O BEAUTIFUL FOR SPACIOUS SKIES' . . . Tony and Elizabeth Allen, children of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Allen of Greenville, hold high the Flag to honor America. In anticipation of Independence Day tomorrow, the flag is a reminder that the Fourth of July, 1970, is the 194th anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence, which gave notice of the birth of our nation. It is a time to pause and give thought to the meaning of the freedom declared then and willed to us to keep and to cherish. (Reflector Photo by Tommy Forrest)

Logical Retaliation Target: Tobacco

RALEIGH (AP) — Some industry leaders feel that tobacco would be a prime target for any country wanting to retaliate if the United States imposes quotas on textile imports.

tobacco and maybe on the soybeans we're trying to sell to Japan, too. Tobacco people have a lot to lose from a trade war."

Dr. Hugh Kiger, a North Carolinian who heads the Foreign Agricultural Service Tobacco Division in the U. S. Department of Agriculture, said tobacco would be a tempting target for retaliatory action.

taliate against our tobacco and other agricultural products," he said.

John D. Palmer of Wilson, N. C., and Washington, president of Tobacco Associates Inc., said if special trade protection is given to textiles, other industries will want similar treatment. There could be a snowballing effect, he said.

"If this protectionist thing starts, where will it stop?" Palmer asked.

Mrs. Harry B. Caldwell of Greensboro, master of the North Carolina State Grange, said setting legislative quotas on any commodity "could have a bad effect and the United States could stand to lose."

Exports of raw leaf and manufactured tobacco products in 1969 accounted for 52 per cent of U. S. flue-cured production.

Truckers Win Big Pay

CHICAGO (AP) — Negotiators announced early today an agreement to end a 12-week Chicago area trucking strike and lockout and to increase by nearly 70 per cent pay raises provided in a national trucking contract ratified in May.

earning an average of $4 an hour. Under the new agreement, their raise over 39 months will be $1.85 an hour.

The 37,000 Chicago area truckers involved in the strike and lockout won pay raises of $1.65 an hour over 36 months, the period covered by the separate contract negotiated for them. They had been earning $4.15 an hour under a contract that expired March 31.

Unemployment Rate Cut, But More Jobless

By C. YATES McDANIEL Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's unemployment rate dropped in June for the first time this year although an additional 1.3 million Americans sought unsuccessfully to find jobs.

The seeming contradiction was attributed by the Labor Department Thursday to the fact that the number of adult women and teen-agers seeking work fell far below expectations.

The department also reported, without elaboration, the jobless rate for Negroes rose from 8 to 8.7 per cent last month, returning to the April level after a dip in May.

The nonwhite unemployment rate was 7 per cent a year ago and 7.1 per cent in March 1970. The 15-year low in nonwhite unemployment was 5.7 per cent in February 1969.

The over-all unemployment rate for June was 4.7 per cent, compared with 5 per cent in May and 3.4 per cent a year ago. Nixon administration officials have predicted the rate will hit 5 1/2 per cent before dropping again toward the 4 per cent mark.

lion. The employment figures are compiled from a complicated seasonal-adjustment formula which takes into account what could be expected in the labor market at any time of the year.

The Labor Department said for the first time in eight months the jobless rate of adult males did not rise. The rate for teen-agers remained unchanged.

The report attached economic significance to the fact that the number of persons holding non-farm jobs increased by only 6,500 in June to 71.5 million, saying this figure also was smaller than expected.

During the 12 months ending in May, average hourly earnings of product and non-supervisory workers on private payrolls edged up one cent to $3.

This increase failed to match rising consumer prices and resulted in an effective 1.8 per cent reduction in earnings, the Labor Department said.

Doubling Of Street Funds Being Sought By Municipalities

RALEIGH (AP) — The North Carolina League of Municipalities wants the 1971 General Assembly to double the share of the state gasoline tax allocated for city street needs.

S. Leigh Wilson, executive director of the league, outlined the request Thursday to a subcommittee of the North Carolina Local Government Commission.

Wilson also asked the study group to support legislation seeking a $20 million appropriation for the 1971-73 biennium to provide 25 per cent state matching grants for municipal sewage treatment works. The legislation will be proposed by the Department of Water and Air Resources.

Of the nine-cent state gasoline tax, one-half cent goes to municipalities for thoroughfare and street needs under the so-called Powell Bill.

Schools Told Make New Teacher Assignments

By STUART SAVAGE Reflector Staff Writer

TRENTON — Federal Judge John D. Larkins, although not ruling on the Greenville City Board of Education's 1970-1971 school year desegregation plan yesterday following a hearing here, told school officials to make new teacher assignments in order to achieve a teacher ratio in line with the black to white pupil ratio in the school system.

The hearing yesterday was on a motion for further relief filed by attorneys for Douglas Edwards and a number of other minor students seeking to cause the city school system to adopt and implement a plan of desegregation which "will eliminate all of the defendants' all-black and all-white schools"; to adopt a plan of desegregation for its faculty and staff; and enjoin the Board of Education from proceeding with any construction that fails to further desegregation in the system.

The plaintiffs, represented yesterday by Julius Chambers, Negro attorney of Charlotte and attorney Jerry Paul of Greenville, in their motion objected to the plan submitted by the city on the grounds that it fails to integrate the elementary schools, that it fails to include any provisions for the desegregation of teachers and school personnel; and that it fails to make provisions for the elimination of racial discrimination in extra-curricular activities, the transportation of pupils and in other programs.

Superintendent of Schools Dr. C. C. Cleetwood was the only person to testify at the hearing yesterday, although depositions from Cleetwood, Dr. E. B. Aycock, chairman of the Board of Education, and Glen Cox, associate superintendent of schools were introduced as evidence.

According to the testimony, the plan of operation for the coming year includes maintaining one high school and one junior high school to serve all students in grades seven through 12, with elementary students, in grades one through six being assigned to neighborhood schools on a geographical zoning basis.

The plan also provides a majority-to-minority transfer option which permits a student in a school in which his race is in the majority to transfer to another school where his race is in the minority when space is available.

Cleetwood's testimony indicated that the black-white teacher ratio in the schools is about in line with the black-white student ratio with the exception of the Wahl-Coates elementary school.

Judge Larkins, at the close of the hearing, said "I certainly would want teacher assignments taken care of," then suggested a new teacher assignment plan be presented to the court as soon as possible.

Chambers, in his exarapination, of Dr. Cleetwood, referred several times to grouping or clustering schools in the system, including such grouping as Eastern Elementary-Wahl-Coates-Third Street and Sadie Sautler and Elmhurst-South Greenville-Agnes Fullilove, in order to achieve desegregation of all-white Eastern Elementary and all-black Sadie Sautler, and more black students in other schools.

The school superintendent indicated that such grouping would create "educational problems" by disrupting the system's non-graded program and increase bussing, among other things.

Cleetwood indicated that if Eastern, Wahl-Coates, Third Street and Sadie Sautler schools were grouped two-thirds of the 1,800 elementary students in the area would be bussed to school.

At present, he said, 523 elementary students are being bussed to seven elementary schools.

"We have some budget problems," Cleetwood told the court. "We will lose some locally paid teachers as well as five state paid teachers. . . and funds for bussing of students will not be available."

Traffic Toll

RALEIGH (AP) — The Motor Vehicle Department's report of highway deaths and injuries for the 24 hours ending at midnight Thursday:

Table with 2 columns: Category and Count. Killed: 3, Injured (rural): 43, Killed this year: 766, Killed to date last year: 807.

Belated Soviet Help

LIMA (AP) — Landing at the rate of one every half hour, a belated mercy fleet of 65 Soviet jet cargo planes will arrive in Lima next week with tons of medical supplies for survivors of the earthquake disaster.

The Russian aid looked like an attempt to offset some of the effect of Mrs. Richard M. Nixon's two-day visit to Peru this week to inspect the disaster areas.

The United States has allocated $10 million and sent more than 30 planes and helicopters to help isolated Andean areas hit hardest by the quake.

Surgery For General

SAIGON (AP) — Gen. Creighton W. Abrams, commander of all U.S. forces in Vietnam, underwent surgery this morning for removal of his gall bladder in a U.S. military hospital in Japan, the U.S. Command announced. Abrams is 55.

care and is making good progress in his recovery from the surgery."

The surgery had been scheduled for some time, and Abrams entered the hospital in Japan two days ago, the statement added.

The command said Abrams will return to Saigon after a convalescent leave.

Will Plan Withdrawal

HONOLULU (AP) — Top military strategists meet here for five days beginning Monday to plan the logistics of withdrawing 50,000 men from Vietnam by Oct. 15. Such a withdrawal would reduce the level of U.S. forces to 384,000.

Cain Jr., Pacific military commander, follows President Nixon's June 3 announcement concerning additional U.S. troop deployments from Vietnam.

The President has said that a total of 150,000 troops will be withdrawn from Vietnam by the spring of 1971 to achieve an authorized strength of 284,000.

Auto Sales Trail '69

DETROIT (AP) — Domestic auto sales for the first half of 1970 trailed last year's totals by more than nine per cent.

American Motors Corp. was the only automaker to register an increase in sales over 1969. And it further reported Thursday that it had sold all the 1970 models of its new subcompact, the Gremlin, that it can build before model changeover.

The Gremlin, shaped something like a shoe, was introduced by AMC in April as the first domestic car designed to compete with foreign subcompacts such as the Volkswagen in size and price. It has a manufacturer's suggested price of $1,879, the lowest priced American-made car.

An AMC spokesman said dealers would no longer take orders for the 1970 Gremlin. However, he said customers could place advance orders for the 1971 Gremlin, which will be assembled starting in mid-August.

FCC Boosts Fee Schedules

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Communications Commission has boosted its fee schedule and imposed new charges to broadcasters in an effort to raise sufficient funds to pay for operation of the agency.

The combination was expected to mean an average 400 per cent increase in federal licensing costs for broadcasters and others using FCC services.

School Districts Facing Threat Of Funds Cutoff

By MARK BROWN Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pledged to wipe out the last vestiges of Southern-style school segregation by this fall, the Nixon administration has picked up a civil rights tool it seemingly discarded last summer—the economic lever.

given 30 days to conform to desegregation guidelines or lose their government money.

Richardson's action marked the first time, with one exception, the Department of Health, Education and Welfare had invoked the cutoff provision since August of last year.

Named by the new HEW secretary were the Hendry County Board of Public Instruction in Florida, Nacogdoches Independent School District in Texas and Chester County School District in South Carolina. The amount of money involved could not immediately be determined, a HEW spokesman said.

Revival of the cutoff threat came after government civil rights officials disclosed that about 100 Southern school districts remain illegally segregated nine weeks before the opening of fall classes.

The 100 districts, mostly in the Deep South and Texas, have neither adopted a desegregation plan voluntarily nor been told by a court to do so.

The Justice Department, whose role in forcing desegregation increased with last year's decision to drop the cutoff threat in favor of court action, has not yet decided what action to take.

Richardson's terse announcement of the cutoff gave little indication whether it would be used extensively in the coming two months.

Leftists Taking Dim View Of 'Honor America Day'

By KEN HARTNETT
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — To one veteran antiwar organizer the July Fourth "Honor America" extravaganza in the nation's capital "is the kind of thing that took place in Hitler's Germany."

"It's all there—folklore, sectarian politics, just like Nazi Germany. It's scary," Stewart Meacham says. "It really is."

Meacham's advice to the left: "Stay away from it. Any attempt to get into it makes it more interesting and builds it."

Generally, the organized left seems to be following Meacham's counsel and is ignoring the event.

But no one can safely predict the reaction of the disorganized left—that collection of ragtag revolutionaries, Yippies, politicized hippies and street people who band together under names like the White Panthers, the Up-Against-the-Wall, the STP.

"There's a lot of people coming," said a tall young man with long brown curls and a sleeping bag strapped to his back. "And there's going to be a lot of political disagreement."

To the far left, the organized, the unorganized and the disorganized segments included, the production featuring Bob Hope and the Rev. Billy Graham is a political show, pure and simple, and a right-wing one, at that.

"It's a disgraceful exploitation of religion by an administration using this kind of thing as a means to prop itself up," said Meacham, a former Presbyterian pastor who helped build last November's massive antiwar demonstration in Washington.

Originally, Abbie Hoffman planned to call the nation's Yippie tribes to the capital for a "Festival of Life" on the Fourth.

But after "Honor America" Day was announced Hoffman canceled his happening. One close associate explained, "Abbie thought it would be a massacre." Another source said the decision was political and would have been made with or without "Honor America" Day.

Rennie Davis, another of the Chicago 7 conspiracy trial defendants, made a spoofing attempt to get the antiestablishment included on the Honor American Day program.

Davis didn't push his suggestions for long or very loudly. He had another purpose in mind. "We wanted to show it up as the right-wing thing that it is. Now the hell with it," he said. The fact that most New Left figures, with the exception of Davis, ignored the event, does not necessarily mean that "Honor America" celebrants will have the day to themselves.

Long before "Honor America" Day was announced, there was talk of a marijuana smoke-in in Washington on the Fourth. And the word is out in the underground press that the smoke-in will be staged.

"A whole bunch of kids are in town," said a Washington activist. "But there is no organization and there are no groups that are organizing. Outside of the smoke-in, I don't think anything's going to happen."

However, another radical presented this scenario: "It's going to be hot. There's going to be lots of kids with no clothes on in the reflecting pool. These kids are going to be mixing with hard hats being brought in by the bus load. The kids are going to be smoking dope and with their long hair and their Viet Cong flags, they're going to freak the rednecks out. The kids won't freak out. They'll be scared to death."

But many activists will spend the day in more serene ways. New Left theoretician Arthur Waskow of Washington will read the Declaration of Independence to his children, then visit the Folk Festival at the Smithsonian. He will ignore the show at the Lincoln Memorial.

"What will be happening is basically proof," said Waskow, "that the Silent Majority is a Walt Disney production. The kind of superpatriotism, not the straight 19th Century version but a plastic version of that, has to be whipped up on order. It has to be manufactured. It doesn't come from the guts of the American people."

Senior Aides were Evelyn Maduzia and Marlee Ray of Goldsboro, Lynne Petterson and Terri Miller of Greenville. Miss Miller was waterfront director. Each night, a troop presented a campfire program. Troop 429 presented a skit for the health aid badge. They sang songs, had refreshments and exchanged names for pen pals.

'Shape Change' Deflates Egos

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: You advised a flat-chested girl, "What nature has forgotten—stuff with cotton." That may be all right during the pursuit, but once they've agreed to matrimony, she should shed the artificiality. The poor guy may want a bosomy wife more than anything else in the world (an immature attitude, but many men are immature). The girl may have known this all along and deceived him with "falsies." If you think this is ridiculous, it isn't. I've seen it happen.

So on their wedding night when the bride is found to be wearing balloons full of jello, there's going to be trouble.

I agree, some things are better left untold, but when two people plan to enter a relationship as intimate as marriage, such "secrets" are bound to be found out.

I'm an old-fashioned guy and I don't believe in rehearsals in bed before marriage, but I do think both parties should be completely honest about what is natural and what isn't before, as the young people say, the marriage is consummated.

DEAR TAFT: I find your "old-fashioned" attitude refreshing. However, not all girls wear falsies in order to deceive and entrap. [Some feel they look better in clothes with a few curves.]

No bride with a brain in her head would present herself as a truly bosomy babe right up to the wedding night, and then "deflate" herself—and her disappointed groom. But if she did, she deserves to be left "flat."

DEAR ABBY: My boyfriend and I argue about one thing constantly. He says that if you love someone you don't have to show it. I would like your opinion.

DEAR KARLA: If by "showing it" you mean putting on a public demonstration, that doesn't mean a thing. One "shows love" by treating another with kindness, consideration and understanding.

DEAR ABBY: Backing up your reply to the mother who doesn't want her daughter associating with a little neighbor girl because of the behavior of that child's mother: Many years ago I tactfully suggested to my five-year-old son that it might be better if he didn't play with a five-year-old neighbor boy because that boy's homelife was miserable, he told outrageous lies, used extremely bad language, his mother was "suspect," and so on. After listening, my son said, "But Mom, how will Billy ever learn to be a nice boy if no nice boys will play with him!"

I was so ashamed! "A little child shall lead..."

DEAR ABBY: On Mother's Day I received a card, "TO GRANDMA ON MOTHER'S DAY"—signed "from Cindy and Jeff"—my two grandchildren, ages two and one. But my daughter [their mother] didn't remember me in a special way. Maybe I'm foolish for feeling a little put out, but Abby, Mother's Day is the day for children to get a bit sentimental about their mothers, and I've always enjoyed that holiday above all others. Don't get me wrong, I love my grandchildren, but they are not my children, and just because I happen to be a grandmother doesn't mean I'm no longer a mother.

COOKING IS FUN!

By CECILY BROWNSTONE AP Food Editor

PORCH SUPPER

A summer soup with a delicious blend of vegetables.

Chilled Asparagus Soup

- Ham Loaf with Sherried Yams
- Salad Bowl
- Bread Tray
- Cantaloupe
- Beverage
- CHILLED ASPARAGUS SOUP
- 1 pound fresh asparagus
- 1/2 cup chopped celery
- 2 tablespoons chopped scallions (green onion) with part of green top included
- 1 can (13 3/4 oz) chicken broth
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 2 tablespoons butter
- 2 tablespoons flour
- 1 cup milk
- 1 container (8 ounces) light cream

Break off asparagus stalks as far down as they snap easily; wash spears; cut into 1-inch pieces. In a medium covered saucepan simmer the asparagus, celery, scallions, 1/2 cup of the chicken broth and salt until just tender—about 10 minutes. Put through a food mill. In the clean saucepan over low heat melt butter; stir in flour; remove from heat; gradually stir in remaining chicken broth keeping smooth. Cook over moderately low heat, stirring constantly, until thickened and boiling. Remove from heat; stir in vegetable puree, milk and cream. Chill. Stir well before serving. Makes about 1 quart.

Why Knock A Logical Policy?

Some of our lawmakers have been making a big thing out of U. S. payments for troops of other countries to help in the Vietnam conflict. They should know better.

It's a reasonable, economical way of adding to the necessary manpower resources that is needed. There's nothing new in it, either.

American dollars made the difference to our allies in World War I. Uncle Sam armed and financed a French army "in exile" during World War II, as well as Heaven knows how many other resistance forces.

There could not have been a South Korean army without American money and arms during the war that followed invasion of that country.

And it is utterly reasonable for the U. S. to similarly subsidize troops from Thailand, South Korea, the Philippines or Laos or Cambodia or wherever they can be found, to help in the kind of war where sheer numbers is an important factor.

The benefits that accrue are not to be discounted: a sense of sharing in the common defense; experience; training; a bolstering of pride; the development of necessary alliances.

But all of this is shameful, if one were to believe the critics, who in their own interests have decreed it so. And, by so doing, have also injured the pride of friendly governments whose contribution to a joint effort could not be made in money but in the lives and blood of their soldiers.

The services of a "subsidized" foreign soldier is much cheaper than that of an American soldier. The cost in terms of dollars for an American casualty is much higher than for his allied counterpart. But the price in blood and lives is the same, whether American, Korean, Thai or Filipino. There are always those left to mourn. In that we are equal.

Conservatives Voted To Rebel

By BRYAN HAILS LIP
RALEIGH, — Hooper, Hewes and Penn — three men who wrote their names for North Carolina on one of history's living documents. One was a lawyer. One was a merchant. One was a farmer. Neither was born in the colony. All were men of the Establishment, conservatives who abhorred uproar in the streets and wishes for reconciliation.

Yet at the point of no return they cast their vote for a course which meant revolution. With other members of the Continental Congress in Philadelphia on July 4, 1776, they signed the Declaration of Independence.

William Hooper, Joseph Hewes and John Penn are the North Carolina participants in the event observed as the birthday of the nation.

If we celebrated the resolve rather than the rhetoric, the holiday would be July 2. In fact, John Adams wrote to his wife, Abigail, the confident prediction that in years to come July 2 would be a great national celebration because it was on that day the Congress adopted the Resolution of Independence.

Adams reckoned without the splendid prose of Thomas Jefferson, given immortality in the Declaration which was adopted as the explanation to the world for the action already taken.

It also was Adams, an indefatigable letter writer, who penned to Jefferson in later years the observation: "You know that the unanimity of the states finally depended on the vote of Joseph Hewes, and was finally determined by him, and yet history is to ascribe the American Revolution to Thomas Paine."

Hooper, Hewes and Penn are shadowy patriots today, called to mind at the time of the holiday honoring the Declaration they signed for North Carolina.

William Hooper was a Massachusetts pastor's son. He attended Harvard University where he developed his gifts as an orator. He moved to North Carolina in 1764, and quickly established himself as an eminent attorney at Wilmington. He served as deputy attorney general for the colony. In the General Assembly of 1773, he advocated resistance to English policies — on the ground they were innovations repugnant to the British Constitution.

Joseph Hewes was born to a Quaker family in New Jersey. After education at Princeton, he was apprenticed to a Philadelphia merchant and then set up in business by his father, himself a prosperous merchant. Hewes settled in Edenton as a young man. In a short time the success of his shipping and mercantile interests brought him wealth and prestige. He was chosen in 1766 to represent the borough in the General Assembly, the start of a distinguished public career.

John Penn grew up in Carolina County, Virginia, of a landed family not greatly inclined to formal education. He moved 1774 to Williamsboro in Granville County, near present-day Oxford, where relatives lived. He was a man of courage and energy, quick to gain the confidence and respect of his new neighbors. They sent him to the Provincial Congress at Hillsborough in 1773, and he was elected to replace Richard Caswell as one of North Carolina's three delegates to the Continental Congress.

The state has no outstanding monument to the memory of the signers. For the most part, their papers are dispersed or lost. Their and thought is preserved only in sketchy outline.

There is hope for a remedy through the North Carolina America Revolution Bicentennial Commission. "North Carolina had a pivotal role in the Revolutionary period, yet there is no definitive history of it," said Richard Gibbs, the commission's executive secretary. "What we have had has been largely a rehashing of secondary sources. Not enough work has been done in primary sources."

The commission will publish a series of 20 or so booklets, popularly written but of sound scholarship. Gibbs has hopes that biographies of Hooper, Hewes and Penn also may be inspired by the interest in the period.

He is on the trail of a trunk of Hewes' papers which may be in the storerooms of Independence Hall in Philadelphia. "It would be a treasure trove if we could get our hands on them," Bibbs said.

After their bright hour at Philadelphia, the North Carolina signers ended their lives in the shadow of sorrow and disappointment.

Hooper was rebuffed in the adoption of North Carolina's democratic constitution of 1776. He moved to Hillsborough where he practiced law and served for a time in the House of Commons. But his pride had been wounded, and he succumbed to the blows of personal ill fortune, and after

Air Service Money To Go Where Steps Taken

The "unprecedented" flow of funds for airport development aid that started Wednesday can and will be all-important to those communities struggling to improve their air service facilities.

FAA Administrator J. H. Shaffer says up to $15 billion will be available for improvement of airports and airways over the next 10 years. He describes it as representing resources never before being made available.

No one should expect this money to be a gravy-train.

Rather, the favored ones who will share in the needed funds will be communities who have been working on their problems... who have already invested their own money and efforts...

It represents one more example of what The Reflector commented upon only the other day: when outside funds become available, whether it be for utilities, hospitals, schools and you-name-it, nothing can be done about it unless local people have already taken the first steps.

Case Of Folly In Nixon Veto

By ROWLAND EVANS and ROBERT NOVAK
WASHINGTON — The suppressed anger experienced on June 24 by two formidable Republicans — Rep. Gerald Ford of Michigan, the House minority leader, and Elliot Richardson, the new Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare (HEW) — unerringly reflects the disorganization and political ineptitude that still infects the Nixon administration.

On that day, Ford was bluntly informed that in a few short hours President Nixon would veto the Hill - Burton hospital construction bill. Although Ford would have the impossible mission of trying to sustain the veto, this was the first he had heard that Mr. Nixon was even considering such action.

Even so, notification to Ford of the fait accompli was actually more courteous treatment than that accorded to Richardson, whose department administers the Hill - Burton program. Round 5 o'clock that afternoon, an aide brought Richardson a dispatch hastily torn from a wire service ticker revealing that the President had just vetoed the bill.

Within seconds, Richardson was on the telephone to White House major dome John Ehrlichman, informing him in cool Boston Brahmin phrases that such treatment was intolerable. Similarly, Ford also told Presidential aides they absolutely must consult with the House Republican leadership on future legislative matters to avert disaster.

Bungled Congressional relationships are familiar in the Nixon administration. But the Hill - Burton veto exposed other equally chronic weaknesses: the isolation of the President, trusted staffers inexperienced in politics, and Mr. Nixon's surprising disregard for political reality.

Not only were the House Republican leadership and HEW ignored, but the President did not even confide his ex cathedra decision to Robert Finch, who was moved from HEW to be Mr. Nixon's right-hand man in the White House. The fact is that the Budget Bureau's veto recommendation (on purely fiscal grounds) was approved by Ehrlichman and transmitted to the President through Appointments Secretary H. R. (Bob) Haldean without any outside advice permitted to infringe upon this closed circle.

Had Mr. Nixon availed himself of more politically conscious advisers, he would have avoided last Thursday's humiliation when the House overrode the veto 279 to 98, and his own leaders were made to look like impotent simpletons. Speaker John McCormack, reverting to his salad days as a House debater, tweaked Ford's nose for impotence at the White House. The air was thick with resentment among House Republicans who, unlike their Senate colleagues, have loyally supported the President.

Mr. Nixon should have known even without the political advice he did not get that the 24-year-old Hill - Burton program — while admittedly anachronistic — is too popular for its veto to be sustained under any circumstances. Consequently, his unsuccessful veto only

How To Run A Railroad

WASHINGTON — It's hard for the ordinary citizen to understand why a $7-billion corporation such as the Penn Central Railroad could declare bankruptcy.

But this isn't the first time it's happened. The Larchmont, Saginaw and Tallahassee Railroad had a similar experience, and perhaps people will be able to understand the Penn Central situation if I explain what happened to the LS&T.

As everyone knows, the Larchmont, Saginaw and Tallahassee Railroad was one of the most profitable in the country. It specialized in bringing coals to New Castle, Penn.

In exchange for this monopoly, the LS&T has agreed to haul commuters from the suburbs into the cities of Larchmont, Saginaw and Tallahassee. While this was not a lucrative business, it was the price LS&T had to pay for using government rights of way.

Some time back, an executive of LS&T suggested that the railroad get into another business just in case the day might come when nobody wanted coals in New Castle.

"What business?" the chairman of the board asked.

"Why don't we buy a chocolate cake mix company? It certainly complements the railroad business."

So LS&T took the profits from their railroad and, instead of investing in new equipment, bought a chocolate cake mix factory.

This was followed by the purchase of a latex bra

Public Forum

To the Editor:

As a parent of five children who have attended Greenville Schools, I ask Dr. Sanderson to explain his phrase, "defeat by default." The school tax vote showed more people cast "no" votes as their only way to be heard.

In speaking of "the party that seldom picks up the check," Dr. Cleetwood seemed to me to be ridiculing sincere taxpayers who cannot stretch their paychecks further.

Since 1946, I have served as a grade mother, driven home sick children, been treasurer of the West Greenville PTA, worked for every teachers' pay increase, worked with fund-raising Halloween parties, attended a PTA Institute in 1953-54, bathed and dressed underprivileged children, and served on the City PTA Council. Tell this to show my sincere interest in our schools.

The Citizens' Awareness Committee met Sunday nights at 7:30, showing little respect for churches with Sunday night services. Our social and racial problems can only be solved by the help of God and His followers.

I voted "no" so there would be no extra money to pussy foot around with integration, instead of facing it head on. Every method to avoid it has been tried and money has been wasted.

Cleetwood's "long-suffering administrators" have bent rules. Girls' wearing slacks to school was a tossed-around matter for years, but no time was lost when blacks demanded it. The Rose High campus now resembles a recreation center.

I am thankful some youths with Christian ideals would attend neither the Junior-Senior given by the school nor the one by certain parents.

Yes, our children will lose, not because the tax increase did not pass, but because of the way the average student is pushed back in favor of the elite and some blacks.

I trust in the upcoming school year, the average student of either race will discipline himself in a Christian manner.

company, which was followed by the takeover of a malpractive insurance company.

Every dollar the LS&T made from its railroading was poured into a new business venture. Before long LS&T was making greeting cards, building skyscrapers, drilling for oil and making a bid to buy the Panama Canal.

Meanwhile, the LS&T's railroad was starting to suffer. Freight trains kept colliding with each other (the computers that used to keep them apart had been taken over by LS&T's book and magazine division), and cutbacks were made in passenger service.

When pressed by the passengers for better service, LS&T responded by raising commuter rates and locking all the washrooms on their passenger trains.

A citizen's committee called on the LS&T's offices which were now located in their 5,000-acre development known as Sky City.

Strength For Today

RIGHT WHERE WE LIVE
We have all read stories about men who have traveled through continents and across oceans looking in vain for happiness and have returned at last empty-handed, to find happiness back in their own homes. Most of us cannot stop what we are doing to make such journeys, though often we wish that we could. We feel sure that if we went somewhere else we could be happy.

But usually the longest journey to the most exotic land would not really do us any good. The secret of happiness lies not in our surroundings but in ourselves. If we have the art of being happy we can practice it anywhere. Indeed, much of this art consists in the ability to see the true nature and value of our everyday surroundings.

During the last century a German biblical scholar was traveling in the East looking for old manuscripts. In a monastery on Mount Sinai he found the monks lighting their fires with a basket full of old vellum which they considered worthless. He saved the sheets, and they proved to be part of one of the oldest and most precious Greek manuscripts of the Bible. Today those old leaves could not be bought from the museums that own them for a thousand dollars per page.

Liberty, the greatest of all blessings, must begin in our own hearts.

A Cloudy Month For Business

By ELMER ROESSER
July will be a cloudy month for business, with a few rays of sunlight.

Unemployment will rise, seemingly more than is really the case. Many June grads and undergrads who cannot find jobs will be counted as already granted government employees. In addition, postal employees may be voted their raise this month, probably retroactively. However, it is doubtful whether any of the goodies will reach them in July.

And while retail sales will be helped, it is still doubtful whether these benefits will result in substantial rises.

No Help For Stocks
During the month, second quarter corporation reports will start being made public and indications are that they will not be encouraging. Many companies will show less favorable results than in the first quarter, which were not very good.

These reports will not buoy stocks. However, there is always the possibility that other events will, such as a cut in interest rates.

There is no doubt that interest rates will be trimmed sometime between now and November. The administration won't dare go to the polls in November with business as strapped as it is today.

Summer vacation business will be only moderately affected by the decline in business. Total personal income will continue high and while many families may settle for more economical vacations, few will spend them in their own backyards.

Higher Living Costs
The cost of living will continue its upward spiral. Some foods will be seasonably cheaper and the confusion in the garment industry will lead to more price cutting. There may also be more distress merchandise on the market. However, many manufacturers and retailers have worked off their heavy inventories of appliances.

Inside A Fair Lady

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Is Julie Andrews stickily sweet, a girl with a marshmallow smile and a heart of 24-karat sugar?

This public image has mildly haunted the young British singing star ever since she launched her film career by winning an Oscar in "Mary Poppins."

"I don't mind it as long as people don't compare everything I do with Mary Poppins," she said.

"I don't think of myself as being treacly. I'm more stringent than that. I'm a sissy only so far as spiders and beetles are concerned."

In person Julie is open and friendly but likes to keep a little white picket fence around her thoughts. She reminds one of a typical English garden—neat and orderly with every flower in place.

Still only 34 and stunningly beautiful, she is at the peak of her career as one of the world's reigning box-office queens. Her first three pictures, including the wildly profitable "The Sound of Music," grossed around $100 million.

In her latest film, "Darling Lili," produced by her husband, Blake Edwards, she plays with more charm than conviction the role of a German spy in World War I. Her costar is that lil' ole singing former truckdriver, Rock Hudson, who drives a fighter plane in this piece of screened fudge.

Despite her pleasant air of serenity, Julie is a stern taskmaster with herself.

"To me life is mainly a matter of trying," she said. "It is trying to be, to give, to do—testing yourself—trying in all ways to the best of your ability—trying to make things work, to live life well."

"I'm not sure just what my philosophy is, and I think perhaps it changes from year to year. Possibly it is this: to try to remain open, unfixed, unbiased, and ready to change and listen to suggestions. That's important."

Julie says her worst traits are "laziness and a terrible tendency to interrupt and put my two cents in. As my husband says, I have something my wife wants to tell you."

She feels her best trait is adaptability.

"I can muck in with most situations, and I learn fast."

Sometimes a person's likes and dislikes offer character clues.

Here are Julie's likes:

"Honesty — Children — liac trees and daffodils—Italian foods, potatoes and French bread—outdoor smells and musky perfume in the evening—pretty clothes although I hate to get dressed up—the scents in a warm greenhouse—art, sculpture and painting—clear singing colors like yellow — American football and men with good minds."

These are her dislikes:

"Being made up to look glamorous—parsley—the edgy sound of people's voices when they are uptight—the smell of railway stations—dishonesty and intolerance—sadness of any kind in anyone or anything."

"I feel the world should be a happy place. I feel sorry for young people today, and I'm on their side."

"The pressures on them are enormous to find their way, to be an individual, and to retain that sense of freedom that all must have in life."

unemployed, although they are not regular members of the working force. And, as pointed out here before, one man laid off often results in a count of two on the unemployment total because his wife or other members of the family then seek employment.

Storm Brought Heavy Rainfall

A thunder storm, which dropped more than an inch of rain on the Greenville area last night disrupted electric and telephone service in the county.

According to Charles Horne, director of the Greenville Utilities Commission, "We had any number of problems over the system due to the storm."

He indicated that the storm lasted all night and some people were out all night long. Horne said the commission had lines down on the Farmville Highway, at Bell Arthur, on East Third Street and in Colonial Heights.

The utilities problem, Horn said, was compounded by the fact that the Utilities Commission's telephones were out of order. "We had a difficult time getting reports in on where the outages were," he said, adding that finally, calls were relayed from the telephone company offices.

Line crews were still working this morning cleaning up problems and restoring service.

In addition to the utilities telephone service, the Greenville Fire Department's three telephone lines were knocked out by the storm. Public service announcements were made over several television stations late last night advising local residents to call the Greenville Police Department in case of fire, but no blazes were reported.

Service to both the utilities commission and the fire department was restored this morning.

Carolina Telephone and Telephone Co. spokesmen said the storm disrupted service "all over town". Repairs, they said, are being made as fast as possible.

The Utilities Commission's weather station reported 1.05 inches of rain fell during the night.

Shocked

COLUMBIA (AP) — Lt. Gov. John West, the Democratic candidate for governor of South Carolina, shocked his friends Thursday when he announced that he had the endorsements of Richard Nixon and Ray Harris.

West is opposed in the gubernatorial race by Republican congressman Albert Watson.

Under questioning, West admitted that the Richard Nixon who is supporting him is not the President of the United States, and that the Ray Harris who has endorsed him is not the South Carolina GOP chairman.

Rather, West said, Richard Nixon and Ray Harris are both employes of automobile motor companies in Charleston.

CONTINUOUS MUSIC

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House has announced continuous music will be played by bands from the four armed services from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. daily through the July Fourth weekend at the executive mansion.

Hewes broke his health in public service. In 1777 he was defeated for reelection in a contest between liberal and conservative factions. Even his reelection the following year did not heal his wounded feelings. He died alone in Philadelphia in November, 1779, and is buried in the Christ Church churchyard there.

Penn found his personal interests neglected on his return to North Carolina. He declined a judgeship, but served on Abner Nash's Board of War. He soon resigned after a conflict with Nash and withdrew from public life. He died at his Granville County home in 1787, and is buried near Grassy Creek.

GI Program Kiwanians Are Selling Flags Paying Well

WASHINGTON (AP) — A San Diego psychiatrist made $176,000 on a GI health insurance program in 1968, a House subcommittee reported today, and the military didn't look into the payments until nudged by Congress.

The panel said the Pentagon finally reported back last month that all the fees had been ruled earned except for $11,212.75 which the unnamed psychiatrist refunded.

The House service benefits subcommittee headed by Rep. James A. Byrne, D-Pa., charged no wrongdoing but said it "was concerned about the long delay in determining the propriety of such payments" and recommended the Pentagon revise its procedures to keep a current review of the fees it pays.

The recommendation was made in a report on the military's Civilian Health and Medical Program of the Uniformed Services—CHAMPUS—which provides care for military families.

The Pentagon reportedly told the subcommittee "the psychiatrist worked 12 to 14 hours a day and had records showing he had earned the average $528 a day he received. The payments work out to that average if he worked six days a week.

The $11,121 overpayment, a subcommittee aide said, was the result of poor bookkeeping.

U.S. And Soviet Trade Increased

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The volume of Soviet imports from the United States increased 105-fold in the last 14 years, while Soviet buying from Communist China shrank more than 90 per cent.

This was disclosed today in trade figures published in the U.N. Monthly Bulletin of Statistics.

Over the same 14-year period, 1955-1969, Soviet exports to the United States more than doubled, while Soviet exports to Communist China dwindled more than 97 per cent.

The trends reflected an easing of tensions between the Russians and the Americans and the split between the Russians and the Chinese.

Grain Storage Bin Exploded

NEWTON, N.C. (AP) — A grain storage bin exploded Thursday night and the blast toppled 31 other bins at the Midstate Mills grain elevator in Newton.

Only four of the 97-foot bins on the grounds remained standing and two of them were damaged. All contained grain.

WINTERVILLE — Winterville Kiwanians are honoring America by seeing that everyone who wants an American flag to fly has one.

The group is selling flags for less than costs in a patriotic effort. For $2.50, one can buy a flag three feet by five feet made of good quality, washable fabric; a six-foot aluminum pole; a bracket for attaching the pole to the side of a house or other building; and a booklet on the meaning and proper use of the flag.

Winterville Kiwanian Walter Dail emphasized that this is not a money-making project. In fact, he said the club would welcome other groups taking up the project so more persons can be supplied with flags. The Winterville Club will be glad to furnish the name of the manufacturer, etc.

The town of Winterville was canvassed by Kiwanis Club members last night. Persons outside Winterville should call place orders and may pick up Church Street in Winterville. Dail's home — 756-3412 — to their flags at his home — 304 He said the purpose of the project is to give patriotic persons a chance to show their feelings. The project was suggested by Winterville Kiwanis Club member, Sen. Vernon White.

Allotments Bill Signed

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon has signed into law a bill providing permanent authority for lease and transfer of fuel-cured tobacco acreage allotments.

Rep. Watkins Abbitt, D-Va., had introduced the legislation to replace the existing temporary authority, which expires at the end of this year.

Abbitt, chairman of the Tobacco Subcommittee of the House Agriculture Committee, hailed the legislation as a constructive step which will strengthen the tobacco program.

He said the measure will make it possible for those with small, uneconomical allotments to make them available to someone else, or to acquire sufficient acreage by lease to make their work worthwhile.

Evans, Novak

Thus, in this peremptory veto, Mr. Nixon was turning away from the example of President Eisenhower, who used the veto so judiciously that he tamed a heavily Democratic Congress, and forgetting President Truman who showed the veto becomes increasingly less effective when used promiscuously. Once the Congress gets the taste of overriding, its lust is boundless.

That Ehrlichman, Haldeman, and the Budget Bureau technocrats should have been unaware of these subtleties was not surprising. What has startled Republicans on Capitol Hill is that Mr. Nixon himself failed to see the danger signal in the Hill - Burton veto.

But Mr. Nixon's political antennae have not been receiving well in the legislative area, particularly last week. One day before the Hill - Burton veto, he very nearly accepted incredible staff advice that he veto the school free - milk bill — again unsustainable in Congress, again without advice from Ford other Republican leaders.

On the other hand, his approval of the voting rights bill with its 18-year-old-voter rider was against the private advice of many House Republican Congressmen, who in this case were consulted. They felt the veto would be popular in the South and among the legion of kid-haters and, correctly, that it could have been sustained in the House.

Buchwald . . .

The vice president of LS&T's Commuter Complaint Department (he was really working in the company's Training Department as an intern) said, "We are sympathetic with your problems and would be happy to improve the service and install new equipment, but we need the money for a sulphur mining project we've just taken a lease on in Canada.

"You owe it to the commuters," someone protested. "We owe more to our stockholders. But I'll tell you what I'll do. I'll recommend we put lights back on the passenger trains during rush hour. It will be an expense, but it will show we have the public in mind."

Unfortunately, the vice president was overruled by the finance committee, and the passenger trains remained dark. Meanwhile, the major cash flow from bringing coals to New Castle started to dry up because so many customers were unhappy with LS&T's service. Without cash LS&T was in serious trouble.

So they hired President Nixon's old law firm to get them a subsidy from the Defense Department. When the story broke, the Defense Department had to turn them down, and LS&T had no choice but to file for bankruptcy.

The LS&T Railroad is now in the hands of the receivers, but thanks to wise investments in other fields the LS&T Holding Co. (which had spun off the railroad when it realized it couldn't be drained any more) is now worth $25 billion.

State Bank Upsets Builders

Home Builders was upset by rising State Bank last night, 4-3, in the Babe Ruth League. The other scheduled game, between College View and Pepsi-Cola, was rained out after three and a half innings, and will be replayed.

Carolina Dairy, now 9-2, got more breathing room with the Home Builders loss. The Builders' record-drops off to 7-4, a full two games behind the leaders. College View is 5-5, Planters Bank, 6-6, Pepsi-Cola, 5-6, and State Bank, 2-11.

Home Builders picked up a run in the top of the first to take the lead. Gary Hall singled in the infield and stole second. Bill Lee slapped the ball into right for a hit, and that brought Hall over for a 1-0 lead.

In the third, the Builders pushed in another run. That one came on a homer by Fred Lemmonds.

But in the fourth, State Bank began to come to life, pushing over a run. Roy Hudson walked and stole second. No one covered the base and the ball went into center allowing Hudson to move to third. Jerry White got an infield single to score Hudson with the first run. In the fifth, the Builders matched that and moved out 3-1. Wayne Bailey walked and stole both second and third. He scored when Harding Sutt sacrificed after Hall and Lee had both walked.

Start came up with another run in the bottom of the fifth. Jack Tripp walked and stole second. He scored when Jack Jenkins doubled.

Then, in the sixth, the Builders tied it up. Al Heath singled and Phil Dash sacrificed him to second. He moved to third on White's single and scored on a bunt single by Greg Chapman, making it 3-3.

State Bank then came up with the winning run in the seventh. Jenkins singled to left and stole second. Steve Fuchs singled to move him to third, and Hudson reached on an error, bringing Jenkins over with the winning run.

Neither team did much hitting. Home Builders got only three, while State Bank managed just one more. No one had more than one hit for either team.

Grand Slam Aids Expos Fifth Win

By TOM SALADINO
It took the Montreal Expos almost a year and a half to roll up a five-game winning string, not nearly as long as John Bateman waited to rip the first grand slam of his career.

Bateman, the Expos catcher, slammed the grand slam in the opening off St. Louis right-hander Mike Torrez and finished with seven runs batted in as Montreal whipped the Cardinals 13-10 Thursday night, extending their winning streak to five in a row.

"It was my first grand slam ever in organized ball," said the 27-year-old veteran of 10 professional campaigns, eight in the majors. "It sure felt good. It was a hanging slider and I'm sure he (Torrez) didn't want to put it there."

The Expos exploded for a six-run first inning and held off the Birds for the longest victory streak in their less than two years of existence. The second-year expansion club won four straight in September of last year.

In other National League contests, the Philadelphia Phillies swept a doubleheader from the New York Mets, 6-1 and 3-2 and Cincinnati nipped Atlanta 2-1 in the only games scheduled.

In the American League, California bombed Milwaukee 10-7, Minnesota topped Kansas City 5-2, Oakland dunned Chicago 10-6, Detroit blanked New York 5-0, Cleveland edged Baltimore 10-9 and Boston stopped Washington 5-0.

Bateman, who has been hitting at a .287 clip since June 10, added a two-run double in the second and delivered another run on a grounder. The seven RBI also set a club record.

Joe Hague drove in five runs for the Cards with a pair of homers while Carl Morton, 9-5, picked up the victory for Montreal.

Bateman, batting .195 three weeks ago, has upped his average to .232 and clubbed six homers and 21 RBNS in that span. He now has nine home runs and 31 runs driven in.

The 6-foot-3, 220-pounder was the Expos No. 3 choice in the expansion draft in 1968 where he was plucked from the Houston Astros. He missed the first month of this season when he was on the disabled list with a sore kidney.

The Mets are still No. 1 in the tight East Division battle but are now in a flat-footed tie for the spot with the idle Pittsburgh Pirates after Thursday's double defeat.

The Mets and Pirates each have a percentage of .526 New York is 40-36 while Pittsburgh is 41-37.

The Phillies snapped a string of 53 scoreless innings against New York pitching at Connie Mack Stadium in taking the first game and rallied in the nightcap, snapping a three-game losing string.

The Mets led the first game 1-0 in the eighth behind Gary Gentry's five-hitter before the Phils erupted for six runs, keyed by three straight pinch hits. Oscar Gamble's two-run single put Philadelphia ahead to stay at 3-1.

In the second contest, the Mets jumped to a 1-0 edge in the first inning but the Phils went ahead in the fourth on John Briggs' run-scoring single and a sacrifice fly and nullified Donn Clendenon's solo homer with and other run in the fifth on Denny Doyle's RBI single.

John Bench drove in both Cincinnati runs and Jim Merritt rolled to his 13th victory, tops in the majors. It was the Reds' seventh triumph in eight games while the Braves have dropped nine of their last 10.

Bench drove in a run in the first on a ground out and snapped a 1-1 tie in the third with a run-scoring single. Merritt, a left-hander, scattered six hits. He has lost six decisions,

Moose, Exchange Gain First Round Victories

The Moose and Exchange advanced in the Tar Heel Little League tournament yesterday, claiming victories over the Elks and Integon. The Moose downed the Elks, 12-5, while the Exchange nipped Integon, 3-1.

The Moose advanced to meet regular-season second place finisher Pepsi-Cola at 4 p.m. today, while champ Graniteers takes on the Exchange at 6 p.m. Both games will be held at Guy Smith Stadium. The winners of today's game meet Monday at 4 p.m. at Elm Street Park for the championship.

In the opener, the Elks charged into the lead in the first inning, getting three runs. Billy Glidewell reached on a single and Franklin Davis was safe on a fielder's choice. Peter Hargett doubled in Glidewell, and a double by Ricky Skinner brought in Davis and Hargett for the 3-0 score.

But it didn't last. The Moose came right back to score four runs and take the lead. Henry Baker walked and Greg Sasser singled to drive him in. Sasser stole second and Paul Farmer scored him with a single. Ross Hawkins reached on an error which let Farmer come around with the tying run. Hawkins advanced to second on the play and two passed balls brought him the rest of the way to put the Moose ahead.

In the second, the Moose added three more runs. Sasser reached on an error and scored on Keith Jones' double. Farmer brought in Jones with a two-run homer, running the Moose lead out to 7-3.

In the third, the Elks cut that to 7-5 with two more runs.

The Little Mint leads the league with a 10-2 mark, while NPC holds down second at 9-3. Foodmart moves into third place at 7-5, while Bob's is 7-6. Wachovia, 3-10 and Coke, 1-11, bring up the rear.

In the opener, Foodmart took the lead in the first inning with a run, but Wachovia matched that and tied it up in the bottom of the first.

Then, in the third inning, Foodmart exploded for 14 runs to take the lead for good. The inning featured a two-run homer by Tess Jackson. Foodmart went on to push over four in the fourth and four more in the fifth.

Bob's then took the lead in the fifth with three more runs, 6-3. But in the bottom of the fifth, NPC came up with eight more runs to wrap it up. It included a homer by Judy Waitts.

Bob's picked up one more in the sixth, but it wasn't enough.

Wachovia scored three more runs in the bottom of the fifth. NPC gained the lead in the first inning of its game, scoring once. They added one more in the second and another in the third for a 3-0 lead. But Bob's came up with three in the top of the fourth to tie it up.

Bob's then took the lead in the fifth with three more runs, 6-3. But in the bottom of the fifth, NPC came up with eight more runs to wrap it up. It included a homer by Judy Waitts.

R.C. Cola, Coke In North State Advance

R.C. Cola and Coca-Cola used fine pitching and timely batting to gain second round berths in the North State Little League Playoffs yesterday. R.C. nipped the Lions, 2-1, while Coke rolled to an 18-0 win over the Optimists.

Jeff Barber allowed only two hits in tossing the shutout for Coke. He struck out eight and walked two.

Gordon Sutton gave up just one more hit in winning for R.C. He struck out four and walked three.

R.C. now meets second place Jaycees today at 4 p.m., while Coke takes on regular season winner Kiwanis at 6 p.m., all at Elm Street Park. The two winners meet Monday at 6 p.m. for the title.

In the opener, R.C. pushed ahead with a run in the first inning. Jeff Bailey singled and moved up on Ricky Bolonde's single. Bill Ellington reached on an error, scoring Bailey.

It stayed that way until the top of the sixth inning, when the Lions got a homer from Connor Merritt to tie it up.

But R.C. came back in the bottom of the frame to take the win. Scott Hill led off with a single and Charlie Langley hit into a fielder's choice that was errored, allowing Hill to move to third. Buster Howard grounded out to first base, but it allowed Hill to score with the winning run.

Bolonde and Langley each had two hits for R.C., while no one had more than one for the Lions.

It was Coca-Cola in the second contest. They picked up two in the first inning. Molt Massey walked and Barber effectively won his own game with a two-run homer.

In the fourth, Coke exploded for eight runs to run the lead out to 10-0. Marshall Crumpler walked and Massey reached on an error. Barber again did the deed, this time with a three-run blast over the fence. Keith James singled and Max Joyner reached on a fielder's choice.

Mike Sutton was also safe on a fielder's choice, but Joyner was cut down. Sutton stole second and Jerome Ross walked. Joe Downing also walked, driving in James. Another walk, to Crumpler, brought in Sutton. Massey singled to score Ross, and a hit by Barber brought in Downing and Crumpler.

The final eight scored in the fifth inning. Joyner opened with a double. Sutton walked and stole second. Ross doubled to score both runners, and took third on a wild pitch. Will Hickman walked and stole second. Crumpler walked, loading the bases and Massey singled in Ross. Barber got a hit, bringing in Hickman, and a double by Joyner brought in Crumpler. Massey and Barber. Greg Lassiter doubled to bring in Joyner with the final run.

Massey, Barber and Joyner each had three hits, while Lassiter had two. Barber also was credited with eight runs batted in.

Moose Field Day Saturday

The 15th annual Moose Field Day will be held Saturday at the Elm Street Park Little League Field.

Field events and the annual Pop's All-Star Game will be held.

Activities get underway at 1:45 p.m. with the opening ceremonies including an invocation, flag raising and the pledge of allegiance, with a welcome by Ralph Heidenreich, governor of the local Moose Lodge.

Following that, the field-day events will get underway at 2 p.m. The events are each broken down into 10 and under and 11-12 age brackets. Only one boy from each team may enter each event and no boy may enter more than two events.

Events include running bases by times; infielder's throw for accuracy; outfielder's throw for accuracy; pitcher's throw for accuracy; home run hitting, and throwing for distance.

Trophies will be awarded to the winners in each event.

At 4 p.m., the Pop's All-Star game will get underway between fathers of North State and Tar Heel League players.

The evening will wind up with a picnic, starting at 6 p.m.

Three Lead L.L. Batting

Macon Moye, James Week and Kelly Heath share top honors in the Greenville Little League batting championships, it was announced today.

Moye and Weeks, teammates on the champion Graniteers shared the Tar Heel League's batting title. Both picked up 30 hits in 55 trips for a .545 average.

Heath, a member of the North State League's champion Kiwanis, paced the loop with a .512 mark, getting 22 hits in 43 trips.

In the Tar Heel loop, the first three batters, and five of the top 10 come from the Graniteers.

Following the top two are Jim Wilkerson, Graniteers, .519; Lee Shearin, Pepsi-Cola, and Mike Brewington, Exchange, .458; Roy Oldham, Pepsi-Cola, .450; Franklin Davis, Elks, .429; Paul Farmer, Moose, .420; Joel Clark, Graniteers, .412; and Howard Vainright, Graniteers, .405.

Third place R.C. Cola led the overall top 10 in the North State loop, putting three men in the top 10 column. Heath was the only member of the Kiwanis to make the mark.

Following him were Connor Merritt, Lions, .500; David Dixon, R.C. Cola, .442; Jeff Barber, Coca-Cola, .411; Gordon Sutton, R.C. Cola, and Max Joyner, Coca-Cola, .381; Drew Taylor, Jaycees, .378; Ricky Bolonde, R.C. Cola, and Dale Steele, Lions, .371; and Curtis Lee, Jaycees, .364.

Foodmart, NPC Pick Up Wins

Foodmart and National Products Co. picked up victories in the Ladies Softball League last night, but leader Little Mint was rained out and was unable to gain on the second place team. Foodmart downed Wachovia, 23-4, and NPC beat Bob's Atlantic, 11-7.

The Little Mint leads the league with a 10-2 mark, while NPC holds down second at 9-3. Foodmart moves into third place at 7-5, while Bob's is 7-6. Wachovia, 3-10 and Coke, 1-11, bring up the rear.

In the opener, Foodmart took the lead in the first inning with a run, but Wachovia matched that and tied it up in the bottom of the first.

Then, in the third inning, Foodmart exploded for 14 runs to take the lead for good. The inning featured a two-run homer by Tess Jackson. Foodmart went on to push over four in the fourth and four more in the fifth.

Bob's then took the lead in the fifth with three more runs, 6-3. But in the bottom of the fifth, NPC came up with eight more runs to wrap it up. It included a homer by Judy Waitts.

Bob's picked up one more in the sixth, but it wasn't enough.

Wachovia scored three more runs in the bottom of the fifth. NPC gained the lead in the first inning of its game, scoring once. They added one more in the second and another in the third for a 3-0 lead. But Bob's came up with three in the top of the fourth to tie it up.

Bob's then took the lead in the fifth with three more runs, 6-3. But in the bottom of the fifth, NPC came up with eight more runs to wrap it up. It included a homer by Judy Waitts.

Clarke Breaks Up No-Hitter

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer
The making of a no-hitter is a once-in-a-lifetime fling for most pitchers. The breaking of one is becoming second nature to one hitter...habitual offender Horace Clarke.

Clarke, who had ruined two previous no-hit bids this season with ninth inning singles, put his whammy on Joe Niekro Thursday night, beating out an infield tap in the ninth for the New York Yankees' lone hit in a 5-0 loss to the Detroit Tigers.

Niekro, who limited the Yanks to two walks before Clarke's one-out spoiler, joined Kansas City's Jim Rooker and Boston's Sonny Siebert on the New York second baseman's list of ninth inning victims.

Elsewhere in the AL, Cleveland outlasted Baltimore 10-9, Minnesota defeated Kansas City 5-2, Oakland trimmed the Chicago White Sox 10-6; California slugged Milwaukee 10-7 and Boston blanked Washington 5-0. In the National League, Philadelphia swept a two-night twin bill from the New York Mets 6-1 and 3-2; Montreal topped St. Louis 13-10 and Cincinnati nipped Atlanta 2-1.

After Niekro got the first out in the ninth at Detroit, Clarke sent a bouncer into the hole between first and second. Tigers' second baseman Dick McAuliffe, who had 10 assists in the game, raced to his left, flagged down the ball and threw to Niekro, covering first, but Clarke barely beat it.

The official scorer awarded a hit to Clarke without hesitation.

And Clarke wasn't about to give it back.

Niekro, 9-6, gave himself all the support he needed with a two-run single in the second inning. Jim Price and Jim Northrup homered for the Tigers.

Tony Horton hit for the cycle—single, double, triple, homer—as the Indians beat the Orioles for the first time in nine meetings. Horton's homer and a sacrifice fly by Jack Heidemann in the ninth gave Cleveland a 10-6 lead which stood up despite a three-run homer by Boog Powell in the bottom half.

Ray Fosse's three-run homer in the first extended the Cleveland catcher's hitting streak to 23 games...longest in the AL this year.

Home runs by Harmon Killebrew, Leo Cardenas and Cesar Tovar powered the Twins past Kansas City to their fourth consecutive victory. Winning pitcher Tom Hall held the Royals hitless until the sixth but needed late relief help from Stan Williams.

Oakland ran its winning string to five games as Reggie Jackson homered to key an early assault on left-hander Barry Moore. Carlos May hit a two-run homer for the White Sox.

The Angels struck for five runs in the seventh, two of them on a single by Alex Johnson, and held off Milwaukee despite two homers by the Brewers' Tommy Harper.

Gary Peters fired a six-hitter for his second successive shut-out victory and Carl Yastrzemski provided the punch with a two-run homer as the Red Sox whipped the Senators.

Patriots Find Harwar Home

BOSTON AP — The Boston Patriots of the National Football League hope to make Harvard's Ivy Covered Stadium a showcase for their No. 1 draft choice, defensive end Phil Olsen of Utah State.

The Patriots happily announced completion of signing of all 14 draft choices by getting Olsen to agree to terms Thursday. However, they declined to disclose any details of the contract for the 6-5 All-American 260-pound kid brother of mighty Merlin Olsen of the Los Angeles Rams.

Olsen, who had hoped to play pro football on the West Coast, threatened at one stage to go into private business. However, the Patriots apparently sweetened the contract offer, which observers feel includes a multi-year no-cut clause.

After announcing the signing of Olsen, the Patriots issued another statement which they said was made in conjunction with Harvard University. The joint announcement said that the university and the football club were in "substantial agreement" for use of Harvard Stadium by the Patriots for seven home games this fall.

The agreement is contingent upon "the prompt and successful completion of the financing of the Foxboro stadium for use

Youth Meets Idol In Wimbledon Net Finals

By Geoffrey Miller

WIMBLEDON, England, (AP) — A 10-year-old Australian boy, just learning to hold a tennis racket, listened to a radio commentary on Ken Rosewall playing in the challenge round of the Davis Cup and told his parents: "That's who I'd like to be."

It was 16 years ago. Now John Newcombe finds himself facing Rosewall, who is 35, in the Wimbledon final.

"To think I was just a small kid when I idolized him," Newcombe said. "He and Lew Hoad were Australia's national heroes."

"I guess he's always been a sort of hero for me. But to play him in the Wimbledon final was never even a childhood dream. It would have seemed impossi-

New Check On Gambling

MIAMI (AP) — New York and Miami authorities are conducting a new investigation into alleged mob gambling on sports activities, the Miami Herald reported in Friday editions.

The Herald said State Atty. Richard Gerstein confirmed the probe in Miami, but declined to give details.

"We're involved because the sports figures involved are frequent visitors to this area," the newspaper quoted Gerstein as saying.

Efforts to learn more about the investigation from New York Dist. Atty. Frank Hogan's office were futile, the Herald said.

by the Patriots in their 1971 season.

The Patriots now are homeless. Their top choice for a 1970 home site is Harvard with a 40,000 seating capacity. However, the university has rejected flatly any arrangement which might force it to become a long-time landlord for pro football.

Petty Leads Second Day Qualifying Pack

By F. T. MACFEELY
Associated Press Sports Writer
DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP) —Carle Yarborough starts first off a record qualifying speed. So what's new?

Bobby Isaac starts second, a slight change from the Daytona 500, when he started third.

But the $20,800 first prize goes to the driver who finishes first in the $95,000 Firecracker 400 stock car race Saturday.

Blond Pete Hamilton, who has both intelligence and good looks, came from the middle of the pack to win the richest stock car race of all time in February.

Hamilton and his boss-steam-mate, Richard Petty, make a formidable Plymouth combination in the midsummer sequel. Petty, twice winner of the Daytona 500 but still looking for a breakthrough in the Firecracker, celebrated his 33rd birthday Thursday by leading second-day qualifiers at 187.574 miles an hour.

Yarborough's formidable 191.640 record pace of Wednesday makes his Mercury the car to beat. Isaac's Dodge, in at second best 190.142, isn't far behind.

Then, there is the third starter, Lee Roy Yarborough, defending champion who was demonstrably disappointed at his Mercury's qualifying speed of 189.685.

Hamilton goes to the starting line beside Yarborough off a 189.537 qualifying run. But, when asked if he was holding back in the trial, Hamilton flashed a boyish grin and replied: "The race is the thing."

There are plenty of other contenders with factory-backed machines. David Pearson, 1969 Grand National champion, has added incentive. His Ford was nosed out by Hamilton in the closing laps of the Daytona 500. Charlie Glotzbach, Buddy Baker, Bobby Allison and Fred Lorenzen are all in fast Dodges. Lorenzen, returning from a three-year layoff, has the stuff of champions.

Benny Parsons, James Hylton and Donnie Allison start Fords among the front rows. Allison, first NASCAR driver to finish as high as fourth in the Indianapolis 500, hasn't worked the bugs out of his Ford but is a good bet to do so by 10 a.m. starting time.

Dick Brooks, 1969 Rookie of the Year, joins Petty and Hamilton as top Plymouth threats.

The rest of the 40-car starting field are darkhorses. One of them can win only if all the top drivers and machines break down.

Yarborough set the record at 167.247 m.p.h. two years ago. Yarborough won last year at 160.875.5

All the finishers are certain to make at least four pit stops. They get only 90 miles or so on a 22-gallon tank of gasoline.

Wilson Race Set Saturday

WILSON — Just how much can a car stand? A good question. But that will depend on the driver — and the car.

The biggest test for cars, and the driver, will come Saturday, at the half-mile Wilson County Speedway dirt track when more than firecrackers and Roman candles will be exploding.

A 200-lap late model race will be the feature of the year at the Carolina Racing Association's track. There will be $5,920 in prize funds to be distributed to the top 30 cars. First place will pay $1,500 with second place dropping to $1,000. That's not bad pay for an afternoon's work.

Time trials, which get underway at 5:30 and continue until 7 o'clock, will sort out the top 30 drivers that will compete for the granddaddy prize at the Wilson Speedway. The gates open at 3 p.m. and practice runs will be held from 4-5:30. The race gets underway at 8:30.

"We feel like this is going to be a big race since we are getting some of the best drivers and cars in the country," commented Nick Gwatney, an official at the Wilson Speedway. "Some of the best drivers that are seen in the U.S. will be here to make a run for our biggest purse of the year."

There are a lot of favorites which racing fans will be able to choose from. There is the consistent Al Grinnan of Fredericksburg, Va. that has won the last four feature late model races at the oval dirt Wilson Speedway. "It's going to be a dilly of a race," Grinnan smiled behind a face of caked dirt and grease Saturday night after his $400 win. "Drivers and cars will have to be in tip-top shape for this one."

The field of drivers will include John Matthews, Chevelle; Mac Mangum, Chevelle; Dennis Smith, Chevelle; James Jones, Dodge and Jackie Rogers, Chevelle.

Even firecrackers and 4th of July explosives will have to be in second place.

The Worry Clinic Compensation Can Be Risky

Della's case is really a fascinating example of social compensation. For Della suffered from an inferiority complex in the educational realm. So she resorted to the dangerous method below to gain the social spotlight. But it was leading to a divorce. So compensate more wisely!

By GEORGE W. CRANE, Ph. D., M.D.
CASE N-551: Della D., aged 24, has been married 7 years.
"But, Dr. Crane," her worried husband began, "Della keeps me broke."
"For she literally has a mania to buy new frocks. And they must be costly unduplicated creations that really sell at staggering prices."
"Then she will wear the new dress only once!"
"She refuses to appear in public in the same outfit twice!"
"We are literally going to end in a divorce just because of our unpaid bills, unless she changes."

"But my arguments and even those of her friends don't have any effect. Her mania for new outfits keeps on, unchanged!"
Shakespeare was a superb psychologist and had one of his characters "protest too much."
When a girl like Della likewise goes to such obvious excess in squandering money on new frocks, then we can suspect that there is a deeper emotional need which those dresses help remedy.

If she were merely a "Narcissus" personality, who likes to admire herself in front of the mirror, she could profitably apply for a job as a model.
But she is a girl who eloped in the senior year of high school and never obtained her diploma.
Her husband now mingles in cultured circles where Della feels educationally inferior.
If conversation veers around to college subjects and opera or other profound topics, Della cannot participate so she feels left out.

Yet she has a great urge to be in the limelight.
So she finds that if she dresses in the latest vogue and thus can "high-hat" her cultured associates, then her wounded educational ego can be offset.
For the other women will be attentive to her costumes and envious of her expensive frocks.
In this roundabout manner, Della has subconsciously learned that she can become the cynosure of feminine eyes and even waken some masculine attention, too.

But because her ensemble draws the conscious gaze of the women in the party, she feels she dares not wear the same dress to a second party, for women remember every detail of a rival's costume.
Della is also a poor conversationalist so she doesn't know how to carry on a gay repartee.
And she had never launched upon my "Compliment Club" project, which is a surefire way to win friends and become a graceful conversationalist.
Della, alas, had only one "trump" to play in social circles and that was her costly clothing.
She lacked the art of making friends so she tried to "buy" attention by out-dressing her feminine companions.

As I explained to Della and her husband, it is much more efficient and less costly to learn how to win friends via the use of honest praise.
So send for the "Compliment Club" booklet, enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 20 cents, and launch your whole family upon this fascinating experiment in social psychology. (Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

Task Force Here July 10

"The Governor's Task Force on Regional Child Mental Health enters, headed by Dr. Thomas Hazlip, to hold its July 10 meeting in Greenville on the East Carolina University campus.

This group, appointed by Gov. Bob Scott with statewide representation, will make specific recommendations to the Legislature concerning the comprehensive health needs of children in North Carolina.

Local task force participants

SO HIS NEW POWER MOWER ARRIVED— AT ABOUT THE SAME TIME AS THE DROUGHT AND ALL HE'S BEEN CUTTING IS A WISDOM TOOTH!

are ECU faculty members John Ball, chairman, Department of Social Work, and Nash Love, chairman, Department of Child Development and Family Relations.

According to Dr. Love, the main objective of the committee meeting will be to make recommendations concerning need, location, procedures and financing of the proposed regional mental health centers.

All interested persons, professional and non-professional, are invited to attend the meeting, which begins at 2:00 p.m. in Room 114 of the Home Economics Building on the ECU campus.

Ribbon cutting ceremonies to mark the official opening of the new Greenville branch of the Bank of Winterville on Memorial Drive will be held Tuesday morning at 10 a.m.

According to Donald C. Langston, The Bank of Winterville president, a number of local officials, including Mayor Frank M. Wooten Jr., will be on hand to take part in the ceremonies.

as branch manager of the new office, the first venture outside of Winterville for the 64 year old Bank of Winterville.

Citing the history of the original Winterville office, Langston said that it was organized in 1906 with a capital of $5,000. "It was one of the few that made it through the depression without closing," he added.

In pointing out that the bank and new branch are both locally owned and operated, he commented, "We certainly look forward to becoming a part of Greenville and serving the people of this area."

The branch will observe the normal banking hours followed by other banks in the city.

Open house activities will be held at a later date, the bank president noted.

The new branch will employ six tellers to serve the banking public and a drive-in window for motoring convenience will also be operated, Langston said.

He noted that the new facility has an area of 3,150 square feet of working space and on the outside, patrons will benefit from 69 free parking spaces.

Deputies Quit In Columbus County

WHITEVILLE, N. C. (AP)—Columbus County is without a deputy after the resignation of its 12 deputies in a dispute over their request for a pay raise.

The deputies have demanded a $50 increase from the county commissioners. Rebuffed, they resigned en masse Tuesday and Wednesday. Sheriff A. L. Ben Duke remained on the job, however, in the southeastern North Carolina county.

Huge gears turn ponderously—meshing with others which turn still others, and power is born, energy released. Today more and more gears and gadgets make living more and more luxurious. There are machines to do almost everything. Appliances entertain us, teach us, train us.

GEARS and GADGETS

One thing remains individual. There's no "dial-a-matic" gadget for God, no pushbutton gimmick. Man's search for meaning in his life is still his own responsibility.

When man only dreamed of flying and the fastest way to travel was by horseback, God's Church was the source of all goodness and joy. It's no different today. In a world where man races for the stars, the Church remains the well-spring of truth.

Attend your church. Find faith and the good life.

WE'VE TAKEN THE SCARE OUT OF SELLING!

and put high income in its place. That's right. We're looking for men who have never sold before... men to whom the word "insurance" is enough to make them stop right there... but men who sincerely want to get ahead in the world. We'll show you how to sell and, we promise, you won't have to buttonhole relatives and friends, be a pest or embarrass yourself or others. Why? Because you'll be offering America's most modern, most wanted health insurance protection at a reasonable cost as a Reserve Life Agent.

Actually, you owe it to yourself to find out. You won't be obligated in any way and it might mean the chance of a lifetime for you and your family! Free hospitalization for agents of course. Write for full information to Reserve Life Insurance Co., Box 151, Greenville, N. C.

You've got a lot to live

Pepsi's got a lot to give

What we mean is this: living isn't always easy, but it never has to be dull. There's too much to see, to do, to enjoy. Put yourself behind a Pepsi-Cola and get started. You've got a lot to live.
