RALEIGH — The Grifton Resources Improvement Program (GRIP) was awarded an engraved plaque today as an outstanding rural community development group by the North Carolina Rural Safety Council.

The award was made at a luncheon at the Velvet Cloak in Raleigh. Weldon Denny, special assistant to Governor Robert W. Scott was the guest speaker.

The North Carolina Rural Safety Council recognizes groups and individuals who, during the preceding year, made an outstanding contribution to rural safety.

Grifton's award was based on the successful community clean-up campaign conducted during March, 1971. An outstanding feature of the clean-up campaign was the removal of 47 junked cars from streets and vacant lots.

GRIP is a coordinating council which channels cooperative effort on special projects and is composed of representatives from each organization in town plus members-at-large.

Apollo 16's Crew Now Hawaii-Bound

ABOARD USS TICONDEROGA (AP) — Apollo 16's moon heroes steamed toward Hawaii today after completing man's fifth moon-landing expedition, a journey that commander John W. Young said pushed back "the last real frontier, the frontier of the unknown."

Young and fellow crewmen Charles M. Duke Jr. and Thomas K. Mattingly II, were deposited on the deck of this carrier Thursday after a pinpoint splashdown in the South Pacific.

During welcoming ceremonies, Young said the mission was one of discovery that had uncovered basic knowledge. Pushing back the "frontier of the unknown," he said, is "essential to the survival of humanity on this planet."

President Nixon telephoned congratulations, promoting Duke to the rank of Air Force colonel and Mattingly to commander in the Navy. Young, a Navy captain, was promoted after one of his three earlier space missions.

All three were in excellent health after their 11-day journey.

The landing was 1,500 miles south of Hawaii, and the astronauts will stay aboard until the Ticonderoga moves early Saturday to within plane range of Hawaii.

They'll fly into Hickam Air Force Base at 2 p.m. EST and transfer to a C141 jet transport for the 8½-hour flight to the Manned Spacecraft Center.

Scientists and geologists at the center's Lunar Receiving Laboratory eagerly await the 245 pounds of rock and soil samples gathered by Young and Duke during 71 hours in the moon's Descartes Mountains.

Most experts, and the astronauts themselves, feel that locked in some of the rocks is evidence that the moon long ago was wracked by volcanoes, and that these eruptions played a major role in that planet's formative years between 4 billion and 4.5 billion years ago.

The Apollo 16 command ship Casper ended 1.2 million miles of travel and America's 26th man-in-space flight Thursday when it blazed back through earth's atmosphere to a splashdown within about a mile of the Ticonderoga. Television cameras relayed the scene to several countries via satellite.

Pay Board Untangling Big Packlog Of Cases

By BROOKS JACKSON
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pay Board is steadily untangling a snarl of red tape that has delayed pay raises for hundreds of thousands of workers.

Its backlog of unsettled cases has declined by nearly half in the last two months, from 2,219 on Feb. 25 to 1,158 as of April 21, the board said Thursday.

The board's executive director, Robert Tiernan, said in an interview that even faster progress will be made in weeks to come.

Presently the board takes an average of 38 days to decide a case. Tiernan said that will be reduced to about 28 days within the next six weeks because the board has nearly completed drawing up detailed regulations and will begin turning its attention to individual cases.

Of 4,963 cases received so far, 2,112 didn't need any action by the Pay Board and were returned by the Internal Revenue Service with an explanation.

The cases involved fewer than 1,000 workers each, which generally don't require Pay Board action unless they are requests for exceptions to the board's 5.5-per-cent guideline.

The board has cleared its entire backlog of these cases, which now are handled mostly through the IRS.

U.S. Air, Naval Power Joins Battle Armored Spearheads Aim Red Thrust At Quang Tri

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — Troops of four North Vietnamese divisions spearheaded by large columns of tanks smashed through South Vietnam's northernmost defense line today and sent government forces reeling toward Quang Tri.

Dong Ha, eastern anchor of the defense line, was overrun in the eight-mile enemy advance. That is the distance between Dong Ha and Quang Tri, first major objective of the northern offensive. The enemy is now at its outskirts.

Two bases southwest of Quang Tri were abandoned under heavy North Vietnamese shell fire, amounting to 10,000 rounds in the past two days of the renewed enemy offensive.

The United States threw the bulk of its air and naval power into the battle in efforts to avert the fall of Quang Tri, 19 miles below the demilitarized zone.

AP correspondent Holger Jensen reported from Hue that U.S. planes and helicopter gunships bombed and rocketed North Vietnamese tanks on two sides of Quang Tri.

At least 11 tanks were reported knocked out and two U.S. aircraft were lost. In a dramatic air to ground battle with the tanks, two crewmen of a rocket-firing Cobra gunship died after knocking out three tanks.

About 150 air strikes were reported around Quang Tri.

U.S. 7th Fleet destroyers poured 10,000 rounds of gunfire into the Dong Ha area alone after South Vietnamese troops fell back.

REFUGEES POUR SOUTH—Fleeing Vietnamese civilians pour down the road leading south from Dong Ha after their homes were destroyed by massive North Vietnamese attacks. Dong Ha was captured Friday and observers reported thousands of refugees on Highway 1. AP Wirephoto

The retreating South Vietnamese troops blew up a bridge on Highway 1 halfway between Dong Ha and Quang Tri in hopes of slowing the North Vietnamese advance.

The U.S. Command said seven 7th Fleet destroyers were attacked by shore batteries but none was damaged.

Some U.S. and South Vietnamese officials have said that capture of Quang Tri is possibly a part of a big plan to annex South Vietnam's two northernmost provinces of Quang Tri and Thua Thien, which includes Hue. The old imperial capital, Hue is 35 miles south of Quang Tri.

Most of the tanks have been sighted north of Quang Tri but several amphibious tanks were spotted in the rolling sand dunes southeast of the provincial capital.

Quang Tri itself was being subjected to sporadic shell fire.

MURFREESBORO—Ayden mayor Ross S. Persinger was elected secretary of the Mid-East Economic Development Commission at the group's annual meeting at Chowan College here yesterday afternoon.

The commission held its fourth annual business meeting at 3 p.m., followed by a 7 p.m. banquet at which the newly elected officers were installed.

Other officers chosen — for two year terms — included chairman Jack A. Runion, Martin County; vice chairmen Robert L. Rowe of Hertford County and Robert B. Spivey of Bertie County; and treasurer Earl R. Lewis of Hertford County.

Officers completing two years terms yesterday included chairman William H. Page of Washington, vice-chairman Runion, and secretary-treasurer J. Vance Perkins of Greenville.

At the afternoon business session, commissioners heard reports from Mid-East employees and approved a resolution supporting a public works project for the town of Farmville.

The resolution gave Commission approval to a bid by Farmville for federal financial aid in improving the municipality's water system.

According to the resolution "there is a threatened, abrupt rise in unemployment due to the probable laying off of workers caused by problems of an inadequate water supply" in the town which "has applied to the Economic Development Administration for a Public Works Grant for the purpose of providing an adequate water supply for the town and thus enabling the industries to maintain their present level of employment and to increase their employment."

In endorsing the application, the Commission said "the project is essential to the employment stability of the District...and recommends its approval for financial assistance."

Commissioners also approved Clearing House applications for water and sewer project for Fountain and Aurora. Both towns are seeking federal assistance in improving and extending their water and sewer facilities.

Commission members were also given a schedule of local contributions to Mid-East for fiscal year 1973.

According to the schedule, Pitt County, with a population of 73,900, would contribute $10,500 as compared with other contributions of $8,116 from Beaufort, and $4,500 each from Bertie, Hertford and Martin Counties.

The city of Greenville's contribution would be $1,500. Other member towns in Pitt and their contributions include: Farmville, $500; Ayden, $350;

Grifton and Bethel $200 each; and Fountain, $125.

Contributions to the commission by member-governments is based on population.

About 450 persons, including commission members, county and municipal officials and other guests attended the 7 p.m. banquet.

Secretary of State Thad Eure installed the newly elected officers at the evening session and certificates in recognition for service to the Commission were presented to Page and to Perkins.

Gov. Bob Scott was scheduled to speak at the dinner but was unable to attend the meeting due to the death of his mother earlier in the week.

Instead, Dr. L. H. Hammond read a statement prepared by the Governor for presentation at the session.

Before reading Scott's message, Hammond—an expert in the field of planning and well versed in the regional organizational structure of which the Mid-East is a part — emphasized the "need to strengthen small and medium size urban communities" and their ability to provide good job opportunities and increased income for residents.

He said the Governor is committed to the regional concept as a method of strengthening smaller communities.

According to the Governor's message as read by Hammond, regional planning covers the entire state and 40 states in the union have similar programs under way.

Before the multi-county planning regions were established in North Carolina in 1970, the state was divided in 70 different ways by state agencies alone, Hammond read. Now state agencies are in the process of realigning districts to conform as much as possible to the multi-county planning areas.

Regional organizations now conduct regional planning and establish regional goals and objectives and deal as a regional agency with state agencies.

Their primary goal is to prevent overlapping of programs.

Scott's message said such regional planning agencies "can assure that no section of the state is bypassed by any state or federal program."

Page, making his last appearance as chairman of the Commission said responsibilities of Mid-East include regional planning, manpower training, human resource development, a criminal justice program, economic development and regional reevaluation responsibility.

"Today, 25 of the municipalities in our Region have adopted resolutions giving them a direct voice in the affairs of the Mid-East," he said. "We are hopeful that this number will Hawkins has said he will devote the last days of the campaign "to tighten up any loose screws" in his eastern organization.

Hawkins estimates his registration drives have added 100,000 to the voting rolls and he now considers the most important element of his campaign to be making sure that voters turn out on May 6.

"It would be easy to take a man's money and go out and get drunk thinking 'well ol' Reg's got it', then wake up Sunday with a hangover and find out I ain't got it," Hawkins told an audience recently.

Hawkins Tours In Pitt Today

Reginald Hawkins took his Democratic gubernatorial campaign to eastern North Carolina today and one of his first stops was North Pitt High School where he was to address the students.

Hawkins later planned a grass roots tour of the Pitt County area.

Hawkins considers the eastern counties where he concentrated voter registration efforts earlier this year as his strong points in his try for the nomination.

Heading up his campaign in the east has been Golden Frinks, field worker for the Southern Christian Leadership

Graham For Early Leaf Sale Opportunity

RALEIGH (AP) — Agriculture Commissioner Jim Graham says North Carolina tobacco farmers must be provided with an early sales opportunity or the amount of Tar Heel leaf sold on the Georgia-Florida markets will continue to grow.

Graham's comments came Thursday in a talk before a subcommittee of the industrywide Flue-Cured Tobacco Marketing Committee.

The commissioner urged the committee to "explore every feasible possibility of providing earlier markets to growers in the Eastern Middle and Old Belts."

He said the percentage of North Carolina-grown tobacco sold in the early Georgia-Florida markets has grown steadily, increasing from 10.4 per cent in 1967 to 18.3 per cent in 1971.

The average amount of North Carolina tobacco sold in these markets during the five year period from 1962 to 1966 was only 3.6 per cent, he said. This rose to an average of 13.7 per cent during the 1967-71 period.

"You can expect this trend to continue unless earlier sales opportunity is provided in all areas of North Carolina after sufficient quantity has been harvested," Graham said.

"The production, harvesting and curing of flue-cured tobacco is changing," he said.

Operations are becoming large, requiring more mechanization and a move toward more bulk curing. All of this requires more financing at high interest rates. This situation makes it necessary for many growers in all belts in North Carolina to sell some tobacco early in order to meet his needs and obligations under the current circumstances."

Graham said, "In other words, if some earlier sales opportunity is not provided in all areas to meet these changing situations, you can be sure that the tobacco is going to move to the area where sales opportunity is provided."

He also urged the committee to re-examine the method of allocating sales opportunity to the four belts in North Carolina "to determine if each belt is getting its fair and equitable share of the sale opportunity available."

ECU Physicist Winner Of Bisplinghoff Award

AWARD MADE — Dr. Leo Jenkins presents the first Bisplinghoff Award to Dr. Richard McCorkle, ECU Physicist. ECU physics chairman, Dr. J. William Byrd, is at right.

Dr. Richard A. McCorkle of the East Carolina University Department of Physics is the first recipient of the annual ECU Bisplinghoff Award, to be given each year for outstanding scientific writing among ECU faculty members.

The $200 award was presented to Dr. McCorkle by ECU President Leo Jenkins at the annual Sigma Xi Society spring banquet Wednesday evening.

Dr. Jenkins noted that Dr. McCorkle's award winning research report was one of about 100 considered for the award.

Dr. Charles Q. Brown, Director of Institutional Development at ECU, presented awards to three students, all of whom authored outstanding scientific papers.

Undergraduate winner was Andrew Kulchar, a physics major from Tazewell, Va. Graduate winners were Carol Ann Lunney, biology, and Joseph John Tamul, physics, both of Greenville.

Banquet speaker was Dr. Bernard Boyd of the UNC-Chapel Hill religion faculty, formerly Institute Lecturer with the Archaeological Institute of America.

Dr. Boyd spoke to the approximately 120 members present on recent archaeological discoveries in Israel.

New Sigma Xi chapter officers for the coming academic year were installed. They are: Dr. Charles Q. Brown, president; Dr. Terence McEnally Jr., president-elect; and Dr. Charles E. Bland, secretary-treasurer.

The Society of Sigma Xi, an honorary organization for professional researchers and educators in the sciences, attempts to encourage original investigation in all branches of science.

ABC Permit Is Revoked In Pitt

The State ABC Board, at its April 24 meeting revoked beer and wine permits issued to Charles Brinkley Moore for C. B. Moore Grocery, Route 1, (U.S. 264 West) Greenville.

The board ordered the permits "revoked, effective May 8, on charges of permittee was convicted on March 15, of voluntary manslaughter."

Moore was convicted on the manslaughter charge after shooting a man inside his station earlier in the year. At the time of his arrest Moore said the victim was attempting to steal merchandise from a storage room at the rear of his store.

Hold Man In Embezzling

WINSTON-SALEM, N.C. (AP) — A man identified as head teller of a Roanoke, Va., bank until his disappearance last month is held in the Forsyth County jail in Winston-Salem, charged with embezzling nearly $250,000 from the bank.

Police said Leonard R. Yeatts, 42, was arrested in a residential area of Winston-Salem Thursday. He was jailed under bail of $15,000 and arraignment before a U.S. magistrate was set for May 3 in Greensboro.

The Winston-Salem Police Department said a suitcase found in Yeatts' possession at the time of his arrest contained more than $105,000, but there was no disclosure on whether the rest of the money was recovered.

Police said they had been tipped by the FBI that Yeatts might be in the Winston-Salem area. Officers said they were told that Yeatts failed to show up for work at the Roanoke bank on March 27. His car later was found at the Roanoke airport and shortly afterward Lee D. Hanes Jr., U.S. attorney for the Western District of Virginia, issued a warrant charging Yeatts with embezzlement.

in his bid to become attorney general. But he faces yet another roadblock before the full Senate.

The Judiciary Committee Thursday reaffirmed its confirmation of the Kleindienst nomination after a two-month investigation of alleged Justice Department improprieties in the settlement of an antitrust suit against International Telephone & Telegraph Corp.

Liberal Democrats on the committee, defeated in their attempt to continue the hearings, said they would fight the Kleindienst nomination when it reaches the floor, probably several weeks from now.

Sen. John V. Tunney, D-Calif., an opponent of the nomination, said he favors full discussion of the issues before the full Senate, but added that he does not believe the debate will become a filibuster.

Sen. Quentin N. Burdick, D-N.D., another who voted against the committee majority, said: "We do not have a complete record, and it would be unfair to Mr. Kleindienst and the Senate to base a decision upon the present contradictory and totally inadequate record."

Committee members have until May 5 to submit their reports to the Senate.

The 11-4 vote to report the nomination favorably came after a day's session in which Kleindienst was recalled as a witness. Little he said cleared up any of the contradictions in the record.

Kleindienst said he did not recall details of conversations with Peter M. Flanigan, senior adviser to President Nixon, in which the ITT settlement was discussed.

He said Flanigan, Nixon's liaison man with business, might have told him a month before the settlement that ITT was unhappy with its terms but he could not remember.

"It was so insignificant, so immaterial and inconsistent with the posture I was assuming in this case, it just didn't stick in my mind," said Kleindienst.

He had previously testified, and repeated Thursday, that he had taken the position that Richard J. McLaren, then head of the antitrust division, would handle the case by himself.

On Feb. 29, the committee voted unanimously after two days of hearings to approve the Kleindienst nomination. That same day, syndicated columnist

Jack Anderson published a memo linking settlement of the antitrust case with ITT's financial commitment to help San Diego obtain this summer's Republican National Convention.

Kleindienst denied the allegations immediately and asked that the committee reopen the hearings to enable him to answer the charges and clear away the cloud over his nomination. He repeated his denial Thursday.

Smoking-Car Law Helpful

RALEIGH (AP) — North Carolina Highway Patrol Commander Col. Edwin Guy says the first three months of a crackdown on auto emissions has brought "dramatic improvement."

"The situation is nothing like it was a year ago," Guy said in an interview Thursday.

He said the patrol began its crackdown in January and started issuing warnings to motor vehicles spewing smoke. He said 43 warnings were issued in January, 53 in February and 82 in March. No figures are available yet for April.

A tough new auto emissions law enacted by the 1971 General Assembly went into effect Jan. 1. The law makes it a violation if smoke is visible for five seconds.

Guy said any motorist who is issued a warning is allowed 30 days to make the necessary repairs. Violators are subject to a $100 fine or 60 days in jail, or both.

He said there has also been "a big improvement" on the part of buses in cutting down on smoke emissions.

Roger Parker, assistant director of the license and theft division of the Department of Motor Vehicles, said the truck weighing stations are helping in the warning campaign against smoke emissions. "Generally the major truck owners have indicated a desire to try to comply with the law," he said.

No Charges In Auto Accident

No charges were reported following investigation of a 3:40 p.m. mishap here yesterday at the intersection of Dickinson and Grand Avenues which injured one man and caused an estimated $457 damage.

Police identified drivers involved in the collision as Marton Perkins Joyner, 24, of 412A Davis St. and Barden Hooks, 57, of Route 6, Greenville.

Damage to the Joyner car was set at $300 while damage to the tractor driven by Hooks was estimated at $157.

Joyner was reported injured in the collision.

Disappointment Turned Into Great Opportunity

BALTIMORE (AP) — Thousands of babies may owe their lives to the fact that Dr. Helen Brooke Taussig specialized in pediatrics 48 years ago and, 20 years later, helped find a cure for the fatal infant heart defect known as "blue baby."

"It was one of those times in life when what seemed to be a disappointment later proved to be a great opportunity," Dr. Taussig, a retired staff physician at Johns Hopkins Hospital, said.

Dr. Taussig, 73, was denied an internship in medicine after her graduation from the Hopkins School of Medicine because one woman from her class already had been accepted for the post.

The school would not put two women in the same field, Dr. Taussig explained, so she decided to intern in pediatrics.

She stayed in the field for a half-century and despite her official status as professor emerita of pediatrics, still puts in eight hours nearly every day at Hopkins.

"Retirement has one meaning to me," she once told an associate. "You sink into your bed at the end of the day, exhausted, and hope that the phone doesn't ring until morning.

"I have slowed down a bit, but if you call retirement sitting still and doing nothing, I'll never do it."

Dr. Taussig, named in March as the first woman master in the American College of Physicians, specialized in pediatric cardiology after she joined the Hopkins staff in 1924.

In 1944, she helped develop the first successful operation for "blue babies," so-called because they are born with a constricted artery connecting heart and lungs. The lack of oxygen in the blood gives the skin a bluish hue.

Dr. Taussig had read about a surgeon in Boston who had tied off a vessel leading to the lung. "Not being a surgeon," she said, "it gave me no difficulty to ask, 'If you can tie off a ductus, why can't you build a new one altogether?'"

When Dr. Alfred Blalock, a surgeon, came to Hopkins, Dr. Taussig worked out the details of the operation with him. The first successful "blue baby" operation was performed nearly 30 years ago.

Though her life's work was with children, the white-haired physician never married.

"A person can't do everything she wants to in life and I've had other experiences that I wouldn't have had if I had married," Dr. Taussig said.

"Besides, I think I've been more of a success with what I've done than I would have been with marriage."

Want A Job, Then Do The Asking

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1972 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd., Inc.

DEAR ABBY: I own my own business, and I hire many high school students for part-time work. Abby, you cannot imagine how many parents call me and ask if I have a job for Mary or Billy!

If Mary or Billy want to work, THEY should do the asking. Having Mamma or Dad ask for them doesn't say much for their child's initiative.

I feel it is important for young people to work, and I give as many of them a break as I can, but I have made it a policy NEVER to hire anyone whose mother or father calls and asks me to put their child to work. If a boy or girl is old enough to draw a salary, he is old enough to ask for a job.

I am sure other employers share my viewpoint. And if this letter helps to wake up just one teen-ager, it will have been worth the time I took to write it. EMPLOYER

DEAR EMPLOYER: I'm glad you wrote. I'm sure you woke up more than just one teen-ager. [And a few parents, too.]

DEAR ABBY: Last January my nephew [I'll call him George] married a girl I'll call Martha. Although we all live in the same town, George didn't bring Martha around to meet any of the family, and the first time most of us saw her was at the wedding.

After two months of marriage, George and Martha separated.

Everyone in the family gave them very nice and expensive wedding gifts, all of which Martha thinks she is entitled to keep.

Don't you think that because it was such a short marriage George should keep everything they got from HIS side of the family, and Martha should keep everything from HER side?

Please print what is proper in your column, because Martha never misses it. GEORGE'S AUNT

DEAR AUNT: It is proper under the circumstances that all gifts be returned.

DEAR ABBY: My wife and I remarked on the number of letters in your column from couples who were married 20 years or more and have made a mess of their marriages. What is wrong with people anyway?

When a person seeks employment and gets a job he wants, does he sit back and relax just because he got the job? No! He works at it.

That's the way it is with marriage. It has to be worked at. The wife and I will be married 25 years in November. We have three children, one married, one engaged, and the third practically out of the nest, but we have never put our children before each other. That's the first rule.

Let's face it, the biggest job is the wife's. My wife is up, her hair out of curlers, make-up on and dressed in the morning before she wakes me up, and breakfast is on the burner by the time I'm finished shaving. And when I return in the evening, she's not slouched over the TV or a magazine, with hair uncombed, dirty apron and the bit. She's bathed, fresh dress on, make-up intact and she greets me with a smile and a kiss. And no matter how tired I am, I come alive again. She's a jewel, a gem and a queen.

My job is supporting her and the kids and letting her know I appreciate her. I help her when I can. [A few years ago I discovered outdoor cooking, and I'm sorry I didn't discover it years ago. I'm the "cook" which takes a lot of work off her shoulders.]

I'm not saying we don't have our differences. What couple doesn't? But our marriage is working because we both WORK at it. And the job is never finished. STILL WORKING

DEAR STILL: Your "work" sounds like a pleasure because you've set up ideal working conditions. Bless you and your "queen," and may you celebrate your 50th.

Seek The Working Officeholder

Eastern North Carolina has many problems, as well as a lot of assets.

Certainly one of our greatest concerns is the lack of physicians and other trained medical personnel to care for our people.

It is well known that East Carolina University has tackled the job of helping to alleviate the situation. The nursing school was the first move in this direction. Then allied health courses were developed and these courses are now turning out medical technologists, social workers, therapists and other personnel needed in health care.

This year after a two year medical school had twice been approved by previous Legislatures, the 1972 Legislature, approved a one year physician training program which will be initiated next fall.

Those who satisfactorily complete it will transfer to Chapel Hill to complete their training.

It is to be hoped that the medical school can be expanded to two years next year and then developed into a full four year school. Certainly we believe most easterners are in accord with this aim. And we feel that Tar Heels all across the state recognize the need.

The Daily Reflector has attempted to ask candidates for state offices as they came through how they felt about the expansion of the medical school here.

We did not do this to make the medical school an issue. Frankly we think it should be beyond politics at this point. North Carolina simply should do it, and we would rather that the candidates be unanimously in favor of it.

We will not attempt to recapitulate all of the candidates' thinking on this matter; however we feel every voter should make certain that the candidate he intends to vote for is willing to work for the expansion of the ECU medical school.

Development of the medical school is vital to improving health care in North Carolina. The next governor and other state officials should furnish the leadership, working with the universities board of governors, to see that this development takes place.

Factors Point To Large Vote

By BRYAN HAISLIP

RALEIGH. — An historic turnout of Tar Heel voters is in the offing for the May 6 primary.

Executive Secretary Alex K. Brock of the State Board of Elections is forecasting a total vote of 1,300,000, a new record for balloting in a primary.

"All factors combined point to a record, all-time high vote," said Brock. He predicted that the Democratic primary will

Unchanged

The implication is that new registration spread itself out in accustomed patterns without setting any divergent trends.

A program jointly sponsored by the state board of elections and the state board of education to register eligible high school students produced good results, Brock said. Other registration drives also added to the total of new voters, he noted.

"Ours is a continuing responsibility, not just aimed at a particular election," Brock explained. Registration books are open now in all 100 counties for the fall general election, he pointed out.

"We look for another 100,000 or so to register before Nov. 7," he said.

Residence Period Cut
The recent reduction of the residence requirement for voting from one year to 30 days also will increase the pool of voters for the primary.

North Carolina was ahead of other states in meeting the residence rules spelled out by the courts since 30-day residents have been registered for local elections for the past year, Brock said. "After the ruling, we simply acted administratively to advance them to full registration," he explained.

Voters face a complicated ballot on May 6. They have a multiplicity of choices in the presidential contest and races for state and local offices. In addition, two state bond issues are at state — $150 million for sewer facilities, and $2 million for a state zoo.

Election logistics involve a multitude of detail, but the machinery is ready, Brock said. Ballots are printed, some 2 million-plus for the Democratic primary and bond questions; three-quarters of a million for the GOP primary.

County boards are processing requests for absentee ballots, reinstated for primary use by the legislature as a convenience to voters away from home on the primary date. So far, Brock said, no hitches have developed.

In spite of the long ballot, the election night watch shouldn't stretch out, Brock said. "Sixty per cent of the voting population is in the 25 counties with voting machines," he explained. "Once they have reported, the trends should be pretty well evident."

Dove Element Jump The Gun

By ROWLANE EVANS and ROBERT NOVAK

WASHINGTON — The top Democratic leaders of the House reversed themselves and embraced their party's anti-Vietnam orthodoxy last week at just the moment when polling data pointed to new public anger over North Vietnam's offensive and new support for President Nixon's war policy.

Those House Democrats still supporting the President were stunned last Thursday morning when Speaker Carl Albert of Oklahoma and Majority Leader Hal Boggs of Louisiana unexpectedly ended seven years of support for the U.S. commitment in Vietnam by voting with the 135 to 66 majority to get out now.

Albert and Boggs said nothing before or during the closed-door Democratic caucus to signal their dramatic switch to the party's new Vietnamese orthodoxy which stands apart from public opinion. Indeed, that orthodoxy is so intense that the peace Democrats actually believe their abhorrence of retaliatory bombing is shared by the public. In their zeal, they imposed this view on the Albert-Boggs leadership.

As a result, House Democrats now lead public opinion on Vietnam after seven years of lagging behind the Senate doves. Although unpredictable events on volatile battlefields in Vietnam might any day produce the public dovishness they now imagine, current evidence is that they misread the public.

That is indicated, among other polling data, by pollster Albert Sindinger, who regularly makes national telephone surveys to thousands of respondents. When the Communists invaded South Vietnam March 30, hawkish sentiments — wanting to "go all out to win" the war — rose from 23.3 per cent to 29.7 per cent, then climbed again to 31.4 per cent with Mr. Nixon's bombing of the north. Extreme dovish sentiment — wanting to "admit defeat and give up" — dropped from 19.8 per cent to 19.2 per cent with the invasion, then rose to 20.3 per cent with the bombing.

Equally significant are Sindinger answers to whether "President Nixon is doing all he can to settle the war." Hitting a low of 46.8 per cent after the 1970 Cambodian operation, "yes" answers reached 63 per cent with Mr. Nixon's peace plan in January. They dripped to 59.1 per cent with the Communist offensive, then, remarkably, climbed to 63.3 per cent with the bombing. Such findings contradict the conventional Democratic wisdom that the public is outraged by renewed bombing. On the unsupported assumption that super-dove Sen. George McGovern's campaign for President has been dramatically aided by anti-war feeling, House doves claim Mr. Nixon erred fatally in unleashing the B-52s.

These convictions increased months of pressure on Albert and Boggs by House Democratic doves, who laid down this implicit ultimatum: If you continue to oppose the caucus majority, your days of leadership may be numbered.

Following a private Pentagon briefing early last week, Speaker Albert gave intimates the impression he still supported the Nixon policy. But on Thursday morning, Albert and Boggs submitted to the new Democratic majority. First voting against the resolution which denounced U.S. bombing without mentioning the North Vietnamese invasion, they switched when it was amended to condemn the Communist offensive that triggered the bombing.

Some conservative Democrats did not even wait for that amendment. The original resolution was backed by erstwhile hawks James J. Delaney of New York, Daniel J. Flood of Pennsylvania, Eligio de la Garza of Texas, Thomas N. Downing of Virginia and Chet Holifield of California.

The switch by the influential Holifield resulted directly from peace-bloc pressure. Facing opposition

Hurricanes And Women

WASHINGTON — The National Hurricane Center has just released 14 feminine names for this season's storms. They are Agnes, Betty, Carry, Dawn, Edna, Felice, Gerda, Harriet, Illene, Jane, Kara, Lucille,

Mae and Nadine. The names, according to the NHC, are picked by computer and no slurs are intended. But some Women's Lib organizations have complained about our weather people naming hurricanes after women. I spoke to Prof. Fritz Folgelhammer, one of the leading hurricane watchers in the United States, who said that while he is sympathetic to the complaints of some women, he feels it is impossible to describe hurricanes except in the

Other Editors Say A Lot Of Greed

(Jacksonville Daily News)

There's a curious thing about the consumerism movement. It's a movement of the good little guys, the consumers, to impose ethical responsibility on the big bad guys, the corporations, who sell us shoddy goods or poor service and maybe pollute the environment while doing it.

But the people who run the big bad corporations, are, as private citizens in other situations, consumers, too. And millions of the good little guys work for the corporations and help make the shoddy goods or deliver the poor services they complain about when it is done by somebody else.

One case in point, which has nothing to do with consumerism but which illustrates this curious ability of people to separate their public and private roles, is the revelation that the Small Business Administration was defrauded of millions of dollars by victims of the Los Angeles earthquake — defrauded not by business but by individual people.

Swamped with claims, the SBA was forced to accept the word of claimants, who in many cases suffered far less damage to their property than they alleged, or suffered none at all. (This incidentally punches holes in another idea — that a government agency is a heartless thing run by faceless bureaucrats devoted to ensnaring helpless citizens in miles of red tape.)

Another case in point, which also has nothing to do with consumerism, is the Treasury Department's report that a spot check of income tax returns in the Southeast found 97 per cent of them fraudulent. The returns were prepared by professional tax servicers, but don't bet that any overwhelming number of the taxpayers who used outside help were innocently unaware of the hanky-panky.

In neither example, in the Southwest or Southeast, was there any organized conspiracy by big bad guys to cheat good little guys. In both, it was simply a matter of grass-roots greed.

The moral for the consumerism movement? Maybe none at all. Or maybe just this — that honesty, like charity, begins at home. Or as Pogo put it, "We have met the enemy and he is us."

Mover Is The Loser

By JAMES R. NORMAN
Associated Press Writer
MONTCLAIR, N.J. (AP) —

The move from a city apartment to a suburban house means different things to different people. To me, it's largely a matter of readjusting my approach to traditional chores.

Take spring cleaning, the traditional time to pick up the carpet and follow the directions of a knowledgeable supervisor—usually female—on where the furniture looks best for the bright season.

"Put the couch there, why don't you, and maybe we could move the bookcase over against that wall," she says.

"Unhh."

"That looks better, but don't you think it should be on the other side of the window?"

"Unhh."

But if you think your back's hurting you now, city-dweller, just try fitting yourself into this suburban scene:

10 p.m. The nursery at the nearby highway shopping center has closed at 9:30. Headlights probe the living room as what you normally would expect to be a car swerves into the driveway.

But it's not a car. It's a military transport of some type, covered with jungle camouflage. No, wait a minute. Under that foliage, it's baby blue, so it can't be a tank.

The door slams.

"Guess what?" she announces. "I have flowered crab, three dogwoods, a cherry tree, a plum tree, a peach tree, and silver maple, a popular tree, three lilacs and a weeping willow."

"Oh?" That willow and I are going to get to understand each other, it occurs to me.

"They told me we have to plant them when it's cool out."

"Yeah?"

"It's supposed to be really hot tomorrow."

"Unhh."

Members of the Greenville Kiwanis Club will journey to Grimesland Friday evening for their second out-of-town meeting of the year. The meeting will be in the form of the celebration of "Farmer Night" and Hon. Fred P. Latham of Belhaven, former member of the State Board of Agriculture, will deliver the principal address.

Emissaries continued to search for the kidnapped son of Colonel and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh today, but concrete developments were scarce.

Governors of more than a score of American people today joined in a tribute to the mother of George Washington. At the tomb of George Washington the governors listened to a tribute and then placed a wreath on the grave. Tonight the governors will attend a formal dinner at the White House.

A certain little borough installed parking meters several years ago. In the office where fines are paid for overtime parking there is a sign which takes some of the sting out of the four-dollar fine that the city fathers have announced as about right in the way of punishment. The sign reads: "Abusive conduct toward violation clerks will be treated as contempt of court."

Can't you see them and hear them? "Why I didn't have my car out all that day." "The cop that turned me in must be crazy." "What kind of a racket are you running around here?" "Yes, that's the way my name's spelled, but I ain't done nothing unlawful." "Next thing you'll be accusing me of murder." "What's the use of trying to do what's right when you get a deal like this?"

C'mon buddies, lay the four dollars down on the counter and get going. Yes, even with prices as they are today you could have helped yourself to something worthwhile if you had that four dollars back again. But what's the use? Some months ago a chap was standing before a half dozen listeners and saying vehemently: "I know my rights and I'm going to take this thing into court if you don't give them to me."

What a time he must have getting to sleep at night. Everybody around him is stupid and unjust. Town gossip has it that he has pounded two tables into kindling wood. When we begin pounding the table and shouting and talking about our rights people are going to slip away holding their noses and pointing to their heads (meaning, of course, his head).

Mutual Funds' Sales Slowed

By ELMER ROESSNER

The no-load mutual funds are still growing but not at as fast a clip as previously, and well below their peak year of 1969.

No-load funds, of course, are those which are offered directly to shareholders at net asset value, without an additional sales charge. At the end of 1971 there were 160 no-load funds, according to the No-Load Mutual Fund Association, with net assets of $5.85 billion.

In 1970 there were 137 no-load funds with assets of $4.10 billion. And in 1969, 137 such funds with $3.8 billion in assets.

Sales in 1971 were only $1.01 billion, however. This was a good rise over a year earlier when sales were $850 million but still under the $1.02 billion record in 1969.

Moreover, redemptions in the most recent year were a staggering $647.2 million. This brought net sales down to $367.8 million, the poorest showing in four years.

In contrast, 1970 redemptions amounted to only $370.3 million and resulted in net sales of $477.9 million. And in the previous year net sales came to approximately $681 million after redemptions of $337 million.

The funds' share of total sales, which dropped sharply in 1970, was virtually unchanged last year. This was due largely to the increases in the number of no-load funds.

But in the net sales per individual fund, the no-load experienced a sharp decline — from about $6.2 million in 1969, to $3.5 million in 1970, to $2.5 million last year.

Total net assets of the no-load mutual funds continued to climb in 1971 despite the slowdown in net sales growth. They set a new record of $5.85 billion which was $1.75 billion over the previous year and $2.05 billion above two years ago.

Individual Car Imports Risky

Importing foreign cars by individuals is becoming trickier because of the new safety standards going into effect.

Any car manufactured before 1968 does not have to meet U.S. Federal Safety Standards and can be brought into the country with no problem. Those manufactured in 1968 and thereafter must comply with the standards in effect on the date of manufacture or they can't be driven on American Highways.

According to the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration, the best thing the individual car importer can do to protect himself is to make sure that the car was manufactured for American use and has a Certification Label to that effect permanently attached to the car.

Vehicles which do not have the Certification label were manufactured for sale and use elsewhere and have to be adapted to U.S. requirements. This adaption can be difficult and expensive. If the purchaser isn't qualified to judge the adaptations he should have a reputable and reliable party make and check the modifications.

The penalty for importing an unqualified car can be considerable difficulty with U.S. Customs, excessive adaptation costs and a car that is not safe by current standards.

Per Capita Taxes Bite $97 Deeper
Every man, woman and child in the United States will pay an average of $1,023 in Federal Taxes during the 1973 fiscal year, according to the Tax Foundation, Inc. The federal tax burden will range from a high of $1,462 per resident of Connecticut down to $563 per individual in Mississippi. The new compares with $926 in fiscal 1972.

Protest Orders To Trim Profits

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Price Commission has ordered Eckerd Drugs Inc., a Southern chain of 123 stores based in Charlotte, N. C., to cut prices, saying it had exceeded guidelines on profit margins. Eckerd's denied price violations.

In Charlotte, Edward M. O'Herron, chairman of the board of Eckerd, said, "It is inconceivable to me that a federal bureau would issue such a citation without sufficient evidence of any violation."

Price Commission rules prohibit firms that increase their prices above freeze levels from increasing the portion of each sales dollar that goes to profit above a certain level. That level is the average profit margin of the best two of the preceding three years.

O'Herron said of Thursday's citation that the firm's year-end figures are not yet available, and that the citation apparently was based on figures published for the nine months ended Jan. 2, 1972.

"We anticipate for the full year, which ended April 1, 1972, that our net profits will be higher than the previous year, due to a reduction in expenses and increased volume," he said in a statement.

"Absolutely no increase in profits can be attributed to increased prices, as our markup on merchandise purchased and sold has in fact declined since the price freeze last August."

Installation And Dance Scheduled

The Greenville Moose Lodge will install officers for the 1972-73 term Saturday night at 8:00 p.m.

Sherman Windsor, of Spencer, N.C., who is currently serving as President of the North Carolina Moose Association, will be the installing officer.

A dance is to follow the ceremony, beginning at 9:00.

"Well it has to go here, because I want the white dogwood over there, between the cherry here and the pink flowering crab over on the other side. And the maple goes here and the poplar way in the back. Okay? And put the willow over there, right?"

Hours later. The grassy plain transformed into a nocturnal forest. Very satisfying, I must admit.

 immediately start to batten down the hatches."

"You're saying that people are more afraid of women than they are of men?"

"Yes, especially during storm conditions. An angry woman is like a hurricane. When the barometer drips, she starts blowing in all directions."

"I've seen it happen," I said.

"It's impossible to get the same storm effect in a man. A man's anger may begin as a hurricane, but it usually blows out to sea before it reaches typhoon conditions"

"How do you explain that?"

"Well, women tend to store up tremendous atmospheric pressure during the daytime when they are dealing with the house and the children. As soon as the husband comes home from work, all this pressure is suddenly released, causing large vertical circulations on all the frontal zones. During these storms most men try to head for the basement for safety, but they very rarely make it."

"So that's why they decided to name hurricanes after women!"

"I don't want you to think it was premeditated. What happened was that quite some time ago a weatherman named McAlphin stationed down in Key West spotted a hurricane coming up from Cuba. He immediately called his superior in Miami to report it. The superior asked him to describe the hurricane to him, and McAlphin without thinking said, 'It looks just like my wife, Gretchen.'"

"The superior sent a message to Washington on his telex announcing that a hurricane named Gretchen was about to hit the Florida coast. This information was released to the press which, in the past, had refused to give much space to hurricanes. But now with a name on it, a feminine name at that, all the papers picked up the story. The weather people were so pleased they decided to name all their hurricanes from that day on after women."

"Then there was nothing sexist in the decision?"

Of course not. We're all serious people. Everyone knows a hurricane is a feminine phenomenon. There is no other scientific way to describe it. when we get a protest about naming a hurricane after a woman, it inevitably comes from someone who has never personally seen one."

Big Spending In Primaries

RALEIGH (AP) — Candidates in North Carolina's May 6 primary elections have spent about $3 million dollars on their campaigns.

Secretary of State Thad Eure reported in a statement Thursday that total spending reported by candidates in statewide and district offices had totaled $2,845,343.88.

Eure said that when the deadline for filing preliminary reports passed Wednesday, some 39 candidates for statewide and district office and 34 state Senate candidates had not filed their reports.

Among the candidates who filed belated reports Thursday were three candidates for the U.S. Senate, Democrat Eugene Grace and Republicans William H. Booe and James C. Johnson. All reported contributions and expenses of less than $10,000.

Aides to Republican gubernatorial candidate Jim Holshouser filed an amended report Thursday, adding $47,000 to the more than $33,000 in expenditures which had been listed in the original report.

*Alabama's tax on cigarettes is 12¢ a pack. North Carolina's is 2¢.

*In Alabama, big businesses get a 16% tax break that they don't get in North Carolina.

*Alabama's property taxes were thrown out by the courts in 1971 as being unfair to the home owner. We have done better than that. North Carolina has no trouble with the courts because we have the third lowest and one of the fairest home and property taxes in the nation.

North Carolina has the best balanced tax program among the fifty states. Besides having lower sales tax and a much better tax return from corporations, North Carolina's tax system does not gouge any taxpayer to carry the load for someone else. That's because every last person pays at least a little something and corporations pay their fair share.

Taxes and Prices-The Sanford Solution:

- 1 Like Alabama's tax program, federal taxes are unfair to the average taxpayer. I would close the huge loopholes that favor the rich. It's a fact that 112 persons who earned more than $200,000 last year paid no income tax. Large numbers of giant corporations have for years taken advantage of gaping loopholes in the law. If we close all the loopholes, we can raise $77.5 billion more.
- 2 By closing the loopholes that favor the rich, we can immediately reduce the tax rate for everybody else. We can reduce the tax rate from 14% down to 7% for low income families. We can reduce the tax rate from 25% down to 18% in middle income brackets. This is also the best way to get the economy moving again, because it puts consumer money in the hands of the people who need to spend it now for family necessities.

- 3 The worst tax in America today is the invisible tax. It is called inflation. Right now, Americans are paying almost thirty per cent more for meat than one year ago. Every American housewife is paying at the grocery store for the failures of our political leadership. Price controls must be enforced so that the cost of living doesn't go up every week.

POW-MIA Families Gather Thursday

By JERRY RAYNOR
 Reflector Staff Writer

There are many little ways in which a woman whose husband or son is a prisoner of war or missing in action in Vietnam finds courage to maintain hope and to keep a family life going for themselves and their children.

Mrs. Lynda McGarvey of Havelock, for instance, planted a rosebush on the fifth anniversary of the date her husband was reported missing in action. "I need to work on something that will grow," the attractive mother of four young children smiled. The children are Tara 15, Mike 14, Patrick 11, and Megan 9. "I suppose you can tell we're Irish," she commented.

Her husband, Marine Lt. Colonel James McGarvey, was declared missing five years ago in April 1967.

Mrs. Billie Hiteshaw, a slender brunette, from Goldsboro, is more fortunate than Mrs. McGarvey in that at least she knows something about the fate of her husband, Air Force Lt. Colonel James Hiteshaw, a prisoner of war since March 11, 1967. Mrs. Hiteshaw has two young teen-agers, Mike 16 and Susan 13.

Mrs. McGarvey and Mrs. Hiteshaw, along with Mrs. W. J. Robinson of Robersonville, whose son Billy, an Air Force Master Sergeant has been a prisoner of war since 1965; and John E. Davis of Goldsboro, whose son, Air Force Major Edgar F. Davis, has been missing in action for four years, were on hand Thursday night in New Bern to hear Mack Howard, Republican candidate for Congress from the First Congressional District, propose a challenge to the news media of North Carolina to lead the nation in a renewed effort, the formation of a "Tar Heel MIA-POW Family Report."

"This evening," Howard said in a prepared statement, "I will offer one challenge and make one promise."

"My challenge is to the news media. I challenge the news media of North Carolina to lead the nation by forming and coordinating financially a 'Tar Heel MIA-POW Family Report.' Ideally, this would be a non-partisan news media organization formed to give aid and comfort to our known captured men by providing by whatever means possible — photographs, motion pictures and sound tracks of their families here at home."

Howard, until January this year a major in the Army and a two time veteran of service in Vietnam, emphasized that his decision to make this challenge is based on his own personal experiences and concern and is not a politically motivated move "though some will no doubt choose to construe it as such."

The former serviceman said the basic idea would be for news media organization, "comprised of selected journalists from all over the State, to form a news team to work with the free world press of Japan, Canada" an similar nation.

Newsmen from these countries would visit prison camps with a news report from the U.S. on the families, and "hopefully, return with recorded news interviews with our servicemen in captivity."

Eugene Price, editor of the "Goldsboro-News Argus", although not present at the New Bern meeting, later commented on the proposal.

"We are very much concerned about the POW-MIA issue," Price remarked, "and will certainly cooperate in anyway possible to promote exchange or information between families and POWs."

Earlier, Price and John D. Lewis of Goldsboro, who was a prisoner of war in Stalag III during World War II, went to Washington to talk to people there in an attempt to find new approaches.

"We tried to enlist student support," Price said, thinking that students have the ear of Hanoi. If the students had added concern of our POWs to their concern of the war itself, it was our feeling this might have been an important influence."

The four family members of POWs and MIAs at New Bern last night expressed their gratitude that Howard has taken this step, indicating they feel the subject should be and remain one of total non-partisan concern.

"We must try every possible means and keep trying," Davis commented. "We simply cannot give up, no matter how long it may take."

All four, when asked about their opinions on how their husbands or sons might feel about possible action on the part of the U.S. Government to accede to any North Vietnamese demands in exchange for U.S. POWs and MIAs, said their husbands or sons would not want America to take this course.

"When my husband went to Vietnam," Mrs. Hiteshaw commented, "he felt he was doing the right thing. After five years, I don't think he'd want all our efforts to go down the drain to get him back."

"This is a difficult question to answer," Mrs. McGarvey replied. "but I know my husband would not want this."

The four family members of the POWs-MIAs at New Bern last night mentioned plans to attend a meeting early in May in Washington, D.C. of families of POWs and MIAs. At that time, they plan to explain to the national gathering the proposal made by Howard last night.

"We will never give up trying to find some channel to improve contacts and to work for their return," Mrs. Robinson remarked.

increase during the next year."

He explained that the commission is responsible for administering the project review system for the region, a system "designed to facilitate the coordination of local and regional planning and development." The coordinated planning and project review system, he noted "provides procedures for elimination of overlap, duplication and competition in planning activities."

He emphasized, "I urge support for the Mid-East to continue."

In concluding, Page said "I would like to see regional air transportation in our region."

"I throw this out as a challenge."

"Until we get it, we will still lag behind" other areas.

At the close of the dinner session, the Mid East commission adopted a resolution supporting the state-wide clean water bond issue scheduled to be voted on in the May 6 primary.

Rose Ties For Divisional Track Title

NEW BERN — Al Hunter and Matthew Clark led Rose High School to a share of the Division II track championship yesterday. The Rampants, however, couldn't quite put together enough for an outright claim of the crown.

Both Rose and Wilson finished the meet with 68 points, well ahead of the remaining four teams. New Bern, the host team, finished third with 39, followed by Goldsboro with 30, Kinston, 26; and Rocky Mount, 9.

Both Hunter and Clark were double winners in the meet, the only double winners of the day. Hunter won the 100 and 220-yard dashes while Clark won both of the hurdle events.

Hunter just edged out Clark as the meet's outstanding performer collecting 16½ points. Besides his two first, he finished third in discus and ran a leg on the winning 880-yard relay team. Hunter won the 100 in a division record tying 10 seconds. His 220 time was 22.9 seconds, and he threw the discus 132 feet, 8¼ inches.

Clark finished with 16 points. He won the 120 high hurdles in 15.2 seconds and the 180-yard low hurdles in 21 seconds. He was second in the shot put with a throw of 49 feet, 9½ inches.

The relay team, composed of Hunter, Reggie Perkins, Marvin Reddick and Mike Harris, set a new division record in winning 1:31.7.

Harris was another top performer for the Rampants, despite not getting a win. He was second in the 100 in :10.1, third in the shot with a throw of 46 feet, 5 inches; and third in the 220 in :23.6.

Calvin Moore was second in the high jump. His height, 5-9, tied that of the winner, but he had more misses, and had to settle for second. He was also second in the long jump, 22-5½. Jeff Cargile was second in the 880 in 2:00.8, while Linwood White was third in the 440 in :53.2.

The Rose mile relay team of George Price, Keith Joyner, Cargile and White finished second with a time of 3:34.1. Gary Walton was fourth in the two-mile in the school record time of 10:33.5.

Wilson actually captured more individual championships than the Rampants, taking six. The Titans won the pole vault, the high jump, the mile, the 440, the 880 and the mile relay.

Kinston took two firsts, in the discus and the two-mile. New Bern won the long jump; Goldsboro won the shot, rounding out the titles.

The Rampants will take part in the sectionals, to be held Friday at East Carolina University.

Greene Central Captures Eastern Carolina Conference Track Meet

SPRING HOPE — Greene Central High School captured the first Eastern Carolina Conference track championship yesterday at the league meet held at Southern Nash High School.

The Rams put together a big lead and piled up 65 points, well ahead of second place finisher North Pitt, which had 39.

Host Southern Nash finished in a tie for third with 34 points, while Southern Wayne equaled them. Farmville Central was fifth with 27, followed by Ayden-Grifton and North Lenoir, each with 14, Conley with seven and Eastern Wayne with six. Charles B. Aycock failed to score in the meet.

There was only one double winner in the meet, Southern Wayne's Cobb, who won both the 100-yard dash and the 22-yard dash.

Overall, Greene Central captured five individual titles, winning the long jump, the pole vault, the shot put, the 880 relay and the 180-yard low hurdles.

Southern Wayne won four, the discus, the 100, the 220 and the two-mile. North Pitt won three, the mile relay, the 880 and the 440. North Lenoir won the mile and the high jump, while Farmville Central took the 120-yard high hurdles.

Members of the league will participate in the sectional meet, to be held at East Carolina University next Friday.

Lakers Trying Hard To Figure Out Knicks

By RON ROACH
Associated Press Sports Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP) — Question: "How do you beat the New York Knicks?"

Answer: "Make all your shots and hope for a tie."

At least that formula would have kept the Los Angeles Lakers in Wednesday night's opener of the best-of-seven series to decide the National Basketball Association championship.

The Knicks won 114-92, surprising the Lakers and themselves with their uncanny accuracy in the first half when the game was decided. Bill Bradley and Jerry Lucas led the assault as New York made 72 per cent of its first-half shots, many of them from beyond 20 feet.

The Lakers and their coach, Bill Sharman, studied game films Thursday in an effort to gain an edge for the rest of the series.

New York forward Dave DeBusschere said, however, that the Knicks cannot expect to shoot so well the rest of the series.

Taking DeBusschere's word for it, then, Los Angeles perhaps can work harder on the scouting report of K.C. Jones, assistant coach.

Thus Los Angeles is highly aware that:

—The Knicks play the best team defense in the league.

—New York center Jerry Lucas would try some long-range bombs to draw Walt Chamberlain away from the backboards.

—The Knicks, offensively, run without the ball and hit the open man with good passes.

—Each player wearing a Knick uniform can shoot.

What Jones was saying Tuesday, the Lakers were thinking Thursday.

"It (the New York offense) is going to call for a little more concentration on our part," Jones had said. "They pick and pass so well."

"They play better defense, as a team, than we do," he said.

Statistics, which show the Knicks leading the league in that category, support the statement.

New York's diversified firepower with tight defense makes the Knicks a tougher team to beat than Milwaukee, Jones said.

Celtics May Move To West

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Herald Traveler says in a copyrighted story that the new owners of the Boston Celtics of the National Basketball Association "are a group of San Diego businessmen, and they intend to seek NBA permission to move the Celts from Boston to San Diego."

The newspaper said the Celtics president and general manager, Arnold "Red" Auerbach, met with the new owners Thursday night in San Diego.

Auerbach has fought past attempts to move the team from Boston, and said many times he would quit if the team was moved.

At the same time, however, the Herald Traveler reported that E.E. "Woody" Erdman of Trans-National Communications, Inc., of New York said the sale of the Celtics by Investors Funding Corp. to a group headed by an unidentified New York lawyer would be illegal.

Erdman was quoted as saying that ownership of the Celtics reverted to Trans-National under a recent federal court ruling in New York. The newspaper said Erdman has sent that information, quoting the court's 21-page decision, to Auerbach and to NBA Commissioner Walter Kennedy.

Trans-National bought the team in 1969 from P. Ballantine & Sons only to lose it to Investors Funding by financial default in the courts late last year.

Jaguars Rally To Beat 'Birds

FARMVILLE — Farmville Central High School gained a 3-2 victory over Southern Nash yesterday with a sixth-inning rally.

The Jaguars went into the next-to-the-last inning trailing by a 2-0 deficit. But they came up with just enough to edge out the Firebirds during the frame.

The victory boosted the Farmville Central Eastern Carolina Conference record to 7-5. They are 7-6 overall.

Southern Nash pushed over both of its runs in the first inning. Glenn Wood reached on an error and Steve Bryant singled.

Kirk Bass cracked a triple, driving in both runners for the 2-0 lead.

It appeared for some time that the lead would hold up. But in the bottom of the sixth, Farmville put on its rally. Cloyce Wilson, who got credit for the win, led off with a single. Ben Joyner followed with a triple, scoring him. Glenn Dwyer singled to score Joyner, tying it up. Dwyer then stole second, and when the ball was errored, he moved on to third. A passed ball allowed him to come in with the winning run.

Joyner got two of the four hits for Farmville.

Oak City Rips Bear Grass, 13-2

OAK CITY — Oak City High School remained atop the Martin County Conference standings with a 13-2 victory over Bear Grass yesterday. The win left the Trojans with a 3-0 mark in the league, a half-game ahead of Robersonville.

The Trojans pushed into the lead in the second inning and never lost it. Walter Lyons led off with a double and scored when Milton Baker reached on an error. Willie Baker also was safe on an error, and then stole second. Eddie Ayers singled, driving in both Bakers, and Billy Ross reached on another error. He also stole second and both he and Ayers scored on Ronald Duggins' single. Marty Smith finished up the inning with a double, scoring Duggins.

That made it 6-0 for Oak City. Bear Grass came up with its only two runs in the top of the third. Charles Mobley walked and Keith Wynne singled. Evans followed with a hit, scoring both runners.

Oak City matched that in their half of the third. Milton Baker singled and Willie Baker cracked a two-base hit. Ross followed him with a double, driving in both runners for an 8-2 lead.

Oak City went on the record five more runs in the fourth inning.

Milton Baker had two hits and Marty Smith had three for Oak City.

Bowles' Tax-Boosting Vote Record Is Underscored

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Lt. Gov. Pat Taylor has for the first time directly attacked the man he regards as his chief rival for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination, Hargrove "Skipper" Bowles.

Taylor said that while Bowles promises no new taxes if he is elected, he voted for more than $100 million worth of new taxes during the 1969 General Assembly.

Taylor said the Bowles, as a member of the Senate, voted for the two-cent tax on a pack of cigarettes, a penny on a bottle of soft drink, and an increase of two cents a gallon in the state gasoline tax.

Bowles, who has reported spending more than one-half million dollars so far, a record for a North Carolina primary, said commercial television could make it less expensive to run by offering free time. The bulk of his costs has gone for television.

The primary is on Saturday, May 6, only a little more than a week away. And Dr. Reginald Hawkins, also seeking Democratic nomination for governor, says he will devote the last days to tightening up his organization in the east, where he believes he will run strongly.

Another of their rivals, Wilbur Hobby, state president of the AFL-CIO, is still vainly trying to get them to debate with him. He says, "Only open, face-to-face debate can provide the kind of nitty-gritty information which our citizens deserve."

On the Republican gubernatorial side, Jim Gardner continued calling for GOP unity in the final days of the campaign. He also asked all Republicans to work for the re-election of President Nixon. A high point of his campaign was a rally at Thomasville in heavily Republican Davidson County. The rally drew 500, Gardner's biggest crowd of the campaign.

Jim Holshouser says that Republican Congressman Jim Broyhill has been aiding his campaign. Congressman Charles Jonas endorsed Holshouser earlier this week. And Paul Broyhill of Lenoir, brother of the congressman, is listed as contributing $250 to the Holshouser campaign.

Holshouser, a former state Republican chairman, also has called for party unity after the primary.

Two men seeking the Democratic nomination to Congress discussed the war. Sen. B. Everett Jordan repeated his view that United States troops must be totally withdrawn from Vietnam by the end of the year. Rep. Nick Galifianakis said he regretted President Nixon's decision to continue bombing North Vietnam as long as its invasion of South Vietnam continued.

A Republican candidate for the Senate nomination, Jesse Helms, said he supported the President's decision to continue the bombing as in keeping with the U. S. commitment.

Judgeship Proposals By Wallace Loudly Cheered

GREENSBORO, N. C. (AP) — Democratic presidential candidate George Wallace, with eager supporters stomping their feet and shouting their approval, proposed Thursday that federal judges be reconfirmed at intervals by congress and elected by the people.

"I'm going to propose," he said "that U. S. Supreme Court judges be reconfirmed every six or eight years by Congress and that district federal judges be elected by the people instead of appointed."

"I'm going to ask the Democratic platform committee to consider a constitutional amendment on this. They may not do it, but I think judges ought to adjudicate and not legislate."

That statement brought Wallace the longest and loudest shouts of joy of the evening at his Greensboro rally which followed a fund-raising dinner and an earlier stop in Winston-Salem.

"I want you to know that a vote for me is a message which says the busing of little children is asinine and cruel and we want to get rid of it," he continued to more roaring applause. "We've got bureaucrats with more control over our children than we do ourselves."

Earlier in the day at Winston-Salem, Wallace said the race for the Democratic presidential nomination had narrowed to three people: himself and Sens. George McGovern and Hubert Humphrey.

He heaped high personal praise on his major presidential opponent in North Carolina. Terry Sanford, North Carolina's former governor who now is Duke University president. "He's a fine, high-type person and I've got a lot of respect for him," Wallace said. "But the thing you've got to remember about Gov. Sanford is that he's more of the Edward Kennedy type. If most of the people in North Carolina are that type, they ought to vote for him, but if they're not they ought to vote for me. I feel I'll run well in this state."

Wallace's campaign forays on Wednesday were the first of two days of campaigning in North Carolina this week following a one-day trip to the state last week. He'll be in Wilmington and Chadbourn Friday after spending the night in Winston-Salem.

Clean-Up Week To Begin May 1

According to James Grimes, chairman of the Riverdale Neighborhood Organization and the Rev. Dr. W. L. Jones, Neighborhood Organizer for the Greenville Redevelopment Commission, the week of May 1-5 has been set as Clean-Up Campaign week for the Riverdale area.

All residents of the area are asked to place their rubbish and trash at the front of their house by Tuesday.

Trucks, the officials said, will begin picking up the rubbish on that day.

Grimes said the purpose of the program is to "make our neighborhood the cleanest and best in the city."

Applications Being Taken

The Greenville Yamaha Music School is accepting applications this week for classes beginning in September.

All parents who have children three years, ten months through eight years of age and are interested in this program, should contact Mrs. Judy Baker at 752-6501.

Fast Growth Of Asparagus Cited

IRVINE, Calif. (UPI)—The fastest shoots in the West are asparagus, which can grow six inches in less than a day in 78-degree weather.

These statistics are from The Irvine Co., whose 80,000-acre ranch raises part of California's 66,500-ton crop, valued at $29 million. California produces about half of all fresh and processed asparagus in the United States.

Education Counts

Senator Jordan has shown his dedication to the cause of education by his support of every bill which has come before the Senate providing better educational facilities and opportunities. These include benefits to schools and students at the primary, secondary and college and university levels. They include the expansion of the school lunch program; the growth of vocational education; and the college student loan and work study programs.

Senator Jordan believes that equal educational opportunities must be provided for all students without regard to their racial or economic status, and has worked unflinchingly to help make this dream a reality.

Experience Counts Re-elect Senator Jordan

(Democratic Primary May 6)
 Committee To Re-elect Senator Jordan
 Cliff Everett, Jr., Chairman

This is the soil, the good earth without which man could not exist. Suppose we woke up tomorrow to find a concrete world. Flowers would wilt, plants would die, and famine would sweep the land.

God, in His infinitely wise planning, gave us the earth to make use of — to care for. Without this care, the soil and fields become barren.

People are not very different. We need three kinds of care if we are to flourish — physical, mental and spiritual. Unfortunately the last, in many ways the most important, is often most neglected.

The spirit is a great part of you! Nurture it by attending the church of your choice.

The Worry Clinic Fretting Will Dull Emotions

Alice faced a sexless marriage! But it was due to her husband's worry about a heart attack. For you cannot "cerebrate" and also "emote," so his worry made him platonic. His cigarettes were a greater hazard than boudoir romancing!

By GEORGE W. CRANE
Ph.D., M.D.

Case T-563: Alice W., aged 33, faces a sex dilemma.

"Dr. Crane," she began, "I recently married my boss, who is 15 years my senior."

"And we were very happy for the first 6 months."

"Then he suffered a mild heart attack."

"Although he recovered completely, he has become unduly worried about his health ever since."

"The doctor ordered him to quit his smoking, but he still insists on using 10 cigarettes per day."

"And he has ceased marital relations, fearing they would induce a second heart attack."

"So our marriage is now platonic!"

"But is he correct in thinking marital relations are so dangerous?"

For the act of smoking just one cigarette may raise your heart an extra 20 beats per minute, as per our medical findings.

And this faster pulse rate may then continue for as long as 20 minutes after you snuff out the cigarette!

Besides, marital relations have only a slight effect on the pulse rate.

It is the chasing around after wild women and dancing at night clubs till the wee hours of the morning, that tire the Don Juan.

Boudoir romancing is exciting mentally but not very fatiguing to the heart, due in part to the horizontal posture.

And regular erotic exercise with his wife should stave off the early onset of prostate trouble in Alice's husband.

So it exerts a salutary medical value, as well as being an exciting emotional tonic.

A few weeks ago I told you of the 98-year-old man who was marrying an 18-year-old girl.

His clergyman tactfully suggested that the couple should think twice before taking this step.

"For it might have serious consequences," diplomatically warned the preacher.

"Well," replied the old man, "if she dies, she dies!"

Men like Alice's husband should not be so "chicken" about their health nor let themselves become such "worry warts" about their "innards."

Instead, he should adopt the typical young husband's viewpoint in such matters and say to himself:

"Well, if I die, I die!"

What Alice didn't realize was the fact that her husband had become impotent, due to his constant fretting over a possible second coronary attack.

And worry, being a function of the brain, immediately reduces emotion.

For you can't "cerebrate" and also "emote" simultaneously.

So he found himself unable to function with Alice in their boudoir and thus eagerly used fear of another heart attack as

WHEN CRINGLES GOES TO THE STORE, THE MRS. INSISTS HE TAKE A LIST...

AND WHEN HE DELIVERS...

WHAT FOR? I'LL REMEMBER!

NO, YOU WON'T! YOU ALWAYS FORGET SOMETHING AND HAVE TO GO BACK FOR IT!

BREAD? WHAT BREAD? IT'S NOT ON THE LIST!

OH, I GUESS I FORGOT... WELL YOU'LL JUST HAVE TO GO BACK FOR IT!

South was trying for a physical impossibility in today's hand, for unless the cards had been misdealt, there was no way his line of play could possibly land the four heart contract. A simple count of the adverse distribution as the play developed would have uncovered the only chance for success on the deal.

North opened the bidding with one club and East made a preemptive jump overall of two spades. Although the taking of nine tricks would have been routine, North could hardly try three no trump over partner's free bid of three hearts lacking a stopper in spades. When he rebid four clubs, South persisted to four hearts and the auction subsided.

West opened the eight of spades, East played the ace and returned the suit—West ruffing away South's king with the deuce of hearts. The shift was to the king of diamonds which was taken by dummy's ace. A heart was led to the king, followed by the ace, and, somewhat surprisingly, West showed out on the second round—revealing that East had a trump trick.

With the defensive book in, declarer was anxious to dispose of his diamond loser, so he proceeded to cash dummy's clubs in the hope that East would follow suit long enough for South to obtain the needed discard. East held only a doubleton club, however, and after ruffing the third round with the queen of hearts, he exited with a spade and declarer was permanently disconnected from dummy. In the end he was obliged to surrender the setting trick in diamonds to West.

South's line of play could succeed only if East had been dealt 14 cards originally. He has already shown up with seven spades, one diamond, and three hearts after West takes a discard on the second round of trumps. This accounts for 11 of East's cards, so he can have, at most, two clubs. South should, in fact, hope that that is his opponent's actual holding, for now success becomes assured.

By simply playing a third round of trumps and giving East his trump trick, the latter—who has no more diamonds—must exit with a spade. Declarer ruffs and now can run the clubs with complete confidence. When the suit divides three-two, the ten of diamonds is discarded on the fourth round and South claims his contract, having lost the ace of spades, a spade ruff, and one heart trick.

Might Be Unaware Of Telephone Laws

Don A. Collier, manager of the local office of Carolina Telephone and Telegraph Co., noted that the majority of persons who make illegal calls are possibly unaware that they are breaking the law.

Collier said that North Carolina statute G.S. 14.196 regarding illegal calls stipulates in part that it is unlawful for anyone to use offensive language over the home, issue a threat to inflict harm to person or property, or utilize the phone for abusing, annoying, threatening, terrifying, harassing or embarrassing any person called.

The manager pointed out that the statute also makes it unlawful to fail to hang up a phone or disengage the connection with the intent of disrupting service. Also it is unlawful for false statements concerning death, injury, illness, disfigurement, indecent conduct or criminal conduct to be made over the phone or to allow the use of a phone for any purpose prohibited by the statute.

Collier said that anyone violating the provisions of the statute shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and subject to a fine or imprisonment, or both, in the discretion of the court.

He said that several cases involving illegal calls, have been tried in court in this area recently and have resulted in convictions.

Trio In Charge Sunday Services

A male trio from the Kernersville Wesleyan Academy will be in charge of the Sunday morning worship service at the First Wesleyan Church.

Headmaster, Charles Massey, will bring greetings and current news from the school, which is located in Kernersville.

The trio is composed of Kevin Blake of Thomasville, Paul Sheets and David Sheets of Greensboro.

A basket dinner will be served following the service. The church is located on Highway 43 south, in the Bell Fork community.

The 1916 summer White House of President Woodrow Wilson now houses Monmouth College at West Long Branch, N.J.

Exhibit Prize-Winning Decoys

George Bryant, retired Reflector, is one of more than 20 Greenville craftsmen and artists entering work in the annual exhibit of crafts at the Carolina Designer Craftsmen's Fair in Raleigh today and tomorrow.

PRIZE WINNING DECOYS... carved and painted by George and Elsie Bryant to be exhibited today and tomorrow at the third annual Carolina Designer Craftsmen's Fair at Dorton Arena in Raleigh.

Bryant and his wife, Mrs. Elsie Bryant, will be showing their prize winning duck decoys which are the product of their joint efforts. For most of the decoys, he carves and she finishes and paints.

In a recent spring annual decoy contest conducted by the National Wildlife Refuge at Chincoteague, Virginia, the Bryants won blue ribbons. This annual art-wildlife affair is a feature of the Weekend of the Islands, an open house of government installations on Virginia's Eastern Shore which this year attracted some 8,000 visitors.

One entry submitted by the Bryants, a black duck decoy, won first place in the black duck class and then won best-of-show over all other entries in the open division.

The Bryants received an original waterfowl painting by noted wildlife artist Bob Hines for their top prize entry. Another entry, a ruddy duck decoy, brought the Bryants a second blue ribbon.

In addition to duck and goose decoys, the Bryants will exhibit in Raleigh carvings of "stick up" decoys of the type used in hunting shore birds such as yellowlegs and curlews before shooting of these birds was outlawed some 50 years ago. Other Greenville residents exhibiting in the big annual craft show being held at Dorton Arena on the N.C. State Fairgrounds for the two day event are: John and Dorothy Satterfield; Sara Edmiston, Kelly Adams, Janet Fischer, Michael Goins, Myra Sexauer, Eddie Smith, Carl Peverall, Pat McMillan, Michael Scharf, Sandra Smith, Jim Whalen, Gerald Johnson, Jim Pringle, Dempsey (Ron) Calhoun, Charles Chamberlain, Norma Gray, Robert Rasch and Leonard Veillette.

Thousands of visitors from North Carolina and adjoining states have attended the first two annual Carolina Designer Craftsmen's Fair, and a large turn-out is expected for this third annual exhibit.

Admission is $1.00 for adults, 75 cents for students and senior citizens with I.D. cards, and free to children under 12 years of age.

Pupils Take Up Ecology

For about five weeks 81 fourth year pupils of Wahl-Coates Elementary School have been engaged in a study of ecology in natural setting adjacent to the school.

Mrs. Ethel Thomas, team leader for the group of students, notes the theme of the extended study has been "Ecology: Its Problems and Solutions."

One of the highlights that has brought a good share of enjoyment as well as serious study to the students has been their involvement in Earth Patrol at Green Springs Park, which borders the new Wahl-Coates school.

Mrs. Thomas said the students, through visits in the area, have become concerned with things they have discovered and want to help improve the situation of the natural site.

Prior to launching the patrol, students were given orientation sessions designed to heighten their senses of sight, smell, and touch in order to gain more insight into ecology factors.

"We believe our Earth Patrol project is one of the most meaningful learning experiences we've engaged in," Mrs. Thomas remarked.

Greenville Man Is Jailed In Shooting Case

LOUISBURG — A Greenville man is in jail here under $7,500 bond following his arrest Tuesday by members of the Pitt County and Franklin County Sheriff's Department on charges stemming from a Jan. 16 shooting.

Franklin County Sheriff William Dement reported that Evans Curtis Martin was arrested in Greenville on a charge of conspiracy to rob following investigation of the death of a Rt. 2, Zebulon man at his home earlier this year.

Sheriff Dement said that seven other persons have been jailed under conspiracy charges relating to the robbery attempt and shooting.

Trail for Martin has been transferred from Franklin to Warren County, the sheriff reported, and will be held May 22 in Warrenton.

Scholarship For Ayden Student

MOUNT OLIVE — Elizabeth Carol Stocks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Stocks of Ayden, has been awarded a music scholarship at Mount Olive College for the academic year 1972-73.

Miss Stocks, a freshman at Mount Olive College and a member of Kennedy Home Baptist Church, is majoring in business and plans to work as a secretary upon graduation.

She is a member of Phi Beta Lambda and the Free Will Baptist Fellowship at the college. Her interests include cooking, singing, and working with children.

Women's Wages Below The Male

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Women earn on the average only $3 for every $5 earned by men.

The Woman's Bureau, Department of Labor, issuing the report on earnings, said that in 1965, women's median wage was nearly 64 per cent that of men. In 1970, the figure stood at 49.4 per cent.

Revamp Juvenile Justice Asked

RALEIGH (AP) — The Law and Order Committee was asked today to support a major revamping of North Carolina's juvenile justice facilities, including a proposal to close all existing state training schools.

"It is time to take a sweeping, bold step to give North Carolina a uniform juvenile justice system," said John S. Parton, director of the Juvenile Delinquency Program.

The statement came in a report prepared for presentation at a Law and Order Committee meeting. It represents "comments and reflections" from the staff of the juvenile program in the Department of Natural and Economic Resources.

The report said that juvenile services in the state are so fragmented that the state actually has no juvenile justice "system" and "it has been seriously questioned as to whether there is juvenile justice within our state."

It recommended that the committee adopt a resolution advocating development and implementation of a statewide, uniform, comprehensive juvenile justice system administered under one centralized state agency. And it recommended that federal law and order funds be made available to finance development of the system. The statement also suggested new legislation that would create a distinction between treatment of a "delinquent" act — actually breaking the law — and an "undisciplined" act — such as running away from home or truancy. A delinquent act should include only those offenses "for which an adult could be incarcerated. Misdemeanor delinquent acts should be treated as undisciplined acts."

It said trials for severe delinquent acts would then be treated as criminal proceedings, "meriting all due constitutional safe-guards, including the right to counsel." Another court of a local juvenile committee would be used to handle cases of undisciplined acts. "This would eliminate at least 50 per cent of juvenile commitments, the statement said. "All state training schools should be closed," it said. "Children needing specialized treatment would be committed to regional centers. "All communities should have easy access to local residential facilities which could be used to treat those children who require secure custody," it added. "The committed child should not be isolate from his family or community."

Planning 25-Mile Run

Two East Carolina University students will get the Walk For Greenville Development off to a sprightly start tomorrow morning by running instead of walking the 25 mile course.

Bruce Shepard of Nags Head, a graduate student in counseling, and John Miles from Newfane, New York, are teaming up as a duo to warm up the course for the walkers to follow.

John, who was a member of the New York Junior Olympics, says "we hope to make it in about three and one-half hours." The two plan to make a break for it about 8:00 a.m. from the starting point, Ficklen Stadium.

Bob Clyde, in charge of the event designed to raise funds for the international "Freedom from Hunger" campaign, said sponsors were still being sought for the two long distance runner volunteers.

Mrs. Fannie Jackson, fifth grade teacher at Sadie Sautter and founder-operator of the Meadowbrook Day Care Center, will be a special guest at brief opening ceremonies.

Also, if time permits before having to attend a conference in Raleigh, Greenville Councilwoman Mrs. Mildred McGrath will be on hand for the opening ceremony.

Clyde noted he is encouraged by the pre-event response that is shaping up, with a number of merchants pledging as much as a dollar per mile for walkers they are sponsoring.

"One sponsor," Clyde revealed, "is Allen Meyers, a 10 year old boy who is donating the contents of his piggy bank to pay four cents a mile."

Clyde also mentioned that a surprisingly number of older people plan to walk a mile.

The director of the Greenville 25 mile walkathon says there will be someone manning the phone at Baptist Student Center 752-4646 until about 11:00 p.m. tonight to give details and to line up walkers and sponsors.
