No Lowering Age For State, Local Elections

18-Year-Olds Win Vote On National Level

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Supreme Court approved 5 to 4 today lowering the age for voting in national elections to 18 years old.

But, in another 5-4 vote, the court barred lowering the age for state and local elections.

At the same time, the court unanimously upheld the elimination of literacy tests for voting, wherever they exist in the nation.

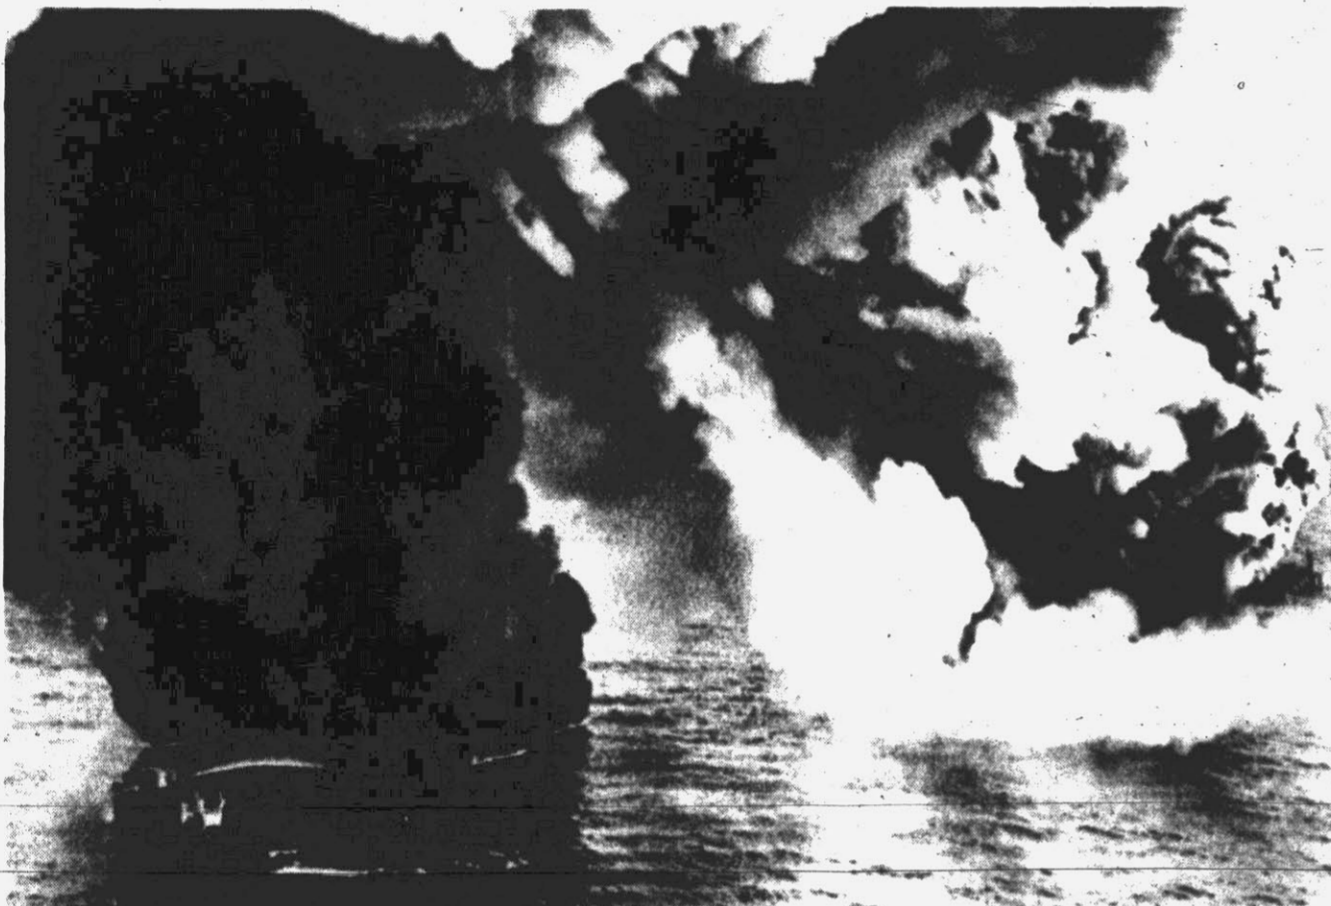

And it ruled 8 to 1 that states cannot set residence requirements of more than 30 days for voting in presidential elections.

The court issued its decision on the 1970 Federal Voting Rights Act at its last public session of the year. The ruling split the court and the justices took several hundred pages to set forth their views. On the 18-year-old issue, Justice Hugo L. Black swung the significant fifth vote. He and Justices William O. Douglas, William J. Brennan Jr., Byron R. White and Thurgood Marshall formed the majority to hold that Congress has the constitutional power to enfranchise 18-year-old citizens for national elections. Then, Black swung to join Chief Justice Warren E. Burger, John M. Harlan, Potter Stewart and Harry A. Blackmun to bar any interference by Congress with the age for voters set by the states for state and local elections. Only Harlan dissented from the abolition of residence requirements of more than 30 days. The 1970 law had lowered the voting age to 18 for all kinds of elections—national, state and local beginning Jan. 1-11 days from now. Oregon and Texas had sued in the court against enforcement of the 18-year-old provision, Arizona had fought the literacy test ban and Idaho had opposed both the residence and 18-year-old provisions. The states maintain the law takes away from them powers reserved to the states by the Constitution to control their own elections. Black traced to 1819 Supreme Court recognition of the power of Congress to regulate national elections. He said if Congress could rearrange districts according to population and could supervise voting to prevent fraud, as the court has said, Congress certainly has the authority to permit 18-year-old citizens to vote in all federal elections. "I would hold, as have a long line of decisions in this court, that Congress has ultimate supervisory power over congressional elections," Black said. "Similarly," he said, "it is the prerogative of Congress to oversee the conduct of presidential and vice presidential elections and to set the qualifications for voters for electors for those offices. It cannot be seriously contended that Congress has less power over the conduct of presidential elections than it has over congressional elections." But, Black said, while Congress has final authority over federal elections the states have the power to set voting qualifications for their own governments.

Poland's New Leadership Indicates Economic Shift

By NICHOLAS LILLITOS Associated Press Writer WARSAW (AP) - Poland's new Communist leadership indicates it will revise the economic plans that spawned last week's rioting and will maintain total allegiance to Moscow. Otherwise, its future course is unclear. Western observers consider the new party First Secretary Edward Gierk a dedicated Communist identified with neither the liberal nor the nationalistic party factions. Radio Warsaw reported Sunday that Gierk, the party's top economist and party secretary of Silesia, had replaced Wladyslaw Gomulka, who resigned along with President Marian Spychalski and three other members of the Politburo. Apparently Premier Jozef Cyrankiewicz was not affected. Gierk's success in keeping his home province quiet was seen as a key to his promotion. As bloody riots shook Gdansk, Gdynia, Sopot, Szczecin and Slupsk—shipbuilding, seaport and industrial centers in the north—workers remained quiet in industrial Silesia, where violence was widespread during the bread riots that brought Gomulka to power in 1956. Last week's disturbances began after the Gomulka regime raised prices 17 to 20 per cent on food, clothing and other essentials in a prelude to a new five-year plan that was to begin next month. In a television address after his elevation, Gierk said: "We will have to reconsider carefully the problem of the economic plan for next year and for the whole five-year period." The riots, he said, resulted from "inconsiderate concepts in economic policy. We will remove these." He said his administration will consult with "the working class and intelligentsia." He said hostile forces cannot "lead us astray or return us from the road of Socialism. We are going together with the whole great Socialist community and chiefly with our tested friend and ally, the Soviet Union." Radio Warsaw said the party's Central Committee instructed the new regime to consider "possibilities for improving the material situation of low-wage families with many children, who, as a result of the change in prices, have suffered most severe losses in their budgets." Observers anticipated bonuses or wage raises will be given to compensate for the increased living costs. A mining engineer whose first job was in a French coal mine at the age of 13, Gierk is now 57. He developed an efficient party machinery in Silesia and earned a reputation as a top notch administrator. He had been mentioned for some time as Gomulka's successor. Sunday's events returned to prominence Mieczyslaw Moczar, 56, the hard-line former head of the secret police who lost a power struggle to Gomulka in 1968. He is one of the five new members of the Politburo named to replace those purged. Moczar was interior minister and leader of the Partisans, a veterans' organization that pushed a purge of Jews in the aftermath of the Middle East war in 1967 and student riots early in 1968. FBI Reveals N.C. Crime Rate Rising

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS - Charlotte, the state's largest city, had decreases in rape and aggravated assault. Following is the comparison of listed crimes for the four major cities, with 1969 figures listed first: Charlotte: Murder, 35-57; Forcible Rape, 59-43; Robbery, 293-366; Aggravated Assault, 1,805-1,115; Burglary and Breaking and Entering, 1,110-1,454; Larceny, 1,062-1,478, and Auto Theft, 769-1,061. Greensboro: Murder, 21-17; Forcible Rape, 19-22; Robbery, 77-139; Aggravated Assault, 722-678; Burglary and Breaking and Entering, 1,110-1,454; Larceny, 1,062-1,478, and Auto Theft, 431-382. Raleigh: Murder, 9-9; Forcible Rape, 14-16; Robbery, 63-101; Aggravated Assault, 340-392; Burglary and Breaking and Entering, 594-871; Larceny, 1,123-1,662, and Auto Theft, 228-216. Winston-Salem: Murder, 22-18; Forcible Rape, 20-28; Robbery, 82-157; Aggravated Assault, 750-666; Burglary and Breaking and Entering, 1,176-1,516; Larceny, 929-1,346, and Auto Theft, 320-327. The Federal Bureau of Investigation says robberies increased in Raleigh, Charlotte, Winston-Salem and Greensboro in the first nine months of 1970, compared to a year ago. The FBI reported on various categories of crime in the four cities in a weekend survey. Though robberies increased in the four cities—the only North Carolina cities on which the FBI keeps statistics—only Charlotte showed an increase in murders. The Queen City, which has earned a reputation for its high murder rate, had 35 killings during the first nine months of 1969, but reported 57 during the same period this year. Burglary and larceny of items worth more than $50 also increased in all four cities. Charlotte had the highest increase in all categories. Raleigh had a drop in the number of stolen cars, while Greensboro registered a decrease in murder, aggravated assault and auto theft. Winston-Salem also registered decreases in murder and aggravated assault.

General of VC Is Killed

By GEORGE ESPER Associated Press Writer SAIGON (AP) - The general commanding a Viet Cong division was reported today to have been killed in an allied bombing raid in eastern Cambodia two days ago. A captured Viet Cong told South Vietnamese forces the commander was Gen. Muoi Tri, who led the Viet Cong 5th Division, a veteran of fighting against American forces in Vietnam which pulled back into eastern Cambodia about the time allied forces crossed the border last May. He had commanded Viet Cong forces in the Saigon area during the 1968 Tet offensive, the biggest enemy action of the war. Lt. Gen. Do Cao Tri, commander of South Vietnamese forces in Cambodia, told Associated Press correspondent Dang Van Phuoc at Kompong Cham that the body of the Viet Cong general had not been recovered. Troops of the Viet Cong 5th Division had been launching heavy attacks on Cambodian troops along Highway 7 and had cut them off from Phnom Penh. A week ago more than 2,000 South Vietnamese paratroopers landed in the area to help lift the siege. In South Vietnam, U.S. and South Vietnamese forces claimed killing 162 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong troops in a weekend of stepped up action before the Christmas ceasefires.

Senate Still All Tied Up

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF Associated Press Writer WASHINGTON (AP) - The Senate today held the key to congressional adjournment but remained locked in debate over the controversial supersonic transport—SST—program. Senate sources say once the SST fight is resolved disputes over other bills can be settled quickly. But they admit the prospects of this occurring before Christmas are dim. SST supporters tried Saturday to shut off debate on the program but the move was rejected 48-42. A new effort is scheduled Tuesday but there seems little chance supporters can gain the necessary two-thirds vote. The roadblocks to adjournment all lie in the Senate, largely due to changes made by Senate-House conference committees trying to compromise differences in bills passed by each chamber. Most of the changes go against the position the Senate has taken. Besides the SST controversy, a break is believed near in a stalemate over U.S.-Southeast Asia policy, but the Senate is making only slow progress on the massive Social Security-welfare-trade bill. The Senate took one test vote on President Nixon's family assistance plan Saturday, rejecting 65-15 a move to kill the proposal. However, there appeared no early sign of a vote on the plan itself. The White House said over the weekend that President Nixon would force the 92nd Congress to convene immediately after the current session ends on Jan. 3 unless there is action on his legislation. The President can do this by simply refusing to sign the congressional resolution that sets Jan. 21 for the next session to start. The SST is part of an appropriations bill for the Department of Transportation. Under the current parliamentary situation, the Senate can only accept or reject the entire bill. It cannot vote separately on the SST, which it earlier rejected 52-41. The House always has supported the program. A proposed compromise fell through late Saturday when Sen. Henry Jackson, D-Wash., one of the leading SST proponents, reportedly rejected it. The compromise would have allowed funding of the Transportation Department and of the SST program until early next year when Congress could again consider the matter.

Living Grows Costlier

WASHINGTON (AP) - A family of four living in a city needs 18 per cent more money to maintain the same standard of living it had in 1967, says the government. Based on spring 1970 costs, a 6 per cent increase from the year before, a family of four must earn $6,960 for a low standard of living and $10,664 for an intermediate standard. The report by the Bureau of Labor Statistics Sunday did not include an additional 3 per cent cost increase since spring, which would raise the figures to $7,168 and $10,893. Other government figures show more than half the nation's work force, some 45 million persons, average only $6,292 a year or less than the amount required for a low living standard. The government report said taxes accounted for 30 to 40 per cent of the increase in the different family budgets. The estimated cost of Social Security, disability insurance and personal income taxes was $1,064 for the low living standard and $1,920 for an intermediate budget. The government said family living costs were lowest in small cities and the South, although budget costs varied widely among cities and regions. In another development related to the nation's economy, Dr. Paul A. Samuelson said Sunday he believes new steps taken by the Nixon administration to cure inflation are working but more is needed. The 1970 Nobel Prize winner in economics said Nixon passed up a chance early in 1969 to use his leadership to back up fiscal and monetary policy. Samuelson recommended compulsory arbitration of labor disputes that affect the public interest.

1943 Allies Wondered If Germans Would Aid In 'Repelling' Russians

LONDON (AP) - Ten months before D-Day, Allied military strategists discussed the possibility of repelling the Russians if they suddenly began overrunning Nazi Germany. Gen. George C. Marshall, World War II U.S. chief of staff, asked his British counterpart in August 1943 if he thought Germany would help Allied troops enter Europe "to repel the Russians." The quotation came from official minutes of the Combined Chiefs of Staff which were made public today in London and Washington. Sir Alan Brooke, British chief of staff, told Marshall he had been thinking along similar lines. He said, however, that Dr. Eduard Benes of Czechoslovakia did not think the Russians would try to sweep over Europe immediately. The British marshal quoted Dr. Benes as believing Soviet Russia would be bled so badly by the war that it would need a few years to get its economy going again. Marshall commented in a meeting of the chiefs of staff that Russia was turning an "increasingly hostile eye on the capitalist world." The Russians, he said, were becoming increasingly contemptuous of their Western allies. Although minutes of the meeting did not background the reasons, apparently the Russian view stemmed from Allied refusal to invade Europe as soon as Moscow would have liked. The major part of the records of meetings of the Combined Chiefs of Staff, a total of 100,000 documents, was made public today by the British and American governments. Allied military leaders themselves fought running battles over strategy in Europe. Time after time, the British (Continued on page 16)

Biggest Tax Bite On Milwaukee Earner

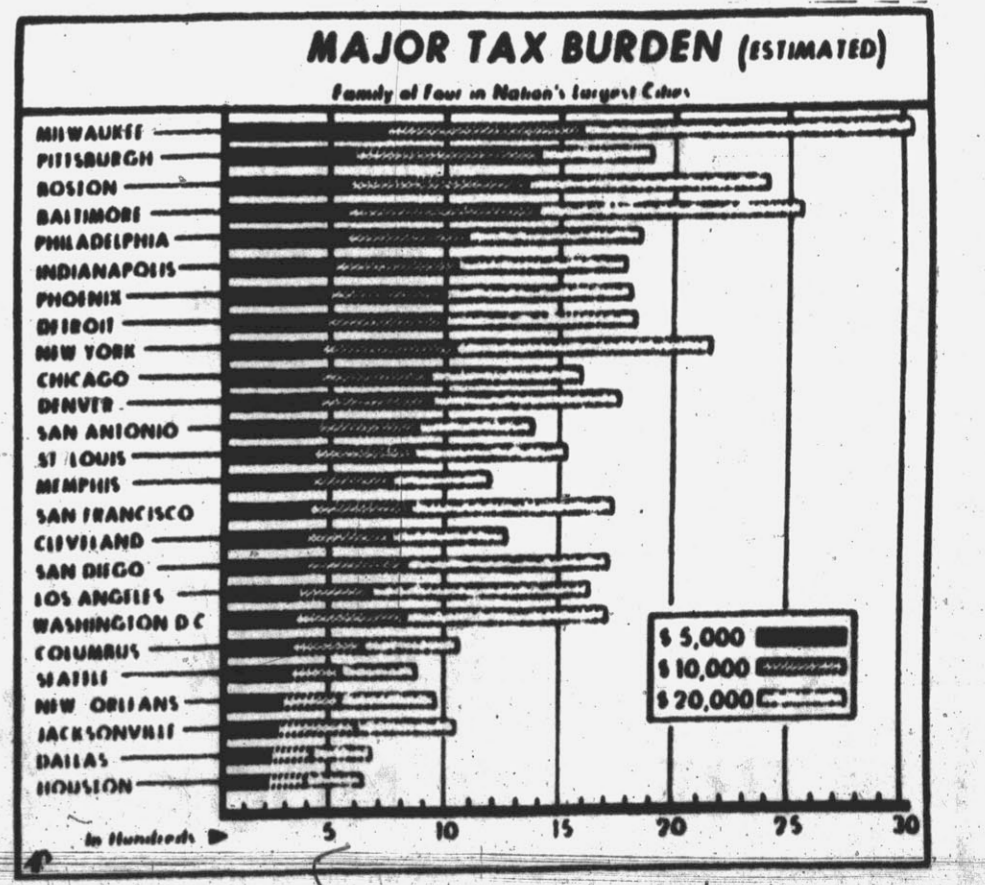

WASHINGTON (AP) - Come tax time in the nation's 25 largest cities, the Milwaukee wage earner writes the biggest check for state and local tax bills. And, according to a fresh study on the subject, the differences in the tax bills in these cities is not gradual. They're sharp, extreme. For instance, a taxpayer in Milwaukee with a wife who stays home, two children, an income of $10,000 and a fairly new house costing around $25,000, has to find $1,586 for his nonfederal tax bills. In Houston, Tex., the same man need only come up with $400, that is, 4 per cent of the total income compared with a rate of 15.9 per cent for this income in Milwaukee. Sharp differences are also evident in property tax schedules. The average is $2.37 per $100 in market value in the 25 cities. The top is $4.33 in Boston, the lowest $1.07 in New Orleans. In only six of the 25 cities is there no income tax: Dallas, Houston, San Antonio, Tex.,

Memphis, Seattle and Jacksonville, Fla. In 15 cities, there are both local and state sales taxes. Combined rates of 6 per cent are in effect in New York, Philadelphia, New Orleans, Denver and Pittsburgh. The comparative study by the District of Columbia government determined the average bill for such things as income, property, sales taxes was 8.8 per cent at $10,000. In nine cities the tax burden was progressive: The more money made, the more money paid. There is an income tax obligation in these cities. The tax bill is regressive—higher incomes bear a lesser percentage burden—in nine cities, principally because there is usually no income tax and comparatively high sales and use taxes. Two cents tax on a food dollar hurts the poor more than the rich. Several factors influence tax burdens. What the city's businessmen pay affects the personal tax bill.

State-collected oil taxes, the study says, largely account for the low personal levies in New Orleans and the three Texas cities. Residents in one city will demand more in community services than citizens in another. More service costs more money. Costs of providing services vary, too. Southern and Western cities generally face lower salary demands from employees. Their relatively mild climate saves spending for such things as snow removal and heavy street repairs.

Buck-Wetherington Vows Couple Exchanges Vows In Double Ring Ceremony

The Black Jack Pentecostal Free Will Baptist Church was the scene of the wedding of Miss Elsie Hellen Wetherington and Phillip Gordon Buck on Sunday at 3:00 p.m.

The Rev. R. M. Stewart officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The church was decorated with white gladioli and white mums with two seven branch candelabra entwined with ivy flanked by baskets of emerald palms.

A program of wedding music was presented by Mrs. R. M. Stewart, organist, and Miss Vicki Hardee and Miss Louise Hardee, solists.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Ricks Wetherington of Rt. 1, Vanceboro, and was given in marriage by her father.

She wore a gown of white bridal satin with a chantilly lace bib with seeded pearls. The gown was designed with a high collar neckline and sleeves trimmed in chantilly lace. She wore a mantilla with chantilly lace trim and carried a bouquet of a white orchid with white bridal flowers and satin streamers with greenery.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester H. Buck of Rt. 3, Greenville.

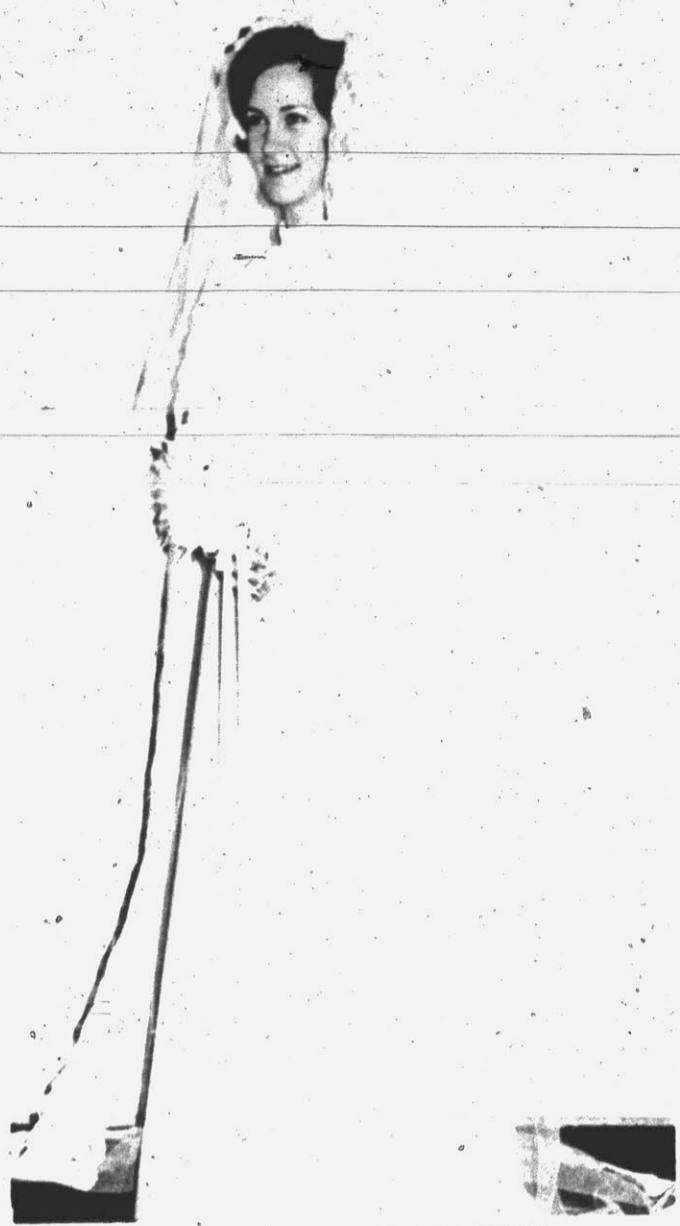

Mrs. Edna Hilton of Chocowinity, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a floor length A-line gown with an empire waist and long tapered sleeves with a red velvet bodice and white bridal satin skirt. She wore a red velvet bow headpiece with white net and carried a single white mum with red velvet streamers.

Bridesmaids were Elaine Stokes and Debra Page, sister of the bride groom, both of Greenville, and Sandra Martin of Gimesland. They wore gowns identical to the honor attendant with green velvet bodices with white bridal satin skirts. They wore green bow headpieces and each carried a single white mum with green velvet streamers.

The father of the bridegroom acted as best man. Ushers were John Lewis Bailey and Phil Page, brothers-in-law of the bride groom, and Randy Stokes, all of Greenville.

The bride's mother wore a light blue dress with navy blue accessories and a white mum corsage. The mother of the bride groom selected a red dress with navy accessories and wore a mum corsage.

Miss Sheila Mozingo Weds Sunday Afternoon

Miss Sheila Gayle Mozingo became the bride of Jack Gregory Johnson in a double ring ceremony Sunday at 3:00 p.m. in the First Presbyterian Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Eloise Mozingo of Greenville and the late Herbert J. Mozingo. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Johnson of Falls Church, Va.

The candlelight ceremony was performed by the Rev. Richard Gammon. A program of nuptial music was presented by Mrs. Jack Kittrell, organist, and Miss Julie Harris, soloist.

The bride wore an empire A-line dulcet satin gown with a rose pointed lace bodice. The gown had a high neckline, scalloped edged lace at the waist, and long bishop sleeves with wide cuffs. The back was enhanced with a detachable lace-bordered train which was adorned with lace appliques and small satin buttons down the center.

Her elbow length illusion veil was attached to a matching satin bow with a lace flower which was centered with iridescents and lace petals edged with seed pearls. She carried a formal cascade bouquet of white orchids and holly tied with red velvet bows.

The chruuch was decorated throughout with the holiday traditional red and green decorations. In the background were candelabras and greenery with bouquets of crystal chrysanthemums and holly. At the altar was a prie-dieu with red bows and the pews were marked with red satin bows and holly.

Mrs. Paul Michael of Norfolk, Va., was matron of honor and Miss Pattie Parnell of Greenville was maid of honor. They wore two-tone formal dresses in emerald and Nile green. The bodice was of emerald green velvet rimmed with gold braid. The full bishop sleeves and skirt were Nile green chiffon. They wore headpieces of emerald green velvet double bows and carried white baskets filled with red carnations, white pom poms, and holly tied with emerald green velvet bows.

Bridesmaids were Miss Barbara Fussell and Miss Elaine Griffin of Greenville and Miss Marcia Jones of Mebane. They wore dresses identical to those of the honor attendants and carried baskets filled with red carnations, white pom poms, and holly tied with red velvet bows.

Steve Johnson, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man. Ushers were Carlton Kimbro and Otha Hicks of Yanceyville, Roy Hutchins of High Point, Ronnie Jones of Mebane, and Bill Sage of Greensboro.

Immediately following the ceremony, the mother of the bride entertained guests at a reception in the church fellowship hall.

Following a wedding trip to unannounced points, the couple will reside in Greenville.

The bride is a senior at East Carolina University and is majoring in early childhood education.

The bridegroom is also a senior at East Carolina and is majoring in business.

On Saturday, a bridesmaids luncheon was given by Mrs. W. L. Fussell at the Three Steers Restaurant. Later that evening the parents of the bridegroom entertained the wedding party and out-of-town guests at an after-rehearsal dinner.

Goode-Ipock Vows Said In Double Ring Ceremony

In a double ring ceremony Sunday at four o'clock, Miss Peggy Earle Ipock became the bride of Gregory Milton Goode.

The Rev. C. Norman Bennett Jr. performed the ceremony in Memorial Baptist Church.

A program of organ music was presented by Joseph Goodwin. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. George Thomas Ipock Sr. of Rt. 3, Greenville, and Mr. and Mrs. Hal Kelly Goode of Butner.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore an empire waisted gown of satin pea which featured a bodice banded with lace and sheer puffed sleeves with lace cuffs.

Her fingertip veil of illusion was attached to a cluster of organza roses and lace petals. She carried a colonial nosegay of pink carnations and American beauty roses.

Miss Della Raye Dail of Greenville was maid of honor. She was dressed in an empire waisted gown of burgundy velvet with a lace bodice featuring puffed sleeves with wide cuffs. She wore a headpiece of burgundy illusion and lace. Her bouquet was a colonial nosegay of pink carnations accented with American beauty roses.

The bridegroom's father served as best man. Ushers were Michael Kelly Goode of Pittsburgh, Pa., brother of the bridegroom, and Carey Sevier Bount of Greenville.

The bride is a graduate of East Carolina University and is a teacher at Wake Forest Senior High School.

The bridegroom is a graduate of the University of North Carolina, where his fraternity was Sigma Phi Epsilon. He is now continuing his education at East Carolina University.

A reception was held following the ceremony at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Leon Raymond Hardee, after which the bridal couple left for a wedding trip to unannounced points.

The couple was honored at a dinner party prior to the rehearsal at the Holiday Inn, given by the parents of the bridegroom, Mr. and Mrs. Hal Kelly Goode.

Busy Fellows In Gay Nineties

LIVERPOOL, England (WNS)

Working men over 90 years old have formed a national Gay Nineties Club to knock down the theory that women live longer than men!

"The old ladies sit lazily at home where they can be easily found by reporters," said William Kemp, 92, who still works an eight-hour day making window shades!

"We working men don't have time for interviews." Club members include a 96-year-old farmer, a 93-year-old store clerk, a 91-year-old glass engraver and a 91-year-old sports coach.

The club's current problem: members are so busy at their jobs that they can't find time for club meetings!

Young Heroine At Young Age

NANCY, France (WNS) — Six-year-old Christine Robert, who has just been awarded the nation's bronze medal for courage and devotion, is the youngest French heroine ever to receive the award. When her 20-month-old brother Bruno fell into the swift-moving Dhuy River last February, Christine tried to pull him out from the river's bank but couldn't. "I didn't know how to swim, but I thought there's no time like to present to learn," she said. She jumped into the water, grabbed her little brother with one arm and a tree branch with the other, then shouted until help arrived. Now that she has her medal, she has signed up for swimming lessons. "I shall become a champion," she predicted.

Problems Face Tobacco Farmer

Tobacco is far from being dead as a crop for our area, but the annual tobacco meeting held here last week showed just what the farmer is facing.

S. N. Hawkes, extension agronomist specialist from N.C. State University, reported on the skyrocketing cost of growing and harvesting tobacco.

He said that, based on a yield of 2,100 pounds per acre and with labor contracted rather than furnished from the family labor pool these estimates apply: labor cost, $396.39; materials, $223.98; machinery, $265; and selling costs $46.36. This means that the farmer has a cost per acre of $904.73.

For this reason it is necessary for the farmer to make a high yield per acre if he is to make a profit from his crop.

The tobacco producer over the years has proven himself to be as adaptable to market conditions as any producer of farm crops can be and Sam Weeks, Pitt County tobacco specialist, showed how the tobacco farmer has increased his yield.

In 1929 there were 53,000 acres of tobacco produced in Pitt County with an average yield of 628 pounds. By 1946 acreage was down to 41,700 but the yield per acre had increased to 1,142 pounds. In 1970 there are an estimated 22,056 acres of tobacco in the county with an average yield of 2,060 pounds per acre.

In producing more pounds per acre the farmer has reduced his cost and this has enabled him to stay in business and make a profit. At the same time over those years the farmer has had to change the kind of tobacco he was producing more than once to meet the changing demands for tobacco. He has had to cease using some chemicals which reduced his labor costs because they affected the quality of the leaf. He has seen certain varieties discounted because the type leaf they produced was not wanted on the world market.

Our tobacco farmers have always been sensitive to the needs of the tobacco industry and they have gone to great effort to produce the kind of leaf that is wanted by the domestic and foreign markets.

It is because of this that U.S. produced bright leaf is in demand throughout the world. Because our tobacco farmers are willing to change as market conditions dictate they have been able to survive in the face of some huge problems.

An Experience Playing Santa

By HENRY WOODHEAD

The Charlotte News

CHARLOTTE — "You're lucky," said the Santa Claus whose place I was to take for an hour.

"For some reason the nursery schools haven't shown up. Usually in the mornings we have three or four of them lined up to see Santa."

I had applied the talcum powder and rouge to my face and the white shoe polish to my eyebrows and natural moustache, and was grappling with the $400 Santa suit with the real rabbit fur and leather puttees. I borrowed the regular Santa's black, size 11 shoes.

My feet slid around in them. "That's okay," said Santa, who in real life is a former school teacher, Richard Horstman. "You won't be doing much walking

"After about four hours of this," Horstman continued cheerfully, "you're wringing wet, your back aches from bending over to put kids on your knee, and you have a splitting headache. It's a lot of fun, though."

I wanted to believe him. The original Saint Nicholas, according to legend, was a man of ample proportions, stout of girth, and brimming with good cheer. I am short, slender and often grim.

Star for an Hour

As I checked myself in the mirror, it seemed to me that here was a short, slender newspaper reporter with a big pillow slung from his neck, trying to look like Santa Claus. But, after all, I was only going to be on for an hour.

"Remember," said Craig Brown, promotion director and Santa Claus manager for the Charlottemall, "when you're out there, you're Santa. That's the whole great moment for these kids. Keep your voice low and don't be loud. That scares the kids."

When I took my place I realized why the nursery schools hadn't arrived earlier — they had been waiting for me.

One nursery school after the other descended on Santa, rivers of children: infants, toddlers, seven-year-old sophisticates, rich kids and poor kids, all expecting me to fulfill their vision, their holiday dream.

I was supposed to talk to each child and listen to his Christmas list, pass him a candy cane, and take a picture by remote control cable of each kid who came with his mother, and give him a numbered slip which matched his picture. His mother could buy the picture if she wished.

Mastering the Routine

For about four children in a row, I couldn't put it all together. The young lady from the picture booth politely informed Santa he was forgetting to give the children their picture slips, and thus bungling the only commercial aspect of the Santa program.

I sharpened up after that. I began learning how to be Santa. For one thing, I learned that a five-foot, eight-inch Santa should not try to place on his knee a four-foot child. He tends to slide off. Santa should not try to reach behind him for a candy cane on a nearby shelf while a child is on his lap. The child tends to fall off.

The children for the most part were shy and spoke in whispers. I would be a discreditor to Art Linkletter, for I can't remember even one of the darndest things they said, if indeed they did say one.

All I remember is a blur of brand names of toys. And the shy faces of the kids, some twisting their hands in the presence of Santa, some of them so awed they forgot their own names.

Laughter and Tears

Of all the kids, two stand out in my memory. One was a little blond-haired boy, apparently retarded, who approached Santa across the 10 feet of carpet with both hands held out, as if he were greeting an old friend and bubbling with joy at the prospect. He was open, full of laughter, and unafraid.

The other child was an infant whose mother marched him up in a shopping basket, and who with his first glance at Santa, lapsed into weeping hysterics. You can't win 'em all.

Toward the end of my hour I realized that sweat was pouring off my face. I touched my forehead and my finger came away white and sticky. My beard was slipping noticeably, and one tall youngster reported to his mother that "Santa had a moustache under his beard."

"How'd I do?" I asked the young lady in charge of the picture-taking operation.

"You were okay, but you weren't as good as an experienced Santa," she said. "An experienced Santa is loud and joyful when there are no kids around, but when they are, he is quiet, soft and secretive," she said mysteriously.

I left it at that. I went home, took a shower and two aspirin, dressed, and left by the chimney.

United Fund's Goal Tantalizingly Close

The United Fund is tantalizingly close to its goal of $126,000. Last week Chairman Joseph O. Clark reported that collections and pledges had reached $112,496.66. This means that only an additional $13,500 has to be collected in order for United Fund to meet its goal for the second consecutive year.

The only problem is that raising the final funds is usually agonizingly slow. It need not be this way, however, if those who have not contributed will see that their pledges are turned in to a United Fund worker.

The United Fund supports worthwhile causes in our community. All of us benefit and thus we should all help support the United Fund.

In-Fighting On Chairmanship

By ROWLANE EVANS and ROBERT NOVAK

WASHINGTON — Within the space of three days an obscure Pennsylvania politician suddenly emerged as the favorite to succeed Rep. Rogers Morton of Maryland as Republican National Chairman — then abruptly sank from sight.

What happened to Robert Kunzig, an ex-aid of Senate GOP leader Hugh Scott and now head of the General Services Administration (the federal government's housekeeping agency), stems from the in-fighting President Nixon has allowed to develop since Morton was designated as the new Secretary of the Interior.

Actually, a self-starting bid to become National Chairman by hard-charging Sen. Robert Dole of Kansas neared success late last week before Scott and Morton led a drive to shoot him down. Scott then suggested his political protege, Kunzig. By last Monday, at the Republican Governors' meeting in Sun Valley, Idaho, Kunzig was being quietly boosted by both National Committee leaders and Presidential aides as the next chairman. Three days later, however, Kunzig was blocked at the White House.

Next in this game of ring-around-the-rose - National Chairman was Mr. Nixon asking Morton to give him a list of four or five prospects. Lame-duck Rep. Thomas Kleppe of North Dakota, defeated in the recent Senate race, will be prominent on that list and now is being privately boosted by Scott.

At the heart of this carrying-on is the surprising fact that Mr. Nixon and the three men who will name the new chairman — Atty. Gen. John Mitchell and White House aides H. R. (Bob) Haldeman and Robert Finch — don't know what they want. Thus, they have issued a wholly unnecessary invitation to ambitious politicians to organize boomlets for themselves.

Kansas Republicans are now lobbying members of the National Committee with phone calls and telegrams to get the job for the tough, articulate Dole. He put himself in the race with a private visit to Bryce Harlow in the White House just before Harlow (who was Mr. Nixon's first choice) resigned as a Presidential counselor. A conservative specializing in ringing oratory in defense of Mr. Nixon, Dole is definitely on Morton's list for the President. But he has been hurt by Scott and party moderates as well as opposition from some state chairmen.

These state leaders want a full-time chairman, long on practical political experience and short on speech-making. Disenchanted with the 1970 Nixon-Agnew campaign, these politicians want to

Strength For Today

"STILL THE BEST AGE"

"Things are different nowadays." But are they? While it cannot be proved that history repeats itself, certainly there is a general pattern which manifests itself in all generations and among all classes, races and nations of mankind.

Many people of mature age like to look back over the past, and shaking their heads with disapproval they claim that the world is going to the dogs. Anybody who does not recognize the seriousness of the world problems we now confront is blind and stupid, but the world is not going to the dogs. Young people are the same as they have always been, although today many of them are criticizing the whole human situation with bitterness.

The national and international mood which we should fear is that of complacency. When we get to the place that we neither criticize ourselves or others we are in for a drubbing. This old earth of ours was created millions of years ago, and if we have not learned some serious and important truth as we have lived, failed, risen and pressed on through the years, then we are in a bad state indeed.

Circumstances have changed radically in the past few centuries and in the past few decades. But basically we are the same as people have been through the ages. We make a mistake when we compare the present with the past and declare that a nowadays people are selfish, stupid and perverse. They have always been. With all our stupidity and folly this is the best age humanity has known in its history.

A Secret SST Report

WASHINGTON — President Nixon was asked at last week's press conference why he didn't release a top secret report on the SST that the White House had commissioned. The question was asked because it is believed that the report was unfavorable to the SST.

The President replied he had no objection to the substance of the report being made public. The problem was that when reports are made for the President, they're supposed to be held in confidence. That's what Mr. Nixon said.

Max Lindbergh, a friend of mine who is an aviation consultant, believes he knows what is in the report. "It has nothing to do with the environment," Max told me. "The report says the reason we shouldn't build the SST is that by the time it comes off the assembly line there won't be any places left for Americans to go."

"I don't understand," I said. "If we start on the SST now, it will be ready by 1979. Most scientists agree the SST is not a practical plane to fly over land because of its sonic boom. Its only value would be in flying over water, from one continent to another, in less than three hours. Therefore the success of the plane will be dependent on tourists, and there is some question as to how many tourists will be flying by 1979."

"I still don't understand." "In 1979, we'll be in a trade war with Japan because she dumped all her television sets in the United States. The Japanese will retaliate by refusing to let us dump our tourists in Tokyo.

"Chiang Kai-shek on Formosa will ban U.S. tourists because we wouldn't let him attack the mainland of Red China. And Red China will refuse tourist rights to the United States because we wouldn't let Chiang Kai-shek attack the mainland."

"What about Australia?" "Australia will turn down SST tourist flights because we put a high tariff on wool, and Hong Kong will do the same because we won't let any men's suits into the United States."

"India?" "India won't be talking to the United States because we gave fighter planes to Pakistan."

"Pakistan?" "Pakistan won't be talking to the United States because we gave tanks to India."

"Surely South Vietnam will let us fly Americans to Saigon."

"Yes, but we won't find any American tourists who will want to go there."

Other Editors Say A Single Goal

(Wilson Times)

Until now, most people have assumed that there is an irreversible adversary relationship between conservation — preservation of the environment — and industry. This assumption is wrong, and the quicker it is realized by everyone that, generally speaking, there is no such thing as good and bad guys in the business of seeking environmental preservation, the quicker reasonable solutions to our problems will be found.

The Louisiana Forestry Association, in its publication "Forests & People," published copies of two speeches on the subject of environment. One was given by a conservationist before a forest industry group. Both speakers are scholars of the highest order.

Among other things, the conservationist makes the point that, "Realism forces us to conclude that we cannot return to a primitive paradise." The timber executive parallels this point with the comment: "...I believe that through such working alliances, working together and with the government, we can and will provide sound, constructive, realistic solutions to our environment problems."

The great unanswered question is not whether conservationists and industry will learn to become allies — that is inevitable. The main question is whether the public will exercise the necessary restraint — population control — and a willingness to share in the ultimate cost of environmental preservation.

Real growth of the soybean industry began on Sept. 3, 1920, when 1,000 growers attended a "Cornbelt Soybean Conference" in Indiana and formed a soybean organization, the American Soybean Association, which has since spent millions of dollars in developing markets for soybeans around the world.

Interest in soybeans had been aroused in World War I, when soybean oil was imported from Manchuria to relieve the shortage of fats and oils. Soybeans got a tremendous boost in World War II when regular sources of imported oils and proteins dried up and crash programs were launched to grow more soybeans. Up until that time, the U.S. had imported about 40 per cent of its fats and oils. Production of soybeans rose from 78 million bushels in 1940 to 210 million bushels in 1946.

After the war the U.S. changed from a net importer of oils, proteins and oil seeds to a net exporter. In 1956 the ASA and the USDA signed a contract for joint promotion of the soybean abroad.

The American Soybean Institute was organized a year ago and it and the ASA are spending $1.6 million to promote soybeans in Japan and 16 other nations. Sales to Japan reached 81 million bushels in 1969.

However, there is one fly in the soybean oil. Once a foreign country has been introduced to soybeans, if climate and available land permit, they start growing their own and building crushing plants.

Columbia, for example, now produces almost 100 million tons of its own edible fats and oils, and imports only around 25 million tons. Furthermore, it had a crushing capacity of 500,000 tons.

The soybean has had its effect on the American diet. Up until a few years ago the dairy states persuaded Congress to outlaw colored margarine, and housewives had to whip a coloring liquid into pure white margarine or stick to butter. But as demand for soybeans rose, it developed that the dairy states were also suited for soybeans and the dairy states did not object to colored margarine.

There lurks in every human heart a desire of distinction, which inclines every man first to hope, then to believe, that nature has given him something peculiar to himself." — Samuel Johnson.

Learned From Mails

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail: Ninety per cent of U.S. women now work at some time during their lives. Married women work an average of 25 years, those who never marry 40 years.

Lo, the poor Indian, isn't a vanishing species. As a matter of fact, American Indians have increased since early in the century from 332,000 to nearly 600,000 today.

If you read for nine hours straight even at a slow rate, your eyes would have traveled across about a mile of print. The average slow reader covers 184 yards of type an hour.

Your pet pooch can prove who he is by his nose. A dog's nose-print is as infallible proof of his identity as a fingerprint is among human beings.

Don't worry about spoiling your baby by too much loving, mother. Some doctors believe that children rejected by their mothers not only fail to achieve good health but even fail to grow at a normal rate.

Too much sleep can make you dopey. A study at a Boston hospital found that men who habitually slept nine hours or more a night tended to be introverted, passive and mildly depressed. Those who got along with six hours sleep, or even less, were more efficient, hard-working, and ambitious.

Pun of the week: Sign at Bromley Mountain, Manchester, Vt.: "We hope to ski you again."

Doctors against themselves: Psychiatrists are their suicide worst enemies. Their suicide rate—58 per 100,000—is the highest among medical specialists. The rate for doctors in all fields is 33 per 100,000.

Safety slogan: "When driving, it isn't the right-of-way that counts. It's the RIGHT way."

Worth remembering: "When you see what some girls marry, you realize how they must have hated to work for a living."

Odd Christmas customs noted by the National Geographic Society: Armenian Christians celebrate with boiled spinach, in the belief the Virgin Mary ate this vegetable the night before Christ was born. In southern Syria, children believe it is not Santa Claus but the youngest camel ridden by the Three Wise Men which brings them Christmas presents. So, the night before, they set out bowls of wheat and water for the small animal.

Readers Of Nature's Signs Predict Harsh Winter Is Coming

CLEVELAND, Ga. (AP) — It's going to be a cold winter. If you don't believe it, look at the shucks on this year's corn crop.

If that's not enough to prove it to you, take a gander at the hair on a calf's neck or the hair on a squirrel's tail, for that matter.

These are "sure" signs for predicting the weather to many north Georgia mountaineers. They have been used for decades to predict the weather and the mountaineers swear by their validity.

Frank Reed, 81, Cleveland, Ga., became famous in the profession of mountaineer weather prognostication in 1960 when on March 1 he predicted that the roughest spell of the entire winter was yet to come.

It was in March 1960 that severe snows blanketed the Southeast three times, paralyzing all mountainous areas of the South. Many mountaineers called the spell the most severe in recent history.

Reed's wife says he has studied signs of the weather for as long as she can remember.

Here are the fruits of his studies:

When a mule rolls in the dirt and shakes it off, the weather will be dry. But if he leaves the dust in his coat, it will rain.

When your cats run and play in the house, it is a sure sign of a storm.

When the moon "news" and passes the evening star of a group of stars, there will be a change in the weather with rain or snow.

In the summer, when the leaves on a tree turn "bottom side up," Reed says, "it means rain."

Thick shucks on corn always mean a rough, cold winter.

When the hair on a calf's neck or a squirrel's tail is thick and shaggy in the fall, the winter will be a rough one.

A trained meteorologist with the National Weather Service told a congressional committee recently that there are "indications" that the Southern and Eastern United States will experience a slightly colder winter this year.

After all, the hornets are building their nests closer to the ground this year. This, according to Reed, is also a sure sign. So, it looks like it's going to be a cold one.

Weed Yield Up In N.C.

RALEIGH (AP) — North Carolina growers produced an estimated 795 million pounds of flue-cured tobacco this year, an increase of 99 million over 1969, the North Carolina Crop Reporting Service said.

The estimate includes poundage sold this season plus some 12 million excess that is expected to be held over and sold next season.

Flue-cured yields this year averaged 2,079 pounds per acre, the highest since the acreage-poundage program started in 1965. The average yield in 1969 was 1,838 pounds per acre. This 1970 crop was harvested from about 382,500 acres and compares with 378,500 acres last year.

Movie Workers In Worst Depression

By BOB THOMAS
Associated Press Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — It will be a grim Christmas for thousands of film studio workers caught in the worst depression in Hollywood's 60-year history.

Traditionally, the end of the year has always been a slow period in movie production. But this year shooting has come almost to a dead halt. Scarcely a half-dozen feature films were being made in the studios.

Nor does the situation look any brighter for 1971. Only a handful of movies have been announced to start early next year.

No wonder Hollywood labor has been holding mass meetings and issuing dire statements.

Almost the same number of films has been made by U.S. companies as last year—221 vs. 219 in 1969. This year 131 were made in this country against 115 in 1969.

But the major companies made only 70 films in America, compared to 86 in 1969. The rest were independents, many of them made by shoestring producers on tiny budgets.

And an increasing number of the major company films were made in New York and in other locations throughout the nation. That has meant less work for the Hollywood labor pool.

"This has been the worst year I've ever seen," says one veteran labor leader. "My members are so discouraged they're trying to find work in other industries. If this continues, Hollywood will no longer have the corps of workers that has made it the most efficient place in the world to make pictures."

This deterioration of the skilled labor force worries others, too. Gov. Ronald Reagan and Sen.-elect John Tunney met with Hollywood workers in a recent rally to promote a production return. Both favored a 20 per cent exemption of profits on American-made films.

But the chances of Congress passing such a law to protect one state's industry seem remote. The government has never granted the film industry any special consideration.

The television picture is what makes the over-all situation seem even worse.

In previous years, Hollywood's workers could count on employment in TV series to offset the loss of feature production. But the television networks have been hit by economy waves, too.

Honorary Degree For Scientist

DECORAH, Iowa (AP) — Dr. Norman Borlaug, the Iowa-born agricultural scientist who received the 1970 Nobel Peace Prize, has been awarded an honorary doctorate of science degree by Luther College.

Borlaug told 400 persons who attended the ceremony Sunday night the world must expand cereal grain production by 20 per cent in order to gain on hunger.

Prelate Begins Visit In Vietnam

SAIGON (AP) — Terence Cardinal Cooke, Roman Catholic Archbishop of New York and vicar of Roman Catholics in the U.S. armed forces, arrived today for a weeklong visit with American servicemen saying "We fervently hope for a peace with justice in 1971."

The cardinal flew in to Tan Son Nhut Airport by commercial airliner.

"At Christmas everyone thinks of home in a special way," he said. "My visit is a kind of touch of home and I hope I'll be able to bring some happiness to the men who are separated from their loved ones."

The oldest public building in the United States, the Palace of the Governors, was built in Santa Fe, N.M., in 1610.

divorce the National Committee from ideology and return to nuts - and bolts politics.

Moreover, Dole is opposed on grounds that a combined Senator - National Chairman role will bring him into collision not only with Democrats but with Republican Senators certain to part company with Mr. Nixon on legislative issues — including Scott. As chairman, Dole taking the offensive for the President on the Senate floor, critics say, could actually compound Mr. Nixon's legislative problems.

But nobody knows what kind of a chairman Mr. Nixon really wants — a stump speaker, a technician, or an amiable front - man. Late this week he indicated he may be leaning toward the front - man by asking Morton to sound out Rep. Kleppe, amiable and attractive but neither speaker nor technician. Amazed by the request, Kleppe gave no answer to Morton.

Besides selecting a chairman, Mr. Nixon has other headaches in the post - Morton era, including whether to send his long - time political aide, Murray Chotiner, to work out of the committee.

That was the President's original plan for Chotiner, but Morton blocked it. If Mr. Nixon now follows through, Republican politicians fear the committee will merely become the political arm of the White House, drastically downgrading its operations in statewide races — particularly with Mitchell, in charge of the President's campaign, serving as commander - in - chief.

All this, atop the departure of Morton, deputy chairman James Allison, and assistant chairman Elly Peterson, has ravaged morale among the party's jittery working politicians. The longer the search for Morton's successor lasts, the lower that morale will sink.

"There is always Europe," I said.

"Hardly. The British will boycott the United States because we won't allow the Concorde, which they built with the French, to fly to the United States. And the French won't allow tourists to land in France because that's the way the French are."

"What about West Germany?"

"West Germany will be mad at us by then because we pulled 10,000 American troops out of NATO."

"Imagine the Soviet Union will give us problems because they have built an SST of their own."

"Not because of that, but because Life magazine will have published the memoirs of the deposed chief of state, Premier Alexei Kosygin."

"What are the chances of an American tourist business in the Middle East?"

Max shook his head sadly. "Don't ask."

Eight Died In Traffic

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

At least eight persons were killed this weekend in traffic accidents on North Carolina highways, including a woman whose car collided with her brother's.

The toll brought the total for the year to 1,677, still down from the 1,748 killed on the state's highways at this time last year.

The State Highway Patrol said Mrs. Lula House, 30, died in a Dunn hospital from injuries received when her car crashed headon into another car occupied by her brother and sister on a rural Sampson County road.

Other weekend traffic accidents killed:

Charlie Chester McKenzie, 38, of Jersey City, N. J.; Boyd O. Hill, 36, of Clifside; Gilbert C. Joyce, 60, of Rt. 1, Stoneville, and Lucy Mae Headon, 59, of Rt. 1, Eden.

Also, William Sampson Chilton, 17, of Rt. 1, Stoneville; Glen Boyd Ferguson of Clyde, and Richard Lee Barrow, 32, of Rt. 1, Vanceboro.

Driver Collides With A House

William Frank Barrett, 63, of 1109 Colonial Ave. was charged with careless and reckless driving following investigation of a 7 p.m. mishap yesterday at the intersection of Imperial and Contentnea Streets.

Police reported the Barrett car collided with a house at 603 Contentnea St. causing an estimated $200 damage to the car and about $100 damage to the dwelling.

No injuries were reported.

Agnew Not Concerned Over His Role In 1972

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Vice President Spiro T. Agnew says he is willing to step down in 1972 if a vice presidential candidate comes along with more political appeal, but that President Nixon "gives me every indication that he approves of the courses of action that I have taken."

Agnew made the statement in a copyrighted story by Akron Beacon Journal writers who talked to him more than an hour Friday in Akron after he spoke Thursday night at a testimonial dinner in Akron for outgoing U.S. Rep. William Ayres.

"As a matter of fact, anyone who thinks that a vice president is out in an off-year campaign solely on his own devices is just plain naive," Agnew said in the interview, which appeared in the newspaper's Sunday editions.

Agnew said he has given no thought to plans for 1972 and added: "I'm not an insecure man. I don't worry from day to day whether the President is looking at me with a fishy eye."

Agnew said that he is considering new ways to increase his communication with the nation's youth after the 1970 election campaign "wiped out any chance for an atmosphere that was conducive to that type of effort."

Burned Out Family Aided

GREENSBORO (AP) — A GREENSBORO family of four that was burned out of their apartment Saturday morning were expecting a fine Christmas just the same.

James Thomas Dozier, 21, his wife, 22-year-old Sandy and their two young sons escaped from the flames with no personal possessions. Mrs. Dozier was barefooted. Her husband said, "I feel very fortunate," he said. All that stuff wasn't worth one of my children, or my wife's life, either."

He had presents stored under the living room sofa and $65 in a wallet which burned, along with their new television, bed, stereo.

By nightfall donations of clothing, food, toys and furniture had engulfed the family in a motel room.

Dozier said, "Words don't mean much at a time like this. It's hard to tell how much you appreciate everything, and most of these people don't even know us."

maybe this is going to change." He said the "leftist minority of students—the very militant minority—keep telling us that we're not listening. What they really mean is that we're not accepting the validity of their advice. We're listening and we're exercising our prerogatives as elected representatives of the people not to follow their suggestions because we don't think they are good suggestions."

Agnew called Sen. Charles Goodell of New York, who lost his bid for reelection in November after being opposed by the Nixon Administration, "a unique case."

"He didn't always disagree, he made a career out of disagreeing," said Agnew. "He utilized his departures from the President as a cornerstone on which he built his constituency."

Agnew said Republican senators who bucked the administration and campaigned for Goodell need not fear reprisals when they run again. He said although the senators may have opposed the President on some matters, they "have also supported him at very critical

No New Items On Board's Agenda

The monthly meeting of the Greenville Board of Education will take place Monday night at 8:00 o'clock in the board room of the City School Office, 431 West Fifth Street.

No new major items of business are scheduled for the agenda. Carry over and continuing business items in the areas of personnel, budget-finance and school facilities will be brought before the board members.

Supt. Dr. Clet C. Cleetwood plans to present for the review of board members a statement on discipline in the schools which has been developed by a special study committee of local professional personnel.

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

(© 1970 by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd., Inc.)

DEAR ABBY: My husband is always criticizing women. He says the worst thing that ever happened to this country is when they gave women the right to vote. He says they are nowhere near as intelligent as men, and all women should be kept pregnant or barefoot.

Whenever he sees a driver do something dumb, he says, "That has got to be a dame!" He blames everything from the San Francisco earthquake to the Chicago fire on the stupidity of women. Next time he starts up with me about how dumb women are, what can I say to shut him up?

BELLE IN BROOKLYN

DEAR BELLE: Ask him why he didn't remain a bachelor.

DEAR ABBY: When I went overseas I had a girl who promised she would wait for me. We went together since eighth grade. Her letters kept me going, and I slept with her picture next to my heart every night. After I got home I found out she had been running around with other guys since the day I left. Everybody knew it but me. Her mother told me she kept on writing to me like everything was the same between us because she didn't want to break down my spirits while I was away.

She's getting married to a guy she's only known a month. I still love her, Abby. Please tell me how I can get over her?

"GONE TO POT"

DEAR GONE: You can get over her by facing the facts. She is marrying someone else. If she started to run around on you the day after you left, she's no bargain. Better to have had a cheating girl friend than a cheating wife. Maybe you're luckier than the guy she's marrying.

DEAR ABBY: I have read with much interest thru the years of your encounters with women who write, "My husband likes to wear lace panties, what shall I do?" Or, "Is my husband perverted because he sleeps in a nylon nightie?" Your answers usually reflect wisdom and compassion.

I am a 49-year-old man who has been wearing women's clothing for at least 40 years. I find much comfort in a corset, nylons and bloomers under my male attire.

My wife is very understanding, and has always helped me to obtain feminine clothing. We have raised three fine children. I am very masculine [outwardly] and have been a semi-trailer driver, racing car driver, and I enjoy other many sports. I have never had any type of homosexual tendencies or desires. So, as long as I don't bother anybody, what is wrong with dressing as I wish in the privacy of my home?

If you use my letter, please sign me...
"NORMAL" IN BEAVER DAM, WIS.

DEAR NORMAL: Nothing.

CONFIDENTIAL TO THE MEN OF THE 8TH SECURITY POLICE SQUADRON (COMBAT): If you aren't putting me on, I am delighted to be your pinup girl of the month. But the above address is insufficient. Complete the address and you shall have my picture for the POLICE BULLETIN BOARD. [P. S. I hope you realize, it is only a "head" shot.]

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

Detectives Probe Hotel Blaze Leaving 28 Dead

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Police detectives said today they were investigating possible criminal involvement in a hotel fire which left 28 dead and 27 injured.

Several survivors of the flames which raced through the upper half of the 12-story Pioneer International Hotel early Sunday said they had smelled a volatile substance in the corridors.

"I hadn't heard of that," was the only comment by Police Capt. Francis Kessler, heading the investigation.

The fire in the 41-year-old building broke out on the sixth floor and flared through hallways and staircases, penning about 60 persons in their rooms with no way out except through the windows.

One woman plunged to her death from the seventh floor.

Among the dead were 13 prominent northern Mexico citizens, including two grandchildren of former Sonora Gov. Ignacio Soto, the wife and five children of Francisco Luken, Sonora police chief, and Dr. Jose Jesus Antillon de Hermosillo, one of his country's top cardiologists.

Harold Steinfeld, 82, builder of the hotel and owner of a department store died with his wife Peggy in their penthouse apartment.

Many of the survivors said they awoke with smoke pouring into their rooms.

Two firemen were injured when a fire department ladder broke during the rescue attempts. Capt. Ellis Franklin hung upside down for 25 minutes on a broken 45-foot ladder before he could be rescued.

On the ground floor 650 persons attending three Christmas banquets were evacuated safely.

The hotel was sold by Steinfeld in 1963. Asst. Fire Chief R. B. Slagel said construction of the building was completed in 1929 and it was not subject to building code safety changes made later.

"Today all interior stairways must be totally enclosed—that is, there must be a door between the hallway and the stairway," Slagel said.

"Had this been the case here, the blaze probably would have confined to the original fire. The stairway acted like a chimney and the heat went right on up it and into the hallways."

Slagel said that "if there had been a sprinkler system, no one would have died." However, city fire safety laws do not require such systems.

Child Is Recovering After Shot By Hunter's Rifle

KARYN PRESTWICH

By LYNNE OLSON
Associated Press Writer
SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (AP)—Little Karyn Prestwich will open her Christmas presents Friday in a hospital bed, and she'll eat the traditional turkey dinner with her family in a hospital cafeteria.

Despite the antiseptic surroundings, Karyn's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Prestwich, say it will be the happiest Christmas their family has ever spent.

Their 6-year-old daughter is apparently winning a struggle for life which began when she was mistaken for a deer Nov. 6 on a rural highway near her home in North Fork, Idaho.

Blonde, blue-eyed Karyn, who started first grade in September, was waiting for her school bus when she was struck in the stomach by a rifle bullet.

Taken to a Salmon, Idaho, hospital and later transferred to the University of Utah Medical Center in Salt Lake City, she remained in critical condition for almost a month with badly damaged kidneys.

The doctors who treated her said the little girl made an extraordinarily determined fight for life.

"It's taken quite a while for her to bounce back," said her mother, "and it will be at least another month before she can be released."

"She's getting terribly bored and keeps asking to get out so she can go back to school, which she loves."

Mrs. Prestwich, who has maintained a day-and-night vigil by Karen's bedside since the accident, said her husband, a U.S. Forest Service employee, and two other children would come to Salt Lake City this week to spend the Christmas holidays.

Her daughter's greatest unhappiness during her long hospital stay has been the prolonged separation from her two sisters, Carrie, 3, and Jenny, 1, Mrs. Prestwich added.

Karyn has received many gifts, including a doll sent by Roy C. Wells, 52, of Torrance, Calif., who was charged with assault with a deadly weapon in the shooting.

"She keeps telling me that she thinks he is a very nice man," Mrs. Prestwich said.

"She's glad he still thinks about her."

"The man didn't mean to shoot me," Karyn told the doctor who first treated her. "He thought I was a deer."

Wells, who was hunting at the time of the accident, has pleaded innocent to the assault charge and guilty to a charge of careless use of firearms.

He has contributed $500 to the Karyn Prestwich fund, which has been set up at a Salmon bank for donations to help pay for Karyn's skyrocketing medical expenses.

The fund now has $7,000.

Fund-raising campaigns were started by residents of several small Idaho towns near North Fork, with many organizations staging charity benefits.

Rivals Sign River Pact

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union and Communist China have signed a shipping protocol for border rivers, including one where their troops fought last year.

Moscow Radio said the agreement covered the Ussuri, Amur, Argun and Sunghua rivers and Lake Khanka. But neither the broadcast nor an announcement

Mrs. Prestwich says: "Karyn just can't believe that people who don't even know her care about her so very much."

(is 100, by The Casino Times)

ANSWERS TO BRIDGE QUIZ

Q. 1—Neither vulnerable, partner opens with two no trump and you hold:

♠4 ♥KQ98743 ♦KQ32 ♣5

What is your response?

A.—The only information you require is the number of aces in partner's hand. The recommended bid, therefore, is an immediate response of four clubs, the Gerber convention. If North bids four diamonds showing all four aces, you will bid a grand slam; if he bids four no trump, showing three aces, you will settle for a small slam.

Q. 2—As South, vulnerable, you hold:

♠104 ♥J1075 ♦K82 ♣AJ95

The bidding has proceeded:

North East South West
1 ♠ Pass 1 NT Pass
3 ♥ Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—Partner has insisted upon a game contract despite the warning that you might have a very weak hand with no particular fit. Actually you have a near maximum holding on which a one no trump response may be made. Therefore, it is necessary to bid one more heart than is necessary. The suggested call is five hearts. Certainly partner cannot expect more than this, else you would have made a more constructive response.

Q. 3—As South, vulnerable, you hold:

♠KJ9 ♥KQ74 ♦AQ62 ♣76

The bidding has proceeded:

South West North East
1 ♥ Pass 1 NT Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—Having reached the conclusion that there is no possible game in the hand, a pass is indicated. Partner's known maximum is 10 points which together with 15 does not add up to the required 26.

Q. 4—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠J7542 ♥63 ♦KQ642 ♣5

The bidding has proceeded:

West North East South
1 ♥ Dble. Pass 1 ♠
Pass 1 NT Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—Despite the fact that you have only six points in high cards this is a good hand facing in Tass gave any details of the protocol.

Both the Russians and the Chinese suffered casualties in fighting along the Ussuri river in March 1969 and each side blamed the other for starting it.

The agreement was drawn up by the Joint Commission on Navigation of Border Rivers, which regulates shipping on the waterways. Another set of negotiators met in Peking in October 1969 to discuss rival claims to border territory. Each side accused the other of blocking progress, and there has been no word on the outcome of those talks.

Honor List

FAYETTEVILLE — Henry Harris of Greenville is one of 85 students enrolled at Fayetteville Technical Institute selected for the President's List.

Each student chosen has earned a grade of "B" or better during the fall quarter.

Harris, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Harris Sr., is enrolled in the tool and die curriculum at Fayetteville Tech.

Q. 5—Neither vulnerable, partner opens with two hearts and you hold:

♠95 ♥J753 ♦K74 ♣K532

What is your response?

A.—The proper response is three hearts. With normal trump support and seven points, the immediate raise should be given.

Q. 6—East-West vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠AKJ92 ♥A7 ♦KQJ4 ♣K6

The bidding has proceeded:

South West North East
1 ♠ Pass 1 NT Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—You should not be satisfied with anything less than game, but you should make every effort to insure reaching game in the best contract. This can be done by a forcing rebid of three diamonds. Such a bid will allow partner to show a preference. If partner does not care for spades, he will no doubt bid three no trump, which you are prepared to pass.

Q. 7—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠K96 ♥KQ953 ♦A102 ♣93

The bidding has proceeded:

South West North East
1 ♥ 2 ♣ 2 ♠ Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—Your partner has forced you to rebid at the level of three and must, therefore, have a very strong hand. The suggested bid is three spades rather than a rebid of your own suit. Free bids by responders in suits higher in rank than the opener's suit are very drastic acts, and should consequently be accorded great respect.

Q. 8—Both vulnerable, partner opens with one spade and you hold:

♠KJ102 ♥632 ♦753 ♣AQ2

What is your response?

A.—This hand is not as good as it looks at first blush. While it has 10 high card points, it is not rich in playing strength, and the suggested response is two spades.

Some Utilities Curtailing Ads For More Customers

By JEAN HELLER
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The threat of fuel and power shortages this winter has prompted several states to call for a moratorium on utility company advertising blitzes for new customers, but some companies have declined to go along.

An Associated Press survey indicates that while some electric and gas utilities have voluntarily cut back or changed the thrust of their advertising, others continue to court new customers despite the possibility of not being able to service them.

Earlier this year, the Federal Power Commission reported that 17 states had taken action to restrict or prohibit utility promotional practices and that 26 states had investigated the promotional practices of utilities in their jurisdiction.

The Oregon Public Utility Commission warned electric and natural gas utilities as early as 1964 against imprudent claims for their products.

Despite this and later warnings, however, according to Public Utility Commissioner Sam Haley, extensive promotional advertising by Oregon gas and electric utilities continues.

Citing a utility company report "that there will not be sufficient gas available during the next few years to meet all the requests ... by present and potential customers ..." Haley said, "there appears to be no reason for gas utilities to promote sales that will increase peak loads in the face of such a bleak supply situation."

The chairman of Michigan's Public Service Commission, Willis Ward, has asked gas and electric utilities to discontinue promotion aimed at new business "to avoid the solicitation of business which could not be served because of the gas shortage."

But two of Michigan's largest utility companies have taken diametrically opposite positions on the issue.

Consumers Power Co., which serves 1 million electric customers and 830,000 gas customers in the state, says it has dropped nearly $1 million in gas and electric promotional advertising this year. Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. says it has no intention of cutting back.

The inability of a gas pipeline company to deliver promised supplies and delay in completion of a nuclear generating plant prompted Consumers' action, a spokesman said.

However, a Michigan Consolidated spokesman said:

"Since we have sufficient gas to supply all anticipated new residential and commercial customers as well as essential industrial users, we believe it is necessary to inform the public of the advantages of natural gas over other fuels, particularly for domestic use and to encourage the purchase of gas appliances."

In Illinois—outside of Chicago—gas shortages are affecting only large commercial customers. Gas utilities have established priorities approved by the Illinois Commerce Commission, which guarantee full service to residential users but allow restricted and interruptible service to new commercial and industrial customers.

Central Illinois Light Co. is continuing normal promotion levels, but has changed the thrust of the advertising. Marketing Manager Harold Haig says the winter ads show consumers how to conserve gas with new air filters, storm windows and other measures to make efficient use of heat.

In Chicago, the situation is more acute. Peoples Gas Light & Coke Co. spokesmen say they believe they can serve all existing customers this winter if supply and weather conditions are normal. But Peoples has quit accepting new gas customers of any kind, and all types of advertising are down.

Over the rest of the country the story is much the same.

In New Jersey, the State Public Utilities Commission has advocated an advertising moratorium by utility companies because of expected fuel shortages. Major utilities have complied.

The Virginia Electric Power Company has, for some years, found itself short of electrical generating capacity during the summer peak season and has quit advertising for new air conditioning customers. But Veeco continues advertising for new electric heat customers in an attempt, says a spokesman, to equalize summer and winter demand.

Commonwealth Natural Gas, a Virginia wholesale distributor, is still participating in national advertising campaigns to stimulate sales and spokesmen say the company will continue to do so.

Heavy utility advertising, both print and broadcast, continues in California. The State Public Utilities Commission has asked major utilities to voluntarily submit a statement on promotion practices and amounts spent by the end of the year and to submit voluntarily any new promotion programs or budgets 30 days ahead of their use.

Minnesota's largest power supplier, Northern States Power Co., has not cut back its advertising but has considerably changed its focus—from one of lures for new customers to an emphasis on the costs involved in building new generating systems and protecting the environment.

In North Carolina, where some gas utilities are restricting the addition of new customers because of national gas shortages, both gas and electric utility companies say they have curtailed sales campaigns and reduced advertising.

More and more, the advertising of gas and electric utilities is being criticized by utility customers as they become aware of the nation's growing energy crisis.

The California Public Utilities Commission reports an upsurge in complaints about the amount and type of advertising done by utilities and rising utility bills.

In Oregon, after the appearance of some Portland General Electric Co. advertising, one customer told a utility commission hearing:

"How stupid does the electric utility think the public is? Do they honestly believe that today's modern thinking people can be flim-flamed by such promotional practices? In the face of nationwide electrical energy shortages and predictions for continued energy short supplies, how can the utility bid for more electrical heating installations?"

Non-Farm Jobs In November Showed Increase

RALEIGH (AP) — North Carolina's nonfarm employment during November showed an increase of 2,400 over October to a total of 1,760,600.

State Labor Commissioner Frank Crane said the November total was 1,500 below the same month last year.

Factory employment in November totaled 699,000, a drop of 2,900 from the October level mainly because of seasonal decreases in tobacco stemmeries and food products.

Nonmanufacturing employment totaled 1,061,600, up 5,300 from October.

Hourly earnings in manufacturing increased three cents to a November average of $2.52. The workweek showed no change from November, holding firm at an average of 39.9 hours. Weekly earnings were up 1.10 to an average of $100.55.

Pork Conference: North Carolina pork producers will meet for their 15th Annual Conference in Raleigh on January 7-8, 1971. The program will be held at the Hilton Inn. It is conducted jointly by the Animal Science Department of N. C. State University, the Pork Producers Association, and N. C. Department of Agriculture.

A wide range of subjects related to pork production and marketing will be presented by industry, Extension, and research leaders from North Carolina and throughout the United States. Animal waste disposal, antibiotics for animal production, sow leasing, and SPF Swine production are among the topics to be discussed. Dr. Charles Deyoe, Professor of Grain Science, Kansas State University, Dr. Ralph Kitchell, Dean, Veterinary College, Iowa State University, Roy Poage, Lubbock swine breeders, Dr. E. R. Miller, Michigan State University, and Dr. James D. Green, Moorman Company are out of state specialists who will participate.

Most of the meals and a social hour will be sponsored by various companies and associations related to the pork industry.

Pitt County pork producers are encouraged to participate in this conference. Programs and advanced registration forms are available at the County Extension Office in Greenville.

Annual Farm Census: Each year at tax listing time farmers are asked for information about land use, crop acreages and selected livestock numbers. This information is needed to plan and carry out the most practical agricultural programs for North Carolina.

Changes in the production of crops must be based on current and reliable information in order to use our farm resources efficiently and to protect the welfare of Tar Heel farmers. Farmers, individually or collectively, cannot wisely plan for the future without using and studying all available facts pertaining to Agriculture in the same way as efficient businessmen analyze their business.

Pitt County farmers are urged to have accurate information available for the Farm Census takers.

Step 7 - Control brownspot. The brownspot fungus can severely damage plants that are low in vigor. Consequently, any factor that tends to weaken the plants usually results in increased damage from the brownspot disease.

Step 8 - Plan now to carry out Operation R-6-P (Reduce 6 Pests) immediately after harvest next year. This simple program reduces loss to six important pests of tobacco including three diseases.

Tobacco TIPS

By S. J. WEEKS

It is estimated that tobacco disease losses reduced the value of the 1970 tobacco crop in Pitt County by 2.9 percent, resulting in an estimated dollar loss of $785,000. These losses are caused mostly by nematodes, blackshank, Granville wilt, Mosaic, and Brownspot.

A sure way to increase net profits from your tobacco crop in 1971 is to follow an effective disease control program on your farm. There are eight steps in a complete tobacco disease control program.

Step 1 - Plan a rotation system. A well-planned rotation using resistant alternate crops will reduce all major diseases (nematodes, black shank, Granville wilt, Mosaic and Brownspot).

Step 2 - Select disease resistant varieties with care. Losses caused by blackshank, Granville wilt and brownspot can be reduced by exercising care in variety selection. When deciding which variety to plant, the kind of disease present in the field, the infestation level, and other disease control plans should be taken into consideration.

Step 3 - Control plant bed diseases and prevent spread of Mosaic. Producing an adequate supply of healthy transplants is an important part of a successful tobacco production program. Blue mold, Anthracnose and damping off can cause serious damage to young tobacco plants. All three diseases can be controlled by applying a recommended fungicide. Avoid the spread of Mosaic from the plant bed to the field by using the milk treatment at transplanting time.

Step 4 - Use chemical soil treatment when needed. There are several soil treatments that are effective in reducing nematodes in the soil when properly applied.

Step 5 - Consider the use of multi-purpose disease control treatment. Results from tests conducted in several disease problem fields show that certain chemicals will reduce the incidence of blackshank, Granville wilt and nematodes and increase the performance of tobacco in disease problem fields.

Step 6 - Plan to use proper method of application of chemical soil treatment. Due to the difference in chemical composition and "method of

Boys Discover Large Crayfish

Is a five and one-half inch crayfish rare? Phil Hurley of 1749 Beaumont Circle thinks so. While walking home from school one afternoon last week, Hurley and a friend, H. L. Austin, discovered the crayfish in a street drain. The two boys took the crayfish to Hurley's house and put it in the bathtub. The crayfish is still in the tub and is fed snails. Hurley is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Deaton Hurley and a fifth grader at Elmhurst Elementary School.

Two Injured In Auto Collision

Two persons were injured in a 7:30 a.m. collision today at the intersection of Third and Greene Streets. Police identified the drivers of the vehicles involved as Joe Robert Sneed, 56, of Route 6, Greenville and Mrs. Edna Earl Lewis Baker of 407 East Wilson St., Farmville, both of whom were reported injured in the crash. Damage was estimated by police at $2,000 to the Sneed car and $1,500 to the car driven by Mrs. Baker.

Rep. Rivers' Heart Stopped, Recovered

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Veteran Congressman L. Mendel Rivers, D-S.C., suffered a "sudden cessation of heart action" Sunday night at Birmingham's University Hospital but was revived by a physician, a hospital spokesman said today.

Rivers, who underwent surgery Dec. 11 to replace a faulty heart valve with a plastic one, had spent a restful weekend and Sunday night the hospital reported it would stop issuing daily reports on his condition "because his recovery process has followed a consistently normal pattern for several days."

But a short time after the statement was issued, the spokesman said, Rivers' heart stopped beating. "Fortunately," he said, "a resident physician was just a few feet away and resuscitative measures were begun promptly. These were effective in restoring a normal heart action. All indications at present are that brain and heart action are again normal. 'However,' the spokesman said, 'this event is a serious one and its occurrence renders the patient seriously ill.'"

Rivers, 65, is chairman of the House Armed Service Committee. His condition is listed as serious.

A hospital spokesman said later in the morning that there was no evidence of improvement. "His condition is not considered good, but he is holding his own," the spokesman said, adding that the congressman was semiconscious.

Birmingham, Ala., Rivers, add: semiconscious. In a still later statement, a spokesman said: "Congressman Rivers remains seriously ill. His circulatory system is suboptimal. His brain function appears to be normal and his breathing system is functioning well." He said the hospital would return to issuing two bulletins a day on Rivers' condition.

Found Way To Duck Blue Laws

SANFORD, N.C. (AP) — It took 40 feet to do it, but Louis Mitchell, a Sanford merchant, found a way to get around the city's Sunday blue law.

The Lee County Line is behind Mitchell's Department Store. So Mitchell placed cash registers 40 feet from the back of the store and all purchases were paid for in Lee County.

Mitchell and several other Sanford merchants were charged last week with violating the blue law.

$1 Million For Regional Lab

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U. S. Office of Education has announced a $1,135,000 grant to the Durham, N.C., regional education laboratory for North Carolina, South Carolina and Virginia.

The grant was announced Saturday. The laboratory, established in 1966, is an independent, nonprofit organization that aids schools and colleges by creating new educational programs and materials.

BROADSTAIRS, England (AP) — Prime Minister Edward Heath, a talented organist, led the annual Christmas carol concert in the grand ballroom of his home town for the 27th year Saturday.

A crowd of 800 bought tickets for the concert, with the proceeds going to charity.

Allies . . .

sought to pull men and material out of the Pacific to strengthen the planned invasion of Europe but U.S. leaders stubbornly fought back—and won.

Gen. Henry "Hap" Arnold, then chief of the U.S. Army Air Corps, grew so incensed by poor U.S. bombing results from Britain to Europe that he threatened seven months before D-Day to stop the flow of bombers to Britain.

Marshall backed him up. Air Chief Marshal Sir Charles Portal of Britain made a spirited defense of Gen. Ira Eaker, head of the 8th Air Force, and told how difficult it was to get 2,000 bombers off the field for an operation.

The U.S. leaders didn't reply. But Portal, assailing a U.S. proposal to install a supreme air commander in Europe and the Mediterranean, told the Americans that either the Royal Air Force and the U.S. Air Corps should be led by a combined staff, or one service had to be subservient to the other.

Portal said he was not prepared to recommend that the Royal Air Force be under U.S. Air Corps direction. The Combined Chiefs of Staff was created by President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill during a meeting in Washington a month after Pearl Harbor. It ran the global military operations of the Western allies until after the victory of Japan and was disbanded in 1947.

The British Public Records Office released 89 volumes of minutes of CCS meetings along with thousands of related items, a total of about 100,000 documents. Only the records up to Dec. 31, 1945, were released today; the rest will be made public later. And many documents of the 1942-45 period were withheld for security reasons.

It was believed that the documents released today contained little if any important information that has not already appeared in the flood of memoirs by the war leaders.

Records of a meeting on June 29, 1944, tell of British opposition to the landing in Southern France which the Americans wanted to take pressure off Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's invasion forces in Northern France.

Adm. Sir Percy Noble said allied strategy must be "the use of maximum force wherever the enemy can be induced to fight." Noble plugged for a drive through the Balkans instead of the invasion of Southern France, backing Churchill's plea to attack "the soft underbelly" of Axis Europe.

British military commanders and statesmen—and some Americans—still claim the Communists would not have captured much of the Balkan countries if the British advice had been heeded.

But both Gen. George Marshall and Adm. Ernest King stonewalled against the argument, and they carried their reluctant allies with them.

Woman Ordained Lutheran Minister

By MARTHA MALAN
Associated Press Writer
MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — "I need your help," the Rev. Miss Barbara Andrews told her congregation from a wheel chair after her ordination as the first woman minister in the American Lutheran Church.

The Rev. Miss Andrews, a victim of cerebral palsy, became assistant pastor of the Edina Community Lutheran Church Sunday.

Shows No Signs Of Flu Attack

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI, showing no sign of last week's influenza attack, has urged Christmas season prayers for world peace.

Speaking from his window Sunday to 4,000 Romans and tourists in St. Peter's Square, the 73-year-old pontiff referred to "costly and formidable armaments" and the "easy recourse to oppression and violence."

He left the window with a ringing "Merry Christmas! A Merry Christmas to all."

PUBLISHER DIES
NEW YORK (AP) — Max Lincoln Schuster, cofounder of the Simon and Schuster publishing house and one of the men who made paperbacks a multimillion-dollar industry, died Sunday.

The Rev. James A. Siefkas, who gave the ordination sermon, said the decision of the 2.5 million-member American Lutheran Church in October to ordain women represents "a great big yes to one-half of the human race."

The Rev. Miss Andrews is the first American Lutheran woman to be ordained for a parish ministry. The Lutheran Church in America, largest Lutheran body in the nation, ordained a Maryland woman a month ago for a campus ministry.

The Rev. Miss Andrews sat in her wheel chair at the head of the congregation through most of the ceremony.

"I am prepared to renounce my vows of ordination," the Rev. Miss Andrews told her parishioners, "unless you are willing to help me. If you take my ministry seriously, you must affirm your own."

The Rev. Miss Andrews presided over the celebration of Holy Communion as her first official function. Smiling, she asked the congregation to "help me not spill the wine."

Davidson Extends Skein Despite Missing Seniors

By MARSHALL JOHNSON
Associated Press Writer

Despite the loss of three senior starters and the combined absence of last year's top scorer then a sophomore, Davidson's three-time Southern Conference basketball champion Wildcats have won four in a row and coach Terry Holland says "we think we can play with anyone."

"That is," adds Holland, "unless they get too far in front of us and we can't play the game the way we want to."

The Wildcats' fourth victory was a 77-75 overtime affair at Georgia Saturday night—their first on the road—and it proved to Holland that the Wildcats "are gutsy kids. It was a tough game and we were behind a number of times, but they kept coming back."
Davidson's triumph was one of two turned in by league teams against outside opposition. The Citadel's Bulldogs upped their over-all record to 5-2 by beating Xavier 73-68 for their third victory in succession.

The losers were Richmond's Spiders, who were routed 102-71 at Rhode Island, and East Carolina's Pirates, who dropped a 71-66 decision at Old Dominion, a team whose 15-game winning streak they ended last year.

William and Mary routed Virginia Military Institute 75-49 in the night's only league game that ended a five-game losing streak for the Indians and was the fifth defeat in a row for the winless Keydets.

Turnovers at Rhode Island, was down 44-26 at intermission and had just one top scorer, sophomore Ray Amann, with 19 points. The winners' Nate Adger, had 37 and Steve Powell 25.

Turnovers and Davidson free throws won it for the Wildcats at Georgia, which blew two layups at the end of regulation time and led early in the overtime period.
Steve Kirley had 20 points for the Wildcats, while a pair of sophomores — Joe Sutter and John Pecorak—added 19 and 16 respectively. Pecorak was hurt, however, and may miss Tuesday night crucial engagement with N.C. State at Charlotte, N.C.

Tournament Fired Up Wolfpack

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Just call it a tournament, and the N.C. State basketball team changes.
Coach Norm Sloan's Wolfpack came out on top of the first Big Four Tournament Saturday, beating Wake Forest in the championship, 73-70. It was the third tournament crown in four tries in the past two seasons for the team, which took the Atlantic Coast Conference title, the Lafayette Classic at Fayetteville but lost the NCAA Eastern Regionals.

Sloan's squad had downed North Carolina to gain the finals. In the consolation Saturday, North Carolina barely nipped Duke 83-81.

In other games involving ACC teams Saturday, only one loss occurred Georgetown beat Maryland, 86-79.
Clemson took the consolation title in the Vanderbilt Invitational, 67-51 over Southern Methodist; and South Carolina slipped past Virginia Tech, 78-76. Virginia was idle.

No conference teams play tonight.
The Big Four event at Greensboro's expanded coliseum produced two close games Saturday after a couple of runaways the first night.

In the finals, for instance, the Wolfpack didn't get ahead for keeps until just under nine minutes remained in the game. And it took a pair of free throws by sophomore Bill Benson with six seconds to play to clinch the win.
Benson was the game's high scorer with 27 points. The Deacs' Charlie Davis led the Wake Forest effort with 24.
North Carolina and Duke went at each other hammer and tongs with neither getting anywhere until the Tar Heels' Bill Chamberlain hit a layup with one second to play. North Carolina had obtained the ball on Dale Gipple's steal from Dick DeVenio with a minute to go and worked for the last shot to break the tie.
UNC Coach Dean Smith said, "Anyone who saw this game saw two teams really fired up because of what happened last (Friday) night. It was our finest game of the season and it had to be because of Duke's rebounding strength." The win was the 20th-ranked Tar Heels' fifth against the one loss.

Don Lawrence Sets Two Virginia Tasks

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. (AP) — Don Lawrence, as had been expected all the time, has been elevated from defensive coordinator to the head football coaching job at the University of Virginia and says he has "two immediate goals" lining up new players and a staff.
"First," Lawrence said Saturday after he was named to succeed George Blackburn, under whom he had served as an assistant the last three years, "we have to recruit this state hard. We need a solid nucleus of players from this state."

Lawrence, a standout defensive tackle at Notre Dame in the late 1950s who played with the Washington Redskins of the National Football League from 1959 to 1962, said "that's the formula used by Texas, Arkansas, Southern Cal, Ohio State and others."
Secondly, Lawrence added, "I want to line up our coaching staff by the first of the year. I want to talk to all our assistants and I don't know how many want to stay. I also have some friends in other areas I want to talk to."

Lawrence's appointment was announced by Gene Corrigan, who becomes Virginia's athletic director Jan. 1, and marked the third time since 1953 an assistant from the staff of a fired Virginia coach has been promoted.
Both previous coaches—Ned McDonald, 1953-55, and Blackburn, 1965-70 failed to produce consistent winners and Corrigan was asked what made him believe Lawrence would not suffer a similar fate.

"I don't think you can apply this pattern to Don," said Corrigan. "If all you do is deal in patterns, you can't get much accomplished. Besides, the university has tried other ways — gone outside for a coach — and the results have been the same."

Putnam Chosen Lafayette Coach

EASTON, Pa. (AP) — Neil Putnam, offensive line coach under Carmen Cozza at Yale the past six seasons, is the new head football coach at Lafayette.
Putnam, who coached three years at Dartmouth under Bob Blackburn before moving to Yale, was given a three-year contract during the weekend to take over at Lafayette. He succeeds Harry Gamble, who recently was appointed head coach at Penn.

Tourney's Stellar Player

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — Ron Riley of Southern California, a 6-foot-8 junior center, was named the most outstanding player of the Sun Bowl basketball tournament Saturday night.
USC won the tournament with a narrow 65-63 victory over host Texas-El Paso.

Boilermakers At Their Best In Kentucky's Invitational Tourney

By KEN RAPPOPORT for the holidays ... except if you're the Purdue basketball team. Oh, there's no place like home

Then, it's sometimes better to play your games on the road. The Boilermakers were invited to the Kentucky Invitational Tournament over the pre-Christmas weekend and wound up treating their hosts most rudely. The result was an 89-83 upset victory over Kentucky's third-ranked powerhouse Saturday night.

"We're a young team and a lot of the guys have been a little slow starting," said Purdue Coach George King, but he could have fooled Kentucky. Bill Franklin tipped in one basket and scored on two lay-ups to spark Purdue's racehorse offense that buried the Wildcats with swift precision. "Now we're putting it together," said King, after his surprising Big Ten team spoiled the Wildcats' 25-game home winning streak and handed them their first defeat of the year.

Other highly-ranked clubs had scares over the weekend before pulling out nerve-racking victories. Second-ranked South Carolina squeezed by Virginia Tech 78-76; eighth-rated Southern California tipped Texas-El Paso 65-63 and No. 9 Drake held off Texas Christian 79-78.

"I've got to figure we were lucky," said South Carolina Coach Frank McGuire after Tom Riker's tip-in with a second left pulled out hair-raising triumph. South Carolina, its deliberate style of play steered by guard John Roche, held the ball for the last minute to set up the final shot. Roche knifed toward the basket and missed, then Riker pumped the ball through. Virginia Tech missed some critical foul-shots.

Paul Westphal converted both fouls in a one-and-one situation for Southern Cal, as the Trojans won the Sun Bowl Tournament at El Paso and Drake took Texas Christian in the final of the Texas Classic at Fort Worth on Tom Bush's last-minute free throw.

Other teams in the Top Ten who saw weekend action included No. 4 Marquette, an 83-66 conquerer of Long Beach, Calif., State; No. 6 Penn., a 107-88 victor over La Salle of Philadelphia and 10th-rated Villanova, who beat St. Joseph's, Pa., 85-75.

The Cincinnati Bengals threw perfectionist Paul Brown's play-off timetable off by two years but the Dallas Cowboys' five-week plan was right on schedule.

As a result, both of those teams—along with the San Francisco 49ers, Detroit Lions and Miami Dolphins—won their way into the National Football League playoffs with impressive victories Sunday, joining the Minnesota Vikings, Baltimore Colts and Oakland Raiders, who made it earlier.

Among the disappointed were the Super Bowl champion Kansas City Chiefs, Los Angeles Rams, New York Giants, Cleveland Browns and St. Louis Cardinals. Even winning didn't help the Rams and Browns, while the other three pretenders all lost.

The road to the Jan. 17 Super Bowl in Miami begins next Saturday with Cincinnati at Baltimore and Detroit at Dallas. On Sunday, it's San Francisco at Minnesota and Miami at Oakland, with the winners meeting for the National and American Conference titles Jan. 3.

The other 18 teams can devote their attention to next month's college draft, with the Boston Patriots getting first pick thanks to their 2-12 record, worst in pro football.

The Bengals clinched their playoff berth with a 45-7 rout of Boston that gave them the AFC Central Division championship, at the same time insuring that the Patriots would get the pick of the college crop.

Brown, who beat out the Cleveland team he once coached by one game, called it a "personal dream come true. I didn't know we could do this well."

Running back Essex Johnson said when the expansion Bengals were born in 1968, Brown told the players it would take five years to mold a winning team.

The Bengals scored the first seven times that had the ball Sunday. Virgil Carter passed for one touchdown before an injury forced him to give way to Sam Wyche, who threw for two more and scored one himself. It was Cincinnati's seventh consecutive victory following a six-game losing streak.

Dallas smashed Houston 52-10 and captured the NFC East title as the Giants bowed to Los Angeles 31-3. Craig Morton of the Cowboys passed for 349 yards and five touchdowns, with Bob Hayes grabbing four of them.

Five wins in a row enabled the Cowboys to finish at 10-4 and erased the doubts they had when they had a so-so 5-4 record after an embarrassing 38-0 loss to St. Louis.

John Brodie's three scoring passes paced the 49ers to the first championship in their 25-year history with a 38-7 romp over Oakland. Had the 49ers lost, they would have lost the NFC West to Los Angeles and missed the playoffs, as well.

Brodie was nailed by the opposition only eight times all season, breaking the record of nine set last year by the New York Jets.

Roman Gabriel threw to Pat Studstill for the first two Los Angeles scores against the suddenly inept Giants, but the result from Oakland made losers of the Rams on a day when they played "the best game we have played in a couple of years," according to defensive tackle Merlin Olsen.

Detroit and Miami wound up with 10-4 records and made the playoffs with the best second-place records in their respective conferences.

The Lions blanked Green Bay 20-0 behind return specialist Lem Barney, who ran 49 yards to score with an interception, raced 65 yards with a punt to set up another touchdown and put the ball in field goal position with a 74-yard kickoff return.

The Dolphins blasted Buffalo 45-7 for their sixth straight win and the highest point total and most one-sided victory in their five-year existence. Jim Kiick barreled into the end zone three times and Larry Csonka set up two scores with a 54-yard run and a 54-yard pass reception.

The Chiefs, eliminated from a playoff shot by Miami's victory, then went out and bowed to San Diego 31-13 as Mike Garrett scored twice, including a 44-yard run on which he broke two tackles after taking a shovel pass from John Hadl on a busted play.

Later, Garrett insisted it was his farewell to football. The star running back said earlier in the year he was quitting to pursue a baseball career.

Cleveland presented Coach Blanton Collier with a retirement present in the form of a 27-13 triumph over Denver, with Bill Nelsen passing for two touchdowns and Bo Scott scoring two.

Sonny Jurgensen's passing and the running of Charley Harroway helped Washington to a 15-point lead over St. Louis and the Redskins held on for a 28-27 decision when Jim Bakken of the Cards, who earlier booted two long field goals, flubbed a 21-yarder with four minutes left.

Elsewhere, Minnesota trounced Atlanta 37-7 as quarterback Gary Cozzitto returned to action; Chicago beat New Orleans 24-3 on Jack Concannon's three TD tosses and Philadelphia snapped a tie in the final four minutes and defeated Pittsburgh 30-20.

Baltimore finished its regular season Saturday by whipping the Jets 35-20 as Earl Morrall threw four scoring passes.

In The Armed Services

Von R. Davis, grandson of Mrs. Pauline Little of Rt. 2, Robersonville, has been promoted to airman first class in the Air Force. Davis is assigned as a liquid fuel specialist at McConnell AFB, Kan. with a unit of the Tactical Air Command. He is a 1969 graduate of East End High School.

Capt. Ben J. Whitehurst, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Whitehurst of Rt. 1, Bethel, has graduated from the Air Force inspector general course conducted at Norton AFB, Calif. Whitehurst was one of 59 officer and enlisted personnel and key civilians selected to receive the two weeks instruction. An avionics officer, the captain serves on the inspection staff at Andrews AFB, Md. He graduated from Bethel High School in 1957 and attended Mars Hill College. Whitehurst received his B.A. degree in political science in 1967 from the University of Wyoming where he was commissioned upon completion of the AFROTC program.

Cecil L. Eason Jr., (above) son of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Eason of Farmville, has been commissioned a second lieutenant in the Air Force upon graduation from Officer Training School (OTS) at Lackland AFB, Tex. The lieutenant, selected for OTS through competitive examination, is being assigned to Mather AFB, Calif. for navigator training. Eason, a 1966 graduate of Farmville High School, received his B.A. degree in 1970 from North Carolina State University at Raleigh.

National Guard Pvt. Linwood A. Wilson, (above) son of Mr. and Mrs. Linwood E. Wilson of Rt. 1, Ayden, recently completed advanced individual training as a military policeman. Some of the subjects taught were traffic control, communications and unarmed defense methods, civil and military law and prisoner-of-war control. Wilson was graduated in 1968 from Ayden High School and attended Pitt Technical Institute.

Spec. 4 Noah W. C. Williams, son of Mrs. Rosetta T. Williams of Rt. 2, Chocowinity, recently received the Air Medal while serving with the 1st Cavalry Division (Airmobile) in Vietnam. Williams earned the award for ground operations in Vietnam. The specialist entered the Army in September of 1969, completed basic training at Ft. Bragg and was last stationed at Ft. McClellan, Ala. He holds the Silver Star and the Bronze Star Medal for heroism. Williams is a 1968 graduate of Chocowinity High School.

Airman Douglas A. Daughtery, (above) son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Daughtery of Ayden, has graduated from training at Sheppard AFB, Tex. Daughtery, now qualified to operate radio-telegraph and teletype equipment, is being assigned to an Air Force Communications Service in Germany. He is a 1970 graduate of Ayden High School.

National Guard Pvt. James E. Langston, (above) son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Langston of Rt. 1, Winterville, recently completed advanced training as a military policeman at Ft. Gordon, Ga. During the eight weeks of training, Langston received specialized instruction in the technical skills required of a military policeman. Some of the subjects taught included traffic control, communications and unarmed defense methods, civil and military law and prisoner-of-war control. He is a 1970 graduate of Winterville High School.

Spec. 4 William F. Gibson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joel L. Gibson of Rt. 2, Williamston, has received the Army Commendation Medal while serving with the 189th Aviation Co. in Vietnam. Gibson earned the award for meritorious service as a maintenance specialist with the company. He entered the Army in August of 1969 and was stationed at Ft. Eustis, Va. before arriving overseas. The specialist is a 1967 graduate of Williamston High School.

Airman James C. McKnight, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cleon J. McKnight of Greenville, has graduated at Chanute AFB, Ill. from the technical training course for Air Force aircraft electrical and mechanical instruments, is being assigned to Lockbourne AFB, Ohio for duty with a unit of the Tactical Air Command. He attended J. H. Rose High School.

S.Sgt. Roy L. Adams, son of Mrs. Elegrar Adams of Greenville, has arrived for duty at MacDill AFB, Fla. Adams, a telephone installer repairman, is assigned to a unit of the Air Force Communications Service. He previously served at Nha Trang AB, Vietnam. The sergeant is a 1962 graduate of J. H. Rose High School.

Pfc. Douglas L. Spell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Julius A. Murphy of Rt. 6, Greenville, was promoted to his present rank upon completion of infantry training at the Marine Corps Base, Camp Lejeune.

Spec. 5 Harvey L. Strong, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Lewis Strong of Rt. 1, Winterville has arrived on Okinawa for duty with the 30th Artillery Brigade. Strong has been assigned with the brigade as a Hawk fire control repairman. The specialist entered the Army in 1966 and completed basic training at Ft. Bragg. Before arriving on Okinawa he was assigned to the Redstone Arsenal in Alabama. Strong attended W. H. Robinson High School. The 30th Artillery, with one on-site Hawk Bn. and one on-site Nike-Hercules Bn., provides a major portion of the air defense for Okinawa. Firing units of the brigade are on 24-hour alert and through continuous training and annual service practices maintain a state of combat readiness.

Lance cpl. Marvin E. Tyson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Connie Tyson Sr. of Greenville, is now serving with Battalion Landing Team 3-9 of the Third Marine Division on Okinawa. Comprised of infantry, artillery, medical and other support units, the battalion landing team operates as a major element of the United States force-in-readiness in the Western Pacific.

Officers Named By Fraternity

The East Carolina University chapter of Epsilon Pit Tau, honorary industrial and technical education fraternity, has elected officers for the academic year 1970-71.

They are: Ralph Johnston, president; Barry Chesson, vice president; Stanton Earnhardt, secretary; and Larry Dunn, Greenville, treasurer.

The Beanstalk Shoe

Do you know the story of Jack and the Beanstalk?
HUSH PUPPIES play a prominent role in this fairy tale.

Jack is the fellow who climbed the giant beanstalk. He wouldn't have made it without his HUSH PUPPIES casuals. Their sure footed soles got him safely up the slippery beanstalk.

The Giant in the story also wore HUSH PUPPIES shoes. He loved their giant quality.

HUSH PUPPIES steel shank support easily kept the giant's feet up all day. Their fluorocarbon shield resisted king-size stains, too.

Most of all, the Giant loved the comfort that HUSH PUPPIES provide. Breathing Brushed Pigskin is so soft and quiet. That's why the Giant always yelled "Fe Fi Fo Fum". Otherwise people couldn't hear him coming.

Humber Tribute Paid At Friday Rose Assembly

By JERRY RAYNOR
Reflector Staff Writer

Rose High School's Christmas assembly Friday afternoon was an occasion of joyfulness, of appreciation expressed and one touched with a note of sadness for a deceased leader who served the school in a time of need.

ECU Official On Committee

A Greenville resident, William C. Byrd, is a member of the newly-formed Committee on Continuing Education of the North Carolina Regional Medical Program.

Byrd is Director of Continuing Education in the School of Allied Health and Social Professions, East Carolina University.

As a member of the new committee, he will join other experts in the field of continuing education in advising on NCRMP's related projects and proposals.

The North Carolina Regional Medical Program currently funds 20 state-wide projects to improve health care for North Carolinians. Of these, 12 projects have as a major emphasis the continuing education of physicians and allied health personnel.

Other members of the Committee on Continuing Education are:

Raleigh: John Ketner, Assistant Executive Director, N.C. Hospital Association; Helen E. Peeler, Executive Director, N.C. Nurses' Association; Mrs. Charlotte Conely, N.C. Dietetic Association;

Chapel Hill: James Bawden, D.D.S., Dean, School of Dentistry, UNC; Mrs. Frances O. Gust, School of Public Health, UNC; William T. Herzog, Director, Continuing Education in Health Sciences, UNC;

Durham: Mrs. Jean Barr, physical therapist, Duke; F. Bayard Carter, M.D., Duke; Richard S. Ray, Ed.D., Director, Learning Institute of North Carolina;

Pinehurst: C. Harold Steffe, M.D., Moore Memorial Hospital;

Wilmington: Lockert B.K. Mason, M.D., Director of Medical Education, New Hanover Memorial Hospital.

Cite Holiday Road Risks

CHARLOTTE, (AP) — The North Carolina State Motor Club warned motorists today that Christmas season traffic accidents may kill up to 21 persons in the state.

The club also predicted more than 800 injuries in some 1,500 accidents during the Christmas weekend. The organization will count accidents from 6 p.m. Thursday through midnight Sunday, a total of 78 hours.

Twenty-seven persons were killed in traffic accidents last year during a 102-hour period. The accidents last year inflicted injuries on 813 other persons.

Thomas B. Watkins, president of the motor club and of the National Automobile Association, warned that many accidents during the Christmas season are provoked by drinking drivers.

"During the holiday partying, drinking drivers and speeders will become a real problem," he said. "If you drink, please let someone who doesn't do the driving."

Tar Heel Named Rhodes Scholar

MIDDLETOWN, Conn. (AP) — Tommy Bello of Raleigh, president of the student body at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, was named a Rhodes scholar Sunday.

A total of 32 college students won the scholarships this year for study at Oxford University in England. Their names were released by the American Rhodes Scholarship Committee at a meeting at Wesleyan University.

The winners come from 23 colleges and universities and 27 states. They get approximately $3,120 a year for two or three years.

Most are graduating seniors, but rising seniors and graduate students are eligible.

chairman of the Citizens Awareness Committee, paid tribute to the late Dr. Robert Lee Humber, the deceased co-chairman of the committee which last year worked in sessions with pupils, teachers and the community during troubled days at Rose High.

"We have an experience of sadness," Taylor commented, "in the loss of one of our most outstanding citizens. It is fitting we pause to honor the memory of Dr. Humber, whose interest and concern for humanity projected him into the international arena. His was a great desire for peace, for world peace."

Saying that Dr. Humber's efforts for peace carried him "into the presence of presidents and kings," Taylor noted that last year Dr. Humber had cancelled all appointments when the Citizens Awareness Committee was formed. "Here was a man who knew well that charity begins at home. He was one of the few men, like the idea embodied in Kipling's works, who could walk with kings nor lose the common touch."

City schools superintendent Dr. Cleet C. Cleetwood recognized members of the original Citizens Awareness Committee, many of whom were present as special guests of the student body.

In expressing appreciation of their work in efforts to maintain peace and understanding at Rose High during last year's critical period, Dr. Cleetwood said "It seemed fitting that we invite the Citizens Awareness Committee to share in this occasion. Almost a year ago, as we groped in the darkness of frustration, doubt and uncertainty surrounded by a virtual army of citizens who could recite the problems but hardly a soul with any really workable solutions, there emerged this group of citizens who managed to create a community awareness of what the real and underlying issues were.

"Again today," Dr. Cleetwood concluded, "we express our thanks and sincere gratitude as we welcome you here this afternoon."

The ten members of Rose High's Quill and Scroll Club conducted their annual induction ceremony. The eight girls and two boys first had a candle lighting ceremony led by Nancy Clemons. Lighting the large central candle, she said the candle represented truth,

"symbolic of the world of tomorrow to which we strive. It is our duty as Quill and Scroll members to take action to participate in the search for truth."

Other members took part in the ritual, stating the human quality which the candle they lit represented, and speaking briefly of characteristics applicable to that particular quality. Those for which candles were lit were: learning, leadership, loyalty, initiative, integrity, judgment, and friendship.

At the termination of the ceremony, the current members spread through the large student body searching for the students to be inducted. The initiates were then pledged into Quill and Scroll.

Christmas music was provided by the band playing two special arrangements. The first was "Noel" under the direction of James Rodgers. Johnny Wooten led the band in the second medley, "Christmas Music for Winds."

The chorus directed by Miss Louise Hoffer sang "O Come All Ye Faithful," "Fruitcake" and

"Glory Be To God." The band returned with a rendition of "Toy Shop", conducted by Rodgers and featuring narration by David Howell.

A comedy skit prepared by the Drama Class of Mrs. Sue H. Castellow was presented as the light spot of the program. Presentation of gifts was made by Ernest Adams, president of the Student Government Association. Adams also presided over the entire program, welcoming the students and guests.

Principal Robert Allgood made closing remarks and dismissed the students to their two week holiday.

Worry Clinic Psychology In Writing, Too

Loring's question should also interest romantic girls! For the psychology of writing applies not only to the printed newspaper page but also to love letters! And even to the "Letter of Application" when you are seeking a job. So scrapbook this case today and send for the booklet below.

By GEORGE W. CRANE, Ph.D., M.D.

CASE P-516: Loring F., aged 20, is a journalism student. "Dr. Crane," he began, "I'd like ultimately to become editor of a medium-sized daily newspaper."

"In college we studied your textbook, 'Psychology Applied,' and I doubly enjoyed your chapter on 'Writing.'"

"In your recent lecture at our Journalism College, you also mentioned some additional psychological methods for perking up the readership of the printed page."

"For you said you had used the tachistoscope to test the flash exposures of printed copy before readers.

"So could you add a few more ideas that might help me develop a heavier readership of my newspaper?"

Writing "heads" over front page stories is a decided aspect of Applied Psychology.

For headlines are supposed to attract attention to specific spots on the printed page.

But although a superb headline may bring the reader's eyes to a reporter's story, the readers may not go very far into the account unless, their basic interests are appealed to.

So the "content" of the story is worth probably 75 percent but the psychological set-up also merits 25 percent.

Each week in my daily "Worry Clinic" column I try to cover the 6 basic interest (instincts) of human beings. These are:

- (1) Courtship love, of the romantic pre-marital variety.
- (2) Marriage problems involving post-marital love.
- (3) Love of children, as in my child cases.
- (4) Money - as evidenced in how to apply for a job and get along harmoniously with co-workers; plus problems in advertising, selling, public speaking, etc.

(5) Self-esteem and ego inflation; as per the slogan "I WANT TO FEEL IMPORTANT." The "Compliment Club" belongs here.

(6) Health-though I usually stick to mental instead of gall bladder disease, etc., which other medical columnists usually cover adequately.

But by the "packaging" or "dress up" of the very same story, you can greatly increase its readership if you will then:

- (1) Use short words and short paragraphs versus the deep, textbookish paragraphs that run 25 or 30 lines without a break.
- (2) Invert sentences to put dramatic words at the opening of your paragraphs. Contrast: She ran from him, screaming. Screaming, she ran from him.

(3) Arabic numbers are more easily spotted on the quick-exposure machine (tachistoscope), as 3 or 5 or 7 versus three or five or seven!

(4) Occasionally employ parentheses (instead of commas) to set off phrases.

(5) Avoid italics, for people prefer small bold face type and shun italics.

If my offer of a booklet is put in italics, the mail input drops remarkably, for italics produce eye strain and readers shun such pain.

(6) Bold face and capitalize the names of local people, as in the "gossip" column.

For more advice, send for my booklet "How to Write Salable Copy," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 20c. (Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

Heath Backs Oil Washes Viet Policies On Beaches

WASHINGTON (AP) — If American troops need protection while withdrawing from South Vietnam, then bombing of the North would be justifiable, says British Prime Minister Edward Heath.

As for the likelihood of renewed bombing, Heath said President Nixon "is carrying out an honorable withdrawal and if in this process there is difficulty from North Vietnam, then he is bound to take action. He must do this to protect his forces," Heath said.

The prime minister made his comments on the CBS television-radio program, "Face the Nation." The interview program was taped last week for showing Sunday.

The United States withdrawal from South Vietnam must be orderly, Heath added. If it was in haste, "such a pullout would undermine confidence in the United States elsewhere" in Europe and Asia.

Explaining his meaning by "honorable withdrawal," Heath said South Vietnam should be left in a stable position. He said it need not be anti-Communist, but this is a question for the South Vietnamese to decide.

Male polar bears do not hibernate but roam through the long winter nights.

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Patches of crude oil from a burning offshore drilling platform were found Sunday washed up on a 20-mile stretch of Louisiana's marshy coastline.

A spokesman for Shell Oil Co., which operates the work platform, said a chemical agent had been sprayed along part of the coastline darkened by the slicks in an experiment to contain them.

The affected coastline includes the federal Wisner Wildlife Management Area, a hunting area that is the winter home of ducks and other species of birds.

The slicks, reported from a joint government-industry aerial survey, were the first discovered on such a wide stretch of beach since the blaze ignited Dec. 1 and killed four men.

The platform is about 10 miles offshore and 60 miles south of New Orleans in the Gulf of Mexico.

The Shell spokesman described the chemical sprayed on the oil as nontoxic, nonpersistent and almost nonpermeable in the water.

Seaweed, used as a poultice nearly 5,000 years ago, still is placed under bandages to promote healing.

'Sordid Chapter' Of Penn Central Losses Unveiled

By JAY PERKINS
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The financially troubled Penn Central Railroad lost millions of dollars in an airlines venture a congressman says represents "one of the saddest and at times most sordid" chapters in American business history.

Rep. Wright Patman, D-Tex., made the comment Sunday in releasing a report by his House Banking Committee that showed Penn Central spent $21 million to start a worldwide air service now worth $2 million.

The report says $6 million was dumped into the Executive Jet Aviation Inc., in the last three years—when the railroad itself was facing bankruptcy and was under Civil Aeronautics Board orders to sell the subsidiary. The report also includes testimony that the aviation company supplied women as dates for railroad officials in what appeared to be an effort to divert their attention from EJA's problems.

It said EJA's founder, retired Air Force Brig. Gen. Olbert F. Lassiter, chronicled his friendships with a variety of women in "hundreds of colored photographic prints and transparencies ... many of which show undraped women."

The photographs were kept on the EJA premises, the report said.

Penn Central currently is in reorganization under the Bankruptcy Act and is seeking federal help to continue operating.

The report contends that Penn Central poured money into EJA for about five years, starting in 1965, despite continued EJA losses, doubts as to whether Penn Central could legally own stock in the company, and in the face of repeated recommendations that EJA's management be changed.

It assigns major responsibility for the EJA decisions to David Bevan, then chairman of the finance committee of the railroad. It says Bevan's actions in the face of EJA's deterioration might be linked "to the possibility that public revelation of certain personal activities" might have been "extremely embarrassing" to him.

The report says the railroad intended to develop EJA into an extensive air service, with emphasis on air cargo.

These plans, however, brought up the issue of Civil Aeronautics Board restrictions on railroads acquiring air carriers.

EJA control currently is in litigation, the report said, and the company now is worth about $2 million.

ABC Permit For Store Suspended

The State Board of Alcoholic Control, at their meeting December 14, suspended the permit issued to Wilbur Hinson for Wilbur Henson's Grocery, Route 2, Grifton, for 60 days for violations of ABC regulations.

The Board reported the permit was suspended "because the permittee, through his employee, did sell and allow the sale of beer during illegal hours on Sunday, September 27 ... at 11:40 a.m. ... and that the permittee, through his employee, also failed to give the retail licensed premises proper supervision."

The 60-day suspension was set to become effective December 28.

to the land use regulations and controls as contained in the Redevelopment Plan for said project and the covenants as contained in the declaration on file at the office of the Commission, 316 Roundtree Drive, Greenville, North Carolina. Bidder may be any person, firm or corporation who has qualified and agrees to conform to all aspects with the provisions of bidding documents including Redeveloper's Statement for PUBLIC Disclosure, Form HUD-6004, and Redeveloper's Statement for Qualifications and Financial Responsibility, Form HUD-6004A, copies of which may be obtained upon request at the office of the Commission, 316 Roundtree Drive, Greenville, North Carolina, and further information may be obtained at the office of the Commission; forms of the proposed disposal agreement may be obtained in the office of said Commission; in general, the property is being sold for redevelopment for the following purpose: COMMERCIAL OR BUSINESS USE. Bids shall be accompanied by cashier's check, or a certified check payable to the Redevelopment Commission of the City of Greenville in an amount equal to five percent of the bid price.

BIDS SHALL BE OPENED AT 10:00 A.M. E.S.T. on the 4th day of January, 1971, at the office of the Central Business District Project at 307 South Evans Street, Greenville, North Carolina.
