

Food Prices Inched Down Last Month

By DON KENDALL
AP Farm Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Supermarket food prices dropped 0.4 per cent in March, the first dip in five months, but farmers—not the middlemen—absorbed the decrease, the Agriculture Department announced today.

Last Friday the Bureau of Labor Statistics reported retail food prices continued to rise in March but only by 0.1 per cent, a much slower pace than earlier.

The Agriculture Department said, however, that the BLS figures were based on surveys taken during the first week of March while its new report was for a "market basket" list of food items during the entire month.

Officials said "substantially lower" returns to farmers for meat animals and fresh vegetables were the main reason for the retail price drop.

Although the prices farmers received declined, higher middleman costs for transporting, processing and selling food to consumers ate up most of the reduction, the report showed.

The entire market basket, theoretically enough food to keep a typical family for an entire year, cost an annual rate of $1,292 in March, down $5 from a record high in February.

Of that, the "farm value" was $502 for the month, a $14 cut from February. The middleman share, however, rose $9 to $790 in March, the report said.

$1 Million Budget Is Voted City Schools

By JERRY RAYNOR
Reflector Staff Writer

After defeating a first motion to attempt to make a $45,000 cut in the total 1972-73 Greenville City School budget, school board members Tuesday night approved a second motion to adopt the full proposed school budget totaling $1,060,955.

In adopting the more than a million dollar budget to pass on to the County Commissioners for their approval or disapproval, board members expressed their conviction that despite the increase in budget total of more than a quarter million dollars over last year, it represents a no-frill budget of essential needs.

The first motion was offered by member Lester Turnage, with the second motion to keep the $45,000 being made by Dr. Badger Clark.

Board members were in agreement on all items from the very beginning of the meeting with the exception of the possibility of making an effort to cut back $45,000.

The $45,000 represents an amount that in effect was restored to the total state support budgeting by the state's last minute action not to cut Greenville's teacher allocation as heavily as had formerly been announced.

This amount, defendants of keeping it in argued, is vital in keeping a minimum number of teacher aides, the Audio Visual specialist, and instructional supplies at the current level. All of these were seriously affected by cut back in federal funds in ESAP and ESEA categories.

An expression was also voiced that it is hoped the public support indicated recently will materialize.

One change in the Capital Outlay budget was made, the elimination of $156,000 originally earmarked for a new administration building. The item has actually been $166,000, but $10,000 of this was shifted to fees for the new proposed junior-middle high school.

Board members noted that elimination of the new administration building at this time was one of the recommendations made at the public hearing on the budget Monday night.

The $156,000 has been shifted in the Capital Outlay budget to the category of general capital improvements.

Superintendent Dr. Cleet C. Cleetwood stated such a move was "entirely legal and proper. If this money was from county wide tax funds the county commissioners would have every right to ask for specifications," he commented, "but since this is Greenville School District tax money, the manner in which it is used is entirely up to the board."

Although the board in voting on this portion of the budget made no assignment of this amount to one or several specific items, there was a consensus of agreement that additional land at Sadie Sauter is a very pressing issue.

Dr. Cleetwood told board members that the original plan in 1967 to acquire more land had been thwarted when redevelopment plans for the area did not materialize. He estimates that under present circumstances, acquiring land adjacent to the school will now cost about $20,000 an acre.

On the issue of making an official declaration to the County Commissioners of the intent to build a new middle-junior high school, board members asked that this be put on the agenda for action in the May meeting.

In other actions, the board approved three teacher resignations, reelection of present personnel for the coming school year, and set the next board meeting for the regular scheduled third Monday, in this case May 15.

In confirming reelection of school personnel, Dr. Cleetwood noted that no firm commitments can be made at this time to several of the teachers in music, art, psychology, etc., as continuing their employment hinges on budget action taken by the County Commissioners.

The board also was notified that board member Mrs. Robert Kittrell has submitted a letter to Mayor S. Eugene West indicating her intention not to stand for reelection when her current term expires on June 30, 1972.

OFFENSIVE INCREASES — North Vietnamese broadened their attacks Wednesday threatening to cut South Vietnam in half in the central-coastal regions. All three major highways in the area have been cut. # President Will Address Public On War Plans

By LEWIS GULICK
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — With Henry A. Kissinger freshly returned from a secret Moscow trip and the Paris peace talks resuming Thursday, President Nixon gives the nation a Vietnam report tonight including his decision on U.S. troop levels there after May 1.

U.S. forces in South Vietnam currently are slated to drop to 69,000 by the end of this month. This nears the residual-force strength of 25,000 to 35,000 men Nixon has indicated will stay on until Hanoi frees American prisoners.

Besides scheduling the widely awaited presidential radio-TV address for 10 p.m. EST, the White House also:

—Announced U.S. and Saigon negotiators will return to the Paris parley Thursday, with their first item to be "discussion of measures which will put an end to the flagrant North Vietnamese invasion of South Vietnam."

—Disclosed presidential adviser Kissinger flew secretly to Moscow last week for four days of talks with Communist party chief Leonid I. Brezhnev and other Soviet leaders. During this April 20-24 period the White House was saying Kissinger was with Nixon at the President's Camp David, Md., mountain retreat.

Kissinger told newsmen Tuesday that he had ranged over major U.S.-Soviet issues in preparing for Nixon's May 22-29 visit to the Soviet Union. These included Vietnam.

The administration has served notice Nixon intends to take up the question of restraint on Vietnam with Brezhnev, and it has chastized the Kremlin publicly for Soviet shipments of heavy arms used by North Vietnam in its offensive.

Administration sources discouraged speculation, however, that Kissinger made any deal with Brezhnev for resumption of the Paris talks or that he had hurried to Moscow for fear that rising U.S.-Soviet friction over Vietnam would collapse the summit conference.

Tonight's announcement will be Nixon's eighth on future troop levels since he started pulling U.S. forces out of Vietnam in June 1969. About 543,000 GIs were in South Vietnam then.

Supplemental Grant Awarded

Congressman Walter B. Jones confirmed today that a $23,380 supplemental grant has been awarded to the Greenville Utilities Commission for additional construction on the waste water treatment plant, by the Environmental Protection Agency.

Total improvement costs are estimated at $1,400,000 and to date $405,910 in grant funds have been awarded by EPA.

The city of Greenville and the state of North Carolina are also participating in the cost of this project.

Muskie Is Given A Double Setback

By WALTER R. MEARS
AP Political Writer

Sen. George McGovern, triumphant in Massachusetts, and Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, the Pennsylvania victor, joined political battle today after dealing a devastating one-two blow to the presidential campaign of Sen. Edmund S. Muskie.

But the senator from Maine said in defeat that his rivals for White House nomination will "have to fight like hell to take it away" from him.

Muskie finished a far-back second in Massachusetts, and managed only a fourth-place showing, close behind McGovern in Pennsylvania, where he concentrated his campaign.

Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace ran a startling second in Pennsylvania, after staging a one-day campaign. Massachusetts gave Wallace 8 per cent of the vote in partial returns, just ahead of Humphrey.

Next Tuesday, McGovern and Humphrey confront each other, Muskie and Sen. Henry M. Jackson of Washington in an Ohio battle for 153 convention delegates.

Tuesday's dual verdict vaulted McGovern into the lead in committed delegate votes at the Democratic National Convention.

Pennsylvania awarded Humphrey the first major presidential primary victory in his career as a White House campaigner, which dates back a dozen years.

That contest was not binding on Pennsylvania delegates, who were elected separately.

With about half the vote counted in that competition, Humphrey had 58 delegates, McGovern led for 32, Muskie for 31, Wallace for 2.

In Massachusetts, the prefer-

Near Full-House Shows Up For Tuesday Forum For Candidates

By TOM BAINES
Reflector Staff Writer

The candidate's forum, sponsored Tuesday night by the League of Women Voters, drew 17 aspirants to the various national, state and local offices.

Following policy established by the League of Women Voters, four of the candidates, district judgeship hopefuls, were introduced but did not participate in the five minute presentation allotted other candidates and three minute question and answer period.

Incumbent Judges Herbert Phillips and Robert Wheeler were on hand as were district candidates Russell Wooten and William Whitehurst. All four are Democrats.

Republican First Congressional District candidate Mack Howard, a Lenoir County native, told the audience that nearly filled the District Court Room, that because of his prior experience in Washington, which included a tenure as legislative council to the Secretary of the Army, "I feel I know the Washington and Capitol Hill scene quite thoroughly and I can be effective as your congressman from the day I'm sworn in."

"I feel that it is the responsibility of our congressmen to let the nation and other leaders know that here in Eastern North Carolina we have a viable section of America," the candidate emphasized.

Howard said that he is firmly against the concept of busing and that he supports "quality, neighborhood schools. I believe that the state of the economy is perhaps our most important issue..."

In response to a question from the audience concerning a possible end to the draft, Howard reminded that we now have a two-year draft that goes through 1974. "If it is possible to obtain an all volunteer Army by that time, then I would support ending the draft. But this great nation must have a viable military defense and if we want to continue to exist...as we have it now, some provisions must be made."

J. Jordan Bonner of Hertford, also a candidate for the First District seat now held by Walter B. Jones of Farmville, left the regular format and used the five minute allotment and three minute question and answer session to find out "what's bothering you, what...do you feel or would you like to see changed?"

One member of the audience said that she was disturbed about the war. Bonner noted that "I'm very upset with the war myself. Whether or not the war is moral or immoral is not the question." He said that we need to "have a long look at the war and learn from our experiences and be sure that we don't get involved in other wars..."

New Mid-East Council Organizes At Williamston

WILLIAMSTON — The newly-formed Mid-East Resource Conservation and Development Council adopted its constitution and bylaws here last night.

According to W.T. Modlin, chairman, the council is an independent, non-profit group concerned with speeding up the conservation, development and proper use of the resources in planning region Q. This region includes Beaufort, Bertie, Hertford, Martin and Pitt Counties.

The council is composed of three members from each county. One member represents the board of county commissioners, another represents the local Soil Conservation district board of supervisors, and the third member, selected by the first two may represent a planning board or may be a citizen at large. An alternate is also named for each member of the council.

"The council will set policies, obtain technical assistance, and carry on an information program," Modlin explained. "The group will also review and approve all proposals for project measures. It will obtain loans and grants for eligible resource measures within the five-county planning region."

Resource committees in the five counties are now being appointed. These committees will make project measure proposals for water management, flooding, sanitary landfills, forestry, recreation and tourism.

Modlin is a Hertford County commissioner. Serving as vice chairman is Bill Abeyounis, executive director of the Washington Chamber of Commerce. Ralph Tucker, a Pitt Soil and Water Conservation district supervisor, is secretary-treasurer of the council

Other council members and alternates from Pitt County are Burney Tucker and alternate B. Alton Gardner for the county commissioners; Marvin Speight and alternate J.H. Mobley for the county planning board; and F. Curtis Martin is alternate member for the Pitt Soil and Water Conservation district board of supervisors.

Light Agenda For Planning-Zoning Session Tonight

A relatively light agenda of four items of old business and three of new business is scheduled for the Greenville Planning and Zoning Commission meeting tonight at 8:00 p.m. at City Hall.

Scheduled are two old business requests for rezoning, one by J.A. Speight for lots 15 and 16 of the Speight Subdivision from R-9 residential to highway commercial and a request by Philip Carroll, agent for the W. J. Moore property on the south side of Greenville Boulevard across from Hooker Road. The Moore request is to change the highway commercial portion to shopping center and the R-9 residential portion also to shopping center.

The other old business items are a committee's report on the State Highway Commission's response to Greenville's comments on the Thoroughfare Plan; and a proposed boundary for extra-territorial zoning area.

Under new business, items to be considered are a consideration of modification in street access from Devonshire Apartments to U.S. 264 bypass; plans for Devonshire Shopping Center; and proposed amendments to Zoning Ordinance Number 322.

Prior to the city's meeting, the Joint City-County Planning and Zoning Commission will meet to take up one agenda item. This is a request by Ralph Tucker for rezoning property on the west side of N.C. Highway 43, directly opposite the Carriage House Apartments from RA-20 to Shopping Center.

'Pilot Of The Year' Is Chosen

Mrs. Ruby Fields was chosen "Pilot of the Year" at the Monday night dinner meeting of the Pilot Club.

The selection was made by popular secret vote of the members on the basis of outstanding community service during the preceding year. The award was presented by Mrs. Sue Smith, last year's winner.

Four new members were initiated into the club in a ceremony conducted by Mrs. Sue Howell, Miss Elizabeth Quinerly, Mrs. Winona Daniel and Mrs. Janie Gold Starling, president.

New members are Mrs. Darlene Miller, Mrs. Joyce Hastings, Mrs. Bobbie Payne and Mrs. Mary Mann. One visitor, Mrs. Pam Hathaway was introduced.

A guest speaker, Mrs. Betty Fore, president of the East Carolina Art Society, gave a summary of the history and functions of the Art Center. She commended the Woman's Club for having the idea of an Art Society in 1935, which was then actually founded in 1943.

Mrs. Fore was introduced by Miss Camille Clark, acting chairman of the Patriotic Emblems Committee, hostess for the meeting.

A short history of the North Carolina flag adopted in 1885 was given by Miss Mary Ruth Devine. In her talk she quoted the Tarheel Toast: "Here's to the land of the longleaf pine The summer land where the sun doth shine Where the weak grow strong and the strong grow great Here's to "down home," the old North State."

The committee then presented a North Carolina flag to the Women's Club in the name of the Pilot Club. The flag was accepted by Mrs. Elizabeth Johnson, president of the Woman's Club. She commended the Pilot Club for their community services.

Reports on club activities included an account of the "cooking spree" held by the Pilot International Friends (PIF), a project sponsored by the Educational and International Relations Committee to foster friendships with foreign women living in the community. Pilot members and foreign women participated in chopping, mixing, cooking and tasting five dishes with international flavors.

Mrs. Nancy Warren announced that Safety Town, the driver education project at Sadie Sauter School, will be conducted the first two weeks in May.

New officers will be installed at the next meeting.

Biggest Nuisances Reported To Bureau

PARIS (WNS)—Last November the government opened a Bureau of Nuisances which citizens can call to complain about disturbing noises in this City of Light. Its report after five months of busy activity: 38 per cent of complaints concern noises of neighbors. Next in order come construction and demolition noises (23 per cent), noises of nearby factories (23 per cent), disorderly revelers in night clubs and cafes (14 per cent) and street noises (2 per cent). "People suffer from noises mostly from 10 p.m. to 7 a.m.," reported a Nuisance official, then admitted that office hours of the Bureau of Nuisances run from 8:30 a.m. to 6 p.m.

When you blow your nose, blow gently, advises a pamphlet from the U.S. Public Health Service. Blowing hard when you have a cold may force infection into your sinuses and the canals which lead to your ears.

Got A Headache? Don't Call Surgeon

By Abigail Van Buren

(© 1972 by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd., Inc.)

DEAR ABBY: My husband is a CPA, and every year around income tax time he is deluged with telephone calls from friends who want to ask him questions about their income tax returns.

My husband is an AUDITOR, and I doubt that he has filled out an income tax return since college.

Last night a casual acquaintance called with a book-keeping problem so simple that even I could solve it. I wonder if these same people call a brain surgeon everytime they have a headache.

MRS. T. D. S.

DEAR MRS. S.: Probably not. But I'm sure if they thought a brain surgeon could relieve their headache, they wouldn't hesitate to call him.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 17-year-old senior in high school and will be graduating soon. I am now looking for a job, but wherever I apply, I am told, "You don't have enough experience."

Abby, how can a person get experience if nobody gives him a job?

I am willing to work hard, but unless somebody hires me, how can I show him what I can do?

Please print this, Abby. I have been steaming about this for a long time.

DISCOURAGED

DEAR DISCOURAGED: Every experienced worker was once inexperienced. Employers know this, but the applicant who shows the most persistence is the one who gets the job. [P. S. Let it be known that you will take anything in order to prove your sincerity.]

DEAR ABBY: The letter about "perfectionists" inspires me to take my pen in hand. [I can't believe I am actually writing a letter to "Dear Abby."]

I also believe in neatness and orderliness, but it can be overdone. I was raised in a home with two parents who were both "perfectionists."

We had a large closet with everything hung just so. We children were not allowed to go into it. We asked for our clothes and they were given to us.

A wicker rocker gives me chills to this day. I sat in one for hours on end with a book. [The only toy which I was permitted because it didn't make a mess.] We weren't allowed to sit in the living room except on very special occasions, and then only on certain chairs.

We ate in a restaurant for years so our kitchen stove and sink were kept spotless. We washed in the big copper laundry tub in the basement in order to keep the bathroom clean.

Mother is up in years now, but she is still a perfectionist. All her furniture looks like new.

I escaped when I married many years ago, but I still appreciate the simple pleasures of bathing in a bathtub and using ALL the house.

MEMORIES

DEAR MEMORIES: Your "memories" make interesting reading. Thank you for sharing them.

DEAR ABBY: Regarding that letter from knitters and needleworkers: Do you really want to know why women knit in company?

It's because it gives them something to think about while they are talking.

Regards,

GEORGE IN BREMERTON

DEAR GEORGE: That's a pretty "broad" statement. [Also unjust and inaccurate.]

Pamlico Span Would Be Asset

State Highway Department officials were in Beaufort County at Bayview Monday looking over possible sites for a high level bridge which would join the north and south portions of Beaufort County.

The commission has approved the $8 to $9 million project and $50,000 has been allocated for planning and surveying the bridge site.

Presently a ferry is operated across the river at Bayview to a landing near Texas Gulf Sulphur on the opposite side. The ferry, however, operates only during daylight hours and quickly fills up when shifts changes at Texas Gulf.

Construction of this bridge will be an important facility in expediting the development of areas on both sides of the Pamlico. There will be recreational advantages, as well as improvement of the flow of traffic from the north to the south side of the river where Texas Gulf is located.

The high level span being considered would not interfere with river traffic to a prohibitive degree and it would cause the minimum damage to the environment.

Hopefully this project will be planned and construction begun as rapidly as possible.

One Has To Feel She Shaped Their Roles

Not many Tar Heel ladies have been the wife of one governor and the mother of another, but this was the case with Mrs. W. Kerr Scott.

The beloved wife of the late governor and senator W. Kerr Scott and mother of Gov. Robert Scott, died Sunday.

"Miss Mary" as she was affectionately known was not the kind of political wife who took to the limelight too much. Instead she seemed to offer her husband and her son the personal help they needed as they wrestled with the problems of the state's highest office and pursued their political careers.

One has to feel that the accomplishments of the two Governor Scotts were shaped and guided by the influence of this outstanding woman. She perhaps affected the course of our state as much as anyone during the past 25 years.

She will be missed.

Reds Helping To Halt Radio

By ROWLANDE EVANS and ROBERT NOVAK

WASHINGTON — The present drive to end vital U.S. government subsidies for Radio Free Europe (RFE) is being aided by a clandestine operation of the Polish Communist party, according to a confidential report from a reliable informant inside Poland.

This informant reports that the now-deposed regime of the party boss Wladyslaw Gomulka about two years ago became dissatisfied with the lack of action on RFE, the Munich-based station which beams broadcasts to Poland and other Eastern European Communist states. Consequently, it set up a secret group to "systematically instigate opposition toward RFE" with $3 million funneled into Poland's Washington embassy.

In charge of the operation, according to this report, is Ryszard Frelek, a member of the party secretariat. Besides stirring up opposition, it was charged with responsibility for supplying helpful information to American foes of RFE.

Serious American students of the Polish situation doubt that anything close to $3 million was appropriated for this purpose. However, the informant's past record is good enough to make the outlines of the story credible.

Actually, anti-RFE operations in Warsaw remained strictly secret until February when rumors began pouring out. "It is assumed that they were started by former Gomulka men who were removed from this project," the informant reports.

However, he adds that there is divided opinion deep inside the Polish United Workers' Party—the country's Communist party—about RFE. In party discussions, he says, it is noted RFE not only "creates many problems for the party leadership" but also provides some benefits.

"Without RFE, almost all seem to agree, Soviet instructions would be more strict and also there would be a trend to fall in line with other Soviet republics," he adds.

A footnote: The informant reveals that party secretary Jerzy Lukaszewicz recently called in the heads of Poland's newspapers and radio stations to caution them not to go overboard in praising Sen. J. W. McGovern vs. McGovern. Sen. George McGovern, father of the reforms which have revolutionized the Democratic National Convention structure, is saying privately that he does not approve of efforts by his followers to unseat the Chicago delegates of Mayor Richard J. Daley.

Ironically, the Chicago challenge is viewed nationally by anti-organization Democrats as a test case for rigorous enforcement of delegate guidelines adopted by the McGovern Commission. But McGovern, now not merely a reformer but a frontrunner for the Democratic Presidential nomination, does not wish to alienate Daley.

The challenge against the 53 uncommitted Chicago delegates and six more in the suburbs who were elected in the March 21 Illinois primary is based on the charge that they were handpicked and supported by the Mayor's regular party organization in defiance of McGovern Commission guidelines. Alderman William Singer, a McGovern supporter who is heading the challenge, was told by two McGovern aides weeks ago that he definitely would have the Senator's support.

They were wrong. Although he has made no public declaration, McGovern privately is inclined against supporting the challenge because the Daley delegates were elected by the public—most of them with opposition from McGovern slates.

But beyond that, McGovern hopes that Daley, whose distaste for Sen. Hubert Humphrey is well known, might choose McGovern in a McGovern-Humphrey confrontation. Such an endorsement could erode anti-McGovern feeling by other key party regulars, such as Pete Camiel of Philadelphia.

Strength For Today

WHICH "You lost your arm in the service?" a man asked a veteran. "Lost it? Not at all; I gave it."

I have a friend who in the First World War was in battle less than five minutes when he was seriously wounded. He has been a cripple ever since. In his case it was a leg, not an arm, that he gave.

Men do not lose their lives for their country, or if they do, then war is even more tragic than we think it is. Men give their lives for their country. We read in the Bible that Jesus set His face to go to Jerusalem. He was not hunted down by His enemies.

He walked deliberately into the trap which they had set for His feet. His life was not taken away from Him—it was given. And because of the spirit in which He gave it, this Jesus was not a martyr but a Saviour.

The cruel cross on which they nailed Him now adorns our churches and is the proud symbol of our faith. Why? Because on the cross He lost his life? No, because on the cross He gave His life.

There is a difference, and so significant it constitutes a chalice within which lies God's Holy Gospel. By Earl Douglass

Polarization A Success

WASHINGTON — Everyone talks about the success of the "Vietnamization" program in Vietnam, but little attention has been paid to the success of the "Polarization" program in the United States.

The Polarization program in the United States, considered the best means of dividing the country, was started just about the time the Vietnamization program began and the two programs are unalterably tied together.

Malcolm Moody, director of Polarization for the entire United States, which includes I Corps (New England), II

Corps (the South), III Corps (the Midwest) and IV Corps (the Far West), insisted that despite what the media had written, Polarization was working in the United States, and he predicted that the entire country would be polarized by 1972.

In his large, spacious office across the street from the White House, Moody showed me a map indicating the progress of the polarization program since President Nixon took office.

"We've had setbacks," he said, "and you have to expect them when you're polarizing a country as large as this.

First, you have to win the confidence of the people. Then you have to persuade them Polarization is good for them. It isn't easy." Moody said he had been worried for a time. "The campuses were quiet, there was little rioting in the ghettos, the students were trying to work within the system and the country was making some effort to come together. I was under a great deal of pressure to explain why Polarization wasn't working.

"But you can't have Polarization unless you give the people a reason to be polarized. After our invasion of Cambodia things calmed down. President Nixon didn't help by announcing the SALT talks and taking a trip to China.

"We kept sending Vice President Agnew out to the different corps areas hoping he could polarize the countryside, but in the last year or so it wasn't working. This is not to criticize Agnew. He did such an effective job in 1968 and 1969, but there wasn't much left for him to say in '70, '71 and '72.

"The people weren't listening and we were in serious trouble."

"What turned the program around?" I asked.

"The first thing was the busing issue. Busing of schoolchildren was one area where people were willing to be polarized. When we realized what we had, we ran with it. People who wouldn't get involved suddenly joined up, and now, thanks to the Administration's position, we have more people at the end (Continued on page 8)

Soviet Needs Victory

By WILLIAM L. RYAN AP Special Correspondent

It is easy to envisage a set of circumstances that could make it impossible for President Nixon to go through with his visit to Moscow next month.

The latest mission of the peripatetic Henry A. Kissinger can arouse speculation that the current North Vietnamese offensive in South Vietnam could produce such circumstances.

There's evidence that neither Moscow nor Washington wants that to happen. Each seems eager for the summit to go on.

But the way the President's adviser announced his secret four-day stay in Moscow suggested that Vietnam was high on the list of subjects to be probed before the trip.

Moscow continues to advertise a determination to give North Vietnam and the Viet Cong "all necessary aid."

That aid has been enormous. Initial arrangements for the Nixon visit were made at a time of relative lull in Vietnam. The U.S. troop withdrawal program was proceeding on schedule.

When Nixon was about to visit China, a North Vietnamese military buildup was noted. It might have been expected that an offensive would come to embarrass the Chinese. It didn't happen.

What's going on? Kissinger could well ask. Why an offensive now, when it can embarrass the Russians? It has been going on almost a month and the North Vietnamese are believed capable of sustaining it for yet another month. Should it rack up a clear major victory and establish, say, a capital for the Viet Cong's Provisional Revolutionary Government that would make the Nixon visit almost impossible.

Would Hanoi deliberately set out to embarrass its protector and benefactor? Would the offensive have taken place if Moscow had warned against it? These are puzzling questions. Kissinger may not have received satisfactory answers. He adopted a Soviet device in describing the talks as "frank," which in Moscow would mean they got nowhere.

Trim Overseas Spending Plans

By ELMER ROESSNER Foreign affiliates of United States corporations substantially reduced their estimates of plant and equipment expenditures in 1971 and 1972 according to a U.S. Department of Commerce survey.

Six months ago the approximately 4,800 affiliates of 450 large American companies predicted they would invest $14.7 billion in 1971 and $16.1 billion in 1972. Half a year later, after the New Economic Policy foreign seizures, and an economic slowdown in Europe, they see $14.2 billion investments last year and $15.2 billion this year.

Although the new estimates represent a sizable retrenchment, total expenditures in 1971 will still be nine per cent above 1970 and expenditures in 1972 will be seven per cent above last year's.

The downward revisions were due largely to cuts by European manufacturing affiliates faced with unsettled business conditions and by Latin American mining and smelting affiliates, for obvious reasons.

With the current strength in oil demand, petroleum affiliates were able to turn in the best showing. Expenditures of $3.8 billion in 1970 are expected to rise to $4.7 billion for last year and to $5.1 billion this year. Both of these latest estimates were practically the only upward revisions.

ELMER ROESSNER

Geographically affiliates in Europe expect to spend most — $5.7 billion — for plant and equipment this year. This is a 14 per cent rise over 1971. Canada is next, with $3.2 billion planned for an 11 per cent increase. Expected investments of $1.7 billion in Latin American and other Western Hemisphere countries represent a six per cent increase over 1971. "Other areas" account for the rest of the planned investments.

What is surprising about the survey is not the fact that planned investments have been cut back, but that they have been cut back so little. In view of business conditions in the United States, which is a principal market for many of the affiliates, and the slowdown in Europe, an actual decline in spending would not be unreasonable.

Instead, affiliates' investments overall, and in most individual categories, will set new highs. Spending by mining will only equal the previous $1.7 billion record. The same is true for chemicals, at $1.3 billion. The lone decline is in transportation equipment where spending of $900,000 in both 1971 and 1972 is below the 1970 record of $1.1 billion.

Record Truck Sales Hint At Business Confidence Truck sales could well rise to a record high of about 2.5 million vehicles this year if manufacturers figure out a way to produce that many. Some 630,000 trucks were produced in the first quarter, up 22 per cent over the first quarter in 1971. Deliveries were approximately 600,000 trucks, a gain of 42 per cent.

The pace probably cannot be maintained, however. Summer plant shutdowns will reduce production and there is a squeeze on components, parts and supplies. Conceivably, more trucks could be turned out by converting some auto assembly lines to light trucks. But the change-over would be expensive. Besides, passenger car profits are generally higher because of higher markups and more accessories — and passenger cars are selling well.

If truck sales are an early sign of business's changing moods — as many think it is — then the current sales rate could indicate a bright economic outlook.

District DAV Session Here

A two-day District Commander's Conference will be held at the American Legion Hut

B.D. Johnson Life Member Of SA Board

B. D. Johnson of Greenville has been named a life member of the local Salvation Army Advisory Board, it was announced yesterday.

Capt. Al Smith made the announcement at the Advisory Board meeting yesterday at which several other certificates were presented in recognition of service to the Salvation Army.

The life membership on the board was presented to Johnson in recognition of his service to the Salvation Army over the years. In order to qualify for lifetime board membership, an individual first must serve on the local board for 15 years.

Certificates of appreciation were presented to Pitt County Sheriff Ralph Tyson and to representatives of local broadcasting stations in recognition of the cooperation given by the various agencies to the Salvation Army during the past year.

Declares May 1 'Loyalty Day'

Mayor S. Eugene West has declared May 1 as Loyalty Day in Greenville at the request of the Veterans of Foreign Wars. The setting aside of this day should be "an incentive for every true American to reaffirm publicly his and her love of flag and country; and I do urge that all individuals, schools, churches, organizations, business establishments and homes in Greenville display proudly the Flag of the United States of America and do participate in patriotic Loyalty Day activities," the Mayor said.

here Saturday and Sunday by the Department of North Carolina Disabled American Veterans.

Pitt County Chapter No. 37 will be hosts for the event, according to the conference chairman, Pitt County Commander Roland K. Smith. He said members will be in the lobby of the Holiday Inn here Saturday from 2 to 5 p.m. to answer questions by veterans who need assistance in such matters as disability compensation, pension, educational benefits for themselves, educational benefits for their wives or children, GI home loans, automobile allowances, etc. Anyone seeking this kind of information or wishing to join the DAV is invited to visit the conference on Saturday.

Eligibility for membership may be any of the following: all veterans who were wounded, gassed, injured, or disabled in the line of duty during time of war; all veterans who have been awarded the "Purple Heart"; all veterans with an SCD or CDD or BMS (medical discharge); all veterans who are receiving or

Their argument: failure to do so would demoralize Democrats around the country who, unlike Daley, have scrupulously and painfully followed the McGovern Commission guidelines. In effect, they argue, McGovern would be destroying his own creation.

A footnote: Typically, Daley's true opinion of McGovern is shielded from public views. Although his top lieutenants—consider McGovern a menace to the party, the Mayor himself has been friendlier. In 1969, he told McGovern that he guessed the 1972 nominee would be either George McGovern or Teddy Kennedy.

"That's fantastic," I said. "But we couldn't have done it with busing alone. The big breakthrough came when the President decided to bomb Hanoi and Hanoi. This woke up the students, it brought out the antiwar demonstrators, it split Congress and let to all the acrimonious gut reactions that had been buried for two years. But B-52 raids made everyone forget China and a possible detente with the Soviet Union. We managed to polarize the young people again."

"You've done a good job," I told Moody.

"The credit does not belong to me. It belongs to the President. Our agency can do just so much, but if the President doesn't back us with his decisions, Polarization just won't work."

"The Administration maintains it isn't the President but the media which is responsible for Polarization in this country. How do you explain that?" I asked.

"The President is a modest man. As long as Polarization is working, he doesn't care who gets the credit for it. If the American people want to believe that the press and TV news people are responsible for Polarization, it's perfectly all right with Mr. Nixon."

FORECAST FOR THURSDAY, APRIL 27, 1972

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Some venture has been proposed to you that is fine for you to enter into because it can bring excellent benefits in the near future. Gain the support of bigwigs for all of your projects. Use that kind, courteous manner you possess.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) If you butter up a family tie in a.m., you can then join with congenials later without worry or annoyance. Evening is excellent for entertaining kin. Don't forget to handle those vital business matters in the afternoon, though.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) If you schedule your routines well in a.m., you can follow through very intelligently, but be sure you do what kin expect of you in p.m. Make home more attractive then, too. Use that artistic sense you possess.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) You can handle monetary affairs well in a.m., so you have plenty of time left for fun things later with friends. Get in touch with supporters and gain their favors at this time. Use all that charm you possess.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Morning can be free from worry but later financial affairs crop up that need quick attention or you could lose minor or major sums. A business expert can give you excellent advice on how to handle that immediate problem. Listen.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) You are able to get the information now that will help you solve quickly and satisfactorily that problem that has been giving you a good deal of trouble. Forget practical matters in p.m. and have fun romantically. Dress well.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Good, devoted friends can help you gain personal aims that are important to you now. Accept invitations for the social affair you like and make your life richer and happier. Show you have excellent manners.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) You can get far better results now than for some time past whether it be in social, career or personal affairs, so start early, follow through. Bigwigs can give you the right advice you need. Contact them diplomatically.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) You have fine new ideas to discuss with key people, so forget that dull routine and do just that. Plan to make changes that are necessary. Also plan future trip you want to take. Preparedness makes it a success.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Your intuitive faculties are working exceptionally well and can be most helpful in handling all of your practical and personal affairs. More affection shown to loved one pays off well. Make duty a pleasure, which is what it should be.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY . . . he or she will be one of those fortunate young people who will want to cooperate with everyone he or she comes in contact with, and for this reason your child will never have any difficulty communicating with others and getting what is desired, honestly and properly. Lack will never be known in this lifetime, but the spirit of generosity must be taught early for best results. Religion fine.

Leonid Brezhnev, the party general secretary who is to meet with Nixon, set the tone March 20 in a notably mild speech that dwelt on the Soviet intention to "improve the political climate of the planet."

The Russians want the summit for a variety of weighty reasons, some connected with the economy. Perhaps the Vietnamese did, after all, deliber-

X-Ray Students Garner Honors

Two students of the Pitt Memorial Hospital School of Radiologic Technology won honors at the annual convention of the N.C. Society of Radiologic Technologists in Fayetteville last weekend.

Miss Lorna Jolly and Miss Karen Bagley were in competition with students x-ray technologists from hospitals all over the state. Miss Jolly's first place was for her exhibit on "Operative Hip Procedure." Besides displaying film showing pins, she had pictures taken in the operating room showing how insertion of pins is done, and pins in a display case. A senior at Pitt Memorial school, she is a graduate of Roseboro-Salem High School, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Jolly of near Clinton.

Miss Bagley presented a paper meeting. The exhibit behind them is Miss Jolly's first place entry. Miss Bagley won third place with an essay.

on "The Darkroom," which placed third in the student essay competition. Accompanying the reading with slides and films, she told of some darkroom do's and don'ts and how to manually process film. The daughter of Mrs. Wilma D. Bagley of Plymouth, she is a senior student, a graduate of Plymouth High School.

Certificates of recognition went to Mrs. Marlene W. Jones for her essay on "Stereoscopy for her essay on "Stereoscopy with the Use of Grids," and to Steve Jones for his exhibit, "Magnification and Distortion." Miss Sandra Harrison, R. T., chief technologist of the Pitt Memorial Radiology Department, was installed as secretary of the State Society.

Others who attended the four-day meeting included Staff Technologist Miss Grace Wallace; Assistant Chief Technologist Judy Rivenbark, and junior students, Bobby Carson and Miss Rita Harlow.

Conference Hears Hayes

"We've spent the last ten years in utter confusion with the public schools," said Barton Hayes, chairman of the vocational committee on the State Board of Education. "It's time for us to become concerned with what happens at the end of that busline."

Hayes spoke about career education to a group of 40 school administrators at East Carolina University's 14th annual Industrial and Technical Education Conference.

Hayes called for "a happy marriage between occupational teachers and general education teachers," saying that career education is neither academic or vocational, but encompasses both.

"We must motivate the student for some type of education," said Hayes. "It is the responsibility of school systems to serve every individual in that system and not let that kid drop out."

Hayes left the group with this challenge: "Say to the student that he can succeed, and show him that we will offer him something that will help."

Driver Injured In Accident Here

Robert Glenn Braxton, 18, of Route 2, Greenville was reported injured in an 8:40 p.m. collision here yesterday at the intersection of Fifth and Evans Streets.

Police said Braxton was injured when the car he was driving was involved in a collision with vehicles operated by Joseph Junior Taft, 18, of 903 Legion St. and Henry Frank Milligan, 23, of Route 9, Goldsboro.

Damage was estimated at $500 to the Taft Car, $1,000 to the Braxton auto and $300 to the Milligan car.

Milligan was charged by investigators with failing to reduce his speed enough to avoid an accident.

Police Depart High School

The phasedown of police on hand at Rose High School was completed yesterday as the school operated a full day without police on hand to monitor the school.

Principal Robert Allgood said that as a precautionary method he had requested police to be present for the beginning of the school day Monday. After all remained quiet, the number on hand Monday was cut down to three, and none reported to the school on Tuesday.

American Revolution II In The Hands Of Every N.C. County Official

By H. G. Jones, Director
N.C. Dept. of Archives
RALEIGH (AP) — "American Revolution II," described by Gov. Bob Scott as a plan to "make history come alive and relate itself to the present and future," is now in the hands of officials in every North Carolina county.

Issued by the North Carolina American Revolution Bicentennial Commission, the booklet contains a recommended plan for appropriately commemorating the bicentennial of the American Revolution, the founding of the state of North Carolina, and the establishment of the republic of the United States.

The initial master plan spans the years 1972-1989 corresponding to the period of the American Revolution 200 years ago. The commission views the Revolution as much more than just the War for Independence. It is defined as a series of events which aimed at the restoration and preservation of American liberties under adequate constitutional safeguards.

In North Carolina, this process is considered to have begun in August, 1774, with the convening of the First Provincial Congress at New Bern, and to have ended in 1789 with the adoption of the federal constitution. President Nixon officially declared the opening of the national bi-centennial era on July 3, 1971.

A basic premise of the North Carolina bicentennial plan is that the commemoration must be much more than a mere recounting and celebration of past events. It aspires, in fact, to rekindle the spirit of the American Revolution and to put that force to work for present-day benefits.

The proposal divides the bicentennial era into four phases: The first, called the "overture," encompasses the years from now until 1976 and is viewed as a time for gathering facts, making plans, and considering various alternatives. "It is a time of looking to the past for guidance, and a time of looking to the future for hope," according to the report. Phase I asks the people of North Carolina to enter the same sort of process in history as our ancestors did 200 years ago. "In those days," the plan states, "men spoke with concern for the pursuit of happiness," an expression which we would more easily recognize as "improving the quality of life."

Phase II, called the "Year of Declarations," will take place during 1976. At that time it is suggested that state, county, and city governments, business, associations, etc., recommit themselves in a tangible way — with specific programs — to the same principles and necessary sacrifices as did our forebearers 200 years earlier. Target dates for the completion of specific goals or projects are suggested to coincide with the bicentennial date of significant events of the American Revolution.

Phase III, or "Competition 200," covers the years 1976 to 1989, the period of impelling and completing plans. As goals declared in 1976 are attained, "appropriate ceremonies may be planned which will simultaneously honor an achievement of the revolutionary past and celebrate an achievement of the twentieth century present." An example is cited that "On October 17, 1977, the 200th anniversary of the great American victory at Saratoga, some North Carolina community might open a new hospital or park; a historical society might dedicate a restored building or site marker; the state might open a new highway; or a school might inaugurate a new program in historical studies." Central to the whole idea is that individuals and organizations will be able to function in good-natured and mutually beneficial competition, both with each other and with the people of the revolutionary generation.

Phase IV, the "Finale," envisions for 1989 a celebration "unequaled in scope of justification." That year will mark the conclusion of 200 years of the Republic of the United States, the bicentennial of the inauguration of Washington, of the first Congress of the republic, of the first sitting of the Supreme Court, and of North Carolina's ratification of the federal constitution.

The initial bicentennial plan is offered primarily as one of general guidance to counties, municipalities, and other organizations. It emphasizes that "control of local bicentennial programs ought to remain in local hands, both as a matter of principle and as a means of insuring an interesting diversity of programs across the state."

Bowles Raises 'Dixie Mafia' As Campaign Target

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Hargrove "Skipper" Bowles, who is seeking the Democratic nomination for governor, says North Carolina has a Dixie Mafia, "less, sophisticated but just as ruthless as its older cousin."

As one means of attacking these criminal elements, he proposed a local, state and federal program of upgrading the salaries of law enforcement officers, to at least $6,000 a year for rookies and a minimum of $14,000 for a department head or police chief.

He said he would ask the next General Assembly for $2 million from surplus funds for that purpose, and would seek another $2 million from local governments and $4 million in federal money for a two-year upgrading program.

He said a police chief or a sheriff may now make as little as $4,200.

Bowles also said he understood that another Democratic gubernatorial candidate, Lt. Gov. Pat Taylor, took a poll last week and "had a little shock" when he found that Bowles was out in front. Voters want to back a winner. So political candidates are saying, "I'm the one."

Jim Gardner, who is seeking Republican nomination for governor, was admittedly confident of victory as he campaigned in the populous Piedmont today.

Wilbur Hobby, president of the state AFL-CIO, says he is running second, behind Taylor, in the six-man field for the Democratic nomination for governor.

Hobby said his belief is based "on what people we've met have told us."

And second-place probably would not be a loser, because no candidate in the large field is likely to get a majority, making a runoff between the highest two necessary.

Another of the six, Dr. Reginald Hawkins, a black Charlotte dentist, has said he will surprise many people when the votes of the May 6 primary are counted. He pointed to what he said were an additional 100,000 blacks put on the books in a vote registration drive.

Taylor and Hobby crossed paths at the University of North Carolina in Chapel Hill Tuesday. Hobby asked Taylor why he has not spoken out on the Vietnam war. Taylor replied, "I hope those in Washington are trying to terminate this bloody conflict." He added that he believed the war is not a pertinent issue in the gubernatorial election.

Rep. Nick Galifianakis, who is seeking to unseat Sen. B. Everett Jordan in the Democratic primary, also spoke to students, and stuck to issues close

Conservationist Fund For Israel Sets Project

NEW YORK (AP) — A fund to aid Israel's conservation programs will turn a number of animals mentioned in the Bible but no longer found in the Holy Land.

Benjamin Wechsler, president of the new Holy Land Conservation Fund, Inc., an American organization, said Wednesday that returning the unique animals to Israel will be the fund's first project.

He said Israel has established 75 nature reserves, two of which have been designated as breeding grounds for the animals.

Many of the animals are on the verge of extinction and will have to be purchased from zoos, Wechsler said. Among them are the adda, Nubian ibex, Arabian and Sahara oryx and onager.

In 1971, a total of 6,006 ships moved in and out of the St. Lawrence Seaway.

to them. He said he had consistently voted to grant the franchise to 18-year-olds, while Jordan had voted against this at first, and only in favor after he decided to run for re-election.

Jordan was among scores of dignitaries who attended funeral services in Haw River Tuesday for Mrs. Mary Scott, mother of Gov. Bob Scott and widow of Gov. W. Kerr Scott.

Jim Holshouser, Gardner's rival for the Republican nomination for governor, scored a first. His supporters sponsored what old-times called the first Republican primary election rally in Catawba County in a quarter century. It was a fish fry in the Balls Creek precinct Tuesday night. Holshouser told cheering adherents the Republicans will win the governorship this fall "if we give the people the right kind of choice."

MANILA (UPI) — An associate justice of the Philippines' Supreme Court laments what he calls "rampant dishonesty in our government today."

As the Republican battle for nomination to the Senate enters its final 10 days, the three candidates are concentrating their efforts in the vote-heavy Piedmont. They are William Booe, Charlotte lawyer; Jesse Helms, television editorialist from Raleigh; and Rep. James Johnson of Concord.

Booe has been a foe of busing during his year and a half on the Charlotte-Mecklenburg school board. He told Jaycees in the Forsyth County town of Lewisville Tuesday night that school boards should tell the courts: "We can't comply (with court-ordered busing) because we don't have the money."

The candidate said also that he doesn't believe in setting a date to end the war "as long as we have prisoners and as long as men are dying over there." He added that he feels President Nixon is doing "an excellent job of bringing the boys home now and if we were to totally pull out we would be left without any bargaining power and I would hate to think what would happen to our POW's."
Sam D. Bundy, incumbent candidate for one of the two seats in the State House of Representatives, said that he would support a tax increase for educational funding "if it can be proved to be necessary."
"I'm in favor of any good thing that we can do for schools and kindergartens and universities, matter of fact, I supported the increase in kindergarten funds in the past general assembly. I supported the funding of the one-year medical school and hope it will go to two," he noted.

He added that he is also interested in trying to curtail the crime rate. The correctional institutions need to be changed from confinement and punishment to rehabilitation and treatment, he said, "so when the offenders are released they can make a worthwhile contribution to society."
Republican candidate for the House of Representatives, Frank Steinbeck of Greenville contended that a businessman is needed in Raleigh. He labeled himself a "progressive conservative" who wants to see a "dollar returned for each dollar spent."
Steinbeck said that he supports more adequate salaries for teachers and less student loans for them. He also advocated the necessity of good vocational programs. "We need to do everything we can to get people educated."
The candidate, who is making his third bid for a House seat, noted that only 35 per cent of the 18-25 year old group in North Carolina go to college. "We rank 46th in that category."

R. E. Roberson, a Republican candidate for the House, said that "one important thing that we have to have in Eastern North Carolina is industry. If we don't have industry, we don't have a tax base large enough to support any of the programs we desire. We don't have jobs for poor people and consequently we have a continuous drain on our state dollars to support these people," he remarked.
Roberson said that, if elected to the legislature, he would hope to put through a bill "which would take the present money, the state's portion of welfare and support industry by subsidizing it for any person that they hire from the unemployment rolls for a period of 12 months."
He said that it would attract more new industry to the state, create new jobs and insure a larger tax base.
Democratic incumbent County Commissioner, R. L. Martin of Bethel, who is unopposed in his bid for district two seat on the commission, said that it is of "real interest to you as a citizen of Pitt County...that we vote for the $150 million bond issue" on May 6 in order that "we may have clean water and clear streams."

Martin said that something should be worked out in the way of recreation for the county but "we have to look at the total county as a whole."
Mrs. Elvira Allred, candidate for reelection to the Register of Deeds post, pointed out that she had served in the Pitt office for 20 years, the last ten as Register. She discussed the role of the office and invited interested citizens to "come by and see us."
She explained that the jury list is compiled from the tax scroll and voting register. A jury commission, consisting of 20 persons, selects the jury, Mrs. Allred noted.
The Rev. O. O. James Rooks, a Democrat who is opposing Mrs. Allred in the May 6 primary, said that the Register of Deeds job would "give me more money to help more people and that's all I'm concerned about."

He noted that he has a certificate to teach religious education from Shaw University "and I do that every week and every day. I work with people and I'm only concerned about people."
Mrs. Willie Mae Carney, Bethel, a candidate for a seat on the Pitt County School Board, said that she favors a better educational program for the schools and urged better support for the school board from the public. She said that she favors a substantial vocational occupational program in the city schools.
School Board candidate, Edward Carter of Greenville, said that parents have the responsibility for instilling discipline and we need to work on discipline from day to day.
William T. Edwards of Grimesland noted that he is interested in "better education

Girl Jumped From A Moving Vehicle

A 19-year-old Greenville girl — an East Carolina University coed — received bruises and abrasions when she jumped from a car on Jarvis Street near the Third Street intersection last night.
Greenville police department investigators reported Carlo Ruth Joyner, 1611 Sulgrave Rd., apparently jumped from the vehicle to foil a possible abduction attempt.

According to Chief Glenn Cannon, Miss Joyner reported that she was hitchhiking a ride on Fifth Street at the Reade Street intersection about 9 p.m. when a lone male stopped. She said she accepted the ride but when she asked to be let out of the vehicle at the intersection of Fifth and Jarvis Streets, the man refused to stop.

Instead, she alleged, her abductor turned north on Jarvis Street and continued to refuse to stop the car.
Miss Joyner said as she was about to jump from the vehicle near the Jarvis and Third Street intersection the driver of the car struck her on the back of the head.
Investigation of the incident is underway.

Tribute To J.H. Rose

A Memorial tribute to the late Junius Harris Rose, for 47 years until his retirement in June 1967 the Superintendent of Greenville City Schools, was unanimously adopted by the Greenville City School Board at their April meeting on Tuesday night.

"For more than 50 years, he actively and fervently demonstrated his love of and belief in young people — and the capability of civilization to improve itself through education," the resolution notes.

"...The spirit of J.H. Rose is now and will remain with us and with the thousands of children who attended the Greenville City Schools in almost the half century of his leadership..."

"Truly," the resolution concludes, "both by precept and example, he gave to everyone a glimpse of the meaning of the joy of life, the satisfaction of reaching for excellence, and the enrichment of life through the best of education."

The memorial tribute also contains a brief summary of Rose's career, including his military service in World War I.

quantity of meats and other merchandise was reported missing by the owner. Some of the merchandise was recovered, including the cash register.

Sheriff Tyson noted that the three men, who are in Pitt County Jail, were on probation at the time of their arrests following trials here on school bombing charges.

Arrest Trio For Break-In

The Pitt County Sheriff's Department has arrested three area men in connection with an April 15 break-in at a Rt. 3, Ayden business.

Sheriff Ralph Tyson said that deputies arrested Bill Bright, 19 of Rt. 1, Ayden; Henry Earl Bullock, 17 of 214 Perkins Street, Greenville; and Jimmy Ray Carmon, 22 of Rt. 3, Ayden on charges of breaking, entering and larceny of the W.I. Jackson service station and grocery.

Sheriff Tyson said the three are all under $3,000 bond and a hearing will be scheduled in District Court here.

He reported that some $2,471 in merchandise and equipment was stolen from the business, including a cash register valued at $1,500 and a credit card machine, valued at approximately $30. In addition, a

East Carolina University basketball coach Tom Quinn will be offered a new three-year contract at a press conference tomorrow morning it was learned today by the Daily Reflector.

Quinn, who has just completed his sixth season as head coach of the Pirates, will be offered a three-year pact calling for a reported $16,000 per year. In addition, three more scholarships will be added to the Pirate program.

Officials at the university, including Dr. Leo Jenkins, president, and Quinn, refused to discuss the purpose of the conference, called for 10 a.m. Thursday by the university. They did admit that it pertained to basketball.

Dr. and Mrs. Jenkins entertained the basketball team for dinner at their home last night, and it was rumored at the time that an announcement would be made of the contract, however, it was decided to postpone the announcement until Thursday.

Quinn, whose team won its first Southern Conference tournament championship, this year, came to East Carolina from High Point College six years ago following the resignation of Wendell Carr. He was honored in 1969, when his team posted its first winning season here as "Southern Conference Coach of the Year." That year, the Bucs posted a 17-11 record, finishing second in the conference.

They also finished second in 1970, and were third in 1971. The Bucs finished fourth this year in a tough conference race, and then went on to beat The Citadel, regular season winner Davidson, and host team Furman in the tournament in Greenville, S.C. in early March.

The following week, the Pirates participated in their first NCAA competition, bowing to Villanova in a hard-fought contest. Medals of participation in the NCAA Tournament were presented to the team members during the dinner last night.

Ayden-Grifton Rolls Past North Pitt; Stays Close To Loop Top

AYDEN — Ayden-Grifton High School stayed hot on the heels of the Eastern Carolina Conference lead with a 12-7 victory over North Pitt's Panthers last night.

The game was a home-run contest at time, as four were hit, three by the Panthers.

But by the time they got their homers, the game was almost out of reach.

Ayden-Grifton, now 10-2 in Eastern Carolina play, pushed over five runs in the first inning. Ken Cleaton singled and moved up on a passed ball. Doug Phillips singled, bringing Cleaton across. Phillips advanced on an out and scored on Donnie Moore's single. Tom Craft reached on an error and Johnny Willis unleded the first of the game's homers for the 5-0 lead.

In the second, the Chargers came up with five more runs. Cleaton walked and Phillips reached on an error. Dale Manning walked, loading the bases. Doubles by Moore and Craft brought in four runs, and Willis singled to score Craft with the fifth. That made it 10-0.

North Pitt got in on the scoring in the top of the third, as Rick Harrell got the first Panther homer, with no one aboard.

Ayden-Grifton came up with two runs in the third to close out their scoring. Moore reached on an error, moving to second on the play. He scored on Craft's single. Willis and Horace Tripp followed with hits, scoring Craft with the 12th A-G run.

EDENTON — Edenton's Aces handed the Williamston High School Tigers their first loss in the Albemarle Conference yesterday, 6-5.

The game was close all the way, with two last inning runs giving the victory to Edenton.

Winning pitcher Swicegood allowed Williamston only two hits, but had trouble with his control. He struck out six Tigers but walked 11.

Williamston moved into the lead in the game with a run in the second. Vann Andrews walked and Rock Cherry reached on a fielder's choice, moving Andrews to third. Andrews then scored on Jimmy Raiford's sacrifice fly.

Williamston tied it up with one in the fifth, but Edenton went back ahead with two in the bottom of the inning to lead 4-2. Williamston again tied it with two in the sixth.

Then, in the top of the seventh, Williamston moved ahead again with a run. Cherry walked and Raiford singled. Joe Roberson walked to load the bases and Mike Weaver got another free pass, forcing in Cherry for a 5-4 Tiger lead.

But it didn't last. Edenton came up with two more to gain the victory. Furlough tripled and scored when Bunch reached on an error. Brothers then singled in Bunch, ending the game.

Aaron Cracks 642nd Homer

By KEN RAPPOPORT

Associated Press Sports Writer
Home run No. 642 was a little more tasty for Hank Aaron. It was dished up by Bob Gibson.

"That's probably the last fast ball I'll see from him this year," said Aaron after his two-run shot helped the Atlanta Braves bomb the St. Louis Cardinal ace 9-3 Tuesday night.

Gibson, who rarely grooves one for hitters, threw one down the middle on an apparent "take" pitch—a 3-0 count. "He was just trying to put it down," said Aaron. "You've got to take advantage of Gibby when he throws one like that."

The home run, Aaron's third this year, moved him another step closer to Babe Ruth's lifetime record of 714. The Braves' star currently is in third place, four behind San Francisco's Willie Mays.

In the other National League games, the Pittsburgh Pirates defeated the Cincinnati Reds 5-2 in 13 innings; the Houston Astros trimmed the Chicago Cubs 5-4; the New York Mets beat the San Diego Padres 2-1; the Los Angeles Dodgers turned back the Montreal Expos 6-1 and the Philadelphia Phillies blanked the San Francisco Giants 3-0.

Aaron's two-run blast gave the Braves a 6-0 lead after two innings. Earl Williams highlighted a four-run rally in the first with a two-run shot over the left field fence.

Aaron, coming out of an early slump, has collected five hits in his last three games and raised his average to .176.

The Pirates won their game with a dramatic, three-run homer by Richie Hebner with two out in the 13th. Only a couple of thousand fans were left by that time as temperatures dropped into the mid-30s in Three Rivers Stadium.

The blast unlocked a 2-2 tie that existed from the third inning. Roberto Clemente walked to open the 13th, advanced to second after two were out on a wild pitch, and remained there while Manny Sanguillen was intentionally walked so Gibbon could get at the lefty-hitting Hebner.

Pitcher Jerry Reuss scored the winning run in the seventh inning and earned his second victory of the season with a five-hitter as Houston beat Chicago. Lee May slugged his fourth homer for the Astros, a two-run smash in the fourth.

Buzz Capra and Chuck Taylor combined on a six-hitter and the New York Mets bounced from behind with two unearned runs in the seventh inning.

Frank Robinson knocked in two runs with a double and a single and Willie Crawford slammed a home run as Los Angeles turned back Montreal. Don Sutton allowed five hits for the Dodgers before he was forced from the game when hit by a line drive in the eighth inning.

Steve Carlton shackled San Francisco on one hit—a leadoff single up the middle to Chris Speier—to lead Philadelphia over the Giants. The big left-hander struck out 14 to record his second straight shutout.

Nets Seek Tie Series

UNIONDALE, N.Y. (AP) — Rebounding could be the crucial factor if the New York Nets hope to tie their best-of-7 American Basketball Association Eastern Division playoffs tonight against the Virginia Squires.

The Nets trail Virginia 2-1 in the series after Rick Barry's layup with eight seconds left lifted New York to a 119-117 victory Monday night.

The game was close throughout and the Squires mauled the Nets under the boards, 64-44.

"We can't get beat off the boards that way and hope to win again," Nets' Coach Lou Carnesecca said after his team reviewed films of the game Tuesday.

Squires rookie standout Julius Erving pulled down 22 caroms, but was handcuffed in the second half due to the close defensive efforts of Ollie Taylor. Erving poured in 27 points in the first half but managed only four in the second under Taylor's scrutiny. Barry and John Roche sparked New York with 25 points each while Billy Paultz chipped in 23 and Bill Melchioni, playing for the first time since he suffered a broken hand March 25 against the Utah Stars, added 20.

Press Maravich Gets Cage Post At Appalachian Succeeding Steele

BOONE, N.C. (AP) — Press Maravich, a major-college basketball coach for 22 years, has been named head coach at Appalachian State University, becoming the Southern Conference school's third head basketball coach in less than two months.

Announcement of the appointment was made late Tuesday night by Athletic Director Roy Clogston.

Maravich, 51, has held similar posts at Clemson and North Carolina State of the Atlantic Coast Conference and more recently at Louisiana State University, where he was dismissed at the end of last season.

At Appalachian State, Maravich succeeds Jerry Steele, who resigned last Friday. Steele had been named in early March to succeed veteran Bob Light, who stepped down to return to full-time teaching in Appalachian State's Department of Health and Physical Education.

"Appalachian is moving into major college status in athletics and the Southern Conference is a tough basketball league," Maravich said from his home at Baton Rouge, La. "This job really offers a great challenge. The school had first class facilities and Roy Clogston is one of the finest persons I have ever known."

Clogston said of Maravich, "He's one of the best basketball coaches I know. He will make basketball history at Appalachian."

During his six years at LSU in the Southeastern Conference, Maravich's teams compiled a record of 75 victories and 63 defeats. His team finished last season with a 10-16 mark.

One of his most apt pupils at LSU was his own son, Pistol Pete, who became the nation's collegiate scoring leader and a first team All-America, as well as earning other basketball accolades. The younger Maravich plays now for the Atlanta Hawks of the National Basketball Association.

The elder Maravich coached for several years at Clemson. He left in the early 1960s to become assistant coach at North Carolina State under the late Everett Case, who was often credited with bringing big time basketball to North Carolina.

Maravich stepped into Case's shoes as head coach at N.C. State. His 1964 team won the ACC championship and advanced to the Eastern Regionals.

The lone Rose victory came in the number three doubles, where Steve Rogers and Mont Wooten tok the victory.

Crucial Congressional Primaries In 3 Districts

By YGONNE BASKIN
Associated Press Writer
RALEIGH (AP) — Important primary battles are being waged in three North Carolina congressional districts where incumbents are retiring and in the 2nd District, where the dean of the state's delegation is facing a spirited challenge from a black candidate.

In all there will be eight primaries, three Republican and five Democratic, on May 6 in six of the states' 11 congressional districts.

Congressman who are not seeking re-election are Democratic Rep. Alton Lennon in the 7th District, Republican Rep. Charles R. Jonas in the 9th and Democratic Rep. Nick Galifianakis in the 4th. Galifianakis is seeking the Senate seat now held by B. Everett Jordan.

Three Fayetteville lawyers are running hard for the Democratic nomination to the seat being vacated by Lennon, a 16-year veteran. Two Republicans are seeking their party's nomination for the 7th District seat.

The Democrats are Charles G. Rose III, Doran Berry and Hector McGeachy. Rose, former chief prosecutor for the Cumberland and Hoke County district courts, is making his second try at the post. He collected 44 per cent of the vote in a primary battle against Lennon in 1970.

Rose has never stopped campaigning and in the two years since his loss to Lennon has continued to move around the district talking to local politicians, farmers and civic groups. He also ran a monthly television show outlining the history of each county in the six-county district.

Berry, 42, is a former Superior Court solicitor for Cumberland and Hoke counties and is best known for his fight against drugs and his efforts to establish drug rehabilitation programs in Cumberland County.

McGeachy, 59, a 10-year veteran and former president pro-tem of the state Senate, entered the race after withdrawing from the contest for attorney general.

In the district's Republican primary, William M. Nixon of Barnesville is opposing Jerry C. Scott of Whiteville. Nixon, 44, calls himself a self-employed education consult and businessman.

Scott, 33, is former finance director of the state Republican party and managed the unsuccessful 1970 congressional campaign of R. Frank Everet.

The largest primary field in the state is in the 4th District, where six Democrats are seeking the nomination to Galifianakis' seat. The winner will face Jack Hawke of Raleigh, the lone Republican candidate in the November general election.

The Democrats are Charles D. Bullock, a mobile home dealer from Knightdale and a backer of Alabama Gov. George Wallace; state Sen. Jyles J. Coggins of Raleigh; former legislator Archie McMillan of Raleigh; former Durham Mayor R. Wense Grabarek; state Rep. Ike F. Andrews of Siler City; and Raleigh attorney and former congressional aide William A. Creech.

The 9th District, like the 7th, will hold both Democratic and Republican primaries for Congress. Republicans Graem Yates of Charlotte and James G. Martin of Davidson are vying for the seat being vacated by Jonas.

Martin, 35, is on the Mecklenburg County Board of Commissioners and is an associate professor of chemistry at Davidson College. He was chairman of the Board of Commissioners in 1967 and 1971 and is former president of the North Carolina Association of County Commissioners.

Martin was also founder and first head of the Central Piedmont Regional Council of Governments and was a backer of city-county consolidation in Mecklenburg County.

Yates is president of Graem Yates Marketing and director of the North Carolina Camellia Society.

The Democratic race in the 9th District pits state Rep. Jim Beatty against Jack H. Firpo, both of Charlotte.

Beatty, 37, is a three-term legislator and former University of North Carolina track star who in 1962 became the first man to run the indoor mile in less than four minutes. Firpo, 53, is executive assistant to the executive vice president of Francolor Ink, a firm which imports textile dyes from France.

In the 2nd District the dean of the state's congressional delegation, Rep. L. H. Fountain of Tarboro, is being challenged for the Democratic nomination by Mayor Howard N. Lee of Chapel Hill. The winner will face Republican Erick P. Little of Wilson in November.

Lee, 37, was one of the first blacks to be elected mayor of a predominantly white Southern town. The son of a Georgia sharecropper, Lee is a former vice chairman of the state Democratic party and is now human development director at Duke University. He is serving his second term as mayor.

Fountain, a 20-year veteran of the House, grew up in the rural 12-county district he serves. His last primary opponent, eva Clayton of Warranton in 1968, was also black. He defeated her.

Lee has been stumping hard throughout the district and puts his hopes for winning on increased registration of blacks and young people.

In the 3rd District, a 26-year-old vocational rehabilitation counselor, Joseph Edwards of Mt. Olive, is seeking to unseat six-term incumbent Rep. David Henderson of Wallace in the Democratic primary.

Edwards is campaigning hard, including a 160-mile walk from Sanford to Jacksonville across the length of the nine-county district. Henderson, who fought off Republican challenges with hard campaigning in 1968 and 1970, is not taking Edwards' bid too seriously and kept his campaign low key.

The winner of the primary will face no opposition in the general election since no Republican filed in the 3rd District.

Two Republicans are running in the 1st District for the chance to oppose incumbent Democrat Walter B. Jones of Farmville in November.

The two are Mack Howard, 32, a Greenville lawyer and J. Jordan Bonner, 26, of Hartford, who works with the President's Council to Hire Veterans. Howard resigned in January as legislative counsel to the secretary of the Army on congressional matters.

Cow Goes With Owner To School

ROCKFORD, Ill. (AP) — Both cow and students were hesitant when Jeff Mowers, 17, brought his Golden Bell to school for a get-acquainted session. But curiosity got the better of them and they drew closer.

Mowers said his cow won "First Udder" a few years ago during a 4-H exhibit.

Rome Plans Tax Inquiry Free Transit Paying Off

ROME (UPI) — Beginning April 30 bus rides will be free in Rome during the hours of 6 to 8:30 a.m., in an effort by city authorities to unjam what are widely regarded as the worst traffic jams in Europe. At the end of May free busing will be extended to the evening rush hours, from 5 to 8 p.m. Bus fares have been the equivalent of nine cents. Along with free rides the city fathers have pledged quick and efficient bus service will be provided. To speed bus travel three major avenues running through the city will be reserved for buses only.

Rome's 2.7 million inhabitants operate 1.6 million autos, a concentration that in recent years has at times stopped traffic completely in the city center.

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — The Internal Revenue Service says it has established back tax debts of up to $60 million in its crackdown on fraudulent commercial tax preparers.

Regional Commissioner W. J. Bookholt said Tuesday investigation in seven Southeastern states has revealed back tax debts of $50-$60 million in returns prepared by 536 commercial taxmen.

Bookholt said the returns of as many as 200,000 taxpayers have been erroneously prepared and may have cost the government as much as $100 million.

The assistant regional commissioner in charge of intelligence, E. J. Vitkus, said more than 20,000 amended returns have been filed since the crackdown began. Vitkus said that figure is more than twice the normal number.

Vitkus said most of the fraud-cases involve nonreporting of outside income and the claiming of nonexistent dependents.

The IRS has announced that prosecutions are pending against 36 tax preparers in the Southeast and other prosecutions will be initiated shortly.

Harvard Fellowship For ECU Grad And Greenville Resident

Marion Glenn Creath of Greenville, an honors graduate student in the School of Business, East Carolina University, has been awarded a doctoral fellowship for study at the Harvard University graduate school of business

M. G. CREATH administration and in Switzerland.

Creath, who has an outstanding academic record at ECU, will enter the doctoral program at Harvard in September. He also has elected to accept an International Teachers Program awarded by Harvard which increases the fellowship stipend to $2,000 plus air fare and expenses to Geneva, Switzerland.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Creath Sr., Little Rock, Ark., Creath was awarded a fellowship in the ECU School of Business for 1971-72. He is the first ECU graduate student to receive on the coveted Harvard fellowships.

Creath attended the U. S. Military Academy at West Point, 1950-54, and was graduated with a class standing of 15th of 635. He served three years as a lieutenant in the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers at Ft. Campbell, Ky., and in Munich, Germany. In 1957, he was named facilities engineer for Corning Glass Works, Corning, N.Y., and was advanced to senior process engineer. In 1963, he became senior process for the E. I. DuPont Polyester Fiber Plant at Kinston.

Since 1963, Creath and his family have made their home in Greenville. In 1969 he became senior industrial engineer of the DuPont plant operations at Kinston.

Creath said the decision to accept the Harvard fellowship "perhaps meant a great sacrifice." He is married to the former Mary Lou Denn of Lake George, N. Y., and they have four children, aged six to 16. "I hope to go into teaching, and want very much to teach," Creath said. He expects that the doctoral program will require about three years to complete.

Stepping Stone For Executives

NEW YORK (AP) — Dr. Margaret Henning, associate professor of business at Simmons College, in a recent pioneering study was able to locate only 110 women who have achieved top management positions in fields not considered traditionally female.

The career patterns of these successful women, as she tells businessmen in a recent issue of Time-Life Audio's "The Executive Voice," demonstrated an extraordinary consistency. Now in their mid-50's, all began as executive secretaries and rose to an administrative position before reaching the executive suite.

Drought For W. Germans

By HOWARD A. TYNER BONN (UPI)—West Germany hopes for rain—lots of it—this spring and summer.

The reason is a severe lack of precipitation dating back to December, 1970, which has brought near-drought conditions to some parts of the country. Vital river traffic has been upset, farmers' crops threatened and drinking water supplies cut sharply from Switzerland to the Baltic Sea. Already shortages have cost millions of dollars. Officials predict the bill is likely to go higher.

The Federal Weather Bureau in Offenbach estimates rainfall in West Germany during 1971 was only 35 per cent of normal. The past winter, snow was almost non-existent, with weeks of unseasonably warm sunshine and temperatures 30 and 40 degrees above normal. Mouse Peril Seen

The effects have been many and varied. In Bavaria, hordes of field mice—usually drowned in the melting snow—survived the mild winter and pose a threat to crops. Public swimming pools in Wuppertal have been closed and in Dusseldorf shopkeepers report a run on room deodorizers local residents use to combat the pervasive stench of the Rhine River, which stands at a near-record low.

"If this keeps up, we'll have a pretty grim summer," said Bert Winterscheid, business manager for a Bonn-based ferry service whose boats can't tie up at half their scheduled stops because the docks are too high and dry.

Nowhere is the lack of water more evident than in the Rhine. At Cologne's South Bridge, the channel has been reduced to less than 200 feet, leaving swaths of rock-strewn, bleached river bed 100 feet wide on either side.

At Kaub, a narrow neck of the river farther south, the water is only two feet deep. Usually at this time of year it stands at 6 1/2 feet there.

The shallow water has forced barges to cut their loads by two-thirds and reduce speed drastically. Consequently, freight rates have risen sharply.

Health authorities in the south fear typhus may be spread by foul rivers. To the north, forest fires threaten. Drinking Water Crisis

Also serious is the drinking water problem. At least 20 communities, mostly east of Cologne, have been affected severely.

The State of Northrhine-Westphalia's 59 water reservoirs are only 45 per cent full. The government already has had to build a 15-mile pipeline to get water to one stricken community.

The Rhine provides drinking water for 20 million Germans. But so low and slow-moving is the river that at the Dutch border only 920 cubic meters of water now flow by every second. That is roughly one-third normal.

Northrhine-Westphalia officials announced recently they were spending 50 million marks ($15 million) to improve water supplies and said another 25 million marks would be needed to finance emergency measures.

Other states face similarly high expenses.

Weather forecasters are unable to predict when the drought will end. A typical wry comment came from Albert Cappel of the Offenbach Weather Bureau: "It has to end some time."

Dogs Welcomed In Classrooms

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP) — Northwestern University has taken to the presence of dogs in classrooms.

"It's good to see the kids relaxed about something," said Bergen Evans, professor of English.

Evans, who owned a black cocker spaniel for 18 years, said most of the dogs sit peacefully beside their masters and rarely cause more than a few moments' disturbance.

President Nixon has three dogs. They are King Timahoe, an Irish setter; Vicki, a gray poodle, and Pasha, a Yorkshire terrier.

The bidding:

 1 ♠ 2 ♥ 3 ♠ Pass
 4 ♠ Pass Pass Pass

Opening lead: King of ♠
 On a day when declarer consistently loses his finesses, it is difficult to show a profit—however, South's failure to land his four spade contract may be charged more accurately to "not keeping his powder dry."

West opened the king of hearts and South won the first trick with the ace. He led a small club from his hand and finessed North's ten, losing to the king. East promptly shifted to a diamond. Declarer played the seven from his hand and West put up the king. He cashed the queen of hearts to complete the defensive book. When the spade finesse was taken subsequently and lost, South conceded himself to be down by one—muttering something about his bad fortune in finding three kings all unfavorably located.

While North agreed that the cards were indeed misplaced, he contended that declarer could have improved his prospects by allowing West to hold the first trick. If West continues with another heart, South takes the second round with the ace and then ruffs a heart to enter dummy for the spade finesse. West is not in position to shift profitably to diamonds himself, so he must exit with either a spade or a club.

When South finesses in clubs, East will presumably play a diamond, but now declarer is in full charge. He puts up the ace, draws any trumps which may be outstanding and then runs the clubs and discards his remaining diamonds.

While it is true that declarer can be defeated on the deal if East has both the king and jack of diamonds and West shifts to that suit either time he is on lead—South can do nothing to avert his fate with both black kings unfavorably located. The advantage gained in ducking the first round of hearts is that East can be kept out of the lead for an early diamond shift which may prove fatal if West has the king of that suit.

Assuming that South permits West to hold the first trick and the latter shifts to a club, declarer should refuse the finesse and play the ace from dummy. The queen of spades is put thru—losing to the king, however if West continues a club to East's king, South is once more in position to assume control since he retains the ace of diamonds and both of the black kings have been dislodged.

N.C. Prisoners Add To Savings In Work Release

By REESE HART
Associated Press Writer
RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — Many of the 1,300 prisoners under North Carolina's work-release program have saved more than $1,000 each from their outside employment.

One has accumulated $4,931 another $3,885 and a few have saved more than $2,000. "The inmates accumulated this after they had met their financial obligation to the Correction Commission and to their families," said L.W. Barrett, director of the state's work release program.

The prisoners earned a total of more than $3.5 million last year, Barrett said. North Carolina, a pioneer in work release, put the program into effect on a limited scale in 1957.

Today, it is regarded as one of the best in the nation. It has been used as a model by the federal government and many states. "People have come from Canada and as far away as Australia to study the program," Barrett said.

Under the plan, prisoners work in outside jobs during the day and spend nights and weekends in prison. "Employers like the program," Barrett said. "We get more offers of jobs than there are eligible prisoners to fill them. Year after year prisoners have proved themselves trustworthy. The percentage of inmates that escape is very small."

He said many of the skilled prisoners are paid more than $200 for a five-day week. After an inmate is assigned employment under work release, his first financial obligation is to pay the Correction Department $3.15 a day or a maximum of $15.75 a week for room and board. He also must pay for transportation to and from his job.

"Under the program, each inmate is allowed $10 a week for incidental personal expenses such as cigarettes and soft drinks," Barrett explained in an interview. "The next $50 that accumulates is held in reserve for the prisoner to be used when he completes his sentence or is paroled."

If a court order for financial obligations is pending against the inmate, he must honor it, Barrett said. Next, the prisoner must pay the amount deemed necessary by the court or social services department for the support of his family. After these obligations have been met, the remaining money goes into a work-release fund where it is held for the inmate. Barrett said home visits are available for work-release prisoners when approved by the Correction Department.

Largest Police Beat In World

PENONG, Australia (AP) — Police Constable John Smith is ending three years as "the law" in the South Australian outback on one of the world's largest and loneliest beats.

From the small police station and lock-up in this township of 20 people—and an equal number of dogs—he covered 35,000 square miles of the arid Mul-larbor Plain.

"I think my new posting to Murray Bridge (pop. 4,300) will be a bit quieter," said 29-year-old Smith.

—No longer will he be chasing auto thieves 600 miles across the desert along the only road which links east with west Australia.

—No longer will he man a roadblock single-handed to capture carloads of fleeing criminals.

—And no longer will he leave his wife, Jocelyn, to guard and feed prisoners in the Penong jail.

His work here did not end with being a police officer. He was registrar of dogs, commissioner of affidavits, inspector of shearer's quarters, game inspector, health officer, clerk of the court and prosecutor.

In an average month Smith drove 2,500 miles in his police Landrover, often along the rugged, deserted coastline searching for missing boats. He earned the respect of the locals—and prisoners. "I caught two car thieves from West Australia and they got several months in jail," he said. "Some time later they dropped into the police station to thank us for our hospitality and for looking after them."

Bounty Set On Eagle-Shooters

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The National Wildlife Federation is offering a bounty of $500 for information leading to the conviction of anyone shooting a bald eagle in the United States.

Anyone who wants the money should write the federation at 1412 16th St., N.W., Washington, D.C. 20036 within six months after conviction. A bounty hunter has to prove his information was of "substantial assistance" in convicting the eagle-killer.

Handicapped neglected WASHINGTON (UPI)—There are 6 million handicapped children in the United States. Of this number, fewer than 3 million are receiving adequate educations, says the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

HYRUM, Utah (UPI) —More than 23,000 people took a sleigh ride through the elk herd at the Division of Wildlife Resource's Hardware Ranch during the 1971-72 winter.

A spokesman said the ranch east of Hyrum serves to feed the northern Utah elk herd during the winter and keep them away from agricultural lands in the Cache Valley.

pared legislation which was enacted by the General Assembly putting the program into operation that year. "It was so restrictive at first," Barrett said, "that only a limited number of prisoners, all short-termers, were placed under it. At that time, the prisoners had to be housed separate and apart from other inmates. But that's not the case today. Not only that, but we now have some long-term prisoners under the program. Many restrictions have been lifted over the years by the General Assembly."

Barrett added that he would "like to see the day come when all prisoners could be put on work release at some point before they leave prison."

Let's talk about budgets!

Budgeting is tough these days.

It seems that every time you turn around the cost of something is going up.

The economists tell us it's to be expected.

Maybe so, but it sure makes running a home difficult.

We wish we could tell you that A&P has the answer to all your difficulties, but we can't...no store can.

We can tell you this:

There is one guaranteed way to cut your food bill without sacrificing quality; buy A&P's own brands.

Hold it...don't scoff...we're serious.

We don't have our own private national brands just to have low prices.

If it isn't a quality product, it can't carry the A&P Seal.

Take A&P Brand Canned or Frozen Vegetables for example.

They're GRADE "A"...you can't buy better.

If you buy A&P Brands, we guarantee you'll reduce your total food bill.

We also guarantee every A&P product you buy...unconditionally.

Scott Eyes State Need Of New Jobs

CHARLOTTE (AP) — North Carolina Gov. Bob Scott says that to provide equal opportunities in urban and rural areas, the rural sector of the nation will have to "almost double its capacity to absorb idle workers between now and the year 2000."

Scott said Tuesday that to reach this goal, "we would have to create 8.8 million more new jobs in the rural sector than are expected from current trends."

His comments came in a talk prepared for a meeting of the Centralina Council of Governments, an organization of several western counties. Scott was unable to attend because of the death of his mother, and the speech was read by Administration Director William L. Turner.

The governor said that the "most promising policy for rural development" in America is the creation of non-farm jobs in rural areas.

"The second most promising policy is the improvement of labor productivity through skills and vocational training programs. It is obvious that the two policies go hand-in-hand," he said.

Scott said of the 8.8 million new jobs needed in the rural sector, 3.7 million would be transfers which would have been located in urban areas if current trends continue.

"The remaining 5.1 million new jobs are not now in prospect, but would have to be created to use available skills of the under-employed labor force in rural areas."

"In more immediate terms this means there is a need for 170,000 new jobs a year above the trend for the next 30 years," he said.

The governor said creation of job opportunities in rural areas will depend largely "on our ability to provide a level of public services comparable to those found within an urban setting."

He said this would necessitate the development of a network of smaller urban centers, and he said building on existing urban centers "will minimize the need for extensive creation of new towns or new cities."

Scott said this calls for "unified decision-making" and a "clearcut view of our over-all goals and a specific, and realistic, timetable for achieving these goals."

He said this is the purpose of the Council on State Goals and Policies, created by the 1971 General Assembly at his request.

He said the council is making plans to hold a series of meetings in small urban centers across the state "to lay some of the major issues out for discussion."

Form Lobby Of Students

DURHAM (AP) — The North Carolina State Student Legislature announced today it has formed a committee of five college students to lobby the 1973 General Assembly.

Charles Bunn, a Duke University junior who is president of the Student Legislature, said the lobbying effort was authorized by the group at its annual meeting in March.

Bunn said the five would lobby in support of proposals adopted by the Students Legislature and for other bills "which directly affect the young people of North Carolina."

The group will concentrate in 1973 on "a health bill which would increase incentives for doctors practicing in rural areas and provide for a helicopter-ambulance pilot program; a package of election law bills which would further liberalize voter registration and absentee ballot laws; and a 'controlled substance' measure which would shift the emphasis to penalizing 'pushers' of marijuana rather than the users."

Walker Reagan, a Duke sophomore from Raleigh will head the committee. Others will be Paul Bryant, a Guilford College junior from Massillon, Ohio; Carl Lee Gullick, a Wingate College freshman from Charlotte; Lyn Irving, a Meredith College junior from Stoneville; and John Edgar Prevette Jr., a Wayne Community College sophomore from Smithfield.
