Wider Chinese Contact Prospects Encouraging

Editor's Note:

John Roderick of The Associated Press is one of three American newsmen admitted to Communist China to cover the tour of the U.S. table tennis team. It is the first time such permission has been granted to a group of correspondents since the Communists came to power in 1949. Roderick, 56, was an AP correspondent in China in 1945-48 and has served in the Tokyo bureau since 1959.

PEKING (AP) — The warm welcome extended by the Chinese to the visiting U.S. table tennis team and three American newsmen admitted to China to cover their tour offers encouraging prospects for wider people-to-people contacts between the Chinese and the Americans.

The table tennis team is the first U.S. group of any kind invited to the Chinese mainland since the People's Republic was proclaimed in 1949.

Our news assignment is to cover the team. But the biggest story of all—China—is all around.

It is too soon to say that all the barriers which have kept Americans out of China and Chinese out of America for so many years are coming down. But a hole has been made in the once impenetrable wall.

Not that official relations have changed or are about to do so. The Vietnam war and U.S. backing of Chiang Kaishek bar the way to rapprochement. But the springlike warmth in U.S.-China contacts at this unofficial level cannot fail to melt some of the ice that has congealed in the long winter of hostility.

This is my first dispatch from China in 22 years. And Americans are welcome in the People's Republic—an event which would have seemed incredible only a few weeks ago.

I crossed the border from Hong Kong at 10:30 on a sunny Easter morning with John Rich and Jack Reynolds of the National Broadcasting Co. and two of their Japanese television crewmen, Hiromasa Yamanaka and Masaaki Shihara.

With us were four other newsmen, John Saar, an Englishman, and Frank Fischbeck, a West German, both of TimeLife, and Jose Schlesinger and Bob Whyte from the Canadian Broadcasting Corp.

Only Rich and I had ever been to China, and we were here in the years before the Communist takeover.

From the border to Peking, it was all smiles and handshakes. At Shumchun, across the border, we went through the complex of official buildings at an orderly pace, sipping tea, changing our money and lurching on duck, chicken, pork, squid and abalone washed down by Chinese beer.

We found ourselves in a world of lichee trees, banana groves and rice terraces as we traveled by train to Canton, South China's largest city.

Everywhere Chairman Mao Tse-tung beamed on us from billboards on the side of the track, statues inside the public buildings and from the laps of countless, blue-jacketed Chinese.

Our spotless blue and cream-colored train rolled through the mountain-fringed valleys to the beat of martial music blaring from loudspeakers, broken only by quotations from Mao's little red book.

Kwangchow, as the Communists call Canton, was a metropolis of 3 million glimpsed on the way to the airport. It was in holiday mood with thousands strolling the streets.

The cradle of Sun Yat Sen's revolution 50 years ago, it has a memorial to Sun on wide Chungshan Road, an institute for the peasant movement topped by a huge torch painted red and a vast People's Park containing six artificial lakes for boating, two swimming pools and numerous pavilions.

Rows of chien chen trees on Kwangchow's outskirts give the city a French provincial air, a Gallic impression heightened in the countryside by pine trees lining the highways. Bicycles, an occasional pedicab—a three-wheeled bicycle taxi—and pedestrians filled the streets. There were a handful of cars and some crowded buses. Our car wove through the maze, the driver horn honking imperiously.

At the new airport built four years ago, we newsmen, four Western diplomats and a clutch of Chinese were the only passengers on the four-engine Ilyushin 18 held over from its usual 2 a.m. departure for us.

The last thing we saw when we took off at 5:15 p.m. was Mao smiling up at us from an enormous portrait in front of the airport building.

Inside, a smaller picture faced us and a printed quotation: "People of the world unite and defeat the U.S. aggressors and all their running dogs."

An apple-cheeked stewardess in pigtailed moved up behind me, raised her hand and brought it down smartly next to my ear—a small aggressor died instantly beneath her fly swatter.

Our plane landed in Peking at 8:45 and we trundled into the capital by bus down wide, tree-lined avenues to our hotel, the New Bridge of Hsin Chiao, where the U.S. table tennis team also is staying.

Officer Forsees Death

KEGALLA, Ceylon (AP) — "We'll be killed tomorrow," said the policeman in this district center 40 miles from Colombo, Ceylon's capital. He chuckled, but nervously.

The police post at Kegalla is the only one in a district of 700 square miles that hasn't been burned or abandoned since young ultra-leftists went to war against the government a week ago.

Nearby a few officers rolled out a single strand of barbed wire between the post and a rice paddy over which officials said they were sure an attack would soon come. In front of the post were a few sandbags and an ancient decorative cannon rooted in cement.

This was the smallest force since Aug. 13, 1966, when a total of 296,000 American troops were in the country. U.S. strength reached a maximum of 543,500 in April 1969.

President Nixon has ordered the American force reduced to 284,000 by the end of this month, and he announced last week that another 100,000 would be withdrawn by Dec. 1.

Lt. Gen. Michael S. Davison, commander of the U.S. 2nd Field Force, said a total of about 7,500 U.S. combat troops will remain after May 1 in his area, Saigon and the 11 surrounding provinces.

These troops, he said, "will form a highly mobile and powerful reaction force capable of

Below 300,000 U.S. Troop Strength Drops

By GEORG ESPER

SAIGON (AP) — American troop strength in South Vietnam has dropped below 300,000 for the first time in more than 4½ years, the U.S. Command announced today, and a field commander disclosed new tactics to compensate for the further cutback of American forces.

A weekly summary said a total of 296,500 American servicemen were in Vietnam last Thursday, a drop of 5,400 during the week. The total included 223,100 Army, 40,500 Air Force, 18,000 Marines, 14,800 Navy and 100 Coast Guard.

The rebels, called the Che Guevarists for the Cuban revolutionary, occupy hills across the length of the island. They are estimated to number about 80,000, while the government's forces are believed to total about 25,000.

The rebel positions are in temples and schools running from Anuradhapura, the ancient Buddhist capital 134 miles northeast of Colombo, to Galle, the old Portuguese stronghold 70 miles south of Colombo.

They attack at night, fighting government forces by day only when attacked, as in a pitched battle Saturday in which they lost an estimated 200 men.

Total deaths range near 1,000, according to the best estimates available, running perhaps 10 to 1 against the insurgents.

Villagers report the insurgents are well fed by rural dwellers, either voluntarily or at gunpoint. Some say rebel leaders have raided villages and have taken every youth between 14 and 16 to join their ranks.

moving anywhere, anytime at a moment's notice to counter any enemy threat and supplement our Vietnamese allies.

"We will continue to provide training, logistical and air mobile support to the Vietnamese," he added.

Meanwhile, North Vietnamese troops shot down an American helicopter 90 miles south of Da Nang Sunday, then ambushed an infantry force trying to reach the survivors.

The U.S. Command said 11 Americans were killed and eight were wounded.

Enemy losses were not known. "The helicopter must have been on a visual reconnaissance mission, took ground fire and went down," said a U.S. spokesman.

"Ground troops were sent in on a search-and-rescue mission and the enemy apparently headed the same way for the helicopter."

Perhaps 100 to 150 men from the 11th Brigade of the American Division were in the rescue force.

The North Vietnamese lying in the jungled hills ripped into the lead column with rocket grenades and small arms fire. U.S. helicopter gunships, fighter-bombers and artillery broke up the attack.

The U.S. Command said one helicopter crewman was killed and two others were wounded in the crash, while 10 American infantrymen were killed and six were wounded in the ambush.

Three other U.S. aircraft were shot down Sunday while supporting South Vietnamese forces. One American was killed and one was wounded in three crashes. The losses raised to 7,710 the number of U.S. aircraft reported lost in the war.

One helicopter and an F111 jet fighter-bomber were shot down near Fire Base 6, the South Vietnamese base in the central highlands that has been under siege for nearly two weeks.

Another helicopter was shot down in eastern Cambodia. It was supporting a South Vietnamese task force that claimed 200 North Vietnamese troops killed Sunday with the help of U.S. air strikes in a clash with a regimental-sized enemy force. The South Vietnamese said their only casualties were six wounded, indicating that most of the enemy casualties were due to air and artillery action and that the enemy casualty figure was a highly questionable estimate.

A communique said the South Vietnamese troops also found 18 anti-aircraft machine guns and two 82mm mortars which had been destroyed on the battlefield near Highway 7, about 15 miles from the Vietnamese border.

Easter Parade Is Different

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — In the tradition of Old South finery, New Orleans' grand ladies circled through the French Quarter Sunday in an Easter Parade with a difference.

Wearing spring bonnets in summer-like temperatures, they rode down the narrow streets of the old section of town in fringed surreys and horse-drawn carriages.

From the Quarter to wide Canal Street, they circled back through the Quarter to St. Louis Cathedral for a noon Easter mass.

Man's Cause Said Secure

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI says "Man's cause is not only not lost, it is secure."

"The unity of the world shall be achieved," he told a gathering in St. Peter's Square Easter Sunday.

But he decried "new wars," armaments, revolutions, social struggle and "doctrinal and disciplinary currents" within the Roman Catholic Church.

AFTER SERVICES — President and Mrs. Nixon leave Methodist Church in Thurmont, Md., yesterday after attending Easter services. The Nixon family drove to the church from nearby Camp David where they spent the holiday weekend.

In Suez Area Favor Withdrawal

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Israeli Defense Minister Moshe Dayan says he favors withdrawal of Israeli forces along the Suez Canal provided there is a permanent cease-fire agreement with Egypt and "no Soviet or Egyptian troops will cross the canal."

Speaking at a televised news conference Sunday, Dayan refused to say if the Cabinet is discussing how many miles to retreat, saying: "I am not free to answer that." But he said any partial pullback "must lead to the kind of comprehensive settlement for which we are willing."

Egyptian President Anwar Sadat proposed in February that Israel withdraw from part of the Sinai Peninsula to permit reopening of the canal and then relinquish the remaining Arab territory occupied during the 1967 war. The canal has been blocked since the six-day war, with Israeli forces entrenched on its east bank and Egyptian troops on the other side.

Dayan said he was opposed to total withdrawal and cited a clause in a resolution passed by last week's Labor party convention demanding "substantial changes" in Israel's prewar frontiers.

The defense minister said he believed Sadat spoke "in sincerity and without guile" when he suggested a peace settlement with Israel.

"But Sadat speaks of two stages—partial withdrawal, stop for a drink of juice, and then get out of the entire area," Dayan said.

Dayan also said he could not contradict reports from Washington that Moscow was equipping Egypt with MIG23 warplanes, reputedly the world's fastest fighter-interceptors.

"Apparently warplanes of higher quality have reached Egypt," he said.

The danger of further Soviet involvement in the Middle East "obliges us to seek out every crack that can lead to peace," Dayan observed.

More than 25,000 visitors filed through the ancient walled city of Jerusalem over the weekend as Roman Catholics, Protestants, Greek Orthodox and Jews observed their holy holidays.

The large numbers were attributed in part to the absence of hostilities along the Arab-Israeli borders. It was the first time since the 1967 war there was no fighting at Easter time.

Proxmire Hits War Projects

By CARL C. CRAFT
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. William Proxmire, insisting "the charge of neo-isolationism hurled at those who advocate reform is badly misplaced," challenged today a wide range of military spending policies.

"In fact, if the military fails to reform, it may so endanger its own credibility as to bring about the very neo-isolationism it claims to oppose," the Wisconsin Democrat added.

"By reforming procurement, by reviewing our commitments, by taking a realistic view of the Russian and Chinese threat, by doing away with unneeded and overlapping weapons, and by limiting the expansion of our nuclear strategic terror," he said, "we could make great savings in the defense budget without endangering our security."

Proxmire questioned the need for the planned B1 manned bomber, saying, "Present aircraft with standoff weapons can adequately perform the same mission."

He accused the Defense Department of waste in its airborne warning and control system, and the antisubmarine warfare program.

Proxmire called for cuts in the Navy's F14 fighter plane and the Air Force's F15, costing an estimated $16.6 billion, and said it may be possible to settle on one less sophisticated plane for both missions.

Powell Quits As Pastor

NEW YORK (AP) — Adam Clayton Powell has announced he is resigning as pastor of the Abyssinian Baptist church. Powell, 62, had taken over the pulpit from his father in 1937.

He said Sunday he will make Bimini, in the Bahamas, his permanent home.

Powell has lived there almost exclusively since his defeat in last year's Democratic primary by Charles Rangel for the 18th Congressional district seat which Powell had held for 12 terms.

Democrats Make It Clear They Will Challenge Nixon Regularly

By JOE HALL
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The 92nd Congress is at the quarter point of its first session and controlling Democrats have made clear they will mount challenges to President Nixon on virtually every major issue.

With a presidential election next year and half a dozen Democratic senators in the running for their party's nomination, the 92nd was destined from the outset to be charged with politics.

But the broad range of attack on Presidential policies exceeds that of other recent Congresses when one party controlled the White House and the other the Capitol, such as during the Eisenhower years.

Nixon's No. 1 domestic recommendation, a $5-billion general revenue-sharing proposal, has all but been declared dead by foes in the House where it must originate.

His massive plan to reorganize the federal government and create four new big cabinet groupings is meeting heavy opposition in committees which must handle it.

His welfare-reform plan, a holdover from the preceding Congress, may be enacted but already has been rewritten substantially by the House Ways and Means Committee.

If it passes the House, it must face a hostile Finance Committee—Republicans as well as Democrats.

And on the Senate floor, a sizeable bloc of Democrats is determined to rewrite the bill to give higher payments to the poor and greater relief to the states and cities from rapidly mounting welfare costs. Democrats in both Senate and House have voted for an end to U.S. fighting in Vietnam this year or next. This followed the President's refusal to set a date for complete withdrawal.

Democrats took the lead in pushing through a 10-per-cent increase in Social Security benefits early in the session in defiance of Nixon's wishes.

Democrats also moved swiftly against unemployment. They pushed through the Senate a $1.75-billion bill designed to provide at least 150,000 public-service jobs this year. Early House action has been promised.

The Senate vote came in the face of strong administration opposition, with Secretary of Labor James D. Hodgson contending the Democratic measure went contrary to the President's special revenue-sharing plan in the manpower field.

Senate Democrats also ignored another of the special revenue-sharing proposals in pushing through a $1.5-billion extension of the Appalachia Regional Development program.

Nixon had asked that this program be ended and any further aid for the area be handled as a part of his special revenue-sharing plan for rural development.

Another Senate-passed bill opposed by the administration gives the Export-Import Bank authority to finance exports by U.S. firms to Communist East Europe. Aside from the Social Security increase, the major item of business on which Congress has completed action is submission to the states of a constitutional amendment permitting 18-year-olds to vote in all elections.

Couple Exchanges Vows On Sunday Afternoon

Miss Ada Elizabeth Askew, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Lawrence Askew, and Donald Wayne Mills, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jasper Lee Mills Jr., were united in marriage Sunday at three o'clock in the afternoon at Jarvis Memorial United Methodist Church.

The Rev. Troy Barrett officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The altar was adorned with two large arrangements of white Easter lilies, white gladioli, and white pom poms with bridal greenery. The altar was preceded by two spiral candelabrum with smilax and stephanotis interspersed. Throughout the wedding scene were stands of bridal palms.

Wedding music and the traditional processional and recessional were rendered by Mrs. Paul Toll, church organist. Miss Julie Harris sang "Because" and "One Hand, One Heart."

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a formal length white organza gown styled with an empire bodice of Venise lace flowers. Venise lace trimmed the higher collar and deep cuffs of the full, sheer camelot sleeves.

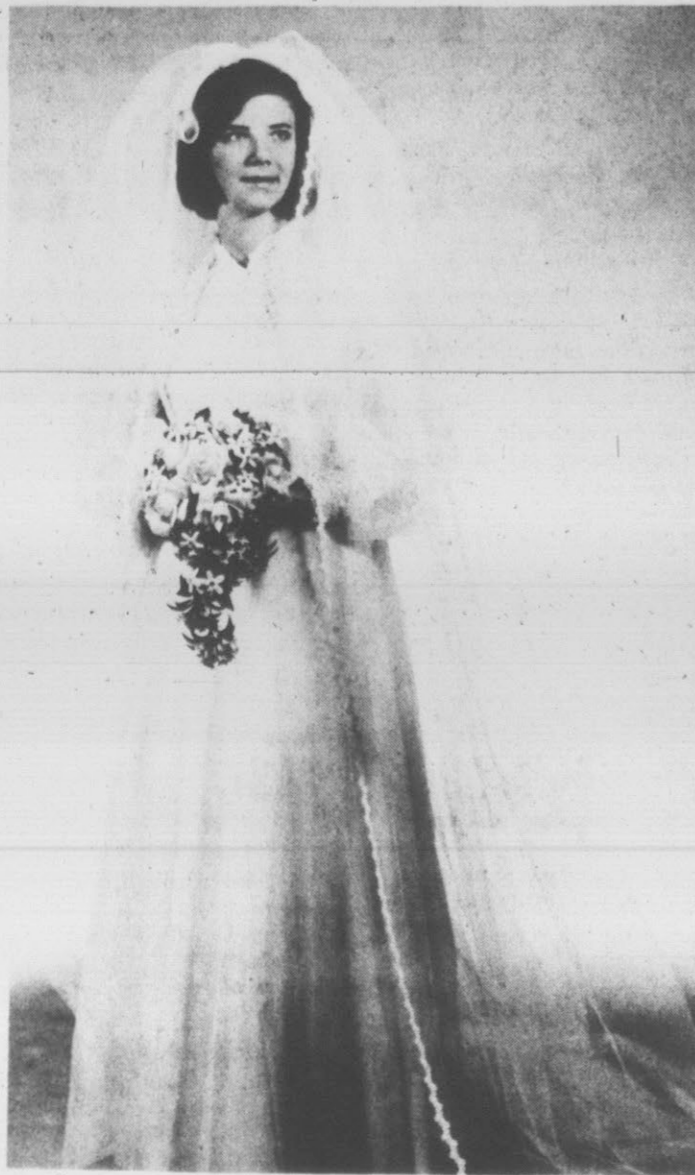

A formal length white illusion mantilla edged in matching Venise lace was attached to a tiara headpiece of organza loop bows. The bride carried a lace-covered Bible, that was given to her as a small child by her parents, centered with white butterfly roses with a white hybrid orchid corsage.

Mrs. Rodney Johnson of Chapel Hill was matron of honor and Miss Barbara Fussell was maid of honor.

Bridesmaids were Miss Sue Turnage of Atlanta, Ga., Miss Helen Boyles of Kinston, cousin of the bride, Miss Nancy Pate, Miss Candace Little, and Miss Janet Mills, sister of the bridegroom.

The attendants wore identical styled gowns of romance pink and navy chiffon. The pink bodice was designed with ruffles at the neck and styled down the front with small pink covered buttons. The full navy skirt was enhanced with pink and navy lace. Pink velvet entwined the lace forming a belt with matching trim.

They wore headdresses of natural wicker hats with wide ruffles of net plaited navy and pink with a full pink illusion veil.

MRS. DONALD WAYNE MILLS

The attendants carried nosegay bouquets of pink Marguerite daisies with sprays of baby's breath throughout and cascaded with pink matching ribbons.

Flower girl was Miss Amy Kearney of Snow Hill, cousin of the bride. She wore a full length gown styled after that of the bride. She carried a white basket centered with pink rose petals and a spray of white Marguerite daisies on the side. Ring bearer was Bennie Oakes of Hookerton, cousin of the bride. He carried a satin covered pillow with a small spray of white Marguerite daisies placed to one side.

The father of the bridegroom was best man. Ushers were Eddie Evans, Carl Crawford Jr., Cecil Bilbro, Cleve Branch, Joe West and Jon West, both cousins of the bride.

Mrs. Askew chose for her daughter's wedding, a blue ensemble trimmed in white with matching accessories. She wore a white cymbidium orchid corsage. Mrs. Mills wore a pink embossed silk dress with matching long coat and accessories. She wore a white cymbidium orchid corsage.

Mrs. H. C. Haynes, maternal grandmother of the bridegroom, wore a blue silk taffeta dress with pink accessories and a white carnation corsage. Mrs. Jasper Lee Mills, paternal grandmother of the bridegroom, wore an aqua polyester dress with white accessories and a white carnation corsage.

The bride and bridegroom are both graduates of J. H. Rose High School and are both seniors at East Carolina University.

For a wedding trip to unannounced points, Mrs. Mills chose a navy and white pantsuit with white accessories. She wore the orchid lifted from her bridal bouquet.

Reception

The bride's parents entertained at a reception held in the church parlor immediately following the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Claude B. West Jr. and Mrs. E. B. Kennerly greeted the guests.

Mrs. George Randolph poured punch and Mrs. Sonny Lancaster served the cake. Miss Anne Askew presided at the guest register.

The refreshment table was covered with a white Italian lace cutwork cloth. A centerpiece of white and pink snapdragons, daisies and baby's breath adorned the table with single silver candlesticks with pink candles on each side.

The bride's table was centered with a four-tiered wedding cake surrounded by toast glasses for all the members of the wedding party. After the bride and bridegroom cut the traditional first slice, cake and punch were served to the wedding party by Mrs. Jarvis Harrison and Mrs. Roy Boyles.

Mr. and Mrs. Jasper Lee Mills Jr. entertained members of the wedding party, family, and out-of-town guests at an after-rehearsal dinner at Holiday Inn on Saturday night.

Mrs. D. B. Armistead, Miss Anne Askew and Mrs. W. G. Rush entertained the bridesmaids at a luncheon on Friday at the home of Mrs. Armistead.

On The Young Side

By MARGARET STEVENS

With their return to school from spring vacation Wednesday, Rose students can look forward to less than seven more weeks of school.

Summer plans of eight Rose students have been decided with their acceptance for attendance at Governor's School.

Held annually in Winston-Salem since 1963, Governor's School will be attended by students from 147 different schools in North Carolina.

In session June 20-Aug. 7, the school will be conducted on the Salem College campus. Selected on the basis of their accomplishments, candidates are nominated in fields of art, dance, choral music, instrumental music, drama, French, English, mathematics, natural science, and social science.

Chosen in English were Sally Boyette and William Shields. Greg Clark, John Daugman, and David Howell will attend in the field of instrumental music.

Jan Durham, Joe Swain, and Anne Petrie will study drama, social sciences, and choral music, respectively.

Eleven Ensemble members were recently elected by choral instructor Miss Louise Hoffer to participate in All-State Chorus.

To travel to Greensboro Thursday, the group will perform six numbers Friday afternoon with students from all over North Carolina.

Singers are Susie Hill, Kathy Williams, Anna White, Jackie Hopkins, Cynthia Averette, Susan Hufford, Brenda Gorst, Steve Reel, Steve Rogers, Pete West, and Mike Vinson.

Learning the art of water rescue each Monday and Thursday evenings are 15 Rose students taking Senior Lifesaving. Held in Memorial Gym, the classes last five weeks.

Swimmers are Helen Moseley, Tom Adams, Janet Bond, David Bowman, Elvin Boyd, Pat Hagan, Maurice Sheppard, Guy Sumrell; Stephen Thompson, Cathy Clark, Jennifer Schall, Vicky Phelps, Dennis Diaz, Victor Diaz, and Kate Welch.

Rose's swimming team was honored at a banquet at the Candlewick Inn in March. Trophies went to seniors Arthur Fahrner, Johnny Wooten, and Steve Worsley. Mont Wooten was named the most improved swimmer, while Al Winn was named recipient of the coach's award.

Mike Van Dyke and Johnny Wooten received the most valuable swimmer award based on points scored throughout the season. Records of the winners were only one-quarter point apart.

Youth Association for Retarded Children entertained youngsters in Kinston's Caswell Training Center with a picnic and Easter egg hunt, April 3.

Those helping were Becky Cullop, Carolyn Mills, Josie Boyette, Chris Colcord, Debbie Webb, Terry Messner, Lynn Dodds, Betsy Gidley, Stephanie Sawyer; Carlton Elks, Bill Quiggins, Pat Harrison, Jim Hawkins, Gary Butts, Cecelia Clark, Theresa Jolly, Sidney Hardee, Jan White, Judy Dunn, Sharlene Dunn, and Dianne Hudson.

Junior Robert Kear was recently named to the District II All-District basketball team by the "Durham Morning Herald." The only Rose player to be chosen, Robert was Rose's leading scorer.

Rose's chess team avenged its only loss in a crushing victory over East Wayne High School in Goldsboro Tuesday. With the win, Rose regains its top position in eastern North Carolina. The next match will be with Burlington.

Larry Hatton captured first place in the 12-gauge shotgun division in Rose High Wildlife Club's skeet shooting contest last Sunday afternoon. Donald Taylor and Ronald Taylor finished second and third, respectively.

First place in the 20-gauge competition was a tie between Weighty Scales and Nat Harrison. A shoot off will be held at a later date.

Mrs. Sue Castellow's drama class presented a play entitled "A Little Push!" in junior and senior assemblies Thursday to promote interest in the Junior-Senior Prom.

Participating were Dale Williams, Mary Dale White, Jimi Bircher, Janet Whitehurst;

Barbara Rodgers, Jan Durham, Nancy Snowden, Ernest Adams, John Rodgers, Steve Rowland, John Weigand, and Allen Merritt.

Others contributing to the program were Judy Cline, Cindi Easterling, Randy Hignite, Carol Dilda, Anne Smith, Annie Young Clark, Peggie Fornes, Pat Harrison, Peggy Jones, Carolyn Sumpter; Lynda Steine, Cynthia Ebron, Darlene Short, Vickie McDaniel, Harold Loyd, Andy Keel, Willie Pollard, Jimmy Hagans, Jay Hagans, Bill Quiggins, Shep Edwards, Steve Rogers, Tommy Diggs, and Susie Hill.

Lemon Snow with

Custard Sauce
ZUCCHINI PANCAKES

From foreign cuisine comes a great way to treat this vegetable.

2 medium zucchini (1/2 pound)
1 large egg
2 tablespoons flour
1/4 teaspoon salt
Butter

Scrub zucchini with a vegetable brush in cold water; do not pare; cut away a thin slice from each end and discard. Coarsely grate zucchini—there should be 2 cups slightly packed down. In a medium mixing bowl beat egg until thickened and lemon color; add zucchini, flour and salt; mix well. In a large skillet fry tablespoons of the mixture, well apart and turning once, in hot butter—use 1 tablespoon butter for each batch. Keep first pancakes warm in a low oven while frying rest. Makes 12 small pancakes.

Does Women's Lib Have Answer For This?

By Abigail Van Buren
(© 1971 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd., Inc.)

DEAR ABBY: For the person who disagreed with women's lib when it comes to labeling lavatories, "Ladies and Gentlemen":

Here's how it's done in cattle country: A New York businesswoman and his wife were attending a convention in Houston. On reaching the convention hall, the wife excused herself saying she had to find a rest room. She headed down the corridor, but when she found the rest rooms she was more confused than ever, turned around, rushed back to her husband and asked impatiently, "Hey, what am I . . . a steer or a heifer?"

DEAR V. O.: If he didn't say "a heifer," he gave her a bum steer.

DEAR ABBY: I plan to be married this summer and my problem is what to do about my parents who have been divorced for four years.

I have always wanted an elegant church wedding, which will cost a lot. My mother can well afford it, and says she will gladly give it to me, but I can't have my father there.

I want my father to give me away, but mom says if she makes the wedding her father will give me away. I love my grandfather, but I would rather have my own father give me away.

My father is broke. The divorce took everything he had, and now he has a new wife and family to support. Mom is single, and she hasn't spoken to dad since the divorce, but regardless of what happened between them, I still love my dad. I love mom, too, but I don't think she's being fair to make me choose between a lovely wedding without dad, or none at all. What do you think? SOMETHING BLUE [ME]

DEAR BLUE: Unless you can persuade your mother to change her mind, you will have to make a choice. I feel that parents who have parted should put their own feelings aside when it comes to the weddings of their offspring. If they can't do that, then the bride and groom should ask their clergyman to perform the ceremony in the presence of those friends and relatives the young people want, and let the battling parents sit home with their grudges.

DEAR ABBY: This is for "Hoodwinked," and all the other nice girls who were fooled by married men who posed as bachelors. First of all, Abby, your answer was a dud. You said, "Be a little more fussy. And if you don't know the man, know the fixer-upper."

Some of the fixer-uppers mean well, but they, too, have been fooled. And how can a girl be "more fussy," when some of the biggest liars even go to church with you!

Here's my answer: Girls, demand proof. If a man says he's divorced, ask to see his divorce papers. If he tries to tug at your heart strings by telling you he's a widower, ask to see his wife's death certificate. If he's over 25 and says he's never been married, ask to meet his mother. If she lives out of town, tell him you'd like to call or write to her. Also, ask him where he works, and tell him you would like to call the personnel department to check his status.

I lived in Alaska for five years and I have seen many hearts broken by married "bachelors." I have been shown divorce papers and death certificates and am now married to a man who not only showed me his divorce papers but told me he admired my spunk and respected me for my principles.

"FUSSY" IN OAK PARK, ILL.
DEAR FUSSY: For girls who want to impress men with their "spunk," your answer was better than mine. Thanks for writing.

DEAR ABBY: Ten years ago, when I was 18 and wanted to shave my legs, my dad would have done anything to stop me.

Yes, there does seem to be a new trend in parents! The "go natural" look is what adults have been wishing kids would find for years. Now that they've found it, the adults complain. I give up!

TRAVELING WARDROBE — For after-five fun, a bright red evening dress at left, is made by Act I in an Encon polyester knit with a deep decolletage and a tiny waist girdled in black. The textured knit hardly shows a wrinkle, yet is light and easy to pack.

At center is a swimsuit that doesn't go to the beach alone — it brings a companion cover-up, a boldly-striped poncho. Both are by Marilyn K. in an Encon polyester double knit. At right is a one-piece jumpsuit that zips up the front. Bernice Lang designs it for Formfit Rogers in a slinky Enkalue nylon knit. It's paired with a long printed overskirt.

Start With Two Basic Colors When Planning Vacation Clothes

By AP Newsfeatures

If you are one of the thousands of travelers planning a summer or spring vacation, what to wear and where to go need not be a problem.

A small travel wardrobe can go far if you plan it carefully according to both color and pattern. Start with two colors and build your wardrobe around them, eliminating the need for extra shoes and bags that pile on the pounds.

Clothes that do double duty can lighten your luggage load and provide added costumes... a suit with blouse and jacket that can be mix-matched with pants.

Taking knits helps too. They pack well—either flat, or rolled along the sides of the suitcase to save space.

For the woman traveler who plans a two week vacation, here's Aeronaves de Mexico's suggested travel wardrobe:

Take along a lightweight, two-piece knit suit. It easily can serve for either sightseeing, lunching or shopping.

For resort wear colorful print shifts and vivid knit slacks, topped with a coordinated shirt, will take you anywhere, even to restaurants or late-night discotheques.

For after-five fun include two cocktail dresses, one the ever-fashionable and useful basic black for restaurant dining, the other in a vivid color for cocktail parties. Pack a fast drying swimsuit with one of the new cover-up dresses that can go from hotel, to beach, to poolside restaurant.

Loungewear has never been prettier. Many informal lounging costumes are styled with long skirts which would be great for dancing under the stars.

This year's new lingerie and sleepwear is a boom to women travelers. Lightweight, cool and comfortable, they can double as a beach robe, and lounge with equal ease.

It's always wise to bring a raincoat and fold-up umbrella for protection against summer showers.

A long scarf is a must among accessories. It can be draped any number of ways around the neck, flung over the shoulder and used as a head cover.

Take along one of the new synthetic wigs. They are a great replacement for curlers, especially after swimming all day.

Three pair of shoes should suffice, daytime pumps, comfortable low-heeled walking shoes and evening sandals. Take packable bedroom slippers that can double for beach sandals.

Other accessories should include three sets of nylon lingerie, three pair of pantyhose, drip-dry Crepeset nylon nightgown, sunglasses, cosmetics in small plastic jars and an extra pair of reading glasses.

Hush Puppies Tales
By Larry Averette

Boonesboro Blues

Do you know the story of Daniel Boone? Oh! Dan! was a man of many talents. He was a pioneer, a woodsman, a marksman and a very good tracker.

If Hush Puppies shoes would have been around then Daniel might never have been famous - at least not as a tracker.

Hush Puppies are made from Breathin Brushed Pigskin. They're softer than a raccoon in June.

And their durable, resilient crepe soles last longer than Boonesboro did. Hush Puppies exclusive fluorocarbon shield resists water, soils, stains, and Indian attacks.

But most important for this story is the fact that Hush Puppies weigh only twelve ounces. If the Indians and frontiersmen Daniel Boone tracked had worn Hush Puppies they would have eluded him, Hush Puppies are so light, they don't even leave footprints!

Installation Of Officers Held

The installation of officers took place at the monthly meeting of St. Peter's Womens Club on Wednesday night.

Officers are: Mrs. Louise Brocato, president; Mrs. Dorothy Trotta, vice president; Mrs. Gertrude Cunningham, secretary; Miss Evelyn Beasley, treasurer; and Father Maurice Spillane as Moderator. Father Spillane opened the meeting with prayer.

The following committees were formed: Altar Linens, chairman, Mrs. Dorothy Schlienz; Benevolence, chairman, Miss Dina Massi; Welcoming New Members, chairman, Mrs. Dina Dorney, co-chairman, Mrs. Ann Butler, Mrs. Peggy Hill and Mrs. Janet Conway; Refreshments, chairman, Mrs. Dorothy Doyle; Religious Articles, chairman, Mrs. Patricia Grosso; Telephone, chairman, Mrs. Florence McCuskey, co-chairman, Mrs. Arie O'Donnell; Publicity, chairman, Mrs. Ludmila Sherwood.

The guest speaker for the evening was Mrs. Austin Britt. She spoke on "Nature at Its Best In Your Own Backyard." She gave useful hints about planting, pruning and fertilizing of "native" bushes, trees and plants, such as magnolia, azalea and camellia.

An Easter theme was used in table decoration and refreshments which were arranged by Mrs. Brocato and Mrs. Lee Miller.

The meeting was concluded with prayer by Father Spillane.

Primary Day Change To Help

Understandably there is some concern about the change from Saturday to Tuesday the day of primary elections in North Carolina.

Those who opposed the change that has now been written into law by the legislature suggested it may make it more difficult for some voters to get to the polls. Particularly they pointed to laborers and others who might not get time off from work to vote.

If past experience is any criteria, however, the Tuesday primary day should attract more voters than the traditional Saturday voting in North Carolina. In most years across the state the general elections have attracted more voters than the primaries... and the general elections have been held on Tuesdays.

In addition, there has been little complaint about the Tuesday designation as the day for general elections. It has not been suggested that this be changed in order to provide more people an opportunity to vote.

We concur with the legislative decision that shifting the primary day to Tuesday probably will bring a greater response from voters than continuing to have the state's primaries held on Saturdays. While it is true that more people will be at their jobs on Tuesdays than on Saturdays, most employers these days make provisions for their employees to get to the polls. Moreover, it is likely that with the exception of those people who travel for a living, more people are likely to be at home and thus near their voting precincts on Tuesday than on Saturdays.

The most important question of all is whether more people will vote in primaries held on Tuesdays or Saturdays. In our judgment the legislature has made a change which would enhance citizen participation in the party primary elections.

Economic Issue Replaces Others

By ROWLAND EVANS and ROBERT NOVAK

WASHINGTON — Private nationwide surveys taken by pollster Oliver Quayle show that the "economic issue" suddenly and dramatically eclipsed the "social issue" for the first time during the month of March — more bad political news for President Nixon.

If the trend holds, it undercuts plans by key Nixon strategists — including his campaign manager, Atty. Gen. John Mitchell — to revive the law-and-order issue for 1972. Rather, the poll indicates that Mr. Nixon will have to rely on an improved economy to win next year.

Until March, Quayle's polling had been showing a 50-50 split as to whether voters put more importance on the economic issue ("fighting our way out of the recession; getting the cost of living down; reducing unemployment; lowering taxes") or the social issue ("preserving law and order; doing more to stop crime, drug abuse, demonstrations; disorder; lack of respect for authority; pronography").

But for the year ending April 1, Quayle's cumulative interviews with 2,620 people in seven states show 53 percent more troubled by the economic issue, 47 percent by the social issue. To open by a 6 percentage point gap on a 12-month average, the shift during March had to be huge.

The Speaker's Woes

Defeat in the House last Wednesday of an amendment adding $729 million to the education money bill was not only another in an embarrassing string of defeats for Speaker Carl Albert of Oklahoma, but also impaired relations between him and the powerful chairman of the House Appropriations Committee, Rep. George Mahon of Texas.

When the education lobby came up with its big amendment, Mahon, strongly opposing it, went to the Speaker with this appeal: if the House approved the amendment and rolled Mahon's committee on a major money bill this early in the season, it would happen on bill after bill — sending the huge budget deficit into the stratosphere. Would the Speaker support his committee chairman? Mahon later told friends he thought Albert would not actively support the amendment.

But when the vote came up Wednesday, Albert was whipping Democrats — including Oklahoma and Texas Congressmen — into the teller line to pick up green cards for the amendment. In the cloakroom, Mahon was exasperated.

When Mahon beat Albert, 191 to 187, it added one more to the four defeats for Albert and his new leadership team in three months: Rules Committee reform, retention of the interest rate ceiling for government bonds, the SST, wage-and-price controls. On some of these issues (particularly SST), the leadership was passive. But Albert was working hard when he lost on the education money bill Wednesday.

Rumsfeld's No A plan quietly engineered by top White House aide H.R. (Bob) Haldeman to shunt Mr. Nixon's two White House counsellors to office space next door was just as quietly quashed by counsellor Donald Rumsfeld.

Rumsfeld and counsellor Robert Finch, the President's oldest political pal, work out of offices in the White House west wing. Their duties, however, are amorphous and include a great deal of travel. Squeezed for space to handle the regular White House staff, Haldeman arranged spacious quarters for the two counsellors across West Executive Avenue in the old State Department Building, now known as the Executive Office Building (EOB).

Finch was agreeable, but not Rumsfeld. He rejected the eviction notice and Haldeman did not press the point.

The disagreement was symbolic of minor staff tensions. At a high-level White House discussion of the campaign expenditures bill, some Presidential aides were lamenting the fact that there seemed to be no way to stop the Democrats from imposing stringent campaign spending limitations that would hurt Republicans far more than Democrats. When Rumsfeld suggested a remedy — a strong Administration voice on Capitol Hill to explain what was really involved — Haldeman turned to him and said only half kidding: Fine, Don, then why don't you do it? You haven't got much else to do these days.

A footnote: The President's highly-publicized poverty session last week with Hollywood's movie moguls, who arrived in San Clemente in chauffeur driven limousines, was arranged by Finch, who recently has been spending more time in California than in Washington. Finch eyes a 1974 Senate race against Democratic Sen. Alan Cranston.

Strength For Today

VICTORY ASSURED

"Thanks be unto God for his unspeakable gift" (II Corinthians 9:15). The impossible, the respected and crucified Lord had arisen from the dead. He had declared he would so rise, but even his closest companions were not ready for so great a wonder to take place.

But they knew little of the significance of the events that lay before them. If one person (Simon Peter, for instance) had seen the Lord after he had risen from the dead, or if all the disciples had seen him, or if he had appeared to thousands, for just a few moments — this might have cast doubt on the reality of the resurrection. But the risen Christ remained with his disciples forty days. A multitude had watched him ascend into heaven. Two men in white apparel (probably angels) had declared to the astonished disciples that the ascended Christ "would come in like manner as ye have seen him go into heaven."

Then the disciples and others who had remained loyal to Jesus to the end returned to Jerusalem, went into an upper room and "continued with one accord in prayer and supplication, with the women, and Mary the mother of Jesus, and with his brethren" (Acts 1:9-14).

From that day to this, the Church has been on a triumphal march through the centuries. How can we make such a statement when the Church is losing members today at an appalling rate? But we must remember that even though the Church is a divine institution created by God for the carrying-out of his purposes among mankind, it has had its ups and downs through the centuries and will undoubtedly continue to have them. But the Church is the body of Christ. With its setbacks and apparent failures it presses forward to the mark of the high calling of God — in Christ Jesus (Philippians 3:14).

Hoover Is A Monument

WASHINGTON — Once again the critics are yelling for J. Edgar Hoover's resignation. House Majority Leader Hale Boggs last week demanded that Atty. Gen. John Mitchell replace the FBI leader. Other senators have asked the President to force retirement on the 76-year-old Hoover.

The trouble with this is that neither John Mitchell nor the President of the United States

What very few people realize is that J. Edgar Hoover is a national Monument and the only one who can alter his status is the National Fine Arts Commission.

Other Editors Say Key Is Discipline

(Washington, N. C. Daily News) Secondary education today in North Carolina is a subject of much discussion in homes, on the streets, and at various get-togethers of citizens.

And the key word seems to be "discipline." All of us continue to hear talk about the breakdown of discipline in public schools. And so often so many of those doing the talking do not stop to realize that there has been a breakdown of discipline in the home too.

Should we expect to achieve better discipline in our schools than we are willing to extract at home? If we would only examine this question carefully and objectively, we might tend to evaluate the matter a little differently. We might even conclude that there is a distinct kinship between the discipline we get at home and the discipline we get at school.

In a day and in a time when so many schools over the state are having disruptions of one kind or another, we need to give far more attention to the idea of peace and goodwill. We need to seek solutions before the problems occur. We need to put ourselves in the places of those people in our classrooms whose responsibility it is to demand a certain discipline.

We often wonder how much educational value we are actually losing because of the discipline problems which are so rampant. It is not this generation which must pay the price. It is the generation which will succeed ours who are adults now.

We have always been brought up to believe that discipline is an almost magic word. It never occurred to us to talk out on class deliberately or to speak out scathingly to a teacher or to tell the principal where to go. But it also never occurred to us to speak out to our parents in any manner not conducive to proper respect and affection.

The point we are trying to make is that while we do have great problems in secondary education, we also have problems in homes too. The trouble is we see it in the schools, but somehow we seem so blind to it in our homes.

If we expect more of a school teacher than we are willing to give as a parent, then we shall never arrive at that point of true understanding where discipline prevails once more.

We have a tremendous challenge, and one that will grow larger the longer we put off meeting it.

Discipline is the name of the game, and in one way or another, all of us are playing that game.

seven people who have the authority to declare which monuments in Washington stay and which ones go. There is no possible way of moving J. Edgar Hoover unless the Fine Arts Commission decides he no longer serves an historical purpose.

So far, the commission has been reluctant to declare Mr. Hoover surplus. One commission member told me "The test of an historical monument is whether it represents an era that everyone is interested in."

"What era in history does J. Edgar Hoover represent?" I asked.

"The Dillinger period. Mr. Hoover is the only monument we have in Washington commemorating the wonderful days of John Dillinger. If we put Hoover in storage, there will be a big gap in our national history."

"But there has been an outcry lately to replace him with something modern and more up to date."

Spring Has Impact

By HAL BOYLE NEW YORK (AP) — Curbsome comments of a Pavement Plato:

It seems to me that spring is more oratorical than usual this year and that the present Easter season has had more than ordinary impact on people.

Perhaps this is because for some time now the American spirit has been flying at half staff. We have been sick in soul, ashamed at heart, confused of mind, distrustful of our national purposes.

We have bragged for a number of years now about our generosity as a people and our high moral goals, but today those brags sound tinny to our own ears. It is not necessary to spell out the reasons why we are not happy with ourselves. They are apparent to us all.

That is why, it seems to me, there was more warmth than usual this year in the traditional greeting, "Happy Easter!" In our mutual distress we have felt deeply the need of one another and the consolation provided by Jesus Christ's example that nobility of both dream and conduct are possible to man, no matter the price. We can be more than hypocritical.

Nature is ever at hand, too, to help us cure ourselves. Spring right now holds out the promise of regeneration, as did Jesus.

There has never been a lovelier spring. Each opening green bud is a pulpit preaching the veracity of renewal, that sadness will pass and gladness come again. Now is the time for us all to take a walk in the nearest woodland and share the enchantment of its vast rebirth and the faith and optimism implicit in birdsong.

There is hope for us yet. Much, much hope. If we can believe in the message given by growing trees, we can believe in ourselves as well. We still have another chance.

Negotiated Sales Has Bad Start

By ELMER ROESSNER

Negotiated rates for sales of stocks in lots of more than $500,000 on the New York Stock Exchange got off to a bumpy start this week. It will be no surprise if the plan is revised or suspended quickly.

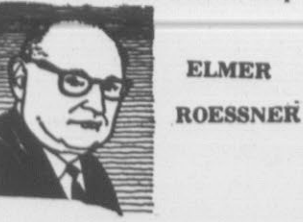

Under the plan stockholders seeking to sell or buy more than half a million dollars worth of a stock can dicker with a broker over his commission. Sales under that sum must be at fixed commission rates.

Many brokers have publicly opposed the plan. Some fear that brokers, bidding against each other for big orders, will drive profits down to zero. Others say that brokers will have to cut down on research and other services in consequence.

Howe, Barnes & Johnson, Inc. filed suit in Chicago to block the dickered rates plan. Four members of the powerful Senate Banking Committee have declared that the Securities and Exchange Commission, which sponsored the plan, may have exceeded its authority. Exclusive Club

Few individuals buy and sell in lots of more than $500,000. Most buying, and selling in that range is done by institutions, such as mutual funds, banks, foundations, trust funds.

without it, institutions would be tempted to arrange private sales, even stock swaps, eliminating brokers' commissions.

Next Thursday, the exchange members will vote on the plan, which is already in effect. A negative vote can kill it.

More Look-Aheads Here are more predictions of things ahead:

Thinner magazines: Higher postal rates will force higher advertising rates, which will cut ad volume. Cheaper candy: The 1970-71 world cocoa crop is estimated to be up 3 per cent to 1,462,000 tons, the second highest on record, depressing prices.

Dated meat: The American Meat Institute has adopted a four digit dating code for packaged consumer meat; the first two digits being the month and the last two the day. A code has been used since 1961 but few consumers understand it. New contamination: What had been previously mistaken for DDT residue in the fatty tissues of wild animals are often polychlorinated biphenyls, an industrial pollutant, the American Chemical Society has been told. It affects the liver and other organs.

More miles to walk: The House of Delegates of the American Pharmaceutical Society has recommended that pharmacists stop selling cigarettes because of the health hazard. First to accept the recommendation will be pharmacists in states with high cigarette taxes, where bootleggers skim off much of the profit. This $6,500 Buffalo Eats Nothing At All

Another postcard from the Old Promoter: "Steuben Glass is having an exhibition of its crystal animals in New York starting next Thursday. Pieces are lovely but expensive. A 16 1/2-inch buffalo is $6,500. You can buy a live buffalo for a fraction of that price. — Wunderbar von Garinkel."

Cannon Death Leaves Textile Firm Without Leader

By EDWARD CODY
Associated Press Writer
KANNAPOLIS, N. C. (AP) — The death of Charles A. Cannon left a prospering textile firm without its leader and a textile community of 36,000 residents without the man who built, nursed and governed it.

Cannon, 78, sank to the floor of his mill office 11 days ago and was dead of a cerebral hemorrhage the next morning.

"His death ended a 50-year reign over Cannon Mills Co., a $306 million-a-year textile operation founded by his father and

Candidate Beats Deadline

WINTERVILLE — Calvin C. Henderson beat the filing deadline by minutes to become a candidate for an alderman's seat here.

Henderson, who ran unsuccessfully against Alderman Crawford in 1969, is employed by the Pitt County Board of Education. He graduated from W. H. Robinson School here and from Pitt Technical Institute. He also did considerable study under the University of Maryland Extension Program while he was in the U. S. Air Force.

He has been active in community projects here including working for the Pitt Memorial Hospital Bond Issue and to obtain the Governor's Award for Winterville. He is assistant superintendent of Sunday School and an ordained deacon of Good Hope F.W.B. Church. A Master Mason, he is secretary of Winterville Lodge No. 232, is assistant secretary of District No. 10 of the Grand Lodge Free and Accepted Masons of North Carolina, and is a member of the G. U. O. of O. F. Anderson Lodge No. 11972. He is first vice president of the local executive board of the NAACP.

A worker with youth, he is vice chairman of the combined Winterville Parent Teachers Association and is serving on the Sunrise District Council of the East Carolina Council of Boy Scouts of America. He is Scoutmaster of Troop No. 88 and is also teaching judo and karate to a group of young people.

He and his wife, the former Emma J. Waller of Winterville have one daughter, Jeannette, 10.

Henderson said he would like to have a part in improving the Winterville community and the relationship of its black and white citizens.

Justice Sharp's Mother Dies

REIDSVILLE, N. C. (AP) — The mother of North Carolina associate justice Susie Sharp died Friday in a hospital at Reidsville.

Mrs. Annie Britt Blackwell Sharp, 87, was the widow of James M. Sharp, a Reidsville attorney. Susie Sharp was her father's law partner until she was appointed North Carolina's first woman Superior Court judge in 1949.

Mrs. Sharp is survived by four daughters, Justice Susie Sharp; Mrs. Fred R. Klenner of Reidsville, Lt. Cdr. (ret.) Louise Sharp of the Navy Nurse Corps, and Mrs. Robert W. Newson Jr., of Greensboro; two sons, Thomas A. Sharp of Berwyn, Pa., and Dr. James V. Sharp, a captain in the Navy Medical Corps at Jacksonville, Fla., and a sister, Mrs. A. E. Garett Sr. of Danville, Va.

Address Set By Monihan

GREENSBORO (AP) — A Harvard University professor and former presidential adviser, Daniel P. Monihan, will deliver the commencement address at the University of North Carolina at Greensboro June 6.

Monihan was a counselor and assistant for urban affairs to President Richard Nixon until several months ago when he resigned to return to Harvard.

saw over Kannapolis, a mill town extraordinary for its cleanliness and even its beauty, where fealty, affection and economic dependence bound employs to Mr. Charlie's person and his generosity.

Cannon, as an industrialist, philanthropist and shirtsleeve friend to many of his workers, will never be replaced, company officials say, but his towel and sheet empire will continue.

Kannapolis, still one of the country's largest company-owned towns, also will continue, at least for the time being.

Cannon Mills directors and stockholders gather Tuesday for the first meeting since Cannon's death vacated the position of board chairman. Company president Don S. Holt said the post will be filled and Cannon's empty office put back to use, but selection of the successor may be delayed.

In any case, he added, Cannon had groomed a management team of young executives for the takeover that will follow his death.

Cannon died the way he lived — doing business. He was conferring with Holt when the symptoms of a stroke began to show.

"He knew every spinning frame, every loom, because he bought them or knew about them," Holt said. "He never lived the life of a rich person."

Until the day he died Cannon showed up at his office every workday, arriving around noon and leaving after 6 p. m. He began his morning with a telephone call to Holt, taking the pulse of the company he had headed since 1921 and the day he took over from his father at the age of 29.

"The funny thing about the man was that he always got here on time to eat lunch with us over at the YMCA," Holt said.

Cannon built the YMCA, as he had built the Cabarrus County Hospital, the Kannapolis schools and virtually the whole town. He was responsible, directly through employment or indirectly through his power, for nearly everyone who lives there.

The short, round-faced magnate was called an autocrat, and his textile firm was called a one-man show. But Holt said the talk was wrong and Cannon Mills will continue to flourish despite Cannon's death.

"I won't deny that he made a lot of decisions," he said, but added: "He welcomed people taking responsibility. But if you didn't take it, he would."

Holt said he was given plenty of rein from the time he stepped into the presidency in 1962 as Cannon's picked man. Their officers, separated only by a tiny hall and a bathroom, were kept open.

"He came in here, I went in there, and sometimes we'd yell," said Holt.

As an example of his independence, Holt said he bought an option on an entire knitting mill recently while Cannon was out of town. Cannon approved the purchase on his return and still had not visited the plant when he died.

But Mr. Charlie did demand to be informed of his company's decisions right up to the end, unwilling to abdicate altogether.

"That's the way he kept up with things. As long as he was posted, things were all right," said Holt. "He enjoyed it."

Cannon's solicitude for Cannon Mills extended to all its more than 20,000 employees, particularly those in the company homes that make up much of Kannapolis.

He built about 2,000 of the brick-based clapboard houses in the 20s, then added another 100 prefabricated units during the population swell that followed World War II. Many of his employees are born, live and die in them.

The company town, with its colonial-styled main street and litterless residential quarters, has been attacked as anachronism. The corporate paternalism that built it was subject of a critical film report by a student-age team of "Nader's Raiders" for educational television. The Justice Department attacked its racial policy, but never proved discrimination.

Holt refused to say whether the passing of Charles A. Cannon will lead to the passing of his town. He remarked several times in an interview, however, that the firm was changing and that land might be needed for expansion. The era, at least, will pass.

Although the 36,000 residents have no local elections, they also have few problems that plague other cities. Their garbage pickup is regular, Cannon Mills pays for most of their police protection and the schools are well staffed.

"You'll never see a mill town like that," said Holt. "He wanted that Williamsburg look, and he wanted a clean town."

The people of Kannapolis — which in Greek means "city of looms" — rarely complain out loud. Most stay on to raise their children in the shadow of the red-brick mills.

"I expect 40 per cent of our people have been here 50 years or more," said Holt.

Cannon once attempted to honor 25-year-old employees with a banquet, but it took eight evenings to get all the veterans fed and pinned.

"We had to stop it because we had no place to do it," Holt said.

A measure of Cannon's concern came in 1958, when the Salk polio vaccine became available. He had the company buy up a stock of vaccine and vaccinate every child in town for free. Most of the children are now working age.

"They practically worshipped the man," said Holt.

A "Charles A. Cannon Appreciation Day" brought the town out in 1967 to say thanks. Local historians say the idea originated with a weaver in Plant No. 1, William "Barney" Lindsay. The company can not replace the man who inspired such loyalty from a weaver, Holt said. But he pledged there would be "no change" in the firm's paternal concern for its employees.

A waitress serving coffee in a cafe along the Williamsburg-styled business street agreed Cannon had done a lot for the town's millworkers and hoped the police would continue.

"You've got to look at it, though," she added. "A lot of people did a lot for him, too."

stay with the old or go with the new? It is our feeling that Mr. Hoover is the only living national monument left in Washington, and we would be doing a great disservice to the country if we tore him down."

"I can see that from your point of view," I said. "But what about progress? You can't ignore the needs of the capital."

"You must keep in mind," the man said, "that Washington is a tourist town, and people from all over the world come here to see the foundations of this country. The first sight everyone wants to see is J. Edgar Hoover. For 47 years he has been one of the main attractions. Children have grown up with his legend. He is an inspiration to every American. We would not be fulfilling our function at this late date we took him off his pedestal."

"I appreciate history as much as anyone," I said. "But if the Fine Arts Commission refuses to replace Mr. Hoover, he could be the head of the FBI forever."

"Perhaps, but our business is to protect this nation's landmarks. We're not concerned with politics or the demands of the times. All we ask ourselves is 'Does it fit in with the old architecture of the city, will it recreate an ambiance of a bygone era and does the monument tell us something about ourselves?' Mr. Hoover fulfills all these qualifications."

"Well, if you won't put him in storage, are you at least thinking of moving him to a less conspicuous part of town?"

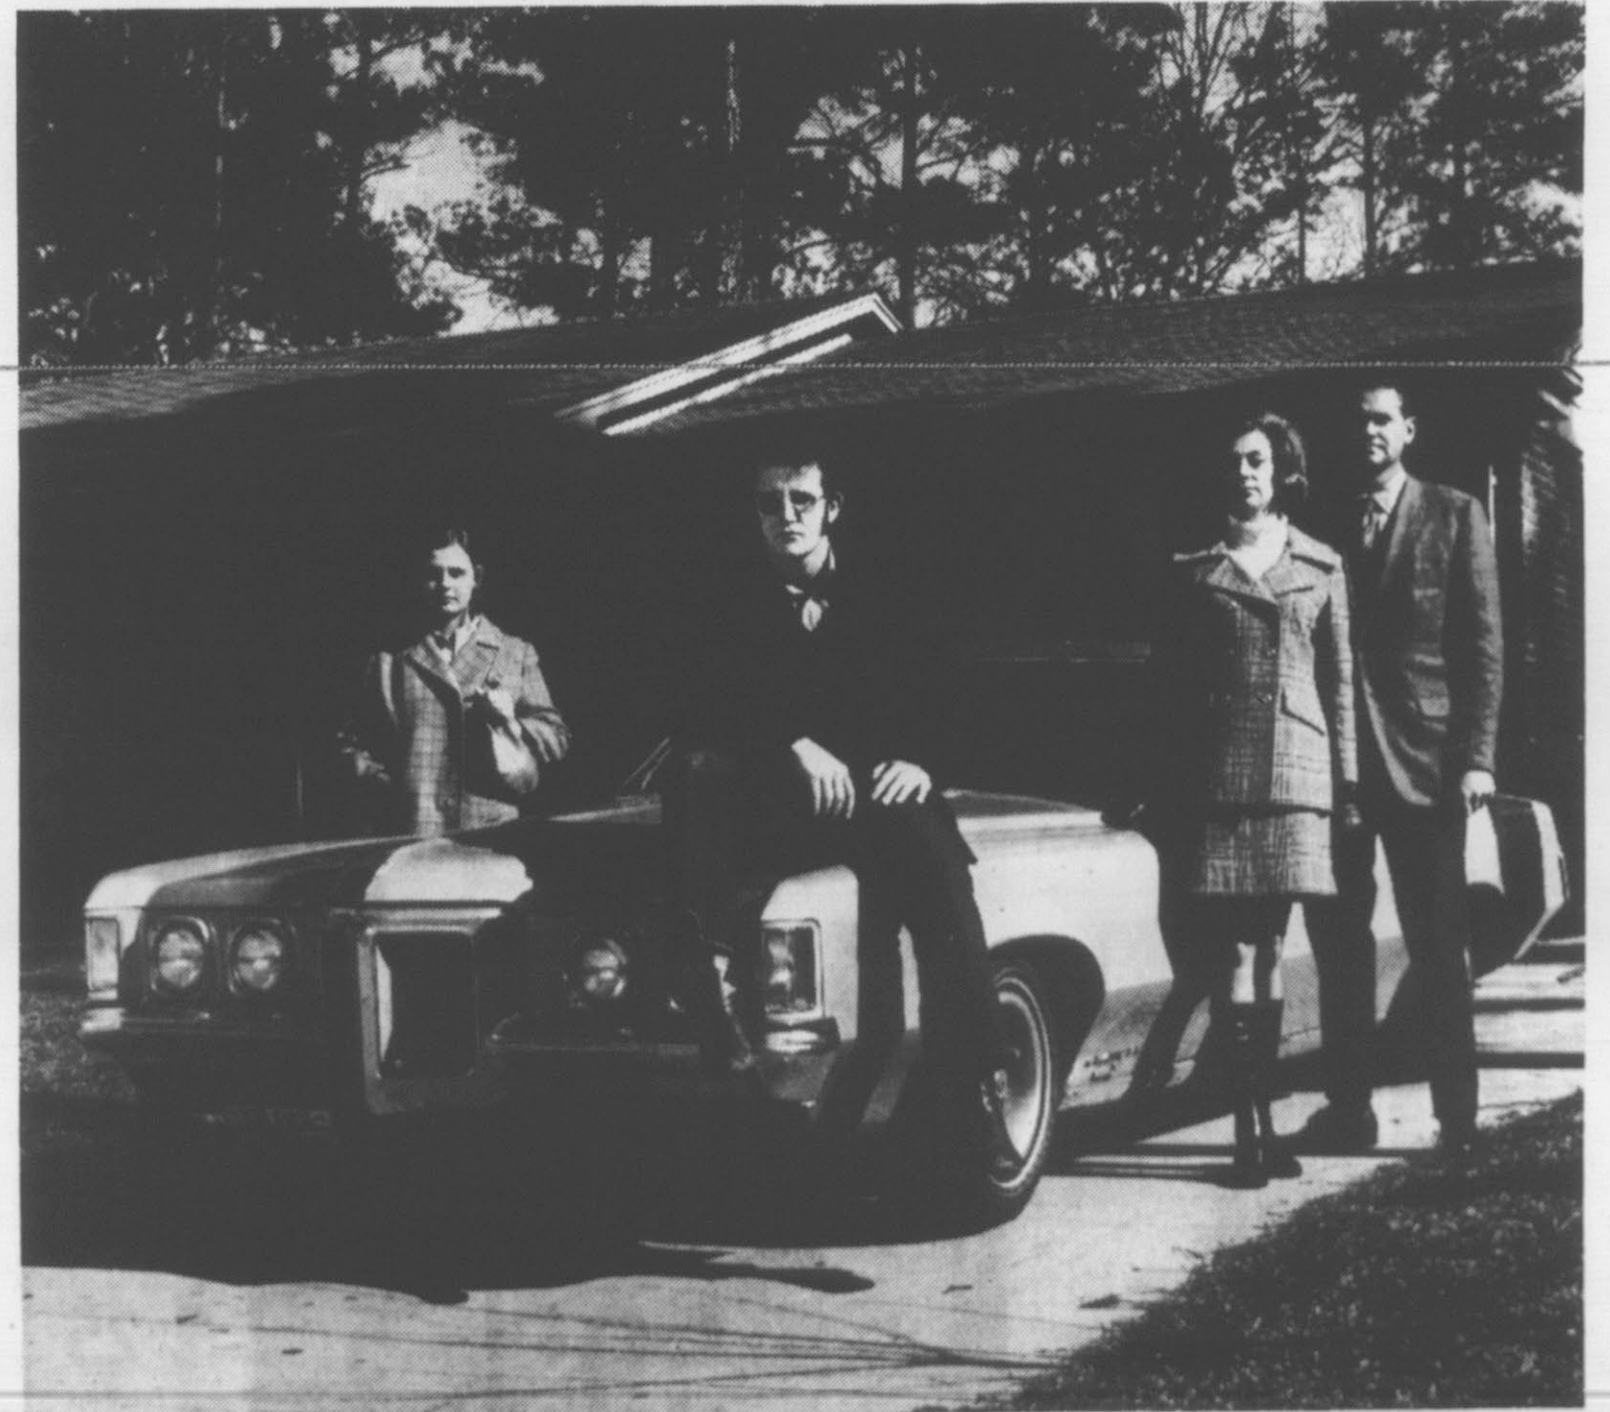

"Frankly, we are giving that some consideration. If the pressure continues, we may authorize a new spot for him away from the Justice Department."

"Where?"

"We have a wonderful site we're looking at right now, near the Shrine of the Immaculate Conception."

PART OF THE PROBLEM: PART 2

This year, this family will drive this car 18,000 miles. For $100 would you agree to pay for the damage they may cause?

Your family car is capable of incredible damage. In a second, an accident can kill and injure people, destroy thousands of dollars worth of property.

That's why you buy auto liability insurance. To protect you and your family from financial loss. In the past, insurance companies have been happy to provide this protection. For many years they have been able to offer adequate protection to most motorists at a very small cost.

Rates for auto liability insurance are approved by the State of North Carolina. Since 1968, companies writing automobile liability insurance have not received a rate increase.

Yet, the cost of hospital and medical care has increased 45 percent. And the cost of auto repairs has gone up nearly 20 percent.

Because insurance rates have not kept up with the cost of other things, insurance companies are no longer eager to provide this badly needed protection. The reason is simple. Many insurance companies in North Carolina are losing money on automobile liability insurance.

Your Independent Insurance Agent wants to be able to help you obtain the insurance protection you must have. But we know it's going to get harder to buy auto liability insurance unless badly needed rate increases are approved.

When all is said and done, we all know that inadequate rates are a big part of the problem in auto liability insurance.

The only form you have to fill out to get a loan with your Wachovia Ready Reserve Account is your personal check.

An Educational Voucher System Is Studied

By WILLIAM J. WAUGH
AP Education Writer
WASHINGTON (AP)—The federal government is studying an educational voucher system that would give parents the right to shop-around with their tax dollars for private or public schools for their children.

The experiment is still in its infant stages, but already it has stirred a king-size controversy. Labor, educational and religious groups are urging Congress to halt the experiment now.

In its simplest form, the educational voucher is a piece of paper the parent gives to the school of his choice and the school, in turn, returns it to the government and receives cash based on a predetermined formula.

The concept, first suggested in the 1700s by Britain's social theorist Adam Smith, has been revived by the Office of Economic Opportunity in an effort to give disadvantaged parents more dollar power in getting better education for their children.

Formal, organized opposition surfaced this month. The American Jewish Congress, a member of a coalition opposing the plan, urged the House Education Committee to stop OEO from supporting "any version of the voucher plan" for education.

A year ago, OEO got an extensive report on various approaches to a voucher system. Done by Christopher S. Jencks, codirector of the Center for the Study of Public Policy and associate professor of education at Harvard, the $192,000 study outlined seven different voucher systems.

OEO decided to take a closer look at one of the seven, a regulated voucher plan. Currently under way are $20,000 feasibility studies in Gary, Ind.; Alum Rock School District at San Jose, Calif.; and Seattle, Wash. They are due to be completed about April 30. OEO spokesmen said San Francisco and San Diego are considering similar studies.

If the cities decide to approve the plan, OEO said, the next step will be developing a model program involving a limited number of schools in each area with a total enrollment ranging from 7,500 to 15,000 in each area.

Barring congressional roadblocks, one or more of the experimental cities could begin operating model systems in the fall of 1972. The experiment would run five to eight years and cost $4 million to $6 million annually in each city.

Both local school revenues plus federal grants would support the experiments. The system is not designed to reduce local taxes.

In its pamphlet, "A Proposed Experiment in Education Vouchers," OEO stresses that it "is not an advocate of education vouchers. Rather, the agency believes the concept holds enough potential for the poor to merit testing."

Former Sen. Wayne Morse, in a speech before educators in Atlantic City, described the voucher system as "a blueprint for dismantling the public school system." And Mrs. Helen Bain, president of the 1.1 million member National Education Association, said "despite safeguards ... vouchers will result in wider segregation along racial, religious and socio-economic lines."

Initially, the voucher proposal is aimed at only elementary schools.

Jeff Schiller, director of OEO's experimental research staff, said the agency had ruled out as experimental areas any system under a court integration order.

Schiller said the current feasibility studies will disclose attitudes of the community and the community's power structure. He said they also would determine broad issues of what the design would be, admission requirements, transportation and how the controlling local Educational Voucher Agency (EVA) is selected and organized.

In a letter sent to school districts seeking to ignite interest in the program, OEO said that to be eligible a school would have to:

—Charge no tuition in addition to the vouchers.

—Admit all applicants and, if too many applied, allocate at least half the spaces to randomly selected applicants.

—Demonstrate that the percentage of minority group children it accepted was at least as high as the percentage of minority applicants.

—Make public such information as class size, teacher characteristics, reading scores and budgets.

Vouchers would vary in dollar value, state by state but generally they would be equal to the average the state spends annually per student. This ranges from near $400 to more than $1,000.

The OEO would provide extra funds to a school for compensatory payment for poor children. In addition, the OEO said, it would pay the extra costs of setting up and administering the system and providing transportation so that students would not be limited to neighborhood schools.

Virginia Koehler, an OEO staff researcher, recently returned from Gary, Ind., where the city school board is conducting the feasibility study and has held three workshops and one seminar.

She said 50 to 60 persons attended. Of these 70 per cent had children in school and 40 per cent were teachers. The "teachers had a very open attitude toward the proposal," she said, "and some were interested in opening their own schools."

She would not predict whether the board would advance to the detailed planning stage. But she did say the people in Gary were "not anti but not necessarily embracing" the proposal.

Allan Smith, another OEO staff researcher, said "development of a working model will take a fantastic amount of work to be acceptable to the community."

The experiment would be run by a local educational voucher agency, which actually could be the local school board. OEO officials said that in most cases each state will need enabling legislation to permit tax money to go to the EVA for distribution to participating public and private schools.

NEA fears that vouchers would result in the opening of many small private schools. "We fear a mushrooming of private schools operated by profit-taking agencies, religious groups and racial groups," Mrs. Bain said. "We fear a relaxing of professional standards for personnel, safety requirements for facilities and the entrance of hucksters into the field, bombarding unsophisticated parents with misleading promises."

On the other hand, OEO says "it is difficult to predict the extent to which small private schools will mushroom under the voucher scheme. This will be a function of whether parents perceive real educational alternatives among existing schools and also how responsive private schools are to parental desires for change."

OEO said academic accreditation would be the responsibility of the local EVA. "Certification requirement for private schools will be the same as for public schools," it added.

When asked, "What benefits would accrue to a school district, parents and children?" an OEO spokesman replied: "Children will have an increased probability of entering better schools than the ones they are currently required to go to."

"Parents will be given an increased opportunity to choose among educational alternatives for their children and a system which enhances parental choice will renew the family's role in education..."

"School district benefits will be enormous. First a voucher scheme will lead to greater diversity of educational alternatives. Given freedom and financial resources, new schools could be created which significantly differ from those operated by local boards of education..."

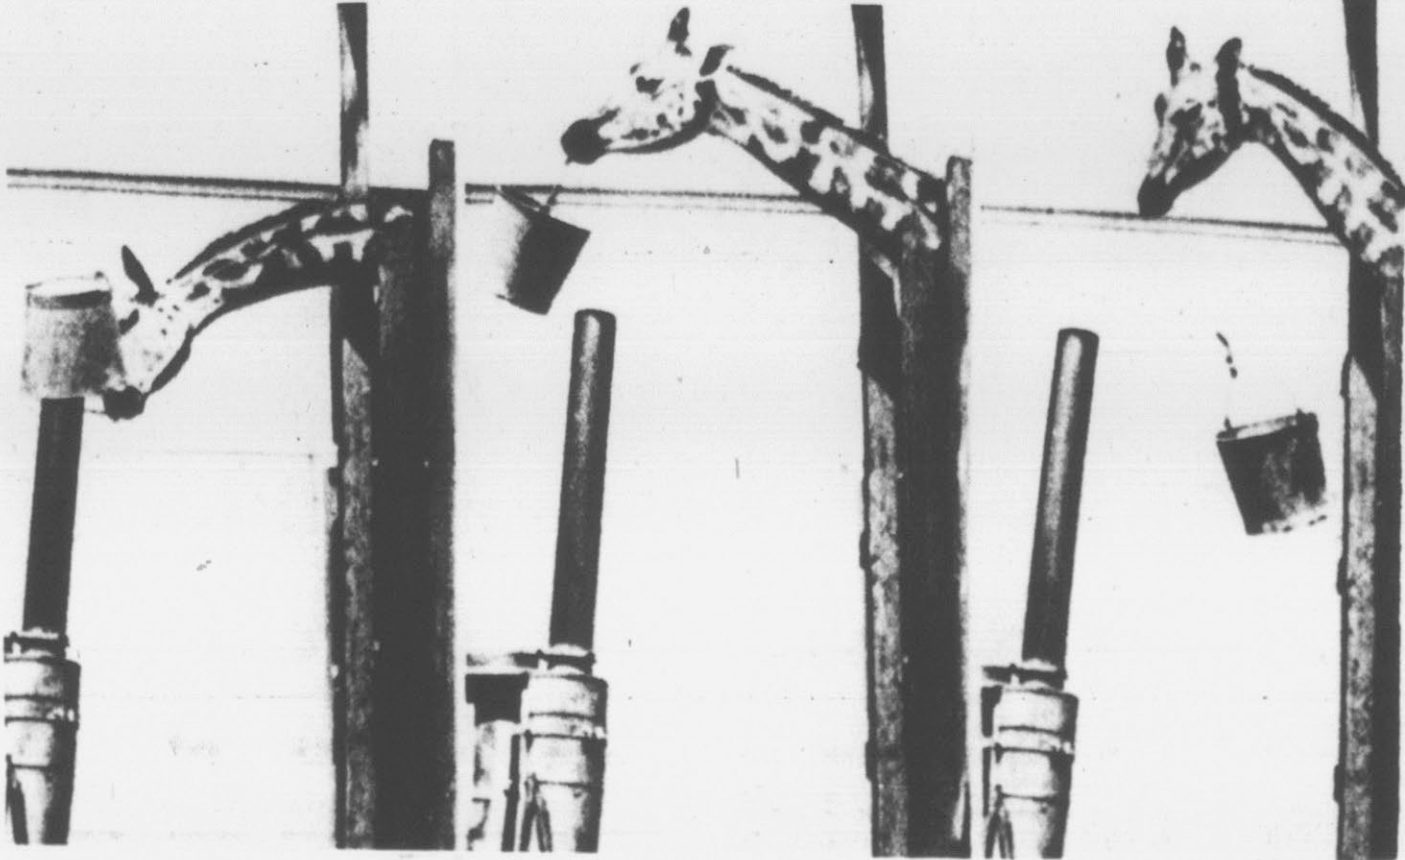

The NEA, in responding to the same question, said it "sees no benefit to school districts but rather almost insurmountable problems. Parents currently paying tuition to private and parochial schools would profit financially and children would be harmed by segregation into racial, religious and socio-economic categories."

NEA's Mrs. Bain contended that "parochial schools would profit financially from a voucher plan.... If the parochial school in the voucher area has a per pupil cost of $350 but receives a voucher pupil at $800 per pupil, they obviously gain $450 per pupil."

A coalition of 11 organizations, in a statement to Congress asking it to halt the OEO project, said "We believe that no so-called experiments ... aimed at altering or possibly destroying basic American institutions such as public schools should be undertaken without clear direction from the Congress..."

El Qantara Ghost Town On The Banks Of Suez

EL QANTARA, Occupied Sinai (AP)—El Qantara, on the east bank of the Suez Canal in the northern section of the waterway, has been a ghost town since Israeli forces evacuated all Egyptian civilians in January 1969.

This was a canal crossing point for train travelers before the six-day Arab-Israeli war of June 1967. El Qantara was occupied when Israeli forces rolled across the Sinai to the canal. It has been a restricted Israeli occupied military area since that time, and before the cease-fire which came into effect last August, was battered in fierce artillery duels between Egyptian and Israeli gunners.

El Qantara's 243 Egyptian families were moved to new homes in El Arish, 80 miles to the east on the Mediterranean, for humanitarian reasons, Israeli spokesmen said at the time. The International Red Cross supervised the evacuation.

A Red Cross representative, Jean Engiman, said the Israelis acted under a section of the Geneva convention providing: "An occupying power may undertake the total evacuation of a given area if the security of the population so demands."

Israeli troops nowadays are virtually the sole inhabitants of the canal town, facing Egyptian forces on the west bank from well dug-in emplacements which are part of the Israeli line along the east bank.

Also in the area are United Nations truce observers, part of the multinational unarmed force of about 90 officers installed equally on both sides of the waterway to observe maintenance of the 1967 cease-fire.

Since the canal is also the cease-fire line, the observers in the past have frequently come under fire themselves during gun duels between Israeli and Egyptian troops, and have suffered casualties.

State Standards Are Brought Up

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Department of Agriculture has certified that North Carolina's meat inspection standards have been brought up to those of the federal government.

This means North Carolina now has full responsibility for inspection of the 257 slaughtering and processing plants in the state. Also, half the state's inspection funds will be provided by the federal government.

Abortion Bill Vote Close

By SAM D. BUNDY
You will recall that about a month ago the House passed a liberalized abortion bill by a 60-54 vote. This week the Senate killed this bill by an even closer vote of 25-21. A little mathematics shows that in both chambers there was only a two vote difference, which bears out my early prediction of a very close vote all the way down the line. The House passed by an overwhelming majority (113 to 77) a bill which would turn over to municipalities the revenues from one cent of the state's 9/4 cent gasoline tax, instead of the half-cent they have received in the past. There was practically no opposition to the raise although an amendment was offered to keep the same formula for distribution; however, this was defeated. The present formula is on the basis of 50 per cent for population and 50 per cent for street mileage. The bill as adopted would make the division on the basis of 75 per cent for population and 25 per cent for street mileage. Since the Senate has already passed this bill, the towns and cities can expect approximately twice as much for street improvements as heretofore. On Thursday at a joint session of the House and Senate, Governor Bob Scott gave his long awaited address on his Environmental Program. Although the Governor made a total of 24 recommendations, his major proposals were: (1) establish environmental policy for the state (2) condemn Bald Head Island for the public, (3) keep special interest groups off Water and Air Resources Board, (4) require shippers to pay all cost of cleaning oil spillage, and (5) strengthen water and air pollution laws. Such a broad environmental program as he outlined will protect the ecology of the state for the countless tomorrows to come. It is my guess that the purchase of Bald Head Island for somewhere in the neighborhood of 5.5 million dollars will run into some stiff opposition. Friday, April 9, marked the end of the 75th legislative day of the 1971 session. Many thorny problems face the General Assembly, such as restructuring higher education, auto liability insurance, reorganization of state government, congressional and legislative redistricting, and the mammoth appropriations bill. There seems to be no rest for the weary. See you next week.

Mental Health Chairman Named

Dr. Ray D. Minges of Greenville will head the 1971 Mental Health Month Committee for this county.

The announcement was made this week by David E. Reid of Greenville, president of the Pitt County Mental Health Association. Serving with Dr. Minges will be Jack A. Farrior of Farmville, who is in charge of membership, and Mrs. Charles Kavanaugh of Greenville, public relations promoter.

The annual observance is part of National Mental Health Month, conducted throughout the country by Mental Health Associations during May.

A retired Greenville surgeon, Dr. Minges has long been a promoter of work for better mental health and compassion for the mentally ill. He was president of the Pitt Mental Health Association in 1957 and worked to get the Mental Health Clinic here started and to encourage the re-evaluation and updating of the state-wide mental health program.

Dr. Minges said, "I am happy to accept this chairmanship and to join actively in this important educational effort to help persons in our own community better understand the problem of mental illness and how they can protect their mental health. This assignment is challenging because the mental health cause is so very important. It is unique in that it is concerned with the complexity of mental and emotional illnesses, which constitute the number one U.S. health problem."

Slides Kill Seven

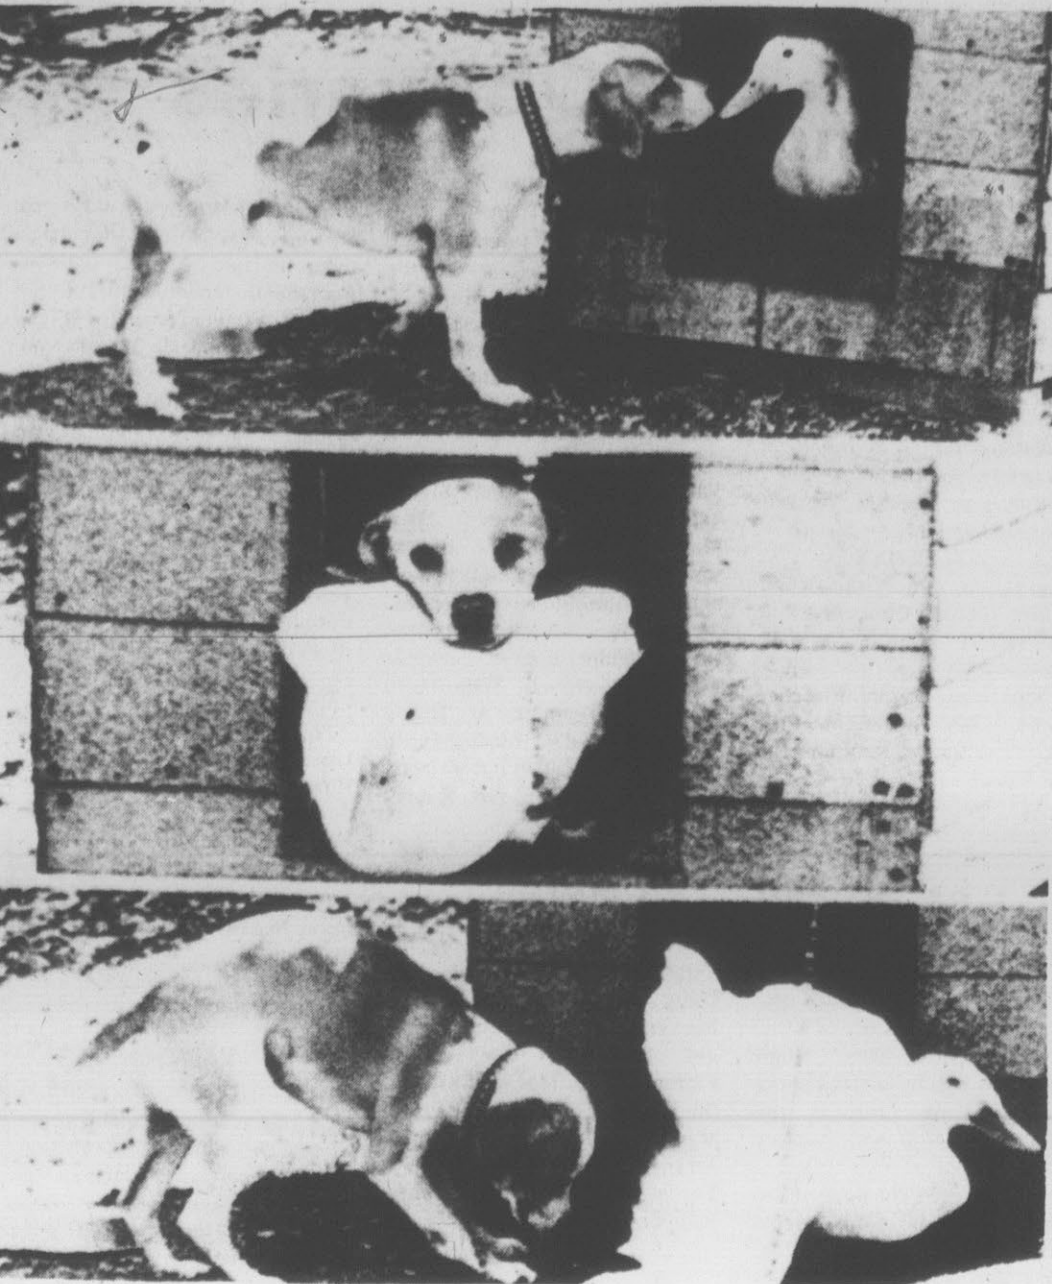

VIENNA (AP) — At least seven people were killed and many others suffered shock or injuries when snow slides hit tourist groups on Austrian ski slopes during the Easter weekend.

Authorities had repeatedly issued warnings, attempting to discourage parents and teachers from letting schoolchildren go to ski areas threatened with avalanches. But at least two groups of students were caught by snowslides, and a 13-year-old West German girl was among those killed.

Four French tourists in one party were also killed.

Blacks Discovering Business Is Appealing

By SYD COURSON
Associated Press Writer
"Buy, baby, buy!"

More and more these days, says, that's becoming the little cry for blacks in Virginia who are discovering not only that going into business is appealing but that help is available.

Black businesses are increasing in the state, some relying on black patronage, others seeking both black and white customers. And the real boom may be just ahead. Blacks are operating public relations firms, charter bus companies, jewelry stores, hamburger franchises and dozens of other enterprises.

These minority businessmen and women are fighting an uphill battle, but they seem to think it's worth it.

Financing is a big hurdle. The Small Business Administration and cooperating banks in Virginia are helping to solve this problem through Operation Mainstream, an SBA program.

"We have made 127 loans to black business since we began Operation Mainstream nearly two years ago," said Keith Caudle of the Richmond SBA. He said the loans total more than $2.5 million.

The money for the loans comes from banks in the state that have pledged to make money available to the minority applicants.

Many of the minority businesses are struggling and some are operating in the red, but according to Caudle they are repaying their loans, and trying to prove something.

Police Search For Escapee

LUMBERTON, N.C. (AP) — Police were still looking for a convicted murderer and five other convicts Sunday after the six escaped from a prison camp.

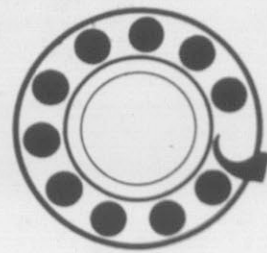

Officials at the Robeson County Correction Unit near Lumberton said one of the six produced a pistol Saturday as a guard was locking a dormitory door. One of the escapees was due to be released in only three months.

The prisoners fled by climbing the prison camp fence. They were identified as:

Jerry Cummings, 32, serving life term for first-degree murder; Jackie Morrow, 21, serving three years for breaking and entering and due to be released July 5; Richard McNair Jr., 20, voluntary manslaughter, 18-20 years; Junior Hunt, 23, breaking and entering, five to seven years; Wilbert Lee Cain, 24, felonious assault with intent to kill, 10 years; Anthony Hernandez, 23, breaking and entering, three to five years.

At least one of the men was believed to still be in possession of the pistol that was pulled on the guard, but prison officials said all six should be considered dangerous.

Stock And Market Reports

NEW YORK (AP) — Modest advances showed up throughout the stock list today in fairly active trading.

The 11 a.m. Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was ahead 3.79 at 924.18.

Advances led declines by better than 7 to 4 among issues traded on the New York Stock Exchange.

GAF Corp. opened at 14 1/4, up 1/4. The company reported a 34 per cent increase in first-quarter earnings—17 cents a share, compared with 11 cents a share last year.

Gannett Co., which closed Thursday at 45 3/4, up 1/4, was delayed in opening. The company reactivated its proposed acquisition of Federated Publications.

Transitron opened on 33,300 shares at 2 1/2, off 1/4. The New York Stock Exchange said last week it would delist the stock. Trading was scheduled to be suspended prior to the opening of trade next Monday.

Other prices on the Big Board included:

Conscientious Objector To Receive Discharge

FT. MEADE, Md. (AP) — A West Point graduate who sought an Army discharge as a conscientious objector because of the Vietnam war is going to be granted his wish, an Army official said today.

First Lt. Louis P. Font, who in seeking to get out of the service had said the "United States government is destroying another country and in the process is destroying itself." Font will be honorably discharged, according to Joseph J. Hedley, post information officer.

Hedley said the decision was made by the Army alone, but he did not elaborate on the reasons behind it or who in the Army made it.

Previously the military had opposed Font's honorable discharge and had accused him of five counts of willful disobedience of orders for which he could have been sentenced to 25 years in prison. Hedley said these charges would be dropped.

He said the action in the case would probably be taken later today.

In an interview Font said he felt the Army had chosen to dismiss him because "they realize they have brought fraudulent court-martial charges against me, yet the charges I have brought against them are very real indeed."

Font, a native of Kansas City, Kan., and a 1968 West Point graduate, lodged charges of dereliction in the performance of duty against Army Col. A. W. Alexander, Ft. Meade post commander, accusing him of failing to maintain minimum health standards at several enlisted mens barracks the Army dismissed the charges against Alexander, saying they could not be supported.

Font said too, he feels the Army is discharging him at this time to make sure he would not be in uniform when he accompanies Rep. Ronald

Stunt Pilot Dies in Crash

MOORESVILLE, N.C. (AP) — A 33-year-old stunt pilot was found dead in the cockpit of his crashed biplane Saturday with his hand still on the controls.

The victim, Robert Gordon Hailey of College Park, Ga., had been practicing stunts for an Easter Sunday air show. His plane was skimming treetops when it got too low. The single-engine aircraft crashed and burned in the heavily wooded area.

The plane went down only about 100 yards from the airstrip, which is just west of Mooresville. The body was burned beyond recognition.

Judge To Rule On Attn'y Fees

Federal Judge John Larkins is expected to make a decision soon in the matter of awarding about $1500 in attorney fees to Greenville Attorney Jerry Paul.

City Attorney David Reid this morning stated he expects to have the city's brief in the judge's hand by Wednesday of this week.

Last Monday, Reid, Mayor Frank M. Wooten, Jr., Councilman Johnnie Edwards, and City Manager Harry Hagerty appeared before Judge Larkins in Trenton for a hearing on the matter of fees for Paul.

The case arises from a motion filed for Mrs. Janet Underwood and others incident to the cost of attorney fees for Mrs. Underwood and others against the city of Greenville.

The motion grew out of an action on the part of Mrs. Underwood, a housewife, and students of East Carolina University relative to their action in challenging the validity of Ordinance 226, the one covering parades, and the subsequently adopted Ordinance 330.

Judge Larkins ruled Ordinance 330 unconstitutional. Reid pointed out that some five months after the adoption of Ordinance 330, the city government adopted Ordinance 337, which in the opinion of the Attorney General of North Carolina is a valid ordinance.

Reid pointed out that in the intricate case, "the question of the unconstitutionality of Ordinance 330 has been rendered inconsequential. The only matter to be decided on now is the matter of the plaintiff's attorney's fees, some $1500."

At the hearing last Monday, Judge Larkins did not make a decision, but asked the parties in the case to present a brief within ten days. This is the brief Reid says he will have in the hands of the judge by Wednesday.

Meek Surrender After Manhunt

HONOLULU (AP) — Police feared a shootout, but there was none—only meek surrenders as an intense manhunt netted five of six armed jail escapees.

Officers staged a surprise raid on a rented house in Honolulu's posh Kahala area late Sunday afternoon to capture three of the six men who forced their way out of the city-county jail with smuggled pistols Friday.

Four hours later, they arrested a fourth man as he walked along a highway near where another escapee had been arrested Saturday.

One man remained at large Sunday night: Edward Hose III, 32, who had been awaiting trial in the death of his wife.

At the house police arrested William K. Medeiros Jr., 25; Edward L. Silva, 24; and Daniel L. Cuevas, 21. They had all been jailed on murder charges. Police arrested three young women in the house with them on suspicion of aiding the escape.

Later, a patrolling officer spotted Wendall Kealoha, 18, lying on a highway underpass near Keapuka, on the windward side of the island. Kealoha, who was awaiting action on charges of murder, rape and armed robbery, gave up without a fight.

His arrest took place not far from the spot at which officers Saturday nabbed William C. Brown, 21, who was in jail pending appeal of robbery.

Mrs. Rona H. Harris, wife of Rev. Will Harris, of 505 Cameron Street, Farmville, died Sunday morning in Pitt Memorial Hospital after a lingering illness. Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

Death Ruled Accidental

CALICO — Two persons were found dead in a car near here Sunday morning.

Pitt County Coroner E. W. Harvey ruled the death of Ted Cleve Boyd, 27 of Route 3, Washington, and Irene Tetterton Davenport, 31 of Route 1, Bath, as accidental.

The coroner said the two "apparently just went to sleep." He said death was due to carbon monoxide asphyxiation.

They were last seen alive about 10:30 p.m. Saturday, Coroner Harvey explained. They had been visiting Boyd's mother, and left her home about 10:30 Boyd's brother found the two in the Davenport car about 9 a.m. Sunday on a dirt path off rural road 1800, a half-mile from Mrs. Boyd's home.

The motor of the car was still running and the windows were tightly closed, Coroner Harvey said. Boyd was lying on the back seat while his companion was on the front seat.

The coroner said the two had apparently been dead about six to eight hours.

Lose To High Point, 9-8

Odd Year Jinx Continues To Plague ECU's Pirates

HIGH POINT — The bad luck jinx of the odd year continued to follow the East Carolina University baseball Pirates yesterday, as High Point College took a 9-8 victory over the Bucs.

The loss was the eighth in 13 games for the Pirates, who have won just five games this year. High Point now holds a 15-5 mark on the year.

The Pirates, since becoming a member of the NCAA, have never won the Southern Conference title, or received a District III Tournament bid during an odd-numbered year.

As was the case Saturday, in the Bucs' 8-5 loss to N. C. State, fielding errors played a big role in the Pirate downfall. The Bucs made five errors, and most of them helped lead to runs, despite the fact that only one of the nine Panther runs was unearned.

The only bright spot for the Bucs was their offense, sparked by Mike Aldridge. The junior right fielder had a perfect day against the High Point pitching, getting five of the 11 ECU hits for the afternoon. They included a booming homer, a double and three singles.

High Point started off the scoring in the first inning. With one out, Mike Jones singled to left. Then, after another man was retired, Ron Sangerman was walked. Buc catcher Stan Sneed tried to pick him off, but the throw was missed by Troy Eason, and both runners advanced. Rob Cecil followed with another walk, loading the bases. Dave Micham singled to deep first, and Jones came over to score the first High Point run.

East Carolina had a chance in the second when Aldridge led off with a double, but the next three men went down without advancing him.

High Point came charging back in the sixth, scoring three runs. Bob Hickey reached on a fielder's choice and with two outs, Bob Worthing walked.

Mike Jones followed with a walk, loading the bases. Fred Grice greeted reliever Bill Godwin with a two-run single to left, scoring both Hickey and Worthing.

Jones then scored on another hit by Sangerman. That closed the gap to 6-5.

The Bucs got two insurance runs in the seventh. With one down, Walters walked Aldridge then followed with a booming 420-foot homer to left, scoring two runs and giving the Bucs an 8-5 lead.

But they couldn't hold it. High Point came back again, this time scoring four runs in the eighth to take the lead and wrap it up.

Jones led off with a hard smash off Bradshaw at third. Grice singled to left and Sangerman followed with a double into left, scoring Jones. Grice also came roaring in when the relay from the outfield was errored. Cecil opened up on Baird with a hit to left, scoring Sangerman with a tying run.

Baird then got the next two men, and it looked like the Bucs would have one more chance when Hickey hit a grounder to third. But the ball was errored and Cecil came home with the winning run. He had moved on to second on the play to the plate when Sangerman scored, and gained third when the ball was thrown away on a chance to pick him off second.

The Bucs were unable to generate anything in the final inning, despite Aldridge's fifth hit.

East Carolina now travels to Blacksburg, Va., today to open a two-day, two-game series with Virginia Tech.

'Champion Charlie' Has Won Masters To Heal Scars

By HUBERT MIZELL
Associated Press sports writer
AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Golf fans can't call him "Charlie the Choker" any longer. Now it's "Champion Charlie."

Texas' handsome Charles Coody won the 1971 Masters Sunday and healed personal scars from his Augusta National collapse of 1969. He also destroyed Jack Nicklaus' dream of sweeping the Big Four championships this year.

"I was jittery from the first tee," admitted the man from Abilene. "Beating a great golfer like Nicklaus in the stretch is a big order for an average fellow like me."

Coody not only outgunned the sputtering Nicklaus, but withstood a stirring charge by 23-year-old Californian John Miller, the nerveless kid who was six under par after 14 holes Sunday and leading the Masters by two shots.

Charlie rolled in birdies on the 15th and 16th holes and made clutch pars on the final two to finish up with two-under-par 70 and a 279 total. Miller finally melted and settled for a 68 and 281, the same as Nicklaus mustered with a closing 72.

"My goofup in 1969 ate up my inside for two years," Coody said. "That's all over now."

The 33-year-old former Texas Christian University golfer finished bogey-bogey-bogey two springs back to hand the Masters title to George Archer.

Nicklaus' face mirrored his unhappiness. "I gave it my best," he said, forcing a smile, "but it wasn't enough. Charlie Coody will be a great masters champion."

"I believe everybody's sorry you didn't win," said member Charlie Coe on the press interviewing stand as Jack discussed his failure. Not everybody disliked the outcome, though. Charlie Coody seemed to be enjoying every minute of wearing that Masters championship coat, even if it might have been Nicklaus' size.

"When I birdied the 15th, I knew I was back in the game," said Coody.

"Then, I heard after hitting my tee shot on 16 that Miller had bogeyed the last hole. I made a 15-footer for another bird."

Coody's back-to-back birdies put him into the lead, but a clutch par four on the 400-yard 17th "was the thing that won the Masters for me."

The former Dallas Open and Cleveland Open king, never a major winner before, drove into a sand trap on the 17th, but made a fine seven-iron shot to the green's fringe and chipped within 30 inches to save the par.

"Sure, I remembered the messups of two years ago," he said. "I was determined not to live with two Masters failures like that. Now, I won't have to."

Coody earned $25,000 for the victory, but that was minor compared to the fame that goes with winning the 35th Masters.

Behind runnersup Miller and Nicklaus were Gene Littler and Don January at five-under-par 223 on the 6,900-yard course. Ken Still and Gary Player rallied with windup 69s to deadlock Tom Weiskopf for sixth place at 284.

Defending champion Billy Casper was back in the pac with a 72 for even par 288, nine strokes poorer than the 279 he needed to tie Littler a year ago before winning the Masters in an 18-hole playoff.

Four-time champion Arnold Palmer never really made a run this time. His 73 on Sunday gave the 41-year-old millionaire a 289 total, good for a tie for 18th place.

Miller went for broke on every shot in his courageous charge. "He has no fear," said the youthful San Francisco's best friend, Casper. "John said early this week that these Masters greens are easy to putt. Now he's proving it."

Miller said after it was over that he didn't expect to win the Masters in "my first time here as a pro. Jack Nicklaus is very unhappy trying for second. I'm delighted."

Nicklaus appeared to be tight before the final round began, saying little and pacing the locker room. He claimed his problem was just the opposite.

"I told my caddy, Cricket Pritchett, that we needed a birdie," said Coody. "Being a good caddy, he agreed."

Coody ripped a three-wood to within shouting distance and then pitched a wedge to within nine feet, holing the birdie and tying Miller for the lead.

"I started my downfall on the 16th in 1969," said Coody. "I made a bad club selection that time and never got on the track again. This time, the six-iron was perfect and I made a birdie."

Two Teams In First

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Maryland and Virginia are tied for first place in the Atlantic Coast Conference baseball standings today after each won a pair of games over the weekend.

Virginia beat Duke, 3-0, and defeated Wake Forest, 4-3. Maryland whipped Wake Forest, 18-10, and beat Duke, 3-1.

In other games Clemson tied UNC, 1-1, in the first game of a doubleheader, but the Tar Heels came back to win the second game, 3-2. Clemson beat N.C. State, 4-0, on Sunday.

ACC baseball action continues tonight with N.C. State, now in third place in the conference, taking on Wake Forest tonight. Wake Forest has gotten off to a slow start this season and so far has no victories and three defeats.

Duke is in the cellar in the ACC standings, with an 0-4 record. Other ACC records are North Carolina State 3-1, North Carolina 2-1, Clemson 3-3, South Carolina 1-1.

Marty Pattin Finds Road To Success In Drugstore

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer
Like the proverbial Hollywood starlet, Marty Pattin found the road to success in a drugstore and, as a result water is a popular drink in at least one Milwaukee household.

Pattin, a 5-foot-11, 180-pound right-hander, notched his second victory of the young season Sunday with a three-hit 3-0 blanking of the California Angels.

After a 7-12 record and 5.60 earned run average with Milwaukee's Seattle predecessors in 1969, Pattin posted a 14-12 mark last season and lowered his ERA to 3.40. He credited a diet which requires at least eight glasses of water a day and helped him shed 15 pounds.

"My wife picked up this diet book at a drugstore," Pattin explained. "I guess they call it a water diet. You eat a lot of proteins and drink a lot of water. There is something about the water acting on the proteins to help keep the weight down. Anyhow, it seems to be working."

Elsewhere in the AL, Minnesota whipped the Chicago White Sox 6-0, Kansas City outslugged Oakland 10-5, Baltimore dropped its opener to Detroit 5-4 in 11 innings but won the nightcap 9-3, Cleveland trounced Boston 7-2 and the New York Yankees split with Washington, winning 1-0 and losing 4-3.

In the National League, it was the New York Mets 1, Cincinnati 0 in 11 innings: Atlanta 3, Pittsburgh 1; Houston 7, Chicago Cubs 4; San Diego 9, Los Angeles 7; Philadelphia 11, Montreal 4 and St. Louis 4, San Francisco 2 in the first game of a twin bill and San Francisco 7, St. Louis 2, in the nightcap.

Pattin got the only run he needed against California in the first inning when Dave May doubled off Tom Murphy and scored on a single by Andy Kosco. Singles by Ellie Rodriguez and Ted Kubiak wrapped around a wild pitch accounted for a run in the second and Bernie Smith homered in the eighth.

Jim Kaat, a good-hitting pitcher, scattered 11 hits as the Twins blanked the White Sox. He also collected a single and double, drive in two runs and scored one while boosting his lifetime mark against Chicago to 26-9.

Kaat put the Twins ahead in the third when Jay Johnstone lost his fly ball in the sun and it fell for a double. Kaat scored on Rod Carew's single and Carew came around when Tony Oliva's wind-blown fly ball fell in left field for a single.

Kansas City erupted for four runs in the first inning and went on to pound four Oakland pitchers for 15 hits. Loser Jim Hunter was tagged for first-inning singles by Freddie Patek, Joe Keough, Lou Piniella, Ed Kirkpatrick and Cookie Rojas and Paul Schaal's double.

Bob Oliver later homered and Bobby Knoop pinch hit a two-run double for the Royals while Rick Monday and Dick Green homered for the A's.

Just when was it beginning to look as though the Orioles might never lose a game, Bill Freehan's 11th-inning home run lowered the boom in the opener despite a homer, double and two singles by Brooks Robinson. The Birds then broke loose for five runs in the first two innings of the nightcap and coasted behind Dave McNally's seven-hit pitching.

Wildcats Leading Pack

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Davidson finished last in the Southern Division last year when the Southern Conference baseball race was split into sections, but the Wildcats lead the pack this season without a divisional setup — and they won't be out of first place before Saturday, if then.

The Wildcats took over the No. 1 spot Saturday with 3-1 and 6-1 victories over The Citadel's Bulldogs, who had gone to Davidson with a league-leading 3-0 record.

By the time the twin bill was over, the Wildcats were in front at 5-1 and The Citadel had fallen all the way to fourth place behind Furman's Paladins, 3-1, and East Carolina's defending champion Pirates, 2-1.

Another doubleheader saw Virginia Military's Keydets break an eight-game losing streak and win for the first time in eight league games with a 1-0 triumph over William and Mary in the second encounter. The Indians had taken the opener 6-2.

The Citadel has a chance to get back into contention in a twin bill today at VMI. Three nonconference affairs today have East Carolina at Virginia Tech, Furman at Atlanta Baptist and Richmond's Spiders at home against former league member George Washington.

A pair of nonleague games Saturday saw Furman boost its record to 11-4 over-all with a 2-1 decision over Western Carolina and East Carolina drop an 8-5 decision to N.C. State. The Pirates fell to 5-8 over-all when they were beaten Sunday by High Point 9-8.

Davidson got a quick jump on The Citadel in both games of Saturday's twin bill. The Wildcats scored their three runs in the opener in the first two innings and all six runs in the first three innings of the nightcap.

Ross Manire scattered seven Bulldog hits in the afterpiece.

VMI's Randy Snow gave up just two hits in outpitching William and Mary starter Rich Richardson, who allowed four. The Keydets committed eight errors in the opener and the Indians' Sanford Boisseau pitched a three-hitter.

It was Furman's 11th victory against four losses. Western Carolina now is 8-5.

The Catamounts scored their run on three Furman errors.

Relief Pitcher Loses All

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

If you think the Cincinnati Reds are off to a bad start, consider the plight of Wayne Granger, their ace relief pitcher.

The Reds, defending National League champions, have played four games so far in this young season and they've lost them all. They've called Granger out of the bullpen three times—yep, you guessed it—their No. 1 fireman is 0-3.

When you consider that Granger made the trip from the bullpen 67 times last season it opens all sorts of ominous possibilities.

Granger took it on the chin again Sunday when Jerry Grote rocketed his first pitch of the inning into the left field seats for the only run in New York's 1-0 victory over the Reds. On Saturday, Granger's two-out bases-loaded wild pitch in the 11th inning allowed the Mets to score the winning run and started his lost weekend.

In other National League action Sunday, Philadelphia shelled Montreal 11-4, Atlanta trimmed Pittsburgh 3-1, San Diego whipped Los Angeles 9-7 and St. Louis split a doubleheader with San Francisco, winning 4-2 before losing 7-2.

In the American League, Minnesota shut out Chicago 6-0, Milwaukee blanked California 3-0, Cleveland rapped Boston 7-2, Kansas City shelled Oakland 10-5, New York split a doubleheader with Washington, winning 1-0 and losing 4-3 and Detroit split a pair with Baltimore winning 5-4 in 11 innings and then losing 9-3.

Granger was the fourth pitcher used by the Reds against the Mets with Greg Garrett, Milt Wilcox and Clay Carroll matching shutout serves with New York's Tom Seaver for the first nine innings.

Seaver left for a pinch hitter in the bottom of the ninth and Tug McGraw took over in the 10th and was the winner when Grote connected.

The loss left the Reds, who spent only one day out of first place all season, buried in the NL West cellar. Just one notch above them are the Los Angeles Dodgers, who fell victim Sunday to Nate Colbert's big bat.

Colbert walloped two home runs and drove in six runs as the Padres saddled the Dodgers with their fourth loss in six games.

The two homers gave Colbert five homers in six games and the big first baseman has driven in 14 runs. Colbert unloaded a three-run shot against Don Sutton in his first swing and then tagged Sutton for a two-run homer in his next at bat. He added his sixth RBI with an infield out.

Larry Stahl and Clarence Gaston also tagged solo homers for the Padres.

Come to the Housing Fair in Greenville on April 23, 24 and 25. It will be held at Cannon's Warehouse on Dickinson Avenue. The North Carolina Agricultural Extension Service and the Coastal Plain Development Association are co-sponsors of the three-day fair. "Better Homes for Better Living—Planning Makes it Possible" is the theme. The fair is being held to show to everyone, regardless of means, that a better house is possible.

This will be the best opportunity for any person who is interested in improving or building a home to see the entire range of ideas, products and services related to housing. Approximately 55 commercial and 15 educational exhibits will present plans, site selection, financing, insurance, contract building, interior and exterior materials and hardware. Home lighting and wiring, plumbing, kitchens, bathrooms, and heating systems will also be shown. Decorating, both interior and exterior will be featured in exhibits of paints, wallpaper, carpeting, floors, draperies and landscaping. Mobile homes will also be on show.

A special feature of the fair will be classes which are to be held on Friday and Saturday afternoons. Specialists from the University of North Carolina at Greensboro, North Carolina State University, Industry, and local associations will discuss "New Concepts in Housing," "Landscaping Your Home," "Living With Light," "Cooking the Micro-Wave Way," "Dealing with a Realtor," and "A Decent House for All."

The fair will open at 10 a.m. on Friday, April 23. Friday and Saturday exhibits will be open from 10 a.m. until 9 p.m. On Sunday, they will be open from 1 p.m. until 6 p.m. Admission and parking will be free.

Heavy Breathing Fogs Glass

LONDON (AP) — All that heavy breathing from the audience ruined the nude ballet at Bill Fentiman's pub.

Fentiman staged the show involving a 23-year-old male dancer and a 21-year-old female partner to launch an extension to his tavern. To separate the act from the audience, he installed a transparent plastic screen.

Five hundred people packed the room Friday and the temperature rose as the dance began. Soon the screen was fogged over by condensation. Angry customers, complaining that they could not see, started breaking up the furniture.

"We came to see a nude ballet. We like a bit of culture, but they could have had fur coats on for all we knew," said Mrs. Pearl Cooper, 41, a housewife.

Fentiman calmed the spectators by returning their 24-cent admission fees. He promised to bring on the nude dancers again sometime—without the screen.

Tobacco TIPS

By SAM J. WEEKS

Agricultural Extension Agent

Since DDT and TDE have been barred for use on flue-cured tobacco for insect control, it will be necessary for other insecticides to be used for the 1971 crop. We are fortunate to have insecticides available that will give satisfactory control for most insects that normally damage the tobacco crop.

Flea beetles can be controlled with Guthion, Parathion, Lannate, and Disyston. Disyston is a systemic insecticide which is disked into the soil prior to transplanting. The other insecticides listed can be applied as a spray on the foliage of the plants.

Budworms can be controlled with Thiodan, Sevinmol, Thuricide, and Lannate. Thuricide is the only insecticide suitable for mixing a cornmeal bait.

Hornworms can be controlled with Sevinmol, Buthion, Thuricide and Lannate.

The cabbage looper can be controlled with Lannate and Thuricide.

All of the insecticides listed above do not have any harmful residue that will affect the flavor of the smoke and they do not leave residues in the main stream smoke of the cigarettes.

Lannate is a highly toxic insecticide that should be used according to the cautionary statement on the label. Lannate is toxic if taken internally. Users should take particular care not to breathe the powder when mixing or filling the spray tank. It should not be used within seven days of harvest on flue-cured tobacco.

Buffalo Joins Lonely Female

By RAMESH C. PANDE
NEW DELHI (UPI)—Benji the VIB (very important buffalo), traveled 15,000 miles from South Dakota to New Delhi to join a lonely female of his species.

Benji, 10 months old, weighs only 600 pounds now. But when fully grown, the shaggy groom will weigh about 2,000 pounds and sport a long, black beard, just as did his ancestors which once roamed America's Wild West in huge numbers.

The young groom from South Dakota must wait another couple of years before he can mate.

Life Span

The average life span of a buffalo in the wild is from 15 to 20 years, but the prospective newlyweds can look forward to as many as 30 years together in their protected environment at New Delhi's Zoo, considered to be one of the best in the world today.

Benji's already grown-up consort, Jessie, became a widow a few years ago when she lost her mate in the local zoo.

Late last year the U.S. ambassador in India, Kenneth Keating, learned of Jessie's bereavement.

"I do not normally act as a go-between for prospective mates of non-human species," Keating said, "But it was disturbing to learn that Jessie was living alone so many miles away from home."

The matchmaking called into action the U.S. State Department, the National Zoo in Washington, D.C., the Great Plains Zoo in Sioux Falls, S.D., and the Indian government.

"Everyone played a magnificent role in bringing this match to consummation," Keating said. "There were moments when we were ready to give up."

Finest Hour

At first, Keating recalled, there was difficulty in finding a specimen worthy of the Delhi Zoo. "But the State Department was intrepid," he said. "It was one of the department's finest hours when it cabled me that it had found young Benji."

Then came the problem of shipment. Bison, for sensible reasons, aren't permitted to fly on commercial airlines.

But that's when someone recalled the sheep shipment. The Indian government had chartered a jet cargoliner to transport sheep from Texas to Delhi.

Make more soybeans... make more money...

the No-Til[®] way.

No-Til economies are big news!

No-Til eliminates trips over your fields—cuts the cost and work of getting a soybean crop in. No-Til can be a one-trip practice which gives you a far better chance to plant more areas on time... for a fast start, a full season of growth.

No-Til starts with an Allis-Chalmers 600 Series planter so flexible you can plant 40- or 38-inch rows today... change to 30- or 20-inch rows anytime just by adding planter units onto the same frame.

And you can take full advantage of double cropping opportunities with direct sod or stubble planting... or plant easily eroded hills or slopes that otherwise don't return a profit.

Then, to get the most out of your No-Til soybean program, you need fast, weed-free early growth. That's where Du Pont LOROX comes in. LOROX controls a wide range of weeds and grasses that plague soybean growers. With Surfactant WK, LOROX gives both contact and residual action.

See how much more you can make by doing less. See your Allis-Chalmers dealer for the equipment you need. See your agricultural chemicals dealer for LOROX. It's a winning combination to make more beans and make more money.

With any chemical, follow labeling instructions and warnings carefully.

*Registered trademark of Allis-Chalmers

GROW HOLE-FREE TOBACCO

One 2 lb. can of Lannate stops insect damage on up to 8 acres of tobacco

Insects hit directly by the spray begin falling minutes after spraying. Some LANNATE is absorbed into the plant, where it continues to kill insects as they feed. Yet LANNATE doesn't linger. It does its job and then breaks down into materials commonly found in nature.

LANNATE performs at low rates, and that means more for your money when you're buying insecticides.

This unique formulation of water-soluble powder dissolves easily and contains no solvents to "burn" foliage.

Remember—it's the worm that costs you money, not the insecticide. Start early and get a jump on the bugs.

As LANNATE is a highly toxic chemical and protective equipment is recommended, read and follow label instructions and warnings carefully.

Worry Clinic Courage Needed By Ring Champ

Do you agree with Bob and Bill? As seminary students, were they accurate in calling Cassius Clay a coward. (And where should we draw the line in exempting clergymen from military draft? In psychiatry, we often find that the most vociferous flag wavers are inwardly "chicken." They compensate by loudly showing their patriotism.

By GEORGE W. CRANE
Ph. D., M. D.
Case Q-524: Bob and Bill were seminary students who dined with me recently.

Somehow the conversation veered around to sports and boxing.
"Dr. Crane," Bob began, "I think it showed cowardice for Cassius Clay to try to avoid military service."
Bill nodded vigorously assent to Bob's comment.

"Yes," he added, "Cassius Clay claimed that he was a minister and thus tried to hide behind that cloak of respectability."
Courageous Cassius Clay

How may you readers actually thought Cassius Clay was a coward?

Did you ever consider the courage it requires to enter a boxing ring and fight maybe 15 rounds against the runner-up in the heavyweight boxing field? When Clay was champion, every time he accepted the challenge of an opponent, he was thus pitted against the man whom the boxing world regarded as at least the second best boxer on this planet Earth! And that challenger was intent on knocking Clay out as soon as possible, for that would mean a transfer of the World Championship Belt to the new winner! As a former college boxer myself, maybe I am a little partial to Cassius Clay, but until proved otherwise, I believe he was a sincere advocate of his Muslim beliefs.

And how many seminary students have hidden behind their religion as an escape from the draft?

One of my clergymen friends went to Texas to give some speeches at a seminary down there and he mingled freely with the students.

"Dr. Crane," this clergyman told me later, "most of the seminary boys with whom I dined and conversed, frankly admitted they had registered for seminary training mainly to escape the Army draft."

"So they were using their religion as a means of avoiding Military Service in defense of their country!"

You readers who were educated in the little red one-room school houses will recall the adage:

"Those who live in glass houses shouldn't throw stones!"
A lot of people who are "chicken" at heart, thus pounce upon Cassius Clay and use him as a convenient "whipping boy" on whom to vent the criticisms which they secretly feel they themselves deserve.

In psychiatry we call this a convenient form of "transference" by which they can pass the buck, which they feel should be directed at themselves.

It certainly is not seemly for seminary students to try to call Cassius Clay a coward.

And why shouldn't Muslim or Buddhist clergymen be granted the same clerical privileges as Jewish Rabbis, Catholic Priests or the various Protestant Ministers?

Those who are loudest in their criticism of Cassius Clay are automatically suspected by psychiatrists!

Often, the most vigorous flag-wavers are also compensating for the fact they know that secretly they are "chicken" at heart.

Jesus once psychoanalyzed the vociferous mob that wanted to kill the adulterous woman, and said:

"Let him that is without sin, cast the first stone."
You Bible scholars realize that ALL those loud-mouths were guilty and sneaked away!

Send for my booklet "How to Stimulate Bible Reading," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 20 cents. (Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 20 cents when you send for one of his booklets.)

Lake Erie actually is two contiguous basins, each with its own currents and characteristics, according to National Geographic.

Hobby said the most important single piece of legislation the unions want from this session is a law allowing city, county and state government employees to join unions.

Other legislation the unions are interested in, he said, includes teacher salary hikes, new workmen's compensation laws covering byssinosis, "fair tax laws," an increase in unemployment insurance benefits, the enforcement of new safety laws for workers, the abolition of capital punishment and the passage of consumer protection legislation.

RAY OF HOPE
COPENHAGEN (UPI)—Like most countries, Denmark is having financial problems, but the Finance Ministry brought a ray of hope—it reported the government saved $67 million in the year ended April 30, 1971.

Unitarian Congregation Starts Own Program

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A minister says his Unitarian congregation is starting its own sex education program for youngsters from 3 years old— "We want to tell them what they want to know, not what we think they should know."
"These kids are filled with questions never answered before," said the Rev. Robert F. Kaufmann of the Emerson Unitarian church in suburban Canoga Park.

Kaufmann, 49 and father of two children, said 60 children would take part in eight weeks of Sunday morning classes. He said they would be split by age into classes of 10 to 12 students with an adult couple present.

Schools aren't answering the students questions Kaufmann said.

"School sex education often amounts to a basketball coach showing the kids some frogs and telling them to be sure and take showers and take two laps around the track," says Kaufmann.

He said classes would begin with pupils submitting written, unsigned questions about sex.

He said no question by the 7 to 11-year-olds will be left unanswered but the 3 and 4-year-old toddlers will be eased into sex education more gradually.

"The older ones will learn terminology to begin with. All the words for the organs and all the acts. We try to take away the thrill of using a dirty word," he said.

"We use all the words and some words they never heard," Kaufmann said the church has 300 adult members. He said a successful teen-age sex education seminar was held a few weeks ago and a sex education class for married couples and couples living together had been under way for several weeks.

"We are not telling the kids that sex is groovy, or sex is terrible; just that sex exists and it is enjoyable, but not something you run around the corner and latch on to every time you get the chance," Kaufmann said.

Union Delegates To Gather

RALEIGH (AP) — Delegates from more than 100 labor unions throughout North Carolina will gather in Raleigh Tuesday for a state AFL-CIO legislative conference.

AFL-CIO President Wilbur Hobbs said Sunday that the conference will begin with a meeting of delegates to discuss legislative goals. The workers will then visit the legislature and meet with their representatives.

At 6 p.m. Tuesday the group will hold a legislative reception, and at 7 p.m. a legislative banquet.

GOREN ON BRIDGE

BY CHARLES H. GOREN
(c 1971, By The Chicago Tribune)
ANSWERS TO BRIDGE QUIZ
Q. 1—East-West vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠J752 ♥QJ853 ♦954 ♠10

The bidding has proceeded:
North East South West
1 ♠ Pass 1 ♥ Pass
1 ♠ Pass 2 ♥ Pass
1 ♠ Pass 3 ♥ Pass
1 ♠ Pass 4 ♥ Pass

What do you bid now?
A.—Pass. Surely game is out of the question. If you bid again, you will look for more than a queen and two jacks in your hand.

Q. 2—East-West vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠K7 ♥KQ976 ♦AJ2 ♠653

The bidding has proceeded:
North East South West
1 ♠ Pass 2 ♥ Pass
1 ♠ Pass 4 ♥ Pass
6 ♥ Pass

What do you bid now?
A.—Seven hearts. North's bidding is practically the most colossal known to man. Partner is win 12 tricks on the basis merely of seven hearts and diamonds. Surely he must have allowed for the loss of a trick to the king of spades, and on that basis your grand slam is justified.

Q. 3—Neither vulnerable. Partner opens with three no trump. You hold:
♠A5 ♥765 ♦Q1094 ♠K1075

What do you bid?
A.—On a basis of simple arithmetic you should contract for a small slam in no trump. You have a count of nine and partner has a minimum of 25.

Q. 4—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠KQ7 ♥K432 ♦AK ♠K1085

The bidding has proceeded:
North East South West
1 ♠ Pass 1 ♥ Pass
1 ♠ Pass 2 ♥ Pass
1 ♠ Pass 3 ♥ Pass

What do you bid now?
A.—There is not much doubt of a slam in the hand. But in order to determine the best contract, there must be some further investigation. The recommended bid at this point is a jump shift to three diamonds, and the subsequent actions will depend on partner's behavior.

Q. 5—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠2 ♥AK7642 ♦K7 ♠AJ95

The bidding has proceeded:
South West North East
1 ♠ Pass 3 ♥ Pass

What do you bid now?
A.—East has announced a game-going hand. While you might desire to interrupt communications between the opponents, you cannot afford to go very high because it might prove costly should they abandon their game and double you instead. However, partner should be advised that you have diamond support and some high card value. You may do this by doubling the two diamond bid, and leaving the rest to him.

Q. 6—Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠2 ♥J10875 ♦A952 ♠KQ7

The bidding has proceeded:
South West North East
1 ♠ Pass 1 ♥ Pass

What do you bid now?
A.—Had you not previously passed, the proper procedure would be a jump to three hearts, forcing to game. But, in view of your previous failure to bid, partner might not go on. Your hand is worth 14 points in support, so even if North has a shaded bid you should have enough. Bid four hearts.

Q. 7—As South you hold (vulnerable):
♠8753 ♥Q8754 ♦A82

The bidding has proceeded:
North East South
1 ♠ 2 ♦

What do you bid?
A.—East has announced a game-going hand. While you might desire to interrupt communications between the opponents, you cannot afford to go very high because it might prove costly should they abandon their game and double you instead. However, partner should be advised that you have diamond support and some high card value. You may do this by doubling the two diamond bid, and leaving the rest to him.

Q. 8—As South vulnerable you hold:
♠K7542 ♥1098654 ♠A3

The bidding has proceeded:
North East South West
1 ♠ Pass 1 ♥ Dble.
Rdbl. Pass Pass 2 ♦
3 ♦ Pass

What do you bid now?
A.—East has announced a game-going hand. $500.00-A-MONTH TAX-FREE CASH

WHENEVER YOU GO TO THE HOSPITAL

Examine policy in your own home at no risk—money refunded if not 100% satisfied!

- ★ Pays you cash at the rate of $500.00 a month for each hospital stay... even for life, if necessary.
- ★ Pays in addition to any other companies' coverage you have—including Medicare.
- ★ Pays all cash direct to you (not to doctor or hospital).

- ★ Guaranteed Renewable for Life. National Home guarantees never to cancel your protection no matter how old you become or how many claims you have. In addition, your rates can never be changed unless there is a general rate adjustment on all policies of this type in your entire state.

No salesman will call—No medical examination required—No age limit

ACT NOW—YOUR APPLICATION FORM MUST BE MAILED BY MIDNIGHT, THURS., APRIL 22, OR IT CANNOT BE ACCEPTED

ONE out of two families will have someone in the hospital this year! It could be you—or some beloved member of your family—tomorrow... next week... next month. Sad to say, very few families have anywhere near enough coverage to meet today's soaring hospital costs. These costs have doubled in just a few short years.

Stop for a moment. Think how much a long stay in the hospital will cost you or a loved one. How would you ever pay for costly, but necessary, X-rays, doctor bills, drugs and medicines? Many have learned the hard way that public and private insurance pays only 40% of the nation's total medical care bill. What would you do if your pay check stopped, but living expenses kept going on the same as ever? The same rent, phone, food, all the day-to-day expenses that never stop.

What is the average breadwinner to do? We believe we have the answer in our National Home plan that...

Pays you $500.00-a-month tax-free cash whenever you are hospitalized.

What a blessing it is when you know you have $500.00 cash coming in every month when you go to the hospital. You get your $500.00-a-month cash—tax-free—as long as you are confined in the hospital. You are covered from the very first day for accidents and from the sixth day for sickness—even for life, if necessary! Most everyone has some insurance or savings to take care of a one to five-day hospital stay. Since we provide lifetime benefits, this "deductible" feature enables us to give you broad coverage at a lower cost than would otherwise be possible.

Now, this low-cost plan from National Home enables you to enjoy this protection at once. Your special low rate is shown below; it is the same low premium you will continue to pay no matter how old you become or how many claims you have, unless there is a general rate adjustment, up or down, on all policies of this type in your entire state.

The added protection you NEED!

All benefits of this $500.00-a-month plan are paid directly to you, in tax-free cash, in addition to whatever you may receive from your insurance with any other company! Use the money as you see fit—for hospital or doctor bills, mortgage or rent payments, to replace savings—or any necessary, but costly, expenses not covered by other hospital policies.

Everything costs more these days (need we tell you?) and hospital care is certainly no exception! While 7 out of 8 Americans have some hospital insurance, most have found it does not cover all bills that pile up when sickness or accident strikes. That's why National Home developed this low-cost plan that helps you pay hospital costs or other expenses.

- PAYS $500.00-A-MONTH CASH for each accident or illness. Coverage for accidents begins the very first day in the hospital; sickness coverage begins the sixth day in the hospital.
- PAYS $250.00-A-MONTH CASH FOR THE FIRST THREE MONTHS, AFTER YOU HAVE REACHED AGE 65. And a full $500.00-A-MONTH CASH thereafter—even for life. Coverage for accidents begins the very first day in the hospital; sickness coverage begins the sixth day in the hospital.
- PAYS $300.00-A-MONTH CASH if a covered child is hospitalized for injury or illness. Coverage for accidents begins the very first day in the hospital; sickness coverage begins the sixth day in the hospital. And the benefits continue for as long as necessary.
- PAYS $2,000.00-A-MONTH CASH when both husband and wife (under age 65) are hospitalized at the same time for accidental injury for as long as both remain in the hospital—even for life, if necessary.
- PAYS $400.00-A-MONTH CASH for a registered nurse at home if your doctor has you hire one within five days following a covered hospital confinement of five days or more. And your benefits continue for the same number of days that you were hospitalized—up to 12 full months.

We can never cancel your policy!

You can count on this wonderful protection no matter how old you become or how many times you collect from us. Your policy guarantees that we can never cancel your protection for any reason whatsoever. It is Guaranteed Renewable for Life!

And that's not all. Suppose you have a growing family—this policy (NH10-669)...

Pays you $300.00-a-month cash whenever any dependent child is hospitalized.

When you choose Coverage for Children, all your unmarried dependent children from age one month through 18 years are covered, too! What's more, any newborn children you have in the future are covered automatically at the age of one month—at no additional cost to you. And whenever any of your children go to the hospital, this National Home plan pays you at the rate of $300.00-a-month cash, for as long as necessary. Children are covered for accidents from the first day and for sickness from the sixth day.

Pays you tax-free cash Maternity Benefits, too.

With this plan, you can also collect cash at the rate of $500.00 a month for every day you are confined to the hospital for pregnancy, childbirth, or even miscarriage. You get this cash, which is yours to use as you see fit, when Coverage for Children and Maternity Benefits have been added to the basic plan. Of course, both parents must be enrolled in this plan for the entire period of pregnancy.

Pays you $400.00-a-month cash for a Registered Nurse at Home.

Here's a wonderful "get well" benefit of this National Home plan: You collect cash benefits at the rate of $400.00 a month when your doctor has you employ a full-time registered nurse within five days after you come home, following a stay in the hospital of five days or more for which benefits were payable. You are paid for the same number of covered days that you were in the hospital—even up to 12 full months!

Double Cash Accident Benefit.

When you and your insured spouse are hospitalized at the same time for an accidental injury, this National Home plan pays you an extraordinary double cash benefit. You receive not $500.00 but $1,000.00 a month. Your spouse receives not $500.00 but $1,000.00 a month. That's $2,000.00 in all, in cash payments to you every month (when under age 65) starting the day you enter the hospital for as long as you both remain there.

Pays you up to $2,000.00 cash for these accidental losses...

The accidental loss of limbs or eyesight can be terrible. But if such loss occurs any time within 90 days of the accident, you collect $1,000.00 for the complete loss of a hand or a foot or the sight of an eye—and $2,000.00 for loss of two limbs or the sight of both eyes.

Waiver of premium benefit.

Should you—the policyowner—be hospitalized for 8 consecutive weeks or more, this National Home plan will PAY ALL PREMIUMS that come due for you and all Covered Members of your family while you are confined to the hospital beyond the initial 8-week period. And your protection continues just the same as if you were paying the premiums yourself. Then, if you leave the hospital and must return for the same condition before you have resumed full normal activities for 90 days, we will again pay any premiums while you are in the hospital—for the total confinement! This means you pay no premiums, yet your full protection remains in force.

THESE ARE THE ONLY EXCLUSIONS!

Your National Home policy covers every kind of sickness or accident except conditions caused by: act of war; any mental disease or disorder; pregnancy, except as provided under the Maternity Benefit provision; and any sickness or injury you had before the Effective Date of your policy... during the first 2 years only.

This last item is a real help if you already have a health problem. If you are sick before you take out this policy, you will even be covered for that condition after the policy has been in effect for 2 years. Meanwhile, of course, every new condition is covered.

Nationally known and respected.

This is the kind of outstanding protection you may have seen in Reader's Digest, Parents, National Geographic and other leading publications. The special plans offered by the National Liberty Corporation group of companies are today helping policyowners in all 50 states—and many foreign countries—paying benefits at the rate of more than $1,500,000.00 a month. In addition, our Company has a RECOMMENDED rating from Best's Insurance Reports, one of the foremost insurance authorities in the nation.

Fast, reliable claim service when needed most.

You never really know how good a policy is until you have to make a claim. That's why we think you'll be interested in what some of our National Home members have to say. Their comments—quoted below—are typical of the hundreds of expressions of appreciation we receive from policyowners every week...

"Received your checks totaling $585.68 for injury. I appreciated your kindness and promptness in the claim. It certainly came in handy and I had less worries knowing I had this protection. You certainly paid all the benefits stated in the policy without question."

MRS. ANGELA B. HARDY, Abbeville, Louisiana
"You folks were very prompt in sending the money when my wife went to the hospital for surgery. Thank you so much."
HAROLD DOVENBORG, Zanesville, Ohio

"I was more than satisfied with the way my claim was handled. One couldn't ask for better service and the 'get well soon' message was one of the nicest thoughts on your part. I thank you sincerely."
MARGUERITE LINDAU, Duluth, Minnesota

National Liberty commended in the Congressional Record of the United States Congress

National Liberty Corporation, parent of National Home Life Assurance Company, has been commended in the United States Congressional Record for bringing low-cost insurance to the general public: "National Liberty deserves recognition for providing service beyond the expected, service willingly offered to those who are not being cared for in other ways. This is the secret of success for its low-cost insurance plans. With the highest public interest at heart, the National Liberty Corporation group of companies combines reliability and quality of service with noteworthy price advantages. It is to be commended on its leadership and vision in this field of human welfare."

Why you must act before the date shown on your Application Form—just a few days from today.

Why do we give you so little time to enroll in this plan—only a few days? Because this is a mass Enrollment Plan, enrolling thousands of policyowners at one time. ALTHOUGH EVERY POLICY IS ISSUED THROUGH A LICENSED AGENT, ALL BUSINESS IS CONDUCTED DIRECTLY BETWEEN YOU AND THE COMPANY. No salesman will call. This highly efficient "mass enrollment" method enables us to give you the broadest coverage at the lowest cost.

As soon as we receive your Application Form we will rush your policy to you by First Class Mail. When your policy arrives, examine it in the privacy of your own home. It is a very short document and you'll be pleasantly surprised to see there is no fine print. Show it, if you wish, to your doctor, lawyer, insurance agent, or some other trusted advisor.

Here are your low rates.

The following rate chart shows how little it costs to cover yourself, your spouse and any adult dependent. Naturally, at these low rates, we can issue you only one policy of this type. Each adult, 16 or over, pays the rate shown for his or her age.

Age at Enrollment	Self	Monthly Premium per Adult
16-44	$2.95	$2.95
45-49	$3.40	$3.40
50-54	$3.75	$3.75
55-64	$4.35	$4.35

All dependent children ages 0-18: $1.55
Maternity Benefit: $1.15

NOTE: The regular monthly premium shown here (for age at time of enrollment) will not automatically increase as you pass from one age bracket to the next! Once you have enrolled in this National Home plan, your rate can never be changed because of how much or how often you collect from us—or because of advanced age—but only if there is a general rate adjustment, up or down, on all policies of this type in your entire state!

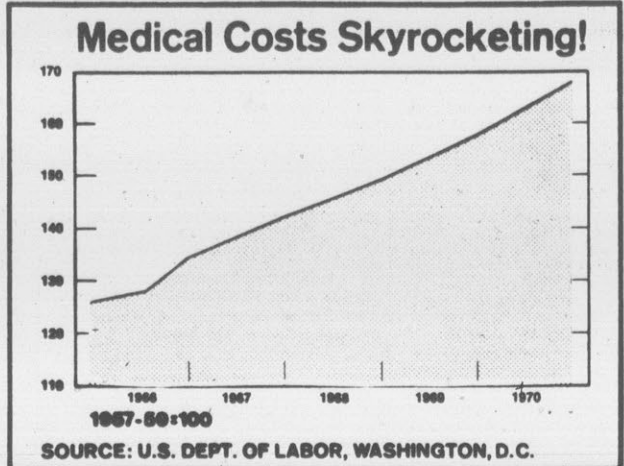

Act NOW—"Later" May Be Too Late!

TIME IS PRECIOUS! Act quickly. (No salesman will call.) Get your Application Form into the mail today—because once you suffer an accident or sickness, it's TOO LATE to buy protection at any cost. That's why we urge you to act today—before anything unexpected happens.

YOUR QUESTIONS ANSWERED ABOUT THIS NATIONAL HOME PLAN

- 1. How much will I be paid when I go to the hospital?
You will receive cash at the rate of $500.00 a month ($16.67 a day). Once you have reached 65 years of age, you collect (in addition to any Medicare benefits) $250.00 a month for the first 3 months, and $500.00 monthly while you remain continuously hospitalized thereafter. And you collect cash for an accident even if you're in the hospital for only one day. Coverage for illness begins the sixth day—and benefits are paid in full for as long as you're hospitalized... even for life, if necessary.
- 2. Do you pay me cash when my children go to the hospital?
You collect cash at the rate of $300.00 a month whenever any of your children (age 1 month through 18 years) go to the hospital—if Coverage for Children is added to the basic plan. Coverage for accidents begins on the first day—sickness on the sixth day. And if you have a growing family—as soon as any newborn child is one month old, he, too, is covered—automatically... at no additional cost.
- 3. When do I start to collect hospital benefits?
This new plan (NH10-669) covers you from the very first day for accidents and from the sixth day for sickness—even for life, if necessary! Most everyone has some insurance or savings to take care of a one to five-day hospital stay. Since we provide lifetime benefits, this "deductible" feature enables us to give you broad coverage at a lower cost than would otherwise be possible.
- 4. Will you pay me cash benefits for pregnancy?
Yes, when Coverage for Children and Maternity Benefits have been added to the basic plan. You collect cash at the rate of $500.00 a month for pregnancy, childbirth or miscarriage that results in a hospital stay. (Both parents have to be enrolled in this plan for entire pregnancy period.)
- 5. Suppose I'm hospitalized for a long time and can't meet my premium payments?
If you—the policyowner—are hospitalized for 8 consecutive weeks or more, this National Home plan will PAY ALL PREMIUMS that come due for you and all Covered Members of your family while you are confined to the hospital beyond the initial 8-week period. You aren't expected to pay us back, either.
- 6. Now tell me what's the "catch"—what doesn't my policy cover?
Get ready for a welcome surprise. Your policy covers everything except conditions caused by: act of war; any mental disease or disorder; pregnancy, except as provided under the Maternity Benefit provision; confinements within a U.S. Government hospital or a nursing or convalescent facility; and any sickness or injury you had before the Effective Date of your policy—but even this last "exclusion" is done away with after you've been a policyowner for only two years. Everything else is definitely covered.
- 7. What are the requirements to enroll in this National Home plan?
You must not have been refused or had cancelled any health, hospital or life insurance due to reasons of health; and to qualify during this Enrollment Period—you must enroll before midnight of the date shown on the Application Form.
- 8. Besides saving money—are there any other advantages to joining this plan during this Enrollment Period?
Yes. A very important one is that you don't need to complete a lengthy, detailed questionnaire—just the brief Application Form in the corner of this page. Also, during this Enrollment Period there are no extra requirements for eligibility, and no "waivers" or restrictive endorsements can be put on your policy!
- 9. How do I join?
Fill out the brief Application Form and mail it with your first month's protection for your entire family. Mail to our licensed North Carolina resident agent: Mr. Ernest E. Tucker, Jr., National Home, 1301 East Morehead St., Charlotte, North Carolina 28200.

MONEY-BACK GUARANTEE

We will send your National Home policy by mail. Examine it carefully in the privacy of your own home. Show it, if you wish, to your own insurance agent, doctor, lawyer or other trusted advisor. If you decide, for any reason, that you don't want to continue as a member of this plan, return the policy within 15 days of the date you receive it, and we will promptly refund your money. Meanwhile, you will be fully protected while making your decision!
