Heart Is Improving

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Rep. L. Mendel Rivers, D-S.C., has again begun recovering from open heart surgery after a three-day interruption caused by a brief heart stoppage, a University Hospital spokesman said today.

The spokesman said Rivers remained in serious condition, but the performances of his heart and kidneys are improving.

"The congressman continues to be alert and have normal brain function. He has begun taking some nourishment by mouth again," the statement said.

Starting Out Young

CLEVELAND (AP) — A 17-year-old high school senior has been named associate vice chairman of the Cuyahoga County Republican organization.

Appointment of Arthur J. Fridrich to the special post created for him was announced Tuesday. Party leaders say that when he turns 18 in May he will have a place on the party's 16-member policy committee.

County Republican Cochairmen Saul G. Stillman and Robert E. Hughes said the appointment of the Cleveland South High School student was in keeping with Monday's U.S. Supreme Court ruling that lowered the voting age to 18 in national elections.

Fridrich, whose parents are registered Democrats, is president of the county Teen-Age Republican Club and recently was elected coordinator of the state teen organization.

'Unprecedented' Blast

UPPSALA, Sweden (AP) — A strong underground explosion, called "an unprecedented blast" by Swedish seismologists, was registered today from a Soviet nuclear test area close to the Caspian Sea.

The Seismological Institute of Uppsala University reported it was located to the Plain of Ust-Jurt immediately east of the Caspian Sea.

"This explosion coincides in a quite unique way with a previous blast last Dec. 12 in regard to strength, place and time," Prof. Marcus Baath said. "I cannot recall any twin blast of the megaton class exploded within such a short interval."

Farm Bill Signed

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon has signed an $8 billion farm bill, with a few mild complaints about the measure's size. It was $700 million higher than what he had asked for Agriculture Department funding.

Despite the higher amount, Nixon gave his blessings to the over-all measure, saying, "We cannot risk possibility of disruption of programs so essential to so broad a section of our society."

Among those programs are the food stamp project, which was boosted $170 million, and the special school milk program.

Nixon complained that the milk program, which added $104 million in appropriations, subsidized the rich and the poor. It should, he said, benefit the needy.

Revolutionist Freed

LA PAZ, Bolivia (AP) — The Bolivian government today released French revolutionist Regis Debray and five other guerrillas who fought with Che Guevara in his abortive attempt to foment a peasants' uprising in 1967.

Interior Minister Jorge Gallardo said the 30-year-old French writer, Argentine painter Roberto Bustos and four Bolivians were taken to Chile by a Bolivian military plane.

They had been in a military prison in Camiri, in southeastern Bolivia. Debray and Bustos were serving 30-year terms. The four Bolivians had never been tried.

All were captured in 1967 by the army forces that killed Guevara.

Advice Is Pigeonholed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Frances G. Knight, head of the passport section in the State Department, sent out a Christmas time letter last year saying denial of funds would mean delays of two weeks in the issuance of passports.

For Christmas 1970, Mrs. Knight has sent out another letter—mentioning month-long delays for the past year and predicting even more.

"The simple fact is that all passport office recommendations for improving our service have been delayed, pigeonholed or vetoed by self-styled passport experts," she said.

There have been 32 studies of the passport section since she took office 15 years ago, Mrs. Knight said. If that money had been used for personnel and facilities, there would be no problems to study, she added.

A Policeman's Lot

RENO, Nev. (AP) — It fell to policeman Fred Routson to hand out the first of the traffic department's Christmas tickets which read:

"You have been observed in violation of a Reno city ordinance. Please drive more carefully during the holiday season. This is NOT a citation. Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year."

Regular citations are handed out for drunken or reckless driving involving accidents and injuries.

Routson, operating a radar unit, handed out the first of the warnings Tuesday to a woman driver he clocked doing 37 miles per hour in a 25 m.p.h. zone.

He walked back to his car and was getting in when the woman rushed up and kissed him on the cheek. He says he forgot to get her name.

Three 'Stars' Will Mass Early Christmas Day

By NILS J. BRUZELIUS

BOSTON (AP) — Early Christmas morning three "wandering stars" will appear together to reproduce a rare celestial event that may have led the Wise Men to the Bethlehem manger where Christ was born.

The "stars," actually the planets Venus, Jupiter and Mars, will mass that morning near the crescent moon in a phenomenon very like one that occurred in 7 B.C., the year the Christ child is believed to have been born.

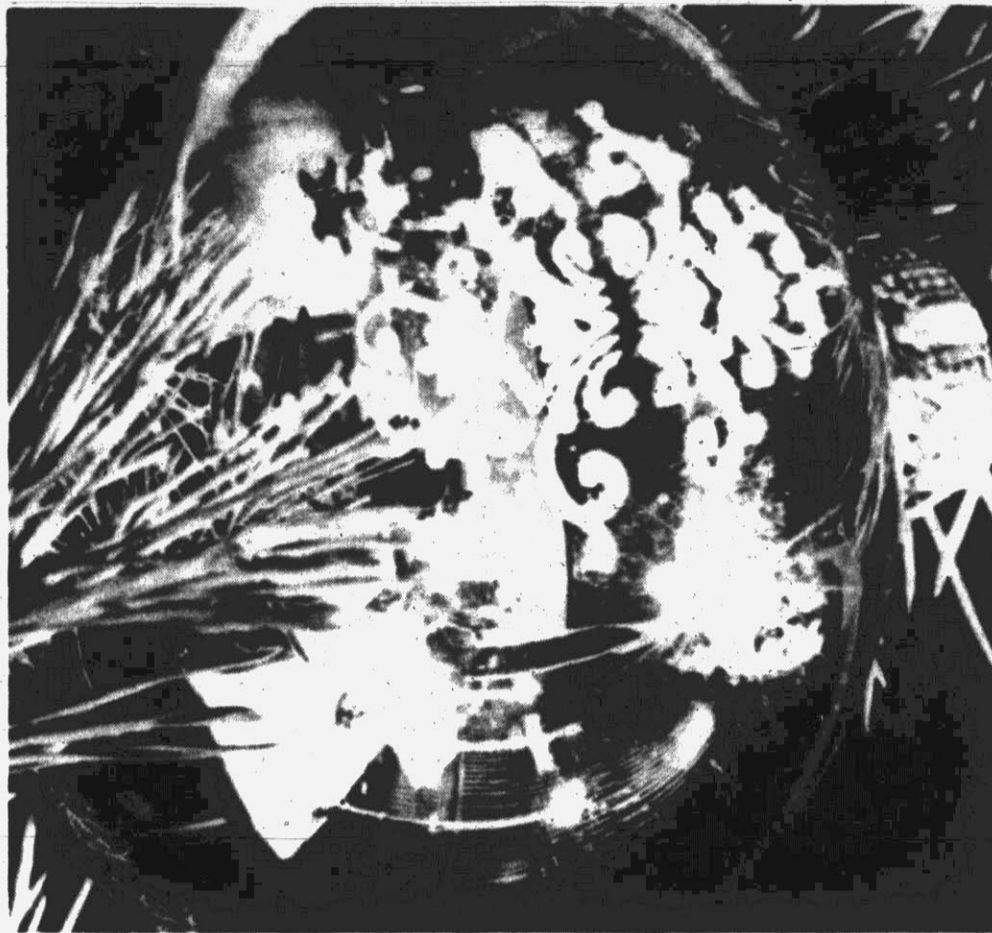

In that year, the planets Jupiter, Saturn and Mars came together in the heavens, an event that happens once every 800 years, said Walter N. Webb, assistant director of the Charles Hayden Planetarium of the Boston Museum of Science.

The massing of three planets will not be a visually spectacular event this year, said Webb, nor would it have been in the year Jesus was born. But to an astrologer—and the Three Wise Men are thought to have been expert in the occult science of interpreting heavenly signs—the planets' coming together may have seemed fraught with meaning.

Some historians believe the Wise Men came from the area of Mesopotamia. If so, said Webb, the apparent westward movement of the three planets, caused by the rotation of the earth, could have suggested to them that the new-born king they sought was to be found in the west, in the direction of Judea.

"In those days everything in the sky was described as a star," Webb said. "The planets were wandering stars, meteors were shooting stars, and an event like the massing of three planets would have been called a star."

POW List Downgraded By High U.S. Officials

By TOM BRADY
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Administration officials say Hanoi's latest list of U.S. prisoners of war is old, incomplete and may be just Christmas propaganda.

This was the initial reaction from high officials to release of the list that names 339 Americans held captive, 20 dead and nine previously released. U.S. officials list 378 held captive. Secretary of State William P. Rogers was expected to elaborate further at a news conference today.

North Vietnamese diplomats in Paris gave official weight to the list by handing it over Tuesday to a representative of Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., and to a staff member of Chairman J.W. Fulbright's Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

It marked the first time official representatives of the U.S. government received such a POW list directly. Thus it made the list the closest thing yet to an official Hanoi accounting of POWs.

But the administration wasn't giving much importance to the North Vietnamese move.

Biggest point of contention was whether the list was complete and final.

U.S. pacifists, through whom Hanoi sent earlier lists, said it was.

But U.S. officials said a quick check showed there was no reason to believe the list was complete and added earlier reports indicate Americans not on the list are held captive by Hanoi.

One new element in the list, however, was inclusion of the dates of death and/or capture.

Pacifist leaders of the Committee of Liaison with Families of Servicemen Detained in North Vietnam declared the list has all the names of prisoners the Hanoi government holds.

In Paris, committee spokesman Rennie Davis said, "There are no new names and the North

Five Jailed

Five men were jailed early this morning and charged with robbery in connection with a 1:20 a.m. incident on 14th Street today.

Police Chief T. E. Gladson reported that Miss Gloria Jean Bray, 19, of 113 West 12th St. told officers she had been beaten and robbed of $90 by a group while walking along 14th Street near the Halifax Street intersection.

Miss Bray was quoted as saying several males got out of a car, surrounded her, tore her clothing and took her pocket book.

Charged in connection with the alleged incident were Willie Pridgen, 19, of 103 Beechwood Dr.; Frank Jerome Streeter, 17, of 1010 Fairfax Ave.; Carlton G. Daniels, 17, of 808 Bancroft Ave.; Marvin K. Brown, 20, of 1114 Ward St.; and William S. Daniels, 17, of 303 Darden Dr.

All were charged with robbery about 5 a.m. and placed in Pitt County Jail under $1,000 bond each. Investigation of the incident is continuing.

KILLED IN SPAIN

MADRID (AP) — U.S. Air Force Sgt. William D. Edwards of Roanoke Rapids, N.C., and one of his children were killed Saturday when his car and a truck collided near Torejon, northeast of Madrid, police said.

Nine Tar Heels On POW List

WASHINGTON (AP) — Nine North Carolinians are on a list of 368 American prisoners of war. The list, released by the North Vietnamese Tuesday, included: Arthur Ballard of Lake Lure, Barry Burton Bridger of Bladenboro, Norman Carl Gaddis of Winston-Salem, David Burnett Hatcher of Mount Airy, James Edward Hiteshaw of Goldsboro, Norman Alexander McDaniel of Greensboro, Thomas Mitchell McNish of Franklin, Jerry Wendell Marvel of Newport, and William Andrew Robinson of Robersonville.

By WALTER MEARS
AP Political Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Leaving a legislative shambles behind it, Congress has gone home for Christmas.

But the work isn't done, and the run-on 91st Congress is by no means over.

The Senate returns to session Dec. 28, still facing a deadlock and a filibuster over appropriations to continue federal subsidies for the supersonic transport —SST—airplane.

It faces also a struggle over the triple-header bill to boost Social Security benefits, institute President Nixon's plan of welfare reform, and impose new trade restrictions.

The House voted to recess until Dec. 29—after the two senior members of the Ways and Means Committee declared that Social Security and welfare reform measures cannot be enacted this session no matter what the Senate does. Despite that prediction from Rep. Wilbur Mills, D-Ark., and Rep. John Byrnes, R-Wis., Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., said he would move soon after the Senate reconvenes to strip all but the Social Security provisions from the bill, and try to get that passed. The House already has passed differing and separate versions from those embodied in the catch-all Senate measure.

President Nixon, however, doesn't want it done that way. He wants action on the whole package, and administration supporters could force a new deadlock on the matter next week.

Byrnes and Mills said it won't be possible for House-Senate negotiators to work out the necessary compromises, "under the time pressures which we now face."

Congress did struggle out of one deadlock tying up foreign aid and defense bills. Both chambers agreed on compromise legislation authorizing aid to Cambodia, but barring the use of U.S. combat forces or military advisers there. It also declares that the assistance does not represent a commitment to the defense of Cambodia.

The Senate, 41 to 20, and then the House approved Tuesday night a bill authorizing $255 million in military and economic aid for Cambodia, with the stipulations the Senate had insisted upon.

All told, that bill authorized a total of $535 million in supplemental foreign aid spending.

The formula under which it was cleared could pave the way for action next week on a $66 billion defense appropriations bill, stalled in a similar foreign policy hassle.

Once the authorizing bill was sent to the White House, Senate-House negotiators settled on a $1.8 billion supplemental appropriations bill which will provide the money. More than $1 billion of it is for foreign aid. That bill includes $500 million for military sales credits to help bolster Israel's armed forces.

But with that snarl settled, the Senate rejected a compromise version of yet another aid bill, this one the basic, $2.53 billion appropriation measure.

That one founded on Senate resistance to a $200 million item for foreign military credits, which has not been cleared by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee. It will take a new compromise to settle that one.

Senate-House conferees, meanwhile, agreed to a compromise food stamp program which unless enacted by the first of the year will run out of funds, probably in January.

Sen. George McGovern, D-S.D., promised a floor fight when the measure is returned to the Senate floor. He objects mainly to a work requirement provision he said would leave some children hungry. The compromise also requires House passage.

In other major steps on the eve of the holiday getaway:

—The House passed a bill providing $125 million in loan guarantees for financially ailing railroads, with most or all of the aid destined for the Penn Central. That was sent to the Senate.

—The Senate approved and sent to President Nixon a bill designed to protect investors against bankruptcies in the brokerage business. It would set up a security investor protection corporation, through which investors would be reimbursed for bankruptcy losses.

Voting Age To Assembly

RALEIGH (AP) — The 1971 General Assembly is expected to face the question of whether to submit to the voters a constitutional amendment lowering the voting age in North Carolina to 18. Gov. Bob Scott indicated Tuesday that since the U.S. Supreme Court has allowed 18-year-olds to vote in national elections, "it would be less complicated all the way around if we could have a uniform system in all of the elections."

Scott said at a news conference that if allowing 18-year-olds to vote only in national elections "is going to require complicated administrative procedures," then he thought it would be better to have a uniform system.

But Scott said he would like to confer with the state Board of Elections to see "just what is involved" before he takes a final position.

The Supreme Court ruled 5-4 Monday to uphold a portion of a federal law allowing 18-year-olds to vote for president and congress.

Scott said that he "did not feel very strongly about it one way or another," but said "I suppose I lean more toward disallowing 18-year-olds the vote."

But he said, "Now that the courts have spoken, I think that perhaps we ought to make it uniform all the way through."

A constitutional amendment to lower the voting age failed in the 1968 General Assembly, and similar legislation has failed repeatedly in the past in North Carolina.

But in January the state Democratic Executive committee endorsed a voting age of 18, although Scott said he would not like to see it dropped below 20 and Party Chairman Gene Simmons came out for 19.

If the 1971 legislature, which convenes Jan. 13, should adopt such an amendment, the proposal would probably go before the state's voters in November, 1972.

That means that for at least one more general election — the one in 1972 — two sets of registration books and a procedure for handling two classifications of voters will have to be developed.

The task of working out administrative procedures for the dual voting-age problem was handed by the elections board Monday to its executive secretary, Alex Brock.

Brock said he hoped to have the details out after Christmas and would begin notifying county election officials how to register new young voters and keeping them separate from those 21 and over who may vote in all elections.

Poland's Premier Dropped

WARSAW (AP) — Jozef Cyrankiewicz stepped down today as Poland's premier; it was announced at a meeting of the Sejm, the parliament.

He was moved to the ceremonial office of president, succeeded by Marian Spychalski.

Cyrankiewicz was succeeded by Piotr Jaroszewicz, who has held a deputy premier's post for the last 18 years.

The changes were announced by Poland's new Communist party leader, Edward Gierek.

Spychalski resigned from the Communist party leadership on Sunday along with Wladyslaw Gomulka who ran the country for 14 years.

Jaroszewicz, 61, is a veteran of Polish politics and a leading economist.

Cyrankiewicz told the Sejm: "I believe on the ground of my long experience that I should not retain my position in view of the recent events which I could not prevent."

The dropping of Cyrankiewicz came in the wake of bloody clashes over increased consumer prices and economic discontent which has resulted in many deaths and hundreds of persons injured.

Syria Still 'Militant'

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — The Syrian government continues to reject any peaceful settlement in the Middle East, Syrian Foreign Minister Badel Halim Khaddam told the Beirut newspaper L'Orient today.

Khaddam said he was convinced Egypt had accepted the American cease-fire peace initiative in the belief it would fail. Thus Syria's participation in a proposed federation with Egypt, Libya and Sudan would not conflict with Syria's rejection of a peaceful settlement, he added.

Khaddam said Syria shuns all efforts to achieve a peaceful Arab-Israeli settlement because it would mean liquidation of the Palestine cause, recognition of Israel by all countries, lifting of all bars on emigration of more than 7 million Jews living outside Israel and "a gigantic Zionist-Israeli economic domination" of the Arab world.

Public Hearing Set On Closing Portions Of Seven Streets

The closing portions of seven Greenville streets, will be the subject of a public hearing at City Hall on January 7, 1971.

The seven streets, or in actuality, small portions of the streets — Alton Hill, Washington, Evans, Cotanche, Reade, Side and Second Street, have, as a matter of fact, been closed for some years now.

Speaking about the belated hearings, City Attorney David Reid commented: "This action is to clear up legal technicalities." Saying that the streets had been "closed in connection with the Shore Drive Project," Reid said January's hearing would formally close the already in fact closed sections of these streets and would permit removal of them from a dedicated status.

Reid also pointed out that with the exception of Second Street, the portions of streets closed the city and the Redevelopment Commission had property on these streets at the time they were closed.

"No one was cut off from access to their property with the exception that on Second Street a few property owners were left with one way access," Reid observed.

If favorable action is taken on the formal closing of these street portions at the January public hearing, the city can then officially terminate an action which, as a technical requirement, was overlooked in past actions involved in the Shore Drive Project.

Marriage License Needs Renewal

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My boy friend and I took out a marriage license over two years ago, but he keeps changing his mind about getting married. I am getting pretty fed up with him. How long is a marriage license good for? FLORENCE

DEAR FLORENCE: In your case, it's good for nothing.

DEAR ABBY: I am going with Ray, a very nice gentleman who is not yet officially divorced. There is no problem there because Ray and his wife are very friendly. In fact, she is all set to marry another man as soon as the divorce is final.

The problem is that Ray's son is being married soon in another state and Ray wants me to go to the wedding with him. I don't think I have any business going. Ray's wife's boyfriend is going with her, and Ray says it would be less awkward if he brought me along.

There will be many of Ray's relatives present and I'm a little old-fashioned about meeting them under these circumstances.

If I could sit inconspicuously in back of the church it wouldn't be so bad, but Ray is his son's best man, which would put me in the wedding party.

I know Ray wants me to go, but he isn't insisting. What would you do? RAY'S LADYFRIEND

DEAR LADYFRIEND: I'd pass.

DEAR ABBY: I have been married only four months and I love my husband dearly. I have done everything I can to make him happy, and I thought I succeeded, but I am miserable because since our wedding day not once has he said, "I love you," or, "You look nice," or, "I enjoyed the dinner."

He seems satisfied with my housekeeping and cooking and I know he is proud to be seen with me, but when I brought up my need to be told, he seemed surprised that I would expect any compliments or verbal signs of affection or appreciation.

He had the nerve to say I should be thankful that he isn't an alcoholic or a run-around.

I have tried discussing this with him, but he gets furious and says I expect too much, that he loves me and that is that.

I need more than bread and board. I feel like a housekeeper and a mistress. It would take so little for me to feel just great. He reads your column. Maybe you can get to him. UNHAPPY

DEAR UNHAPPY: If you've discussed it with him and can't make any headway, quit talking about it. [From now on, it's not "discussion," it's nagging.] You may have to accept this non-verbal man the way he is. It's not what a man says, it's what he does that conveys the real message.

DEAR ABBY: Concerning that woman who saw a man sneak into her neighbor's house thru the garage door in the wee hours of the morning, noticed he stayed an hour and 50 minutes and then departed. I'm sure I am the man.

But that's not half of it, Abby. I was on my way to her house, but spotted her husband's car at home [he was supposed to be in Seattle] so, as I am not one to waste an opportunity, I visited her neighbor, who had previously caught me sneaking into her neighbor's house, but had the presence of mind to write to me instead of Dear Abby.

This will not seem too confusing if you will remember that moral indignation is nothing but jealousy with a halo. CLOSE SHAVE IN IDAHO

Medical Students Provide Therapy For Unwed Mothers

By MYRTA PULLIAM Indianapolis Star Writer INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Group therapy is not new to psychiatry. Unwed mothers are not new to society. But group therapy for unwed mothers is unusual.

Add the male element to the group, in the form of medical students, and the result is proving beneficial to all parties involved.

This is the case at the Suemma Coleman Maternity Home here, where student doctors and unwed mothers discuss problems in group sessions and individually.

"As far as I know, we are unique among maternity homes in this respect," says Mrs. Leon Wiggs, the counselor case-worker at the home.

The girls at Suemma had been meeting for group discussions for about four years. Then several expressed the desire to talk with males, preferably doctors, in both group sessions and privately.

Last September, their desire was realized through an elective course for seniors at the Indiana University School of Medicine.

The doctors meet with the girls once a week, and also, on their own time, counsel the girls privately.

Dr. Morris Saperstein, psychiatric consultant to the home, says that "the therapy has proven beneficial to the doctors as well as the girls."

Student doctor Jon Holdread explains: "We counsel a girl alone and then see how she reacts under group pressure to observe how she changes."

"We see the special problems of the unwed mother—her attitudes toward her family, the baby, the baby's father and her being in the home."

The sessions follow no pattern. They last about an hour and include from seven to 12 girls. They are held around a large table in the dining room. Often parents are present at the girls' request.

"We try to keep the sessions informal," he continues, adding that they last about an hour and include between 7 and 12 girls. "For the most part, the girls carry the conversation themselves."

The therapy is not deeply analytical. Each girl learns that she is not alone, that the other girls have the same feelings and face similar problems.

"The girls get a chance to vent their emotions," Dr. Holdread explains. "A good deal of this is directed toward us men, because so many of the girls blame their troubles on men."

Questions raised constantly in the group sessions are:

Will you tell the man you marry about this baby? How do you feel toward the father of your baby? Will you try to hide all of this when you go back home? Will you give up the baby?

"The girls get broader viewpoints from hearing other opinions. They bring up points the others may not have thought of," says Dr. Holdread.

"In the majority of cases I've seen, there is a reason for the pregnancy. For example the girl is depressed. She wants love and thinks she isn't getting it. She wants to give her love so she gets pregnant. Often the loss of a parent, particularly the father, has a great influence. She isn't even aware that this is why she got pregnant."

There is no typical unwed mother, Dr. Holdread added. They are all individuals. One individual is Susan, who lived at the Suemma Coleman Home, gave up her baby for adoption and is now married, but stays in contact with the home.

"I came here just wanting to get the whole thing over with. I wanted to forget about the baby," she recounts.

"I went to one group therapy session and had private discussions with the doctor. Then my baby came two months prematurely, and I wasn't ready for delivery. I was mixed up. So I came back to the home after I left and had private sessions with the doctor."

Susan now understands why she got pregnant.

"Mom and Dad were divorced when I was a baby. Both of them remarried. Although I had a good stepfather, I hated him until my teens. I felt like an out-cast. I even had a different last name from my family. I had nothing of my own and shared everything. I had no real sisters and brothers. My father paid little attention to me.

"I got pregnant because I wanted something of my own. Of course I didn't realize why at the time, but I prayed every night that I would get pregnant."

"I understand myself better now. I have earned self-respect. I have a better outlook on life." Dr. Holdread says that once the girls begin to realize the reason for their pregnancy, they can begin to learn how to deal with and solve their problems.

Serve Cranberry Muffins On Christmas Eve To Guests

By CECILY BROWNSTONE Associated Press Food Editor

If you are planning a tree-trimming supper and are wondering what to serve, we'd like to offer you this menu:

Chilled Sherry (for adults)
Chilled Cranapple Juice (for youngsters)
Creamed Smoked Fish
Baked Potatoes Green Salad
Best Cranberry Muffins Tea or Coffee

We choose the fish dish because Christmas Day itself will offer turkey, ham or roast beef or some other poultry or meat.

The baked potatoes are on the menu because they are filling, taste good with the fish and take no effort on the cook's part.

The salad—composed of mixed greens and pimiento-stuffed olives—can be readied ahead and refrigerated, then tossed with French dressing just before serving.

The Best Cranberry Muffins really are best. And they're easy to make just before supper if you have the cranberries chopped and the dry ingredients mixed together in a bowl. Or the muffins can be baked ahead and reheated just before serving.

Good luck and happy eating!

BEST CRANBERRY MUFFINS

- 1/4 cup (1/2 of a quarter-pound stick) butter
- 1 1/2 cups unsifted flour, fork-stir to aerate before measuring
- 2 teaspoons baking powder
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1 large egg
- 1/2 cup milk
- 1 cup fresh cranberries, coarsely knife-chopped
- 2 tablespoons sugar mixed with 1/4 teaspoon cinnamon
- Generously butter a 12-cup muffin pan (1-3 cup capacity).
- In a small saucepan or skillet melt butter; set aside to cool.

In a medium mixing bowl, with a fork, thoroughly stir together the flour, baking powder, salt and sugar.

In a small mixing bowl beat egg enough to combine yolk and white; beat in milk and melted butter. Add to flour mixture; stir quickly and lightly just until flour is almost dampened. Add cranberries; lightly stir in; do not beat.

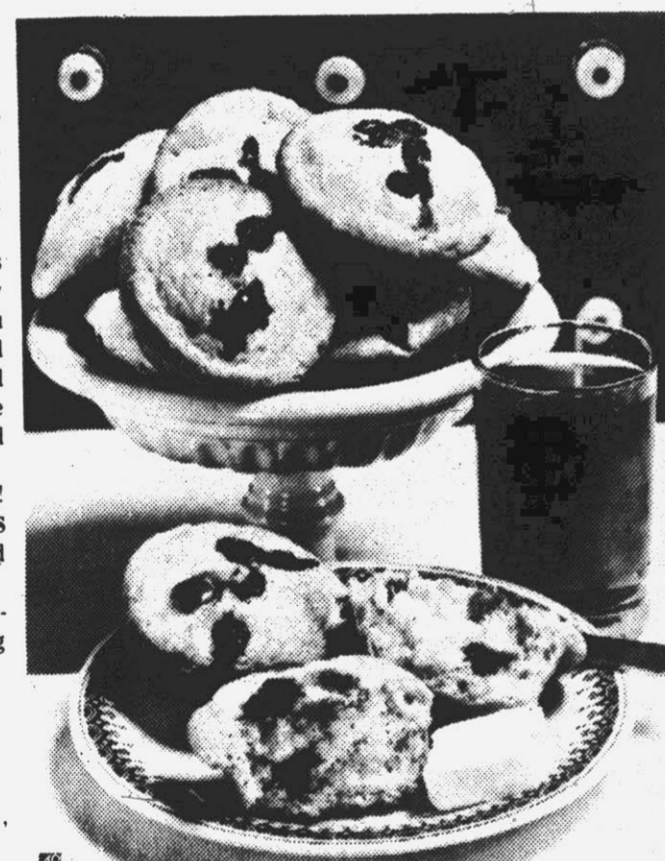

Using a large metal spoon, spoon batter into prepared muffin-pan cups, filling each slightly more than half full. Sprinkle 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon-sugar over batter in each cup.

Bake in a preheated 375-degree oven until golden-brown and a cake tester inserted in the center comes out clean—20 to 25 minutes.

Remove muffins: loosen around edge of each with a small metal spatula or knife. Serve at once with butter.

Makes 12 muffins.

NOTE: If muffins are to be held 10 to 15 minutes before serving, tip them in the pan to prevent steaming and keep in a warm oven. To reheat cold muffins, place them in a covered pan or a closed paper bag in a preheated 350-degree oven for 10 minutes.

Young And Pretty Private Pilot Services Small Commercial Airplanes

By June Anderson Almqvist
Seattle Times Women's Editor
SEATTLE (AP) — Another all-male domain has been infiltrated.

It happened here recently when Mrs. Lynn Boyce, 23, was hired as a line attendant by a local airline service which handles itinerant and local aircraft.

Mrs. Boyce's job at Calvin's Flying Service is to greet arriving planes, assist pilots and passengers in matters like hotel reservations and land transportation, and to fuel and park the planes. Mrs. Boyce got her job thanks both to her professional skill and to her looks and personality. Nevertheless, it took her several months to convince company vice president Allan Crawford to hire her.

Why? "I have no reason," Crawford admits, "other than that we'd never had a woman doing that kind of work."

What changed his mind? Crawford recalls hearing of flying services in Las Vegas that had pretty girls doing the non-technical line work, like greeting guests and making reservations. So finally he decided to hire Mrs. Boyce who offers more than just looks: She has a private pilot's license and she's working on a commercial license.

Mrs. Boyce says she's been nuts about planes since childhood when her heroine was aviatrix Jacqueline Cochran, and her uncle took her out in his private small plane when she was seven.

Happily her husband, Benjamin, an electronics technician, shares her enthusiasm for flying. He's now taking lessons and is also building a scale model of a plane they hope some day to build themselves.

Mrs. Boyce, who attended one year of college at Pacific University in Forest Grove, Ore., is a gal of many skills and interests. She began working at odd jobs at age 15: painting her folks' house at $1.25 an hour; has driven cabs, been a taxi cab dispatcher and a telephone operator.

She's also a licensed masseuse, which is the job she had before she was hired by the flying service. She's also taking a correspondence course in electronics.

Her hobbies in order of importance are: riding her 1948 Harley Davidson 74, playing her guitar and folk dancing. But flying is still first for her, and that's why she loves her job. She's allowed some flying time every month.

ONCE A MALE DOMAIN has been invaded by Mrs. Lynn Boyce, 23. Mrs. Boyce, who has a private pilot's license, works for a small commercial flying service in Seattle. She fuels and parks planes and aids passengers and crews.

Prepare Holiday Snack In Wreath Shape For Serving

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

To serve with holiday drinks here's a pretty idea. Using various spreads, form them into ball shapes. Arrange the balls, interspersed with cherry tomatoes and pimiento-stuffed olives, in wreath fashion on a round tray.

Because the balls are rolled in chopped walnuts, minced parsley and coconut, you'll have an attractive array.

Here are the recipes for the spreads.

DEVILED HAM BALLS
1 package (3 ounces) cream cheese, softened
1 can (4½ ounces) deviled ham
1 teaspoon paprika
1 cup finely chopped walnuts
Mix cheese, ham and paprika with ½ cup of the walnuts; chill. Form into 24 balls and roll in remaining walnuts; chill.

LIVERWURST BALLS
1 package (3 ounces) cream cheese, softened
1 can (4¾ ounces) liverwurst spread
½ teaspoon instant minced onion
¼ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce

Tabasco sauce to taste
½ cup minced fresh parsley
Mix cheese, liverwurst, onion, Worcestershire and tabasco; chill. Form into 25 balls and roll

Christmas Party Held By Club

The annual Christmas party of the Greenville Garden Club was held at the home of Mrs. J. Paul Davenport in Pactolus.

Special guests were the husbands of club members, Mrs. Davenport and Mrs. Preston Cannon led the group in Christmas carols and games. Miss Eunice McGee gave the program on birds, "How To Conserve Our Feathered Friends."

Hostesses were Mrs. Davenport, Mrs. H. R. Rogers, Mrs. Pauline Whitehurst, Mrs. T. I. Moore, Mrs. F. S. Corbett, Mrs. Lindsay Savage, Mrs. S. H. Mitchell and Mrs. Etta Gill.

A lighted Christmas tree in the music room, greenery, red berries and candles were used as decoration.

Will Children Suffer Because Of Hairy Problems?

GENEVA, Switzerland (WNS) — Dr. Edith Hirsch, the children's specialist, warned college men here that their youngsters may suffer problems if father wears his hair as long as mother's. "Such a child may have trouble identifying his parents," she explained, then told of a young boy who poured deodorant over his father's head while he slept because the product promised to "get rid of unwanted hair."

MR. AND MRS. FLOYD M. BUCK Couple Celebrates Golden Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd M. Buck were honored at their home Sunday on their 50th wedding anniversary.

Hosts and hostess for the occasion were the children of the honored couple, Mr. and Mrs. Garland Buck, Mr. and Mrs.

James Buck, Mrs. Marvin Buck and Mrs. John Clark.

Mrs. Buck was attired in a light pink dress with jeweled trim and wore a corsage of white carnations.

The honorees and their children received guests and directed them into the den, which was decorated with magnolia greenery and red poinsettias. Candlelight was used throughout the house.

The guests were directed into the dining room and were served from a table covered with a white linen cloth. A centerpiece of yellow mums and spider mums flanked by gold candles was used. The buffet was decorated with a Christmas motif.

Mrs. Garland Buck and Mrs. Marvin Buck poured punch and Mrs. James Buck served the three-tiered cake decorated in gold and white.

Good-byes were said by the honored couple. Grandchildren of the honorees assisted throughout the house.

Approximately 125 guests attended the event.

Luncheon Held Thursday By Homemakers

The Sweet Gum Grove Extension Homemakers held their annual Christmas luncheon Thursday at the community building.

Mrs. Eric Whichard, president of the club, welcomed visitors, Mrs. Evelyn Spangler, Mrs. Johnnie Meeks and husbands of the homemakers.

Mrs. Mae Briley, family life leader, read the Christmas Story and Mrs. Whichard read a Christmas message.

Members and guests were seated at a table covered with a white cloth and decorated with red poinsettias and a miniature Christmas tree.

Gifts were exchanged by the members after the luncheon.

Army Aids Navy Delivers Cake

BIRMINGHAM, England (WNS) — Margaret Farrow baked a 24-lb. Christmas cake for her brother and his Navy buddies aboard H.M.S. Hubberston. Then she discovered that it would cost her $40.80 to air-mail it to Hong Kong where the ship is currently anchored.

"Leave it to the Army to come to the whelp of the Navy," enthused Mrs. Farrow. "The Irish Guards, who are on their way there, offered to deliver it free in person."

Take Care In A Happy Season

Pitt County approaches its busiest traffic week of the year with a near-record of 30 fatalities already in 1970.

At this season of the year when minds are turned toward joyous holidays with reunion of families and friends, most of us put aside the grim thought that tragedy could mark the holidays. But for literally hundreds of families across the nation the holidays will bring tragedy in the form of traffic death, severe injuries and the suffering that comes with automobile accidents.

Will any Pitt families be touched this season by such tragedies?

Of course we hope not. But that is not enough during this period when literally thousands of motorists will be making trips, long and short, to visit family and friends.

The hazards of the highways, severe enough under normal conditions, will be much greater during the remaining days of the year. Those who get behind the wheel of an automobile should recognize the increased hazards and adjust their driving habits accordingly. Most drivers will be more tired than usual. More will take to the road after having imbibed, even moderately, without recognizing that even the one cup of cheer has slowed their reactions and reflexes.

The short trips as well as the long ones will be subject to the increased hazards of holiday traffic.

We urge Pitt citizens to exercise great caution on the highways during the days immediately ahead. Traffic accidents already have taken far too great a toll in this county this year. Each motorist will play a part in writing the record — safe or tragic — for the remainder of the year.

Breakdown In The System

By BRYAN HAISLIP

RALEIGH — Drive during daylight hours when it's possible. Take the interstate route if you have a choice.

Stay sober. Don't ride in a car driven by someone who isn't.

Keep alert while driving. Obey traffic rules yourself.

Every medium is used to get the message to motorists: drive as though your life depended on it, because it does.

Total Program Pay-Off
Many factors must be taken into account in evaluating the improved record in highway safety over the past couple of years. Chemical tests for intoxication, more safety equipment on automobiles, drive education courses, speed detection devices for use in law enforcement, improved procedures in the operation of the Motor Vehicles Department affecting highway safety — all must be considered.

Apportioning degrees of credit is impossible and futile, Col. Guy said. "There are many facets to a total program of highway safety. Each part is necessary, but the important thing is the overall program and its results."

A better public attitude towards highway safety should be recognized, he said. And the contributions of the Highway Patrol cannot be overlooked.

Highway safety is a daily assignment for the 930-plus patrol force, said Col. Guy. It has to be sustained effort, not simply a crash program for critical periods.

For every trooper on duty — taking into account work schedules, vacations, etc. — there are 500 miles of highway to cover. Men and equipment must be deployed where they are most likely to be needed, and must hang loose for emergencies.

Research Guides Action
Continuing analysis of the traffic picture is the basis for decisions on patrol strategy. Traffic statistics and accident reports are under constant study to determine where accidents happen, what time of day, what kind of traffic and weather conditions, and what caused it to happen.

Answers to those questions are building blocks for a highway safety program.

Searching for the answer makes it possible for Col. Guy to tell you that 9 p.m. to 3 a.m. on Friday and Saturday is the period when most fatal accidents occur. The death rate doubles for night-time driving as compared to daylight hours... Interstate highways are by far the safest; in descending order are the primary system and secondary roads.

Alcohol-related accidents account for more fatalities than any other single cause. It is a persistent hazard: one out of every 50 drivers on the road in weekend, evening hours will be not only drinking, but drunk.

A City's Growth Need Not Mean More Crime

It is sobering to learn that robberies are increasing in North Carolina's four largest cities.

A Federal Bureau of Investigation report revealed that this week.

The cities involved were Raleigh, Charlotte, Winston-Salem and Greensboro and the first nine months of this year were compared to the same period of last year.

The report showed that Charlotte had 293 robberies in 1969 and 366 for 1970; Greensboro had 77 in 1969 and 139 in 1970; Raleigh had 63 in 1969 and 101 in 1970; Winston-Salem had 82 in 1969 and 157 in 1970.

It is true that all the cities are growing. However, we can expect North Carolina municipalities to grow. Our goal should be to see that this growth takes place without allowing them to become breeding places for crime.

Survival Tips For Holidays

By ROWLANE EVANS and ROBERT NOVAK

WASHINGTON — The ease with which freshman Sen. Mike Gravel of Alaska paralyzed the Senate for two days last week dramatically defines the Congressional sickness that has brought the legislative system near collapse.

Gravel, unprepared and largely unaided, waged a mini-filibuster Tuesday and Wednesday against President Nixon's proposed new military aid for Cambodia. At no time did the Senate Democratic leadership make a serious effort to shut him off. Indeed, the very factors that made Gravel's feat possible can be traced to the policies of that leadership.

Thus, at a time of rising complaints about President Nixon, the country confronts a less publicized but still dangerous leadership gap on Capitol Hill that preceded Mr. Nixon's arrival at the White House and will surely persist long after he is gone. This gap helps explain the miserable record of Congress in 1970 and, particularly, the futility of the present lame-duck session.

The two days chewed up by Mike Gravel last week are scarcely responsible for this breakdown in the system. But the incident reflects in microcosm a state of affairs unimaginable in the Senate a decade ago and intolerable in any legislative body charged with promoting the public's interest.

Senate aides last Tuesday had expected the Cambodian arms bill to be passed in an hour or two because its principal critic, Sen. J. W. Fulbright of Arkansas, had no intention of extended debate. However, they did not know that Gravel had been disturbed by his weekend reading about Indochina and, on Tuesday, would jump into action with both feet to consume the best part of two precious days.

In Lyndon B. Johnson's Senate of the 1950s, this would not have been tolerated either by the leadership or the Senate at large. But in lame-duck 1970, nobody tried to clamp down Gravel. Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana glared at him across the Senate floor but said not a word to silence him, either privately or publicly. Nor did his colleagues in any way try to warn him off from further entangling a hopelessly snarled session.

In so permissive an atmosphere, four other filibuster efforts, better organized than Gravel's were hatching last week. In fact, during Mansfield's record-long and much beloved tenure as Majority Leader, it has become a rule of Senate life that one or two Senators can tie up the Senate on any old subject any old time they desire.

That rule particularly applies to this lame-duck session with its unprecedented logjam of controversial bills, a great part of them stacked in the Senate Finance Committee. Here, too, the confusion can be traced to vapid Senate leadership.

With leaders of both parties aloofly disinterested, vacancies on the Finance Committee (which handles the most important

My Name Is Howard

WASHINGTON — Every man has one big dream in him that keeps him going for all of his life. My dream is quite a simple one:

"I'm taking an airplane from Las Vegas to Paradise Island in the Bahamas, and sitting next to me is a gaunt, thin man with a moustache. He is wearing a white shirt open at the collar, an old sweater, an unpressed pair of slacks and tennis sneakers.

"Hi," I say in my dream, sticking out my hand, "my name is Art."

He refuses to shake hands but mutters, "My name is Howard."

"Howard what?" I ask, trying to be friendly.

"Just Howard," he snarls. "Now if you don't mind, I have private detective reports to read."

"What business are you in, Howard?"

"A little bit of this, a little bit of that. I buy and sell states," he said.

"You mean estates, don't you?"

"I said states, and I mean states." He is becoming angry again.

I try to get on his good side. "You seen any good movies lately?"

"The only movie I've seen lately is 'The Outlaw' with Jane Russell."

"Oh? How did you like it?"

"I think it's one of the greatest films ever made," Howard says.

"So do I," I tell him.

"You do?" For the first time he smiles.

"Yes, sir. It's been 20 years and I still can't get Jane Russell's performance out of my mind."

I can see Howard is starting to warm up.

"I was hoping they'd show

it on this flight," he says confidentially.

"Wouldn't that be something," I say.

We have nothing to talk about for a few minutes and then I say, "What do you think of Las Vegas?"

"It's a nice place to own,"

ART BUCHWALD

but I wouldn't want to live there," he replies.

"That's a good one," I say, slapping Howard's knee.

"Where do you stay in Las Vegas?"

"I have the choice of many hotels, but I usually stay at the Desert Inn on the top floor because I like the view."

"Do you gamble?"

"Sort of, but I never go near the tables," he says.

"That's a good idea," I say. "Stick with the slot machines and they can't hurt you."

We lapsed into silence again. I notice Howard is writing notes on yellow legal-size pads. Then he crushes up a page and starts all over.

"Having trouble?" I ask.

"I'm trying to fire a guy, and I don't know how to say it in a nice way."

By this time our plane is land in Nassau. While I'm gathering up my things Howard dashes off the plane.

I notice he has left his briefcase behind.

I try to run after him, but he has already jumped into a limousine.

"Howard, Howard," I yell, "you forgot your briefcase."

"I don't need it," he yells as the limo pulls out. "You can have it."

I open the briefcase when I get to my hotel room and, to my surprise and joy, find $100 million, all in new 1,000 dollar bills.

Dream Plans Of '71

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Have you made out your program for 1971?

Some people don't take the trouble to see that their calendar is filled with worthwhile activities. They drift along from day to day through mere inertia and wind up in a rut. They don't realize that an unplanned life is usually a dull one.

But if you expect to have a happy 1971, now is the time to shake yourself out of the doldrums and get cracking. Here are a few suggested things you might do to make the upcoming year a memorable one:

Train an aardvark. Adopt one of Lassie's pups. Make out a new will, so you can disinherit more people.

Elope with a marriageable computer.

Toast the boss's health on New Year's Eve with champagne poured from his wife's shoe.

Wangle an appointment as official gag write for the U.S. Senate.

Inaugurate a correspondence school course in how to become a cave guide.

Plot the course of a peregrinating platypus.

Surprise a bald eagle with a free toupee.

Sell advertising space on the Statue of Liberty.

Plant a pomegranate forest. Present Lady Godiva with a jeep and a brand-new miniskirt.

Call the tune, but pay the piper with a wooden nickel.

Send a mouthgag to people tired of getting nose-gags.

Startle your bartender by asking him for a moist martini.

If you can't square a circle, circle a square—there are lots of them around.

Mail away a box top and get your mother-in-law back.

Roast an ox in your living room so your wife won't have to eat nothing but tuna fish sandwiches all year.

Start a fund to give contact lenses to near-sighted guinea pigs.

Amaze your landlord by paying your rent on time now and then.

The weatherman has missed his mark again. He predicted rain on the coast yesterday but it snowed instead. However, it being Christmas a little snow will make the holidays measure up to the pictures we find in magazines.

Christmas shopping is at its height in Greenville and merchants yesterday enjoyed the best business of any day in weeks. It is hoped that shoppers will take advantage of the stores remaining open at night and buy liberally of the gifts arranged for their inspection.

Remember, only one more day to mail those letters and packages.

Strength For Today

WAKE UP AND BEHOLD
We live in the midst of world forces which we only vaguely understand and which we apparently can influence only to a slight extent. What are we to do about world conditions which involve us in the possibility of world conflict? Recessions and depressions come and go. Can inconsequential little persons like ourselves influence these great issues to any extent?

Yes, we can. It is amazing how influential even the least among us can become. A college student who fifty years ago worked his way painfully through college died leaving a large fortune and known throughout the world for his wonderful ability. Some of the world's most outstanding characters have come from families of no importance and showed no signs of greatness until an opportunity for greatness opened out before them.

Taking the most extreme of all examples, we may well ask ourselves whether two thousand years ago we could have believed that a humble Carpenter in the despised village of Nazareth would have time dated from his birth and would be acknowledged even by those who do not call themselves Christians as the greatest persons ever to have lived on the earth. Saul of Tarsus (whom we know as St. Paul) wrote epistles which now constitute thirteen books of the New Testament. William Shakespeare died not realizing that his plays would set a new standard for literary excellence. One of the great musical composers wrote his most famous composition when he was nearing his ninetieth birthday.

Really, you and I amount to something. Wake up and behold.

Chain Sales Rise, Not Profits

By ELMER ROESSNER
The average food chain store increased sales by 14 per cent in the 1969-70 year but its profit margin declined about 10 per cent, according to those taxes, it was 92 cents, which shows that the government is a little more than a fifty-fifty partner in the profits at supermarkets.

Profits were higher in the South than in other sections of the country. The Southern average was $1.20 profit after taxes of every $100 in sales. In the Northeast, they were 84 cents; in the Midwest 80 cents; and in the West $1.14. No Startling Pay Rises

While the consumer price index rose 4.8 per cent in the year studied, wages held steady in percentage of sales, the study showed. The average for wages in the 1969-70 year was 10.54 per cent of sales, and 10.53 per cent in the previous year.

Gross margins declined from 21.48 per cent to 21.31 per cent and total expense declined from 20.19 per cent to 20.18 per cent, a decline of one cent on every $100 in sales. This indicates very tight management in the industry.

Looking at the figures in another way, when Mrs. Joe Doakes spent $10 in an average food chain store, $1.05 went to pay salary and wages, 15 cents went to store rent, 14 cents went to advertising, 9 cents went for license fees and taxes except for income taxes, and 5 cents went for repairs, including that of shopping carts.

These and other items of expense came to $2.02.

Interest paid by the store came to 6 cents more.

Profit in Pennies
The net operating profit on Mrs. Doakes's spending was less than a nickel, but other income, including profit on real estate, was 14 cents.

Thus, of her $10, slightly less than 19 cents was the store's net income after taxes. The government got about the same.

Cash Is 'Family Affair'

By BARBARA ASTON WASH Knoxville News-Sentinel Writer HENDERSONVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — An old-fashioned Christmas — logs burning merrily in the big fireplace, the family gathered around a tremendous Christmas tree, caroling, exchanging gifts.

That's the way it is at the Johnny Cash home in Hendersonville, the home of TV stars June and Johnny Cash.

The celebration begins on Christmas Eve when the ringing of the doorbell heralds the arrival of yet another family member.

June's parents, her two sisters and their families, John's Mom and Dad, his three sisters and two brothers and their families, will be on hand for the occasion.

The swell the number of the Cash family, which includes June's two daughters and Johnny's four, and of course, little John Carter Cash, who'll be marking his first Christmas.

The house will be filled with flowers — poinsettias combined with red and white carnations, holly and lots of greenery.

There'll be a tree in the family area — den, dining room and kitchen—but the big tree, the special tree, will be in the lake room as it has always been.

It'll rise to tickle the ceiling, brightly lighted and including some of the ornaments that graced June's tree as a child.

The big stone fireplace with its firebrick of coal, laid with stones, will be ablaze with a yule log. And Johnny will lead the group in singing Christmas carols.

Dinner on Christmas Eve will be a Tennessee style meal — country ham and hot biscuits.

Then there'll be an exchange of family Christmas gifts. The children—there'll be 21 gathering this Christmas and that doesn't include all in the family — will present a play. Always it is an original, a youthful interpretation of Christmas.

The room with its red theme, sparked by blacks and touches of gold—Johnny's gold records — is a perfect background for the reds and greens of an old-fashioned holiday.

After the last guest has left, there'll be a check to see if all is in readiness for the visit of that holly old man — Santa. The stockings hung, the children in bed, and the lights turned out. Just a signal light burning for Santa. And Friday, a joyous awakening to the fantasy of a Christmas morn.

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — For sale: One turn-of-the-century bicycle, low mileage, starred in "Butch Cassidy and the Sundance Kid." Or how about a warplane or two from "Toro, Tora, Tora"?

The auctioneers' gavel will sound on these gadgets and more when 20th Century-Fox sells three decades of assorted screen artifacts—1,500 in all—Feb. 25-28, the film company said Monday.

It follows by seven months a similar housecleaning-sale by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer which, among other things, let loose for $22,000 red ruby slippers once worn by the late Judy Garland.

(Continued from page 4) legislative load in Congress) have been filled by generally undistinguished conservatives more concerned with special interests than good legislation. Its chairman, brilliant but erratic Sen. Russell B. Long of Louisiana, follows an occult course impossible for others to divine.

The result has been Long's chronic tendency, unopposed by Mansfield and unchallenged by committee members, to combine all manner of dissimilar legislation into one vast bill in the interests of some hidden legislative gamesmanship. The ultimate came this year. A non-controversial Social Security increase arrived from the House May 22. Instead of pushing for quick approval Long stored it in committee, before attaching to it such combustible items as shoe and textile quotas, welfare reform, and a 2.3 billion catastrophic illness program he suddenly unveiled.

Such a heterogeneous mess, sent to the floor Dec. 9, could spark a dozen filibusters in Mansfield's Senate as the year-end deadline neared. Nor was the orderly Rep. Wilbur D. Mills of Arkansas, Long's House counterpart as chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, cooperative. He informed Long last week he would not consider any legislation rushed back to the House under deadline pressure.

Mills and other senior House members are outraged, but there is precious little talk in the Senate about broken-down legislative machinery. The decline has been so gradual that many Senators cannot remember when it worked, and others don't seem to care.

Injuries As Autos Crash

A Pitt County Deputy Sheriff was one of several persons injured in a two car collision eight miles West of Greenville on the Stantonburg Highway about 6:20 p.m. yesterday.
Investigating Highway Patrolman H. R. Winslow said Deputy D. C. Martin, 56, was driving one car and identified the driver of the second vehicle involved as Laddie Avery, 44, of Route 1, Winterville.

Both Martin and Avery were admitted to Pitt Memorial Hospital for treatment of injuries they received in the crash, while three passengers in the Avery car were reported shaken up.

According to Trooper Winslow, the car driven by Martin was traveling toward Greenville and collided with the Avery car which had been headed West and was allegedly making a left turn into the path of the Martin car.

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Actor John Wayne says Vice President Spiro T. Agnew is justified in his criticism of the news media.

"I don't think he's said one thing that should upset you," Wayne told newsmen Tuesday at groundbreaking ceremonies for an amusement center in suburban Buena Park.

Pitt School Schedules Are Varied

The holiday schedule for the Pitt County Schools has been released by Arthur Alford, superintendent of county schools.
North Pitt High School will reopen Dec. 28 and will observe Jan. 1 as a holiday. The North Pitt School opened late and will have a short holiday in order to make up some days in the schedule.

The following schools will also reopen on Dec. 28 and have Jan. 1 as a holiday: Ayden Elementary, Ayden High School, S. Ayden School, Grifton, S. D. Bundy, H. B. Sugg, Farmville High, N. Fountain, Falkland Grammar and Falkland Primary.

"We anticipate reorganization later in the school year in the above areas as ordered by the court and we need to save days to keep from going too far into June with dismissal," Alford explained.

Belvoir Primary, Belvoir Grammar, Pactolus, Stokes Elementary, Stokes - Pactolus Grammar, Bethel Primary and Bethel Middle School will not reopen until Jan. 4.

"The above schools opened late, but earlier than North Pitt, and with dual transportation, these schools will have two full weeks of Christmas holidays and will still be able to dismiss early in June," the superintendent stated.

Got Her License 13 Years Later

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP) — Thirteen years after she got her learner's permit, a 59-year-old Columbia, Mo., housewife got her driver's license.

She scored 80 on the written test 13 years ago and a Highway Patrol trooper told her to come back for her road test when she learned to drive.

So she did last week—and scored a 96 on the driving test.

The story was told Monday by Col. E. I. Mike Heckaday, superintendent of the Highway Patrol.

ARVN Sweep Finds Invaders

By GEORGE ESPER Associated Press Writer SAIGON (AP) — South Vietnamese paratroopers pushing deeper into Cambodia ran into a North Vietnamese force at daylight today and called in jet bombers and artillery.

South Vietnamese headquarters said 26 North Vietnamese were killed and nine weapons and 20 mortar rounds captured in the battle 10 miles northwest of Kompong Cham.

One South Vietnamese paratrooper was reported killed and 13 wounded.

A spokesman said the size of the North Vietnamese force was not known, but it was the biggest fight reported since 2,500 South Vietnamese paratroopers were lifted into Cambodia more than a week ago in an attempt to break the North Vietnamese stranglehold on the Phnom Penh government's northern front.

South of Phnom Penh, North Vietnamese troops attacked a Cambodian task force trying to reopen Route 4, Phnom Penh's highway to the sea. The attack occurred about 80 miles southwest of the capital, but no other information was available.

Cambodian government forces claimed Tuesday that

Ervin, Jordan Opposed Cloture

WASHINGTON (AP) — Both senators from North Carolina, Sam Ervin Jr. and B. Everett Jordan, voted Tuesday against shutting off debate on a bill containing $210 million to continue work on the SST, the supersonic transport plane.
The senate failed by a 42-44 vote to invoke cloture. A two-thirds majority was needed.

Chicago Picture Now Up To Date

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Roman C. Pucinski, D-Ill., has removed from his office wall an old aerial photograph of Chicago gleaming in clear air and substituted a recent view showing the city muffled in smog.
"We have to tell it like it is, not like we want it to be," he explained Tuesday. "Some day, when and if we get clean air back, I'll get out the old picture again."

Many POWs Overlooked

By RICHARD BEENE Associated Press Writer SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — An Army officer who was imprisoned by the Viet Cong for five years says Americans are overlooking half of the men held captive in Southeast Asia.
Green Beret Maj. James Rowe, 32, of McAllen, Tex., says 770 men—about half of the estimated 1,500 held by the enemy—are imprisoned in South Vietnam, Laos and Cambodia.
But in their zeal to pressure Hanoi into releasing Americans held in North Vietnam, Americans are forgetting about those 770 men, Rowe told newsmen Tuesday.

He was held in Viet Cong prison camps in South Vietnam from his capture in October 1963 until his escape on Dec. 31, 1968.

He called on Americans to pressure the Viet Cong in South Vietnam and the Pathet Lao in Laos, along with the North Vietnamese.

The Viet Cong and Pathet Lao, he said, "have enjoyed an anonymous status because no attention has been focused on them."

Bengston Quits At Green Bay

By BOB GREENE Associated Press Sports Writer GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — Confidence and camaraderie, two vital ingredients of the Green Bay Packers during the Vince Lombardi era, were less prominent this past season on the National Football League team.

Lombardi coached the Packers, Bengston's defensive team was never lower than third-best in the NFL.

Prior to the 1968 season, Lombardi stepped out of the head coach's job and gave the reins to Bengston. The following season, Lombardi left Green Bay entirely to become head coach and vice president of the Washington Redskins.

To be fair, Bengston didn't walk into a powerhouse when he took over.

Bengston had to completely rebuild a team around the few remaining veterans.

Then the injuries began.

Besides quarterback Bart Starr, who played with arm, rib and knee injuries, the Packers lost a backup quarterback Don Horn; linebacker Dave Robinson; running backs Dave Hampton and Travis Williams, and defensive tackle Rich Moore for long periods through injuries.

There also were other problems with the Packers—internal problems.

"Because of a very disappointing season in 1970, and hoping that a change will improve the won-loss record of the Packers in 1971, I hereby tender my resignation to become effective Feb. 1, 1971," Bengston said.

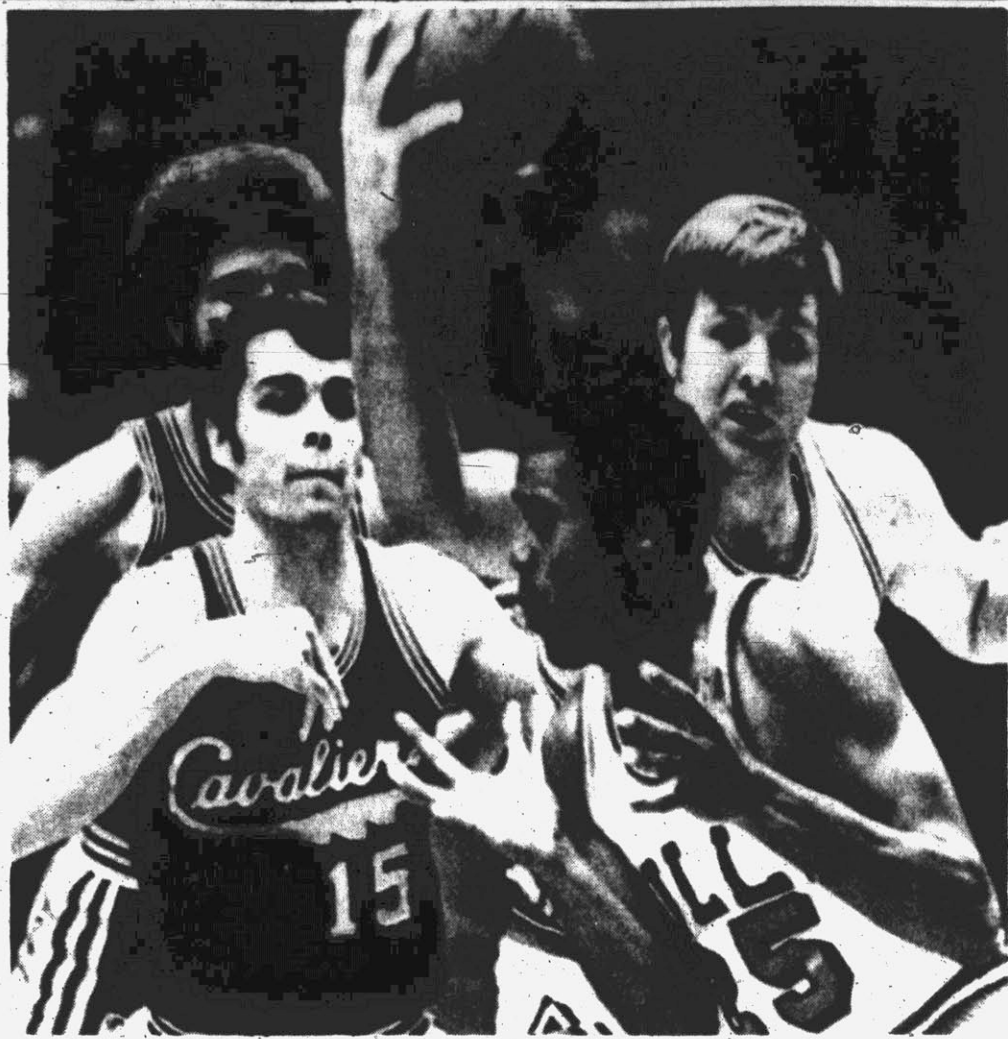

The Packer Board of Directors is expected to meet shortly to consider a replacement for Bengston.

Among those rumored under consideration are George Allen, coach of the Los Angeles Rams; Bill Austin, Washington Redskins head coach and former Packer assistant; Tom Fears, former head coach of the New Orleans Saints who also was a Packer aide under Lombardi, Ara Parseghian, head coach at Notre Dame, and Starr.

He added confidence—his own—and demanded camaraderie. The Packers then were no longer a team, but a close-knit family.

Now, from outward appearances, the Packers are just another pro football team. The Packers are close, they are friends, but no longer are they family.

In the nine years that Lom-

Big G, Big Mac Meet In Battle Of Unbeatens

By TED MEIER Associated Press Sports Writer The heralded meeting between the Big G and Big Mac takes place tonight in college basketball.

The Big G, otherwise known as 7-foot-2 Artis Gilmore of the University of Jacksonville, and Big Mac, 7-foot Jim McDaniels of Western Kentucky, face each other in Freedom Hall in Louisville, Ky.

A capacity crowd is expected to watch the clash of the giants as well as a test of two unbeaten nationally ranked teams. Jacksonville is No. 4 in the Associated Press poll, Western Kentucky 10th. Each boasts a 5-0 record.

Top-ranked UCLA, idle for 10 days, romped to its fifth in a row Tuesday night. The unbeaten Bruins crushed Missouri 94-75 behind the combined 57 points by Sidney Wicks and Curtis Rowe. Wicks scored 29, Rowe 28.

Kentucky, No. 7 in the AP poll, rebounded from its defeat by Purdue last week, and defeated Oregon State 84-78. Ninth-ranked Drake made it seven in a row by overwhelming Minnesota 83-66.

There were some surprises among the AP Second Ten.

Indiana, No. 11, with George McGinnis scoring 38 points, rolled over Butler 111-94, but North Carolina, St. John's of New York and New Mexico State, No. 17, 19 and 20, respectively, were beaten.

Utah whipped North Carolina 105-86 led by Mike Newlin's 30 points. Boston College, paced by Jim O'Brien's 26 points, snapped the six-game winning streak of St. John's 69-66. New Mexico State fell before New Mexico 72-66.

Michigan won its own Michigan Invitational tourney by beating Wyoming 94-76 as Dan Fife showed the way with 20 points. California landed third place by beating Harvard 77-74.

Johnny Neumann, the No. 1 collegiate scorer, came up with 53 points for Mississippi against Vanderbilt, but the Johnny Rebs were routed 130-112 by the Commodores. The 130 points set a Vanderbilt record for one game.

Two free throws by Bob Siemak with 29 seconds left gave Los Angeles Loyola an upset 63-61 victory over Cincinnati and Jake Davis' 30-foot jumper in the last second gave Pepperdine an 86-84 overtime triumph over NYU.

N.C. State handed Davidson its first defeat 77-64, while in other games Fordham won its seventh by shading Miami, Fla., 85-83, Chicago Loyola humbled Cornell, 82-69, Duke downed Dayton, 70-64, Colorado squeaked past Texas Tech, 67-66, Massachusetts trounced Hofstra 87-60 and Brigham Young edged Santa Clara, 68-67.

Farmville Wrestlers Continue To Improve

By WOODY PEELE Reflector Sports Editor (One of a series)

FARMVILLE — The Farmville Red Devils are in their second year of wrestling now, and Coach Ronald Vincent sees some big things in the future for the sport at the school.

But right now, he's battling the television image of the sport, both with students and parents. "Our biggest problem is letting people know that wrestling, real wrestling is not anything like that in television. A lot of students don't realize this, and a lot of parents don't want their sons to participate because they expect it to be the same," Vincent said.

"What we've got to do is show that they have nothing in common."

Attendance at the home matches is picking up, Vincent says, and this gives him rise to hopes that next year, the team may be ready to go in the new Eastern Carolina Conference.

This year, there is no conference race, as only three teams within the Eastern Plains Conference, which the other loop will replace, and Farmville is content to try and win those, and set its sights on the sectionals.

"We're much stronger than we were last year," Vincent said, "But that's relative. We still have a long way to go. We are especially strong in the light and middle weights, but we don't have as much strength in the heavier classes."

Vincent feels his top wrestlers are in the group between 130 and 145, and that the three men working here might be able to play in the sectionals. "We could win a title, but I think it would be premature since we are such a young team in experience."

But if the team does come up with a medal winner in the sectionals, Vincent feels it will come from these three, who are Charles Sutton, Gene Reel and Danny Moore.

The team has only three seniors, so experience will be greatly improved next year. Most of the top wrestlers are sophomores, so there is a lot to look forward to. "I think consolidation (slated later this year) is going to help us too," Vincent said. "We'll have more athletes, and therefore more competition."

Going down the weight classes, Vincent listed his top men.

In the 98-pound class, Ronnie Moore, a sophomore, tops the card. "He's 3-1 now, and is greatly improved." Backing him up is Marty Hobgood, who can work either here or at 105 or 112. "He's just a freshman," the coach said, "but shows a lot of potential."

At 105 is David Ebron, another sophomore, who currently is 1-2.

Vincent feels he also has a lot of potential.

Ricky Bundy, another sophomore, who has a 2-2 mark, is the 112-pound leader. "He's shown a lot of improvement." Vincent feels he'll move down to the 105-class in February. "Nearly everyone will drop down a class," he said. "We're mostly overweight still, or in a class above what we should be."

Charles Rose, another sophomore, with a 1-3 record, is at 119. "He's a hard worker, and will improve," Vincent says.

At 126 is Jody Joyner, still another sophomore with a 2-2 record. "He's one of our hardest workers, although he's not real quick."

The 132-pound class is held by Charles Sutton, a junior who is 2-1. "He could win a lot for us. He's exceptionally strong and quick, and just needs experience."

At 138 is Gene Reel, another championship contender. He is a senior with a 3-0-1 record. "He won 10 for us last year, and has tremendous mat sense." Backing him up is Carl Turnage, who is 3-0 in exhibition. He shows much potential, the coach feels.

Danny Moore, a senior with a 4-0 mark, is the 145 man. "He's a tremendous competitor who thinks, too. He would win something," Vincent said. Sammy Blalock, a junior, who is rapidly improving, is backing him up.

Glenn Dwyer, who has yet to win in four matches, is at 155, but is another of the sophomores. "He shows much potential," Vincent said. "He's quite out of his class, however, weighing about 140."

Caros Moore, a junior with a 1-3 record is another out of his weight class at 167. "He's really a 155 wrestler," the coach said. "He's going to be good." James Eason, a sophomore, is backing him up and will be challenging for his spot soon.

Larry Horne, a senior with an 0-4 mark, is the 185-pound candidate. "He is another hard worker."

Topping the list is unlimited class wrestler Roger Eason. He's a junior and holds a 1-2 mark. "He's a newcomer, and is improving rapidly."

The Red Devils may not win a lot of matches this year, Vincent feels, but the future looks bright.

The visitors made it a complete sweep by capturing the junior varsity contest, 60-39. No girls game was played.

James Kenan again outshot the Bulldogs in the third period, tacking two points to the lead, 41-12. That left Kenan in control, 41-35 as the final period opened. James Kenan again outshot Griffon, 20-14, in the final period, wrapping up the win.

The Cincinnati-Baltimore playoff game Saturday matches the team with the longest winning streak in the American Football Conference against the team with the best record, but for imposing opposite forces the Detroit-Dallas showdown later in the day has a big edge.

When the Lions and Cowboys collide at 4 p.m. EST in a game that will be nationally televised by CBS, it is likely that an immediate slugfest will take place along the line of scrimmage, where Dallas' No. 1 ranked rushers will take on Detroit's No. 1 ranked defenders.

The ringleader for the Cowboy running backs is, surprisingly, a rookie—Duane Thomas, who gained 803 yards for a 5.3 average during the regular season. Detroit's best was Mel Farr, who gained 717 yards for a 4.3 average before separating his shoulder. He remains a question-mark for Saturday's game.

While the battle on the ground takes place, each team likely will be wary about putting the ball in the air since both have been particularly adept at amassing interceptions. Detroit led Minnesota for the NFC lead with 28. Dallas was next with 24. The individual leaders were Dick LeBeau for Detroit with nine and Charlie Waters for Dallas with five. LeBeau's figures gave him the NFC championship in that department.

Two AFC statistical championships will be on display at Baltimore when the Bengals, with seven consecutive victories, and the Colts, with an 11-2-1 record, tangle in a game that will be nationally televised at 1 p.m., EST, by NBC.

Jim Duncan provided the Colts with the most exciting kickoff returning in the AFC by averaging 35.4 yards a return. Dave Lewis supplied the Bengals with the top long-distance punting with a 46.2 average on 79 punts.

The Bengals and Colts never have met before but the two coaches—Cincinnati's Paul Brown and Don McCafferty of Baltimore—know each other well. McCafferty was coached by Brown when he was at Ohio State.

The Lions and Cowboys, who each have won five straight, did not meet this season. They last played in 1968 with Dallas winning 59-13.

"Go West, young man," was bad advice for the 17th-ranked North Carolina basketball team.

The mistake-prone Tar Heels, committing 31 turnovers, lost 105-86 to Utah in Salt Lake City Tuesday night. It was their second loss against five victories.

In the first half North Carolina hit a sizzling 77.3 per cent from the field, but this was partially nullified by 19 turnovers. Utah led 46-42 at the half, and dominated the second half.

For the Tar Heels Dennis Wucick had 22 points, George Karl 18 and Steve Trevis 17. Six Utah players scored in double figures, with Mike Newlin leading the way with 30.

Atlantic Coast Conference teams were involved in three other games Tuesday night.

Karyland fought off rallying Tampa for an 80-72 victory, North Carolina State knocked Davidson from the unbeaten, 77-64; and Duke took advantage of cold second-half shooting by Dayton to beat the Flyers 70-64.

ACC teams now are idle until after Christmas. On Saturday, South Carolina plays in the Holiday Festival in New York City, and Duke is home to Santa Clara. N.C. State, winning its third straight game, got a 15-point performance in the second half by Ed Leftwich after he had been held scoreless in the first half.

Paul Coder, had 6-foot-center, had 19 points and 14 rebounds for the winning Wolfpack, which brought its record to 5-2.

Eric Minkin led Davidson with 21 points and 12 rebounds. The Wildcats of the Southern Conference now are 4-1.

Dayton, the home team held a slim lead over Duke until early in the second half. Then the Blue Devils moved ahead to stay by outscoring the Flyers 10-2 in a two-minute spurt.

Duke evened its record at 4-4, and Dayton is 5-2.

Randy Denton had 20 points and Richie O'Connor 18 for Duke. Kenny May had 23 for Dayton.

Maryland led Tampa 37-29 at the half, but the Floridians cut their disadvantage to 72-68 with 1:36 left to play. However, a key turnover by Tampa permitted the Maryland Terps to widen the margin again. Sophomore guard Howard White scored 26 points for Maryland, which is now 5-2. Tampa is 3-2.

NEW YORK (AP) — If you think the unemployment rate is high in the United States, take a glance at the risky profession of coaching football.

With the regular college and professional seasons barely over, the coaching fraternity has had more openings than a busy dentist.

Some 18 coaches who started the season at major colleges are no longer on the job, although four of them have turned up elsewhere.

That includes highly successful Bob Blackman of Dartmouth, who was to be officially named head coach at Illinois today. The Illinois athletic board tried to fire Jim Valek during the season but his players stood up for him and he was allowed to finish out the campaign.

Others who latched on elsewhere include Mike McGee, who went from East Carolina to Duke to replace the dismissed Tom Harp; Bill Peterson, who departed Florida State for the dual job of head coach and athletic director at Rice, and Jim Pittman, who left Tulane for Texas Christian shortly after winning the Liberty Bowl. Bo Hagan had resigned at Rice while Fred Taylor was let out at TCU.

Jobs still open include Dartmouth; Florida State; Harvard, where John Yovicin resigned on doctor's orders; Iowa, where Ray Nagel stepped down after being fired and quickly rehired last spring, and Tulane.

Sonny Randle, a former pro star, was elevated from an assistant's job to replace McGee at East Carolina.

In other moves, Don James, a Colorado aide, took over for the resigned Dave Puddington at Kent State; Fran Curci of Tampa, a former Miami, Fla. quarterback, returned to his alma mater, where Charlie Tate quit early in the season and Walt Kichefski finished up as interim coach.

Harry Gamble of Lafayette succeeded Bob Odell, who resigned at Penn, and was in turn replaced by Neil Putnam, an assistant at Yale. Joe McMullen of San Jose State took ill during the season and Dewey King, who took over, was later given the job for next year, as well.

Three Virginia schools named their head men. Assistants Don Lawrence and Bob Thalman replaced George Blackburn and Vito Ragazzo at Virginia and VMI, respectively, while Virginia Tech picked Charlie Coffey, defensive coordinator at Virginia Tech, to succeed Jerry Clairborne. Lloyd Eaton stepped down at Wyoming and assistant Fritz Shurmur moved up.

In addition, Ben Wilson of Wichita State and Rick Tolley of Marshall were killed, along with many of their players, in plane crashes.

At least 11 small colleges also lost their coaches for one reason or another.

The coaching upheaval has spread into the pros. Three of the 26 teams have openings today and seven others reportedly could have before too long. Phil Bengtson resigned Tuesday after three years as Vince Lombardi's successor with the Green Bay Packers. Cleveland's Blanton Collier and Houston's Wally Lemm have announced their retirements.

Elsewhere, J. D. Roberts served on an interim basis after replacing Tom Fears in mid-season at New Orleans and George Allen does not expect to have his contract renewed at Los Angeles. Others said to be on shaky ground include Buffalo's John Rauch, San Diego's Charlie Waller, Washington's Bill Austin, Chicago's Jim Dooley and Philadelphia's Jerry Williams.

Alex Webster, who guided the New York Giants to their best record in seven years, was rehired Tuesday for one year—the term he insisted on—at a reported $40,000. Earlier, Boston's John Mazur, who succeeded Clive Rush in midseason, was signed for another year.

Cleveland Drops 36th NBA Loss

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Cleveland Cavaliers have more reason to hate the establishment than any hippie. An 0-28 record can build plenty of dislike.

That's the figure the Cavaliers reached against established clubs Tuesday night when they lost to the Chicago Bulls 121-80 and continued toward the worst record in National Basketball Association history.

The only three victories Cleveland has managed in 39 games this season have been against the other two expansion clubs in the league, Buffalo and Portland.

In other games, Philadelphia overcame Phoenix 133-129 in overtime, Seattle clipped the New York Knicks 119-108 and Atlanta tripped Los Angeles 119-115.

In the American Basketball Association, Kentucky beat Pittsburgh 116-100, Indiana stopped the Floridians 131-123, Denver slipped past Memphis 104-102 and Texas routed Carolina 160-122.

Chicago had the usual easy time with the Cavaliers, who fell behind 35-19 by the end of the first quarter. Bob Love led the Bulls with 22 points, while McCoy McLemore and Dave Sorenson each had 17 for the hapless Cavaliers.

Billy Cunningham led the way for Philadelphia, scoring nine of his 25 points in the overtime period and Jim Washington chipped in with two key tip-ins.

The 76ers overcame a 24-point deficit in the third period behind rookie center Dennis Awrey, who had 15 points in the period and 21 in the final half. Philadelphia moved to a five-point lead with three minutes left before Connie Hawkins, who had 33 points, scored five quick points for the Suns to tie.

Jo Jo White scored 35 points, including 22 in the first half to lead Boston over San Francisco as the Celtics erased a 16-4 deficit. Nate Thurmond also tallied 35 for the Warriors.

Walt Hazzard's 15-foot jumper with 36 seconds left gave Atlanta the go-ahead goal to beat the Lakers. Hazzard led the Hawks with 32 points. Jerry West topped the Lakers with 24.

Seattle held off a third-quarter rally to beat the Knicks. The SuperSonics saw an 11-point lead melt to one at 79-78 before pulling away again, this time for good. Dave DeBusschere led the Knicks with 27. Tom Meschery and Lennie Wilkens each had 29 for Seattle.

Lefty Chris Short of the Phillies three times has pitched shutouts on opening days.

Caldwell Gets Extended Play

GREENSBORO, N. C. (AP) — Joe Caldwell can continue playing with the Carolina Cougars of the American Basketball Association for the time being.

"I'll get to this as quickly as I can," a federal judge said Tuesday of his forthcoming ruling in a suit by the Atlanta Hawks of the National Basketball Association. The Hawks claim rights to Caldwell under a reserve clause in his former contract with them. He jumped to the Cougars after the start of this season when he could not reach agreement with the Hawks on a new contract. He averaged 15.2 points a game in his six seasons in the NBA. He is averaging 22.6 with Carolina. U. S. Dist. Judge Edwin M. Stanley had held a hearing on the Caldwell case early this month, and had called lawyers in for further proceedings Tuesday. But his telling them that he would get to a decision as quickly as he could was the only thing new.

Herb Wins Trophy

CLINTON, S. C. (AP) — The 1970 winner of the Jacobs Blocking Trophy for the Southern Conference is Bob Herb, William and Mary's all-conference center.

The Jacobs Blocking Trophy is presented each year by Hough and William Jacobs of Clinton in memory of their father, who started the awards programs in the early 1930s. The selection is made by a vote of Conference coaches.

Herb, a 268-pound senior from Pittsburgh, Pa., has been all-conference for the past three seasons and was named to the second team Associated Press All-America squad this year.

Brian Britton, Richmond University tackle, was runnerup for the award. Don Dease of the Citadel was third. Also mentioned in the balloting were Butch Kersey and Peyton Barton, both tackles from Furman.

For a typewriter will stimulate an interest in both spelling and writing.

Unless a person can read easily and express his thoughts neatly, he hasn't much chance of getting into college, anyway.

Thus, many parents who take out college insurance policies for their children, fail to nurture their interest in cultural subjects, so those youngsters flunk

South opened the bidding with one spade. West overcalled with two clubs and North freely raised his partner to two spades. South chose to pass at this point, and West would have been well advised to let sleeping dogs lie—particularly in view of the fact that East had not acted when he had the opportunity.

out of high school. Or, because of low grades, they develop a dislike for education.

Remember, if a person is good at anything, he usually will like it.

But if he is poor in his grades or the "dummy" of his class, he will hate education and never aspire to go onward to college.

You can often procure a good secondhand typewriter for $50, since that is the usual trade-in allowance thereon.

And a used typewriter will prove quite adequate for the pupil in grammar or high school. Actually, such a child will also gain higher school marks because of the neatly typed themes and class reports.

For teachers grow irritated at the illegible scrawl now typical even of college youth.

And an irritated professor tends to reduce the grade on a theme or science report.

Thus, if your paper's contents would normally be worth a "B," if you anger the professor by your juvenile script, he may mark it down to a "C."

But if it is neatly typed, the contrast of that paper with a dozen other scrawly handwritten themes, may make the teacher so happy, he will give the student an "A."

Other advantages of a typewriter include the fact your parents and grandparents will hear from your college children more often, for it is so much easier to type a letter than to push a pen.

Other superb gifts include a one-volume encyclopaedia which your child can take to college.

And every smart family should have a big encyclopaedia in the home, especially if you have children of school age.

farm children much of the advantages that city youngsters now enjoy, who have easier access to their city library!

By all means keep a good dictionary in your home and give one to students going away to college.

An Atlas is likewise a dandy gift for ambitious families.

And be sure your children have a Bible! Then teach them to read it! I gained most of my knowledge of psychology from the Bible!

Time Running Out On Teacher Exams

J. T. Whitley, Director of Testing at East Carolina University for the Educational Testing Service of Princeton, New Jersey, reminded prospective teachers that less than two weeks remain to submit registrations to take the National Teacher Examinations.

In this area, the examinations are being conducted at ECU on January 30, 1971. Registrations for the examinations must be forwarded in time to reach the Princeton office not later than January 7, Whitley advised.

Bulletins of information are available from Whitley at Box 2762 ECU Station, Greenville, or may be procured directly from the National Teachers Examinations, Educational Testing Service, Box 911, Princeton, New Jersey 08540.

A candidate takes the Common examinations at a one-day session. These exams include tests in professional education and general education, and in one of the 24 teaching area examinations which are designed to evaluate understanding of subject matter and methods applicable to the area he may be assigned to teach.

Each candidate will receive an admission ticket showing the exact location of the center to report to. Candidates for common examinations will report at 8:30 a.m. January 30, and should finish by 12:30 p.m., according to Whitley. Teaching area examinations begin at 1:30 p.m. and should finish at approximately 4:15 p.m.

Resolution Of Tribute

Since the death of Dr. Robert Lee Humber in Greenville more than a month ago, several organizations and groups have honored the late art patron and peace maker through memorial resolutions.

The most recent comes from the Board of Trustees of the Rachel Maxwell Moore Art Foundation. Dr. Humber served on the board from the inception of the foundation, being named by Mrs. Moore as one of the three permanent trustees.

The resolution adopted by the Board of Trustees pays tribute to Dr. Humber as "a champion of artistic achievement, cultural enrichment, and in statesmanship he demonstrated rare ability and remarkable vision."

The resolution was signed by M. K. Blount, Sr., president of the foundation; by trustee Charles W. Howard, Jr.; and ex-officio members Robert E. Pittman, president of the East Carolina Art Society; and Mrs. Edith G. Walker, director of the Greenville Art Center.

Non-Public Schools Here 'Approved'

Greenville's four private schools have all received a rating of "approval" from the Department of Public Instruction in Raleigh.

The four — Greenville Seventh Day Adventist School; St. Gabriel's (Catholic) School; Pace Academy; and St. Raphael's (Catholic) School; had their official Annual Fall Report reviewed under the State requirements contained in "Standards for Approved Non-Public Schools."

The letter of approval called attention to the fact that approval "is not to be construed as the equivalent of accreditation."

"In achieving approved status, the school is meeting the minimum requirements under the General Statutes of this State to remain open and enroll children within the compulsory school attendance age.

The approved letter adds "Accreditation of a school denotes a measure of excellence considerably in excess of prescribed minimums. We trust that the school under your leadership will strive to meet the accreditation standards."

Approval letters received by directors of the four schools are identical. Copies of the letters are placed on file with the Greenville City Schools.

The letters were directed to Gerald Rickaby at the Seventh Day Adventist School; to Sister Herman Joseph at St. Gabriel's; to Mrs. Annette Booth Carter at Pace Academy; and to Sister M. Beata at St. Raphael's School.

Abandon Rule On Vaccination

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Travelers coming into the United States from cholera-infected areas will no longer be required to have cholera vaccinations, the U.S. Center for Disease Control reports.

A spokesman for the center said the U.S. Public Health Service had lifted the requirement because it found the vaccine of little use in preventing the international spread of the disease.

A statement by the center said the only effective prevention is improvement of sanitation.

memo to advertisers

Some people's circulation figures multiply like rabbits

Other's jump around under the pressures of selling advertising space.
Multiplication and fluctuation have to be the real thing for us. The Audit Bureau of Circulations keeps close tabs on our circulation audience—their auditors, their standards, their reports, and their figures.
Not a bad arrangement. At least you know for sure exactly what your advertising moneys are buying.
Counting only those willing to pay the price makes us publish a paper people will want to read—an audience interested in what you have to say about your products and services.
Be ABC-sure!

The Daily Reflector

The Audit Bureau of Circulations is a self-regulatory association of over 4,000 advertisers, advertising agencies, and publishers, and is recognized as a bureau of standards for the print media industry.
