iron and steel could be sold to add to capital liquidity. It may be remembered that Henry Ford paid $5 million for the Detroit & Ironton railroad and got his money back from the salvage he picked up along the line.

There are countless other advantages. Half the trackage could be scrapped and the remainder given proper maintenance. Passenger, freight and other cars could be standardized to reduce maintenance costs. Rates could be made uniform from Bangor to San Diego. Passenger trains could run from coast to coast without changes.

And the Great American Railroad could make passenger and freight tieups with airlines, ship lines, bus lines, trucking lines, hotels resorts, barge lines, pipe lines, travel insurance services and so on.

Write your Congressman.

lacks operating funds. The situation so critical, threatening to drag under thousands of businesses, that the Nixon administration has undertaken to guarantee $200 million in bank loans, with more later, to keep the system fluid.

DEAR ABBY: What do you do with a husband who, when reading, finds something he thinks is interesting or amusing, and so he starts reading it out loud? It doesn't matter if I am reading something else, or writing a letter. I haven't been able to break him of this habit.

Right now he is reading away out loud while I am writing this letter. Any suggestions? AGGRAVATED

DEAR AGGRAVATED: Name some of his other "bad habits" and I'll tell you whether this one is worth the "aggravation." Personally, he sounds like a dear sweet man who wants to share his pleasure with you. [P. S. I've been doing this to my husband for nearly 31 years, and he hasn't belted me yet!]

DEAR ABBY: My husband is thinking about buying a "hot" color television set and also a "hot" movie projector.

The man who wants to sell them to him got them from someone who steals to support his drug habit.

I told my husband I thought it would be wrong for us to buy these items even though we can get them very low cost, but my husband says if we don't buy them someone else will.

Abby, I don't want any part of a deal like this, but how can I convince my husband that it's wrong? NO NAME OR TOWN, PLS.

DEAR NO: He KNOWS it's wrong. Just tell him that anyone who knowingly buys "hot" merchandise stands to share in the guilt of the theft—if caught.

DEAR ABBY: I work in a large office which deals with the public. Several girls have been told to dress "properly" or look for another job. The union contends, however, that "anything that is acceptable to wear in the street is acceptable in the office." Boy, does this cover a lot of territory. In other words, if you won't get arrested on the street for your apparel, you're okay for the office.

Some of our girls show up in anything from faded, cut off dungarees to skintight bell bottom pants to sheer peek-a-boo blouses with no bras, to mini mini skirts plus hip high boots that look like they're going in the sewer. Add that to the wigs, false eye lashes, love beads and a ring on each finger.

Dee-liver me! Oh, yes. I am a woman. NOT MOD

DEAR NOT: Dee-liver both of us. I'm with you, Lady.

DEAR ABBY: My neighbor across the way keeps standing in his window stark naked!

I do not catch accidental glimpses of him in this state. He actually parades around that way hoping to be noticed. I have reported him to the police, and they have even SEEN it themselves, but they say he is in his own home and there is nothing they can do about it. I think he needs some medical attention. He has a wife and children, but he does this while they are not there.

Do you think I should tell his wife? Or should I speak to him myself? I don't know the wife very well, but I will speak to her if you think it might do some good.

NEW TO CANADA

DEAR NEW: The man appears to need medical attention. Give his wife the bare facts!

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

Letter writing can be a breeze. For Abby's booklet, "How to Write Letters for All Occasions," send $1 to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069.

Mississippi Schools Given More Time

By MARK BROWN
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Justice Department has backed away—at least temporarily—from a crucial test of the Nixon administration's determination to push for near total school desegregation in the South by this fall.

Faced with more than a score of segregated Mississippi districts that have so far resisted administration blandishments to desegregate voluntarily, the department has held off taking state officials to court to force an end to their dual school systems.

Asst. Atty. Gen. Jerris Leonard, chief of the department's civil rights division, acknowledged Wednesday he is giving the holdout Mississippi districts more time to come around be-Kilpatrick . . .

The list of 20 includes the name of Alex Rackley. His mutilated body, bearing torture marks and a large bullet hole in the chest, was found in Middleburg, Conn., May 21, 1969. Police had nothing to do with the killing. The presumption is that Rackley was put to death as an informer by fellow Panthers. Two party members already have pleaded guilty to second-degree murder in the Rackley case. Others, including Seale, are yet to be tried for complicity in the crime.

The slaying of Frank Diggs in Los Angeles in December, 1968, suggests the same ruthless discipline at work within the Panther Party. His lacerated body, with two bullet holes in the chest, was found in an alley. Police subsequently recovered the pistol used in the murder, and traced it to a prominent party member.

Of the ten Panthers actually killed by police, three died in Los Angeles in August, 1968, when they ambushed a squad car in a service station. Others were killed in shoot-outs when they were caught in the commission of crimes. The 28 victims, in sum, dwindle down to the Hampton-Clark shooting in Chicago last December.

My own notes are necessarily much abridged, but even the sketchiest review persuades me that a Panther mentality exists, characterized by criminal violence and by a pathological hatred for police. In any event, Panther spokesmen have had abundant opportunity to present their case. Who now will report the other side?

fore filing a threatened state-wide desegregation suit. "Things are looking good," Leonard said of efforts by a special Nixon administration negotiation team that spent Monday and Tuesday in Jackson, Miss., talking to school district officials.

The confidence in Mississippi officials marks an apparent change of heart by Leonard, who last week seemed determined to press ahead with the second state-wide suit ever filed by the government if 15 or more Mississippi districts still resisted by the end of the negotiating session.

"The arbitrary figure is 15," Leonard said in an interview last week. "If it is less, we can handle them on an individual basis; if it is more, we will probably have to bring a state-wide suit."

Sources in the Justice Department and the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, both present at the closed door negotiations in Jackson, said the number of holdout districts ended up at 23.

Leonard had said prior to the negotiations his decision on filing the state-wide suit would be made on Tuesday.

The decision to file such a suit, however, must be cleared by Leonard's boss, Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell. Mitchell, President Nixon's 1968 campaign manager, is said by sources in the Justice Department to be determined to avoid such a massive show of force in the South. Mitchell feels, the sources said, the administration's best course is to push for voluntary desegregation through a Cabinet panel headed by Vice President Spiro T. Agnew.

The attorney general told reporters recently the Cabinet committee had experienced "measurable success" in talking recalcitrant districts into voluntary action.

Wants Nat'l Standards

ST. LOUIS (AP) — A University of North Carolina professor said Wednesday uniform national air quality standards are necessary.

Prof. Arthur C. Stern of UNC's department of environmental sciences and engineering told delegates to the Air Pollution Control Association's national convention that national standards are needed to stimulate and direct air pollution measures at state and local levels.

Variations in standards to allow for air movement and population density will not do the job, he said.

Stern said uniform national standards are necessary to prevent industries from finding themselves at a disadvantage as a result of varying regional standards.

The first statewide desegregation suit was filed more than a year ago against Georgia. Since then all but a few school districts in that state have submitted acceptable plans for desegregating this fall.

labor-management contracts to adjust wages. Automatic adjustments based on changes in the index are incorporated in some wage contracts and in a variety of other types of contracts, such as long-term leases," it added.

"In addition, the CPI is used as a measure of changes in the purchasing power of dollars for such diverse purposes as adjusting royalties, pensions, welfare payments, and occasionally alimony payments," the bureau said.

"It is also used widely as a reflection of inflationary or deflationary trends in the economy," it said.

Popkin said the criticism the reports do get occasionally are usually based on estimates of quality changes in products, which the bureau constantly reviews and adjusts. A current study is testing new methods of determining the quality of housing to adjust rental estimates.

"The sampling error is determined to be quite small," Popkin said. "Our conclusion is that, on balance, for commodities there is no reason to suspect any bias in the index."

In other words, Popkin believes his statisticians are doing an accurate job of telling you exactly how painful inflation is and pinpointing where it hurts your pocketbook most.

Opening lead: Jack of ♠
An unorthodox line of defense led to a spectacular upset of South's four spade contract.

East opened the bidding with one heart and South overcalled with one spade. North showed his diamond suit and East persisted with two hearts. South, whose holding was the equivalent of a sound opening bid, jumped to three spades and North dutifully carried on to game. East believed that the opponents had overreached themselves and he doubled for penalties.

West reasoned that in view of his great length in the suit bid by North, there was a good chance that his partner was void. He accordingly opened the jack of diamonds and East ruffed away dummy's queen with the deuce of spades.

East could count two more tricks, the ace of spades and the ace of hearts. If the contract were to be defeated then, it appeared that East must find his partner with the king of hearts. He therefore returned the five of that suit.

South put up the king and West followed with the deuce. A small spade was led to the nine as West showed out. East was in with the ace and pondered his dwindling prospects. It was obvious that as soon as declarer regained the lead, he would draw trumps and discard his remaining losers on North's diamonds.

East's only hope was that West had the nine of hearts and South was left with the seven. In desperation, therefore, East led back the three of hearts. West was surprised to win the trick with the nine, however he recovered in time to return a diamond which East ruffed for the setting trick.

Mayors Report Similar Tide Of Growing Problems

By MICHAEL J. SNIFFEN
Associated Press Writer
DENVER (AP) — Whatever their political affiliation, no matter where they come from, most American mayors of large cities recite a similar litany of woes: unemployment, a growing narcotics problem, race relations and not enough money to better the quality of life in their communities.

The only differences a listener hears while attending the U.S. Conference of Mayors meeting here are opinions on how best to solve their problems.

For instance, 10 mayors were asked the following question: "What is the most serious problem facing your city today and how can it best be solved?"

Here are their answers:
Carl B. Stokes of Cleveland (Democrat): "Unemployment. Obviously I'd like to see a healthy economy which would be able to absorb people in a natural way in finding jobs. In the absence of this being done, I feel there is a responsibility on the government to furnish jobs. There have to be massive public works programs at this time."

Richard C. Lugar of Indianapolis (Republican): "Maintenance of full employment is our basic problem—more so now when the problem is national in scope. If we can reach full employment we will have mobility, people able to afford private housing, and less need for public support. To the extent we do not have full employment, we will have many more problems."

"Our prime solution is to seek new industry for Indianapolis. We have had help from federal programs, but realistically, there could come a day when we're not so politically favored in Washington and we better have the ability to maintain it on our own."

Wesley Uhlan of Seattle (Democrat): "Our single biggest problem is unemployment, without question. Our economy revolves around the Boeing Company and its employment has gone down from 102,000 last year to 42,000 they tell us by the end of this year."

"It is absolutely necessary to constructively criticize the (Nixon) administration—hopefully into changing the policy that in order to control inflation we have to have some unemployment. I don't agree that it's a healthy thing to have 5 million people unemployed."

John V. Lindsay of New York: "Right now the problem most pressing on us is narcotics. It's immediate, it's big, it's largely unsolved. We're experimenting but it's a very complicated and very big headache for us—and a very dangerous thing, too."

"A solution has to be both in law enforcement and in rehabilitation ..."

Lindsay, a registered Republican, ran and won on the Liberal party ticket.

Sam Massell of Atlanta (Democrat): "We have two big problems: money and human relations, equally. With enough money I could solve or improve all our troubles except those in human rights. The human rights problem is a little different to-day from the civil rights problems of yesterday. It extends to the hippies and the campus."

"I don't think we have said enough to the state government about financing. That's where we should go for money. The other problem has to be solved by generating compassion, and understanding and a firm protection of rights."

Peter Flaherty of Pittsburgh (Democrat): "The most pressing problem is financial survival of city government. If the city government is unable to survive and goes bankrupt, then the great problems of social and physical and cultural goals decline with it."

Henry Maier of Milwaukee (Democrat): "The biggest single problem in our city is a lack of resources similar to that in any 'have-not' country. We are the 'have-nots.' The property tax is our main source of revenue and it's stretched to functions it was never designed for. It was set up for fire, sewer and garbage. In Milwaukee now, our property tax supports about $31 million in antipoverty-type programs."

"We've got to continue to fight the states—particularly the 'have' areas sitting high on the hog—for a proper allocation of resources. And of course we should continue to try to get national priorities realigned as well."

Frank Curran of San Diego (Democrat): "No money. For the first time in the history of San Diego we hit the tax limitation this year and had to trim $1.5 million from our budget. Thus we face a series of problems all related to money ... increased demand for services, parks, recreations, police and there is no additional flexibility in the tax base."

"The only practical answer to our dilemma is direct grants from the federal government without going through the city with orderly growth is our biggest problem. We are hemmed in by other cities of 2,000 to 14,000 people who don't want to join us by merger. The thing we need now more than ever is ability to annex unincorporated land."

Gene Martin of Topeka, Kan. (Republican): "In Topeka, we don't have the problems that I find prevalent throughout the country. For instance, we've reduced our property tax levy for the last three years running. Our biggest problem is apathy of the people—no knowledge of public issues, elected officials or what they've done."

SMALL VICTIM — A South Vietnamese child, badly burned from a Viet Cong attack on the village of Ba Nen, awaits medical treatment in a Da Nang military hospital. In the attack on the village about 17 miles southeast of Da Nang, the Viet Cong reportedly killed 114 civilians and wounded 70 others. (AP Wirephoto)

Young Singers Hunt Funds For Big Tour

CHARLOTTE (AP)—A group of 137 teen-age singers from the Charlotte area plan to go to Russia this summer for a goodwill tour—if they can raise $9,000 by early next week.

The youths were selected from about 300 who auditioned to represent North Carolina in the "Good News Singers of America" choir, which has been invited by the Soviets to give concerts across that nation.

It is costing each teen-ager about $800 to make the trip, and each is paying what he can, conductor James Berry of Charlotte says. In groups and individually they have had money-making projects to help pay expenses.

Berry said Wednesday: "If we don't reach the goal, we'll have to cut some of the young people out. Don't ask me how we'll do it. It will not only hurt the (musical) quality of the group, but it will break my heart."

The youngsters are from Rutherford County, Shelby and Morganton, in addition to Mecklenburg.

Berry said the 35 from Mecklenburg have $3,000 but need another $5,000. And the 15 from Forest City need $2,000, while those from Cherryville are short about $1,000.

In Shelby and Morganton the teens are closer to their goals and each group is only about $500 short.

In Shelby the deficit is small compared to the $20,000 already raised, Berry noted.

If the singers do get to go, they will have some Russian songs and even one in Latin to entertain their hosts.

Eight Opposed Voting Measure

WASHINGTON (AP) — A bill to lower the voting age to 18 and extended the Voting Rights Act drew negative votes from eight North Carolina congressmen Wednesday.

A vote for was a vote for immediate consideration of the bill while a vote against was a vote to recommit the measure to a study group.

The bill passed the House, 224-183, and went to the President on a vote of 272 to 132.

Democrats Nick Galifianakis, Richardson Preyer and Roy A. Taylor voted for the bill, while Democrats L. H. Fountain, David N. Henderson, Walter B. Jones and Alton A. Lennon voted against it.

Republicans James Broyhill, Charles R. Jonas, Wilmer D. Mizell and Earl B. Ruth also voted against the measure.

Sorority Elects New Officers

Zeta Psi chapter of Alpha Omicron Pi, social sorority at East Carolina University, recently elected new officers for the academic year 1970-71.

The new officers are: president, Myrna Pecunia; treasurer, Sheila Spruill; and corresponding secretary, Willa Anne Howard.

Seeking Million N.C. Signatures

RALEIGH (AP) — The North Carolina National Guard and the state's Jaycees hoped to obtain at least one million signatures today on petitions urging better treatment of U. S. prisoners of war in North Vietnam.

The petitions will be forwarded to the Washington embassies of seven nations, urging them to use their influence on Hanoi to liberalize its POW policy.

Is falling the largest single cause of eye injuries to children?

No!

Twice as many children sustain injuries to their eyes from direct blows as from falls. That black eye may be considerably more damaging than you think.

Sharp objects even cause more damage than eye-injuring falls. Still another source of eye injuries stem from small foreign particles which, when lodged in the eye may scratch the surface of the eyeball. This may lead to serious complications if not dealt with properly.

Such toys as air-rifles and sling shots, adult weapons and fire-works cause about ten per cent of the eye damage to children. However, this group is responsible for twice that percentage in terms of the most serious damage. Children should not be allowed to use these items without adequate supervision at all times.

Almost all accidents involving the eye can be prevented. Practicing eye safety may mean the difference between sight and blindness. So take time to practice eye safety, both for yourself and others, and especially children.

agency, shows the following recommendations:

- Administrative — salaries, $768.
- Street maintenance — $21,640 due to reduction in force because of a reduced construction schedule compared to the current year.
- Malaria control — reduction projected materials, $1,750.
- Sanitation department — Reduce maximum authorized strength from 60 to 55 men with an adjustment of $19,640. (The city manager explained that suggested reductions in this and other departments will not alter a proposal for the proposed five percent cost of living increase for city workers. The suggested cut, in fact, will serve to make such increases possible and still maintain the budget within the overall proposed totals) Fuel adjustment, $1,000. For capital outlay — including only one of the two long-wheel chassis first proposed, $4,250; and an added amount of $2,000 to cover an increased cost from $16,000 to $18,000 of a 23 yard container truck.

—Recreation Department — Salaries, less one employee $3,288; lost time, etc., $1,674; cuts in general supplies, office supplies, arts and crafts and athletic equipment, $1,100. For capital outlay in the recreation department, a minus of $18,000 for purchase of recreation land. This is an adjustment which will be offset by use of other funds available and does not mean plans to purchase the Amos Evans property will be affected. Other items suggested for cuts are: picnic tables, $400; and an irrigation system for Green Spring Park, $5,000.

—Building and Housing Inspection Department — Minus an additional employee for a six month period, $2,814; and the addition to the proposed budget of anticipated revenues in the amount of $9,365.

In the third round of study scheduled for next week, the councilmen will again consider the overall budget after giving more study to the proposals for adjustments made at last night's meeting.

New Contract
BURBANK, Calif. (AP) — Dean Martin has signed a new contract—described as long term although the number of years was not disclosed—to carry on as host and star of the National Broadcasting Co.'s "Dean Martin Show."

Announcing this Wednesday, NBC President Don Durgin said the show would go on at 10 p.m. Thursdays when it resumes next fall. It will be Martin's sixth television season.

voltages on one of the transformers. The station has an input of 34,000 volts and an output voltage of 12,500 volts. The temporary structure shown above will be replaced later in the summer by a steel structure. (Reflector Photo by Tommy Forrest)

Director Of ECU News Bureau Resigning Post

Joe Maynor, director of East Carolina University's News Bureau, has accepted the position of News Manager for WSOC TV and Radio Stations. Announcement of Maynor's acceptance, to be effective June 30, was made in Charlotte yesterday by William Currie, Operation Manager of WSOC. Durrie, newly appointed Operation Manager, said in reference to Maynor's appointment: "He is the first man I wanted on my staff. Maynor is extremely aggressive and knows how to run a first rate news room. With him here, we'll be able to do some really fine things with news coverage."

Extension of Utilities gas lines is nearing completion north of the river and work is underway in the Deck and Pitt Street area. Billy Weston reported on the progress of the work at the Utilities Commission meeting last night.

Saw Change In Opinions

STANFORD, Calif. (AP) — The organizer of a six-week experiment aimed at improving relations between Stanford University students and police says it began in suspicion and ended in exchanges of dinner invitations.

"I saw students persecuting the police and the police treating students like animals. I knew I had to do something," said Michael Diamond, 25, who thought up what he called the "police-student depolarization" experiment.

For three weeks, 40 student volunteers rode in police cruisers in their spare time. The next three weeks, 25 police officers attended meetings at Stanford's psychology department to talk with students and teachers.

Police and students changed their opinions of each other when they got to know one another, said Diamond, a graduate psychology student.

Work Stoppage Gains Strength

GREENSBORO (AP) — Sanitation officials in Greensboro suspended all residential garbage collection in the city today as a work stoppage gained strength in its third day.

The Greensboro Sanitation Department said that only 50 of its 160 workers reported for work this morning. Sixty-five were on the job Wednesday.

The city is distributing 80,000 plastic bags for families to place uncollected garbage in, and has set up six collection points around the city to which residents may bring their refuse.

The bees of a colony are divided into a queen, several hundred drones and the remainder workers.

Planters, Home Builders Win

Planters Bank and Home Builders picked up victories in last night's Babe Ruth League games. Planters downed State Bank, 6-3, while the Builders took a 5-2 win over Pepsi-Cola.

Carolina Dairy continues to lead the league with a 6-1 record, while Home Builders, 5-2, and Planters, 5-3 are just behind. They are followed by Pepsi, 3-4, College View, 2-4, and State Bank, 0-7.

In the opener, State Bank pushed over a run in the bottom of the first to take the initial lead. Roy Hudson singled and was sacrificed to second. A wild pitch allowed him to take third, and he scored on a passed ball.

Planters came up with four in the second to move ahead, and they never lost the lead. Mike Wallace walked and stole second, going to third on an error on the play. Greg Jester singled in him and Mike Smith walked. Another walked, to Robert Brinkley loaded the bases. Jester scored on a passed ball and Smith came in on a wild pitch. Brinkley also came over on a wild pitch.

Planters scored again in the third. William Carraway reached on an error and moved up on a single by Wallace. Smith reached on a fielder's choice, scoring Carraway.

The final Planters run came in the fourth. Herb Wilkerson walked and stole second. He scored on a hit by Carraway. State came up with two in the bottom of the fifth, but couldn't keep the rally up. Hudson reached on an error and was safe on another at second on Pat Clark's fielder's choice. Both advanced on a passed ball, and Steve Fush singled in Hudson. Jerry White reached on another errored fielder's choice which scored Clark.

No one on either team managed more than one hit.

Home Builders broke a scoreless game in the third inning, pushing over three runs, all they really needed. Wayne Bailey doubled, and Gary Hall attempted to sacrifice him to second. An error, however, let Bailey come all the way home, and moved Hall to second. Bill Lee was intentionally walked, and Harding Sugg reached on a bunt single. Jeff Daniels laid down another sacrifice bunt, scoring Hall, and Lee raced home when the play was made to first to get Daniels.

In the fifth, Pepsi picked up one of its two runs. Bobby Dough walked and advanced on a double by Jack Jones. Johnny Barwick walked, loading them up, and a walk to Chuck Brown scored Dough.

In the sixth, the Builders added two more runs. Archie Willoughby reached on an error, stole second and was sacrificed to third. He scored on a single by Wayne Bailey, who stole both second and third. At the last base, an error on the attempted pickoff let him come in.

Pepsi managed one more run. That came on a homer by Jones in the seventh.

Bailey and Sugg each picked up two hits for Home Builders, while Jones had two for Pepsi.

New ECU Cage Staff

Coach Tom Quinn, right, checks over the 1970-71 schedule with his two new assistant coaches. At left is Harry Brown, whose hiring was announced earlier this month, while in the center is Walter Noell, who joined the staff yesterday. Brown will be in charge of recruiting and will assist the varsity. Noell will coach the freshman and also handle some recruiting. It is the first time Quinn has had two assistants in his expanding ECU program. (Reflector Photo)

East Carolina Tops Southern Third Year

East Carolina University's athletic teams continue to dominate the Southern Conference, finishing atop the unofficial standings for the third straight year.

This year, however, there are official standings, for the Commissioner's Cup, but these have not been made public and, if the announced policy of awarding points is followed, might change things around.

The official standings are to give seven points to first place, six to second, and so on, down to zero for an eight place finish. However, no designation was made for allowance of points when all teams do not complete for the two sports with divisional standings, soccer and baseball.

Former Oriole Beats Baltimore

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer
There are few pigeons left in Gene Brabender's coop, but he still has some rare birds in hand...the Baltimore Orioles. Brabender, a former Baltimore pitching prospect who has migrated to Milwaukee, shackled his ex-teammates for 6 1-3 innings Wednesday night as the lowly Brewers ambushed the sagging Orioles 5-1.

It was only the second victory for Brabender since April 26...and both have been at Baltimore's expense.

Despite their fourth loss in five games, the Orioles retained a two-game lead in the American League East as the Chicago White Sox cooled off the second place New York Yankees 6-3.

Detroit beat Oakland 9-7; Boston took Kansas City 3-1 and Washington topped Minnesota 3-1 in other AL games. California and Cleveland were rained out.

Mike Hegan's three-run homer and a solo shot by Phil Roof helped Brabender, 3-8 over-all, bring his two-year record against Baltimore to 4-2. The big right-hander, who got relief help from Bob Humphreys in the seventh, was 2-2 against the Orioles while pitching for Seattle last year.

He left the game with a 2-1 lead, built on Roof's homer off Dave McNally in the fifth and a sixth inning sacrifice fly by Dave May, who was making his first start for the Brewers after being dealt to them by the Orioles Tuesday.

Humphreys checked Baltimore the rest of the way and Hegan broke the game open with his seventh inning blast.

Pitcher Jerry Janeski drove in three runs with a single and squeeze bunt as the White Sox ended the Yankees' winning streak at six games. Catcher Duane Josephson drilled three singles and a double and scored three Chicago runs.

Detroit's Ken Szotkiewicz, a .135 hitter going into the game, poked a decisive three-run homer, enabling the Tigers to overcome six errors and outscore the A's. All but one of the Oakland runs were unearned, the result of four errors by Tiger pitchers and two more by third baseman Ike Brown.

Ken Brett, making his first start of the season, hurled a threehitter and struck out eight in Boston's victory over the skidding Royals. The Red Sox broke a 1-1 tie with two runs in the sixth after Dave Morehead walked the bases full. It was the 12th loss for the Royals in their last 14 games.

Left-handers George Brunet and Darold Knowles, combined to tame the Twins on four hits. Brunet fanned 10 before giving way to the Senator's relief specialist in the ninth.

Pepsi Rolls Over The Elks

Pepsi-Cola moved back into a tie for second place in the Tar Heel Little League with an 11-1 romp over the Elks yesterday.

The Graniters lead the league with a 10-1 record, while the Moose and Pepsi are tied for second with 8-3 marks. The Exchange is next with a 4-7 record, followed by the Elks, 2-9, and Integon, 1-10.

Pepsi pushed over three runs in the first inning. Lee Shearin walked and David Davis did, too. Roy Oldham singled, and Mark Conway got a hit, scoring Shearin. A passed ball let Davis score, and Oldham stole third. He scored on a single by Danny Bowman.

In the second, Pepsi came up with two more. Rickey Avery singled and Oldham reached on an error. Conway singled, and an error on the play let Avery score. Bowman also got a hit, scoring Oldham.

Walter Noell Named Freshman Cage Coach

Walter Noell, graduate assistant in basketball last season, was announced as the new assistant basketball coach on the East Carolina University staff yesterday.

With the naming of Noell, Coach Tom Quinn brings his staff to two full-time assistants, an increase of one over the past. Noell, 28, will be in charge of coaching the freshman team, and will also aid in recruiting.

Quinn earlier named Harry Brown as the other assistant, to work with the varsity and be the head recruiter. He replaced Kirk Stewart, who served several years as Quinn's lone assistant before resigning a few weeks ago to become a head coach at a Florida high school. Noell, a native of Waynesboro, Va., is a 1964 graduate of Wake Forest College. He was an All-Atlantic Coast Conference selection in baseball, and played some basketball at Wake. Following his graduation, he signed with the Philadelphia Phillies organization and played several years in the minors, then decided to become a coach.

From 1965 until 1969, he served as coach at Hargrove Military Academy as basketball coach. He came to East Carolina last year as a graduate assistant, and will receive his master's degree this summer.

"Having Walter as a second assistant makes us much stronger in the area of recruitment and in helping our freshmen to make a quick and favorable transition from high school to college basketball," Quinn said at the announcement.

"He is a fundamentalist in his approach to coaching, and will be a fine addition to our staff," Quinn said that Noell's recruitment duties would include the Carolinas, Virginias, Ohio and the midwest.

Coca-Cola Nips Optimists, 5-4

Coca-Cola edged past the Optimists, 5-4, yesterday in the North State Little League. The win threw Coke into a three-way tie for second place in the loop.

The Kiwanis head the league with a 9-2 mark, while Coke, R.C. Cola and the Jaycees are all 6-5. The Lions and Optimists are tied for last place with 3-8 records.

Coke pushed over four runs in the bottom of the first inning to get the jump on the Optimists. Molt Massey walked and Jeff Barber made it 2-0 quickly with a home run. Keith James followed with a walk and moved up on a wild pitch. Max Joyner brought James home with a double, and he scored on another double by Mike Sutton.

The Optimists came fighting back with three in the second inning. Gary Porter reached on an error and Lee Spain walked. Mike Grimsley reached on a fielder's choice, loading the bases. A walk to Bubba Rowlette forced Porter over, and Greg Lee doubled to drive in both Spain and Grimsley.

In the fifth, the Optimists tied it up. Ashley Bass walked and B.G. Clark reached on an error. Porter walked, loading the bases, and wild pitch let Bass score the tying run.

But Coke came up with one in the sixth to win it. Massey singled and moved up on an error. He took third on Barber's fielder's choice, and scored when James banged out a single.

St James Wins American

St. James Methodist Church rolled to a 12-3 victory over Trinity last night and thus wrapped up the American Division title in the Church Softball League. In other games, Meadowbrook beat First Christian, 10-3, Immanuel rolled over Oakmont, 18-4, and Presbyterian downed Gum Swamp, 15-4.

St. James now posts a 12-1 record in the American Division, while Presbyterian is second with an 8-5 mark, followed by Trinity at 6-6. Next comes Meadowbrook, 6-7, Gum Swamp, 5-8, and Christian, 1-13. Christian is assured of last place in the standings.

In the National Division, Grace leads with a 10-2 mark, followed by Black Jack, 7-5, and Immanuel 7-6, the only teams that can catch them. Out of the race are Oakmont, 6-7, Mt. Pleasant, 4-7 and Piney Grove, 4-9.

Meadowbrook pushed out into the lead in the first inning, scoring four runs, all it would need. Meadowbrook went on to pick up three more in the third and three in the fourth.

Christian scored twice in the second, and then got another in the fifth.

Billy West, Bryant Howell, Bob Turner and Glen Roper each had two hits for Christian, while Carson Heath had four, Carl Powell had three, and Linwood Owens, Victor Wade and Al Braxton each had two for Meadowbrook.

Trinity pushed over all three of its runs in the top of the first, and that held the lead until the third inning. St. James came up with two in the second, but scored two more in the third for a 4-3 lead, and they never trailed again.

St. James pushed over six more runs in the fifth, and then added two more in the sixth, including a solo homer by Roy Carawan.

Carawan and Joe Brown each had three hits, while Ronald Vincent and Rusty Jacobs picked up two each for St. James. No one had more than one for Trinity.

Oakmont pushed over two runs in the first inning, but Immanuel came back to score two in its half of the frame and tie it up. It stayed that way until the fourth inning when Immanuel exploded for six runs and charged into an 8-2 lead which Oakmont could not overcome. The inning was highlighted by a homer by George Jenkins which closed out the scoring.

Immanuel later picked up nine runs in the sixth inning to finish off the scoring. Oakmont picked up one each in the sixth and seventh.

Anderson led Oakmont with three hits, while Reese and Parrott each had two. For Immanuel, David Hahn and Butch Ricks each had four, Jenkins and George Williams had three each and Bill Dickens, Charles Overton and Bill Moore had two each.

In the final game, Presbyterian pushed over two in the first, but Gum Swamp matched that. Presbyterian then took the lead for good with three more in the second. In the third, Presbyterian came up with seven more runs to take a 12-2 lead.

Presbyterian added two more in the fourth and one in the seventh. Gum Swamp picked up two more runs in the seventh on a homer by R. Pollard.

Lee and Knowles led Presbyterian with three hits each, while Johnson, Moore, Langston and Beddingfield each had two. B. Pollard had two to pace Gum Swamp.

American Division Church Champs

St. James Methodist Church's softball team captured first place in the American Division of the Church Softball League last night. Members of the team are, front row, left to right: Bill Potter, Ed

ABA Chief Rejects Denver Pact; Averts Possible War With NCAA

By LOUDON KELLY Associated Press Sports Writer DENVER (AP) — Possible open warfare between the NCAA and the professional American Basketball Association over the Denver Rockets signing a Michigan State star with two years' eligibility left apparently has been averted by league action rejecting the contract.

Less than 24 hours after the Rockets announced they had signed Ralph Simpson as "a hardship case," ABA Commissioner Jack Dolph turned thumbs down.

Dolph said Wednesday in a statement that "if such a contract does in fact exist and is submitted to the commissioner," it would be rejected and a $10,000 fine assessed against the Denver club.

Don Ringsby, president and general manager of the Rockets, had announced Simpson's signing with some fanfare Tuesday. But after the commissioner's statement was issued on the first day of the ABA's annual meeting, Ringsby said he would have nothing to say.

However, he gave strong indication the Rockets are not likely to risk the fine by adding, "I am bound by the action of the league at our meeting this morning. I could be fined if I said anything."

Less than a year ago the Rockets signed Spencer Haywood, a University of Detroit star, who like Simpson had completed only his sophomore year. Denver also termed this a hardship situation.

Dolph issued his statement in the Simpson case after the NCAA headquarters in Kansas City had called upon member schools to boycott the ABA.

Later, University of Kentucky Coach Adolph Rupp, president of the National Association of Basketball Coaches, announced, "The air is cleared."

"It's all over," Rupp said, apparently referring to the call for a boycott. "I've had a call from Commissioner Dolph and it's all over with."

The assistant executive director of the NCAA, Arthur Bergstrom, said at Kansas City the collegiate organization would have no further comment immediately. He said "we'll just hold that in abeyance and see what happens regarding Simpson."

Dolph said at a news conference Wednesday night that officials of two ABA clubs had been contacted by a man identifying himself as Simpson. "I'd rather not say what franchises these were and we have no proof it was Simpson who actually made the calls," he said.

Asked about the possibility of court action concerning the Simpson-Rocket contract, Dolph said, "If we have to go to court, we will."

In his statement earlier, Dolph said the Rockets' signing of Simpson "violates provisions of the American Basketball Association bylaws...which prohibit any member club from signing players whose college eligibility has not expired."

The league Wednesday chose Wendell Cherry of the Kentucky

Colonels as its new president and gave final approval to Ned Doyle as the new owner of the Miami Floridians.

General managers of the ABA will meet in Salt Lake City in mid-July to study a 1970-71 schedule. Each team again will play 84 regular season games, but Dolph said efforts will be made to shorten the time period.

WEDNESDAY'S STARS

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS PITCHING—Bob Gibson, Cardinals, fired a one-hitter, holding San Diego hitless for 7 2-3 innings, in St. Louis' 8-0 rout of the Padres.

BATTING—Duane Josephson, White Sox, stroked four consecutive hits, including a double and scored three times in Chicago's 6-3 triumph over the New York Yankees.

Quarry Stops Foster In 6th

By ED SCHUYLER JR. Associated Press Sports Writer NEW YORK (AP) — The fight game's slam-bang, good old days were on review as part of a tribute to Jack Dempsey. Then, the crowd settled back and watched Jerry Quarry burst a brand-new boxing bubble by stopping previously unbeaten Mac Foster.

That was Madison Square Garden Wednesday night as a crowd of 15,915 turned out to wish a happy 75th birthday to Dempsey, the old Manassa Mauler, and sit in on the big town debut of Foster, the massive ex-Marine from Fresno, Calif., with 24 knockouts in 24 fights.

They roared as Dempsey, the legend and the memory, demolished Jess Willard and Georges Carpentier on large movie screens at each end of the arena. Then they roared as Foster, the new heavyweight sensation, went down before the flailing fists of Quarry, the California Irishman who put himself back into the role of a leading contender for Joe Frazier's title.

Foster met sports writers after the fight, seated side-by-side with Quarry, and accepted his loss with grace.

"It's not really that bad a feeling," the 27-year-old veteran of six years in the Marines said of his first loss. "I'd rather lose to a worthy opponent than one who wasn't. Then, I'd really feel bad."

What mistake did he make? "I dropped my left."

And when he dropped his left in the sixth, Quarry caught him with a right and then battered him about the ring, finally knocking him through the ropes and on to the ring apron with another right. The count reached three and referee Johnny LoBianco stopped it. The time was 2:09.

FSU, Trojans In The Finals

OMAHA (AP)—Florida State, never in the winner's circle of the College World Series in four previous trips, and Southern California, champion five times, the last in 1968, clash Thursday night for the NCAA baseball pennant.

As the top-ranked Trojans watched, having drawn a bye in the double-elimination tournament Wednesday night, Florida State stamped No. 2 Texas out of the meet 11-2. The No. 3 Seminoles will carry 49-8 season mark against the Trojans, 50-13, as the two teams meet for the first time in the tourney.

expected to start sophomore righthander Greg Widman (6-3) with Coach Jack Stallings of Florida State countering with junior southpaw Pat Osburn (12-2). Each has a World Series victory.

Gene Anman was the big hero Wednesday night. The Seminoles unbeaten junior righthander who entered the game with a 0.50 ERA, spaced seven hits, fanned 7 and walked 4 for victory No. 15. His scoreless streak ended after 41 1-3 innings when Texas pitcher Walt Rothe hammered a two-run homer in the fifth inning—his first of the year.

Board Plans Boost Staff

RALEIGH (AP) — The North Carolina Board of Water and Air Resources is preparing to increase its staff to enforce air pollution controls which go into effect in the state July 1.

Open burning of refuse and other combustible material will be banned.

H. R. Relos, chief of local programs for the board, said Wednesday personnel will be added to the department's rep.m., quarterly conference; Sunday, 10:30 a.m., Sunday School; 11:30 a.m., morning worship; 1 p.m., Holy Communion.

The Gospel Chorus of Phillip Christian Church will have rehearsal Friday at 7:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Sylvia Parker, 617 Hudson St.

gional offices in Asheville, Greenville, and Raleigh. But he could not say how many will be employed.

Relos said the state is not relying on local agencies to enforce the new rules except where such agencies already exist.

Only 14 Tar Heel counties have established an air pollution control program or agency to enforce the state regulations. Programs exist in Durham, Cleveland, Gaston, Guilford, Cumberland, Rowan and Mecklenburg counties. Combination programs exist between Buncombe and Haywood counties; Catawba and Lincoln; and Surry, Forsyth and Davie counties.

Mixed Reaction To Nixon Plans

By DAVID BURKE
AP Business Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Top labor leaders criticized President Nixon's economic proposals while the business community reacted with mixed views.

Labor spokesmen said Wednesday the President's plan for calling public attention to significant wage or price increases would hurt labor without reducing inflation.

Some business executives and economists expressed disappointment that the President did not go far enough in the area of wage and price controls.

Others lauded the President's stand, saying they found his speech reassuring.

"President Nixon's latest program against inflation is, like his previous policies and tactics in the economic area, weighted against the American worker," said Paul Jennings, president of the International Union of Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers.

"It includes nothing ... to bring down interest rates, nothing to correct the imbalance between high prices and inadequate wages, and nothing to put a brake on excess profits," he said.

Paul Samuelson, economist at Massachusetts Institute of Technology, characterized the speech as "anticlimactic," and called the idea of spotlighting wage and price increases "a very weak thing."

While expressing agreement with Nixon's optimism for the long term, GAF Corp. Chairman Jesse Werner said he regretted that the President did not "give more consideration to steps more closely approaching wage and price controls."

University of Chicago economist Milton Friedman called Nixon's talk a "further demonstration that the President has a steady, long-range policy and the courage to pursue it despite a lot of political pressure for wage and price controls."

RCA Chairman Robert W. Sarnoff said, "I am pleased by the President's decision not to seek mandatory wage and price controls."

"We regard the President's speech ... as significant and constructive," said Norman Strunk, executive vice president of the United States Savings and Loan League.

Dr. William C. Freund, vice president of the New York Stock Exchange, applauded Nixon's "longer-run approach to inflationary pressures in the economy as opposed to short-run, stop-gap measures."

Lynn A. Townsend, chairman of Chrysler Corp., said he believed "President Nixon is following the appropriate economic policies." He added, however, that as yet he saw "no clear evidence of a business turnaround in the second half of the year or an easing of inflation. We agree with the President that something more should be done at this time."

After conferring with Chaplain Graham, he asked me if I would come down some Sunday and speak at the chapel service at 8 A.M.

Miss Becky Fugit was also invited to sing a solo just ahead of my address, and she thrilled everybody with "The Battle Hymn of the Republic."

Then I spoke for 30 minutes on the fact that if a person changes his mental outlook, he can often rise from failure to glorious success.

audience of the time Jesus came down to the lake and found his Apostles fishing.

They said they hadn't caught even a minnow all night.

Whereupon, Christ suggested they merely cast their nets on the other side of the boat.

And immediately the nets were so full of fish that they even broke in many places.

Jesus could have criticized those fishermen for using patched, old nets.

Or for not having modern, up-to-date boats.

He might even have told them they needed to go back to college for a refresher course in piscatorial science!

But Jesus didn't!

He merely urged them to shift their outlook and take a new point on the compass. For they had all the attributes for success except a changed viewpoint!

Then I gave them the example of Glenn Turner, who was born of a South Carolina sharecropper.

Welfare funds even paid for his birth in a local hospital.

And Glenn had a harelip, so he dropped out of school after the 8th grade.

Finally, he entered the Opportunity School in his home state where he became the chauffeur for the dedicated little old lady who was operating this school.

"Glenn," she told him, "you can do anything you set your mind to."

That seemed to be the key that opened up an entirely new outlook.

For he buckled down to the task of making a huge success in business.

He became a star salesman, and recently went back to South Carolina to bestow a gift of one million dollars on that Opportunity School where he had obtained a new vision of life.

Glenn Turner is now a multimillionaire, though only 36 years of age.

And that's doubly remarkable, for with the present confiscatory taxes and other governmental red tape that stifle American business, it is much harder to win a success nowadays than when Edison, Ford, Mellon and other industrialists made their fortunes.

W. Clement Stone, another great American has also worked with prison inmates, teaching them that P.M.A. (Positive Mental Attitude) is the key to later success.

And he cites only a 16 percent recidivist rate (repeater imprisonment) against 49 percent for prisoners not so trained in P.M.A.

When we violate the rules, whether in sports or in society, an umpire may put us out of the game, temporarily.

But smart men and women profit from their mistakes and can convert those apparent stumbling blocks into stepping stones for later huge success.

At the conclusion of our religious service, I stood at the door with Chaplain Graham, and shook hands with all the men, almost half of whom verbally thanked me for my address.

To change anti-social outlooks, send for the "Compliment Club" booklet, enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus presented nightly and a nursery will be provided. Services will begin at 7:30 p.m.

The Rev. Frank Smith, pastor of the church, invites the public to attend.

Virgo, the Virgin, is the sixth sign of the zodiac.

Recreation Center Begins New Session

AYDEN — The South Ayden Recreation Center officially opened Monday for its 1970 summer session.

Director Johnny Davis said the center will be open Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. until 12 noon. Lunch and clean-up will be held from 12 noon until 2 p.m. and the center will close at 5 p.m.

Swimming, beginning June 23, will be taught on Tuesdays and Thursdays. A bus will leave from the South Ayden Center at 1:30 p.m. for the Holloway Recreation Center in Kingston.

Regular activities, including ping-pong, shuffleboard, carrom boards, basketball, and other games, will be carried on during the summer session, Davis explained.

Co-workers will be H.L. Lawrence and Miss Gloria Dixon. PACE workers include graduates Miss Beatrice Darden and Miss Jeanette Williams of Winston-Salem State University and Miss Ethel Sutton of A & T State University. Youth Corps workers helping out during the summer include Miss Rebecca Hardy, Miss Francine Newkirk and Miss Laverne Smith, all 12th graders of South Ayden School.

Miss Dixon will give instruction in various games,

Fleeting Fame For 'Smallest Infant'

By DEBORAH RANKIN
Associated Press Writer
BRISTOL, Wis. (AP) — Three well-worn scrapbooks, a bonnet and a blanket are the only mementos that Jacqueline Benson Feicht has of the brief renown she was accorded as the world's smallest baby 34 years ago. Medical authorities gave the 12-ounce infant little chance for survival. But after 4½ months in an incubator and forced feeding through a tube to her stomach, Jackie was released from a Chicago hospital. She reached her normal weight and size by the time she was 2 and doctors hailed her survival as a medical miracle.

Interest in Jackie's infancy was renewed last month when Sally B. Glaes, Seaside, Calif., wife of Navy Lt. Roger Glaes, gave birth to a 1-pound-7-ounce girl. The baby, Laura Elizabeth, was three to four months premature. She died May 26. Little of her former life in the limelight has rubbed off on Mrs.

Feicht, a kindergarten teacher and wife of a Milwaukee social worker.

She and her husband, Emil Daniel Feicht Jr., are childless but are preparing to adopt four children of American Indian heritage—a family of three brothers and a sister. Mr. and Mrs. Feicht live with his parents in this small town just north of the Illinois state line and operate a dog breeding business in their spare time.

Mrs. Feicht recalls—with annoyance—the public aspect of her singular medical history. She says one photograph of her as an unclothed infant that accompanied annual stories on her birthdays throughout the years caused her intense embarrassment as a teen-ager and a rough time as a teacher.

The phone calls and letters from her public still occur. "I swear, they must all come from old women who had children at the same time Jackie was born," said her husband. The writers and callers express a few words of encouragement and often refer to similar situations in their own families.

The scrapbooks, the doll-size bonnet and blanket made for the young Jackie by some admirers, are not on display. She is less than lukewarm about her early fame and noted the record for the smallest baby to survive has gone to an English woman who weighed 10 ounces at birth. "But," she added, "she wasn't born in a hospital like me so it's not official."

Her husband said Jackie was reared as a "china doll-type child," an attitude which precluded many normal activities.

In that early struggle to survive Jackie may have also developed a strong-willed determination to accomplish a job at hand, despite opposition or advice.

She'll tube feed an ailing puppy if necessary and persist wherever there's a flicker of hope. "I'll try beyond the point of reality," she said, "sometimes to the point of my own destruction."

Five Return From FBLA Convention

WINTERVILLE — Five members of the Winterville High School Chapter of the Future Business Leaders of America have returned from Philadelphia, Pa., where they attended the National FBLA Convention June 10-12.

Local members attending were: Lynn Webster, Nancy Buck, Debra Carawan, Steve Evans and Robert Braxton. Braxton is also serving as state parliamentarian.

Approximately 1,100 high school members and advisors form all over the United States attended the meeting. Miss Anne Ramsey, international secretary of the year, spoke to the delegates at a special session. Special entertainment was provided by the New Christy Minstrels.

Walking tours of historic Philadelphia were included in the convention program. The members attending from Winterville made up the parliamentary procedure team which represented the state of North Carolina at the meeting.

INVITATION FOR BIDS

The Housing Authority of the City of Greenville, North Carolina, will receive bids for the furnishing of all labor, materials, equipment and services required for construction of Project NC 22-5. Project NC 22-5 consists of ten (10) buildings, containing seventeen (17) units; the work to include certain utilities, site improvement work, and landscape work as specified in the technical portion of the Specifications, until 2:00 P.M. (E.S.T.) July 14, 1970 in the Municipal Courtroom, Municipal Building, Greenville, North Carolina.

Proposed forms of contract documents, including plans and specifications, are on file at the office of the Housing Authority of the City of Greenville, North Carolina, 316 Roundtree Drive, Greenville, North Carolina, and at the office of Dudley & Shoe, Architects, 402 South Memorial Drive, Greenville, North Carolina.

In addition to the General Construction Contract, separate prime contracts will be left for Plumbing, Heating and Electric Work.

Copies of the documents may be obtained by depositing $100.00 with the Housing Authority of the City of Greenville, North Carolina, for each set of documents so obtained. Such deposits shall be refunded to each person who returns the plans, specifications and other documents in good condition within 10 days after bid opening. A certified check drawn on a bank or trust company insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, payable to the Authority, or satisfactory bond executed by an acceptable surety on the bid bond form contained in the Specifications and in accordance with the instruction to bidders set forth herein, in an amount equal to five percent of the bid shall be submitted with each bid.

The successful bidder will be required to furnish and pay for satisfactory performance and payment bond or bonds.

Attention is called to the fact that no less than the minimum salaries and wages as set forth in the Specifications must be paid on this project.

The Housing Authority of the City of Greenville, North Carolina, reserves the right to reject any and all bids or to waive any informalities in the bidding.

No bid shall be withdrawn for period of thirty (30) days subsequent to the opening of bids without the consent of the Housing Authority of the City of Greenville, North Carolina.

Our contribution to the space program.

There's still one place on our crowded planet where you can have a little elbowroom. The Volkswagen Station Wagon. In fact it has about twice as much of that precious commodity as the average station wagon. With all this space, it can accommodate as many as 9 earthlings. With the massive sliding door, it can accommodate the most outrageous objects. With a special suspension system (and a lot of cushy upholstery), it can accommodate the most fragile housewife. Of course even with all these assets, our space vehicle still can't leave the ground. But then what do you expect for $2750. The moon? P.O.E.

MAVERICK $1995*
HORNET $1994*

IT'S THE ONE DOLLAR LESS YOU PAY FOR A HORNET THAN A MAVERICK
The Little Rich Car. American Motors Hornet is the first car in America to prove that the word small doesn't automatically stand for cheap. It offers more luxury per square inch than any other car of its type. Everything about Hornet literally says rich just as it stands, and here's why. Hornet offers you luxury options that you just won't find on the average compact. And you can add any of them and still get phenomenal gas mileage, easier maintenance, and the parking spots passed up by other cars that are too big to fit. But there's more—read on.

*Hornet at $1994 is priced $1 less than Maverick based on a comparison of Manufacturer's Suggested Retail Price for the lowest priced 4-cyl., 2-door models, exclusive of state and local taxes, destination charges and any optional extras.

ONE BUCK LESS BUYS A CARLOAD MORE!

COMPARE	HORNET	& MAVERICK	& SEE WHAT HORNET HAS:

House Approves Postal Reforms

By JIM ADAMS
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The House has defeated efforts to block reform of the Post Office Department and approved a measure banning compulsory union membership for mailmen.

An amendment by Rep. Jim Wright, D-Tex., to kill the reform plan, grant workers an 8 per cent pay raise and fire striking postal workers was defeated Wednesday 105-57.

The house then amended the bill to create an independent, self-supporting U.S. Postal Service, raise pay 8 per cent, and permit each worker to decide whether to join a union.

Opponents of the ban against compulsory union membership said it would throw the balance of power in pay negotiations to management and supercede state union laws.

Rep. Edith Green, D-Ore., argued postal unions should be permitted to enlist maximum support for negotiations with management that will be under pressure to keep wages low.

Rep. Morris K. Udall, D-Ariz., said the House-approved ban "for the first time will reach the long arm of the federal government" into the 39 states that permit compulsory unionism and exempt mailmen from state laws.

The vote on the amendment by Rep. David N. Henderson, D-N.C., was 179 to 95.

The Henderson amendment inserts into the bill the language of executive orders by President Nixon and former President John F. Kennedy that mailmen have the right to join or refrain from joining unions.

The 11 postal unions count about 600,000 of the country's 740,000 mail workers as members.

Postal reform opponents led by Wright said the bill would sacrifice Congress' control of the mails to a corporation that would soon be running in the red and asking Congress for subsidies to bail it out.

Udall said Wright's proposal to grant a $538 million annual pay boost without corresponding revenue increases was typical of Congress' mail management and why the system should be turned over to a business-like, independent agency.

MAINTENANCE CLEAN-OUT — Edgar Warren and his neighbors recently did a maintenance clean-out on a two-mile stretch at the upper end of the Atkinson-Clark canal. Approximately 33 property owners participated in the project. The Soil Conservation Service furnished technical assistance to the group. (SCS Photo by Elmer Bland)

'Field Day' For Hams

Local radio amateurs will aid in a test of the world's largest non-commercial emergency communications facility according to plans announced by Lawrence Behr, president of the Brightleaf Amateur Radio Club.

The drill, called Field Day, is sponsored by the national amateur radio organization, The American Radio Relay League, and will find U.S. and Canadian radio amateurs leaving their homes and retreating to preselected emergency operating sites over the weekend of June 27-28.

The local group will start to set up two complete stations at the old Pitt County Home grounds Saturday and expects to operate them continuously until 4 p.m. Sunday. All equipment will be run with power from a gasoline-driven generator, just as it would be should local power fail in a real emergency.

The object of the exercise is to check out equipment and to test the procedures that will be used in actual emergencies, such as floods and ice storms. A Civil Defense drill will also be held during the activities.

Pitt Pastor To Serve At Youth Conference

MOUNT OLIVE — It has been announced by The Reverend Bruce Dudley, Director for the 1970 Youth Conference at Mount Olive College, that the Reverend Adrian Grubbs will serve as men's counselor and as Director in Current Social Issues. The conference, to be held on June 21-26, will focus its attention on "Teens 'n Things."

Grubbs is a graduate of B.F. Grady High School in Duplin County. He attended Mount Olive College and received his B.A. Degree in Physics from N.C. Wesleyan College in Rocky Mount. He is a graduate of Southeastern Baptist Theological Seminary with a Master of Divinity Degree. Grubbs is an ordained Free Will Baptist Minister and is Pastor of Piney Grove Free Will Baptist Church near Greenville.

The Roman god of medicine was Aesculapius.

Take Stern Action Against 'Invaders'

COLUMBIA (AP) — Twelve students have been permanently suspended for a campus disturbance at the University of South Carolina and more than a score of others are to receive disciplinary hearings.

The university did not release the names in line with its usual policy.

The 12 suspended permanently were among 31 involved in a May 7 takeover of the Student Union building in a protest which began as an anti-Vietnam war demonstration.

Hearings for students involved in a May 11 invasion of the Administration Building have not been held. It interrupted the start of hearings for the 31 and triggered two days of campus clashes with National Guardsmen, highway patrolmen and police.

Two not arrested in the student union incident get credit for spring term work. Suspensions for 19 others are to September for three, to February, 1971, for 11 and to September 1971 for three.

All 31 were charged with trespass by state officers. Many forfeited $100 bonds, and several were convicted but are appealing. Ten nonstudents also were charged in the student union case.

Thirty-six have been indicted in the Administration Building invasion on charges of common law riot and conspiracy to wreck the treasurer's office.

A federal counter-suit has been brought for the 36 by the American Civil Liberties Union claiming the charges are vague and unconstitutional.

There were 110 arrests, mostly of students, during the May 12 clashes when the campus was under curfew. Some of the curfew violation cases were dismissed, in other cases bonds were forfeited or guilty pleas entered.

Police Round-Up After Diplomat Is Released

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP) — Police are rounding up suspects in the kidnaping of West German Ambassador Ehrenfried von Holleben, who says his abductors never removed their masks and kept him in one room during his five days of captivity.

Arrests were reported throughout the city Wednesday, but there was no reliable estimate of the number. Reports told of a student leader arrested in one part of Rio, a former opposition politician in another, and a lifeguard at the Copacabana beach.

The 61-year-old ambassador told a news conference Wednesday night that the kidnapers seized him from his car, chloroformed him into semiconsciousness, and put him into a large box so he could not see where he was being taken. They did not let him out, he said, until he reached the room where he was held hostage.

Nine young men and a woman with submachine guns intercepted von Holleben's car last Thursday night, killing one of his Brazilian security guards and wounding the other two. They kept him until after 40 political prisoners were flown to Algiers as ransom, then freed him Tuesday night on a Rio street.

"I had good food, mainly sandwiches and Coca-Cola, and they were correct in their treatment," he said. "I was not forced to do anything."

"They just told me that it was dangerous to go near the window, and I knew they did not mean it was dangerous because I could fall out."

Von Holleben said his abductors "never mentioned the name of von Spreti and never threatened me in any way."

Count Karl von Spreti, the West German ambassador to Guatemala, was kidnaped in April and was murdered after the Guatemalan government refused to release political prisoners designated by the kidnapers.

President Nixon Will Address Jaycee Meeting

ST. LOUIS (AP) — President Richard M. Nixon is scheduled as the main speaker of the 50th annual meeting of the U.S. Jaycees, but there has been no official confirmation that he will appear next Thursday.

Presidential counselor Bryce Harlow will give the keynote address next Tuesday. About 12,000 delegates are expected to attend the convention.

The theme of the four-day convention is "homecoming '70," said Ted Robinson of St. Louis, president of the Jaycees.

Robinson said the Jaycees has become the largest young men's organization in the country, with 4,000 clubs and 325,000 members since its inception in St. Louis a half-century ago.

The abductors identified themselves in leaflets as members of the Popular Revolutionary Vanguard, an underground leftist group opposed to Brazil's military rule.

Von Holleben said he first thought there had been an accident when the kidnapers stopped his car, but "after I heard the shooting I knew it was a kidnaping."

During his five days in captivity, the ambassador said, he wrote letters telling his family he was well and listened to radio broadcasts on the kidnaping and the efforts to get him released.
