Israel Warns Palestinians

'Death Penalty' If Hostages Harmed

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Israel has warned Palestinian guerrillas it will impose the death penalty on 450 sympathizers rounded up in occupied Arab territories if the remaining hijack hostages in Jordan are harmed, an Arab emissary disclosed today.
Dr. Wazi Qamhawi of Nablus in Israeli-held Jordan said he carried the warning to Amman over the weekend at the behest of the Jerusalem government. He said the Israelis also threatened to blow up houses of guerrillas convicted by Israeli courts and to confiscate their property.
A known sympathizer of the Popular Front for the Liberation of Palestine, which is holding the hostages, the Nablus doctor was one of three Arab emissaries dispatched to Jordan by the Israelis.
After the three arrived in Amman, the Israelis disclosed they had rounded up 450 Arabs in Jordan's occupied west bank and in the Gaza Strip.

The Popular Front said Sunday it would retaliate for the mass arrests "with complete ruthlessness."
The guerrilla leadership revised its figure today on the number of remaining hostages to "about 50" after airline officials reported 55 persons still unaccounted for. The Popular Front had claimed Saturday it retained only 40 captives.
The last of the other 257 hostages, held for as long as a week, reached Nicosia Sunday. Many then left for Zurich and London, while others spent their first night of freedom in Cyprus.
They were passengers in a Swissair DC8 and a Trans World Airlines Boeing 707 that the Popular Front hijacked Sept. 6 and a BOAC VC10 commandeered last Wednesday. The commandos had demanded the release of seven Arab prisoners of Britain, West German and Switzerland as the price of their hostages' freedom.

However, the seven remained imprisoned and a Popular Front statement Sunday night did not spell out terms for the release of the remaining hostages. It said the demands have been communicated to the governments involved.
Negotiations between the Palestinians and a committee of the International Red Cross were suspended Sunday and the Red Cross negotiators flew back to Geneva.
Officials of the Red Cross and the Swiss government met for more than three hours today with the four-nation hijack crisis committee. The Swiss Foreign Ministry then announced that the organization had a mandate to work for release of all the hostages.
With the absence from Amman of the Red Cross team, Vatican emissary Msgr. Jean Rhodain, met for 30 minutes with top Popular Front leaders and said the talks were "very encouraging."

He said another meeting was scheduled today.
Sources in Tripoli said the Libyan government had volunteered to mediate between the Palestinians and the Western governments.
Libya also would try to convince the Palestinians to refrain from further terrorist activity in the three nations, the sources said.
A proposed deal between the Popular Front and West Germany for the release of two West Germans and the American husband of one of them was rejected Sunday by the Bonn government.
Two crewmen from the TWA jetliner met with newsmen Sunday night and told them the hostages were being treated well. They were marched away at gunpoint before newsmen could ask questions.

GMC Strike Felt To Be Certainty As Deadline Near

By LOWELL MCKIRGAN
Associated Press Writer
DETROIT (AP) — A strike against General Motors seemed a certainty today, as negotiators for both the mammoth corporation and the United Auto Workers claimed the other side was inflexible.
Negotiations at GM were scheduled to resume at 10 a.m. EST, just 14 hours before the midnight strike deadline.
GM was chosen by the UAW Sunday as its strike target if no agreement was reached.

The union and GM met for two hours Sunday and each side termed the meeting "unproductive." They said there was plenty of time to reach a settlement today, but each insisted the other should make the first concession.
A bill advanced by New York Republican Sens. Charles E. Goodell and Jacob K. Javits would require the President to take steps for an international shutoff of air traffic to nations contributing to hijackings.
Such a quarantine would be imposed if the country had participated in an air piracy, provided a haven for its perpetrators, or refused to secure the safe return of planes, passengers and crews.
The President would be empowered to revoke all U.S. air traffic to the nation in question

Congressmen Seething Angry Demands For Retaliation

By PEGGY SIMPSON
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The capture and destruction of four jetliners by Palestinian guerrillas have triggered congressional demands for retaliation, including proposals for an air quarantine of any nation harboring hijackers.
The proposals have emerged angrily along the entire political front of Congress—Republican, Democratic, liberal and conservative.
A bill advanced by New York Republican Sens. Charles E. Goodell and Jacob K. Javits would require the President to take steps for an international shutoff of air traffic to nations contributing to hijackings.

The President would be empowered to revoke all U.S. air traffic to the nation in question —and to any other country not joining the boycott.

In the House, meanwhile, the Foreign Affairs Committee is lining up hearings on several other proposals introduced in the wake of last week's hijacking and dynamiting by Arab guerrillas of four airplanes carrying several hundred U.S. citizens.
One bill, backed by Rep. Sidney R. Yates, D-Ill., and nearly 100 co-sponsors calls for President Nixon to seek international agreements to prohibit and punish armed attack on aircraft.
The Yates bill calls also for the suspension of air travel to and from any nation failing to return within 48 hours the hijacked plane, its crew, passengers and the persons responsible.

something quickly, Edwards said, terrorist organizations may be encouraged and their tactics will be copied rapidly in other parts of the globe.
Rep. Joseph G. Minish, D-N.J., said he is drafting a bill to force airports receiving federal funds—in other words, all of them—to refuse any planes "from nations which have harbored hijackers."

Strike Impact

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The United Auto Workers plans to strike General Motors at midnight tonight unless a new contract can be negotiated by then. Here at a glance is a rundown on the impact a strike against the world's largest manufacturing concern would have with auto assembly plants shut down and parts plants left in operation:
WORKERS: At least 344,000 hourly rated GM workers would be idled in the United States and Canada.
PLANTS: GM has 119 plants in 18 states and 69 cities. The UAW says 27 GM plants would be exempted from the strike.
DEALERS: GM has 13,600.
SUPPLIERS TO GM: The pinch would be felt by GM's 39,000 suppliers, with which it spent $11.5 billion for goods and services last year.
STEEL: GM consumes more than 10 per cent of America's steel production.
GM THE SUPPLIER: The firm is a major parts supplier to the other automakers as well as independent truck manufacturers and the agricultural implement industry, however 27 parts plants would be left in operation.
OTHER GM PRODUCTS: The firm is the nation's largest builder of diesel engines for industrial and truck use and is a major builder of railroad locomotives and giant earthmoving machines. It also produces appliances, including Frigidaire refrigerators.
DEFENSE-SPACE: Last year GM's defense and space work totaled $699.5 million.
SALES-PROFITS: 5,259,652 GM cars and trucks were sold last year. GM's total sales were $24.295 billion, profits $1.71 billion.
TAXES: GM paid $1.743 billion in U.S. and foreign income taxes last year and another $793.4 million in state, local and Social Security taxes.

The strike would idle some 344,000 union members in 145 locals in the United States and Canada. Members of 27 locals were exempted from strike action because their facilities supply Ford and Chrysler which were eliminated as national strike targets.
"It is quite certain a strike will begin in U.S. and Canadian plants at midnight Monday," UAW President Leonard Woodcock said at the conclusion of the meeting with GM Sunday.
Earl Bramblett, GM's top negotiator, said "the UAW always starts with fantastic demands" and "this year the demands are more fantastic and vague than usual."
The 25-member UAW International Executive Board Sunday eliminated Chrysler as a strike target.
Woodcock said the action was taken because Chrysler had indicated it was not a "free agent" in bargaining. He said GM appeared to be holding the final answers for a pattern-setting pact.
Production at Ford and Chrysler would not be affected by a strike. Ford, struck for seven weeks in 1967, was eliminated as a strike target on Sept. 2.
Woodcock said it was felt Chrysler was simply following the lead of GM in the talks.
Woodcock said he did not anticipate any move by the Nixon administration to invoke provisions of the Taft-Hartley Act to avert a strike. He said there was no problem of grave national concern involved in the talks.
Chief issues in the stalled talks, Woodcock said, were the union's demands for a substantial wage increase, unlimited protection against increases in the cost of living and retirement after 30 years at a minimum monthly pension of $500.

Chances appeared slim that any agreement could come in time to prevent the strike of some 500,000 workers set for one minute after midnight.
And the unions had said in granting one five-day strike delay that they would agree to no further postponements.
As a last-ditch effort to keep the trains moving, President Nixon could invoke a 60-day strike delay under the Railway Labor Act.
The dispute involves railroad clerks, trainmen, track maintenance workers and dining car employees. The unions want three-year wage hikes of 40 per cent or more, cost-of-living pay and other benefits for 500,000 workers who now average $3.50 an hour.
The United Transportation Union, which is involved in the midnight strike deadline, also has threatened a strike on Sept. 23 in a separate dispute over the elimination of locomotive firemen's jobs.

Hotel Fire
LOS ANGELES (AP) — Eleven persons died and 22 persons are unaccounted for in a pre-dawn fire that swept a 60-year-old, four-story hotel at the edge of the city's downtown garment district.
Officials said that many of those who jumped or came out of the flame-filled Ponet Square Hotel Sunday on knotted bedsheets left the scene without telling anyone.
Twenty-five persons were injured, some as they jumped for their lives.

Renaissance Art Work Stolen
LOS ANGELES (AP) — Police say a $1.2 million painting of the Madonna and Child by the Italian Renaissance master Raphael has been stolen from the home of a Hollywood financier.
Officers said Sunday that Charles Elkins reported that someone had forced open the front door of his house while he was at dinner Friday. Only the painting was missing.

Set Last-Ditch Railroad Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration scheduled a last-ditch negotiating session between railroad union and industry representatives today less than 12 hours before a scheduled nationwide rail strike deadline.
Asst. Secretary of Labor W. J. Usery met in separate, private sessions with officials of four AFL-CIO unions and industry negotiators, then scheduled a formal meeting with both sides for 1 p.m. EDT in an effort to break the deadlocked wage talks.
Chances appeared slim that any agreement could come in time to prevent the strike of some 500,000 workers set for one minute after midnight.

Picking Probers
RAVENNA, Ohio (AP) — Selection of a special 15-member state grand jury to investigate the May 4 Kent State University shootings began at the Portage County Courthouse today under a tight clamp on information about the proceedings.
Twelve jurors and three alternates were to be picked from a panel of 50 prospective jurors. If selections were completed in time, the jury was expected later today to visit the site where four Kent State students were shot to death in a confrontation with Ohio National Guardsmen.
Testimony from the first of some 300 persons subpoenaed to testify is to start Tuesday. The probe, being financed by $40,000 of state funds, is expected to last three to four weeks.

$100,000 Fire Loss Sunday In Charlotte
CHARLOTTE (AP) — More than $100,000 damage was done Sunday by a fire that destroyed a building in downtown Charlotte.
The blaze leveled a building housing offices of First Union Bank and Fasprints Copy Service. Four engine companies and two ladder companies were summoned when the flames struck shortly before 3 a.m.
Firemen fought the blaze for nearly three hours before extinguishing it. No injuries were reported.
A spokesman for the bank said damage to its offices would cost about $100,000. J. Frank Caldwell, owner of Fasprints, was unable to estimate the amount of damage to his firm, but said it was "very substantial."

Boeing Unveils 'Upgraded' 747
SEATTLE (AP) — The Boeing Co. has rolled out an upgraded version of its jumbo 747 jet with flight testing of the new model, called the 747B, expected to start Oct. 1.
The version features more powerful engines, an enlarged center wing tank, improved leading edge flaps and several changes in the wing, fuselage and landing gear for greater strength, the firm said.

Cambodian Offensive Is Forced Back By Enemy

By JOHN T. WHEELER
Associated Press Writer
PHNOM PENH (AP) — Enemy troops smashed the vanguard of the Cambodian government's first major offensive of the war today, forcing Cambodian soldiers back after an abortive attempt to recapture an important position in the country's heartland.
Enemy gunners fired more than 400 mortar shells into forward positions of the government soldiers in the village of Taing Kauk, 55 miles north of Phnom Penh, and followed the barrage with ground assaults and volleys of rocket grenades.
Forty Cambodian soldiers were killed and nearly 50 wounded in the attack that lasted just after midnight until past dawn.
Communist losses were given by government commanders as 20 dead left on the battleground and an estimated 200 more dead and wounded carried away during the night.
The government operation was aimed at reopening 50 miles of Route 6 from Skoun to the provincial capital of Kompong Thom, 80 miles north of Phnom Penh. The 50-mile segment has been in enemy hands for three months.

rice and food producing area.
In other battlefield action: —The North Vietnamese kept up their siege of Fire Base O'Reilly in the northern quarter of South Vietnam despite an eighth straight day of heavy air strikes by American bombers. Enemy gunners poured more than 100 rounds of mortar shells into the base near the Laotian border and South Vietnamese positions around it and clashed with government infantrymen Sunday.
—The U.S. Command said activity across South Vietnam had increased slightly Sunday with a 2½-hour fight 60 miles northeast of Saigon and four brief clashes in the central highlands and northernmost quarter of South Vietnam. Headquarters said 21 enemy and five Americans were killed and eleven Americans wounded in the five clashes.
—In Laos, a government military offensive near the Plain of Jars was reported bogged down because of heavy rains that have hampered American bombers supporting the government forces.

UN 'Weakened And Misused'

By MICHAEL J. REILLY
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — A White House commission has told President Nixon the United Nations has been weakened and misused by its members through failure to make it the world's primary means for peace and security.
Henry Cabot Lodge, a former U.S. ambassador to the U.N. and chairman of the 45-member commission, presented the interim findings to the President Sunday. The report noted a loss of public support for the world body in the United States and called for its strengthening.
"The critical importance of the United Nations mediation in the Middle East conflict will, we hope, lead to suggestions for providing prompt procedures and impartial expert staff to limit, defuse, and settle this kind of breach of international security," Lodge said.

With the recent hijackings of commercial airliners by Palestinian guerrillas complicating the Mideast situation he added: "We are especially concerned over the relatively new threat to world order created by armed groups, beyond the control of national governments, who menace and sabotage international cooperation by criminal acts of kidnaping and destruction."
The commission recommended stronger peacekeeping machinery, tougher international laws on hijackings and action "against criminal traffic in drugs and the abuse of narcotics."
Lodge further indicated the possible need for new rules and institutions to protect the air and waters from pollution.

Guerrillas, Jordanians See Another Bloody Clash Sunday

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Palestinian guerrillas and Jordanian army troops clashed again Sunday, part of the Middle East confusion casting a long shadow over Tuesday's opening of the U.N. General Assembly's 25th session.
The bloody fight near the cease-fire line with Israel left 12 guerrillas and two soldiers dead, according to Palestinian sources. Sources in the guerrilla Central Committee said the commandos were from Al Fatah, largest of the Palestinian groups.
The government radio said the guerrillas were elements of the Palestine Liberation Army.
Iraq claimed there was increased Israeli military activity along the Israel-Jordan cease-fire line, but the military command in Tel Aviv denied this.
Further confrontation between the guerrillas and the Jordanian army appeared imminent, as Radio Baghdad reported Iraq had handed over to the Palestinians a 3,000-man brigade of commandos who had been serving under the Iraqi command since the 1967 Middle East war.
Another Palestinian force of 5,000 regulars is stationed in Syria. The Palestinian Central Committee—nominally in control of the many guerrilla groups—has called on Syria and Iraq to put all Palestinian troops under its command.

The appeal was made last week during heavy fighting that caused an estimated 500 casualties in Jordan. The clash Sunday was the first reported since a cease-fire between the army and the guerrillas went into effect Thursday.
At the United Nations, diplomats are pegging their hopes for a continuation of the Middle East cease-fire on the chance that private talks among the Big Four and foreign ministers of Israel and the Arab countries will get the derailed peace talks back on the track.
Israeli Premier Golda Meir's visit to Washington and her planned meeting with President Nixon Friday are seen as keys to the possibility of resuming talks.
Israel has been boycotting the indirect talks since it and the United States charged Egypt with violating the cease-fire by moving anti-aircraft missiles into the Suez Canal truce zone.
There also is concern at the United Nations that the Middle East crisis can be further inflamed by guerrilla hijackings of airliners such as occurred last week.

C&D Supports Sowers' Stand

NAGS HEAD, N.C. (AP)—The North Carolina Board of Conservation and Development is supporting C&D Director Roy Sowers Jr. in his stand against a proposal to separate the department's conservation and development functions.

The board adopted a motion Saturday endorsing a statement Sowers made Sept. 3 to a subcommittee studying reorganization of state government.

Sowers told the subcommittee creation of a separate state agency for conservation would only weaken the cause of conservation in North Carolina.

A committee looking into reorganization of state government has tentatively proposed creating separate departments of conservation and development.

In other action, the C&D board turned down a land-swap proposal from the Raleigh-Durham Airport Authority and offered a counter proposal for consideration by airport officials.

The airport authority had proposed swapping 378 acres of airport property for 220 acres of land in Umstead State Park to enable the airport to build a new 10,000-foot runway.

The board offered a counter proposal under which the airport authority would receive the 220 acres and an additional 1,050 acres in the northeastern part of the park.

In exchange, the state wants 178 acres originally offered by the airport, plus the acquisition of another 1,250 acres for the park.

The State Parks Committee of the C&D board rejected the airport's proposal as "not in the best interest" of North Carolina citizens.

The airport authority issued a statement saying the board's proposal "has much merit."

But it added, "There are legal entanglements involved in the airport authority buying any land not directly needed for airport expansion which will necessitate further study on our part."

Problem Due Loose Mule

FARMVILLE—A mule on the loose and a Marine, allegedly AWOL, accounted for other than normal activity for Farmville police during the weekend.

Police Chief Graham Creel reported a mule broke out of his pen Sunday afternoon and created a few unexpected traffic problems for a short while before being rounded up and returned to his pen.

The loose mule wandered around, paying a brief visit downtown and then cantered off to the residential area, where officers managed to corral him.

A house guest visiting at 304 Pine Street was reported by the host family to have departed town, allegedly taking $123 in clothing with him.

Chief Creel said a search is being conducted to locate the person, allegedly an absent without leave Marine.

Discussions Slated At NFO Meeting

A discussion of area peanut, grain and hog programs will be the main items of business tonight at the monthly meeting of the Pitt County chapter of the National Farmer's Organization.

The regular session is scheduled for 8 p.m. in the agricultural classroom at Chicod School.

Chapter president Grover C. Wynne Jr. of Bethel said that factual reports on grain sales as well as information on the hog marketing and peanut programs in this area will be on the agenda.

In addition, Wynne said that a report on the recent court action involving the Alabama broiler growers' right to continue peaceful picketing will be given. Wynne noted that the injunction prohibiting picketing by farmers in Alabama had been lifted and the right to continue while the case is pending was upheld.

The chapter head pointed out that in discussions of the hog marketing program, it must be realized that currently, North Carolina "has the lowest hog market prices in the United States."

Wynne said that a peanut program is being organized in North Carolina and work is also underway to get other movements started in the state.

Beers Begin Lives In Glass

NEW YORK (UPI)—Today's scientifically brewed beers, which normally end up in glass bottles, begin their lives in glass containers, too.

The containers in this instance are the huge brewing vats where the beer is aged after fermentation. In the old days, the Glass Container Manufacturers Institute says, beer was aged in oak vats lined with pitch. Today's precisely formulated beers are aged in immaculate tanks of glass-lined steel.

New Fish Uses Call For Wheat

ASTORIA, Ore. (UPI)—Because Japanese have found new uses for fish, the wheat growers of Washington and Oregon have been helped.

Dave Crawford, who directs Oregon State University's Seafoods Laboratory here, said the Japanese have processed fish ham and fish sausage, which are hot-selling items in that country.

As a result the Japanese are using more wheat flour in bread to go with the sausage and ham. Most of the wheat Japan uses comes from the Pacific Northwest.

Guards Will Cost Extra

NEW YORK (AP)—Installing armed government sky marshals on international flights as an antihijack measure will cost about $80 million a year, according to the head of the Federal Aviation Administration.

John Shaffer, FAA administrator, said Sunday current plans call for a total of 4,000 guards, each costing about $20,000, to be in the air by the end of the year.

These include FBI and Secret Service agents in addition to several hundred soldiers, and Treasury men already flying, he said.

President Nixon last week ordered at least two armed guards assigned to all international U.S.-based flights and some Caribbean flights in an effort to curb hijackings.

Shaffer also said airlines appear to have overcome initial hesitation about plainclothes government agents patrolling international airports and now seem pleased with their performance.

He spoke on an ABC television special on airplane hijacking.

Production And Orders Decline In Furniture

HIGH POINT, N. C. (AP)—A survey by the Southern Furniture Manufacturers Association shows a sharp drop in furniture orders and production.

The survey indicated that 10.2 per cent fewer orders were booked during the first seven months of the year than during the same period last year. Production during the first seven months was reported to be off by seven per cent.

SFMA members, which produce the majority of the nation's furniture, reported their payrolls were down by 8.3 per cent from 1969 and that their shipments to buyers had dropped by 5.2 per cent.

The SFMA, reporting on its monthly survey, said manufacturers answering the questionnaire had 16 per cent more finished goods in their inventories on July 31 that they had at that date last year. This reflects a drop in orders from retail furniture stores, the report said.

Mrs. William Douglas Follows His Footsteps—Decides On Law

By SUSAN CROCE KELLY
ST. LOUIS, Mo. (WNS) — "I've always thought that my husband's ideas were very good ones, but now that I'm beginning to truly know what he's talking about, I really agree with him."

Smiling brightly, the blonde, blue-eyed wife of Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas talked enthusiastically about her husband, his job, and her first year of law school, which she completed in June.

She and her husband were in St. Louis as special guests of the American Bar Association at its annual meeting, and "I didn't have nearly enough time to do everything that I wanted to do at the convention," confessed the vivacious 27-year-old.

She began enumerating activities in which she was interested: the women lawyers' and Student Bar and Legal Aid sessions, besides events planned for the wives of special guests and the wives of ABA members, plus the things Justice Douglas was involved in — "I just can't decide among them," she laughed.

Cathy is extremely interested in her 71-year-old husband's work and in America's social problems. A sociology major in college, she became intrigued with studying law by listening to her husband talk about his work, but also because "too many people don't have enough to eat or can't get jobs — there's so much to be done now by everyone."

Mind Made Up

She confessed that she wasn't positive about a law career even after she had been accepted by the American University in Washington, D. C., and paid her money. But now with a year of study under her belt, her mind is made up, and as a first step to a future law career, her main goal is to make a success of law school.

"When Bill and I were first married we entertained some, but since last fall when I started law school we have had to limit our social engagements."

As she talks about her school and her married life, it is difficult to remember that "Bill" is Justice William O. Douglas who was appointed to the Supreme Court by President Franklin Roosevelt in 1939.

That before that he was Chairman of the Securities and Exchange Commission, and that she is his fourth wife.

"Being a first-year law student," continued Cathy, who had just returned from a luncheon and fashion show for wives for ABA members, "takes absolutely all my time. I generally get home from the library about 5 or 5:30 and that's just time enough to fix dinner before my husband gets in, around 6:30."

Around the strap of her purse Cathy had tied a red, white and blue Vera Hicks scarf, her gift from the luncheon.

"The fashion show was fantastic!" she exclaimed. Further discussion revealed that she is just beginning to get used to the midi look. "So far, I have a pants outfit with a long coat, and boots," she said, "but mostly I like clothes either short or very long. And I'm going to keep wearing my short skirts."

That day she was dressed in a pale pink knit which came well above her knees, accented with a long knotted strand of pearls.

Being a student, Cathy admitted that she wears pants a great deal of the time. "In fact," she laughed, "give me five pants suits and a couple of cocktail dresses and I'm set."

The cocktail dresses are for the times that she goes out with her husband or when they entertain small groups — "eight is best for conversation." Most of her time for the next two years, however, is necessarily going to revolve around the American University Law School.

Justice Douglas rarely helps his wife study, "because he used to be a teacher, and whenever I ask him a question — which is generally out of desperation — he always answers me with another question. I have to spend all day thinking about what he asked to even figure out how it connects to what I wanted to know in the first place!"

"But," she added, "he's really great about my school. I simply couldn't do this if he weren't behind me all the way, the studying is so time-consuming and demanding. During finals Bill even fixes dinner." She smiled again, adding that during those intense weeks of study and exams, Justice Douglas was more than understanding about any lack of groceries in the house.

They live in Washington, D. C. from September through June, and in the state of Washington during the summer months.

"In the summer we ride horseback on the trails a lot. Sometimes we go out for a few hours, and sometimes we pack a lunch and ride all day. Your sort of revive yourself when you're in the woods and mountains. It's a good chance to review the year and all the things that have happened."

The Douglases are staying out west until September when school reopens.

"I'll go back to Washington D. C. and start school," said Mrs. Douglas, "and Bill will stay a few more weeks, then come back in time for the court session which convenes in October."

When the Supreme Court is in session, Mrs. Douglas said that she likes to listen to cases being presented. "I enjoy listening to law arguments, especially if they deal with personal rights."

Her main purpose in becoming a lawyer is to work for personal rights and legal aid. One area in which she is not particularly involved, however, is the women's movement.

Fraulein Wonder Has Hit East Germany

By JOSEPH FLEMING
BERLIN (UPI)—The "fraulein wonder" has hit East Germany but the Communists aren't sure they like their girls beautiful as well as industrious. Along with the so-called "economic miracle" the "fraulein miracle"—the appearance of pretty, shapely women—has come to East Germany years after West German girls became the talk of Europe and the mainstays of chorus lines in the best continental nightclubs.

Plumper

The East German girl miracle, like the economic miracle, is not quite up to the West German standard. Because of a difference in diet, the girls in the German Democratic Republic tend to be heavier than the girls in the Federal Republic of Germany.

But an honest man must admit they'll do, and this worries the Communists. They have become so attractive that the state now finds it necessary to warn that beauty is only skin deep and a good lathe operator with a sound ideological background makes a better wife than a western-type sex queen.

There are economic reasons for this. War losses and the flight of refugees to the west have left an unbalanced population in East Germany and women are doing work once reserved for men.

Women make up 47.4 per cent of the labor force. The communists have found productivity on a collective farm or in a factory suffers if female workers pay more attention to their appearance than fulfilling their work quotas.

The "Young World" (Junge Welt), official newspaper of the Communist Party youth organization, in a series of articles warned against imitating "the primitive sex appeal found in western nations."

"Girls of strong character who are spiritually mature can afford to be reserved in the use of cosmetics and in dressing up," Young World said.

"The search for a partner should correspond to our socialist conception of morality."

Some Verboten Styles

Vera Wutge, an East German authority on fashion and author of "styles for young people," has laid down the doctrine that a "socialist personality" avoids extremes and wears "practical and appropriate clothing."

In this spirit, Young World has opened a campaign against long hair, lipstick, eye makeup and other cosmetics. It said long hair, no matter how blonde and silky, gets in the eyes and blocks a clear view. And it said makeup is no substitute for intelligence and achievement.

The don't-be-too-sexy campaign is a strong one but as any girl-watcher can plainly see it's an uphill fight and East Germany is, these days, getting prettier all the time—femalely speaking.

Baby Bottle Days Here For Daddy

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: A while back a grown man wrote in saying he liked to chew on rubber objects as it relaxed him. Then someone caught him chewing on a rubber duck and he was embarrassed. Well, tell him not to be ashamed as my husband is the best in the world and he has a similar peculiarity.

When our daughter was a baby, I found her pacifier in our bed. I thought it had dropped out of her mouth while she was in our bed, but later I found the pacifier in the drawer of our nightstand table, and I couldn't for the life of me figure out how it got there.

Then one morning I woke up early and saw my husband sound asleep with the pacifier in his mouth! We had a good laugh over it, and that evening when I fixed the baby's bottle I jokingly asked him if he wanted a bottle, too. He said yes, so I fixed him one.

He loved it, so I kept fixing him a bottle right along with the baby's. I took the baby off the bottle when she was 14 months old, but my husband still has one every night, and he is 37. Please don't use our name as my husband is well-known here. He works on the Space Program. Thank you.

HAPPY WIFE

DEAR WIFE: Give my regards to your husband. He is out of this world. And so are you.

DEAR ABBY: You did this office a tremendous disservice when you came out with the statement, "Slacks are now acceptable for afternoon wear almost everywhere."

In our Board of Realtors, numbering in the hundreds, only one woman wears slacks in the office and to show property, and the rest of us wish she wouldn't. This gal has a big broad fanny.

I personally think slacks should be manufactured to size nine only. Any woman who needs a bigger size should take a good look at herself in a rearview mirror.

PROFESSIONAL WOMAN

DEAR WOMAN: Aren't you forgetting that many women wear slacks—not so much for "looks"—but for comfort and practicality? We all can't be size nine.

DEAR ABBY: I had a brief affair with an employee. She is considerably younger than I. We are both married. She, not I, broke it up and I am still very hurt about it.

She is now having an affair with a young fellow employe and I am sure she knows that I am aware of it. The problem is that lately her work has been so poor that she deserves to be fired, but I'm afraid if I fired her she would think it was because she broke up with me and now has somebody else. How now, brown cow?

WAITING

DEAR WAITING: What are you waiting for? Warn her that if she doesn't shape up you will have to ship her out. But be honest with yourself. If she hadn't broken up with you and taken up with the other fellow, would her incompetence cause you to fire her?

DEAR ABBY: No problem here, I just wanted you to know that your name was mentioned in court the other day.

While I was in traffic court, the lady ahead of me said to the judge, "I was speeding because my husband has been running around with another woman and I wanted to get home before he could leave." The judge's amusing reply, "Sorry, lady. Pay the fine, and go home and write to Dear Abby."

Do you think you've put your HUSH PUPPIES shoes through every possible endurance test? Here's something new... try playing big-time football with them!

Ron Atchison, a 240 pound lineman did just that! It happened in a recent playoff game in Canada. The ground was frozen solid, even before gametime. The ice was risky. Something had to be done.

Atchison slipped on a pair of HUSH PUPPIES shoes and tumbled to play. He knew what he was doing. Twice he broke through the enemy line to reach the quarterback. His fancy footwear was attracting considerable attention from fans and players alike.

After the game, Atchison obtained several pairs of HUSH PUPPIES casuals for all occasions. The ones he had worn on the gridiron were mounted in bronze!

If HUSH PUPPIES can withstand pro football, think how many other things they can withstand!

Who knows? If air travel is no safer in the future than the past few days have shown, the old Queen Elizabeth might yet find its way back into trans-Atlantic service.

Singapore. C. Y. Tung said his foundation would finance the floating university but he hopes to persuade the United Nations to take over sponsorship.

Such a use would be far different from anything the Queen is accustomed to and no doubt the ship would be more at home back on the seaways.

And unless some way is found to cope with the vicious hijackings which have seen hundreds of innocent people flown to the Jordanian desert, it may be that there will be a resurgence of sea travel between Europe and the United States.

Tobacco Market Sees Second Opening Today

Sales resumed on the Eastern Belt today and we hope that the week's holiday relieved the glut at redrying plants.

The markets of the Eastern Belt had gotten off to a good start with the new selling seasons and the belt had averaged $73.73 per hundred pounds when the sales were halted.

Sales holidays are inconvenient to everyone but if sales had continued with buying companies unable to handle the tobacco the prices being paid could have suffered.

Today was a second opening for the market and we trust there will be no decline in prices.

Pres. Nixon A Trade Agnostic

By ROWLAND EVANS and ROBERT NOVAK

WASHINGTON — The agony of the Nixon administration in making tough decisions was exhibited again this week when the President and his closest aides came back from San Clemente with a remarkable sidestep on the protectionist trade bill pending in the House.

Since the House Ways and Means Committee completed the bill a month ago, there has been neither approval nor disapproval from President Nixon. Nor was the decision hammered out at the Western White House publicly announced immediately.

Mr. Nixon approves of some provisions in the bill (such as the textile quota) and disapproves of others (such as trigger mechanisms for other quotas). The question of a possible veto will not be determined until the finished product reaches his desk.

This means that soon, perhaps next week, a trade bill marking an historic move back toward protectionism will reach the House floor with Mr. Nixon in the role of agnostic. Yet, until the moment that the San Clemente position reached Washington, officials were saying privately that such "decision" dodging was unthinkable.

Actually, the non-position makes political sense. A flat disapproval would have enraged Mr. Nixon's allies in Southern textile states and would not prevent House passage anyway. Indeed, free traders inside the Administration are relieved that the President did not flatly endorse this measure.

Finally, Rep. Wilbur D. Mills of Arkansas, chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, is perfectly satisfied with the President's non-position. Contrary to fears of White House staffers, Mills is content to go to the House floor without a Presidential imprimatur on his committee's work.

But sidestepping a final decision continues the erosion of White House authority on Capitol Hill. Moreover, the non-position of the bill reflects a non-policy on foreign trade in general.

Mr. Nixon is described by aides as a free-trader whose aberration for textile quotas merely reflects the need for 1968 Southern electoral votes. But other officials report the President shares the Congressional view, not wholly unjustified, that our striped-pants diplomats have been outbargained in international trade negotiations.

In the absence of an overriding trade strategy, Nixon administration officials for 18 months have been divided into protectionist and free-trade camps warring with each other. This surfaced last month when Hendrik Houthakker, a member of the President's Council of Economic Advisers, publicly blasted all quotas, including the sacrosanct textile exclusion.

Textile state Republicans were immediately on the telephone to the White House, demanding Dr. Houthakker's scalp. White House aides who have to deal with Congress were furious with him (one official referring to Houthakker privately as "the Ensign Pulver of this Administration").

But Houthakker, who operates more openly than

Strength For Today

GET USED TO CHANGE

The older we get the more we object to change. "Oh, no," you say. "The older we get the wiser we get. And kids just out of the playpen are not fit to run the world." Certainly not, and when they reach middle age they will believe the same things you and I believe now and will tell the kids who talk too much to climb back into the playpen.

But confidentially—isn't there a bit of vanity in all this? Certainly those who have come to middle life ought to know more than those who have lived only a few years. But we are all impatient. We don't like to be talked back to and apparently put in our place by people forty or fifty years our juniors. But the next time the issue is raised just ask yourself quietly if there isn't some vanity in the "mature" attitude we sometimes take. In China they pay too much attention to the "wisdom" of maturity and old age. In our beloved country we probably do not pay enough attention to the experience. Many people have accumulated through the decades.

Which is inevitable, and we had better accommodate ourselves to it. We have, of course, changed more in the past century than any previous generation of earth-dwellers have changed in many centuries. But that does not make us excessively wise and certainly not infallible.

How we object to change! But we had better get used to it. It is inevitable.

Safety's Patron Saint

WASHINGTON — It has been reported that the president of the Toyota Motor Co. has had a half-million dollar shrine constructed in Japan for the repose of the souls of people killed in Toyota cars.

The question that immediately comes to mind is,

"Will the American automobile companies follow suit?" A gesture such as this, while not contributing significantly to auto safety, would certainly show the American public that the auto companies care.

The American automobile companies have two choices: One is to build an individual shrine for each make of car: "Our Lady of the Corvair," "The Latter Day Mustang Tabernacle," "Temple Oldsmobile in the Vale,"

ART BUCHWALD

"The Little Chrysler Around the Corner" and "The Valiant Sisters of Mercy," or one large shrine which would take in all the automobiles manufactured in the United States.

I would opt for one shrine with as many chapels as there are makes of cars produced in this country. It would probably have to take up hundreds of acres of land, but built in a convenient location, the shrine would eventually pay for itself in parking fees alone.

So that one company wouldn't benefit more than another, the shrine would be named "Saint Ralph's in the Square" after Ralph Nader, the patron saint of safety in the United States.

A large statue of Nader being followed by a detective from General Motors would be erected in the front of the shrine. The best American artists would be commissioned to paint frescoes

Other Editors Say Two Defeats

(Henderson Dispatch)

Defeat of two candidates in last Tuesday's primaries, one in Florida and the other in Arkansas, and one a Democrat and the other a Republican, have attracted attention for whatever significance may be involved.

In Florida, an oldtime GOP congressman defeated the nomination bid of former Judge G. Harold Carswell. Carswell was the second choice of President Nixon for associate justice of the Supreme Court. He was seeking to represent the State in the very legislative body that voted him down for the high court position.

Carswell's defeat was not a great surprise, although it would not have been sensational had he won his party's nomination. He was quick to announce his candidacy after "the Senate rejected him last spring. His move had the appearance of an effort to show them a thing or two. Had he gone to the Senate he would have had to circulate among men who proved his judicial undoing. He could have faced snobishness on the part of leaders and others in the upper house of Congress.

In Arkansas, former Governor Orval Faubus was trying for a comeback as chief executive after previously serving six terms in that office. He was defeated by a country lawyer, who was mostly unknown, and who won the Democratic nomination by a smashing majority. Dale Bumpers will match the present Republican Governor Winthrop Rockefeller in November.

Two factors may have entered into the defeat of Faubus. One could have been that voters thought he had the office long enough. The other represents a change in sentiment among the people over the question of school integration. Faubus, it will be remembered, resorted to military force in an effort to prevent admission of Negroes into Little Rock schools a decade or more ago. Integration would seem to have been accepted as a fact of life in the State.

Faubus had come to be recognized as an inveterate foe of racial mixing. It carried him to victory repeatedly. But it is no longer a major factor in Arkansas politics, as the election indicates.

If Carswell's candidacy in Florida was a spite move toward the U.S. Senate, it backfired. He had resigned as a Federal judge to make the race after being turned down by the Senate. Now voters of his own party in his home State have rejected his aspirations.

A Bonanza For Foreign Autos

By ELMER ROESSNER European and Japanese auto manufacturers are watching developments in the negotiations between the United Auto Workers and the manufacturers no less closely than Wall Street. A strike or a high wage settlement would be a multi-million dollar bonanza for them.

For the first time General Motors with its Vega and Ford with its Pinto planned real competition for mini imports. Chrysler is introducing its Cricket, made in England, and Colt, made in Japan. A strike against GM would put the burden of the American challenge on Ford. While Ford could make spectacular gains, it is doubtful if its production would be large enough to meet foreign competition.

GM and Ford have shorn frills from their small cars and have cut their own profits in hope of blocking the continuing gains of imported cars. But if the Big Three agree on heavy pay and fringe increases to avert a strike, foreign auto makers, with far lower pay scales, will be able to undersell American-made bitsy cars.

And if they do not agree to hefty increases until after a strike, the foreign car makers will have an even greater advantage. May Lessen Danger Prediction: Because the U.A.W. negotiators know this, and because they know that more foreign car sales will increase unemployment in their union's ranks, the chances of a strike are diminished, although a strike is still possible. The sound and fury with which the negotiations opened can be discounted. The U.A.W. —

Big Three negotiations always start with that sort of exchange.

Time grows short for the Ninety-First Congress. There will be little accomplished from now until election day and after that the defeated members will have little incentive to get things done. Prediction: Expect a flurry of strange and wonderful bills. They will get Congressmen considerable publicity without the risk that they may be enacted.

Who Dictates Fashion? Several polls indicate that American women, especially the younger ones — and they're all young when it comes to fashion — strongly favor mini skirts. Prediction: Nevertheless, the midi will be popular this winter and next spring. Fashion decisions are not made in the boondocks but in Paris, Rome and New York.

Dow Chemical has announced increases of up to 25 per cent in the price of dry cleaning solvents. Other

Ignore Labor-Saving

By BOB HARING Associated Press Writer EAST BRUNSWICK, N.J. (AP) — It is impossible to automate women.

No matter how efficient or labor-saving the device, the American woman will find some way not to use it. Somehow, she will conclude that only the old way will really do the job that a brilliant engineer—male, of course—designed the gadget to do.

At the same time, the woman will not give up her labor-saver. Twenty years ago, women lugged laundry baskets out of doors and complained over clotheslines that they did not have an automatic washer and dryer.

Women who had the were the Joneses to keep up with. Today, suburbia is a glow with washers and dryers to pre-soak, soak, spin, fluff, puff and even to wash and dry. Control panels rivalling jetliners offer knobs, buttons and settings for every fabric and every dirt.

It almost seems you can custom-set the machine for whatever you have that's dirty and whatever made it that way.

Yet how many bathrooms still dry stockings?

And how many husbands have heard the plaintive cry from the automatic laundry room: "I wish we had a clothesline."

Today's suburban Jones is the lady with the clothesline. Neighbors borrow it as they once borrowed the automatic to do a load of diapers.

The explanation has that no dryer will "air" quite the way a clothesline will.

But this wish to hold on to some small part of the old way of doing things is not confined to wash day.

How many dishwashers do not wash all the dishes? Or garbage disposers not dispose of all the garbage?

And think of all the frost-free refrigerators that get defrosted. Then consider the sewing machine.

Industrial engineers have created machines that sew straight, zigzag, zagzig, up, down, sideways, inside, outside. They make plain stitches, fancy stitches, double-stitches, lock stitches, invisible stitches, fancy stitches, double-stitches, locking stitches—practically any kind except the hand stitch which is really required to finish the garment properly.

Psychologists might explain these things in terms of wish fulfillment subdivision boredom or some elaborate theory which ultimately relates to sex. Women might deny both theories and need for them.

But how many homes these days have a vacuum cleaner for the carpets, another vacuum cleaner for the steps and tile floors, maybe still another for patio and basement—and a broom to sweep up dirt?

manufacturers are expected to follow. Prediction: Dry cleaning prices will rise.

Western Electric, which supplies the Bell System with equipment, has raised prices an average of 2.8 per cent. Prediction: Telephone companies will again seek rate increases.

Gold prices have been rising, reaching $36.35 an ounce a few days ago. Prediction: The rise will continue because of inflation and fears of more inflation in almost all Western nations.

Fructose Cocktail Gets Medics' Okay

I don't know why I am telling you this, but the Journal of the American Medical Association reports that Bloody Marys and Screwdrivers may be less intoxicating than most other mixed drinks. That's because tomato and orange juice contains fructose, a sugar that lowers the alcohol level in the blood, as much as 45 per cent in 15 minutes.

On each altar, in gold, would be the latest model of a car or bus produced by the manufacturer, and seats with safety belts would be provided for those who wish to meditate on the future of the automobile.

There would be services held twice a day for people who died from pollution, and others who expired while waiting for their warranties to be honored.

Music would be provided by the tire companies, and candles could be purchased with gasoline trading stamps.

Saint Ralph's in the Square would hold high holy services on the day the new car models came out, where anyone contemplating buying one would receive a special blessing.

A special chapel would be set aside for those people who wanted to pray that their automobile insurance would not be canceled, and a traffic commissioner would be on duty at all times to give absolution to those who have sinned on the highway.

Since it will be difficult for everyone in the United States to visit the shrine, it will be suggested that those people caught in traffic jams take a rug out of their car each morning and each evening, and bow in the direction of St. Ralph's in the Square.

The brunette beauty queen, 21-year-old Phyllis George of Denton, Tex., says she believes 95 per cent of the nation's youth are "on a straight line and only 5 per cent are involved with drugs and violence."

Asked what her message to youth would be, she replied, "I have learned that the way to get something done is not through violence."

Miss George said "civil rioting" is the nation's most pressing problem. Asked about the war in Vietnam, she said the public should support the men fighting there.

"I have many friends over in Vietnam," she added. "One just came back and he lost a leg. He told me the morale is great but that the men are affected by the demonstrations at home."

Miss George was asked whether she had taken part in any campus activities on Vietnam Moratorium Day.

"No, I had a test that day," she answered. "More than likely I would have gone if I didn't have a test."

The brown-eyed Miss America, crowned Saturday night, receives a $10,000 scholarship for winning. She was a junior majoring in elementary education and speech at North Texas State University in her hometown during the last school term. She had planned to study at Texas Christian University this fall, but her reign as Miss American will delay her studies.

Miss George, who has a 36-23-36 figure, hopes for a career in broadcasting. Her talent presentation at the pageant was a piano solo of "Rain Drops Keep Fallin' On My Head."

Asked her opinions on fashion, the beauty queen said she liked gaucho pants and would wear midskirts because they are fashionable.

And what about minis? "I guess if I can show my legs to a million people I can wear minis," she said with a smile.

Today In Washington

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS WASHINGTON (AP) — The chief architect of the administration's welfare reform bill says the measure may be beaten by lack of time.

White House counselor Daniel P. Moynihan said Sunday that "The President is very confident there are 60 votes for it in the Senate."

But he said "You can be beaten by the clock when Congress is coming to a close."

The House-passed bill currently is tied up in the Senate Finance Committee. "If it goes to the floor it will pass," said Moynihan.

He made his comments on the CBS television-radio program "Face the Nation."

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic party leaders and workers are planning a unique, coast-to-coast caucus on Saturday, Sept. 26, via closed circuit color television.

The three-hour session, starting at 2 p.m. EDT will link 18 cities in a discussion of strategy for the Nov. 3 elections.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government and the political parties have a 30-year job of reform cut out for themselves to make Americans feel at home with their institutions, says Republican National Chairman Rogers C. B. Morton.

Morton, a Maryland congressman, said he has encountered widespread dissatisfaction as he travels the country to take political soundings and help his party's candidates.

"I think there is a feeling of disappointment in the institutions of government," Morton said in a weekend conversation with newsmen.

"People are bombarded by happenings in government they don't like—conflicts of interest and such things. They complain of a tax squeeze.

"We in party leadership have to become very introspective," he said. "We have to think out the role of the party, why independents are increasing, what we are doing wrong, how we can reach the people."

"Downstream 30 years I can see the chance of massive reform in the management of government so people can identify with it," he said.

Morton said the job would take that long because "There is simply too much fear of amending the constitution, or of doing such things as merging counties."

the shrouded movements of the typical Nixon man, was only doing publicly what others have done privately.

Secretary of Commerce Maurice Stans, for example, privately takes positions considerably warmer to quotas than the President's.

Given this cacophony inside the Administration, inter-agency meetings on trade policy accomplished little. None have been held for a month. Instead, the new position was drafted at San Clemente by Presidential aides headed by the increasingly powerful head of the Office of Management and Budget (OMB), George Shultz (a free-trader who prevented an outright endorsement but could not get Mr. Nixon to repeat his ignored veto warning of last July 20).

Congleton To Train With Urban Planners

Morton Congleton of Greenville is one of several trainees selected by the Department of Local Affairs to participate in its training program for urban planners.

The six-month program, which began September 1, is the fifth to be conducted. Its purpose is not only to train staff personnel, but also to provide a continuous source of planner with which to meet the increasing demand for assistance being sought by cities and counties in the state.

Congleton will be working for the Mid-East Economic Development Commission with headquarters in Washington, N.C.

On November 8, a one-man show of paintings by Dr. Speight will open for a showing through the month of November at the Greenville Art Center on Evans Street. This show will include his works of recent years of scenes painted in eastern North Carolina and in the Philadelphia area, where he teaches during the summer at the Pennsylvania Academy of Art.

Dr. and Mrs. Speight (artist Sarah Blakeslee) now reside at 508 E. 9th Street in Greenville.

The first three Presidents elected after the Civil War — Grant, Hayes and Garfield — were Ohio natives.

allow student campaigning this fall. Instructors will tell their classes at the opening of the term what their policy will be and will find with the students "mutually acceptable ways for students to make up work missed."

The policy was adopted at a faculty meeting Saturday.

In another vote, the faculty decided to place student representatives on seven major faculty committees for the first time. Two students will be assigned to each body, one with the right to vote.

Announcing the 1971 Duster.

The big difference in small cars.

We first introduced the Duster as the best transportation bargain in America. It still is. And we built Duster to be America's "small-enough-but-big-enough" car. And it still is.

Small car lovers of America, your day has come. You have more tires to kick, more doors to slam, more hoods to look under, more colors to choose from and more test drives to take than ever before. Which leaves us to convince you that Duster gives you the most car for the money. That it's small enough, but big enough. And that, all in all, it's the ideal small car.

Room. More of it to accommodate more passengers. More of it to accommodate more luggage.

Most small cars are four-passenger cars. And when you sit in some of them, they feel like they were built for three-and-a-half passengers.

Duster's a five-passenger car. It seats five, comfortably. Besides carrying more up front, Duster carries more in the trunk. You can stuff 15.9 cubic feet of stuff into it. (One of the new small cars has about a third as much trunk space.)

Small enough for maneuverability. Big enough for stability.

Duster's small enough to slip into about ¾ of a parking space. Yet it's big enough to give you stability on the open highway. It has our unique torsion-bar suspension (for better handling). And unibody construction—its strength completely surrounds you. So Duster can handle stop-and-go city traffic as well as freeway traffic because it's the right size, the right weight and it handles.

Our small-enough-but-big-enough car has a small-enough-but-big-enough engine.

Duster's standard engine is our rugged 198 cubic inch, 125 horsepower Six. It gives you great gas mileage and a little more power than other small cars' smaller engines. And that's a perfect combination.

Options. You have over 50 to choose from when you order a Duster.

Think of it this way. It's a convenience to have a lot of conveniences to choose from. If you're considering buying a new small car, and you have certain options in mind to go along with it, you may find Duster the only small car that offers them. There are things like a Stereo Cassette Tape Player, V-8 engine, vinyl roof and power brakes that you just can't get on some small cars.

The Duster success story: to be continued.

No doubt about it. Duster is the car for the times. Over 175,000 Duster buyers thought so last year. And we expect more of the same kind of success with the 1971 Duster. Before you buy a small car, look at our small car. Duster. Built and engineered with extra care.

Ruling Is Expected In A Few Days After Closed Hearing Ends

By RICHARD DAW
Associated Press Writer
FT. BRAGG, N. C. (AP)—A ruling is expected within a few weeks on whether Capt. Jeffrey MacDonald must stand trial at an Army court-martial on charges he murdered his wife and two children.
A closed-door hearing on the charges against the 26-year-old Green Beret physician ended Friday after the prosecution reportedly argued MacDonald killed his family in a rage over one of the children's bed-wetting.

The report about the alleged motive, the first publicly cited for the bizarre Feb. 17 slayings, came from defense attorney Bernard L. Segal.

The Army refused to comment on the report, following a policy it adopted when it decided to close the proceedings to the public.
Col. Warren V. Rock, who conducted the hearing, began studying the bulky transcript of the six weeks of testimony to prepare his ruling.

Most of the final day of the hearing was taken by closing arguments of prosecution and defense attorneys.
As MacDonald left the wooden frame building in which the hearing was held, he said he was "relieved it's all over."
"But at the same time," he said, "I'm still not completely relieved because now I have to go back to my room and sit and wait for a decision."
Segal said Capt. Clifford L. Somers, the prosecution's chief attorney, presented the prosecution's contention of the motive for the slayings.
He said Somers told the hearing he had reconstructed the events of the slayings from physical evidence at the scene, including the fact that blood apparently belonging to the victims was found outside the rooms where they would have been killed according to MacDonald's account.

Segal said Somers argued that when MacDonald started to go to bed, he found one of the children—Kristen, 2—had crawled into bed with his wife and had wet one side of the bed.
The prosecution argued, Segal said, that MacDonald took Kristen to her bed in a separate bedroom and told his wife, Mrs. Colette MacDonald, 26, she would have to sleep on the living room couch.
Segal said Somers told the hearing that an argument began over who would sleep on the couch, that Mrs. MacDonald slapped her husband and that he slapped her back.

Segal said Somers argued that Mrs. MacDonald picked up a knife and that MacDonald got a piece of wood and "in a blind, fantastic, mindless rage", fatally injured her.
Segal said Somers argued that MacDonald killed his oldest daughter, Kimberly, 6, when she was awakened by the noise and came into the master bedroom.
Segal said Somers contended that MacDonald then decided he must kill Kristen and invent a story about mysterious intruders to cover up the truth.
Military police who arrived at MacDonald's Ft. Bragg home in response to his telephoned plea for help found the house in disarray and MacDonald suffering from several stab wounds, one of which pierced a lung.

MacDonald said he had gone to sleep on the couch after finding that Kristen had wet his side of his and his wife's bed and after carrying her to her own bed.
MacDonald said he was awakened by cries and saw three men and a blonde girl wearing a floppy hat standing at the foot of the couch.
He said the men attacked him while the girl murmured: "Acid is groovy. Kill the pigs." Acid is a slang term for the hallucinatory drug LSD.

When investigators arrived, they found the word "pig" scrawled in blood on the headboard of the MacDonald's bed and a back door swinging open.
A knife was found on the master bedroom floor and other weapons believed used in the slayings—a knife, an ice pick and a club—were found outside the house.
MONEY HERS
LENNOX, Calif. (AP)—Marie Colmer told sheriff's deputies she found $3,300 in the pockets of a pair of pants she found on her front lawn.
Friday, more than 90 days had passed without anyone claiming the money so Mrs. Colmer, a 64-year-old widow, became legal owner.

Agnew Stalks So-Called Troubadors Of Trouble

By WALTER R. MEARS
AP Political Writer
PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — Vice President Spiro T. Agnew resumes his political safari today, stalking such quarry as "the troubadors of trouble," the "covey of confused congressmen," the "vicars of vacillation"—and, above all, the elusive radical liberals.

primarily in behalf of William Raggio, 43, the Reno district attorney challenging Democratic Sen. Howard W. Cannon. The administration urged Raggio to make that race, and Agnew himself was one of the recruiters. Two days of congressional campaigning in three states have produced a stream of alliterative phrases describing the politicians the vice president is challenging. Virtually all, of course, are Democrats. But Agnew said there may be a Republican or two among the members of Congress he calls radical liberals. He has made politicians in that category a special target of scorn but refused to name any. Agnew has denounced "professional pessimists ... nattering nabobs of negativism ... pusillanimous pussyfooting." He refused to say whether he or his traveling speechwriters—two have been assigned by the White House—coin such phrases.

It doesn't make any difference who writes such a line, Agnew said, since he is the man who approves it and utters it on the campaign platform. He does it without a hitch, even though some of the phrases seem a bit tongue twisting as in "hopeless hysterical hypochondriacs of history." Agnew said he refused to identify those he considers radical liberals because it is too early in the campaign to start dealing in personalities. He said he would name names later. "The radical liberal can be depended upon to vote against the interest of law and order and against the interests of a representative society and against the foreign policy of the United States virtually every time," Agnew said. Agnew said in his judgement 10 to 15 members of the Senate are at times radical liberals because of the positions they take. "Now on a steady basis, looking at them day after day ... it would be even less, maybe as few as seven or eight senators," he said. "I would think there may be a Republican or two in there." So far, Agnew has spent two days campaigning in Illinois, Wyoming and California, and two days relaxing in Palm Springs. The goldeneye duck is commonly called the "whistler" because of the whirring noise made by its wings.

N.C. To Sell Sixteen Dogs

RALEIGH (AP) — The North Carolina Purchase and Contract Division will sell to the highest bidders at 1 p.m. Tuesday 16 German Shepherd dogs belonging to the state Correction Department. "Some of the dogs are vicious and some are getting old," said George Randall, assistant correction commissioner. The Correction Department uses dogs at Odum Prison in Northampton County and some other prison units in the state. Randall said the dog breeding program at Odum is so prolific "we occasionally have surplus dogs and offer them for sale about once a year." He added the 16 dogs being sold Tuesday are at Odum near Jackson and can be seen by prospective buyers. The German Shepherds range in age from three to 11 years old. Randall said the dogs are used for riot control and patrol.

The Daily Reflector, Greenville, N.C.—Monday, September 14, 1970—7

The North Carolina poultry market today had an adequate supply for a good, ready-to-cook demand. Weights generally desirable. Live, at-farm price on broilers and fryers, 12½ cents per pound. Hens, offerings of all weights adequate, demand fair. Heavy hens, at farm, 8½-9; light type, at farm, 4.
NEW YORK (AP) — Stock market prices stumbled downward this morning in moderate trading.
At 11 a.m. the Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks had slipped 4.58 points to 757.26.
Declining issues held a moderate lead over gainers.
Analysts said the market's activity continued to show the erosion of investor confidence that began last week, the first break in the three-week rally that began in mid-August and sent the Dow up 64 points. They said the situation in the Middle East was contributing to investor uneasiness, especially since peace hopes there seem to be receding.

Lifting Hickory Curfew

HICKORY, N.C. (AP) — Mayor Julian J. Whitener said today he was lifting a nighttime curfew that had been in effect for six nights at Hickory because of racial unrest.

In a proclamation which banned the curfew and ended the prohibition of liquor sales, Whitener said a state of emergency "does not now seem to exist" in the Hickory area.

He imposed the curfew and the ban on sales of alcoholic beverages last Tuesday after about 200 Negro youths walked out of Hickory High School.

The Negroes were upset over the temporary suspension from school of three black cheerleaders who took the field during a football game the previous Friday night to dramatize demands that blacks be added to the school's cheerleading squad.

Negroes clashed briefly with police after the girls were ordered off the field. During that weekend there were several incidents of vandalism downtown. Several small fires were reported at schools during last week and a Negro maid at a school has been arrested for unlawful burning.

Police said they made 89 arrests for curfew violations during the six nights.

Find Thirteen Typhoon Victims

CASIGURAN, Philippines (AP) — Search teams recovered the bodies of 13 more victims of Typhoon (Georgia) today raising the known dead to 54 with at least 100 missing and feared lost.

The typhoon which devastated this town of 13,000 persons and two nearby coastal villages before veering out to sea three days ago packed winds of 100 miles per hour.

Georgia has begun to die out over the South China Sea about 70 miles east of Hong Kong.

Former Medics Are Graduated

SEATTLE (AP) — Fourteen men were in the first class graduated Sunday in a pioneer program aimed at converting former military medical corpsmen into physicians' aides.

The University of Washington program provided three months of instruction and a year of on-the-job training with their supervising physicians.

Under the program, called Medex, the corpsmen's medical background is expanded to free physicians from routine duties.

Ground Broken For New Church

A ground breaking service for a new church building for Red Oak Christian Church was held yesterday on the building site on the U.S. 264 Bypass here.

The morning worship service immediately before the ground breaking was presided over by the pastor of Red Oak, the Rev. Kenneth Moore, and Dr. Charles E. Dietze, North Carolina executive minister for the Disciples of Christ Church, who brought the morning message entitled, "We Build This House."

James Sydney Allen, chairman of the Church Board, Charles Allen Sr., chairman of the Finance Committee, and J. T. Manning Jr., chairman of the building committee, led the group in the ground breaking with comments describing the new building made by Manning.

The structure will include a sanctuary with Sunday School wings on either side. Construction will begin next week, Manning said.

Other participants in the service were Sam Winchester, chairman of the Elders; Mrs. Leota Tyson, chairman of the Board of Trustees, Charles Jackson, chairman of Deacons; Bob Beardsworth, Sunday School superintendent; Waddell Manning, president of the Christian Men's Fellowship; Mrs. Rubelle Goin, chairman of the Evangelism committee; Mrs. Rena Manning, Christian Education chairman; Miss Dianne Manning, Junior Fellowship president; Miss Faye Manning, president of the Christian Youth Fellowship and Chi-Rho; Claude Manning, property chairman; Mrs. Jean Garris, Christian Women's Fellowship president; and Mrs. Lou Joyner, chairman of Deaconesses.

Mrs. Onan Allen, who has been a Red Oak member since 1906, represented members of the church 70 years old and older.

Red Oak was organized on April 15, 1871 with 11 charter members, the membership is now 191.

Report Tremor In Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES (AP) — An earthquake of 3.2 magnitude on the Richter scale, "centered somewhere in the southwest Los Angeles area," was recorded at 4:57 a.m. today, the California Institute of Technology seismology laboratory said.

No damage was reported. Three tremors shook Southern California Saturday, the strongest registering between 4.5 and 5 on the Richter scale.

An undersea quake 20 miles off the coast here jostled several Northern California communities Sunday.

The 1906 San Francisco quake registered 8.3 on the Richter scale and the 1964 Alaska quake 8.4.

Interrupted To Warn Of Fire

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Bruce Williams, 17, the altar boy, interrupted Sunday morning services at St. Mary's Episcopal cathedral when he laid down an eight-foot-tall cross and ran from the church.

He is credited with saving five lives.

Bruce said he was daydreaming. When he looked out a window and saw a house with flames coming out the roof.

A second acolyte, Chris Canon, "put down that thing that lights the candles" and trotted along with Bruce, their robes flowing.

Firemen said Bruce ran into the burning house, shouting, "Fire!" Five tenants who had not noticed the smoke were roused and left the structure.

Use Lake As A Laboratory

PEORIA, Ill. (AP) — Illinois State Water Survey scientists are using Peoria Lake as a natural laboratory for water quality studies to determine chemical and biological properties causing the absence of algae.

The 13-mile long expansion of the Illinois River in the central part of the state is an ideal study area because its condition has been recorded periodically for over 17 years.

Scientists have noted a significant difference between data collected now and that on record of 10 years ago. The lake now has very few blue-green algae growing in it although parts of the lake seemed to be permanently occupied by aquatic plants.

Although algae are a nuisance since they lower water quality by affecting its taste, odor and recreational use, they hasten eutrophication—the natural aging of lakes.

"If we can find a reasonable relationship between what our laboratory studies predict and what naturally occurs, we'll be fairly confident about what influences algae growth," said Ralph L. Evans, director of the project.

Only Two Unbeaten After Southern Conf. Openers

By MARSHALL JOHNSON
Associated Press Writer

The Southern Conference wound up its first weekend of the 1970 campaign with just two of its six season-opening football teams unbeaten — and the list by this time next week mostly likely will be down to zero.

Virginia Military Institute's

Keydets snapped a 12-game losing streak dating back to 1968 with a 13-0 victory over Furman's Paladins in the only league game Saturday. But the Keydets run headlong into Rice in a night game this Saturday at Dallas, Tex.

The surprise winner in four nonleague games was Richmond. The Spiders, showing why they're a logical choice to win the conference championship, trounced North Carolina State of the Atlantic Coast Conference 21-6. But come Saturday afternoon they have to face powerful West Virginia.

William and Mary's Indians can tell the Spiders a little about the Mountaineers, who've December's Tangerine Bowl, don't open their season until Sept. 26 when they invade Richmond for a night game.

"They did a real good job for an inexperienced, young team," said Richmond coach Frank Jones of his Spiders, who — except for an intercepted pass and two fumbles — might have beaten N.C. State's Wolfpack much worse. Penalties helped greatly on two of Richmond's scoring drives.

The interception set up a State touchdown on the first play of the second quarter, but All-play like that can depress a team."

Halfback Buddy Woodle ran for 101 yards in 25 carries, including a 37-yard TD run that set up his own three-yard TD run in the second quarter.

And Richmond's defensive unit stopped State four times inside the 25-yard line, never letting the Wolfpack get closer than the 20 on their own, while setting up one score on Ray Easterling's pass interception.

Quarterback Murphy Sprinkel ran for 89 yards and one touchdown and Don Cupit kicked field goals of 42 and 34 yards as VMI finally broke into the victory column and temporarily took over the conference lead.

ed Furman to 99 yards in total offense.

"We missed several opportunities to put away the game early," said VMI coach Vito Ragazzo, whose Keydets lost three fumbles inside the Furman 25, one into the end zone. "We blew some chances, but we were real happy with the win."

Added Ragazzo: "It was a welcome relief from a long drought."

There wasn't much to cheer about at The Citadel, William and Mary and East Carolina — and things don't get much better this week.

William and Mary has a Friday night date with Miami in the Orange Bowl, while Saturday night contests have The Citadel at Vanderbilt and East Carolina at home against East Tennessee. Furman, which now has lost eight in a row, tackles Presbyterian at home Saturday night.

Tailback Bod Duncan led The Citadel on three sweeps into Clemson territory, but the Tigers halted the Bulldogs on the 11, the 12 and the 22 as they failed to generate a scoring punch.

Clemson quarterback Tommy Kendrick hit on 9 of 17 passes for 122 yards and two touchdowns and fullback Ray Yauger scored the other one as he ran for 81 yards on 19 carries.

The defeat at Toledo spoiled the college coaching debut of former Duke All-American Mike McGee at East Carolina. The Pirates were stopped two and five yards short of the goal and got their only score the second time on a safety.

Toledo, which now has won 12 straight, got 105 yards in 16 carries from fullback Charlie Cole and held a 28-0 lead with 14 minutes left in the first half before coasting the rest of the way. Les Strayhorn gained 110 yards in 17 carries for the Pirates.

Powerful West Virginia ran up 623 yards in total offense, one yard short of the school record, in routing William and Mary. The Indians' lone score came on a 51-yard run in the fourth quarter by junior halfback Phil Mosser. Pete Wood scored twice for the Mountaineers.

Intrepid Seen Sure Thing In America's Cup

By SID MOODY
NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) — Sportings' oldest monopoly resumes Tuesday and it is hard to find anyone who doesn't expect more of the same — another hum sailover for the United States in the America's Cup competition.

Many think Intrepid, only the second boat picked twice to defend the cup, will win the best-of-seven race series in four straight over the Australian challenger Gretel II.

One of his entourage reported Sir Frank Packer, head of the Aussie syndicate, as feeling bullish about his boat's chances.

But match racing such as for the America's Cup is a battle of billboards, design, space age technology, crew selection and organization, helmsmanship, sailing tactics and luck.

Intrepid showed herself a winning combination of all of these in her somewhat surprising victory over Valiant in the elimination trials. Valiant was the 1970 product of the genius of designer Olin Stephens who also designed Intrepid which soundly defeated Australia's Dame Pattie in the 1967 challenge.

Valiant was believed to have been an improved refinement on Intrepid but Intrepid proved that life can begin again at age three after having nautical face lifting by 30-year-old designer Britton Chance Jr.

The intriguing question thus resulted — how much of Intrepid was Stephens and how much Chance?

"Ninety eight per cent Chance," quipped the young designer.

Gretel II, designed by Alan Payne, was not all that much of superboat in trial runs against the original Gretel which lost to Weatherly in 1962. Yet Gretel II handily defeated France 4-0 in an elimination series last month against the French challenger. And France was supposedly an improvement over Chancegger, built as a trial horse for her and designed by Chance himself. So what does all that prove? Who knows and that's what makes yacht racing.

There's a 98 per cent chance though that the matter will be settled not long after Tuesday's start. If Intrepid starts moving away right from the gun as she did against Dame Pattie, the bookies might as well close up shop and go home. If Gretel II does the moving on the other hand, a lot of eyebrows will be lifted in Newport and a lot of beer steins in Australia.

Both yachts were out Sunday in a brisk southerly, Intrepid with Bill Ficker at the helm and Gretel II with her 37-year old skipper, Jim Hardy.

Ficker, a 42-year old California architect, says he is not thinking about winning or losing. "I just concentrate on organization and sailing the boat."

Some Fears Dispelled As Tar Heels Trip Kentucky

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Some preseason football fears were dispelled this weekend as Atlantic Coast Conference football teams moved into action for the first time this year.

There had been some concern at Chapel Hill that Kentucky's defense against the rush would be so strong that Carolina would have to have an excellent passing game if it were going to start the 1970 season with a win.

It turned out the fears at UNC were unnecessary. The Tar Heels topped Kentucky 20-10, and not many passes were needed.

One of the main reasons the passing was the bread-and-butter was Don McCauley, who ran against the defense for 102 yards in the first half. He added another 58 yards in the second half to collect 160 of the Tar Heels' total 284 yards.

A second worry for coach Bill Dooley had been kicking. He advertised for a specialist earlier on the campus and it paid off. Kicker Ken Craven provided field goals of 28 and 44 yards, the first and second of his brief career.

In other weekend action, Virginia tripped rival Virginia Tech, 7-0; Clemson downed The Citadel, 24-0; Nebraska rolled pass Wake Forest, 36-12; Florida nipped Duke, 21-19; Georgia Tech slipped by South Carolina, 23-20; Villanova whipped Maryland, 21-3 and Richmond ripped North Carolina State, 21-6.

The ninth-ranked Cornhuskers of Nebraska combined some top-flight passing by quarterback

Jerry Taguee with sleek running to overpower the Deacons of Wake Forest.

Wake managed only one touchdown, and that came in the final minute of the game. Their other scores came from a first-quarter field goal and a safety in the second period.

Villanova took advantage of three Maryland fumbles for three touchdowns Saturday at College Park, Md. One of the fumbles was recovered in the end zone. Maryland's only threat came during the second

Easy Win In Capital City

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — It's doubtful Richard Petty will win many NASCAR Grand National stock car races as easily as he took the Capital City 500.

The veteran Randleman, N.C., driver started from the pole position Sunday and was in front for 487 of the 500 laps as he coasted to victory by two and three laps, respectively, over the brother team of Bobby and Donnie Allison of Hueytown, Ala.

Petty, driving a 1970 Plymouth averaged 81.4697 miles per hour on the .542-mile Fairgrounds Raceway to beat out Dodge-driving Bobby and Ford-driving Donnie.

NASCAR point leader Bobby Isaac of Catawba, N.C., was fourth in a 1969 Dodge, a lap behind Donnie Allison, and two 1969 Ford drivers, Sonny Hutchins of Richmond, Va., and Bennie Parsons of Ellerbe, N.C., finished fifth and sixth, respectively.

Petty led the first four laps, fell behind Donnie Allison from the fifth through the 153rd laps, led again until the 153rd when Dick Brooks of Spartanburg, S.C., went in front for two laps, then took over again on the 155th and was never headed.

Johnny Halford of Spartanburg, S.C., was involved in the only two caution flags. He spun out and caused a slowdown for six laps, then blew the engine on his car later to cause another five-lap slowdown.

Britisher Ends A Golden Era

By BLOYS BRITT
AP Auto Racing Writer

The golden era of Team McLaren's domination of road racing in North America came to an end in the red clay hills of Georgia Sunday.

The driver who did it was 38-year-old Tony Dean, a Britisher whose 182-cubic inch Porsche Spyder 908 shouldn't even have been racing against the likes of the 600-horsepower McLaren-Chevrolts.

Dean, a balding veteran of many European courses, mostly in small machinery, happened to be the guy who was sitting in the right position at the right time as the more powerful contenders dropped out one by one in a wreck-marred Canadian-American Challenge Cup race at the new Road Atlanta Circuit 40 miles northeast of Atlanta.

The Britisher romped home to collect $16,450 from the $61,500 purse—the largest payday of his career—and end Team McLaren's string of Can-Am victories at 19. A McLaren team car hadn't lost in the million dollar series since Oct. 13, 1968, and they had won the series title three times in a row.

Al Unser, gaining his seventh victory of the season and already with more than $360,000 in the bank, beat off A.J. Foyt's challenge to romp home ahead of the pack in a 100-mile championship race at Indianapolis Fairgrounds Saturday.

The victory gave Indianapolis 500 winner Unser a 2,100-point lead in his quest for his first USAC driving title. There is only a mathematical chance that anyone will stop him.

Unser averaged 97.944 miles per hour, a track record, in finishing well ahead of Ralph Ligouri. Foyt was third, Sammy Sessions fourth and Mike Mosley fifth.

NASCAR's Capital City 500-mile Grand National race at Richmond, Va. Sunday. He completed the 500 miles in a Plymouth at an average speed of 81.469 m.p.h. and was two laps ahead of second-placer Bobby Allison's Dodge at the finish.

Third place went to Donnie Allison in a Ford and fourth to the Dodge of Bobby Isaac, who increased his slim lead over James Hylton for the NASCAR driving title.

Dean's win at Road Atlanta came after four separate early leaders either wrecked or ran off the new 2.52-mile course.

Denis Hulme, who had posted three Can-Am victories as the No. 1 Can-Am driver, wrecked while leading on the ninth lap. Pete Revson, the New York sportsman driver, and George Eaton, a Canadian department store heir, suffered the same fate while they held the advantage later.

Danny Murtaugh and Steve Blass were just a handshake away—when Matty Alou let the Chicago Cubs slip through his fingers.

Alou, Pittsburgh's usually sure-handed center fielder, muffed a fly ball with two out in the ninth inning Sunday and the Cubs went on to kayo Blass and score two quick runs for a 3-2 victory that tightened the three-team scramble for the National League's elusive East Division title.

The sudden turnabout carried the third-place Cubs within one game of the first place Pirates and within one-half game of the runner-up New York Mets, who lost 5-4 to St. Louis on Joe Torre's 13th inning homer. It also caught Murtaugh, the Pirates' manager, with his hand outstretched.

"To tell you the truth," he said, "I was stepping out of the dugout to shake Steve's hand." Blass led 2-1 and was one out away from a five-hit victory when Alou dropped pinch-hitter Willie Smith's short fly for a two-base error. Don Kessinger laced a run-scoring single on the next pitch to tie the game, took second on Glenn Beckert's first-pitch single—which finished the shaken Blass—and scored the winner on Billy Williams' second-pitch single off reliever George Brunet.

"I should have caught the ball," said Alou, fighting back tears in the Pirates' quiet clubhouse. "I knew the wind was blowing in, but I should have caught the ball."

"I'm not about to criticize Matty," said Blass, who wound up with his 12th loss in 21 decisions.

Elsewhere, San Diego stunned Cincinnati's runaway West Division leader for the third straight time, 5-4; Los Angeles downed San Francisco 5-3 in 10 innings; Montreal topped Philadelphia 4-2 and Houston drubbed Atlanta 10-6.

In the American League, Baltimore bounced Boston 13-2; the Chicago White Sox upended Minnesota 8-7; California shamed Milwaukee 2-1; Cleveland beat the New York Yankees 3-1; Washington smothered Detroit 10-0 and Kansas City swept an extra-inning doubleheader from Oakland, 8-7 in 11 innings and 8-7 in 12.

Leo Durocher was in a jovial mood after his Cubs' come-from-behind victory, exclaiming: "I'm more glad we won it that way than if we'd won it 10-0. What a lift it gives the club."

"We've won some like that and we've lost some," said Murtaugh, "but we've always bounced back."

"Ours was as difficult to lose as theirs," Mets Manager Gil Hodges said in New York after his club blew a chance to grab the division lead. "We went 13 innings."

Torre, who had struck out three times, won it for St. Louis with a leadoff homer in the 13th off Ron Herbel, the Mets' fourth pitcher.

St. Louis relievers Nelson Briles, Frank Bertina and Frank Linzy, the winner, combined to retire the last 22 Met batters in order after a sixth-inning single by Cleon Jones.

Joe Hague drove in the Cards' first four runs with a homer and a single.

Pete Rose's 14th home game gave the Reds a 4-3 lead in the eighth inning at San Diego, but the Padres bounced back in their half on a two-run pinch-double by Larry Stahl and took the season series 10-8.

Tom Halter pinch-hit a three-run homer in the 10th, breaking a 1-1 deadlock at San Francisco, and the Dodgers, ending a five-game-losing streak, added another run before the Giants rallied for a pair in the bottom of the inning.

The Expos scored twice in the eighth on Rusty Staub's single, a fielder's choice, a throwing error by pitcher Joe Hoerner and Ron Brand's sacrifice fly to break a 2-2 tie and hand the Phillies their fifth-straight setback.

Cesar Nenedo's two-run double and two Atlanta errors keyed a six-run first inning burst that carried the Astros past the Braves.

Action And Viewpoint In Debut Of New Series

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — "The Senator," a new segment of NBC's tripartite series "The Bold Ones," made its debut Sunday night with an action story combined with a point of view.

Hal Holbrook plays a dream senator—wide, brave, middle-of-the-road, happily married, concerned and understanding of problems of the day. In the premiere the senator was booked for a speech at a college where there had been student unrest. He planned to speak on "the uses of dissent" and received an anonymous telephone threat on his life if he filled the date.

actors were rehearsing a musical play based on the life of actor-writer-producer George M. Cohan. They would talk a bit about the man and then slide into the song and dance numbers.

None of the characters seemed to be even remotely real, not even Joel Gray in the title role. Some of the dancing and singing numbers were attractive and Gray was a joy to watch when he danced. Generally, it was a lumbering vehicle used as a peg for another of those "... and then he wrote ..." tributes of the sort Ed Sul-ivan does in a no-nonsense way from time to time.

Sunday evening's "Just Friends" on ABC looked like a Smothers Brothers hour without the Smothers. Most impressive was a young singing find named Jennifer Warren. A number of ex-Smothers characters were involved, including Pat Paulsen who was stuck in a couple of comedy sketches that didn't work, John Hartford and Mason Williams. The brothers were sorely needed.

Recommended tonight: The Red Skelton Show, NBC, 7:30-8 EDT, the comedian's shorter show on a new network.

Police Probe Beating Case

Greenville police today are continuing their investigation into an incident in which an East Carolina University student was allegedly assaulted by a Negro near Rose High School Saturday afternoon.

Investigators reported that Tom Bringham, a resident of Aycock Dorm was treated at Pitt Memorial Hospital for injuries to his face and neck received in the attack.

Bringham was quoted as saying he was walking along Elm Street near Rose High when approached by three Negroes. The tallest, Bringham explained, grabbed him and beat him about the face and neck while the other two watched. The beating stopped, he told officers, when one of the two onlookers said "That's enough. We've hurt him enough."

The incident reportedly occurred about 2 p.m.

Honorary Degree For Ex-Mayor

DAVIDSON, N.C. (AP) — Former Atlanta mayor Ivan Allen, Jr. was to receive an honorary doctor of laws degree today from Davidson College.

The head of the newly created Police Development Fund, which is supported by the Ford Foundation, Allen claims to have established "the best racial climate in America" in Atlanta while he headed that city's government.

He was scheduled to receive the degree after giving a convocation address on urban problems.

N.C. Counts 16 Highway Deaths

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS killed on North Carolina highways over the weekend, including four pedestrians who were hit by oncoming vehicles. The weekend deaths brought the toll for the year to 1,133 persons, compared with 1,230 at the same time last year, the patrol said.

The pedestrian victims, killed in separate accidents, were three men and a girl. The patrol said Thomas C. Spears, 25, of Rt. 1, Wilkesboro, was killed while walking on U.S. 421 four miles west of his home town. He was hit by a car, troopers reported.

Michell Fulford, a two-year-old, was killed when she was hit by a car on a road near her Englehard home. Troopers said the Hyde County accident occurred when the tot ran into the path of a car.

Billy Jacob Beasley, 38, of Rt. 3, Benson was killed when a vehicle hit him on N. C. 210 about 15 miles west of Smithfield. William Pinnex, 17, of Reidsville, was killed, the patrol reported, when he was struck by a vehicle on N. C. 14 one mile north of his home town.

A car went out of control on a dirt road and overturned into a river near Durham late Saturday, killing three teen-agers. They were identified as Carl Carter, 16, of Roxboro; Lee Ray Ellis, 19, and William Clements Jr., 17, both of Bahama.

The patrol also reported these victims: Charles D. Thigpen, 37, of Rt. 2, Trenton, who was killed when his car veered off a rural road, slammed into a bridge railing and turned over six miles west of his home town. Wendell Jones, 19, of Plum Tree, who died when his car was involved in a two-vehicle crash on N.C. 19 in Burke County.

Lawrence Daniel Jones, 28, of Rt. 1, Smithfield, who was killed on U.S. 70 a mile west of Smithfield when his car turned over. James William Conaway, 35, who died of injuries suffered when his car ran off N. C. 150 and crashed into a tree about seven miles north of Greensboro. Conaway was from Rt. 2, Summerfield.

Joe Lewis Chambers, 22, of Charlotte, who was killed in a crash in his hometown. William A. Walker, 28, of Rt. 1, Wake Forest, who died when his car overturned on a rural road a mile west of his home town.

Jerry Winger, 15, and James Calvin Harold, 13, both of Rt. 2, North Wilkesboro. The two youths were fatally injured when the car they were riding in overturned on a rural road 17 miles north of North Wilkesboro. William Dean Briggs, 23, of Rt. 1, Burnsville, who died when his car left N. C. 197 and turned over two miles north of Burnsville.

PROMISORY THIEF

Farm Scene

By S.J. WEEKS

Corn affected with Southern Leaf Blight should be harvested as soon as possible to prevent excess lodging or losses, and possible development of other molds on the dead affected tissue which may develop in the grain. Affected corn should be harvested early even if the moisture content is above 25 percent.

Corn affected with the blight will contain more damaged grain and should be thoroughly dried to prevent molds from developing in storage. All affected corn should be dried down to 14 percent moisture content.

Blight affected corn may be dried in the same manner as normal corn, except special attention must be given to foreign material to prevent air blockage which would prevent drying in the blocked area. If corn is above 25-30 percent moisture it should be dried in a batch drier, continuous flow dryer, or drying facilities (such as peanut trailers). Corn above 25-30 percent moisture will tend to stick together and block the air in layer drying. It also contains large quantities of excessive moisture which makes the layer drying extremely slow and impractical.

Drying Methods
1. In Storage (Layer) Drying
This method involves corn to be grain in layers as drying progresses until the bin is full. Each layer must be leveled. A grain spreader helps distribute the foreign material as well as level the corn. If a spreader is not used, dig out some in the center of the bin to distribute the foreign material.

The fan size, quantity of heat used and initial moisture content will determine how fast the bin can be filled. Extra heat speeds drying but over-dries the corn since the heated air continues to pass through the lower layers until the top layer is dry.

The normal fill rate is about 2-3 feet per day for 20 percent corn and 1-2 feet per day for 25 percent corn. This may be added in daily fills or in larger batches every 3-4 days.

The normal heat used is a 20 degree heat at night and no heat during fair days. Extra heat may be used for the first few feet to speed drying, but the heat should be reduced as the bin is filled.

2. Batch Drying
Batch drying may be done in a grain bin, special batch driers or other facilities such as a peanut drying trailer. Batch drying involves drying a shallow layer of 8 inches to 4 feet. When the layer reaches the desired average moisture it is cooled and removed before another batch or layer is added.

The heat used depends on the thickness of the layer. The deeper the layer the less heat is used so as not to scorch the corn nearest the heat before the remaining corn dries. Normal temperatures are 140 degree for 3-4 ft. layer in a grain bin and 160-180 degree for shallow layer in a batch drier.

High moisture corn may be partially batch dried in a bin to remove most of the moisture then layer dried to complete drying. This would speed up the batch drying process.

3. Continuous Flow
This type of drier uses special handling equipment. The corn is constantly being stirred and moved. Temperatures of 180-200 degree are used.

4. Storage
As soon as corn is dried it should be thoroughly cooled. Then operate the fan as the weather cools until all corn is cooled to 50 degrees or below. This chilling time will require 15-20 hours of fan operation for a drying fan or 150 hours of operation for an aeration fan. After corn is chilled operate fan at least every two weeks to keep grain chilled to prevent sweating and insect activity.

Tobacco TIPS

By SAM J. WEEKS

The use of suitable crop rotation will improve the yield and equality of tobacco. Residues, such as Fescue, small grains, weeds, etc., improve the soil structure, the water penetration, and slightly improve the organic matter. Rotation aid in the control of some soil-borne diseases, especially nematodes. However, four to eight years is required to give complete nematode control, depending upon whether a two, three, or four year rotation is used.

Fescue is one of the best crops to use in a tobacco rotation. It can be seeded alone or can be interplanted with small grain. For best results, it should occupy the soil for two growing seasons; however, if only a two-year rotation can be managed on your farm, it can occupy the soil for one growing season with good results.

Research studies have shown that an acre of tobacco grown in a three-year rotation with two years of fescue will produce $210 per acre more than when tobacco is grown continuously.

A good seedbed should be prepared before seeding fescue. If your tobacco stubbles have been plowed out for a period of two to three weeks, you can begin preparing your seedbed immediately. This can be done by disking the bedded tobacco fields and smoothing with a smoothing harrow. The fescue should be seeded at the rate of 20 lbs. per acre and should be seeded between September 15 and October 30.

There are crops other than fescue that have also given good results in a tobacco rotation. For best results include crops in your rotation that are resistant to one or more of the three types of nematodes present on most tobacco farms. Do not include crotalaria and other legumes immediately before tobacco in your rotation.

Some progress has been made in the R-6-P (Reduce 6 Pests) Campaign in Pitt County. However, there is still a large percentage of the tobacco stubbles that have not been plowed out. Let's make Pitt County a 100 percent R-6-P participation county this year. If you have not performed this important practice on your farm, right now is the time to start.

Smoking War Unsuccessful With Young

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Former U.S. Surgeon General Luther L. Terry says the war on cigarettes that has helped 13 million adult Americans quit the habit is less than a success among the young.

"Compared with our adult population we are not achieving a corresponding decrease in the numbers of young people who are either deciding not to smoke or deciding to quit," Dr. Terry told 350 physicians, government officials and educators Friday at the closing session of the First National Conference on Smoking and Health.

"We must be ever more aggressive in involving young people in our programs," said Terry, now chairman of the National Interagency Council on Smoking and Health.

Earlier, Dr. Daniel Horn, whose 1953 report on cancer and cigarettes touched off the war against smoking, told the conference a four-year survey just completed shows more than 13 million Americans have become non-smokers since 1966.

NCCU Dean On UN Delegation

DURHAM, (AP)—Dr. Helen G. Edmonds, dean of the graduate school at North Carolina Central University, has been appointed a member of the U.S. delegation to the United Nations by President Nixon.

NCCU President Albert N. Whiting announced the appointment Saturday night at the school's annual faculty banquet ending the faculty institute.

Dr. Edmonds joined the North Carolina College faculty in 1941. She was named graduate professor of history in 1948 and became chairman of the history department in 1963 then dean of the graduate school in 1964.

There's only one way you can get V.D.

And it's not from contact with toilet seats. The only way you can get venereal disease is through intimate sexual contact with an infected person. It is estimated that one American teenager gets V.D. every two minutes. And passes it on, often unknowingly, to others. When V.D. strikes, it can cripple, blind, cause sterility, insanity and even death.

For information about V.D., contact your local health department or the North Carolina State Board of Health, P.O. Box 2091, Raleigh, North Carolina 27602. Don't ignore the facts about V.D. Don't let your life turn into something ugly. The more you take care of your health now, the less you'll need our care later.

We believe there's more to good health than just paying bills.

GOREN ON BRIDGE

BY CHARLES H. GOREN
(c 1970: By The Chicago Tribune)

ANSWERS TO BRIDGE QUIZ

Q. 1—North-South vulnerable. As South you hold:

♠K87532 ♥63 ♣KJ974

The bidding has proceeded: North East South West

1 ♠ Pass 1 ♠ Pass

2 ♠ Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—Four spades. Now that spades have been raised, your hand has become worth 14 points (becoming one for the fifth spade and two for the sixth). No further pressure should be placed on partner.

Q. 2—North-South vulnerable. As South you hold:

♠AK103 ♥5 ♦AJ1094 ♣A86

The bidding has proceeded: South West North East

1 ♠ Pass 1 NT Pass

2 ♠ Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—Two spades. This hand is technically a shade short of the requirements for a reverse which normally shows 19 points but all your points are of "top drawer" quality and you have very good intermediate cards. Furthermore, there is no satisfactory alternative rebid.

Q. 3—Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠A32 ♥KQ2 ♦J107 ♣K1032

The bidding has proceeded: East South West North

1 ♠ Pass Pass 2 ♦

Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—Two no trump. Any stronger bid would be highly indiscreet. Partner has merely reopened the bidding and his action may have been dictated by a reluctance to permit the opposition to buy the contract at such a bargain price. If he does hold sound values your call will induce him to bid further.

Q. 4—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠J ♣AKQ109 ♦AJ87652

The bidding has proceeded: South West North East

1 ♠ Pass 1 NT Pass

3 ♥ Pass 3 NT Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—The normal procedure at this point would be to rebid the hearts thus showing five hearts and at least six diamonds. However, we feel that a rebid of four diamonds may produce better results on this particular hand for if partner is able to raise to five, we can bid a slam with a reasonable assurance of making it. A rebid of four hearts may induce partner to pass with some mediocre hand containing fair diamond support.

Q. 5—East-West vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠K105 ♥63 ♦A5432 ♣J102

The bidding has proceeded: North East South

1 ♥ Dble. ?

What do you bid?

A.—One no trump. On hands of this type, it is advisable to get into the bidding while it is convenient to show partner that you are in possession of moderate values. This may enable him to continue the fight if the opposition offers further competition.

Q. 6—Neither vulnerable. The opponents have a 40 point score, and as South you hold:

♠K2 ♥A102 ♦AQ432 ♣1065

Your right hand opponent opens with one spade. What do you bid?

A.—Double. This department does not normally endorse a take-out double of one spade on such meager values, since you are forcing partner to show his suit at the two level. However, considerations of score dictate a strategic bid at this point. While there is definite risk in doubling, if you pass and West raises to two spades, you will then be faced with the dilemma of either permitting the opponents to get vulnerable very cheaply or of forcing partner to bid at the three level.

Q. 7—North-South vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠J10763 ♥Q10754 ♦6 ♣K8

The bidding has proceeded: West North East South

3 ♠ 3 NT Pass ?

What do you bid?

A.—Pass. Don't be a nursemaid. Partner's overall put him strictly on his own. Had he been interested in hearing about the majors, he would have doubled.

Q. 8—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠K73 ♦AJ1063 ♣A9865

The bidding has proceeded: South West North East

1 ♠ Pass 1 ♠ Pass

2 ♣ Pass 3 ♠ Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—Three no trump. While this call is somewhat awkward with a void in partner's suit, no other bid will quite serve the purpose. An 11-trick contract should not be suggested with this minimum opening and a pass, of course, is out of the question since partner's bid is forcing.

Those Between Life And Death Ask Hearing

By BARRY SCHWEID
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Dennis McGautha is served breakfast on a tray but his luxuries end there.

A prison guard shoves the tray through a slot into a four-foot wide cell where McGautha eats his two meals a day alone.

The 44-year-old Negro is one of 89 men in San Quentin's death wing. He's not nearly as famous as Sirhan Bishara Sirhan, a prison neighbor who was convicted of assassinating Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

But the fate of all 89 men and of more than 550 men and three women in death cells across the land may depend on McGautha and on another unknown convict in Columbus, Ohio, named James Crampton.

This fall, probably in early November, the Supreme Court will hear lawyers for McGautha and Crampton argue the death penalty is dealt out in a manner that violates the due process clause of the 14th Amendment to the Constitution.

Should the court disagree, the way will be cleared for what could be one of the grimmest seasons of executions in recent history.

There hasn't been an execution in the United States since June 2, 1967, when Colorado gassed Luis Jose Monge for the murder of his wife and two children.

Even before the rate of executions had been declining and when the Supreme Court agreed three years ago to hear the due process arguments, it had the effect of blocking further executions until a decision is reached.

In the interim the cells filled. At the beginning of 1966 there were 345 men and women under death sentence. A year later the number jumped to 406, in 1968 to 434, and in 1969 to 479.

The McGautha and Crampton appeals do not raise the familiar argument that the death sentence is banned by the eighth amendment's prohibition of "cruel and unusual punishment."

The court heard arguments on that point in March 1969. Characteristically, its decision skirted the issue and set aside the conviction of Edward Boykin, a Mobile, Ala., Negro, on another ground.

Through the years, though, the court has indicated the "cruel and unusual punishment" provision forbids "the infliction of unnecessary pain in the execution of the death sentence" but not the death sentence itself.

Although the death penalty falls hardest on Negroes, McGautha's lawyer, Herman F. Selvin of Beverly Hills, Calif., says he does not intend to present the argument that blacks as a group are victims of racial discrimination.

However, in a friend-of-the-court brief, the NAACP Legal Defense and Educational Fund says the argument must be considered.

Even without the eighth Amendment and racial discrimination arguments, the McGautha and Crampton appeals are broad enough to upset all but a handful of current death sentences.

At San Quentin, McGautha, an itinerant chauffeur who once worked for a Los Angeles judge and actor Peter Lawford is alert to the prospect of making legal history. Lawyer Selvin says he spends much of his time reading accounts of legal decisions and writing to his attorney.

There isn't much else to do. Up at 8 a.m. for breakfast. Mingling with other prisoners from 10:30 a.m. until 2 p.m. in a 200-foot-long walkway in front of the cells—a privilege accorded all 89 condemned men in San Quentin except Sirhan. Locked inside again at 2 p.m. and the second and last meal of the day.

For diversion there is television, radio and books from the prison library.

This has been McGautha's life for three years—ever since a Los Angeles jury first convicted him of murder in the holdup slaying of a grocer, Benjamin Smetana. The same jury sentenced him to death.

It is the sentencing process that Selvin attacks as unconstitutional.

The jury, after finding McGautha guilty, had an alternative. It could have sentenced him to life in prison, the sentence it gave William Wilkinson, a codefendant who held up Smetana's market with McGautha and was also convicted of first degree murder.

Both men testified that the other fired the fatal shot.

"This very case," Selvin argues, "illustrates the capricious and arbitrary way in which the standardless death-penalty procedure may and is permitted by the state of California to work."

"Of two men, equally guilty and jointly tried, only one has been selected by the jury to be put to death."

To be constitutional, according to Selvin, the law must provide standards for the guidance of the jury in the selection of the penalty.

Unless the law indicates the situations in which some men are to be allowed to live and others condemned to die, he says, juries will be free, unconstitutionally, to exercise "absolute discretion."

This, he says, conflicts with the 14th Amendment command that no state "deprive any person of life, liberty, or property, without due process of law."

The same claim will be entered for Crampton by John J. Callahan, a Toledo criminal lawyer, as well as a second argument that could upset about 390 death sentences even if the court rejects the jury-standards contention.

This is that the process of determining whether a defendant is guilty or innocent and the process of fixing a penalty should be separated.

In Ohio as in all states except California, Connecticut, New York, Pennsylvania and Texas, a defendant accused of a capital crime faces a monumental dilemma.

He has the right not to take the stand, thereby protecting himself from the kind of cross-examination that could lead to his conviction. But unless he testifies he can't tell the jury anything that might mitigate his punishment.

Crampton, a 44-year-old Toledo man, was convicted three years ago of killing his wife, Wilma, with her father's revolver.

Crampton spends most of his time reading newspapers and novels. Callahan reported after a visit last Friday: "He's confident that the Supreme Court will rule in his favor."

New Courthouse Is Dedicated

RALEIGH (AP)—Wake County's $6.6 million courthouse was formally dedicated in ceremonies Sunday.

Albert Coates, founder of the Institute of Government at Chapel Hill, termed the new building "a symbol of popular government in action." About 300 persons attended.

Coates was interrupted by applause once when he said: "Extremists of the left and the right, in the ghetto and on the campus, have got to be taught ... that they, too, are under God and the law."
