

Senate SST Foes Vow Every Effort To Stop Project

By LAWRENCE L. KNUTSON Associated Press Writer WASHINGTON (AP) - The American supersonic transport, the world's most debated aircraft, has been led through a legislative backdoor into a renewed fight for life. The stakes now may not be just two prototypes but a whole fleet of production-line SSTs.

costly, it is something that should be left to private industry, it is not practical and it threatens the environment. "Minds have been changed in the last two months," said Sen. Warren G. Magnuson, D-Wash., who has fought to keep alive the SST, which was being built in his state.

section providing $85 million to terminate SST contracts. Their new language earmarked the money to restart the program. The decision, reversing the House's 215-204 anti-SST vote eight weeks ago, tossed the controversy back to the Senate, giving another turn to a Capitol Hill saga in which the SST already has had far many more perils than the fabled Pauline.

NEW HIGH SPEED TYPESETTING UNIT... Sharon Moore prepares to start the new Compugraphic high speed photo composition unit that will set up to 75 lines per minute.

A Still Faster Typesetter Is New Addition

A new piece of equipment has been added to The Daily Reflector's array of photo composition machinery.

The new device is a Compugraphic high speed photo composition unit. It will set type, such as this story, at up to 75 lines per minute.

The unit, latest in a series developed by the Compugraphic Corp., joins two other similar units which set body type and do other specialized work for the newspaper.

Next came Linotypes which were operated by keyboards at five to six lines per minute. These "hot metal" machines were later designed to use punched tape which operated them automatically at speeds of nine to ten lines per minute.

The big break through in rapid type setting came with photocomposition methods to which the Daily Reflector was converted in November, 1969. The high speed Com-pagraphic was just recently placed on the market and the unit was ordered by The Daily Reflector to improve type output.

Tim Jones, superintendent of the newspaper's composing room, pointed out that the new unit can produce a column of type in less than two and a half minutes, operating from punched tape. It will be used throughout the day, since news copy comes in that way, but Jones estimates that if all material were available at once the unit could set all the type for an average size Daily Reflector in 80 minutes.

All the units must operate in cool temperatures and five cooling fans are built into the newest unit. In addition room heating and air conditioning are controlled to prove an ideal operating temperature.

The unit is computer driven with a memory which holds five or six lines at a time. Each letter is exposed from a film strip on photographic paper. A lens carriage moves across the paper and the letters are exposed by a strobe light. In the older units the carriage moved across like a typewriter carriage and then returned to the left margin. The speed of the new unit is gained because the unit exposes a line of type in reverse as the carriage returns to the left margin.

The unit is fast, so fast in fact that the type for this story was set in 80 seconds.

Offer To Reds

PARIS (AP) - The United States offered today to fly out or send by sea to a neutral country North Vietnamese prisoners of war held in South Vietnam.

The offer, made by Ambassador David K.E. Bruce at the Vietnam peace talks, was an effort to get the North Vietnamese to agree to internment in a neutral country of prisoners of war held by both sides. The United States and South Vietnam made such a proposal recently, but it was in effect rejected by the North Vietnamese.

South Vietnam holds more than 1,700 North Vietnamese prisoners it is prepared to send to a neutral country. There are about 1,600 Americans prisoners or missing in Southeast Asia, 339 held by the North Vietnamese.

Sweden has indicated it would be prepared to be helpful in the question of repatriating prisoners if an agreement can be reached at the Paris talks.

North Vietnam and the Viet Cong continued to insist today that the United States set a "reasonable" withdrawal date for its troops before other questions, including prisoner release, can be brought up. The United States and South Vietnam insist that North Vietnam also must discuss withdrawal of its forces from other Indochina countries.

Easier Abortion Law Moving To Final Approval

RALEIGH (AP) - Legislation to make abortions somewhat easier for women to obtain in North Carolina was near enactment in the North Carolina General Assembly today.

The House was expected to agree to an amendment that the Senate tacked on to the bill after extended debate Wednesday.

No Govm't Aid

WINSTON-SALEM, N.C. (AP) - Russian school children have been told their counterparts in the United States don't need help—their patched up clothes and barefoot look just happen to be in style this year.

Mrs. George Konstantinow, who teaches in a private school in a wealthy section of Winston-Salem, sent pictures of her pupils to her niece, a teacher in Russia.

The niece wrote back that her pupils were very concerned—the government had built such a nice school for Mrs. Konstantinow's children, but couldn't do something for the poor children? The children in the Russian school were so disturbed by the "pitiful" condition of Mrs. Konstantinow's children that they had taken up a collection. But they couldn't send the 100 rubles out of Russia, so would something else help? Shoes? Clothing?

Mrs. Konstantinow wrote back explaining American styles. to do so, so rather than leave him on the road, Herndon took him to the home of his daughter in Shady Knoll Mobile Estates. "This was a temporary arrangement until we could find him a home," he said. However, the dog disappeared.

Somebody's Pet Is Having A Broken Jaw Treated

By CAROL TYER Reflector Staff Writer A broken jaw won't matter to a dog lover. And surely it won't make any difference to the owner of a tan mixed terrier now convalescing at Dr. Joseph C. Bateman's veterinary clinic here. A small dog with medium length hair, he is appealing even though he has suffered a severely fractured jaw from two separate encounters with moving automobiles in the past three weeks.

Found first on April 27 by Thomas Herndon of the ECU history department, he was carried to Dr. Bateman, who treated him for the infection around the break on the left side of his jaw and released him to Herndon eight days later. Herndon paid his bill and took him back where he had found him on Mumford Road thinking he would go home. The dog made no move passed by the House several weeks ago, the bill would have reduced the number of doctors needed to legalize an abortion from three to one.

Rep. Jack Rhyne, D-Gaston, sponsor of the measure, said he would ask the House to accept the amendment and enact the bill. Rhyne said that the bill essentially does what he wanted it to do.

The Senate approved by 30-17 the Gudger amendment which it had rejected the day before.

In arguing in support of his amendment, Gudger told the Senate that if the state did not require the authorization of at least two doctors, "you would be allowing doctors who are irresponsible to make abortions a big business in North Carolina."

The bill also sets a 30-day residence requirement before a woman could obtain an abortion in North Carolina. It would replace a four-month residence which the courts held was unreasonable.

Meanwhile, bills were introduced in both House and Senate Wednesday that would amend North Carolina's employment security laws to provide unemployment insurance coverage for an additional 139,000 workers and bring an additional 34,000 additional employers under the law.

The Senate passed and sent the House legislation establishing a state policy on protection of natural resources and environment protection.

Sen. Hargrove Bowles, D-Guilford, told the Senate the measure "is an environmental bill of rights." He said it calls upon the state to conserve and protect its lands and resources for all the people of the state.

Gift Of A.K. Barrus 325 Acres Of Land For ECU

A Kinston business man has given the East Carolina University Foundation the deed to 325 acres of land located on the north side of Greenville.

A. K. Barrus of Barrus Construction Company formally presented the gift to University President Leo W. Jenkins in Kinston Wednesday morning.

Dr. Jenkins said the land is the first grant of its type ever given to the University outright, and described it as "truly a remarkable windfall." The land, larger in size than the school's downtown campus, fronts on the Tar River and extends to Mumford Road.

"We will immediately launch studies to determine possibilities for educational and research uses of this land," Dr. Jenkins said. "It is necessary that natural areas be available to support the new emphasis on environmental and ecological study. Parts may be left undisturbed for research into natural biological and geological features. Other parts may be used as field study sites for our own students and other college or public school students in our region."

In his presentation to the University, Barrus said, "I hope other people in Eastern Carolina will follow suit in making gifts to the foundation. I am particularly anxious to see the Medical School established as Eastern Carolina needs doctors very badly and I sincerely hope that all of the citizens will get behind the

Dr. Jenkins said the University has sought tracts of undeveloped land to preserve for educational and research purposes, and expressed himself as being particularly pleased at the Barrus gift's close proximity to the Greenville campus.

"We express our thanks and appreciation to Mr. Barrus and state that we will make good use of any land made available to us."

Hits Guarantee For Lockheed

By H.L. SCHWARTZ III Associated Press Writer WASHINGTON (AP) - The proposal to grant $250 million in federal loan guarantees to the tottering Lockheed Aircraft Corp. "is bad economics, bad public policy and bad news for the American taxpayer," says Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis.

Proxmire, one of the most powerful foes of government spending policies, commented in advance of introduction today of an administration bill providing the guarantees. He challenged the White House to produce a "single reputable economist in support of the proposed bail-out."

"The argument that it is necessary to bail out Lockheed in order to prevent widespread unemployment and general economic collapse has no merit," the senator added in a prepared statement.

"A Lockheed bankruptcy would not mean the loss of thousands of jobs," Proxmire said. "Most of their work especially their defense contracts, would go on."

"What it means is a change in management which is long overdue."

The administration bill, which the Senate Banking Committee is expected to start considering next week, contains some tight restrictions on how the $250 million can be spent but says nothing about management.

Sen. Alan Cranston, D-Calif., told a news conference Wednesday he would introduce an amendment requiring Lockheed's 14 directors, five of them executives of the company, to step down.

Without such a provision, said Cranston, it will be an uphill fight to get Congress to approve help for the California-based company which says 25,000 people will be out of work if it goes bankrupt.

Runoff Election In Farmville Tuesday

FARMVILLE - A runoff for a single commissioner's seat will be held here next Tuesday. Incumbent Commissioner W. C. "Lum" Wooten announced this week that he will challenge Leroy Redden for the position. Redden, who ran third in the commissioners' race of the municipal elections held here Tuesday, May 4, polled 542 votes and fourth-runner, Wooten, received 394.

According to the Farmville charter, anyone who does not receive a clear majority vote for any office may be challenged to a runoff by the next highest contender. Redden, who will be assistant principal of Farmville Central High School due to open here next fall, if elected, would be the first black man to serve on the Farmville Board. Wooten, a local oil dealer, has been on the Board for some 14 years.

Redden was challenged in 1969 for a seat to which he was elected, but not with a clear majority. Commissioner "Hap" Nichola challenged him and won the runoff election at that time.

In the May 4 election, J. I. Morgan Jr. and W. R. Duke ran first and second, each elected with more than half of the 1,215 votes cast. Will Joyner was re-elected mayor.

JUTE WEBBING HANDBAG . . . is embroidered by Mrs. Nana Gibbs, seated, as Mrs. Hattie Streeter looks on.

Area women are still taking an active interest in crafts and gift ideas taught by the Greenville Recreation Department.

"More crafts were taught this year than ever before. A total of 20 various crafts were open to the public," said Mrs. Linda Burrell, program supervisor, Recreation Department.

The most popular and ones highly attended were: copper tooling; silk screening; decoupage; pine cone wreaths; Swis straw; egg shell crafts; draped figures; and other Christmas decorations.

The above classes had over 30 women registered — pine cone wreaths attracted 65 and decoupage had 54 participants.

"Attendance from September to December of last year was so high, we decided to expand crafts to twice weekly. In this way, we hoped to proceed from one craft to the next more rapidly. Quite often, we have two or more crafts offered at the same time.

"September through December is always our busiest time of the year. We usually begin with a craft which people enjoy making for Christmas gifts — then before I know it Christmas is just around the corner and we move on to seasonal crafts," she added.

Crafts Carousel

The month of September will be a crowded month for Mrs. Burrell. The annual Crafts Carousel is tentatively set for Sept. 14 of Sept. 21 and the following week is the annual State Recreation Convention.

"Since September will be so busy, I don't see how we can resume classes until October. Due to popular demand, we will offer decoupage early to enable hobbyists to get a head start on Christmas gift-making.

"Between October and December we will offer classes in silk screened Christmas card making, burlap flowers, draped figures, candles and pine cone wreaths. Sprinkled in here and there will be easy crafts which will make nice inexpensive Christmas gifts," she continued.

The final classes this spring are being devoted to Mod Podge, jute webbing handbags and resin craft projects. The resin crafts were completed this week.

Mod Podge is described by Mrs. Burrell as being a very inexpensive way to create pictures with an oil painted look. Mod Podge is a one-to-one mixture of white glue and glaze and is used to seal the wood, adhere the print and coat the surface of the picture. All three steps are done with the same mixture.

"It is possible to take your favorite Old Masters' or contemporary art prints, mount them and change them around whenever the urge strikes. By using prints of standard frame sizes, one can use the same frame over and over," Mrs. Burrell explained.

Jute Webbing Handbags
"Jute webbing handbags

were sold in many department stores last year. The directions are simple and the cost very low to design and make your own. We have directions for three sizes, however, much smaller or children's purses are equally simple to make.

"The creativeness is in designing and embroidering the various stripes of webbing. Most of the department store bags are created in knitting worsted, however, some of our women have decided to use Swis Straw and it looks terrific," she said.

Resin is a clear polyester product in liquid form. When a catalyst is added, the liquid becomes a solid during a curing period. Dyes, glitter, crushed rock and other embedments may be added for interesting effects.

Many types of resins exist as well as various molds made of ceramic, glass, polyethylene, polypropylene and latex. "Many of our items are made from polyethylene molds. These may be in one pour or in several color pours known as multiple color pours. Sometimes we must partition off or isolate part of a mold with masking tape, removing the tape after the resin has reached the gel stage. Other molds such as for the grape clusters and fruit compotes are poured into glass forms, then broken off after dried to a 'click' stage," she continued.

Some of the items which can be made from resin include mushrooms, mini grape clusters, zingy flowers, and embedded paper weights.

Engagement Announced

MISS SUSAN ELIZABETH TAYLOR . . . is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn E. Taylor of Greensboro, who announce her engagement to Jack McRae Collins Jr. of Ayden, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Jack M. Collins Sr. The wedding will take place June 19.

Trade, Education Show Set For Cosmetologists

WINSTON-SALEM — Over 2,000 hairdressers from five states will meet here May 15-17 as the National Hairdressers and Cosmetologists Association of North Carolina opens its biggest event ever.

Show director Ben Templeton of Raleigh predicts the turnout will make the 22nd annual Trade and Education Show at Convention Center the largest non-dealer sponsored affair ever held in Tar Heelia. Thirteen world famous guest artists, plus manufacturers and dealers have joined with the sponsoring group in promoting the "Big One in '71".

AAUW Meeting Set For Monday

The Greenville Branch of the American Association of University Women will conclude its study "The Human Use of Urban Space" on Monday night.

Robert N. Anderson Jr., representing City Planning and Architectural Associates, Chapel Hill, will give a lecture-film series to demonstrate statewide studies which relate to urbanization in North Carolina.

Anderson is employed as local city planner and his discussion will center around the Greenville Redevelopment projects.

The meeting will be held in Erwin Hall at 8 p.m. and is open to any Greenville citizen. The League of Women voters and the Greenville Woman's Club will have representatives attending the discussion.

The American Association of University Women is making a nationwide effort to make cities safer, more liveable places to dwell. The National Alliance on Shaping Safer Cities, an organization dedicated to involving citizens in determining how the cities are to be policed and how justice is to be dealt with in humane, constructive ways, is now working jointly with AAUW members to help solve problems which relate to urbanization.

Coffee Hour Honors Members

The Carpe Diem Book Club held a coffee on Tuesday morning to honor members of the Round Table Book Club and other guests.

The event was held at the home of Mrs. Joe Goodson. The Round Table sponsored the Carpe Diem Club when it was originated in April, 1962.

The dining room table was centered with an epergne filled with white spring flowers forming a May pole. The house was decorated throughout with spring flowers.

Receiving guests were Mrs. H. E. Lowry, president of the Carpe Diem Club, and Mrs. Goodson.

Mrs. Cleet Cleetwood and Mrs. George Fuller poured the coffee and tea.

Good-byes were said to Mrs. Robert Dominick, overall chairman.

Marriage Announced

Mrs. Vida S. Crawford of Greenville announces the marriage of her daughter, Anne E. Bland, to Roy R. Smith of Greenville, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Smith, on May 1 in the First Christian Church, Greenville.

Take A Gander At This Goose

By Abigail Van Buren

(© 1971 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd., Inc.)

DEAR ABBY:

Your answer to "L" Was funny and quaint. An authority on GEESE You certainly ain't!

For a GOOSE was a "him" You seemed to infer, And the GANDER you spoke of Like "he" was a "her."

At your mix-up in genders I was amused, But some of your readers Were, no doubt, confused.

—MUNCIE, IND. FAN

DEAR MUNCIE FAN:

For an Iowa lass I feel like a cluck For I've often mistaken

A DRAKE for a DUCK. In the realm of the barnyard I'm loathe to meander. It's plain, I don't know My GOOSE from my GANDER!

(Edgar Allan Poe)

DEAR ABBY: My story is as old as the hills. I am a fairly attractive woman and the mother of three children. I became bored with the housekeeping routine and decided to get a job. That is when my troubles began.

I met a man at work. [I'll call him "Charley."] We were very much attracted to each other. I enjoyed having something to get dressed up for every day, and this new excitement did a lot for my ego. My car was laid up for about a week, and Charley offered to drive me home. One thing led to another, and we started meeting secretly. I got hooked on him, and told my husband I wanted a divorce so I could marry Charley. It broke my husband's heart, but he said he wouldn't stand in my way if that's what I wanted.

Abby, I was so wrapped up in Charley, I couldn't see the people I was hurting. My husband moved out and I could see as much of Charley as I wanted to. After a few months I realized how foolish I had been. I began missing my husband and Charley suddenly looked less attractive to me.

Now I am so ashamed of myself I could die. I realize it's my husband I really love, but what can I do now? I don't deserve a second chance, but do you think my husband would take me back?

—ASHAMED

DEAR ASHAMED: You'll never know until you ask him.

DEAR ABBY: I was nominated for an office in a club [don't mention the office or the club, please] and I really wanted this office. When the results of the election were announced, I lost by ONE vote. I was really heartsick because [as you have probably guessed] I voted for my opponent, who voted for himself!

Was it stupid of me to have voted for my opponent? I felt it would have been egotistical to have voted for myself. Two of my friends said they thought I did the right thing in voting for my opponent. Another friend said he thought it was stupid. What do you think? Sock it to me, Abby.

—LOST

DEAR LOST: You should have voted for the person who in your opinion would have made the best officer. If you didn't, then you were stupid [or perhaps impracticably humble].

Musical Program Given At Meet

A musical program highlighted the meeting of the Fine Arts Department of the Woman's Club held Tuesday afternoon.

Miss Sylvia Whitesell, winner of the Woman's Club Scholarship, sang several Italian and American songs. She is a member of the Women's Glee Club at ECU. Miss Whitesell, a freshman, is majoring in voice performance and minoring in organ.

She was accompanied by Miss Carole Miller.

Mrs. Verna Dare Avery presided at the meeting in the absence of the chairman, Mrs. George Snyder. Miss Agnes Fullilove presented the devotional.

The art selection on display for the month was entitled "Pot and Pottery" by Joe Kernens, a seventh grader at Aycock Junior High school.

Hostesses were Mrs. J. C. Galloway, Mrs. D. M. Clark, Mrs. Sylvester Green, Mrs. Frank Pollard and Mrs. W. A. Pollard.

Momentous Changes Proposed

A study committee on reorganization of higher education announced its conclusions Saturday and they would make momentous changes in the administration of our universities.

The committee, headed by Lindsay C. Warren, Jr. of Goldsboro, has recommended an entirely new plan for governing state-supported higher education. It would have the effect of deconsolidating the Greater University of North Carolina and it would replace the Board of Higher Education with a new coordinating agency.

Under the plan each of the 16 state institutions of higher learning would have its own board of trustees to govern its internal affairs.

No 'Youthquake' Seen In Voting

By BRYAN HANSLIP
RALEIGH — Will lowering the voting age to 18 bring a '72 youthquake in Tar Heel politics?

Not likely, say three politicians of youthful image.

"It's no bombshell," said Rep. Jack Rhyme of Gaston. "Young people are no more radical in their thinking than anyone else."

A youth bloc vote will not result, predicted Sen. Phil Kirk of Rowan. "They will choose candidates just as older voters do, on the basis of issues and preference," he said.

Experience in other states indicates no drastic departure in voting patterns will follow addition of the 18-21 age group to the state's electorate, said Rep. Jim Beatty of Mecklenburg.

The enfranchisement may well serve to intensify the rural precincts as well as in the city of Charlotte.

What it points up, Beatty suggested, is the political reality that it takes all ages to make a campaign go: the energy of youth, the financial support of those in middle years, the time and experience of senior citizens.

Peer Rivalry Factor

That young voters do not automatically back young candidates was confirmed by Sen. Kirk, at 26 the junior member of the 71 legislature. Peer rivalry sometimes stands in the way, he indicated.

"I had the impression more people over 30 voted for me," he said. "I think young voters tend to vote of candidates their own age: 'Why couldn't I do just as well as he?'"

He did find, Kirk added, that the 18-21 age group provided able and enthusiastic campaign assistance even though they could not vote. Their addition to the electorate may well relieve traditional lethargy, he said.

The truth of the matter, remarked Rhyme, is no magic age line denotes maturity.

"My father told me about so many things that I'd have to wait until I was 21," he said. "I thought a shower of knowledge would cover me on my 21st birthday. I found out I didn't have a bit more sense than I did at 18."

Rhyme was elected mayor of Belmont, his hometown, at 26. That made him the youngest elected mayor in the U.S.

Both Parties Competitive Democrats and Republicans will bid vigorously for the 18-21 vote, but neither party will have an inside track on the basis of name only.

Kirk, a Republican, said he understood that registration in Rowan County had shown no significant preponderance in party preference, but indicated a larger proportion of independent voters.

The best indications are that the new group of voters in registration profile will closely approximate the total population, Beatty said. "There is no reason to expect any marked change as far as party registration is concerned," he said.

What the younger voters will demand, Beatty continued, is sincerity from candidates regardless of party. "I don't believe they will take lightly any statement offered by any candidate," he said.

If that's the case, he continued, the politics of youth to best will be a new emphasis on issues, a trend to specific programs spelled out with clarity and detail.

That this report came hard for the committee is indicated by the fact that it was adopted by a 13 to 8 vote. A minority report recommending that the Consolidated University be retained is expected to be issued.

The committee's report is a long way from being adopted by the General Assembly and it will certainly face stiff opposition from many quarters in the state. Already President William C. Friday of the Consolidated University has voiced his opposition to the plan and other officials of institutions which might be affected are raising questions about it.

We doubt if any of the various institutions of higher learning across the state is going to be wildly enthusiastic about what has been proposed. On the other hand if there is going to be a reorganization of the administration what has been proposed by this committee may be the most equitable way to do it.

It is probably too early to pass judgment on the work of the Warren committee. It has, however, come up with a proposal after many months of difficult work. Now the public debate and eventually the debate in the General Assembly will get underway. It is going to be interesting to see what the final result will be.

Fitting Recognition For M.E. Harrington

Milton E. Harrington, one of Pitt's native sons who had distinguished himself in the business world, was honored last weekend when the ECU baseball field was named for him.

Lighting for night ball and a wall have been erected behind the present stands. Eventually new seats, press box, a roof and a new scoreboard are planned.

Surrounded by pine trees the field already was developing into a singular facility and now it has been improved.

It is fitting that the stadium has been named for a native who showed so much interest in baseball while he resided here.

Seek Unity On Mecklenburg

By JOHN KILGO
RALEIGH — The Mecklenburg delegation to the General Assembly is trying to get itself together and start a unified push to obtain a local option liquor-by-the-drink bill for Charlotte.

The ten-member delegation from the state's largest county is having its troubles along these lines.

The Mecklenburgers have met privately in recent days, trying to agree on what kind of bill to introduce. Two members of the delegation want a "pure" liquor-by-the-drink bill, which would outlaw brown-bagging in Charlotte-Mecklenburg. Other members of the delegation don't think this bill would have a chance of passing the General Assembly.

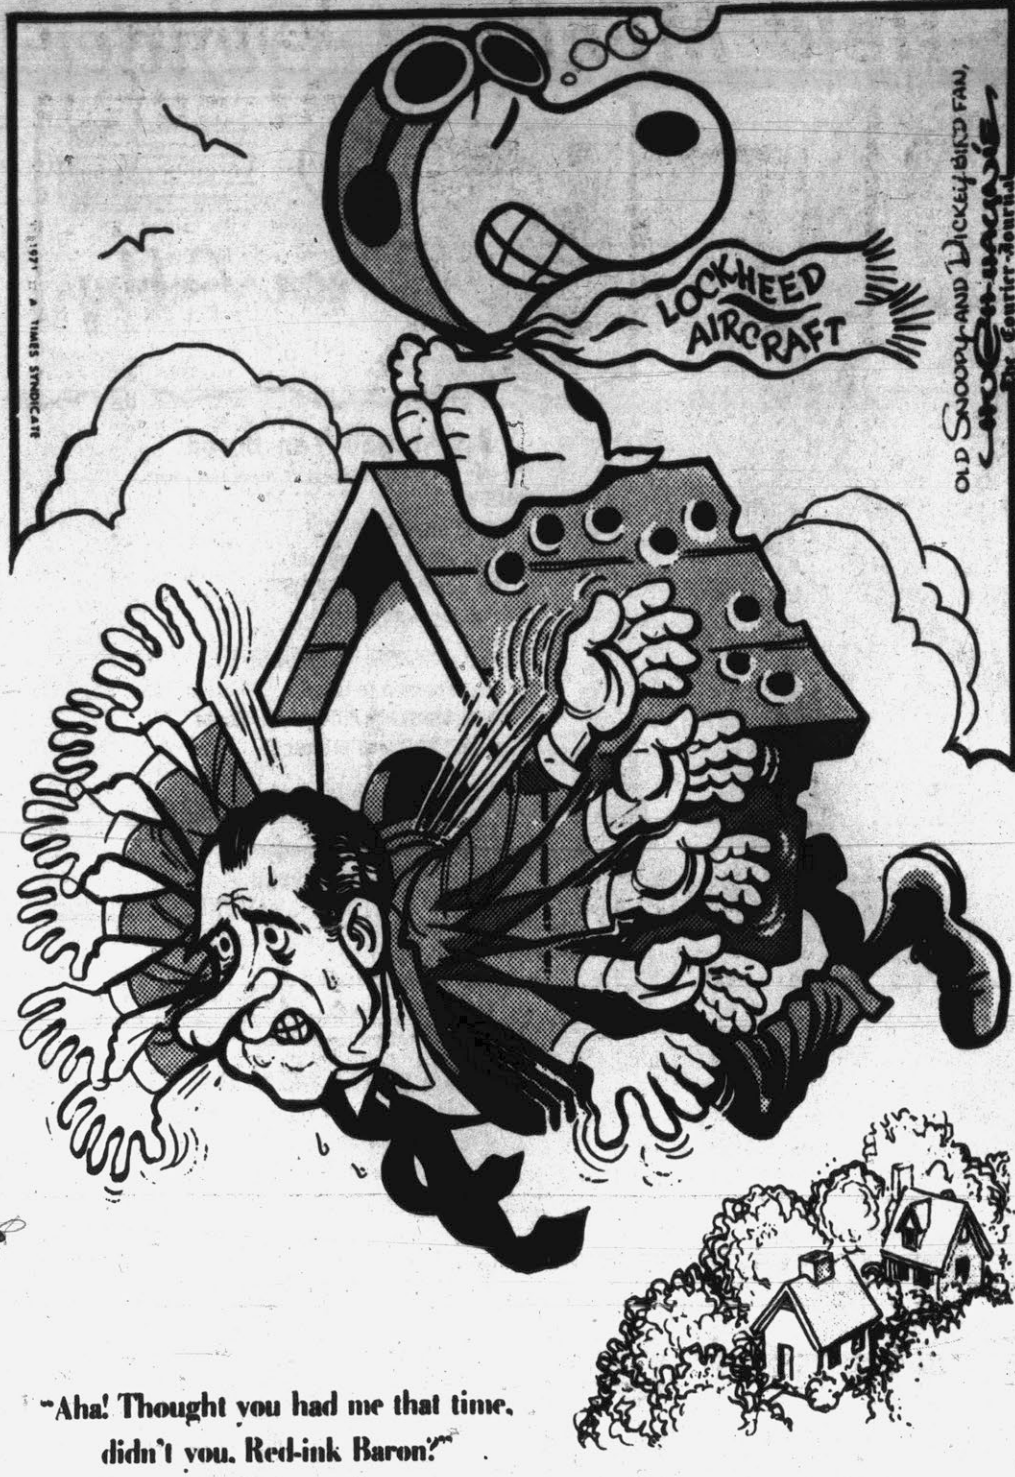

The General Assembly has given Moore County the right to vote on liquor-by-the-drink — but that bill passed the House by only one vote. It gained that narrow victory only after Rep. J. F. Mohn of Onslow changed his mind and decided to vote in favor of the legislation.

Mohn says he will vote for a local option liquor bill for Charlotte-Mecklenburg, but there are provisions.

"I must be convinced," Mohn said, "that the Mecklenburg delegation is fully united behind this bill. And I mean it must be fully supported by the Mecklenburg delegation. I couldn't support a bill that didn't have the full support of the delegation proposing it."

Mohn said he would also want to know that the Mecklenburg County Commission, the Charlotte City Council, and civic clubs support such a bill.

By JAMES KILPATRICK Clear Case Of Rebellion

WASHINGTON — For the time being, at least, the Mayday mob has departed, but weep-easies and bleeding hearts still are bleating about the terrible, terrible wrongs imposed by the law upon innocent children, and the subject is not yet exhausted.

We are all of us in bondage to the tongue we speak, prisoners of language and its limitations; and that is one of the problems here. We have no word that precisely fits the events in Washington ten days ago. It is useless to speak of this ugly affair as a "demonstration" or as an "anti-war protest." By the same token, truth is not served by describing the participants merely as demonstrators or protestors. Certain pejoratives are useful for letting off steam: bums, hoodlums, trashers, crazies, weirdos, freaks. None of them hits the mark exactly. Nor is much gained by nouns of political classification. Some of the prime movers of Mayday were Trotskyites, Radical Socialists, and Communists professing Maoist precepts. The followers of Rennie Davis came to Washington looking for trouble; and they found it, but they were more than mere "troublemakers." Eric Sevareid thought in terms of mischief — Halloween, he said, raised to the tenth power — but the vandalism of Halloween is pointless. The vandalism of May 3-4 was not pointless.

This was, I think, a case of rebellion: "Open defiance of or resistance to an established government." Surely this was the repeated and insistent view of Mr. Davis, who served as, acknowledged leader of the mob. If the definition accurately applies, it then becomes absurd to bemoan the temporary denial of certain civil liberties. Rebels, in the act of rebellion, cannot plausibly claim protection from the very government, they are seeking to paralyze.

Other Editors Say Enhance Humanities

(Christian Science Monitor)

In the federal government's growing efforts to "enhance the quality of American life," the headlines tend to go to the arts. It's a short word with glamorous connotations, and it certainly deserves its recent status as an OK work in Washington circles.

But "arts" doesn't tell the whole story, though sometimes it is stretched to embrace the humanities, the other half of the government effort represented by the National Foundation on the Arts and the Humanities. In the next few weeks — if Congress appropriates what it has authorized and President Nixon has asked for — the humanities will receive $30 million for the coming fiscal year. This is the same amount allocated to the arts, a doubling of last year's budget.

A government's right to self-preservation is inherent in the nature of government itself. The right may be exercised poorly, and a government may fall, but the right itself is fundamental. It is made explicit in our Constitution. Among the powers expressly vested in Congress is the power "to suppress insurrections." The great writ — the writ of habeas corpus — may be suspended "when in cases of rebellion the public safety may require it."

What is the country getting for its humanities money? Not only support of individuals and institutions in expanding and deepening humane learning — but a range of enrichments from Lord Clark's celebrated "Civilisation" series to the National Humanities Series of traveling experts bringing discussion of the wisdom of the ages to small communities you've never heard of. A new effort to encourage diverse public education programs administered by the states is well under way.

The largest single increase in proposed expenditures would be for programs to "bring the humanities closer to the average citizen," said Wallace B. Edgerton, acting chairman of the National Endowment for the Humanities, at a press briefing earlier this year. Later, before a Senate appropriations subcommittee, he invoked Jefferson's hope that Americans' "wisdom will grow with our power" — and Jefferson's typically practical further observation: "It is safer to have a whole people respectfully enlightened, than a few in a high state of science and the many in ignorance."

Viewed as a case of rebellion, the Mayday affair was not serious; it ranked as a bad spring cold on the scale of pneumonia. The cost to the taxpayers, which has yet to be reckoned finally, was substantial; damage to private property, all things considered, was not massive.

If this had been no more than a demonstration, whose purpose was to protest the war, the inconvenience imposed upon the public would have counted as incidental. This was not the case. Here the purpose was to impose inconvenience, and the purported protest was

To all of which we say amen.

Words That Wound

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Remarks that a girl campaigner for women's liberation gets tired of hearing:

"Wait until the right guy comes along. You'll be glad enough to be his willing slave."

"What good would it do to give you women everything you want? As soon as you got it you'd want something else."

"I suppose this nonsense has at least one virtue—it keeps you from getting involved in something worse."

"I know we should be totally independent of men, Myrtle, but could you get your boy friend to nail together some placards for our next demonstration? I never was any good with a hammer."

"As your mother, Myrtle, I think it's high time I pointed out to you that you should get out of that silly movement and get into a sensible institution. The institution is called marriage."

"Tell me again what are those freedoms we're fighting for? Whenever my fiance kisses me, I forget all about being oppressed."

"Even if we do win our campaign, men will still take off their hats when we step into an elevator, won't they? I hate it when they don't."

"As your employer, Myrtle, I have to admit that some of the men in this office are doing the same kind of work as you do are being paid more than you are. But aren't you willing to admit that while they are actually doing the work, you are pending at least half your time standing on a soapbox?"

"I'll believe women are sincere in wanting equal rights the day I take one of them to lunch and she grabs the tab before I can pick it up."

"Don't think of me as a traitor to our sex, Myrtle. But look at it this way—why should I join your movement when I am getting by pretty well with a movement ally my own?"

W. Hill Horne, who for years has been prominently identified with Masonry in this city, will preside over the fifty-first convocation of Knights Templar which convenes in Asheville today. Mr. Horne, accompanied by J. N. Hart and Wiley Brown, left for Asheville yesterday.

Another Greenvillean has been honored by a state organization. This time it is J. B. Kittrell, a young business man, who at the recent convention of the Traveling Men's Protective Association, was elevated to the office of president.

The third of a series of evangelistic services conducted in this city during the spring and summer seasons will open at the Presbyterian Church next Sunday. The services will be conducted by Dr. Ben R. Lacy, of Richmond, Virginia.

Greenville lost a close pitcher's battle to Kinston today by the score of 4 to 2.

Mrs. J. F. Harrington, Mrs. Grover Whitehurst and Mrs. W. S. Stafford returned from Lynchburg Virginia today.

Strength For Today

CRITICISM

One of the least relished and most necessary factors in life is criticism. We don't like it. "I told you over and over again how I feel about this matter." "You think I should look into my own mind and motives a bit, do you?" "You're always finding fault with something." "Well, what does it matter one way or the other. Get going. I got work to do."

Yet, as a matter of fact, criticism is one of the outstanding and creative forces with which every one of us has to deal.

When we were youngsters we knew everything and our parents knew nothing. Today we hardly ever take a viewpoint such as this, but we do think that our ideas are pretty sound or we would not harbor them.

Life is a proving-ground. If we don't take ourselves apart pretty consistently all

Weak Indicator For Economy

By ELMER ROESSNER

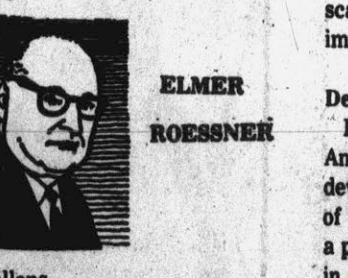

The sharp upturn of consumer credit in March is being hailed as evidence that Joe and Maizie Doakes have started spending again, confirming President Nixon's hope and forecast that the economy would pick up.

Instalment credit rose $495 million above February on an adjusted basis, although it was $76 million down in actual dollars. It was $2,506 million above March, 1970.

COMMENT: However, of the increase, $201 million, on an adjusted basis, was automotive credit, suggesting that part of the increase was merely a catch-up from the effects of the General Motors strike.

Charge accounts, including credit card purchases, rose only $40 million. While any increase is cheering, that's a very modest rise.

reports that in 1969, the latest year for which figures are available, the United States imported 87.4 million wine gallons of distilled spirits and exported only 4.3 million gallons.

The value of the imported was $502.7 million and exports brought in only $13 million. Most imports were from Britain and Canada.

Thus the liquor imports were responsible for almost half a billion dollars of the dollar drain, which can become a gold drain.

COMMENT: With the weakness of the American dollar abroad and foreign holders of U.S. dollars rushing to convert them into marks, francs, pounds and even yen, the American distilling industry should find Congress receptive to proposals to increase tariffs on imported spirits, perhaps scaled to foreign nations' import of U.S. booze.

Device To End Hijacking

Dynamics Corp. of America has demonstrated a device to thwart the hijacking of trucks, which has become a popular and lucrative sport in many cities. A dispatcher programs the route to be taken by the truck and if it deviates from the programmed route, the engine is automatically disabled.

COMMENT: This offers hope that the device can be adapted for airplanes. It would need a different control system because stopping a plane engine in flight would not be healthy. But it could be altered so that a plane programmed for New York could not be changed to fly to Cuba by the pilot.

Toyota Motor Co. has agreed not to expand its investments in Taiwan or South Korea in exchange for permission to do business in Red China. This is the largest of 800 Japanese firms that have made similar deals.

Premier Chou En-lai has declared that no Japanese firms can do business in Red China if it invests in South Korea or Taiwan, if it gives technical assistance to those countries; supply arms to the anti-communist side in the Indochina war; affiliates with American companies. American companies.

COMMENT: These conditions would appear to block American trade with China, unless the U.S. becomes willing to cut trade with Japan.

It could also lead to boycotts of Toyota cars in the U.S.

(Continued from page 4) incidental. Society can tolerate some "disruption" as part of the price we pay for free speech; but deliberate disruption, intended to "stop the government," is something else entirely.

It is regrettable — no more — that a few presumably innocent bystanders were detained for a while without due process of law. In high seas, it is hard to guarantee all passengers dry socks. In any event, the "denial of civil liberties" that has provoked such copious tears boils down to this: Those detained were subjected for a couple of days to hard beds, cramped quarters, inadequate medical care, primitive toilet facilities, and cold sandwiches. These are the same hardships endured by Boy Scouts on a weekend hike. It is puerile to suggest that the deprivations were in any way serious.

What of the future? The rebels' leader, Mr. Davis, promises a repeat performance; and perforce we must believe him. There is some profit to be drawn from the recent experience. Before the next rebellious foray, at least a hundred additional judges should be commissioned for emergency duty in makeshift courtrooms. Plans must be perfected for better processing of prisoners by the thousands.

Above all, we should rid our minds of the notion that Mayday was the work of over-zealous idealists. This inchoate rebellion was rather the work of leaders at once mature, fanatic, and wholly ruthless in their contempt for the rights of others. They must be treated as such.

Sen. Eddie Knox is chairman of a Mecklenburg delegation sub-committee which is trying to agree on what type of bill to introduce.

His job is to draw a bill that would pass the General Assembly, then be approved by Charlotte-Mecklenburg voters, and then stand the test of a court case.

Chances of the Mecklenburg bill passing the Senate seem good. The battle will be fought in the House — and it'll likely be quite a battle.

East Carolina University President and Mrs. Leo W. Jenkins entertained guests in Greenville for the dedication of the Milton Harrington baseball field at a buffet dinner on Sunday evening.

Yellow daisies and snapdragons accented the dining room table from which some 85 guests were served. An arrangement of red carnations and white snapdragons enhanced the living room.

Cite False Demo Claim

RALEIGH (AP) — The Republican leadership in the 1971 General Assembly issued countercharges Wednesday to Democratic charges that the GOP had been irresponsible in introducing legislation that would trim state revenues by $150 million.

"Of all the tax reductions in the general fund, only $4 million have been sponsored solely by Republicans," said Sen. Harry Bagnal, R-Forsyth, Rep. Charles Taylor, R-Transylvania, and Rep. James Holshouser, R-Watauga.

The Democratic leadership had issued the charges following a party caucus Monday night.

The Republicans said the Democrats were guilty of "gross irresponsibility and intellectual dishonesty" in issuing the charges.

"The Democrats were intellectually dishonest by failing to point out that Democrats sponsored or co-sponsored tax reduction bills that reduce state revenues by nearly $103 million and local revenues by over $6 million," the three said.

Injured Hitting A Parked Car

Marie Martha Tripp, 17, of 413 Line Ave. was reported injured when the vehicle she was driving collided with a parked car about 11:40 p.m. yesterday on Watauga Avenue, 200 feet North of the Halifax Street intersection, police reported.

Officers said the Tripp vehicle collided with a car owned by Max Gray Honeycutt of Route 4, Salisbury causing an estimated $1,800 damage to her car and about $600 damage to the Honeycutt vehicle.

Miss Tripp was charged with exceeding a safe speed.

By FRED S. HOFFMAN AP Military Writer WASHINGTON (AP) — The North Vietnamese are expanding a vital gasoline pipeline feeding their supply of truck traffic through Laos, military sources report.

The Communists are said to be building a new pipeline leg from the port city of Quang Khe toward the Bankarai Pass opening into the Ho Chi Minh Trail complex.

U.S. officials say the new section, paralleling Route 137, will give the North Vietnamese a third main outlet for pumping truck fuel south. The other two go through the Mu Gia Pass and across the Laotian border northwest of the demilitarized zone.

So far, sources say, the new leg extends only about seven

Award $986 As Compensation For Death Row

RALEIGH (AP) — William Mason Wellmon will receive $986.40 from the state in full payment for the loss he experienced in being sentenced in 1942 to die for a rape he never committed.

The money was awarded to Wellmon by the governor and Council of State Wednesday on recommendation of the State Board of Paroles which recently held a hearing in the case.

Wellmon was sentenced to death in Iredell County when a woman identified him as the man who raped her.

After he was placed on death row, an investigation showed that Wellmon signed a payroll receipt in Washington only an hour before the woman was raped in Iredell County.

miles south of Quang Khe, one of the key coastal points where small tankers tie directly into the pipeline and storage tanks ashore.

The segment is expected to be finished in time for the next big Communist supply push in the fall.

The pipeline expansion is one of a number of signs North Vietnam is making strong efforts to keep open, and improve, its remaining supply channel to Communist forces in South Vietnam and Cambodia.

U.S. intelligence estimates as many as 70,000 North Vietnamese troops are staying in the Laotian panhandle during the rainy season, now setting in.

This is an increase of about 15,000 over last rainy season, the first in which the North Vietnamese kept a major logistics force in the panhandle to repair the roads.

Sources said a considerable part of the manpower increase includes weapons crews manning strengthened anti-aircraft defenses along the road network.

U.S. authorities said South Vietnamese troops severed the pipeline at various places during the six-week invasion against the Ho Chi Minh trail last February and March.

The pipe is designed for easy and quick repair. Each 19-foot section, if ruptured, can be disconnected and replaced in a few minutes, U.S. experts say.

The four-inch-diameter pipe, though mostly above ground, is a tough target for U.S. bombers.

The North Vietnamese apparently realize permanent pumping stations would make the line vulnerable to air attacks. So they use portable, truck-mounted pumps. The system is believed capable of carrying up to 350,000 gallons a day, but American military authorities doubt it is operated at full capacity.

In effect, the North Vietnamese operate gas stations all along the Ho Chi Minh trail where they tap into the pipeline to refuel their trucks. At the low end of the line, 55-gallon drums are filled with gasoline for trucking still further southward.

Salvation Army Week Given Extra Emphasis

Normal activities underway at the local Salvation Army headquarters are receiving special emphasis this week during the annual observance of National Salvation Army Week.

Local commanding officer, Capt. Al Smith said that the national observance began on Monday and continues through Sunday and he noted that Greenville unit personnel have a full week's activities planned and underway.

"This week we are trying to inform our own people as to what the Army is doing, both locally and worldwide," Capt. Smith said in explaining their part in the observance.

Each week, over 20 activities are scheduled through the headquarters, located on the Farmville Highway, the captain said. These activities and services range from Sunday morning worship to Saturday morning sporting events.

Sunday services begin with Sunday School and are followed by the regular weekly holiness service. In the afternoon, outdoor services are held and the songsters have their session. Prayer and salvation meetings are conducted Sunday afternoon and Sunday night. In addition, Capt. Smith added that a Junior Soldiers Service is held for the younger members at 11 a.m.

Monday's activities include Men's Club functions which offer fellowship and discussion on a variety of subjects. While most of those who participate are Salvation Army church members, the sessions are open to anyone in the community, Capt. Smith said.

Youth day is held each

Tuesday and various groups representing a range of ages participate in the scheduled events. Among them are the Cub Scouts, Sunbeams, Girl Guards, Junior Singing Company, and Young Peoples Legion. The schedule usually begins around 4:30 and are over by 9 p.m., it was noted.

On Wednesday, a Corps Cadet lesson, part of a five-year Bible study program for young people is held. Youth taking part in the study begin the program in the seventh grade, Capt. Smith noted, and most usually finish when they are in the 12th grade. In addition, League of Mercy activities, including hospital and rest home visits, are set for Wednesday.

The Ladies' Home League meets on Thursday for women of the community who are interested in homemaking activities. Currently, there are about 52 women on roll, the commanding officer pointed out.

Sports activities highlight Friday's schedule. Two age groups, nine through 13 and 13-25, participate on separate levels. Basketball dominated recently but a full softball schedule is planned for the summer.

Saturday morning is also scheduled for sports, Capt. Smith said, and the afternoon hours are set aside for visitations.

Capt. Smith explained that the Army was founded in 1865 as a volunteer organization and later given the name of Salvation Army.

The Army had officers and soldiers in 36 countries by 1900. Today, it served in 70 countries, preaches in 150 languages and maintains 19,449 religious-charitable centers and 28 schools for officers training.

Among the Army service units, corps or outposts are dispensaries and clinics, general and maternity hospitals for unmarried mothers, children's homes and foster care services, settlements and day nurseries, emergency lodges and skid row centers, homes for senior citizens, boys clubs, servicemen's clubs and various others.

"I think it is one of the finest movements around," the captain asserted. "We stress spirituality; in fact, I feel you cannot separate spiritual programs from the welfare programs. They must go hand-in-hand."

The Army is part of an international religious and charitable movement, it was pointed out. Services and fellowship of the organization are available to everyone, Capt. Smith noted, and visits by everyone are welcome.

Pupils Shove Les. Maddox

ATHENS, Ga. (AP) — Lt. Gov. Lester Maddox was pushed and shoved by black pupils at Clarke Central High School Wednesday when he refused to sign a book they presented to him.

Maddox was quickly escorted from the school's auditorium by state troopers and Principal Don Hight after the incident.

Maddox was at the school for a speech. He drew scattered applause from white pupils but got the black power linched-fist salute from blacks.

The incident occurred after Maddox spoke. Black pupils crowded around him and asked him to sign a copy of the book, "Soul on Ice," by Eldridge Cleaver. Maddox refused, throwing the book on the floor, and some of the youngsters pushed him.

After the incident Maddox had this comment: "I think you'll find around a lot of the high schools some of these books by these anarchists that are downgrading this country, preach a lot of problems breed a lot of problems and create a lot of problems."

"It's regrettable we find a lot of books on Marxism by Eldridge Cleaver and people like that which are harmful to the education process," he said, adding, "When they handed me this book, I just couldn't sign it."

JONES' FOR WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Walter Jones, D-N.C., was among those members of the House who voted 201 to 197 Wednesday to resume financing of the supersonic transport.

ECU Symphony Spring Concert Slated Sunday

SCORE TIME . . . Mezzo-soprano Wright Auditorium. The two ECU Donna Stephenson, left and soprano Linda Green, right, study one of the scores to be used in Sunday's ECU Symphony Orchestra spring concert at

The traditional spring East Carolina University Symphony Orchestra concert is slated this year for Sunday afternoon at 3:15 p.m. in Wright Auditorium on campus.

Robert Hause conducts the orchestra in three shorter and one major work. Featured performers this year are two student singers, soprano Linda Green and mezzo-soprano Donna Stephenson.

Miss Green, a graduate student and teacher fellow in the School of Music, is a native of Ogden, Illinois. She terms Illinois as "mid-west" and notes she will be going there to spend the summer. After one more year at ECU, Miss Greene feels she will "probably teach music in the midwest." This is her first appearance with the ECU Symphony Orchestra. Earlier this week, she was soloist with the Men's Glee Club in their Thursday night concert.

Miss Stephenson, a native of the town of Benson, is excited about being selected to travel to Italy this summer with the North Carolina School of the Arts in Winston-Salem as a soloist in their summer program at Siena. She noted she is not certain of the places she

Says Technology Can Solve Issue

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — The man slated to pilot the last Apollo flight to the moon says the solution to earth's pollution problems can be found in the same technology that carried man into space.

"These isolated abuses of our environment can be solved through technology," Navy Cmdr. Ronald Evans told a convention of instrument manufacturers.

Evans is training to pilot Apollo 17 to the moon in December 1972.

be in voice, instrument or composition. "This year it simply happened both were singers," Hause commented. Miss Green, in her appearance with the orchestra on Sunday, will sing Mozart's "Bella mia Fiamma, K. 528." Miss Stephenson will sing four selections from Gustav Mahler's "Lieder eines fahrenden Gesellen." The opening work by the orchestra will be another Mozart composition, "Et Incarnatus Est," from the Grand Mass in C. Minor. The final work, and the major one on the concert program, is Tchaikovsky's "Symphony No. 6 in B Minor," the Pathétique symphony, in four movements. The 66 piece symphony orchestra is composed of student and faculty members, who will be performing on nearly 20 different musical instruments. The public, including children, is invited to attend the Sunday afternoon concert, for which no charge is made for admission.

CATERWAULING KITTY — Rusty, the Dow T. Johnson family cat (of Alston, Ill.) will sing on command, but only under certain conditions. As Johnson's daughter, Peggy, explains: "Dad just says sing a song, and he sings it. But he won't sing unless I'm holding him." Peggy says Rusty has been singing "since he was just a little bitty thing." She allows Rusty can't carry a tune, but he will "holler — at least until he gets tired." Think Rusty is an oddity? Johnson says he once had a dog that could talk. (AP Wirephoto)

Talented Jan Howard Is Victim Of Stage Fright

By NANCY SHIPLEY
Associated Press Writer
NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Jan Howard, newest name on the roster of country music's oldest continuous stage and radio show, still gets stagefright. The shy, dark-eyed redhead became the 58th member of the famed Grand Ole Opry just over a month ago. After two and a half years of regular appearances with the Bill Anderson Show, the talented female singer says that once she gets in front of a microphone she feels at ease. But she says she is still a little shaky until she gets there. "It would be like work, instead of fun, if you were just going out there (on stage) for another song, not caring how they felt about you, whether they would like you and things like that," she says. The West Plains, Mo., native who was one of 11 children, got started in the music business after moving to Los Angeles where she says she was "a pretty bad secretary." A friend asked her to do a demonstration recording of a song he had written and wanted to submit to Kitty Wells. "I said I couldn't do it," she recalls, "but I was told it didn't have to be good — all it had to do was show Kitty Wells what the song generally was supposed to sound like." "So I did it, but it was just sort of all in fun." After that, Jan sang on several other demonstration recordings. "Then one day Joe Johnson of Challenge Records out there heard one of my demos, and he said he wanted me to cut a record. And I did that too, but it was still just fun." She smiles, "I guess it's still just fun." Jan first sang on the Opry stage in 1960 — after only two public appearances. "I was so scared those other two times I never really remembered after that where they were or much about them." She adds, "I was petrified when I sang on the Opry." And she says, "it was like everything else — my friends forced me to do it."

When Jan went on her first road show with two greats, Johnny Horton and Archie Campbell, her friends had to talk her into going. Their first date was in Lubbock, Tex., and Jan couldn't even get up enough nerve to go on stage. But the audience she overwhelmed didn't know that backstage Horton had spent the first half of the show putting her at ease. And two other friends, Johnny Cash and his wife, June Car-

Teacher Sees Advantage In Her One-Room School

PILOTTOWN, La. (AP) — There's a proverbial little red schoolhouse at this remote outpost of humanity near the mouth of the Mississippi River. Pilottown is a home for commercial fishermen and for the bar pilots who guide the ships through the shifting shoals of the river up to New Orleans. Mrs. Jacques Michell is THE Teacher on the island school — which is really white — and is braced on stilts above the river shallows. Her husband is a bar pilot. In the one classroom there are six pupils who are in grades eighth right down to kindergarten. "I think a one-room school is a bigger help to students than a modern school," Mrs. Michell believes. "Talk about relevancy — each child gets to study at his own rate of speed and he gets a lot of help with his problems. If he has a dreamy day, it doesn't matter as much. He won't fall a lesson behind the rest of the class because he is the class." For example, Karen Armstrong, 5, learns her ABCs from the same blackboard that Leigh Gerkin studies the basics of plane geometry. Mrs. Michell taught at a private school in New Orleans last year. The change, she thinks, has been instructive. "It took me a couple of months to adjust to the technique of teaching all grades. I just had to come in and find out what was needed," she said. And the educational bureaucracy has all been left upriver. "Because we're so isolated, I don't get many visits from school board consultants, but they've been wonderful about sending supplies as soon as I ask for them," she said. Wildlife often substitutes for human visitors. "When I first started teaching here, one of the boys chased a ball under the boardwalk (the town's main road) and found a snake instead. When I screamed the kids all looked at me as if I were crazy. They're used to snakes here on the island. But I'm still terrified," Mrs. Michell half-smiled. Since instruction is only through the middle school grades, Leigh finishes up this year and must complete high school on the mainland. She doesn't think the shift will be too traumatic. "I'll be glad to go because there's really nothing to do here in Pilottown," Leigh said. Pilottown is one of hundreds of marshy islands along coastal Louisiana. It is about 10 miles south of Venice, the end of the road. Counting bar pilots, it has a population of 75. Before Hurricane Camille in 1969, the settlement had some 200 persons. Winds were so destructive that some families left for good rather than rebuild. When school's out for the day, Mrs. Michell has papers to grade and lessons to plan. There's lots of time to ride a bike, or listen wistfully for the clang of ships' bells and blaring foghorns as they lumber along the river just offshore.

Terrapins Come At His Signals

SAN ANGELO, Tex. (AP) — E. J. Smith, a civilian working at Goodfellow Air Force Base, has his own armored troops. When he walks onto the lawn and bangs on a tin dish that contains dog food, his armored warriors respond. They are 60 box turtles, also known as land terrapins. Every acre of growing trees generates enough oxygen to sustain 18 persons for a year.

Birthday Of A Carolina Patriot

By H. G. JONES, Director

Poor Old Dad Is No Longer King

By JOSEPH L. MYLER
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Poor old Dad. He "is no longer king in his castle," says Prof. E. E. LeMasters. "There has been a palace revolution." LeMasters, a University of Wisconsin sociologist, makes this pronouncement in the United Nations quarterly, Impact of Science on Society. The entire issue is devoted to articles about "The Embattled Human Male." According to LeMasters, "the dominant father model is neither practical nor functional in contemporary society and is tending to disappear." "We see the embattled father struggling to maintain his self-image in the face of an aggressive wife-mother and a powerful adolescent peer group," LeMasters writes. "If he turns to television for relief, his ego will be additionally assaulted by programs in which women and children consistently outwit fathers, for advertisers slant their programs in favor of women because about 80 per cent of family purchases are made by the wife-mother." "Fathers in modern society," LeMasters continues, "suffer from a common syndrome: they are starved for love. One might say they exhibit chronic emotional malnutrition." LeMasters attributes Dad's decline as boss of the roost in large part to the Great Depression of the 1930s. "The father's position in the family deteriorated when he ceased to be the major breadwinner." More recently his loss of dominance has been accelerated by the woman's liberation movement and by the growing impact on the family of its adolescent members. Another sociologist, Prof. John H. Gagnon of the State University of New York at Stony Brook, says in the same issue that the male's superior physical strength no longer carries the weight it once did "in the world of work."

Mechanization has made physical strength less important than it was before machines took over the more muscularly demanding chores of mankind. Actually, according to Prof. Marianne Rasmuson of the University of Umea in Sweden, men are "the weaker sex." In the human and many other animal species, she points out, "the female has a longer lifespan than the male."

Mrs. Wilma Scott Heide, a sociologist and a leader of the women's liberation movement, scorns the notion that women can't perform as well as men in most jobs. Australia produces more than one-quarter of the world's wool requirements.

fact that the calendar was changed after he was born. Penn's father was a man of considerable achievement and wealth, though he is said to have been "indifferent to culture and did not think an education necessary." As a result, John Penn's formal education before his father's death was limited. Then at 18, he inherited his father's estate and was encouraged by a relative who owned an extensive library to use the books and to study law on his own. Penn learned enough even without a teacher to be admitted to the bar when he was 21. He was married in Virginia, where he then practiced law 12 years before moving in 1774 to Granville County, N.C. He soon became a leader in the community and was elected the following year as a delegate to the Provincial Congress meeting in Hillsborough. Shortly after Penn's election to the Provincial Congress, where he was named to 15 or 20 committees, Richard Caswell resigned from the Continental Congress to return to North Carolina. Penn was selected to take his place in Philadelphia and reached there in time to join Hooper and Hewes in voting for and signing the Declaration of Independence. Like many other delegates to the congress, Penn was not eager for a break with England. All indications are that he wanted America to be free but would have preferred that the new country and the old live together in harmony. As the congress progressed, however, diminishing hope of reaching an agreement was reflected in Penn's words: "My first wish is to be free; my second to be reconciled to Great Britain." With the resignation of Hooper and the death of Joseph Hewes, Penn was left as the sole member in congress of the three from North Carolina who had signed the Declaration of Independence. He retired from public office in 1781 and returned to North Carolina to practice law. He died in Granville County Sept. 14, 1787, at 46. He was buried near Island Creek, but his remains were moved to Guilford Courthouse National Military Park at Greensboro in 1894.

South Viets Repulse Two Major Red Counterblows

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — South-Vietnamese forces repulsed the first two major counterattacks in their month-long A Shau Valley campaign, claimed 200 North Vietnamese killed with the help of U.S. aircraft, and smashed a regimental-size base camp and arms factory.

Ninety South Vietnamese marines were reported killed or wounded in the two enemy attacks.

Some 400 North Vietnamese made the first assault at 4 a.m. Wednesday on the night camp of a 500-man South Vietnamese marine battalion in mountainous terrain on the eastern border of the 30-mile-long valley. Field reports said six marines were killed and 48 were wounded.

A second assault on the marines came at 2:30 p.m., with hundreds of North Vietnamese moving behind the cover of an artillery barrage. But this brought the North Vietnamese into the open in daylight, and American B52, fighter-bombers and helicopter gunships pounded them. Three of the B52s dropped 90 tons of bombs on concentrations of the enemy.

Another 36 marines were reported killed or wounded in the second battle. Spokesmen said there were U.S. advisers with

Princess Among Those Evacuated

CHICHESTER, England (AP) — A telephoned threat of a bomb forced Princess Margaret and 1,400 other persons to evacuate the Chichester festival theater Wednesday night.

A police search failed to locate an explosive device and the Princess and other spectators quickly returned for a charity performance of the comedy "The Rivals."

the battalion, but it was not known if any of them were casualties.

The 200 North Vietnamese reported killed in the two fights were nearly double the 117 enemy casualties reported during the previous 28 days of the A Shau Valley operation.

Just to the north of the valley, South Vietnamese infantrymen destroyed a base camp containing an arms shop and 100 small structures with underground bunkers, headquarters said. The Saigon forces found one anti-aircraft machine gun, two AK47 rifles, two cases of anti-aircraft machine gun ammunition, 10 cases of AK47 ammunition, 60 B40 rockets and 200 uniforms.

There were no indications that the South Vietnamese met any resistance. They found the bodies of five enemy soldiers who apparently were killed earlier by air and artillery strikes.

A mile away, other South Vietnamese troops destroyed 10 bunkers and found another munitions cache that included five cases of plastic explosives 50 B40 rockets and 10 anti-tank mines.

The A Shau valley is 375 miles northeast of Saigon on the Laotian border and is the gateway to the populous coastal lowlands, including the cities of Hue and Da Nang. It is a major staging area and transshipment point for North Vietnamese troops and supplies.

Family Back At Windsor Castle

LONDON (AP) — Queen Elizabeth, Prince Philip and Princess Anne have returned to Windsor Castle after a 10-day visit to the Canadian province of British Columbia.

Princess Anne, suffering a mild stomach ailment, missed a portion of the 4,750-mile tour of British Columbia, which ended with the royal family's return here early today.

Expensive Move From Colorado

PEORIA, Ill. (AP) — Part of the agreement in hiring city manager Robert O. Wright was to pay his moving expense from Aurora, Colo.

The total bill was $3,208 for one van-load.

The bill prompted Ald. Ralph Metts to comment: "The stuff must have ridden on velvet."

On April 14 U.S. and South Vietnamese forces launched operation Lam Son 720 against the supply network, but only a few significant contacts with the enemy have been reported and these were made by allied reconnaissance patrols.

Elsewhere in Indochina, scattered fighting and harassment of Cambodian positions outside of Phnom Penh Wednesday night and today broke a 10-day lull in that part of the war.

Sandwich glass got its name from Sandwich, Mass., where it was made in the 1800s.

RALEIGH (AP) — (NCDA) — North Carolina egg markets steady to slightly stronger. Supplies adequate. Demand good. Prices paid producers and handlers for consumer grade eggs in cartons delivered nearby outlets:

Grade A large whites: 38 1/2 to 39.
Medium, whites: 33 1/2 to 34.
Small, whites 30 to 31.

RALEIGH (AP) — (NCDA) — The North Carolina hog market today is mostly steady. Tops of 17.25-17.75 Rocky Mount; 16.25-17.50 Tarboro; 17.00-17.25 Wilson; 16.25-16.76 Bethel; 16.00-16.50 Siler City; Denton; 17.00 Salisbury; 16.50 Greensboro.

RALEIGH (AP) (NCDA) — The North Carolina hen market today is steady. Supplies are adequate and demand fair on all weights. Heavies at farm: 11 to 12 cents per pound; FOB plant sales too few to report. Light type farm: 4 1/2 cents.

NEW YORK (AP) — Trading was fairly slow on the stock market today with advances and declines about even.

The 11:30 a.m. Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks was up 0.85 to 938.31.

Some brokers said investors were still uncertain about the international monetary picture and the U.S. economy.

Among the most-active Big Board issues, Natomax was up 5 1/2% to 88; American Airlines was ahead 3/4% at 34 3/4%; International Paper was up 1/4% to 38 1/2%; American Telephone was down 1/4% at 47 3/4%; Union Carbide was up 1/4% at 49 1/4%; and Sperry Rand was ahead 1/4% to 37.

Other Big Board prices included Electronic Memories & Magnetics, up 1/4% to 16 1/4%; Dayton-Hudson, down 1/4% at 35 1/4%; Bausch & Lomb, ahead 1/2% to 144 1/2%; Jewel Companies, down 1/2% at 59; Western Union up 1/4% at 44; and Engelhard Mining, up 3/4% to 34 1/4%.

Pet . . .

"As soon as we can get the infection cleared up, he will be a nice pet just as he is. His lower jaw will always hang and he will have to eat only soft dog food and liquids for the rest of his life, but this won't hamper him too much. He was able to eat even when he was first hurt. He's a lovable dog. From his teeth, I'd judge he's from four to six years old.

"From his age and since he's wearing a collar, we feel sure he belongs to someone," Carol said. "The owner should call Dr. Bateman at once. If we do not find the owner, we will be taking calls from anyone who would like him as a pet.

"I'd love to keep him myself, but Billy and I are both graduating this month and we'll be moving — to where, we're not sure. Moving the two dogs we have will be job enough."

Dr. Bateman has agreed to take calls concerning the dog. For the first day or so, he will wait for a call from the owner. If one does not come, he will give the dog to the first person who calls offering a good home for him. His clinic telephone number is 752-3148.

Water And Air Bill is Shunted

RALEIGH (AP) — A bill to revamp the state Board of Water and Air Resources was sent to a subcommittee Wednesday after encountering heavy flack in the Senate Conservation and Development Committee.

The bill sponsored by Sen. Zebulon Alley, D-Haywood, and supported by Gov. Bob Scott, is designed to eliminate conflicts of interest among board members between their jobs and their board duties.

By STUART SAVAGE

Reflector Staff Writer

A Superior Court jury was expected to start deliberations early this afternoon in the case of Julius Stewart Summrell, charged with assaulting an officer, resisting arrest and disorderly conduct in connection with a July 6, 1970 incident at Pitt Memorial Hospital.

Summrell is alleged to have assaulted Greenville policeman B. F. Phillips after the officer placed him under arrest on disorderly conduct charges in the hospital's emergency room. Summrell was shot by Phillips during a struggle in the hospital's parking lot as a result of the incident, witnesses testified Tuesday and Wednesday.

J. B. Rogerson, a medical technologist at the hospital, yesterday testified that he saw Summrell and Ptl. Phillips struggling in the parking lot at the front of the hospital. He said he was looking at the altercation from a first-floor hospital window. Rogerson explained that Frank Jerome Streeter, Summrell's 17-year-old brother (who Ptl. Phillips earlier said came up on the fight in the parking lot) at one point during the scuffling was "holding him (Phillips) down . . . straddling him . . . sitting on him . . ."

While Streeter was holding the officer, Rogerson testified, "Summrell kicked him (Phillips) beside the head . . . Ptl. Phillips testified Tuesday that he had been out of work for six weeks due to his injuries and due to the fact that he was suspended by city officials pending an investigation into the incident by the State Bureau of Investigation.

Mrs. Olivia Streeter, Summrell's mother, was the first witness tendered by the defense — attorneys Jerry Paul of Greenville and Charles Becton of Charlotte — yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. Streeter told the jury that during the time she was in the emergency room area, she did not hear Summrell use any abusive language. She said her son was talking loudly, requesting medical attention. She noted that she asked Ptl. Phillips, "please don't bother my son" after the two began scuffling as Summrell attempted to leave the hospital and Ptl. Phillips attempted to block his exit.

Summrell, who took the stand in his own behalf, acted upset as he testified. Now 22, he said he wanted to see Dr. Andrew A. Best, a Negro physician, when taken to the hospital after being involved in an auto accident earlier. Ptl. Phillips was investigating that mishap at the time the trouble developed at the hospital.

Witnesses earlier indicated that Summrell refused treatment by another doctor, saying he didn't want to be treated by a white physician. Summrell continued by testifying he asked a white nurse to leave the treatment room in which he was located because she sounded "hateful" when she said she had called Dr. Best. Phillips came in "simply because I said this to this white woman," Summrell charged.

Saying he overheard the officer calling in an attempt to have a warrant for disorderly conduct delivered to the hospital, Summrell said "my first impulse . . . I'm going to get treated (by a doctor) before I go to jail."

"I felt I wasn't arrested," Summrell continued, because the "warrant hasn't got there," he indicated he attempted to leave in order to seek treatment by Dr. Best.

Summrell denied kicking Ptl. Phillips, but said "I flipped him in the gravel . . . hard enough so it should have hurt." Streeter, Summrell testified, "tore his (Phillips) shirt."

Summrell, who denied using any abusive words inside the hospital, upon cross examination by district solicitor Eli Bloom, said "I never fought . . . I only took a beating." He admitted again, however, "I flipped him (Phillips) . . . and got on top of him."

Phillips, Summrell noted, "told me to shut up and lay there (in the emergency room)." He was never told by the officer he was under arrest, Summrell contended.

"What are you trying to hang me for?" he questioned Bloom. "Cause I didn't die?" Summrell continued, "Just don't forget that I was hurting, man . . ."

Streeter, who took the stand late yesterday afternoon told the jury that he got Summrell off of the officer when the two were on the ground in front of the hospital; that he held both Summrell and Phillips in an effort to stop the fight; and that he "didn't see . . ." his brother hit the officer.

Streeter, who under cross examination admitted convictions of breaking and entering (when he was ordered to pay $1,500 in restitution for clothes) and fictitiously applying for a drivers license, said he tore Ptl. Phillips' shirt while getting his brother off of the officer.

Different Site For Meeting Of School Board

The May school board meeting for the City of Greenville is being held Monday, in the library of J. H. Rose High School instead of the regular site of the board room at the city school office. The time is 8:30 p.m., half an hour later than the regularly scheduled meeting time.

This meeting follows the annual sports banquet of Rose High School which is being held on the same evening at 7:00 p.m.

On Monday's agenda, the primary item is presentation, final review-revision and adoption of the 1971-72 Local Budget for the Greenville City Schools. Other business items include old business brought forward — such as requests for use of school facilities, the "live project" home auction decision, general personnel matters and similar items.

House Is Up For Auction Second Time Friday

The house at 1107 Fairfax built by boys from Rose High School comes up the second time for a public auction on Friday, at 11:00 a.m.

As before, the auction will be held on the site. Dr. Clet C. Cleetwood, superintendent of Greenville City Schools, explained that this second auction is possible due to an upsetting bid being received immediately following the last public auction on April 22.

The house, a brick one, is three bedroom and was built as a special project by the masonry and carpentry classes of the Vocational Department at Rose High. All the work except wiring and plumbing was completed by the students participating in this project.

Interested bidders and the general public is invited to be present at 11:00 a.m. Friday.

Need Funds To Retain Level Of Medicaid

RALEIGH (AP) — Some Medicaid program services must be cut back if the program is to be kept within the proposed budget for the next two fiscal years, the Joint Appropriations Committee was told yesterday.

The committee was told the reductions would affect services provided the medically indigent, poor persons not on welfare but not able to pay their medical bills. But should costs continue to mount, the committee was told, across the board cuts to all Medicaid recipients may be necessary.

A subcommittee studying the Medicaid program also reported that $16 million in additional funds would be required to keep the program at its present level of service.

Swimming Team Names Captains

Doug Emerson, a rising senior from Greenville, and Wayne Norris, a rising junior from Fayetteville, have been elected co-captains of the East Carolina University swimming team for 1971-72.

The announcement was made this week by the Pirates' head swimming coach, Ray Scharf.

Both Emerson, a diver, and Norris, and individual medley and butterfly man, won All-Southern Conference honors this past season as the Pirates won their sixth straight league title.

Norris was voted the Outstanding Swimmer in the conference meet as successfully defended his titles in three events—setting records in all three. He clocked a 2:04 in the 200 IM, a 2:02.5 in the 200 butterfly and a 4:28.6 in the 400 IM.

During the year Norris scored more points than any other ECU swimmer, 85½ in dual meets and 833-10 in the championship meet.

Emerson finished second in the 1-meter diving in the SC Meet. But his strong event is 3-meter diving, which is not held in the championship meet. He set a new pool record for ECU in the 3-meter diving this past season.

Pirate Swim Captains

Doug Emerson, left, and Wayne Norris University swimming team. The Pirates, under their guidance, will be seeking their seventh straight title.

Kiwanis Gain Opening Win

The Kiwanis captured a victory in their first outing of the year, as they downed the Lions, 12-3, yesterday in the North State Little League. The Kiwanis are the league's defending champions.

The win left the Kiwanis in a tie with R. C. Cola and the Optimists for first, with 1-0 records, while the Jaycees, Coca-Cola and Lions are all 0-1.

The Lions pushed over two runs in the first inning to take a brief lead. Guy Bradbury singled and moved up on Wright Hooks hit. He stole second, and both scored on a double by Philip Gibbs.

The Kiwanis came right back with four runs in their half of the inning. Danny Hester and Sid Ashby both walked and David Middleton reached on an error. Kent Phillips doubled, scoring Hester and Ashby.

Middleton came in on an error and Jule White doubled in Phillips for the 4-2 lead.

The Lions came up with another run in the second. Tommy Carpenter reached on an error and advanced on Mike Williams single. He scored on a passed ball.

The Kiwanis broke it open with six big runs in the fourth inning. Hester reached on an error and stole second. Ashby also reached on an error and stole up. Randy Britt singled and Phillips was safe on another miscue. White got a hit and Brad Brown followed with a single. Greg Dail reached on a fielder's choice, and an error on the play scored Brown with the final run.

The Kiwanis added two more in the fifth for their 12 run total.

Donnie Allison Leads Qualifiers

By BLOYS BRITT
AP Auto Racing Writer
TALLADEGA, Ala. (AP) — The people who know stock car racing best had predicted an all Allison front row for Sunday's $165,000 Winston 500. But Bobby Isaac threw them a 185.721 M.P.H. curve.

Donnie Allison, 31, and younger of the two driving brothers from nearby Hueytown, put the Wood Brothers Mercury in the pole position Wednesday at 185.869 miles per hour.

That much was expected, for the candy apple red and white car had gained the No. 1 starting spot in every race it had entered this season, first with A.J. Foyt at the wheel and later with Allison.

Bobby Allison, 33, who took over the Holman and Moody Mercury vacated only a week ago by David Pearson, had been conceded the other front row berth, and he made a torrid run for it—185.358 m.p.h.

Isaac, however, wheeled his Dodge around the 2.66 mile trioval at 185.721 to put a damper on what would have been the first brother front act in auto racing history. A late entry, he did it despite limited practice.

But they should have expected Isaac was laying in wait. The 33-year-old Catawba, N.C., driver, who won $200,000 and the NASCAR Grand National driving title last year, holds the world's closed course speed record—201.104 m.p.h. set on this track last November.

"It was a fine ride," Isaac said. "Everybody is down on power this year because of the mandatory carburetor restrictor plates, but you have to figure that the difference between the two Allison and me is the bat of an eyelash. Maybe I batted once too often, or I would have had the pole."

Donnie Allison's best lap time was 51.520 seconds, Isaac's 51.561 and Bobby Allison's 51.662.

Seven other drivers qualified to round out the first 10 starters in Sunday's 50-car field. Fifteen more spots were up for grabs today, though an overnight rain threatened to cut into practice time.

Starting positions four through 10 went to Fred Lorenzen, 183.729 in a Plymouth; Richard Petty, 17.706 in a Plymouth; Pete Hamilton, 179.171 in a Plymouth; Buddy Baker, 178.633 in a Dodge; Pearson, 176.285 in a Pontiac; Bill Dennis, 175.445 in a Mercury; and James Hylton, 175.301 in a Ford.

A POWER LINE SWING
MYRTLE BEACH, S.C. (AP) — A South Carolina tobacco planter John M. J. Holliday had to hit four perfect three iron shots before reaching the 10th green at the Crystal River, Fla., course during the recent senior lefty-righty championship of the National Association of Left-handed Golfers.

His first three attempts struck a power line extending across the fairway and he was permitted to replay the shot. Holliday, NALG president, won the tournament with retired New Jersey sportswriter Des Sullivan.

Change In Ladies Day

A change in the format for the Greenville Golf and Country Club's Friday Ladies Day has been announced.

Rather than the scheduled "Bring A Guest" activities, regular activities have been planned. The "Bring A Guest" day will be held on May 28. The change was made because of the Eastern North Carolina Ladies Tournament going on at Brook Valley this weekend.

Pirates Sign Junior College Point Guard

A Baltimore junior college basketball standout, who led his team to a 48-9 record over two seasons, has been awarded a full basketball scholarship at East Carolina University, it was announced today by Head Coach Tom Quinn.

Jerome Owens, a 6-1, 190-pound point guard, average over 18 points a game his sophomore year at Baltimore Community College.

A native of Baltimore, Owens played his high school ball at City College High and at Laurinburg (N.C.) Institute.

"Jerry is a talented, confident and aggressive backcourt player," said Quinn. "He will blend very well with our present nucleus. He can score both outside and under, and does not hesitate to get on the boards even though he is a guard."

Quinn said he expects Owens to step into the Pirates starting lineup right from the start of the 1971-72 season.

"We plan to use Jerry either at the point position our 1-4 yo-yo offense or as the playmaker in our two-guard system."

Baltimore Community

College Coach Jerry Phipps also had praise for Owens, the son of Mrs. Ruth Owens of Baltimore.

"Jerry played for me both in high school and at the junior college," said Phipps, who also coached North Carolina's Lee Dedmon in the prep ranks. "I know that Jerry is very coachable and a real gentleman both on and off the court. He will be an asset to East Carolina basketball as a floor leader and as one who will do more than his share on defense and rebounding."

Farmville Rips Northern Nash

ROCKY MOUNT — Farmville High School rolled to a 5-0 victory over Northern Nash High School yesterday, as Bobby Daniels tossed a one-hitter at the Black Knights.

Daniels struck out five and walked two on the way to his victory.

Farmville went to work early to get the win, scoring all it needed as a run came over in the first inning. Phil Lewis and Ben Joyner led off with a pair of walks. Chuck Finklea then singled to score Lewis.

In the third, Farmville came up with two more runs. Johnny Dickinson and Lewis both got walks, and Joyner singled. An error on the play let Dickinson score. Ronald Carraway then singled in Lewis for a 3-0 lead.

Two more came across in the fifth, rounding out the scoring. Joyner doubled and scored when Finklea's single was errored. Carraway reached on a fielder's choice that got Finklea. Carraway then scored on Daniels' single.

The victory ran the Farmville record to 11-8 overall and 8-5 in the conference. The Red Devils will close out their 1971 season on Friday, traveling to Southern Wayne.

Regional Track Is Here Friday

The Eastern Regional High School track meet will be held Friday at East Carolina University, with top finishers advancing to next weekend's state meet in Raleigh.

The top four finishers in each event during the sectionals advance to the regional meet. This will bring 12 individuals from three sectionals to Greenville for the meet.

Schools are divided into two groups for the meets, Class I and Class II. Class I schools are those who play A or 2-A football, or non-football schools with less than 500 students. Class II and 3-A and 4-A schools, or those not playing football with more than 500 students.

Fifteen events will be held in each Class, with 12 entrants in each of these.

Running trials will begin at 11:30 a.m. at the Pirate track, with field events getting underway at the same time.

Finals in the running events will start at 2:30 p.m.

The top four finishers in each event advance to the state finals.

St. James Takes Lead As Presbyterian Falls

St. James Methodist Church vaulted to sole possession of first place in the Church Softball League, combining its 16-6 win over Belvoir, with a 14-10 win over Meadowbrook over Presbyterian. In other games, Piney Grove downed Oakmont, 11-9, and First Christian ripped St. Gabriel, 22-7.

In the American Division of the League, St. James leads with a 5-0 record, while Presbyterian is next at 4-1. Meadowbrook and Belvoir are both 4-2, followed by Christian, 2-4, and Trinity and St. Gabriel, both 0-5.

In the National Division, Immanuel continues to lead, 4-1, followed by Piney Grove, 4-2, Black Jack and Mt. Pleasant, both 3-2, Oakmont, 3-3, Grace, 2-4, and Marantha, 0-5.

First Christian pushed over five runs in the second inning, but St. Gabriel scored five in the third to tie it up. But in the bottom of the third, Christian scored four more to put it out of reach.

Sherman Bennett reached on a fielder's choice and Johnny Pinner and Marvin Hunt both singled. Barry Williams got a hit and Chuck Smith tripled to clear the bases and give Christian a 9-5 lead. They went on to add two in the fourth, as Bennett homered, then get three in the fifth and eight in the sixth, including homers by Billy West, Glenn Roper and Bennett.

St. Gabriel's other two runs came in the fifth.

Piney Grove moved out into the lead for good with three runs in the first inning, and were never caught by Oakmont. Evans led off, reaching on an error and Avery singled. Nichols slapped a homer for the 3-0 lead.

Piney Grove added six in the third to run the lead to 9-0, and then picked up what proved to be the winning runs in the fifth, as Evans singled and scored on Avery's homer.

Oakmont scored three in the third, one in the fourth and five in the seventh.

Meadowbrook pushed over three runs in the first inning, but Presbyterian came back with two in their half of the frame. Meadowbrook then scored five more in the second to go out 8-2, but seven runs by Presbyterian in its half of the seventh ran it back to a 9-2 Presbyterian lead.

But that was it for the previously unbeaten team. Meadowbrook came up with five more runs in the third to take a 13-9 lead, which they never lost. Victor Wade singled and Dwight Foster pushed Meadowbrook back ahead with a homer. John Huber got a hit and Linwood Owens reached on an error. Bobby Harris then homered to finish off the scoring in the inning.

Meadowbrook added one in the seventh, while Presbyterian also got one more run, that coming on a Don Owen homer in the sixth.

St. James grabbed the lead in the first inning and never lost it after that. They pushed over two runs. Roy Carawan doubled and scored on a two-out double by Jimmy Smith. Smith then came in when Dave Wilcox reached on an error.

St. James picked up seven more in the second, then got two in the third and five in the sixth, including a homer by Ronald Vincent.

Graniteers In 8-0 Victory

The Graniteers opened their defense of the Tar Heel Little League title yesterday with an 8-0 romp over the Exchange.

The Graniteers pulled into a tie for first with the Moose and Elks, all 1-0, while Pepsi-Cola, Integon and the Exchange are 0-1.

Joel Clark tossed a two-hitter in the game, striking out 11 and walking just one in going the distance. The Graniteers got only five hits off John Cleewood, but five errors behind him cost additional runs.

The Graniteers pushed over three runs in the second inning after threatening in the first. Clark walked and moved to third on Jay Chenier's double. A passed ball scored Clark and moved Chenier to third. Kevin Haut walked and stole second. Henry Wooten then singled to drive in both runners.

In the third, two more runs came across. Steve Manning singled and Clark reached on an error. Haut grounded out, scoring Manning, and Clark came across on an error.

Then, in the fourth, the Graniteers picked up three more runs. Howard Vainright reached on an error and moved up on Chris Moye's double. Manning doubled in both runners, and took third when Clark reached on an error. Chenier reached on another miscue, scoring Manning with the final run.

Check Swing Brings Furor By Phillies

By HERSCHEL NISSENON
Associated Press Sports Writer

The burning question in Philadelphia is whether the Phillies were done in Wednesday night by three pitches that hit Chicago Cub bats or one pitch that didn't. There may be different opinions on the matter. As far as the Cubs are concerned, home runs by Ron Santo, Johnny Callison and Billy Williams that accounted for six runs in a 9-4 triumph were the keys to victory. The Phillies, however, contend that a ruling by umpire Tom Gorman that Jim Hickman checked his swing and did not foul tip a 3-2 pitch was as crucial as any of the homers. Elsewhere in the National League, Houston edged the New York Mets 5-4, San Diego nipped Pittsburgh 2-1, San Francisco trounced Cincinnati 7-2 and Los Angeles blanked Atlanta 5-0. St. Louis and Montreal were rained out.

American League scores: Minnesota 1, Boston 0; Oakland 8, Cleveland 1; Baltimore 6, Kansas City 0; Detroit 8, California 1; New York Yankees 3, Milwaukee 0 and the Chicago White Sox took two from Washington 5-0 and 9-5.

The Cubs and Phillies were scoreless in the fourth inning when the fireworks—physical and verbal—started. Williams singled with one out and then came the disputed fourth ball to Hickman. Joe Pepitone popped up for what the Phils thought should have been the third out, but Santo belted a three-run homer and Callison followed with a solo shot.

In the seventh, Glenn Beckert doubled three runs across and Williams homered. Santo, Callison and Williams also homered the previous night. Tony Taylor and Joe Lis connected for the Phils.

Cuellar Recovers From Oaklanditis With Win

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Mike Cuellar made a near-perfect recovery from his Sunday siege of Oaklanditis, but the same bug has bitten Sam McDowell.

Cuellar, shelled by the Oakland A's in his previous start, came back with two days rest Wednesday night and fired a one-hitter as the Baltimore Orioles blanked the Kansas City Royals 6-0.

At Cleveland, Oakland battered McDowell for six runs and 12 hits in the 5-2-3 innings he lasted on the way to an 8-1 romp over the Indians.

Elsewhere, Bert Blyleven out-pitched Ray Culp as Minnesota nipped Boston 1-0; the New York Yankees trimmed Milwaukee 3-0 on Mel Stottlemyre's three-hitter; Detroit spanked California 8-1 behind Joe Coleman and the Chicago White Sox swept a doubleheader from Washington 5-0 and 9-5.

In the National League, San Diego surprised Pittsburgh 2-1; Los Angeles subdued Atlanta 5-0; the Chicago Cubs bounced Philadelphia 9-4; San Francisco whipped Cincinnati 7-2 and Houston stopped the New York Mets 5-4. St. Louis was rained out at Montreal.

Cuellar limited Kansas City to a third inning single by Jerry May and one walk in bringing his season record to 3-1. The loss came last Sunday at the hands of Oakland's West Division leaders, who rocked the cagy left-hander for six runs and seven hits in 5 1-3 inings. But he breezed past the Royals, backed by a 12-hit Baltimore attack that included a single, double and triple by Merv Rettenmund.

It was the first one hitter for a Baltimore pitcher since Minnesota's Cesar Tovar spoiled a Cuellar no-hit bid two years ago with a ninth inning single.

Bert Campaneris led the Oakland assault against McDowell, 1-5, with two home runs and a single, then poked another single off reliever Vince Colbert to deliver the A's final run.

Campaneris opened the game with his first homer of the season and socked a two-run homer in the sixth, helping right-hander Chuck Dobson cruise to his first victory of the year.

Blyleven scattered seven hits and struck out 11 in throttling the Red Sox and reversing the outcome of a previous duel with Culp.

It was the 20-year-old right-hander's third victory—all via the shutout route—in seven decisions and his first since April 12.

Rod Carew tripled in the fourth inning and scored the game's lone run on Jim Holt's single off Culp, who had beaten Blyleven 1-0 with a two-hitter 10 days earlier in Boston.

Stottlemyre fired his third three-hitter of the season and drove in the only run he needed with a second inning single off Skip Lockwood as the Yankees stretched their win string to four games.

Detroit's Coleman, who started the season on the disabled list after suffering a fractured skull in a spring training mishap, reeled off his third victory without a loss, going the distance for the first time. He scattered eight hits and was backed by Ike Brown's three-run homer and sacrifice fly.

Tom Bradley triggered the White Sox's sweep over the reeling Senators by tossing a five-hitter in the opener for his fourth victory—and second shutout—in five decisions.

Rick Reichardt, who had a run-scoring single in the first game as the White Sox ended a five game tailspin, paced a Chicago comeback in the nightcap with three singles, a double and his fourth homer of the season.

The Senators have lost four in a row and 10 of their last 11 games.

When Gorman called ball four on Hickman, with Williams running, catcher Mike Ryan exploded and he, pitcher Jim Bunning and manager Frank Lucchesi all screamed at the ump.

"He foul tipped it," roared Ryan. "I didn't hear anything," said Gorman as he waved Hickman to first base.

Houston unloaded on Mets' ace Tom Seaver for four runs in the sixth and the Astros hung on. Singles by Roger Metzger, Joe Morgan and Denis Menke snapped a scoreless duel between Seaver and Don Wilson. Rader, with only one hit in his previous 32 trips, then lashed a three-run homer, his first of the year.

A two-base error by Cleon Jones and Morgan's single accounted for the decisive run in the seventh. Trailing 5-0, the Mets then battled back on seventh-inning homers by Ed Kranepool and Ken Boswell and got two more in the eighth before Fred Gladding shut the door.

They remained one game in front of Pittsburgh in the NL East, however, when San Diego shaded the Pirates on Dave Roberts' four-hit pitching and Ollie Brown's tie-breaking single.

Roberts hauled hitless ball over the final six innings after singles by Clarence Gaston, Nate Colbert and Brown snapped a 1-1 tie in the third.

The Giants erupted for six runs in the second inning and went on to whip the floundering Reds as Ron Bryant spaced eight hits.

Don Sutton held the Braves to four hits in gaining his first victory of the season. Richie Allen and Jim LeFebvre backed him with home runs and Willie Davis cracked a two-run single.

Losers Don Gullett walked Dick Dietz and Alan Gallagher around George Foster's single set things up. Tito Fuentes singled the first run across and Hal Lanier doubled for two more. The others crossed on an error by Tony Perez, Frank Johnson's grounder and Ken Henderson's sacrifice fly. Johnny Bench homered for the losers.

Donohue Gets Fastest Time

By DALE BURGESS
Associated Press Sports Writer

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — "Smooth" is the word for Mark Donohue, who unofficially turned the first 180-mile-an-hour lap at the 61-year-old Indianapolis Motor Speedway Wednesday.

The one-word description came from Peter DePaolo, 1925 winner of the Speedway's annual 500-mile race at an average speed of 101.13.

"This is just fantastic," said DePaolo, 73, of Dearborn, Mich., who made his annual appearance to watch practice for the million-dollar race May 29.

Utah Captures Third Victory

By JIM CHURCH
Associated Press Writer

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Good defense and good health, in that order, can give the Utah Stars the American Basketball Association championship, says Utah coach Bill Sharman.

Utah, leading the best-of-seven championship series 3-2 after a 137-127 victory Wednesday night, can wrap up the title before a national television audience Saturday, in Louisville.

A seventh game, if necessary, will be played Tuesday night in Salt Lake City, where Kentucky has yet to win this season.

Dan Issel of Kentucky continued his high scoring Wednesday night, getting 27 points in the first half and 33 for the game. But he got offensive help only from Cincy Powell, who scored 22.

Sharman attributed this to a defensive effort that held Kentucky guards Louie Dampier and Darel Carrier to 10 points between them in the first half and 21 for the game. Carrier's seven points was his lowest output of the series.

In Kentucky's overtime victory last Saturday, the two combined for 60 points.

Two Utah starters, Merv Jackson and Red Robbins, were ineffective in the two Kentucky victories—Robbins because of stomach flu and Jackson because of a sore left knee.

But Wednesday night, Jackson defended Carrier to the bench and scored 20 points, 13 in the second quarter. Robbins scored 16 and grabbed eight rebounds.

Robbins and Jackson played 31 minutes apiece, Jackson limping on a heavily taped left leg. Utah center Zelmo Beaty pulled down 22 rebounds and scored 32 points to lead the Stars in both departments. Glen Combs and Ron Boone added 25 and 24, respectively, for the Stars.

ECU Grad Is LR Cage Coach

HICKORY, N.C. (AP) — Bob Hodges, a Kinston native and one-time star at East Carolina University, was named today head basketball coach at Lenoir Rhyne College of the Carolinas Conference.

He succeeds J. D. Barnett, who compiled a 17-9 record in 1970, his only year at Lenoir Rhyne, then resigned to take the head coaching job at High Point College.

Lenoir Rhyne officials said Hodges will come to the school this summer from Hillsdale College in Michigan, where he has been head basketball coach for five years.

During 15 years of coaching in the service, at Frederick College in Virginia and at Hillsdale, Hodges has compiled a record of 304 victories and 111 losses.

Hodges starred in both basketball and football at East Carolina before graduating in 1954. He was drafted by the Philadelphia Warriors of the National Basketball Association and the Philadelphia Eagles of the National Football League, but he entered service and never played in the pros.

He will begin teaching in Lenoir Rhyne's Department of Health and Physical Education during the summer session.

WEST HEMPSTEAD, N.Y. (AP) — John Roche, who wanted to play in New York rather than Phoenix or Kentucky, has agreed to do so, signing a four-year, no-cut contract estimated at $400,000 with the New York Nets of the American Basketball Association.

Wednesday's signing ended a five-year pursuit by Nets' Coach Lou Carnesecca, who tried to get Roche to play for St. John's University when Carnesecca coached the Redmen.

Roche, however, went to South Carolina instead, scored 1,910 career points for an SC record, was named the Atlantic Coast Conference Player of the Year as a sophomore and junior and, as a senior this past season, averaged 21.6 points.

The 6-foot-2 New York City native was drafted by the Kentucky Colonels of the ABA and was the No. 1 pick by the Phoenix Suns of the rival National Basketball Association.

Lubbock Has Come Back One Year After Tornado

By MICHAEL O. WESTER
LUBBOCK, Texas (UPI) — Bill R. Lamb, retired Lubbock police chief, is a man of few tears. After more than 25 years of policing he has seen almost everything. But Lamb, 69, has done a lot of weeping this past year, in gratitude for the goodness of his neighbors and friends and he says, without embarrassment, "It's no sin to cry when you're old and things happen." Bill Lamb isn't weeping any more, but his memories of the days of tears are vivid. All Lubbock remembers. It was just a year ago—May 11, 1970—that, without warning, spawned in the blackness of a rain and hail storm, a tornado tore an eight-mile gash through the city. It took 26 lives and left an estimated $250 million in damage. At least 1,500 persons were injured in the storm which came so suddenly and stopped clocks at 9:46 p.m. Hundreds were left homeless.

Lamb and his wife, Billie, rode out the storm huddled in the center room of their small frame home in downtown Lubbock. They were among the unhurt, physically, but their home was severely damaged and a house next door, which they owned and rented out, was leveled. Their car was demolished. Bill Lamb will never forget the terror of that night. Neither will he forget the help that came afterward. Three days after the storm some 70 policemen, as they got off 12-hour shifts, stopped at Lamb's home and cleared it of debris.

"It was the first time I had cried in years," Lamb said. "For the next two weeks, while we were without electricity and a telephone, officers would stop by and see if we needed anything." Lamb retired from the police force Dec. 31, 1969. He joined the force in February, 1942, as a patrolman and was made captain in 1947. Twice, in 1951 and again in 1956, he was made police chief. Each time he stepped down due to health.

Within 90 days of the storm Lubbock residents approved four bond issues which made up a $13.6 million "disaster recovery package" aimed at rebuilding the destruction.

Included in the bonds were construction of a $7.8 million memorial Civic Center to be located in the downtown area; a $1.2 million library at the Civic Center; a $2.8 million development project, and a $1.8 million park and recreation improvements program. The 14-block area selected for the Civic Center includes Lamb's present home—and his new storm cellar. When the city has bought the house, the Lambs will build elsewhere in Lubbock.

Millions of dollars of federal and state money, some of it matched by local funds, has been approved in an effort to recover from the tornado. "During the past year all major priorities in our city have been shifted to recovery," said Dr. James H. Granberry, who had been in office as mayor only 19 days when disaster struck. "I am very pleased that after only a year we are able to turn our efforts from the tornado to other projects." Granberry, an orthodontist, proclaimed April 12 through May 12 as a month of prayer and thanksgiving in Lubbock. Scars of the tornado remain, but the city has dug out and is looking to the future.

"The Civic Center is going to be helpful for the city," Lamb said. "It's a step forward."

Skyscrapers Opposed By Spaniards; Work Stops

CONSTRUCTION STOPPED — Citizens of Madrid have campaigned against the twin Colon (Comibus) Towers with such power that builders have been ordered to stop construction pending a study of the problem. (UPI Telephoto)

MADRID (UPI) — Let's dynamite the skyscrapers! This is becoming a new battlecry in the land of castles—not of a band of bearded anarchists, but of law-abiding family men, conservationists and government officials. They are banding together against the wilder excesses of Spain's great building boom.

A brand-new, 10-story hotel on the island of Ibiza was recently reduced to a 30-foot pile of rubble because it was considered a safety hazard to a nearby airport. The destruction was ordered after Gen. Julio Salvador, the Spanish air minister, flew into Ibiza at the controls of his mirage jet and landed in a rage.

"If I'd been flying a bomber, I would have blown the hotel out of the ground," he fumed. Now, two buildings under construction in downtown Madrid are threatened with a similar fate although for different reasons. Environmentalists are up in arms against them because they might ruin Madrid's skyline and some of the capital's most pleasant vistas.

Bowing to public pressure, authorities have halted construction work on the 24-story Torre de Valencia skyscraper and the equally imposing colon (Columbus) towers on Castellana Avenue.

"We don't want to live in a concrete jungle," is the comment most often heard from the inhabitants of this pleasant city with its many parks and tree-shaded, flowerbed-lined avenues. Until a few years ago, Madrid, in fact, managed to preserve much of its yesteryear charm.

But the city, with a population of 3.3 million, is rapidly growing, space is becoming more and more scarce, and the new skyscrapers also have their defenders.

Construction work on the almost completed Valencia towers was stopped by the Housing Ministry which is presently surveying the case. The stoppage is distressing 350 construction workers laid off by the move, as well as numerous investors and future apartment owners who made substantial down payments.

Govm't Leaders Say Time For Cancer War Is Now

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
AP Science Editor
NEW YORK (AP) — The time has come for an all-out campaign to cure cancer, say government leaders.
 President Nixon proposes just such an effort, and he spelled out objectives and some approaches on Tuesday. They are very similar to those in a bill already introduced in the Senate by Sens. Edward Kennedy, D-Mass., and Jacob Javits, R-N.Y.

Cancer specialists applaud the purpose. But they sound some notes of caution.

See Passage Of Watchdog

RALEIGH (AP) — Legislation that would set up a watchdog on state spending for the General Assembly seems assured of passage.

The bills came in Wednesday bearing the names of Rep. Norwood Bryan, D-Cumberland, and more than 100 of the 120 House members and of Sen. J. Russell Kirby, D-Wilson, and 34 other of the 50 senators.

The measures would create a fiscal staff to keep tab on state spending for the General Assembly that would be completely independent on the executive branch of state government.

"This bill would allow us to find the fat in the budget and spend it on worthwhile projects," said Kirby.

Kirby said under the present setup, the General Assembly "just does not have the capacity to sift through $4.5 billion dollars without a staff like this will develop."

Bryan pointed out that "many other states have something similar to this bill and the thrust of it is to give the legislature a tool whereby it can save the taxpayers' money from being wasted."

The bill is similar to one sponsored two years ago by Bryan that died in the Senate after passing the House.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. James were in Oak City Monday night to visit Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hardy.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell James had as their dinner guests Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Mizelle and children, Pamela, Rusty and Mike, of Raleigh, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Matthews, Yvonne and Reuben of Bethel and Mr. and Mrs. John Rawl of Robersonville.

Billy Wayne Rogerson of Fort Bragg spent the weekend in Bethel with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Rogerson, and sister, Tery Lynn.

Mrs. Riley Langley of Pinetops is visiting her sister, Mrs. Elma Simmons.

Lightning Loss Is Running High

CHICAGO (AP) — The Lightning Protection Institute says playing the odds against a lightning strike cost some 3,200 American business property owners over a quarter billion dollars in 1970.

The institute said the average loss to each building struck by lightning was $89,000.

Additional millions of dollars were lost by homeowners by lightning damage to roofs, chimneys, wiring, TV sets and other appliances.

Lightning-ignited fires leveled or gutted more than 2,000 houses. Each homeowner's loss was more than $5 thousand.

Elizabeth I of England was known as the Virgin Queen.

Curing cancer cannot be accomplished quickly with the kind of powerful concentration of money and talent that produced the A-bomb, or which sent men safely to the moon and back.

Those were marvelous achievements, but mostly engineering ventures, successfully using basic knowledge that was already available. Einstein and others had discovered what might happen when an atom was split. Galileo, Newton and others had produced the basic facts about gravity, space, planetary motions, and other principles for going to the moon.

But that kind of fundamental knowledge does not yet exist for either curing or preventing most human cancers.

Perhaps only 50 to 60 per cent of the basic knowledge required for full control of cancer exists at this time, says a spokesman for the American Cancer Society.

When the rest may be found, and by whose trained minds, can't be predicted. But, he says, that's no reason not to go looking for it more intensively and extensively, and to apply existing knowledge more intensively and efficiently to treat cancer patients, or to prevent cancers.

But unless the difficulties of finding the answers are appreciated, there's danger of raising false hopes.

"You can't go down to the corner drug store and buy a breakthrough in cancer research," says one medical school dean, Dr. Arthur Richardson of Emory University. Needed is "unrestricted money for basic research, not just development money." Viruses cause human cancers. If they do, then a particular vaccine might be developed, but it might work against only one form of cancer, such as cancer of the breast, or leukemia.

Perhaps, says an official of the National Cancer Institute, 100 vaccines or treatments might be required to control the broad variety of human cancers. Developing vaccines could take some time. Even after it had been established that only three types of virus cause human polio, it still took some years to develop the Salk polio vaccine, and to prove that it worked, and worked safely.

Look to another aspect—that chemicals can cause cancers. Each year, some 200,000 new chemicals are introduced into man's environment. If only a relatively few are used extensively, and if only 10 per cent of them might produce cancers, this still means 50 to 200 should be tested—a process taking about two years in animals, and costing about $40,000 per chemical, says the National Cancer Institute.

Needed are simpler, quicker means of checking on these chemicals.

Another weapon needed in

King Loses His Head On Stamps

MASERU, Lesotho (AP) — The king's head has been erased from the latest set of 13 standard postage stamps. Official explanation for removing the picture of King Moshoeshoe is that Lesotho is "moving away from the old colonial system where the monarch's head is inset on a stamp."

King Moshoeshoe II spent six months in exile in Holland last year after political tensions flared into bloodshed during an abortive election in January 1970.

this war is training of more good scientists—the talent and brains for discovery of better and ultimate solutions.

Recent cutbacks in funds for science fellowships and scholarships in biology have already shown an effect, in a reduction in the number of scientists engaged in cancer research, and in the flow of imaginative ideas aimed at cracking enigmas of life and cancer, one cancer expert says.

Needed especially is more basic research to learn why living cells stay healthy, or become cancerous.

The proposals would set up a kind of superagency to concentrate these efforts, and provide it with many more millions of dollars than are now spent annually. But hitting the target may take many more years.

France Honors Charlie Chaplin

CANNES, France (AP) — Comedian Charlie Chaplin has been decorated with the ribbon of commander in the French Legion of Honor.

The ribbon was awarded during ceremonies at the inaugural session of the 25th Cannes Film Festival Wednesday night at which 11 directors from eight nations also received special citations for their contributions to the festival.

The list included William Wyler and Orson Welles of the United States.

PICTURE WINDOWS

Bus tours of Europe are increasingly popular with vacationing American tourists. Bus passengers are closer to countryside and people than are those who fly high overhead or flash by in a train. And tour buses have guides familiar with the various countries, languages and customs en route, are air-conditioned and make frequent stops for rest, lunch and coffee breaks. They also have picture windows which frame the passing scenes for camera-toting travelers, scenes which can be captured on film. Shown here are through-the-window views of an alpine tour through Switzerland, Germany, Italy and Austria.

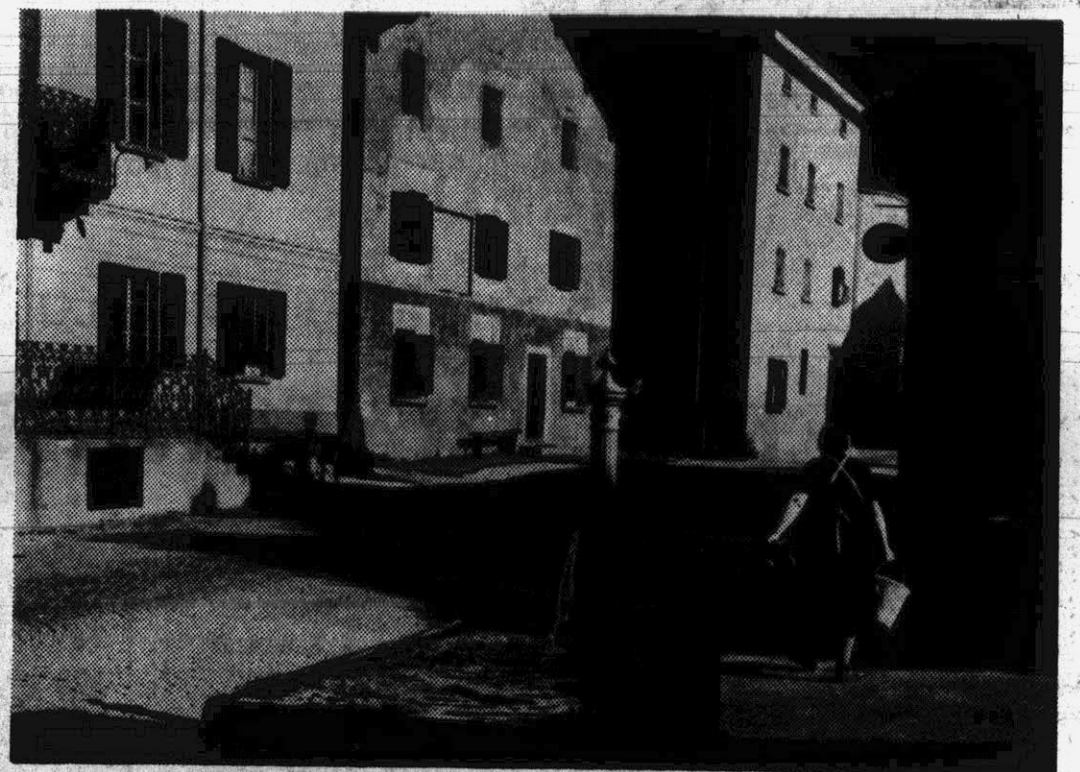

Suggestions for bus window photographers: Use a fast shutter speed—1/250th or 1/125th—with fast Tri-X or High Speed Ektachrome film. Preset focus for about 25 feet and lens opening for prevailing light. Hold camera firmly without touching any part of bus which vibrates, and be alert for a picturesque scene.

Mixed traffic on the Lindenalpe road, in Bavaria.

A stop—for Viennese coffee—in alpine country at Ellmau, Austria.

From the rear window—a village scene at Casacci, Switzerland.

About to overtake a farm family outing near Villach in Austria.

Defends New Food Stamp Regulation

By HARRISON HUMPHRIES
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) - The Agriculture Department insists its proposed regulations to implement the 1970 Food Stamp Reform Act will make more persons eligible, as congressional sponsors intended.

The department has received 124 letters of protest, however, many echoing congressional complaints that a uniform standard of income eligibility would remove a large number of welfare recipients now eligible to buy food stamps under state standards.

Richard Lyng, assistant secretary of agriculture, conceded 350,000 persons now eligible for stamps, mostly in one and two-person households approaching the maximum monthly income limit would receive reduced benefits.

At the same time, Lyng estimated 1.7 million persons in states with lower income ceilings would become eligible.

About 10.6 million persons now receive food stamps. Under the new regulations, subject to revision after review of public comments, a family of four with combined total income up to $360 a month would be eligible.

Only Alaska, New Jersey and New York have lower cut off levels.

The proposed income scale, however, is more restrictive on one and two-person households. For example, California now cuts off one person at $185 a month income and two persons at $240. The proposed new national maximum is $160 and $210, respectively.

The definition of a household also is being challenged in a letter from the six Republican members of the special Senate Nutrition Committee. They complained the Agriculture Department misinterpreted a provision of the law admittedly designed to disqualify so-called hippie communes.

Department officials say the regulation follows the law's definition of a household as "a group of related individuals."

The senators quoted Allen J. Ellender, D-La., chairman of the Senate Agriculture Committee, as saying the provision was "designed to exclude households consisting of unrelated individuals under the age of 60, such as hippie communes."

They said the regulation would exclude families "who might have taken in a friend."

Cite Landon For Human Relations

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) - Alfred M. Landon, former Kansas governor and 1936 presidential candidate, has been cited by the National Conference of Christians and Jews (NCCJ) for distinguished service in the field of human relations.

The National Brotherhood Award will be presented to Landon next Monday at the NCCJ annual Kansas regional dinner here.

Landon first became known as an advocate of racial and religious tolerance when he joined his fellow Kansan, editor William Allen White in 1924 to denounce the Ku Klux Klan in the state.

RICH IN MINERALS

MBABANE, Swaziland (AP) - This tiny kingdom's mineral production was worth a record $2.8 million in 1970.

More than $19.6 million of this was accounted for by iron ore exports to Japan. Other mineral exports included asbestos, coal, quarry stones, keolin, barytes and pyrophyllite.
