To Defray Costs Of Wooten Complaint

Council 'Considers' City Tax Increase

By JERRY RAYNOR
Reflector Staff Writer

Greenville's four City Councilmen last night unanimously passed a motion made by Councilman Percy Cox to consider the possibility of raising city taxes three cents to help defray city costs of the complaint filed against the city by Mayor Frank M. Wooten, Jr.

"Let it go on record this council is considering raising taxes three cents to pay for the costs of the suit against the city by Mayor Wooten, Sid Skinner and others," was the motion Cox offered following a discussion of the hearing after a report made by City Attorney David Reid.

It was disclosed that attorney fees and incidental costs for the defendants to date amounts to a little over $9,000. In addition to City Attorney Reid, attorneys for the city are Louis Gaylord, Kenneth Hite, and Robinson Everett of Durham.

Reid explained that in addition to this actual cost several city officials spent considerable time in preparation of background material for the case.

In his report Reid stated, "Today I was served a copy of the plaintiff's notice of appeal, appealing to the Court of Appeals. The judge has permitted plaintiff 100 days to make up his case, and the defendants 30 days thereafter to accept the appeal or serve a counter appeal."

This will give a maximum of 130 days before the case can be docketed for the Court of Appeals. According to Reid, the result of this hearing would determine if the case would go to the Supreme Court of North Carolina.

Mayor Wooten posed a question as to whether the appeal would go directly to the Supreme Court without going through the Court of Appeals. Reid said, "My view is if there are only constitutional questions involved, then it will go directly to the Supreme Court. If other issues are involved, the case would have to go first to the Court of Appeals."

"Where does all this leave us, after the 130 days?" Councilman Jerry Sutherland asked.

"There is no restraining order," Reid told Sutherland. "The Redevelopment Commission and the city will be able to proceed with the CBD project without interruption. The appeal has no influence on the project, except it will entail additional legal preparations.

"Unfortunately," Reid continued, "this will cost the defendants (city) more money."

"And the plaintiffs too," Mayor Wooten noted.

Cox told Mayor Wooten, "This puts us in an awkward position in this case. You made public statements, that the only desire on your part, that if the court determined the CBD plans were correct, that it would proceed as planned."

"This case is costing the city tax payers money. It has already cost us $9,087.50 and we don't know how much more it will cost us," Cox remarked.

"Your earlier statements promised us, and you made public statements also, that you would accept the court's decision," Cox said. "This case just shocks me."

Councilman Dr. Frank Fuller wanted to know, "Are we to understand you are not satisfied with the court decision?"

"We should come to an understanding," Cox said, "and put in taxes somewhere to pay for the case."

It was at this point Mayor Wooten stated, "The next court is the Supreme Court. I believe the appeal will only cost a couple of thousand dollars. My lawyers have advised me to go directly to the Supreme Court."

"We are representing the taxpayers," Sutherland told the mayor, "and are deeply concerned about this."

"The way you spend your money is your business," Cox remarked, "but the way we spend taxpayers money is our business."

Councilman Johnnie Edwards said, "I understood you to say you wanted to know what the judge would say about this case. This whole thing leaves me feeling you don't know what you're doing."

"You stated this was a friendly suit," Sutherland told the mayor. "I never had a friend take me to the Supreme Court before."

"The only court that can determine the case is the Court of Appeals or the Supreme Court," Mayor Wooten replied. "I probably did not make my intention clear earlier."

School Suits Filed

Hardcore Holdouts Face Legal Action

By MARK BROWN
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration, following what its civil rights chief says was "our game plan all along," has taken spectacular legal action against hardcore Southern school segregation. Suits naming Mississippi state education officials and 27 school districts in three other Southern states were filed simultaneously by the Justice Department Thursday.

Jerris Leonard, the assistant attorney general for civil rights, said suits will be filed soon to desegregate 76 more districts that still maintain separate educational facilities for blacks and whites.

The push follows a virtual absence in the past four months of federal court activity while administration officials attempted to talk Southern educators into doing away with dual systems voluntarily.

The switch to sweet talk and President Nixon's emphasis, in his March school desegregation message, on good faith negotiations may have led some Southerners to believe the heat was off. However, with classes due to open in but seven weeks, Leonard proclaimed an end to negotiations.

Action On City Policeman Is Reviewed Again

By JERRY RAYNOR
Reflector Staff Writer

The suspension of police officer Barley Phillips following the shooting Monday of a 21 year old Negro man, Julius S. Summrell, came up for discussion at last night's City Council meeting.

Councilman Percy Cox, reviewed Section 13 of Article IV of Ordinance 341, "Employee Regulations and Pay Plan" as the basis for action taken Wednesday night in suspending Phillips without pay.

Section 13 of this ordinance permits the City Manager to "suspend the employee without pay as a non-disciplinary measure." It further stipulates "When the suspension shall be terminated by full reinstatement of the employee, the City Council may authorize full or partial recovery of pay and benefits for the period of the suspension."

"There are conflicting stories of the City of Greenville's role in this case," Cox commented. "The city felt it was necessary to suspend the person involved. We felt that as we called in the SBI and the city is conducting an investigation, that after investigation if the person is found guilty charges will be made. If he is found innocent, if the investigation shows he was acting in the line of duty, then it is up to the council to reinstate him and pay him for time lost."

"The Daily Reflector in its stories did not make this matter clear," Cox commented.

"I'd like to say that the Daily Reflector headlines (referring to Thursday's front page story) was a low blow," Jerry Sutherland remarked.

"I was unable to be present for the special meeting," Dr. Frank Fuller stated, "however, I concur in full with the action taken by the council in my absence."

The subject came up again after the conclusion of agenda items when citizens in the audience of about 50 persons commented on actions taken in the case.

Clinton Ridenour asked "Don't you support your Police Department? I don't think you should suspend a police officer, black or white, when he has no alternative but to shoot. What is a policeman supposed to do?"

"The newspaper didn't give a good report on this," Ridenour remarked. "I think the newspaper should come back and rephrase what happened."

"Were you at the scene at the time of shooting?" Mayor Frank M. Wooten asked Ridenour. When Ridenour said he was not, the mayor commented "I think everyone knows we stand behind our police department."

"I would like to volunteer to reply to Mr. Ridenour," City Manager Harry Hagerty stated. "This suspension is normal procedure. When an officer fires his weapon, he needs to account for the round.

"In this case there was a great deal of confusion, there still is. We have conflicting reports. We are all concerned about what did happen. The shooting occurred Monday. On Tuesday it became clear we should suspend the man, get him out of circulation. The case is being investigated. The matter of pay does not come up until the 15th, and by that time we should have had enough information to know what action will be taken.

"Unfortunately," Hagerty commented, "this case has been pounced upon and become an issue. I believe we have acted in the best interests of everyone."

Jay Joyner asked the City Council "What are you going to do about last night's (Wednesday night) demonstration. Last spring college kids were arrested for marching. Whose authority was given for these people to march down here last Thursday's suits seek to dismantle a total of 46 dual school systems: 19 in Mississippi, 10 in South Carolina, nine in Arkansas and eight in Florida.

Still facing legal action are 48 districts in Texas, seven in Georgia, seven in Tennessee, six in Florida, five in Virginia, two in Mississippi and one in Louisiana. The Justice Department refused to name those districts before suits are filed.

In addition, 14 segregated districts remain in North Carolina, but the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People Legal Defense Fund has filed a statewide suit there, the department said.

Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell, noting that administration efforts to negotiate voluntary desegregation agreements without court action had been successful in about 120 districts, said Thursday's filings and those upcoming "clean up the remnants—those few districts which could not or would not come into compliance."

The Thursday suits affect an estimated 95,000 black and 100,000 white students in 361 schools in the 46 districts. About 650 districts in the four states already have desegregated or will be desegregated by this fall.

"Our national government has one standard for the poor black and white people of the South and another for the affluent of the South and people in other parts of the country," Maddox said.

Bagged 3 MIGs

TEL AVIV (AP) — Israeli warplanes shot down three Egyptian fighter-bombers in dog fights over the Suez Canal today, the military command announced.

The Egyptian planes were Soviet-made MIG21s, a spokesman said.

They had attempted to intercept Israeli warplanes which began raiding Egyptian targets on the northern sector of the waterway a few hours earlier, he reported.

The aircraft were felled by cannon and rocket fire, he added. This brought to 105 the number of Egyptian planes Israel has claimed shooting down since the 1967 Middle East war.

These were first reported air battles since Israel last Monday made public its claim that the Russians had set up SAM3 surface-to-air missiles in the canal zone.

The planes were downed at 11:30 a.m. and Israeli bombing missions were still going on 90 minutes later, the spokesman said.

All Israeli planes were safe, he added.

N.C. Revenue Outlook Said To Be Darker

RALEIGH (AP) — North Carolina's General Fund collections during the fiscal year just ended exceeded estimates by 3 per cent. But Revenue Commissioner I. L. Clayton predicts a gloomier outlook for the second year of the biennium.

"I think the fiscal and monetary restraints which have been placed on our economy are going to have a decided effect on our collections for next year," Clayton said Thursday.

A report showed General Fund collections for the fiscal year were up 13.8 per cent, from $740.9 million last year to $843.1 million during the 1969-70 fiscal year.

This was 3 per cent, or $26 million, above estimates made by the 1969 General Assembly.

However, collections for June showed a drop of $7.1 million from June of the 1968-69 fiscal year. Clayton reported a drop of 14 1/2 per cent, from $48.7 million last year to $41.6 million this year.

He pointed to the drop in June as an indication that the nation's current economic slowdown is beginning to affect the state's tax income.

He said all of the 14 1/2 per cent drop in June revenue was due to income taxes, which were down from $14.8 million in June of last year to $5 million this year.

He said this was due to a drop in corporate income tax collections resulting from lowered corporate profits and to an increase of $7 million in income tax refunds made in June.

The General Assembly forecast an 11.19 per cent growth factor for the new fiscal year over the one just ended. Clayton said it is entirely possible that such growth may not be realized.

During the past fiscal year, he reported, the Highway Fund collected $290.6 million, as compared with $219.2 million the previous year, a gain of 32.56 per cent. Gasoline tax collections were up $55.3 million to $213.7 million.

New Plan Ordered For Wilson Pupils

TRENTON, N. C. (AP) — The Wilson city school board has been ordered to submit within 20 days a new desegregation plan which would leave no school racially identifiable.

U.S. Dist. Judge John D. Larkins, in rejecting the board's first plan Wednesday, also directed it to show in the new one what the faculty race ratio will be in each elementary school. The system has 4,053 black pupils and 3,809 whites in the elementary schools.

The judge said the plan he rejected would have left five schools with more than 55 per cent of their pupils of the white or the black race and therefore

Lots In Shore Drive Area Council OKs Sale Of Land To ECU

Sale of property in the Shore Drive area to East Carolina University was approved by the City Council last night.

The council acted on a resolution recommended by the Redevelopment Commission for the sale of three parcels of land, known as parcels 26, 33A and 38, to the university.

Sale price of the three parcels, which are located on the east side of Reade Street west of Old Town Creek, bounded on the north by First Street and stretching to the south to Fifth Street, amounts to $101,061.44. This price was approved on January 12, 1970 for sale to East Carolina University as a non-profit organization.

The resolution carried a contingent agreement that ECU will sell to the Redevelopment Commission land parcel 17 of block 6 in the Central Business District. This is a parcel of land adjacent to the city parking lot south of Fifth Street where the old town swimming pool was formerly located.

Larry Holt, purchasing officer for the Redevelopment Commission explained projected development plans for the three parcels. According to a plan shown the councilmen by Holt, the site of the old Greenville Junior High is earmarked for future dormitory construction; the lot between Fourth and Third Streets for tennis courts and other facilities; and the largest of the three land parcels, that between Third and First Street, will eventually house buildings for the Division of Continuing Education and the Regional Development Institute.

City Manager Harry Hagerty showed the councilmen a letter to Dr. Leo Jenkins, president of ECU, in which the State Property Officer approved the entire transaction.

Council members voted unanimously for this resolution, with Councilman Percy Cox stating "I am voting for it reluctantly."

The second land matter approved by the councilmen involved an open space contract with HUD for a grant to defray the expense of purchasing the Evans Park land on Hooker Road, following an explanation of the contract by Recreation Director Boyd Lee.

"In a nutshell the contract states what we plan to do with this land," Lee told the councilmen. "It will include things such as playground areas, picnic areas, and other recreation facilities. The most important thing," he continued, "is that from the time of purchase of the land we have 12 months in which to develop the area. Then we will get an on-site inspection."

The federal grant, which is for one half the total cost of the land, amounts to $50,394.

Other matters considered by city councilmen at last night's meeting included:

- Approval to pay 20 firemen for a total of 91 days of accumulated holidays. This represents time the firemen have been unable to take holiday periods off due to pressing duties over a three year time span. The total amount of compensation is $1,301.88.
- Approved entering a lease purchase agreement with a firm to purchase one 1970 demonstrator truck with a refuse body. This entails a down payment of $2,000 and payments of $1,000 each due on August 20 and September 20 with the balance of $14,120 due on October 20. This item, for the Public Works Department, was included in the 1970-71 budget.
- Granted permission to Jim Byrd, a representative of the N. C. League of Municipalities, to explain a program of life insurance for the dependents of the employees of the City of Greenville. Byrd also asked that the City Council approve deductions being made from the payroll for city employees participating in the insurance plan. It was noted that insurance program would not involve any cost to the city, and would be strictly a volunteer matter on the part of the individual employee. Mayor Frank M. Wooten remarked "we can grant you permission to present the plan to the city employees, but cannot endorse this or any other insurance plan."
- Approved a refund of $50 in privilege license fee to the Greenville Oil Company, which as of May 1 merged with Sutton Oil Company. The new license was obtained inadvertently.
- Agreed to refund a privilege license fee of $2.50 to Sutton's Service Center on Highway 264 By-Pass for cancellation of an ice cream retail sales license.

Fatal Shooting Follows Chase

Fred Jasper Gardner Jr. of Pinetops died following a confrontation with an Edgemcombe deputy sheriff near Bruce last night.

Pitt County Sheriff Ralph Tyson said the 19-year-old Negro was shot one time by Edgemcombe County deputy Henry G. Norris.

According to investigators, the confrontation between the 24-year-old officer and Gardner ended a highway chase that began near Pinetops in Edgemcombe County.

Sheriff Tyson quoted Norris as saying he began the chase when he saw the driver by Gardner forced the deputy's car off the highway near Pinetops. Several other vehicles were forced off the road by the Gardner car during the pursuit, which led eastward along N.C. 43 from Edgemcombe County.

The shooting occurred about 9 p.m. after the Gardner car stopped beside the highway.

According to officers, Norris was searching Gardner at the time the shooting occurred.

Pitt County Coroner E. W. Harvey, who said Gardner was shot one time in the left side, reported Gardner was dead on arrival in the emergency room at Pitt Memorial.

The coroner said an autopsy was scheduled to be performed today and said inquest into the death will be held next week.

Officers said a quantity of non-tax-paid whiskey and a blank pistol were found in the car driven by Gardner. That vehicle had District of Columbia registration plates on it and had been reported stolen from Washington on June 30.

Investigation into the incident is continuing.

Federal Office Building Slated

WASHINGTON (AP) — Plans have been announced for a $9,311,000 federal office building in the Winston-Salem, N.C., urban renewal area.

The building will include federal office space, a federal courtroom, and a post office.

Red China Releases Long-Time Captive

HONG KONG (AP) — Red China released Roman Catholic Bishop James Edward Walsh today after nearly 12 years in Communist captivity. But the Chinese announced that another American prisoner, Hugh Francis Redmond of Yonkers, N.Y., committed suicide three months ago.

Border sources said the 79-year-old prelate from Cumberland, Md., "walked across the border bridge unaided and appeared in fair condition" considering his age and the ordeal he has undergone.

A U.S. Consulate spokesman said Bishop Walsh was being given a medical examination and "we will not know his real condition until after that."

The spokesman said he doubted that the bishop would be made available to talk to reporters or be photographed "for some time."

He reportedly has been in a prison hospital in Shanghai most of the last eight years.

The bishop was arrested in October 1958. He was convicted in 1960 of espionage and sentenced to 20 years imprisonment.

N.C. Prison Reform Measures Begin Shape Up

RALEIGH (AP) — Correction Commissioner Lee Bounds said Dr. Stanley Blackledge, new warden of Central Prison, will lead in its transformation "from a maximum custody prison to the department's diagnostics and special treatment center for difficult cases."

Bounds announced the appointment of Blackledge, a psychologist, Thursday. At the same time he said that David Henry, who has been in charge of the prison, is being shifted to the commission headquarters staff, where he will head the health service branch of the administrative services division.

Bounds said the switch was made to upgrade the department's treatment services for inmates.

He said in the new position, "Mr. Henry will coordinate the administration of all health services for the department and seek to negotiate acceptable arrangements for more extensive use of local hospitals and clinics to reduce the flow of inmate patients to Central Prison."

Bounds said that he had concentrated the Correction Department's problem prisoners at Central Prison. "We want to develop a special treatment program to enable us to get them out of tight lockup into the regular prison population," he said.

Noting that Blackledge is a psychologist, he said, "The fact that we are putting a professional clinician in the position of warden indicates our belief that the clinical approach to this problem is the most promising one."

Bounds added that one reason for the change is that Henry has just returned to work after undergoing treatment for a heart attack.

Blackledge has been chief psychologist of the mental health clinic at Central Prison since 1962. He had served previously as a psychologist with the Missouri State Penitentiary and later at the Ohio State Penitentiary.

Henry became administrator of the Central Prison hospital in 1966 and was made administrative head — he did not go by the title warden — of the prison in 1968. Before that he had served as hospital consultant to the U.S. Commissioner of public welfare after working in the administration of the Duke University Medical Center for nearly eight years.

South stumbled into a four spade contract on the skinniest of trump holdings. East opened the bidding with one club and South chose to overcall with one spade, despite the superiority of his diamond holding, in the hope of showing, both of his suits most economically. If the enemy contests in hearts, it might actually prove more convenient to bid his suits naturally.

North bid two hearts and now South showed his other suit. North's preference to three spades, holding only a worthless doubleton, was highly questionable — in our opinion he should have tried to slow down the proceedings by bidding three hearts to suggest that the hands do not fit well. North's delayed raise propelled South into bidding a game.

West opened the jack of clubs, the deuce was played from dummy, and declarer was in with the king. He was not very happy with the spade holding put down by his partner; however, he realized that if he intended to establish his diamond suit it might be a good idea to make use of dummy's ruffing value while it was available.

The ace and king of diamonds were cashed as both opponents followed suit. On the third diamond West covered with the queen, North ruffed with the spade four, and East overruffed with the nine.

East switched to the king of hearts; dummy played the ace and led the five of spades. East put up the ace and returned the queen of hearts. Declarer ruffed with the three of spades and then cashed the king, dropping East's queen and leaving only West's jack of spades outstanding.

South conceded a trump trick to West and claimed the remaining tricks, since his diamond suit was established. He lost three tricks on the deal — two spades and the overruff in diamonds.

Tentative Greene County Budget Set By Commissioners

SNOW HILL — The Greene County Board of Commissioners Tuesday adopted a tentative budget for 1970-71 totaling $1,443,568. The commissioners were able to adopt the budget without an increase in the county's tax rate of 1.75.

"The big factor in helping the commissioners maintain the present tax rate was the million dollar increase in property valuation," said George Mewborn, county accountant. "The million dollar tax increase in valuation was due to the home and industry growth of the county."

The budget was aided by some $176,565 in funds from sources other than taxes.

Social Services will receive the largest amount from sources other than county property taxes in the amount of $431,199. Money for this service comes from state and federal sources as well as the county. The county's share for the Social Services department totals $71,766.

Education for Greene County is estimated to cost a total of $562,114 for the coming year with $277,378 of that coming from the property tax base, Mewborn explained.

Greene County will also receive funds from the local option one cent sales tax. The money will be used for improving a certain portion of the Greene County Courthouse. Included in the improvements will be the court room, space for the Greene County Sheriff Department and updating the heating system.

WAC Recruiter For Area Here

Sgt. Fran Gant has been named the new WAC Recruiter for the East Carolina recruiting area.

A native of Winston-Salem, Sgt. Gant has over three years military service. She has served in Ft. McClellan, Ala.; Ft. Meade, Md.; Saigon and Long Bien, Vietnam. She works mainly in the clerical and administration fields.

Sgt. Gant's duties have included such positions as typist, general's secretary and documentation control.

Any young woman interested in obtaining information about the Women's Army Corps may contact Sgt. Gant through the local Army Recruiting Station at 301 Evans St., or call 752-4826.

Meet To Push Tobacco Voting

Plans were made last night to encourage every eligible voter in Pitt County to vote in the tobacco referendum on July 16.

The meeting was held to promote the flue-cured tobacco referendum for the 1971, 1972, and 1973, flue-cured tobacco crops. Attending the meeting were representatives from agricultural agencies, farm organizations, financial institutions, tobacco warehousemen and farmers.

It was the opinion of the group that the referendum is very important, particularly to show the legislators how the tobacco farmers feel about their tobacco programs.

Plans were made to use all news media as well as telephone calls and personal contact to publicize the referendum.

The group encourages all persons who are interested in the welfare of the tobacco program to publicize and promote the

Fashion Adapting To Conservation Client's Wife Irritates Her

By CAROLYN A. BOWERS
NEW YORK (UPI)—Say that for years you've dreamed of owning a genuine leopard skin coat. Time and time again, with your mind lingering somewhere between the nearest furrier and an African safari, you've imagined the coat hanging in your closet.

Today, however, your dream has become a nightmare filled with hundreds of conservationists parading in front of you with signs proclaiming, "Let the Cats Go Free" or "Furs Look Better on Their Original Owners."

Your luxurious dream coat suddenly sprouts legs and stalks back into the underbrush. And like it or not, you're feeling the impact of how conservation is affecting fashion...and how fashion is adapting.

The threat that fashions like the leopard skin coat pose to disappearing species has aroused the conscience not only of those who want the animals around, alive and perpetuating, but also the conscience in many quarters of the fashion world. Many furriers have announced they will not use any of the disappearing species, such as the leopard or others considered endangered.

Currently, the Red Data Book, the most widely accepted authority on animals considered endangered, listed 889 although not all face imminent extinction. The book, which is supplemented or revised twice a year, is published by the International Union for the Conservation of Nature and Natural Resources, an organization based in Morges, Switzerland.

Endangered Species
Among the animals used by the fur industry that many conservationists consider critically endangered are: the tigers, sea otter, Spanish lynx, red wolf, polar bear, vicuna and spotted cats.

But during a 10-month period between 1968-69, pelts offered for sale included 64-481 lynx, 79 polar bears, and 17,915 sea otters in the first year since the protective ban on sea otters was lifted (the Alaskan population of the otter is estimated at 50,000. So reported Women's Wear Daily, the fashion trade publication.

A report by the Fur Dressers Union showed that in 1968, New York Fur Dressers prepared the pelts of 6,009 leopard, 7,006 jaguars, 4,000 ocelots, 1,656 cheetahs and 159 tigers. The "African Wildlife News" reported that in 1968 the annual world catch of spotted cats was estimated at half a million, of which 350,000 were brought into the United States.

In June, 1968, William G. Conway, general director of the New York Zoological Society, said in a magazine editorial, "The Consumption of Wildlife by Man," and "...the unregulated shooting of tigers, leopards and jaguars...has resulted in a nihilistic industry which knows full well that there will be no tomorrow and does not care."

That same year, however, New York furrier Jacques Kaplan spearheaded a movement among furriers to boycott certain endangered species. Kaplan took an ad in a New York newspaper and discouraged the use of spotted cats, listing them and certain other animals he would not make into garments.

Kaplan said he received many letters from other furriers who felt that the elimination of these wild animals would kill their business since, they said, there would be little else left. But Kaplan said, that he stopped using the furs at that time and still does the largest retail fur business in New York.

His new collection, for example, consists only of white mink that was ranch bred solely for pelts. In designing around endangered animals, Kaplan prints, paints, dyes and shears his mink to resemble everything from seals to tigers to abstract paintings.

Another furrier, Leo Ritter, announced that he won't use the skins of leopards, cheetahs and jaguars, and Ben Kahn Furs said it will boycott all the animals listed in the Red Data Book.

"The furriers should be the real conservationists," said Ernest Graf, vice-president at Ben Kahn's. "It's for their own good to keep these animals alive and prosperous."

"Since we acquired this book (Red Data) in 1968, we have strongly adhered to it and have not sold, promoted or advertised the fur animals listed in it."

Fake Furs Prosper
The cutbacks announced by the furriers have, of course, helped the fiber "fur" industry. One New York synthetic fur making company, Allura Fashions, Inc., reported $14 million annual sales, compared to $4 million when the company started offering fake furs in 1964. Russell Taylor, Inc. in Detroit reported just under $7 million in 1968, compared with only $800,000 seven years before.

The synthetic furs have appealing prices, about one-tenth of authentic pieces; they're light weight, and do not require summer storage.

For those New York furriers who do not choose to be "real conservationists" willingly, a new state law effective September 1, will prohibit the sale within New York of certain endangered wild animals or wild animal products raw or manufactured. New York is the heart of the nation's fur producing industry.

Nationally, the Endangered Species Act, which recently went into effect, makes it illegal to import or ship interstate in any form about 135 endangered species. Both the New York and the federal law provide exceptions, however, on certain animals needed for research or educational purposes.

Sen. Alan Cranston, D-Calif., has proposed taking the federal law a step further. He has sponsored a bill that would ban capturing, hunting, killing, transporting, taking, selling or purchasing any endangered species of fish or wildlife in the United States.

But the bill, the Nature Protection Act, would not include any animals raised in captivity that are bred solely for their pelts. Ranch mink is one of these.

Slaughter Goes On
Nevertheless, the slaughter of wildlife goes on. But conservation groups such as the Audubon Society and the World Wildlife Fund are busy educating fur wearing enthusiasts of the necessity to preserve the endangered animals.

Friends of the Earth, a relatively new conservation group, is asking women to sign a pledge vowing not to purchase fur coats or other fur articles made of the animals are endangered. Among the prominent women who have already signed up are: Mrs. Jacob Javits, Mrs. Ernest Hemingway and Mrs. Leonard Bernstein.

Demonstrations even have been held in several cities. In San Francisco however, protestors were joined by an unexpected group of supporters for another group—the Black Panthers. Their signs read: "Be Kind to Panthers and Other Heavy Cats." (Illustrated)

DEAR ABBY: My husband must entertain his business contacts very often. There is one couple with whom we go to dinner frequently. The wife CHEWS ice like a teen-ager with bad manners. That is bad enough, but she'll "suck" the ice, and spit it back into her empty glass, and the sound of that ice against her teeth and back into that empty glass simply drives me up a wall! Is there any way I can let this woman know that this irritates me? I don't want to hurt her feelings.

EMBARRASSED

DEAR EMBARRASSED: Does your husband BUY from her husband? Or does he SELL to him?

DEAR ABBY: I need your help in handling a very touchy situation. I recently visited my cousin in another state. She proudly showed me a very lovely family album which she said took her "months" to put together.

When I started to look thru it, I was flabbergasted to see some pictures of our family I hadn't seen in over 40 years! I remembered having seen them last in my mother's family album, and I recall that after a large family gathering—my mother was heartsick to discover that many of her precious pictures were "missing."

Now I see the "missing" pictures in my cousin's album. My cousin's mother is now deceased and so is my mother. I know that these are the priceless pictures that were taken from my mother's album. They rightfully are mine and I would like to have them. How can I mention this without casting ugly reflections? NAMELESS NATURALLY

DEAR NAMELESS: You can't. Ask your cousin if you may "borrow" the pictures you want in order to have them reproduced. [Shop around for photographers who specialize in restoring and duplicating old photographs.] Then return the originals to your cousin.

DEAR ABBY: I know this doesn't rate as one of the biggest problems in the world, but if you would bring it to the attention of your readers, a lot of cab drivers would love you for it.

Many people will call a cab, and they'll leave before the cab arrives. This is discourteous and costly to the driver as it could tie him up anywhere from five to 20 minutes looking for the person who ordered a cab, but left before it got there.

I realize there are times when people HAVE to leave before their cab arrives, but it takes only a minute to call back and cancel the cab. CABBYY: MADISON, WIS.

DEAR CABBYY: I'll pass the word on. But how about the person who orders a cab, is told it will be there in "10 minutes"—and after waiting 45 minutes he's so irritated he doesn't feel like spending another dime to cancel it?

CONFIDENTIAL TO "D" IN KOKOMO: A woman who constantly checks up on her husband doesn't make him more "faithful"—just more careful.

Bridal Shower Honors Couple

The house was decorated with summer flowers. The refreshment table was covered with a white cloth and centered with an arrangement of white daisies and yellow snapdragons flanked by white candles.

Hostesses were Mrs. M. G. Lewis, Mrs. W. D. Lewis, Mrs. Newsome Worsley, aunts of the bride-elect, Mrs. Eugene James, cousin of the honoree, Mrs. Benny Bullock, Mrs. Katie Griffin and Mrs. Juanita Corbett.

Miss Lewis was remembered with gifts of china, silver and china in her chosen patterns.

Guests were greeted by Mrs. James. Games were conducted by Mrs. M. G. Lewis and Mrs. Benny Bullock.

PEACHES

Perk up your appetite and your menu by eating peaches. Peaches are a popular fruit in North Carolina with well over a million bushels produced annually. They start to ripen in the sandhill area in late May and continue to mid August.

A great many varieties of peaches are grown, but only an expert can distinguish one from another. These varieties fall into two general types: free-stone (flesh readily separates from the pit) and clingstone (flesh clings tightly to the pit). Freestones are usually preferred for eating or for freezing, while clingstones are used primarily for canning, although sometimes sold fresh.

When selecting peaches for table use or preservation look for peaches which are fairly firm or becoming a trifle soft. The skin color between the red areas (ground color) should be yellow or at least creamy.

Avoid: Very firm or hard peaches with a distinctly green ground color which are probably immature and won't ripen properly. Also avoid very soft fruits, which are overripe. Don't buy peaches with large flattened bruises (they'll have large areas of discolored flesh underneath) or as a pale tan spot which expands in a circle and gradually turns darker in color.

Peaches can be conserved for winter use either by canning or freezing. You are able to put them up in halves, slices, crushed or puree. In either method of conservation canning or freezing it is important to remember to use an anti-brown agent known as ascorbic acid to prevent peaches from turning dark.

Peaches may also be made into pickles and preserves. Write or call for your pamphlet entitled "PEACHES" (Home Economics Extension Office, Box 1427, Greenville, N. C. 27834 Phone 758-1196).

Days are hot and here is a very refreshing uncooked Peach Pie you can try. This same pie can be used with berries when in season.

UNCOOKED PEACH PIE

Allow 1 1/2 to 2 peaches per serving, slice, sweeten. Shortly before serving, fill a large baked shell or individual shells with the peaches; serve with cream or vanilla ice cream.

Note: For 4 serving use an 8-inch pie shell. For 6 servings increase the recipe for the filling to 1 1/2 times and use a 9-inch shell.)

Engagements Announced

Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Hunter of Rt. 5, Clinton, announce the engagement of their daughter, Judy Kay, to Joel Bryant, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. McLawhorn of Rt. 1, Winterville. The wedding will take place July 17.

Mr. and Mrs. James H. Ross of Ayden announce the engagement of their daughter, Susan Lou, to William T. Clabault, son of Mrs. Wilfred A. Clabault of Bass River, Mass., and the late Mr. Clabault. The wedding will take place Aug. 22.

Japan Will Not Assume U.S. Role, Avers Premier

By SPENCER DAVIS
Associated Press Writer
TOKYO (AP) — The Japanese people would never permit Japan to take over the military role of the United States in Asia and the Pacific after American forces withdraw, Prime Minister Eisaku Sato says.

The Japanese leader sharply rejected the view of Philippine President Ferdinand Marcos and some other Asian leaders that Japan ultimately would have to assume major responsibility for law and order in eastern Asia.

"We may be able to possess military strength adequate for self-defense," he said in an interview. "But the Japanese people would never allow us to take over the role of the U.S.

"To avoid any misunderstandings such as entertained by President Marcos let me say: Historically countries with economic might have great military power. In the case of Japan, we are resolved not to use the armed forces. That is what we proclaimed 25 years ago in the no-war constitution."

Sato said Japan's future policy would be to "extend cooperation commensurate with our strength for the prosperity of the countries of Asia."

"In extending such cooperation," he added, "a bilateral formula may cause misunderstandings that Japan seeks economic domination. So we prefer a formula in association with other countries in giving aid."

On relations with the United States, Sato said Japan must take a "courageous step toward liberalizing" its trade position.

"I don't think we can continue protectionism," he said.

"We shall never be ungrateful for the support the United States extended to us which enabled us to rehabilitate ourselves after World War II," he said. "But even close friends and loving couples have misunderstandings."

"Fortunately, U.S.-Japan relations will not be broken. We are good friends although it is regrettable that the textile negotiations failed. Our relations will not be spoiled or distorted by the passage of the Mills bill."

That legislation by Wilbur Mills, chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, would impose quotas on woolen and synthetic textile imports at the 1967 levels for countries which do not agree to limit such shipments voluntarily.

Sato said he told Secretary of State William P. Rogers during the visit which ended today, "Although it is regrettable about textiles, the thread between the two countries has not been broken."

"He thought I said 'threat' and he looked surprised," the prime minister added.

The prime minister advised caution in the reduction of U.S. forces in Asia.

"Even if the United States wants to withdraw, will the situation permit it?" he asked. "That is one thing the U.S. should consider."

"As a consequence of the last world war there are many problems remaining. One of the most important of these problems is that of the four divided countries. Three of the four—China, Korea and Vietnam—are in Asia."

"So long as such divided countries exist, it seems to us the maintenance of some military presence by the United States is necessary."

"With this military presence and with economic assistance to the developing nations, we will be able to maintain peace."

Sato also ruled out any special role for Japan in Southeast Asia.

"To think that Japan should have a voice in Southeast Asia while the U.S. has a voice in Europe and Africa is a mistake when the world is so small. All of us are concerned with all parts of the world," he said.

Sato disclosed that he assured Rogers his government has decided to give assistance to Cambodia and has set a fixed amount for aid.

"Talks are progressing" with Cambodian officials, he said, and "as the result of these talks we will consider what we will do."

He said Japan already has provided Cambodia with the equivalent of $2 million in assistance through the Japan Red Cross.

The United States has been urging Japan to step up its assistance to Cambodia and South Vietnam, particularly in view of Japan's increasingly large trading position in Southeast Asia.

of the American technique. Artillery battalions thunder into action. Dive bombers are called in. Even B52s blast the enemy's suspected locations.

The Vietnamese command listens to American advice but makes up its own mind. It was offered "Geronimo," a fire base which the Americans had regarded as a first-class stronghold, when they built and held it.

But the Vietnamese thought "Geronimo," on a low foothill, was tactically inferior in its location. They carved out a new fire base, "T-Bone," on the highest peak in the area.

On this northernmost front of the war in South Vietnam, two-thirds of the countryside is free-fire zone and depopulated. In a narrow strip along the coast, refugee settlements are concentrated. A generation ago, the French army referred to it as "Street Without Joy."

In the foothills, the American-made plows cut off patches of woods at four inches above ground to deny cover to any guerrillas. Tank columns slash cross-country on daily patrols.

Farther inland, the highland camp of Khe Sanh is deserted. The U.S. Marines evacuated it in July 1968, and nobody has gone back. It had been defended by the heaviest bombing in the history of the war—96,000 tons of explosives.

The 1st Division is not in a hurry to reoccupy Khe Sanh. It has enough slugging matches already on the northern front.

No officer we've met in the 1st Division speaks of any early end to the war. A general said: "The Communists continue 10 years. I continue 10 years plus 1."

Evans, Novak

Strauss came to the Beverly-Hilton seeking pledges of $100 a month, their goal was to keep the debt-ridden National Committee's doors open.

The state party organization is in no better shape financially and considerably worse organizationally. Its Southern California headquarters is closed and, incredibly, no planning for a late summer registration drive was even begun until after last month's primary.

Thus, to make that drive successful would require massive help from labor. A meeting of state party and labor politicians at the Los Angeles airport June 26 drafted plans for COPE's Barkan on his visit six days later.

Tunney and Unruh managers were rocked by Barkan's bad news. James Cuff O'Brien, national political action director for the Steelworkers who also went west for the meeting, argued with Barkan that a greater effort would be desirable. But Barkan, while promising some extra help for registering minority groups, could pledge nothing close to the massive labor help that had been expected.

TREE HOUSE

There is joy in the tree house nestled high in the boughs . . . for the boys climbing up to play in it . . . for the adults remembering the golden afternoons of their own childhood.

Sometimes grownups say wistfully, "I wish I were that age again." But do they really wish it? Being a child is wonderful, but maturing can be a painful process.

Help your children enjoy the precious childhood hours—never forgetting that they must grow up. Remember you have a never-ending source of guidance. The church will help your children preserve the spirit of youth and give them the wisdom, courage and faith that will sustain them through the rest of their lives.

RALEIGH (AP) — (NCDA)—North Carolina egg markets steady to ½ cent higher Thursday, supplies barely adequate, demand generally good. Prices paid producers and handlers for consumer grade eggs in cartons delivered nearby outlets:
Grade A large whites: 51-51½; medium, whites: 40-41; small, whites: 28-29.

NEW YORK (AP)—Stock market prices eased ahead today in slow trading.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was up 1.99 to 694.76 at 11 a. m., an hour after the opening bell.

Advances led declines by about 2 to 1 among issues traded on the New York Stock Exchange.

Analysts said the market was encountering some profit taking, but that this was natural after two strong rally sessions in a row. Some hesitance to buy aggressively before a weekend also is cited by brokers.

Record Budget For Snow Hill's Board

SNOW HILL — The Snow Hill Town Board Tuesday night was presented a record budget of $107,376, for the coming fiscal year. This is the first time in history the local commissioners have operated above the $100,000 mark.

Revenue from the water and sewer department is expected to total $37,500. This figure is exceeded in revenue only by property taxes which total $40,900.

In the outgoing part of the budget, a total of $24,120 has been allocated for the operation of the Snow Hill police force. The street department received $17,400 while a total of $16,020 was designated to the water department. The cost of operating the town office has been estimated at $15,175.

The total budget for the Snow Hill Fire Department was estimated to exceed $12,000. The purchase of a chassis for the fire truck at a cost of $9,000, was the big item. The board allocated $8,000 for the repayment of debt service for the water and sewer systems.

The franchise tax, totaling $4,000, was considered the largest revenue producer outside the water, sewer and property tax income. The taxation revenue from ABC, beer and wine, is expected to produce $4,900 in revenue for the operation of town affairs.

The board will receive approximately $7,000 from the local option sales tax according to the figure outlined in the budget. Revenue from the cemetery is expected to total $3,500.

Final action on adopting the budget will be taken at the August meeting of the board.

Houses Hit By Lightning

Electrical storms and the tobacco harvest season in Pitt County have broken the long record of few fires within the county, according to Pitt County Fire Marshall Mike Worthington.

During an electrical storm early yesterday afternoon, two county homes were hit by lightning, but neither suffered extensive damage.

The first, at 1:36 p. m. was the house of Mrs. Bill Wooten on U.S. 264A west of Farmville. Farmville Fire Department responded to the alarm and the reported very slight damage to the frame house.

The second house hit was that of Albert Grimesley on the Falkland highway. Falkland Fire Department responded at 2:09 p. m. and reported no damage other than smoke damage.

On Wednesday night the third reported tobacco barn fire for the season occurred at 8:24 p. m. on the Gus Little farm near Falkland. The Falkland Fire Department was able to extinguish the blaze without damage to the barn or tobacco. The oil burners had blazed up and were put under control before creating damage.

The two earlier barn fires occurred on June 29 on the Horace McLawhorn farm near Winterville, when tobacco was damaged at an estimated $800. The barn was not damaged. The second barn fire took place during a severe electrical storm on the night of July 2 on the Leslie Buck farm in the Eastern Pines Community. Worthington reports the barn was totally destroyed, and had gone unnoticed at the time because of the severe storm.

Ignored Rain To Support Nixon

GOLDSBORO, N. C. (AP) — About 200 persons turned out in the rain Thursday night for a rally to show support for President Nixon's Vietnam policy.

The group marched two blocks in the downtown area and heard several speeches from the City Hall steps. Mrs. Eugene Price, an organizer of the rally, spoke briefly and asked for signatures on a petition to be sent to the President.

Mrs. Page, a native of Pitt County, spent all of her life in the Cox's Mill Community and was a member of the Rose Hill Free Will Baptist Church.

Surviving are her husband, Henry M. Page; two sons, H. Macon Page of the home and James Page of the Black Jack Community; a daughter, Mrs. Larry Hudson Jr. of Hudson's Crossroads; three sisters, Mrs. J.J. Carroll of Cox's Mill, Mrs. George Rouse of Winterville, and Mrs. Lester Turnage Sr. of Farmville; two half sisters, Mrs. Lloyd Williams of Greenville and Mrs. Ruebelle Ward of New Bern; two half brothers, Jesse R. Laughinghouse of Greenville and Furney Laughinghouse of Pantego; five grandchildren; and one great grandchild.

Policeman . . . Youth Drowned In Farm Pond

LILLINGTON, N. C. (AP) — Nine-year-old Kenneth M. Sollis drowned Thursday in a farm pond near Lillington.

Coroner Paul Drew said the youth apparently stepped into a hole in the pond while swimming. The death was ruled accidental.

R.E. (Yank) Howell told the councilmen "They did march, about 100 of them—I saw them myself, coming down the sidewalk at 10:15 last night. They were not in the street, but walking on the sidewalk."

"We will certainly look into this. None of us knew about it," Mayor Wooten remarked. Turning to Chief Police Tommy Gladson, the mayor asked "Does the Police Department have a record of this?"

"We know about it," Gladson told the mayor, "and will furnish you a report."

Council . . .

Approved a trailer permit, as requested by Grover Edwards, for placement of a trailer on Memorial Drive to be used as an office space for a used car lot. No objection was raised in the public hearing on this matter.

Set August 6, date of the next scheduled City Council meeting, as public hearing dates for two items—a trailer permit request by Willie Dixon for the 200 block of East Dudley Street; and a petition by Garris Evans Lumber Company for the abandonment of the portion of Factory Street lying south of Ridgeway Street.

Baltimore Loses, Tigers Close Gap

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

The longest single of Dalton Jones' career and the shortest rain delay in baseball history has combined to keep Baltimore's East Division leaders within hailing distance in the American League.

Jones delivered what appeared to be a pinch hit grand slam homer Thursday night but was credited with only a single when he passed teammate Don Wert on the basepaths. The mental blunder did no harm because three runs scored on the play and Detroit went on to whip Boston 7-3.

New York, in danger of having a three-run rally in the top of the sixth in Baltimore wiped out by rain, argued a halt in play long enough for a shower to blow over. They managed to get another inning in, making their rally legal and beat the Orioles 7-5 in a game ended by rain in the eighth inning.

Elsewhere in the American League Thursday night, Washington whacked Cleveland 9-3; Chicago edged Milwaukee 6-5, and Minnesota topped California 4-2. Kansas City and Oakland were off.

In the National League, New York ripped Montreal 7-1, Pittsburgh blanked St. Louis 6-0, San Francisco edged Atlanta 7-6 in 11 innings, San Diego nipped Cincinnati 10-9 in 10 innings and Houston belted Los Angeles 9-5. Chicago and Philadelphia had the day off.

The Tigers and Red Sox were tied at 3-3 in the seventh when Jones belted a two-out drive off the facing of the right field stands with the bases loaded. He was admiring the shot when he passed Wert between first and second and was called out on the technicality infraction.

"I was real excited about the hit," said Jones. "I was watching it and I never realized Wert was there. About half-way between first and second I came to my senses and hoped the umpire didn't see it. But he did. I've never done that before. I've never hit a grand slam either."

The umps were alert to Jones' blunder and also to the heckling of the Red Sox over some ball-strike calls an inning earlier. Plate umpire John Rice thumbed pitcher Mike Nagy and catcher Gerry Moses and then third base ump Larry Napp cleared the Boston bench, sending all the players to the club house "to cool off." Napp said the players could have come into the game later from the club house but none did.

The victory moved the second place Tigers within six games of Baltimore. The Birds bowed to New York when the Yankees rallied for three unearned runs in the sixth inning—the last two on Jerry Kenney's bases-loaded single.

The start of the game was delayed 27 minutes by rain and it sprinkled throughout. The rain began coming down in earnest with Baltimore at bat in the bottom of the sixth and with two out and a 1-1 count on Don Buford, umpire Hank Soar signaled for the field to be covered.

Had the game been called at that point, the New York runs in the top half of the inning would have been erased and Baltimore would have won 5-4. The Yankees, aware of the jeopardy their lead was in, delayed leaving the field and the sudden shower quickly ended. An inning later, with the runs official, rain ended the game. The victory, only the third in the last 13 games for New York, left the Yanks 6½ games behind.

Carlos May and Ed Herrmann ripped fifth-inning homers that powered the Chicago White Sox past Milwaukee.

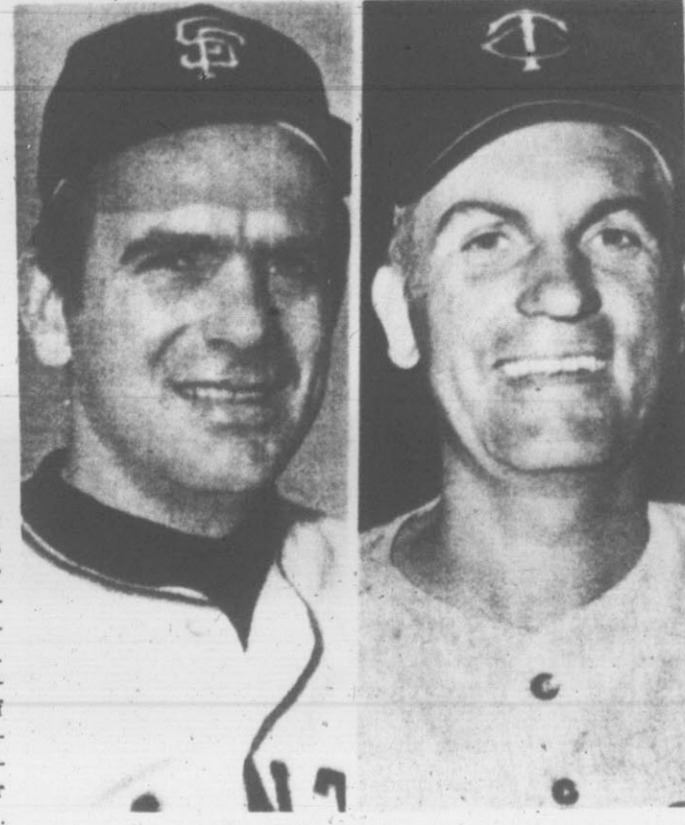

May connected with two on and Herrmann with the bases empty as the Sox built a 6-1 lead. The Brewers chipped away at the margin but never caught Chicago.

Washington used home runs by Paul Casanova, Tom Grieve and Rick Reichardt to back Casey Cox' five-hit pitching and whip Cleveland.

Casanova also had a double and three RBI as the Senators salvaged the final game after dropping four straight to the Indians. Ray Fosse and Ted Uhlaender homered for Cleveland.

The torrid Twins snapped a 2-2 tie in the ninth when relief pitcher Tom Hall poked a two-out single and Leo Cardenas followed with a centerfield homer off knuckleballer Eddie Fisher. The victory, fifth in a row and 10th in 11 games for Minnesota, upped the Twins West Division lead over the second place Angels to six games.

Perrys To Parry?

The Perry brothers — Jim (R), and Gaylord — could make baseball history in Cincinnati next Tuesday by pitching against each other in the All-Star game. Jim pitches for the Minnesota Twins and brother Gaylord hurls for the San Francisco Giants. Both are 13-game winners this season and have been named to respective All-Star squads. (AP Wirephoto)

Trevino Confident Of Winning British Open

By TOM REEDY
Associated Press Sports Writer

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland (AP) — "Just give me two straight 71s and I've got the British Open Golf Championship in my pocket," said flamboyant Lee Trevino today as he set out on the tourney's third round.

The 31-year-old self-styled Merry Mexican, playing out of Dallas, was eight-under-par for 36 holes and one-stroke ahead of an incredible field of 80 survivors from the original 134.

He's confident he can stay in front even though defending champion Tony Jacklin, Jack Nicklaus, and a host of Americans and rising British challengers are breathing down his neck.

"When you're leading, you can afford to miss one now and then. Anybody who says he wants to come from behind is a liar," Trevino said.

"I promised my wife four 68's here and I got two of them. If I get two 71's, I'm in here and I got two of them. If I get two 71's, I'm in."

Whether he can produce this one or not, the ebullient Trevino has a whopper of a program "including all the big ones in America," the Piccadilly World Match Play championship at Wentworth, England, and the Alcan on this side of the water, the World Cup in Argentina "and by then Santa Claus will be climbing down my chimney."

The British Open is the one he wants now. The title on the ancient Old Course where the game was born and which has become a must for the top Americans.

"I like it, this is a course where a good shot is rewarded and a bad shot is penalized," Trevino said.

"For all the work, playing golf to me is a holiday and even when I take a holiday I play 36 holes a day. I made up my mind I'll get bad weather again like I have here before and so decided to make the best of it and I guess I did."

Trevino led a contingent of 17 Americans into the third round knowing well that a half-dozen British artisans of the sport are offering the stiffest fight they have in a long time.

The 6,951-yard par 72 Old Course was as fickle as usual, smiling one minute and lashing its scorpion's tail the next just in case anybody got cocky.

"You've got to watch it every minute, not only on the ground but up there in the air," Trevino said with professional caution.

The low 55 and ties continue on Saturday for the 18-hole finals for total prize money of $100,000—$12,000 to the winner, who can parlay that into much, much more.

Play opening at 3:30 p.m. EDT, featured new faces like Trevino, Jacklin, Neil Coles, Harold Henning of South Africa, Tommy Horton and Clive Clark of England. But there also was the old Nicklaus and the older Arnold, Palmer on the threatening fringe. The third man of the once dominant triumvirate, Gary Player of South Africa, was there by sufferance only. His 149 was the cut off point that cut the field and 13 shots behind.

The All Star team of the Greenville Ladies Softball League will play a Ladies Team from Jacksonville on Saturday in Jacksonville. A return match will be held at Guy Smith Stadium on July 18 with Greenville hosting Jacksonville.

Stiff Neck May Bench Clemente

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Roberto Clemente's stiff neck apparently will put his Pittsburgh Pirates teammate Matty Alou on the National League All-Star team.

Clemente, the Pirates' three-time league batting champion, was named Thursday to the All-Star squad a 10th time. He then said he would decline the invitation and get some rest.

"I would rather not participate. Every morning it's the same way. I can hardly move my neck. I've been playing in pain," he said.

Since New York Mets Manager Gil Hodges must make sure at least one player from each team is on his All-Star squad for Tuesday's game in Cincinnati, Alou is the most likely replacement for Clemente.

Clemente was the only Pirate on the 28-man team and Alou, who finished 11th among the outfielders in the voting by fans, would fill Clemente's spot.

Other outfielders named by Hodges as he completed the team, were Clarence Gaston of San Diego, Jim Hickman of Chicago, Pete Rose of Cincinnati

Legion Game Saturday Night

The Greenville American Legion will play Wilson tomorrow night at 8 p.m. in Guy Smith Stadium in the final game of the best of three, second round series of the State Legion Playoffs. Winner of the series, currently tied at one game each, will advance to the third round of the playoffs.

Takes Lead

ATLANTA (AP) — Sandra Haynie has replaced Kathy Whitworth on the Ladies' Professional Golf Association tour money list.

The Dallas native has $19,911 in earnings this year, as compared to $19,298 for Miss Whitworth of Richardson, Tex.

Rained Out

All games scheduled to be played last night at Guy Smith Stadium were rained out and have been rescheduled for play either tonight or at a later date.

The two Church League tournament games that were rained out will be played tonight with Trinity meeting First Presbyterian and Meadowbrook playing St. James. Games in the Ladies League will be set for a later date.

Three Babe Ruth League games are set for tonight. Pepsi and Planters Bank will resume play in the third inning with Planters leading 2-1 and completion of that game will be followed by a State Bank - Carolina Dairy match and a third game between College View and Pepsi.

Raynez Club In Time Trials

Fourteen swimmers from Greenville's Raynez Swim Club competed Wednesday in time trials in Goldsboro for the Seymour - Johnson Invitational Swim Meet scheduled for July 24-25.

The trials were held among teams from Greenville, Kinston, Wilmington, Goldsboro and Wilson to determine the swimmers who will form relay teams to represent the East Carolina Swim Association in the meet.

Three swimmers from Greenville took first place finishes in at least two of the events. Jane Elam won three firsts in the girl's 15-17 age group 100 meter events. She placed first in freestyle, backstroke, and butterfly and also took a third place finish in another butterfly event.

Janet Gantt finished first in the 50 meter freestyle, 10 and under group, and also came in first in the butterfly. In addition, she posted fourth place finishes in the backstroke and breaststroke.

first place times, winning the freestyle for boys 10 and under and the backstroke. He was also second in the breaststroke. Other swimmers who received consideration for places on the relay teams by placing second and third in the various events were; Keila McGlohon, Susan Tucker, Cathy Collie, and Ellen Bond.

66 Round Gives Menne Margin

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer
MILWAUKEE (AP)—When airplanes are grounded, Bob Menne is flying high.

The second-year tour pro from Andover, Mass., fired an opening round six-under-par 66 Thursday to take a two-stroke lead in the $110,000 Greater Milwaukee Open Golf Tournament.

"This isn't my best round on the tour," Menne said. "I had a 64 at Miami to tie Lee Trevino. I lost on the second hole of the playoff when I missed a short putt and he made a 'missable' one."

That was in the National Airlines Open and, at the time, National Airlines was on strike. This time, Northwest Orient, a major carrier into Milwaukee, is grounded because of a walk-out.

Ironically, Trevino also did well Thursday, moving into the second round lead of the British Open.

"I've been playing fairly well, but I haven't been dropping my putts," Menne said. "Today I hit the ball fairly well and I putted well."

The 28-year-old bachelor—"I can't afford to get married," he said—eagled the 550-yard 16th and dropped in birdie putts on 4,

6, 10, 14 and 18. "I hit a driver and a four wood on 16," he said, "then sank a 20-foot putt."

His only bogey came on the par four, 395-yard 15th—"the easiest hole on the course."

Menne's 66 came early in the day. Then a brisk wind swept the 7,135-yard course and helped keep all challengers at least two strokes off the pace.

Tied at 68 were Dave Bollman, Doug Olson, former amateur champion Deane Beman, Ted Hayes, Terry Dill, Dick Crawford and Harry Toscano. Bollman, who along with Olson were the only two in the group to play in the afternoon, almost had second place to himself. An 18-foot putt on the final hole, which would have given him a 67, stopped on the lip of the cup.

Thirty-three players broke par on the opening round, while another 17 matched the magic figure of 72.

Ken Still, the defending champion, turned the corner at even par 36, but lost two strokes on the back nine to post a 74.

Dave Stockton, the winner here in 1968, had a 73.

Kegmit Zarley, winner of last week's Canadian Open, headed a big group at 70.

Caught Stealing

Rich Renick, Minnesota Twins' third-base man, has the tag put on him by Angels' third-base man Ken McMullen when he tried to steal third base in the second inning of their game at Anaheim

Thursday, Renick tried to steal on a ground ball by Leo Cardenas and fielded by Angels' Jim Fregosi.

All-Star Roster For AL Complete

By DAVE O'HARA
Associated Press Sports Writer
BOSTON (AP)—Third baseman Brooks Robinson of the Baltimore Orioles and outfielder Tony Oliva of the Minnesota Twins were added to the American League All-Star squad today as the 28-player roster was filled for the annual mid season classic with the National League next Tuesday.

Robinson, beaten out by Minnesota's Harmon Killebrew for a starting berth in the fans' balloting, was named for the 14th consecutive year, while Oliva was picked for the seventh straight time since he joined the Twins as a rookie.

Other reserves chosen by Manager Earl Weaver of Baltimore, who will pilot the AL club at Cincinnati next week, and announced by the league, were catchers Ray Rosse, of Cleveland and Jerry Moses of Boston; infielders Sandy Alomar and Jim Fregosi of California and Tommy Harper of Milwaukee; and outfielders Roy White of New York, Amos Otis of Kansas City, Willie Harton of Detroit and Alex Johnson of California.

Outfielder Al Kaline of the Detroit Tigers was named by Weaver as a squad member for the 17th time in his 18 major league seasons. However, Kaline was injured earlier this week and Moses was picked to replace him on the roster.

A league spokesman said that Fregosi was selected for the sixth time after Boston's Rico Petrocelli was withdrawn at the request of the Red Sox. Petrocelli, narrowly edged by shortstop Luis Aparicio of the Chicago White Sox in the fan balloting, reportedly needs rest badly.

Earlier, Weaver named Dave Johnson of the Orioles to replace injured Rod Carew of Minnesota as the starting second baseman.

Barring injuries, the Orioles will have seven players in uniform and the California Angels will have four for the All-Star Game.

The Yankees and Twins each will have three representatives, Boston, Detroit and Cleveland two each, and Washington, Kansas City, Milwaukee, Oakland and Chicago the minimum of one apiece.

Weaver followed fan voting in naming Oliva, White and Harton, who finished behind starters Frank Robinson of Baltimore, Frank Howard of Washington and Carl Yastrzemski of Boston. However, he ignored the balloting in adding Johnson and Otis, the only regular centerfielder on the AL squad.

The final vote tally for catchers also was dismissed by Weaver as he picked the hot-hitting Fosse and Moses to back-up starter Bill Freehan of the Tigers.

Baltimore Boog Powell is the only full-time first baseman on the squad. However, Howard and Yastrzemski have handled the position considerably in games this year and either could be switched if necessary.

Reds, Braves Storm Back But Still Lose

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer
CATCH-UP baseball is a futile game, unless you hold on to what you've caught.

The Cincinnati Reds and Atlanta Braves mounted big comebacks Thursday night, then let their prey slip away again in extra-inning cliff-hangers.

Johnny Bench slammed a pair of two-run homers as the Reds made up a 9-1 deficit before bowing to the San Diego Padres 10-9 on Steve Huntz' sacrifice fly in the 10th inning.

The Braves erased a 6-0 San Francisco lead with one eighth-inning thrust, but the Giants rebounded to earn a 7-6 nod on Dick Dietz' run-scoring ground out in the 11th.

Elsewhere in National League play, the New York Mets rocked Montreal 7-1; Pittsburgh blanked St. Louis 6-0 and Houston thumped Los Angeles 9-5. Philadelphia and the Chicago Cubs were idle.

In the American League, the New York Yankees edged Baltimore 7-5 in a game halted by rain after 7½ innings; Detroit slugged Boston 7-3; Washington crushed Cleveland 9-3; Minnesota topped California 4-2 and the Chicago White Sox shaded Milwaukee 6-5. Kansas City and Oakland also had the day off.

The Padres raked rookie pitching ace Wayne Simpson for nine runs in the 2-3 innings he lasted, but Bench's fourth-inning homer started Cincinnati on the way back and the All-Star catcher unloaded his 28th homer of the season in the eighth before pinch hitter Bernie Carbo's three-run wallop tied it up.

Simpson, who started in quest of his 11th straight victory and 14th of the season, escaped his second setback as a result of the abortive Cincinnati rally. It marked the first time in 18 starts that he has failed to go at least five innings.

The Giants' Juan Marichal was breezing toward his first shutout of the season when Atlanta struck suddenly in the eighth. Felix Millan singled and Orlando Cepeda homered for two runs; Mike Lum doubled home another and Cleve Boyer rapped a tying three-run homer.

But Willie Mays singled in the 11th off Bob Priddy, moved to third when the fourth ball to Willie McCovey was a wild pitch. Dietz drove in two earlier runs with a single for a total of 12 RBI in the four-game series.

Corn Off the Cob, second in a number of stakes races this year, is owned by Theodore Gary, a native of Kansas City.

French Runners Outsprint U.S.

By JOHN VINOCUR
PARIS (AP)—Sometimes an Englishman, occasionally a Kenyan, rationally a Russian—but a Frenchman can run faster than an American?

It happened on the red track at Colombes Olympic Stadium Wednesday night not once, but three times. French boys, who supposedly spend half their youth riding bicycles like the Tour de France racers, sprinted like crazy. They beat the best U.S. runners in three short distance events they were never supposed to win and took a 56-50 lead in the first half of a two-day track meet.

A crowd of about 12,000 screamed itself silly as Jean-Claude Nallet won the 440-meter hurdles in 48.6 seconds, the world's best time this year. Alain Sarteur grabbed the 100 meters and a French relay team took the 4x100 meters.

The French won four other events—the long jump, the 3,000 meter steeplechase, the shot put and the 5,000 meters—leaving the Americans with only three victories and a coach who said:

"If that performance doesn't get their adrenalin flowing, I don't want to think about what will happen."

The coach, Leroy Walker, figured his team should come back tonight with a string of wins. "But more problems wouldn't completely shock me," he said. "Before last night I figured we could be down by two points. You really have to give the French credit."

Both the Americans, who considered them a warmup for meets with West Germany and the Soviet Union over the next fortnight, and the French press

First Meeting For U.S. Yachts

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP)—The first confrontation between Valiant and Intrepid in the America's Cup observation trials will take place today, weather permitting.

This much awaited first meeting between the two leading 12-meter yachts in the trials to select a U.S. defender for the famed sailing classic in September, was to have taken place Wednesday. It was canceled because of heavy fog.

The U.S. defender will be pitted against either the French yacht, France, or the Gretel from Australia, in the cup races, a best-of-7 affair, starting off Newport Sept. 15.

who gave them little chance, underestimated the French runners.

In the first race, Nallet overpowered Ralph Mann of Brigham Young University, world record holder for the 400 yard hurdles, and set a mood for the evening.

Mann was dumbfounded. "I was never beaten like that," he said, "somebody just running over me."

Then, the French placed 1-2 in the 100-meter dash. Ben Vaughan of the U.S. Army, could only place third.

Both Vaughan and Ivory Crockett of Western Illinois complained they had terrible starts. "I lost three yards and just couldn't catch them," Vaughan said.

The third sprint loss was in the 4x100 meter relay, an event Walker described as "made for European teams because they race together for years and really get the stick pass down. We only practiced on Monday."

The Worry Clinic An Investment That Pays Off

Marsha needs to recall Ben Franklin's advice when he said: "An investment in knowledge always pays the best dividends." The daily newspaper is an ideal means of insuring your children against school dropouts, for children make higher grades and are more likely to go on to college if a daily newspaper is delivered daily to their home. By GEORGE W. CRANE, Ph.D., M.D. CASE N-561: Marsha G., aged 32, is a busy housewife. "Dr. Crane," she began, "We have 3 children and must live on a very tight budget. "So I have been wondering if we were justified in subscribing to a daily paper, for that runs about $30 per year. "My mother-in-law says we could easily dispense with the daily newspaper. "But I haven't time to watch TV, so I like to sit down after my work is done and catch up with the day's news."

Here are some salient facts about newspapers which merit widespread repetition: (1) After the age of 18, the majority of Americans never enter a formal school classroom again. So the newspaper is their major textbook during their final 52 adult years (they usually quit school at 18 and die at 70.) (2) College tuitions now run at least $1,500 per year and many universities even charge $2,000 to $2,500, yet your newspaper equips you for happy, successful living far better than the usual one-year of college! For newspapers offer you a "smorgasbord" of cultural, informative and entertaining daily reading for a your 52 adult years.

(3) You can roughly measure a person's level of education by the "time test" whereby you note how long he spends with his daily newspaper.

Grammar school graduates (or less) will glance at the headlines, the sport pages and the comics, spending maybe 10 minutes at best on the entire newspaper.

High School graduates put in those 10 minutes on the same items but usually devote another 10 minutes to the society pages, movie reviews and an occasional editorial feature like this one. The Scripps-Howard paper at Columbus, Ohio, thus found that one high schooler out of 5 was reading this "Worry Clinic" and felt that such a batting average was phenomenal!

College graduates, however, will devote 30 minutes to the newspaper, eagerly devouring the aforementioned items, but also perusing editorials, as well as various columnists' remarks, and the stock market, plus political events at Washington, D.C., and abroad.

Smart people thus get more educated via reading the daily paper. Stupid folks become also-rans by failure to tutor themselves with the educational material in the daily "University in Print."

If a person (like Abraham Lincoln) has failed, to get a formal public school education but still devours the newspaper avidly, you can be sure he has the high I.Q. of college students!

(4) Children have been found to make higher school marks if their parents subscribe to a daily newspaper.

(5) You cigarette smokers burn up $150 per year on the ends of your fags.

That $150 would pay the yearly subscription to your daily newspaper, plus buy your kiddies a $50 used typewriter, an atlas, a good college dictionary, and a one-volume encyclopedia.

In addition, it could purchase paper, erasers, carbon sheets, etc., to help raise your kiddies' school marks and insure them a college education.

So send for my booklet "How to Quit Smoking," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 20c, and invest that $150 more wisely.

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

Key School Post For Pitt Countian

AMELIA, Va.—Shady Clark Jr., son of Mrs. Shady Clark Sr. of Greenville, N. C., has been named administrative assistant in the Amelia County School System here. He will work directly under the superintendent of schools. Clark attended C. M. Eppes High School, Greenville, N. C. He did his undergraduate work at Johnson C. Smith University and his graduate work at Ohio State University. He has also studied at Johnson C. Smith Theological Seminary. The 26-year-old Negro has served in the positions of teacher, guidance counselor, and director of adult basic education programs. He is a former guidance counselor of W. H. Robinson High School, Winterville, N. C. Clark's main duty will be to direct an advisory specialist program sponsored by Title IV, federal grant. The aim of the program is to aid in solving problems incidental to the complete desegregation of the Amelia County School System. He will also counsel teachers and principals of both races on problems relating to school desegregation and work directly with students who may be having problems in an integrated situation. He will also organize workshops to discuss and seek solutions to problems which may rise as a result of desegregation. Clark assumed his new position July 1.
