

Guinea Says Attackers Repulsed

ABIDJAN, Ivory Coast (AP) — The government of Guinea claimed today that mercenaries hired by Portugal tried through the night to land on its shores but, Guinean forces repulsed them.

The U.N. Security Council at an emergency meeting Sunday night called for the immediate withdrawal of all foreign forces in the West African country and agreed to send an investigating mission.

"The fight has not ended," Marxist President Sekou Toure's government said today in a broadcast from Conakry, the capital. "The enemy is still here. All night he tried to disembark other mercenaries, but in vain ... Thus the second day of the war that Portuguese colonialism has imposed upon us is beginning."

Earlier broadcasts from Conakry charged that about 350 European and African mercenaries under the Portuguese flag attacked the Defense Ministry and the airport early Sunday to divert Guinean troops from northern and middle Guinea. They said the town of Boke, about 100 miles northwest of the capital near the frontier with Portuguese Guinea, probably would be invaded next. The radio reported captured invaders said six to 10 ships left Bissau, Portuguese Guinea's capital, moored in Guinean territorial waters and sent in boats with the landing party. In a personal appeal to U.N. Secretary-General U Thant, President Toure of Guinea said his country "was the object of aggression by the Portuguese armed forces." He appealed for a force of U.N. troops to help wipe out "the last positions occupied by the Portuguese mercenaries and to pursue the aggressors' ships from our territorial waters."

The Portuguese government in Lisbon said Guinea's charge of Portuguese involvement in the invasion was without "the slightest foundation." A statement said Portugal "has enough troubles already in its African territories, because of its neighbors, to show ... interest in creating more." Toure's government openly provides sanctuaries for guerrillas fighting the colonial government in Bissau.

Radio Conakry also reported without elaboration that French troops in Senegal were taking up positions along the Guinean border.

Guinea is on the west coast of the West African bulge, with Portuguese Guinea, Senegal and Mali on its north, Mali and Ivory Coast to the east, and Liberia and Sierra Leone on the south.

Blight Will Be Worse

Good Chance Of Uniform Sales Tax: Vogler

CHARLOTTE (AP) — The dean of the North Carolina House of Representatives says there is "a good chance" that the 1971 General Assembly will increase the 3 per cent sales tax uniformly across the state to 4 per cent.

Rep. James B. Vogler, D-Mecklenburg, said in an interview Sunday night an additional 1 per cent tax is "the least painful source of revenue. All of the counties are beginning to need it. They've tapped all the revenue sources they can."

Seventy-four counties in the state have the 3 per cent state sales tax enacted in the 1930s. The other 26 voted in the additional one-cent sales levy on an optional basis.

The North Carolina Farm Bureau urged last week that the legislature increase the sales tax uniformly across the state, with the additional 1 per cent being distributed to the counties on a population basis.

Gov. Bob Scott said last week he would not oppose an effort to convert the local option levy into a statewide tax for local government use.

Vogler, who has served 13 legislative sessions, said "it would be better to have it uniform throughout the state. Cities and counties are continually being hounded by citizens for more services. To provide these services will require more revenue."

State Sen. Hargrove "Skipper" Bowles of Greensboro said Sunday he disagrees with Scott and opposes any new tax.

"People can't stand any more," he said. The Democrat said his party's election victories in the state were no mandate for new levies.

Impact Of North Vietnam Bombing Strike Surveyed By Reconnaissance Planes

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — U.S. reconnaissance planes returned to the skies over North Vietnam today to assess the damage caused by the massive weekend American bombing raids.

The Pentagon said the raids on the north ended at dawn Sunday Saigon time, but the U.S. Command in Saigon continued its blackout on all news of the raids. Informers said Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird was doing all the talking to "manage the releases."

Israeli Protest Flights

By MARCUS ELIASON
TEL AVIV (AP) — Egyptian warplanes flew along almost the entire length of the Suez Canal today, passing over Israeli army emplacements in violation of the cease-fire, the Israeli military charged.

Egyptian planes also flew over Israeli positions on Sunday, a spokesman claimed.

Two complaints were lodged with U.N. truce supervision authorities — one for each overflight, he said.

In both cases, two pairs of Soviet-made Sukhoi SU7s sped along the canal, apparently on reconnaissance missions.

No bombs were dropped, there was no strafing, and the Israelis did not fire on the planes, he added.

It was the first time since the U.S.-initiated canal cease-fire was extended Nov. 6 that Israel has complained of alleged breaches by Egypt.

(Egypt's deputy minister of information, Munir, Hafez, denied in Cairo that any Egyptian planes had flown across the cease-fire line Sunday and accused the Israelis of trying to "seize world public opinion.")

Outside North Vietnam, U.S. fighter-bombers and B52s pounded North Vietnamese supply routes through Laos and Cambodia, and the smaller planes strafed and bombed North Vietnamese troops on Cambodia's northern front after the Communists attacked Kompong Cham, 47 miles northeast of Phnom Penh, and Peam Chikang, 30 miles northeast of the capital.

The U.S. Command said one plane, a twin-engine OV10, crashed near Kompong Cham but the two crewmen were rescued in good condition. The cause of the crash is not known, the Command said. It was the first American plane reported lost over Cambodia since Oct. 11.

The air fleet was strengthened by the 85 planes of the 78,000-ton carrier Ranger, one of America's largest, which arrived in the Gulf of Tonkin over the weekend along with the 75-plane carrier Hancock. The Ranger replaces the Oriskany, another 75-plane carrier which is returning to the United States. The Hancock takes the place of the Shangri La, which has gone home to be decommissioned.

Pentagon sources said the purpose of the raids on North Vietnam was to remind Hanoi that the United States is going to continue flying reconnaissance over North Vietnam and will strike back if its photo planes are shot down. The weekend raids were in retaliation for the downing of a reconnaissance Phantom jet over North Vietnam on Nov. 13.

Nhan Dan, the North Vietnamese Communist party's newspaper, said today the U.S. strikes were "unmistakable proof that the United States is resuming its bombing of the Democratic Republic of Vietnam." It again denied the U.S. government's claim that Hanoi agreed tacitly to continuance of the reconnaissance flights after the Johnson Administration halted the bombing of North Vietnam on Nov. 1, 1968.

Informed sources in Saigon said some planes were shot down in the raids, but they would not elaborate. North Vietnam claimed that five planes and a helicopter were downed.

Nhan Dan said the American planes hit "many populated areas, communication lines and economic establishments in Quang Binh and Ha Tinh provinces and other parts of North Vietnam." It claimed "scores" of Vietnamese were killed and "a number" of U.S. pilots in prisoner of war camps were injured.

Laird said the targets of the planes were anti-aircraft gun and missile sites and "related facilities" in the southern part of North Vietnam. Joel Henri, Paris correspondent of Agence France Presse, the French news agency, said the North Vietnamese capital shook from the blast of bombs only 25 miles away.

Seminars Await Governors And Governors-Elect

SOUTHERN PINES, N. C. (AP) — At least 10 governors and 15 governors-elect will gather in Southern Pines next weekend for an orientation session sponsored by the National Governors' Conference.

The orientation will be held along with a meeting of the executive committee of the National Governors' Conference.

The visiting chief executives will be guests of North Carolina Gov. and Mrs. Bob Scott at a reception and dinner at the governor's mansion in Raleigh Friday night. They will proceed to the resort community of Southern Pines the next morning for two days of seminars and meetings at the Pine Needles Lodge.

All the sessions will be closed to the press and public. The seminars will cover such topics as federal-state-local relations, press relations, budget preparations and organization of the governor's office.

A spokesman for Gov. Scott said the governors-elect who have signed up for the sessions so far represent Arkansas, Connecticut, Florida, Georgia, Idaho, Minnesota, Nebraska, Nevada, New Mexico, Ohio, Oklahoma, Pennsylvania, Tennessee, Wisconsin and the Virgin Islands.

Eight of the nine members of the conference executive committee also have signified they plan to attend the meetings. Many of them will serve on the "faculty" for the seminars for new governors.

The eight are Warren Hearnes of Missouri, executive committee chairman, Forrest Anderson of Montana, William Cahill of New Jersey, Linwood Holton of Virginia, Marvin Mandel of Maryland, Robert D. Ray of Iowa, Jack Williams of Arizona and Scott of North Carolina.

The chairman of the orientation seminars will be former New Jersey Gov. Richard Hughes. Other seminar leaders will be Gov. Robert Docking of Kansas and Gov. Russell W. Peterson of Delaware.

Lower Prime Rate

WINSTON-SALEM (AP) — Wachovia Bank and Trust Co., one of the Southeast's biggest banking institutions, announced today it is lowering its prime interest rate from 7 1/4 per cent to 7 per cent.

A Wachovia spokesman said the decrease is effective immediately.

Several other North Carolina banks announced Friday they were lowering their prime interest rates to 7 per cent, following a pattern started earlier Friday by Chase Manhattan Bank in New York City.

This is the second time in two weeks major banks have lowered their prime interest rates one-fourth of one per cent. The rates dropped from 7 1/2 to 7 1/4 per cent Nov. 12.

The prime interest rate is that which a bank charges its best customers, such as large corporations borrowing money on a short-term basis.

Three Charged With Murder

CHAPEL HILL (AP) — Three members of a white motorcycle gang called the Stormtroopers are charged with murdering a Negro during a mass knife fight on the University of North Carolina campus.

Chapel Hill Police Chief W. D. Blake said Sunday that the gang members were charged with the stabbing death of James Lewis Cates, 22, during a brawl outside the university student union early Saturday. A second black was severely cut and was in a Chapel Hill hospital as a result of the fight. Neither was a student.

The trio in jail without bond on the murder charges are Ronnie Broadwell, 28, William Johnson, also 28, and Rufus Paul Nelson, 26. All are from Durham. Police said none was a student.

Also in jail under $5,000 bond are Brian A. King, 27, and Charlie Wilson, 26. King is charged with assault with intent to kill Grady J. Burnett of Chapel Hill, and Wilson is listed as a material witness to the fighting.

A preliminary hearing in district court is tentatively set for Wednesday but a spokesman for the Orange County sheriff's department said the hearing will more likely be Dec. 2. The four are being held at the Orange County jail at Hillsborough.

Blake said Johnson and Nelson were arrested in Durham late Saturday and booked at Chapel Hill before being jailed. He said a crowd of about 60 blacks gathered peacefully outside the Chapel Hill police station during the booking.

Broadwell was arrested earlier Saturday.

Chapel Hill say they still don't know exactly what caused the fighting to break out or how many persons were involved.

Lt. Lindy Pendergrass said a dance sponsored by the school Afro-American Activities Committee was being held at the union and that five members of the white gang were inside the building for some time before the fighting.

The five were the only whites involved in the clash, Pendergrass said.

Boycott Parley

PARIS (AP) — Xuan Thuy, chief of the North Vietnamese delegation to the Paris peace talks announced today his delegation will boycott Wednesday's scheduled session of the talks.

He had scheduled a news conference amid speculation that Hanoi would skip the next session because of U.S. air raids on North Vietnam over the weekend.

North Vietnam said at the time the raids "seriously threaten the Paris conference on Vietnam."

Last May the Communist delegations to the peace talks refused to attend one session following American air attacks on North Vietnam.

In announcing his decision at a news conference at the delegation headquarters in Choisy-le-Roi, a suburb south of Paris, Thuy said his delegation would return to the meetings Dec. 3.

Christmas Parade Scheduled Dec. 5

The Greenville Jaycees will sponsor this year's Christmas Parade on Saturday, Dec. 5 at 10 a.m., according to an announcement by project chairman Tom Reese.

Reese announced that the holiday affair will feature a number of floats and bands from Greenville and other areas of Eastern North Carolina. The traditional Santa Claus float is expected to be among the entries.

Encompassing a "Real Christmas" religious theme, the 1970 event is being backed by local merchants and the participating floats are being constructed at Cannons Warehouse on Dickinson Avenue

Plan Special Court Session

A two week special criminal session of Pitt County Superior Court will be held beginning November 30, with Judge Joshua S. James, presiding.

The special session is being held in an effort to help clear a back log of cases on the Superior Court docket.

by local church groups, and employees of sponsors along with the help and supervision of the Jaycees.

"In parade" band competition will be a highlight of the festivities, Reese said, as several area schools are expected to be represented on the 5th.

"The Jaycees and sponsoring merchants will welcome your support to make this year's parade the best in Greenville's history," Reese commented.

Captured Four Laos Positions

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — North Vietnamese and Pathet Lao forces have captured four Laotian government positions in the opening thrust of their anticipated dry season offensive, informed sources said today.

An estimated three North Vietnamese battalions overran two major positions on the south eastern edge of the Bolovens Plateau Sunday and forced government troops to abandon another position nearby.

Formal Orders

RALEIGH (AP) — The staff of the North Carolina Board of Elections began drawing up today formal orders for a new election in a county commissioner race in Craven County and for a recount of the votes in one Columbus County precinct.

The board Saturday announced its decisions in the two cases, but no action can be taken until formal orders are sent to the local elections boards.

The decisions were among four announced by the board, all involving Republican charges of voting irregularities during the Nov. 3 general election.

Played 82-Hour Football Game

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The temperature slipped to 12 degrees and icy winds gusted to 50 miles an hour as Marquette University students concluded an 82-hour football game for charity.

About 16 players and 40 chanting spectators were still on hand at game's end Sunday night, having helped raise $1,100 toward a Christmas toy project for needy children. The game ended in a score of 788-767.

Heavy Property Damage Due Two Early-Sunday Accidents

SUNDAY WRECK . . . This car overturned on Memorial Drive early Sunday, causing an estimated $3,600 damage to the car. No damage was reported by police to the bulldozer.

More than $4,200 property damage resulted from two early Sunday morning collisions investigated here by Greenville police.

Officers reported heaviest damage resulted when a car driven by Clarence Frank Smith Jr., 19 of 403 West Village Dr. went out of control on Memorial Drive, crossed the three Southbound lanes of the road, the median, and the three north-bound traffic lanes, then overturned against a bulldozer parked on the E. F. Craven Co. lot on the East side of the road.

Police, who charged Smith with careless and reckless driving, set damage to the car at $3,600 and placed damage to a road sign at $30. No damage was reported to the large bulldozer. Gary Wayne Fields, 22 of 1004 North Overlook Dr. was charged with careless and reckless driving following investigation of a 1 a.m. mishap on St. Andrews Street a half-mile North of the U.S. 264 intersection.

Police reported the Fields car overturned, causing an estimated $600 damage to the vehicle.

E. Pakistan Relief Effort Foundering

By ARNOLD ZEITLIN
Associated Press Writer
Dacca, East Pakistan (AP) — President Agha Mohammed Yahya Khan is returning to Dacca Tuesday to look into the foundering relief program for the hundreds of thousands of storm victims still in need of food, shelter, clothing and medicine.

The announcement of the president's return gave no indication how long he would stay. Following the cyclone and tidal waves which hit the Ganges Delta 10 days ago, Yahya Khan made one brief visit to Dacca on his way home from a visit to China and flew over the devastated area for two hours.

That was five days ago, and there has been much criticism because he has not been back.

As government officials and relief agencies battled over operation of the aid program, political leaders in East Pakistan were growing increasingly critical. The dispute is expected to put new life into demands for local autonomy from the central government in West Pakistan. The Red Crescent, Pakistan's

Red Cross, is operating independently of the East Pakistan Relief Commission after a 24-hour dispute over possession of 20 inflatable rafts and outdoor motors flown in Saturday by the British Red Cross. The Red Crescent grabbed the boats rather than contend with government red tape.

CARE, the American volunteer agency, has halted shipment of all relief supplies into East Pakistan.

"We have all we can effectively control," said a spokesman, reflecting unwillingness to let the government distribute the organization's supplies among the 2 million survivors of the disaster, in which more than 150,000 persons—and possibly as many as 500,000—were killed.

John Lee of the Save the Children Fund said the League of Red Cross Societies has advised its members around the world to stop sending personnel, including doctors, to East Pakistan unless specific skills or persons are requested. Personnel and goods are piling up in Dacca, 100 miles north of the stricken area, but red tape and a shortage of transport are keeping the bulk of them from moving out.

Foreign relief officials claimed that any chance for coordinated relief efforts has been lost in the confusion among government and private agencies. But a spokesman for the central government, 1,000 miles away in West Pakistan, said it was doing "all possible" for the aid program and that 240 doctors were already in the field with nurses and medical assistants. The spokesman refused to explain, however, to what extent the army is participating

Miss Rebecca White Is Bride Of Gregory Jones

The Immanuel Baptist Church was the scene of the Sunday afternoon wedding of Miss Rebecca Dawson White and Gregory Lee Jones.

The Rev. Irby Jackson officiated at the 3:00 p.m. double ring ceremony. A program of wedding music was presented by Mrs. Moye Dail, organist, and Miss Donna Stephenson, soloist.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Alexander White of Greenville, was given in marriage by her father. She wore a formal gown in candlelight silk faced peau-de-soie and rose point lace. The gown was fashioned with an empire waist, colonial neckline and long fitted sleeves. The bodice of the gown was of lace with a sheer insert of silk organza. The sleeves and bottom of the gown were edged with scalloped lace as was the detachable chapel length train, which attached beneath the scalloped lace waistline. The skirt also featured appliques of lace.

The bride's fingertip mantilla was of Brussels lace.

The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. John L. Maness and Mr. Johnny Jones, both of Greenville.

Miss Anna White of Greenville, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a Victorian shirtwaist styled gown of ecru lace and moss green velvet. The lace empire bodice was designed with a high neckline and long deep cuffed sleeves edged in ruffled lace. The bodice featured ruffles which extended from the neckline to the waistline of the skirt. The ruffles were accented by tiny green velvet buttons.

She wore a double bow headpiece of moss green velvet with matching illusion veil and carried an arrangement of fall flowers.

Bridesmaids were Miss Cathy Dawson of Eureka, cousin of the bride, Miss Susan Zimmerman of Winston-Salem and Mrs. Mitchell Jones of Greenville. They wore gowns and headpieces styled identical to the maid of honor.

Miss Catharine White of Greenville, sister of the bride, was flower girl. She was dressed as miniature bride and carried a basket of fall flowers.

John Lloyd Maness of Greenville, brother of the bridegroom, was ring bearer.

Gary Jones of Rt. 3, Greenville, brother of the bridegroom was best man. Ushers were Richard Byrum Jackson, Wayne Jones, brother of the bridegroom, James W. Clark III, Robert W. Cannon, Christian Van Nortwick and Elbert Bennett, all of Greenville.

The couple will reside in Kenland Manor Trailer Park.

The bride and bridegroom are graduates of Rose High School and are attending East Carolina University. The bridegroom served in the U. S. Army for the past three years.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church fellowship hall.

The bride's table was centered with a candelabra holding lighted tapers and a floral arrangement of mixed fall flowers.

A buffet for the family followed the wedding given by Dr. and Mrs. C. F. Irons, Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Smiley and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence J. Hohnson.

An after-rehearsal party on Saturday night honoring the wedding party, relatives and out-town-guests was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Chapman Tucker.

Assisting were Mr. and Mrs. Albert Sidney Johnson Jr., Mr. and Mrs. William Gibbs Moore, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Geer McMullan and Mr. and Mrs. Virginius W. Haymes of Virginia Beach, Va.

A bridesmaids luncheon was held on Saturday at the home of Mrs. John S. King. Hostesses were Mrs. King, Miss Linda King, Mrs. James Henry Mullen and Mrs. David Grady Nichols.

Mrs. Spangler Gives Program

Mrs. Evelyn Spangler presented the program at the meeting of the Sweet Gum Grove Extension Homemakers held Thursday afternoon.

The program was entitled "Program Planning Session." Three leader reports were given including Mrs. Mae Briley, family life, reported on "I Am You." Mrs. David Nobles, house furnishings, told of "The Market That Glitters" and Mrs. Mayo J. Rogers, citizenship, reported on "We Praise Thee O God."

Mrs. Nobles gave the devotional for the afternoon.

Refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. Sam Alexander.

Add your own personal touch to prepared or packaged salad dressings or mayonnaise by adding freshly squeezed citrus juice and grated peel.

Couple Exchanges Vows In Ceremony On Sunday

MOREHEAD CITY — Miss Mary Katherine Howard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bruce Howard of Morehead City, became the bride of Joseph Glenwood Proctor Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Proctor Sr. of Greenville, on Sunday at 5:00 p.m. in the First Presbyterian Church here. The Rev. James McKinnon, pastor, officiated at the double ring ceremony assisted by the Rev. Dana Hunt, pastor of the First Christian Church, Greenville.

Mrs. Robert Meadows of Beaufort, organist, and Mrs. James Applewhite Jr. of Jacksonville, soloist, presented a program of nuptial music. Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of candlelight peau de soie and re-embroidered alencon lace. The gown was designed with a scoop lace bordered neckline; full bouffant sleeves with lace cuffs, empire bodice and full A-line skirt. The oval shaped chapel length train was accented with wide lace extending down the back.

Her fingertip veil of silk illusion was attached to a Swedish half crown frame of matching lace. She carried a cascade bouquet of lily-of-the-valley, ivy, miniature carnations centered with a white orchid.

The attendants wore gowns of emerald, royal and vanilla satin fashioned with a bouffant emerald skirt, empire bodice with royal band and large Dior bow in front. The gowns featured short sleeves and V-neck shirt collars in vanilla. They wore Dior bows in royal blue and carried wheat colored baskets of pom pon daisies with blue carnations tied with blue ribbons.

William N. Howard of Greenville, cousin of the bride, was acolyte.

The bridegroom's father served as best man. Ushers were George Atmore and Marvin Buck of Greenville, Robert Salem of Havelock, Bobby Howard of Morehead City, brother of the bride, Walter Jones Jr. of Farmville and William Butler of Greenville and Durham.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the Morehead City Country Club.

The club was decorated with a pink and green motif. The bride's table was covered with an embroidered and cutwork cloth and centered with a silver candelabrum.

Farmer Always On Losing End

Lest anyone think the farmer's plight is getting better, he has only to look at the latest government figures.

The Agriculture Department reported last week that retail costs of market basket foods may average slightly above current levels for the first half of next year.

However, the announcement said, it will not be because the farmer is getting anymore for his product. Instead the farmer's share of the consumer food dollar will average 38 cents, which is down another cent from the third quarter of 1970. The farmer's share has fallen two cents in the past year.

Even the middleman's profits have not increased. Food manufacturer's average 2.4 percent. Profits for 15 leading retail food chains declined from 1.1 percent in 1969 to 1.0 percent in the first half of 1970.

The increase in food prices will be taken up by increased cost of labor and transportation.

It is regrettable that the farmer who initiates the food cycle must see his share of the food dollar steadily decreasing. In the meantime he is seeing his cost steadily rise.

Farming is a business and a big one. Throughout most of this century the farmer has been able to stay in business by automating and adapting to more scientific farming methods. Eventually, however, the farmer will not be able to make the needed improvements if his share of the food dollar continues to shrink.

Dayan Touches Key To Eventual Treaty

Israeli Defense Minister Moshe Dayan is touching a key to settlement of Middle Eastern problems with his plan to reopen the Suez Canal.

Dayan's plan calls for a rollback of heavy artillery from the Suez so that the waterway can be opened.

While Egyptian President Sadat maintains that no settlement will be satisfactory unless it includes total liberation of all territory occupied by Israel, a Suez reopening must be appealing to Egypt. The revenue from the canal's operation must be needed and the water way is a highly prestigious matter.

Of course the Suez has been closed for some time now and the shipping industry has managed to surmount the problem. The Suez must now be modernized to accommodate the super tankers that have been recently developed. This can be done, though, and there can be little doubt that the Egyptians are anxious to get the waterway operating again.

Israel Readies Fresh Demand

By ROWLAND EVANS and ROBERT NOVAK

WASHINGTON — A last, spasmodic Israeli effort to extract major new U.S. concessions before agreeing to start Mid-East peace talks is now being plotted behind the closed doors of the divided Israeli cabinet in Jerusalem.

The concession is agreement by the Nixon administration — publicly if possible, privately if not — to reverse past decisions and take no position of any kind on the future borders of Israel, Egypt, Jordan, and Syria.

As viewed by Prime Minister Golda Meir, such an agreement by the United States would free Israel from all negotiating inhibitions, thus giving her full flexibility in the indirect talks now expected to start next month with Gunmar Jarring, the special United Nations mediator.

But agreement by the Nixon administration to this concession seems utterly impossible. It would directly collide with the peace "formulations" of Secretary of State William P. Rogers in October and December of last year. These confidential U.S. proposals, never formally published by the government, drew a Middle Eastern map defining fairly precisely the U.S. position on Israeli withdrawals from Arab lands occupied ever since the 1967 six-day war.

That Rogers peace effort — as all peace efforts thus far — came a cropper when the Soviet Union informed the U.S. that Egypt would not accept it.

Since that time, the Nixon administration has moved on to other peace initiatives, but not at all inconsistent with the 1969 probe. Accordingly, the map-drawing plan still lurks in the shadows as U.S. policy. This means, for one thing, that the U.S. insists on Israeli withdrawal from the entire Sinai peninsula — including the heights of Sharm - El Sheik, guarding the approaches to the Gulf of Aqaba through the Strait of Tiran.

It also means the return to Arab control of the hotly disputed Gaza Strip, along with other Israeli-occupied areas which Israel has no present intention of yielding.

Thus, what the Israeli government is quietly pressuring the U.S. to do is wipe the slate clean of that abortive 1969 peace probe on grounds that not to do so would hobble the Israeli negotiating position.

Whatever was said publicly, it is known that Israeli Foreign Minister Abba Eban was under instructions from his government to make a strong case to Rogers along these lines during their conversation on Wednesday afternoon.

But that's not all Israel wants from Mr. Nixon as it reluctantly approaches the Jarring talks. Israel also wants far more detailed commitments on present and future U.S. arms aid; easier credit terms for the $500 million worth of aircraft, tanks, and other equipment Mr. Nixon recently agreed to send it; and a strong indication, if they can't obtain an outright commitment, that the U.S. will guarantee to help Israel against a possible (and highly unlikely) armed attack with Soviet collaboration.

In their attempt to extract these new concessions from President Nixon, the Israelis are playing hard on what they know was the President's fury at Moscow and Cairo over the missile violations along the Suez Canal following the Aug. 7 cease-fire. Such evidence of blatant bad faith, they are trumpeting, should wipe the slate clean of any past U.S. concessions to the Arabs. That would allow Israel to start the Jarring talks unencumbered by any pressures from its last bi-power ally — the U.S.

But in fact, the Israeli purpose is deeper than that. They suspect that the talks with Ambassador Jarring will get nowhere and that in a relatively brief time Jarring will report to the UN that his attempt has aborted.

That would throw the whole peace-seeking effort back to the Big Four (Washington, Moscow, London, and Paris).

Strength For Today

THE THING THAT TAKES US BACK

"And when he came to himself, he said, 'I will arise....'"

These words are from the Parable of the Prodigal Son. The boy had left his father, gone into a far country, and got himself into a mess of trouble. But experience seemed to teach him nothing. He sated himself with debauchery, but it taught him no lesson. He lost his money and false friends gave him the cold shoulder. He attached himself to a citizen of that country who sent him into the fields to feed the swine. At last in these unpropitious surroundings, a bit of light began to penetrate his dull mind. The ray brightened into a vision. He began to realize that he was meant for something better than what he had been doing. He, his father's son, was never meant to waste his substance in riotous living or to sit in a pigpen eating carob pods. It was when he realized that he was his father's son, a member of a glorious household, that he said, "I will arise."

Here are the teachings of religion epitomized. We are God's children and therefore of too good stuff to be the willing victims of sin. It is when this thought lays hold on a man that he begins a glorious trek back to God. By Earl L. Douglass

MORE THAN JUST NEIGHBORLY CURIOSITY!

By ART BUCHWALD

For 'Middle America'

WASHINGTON — Will Middle America forgive? We'll know the answer to that question before the 1972 elections.

The Saturday Evening Post has just announced it's going back in business, as a quarterly. Beurt Ser Vaas, an Indiana publisher who bought up most of the Curtis Publishing stock, says the new magazine will look like the old Saturday Evening Post in the days when Norman Rockwell's covers reigned supreme.

"The Post will represent Middle America," said Ser Vaas, "and will not be sophisticated or blase. It will have the qualities of kindness, sympathy, nostalgia and optimism that made it a favorite of Americans for many generations."

All well and good, and I wish Mr. Ser Vaas a lot of luck, but I believe he should be aware he faces a very serious problem.

When the Saturday Evening Post was struggling for its life a few years back, it decided to cut 2 million subscribers from its 6 million circulation list. A computer was hired to weed out older people, small towners and people who didn't have the buying power. The Post advertising people thought they should. The magazine announced publicly it only wanted a young class of readers.

This was a blow for the people who loved the Saturday Evening Post the most — and when they received a notice from the Curtis Publishing Company telling them they had no class and they were being struck from the subscription list, they couldn't believe it. Some became embittered, others depressed and a few committed suicide. Most people who were cut have not gotten over it.

ART BUCHWALD

Unfortunately, these are the same readers Mr. Ser Vaas is going for. How can he get those people whom the old SEP had declared non-persons to subscribe again? Here is a suggested letter he might send out:

Dear Middle American, Two-and-a-half years ago, a computer in our company went berserk and canceled your subscription to the Saturday Evening Post. This computer, which we have since discovered was an effete intellectual snob, had decided, without conferring with anybody, to drop everyone from Middle America and only send the magazine to those who lived in the high-rent districts of this country.

The computer worked alone at night, when no one was in the building, sorting out people by ages and income brackets. Anyone over 40 and who made less than $20,000 a year was erased from its tape.

In the morning when we came to work, the computer pretended that everything was A-okay. None of us here (Continued on page 5)

Feud's Early Start

By JEFFREY D. ALDERMAN

Associated Press Writer NEW YORK (AP) — A lot of people wonder why Bird Thompson and Izzie McCarthy don't speak to each other.

After careful research, which included interviews with many of their closest friends, I have been able to reconstruct the events that led to their now 21-year-old feud.

Come with me to the year 1949. The place: the playground behind the Highland Grammar School in Holyoke, Mass.

It was time for the annual school marble championship. The rules: no "fudging." The stakes: Bird Thompson's collection of jumbo glassies against Izzie McCarthy's pure yellows.

The playing field had been carefully laid out before school that morning. A piece of gold chalk, borrowed from Miss Shea's fifth grade chalk box, outlined the five-foot circular playing area. A hole had been dug in the center, carved out of the tar with a stick.

Bird was then a fifth-grader. Izzie McCarthy was a fourth-grader.

At last the bell rang for recess and a crowd—boys only, of course—gathered around the marble hole.

The object was to knock as many of your opponent's marbles into the hole as you could, while preventing him from knocking any of yours in. If you shot one of your own in, it counted for your opponent. The man who knocked all his opponent's marbles in first, won.

Each of the players took out 10 marbles and dropped them from a standing position into the playing area.

The game went on. Finally it came down to two marbles left and Bird's turn.

The crowd hushed. It was a difficult shot. Bird's glassy was near the edge of the circle; Izzie's yellow, half way between the circle and the pot.

Bird rubbed his Sky King membership card for good luck. He shot hard and the marble sped across the playing area. It smashed into Izzie's yellow with such force that both marbles split in two. Two pieces of each marble fell dead in place, but the other two pieces skittered into the pot.

"I win," cried Bird. "You do not," retorted Izzie. The schoolyard was in an uproar. Because nothing like that had ever happened before, there was no rule to cover it. Not even Horace could decide. (Continued on page 5)

The Greenville churches will assemble in a union service of Thanksgiving at Memorial Baptist Church on Thursday.

The conference of the North Carolina Education Association will come to a conclusion this afternoon with an address by Zenos E. Scott, Superintendent of Schools in Springfield, Massachusetts.

Senator M. K. Blount, of Greenville, is advocating a Driver License Law for the state of North Carolina for the next sitting of the Legislature.

More Business Bumps Coming

By ELMER ROESSNER Despite what you hear from the bull side of the fence, business will get worse before it gets better.

There will be some bullish surges. As General Motors gets back into production, more autos will be sold to people who have been waiting for them. Auto workers, again drawing pay and at higher rates, will add to consumer spending. Industries dependent on the auto industry will flower.

The annual splurge of giving will stimulate retail sales, though perhaps not as much as hoped for earlier. The many temporary retail and postal workers will add, as usual, to the spending. And many strikers' wives and sweethearts will continue at temporary jobs until their man gets on his financial feet again.

Money will be easier, with the lowering of the discount and prime rates, but it will be only slightly better.

An Aura, But— All this will create an aura that good times are here again, and that, too, will help aid the economy. Most business analysts say good times and bad times are partly psychological.

On the bearish side, however, are these depressing factors: Price rises will continue, perhaps in steepest movements yet. Higher wage rates will mean higher prices for autos and trucks. Higher costs of moving any saleable product from one place to another, by rail, truck or plane, will be added on to almost every price. Higher taxes locally will cut spending power. Higher federal taxes will come later.

Unemployment will rise. Industries are continuing to close down obsolete and inefficient plants. Higher wage rates will lead to unemployment of inefficient workers, over-age executives, everybody who isn't producing a profit. Come 1971—

After the New Year, we may really touch bottom. The temporary Christmas help will be out of work. Merchants who guessed wrong on Christmas demand will dump distress merchandise on the market.

Steel users will begin building inventories in fear of a Steelworkers strike in August. This will increase steel activity for a while, but, strike or no strike, will eventually slow the economy as inventories are worked off after the settlement. Recent wage increases will price more American products out of foreign markets. And if the Lame Duck or the Ninety-Second Congress raise barriers against foreign goods, prices will rise in America.

Western nations in Europe are already having difficult times. And many observers blamed the slump in Europe in 1927 and 1928 for the crash in America in 1929 and the subsequent Depression.

Some time in 1971, business conditions may turn better. But not before the crocuses bloom.

Thousands Walk Boycott To To JFK Grave Be Pressed

By LEE BYRD
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Thousands of Americans moved westward across the Potomac Sunday to stay a quiet moment in mournful tribute at the hillside grave of John Fitzgerald Kennedy.

As whispered as the tumbling leaves on Arlington cemetery's slopes of countless white markers, the solemn procession came on the seventh anniversary of the president's assassination. Among those who paused in prayerful remembrance were Sen. and Mrs. Edward M. Kennedy along with the widow and children of brother Robert, whose grave is but a few footsteps from John's.

at Curtis had any idea of the disloyal components that were working against us. It was just by accident, when we received 2 million letters protesting cancellations of our magazine, that we suspected foul play. The computer denied any wrongdoing, but we were so certain it was lying that we applied electrodes to its auxiliary condenser. The agony was too much and it fed out a confession.

The reason it gave for its perfidy was that whenever it made a mistake in an address, the circulation manager kicked it.

The computer said it decided to revenge itself on the company.

You will be happy to know that this computer is no longer with us. After being stripped of all its tapes and fuses, it was sold to the Soviet Union where it is now computing salt mine production in the Urals.

Knowing that as a loyal, patriotic American you would not hold a traitorous computer against us, we are asking you to re-subscribe to the Saturday Evening Post.

As usual, Jacqueline Kennedy Onassis and her two children remained in seclusion on this day, but her mother, Mrs. Hugh Auchincloss, strode alone, cane in hand, to leave a sprig of lilies of the valley.

Ceremonies at the site overlooking the grandeur of Washington's monument-punctuated skyline included a salute from a score of Green Berets, mindful that they represented Kennedy's favorite fighting force.

At Hyannis, Mass., Rose Kennedy, shunned a special service in her son's memory because she wanted to avoid newsmen, friends said, but attended a later Mass.

In Dallas, Mayor Erik Jonsson placed a wreath at the Kennedy Memorial which stands a few blocks from the spot where the president was shot. The ceremony was sponsored by the Greater Dallas Council of Churches.

Honor guard William Albert estimated that upwards of 15,000 had filed past during the day before the Arlington gates closed. Some 28 million are said to have visited since the burial in 1963.

A memorial Mass was scheduled today in Washington at the Holy Trinity Church, which Kennedy attended regularly before he was president.

Contracted For 'Counterthreat'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force has selected a California defense contractor to build a new jet fighter designed for U.S. allies as a potent counterthreat to Soviet-built MIG 21.

The contract for the international fighter was awarded to the Northrop Corp. of Hawthorne, Calif. Current plans call for purchase of 325 planes at an estimated cost of $520 million.

The jets will eventually be assigned to Vietnam, South Korea, Nationalist China and Thailand, the Pentagon said.

WARRENTON, N. C. (AP) — A group of black citizens has pledged to continue their economic and school boycott in Warren County.

A resolution to this effect was adopted Sunday at a meeting of black students, parents, ministers and teachers.

Frank Ballance, an attorney who has been working with black students, said more than 500 attended.

The resolution said, in part, the boycotts would continue until "such time as . . . the principals are willing to come out of hiding and talk with students and their advisors, and the police are removed from school campuses and cease harassment of black people in Warren County."

The Warren schools reopened last Wednesday, some for the first time in 10 days. However, the boycott cut attendance.

Ballance said at the time the boycott was called because black pupils "thought they would not be safe. It will end when they decide to go back to school."

He noted the black students also had presented a list of demands.

Krushchev 'Memoirs' Term Stalin A Brutal Man

NEW YORK (AP) — As premier of the Soviet Union, Nikita S. Khrushchev led the campaign during the 1950s to dishonor the name of Joseph Stalin. Reminiscences attributed to him by Life magazine renew his denunciation but say Stalin's second wife kept Khrushchev alive so he could rise to power.

The first of four installments, published in the magazine's Nov. 27 issue, describe Stalin as a brutal man and murderer of millions who became unbalanced during World War II. He disturbed everyone, his inner circle distrusted him and each other, and as early as 1923 Lenin wrote that Stalin had the requisite qualities for leadership but was not above abusing power, the article says.

The reminiscences say Stalin had an insatiable capacity for alcohol and permitted thousands of Russians to starve because he thought pleas for help were plots against the state.

The reminiscences are being published later in book form by Little, Brown & Co.

Tass, the Soviet news agency, reported last week that Khrushchev said the memoirs were a fabrication, and he was indignant at this. "It was the first time Khrushchev had been quoted in the Soviet media since he was ousted in 1964 by Leonid I. Brezhnev and Alexei N. Kosygin.

Ralph Graves, managing editor of Life, said the magazine had spent a year verifying the authenticity of the manuscript. "We had to be sure that what we had was not a fabrication," Graves wrote in a foreword. He said the editors expected a repudiation from Moscow.

Now 76, Khrushchev has had heart trouble since last June and has been hospitalized twice recently. He lives in seclusion in a villa 15 miles from Moscow.

N.C. Counts 12 Road Dead

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
At least 12 persons were killed in traffic accidents on North Carolina highways this weekend, bringing the death toll for the year to 1,500.

The State Highway Patrol said the count was exactly 100 down from a similar tally at the same time last year.

Two teen-agers died when their speeding car went off N. C. 119 a mile, south of Mebane. They were identified as James Gates Porterfield, 16, of Hurdle Mills and Frank Cicero Young Jr., 19, of Mebane.

The patrol reported two pedestrians were killed when they were hit by oncoming cars. They were identified as Mattie Alice Church, 85, of Rt. 10, Lenoir, and William Johnson, 62, of Rt. 2, Elizabethtown.

Others killed over the weekend were: James Francis Bebbit, 19, of Xenia, Ohio; Claude Calvin Pope, 65, of Rt. 1 Marshville, and Joseph W. Miller, 21, of Cherry Point Marine Air Station.

John Daniel Atkinson Jr., 18, of Whiteville; James Francis Walters, 49, of St. Pauls, and Michael Edgewood Calhoun, 23, of Rt. 1, Shawboro.

Max Holliday Barber, 39, of Rt. 1, Benson and Joseph Alysus Muldoon, 53, of Maryland Park, Md.

Community Club Held Meet

The North Winterville Community Club met Wednesday night.

The group discussed more black representation on the town-appointed committees and better communication among the races.

Calvin Henderson, chairman of the group, gave a report on the Governor's Award Program. He also stated the month of November has been designated as "Clean-up, Paint-up and Fix-up" month for the town of Winterville.

Henderson also gave a progress report on last summer's demonstration and boycotts and stated that lack of proper communication and relationship could bring on more serious movement in the future.

A committee was asked to investigate possible federal aid in acquiring public housing.

A Christmas party was planned for the December meeting. The club was asked to give their support to the Miss NAACP Freedom Fund Contest and Christmas Seal Drive.

Plan Service Of Thanksgiving
An old-time Thanksgiving service will be held Thursday at Christ Temple Baptist Church. A praise service will begin at 10 a.m. Music will be presented by the Grimesland Community Chorus.

The Rev. Hoyt Hammond will preach at 11 a.m. and the Rev. John Chance will preach at 12 noon. A sermon by the pastor of Providence Baptist Church will preach at 1 p.m.

Miss Doris Council, the youth speaker, will speak at 2 p.m.

By Abigail Van Buren

(c 1970 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd., Inc.)

DEAR ABBY: You said, "When it comes to babies crying in church, apply the rules of baseball. Three strikes and out!" Sounds more like W. C. Fields to me. ["Anyone who hates dogs and children can't be all bad."]

Preaching in a church without children is, to me, somewhat akin to preaching in the catacombs or in some other graveyard. You are doing a fine job, Abby. But please stay off the theology kick. People can find enough excuses for not coming to church [and bringing their children] without using you for an excuse.

REV. RICHARD Y. ROSEMAN
REDEEMER LUTHERAN CHURCH
BARTOW, FLA.

DEAR ABBY: Children in church? Even when they cry and are restless? Why not? Where else do they belong?

One of my fondest memories is of the Sunday a child escaped his parents, ran down the aisle and climbed into my lap during the choral anthem. The parents were embarrassed. I was thrilled!

Bring those children and come to church!

REV. WILLIAM B. GARNER
PAYSON, ARIZ.

DEAR ABBY: When a child continues to cry in church and the parent makes no effort to remove him, the parent should consider these facts: A minister works for days preparing a sermon. Dedicated musicians spend hours inspiring choir and organ music. Hundreds of adults make an effort and some come long distances seeking strength and direction for their lives. The never-to-be-repeated moment is at hand. Then, all is lost because a steadily crying baby is permitted to dominate the service, distracting people from the message, causing them to seethe inwardly.

Obviously the baby is unhappy and getting nothing from the service, neither is the parent who struggles to contain him. Then why not honor the child's wishes and remove him? He will be grateful. And so will everyone else.

REV. JOHN MASON
FIRST LUTHERAN CHURCH
BEAVER DAM, WIS.

DEAR ABBY: I have been a minister in the Presbyterian church for the past 46 years and I think the only way children can learn how to act in church is to be brought there. If a baby cries and has to be carried out by the mother, my sympathy goes with her for I know she is embarrassed. Adults who are so nervous and high strung that they cannot endure a few moments of distraction, ought to be in a psychopathic ward in a hospital. I say, God bless all mothers who bring babies to church.

REV. M. L. BAKER, MARSHALL, TEX.

DEAR ABBY: I would rather have more crying babies in my church and fewer crying teen-agers and parents in my office.

JAMES A. DeLONG, LUTHERAN PASTOR
TYRONE, PENN.

DEAR ABBY: Count this clergyman as one who welcomes children in church. You say, "Three times and out?" Maybe you should stretch it to: "Four bawls and a walk." Children are not to be tolerated or ignored. Just included in worship.

EDWARD R. ROWLEY JR.
SOUTHMINSTER PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH
DAYTONA BEACH, FLA.

DEAR ABBY: I learned to preach in a seminary with many small children in attendance. We had no nursery, only a sanctuary. The experience taught me to be more patient with those parents who may not have possessed all the social graces and refinement bestowed upon the saints. But they were trying. And if I must stand in judgment of any man's heart or action, I will judge him by what he attempts to achieve, rather than by what he accomplishes.

GERALD F. HARRIS, METHODIST MINISTER
AUBURN, N. Y.

DEAR ABBY: Our Bishop has a sign in his office I think is quite good. It says, "Promises, like crying babies, should be carried out."

ANOTHER MORMON
SPRING VALLEY, CAL.

DEAR ABBY: A baby crying in church never disturbs me when I preach, but the one thing I can hardly stand is to hear a sharp report of a mother smacking her little one in God's house.

OMIT MY NAME
SAN DIEGO, CAL.

Executives Hard Hit By Joblessness

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — The rising unemployment rate among executives is being reflected by membership in the Forty Plus Club of New York, where men who not long ago made between $15,000 and $100,000 a year help each other find work.

"They've been pouring in here recently," said one member, a commuter from Westchester County who has a big housing bill to meet and six youngsters under 10 to support. Median age is 53, median income about $25,000.

Membership is now up to 180, compared with 90 a year ago, and rising applications indicate that eight to 10 will be added to the rolls each week for at least the remainder of the year.

Activity also is picking up in some of the other Forty Plus Clubs in Washington, Philadelphia, Chicago, Cincinnati, Denver, Los Angeles, and San Francisco-Oakland.

In Manhattan, each member must make a $100 contribution if he is accepted and then work 2½ days a week in the club's drab office, where coats are hung together on a long rack and attache cases are lined against the wall.

Not one of the club members has a steady, income-producing job, but there isn't a loafer among them. The typewriters and telephones are busier than in most offices as members re-write resumes and process job opportunities.

When a member finds a job, and thereby evicts himself, a big brass bell is struck and those not yet so fortunate send up a cheer. One man made it in 18 minutes; most wait months. The average of "outgoings" is six to eight a week.

Times are poor in job markets today, especially when a man reaches 40 and suddenly must seek employment for the first time. The executive veneer sometimes cracks, and most members concede they are bewildered and lonely.

Nearly 50 per cent have never been out of work before and many never thought they would be. They are shocked not only at losing income, but group life and health insurance, pensions, stock options and other fringe benefits.

Many of these men believed they had arrived, and most lived in a style that befitted their image of what an executive should be. Many are pillars of their communities—vestrymen, PTA participants, Boy Scout leaders.

Some now must withdraw their children from private schools. Often the wife has to go out to work. Forced sales of homes, though not common, do occur as members seek to raise survival money.

"Resignation from the country club is the last thing they do," said George Klein, whose specialty when working is manufacturing methods, but whose post in the club is as an aide to James Wilson, president, also jobless.

Klein spoke somewhat facetiously—but not altogether so. He recalls that one member decided to get in a final round of golf before resigning from his country club. By the end of the day he had accepted a job from a new member.

"The rule here is that there are no rules," says Klein. "You look for the breaks."

You'd hardly believe him if you viewed the operation, where men who have had the bad luck to lose their jobs seldom trust to luck to get another. Instead, they work efficiently, quietly, systematically.

One group interviews new applicants. Another checks credentials and references. Counseling is always in progress. And the marketing committee is always busy trying to sell men to a constantly updated list of 3,000 companies.

The matching of resumes with openings seldom ceases, but individuals also can aid their own causes through telephone calls or letters, and many use the club's address as their office for incoming mail.

They use the telephones too, but everyone understands that the system orders members never to dial the middle phone of the three along the wall. It's kept open for incoming job calls.

Please accept our humble apologies for bringing up this subject.

We know you're getting ready for Thanksgiving. For Christmas. For good times.

But other times are coming soon, too. The times to pay your taxes.

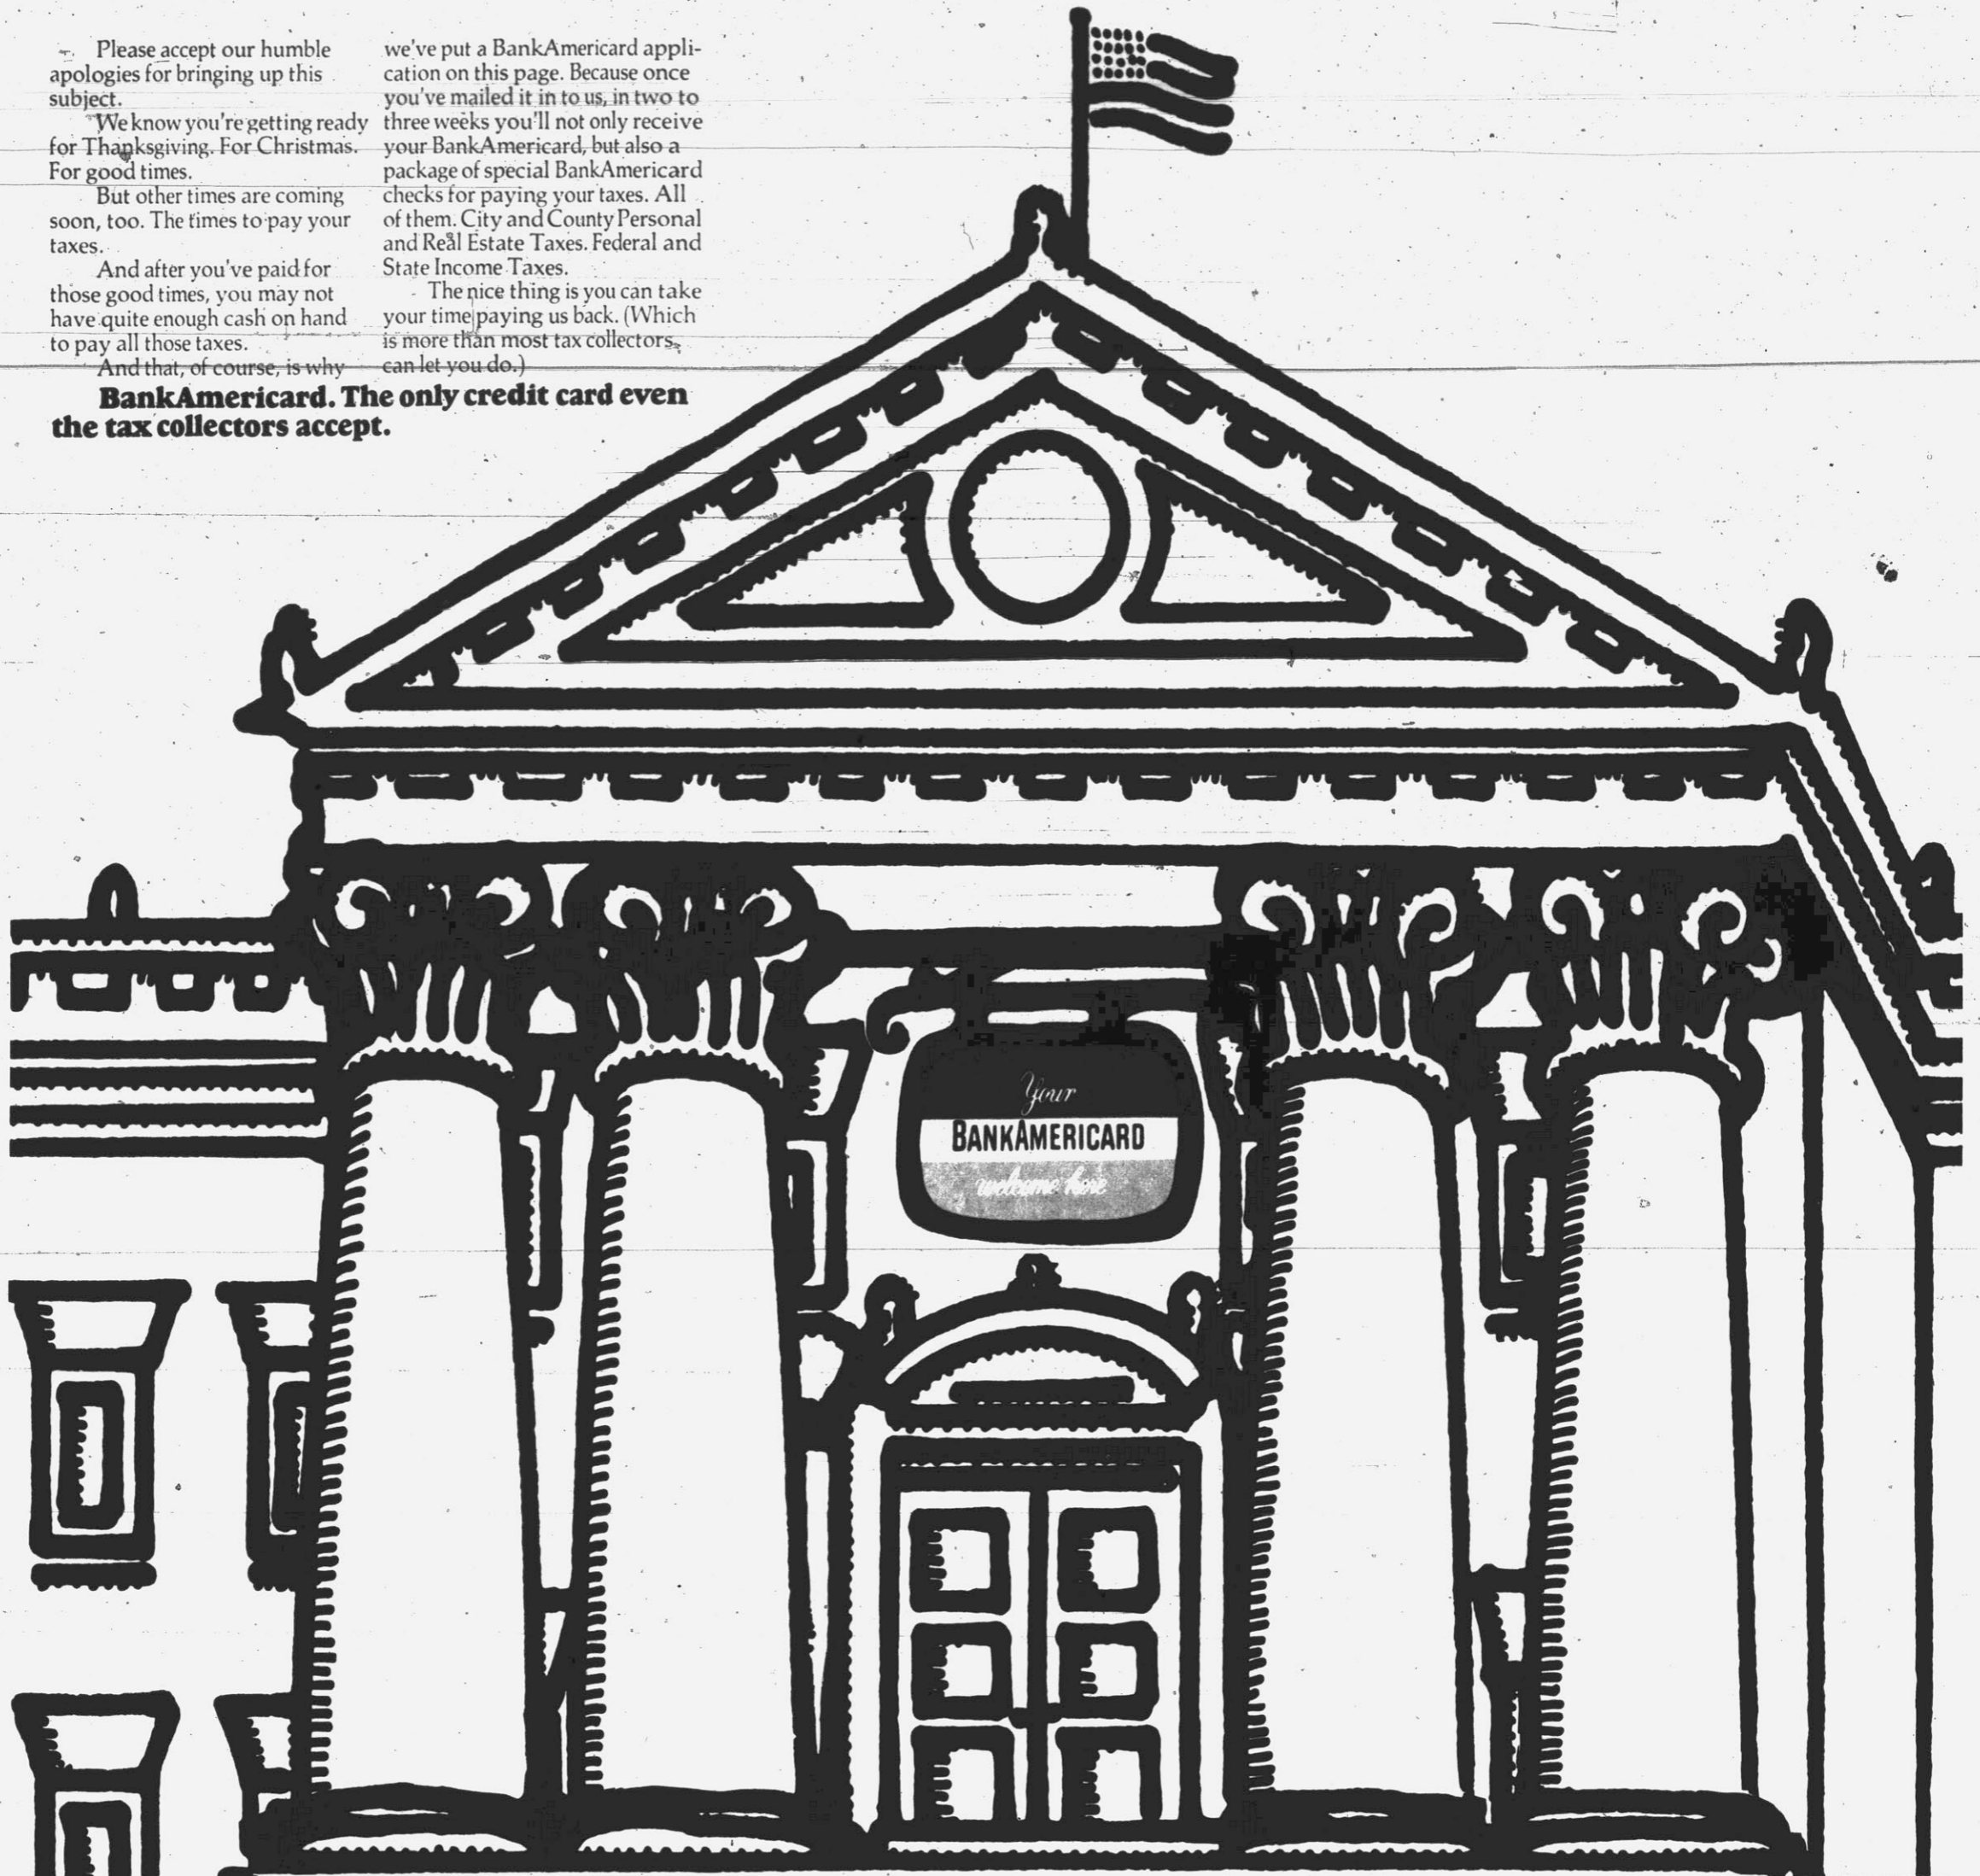

And after you've paid for those good times, you may not have quite enough cash on hand to pay all those taxes.

And that, of course, is why

BankAmericard. The only credit card even the tax collectors accept.

we've put a BankAmericard application on this page. Because once you've mailed it in to us, in two to three weeks you'll not only receive your BankAmericard, but also a package of special BankAmericard checks for paying your taxes. All of them. City and County Personal and Real Estate Taxes. Federal and State Income Taxes.

The nice thing is you can take your time paying us back. (Which is more than most tax collectors can let you do.)

AGREEMENT: Use of the BankAmericard by, or with the consent of, the holder constitutes agreement as follows: Holder agrees (1) to assume responsibility for credit extended by the Bank on the basis of the card; (2) to pay, at such place as this Bank designates, obligations evidencing such credit, and finance charges where applicable, in accordance with billings and the current Customer Payment Schedule, including a reasonable attorney's fee in the event of suit; (3) to notify Bank promptly in writing of loss or theft of the card; (4) the card may be cancelled or modified by the Bank at any time; (5) to surrender the card upon demand; (6) to waive and release Bank from all defenses, rights and claims holder may have against any merchant or company honoring the card; (7) any claim of Bank against holder shall at Bank's option become immediately due and payable if holder fails to perform any terms hereof or make any payments as otherwise agreed.

CUSTOMER PAYMENT SCHEDULE: I understand that if the new balance in the "Purchases" column of my monthly statement is paid in full within 25 days of each billing date, no finance charge will be imposed on that Purchases balance. If my Purchases balance is not so paid, a finance charge at the periodic rate of 1-1/2% per month, which is an annual percentage rate of 18%, is imposed on each billing date on my Purchases balance as of the previous billing date, before deducting payments and credits and before adding purchases made during the month covered by my statement. I agree to pay a finance charge at the periodic rate of 1-1/4% per month, which is an annual percentage rate of 15%, on my average daily Cash Advance balance during the month covered by my statement. I understand that payments on my account will be applied first to my Cash Advances balance, if any, and then to my Purchases balance. The total finance charge shown on my statement will be the total of the finance charges on the Cash Advances balance and the Purchases balance. I also understand that there will be no initial finance charge on Cash Advances or Purchases. I agree to pay a delinquency charge of 5% ($5.00 minimum; $5.00 maximum) on the amount shown "Past Due" on my statement if that amount is not paid within ten days from the date of my statement. If I extend payment of my account, I will make monthly payments in accordance with the following minimum payment chart.

EXTENDED PAYMENT: If your new balance is $10 to $200, your minimum payment is $10. If it is over $200, then your minimum payment is 5% of your new balance. (Balances under $10 are payable in full.)

Blanda Again Wins For Raiders In Final Seconds

By DICK COUCH
 Associated Press Sports Writer
 Racing the clock has become a weekly ordeal for the Oakland Raiders, but their 43-year-old anchor man is having the time of his life.

George Blanda, oldest player in the National Football League, kicked a 16-yard field goal with seven seconds to play Sunday, giving the Raiders a 20-17 victory over San Diego that extended their unbeaten string to seven games.

In the last five weeks, Blanda has provided the heroics—three times with clutch field goals inside the final 10 seconds and twice with touchdown passes in relief of regular quarterback Daryle Lamonica.

Lamonica, who went the distance against the Chargers, failed to throw a scoring pass for the first time in 26 games. But Blanda's second fourth-quarter field goal gave the American Football Conference's Western Division leaders a one-game edge on second-place Kansas City, which battled St. Louis to a 6-6 standoff.

In other games, Miami stunned Baltimore 34-17, Minnesota downed Green Bay 10-3, Detroit posted San Francisco 28-7, Los Angeles topped Atlanta 17-7, Dallas thumped Washington 45-21, Cleveland smacked Houston 28-14, Cincinnati trounced Pittsburgh 34-7, Chicago whipped Buffalo 31-13, Denver riddled New Orleans 31-6 and the New York Jets beat Boston 17-3.

The New York Giants play at Philadelphia tonight.

At Oakland, Mike Mercer's 11-yard field goal with 4:46 remaining pulled San Diego into a 17-17 tie. But the Raiders drove from their own 26-yard line to the Chargers' eight, let the clock run from the 30-second mark down to seven seconds, called a time out and then summoned Blanda.

"There was a little extra pressure, since we took time out and I had a lot of time to think about kicking it," said the 21-year pro veteran.

But his toe was true, just as it had been three weeks ago to tie Kansas City on a 48-yarder with three seconds left—and two weeks ago to beat Cleveland on a 32-yard boot with three seconds left.

St. Louis Jim Bakken kicked a tying 14-yard field goal with 1:49 showing on the clock at Kansas City and the knot held when Jan Stenerud of the Chiefs was a couple of feet short on a 55-yard attempt with 30 seconds to play.

Stenerud and Bakken did all the scoring with field goals in the first regular-season meeting of Missouri's pro powerhouses. The tie left the Cardinals one game ahead of the second-place Giants in the National Football Conference East.

Lots Of Work For Buc Cagers

By WOODY PEELE
 Reflector Sports Editor
 (One of a series)

Less than two weeks remain before the opening game of the 1970-71 collegiate basketball season, and Coach Tom Quinn feels that there is still a lot of work for his East Carolina University Pirates to do.

The Bucs are the pre-season picks to be the team that might knock off the Davidson Wildcats. But if the Freshman Varsity game Thursday night was any indication, it might be a tougher assignment than was hoped.

The Pirates didn't look like championship material in the game, but they did show a lot of hustle in the second period of play and that might be enough to bring them around when injured Jim Gregory returns to the lineup.

One returning veteran who was in the lineup, Jim Fairley, didn't have a good night. He missed a large number of shots, and got only nine rebounds, far below his usual number. Two members of the freshmen team and one other varsity player, Al Faber, beat him on the boards.

"Jim is carrying extra weight this season," Quinn said. "He hasn't come around to it yet. I'm not sure whether he's physically ready to play yet. It appeared Thursday that he isn't ready mentally."

Fairley should come around shortly, however, as the season draws near. Another year like his sophomore season should bring joy to a lot of Pirate fans.

Gregory, who's been in a cast for several weeks due to a severe ankle sprain, was to get the cast off today. He has been working on a special conditioning program designed to keep the ankle from getting too stiff, but it will probably be a day or two before it is known how the program fared. Quinn feels that he'll be ready to play by the time the season is ready to open.

With Gregory back in the lineup, there will be more experience, and more scoring and rebounding ability.

Gregory and Fairley are currently set up to play the corners for Quinn's offense. Inside, it will be sophomore Faber, the biggest man on the team at 6-9.

Faber was the leading scorer and rebounder for the freshmen last year, but of course, lacks varsity experience. Quinn feels that when he needs to be spelled, Fairley will probably move into the pivot with another sophomore Dave Franklin moving into Fairley's outside spot.

Faber was the leading rebounder for the varsity in the Thursday game, and had 19 (Continued on page 14)

Old Crow begins with men who love to work with their hands.

George Donehoo is Old Crow's Master Distiller. He is the one man who knows all the secrets that give our country Bourbon its special character.

The first scientific way of distilling Bourbon was invented by Dr. James Crow back in 1835. But giving our Bourbon a handcrafted taste is still an art.

"Most of the people at Old Crow never stop working with their hands," says Donehoo. "Come evening, you'll likely find them working on their own projects."

George Donehoo calls on the same craftsmanship making this barometer as he does running our distillery.

Over the years, craftsmanship like this has made Old Crow America's best-tasting Bourbon.

Deacs Won ACC Crown At Saturday Supper Table

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Wake Forest's football players won the Atlantic Coast Conference championship while quietly eating supper Saturday.

The team was 1,000 miles away from the stadium at Chapel Hill where North Carolina blasted Duke, 59-34, to give the Deacons the crown. Wake Forest had finished its ACC season the previous week but was tied with the Blue Devils with a 5-1 league record.

Wake Forest Coach Cal Stoll told his players of the Duke loss but reminded them they had a more immediate task — beat Houston. Some cheerleaders and fans outside the motel quarters yelled, "We're No. 1" at the news.

However, the Cougars mauled Wake Forest that night in the AstroDome, 26-2.

Stoll was not discouraged by the loss and the season record of 6-5. "We set our goals and we accomplished them," he said. "This is not a bad start, but many records today. The only ones I felt I had a chance at were Brian Piccolo's career for most carries and the 3,000 yard mark for a career."

McCauley erased both marks. He said, "I'll go back to my room and lie there alone. Then it will all sink in. I think, most of all, I'll be very sad that it is over."

On the Blue Devil side, coach Tom Harp told reporters, "We were soundly, soundly beaten. McCauley has to rate as one of the nation's great backs in recent years."

UNC Coach Bill Dooley said if he had his way, McCauley would win the Heisman Trophy. "He's the best running back in college football," Dooley went on.

Dooley praised Duke quarterback Leo Hart, but there was little Hart could say about his performance against North Carolina. The Kinson, N. C. senior was bottled up for most of the afternoon and was only marginally effective. Still, he ended his career with several school and conference records for passing and helped end Wes Chesson wind up with a handful of receiving marks.

In other ACC games, South Carolina staved off a Clemson surge and beat the Tigers, 38-32; Maryland knocked off Virginia, 17-14; and Tulane rolled past N. C. State, 31-0.

Only Maryland has another game, a nonconference affair with West Virginia at College Park Saturday.

The South Carolina victory was primarily due to a Clemson decision to beware of Dickie Harris, the national leader in kickoff and punt returns. The Tigers used short kickoffs instead of kicking to Harris, and the result was good field position for the Gamecocks. South Carolina quarterback Tommy Suggs wound up his career in the garnet and black with three TD passes of the five his team tallied.

Clemson Coach Hootie Ingram explained: "We'd rather have kicked short than have Harris running by us all day. We felt our chances were better." He was almost right, because it took a touchdown with six minutes to play for South Carolina to win. Maryland senior Kambiz Behbani, a soccer-style kicker, booted true a 24-yard field goal to give the Terps their upset win. It was his first varsity football game.

N. C. State found the Green Wave too much at New Orleans, especially the running of Dave Abercrombie. The back picked up three touchdowns and 246 yards rushing to have the Wolfpack their seventh loss.

ECU Cagers . . .

points, second high on the team. Quinn feels that his size, coupled with some experience, will help the Bucs from being intimidated inside.

Working the backcourt there are several candidates who could take the job. The top candidates are two veterans, Mike Henrich and Julius Prince. Henrich saw duty as a reserve last year, while Prince was a starter late in the year. Neither did much scoring for the Bucs, but are expected to take a more active role this year.

Henrich is the man most likely to take over the job of bringing the ball down court, but Quinn said that this depends on the type game the Bucs are playing. Under certain conditions, Prince or one of the others, Dave McNeill, another sophomore could get the job.

"That's one of the nice things about this year's team," Quinn said. "We have more depth than ever before. We feel that we'll have at least eight or nine people we can depend on. We've never had talent that deep since I've been here," he said.

Another top reserve, who's showing in the Thursday game might bring him more action is transfer Terry Davis, who led the team in scoring with 20 points. His aggressiveness in the game helped to change the tempo to the varsity's favor. "He's been somewhat erratic," Quinn said, "but when he settles down, he's going to help us a lot."

Rounding out the roster, and all expected to see a lot of action are upperclassmen Greg Crouse, rated by Quinn as one of the most improved on the team, Arnie Ruegge, transfer Milan Djordjevic, and sophomores Steve McKenzie and Ernie Pope.

Several phases of the game are still disappointing to Quinn. These include the rebounding, foul shooting, the committing of fouls, and defense. "We've got to work hard on these phases of the game between now and the opener," he said. Rebounding was one of the strong points for the Pirates last year, and Quinn has been disappointed in the showing thus far, especially with the two leading rebounders back.

Allison Wins 300-Miler

HAMPTON, Va. (AP) — Bobby Allison, his Dodge Charger averaging 69.569 m.p.h. for the 120-mile distance, won the Tidewater 300 late model stock car race at Langley Field Speedway Sunday.

The Hueytown, Ala., NASCAR driver pocketed $1,100 prize money, boosting his season winnings to more than $131,000 as he closed out his most successful racing season.

He finished second in the NASCAR point standings to 1970 champion Bobby Isaac. Isaac was in the field Sunday but dropped behind early with mechanical problems and finished 23rd.

Benny Parsons of Detroit finished second in a Ford, and Pete Hamilton of Charlotte, N.C., third in a Plymouth, a lap behind the two leaders.

Rounding out the top 10 finishers, in order, were John Sears, Ellerbe, N.C.; James Hylton, Inman, N.C.; Neil Castles, Charlotte; Elmo Langley, Charlotte; J.D. McDuffie, Sanford, N.C.; Frank Warren, Augusta, Ga.; and Jabe Thomas, Christiansburg, Va.

Every Mistake Known To Man: Holtz

But there must have been times out there Saturday when he felt worse.

—Such as when Richmond's Ray Easterling ran 45 yards with an intercepted pass with 18 seconds left in the half to give Richmond a 27-14 lead.

—Or in the third period when, after a Richmond fumble enabled the Indians to narrow the gap 27-21, Indian running ace Phil Mosser lost a fumble at the Spiders' 8 following a W&M interception.

—That's when Steve Regan, the 155-pound junior who started the season as W&M's No. 4 quarterback, missed one pass, then hit on three in succession — the last one a 40-yarder to split end Dave Knight with 12 seconds left that gave the Indians a 34-33 victory and the league title.

It was an incredible finish in an incredible game in which Regan completed 14 of 20 passes for 261 yards and two other touchdowns, both to Jack Hurley, and ran over a touchdown himself after setting it up with a 67-yard pass play to Hurley. Regan picked up 60 yards-rushing on 13 carries.

Mosser, who last week had set a single-season conference mark for rushing, picked up 111 yards on 22 carries and sophomore Todd Bushnell had 75 in 16 carries and caught a 30-yard pass during the game-winning drive.

"We made every mistake known to man out there," said Holtz, whose team lost four fumbles and an interception, "but we just hung in there."

William and Mary, which finished 3-1 in the conference and 5-6 over-all while running up a school record 529 yards in total offense, now goes to the Tangerine Bowl Dec. 28 in Orlando, Fla., against unbeaten and untied Mid-American Conference champion Toledo' 56-33 winner over Davidson in the bowl game last year.

Wofford Set For Thursday

SPARTANBURG, S.C. (AP) — Wofford College Coach Jim Brakefield says, "We have completed our contact scrimmage work for our national semifinal title game" to be played Thursday against West Liberty State of West Virginia.

"Unless we see something in the films of West Liberty," he said Sunday after Wofford's opponent for the NAIA semifinal game was selected, "we won't have any more contact."

If Wofford, 10-0 for the season and undefeated in 19 games, wins the Thanksgiving Day encounter at Greenville, S.C., it will go on two the Dec. 12 title game at Kingsville, Tex.

The other team for that contest will be decided in a game this Saturday between Platteville, Wis., and Texas A and I at Kingsville.

Wofford is ranked on top in the NAIA poll, West Liberty is eighth. It has an 8-0-1 record for the year.

Greenville was chosen for the game, rather than Wofford's home Snyder field that seats 6,000, because Furman University's Sistine Stadium can handle 12,000.

Cougars Break Losing Streak

WEST HEMPSTEAD, N.Y. (AP) — The Carolina Cougars have broken a four-game losing streak with a 108-92 American Basketball Association win over the New York Nets.

The Cougars got their win Sunday night largely on the sharpshooting of Bob Verga and Frank Card, who teamed up to boost Carolina to a 53-39 intermission lead.

Card had 29 and Verga 27 before the night was over. Joe Caldwell added 22 and George Lehmann 20 as the Cougars handed New York its third consecutive loss.

Cross Country Runners Gather

WILLIAMSBURG, Va. (AP) — More than 350 entries were expected by the start of today's NCAA cross country championship over the College of William and Mary's new 6.2-mile Kingsmill Plantation course.

The course record of 29:40.1 set earlier this fall by AAU mile champion Howell Michael of William and Mary, one of the entries, was considered certain to fall.

Michael finished seventh in last year's meet, but two runners were on hand today who beat him—Steve Prefontaine of Oregon, who was third, and John Bednarski of defending team champion Texas-El Paso, who was fourth.

His goal in the second overtime period Saturday gave Coach Harry Fogleman's team a hard-fought victory over William and Mary in a meeting of divisional champions.

The title came after defeats in three of four previous championship games.

William and Mary staved off defeat when Phil Essman scored with 2:30 left of regulation play to send the game into overtime.

Davidson New Soccer Champ

DAVIDSON, N.C. (AP) — The Wildcats of Davidson College are Southern Conference soccer champions, thanks to West German exchange student Peter Hans.

His goal in the second overtime period Saturday gave Coach Harry Fogleman's team a hard-fought victory over William and Mary in a meeting of divisional champions.

The title came after defeats in three of four previous championship games.

William and Mary staved off defeat when Phil Essman scored with 2:30 left of regulation play to send the game into overtime.

Water Polo

East Carolina University's swimming team gained a 24-10 victory over the University of North Carolina yesterday in a water polo match.

Gary Frederick led the Bucs in scoring with 10 goals. Wayne Norris had eight, Don Siebert had four, and Paul Trevisan and Jim Griffin each had one.

Worry Clinic The Best Gift To Loved One

Milo is devoted to his fiancée. So he wants to show his love by a very unique type of gift. Bridegrooms, the very best way by which to express your affection for your bride is via the method outlined below. It pays rich dividends. So take heed!

By GEORGE W. CRANE
Ph. D., M.D.

CASE 0-588: Milo G., aged 21, is soon to be married. "Dr. Crane," he beamed, "I have a wonderful girl. We checked ourselves on your 'Rating Scales for Sweethearts' and both came out 'Very Superior.' "Our families are delighted and all of our friends think we should have an ideal marriage. I love Polly with all my heart and would like to give her some special gift at our wedding. "But I don't have a very large salary yet, so what would you advise?"

"It can't be a mink stole, ha!"

The ideal wedding present that all smart husbands give their brides is an all-purpose or "family income" insurance policy. Newlyweds naturally expect to live to a ripe old age. But many freak accidents suddenly wrest a husband away from his wife and possible children.

So the usual intelligent bride feels much more secure and relaxed if she knows there is adequate financial support for herself and her babies, even if her mate is snatched away from her by the Grim Reaper.

Yet the typical wife is hesitant to urge insurance upon her husband, lest it seem as if she is unduly mercenary.

So you young husbands should take out a policy that will at least protect your wife till the children are out of high school. The typical "family income" policy is ideal for this purpose. Suppose, for example, that you can afford only a $10,000 policy. The premium thereon is not much higher than that of straight life insurance.

But if you were to die anytime within the next 20 years, your wife would be entitled to one per cent of the policy every month as a monthly check.

On a $10,000 policy, this means she'd get $100 every month for the balance of the 20 remaining years.

Then she'd get the $10,000 besides!

Or $20,000 if you had double indemnity for accidental death. The usual young husband in this year of 1970 can easily finance at least a $20,000 policy, which would pay his wife and babies $200 monthly.

Remember, the average cigarette smoker burns up on his cigarettes at least $150 per year! That would go a long way toward the annual premium on a $10,000 policy.

But let me offer you husbands some of the "fringe benefits" you'll receive from such a thoughtful gift.

Your wife will be less fearful of pregnancy!

So she will not be as likely to avoid and evade the boudoir!

Nor will she need as much money to pay for the "Pill," for she will not worry much about the "Pill" for several years.

And she will be eternally grateful to you for your thoughtful provision for her future financial upkeep, and that of your future children.

Thousands of young widows, often with kiddies, receive an indirect message from their husbands after the latter are in heaven.

For that monthly insurance check shows that his protective arms are still reaching down to earth to shield and safeguard his wife and babies.

Don't wait for an insurance salesman to call! Bridegrooms, call him first!

Your first premium offers you, in effect, a $10,000 bank account! Yet it would require half a lifetime to get that amount in a savings account!

Send for my "Budget Booklet," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 20c.

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

New Novel From Soviet Author

LONDON (AP) — Alexander Solzhenitsyn, the Soviet author who has been awarded the 1970 Nobel Prize for literature, has completed a non-political novel about World War I, a newspaper expert on Soviet affairs reported today.

David Loyd of the Daily Telegraph said the novel, unlike such previous Solzhenitsyn works as "The Cancer Ward" and "The First Circle," criticizes war rather than the Soviet system. The previous books have been published abroad, but not in the Soviet Union.

Moscow has not yet said whether the author will be granted permission to go to Stockholm to receive his Nobel prize next month.

Almost Receives Fireman's Hat

NEW YORK (AP) — President Nixon almost got a fireman's hat Sunday, but the gift was shortstopped by a White House security man.

Michael J. Mays, president of the New York Uniformed Firefighters Association, was scheduled to present the hat in token of the president's honorary designation as U.S. Firefighter No. 1.

At the White House, a Mays spokesman said, a security man took the hat and its box away for an inspection.

The security man did not reappear, so Mays and the President shook hands and rescheduled the hat presentation for Tuesday.

Actors' Guild Saluted Peck

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Actor Gregory Peck is this year's winner of the Screen Actors Guild annual award for "outstanding achievement in fostering the finest ideals of the acting profession."

Charlton Heston, installed Sunday for a sixth one-year term as guild president, presented the 54-year-old Peck with the award, a sculpture of black onyx and bronze.

Southern California's first newspaper was the Los Angeles Star, founded in 1851.

Almost Receives Predict Holiday Toll Over 670

CHICAGO (AP) — An estimated 670 to 770 persons will die on the nation's highways during the four-day Thanksgiving holiday, the National Safety Council says.

The council also predicted Sunday that 29,000 to 34,000 persons will be injured in traffic mishaps over the long weekend which runs from 6 p.m. local time Wednesday, Nov. 25, to midnight Sunday, Nov. 29.

GOREN ON BRIDGE

BY CHARLES H. GOREN
(c 1970 by The Chicago Tribune)

ANSWERS TO BRIDGE QUIZ

Q. 1—As South, vulnerable, you hold:

AKJ92 VAJ9 DJ93 AK73

The bidding has proceeded:

North East South West

1♥ Pass 1♠ Pass

3♥ Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—You have a good sound opening bid facing a partner who has opened the bidding and jumped. You should, therefore, entertain notions of slam. You may temporize, if you choose, by bidding three spades to describe a good suit and then follow up with a vigorous jump in hearts.

Q. 2—East-West vulnerable, as South you hold:

KQ5 V932 VA63 AK954

The bidding has proceeded:

North East South West

1♥ Pass 1NT Pass

3♥ Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—Three hearts. A return to partner's major suit is clearly indicated and if he takes still further vigorous action you may be inclined to show the ace of diamonds next to your have a near maximum one no trump response of nine points.

Q. 3—Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:

AJ8 V9853 V632 AKJ10

The bidding has proceeded:

West North East South

1♠ Dble. Pass ?

What do you bid?

A.—One no trump. While it is our policy to respond with a major suit when partner has made this case as exceptional. It is an evenly balanced hand well suited for no trump with a double spade stopper, and we prefer to let our future rest in that direction.

Q. 4—Both vulnerable, and as South you hold:

Q843 VK10852 V1093 AK

The bidding has proceeded:

West North East South

1♥ Dble. Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—With hearts supported on both sides we should not be too quick to double the opposition for penalties, particularly with seven cards in the suits partner has bid. A single raise to two spades is, therefore, our choice.

Q. 5—Neither vulnerable, and as South you hold:

AK5 V742 VAQ10853 AK

The bidding has proceeded:

South West North East

1♦ 1♥ 1♠ Pass

What do you bid now?

A.—Two spades. Had partner's response come in the absence of an intervening bid, we would lean slightly toward a two diamond bid; but, in view of the fact that he made a free bid, the two spade call is clearly indicated.

Q. 6—Both vulnerable, and as South you hold:

AKJ95 VJ4 VA97 KA104

The bidding has proceeded:

South West North East

1♠ Pass Pass 2♣ ?

What do you bid now?

A.—Discretion calls for a pass. With a partner who has announced possession of practically nothing, it is futile to carry on the fight.

Q. 7—As South vulnerable, you hold:

AK5 VAJ1075 VQ94 AK8

The bidding has proceeded:

South West North East

1♥ Pass 2♦ Pass

2NT Pass 4NT Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—Six no trump. Partner's bid should not be construed as Blackwood in this case, but should be taken as a direct raise of your no trump bid. Partner is in effect asking if you have something more than the 16 high card points which you have promised. Inasmuch as your hand contains 17 high card points, a good five card suit, and a fit with partner, you should accept the invitation.

Q. 8—Both sides vulnerable, and as South you hold:

A1052 V42 VQ1064 AK107

The bidding has proceeded:

West North East South

1♥ 2♦ Pass 3♦

Pass 4♣ Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—Five diamonds. Partner evidently has a good distributional hand with which he did not choose to double. It is reasonable to suppose that your minor suit holdings solidify his two five card suits.

Tobacco TIPS

By SAM J. WEEKS

Three new tobacco varieties will be available for the 1971 growing season. Speight G-41, McNair 135, and Coker 411 meet the standards for release as specified by the five-state tobacco advisory committee.

The advisory committee has members representing tobacco companies, state experiment stations, United States Department of Agriculture, commercial seed breeders and farmers.

These three varieties were approved for release in 1969 after reviewing data from tests conducted in Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia and Florida. Seeds were increased by the breeders and are now available for the 1971 crop.

All three varieties have the necessary physical and chemical characteristics to produce the quality of flue-cured tobacco that is desired by the tobacco trade. Each of the new varieties compares favorably with the two standard varieties Hicks and NC 95.

Speight G-41 has moderate level of resistance to black shank and a high resistance level to both Granville wilt and Fusarium wilt. It is also resistant to root knot nematodes and is moderately tolerant to brown spot.

McNair 135 has moderate resistance to black shank and a high level of resistance to Fusarium wilt. It is susceptible

Farm Scene

By EDWIN L. YANCEY

The 1970 Yearbook of Agriculture entitled, "Contours of Change" has just been released by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. The more than 60 major topic headings ranging from: "Are they Making a Living Down On The Farm?" to "A Single Chariot With 2 Horses: The Population and Food. Races" provide stimulating reading for all citizens.

According to the Honorable Clifford M. Hardin, Secretary of Agriculture, "Contours of Change" is a book about Rural America and the forces - some obvious, some subtle - that are constantly reshaping it.

The book looks not only at the technological revolution in Agriculture, the changing face of Rural America, and the growing importance of America's role in world Agriculture; it peers also into the 1970's and to some extent into the long-term future.

Jack Hayes, Yearbook Editor, states "Contours of Change" is about people, farming, rural areas, conservation, and environment, food marketing and processing, developments in technology, and world food problems. This book looks back to Granville wilt and very sensitive to brown spot. Coker 411 carries a high level of resistance to black shank and a low level of resistance to Granville wilt and Fusarium wilt. It is sensitive to brown spot. More detailed information on these and other varieties is available at the County Agricultural Extension Office.

to the recent past - in some cases the more distant past. It attempts to tell where we are today, and it looks to the future. The Yearbook of Agriculture should be available in local libraries, the Agriculture Extension Service has copies which may be used at the Extension Office in Greenville, or you may get your personal copy by writing to the Superintendent of Documents, Washington, D. C. 20402. The price is $3.50.

Will Hold Meetings

Two meetings of the Provisional League of Women Voters of Greenville-Pitt County will be held this week on Tuesday night and Wednesday morning.

Tuesday's meeting will be at 8:00 p.m. at St. Paul's Episcopal Church. On Wednesday morning, members of the league will meet at 10:00 a.m. at the home of Mrs. H. Joe Taylor.

These unit meetings are being held as partial fulfillment of requirements for the provisional league to achieve full status in the State and National Leagues of Women Voters.

Subject of the required study program, the status of North Carolina education through the secondary grades, is to be presented by the Education Committee of the Provisional League of Women Voters. This committee is headed by Mrs. Oral Parks.

Within this broad subject, particular topics to be discussed are finances, special programs, bussing, desegregation and history of education in North Carolina. Members of the committee making reports at the two meetings will be Mrs. W. B. Bond, Mrs. W. N. Creekmore and Mrs. Dean Hayek.

Because of the Thanksgiving holiday, no meeting will be held on Wednesday evening. A general meeting is planned at 8:00 p.m. on December 9 at St. Paul's Episcopal Church.

Army Probing Hoax In Awards

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army is trying to find out how two dogs were approved as recipients of the Bronze Star medals in Vietnam.

Admitting a hoax, officials said Friday they were revoking immediately the awards listed for "Griffin M. Canine" and "Smokey M. Griffin," cited for "meritorious service in connection with military operations against a hostile force."

The awards were among 21 recommended for members of the 25th Infantry Division.

Army spokesmen said they learned of the hoax when a Vietnam soldier and recipient of the Bronze Star wrote a letter to a St. Louis newspaper.

White

Funeral services for Mrs. Hazel White will be conducted on Wednesday at 3:30 p.m. at the Phillips Christian Church in Greenville. Rev. J. C. McLaurin will officiate. Burial will follow in Brown Hill Cemetery.

Mrs. White is survived by her husband, Roland White; one daughter, Miss Barbara White; and one son, Roland White, Jr., all of the home.

She is also survived by five sisters: Mrs. Willie Mae Cox of Greenville, Mrs. Minnie Counts of Baltimore, Md., Mrs. Margaret Cox and Mrs. Ruth Staton, both of Brooklyn, N. Y., and Mrs. Daisy Wilson of New York City; and one brother, Fred Wilson of Ayden.

The family will receive friends at the Phillips Brothers Mortuary from 7:00 to 9:00 p.m. Tuesday evening.

Moore

Mrs. Beulah Neafus Moore, 65, wife of Armistead T. Moore, died in Pitt Memorial Hospital Sunday night at 11:55. She had been in failing health for several years and critically ill for the past five days.

Funeral services will be conducted at 11 o'clock Tuesday morning at the Wilkerson Funeral Chapel by her pastor, the Rev. Bronson Matney, pastor of the Meadowbrook Presbyterian Church. Burial will be in West Haven Cemetery, Louisville, Ky., Thursday. She resided at 107 E. Moore St.

Mrs. Moore, a native of Louisville, Ky., came to Greenville in 1948 and was employed at Lady's Corset Co. For the past 11 years she had been employed at Pitt Memorial Hospital as assistant housekeeper. She was a member of the Meadowbrook Presbyterian Church. She was married April 17, 1950, to Mr. Moore.

Surviving are her husband, Armistead T. Moore; a daughter, Garnet Lee Hall of Washington; six grandchildren; three great grandchildren; and three sisters, Mrs. Eather Tomberlin and Mrs. Lillian McGarey, both of Louisville, Ky., and Mrs. Zona Daughy of Owensboro, Ky.

Citations Hiked

LOS ANGELES (AP) — It's time to get tough on motorists who would rather pay parking meter fines than higher parking lot fees, says Municipal Court. In the first increase in 30 years, the $2 parking meter citation will jump to $5 on Jan. 1.

REVIVAL MUSIC

WINTERVILLE — The Hart Sisters will present the special music during revival services Tuesday night at the Winterville Pentecostal Holiness Church. The service will start at 7:30 p.m.
