Viet Battle Tempo Continues Build Up

By GEORGE ESPER Associated Press Writer SAIGON (AP) — Attacking behind saturation bombing by U.S. B52s, the encircled and battered defenders of An Loc attempted today to repel part of the North Vietnamese siege force threatening the provincial capital north of Saigon. A 20,000-man government relief force remained stalled 15 miles south of the town after being hit with heavy mortar fire and ground attacks. A better part of the government's 5th Division is bottled up in the low 60 miles north of Saigon. The threat to the town appeared to lessen somewhat when 2,000 troops were helicoptered in Tuesday to reinforce the 10,000 defenders. However, a substantial increase in enemy activity now is reported in the region as the Communist command's offensive ended its second week. A South Vietnamese base was also reported surrounded along the most likely invasion route to Hue, the old imperial capital 57 miles south of the demilitarized zone. The surrounded unit mans Fire Base Bastogne 12 miles southwest of the city, much of which was captured and held for weeks during the 1968 Tet offensive. For a third day resupply helicopters were unable to land because of heavy anti-aircraft fire. The defenders have seen heavy fighting and may be low on ammunition. Despite the critical situation

Generator's Sale Failed

Utilities commissioners were told Tuesday night that a sale for a 5,000 KW turbine-generator, which is not now used, had fallen through. Director Charles Horne reported that, while the sale had been negotiated, the purchaser had since decided not to accept the machine. Horne reported that the dealer was being billed for a five percent penalty and expenses amounting to $1,888, for failing to accept the machine. The Utilities has turbines which are not now in use because it purchases all of its power from Virginia Electric and Power Co. Commissioner W. L. Whedbee asked Horne in view of predictions of power shortage this summer if the utilities should re-examine its position on maintaining the plant. Horne replied that the local utilities "could not get back in the generating business."

negotiated a settlement with CP&L on rates to be charged to the municipalities. He said the case was settled at approximately 60 percent less than the rate originally requested and would mean a $2.25 million savings to cities which purchase from CP&L in the first year. The case did not affect Greenville directly, since GUCO purchases power from Virginia Electric. A letter was also read from N.C. Natural Gas notifying the local utilities of a possible rate increase of 1.06 cents per million cubic feet effective May 1. Commissioners adopted a load shedding plan which will be placed in effect in the event of a power shortage during the summer. They took under study a plan for extending a sewer outfall near Hastings Ford to serve an apartment complex. Also to be studied is a recommendation for modification of the special electric rate to schools, due to increased air conditioning loads.

Ground Broken Here Tuesday For New Wachovia Bank Home

The bulldozers growled and pushed in the distance as city, bank and other officials of Greenville joined in the symbolic ground breaking at the site of the future Wachovia Bank and Trust Company building on Washington Avenue between Fourth and Fifth Streets.

Just prior to the brief 11:00 a.m. ceremony on Tuesday, participants were issued white hard-hats of the type construction workmen will be wearing from now until the projected completion date of May 1973.

Those issued the hardhats were Mayor S. Eugene West; Redevelopment Commission Chairman Billy Laughinghouse; City Manager Harry Hagerty, David J. Whichard II, chairman of the local Wachovia Board of Directors; William (Billy) and William Glidewell, Jr., vice-president. "We're delighted that the project is underway," Howard commented. "We've got good people putting the project together." The senior vice-president noted that the building will have 42,000 square feet, "which is approximately twice the size of the present building." Howard said the projected building "will add a great deal to enhancing the downtown area. It will house not only local offices, but our staff from some 20 other Wachovia offices administered from Greenville throughout the northeast North Carolina region."

LITTLE LEAGUE LOSS NORWALK, Calif. (AP) — Nadine Saybo was home counting about $10 in Little League receipts when she heard a noise behind her. She reported to the sheriff's office Tuesday that someone hit her on the head with her frying pan and made off with 12 cents from the Little League treasury.

Hostile To Entry

LONDON (AP) — Britain's divided Labor party moved closer today toward outright opposition to British entry into the Common Market when the party's legislators voted to press for a national referendum on Europe. A stormy session of Labor party members of Parliament endorsed the leadership's sudden policy reversal in favor of a referendum by 129 votes to 96.

The referendum row brought the resignation of six right-wing pro-market members from the party leadership because of leader Harold Wilson's tactics in fighting Britain's entry into the Common Market.

Adoption of a referendum as official party policy was seen as a triumph for the tightly knit caucus of Laborite left-wingers opposed to the Common Market at any price. Left-wingers, confident a referendum would show a majority of Britons want to stay out, are now expected to try to intensify Labor's already hostile stance.

Platoon Balked

PHU BAI, Vietnam (AP) — About 100 American soldiers from one of the last two combat infantry brigades in Vietnam balked at being assigned to man a forward defense position today because they considered it too dangerous.

They finally relented, but 45 of them carried out the order only after they were told their absence would endanger another U.S. unit already in the area, one of the men said. He said the reluctant troops felt the path they had to take to get to the position was loaded with booby traps.

In Saigon, the U.S. Command said none of the soldiers actually refused to go into the field or failed to obey orders of their officers and noncommissioned officers.

"The soldiers are presently occupying the originally planned defensive position in the vicinity of Phu Bai," the command said in a statement. "The element is part of a 600-man task force moved into Phu Bai yesterday for the purpose of securing U.S. troops and installations in the Phu Bai area."

Sowers Here; Supports Two-Year Med School

By TOM BAINES Reflector Staff Writer "I think a start has been made at East Carolina. I don't think it was enough of a start. I think they should have gone with a two-year program to begin with," lieutenant gubernatorial candidate Roy Sowers said here this morning in reference to the Medical School at ECU.

Speaking to friends and supporters at a breakfast gathering, Sowers said that the state should pursue the two-year plan and one "where these students can go and transfer to some school other than just a state institution, where their credits could transfer to Wake Forest or any other school."

"The medical situation in North Carolina is appalling," he contended, "and I would tell you this; if I am elected lieutenant governor, I would be fully behind the idea and concept of a medical school down here and certainly push for the budget and other necessary items."

Sowers said that the reorganization of state government is probably one of the greatest things to come to North Carolina in some time. "It is certainly getting off on the right foot."

Sowers, former director of the Department of Conservation and Development and secretary of the Department of Natural and Economic Resources, pointed out that we are attacking the wrong problem, when speaking of public education in the state, "when we look at it from just a budgetary standpoint."

Hunting Pair In Alleged Assault

Local law enforcement officers today were pressing their investigation into an alleged rape incident which occurred early this morning. The incident was reported to Greenville police about 6:30 a.m. Officers said Donna Hinton, 18 of 1402A Chestnut St. reported she had been raped by two men. Enforcement officers said she apparently stopped her car along Tenth Street about 3 a.m. to help two men who appeared to be experiencing car trouble. The two men then allegedly took her to a location in the Farmville-Fountain-Saratoga area where the attack took place. Pitt County Sheriff Ralph Tyson said a mid-morning that officers from his department are pressing their hunt for the alleged assailants.

we have a tremendous technical education program in the state." he said. Sowers said that, "I think the time is long past when we should refer to Eastern Carolina, Piedmont Carolina, and Western North Carolina. North Carolina is one state, one people, five million individuals with basically the same hopes and the same aspirations."

"When we deny the relationship between the tobacco fields of Eastern North Carolina and the tobacco factories of Winston, Reidsville and Durham," he continued, "we are being totally unrealistic."

Sowers said that if he is elected lieutenant governor, a bill will be introduced to give the state a total plan for the development of the state. He said it will be a plan that will "not be put together by bureaucrats and planners polled together. It will have the involvement of the people."

"I think that our people have lost confidence in government," Sowers asserted. He said that they have lost confidence because of not being involved.

"The people go to Raleigh and are shuffled from one bureaucrat to another with never an answer and maybe a week or two later, a letter comes back saying that, 'I'm sorry we can't handle this but we will refer you to another agency.'"

He said that he is going to see that the lieutenant governor's office is a "people's office, where people can come and get an answer, and they will get an answer."

Mercenary Commandos May Try To Free POWs

SAIGON (AP) — The chairman of the "Remember the Pueblo Committee" said today that unless President Nixon secures the release of some U.S. prisoners held by the Vietnamese Communists within 30 days, a brigade of American Vietnam veterans and foreign mercenaries will make raids on small P.O.W. camps to free prisoners.

The Rev. Paul Lindstrom told a newsman a force of 118 men—including 13 mercenaries from Britain, France and Belgium—is ready to go into action within four to six weeks of an order calling them together. They include veterans of fighting in the Congo, Algeria and Malaya, he said.

Lindstrom said he has learned that 64 U.S. military personnel have been transferred from Communist custody in Laos to internment in China since October. Some are on a collective farm near the Laotian border, he said. Lindstrom told The Associated Press that the Douglas MacArthur brigade, formed in January 1971, has drawn up plans to raid smaller prisoner of war camps.

He would not say precisely where these camps are but indicated most of them are in Laos. He said his group has no plans to raid major POW camps or to make forays into China. Lindstrom arrived in Saigon today from Bangkok, and said: "We are, as of today, issuing an ultimatum to Mr. Nixon that either he secures the release of at least some prisoners of war in the next 30 days or we will do it ourselves."

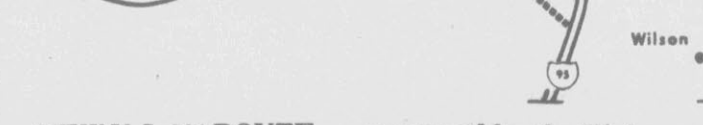

Highway Planners OK U.S. 264 Route

RALEIGH — The State Highway Commission's planning board Monday approved a corridor route for a 17.3-mile-long section on U.S. 264 from Zebulon to I-95 near Wilson.

Lamm, then continue southward to an intersection with I-95. Commission planning and research engineer W. F. Caddell Jr. said the project is now ready for public hearings, but noted construction is at least a year away and probably more. No date has been set for the hearing but that could come within three months.

He noted that the first of two environmental statements is being sent to federal officials for their approval. Plans, he said, call for the new highway to connect with the U.S. 64 by-pass around Zebulon which is currently under construction. The new road is designed as a controlled access highway with a 70-mile-per hour speed limit, and bypasses Middlesex, Bailey and Simms. Caddell explained that two lanes will be constructed at first, with right of way wide enough to expand the highway to four lanes at a later date. Projected cost of the four-lane highway is estimated at $16 million.

The new high-speed road is to be located roughly parallel to the present two-lane highway but ranges from a half-mile to one mile North of present artery.

The new highway, West of Simms, will arc southward and cross the existing highway near

Texas Couple Produces Stained Glass Windows

By MARY ELLEN BOTTER
El Paso Times Writer
EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — A young couple who live in near-by Canutillo share not only the social part of their life together—they also share a career, and an unusual one at that. They design and produce stained glass windows.

STAINED GLASS IS THEIR WORK — Fred and Nancy Griffins, both artists, share a joint career of producing stained glass windows.

Fred and Nancy Griffins are both artists. He received a degree in architectural art and design from Texas Tech University and she received an art degree in the architectural department. The two met as students and were married at the beginning of their last semester. They settled in Canutillo after Fred's stint in the Army.

Their stained glass business began when Fred's father wanted to donate a window to an Episcopal church. "He asked me to design it," explained Fred, "but I ended up doing the job start to finish."

Studying two books, "The Technique of Stained Glass," by Patrick Reyntiens and

"Stained Glass" by E. Liddall Armitage, the couple learned the basics for that window.

"In stained glass, it's the design that counts," Fred says. "You can make something beautiful from beer bottles if the design is good."

Based on that premise, the couple is trying to establish what they call a "new tradition" in stained glass—one that is designed specifically for a certain space and not just copied from old stained glass windows.

Design, however, is only one of the factors that goes into making a window of stained glass. Any given commission, for a church, residence or business, begins with a conference with the people who want the window. The ideas of the customer then become the pivot points for development of a series of rough sketches of how the finished product will appear. Either Nancy or Fred may be responsible for the ultimate design which they submit to the client in the form of a small-scale color rendering.

Acceptance of the design sends the Griffins to the drawing boards where they make an exact-size cartoon of the window or panel, and using that as a pattern, they cut each piece of glass from larger sheets of glass and set them aside. When all pieces of glass are cut they are placed on their specific spots on the cartoon in a puzzle-like fashion.

Between the sides of the glass are put strips of lead, and when the total design is laid out either Nancy or Fred uses the soldering iron and solder to weld together the ends of the lead strips.

Grout, a sealing material, is applied to fill any gaps left in the glass-touching-lead areas. The glass is cleaned with an acetone mixture and, if it is large, braces are made to help support it.

Depending on the size of a commission, the work may take up to a year. Several projects are always in progress at the studio.

"The windows must harmonize with the architecture and style of the building. They can't become a separate thing," Fred says of their work.

Much of the work the Griffins have handled in the last year has been residential. "Many people have opted for stained glass instead of drapes," Nancy explains. "The glass can offer as much privacy as a person wants, since it can be designed to be opaque or transparent."

The couple works alone. They've promised each other they'll keep it that way too. "A question we face is whether we're going to be a commercial, mass production studio or a design studio," Fred says.

"To stay artistic, we'll have to stay small," concluded Nancy.

she had answered three calls during March.

Reader's Beauty Tip: Meals for Husband, Wife Are Don't Tip Beautician Increasingly International

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: May I add my two cents worth to the discussion of tipping beauticians?

The only beauticians I ever tip are those in beauty schools because they don't get paid for their work. In regular beauty parlors, the beauticians are paid to perform a professional service, just like clerks in stores are paid to wait on customers. You don't see beauticians tipping store clerks, do you?

Prices in beauty shops are plenty high for what you get. Yet when you pay for a shampoo and set, if you want a really GOOD shampoo, they soak you extra for a "cream rinse." This just burns me up.

Beauticians in some small towns make $100 a day. In big towns, they make even more. It seems like beauticians are getting more like young doctors every day. They all want to get rich over night. PERTURBED

DEAR PERTURBED: I showed your letter to Floyd, my hairdresser at the Beverly Hills Hotel Beauty Shop, and he wants to know in which small towns a beautician makes $100 a day; he would like to move there. [P. S. It can't be too small for him, as he was born and raised in Louisville, Nebraska.]

DEAR ABBY: I have been divorced for one year. My wife and I were married for 31 years and have six children. Now my ex-wife has made me a proposition. She says she will marry me again on the condition that her boyfriend can visit her any time he wishes—on a friendly basis. My question: Is this normal? And would it make a healthy marriage if I were to agree to it? A. J. B.

DEAR A. J. B.: If you have no objections to sharing your wife with her boyfriend, your marriage would be so "healthy" it would outlive both of you. Is it normal? Hardly!

DEAR ABBY: Recently a friend of ours had her fourth daughter. No sons! During each pregnancy, altho the wife said she wanted a boy, her husband insisted that he wanted a girl.

I wonder why a normal, well-adjusted male would not want a son? Do you think he is afraid of competition? NAMELESS, PLEASE

DEAR NAMELESS: Don't assume anything. Perhaps he really wanted a son, but didn't want his wife to feel that she let him down if she didn't produce one. And it's possible that he really preferred girls.

DEAR ABBY: My husband is a policeman, and he's one of the best. Altho he is required to work 8 hours a day, he averages 10 to 12 hours per day.

My problem? My husband has no time to relax. When he is home someone is always coming to our door to talk to him about "the law." And when he's not talking to someone who has come to see him, he is on the telephone with someone else who calls to talk to him about a matter having to do with his job. He never gets any rest.

The police department will not allow us to have a private telephone number. The only way we can get any rest or privacy is to leave the house.

Abby, will you please tell readers that if they want to talk to a policeman to please go down to the station and talk to someone who is on duty? A policeman earns his time off, and he sure needs it. POLICEMAN'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: Consider it done.

CONFIDENTIAL TO CINDY: It's Leap Year, so it's perfectly legitimate for YOU to do the asking. But it's also the Chinese Year of the Rat, so be careful whom you ask!

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

For Abby's booklet, "How to Have a Lovely Wedding," send $1 to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069.

Provisionals To Become Full Members In May

Provisionals of the Service League of Greenville will be taken into the league as regular members in May.

The announcement was made at the Monday morning meeting by Mrs. Charles Stevens, membership chairman.

Mrs. John Biggs, program chairman, reminded the group that the annual luncheon will be held at the Greenville Golf and Country Club on May 24.

Mrs. Morris Brody, president, presided during the meeting. She expressed her appreciation to all members who had worked so hard to make the Charity Ball a success.

Mrs. R. B. Dominick, overall ball chairman, also thanked her committee chairmen and reported that some of the centerpieces and wall murals are for sale.

Mrs. Gilbert, Bloodmobile chairman, reported the league provided 54 workers who worked a total of 167 hours during the last Bloodmobile visit held in March. She asked for volunteers to help with the next visit to be held April 25-26 at Wright Auditorium on the ECU Campus.

Mrs. Pat Taylor Entertained

Pitt County Women for Pat Taylor honored Mrs. Pat Taylor at a coffee hour Saturday at the home of Mrs. J. B. Spilman.

During the morning approximately 250 women called to greet Mrs. Taylor.

For the occasion, Mrs. Taylor wore a brown and white ensemble. She was remembered with a white corsage upon arrival.

Members of the county committee assisted in serving. The house was decorated with arrangements of spring flowers.

Library of Congress, Washington, D.C.

She said she shares her husband's interest in trying new recipes. Their culinary repertoire now includes French, Chinese and Italian fare, Greek appetizers and moussaka, an eggplant casserole.

Miss Yajima said they became interested in Middle Eastern cooking after a vacation last year in Turkey at the end of a European concert tour. She added that she doesn't find foreign cooking hard to do if she knows what a dish should taste like.

She said Chinese cooking comes easily to her because some ingredients are similar to Japanese ones. China's hoisin sauce, a spicy condiment made from soybeans, resembles Japanese miso, which comes in many varieties, including white, red and light brown. Miss Yajima said there are regional and local varieties in Japanese villages and towns.

Raw salt water fish is another basic ingredient in Japanese cookery. Like many Japanese, Tokyo-born Miss Yajima was surprised to find when she came here that so many Americans are afraid to eat it although they relish raw oysters and clams and even raw beef, or steak tartare.

Sashimi Good Starter She said she likes to start a Japanese dinner with sashimi, which is bite-size strips of raw tuna, mackerel or other salt water filets (fresh water fish is unsafe to eat uncooked) served with a dip of soy sauce mixed to taste with wasabi, a kind of horseradish.

"Don't use the American kind of horseradish instead," she said, adding that the Japanese variety is a pale green powder that mixes with water to form a paste slightly thicker than hot Chinese mustard and at least as peppery.

She said sashimi also is served with rice as a main dish for birthdays and other celebrations. Its simplicity is a sharp contrast to yosenabe, which is one of Miss Yajima's favorite party dishes here. The name means everything together in casserole. Her version contains about 16 ingredients and involves a lot of pre-meal work chopping them and making soup stock.

But once that's done, the hostess can relax while guests cook their own dinner by dipping solid ingredients into boiling stock in a casserole or a hibachi (Japanese grill) or gas-fueled chafing dish stand.

Teriyaki Recipe

For people who like grilled food, she suggests her simplified teriyaki, or chosenyaki, Korean-style grilled beef, which can be served as an appetizer or main dish.

Hiroko Yajima's teriyaki recipe serves two. Marinate 1 pound of fish such as striped bass filets or salmon steaks or steak or chicken for 1 hour in a mixture of 1 tablespoon of soy sauce and 1/2 cup of Japanese mirin or sake or sherry. Add 1 teaspoon of sugar if either sake or sherry are used. At mealtime, drain and blot dry the fish, meat or chicken; reserve marinade. Brown the food quickly on both sides in 1 tablespoon of oil in a skillet, while heating the marinade separately. Pour warm marinade over food and simmer until 2/3 of the liquid has evaporated. Turn heat to high until all sauce evaporates. Serve immediately with soy sauce and grated white radish for dipping. Grated radish can be substituted for turnip.

GRAPHICS ON FABRIC — Architect Alexander Girard has designed a collection of graphics printed on linen and on Mexican cotton. Shown here are a few from that group.

This Architect Turns To Graphics For Wall Art

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

A huge four-leaf clover, a brick wall, an enormous jar of pebbles, and a love heart are among the graphics printed on fabric in the greatly expanded collection by architect Alexander Girard of Santa Fe.

In his career Girard has designed hotels, restaurants, offices and three exhibits for the Museum of Modern Art, but this collection of square and rectangular graphics provides him with an opportunity to use his handsome designs as wall art in the home.

"In fact they may be used together as the colors and designs are compatible," he observed, pointing to one wall with three designs. On another wall a four by five-foot panel of bright blue had an all-over white star pattern. Other panels, geometric and pictorial, included red on pink, orange on yellow and black on brown. The graphics may be purchased rough cut for stapling to walls or they may be obtained hemmed for framing. The designs are printed on linen and on Mexican cotton which has acoustical values as well as marvelous textures for design, he says.

Girard hopes his collection will be used decoratively in hospitals, prisons and other dreary places. The usefulness of the panels in offices was pointed up at the Herman Miller showroom where the exhibition of graphics took place. Various sizes were used to compliment the action office system which uses panels instead of walls. The fabric panels have been sized to fit. In fact it was the office system that provided the momentum for the collection, Girard explained. The bright colors and patterns were designed "to break up the monotony of office components." The current exhibit is to show its usefulness in other ways.

Girard has won many awards since his first, a gold medal at Barcelona, when he was 22. In

Blind Bandleader And Family Share A Normal, Active Life

By PEACE MOFFAT
AP Newsfeatures Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — When Wayne and Marin Foster talk about their life together they have to remind each other not to sound like a mutual admiration society. He's blond, stocky, handsome. She's slim, curly-haired, pretty. He plays the piano, organ, accordion, guitar. She plays bass guitar, drums and sings. They run a family business that consists of six bands, and he conducts one of those bands himself. Their four daughters are musically inclined.

From all appearances, it's a happy family, but there's one hitch. Wayne Foster has been blind since he was 10 years old. How can a blind person lead such an active life?

"The more I live with him the more I find out he can do everything but see," Marin says. "People tell me I describe everything to him, but I'm not even aware of it. The children are great with details though—they'll describe someone and include details like wing-tipped shoes, or a pinch pleated skirt."

"There isn't a line between Wayne's role and mine," she goes on. "When the children were little, he'd change the diapers sometimes. Now, if he wants to cook, he cooks."

"Our offices are attached to our home. We've decorated together and instead of hanging a lot of pictures we have sculpture. In fact, when each of the children brought her first art home from school, it was all in relief." "We even have codes in our work," Foster explains. "For instance, if everything is going well, and people are dancing, Marin says, 'green.' If there's a problem, she says 'red.'"

Foster says he was interested in music since he was 2, encouraged by his musical family. He learned to play the piano first, and later took up the accordion because he needed something portable. He started his first band when he was 14.

He and Marin met at a dance when she was 16. He was attending Adelphi University and working weekends. Marin learned to sing so it would be easier to stay awake during the long hours while the band was playing.

Foster is not shy about his blindness. He admits his family encouraged him to start a band because he was "socially inactive," and he points out that it is important for a blind person to be concerned about his appearance.

"It's a very unfortunate situation, but it's how the world sees you that matters," he says. "And a significant fact I can dwell upon is that it is most important for a blind person to find a friend who can guide him to an attractive way of dressing."

The Fosters feel, in their life, as well as their work, they should emphasize the positive. For that reason, they stay away from gloomy songs.

"We try to play happy songs as opposed to ones that sing the blues," Foster says. "Our job is to make people happy."

the '50s he collaborated with the late architect Eero Saarinen on several large projects, and in 1965 he and designer Charles Eames prepared the Nehru memorial exhibition for the Indian government.

Apricot Pineapple Butter Is Up-To-The-Minute

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor
Devotees of natural food should go for this recipe for a spread for bread of toast. It's great, too, used as a filling for layer cake.

This delightful preserve is made from apricots (preferably unsulphured), canned pineapple packed in its own juice, citrus fruit and honey. And it's preserved the easy way—in the freezer.

NATURAL APRICOT PINEAPPLE BUTTER
1 pound dried apricots, preferably unsulphured
2 cups water
1 can (1 pound) crushed pineapple packed in its own juice

2 oranges
1 lemon
1 cup honey
Rinse apricots. Place in a 3-quart saucepan; add water. Bring to a boil, reduce heat and cook gently until apricots are very soft—about 15 minutes.

Turn apricots with any remaining cooking liquid into a food mill placed over a bowl. Add pineapple with its juice. Turn apricots and pineapple through mill. Return pureed mixture to 3-quart saucepan. Grate rind from oranges and lemon and add to apricot-pineapple mixture. Squeeze juice from fruit and add to mixture.

Stir in honey.

Cook gently over medium-low heat, stirring often to prevent scorching, until very thick—about 30 minutes. (Mixture will thicken more as it cools.) Because mixture tends to sputter as it cooks and thickens, partially cover, if desired, and stir often. Freeze, following directions below. Makes five 1/2-pint jars.

To Freeze Apricot Pineapple Butter: Chill mixture. Wash five 1/2-pint wide mouth freezing jars in hot soapy water; rinse, drain and cool. Wash and rinse lids and bands. Place lids in a small bowl and pour boiling water over them; let stand until ready to use. Fill jars with Apricot Pineapple Butter leaving 1 inch head space. Wipe sealing edges and threads of jars with a clean damp cloth. Put lids on jars; screw bands very tight. Place jars upright in freezer until frozen, then arrange in any desired position.

APRICOT PINEAPPLE BUTTER — The apricots and pineapple for this preserve are pureed by putting them through a food mill.

Grounds Found For Divorce

FREIBERG, West Germany (WNS) — A 28-year-old hausfrau has sued her 38-year-old husband for divorce here because his feet smell. The odor, she reported, has ruined their love life. The husband denies the charge but refuses to wash his feet every night. "Twice a week is enough," he testified. The judge managed to grant the divorce on new charges that the couple cannot agree with each other.

Something New In Architecture

Some described it as cathedral-like and with its soaring lobby it could be that.

Others saw it as something out of the film "2001-A Space Odyssey" and with its long corridors with curiously slanted lockers along the walls it has that appearance too.

However it strikes the individual the new Burroughs Wellcome headquarters building, which was dedicated in the Research Triangle last week, will be talked about for a long time.

It is something new in architecture for our area and we expect it will be considered one of the most exciting new buildings in the nation.

The five story building is located on a ridge of the 5,000 acre Research Triangle Park and in this high position it will be the dominant structure in the park.

The structure is without the square rooms which we are familiar with in more conventional building. The entire frame of the building is angled, as photos of the work in progress showed, and windows are tilted upward and downward.

Thousand of people toured the structure last weekend and one had to wonder if the "cathedral" description was not apt. The crowd was subdued and awed by the unusual arrangement of the structure. They blinked at the varied color combinations which are used throughout the building and they were surprised by the arrangement which brings daylight far down into the center of the structure.

A look out of some of the huge glass panes that abound in the building gives a breathtaking view of the natural North Carolina surroundings. Green trees are to be seen in all directions and despite the fact that thousands will eventually work in the Research Triangle, it is clear the tranquil effect of the surroundings will remain.

Burroughs Wellcome is a business, of course, which manufactures varied pharmaceutical products for distribution all over the world. But it is also a humanitarian institution with all of its profits distributed in support of medical research. The firm's magnificent new headquarters in the Research Triangle seems to capture this unique aspect.

The New View Of Waterways

By BRYAN HAISLIP
RALEIGH — Back at the turn of the century Americans didn't care what was thrown into their waterways.

Seventy years later, Congress is ready to enact legislation which would prohibit and discharge by man into streams.

One attitude may be foolhardy and wasteful of resources as the other, said Edward J. Cleary, consultant and adjunct professor of national need resulted in the two-to-three trillion projection for the nation, he explained.

Critical Cost Area
Removing the last 10 per cent of wastes from water is the critical stage in costs, Metzler noted. It is five times as expensive to go from 90 to 100 per cent removal, he said, as it is to take out the first 90 per cent. "The last ten yards to the goal line is the hardest," he remarked, paraphrasing a sports adage.

While 100 per cent treatment might be justified in some instances, he added, it would be "wasteful of tax dollars" as a matter of national policy.

Eugene T. Jensen, deputy assistant administrator for water programs with the federal Environmental Protection Agency, said Americans are a people who demand $5,000 bathrooms but don't want to spend $500 to take the waste away from the bathroom.

On The Way Up
Jensen offered the view that the water pollution crisis in the United States bottomed about a year ago. He credited improvement to the combined efforts of cities, states and the federal government.

"We have started back up," he reported. "We see many places where water quality has improved. There are rivers in New England with fish in them now where none was two years ago."

The average citizen is confused by the conflicting evidence from the scientific community, said Executive Director Thomas L. Kimball of the National Wildlife Federation.

"Which set of scientists and engineers are we supposed to believe?" he asked. "Somewhere down the line they are going to have to get together and spell out for the public what needs to be done and the cost to do it."

Cleary said, the real hand-up is on the definition of clean.

Clean enough for designated usage might be a better guideline than absolutely clean, he suggested.

He quoted the cautionary note of Russell Train, chairman of the President's Council on Environmental Quality, in testimony to Congress:

"We abandon water quality standards as a basis for control only at the peril of wasting billions in resources and losing public acceptance for environmental programs..."

Non-Conspiracy View Favored

By ROWLAND EVANS and ROBERT NOVAK
WASHINGTON —

Operating on admittedly incomplete facts, President Nixon's top advisers privately refuse to hold the Soviet Union responsible for the timing of Hanoi's invasion of South Vietnam, although the Kremlin is deliberately undermining Mr. Nixon's trip to Moscow by giving some advisers a bad case of jitters.

In fact, there is more inner doubt about Moscow's role in the massive attacks against South Vietnam within the President's high command than at any time since Mr. Nixon launched his policy of detente with the Russians.

As one planner told us: "Soviet complicity in Hanoi's invasion is obvious from the fact that Soviet arms made it possible. But there is no sign at all that Moscow deliberately instigated the invasion at this particular moment."

That non-conspiracy judgment stems from the following conviction, held both in the White House and by Mr. Nixon's diplomatic experts in the State Department: Moscow has far more to lose than gain by engineering the May 22 summit meeting between Mr. Nixon and Soviet party Chairman Leonid Brezhnev.

For example, Moscow's long diplomatic campaign to stabilize Central Europe hangs on ratification by the West German parliament of the Moscow-Bonn treaty. Solution of the Berlin problem, for decades the most dangerous powder keg in Europe, depends on ratification of the treaty.

If the new hot war in Vietnam should lead Mr. Nixon to change his Moscow summit plans the Soviet-West German treaty would undoubtedly go down the drain, and with it the years of diplomacy to stabilize the divided city of Berlin.

Other casualties might include the long-awaited U.S.-Soviet agreement to limit nuclear arms. In short, Soviet instigation of Hanoi's invasion six weeks before the Moscow summit would run tremendous risks of Moscow in far more important parts of the world. Indeed, if Hanoi is successful — a big "if" as of today — it could open a new and violent chapter of the cold war.

Moreover, any Soviet design to undermine Mr. Nixon's policy of negotiation-not-confrontation, in the view of experts here, would swiftly involve the Middle East, putting the U.S. on the defensive there as well. As of today, however, there is no apparent change in the twilight peace along the Suez Canal and none is expected.

Thus, at least for the present, the President rejects the conspiracy theory. His advisers see Moscow kibitzing in a more parochial game, with Hanoi playing cards. Although risky enough, this view credits Moscow with strictly limited goals: solidify Soviet influence among the Communist parties of Indochina and break the back of Mr. Nixon's Vietnamization program.

That neatly fits the pattern of Soviet help for India last winter in its war with Pakistan. India clobbered Pakistan, lifting Soviet prestige at the expense of Washington and Peking, both of which backed Pakistan.

In defense of this theory is the fact that North Vietnam is playing a remarkably sophisticated balancing game between the Chinese and Russians.

Thus, according to the non-conspiracy theory, the Soviet Union has been virtually compelled to supply Hanoi with more and more powerful arms, without regard for Soviet policy toward the U.S. in Europe, the Middle East or anywhere else. The reason: Soviet refusal to help the Communist regime in Hanoi would bankrupt its huge investment in building up pro-Soviet Communist power in Indochina.

By filling Hanoi's military arsenal, the Russians not only gain influence with North Vietnam at the expense of China but also threaten defeat for Mr. Nixon's whole Vietnam policy.

In short, Moscow, according to the non-conspiracy (Continued on page 10)

Big Man, Little Man

WASHINGTON — There are two important people that all presidential candidates must deal with if they ever hope to get any votes. There is the big man and the little man. The big man is the candidate's source of funds, and the little man is the candidate's source of discontent. Nobody, including Richard Nixon, can win in November unless he makes peace with both of them.

little guy who is fed up with high taxes, high prices and bureaucratic bungling. The little guy feels he has no control of his destiny. "Well if our man feels that strongly about the little guy, why does he come to the big guy for political campaign contributions?" "Because, Chief, he needs the money to buy television time to attack us." "That's just dandy. But if he feels that way, why should we give him any contribution?" "Because, Chief we have a lot to gain by it."

to us if he wins the election. If he isn't indebted to us, he might well carry out the promises he made to the little guy. "It sounds pretty complicated to me. Look at this in the newspaper. Our candidate says the first thing he will do, if elected, is close all the tax loopholes and make the big guys pay what they really should." "Exactly. If he didn't say anything about tax reform he wouldn't have a Chinaman's chance of winning the election. We don't want to give $50,000 to a guy who is a sure loser." "Then he says he's going to make sure the large corporations are penalized for polluting the air and the water."

To the editor: It so happened that I was in Greenville recently when the city's beloved Junius Rose passed away. Of course, I considered it an extreme honor and indeed a privilege to pay my respects to one of Greenville's most outstanding citizens over the past six decades. As many people know, I was reared in Greenville and I, like many others, felt June Rose's tremendous influence during the youthful, formative years. His guidance, wise counsel, and potent leadership were ever present as we were all maturing to take our places in business, industry, and society in various parts of our nation and world. I vividly recall when he first came to Greenville to make his home. Our first meeting was at Jarvis Memorial Methodist Church where he soon became Superintendent of the Sunday School. The editorial in your newspaper published on Wednesday, March 29, 1972, was most appropriate and befitting to Greenville's departed civic-minded leader. There is no greater truism because June Rose did enhance and shape thousands of young lives, all of which passed through the portals of the Greenville City School System, during his lengthy tenure of service and leadership. Show Me A Virus!

By ROBERT E. FORD
Associated Press Writer
DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — A piece in the paper the other day said some researchers believe that all of man's illnesses may be caused by viruses. These squiggly little things may be the cause of such problems as strokes, heart attacks, cancer, arthritis, diabetes and others. Any real old-timer would have snorted at such fancy ideas. Why, he didn't even believe in germs, which was the popular word back before doctors invented viruses.

One of the more graphic demonstrations of the total absence of germs occurred some years ago when a young college student of our acquaintance warned her coughing grandpa to stop it because he was spreading germs.

The old-timer straightened up from his spasm and glared at his granddaughter.

Then he started stomping angrily around the room, punching out with his index finger, shouting at her: "Is that one? Did I punch one of them with my finger! Where is a germ? Show me one!"

Which certainly convinced her that the germ theory of disease, as it was called then, was a phony theory—at least she didn't say anything about it any more in the presence of grandpa.

Old-timers in the frontier and semifrontier West may not have believed in germs but they had cures for every ailment known to man or beast.

A doctor was several hours away by wagon or buggy from most farms and ranches, so (Continued on page 10)

40 Years Ago Today

By GWYN COGHILL

A woman in a green touring car became a quarry in the great Lindbergh kidnapping hunt today. On the highways of many states police sought her after a bakery proprietress in Greenwich, Connecticut spotted a twenty dollar bill she received in payment for a strawberry pie, as part of the $50,000 ransom from Col. Charles A. Lindbergh.

Cape Hatteras Lighthouse, America's tallest brick lighthouse in the world, may have to bow to the sea and move from the spot where it was constructed in 1870. For years the ocean has been washing away the land toward its base and last month's storm on the coast cut away twenty feet of sand at once. Now the surf breaks on a beach less than one hundred feet from the lighthouse's base. It had been decided that, unless some unusual storm cut away a large part of the beach, the lighthouse might do service in its present position for another ten years. But now, with the large new slice taken from the beach, it appears the structure may have to be rebuilt at a point more remote from the water long before the ten years are up.

How RCA Handles Complaints

By ELMER ROESSNER
The consumers are restless tonight... Probably at no time in American history have there been more complaints by consumers to merchants. There is no single cause. The government may be encouraging it with its mandatory recall of autos and tires, by its Federal Trade Commission's solicitation of complaints. States and cities have set up consumer protective bureaus. A dozen consumer columnists are flourishing. Consumers Union is at a high point in revenue. And then there's Ralph Nader. All of this may make Mizie Doakes feel that she is missing something if she's not complaining. Whatever, the cause, she certainly is complaining, shriller than ever before. In this situation, it might be interesting to learn what a giant, consumer-oriented corporation does about complaints. In a remarkably frank talk before a recent meeting of the Conference

Board, Herbert T. Brunn, RCA's vice president-consumer affairs, told how the corporation's New York headquarters deals with consumer inquiries and complaints. Last year, its consumer operations staff handled 21,500 letters and visits from consumers. Most of the questions sought information, "Where can I get service?" and the like. But 15 per cent, or 3,400 consumers had complaints, a small segment of those using RCA products. However, as Brunn pointed out, people don't complain unless they are unhappy, and unhappy customers can lose other customers. Major complaints were, in this order, service requirements; warranty problems; part availability and inconclusive service

(unsatisfactory service for reasons other than price or frequency). "Some few are completely unreasonable," Brunn said. RCA service is largely performed by dealers and it is difficult to keep enough parts in the field. "There is one ancillary complaint that is not carried in any statistical table and it is quite fundamental," he said. "People often get more stirred up by the way they are treated than they ever were over their original problem. If they come into contact with some rude or incompetent person in your organization who is just too busy to bother, reasonableness and understanding go out the window. Even in those cases where you are dealing with an irate profane individual, courtesy and politeness pay off."

He had a suggestion for other businesses: "We are successful in responding, by individual letters typed on an automatic typewriter, in 24 hours after receipt of a complaint." About 50 form letters are used, all of which have some degree of personal insert. "Unlike good wine, product complaints do not improve with age. Politeness and well-composed speedy letters are only the start. Then you must get the doctor to the patient." He said RCA has tested an 800 (no charge) phone number and had not found it satisfactory, although he understood Whirlpool found otherwise. Unless constantly advertised, he said, it will be used mostly by dealers who have an obligation for service, who refer customers to the hotline. He recommended "leaning over backward" in aiding customers, even those "you know are chiselers. And when you begin to get a few nice letters every week, and you are smiling and satisfied with the way things are going, send out a follow-up and ask the customer whether he is happy now. It is then you find out where your system is failing and where it needs improvement."

Strength For Today

THEY ARE ALL POSSIBLE. When the going gets bad this is the time when religious faith needs to come to the rescue. There are some losses in life which can never be made up. The loss of a loved one in death, the loss of a fortune, the mistaken turn at a crossroads, the affliction that has to be endured and with little hope of full recover—these are times when we need to grab hold of all the religious faith we have and set it to work. The fine and wholesome thing about religion is that it really does work. It takes something within both heart and mind to come to rescue in a time of stress and sorrow. The loyalty of friends is helpful. Triumph over past difficulties contributes a full measure of support when support is desperately needed. —By Earl Douglass

Opening lead: King of ♥
 Altho East took full charge of the defense in an attempt to establish the setting tricks, South salvaged his four spade contract by correctly diagnosing his opponent's intentions in time to develop a successful counter-strategy.

West opened the king of hearts on which East signaled violent encouragement by dropping the jack. West continued with the four and East put up the ace and led back a third round which forced declarer to ruff in dummy with the ace.

South had lost two tricks and inasmuch as his holding was solid in the minor suits, the only problem on the deal was to confine himself to one trump loser. This would be routine if spades divided three-three, however, if one defender held four trumps headed by the jack-nine, then careful play would be required to avoid losing two spade tricks. East's extreme eagerness to play three rounds of hearts to force out the ace of trumps suggested the desirability to South of reducing his own holding in trumps to set the stage for an end play.

The closed hand was entered with the king of clubs and the king of spades was cashed. When only small spots appeared, South reverted to clubs, crossing back to the ace and leading a third round which he ruffed with the seven of spades as both opponents followed suit.

The ace of diamonds was played next, followed by a small diamond to the jack—on which East's ten appeared. The king was led and when East discarded a heart, declarer ruffed with the three of spades. He was left with the Q-10-8 and he calmly exited with the eight. East was in with the nine and since his only remaining cards were the jack-six of trumps, he was obliged to lead back the six and South won the last two tricks by finessing the ten and then playing the queen.

from the larger matters to be solved at the Moscow summit. But to President Nixon, Vietnam could become the single most important issue of all in his reelection campaign if the Hanoi invasion happens to succeed — important enough to change his mind about the Moscow summit even if that never was the Soviet intention.

 you cured yourself—or your mother forced a cure down your throat.
 Preventive medical measures were the key to health on the frontier.
 In too many cases, as far as young people were concerned, this prevention consisted of occasional purges—calomel, castor oil and certain patented drugs—when there absolutely was no need of such treatment.
 Whether these measures really helped is questionable. But at least they had a psychological effect and nature

Operation Sunshine Board Seeks Funds To Keep Work Going

By CAROL TYER
 Reflector Staff Writer
 The Board of Directors of Operation Sunshine, Greenville's girls' activities program, are making an all-out effort this week to get donations to continue the program.

What is Operation Sunshine? It's a rather run-down house at the corner of West Third and South Pitt Street where any girl in Greenville may go any afternoon after school, any Saturday, or any day during the summer and find someone who herself is a great doctor, anyway, and probably affected cures despite frontier medicine's interference.

 "The same girls don't come every day," the Center's director, Mrs. Sally DeCastro, said. "Different ones show up different days, whenever they feel the need I guess. We have a fairly unstructured program. Each girl may choose what she's interested in doing at the time."
 Yesterday, for instance, two girls were being helped with knitting by an East Carolina University student volunteer. Another volunteer was helping a group of about six with popsicle stick creations. Several girls were playing their own version of pool, while a few more banged on a piano, and one tried her hand at sewing under the watchful eye of Mrs. DeCastro.
 Or to define it another way, according to Mrs. Austin Britt, Board chairman, "Operation Sunshine is a project which ministers to the personal needs of all young girls, especially from economically or culturally deprived circumstances. Individualized and personalized attention is given the total child in an enjoyable program specifically designed to enrich the child's sense of personal value in her relationship to other children, to build self-respect and self-confidence, and to develop or enhance skills in personal hygiene and social relationships as well as in the creative arts."

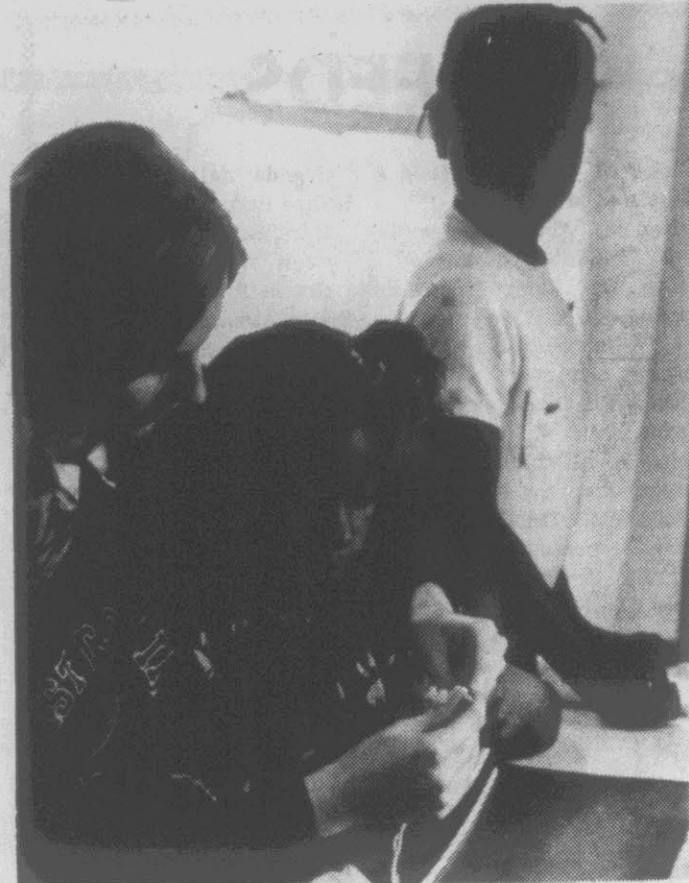

Contributions to Operation Sunshine may be sent to P.O. Box 3412, Greenville, N.C. 27834.
 Board members who would be glad to discuss any part of the program with any interested person are Mrs. Austin Britt, chairman; Mrs. Sam T. White II, vice chairman; Mrs. Viola Vines, secretary; Mrs. P. W. Moore, assistant secretary; Mrs. Joseph Rouse, treasurer; Mrs. D. C. Wade, Rudolph Alexander, Mrs. Melvin Hoot Jr., Mrs. H. H. Inadequate Diet Boys Club Week Is Acquire Two For Many Tots Being Marked Here Parking Lots Invitation To Visit Declined

"The 1970 N.C. nutrition survey revealed that 72 per cent of one-year-old N.C. children have inadequate diets. This is not related to family income or education, but rather to mothers not practicing what they know about good nutrition," said Mrs. Mary Ann Denny, nutritionist with the State Board of Health, at an educational meeting of mothers of infants and mothers-to-be.

The meeting was sponsored by the Pitt County Extension Service according to Mrs.

Evelyn L. Spangler, associate home economics extension agent.

"The American Academy of Pediatrics recommends that babies remain on iron-fortified formula for their first year," Mrs. Denny emphasized. "If the babies are not on iron-fortified milk, then they should be eating one to two servings of iron-fortified cereal each day. (The dry-pack cereal has considerably more iron than the wet-pack cereal in addition to being much cheaper.)"

Mrs. Denny stated that one of the major problems is mothers not reading labels to see what they are buying. For example, one brand of mixed vegetables lists its contents as "water, carrots, wheat flour, oat flour, tomato puree, potato flour, onion, powder, celery extract." (Consumers take note — ingredients are listed in order of amount, from most to least!)

"If mother's would prepare more of their baby's food at home, not only would they be sure of the baby getting nutritious food and not fillers or starches (which they cannot digest until about six months), but they could save up to $11 a month on the grocery bill."

Anyone interested in more information about infant feeding may call Mrs. Denny, 756-1343, or Mrs. Spangler, 758-1196.

Observance of National Boys Club Week is taking place in Greenville this week as the Greenville-Pitt County Boys Club located on Skinner Street goes into a full calendar of special events.

David E. Wilcox, Executive Director of the local Boys' Club, outlined some of the major events of the week. The program includes a "Field Day," "Games Room Tour," "Physical Fitness Day," "Penny Carnival," and will conclude with a hot dog and bean supper.

"All persons interested in the work of the Boys' Club are encouraged to visit the club," Wilcox said. "We welcome visitors at any time, and will be especially happy to have people come by this week."

Wilcox noted that throughout America "more than 960 Boys' Clubs of America are uniting to build Juvenile Delinquency through positive action." The number is soon expected to reach the long hoped for "magic" number of 1,000 clubs.

In Greenville, the Boys' Club is supported through the continuing efforts of the Greenville Jaycees, which sponsors a monthly wrestling match and carries out other activities, such as the forthcoming fair on April 21. From these activities, proceeds go to the work being carried on by the Boys' Club. In addition, a number of merchants and firms are regular annual contributors to the Boys' Club program.

Currently, about 600 young boys from the ages of 6 to 18 are members of the fast growing Greenville-Pitt County Boys' Club.

The Greenville Parking Authority has obtained two temporary parking lots to replace space at the Wachovia building construction.

Authority Chairman Gene Skinner said the location of the new temporary parking areas will be announced later. They will be near the Wachovia location.

Construction has begun on the new Wachovia building at Fourth and Washington Streets and a portion of the metered parking there has been closed.

Skinner said that the Authority was also urging employers to park out of the primary downtown parking areas and to encourage their employees to do the same.

Members of the Authority expressed concern about people who work downtown using the primary spaces. These should be left open for the customers, it was felt.

Skinner pointed out that the municipal lot next to Western Auto on Dickinson Avenue is but a short walk from Five Point. It usually has open spaces.

Invitation To Visit Declined

R. Frank Everett of Robersonville announced today the receipt of a telegram from the White House concerning an invitation to President Nixon to attend the Robersonville Area Centennial.

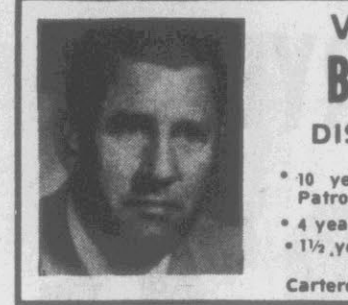

The President regrets that he will be unable to attend because of prior commitments, according to Everett. However, he is sending someone to represent him as his personal representative to take part in the opening day ceremonies on April 22nd.

In addition, Secretary of Agriculture Butz is already committed to make the feature address on this occasion.

Ayden-Grifton Holds To Lead

AYDEN — Ayden-Grifton High School remained atop the Eastern Carolina Conference with a 9-1 win over Southern Wayne High School yesterday.

The Chargers now hold a 6-2 conference record, and are 6-2 overall.

Ayden-Grifton got a two-hitter out of Donnie Moore, who gave up both hits and the lone Saint run in the first inning. He fanned 10 and walked five during the afternoon.

Ken Cleaton led the Ayden-Grifton hitting with three, while Mike Tripp had a pair.

Southern scored first, getting its lone run in the top of the first. Bruce Sasser singled and moved up on a wild pitch. He was sacrificed to third, scoring on Gene Smith's hit.

The Chargers came right back with two runs in the bottom of the first to take the lead for good.

Cleaton singled and Dale Manning walked. Both advanced on a passed ball, scoring when Tripp singled.

The Chargers added two more in the third. Cleaton reached on an error and Moore helped his own cause, unloading a three-bagger to score Cleaton. Tripp walked and Tom Craft hit a sacrifice fly to bring in Moore.

Two more A-G runs came over in the fourth. Grayson Lamm doubled and stole third. He scored when Ronnie Eason was safe on an error. Eason was sacrificed up and scored on Cleaton's third hit of the game.

The Chargers added three more in the fifth to close out the scoring.

Oak City Rolls Past Jamesville

JAMESVILLE — Oak City rolled to an 8-2 victory over Jamesville High School yesterday as the two Martin County Conference teams met in a non-league encounter.

Oak City exploded for six runs in the fourth inning to break open a scoreless tie. Lyons and Baker both walked and Scott was hit by a pitch. Then, with two outs, Willie Baker reached on an error, scoring Lyons and Baker. Ross followed with a single, scoring Scott, and Duggins singled to drive in Willie Baker and Ross. Duggins stole second and scored on Smith's hit.

Trailing 6-0, Jamesville came up with single runs in the fourth and fifth innings. In the fourth, Kevin Holiday walked and scored when Gurkin Martin's single was errorred.

The fifth inning Bullet run came when Martin doubled and Eric Martin walked. Jimmy Williams also walked, loading the bases, and Albert Perry reached on an error to score Martin.

Oak City went on to add two more runs in the seventh to wrap it up.

Jamesville is now 0-5 overall, while Oak City is 6-3.

Williamston Boots Bertie

WILLIAMSTON — Williamston High School continued to roll along yesterday downing Bertie High School in a non-conference baseball game, 8-4.

The Tigers pushed over five runs in the first three innings to have a wide margin, but Bertie came back to pull within one before three more Williamston runs put it out of reach.

Williamston scored its first run in the first inning. Mike Bundy walked and Vann Andrews doubled to drive him in.

In the second, the Tigers came up with three more runs. Joe Roberson reached on an error and stole his way around to third. Bundy walked and Dwight Ange reached on an error, scoring Roberson. A wild pitch brought in Bundy and an error on a pickoff attempt scored Ange for a 4-0 edge.

What proved to be the winning run came in the third. Jimmy Raiford doubled and then scored on a wild pitch, making it 5-0.

Bertie came up with two runs in the fourth and two more in the fifth, but Williamston got three more in their half of the fifth to wrap it up. Those came when Mike O'Neill tripled with two aboard and then came in himself when an error let him move the rest of the way.

Sparks Rose Rally

Jim McDermott, a pitcher-outfielder for the Rampants, got the key hit that pushed over two runs in the second inning yesterday, as the Rampants beat Rocky Mount, 6-0. McDermott's single was errorred with the bases loaded, and besides the two runs his hit drove in, another scored, for a 3-0 lead. McDermott later scored one of the other three Rampant runs. Johnson No-Hits Farmville, 4-0

SNOW HILL — Johnny Earl Johnson hurled a no-hitter for Greene Central High School yesterday as the Rams set down Farmville Central 4-0.

Johnson came within two batters of hurling a perfect game. Both reached on walks. Johnson passed Jeff Cobb in the third and Haywood Joyner in the fifth, and neither got beyond first base.

Overall, Johnson struck out 12 batters. The closest Farmville came to getting a hit was in the seventh inning when Glenn Dwyer hit one into the hole between short and second. Bobby Supel, however, raced over to make the stop on the ball and throw out Dwyer just in time.

RM Tops Netters

Rocky Mount High School's netter defeated Rose yesterday, 8-1. It was the first league match for the Rampants.

Rose managed only to capture the final doubles event, as Jim Proctor and Gary Snyder combined for the win.

Summary:
Steve Bennett (RM) defeated Al Winn, 1-6, 6-3, 6-4.

Frank Avant (RM) defeated Gary Snyder, 6-2, 6-2.

Reid Rhodes (RM) defeated John Charles Thompson, 6-2, 6-3.

Rhodes-Bennett (RM) defeated Mont Wooten-Thurber, 8-2.

Avant-Worsley (RM) defeated Winn-Thompson, 7-5.

Jim Proctor-Snyder (R) defeated Lewis Lucas-Randy Hutchinson, 8-5.

The Rams took the lead in the first inning, pushing over a run. Robert Ivey reached on an error and stole second. Bob Scott singled to drive him in for all Greene really needed.

But they added two more in the second anyway. Supel walked and Ivey singled. Mike Perry reached on an error, loading the bases, and Danny Whitley's single brought in Supel and Ivey for a 3-0 lead.

The final run came in the sixth. Johnson reached on a fielder's choice and Edward Grant doubled. Donald Taylor then scored Johnson with a squeeze bunt.

The victory left Greene Central all along in second place in the Eastern Carolina Conference. The Rams have a 6-1 mark in the league, while Ayden-Grifton leads with a 6-0 record. Farmville and C. B. Aycock are both 5-2.

Rose High School got off to a good start in the Division II standing yesterday when the Rampants bombed Rocky Mount, 6-0, in their opening league game.

The victory left the Rampants in a three-way opening day tie with Wilson (victory over Kinston) and Goldsboro (which beat New Bern). All three have 1-0 records.

Stanley Cobb hurled the shutout win for the Rampants, scattering five hits for the Gryphons.

Rose put together two big innings, scoring three runs in the second and three more in the fourth. They took advantage of Rocky Mount mistakes in both innings, and only two of their runs were earned.

Rocky Mount threw an early scare into the Rampants, threatening in the first inning. Hilton Sykes reached on a fielder's choice and Sonny Wooten walked, but the next batter hit into a fielder's choice, ending the threat.

The Rampants got on the board with all they really needed in the second inning as they scored three runs. With one away, John Barwick walked. Then, after another out, Derek Dunn slapped a single through the middle to keep things alive. Harding Sugg followed with a walk, loading the bases.

Jim McDermott followed with a single into center, easily scoring Barwick and Dunn. The ball got through the fielder, however, and Sugg raced around from first, while McDermott made it all the way to third. The rally died there, but the Rampants were in command, 3-0.

Rocky Mount pulled off another threat in the third. With two away, Larry Daughtridge singled when his grounder to second took a bad hop over John Barwick. Hilton Sykes followed with another hit to right, but the next man popped up to end it.

Rose also had a threat in the third. With one out, both Bill Lee and Cobb walked, but the next two went down.

Rocky Mount put another threat on the Rampants in the fourth. Randy Warrick reached on a fielder's choice and Terry Leonard singled. They advanced on the second out, but the next man struck out to end it.

Rose came up with three more in their half of the fourth to set the final margin. McDermott reached on a fielder's choice and moved up on a wild pitch. Robbie Cox was safe on an error, moving McDermott to third. Cox then stole second. Randy McKinney slapped a double to left, driving in both McDermott and Cox. McKinney came across after Lee walked again and Cobb singled to right.

That made it 6-0 and it was all the Rampants needed.

Rocky Mount offered two more threats however, in the sixth and seventh. With two away in the sixth, Warrick singled and moved to third on a wild pitch. Leonard walked, but the rally died there.

Then, in the seventh, the first two men reached when Phil Ford walked and James Lewis singled. But the next three went down in the infield with no damage done.

Rocky Mount Downs Aycock

ROCKY MOUNT — Rocky Mount Junior High School exploded for eight runs in the first inning and rolled to an 8-1 victory over E. B. Aycock yesterday.

Rocky Mount got all their runs in the first, but were shut out by relief pitcher Chris Manning after that. He struck out eight and walked none after taking over. He allowed only one hit and gave up no runs.

But the damage had already been done. Crocker led off with a single in the first and stole second. Proctor then singled him to third and he stole second. Jones walked and Braswell reached on an error, scoring both Crocker and Proctor. Johnson singled to score Jones, and Edge and Mosby both walked, bringing in Braswell. Dancy singled in Johnson and Edge and Crocker got a hit to score Mosby. Henley then singled in Dancy with the final run.

The lone Aycock run came in the fifth. Bill Ellington tripled and came in when Chris Manning's grounder was errorred.

Panthers Grab First Conference Win, 4-3

By CHIP LAMBETH
Reflector Sports Writer
BETHEL — North Pitt finally broke into the winners circle yesterday as they slipped by the Vikings of D. H. Conley 4-3. The Vikings could not get their offense going and they lost a bid for their second win in a row.

The Vikings scored first in the opening inning but the Panthers came back in their half of the frame to take the lead and they never lost it. The winning Panther run came in the third. Conley added one in the fourth and had a rally going in the top of the seventh, getting a lone run to close the gap to one but the effort fell short right there and the Panthers had their league first win of the year.

Winning pitcher, Steve Fuchs, went the distance for North Pitt striking out nine, walking four and giving up six hits. He also rapped out a double, and a single. he Panter got six hits, also.

Willie Streeter opened the game for Conley as he reached on an error. Randy Adams struck out but his third swing got by the Panther catcher and Adams went to first while Streeter moved to second. Cleve Averette got a single to load the bases and Fuchs walked Bryant Hines to force in the first run. The next three batters went down in order.

After Clint Lewis walked for the Panthers, Fuchs slammed a hit into the alley between left and center fields. Lewis tried to come all the way around from first to score but a perfect throw by Adams to Stacy Evans at home nailed Lewis as he slid in.

John Grimes drew a walk. Spencer Branhill grounded back to the pitcher who played the ball to third in an attempt to get Fuchs. The throw was wide and Fuchs was able to score. Both Grimes and Barnhill moved up on the play. William Little banded out a triple to drive in both Grimes and Barnhill.

Conley got a man as far as third in the next inning as ic Corey singled, moved up on a balk and an out. That was all he could get as the next batter went down swinging.

The Panthers put a man on also on an error but failed to bring him around. Then in the third, Fuchs got his second hit and Grimes walked. Barnhill tried to bunt but the Viking catcher overran the ball and all hands were safe, loading the bases with none out. Little got a free ticket to force in Fuchs.

Prince Bunting led off the Conley fourth with a walk and Sleepy Carmon was hit by a pitch but Corey hit into a fielder's choice, getting Bunting at third. A hit by Streeter put men on every base but Fuchs got the next batter to pop up ending the threat.

Both teams put a runner on in the fifth with walks but could not score. The Panthers looked as if they were going to score again in the sixth when Ken Tetterton got an opposite field single and moved up on a passed ball. Linwood Brown beat out a hit to third base. Tetterton, however, was caught at third when Lewis grounded into a fielder's choice. The effort ran out of steam then as Streeter made a fine play on a grounder to end the inning.

The Vikings cut the Panther lead to a lone run in the top of the seventh. Averette walked. Bryant Hines hit a hard liner to third that Ricky Harrell made a diving stab at. He managed to stop the ball but as he got up and tried to nab Averette sliding into second, his throw went wide, letting Averette go to third. Evans singled to right scoring Averette but the last two batters were set down and the Panthers had the win.

For the visitors, Averette had two hits. Besides Fuchs' pair of hits, Little had a triple and accounted for three of the Panther tallies.

North Pitt is now 1-4 in the conference while Conley drops to 2-6.

In Varsity-Alumni Game

George Wheeler, a former lineman for the East Carolina University Pirates, and now head football coach at D. H. Conley High School, will be among those alumni who will take a crack at the varsity Saturday at 8 p.m. in the first Varsity-Alumni contest to be held in Ficklen Stadium. The contest will send the graduating members of the team, plus a number of former players against the returning members of the Pirate football team.

Bear Grass In Close Victory

BEAR GRASS — Bear Grass High School won its fourth game in six starts yesterday, nipping the Williamston High School "B" team 5-4.

The game was a scoreless tie until the fourth, when Williamston broke the scoring ice. Keith Biggs led off with a walk and stole both second and third. He scored when Whitehurst singled him across.

In the sixth, however, Bear Grass came up with three runs to take the lead. Jimmy Rogerson walked, as did Keith Williams. The two stole up a base and Bryan Bowen reached on an error, scoring Rogerson. Bowen then stole second and both he and Williams scored on Randy Evans' single.

Williamston moved back into the lead in the seventh, however, scoring three runs to take a 4-3 lead. Brown walked and Shelby did too. Hardison reached on an error, scoring Brown, and Biggs doubled to drive in both Shelby and Hardison.

But the Bears struggled back to score two in the bottom of the inning to win it all. Keith Wynne reached on an error and Rogerson walked. Keith Williams doubled to drive in Wynne with the tying run. Russell Roberson followed with a single, scoring Rogerson with the game-ending run.

Brown and Ricky Rogers led the Williamston hitting with two. No one on the Bear Grass team had more than one hit.

Holland Out Of Wake Hunt

DAVIDSON, N.C. (AP) — Terry Holland, Davidson's head basketball coach, today withdrew from consideration for the job at Wake Forest University.

Holland, Southern Conference coach of the year in each of his three years at Davidson, said he had decided to remain at Davidson "on a year-to-year basis" and had notified Wake Forest officials he wished to be withdrawn from consideration.

Gene Hooks, Wake Forest athletic director, expressed disappointment at Holland's decision, but said "we are still happy" with the two other coaches who are to be interviewed late today on the Wake Forest campus in Winston-Salem.

Charles Moir of Roanoke, Va., whose Roanoke College team won the NCAA College Division tournament last month, and Carl Tacy, who directed Marshall University to 12th ranking nationally, are to be interviewed by the Wake Forest athletic council.

After the interviews, the council will make its recommendation to Wake Forest President James Ralph Scales and Hooks.

Jack McCloskey resigned last week as coach at the Atlantic Coast Conference school to take the job of head coach with Portland of the National Basketball Association.

Former New York Yankee outfielder Tom Tresh is a part-time scout for the Yankees in Michigan.

Mike Siani of Villanova caught 49 passes last season and 14 of them were good for touchdowns.

Attended Peace College Program

RALEIGH — Some 75 high school juniors discovered what Peace College life is like during Visitation Weekend, Saturday and Sunday here.

Linda Corey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Corey of Rt. 1, Stokes, and Brenda Bullock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Bullock, of Rt. 1 Stokes, attended the first of two weekend sessions aimed to acquaint high school girls with the junior college for women.

Assuming the role of management of a manufacturing firm, the Pitt Tech teams, using the same inputs as the other teams, made the better management decisions resulting in higher rates of return on the

Register Jams, Robbers Flee

WINSTON-SALEM (AP) — Two men trying to rob a convenience food store Tuesday were in such a hurry to get the cash from the register that they hit the wrong buttons and jammed it, police said.

They gave the clerk a pocket knife and told her to try to jimmy it, but she couldn't.

They took off when a milk deliveryman drove up.

Moose Meet Their Supreme Governor

Committee Is Organized

Supreme Governor Edward Boyle Monday night told a class of over 130 initials into the Loyal Order of Moose their fraternity "is great because of its principles and the labor of love to which we have set ourselves."

"You have made an investment", he said, "in membership in our fraternity and you share in possible recourse to Moosehaven and Mooseheart".

The visitor told the group assembled in his honor that they are in a partnership with one-and-a-quarter million men and women dedicated to preservation of the Child City (for children of departed members of the Moose) and the City of Contentment, a haven for elderly members of the fraternity.

Of Mooseheart, Boyle reminded that since its founding 15,000 of its graduates had gone out into the world; "and not one of them", he noted, "has ever been convicted of a felony." A number of state, district and lodge officers attended the area meeting in Greenville to greet the Supreme Governor who is touring North Carolina this week. He will be in Wilmington tonight.

An estimated 450 persons were on hand here for Monday's meeting which was followed by a buffet dinner. Representatives from 18 lodges were on hand for the occasion.

Announcements were made of two special events this week: the dedication of the new Pamlico County Lodge home at Bayboro on Wednesday; and a benefit dance being sponsored by the Greenville Moose on Saturday night with all proceeds going to the Cancer Crusade.

Fifty-four new members were added to the Greenville Lodge rolls in Monday's enrollment. They were: Robert L. Baker, David D. Barrow, William G.

SYDNEY, Australia (UPI)—The biggest change in the Australian diet has been away from traditional meals of mutton and beef. Thirty years ago, more than 200 pounds of beef, mutton and veal were eaten by the average Australian.

Today, the average is down 40 per cent, but lamb is now served on Australian tables three times as often as in 1939, and there is twice as much pork being consumed as there was 30 years ago.

SNOW HILL — The Greene County campaign committee for Jim Hunt Democratic candidate for lieutenant governor, was announced this week.

Serving on the committee are L.L. Murphy of Lizzie; Sam Jenkins Sr. and Carl T. Hicks of Walstonburg; and John S. Harper Jr. of Snow Hill.

Hunt, in making the announcement, cited the achievements of the six committee members noting "All of these men have made tremendous contributions to Greene County and the state of North Carolina. I am very pleased that they will be on the campaign team."

"In striving for improvement in North Carolina," the Wilson attorney said "it is vital that we all take part in local and state activities that help others. These six men have done this and will certainly contribute this sense of commitment to our campaign."

CARROLL RICHTER'S horoscope

from the Carroll Richter Institute

GENERAL TENDENCIES: The daytime is fine for winding up whatever has been left undone and ready to be completed. Tomorrow is the right time to put in motion new and interesting plans of action that you have been anxious to put in operation. Use your common sense. Be enthusiastic.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Day hours are best for handling personal matters well. The evening is good for putting new ideas to work. Once your personal life is in order, the rest falls in place. Be clever.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) You must set higher standards if you are to make those new plans work properly. Go to the right expert for the data you need at this time. Show courtesy for best results.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Showing those who admire you that you really appreciate them results in fine understanding. You may have a feeling of frustration during the day, but tonight it all disappears.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Work is required if you are to handle outside matters well and then you can rest on your laurels. Prove you are a fine citizen by your actions. Obey all rules and regulations.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) New conditions arise that can be stepping stones to greater success if analyzed properly. New contacts can be most helpful. Express your gratitude. Show that you have poise.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) You have new ideas that are good but need careful appraisal instead of being overly confident about them. Be sure to get responsibilities out of the way early. Don't overinvest.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Your associates do not readily understand your ideas, but give them a chance and later it's a different story. Don't let anyone who opposes you get under your skin. Relax tonight.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) You have meticulous work to handle during the day, so get an early start and complete by sundown. Plan a better wardrobe. Only light entertainment in the evening since you need rest.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Accept invitations extended to you and make this day work itself out naturally, combining work with pleasure. A particular talent manifests itself late in the afternoon.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Arguments at home can only lead to loss of money and trouble, so work matters out philosophically with kin. You can start a new uptrend in all of your affairs. Avoid arguments.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Routine work affairs should be planned properly so that you save time and energy, thus increase your benefits. Communicating with others is easy now. Be more friendly.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Pay more attention while adding to present abundance since this is the right time. An older person with a great deal of experience can be most helpful. Show that you are grateful.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY . . . he or she will be one of those fascinating young individuals who has a mind that roams over a wide area and will attract people of prominence. Be sure you plan now to give your progeny as much education as you can afford. There can be true fame in this chart, especially if the forte manifests itself early and is followed throughout the lifetime.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

'Tornado Alley' Concept Fading

KANSAS CITY (AP) — "Tornado Alley," once popularly thought to be a narrow strip confined to the heart of the Midwest, is actually more of a wide boulevard that sweeps northward to Minnesota and as far south as the Gulf of Mexico, weather records show.

Since 1953, when the National Severe Storms Forecast Center in Kansas City established the present tornado warning system, forecasters have produced figures that challenge Kansas' reputation as the "Cyclone State."

"The more we learn about tornadoes, the more we tend to move away from the 'Tornado Alley' concept," says Allen Pearson, director of the storms center. "There are all kinds of tornadoes and no real limit on where or when they might occur."

Both Texas and Oklahoma average more tornadoes per year than Kansas, the records show, and the most severe ones occur in four other areas—northern Mississippi, southern Illinois, eastern Arkansas and eastern Missouri. Records for the 18 years through 1971 show that there were a total of 2,068 tornadoes in Texas, 1,131 in Oklahoma, 944 in Kansas, 637 in Nebraska, 561 in Missouri and 537 in Florida.

There were 292 tornado deaths in Mississippi during the period, 286 in Texas, 218 in Michigan, 147 in Indiana, 131 in Kansas and 127 in Oklahoma.

Forecasters say the real heart of tornado activity stretches from Oklahoma City, across southeast Kansas to Kansas City, Mo., into western Arkansas and across Missouri to St. Louis.

A broader definition of the high-frequency area starts at San Antonio, Tex., goes as high as Fargo, N.D., and Minneapolis-St. Paul, then pushes through Michigan to the south and west of Chicago, including almost all of Indiana and Illinois. The wider area also includes east central Alabama and much of southwest Georgia, then doubles back along the Gulf Coast to Houston.

Named To Aid Galifianakis In Pitt County

Congressman Nick Galifianakis has named two area citizens to key posts in his U.S. Senate campaign in Pitt County.

Galifianakis announced that Greenville businessman Leon Moore Jr. will serve as manager of his Pitt campaign effort and Mrs. Dot Reeves of Grifton will coordinate his county campaign activities.

Moore, a lifetime resident of Pitt County, operates an oil dealership here and is a member governmental neglect of Eastern North Carolina and give us the energetic leadership we need to prosper."

Mrs. Reeves, an employee of Lenoir Community College, is a member and past vice president of the North Carolina Community College Adult Education Association. She is on the executive board of the Public Information Office of the North Carolina Community College System, an associate editor of "For Adults Only," the community college newsletter, and a member of the North Carolina Education Association and Kappa Delta Pi national honorary society.

The coordinator has served as past president of the Grifton Service League, a past coordinator of Democratic Women's Club activities for the First Congressional District, and a past precinct vice-chairman.

Mrs. Reeves said that she had decided to work for Galifianakis because "he represents the first opportunity that North Carolinians have had in over two decades to popularly elect a well-qualified candidate to his initial term in the Senate. We need a senator with the energy and vitality to move with the times, one who can provide specific solutions to the complex problems we will face in the next two decades. There could be no better choice than Nick."

LEON MOORE, JR.

of the National Petroleum News Advisory Panel. He is a past president of the Greenville Jaycees, state vice-president of the North Carolina Jaycees, and a national director of the U.S. Jaycees.

The campaign manager is a member of the Elks Lodge, Masons, and Shrine Sudan Temple. He is on the board of directors of the Flynn Christian Fellowship Home and was a county manager in the 1964 gubernatorial campaign of Judge I. Beverly Lake.

Moore said that he is helping Galifianakis in his Senate bid because "North Carolina needs a senator who is capable of identifying and solving problems before they become crises."

He added, "Nick is a life-long resident of the Eastern Carolina tobacco and agriculture belt—he is sensitive to our problems and he knows what to do about them. He will reverse the pattern of

Girl Scouts Visit Camp

The flag ceremony and Scouts' Own was conducted by Cadette Troop 394. Other events included Brownie Troop activities lunch, Junior Troop activities and "The Legend of Camp Hardee" conducted by Senior Troop 470.

Two plaques were presented to the Girl Scout of Coastal Carolinas by Mrs. Nan Cheek neighborhood chairman of the Greenville Girl Scouts. The two plaques will be placed in the lodge of Camp Hardee.

Camp Hardee was formally dedicated June 27, 1942.

The appreciation day was held Saturday to show recent renovations made at Camp Hardee made possible through the sale of cookies by the scouts.

Missionary To Speak Tonight

Alec Alford a native of Salisbury, Rhodesia and a Methodist teacher — missionary, will speak tonight at 8 p.m. at the Methodist Student Center here.

Alford will relate his impressions of the African revolution particularly as it affects old colonial patterns and new desires for black rule. Currently studying for his Ph. D. in Old Testament at Duke University he plans to return to Africa. He says he is interested in helping establish a high quality seminary in Rhodesia at the same time assisting the people in their struggle for personal freedom and dignity.

The meeting is sponsored by the Disciples of Christ and United Methodist campus ministries. Time will be allotted for discussion and for a question and answer period. The public is invited.

No Exceptions To Vendor Ban

MANILA (UPI)—As part of his election campaign, Mayor Ramon D. Bagatsing pledged to clear Manila's sidewalks of street vendors. A few days after taking office recently, the streets were clear of the vendors.

Let there be any letdown in the drive, the mayor warned his subordinates:

"I will not allow anyone, not even my relatives, to subvert this pledge."

The Worry Clinic 'Swapping' Is Sick Symptom

Lorna's jealous husband has traded her off for many a weekend rendezvous with other men. They attend "swinger" parties, which make Cupid a Communist! Yet marriage is supposed to be a "Capitalistic" affair, where private property rights erect a "Keep Off" sign!

By GEORGE W. CRANE, Ph.D., M.D.

Case T-549: Lorna D., aged 27, is a beautiful woman. "Dr. Crane," her worried husband began, "I have always of these wife-swapping affairs, as an experiment, and on the advice of my psychiatrist. "We exchange partners for the night and in this way I can at least control her choice of other male suitors.

"After a weekend at one of these 'swinger parties,' I figure she should be satisfied, at least till next weekend.

"Is this plan generally approved by other psychiatrists?"

Marital Communism

Even the Russian Communists have had to compromise with the "private property" doctrine of Capitalism regarding Cupid. For the Communists now regard marriage as a private affair and not a "swinger" arrangement!

Furthermore, that Kinsey report was very unscientific when it took the mere opinions of women as facts and then generalized thereon.

For the normal woman is much less erotic than is the normal male.

"But, Dr. Crane," you may protest, "I know many wives who are far more passionate than their husbands."

True enough.

But such women are usually goaded into an artificial interest in eroticism because they suffer from some sexual inferiority complex.

Thus, they are likely to be sterile and fear that they may no longer be able to attract men. So they are spurred into extramarital affairs both to prove that they still have enough feminine charm to seduce a male.

But also, often subconsciously, in the hope another male partner might be able to get them pregnant.

Other sexually disturbed women may have lost a breast due to cancer or have had their womb removed because of fibroids.

Skinny legs or extra fat ankles may also make such females feel they are not normal.

Same goes for unduly flat chests or also very pendulous breasts, freckles, crippled conditions or big ears, prominent noses, etc.

Many of these "swinger" husbands are also afflicted with a sexual inferiority complex, which is basic to jealousy.

Part of their deflated libido is due to the relative indifference of their wives in the boudoir.

Swinger parties, where couples "swap" mates, are a sign of "sick" marriages, due to some of the reasons cited above.

No reputable psychiatrist would recommend such wifeswapping!

Alas, a lot of psychiatrists have no religious background or moral scruples. If not immoral, at least they are unnormal!

So send for my booklet "Sex Problems in Marriage," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 25 cents, and insure a "capitalistic" type of marriage!

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 25 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)
