Conviction Reversed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The contempt conviction of the Rev. James Groppi by the Wisconsin legislature in 1969 was reversed 7 to 0 today by the Supreme Court.

Chief Justice Warren E. Burger said the punishment, without hearing the militant priest, violated constitutional procedures. The fact that Groppi was held in contempt two days after his allegedly contemptuous conduct was a major factor in the court's ruling.

Groppi was held in contempt by the Wisconsin Assembly Oct. 1, 1969, for his part in a welfare demonstration that blocked the legislature for about 12 hours two days earlier. At the time the resolution was passed Groppi was in the Dane County jail on disorderly conduct charges arising from the same incident.

The contempt resolution was adopted without giving the priest an opportunity to present a defense.

Burger said: "We have stated time and again that reasonable notice of a charge and an opportunity to be heard in defense before punishment is imposed are basic in our system of jurisprudence."

Ghana Govm't Ousted

LOME, Togo (AP) — Army officers overthrew the civilian government of Ghana Wednesday night and in a broadcast on Ghana Radio accused Prime Minister Kofi Busia of malpractice and economic mismanagement.

A broadcast from Accra, the Ghanaian capital, said the coup was led by Col. Ayitey Acheampong, a senior career officer who had been a regional administrator after the previous coup six years ago.

Busia, who was one of Mrs. Richard Nixon's hosts last week during her tour of West Africa, is in London for treatment of an eye ailment.

Acheampong dissolved the National Assembly and called on Busia's Cabinet ministers to report immediately to the nearest police station, Ghana Radio said.

Withdrawal Condition

PARIS (AP) — The South Vietnamese government asserted today that the withdrawal of all U.S. forces from South Vietnam depends on Communist willingness to negotiate the withdrawal of North Vietnamese troops as well as on the release of American prisoners of war.

The U.S. government endorsed this stand, which appeared to set a new condition for a total American withdrawal.

South Vietnamese representative Pham Dang Lam told the Communists at the 140th session of the Vietnam peace talks:

"Whether all the allied forces leave South Vietnam or there remain residual forces, and how long these forces will take to disengage, depends on whether or not you accept to negotiate seriously on the problem of troop withdrawal as part of an over-all settlement, as well as on the question of the release of prisoners of war."

U.S. Ambassador William J. Porter followed with a statement that "the representative of the government of the Republic of Vietnam has spoken for our side. I support his remarks."

Hanoi has never acknowledged the presence of North Vietnamese regular forces in South Vietnam and has always ignored demands to discuss their withdrawal.

Contributions Probed

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP) — The Internal Revenue Service said today it was investigating corporations and some individuals on the possibility that illegal political contributions were made during the 1968 election campaigns in North Carolina.

J. E. Wall, the district IRS director, declined to identify the corporations or the individuals after being asked about published reports that contributions to Gov. Bob Scott were being investigated.

However, Wall said Scott was not under investigation.

"Inasmuch as the governor's name has been mentioned so prominently in these stores, I think it should be stated that Governor Robert Scott is not under investigation," Wall said.

Wall declined to say whether the governor's 1968 campaign aides were under investigation, Wall restricted his comments to a statement that the IRS was making "some investigations into what we believe are improper handling of contributions. I wouldn't want to identify candidates or contributors."

The IRS indicated the investigation was directed at corporations suspected of having contributed to political campaigns and concealing the contributions as business business expense.

Federal law prohibits individuals and corporations from deducting political contributions from their taxable income.

MEET OFFICIALS

RALEIGH (AP) — Newsmen will meet with state prison officials today to discuss whether reporters should be allowed into North Carolina's prisons to interview inmates.

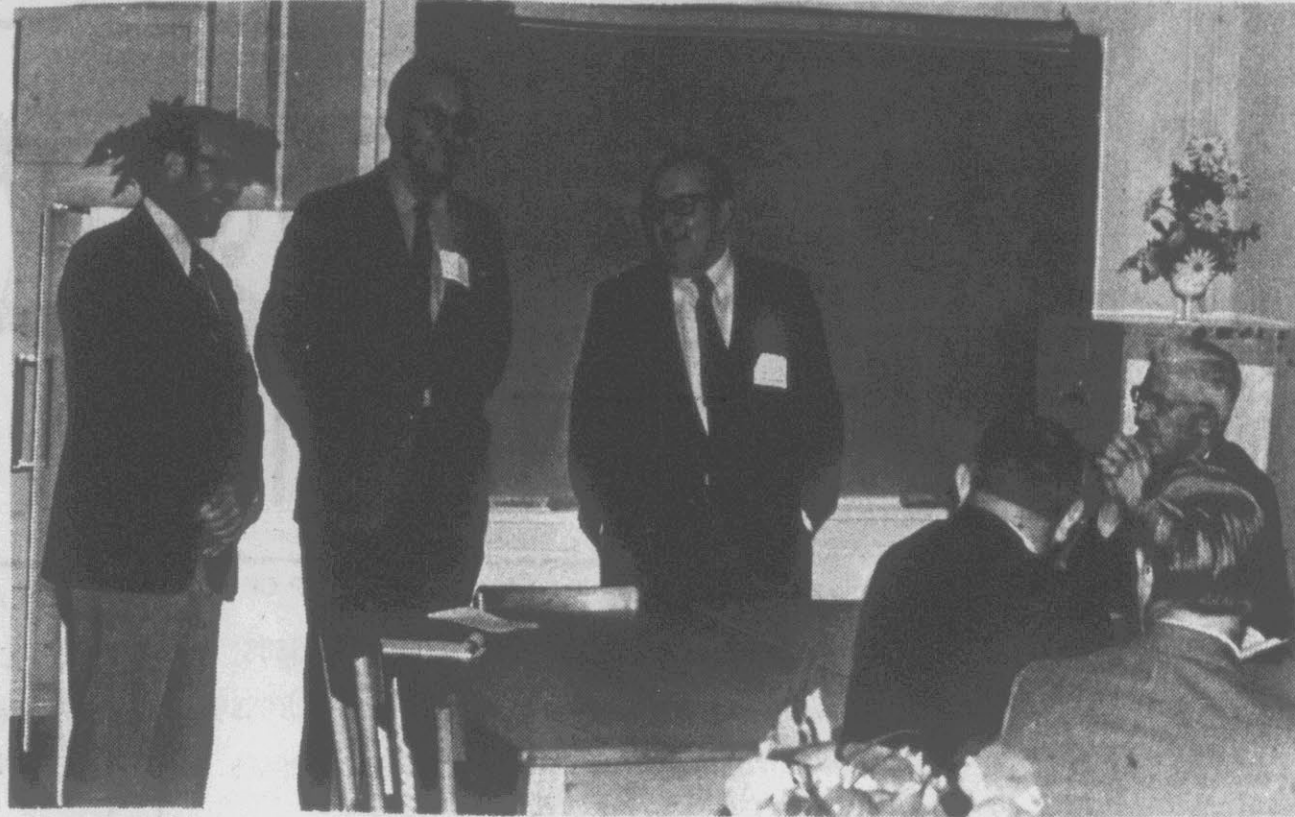

Seek Site For Teen-Age Meeting Place In City

A Recreation Commission member last night issued an appeal to the public to assist young teen-age girls in Greenville in their efforts to locate a suitable meeting place for a teenage club.

Following the appearance of Sharon Serva, spokesman for a contingent of teen-age girls from Aycock Junior High, Mrs. Louis Gaylord, Jr. asked that anyone in Greenville who might have a suitable building that can be rented, leased or donated get in touch with William Dansey or Sidney Carraway.

These two form the committee to help youngsters get a program underway. Interested persons can also contact the office of the Recreation Department at Elm Street.

Recreation Department Director Boyd Lee informed commissioners at their January meeting Wednesday night that word had been received on approval of $18,000 from Mid-East Economic Development Commission to apply to a recreation program proposed for the Eppes site. The Mid-East funds are in the Police Club

Crosses County Lines In School Districting Plan

By JERRY RAYNOR
Reflector Staff Writer

WILLIAMSTON — County Commissioners, school board members, members of local advisory councils, and educators gathered more than 200 strong in Williamston Wednesday for the annual meeting of school boards of six counties comprising District Two of the North Carolina State Boards Association.

For the 1972 annual meeting, a number of state, county and local officials participated in the three work groups meeting in separate sessions.

Pitt County Commissioner Robert L. Martin and Pitt County Manager H. Reginald Gray headed the work group dealing with "School Boards and County Commissioners Relationships."

In the discussion, Martin, responding to a question on school district lines, said he believed "the time has come to break down county lines in school districts."

Martin explained that because of distances in travel to school imposed on some students, he felt attendance by districts was no longer feasible, and that

"finances between counties would not be too difficult to figure out. It's ridiculous to bus kids so far when they can cross county lines to a school much nearer," he commented.

Referring to the proposed statewide school bond issue, Martin noted that now is the time for school boards, county commissions and other interested groups to seek action on breaking down and revamping the concept of school district lines.

Martin and Gray both stressed the necessity of school board members forming a close working relationship with county commissioners.

"In your budget recommendations," Gray remarked, "it is very important that school boards be factual and be honest in laying in on the line." He observed that in Pitt County, for example, school budgets were presented to commissioners in detail, on a line by line item basis.

Dr. Frank Fuller, delivering the major address of the district meeting, called on school board members to give serious thought to the possibility that

Pitt Board Of Elections Will Hear Student Appeals Friday

The Pitt County Board of Elections is scheduled to hear Friday the appeals of 32 East Carolina University students concerning the board's denial of their voter registration applications.

Mrs. Ann Paul, the board's executive secretary said that she had written to each of the 32 students notifying them of the 10 a.m. hearing. She said that they would be heard from individually as to why they feel they should be allowed to register to vote here.

Mrs. Paul pointed out that the students "came to the county to go to school" and are not considered permanent residents of the county. She explained that if they had been born in the county or their parents had moved their residence here, they would be eligible but statutes prohibit their registering in counties other than their legal residence.

The executive secretary pointed out that the State Board of Elections sent a directive to all 100 county boards in March of 1971, quoting a rule adapted by the state body, "... having been ruled by the attorney general as the proper authority and pursuant to guidance contained in general statutes 163-57," relating to students.

The rule stated, "Students shall not be registered in counties where they are temporarily residing while attending a business school, trade school, college or university. Any applicant who is determined to be a student should be advised that he is eligible to register and vote in the county and state of his legal residence only."

Mrs. Paul added that the rule stipulates that the right of appeal is open to all applicants.

She said that the hearing tomorrow is the next step in the appeals process for the students since she had formally denied them the right to register. Board chairman J. B. Spillman Jr. will preside and, along with Burney Baker, Democratic board representative and Henry T. Smith Republican representative, will hear each student.

If the board denies the appeal, the cases will be heard in Superior Court and further appeals, if denied there, would be filed in Supreme Court, it was explained.

The hearings will be held in the elections board room at the courthouse.

Alabama Twister Kills 4

OSARK, Ala. (AP) — A tornado smashed through two trailer parks near the huge Army base at Ft. Rucker in springlike weather today, killing four persons and injuring more than 60.

State troopers and a spokesman for the state Civil Defense office said four were known dead. Eighteen of the injured were admitted to hospitals at Ft. Rucker and nearby Enterprise. The others were treated for minor injuries and discharged.

The twister also struck an Army airfield at Rucker, destroying eight UH1 helicopters on the ground and heavily damaging two others. No one was reported injured at the airfield.

The Civil Defense spokesman said 50 house trailers were wrecked and another 50 damaged.

The twister struck first the Pine Brook and Dogwood Acres trailer parks between Ozark and Enterprise, occupied mostly by military personnel, then hit again at Lower Army Air Field on the Ft. Rucker reservation.

Fifteen of the injured were admitted to an Army hospital, the Rucker Public Information Office said, and "50 to 65 others" were treated for minor injuries and discharged.

State troopers set up a command post at one of the trailer parks in a building once used as an automatic laundry.

Heavy rain which began again shortly before 9 a.m. made rescue operations difficult.

Bulldozers and heavy tractors were moved in to pry the twisted metal trailer frames apart to see if anyone was trapped in the debris.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon announced today further plans to withdraw American forces from South Vietnam, cutting the number to 69,000 by May 1.

Wallace In Primary As Democrat

By RICH OPPEL
Associated Press Writer

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — George C. Wallace formally announced as a Democratic candidate for president today and called for a grass roots movement to wrest control of the party from "so-called intellectual snobs."

Wallace, the 52-year-old governor of Alabama, chose the capital of a large Southern state with a key March 14 presidential primary election to make the announcement.

"Our offering is a new beginning of hope for the American people," Wallace said in remarks prepared for a news conference in the Capitol's Senate chamber.

Wallace, who ran third behind President Nixon and Democrat Hubert H. Humphrey as the American Independent party candidate in 1968, said he intended to keep his name on the Florida ballot as a Democratic candidate.

He said Floridians have a "unique opportunity" in choosing from among the 12 Democrats, including Humphrey, nominated to be on the ballot by Secretary of State Richard Stone.

"They can start the grass roots movement to take back the national Democratic party unto themselves. Too long this party has been controlled by the so-called intellectual snobs who feel that big government should control the lives of American citizens from the cradle to the grave," the governor said.

Wallace coupled his 1972 platform with a broadside attack on "those in Congress" also seeking the White House. That includes 8 of the 12 Democrats currently on the Florida ballot.

Wallace also proposed "peace through strength" and military forces "second to none."

He urged "continued withdrawal from Vietnam and we should never again commit American troops to fight a no-win war."

Taxes should be levied on rich foundations now virtually tax exempt and on church-owned commercial property which competes with free enterprise, he said.

Wallace called for "a reduction in taxes for the individual and businesses and industry to be replaced with revenues from those now evading taxes through special laws passed in their special interest."

He said the federal government also should act to bring about "a return to law and order."

Lanier Retiring

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — Insurance Commissioner Edwin Lanier said today he will not seek re-election for another four-year term in the office he has held since 1962.

The 70-year-old Lanier said, "I want to complete the term of office I am now serving, after which I want to and will retire."

Two Democrats have already announced they will seek the post in the May primary. Russell Secrest resigned his post with the Insurance Department recently and filed with the state Board of Elections commissioners race. State Rep. John Ingram of Randolph County announced Monday that he would run for the office.

Lanier said the job has been "a mental and emotional struggle between what, in my heart, I would like to do and what, in my judgment, I should do."

Six Charged In Local Incident

Six blacks, including civil rights workers George W. Kirby and Willie J. Fleming have been charged with damage to personal property in connection with a Monday afternoon incident at Harris' Super Market at 901 West Fifth St.

In addition to Kirby and Fleming, others charged with damage to personal property include: Henry Bullock, Linda Little, Charles Barrett, and Gregory Taylor. Officers said all of those charged have been active in demonstrations that have occurred throughout the county over the past several months.

Warrants charging the damage were signed by store officials and allege that the group damaged property by placing frozen foods in grocery cars and allowing it to thaw and by placing bread in carts and mashing it unnecessarily.

Kirby was also charged with inciting to riot in connection with the Monday incident.

Kirby was arrested Tuesday by Sheriff's Deputies on a charge of disorderly conduct following an incident in a hallway at the Court House.

The Tuesday incident occurred as a number of persons were being tried in District Court on charges stemming from a series of demonstrations in Greenville and in Bethel.

Plan Construct Modern Mobile Home Park Here

W. S. Wellons of Fayetteville, co-owner and spokesman for Colonial Park Inc. announced today the lettering of contracts for a half-million dollars to start construction on a mobile home trailer park on a 200-acre site west of the Burroughs-Wellcome plant on N.C. 11-U.S. 13 North of Greenville.

This modern mobile home city will include city water, city sewage, underground electric power, natural gas, telephone and cable television service. No trailer spaces will face the 80-foot wide thoroughfares which will interwind the project.

The mobile home part, Wellons emphasized, "will be as modern as one can be built."

Approximately 50 acres have been set aside for the second phase of the project, a regional shopping center. Wellons noted the project has been planned by Community Planning Associates of Raleigh. The shopping center diversification will be handled by Regional Properties, also of Raleigh.

Contractors for the first phase of the project will include Edwards Equipment Construction Co., Benson Plumbing Co., Barrus Construction Co., and others contracts now being negotiated.

Phase three will include a large complex and office development.

According to Wellons, the company's plans are to complete the trailer park which will include a swimming pool and club house complex incorporating the company office, a private post office substation, a laundramat and cleaners, a convenience mart, a Tastee Freez, filling station and car wash, all planned to be completed in late 1972. Three-hundred spaces of the trailer park should be completed by spring.

Present plans call for the construction of the regional shopping center in about two years.

The proposed mobile home park, shopping center and apartment complex will be at the end of the new extension of the Greenville beltline now under construction from U.S. 264 East of Greenville to the Burroughs Wellcome plant.

Colonial Park's offices are temporarily located at 521 Cotanche St. in the Georgetown Shops.

Extension Homemakers Achievement Day Held At Pine Grove Apartments

FARMVILLE — The Annual Achievement Day for Pitt County Extension Homemakers was held yesterday at Pine Grove Apartments Community Building.

Keynote speaker for the morning program was Lloyd Engelhardt, executive director of the Farmville Housing Authority.

In discussing Pine Grove Apartments, which is a public housing development, Engelhardt said, "Women had a part in the project by boosting and aiding it."

"The people in the project are proud of what they have now. They are coming to us saying that this will not be a slum area."

He further added that the preliminaries for the project began in August, 1968, and that it was the fastest built project in the state of North Carolina from beginning to end. The actual building was begun on Sept. 13, 1970, and was accepted on Dec. 1, 1971.

"We were designated 150 units, which we now have and the units are about two-thirds full in occupancy now. The cost of the project was $2,240,174.00."

"Public housing does not fill the need of people in this country or state because of solvency. We have files of people whose incomes are so low that if they were accepted they would affect the solvency of the project," Engelhardt remarked.

Engelhardt also pointed out that Farmville's Centennial had been set for April 6-12.

Also appearing on the program was Mrs. Elizabeth Meldau, East Central District home economics agent.

Mrs. Nathan Smith, president of the Pitt County Extension Homemakers, presided at the meeting, gave the welcome to those present and recognized special guests. Bringing greetings was Charles Gaskins, chairman of the County Board of Commissioners.

Mrs. Karl Hardee, first vice president of Extension Homemakers, gave highlights of 1971 illustrated by slides. She cited the Grifton Homemakers for their outstanding accomplishments during last year.

Mrs. J. T. Manning, Pitt County coordinator for the Governor's Beautification Board, announced that a beautification project for the grounds of the Extension Service offices would begin in February.

Mrs. Hardee recognized members present having perfect attendance for 20 or more years including:

Mrs. Howard Briley, Sweet Gum Grove, 20 years; Mrs. C. E. Case, Fountain, Mrs. Sam Alexander and Mrs. Heber Briley, Sweet Gum Grove, 22 years;

Mrs. Ethel Tyson, Stokes, Mrs. Alton Chapman, St. Johns, and Mrs. Dennis Hardy, Bethel, 23 years; Mrs. R. F. Clark, Belvoir, 24 years;

Mrs. Karl Hardee, Red Banks, and Mrs. Margaret Tetterton, Sweet Gum Grove, 25 years;

Mrs. Obed Castelle and Mrs. J. B. Speight, Renston Nobles, 26 years;

Mrs. Clarence Barnhill, Belvoir, Mrs. G. C. Garriss and Mrs. Lester Garriss, Littlefield, 27 years; Mrs. W. A. Cherry, Red Banks, 29 years; and Mrs. D. N. Nobles, Sweet Gum Grove, 30 years.

The devotional was presented by Mrs. Nina Phillips, second vice president of the county group, and Mrs. Curtis Worthington led the group in singing. Registration and a coffee hour preceded the opening session. The program was followed by tours of several of the units at Pine Grove.

Hostesses for the meeting were Mrs. John Condon, Mrs. Christopher Johnson, Mrs. Howard Briley, Mrs. Chester Don Worthington, Mrs. Gratz Norcott, Mrs. Billy Wynne, Mrs. Dan Wynne and Mrs. J. T. Manning Jr.

We Must Honor Neighbor's Beliefs

By Abigail Van Buren

(c 1972 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd., Inc.)

DEAR ABBY: How long are you going to pollute the world with your ignorance?

Someone wrote and told you that in his native country [India] it was all right under certain conditions to make another man's wife pregnant. And you replied, "Thank you for illustrating a point which we in the Western World are apt to forget. We represent a very small part of the world, and what we consider 'immoral' or 'unethical' is not necessarily immoral or unethical in other countries and for other cultures."

Well, he is wrong and so are you! Just because they do it in other countries doesn't make it right.

You ignorant woman. Have you not read the Ten Commandments? Have you not read in the New Testament that Christians are to go all over the world and teach the gospel? That includes India, too.

It is polluters like you who delude ignorant people into believing that immoral acts are all right. It's time Christians everywhere wrote to you and demanded that you speak the truth.

DISGUSTED WITH YOU

DEAR DISGUSTED: The essence of all religions is to love your neighbor as yourself. And to love one's neighbor, we must respect his beliefs, tho they be different from our own. To try to impose our values on others is not only a denial of their rights, but also a form of arrogance, which in itself is irreligious. An ancient Hebrew prayer put it very well:

"From the cowardice that shrinks from new truth,
From the laziness that is content with half-truths,
From the arrogance that thinks it knows all truth,
Oh, God of Truth, deliver us."

DEAR ABBY: Tell that lady who is allergic to cigaret smoke that I have the same problem. Only I have asthma on top of it.

I put a great big sign on my front door which says, "NO SMOKING INSIDE," and I have a can with sand in it standing on my front porch for cigaret butts.

Some people have called me a mental case. My own son, for one. He hates having to dash outside for a smoke every time he comes to see me, but I tell him that if he has to smoke that's HIS problem, and I am not going to get sick over it.

I sure pity smokers. They stink!

RUTH IN

GREELEY, COLO.

DEAR RUTH: I have a sister who's as opposed to smoking as you are. She has a lovely little metal "sign" in her living room which reads, "Thanks for not smoking!"

DEAR ABBY: When I read that letter from the heart-broken, worried sick wife whose husband almost never wrote to her from Viet Nam, it reminded me of a great idea I've had ever since World War II when my husband did me the same way.

I would like to recommend to the Secretary of Defense that a new service ribbon be created which could be added to those worn so proudly on uniformed chests. This one would be black with a white stripe running down the center. To be awarded to skunks who don't write home.

MARRIED TO ONE

DEAR ABBY: You have to be kidding! A suspicious wife writes her husband has taken an interest in a divorced coworker who is lonely. And you tell her to make a buddy out of this girl, invite her over, get her a date and make it a foursome.

At one time I was happily married, but wanting to do for others, I invited a "poor, lonely friend" to join my husband and me when we went to parties, or entertained.

My husband used to run over to her house and help her fix things. Well, because I was so shortsighted and trusting, you guessed it. My husband fell for her, and he humiliated me like you wouldn't believe. He left me and moved in with her.

It lasted three months. He found out what a fool he'd been and he left her. But first he scooped all the money out of what was by then their joint account. He'd never done anything like that in his life, but he had become so addled, he wasn't responsible. He messed up our lives, but good. We were divorced, washing 20 years down the drain.

I'm still single, altho I've had offers. Since then he has had several marriages, divorces, annulments and his life is so fouled up it's unbelievable. He looks 20 years older than he is, and his future is behind him. And it all started when he took an interest in a "poor, lonely girl," just like the one in your column.

MUCH WISER AT OXNARD SHORES

Former Legislator Speaks To ECU Women Students Group

A former state legislator told a women's student group Tuesday night that the North Carolina Commission on the Education and Employment of Women plans to hold public hearings and conduct surveys on the low status of women in the state.

Mrs. Mary Faye Shires, who represented Cherokee County in the House and the 33rd District in the Senate, addressed the newly formed Committee on the Status of Women at East Carolina University.

She noted that 45 per cent of the work force in North Carolina is female, but virtually all of this numerous percentage is concentrated in the lower-ranking and lower-salaried jobs, such as textile and apparel factory work, service trades and household work.

"Most women work because of a very real financial need," said Mrs. Shires.

"In many cases, women must work to support others or to raise their families' income above the poverty level."

The Commission, of which she is a member, was founded by Gov. Terry Sanford as a special advisory body to make recommendations to governing bodies on how women's status can be improved.

At present, she said, the commission has several goals: more available day care facilities; uniform enforcement of Title VII of the Civil Rights Act which partially protects women from discrimination; and amelioration of attitudes and policies in the employment, hiring and firing of female workers.

"One negative factor affecting women's status is the kind of vocational guidance young high school girls receive," said Mrs. Shires.

"All too often, guidance counselors simply steer girls into the standard 'women's jobs,' such as secretary, teacher, nurse and beautician.

"But why shouldn't girls who are qualified be encouraged to become engineers?"

Conditioning of young children, both male and female, results in the attitudes which have kept women from having full responsibilities and rights, explained Mrs. Shires.

"Men must be made aware that women have a right to contribute equally," she said, "and women must take upon themselves the duties and responsibilities that go with a more meaningful place in society."

When figuring the correct length for a sheet, allow four inches for hem and about five per cent for shrinkage.

Mrs. Avery Is Group Speaker

Mrs. W. E. Avery was speaker at the meeting of the Fine Arts Department of the Woman's Club Tuesday.

She spoke on her tour last summer to Ireland, England, Scotland and the Scandinavian countries, giving highlights of each country. She displayed mementoes from her trip.

The art selections on display for the month were: Rose High School senior, Victor Lo Vullo, picture entitled "Fear"; Rose senior Elvin Jones displayed a picture "Value Study"; Rose senior John Corey, "Looking in the Future"; Ronald Burnette, E. B. Junior High School, water color, "United."

Mrs. George Clapp presided at the meeting with the devotional given by Mrs. J. C. Lanier.

Members were reminded that the Fine Arts Festival will be held in February.

Movies Shown At Meeting

Home movies of previous meetings were shown at the meeting of the Women for War Orphans held Saturday at the home of Mrs. Betsy Chappell.

Mrs. Ann Posey, president, called the meeting to order. Members wrapped soap and cloth animals for mailing.

Letters concerning the WWO tutorial service will be sent to guidance counselors, principals and ministers in the surrounding area. A tutoring project was also discussed.

Refreshments were served by the hostess.

COPENHAGEN, Denmark (WNS) — Anne Dorte Maltot-Nielsen, 24, sold perfume in a local store until she married the king's nephew, Prince Christian, earlier this year. After the honeymoon, she kept herself busy furnishing their new home. Then she got bored because her husband is in the navy and is away a lot. Her solution: she has gone back to work. "I like to be with people, and I like to earn a little money that is all my own," explained the shop girl princess.

Drug Use Is 'Getting Worse'

Hardly anyone who watches the court column would argue with Dr. Ben E. Britt, director of the drug abuse division in the state Department of Mental Health.

The drug problem in North Carolina is bad and getting worse, he told an Associated Press interviewer.

"I think we are in line with the national trend," Britt said. "Our big cities have big problems and our small cities have small problems."

A Footrace On The Treadmill

By BRYAN HAISLIP
RALEIGH — The fight against illiteracy is a footrace on a treadmill. Efforts to reach those adults lacking in basic educational skills are offset by the number of young people who drop out of school.

The backlog of need is so great that present programs only touch the edges of the problem.

An answer lies in relating literacy and manpower goals — involving adult basic education directly in planning to utilize and develop manpower resources.

Gov. Bob Scott pointed out that approach recently in his charge to the North Carolina Manpower Council.

"Illiteracy must be eliminated and we need a specific, practical deadline for doing it," Scott said in outlining objectives for the newly-created Council.

The Governor's words heartened Charles M. Barrett, adult education director for the Community Colleges Department.

Encouragement for Future

"This is very encouraging for the future of our program," he said. "One of the drawbacks has been that we were limited to literacy education, period. Tying to skill training can improve the motivation to enroll, and the will to stick with the classes."

North Carolina ranks high among the states both in the scope of the problems and its efforts to solve it.

Based on the 1960 census, used in figuring allocations of federal funds for literacy training, nearly one million Tar Heels 25 and older never finished the eighth grade.

That means some 20 percent of the state's population is at or near the level of functional illiteracy — handicapped by lack of education in getting and keeping adequate employment, or even coping with demands of modern society such as shopping in a supermarket.

Only four other states (New York, California, Pennsylvania, and Texas) have a larger number of illiterates.

If North Carolina has farther to go than most, it was among the first to get started.

N. C. Led Attack

When the nation launched an assault on illiteracy under the 1964 Economic Opportunity Act, Barrett recalled, this state was the first to develop and secure approval for a basic adult education plan.

The classes, designed to bring its students through an 8th grade equivalent, are offered through the technical institutes and community colleges. They are taught wherever they can be located convenient to those who need them. Classrooms at the 54 tech institutes and community colleges are used; so are churches, civic centers, correctional institutions, and in at least one instance, a tobacco barn.

Enrollments have totaled almost 180,000 since the program's start. For the 1970-71 school year, the figure was nearly 25,000.

At that rate, assuming successful completion for every student (which is not the case), it would take 40 years to wipe out illiteracy in North Carolina.

The conclusion, Barrett agreed, is that more must be done if the battleground is to be moved off the treadmill and into range of victory.

Perhaps, he said, the manpower council's planning can be helpful in that direction.

$10½ Million Since '64

Federal adult basic education funds are provided on a 90-10 matching basis to the states. For the 1970-71 school year, North Carolina had some $2 million for the purpose. Since 1964, more than $10½ million has been spent from federal, state and local sources.

Illiteracy in a society is an indicator of failure, on the part of institutions of education or individuals. That stigma attaches to those who need the program.

"The adults we are trying to reach have learned to fear failure. They have reservations about establishing a trust relationship with a teacher. They don't want to risk failure again in front of their peers," Barrett explained.

That is a factor teachers must deal with, both in recruitment and retention of students, he noted. Former students as aides have proven helpful in many instances. In-service training also equips teachers for the special demands of adult basic education.

Individual success stories illustrate the program's effectiveness — a man who went from day laborer to welder, a woman who opened her own millinery shop. A study now in progress, following up the 1969 group of students, will give a broader perspective on operation and possibly point of modifications for the future.

He also noted that drug abusers are getting younger.

"We had persons admitted to our hospitals for narcotics addiction who are only 14 years old," the doctor declared.

"I think it is continuing to get worse. This is borne out by statistics, hospital admissions, police records, school surveys and by talking to addicts."

It is estimated that 10,000 people in the state use heroin and about 500 of these are addicted.

Last year more than 1,000 persons were admitted to mental health facilities for drug abuse treatment.

You can almost take your choice of what they were using: hard narcotics, sedatives, stimulants, hallucinogens, marijuana, gasoline sniffing, glue sniffing and other things.

The state is tackling the problem through local treatment centers and 12 have been placed around the state. It is said that some of the community-oriented centers have boasted cure rates of 90 percent or better.

There are those who will argue about the effects of marijuana as compared to hard narcotics, but almost no one can deny that the problem is here. Columnist Jack Anderson has described Fayetteville as second only to New York in drug abuse. Certainly narcotics, sedatives, stimulants, hallucinogens and other substances are circulating in Greenville because of the large group of college age young people.

To cope with the problem we must educate our citizens to the fact that drugs can be harmful and they are really not needed to chase away the cares of life. We must learn that coping with life's problems and frustrations is the real answer to happiness.

For those who find themselves on drugs there must be treatment by understanding professionals to help them find their ways back to the real world.

Drug abuse is not going to disappear by itself. Education and understanding of the problem will be required if we are to see a decline soon of this serious situation.

Poll Says Pat Taylor Gained

By JOHN KILGO

RALEIGH — Gubernatorial candidate Pat Taylor has picked up 60 per cent of the vote that was going to Robert Morgan before Morgan pulled out of the Governor's race, according to a poll that was taken for Taylor in December.

Oliver Quayle took the Taylor poll in mid-December, about a month after Morgan announced that he would not run for Governor.

We obtained a copy of the latest Taylor poll and it indicated that 60 per cent of those who favored Morgan for Governor had now switched to Taylor, 13 per cent to Skipper Bowles, 7 per cent to Hugh Morton and 2 per cent to Reginald Hawkins. Some of the Morgan supporters, according to the poll, are still undecided.

With the undecided vote included, the poll broke down the Democratic primary for Governor like this:

Taylor	52 per cent
Bowles	29 per cent
Morton	8 per cent
Hawkins	7 per cent
Leo Jenkins	4 per cent

The poll had at least one bit of discouraging information for the lieutenant governor. It noted that since the poll was taken in July, that Taylor had lost 15 per cent of his vote to Bowles, while Bowles had lost only 7 per cent to Taylor.

The Taylor poll points out that Bowles is the lieutenant governor's main opposition in the race for the Democratic nomination.

It was also indicated that Bowles, while running a distant second to Taylor, has "staying power." The poll said 77 per cent of the people who said last summer that they favored Bowles for Governor were still in his corner in December.

As for rating them on the way they are doing their jobs, the poll said 13 per cent of the people think Taylor is doing an excellent job as lieutenant governor, 45 per cent say he's doing pretty good, 21 per cent say only fair, 2 per cent think he's doing a poor job, and 19 per cent aren't sure what kind of job he's doing.

Bowles, who served in the State Senate in the last legislature, was given an excellent rating by 7 per cent of those polled, 38 per cent rated his job performance as pretty good, 18 per cent said only fair, 3 per cent said poor and 34 per cent weren't sure. Gov. Bob Scott's "favorable" report was down four points from 61 per cent in the July Taylor poll to 57 per cent in the December poll. However, the pollster says this is way above the national average for Governors and recommended that Taylor stay on a friendly basis with the Governor.

According to the poll, 32 per cent of the Democrats polled felt Bowles had been too critical of Gov. Scott, 33 per cent felt he had not been too critical, and 35 per cent weren't sure what to think.

National Democrats who feel President Nixon is slipping in North Carolina won't like part of the poll. Of the Democrats polled in December, 55 per cent of them gave the President a favorable rating on the way he's doing his job. Add Republicans to this question and the President's rating would have reached about 60 per cent favorable, the poll said.

Strength For Today

CHANGE OF WORDING

We wonder today if our mixed-up world is ever going to get straightened out sufficiently to let us live in some sort of peace, goodwill and kindness of spirit. Almost two thousand years ago the Price of Peace allowed himself to be sacrificed for human welfare and salvation. We have certainly made some progress. We can easily become discouraged that the progress is not greater and more incisive than we know it to be.

But hand-wringing never got individuals or nations anywhere. We may beat our breasts and ask what the world is coming to. The answer—if we could know it right at this present moment—would not be of much help to us. We cannot live on dreams, on ideals, on governmental policies, on sermons within the Church and out of it. Persons of faith everywhere are seriously alarmed about present-day trends. And we need to be alarmed. But we can be sure that alarm alone will never get us anywhere. The reformation of the world has to begin with individuals, and if you want to know who stands most in need of reformation—use the mirror. There used to be a declaration "Consult the box office." It meant that if you were in doubt as to this policy or that, check up on whether or not it is doing somebody some good. Jesus said: "By their fruits ye shall know them" (Matthew 7:16). Some people would like to twist that about to read: "By their roots ye shall know them." The world is not much impressed by a change of wording.

BEGINNING TO LOOK CHRONIC!

By J.J. KILPATRICK

End Of The Beginning

With Hubert Humphrey's announcement, coming on the heels of Ed Muskie's Yankee philosophizing a week ago, we pause at the first milestone in Campaign '72. This is the end of the beginning.

All the big mules, except for Ted Kennedy, are saddled up and accounted for. It is some stable. Congressional Quarterly has identified no fewer than 29 men and two women who have figured in presidential speculation over the past year. With most of them, of course, the figuring is just about invisible; it is down in the sub-basement with the smaller fractions of one-tenth of one percent. Even so, the rollovers suggests no shortage of sacrificial prospects willing to be afflicted with what Jefferson called "the splendid misery."

And why not? With all its burdens, frustrations and disappointments, the office of President of the United States remains the most powerful office on earth. The job pays $200,000 a year, but it's not the salary that counts. For any man who avidly hungers to "Get Things Done," this is the head of the table. A President may starve now and then, as Richard Nixon has starved at the hands of a Democratic Congress, but as a general proposition he eats pretty well.

Nothing else in our public life approaches the glamour of the White House. Being a senator, especially after your first re-election, has its attractive aspects; there is something to be said for serving in the cabinet or becoming speaker of the House; after 20 years, even a congressman rises to a kind of pitcher's mound Olympus. But when a President passes by, all the rest boils down to small potatoes.

This is the great glittering prize that prompts otherwise sensible men to take leave of their senses, to go into debt, and to wear themselves down to exhaustion. Take Vance Hartke, for example. The Senator from Indiana has no more chance of winning the Democratic nomination — less chance, indeed — than Tiny Tim, Jimmy the Greek or Wilt the Stilt. But for the next six weeks, you will find Senator Hartke trudging his way through the snows of New Hampshire, spending a small fortune in his own and other persons' money, and all for what? To have a little piece, once in a lifetime, of the biggest action there is.

We of the working press are not immune. You might suppose, after so long a time, that it would be like Agnew and the slums: If you've seen one, you've seen them all. Don't you believe it. I was covering a police beat when Roosevelt ran against Dewey in 1944, but I caught the presidential bug at a Strom

NEW YORK (AP) — A young man starting out now doesn't have the pick of jobs he did a few years ago.

Getting any kind of job seems to him today about the most important thing in the world.

But there are jobs and jobs. If possible, a fellow should try his best to find one that he can fit into or grow into.

Here, for example, are some jobs we wouldn't want to risk our future in:

Teaching Casey Stengel the English language.

U.S. Marine drill sergeant of a class containing Muhammad Ali.

The fire insurance salesman who sells policies to wax museums.

A cowboy in India, where cows have the right of way at all times.

Guardian angel for Frank Sinatra.

Mayor of New York City, when everybody in town is on strike except the street chestnut vendors.

President of the United States, when half the people want you to get into a war and half of them want you to boycott it.

A bomb inspector for the Saigon police department.

A kilts salesman in Tel Aviv. A marriage counselor in an Eskimo village.

Presidential campaign poetry adviser for former Sen. Eugene McCarthy.

The Greenville tobacco market will close for the season Friday, January 29th, it was announced today by supervisor of sales, K. W. Cobb. The market disposed of more than 225,000 pounds of leaf yesterday.

The announcement that Galli-Curci will give a concert here has created a great deal of interest throughout this section. East Carolina Teachers College lost their first game of the basketball season to the smooth playing team of Campbell College. ECTC will play their second game of the season with Atlantic Christian College in Wilson tonight.

Two Freezes, Different Goals

By ELMER ROESSNER

The success of the Nixon wage-price freeze is being compared unfavorably to the Roosevelt wage-price-credit freeze in World War II.

The comparison is unfair. True, they both had one object in common: to check inflation. Only time will tell which freeze will do most to check inflation, but at the moment, FDR's game plan seems to have been a better one. Both wages and prices appear to be rising faster today than in the early days of World War II.

But the World War II freezes had other objectives. They were:

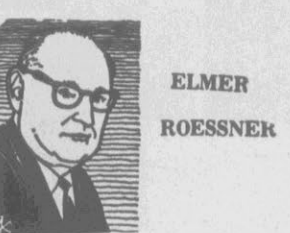

To move skilled labor from civilian jobs to defense work.

To curb spending for luxuries to divert earnings and profits to war financing.

To stress to the people that it was their war, to remind them in as many ways as possible that they were participating in a great crusade and they were sharing in the sacrifices.

The goals today are different. Roosevelt shut down auto production because he wanted the great automotive plants to turn out tanks and other material, because he didn't want workers using their overtime pay to buy new cars. Nixon wants auto plants running full blast and is happy that workers are buying and can buy cars.

Roosevelt restricted consumer credit because he didn't want the people encouraging the production of luxury goods instead of buying war bonds. Nixon has been careful not to restrict either consumer credit or interest rates. And Roosevelt wanted makers of luxury goods to shift to war production. Or enlist.

And the biggest difference of all is that Roosevelt had both Congress and the people enthusiastically for the war. Nixon has inherited a war of doubtful popularity and a Congress consisting of a large number of members who are seeking to run for President themselves.

The purchasing power of the consumer dollar, because of inflation or thaws in the freeze, declined approximately from $1.19 in 1940 to 93 cents in 1945. That made inflation less than 5 per cent a year, a remarkably low figure for a full-scale war. It is close to the rate of inflation in our half-hearted war against communism in Indochina.

In World War II, a few price-faginlers were convicted. Juries were quick to convict. But in this war, it is doubtful that anybody goes to jail for boosting prices.

And the threat of jail was another factor that made the Roosevelt freeze as effective as it was.

D.H. Conley HIGHLIGHTS

By DUANE WILLIAMS
D. H. Conley's S.C.A. held its monthly meeting this week and voted to organize a Student Task Force. This Task Force is to help solve school problems and to help strengthen school relations among students. With the cooperation of all persons concerned, this program should greatly improve our school morale.

First Yearbook
Sponsor Nancy Franklin and the VALKURIAN have really been busy this week. They have been taking pictures, athletic pictures, and those of the homecoming queens and princesses. Since this yearbook will be our first, we wish the staff and Mrs. Franklin the best of luck and we hope the first will be the best.

Juniors received their best gifts when they got their class rings the day we got out for the holidays. After 11 years, it was worth all the wait, wasn't it, Juniors.

D. H. Conley news will now be heard throughout the county. The school news will be broadcast over WOOW radio. The program which will be broadcast every Wednesday night at 8:00 will consist of sports, school news, and coming events. The show's first guests will be Joey Wilson, Patricia Patrick, and basketball star, Bennie Thompson.

Pitt County's annual College Day will be hosted by D. H. Conley High School. The big event will be January 20 and colleges from all over North Carolina will be represented. College representatives will set up booths and give out information and inform students of college life. The high school seniors of Pitt County are especially urged to attend.

Sports
The Vikings keep right on rolling with victories over Southern Wayne, Havelock, and Eastern Wayne. Havelock tried to stall our high scoring offense but was unsuccessful. The Vikings are now 10-1 with the Valkuries 9-2 and the J.V. 10-1. Conley's now leading the conference and the way we're going now, the skies the limit. The wrestling team is now 4-2 and improving everyday. The only losses were to North Pitt and to Farmville Central in a very controversial match. The wrestling team is now second in the conference with North Pitt and Farmville tied for top.
A pep rally will be held Friday afternoon to help keep the basketball team on the winning streak.

Senior Privileges
Seniors now get a few more "luxuries" than the underclassmen. We now get out five minutes before other students to go eat lunch. Seniors will also be exempted from mid-term and end-of-year exams, if we study hard enough to average an "A".

Conley's library is now better equipped to meet the needs of the students with the addition of a new list of books. These books consist of science fiction and of the new Lincoln Library reference books. We now have volumes of social studies, language arts, and general information. The library is awaiting the arrival of many more new books this spring.

Seniors will order their graduation invitations January 24. It won't be long now till graduation.
Remember, underclassmen and all seniors without "A" averages should start studying for exams which will begin January 17 and continue for three days. Good Luck!

Kilpatrick . . .

Thurmond rally in 1948. Now every leap year sees the fever rise. I wake in the middle of the night and the portable typewriter is whimpering like a hound dog. Next week, New Hampshire.

The whole process, of course, must impress a sane man as lunacy. The election of an American President is the most solemn political act in the Western world, but we go at it with buttons, balloons and bumper-stickers. You will find more downright dignity in a sack race staged at a Tallapoosa County Fair. It is not even mid-January, and already we are playing the "stop" game: The cry is "Stop Muskie," and it is like yelling "Hey rube," on the midway. It is a training exercise: Shoot over his head and see if he flinches.

My guess at this stage is that Muskie will make it. Nobody hates him. That's a sad thing to say, by way of defining his principal asset, but it's true. Yet Humphrey the Happy Warrior has an affectionate hold on many hearts; he could come on strong at Miami. Neither of them stirs much excitement, but John Lindsay, George Wallace and Gene McCarthy will keep us supplied with swordplay.

Politically speaking, our greatest show on earth is taking to the road. It will play for the next 299 days. The prologues have been fine, but as Al Johnson—or somebody—used to say: "Folks, you ain't seen nothing yet."

Will Host Meet Of Instructors

The Automotive Mechanics Department at Pitt Technical Institute will host the North Carolina Auto-Diesel Instructors Association meeting Friday and Saturday.

A program on Emission Controls will be presented by Morris L. Gosis, assistant director of the Washington Technical Institute, Washington, D.C.

Attending the meeting will be auto-diesel instructors from all the community colleges and technical institutes in North Carolina.

The program will begin Friday night and continue through Saturday noon.

Girl Scouts Work To Aid Appalachia

Girl Scout Troops 470 and 411 of Greenville are participating in a book and clothing drive for the people of Appalachia.

According to Mrs. Jeanne Robertson, Senior Planning Board advisor for 26 counties, the local scouts will be collecting books (children's books, novels, reference books, etc.) and clothing, especially for infants, for the families of Appalachia. No textbooks will be collected.

The drive, scheduled to end on Feb. 5, is in cooperation with the Girl Scout Council of the Coastal Carolinas which includes 26 counties. The purpose of the drive is also to fulfill their theme for the 70's, "Action-Awareness."

Contributions may be taken to the home of Mrs. J. F. Davenport, 217 Kendall Court, Brook Valley, or pick up service may be obtained by calling Mrs. Davenport at 756-4730.

"The purpose of the drive is to give to something that we can see the results," Mrs. Robertson said. "So often we give and give to organizations but never see any results. This way we will be able to help people here in North Carolina and will see the good from it."

"A local trucking firm has volunteered to deliver the collected articles to Western Carolina University, Cullowhee, where they can be distributed to the needy families of Appalachia.

Local church groups and other organizations have also agreed to help with the collection of clothing and books.

From that it's easy to see why the pollster did not recommend criticism of the President in the Democratic gubernatorial primary.

Of those who consider themselves liberals, Bowles led with 47 per cent of the vote, followed by Taylor's 38 per cent, Hawkins' 12 per cent and Morton's 3 per cent.

The poll said the moderates gave Taylor 52 per cent of the vote, Bowles 29 per cent, Morton 10 per cent, Hawkins 4 per cent.

Those who consider themselves conservatives liked Taylor by 57 per cent, Bowles by 22 per cent, Morton 12 per cent and Hawkins 6 per cent.

Taylor, according to the poll, was exceptionally strong with elderly people, people who had lived in North Carolina a long time, and with Baptists. He and Bowles, according to the poll, each had 43 per cent of the vote in the age group 18 to 26.

Co-Host Summer Institute Here

East Carolina University's Department of Science Education and Elizabeth City State University will co-host a summer institute for secondary school teachers of general science courses.

The institute is funded by the National Science Foundation which has awarded $67,651 to the co-operative project.

Each participating teacher will spend three weeks at ECU and three weeks at ECSU for instruction, and will receive a stipend of up to $75 per week, with travel and dependents allowances.

Participants pay no tuition or fees.

More than 700 American whaling ships roamed the globe in the 1840s.

Five Injured Bowles Would Have In Collisions N.C. Export Body

Five persons were reported injured in two collisions here yesterday.

Four people were injured when cars driven by Carlton Earl Small, 30, of 705 Carolina Ave. and Julius Edward Streeter, 30, of 1308 West Fifth St. collided about 4:12 p.m. at the intersection of Fifth Street and Roosevelt Avenue.

Officers reported both drivers and two passengers in the Streeter car were hurt.

Damage was estimated at $800 to the Small auto and $190 to the Streeter car. No charges were reported.

Mrs. Marion Summerlin Bunting of 1607 Longwood Dr. was charged with failing to see her intended movement could be made in safety following investigation of a 4:03 p.m. collision on Greenville Boulevard two-tenths of a mile East of the Fairview Way intersection.

Police reported the Bunting car and a motorcycle operated by Patrick M. Brankin, 17, of Mansfield, Ohio, collided, resulting in an estimated $75 damage to the car and about $30 damage to the motorcycle.

Brankin was listed as injured in the mishap.

SNOW HILL — Hargrove "Skipper" Bowles, Democratic candidate for Governor, said here Monday night that the state should have an official State Export Council to ensure that "we are taking absolute maximum advantage of the export opportunities that exist or can be created."

Speaking at the Greene County Soil and Water Conservation District's annual awards banquet, Bowles said he believes that a state export council can give extra sales to all groups even though different commodity groups are doing a good job at this time.

The former state senator from Greensboro joined increased export business to the raising of per capita income and to more and better government services.

"When the producer is making more money, he will be paying more taxes and with more taxes we can provide more services to all the people of our state," Bowles said.

An improved agriculture picture is part of the Bowles plan for increasing the per capita income. Career education in the public schools is the major part of that plan that also includes increased emphasis on the state's tourist industry.

AWOL Soldier Hunted For Planting Bank Bombs

WASHINGTON (AP) — A man described as an AWOL Army private with a Ph.D. from Stanford University has been charged in connection with the planting of time bombs in three San Francisco banks, the FBI announced today.

Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell and FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover identified the suspect as Ronald Kaufman, who has been charged in a federal warrant issued in San Francisco with maliciously attempting to damage and destroy the three banks.

Kaufman, who is still at large, was identified through fingerprints found on various bomb components taken from the bank safe deposit boxes, Hoover said.

The announcement said Kaufman, 33, was born in Milwaukee, Wis., and lived in Berkeley, Calif., until July 1971, shortly before he re-enlisted in the Army.

He took a 30-day leave from Ft. Polk, La., Dec. 9, with orders to report to Ft. Jackson, S.C., Jan. 9 for shipment overseas, the agency said. There is no record that he reported to Ft. Jackson.

Last Friday, letters postmarked in Chicago were received by newspapers and a television station in Chicago and San Francisco disclosing the presence of bombs planted in bank safe deposit boxes in those two cities and New York. They claimed the bombs were part of a radical new strategy to force the release of "political prisoners."

Police found time bombs in two San Francisco banks, three in Chicago and three in New York. One which exploded Labor Day weekend in San Francisco but had been kept secret apparently was part of the plot. A photo of Kaufman released by the FBI showed a thin, smiling face, clean-shaven except for long sideburns and unkempt hair reaching over the ears and collar. The FBI said the photo was taken recently.

The agency said Kaufman "is reported to have attended Students for a Democratic Society (SDS) conventions in Clear Lake, Iowa, in 1966 and Ann Arbor, Mich., in 1967."

The agency said he served in the Army under his own name from February 1956 through February 1958—about the time he became eligible to serve—and re-enlisted at St. Louis, Mo., last Aug. 10 under the name James Edward Jensen.

Hoover said conviction on the announced charges and unspecified "related charges" could carry a sentence of up to 81 years' imprisonment and $90,000 in fines.

The FBI described Kaufman as a white male, 5 feet 11 inches tall, 168 pounds with brown hair and brown eyes. It said he "should be considered armed and dangerous."

RONALD KAUFMAN

Zero In On Drug Traffic

WASHINGTON (AP) — Government tax investigators say they are zeroing in on drug traffickers in 26 states including North and South Carolina.

Treasury department officials reported Wednesday 328 drug traffickers have been assessed more than $17 million in taxes and penalties. A spokesman would not reveal names but said investigations included those of a trafficker in Columbia, S.C., and one in Goldsboro, N.C.

Eugene T. Rossides, Asst. Treasury Secretary for Enforcement, said the results should be a reminder to traffickers "to get out of the illegal drug business or face up to intensive tax investigations."

The spokesman said the program is designed to single out alleged traffickers in the middle and upper echelon of the drug distribution system and put them under close tax investigations.

Rossides said getting the trafficker on more conventional charges as possession is difficult because he is insulated from the distribution system, but still is able to take the profits.

Rossides said "our aim is to take the profit out of the illegal drug trafficking business."

Preyer Will Run Again

GREENSBORO (AP) — Rep. L. Richardson Preyer has announced that he will seek reelection as North Carolina's 6th District congressman in the Democratic primary in May.

The Greensboro resident and former U.S. District Court judge now is in his second term and with no opposition at this stage in either party, there is speculation he will win reelection with little effort.

However, in announcing Wednesday that he would run again, Preyer said, "I expect opposition, maybe in both the primary and general election."

He said he would wage a campaign in anticipation of "tough" opposition.

Meanwhile, Mrs. Ann Morrison of Burlington, 6th District Republican chairman, has said she did not want to see Preyer elected again without opposition. She said a GOP group presently is working to field a candidate from the Republican party.

Lang Appointed To Committee

John A. Lang, Jr., Vice President for External Affairs of East Carolina University has been appointed to the Air Force Historical Advisory Committee. Dr. Robert C. Seamans, Jr., Secretary of the Air Force, announced Lang's appointment from Washington today.

Lang, who is a Major General in the Air Force Reserves, served as the Administrative Assistant to the Air Force Secretary from 1961 to 1971. He resigned in July, 1971 to come to East Carolina.

Textile Plant To Be Reopened

CHERRYVILLE, N.C. (AP) — Burlington Industries has announced plans to reopen its Pinnacle textile plant in Cherryville, closed since last September because of poor business.

Don Barham, manufacturing vice president, for the Foley and Lord division of Burlington, said the plant will be re-opened as a knitting operation.

Seatrains To Call At Port

RALEIGH (AP)—A new shipping service for the port of Wilmington will be inaugurated Feb. 7 when the container ship Eurofreighter calls at the North Carolina port city.

R. H. Skove, vice president for marketing for Seatrain Container line, told a news conference Wednesday that the visit will mark the start of tri-weekly container shipping service to Europe "utilizing the world's largest and fastest container ships—Euroliner, Eurofreighter—and within a few weeks, the Asialiner."

The Eurofreighter is capable of carrying more than 900 40-foot containers of freight. A container is similar to a large trailer that can be trucked or taken to the port by rail for loading onto the vessel.

"These ships are unique," Skove said, "in that they utilize gas turbine engines similar to those that power jet planes for propulsion."

"Seatrain is hopeful that a regular tri-weekly service will generate additional tonnage through Wilmington," he added.

Seatrain's president, Arthur C. Novacek, said in a news release that "Wilmington had been in our plans for some time. Tobacco shippers among others have long sought a container outlet through Wilmington."

James W. Davis, executive director of the North Carolina State Ports authority, said the new service "should afford North Carolina shippers and consignees efficiency of container cargo movement not heretofore available."

Districting . . .

new means of financing schools would be a pressing issue in the very near future.

Dr. Fuller, a member of the Greenville City Council and an East Carolina University faculty member, said that North Carolina is now fourth in the nation in the receipt of state funds supporting education; seventh in the nation in the receipt of federal funds for education; but was 48th, or near the very bottom in local funds supporting education.

Dr. Fuller emphasized the need to not lose sight of the emotional as well financial needs of education. "We must do something about this, it is our only solution. We must look on each other as fellow human beings," he commented, adding that "people with racial hang ups are not fulfilling their potential."

Other speakers at the district meeting included George McRorie, president of the Martin County Board, and Dr. Raleigh E. Dingman, executive secretary of the State Association; who spoke to the general session prior to the meeting of the three work groups.

Dr. W. O. Fields, Jr., Assistant State Superintendent and Dan Morrow, Associate Executive Secretary of the North Carolina Association of Educators headed the work group on "Teachers Tenure Law."

Carlton Fleetwood headed the group on discussions in "Trends in Federal Funding."

The State Future Farmers of America Championship Quartet from Oak City High School provided a program of music during the dinner meeting.

This was the first time in recent years that the School Board of the Greenville City Schools has been qualified to attend such a meeting. The local board last year voted to join the North Carolina State School Boards Association.

Other school boards that are members of District Two are those of Beaufort, Hyde, Martin, Tyrrell and Washington County; and Washington City Schools. Of school boards in the six county area, the only one not presently a member is the Pitt County School Board.

Will Launch 5-Year Plan

A kick-off campaign to launch a five-year plan of development and growth for Pitt County will be held tonight at 6:30 at the Pitt County Agricultural Extension Office.

According to Ed Yancey, chairman of the Pitt County office, the guidelines for growth and development to be presented tonight is in cooperation with a statewide effort to bring growth and development to the state. Each of the agricultural extension services in North Carolina has prepared such a study for their county.

The areas covered in the study include agricultural production and marketing, family living, 4-H and youth, community resource development and quality of our environment.

"The 100 county plans have been combined and coordinated into a statewide program which seeks to make real impact on the development of North Carolina in the next five years," Yancey said.

51,840 Lottery Tickets Seized At Bus Station

AYDEN — Local police and Pitt County Sheriff's Department officers yesterday afternoon seized 51,840 lottery tickets contained in a freight shipment at the bus station here.

The raid on the shipment was made by Chief James Ross, Sgt. James Pridden and Deputy Sheriff Ivan Harris. Chief Ross, who said no arrests have been made in connection with the lottery tickets indicated officers moved in and took possession of the shipment after it appeared that no one would appear to claim the illegal paper.

The illegal shipment, according to Chief Ross, originated in Bristol, Tenn., and was taken by the law enforcement officers about 3:15 p.m. It arrived in Ayden about 11:30 a.m. and was addressed to an apparently fictitious person.

Investigation of the case is continuing.

Says Nixon Has Not Hopeful

TOKYO (A*) — Prime Minister Eisaku Sato today quoted President Nixon as saying "I have no confidence" in convincing Communist China and France to sign the treaty banning the spread of nuclear weapons.

Sato said Nixon made the statement last week when the two leaders held a two-day summit meeting at San Clemente, Calif.

Sato spoke to young members of his Liberal Democratic party.

Steamboats Will Race Feb. 27

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — The first steamboat race on the Arkansas River in this century—between the Delta Queen and the Border Star—will be held here Feb. 27.

The two paddle-wheelers will begin at the Main Street Bridge in Little Rock and go six miles downstream and race back to the bridge.

Again Urges Takeover Of Welfare By State

RALEIGH (AP) — John R. Jordan Jr., chairman of the North Carolina Social Services Board, has reiterated his call for state takeover of county-administered welfare programs.

Jordan said Wednesday recently released statistics showing a high rate of error in the state's welfare programs is "as strong evidence as I've seen for renewing takeover efforts."

Jordan recalled that he tried unsuccessfully to bring the takeover plan to the 1971 General Assembly and said he would try again during the 1973 assembly.

He also promised to keep the issue before the state Social Services Board although "it's really in the hand of the next legislature now."

"This is an item of high priority before the state Social Services Board," he said. "We're going to continue to study this I'd like to see this in our budget request for the 1973 legislature."

The board unanimously recommended the state takeover at its April 1971 meeting.

Jordan asserted that the present county-administered welfare system is "inefficient," and said a state-administered system would be more efficient and "lead to fewer errors."

The state Social Services Department reported recently that 10 per cent of North Carolina recipients of the Aid to Families with Dependent Children program are ineligible for welfare payments, and another 33 per cent are paid either too much or too little. A 30 per cent error rate also was reported in the Aid to the Aged and Aid to the Disabled programs.

"These statistics don't lie in presenting the system as inefficient," Jordan said. "From a common sense point of view, I think it's obvious that a state-administered system would be more efficient and have a lower error rate."

State welfare takeover would cost the state approximately $75 million during the 1973-75 biennium, Jordan said.

1.49 Inches Of Rain Fell Here

A total of 1.49 inches of rain fell over the Greenville area from Monday morning through this morning at eight o'clock.

According to the Greenville Utilities Commission weather station, a total of 1.29 inches of rainfall was recorded for Monday, .19 of an inch on Tuesday and .01 of an inch on Wednesday.

The high temperature for the 24-hour period ending this morning at eight o'clock was 69 degrees while the low for that same period was 52 degrees. The temperature this morning at 8 a.m. was 65 degrees.

The Tar River level was reported at 3.9 feet and rising.

St. Pete Press Sinks Pirates, 98-80

JERSEY CITY, N.J. — St. Peter's College, using a fullcourt press from start to finish held East Carolina University to only two points in the final six minutes of play last night and gained a 98-80 victory.

The loss was the ninth for the Pirates in 13 starts, while it was only the second for St. Peter's. The Peacock's other victory, however, was against a common opponent, Duke University.

The press was the key to the game, as it caused the Pirates to make 33 turnovers, 21 coming in the second half. They had trouble moving the ball most of the time, but when they were able to get into scoring position, they did well, hanging into the game until the final two minutes of play.

The Bucs had one of their better nights from the floor, hitting 48.3 per cent as compared to 47.1 per cent for the Peacocks. The Pirates also did well from the line, hitting 75 per cent of their shots.

But the turnovers accomplished a lot, the Pirates got off only 58 shots at the basket, while St. Peter's took 85, and therein lay the difference.

St. Peter's had a slight domination of the boards, too, 39-37. Jim Fairley led the Pirate rebounding with 12, while Al Faber added 10. Mel Davis led the St. Peter rebounding with 12. The Pirates jumped off into the lead in the game, building up a 9-2 advantage with 16:24 to go in the half. But the Bucs then ran into a cold streak and St. Peter's ran off 10 straight points to take a 12-9 lead with 14:35 to go.

The score was deadlocked by the Bucs at 16-16, and the two teams swapped baskets for the next few minutes with East Carolina finally gaining a 31-29 lead with 5:41 left.

Then, in the closing minutes of the half, the Pirates spurted out to a nine-point edge, 45-36 with 1:02 left in the period.

But the Peacocks came up with a basket and two free throws in the final 30 seconds to cut the lead back to 45-40 at the half.

East Carolina was able to maintain its lead throughout the early minutes of the second half, moving out to a 52-46 lead with 16:49 left to play. But St. Peter's put on a rally there, hitting three straight to pull into a 52-52 tie with 15:15 left.

Harry Anderson hit to put St. Peter's into the lead, 54-52, but the Bucs finally tied it again at 56-56. It was again tied at 60-60 with 12:43 left, but the Peacocks ran off seven straight points to gain a 67-60 lead with 11:47 to go.

East Carolina rallied, cutting it to 67-66 with 9:50 left and the game see-sawed back and fourth for the next few minutes until Earl Quash hit a jumper to tie it up at 78-78 with 6:05 to go.

But the St. Peter's press then began to tell heavily on the Pirates, and they got only one more basket the rest of the way, while St. Peter's was running off 20 points.

The Pirates still had a chance with about three minutes left, but were unable to get off the good shots, as turnovers continued to plague them.

Jed Martiniuk led the St. Peter's attack, pouring in 31 points, hitting 13 field goals and five free throws. Anderson had 18, while Tony Holm had 14, Davis had 13 and Rich Fuller had 11.

For the Pirates, Faber led the scoring with 20. Jerome Owens had 16, Earl Quash has 11 and Ernie Pope had 10.

The Bucs return home on Saturday night to return to Southern Conference action. They entertain the league-leading Furman Paladins.

Pirate Wrestlers Tie Nationally Ranked Foe

The East Carolina University wrestling team pulled off a 17-17 tie of nationally-ranked West Chester last night in one of the most outstanding meets ever held in Greenville.

The Buc team took an early 8-2 lead in the match, but West Chester, led by two All-Americans, both of whom placed in the nationals last year, came back to take a 14-8 lead over the

Bill Hill, who was a national qualifier for the Bucs last year, then pinned Bruce McCloy to pull the match even. It marked the first time in McCloy's career that he has been pinned.

The Pirates and West Chester divided the two remaining matches, to finish the meet in a draw.

West Chester came into the match ranked 18th in the NCAA rankings in college wrestling.

Summary:

118: Glenn Baker (EC) decisioned Bill Racich, 6-4.

126: Dan Monroe (EC) drew with John Gallagher, 7-7.

134: Jim McCloe (EC) decisioned Bob Borkert, 4-1.

North Pitt In Two Victories

BETHEL — North Pitt High School took a pair of games from the Robersonville Golden Eagles last night. The Panthers won their game, 66-52, while the girls picked up a 33-26 win.

The Big Orange Machine rolled out to a 12-3 lead in the first period, but the Eagles put on a rally in the second period. They outhit the Pant-HERS, 9-3, and cut the North Pitt lead to 15-12 at intermission.

North Pitt was able to add only a point to the lead in the third period, outscoring Robersonville, 5-4. That made it 20-16 as the final quarter began. North Pitt outscored the Eagles, 13-10, in that to wrap up the victory.

Betty James led the Robersonville scoring with 10 points, while Joy James and Phyllis Jenkins each had nine for North Pitt.

In the boys game, North Pitt built up a big lead in the first half, then held off the Eagles the rest of the way. The Panthers jumped out into a 17-11 lead in the first period, then outscored the Eagles, 16-7 in the second frame. That made it 33-18 at the half.

Robersonville tried to rally in the third quarter, but ended up cutting only two points off the lead, 19-17. That left the Panthers in command, 50-37. North Pitt then held off Robersonville, 16-15, during the final period to claim the victory.

Herbert Wright led North Pitt with 18 points, while Daniel Highsmith had 17 and Ulice Jordan had 13. For Robersonville, Ernest Crandall had 21 and Shelton Smith had 10.

Robersonville hosts Oak City, while North Lenoir visits North Pitt on Friday.

Coke Holds To City Cage Lead

Coca-Cola continued to roll along as the leader in the City Basketball League. Coke downed Stewart's Sandwiches, 69-54 last night while Hollow's Distributing Co. beat Book Exchange 87-47, and College View nipped Big Value Discount of Farmville, 65-62.

Coke now posts a 4-0 record, while Hollow's is next with a 3-1 mark. They are followed by Big Value and College View, both 2-2, the Exchange 1-3, and Stewart's, 0-4.

In the opening game, College View pushed out into a 33-29 lead in the first half. Big Value tried to put together a rally, but could only outscore College View by a point, 33-32.

Greg Holmes led College View with 19 points, while Tom Hayes had 17, Bob Short had 14, and Scott Colough had 10. For Big Value, Ed Carraway had 20, while Ivey Smith and Lester Wells each had 14.

Hollow's had no trouble in building up a 35-27 lead over the Exchange in the first half of its game. They really poured it on in the second half, outscoring Exchange 52-20, to win the rout.

Bruce Tucker led Hollow's with 33 points, while Gene Rackley had 14. Ted Whitley had 15 and Bob Haubenreiser had 13. The Exchange was led by Tom Jordan with 15, while Bill Kelly and Jim Sermons each had 11.

Coke pulled out into a 35-28 lead in the first period of its game, and then outscored Stewart's, 34-26, in the second frame, winning easily.

Jim Modlin led Coke with 17 points, while Charles Norfleet had 14 and Johnny Turner had 11. Stuart Rhodes led Stewart's with 16.

Quite An Entanglement

Things are crowded under the basket, but East Carolina's Al Faber (53) in the center, managed to grab a loose basketball in a rebound battle during Wednesday night's game with St. Peter's College. Others in on the close action are Earl Quash (35) of East Carolina, and Mel Davis (54) and Rich McPherson, right, of St. Peter's. The Peacocks pulled away in the final five minutes for a 98-80 victory. (AP Wirephoto)

Dean Smith Ejected, But Tar Heels Roll To Win Without Him

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Basketball Coach Dean Smith of third-ranked North Carolina, a man who rarely loses his temper, was ejected from the Clemson game at halftime Wednesday night by referee Lou Moser for grabbing Moser's arm while discussing the calls.
Smith said that assistant coaches Bill Guthridge and John Lutz, who handled Tar Heels in the second half, when North Carolina broke away for an 81-61 victory, "did a tremendous job of running the team."
The technical foul called on him, which resulted in his banishment, was the result of misunderstanding, Smith said.
Tates Locke, the Clemson coach, also was charged with a technical for stamping his foot while talking to an official about the calls, but was not ejected. Clemson was down by only two points at the time.
Three other Atlantic Coast Conference teams played that night. Undefeated Virginia, eighth-ranked, won its 12th game, 97-76 over independent George Washington, and North Carolina State, sparked by 7-foot-4 Tommy Burleson's 30 points, trounced Duke 85-58 in a league game.

ACC teams now are idle until Saturday, when North Carolina is at Virginia in a big game which will start at noon and be televised. Clemson is at Duke and Wake Forest at Virginia Tech.
Locke said North Carolina is much stronger than last year. "They'll get most teams under the boards, where (Dennis) Wuyck and (Bob) McAdoo are so strong. We lost our poise, and I think they will do that to a lot of other teams."
Clemson had been working on a four-game victory string, its longest in five seasons, and in its last game has upset Maryland 63-61 at home last Saturday. However, the Tigers now have lost to North Carolina 11 times in a row over the last five years.
North Carolina, led by McAdoo with 28 points, won its 10th game against one defeat and is 1-0 in the league. Clemson is 6-3 and 1-1.
Home-team Virginia was leading George Washington by only 58-56 with 13:45 left to play when Chip Miller came off the bench to score eight points during a 16-7 Cavalier spurt. The game's high scorers were Ronnie Nunn of George Washington with 34 points and Barry Parkhill of Virginia with 23.

Furman Goes Against Spiders

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Furman's Paladins apparently have shaken a late December slump, and that bodes no good for Richmond's Spiders when the two teams tangle tonight in Richmond, Va., in a Southern Conference basketball game.
The defending league champion Paladins, who lost three in a row in one stretch, have come back to win two of their last three starts — the defeat was to third-ranked North Carolina — for a 6-5 over-all record. The Spiders are only 3-8 and have shown only flashes of strength.
Furman carries a 3-1 league record into the encounter and can boost its lead to one full game by winning. A defeat would drop the Paladins into a four-way tie with Davidson, William and Mary and Richmond, which goes into the game all even at 2-2 in the conference.
The return of playmaker Don Jackson to the Furman lineup and the recent scoring help Roy Simpson has been giving league leader Russ Hunt have contributed in large measure to Furman's recent successes.
The Furman-Richmond game is the only one tonight involving conference teams, but three clubs took on outside opposition Wednesday night.
The only one to win, surprisingly enough, was lowly Virginia Military. The Keydets whipped Wofford 80-63 as sophomore Bob Frank scored 27 points and hauled down 20 rebounds.
Charlie Tyler added 18 for VMI, now 3-7 on the year. Wofford was led by 6-foot-11 Doug Murray with 26.
East Carolina had the ball stolen away 18 times by St. Peter's en route to a 98-80 setback up in New York. The Pirates, who were outscored 20-2 in the last five minutes, got 20 points from Al Faber, but St. Peter's Ted Martiniuk collected game honors with 31.
Davidson felt the absence of John Falconi in absorbing a 91-78 drubbing from Pittsburgh. The Wildcats missed the ballhandling of their sophomore guard as they committed 23 turnovers.
Pitt's Bill Knight led all scorers with 26 while John Pecorak had 20 for Davidson.

Traylor Shines In S.C. Victory

COLUMBIA (AP)—"It was Danny's night," beamed South Carolina Coach Frank McGuire.
Seven-foot, 250-pound Danny Traylor had just had his biggest night ever, leading his team to a 116-78 basketball victory Wednesday night against Manhattan.
The big junior scored 37 points and grabbed 20 rebounds, career highs for him, as South Carolina outclassed the smaller visitors.
"The big kid was just too strong inside for us," declared

Jack Powers, coach of Manhattan.
"I asked the guys to go inside to Danny more at the half," McGuire said, "and he came through with some beautiful moves under the basket."
Traylor was alone under the boards, as 6-10 Tom Riker sat out the game in street clothes because of the fracture of a small bone in his left hand. He is expected back in uniform soon.
"Danny knew he had to do it alone," McGuire said.

WASHINGTON — For the second straight night, the Rose High School Rampants were blasted by an opponent. Last night, it was the Washington Pam Pack which roared past them, 91-63.
The Washington five got outstanding scoring from Sam Leggett, who hit his season high with 35 points, hitting 15 field goals and five of six free throws. Steve Hendrikson added 21 more points to the total.
The Rampants suffered from a number of turnovers, and Washington beat them on the boards as well. The Pam Pack did play sloppy ball at times during the game, but their hustle more than made up for it.
Rose was out of the game by the time the first period was over, when Washington built up a 10-point bulge. After that, it was just a question of setting the margin as they slowly built up to as much as a 35-point lead before it was over.
The loss was the eighth in 11 games for the Rampants, and their sixth in a row.
Rose got the opening lead from the Pack, however when Tommy Williams tossed in a jumper after nearly a minute of play. Washington came back with a basket by Fred Jones as he scooped up a loose ball, and then a jumper by Harold Jackson put the Pack ahead, 4-2.
Rose cut it by one with a free throw, but two charity shots by Hendrikson upped it to three. Rose again cut it to one on a shot by J. C. Daniels, but a three-point play by Leggett ran the lead out to 9-5 with 4:38 to play.
Rose scored two quick baskets, however to tie it up. They got two points from Robert Kear and then he stole the ball for two more, tying it at 9-9 with 4:17 left. But that was it for the Rampants. Hendrikson hit a free throw with 4:05 left to put Washington out again, and Rose never caught them again.

Leggett followed with two baskets, sandwiched around one by Hendrikson to up the lead to seven, 16-9 before Rose could score again. Then, two baskets, one by Jackson and the other by Hendrikson, ran it out to nine, 20-11.
Rose got one on a shot by Ed Johnson to tie it to seven, but a basket by Jones and two free throws by Hendrikson ran the margin to 11 with 50 seconds to go. Rose got a free throw from Lonnie Payton, but a basket by Leggett ran the Pack lead to 12, 26-14, with seven seconds left. Kear hit for Rose to reduce it to 10, 26-16, just at the horn.
Things got no better for the Rampants in the second quarter. Washington and the Rampants swapped the opening basket, and then Washington hit a string of nine to run their lead out to 19. Leggett led the way during the period, hitting 11 of the 17 points scored. He hit the first two in the nine-point spurt, and then Hendrikson scored after stealing the ball. Leggett added a free throw, and a basket by Donnell Mitchell made it 37-18 with 3:43 left in the period.
Rose managed to cut it back to 15 on a field goal by Al Hunter and two free throws by Daniels, 39-24, but Washington got baskets from Leggett and Jackson to go back out into a 19-point lead at the half, 43-24.
During the first three minutes of the second half, Rose managed to slice the lead to 15 again, but that was to be it. Washington again pulled away behind the leadership of Leggett, and ran its lead out to as much as 25. Leggett hit 11 more points during the period, as he led the way.
From the 16-point lead, Washington outscored Rose, 10-1 as they went from 50-34 to 60-35 in the space of two minutes. Rose cut it back to 19 again, but still trailed, 66-44 as the period ended.
In the last period, the Pack continued to build its lead, finally topping 35 points at the 83-48 mark with 5:21 left in the game. The bench began coming in then, and Rose managed to cut it back to the final mark.
Besides the Hendrikson and Leggett totals, Jackson finished with 17 and Jones had 10.
For Rose, Daniels was high with 13 points, while Payton had 12 and Kear and Johnson each had 11.

Wachovia Takes Industrial Lead

Wachovia Bank moved into sole possession of first place in the Industrial Basketball League last night, with a 46-23 victory over their closest competition, Carolina Telephone. In the other games, Empire Brushes beat Vermont American, 40-21, and State Highway rolled to a 70-30 win over Greenville Utilities.
Wachovia now posts a 4-0 record, while State Highway and Carolina Telephone are both 3-1. Empire Brush is 2-2, followed by Vermont American and Greenville Utilities, both 0-4.
In the opener, State Highway pushed out into a 34-16 lead in the first half. They had little trouble after that, outscoring GUC, 36-14, in the final half to complete the rout.
Fred Mills and Phil Page led the Highwaymen with 18 each, while Danny Edwards had 10. Rufus Bynum led GUC with 11.
Empire Brush and Vermont American struggled through a slow first half, with the Brushmen leading, 18-13 at the half. But they turned it into a rout in the second half, outscoring Vermont American, 22-8, to win

Indicate South To Continue Control Of Congress

By TOM SEPPY
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — A government projection indicates the South will continue to hold the largest number of seats in Congress in 2000, although the Western states will increase their share by 30 per cent.

However, all the Southern gains will be in Florida, Virginia and Texas. Seven Deep South states will lose seats by the turn of the century because of population shifts.

Richard Lehne of the Department of Housing and Urban Development cites the statistics in a report for the Presidential Commission on Population Growth and the American Future.

Lehne's study showed California and Florida, which have gained the greatest number of House seats over the past 20 years, will pick up 16 and 8 seats, respectively, by 2000. New York and Pennsylvania will continue to lose congressional seats.

The South has 135 of the 435 House seats; the figure was the same in 1950 and will be repeated in 2000, Lehne said, giving Dixie 30.8 per cent of the seats.

The 104 seats held by the Northeast will drop to 94 by 2000, and the North Central share will fall from 121 to 110.

The Western states' share of congressional representation is expected to climb from the present 76 seats, or 17.5 per cent, to 97, or 22.3 per cent, by 2000.

While California and Florida will be the big gainers, the number of states with only one House member will rise from four to eight with addition of Idaho, Montana, North Dakota

Lehne says the most-striking feature of state-by-state projections is the great growth of California—from 30 congressional districts in 1950, through 43 in 1970, to 59 by 2000.

In 1950, Florida had the same number of congressional districts as Iowa and Kentucky, trailing 17 states in the number of districts. By 2000, Florida will have 23 districts, trailing only California, New York and Texas.

Lehne says Arizona and Texas will have gained four congressmen each in the 50 years between 1950 and the end of the century; Maryland, three and Colorado two. Six states will have gained two or more congressional districts in the same period.

Although growth in congressional representation has been concentrated in two states, losses will be more widely dispersed.

New York, which lost four congressmen since 1950, will drop another six by 2000 and Pennsylvania will match its total of five fewer representatives over the last 20 years with the loss of another five in the next 30.

Iowa and West Virginia will have lost four congressmen in the 50-year period. Seven other states will have three each, and five additional states each will be apportioned two fewer districts in 2000 than they had received in 1950.

In all, 16 states will have lost two or more congressional districts between 1950 and 2000.

A Live 'TV Spectacular' When Nixon Visits China

By FRANK CORMIER
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's trip to Peking next month may be the biggest live television spectacular since man first stepped onto the moon in mid-1969.
The White House announced Wednesday there will be "some live television transmission" from Peking, the capital of the Communist country isolated from Washington for nearly 25 years and never visited by a U.S. president.

What the White House did not say was that Americans and Chinese are cooperating in a TV game plan so extensive that much of Nixon's activities while in Peking can be beamed live to the President's election-year audience at home.
As an example, there is a plan to fly three mobile TV units—each the size of a large transit bus and one for each network—from the United States to mainland China.

Nixon's press secretary, Ronald L. Ziegler, said the Chinese have agreed to set up—at their expense—a communications ground station capable of transmitting live TV and radio reports plus newspaper pictures and stories.
The American-owned ground station, used most recently for coverage of Iran's 2,500th anniversary of the Persian Empire last autumn, will be removed after Nixon's visit.
Ziegler, who returned from an advance trip to China earlier this week, reported the President's hosts have erected "in a very short time" a complete broadcast production center—further evidence of the extensive video coverage contemplated.

A sizable advance contingent of communications specialists and network representatives will leave here Feb. 1 to set up and operate the temporary communications system.
Ziegler said the White House press party—which will not include those leaving Feb. 1—will number about 80.

Ziegler conceded that this will be only a quarter of the newsmen, photographers and technicians who normally accompany the President on international journeys.
However, he said "we are very pleased with the number" and described it as representing "a cooperative attitude" on the part of the Chinese.
Ziegler said 80 was much more than the Chinese originally had in mind and represented at least a seven-fold increase over the largest press contingent ever to go to Peking with a head of state.

Asked if there would be press censorship, Ziegler replied, "Absolutely not."
Visiting Americans will be free to roam about the three cities Nixon will visit—Peking, Hangchow and Shanghai—for sightseeing, man-in-the-street interviews or shopping, Ziegler said.

"I don't foresee any restrictive-type measures," he added.
Nixon, accompanied by wife Pat, will arrive in Peking Feb. 21 and leave from Shanghai Feb. 28. It will be the President's longest visit to another country.
Ziegler indicated live TV coverage will be limited to Peking. The ground station, being installed at the Peking airport, will be unable to pick up other communications from Hang-chow and Shanghai.

While in China, Ziegler said, Nixon may visit the Great Wall, the Ming Tombs and the Forbidden City, all in or near Peking; an industrial exhibition in Shanghai and a scenic lake dotted with parkland islands near Hangchow.
American newsmen making the trip will be guests at all official banquets given the Chinese for the President and Mrs. Nixon, the press secretary reported.

The Worry Clinic Worry Is Real Boon To Man

Lita says she is a "Worry Wart." And she wishes all worry were banished from mankind! But that would be unwise! For worry is the prod that has made us evolve our inventions, drugs, and even our American Constitution. Just learn to worry efficiently; without bad medical side effects!

By GEORGE W. CRANE
Ph.D., M.D.

Case-569: Lita B., aged 28, is an anxious housewife. "Dr. Crane," she moaned, "I must be a chronic 'Worry Wart.'"

"For I am nervous and tense to the point I now have spastic colitis as well as peptic ulcer."

"And it is all due to my fears and worries."

"Wouldn't it be wonderful if worry could be abolished forever from mankind?"

Bravo, Worry!

No; that would be a very sad day for the human race!

For worry has forced mankind to develop all its inventions.

It has produced our luxurious living conditions in America.

Indeed, our wonderful Constitution is also due to worry lest we be oppressed by despots or communists! Worry is merely trial-and-error thinking about serious problems that usually have an emotional tinge.

Thus, parents may worry because their teen-age daughter is out with a drinking boy friend who races his car 90 miles per hour when 65 is the legal speed limit.

And they are smart to worry!

They'd be stupid if they didn't do so.

But we must learn to worry efficiently, without being troubled by many of its bad medical side effects!

These consist of insomnia, peptic ulcer, angina pectoris, spastic colitis, high blood pressure, etc.

So learn to lay your worries down at stipulated times.

Don't carry home your office tensions to spoil your evening with your wife and children.

Since you pay your physician to worry about your health, then don't try to take over his job!

Let him fret about your "innards."

And at night don't load up on caffeine beverages at dinner, such as coffee or tea, plus a bottle of cola beverages just before bedtime.

For they speed up your pulse rate, thus wearing out your heart prematurely. They also alert your brain so you can't drift off into slumber.

Play ball with God!

If you wish a sound night's shut-eye then don't prod yourself with such chemicals just before retiring, nor with thriller-diller midnight TV shows or detective stories.

Also, avoid being a sleeping pill addict! And if you still are sleepless, get up and take a bowl of cereal or some hot milk toast, for then more blood will be drained from your brain cells, thus letting them grow sluggish and sleepy.

To eliminate many hidden fears and guilt complexes, visualize the Almighty as sitting in a chair beside your bed, like the kindly former family doctor.

God says we are His children, so regard Him as an affectionate modern Dad (raised to the nth power) and then lift your hand high above the covers as you say:

"Lord, I have a heavy day's work ahead of me tomorrow and I need 8 hours of sound slumber. Will you please take over the night shift for me, so I can sink into deep sleep?"

Now drop that uplifted hand limply upon the covers. You'll drop off into refreshing sleep surprisingly fast!

For God plays ball with all His children if they play ball with Him!

Also, keep a daily agenda of your duties; then cross them out as you finish each one.

Leave tomorrow's worries for TOMORROW, not tonight!

The bidding:
South West North East
1 ♠ 3 ♥ Pass Pass
3 ♠ 4 ♠ Pass Pass
4 ♠ Pass Pass Pass

Opening lead: Ace of ♠
South overcame some extremely adverse distribution in today's hand by careful timing and precise play to bring home his four spade tricks.

Since his powerful two-suit hand was worth 20 points in high cards and distribution, South chose to open the bidding with one club in order to facilitate partner's response. West chose to inhibit a free exchange of information by making a preemptive jump overall of three hearts. Altho the vulnerability was unfavorable, his distribution minimized the chances of suffering a severe penalty on the deal.

North passed and South reopened by showing his second suit. North resisted the temptation to bid three no trump which would have failed and instead, he gave partner a preference to four clubs. When South persisted to four spades, North passed and East wisely restrained the impulse to double. But for his opponent's accurate dummy play, he would have been rewarded with a modest profit.

West opened the ace of hearts and continued the suit, dummy winning the second trick with the king.

The king of spades was cashed, however, when West followed with the jack, South paused to consider the situation. His opponent's vulnerable preempt must be based on a highly distributional holding. West was apparently short in spades. If he was also short in clubs, it might be vital to retain dummy's second trump.

Declarer switched to a club at trick four to his queen and continued with the king. When West showed out, discarding a heart, South's foresight was rewarded. He could now play the ace of clubs and then safely ruff out East's jack with the deuce of spades. Before leading the fourth club, he was careful to cash the ace of diamonds first, so that when he was in the North hand for the last time, he could lead a diamond and single in the three of spades as East followed suit.

South now had eight tricks in—three clubs and a club ruff, one diamond and a diamond ruff, one heart, and the king of spades. This was the position at trick 10:

NORTH		EAST
♠ Void	♥ Void	♠ Q 10 8 7	♥ Void
♦ 10 9 7 6	♣ Void	♦ Void	♣ Void
WEST		SOUTH
♠ Void	♥ Q 10 9	♠ A 9 8	♥ Void
♦ K	♣ Void	♦ Void	♣ Void
♠ Void	♥ 5	♠ 5	♥ 5

South led the five of clubs and East ruffed with the seven of spades. The latter returned the queen of trumps and declarer followed suit with the six. East was down to the ten-eight and South was able to win the last two tricks with the ace-nine by merely covering whichever spade was led. His losses were limited to one heart and two spades.

Carpet Industry Sales Booming

SADDLE BROOK, N. J. (UPI) — Carpet industry sales will set a record in 1972, a leading manufacturer forecasts. Volume will approach the $2.6 billion mark and resume the 12 per cent annual growth rate maintained throughout the 1960s but interrupted in 1970 and 1971, according to General Felt Industries, Inc.

The company says it bases its prediction on increased new housing starts in 1971, easing of credit, availability of more mortgage financing, lowering of interest rates and evidence of increased consumer confidence.

To combat a pale look, a dab of rouge or lipstick blended into a small amount of baby lotion in the palm of hand provides a blusher to spread on as much of the face as desired.

Pilots Declare 'Smart Bombs' Hit Target 10 Times Oftener

By ROBERT A. DOBKIN
AP Military Writer
WASHINGTON (AP)—With a television camera in its nose and a steering system in its tail, the Air Force's "smart bomb" strikes its target in Indochina 10 times more often than a conventional bomb.

That judgment was offered by pilots now stationed at the Pentagon after duty in Vietnam and experience with the two types of smart bombs first introduced in Southeast Asia four years ago.

The other type relies on a laser beam to lock the bomb onto its target.

Pilots say the tenfold increase in accuracy curtails the number of repeat sorties to bomb targets missed the first time around and thus, reduces the risk to pilot and plane.

Specific figures are classified, but reports after the laser-guided bombs were first introduced in Vietnam said more than 70 per cent of nearly 1,000 dropped found their mark.

Contrary to some reports, smart bombs are unable to zoom around hillsides or crawl around corners, but they are able to knock out such difficult targets as narrow road intersections, bridges, dams, tunnels and supply caches which often defy destruction with conventional bombs or air-to-ground missiles.

Essentially, smart bombs are conventional iron bombs of 750, 1,000 or 2,000 pounds equipped with either a laser guidance kit or electro-optical (TV) kit. They differ from missiles in that they have no propulsion system other than gravity and the speed of release.

With the laser-guided bomb, the forward air controller spots the target with a laser beam, an intense narrow cone of light. Reflected radar radiation off the target is picked up by a second plane which dives into attack, locks onto the target electronically and pitches its bomb onto the laser beam. A guidance seeker on the bomb nose rides the beam home.

Pilots armed with the electrooptical or TV guided bomb pick up the target on a five-inch television screen in their cockpit.

Similar to a standard TV camera, the optical seeker in the bomb's nose locks onto the target and automatically guides the weapon to impact, steered on the way by a guidance control system which maneuvers the tail fins much like the tail assembly on an airplane.

Although reported to be highly accurate, the smart bombs can be used only in good weather when the target can be sighted visually by pilots. Smart bombs are not intended as a replacement for conventional bombs which still see heavy usage in nighttime raids, in bad weather and against larger targets where pinpoint accuracy is unnecessary.

Air Force officials estimated that smart bombs accounted for less than one per cent of the 800,000 tons of aerial munitions dropped in Indochina in 1971.

Date Set Back For Producer Sign-Ups

Producer sign-up dates in the feed grain, cotton and wheat programs have been changed to begin on Feb. 3 and continue through March 10, according to Stacy J. Evans, executive director for the Pitt County ASCS Office.

Originally the sign-up was scheduled to begin Jan. 17 and run through Feb. 25.

"The change in sign-up dates is being made in order for producers and the Department of Agriculture to evaluate information from a special report of planting intentions which will be available on Jan. 27," Evans explained.

Evans said the local office can accept sign-ups prior to the beginning date, subject to the rules and regulations that will be in effect on Feb. 3.

The Feb. 3 sign-up date compares to a starting date of March 1 for the 1971 program year, and to a starting date from Feb. 2 to Feb. 6 in the four preceding years. There will be no advance payments this year but final payments are expected to be made shortly after July 1 to all signed farmers who have compiled with their agreements.

ANY USED CAR WARRANTY AS STRONG AS THIS CAN ONLY BE ON AN OK USED CAR.

USED VEHICLE DEALER WARRANTY
No. _____
This Warranty is issued by the undersigned, an authorized Chevrolet Dealer (hereinafter called the Selling Dealer) to:
Name _____	Address _____
City _____	State _____
(hereinafter called the Purchaser) in consideration of the purchase of an OK Designated used motor vehicle (hereinafter called the Vehicle) described as follows
Year _____	Make _____ Type _____
Motor No. _____	Serial No. _____ Stock No. _____
Mileage shown on odometer at delivery _____
STATEMENT OF WARRANTY
Subject to the provisions and conditions stated below, in the event of mechanical failure of the Vehicle, the Selling Dealer agrees as follows:
(1) For a period of 30 days, beginning or 2,000 miles after delivery (whichever occurs first), the Selling Dealer agrees to repair or replace the engine, transmission, rear axle, brake system, or electrical system—without charge—to the extent necessary to keep the Vehicle in serviceable condition under normal use.
PROVISIONS
(a) Mechanical failures resulting from collision, accident, abuse or lack of maintenance are expressly excluded from the above coverage.
(b) Repairs are to be made in the Selling Dealer's Service facilities.
(c) Such repairs do not qualify under any new vehicle warranty still applicable to the Vehicle.
(2) Upon the expiration of the warranty period specified in (1) above and for a period ending 24 months from the date the warranty period specified in (1) above commenced, the Selling Dealer, or any other participating franchised Chevrolet Dealer, will allow a discount of 15% off the normal retail charges for parts and labor repair necessary to keep the Vehicle in serviceable condition under normal use.
This Warranty is not valid unless signed by the Selling Dealer or his Authorized Agent and by the Purchaser, who is to retain a copy.
Dealer's Name _____	City _____ State _____
Signature of Dealer or Authorized Agent _____
Signature of Purchaser _____
PROVISIONS
(a) Repairs are to be made in the Service facilities of the Selling Dealer or other participating franchised Chevrolet Dealers at the Chevrolet Dealer's regular retail price.
(b) 85% of the parts and labor repair bills are to be paid by the Purchaser in cash on delivery of the repaired vehicle.
(c) Expressly excluded from Warranty coverage are damage from collision, accident or abuse, or normal maintenance services such as lubrication, oil changes, tune-ups, etc.
GENERAL CONDITIONS
This Warranty is issued by the Selling Dealer only, and not by the manufacturer of the Vehicle.
This Warranty is expressly in lieu of any other warranties, expressed or implied, including any implied warranty of merchantability or fitness for a particular purpose, and any other obligations or liabilities on the Selling Dealer's part, and Selling Dealer neither assumes nor authorizes any other person to assume for it any other liability in connection with the sale of the Vehicle.
This Warranty must be available with the Vehicle at the time of application for any repairs or adjustments, and is not transferable or assignable (This offer is in consumer goods in California or Massachusetts).
In witness of all the above conditions, we have attached our signatures this _____ day of _____ 19 _____

100% FOR 30 DAYS.

This means you get 100% repair or replacement cost coverage on engine, transmission, rear axle, brake system and electrical system for 30 days or 2000 miles, whichever comes first.

In addition, you get 15% discount on parts and labor for any necessary repairs or parts replacement for a full two years—at any participating Chevrolet dealership in the U.S.A.

A warranty as strong as this tells you a lot about our OK used cars. We sell them with confidence, you buy with confidence and drive with confidence. In other words, we've taken the guesswork out of buying a used car.

Right now we have an excellent choice of well-cared-for late model used cars. Come in early and take your pick. You'll be satisfied. We guarantee it.
