Guerrillas Given Chance To Surrender

Temporary Cease-Fire Ordered In Jordan War

Golda Is Calling

STATE GREETING — Secretary of State William P. Rogers greets Golda Meir, Israel's Premier, as she arrives today at the State Department for a conference. She will meet later in the day with President Nixon. Between them, at right, is Lt. Gen. Yitzhak Rabin, the Israeli ambassador to the United States. (AP Wirephoto)

By HARRY A. DUNPHY Associated Press Writer BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Field Marshal Habis Majali ordered the Jordanian army to observe a temporary cease-fire today to give guerrilla forces an opportunity to surrender without further bloodshed.

Majali's statement was broadcast by Jordan's official radio from Amman, the capital. The cease-fire order came in the second day of sharp fighting in Jordan. It spread into northern Jordan near the Syrian border during the day. The army claimed it was in control in Amman and the former guerrilla stronghold of Zarqa, 15 miles northeast of Amman.

A military communique said King Hussein's forces controlled 16 Amman districts and were carrying out mopping up operations.

There remained no word about the Wahdat area in the outskirts where 54 hostages from last week's air hijackings are believed held. Neither side has mentioned the hostages in the past two days.

The wording of Marshal Majali's cease-fire order made it clear he was not prepared now to negotiate with the guerrillas on the terms he had offered them on Thursday. King Hussein named Majali to head the Jordanian government on Wednesday. Fighting broke out shortly afterward.

The top guerrilla command rejected Majali's cease-fire offer on Thursday. The terms included acceptance by the guerrillas of an army safe conduct to the front line with Israel, where they could fight "the common enemy."

The broadcast did not state the time limit for the cease-fire. Guerrilla communiques broadcast by radio stations in Syria and Iraq claimed fighting continued in Amman and elsewhere. Bloody clashes were reported during the night.

Guerrilla radio broadcasts said army tank units attacked Palestinian strongholds and that heavy fighting was going on in what the commandos had described earlier as "liberated areas."

The guerrilla broadcasts from Baghdad and Damascus said the tanks launched a three-pronged attack on Ramtha, Tura and El Kassarat, villages controlling the Amman-Damascus highway, the Palestinians' pipeline for supplies from Syria. The government radio in Amman gave no indication of the military situation in its first broadcasts today. It said shortly before midnight the army was in control of Amman and military governor Habis Majali warned the guerrillas that his forces had been holding back their firepower to save lives but could increase their attacks tenfold if the commandos keep fighting. Radio Damascus proclaimed that northern Jordan, from Amman to the Syrian border, was a "liberated area." It delivered an order from guerrilla leader Yasir Arafat naming himself the administrative authority and calling for the resumption of normal activities in the area. Guerrilla spokesmen in Amman told newsmen that hundreds of civilians had been cut down in crossfires between guerrillas and army troops in Amman.

Higher Board Committee Backs ECU Med School

RALEIGH — The executive committee of the State Board of Higher Education today approved a recommendation of the Advisory Committee on Medical Education that recognizes East Carolina University's authorization to establish a two-year school of medicine.

In approving the recommendation, one of eight made by the Advisory Committee for relieving the physician shortage in North Carolina, the executive committee authorized the director to present the findings to the Health Committee of the Legislative Research Commission.

The recommendation of the advisory committee means that the body recognizes the North Carolina General Assembly's 1965, 1967 and 1969 authorization of a two-year medical program at the University.

In addition, the committee recommended that it be recognized "East Carolina University is taking steps toward establishing a two-year medical school; that the three operating medical schools of the state have been advised of the needs of the anticipated students who will complete the two-year medical program at East Carolina University."

The executive committee also approved the segment of the recommendation that recognizes that "administrators of the four-year schools have expressed a desire to cooperate and a willingness to accept, consistent with the admission policy of the respective schools, collectively up to 16 to 20 students from an accredited two-year medical school at ECU."

The recommendation, along with the other seven made, will be presented to Legislative Research Committee as approved by the Advisory and executive committees. Members of the executive committee of the State Board are Gov. Robert Scott, chairman; W. C. Harris Jr., Watts

Sen. Ralph Scott, Maceo Sloan, Mrs. Doris Horton, and Paul Lucas.

Kenneth C. Royall is chairman of the advisory committee. Members are W. C. Harris Jr., member of the Board of Higher Education; Thomas Kinney, director of medical education at Duke University; Manson Meads, vice president for medical affairs at Bowman Gray School of Medicine; Edwin W. Monroe, director of health affairs and Dean of School of Allied Health Professions at ECU; and Isaac M. Taylor, Dean of the School of Medicine at UNC.

Auto Workers Strike Effect Is Snowballing

DETROIT (AP) — The effects of a national strike by the United Auto Workers against General Motors Corp. snowballed as the work stoppage entered its fourth day today.

Michigan, home of about half of the 344,000 men on strike in the United States and Canada, was hardest hit. But other places were beginning to feel the pinch as well.

A General Motors spokesman reported that 3,151 more UAW members at nine of 27 plants which were exempted from strike action by the union were laid off at the end of the second shift Thursday. This brought to 11,998 the number of workers laid off by GM since the start of the work force at the exempted plants.

The 27 plants were exempted because they manufacture parts vital to other automakers. However, since GM is its own parts plants' best customer, production schedules at those plants have been reduced. Ford Motor Co. and Chrysler Corp., whose contracts with the UAW expired along with GM's at midnight Monday, were exempted from the strike and are continuing production.

Clarence Lock, director of the Michigan Department of Revenue, said a lengthy strike could force the legislature to raise the state income tax rate. He said the strike represents a major loss of revenue to the state. Detroit Mayor Roman S.

Gribbs said the strike could have drastic effects on the city's economy if it lasts more than 10 days. He pointed out that the city was suffering from high unemployment before the strike. No new national-level talks in the strike were scheduled until Tuesday. Meanwhile, top union officials are on a national tour, meeting with representatives of the UAW's 155 local-level GM bargaining units to explain strike strategy and to encourage rank-and-file support.

Nunn Not Here

Gov. Louie B. Nunn of Kentucky, who was to speak at a fund-raising dinner for GOP Congressional candidate R. Frank Everett here tonight will be unable to attend because of the death of the Kentucky Secretary of State.

Ballard Everett, the candidate's campaign field coordinator said the dinner will still be held at the Candlewick Inn at 8 p.m. and that a prominent Republican officeholder from North Carolina will speak. The Kentucky official died early this morning.

Toledo Policeman Fatally Shot While In His Patrol Car

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — A policeman was fatally shot early today in his patrol car. A short time later, police said, snipers began firing from the nearby Black Panther headquarters and police surrounded the building and returned fire.

Patrolman William Miscannon was patrolling in the predominantly Negro inner city when slain. His partner, Walter Shaw, said a Negro approached their car, said, "Hey baby, I've got something for you" and fired a pistol through a window into the officer's head. The assailant fled in a car.

Shaw summoned aid and when an ambulance arrived, officers said, the snipers began firing. Shaw was taken to a hospital suffering from shock. Some 30 policemen converged on the scene, lobbed tear gas into the headquarters and flushed several persons from the building who scattered to firing positions in other buildings.

Two persons were shot and wounded as they fled, according to police accounts, and a third was arrested at the scene. Others remained in the building firing early today. J. Melvin McClellan, 26, of Toledo, was arrested nearby and charged with the murder of Miscannon.

Police Chief Anthony Bosch says he does not believe Miscannon's death was instigated by Black Panthers but suspects those firing took advantage of the situation.

He said he was not sure those who opened fire from the Panther headquarters were Panthers. "I have no knowledge that they are yet," he said, "I have a little reason to believe that, but I haven't determined it as of yet."

Ky Isn't Deterred

SAIGON (AP) — A senior aide to Nguyen Cao Ky said today the South Vietnamese vice president is not reconsidering his visit to the United States to attend a "March for Victory" rally, and his decision right now is "irreversible."

"He will tell the American people why we are fighting," said Col. Phan Van Minh, Ky's chief of staff. "He is not reconsidering. He is all set to go. We are working on his speech. All arrangements have been made."

Ky will leave Saigon next Tuesday, stopping off first in Paris where he is the chief of the South Vietnamese delegation to the peace talks. He has boycotted the talks for 18 months. From Paris, Ky is scheduled to fly to the United States, arriving in Washington Oct. 1.

The "March for Victory" rally is scheduled for Oct. 3 in Washington. It is sponsored by the Rev. Carl McIntyre, a fundamentalist radio preacher. Minh's statement that Ky definitely was going ahead with his plans came after he was asked for comment on reports from Washington quoting U.S. officials as saying that Ky may now be reconsidering his visit.

Earlier, key Republican and Democratic senators in Washington advised Ky to stay home and not become involved in American internal politics by speaking at the rally.

Dead Man Is Identified

A man fatally injured in a Wednesday highway mishap was identified yesterday as Weldon Williams of Bear Grass, according to Pitt County Coroner E. W. Harvey.

Williams had been struck by a truck on N.C. 33 East of Pactolus Wednesday afternoon and died in Pitt Memorial Hospital a few hours later. He carried no identification and remained unidentified until late yesterday when identified by a friend who lived near where he was injured.

According to Harvey, Williams lived alone near Bear Grass and had been visiting in the Pactolus area.

Coroner Harvey said Williams was struck by a truck driven by John Rogers of San Antonio, Texas after he stepped onto the roadway into the path of the truck then jumped back onto the shoulder after seeing the vehicle.

By that time, the coroner said, Rogers had swerved to the shoulder of the road to prevent the accident.

The death was ruled accidental.

Warplanes Pound Enemy That Is Blocking Cambodian Force

By JOHN T. WHEELER Associated Press Writer PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP) — Flight after flight of warplanes today pounded the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong troops who have blocked the government's first offensive of the war some 50 miles north of Phnom Penh.

North Vietnamese troops attacked the Cambodian force along Highway 6 Thursday and killed four government soldiers. Enemy soldiers were still operating to the rear of the government's forward line today. Three mortar rounds were reported fired on the Cambodians as more government reinforcements moved in.

The enemy was also reported reinforcing and resupplying. For the first time, the Cambodian command ordered field commanders not to let foreign newsmen cover the action today. No reason was given, but one officer in the town of Skoun said the move might be aimed at preventing foreign journalists from seeing strikes by American jets. No confirmation was available.

Cambodian engineers repaired the last of three bridges destroyed by enemy guerrillas between Skoun and the government forces' forward lines. Field commanders put strong forces around the newly mended bridges to prevent more sabotage.

Sources in Saigon said U.S. bombers were continuing their raids along the highway between the Cambodian troops, strung out for several miles along the road some 50 miles north of Phnom Penh, and the enemy-surrounded city of Kompung Thom, 80 miles north of the capital.

The raids are aimed at blocking North Vietnamese reinforcements and destroying their supplies. The division-size Cambodian task force is being challenged by an enemy force of more than 2,000 men. Some North Vietnamese and Viet Cong troops have moved toward the Cambodians' rear positions and field commanders fear the enemy force might cut off the Cambodians' northward drive aimed at recapturing some of the country's heartland.

The Cambodian spokesman would not speculate on when the government's first major offensive would get moving again. It has been stalled since Monday, when Cambodian forces suffered heavy casualties in fighting at Taing Kauk village.

Twenty to 30 government troops have been reported killed and more than 100 wounded in the 12-day operation. Enemy casualties are not known.

The regular monthly meeting of the Greenville Board of Education will be held Monday night at 8 p.m. at the District Courtroom of the Pitt County Courthouse, (new annex).

Dr. Cleet C. Cleetwood, in announcing the meeting at the courthouse, noted that citizens of Hillsdale-Carolina Heights in southwest Greenville had been asked to be placed on the agenda and had requested a meeting place sufficient to accommodate a sizeable delegation.

Items on the agenda include business related to personnel, school facilities and budget-finances. Special items on the agenda will cover clarification of the status of present litigation and administrative proceedings against the board, report on Emergency School Assistance funds, and special reports and statistics relative to school opening.

$3 Million Prize Still Unclaimed

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Someone in Mexico has become a millionaire three times over, but no one seems to know just who the lucky one is.

Officials drew the winning number in the national lottery Tuesday night, but efforts to find the winner have proved fruitless. The unclaimed prize is 38 million pesos, or $3 million.

Tobacco Prices Holding Steady

Eastern North Carolina flue-cured tobacco prices held fairly steady again yesterday, reports the Federal-State Market News Service.

Some grade averages varied mainly $1 to $2 per hundred compared three-fourths of today's heavy volume consisted of leaf and smoking leaf grades. A total of 1,637,478 pounds of leaf was sold on the Greenville market yesterday for $1,221,753, yielding an average of 74.61.

The Farmville market yesterday averaged $75.54 per hundreds pounds when 588,623 pounds of leaf was sold for $444,637.

"Prices on the Farmville market yesterday were steady to $1 higher per hundred pounds on some grades of quality leaf," reported Louis Williams, sales supervisor for the Farmville market.

Williams reported the volume of sales remained heavy with all warehouses blocked.

A tabulation of sales on the various markets in the Eastern Belt as reported by the Federal-State Market News Service includes:

Senate Electoral Reform Bill 'Still Breathing'

By JOHN CHADWICK Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — "It's still breathing," said Majority Leader Mike Mansfield, after the Senate struck a heavy blow at a constitutional amendment to provide for direct election of the president.

After a 54-36 vote to cut off debate on the proposed amendment—six short of the required two-thirds majority—Mansfield said Thursday tentative plans call for a second attempt next week.

He said no decision will be made before Monday. This will give Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind., chief sponsor of the electoral reform measure, and other supporters a chance to round up more votes.

If a second petition to put the Senate's debate-closing cloture rule into effect is filed Monday, it would come to a vote Wednesday.

Failure to muster a two-thirds majority to choke off debate on a second try likely would be fatal to the proposed amendment, although nothing in the Senate's rules prevent repeated attempts.

Only eight times since the two-thirds rule was adopted in 1917 has the Senate, which prides itself on free debate, voted to apply cloture. The last time was in 1968 on an open housing bill—and that was on the fourth try.

Thursday's vote did not offer much encouragement to supporters of the direct election plan, but some contended it might yet be brought to a vote if more time is allowed for debate.

Of the 54 senators who voted for ending the debate, 33 were Democrats, 21 Republicans. Voting against the move were 18 senators of each party—mostly from Southern and small states.

Ten senators were absent, but even if all 100 had been present, opponents of the debate cut-off move had more than enough votes to block it.

The proposed amendment was approved by the House a year ago today 339 to 70 and has been endorsed by President Nixon.

The amendment would abolish the Electoral College and provide election of a presidential candidate who got 40 per cent or more of the popular vote. If no candidate received 40 per cent, a runoff election would be held between the two front-runners.

A constitutional amendment requires approval by a two-thirds majority in the Senate and House and ratification by 38 of the 50 state legislatures.

Officials Work On Tougher Problem Of Hijacking

Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — While security procedures attempt to weed out potential airplane hijackers before they get aboard, government and airlines officials are working on the tougher problem of foiling a hijacker and bringing him to trial.

Antihijacking legislation is piling up in Congress, and international extradition measures and airfield boycotts are being discussed at the United Nations and among intergovernmental organizations.

But one U.S. government official suggests the primary responsibility for solving the problem lies with the commercial airlines.

Secor D. Browne, chairman of the Civil Aeronautics Board, told the International Aviation Club in Washington Thursday more is needed than armed guards aboard aircraft, and weapons-screening devices and hijacker behavioral profiles in terminals.

"Every effort should be made to control the hijack while it is in progress," he said. "This should be a plan of attack in addition to armed guards, and development of such a plan lies squarely in the hands of the individual managements of the carriers themselves."

He said airplane crews should be trained to cope with a hijacker and take advantage of his confusion in the jungle of a modern jet.

The international problem of bringing a hijacker home to trial was being discussed today at the International Civil Aviation Organization council meeting in Montreal.

President Nixon sent a team headed by Secretary of Transportation John Volpe to urge all countries to suspend airline services with nations which detain passengers, crews or aircraft, or fail to extradite or prosecute hijackers.

The U.N. General Assembly heard demands Thursday for international activity to stop aerial hijackings and kidnapping of diplomats.

In a related appeal, the president of the Air Line Pilots Association appeared before the House Foreign Affairs Committee to urge stern measures including an air boycott of uncooperative nations' to halt hijacking.

Charles Ruby, the pilots' spokesman, endorsed Nixon's decision to post armed guards on commercial flights, and advocated compulsory extradition of hijackers and even greater security measures than in wartime.

The committee will review a host of deterrent proposals, including Nixon's request for an additional $28 million to recruit and train 2,500 security guards to ride shotgun on commercial airliners. Another proposal would have United States airlines boycott nations that harbor or encourage aircraft hijackers.

Browne, the CAB chief, said even if an international agreement is worked out to prosecute hijackers or extradite them for trial, past experience shows there's a good chance they won't stand trial for hijacking.

Since 1961 there have been 160 hijackings and 63 unsuccessful attempts involving U.S. planes.

Of the 39 individuals apprehended, he said, two were acquitted, nine are awaiting trial and 28 were convicted. But of the 28, many were not even tried for hijacking with its minimum penalty of 20 years and maximum sentence of death, and only eight received sentences of more than 20 years.

"That means the odds are at least 8 to 1 against landing in jail if you do decide to try to hijack an airliner, and even higher against your being tried under the hijacking law," Browne said.

Browne chided airlines for not putting into use a $600-a-unit weapons-detection system at their terminal facilities. He said Eastern Air Lines, which had been the victim of 16 hijackings and four attempts before the installation, has been victimized only once since.

Air-Conditioning Made Goal At PTA Meeting

Spurred on by sweltering heat in their Gymnasium meeting place, the E. B. Aycock Junior High School PTA last night voted to undertake air-conditioning of the school as their 1970-71 project.

The assembly was informed that in construction of the school, planning for air conditioning was taken into account with "zoning" the structure into eight areas requiring one unit each. Cost of one air conditioning unit was estimated as being in the neighborhood of $6,000.

Initial proposals to provide a unit for one "zone" in the structure were scrapped in favor of going all the way.

The project was turned over to the Ways and Means Committee co-chairmen Mrs. Leroy James and Mrs. Brooks Beddingfield for study and recommendations.

Special Projects co-chairmen Mrs. Frank Meacham and Mr. Leroy James announced that the PTA was not in a position to go forward with its 1969-70 project of planting shrubbery and a lawn.

Mrs. Meacham announced some $2,800 had been raised, with additional funds expectable from the Greenville Board of Education. Delays in the project were explained as due to earlier uncertainties over location of mobile units and missing a planting season.

Principal John Jones briefly addressed the parents on problems encountered in administering the school and remedial steps being taken. He said parental involvement and understanding were major assets in their solution.

Mrs. Julian Vainright presided.

New Pastor Named Here

REV. MARSHALL POWELL

Wrong Identity In Wreck Case

Joseph Alton Ratcliff, 27, of 601 East 11th St. was charged with failing to see his intended movement could be made in safety following investigation of an 11:45 a.m. accident on Warren Street Wednesday.

A story published in yesterday's Daily Reflector incorrectly identified the driver of the second car involved, Mrs. Mavis Adams Porter of 208 North Warren St. as being charged. She was not.

The Rev. Marshall Howell, a New Bern native, has been named pastor at the Faith Assembly of God church on N.C. 11 north of Greenville.

Howell graduated from New Bern High School, then entered the Cherry Point Apprentice School and was employed there for four years prior to entering the North East Bible Institute at Green Lane, Pa., where he graduated after four years.

The Rev. Howell moved to Greenville and began his duties here a week ago after serving several churches in West Virginia — the latest at Kingwood — for the past four years.

The new pastor is married to the former Janice Hinnant of New Bern and they have a 14-year-old daughter now enrolled in North Pitt High School.

The Howell's live at the church parsonage beside the Faith Assembly of God Church.

New Hospital Plan Endorsed By Club

AYDEN — The Ayden Rotary Club unanimously adopted a resolution in favor of a new Pitt County Memorial Hospital last night.

The resolution followed a talk by Jack Richardson, assistant hospital administrator, citing the need for a new facility.

Richardson told of the many months of intensive study and surveying conducted by various consultants and agencies, all of whom recommended the building of a modern and adequate new hospital. These, he said, include the Pitt Hospital Planning Committee; Charles P. Cardwell Jr. associates, special hospital consultants; the North Carolina Medical Care Commission, which is responsible for licensing hospitals in the state; Freeman-White Associates, hospital architects; the East Carolina University Regional Development Institute; the Pitt County Commissioners; and the Pitt Memorial Hospital Board of Trustees.

A slide presentation showed patients placed in hall beds because of overcrowded condition and also pointed up some of the present hospital's seriously hampered supporting services. Richardson said some 5,462 operations — more than 14 a day — were conducted in 1969. The emergency room treated 12,353 persons for injuries and acute illness the same year. The X-ray department did 16,514 examinations and laboratory tests numbered 120,029 during the same period.

The Rotarians questioned Richardson at the end of his talk about the hospital program and the bond issue which must be approved by voters in the county November 3, if a new facility is to be constructed.

Revival Series Begins Sept. 21

The Rev. Kenneth Dixon of Bridgeton will conduct revival services at the Grimesland Pentecostal Holiness Church Sept. 21-27.

Services will begin each night at 7:45 p.m. Special singing will be presented each night.

The Rev. Paul C. Jackson is pastor.

Tragedy Leaves Father Angry

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Some friends of ours have gone out of their heads over a personal tragedy. Their 18-year-old daughter left home to marry a serviceman she had known only two months. The police were called to avoid bloodshed when she left, and her father warned the girl and this serviceman never to set foot on his property again.

Now the father falls asleep on the porch every night with a loaded shotgun in his hand. An accident could easily occur under these crazy circumstances.

He will not listen to reason. He even got his son to round up a bunch of toughs to try to find the serviceman and beat him up.

Are there any counselors in this area who could talk some sense into this man in his angry state?

A FRIEND

DEAR FRIEND: Counselors? A man who sits with a loaded gun and murder in his heart needs restraining first, not counseling. For his own good and the good of his neighbors, your friend should be reported to the legal authorities and the local mental health organization. He sounds sick and violent. A dangerous combination. And since you are his "friend," — you do it.

DEAR ABBY: In your opinion, is it permissible for a woman to neck (or whatever you want to call it) with her ex-husband?

PAULINE

DEAR PAULINE: It is permissible for a woman to "neck" (if that's what you mean, that's what I'll call it) with her ex-husband, if she is single, and so is he.

DEAR ABBY: A few days ago I received in the mail the most unusual announcement I have ever heard of in all my born days. I would certainly like to know if you or any of your readers ever saw or heard anything to match it.

A couple of friends of mine, whom I seldom see, but exchange Christmas cards with, sent me an announcement. I will use fictitious names and give you an otherwise exact copy of it.

DEAR C. B.: Send them both "get well" cards. Yes, I've heard of such announcements. Fish Chowder Hails From Maryland

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Cooks taste good dishes in restaurants and then come home and try to duplicate them. That's how this chowder came into being. A friend of ours, restaurant-hopping in Baltimore, tasted a main-dish soup that had real staying power and then put it together in her own kitchen.

She used a pantry shelf ingredient, cream of potato soup, as her base; but she admits that the original cook may have made the chowder from scratch. When we tried this Quick Fish Chowder in our test kitchen, we found it was definitely worthwhile.

Serve the chowder with a Maryland favorite, corn sticks. Add a fresh fruit salad as dessert and you'll have lunch or supper made.

QUICK FISH CHOWDER

2 tablespoons butter
¼ cup finely chopped onion
½ cup thinly sliced celery
2 cans (each 10½ oz.) condensed cream of potato soup

1 soup can milk
1 soup can water
1 can (7½ oz.) minced clams, undrained
1 can (7 oz.) tuna, drained and flaked

1 can (8 oz.) sliced baby tomatoes, undrained
Pepper to taste

In a medium saucepan over low heat melt the butter; add onion and celery; cook, stirring often, until tender.

Stir in soup, milk, water, clams, tuna, tomatoes and pepper. Heat, stirring occasionally, to serving temperature, do not boil.

Makes 6 generous servings.

Mrs. Spangler Gives Program

Mrs. Evelyn Spangler presented the program at the meeting of the Simpson Extension Homemakers held Tuesday.

The demonstration was "Equipment For Easier Living."

Mrs. Ella Pate, acting president, presided at the meeting. As crafts leader, Mrs. Pate told of a new idea for a craft project in the near future. Six books were reported read.

The devotional was given by Mrs. Julia Dixon.

Mrs. Lyman Edwards and Mrs. H. W. Smith were hostesses for the meeting.

Book Reviews Given At Meet

Mrs. Chloe Crumpler gave a review of new books at the meeting of the Tea and Topics Book Club held Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Eleanor Scheipers.

The business session, in which plans were discussed for the new year, was presided over by Mrs. Eleanor Sullivan, president.

Other officers for the new year are Mrs. Scheipers, vice president, Mrs. Betty Lou McLawhorn, secretary treasurer, Mrs. Louise Hodge, reporter and Mrs. Crumpler, librarian.

Mrs. Boyd Lee was a guest for the meeting.

The Youngsters Stand To Lose

Constitution Ballot Issues

By BRYAN HAISLIP
RALEIGH — The General Assembly rather than the Supreme Court would decide what is a "necessary expense" for North Carolina local governments under a Constitutional amendment on the November 3 ballot.

For the past 100 years, the Constitution has required that local governments submit to the vote of the people the question of levying taxes and borrowing money for any purpose other than a "necessary expense."

Definition of the phrase is subject to court interpretation, and can be determined only in a case of expense' is properly a legislative, not a judicial, question," he said. The 170 members of the General Assembly, elected by the people, can better deal with the matter than the nine members of the State Supreme Court.

List of Amendments
In addition to the finance amendment, the ballot contains these further changes in the state's Constitution:

1. A basic revision of the document, first since 1868, prepared by the Constitutional Study Commission and approved by the 69 General Assembly for submission to the electorate.

2. Provision for reorganization of state government to not more than 25 administrative agencies. A special study committee presently is working on a plan of implementation to follow if the amendment is approved.

3. Authority for the General Assembly to fix income tax exemptions, rather than spelling them out specifically in the Constitution. Under it, the legislature could permit the filing of joint returns by husband and wife, prohibited by the present provisions, and the computation of state income tax as a percentage of the federal income tax which would relieve the taxpayer of two set of computations.

4. Making the benefit of escheats — property going to the state for lack of legal claimants — available to North Carolina students attending any public institution of higher education in the state. Presently, escheats form a scholarship fund only for those attending the University of North Carolina.

5. Repealing the literacy test for voters. Since the federal Voting Rights Act Amendments of 1970 prohibit the use of literacy tests by all states, this would simply conform the Constitution to controlling federal law.

6. Giving the General Assembly power to convene itself into special session upon the written requests of three-fifths of the members of both House and Senate. Only the governor has authority to call a special session under the current Constitution.

With the exception of the July 1, 1973 effective date for the finance amendment, the Constitution changes approved by voters would become effective July 1, 1971.

More Flexible Approach
In addition to legislative determination of "necessary expense," several other changes are in the finance amendment.

First, all forms of poll taxes would be repealed and prohibited.

The General Assembly would be authorized to grant more flexibility to counties, cities and towns in creating special tax districts to finance supplemental services in such districts.

Governmental and private

It's too much. Reason dictates the conclusion there are a few thoughtless or "sick" minds involved in the greater part of deliberate damage to recreation facilities and equipment. We have seen too many children enjoying the playgrounds and centers to blame any majority; it takes only a handful of wrong-doers to spoil the best of intentions, the best of efforts.

At the rate of destruction reported for the two-month period, losses chargeable to vandals may well run to $6,000 a year, or more.

It's hardly worthwhile to furnish equipment and material for young people to enjoy if they are to be damaged, demolished and destroyed.

Recreation Director Boyd Lee says one center stands to lose its pool table and drink box because of repeated damage.

As he pointed out, when you have to spend so much money to repair and replace, that means the equivalent sum cannot be used for new purchases or new programs.

Young people who see vandals at work should promptly report it. It is the small havens of recreation for them, our young people, that is being destroyed. And it is not inconceivable to visualize a time when the City says "we've had it".

Terrorists Forgot A Lesson Of Long Ago

It started with a reign of terror in a New Orleans housing project by "Black Panthers" (or, as some said, a gang who would like to be members).

The victims were black. There was sniping and police moved in. After a gunfight the barricaded gang was arrested.

The heartbreaking thing was that bystanders blamed the police for the violent ending. About 24 hours later lawmen ambushed some would-be firebombers who intended to burn out a grocery store in the same neighborhood. Four of the gang were shot, one killed.

A long time ago there was sounded a warning about the fate of those who "live by the sword". It's true.

The Strategy With Agnew

By ROWLAND EVANS and ROBERT NOVAK

SAN DIEGO — When Vice President Spiro T. Agnew delighted a black-tie Republican audience here last weekend with an assault on "radicals and extremists nesting in the Democrat (sic) party of California," he was closely following a strategy devised in detail by Richard M. Nixon himself.

Thus does Agnew's cross-country campaigning in the mid-term election differ from past travels on the banquet circuit which made his name a household word. While President Nixon kept Agnew on a loose tether during his rhetorical rise to fame, his present campaigning is organized and tightly controlled from the Oval Office with definite political goals in mind.

For instance, a few days before Agnew left Washington to open the 1970 campaign, Mr. Nixon called into his office the four Presidential aides assigned to travel with Agnew all autumn — Bryce Harlow, serving as senior adviser, William Safire and Pat Buchanan, speechwriters, Dr. Martin Anderson, researcher.

Mr. Nixon spent two hours with them reviewing his grand strategy. Above all, the President said, Agnew should not put the campaign in terms of Republicans vs. Democrats. Outnumbered Republicans could scarcely win two states out of 50 that way, he added. Instead, Republicans must paint Democratic candidates as left extremists and preempt the vital center on the political spectrum.

Agnew's speeches for this tour have been carefully prepared to embody this Nixon strategy. Although Agnew himself insets the polysyllabic flourishes ("troglydytic leftists," for example) that have become his trademark, the speeches now are primarily the work of the White House staff — a far cry from just a year ago when Baltimore housewife Cynthia Rosenwald was polishing off Agnew's speeches as a free-lancer.

This process has diluted the purity of Agnew's oratory, but it makes sure that the Vice President follows the President's strategy. Thus, in the kickoff speech at Springfield, Ill., Agnew astounded Illinois Republican Bourbons seated on the platform by speaking highly of Harry Truman, John F. Kennedy, and even Mayor Richard J. Daley of Chicago.

While shocking the Bourbons, Agnew was telling blue-collar Democrats that the present "radical liberals" — a phrase coined by the White House staff after hours of discussion — had nothing in common with Truman-Kennedy-Daley Democrats. Under this line of reasoning, the Illinois Democratic voter could in good conscience support Republican Sen. Ralph T. Smith against Democrat Adlai E. Stevenson III.

Here is the heart of the Nixon strategy: to identify Democrats such as Stevenson with permissiveness on crime, drugs, and pornography, thereby disqualifying them from loyal Democratic support.

There is, however, one immense flaw in Mr. Nixon's Agnew strategy: Democratic candidates such as Stevenson, returning to War! Is there any excuse for it? For the present, the answer must be both Yes and No. It is absurd to realize that in this wonderful world of ours we are still lunging at one another's throats. War never settles any issue. War never gets us any place. Amazingly enough, nations which "lose" wars frequently end up by getting the few benefits which war is supposed to confer.

Cannot the United Nations save us from war? No. It is a magnificent and courageous attempt of most of the nations of the world to put an end to international nonsense and injustice. But it has its limitations. Wars will continue to be fought as long as we remain the kind of people we are. We are selfish. We are only meagerly educated. When trouble arises in local areas some people demonstrate that they have axes to grind and others that they have axe-handles to wield. War arises from the nature of the people who wage war. It may in the end destroy us. It need not destroy us if we will use the sense God gave us and the restraint and reasoning power that we should have gained through education.

In praying that there be no more war let us start by praying that God will change in us those selfish and sinful dispositions which lead us into war.

We stand in the midst of the greatest era humanity has known in its history. Let us make the most of these advantages.

WHERE THERE'S SO MUCH SMOKE...

By ART BUCHWALD

Now, Political Football

The national political football season has just opened, and Coach Dick Nixon has indicated he hopes to drop several Democrats from the United States congressional team.

He has assigned the task of getting rid of these players to Assistant Coach Spiro Agnew. "Our motto here," Agnew told reporters in the White House locker room, "is you either play for Coach Dick Nixon, or you don't play at all."

"Then you hope to get as many Republicans on the congressional team as possible?" a reporter asked. "That's correct. We're sick and tired of mealy-mouth defeatist, radical-liberal players who have been trying to wreck Coach Nixon's game plan. We don't want them here, and we're going to do everything in our power to see they don't come back."

"Then you feel there are disloyal elements on the team?"

"I don't feel it. I know it. The Democrats have been causing dissension ever since Coach Nixon took over. They've been running down Nixon's strategy, praising our opponents and keeping us from winning a game. They're playing only to the students, radicals, bomb throwers, peaceniks, pornographers and long-hairs in the stands. We feel these hopeless hysterical hypochondriacs have no right to wear the red, white and blue colors of the United States team."

"Coach Agnew, are you saying the Democratic members of the team are responsible for all the disruptions in the stands?"

Other Editors Say Changing The Law

(Henderson Dispatch)

Voters in the November election will approve or disapprove seven changes in the State Constitution. Their decision could and probably will in varying degree alter the processes of government in North Carolina.

Substantial changes in the organic law will be submitted. For many who vote it will make no difference one way or the other. They are not greatly concerned. Some will be confused and will not vote at all on the amendments. Others may mark ballots with a view to altering the Constitution to their profit, politically or otherwise.

The seven amendments were approved by the 1969 General Assembly. They can become effective only if approved by voters. Therein lies the necessity for careful study and understanding as to what is at issue.

There are those who are suspicious of changes in the law. They will merely mark their ballots in opposition and let it go at that.

In the past, most of the constitutional amendments submitted have been approved and made effective. Odds are that the seven changes now proposed, or most of them, will be approved in November. But citizens who are concerned about the integrity of their State government should know in advance how to vote as they consider the value of the changes.

Much more will be heard of the amendments between now and election day. As of now, very few people know what is being proposed. Some actually couldn't care less. But they should. It's their State government under which they must live, and is their privilege and obligation to share in establishing the law. It is incumbent upon individual voters to inform themselves and then vote intelligently.

If you want to make mosquitoes keep their distance, eat a plate of snails with garlic butter. The mosquitoes didn't mind the snails, but they can't stand garlic—particularly at close quarters.

It's a waste of time worrying that you may be hit by a "falling star." Astronomers have calculated that an object as big as the entire continent of North America is likely to be struck by a meteorite 100-inches or more wide only about once in 50,000 years.

We might all live longer if we spent more money trying to find out how to. Specialists estimate that a major biomedical research program could increase healthful life expectancy by five to 15 years, but the amount now spent per person on such research is about eight cents a year—the price of a single candy bar.

What should a mother do if her child tries to get its way by holding its breath until it turns blue, faints or even goes into convulsions? The best attitude she can take is one of "purposeful neglect," says a Johns Hopkins Hospital specialist. Such tantrums by the child don't do physical harm to it, he says, and can best be disregarded unless the family wants to submit to being dominated by these tactics.

Delivery problems: Biting dogs are a bane of U.S. mailmen, but those of other countries have worse perils, notes the National Geographic Society. Camels chew on Egyptian mailmen, jaguars ambush Brazilian mailmen, one in the Tongan Islands was browsed on by a shark, and a few years ago Afghanistan suspended rural deliveries because too many mailmen were dined on by leopards.

Cutting it short: one reason people put on weight may be because their intestines are too long. Three Danish surgeons reported to an international medical convention that they had caused 10 excessively fat women to lose up to 300 pounds—and keep it off—by operations which removed a section of their intestines, thus lessening the amount of food they absorbed.

It was Josh Billings who observed, "I never knew a man who lived on hope but what spent his old age at somebody else's expense."

Labor Costs Soar Ever Faster

By ELMER ROESSNER

The cost of the most important commodity of all, labor, has increased three times as much as all other commodities in the last 20 years.

The Department of Com-

merce reports that the commodity price index in 1950 was 86.8 in 1950, and it was 117.2 this August, the latest month available.

The Department of Labor reports that the average gross weekly earnings of nonfarm, private employees in 1950 were $58.32 a week in 1960 and $121.07 in July this year.

The commodity price index rose 30.4 points.

The labor price index rose 64.46 points.

Commodities increased 35.0 per cent over the 20 years.

Labor increased 107.1 per cent in the same period.

Of course, labor's expendable earnings did not increase quite as much as the date indicate. Over the 20 years, federal income taxes, state income taxes, city income taxes, sales taxes, real estate taxes, licensing fees and hundreds of other state and local levies have gone up.

They have gone up faster and further than the increase in wages. Higher wages have pushed wage-earners into higher tax brackets, and states and cities have found the worker with higher income is a sitting duck for more taxes.

In addition, the increase in wages has increased the need of states and subdivisions for more tax revenues. The increase in pay of a state highway employee means that private highway employees must pay higher taxes.

However, taxes on the growing, mining, drilling for, refining, processing, packaging and transportation of commodities have also increased. The basic comparison is still valid.

Broker Invites Lib Gals And Their Money

During the recent bruhaha over women's liberation, it developed that many commodity brokers discouraged accounts by women, saying that women were too emotional for the stress of commodity trading. The few who accepted women's accounts did so only if the women already had stock accounts with their firms.

Now Woodstock, Inc., a New York commodity broker, headlines an advertisement, "Women of America, WE LOVE YOU!" and announces a seminar on commodity trading with women invited.

Ford and General Motors planned to strike back at foreign small-car imports with their Vegas and Pintos. But Volkswagen has priced its 1971 "beetle" sedan at $1,780, $139 below the cheapest Detroit mini model, Ford's Pinto. VW's super-beetle is still $20 under the Pinto.

Britain, Too, Suffers Shortage Of Coal

Britain's National Coal Board reports the production for the year ended in March was 148 million tons, while demand was 158 million tons, the difference drawn from stockpiles.

The Board also announced a loss of more than $64 million. In the United States, the free-enterprise coal industry showed a profit.

Canada Finds Mercury Poison In Variety Of Food

By BRIAN SULLIVAN
AP Science Writer
ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) —
The poisonous metal mercury has been discovered in a wide variety of common foods in Canada, according to a new study by scientists at the University of Toronto.

Prof. Robert E. Jervis, a nuclear chemist who directed the study, said it is "quite likely" that a study of foods in the United States would reveal the same potential health hazard.

A spokesman for the U.S. Food and Drug Administration in Washington disputed this, however, saying he would expect to find only "negligible" amounts of mercury in ordinary foods here.

Jervis said his study found significant levels of mercury in wheat, flour, white bread, long-grain rice, skim milk powder, cheese, tea, beef hamburger, beef liver, pork liver, calf liver, fish and poultry.

"We may be having an intake of mercury from regular food that may be as appreciable as from eating contaminated fish," he said. "We have heard a lot about fish, but it may not be the most significant input."

Both the United States and Canada, Jervis said in a telephone interview, should begin immediately to make an official check of common foods.

The FDA spokesman said he was unaware of the Jervis report, but that such a check already had been started.

Comparable studies of fish by the Industrial Laboratory at Eastman Kodak Co. in Rochester indicate the Canadians "are on the right track," according to Dr. Don H. Anderson, laboratory director. Kodak has been concerned about detection of mercury for more than 30 years because even extremely tiny amounts of it damage photographic film.

The Canadian study adds a new dimension to the mercury contamination storm in the United States that began only last March with a Canadian announcement of a fishing ban on Lake St. Clair because of mercury levels in fish of up to 8 parts per million.

Since then, abnormal levels of mercury have been found in water, fish and game birds and has turned up in at least 33 states. Just Tuesday FDA officials in Washington said mercury is being used as a preservative in some cosmetics and should be replaced as quickly as possible with less toxic substances.

The officials said only a relative handful of products contain mercury and there have been no reported cases of mercury poisoning linked to the cosmetics. However, symptoms mimic those of many other ailments and are hard to detect.

Jervis said there is "no definite knowledge" of how mercury gets into the food chain, but the suspicion is that it comes from agricultural uses of mercury in fungicides and herbicides. Industrial users also add mercury to the environment.

Jervis also said in his report that samples of human head hair of Canadian citizens indicates rising levels of mercury in recent years, a finding that tends to support the idea that contamination of people may actually be taking place.

Mercury tends to concentrate in the brain, liver, spleen, kidneys, blood, saliva, the lining of the small intestine, muscles and bones. In large enough concentrations it can cause speech defects, paralysis, blindness, insanity. Swedish scientists have reported that mercury poisoning can produce birth defects and abortions.

The effects of long-term, low-level exposure are unknown.

The World Health Organization Food and Agriculture Organization suggest a general tolerance level for mercury in most foods of 0.05 parts per million. The FDA says there is no real safe tolerance. Fish containing more than one-half part per million of mercury may be seized.

The Jervis study reported finding levels consistently above the WHO standard.

At the FDA, Richard J. Ronk, chief of the guidelines branch in the Bureau of Foods, said a survey of U.S. food late in 1967 failed to disclose any appreciable amounts of mercury. The new study that has been started, Ronk said, is not expected to produce results much different.

Strother Speaks To Winterville Ruritan

WINTERVILLE — Robert Strother of the North Carolina Department of Public Instruction, Raleigh, was the keynote speaker at the Winterville Ruritan Club Annual Ladies Night banquet Tuesday night.

Strother is assistant superintendent of public instruction in charge of the Human Relations Department.

His topic was "How a Service Club Such as the Winterville Ruritan Club Could Get Involved With Youths of Today."

He stressed key words such as involvement, participation, planning, projecting, financing and service. He elaborated on how the club could help initiate a plan of action that would strengthen the total community with proper attitudes of leadership.

Strother placed heavy priority on getting the members of the club actively involved in supporting a Quality Education Program for the youth of Pitt County.

The following points were stressed by the speaker that should be remembered when dealing with today's youth: —They want to be talked to and not at;

—They want to be taught and not told;

—They want to know why and not want.

The tables were decorated in traditional fall fashion and the women were remembered with gifts.

cooperative ventures would be promoted by authority for the state and local units of government to contract and appropriate money to private entities "for the accomplishment of public purposes only."

The present 20 cents on the $100 valuation now imposed on the general county property tax would be omitted, with regulation of the maximum amount of taxes which counties may levy left to the legislature.

Finally, borrowing without regard to the limitation of debt reduction in the previous fiscal period would be rescinded for the state and local governments for "emergencies immediately threatening public health and safety."

pragmatism, are abandoning new leftist catering to the young, the blacks, and the poor and are veering toward the center. As we have reported, this drive to remove the stigma of permissiveness is gaining ground on the highest levels of the Democratic party.

The White House aides accompanying Agnew on his chartered jet are all too aware of this development. Thus, when the teletype on board last week reported that Democratic National Chairman Lawrence F. O'Brien had blasted extremists in his own party, speechwriter Buchanan felt Agnew should respond.

The result was a hastily prepared insert in his Casper, Wyo., speech attacking "radical liberals" as "trying to pull the fastest switcheroo in American politics" by turning hard against crime. The next day, Agnew himself proposed changing his San Diego speech by charging Rep. John V. Tunney of California, Democratic candidate for the Senate, with belatedly moving right on law-and-order. The result from a White House word-smith: an assault against "Tunney-come-latelies."

Fulford Speaks To New Students At Pitt Tech

President William E. Fulford, Jr. addressed a record-setting number of beginning students in orientation exercises at Pitt Technical Institute today.

Fulford recognized these students as "the fabric of the institution. You are our clients," he said, "who shall determine the destiny of our rapidly growing educational complex."

To emphasize the growth of school, Fulford presented data showing how Pitt Tech compares with the other 53 institutions in the N.C. Community College System. "We are tenth in the state in overall enrollment," he pointed out.

"This standing is among both technical institutes and community colleges, which have the advantage of having college-transfer program that we cannot offer."

"In the area of adult education," Fulford said, "we are first in the state. We are fourth largest in occupational extension programs and second in overall extension."

In four separate sessions, Fulford challenged the students to become "seekers of competency in your respective area of interest. You will be called upon to respond, refute, provide and participate," he continued. "Accept these demands, plan to meet the requirements, battle discouragement, but do not lose the war."

Fulford concluded by stating that Pitt Tech's present record is impressive, and that the entire student body, faculty, and staff must renew its dedication to the task of creating an institution which will not be surpassed by any other.

Searchers Net Pistol-Packer

FREEPORT, Grand Bahama (AP) — A tough antihijack security web has snared its first gun-toter at the Freeport International Airport.

All air travelers leaving Freeport, a sun-splashed tourist city of casinos in the blue Gulf Stream off Florida, face searches of their baggage and often themselves before boarding flights.

British Overseas Airway Corp. initiated on Sept. 8 the searches now conducted on passengers of every airline. BOAC passengers also face frisking and search of their baggage at Miami.

The first pistol packer caught by the search program was a young American convicted Thursday of trying to board a Pan American jet the day before with a gun in his pocket.

Paul Stephen, 24, of Port Chester, N.Y., was sentenced to three months hard labor by Magistrate John Cronin, who said from the bench that carrying of weapons onto planes "will not be tolerated." Stephan told the court he had made no effort to hide the .25-caliber pistol and that it was not loaded.

Salathiel Thompson, deputy commissioner of police in Freeport said Stephan's pistol was found by an airline examiner after he had cleared customs at the airport.

Two or more inspectors, supplied by the participating airlines, are stationed "at every gate in the airport," Thompson said. "Baggage or hand luggage, anything being carried out, is searched." Inspectors open all bags, including women's handbags.

Male passengers, especially those wearing coats, are frisked by uniformed airlines workers.

Thompson said there had been no hijackings involving planes departing from Freeport, but added, "I don't think they should wait for one before they act."

To Open Clinic For Stutterers

Stutterers from this area have new hope of overcoming this common yet complex speech problem because of the opening of a stuttering clinic at East Carolina University next Monday.

Headed by Dr. Hal J. Daniel and Dr. William G. Hume, both speech and hearing experts, the clinic will be open to anyone 16 years or older who needs and wishes to attend. It will be free to all ECU students and the charge for others will be based on ability to pay.

Dr. Daniel said the clinic includes a program of both group and individual therapy according to a fairly new and highly successful method of behavioral modification techniques in which the speech problem is dealt with objectively. The process usually takes several months, and this clinic is expected to run approximately the length of the school year.

Mrs. Sandra Sheldon will be a graduate assistant working in the clinic and Dr. Charles Moore of the ECU Psychology Department will be a consultant. A grant of some $5,000 from the Speech Foundation of America will be used over the next two years to help finance the new venture.

The first meeting will be held Monday night at 7 p.m. in Room 151 of the Education and Psychology Building at ECU.

Potential participants will be screened at this time. Following each Monday night and schedules will be set up for individual work during each week. Daniel said, "Anyone expecting a miracle cure will be disappointed. However, I am completely optimistic about helping all participants who are willing to work hard to overcome their stuttering problems."

Give Back 379 Letters

NEW YORK (AP) — U.S. Customs officials say they have returned a package of 379 letters from American prisoners of war in North Vietnam which was seized from a peace-movement courier at Kennedy Airport.

The package, taken by Customs agents as an undeclared item Wednesday night, was made available Thursday night to courier Robert Scheer, officials said.

Scheer and other members of the U.S. Peoples Anti-Imperialist Delegation said they obtained the letters during a Southeast Asian trip.

Scheer said he was going to distribute them to the prisoners' families.

The letters were seized, Scheer said, by Customs men who took him to a private room, threatened to search him, and

Art Society Activities Planned

Members of the East Carolina Art Society met with president Robert Pittman Wednesday night at the Greenville Art Center to formulate plans for the current art year.

Mrs. William W. Fore, first vice-president, said "we want to arouse interest in the center, and to raise money for a number of needed projects."

The center, which is celebrating its tenth anniversary this year, has been the focal point of art activity in Greenville and Pitt County, but has been limited in its scope and growth due to lack of funds other than those required for operation and upkeep.

Mrs. Fore outlined a plan to contact a number of firms and businesses with a view to soliciting annual contributions in the form of corporate memberships. Members concurred in this plan, and approved sending by a brochure describing achievements realized and future plans.

At the same time, a committee of members will make personal contact with local representatives of the firms and organizations to explain the aims of corporate membership.

Membership drive for individual, couple and family members is being conducted early this year. This is the result of a decision to change the period of membership from 1 October to 30 September each year, instead of the current 1 January through 31 December membership period.

Along the same lines, a study is being made to change the constitution of the society to revise effective dates for officers elected to the executive board. A date of October 1 has been suggested.

Changes in membership and officer effective dates would make effective dates more in line with the art season, which begins with the reopening of the center in September and continues into June.

Other programs for future development include the possibility of authorizing Donald Sexauer and three or four graduate students to establish a print shop in the garage, based on a written agreement of conditions; acquiring a piano for use in free concerts for the public; expanding the memorial fund for purchase of works of art, framing new acquisitions, purchase of books and periodicals; and conducting the local drive in support of the spring sidewalk art show; planning future group trips to the N.C. Museum of Art in Raleigh; and expanding the scope of the Projects Committee.

Dr. Jimmy Stewart was appointed to fill the vacancy created by the departure of John Sneden on the Board of Directors.

Members present at last night's meeting were: Mayor Frank M. Wooten, Jr., Mrs. J. Vance Perkins, Mrs. David Whichard II, Mrs. W.E. Roseveare, Mrs. J.W. H. Roberts, Mrs. S.A. Sewall, William Holley, and Dr. James Stewart.

Walked Out Alligood Speaks To Over Losing Interracial Society

SHELBY, N. C. (AP)—Tension ran high Thursday at Shelby High School when 100 Negro pupils walked out to protest failure of white classmates to elect any Negroes as class officers.

One Negro pupil, Dwight Wilson, 17, was charged with assault after a fight in which a white teen-ager was treated for head injuries.

The school has about 300 Negro pupils. About 200 of them left their classes at 10:30 a.m. Thursday and assembled in the cafeteria, according to principal Dan Moore.

Moore said the pupils were told to either return to classes or leave the school grounds. About 110 left the grounds. The rest returned to classes.

No action has been taken against the pupils who left school.

A meeting between a group of Negro pupils and the school board on Thursday afternoon was inconclusive.

The regular monthly meeting of Pitt County Interracial Society met Wednesday night at St. Paul's Episcopal Church to hear remarks from Robert Alligood, principal of Rose High School.

Alligood gave an appraisal of his experiences at Rose High as he begins his first year as principal there, and expressed hope that the basic good will of the entire community would eventually erase misunderstandings.

He noted that he feels confident that a positive approach of fairness and trust would produce an atmosphere where learning would be a happy experience. Alligood particularly invited the interest and cooperation of all citizens and expressed, on behalf of his entire staff, appreciation to the parents who have recently visited Rose High during school hours.

Members of the Interracial Committee pledged its unqualified support to Alligood in his efforts to achieve a successful school year.

Dr. Andrew Best presided over last night's meeting, and introduced Alligood. Clarence B. Gray, associate principal at Rose, assisted Alligood in the question and answer period which followed Alligood's talk.

Plan Extensive Sun-Energy Use

SUNNYVALE, Calif. (UPI)—A system that will harness the power of the sun to keep a large space station running for years is being studied by engineers.

A contract worth about $2 million to design and test the largest "solar array" in the world has been awarded by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration to Lockheed Missiles & Space Co.

A solar array is a sheet of photovoltaic cells which convert solar energy into electricity. Lockheed must build and test one 30 feet wide and 90 feet long to evaluate how well it can perform in space.

Crash Kills N.C. Man

DARLINGTON, S. C. (AP)—One North Carolina man was killed and two were injured critically when their plane crashed Thursday after the engine apparently stalled during a landing approach.

John Thomas Martin, 31, of Monroe was killed and Myron W. Dael of Winston-Salem and William McInnis of Monroe were taken to a hospital in Florence.

Sheriff John Hatchell of Darlington County said the three were flying from Monroe to attend an automobile auction in Darlington.

Hatchell said the engine apparently stalled, causing the plane to touch down short of the runway. He said the craft overturned after the wheels hit the edge of an embankment.

The plane was attempting to land at Moore's Airport, a grassy, privately owned strip near Darlington.

Darlington officials said Federal Aviation Agency officials had been contacted for an investigation into the cause of the crash.

Officers who responded to the 10:30 a.m. telephone call said a sprinkler extinguished the fire, but reported firemen remained at the scene for a hour using exhaust fans to clear smoke from the top floor of the ten-story building, funneled thru by the trash chute.

Pirates Open Home Slate Against ETSU

Pirate Chief-Of-Staff And His Aides

The East Carolina University Pirates open their 1970 home campaign Saturday night at 7:30 in Ficklen Stadium, entertaining the Buccaneers of East Tennessee State University. It will be the initial appearance of Coach Mike McGee's new offense before the home fans. Leading the Pirates on the field will be co-captains George

Second Unbeaten Foe For McGee's Purplemen

"Purple Pride" and "Purple Power" are signs one sees these days around Greenville, in referring to East Carolina University.

And Saturday night at 7:30 p.m., football fans may get their first look at the "new look" that has helped to spark these signs.

For at that time, Coach Mike McGee puts his first East Carolina football team on display for the home fans. And he hopes that the first local look will not turn out like last week's opener, a 35-2 loss to powerful Toledo.

For the second time in two weeks, however, the Pirates will take the field against a team that went unbeaten last year. Toledo rolled to an 11-0 season, including a Tangerine Bowl victory. East Tennessee State University, this week's foe, went 11-0-1, including a victory over Terry Bradshaw and Louisiana Tech in the Grantland Rice Bowl.

The two teams met last year, with East Tennessee continuing its sway over the Pirates, 7-0, in a hard-fought game. But last year East Tennessee saw the single wing. This year, they see the pro-I installed by McGee.

"We have had a real good week of practice," McGee said. "The players have put a lot on concentration into trying to eliminate the costly mistakes we made against Toledo. Perhaps we have put too much time on this kind of thing and it's put us a little behind in getting ready for East Tennessee."

proved with practice this week. "We've worked hard on protection for both the kicker and the offense, and also on defense this week," McGee said.

The coach added that he thought the Bucs did a fine job on rushing Toledo passer Chuck Ealey, the Mid-American Conference's Player of the Year last season. "We threw him for more losses than he's sustained in any other game," McGee said.

Now, however, the job is to stop another fine unbeaten team in East Tennessee. "They have a fine team that returns most of their defensive people," the coach said. "Their defense was the best in the conference last year, and their coach feels that this year, East Tennessee has the best team ever. We'll have to do everything right to stop them."

East Tennessee has nicknamed its secondary the "Bandits" because of their record of picking off 37 interceptions last year. Only one man is lost from that group, which is led by Bill Casey, an All-American last year, who had 11 catches. Bubba Timms, a linbacker, is also rated an A-A candidate. He led the group that dropped Bradshaw 12 times for 143 yards backwards last year in the Grantland Rice Bowl.

Offensively, the Buccaneers of East Tennessee are just as tough. Leading them is quarterback Larry Graham, who is starting there for the fourth straight season. He either holds or shares every ETSU passing record.

Another plus is kicker Ron Harrold, who kicked seven field goals last year and 36 extra points.

"We have great respect for their secondary," McGee said of (Continued On Page 10)

Williamston, Edenton Collide In Key Battle In Albemarle Conference Race

The Williamston Tigers wade into the Albemarle Conference schedule for the first time this season tonight, as they travel to meet last year's champ, Edenton.

The Aces have gotten away to a fast start this year, winning their first three contests. "They have a 12-game winning streak going, and they have won 20 of their last 21," Williamston

Coach Dinky Mills said. Williamston, meanwhile, posts a 1-0-1 record, having played to a 6-6 deadlock with Swansboro last week.

Around the rest of the league, Edenton rolled by Greenville, Virginia, 35-14, Plymouth beat Manteo, 28-8, Perquimans downed Northampton, 14-8, and Ahoskie nipped Gates County, 8-6, in last week's action.

"We played real bad," Mills said of his game with Swansboro. "We had several scoring opportunities, but let them go. We didn't block or tackle well. Maybe we've gotten this ironed out this week. I certainly hope so."

Mills said he didn't know whether or not the team might have been looking ahead to Edenton during the game. "We still have not fused as a team. We're still individuals."

The Tigers came out of the game without any injuries and will be at full strength for the game. "We got awfully tired last week. I hope to be able to play more people this time. We'll have only two going both ways if our plans hold up."

Mills said that against Swansboro, the team dragged through the final half, and was completely worn out by the fourth quarter.

Of Edenton, Mills said, "They have a lot of pride. We are hoping that 13 will be an unlucky number for them. I think we can whip them if we play together as a team."

The key to the Edenton offense so far has been diminutive Willie Moore (5-8, 122-pounds). "He's very fast and seems to have the knack of running with the ball," Mills said. "He picked up 183 yards against Greenville last week."

"They have the type of team that capitalizes on your mistakes. They wait for them, and then pounce on them. Bertie got inside their 10-yard line five times, but just couldn't do any good. They are well-disciplined and make few mistakes themselves."

The coach feels that the winner of the game will get a big boost towards winning the conference championship. "I know it would be a boost to us."

Besides the Edenton-Williamston game, two other conference tilts are scheduled. Perquimans will be at Ahoskie, while Northampton entertains Gates County. Plymouth goes outside the conference in a home contest against Bertie.

Buc Runners Opening Year

The East Carolina University Cross-Country team will open its 1970 season Saturday morning, playing host the Baptist College of Charleston, S.C.

Coach Bill Carson said earlier this week that he expected to bring his team along slowly and build toward the State championships and the Southern Conference meet, to be held in early and mid-November.

The Baptist meet is the first of an eight-meet schedule, including the two championship meets. The Bucs will host the North Carolina Track Club in their next outings, set for next Saturday.

Other meets include a double-meet with William & Mary and Virginia Tech, another with North Carolina State and Old Dominion, and single meets with Appalachian and the University of North Carolina.

The Bucs, who finished fourth in the conference last year, are hoping to challenge the long reign of William & Mary by the time the championship meet for the Southern rolls around.

Woody's Ramblin's

By WOODY PEELE

Last week turned out to be almost a nightmare when it came to checking over the results of the picks in this column. Still, we managed to come up with just a little over .500, so maybe this week, with a little more opportunity to look back over what has happened the average might go up.

If not, well . . . even the best have their off-seasons.

Opening up the weekend is the slate of high school games in the area. And leading the list is the 4-A encounter between Rose and Wilson Fike. The Rampants still have yet to win a game this year, while Fike hasn't lost since the Year One, it seems like. Rose must play their best to stop them, and certainly they would like to be the first to pin the defending state champs to the wall.

But it is not to be. Wilson will take this one. Grifton entertains Bath in a Tobacco Belt game. The Bulldogs surprised Aurora last week, while Bath was being drubbed by Vanceboro. This one could be quite close, but unless Grifton's injury situation is changed, Bath should win.

Farmville's surprising Red Devils take on tough Vanceboro in a battle of the unbeaten. The Red Devils have upset this column twice and may well do it again. Vanceboro, while two classes lower is very strong, and has the advantage of the home field. There is a strong temptation to pick Vanceboro, but we'll try Farmville on this one.

Aurora travels to Robersonville in another Tobacco Belt game. There should be no problem here. Robersonville should take the win.

Ayden goes to Manteo in a game that may decide the East Tidewater title. The Tornados are strong again, and if they get things going early, it could be quite a game. We'll stick with Ayden.

Winding up the slate is Greene Central at Charles B. Aycock. The Rams appear to be a challenge, so we'll go along with them to stop Aycock.

Turning to the collegiate scene, the top game hereabouts is the East Tennessee - East Carolina encounter. The Pirates looked strong despite losing to Toledo last week, and East Tennessee is opening the season. The easy way out would be to pick the Bucs (since they are both the Bucs), but the nod must go against the experts to East Carolina.

Elsewhere in the Southern Conference, it'll be Vanderbilt over The Citadel, Presbyterian over Furman, West Virginia over Richmond, Rice over VMI, and Miami, Florida, over William & Mary.

Over in the Atlantic Coast Conference, it'll be Duke over Maryland, the Tar Heels over N.C. State, South Carolina over Wake Forest, and Clemson over Virginia.

Polishing things off, it'll be Air Force over Wyoming, Alabama over Virginia Tech, Arizona State over Colorado State and Arkansas over Oklahoma State.

Season's record: 16 right, 8 wrong, 67.7 per cent.

Rampants Cubs Lose, 48-0

WILSON—The Wilson High School junior varsity rolled to a 48-0 victory over the Rampant Cubs yesterday in the opening game for the Rose Jv's.

The Cubs managed to put up a few scoring threats, but they failed to get on the board due to mistakes.

Coach O.A. Meteye singled out J.C. Daniels, John Calhoun, Rusty Purser and Lonnie Payton for their play in the game.

Baltimore Loses, But Wraps Up Eastern Title In American; Minnesota Closer

By DICK COUCH

Associated Press Sports Writer
Champagne flowed in the losers' clubhouse at Washington, while Cleveland's biggest winner treated himself to a short beer.

The Baltimore Orioles celebrated their second successive American League East championship Thursday night, despite a 2-0 loss to the lowly Senators, with a traditional bubbly bath. They had clinched the title when Boston beat the second-place New York Yankees 5-4 in a 10-inning afternoon game.

At Cleveland, Sudden Sam

McDowell subdued Detroit 6-2 to become a 20-game winner for the first time in seven major league seasons, then took one quick sip of champagne to accommodate a photographer before switching to more pedestrian brew.

"I'd rather drink beer," said the 6-foot-5 southpaw, passing the champagne bottle. "I've been drinking beer all year long."

In other American League games, Minnesota moved closer to the West Division title with a 4-3 victory over California and Milwaukee nipped Kansas City 4-3 in 13 innings.

In the National League, Philadelphia nipped Pittsburgh 3-2; St. Louis pounded the Chicago Cubs 9-2; Houston slammed Los Angeles 10-5 and San Francisco nudged San Diego 4-3.

The Orioles were riding a bus from Baltimore to Washington when Tom Satriano's run-scoring single in the 10th inning at New York broke a 3-3 deadlock and mathematically eliminated the second-place Yankees.

"Next year, we're going to try and win it ourselves," said Frank Robinson, recalling that Baltimore also had clinched the division title in 1969 without taking the field.

Then the Senators, who had postponed the inevitable Wednesday night with a 2-0 victory over Baltimore, repeated the shutout count behind Dick Bosman's five-hitter. But Earl Weaver's defending AL kings shrugged off the run famine and quenched their thirst in a post-game party more lively than the 1969 affair.

"The first half of the season is over," proclaimed Coach Billy Hunter. "The next half starts in October."

McDowell, whose previous victory high was 18 last season, checked the Tigers on seven hits and struck out nine, boosting his major league lead to 293 strikeouts. Rookie Roy Foster knocked in three Cleveland runs with a single and his 22nd homer.

"This is great," said McDowell, who was making his first start since last Sunday. "It's something I've always wanted, but to be honest, it was a very poor game for me."

"At the beginning I was trying to make every pitch too perfect. Then, when we got some runs, I just went at them. It's easy to win when you get six runs. My teammates won my 20th for me."

Leo Cardenas delivered two Minnesota runs with a single and triple; Tony Oliva picked up his 100th RBI of the season with a double and Jim Perry gained his 23rd victory with relief help from Stan Williams as the Twins squeezed past the Angels and lowered their magic number to six in the AL West.

"If those last six are like this one I might be crazy to come back next year," said Manager Bill Rigney, who was offered a 1971 contract by Twins President Calvin Griffith before the game. "We had to win that one. Let's win it. Let's not back in."

The Brewers shaded the Royals at Milwaukee as Ted Kubiak, given a reprieve when Rich Severson dropped his foul pop for an error with two out and the bases loaded in the 13th, drilled the tie-breaking single.

Miami, W. Va. Are Similar

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

William and Mary football coach Lou Holtz sees little difference between tonight's opponents, Miami's Hurricane, and West Virginia's Mountaineers, who routed the Indians 43-7 in their opener last week.

"They're just another West Virginia," says Holtz of Miami. "They'll be every bit as tough."

The William and Mary-Miami fracas in the Orange Bowl opens a weekend in which Southern Conference teams face six non-league foes—and will be lucky to escape with two victories.

Richmond's Spiders, whose 21-6 upset of North Carolina State last Saturday night gave the conference its only victory in four starts against outside opposition, go to West Virginia Saturday for the only afternoon game.

Saturday night clashes have Virginia Military Institute, 1-0, at Rice; The Citadel, 0-1, at Vanderbilt; East Carolina, 0-1 at home against East Tennessee; and Furman, 0-1, playing host to Presbyterian. Davidson's defending co-champion Wildcats wait until next week to open at Richmond.

Old Crow begins with men who love to work with their hands.

George Donehoo is Old Crow's Master Distiller. He is the one man who knows all the secrets that give our country Bourbon its special character.

The first scientific way of distilling Bourbon was invented by Dr. James Crow back in 1835. But giving our Bourbon a handcrafted taste is still an art.

"Most of the people at Old Crow never stop working with their hands," says Donehoo. "Come evening, you'll likely find them working on their own projects."

George Donehoo calls on the same craftsmanship making this barometer as he does running our distillery.

Over the years, craftsmanship like this has made Old Crow America's best tasting Bourbon.

Trace barometer pattern on a good piece of mahogany.

Saw outside the lines. Make holes for instruments with drill and coping saw.

Fine sand. Stain. Insert instruments. And now it's getting on toward Old Crow time.

Today In Washington

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
 WASHINGTON (AP) — Abe Fortas has filed his first case in the Supreme Court since quitting the bench over his private dealings with financier Louis Wolfson.

The case, filed Thursday, involves a patent for an instrument that measures the oxygen concentration in the bloodstream. It was declared invalid in April by the U.S. Court of Appeals in New Orleans.

Fortas is the attorney for the inventor, Leland C. Clark, and the manufacturer, Beckman Instruments, Inc.

Ironically, the decision against Fortas's client was written by Judge Homer Thornberry, whose nomination to succeed Fortas as a justice died when the Senate declined to confirm Fortas as chief justice in 1968.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Patrick Cardinal O'Boyle, of the Archdiocese of Washington, says any Roman Catholic in his diocese who performs or assists in performing an abortion is subject to excommunication.

"Direct killing of the infant, whether born or unborn, is a violation of the divine law of God and no civil law, statute, or ruling mitigates or changes God's law," he said Thursday. O'Boyle's statement was in a set of guidelines issued to medical and paramedical personnel.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Interior Department says it will ask industry to tell it how much and what kind of poisons they are dumping into the nation's streams.

The department said Thursday work toward making the first voluntary national inventory of industrial wastes will begin within a month.

Undersecretary of the Interior Fred J. Russell and Federal Water Quality Administration Commissioner David D. Dominick, although acknowledging that some information will be given essential details.

Russell said trade secrets covering operations and processes of plants will be kept confidential.

Rep. Henry S. Reuss, D-Wis., said the policy of keeping some information confidential could result in a government coverup of polluters.

 "The Pentagon has apparently adopted a public-be-damned attitude and is rushing in with General Motors President Edward N. Cole says an air pollution control measure scheduled for debate in the Senate next week is simply not realistic. Cole says GM is not now able to make production model cars that would achieve by 1975 the low emission levels required.

Worry Clinic Scared Off By Self-Reliance

Mary would make a superb wife! Yet she belongs to that group of talented girls who tend to scare off men of their own age. For her poise and self-reliance subconsciously make men feel like "little boys" when they are around her. Men, wake up! To avoid divorce, pick wives from the 3 groups mentioned below!

already scanned her church bulletin for the various songs and had located them in her hymnal.

And some loose papers were on the pew beside her, so Mary meticulously arranged them in a neat little pile.

She even squared up the corners so the margins were all even!

"And her voice was assured," Mrs. Crane told me afterwards. "So I decided she must be accustomed to giving orders, instead of receiving them."

"Just for fun, I thus decided to ask her if she wasn't a teacher." Teachers thus belong to that group which industry refers to as "management."

It includes employers of all sorts, plus admirals and generals, as well as all other officers in our Military Service.

And without such executive leadership, business would stagnate.

Russia thus drove out "management" after the Communists took over in 1917.

But soon it learned its mistake, so the late 1930s, it hired thousands of American engineers and business executives on a "double salary" basis to come back and revive its stagnant economy.

Alas, the very efficiency and poise that make a teacher superb, often work against her when she is looking for romance.

For teachers subconsciously scare many men!

Yet these girls seldom realize why!

Those young men are uncertain and insecure, so they want to find sweethearts who will look up to them admiringly as dominant, self-reliant males.

But when they date a school teacher, they often feel like "little boys" instead of big shots.

For teachers often irradiate an aura of authority that has long been linked with "mamma" and the schoolroom, where those males were ordered around.

Yet school teachers, nurses and Business College graduates are the best sources from which men can select superlative wives.

Older men usually realize this fact, so women teachers often marry men 10 years their senior.

For such older men have attained enough success that they don't feel inferior when dating a school marm.

In fact, older men doubly appreciate the poise, skill in handling children, and the ability to budget funds which teachers usually demonstrate.

Yet the very efficiency and self-reliance that make teachers super-duper wives, often scare off the insecure younger males! It's a real tragedy!

So send for my 200-point "Tests for Husbands and Wives," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 20 cents and learn how to avoid divorce!

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

N.C. Escapee Makes Good, Given Parole

SHELBY, N. C. (AP) — A life termer who walked the line as a model citizen in Illinois after escaping from a North Carolina prison has been given freedom on parole.

He is Ray Aldridge, who started a new life in Rockford, Ill., but was found by the FBI last year. He had served 19 years of a life term for murder in the death in 1948 of a policeman in his hometown of Gastonia, N.C., when he was 21 years old.

On Thursday, a campaign by his friends in Illinois and North Carolina bore fruit, and he was paroled to Illinois authorities. He walked out of a prison in Shelby and said he planned to go back to his job in a Rockford metal factory.

Failure to execute a safety play, while developing his long suit, led to South's downfall in the three no trump contract presented today.

South was confronted with a choice of calls on the second round. Over North's rebid of two hearts, South was tempted to jump to four diamonds, which is forcing to game. He chose instead to leap to three no trump, reasoning that nine tricks would be easier to take than 10 or 11.

West opened the queen of clubs and the king was played from dummy. A diamond was led, East followed with the eight and declarer put up the jack which won the trick. He
