

Sweden 'Arraigns' Commissioners OK New U.S. For Damaging Viet Environment Police Information Net

By GEORGE BOULTWOOD
Associated Press Writer

STOCKHOLM (AP) — Premier Olof Palme of Sweden arraigned the United States before the U.N. conference on the human environment today for what its military forces have done to Vietnam.

"The immense destruction brought about by indiscriminate bombing, by large-scale use of bulldozers and herbicides is an outrage sometimes described as ecocide which requires urgent international attention," Palme declared.

He did not mention the United States by name, but since only the United States has been bombing and using bulldozers and herbicides in Vietnam, it was apparent which nation he was talking about.

Such an attack was anticipated Monday by Russell Train, chairman of the U.S. delegation to the conference, who told newsmen that questions of armaments, bacteriological and chemical warfare were subjects for "another forum."

But Palme said while "work for disarmament and peace must be viewed in a long perspective, it is of paramount importance that ecological warfare cease immediately."

Brazil's chief delegate to the conference, Carlos Calero Rodriguez, brought out another issue that is expected to be one of the major factors in the discussions, the fear of underdeveloped countries that antipollution programs will curtail their industrial development.

Although he noted that "predominantly technological attitudes have produced serious negative effects on human environment," Callero Rodriguez said he did not believe "that economic development and environment protection need necessarily be contrary to each other."

Jack Davis, Canada's minister of environment, called on the nations for "environmental statesmanship."

"In protecting our local environment," he said, "we are often protecting the environment of our neighbor. By practicing environmental statesmanship, we are also helping to enhance the quality of life in lands that we will never see."

Pitt County Commissioners yesterday Sheriff Ralph Tyson gave permission to have a Police Information Network system terminal installed at the Court House.

The terminal includes a unit with a TV-like screen with typewriter-like keyboard which officers use to secure information or give information to other local law enforcement agencies in the state and nation, as well as enter and receive information on stolen articles such as guns, cars, and boats.

The system also provides for almost instant identification of vehicles in the state through access to N.C. Department of Motor Vehicles files.

In addition to the keyboard unit, a printer is also used which, at the push of a button, prints information on paper that is displayed on the screen.

Sheriff Tyson told commissioners the first year's rent for the terminal — $155 per month — will be paid with Law Enforcement Assistance Administration grants through the Mid-East Economic Development Commission's Law Enforcement Planning Division.

Commissioners also approved $800 for the purchase of an index filing system for the Sheriff's Department. The special, lockable file, was termed by the sheriff "much more secure" than the department's present files.

The remainder of the estimated $2,000 file will be paid for with law enforcement assistance funds through Mid East.

In other business yesterday, commissioners accepted the resignation of Sammy Carson of Bethel as chairman of the Pitt County Good Neighbor Council and approved colors for the new county seal.

In his letter to the board, Carson said he was resigning the Good Neighbor post in order to "concentrate on more pressing personal and community areas and efforts."

Commissioners, who earlier this year approved a new seal for the county, yesterday approved a colored version which includes a blue county set against a brown circular background which is in turn circled with a tan ring bearing the name of the county.

The new seal will become effective July 1 and the colored version will be used on letterheads, decals for car doors, and the like.

Miss Wilma Barnhill of Route 5 Greenville, an art major at East Carolina University, submitted several colored renditions of the seal to commissioners for their consideration.

Housing Authority Puts Off Decision

By TOM BAINES
Reflector Staff Writer

Housing Authority commissioners delayed, pending further study, a decision on a request by a Moyewood home owner for financial assistance in correcting a drainage problem that is affecting his house.

Appearing before the commissioners Monday night, Charles Whitaker of 319 Rountree Drive said that he has experienced "costly water problems" as a result of a damaged tile drainage system near his home. Whitaker noted that insufficient drainage has prompted the replacement of a heating system and also caused woodwork to mildew.

The resident, producing aerial maps showing the drainage system before and after the area was developed, said that he discovered a section of crushed tile near the street and contended the damage occurred when the street was constructed.

Whitaker noted that he had someone "who knows drainage" to go out and look at the site. The alternative to the problem, it was suggested, is to install a plastic tile line along the street to handle the water. Cost of the project was estimated at between $450 and $500.

It was pointed out that a sump pump was installed in 1969 and the method was approved by proper authorities as a solution to the drainage problem that existed at the house at that time. Whitaker, who has bought the house since then said, however, that the pump, although in operation, is not sufficient to handle the water load.

Roy Beck of the U.S. Soil Conservation Service, told the board that he feels the existing drainage in the area was damaged by the development of the area and obviously the pumps are not adequately handling the water. Beck said that the aerial photographs of the area came from his office.

Whitaker noted that several neighbors in the subdivision also had drainage problems but he did not feel they were as serious as his.

Commissioners, questioning whether they are legally obligated to assist financially, agreed to table the matter until they make a personal inspection of the drainage area with the commission architect. Chairman Woody Crumpler said that the home owner would be contacted prior to the July meeting of the Authority.

In other business, the board voted to deny a request by another resident of Moyewood that a $200 payment that was made toward the purchase of a new boiler be refunded.

Assistant director J. C. Lamm explained that after Mrs. Esther Porteur bought the house at 400 Moyewood Drive from the Authority, troubles with the boiler that could not be corrected necessitated the purchase of a new boiler. Mrs. Porteur, it was pointed out, paid $200 toward the purchase.

The owner later experienced problems with the replacement, Lamm said, and this past winter after having further trouble with the boiler, Mrs. Porteur had it replaced on her own.

Commissioners agreed that the Authority was not obligated financially. It was also noted that the Authority was not contacted prior to the installation of the new boiler.

Mrs. Sallye C. Streeter, director of tenant affairs, reported that all 453 units operated by the Authority in the city were occupied as of the first of the month.

In N. C. 22-1 (Meadowbrook), Mrs. Streeter said that the 65 units were rented and residents paid an average of $32.06 in rent. N. C. 22-2 (Kearney Park) residents paid an average rent of $34.07, she said. All 160 units were occupied.

In N. C. 22-3 (Moyewood) the 188 units were rented and residents paid $36.04 in rent while N. C. 22-4 (Moyewood) occupants average $29.85 in their rents. All 40 units in 22-4 were occupied.

Mrs. Streeter said that she and her staff spent the month making routine visits and interviews and also conducting follow-up inspections on units.

Joe Laney, executive director, reported that the HUD office in Greensboro Monday that an increase in tenant income limits in figuring Resident eligibility has been authorized. Commissioners voted to raise the limit according to the HUD scale.

Approval was also given for two staff members to attend a National Housing Conference Sept. 19-22 in San Antonio, Tex.

Rhodesia Mining Disaster

SALISBURY, Rhodesia (AP) — A total of 468 coal miners are feared dead in the worst mining disaster in Rhodesia's history, a spokesman for the Wankie Colliery said today.

A major underground explosion occurred this morning at the mine about 200 miles north of Bulawayo, the spokesman said.

He said 435 Africans and 33 whites were underground in the mine at the time, and there was no indication of any survivors.

A spokesman at the Wankie Mine Hospital said only four miners had been admitted with injuries. They were four surface workers injured as a result of the underground explosion. The spokesman could not describe their injuries or say how they were caused.

There was no explanation of what caused the blast.

The Wankie Colliery, owned by the giant Anglo-American Group, produces about 3½ million tons of coal a year. It supplies all Rhodesia's coal needs.

Approximately 850 Seniors Get Diplomas From Schools In County

Approximately 850 seniors received their diplomas at various graduation exercises held at county high schools last night. Nearly 30 different awards were handed out for scholastic achievement.

North Pitt High School graduated 243 seniors at ceremonies held in the high school gymnasium. Student speakers for the program were Debra Ann Stancill and Jimmy Hayes. The theme for Miss Stancill's speech was "We Have Come So Far" while Hayes used "Yet We Have Just Begun."

The special music Choral Club of the high school sang three selections: "Time For Parting", "Somewhere", and "We've Only Just Begun".

The senior class, represented by Oscar Lee Peaden and Rhonda Peaden Harris, presented the school with a gift of $300, half of which will go towards the landscaping of the inner court of the school grounds.

Farmville Central gave diplomas to 218 senior in their exercises Monday night. Thirteen special awards were given out some of which included: R. E. Mayo Science Award, Millie Brown; Most Dependable Student, Gayle Case; History Award, Patricia Little; Most Improved Senior, Dorothy Frizzell.

Scholarships totaling $25,646 were handed out to Farmville Central's students, and the future value of these scholarships is estimated at $96,704. In a survey taken by the high school, an overwhelming majority of students said they were planning to continue their education.

Others said they were either headed for the armed forces or some type of employment. Before an estimated attendance of 2,000, D. H. Conley held its graduation ceremonies last night. A total of 213 senior received their diplomas and other various awards. Among the award winners were: V. Vernon Cox Award for most outstanding athlete, Sherrick Gatlin; Betty Crocker Award, June Hall; Crisco Home Economics Award, Mary Lee Stephenson; A & T President's Scholarship, Angeline Perkins; Ricky Haddock Memorial Scholarship, Barry Gaskins.

Conley seniors gave a sundial as their class gift. The sundial will be placed in the courtyard. The seniors in graduation exercises held in the school gymnasium. Chairman of the Ayden-Gritton Advisory Council, Harry J. Jarvis, along with vice-chairman Dr. J. O. Carson handed out the diplomas. Jeanenne Joy Little won an award for the highest average for four years of high school. Others to receive awards included: Morehead Scholarship, Charles Lee Babington; George F. Hanks Scholarship to Wake Forest University, Leslie Ann Denson; High Education Achievement Scholarship to Kittrell College, Barbara Jean Smith.

Small Haul
ST. THOMAS, Ont. (AP) — Police here are still asking—Why exactly $20.18?

That's how much two armed men took from a restaurant here Saturday. They left another $250 in the till.

A waitress told police one man acted as lookout while the other held a gun at her head.

"I gave him a $20 bill," she said, adding the man took 18 cents more, then fled.

No arrests have been made.

Education Innovation Is A Luxury Philadelphians Fear They Can't Afford

By PAUL CARPENTER
Associated Press Writer

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Innovation in urban education, for at least one public school, is a luxury this city has decided it may not be able to afford.

West Philadelphia University City High School stands as a monument to compromised hopes for a comprehensive new system of upgraded inner city education.

The gleaming $14-million citadel of experimental learning techniques, built in a predominantly black section of Philadelphia, is limping away from the new programs it was designed to provide.

Unregimented learning units geared to let students move at their own speeds have reverted to conventional classroom regimen for most students. Classrooms designed without walls for an individualized learning approach have been partitioned into conventional classrooms.

The 60-room school, Philadelphia's first new high school in nine years, opened in December and was immediately used to place pupils crowded out of other city schools. By February, 1,300 pupils were assigned to University City High, most of them unprepared for the new techniques being practiced by a core of 300 pupils and 12 teachers. When the new pupils were given the choice of continuing with the innovations or going back to traditional procedures, 75 per cent opted for tradition.

Some school officials and pupils are bitter over what has happened to the school's promising program. They blame the Philadelphia school administrators who have taken over since last fall's election of Mayor Frank Rizzo, a foe of what he calls "frills" in education.

School administrators say the programs were curbed because federal funding programs were stopped. Lower echelon officials say the federal programs were only the mold for the local program, which could continue if the city was so inclined.

North Viet Supply Boats Being Shot Up

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — American fighter-bombers knocked out more than 100 supply boats Monday in the most damaging attack on North Vietnam's inland waterways since the resumption of full-scale bombing two months ago, the U.S. Command said today.

U.S. officials said that with its harbors mined, its two railways to China cut and much of its highway system severed, Hanoi was turning more to small craft and barges to move supplies. But one senior U.S. official said America's air forces were successfully countering this.

The biggest kill was claimed by Navy pilots from the carrier Coral Sea, who reported destroying or damaging 69 water craft. Most were caught on the Song

Ca River and tributaries two miles from the coast near the city of Vinh, a major transshipment point 160 miles south of Hanoi and 145 miles above the demilitarized zone.

The U.S. Command said more than 220 strikes were flown across North Vietnam Monday.

In South Vietnam, the Saigon command said government troops and supporting U.S. planes continued to battle North Vietnamese troops holding out in the northern part of Kontum in the central highlands.

A South Vietnamese spokesman at Pleiku claimed that by dusk Kontum has been entirely cleared of North Vietnamese troops, but other sources said some snipers might be left in the city.

The Saigon command said

Couple Exchanges Vows On Sunday Afternoon

The marriage of Miss Priscilla Anne Kelly of Greenville, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Kelly, and Daniel Virgil Bolick, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. Virgil Bolick of Kannapolis, took place on Sunday at 4:00 p.m. in the Jarvis United Methodist Chapel.

The Rev. Troy Barrett and Rev. John T. Kelly Jr., brother of the bride, officiated at the double ring ceremony.

A program of wedding music was provided by Mrs. Paul Toll, organist, and Miss Cathy Wilson, soloist, who sang "More" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The chapel was complemented with tall standards of greenery and pyramidal candelabra with bouquets of white mums, carnations and pom poms. At the altar was a decorated prie-dieu where the vows and rings were exchanged, and the couple knelt facing each other for the closing prayer and benediction. Pews were marked with white satin bows.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a formal length gown of white peau de soie with a full overskirt of silk organza. The empire bodice, covered with Venise lace, was designed with a scalloped princess neckline. Venise lace was also featured on the sheer lantern sleeves.

Her full length chapel Mantilla of silk illusion was edged in matching lace. The bride carried her Bible with a bouquet of orchids and miniature carnations slightly showered with narrow satin.

Mrs. John T. Kelly Jr., sister-in-law of the bride, was matron of honor and Miss Patricia Kelly, twin sister of the bride, was maid of honor.

They wore full length dresses of silk screened floral polyester organza fashioned after the bride's gown. Fuchsia velvet ribbon defined the empire waist and sleeves. They wore matching headpieces of velvet ribbon double bows with long streamers. They carried nosegays of pink, fuchsia, and yellow miniature carnations.

Grant-Pollard Vows Solemnized Sunday Afternoon

In a candlelight ceremony on Sunday at 3:00 p.m. Miss Sherry Kay Pollard became the bride of Stephen MacLamb Grant in the Belvoir Free Will Baptist Church. The Rev. Dave Nobles, pastor of the bride, officiated at the double ring ceremony.

A program of wedding music was presented by Miss Melody James, pianist, and Mrs. Bobby Manning, soloist, both of Greenville.

The church was decorated with a fifteen branch candelabra and two baskets of white gladioli, chrysanthemums and pom poms on either side. Two fifteen branch spiral candelabra flanked the front of the church. At the right of the minister, a three branch candelabra was used with two outside tapers burning throughout the ceremony. The couple lit the middle taper symbolic of their union. The couple knelt on a silhouette prie-dieu for the blessing and prayer.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Pollard of Greenville, was given in marriage by her father. She wore a formal length gown of ivory silk chiffon, made by her mother. The gown was fashioned with a modified empire waist and long sheer bouffant sleeves ending with a ruffle. The deep V-neckline was enhanced with a ruffle. Bridal lace encircled the waist and bordered the hemline. Her cathedral length train was attached to the empire waist.

Her two tiered cathedral length veil designed and made by her mother, was of French silk illusion cascading from a camelot cap and edged in bridal lace. She carried a bridal cascade of miniature carnations and baby's breath.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ulysses S. Grant of Snow Hill.

The honor attendants were Miss Joan Leggett and Mrs. Terry Haddock, cousin of the bride, both of Greenville. They wore formal length gowns of pink and lavender floral chiffon, fashioned along the lines of the bride's dress and matching headpieces. They carried nosegays of white pom poms and bridal wreath.

Bridesmaids were Miss Debra Pollard and Miss Tyresia Pollard, cousins of the bride, Mrs. William Roebuck, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. Bobby T. Harris, all of Greenville, Mrs. Gail Grant, sister-in-law of the bridegroom, and Mrs. Preston L. Fields Jr., aunt of the bride, both of Kinston.

Their dresses were identical to the honor attendants.

Junior bridesmaid was Miss Sonya Tina Holland of Greenville and flower girl was Miss Myra Moore of Bethel. Their dresses and flowers were similar to other attendants. Miss Moore carried a basket of rose petals.

Gail Grant served his brother as best man. Ushers and groomsmen were Phil Cooper, cousin of the bridegroom, of Roanoke Rapids, Lindsey Suggs of Hookerton, Michael Pollard, brother of the bride, and Terry Haddock of Greenville, Harper Manning of Fountain, Preston L. Fields Jr., uncle of the bride, of Kinston, and Harry Letchworth of Snow Hill.

Mark Pollard, brother of the bride, was junior usher. Ring bearer was Chris Roebuck, cousin of the bride.

Mrs. Pollard selected for her daughter's wedding, a street length dress with empire bodice and long sleeves of plush pink hand-crochet Venise lace. This topped a gathered skirt of pink crepe. She wore matching accessories and a cymbidium orchid.

The bridegroom's mother chose a dress of turquoise polyester lace knit with a roll collar tapering to hineline and long chiffon sleeves. She wore matching accessories and a cymbidium orchid.

Mrs. P. L. Fields Sr., maternal grandmother of the bride, wore a blue figured A-line dress overlaid with blue silk organza and matching accessories. Mrs. Ryan S. Pollard, paternal grandmother of the bride, wore an A-line dress of apple green and white with corresponding accessories.

Mrs. Roy Cooper of Roanoke Rapids, sister of the bridegroom, wore a pale yellow outfit and matching accessories. They all wore white carnation corsages.

The wedding was directed by Mrs. Dave Nobles. Mrs. Donald Palmer cousin of bride, presided at the register.

For a wedding trip, the bride changed to an apple green outfit of polyester crepe and wore her mother's corsage.

The bride is a graduate of Belvoir-Falkland High School and Mitchell's Hairstyling Academy. The bridegroom is a graduate of Green Central High School and Lenoir Community College and a senior at East Carolina University. He will continue his education this fall. After a wedding trip to unannounced points the couple will reside in Greenville.

After the wedding a reception was given by the parents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Pollard, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Ray Forrest, aunts and uncles of the bride, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Pollard.

Open House Honors Couple

Mr. and Mrs. Joe E. Brown Sr. were honored at a surprise open house Thursday in honor of their 25th wedding anniversary.

Hosts and hostesses were Mr. and Mrs. Erastus Briley and daughter, Terri, the Rev. and Mrs. Adrian E. Brown Sr., and Mr. and Mrs. Joe E. Brown Jr., all of Greenville, and in coordination with Mr. and Mrs. H. Stephen Vierow of Flint, Mich.

The dining table was decorated with a three tiered cake, silver punch bowl and a center epergne of candles, gladioli and mums.

Approximately 40 guests called during the evening.

Special guests were the couple's daughter, Linda, of Flint, Mich., Mrs. Rachel Steinbeck Sturz of California, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Cox, Mr. and Mrs. Wilton Cox Sr. and Wilton Jr., Mrs. Wayne Speight and Mrs. James Hardison, all of Walstonburg, Mrs. James E. Hall of Parkton, Setsuko Magahama and Michiko Iyonage.

Mrs. Bobby Pollard greeted guests at the door and introduced them to the receiving line.

After the couple cut the first piece of cake Mrs. Durwood Pollard aunt of the bride, served cake and Mrs. Ray Forrest aunt of bride poured punch.

The table was centered with an arrangement of white and pink gladioli, snapdragons and baby's breath nestled in a silver epergne. Two three branch silver candelabra flanked each side. A pink and white color scheme was carried out.

Good-byes were said by Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Pollard.

Those assisting in serving were Mrs. Roy Stancill, Mrs. Dempsey Holland and Mrs. Sylvester Morris.

Following the rehearsal on Saturday night, Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Smith entertained the wedding party and guests at their home.

A yellow and white color scheme was carried out. The bride and bridegroom remembered their attendants with a gift.

Miss Pollard was presented a corsage. Good-byes were said by Mr. and Mrs. P.O. Fields Sr.

The Church was decorated with palms and baskets of white gladioli and pink carnations flanked by fifteen branch candelabra and kneeling bench. Pews were marked with pink ribbons and bells.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white silk organza and alencon lace which was embroidered with seed pearls with an empire bodice, portrait neckline and capelet sleeves.

Her floor length veil, which was made by her grandmother, Mrs. Gladys Jackson, was accented with appliques of lace and seed pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of white pompons.

Miss Sue Hart, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She was attired in a gown of white organza with pink and green flowers. The gown was designed with an empire bodice and capelet sleeves. She carried a basket of shaded pink frenched carnations.

Bridesmaids were Miss Susan Coppage, Miss Pat McKay of New Bern and Mrs. Michael McCafferty of Chapel Hill. Junior bridesmaids were Teresa Hart and Mary Lou Shine. Elizabeth Shine was flower girl. Their gowns and bouquets were the same as the maid of honor.

The father of the bridegroom served as best man. Ushers were Ken Nance of Florence, S.C., Johnny Toler of Princeton, Wayne Evans of Greenville, Reuben Earl Hart and Jim Bryant of New Bern.

The mother of the bride was dressed in a Nile green ensemble with neckline and cuffs of seed pearls. She wore matching accessories and a white orchid corsage. The bridegroom's mother selected a pink silk shantone coat-dress trimmed with seed pearls. She wore matching accessories and a white orchid corsage.

For a wedding trip, the bride changed into a turquoise ensemble with matching accessories and a white orchid.

The bride is a senior at East Carolina University. The bridegroom is a senior at East Carolina University and is employed by the U. S. Post Office, Greenville.

Reception

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held in the fellowship hall of the church.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Douglas greeted guests.

The refreshment table was covered with a nylon linen cloth with a lace overlay and centered with an arrangement of bridal flowers. The bride's table was adorned with candles, bride's book and her bouquet.

Miss Brenda Jackson of Garner presided at the bride's table. Miss Betsy Booth of Roxboro and Miss Debbie Smith of Goldsboro served cake. Miss Sue Cowan of Windsor and Miss Rebecca Blevins of Belle, W. Va., poured punch.

Good-byes were said by Mr. and Mrs. Garret Walker.

DEAR ABBY: I never thought the day would come when something in your column would provoke me enough to write to you, but "PERTURBED," who claims that in some small towns hairdressers make as much as $100 a day, so why tip, certainly got my back up.

I have been a hairdresser in Massachusetts and Florida for 12 years and I have yet to find such a place. I've worked in some of the best shops and I was lucky to make ends meet. After working 5 1/2 days, my gross pay was $50 for the week. So you see where I would be without tips from my customers.

We hairdressers pay a lot for our schooling, and today we make less than a girl who has just graduated from high school and takes a secretarial job.

J. P., PLYMOUTH, MASS.

DEAR ABBY: You can tell your hairdresser, Cloyd, that he can move to Duncan, Okla. There are seven beauticians in the shop I go to and they all make at least $80 a day, and $100 on Fridays and Saturdays. And this town has a population of only 25,000.

REGULAR PATRON

DEAR PATRON: I gave Cloyd your message, and he says the hairdresser who takes in that kind of money MUST have a very lucrative sideline.

DEAR ABBY: Tell "PERTURBED," who doesn't think beauticians need tips, to come off it. There are some jobs that wouldn't be worth a plug nickel without the tips. Waiting on tables is one, and hairdressing is another.

BEEN BOTH

DEAR ABBY: I have been a hairdresser for 18 years, and only once did I come close to making $100 in one day. And that included my tips!

"PERTURBED" is DISTURBED.

ROSE

DEAR ABBY: I would like to know what that beauty operator who told "PERTURBED" she made $100 a day was smoking. She must have meant $100 a WEEK!

NOT HACKING IT IN HACKENSACK

DEAR ABBY: After reading the letter from "PERTURBED" who says beauty operators don't need "tips" because they make so much money, I had to write:

I wish "PERTURBED" could be a hairdresser for just eight hours. She'd find out what it's like to keep on schedule with clients calling and begging to be worked in on a Friday afternoon. Also, trying to be pleasant to a different person every 20 minutes when your feet are killing you and you are half dead.

No beauty operator I ever knew could cut the mustard without tips. I don't care where she works.

BOILING OVER IN BALTIMORE

DEAR ABBY: I am a beauty operator who wants to tell you how I feel about tipping.

In our profession, tips are appropriate, but a tip should not be expected. I get tips, which I appreciate, but if I couldn't make it without tips, I'd find something else to do for a living. After all, a tip is something extra given because the customer feels generous, and it's never a sure thing.

Please print this in defense of the hairdressers who want their patrons to know that we appreciate their patronage whether they feel like tipping or not. There are three operators where I work and they all agree with me.

Forcing Tax Deduction Study

Along has come an election year proposal for reform or abolition of 54 tax loopholes or special tax reductions.

The changes have been advocated by Rep. Wilbur Mills, the knowledgeable chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee.

Included in the reforms would be the reduction elimination of the oil depletion allowance, accelerated business-depreciation rules, capital gains, sick pay exclusion, $25,000 corporation surtax exemption, extra exemptions for the aged and blind, children with incomes in excess of $750, child care costs and charitable contributions.

The changes would also affect political contributions and deductions for non business interest and taxes.

Of course, some of these deductions might prove too popular to be eliminated but Mills reported that he wants to guarantee an orderly and systematic review of tax laws.

Rep. Mills has hit upon a way to get Congress to take a new look at these various deductions to determine if they are still in the best interest of the nation. Under his proposals the deductions would die if Congress does not re-enact them.

The legislation was also introduced in the Senate by Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield.

It should be clear to the lawmakers that the nation wants tax reforms to eliminate some of the loop holes which have left wealthy individuals often paying less tax than those of far less income.

Rep. Mills has perceived this and he has come up with a plan to force a review of deductions. It may not get through in this political year, but it is certain that some tax reforms will, and should, be forthcoming.

Disadvantaged Know The Need

CHAPEL HILL — Drawing disadvantaged young people into health careers can help lift the quality of health care in their communities.

"They know the desperate need because they've lived with it. If we open opportunities for training, perhaps they can be motivated to return and use summer's course were provided by grants of $15,000 from the Z. Smith Reynolds Foundation of Winston-Salem, and $5,000 from the Southern Education Foundation of Atlanta.

Doubles Enrollment

Enrollment is doubled from the 37 students who participated in the initial course last summer.

Mrs. Clayton reported encouraging results from the first venture. Twenty of those who participated were accepted into professional schools, and 17 returned to undergraduate studies before embarking on health careers.

At the same time, she cautioned that the program must be regarded as a long-range effort rather than a one-shot deal.

Recruitment is a primary focus. Two counselors at N.C. Central cultivate contacts with prospective students, encouraging them to set their sights on health careers.

"We need examples to turn on minority youngsters," Mrs. Clayton said. Many black children have never seen a black doctor, dentist or nurse, she explained, although they know they can aspire to jobs as teachers and in business.

Keeping Life Style

Traditionally, health careers have been identified with the middle class. Poor and minority youth may rule out the choice because it seems a drastic break with their background and culture.

"We must convince them that they can gain and practice the skills without changing their life style," she said.

"We are still searching for innovative ways to reach and motivate young people in disadvantaged communities to see health careers as a worthwhile investment for their lives."

Mrs. Clayton, wife of an attorney and mother of four children, commutes 60-plus miles from her home in Warren County to the Chapel Hill office.

She saw health care problems at close range as founder and executive director of the Economic Development Corporation, operating programs in several eastern counties. She made a foray into politics a couple of years ago as an unsuccessful candidate for Congress.

Politics is getting things done. In that sense, she observed, health is politics. The challenge is to make citizens see the link between their daily lives and political activity, she added.

Things People Can Do To Deter Crime-Rise

J. Edgar Hoover's last warning to the nation was of the increased crime danger during summer months.

Apparently it is difficult to halt those bent on crimes, but we can make their task more difficult.

We can inspect our homes to see that they are secure and take steps to see that homes are watched by a neighbor or friend during vacations.

We can make certain our cars are locked and the keys removed.

We can avoid places where the danger of personal attack is highest.

With a little care on our part auto thefts, break-ins and assaults can be reduced.

Discontented For McGovern

By ROWLAND EVANS

and ROBERT NOVAK

LOS ANGELES — The utter failure of Sen. Hubert Humphrey's hard-line tactics became clear to his managers late last week when a secret survey revealed that Sen. George McGovern in California was running as well among blue-collar voters as with the general population for the first time anywhere.

In all previous states, McGovern needed his white campus-suburban nucleus to compensate for a significantly smaller share of the working class. That he should finally score a blue-collar breakthrough in California is both ironic and meaningful considering Humphrey's success here in exposing radical McGovern policies obnoxious to blue-collar voters.

Thus, McGovern's impending massive win in California further extends the McGovern Phenomenon: voters who disagree with him on vital issues but support him as an honest, new face. The extension is that here, for the first time all year, McGovern's policies on welfare, redistribution of income and national defense were thoroughly revealed to a constituency inherently hostile to his ideas.

This does not alter the conviction of McGovern's old pros, that McGovern should quietly bury his politically untenable radical programs in a general election against President Nixon. McGovern himself acknowledged to us that the Nixon attack will be tougher, more sustained and better financed than Humphrey's.

Nevertheless, it must be recorded that McGovern did not pull away here until after Humphrey's attacks mounted and McGovern seemed in danger of being forced onto the defensive.

When Humphrey arrived in California more than two weeks ago, McGovern's first and recurring impulse was to strike back hard at Humphrey, mainly by dredging up his old support of the Vietnam war. This impulse was approved by campaign manager Frank Mankiewicz, who prepared anti-Humphrey material (most of it never used).

Arguing against this strategy was Frederick G. Dutton, the ex-Robert F. Kennedy confidant, who suddenly appeared in the McGovern entourage during the California campaign. Dutton counselled McGovern to turn the other cheek. So did Pat Cadell, McGovern's young pollster, who contended today's public recoils from a politician who depens divisiveness and that Humphrey's attacks would backfire.

The Dutton-Cadell view did not fully prevail until the first televised "debate" proved it correct. Humphrey's camp was jubilant, justifiably believing the debate had thrust McGovern on the defensive and that McGovern had flopped trying to explain his $1,000-a-person welfare scheme. But all polls showed the cool McGovern perceived by the public as the winner over the strident Humphrey. He surge in California began then.

If the McGovern phenomenon is not fueled by ideology or issues, neither is organization the secret. Contrary to the new myth, his California campaign was no model of efficiency. Nor did McGovern forsake the techniques of the old politics he decries.

Abandoning his former moderation on the Middle East, McGovern became a super-militant supporter of Israel to woo Jewish votes. Wearing a prayer cap in a San Fernando Valley synagogue, McGovern read, word for word, a pro-Israel declaration written for him

Strength For Today

WHERE IN LIES VICTORY?

"There is no fiercer hell than failure to accomplish a great purpose," wrote Keats, the English poet who was to die at twenty-five "Ah yes, there is," wrote a great admirer of Keats: "The fiercer hell would have been the surrender of that purpose. He might have become John Keats, M. C., with a neat dooplate on a London villa. That would have been failure indeed, for he would have cast away his most precious gift. It is better to fail in a high ambition than to succeed in a lesser one."

Keats was immeasurably grieved because, with all his splendid writing, he never achieved what he believed to be the best. He left a volume of the world's finest poetry behind him when he passed away in young manhood, but still he felt that he had never written anything worthy of his endowments. There was much in his view a man with conviction that his best is never good enough. What he failed to realize was that God loves those who aspire beyond every present achievement and stands ready always to comfort them in the grief they have over what they consider failure.

"It's always better to have tried and failed than not to have tried. Failure is to be measured by purpose, not by achievement. It is what we want to do and try to do which makes us victorious, rather than what we achieve."

A 'Very Expensive' Ride

Toward the end of this week, if all goes well, the Senate Finance Committee will complete its work on this year's mammoth Social Security bill. When the bill reaches the floor, toward the end of the month, we will witness one of those seasonal phenomena that mark our political climate: Behold, in mid-summer, Christmas.

Which is to say that when it comes to increasing Social Security benefits, the Senate is expected to outdo the House. Under the House bill, an increase would be provided across the board of 5 percent. The Senate committee will recommend at least 10. Senator McGovern is demanding 20. Senator Humphrey is pledged to 25.

Whatever figure finally is accepted for a basic increase, the bill will provide still greater benefits in certain classifications. Medicare provisions will be expanded. The present limitation of $1,680 on the unpenalized earnings of a retired person will be boosted to at least $2,000. 'Tis the season to be jolly. Senators will adjourn to the strains of Jingle Bells.

Very well. The Social Security system will be 37 years old on August 15; and the system itself is socially secure. There is not the slightest prospect of a taxpayers' rebellion against it. But once the carols depart, young workers especially should take a sober, critical look at whether this thing is drifting. They are being taken for a very expensive ride.

The Social Security people are fond of talking about "contributions." They speak assuredly of "trust funds." Their program still carries the deceptive name of old-age "insurance." All this is sham.

The increased benefits about to be voted on will not be paid by "contributions." They will be paid by taxes, collected under the compulsion of law, and these will be among the steepest and most regressive taxes collected in our land. The present tax rate is 10.4 percent on earnings up to $9,000 a year, half of it paid by the employer, half by the employee. That produces a maximum tax of $936. Under the House bill, the rate by 1977 would to 14.9 percent on earnings up to $10,200, producing a maximum tax of $1,509.

In theory, but only in theory, these taxes go into a "trust fund." Sometimes they call it a "special fund." But so long as ordinary words carry ordinary meanings, these statements are baloney. Revenues from Social Security taxes go directly to the U.S. Treasury, pausing only long enough en route for the writing of some I.O.U.'s. The "trust fund" is a myth.

Most Americans have a fairly clear idea of what is meant by "insurance." They understand that an insurance policy is a contract, under which fixed premiums are paid and fixed benefits are guaranteed. The relationship is clear between what is paid in, and what is paid out.

No such relationship exists under the bogus "insurance" of Social Security. One of the pending proposals in the Senate package has to do with the low-income worker who retires after 30 years. He now receives $135 a month in Social Security benefits. The bill would boost this to $200. But the $135 has only a tenuous relationship to the taxes he has paid, and the $200 would have none. The cost would be borne by younger workers, not yet retired, whose only hope for redress lies in the expectation that when they themselves retire, someone will play Santa Claus for them.

About a year ago, Milton Friedman, the Chicago economist, debated these points with Wilbur Cohen, (Continued on page 5)

"Why can't you drive a car, Henry? Were you scared by an Erector set when you were a child?"

"They say the typical American gets his chief ego satisfaction out of life manipulating the wheel of a big, powerful automobile. How do you get your ego satisfaction, Henry—watching birds or playing the zither?"

"No, I don't think there's anything really abnormal about Henry. My opinion is that he's simply too cheap to buy a car. What other explanation could there be?"

"It could be that he's allergic to machinery. You can be allergic to almost anything. I knew a girl once who was allergic to money as a child, but thank God, she outgrew it."

"I'm tired of hearing about what you can't do, Henry. Tell me, is there anything interesting that you ARE able to do?"

"Henry is totally useless in an automobile. Since he doesn't drive at all, he is no help to you if you get lost. He doesn't pay any attention to road signs or landmarks."

"The only time Henry is any help is when you run out of gas. You can always hand him a can and tell him to hike to a filling station for more."

"Henry, you spend about a third as much time in my car as I do. Why don't you volunteer?"

Primary Results Rehashed By Partisan Supporters

By TOM BAINES
Reflector Staff Writer

Jim Holshouser's narrow win Saturday over Jim Gardner in the Republican gubernatorial contest is still being rehashed by Gardner supporters in this area and some have mixed emotions about their November plans.

Dr. John East of Greenville, who served as co-chairman of Gardner's First District campaign, said yesterday that he has not had the opportunity yet to assess the GOP situation following the runoff defeat.

"We are still winding up details of the district campaign," East commented, "and we really haven't had time to start thinking about November" in terms of candidate support.

East pointed out that the First District, made up of 21 counties, gave Gardner a 5,305 to 1,118 vote margin Saturday, a plurality of some 4,187 votes or 82.5 per cent for Gardner. The district also led in Gardner support in May, he noted, as the candidate received a 4,200 vote plurality or 78 per cent.

W. E. Dansey, First District chairman, asserted that "we feel we did not get the voters out Saturday," noting that the small turnout was a factor in Gardner's defeat.

Dansey said he feels that U.S. Senate candidate Jesse Helms "will run a good race" and as district chairman is "obligated to support the full GOP ticket."

The chairman of the Pitt County GOP executive committee, Dick Greene, commented, "Never before has the Republican Party in North Carolina engaged in such a hard fought primary for governor. Jim Holshouser and Jim Gardner represented two excellent and capable candidates for governor and the selection of Holshouser was a down-to-the-wire contest."

He added, "This primary, along with the 1968 primary, is indicative of the fact that the North Carolina Republican Party has reached full maturity and will be a viable force in the political system in North Carolina, not only in 1972 but in the years to come."

"I am convinced that the Republicans in Eastern North Carolina will rally to support Jim Holshouser. With the ever increasing popularity of President Nixon, based on momentous successes he is having with domestic and foreign affairs versus the possible alternatives so far as competition for these jobs, I am positive we will reelect the president and give them Helms and Holshouser," he said.

W. W. Allen of Ayden, Gardner co-ordinator in the Ayden area, said that "naturally we are quite disappointed. But I would like to offer my congratulations to Jim Holshouser and feel certain Gardner supporters throughout the state will rally behind Holshouser."

Allen said he felt the heavily populated Piedmont area turned the tide for Holshouser, a Boone attorney. He noted that statewide support for the candidate should give Republicans in the state their first governor in over 100 years.

Another Gardner supporter, Ronald Robertson of Ayden said that he intends to support Holshouser in November. "I considered both men highly qualified for the job but it was just a matter of feeling that Gardner would be stronger in the east," he said.

Mrs. Ken McAlpine of Grifton, noting that it was too early to make a comment about November support, said she thought the small GOP turnout kept Gardner from winning. "I think if we had gotten the Republicans out we would have won and we would have reaped the benefits."

Mrs. Mary Anne Manning of Bethel said that "A lot of us have mixed emotions about the election. It is a little early to be able to say anything about November."

On the Democratic side, where Hargrove "Skipper" Bowles maintained his May 6 primary strength to defeat Lt. Gov. Pat Taylor Saturday, county executive committee chairman Henry Oglesby said yesterday he plans to call a meeting of the committee to talk about an active campaign for the Democratic nominee.

"If there was ever a time when we need to get behind our candidates, it is now," he commented. "We should be the same kind of Democrats in November that we were in May."

Oglesby, who was recently elected to the county chairman post, said that he personally supports whoever the party chooses. "We certainly cannot take it for granted that the Democrats will not have a fight in November," he said. "Our candidates can not sit idly by and just wait to be elected."

Mrs. Betty Smith Speir of Bethel, a Pitt County coordinator for Taylor, commented that she is a "Democrat all the way. I plan to support Mr. Bowles 100 per cent."

Ed Warren, a Taylor supporter in the primaries, pointed out this morning that there is no question that he will offer his support to Bowles in November. He added that he was planning to meet with other Taylor supporters soon to discuss the situation.

Agree To Accept Bids On School

WILLIAMSTON — An agreement to accept bids for a new Williamston High School was made at a special call meeting of the Martin County Board of Education late last week.

Bids for the new school, which is estimated to cost in the neighborhood of $25 million will be opened on June 29.

The new school, to be located on a farm site between U.S. 17 and U.S. 64 by-pass, will be on land adjacent to the new Martin County Hospital, now in its final stage of construction.

Alton Hopewell, Public Relations Director for the Martin County Schools, said that it is hoped to have the new plant ready for occupancy by the beginning of the 1973-74 school year.

At the special call meeting, members of the Martin County Board of Education also mapped plans to attend and speak at a number of public gatherings at various schools during the period June 19 through June 29.

The informal meetings are to discuss with the populace details of the proposed $4.5 million school bond issue which will face the Martin County voters in a referendum to be held July 11.

by Milton Gwirtzman (fresh off Sen. Edmund Muskie's failed campaign).

Although McGovern's younger staffers bitterly derided Humphrey's promise to name a Mexican-American to the Cabinet as vile old politics, McGovern made the same promise a few days later. What's more, it resulted from a secret deal between McGovern and Mexican-American politicians.

Thus, McGovern rides neither new political techniques nor ideology nor organization, but a tide of discontent against the political establishment. That discontent includes yearnings for a new leader to inspire the nation, and California Democrats now think McGovern is that leader. At Covina last Wednesday night, for example, a giant McGovern rally generated frenzy, exaltation and adulation seen nowhere in this country since the aborted 1968 campaign of Robert F. Kennedy.

But George McGovern is not Bobby Kennedy. Having abandoned counterattacks against Humphrey and wisely refraining from discussion of his policy positions, McGovern was dealing in banalities at Covina His droning Midwestern voice occasionally broke, and the huge crowd's excitement diminished the longer he spoke.

So, the McGovern Phenomenon cannot truly be explained in terms of personality either. Rather, it is a massive desire for something new to replace the something old that definitely includes Hubert Humphrey,

Two Injured In Accidents

Two persons were reported injured in collisions here yesterday.

Police reported Shepherd Brann, 75, of Hookerton was injured when the vehicle he was driving collided with a car driven by James Edward Ware, 25, of Roanoke, Va. about 11:25 a.m. at the intersection of U.S. 264 and N.C. 11.

Damage was estimated by officers at $200 to the Ware auto and $600 to the Brann car.

Ware was charged with failing to see his intended movement could be made in safety.

Officers said Robin Little, 13, of 2603 East Third St. was injured in the second collision which occurred in Greensprings Park about 2 p.m.

Investigators reported an estimated $300 damage resulted to a motorcycle driven by Little when the vehicle struck a tree.

No charges were reported in that mishap.

WHEDBEE HONORED ... The Pitt County Bar Association yesterday presented a portrait of William L. Whedbee — a former judge of the old County Court of Pitt County — to be hung in the District Courtroom in his honor. County attorney W.W. Speight accepted the painting on behalf of the Board of County Commissioners after the portrait was unveiled by the former judge's daughter, Mrs. Betsy Whedbee Barker of Lexington, Ky. Whedbee's brother, District Judge Charles H. Whedbee presided over the court during the presentation. Whedbee, who was awarded a law degree from the University of North Carolina in 1925 was elected judge of the county court in 1928 and served for four years. He became chief legal supervisor for the Home Owners Loan Corporation (a government home-loan body) in Eastern North Carolina in 1932 — a job he held for 10 years. He also served as mayor of Greenville for four years and for years was sales supervisor of the Greenville Tobacco Board of Trade. Former county court judge Dink James, in making the presentation for the Bar, said the portrait would stand as a "recognition for years of faithful service." (Reflector Staff Photo).

There's some money waiting for you at our office.

At any one of our Greenville offices, for that matter. Just stop by any time during office hours and ask for the loan manager. You'll find yourself talking to someone who thinks a loan manager's main job is to see you get a loan. Without having to answer a bunch of pointless questions. Or wait around while he runs things through committees. He can give you fast action because he makes the decision. And if you're wondering what that decision is most likely to be, consider this: Wachovia makes more loans than any other financial institution in North Carolina. So if you have a problem that money would solve, drop by any Wachovia Bank office. One of the people listed below will be waiting with your solution.

CHOOSING JURY
BURGAU, N.C. (AP) — Attorneys for activist Ben Chavis and 10 other persons accused of participating in racial violence in Wilmington last year were to begin questioning potential jurors today.

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock market prices strengthened slightly today as many investors watched from the sidelines.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials, which had been off more than 3½ points earlier, was up 0.61 at 955.00 by 11:30 a.m. Declines on the New York Stock Exchange led advances by nearly 2 to 1.

As on Monday, stocks of several airlines declined in active trading. Observers linked the weakness to disappointing May traffic figures for these carriers. Prices on the Big Board's most-active list included Pan American World Airways, off ¼ at 16¼; Braniff Airways, off ¼ at 17¼; and Eastern Air Lines, off ¾ at 28½.

Prices on the Big Board's most-active list also included McDonnell Douglas, off ¼ at

Williamston Bd. Keeps Mid-East Role

WILLIAMSTON — Members of the Williamston Town Board Monday night approved an annual $600 contribution that keeps the town an active member of the Mid-East Economic Development Commission.

Also in connection with the Mid-East Commission, town commissioners, responding to a request from Jack Runyan, Chairman of Mid-East, appointed Town Commissioner Wilbur D. Edwards as municipal representative for Williamston on the Mid-East Commission.

In addition Edwards was also appointed to serve as governmental representative with Mid-East and Police Chief John L. Swain was appointed as Law Enforcement Representative to that agency.

A tract of land adjacent to U.S.

64 by-pass, the subject of a request for rezoning in May that was tabled at the time, was again taken up Monday night. The Town Board approved rezoning from residential-office to shopping center the parcel of land, which is across the by-pass from the VEPCO building.

Taking note of a request from R. Eugene Rogers, Superintendent of Martin County Schools, for extension of water

Degree Earned By Mrs. Alston

Mrs. Vandella Alston of Greenville recently received her Masters Degree in Education from Brooklyn College, Brooklyn, N.Y.

Mrs. Alston, originally from Washington, N.C., graduated from Elizabeth City State University in 1959. She presently is an elementary school teacher at South Greenville School. She is also a member of Sycamore Hill Baptist Church.

Mrs. Alston is the daughter of Mrs. Lottie May of Brooklyn, N.Y. and the late Aaron May. She has three children.

and sewer service to the site of the proposed new high school just outside the city limits, town commissioners concluded that furnishing sewer will present no problem. On water, however, the commissioners feel this should be undertaken by the county and are recommending this course of action to the Board of Education.

A proposal, tabled from an earlier meeting, to extend East Church Street from Watts to Biggs Street, was turned down by the commissioners. The proposed extension would have entailed filling in a large gully, with engineers estimating the total cost to run between $50,000 and $75,000. Commissioners expressed the opinion the project was far too costly to justify the current need for an extension.

Mrs. Wardell Brown was appointed to the Williamston Recreation Commission to fill the vacancy left by the death of Mrs. Florence Roberson. Other appointments include a Student Youth Advisory Group of two members. The two appointed, for advisory roles only, are Miss Kara Fore and Benny Hopkins.

In accepting the resignation of Dr. David Marshburn from the Urban Renewal Commission, based on the reason of pressing business, the town commissioners deferred naming a replacement.

James E. Leathers was appointed for a three year term on the Williamston Planning Board to replace Charles Alston, who decided not to stand for reappointment.

In a final action Monday night, commissioners set June 29 at 7:30 p.m. as the time for a public hearing on adopting a revised one mile extra-territorial boundary limit for the town. Currently, the limit is a vague definition of one mile from the city limits. Under the new revised plan, the limits will follow recognizable points of references such as streams, roads, boundary lines and other identifiable points.

Brief Meeting By Martin Bd.

WILLIAMSTON — Martin County Commissioners had what must be a record brief meeting for that body on Monday. At the June meeting, only two items faced the commissioners. The first was receipt and acknowledgement of a petition opposing the proposed one cent sales tax increase. The petition was signed by Paul R. Downing.

The second item concerned the nomination and approval of Ray Keel of Gold Point as a member of the Martin County Recreation Commission.

Following the brief meeting, members of the County Commissioners adjourned and traveled to Jamesville for the opening of the new water and sewer system in that eastern Martin County village.

Spring Picnic Held Sunday

The parishioners of St. Peter's Catholic Church attended their annual spring picnic Sunday afternoon, which was held on the school grounds.

Father Maurice Spillane, pastor of St. Peter's Church, and the Sisters of St. Raphael's School were guests for the event.

Mrs. Dina Dorney supervised the numerous games for the children. Each family brought a special "gourmet" dish for the picnic.

Mrs. Dorothy Trotta, president of the Woman's Club of St. Peter's Church, was assisted by several club members in arranging the affair.

The next picnic will be held in September.

Commissions Given To Eighteen Grads

Eighteen East Carolina University graduates have received commissions as second lieutenants in the U.S. Air Force.

The new officers completed Air Force ROTC requirements during their undergraduate study at ECU. They received their commissions in formal ceremonies held Sunday prior to the 63rd annual ECU Commencement.

They received bachelor's degrees in a variety of disciplines, including history, philosophy, psychology, child development and family relations, political science, physics, geography, biology, science education, industrial and technical education, mathematics, business administration and accounting.

Names, parents' names and hometown addresses of the commissionees include:

GREENE COUNTY, Farmville — James Benjamin Lewis Jr., son of James B. Lewis, Route 1.

PITT COUNTY, Greenville — Jefferson Davis Wilson III, son of J. D. Wilson Jr., 205 Granville Drive.

BENNIE E. TEEL of Greenville graduated recently from Trinity College in Hartford, Conn., with a Master's degree in French. A 1967 graduate of East Carolina University where he was named to "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities", he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Teel of Greenville. He will teach in France beginning in September.

Band Boosters Oppose Cutback

At a recent meeting, the E.B. Aycock Junior High School Band Boosters Club asked that the band program for the school not be reduced.

In a resolution, the club asked that "consideration be given to enhancing the program." The Band Boosters suggested that an effort should be made to secure funds for the program rather than a reduction in the program.

The resolution also stated the band program "deserves support of those who seek excellence and achievement in the public school."

Those wishing further information should contact Bill L. Hunt, who is Band Booster Club President.

Church. Burial will be in the church cemetery. The body will be taken from the Wilkerson Funeral Home to the church one hour prior to the service.

Huey's, Four Seasons Continue Winning Pace

Seven games were played last night in the City Softball League, but there were no real surprises in the outcomes.

Parker's downed Hardees, 14-1; Four Seasons beat Shirley's, 10-5, and downed Greenville Utilities, 26-8. Huey's beat Harbin's 6-5, while Parker's also polished off the Jaycees, 24-4; Burger King beat Fieldcrest, 13-5, and Greenville Utilities beat the Jaycees, 12-8.

In the first game at Guy Smith, Parkers pushed ahead with four runs in the first inning. They scored five more in the second to wrap it up.

R. Nichols singled and W. Vincent reached on a two-base error. J. Evans doubled them in and C. Meeks doubled. W. Nichols tripled and scored when J. Carraway flew out with the ninth Parker's run.

Then added one in the third, two in the fourth, six in the fifth and six in the seventh. The Jaycees got one in the third on a homer by Joe Ratcliffe, one in the fourth as Bob Turner homered, one in the fifth on a homer by Mike Peters and one in the sixth.

In the second game, Burger King spotted Fieldcrest a run in the first, then came back to score three in the top of the second as Eyes homered. Fieldcrest tied it up with two in their half of the second, but Burger King went back out with two in the third.

They wrapped it up, however, in the fourth, when Bill Williamson hit a solo homer for a 6-3 lead.

Burger King added four more in the fifth on a homer by Bobby Smith, then collected three more in the sixth with Slack homering. Fieldcrest added two more in the sixth.

In the final game at Guy Smith, GUCo pushed over two in the first with A. Hathaway homering, but a two-run homer by Mike Peters tied it up for the Jaycees. GUCo went back ahead with one in the second, then added another in the third as H. Outland homered. The Jaycees came up with two in their half of the third with Ratcliffe homering to tie it all 4-4. They added two more in the fourth to up the margin to 6-4.

But GUCo came up with five in the fifth to take the lead for good. Outland doubled and J. Suggs singled. A. Harris doubled them in as D. English reached on an error. R. Bullock doubled and D. Herring singled. L. Cherry reached on a fielder's choice, scoring Bullock with the ninth GUCo run.

They added three more in the sixth, while the Jaycees came up with one each in the fifth and sixth.

At Evans Field, Four Seasons pushed ahead with two in the first, then scored six in the second, while GUCo got two.

Four Seasons wrapped it up with seven in the third. Donnie Brewer singled and Bill Turcotte got a hit. Ronald Vincent homered and William Moye and Dick Douglas both singled. Tommy Jordan tripled then in and scored on Charles Allen's single. A hit by John Childers and a double by Brewer brought in Allen with the 15th Four Seasons run.

They added four in the fourth, six in the fifth and one in the sixth. GUCo picked up one in the third, four in the fourth and one in the sixth for its total.

In the second game, Huey's went into the lead with two in the third but Harbin's came up with four in the fourth to take the lead. Huey's tied it up with two in the fifth, but Harbin's went back ahead on an out-of-the-park homer by J. Brewington, making it 5-4.

Huey's came up with two in the bottom of the sixth however to win it. J. Hicks singled as did K. Hungate. M. Jarrell singled in Hicks and J. Williford reached on a fielder's choice, scoring Hungate.

Four Seasons went to work again in the next game, pushing over four in the first inning with Vincent homering. Shirley's came up with one in their half of the first.

In the second, Four Seasons pushed over five to put the game out of reach. Brewer singled and Roy Carraway singled. Vincent tripled and Charles Vincent later came in on a fly-out to score the ninth run.

Four Seasons added one in the sixth, Shirley's picked up one in the third, one in the fourth and two in the seventh.

In the final game, Parker's got all they needed in the first, scoring five runs. Jimmy Evans singled and William Nichols doubled. Robert Nichols reached on an error and Wayne Avery singled. Charles Meeks tripled and came in on a sacrifice fly by Rick Langley for the 5-0 lead.

Parker's later scored two in the fourth, three in the fifth and four in the sixth. Hardee's got its lone run in the third.

Home Builders, Pepsi Take Babe Ruth Wins

Home Builders and Pepsi-Cola pulled off wins last night in the Babe Ruth League. Home Builders nipped North Carolina National Bank, 3-2 in 10 innings, while Pepsi-Cola took 8-7 win over College View.

Pepsi still holds the lead at 6-2, while NCNB is 5-4. College View is 2-1, while Home Builders is 2-5.

In the opening game, NCNB pushed ahead in the first inning. Donnie Haddock singled and stole second. He scored when George Martin reached on an error.

In the sixth, Home Builders broke the ice and pushed over the tying run. Jon West singled and took second on an error on Jim Wilkerson's grounder. Carlton Walls singled and West came home with the tying run on an error.

NCNB went back ahead in the eighth with a run. Martin reached on an error and stole second. Jimmy Radford reached on an error, scoring Martin for a 2-1 lead.

But Home Builders came right back to tie it up again. West reached on an error and took second on a wild pitch. Chris Manning got a two-out double to score him.

Finally, in the 10th, Home Builders got the game ending run. Ricky Harris singled and moved up on a passed ball. Manning sacrificed him to third and he scored on Carlton Wall's fielder's choice ending the game.

Haddock and Jack Jenkins led the NCNB hitting with two each. Home Builders got only four off Jenkins, but it proved to be enough.

Pepsi pushed ahead with three runs in the first inning of the second game. David Dixon walked and T. J. Payne was hit by a pitch. Curtis Lee walked to load the bases. Dixon came in on a pickoff error and Doug Causey singled in both Payne and Lee.

College View scored its first run in the top of the fourth. Keith Jones walked and took second on a passed ball. Lee Moore also walked, and Bill Wilson sacrificed them up. Lee Shearin hit another sacrifice, scoring Jones with the first run.

Pepsi countered that with two in their half of the fourth. Franklin Davis walked, as did Dixon and Payne. Lee singled to drive in both runners, making it 5-1.

College View came up with three in the fifth. Connor Merritt singled and Ron Hunt walked. Jim Buck doubled them in and Jones walked. Buck moved to third on a fly out by Moore and scored on Wilson's ground out.

In the sixth, they scored three more and took the lead. Greg Sasser walked and moved up on an out. Merritt walked and Buck reached on an error. Jones walked to force in a run and Moore singled to drive in Merritt and Buck for a 7-5 lead.

Pepsi scored once in the sixth to come within one. Henry Baker walked, took second on a balk and was wild pitched to third.

Pepsi came up with the winning runs in the seventh. Bill Ellington singled and Baker reached on an error. Dixon walked, loading the bases. Payne singled in Ellington and Lee walked to force in Baker with the game ending run.

M'brook In Church Win

Meadowbrook edged past Black Jack last night, 9-7, in the Church Softball League.

Black Jack pushed ahead in the first inning scoring three runs. Randy Dixon cracked a homer to drive in all three. Meadowbrook also came up with three in the first as John Huber cracked a homer.

Black Jack broke the tie with one in the fourth as Tal Adams homered, but Meadowbrook came up with two to take the lead, 5-4. Black Jack pushed back ahead, scoring two in the fifth, and then added one in the sixth for a 7-5 lead.

But Meadowbrook came up with four in the bottom of the sixth to take the lead and the win. Oscar Roebuck led off with a single and Bobby Harris got a hit. Huber cracked his second three-run homer, putting Meadowbrook ahead. Gordon Bunting singled and Carl Powell tripled him across for the 9-7 score.

The game was protested by Black Jack when it was called at that point by the time rule.

Optimist Win On Big Inning

The Optimists rallied for 11 runs in the fifth inning to take a 14-5 victory over R. C. Cola in the North State Little League yesterday.

The win left the Optimists with a 5-2 record and possession of first place in the league. R. C. is now 2-5.

R. C. gained the lead in the top of the first with three runs. Leon Hardee walked and Bill Tugwell doubled. Doug Selby doubled them in and stole third. He scored the third run on a passed ball.

The Optimists came right back with three of their own. Eric McCormick walked and Greg Lee reached on a fielder's choice. Jeff Aldridge then homered to tie it up.

It stayed that way until the fourth when R. C. scored twice to take the lead again. Hardee reached on an error and Ricky Bolonde was safe on another miscue. Both advanced on a passed ball and another error on Jay Wood's grounder, scored Hardee and Wood.

But the Optimists came up with 11 in the fifth to wrap it up. McCormick led off with a single and Lee walked. Aldridge hit a double to score McCormick and a passed ball scored Lee. Gary Allen reached on a fielder's choice and he took second on a passed ball. Randy Hodges was safe on an error, scoring Aldridge, and another passed ball moved Hodges to second. Bubba Rowlette walked to load the bases and James Shoe was hit by a pitch, bringing in Allen. Keith Ward walked to score Hodges and Mac Stokes singled in Rowlette and Shoe. McCormick singled and Lee hit a sacrifice fly to score Ward. Aldridge singled in Stokes, and a single by Allen brought in McCormick and Aldridge, ending it.

Joe Shoe and Jeff Worthington led the R. C. hitting with two each, while Aldridge and Allen each had three and Stokes and McCormick had two each for the Optimists.

Snead Fails To Qualify For Open

By ALEX SACHARE
Associated Press Sports Writer
"That's about the worst I've ever played in my life," declared a very hot, very tired and very disappointed Sam Snead after failing Monday in his bid to qualify for this year's U.S. Open.

After a fine morning round of 69 in sectional qualifying at the Charlotte, N.C., Country Club, Snead ballooned to a 78 in the afternoon round. His 147 total was 12 strokes back of Doug Sanders, the top qualifier. More importantly, it was two strokes over the qualifying limit.

So Snead, winner of 84 PGA-co-sponsored tournaments—but not a single U.S. Open, will be absent when the field of 150 tees off at Pebble Beach, Calif. June 15-18.

Snead, who turned 60 nine days ago, had five bogeys on the front nine and his second round. But even with that, he would have managed to qualify if he was able to par the back nine. Instead, he bogeyed the 17th, then three-putted for a double bogey on the par four, 423-yard 18th.

The temperature was in the high 80s on this hot, muggy day, but Snead refused to use that as an excuse.

"I had no excuses," he declared, after flopping down on a bench in the scorer's tent. "I just played badly. I've played 36 holes in one day before."

So for Snead, the U.S. Open jinx continues. An Open also ran 33 times, he competed in 25 consecutive Opens starting in 1937. His closest shot at a title came in 1939 at the Philadelphia Country Club, when with victory in his grasp he bogeyed the 17th and then shot a triple-bogey eight on the final hole.

Ironically, there is one Snead who can compete at Pebble

Beach. That's J.C., Sam's Nephew and a tour regular, who was exempt from qualifying rounds because he was among the 15 leaders on the PGA tour in 1971 under the USGA point system.

Sectional qualifying for 115 spots unfilled in the Open continues today. A large field will compete at Philadelphia, where 105 golfers will vie for 21 placed. Included among the entrants are tour regulars such as Gardner Dickinson, Deane Beman, Marty Fleckman, Dale Douglass and George Knudson.

Among the golfers exempt from qualifying are Arnold Palmer, Jack Nicklaus, Lee Trevino, Gary Player and Billy Casper.

Sanders, the flashy dresser who won the Kemper Open on the pro tour this weekend, carded a 68-67—135 to lead qualifiers at Charlotte. Other tour regulars who qualified there included Hubert Green, Don Bies, Rod Funseth, Lou Graham, Kermit Zarley, Dave Marr, Bob Murphy, Bob Lunn, Mason Rudolph, Dave Hill, Charles Sifford, Jim Jamieson, Bruce Devlin and Gibby Gilbert.

Among the prominent names not to make the grade, along with Snead, were Phil Rodgers, Herb Hooper, Lionel Hebert and Bruce Fleisher. The veteran Hebert suffered from heat exhaustion late in the day.

Sectional qualifications were held in Dallas, Denver, Chicago, Cincinnati, San Francisco and Los Angeles.

Gordon Jaehne of Houston captains Army's golf team.

Twins Top Orioles; Oakland Downs Perry

By GORDON BEARD
Associated Press Sports Writer
BALTIMORE (AP) — Not even extra batting practice, spectacles for Boog Powell, or the arrival of usually friendly Minnesota pitching could snap the Baltimore hitting slump.

Instead, the Orioles once again surrendered rather meekly at the plate Monday night as the Twins won 3-2 on a sixth inning double by Bobby Darwin.

The victory ended a four-game Minnesota losing streak and enabled the Twins to slip into second place in the American League West, five percentage points ahead of the idle Chicago White Sox.

Both Minnesota and Chicago are four games behind the surging Oakland Athletics, who topped the sagging Cleveland Indians 3-2 on the 10th inning home run by Campy Campneris in the only other major league game played Monday.

One other scheduled game, Pittsburgh at San Diego in the National League, was postponed by rain.

Manager Earl Weaver of the Orioles, at a loss to explain Baltimore's .220 team batting average as compared with last season's league-leading .261 mark, ordered batting practice Monday morning.

Against Minnesota starter Dick Woodson, 4-3, and ace reliever Wayne Granger, however, the Orioles managed just five hits and two of those were bunts. Last season, Baltimore hit an amazing .312 against Minnesota pitching.

Veteran Brooks Robinson did slam his first home run of the season, in his 158th trip to the plate.

The Orioles have now lost six of their last seven games to fall 3½ games behind Detroit in the American League East.

Powell's, Baltimore's erstwhile slugging first baseman with a .152 average, was hitless in three trips to the plate Monday. He wore glasses for the first time on one at bat, and struck out.

In Cleveland, the homer by Campneris extended Oakland's winning streak to four and dealt the Indians their 10th loss in 12 games.

Reggie Jackson hit a two-run homer for the A's, giving him the league lead with 11, while Eddie Leon's homer tied the score for Cleveland in the eighth, 2-2.

John "Blue Moon" Odom, who needed help from Darold Knowles for the final out, was the winner and is now 3-1. The loser was the Cleveland workhorse, Gaylord Perry, 9-4.

Foreman Says No Absorption

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—Earl Foreman, owner of the Virginia Squires of the American Basketball Association, said Monday reports that the ABA will be absorbed by the National Basketball Association were the "babbling of idiots."

A story in the Greensboro, N.C., Daily News, citing an unidentified source, said Monday the ABA would cease to exist after NBA meetings June 15-16.

The same report said the Virginia franchise was "heavily in debt to the ABA and may not be accepted" into the NBA. Foreman said this was a "misunderstanding" by the people who are saying it.

The Daily News story said Carolina Cougars owner Tedd Munchak, on behalf of the ABA, has been meeting secretly with NBA commissioner Walter Kennedy. The report said they have reached agreement to allow six or seven ABA clubs to enter the NBA.

Squires administrative vice president John Kerr said "we have no knowledge of any new plans for absorption by the

Trevino To Skip Three

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Golf Writer
PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Note from the pro golf tournament trail:

Lee Trevino, one of the best players on the tour, will skip three events in the near future and will take off for two months at the end of the season.

He's already announce he will miss the American Golf Classic in Akron, Ohio, the week after the British Open "because the Firestone Country Club course is just too long for me. I can't play it."

He'll also miss the Cleveland Open, between the U.S. and Canadian Opens where he's the defending champion, and the $250,000 Westchester Classic the second richest event on the tour this season.

"I'm not going there because they won't let me take my caddy," Trevino said. "If it was something like the Western, where they have a scholarship program for the caddies, or something like that, well, fine and dandy. But when they just to use their own caddies, I don't go."

Billy Casper had planned to play in the IVB-Philadelphia Classic this weekend, but is skipping it to attend the graduation of his daughter, Linda, from high school in Southern California.

Chip shots: Gene Sarazen, whose career spans four golfing eras has been named to the selection committee for the American Golf Hall of Fame in Foxburg, Pa. ... Richie Karl, a tour sophomore whose only claim to fame is a pair of Alaska state amateur titles won while he was in the Army, naturally enough has been dubbed "Klondike Karl."

Texas Dave Eichelberger recently won a thoroughbred filly as the first prize in a program event in Louisville. "I'm looking for a jockey," said the newest owner of a one-horse racing stable.

Grant To Make Appeal Today On Indy Finish

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP)—Race driver Jerry Grant has his day "in court" today to appeal the penalty that cost him $72,000 in prize money from the Indianapolis 500-mile race.

A three-member United States Auto Club panel heard the appeal in a closed session. USAC President Charlie Brockman presided, but the other members were not identified in advance of the hearing.

Grant finished the race May 27 in second place, just seconds behind winner Mark Donohue. But the next day a protest was allowed, and Grant was dropped to 12th spot.

Grant was charged with taking on fuel from the supply of teammate Bobby Unser who dropped out early in the race. Car owner Dan Gurney, who filed the appeal, admitted the pit crew inadvertently pumped fuel from Unser's pit tank into Pimlico racetrack, home of the Preakness, in its 102nd season.

Minnesota's recent 49-48 victory over Purdue gave the Golden Gophers their first Big Ten basketball crown since 1937.

Grant's car, in violation of race rules. Gurney contended it was an honest mistake because Grant, coming in for a tire change with only 30 miles left in the race, overshot his own pit and ended in Unser's.

Gurney challenged the severity of the penalty, 10 places and a difference of nearly $72,000 in the prize allotment. He also said the rules set no penalty for violating the fuel limits.

Brockman said results of the hearing would not be announced until Wednesday or Thursday. "We do not want to make an announcement on the outcome until we are able to write a full report giving our reasons," he said.

How to qualify for the Army's new $1500 special enlistment bonus.

A four year hitch in Armor, Artillery or Infantry will do it. It's a special enlistment that demands a special man. A man the Army is now able to give more to get. $1500 more.

If you've got what it takes, you may qualify for this bonus, paid when you successfully complete your training.

The bonus is over and above the Army's new starting salary of $288 a month. Over and above the Army's many benefits. Like free meals, free housing, free medical and dental care, and 30 days paid vacation each year.

This special enlistment in Armor, Artillery or Infantry offers other advantages, too. Like your choice of unit, or your choice of location in the States or abroad. And the choice is guaranteed.

We'll put it in writing for you before you enlist.

Find out if you're the special kind of man we'll pay a special bonus to get. Talk it over with your nearest Army Representative. Local quotas are limited, and this offer may be in effect for only a short time depending on Army manpower requirements.

The Worry Clinic Jefferson Set The Priority

Thomas Jefferson really gives the main reason why I launched this "Worry Clinic" column! For now I have an estimated 50,000 "students" in contrast to 300 each semester in my classes at Northwestern University. Note Shakespeare's comment, too!

By GEORGE W. CRANE
Ph.D., M.D.
Case U-502: Thomas Jefferson was one of our most brilliant Founding Fathers.
One day he was requested to make a crucial decision.

"Suppose," he was asked, "we had to give up either our schools or our newspapers, which would you surrender?"
Jefferson didn't take but a moment to reply.

"I'd keep the newspapers," he stated, positively.

And you can see why, for people would still learn to read and write without our expensive public schools.

George Washington thus received his superb education from private sources.

So did Abraham Lincoln. In fact, most of those astute statesmen who signed our famous Declaration of Independence, never attended public schools!

Nor did the framers of our superb U.S. Constitution!

Yet how many college professors today could have evolved such remarkable documents?

"Men wearing rapiers," said William Shakespeare (also not a public school alumnus), "are afraid of goose quills."

Which is the basic source for the paraphrase:
"The pen is mightier than the sword."

Nowadays we might properly state:
"The typewriter (or linotype) is greater than the nuclear bomb."

Jefferson again lauded the newspapers by saying:
"Where the press is free, and every man able to read, all is safe."

Benjamin Franklin and Thomas Jefferson were thus our major defenders of free speech and a free press.

George Washington also realized the vital importance of a free press when he added:
"The mass of citizens of the United States mean well and I firmly believe will always act well when they can obtain a right understanding of matters."

But Washington's reference to a "right understanding," precludes a regimented press like that which Hitler controlled in his rise to dictatorship.

In Chile, South America, we have recently seen the catastrophe of a Communist take-over, which muzzled the press, as well as the television and radio stations.

"Dr. Crane," I am often asked, "why did you give up your campus teaching of psychology at Northwestern University and throw in your lot with newspapers?"

It was because I saw that the newspapers are the major educational force in America! For most people quit the formal school classroom at the age of 18.

But now they have an average longevity of at least 70 years. So who is the major "teacher" of adult Americans during their 52 adult years, AFTER they have left the classrooms forever?

It is mainly the newspapers! So I decided that, via this "Worry Clinic" column, I could help thousands of threatened divorces, school dropouts, unwed pregnancies, and even persecution complexes based on lack of skill at winning friends.

Since I come from many generations of school teachers and clergymen, I am basically an educator at heart.

So I figured I could thus bring practical psychiatry and family counseling to 50,000,000 Americans via this column, in contrast to the 300 students each year in my Northwestern University classes!

Scholarships And Awards Go To 17 Students

Seventeen students in the East Carolina University School of Music have received scholarships and awards and 20 advanced students have been initiated into Pi Kappa Lambda honor society.

Of the 17 receiving scholarships and awards, two are from Greenville. Miss Linda Susan Pescatore is recipient of the outstanding senior music major award; and Mrs. Jacqueline Rausch, a senior, is winner of first place in her category at the National Teachers of Singing Regional Auditions held in Jacksonville, Florida.

Two music majors from the local area are among those inducted into Pi Kappa Lambda. They are Alan Jones of Snow Hill and Sheila Anne Marlowe of Greenville.

False Alarm Costs Worry Charlotte; $500,000 Annually

CHARLOTTE (AP) — False fire alarms are costing Charlotte taxpayers at the rate of almost one-half million dollars a year.

The Fire Department is studying to see if anything can be done short of removing the fire-alarm boxes from residential streets.

A nationally prepared model false-alarm ordinance was presented to the City Council last year. City officials tried to have it introduced in the General Assembly, but it died somewhere along the line. It called for a $100 minimum fine for a first offense and jail for repeat offenses. It also would have provided for a felony charge if a fireman was injured answering a false alarm.

At present, a Charlotte ordinance provides that anyone who willfully reports a false alarm is guilty of a misdemeanor and subject to a $50 fine and-or up to five days in jail.

Most false alarms are pulled by youngsters, says Leo Slack, community relations director for the Charlotte Fire Department. "They pull the alarms on the spot of the moment, not realizing the consequences. What they are setting into motion is three to six pieces of equipment, each costing upward of $50,000."

Just sending the equipment out and returning it costs a

A pause for reflection at the opening gun might have proved highly profitable as well as refreshing to East in defending against South's six spade contract.

South's jump rebid of three spades is forcing to game after North's two-over-one response. When the latter trotted out a second suit by bidding four clubs, South checked back for aces via Blackwood. The five no trump bid announces that the partnership has all the top controls. Had North shown a sufficient number of kings, it was South's intention to go all the way. When his partner turned out to be kingless, however, he was obliged to settle for a small slam in spades.

West opened the eight of diamonds, an effective choice, for with any other lead, declarer has time to set up North's clubs for two discards. The deuce of diamonds was played from dummy and East put up the jack to win the trick.

Without a moment's deliberation, East made the natural shift to a heart and South played the ace. Trumps were drawn with four pulls as North discarded hearts and clubs. A diamond was led to the ace and then the queen was returned. East followed with the six, declarer sluffed the queen of hearts and West showed out. Another diamond brought forth East's king which was ruffed in the closed hand. The ace of clubs put North in to cash the ten of diamonds on which South sluffed his remaining club. He claimed the rest with good trumps, having lost one diamond trick.

East was in position to defeat the slam by returning a diamond at trick two. Altho this temporarily sacrifices a trick, it effectively prevents the establishment of the suit. If South overtakes the nine of diamonds with dummy's ten to lead a third round, he cannot ruff with the nine of spades without subjecting himself to an overruff. If he trumps with the jack, on the other hand, West's ten becomes established as an eventual winner.

If South wins the diamond return in his hand at trick three with the nine, in order to draw trumps, it is presumed that he will enter dummy with the ace of clubs to cash the ace of diamonds. When the suit does not divide evenly, he may discard a club from his hand and then resort to the heart finesse. When this fails, he is set by one trick.

In the first four months of this year, of the 772 fire alarms reported from street-corner fire boxes in Charlotte, 634 were false alarms.

The total of 724 false alarms at $200 apiece adds up to $144,800 in one third of a year, or $434,400 a year if the trend continues. It also jeopardizes lives because firemen and others may be injured in traffic accidents, says Black, the department spokesman.

Foreign Steel Imports Dropped

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A drop in the volume of foreign steel imported during April appears to be the first effect of a recently signed agreement between the United States, Japan and the European Common Market limiting the amount and type of steel imports.

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A wonderful day for all kinds of interesting new beginnings that appeal to you and through which you can make your highest dreams and cherished longings come true. So be active after first using your fine mind to make the decision vital to your growth and development. Be openminded to desirable changes.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Being friendly with others gets them to go along with your ideas very easily. Your social savoir faire is good and you should get out to parties, etc., and make a big impression on others. Dress beautifully.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) You have to make right arrangements if you want those projects you have in mind to turn out successfully. A little time spent with one who is in trouble can be very helpful. Show that you care.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Plan to see many of your friends soon and call them now to make appointments. You can go after your finest personal aims and get them if you act positively. Take it easy in p.m.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) More courtesy shown bigwigs today will produce fine results soon, but be sure you follow every regulation that applies to you. Some civic work can be very helpful to you, also. Become involved in it.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) If you get into new projects, you find that much of benefit can be yours thereby. Take time to correspond with others, also. Plan to do some traveling soon. Read travel folders now.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Start right now taking care of those responsibilities and get them behind you with speed, efficiency. Follow your hunches and please others more than you have in the past. Show you have wisdom, also.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Those close to you will now speak their minds and you know better where you stand with them. Have more harmonious relations through fine conversations that are to the point. Arguing is not good, though.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Make the right arrangements with people who whom you have made promises, or whom you want to have in your life in the future. Showing mate your devotion in some tangible way is wise. Reach a better understanding.

Biblical Interpretation Controversy Shaping Up

By LEE LINDER
Associated Press Writer
PHILADELPHIA (AP) —

More than 13,000 Southern Baptists open their 115th annual meeting today, faced again with a bitter controversy over whether interpretations of the Bible should be liberal or conservative.

The Rev. Gwin Turner of Mar Vista, Calif., said he would introduce a motion during the opening session of the three-day convention that would demand the recall and the rewriting of all 12 volumes of the Broadman Bible Commentary published by the denomination's Sunday School Board.

Turner attacked the commentary in 1970 and again last year, insisting it was too liberal—and the delegates twice supported him.

"The entire commentary is built upon the expressed belief that the Bible is not the word of God," Turner said.

The Rev. Dr. Carl E. Bates of Charlotte, N.C., who retires after two years as president of the 11.8-million-member church, said he regretted the conflict.

"The sad thing is that we go over the same ground again and again," he said.

Editorials in at least nine weekly Baptist state papers across the country have opposed Turner's motion.

The Baptist Standard of Texas said the splinter group known as Fellowship of Conservative Southern Baptists which supports Turner, "is out to wreck the fellowship" of the convention.

The Louisiana Baptist Message said "what they now want is a bonfire—a book burning affair in the city of the Liberty Bell."

A new president will be nominated from the floor this after-

Planning To Attend Land Bank Session

Officials of the Pitt-Greene Production Credit Association will attend the Federal Land Bank Associations' and Production Credit Associations' annual conference for Directors and Executive Officers in Atlanta, Georgia, June 11-13, according to F. L. Little, Jr., president of the association.

Little said the conference has been announced by R. A. Darr, president of the Federal Land Bank and Federal Intermediate Credit Bank of Columbia, S.C. Approximately 1,700 farmer-directors, executive officers and guests for the 46 Land Bank Associations and 60 Production Credit Associations in Florida, Georgia and the two Carolinas are expected to attend.

noon.

Speculation centers around Mrs. Marie Mathis of Waco, Tex., now president of the denomination's Women's Missionary Union Convention; Owen Cooper of Yazoo City, Miss., an industrialist; Fred Rhodes of Washington, deputy administrator of the Veterans Administration; the Rev. James Coggins of Fort Worth, Tex.; and the Rev. John Bisagno of Houston, Tex.

A woman has never headed the Southern Baptists, and the last layman president served in 1959.

"The Credit Bank provides leadership, supervision and agricultural loan funds for Production Credit Associations which serve over 53,000 farmers, growers, and ranchers with more than $782 million of short and intermediate term agricultural credit through 190 complete service offices," Little said.

The farmer-owned and operated Pitt-Greene PCA serves Pitt and Grene counties and is extending $14,000,000 to farmer members in these counties for their needs for operating and capital investment credit on an intermediate term basis.

Officials of the Pitt-Greene PCA attending the conference will be Alton Gardner of Rt. 2, Ayden, Chairman; W. F. Welfare, Jr. of Snow Hill, Vice Chairman; Chester Don Worthington, Jr. of Rt. 1, Greenville, Director; David Harold Smith, Rt. 2, Ayden, Director; and Charles H. Harper of Snow Hill, Director.

McGovern's Total Rises

WASHINGTON (AP) — George S. McGovern has pushed his nationwide total of delegates to the Democratic National Convention to 537½.

And as the South Dakota senator waited today for the outcome of the California primary with its 271 delegate votes at stake, the prospect was that victory would bring him delegates committed to Sen. Edmund S. Muskie of Maine.

The 62 Illinois delegates committed to Muskie may switch if McGovern wins decisively in California, Angelo Geocaris, Muskie's Illinois chairman, said Monday.

Sources said the switch could occur even if Muskie asks the delegates to stand firm.

McGovern added delegates over the weekend in Oklahoma, Kentucky, Connecticut, Colorado and Illinois in caucuses and conventions, plus a couple in the official Nebraska canvass.

Gov. George C. Wallace of Alabama stands second in the delegate count going into the July 10 convention with a total of 318.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota is third in the count with 299½. Muskie has 166 and there are 449½ uncommitted delegates.

It will take 1,509 delegate votes to capture the nomination for president at the Miami convention.

Judge Rouse To College

RENO, Nev. — Judge Robert D. Rouse, Jr., of the Superior Court of Farmville, North Carolina, has been accepted for enrollment in an intensive four-week course in post graduate legal education conducted by the National College of the State Judiciary, an activity of the Section of Judicial Administration of the American Bar Association.

The College, located at the University of Nevada in Reno, is dedicated not only to providing continuing education for judges regardless of their length of time on the bench, but also to bringing modern court management techniques to trial courts nationwide.

Judge Rouse will be attending Session II from July 23 through August 18, 1972, and will study proceedings before trial, new developments in evidence, civil, family and criminal law as well as advanced concepts in court management and administration.

Earned Degrees 'With Honors'

Six recent graduates of the East Carolina University Department of Political Science received degrees "with honors in political science."

The students successfully completed a year-long honors program, involving independent research under a faculty advisor.

Since the inception of the political science honors program at ECU in 1967, 21 students have completed the requirements.

The 1972 honor graduates are: Lawson Brown, Maria Castillo, Karen MacFarland, Jeffrey Miller, Cecil Myers and Marvin Rooker.

Recreation Dept. Offers Children Active Vacation

The City Recreation Department Summer offers something for children of all ages. The program begins Monday, June 12th with supervised activities scheduled for seven weeks through July 28th.

Many of the programs are open to people of all ages and sex, but most are aimed primarily at the City's youngsters enjoying summer vacation.

Boyd Lee, Director of Recreation, said, "We realize that during the year the children are kept busy with school work and school activities. We think that our summer program will be a welcome change and will provide two months of fun and relaxation."

With this in mind, Lee and his staff — Charles Vincent, Assistant Director; Linda Burrell, Program Supervisor; Luke Hemby, South Greenville Supervisor; Ronald Darden, Recreation-Police Club Supervisor; Walter Stasovich, Special Activities Director; and Elednor Scheipers, Administrative Assistant, have planned the following programs:

BOYS BASEBALL for youngsters ranging in age from seven years old through 12 years will be conducted daily Monday through Friday at Elm Street Park. Seven year olds will register for the Small Fry program, eight year olds for the Big Fry, and nine thru 12 year olds for the Big Five program. The Greenville Little League program is already under way, and these programs are geared for boys not in competitive play. Group instruction and team play awaits each and every boy who registers.

The Coastal Boys League for boys nine - 12 years old will play games at South Greenville

"DO NOT EXIST"

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The FBI's acting director, L. Batrick Gray says alleged secret files on thousands of private citizens do not exist among the agency's records.

Center. The Babe Ruth League for 13 - 15 year olds meet and play games at Guy Smith Stadium. The Senior Babe Ruth League for boys 16 - 18 is newly organized and plays at Guy Smith field.

CHILDREN'S SUMMER THEATER will organize for its third straight year. Last year four separate productions were held for the public. This theater production program includes lessons in acting, stage setting, make-up, and lighting. It is hoped that more young males will join the company. Last year's attendance was about 50 with only a small percentage being boys.

WRESTLING AND WEIGHT TRAINING for boys over eight years old will be held each day, Monday thru Friday, from 4:00 - 6:00 p.m. in the weight room at Rose High School. Instruction in various wrestling holds and escapes will be given as well as individual matches. A fee will be charged to cover the cost of securing an instructor.

TENNIS LESSONS for young and old will be held at the Elm Street Tennis Courts. Classes will be set up for various age groups during the day. These classes are always filled, so it is most important that children register and attend regularly. Each participant must wear proper tennis shoes and provide his own racket. Classes for adults are usually scheduled in the early morning or early evening. Participants register at the Tennis Courts with the instructors.

JUNIOR HIGH GIRLS PROGRAM is aimed at providing fun and education for girls in Junior High School. Girls registering must be entering the seventh grade. This group will meet daily from 2:00 - 5:00 p.m. at the Elm Street Center. Some activities already planned included: crafts, gymnastics, river picnics, bicycling, tennis, bowling, and community services.

KARATE for boys and girls will be offered. New beginners classes will be formed at the Recreation-Police Club, Elm Street Center, and South Greenville Center. A small instructor's fee will be charged. Instructors will be Vicki Morrow and Charles June of the E.C.U. Karate Club. Classes for advanced and continuing participants are also planned at the Elm Street Gym.

PORT-A-POOL swimming instruction will be held at the South Greenville Center. Last year 18 out of 29 youngsters received their American Red Cross Beginner Swim Cards. These classes are designed for swimming instruction only. There will be no charge, but participants must try to attend each class.

TOT LOT is designed for preschool age boys and girls four thru six years old. This group will meet each morning from 9 - 11:45 a.m. at Elm Street Park, at the Recreation-Police Club Center, and at South Greenville Center. Activities include free play, organized singing and games, refreshments, and coloring. Each child is to bring ten cents daily to cover refreshments.

RETARDED CHILDREN'S DAY CAMP meets daily from 10:00 - 2:00 p.m. for three weeks only. The group meets at the Elm Street Gymnasium and follows a program similar to neighborhood playgrounds. Activities include: swimming, bowling, picnics, arts and crafts, dancing, special outings, and rest periods. Program director is Sally Scheipers, a special education teacher. Pre-registration and background information is required.

HOOKER ROAD DAY CAMP will hopefully be started the third week in June. This Day Camp will run for two week sessions and cost $5.00 for the two weeks. Children ages seven - 12 should pre-register. A limited number will be accepted each session. Hours are 9:00 a.m. - 3:00 p.m. Monday through Friday. Each child will bring a bag lunch. Activities planned include athletics, tournaments, arts and crafts, bowling, horseback riding, swimming, and putt-putt golf.

SUMMER BASKETBALL LEAGUES will be formed for young men and adults at the Elm Street Gym, South Greenville Gym, and the Recreation-Police Club Gym. A minimum of four teams is needed at each gym in order to set up competitive league play. Games will be played at night.

SWIMMING will again be provided due to East Carolina making its Memorial Gymnasium pool available to the Recreation Department. The City's playgrounds and centers will be assigned certain days, and the children will be picked up and returned to their playgrounds by an activity. Children seven years and older must return a Parent's Release Form before they may get on the bus for swimming or any other bus-related trip.

HORSEBACK RIDING The Recreation Department is hoping to continue with this program. Riding will, if arranged, be subject to a small fee to cover the instructor's lesson. Again, playground children will be picked up and returned by bus if they have returned their Parent's Release Form.

BOWLING is scheduled for Wednesday and Friday mornings at our local bowling lanes. A fee of 45 cents will be charged and includes shoes for the bowler. The activity bus will pick up children at their playground or center.

PUT-PUTT GOLF is scheduled each Monday morning and, again, the bus picks up and returns players to their playgrounds.

SOFTBALL LEAGUES are already underway at Guy Smith Stadium and the new park on Hooker Road. This year the new City League has ten competing teams, the Church League has thirteen teams, and the Ladies League has six teams. All softball players are invited to join the viewing crowds at the ball parks.

NEIGHBORHOOD PLAY- GROUND AND CENTERS are situated at various spots throughout the City. Playgrounds and Centers scheduled to be in operation this year include: Hillsdale Park, Meadowbrook Center, Peppermint Park, Woodlawn Park, Greenfield Terrace, Kittrell-Goddson Park, South Greenville Center, and the Recreation-Police Club situated on the old Epkes School site.

Playground hours are Monday through Friday 9:00 a.m. - 12:00 noon and 2:00 p.m. - 5:00 p.m. The South Greenville Center and Recreation-Police Club will be open continuously from 8:30 a.m. until 10:00 p.m. All children seven years and older are welcome at the playgrounds. Children under seven are to register at the aforementioned Tot Lots. All playgrounds are issued table games, athletic equipment, and arts and craft supplies.

Registration for the summer activities will begin at 9:00 a.m. on June 12th on the respective playgrounds, ballfields, tennis courts, gymnasiums, centers, and Tot Lots. Any additional information may be received at the Recreation Central Office, 752-2355.

SUMMER IS PLAY TIME and throughout Greenville a wide range of programs for young and old, male and female, will be available to make summer 1972 an active one of fun and body building.

Begin 4-Night Service Series

The men of Little Creek F.W.B. Church are sponsoring a four-night service beginning tonight and continuing through Friday night.

The schedule of events is as follows:

Tonight—Trustees and Finance committee in charge of service. The Waterside Choir will sing. Rev. Charlie Edwards will preach.

Wednesday—Deacons and ruling elders in charge of services. Rev. Lester Moye will preach.

Thursday—Pastor night

Friday—General church men in charge. Singing will be the Crusaders and the Voices of Zion of Greenville and the Voices of Hope of Grifton.

A prayer service will precede each night's services at 7:30.

Sunday will be Men's Day. Services will begin at 11:00. The men will also sponsor a barbecue sale after services. Plates will be $1.25.
