

City Will Get Waterfront Title June 30

By JERRY RAYNOR
Reflector Staff Writer

After several years that have seen a complete change of Greenville's waterfront along the Tar River, the final close out giving the city title to the Shore Drive Project will take place by June 30, 1972.

At a public hearing before the Greenville City Council Thursday night, the council approved a two fold action — both contained in Amendment Number 5 to the original agreement.

In the first action, adoption of a resolution, the basic change from the original agreement and previous amendments is the inclusion of East Carolina University property located near the Shore Drive project. This will permit the city to put in for credits in connection with expansion plans. Such credits would be known as "pooled" credits that is, ones transferable to other future projects, such as Central Business District Project and the Newtown Project.

The second part of the amendment, the cooperation agreement, deals with adjustments of costs and credits for the total project. Basically, this new amendment changes the February 6, 1969 agreement, so that the total cash share of the city is $272,338. Of that amount, $166,536 has already been paid and funds of $33,000 from sale of property is also available. The cooperation agreement also worked out adjustment of credits incidental to work not done by Greenville Utilities Commission due to change in plans. Current plans are to keep the project an open space one. It is zoned office and institutional.

Overall, the gross cost of the project is $4,541,034, and the city's total share amounts to $872,882. Non-cash grants and aid work for which the city received credit has come to $1,293,406.

On street assessment rolls, councilmen approved the listing for several Greenville streets for curb, gutter and paving, amounting to a total of $18,394.30.

Two requests for mobile home permit renewals were approved; the first for Mrs. Glennie Nobles Moseley at 1804 Myrtle Avenue. The second request, one by Floyd Nichols to renew a permit for a rental trailer, resulted in a tie vote with Mayor S. Eugene West breaking the tie by voting in favor of renewal.

Public hearings were set for requests for rezoning four separate cases — with the hearings to come up on March 2. A public hearing was also set for an annexation request.

A taxi franchise, number 30, was approved for William E. Jones and taxi operator permits approved for Kenneth Arrington, Charles Lenzy, Frank Peterson, Jr. and Mrs. Ramona Swindell.

The council also declared their intent to continue participation in the operation of the Moyewood Social Service Center, under the auspices of East Carolina University. This is a federally funded project, with the city providing one third of the actual operating costs.

Councilmen approved a two part resolution drafted by Dr. Frank Fuller and John Taylor for the establishment of a Human Relations Council. This council supersedes the Greenville Good Neighbor Council, whose current members will be asked by letter about their willingness to serve on the Human Relations Council. The new council is designed to meet each month and to submit a report to the City Council.

Other action included announcement of an intent to abandon several streets in the Newtown area, and approval of a $100 award to William Ward for information leading to arrest and conviction of a person turning in a false fire alarm.

In the case of a request by M. K. Branch to place a mobile home on Bismark Street at Trade Street to be used as a sales office, the Council ruled that Branch must first remove paving, dig up a sewer line he had installed and have it properly inspected by the city inspector. J.W. Wilson told the Council that certain irregularities were involved in the installation. Mayor West noted "I'm sorry it turned out like this. Branch should have known better. I don't think we can overlook this."

As a final item, the City Council authorized request for refunds, with one of them subject to verification that the money is actually due back to the requestor.

Utilities Rate Freeze

WASHINGTON (AP) — Acknowledging that its previous regulations were too vague, the Price Commission has temporarily frozen all private utility rates while it develops new guidelines for rate increases.

The commission said Thursday it will announce the new guidelines by March 10.

In the meantime, rates charged by privately owned utilities are frozen for up to 30 days at the rates that were in effect at midnight Wednesday.

The ruling temporarily blocks about 900 requests for increases totaling billions of dollars, the commission said. It affects virtually all electric, gas, telephone, telegraph, railroad, airline, intercity bus and trucking, barge and pipeline rates.

Publicly owned utilities, such as public mass transit systems and municipal water operations, are not affected. Their rates may go up during the freeze period.

Price Commission chairman C. Jackson Grayson Jr. said the commission will hold four days of public hearings beginning Feb. 22.

Grayson said the commission also wants to hear views of the general public. He said nearly 40 per cent of the commission's mail has concerned utility rate increases.

The freeze will remain in effect until the new guidelines are announced, Grayson said.

Law Enforcement Agencies Are Recognized By Greenville Club

Three area law enforcement agencies were recognized last night by the Greenville Civitan Club in a special "Action Taken Against Crime" program.

Plaques were presented to the Pitt County Sheriff Department, the Greenville Police Department, and Troop A of the North Carolina Highway Patrol.

Accepting the awards were Sheriff Ralph Tyson, Police Chief Glenn Cannon, and Executive Officer Lt. Carl Gilchrist, who acted in behalf of Troop A Commander, Capt. R. F. Williamson.

Judge Robert D. Wheeler presented the plaques, after having delivered a talk on the responsibilities and tribulations of law enforcement officers.

The inscription on each of the plaques read: Presented... by the Greenville Civitan Club in recognition of outstanding law enforcement, unqualified allegiance to the government, and unselfish service to humanity.

According to Ben Gibbs, Civitan president, presentation of awards to law enforcement officers will become an annual affair. Every year from now on, the Civitans will ask members of each department to choose from among their ranks an outstanding officer to be recognized, he said.

Millions May Be Idled Britons Face Power Cuts

By RONALD THOMSON
Associated Press Writer

LONDON (AP)—The government told a shocked House of Commons today that millions of British workers may be laid off because of new massive electric power cuts.

Hundreds of factories were expected to save electricity from coal-fueled power stations crippled by a five-week miners' strike.

John Davies, trade and industry minister, said "many, many people, perhaps millions" will be out of work at a time when Britain already has more than a million unemployed because of economic woes.

Under a state of emergency proclaimed after talks with the miners broke down, electricity was cut off to one in every 10 British homes, offices and factories on a rotating basis.

Broadening this limited blackout, which began Thursday, Davies ordered the biggest factories to slash their electric consumption by 50 per cent—meaning shutdowns of machinery and layoffs of workers.

In addition to these biggest users of power, a larger number of medium-size plants—more than 20,000—were banned from using electricity four days a week.

As coal stocks dwindled further, the government also banned the use of electricity Saturday for heating offices, shops, theaters and many other premises. It pleaded with everyone to voluntarily switch off as many home appliances as possible.

The power cuts brought disruption to millions of Britons in their day-to-day life.

Housewives prepared cold breakfasts by candlelight. Traffic was snarled for miles where traffic lights went out. Hundreds were stranded in stuck elevators and women were caught with half-finished hairdos under driers that went dead.

Four Of Cherry Hospital Employees Are Suspended

RALEIGH (AP) — Four employees at Cherry Hospital in Goldsboro are under suspension and several personnel changes have been made following an investigation into allegations of misuse of drugs and patient abuse.

A spokesman for the state Mental Health Department said Thursday the four employees will remain under suspension pending an investigation. He declined to release their names.

Meanwhile, it was announced that Thomas W. Walton, business manager at the Western North Carolina Center at Morganton, has been sent to Cherry Hospital temporarily as business manager.

Dr. Eugene Hargrove, state commissioner of mental health, said Robert Dominick, assistant state personnel director for mental health, also has been assigned to fill in temporarily as personnel director at the Goldsboro hospital.

Gov. Bob Scott told a news conference Monday he had ordered two top officials at the mental hospital replaced to solve "problems of mismanagement, poor administration, unsanitary conditions and lack of genuine concern."

Scott requested and obtained the resignation of J. W. Gaddy Jr., the hospital business manager. Hargrove said the other official, personnel director George Culbreth, had been dismissed.

He also said Dr. Joseph Krepleck, a staff member at the hospital, has resigned to return to Massachusetts to help his father, a physician.

The State Bureau of Investigation compiled an 800-page report of its probe into allegations that patients had been mistreated and drugs were being misused.

Scott declined to reveal details of the report until it has been studied by court and medical authorities. He said "In a general way, it has to do with the conduct of some of the employees toward the patients."

Cherry Hospital currently is under the supervision of Dr. Ladislav Peter, named acting head last month.

Scott ordered the investigation last summer after relatives complained of improper treatment, neglect and abuse by personnel at Cherry Hospital. He also ordered studies of two other mental hospitals, Broughton at Morganton and O'Berry Center at Goldsboro.

GREENSBORO — Five Pitt County Students are among the more than 300 nominees for the Katharine Smith Reynolds Scholarships at the University of North Carolina at Greensboro.

Local nominees are: Leslie Anne Denson and Elva Lucille Smith, both students at Ayden-Grifton High School; Delores Faye Harris and Anna Elizabeth White, both students at J. H. Rose High and Angeline Perkins, D. H. Conley.

Alumnae committees appointed for every county in North Carolina are interviewing the nominees this month.

Serving on the committee for Pitt County are: Mrs. Joseph G. Boyette, Mrs. Henry M. Johnston Jr. and Mrs. Edwin Harrington.

Twelve scholarships are awarded to each freshman class. The awards, covering board, room, tuition, fees, books and miscellaneous expenses, are valued at $1,600 and are renewable for four years of study.

The selection of Reynolds finalists was delegated to the Alumni Association of UNC-G by the Reynolds Foundation when the program was initiated in 1962. District committees were appointed to serve this function. They Reynolds Scholarships were established by the Z. Smith Reynolds Foundation in memory of Mrs. Katharine Smith Reynolds, a Woman's College

(now UNC-G) alumna, wife of the founder of Reynolds Tobacco Company, and mother of the late R. J. Reynolds Jr.

Sandy Duncan's First Claim To Fame Was Series Of Commercials

By PEACE MOFFAT
AP Newsfeatures Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Sandy Duncan is a blue-eyed mite of an actress, who first captivated TV audiences when she stood her ground against all sorts of uncouth customers in a series of bank commercials.

Miss Duncan is back on TV—with a series of her own, called "Funny Face," about a girl working her way through college. On a recent trip to New York, Miss Duncan talked about how the series had to be interrupted, however, and is yet to be resumed because she underwent a serious operation.

"The whole time I was doing the series I had a tumor," she said. "I'd complain of a headache, and they'd tell me to take an aspirin. Finally I went to UCLA Hospital. That's really a good place. If there's something wrong with you they'll find it. It took them about a week, and the tumor turned out to be benign. I wasn't really scared. I'm sort of an optimist. But looking back I get scared."

Looking extremely fit, and relaxed—almost lost in the cushions of a big sofa in the apartment where she was staying, Miss Duncan didn't want to go on about her operation, but she admitted there had been lasting effects. "Something like that does bring everything in life into perspective," she said. "Like I used to get upset over bad reviews. Now I don't. And I seem to be more honest with people and more selfish of my time."

Friendly and outgoing, Miss Duncan didn't mind saying that "the autograph thing" with her fans is kind of fun. "People come up to me and say, 'Are you Sandy Duncan?' and I say, 'Yes, do you want my autograph?'" she laughed. "I've never had any bad experiences with my fans. I think the actors who have problems are the ones who are aloof."

There was never any problem for Miss Duncan in choosing an acting career. "I don't even remember saying acting is what I wanted and would do," she said. "I just knew it since I was a little girl. And I never regretted it."

When she was 12, her dance teacher in her native Tyler, Tex., took her to Dallas to audition for summer theater there. She was successful and returned the following four seasons. She attended junior college for one year and studied drama, but she moved on to New York where she appeared in "The Music Man" at City Center. The actress later played in "Gypsy" in Chicago, "The Music Man" in Kansas City and "Brigadoon" in Pittsburgh. Back in New York, she performed in a Broadway revival of "The Boy Friend," winning the Outer Critics Circle Award, the New York Drama Desk Award and a Tony nomination. The recently-released "Star Spangled Girl" is her latest film.

And after all that—what does Miss Duncan want to do next? "Something good," she answered. "I'm looking very hard for a film script that's good. Most films that are labeled meaningful and relevant are films people don't really understand. It's almost political—like movie makers are indulging themselves. They had better start remembering that the purpose of entertainment is to entertain—not, like a giant PTA meeting, to enlighten."

N. C. Princess Soya Crowned In Raleigh

RALEIGH—Miss Paula Jean Mitchell, freshman at East Carolina University and native of Harrelsville, was crowned "North Carolina Princess Soya 1972" during the fifth annual meeting of the North Carolina Soybean Producers Association here last week.

She will compete for the National Princess Soya title during the 52nd annual meeting of the American Soybean Association at Columbus, Ohio, in August.

Miss Mitchell is a graduate of Ashok High School, where she was active in 4-H, the Beta Club, Student Government, the Drama Club, and was a cheerleader and a class officer. She is majoring in physical therapy at ECU.

During her reign as North Carolina Princess Soya, Miss Mitchell will participate in many public events and make radio and T. V. appearances to tell the "soybean story" to residents of the Tarheel State.

Reception Given Faculty

Dr. and Mrs. Leo Jenkins entertained the faculty of the ECU School of Business Wednesday evening at a reception at their home with about 150 guests attending.

Dr. James Bearden, business school dean, and Mrs. Bearden greeted guests with Dr. and Mrs. Jenkins.

Assisting Mrs. Jenkins at the refreshment table were Dr. Marjorie Harrison, Mrs. Ouida Debr, Mrs. Louis Zincone, Miss Gwendolen Potter, Mrs. Ray Jones and Miss Ruby Edens.

Floral decorations in the home featured magnolia leaves on the double stairway, an arrangement of white snapdragons and red carnations in the living room, and a centerpiece of pink snapdragons and white iris between the two five-branched candelabra on the dining room table.

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Linwood Mitchell of Harrelsville, are soybean producers.

First runner-up in the recent pageant was Miss Kay Sholar of Elizabethtown. Second runner-up was Miss Jennifer Thornton of Mount Olive. Miss Thornton is also a freshman at ECU.

USO Supports Men In Uniform

By Abigail Van Buren

(© 1972 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd. Inc.)

DEAR ABBY: The idea of exchanging tapes with servicemen who find writing letters tedious was a good one. Your comment that it was a good idea for those who could "afford" it caught my attention.

I suggest that both servicemen and their families contact their local U. S. O. Many U. S. O.'s at home and abroad will provide tapes, recorders, and even pay the postage as a service to our men in uniform. U. S. O. SUPPORTER

DEAR SUPPORTER: And this might be an appropriate time to inform those who may not be aware that the U. S. O. is NOT funded by the government! It is supported entirely by public donations as a United Way or Community Fund agency.

DEAR ABBY: I wrote to you several months ago about a male relative molesting my 3-year-old girl. Your answer was to confront him with it, and get him to a doctor, fast. We had already confronted him, and of course, he denied everything. "She makes up stories," he said.

Abby, how can a 3-year-old make up stories of this kind?

I talked with the police department, and was told you cannot accuse someone of molesting without proof. How do you get proof? When the child was younger, this relative would come over and take her out for "rides" in his car, and when he brought her home, her clothes were a mess, and her diaper pins were upside down! (Abby, do you know any mothers who put diaper pins in upside down? I don't.)

That, and a dozen other incidents, is still not sufficient proof. Will they take the word of a 3-year-old against that of a grown man who is admired and respected by all? NO!

I was made to look like a hysterical mother having hallucinations. Can you now understand why each night I pray for God to take him? Only then will I have peace of mind. DAZED

DEAR DAZED: I believe you. And I promise to give you my prompt personal assistance, if you will send me your name and address.

DEAR ABBY: I am a middle-aged woman, just recovering from surgery. I have also had a heart attack and I am not very well. My problem is I am trying to keep from getting the flu, but I have two women friends who always want to kiss me when they greet me. And when I leave, they are in the habit of kissing me goodby.

I never minded until now. But there is so much flu around that a person can't be too careful. I would feel foolish asking them not to kiss me for this reason, yet I wish they wouldn't. How can I keep them from kissing me without losing their friendship?

Please print this. I am sure others have the same problem. SALT LAKE CITY

DEAR SALT LAKE: When they approach you, gently give them the "straight arm" and say, "Please, no kisses. One of us may have a little bug." [True, one of you may have.]

CONFIDENTIAL TO MASON CITY FATHER: There is little point in suddenly telling a 16-year-old son that if he ever gets into any kind of trouble to come to you first. For if the proper relationship has been built over the years, he will. And if it hasn't, the words will be meaningless.

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

Bible Study Held At Meet Of Patient Circle

The Rev. Gordon Conklin gave the first of a series of Bible studies at the meeting of The Patient Circle of The King's Daughters Tuesday night.

Mrs. E. E. Rawl introduced the speaker, who is pastor of Oakmont Baptist Church. The study will be continued at the March 14 meeting.

The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Clara Moye Shackell, president of the group.

She called for committee reports which included:

Miss Mary Wells, chairman, reported 80 pairs of eye glasses and a box of jewelry had been shipped to "New Eyes for Needy"; The January report of social service work was given by Mrs. Luther Moore, chairman. It was voted to send $5 monthly to the Nursing Home for drinks for patients.

Mrs. Thomas Hannaford, chairman, distributed 1972 yearbooks.

The hostess, Mrs. Shackell, Mrs. Cora S. Powell, Mrs. Harvey Turnage, Mrs. W. E. Debnam, assisted by Miss Wells, served refreshments.

Simmons-Whitehurst Vows Exchanged

MRS. JAMES C. SIMMONS

WILMINGTON—Miss Shirley Brown Whitehurst and James C. Simmons were united in marriage on Friday evening, Feb. 4, at seven o'clock in a private ceremony at the Wesley Memorial United Methodist Church here.

The Rev. Vernon C. Tyson officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Arue Whitehurst of Bethel and the late Mr. Henry Whitehurst. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. R. C. Simmons of Havelock and the late Mr. Simmons.

The bride wore a street length snow white maderia polyester dress which featured tiny satin buttons on the fitted bodice and the long tapered sleeves.

Mrs. Simmons is a graduate of Stokes-Pactolus High School and East Carolina University, with a degree in business education. She is the typing instructor at Miller-Motte Business College, Wilmington.

Mr. Simmons is a graduate of Havelock High School, Havelock, Lenoir Community College, Kinston, and Fayetteville Technical Institute. He served three years in the U. S. Navy and is now employed with a private land surveyor in Wilmington.

The couple will reside in Wilmington.

Top Students Are Women

NEW YORK (AP) — The top three students in the Class of '73 at the Columbia University School of Law are women.

Vivian O. Adler, of Riverdale, N.Y., Anita H. Laudone of Norwich, Conn., and Beryl Shatz of Harrisburg, Pa., achieved the highest grades in their first year of law school. There were 46 women in their class of 368.

The three have been named Kent Scholars, a coveted academic honor at Columbia Law, awarded annually in each class to the students with the best academic record for the entire previous year of study. They are now second-year students.

Twenty-seven others in the second-year class with the next best academic records were named Stone Scholars. All were men.

In the Class of '72, now third-year students, two of the top five were women: Jane Parver of New York City, and Ellen Jordan of Staten Island, N.Y.

They, too, were named Kent Scholars.

Total current enrollment in the Law School is 1,043, of which 129 are women.

Good Looks Help Grades

VIENNA, Australia (WNS) — Psychology students here investigated the effect of good looks on teaching grades and reported that male instructors tend to give better marks to attractive girls. Women teachers, however, pay no attention to male appearance when handing out honors. The study also noted that more Austrian girls over 15 years old sign on for higher education than boys their same age.

No Overnight Job Lies Ahead

It will take more than a few resignations and a few weeks of reorganization to correct the deficiencies in three of North Carolina's mental hospitals pointed out in a lengthy SBI report.

Gov. Scott has taken the initial step toward effecting needed improvements by requesting the resignation of two top officials at Cherry Hospital in Goldsboro.

It is evident from official comment on the SBI report, however, that problems in the operation of the hospitals are deep-seated and that it will be no over-night job to bring their operations to acceptable standards.

Although the report had not been made public; and it is likely that some portions of it will not be made public, the situation should be a matter of great concern to every citizen of the state.

The announcement from the governor's office mentioned corrective measures already taken to better control and monitor drugs which have allegedly been subject to misuse in the hospitals. The report also spoke of disrepair of physical facilities and unsanitary conditions in the hospitals. There was reference to lack of proper administration, low morale among the hospital employees as well as of neglect and abuse of patients.

While quick corrective measures may deal superficially with some of these problems, it will take time to bring the state's mental hospitals up to the standards citizens should and do expect.

The situation must receive high priority from responsible officials within the state government, and every effort must be made to correct unacceptable conditions as quickly as possible. Superficial dealing with the inadequacies will only perpetuate them. North Carolina cannot afford to allow them to continue.

Only A Few Days More For The Late Listers

Tax payers who failed to list their taxes during the January listing period got a reprieve from the county commissioners Monday.

The commissioners extended the listing period for 1971 property taxes to Feb. 15. If property owners list by that time they will not be liable for the ten percent penalty for listing after Jan. 31.

Action was taken because of some misunderstanding over the deadline.

The new deadline, however, only leaves a few days more for late listers to take care of this chore. Those who want to avoid the penalty should list before Feb. 15.

Fear Judicial Cutback Move

By BRYAN HAISLIP
RALEIGH — The threat of judicial power to cut the size of state legislatures is sending tremors throughout the nation.

"I don't believe those who framed our government ever intended anything like this," said House Speaker Philip P. Godwin of the North Carolina General Assembly.

"As far as I can see, the size of a legislative body has nothing in the world to do with whether or not representation is on a 'one-man, one-vote' basis," he added.

Godwin's remarks referred to the action of a three-judge federal court in Minnesota which recently ordered that state's legislature reduced from 202 to 140 as part of a reapportionment plan.

Godwin got the Minnesota reaction first-hand at an executive committee meeting of the National Conference of Legislative Leaders in Chicago not long ago. The Tar Heel legislator is one of the 16 members of the executive committee. Aubrey Dirlam, Minnesota House Speaker, is conference president.

Minnesota Leaders Upset
"They are very upset," Godwin reported. "It's a serious matter for the federal courts to go that far in interpreting how the states should redistrict."

The apprehension and alarm is shared by legislative leaders across the country. No court challenge has been raised to North Carolina's state legislative redistricting based on the 1970 census, but such cases are pending in several other states.

The Minnesota case is being appealed to the U.S. Supreme Court. Dirlam has sent copies of the court order to legislative leaders in all 50 states, along with an invitation to join in the appeal.

Whether North Carolina will do so should be decided after a close study of the case by the attorney general and consultation between legislative leaders and Gov. Bob Scott, Godwin said. The matter deserves serious consideration, he added.

The Minnesota decision suggests that judicial encroachment on the legislative branch has reached grave proportions, he agreed. "If there's any chance that by acting together we can stop it, I say let's do it," Godwin asserted.

Can It Happen Here?
If it can happen to Minnesota, why not North Carolina?

A critical point of difference apparently is in the constitutions of the two states. North Carolina fixes by constitutional provision the number of state Senators at 50, and Representatives at 120. The Minnesota constitution specifies that the number shall be prescribed by law, not to exceed certain limits of proportion to population (one Senator per 5,000, and one Representative per 2,000).

Minnesota now has a Senate of 67 members, the largest in the nation. The House has 135 members. The plan ordered by the court calls for 35 senators and 105 house members.

The size of the Tar Heel legislature has remained unchanged for more than a century. At 170, it is above the average for the states.

Larger Membership Proposed
From time to time there have been proposals to alter the composition of the North Carolina legislature, but always in the direction of increasing membership rather than reducing it.

A larger legislative body has merit in keeping representation close to the people, Godwin said. It's harder for a lawmaker to stay in touch with a greater number of constituents spread over a wider area, he explained.

Godwin, a Gatesville attorney who is not seeking reelection, knows the difficulty. His district is in the northeastern section of the state, predominantly rural and sparsely populated.

"Our districts get larger every time," he said. "It's becoming impossible to really cover them as a Representative should."

Reduction of the size of legislatures would further penalize those citizens in rural areas, he added.

The Minnesota case is expected to reach the U.S. Supreme Court in the next few months. How the high court rules could set a landmark in how far judicial power will extend over the legislative branch.

Bloodbath In Ohio's GOP

By ROWLAND EVANS and ROBERT NOVAK
COLUMBUS, Ohio — Atty. Gen. John Mitchell's foreboding over the enduring blood feud within the Ohio Republican party surfaced last month during his chance encounter with a party leader from Ohio.

Having barely exchanged greetings Mitchell blurted out this question: "What the hell is Bob Taft up to?" Mitchell, President Nixon's closest political adviser and campaign manager-designate, had heard that Sen. Robert Taft, Jr., had decided to run for a seat on the Republican state central committee. Mitchell was clearly unhappy.

His apparent exasperation by no means evidenced anti-Taft feeling inside the Nixon high command. Rather, the Attorney General was — and is — understandably jittery that Taft's move is part of a power play to take control of the statewide party. That would guarantee a continuation of calamitous Republican civil warfare which could defeat Mr. Nixon for reelection.

For it is scarcely conceivable that Mr. Nixon could win a second term without carrying Ohio. Since he carried the state by a less than comfortable margin in 1968, when blessed with a monolithic Republican party, his chances in 1972 could be marginal if the party's internal disorders of 1970 persist. Thus, Taft's ambitions are viewed with apprehension here by many Republicans who wish him well personally.

What is happening in Ohio is an extension of 1970 when Republican factionalism and state government scandals opened the door to Democratic capture of the governorship.

More than one year later, the party is still polarized into two camps. One, controlling the party apparatus, includes state chairman John Andrews, former Gov. James A. Rhodes and the Columbus business-political establishment. The other is led by Taft, closely allied with Cincinnati financier Carl Lindner, who has become one of Ohio's paramount money and political figures.

In recent months, Taft has been rebuffed by the Rhodes-Andrews faction more than once. The state Republican finance committee rejected Taft's pleas to help retire the huge debt (estimate: $600,000) left from his 1970 Senate campaign. Taft also failed to win an at-large delegate seat to the Republican National Convention for Rep. William Keating, who succeeded to Taft's Cincinnati Congressional seat and is Lindner's political protegee.

Beyond this lies the gubernatorial nomination in 1974, prospectively a choice prize considering the present unpopularity of Democratic Gov. John J. Gilligan. Rhodes, defeated by Taft for the 1970 Senate nomination, is eyeing a comeback for governor. A sudden new closeness between Taft and Keating indicates the Senator may actively support the Congressman for governor in cooperation with Lindner.

Against this background comes Taft's decision, unprecedented for a United States Senator from Ohio, to run for state central committee member from Keating's Congressional district (Cincinnati) against an incumbent allied with Rhodes. Although Taft's victory in the May 2 primary seems certain, the struggle would disrupt the Republican party in a city no longer the traditional stronghold of the Grand Old Party but now the scene of Democratic resurgence.

It may not end in Cincinnati, however. A Taft lieutenant is challenging Andrews for the state committee seat from Toledo. Ultimately, everyone here believes, Taft wants to supplant Andrews as chairman by taking control of

The Cast Of Characters

WASHINGTON — The Howard Hughes autobiography mystery is moving so fast that most people find it hard to keep up with all the parties involved. As a public service we are printing the cast of characters as they have appeared on the scene. Carry this program with you at all times.

Clifford Irving — handsome, 41-year-old author of the book "Fame," who went to McGraw-Hill and told them he had made a deal with Howard Hughes, the mysterious billionaire to write his autobiography. Irving's credentials were impeccable as he lived on the island of Ibiza in Spain, where no one has ever been known to tell a lie.

McGraw-Hill — the prestigious publishing house which advanced $650,000 for the book and said it would stake the integrity of the firm on the authenticity of the manuscript. The joke around New York is that McGraw-Hill is thinking of changing its name to the Irving Trust company.

Life magazine — a prestigious magazine which agreed to pay $250,000 for the magazine rights to the autobiography. When asked why they thought they had the real thing, a spokesman said, "We're not Modern Screen. This is the Time-Life Corporation."

Modern Screen — a movie fan magazine which said when informed the Hughes autobiography could be a forgery, "We're not Life magazine."

Osborne, Associates — a distinguished handwriting analysis firm which attested to the fact that the correspondence in McGraw-Hill's possession and the signature on the checks matched those of Howard Hughes. Business at the firm has been slow for the past three weeks.

Edith Irving — Clifford Irving's fourth wife. A German-born Swiss citizen whom the Swiss police would like to talk to concerning her role in the affair. At one point Irving said he would sue anyone who linked her to the $650,000 deposited in a Swiss bank.

Helga R. Hughes — no relation to Howard. The woman who opened an account in the Credit Swiss under the name H.R. Hughes and deposited and withdrew the money Irving said he had paid to Howard Hughes. Mr. Irving has admitted his wife was Helga and therefore all lawsuits linking his wife and Helga have been called off.

Hannah Rosencrantz — the woman who opened a bank account after the money was withdrawn from Credit Swiss and placed it in the Swiss Bank Corp., across the street. It is believed she is Edith Irving and Helga Hughes put together.

Nina van Pallandt — a voluptuous Danish singer who says that Clifford Irving is in love with her and took her to Mexico with him when he said he met Howard Hughes. She claims Irving never left her side, which damages Irving's story, not to mention his relations with his wife Edith, as well as Helga and Hannah.

Feb. 14 Not For Boyle

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — There is one time in the year when I feel like hiding in bed all day with the covers pulled over my head.

That is on St. Valentine's Day.

I am allergic to it. It is a red-headed day for all the earth's lovers, but Valentine's Day is just another nosebleed to me. Nothing nice ever happened on Valentine's Day to me.

The only thing I ever got on Feb. 14 was trouble.

It all started on Feb. 14, 1916, the year the Battle of Jutland was fought and I entered kindergarten.

I bought an insulting penny valentine and started to leave it on the desk of the manliest little girl in the class, of whose muscles we were all in awe.

Someone in the class rattled on me, and the next thing I knew this 65-pound baby tigress was sitting astride my chest and pounding my head on the wooden floor. I still wake up every Valentine's morning with a ringing in my ears.

I guess I must have been 12 when I was a street newsboy and fell deeply in love with blonde middle-aged wife of a man who ran a cleaning shop. She was so tall I had to make echoes if I wanted her to look down and smile at me.

On Valentine's Day, while she was in the back of the shop, I put a newspaper on her desk as usual — plus my gift, a box of

40 Years Ago Today

By GWYN COGHILL
Feb. 11, 1932

The work of cleaning the Salvation Army "Shelter City" and putting it in shape has been completed. Chief of police, G. A. Clark, inspected the house yesterday and was pleased with the convenience which it will afford for taking care of all transients coming into the city.

Today was "Dollar Day" in Greenville and crowds jammed the stores throughout the morning hours looking over the bargains which the nine participating merchants had to offer. Demand for "Dollar Day" values exceeded all expectations, merchants declared, and indications were that bargains would be completely exhausted when the stores close for business late today. A steady stream of people thronged the principal business district during the morning hours and this was expected to continue until this afternoon when shoppers make a last minute effort to obtain some of the values which the merchants had placed upon their counters.

Other Editors Say Let Them Stew

(Jacksonville Daily News)

It has been remarked that the ancestors if innumerable Americans were draft or war resisters or political or religious dissidents who fled to this country to escape military service or life under oppressive governments.

The idea is that our present-day draft evaders or Army deserters, some 70,000 of whom are said to be in Canada alone, are following in an honored American tradition but on the nation which was and is prosecuting an "immoral" war in Vietnam.

The comparison might be valid except for one thing: Those who came to America in search for freedom came for keeps, renouncing and abjuring all allegiance to their native lands forever.

They did not, from the sanctuary of America, demand that the king or the kaiser or the czar grant them amnesty or meet certain conditions as the price of their return. They had no thought or desire to return to their former countries. Neither did those countries desire to have them back.

The Vietnam war dissenters protest a little too much. If "Amerika" was so far sunk into imperialism and fascism as to be unbelievable for them, if they felt they could not in conscience serve its government, why do we hear these self-righteous proclamations from Toronto and Stockholm rejecting anything short of absolute and total amnesty before they will consent to come home?

Why do they want to come back to this terrible country at all? Let them stew. Let them stew until they accept the fact that they will have to meet the American people at least part way, and that when they come back, if they do come back, it will have to be as something less than full-fledged heroes.

Plenty Of Money For Housing

By ELMER ROESSNER
There appears to be plenty of money available to support a continuance of the housing boom. The top 100 mutual savings banks had deposits of $61.1 billion on January 1. The 200 largest savings and loan associations had total assets of $81 billion at the same time.

Much of that has already been loaned on mortgages, of course. But savings of all kinds increased by about $60 billion last year. And mortgage repayments swelled the total. Furthermore, there are other sources of mortgage money, including commercial banks, mortgage companies, foundations, other accumulators and the government itself.

An interesting regional difference appears in the holdings of savings and loan associations and mutual savings banks.

Twenty-nine of the top 30 savings banks are located east of Ohio, 28 east of Buffalo. The 30th, number 8 in rank, is the Washington Mutual Savings Bank of Seattle. On the other hand, however, all of the top five and 15 of the top 30 savings and loan associations are headquartered in the West and Midwest. The first one in New York is the 18th on the list, the West Side Federal Savings and Loan Association.

Last year's contracts for residential homes and apartments set a record of $34.8 billion, 40 per cent above the 1970 mark, according to George A. Christie, chief economist for the F. W. Dodge division of McGraw-Hill. Apartment units accounted for 44 per cent of all dwelling units, he said.

While final figures are not yet available, housing starts last year were running at a rate of more than two million a year. There were some indications of a lag later in the fall, but contracts for new housing units spurred ahead in November and December, making sure that construction work will be off to a healthy start this year.

Not included in housing-start figures are mobile homes, some of which have more living space than some apartments. Donald L. Greenwalt, chairman of the board of the Mobile Home Manufacturers Association, has predicted the industry will turn out 573,000 new mobile homes this year, compared with 401,190 last year.

He based his forecast on "Favorable population shifts in age groups, an improving economy, more favorable financing, a commitment by

Strength For Today

REAL SERVICE
Probably the most admired people in modern life are those people who are trying with all their might to make the world a better place in which to live. Clergymen of all faiths, missionaries, good neighbors that chat with one another over the back fence (or are there any more back fences left?), parents who are trying to make the home over which they preside a place of loveliness, light and good cheer—these are doing plenty to make the world a better place in which to live. The place to start a betterment crusade is right where we happen to live, as we do our daily chores, converse and meet one another with a hearty laugh and a vigorous handshake.

It was the fact the Jesus went about doing good that made him Saviour and Lord to uncounted millions both in the past and in the present.

On the whole it would appear that never in the history of Church or State have so many people dedicated their lives to making the world a better place in which to live. Will they succeed? Certainly, and we need to support them inword and deed if we are going to live up to the highest truth we know.

And don't let us be deceived in any way about the conditions of human life on the planet. It has its ups and downs.

afternoon at the First Presbyterian Church, Elm and 14th Street. (Reflector Photo by Tommy Forrest)

Church Music Service Modeled After Sebastian Bach's Period

A service of church music modeled after the Hauptgottesdienst on Easter Sunday in the Thomaskirche in Leipzig, Germany, in the days of Johann Sebastian Bach will take place Sunday afternoon, beginning at 4:00 p.m. in the First Presbyterian Church of Greenville, Elm and Fourteenth Street.

For this special service, the officiant and preacher will be the Rev. Dr. M. Alfred Bichsel, Chairman, Department of Church Music, Eastman School of Music, Rochester, New York.

Much of the program will be devoted to music, with soloists from East Carolina University assisted by the Choral Ensemble of the Collegium Musicum, Dr. E. Robert Irwin conducting. Mrs. Barbara Henry is conductor of the Instrumental Ensemble of the Collegium Musicum, and Dr. Rodney Schmidt is organizer of orchestra personnel.

Organizers of the program note that although the service "does not pretend to be a completely authentic reproduction of the Leipzig original, the purpose in presenting it is to give an example of the liturgical tradition in one city in Germany during the first half of the 18th century."

As the Sunday service at the Presbyterian church is based on extant records of St. Thomas Church, so important in the musical life of the composer J. S. Bach, the music used in the program is either by Bach or by earlier or contemporary composers whose music was known to him.

Portions of the service that were originally in Latin have been retained, while English is used to replace some of the German venacular.

Pre-service instrumental music will be performed by the Collegium Musicum instrumental ensemble. Following this will be Bach's majestic Christ lag in Todesbanden, played by Ken Woodard on the organ, then stanzas 1 and 2 of the same music, using the second tune.

The motet will be Christ, To Thee Be Glory, by Heinrich Sagittarius, arranged by Schutz, a 17th century composer. For the introit, the Resurrexi from Psalm 139 will be used, followed by the Kyrie. The kyrie for this service will be from Buxtehude's Missa Brevis, and will be conducted by Peggy Robinson, an ECU graduate student in church music.

Other parts of the service will include the gloria, Allein Gott in der Hoh sel ehr, also from Buxtehude's Missa Brevis and featuring sopranos Debra Johnson and Debra Stokes; alto Deborah Rhodes; tenor James Powers and bass Robert Beard; the salutation and response, the collect, the epistle, the de tempore hymn; a second salutation and response; the Holy Gospel and an organ interlude.

Lee Hendricks will play Bach's Heut Triumphlied, and Debra Johnson and alto Virginia Linn will join in singing a verse from Bach's Christ lag in Todesbanden; with soprano Andrea Rose and tenor James Powers singing a verse from the same selection.

Then will follow the creed with an organ setting used by Bach being played by James Twyne; the verba in a melody prescribed by Martin Luther in the Deutsche Messe of 1526; and Bach's Sonata for Flute in E-flat major, to be performed by Ann Founders Searl.

This will be one of the most varied programs of church music ever to be presented by students and faculty vocalists and instrumentalists from ECU's School of Music. The program will approximate church music as used in the lifetime of J. S. Bach, whose music continues to be used widely in church services of many religious denominations.

(Continued from page 4) the state central committee and voting him out. Though the odds are against that happening, the convulsions would last well into the Presidential campaign.

Mitchell has not bothered to mask what he thinks of all this. He lost no opportunity to publicly repudiate published accounts, inspired by Taft allies in Washington, that the Nixon political apparatus was behind Taft's move. Rather, Mitchell is in frequent telephone contact with Andrews and has indirectly put out the word that the Nixon campaign is happy with Andrews as Ohio party boss.

To the contrary, there are signs of displeasure with Taft. In that same conversation in which he asked, "What the hell is Bob Taft up to?" Mitchell expressed pleasure that Taft's aggressive, sometimes abrasive campaign chairman, John J. Kelley, Jr., of Cleveland, was being left out of the state's convention delegation.

Clearly, Taft did not ask for the President's or the Attorney General's blessing before he made his move (although Taft and Keating met with Mitchell in Washington Jan. 18, to discuss the Ohio delegation makeup). The question now is whether Mitchell will use his muscle to avoid a bloodbath that could deliver the state's 25 electoral votes — and the White House — to the Democrats.

cheap face powder—and fled. Later, she called me back to her shop and handed me a sealed envelope. Outside, I opened it with trembling hands—and out fell a dollar bill.

No life before or since has ever been so crushed in ignominy. No lacy valentine, no tender note—just a paltry buck. Did she think a love as fine as mine was for sale?

On Feb. 14, 1943 in Tunisia I bit down on an Army-rationed Tootsie Roll—and out fell one of my teeth. I still keep it among my Valentine's Day souvenirs.

But the worst of my blunders came on Feb. 14, 1938, when I had been married only a few months. I had failed to buy my new wife a gift, when she remarked about it, I said:

"Why should I buy you a present? We're married now. Valentine's Day is a single girl's racket."

Well, that unfortunate husbandly remark has been haunting me for 34 years now.

A happy St. Valentine's Day? Impossible. It's a kind of Doomsday to me.

Fund Drive Aims At Appalachia Project

Today and tomorrow East Carolina University students, members of Kappa Alpha order, a national social fraternity, will be beginning a project of fund collections.

Purpose of the fund collection is for the ECU chapter to join their brother chapters in the fraternity across the nation to support a plan to build a handicrafts workshop for people in Appalachia.

Students Bob Parker, Murfreesboro; Peter West, Greenville; and Lee Askew, Gatesville, explained that the concept is a workshop to give people in the mountain area an opportunity to help themselves through native handicrafts.

The first part of their two part project will be from 3:00 to 6:00 p.m. today and again all day Saturday. On these two days, members of Kappa Alpha will be collecting funds on at least five major intersections.

The second part of the drive will be conducted all next week, when the young men will conduct a house-to-house and a store-to-store sale of calendars. The calendars are pictorial ones with black and white photographs of people and landscapes of the Appalachia area.

No Charges In Traffic Mishap

No charges were made in a 12:30 p.m. mishap yesterday on Memorial Drive, 450 feet North of the Dickinson Avenue intersection according to Greenville Police Department investigators.

Officers reported cars driven by Jo Ann Mathis, 19, of Jacksonville, and Johnnie Lee Lockamy, 28, of Route 5, Greenville collided, causing an estimated $175 damage to the Mathis auto and about $25 damage to the Lockamy vehicle. Police reported Miss Mathis was injured in the collision.

When does a baby start to think?

Nobody knows, but thoughts come by association. Baby eagerly responds to the sight of a bottle. Experience proves that the bottle offers both satisfaction and comfort.

Because baby does learn by association, it is important that parents expand their children's horizons. A very small child will respond to a simple prayer. And a child of three will enjoy attending Church School geared for youngsters of that age.

Religious instruction and guidance is not only for the mature — it is needed regularly by everyone. The spiritual life of your child needs constant cultivation and the mind needs day by day development.

Senior Citizens Heard Hampton

Keith Hampton, assistant director of the Eastern Carolina Sheltered Workshop and Rehabilitation Center, was the guest speaker at the meeting of the Greenville Senior Citizens Thursday.

He spoke of the worthwhileness of training people who are mentally retarded, emotionally disturbed or physically impaired.

Hampton explained the testing program for aptitudes given the clients. He said the clients' services are available to local industries.

Mrs. Betty Casey invited interested members to a class being formed in creative writing.

A proposed overnight trip to Williamsburg, Va., was outlined by Ralph Mills of Trailways Bus Company.

The next meeting will be a covered dish luncheon.

Bucs Seek Revenge Over The Citadel

Pitt Tech Falls In Final Game

JACKSONVILLE — Taller and bigger Coastal Carolina Community College held off repeated bids by Pitt Technical Institute last night to take a 66-55 victory over the Paladins.

The loss left the Paladins with an 11-5 record on the season, and closed out the year for them.

Coastal Carolina jumped off to a 4-0 lead and continued to pull away from Pitt in the contest. They slowly pulled out on in-ching the lead out to 12 points, 29-17, during the well-disciplined play in the first half.

In the second half, the Jacksonville school continued to move away building up a 19-point lead with about five minutes gone in the half, 40-21. But from there, Pitt Tech went into a half-court press and it began to tell.

They whittled the lead down to a single point, 42-41, but Coastal Carolina again pulled away, moving back out by six, 48-42. Pitt was able to muster one more drive, finally tying it up with three minutes left to go in the game.

But they could not push ahead, and Carolina pulled away again, moving out to the final 11-point margin.

One thing which bothered the Paladins in the game was the fact that leading scorer Frank Brown, who hit 27 for the season, was hampered with an ankle injury sustained in the previous game, and was unable to play up to par.

Brown still finished with 10 points, while Frank Brown had 16 and Leslie Saunders had 15. Humphrey led Coastal Carolina with 21, while Rhodes had 17, and Abrams had 10.

Leaders Hold In Church Loop

With only a week of play to go, the Church Basketball League has boiled down to a battle between Immanuel and Presbyterian for the regular season crown.

In last night's action, Presbyterian downed St. Paul's 79-44; Immanuel nipped Black Jack, 53-51, and Oakmont rolled over Trinity, 80-84.

The Presbyterian victory eliminated Oakmont from the title picture, leaving only the top two teams in competition for the crown. Presbyterian is 11-1, while Immanuel is 10-1. They are trailed by Oakmont, 8-4; Piney Grove, 6-5; St. James, 4-7; Black Jack, 4-8; Trinity, 3-8; and St. Paul's 0-12.

In the opening game, Presbyterian moved out into a 27-17 lead during the first half. They blasted St. Paul's, 52-57 in the second half, to win it going away.

Mike Gwynn led Presbyterian with 17 points, while Bill Gidewell had 16, Larry Graham had 15, and Don Owen and Gene Hudson each had 14. Jack Wall led St. Paul's with 28.

Immanuel inched out in front of Black Jack, 23-20, in the first half, but Black Jack stayed right with them in the second. Black Jack dumped in 31 points to 30 for Immanuel, but a basket by Bill Tripp with five seconds left gave Immanuel the win.

Mac Roebuck led the Immanuel scoring with 12, while Ray Dunlap had 11. Tal Adams led Black Jack with 21.

Oakmont roared away to a 27-14 lead in the first half, then outthit Trinity, 53-34, in the second to win easily.

Jeff Daniel led Oakmont with 20, while Doyle Daughtry had 17, Bobby Hall had 14, Don Parrott had 13 and Hersey Smithson had 10. Trinity was led by Lewis Hardee with 15 and Jim Adams with 10.

Beltone Near Ladies Title

Beltone clinched at least a tie for the Ladies Basketball League title last night, scoring a 28-27 victory over Greenville Utilities. Azalea Mobile Homes remained as the only team that can catch them, taking a 27-18 win over Fleetway-R.B. Jr.

Beltone now has a 4-1 record, while Azalea is now 3-2. Greenville Utilities is 2-3, while Fleetway is 1-4. Only one game remains.

In the opener, Azalea moved out to a commanding lead in the first half, gaining a 20-8 lead. Fleetway outthit them, 10-7, in the second half, but to no avail.

Sherry Sutton led Azalea with 10 points, while Dolly Johnson had 10 to lead Fleetway.

Beltone moved out into a 19-15 lead in the first period of play, and then had to hold off a GUCo. rally. GUCo outthit Beltone, 12-9, in the second half, but it fell just one short of catching up.

Sandy Barnhill led Beltone with 13 points, while Carol Manuel paced Greenville Utilities with 11.

East Carolina University's Pirates return to their home court Saturday night, after a four-game absence, hoping to secure their position in third place in the Southern Conference.

The Bucs will be playing host to The Citadel, seeking to gain revenge for one of the four Southern Conference losses they've sustained this year. The Citadel topped the Pirates in their first meeting in Charleston, last December.

The Bucs will be coming into the game after Wednesday's heartstopping 80-74 victory over the University of Richmond, the oldest nemesis of the Pirates. Richmond has rallied from 16 points behind to pull within two points with 16 seconds to go.

"The law of averages had to bring one of those close ones to us sometime," East Carolina Coach Tom Quinn said. "They've won more than their share of close ones." Richmond had won the previous two meetings of the two teams, both by a point.

"We played very well in the first half, and got a nice cushion," Quinn pointed out. "(Ernie) Pope's free throws, and a steal, blocked shot and rebound (by Jim) Fairley really helped out right there at the end." Pope came up with the final four points for the Pirates, all at the line.

Quinn said he thought the Pirates did an excellent job of defending Richmond during the first half of the game. "We didn't push it as hard during the second half. We really didn't press them then; I think we got tired." Quinn noted that the Pirates had some fast breaks in the first half, and worked against Richmond's zone press the rest of the time, and this wore the Bucs down somewhat. "In the first game, when we were working for baskets, we took some shots we shouldn't have, and Wednesday night, we didn't take some we had."

The coach admitted that he got a little excited toward the end of the game. "I thought the game was getting away from the officials. In fact I think it did for the last three minutes. But I never lost faith in the ability of our players to keep the lead and win. I felt we deserved to win."

The coach added that he thought the Bucs played as well for 30 minutes as they had on the road this year. "We had an improved defense, and our down-court man-to-man defense was as good as I've seen it in the first half."

The Bucs also worked with a new offense, to spring a player loose for a high percentage shot. It worked well against Richmond's man-to-man defense in the first half, and staked the Pirates to their 16-point lead. "It's just a variety of the old yoyo offense," Quinn said. "It's really nothing new."

The coach is also pleased with the play of Nicky White. "He's a regular now, whether he's starting or not. We know he can come in there and get the job done for us. We feel the same way about Pope and (Greg) Crouse."

The Citadel will offense a different kind of challenge to the Pirates, having the ability to score both from the outside and inside. "We have to stop them at both places," Quinn said. "We also have to cut down our turnovers against their press, and I think we can. We're not the same team that played them earlier."

John Sutor, who leads the Southern in percentage from the field, also heads the scoring for the Bulldogs. He is averaging 16.5 points per game, getting most from the inside. Steve Fischel, a guard, is hitting 16.1, and Quinn lists him as a fine shooter, too.

Two other Citadel players are hitting in double figures. They are Oscar Scott (12.0) and Lou Meckstroth (11.0).

A victory for the Bucs would up their record to 7-4, leaving only a road game with William & Mary, next Saturday, in the conference. The Citadel, now 3-4 in the league, is seeking to improve on its mark and get a better seeding. The Bulldogs have three more games remaining.

The varsity competition is set to get underway at 8 p.m. East Carolina's freshmen play host to Louisburg at 5:45 p.m. in a preliminary.

Rocky Mount Downs Aycock

Rocky Mount Junior High School held off E. B. Aycock last night and captured a 47-38 overtime victory.

Aycock had earlier taken a 54-51 overtime win in the junior varsity game.

In the varsity contest, Aycock pushed out into a 9-4 lead in the first period, and increased the lead by the end of the half. They outthit Rocky Mount, 12-10, in the second period for a 21-14 lead at the half.

But in the third period, Rocky Mount began to take control, outscoring the Phantoms, 10-7, to cut the lead to 28-24 lead. In the final period, Rocky Mount again outthit the Aycock five, 10-6, and that was enough to knot it up. Rocky Mount actually took the lead, but a basket by Aycock with 5 seconds left brought on the overtime.

 In the extra period, Rocky Mount was in full command, outthitting Aycock, 13-4, to win going away.
 Tyrone Taft led Aycock with 12, while Jack Jenkins had 10. Austin had 12 and Landis had 10 for Rocky Mount.

Cox Takes 18th In Row

WINTERVILLE — A. G. Cox Junior High School of Winterville mowed down its 18th straight opponent yesterday with a 54-38 victory over Chicod.

Rick Mobley and Joey Baggett led the win, scoring 13 points each. Edward Clemons had 19 and Curtis Clemons had 15 for Chicod.

In the girls game, Cox also won, 27-18. Sandra Stoddard led Cox with 12 points, while Ella Fleming had 7. Janet Roach and Patricia Roach each had eight for Chicod.

Without Gals, U.S. Would Be Medal-less

By JACK STEVENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer
SAPPORO, Japan (AP) — As the song says: "Thank Heavens For Little Girls ... " Without 'em the United States wouldn't have a medal to show for its efforts in the 11th Winter Olympic Games.

But with 'em, America's got six tucked away, three of them golds, which makes this its most successful winter Olympics in two decades.

The third gold came rocketing out of a heavy snowstorm Friday in the personage of Barbara Cochran, a 20-year-old skiing whiz from Richmond, Va., who mad-dashed her way to victory in the women's special slalom.

It came only two hours after Anne Henning put the third American bronze medal on the board in the 1,000-meter speed skating. The 16-year-old miss from Northbrook, Ill., who had won the 500 meters on Thursday, finished less than a quarter of a second behind West German winner Monika Pflug.

The American men remained shut out in the Games Friday night as world champion Ondrej Nepela of Czechoslovakia captured the gold medal in the finals of the men's figure skating.

Russia's Sergei Tcheteroukhin took the silver, moving ahead of Patrick Pera of France, who had been second after the compulsories.

Ken Shelley of Downey, Calif., finished fourth and John Mischa Petkevich, the Harvard pre-med student from Great Falls, Mont., was fifth, the two Americans moving up one spot as young Jan Hoffman of East Germany, fourth after the compulsories, slipped to sixth.

Rosburg Takes Solo Hope Lead

By RON ROACH
Associated Press Sports Writer
PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — Balding Bob Rosburg, who hasn't won a major tournament in more than 10 years, scored another round for middle-aged America by taking sole possession of the lead after 36 holes of the $145,000 Bob Hope Desert Classic.

The 45-year-old ex-Stanford University baseball player shot a three-under-par 69 Thursday at Bermuda Dunes Country Club for a total of 136. He was one stroke ahead of his first-round coteader, Jerry Heard, who had a 70 at the longer La Quinta Country Club course.

Four-time Desert Classic winner and defending champion Arnold Palmer, with a 68 at Eldorado Country Club, and Deane Beman were another stroke back at 137. Beman turned in the day's best score, 65 at Indian Wells Country Club.

Thirty-six players were under par going into today's third round in this unique pro-am setup being played in sunshine and temperatures near 80. Pros play in foursomes with three amateurs for 72 holes through Saturday, then play by themselves in Sunday's 18-hole finale at Indian Wells.

McDaniels In Mysterious Trip

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP) — The Carolina Cougars of the American Basketball Association were looking for rookie star Jim McDaniels this morning.

Reports from several sources indicated the 7-foot center had flown to Los Angeles to talk to an attorney about his contract. The Eastern Kentucky graduate is being paid an estimated $3 million, the largest salary for any pro basketball player.

Cougar General Manager

IT ENDED RECALLS
WESTBURY, N.Y. (AP) — The Phillips starting gate, which made its debut at Roosevelt Raceway here May 24, 1946, is credited with revolutionizing harness racing. The gate eliminated recalls.

The 1973 U.S. Open golf championship will be played June 14-17 at Oakmont, Pa.

This marked the first time since 1936 that the United States had not won a medal in men's figure skating. Americans dominated the event from 1948 through 1960.

Miss Cochran, who managed to finish only 11th in the giant slalom, brought America its first gold in Alpine skiing—the men have never won that Olympic event—since the 1952 Games in Oslo, Norway, when the United States finished with four golds.

She did it with an all-or-nothing effort that resulted in a fastest first-run time of 46.05 seconds, when she was first down the slope, and a second-fastest time of 45.19 on the second run for a total time of 1:31.24, an incredibly scant two hundredths of a second less than silver medalist Danielle Debernard of France.

"This is definitely my mind of course," Barbara said after her triumph, which was climaxed by a kissing, hugging mob scene and a brief victory ride on the shoulders of her ecstatic teammates and coaches. "I usually do better on a steep course than a turning one."

After being the initial skier in the first run—"I liked the No. 1 start ... because there was a light snow cover"—she was 15th in the second, when the snow really began coming down.

"I didn't watch any of the first 14," she said, "because I didn't want to know the times and, if they were having trouble, I didn't want to see them." She probably couldn't have, anyway, because of the downfall.

Asked how she felt about recent criticism that American athletes are too soft, she re-

"I can win again, Rosburg said." "I'm saying this for the first time in five years. I'm playing well enough to win, putting well enough to win, but winning is something that just happens ..."

Rosburg, who won the 1959 PGA championship, last picked up the winner's check at the 1961 Bing Crosby National ProAm.

He sank birdie putts of 30 and 35 feet in his round at Bermuda Dunes.

"I drove in the rough six or seven times. I'm disappointed with my driving but I really did putt well today," he said.

George Knudson of Toronto, and young John Miller were another stroke back at 138.

Club pro Jimmy Powell, just a stroke off the pace of Rosburg and Heard Wednesday, skied to a four-over-par 76 in his second round at Bermuda Dunes to fall eight strokes behind.

Jack Nicklaus dropped five strokes back to 140 with a par 72 at Eldorado and Lee Trevino followed his first-round 76 with a one-under 71 on the same course.

Carl Scheer had no comment on the matter. McDaniels' home telephone was not answered.

The Cougars play Denver tonight at Winston-Salem. A team spokesman, asked what would happen if McDaniels did not appear, said, "Normally a heavy fine. But there may be special circumstances."

McDaniels played Wednesday night in a 126-106 loss to the Kentucky Colonels at Charlotte.

plied: "I think our skiers train as hard as anyone—and the results today prove it!"

The Northbrook crowd, which has had plenty to cheer about, was ready for more as Miss Henning and Dianne Holum, gold medalist in the 1,500 meters, prepared to fulfill their roles as favorites in the 1,000 meters.

But suddenly, there was Miss Pflug, the 17-year-old outsider, gaining the glory with her Olympic-record 1:31.40. Atje Keulen-Deelstra of The Netherlands took the silver in 1:31.61 and Anne got the bronze in 1:31.62. Dianne wound up sixth at 1:32.51.

In Friday's other finals, Poland's Wejchlich Fortuna soared a magnificent 364 feet 2 inches in the first of two runs in the 90-meter ski jump, more than enough to win the gold.

And the Soviet Union defended its Olympic title in the biathlon relay.

In the four-man bobsled, Switzerland held the lead at the halfway mark. The remaining two runs are scheduled for Saturday. West Germany was second and Italy third. One American team was disqualified in the first heat when its members fell off the sled as it overturned. The No. 2 U.S. team was 12th after the first two runs.

Fortuna, whose second jump was 287-1 for a total of 219.9 points, captured the event which many observers had expected to go to the Japanese, who swept the 70 meters. Yukio Kasaya, took the 70-meter gold but was seventh in the 90 meters.

Second was Switzerland's Walter Steiner, who got the silver with 219.8 points. The bronze went to East Germany's Rainer Schmidt with 219.3. The best American was Ron Steele of Leavenworth, Wash., a distant 25th with 177.7.

Behind the victorious Russian biathlon team were Finland and East Germany, with the United States a surprisingly high sixth, its best Olympic finish ever.

VPI Downs Indians

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
"We just didn't generate enough offense when we needed it."

With that understatement, William and Mary coach Warren Mitchell began to describe how his Indians dropped a 90-69 basketball mismatch to Virginia Tech in the only game involving a Southern Conference team Thursday night.

Mitchell, whose team is bogged down with a 7-13 over-all record, said "once you let a team like Tech get a lead on you the only way to catch up is dominate them. And you aren't going to dominate a team like Tech. We just aren't big enough to do that."

Actually, things didn't look too rosy for Tech before the game Thursday because of former television puppet hero "Howdy Doody."

It seems Howdy's one-time straight man, Buffalo Bob, was at William and Mary hall Wednesday night and the basketball floor wasn't in place in time for the Gobblers' regular game-day workout.

But any thought of a bad shooting night was dispelled as the Gobblers threw in 57.4 per cent of their field goal attempts and hit 20 of 24 free throws.

Allan Bristow led the way for the winners with 26 points and 11 rebounds while Bill McNeer added 17.

Jerry Fisher led the Indians with 17 points, 15 coming in the second half. Jeff Trammell had 13 for the losers.

Tech coach Don Devoe said the win "was the greatest team effort this season in playing both ends of the floor" for the Gobblers.

There are no Southern Conference basketball games scheduled for tonight.

Last November 6, twenty-three East Carolina senior football players made what they thought was their final appearance in Ficklen Stadium. Pirate grid fans will have another opportunity to see these men in action along with other past ECU stars on April 15 when they square off with the 1972 varsity in the newly initiated Alumni Spring Football Game.

In announcing the event, Pirate coach Sonny Randle labeled it as "a giant step forward in continuing efforts to upgrade our football program. This game," Randle commented, "will serve many purposes. It will stimulate interest on the part of our football alumni in our present efforts. It will also give our varsity something special to look forward to at the conclusion of a usual routine spring practice. "For the fans," he continued, "the game will be quite a treat. They will have the opportunity to see our varsity in action, plus they can watch performers who they followed in past years."

Bill Cain, Athletic Business Manager and past ECU freshman coach will coach the Alumni, whose ranks will include such familiar names as Dave Alexander, Bill Cline, George Whitley, Tom Michel, Dick Corrada, Dwight Flanagan, Wayne Lineberry, and Butch Colson, plus standouts from 1971, including Rich Peeler, Monty Kiernan, Billy

Wallace, Rusty Scales, John Casazza, and Jack Patterson. The big game is slated for 8:00 p.m. on Saturday, April 15 in Ficklen Stadium. Tickets will go on sale on March 13, which is the first day of Pirate Spring drills. Price of admission for the event will be $1.00 prior to the day of the game and $2.00 if tickets are purchased on game day.

Randle concluded the announcement by saying, "I can think of no better time to start a varsity-alumni game. With twenty-three men returning from last year's squad, the alumni can field as strong a post-graduate team as I can conceive. It should develop into quite a contest."

ECU Hosting Annual High School Dunking

East Carolina University plays host to over 200 swimmers this Saturday as the 17th Annual Atlantic Seaboard Swimming and Diving Competition is held.

Some 33 high school swimming teams are expected to take part in the annual meet.

Calvert Hall of Maryland is the defending champion, having won for the past two years. They are shooting for a third straight title this season, and are favored on the basis of entered times.

Top competition for Calvert Hall will come from Walt Whitman High School, another Maryland school, and North Carolina's Greensboro Grimsley High School.

Diving trials in the meet get underway Saturday at 10 a.m., with the swimming trials at 12:30 p.m. The diving semifinals will be held at 4:15.

The finals are scheduled to get underway at 7 p.m.

This year's meet is dedicated to John Dewey, a member of the Grimesley High School swimming team, who died of cancer last year. Dewey was a former competitor in the meet, missing last year's in the final stages of his illness. East Carolina had hoped that he would become a member of the Pirate swim team following his graduation from high school.

The top prospects in each of the events, and the best entered times follow:

Calvert Hall has the best entered time in the 200-yard medley relay in 1:44.0. Top challengers are expected to come from Walt Whitman and Grimsley.

In the 200-yard freestyle, Pete Benson of Calvert Hall leads the field. He has an entered time of 1:49.7. Rich O'Hare of Grimsley and David Shepherd of E. C. Glass in Richmond, Va., are listed right behind him.

Tom Berry, a Grimsley swimmer, is the top man in the 200-yard individual medley with a time of 2:04.0. Another Calvert Hall swimmer, Doug Teuro is second, while Steve Everett of McDunna of Wake County is next.

In the 50-yard freestyle, James Hanley of Concord High School of Wilmington, Del., is the leader in a time of :22.3. Robert Crowder of High Point and Tim Carrington of Bishop Ireton of Alexandria, Va., follow him.

Tim Cairney of Lake Taylor High in Norfolk, Va., leads the field in the 100-yard butterfly. His entered time is :56.1. Crowder and Robert Riley of Bishop Ireton are behind him. In the 100-freestyle, Hadley tops the list in :49.1. Karl Thiele of Calvert Hall and Crowder have the next best times.

Benson heads the field in the 400-yard freestyle in 3:56.4. Top challenges come from Maurice Poitras, also of Calvert Hall, and Ralph Coble of Greensboro

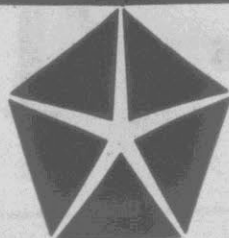

Fred Patek of the Kansas City Royals led major league shortstops in putouts with 301 and in double plays with 107 last season.

Helene's shrewd analysis should be discussed in all teen-age Sunday School classes. And also in every young married couple's class, too! For Noah tried to run away from God. Modern sheeplike human beings use alcohol as a similar escape device. Or drugs, and even suicide!

By GEORGE W. CRANE, Ph.D., M.D.
Case S-596: Helene F., aged 20, is a coed Sunday School teacher. "Dr. Crane," she began, "why do so many people flee into alcoholism when they face serious problems?"
"For example, a girl friend of mine broke her engagement to a college classmate a few months ago."
"He then started drinking so heavily that he was arrested for drunken driving."

When North received a positive response of two hearts to his opening bid of two clubs, he envisioned slam possibilities because he held an overwhelming wealth of controls as well as a readily establishable suit. Altho South merely rebid his suit over three clubs, North was willing to gamble out a slam for if his partner had as little as six hearts headed by the king-queen, there would be an excellent play for 12 tricks. He accordingly proceeded without any further preliminaries to six hearts.

West opened the six of spades and the king was played from dummy. Declarer observed that two diamond discards were forthcoming on the ace and king of clubs. However, in order to find a

"Why didn't he face up to the situation and try to win her back again?"
"Is it because most people prefer to be like sheep and run away from dangers?"
Sheep vs. Goats
Helene's reference to sheep is very pertinent.
For goats are not much larger than sheep.
But dogs are wary of goats, though they delight in chasing sheep.
For when an inexperienced canine confronts a flock of sheep, he will bark loudly.
This is really the strategy of a bully, who hopes to intimidate his environment.
If the sheep turn and run, as they invariably do, then the dog is reassured that he is master of the situation, so he chases them till they often die of heat or torn necks.
But if that same dog barks loudly at a herd of goats, the goats will turn to face their tormenter.
Indeed, one of two of the goats may even advance TOWARD the stray dog, so he usually backs up at once.

parking place for his other losing diamond—it would be necessary to develop a long card in North's club suit.
South began establishment of the clubs by leading the four of that suit at trick two and ruffing with the deuce of hearts. A heart was led to the ace so that declarer might trump another club in his hand.
When the nine and ten of clubs appeared from East's hand on the first two leads of that suit, South decided to proceed with care. The dummy had only two entries left—the ace of diamonds and the ace of spades. If clubs are divided five-two, it will be necessary to utilize both of these honors to complete the successful development of North's long suit.

South decided to forego the luxury of taking a trump finesse in the interests of safety. He cashed the king of hearts and when both opponents followed, the success of the contract became assured. A spade was led to the king and another club was trumped as East discarded a diamond.

Declarer led the jack of hearts, his remaining trump to give West his trick in that suit, as the four of diamonds was discarded from dummy. West got out with a diamond and North was in to cash the ace and king of clubs—dropping the queen—followed by the jack of clubs. South disposed of his three remaining diamonds and then took the final trick with the queen of spades.

The Daily Reflector, Greenville, N.C.—Friday, February 11, 1972—9 work to win.
Jonah thus tried to flee from his duty, so he thought he could get away from Jehovah by taking passage on a ship and visiting a foreign country.
For in those days, the power of gods was regarded as limited to certain geographical boundaries.
Jonah thus figured that if he could get away from Jehovah's specific land area, he would be under the rule of a different god.
Alcohol is another common escape route by which men and women try to evade or avoid hard work, plus intelligent planning.
And it frequently is used to evoke sympathy.
"I'll get dead drunk" this jilted suitor probably thought, "and show my former sweetheart how I am now going to the dogs."
"Then maybe she will relent and again accept my engagement ring!"

SCL Agent Now Mobile

A new type of "mobile agency operation" has been started by Seaboard Coast Line Railroad to serve the communities of Winterville, Ayden, Grifton, Fremont, Pikeville, Faison and Mount Olive.

M. S. Jones Jr., SCL division superintendent, said that the operation, designed for more efficient, personalized freight service to customers, will also serve former non-agency stations at Loxco, Darg, NoCar, Farmex, Ripaco, Nufarms and Calypso.

Operating out of Goldsboro, the mobile agent provides service at a shipper's place of business from a vehicle equipped for this service. The air conditioned van, Jones pointed out, is a fully equipped office, with two-way radio, typewriter, copying machine and other agency facilities.

The superintendent pointed out that this enables the railroad to bring freight agency services to the customer's door, calling on shippers and receivers personally to help with bills of lading, car supply, routing of freight shipments and other transportation needs.

P. P. Nunn, who served as agent at Mount Olive for many years, is serving as mobile agent.

Officers installed were: Worthy Advisor, Nancy Murray; Worthy Associate Advisor, Jan Smith; Charity, Donna Bunch; Hope, Terry Barnes; Faith, Mona Rogers; Drill Leader, Linda Blackwell;

Chaplain, Paula Rogers; Love, Carle Mooney; Religion, Jennifer Jones; Nature, Debbie Hartsell; Immortality, Susan Harris; Fidelity, Tammy Lockhart; Patriotism, Wendy Harris; Service, Faye Matthews; Confidential Observer, Alice McCarthy; Outer Observer, Francine Elks; Musician, Lynn Hannah; Choir Director, Pat Allen; Treasurer, Kathy Gaskins; Recorder, Sheri Mosley.

Mrs. Pearl Hartsell was installed as mother advisor for another year.

Help By CARE For Bangladesh

ATLANTA — An agreement between the government of Bangladesh and CARE, the International Development Agency, to begin a $2 million emergency housing program for the devastated nation was announced here Thursday by Henry O. Selz, CARE director in Dacca, the Bangladesh capital.

An estimated 30 million people are now without shelter in war-and-nature-ravaged Bangladesh.

Selz, who has worked in East and West Bengal for many years, will launch a fund-raising driver for the project immediately.

Service Station Was Robbed

Pitt County deputies are investigating an early morning break-in at A. C. Phillips' Service Station near here that resulted in the theft of a quantity of cigarettes and beer.

Sheriff Ralph Tyson said that owner, who discovered the break-in around 5:15 this morning, reported the theft of about 100 cartons of cigarettes and 15 cases of beer. A tray from a cash drawer containing approximately 100 pennies was also missing, the sheriff added.

Sheriff Tyson said that the station is located about four miles south of Greenville on N.C. 43.

In The Armed Services

A Greenville native, LCDR Royce H. Hunsucker (above, left) congratulates Leslie Frank Price III, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie F. Price of Greenville on his selection into the Navy nuclear power program. Local Navy recruiter, PO Richard Mead, who is located in room two of the Lee Building on E. Third Street here, is on the right.

Sgt. Howard L. Joyner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Willie Joyner of Greenville, has arrived for duty at McClellan AFB, Calif. Joyner, an aircraft mechanic, is assigned to a unit of the Air Weather Service which provides weather information for military flight operations. The sergeant, a 1964 graduate of C. M. Eppes High School, attended Elizabeth City State University and Ohio Institute of Technology at Columbus.

Pvt. Ben J. Ward, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elijah Ward of Rt. 3, Williamston, graduated from basic training at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot at Parris Island, S. C.

Pvt. Jimmy R. Howard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Howard of Rt. 1, Bethel, has completed eight weeks of basic training at Ft. Jackson, S. C. During training, he received instruction in drill and ceremonies, weapons, map reading, combat tactics, military courtesy, military justice, first aid, and Army history and traditions. Howard is a 1971 graduate of North Pitt High School.

S. Sgt. Ronda Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Jones of Kinston and husband of the former Sandra Abbott of Rt. 2, Grifton, has arrived for duty at Pease AFB, N.H. Jones, an avionics technician, is assigned to a unit of the Strategic Air Command, America's nuclear deterrent force of long range bombers and intercontinental ballistic missiles. He previously served at Nellis AFB, Nev.

Pvt. John Bryant Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. John Bryant Sr. of Rt. 3, Williamston, recently completed a 13-week Quartermaster Heavy Equipment Repair Course at the Army Ordnance Center and School, Aberdeen Proving Ground, Md. The course was designed to train enlisted personnel in maintaining quartermaster special purpose equipment and vehicles. The students made operational tests and diagnosed maintenance requirements on the equipment and vehicles. Bryant entered the Army in July of 1971 and received basic training at Ft. Dix, N. J.

Pfc McKinley N. Council, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jasper L. Council of Greenville, was assigned to the 82nd Airborne Division at Ft. Bragg. Council is serving as a rifleman with the division's 504th Infantry. He entered the Army in August of last year and completed basic training at Ft. Jackson, S. C. Council is a 1971 graduate of North Pitt High School.

Lt. Cmdr. Robert L. Zaikan, husband of the former Kaye G. Tyson of Oak City, has completed nearly two months of continuous operations in the Indian Ocean and South China Sea aboard the nuclear powered aircraft carrier USS Enterprise. The Enterprise was ordered to the Indian Ocean during the height of the Indo-Pakistani war in the event it became necessary to evacuate Americans from East Pakistan.

Airman I.C. Martin E. Perkins, son of Mrs. Marie L.S. Perkins of Greenville, is on duty at Nakhon Phanom Royal Thai AFB, Thailand. Perkins, a security policeman, is assigned to a unit of the Pacific Air Forces, headquarters for air operations in Southeast Asia, the Far East and Pacific area. Before his arrival in Thailand, he served at Dyess AFB, Tex. The airman is a 1970 graduate of J. H. Rose High School.

Pfc. Archie W. Carson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie W. Carson of Rt. 1, Tarboro, and whose wife, Vonne, lives on Rt. 1, Fountain, recently completed a seven-week Tracked Vehicle Mechanic Course at the Army Infantry School, Ft. Benning, Ga. During the course, he was trained to repair engines, transmissions, and the fuel, electrical and hydraulic systems of the Army's tracked vehicles. He also learned to perform recovery operations for abandoned, damaged, disabled or mired vehicles.

Airman James R. Mayo, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd H. Mayo Jr. of Rt. 4, Greenville, has graduated at Sheppard AFB, Tex. from the Air Force aircraft mechanic course conducted by the Air Training Command. The airman, who was trained to repair current jet fighters, is being assigned to Moody AFB, Ga. for duty with a unit for the Air Training Command which provides flying, technical and basic military training for Air Force personnel. Mayo is a 1971 graduate of North Pitt High School.

Spec. 4 Wallace E. Woodard Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace E. Woodard Sr. of Grifton, was assigned as a helicopter mechanic with the 45th Transportation Co. in Korea. Woodard entered the Army in January of 1970, completed basic training at Ft. Bragg, and was last stationed at Ft. Eustis, Va. His wife, Steffie, lives in Grifton.

Pvt. Lewis O. Tripp, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe O. Tripp of Ayden, was graduated from the clerical school at the Army Armor Center, Ft. Knox, Ky. During the course, students received instruction in typing, filing and how to perform administrative duties in a military office. A 1969 graduate of Ayden High School, Tripp received his B.S. degree in 1971 from North Carolina State University. His wife, Charlene, lives on Rt. 7, Kinston.

Sgt. George W. Jackson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Jackson of Rt. 2, Williamston, received the Army Commendation Medal near Hanau, Germany. Jackson received the award while assigned as a gunner in the Third Armored Division's 40th Artillery. He entered the Army in 1968, completed basic training at Ft. Bragg, and was stationed at Ft. Sill, Okla. prior to his arrival in Germany in May of 1969. Jackson attended Bear Grass High School.

Airman Johnny R. Doughty, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ivory Doughty of Rt. 2, Williamston, has graduated at Sheppard AFB, Tex. from the Aircraft mechanic course conducted by the Air Training Command. The airman, now trained to maintain and service reciprocating engine aircraft, is being assigned to Edwards AFB, Calif. for duty with a unit of the Air Force Systems Command which manages research and development of USAF aerospace systems. Doughty is a 1971 graduate of Williamston High School.

Maj. (Ret.) James William Harris, (above), was recently awarded the Meritorious Service Medal for outstanding service as Associate Professor of Military Science at Central Missouri State College, Warrensburg, Mo. from 1968 through 1972. The award points out that he "...developed and applied new techniques of instruction which greatly increased educational efficiency. Through his expert tutelage, edroit classroom techniques, and splendid ability to deal with young people in a just and reasonable manner, he was able to instill in his students a true desire to excel." Harris recently retired from active duty and how resides in Greenville with his wife, the former Marjorie Rhodus, and family. He is a graduate of East Carolina University.

Ambulance Call Worth $20,000

BETHEL, Conn. (AP) — A routine ambulance call last week has brought a pleasant surprise for the Bethel Volunteer Fire Department.

The volunteers have received a check for $20,000 from sculptress Anna Hyatt Huntington of Redding. In a note with the check, Miss Huntington said, "Buy the best ambulance you can find." She said the check was in gratitude for the "kind volunteer service rendered and the pleasantness of the attendants."

When Miss Huntington's physician wanted her to go to the hospital for routine tests, the Redding ambulance was tied up with an emergency call so the doctor called the Bethel volunteers. Their ambulance picked Miss Huntington up, drove her to the hospital, waited for her and brought her back home.

EVEN HONEY GOES UP FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — There is a critical shortage of honey in the world despite all the bustling of all the bees, says Edward Burleson of Waxahachie.

Addressing the Texas Beekeepers Association, Burleson said the cost of honey almost doubled in 1971.

"We have a world shortage of honey because of weather and plant conditions," Burleson said.

Movies Change Direction; Trend Apparent In Offerings For 1972

By BOB THOMAS
Associated Press Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "The pictures I'm making will have only one message: entertainment."

That statement from Paramount production chief Robert Evans reflects the thinking of the men who have planned America's movies for 1972. The accent is on adventure, comedy, and romance, with a degree of sex and violence though perhaps not as much as in 1971.

Says a veteran film observer: "Except for a picture like 'Carnal Knowledge,' which concerned sexual attitudes, explicit sex isn't necessary in films today. In fact, it can hurt a film by giving it an R or X rating and thus limiting the audience."

"Violence may be on the downswing, too. Not yet, but soon. It should happen as the public reacts to the excessive brutality of current films like 'Straw Dogs' and 'A Clockwork Orange.'"

A survey of the 1972 product indicates other trends:

1. More films aimed at the black filmgoers market. With such 1971 hits as "Shaft" and "Sweet Sweetback," the film industry realized the value of appealing directly to the big-city Negro audience. The new year will bring a sequel to "Shaft" called "The Big Bamboo." Also a replay of the Godfrey Cambridge-Raymond St. Jacques teaming in "Cotton Comes to Harlem." The new one: "Come Back, Charleston Blue."

There will be a black Western, "Buck and the Preacher," starring Harry Belafonte and Sidney Poitier, who also directed. Also a frontier story, high plane, and "T" with Bill Cosby. And even a Negro horror film, "Blacula."

2. More no-name casts. The success of "Summer of '42" and "Willard" further impressed producers that big names are not necessary in today's market. That doesn't mean that stars will be hitting the unemployment lines. The 1972 product will feature such in-demand names as John Wayne, Steve McQueen, Clint Eastwood, Paul Newman, Barbara Streisand and Robert Redford.

3. A paucity of musicals. Only two major musicals, "1776" and "Cabaret," (Lisa Minnelli, Joel Gray) are ready for 1972. Another is filming— "Man of La Mancha," starring Peter O'Toole and Sophia Loren.

"Unfortunately, musicals are too expensive," explains Gordon Stulberg, president of 20th Century-Fox. "There is also a big problem in the foreign market; a lot of countries simply don't like musicals. Foreign sales amount to half our income, so a musical is a heavy risk."

4. Absence of the spectacle. From "Birth of a Nation" to "Nicholas and Alexandra," the "big" picture has been a movie staple. Not this year. The usual kind of spectacle—Biblical epic, war pageant, conquest of the frontier—will be virtually nonexistent.

"The spectacle is gone," says Stulberg. "No company can afford to spend many millions on a single picture any more. There will be no more spectacles—unless the film economy changes by adding new markets."

Westerns will continue, of course. But they will be small Westerns, rather than those with huge cattle drives and covered wagon panoramas.

5. Fewer films dealing with today's problems.

The "Easy Rider" success syndrome produced a spate of films dealing with dope, youth rebellion, antiwar protest and other contemporary issues. Millions were lost on such efforts. Most producers are following Robert Evans' "no message" policy.

6. Accent on action-adventure.

The film business continues to play follow the leader. Such big money-makers as "Diamonds Are Forever" and "The French Connection" point the way to more such capers.

Among the spy-and-caper films for 1972: Alfred Hitchcock's "Frenzy"; "The Salzburg Connection"; "Hickey and Boggs," (Bill Cosby, Robert Culp).

No-name casts, few musicals, no spectacles—does that make it sound like a drab year at the nation's theaters? Not necessarily. In times of stress, film makers often try harder. Many an unheralded gem may be awaiting release in 1972.

As to the more heralded films here are some that hold promise:

"The Godfather." The best-seller about the Mafia has a ready audience, and there is great expectation about Marlon Brando's performance in the title role.

"What's Up, Doc?" starring Miss Streisand and Ryan O'Neal. The film world will be waiting to see how director Peter Bogdanovich fares in his first film after "The Last Picture Show."

"Portnoy's Complaint." The answer will soon be known to "How on earth can they make a movie out of THAT book?"

Youth Service Slated Sunday

A special youth service will be held Sunday at 11 a.m. at the Macedonia Baptist Church.

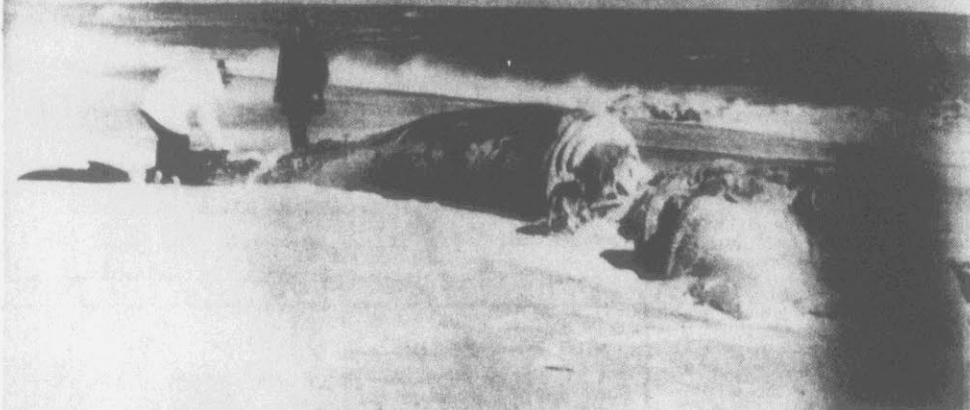

The Rev. David Hammond will deliver the sermon. The public, especially young people, are invited.
