Honors Shared By Grifton, Simpson

Top honors in the three divisions of the Coastal Plain Development Association's Community Judging Contest were awarded here Thursday night to Leggett Community, Edgecombe County; Union Town-Darden; Martin County; and Grifton, Pitt County.

The winners were announced at the Association's Annual Meeting held at the Moose Lodge in Greenville. Jim Hunt, Jr., Association President, said that the winning communities represented 58 communities and about 6,100 families in the six-county area.

The Grifton Community was selected as first place winner in the village category based on the excellent cooperation of all organizations within the community. In reporting to the judges the community stated: "Considerable time and effort on the part of all people has fostered mutual respect and cooperation in our community." Outstanding projects for Grifton included a clean-up campaign, Shad Festival, securing new businesses, water and sewer expansion, completed Little League Park, sponsored several athletic teams for the youth, and had a well-rounded summer recreation program for the entire community. The library was improved greatly in 1971 as well as other community facilities.

The Leggett Community was named first place winner in the small rural community division based on outstanding accomplishments in the area of increased income, family living, youth and community service. Approximately 45 families planted family gardens valued at $13,500. Over 60 improvements were made in the homes of the community. Youth attendance in organizations has had a tremendous increase during 1971. The community organization sponsored several fix-up-clean-up campaigns.

Will Act

Shortly after noon today, Mayor S. Eugene West, referring to the situation current in Ayden, said "If this trouble should shift from Ayden to Greenville, or if trouble starts in Greenville, as mayor I will take whatever steps are necessary to protect the health, safety and welfare of the citizens of Greenville. "This could be in the form of a state of emergency, a curfew, or both," Mayor West added.

Mayor West noted that Charles Gaskins, Chairman of the Pitt County Commissioners, with whom he met this morning, had stated he would take whatever action necessary to accomplish protection of Pitt County citizens.

Curfew In Ayden

AYDEN — Town officials here this morning declared a state of emergency to begin at 12 noon today and remain in effect until further notice. Mayor Ross Persinger, in making the announcement, said a curfew will be in effect from 7 p.m. — 6 a.m., beginning tonight, until further notice.

According to Persinger, the declaration of a state of emergency and the curfew were made in the face of reports that Southern Christian Leadership Conference president, Dr. Ralph David Abernathy would be in Ayden today.

Hand bills saying Abernathy would hold a press conference in Ayden about 2:15 p.m. today and be in Greenville for a public meeting tonight were being circulated in the Ayden area earlier.

Persinger said no public gatherings would be allowed under the state of emergency. He indicated any public gathering, such as the press conference, would be in violation of the state of emergency declaration.

Reminded 'Freeze' Met Demands Labor Chiefs Hear Nixon

By NEIL GILBRIDE
AP Labor Writer
MIAMI BEACH (AP) — President Nixon, going before an AFL-CIO convention that has heaped ridicule on his economic policies, asked organized labor's cooperation today in striving for "prosperity in peacetime."

In his prepared text, Nixon did not mention the union federation's vote Thursday to sharply limit its participation on the administration's Pay Board—a target of oratorical sarcasm by AFL-CIO President George Meany. Although Nixon acknowledged "we will have disagreements on the direction of Phase 2" of his anti-inflation program, he said, "There are mechanisms established to resolve those disagreements."

Said Nixon: "If we work together to resolve these disagreements, we can have what this nation has not seen for 15 years—prosperity in peacetime. I am confident that we can achieve it together. I ask you to join together with us in the effort to achieve it, and I pledge to you that we will come out of this phase of the new economic program into a period of sustained prosperity that will repay many times over any immediate sacrifices that any segment of the American work force is called upon to make."

Nixon devoted the bulk of his text to a review of what he termed the administration's "positive record of achievement on behalf of American labor."

After citing a variety of new laws he has signed that cover such areas as unemployment compensation and on-the-job safety, the President said:

"They demonstrate that we have more in common in terms of goals for the American working man than we have in conflict."

Nixon argued that Phase 1 of his economic program, and notably the just-expired wage-price freeze, was a success.

He said: "The only thing that went up during the freeze was jobs. For those who have maintained that the freeze was intended as a plum to business, let me point out that corporate profits declined during the freeze."

At one point, Nixon took an indirect poke at Meany, who had been vocal during the past year in calling for federal wage-price controls.

Said the President:

"The freeze was not directed against labor; it did not affect labor alone, it affected all segments of the economy and it was an action which was in perfect harmony with previous demands by many labor leaders to establish wage-price controls."

AFL-CIO convention delegates shouted approval Thursday of a resolution that said, "The American labor movement will not permit itself to become the scapegoat of administration policies which have brought this nation to the brink of economic disaster."

Eleven Areas Annexed

Greenville 1,026 Acres Larger

By JERRY RAYNOR
Reflector Staff Writer

Greenville today is approximately 1,026 acres larger than it was yesterday and portions of three streets adjacent to the university remain in the city system instead of being withdrawn.

Both developments occurred at a Special Call meeting of the Greenville City Council Thursday night designed to clear up a big backlog of pending actions.

Annexation of 11 separate areas received unanimous approval with only one annexed area not incorporating all the original land proposed for annexation. In earlier public hearings, opposition had developed in several of the areas, notably the large 417 acre Area No. 2 that includes the Hugh Winslow farm and other farm properties; the two areas bordering Red Banks Road, and a portion of Area No. 5, sections of Meadowbrook. It is this latter area from which originally proposed portions north of Pactolus Highway and three tracts south of the highway were deleted as not in the best interest of the city to take them in. Inclusion of state highway property between Green Street extended and N.C. 11 would have resulted in having to furnish city services at reduced prices without receiving taxes from state owned property.

Areas annexed and approximate acreage involved in each instance are:

— The Dudley Farm, comprising a residential area adjoining the Pitt County fairgrounds and a large swampy tract along N.C. 11 bordering Tar River, 226 acres.

— Portions of Meadowbrook, including a residential area north of Mumford Road east of the present city limits and the Brewer-Marshall Concrete Works along Pactolus Highway, 35 acres.

— The Blount property, a 50 acre tract between Greenville Boulevard and Evans Street extended.

— The C.W.S.J., Inc., property, a 33 acre tract adjoining the Blount property and commercially developed areas north of Greenville Boulevard.

— The Sunoco property, at the northeast intersection of Greenville Boulevard and South Evans Street extended, 5.4 acres.

— The B and D Trailer Sales lot, formerly Dora's Grill, a plot of less than one acre on Greenville Boulevard.

— An undeveloped tract of land of 26 acres directly behind Pitt Plaza Shopping Center.

— The large 417 acre rambling tract of former city island between Hooker Road and the Seaboard Coast Line Railroad and extending across Greenville Boulevard, including the property of WNCT Television station.

— The 206 acre Brown Farm, north of First Street and on the Tar River.

— Two areas, located closely together, both on the south side of Red Banks Road. One area is 17.0 acres, the other contains 10.2 acres.

Major S. Eugene West, noting that annexation would in some instances cause certain hardships, pointed out that for the best interest of the city the islands of non-city land within the city limits needed incorporating in order to eliminate many existing problems.

In the matter of withdrawal of portions of East Eighth Street, Charles Street, East Seventh Street and a 20 foot alley from the city's dedicated streets. Mayor West told council members he had met with university officials and had not

Phase 2 Weaknesses Leading To Nixon's Defeat: McGovern

Sen. George McGovern of South Dakota says that weaknesses in Phase II of the president's wage-price freeze program will lead to Nixon's defeat in 1972.

McGovern, in Greenville Thursday night for a reception at the home of East Carolina University president Dr. Leo Jenkins, said at a news conference prior to the reception that the major weakness of the economic program is that it "doesn't do anything to end unemployment."

The senator, candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination, remarked that everywhere he goes, there are people who can still "cite examples of price increases" with the freeze in effect.

McGovern, who cancelled a scheduled afternoon speech at ECU to remain in Washington for roll calls on a key campaign spending bill, arrived by plane shortly before 8 p.m. and remained in town a little over an hour before flying on to Miami, Fla. to attend the National AFL-CIO convention.

At the brief news conference, the presidential candidate told reporters that Nixon couldn't have picked a worse choice "for the Secretary of Agriculture appointment in Dr. Earl Butz" but he added that he did not think opponents of the Purdue University dean could put together enough votes to block the appointment. McGovern asserted that he would vote against his confirmation.

Responding to questions on other issues, McGovern said that the key to ending the war in Vietnam is to "set a deadline for the withdrawal of all U.S. forces."

On the subject of busing to achieve racial balance in schools, he said that he feels the nation is "stuck with busing for the time being," noting that busing is an "artificial and ineffective way to achieve desegregation." Busing, he added, is "an outgrowth of our failure . . . to face up to the problem of integration."

McGovern told newsmen that he would not consider the vice presidential seat if his bid for president failed. He noted that he would prefer to remain in the Senate.

The Democrat reported that he had not decided on whether to enter the presidential primary in North Carolina in May, noting that he would take a long look at the situation in the state before making a decision.

Crept Upward

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government reported today that the cost of living rose two-tenths of one per cent last month despite the price freeze, as a result of higher prices for 1972 automobiles, winter and fall clothing and shelter.

The increase was about half the average month-to-month increase that prevailed before the price freeze began Aug. 15. It compares with a three-tenths of one per cent increase in August and a two-tenths of one per cent increase in September.

The October increase puts the Bureau of Labor Statistics' Consumer Price Index 3.8 per cent above a year ago, the smallest 12-month change in more than 3 1/2 years.

While prices crept upward despite the freeze, the Labor Department also said that average weekly earnings for private, nonfarm jobs declined two pennies to $129.11.

The increase in prices for October was slightly more than usual for this time of year. After taking seasonal factors into account, the Bureau of Labor Statistics figured the price rise at an adjusted one-tenth of one per cent increase. It said this was the smallest seasonally adjusted rise since April 1967.

The unadjusted figures showed that food prices declined in October by two-tenths of one per cent while cost of housing rose three-tenths of one per cent, apparel went up eight-tenths of one per cent and transportation rose seven-tenths of one per cent.

Gardner Says—

CHARLOTTE (AP) — Jim Gardner, who ran unsuccessfully for governor of North Carolina in 1968 after being a Republican congressman, said today he will not be a candidate for the U.S. Senate this year.

In a statement distributed to newsmen at the state GOP convention, Gardner said he is giving serious consideration to running for governor.

One Republican has already announced his candidacy for that post — former state party chairman Jim Holshouser.

One Convicted In Connection With Farmville 'March'

FARMVILLE — One civil rights worker was found guilty in District Court here yesterday on one count of contributing to the delinquency of a minor while 56 similar cases against the defendant and two other men were dismissed.

George Kirby, an aide to Southern Christian Leadership Conference field secretary Golden Frinks, was sentenced to two years in jail by Judge Robert D. Wheeler after being found guilty on one charge.

Kirby, Frinks, and Willie Fleming had been charged with a total of 57 counts of contributing to the delinquency of minors following an October 4 march in Farmville.

Judge Wheeler, saying there was no evidence offered to indicate that Frinks or Fleming had any prior knowledge of a town ordinance requiring a permit for parades or demonstrations, found the two not guilty. The remaining charges against the three defendants were dismissed after attorneys stipulated that the evidence in each of the cases would be the same.

Last month, 25 cases against each of the three men were dropped after it was found that the warrants charging contributing to the delinquency of minors named persons over 16 years of age.

Stroke Fatal To Archie Burrus

Burrus, a motel and restaurant operator at Manteo, had served in the General Assembly since 1965.

Permits Issued For Nearly 300 Apartment Units

Apartment construction remains a very active field in Greenville, with permits issued in the first half of November alone amounting to almost 300 units in three separate construction projects, with a total construction cost of $2,460,000.

Building Inspector John W. Wilson reported that the first apartment permit of November, issued on November 4, was to Leo Hawkins, general contractor for King's Row Apartments, to be located on the north side of East Tenth Street across from Cedar Lane. This apartment complex, to be housed in five buildings of a row-type, with brick fire walls between each building, will consist of 36 one bedroom units and 72 two bedroom units. The building permit for the 108 units is in the amount of $900,000.

On November 10 a building permit for a single apartment building was issued to J. J. Perkins.

The apartment unit is planned for erection at the corner of Amery and Baker Street facing the Tar River and will contain eight apartments of two bedroom capacity. Building permit for Perkins was for an amount of $60,000.

The most recent and largest of the three apartment construction permits was issued on the morning of November 18. Wilson said the cost of this project is $1,500,000, with the permit issued to Godwin Building Co., Inc. of Warsaw, with Devonshire Investment Company of Raleigh listed as owners. To be located at the north end of Nichols Drive and Devonshire Drive, the complex will be on an 18 acre site with 22 buildings to contain 180 units, and an additional building to house four apartment units. This construction is the first phase of the development of an area lying east of U.S. 264 bypass and south of the Washington Highway.

Beverage
EASY CHICKEN TETRAZZINI
1/2 pound spaghetti
1 envelope (1 1/2 ounces) spaghetti sauce mix
1 cup chicken broth
1 cup undiluted evaporated milk or light cream
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 to 3 cups diced cooked chicken or turkey
1 can (3 or 4 ounces) sliced mushrooms
1/4 cup grated Parmesan cheese sauce. Pour chicken mixture over spaghetti; sprinkle with cheese. Bake in a preheated 400-degree oven until lightly browned and bubbling hot—about 20 minutes. Makes 6 servings.

WEEKDAY SUPPER
Ham and Egg Cups

Salad Bowl
Gingerbread with Applesauce
HAM AND EGG CUPS

Two pantryshelf ingredients are used.

4 hard-cooked eggs
1 can (4 1/2 ounces) deviled ham

1 can (10 3/4 ounces) condensed Cheddar cheese soup

1/4 cup milk
2 tablespoons minced parsley

8 slices bread

Cut eggs in half lengthwise and remove yolks. Place whites in a buttered shallow baking dish into which they just fit.

Mash yolks with deviled ham and fill cavities of egg whites with mixture. Heat cheese soup, milk and parsley; cover eggs with 2-3rds of this sauce.

Bake at 350-degrees until eggs are hot—about 15 minutes.

Make toast cups of bread by cutting off crusts and fitting into muffin-pan cups. Bake at same temperature as eggs until tips of cups are browned—10 to 15 minutes.

Place toast cups on plates; spoon remaining hot cheese sauce into cups and add eggs. Makes 4 to 8 servings.

Compulsive Eater Needs More Than Diet

By Abigail Van Buren

(© 1971 by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd., Inc.)

DEAR ABBY: I am sitting here in one of my usual stupors—stuffed as a pig!

I am a compulsive eater. I cannot seem to stop eating once I start, and I start for any number of reasons. If I'm bored, unhappy, troubled, worried or angry. I say, "Oh, to hell with everything," and I head for the fridge to "treat" myself.

Of course I have become so repulsive to look at that my husband has lost all interest in me, altho I think he still loves me.

Clothes? I refuse to go shopping. I'm too ashamed of myself to even take my coat off in public. Sure, I would love to lose weight and be a normal human being again, but there are no Weight Watchers in my city. And no psychiatrists either. The physicians in this town say, "Here's a diet, you big slob—now follow it!"

I have so much compassion for anyone who is hooked on drugs, or booze, or anything, because I'm hooked, too. On food! What I want to know is, can anyone help me?

SICK OF MYSELF

DEAR SICK: You are "sick," all right. But you know what your problem is, and you're calling for help, which means you are half way home. You don't say where you live, but wherever you are, if there is a Mental Health Clinic or a Family Service Agency, go there! If there is neither, then take a trip to the nearest city which has one and present yourself. Please write again and enclose your name and address. I want to personally help you.

DEAR ABBY: My husband, who is pushing 40, has suddenly become very jealous of me for no legitimate reason.

I do daywork for different people. Every Friday I work for two very nice gentlemen who live together and are so wrapped up in each other they couldn't care less about me or any other woman.

Yesterday my husband came to pick me up at their place and they stood outside and blew me kisses, saying, "Good-bye, Doll. See you next Friday!"

My husband was so mad he drove home 80 miles an hour, cursing and throwing a jealous fit.

Abby, believe me, I am in no danger with these fellows, but my husband doesn't believe me. He reads your column every day and believes you. Please help me and tell him not to be jealous.

SAFE IN SAN FRANCISCO

DEAR SAFE: If you're telling it like it is, and I believe you are, your husband has no reason to be jealous.

DEAR ABBY: I'm still titting over that letter about the cow who would permit only men to milk her. Of course, men can win any milking contest hands down. Solving the cow's problem may take some pull, but for the right person it should be in the bag. Sign me "BO VINE" IN SEATTLE

An assortment of Christmas decorations will be available for purchase in addition to homemade cakes, pies, cookies and candies.

A "country store" will feature collards, pickles, aprons, afghans, home canned goods, and other items.

Mrs. H. L. Roberts, Mrs. Earl Simmons and Mrs. Jesse Jordan are serving as co-chairmen for the bazaar.

Members Visit Nursing Home

Members of the Home Life Department of the Woman's Club of Greenville visited the patients at the Greenville Nursing and Convalescent Home Tuesday afternoon.

The department members remembered the patients with favors and refreshments were served.

The visit was held in place of the November meeting. On Dec. 21, the Home Life Department will meet at the home of Mrs. Preston Cannon for a Christmas program.

Panel Members Give AAUW Program

The topic for the Monday night meeting of the AAUW was "Crisis in Public Education."

Miss Kathryn Smith, program chairman, introduced the following panel members: Mrs. Vivian Mills, primary education; Mrs. Betty Credle, intermediate teacher; Miss Judith McDuffy, junior high; and Mrs. Sandra Stinson, high school.

The panel pointed out that the most dynamic trend in education has focused around individualized teaching with learning centers being used in the primary grades. Students learn at their own level of achievement and a more relaxed atmosphere is present in the schools of today.

Mrs. W. A. Pollard presided in the absence of the president. She announced that Mrs. Robert Lee Humber plans to lead a discussion group on "World Problems" when she returns from Europe. This will be open to any interested members.

Two AAUW sponsored trips are available to interested members — a trip to Spain is scheduled for Dec. 23-30 and a visit to the Holy Land has been set for June 26-July 15. Interested persons may contact Mrs. Wellington Gray for further information.

Mrs. Mary Frances Lewis of Farmville was a guest.

Problems Being Faced Head-On

Gov. Bob Scott has not established his reputation by failing to meet problems head-on and it appears that he is ready now to end discord in the state's schools.

The governor has called for a statewide conference of concerned citizens for Dec. 6 to tackle the problems and "to pinpoint the causes."

He said he wants the conference "to formulate a plan of action to restore and maintain a proper climate of learning in our public schools."

"Something is wrong, my fellow North Carolinians, when fear walks the halls and corridors and lurks in the rest rooms of our public schools. Something is wrong when a youngster has to fear what may lie around the corner, when he has to worry about being badgered, intimidated, subjected to indignities or indignities, shaken down for his lunch money, or physically manhandled or assaulted."

It would be easy indeed to sit back and assume that the problems cited by the governor will right themselves. Particularly would it be easy for a governor entering his last year in office to leave such problems to the future.

The problems are not going to go away by themselves, however, and it is going to take the efforts of the state's most responsible citizens to solve them.

More often than not the problems in the schools reflect unrest in the community and generally the answer to this is to solve the great social problems that plague our entire nation.

Gov. Scott made it clear in his talk before the Northern Piedmont Development Association that he wanted to create general concern about the situation. He said he wanted to "cause a great wave of public concern in North Carolina that will say to all of society that we are determined that our public schools will be operated free from fear, distrust, vandalism and hoodlumism."

We feel that the majority of our people are interested in the same goal. We are pleased to see the governor take the lead in an effort to find a solution to this problem.

Another David And Goliath?

By BRYAN HANSLIP

RALEIGH — David and Goliath makes a great Sunday School story, but how well will it translate in politics?

There are overtones of the Biblical tale in the Democratic primary fight brewing for the U.S. Senate.

Sen. B. Everett Jordan is a giant in the ranks of party leadership. Years of service have given him a phalanx of friends in high places, the secure position and influence of seniority.

Rep. Nick Galifianakis, younger and less entrenched in the power structure, is a warrior with flair and daring. He is a campaigner unabashed by the odds, self-confident in the face of an uphill battle.

That the two will meet in combat for the Senate seat Jordan has held since 1958 now seems certain.

The speculation that Jordan, 75, might choose retirement rather than a try for reelection to a new six-year term has been erased by his own emphatic disclaimers and his energetic demonstration of recovery from last year's operation for cancer of the colon.

Galifianakis Near Decision

The possibility that Galifianakis would back out of the race after testing the waters has been foreclosed by his continued tight schedule of travel and appearances across the state. The crush of candidates for the Fourth District seat in Congress which he would leave open to run for the Senate also makes a reversal of field unlikely.

All that remains is a formal announcement of candidacy by the Congressman, and that is now on the immediate horizon.

While Jordan and Galifianakis may be the principal figures in the fight for the Democratic Senate nomination, it probably won't be a hand-to-hand match. In fact, the scrap may become a free-for-all.

Two Mecklenburg state senators, Herman Moore and Jack Baugh, have talked about getting in the race. From time to time, a number of other names have been mentioned as possibilities.

One hopeful who decided a sling-shot campaign couldn't win against the incumbent's artillery has gotten out. Dr. Eugene Grace of Durham withdrew after a few months' whirl as an announced Senate candidate.

Dr. Grace, an ophthalmologist, said he couldn't see a chance for any Democrat against Jordan. That sweeping prediction included Rep. Galifianakis, whose hometown also is Durham

Primary Only One Step

The primary will be simply the first stage in the battle for the Senate prize. In the past, the Democratic nomination would have given a hammerlock on the seat but that kind of prospect will be dim indeed for 1972.

Republicans talk confidently about electing a North Carolina Senator next time around. They regard Jordan, if he is the nominee, as vulnerable by reason of age and health. If Jordan should be knocked off in the primary, the GOP counts on lingering bitterness from the fight to benefit its candidate.

Who that will be remains uncertain. Rep. James T. Broyhill of Lenior, the first choice of many Tar Heel Republicans, has all but closed the door on the Senate race. He's inclined to stick with the Congressional post he's held since 1962.

Jim Gardner, Rocky Mount businessman and '68 GOP gubernatorial candidate, may come forward. There's a stirring of interest in some circles of the party for a place for Gardner on the '72 ballot. Sources close to the family say politics remain much on Gardner's mind, and he might be enticed into the U.S. Senate race.

Party Leaders Concerned

The outlook for a strong Republican challenge is enough to cause high level concern among the Democrats.

After Jordan's illness last year, some party leaders hoped he would withdraw and leave the field to a consensus nominee with the party united against the GOP risk. For the same reason, some now would like to persuade Galifianakis to let Jordan go unchallenged.

In spite of such misgivings, the stage is set for a rousing primary campaign.

The two men are poles apart in appearance and approach, yet each represents an aspect of the American success story.

Jordan is a preacher's boy who became a millionaire in the free enterprise system. Conservative in style and manner, he epitomizes the Establishment as a textile manufacturer who has moved with the chiefs of business and politics for three decades.

Galifianakis, 43, is a curly-haired Greek who laughs easily and likes gimmicks in campaigning. An immigrant's son, he's a former Duke University law professor and state legislator.

On the fact of it, politicians rate Galifianakis a long shot in taking on Sen. Jordan. Not much smart money was on David in his celebrated encounter, either.

Busing Fuse In Detroit Is Lit

By ROWLAND EVANS and ROBERT NOVAK

DALLAS — With the U.S. Congress up in arms against school busing to attain racial balance, public school authorities are fighting a rearguard action in this deeply conservative city to prevent the busing issue from subverting an educational system that has made a sophisticated adjustment to modest racial busing.

Operating under a district court order issued last summer, some 7,000 secondary school students are now being bused without a single public outburst of the type that brutalized Flint, Mich., early this fall.

Actually, the district court ordered far more extensive busing, but Federal district Judge William M. Taylor, Jr., agreed to delay until January a major part of his busing order which will add another 10,000 or so pupils.

Hanging over the Dallas independent school system, however, is a legal action by minority appellants seeking more extensive relief from the Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals. It is widely assumed here that the Fifth Circuit, after hearing arguments on the appeal on Dec. 2, will issue a far more sweeping order that could involve the crosstown busing of up to 35,000 students, about one-fifth of the total in the nation's eighth largest school district.

For example, Judge Taylor's stay leaves intact three high schools with black majorities of more than 80 per cent, one of which (South Oak Cliff High) has only slightly over 1 per cent white enrollment.

In what probably will prove to be a vain attempt to influence the Fifth Circuit (which has handed down some far-reaching school desegregation decrees), Judge Taylor broke new ground in his limited busing decision.

Pointedly referring to the fact that the Fifth Circuit

"has applauded 'imaginative and innovative' actions by (lower) courts" to wipe out all legally-backed (de jure) segregation in the public schools without inducing "white flight" to the suburbs or private schools, Judge Taylor ordered a unique form of elementary school pairing by closed-circuit television.

Thus, two predominately white schools are to be linked with one predominately black or Mexican-American school by simultaneous, two-way oral and visual communication. These paired schools and classrooms must share at least one hour a day in regular televised classroom work.

In addition, these paired white-and-minority elementary schools must have one weekly visit "of an educational nature" during regular school hours, providing at least three hours of personal contact between the paired classrooms.

This novel approach, a form of arm's-length desegregation, was strongly pushed by the Dallas school board, which figures the cost at about $10 million for the first year. Most of that money would go for the closed-circuit television equipment.

But that part of Judge Taylor's desegregation order was immediately stayed by the Fifth Circuit until it decides the appeal. The stay was at the request of black appellants who argued that the Fifth Circuit would never buy such a plan and that therefore the $10 million would go down the drain.

Finally, Judge Taylor authorized any black student in a black-majority school to enroll in any white school of his choice, with free transportation. So far, 1,100 blacks have opted for majority-white schools.

But even with Judge Taylor's extremely modest order to desegregate the Dallas system, the mood here is becoming more and more restive. In the most recent

NEVER GIVE UP

We live in an industrial age. When the steam engine came in almost two hundred years ago very few people realized that a new era had dawned. Some of us can remember the first automobiles, with crowds gathering about them in amazement. A few said that they were mere toys and would be off the market in a few years. Now we are not satisfied to stay on the earth but have to get to the moon, and God bless the chaps that have done this. What about those other planets out there? Are some of them inhabited?

From kitchen to airport the landscape is buzzing with energy. When someone suggested to an ancient worthy that vehicles would some day be made that would go forty miles an hour he was scoffed at and declared a crackpot. "At that rate of speed we couldn't even breathe" was considered a sufficient answer to quiet a lot of these crazy people, or better still, send them to the insane asylum.

Well, our age has become an industrial age whether we want it to be so or not. Asia and Africa are becoming industrialized. We go miles above the turbulent sea and miles beneath its surface. This is an age of wonder.

How about pollution? That really is a danger, more hideous, probably, than most people realize. Military armament may blow us off the planet, waste matter may lead straight to the cemetery if we don't learn how to neutralize its evil effects.

Remember old Winston Churchill? "Never give up," he cried. "Never give up. Never give up."

STIRRING NOTES!

By ART BUCHWALD

Now Try Laundry Soap?

WASHINGTON — Thanks to the government, housewives are completely confused about the use of phosphate detergents.

First, they were warned that if they used these detergents they would pollute the waters of the land.

Then, after the women of America decided they would give up phosphates and use other kinds of soaps, they were told by the surgeon general to go back to using phosphate detergents.

Because of this confusion we have decided on a question-and-answer format to clear up this matter once and for all:

Q—Why does the government tell you one thing about phosphate detergents, and then a few months later tell you the opposite?

A—Because one department of the government never knows what the other department of the government is doing. The Environmental Protection Agency, which worries about clean water, is against phosphate detergents because they cause algae to grow in the water. The surgeon general is for phosphate detergents because they are safer for children to eat than caustic detergents without phosphates in them.

Q—Where do the soap companies stand?

A—They can go either way, at least in their advertising campaigns. When the first publicity about phosphate detergents made the headlines, all the soap companies announced they had new nonphosphate products that would save America. Now that phosphates have the surgeon general's approval, the soap companies are back to their old products and have decided their new detergents won't save the environment after all.

Q—What is the soap companies' solution to eutrophication, the process which clogs the water with algae?

A—The soap companies' solution is for each community to build new sewage-disposal plants to screen out the phosphates.

Q—Isn't that more complicated than screening out the phosphates before they go into the detergent boxes?

A—Yes, it is, but soap companies don't have to pay for the sewer plants.

Q—What is the surgeon general's argument for housewives going back to phosphate detergents?

A—His argument is that 85 per cent of people using phosphate detergents are not contributing to water pollution. Only 15 per cent of the population, mostly around the Great Lakes, are guilty of eutrophication. Ecology people opposed to phosphates say the surgeon general is all wet. Any time you discharge phosphates into water, they affect the quality of water hundreds of

To The Editor:

In most court settings there are several groups of people present at a trial or a hearing. Some of these people are: The Prosecuting Attorney, The Defense Attorney, The Accused and The Judge—

I have lived in Pitt County most of my life and some of the roles I have played have been in the area of Business, Civil Rights, and the role of a Christian. Should we refer to Pitt County as the courtroom setting mentioned above, I find myself in this courtroom not as a prosecutor; not as a defender; neither as a judge. I rather consider myself just an observer. And below I shall list some of the things which I have observed in Greenville and Pitt County. They are as follows:

That Pitt County residents generally, and Black people specifically, are oppressed, suppressed and repressed in this county spiritually, educationally, politically, economically and socially.

I further observe that because Black people represent the specific object of oppression, they represent the specific means of liberation. That is to say, the liberation of all people in Pitt County is contingent upon the liberation of Black people.

I further observe that essential liberation is a prerequisite to existential freedom, and is made possible only by way of the LIBERATOR, Jesus Christ. That is to say full humanness or the realization of one's true self is a necessary prior condition to meaningful educational, political, economic and social liberation.

I further observe that the Black Church in Pitt County is the only institutional manifestation of Jesus Christ in our time, thereby the means of liberation. It falls short of this manifestation only insofar as it accepts and affirms the attitudes, beliefs and practices of white Christian institutions and white secular society.

I further observe like all people in Pitt County generally, and all institutions specifically, the Black Church has been affected and infected by the dominate white society, both secular and sectarian. Therefore, the Black Church stands in need of renewal, revitalizing and radicalizing.

An Old New Deal Ploy Revived

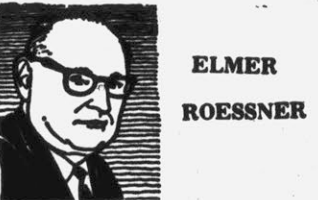

By ELMER ROESSNER

The Nixon Administration, reviving an old New Deal ploy, is reducing interest rates. The Federal Reserve Board, which is supposed to be independent of the Administration, is obligingly reducing the rediscount rate from 5 to 3 3/4 per cent. This is the rate at which the Fed loans money to banks and therefore influences all interest rates except revolving credit rates and those controlled by the Mafia. Under President Franklin D. Roosevelt the rediscount rate was reduced to 1 per cent.

The Fed's purpose is not solely to re-elect President Nixon. At the present time a large amount of federal bonds and notes are coming due and, since the Treasury hasn't the money to retire them, it will have to issue new bonds and notes and it saves the government money if the interest rate can be forced down while the new issues are coming out.

Another factor is that the Federal Reserve banks have a large accumulation of funds because banks haven't been borrowing much because business, states, and municipalities haven't been borrowing so much lately, largely because of the state of the bond market and uncertainties generated by the freeze.

Other Consequences

There will be other consequences of the cut in the rediscount rate:

Interest rates on savings accounts will be trimmed, with announcements perhaps even before this sees print. Rates on term deposits will also shrink. Why should banks pay 5 to 6 per cent for savings when they can get money from the Fed for 4 3/4 per cent?

The housing boom may get its second wind. Rate of starts of new units are still high and two million units are still possible this year but a cheaper rediscount rate can mean a lower mortgage interest rate, and the need for new housing is still high.

Lower interest rates will spur offerings of state and municipal bond issues, which will bring in money for public works, creating new jobs. Hundreds of millions of dollars in these tax-free bonds have been voted down or, having been approved, been held off the market because of high interest rates.

If You Look Back—

NEW YORK (AP) — What a fine treasury the human mind is!

It is like an overflowing granary at harvest time, stuffed with the true gold of old memories. Some of those memories, grim or gruesome, have a nightmare quality that disturbs our sleep.

But time has such a soft way with us that most of us are more consoled by the past than troubled by it. After he has endured the high-water years of his life, the past means more to a man than the future. He lives in it more, and it comforts him more.

You have years of solace in your own mind if you can look back and remember when—

You felt a little hurt when you discovered that the old-fashioned grocer gave a free pickle to every kid—and not just you alone.

While you realized your kindergarten teacher couldn't play favorites publicly, you somehow knew that secretly she thought you could gallop to the piano better than any other child she had ever had in class.

It was fun to call up the zoo on April Fool's Day and ask for Mr. Fox, Mr. Bear or Mr. Wolf. If you were feeling particularly daring, you might even call up the local cemetery and ask to speak to Mr. Phil Graves.

Rain came this morning to break the prolonged dry spell and extinguish forest fires which have swept over this section of the state the last several weeks.

It was announced today that the C and W Flying Service will give a series of free exhibitions on Brown's Farm on the Washington highway, near Greenville, Friday, Saturday and Sunday. One of the features of the exhibition will be the bursting of balloons by the plane while in the air. Two guineas will also be turned loose from a plane Sunday afternoon and a free ride will be given for each one caught alive.

The annual roll call of the American Red Cross will get under way in Greenville tomorrow morning and the public has been called on to respond liberally to the cause. Pretty girls, representing the Junior Woman's Club, will make a house to house canvass in an effort to obtain as many members as possible for the organization.

For the same reason, many plans corporations have shelved because of high interest charges will be dusted off and spending for plants and equipment may spur.

This, in turn, may buoy stock prices.

However, the effect on both business plans and the market will depend much on how Phase II of the New Economic Plan is applied.

It was allowed to rise 5.5 per cent and even more in "special circumstances," as the Wage Board said, and if corporations are limited to 2.5 per cent in price increases and further limited in amounts they may pay out in dividends, there will be no burst of business expansion. And if there is no spurt in dividends—that's what the stock market is all about—there will be no skyrockets set off in Wall Street.

Q—Who is the housewife to believe?

A—That's a good question. The housewife has to make a choice between clothes that are whiter than white or water that is cleaner than clean.

Q—Are you trying to say we must all choose between what we wear and what we drink?

A—Something like that. We have been brought up in this country to believe that clean laundry is next to godliness. But we now have scientific proof that people can live longer drinking clean water than they can wearing clean shirts.

Q—But won't a housewife be pilloried in her neighborhood if her husband's shirts aren't sparkling white?

A—That is the biggest myth of all. Nobody wears white shirts any more.

election of the nine-man school board, for example, the 8-1 majority held by a faction regarded as liberal was suddenly transformed into a 5-4 conservative majority. The new conservative majority threw out Marvin H. Berkeley as chairman.

Moreover, Berkeley himself, having struggled with the looming busing issue for the last two years, has now thrown his support behind the anti-busing Constitutional amendment sponsored by Republican Sen. William Brock of Tennessee. His reason, spelled out in a long and emotional "position paper": busing "is creating great disorder and expense in public education today."

Thus, the busing fuse here, as in so many other cities, is burning. If the Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals does as expected, it will burn on toward that most extreme remedy — an anti-busing Constitutional amendment.

Sen. Jackson Formally In Demo Nomination Race

By GREGG HERRINGTON
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Henry M. Jackson, a self-described underdog, today announced his candidacy for the Democratic presidential nomination.

The 59-year-old Washington senator said President Nixon is not trusted and suggested the other Democratic candidates are too extreme for American voters.

Five-and-a-half million workers are out of jobs, one-fourth of the U.S. industrial capacity is shut down and trade and budget deficits are going up every month, Jackson said in pegging the economy as the top issue of the 1972 election year.

Jackson's announcement had been long expected. He has been traveling three and four days a week for the past nine

Turkey Shoot Here Saturday

The Greenville Recreation Commission announced that it is sponsoring a "turkey shoot" Saturday morning at Elm Street Gymnasium.

Participants will shoot fowl shots in lieu of "live" ammunition, it was announced, and four age-group categories will be eligible. Activities are scheduled to begin at 9:30 a.m.

Age groups in grades one through six, grades seven through nine, and grades ten through 12, as well as adults, will vie for turkey's on the basis of fowl shooting marksmanship.

Entry fee will be 25 cents per ten shots and each shot will be from the foul line. Any type shot may be used. The best record out of ten shots will be the winner and ties will be broken with each shooter having ten more shots.

Bob Burrell is serving as supervisor for the activities.

RUDY IS FINED
LOS ANGELES (AP) — Entertainer Rudy Vallee was fined $75 Thursday, and placed on six months probation, for disturbing the peace in an argument with a neighbor who didn't like the street name "Rue de Vallee".

months, visiting 32 states and 126 cities, many of them several times.

Jackson and his advisers, some of whom worked for former President Lyndon B. Johnson and the late Adlai E. Stevenson, decided about midsummer to go after the Democratic nomination.

"The No. 1 priority in this country must be to put people back to work," Jackson said in his prepared remarks today. "That will not happen until we put a man in the White House who is trusted—I emphasize trusted—by the worker, the farmer, the businessmen and women of America. Mr. Nixon is not that man."

However, Jackson, a former Snohomish County, Wash., prosecuting attorney who has been in Congress since 1941, said: "Most Americans are fed up with people who are fed up with America This society is not a guilty, imperialist, oppressive society."

"A prison riot does not prove that something is wrong with America," Jackson said. "That kind of talk is part of the problem, not part of the cure." He apparently was referring to a statement by Sen. Edmund S. Muskie, D-Maine, following the Attica, N.Y., prison riot in September.

Jackson said wrongs will not be corrected by throwing bombs, stopping the government or attacking policemen. "Nor will these wrongs be corrected by politicians who apologize for the extremists."

Jackson's announcement makes him the third Democrat formally running for the opportunity to oppose Nixon in the President's almost certain bid for re-election next year.

Sen. George McGovern, D-S.D., and Los Angeles Mayor Sam Yorty already have announced. Also expected to enter are Muskie, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, Rep. Shirley Chisholm of New York, and Mayor John V. Lindsay of New York. A campaign is under way on behalf of Rep. Wilbur D. Mills of Arkansas.

Many Changes Could Occur In Last Week Of 'Peerless Poll'

The real battle that is shaping up doesn't seem to be for first place, but for some of the middle positions in the Daily Reflector's Peerless Poll.

With the sports department out in front by three games, and the newsroom's Tom Baines three in front of the third place position, there doesn't seem to be much competition left. But the battle for third place is a close one.

Only three games separate third, fourth and fifth places, and only three stand between fourth and sixth.

John Trotman of the advertising department finished last week with a 7-5 record and fell into the basement. He's currently 58-38 with a .604 percentage.

In fifth place is Lauren Riddick, our Gal Friday, who swept last week's honors with a 10-2 week. She climbed up to 60-36 with a .625 mark.

Trotman can do no better than tie her in the final poll. This is the last week, and they have only two differences in their picks.

George Holland is in fourth place. His 8-4 week last time out left him with a 61-35 record and a .635 average. There could be a lot of changes here, however. He and Lauren had eight big differences, and she could sweep past him or fall further behind.

Next up the line comes Jack Whichard, who was 9-3 last week. He's 63-33 overall for a .656 mark. Of the 12 games of this week there are 10 differences in their two charts, so something must give.

Baines, as mentioned, is still in second with a 9-3 week last time, giving him a 66-30 mark. .688. Whichard can't catch him however. There are only two differences in their slates.

And a 9-3 week for me left the sport department with a 69-27 record and a .719 mark for the season.

There are six differences in mine and Baines charts, however so there could be a change there. It all looks like an exciting finish.

So let's get with it.

First, from this column, there is one more high school game to dispose of, the semi-final game between Robersonville and Warrenton in the State Class A Playoffs.

The Eagles are flying high, and Warrenton would like to shoot them down. It could be a very close contest, but we'll stick with the Eagles.

The biggest game in the area, of course, is the Duke-Carolina contest. This one is always the one where everything before it is tossed out the window. Anybody could win, regardless of their records.

Carolina has a bowl bid riding on the outcome, and the Blue Devils have a lot of pride involved.

The result — not unanimous. Our choice is Carolina, by a 4-2 margin.

The full poll:

Southern Title Riding On Line As Richmond, W&M Get Together

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Richmond's Spiders and William & Mary's Indians collide Saturday at Williamsburg, Va. for the 81st time in the nation's third longest collegiate football series, and for the second year in a row the Southern Conference championship is riding on the outcome.

The Indians, 4-0 in conference play and 5-5 over-all, need a victory or a tie for their second successive title and a Dec. 28 trip to Orlando, Fla., to meet unbeaten Mid-American Conference champion Toledo in the Tangerine Bowl again. Toledo won last year's meeting 40-12.

Richmond, 4-1 in the conference and 4-5 over-all after losing its first three starts, must win to take home the title and make the trip to Orlando, where the Spiders in 1968 whipped Ohio University 49-42.

Another Saturday afternoon conference scrap has The Citadel's Bulldogs, 3-2 and 7-3, seeking their best season since 1960 at Davidson, 0-5 and 1-8, where the Wildcats will be trying to avoid their worst campaign since Davidson went winless in 1953.

A victory would assure The Citadel third place in the conference standings, and the Bulldogs by winning could gain a tie for second with Richmond if the Spiders lose to William and Mary.

Virginia Military's Keydets, who have lost eight straight since an opening victory over Davidson, have a good shot at breaking their losing streak at home against Tennessee-Chattanooga, 1-9, in the only afternoon nonconference encounter.

The night program has Furman's Paladins, 4-5-1, at home against Carson-Newman, 9-1, and Appalachian State's Mountaineers, 6-3-1, at Elon, 8-2. East Carolina wound up a 4-6 season last week, while every other team but VMI — which meets Virginia Tech Nov. 27 — closes Saturday.

William and Mary coach Lou Holtz says "the best team in the Southern Conference" will win Saturday's game at Williamsburg, and he's sure the Indians — despite defeats in five of their last six games, all in the final quarter — "will give a good performance."

But there are too many parallels to last year for them to be ignored completely. Richmond led the league in 1970, was at home, was favored even though the Indians had momentum. Now the Indians are in front, at home and are favored — and the Spiders have the momentum.

Steve Regan's 40-yard pass to Davie Knight with 12 seconds left gave the Indians a 34-33 victory last year, and Richmond hasn't forgotten.

By BRUCE LOWITT

Associated Press Sports Writer
It's Showdown Sunday in the National Football League as San Francisco and Los Angeles, Dallas and Washington and Baltimore and Miami collide for divisional supremacy.

In each case, a scant half game separates the leaders—the 49ers in the National Conference West, the Redskins in the East and the Dolphins in the American Conference East—from the challengers.

And the added attraction of revenge pervades the two NFC games. On Oct. 10 the Rams upset San Francisco 20-13, only a week after the Redskins had done the same to Dallas by a 20-16 score.

For the Dolphins and Colts, however, it's the first meeting of the season with their rematch scheduled for Saturday, Dec. 11, in Baltimore.

The rest of Sunday's slate has the New York Jets at Buffalo, Houston at Cincinnati, New England at Cleveland, the New York Giants at Pittsburgh, Philadelphia at St. Louis, Denver at Kansas City, Detroit at Chicago, San Diego at Oakland, Minnesota at New Orleans and, in Monday night's nationally televised (ABC, 9 p.m., EST) clash, Green Bay at Atlanta.

A few weeks ago, Cowboys Coach Tom Landry couldn't decide whether to go with Roger Staubach or Craig Morton at quarterback. So he went with both of them, shuffling them in and out on alternate plays.

But the strategy backfired and, since then, Staubach and the Cowboys have won their last two games.

Now Redskins Coach George Allen seems to be in the same quandry—whether to stick with Billy Kilmer or return the starting spot to Sonny Jurgensen. The 'Skins have managed only a tie in their last two games and are further hampered by injuries to running backs Larry Brown and Charley Harraway. Tommy Mason and Bob Brunet will probably start in their positions.

When the Rams beat San Francisco, they did it without Roman Gabriel, kayoed early in the game by a concussion. Now the quarterback is back—and coming off a solid performance against Detroit. The 49ers, on the other hand, were stunned last Sunday, losing in the last minute to surprising New Orleans.

The Colts are far and away the best defensive club in the league—but they haven't had to contend with the likes of Bob Griese, the AFC's top passer and NFL touchdown leader with 16 scoring strikes, and Larry Csonka, the conference's No. 1 ground gainer.

Both clubs are coming off come-from-behind victories, Baltimore against the Jets and Miami against Pittsburgh. The Colts say they'll start Johnny Unitas at quarterback in place of Earl Morrall for the first time this year.

Running backs Norm Bulaich of Baltimore, the AFC's No. 4 ground gainer, and Jim Kiick of the Dolphins, No. 6, were sidelined by injuries last week but both are probable starters this time.

The Bills are looking for their first victory of the year and, in two of their last three games, they've come within six points of getting it. The Jets hope to make it a season sweep.

Believe it or not, both the Bengals and Oilers have a shot at the AFC Central title even though Cincinnati is 2-7 and Houston 1-7-1. The Bengals, with quarterback Virgil Carter returning to form, trail fading, front-running Cleveland and Pittsburgh by just two games with the Oilers only 2½ off the pace.

The Browns have scored only 30 points in their last four games—all losses—while permitting 97. Now they must face brilliant rookie quarterback Jim Plunkett, who fired four touchdown passes for the Patriots to bring them within one game of the 500 mark, something they haven't achieved since the 1967 season.

The Giants' offense for the Steelers' game has been decimated by the loss due to injuries of running backs Ron Johnson and Charlie Evans and wide receiver Coleman Zeno.

The Cardinals, stunned by their last-second loss to San Diego last Monday night, must beat the reawakening Eagles to avoid changing places with them and falling into the NFC East cellar.

Jerry Smith makes his head coaching debut for the Broncos after taking over for Lou Saban, who resigned Wednesday. He'll be facing a Chiefs squad reported at full strength and will be starting Steve Ramsey at quarterback for Denver in place of injured Don Horn.

The Raiders, with a half-game lead over Kansas City in the AFC West, hope to hold it—or widen it—with a repeat of their second-week 34-0 wallop of the Chargers, who boast the conference's best offense.

Jaguars, Saints Lead All-Conference Picks

Farmville Central and Southern Wayne, who tied for the Eastern Carolina Conference title in football, also tied for honors in the All-Conference selections announced this week.

Four members of each team were selected for the honor. Runner-up Greene Central placed three members on the team, while D. H. Conley, Ayden-Grifton, Eastern Wayne, Southern Nash and North Lenoir each had two. North Pitt and Charles B. Aycock each listed one selection.

George Wheeler, head coach at Conley, was named as the league's Coach of the Year.

Those making the All-Conference team include the following:

Farmville Central: end Connie Tripp; guard Charles Sutton; backs Robert Tripp and Cloyce Wilson.

Southern Wayne: tackle Andy Rawls, center Richard Kuretsch, backs Phillip Platt and Robert Bizzell.

Greene Central: guard Jimmie Thompson, backs Ricky Hart and Robert Ivey.

Conley: guard Stacy Evans, back Charles Speight.

Eastern Wayne: end Tim

Optimists Host Cagers

Rose High School's basketball team, which kicks off the season next week, was honored last night by the Greenville Optimists Club.

The Optimists were host to the team and its coaches, O.A. Meteye and Jim Modlin, at a family-style dinner at Parkers' Bar-B-Cue. Players and managers were the guests of the club.

The Rampants, looking for a good year this season, open play Tuesday when they entertain Bertie High School.

Russell, back Robby Price. Southern Nash: tackle Cecil Williams, center Bryan Brantley.

North Lenoir: tackle Jamie Eubanks, back Wilbert Pope.

North Pitt: end Ronnie Briley. C. B. Aycock: tackle Louis Massey.

Receiving Honorable Mention were Harper Shackelford, Clinton Braswell and Don Whitley of Greene Central; Randy Edwards and Mike Mzingo of Southern Nash; Ray Peterson, Jeff Parker, Alan Jackson, Mark Lowmes and Grey Cox of Southern Wayne;

Wilkes To Try Again Sunday

NORTH WILKESBORO, N.C. (AP) — Most of the 32 drivers who will compete in Sunday's Wilkes 400 stock car race reported back to the North Wilkesboro Speedway for the third time today.

They hope it will be their last visit of the year to the scenic five-eighths-mile oval.

The $30,000 race, one of the key stops on the NASCAR Grand National fall tour, was first scheduled Sept. 19. At the time, Richard Petty was battling three other drivers for the circuit's driving title.

But rain forced a postponement until Oct. 30, after the 32-car field had been qualified and the entry list closed. Rain struck again, however, setting up a third try for Sunday.

In the meantime, Petty has clinched the championship—his third in a 12-year career—and the NASCAR schedule is down to two races, including this one and a 500-miler at Bryan, Tex., Dec. 5.

There isn't much left for the 34-year-old Petty, except that if he wins here Sunday and in Texas next month, he'll almost surely run his money mark for the season to more than $325,000.

Charlie Glotzbach, driving Junior Johnson's Chevrolet, won the pole position for the first outing, with Petty getting the other front row spot. Drivers had the option of standing on their previous times or requalifying for a better start when the track opened for practice before the Oct. 29 run.

Glotzbach elected to improve, and raced to a new track record of 107.558 miles per hour to hold onto his pole spot. Bobby Allison, the circuit's No. 2 money winner with $230,660, bumped Petty from the front row and Petty could do no better than third.

So, where do things stand now?

Well, the 32 starters had a choice of doing it all over again, starting today. The track opened at 1 p.m. with new qualifying money posted. The first eight starting positions were to be decided, based on new times or times retained from the trials back in September and October.

Glotzbach already has picked up $1,000 in pole money—$500 for each of his runs prior to the rainouts—and said Thursday he'd like to try again.

New Possibilities Follow Irish Move

By KEN RAPPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer
Anyone coveting Notre Dame for a post-season bowl game, forget it. The Fighting Irish aren't interested—honest, fellows!

Notre Dame, one of the glamorous names in college football, says it will be one of the missing names when the bowls hold their annual bash on New Year's Day.

Coach Ara Parseghian announced Thursday the team voted to sit this one out. A "sounding-out" of 90 players produced a vote of 2-to-1 against bowl participation, he said.

Upset winners over Texas last year in the Cotton Bowl, Notre Dame appeared to have a shot again at the Jan. 1 classic in Dallas or a possible berth in the Gator Bowl after winning eight of nine games.

But despite their lofty No. 7 status in the polls, the Fighting Irish did come perilously close to losing some games and were soundly beaten 28-14 by Southern California.

Notre Dame's decision opens some interesting bowl possibilities, one of them the Cotton where Penn State could meet Texas. The undefeated Nittany Lions appear to be in line for that one since the Orange and Sugar bowls might already be sewed up. It's reported that top-ranked Nebraska and Alabama's fourth-rated powerhouse will clash in the Orange Bowl while second-ranked Oklahoma and No. 5 Auburn are choices for the Sugar.

The Notre Dame withdrawal from the bowl picture brought "no comment" from Penn State Joe Paterno, always reluctant to talk over such matters before the regular season's over.

"I have not talked to my squad about a bowl, the only thing we are concerned about now is Pitt," said Paterno, whose sixth-ranked squad meets the Panthers Saturday.

The Rose Bowl, with Stanford and Michigan apparent shoosins, nevertheless might be upset by a legal monkey wrench. The possibility exists that California could sneak in ahead of Stanford, if the Golden Bears (1) upset the Indians Saturday and (2) win their court battle protesting their NCAA probation this season.

According to sources some other bowls will look this way: Georgia vs. North Carolina in the Gator; Colorado vs. Houston in the Bluebonnet; Tennessee vs. Arkansas in the Liberty; Arizona State vs. Florida State in the Fiesta; Toledo vs. Richmond or William & Mary in the Tangerine and Air Force vs. Mississippi in the Peach.

ATHLETES IMPROVE

WACO, Tex. (AP) — The days of the athlete taking a back seat academically to classroom intellectuals are gone, says a Baylor University law professor.

"An increasing number of athletes are stepping to the forefront in both the world of sports and the world of the professional arts," Edwin M. Her-ner said.

Church Has New Pastor

The Rev. D. Russell Myers, native of Portsmouth, Virginia, has assumed the pastorate of Arlington Street Baptist Church here.

Rev. Myers attended Mars Hill College and was graduated from Wake Forest University and Southeastern Baptist Theological Seminary.

Prior to becoming a pastor, Myers was a social worker with the North Carolina Baptist Children's Homes in Thomasville, later serving as District scout Executive for Boy Scouts of America in Rocky Mount.

He has been pastor of the Elm City Baptist Church for the past three years.

Rev. and Mrs. Myers, the former Nancy Powell of Spartanburg, S. C., are the parents of two boys.

ABUNDANCE

Jesus said, "I am come that they might have life, and that they might have it more abundantly."

Now it is a tribute to the intelligence of men that no one thinks He was talking about the material abundance we enjoy today. Everybody knows He was talking about something else.

But what else? What could Christ add to your possessions? What can He give men that might account for the logical distinction we readily make between a life of abundance and the abundant life?

Himself! That's it. That's all. Precisely what He said: "I am come that..."

To know Him and to know the meaning His Life has for our lives is to discover the abundant life!

Does your family use the Church as faithfully as the market?

received much cooperation in efforts to provide means of access for people living in the area. The mayor noted that university officials checked with Raleigh and were told no money was available for taking action to pave the alley way, which is the principal means of giving ingress and egress once the other streets are withdrawn and closed to the public.

Councilman Percy Cox made a motion that withdrawal action be denied until such time as university officials had a clear title to all property concerned and until a 20 foot paved strip was provided for residents.

Council members voted unanimous approval of Cox's motion.

Other matters taken up at last night's meeting were a taxi permit for Jerry L. Summers and a taxi franchise, number 43, for Austin B. Parker. Both requests were approved.

A low bid of $2,570.23 from Pinner-White Chevrolet Company was accepted for the purchase of a 1972 pick-up truck for the city.

Wachovia Bank and Trust Company, North Carolina National Bank, Planters National Bank and Trust Company, Home Savings and Loan Association and First Federal Savings and Loan Association were approved as depositories for funds of the city. This action is a procedural one required due to change of name of North Carolina National Bank from the old State Bank name.

After a Southern chicken rancher air conditioned the hen house, egg production rose almost 60 per cent, says National Geographic.

Honors . . .

Community was noted for accomplishments in many areas, including health, community center, home improvements, and youth development. A community center was completed during the year and plans were made to add more equipment in 1972. Emphasis was also placed on home gardens and conserving the food grown in the garden. Through a local health club the community has provided many services to every family in the community which were not available in the past. Emphasis was placed on increasing efficiency in both crop and livestock production.

According to Hunt all three winning communities received $150 and a plaque.

Other winners for 1971 were: Small rural community — Toisnot, Wilson County, second place; Big Swamp, Beaufort County, third; and honorable mention went to Parmele, Martin County, and Middlesex of Nash County.

Large rural community — Simpson, Pitt County, second place; Easonburg, Nash County, third place; and honorable mention went to Old Sparta, Edgecombe; and Pantego, Beaufort County.

Village — Belhaven, Beaufort County, second place; Oak City, Martin County, third; and honorable mention went to Elm

City, Wilson County.

Committee reports were given. Joe Perry, reported on the results of the agriculture committee. Mrs. R. W. Davenport reported on the accomplishments that took place in the last year in the home economics field. Max Pearsall gave a report for the travel and recreation committee introducing Effie Rae Bateman of Belhaven who designed the place-mats for the banquet. Pearsall introduced the idea to association of starting a magazine, "The East" to be given out in motels and hotels, with the first issue hopefully to be in the spring of next year. Mrs. J. T. Manning gave a report on youth, education and culture.

Carbon Monoxide Kills Two Guards

WHITEVILLE, N.C. (AP) — Carbon monoxide was blamed for the deaths of two security guards at Kaiser Chemical Co.'s Riegelwood plant early Thursday.

County Coroner Buell Lanier ruled that Clarence Fields, 57, of Delco and Chester Theodore Daniels, 40, of Riegelwood died from carbon monoxide poisoning.

The two men were discovered dead in a plant office after midnight Wednesday. Two other men had left the office shortly before because it was "too hot."

China Set Off Nuclear Blast

WASHINGTON (AP) — Communist China's 12th nuclear blast, reportedly touched off in the atmosphere Thursday, is being viewed by observers here as another step in Peking's program for quick nuclear development.

Although they don't tie the event directly to Peking's recent admission to the United Nations, the observers acknowledge that the 20,000-ton blast will not hurt the Asian giant's prestige as it seeks to line up the third-world vote in the international organization.

It is expected that when Peking gets around to a formal announcement of the test it will include the usual pledge never to start a nuclear war and challenge the United States and the Soviet Union to make similar declarations.

The original opening of the queen of diamonds would have led to the prompt recording of a 500 point profit for East and West against South's contract of five spades doubled, because after the defense cashes out three tricks in that suit, East still must score the ace of clubs.

There is much to be said in favor of a diamond opening, if West takes time to examine the evidence which is readily available from the auction. His partner made a jump raise in hearts originally, promising 13 points in support of that suit. Since West holds all the high cards in hearts and the opponents have contested vigorously in spades, it may be presumed that East's high card strength is located in clubs and diamonds. West has a superior sequence in diamonds which points to the desirability of attacking in that suit.

One final factor is that East's repeated raises as well as South's willingness to

Wilson Judge Will Be Church Speaker

Judge Allen W. Harrell of Wilson, judge of the Seventh Judicial District, will speak at Jarvis Memorial United Methodist Church Sunday night in the chapel of the church.

His talk is scheduled at 7:30 p.m. and is open to all interested persons in the community.

Judge Harrell comes to Jarvis Memorial under the sponsorship of the Gideons. He is a graduate of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, where he was awarded two degrees: the BS degree in business administration and the doctor of jurisprudence.

Before opening his law practice in Wilson in 1955, Judge Harrell was located with the law firm of Allsbrook and Benton in Roanoke Rapids. He became solicitor in the Wilson City Court in 1955, then judge in 1961 and held that post until his election as judge of the district in 1968. He is the author of a number of articles and books including

ALLEN W. HARRELL
"Splinters from My Gavel,"
"Confessions of a Judge," and
"The Opposite Sex: Or, How to Be One Flesh Anyway."

He is married to the former Irene Burk Harrell, a former Atlantic Christian College librarian and author of a number of books, articles, stories and poems. They are the parents of six children ranging from the ages of 18 to a three-year-old adopted baby, Maria.

Gospel Choruses Will Host Event

The Community Gospel Choruses of Greenville and Grimesland are hosts to the Eastern Community Gospel Convention Saturday and Sunday at Nazarete Free Will Baptist Church at 219 West Eighth Street here.

Saturday at 11 a.m., the theme will be "Music in a Sick World" and the Rev. H. C. Thompson will deliver the sermon. At 3 p.m., the host minister, the Rev. Mrs. Lillian Harris will preach. At 7:30 p.m., Elder Davenport and his congregation from Washington, N.C. will lead the service.

Sunday at 3 p.m. the Rev. Hoyt Hammond will preach, as will Rev. W. S. Wilson at 7:30 p.m.

Glassblowers Gathered Here

Glassblowers from North Carolina universities were at East Carolina University last week for a regional meeting of the American Scientific Glassblowing Society (ASGS).

Dr. Robert C. Lamb, ECU chemistry chairman, Owen Kingsbury, glassblower for the ECU Department of Chemistry, and seven other glassblowers, from UNC-CH, NCSU, Duke University and University Associated Glassware of Carboro were guests at a luncheon sponsored by Corning Glass Works.

The visiting glassblowers also toured ECU's glass shop facilities.

Kingsbury is chairman of the southeast section of the ASGS, which includes seven states, and is one of three nominees for the presidency of the national organization.

Conference To Sponsor Service

The Black Pastors Conference of Greenville will sponsor a Thanksgiving Day worship service, Thursday at 10 a.m. at Selvia Chapel F.W.B. Church.

The Rev. A. W. Washington will deliver the special sermon. Music will be presented by the York Memorial Church Choir.

You've got a lot to live
Pepsi's got a lot to give

What we mean is this: living isn't always easy, but it never has to be dull. There's too much to see, to do, to enjoy. Put yourself behind a Pepsi-Cola and get started.
You've got a lot to live.
