Draft Extension Bill Still Alive In Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate defeated today a move to reject a compromise draft extension and military pay raise bill already approved by the House.

The vote was 47 to 36.

The action, a key victory for President Nixon, came on a motion by Majority Leader Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., to table the long-stalled legislation. The President's draft authority expired on June 30.

Nixon, who made an eleven-hour concession on the bill's pay raise features to win over crucial votes, told a news conference Wednesday that scuttling the draft would jeopardize negotiations aimed at a mutual East-West arms reduction.

Despite today's vote, the months long Senate fight over the draft bill will go on. Vietnam war critics and foes of any draft law have vowed to filibuster against Senate approval of the measure.

President Nixon reportedly agreed late Thursday to support a move to add $300 million for military pay raises to a separate bill in an effort to increase Senate support for the House-passed draft bill.

And Vermont Gov. Deane C. Davis, responding to what he said was a request from Nixon, Thursday night appointed Republican Rep. Robert T. Stafford to fill the unexpired term of Sen. Winston L. Prouty, who died last Friday.

A spokesman for the Republican governor said the appointment was timed to provide an additional vote today against a motion by Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana to table or kill—the draft bill.

Stafford, a Republican, flew to Washington from Burlington, Vt. on a presidential jet to be on hand for the crucial vote.

Antiwar foes said, however, today's vote would make no difference because they plan to mount a filibuster to block passage of the bill if Mansfield's motion fails.

Mansfield's objections center around a conference committee compromise that weakened his antiwar amendment, adopted by the Senate early this summer.

But the move to table the bill had picked up additional support from a group of Republicans, led by Sen. Gordon Allott of Colorado, who want to restore $300 million for military pay raises deleted by the House.

Allott, who had planned to move to table the bill Thursday, announced he would not do so after receiving word from the White House that Nixon would support a move to add the military pay money to the $21 billion military procurement bill, which is next up in the Senate.

The bill before the Senate combines a two year extension of the draft law, which expired June 30, with a $2.4 million pay raise for members of the Armed forces.

Hurricane Edith Downgraded

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The one-time hurricane named Edith headed into Alabama today, downgraded to a tropical depression but still capable of generating tornadoes or flash floods.

The National Weather Service warned areas in the storm's path that Edith's rains carried a serious threat of flooding over the Appalachian region, from western Pennsylvania and eastern Ohio southward.

Edith, which packed 100-mile-per-hour winds when she hit the Louisiana coast Thursday, left a littered wake of relatively minor damage dotted with spots of tornado destruction.

However, there were no known deaths or serious injuries, despite high tides along the Louisiana coast and numerous twisters in Louisiana and Mississippi.

Nixon Says Secret Talks On China Visit Go Well

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon says secret talks on his forthcoming trip to mainland China are "going very well" and he sees promise of a productive session in Peking.

Holding an unannounced news conference in his Oval Office Thursday, Nixon told reporters neither he nor Premier Chou En-lai is approaching the historic confrontation with "naive, sentimental" ideas.

The President, recognizing ideological differences and isolation of the two countries from each other for nearly a quarter century, said: "We have agreed to discuss the differences. That is all that has been agreed. There are no other conditions."

Nixon, apart from saying arrangements are going well, was cagey about acknowledging that American and mainland Chinese representatives are involved in planning his trip. He spoke only of talks about timing and agenda "that may be under consideration."

Another White House source said the American-Chinese arrangements are now being worked out. And while no one at the White House would say, there has been increasing speculation that Nixon will journey to Peking this year.

The President's 38-minute news conference ranged over about a dozen topics, foreign and domestic, and included these highlights:

—The 90-day wage-price freeze will be followed by "a strong, effective follow-on program" that will seek to restrain labor and management in major industries and "vitality important, it will have teeth in it."

—U.S. policies in Vietnam will be unaffected by the scheduled Oct. 3 election in which President Nguyen Van Thieu is unopposed. While Nixon said the United States would have preferred a contested balloting, it must "keep its eye on the main objective and that is to end the American involvement just as soon as that is consistent with our overall goals, which is a South Vietnam able to defend itself against a Communist takeover and which includes, from our standpoint, our primary interest in obtaining the release of our POWs."

Nixon acknowledged a U.S. role in the 1963 assassination of South Vietnamese President Ngo Dinh Diem who died in a military takeover of the Saigon government.

"I would remind all concerned," Nixon said, "that the way we got into Vietnam was through overthrowing Diem and the complicity in the murder of Diem, and the way to get out of Vietnam in my opinion is not to overthrow Thieu"

Wilbur Mills To Talk Here

Congressman Wilbur Mills, chairman of the Ways and Means Committee of the U.S. House of Representatives, will be the featured speaker at the annual membership meeting of the Greenville Chamber of Commerce and Merchants Association.

The meeting is scheduled for Nov. 15 in Mingos Coliseum, East Carolina University, and according to Chamber President Dr. H. E. Lowry, Rep. Mills will deliver a "major state of the economy address" that night.

"Congressman Mills, an Arkansas Democrat, is one of the most influential men in the United States," said Dr. Lowry, "due to his position as head of the Ways and Means Committee."

Dr. Lowry termed Rep. Mills' visit to Greenville as a tribute to Congressman Walter B. Jones. He said that Mills is in great demand as a speaker and that the local Chamber of Commerce is indebted to Jones for securing him for them.

Major Blood Drive Launched For Next Week

Expectations are running high that the two day blood drive in Greenville on Tuesday and Wednesday, September 21 and 22, will be the most successful ever.

To make it likely that this may prove to be the biggest Bloodmobile drive conducted in Greenville, Mayo Allen, governor of the Governor of the Moose Lodge, with the assistance of other interested persons, has been conducting a campaign to get an appeal out to as many firms, agencies, organizations and individuals as possible. Allen noted this is being done despite a rather short notice of the planned dates for the drive.

On the task force for the big drive are local churches, merchants, manufacturers, businesses, city and county employees, Armed forces recruiting stations, the National Guard and Army Reserve, and the staff and students of East Carolina University.

Leon Smith, well known for his continued support of the bloodmobile, was kick-off speaker for this campaign. Smith has appointed Lacy Harrell as chairman of the drive.

As part of the notification to the general public, Harrell is having blood barrels placed at several locations within Greenville to remind residents of the Tuesday and Wednesday collection days. "This is the one visit we must encourage all citizens to take part," Harrell noted, "as we have already fallen short too many times."

Allen revealed that a large bulletin board will be on display at the Moose Lodge that will show the names of each group and organization participating, with the names

N.Y. Governor Thinks Hostages In A Crossfire

By BERNARD COHEN
Associated Press Writer
ATTICA, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller says he believes the "hostages who died of gun wounds were caught in a crossfire" when authorities put down the rebellion at Attica State Prison.

"The prisoners didn't have guns," Rockefeller added at a news conference in Albany on Thursday.

The crossfire resulted, he said, when attacking police forces converged from four sides on a prison yard held by the convicts.

Rockefeller's comments came on the heels of a dispute over whether nine hostages among the 40 men killed in the rebellion were shot or had their throats slit.

As the controversy over Monday's violent end to the rebellion continued, this western New York village and surrounding communities prepared to hold funerals today for six more victims.

Early today, Richard Marley, a funeral director, said a state pathologist called him and requested that five of six men not be buried today as scheduled.

The interment of two other hostages also was delayed to allow further examination of the bodies.

Autopsies on the nine hostages who were killed when about 1,000 heavily armed state troopers, sheriff's deputies, prison guards and National Guardsmen stormed the prison, disclosed that the nine died of gunshot wounds, not throat slashes as had been reported by officials earlier.

The state, meanwhile, revised downward to 40 the number of known dead in the rebellion that erupted a week ago Thursday.

Deputy State Atty. Gen. Robert E. Fischer told a news conference here that 30, not 32 convicts died during the four-day revolt. Nine prison-employee hostages were killed when police attacked, and one guard died earlier from head wounds suffered on the riot's first day.

Rockefeller held his news conference after meeting with state legislative leaders to set up a blue ribbon, factfinding panel to investigate the causes of the riot. Fischer remains in charge of investigating criminal aspects of the rebellion.

In Washington, Rep. Claude Pepper, D-Fla., said his House Select Committee on Crime, would meet with Rockefeller in New York City, then go to Attica to speak to convicts. When the meeting is to be held was not known. The committee is considering prison reform legislation.

Enfield Lawmen Shot

ENFIELD, N.C. (AP)—Two policemen were wounded by gunfire today as they attempted to stop a car carrying two men suspected of robbing a service station.

Shortly afterward, a man was hospitalized after a wreck east of town and officers said he was believed to have been involved in the shootout. Hospital officials at Roanoke Rapids said he was in "very serious" condition, but they declined to say whether his injuries were from gunfire or the wreck.

Road blocks were set up by State Highway Patrolmen and Halifax County deputies searching for another man.

Enfield Mayor Tholly Kimball identified the wounded officers as Charles Watson Callahan, 30, and Edwin Watson, 25.

Sam Eberdt, assistant administrator of the Nash General Hospital at Rocky Mount, said both were admitted to the hospital with bullet wounds in their right thighs. He said both were in satisfactory condition.

A spokesman for the sheriff's department said Callahan and Watson were notified to look out for two men who robbed a service station at an Interstate 95 interchange northwest of Enfield of $200. He said the suspect car sped into Enfield, the policemen tried to stop it, gunfire was exchanged and both officers were hit.

Counterattack By North Viets Bloodies ARVN

SAIGON (AP) — Hundreds of North Vietnamese troops launched counterattacks in the U Minh forest in the Mekong Delta and inflicted the heaviest losses on South Vietnamese forces in 3½ months, allied spokesmen reported today.

Official reports said 47 South Vietnamese were killed and 97 were wounded in dawn to dusk fighting Thursday in the canal-laced area 145 miles southwest of Saigon.

The South Vietnamese Command said 100 North Vietnamese troops were killed, two captured and a large number of enemy weapons seized.

The command said the South Vietnamese losses were the heaviest since May 31 when North Vietnamese troops overran government positions at Snuol in eastern Cambodia and inflicted more than 500 casualties.

The North Vietnamese forces Thursday simultaneously attacked a South Vietnamese firebase in the forest, a reconnaissance company and an infantry company.

Hundreds of South Vietnamese reinforcements were ferried into the battle by U.S. helicopters. Rocket-firing helicopter

Three-Year-Old Viet Peace Talks Hit New Low

By MICHAEL GOLDSMITH
Associated Press Writer

PARIS (AP) — The three-year-old Vietnam peace talks are at a new low point following an abrupt and unexplained hardening of the Communist position.

North Vietnamese negotiator Xuan Thuy and his spokesman, Nguyen Thanh Le, dropped a bombshell into Thursday's 129th weekly session of the talks with the renunciation of all their recent hints of a readiness to compromise.

The Communist reversal surprised some optimistic Western politicians who took the hints at face value. One of these was Sen. George S. McGovern, D-S.D., a presidential aspirant whose interpretation of the Communist position was repudiated by Thuy and Le.

Less surprised was the U.S. delegation, which had poured cold water all along on the suggestion that Hanoi and the Viet Cong might be prepared to drop some of their basic demands for the sake of peace.

It had appeared that the Communist negotiators had signaled outside the conference room that they were prepared to conclude and implement a separate peace with the United States.

Such a peace would have freed most American prisoners in return for an American commitment to withdraw every American soldier and adviser from South Vietnam by the end of this year. Negotiations on South Vietnam's political future would have continued, but President Nguyen Van Thieu would have remained in power and Hanoi and the Viet Cong would have pursued the war against his forces.

That deal, strongly backed only last Sunday by McGovern, is off. The Communist negotiators declared Thursday that they intend to release their prisoners only after the United States has removed Thieu from office in Saigon. Such American action would be contrary to the announced aims of the Nixon administration.

The argument revolved around the Communist seven point peace plan of July 1. Total U.S. withdrawal and simultaneous release of prisoners was point one. Removal of Thieu and establishment of a "government of national concord" was point two. The other points concerned political details of lesser importance.

The day the plan was presented, Communist spokesmen stressed that points one and two could be put into effect separately.

But at Thursday's session of the talks, Thuy for the first time declared that the United States must "simultaneously" announce a date for its total withdrawal and for cessation of all aid to the Thieu government.

At a news briefing later, Le said, "The seven points are a single package." He refused to explain the Communist reversal.

Couple Exchanges Vows In Saturday Ceremony

GRIFTON — On Saturday afternoon at three o'clock, Mrs. Robbie Midgette McCray of Edenton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Blackwell Midgette of Grifton, became the bride of Charlie Tillman Thomas.

The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Thomas of Broadway.

The double ring ceremony was performed at the home of the bride's parents by the Rev. William S. Brown.

Vows were spoken before the mantel in the living room. The wedding scene was decorated with an arrangement of white gladioli flanked by burning tapers, magnolia and tall palms on either side.

Wedding music was presented by Mrs. David Liles and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hodges.

The bride wore a formal length gown of yellow chiffon designed with an empire waistline and yoke of white Venise lace and cap sleeves. Her shoulder length veil fell from a yellow satin bow. She carried a bouquet of white daisy pom poms centered with yellow orchids and showered with yellow and white ribbons.

Mrs. Don Forehand of Edenton was matron of honor. Her gown was of pink chiffon over satin with an empire waistline accented with a white ribbon sash. Her short veil of matching pink was attached to a satin rose and she carried a basket of pastel summer flowers.

Troy Thomas, brother of the bridegroom, was best man.

The bride's mother wore a dress of white knit accented in yellow and black with matching accessories and a corsage of yellow roses. The bridegroom's mother selected a turquoise knit dress, beige accessories and a white rose corsage.

The bride's grandmother wore a navy crepe dress with a white rose corsage.

The bride is a graduate of Grifton High School and Pitt Memorial Hospital School of Radiological Technologist, Greenville. She is now employed with the Chowan Hospital, Edenton.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Boone Trail High School and the N.C. Highway Patrol School. He is serving as a highway patrolman in Edenton.

For a wedding trip to Williamsburg, Va., the bride changed into a dress of blue tweed with black accessories. She wore the yellow orchids lifted from her bridal bouquet. The couple will reside in Edenton.

Reception

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was given by the bride's parents, for the bridal party, close friends and families.

The bride's table was covered with a white lace cloth and centered with an arrangement of yellow gladioli flanked by yellow burning tapers in silver holders.

After the bridal couple cut the traditional first slice of cake, Mrs. A. A. Adams served the wedding cake. Punch was poured by Mrs. Kendall Stewart, sister of the bridegroom.

Annual Creative Crafts Carousel Opens Tuesday

The third annual Creative Crafts Carousel will be open to the public on Tuesday, Sept. 21, in the Elm Street Gymnasium. Sponsored jointly by the N.C. Agricultural Extension Service (Pitt County), Greenville Recreation Department and Pitt Technical Institute, the carousel will offer exhibits and demonstrations of many handicrafts and home decorating ideas throughout the day.

Exhibits will include braided rugs, copper tooling, decoupage, Swiss straw, lighting, window treatments, eggshell craft, chair bottoming, furniture renovating, china painting, knitting, something from nothing, crewel and canvas embroidery, plaster craft, rug hooking and tatting.

Demonstrators will be on hand throughout the day to answer questions and show techniques connected with each exhibit. There is no charge.

Hours are from 10 a.m. until 5 p.m. and 7-10 p.m. Last year's attendance was over 700 people in nine hours time.

Mrs. Burrell Gives Program

Mrs. Linda Burrell was speaker at the meeting of the Greenville Welcome Wagon Newcomers Club held Tuesday.

Program supervisor for the Recreation Department, she spoke on fall shape-up. Mrs. Ann Cameron demonstrated various exercises.

Mrs. Robert Tice, president, conducted a business session. The luncheon meeting was held at the Greenville Woman's Club.

Lakewood Pines Garden Club Meets

The budget, plans and program were set up for the coming year at the first meeting of the season of the Lakewood Pines Garden Club on Tuesday.

Mrs. William C. Taylor Jr., president, presided at the meeting.

The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. F. F. Hendrix.

Rural Dining Is Only Minutes From Mid-City

By TOM HOGE Associated Press Writer

Fine food is no novelty in New York City, but to eat a tasty meal in an atmosphere that is relatively unpolluted, with greenery on all sides, is a treat.

I enjoyed such a meal a few weeks ago at the Fountain Cafe at the Bethesda Fountain in Central Park only a few minutes walk from the heart of town.

There are facilities at the Fountain Cafe for mothers to park their baby carriages and for dog owners to leash their canines and enjoy an afternoon of leisurely dining while watching the boats drifting on the lake below.

The food at the alfresco restaurant is prepared by Chef Stanley Kramer and his staff. Kramer, who is only 30 years old, received his training in the kitchens of such restaurants as the Four Seasons and La Fonda del Sol.

The menus are varied at the Fountain Cafe with such specialties as Beef Bourguignonne and Brittany Crepe filled with chicken and mushrooms. Here is Kramer's recipe for the

BRITTANY CREPE

Ingredients for crepe:

- 1 quart milk
- 6 eggs beaten
- 3/4 pound flour
- 3 ounces oil
- salt and white pepper to taste
- Mix milk and eggs with whisk and add flour and oil, salt and pepper and beat until blended. Brush an 8 ounce skillet with oil. Pour in enough batter to cover bottom of pan. Cook until you see brown edges of crepe, then turn and cook a few seconds on the other side. Remove and add filling. Repeat until you have number of crepes desired.

FILLING INGREDIENTS

- Three 14 ounce chicken breasts, skinned and boned
- 1 carrot
- 1 stalk celery
- 1/2 small onion
- 6 parsley stems
- 6 peppercorns
- 2 cloves
- 2 bay leaves
- salt to taste
- About 2 quarts water.
- Place chicken in pot with all ingredients and cook until done (about 20 minutes). Remove chicken and cut into bite sized pieces. Use remainder of broth for a sauce with following ingredients.

- 4 ounces butter
- 4 ounces flour
- 6 ounces heavy cream
- 3 ounces dry Sherry
- small can strained mushrooms
- Melt butter and add flour. Add strained broth mixing with a whisk until sauce is smooth and thick. Add cream and sherry. Add chicken and mushrooms and use to fill crepes. Serves six persons. Good with white dry wine.

Aged or sharp natural cheeses usually cost more than mild ones.

Quits Onassis To See World

ATHENS, Greece (WNS) — Despina Elfstratiou, 35, is Aristotle Onassis's favorite cook, but she has left his employ and his villa in suburban Glyfada because "I want to see more of the world before I'm too old." Her first stop is London where she has been engaged to cook at the Blue Aegean, a new restaurant. The secret of her cooking: "One's own inspiration and good taste. I started cooking when I was ten and have never looked at a cook book. Mr. Onassis tells me that he does his business the same way."

Phone Advice Aids Hard Of Hearing

By Abigail Van Buren

(© 1971 by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd., Inc.)

DEAR ABBY: The letters from people who are hard of hearing interested me because my mother has had that problem for years. Now she wears the strongest hearing aid she can get.

I wonder how many of your readers know about a small piece of equipment the telephone company can attach to the telephone receiver to amplify the sound? We put one on my mother's telephone two years ago and it has been a godsend.

She can push a little button with her thumb and raise the volume of the caller's voice. There was a small installation charge and only $1 added to her telephone bill each month.

I can't understand why the telephone company doesn't advertise this item as it would be such a tremendous help to so many. Perhaps if you print this, others will inquire. It would be a kindness. LUBBOCK, TEX.

DEAR LUBBOCK: Now if Ma Bell would just come up with a gadget that would signal those nonstop talkers to say good-bye.

DEAR ABBY: This morning's paper had a cartoon of a man at a bar being asked how he would like to have dinner with a lonely woman. He jumped at the offer only to have the gal suggest that he go home to his wife! I wonder how many other wives identified with that funny-sad situation.

I have been married 17 years, and for the last 15 years I have been "lonely" six nights a week. My husband was once named in a divorce action, and when I went to see what this woman was like, she cried, "— but Mrs. —, I was lonely." This from a thrice-married woman!

My six children have never known what it was like to have their father at school functions or home for their birthdays. My brother who is a lawyer told me five years ago to leave him. I wouldn't dare. Who would support us?

All the children go to Catholic schools and on Sunday when he is around, he gets them all together and walks around the convent for the nuns to see him, so they can tell me what a "wonderful" father my husband is!

He goes on binges for a week at a time, and comes home for a shower and change of clothes. Have you a solution? LONG PAST CARING

DEAR LONG: If you can't change him, I think your brother's advice is pretty sound.

DEAR ABBY: The coffee shop where I work is located on the first floor of a highrise apartment complex. A certain man who lives in this complex uses our business phone as his own personal telephone. He doesn't have a telephone in his apartment, and he really doesn't need one because he has us taking his calls for him, and uses our phone to make outgoing calls.

Evidently he has given our number as "his" phone number because people call constantly and leave messages for him. He comes in several times a day to pick up his messages and make phone calls. We've told him time and again that we are too busy to take his messages, but it's like he hasn't heard us.

How can we get the message across to this nifty man that this is a business phone and not for his personal use? FED UP IN HOUSTON

DEAR FED UP: You could tell him that in the future you will take no more messages for him, and refuse him the right to use your telephone to make outside calls. Seems rather rough, but that's the only solution.

DEAR ABBY: When friends refuse to fasten their seatbelts in my automobile, how do I diplomatically insist that they do so? WALDEN, N. Y.

DEAR WALDEN: Say, "As a favor to me, I would appreciate if you would please buckle up." And if that doesn't do it, skip the diplomacy and tell them you're not going anywhere until they do!

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

Children Love These Cookies

By CECILY BROWNSTONE Associated Press Food Editor

A wise shopper we know has been delving into the cost of peanut butter. Here's what she tells us:

"In a period of rocketing for prices, it's good to see that a basic nutritious staple like peanut butter is holding the price line favorably. Large-size jars are now available: 18 ounces, 28 ounces, 3 pounds and some stores even carry a 5-pound size. A smart shopper has the best advantage when she chooses the largest size she can use for her family, because the price per pound is significantly reduced as the size increases. If a shopper with a large family can use a 3- or 5-pound size, she will be paying less per pound than 10 years ago, when large-size jars were not generally available."

No matter what size jar you buy you may want to make some peanut-butter cookies—so popular with both youngsters and grownups. So here's the best peanut-butter cookie recipe we've tried recently. Semi-sweet chocolate pieces and salted Spanish peanuts are added and help to make this cookie a delight.

- 3/4 cup unsifted flour, stir to aerate before measuring
- 1/2 teaspoon baking soda
- 1/2 cup (1 1/4-pound stick) butter or margarine
- 1/2 cup creamy or chunky peanut butter
- 1/2 cup firmly packed light

FRESH TOMATO SOUP

Heavy cream may be substituted for the white sauce to produce a richer but slightly thinner soup.

2 pounds (5 medium large) tomatoes

1 can (10 1/2 ounces) condensed chicken broth, undiluted

1 cup medium unseasoned white sauce

1/2 teaspoon salt

Freshly ground pepper to taste

1/2 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce

1 tablespoon minced chives

Wash and quarter tomatoes and place in a saucepan; add chicken broth. Cover and cook over medium heat 10 minutes.

Turn through a food mill to remove skins and seeds and puree pulp. Gradually stir tomato broth into white sauce; add salt, pepper and Worcestershire. Heat just until hot. Sprinkle with chives. Makes about 5 cups. (For the white sauce use 2 tablespoons each butter and flour and 1 cup milk.)

The best way to keep eggs from deteriorating is to store them in cool temperatures around 50 to 55 degrees F. Do not keep eggs in a hot car or away from refrigeration for long periods because the quality is lowered and bacterial spoilage from excessive sweating on the egg increases.

Obscurity Is Lifted By Death

The death of Nikita S. Khrushchev last weekend for a brief time returned from obscurity the name of a man who once held the destiny of the entire world in his hands.

Khrushchev came from humble peasant origins. He was, however, a good party man in the elite ruling Communist party of the Soviet Union. He finally rose to success and then discredited the man who he had followed for so many years.

Khrushchev became party chief in 1953 in the power struggle which followed Stalin's death. In 1958 he added the office of premier and he was to be reckoned with until he was forced from office in October, 1964.

During that time the U-2 incident, when one of our spy planes was shot down over the Soviet Union, and the Cuban missile crisis, when Pres. Kennedy forced the removal of missiles from Cuba, occurred. Both placed great strain upon relations between these two great world powers.

Still, Khrushchev was the best known of any Communist leaders to the American public. One reason for this was his visit to this country. It has been said, however, that Khrushchev might have risen to power in a democratic society because he had a politician's gift with people.

There is reason to believe that Khrushchev admired some of the democratic institutions of the western world and he eased some of the political controls of the Stalin era. Khrushchev was still a hard revolutionary, however, and he sanctioned the Berlin wall and sent tanks in to crush the Hungarian uprising.

When the end of his power came in 1964, it was swift and final, but still he did not face death as had happened to discredited Soviet leaders in the past. Instead he lived as a pensioner, appearing only to cast a ballot at election time and having little to say about the affairs of government and the world.

Khrushchev would have buried us as he said he would, if he could have accomplished this. Still he had a great curiosity about the American way of doing things and it is safe to say that Americans had a high interest in him.

Obscenity Tide Said Abating

By BRYAN HAISLIP
RALEIGH — The tide of obscenity flooding North Carolina is abating, but it is far from rolled back.

In fact, outraged citizens with eradication as their goal may be helpless as Xerxes flailing the waves as long as the permissive current runs in contemporary society.

What can be done legally to control obscenity is limited by "national community standards" relating to sexual books may be a moderating influence, it will take convictions to really prove the new law. Test cases are now in the works, and should come to Superior Court trial in several communities within the next few weeks.

"Quite frankly, we're glad to see the challenge," said Mitchell. Whether the law is constitutionally sound will be determined by the courts. That will be a time-consuming process, perhaps up to a couple of years, if the cases go to the State Supreme Court and thence into the federal court system.

The extent of Tar Heel traffic in pornography is impossible to gauge, said Mitchell, although it obviously runs into millions of dollars annually. He estimated that every city above 50,000 population has one or more adult book stores, and there are some in very small towns in beach or resort areas.

Two chains own, supply and operate the stores. They have an extensive business organization, tying into publishers in New York and California.

High Mark-Up on Filth
"The mark-up is fantastic. A book that sells at retail for $5 may cost something like 50 cents," Mitchell related.

That profit margin means the operators are well-heeled, and able to afford the best legal talent and invest in lengthy court proceedings to protect their business.

Ultimately, it will take public pressure and a reversal in public taste to curb obscenity, Mitchell agreed. That means citizens must get concerned about the situation.

North Carolinians are concerned. Approximately 7,000 of them have sent in form postcards to the Attorney General's office. Each will get a reply, taking note of the new law and steps to enforce it.

The mail campaign originated with Charles H. Keating, Jr., of Cincinnati, Ohio, a member of the President's Commission on Obscenity and Pornography and founder of Citizens for Decent Literature. His letters to Tar Heels asked for donations, and enclosed the cards to be sent along to the Governor and Attorney General.

Mitchell said he wrote to Keating to assure him North Carolina is armed to deal with obscenity.

"We don't resent his efforts. We do feel, since his effort is nationwide, it would do well to concentrate in those states which have not brought their laws on the subject up-to-date as we have done," Mitchell concluded.

BRYAN HAISLIP

matters, said Burley T. Mitchell, state assistant attorney general.

That leaves a relatively narrow area, he said, in a culture that is not affronted by the businessmen's topless luncheon buffet, X-rated movies, and best sellers written in a four-letter vocabulary.

"The day is past when you could expect to have sustained a conviction for obscenity involving the printed word," he said. "When it comes to written material, the line is so fine that it is impossible to deal with it."

The target remaining is pictorial matter — photographs and films — and there the subject must be hard-core, explicitly sexual in nature. Total nudity per se is unlikely to come under prohibition.

Strong Law Enacted
Given the cultural climate, North Carolina has legal weapons as strong as are available to fight obscenity, Mitchell said. The recent legislature adopted a tough law, drafted to standards spelled out in judicial decisions.

Since it went into force July 15, Mitchell said, a softening in content and quality has been observed in pornography available across the state.

"There has been a definite slackening off," he said. "We here reports that hard-core material has been removed from the shelves in adult book stores, and that theaters are no longer running the explicit movies of the stag film type." His personal observation bears it out. He checked an adult book store (one of three in Raleigh) around the corner from his office in the Justice Building, and noted the absence of flagrant material previously on sale.

Weak Province In S. Vietnam

By ROWLAND EVANS and ROBERT NOVAK
PHU MY DISTRICT —

Binh Dinh Province, South Vietnam — This province, for 30 years a Communist stronghold and now target of a new anti-Communist drive, is testing whether the Saigon government can ever control Vietnam sufficiently to remove the perpetual threat of the Communists cutting the nation in two.

Superficially, Binh Dinh is as bad as ever (rated 44th out of 44 provinces in degree of pacification). Its feeble local leadership and local troops permit North Vietnamese and Vietcong units (over 6,000 strong) to roam a countryside still packed with covert Communist sympathizers. To pessimists in Saigon, deterioration in Binh Dinh will trigger regression in government control nationwide, worsening as the last American soldiers leave.

But these pessimists are scarcely aware of a new government campaign, devised by U.S. advisers and launched June 26. Its premise: even with the Americans leaving, Saigon's forces vastly outnumber the Communists in Binh Dinh. The campaign attempts, after a decade of American bumbling and South Vietnamese lethargy in this province, to properly manage that advantage for once.

The importance of the Binh Dinh campaign to this endless war cannot be overstated. The central Vietnam coastal provinces — Binh Dinh, Quang Ngai to the north, and Phu Yen to the south — represent the last heavily populated areas not under government control. If control could be imposed here, Saigon's hand would be strengthened immeasurably in any future negotiations with Hanoi.

Last spring, however, government control in Binh Dinh was fast declining. The U.S. 173rd Infantry Brigade, stationed in Binh Dinh, went into hibernation to avoid casualties preparatory to leaving in August. At the same time, much of the 22nd ARVN (South Vietnamese Army) Division was in the central highlands fighting large-unit actions. The three ARVN battalions still here, filled with conscripts, were rated among the country's worst.

That left territorial troops — Regional Forces (RF) and Popular Forces (PF) — to defend the province. But strangely, PF and RF units experienced practically no casualties. Indeed, territorials strolled through Binh Dinh hamlets without their M-16 rifles. The reason: village and hamlet chiefs controlling the territorials had struck up local accommodations with the Communists, giving them the run of the province.

Intensifying this degeneration was a bizarre interpretation of Vietnamization by U.S. generals in the Second Corps area, which includes Binh Dinh. On the theory that the decade-long American advisory effort had failed, U.S. advisers in Second Corps were instructed no longer to advise but merely to observe. Advisory teams actually were pulled out of Binh Dinh's worst districts.

The Binh Dinh disintegration was not stopped until this past summer when one of the most dynamic figures to emerge from the Vietnam War, John Paul Vann, was named senior U.S. official in the Second Corps area — the first civilian given such authority. An ex-regular Army lieutenant-colonel who has been in Vietnam since 1961, Vann immediately concentrated on Binh Dinh.

Vann correctly analyzed Binh Dinh's first desperate need as improved security. Five battalions of the 22nd ARVN Division were brought here from the central highlands. Ill-disciplined RF and PF units were put under the overall direction of ARVN regimental commanders. Simultaneously, the U.S. advisory effort was rejuvenated with advisory teams returned to the districts they had abandoned. The result: at least 1,000 Communist soldiers killed since June 26.

Nevertheless, Binh Dinh has a long way to go. Thanks to a more rigorous reporting system instituted by Vann, U.S. advisors now rate 53 of (Continued On Page 5)

Strength For Today

SPIRITUAL BEINGS

Living in a world that is as distraught as our present world, it is hard for us to get the idea well into our minds that we are primarily spiritual beings. We have physical bodies that enable us to adapt ourselves to the physical world in which we live. But primarily, and at the very center of our lives, are spiritual factors. These spiritual factors are described by one word — Namely, "soul." This word "soul" occurs hundreds of times in the Old Testament and the New. Jesus on one occasion asked the question: "For what shall it profit a man, if he shall gain the whole world, and lose his own soul?" (Mark 8:36)

The contention of the Bible is that we are put into the world to grow souls. There is nothing wrong in fame and honor, business and money-making, cultural pursuits and political activities. The thing we have to remember, however, is that none of these things is worthy to be put first. We have to put God first in our lives and keep Him there. If we neglect the cultivation of the spiritual side of life nothing can make up for this neglect. What shall it profit any of us if we gain the whole world and lose our souls, "or what shall a man give in exchange for his soul?"

If we allow the physical side of our life to triumph over the spiritual, then we are making the greatest of all possible mistakes. We are here in the world to grow souls, to make the spiritual aspects of life triumph over the physical. Any other course of action is folly.

Good News About Crime

WASHINGTON — There was good news out of Washington last week. According to Atty. Gen. John Mitchell, President Nixon's war on crime has been successful, and the results of the Administration's monumental efforts have been so great that "fear is being swept from the streets of some — though not all — American cities."

He was supported in his optimism by Jerris Leonard of the Justice Department's law enforcement assistance administration, who said the only ones who weren't happy with the decrease in the 1970 crime statistics were the President's critics.

"I believe," Mr. Leonard told a conference of law enforcement officials, "they are principally disturbed because they have lost something — crime as a political issue has been taken away from them. They feel they have been robbed, and being robbed they are angry."

The reason for the euphoria in the Justice Department is that FBI statistics for 1970 indicated that the rate of increase of crime had gone down from 12 percent in 1969 to 11.3 percent in 1970. This sounded terrific until I read that the same statistics revealed that 566,700 more crimes had been committed in 1970 than in 1969. Admittedly confused, I sought out my friend Prof. Heinrich Applebaum, the great Justice Department statistician, whose definitive book "Do Decimals Have a Sex Life?" is used in every math class in the country.

"Prof. Applebaum, the Justice Department reports that the rate of crime has gone down in the country under President Nixon. Yet the same reports says there have been a million more crimes in the past two years. How can that be?"

"It's quite simple," said Applebaum. "Percentage-wise crime has gone down, crimewise it's gone up."

"But where does that leave the average person?" "It depends whether you're a Republican or a Democrat. If you're a Republican you have nothing to fear walking the streets of our American cities. But if I were a Democrat, I'd stay home."

"Are you saying that the Republicans are trying to take the crime issue out of the 1972 campaign?" "They have," Applebaum said. "The last year the Democrats were in office crime had gone up 13.8 percent. When the Republicans took over in 1969, it only went up 12 percent and last year 11.3 percent. The Democrats can't argue with that."

"But still more people were robbed, mugged, murdered and raped in 1969 and 1970 than they were in the previous four years."

"We're not talking about people," Applebaum said, irritated. "We're talking about percentages. You can't think about the people who were molested in 1969 and 1970. You have to think about (Continued On Page 5)

NEW YORK (AP) — Life is a three ring circus in which no man can give all the performances.

He is kept so busy working, raising children, paying off mortgages and improving his wife that he never gets around to doing a tenth of the things he might like to try if he had more time and freedom.

Ever sit down and write a list of things you haven't done but might like to try sometime? It can be self enlightening as well as amusing.

Women's Lib Ran Into Freeze

By ELMER ROESSNER

A complex problem facing the Administration is how to equalize men's and women's pay, as is required under Federal legislation, and also keep wages from rising.

Theoretically, it could be done by lowering wages of male workers down to female worker levels. That route leads to political disaster. The alternatives are to keep the lid on all salaries, violating pay equalization laws, or increase women's salaries, violating the wage-price freeze.

The Government will be off the hook if the freeze thaws at the end of three months. But if it is extended the President will have one more irate, and very vocal, group to contend with.

The Government itself earlier this year supplied the women's equality movement with explosive ammunition for their fight. A Department of Labor study of male and female wages not only showed that salary differentials exist, but are drastic.

LOST GROUND
The median salary of full-time women employees in 1969, the most recent figures available, was $4,977. This was only 60.5 per cent of the median salary for men.

Moreover, the study indicates that while women are making gains in the wages area now, they lag behind the level they achieved a decade previously. In the late 1950s the median salary for women was about 63 per cent of the median salary for men. But it dropped to the upper 50s in the first half of this decade.

The differential exists at all levels with some variations. At the professional and technical levels women's salaries are 64.9 per cent of men's; and among clerical workers, 65.1 per cent. But it drops to 53.1 per cent for non-farm managers, officials and proprietors and then to only 40.5 per cent for sales people.

The argument that women earn less because they usually receive less education is also refuted in the study. Women at all education levels earned less than men with corresponding time in school.

BEST SHOWING

Females completing five or more years of college education apparently are less discriminated against. Their median income was 67.2 per cent of the median for men. The lowest ratio was for those who completed elementary school: 55.6 per cent.

It would be helpful if figures on average salaries had been included as well as on median salaries. One suspects that the median figures for men have been jacked up by the fact that men are in most of the very high paying jobs and that there would be less gap between average salaries of men and women.

Some modification for length of service would also present a clearer picture. Many full-time working women have taken time out to have children and raise families, thereby missing some salary hikes based on length of service.

But that is mere niggling. Even with those adjustments the figures would still make it completely clear that women suffer a very sizable penalty in the salary game because of their sex.

Panel To Offer Single Plan For Higher Education

RALEIGH (AP) — A Senate House committee, wrestling with several proposals to restructure higher education in North Carolina, hopes to narrow them to a definite plan to be presented to the full General Assembly.

Sen. Russell Kirby, D-Wilson, said this Thursday as the joint committee called a recess in its hearings until next Thursday.

Kirby, chairman of the Senate Higher Education Committee, said in an interview, "There's no reason that I can see to give them half a dozen plans. That's what we've got now."

A new restructuring proposal is expected to be disclosed Saturday by Sen. John Burney, D-New Hanover. Burney plans to meet with some 38 senators at Wrightsville Beach.

A group of House members also plans to meet Saturday at High Point with Rep. Ike An-draws, D-Chatham, to discuss the restructuring issue.

The General Assembly reconvenes Oct. 26 to come to grips with the problem.

A committee headed by former Sen. Lindsay Warren recomended last May that a coordinating board be set and that the Consolidated University of North Carolina system be broken up.

Gov. Bob Scott agreed with the deconsolidation, but proposed creation of a board with strong powers to govern the state-supported institutions.

On Wednesday Duke University President Terry Sanford proposed that 15 state-supported universities be placed under a 100-member board armed with strong authority over budget and curriculum.

William Aycock, former chancellor at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, suggested Thursday a plan that would break up the six UNC campuses and place them under a statewide board that would coordinate the institutions.

Aycock and Jacob Froelich of High Point, a UNC trustee, spoke to the joint committee Thursday. Froelich, leader of a UNC trustee group seeking a compromise that would keep the consolidated university intact, said he expects a plan to develop at a meeting in Durham this weekend.

Kirby said "there seems to be general agreement" among committee members that a board or central agency be created. The big question, he said, is how much power should be vested in the board or agency and whether the consolidated university system should be expanded to include all public universities.

Rep. Sneed High, D-Cumberland, said Thursday all parties should present their plans to the joint committee immediately.

"We shouldn't be concerned with any compromise plan, regardless of its source, when it's agreed to elsewhere and then given to us with 'You monkeys rubber stamp it.'"

Rep. Perry Martin, D-Norhampton, chairman of the House Higher Education Committee, also noted that most of the university administrators had ignored the committee's public hearings.

Martin said a personal invitation had been extended to each university president or chancellor.

He added they did not choose to attend "and so far as I am concerned, they can stay at home."

H.F. "Cotton" Robinson, former deputy chancellor of the Georgia university system and now provost of Purdue University, spoke two hours to the committee Thursday about Georgia's regency system. He praised the system's control in "meeting the needs of the people and preventing presidents from creating personal empires."

Robinson was highly critical of proposal that local trustee boards be retained. He said they would erode the central board's power.

Kirby said he definitely believes "the local board will be in whatever we come up with."

Medina Says He Didn't Know Actions Of Men

Associated Press Writer FT. MCPHERSON, Ga. (AP) — Capt. Ernest L. Medina has testified that he had no knowledge at the time of an infantry assault on My Lai that his troops were killing innocent civilians in the South Vietnamese hamlet.

"Reflecting back now, I know that ... I lost control ... because I know that now there were a lot of noncombatants killed by my company," Medina told his murder trial jury Thursday. "But if I had been aware of it that day, I would have stopped it and I would not have let it happen."

It dawned on him only hours afterwards that innocent civilians had died by the score in My Lai because of the rifles of his men, Medina said, after a superior asked him to check out such a report.

He was asked what Lt. William L. Calley Jr., one of his platoon leaders at My Lai, told him when he asked Calley how many noncombatants had been killed.

"Well, he hemmed and hawed. He wouldn't give me a direct answer. I said, 'Well, was it 100? Was it more than 100? Was it 50?'"

Calley finally answered, Medina said: "Well, maybe, I guess it was more than 50."

Medina, 35, of Montrose, Colo., gave a three-hour account of his command of Charlie Company during its sweep through My Lai on March 16, 1968.

The defense is expected to rest its case today.

Medina is accused of failing to intervene while his men killed 100 Vietnamese civilians, of personally shooting a woman, of ordering the shooting of a small boy and of assaulting a Viet Cong suspect by firing two shots over his head.

He could be sentenced to life imprisonment on any one of the 102 murder charges.

Calmly and methodically, with the air of a combat officer reporting to superiors, Medina faced the jury as he told of happening upon 20 to 28 Vietnamese civilians clustered in death along a trail in the village.

Group May Ask Charter

Campaign for Young Voters, a non-partisan, non-profit organization devoted to registering young people to vote, will consider the adoption of a charter Sunday at a meeting at the University of North Carolina at Greensboro.

The charter cites the organization's purpose as being "to assist in organizing and implementing local voter registration drive throughout the State of North Carolina." Its services will be available to any local non-partisan voter registration effort.

Campaign for Young Voters will offer printing services, voter registration services, research assistance, legal assistance, and connections with other local, state, and national voter registration organizations.

For information, one should contact Charles Jeffress, 919-939-5201, or Box 47, Carolina Union, Chapel Hill, N. C. 27514.

Report Averell Harriman Plans To Marry Again

NEW YORK (AP) — Veteran diplomat W. Averell Harriman and Mrs. Leland Hayward, widow of the film producer, plan to marry before the end of the year, the Daily News said today.

Harriman, 79, and Mrs. Hayward, 50, have known each other for many years, the newspaper said in a story by its society columnist, Suzy. Mrs. Hayward was first married to Randolph Churchill, son of the late Sir Winston Churchill, in 1939 and they were divorced in 1946. They had one son, Winston 3rd.

She was married to Leland Hayward in 1960. He died last March.

Harriman's second wife, Marie, died last September in George Washington University Hospital in Washington after a heart attack. They were married in 1930.

the province's hamlets as Communist-controlled (compared with only four when Vann took over). After the recent National Assembly elections, the Vietcong underground showed its muscle by confiscating voter cards throughout the province.

Indeed, Binh Dinh's chronically poor local leadership persists — especially here in Phu My district, perhaps the worst district in the country's worst province. RF and PF soldiers, scared out of their wits at the thought of colliding with North Vietnamese regulars, simply abandon outposts adjacent to the district's seven Communist-controlled hamlets once night falls. But Phu My's district chief, a lethargic ARVN major, makes no efforts to keep the territorial on duty. He has similarly ignored communist activity, including one oceanside hill where guerrillas are entrenched with machine guns and a mortar.

Such lethargy is an old story in Binh Dinh. What is new is that the corps commander, Lt. Gen. Ngo Dzu, is doing something about it. Despite an unsavory reputation as a corruptionist, Dzu is unquestionably aggressive and cooperates well with Vann. Thus, when informed by U.S. advisers about the Phu My problem, the general did a most un-Vietnamese thing: he publicly upbraided the offending district chief during the weekly staff meeting on the Binh Dinh campaign.

The agonizing pursuit of the Binh Dinh campaign, far more than publicized large-unit actions in the central highlands and along the demilitarized zone (DMZ), is the key to South Vietnam's survival. With the Americans finally serving as advisers instead of infantrymen, it is up to the Vietnamese themselves to achieve control of the last populated areas still contested by the Communists. Their fate depends upon it.

Nixon Hints Selective Field Of Economic Controls

By BILL NEIKIRK
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon says his post-freeze economic program will restrain wages and prices in major industries, a clue that he may be aiming toward selective rather than across-the-board inflation controls. "It will have teeth in it," Nixon told newsmen at an impromptu news conference Thursday. "You cannot have jawboning that is effective without teeth."

But Nixon went no further on what will follow the 90-day wage-price-rent freeze on Nov. 13, in what is popularly known as Phase 2. "Phase 2 will be strong," he said. "It will be effective. It will deal with the problem of wages and prices, and will restrain wages and prices in major industries."

Governors who met with Nixon on reported he agreed with them that wage-price curbs to follow the freeze will remain in effect indefinitely.

If Nixon announced that Phase 2 would operate only for a fixed length of time, special interests might manipulate for their individual advantages, said Gov. Arch A. Moore Jr. of West Virginia, new chairman of the National Governor's Conference.

The post-freeze program is being shaped by the Cost of Living Council, headed by Treasury Secretary John B. Connally.

Nixon's news conference was the first indication that selective wage-price restraints, probably on large corporations, may be the key to his Phase 2 plan.

Moore also reported the President said a ceiling on interest rates would be considered for the post-freeze program. The freeze does not cover interest rates.

Workshop Held For Credit Personnel

The general manager and credit personnel of the Pitt-Greene Production Credit Association attended a PCA credit workshop in Rocky Mount by the Federal Intermediate Credit Bank of Columbia, S.C.

The workshop was conducted to assist PCA credit personnel to offer improved credit administration and service to farmers, growers and ranchers using operating and capital investment credit on an intermediate-term basis in their farming operations according to F. L. Little, Jr., general manager of the Association.

Bank included future plans, electronic farm accounting, credit administration, expanding service on a sound basis and other operational topics.

The farmer-owned and operated Pitt-Greene PCA has 1600 farmer-members and is extending $12,335,000 to these members in Pitt and Greene Counties for their short and intermediate-term credit needs.

Attending the workshop with Little were: J. R. Dilda and Arnold B. Parris.

Credit Bank participants in the workshop were: J. C. Moore, senior vice president, J. F. Taylor, vice president, Merrelle W. Harris, state supervisor, and Tom D. Nolan, director — EFR.

Also appearing on the program were Gene Ballard, general manager of the Lumbee PCA in Lumberton and his staff and Tommy Eatman, general manager of the Carolina PCA in Rocky Mount and his staff.

Subjects presented by the officers and staff of the Credit

The Credit Bank provides leadership supervision and agricultural loan funds for 60 Production Credit Association which will extend over $735.0 million of credit during 1971, to over 53,000 farmers, growers and ranchers in North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia and Florida, the Bank's four-state area of operations.

Designed for expectant couples, the classes will be held in the East Carolina University School of Nursing, room 101. Instruction will be provided by the junior level students of obstetrical nursing under the direction and supervision of Mrs. Lona P. Ratcliff, R.N., and Mrs. Therese G. Lawler, R.N., of the School of Nursing.

The cost for the course is $8 per person or $10 for husband and wife. Checks should be made payable to East Carolina University and sent to Non-Credit Programs, Division of Continuing Education, ECU, P. O. Box 2727, Greenville.

Enrollment in the course is limited and advance registration is recommended. Expectant mothers will be required to provide a medical clearance from their physician.

Consumer Field Excesses Feared

CHARLOTTE (AP) — Lt. Gov. Pat Taylor warned Thursday of excesses in the consumer protection field, saying too-tough regulation "may protect the consumer in an immediate, superficial way, but only at the expense of his long range best interest."

Wets Won Point By Two Votes

DOBSON, N.C. (AP) — When the votes were counted Tuesday in an ABC election in the Surry County seat of Dobson, the wets had won by two votes.

Wets Won Point By Two Votes

But an error discovered in the certification Thursday added 10 negative votes and meant the community won't have a liquor store after all. The final count was 186 for, 194 against.

"We are striving for 100 per cent vaccination within the next two weeks," Agriculture Commissioner Jim Graham said Thursday.

They gave up the trek before reaching the school. The youths were protesting the crowded, late and erratic buses they must ride.

The protest involved about 40 white pupils in the beginning, but after the principal told the youths they would have to either go to class or leave the school, half went inside.

There has been no decision on disciplinary action, school spokesmen said.

The lieutenant governor said the movement to protect consumers "offers a tempting spotlight for people in the political arena."

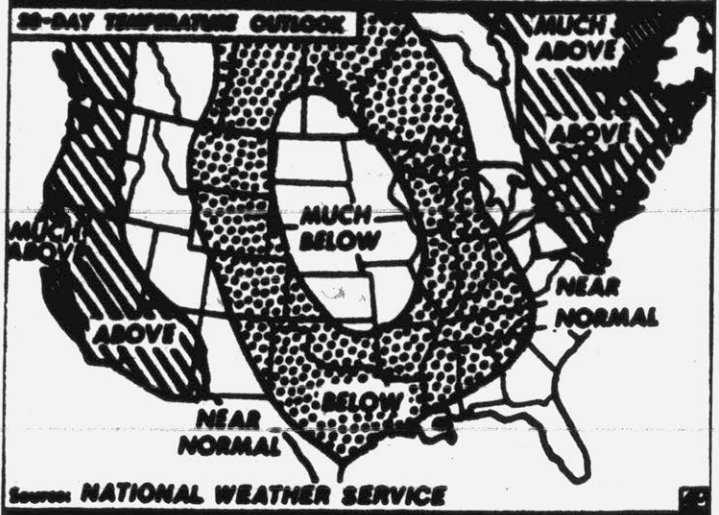

But the department also said the balance of payments, which includes trade figures and long-term capital flows between countries, went into deficit by $3.1 billion in the second quarter, compared with $1.8 billion in the first three months of the year.

Ignored Party Lines In Vote

WASHINGTON (AP) — North Carolina's 11 congressmen ignored party lines Thursday and voted in favor of a bill to give new enforcement powers to the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission.

Blood Drive

On Monday night, September 20, Mrs. Ruth Taylor, executive director of the Pitt County Chapter of the American Red Cross, is scheduled to speak at the Moose Lodge.

Douglas Morgan, chairman of the Pitt County Bloodmobile, commented that at this time, after two collections, the collection is running about 80 units behind the desired quota. "Considering the time of year," Morgan said, "we have been fairly successful to date. We hope the big drive headed by the Moose Lodge will put us ahead in our quota."

Morgan mentioned that prospective donors should keep in mind that because of the tobacco season, chances are good the Moose Lodge parking lot might be filled. "I hope donors will not take a filled parking lot as an indication the collection is being over-subscribed," Morgan said.

The Pitt County Bloodmobile chairman also expressed his appreciation for what he terms "a truly helpful attitude" on the part of most firms and businesses in Greenville. "All but a few," he remarked, "gladly give employees time off from work for this cause and do not penalize them for time required to give blood."

The collection hours at the Moose Lodge on the two day drive are from 10:30 a.m. until 4:00 p.m. As on past occasions, the Moose Lodge will host the persons conducting the bloodmobile drive. Women of the Moose are handling the telephone drive, and members of the Greenville Service League will be assisting with serving refreshments and helping in other ways at the time of collections.

Advances outnumbered declines on the New York Stock Exchange by 12 to 7. Big Board prices included Amerada Hess, up 1½ to 57½; Fannie Mae, up 2, to 71; Polaroid, up 1½ to 109½; Thioko, up ¾ to 13½; and Uniroyal, up ¼ to 20¾.

ECU Paper Earns Award

Fountainhead, the student newspaper of East Carolina University is the recipient of the All-American honor rating for the second semester of 1970-1971. More than 1250 collegiate publications were judged in the Associated Collegiate Press (ACP) competitions for the collegiate newspaper honor.

Rating for college and university publications is based on five areas — coverage and content; writing and editing; editorial leadership; physical appearance; and photography.

In order for a publication to receive the All-American award, it has to be judged superior or receive marks of distinction in four of five categories. Fountainhead rated tops in all except physical appearance, earning a total of 3,550 points. The minimum for a first class rating is 3,200 points.

G. D. Hiebert, who rated Fountainhead, said the paper had "Full news coverage and then some." He also praised the editorial feature pages of ECU's newspaper.

Airline Orders Collision Alarm

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—Piedmont Airlines has become the first U.S. air carrier to order an electronic system designed to eliminate the threat of mid-air crashes.

The device, known as the EROS II collision avoidance system automatically warns pilots when a collision is in the making and tells them what action to take to avoid a crash.

EROS II also can be adapted to warn pilots of dangerous ground obstacles, such as the high ridge of trees near Huntington, W. Va., Airport that was cited in the 1970 crash that killed 75 Marshall University football players and fans.

Piedmont expects to spend more than $1.5 million to equip its fleet of Boeing 737 jetliners with the system. The first units will be delivered early in 1972 for testing, with the system hopefully becoming operational early in 1973.

"Initially, we'll equip the 737's and when we're financially able we'll equip the rest of our fleet," said Capt. W. O. Tadlock, Piedmont's vice president for flight operations.

Tadlock, himself a veteran pilot, is "most enthusiastic" about the system, calling it "the most significant advance in over-all aviation safety in quite a number of years."

According to the National Transportation Safety Board, there have been 23 mid-air accidents so far this year, including the June 6 collision of an airliner and a military jet in California in which 49 persons died.

Basically, the EROS II system involves a precision device that measures and computes time and distance.

Every three seconds, the unit transmits a brief radio signal containing the aircraft's identification and altitude. During the remainder of the three-second period, it "listens" for signals from similar units on other planes.

When two planes on a potential collision course are 40 seconds apart, the EROS II visual indicator advises the pilots another craft is nearby above or below. The pilots then can take the proper evasive maneuver.

But if the collision courses are maintained, at the 25 - second mark the unit will begin beeping and flashes a visual command to the pilot to either dive, climb or maintain level flight.

New York City was founded by the Dutch, who called it New Amsterdam.

Farmville Leaf Prices Still High

FARMVILLE — Prices on the Farmville Tobacco Market yesterday were steady to a little higher as compared to the previous sale day.

"Several sheets of better leaf and quality cutters sold for 89 cents per pound," said Louis Williams, sales supervisor for the Farmville Tobacco Board of Trade. "Fair and low grades accounted for more than half of the sales."

Stabilization receipts accounted for 1.97 percent of gross sales.

A total of 624,229 pounds of leaf was sold on the Farmville market yesterday for $497,465.27, yielding an average of $79.70 per hundred pounds.

Tribe Visits Bucs In Southern Opener

The nightmare of last weekend must be forgotten Saturday night as the East Carolina University Pirates turn their minds and bodies to another foe on the turf of Ficklen Stadium. Last week, only prestige was riding on the game with Toledo. This week, that and a whole lot more are involved.

The visitor this week is defending Southern Conference champion William & Mary, which got off to a fine start in the defense of that title. The Indians defeated The Citadel, 35-28, after trailing 21-7 at the end of the first period of play.

The win was a costly one, however, as they lost one member of their starting offensive unit, running back Todd Bushnell, with a broken collarbone. Three members of the defense were less slightly injured and may be ready to play against the Bucs.

The Pirates, while William & Mary was pulling off its comeback, battled to get on the scoreboard and failed, falling 45-0 to powerful Toledo. The Pirates were the 24th straight victim of the Rockets. Oddly enough, William & Mary was the 23rd, falling to them 40-12 in the Tangerine Bowl last year.

"We were outmanned all the way," ECU Coach Sonny Randle said. "They outplayed us in every possible phase of the game. We made some mistakes, and when you make mistakes against a team like Toledo, you're giving up six quick points."

The Rockets took advantage of two defensive lapses early in the game to take a quick 14-0 lead over the Bucs.

While Randle admits that this deflated the team, he feels that the Bucs were within reach of pulling back into the game right after that. The Pirates pushed down the field to the 20 on the following series of downs, only to turn the ball over on a fumble. "We were moving the ball well then," Randle said. "If we could have scored, it would have been 14-7, and that would have made a lot of difference. We needed to get a lift, but we never got it."

There was only one bright spot in the game, the punting of Clark Davis, who averaged 41-7 yards for nine boots. One traveled 64 yards, setting a new modern ECU record. But Randle wasn't satisfied with the team's coverage of those punts, despite the fact that Toledo returned only two for a net of five yards.

"We just didn't get down field fast enough. Our front three were down there and they were able to get some pressure on them and force the fair catch, but if they'd ever gotten outside..." Randle said.

He also singled out the play of defensive tackle Rich Peeler as being outstanding in the game.

"We've done all in our power to iron out our mistakes. If we make them now, it's just a lack of concentration," the coach said.

Two changes in the lineup will be made this week. Allan Williams will take over for Greg Burke at defensive tackle, while Ted Salmon will move into Les Walker's spot at defensive end.

The offensive starting unit will be the same.

"We are going to try and get some swing players into the game from time to time to get the players rested a little, but we won't be making any wholesale substitutions," he said.

Randle also had praise for the play of his sophomore quarterback Carl Summerell. "We had a breakdown in blocking and in assignments and it put him under a lot of pressure going against the best defense in the country. He's going to be all right, and will surprise those who've been too quick to criticize him."

In their opponent of this week, the Pirates face the team that Randle says is the best in the Southern. "A true indication of this was the way they came back against The Citadel. Any time you're down 21-7 in the first period in Charleston and come back and win, you've done something. It's the mark of a great football team," he said. "The only one close to them is The Citadel, and they've already beaten them."

This doesn't mean Randle is giving up on the game, as he still feels his team can be a definite factor in the loop race, if not winning it outright.

Defensively, Randle feels that the Indians will not compare with the fine Toledo team. "We certainly should be able to score on them," he said. "We feel we can move the ball on anyone, although we didn't against Toledo."

"They have a sound defense, and some very good players. But they are certainly not as strong as Toledo," Randle said. He listed Harry Walters, the monster back, cornerback Warren Winston and linebacker Wally Ake as the three top men in the Indian defense. "They are a well-coached team," he added.

"The Citadel was able to move the ball against them both in the air and on the ground, but Lou Holtz (W&M coach) has probably done a lot to correct any mistakes they made and shore up the defenses."

Offensively, the big part of the show is running back Phil Mosses and quarterback Steve Reagan. Mosser last year was named the Conference's Player of the Year, and got away to a fine start this year by being the first loop Player of the Week. He picked up 98 yards in 19 carries and scored two touchdowns.

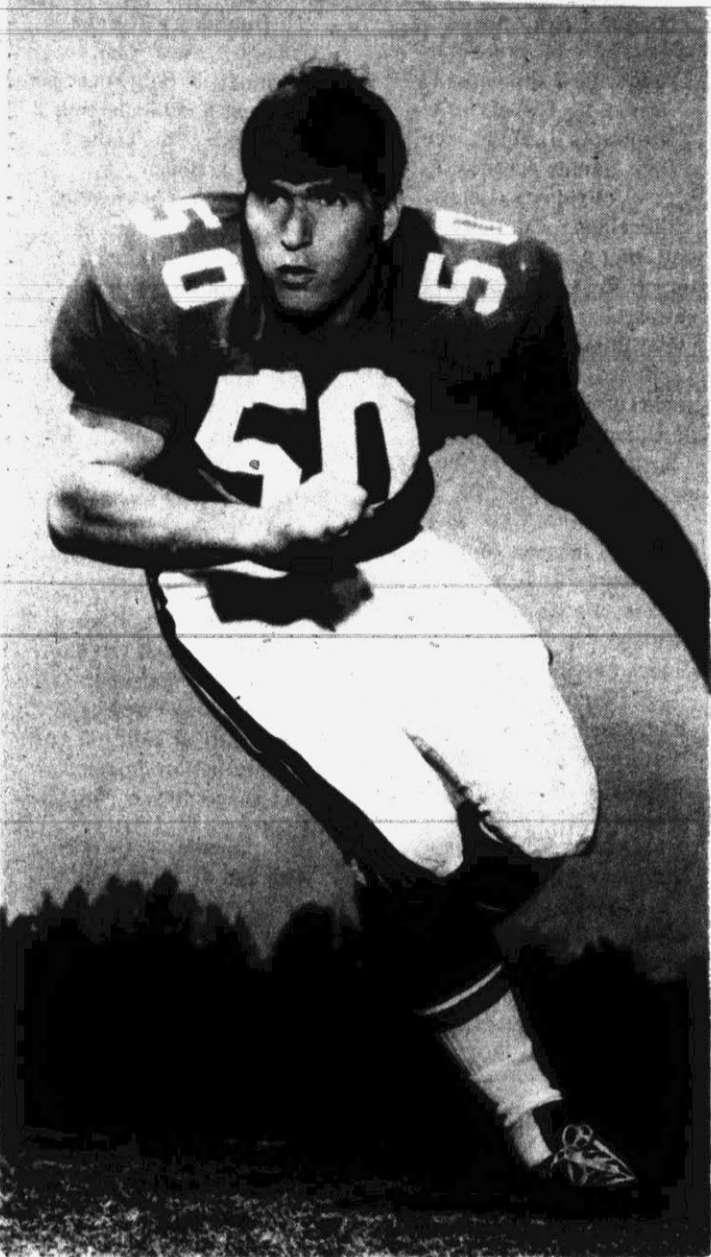

"He's as fine a running back as you'll see this year," Randle said of Mosser.

Reagan, the quarterback, picked up 68 yards in 24 lugs last week, scoring once. He also hit on seven of 10 passes for 99 yards and another touchdown. Mosser proved to be his favorite target, getting four, while end David Knight is another fine receiver for him.

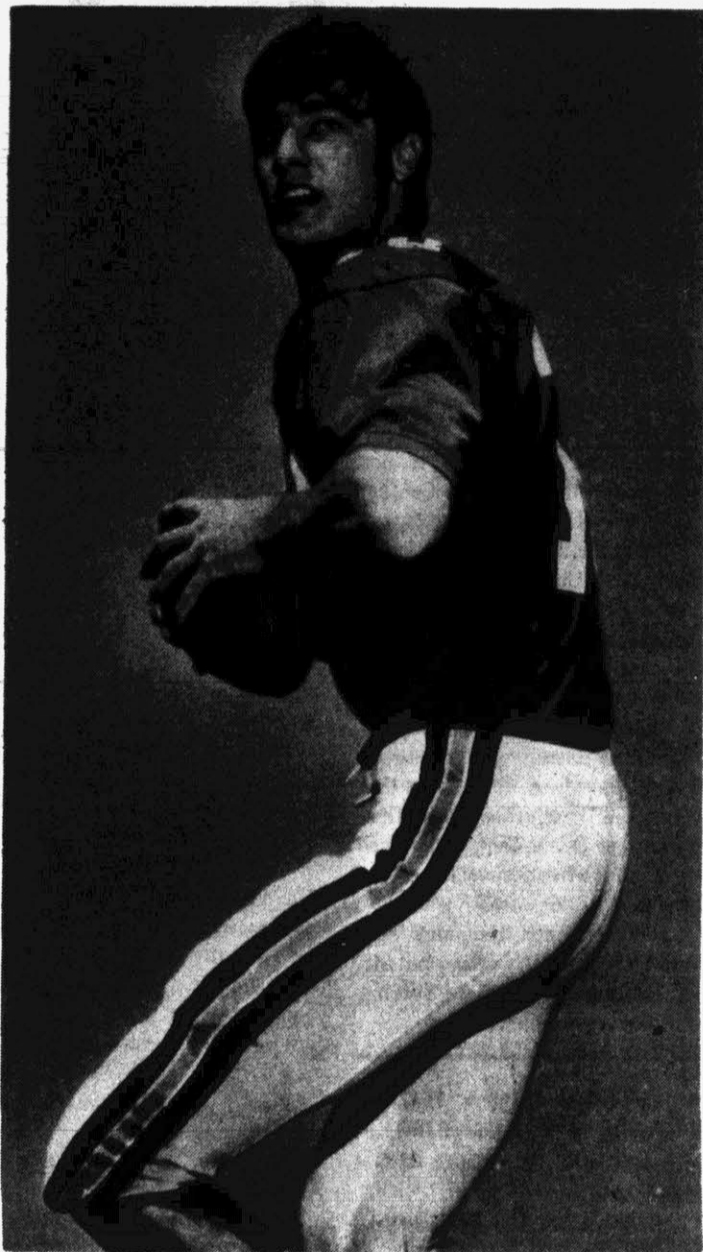

"Reagan runs the veer offense as well as anybody around. He's an exciting type player who makes things happen," Randle said. "He throws well and would compare well with Larry Russell of Wake Forest. He'll mix their offense up pretty well."

The game itself is a must type contest for both teams. "It should be a much closer matched game," Randle said. "We're the underdogs, I guess, but that's okay, too. We're in good physical condition, and we should be ready."

Game time in Ficklen Stadium is 7:30 p.m.

Pirate Runners Opening Season

East Carolina University's cross-country team opens the 1971 season Saturday with a 10 a.m. meet with Pembroke, at the Pirate field.

The starting and finish line is in the area between the track and the baseball field. Coach Bill Carson said that Pembroke as three outstanding runners on their team. They include Victor Elks, who finished third in the six-mile run in the state last year, and Bill Lattie and Robert Knowles.

"I don't believe their top five will be as strong as ours," Carson said. "But I look for a good battle from them. If we don't take them seriously enough, we could easily get beaten."

Carson said he was unsure which of his runners would come in first, but said that his top seven should score well. They include Ed Hereford, Bob Pope, Dennis Smith, Jerry Klas, Jim Kidd, Lannie Davis, and Rusty Carraway.

He'll field a team of 12 for the meet, and the other five include Mike Cahill, Ron Hochmuth, Jerry Hilliard, Ken Philmanski and Ed Rigsby.

"We've had some good workouts recently," Carson said. "And our attitude is improving. I feel we're ready to start the season."

Carson is looking for a "pretty good season," from his team, and notes he has the strongest crop of freshmen he's ever had.

In the state, however, Carson feels that he won't be able to touch the stronger North Carolina and Duke teams, but will battle for third place with the rest. In the Southern, William & Mary again stand above the rest, with ECU and Furman battling for second.

Rampants On Road

Rose High School's Rampants travel to Wilson tonight to meet the unbeaten Titans of Fike High School.

The game will be played on the Titan field at 8 p.m. Wilson comes into the game with a 2-0 record against outside opponents having scored 90 points while giving up just 13. Rose has a 1-1 mark, also against non-conference foes.

San Diego Halts LA Bid For Second Time

By KEN RAPPOPORT Associated Press Sports Writer "We haven't had much fun all year," said Manager Preston Gomez of the San Diego Padres.

Well, his team is finally getting some laughs at the expense of the Los Angeles Dodgers.

The Padres, last in the National League West with the worst record in baseball, beat Los Angeles 4-1 Thursday night and halted the Dodgers' drive toward the top of the division.

The loss prevented Los Angeles from moving into a tie with San Francisco after the slumping Giants lost 8-1 earlier in the day to the Cincinnati Reds.

"The only thing we can do is knock off some of the contenders," said Gomez, whose Padres also won the opener of the two-game set at Dodger Stadium Wednesday night. "At least we can get some people talking about the Padres."

The Padres not only had the Dodgers talking about them, but also talking to themselves. "You've got to help yourself to get the breaks," said a disappointed Walt Alston, the Dodger manager. "We just haven't been helping ourselves the last two games."

While the Giants maintained a one-game lead despite themselves in the West, the Pittsburgh Pirates neared an easy clinching in the East by stopping second-place St. Louis 6-1. The Pirates pushed their lead to 9½ games over the Cardinals and any combination of three Pittsburgh victories or three St. Louis defeats will cinch the pennant.

In the other National League games, the Chicago Cubs nipped the New York Mets 1-0; the Montreal Expos stopped the Philadelphia Phillies 6-2 and the Atlanta Braves trimmed Houston, 4-3.

Despite beating the Dodgers twice in two nights, Gomez still likes their chances for the division pennant.

"They've got the good pitching, the bench, and most important, they've got a great manager," said Gomez. "I've watched Alston and he's as cool and as calm as you can be. Another guy might be running up and down the bench."

Fred Norman, a former Dodger who pitched a seven-hitter for San Diego, called the victory "the biggest of my career."

He had lost his first four decisions to his former teammates.

"It's the best I've ever seen Norman pitch," said Alston.

Nate Colbert, Larry Stahl and John Jeter poked home runs for the winners.

Cincinnati's Ross Grimsley extended San Francisco's September slide with a three-hitter as the Reds cut down the Giants. It was San Francisco's 11th loss in 12 games, a nose-dive which shaved most of its 8½-game lead in two weeks.

George Foster, traded by San Francisco to Cincinnati earlier this year, crashed a grand slam home run as the Reds sealed the victory with a five-run eighth inning.

A combined seven-hitter by Luke Walker and Ramon Hernandez led Pittsburgh over St. Louis. The Pirates scored two runs in the third and two in the fourth, all off Cardinal starter Jerry Reuss.

Hernandez replaced Walker in the sixth with the bases loaded and one out and retired the side with one run scoring on Lou Brock's infield out. He didn't allow a hit in 2 2-3 innings of relief.

"I'll push success," said Pittsburgh Manager Danny Murtagh, speaking of his hotheaded relief artist. "If I've got somebody hot going, I'll find somewhere for him."

Juan Pizarro pitched a six-hitter and drove in the game's only run with a homer as Chicago beat New York; Steve Renko stopped Philadelphia on five hits for Montreal and Sonny Jackson stroked a tie-breaking single in the eighth for Atlanta.

Petty Is Not Fast Enough

NORTH WILKESBORO, N.C. (AP) — NASCAR drivers experimented with their cars and new carburetor sleeves Thursday on the five-eighths mile North Wilkesboro Speedway where they will run Sunday.

Superstar Richard Petty found his Plymouth was not fast enough to keep up the pace he expects in the Wilkes 400 race, so he took it back to Rangleman for more tuning.

A field of 32 cars will compete for $28,000 in prize money to be awarded in the 250-mile event.

The will include NASCAR Grand American cars as well as Grand National machines. The Grand American entries are small sport sedans, while Grand National cars are larger autos.

Qualifying is scheduled Saturday and Sunday, or if rains come, Sunday.

Bobby Allison turned in the fastest practice lap Thursday and averaged about 106 miles per hour in a Ford. Charlie Glotzbach's Chevrolet was next at about 104 m.p.h. Petty was slower than both.

Cubs Fall To Wilson

Wilson Fike High School's junior varsity rolled to a 26-0 victory over Rose High's Rampant Cubs yesterday.

It was the opening game of the year for the Cubs.

Rose was unable to generate a scoring threat until late in the game, but didn't quite have enough time left, and was on the one when time ran out.

Coach Bud Phillips singled out the punting of Ronnie Rasberry and the running of Keith Joyer as the highlights of the game for Rose.

Woody's Ramblin's

By WOODY PEELE

The opening of the collegiate season didn't fill this writer with joy. At least not as far as the outcome of this column's picks were concerned.

But a lot of times, you have to expect that at the start of the year, until the teams settle down a little.

There are a number of top contests on the slate for this weekend, so let's get down to picking the outcomes. And hopefully, things will go a little better than planned.

Rose High School travels to Wilson to meet the strong Titans tonight. The Rampants gained a surprisingly easy victory over Washington last week, but they still didn't really generate any offensive action. The defense did most of the work.

Wilson has shown that they have both a strong offense and a good defense, rolling up 90 points in two games, while allowing 13.

It's the first conference game for each, and both will be after a win to get a good start. We must pick Wilson to win this one on the basis of what's been shown so far.

Greene Central travels down to Southern Wayne in what could be a key game in the Eastern Carolina Conference. The Rams need the win to remain on top, and Southern needs one to climb back up after tying last week. It should be a tough game, but I'll stick with Greene Central in this one.

Farmville Central travels to Southern Nash after tying Eastern Wayne last week. The Jaguars made some mistakes last week, but should have them overcome for the Firebirds, who have yet to win this year. Farmville all the way in this one.

Conley pays a visit to Ayden-Grifton, another tied team. The two should be starting a new Pitt County rivalry with the game.

Conley, however, just hasn't the experience to stay with the more powerful Chargers. Ayden-Grifton is the choice here.

Robersonville visits Aurora in a key Tobacco Belt Conference game this weekend. The Golden Eagles ripped Chocowinity last week, and if that is any indication of their true strength, the rest of the conference had better watch out. This game should be a better test, however, but we'll stick with Robersonville.

Williamston goes to Scotland Neck in an Albermarle Conference game. The Tigers are also off to a good start, winning their first two. They should make it three in a row.

North Pitt travels to Eastern Wayne after dropping its opener last week. The Panthers are not ready for this type competition right now, and Eastern Wayne is a solid choice.

On the collegiate scene, the big game hereabouts is the William & Mary-East Carolina encounter. The Pirates are still smarting from their 45-0 drubbing at the hands of Toledo last weekend. William & Mary has proven that it is one of the top contenders in the Southern by their comeback victory over The Citadel, 35-28, last week.

It promises to be a knock-down-drag-out battle between the two, with the Indians pumping it as a battle between All-Southern Player-Of-The-Year

State, Maryland Tie Up In 1st Atlantic Coast Family Battle

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Atlantic Coast Conference football teams, 3-4 after their opening weekend, are assured of at least one victory this weekend.

North Carolina State goes to College Park to face the Maryland Terps in the first conference matchup of the new season.

Other games send Virginia to fourth-ranked Michigan; North Carolina to another Big Ten school, Illinois; former league member and 17th-ranked South Carolina to Duke and Wake Forest to Virginia Tech.

The South Carolina-Duke game is the only one with unbeaten teams. The Gamecocks knocked off No. 17 Georgia Tech, 24-7 and vaulted into the Top 20, while Duke upset Florida, 12-6.

The only other winners among Saturday's opponents are North Carolina, which beat Richmond, 28-0; and Wake Forest, victor over Davidson, 27-7. The Tar Heels' opponent at Champaign, Urbana, Ill., lost to Michigan State, 10-0. Virginia Tech did not play last week.

The highlight battle will probably be at Durham. Neither Duke nor South Carolina was favored over opening opponents, and both won with outstanding individual performances.

Their meeting is also the first of the season between the Gamecocks and an ACC team.

As the squads put finishing touches on their plans for the games Duke coach Mick McGee was figuring ways to stop explosive defensive back Dick Harris from running kicks back the way he did against Georgia Tech. Harris took one 77 yards for a touchdown.

South Carolina coach Paul Dietzel was preparing to stop fullback Steve Jones, who rushed for 204 of the 288 total offensive yards the team piled up.

The big scoring punch was soccer-style kicker Dave Wright's four field goals, which Dietzel must also defense.

Another afternoon game is the first meeting ever between North Carolina and Illinois. The Tar Heels' methodical win at Richmond will be tested against a team which will probably be cured of fumbettis.

Illinois bobbled the ball away seven times in the Michigan State game, giving new coach Bob Blackman a fit. North Carolina's strong offense and stout defense will be pressed to the limit by the improving Illini.

The Wolfpack discovered a new star in a last-minute, 23-21 loss to Kent State. He is sophomore Willie Burden, who set a new school rushing mark. Against Maryland, a 28-13 loss to Villanova, Burden and the two other sophomore setbacks who will start will be out to give new coach Al Michaels a triumph.

Michaels moved Mike Stultz and Charley Young into the No. 1 backfield Thursday, along with senior quarterback Dennis Britt and Burden. They will face a Terp defense which recovered a fumble to a TD and ran a punt back for another in the Villanova game.

At Ann Arbor, the Virginia Cavaliers are definite underdogs to Michigan, particularly after dropping a 10-6 decision to Navy. Michigan was a pre-season pick to win the Big Ten title and go to the Rose Bowl, and it has the personnel to do so. The Wolverines walloped Northwestern, 21-6, two touchdowns by end Dave Rather on a pass and a fumble recovery.

The defending conference champion, Wake Forest, has a trouncing of Davidson under its belt and tries for No. 2 against the strong Gobblers. Tech has a new coach, Charles Coffey, but an unknown strength. Wake Forest, meanwhile, has quarterback Larry Russell, who scored 26 of his team's 27 points last week.

Associated Press Sports Writer
ST. LOUIS (AP) — Youth and the prospect of continued cool weather stood in Great Britain's immediate favor as Ryder Cup golf matches resumed with four-ball competition over Old Watson Country Club's sprawling course today.

But a leader in an American try for a comeback, Jack Nicklaus, hinted strongly his team's best may be saved for the last in the international test.

"I think traditionally we never seem to do as well in four-somes," the powerfully built Nicklaus said in reference to Thursday tests resulting in a 4 1/2-3 1/2 deficit the Americans carried into today's eight matches.

"We just don't seem to play it enough," he added. "Where we should do better and where we always have in the past is with singles."

At least the first part of Nicklaus' contention was borne out when Britain, paced by brilliant shots off the clubs of young Tony Jacklin, ran up a 3-1 lead in Thursday's Scotch foursomes.

The brash Brits continued to pour it on with a 2 and 1 victory by youngsters Harry Bannerman and Bernard Gallacher before a second victory by Arnold Palmer and Gardner Dickinson stemmed the assault. Nicklaus, rallying from what he termed an "incredibly poor" morning round, teamed with J.C. Snead to trim Britain's lead to 4-3.

America's best in the biennial tests appeared to have earned a 4-4 deadlock until the muscular Jacklin, uncanny with his wedges, chipped in from 50 feet on the 18th hole of the final match to forge a tie for himself and Brian Huggett against gingers Lee Trevino and Mason Rudolph.

Trevino and Rudolph were to take the course again this morning in leading off best-ball matches, and the weather was of no small concern to the non-playing captain of either team.

"This certainly is the kind of weather our players favor," said an ebullient Eric Brown, whose Britishers gained the lead through opening-day matches a first time on American soil.

Only half-jokingly, U.S. captain Jay Hebert declared, "I think the weather's been in their favor. I'm not squawking, but I don't think our boys are used to playing in these conditions."

Adrian Is Ineligible

DAVIDSON, N.C. (AP) — Davidson College has announced that basketball star Bryan Adrian has become academically ineligible for the coming campaign, and is not enrolled at the Southern Conference school.

The college said the 6-foot-3 New York City native could become eligible by enrolling in a school, such as Queens College in nearby Charlotte, that is academically affiliated with Davidson, making up credits in the fall quarter, and re-enrolling at Davidson. If he does this he would be eligible by the first game in December, but there was no indication whether he planned to do so.

Adrian missed his junior season with an injury last year after leading the team in scoring the previous year.

Phil Mosser and the ECU running backs (principally Carlester Crumpler in the W&M releases). The Indians are more on the level of the Bucs, and they should be ready for this one.

We feel the Pirates can come back for this one and win it.

In other Southern Conference games, it'll be The Citadel over Bucknell; Davidson over VMI, and Furman over Presbyterian. In the ACC, South Carolina should take Duke, State should beat Maryland, North Carolina will inch by Illinois, Michigan will storm by Virginia and Wake Forest will beat Virginia Tech.

Season's record: 12 right, 7 wrong, 63.2 per cent.

Janet Stoughton is the 1971 women's champion of the Greenville Tennis Club. She defeated Ann Sayetta yesterday in three matches to gain the title.

The Greenville Tennis Club is now in the midst of its championship tournament, which will be concluded Monday night.

In the women's championship flight, Mrs. Stoughton downed Mrs. Sayetta, 7-5, 3-6, 6-1. She had gained the finals by defeating Bardee Bond, while Mrs. Sayetta downed Sis East to gain the last match.

In the first flight, Harriette White captured the title, beating Bardee Bond, 6-3, 6-1. Mrs. White downed Lu Ann Williamson and Mrs. Rawl beat Ria Grasman in the semi-finals.

Ann Atmore won the second flight, beating Marie Stokes, 6-4, 6-4. They had downed Pam Woodard and Betty Tart to gain the finals.

In the junior girls division, Ann Pittman beat Joan Harrison for the title, after downing Chip East in the semi-finals. Miss Harrison beat Josie Rawl to gain the finals.

The doubles event in the women's division has reached the finals, which are to be played today.

In the championship flight, Sis East and Ann Sayetta downed Bardee Bond and Joan Hooper, 6-1, 6-1, while Harriette White and Lib Proctor defeated Bardee Bond and Lu Ann Williamson, 7-6, 6-2.

The two surviving teams meet today for the title.

In the first flight, Blanche Monroe and Ann Pittman downed Marie Stokes and Sykes, 6-4, 7-5, in one of the semi-finals. The other match, between Ann Atmore and Nancy Bissette and Pam Woodard and Betty Tart will be played today, with the finals following.

The men's singles also gets underway today, with the tournament scheduled to wind up on Monday.

Appointments To Synod In Rome Evangelist Stir Unusual Alliances, Twists

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—Church affairs, like politics, produces some unexpected twists, miffs and potential alliances, all of which were evident this week in a couple of situations in Roman Catholicism.

In one case, the appointment of two U.S. priests for the Church's international synod in Rome next month rankled the National Federation of Priests' Councils, even though it regards the two men as friends.

Voicing disappointment, it said that two other priests who have been representatively elected by their colleagues should have been named—but were passed over by the bishops.

In the other case, a conservative lay group, Catholics United for the Faith, sought to enlist both liberal and conservative groups in a combined protest against a move to shelve temporarily steps for a representative Church council.

"The bureaucratic setup is simply not listening to lay organizations despite all the talk about broader contact and participation," said Kirby M. Sheridan, New Rochelle, N.Y., executive director of Catholics United.

"We believe this a problem in which all of us, whether liberal or conservative, can join in a united protest."

The unusual tactic was aimed at findings of a committee, set up by the U.S. bishops, that formation of a nationally representative Church body, including both priests and lay delegates, is not feasible at this time.

The committee said some mechanism of shared decision making is needed, however, and suggested its own parent group, a 50-member advisory council designated by the bishops to assess the matter, might serve the purpose on an interim basis.

"This would mean the same old bureaucratic team still would be running the show," Sheridan said.

The call of the 8,500-member conservative group for joint protest went to more than 30 Catholic organizations, both liberal and conservative. It was the first such formal bid for concerted action, and while responses were not yet in, there were indications of mixed reactions.

and liberal groups on the matter, Ternes said it was an "encouraging idea."
In Chicago, the Rev. Francis J. Bonnike, president of the National Federation of Priests' Councils, said it felt that trying to form a national representative body at this time would be premature.

On the other hand, the federation issued a statement voicing displeasure that the bishops had not picked Father Bonnike

Kidnappers Sentenced

WADESBORO, N.C. (AP) — Two unemployed half-brothers from Charlotte were sentenced to 25 to 30 years imprisonment Thursday on conviction of kidnaping the mayor of nearby Peachland and robbing him of $27,000.

The two, Roy Rogers Hubbard, 20, and John Earl Sturdivant, 24, who grew up in the Peachland area, were arrested after a police chase shortly after the robbery last June 7. All the money was recovered.

Baxter T. McRae, 69, a retired lumberman, told authorities that two masked gunmen who had hidden in his office forced him to drive to Wadesboro and withdraw $27,000 from a bank, and then released him unharmed near Wadesboro.

Hubbard and Sturdivant are being held in jail under bond of $25,000 each until a decision is made whether they will appeal their Superior Court convictions.

New Fire Chief For Charlotte

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — John E. Lee, fire chief at Oak Ridge, Tenn., has been chosen as the new Charlotte fire chief.

Lee, who was born in Raleigh 48 years ago, was selected by the City Council Thursday from among 64 candidates, nine of whom were interviewed by the council.

He served in the fire departments of North Miami and St. Petersburg, Fla., before becoming chief at Oak Ridge five years ago.

He will assume his Charlotte post in a month, succeeding Chief Walter Black, who is retiring.

Lee will be leaving a 51-man fire department to head one with almost 500 men.

Revival services will be held at the Hickory Grove Free Will Baptist Church beginning Monday night at 7:30. The Rev. Elbert E. Edwards of Chocowinity will be the guest evangelist for the services. Services will continue through Saturday night, Sept. 25. The pastor, Rev. Hubert Burresses, extends an invitation to the public to attend the services.

Youth Rally At Church Sunday

An area youth rally will be held at Mount Pleasant Christian Church Monday at 7:30 p.m. with Barry McCarthy as the speaker.

McCarthy holds the rank of Sanky Brown Belt with the Seishin Kai Karate Union and has been practicing karate for the past two years.

He is now instructing a club at Roanoke Bible College and hopes to complete this requirement for the black belt with the next year.

In February, he won second place in the 1971 Georgia State Karate Championship in his division.

He hopes that in the future, with the aid of churches and youth groups, to expand the Karate for Christ Program into high schools and community groups.

Will Speak At Church Sunday

The Rev. R. F. Farrow and his gospel singers of Mt. Calvary F.W.B. Church, Baltimore, Md., will be the featured speaker at Mt. Calvary F.W.B. Church, corner of Hudson and Ward Streets, here, Sunday at 11 a.m.

The No. 5 Choir of Mt. Calvary will present its regular services. The name dandelion comes from the French dent de lion (lion's tooth).

Missionary Will Speak

The Rev. Paul L. Williams, a newly approved Assemblies of God missionary to South India, will be guest speaker tonight at 7:30 at the Faith Assembly of God.

The announcement was made by the pastor of the church, Rev. M. A. Howell.

The Rev. Williams and his wife, Julia, will be working in the Assemblies of God Industrial School, Shencottah, Tamil Nadu, India, during their first term of missionary service.

The Rev. Williams graduated from Southwestern Assemblies of God College, Waxahachie, Tex., where he received his B.A. degree. Mrs. Williams also attended Southwestern Assemblies of God College.

He has pastored churches in Oxford, Miss., Sentinel, Okla., and Belmont. The couple has a daughter, Sherri Lynn.

The Rev. Williams will be presenting the ministry of the industrial school during this special missions rally.

Cousins Taken Off Probation

BARNSTABLE, Mass. (AP) — Robert F. Kennedy Jr. and R. Sargent Shriver III have been taken off probation.

Judge Michael J. Donahue, sitting in juvenile session of Barnstable District Court, released the cousins from a 13-month probationary period on Thursday.

Kennedy, son of the late New York senator, and Shriver, son of the former Peace Corps director, were charged in August 1970 with being delinquent by reason of possession of marijuana. Both were 16 at the time.

"They completed all of their probationary terms, according to the report of the probationary officer," Donahue said. "In fairness to the boys the cases were dismissed."

It is a beautiful afternoon, and Ken and Monica might have gone for a ride in the country. But they've come to the hospital to visit a classmate.

It isn't always a "fun" thing to visit someone in the hospital, to call on an elderly aunt, or to take a gift to a shut-in. But usually you feel better when you do.

This is a "hurry up" world we're living in. We tell ourselves that there isn't time for the little kindnesses. There isn't time for a lot of things — like, maybe, going to church.

Who are we kidding? Ourselves, perhaps?

Some Suspect Central Florida Not Prepared For Disney World

By PAT LEISNER
Associated Press Writer
ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — Ready or not, the Walt Disney World entertainment complex will be coming to central Florida Oct. 1. Many people feel central Florida isn't ready.

Disney people predict 10 million people will visit the $400-million pleasure world the first year.

Taking that figure at face value, officials of neighboring counties express fears of choked highways, jammed restaurants, inadequate lodgings, stranded travelers, juvenile runaways.

Some officials are leary that even booming area construction won't be enough to accommodate rapid, staggering demand.

"There's only so much you can do," said Dr. Robert Poe, Orange County Commission chairman. "When Disney opens its gates the problems will be there, immediately. But there's a time lag of several years for money to return itself for improvements." Tourists will be overnighting as far as 80 miles away, according to Tom Brownlee, executive director for the Orlando Chamber of Commerce and coordinator of a regional lodging group.

"There will be a shortage of 3,000-4,000 motel rooms a night in peak seasons the first two years," he said. Visitors, like it or not, may find themselves driving 60 miles north to Daytona Beach or an hour west to Tampa for a room.

The police see a different problem. "Let's face it. With all these people coming here the traffic problems are going to be horrendous," said Orlando Chief Robert Chewing.

The Florida Highway Patrol, which recently canceled leaves for all troopers in central Florida in October, is asking for 162 new officers to police the area. "We plan to put any extra men authorized into central Florida counties because of Disney the frets are unfounded and World," said Ralph Davis, public time will prove so.

The sprawling Walt Disney park similar to Disneyland in California, its motels, camping grounds, golf courses and lagoons—is nearly ready.

City Counts 2 Collisions

Two collisions investigated here yesterday by police resulted in an estimated $1,210 property damage.

Officers reported heaviest damage resulted from a 9:30 a.m. mishap at the intersection of Ninth and Cotanche Streets and involved cars driven by Carol Stopps LaFone, 21, of 1307 Dickinson Ave. and Woodie Marshall Rouse, 31, of Route 3, Greenville.

Damage to the LaFone car was set at $400 while damage to the Rouse vehicle which overturned on its side, was set at $600.

Miss LaFone was charged with failing to yield the right of way.

Eddie Lee Barnes, 56, of Route 1, Jackson was charged with failing to see his intended movement could be made in safety after the truck he was driving collided with a car driven by Francis Jewell Alman, of Asheboro about 10:05 a.m. on Memorial drive, 250 feet North of the Dickinson Avenue intersection.

No damage resulted to the Barnes truck. Damage to the Alman car was set at $210.

No injuries were reported in the mishaps.

The Worry Clinic Love-Hungry Children Wait

Test your "empathy" by Johnny's problem. And heed the wise advice of the Orphanage Superintendent. Adopted babies may never appreciate foster parents as much as boys and girls of Johnny's age, who have long yearned for the emotional security of happy family life!

By GEORGE W. CRANE, Ph.D., M.D.

Case R-565: Johnny B., aged 11, is a colored orphan. Recently he was sent to a local dentist for a check-up. "Doc," he began, "can you give me a big gold tooth, right here in front?"

The dental surgeon shook his head. "Johnny," he replied, "your front teeth are good so why do you want a big gold tooth?"

"Because I expect to be adopted soon," pearly replied the boy, "and I figure they're more likely to pick me out if I got a shiny gold tooth in front."

The doctor sensed Johnny's great hunger to be in a normal quest of foster parents. But his search proved fruitless so he headed back to the orphanage in time for supper.

"Johnny is a bright boy," the Superintendent of the orphanage told me later, "and his hunger to be adopted is so great that he fabricates stories that people are coming to get him before nightfall."

"Perhaps it is an attempt to keep up his own frightened ego. 'Maybe he is figuratively 'whistling in the dark' to bolster his own courage."

"Dr. Crane, please remind your readers that they shouldn't focus entirely just on adopting babies."

"For we have a lot of bright boys and girls, just like Johnny, who would be doubly devoted sons and daughters!"

Carefully note the Superintendent's warning! For many babies who have been adopted before they ever felt Johnny's keen hunger to be included in a family, thus may never appreciate their foster parents properly.

But youngsters like Johnny, who have lived 10 or 12 years without the emotional security of a happy, devoted family, thus become far more appreciative of being adopted.

Remember, too, that the true family bond is not based on blood lineage whatsoever, for Cain murdered his own blood brother!

And King David's son Absalom tried to kill David and usurp his father's throne!

If you play the parent-child game correctly, youngsters like Johnny will become devoted sons to all your life.

You married couples simply "adopt" each other at your wedding, though of totally unrelated blood ancestry.

Yet you feel closer akin thereafter than to your own blood siblings with whom you grew up as a child.

So adopt love-hungry youngsters like Johnny!

Send for my booklet "Facts About Pregnancy and Foster Children," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 25 cents.

It tells you the most tactful way to inform a foster child of its adoption.

$11,966 For Nurse Funds

The U.S. Public Health Service has awarded the East Carolina University School of Nursing a grant of $11,966 for a long-term professional nurse traineeship program.

The funds will be used to pay the tuition, fees and living expenses of a number of qualified registered nurses who return to ECU to earn the bachelor's degree in nursing.

According to Dean of Nursing Evelyn Perry, there has been a recent trend among practicing nurses to realize the need for the baccalaureate degree in modern nursing, and many return to a university program to earn the necessary credits toward the four-year degree.

Nine of last June's graduates in ECU School of Nursing, said Dean Perry, were registered nurses enrolled in a similar traineeship program.

WEATHER SEEKERS

LONDON (AP) — Britons are getting more weather-conscious. The telephone company operating a "dial-for-forecast" service reported handling 13,250,000 calls in 1970—almost a million more than in 1969.

Meadowbrook Board Will Meet Monday

The September meeting of the Greenville Board of Education is scheduled for Monday, September 20 at 8:00 p.m. in the board room of the city school office, 431 West Fifth Street.

Items scheduled for the September meeting are primarily routine in nature, with matters such as informational reports in the areas of school facilities, budget-finance, and similar subjects slated for presentation.

Also on the agenda is discussion of a policy or policy position on plans for improved school-community relations, and the possibility of changing the student holiday earlier scheduled for November 2 to November 9th due to a change in the NCAE District Meeting date.

Recommendations will be heard on the time to play varsity inter-scholastic football in order for the board to shape up a policy decision on this matter.

Pepsi

You've got a lot to live
Pepsi's got a lot to give

What we mean is this: living isn't always easy, but it never has to be dull. There's too much to see, to do, to enjoy. Put yourself behind a Pepsi-Cola and get started. You've got a lot to live.
