

DORM NAMED — The third of ECU's 10-story high rise dormitories has been named in honor of the late

Ten-Story ECU Dorm Will Be Named For Alumna Sarah Clement

East Carolina University's newest women's dormitory will be named for Sarah E. Clement, an alumna who died in May, 1970, leaving a $50,000 bequest to ECU for the establishment of a student loan fund.

The decision to name the dormitory for Miss Clement was made by the ECU Board of Trustees, who cast their votes by mail. Dr. Leo W. Jenkins, president of ECU, commented: "We are pleased that the Board has decided to honor the memory of Sarah E. Clement, whose generosity will benefit ECU students for many years.

"Naming the dormitory for her is an appropriate gesture in tribute for an alumna who, long after her years on the campus, still cared for her alma mater."

The dormitory, one of three ten-story dormitories on the ECU campus, was completed in 1969 at a cost of $1.4 million. It houses 400 students and includes 86,044 square feet of space.

Architects were Stinson-Hines and Associates of Winston-Salem.

At the time of her death, Miss Clement had retired from elementary teaching. She was a native of Davie County and graduated from East Carolina in 1915.

In 1920, she began teaching third grade at Credle Elementary School, Oxford, where she remained until her retirement in 1960.

The dormitory will be officially named at a formal dedication ceremony, which will be scheduled later.

Four North Viet Tanks Knocked Out By Planes

By RICHARD PYLE
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — South Vietnamese fighter-bombers knocked out four North Vietnamese tanks today and Tuesday along the western side of the central highlands, military spokesmen reported.

It was the first time since 1969, and the third time in more than a decade of the war, that North Vietnamese tanks have been involved in combat inside South Vietnam. A massive enemy buildup including tanks has been under way in the tri-border region where Laos, Cambodia and South Vietnam come together, and U.S. and South Vietnamese officials expect a major offensive timed to embarrass President Nixon during his trip to Peking next month.

Spokesmen said the tanks, of unidentified type, were sighted by aerial observers moving on trails inside South Vietnam, and propeller-driven A1E Sky-raidors and A37 jet bombers were called in to destroy them.

On Tuesday the planes hit two tanks about seven miles southwest of Fire Base 5, scene of heavy fighting last year, and 12 miles inside the border. A number of enemy troops were moving on foot behind the tanks and were killed, the spokesmen said.

The spokesman said two more tanks were hit this morning just inside the border and about nine miles west of Ben Het, the border camp which was the target of the last enemy tank attack, in April 1969.

Enemy tanks were first reported used inside South Vietnam in early 1968 when they attacked the U.S. Special Forces camp at Lang Vei, on the Laotian border, during the siege of Khe Sanh.

Meanwhile, the U.S. Command reported the 19th so-called protective reaction air strike of the year against North Vietnam, and fighting erupted in the Mekong Delta, an area that had been generally quiet lately.

An Air Force F4 Phantom escorting an unarmed photo reconnaissance plane attacked an antiaircraft missile radar site near Dong Hoi. It was the third strike in as many days in the Dong Hoi area 45 miles north of the demilitarized zone

North Vietnamese Cool To Nixon's Eight-Point Indochina Peace Offer

By LEWIS GULICK
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's newly unveiled eight-point Vietnam peace offer drew a cool reception from North Vietnam today and found little favor with his critics at home.

The President, in a surprise announcement, disclosed a proposal made secretly eight months ago for a U.S. pullout in exchange for a prisoner release, and his broader eight-point offer made last October. The latter proposes that South Vietnam's President Nguyen Van Thieu step down pending a new election.

Radio Hanoi said the proposal offers "nothing new" and doesn't change current U.S. positions "in any way."

The Nixon pull-out offer was conditional and involved only U.S. troops, not an end to "the U.S. war of aggression through Vietnamization and maintenance of the lackey clique of Nguyen Van Thieu," the North Vietnamese broadcast said. It called the election proposal a farce.

In a radio-television address Tuesday night Nixon disclosed he had dispatched his national security adviser, Henry A. Kissinger, to Paris a dozen times since Aug. 4, 1969, for hush-hush negotiations with top North Vietnamese envoys.

Hanoi negotiators rejected a U.S. offer last May for a pull-out deadline in return for prisoner release and a cease-fire, he said. Nixon said the eight-point plan "has not been rejected, but it has been ignored."

A White House official said the first enemy response "is likely to be negative" when U.S. negotiator William Porter presents the plan publicly at Thursday's weekly Paris peace talks meeting. The official voiced hope for a more-favorable North Vietnamese reaction later.

But a main aim of Nixon's 20-minute address was also to defuse domestic criticism—and various congressmen who have been attacking the administration's Vietnam policy were again disapproving.

Democratic presidential candidate George McGovern said he does not think the new Nixon formula will work. Chairman J. W. Fulbright of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee said Nixon did not offer enough to gain Hanoi's acceptance. Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., said the American national interest "still requires complete U.S. withdrawal."

Nixon accused Hanoi of having publicly denounced the United States for not making proposals which in fact had been "made in the manner they wanted us to respond—secretly."

The North Vietnamese thus "induced many Americans in the press and the Congress into echoing their propaganda—Americans who could not know they were being falsely used by the enemy to stir up divisiveness in this country," he said.

One of the most-prominent demands by Nixon's political opponents, as voiced by the caucus of Democratic senators Wednesday and by nearly all Democratic presidential contenders, has been for a deadline for withdrawal of all U.S. forces, conditioned upon release of American prisoners.

"On May 31, 1971 eight months ago, at one of the secret meetings in Paris," Nixon said, "we offered specifically to agree to a deadline for the withdrawal of all American forces in exchange for the release of all prisoners of war and a cease-fire."

"At the next private meeting, on June 26, the North Vietnamese rejected our offer. They privately proposed instead their own nine-point plan which insisted that we overthrow the government of South Vietnam."

Calling his new offer "one of which we can all agree" and an effort to break the deadlock at Paris, Nixon said:

"Some of our citizens have become accustomed to thinking that whatever our government says must be false, and whatever our enemies say must be true. The record I have revealed tonight proves the contrary."

The White House account of the 2½ years of secret negotiations stressed that the North Vietnamese are insisting on Thieu's removal as part of any settlement.

Nixon's eight-point plan featured a new presidential election in South Vietnam as the U.S.-Saigon offer on this prime sticking point in the Paris talks. As the President summarized his proposal:

"Within six months of an agreement:

"—We shall withdraw all U.S. and allied forces from South Vietnam.

"—We shall exchange all prisoners.

"—There shall be a cease-fire

throughout Indochina.

"—There shall be a new presidential election in South Vietnam."

In a Saigon broadcast timed with Nixon's announcement, Thieu said he agreed to the offer and that the Viet Cong's National Liberation Front could run candidates in the proposed election.

Under the plan, Thieu and Vice President Tran Van Huong would resign a month before the vote but could run for office if they chose.

Communist negotiators have spurned past offers for elections on ground they would be rigged against the NLF. U.S. negotiators in turn claim that enemy proposals for a new Saigon government, have been heavily weighted in favor of the Communists.

Four Bombs Explode In Irish Village As Terrorism Continues

BELFAST, Northern IRELAND (AP) — Four bombs exploded in the village of Castlewellan early today, killing one man and injuring another.

The bombs went off over a 45-minute period, the first outside the local police station and the others hitting the telephone exchange and an agricultural field study center.

Castlewellan, with a population of 819, had been free of the violence that has ravaged much of Northern Ireland in the communal strife between Roman Catholics and Protestants. The bombs raised the death toll to 215 in 29 months of violence.

Terrorists shot and wounded two policemen in Belfast Tuesday, another officer was wounded in Newry and a 15-year-old girl was injured by a nail bomb hurled at a British army patrol in Belfast.

In Lurgan, southwest of Belfast, a mother fought off a man armed with a sub-machine gun and saved her son from death at the hands of an execution squad.

Police said three masked, armed men knocked on the door of Gary Rogers, 19, a Protestant factory worker who is scheduled to testify in a case involving explosives. His mother answered the door and threw herself at the man with the machine gun, blocking his way.

The two others pushed past her into the house, spotted young Rogers at the top of the stairs and fired at him, wounding him in the chest and leg. Then all three fled. The youth was reported in satisfactory condition.

Woman Named Superior Court Judge By Scott

RALEIGH (AP) — The second woman ever to serve as a Superior Court judge in North Carolina has been appointed to the bench by Gov. Bob Scott. She is Duplin County attorney Winifred Townson Wells of Wallace.

Scott appointed Mrs. Wells as judge of the 4th Judicial District Tuesday to succeed Judge Howard H. Hubbard, who resigned due to illness.

She will be the only woman serving on the Superior Court bench. State Supreme Court Justice Susie Sharp is the only other woman who has held a seat on the Superior Court.

Mrs. Wells is a native of Murphy and has served as county attorney in Duplin since 1955. She has served as town attorney for Wallace and Magnolia since 1947.

Mrs. Wells was a law partner of Rep. David Henderson, D-N.C., from 1950 until 1956.

She is a past president of the North Carolina Association for County Attorneys and is a member of the North Carolina Bar Association's Penal System Study Committee.

Her husband is Dr. D. L. Wells Jr., a Wallace dentist.

In appointing Mrs. Wells, Scott followed a precedent set by his father, the late Gov. Kerr Scott, who appointed Miss Sharp to the Superior Court in 1949.

HOME RIPPED BY EXPLOSION ... Firemen cool a mattress after a gas explosion in a home on 14th Street. The home was blown apart from the intense

House Explosion Laid To Apparent Gas Leak

An explosion ripped through a house on 14th Street here yesterday afternoon, apparently the result of leaking gas.

Investigating fire officials and police officers said the blast was apparently caused when gas filled the house after utility crews restored gas service to the home and lit pilot lights on a stove and water heater a short time before. They said there was apparently a leak in a gas line inside the home.

The blast at the 1523 West 14th St. dwelling occurred about 4:40 p.m. and responding firemen quickly extinguished several small fires set by the exploding gas.

Police, who said the wood-frame house was damaged beyond repair, reported the home had been unoccupied but a tenant was in the process of moving into the house.

No one was at the house at the time of the explosion and no injuries were reported. Greenville firemen, Greenville Utilities Commission employees and firemen from Pitt and surrounding counties had completed a special training class on propane gas fires and emergencies about an hour before the explosion.

Other LP gas fire and emergency classes were scheduled for today and Thursday at Greenville's central fire station.

Wide-Open Races For Two N.C. Council Of State Offices Is Rare

By NOEL YANCEY
Associated Press Writer

RALEIGH (AP) — The primary election campaign this year has brought something that's comparatively rare in North Carolina—wide open races for two council of state positions at the same time—commissioner of labor and commissioner of insurance.

Ordinarily, in contests for these positions, an incumbent is seeking re-election. An incumbent has built-in advantages such as being widely known. So, folks hesitate to run against these state officials.

But this year, Commissioner of Labor Frank Crane and Commissioner of Insurance Edwin Lanier announced they will not seek re-election, and open races for the Democratic nominations have developed.

Crane announced only last week that he would step down for "purely personal reasons." Within hours, John B. Wardell of Jamestown, who operates a printing plant at High Point, announced that he would again be a candidate.

Wardell ran against Crane in the 1968 primary and received more than 200,000 votes.

One day later, William Creel, a longtime safety official with the state Department of Labor, announced he would also seek the commissioner of labor nomination.

A race for the Democratic nomination for insurance commissioner developed even before Lanier's recent announcement that he would not seek re-election.

Developments included an announcement Jan. 11 by State Rep. John Ingram, D-Randolph, that he would be a candidate. Ingram had long been critical of auto insurance rates in North Carolina.

"It is time for a change in the automobile insurance industry which discriminates against its older driver by placing him in an assigned risk pool even though he has a perfect driving record," Ingram asserted. He also said the industry discriminates against younger drivers with good records by making them pay higher premiums than motorists convicted of drunk driving.

Earlier, George Belk, a Greensboro appraiser and adjuster who ran second to Lanier in the 1968 primary, announced that he would make another try.

Only one candidate, Russell Secrest, has actually filed with the state Board of Elections. Secrest is a veteran of 16 years with the Insurance Department and was special services supervisor when he resigned to make the race.

A Raleigh real estate broker, George Cherry Jr., announced Tuesday he would seek the nomination for insurance commissioner and Dewey Sheffield, Wilson insurance agent, and Johnny Clark, a Morganton insurance agent, have indicated they were considering getting into the race.

Pay Board Has Again Ignored Own Wage Guidelines

Morton Is Relying On TV Camera

RALEIGH (AP) — Promoter and resort developer Hugh Morton is advertising his candidacy for the 1972 Democratic gubernatorial nomination with a series of 13 taped news conferences on prime television time across the state.

Morton has spent $9,000 for the use of television facilities to tape the news conferences and for evening time spots on 13 states. An aide said another $1,000 was spent on newspaper advertising to promote the telecasts.

Morton, who used his promotional ability to develop Grandfather Mountain as a tourist attraction, said the telecasts evolved from his precampaign swing through the state.

"All this past summer I was going around to all 100 counties and holding meetings here. At each meeting I held I threw it open for questions from the floor, so I've had practice in this sort of procedure," he said.

Some newsmen declined invitations from Morton's staff to take part in the news conferences, citing the fact that they were being paid for by Morton and being used for political gain.

Morton said invitations to newsmen were extended locally just prior to taping of each telecast.

"The news people that came to the conference got to set the rules on what was to be discussed—not me," he said. "It doesn't take the public long to realize this is not a trumped up deal. It's me exposing myself to whatever it is they want to cover."

He said he had noted a "universally favorable reaction" to the telecasts, but had not decided whether the tapes would be shown again in different locations.

Still Need Jury For 4

HIGH POINT, N. C. (AP) — Selection of a jury remained to be completed today in the trial of four youths charged in a gun battle with police a year ago at Black Panther headquarters in High Point.

Questioning of prospective jurors began Tuesday afternoon, but none was seated. Earlier, Superior Court Judge J. William Copeland denied defense motions asking that the indictments be quashed and that the current venire be stricken.

Defense lawyers contended that drawing jury lists from tax and voter registrations failed to provide a cross section of the city population.

On trial are three High Point youths, Larry Medley and George Dewitt, both 17, and Bradford Mizell Lilley, 20, and Randolph Jennings, 18, of Winston-Salem. All are black.

They are charged with assault with a deadly weapon with intent to kill and two counts of assault on a police officer with a firearm. The gun battle erupted last Feb. 10 as police sought to serve an eviction notice on the Black Panthers.

EXTENDED WEATHER OUTLOOK FOR N.C.

Chance of rain Friday, prospects of rain mixed with snow or sleet Sunday. Cool during period with highs generally in 40s, ranging to 50s along the coast.

By BROOKS JACKSON
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — A bitterly divided Pay Board again has ignored its own wage guidelines, this time conditionally approving a 10-per-cent pay raise this year for 140,000 railroad trainmen.

But it is uncertain whether the AFL-CIO United Transportation Union will honor the long-delayed pact, which contains streamlined work rules the railroad industry says will speed service and eventually save money.

The UTU had demanded full approval of the pact before putting the new work rules into effect. UTU President A.H. Chesser refused to comment on Tuesday's almost-total approval until he receives official notification of it.

The full UTU contract contains raises of 42 per cent over 3 1/2 years, retroactive more than two years to Jan. 1, 1970. The board cleared the agreement until the present, and said it intends to approve two raises totaling 10 per cent this year if the work rules are put into effect. That leaves uncertain the fate of two raises totaling 5 per cent next year.

The approval motion, which passed 8 to 5 with five labor members and three business members in the majority, in effect grants yet another exception to the board's general rule that wages in new contracts can't go up more than 5.5 per cent a year, or 7 per cent in special circumstances.

The board has yet to apply its 5.5-per-cent guideline strictly to any of the powerful unions whose agreements it has reviewed so far. It rejected a 12-per-cent raise for aerospace workers, but then said it would approve the entire raise if part of it is moved to the second year of a three-year pact.

Tuesday's motion approving the bulk of the UTU contract was sponsored by business member Benjamin F. Biaggini, a railroad executive who sources say strongly wants to see the new work rules put into effect, whatever the price in wages.

Although the board's official spokesmen declined to give details of Tuesday's voting, other sources said the five labor members and three business members made up the majority. Four public members and Chicago publisher Robert Bassett, a business member, voted no. Chairman George H. Boldt abstained and business member Virgil Day left the room during voting.

Sources said that after approval of the trainmen's contract, UAW Vice President Pat Greathouse moved to reinstate the rejected 12 per cent aerospace raise. This move was defeated 9 to 5 with labor in the minority.

A New Economic Power Grows

The inclusion of Britain, Ireland, Norway and Denmark in the European Common Market last weekend creates an economic unit of European nations which can have vast effects on world trade.

Prime ministers of the four nations signed entry treaties which will bring them into the group of nations Jan. 1, 1973.

The action creates a new economic nation with a combined population of 225 million and a combined Gross National Product of $565 billion. It is expected that the union will become a trading rival for the United States and the Soviet Union.

British Prime Minister Harold Heath saw the ceremony as marking the "end to the divisions which have stricken Europe for centuries and a beginning of another stage in the construction of a new and greater united Europe."

The four nations join West Germany, The Netherlands, Belgium, Luxembourg, France and Italy in forming the Common Market.

The Common Market has all the promise of a golden future, but this is not guaranteed. For despite Prime Minister Heath's words, there are ancient differences between the union of nations and they will not be easily forgotten.

On the plus side is the fact that the Common Market has worked for some time for the six member nations and all of the new participants recognize that such a union is essential if Western Europe is to continue to hold its own economically in a highly competitive world.

As for the United States, it is well for us to keep in mind that such a huge economic force as has been created in Europe is bound to have its effects on our position in world trade. Some observers feel that our foreign trade loss may run to $1 billion annually.

This year we are running a trade deficit and, in this country, we must recognize that our industry will have to become more efficient and competitive if we are to make any progress in the world markets.

The new Common Market should be good for Western Europe and good for the world, but for American industry it is going to mean that efficiency will have to be improved and that we will have to sharpen our salesmanship in the world market. It is a great challenge to American industry and it is a challenge that our businessmen should accept with enthusiasm.

How They Run In N.C. Press

By RYAN HAILSLIP

RALEIGH, N.C. — Pat Taylor holds a lead, but Skipper Bowles is pushing him for the Democratic nomination for governor.

It's a toss-up between Jim Holshouser and Jim Gardner in voter preference for the Republican gubernatorial nomination.

Senator Edmund Muskie of Maine is ahead in Tar Heel sentiment for the Democratic Wilson in the Democratic race for lieutenant governor. Eleven said Hunt is ahead in their areas: four reported a margin for Roy Sowers of Sanford, former top official in the administration of Gov. Bob Scott.

Taylor has had wide public exposure as lieutenant governor, a factor which might help explain his early advantage in the gubernatorial primary contest. Nine editors rated him the leader.

Four editors felt that Bowles, a Greensboro businessman and state senator, is leading in their communities. Two said the Taylor-Bowles race is too close to call.

One editor gave the lead to Hugh Morton, Wilmington and Linville businessman and promoter. Dr. Reginald Hawkins of Charlotte, the black candidate who rounds out the four-man field, did not rate a first place rank in the sampling.

The poll of editors indicated that how the Morton and Hawkins vote shapes up could determine whether there is a second primary.

GOP Sentiment Dividend

Holshouser, Boone attorney and former GOP state chairman, is the only announced candidate for his party's gubernatorial nomination. However, there have been persistent rumors that Gardner, a Rocky Mount businessman and former Congressman, will get into the race. He was the '68 GOP nominee.

The poll of editors produced an eight-to-eight tie, an indication that Republicans would have a primary battle on their hands if Gardner does make the plunge.

Gov. Scott has given his endorsement to Muskie, the '68 vice presidential candidate, to head the ticket for Democrats in '72. Based on the opinion of the editors, the Maine senator also is a top choice among Tar Heel voters.

At the same time, strong sentiment remains for Wallace who ran on a third party ticket last time and placed second. Seven editors said Muskie is first choice in their areas: four reported Wallace is the leader.

Two editors said President Nixon, who carried the state in 1968, is the preference among Democrats for next president.

Other names mentioned included Humphrey, Senator Henry M. Jackson of Washington, Congressman Wilbur Mills, Senator Edward M. Kennedy of Massachusetts, and Rep. Shirley Chisholm, the black New York woman Congresswoman.

Soviet's Game Play In Israel

By ROWLAND EVANS and ROBERT NOVAK

WASHINGTON — The sudden and wholly unexpected Soviet decision to flood Israel with Russian Jewish immigrants, after years of keeping the freedom door tightly locked, has convinced some American officials that Moscow's game is to overload Israel's domestic budget and force it to cut back on military spending.

Besides imposing that budgetary burden, the Russians are believed by experts to be plotting internal mischief for Israel: to distort Israel's political balance by feeding in rightist, fanatically anti-Communist Russian Jews.

Those dark motives may explain why the Arab world, fanatically opposed to any build-up of Israeli manpower through immigration, has not said a word in protest to the sudden policy switch by its patrons in the Kremlin.

The problem for Israel, after having pressed Moscow to permit immigration of Russian Jews for years, is grave and ironic. With Israel's demands finally granted, leading American Jews say the cost to Israel of an expected immigration up to 60,000 in 1972 would be a minimum $400 million — painfully burdensome to an Israel deeply in debt and with one of the world's highest tax rates.

The problem is worsened by Moscow's obvious decision to allow only the old, the very young and, mostly, the uneducated to leave the Soviet Union. The estimated cost for Israel of fitting these immigrants into Israeli society, where class and cultural conflicts are growing, is a minimum $35,000 per family.

In addition, the Soviet Union charges what amounts to a per-capita price of $1,000 for every man, woman and child permitted to leave Russia for Israel. Half of that is "compensation" for such alleged Soviet expenditures as education, and the balance is the cost of renouncing Soviet citizenship.

The precise Soviet discrimination in refusing emigration for any Russian Jew with technological training was clearly evidenced in the outrageous arrest of Rep. James H. Scheuer of New York in Moscow 10 days ago. He was sitting in the living room of Alexander Lerner, a member of the Soviet Academy of Scientists, when taken in by the police. Neither Lerner nor his son, Vladimir, has been able to hold a job since the day after the elder Lerner applied for permission to go to Israel.

There is another, more insidious aspect of the expected flood of Russian Jews into Israel. They are without exception hard-line anti-Communists. Accordingly, they are ripe prospects for joining Gahal, the hard-right Israeli political party which walked out of Prime Minister Golda Meir's government in the summer of 1970 when she accepted the U.S. proposal for a cease-fire along the Suez Canal.

Thus, the sudden Soviet decision not only raises unanswerable budget questions but also promises to upset Israel's balance of political power, always precarious in an endless twilight war with the Arabs.

These are undoubtedly the explanations that Moscow is giving its Arab clients to account for the spectacular end to the closed-door policy toward Jewish emigration. The fact is that no Arab country has yet criticized Moscow over what has always been a cardinal tenet of Arab policy toward Israel — total hostility toward Jewish immigration and the growth of the state of Israel.

Finally, Israel's newest problem quickly became enmeshed in the far-reaching tentacles of the American Presidential election.

Havana 'Si'; Peking 'No'

WASHINGTON — Not everyone is thrilled with President Nixon's visit to China next month. My friend MacGonack believes Mr. Nixon should go to Havana first.

"The way I see it," MacGonack said, "the President is going to a Communist country 4,000 miles away when it would be much easier for him, if he really wants to see a Communist country, to hop over from Key Biscayne to Cuba in a helicopter. It would save this country an awful lot of money."

"The President isn't going to the People's Republic of China just to see it. He has urgent business to discuss with Mao Tse-tung."

"That's another thing. How come we still refer to Castro's country as Communist Cuba and we now call Mao's country the People's Republic of China?"

"Because," I explained patiently, "we're trying to build bridges between Red...oops...the People's Republic of China and the United States."

"Why aren't we trying to build any bridges between Cuba and the United States?"

"Because Cuba is an outlaw, and it's exporting revolution around the world."

"What's the People's...oops...Red China doing?" MacGonack asked.

"China, though we may not agree with its philosophy, is a major power, and it's better

Public Forum

(Letters submitted for public forum must be limited to 300 words)

To The Editor:

I am a twenty-one year old getting ready to graduate from college and take my place in the world. Frankly, I am concerned about the world in which I live. Every day I read about senseless murders, starving nations, and national wars. News becomes depressing when I see on television the slaughtering occurring in Pakistan while apathetic crowds just stand by and watch life end. Has the world become so cold and so none caring that people are no longer affected by such incidents of horror? Cruelty and coldness, however, do not exist only in National problems. They exist here, in the very town in which we live.

Personally, I find nothing more satisfying than the natural love between people, the love of a friendship. It seems that so many people today, young and old, fail to be sensitive to those around them, and yet there is such a need for love and human compassion in this self-destructive world. And the most frustrating thing of all is that one person can not change the world or even a small part of his environment by himself. One person can not stamp out hatred and cruelty nor satisfy the miserable and bring happiness to the world in which we merely exist. It must be a universal bond.

Idealistic as this may seem, I think people would be surprised at the responses and the warmth they too might receive by returning a smile, a word of hello, or an interested ear. If people could give some little part of themselves to someone else, no matter who they are, or where they are, or how much they may have to give, our nation and even the world in which we live might become a more satisfying, fulfilling place, and each day might bring something new and exciting to brighten the shadow filled world in which we continue to lose ourselves. Am I idealistic, or perhaps a young dreamer, or can my fantasies become reality?

to talk with them than eventually to fight them."

"Are you saying then that since Cuba is not a major power, it's better to fight them than to talk with them?"

"I'm not saying that at all. But you must remember that Cuba is a constant threat to us."

"I thought everyone agreed before Nixon announced his visit that China was the biggest threat to us."

"It was before, but now that President Nixon is going there, it's not as big a threat as it was before."

"Who are the biggest threats to the United States right now?" MacGonack demanded.

"Cuba, the Soviet Union and India."

"Well, if China is no longer a threat to us, why are we still building the ABM system to defend us against their missiles?"

"Because Canada is mad at us, and as long as we started building it we might as well finish it in case Trudeau gets any funny ideas."

MacGonack couldn't be convinced. "I still think Nixon should go to Cuba first and then work his way up to

Verbal Booby Traps

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Yes, friends, it is a narrow path of safety that we tread in this world.

We are lucky to make it in one piece from dawn to dusk.

The way is beset by vexing booby traps and lurking ambushes. Everything and everybody seems out to get you—if you don't watch out.

But the biggest danger in life to anybody is his desire to please—to be "a nice guy." He wants to say yes when common sense tells him it would be wiser to say no.

Here, for example, are a few typical invitations you ought to duck, because if you accept them you are likely to wind up in armpit-deep woes:

"Why don't you leave your umbrella behind? It rained so much yesterday, it couldn't rain today."

"Since your rich aunt is named Arabella, why don't you name your son Arabesque in her honor? Surely your wife won't object to that."

"You reach over and hold the wheel while I bend down and tie my shoelace. It's driving me batty."

"Since the congregation finished $25,000 in the black this year, why don't we build a new church—a really big one?"

"You pick up the check for this round, and if there's time before I have to catch my train, I'll buy the next round."

"Here, I'll give you the first volume of the encyclopedia for nothing. All you have to do is sign up for the other 87 volumes at $4.99 a volume each

40 Years Ago Today

By GWYN COGHILL

Jan. 26, 1932

Chairman Vinson announced today that the House Naval Committee would study the Justice Department's investigation of reported sabotage on the airship Akron. He directed Representative McClintic (D. Okla.) to obtain the Justice Department's file on the study made of charges against Paul F. Kassay, a former worker at the Akron plant where the airship was built.

America's dean of aviators, Eddie Stinson, is dead. His long and sometimes perilous career as a flier came to an end early this morning in the Illinois Central Hospital from injuries suffered when a huge Detroit-Stinson plane fell to earth in a public golf course in Jackson Park, not far from the shoreline of Lake Michigan. The accident occurred last evening while the noted flier and three companions were attempting their return to Wayne, Michigan, plant of the Detroit-Stinson Corporation of which he was president.

Strength For Today

KEEPING AT IT

Two items the writer of this column intends to be pushing, as long as he has the strength to do so, are (1) the devastating influence of habit-forming drugs, and (2) the sincere piety of a majority of our young people.

Certainly the young people make mistakes—but so do we all. A close investigation will show that there are literally millions of young people in this country who have a faith in Biblical religion that is utterly outstanding. It is written on their faces as they tell you of transforming experiences. When required to do something, they do it in the name of their religion. While some kids are being pounded by the cops, this overwhelming majority of young people who believe in their religion and practice it continue to be a vital force in our national life.

Let us not make certain ruinous mistakes. First, the belief that there are certain habit-forming drugs which are so mild that they make no difference. This is not true. Anyone who leans on a habit-forming drug leans on a broken staff. We never get anywhere by advocating the use of certain things which are bad but not so bad as other things.

About a hundred and fifty persons are killed in automobile accidents every twenty-four hours. It has been found that in the case of half of these accidents liquor is in some way involved.

People who tell their associates that it is possible to taper off on habit-forming drugs need to be confronted, rebuked and told to get going.

Tax-Exempt Bonds Lose Appeal

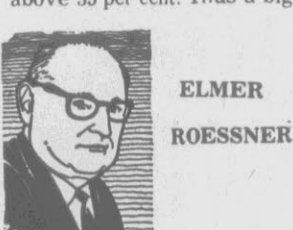

By ELMER ROESSNER

The troubles of the Detroit Bank of the Commonwealth, which caused the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation to launch a $60 million rescue operation, are blamed in part by the FDIC to "an unusually large investment in low-yielding, long-term municipal securities" as well as many other factors.

COMMENT: This should be a warning to large private investors as well as other banks, and a crumb of comfort to small savers.

Little fellows have long complained that tax-free state and municipal bonds are a boon to the rich that they cannot share. One reason is that tax-exempts are issued in units of $5,000 and up, with only a scattering of $1,000 bonds. A greater gripe is that the tax-exempt feature of these bonds is an advantage only when a taxpayer is in a tax bracket above 35 per cent. Thus a big investor can slash his tax obligation while a little fellow can't; he's better off taking five or six percent on his savings.

Additionally, in selling tax-exempts before they are due, it is almost always necessary to sell at a discount, thus sacrificing part of the low interest rate.

An investor with millions to invest can avoid this risk by dividing his investment in tax-exempts among successive due dates, such as in bonds payable in 1975, 1976 and so on. He can further protect his capital by waiting for sales at a discount.

Meanwhile, three big brokerage houses have created a new investment fund that will invest only in tax-exempts and pay tax-free interest monthly. Similar funds pay interest semi-annually. The first public offering was of $50 million at about $1,028 a unit, to yield about 5.72 per cent.

AT&T To Get Going-Over After All

Not only several powerful Congressmen, but the Defense Department, on behalf of all federal executive agencies, is pressuring the Federal Trade Commission to reconsider dropping its investigation into American Telephone and Telegraph.

COMMENT: It begins to look as if the FTC's announcement that it was dropping the AT&T investigation, which has been on its agenda since 1966, was a carefully contrived ploy. Lack of manpower and funds were given as reasons; a searching investigation of Mother Bell's rates and financial policies would naturally be an enormous undertaking.

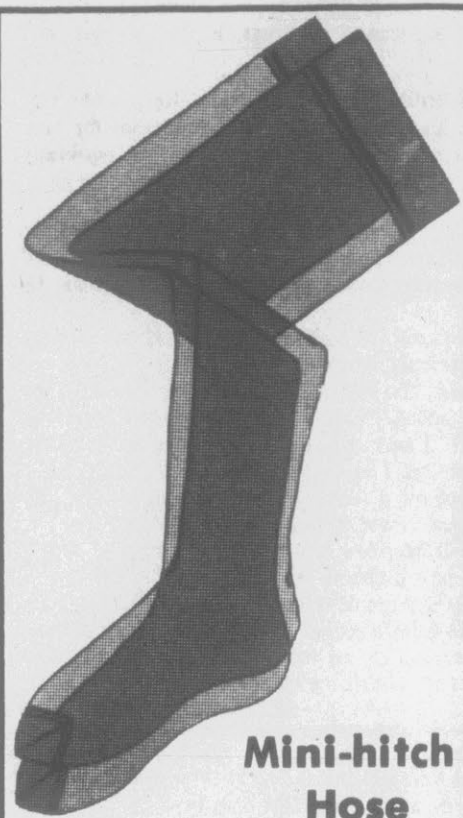

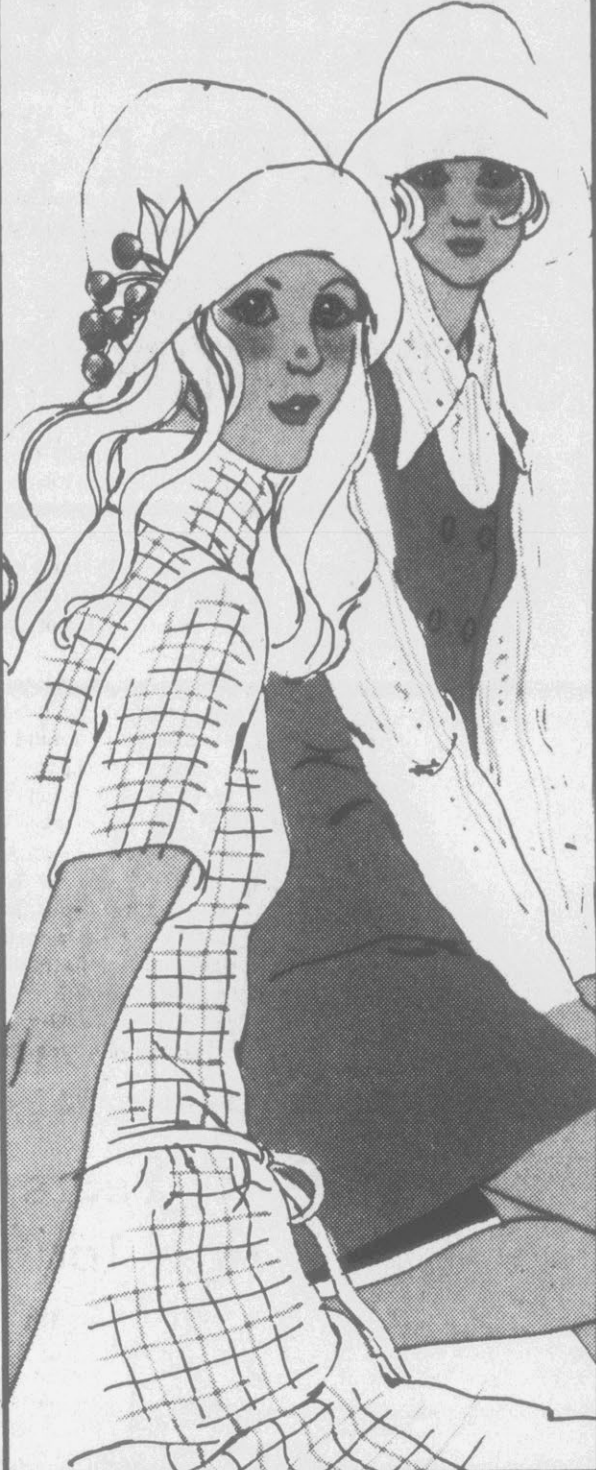

What the FTC probably expected is happening: both the executive branch and Congress, backed by most consumer groups, are demanding an investigation. Congress may insist upon it and vote the necessary monies, which was what the FTC expected all along.

Husband And Wife Team Have Developed Ready-To-Sew Kits

By KATHLEEN NEUMEYER
LOS ANGELES (UPI)—For years Jeri Holmes was in the ready-to-wear line. Now she's in the ready-to-sew business.

The veteran sportswear designer and coordinator and her husband, Bill, a professional patternmaker, are using their knowhow to turn out prepackaged, precision-cut, ready-to-sew kits.

The difference between a ready-to-wear garment and a homemade one, Mrs. Holmes says, is in the cut. With one of her polyester knit kits, the home seamstress is not apt to get that backhanded compliment:

"What a nice dress. You made it yourself, didn't you?"

The Holmes's decided to get in on the ground floor of the home sewing room after a trip around the world.

"There are 50 million home seamstresses in the United States alone," she said, "and it's estimated there will be 100 million by 1980.

"And in our travels, Bill and I discovered there is a whole world of them. European women love American clothes."

Mix and Match

Mrs. Holmes designed the mix and match fashions which include blazers, boleros, capes, coat dresses, shifts, tank tops, shirt-style jackets, turtle-neck shirts, hotpants, slacks, front-button and pleated skirts. There are a total of 12 parts, all designed to be worn layered or interchanged for a total of 40 to 50 different outfits.

The styles and the colors—black, beige, red, white, brown, navy, and gold—are all basic.

"Many women need help putting an outfit together," she said. "Each of our kits includes suggestions on what to wear with each garment."

Bill Holmes precision-cuts the clothes on the grain, and they are carefully notched and marked to show the amateur seamstress where to stitch and where to dart. Interfacings are cut to match and the handbound buttonholes already are set in.

Garments Tested

Buttons, dyed-to-match thread, and trim are all in the plastic-wrapped packages, along with specific sewing instructions.

Sizing is the same as ready-to-wear—a woman who buys an 11-12 dress in a department store would select an 11-12 kit.

"We have fit models for each item, and we wear-test each garment," Mrs. Holmes says, and she's sure the sizes are right for the average figure.

"Of course, you can always buy a size 7 top and a size 9 skirt if you need it," she said.

Priced from $10 to $30, the kits are sold through the home party plan. Mrs. Holmes hopes to recruit some home economics teachers as saleswomen, so that sewing advice can be available on the spot to novices.

Wife Worries About Husband's Health

By Abigail Van Buren

(© 1972 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd., Inc.)

DEAR ABBY: My husband is a long distance truck driver. I told him a few weeks ago that I worried a lot about his driving at night because I was afraid he might doze off, and he told me I shouldn't worry because one of the other drivers gave him some "stay awake" pills.

I begged him not to take any pills unless he knows what is in them, and suggested that he go to our family doctor if he felt he needed something to help him stay awake.

He said I was "dumb" to worry, but I love him, and I'm afraid he might get hooked on drugs. Is this possible, and what can I do?

SO WORRIED

DEAR WORRIED: Yes, it's possible. Keep after him until he goes to his family doctor. It is dangerous for anyone to take pills which have not been prescribed especially for him.

DEAR ABBY: I have just returned from an interview for a secretarial position. The boss himself interviewed me, and I must say, I was surprised at some of the questions he asked me.

He wanted to know if I was on "the Pill." I had already told him I was recently divorced.

Then he asked, "Do you drink?" I told him I didn't. Then he smiled and added, "Not even a little social drinking once in a while?" I said "No. I just don't care for it." Then he looked at me like I was some kind of oddball.

He also asked me if I ever "turned on" with drugs. By that time I had had it, and replied, "Good grief, no!"

I doubt if that interview will result in a job offer. But if it does, I shall turn it down.

Not having sought employment for 10 years, perhaps I am out of touch with today's scene. But I'd like to know if these questions are routine in an interview today? Or did this particular man have something else in mind?

SHOCKED IN MANHATTAN

DEAR SHOCKED: The questions you were asked were not routine, and I suspect the man who interviewed you had fringe benefits in mind. For HIM—not you.

DEAR ABBY: Will you please say something to inconsiderate "children" who are now married and have their own families, but who pile up bills and then ask their parents to "loan" them money to pay these bills, but who never repay the loan? These bills, I want to say, are not for necessities, but for luxuries and extras.

When our children were small, we scrimped and saved. Why should we have to do it all over again in our old age?

Please, Abby, say something to add a little maturity and responsibility to these selfish children. We love them and do not wish to alienate them by being too blunt. Thank you.

HONDO, TEXAS

DEAR HONDO: Nothing I say can add maturity and responsibility to your grown children. But you can protect your savings and perhaps train your children to either do without, or save in advance, by refusing to pay their bills. And don't worry about "alienating" them. Let THEM worry about alienating YOU!

CONFIDENTIAL TO "LIKES THE LADIES" IN CHIL-LICOTHE, OHIO: In the long haul, charming women win over the beauties. A very wise man once remarked, "The beautiful women are the ones I notice. But the charming women are the ones who notice ME."

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

Black Eye Leads To Their Romance

STUTTGART, West Germany (WNS) — Marta Koerner, 22, complained to three men at the street corner that the young man following her was annoying her and trying to pick her up. The trio promptly attacked the lad and knocked him to the ground, then ran away. Marta stayed to

EGG FONDUE WITH TOMATO CRAB SAUCE — It's great to serve for Sunday brunch or Sunday night supper.

What's Cooking On Sunday?

By CECILY BROWNSTONE

Associated Press Food Editor

We've discovered a lovely dish to serve for Sunday brunch or Sunday night supper. It's an Egg Fondue with Tomato Crab Sauce.

The egg mixture comes out of the oven in a form that is a cross between a custard and a souffle. The crab sauce served with it is delightfully seasoned. You can relax while the egg dish is baking because it needs no tending; the crab sauce may be made ahead and reheated at the last minute.

EGG FONDUE WITH TOMATO CRAB SAUCE
8 large eggs

1 cup grated sharp cheddar cheese
1 cup creamstyle small-curd cottage cheese
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
Tomato Crab Sauce

Turn all the ingredients except the Tomato Crab Sauce into an electric blender; cover and blend until smooth. Pour egg mixture into a buttered 1 1/2 quart souffle dish or similar utensil.

Bake in a preheated 350-degree oven until a silver knife inserted in center comes out clean—40 minutes.

Cut into wedges and serve at once with Tomato Crab Sauce.

Makes 6 servings.

TOMATO CRAB SAUCE

1 can (7 1/2 ounces) Alaska king crab or 1 package (6 ounces) frozen Alaska king crab

1/4 cup diced onion
3 tablespoons diced green pepper

1 tablespoon butter
1 can (6 ounces) tomato juice
2 medium tomatoes, diced
1 tablespoon minced parsley
1 1/2 tablespoons red wine vinegar

1/2 teaspoon sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/8 teaspoon pepper
1/2 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce

Drain canned crab and slice. If frozen crab is used, defrost, drain and slice. Gently cook onion and green pepper in butter until soft. Add tomato juice, tomatoes, parsley, vinegar, sugar, salt, pepper and Worcestershire; simmer 3 minutes. Add crab and heat through.

Politically, Nixon Taking Charge Of 'War Issue'

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon appears to have

Bird Stolen At Ornithology Lab

ITHACA, N.Y. (AP) — A 60-pound, 4½-foot-tall brown bird that can't fly and eats lots of vegetables, leaves and grasshoppers has been stolen from Cornell University's ornithology laboratory.

A university spokesman said Tuesday the bird, a Darwins Rhea, had been missing for about a week from its fenced-in enclosure. A broken lock and other evidence of a forced entry were found, the spokesman said.

The bird, named Peteri, resembles an ostrich, with long legs and neck.

The university said the South American bird has no commercial value but cost it about $500.

Peteri was being used for behavioral research, the spokesman reported.

month. By the time your boy gets out of college you'll have the whole set."

"Do you want me to tell you what kind of insurance portfolio I'd sell myself if I were in your shoes?"

"If I tell you what I think is your worst fault, will you tell me what you think mine is?"

"You do want to be logical, don't you?"

"I'll provide the food for the party, if you'll grab the tab for the booze."

"Listen, baby, we don't really need all these lights on while we're watching television, do we? How about me turning a few off?"

"They don't look all that tough to me, Jack. I'll hit the little one while you toy with the big one. Okay?"

"These five-button sport jackets will be the rage next fall. How about being the first guy in your block to buy one now?"

Democratic Presidential candidate, strongly urged President Nixon on Jan. 8 to ask Congress for a special appropriation to help Israel cope with the awesome financial problem posed by the swelling mass of new immigrants.

Muskie's appeal was made without contacting either Administration officials or the Israeli embassy here. By moving out front on what is building as a possibly major political issue in a Presidential election year, Muskie's initiative could scare off the Republicans from pushing aid for Israel. At any rate, the only response he has had from the President is a routine acknowledgement.

Despite the dangers to Israel of inundation by Russian Jews, with housing, jobs and facilities already in short supply, Israel neither would nor could impede the process being unleashed by Moscow. But financial help will soon be essential, and its only source is the U.S., Presidential year politics or not.

China. If he makes some gaffes negotiating with a Communist country, it might as well be a little one rather than a big one."

"It's too late," I said. "Nixon has his heart set on going to China. Besides, he'll get a lot more TV coverage going to Peking than he would if he went to Havana."

"Look, I don't care if Nixon wants to go to Peking, but it seems to me that it would be much more beneficial if he built a bridge to Cuba first. This country has done without Havana cigars for 10 years. What has China got to offer us that we can't get now in this country?"

"Cheap labor," I said. "If we can come to terms with Mao Tse-tung we could have 800 million people working for us, and we wouldn't have to work at all. Isn't that better than vintage Havanas?"

"I may be selfish," MacGonnack said. "But I'd give up Nixon's trip to Peking for one good box of Montecristo cigars any day."

taken control of the war issue with his disclosure that the administration has long been pursuing a peace formula almost identical to that of his chief Democratic critics.

Nixon had, on several occasions, cautioned would-be 1972 challengers against relying on the war in South Vietnam as a campaign issue.

Tuesday night he told the nation why, disclosing that the administration has been talking secretly with North Vietnamese negotiators in a series of 13 Paris meetings dating back 30 months.

He said he has offered a six-month withdrawal timetable similar to one the administration vigorously opposed in Congress.

The disclosures cast Nixon, already a candidate for re-election, as the man who was there first, and demonstrated again the power of a president to shape the issues and the course of a campaign.

With the presidential primaries approaching, Democrats seeking nomination to run against Nixon have put increasing stress on the war as an issue, charging Nixon has not done enough to end U.S. involvement. Continuing that stance is going to be difficult if not impossible for any Democratic campaigner, at least in the immediate future.

Furthermore, Nixon's nationally broadcast speech disclosing the secret peace offer had a built-in rebuke for his critics:

"The truth is that we did respond to the enemy's plan, in the manner they (the enemy) wanted us to respond—secretly. In full possession of our complete response, the North Vietnamese publicly denounced us for not having responded at all. They induced many Americans in the press and the Congress into echoing their propaganda—Americans who could not know they were being falsely used by the enemy to stir up divisiveness in this country."

As the new year began, Nixon repeated his assertion that Vietnam would not be a major issue in the 1972 campaign, because we will have brought the American involvement to an end."

The major Democratic candidates with the exception of Sen. Henry M. Jackson of Washington, have supported a war-policy amendment sponsored by Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, advocating total U.S. withdrawal in exchange for prisoner release.

It passed the Senate three times last year over stiff White House opposition and each time

Amassador To Defense Post

WASHINGTON (AP) — Kenneth Rush, ambassador to West Germany who was appointed by the President to the second-highest civilian post in the Defense Department Tuesday, was Richard Nixon's law professor at Duke University in the 1930s.

Rush then went with the Union Carbide Corp., rising to the presidency.

As deputy secretary of defense he will move into a position as a possible successor to Secretary of Defense Melvin Laird, who is expected to resign this year.

administration loyalists blocked it in the House.

But Nixon said Tuesday night that the administration had proposed similar terms to the North Vietnamese—not once but three times.

He said the Communists have ignored an Oct. 11, 1971 offer including U.S. withdrawal within six months of an agreement for an exchange of all POWs and a cease-fire in South Vietnam, Cambodia and Laos.

The Mansfield amendment advocates withdrawal of all U.S. forces from Indochina within six months, contingent only upon the release of American prisoners, and urges a cease-fire.

The Nixon proposal also covers the political situation in South Vietnam. It offers new internationally supervised elections, with participation by the Communist National Liberation Front, and an agreement by President Nguyen Van Thieu to resign a month before the balloting.

Ironically, hours before Nixon disclosed his secret peace terms, Senate Democrats cautioned and overwhelmingly endorsed terms of the Mansfield amendment.

Mansfield said at that time a clear-cut Nixon peace initiative along those lines would be likely to strengthen the Republican president's political position. He said that impact would be only incidental, that ending the war is the prime concern.

And he added that issues of unemployment and the economy are likely to be dominant in 1972 anyhow.

Changes Make The Scene In City Library System

A Children's Librarian, a Reference Librarian, a Librarian for Carver Branch Library and a young clerk-typist have been added to the personnel scene in the city library system with the last few months

New Traffic Crush Finds Old Madrid

By EMILIO MOYA
MADRID (AP) — Juan Martinez is a Madrid car mechanic. He is late to work an average of four days a month and neither his employers nor he can do anything to prevent it.

Juan is one among hundreds of thousands affected by a fast-changing Madrid where crushing traffic has become the most serious problem the city fathers ever faced.

He got himself a small car several years ago. At first it worked out fine. Juan was always on schedule at work and on weekends he took his family out to the country and drove back home quietly.

Since then the number of cars in the capital has increased by 150 per cent to an estimated 800,000. In rush hours distances that the subway makes in 10 minutes call for half an hour driving at best. A 50-mile drive from Madrid on Sundays takes 2½ hours.

In Madrid there is a car for every four families. It is expected there will be one for every two families in 1980.

The subway is still the cheapest and fastest transportation within the city. It has about 1½ million travelers a day. But authorities say if those using their own transportation—cars, motorcycles and bikes—dropped them, the subway would become a nightmare. The bus system is far from meeting the needs and an estimated 1,500 additional buses will be necessary to solve the mounting problem. City hall cannot afford the high expenses.

As a result the streets of the 3.3-million inhabitant capital are a huge parking lot and traffic violations run into the thousands every day.

Things now appear to be on the way toward a drastic change. The government has just passed a series of measures mainly aimed at discouraging people from using their private cars in town.

Parking or traffic violations are liable to fines of $3.50 to $14. Second notice will bear a 20 per cent increase which will grow to a 50 per cent if a third notice is necessary.

If no payment is made, violators will lose their license for periods ranging from one week to three months.

In 1939, Madrid had an estimated 30,000 vehicles. The figure moved upward slowly during the next 12 years. The real boost came in the middle of the '60s. From 400,000 cars in 1965, the number jumped to half a million the next year and 750,000 in 1969. There are 970,000 vehicles officially registered in the Spanish capital.

Miss Helen Parker, who in 1970 was Miss Greenville, is the most recent arrival, replacing Mrs. Margaret Reid, who was the first Children's Librarian in Greenville. Mrs. Reid recently moved to Atlanta.

Born in Goldsboro, Miss Parker grew up in Roswell, New Mexico, where her mother, Mrs. Aline Parker, now lives.

A 1971 graduate of East Carolina University, where she majored in Library Science, Miss Parker was also active in music at ECU, appearing in several Opera Theater Workshop productions. Before coming to ECU, she was a music major at North Texas State University in Denton, Texas.

At one time, the former Miss Greenville was a stewardess for American Airlines, serving on domestic flights originating in New York.

As Children's Librarian, she will continue the wide range of programs initiated by Mrs. Reid which have proven very popular with Greenville's young people. This includes story time, preschool, music, and arts and crafts programs.

MRS. GIBBS

MRS. CARTER

MISS PARKER

MRS. GRANGER

"I'm also working on a Saturday activities program," Miss Parker pointed out, and "a program featuring films is ready to begin any day."

The new Children's Librarian, who did her student teaching at Elmhurst Elementary School, said "I found out I enjoy working with children. They're so real, so sincere, without any facades.

It's simply a joy being with people have ever heard of."

A graduate of Shaw University, where she majored in English, Mrs. Gibbs' parents now live in Raleigh. Mrs. Gibbs and her husband, William B. Gibbs, came to Greenville from Raleigh. He is employed with Burroughs-Wellcome. They have a seven year old daughter, Greselda.

"I like working with the public," Mrs. Gibbs commented about her role as librarian at Carver. "I do wish, however, that more people would make use of the library here." She mentioned that is a well-stocked branch library and has much to offer people in the area.

Mrs. Barbara Granger, the new Reference Librarian, succeeds Miss Jane Cunningham, who is continuing her education.

A native of Shreveport, Louisiana, she came to Greenville with her husband, Fred Granger, a professor in economics at East Carolina University. Mrs. Granger holds the B.A. degree from Louisiana Polytechnic Institute, and the M.A. in Library Science from Louisiana State University. Before coming to Greenville, she had worked at both the Shreveport and Baton Rouge libraries.

As Reference Librarian, Mrs. Granger selects fiction and non-fiction books for acquisition by the library and also assists in the Circulation Department.

"Sheppard has excellent reference material," Mrs. Granger stated. "There's one thing I'd like to call to the attention of our patrons. We are always glad to have people telephone in to get assistance in reference matters." She said that it might require a little time to locate information patrons wanted, but they were always happy to do this and to call the requestor back.

The youngest of the new quartet, Mrs. Patricia Carter, is a Greenville native, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Dunn of Greenville.

The new clerk-typist succeeds Mrs. Marilyn Jones, another who recently resigned to continue her education.

A 1971 graduate of Rose High School, Mrs. Carter is engaged in the continuing task of preparing catalog cards. She also fills various other duties.

"I like being here very much," the young housewife said, "it's a wonderful place to work."

A Sorcerer Reveals Some Trade Secrets

BANGKOK (UPI) — Prajuab Thosakul, 62, has been a practicing sorcerer for 30 years and claims his spells work about 80 per cent of the time.

One of his specialties is putting a spell on a wayward husband to bring him back to the arms of his wife. He explained how he goes about this:

"Say a wife comes to me asking for help because her husband has taken a mistress. I ask her to bring me an article of her clothing and something her husband wears. Underwear works fine. I also like to have photographs of the couple.

"Then I make three dolls of wax. One represents the wife, another the husband and the third, the mistress."

Prajuab demonstrated how he then ties the husband doll and the wife doll together.

"They are tied face to face, as if they are embracing. Then the mistress doll is tied back-to-back to the husband doll."

Prajuab said he then wraps

the clothing worn by the married couple carefully around the husband doll and the wife doll. Then the three dolls are placed in a clay pot and buried in a ceremony in which he makes an offering of shrimp, fish, liquor, cigarettes and betel nut.

"After 15 days the husband leaves his mistress and returns to his wife," Prajuab said. "Always? 'Almost always,'" said the sorcerer.

Prajuab said he also can drive off ghosts or spirits that inhabit people. To do this he uses blessed water and a set of magic knives.

"I point a knife at the person inhabited by the evil spirit," he explained. "The person trembles for a few minutes and the ghost leaves."

Prajuab said he studied sorcery for 10 years with a mystic who "looked like an Indian." He earns quite well by Thai standards. His fees range from about 50 cents U.S. for a simple bit of sorcery to $5 and up. It can cost more for a complicated situation. He said he averages about 2,000 baht ($100) a month.

A SISTER'S HELP . . . is needed when you're only three and trying to read a newspaper. Little Deborah Smith, (left) finds the going much easier with the assistance of her bigger sister, Mary Lou, age seven. The two little girls, both daughters of Mrs. Leonard Smith of Pennsylvania Avenue, were visiting the Carver Branch Library on Tyson Street when this picture was made. (Reflector Staff Photo)

Keep Distance To Avoid Colds

NEW YORK (UPI)—Keep a distance from persons with colds, especially those who cough, sneeze, or shake out a used handkerchief for another blow, the U.S. Public Health Service suggests in a pamphlet on colds.

Paper tissues are best for nose wiping and for covering coughs and sneezes. They should be kept in a paper bag and disposed of. Keep separate glasses and towels used by a family member or co-worker with a cold.

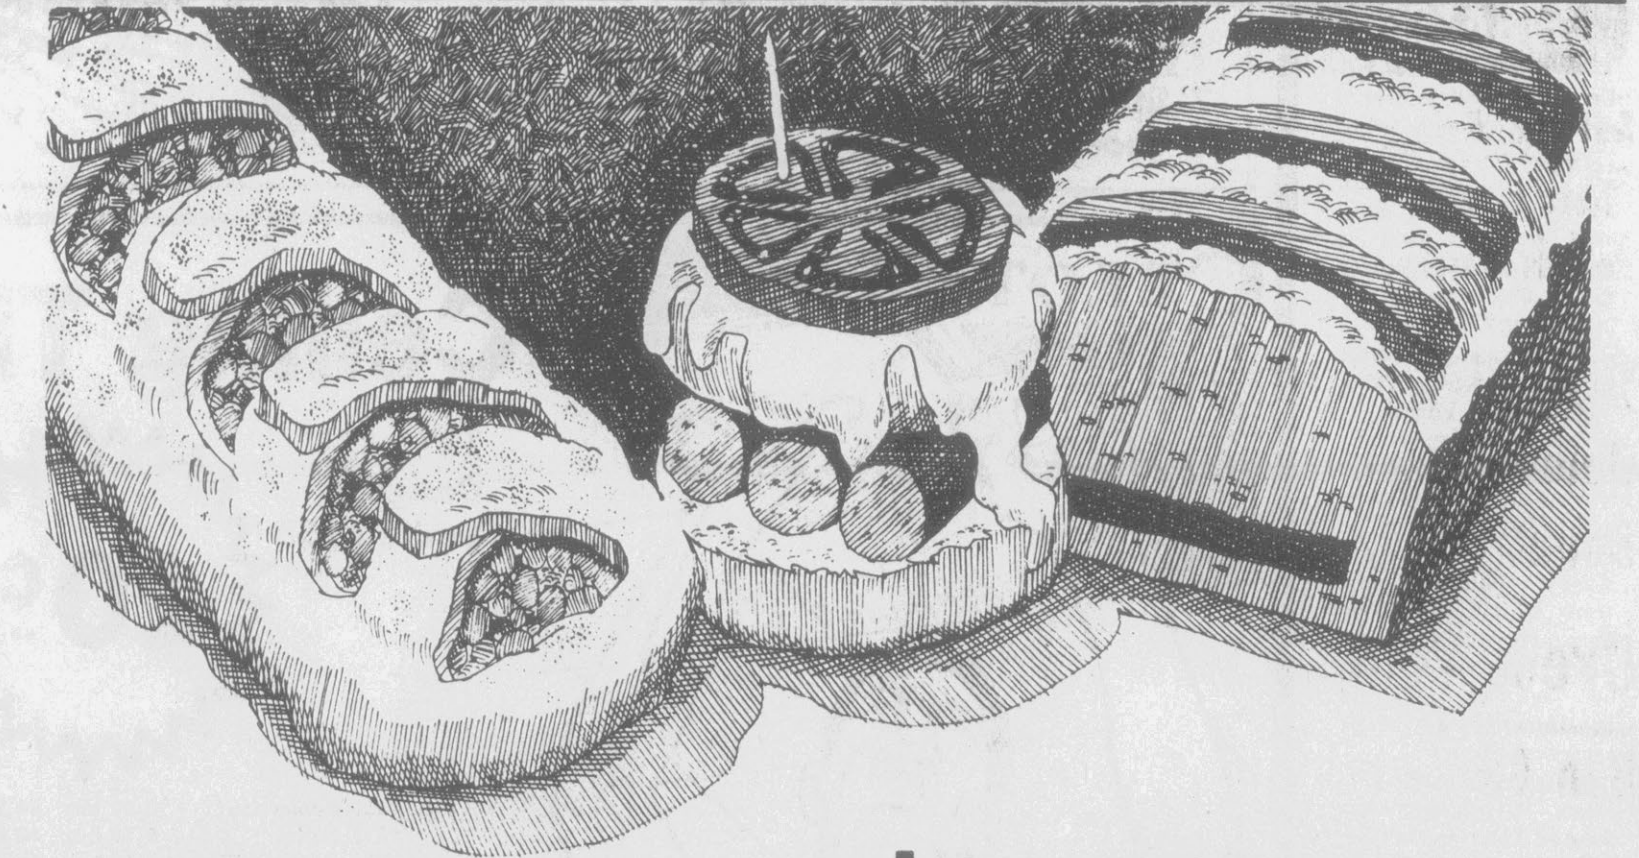

The climb up Mount Shasta in California totals 12 miles.

Pollution Poser Posed By Pupil

SALEM, Ore. (UPI) — Sometimes school students, writing about pollution, direct their letters to the State Motor Vehicles Division.

One letter received from "Jan" said:

"I was wondering where you put the pollution from the new cars? If you're just putting it in the garbage then you're polluting the air, but I hope you're being nice to our world by putting the pollution some place else."

New Treats For Candy-Lovers

NEW YORK (UPI) — The chocolate-lover in search of new ways to enjoy his favorite flavor should watch for chocolate-flavored chewing gum and other goodies seen at the National Fancy Food Show.

The munchables included a candy with a caramel-cheese center covered with a thick layer of chocolate. It melts to make a delectable chocolate fondue, reports the Chocolate Manufacturers Association of the U.S.A. And how about chocolate-mint-pecan cakes, chocolate and freeze-dried strawberries in bar form.

Mainland China covers 3,691,506 square miles but only 12 per cent of the land is cultivated, says National Geographic.

HOW CAN YOU MAKE A BETTER CUP OF COFFEE?

First, buy bean coffee...not pre-ground coffee.
At A&P, we sell bean coffee.
The coffee bean is nature's seal that holds the flavor.
Once that seal is broken by grinding, flavor fades...
NO MATTER HOW IT'S PACKAGED.
The shorter the time between grinding the beans and brewing your coffee, the greater the flavor.
Second, have the beans ground to fit your coffeemaker.
At A&P, we custom grind the beans in a choice of seven different grinds...not one or two.
If you're using pre-ground coffee, switch.
This week, have an A&P bean coffee
custom-ground to fit your coffeemaker.
You'll make a better cup of coffee.
Want a suggestion?

The Whirling Dervish Gyrates Again In Turkey For Tourists

By RODNEY PRIDER
Associated Press Writer
KONYA, Turkey (AP) — Erol Kucukbakirci is a well-spoken and intelligent young man of 19. He is a student and a member of Turkey's national bicycling team.

But for two weeks every year, Erol forgets his bicycling and his studies, puts on a white robe and a conical felt hat a foot high and turns round and round in a trance to the tune of a hypnotic flute. He is one of Turkey's new whirling dervishes.

The whirling dervishes used to have an important place in Turkey's religious life. They were followers of Jelaluddin Mevlana Rumi, a 13th century Muslim mystic who died here and whose tomb still makes Konya a pilgrimage center for devout Turks. Mevlana taught total surrender to God through asceticism and meditation.

His followers lived in convents, or tekkes, from childhood on, practicing as one form of religious exercise the whirling dance which gave them their name. In 1925 the reform government of Kemal Ataturk abolished the dervishes and turned the tekkes into museums.

In 1954, however, a right wing government allowed the dervishes of Mevlana's order to perform their dance in Konya for just two weeks every December, ostensibly as a tourist attraction. The monastic life taught by Mevlana is still prohibited.

For Erol and 20 other young dancers, however, the slow gyrations are not done simply for the tourists.

"It is a sort of prayer," he said. "It helps you think about God."

There are, however, five or six old men who take part in the annual ceremony, and these spent their childhood in tekkes, where they lived until 1925.

The "Sultan" or "Sheikh Efendi" of the new order is Selman Tuzun. He entered a tekke in 1909 at the age of 4 and between 1925 and 1954 was a teacher of religious studies. In 1954 he helped reorganize the dervishes.

The Sultan agrees that the present "Dervish Festival" in Konya, which attracts foreign as well as Turkish tourists, does not necessarily provide the right atmosphere for what was intended as a mystic reunion with God. The dancing is held on a basketball court before a paying audience as anxious to snap up "Mevlana dolls" and "Mevlana Turkish delight" as to see the dancing.

But he says the "sema"—a word which means "heaven"—and is applied to the whirling, which symbolizes the planets circling the sun—"means something different to everyone. You see it in one way, we see it in another. You don't necessarily feel what they feel."

One dancer found it hard to explain what he felt. Ahmet Birekul, a theological student, is 20 and has been taking part in the sema since he was 14. When he dances, he said, he "feels nothing. There is just music and God."

The absence of feeling is one of Mevlana's desired objects.

The octopus can gather as many as 25 crabs at a time in its eight arms.

The music—played on a doleful flute—is a representation of the soul's agony when it is separated from God. The dance is an attempt to ease the agony by mute unthinking participation in the action of the universe.

WINTRY STORM — Winds up to 55 miles an hour, combined with over 11 inches of snow created this scene of Arctic-like desolation at the Duluth (Minn.) airport Monday. The storm, called the worst of the season by weather officials, forced schools, stores and businesses to close. The storm was followed by a chilling cold wave that sent temperatures to 28 below. PHASE II AND FOOD PRICES

WHY CAN FOOD PRICES GO UP DURING PHASE II?

Food prices are no longer frozen. Under Phase II manufacturers and processors are permitted to raise their prices to cover a portion of increases in their cost of doing business. Food retailers are permitted to raise their prices to reflect the increased costs on the merchandise they buy from these suppliers.

CAN FOOD STORES PASS ALONG INCREASES IN THEIR COST OF DOING BUSINESS?

Definitely not. Federal regulations state specifically that only the increased cost of products can be passed on. Retailers must absorb all increases in expenses, such as wages, taxes, utilities.

CAN PROFITS RISE UNDER PHASE II?

Most retail food stores, after paying all the costs of doing business, have a profit (before paying income taxes) of about 2 cents on each $1 taken in at the cash register. Under Phase II regulations, this 2 cents cannot be increased.

DOES THE PUBLIC HAVE ANY WAY OF CHECKING ON A RETAILER?

They certainly do. In each of our stores there is a "base price book" which is available for public inspection. This book contains all of the prices as they were frozen during Phase I. But prices are no longer frozen, so this book serves only as a price reference.

WILL SHELF PRICES BE THE SAME AS THOSE IN THE "BASE PRICE BOOK"?

Not necessarily. If the cost of a product to us has increased, we are permitted to reflect this by adjusting the shelf price. If you have questions, please contact the store manager. Agnes Olmstead Director of Consumer Affairs P. O. Box 4358 Atlanta, Ga. 30302

Most Nixon Rivals, Foes See No Key To Real Peace

By LAWRENCE L. KNUTSON

Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's political rivals and foes are, with few exceptions, rejecting the idea his newly disclosed peace plan is the long-sought key to the complex puzzle of the Vietnam war.

Congressional reaction to Nixon's Tuesday night announcement from a declaration that the President's disclosure of secret negotiations with Hanoi was his finest hour, through doubts his offer would be accepted, to a charge he has been "dealing in darkness to save his own face and that of a corrupt dictator."

Of the several Democratic presidential contenders offering comment, only Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., gave the President's new initiatives general approval.

Sen. George McGovern, D-S.D., said he doesn't believe the plan will work, and accused

Nixon of "running the war to suit his election timetable rather than considering the military, moral and political issues involved."

Judge Declines Promotion Curb

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — U.S. District Court Judge James B. McMillan declined Tuesday to temporarily restrain the Charlotte police department from granting promotions.

The request was made in connection with a suit filed last August by the North Carolina State Law Enforcement Officers Association, a black group, charging the department with discrimination against blacks in employment and promotion. No black policeman holds a rank higher than patrolman.

The judge said he might consider the request for a restraint against promotions after hearing testimony at the trial of the suit. A trial date has not been set.

er than considering the military, moral and political issues involved."

The front-running Democrat, Sen. Edmund S. Muskie of Maine, said the initiatives obviously must be welcomed, but said there is serious doubt as to whether the North Vietnamese will accept them.

Sen. Edward Brooke, a Massachusetts Republican who has differed with the President at times on foreign and military policy, said, however, he has no doubt the Nixon plan is a "generous offer to break the deadlock" and a "major step in the right direction."

Sen. Vance Hartke, D-Ind., a declared presidential contender and long-time war critic, issued attack at what he called "the President's blatant abuse of the constitutional treaty-making powers."

The right of the Senate to advise and consent to international agreements is lost, Hartke said, "when the President turns to dealing in darkness to save his own face and

Whale's Body Is Found On Tanker

PORT ARTHUR, Tex. (AP) — The body of a 30-foot whale has been found on the bow of a tanker and Texaco officials are not quite sure what to do with it.

The whale was discovered on the tanker Texaco Florida by a pilot who was preparing to board the vessel and bring it into harbor.

The spotted whale apparently was snared somewhere off Florida.

Neither the skipper, Capt. Harry H. Moussetis, nor any of the crew had been aware of the whale's presence. They said it apparently did not affect handling of the recently converted jumbo size tanker.

that of a corrupt dictator."

But Hartke acknowledged what many Washington observers were saying, that the President's speech may have undercut the war issue by adopting some of his opponents' proposals.

"I cannot convey my anger and sorrow when I remember pleading with the President upon my return from Paris last April to accept many of the same terms he produced tonight from his secret dealings," Hartke said.

Official Republican reaction was generally along the lines of that from Senate Republican leader Hugh Scott. He praised Nixon's diplomatic efforts as "superhuman" and said the onus for failure has been placed squarely on Hanoi.

The GOP National chairman, Sen. Robert Dole of Kansas, said it will be clear to the nation "that President Nixon has gone further than any of us would expect to end the war."

Many of those supporting the new moves said the President's explanations gave the lie to those who charge him with insincerity.

"The point is not to explain the failures of the past," said Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass. "The point is to end the war."

Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, coauthor of many Senate attempts to legislate complete American withdrawal, said Hanoi leaders previously have rejected "conditions requiring them to stop fighting and settle for elections in the South under a caretaker government."

Two Republican congressmen opposing the President in this year's primary expressed reservations about the new bid for different reasons.

Rep. Paul McCloskey of California, who has said he will end his challenge to Nixon if the President comes with a workable withdrawal plan, said free elections in South Vietnam are highly unlikely and therefore, "Our position offers no more hope of settlement than before."

Rep. John M. Ashbrook, R-Ohio, challenging the Nixon leadership from the right, applauded the President for what he called his refusal "to bow to pressure from the left at home for unconditional withdrawal

But Ashbrook said he is concerned that there is an implication in the speech that American war prisoners could become political "pawns in the Communist quest for advantage."

FIRE-WATER NOTE

CHICAGO (UPI) — During winter, water pipes often freeze. But thawing them with blow torches or using any open flame often creates a fire hazard—and you know there may be no water immediately available, the National Safety Council reminds.

Areas Feel Bitter Cold

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Bitter winter weather gripped most of the nation today, with sub-zero cold and high winds reported across large sections of the country.

A storm system in the central Rockies continued to push snow and fierce winds into the Northwest, aggravating the situation caused by an unprecedented snowstorm in coastal Washington Tuesday.

The storm in Washington caused several deaths and closed schools in Seattle for the third time in 22 years. Drifts piled up to six feet in the city, which has little snow removal equipment.

High winds and drifting snow caused travelers' warnings to be posted again today from Washington to southern Montana. Olympia, Wash., 60 miles south of Seattle, reported 20 inches of snow Tuesday, and wind gusts as high as 65 miles per hour hit Bellingham, Wash.

Travelers' warnings were also issued for the Antelope Valley and Mojave Desert in California, where strong and gusty winds whipped up clouds of dust.

On the East Coast, gale force winds born from a storm system in Canada pounded the New York City area Tuesday. The winds, which gusted to as high as 60 miles per hour, were blamed for four deaths.

A wide band of frigid Arctic air tightened across the nation from the northern and central Rockies to the north and central Atlantic Coast states, with cold wave warnings issued for Idaho, Wyoming, Colorado and western Nebraska, as well as for most of the region from inland North Carolina to Ohio and Massachusetts.

Minnesota and the Upper Peninsula of Michigan, which bore the brunt of a violent winter storm earlier in the week, sank into Arctic cold.

Early morning temperatures today ranged from 35 degrees below zero at International Falls, Minn., to 75 degrees at Fort Lauderdale, Fla.

Charlotte Bank Robbed Today

CHARLOTTE (AP) — A branch bank was robbed of an undetermined amount of money in Charlotte this morning by a man who locked the five employees on duty in an area leading to the vault, then helped himself to the cash.

A spokesman for the North Carolina National Bank Queensgate Shopping Center branch on Wilkinson Boulevard said the robber wore sunglasses and a wide-brimmed, floppy hat.

No weapon was displayed, but employees said the man kept one hand in a pocket as he ordered them into the area near the vault.

Paid $83,000 For Her Designs

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Julie Nixon Eisenhower says she has received a total of $83,000 for her original creel stitchery designs which a women's magazine marketed.

The money was designated for the Girl Scouts for use in low income areas and the President's daughter was here Tuesday to distribute a grant to the local Girl Scout Council.

The San Antonio group received about $5,000 and matched it with local funds raised in Girl Scout cookie drives.

Mom Lifted 2,000 Lbs.

NEWPORT, Ky. (AP) — Mrs. Norbert See, a 5-foot-5, 120-pound brunette, lifted a 2,000 pound automobile off of her trapped son following a traffic accident, then dismissed the feat as "nothing."

"I knew my boy was under the car and I had to get him out," Mrs. See, 33, said Tuesday. "I didn't notice the weight of the Pinto."

Her son, Mark, 11, was recovering today in a hospital with head and shoulder injuries.

Mrs. See, of Melbourne, Ky., said she was driving home from a veterinarian's office and was distracted when the family Irish setter became sick in the front seat.

The car ran off the road and Mark was thrown out. He was trapped under the car after it hit a pole and rolled over.

"Mark was partially under the car and was complaining of his shoulder, and it was just a small car," said Mrs. See, a part-time secretary.

Ex-Speaker Is House Visitor

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former House Speaker John McCormack was a visitor in the House chamber Tuesday during his first trip to Washington since his wife died last month.

Looking hale and hearty and saying he felt fine, the 80-year-old McCormack came here to close out the hotel apartment he and his wife occupied for years while he served in Congress. He now lives in Boston.

McCormack, a Democrat, retired from Congress last January to spend more time with his wife, who had been ill for some time.

McCormack conferred with his successor, Speaker Carl Albert, D-Okla., and with other House leaders during his visit.

Settlement For Singer's Divorce

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Singer Jack Jones is to give his former wife $1,000 a month, household furniture, a chess set and a painting of a dog under a divorce settlement reached in Superior Court.

Gretchen Jones, 22, for her part of the property settlement approved Tuesday, pledged to vacate the 33-year-old singer's house in suburban Sherman Oaks within a few days.

The couple married Sept. 5, 1970, in Houston, Tex., separated eight months later and were divorced Dec. 16. Mrs. Jones is a former airline stewardess.

National Collection Of Cigarette Tax Proposed

By PAUL SERAFINI
Associated Press Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — A four-day hearing into cigarette bootlegging ended Tuesday with the state investigations commissioner concluding that about a quarter of the cigarettes smoked in the nation's largest city are brought in untaxed.

Participant In Poetry Project

D. H. Conley High School is to be one of 28 schools across the state to participate in this year's Poetry in the Schools project. Twenty North Carolina writers will visit the schools for a week at a time and assist teachers in stimulating student appreciation for poetry and creative self-expression in general.

Thad Stem, Jr. one of the writers, will be at D. H. Conley April 17-21 to participate in the project.

State Commission of Investigation, said the hearing had brought to light a reliable picture of the extent of smuggling traffic in untaxed cigarettes.

Curran wound up the hearings after testimony by U.S. Atty. Whitney North Seymour Jr., who testified that new federal laws were needed to curtail the bootlegging.

Seymour said he believed a single collection of the tax nationally might alleviate the problem.

The federal government, he said, should collect the tax on cigarettes and then pass along the shares belonging to the states.

Seymour said a national collection of tax on cigarettes obviously would bring up the problem of revenue sharing, but would reduce the motivation to bootleg cigarettes and also help with problems of enforcement.

The prosecutor said most of the mail-order shippers were based in North Carolina and under the law were required to file their names and the names of the recipients of cigarettes shipped interstate including the amounts of the shipments.

He said convictions result in maximum penalties of six months in jail, a $1,000 fine or both under the present law.

Aycock PTA Will Meet Thursday

The winter P.T.A. meeting of E. B. Aycock Junior High School will be on Thursday, in the school cafeteria, at 8:00 p.m.

Rev. B. B. Felder, president of Aycock P.T.A., notes that a further discussion will be held on progress and ways of supplementing the new "Learning Center" approach in use at Aycock.

Parents and interested persons are urged to attend the meeting.

Rose Snaps String, Bobs Titans

By WOODY PEELE
Reflector Sports Editor

Behind the excellent shooting and rebounding of Lonnie Payton, the Rose High School Rampants snapped their eight game losing streak and gained their first Division II win of the year.

The Rampants put together their best team effort, too, as Wilson's Fike High fell before them, 82-75. The Rampants had to fight off the Titans of several occasions right before the end, however.

Payton, in playing one of his finest games of the year, tossed in 30 points and was a terror on the boards as usual.

But this time, he got some help. Al Hunter did a fine companion job in rebounding, and hit 12 points, his high for the year. In addition, Ed Johnson put together his best night, collecting 13, seven of them in the key final period when the Rampants were holding off Wilson for the victory.

Robert Carraway tossed in 12 more points, while Robert Kear had 10 and some fine assists. J. C. Daniels didn't score as well as he usually does, but he came up with some fine ball-handling and steals to more than make up for it.

To win, the Rampants had to fight back from seven points behind in the first period. They not only did that, but they took the lead before the period was finished. They led most of the second period, and all but the final minute of the third quarter. They regained the lead early in the final period, moving out by 11 only to see their lead fall off to just three points before they pushed out again.

Wilson got the opening lead on a basket by Dennis Wilkerson, and Fike added another by Charles Moody before Daniels put Rose on the scoreboard with a free throw. After another pair of Wilson baskets ran the lead out to seven, 8-1, Hunter hit the first Rose field goal in what was beginning to look like another long Rose evening.

But from the definit, the Rampants began to slowly put it together. With three minutes left in the period, they were still behind by six, 18-12. But for the rest of those three minutes, they outlit the Titans, 8-1, and gained the lead.

Daniels hit a pair of free throws, then stole the ball for a perfect pass to Carraway for a basket. Johnson then hit a jumper with 41 seconds left, tying it at 18-18. Payton tossed in a loose ball with 18 seconds left, putting the Rampants into a 20-18 lead. Wilson closed it to one on a free throw by Freddie Sutton before the horn closed it out, 20-19.

The two teams swapped baskets for most of the second period before Wilson tied it up on a fast break basket by Sutton. Rose regained the lead, but Wilson tied it again at 31-31 and 33-33 before Rose took it back on a jumper by Hunter with 1:11 to go, 35-33. Wilson cut it to one on a free throw, but Johnson's basket with 14 seconds left ran it out to three. Another Titan charity shot with just five seconds left, however, gave Rose a 37-35 lead at intermission.

Payton was about the only thing Rose had in the third period, as he accounted for 14 of the 17 points the Rampants got. The other three came on a three-point play by Kear well into the period. Payton hit to up the lead to four, but the Rampants couldn't get it any higher until Payton got his three-pointer with 2:46 left, making it 51-44.

But Payton went to the bench for a rest and Wilson made a comeback. Wilkerson hit a pair of free throws and Robert Wilson got a basket to cut it to three. After a swap, Moody scored to trim the lead to one. Then, with 22 seconds left, Wilkerson stole the ball to put the Titans ahead, 54-53 for the first time since the first period.

Rose got a free throw from Payton with four seconds left to leave it knotted, 54-54 at the horn.

Wilson twice went back out, 56-54, and 58-56 before Rose tied it at 58-58 on a rebound by Carraway. He then hit two free throws with 6:49 left to put Rose ahead, 60-58. The Rampants fell back into a tie again at 62-62, but Hunter's jumper put them out for good at 64-62.

Hunter hit again and Payton got a free throw to run the lead to five. After a couple of swapped baskets, Johnson got a basket on a steal and then made a free throw. Payton added a rebound to jump the lead out to 11, 76-65 with 2:34 left, but the Wilson team put on a tough press that nearly pulled it out for them.

They cut the margin quickly down on two baskets by Wilkerson and two by Barnes to 76-73 before Daniels hit two key free throws with 1:10 left to up it to 78-73. Payton then fouled out on a driving layup, but his basket did the trick, giving Rose a seven-point spread with just 33 seconds left. Wilson couldn't overcome that in the time remaining.

For the Titans, Wilkerson finished with 25, while Wilson had 16, Barnes had 12 and Moody, 10.

Wilson took the junior varsity game, however, 69-66, holding off a last Rose rally. The Rampants Cubs had gained the early lead, and held a 14-12 margin at the end of the first period. Wilson went ahead late in the second frame, however, and took a 31-28 halftime lead.

Rose fell behind by as much as 10 in the third frame, but fought back and gained the lead at 45-44, only to lose it again and trail, 51-49 as the final period got underway. They fell down again, this time by eight, and they couldn't quite get back into it.

Phil Ragazzo led the Cub scoring with 20, while Jackie Savage had 15. Robert Brinkley and Mike Simko each added 12. For Wilson, James Peppers had 20, Stan Hicks had 12, Gee Sauls had 11 and Michael Parks had 10. The Rampants travel to Jacksonville on Friday, hoping to gain their fifth victory of the season.

Coaching Clinic Set Saturday

An open discussion on "Underlying Problems That are Facing High School Athletics," will be the keynote of a one-day Coaching Clinic to be held Saturday at J. H. Rose High School.

A number of outstanding coaches will take part in the overall program, which Coach Dave Bumgarner, host for the event, says is being well-accepted by area coaches.

The program gets underway at 8:30 a.m. with registration and coffee and donuts. Dr. C. C. Cleetwood, superintendent of Greenville City Schools, will welcome the visiting coaches.

The clinic itself kicks off at 9 a.m. with a session on the 4-4 defense as used by Edenton High School, long an outstanding member of the 2-A Albemarle Conference. Marion Kirby, head coach of Edenton's Holmes High, will conduct the session.

Following him on the program will be Frank Ciamillo, coach of the unbeaten 3-A Havelock High School team that won the Eastern championship. Ciamillo, who was the runner-up for Coach of the Year in the state, will take on his school's high scoring offense.

Carl Reese, defensive coordinator of the East Carolina University football team, will finish off the morning part of the program with a talk on defensive the run.

Following the luncheon break, Wes Chesson, former Duke All-American and wide receiver for the Atlanta Falcons, will hold a session on "Pass Receiving Drills and Skills."

Bob Paroli of Wilson's Fike High School, the Division II Coach of the Year, will wind up the individual topics with a discussion on "Organization — Key to Success."

Following that, the program will wind up with the open discussion.

Interested coaches may contact Bumgarner at Rose High.

Tigers In 66-37 Romp

GATESVILLE — Williamston held onto first place in the Albemarle Conference with a 66-37 victory over Gates County last night. The unbeaten Tigerettes just got by, rallying for a 36-34 victory.

In the girls game, Gates took a 9-5 lead in the first period, and held off Williamston for a 11-10 halftime lead. In the third period, Gates pulled away, building up the lead to 23-16.

Gates appeared to be an easy winner with a 30-17 lead with three minutes left in the game. But Williamston suddenly came to life, and outscored Gates, 19-4 the rest of the way, and that just pulled out the victory for the Tigerettes.

It was no contest from the start in the boys game. Williamston ran out to a 14-11 lead in the first period, then rushed away to take a 34-19 halftime edge.

The Tigers continued to pull away in the third period, outshooting Gates, 11-6, to boost the lead to 45-25. They finished it off with a 21-12 final period.

Albert Bonds led Williamston with 21 points, while Mike Howell had 14 for Gates.

Williamston plays host to Weldon currently tied with the Tigers for first in the boys standings, on Friday.

Ayden-Grifton Holds To First, 67-57

By CHIP LAMBETH
Reflector Sports Writer

LITTLEFIELD — Ayden-Grifton's Chargers tayed atop the Eastern Carolina's loop with a 67-57 win over North Lenoir last night. The Chargerettes won also, 41-29, but the A-G J.V.'s lost by a point, 49-48.

The girls' game started out with neither team playing well. At the end of the first period, the Chargerettes were behind by three, 9-6. They began rolling in the second quarter and passed the Lady Hawks to be front at the half 17-12. A 19 point third quarter was all the A-G girls need for the win.

The North Lenoir Lady Hawks broke the ice first with 32 seconds gone in the game. Penny Branch hit a long outside shot but Chargerette Maude Babington tied it up as she sank a jumper from the top of the key. Pam Nobles put the Lady Hawks back out in front with two points. Babington narrowed the lead to one with a free throw.

The A-G girls took the lead for the first time on a basket by Jo Anne Dawson but the Lady Hawks got it right back on a lay up by Marcha Cunningham. That was the last bucket of the quarter for the North Lenoir girls as Thelma Jones ran it out to three with 2:41 left in the period. Nancy Suggs made a free throw for the Chargerettes and the Lady Hawks matched it with one by Branch.

The Chargerettes quickly took the lead in the second quarter on baskets by Dawson and Deborah Harris. Connie Carter made it 11-9 with 3:22 to go in the first half with a charity shot. Janet Vinson connected from the line for the Lady Hawks but the A-G girls got a three-point play to move out by four 14-10 with 2:30 left. Jones cut the lead in half hitting on a jumper from the lane but another three pointer gave the Chargerettes their 17-12 lead at intermission.

A-G controlled the tap to start the second half. Decia Little immediately scored for the Charger girls. Two fast buckets by Suggs and Babington gave the Chargerettes their biggest lead so far 23-12. Beverly Summers got a basket for the Lady Hawks but Suggs got it right back for A-G with a lay-up. She drew a foul on the play and made the free shot making it 26-14 mid-way through the period. North Lenoir got a free throw and a bucket to cut the lead to nine but the Chargerettes pumped in ten straight points to be well ahead after three quarters, 36-18.

The Lady Hawks out-shot the A-G girls in the last frame 11-5 but could not get close to them. Jones was the leading point-getter for the Lady Hawks with nine. Babington and Suggs each had 11 for A-G.

The boys' game started out very tight. The score was tied three times in the first five minutes of the opening period. The Chargers finally took control and began to move away as the period drew to a close. Going into the second quarter A-G led 16-11.

The Hawks stayed right on the Chargers' back for the next two and a half periods pulling to within three several times. The Chargers steadily increased their lead in the fourth quarter going on to win by ten.

Chuck Babington got the Chargers on the board first with 1:29 gone. North Lenoir's Joe Keys tied it with a shot from the corner. Jessie Smith put the A-G boys back out in front as he hit from the right side of the key. Wilbur Pope retied it at 4-4 for the Hawks on a jumper. The two teams exchanged baskets again.

With 2:38 left in the quarter, Carlton McCarter stole the ball and passed to Sam Stewart who laid it in giving the Chargers the lead. They stayed that way for the rest of the contest.

The Hawks got a point on a charity shot by Dalton Williams. After an exchange of baskets, McCarter sank one from the corner with 1:05 to go. Frank Herring pulled the North Lenoir boys to within a point 12-11 but Stewart made a pair of free throws and McCarter hit from 30 feet out to get the Chargers on their way, 16-11.

The lead remained the same as both teams dumped in 12 points apiece. At the half, it was A-G by 28-23.

After the Chargers increased their lead to 40-29 with 2:50 to go in the third quarter, they suffered a dry spell during which they only put in three points. The Hawks were busy getting points during the two minutes the Chargers were cold. Baskets by Keys, Greg Combs, and Curtis Hines cut the lead to seven with 1:52 left on the clock. After McCarter hit a free shot, Keys and Curtis Rouse each scored to cut the A-G lead to 41-37 with 42 seconds showing.

Jim Herring gave the Ayden-Grifton boys a pair of points from the line. Pope made a three-point play pulling the Hawks to within three at 43-40 with :15 to go. Babington dumped in a back-handed lay-up putting the lead back out at five at the end of the quarter.

The Chargers increased their margin to as much as 11 in the final frame at 62-51. The Hawks cut the score to 65-57 but a basket by Stewart at the horn gave the Chargers their ten point victory.

Keys dumped in 18 to pace the North Lenoir boys. Stewart scored 18 for A-G, while teammates McCarter and Smith each had 17.

The Chargers are at home again Friday as they play host to the Greene Central Rams.

Oak City Pulls Into Lead Tie

OAK CITY — The Oak City Trojans gained an 80-71 victory over Jamesville High School last night and threw the Martin County Conference into a tie between the two schools. In the girls contest, Oak City beat Jamesville, 31-28.

The loss was the first in the league for the Bullets, and pulled Oak City into a tie for the lead. Both now have 4-1 conference marks.

Oak City was hot from the floor in the first two periods, scoring over 20 in each. In the first frame, the Trojans hit 23, while Jamesville hit 15. Oak City increased its output by two to 25 in the second frame and Jamesville warmed to 20. But at intermission, the Trojans held a 48-35 lead over the Bullets.

Jamesville put on a small rally in the third period, outshooting Oak City, 18-13. That cut the lead back to 61-53. But Oak City held them off, 19-18, in the last frame to gain the win and share of first place.

Russell Cotton, in a reserve role, came in to lead the Trojans with 16 points. Howard Peele added 15, while Wayne Jones, Jerry Spruill and Whit Whitfield each had 11. Tommy Mizzelle led Jamesville with 14, while Alvin Grimes had 13 and Robert James and Larry Modlin each had 10.

In the girls contest, Jamesville slipped out into a 7-5 lead in the first period, and then outscored Oak City, 11-9, in the second frame. That left the Lady Bullets in an 18-14 lead at halftime.

In the third period, however, Oak City rallied, outscoring Jamesville, 8-6, to cut the lead to 24-22. The Trojanettes again outshot Jamesville, 9-4, to pull ahead and take the win, in the final period.

Sylvia Jones led Oak City with 12, while Christie Perry led Jamesville with eight.

Greene Takes Fourth In Row

SNOW HILL — Greene Central continued its recent hot streak, knocking off North Pitt, 65-58, last night for its fourth straight win. But the Big Orange Machine of the North Pitt girls rolled along, 46-18, to remain unbeaten.

The North Pitt girls, 13-0 in Eastern Carolina Conference play, are nearing their first title, with a magic number of three to clinch the flag.

In their game, the Big Orange inched away to a 6-2 lead in the first period. Greene Central trying to pull off the biggest upset of the year, outshot the Pant-HERS, 7-4, in the second period, and trailed, 10-9, at halftime.

But in the third period, the Big Orange let it be known that there would be no upset, outshooting the Ewes, 20-2. That pulled them into a 30-11 lead as the final quarter opened. North Pitt gained a 16-7 advantage in that frame for the win.

Susan James led North Pitt with 14 points, while Phyllis Jenkins had 10. Keith Gay had 11 to lead Greene Central.

In the boys contest, North Pitt inched out to a 14-13 lead after the first eight minutes. It continued tight with Greene Central outshooting the Panthers, 13-11, to hold a slim 26-25 halftime edge.

But in the third period, like the North Pitt girls, the Greene Central boys pulled away. They dumped in 21 points while the Panthers got only 14. That ran the Ram lead out to 47-39. North Pitt outshot the Rams, 19-18, in the final period, but couldn't close the gap.

Billy Williamson led the Rams with 18, while Stevie Williamson added 16, and Kenzie Williams and Ervin Spivey each had 10. Daniel Highsmith had 20, and Ulice Jordan and Ronnie Briley each had 10 for North Pitt.

Aycock Gets Second Victory

SPRING HOPE — E. B. Aycock tripped up Southern Nash Junior High School yesterday, 43-31. It was the second straight win for Aycock, which lost five in a row before getting on the winning track.

Aycock eased out into the lead in the first period and held on to it after that. By the end of the period, they had a 7-4 margin. Aycock had its best period in the second frame, dumping in 19 points, while Southern got 10. That upped the lead to 26-14 at halftime.

Southern Nash tried for a rally in the third quarter, but was only able to outscore Aycock, 11-8. That cut the lead to 34-25 as the final period opened. Aycock outshot Southern, 9-6 in that frame to wrap up the win.

Tyrone Taft led Aycock with 11 points, while Richardson paced Southern with 12.

Southern captured the junior varsity game, 24-23.

Aycock plays host to Rocky Mount on Friday.

Conley Drops Third Game In Last Four

PIKEVILLE — Charles B. Aycock High School knocked D. H. Conley into third place in the Eastern Carolina Conference with a come-from-behind 60-58 victory last night. In the girls game, Conley held off an Aycock rally for a 31-29 win.

The Falcons had to come from nine points down late in the game to pull out the victory over the Vikings, who have dropped three of their last four games.

Conley had slipped out into a slim 17-16 lead in the first period of play, and then padded that with a 12-9 advantage in the second frame. That left the Vikings in a 29-25 lead at intermission.

In the third period, the Vikings continued to ease away from the Falcons, outthumping them, 16-14, to boost the lead to 45-39. But in the final period, after Conley had built up a 52-43 lead, Bob Lewis led the rally that did the trick. Lewis hit four free throws and two field goals in the spurt that finally tied it up, 58-58. Then, with only two seconds left, Hobbs was fouled by a Viking defender, and he canned both shots to give Aycock the win.

Larry Stafford led Aycock with 17 points, while Bennie Wooten had 13, Lewis had 12 and David Whitley had 10. Conley was paced by Dwight Hawkins, who had 26, while Larry Daniels had 15.

In the girls contest, it was much the same. Conley held an 8-7 lead after one period, then pulled away for a 20-15 halftime lead.

Aycock pulled off a rally in the third period, outscoring Conley, 8-5, to close the gap to 25-23. In the final period, it remained close, and with 30 seconds left, Aycock stole the ball to score and tie it at 29-29. But Jane Hall hit two free throws in the remaining seconds to give Conley the win.

Miss Hall led the Conley scoring with 12, while Mary Peacock had 11 for Aycock.

Jaguars Snatch Late Victory

Leaders In Wins

The Church Basketball League leaders continued to roll along last night as Presbyterian topped Trinity, 76-52, and Immanuel beat St. James, 61-43. In the other game, Piney Grove beat Black Jack, 66-58.

Presbyterian leads the league with a perfect 7-0 record, while Immanuel is second at 6-1. They are followed by Piney Grove, 4-3; Oakmont, 3-3; Black Jack, 3-4; Trinity and St. James, both 2-5, and St. Paul's, 0-6.

In the opening game, Piney Grove pulled away in the first half and gained a 35-29 lead by intermission. They continued to hold off Black Jack in the second half, holding a 31-29 advantage, to take the win.

Jim Mills led Piney Grove with 18, while Wayne Avery had 16. Steve Peele had 21, Tal Adams had 15 and Ephrigham Smith had 11 for Black Jack.

Presbyterian roared away to gain an unstoppable lead in the first half of its game. By intermission, they held a 41-25 edge. They continued to move away from Trinity in the second half, outscoring them, 35-27.

Larry Graham led Presbyterian with 22, while Don Owen had 14, and Frank Frauler and Gene Hudson each had 12. For Trinity, D. R. Daniels had 18 and Jim Adams had 12.

In the final game, Immanuel edged out to a 24-19 lead over St. James in the first half. Both teams began to run with the ball in the second half, but Immanuel held the edge, 37-34, to take the win.

Bill Tripp led Immanuel with 19, while Dick Evans had 18. Guy Howell and R. T. Harry led St. James with 10 each.

SPRING HOPE — Farmville Central's Jaguars, after leading most of the game were passed by Southern Nash and had to come from behind in the final minute to win 53-49. The Lady Jaguars won also 26-24 but the Southern Nash J.V.'s topped the Baby Jags, 73-66.

Southern Nash led the first three quarters in the girls' game. After the first period, they were ahead, 5-2. Southern Nash increased its lead to 12-7 in the second frame. Farmville Central began catching up in the third as they out-shot Southern Nash 8-5. The Lady Jags were on top on the score in the final quarter 11-7 icing the win.

No one was in double figures on either team.

The boys' game was close all the way. After the first quarter, Southern Nash was in the lead by only a point. The Jaguars came back to take the lead in the second period with a 19 point out-put. The Southern Nash boys dumped in 13 to stay within reach, however. At the half it was 30-25.

In the third quarter, Southern Nash cut the lead FC by a point just outscoring the Jaguars 16-15.

Robersonville Defeats Bears

BEAR GRASS — Robersonville High School picked up a pair of victories over Bear Grass in Martin County Conference action last night. The Golden Eagles won the boys contest, 66-49, and took the girls', 40-28.

In the opener, the Golden Eagles romped away to a 16-2 lead in the first period of play. The Lady Bears could do little to help themselves in the second frame, getting two more points. Robersonville slowed but little, scoring 12 more to make it 28-4 at the half.

Robersonville continued to slow its pace as the subs got in more action in the third period. The Eaglettes hit 10, while Bear Grass added seven, making it 38-11. Bear Grass dominated the final period, 17-2, but was too far back to catch up.

Ruth Goins led Robersonville with 11, while Jennie James added 10. For Bear Grass, Anna Mizelle had eight.

The two teams fought on almost even terms through the first period of the boys contest, as the Eagles slipped into a 15-14 lead. But the Bears couldn't keep pace in the second quarter, as Robersonville pulled away on

In the fourth period, with 4:25 to go in the game, Farmville Central was ahead 45-41. Southern Nash tied it up and went ahead to lead 48-45 with a minute to go. A free throw by the Jags tied it up. With :25 on the clock, Jaguar Robert Tripp drew a foul and made both shots in a one-and-one situation to put the Farmville Central boys in front. McCoy Williams added the clinching field goal as the game ended.

Tripp led the Farmville Central players with 19 points. Williams scored 12. Marcellus Thompson dumped in 18 points for the losers while Larry added 16 to the losing cause.

Kissinger Role Proves Again Secrets Can Be Kept

By GAYLORD SHAW
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Henry Kissinger's nearly 100,000 miles of clandestine international travel for private Vietnam peace talks has proven again that President Nixon and his closest aides can keep a secret.

Kissinger, Nixon's assistant for national-security affairs, was to face newsmen at the White House today to tell how he made 13 separate trips to Paris during the past 30 months without so much as stirring a rumor in this rumor-happy capital.

Initial indications were that several of the Kissinger trips were made in government jets not part of the blue-and-white presidential fleet, and that the talks with the North Vietnamese were conducted on the outskirts of Paris away from the glare of the city's diplomatic scene.

The stocky, graying Kissinger, who speaks with the accent of his native Germany, sandwiched his Paris trips around another journey. That one produced the bombshell announcement last summer that Nixon will travel to China, a visit arranged by Kissinger when he secretly conferred in Peking with Chinese leaders.

As with his China announcement, Nixon and his spokesmen had subtly telegraphed the scope of the secret Vietnam talks which the chief executive disclosed in his national television speech Tuesday night.

A broad indication had come when Nixon, in a nationally televised CBS interview Jan. 2, said:

"We have pursued every negotiating channel... we have made a number of offers in various channels... When the total record is published, and it will be published in due time and at an appropriate time... others will realize that we have gone the extra mile as far as POWs are concerned. I do not want to disclose any further details because negotiations are under way."

White House aides wouldn't publicly discuss details of Kissinger's Paris trips which, according to air-mileage charts, would total 98,528 miles. But they privately expressed delight Monday night that the journeys were accomplished without leaks.

In Paris, observers at the peace conference often had suspected—but could never prove—that secret talks were taking place.

They said there were any number of out-of-the-way locations where the negotiations could have been held unnoticed.

Nixon indicated high-level French officials were in on the secret. He said in his speech that "I would like to take this opportunity to thank President (Georges) Pompidou for his personal assistance in helping to make arrangements for these talks."

Funds To Go For School Buses

CHARLOTTE (AP) — The Charlotte-Mecklenburg County school board voted Tuesday to spend $214,450 in surplus funds to buy 34 new school buses as a safety measure.

They will be put into operation in the school year beginning in September. They will replace 34 of the 168 used.

state-loaned buses, some 17 years old.

The board also agreed to ask the county commissioners to reallocate county funds to buy the remaining new buses needed to replace all state-loaned buses. That would take more than $800,000.

The state loaned the buses after a federal judge ordered into effect an integration plan that included widespread busing.

Theft Of Cash And Cigarettes

The theft of some $1,000 in cash and over $400 in cigarettes from Pitt Technical Institute is being investigated by the Pitt County Sheriff's Department.

Sheriff Ralph Tyson said that the break-in, which occurred sometime between Sunday night and Monday morning, was reported around 6:45 a.m. Monday.

He reported that six vending machines owned by Macke Vending Co. of Raleigh, were broken into. No estimate of damage to the machines was available, he added.

The sheriff said that in addition to the money, 150 cartons of assorted cigarettes, valued at $412 were taken from the facility.

The intruders gained entrance to the building by prizing open a lounge door, Sheriff Tyson said.

guard against fire

ALWAYS
A MAJOR BREAK-THROUGH FOR THE HOME AND INDUSTRY!

Fire detection is available now at a much lower cost than ever before. Good fire protection costs not $600, not $300 but less than $230 for the average home!

Consider these two cases: Family No. 1 had life insurance, auto insurance and fire insurance; but nothing to warn them when fire struck. They were lost; their insurance couldn't replace their lives.

Family No. 2 had a fire. Their home and belongings were destroyed. Their insurance replaced their lost items. Most importantly, they are still alive and enjoying life because they had adequate fire protection!

Which group do you want to be in? If No. 2 is your choice, then call the Safety Crusader right away, listed under Rev. D.M. Suggs, Phone 746-4577.

NFO Board Opposes Suit Against Project

The board of directors of the state chapter of the National Farmer's Organization has gone on record as opposing action brought in U.S. District Court against the Chicod Watershed Project.

Pitt County NFO chapter president Don Lee reported that organizations filing action against the project include: The National Resources Defense Council Inc., New York; National Wildlife Federation, Friends of the Earth, District of Columbia; Wildlife Federation Inc., North Carolina; and the Pamlico-Tar Conservation Coalition.

Lee said that NFO urges "the apparently misinformed rank and file members" of the Conservation Coalition and the North Carolina Wildlife Federation "to request that their respective organizations withdraw from this proceeding."

The chapter president added that NFO also urges "these members and all Eastern North Carolina citizens" to insist that the New York and District of Columbia agencies abandon their proceedings in the state.

He asserted that the watershed project has been planned, approved and supervised by the Soil Conservation Service of the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

The plan, Lee continued, calls for channeling and cleaning out logs, litter and other debris in Chicod Creek "so that 35,000 acres in Pitt and Beaufort Counties can be drained by a clear, running stream."

"In its present condition," the NFO official stated, "it is only a flooding, stagnant and polluted area fit only for snakes, mosquitoes and tadpoles." He added that the project work plan has provided for unpolluted water and food producing habitats for healthy wildlife and fish.

Lee said that NFO urges "everyone interested in our environment" to show his interest and concern by attending the hearing in New Bern on Jan. 28.

Farm Legislation Talked At Meeting

AT LOCAL MEETING... Rep. Sam Bundy talks with Pitt County Farm Bureau President Burney Baker during the group's meeting last night.

Legislative bills concerning farmers and their welfare which are being discussed in committee meetings in Washington, D.C., were explained by Bob Jenkins at the Pitt County Farm Bureau board of directors meeting last night.

Jenkins, field representative with the N. C. Farm Bureau Federation, encouraged farmers to write to their Congressmen and Senators expressing their opinions on the current bills.

Rep. Sam D. Bundy of Farmville was a special guest at the meeting last night.

The following members were appointed to serve on the building committee to study the need for enlarging the present facilities of the Pitt County Farm Bureau: David H. Smith, chairman; Mrs. Wilbur L. Worthington, J. C. Galloway, D. R. House, Eugene James and Ruel Dilda.

Truman Haddock of Swift Creek was recognized as a new board member.

Reports were heard from Galloway, Jenkins, and Mrs. Worthington.

Lifesaving Course Set

A reminder to area youth that a senior lifesaving course will begin Friday night at East Carolina University's Memorial Gym has been issued by Miss Nell Stallings, water safety chairman for the Pitt County Chapter of the American Red Cross.

Miss Stallings said that the course will be taught from 7-9 p.m. Dr. Ed Roberts of ECU will be the instructor.

According to Miss Stallings, participants must have passed their 15th birthday or completed the ninth grade. They must perform a standing front dive, swim 440 yards continuously, perform a sidestroke with scissor kick, a stroke on the back using an inverted scissor or backstroke, surface dive to a minimum of six feet and swim 15 feet underwater. They must also tread water for one minute with the hands beneath the surface, she said.

The course is sponsored by the Pitt Red Cross Chapter.

The Atomic Energy Commission has 73 active uranium enrichment contracts, 39 with U.S. firms and 34 abroad.

Look Out For Ten Fallacies

David's case shows that the new voters under 21, may shock the tricky politicians! For these smart young voters can easily puncture the "Common Fallacies" that have fooled oldsters. So be sure teen-agers get the booklet below!

By GEORGE W. CRANE, Ph.D., M.D.

Case S-581: David B., aged 17, is the son of an attorney. "Dr. Crane," his father began, "my son is on the high school debating team.

"His coach has presented each debater with a copy of your newspaper booklet titled 'Common Fallacies in Logic.' 'David now figuratively 'eats it up,' for he has a rather analytical slant on life, anyway. 'And he has memorized your 10 Common Fallacies, which he applies to the family in our dinner table arguments.

"So why don't you outline some of those fallacies for the sake of the general public and especially all the new 18-year-old voters?"

Fallacies in Logic
When I was Captain of a Northwestern University debate team, I relished such forensic fighting.

For that's what our debates really were.

But I also enjoyed my Liberal Arts course in Logic wherein we studied such fallacies.

Alas, most college graduates today have never been exposed to such a course, yet it is vital to precise thinking.

So I prepared the booklet named below to help debaters (as well as irate taxpayers) see through the verbal tricks worked upon us by many of our clever politicians.

Here are the names of those 10 common Fallacies:

- (1) Ad Hominem Fallacy, wherein a person's logic is sidetracked by mud slinging, whispering campaigns and emotional attacks on his personality to avoid meeting his logical reasons.
- (2) Guilt by Association.
- (3) Kowtowing to Supposed Kings or "Sacred Cows."
- (4) The Either-Or-Fallacy.
- (5) Fallacy of Self-Evident Truths.
- (6) Fallacy of "Everybody's Doing It."
- (7) Hasty Generalization Fallacy.

(8) Ad Populum Fallacy or the "Appeal to the Crowd."

(9) Fallacy of Irrelevant Correlation or Conclusion.

(10) Fallacy of Parental Protest (also called "Anti-Papa").

Space limitations will not permit full illustration of those "Common Fallacies," so be sure your high school and college youth have the booklet below.

For it is widely adopted by English teachers and Debate Coaches.

But all of you housewives should likewise employ it to immunize yourself against illogical sales arguments.

During the 1972 election year, those fallacies should become as simple as the A-B-Cs for the new 18-year-old voters.

For glib politicians are often as clever as stage magicians in fooling even college professors by some of their standard deceptions!

Take Fallacy No. 4 above.

"Do you want an increased sales tax or a rise in real estate taxes?" politicians thus focus attention on those alternatives till voters soon are seduced into rival camps for either one or the other.

Yet most Americans want NO INCREASE IN ANY TAXES! Instead, they prefer to have 1,000,000 unnecessary bureaucrats fired from their tabulating jobs and forced to join creative workers in private industry!

So send for my booklet "Common Fallacies in Logic," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 25 cents. (Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 25 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

According to Pitt Sheriff Ralph Tyson, whose department is cooperating with the Ayden Police and State Bureau of Investigation on the case, the theft occurred after a front-door glass was broken out and the door unlocked.

Worm-Hunting Probes Risky

CHICAGO (UPI)—Fishermen—and ladies—ought to know that the Food and Drug Administration cautions on use of electrical probes used to force worms from the ground. The probes, connected to two wires of an extension cord, have caused two deaths and may be responsible for eight other electrocutions. The federal agency estimates 30,000 probes have been sold and even more dangerous home-made ones are in use, says the National Safety Council.

About 1,200 species of mistletoe are found in tropic and temperate zones on 11 continents except Antarctica, says National Geographic.

In The Armed Services

Col. John H. Brookshire of Greenville left this week for his second full tour of duty in Vietnam. Brookshire, who will be assigned to an Army element of the Military Assistance Command Vietnam, has served three other short duration tours in Southeast Asia. His last duty station before receiving overseas orders was with the U.S. Army Institute for Military Assistance at Ft. Bragg. He is married to the former Josephine Stoneham of Greenville.

Mrs. Ellen B. Anderson of Greenville, has completed two weeks of active duty at the Naval Reserve Training Detachment, Naval Air Station, Jacksonville, Fla. Anderson participated in his unit's changeover from the older "Neptune" anti-submarine patrol aircraft to the modern "Orion" and received specialized training in the craft during active duty.

He is assigned to a unit of the Military Airlift Command which provides global airlift for U. S. Military forces.

Capt. Richard J. Roberson, (above) son of Mr. and Mrs. Dixie D. Roberson of Robersonville, N.C. has been awarded his silver wings at Laughlin AFB, Tex., upon graduation from Air Force pilot training. Roberson is being assigned to Seymour Johnson AFB where he will fly with a unit of the Strategic Air Command. A 1961 graduate of Robersonville High School, the captain received his B. S. degree in 1965 from East Carolina University where he was commissioned through the AFOTC program. He is married to the former Linda Legett of Rt. 1, Robersonville.

Airman Teresa L. Tripp, (above) daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William R. Tripp of Rt. 2, Grifton, has completed basic training at the Air Training Command's Lackland AFB, Tex. and has been assigned to Lowry AFB, Colo. for training in the supply field. She is a 1971 graduate of North Lenoir High School in La Grange.

Pvt. Roger L. Williams, son of Mrs. Sallie S. Williams of Hassell, has completed individual combat training with the First Infantry Training Regiment at Camp Lejeune. Williams is a 1967 graduate of Oak City High School.

CPO John H. Hughes III, husband of the former Frances Paramore of Rt. 3, Greenville, has returned to homeport at Norfolk, Va., after a 31,000-mile five-month voyage in the North Atlantic and Mediterranean. Hughes serves aboard the aircraft carrier USS America, which operated as a unit of the U.S. Sixth Fleet while deployed.

William R. Gurganus, son of Mr. and Mrs. William L. Gurganus of Rt. 3, Williamston, recently was promoted to specialist five while serving at Ft. Greely, Alaska as an information specialist in Headquarters Co., Army Garrison. Gurganus entered the Army in 1970, completed basic training at Ft. Bragg, and was last stationed at Ft. Benjamin Harrison, Ind.

Airman I.C. James E. Beard, husband of the former Debbie Ledbetter of Farmville, has been selected Outstanding Airman in his unit at Altus AFB, Okla. Beard, a supply specialist, was selected for his performance of duty and conduct.

Lt. George E. Anderson, son of entered the Army in December of 1970 and was last stationed at Ft. Benning, Ga. He is a 1970 graduate of J. H. Rose High School.

Pvt. Ronnie E. Coltrain, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Coltrain Jr. of Williamston, has completed a seven-week Wheel Vehicle Mechanic Course at the Army Training Center, Infantry, Ft. Jackson, S. C. During the course, he was trained to perform maintenance and assist in the repair of automotive vehicles and associated equipment. He was familiarized with the functioning of the automotive wheel vehicle components, operating principles of internal combustion engines, fundamentals of fuel and electrical systems, and the use of organizational and test equipment. Coltrain is a 1969 graduate of Williamston High School.

Capt. Donald R. Joyner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Beverly T. Joyner of Greenville, has graduated from the Air University's Squadron Officer School at Maxwell AFB, Ala. Joyner was selected for the 14-week professional officer course in recognition of his potential as a leader in the aerospace force. He is assigned at Laredo AFB, Tex. as a T-38 Talon jet trainer flight training instructor. A 1961 graduate of Rose High School, the captain received his B.A. degree in business in 1965 from East Carolina University where he was commissioned through the AFOTC program. He is married to the former Dorothy Sullivan of Greenville.

Spec. 5 Arnold R. Sloan Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold R. Sloan Sr. of Plymouth and whose wife, Carolyn, lives on Rt. 2, Williamston, has received the Army Commendation Medal in Vietnam. Sloan received the award while assigned as a driver with the 552nd Transportation Co. near Long Binh. He entered the Army in 1970 and completed basic training at Ft. Polk, La. The specialist is a 1964 graduate of Plymouth High School.

Airman appren. Charles D. White, son of Mr. and Mrs. James D. White of Williamston, has reported for duty aboard the attack aircraft carrier USS Midway in Hunters Point Naval Shipyard, San Francisco, Calif. A 1971 graduate of Williamston High School, he joined the Navy in 1971.

WO Johnny L. Little, son of Mr. and Mrs. Werner J. Little of Rt. 1, Farmville, recently completed a 20-week helicopter pilot course at the Army Primary Helicopter School, Ft. Wolters, Tex. During the course Little was trained to fly Army helicopters and learned to use them in tactical maneuvers. He will next undergo advanced flight training at the Army Aviation School, Ft. Rucker, Ala. Upon completion of advanced training, he may be appointed a warrant officer. He is a graduate of Farmville High School.

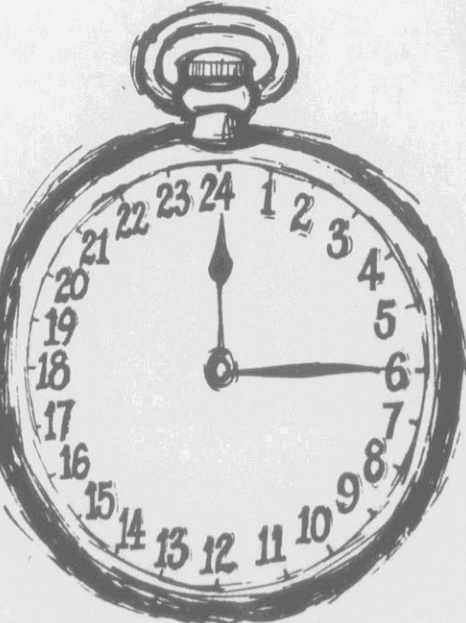

Teenagers See More Affluence

NEW YORK (UPI)—Teenagers in the 16 through 19 age bracket spend about $16 a week these days, says Lester Rand, president of the Rand Youth Poll, an organization which surveys youth trends.

Their parents spent about one-fourth this amount when they were teens and had far fewer possessions.

The purpose of such hearing is to consider a proposed amendment in project financing and dedication of land of the Urban Redevelopment Project located in the North Carolina "Urban Redevelopment Law" (Section 160-454 through 160-474, General Statutes of North Carolina) with Federal financial assistance under Title I of the Urban Renewal Act of 1949 (Public Law 171-813 Congress) as amended.

The general scope of the project consists of the acquisition of land in the project area; the demolition of removal of buildings and improvements; the installation, construction or reconstruction of streets, utilities and other site improvements, and the sale or lease of project land for redevelopment or private enterprise or public agencies as authorized by law.

At the hearing, the proposals for redevelopment and plans for the dedication of land located within the above urban renewal area as well as other elements of the project will be open for discussion. The redevelopment proposals with such maps, plans, contracts or other documents as form a part of said proposal shall be available for at least ten days prior to the hearing at the Central Business District Office of the Redevelopment Commission located at 307 S. Evans Street, Greenville, N.C.

Any person or organization desiring to be heard will be afforded an opportunity to be heard at such hearing.
