

County Convention Being Called For Monday

Pitt Demo Delegate List 'Null And Void'

The Council of Review of the Democratic Party of North Carolina, meeting yesterday, declared the list of delegates and alternates elected by the Pitt County Convention null and void.

County Party chairman Henry C. Oglesby said a county convention is now being called for Monday at 10 a.m. in the Superior Courtroom to elect delegates and alternates to the state convention which begins the following day.

"We feel now we will have to have an election at large, considering sex, and youth, and race, but not geography," Oglesby said.

The action by the Council of Review was taken in answer to a challenge by Henry C. Ferrell Jr. concerning the manner of election of the delegates. The first election was planned to give each of the 26 precincts at least one delegate and one alternate.

with the surplus being divided among the precincts which cast the largest number of votes in the 1968 state election. The surplus was supposed to be divided proportionally according to the percentage cast in each of the larger precincts. Ferrell said in his presentation to the Council of Review that several delegates questioned the fitness of the arbitrary apportionment plan when it was put on the floor.

"For example," he said, "county precincts that cast far less than 200 votes for Governor Scott in 1968 were selecting delegates and alternates to the district, and by inference to the state, conventions. Greenville seventh and ninth precincts voted approximately 850 and 750 votes for Governor Scott in 1968. They were awarded two delegates and two alternates each. Farmville precinct which cast approximately 1,600 votes for Governor Scott in 1968 was given six delegates and six alternates.

"Delegate Jack Spain questioned from the floor the origin of the arbitrary apportionment and reminded the chair of the rules of the North Carolina Democratic Party as specified in the Plan of Organization."

Ferrell said he made an alternate motion that the Pitt County convention accept the rule of the N.C. Democratic Party that it was seconded, but then ruled out of order.

Ferrell's comments were addressed to John T. Church of the Party's Grievance Committee in a letter dated May 31.

McGovern Stands Firm On Slashing Defense Spending

By LAWRENCE L. KNUTSON
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. George McGovern, D-S.D., refused today to dilute his campaign proposals for large cuts in the national military budget.

He appeared before the congressional Joint Economic Committee to insist his proposed cuts could be made without damaging national security and thus permit billions of dollars in savings to be funneled into needed domestic programs.

McGovern, the frontrunner in the race for the Democratic presidential nomination, said trimming the defense budget to $54.8 billion in arms spending by fiscal 1975 would retain a firm commitment to nuclear deterrents and retain "substantially more forces than required for assured destruction of the potential enemy."

McGovern, who has repeatedly pledged to end the war in Vietnam, said his military spending proposal "is based on the conclusion that the prospect for further direct U.S. military involvement in Asia is extremely remote."

"The first priority in Asia would be to end our involvement in Indochina just as quickly as that can be accomplished," McGovern said.

"I am convinced," he added, "that all U.S. troops could be brought out, and all U.S. prisoners of war and missing in action would be released or accounted for, within 90 days of a decision to pursue those goals."

The truth is, McGovern asserted, that "we have been so obsessed with the fear of 'international communism' and we have spent so much of our energy and resources to feed that fear, that we have robbed and weakened our domestic society."

Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., and other Republican members of the committee promised to give McGovern a grilling on his plans to take from the rich and give to the poor.

Although McGovern's economic program has undergone some modification, it still brings a gulp to the throats of many fellow politicians.

Among its basic proposals:

—Cuts of up to $34 billion in defense spending.

—A tax on inheritances that would climb gradually to 77 percent.

—A $1,000 base payment to every individual from the federal treasury and elimination of the $750 personal exemption on federal income tax.

—A federal payment of one-third of the states' education costs with a corresponding reduction in state property taxes.

Budget-Topping Bill Approved

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House has passed a budget-breaking $28.6-billion appropriations bill for two major departments, perhaps inviting a presidential veto and stirring an election-year debate.

By a vote of 277 to 60 Thursday night, the House approved $1.27 billion more than President Nixon had requested for the departments of Labor, and Health, Education and Welfare.

The measure sent to the Senate carries funds for the fiscal year starting July 1, most of it for health and education programs.

The bill is similar to two previous money measures vetoed by the President because the amounts far exceeded his preferences.

Republican leader Gerald R. Ford of Michigan, supporting a last-ditch losing drive to cut out the increases, warned that the bill faced a veto if the boosts were retained.

The House ignored the warning and voted down the slash amendment, 209 to 137.

Before the final vote, Democratic leader Hale Boggs of Louisiana told the House that, if the President "wants to veto the bill, that's his privilege. We'll bring it back and try to override."

Will Resign

Greenville School Board Chairman Dr. E. B. Aycock has given notice that he will resign as chairman of that board.

Mayor S. Eugene West, questioned about the matter, said "I have received verbal notice from Dr. Aycock, but nothing in writing. I have hesitated to make any announcement until I had received Dr. Aycock's letter with full details about the date he intends the resignation to be effective or other pertinent information."

Mayor West, making the statement by telephone from Atlantic Beach where he is resting for a few days, said "the letter may have arrived at City Hall since I've been down here."

Further Rise In Food Prices Is Said Coming Up

WASHINGTON (AP) — Representatives of the nation's food chains are telling consumer groups to expect another big rise in food prices, particularly meats, in coming weeks.

The Price Commission, saying that it is concerned about a possible sharp surge in retail food prices because of an increase at the wholesale level, is scheduled to meet to discuss the situation next Wednesday.

A commission spokesman said that a number of options are under consideration.

A spokesman for the food chains, Timothy D. McEnroe, public relations director with the National Association of Food Chains, said that big food stores have been absorbing a wholesale increase in prices of food and meat for eight or nine weeks.

He said the association's board has been meeting with several consumer groups and telling them that retail outlets are not to blame if the price of food should rise again sharply as expected.

"It will be a matter of almost pure luck if it does not go up," McEnroe said.

The food chains are now paying $60 per hundredweight per beef carcass, "the highest in memory," McEnroe said. He noted that that was $2 over the high in February when Treasury Secretary John B. Connally called in big chain stores to talk about rising food prices.

Recovering Young Victim

DROWNING SCENE. . . Members of the Greenville Rescue Squad, investigators and on-lookers stand beside sandpit where 13-year-old Larry Green of Route 4, Greenville drowned about 2:30 p.m. yesterday. Pitt County Coroner and Medical Examiner E. W. Harvey reported Green and 16-year-old Terry Johnson were together wading at the pond when Green stepped into a hole, the victim struggled with Johnson, then went under. Johnson, who according to Harvey attempted to pull Green from the water, was forced to let the younger boy go in order to save himself. Harvey ruled the death accidental. The sand pit where the fatal accident occurred is located off the Old River Road west of Greenville. (Reflector Staff Photo)

Pres. Echeverria Says U.S. Responsible For Vast Farming Losses

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mexican President Luis Echeverria began the second day of his state visit today, having made it clear he is here for more than just surface expressions of amity.

A second meeting with President Nixon and speeches to the National Press Club and the permanent council of the Organization of American States highlight the activities he has scheduled today.

The Mexican chief executive caught U.S. officials by surprise Thursday when he launched a broad attack on U.S. policy toward Mexico and other nations.

He departed from the tradition of felicity common to such visits in a speech to Congress, but Thursday night, at a White House dinner, the tradition was observed as Nixon and Echeverria traded compliments.

Nixon called the Mexican president a man "in the first rank of the statesmen of the world who I have met in this last quarter of a century."

Addressing a joint session of Congress, Echeverria declared that nations like Mexico "are suspicious of the pacts between the great powers that ignore the rights and interests of the less developed nations."

He flatly accused the United States of bringing "poverty to thousands of Mexican farmers" because it has failed or refused to reduce the salt content of the Colorado River.

"The damage is enormous, and Mexican public opinion is becoming increasingly impatient about this important matter that has been going on for more than a decade without any satisfactory solution," he said.

Some U.S. officials were dismayed by his harsh tone, but Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield commended Echeverria for "frankness, honesty and forthrightness."

In his first meeting at the White House, Nixon briefed Echeverria on his recent summit talks in Moscow.

It's Worldwide

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Air Line Pilots Association ordered its members today to take part in a worldwide 24-hour suspension of air service Monday.

John J. O'Donnell, ALPA president, said the air service shutdown was ordered because of failure of the United Nations to take effective action regarding enforcement of international convictions against hijackers and extortionists.

He told a news conference the 24-hour suspension ordered by the International Federation of Air Line Associations and is to take effect at 2 a.m. EDT June 19.

Zoning Law Exacts High Price

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Tears flowed as Doris Bebie and the last of her 130 purebred dogs parted company.

City officials forced her to get rid of the animals because the land on which she built a kennel was not zoned to permit that use.

Mrs. Bebie, a divorcee, said it had taken eight years to build up a kennel which would support her and her three children. The breeding stock included Afghans, Great Danes, Russian wolfhounds and Bedlington terriers, some valued up to $1,000.

"I moved to Dallas from Missouri about six months ago, with the kids and 60 dogs. I leased five acres and figured I was all set. I thought if a place was zoned for agriculture, you could raise anything on it you wanted to."

"I had raised those dogs since they were puppies. They all meant a lot to us." About two months ago a city employe told her separate zoning was required for a kennel. Her request for such zoning was denied, Mrs. Bebie said, and she was told to move the dogs. Meanwhile, she said, the city refused to let her sell her puppies.

"That was a blow," she went on. "It's the only way I make money. I had about 130 dogs by then. I had to stop building new pens for them and scrimp in every way I could just to feed them and the kids."

Her efforts to obtain financing and to lease another place failed. "It go so bad," she said, "I had to send the kids back to Missouri to stay with a friend. I couldn't feed them. I was worried about getting enough food for the dogs. They were so expensive I couldn't pay the rent.

"Then, Tuesday, the city told me I had three days to get out."

Mrs. Bebie wept as she placed the last of her dogs with new keepers Thursday.

After giving away the last dog, Mrs. Bebie said, "The only person I couldn't provide for is myself. I'm packing up the car but I don't know where I'm going. I really don't have anywhere right now, but the owner of the property says I have to be off today, so I'm leaving."

Wooden Nickel Collector Ease Up, Gals— Says Use Of Those Coins Began Early In 1700s

LAWNSDALE, Calif. (AP) — A member of the several-thousand-strong International Organization of Wooden Money Collectors, she travels widely to collect the specially "minted" pieces made of wood the size of poker chips.

SHE TOOK A WOODEN NICKEL and now has 5,000 of them. Joy Parrish, shown looking over her vast collection of wooden coins, says once she caught the wooden money fever it "sort of took over."

"I have many hobbies, including growing orchids and playing the piano and I love to cook," Mrs. Parrish says. "But once I caught the wooden money fever it sort of took over. I guess it's because it's such a challenge to find rare and unusual types of coins made of wood instead of metal, which are more plentiful."

She has been a collector since 1948, when her husband gave her a wooden coin he had owned for years. She is considered an authority now, often exhibits her collection, has won more than 100 awards and enjoys nothing more than trading her duplicates for others she would like to have.

"In researching the history of wooden money I have discovered that its use dates back to early Greek, British and Oriental times," she explains. "From the 1700s to about 1930 the Chinese had wooden money made of bamboo that was used in tea houses and gambling parlors."

Tracing its history here, she learned that the first piece of wooden money was produced by the citizens of Tenino, Wash., during the Depression. When a local bank failed, paper scrip was issued but in December, 1931, Sitka spruce was substituted. Sheets of paper-thin wood, reinforced with paper, proved to be quite serviceable as currency.

"Since then, most of the states have issued official wooden money, using them to commemorate historical events," she goes on. "The wooden discs also are used as souvenirs at fairs, festivals and local civic events and business firms issue them for various purposes."

One of the most interesting of this last type, she points out, was the wooden money issued by Sambo's Restaurants, a chain based in Santa Barbara, Calif. These wooden nickels, when first issued some years ago, offered the bearer a free cup of coffee and, though the price of coffee there has gone up to a dime, the wooden coins are still good for java without charge.

Each restaurant in the chain issues its own nickels and Mrs. Parrish traveled nearly 2,000 miles collecting the individual coins. "Along the trail," she relates, "as you visit and talk with the managers, it is not uncommon to find them very interested in the collections and if they are not collectors themselves, they usually have regular customers who are interested in acquiring new and different issues."

"At the regular meetings of the California Wooden Money Association there is much trading of these pieces, and occasionally some appear in our money auction and create very spirited bidding. Collectors are anxious to acquire one from every location."

Of her many awards Mrs. Parrish is proudest of having won the 1971 Numismatic Literary Award for an article on collecting. For this she won a three-inch medal—of sterling silver rather than wood.

Ease Up, Gals— Men Can Kick Up A Storm

By Abigail Van Buren

(© 1972 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd., Inc.)

DEAR ABBY: A women's libber complained to you because hurricanes were always named after women. Well, we in Hartford, Conn., have started something new which might interest her and others.

The Travelers' Weather Service, which gives weather forecasts over our local radio and television station, has started to name WINTER storms after men in the same manner that tropical storms are named after women.

What do you think of that? ADAM COHEN AT WTIC

DEAR ADAM: A chilling thought! Batten down the hatches, here comes "BLIZZARD BRUCIE!"

DEAR ABBY: My boss is one of those over-40 guys who wants everyone to think he's "with it." He uses jive lingo and talks a lot about "peace" and "love." But when he's put to the test he doesn't come off as very "with it" or full of love.

I asked him if it would be all right if I played my guitar during my lunch hour and he said no. He usually has his lunch sent in and he reads while he's eating. But our offices are separated by a partition and I play an acoustical guitar. He would hardly hear it.

Otherwise, he treats me okay and I really like my job, but I get so bugged every time I think about this I'm tempted to quit and look for another job. TUNED OFF BY BOSS

DEAR TUNED: Since you like your job and your boss is basically a decent guy, string along with him. His nerves may be tighter strung than your guitar. Why "earitate" him with a noon hour concert he doesn't want?

DEAR ABBY: What's with you? I read a letter in your column from a woman who is clearly nuttier than a fruitcake, and you replied, "You really should make an appointment to see your family physician for a thoro physical check-up as soon as possible."

Abby, for crying out loud, that woman needs to see a head doctor! Her family physician can't do a thing for her. Please tell it like it is. Many people take your word as gospel. STEADY READER

DEAR READER: If that reader takes my advice and goes to her family physician, it will be apparent to him that she is in need of psychiatric care, and HE will recommend it. To suggest to an obviously disturbed woman that she needs to see a psychiatrist might upset her even more.

DEAR ABBY: I have searched everywhere trying to find the source of a short poem I have had tucked away for years, but no library has been able to come up with it. Can you? The poem:

"You cannot hope to bribe or twist
Thank God! the British journalist,
But, seeing what the man will do
Unbribed, there's no occasion to."

STUMPED IN SAN DIEGO

DEAR STUMPED: I, too, would have been stumped, had it not been for "The Great Quotations" compiled by George Seldes. The author of that poem is Humbert Wolfe, an English poet. He died in 1940.

Problems? Trust Abby. For a personal reply, write to ABBY, BOX 69700, L. A., CALIF. 90069 and enclose a stamped, addressed envelope.

Mrs. Carol Hardee Installed As State Officer At Convention

GREENSBORO — The 31st annual convention of North Carolina Credit Women International was held here at the Holiday Inn-Four Seasons Sunday and Monday.

The convention was held jointly with the North Carolina Merchants Association.

Those attending from the Greenville Club were Clara Seago, Pearl Hartsell, Angeline Venters and Carol Hardee. Mrs. Hartsell is president of the local club.

Highlights of the two-day event included an awards breakfast and the installation of state officers for 1972-3.

Mrs. Lorna Collins of Winston-Salem will serve as the new state president. She succeeds Miss Luella Telker of Burlington. Mrs. Hardee of Greenville was installed as state second vice president.

As second vice president, Mrs. Hardee will serve as convention and board meeting chairman and as education chairman.

Mrs. Collins announced that the President's Project for the year will be "Unity and Increase in Membership."

The Greenville club was presented award certificates for placing second in competition for the attendance award the pin and emblem award.

During the convention, a joint session was held with the N. C. Merchants. Keynote speaker was Frank Kollmer, president ICCA. "The Retail Merchant and Credit Cards in the 70's" was Kollmer's program topic.

The convention closed Monday evening with a banquet featuring Governor Robert Scott as guest speaker.

There are 15 CWI Clubs in North Carolina with a total membership of approximately 400.

Adult Kidney Transplanted Into Body Of 2-Year-Old

MINNEAPOLIS, Miss. (AP) — Doctors at University of Minnesota Hospitals have transplanted an adult kidney into the body of a 2-year-old, 14-pound boy with apparent success.

John Lewis of Charleston, S.C., received a kidney from his mother, Patti, in an operation nine days ago.

Although John will be 2 years old next month, his 14-pound weight was about what a 6-month-old baby might be expected to weigh. The condition was a result of a kidney disorder that made it impossible for him to grow.

After a long and unsuccessful search for a donor kidney from a person John's size, doctors at University of Minnesota Hospital decided to try transplanting a kidney from his mother in order to save his life.

"John unquestionably is the smallest, and probably the youngest, child ever to receive an adult kidney in a transplant," said Dr. John Najarian, the hospital's surgery chief who headed the transplant team.

Najarian said the boy was progressing "beautifully" and probably would be released from the hospital next week.

"He can now look forward to a normal growth and a full, active life," said Najarian. "The kidney looked almost as big as John did when we started putting it in, but it's working perfectly."

Mrs. Lewis already has been discharged from the hospital. The kidney she donated was six inches long.

The surgeons had to cut from the bottom of John's breastbone past his navel to his pubic bone. This was the longest incision they could make and Najarian said the opening was just large enough to squeeze the kidney through.

John's new kidney now occupies the entire right half and part of the left side of his abdominal cavity. His other internal organs were moved around to make room for the kidney.

Doctors said the donor kidney would shrink some while the rest of John's body catches up.

Mrs. Lewis and her husband, Navy Machinist Mate Bruce

Lewis, brought John from Charleston to Minneapolis in January after four other hospitals told them there was nothing they could do.

He was treated with an artificial kidney machine while doctors waited for a small donor kidney to become available. The wait was in vain. When it became apparent that John "probably had only a few more weeks to live," Najarian said, doctors decided to try the transplant from his mother.

Lewis is a member of the crew of the U.S.S. Theodore Roosevelt, a Polaris submarine stationed in Charleston. While his son has been a patient in Minneapolis, Lewis was assigned to temporary duty at a Twin Cities naval reserve facility.

Wooles Article In Current Issue

Dr. Wallace Wooles, dean of the East Carolina University Medical School, has an article in the June issue of We The People of North Carolina magazine.

The magazine is a monthly publication of the North Carolina Citizens Association, which focuses on state people and issues. There is a copy in the periodical room of Sheppard Memorial Library.

Dr. Wooles writes on the need for a medical school in Eastern North Carolina. He cites ratios of doctor to population to show the need that exists. An ideal, according to the American Medical Association, is one doctor to every 571 people. The national average is one to every 711. North Carolina has one to every 1,063, but the ratio in the southern Piedmont is one to 1,292 and in Eastern N.C. it's one to 1,759 — the latter 147 per cent below the national average.

Primary care physicians are the one we need most critically, Dr. Wooles says — family doctors. He says a medical center is the greatest single attraction for physicians to come to an area to practice, because he has the services of continuing education referral, and availability of medical expertise.

Most medical schools are built in stages and while the next stage is being built, the previous one is functioning, Wooles says. The next stage for ECU is a two-year medical school, he said, and he gives reasons why it is "educationally and economically sound and logical" that it be taken.

For the past decade, any medical school began has been financed by at least half by the federal government, yet ECU can acquire no federal funds until it has an identity as a two-year school, rather than a one-year branch of the University of North Carolina Medical School. Students of a two-year school could transfer to any school in the state, rather than only to UNC as is the present arrangement. The cost per student would be considerably lessened with more students using the same basic facilities, Wooles maintains.

War Stance Is Modified

MONTREAT, N.C. (AP) — A substitute motion calling on President Nixon and national leaders to "redouble their efforts to stop the killing and bring the war to an end," was adopted over a much stronger antiwar resolution by Southern Presbyterians Thursday.

The 450 delegates to the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the U.S. accepted the resolution by a 189 to 160 vote. One antiwar delegate called it an "easy out."

The original motion had condemned American war policy and pledged the church's support to the peace movement and draft resisters. The substitute was proposed by last year's moderator, Dr. Ben Lacy Rose of Richmond.

Rose's motion urged individual church members to express their feelings on the war.

The Rev. Charles G. Helms of Atlanta called the substitute something "very appealing, but an unfortunately easy out."

Earlier, the delegates voted down proposals that the denomination withdraw from the World and National Councils of Churches and from the Consultation on Church Union, a group seeking a merger of eight Protestant denominations.

Marijuana Crop Found

The Pitt County Sheriff's Department charged three East Carolina University students Wednesday with possession and manufacturing of marijuana.

Deputy Sheriff Dalton Respass said this morning that a county fire unit discovered the marijuana plants in a house on Rt. 1, Stokes while answering a fire call at the residence.

Respass said that deputies charged Stephen Homer Johnson, 19; Marshal Stanford Harmon, 18; and David William Edsel, 20, who all listed Rt. 1, Box 41, Stokes addresses, with growing and possessing marijuana. Johnson was also charged with the larceny of a fire extinguisher from Jones Dorm on the ECU campus, the deputy noted.

Marijuana was found growing in the house, Respass reported, and several plants were also found outside the structure.

Edsel and Harmon are being held under $5,000 bond each, Respass said, and Johnson is under a $3,100 bond. A hearing in District Court here has been set for June 26.

Substitutes For DDT Are Likely

The great battle over the use of DDT in this country for insect control appears virtually at an end with the banning of its use effective Dec. 31. Environmental Protection Administrator William D. Ruckelshaus ordered the nearly complete ban Wednesday.

Now the pesticide may be used only for public health purposes and on green peppers, onions, and sweet potatoes in storage.

In the past the chemical has been used on cotton, peanuts and soybeans, as well as in other ways.

Ruckelshaus said in rendering the decision, "I am convinced by a preponderance of the evidence that once used, DDT is an uncontrollable, durable chemical that persists in the aquatic and terrestrial environments.

"The evidence of record, showing storage in man and magnification in the food chain, is a warning to the prudent that man may be exposing himself to a substance that may ultimately have a serious effect on his health."

DDT became well known in the years after World War II. Far from being considered a danger at the time, it was hailed as a substance that could free man from the scourge of insects which destroy his crops and spread disease. And it appeared to work. It was helpful in bringing under control in mosquito control. There was a time when most insect spray bombs for home use contained the substance.

Gradually, however, the use of DDT became more controversial and the controversy was spotlighted by Rachel Carson's book "Silent Spring."

There will be those who disagree with the order; however, it is well to remember that substitutes are likely to be available — those which will not persist in nature — that will take the place of DDT in insect control. We hope that chemical industry will develop substitutes which will be acceptable and will also allow the farmer to control the insects that destroy his crops.

Convention To Be More Open

By BRYAN HAISLIP
RALEIGH — Wrestling follows the State Democratic Convention in Dorton Arena next Tuesday (June 20).

The grunts and groans may be a fitting aftermath to the party gathering under new rules which open wider participation to minorities, young people and women.

It could be a rambunctious, fluence waning in the twilight of administration, also will be among the part chieftains gathered for the big pow-wow.

Eyes Toward Miami
Aside from unity within the party, dominant interest among the delegates likely will center on the national convention in Miami next month and its choice of a presidential candidate.

The state's first presidential primary committed the Tar Heel delegation to a first ballot vote for Gov. George Wallace of Alabama and Terry Sanford, Duke University president and former governor.

Forces favorable to Sen. George McGovern of South Dakota, now the front-runner, have been active in the delegate selection process. They look to garner second ballot strength for their choice.

However the allegiance splits, the composition of the delegation will be far different from any of the past. Party rules decree that it reasonably reflect a balance of age, sex and race. In prior years, it has been packed with white, middle-aged males.

More Women, Blacks
Congressional district conventions already have chosen 46 of the 64 national convention delegates. Of that number, some 17 were women and at least 10 were blacks. A selection committee at the state convention will complete the delegation.

The degree of balance achieved so far makes party officials optimistic that the Tar Heel delegation can be seated without challenge at Miami.

Some Democrats are apprehensive that the larger measure of participation by blacks, youth and women may turn off regulars who have carried the party in the past. Chairman Church, who has hewed to the line of the new plan of organization, admitted the hazard.

"If those who have given the party time and money feel closed out," he cautioned, "it will be very difficult to maintain a strong organization."

Church, a Henderson businessman and state senator, soon will put aside the party reins. He said he will suggest to Bowles an early meeting of the state executive committee to select his successor.

As gubernatorial nominee, Bowles should put in his team for the fall campaign, Church noted. "Besides, for business reasons, I just don't have the time," he added, to continue in the post.

no-holds-barred event. An expected 2,700 delegates representing a wide strip of opinion will struggle with adoption of a platform and resolutions and the final selection of delegates to the national convention.

It won't be a waltz with all hearts beating in three-quarter time, agreed State Chairman John T. Church.

"Everybody isn't going to be pleased with everything in the platform," said Church. "But I will say this. The whole process has been more open than ever before."

What party officials hope is that the Democrats can resolve their differences, of philosophy and candidate loyalty, and come out of the convention without bruises to handicap the fall campaign against the Republicans.

Prayer Gives Keynote
Sixth District Congressman Richard Preyer, as the keynote, must try to rouse and reconcile the forces. His address will be drawn to infuse the convention with party spirit and the will to work together to win.

Keeping the convention on course and in control will be in the hands of Charles Winberry of Wilson, former state YDC president. Church has recommended Winberry as permanent chairman and the appropriate committee is expected to okay the selection.

The convention has to fit a four-hour time schedule. It begins at 11 a.m. and has to end at 3 p.m. to make way for the wrestling matches.

The occasion should be a love-feast for supporters of Hargrove (Skipper) Bowles and Lt. Gov. Pat Taylor, the principals in the hard-fought primary for governor.

As the victor, Bowles has been invited to address the delegates. Taylor will be seated on the platform as the number two ranking Democratic office holder in state government.

So Much Travel Bound To Spur Peace Hopes

A visit to Hanoi by Soviet President Nikolai V. Podgorny and a visit next week of Henry Kissinger to China has set off new speculation about settlement of the Vietnam war.

We have a feeling that the situation in Vietnam is about as ripe as it is going to be for a settlement. The North Vietnamese offense has stalled amid staggering damage and death on both sides.

It is a tragic war and the time may have come when each side can give enough to settle it.

Hanoi-Moscow Rift Evident

By ROWLAND EVANS and ROBERT NOVAK
WASHINGTON — Evidence of a deeply significant schism between Hanoi and Moscow has now become inescapable in Hanoi's vituperative outpourings against the Kremlin for consorting with President Nixon — "this number one cruel, diabolical thug of the world," in the words of a senior North Vietnamese commentator writing in the June 3 issue of the party newspaper, Nhan Dan.

Although Hanoi's fury against the Soviet Union is partially cloaked in innuendos and subtleties, there is no mistaking its meaning. By inviting Mr. Nixon to Moscow, particularly after Soviet shipments of war supplies were blocked by the mining of North Vietnam's harbors, the Kremlin is playing the U.S. game of splitting the world communist movement.

Thus, on May 21, the day before Mr. Nixon arrived in Moscow, the North Vietnamese army newspaper charged that "wherever he sets foot, he carries out counterrevolutionary acts." By permitting the President to "set foot" in Moscow, in short, the Kremlin was an accessory before the fact in one of the most heinous crimes of communism — counterrevolutionary activity.

Developing the charge of counterrevolution, the May 21 polemic accused the Soviet Union of putting its own "national interests" over those of the world revolution in the following thinly-veiled doctrinal sermon:

"Communists always consider the revolution of each nation an inseparable part of the world revolution. They never set national interests against the interests of the world revolution nor place private national interests above the common interest of the world revolution, much less serve their own national selfishness."

The only way to deal with Mr. Nixon's latest offensive in Vietnam is by "a relentless attack against the U.S. imperialists."

But what did the Soviet Union do? Hanoi hurls the accusation in polemical terms:

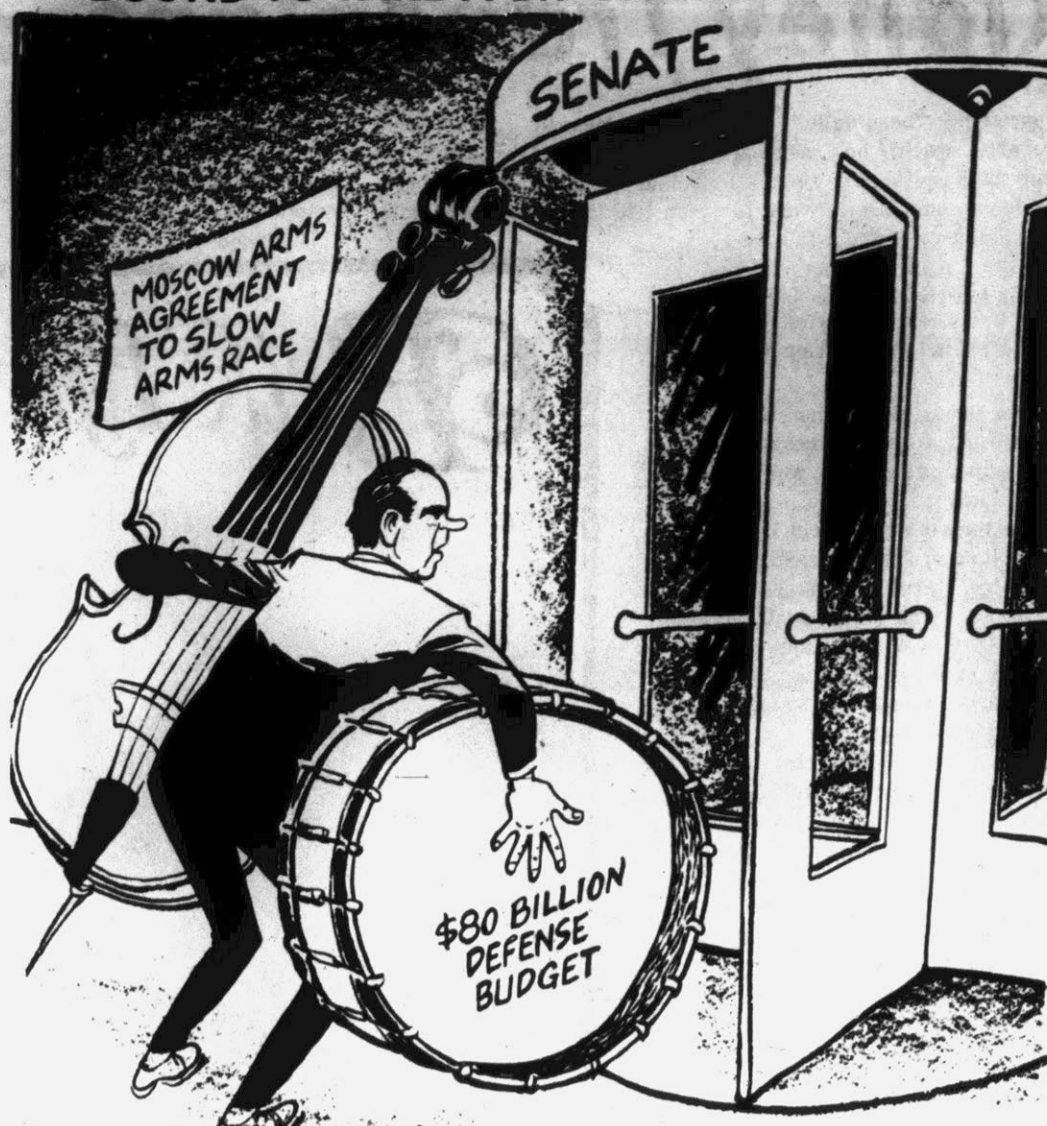

"By ignoring and tolerating the U.S. imperialists' crimes, one cannot repel their aggression. By showing weakness, one cannot punish their aggressiveness."

Adding insult to injury, another article in the tightly-controlled North Vietnamese party newspaper boasted that although the Vietnamese people have been fighting "for thousands of years," they "do not beg for peace and security" from their enemies. The implication: by inviting President Nixon to Moscow, the Soviet Union became a supplicant.

Nowhere in these veiled attacks against the Russians did the North Vietnamese publish the facts concerning Mr. Nixon's summit trip to Moscow or discuss the agreements that emerged. But the Russians themselves, in a counterattack aired to North Vietnam over the Soviet overseas radio, attempted to put the Nixon visit in perspective and blunt the anti-Soviet overtones of

Big Demo Surplus Sale

WASHINGTON — The Democratic Party is holding a fire sale on some surplus items left over from the primaries. The catalogue includes the following:

Two hundred forty-six books on Sen. Edmund Muskie with such varied titles as "From Maine to Pennsylvania Avenue," "A Day in the Life of President Muskie," "The Nixon-Muskie Debates," "Front-Runner from New England," "Quotations from Chairman Ed," "I Was Muskie's Football Coach," "Lincoln Walks Again" and "Mrs. Muskie's White House Cookbook."

Also included in the catalogue are 10,000 straw hats with "Vote for Lindsay," hatbands, 100,000 "Lindsay-Love Him Or Leave Him" bumper stickers, 250,000 campaign buttons which say "The People Want John" and 3,670,000 feet of film of John Lindsay eating pizza, Polish ham, kosher salami and soul food.

Available in the same package are 50 one-minute TV spots of Lindsay walking through the ghettos.

On page 43, the catalogue lists for sale 300,000 pamphlets entitled "Why I Think I Should Be President" by Henry Jackson with an introduction by Joseph Alsop, a cardboard reproduction of a Boeing SST on a float, a UPI photograph of Jackson addressing a crowd from an orange box in Florida and an autographed picture of Golda Meir.

There are also some great bargains in Sen. Vance Hartke memorabilia, including 6,000 "Hoosiers For Hartke" posters, 2,510 "Hartke Has Heart" stickers and a letter from Dita Beard telling Hartke he can't have the ITT company plane.

Rarer still are Sen. Fred

Harris souvenirs listed for sale. These include 250 bills from printers, television stations, storefront owners, airlines and ball-point pen manufacturers. Also listed are Indian headdresses and three copies of the song "Happy Days Are Here Again."

The Democratic National Committee is offering in the same catalogue "The Best-Loved Poems of Gene McCarthy as Selected by Him," "Dump Johnson" posters (from McCarthy's '68 New Hampshire campaign) and "Come Clean With Gene" aprons.

Mayor Sam Yorty is included in the fire sale with "Stand Up America For Yorty" banners, "Yorty Will Win In Vietnam" billboard signs and 160,000 tie clasps of the American Flag with "Yorty" printed in gold across the stripes.

"Vote For Terry Sanford" beach towels, and "Chisholm In '72" bar coasters are also being offered for sale.

One million copies of "The Congressional Record of George McGovern" have been donated by the Humphrey people, and 1 million copies of "The Congressional Record of Hubert Humphrey" were turned over by the McGovern camp.

The McGovern people are also selling their political polls in California at bargain prices.

Chairman Lawrence O'Brien maintains this is the greatest sale of primary material in the history of the Democratic Party. Each one is a collector's item. He said that they were expected to triple in value. A "Wilbur Mills for President" shopping bag which sells for 10 cents in the catalogue could easily be worth 25 cents 10 years from today.

Again."

Other Editors Say World Policeman

(Christian Science Monitor)

It is to be hoped that the threat by international airline pilots to call a worldwide, 24-hour air strike on June 19 will move the United Nations to assert its potential role of world policeman in acting against air hijackings, which have now become epidemic on a global scale.

The recent suicide-squad shootings at Tel Aviv's Lydda airport, in which 27 people were killed, was only the worst of the rapidly rising number of incidents which could have been prevented, had proper airport surveillance been exercised.

The International Federation of Airline Pilots Associations, which represents 50,000 pilots throughout the world, is quite right in bringing pressure to bear on the UN. That is the only international body carrying enough weight, and coming under constant world scrutiny, which can exert sanctions on countries to implement its own previous decisions and those of the International Civil Aviation Organization. Especially those which would penalize countries offering sanctuary to hijackers of failing to prosecute them.

Draft proposals were put forth by the United States and Canada last year, which would set up a special commission with powers to recommend specific enforcement measures against noncomplying states. These have yet to be acted upon, particularly the proposal to deny air service to nonconforming countries.

The penalties for hijacking must be made so certain and so severe for potential air bandits as to make it as extinct as buccaneering on the high seas. That can only be done with 100 percent international cooperation, and there is no better place to achieve it than at the UN.

Very Lonely Limbo

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — What or where is limbo?

We all know pretty well when we're in either heaven or hell. But what is it like to be in limbo?

In Roman Catholic theology, limbo is a place where no one is actually punished, but neither does anyone see the beatific vision, a denial which poets feel can be cruellest of all punishments. Limbo also is where the souls of unborn children dwelling, and the souls of those who die before baptism.

But to most of us limbo is hard to pin down in our daily lives. It is indefinite and vague, a sensation of being lost and lonely and isolated.

We are in limbo, for example, when we are out on a limb in a situation with no one aware of our plight or in any hurry to aid us.

Here are some other possible limbos, although some bear a strong resemblance to purgatory or hell:

In earliest infancy, limbo is where you are when mother isn't cuddling you in her arms.

Limbo is sitting in a corner with a dunce cap on for being unable to spell cat in the first grade.

Limbo is where you live later in life after you scrape and save to visit Las Vegas only to drop your gambling capital there on your first big casino bet.

Limbo is being an orphan and looking through a window to watch five children in a happy home eating Thanksgiving dinner with their parents.

Limbo is where a soldier feels he is when he reads a "Dear John" letter from his sweetheart during a lull in combat.

40 Years Ago Today

By GWYN COGHILL
June 16, 1932

The Republican Party, in a noisy and demonstration-tossed convention assembled in Chicago Stadium, gave a new pledge of support to President Hoover for his reelection as President.

Ben Savage, a student in vocational training, captured first place in the Young Tar Heel Farmers dairy judging contest in district two held at W.C. Harvey's dairy on the outskirts of Greenville last Tuesday. Fifty-nine youths representing thirty schools of the district participated in the contest, the first of its kind conducted among vocational students in this immediate section in some time.

About July 1st, the local firm of Quinn-Miller and Company will move into their new home on Fifth Street, in a building formerly occupied by Montgomery-Ward and Company.

Strength For Today

Cyrus Field tried to lay a cable across the Atlantic Ocean, and when he was very close to achievement the cable broke. Almost everyone said that was the end of a madman's dream. But old Peter Cooper, one of New York's wealthiest men who had already sunk a fortune in the cable project did not think so.

Cooper was having lunch with Frank B. Allen when the news was brought to him of the breaking of the cable. Allen, who owned a yacht, urged that Cooper equip this vessel immediately and try to bring the lost cable to the surface. Time was of the essence. Cooper spent more money and still more, but the venture was a success. As a result, both Cooper and Allen became vastly wealthy—one of those enheartening circumstances in which courage and resourcefulness really had their reward.

Great men are usually those who believe in the validity of some great project and are willing to sacrifice anything that it be achieved. Timid men fall by the wayside, but Caesar burns his bridges behind him, and Columbus keeps on sailing with a terrified crew which threatens mutiny.

The most successful persons that have ever lived have been the saints who staked all on spiritual values. But faith has to do with every significant enterprise—with business success as well as with the salvation of the human soul. "And," Jesus said, "Have faith..."

Broker Must Have An Answer

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — Ask a broker why the market is up or down at any specific minute and he will give you an answer. The worst crime in the business is to appear misinformed. You must always have an explanation.

These explanations are not difficult to come by. The big brokerage houses usually supply their people with a likely explanation before the start of business each day, usually tying it to news events.

Even without such a cue card, any broker can take his choice of a dozen or so explanations from the daily newspaper: war, politics, monetary policy, strikes, corporate profits, government regulation, inflation.

You don't have to prove that any of these are real factors because it isn't likely that anybody can effectively disprove them.

An examination of this process is unusually significant now because the personalities and programs of the presidential candidates have been used as grist.

The market is disappointing investors, it is said, because of the likelihood that Sen. George McGovern will be named the Democratic candidate for president.

The explanation sounds reasonable when it is accompanied by highlights of the more antiestablishment aspects of the McGovern program. The market is establishment, and it doesn't care for ideas on re-distributing wealth.

But nobody in Wall Street, with all its alleged research power, seems able to offer evidence that even suggests that this "explanation" is based in fact. Though it serves the market, it may deserve the larger public.

A perceptive analysis of the market is made by John Wright, the Bridgeport, Conn., investment adviser.

Wright calls the current interpretations "excuses for" rather than "causes of." He lists them:

—Renewed doubts about inflation being brought under control following a rise in the Wholesale Price Index.

—The McGovern candidacy.

—A growing realization that postelection tax reform will add up to higher taxes and lower deductions, "regardless of who appoints the tax collectors."

Why does he call them excuses rather than causes?

"The stock market not only always finds an excuse to do what it is going to do anyway, but also creates its own psychology in the process."

This means "the most unfavorable interpretation of the most adverse developments always seems to dominate the news during a decline—and vice versa."

In his view, no matter what excuses are offered, mere seasonal influences will take hold. The summer solstice is only a week away, he notes, and that usually coincides with the traditional summer rally. Nature, he feels, will take its course, and stocks along with it.

Water Quality Grants Okayed

RALEIGH (AP) — A committee of the state Board of Water and Air Resources has approved more than $3.3 million in federal grants for water quality projects in 20 North Carolina communities.

The Water and Air Quality Control Committee reported its approval to the board Thursday. The requests will be sent to the Environmental Protection Agency for final approval.

The largest request is $1.1 million for a Wake County sewer outfall project in the Crabtree Creek areas.

Other large requests include: $427,410 for enlargement of waste water treatment facilities in Fayetteville, $409,600 for a similar type project in Mount Airy, $320,000 for sewer outfall and enlargement of treatment facilities at Troy, and $235,270 for facility enlargement in Asheville.

Other projects are at Charlotte, Durham, Salisbury, Washington, Dobson, Garner, Greenville, Jackson County, Lake Waccamaw, Kernersville, Madison, Buncombe County, Robersonville and Rockingham.

The board ordered the city of Charlotte to improve and expand its water treatment and sewerage facilities. The order allows the city to exceed its 8 per cent bond indebtedness.

The board also approved a resolution offering up to $200,000 of state money on a coast sharing basis for four Brunswick County beach protection projects. Not more than $50,000 each would be given toward projects at Yaupon Beach, Long Beach, Ocean Isle Beach and Sunset Beach.

Hanoi's propaganda.

On May 25, in the middle of the Moscow summit, Radio Moscow invoked "Leninist principles" in defense of the Kremlin's strategic decision to welcome Mr. Nixon despite escalation of the Vietnam war.

"Peaceful coexistence" with nations of different political systems, the broadcast in Vietnamese stated, is not only essential to prevent world war but also "in complete conformity with the interests of world socialism (communism)."

Reminding Hanoi that it owes much to the "enormous support" of the Soviet Union in the 10-year war against the South, Radio Moscow sang the praises of the Vietnamese Communists but added a pointed warning: "The war of aggression in Vietnam can be ended only through negotiations... Practical experience clearly shows that the Vietnam problem cannot be solved by military means."

More pointedly, a lengthy May 26 article in New Times, signed by a deputy chief in the Central Committee's Foreign Affairs Department, strongly defended the Kremlin's refusal to make a military response to the U.S. blockade of North Vietnam.

The strength of international communism, New Times said, "has never lain in primitiveness and stereotype nor in an identical repetition of the methods (armed force) used by the class enemy." In an unprecedented rebuke, the article attacked Hanoi's "inaccurate and extremely arbitrary interpretation" of Moscow's supposed duty in the face of the Nixon-imposed blockade.

Whether and how much this break between Moscow and Hanoi may help Mr. Nixon finally to negotiate an end of the war is problematical.

What is certain, however, is that the schism was brought dramatically into view by the Nixon summit and that the Kremlin has not yet sent an emissary to Hanoi since Mr. Nixon left Moscow.

'Fiddler' To Finally Close

When the curtain falls on the Saturday performance at the Broadway Theater in New York, "Fiddler on the Roof," will have broken all continuous run records in the annals of American theater history.

As Saturday draws to a close, the hit musical will have been on the stage of the Broadway theater for 3,225 performances, thus surpassing records held by "Life With Father" and "Tobacco Road," the two previous all-time record holders for a continuous run.

"Fiddler on the Roof" is one of five musicals slated for production by the East Carolina University Summer Theater. Although, as manager Michael Hardy admits, the ECU is by no means expected to come near matching the number of performances at The Broadway in New York, it is to be here from July 5 through July 14 — with a sufficient number of performances scheduled to give theater buffs in Greenville and Eastern North Carolina an opportunity to see America's new number one all-time favorite.

Held Hostage Byirate Taxpayer

By CARL MANNING
Associated Press Writer
MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Three state tax agents were sent naked into the street and another was held hostage for eight hours by a black businessman who demanded—and got—a meeting with Gov. Winfield Dunn over a $167 tax dispute.

The businessman, identified by police as LaSaunders Hudson, 29, met with Dunn over Negro problems for an hour Thursday at a downtown hotel.

He claimed he didn't owe the $167 in back sales taxes because of what he called Tennessee's wilful refusal "to deal with the needs of the black citizens of the state."

After the meeting, police took Hudson, co-owner of a dry cleaning firm, into custody without charge. He was held overnight in the Memphis jail pending a police meeting today with the district attorney. Police said Hudson's lawyer requested that he not be questioned until today.

Don Duncan, in his early 30s, was held hostage at pistol point until Dunn flew to Memphis from the state capital in Nashville. Duncan was treated at a hospital for hands swollen from being bound and was released.

The incident began when the four agents went to Hudson's cleaning firm Thursday morning to collect back sales taxes. They returned shortly before noon after they learned the check Hudson gave them would not clear the bank.

At this point, Hudson pulled a gun on the four agents and ordered three of them to remove their clothes and walk into the street, according to Vince Tuminello, one of the agents released. "He said he would kill him (Duncan) if we did not strip to the skin," Tuminello said.

He identified the other two agents released with him as Lee Mullins and John Mabile. Tuminello and Mabile are in their 50s and white, Mullins is in his 30s and black.

Hudson, after forcing the trio into the street naked, bound the hands of Duncan, chief of field operations for the state Revenue Department, and put him in the back of the store, police said. Hudson communicated with police through the mail slot in the door and a plate-glass window until an auto arrived to take Hudson to his meeting with the governor.

A spokesman for the governor said Hudson and Dunn

"talked about several problems confronting blacks in the country, not just Tennessee."

"The governor said he thought Mr. Hudson was frustrated because of taxes," Dunn's spokesman said. "Mr. Hudson told the governor he couldn't pay the taxes and support his family. He said he realized he had done wrong, he had to face the consequences."

Terrorist Gang Co-leader Held

HANNOVER, Germany (AP) — Ulrike Meinhof, the female co-leader of West Germany's Baader-Meinhof gang of anarchist terrorists, was arrested today at Hannover airport as she arrived on a flight from West Berlin, police sources reported.

They said she had a bomb in her cosmetic case and that a submachine gun, three revolvers, several magazines of bullets, and tools and materials for making bombs were in her luggage.

Andreas Baader, the gang's other leader, was captured in Frankfurt two weeks ago, and 14 of the other 22 hard-core members of the gang are reported in police custody.

The gang is accused of a recent wave of bombing attacks in which four U.S. soldiers were killed and 36 Americans and Germans were injured. The gang is also charged with a series of bank robberies, break-ins, car thefts and a plot to kidnap Chancellor Willy Brandt.

Mrs. Meinhof is 37, a former journalist and the mother of twin girls. The police sources said she was on her way to southern Germany when she was arrested.

The sources said federal police had gotten tips on her plans and moved strong reinforcements into this north German city.

The woman had been sought since May 1970, when Baader escaped while serving a three-year sentence for a politically motivated arson attack on a Frankfurt department store. Mrs. Meinhof was suspected of engineering the escape.

After Baader escaped, the gang launched a crime wave, using fast stolen cars, false papers and stolen license plates, stolen police uniforms, disguises, dum-dum bullets and powerful homemade bombs.

A rash of bank robberies is believed to have netted at least $67,000 for the gang's war chest.

Abbott Going To State Meet Of Accountants

Greenville accountant, Robert L. Abbott will be among members of the North Carolina Society of Accountants from across the state meeting in Raleigh June 18-20 for the 25th anniversary convention.

Featured speaker for the two-day business session will be Jon C. Bednerik, director of Government Affairs for the National Society of Public Accountants.

Bednerik will address the Past President's breakfast on Tuesday morning, and also address the opening business session on Monday.

New officers will be elected at the business session on Tuesday and installed at the annual banquet Tuesday night by Bednerik. Harold D. Hinton of Raleigh is convention chairman and the Raleigh chapter is host for the 1972 session.

Armed Robbery By Four Men Is Reported Here

Greenville police are investigating an armed robbery reported here last night.

William P. Dail, 45, of Route 2, Ayden told officers that four Negro males took $281 from him, Chief Glenn Cannon said.

Cannon quoted Dail as saying he was stopped for a traffic light at the intersection of Dickinson Avenue and 14th Street about 9 p.m. when the four men jumped into his car and forced him to drive to a dirt path West of Pitt Memorial Hospital. They then struck him on the head with a pipe and took him money, the chief explained.

Dail's car was then driven to the Farmville Highway where the four attackers got out, according to Cannon.

The incident was reported to local police about 11:45 p.m. after Dail returned to his Clayroot home.

Two Arrested For Slaying Of Family Are Released

Davis Sworn As Nucleus For Mayor Of Ayden Task Force

AYDEN—Larry Davis, newly elected mayor of Ayden, was sworn in Monday night at the regular session of the Ayden Town Board. Town commissioners J. J. Brown and J. D. Allen, who were re-elected to their positions, were also sworn in. Judge J.W.H. Roberts, Chief Judge of the Third Judicial District, gave the oath of office.

Mayor Davis and Town Manager Don Russell recognized former mayor and commissioners Ross Persinger and Commissioner Brown for their services to the community. Persinger had worked in the Ayden town government for ten years, while Brown served as a teacher in the public school system for 44 years. Brown recently retired from his teaching duties.

Town Clerk Winnie Nelson presented the Board with the results of the Fire Departments elections. In those elections, Charlie Tripp was elected Fire chief, Burt Tripp, assistant chief, and James Trader, Secretary-Treasurer. The results were approved by the board.

The board accepted the bids on the surplus property sale. James Pridden entered the highest bid on a junked car in the amount of $35, and Odell McLawhorn entered the highest bid on an International Carry-All.

The board also set a public hearing on June 28 at 7:30 p.m. on the Minimum Housing Ordinance, One-Mile Area Ordinance, and re-adoption of the Planning Board, Zoning Board, and Subdivision general ordinances in accordance with Chapter 160-A of the General Statutes of North Carolina.

In other action, the board: —Rezoned the property south of Ayden between old N.C. 11 and N.C.11 by-pass from the Cilia Garris property to the B-2 district stating south on the Levi Worthington property from industrial to residential.

—Approved the recommendation of the Planning Board to have a no-charge for sewer tap within sub-divisions within the town of Ayden. The water tap was to remain in effect at a cost of $85.

—Requested the Pitt County Board of Commissioner to appoint Mrs. William Manning to the Planning Board to fill the unexpired term of Charles Langley.

—Accepted the Pitt County Plan for its share of the cost of the solid waste landfill. Ayden's cost per year will be $3,515.

—Approved a resolution in regard to the appointments of Tommy Burney, Law Enforcement, Ross Persinger, Municipal Representative, and Don Russell, Governmental Representative to the Mid-East

Economic Commission. —Passed a resolution authorizing to transfer any balance within the Electric Debt Service and Water and Sewer Funds to the General Fund. —Passed an ordinance to amend Article II of Schedule 1. (garbage and Waste Removal) Chapter J, Code of General Ordinance. Residential charges were increased from $1.00 to $1.50. Office charges increased from 75 cents to $1.25, and business charges increased from $1.50 minimum to a minimum of $2.25. Business maximum was increased from two 30-gallon containers to read three 30-32 gallon containers. —Accepted bids from Rigby Electric Co. of Rocky Mount for capacitor banks. The cost of the banks were $3,410.12. Western Electric submitted the lowest bid, but Rigby received the contract on the basis of a two-week delivery date. —Passed a resolution to request a public hearing with the State Board of Water and Air Resources for a proposed Metropolitan Sewage District consisting of Ayden, Winterville, and Grifton.

Ayden Police Chief Tommy Burney presented the Board with the Police report for May. He also reported to the board that Arthur Dixon had been hired to fill a vacancy in his department.

—Fact Finding Committee—Mrs. Sarah Allen; —Resource Committee—Mrs. Lydia Carmon, Rev. William Hadden, and Mrs. Beatrice Reaves; —Public Relations Committee; Donald (Don) Brady; Mrs. Eunice Pierce, and Mrs. Tillie Cullipher.

Don Brady, spokesman for the task force, said the next meeting would be held July 19 at 8:00 p.m. on the second floor of the old hospital building on Johnson Street in Greenville.

All persons interested in family planning are encouraged to attend the meetings.

BOONE, N.C. (AP) — Two of the four men arrested in April in connection with the slayings of the Bryce Durham family of Boone have been released for lack of evidence.

District Judge Ray Braswell said there was not sufficient cause to try Eugene Garren, 22, and Dewey Coffey, 21, both of Asheville for the February 3 killings in which Durham, his wife, and their son were found dead in their bathtub.

Braswell did order Jerry Ray Cassada, 28, and Dean Chandler, 20, of Asheville, held for trial. Cassada is charged with three counts of first degree murder. Chandler is charged with being an accessory before the fact.

The prosecution presented no physical evidence to link any of the defendants to the Durham house at Thursday's hearing.

And a State Bureau of Investigation expert said, in his opinion, the men were telling the truth when they took lie detector tests and denied the slayings.

The chief prosecution testimony came from Chandler and his 20-year-old wife, Anne.

Watauga County Sheriff Ward Carroll read what he said was the transcript of a statement Chandler gave an SBI agent. According to the transcript, Chandler said he went to Boone on Feb. 3 to pick out likely burglary prospects for Cassada, Garren and "a boy named Dewey."

According to the sheriff's transcript, Chandler said he told the men how to get to the home of Durham, an automobile dealer. He said he met them later that night, and gathered that they had killed someone, but was told to say he had been in Asheville that night if he were asked.

Chandler's attorneys said the statement had been illegally obtained. And lawyers for the other three, on cross examination, elicited the information that Chandler had been arrested for a different burglary in Madison County on February 6.

Carroll said Chandler had been told of the reward to jail when he volunteered his testimony against the other three.

Chandler's wife refused to answer any questions about her own or her husband's activities, citing the Fifth Amendment. She did testify about a conversation she said she had had with Cassada, in which he allegedly described to her how he and others had strangled the Durhams when they surprised them in the act of burglary.

Attorneys for Garren and Coffey prevailed on Braswell to instruct Mrs. Chandler not to identify the "others" Cassada mentioned on the grounds it would be hearsay evidence.

The SBI polygraph expert, C.E. Gilliken, said he had asked Cassada, Garren and Coffey if they had killed Durham, 51, his wife Virginia, 46, and their son Bobby, 19. He said the lie detector evidence indicted they told the truth when they denied doing so.

Durham's son-in-law, Troy Hall, testified that he had received a whispered phone call from Mrs. Durham on the night of the killings, in which he thought she had said black men had gotten Bryce and Bobby.

All four of the defendants are white.

Braswell, at the end of the day-long session, ordered that Garren and Coffey be set free. They had been held without bond.

He set a hearing for today to schedule a trial date for Cassada and Chandler, as well as a bail hearing.

Cassada faces the death penalty if he is convicted. Chandler could draw three life terms.

Bootleg War Is Too Successful; Offices Closed

COLUMBIA (AP)—The Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms unit of the Internal Revenue Service has closed four more of its South Carolina offices because of what a spokesman terms "successful operations" against moonshining.

Louis F. Fisher, chief special investigator, said Thursday "we are putting ourselves out of business."

Closed this month were the offices at Aiken, Beaufort, Orangeburg and Rock Hill. Still open are offices at Columbia, Charleston, Florence and Greenville.

Fisher estimated the amount of illicit liquor made in the state has been cut by 85 percent in the past 10 years.

A strong drive against moonshining in that decade began to show appreciable results in 1966 when the service began closing some of its 15 offices.

Arrest Man On Drug Charges

Greenville police and Pitt County Sheriff's Deputies participated in a raid early this morning that resulted in Leeland Littleton Galt Jr., 20, of Greenville being charged with possession of marijuana and amphetamines.

According to Chief Glenn Cannon, about 10 grams of marijuana and some powdered amphetamine were found in the Galt car, parked at 703A East Gum Rd.

The arrest was made about 1:30 a.m.

Bond for Galt was set at $3,900.

Prison And Fine

NEW YORK (AP) — Clifford Irving, who faked an autobiography of industrialist Howard Hughes and sold it for $750,000 to McGraw-Hill, was sentenced in U.S. District Court today to 2½ years in prison and fined $10,000 for conspiracy and grand larceny.

His wife, Edith, who posed as "Helga R. Hughes" to cash the royalty checks through Swiss banks, was given a two-year suspended sentence and two months in prison, plus a $10,000 fine.

Hero's Burial Is Scheduled Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — John Paul Vann was slated for a hero's burial today as Washington paid its final respects to the most renowned of U.S. advisers in the Vietnam war.

The civilian leaders—probably including Secretary of State William P. Rogers—and military chiefs including Army Gen. William Westmoreland, former U.S. commander in Vietnam, were scheduled to attend final rites at Arlington National Cemetery.

Vann, who died June 9 when his helicopter was downed near embattled Kontum in South Vietnam's Central Highlands, was praised by President Nixon for his "truly exceptional effort" in more than a decade in helping the South Vietnamese battle the Communists.

TOP AWARD — Greenville native Jackie Battle Sparkman receives two top academic awards for scholastic achievement at her May 25 graduation from the Temple University School of Law from acting dean Joseph Marshall. Miss Sparkman was honored for having both the highest scholastic average in the evening division of the Law School as well as having the highest general average in both day and evening divisions. A graduate of C. M. Epps High School in Greenville, she is a 1967 graduate of the University of North Carolina at Greensboro. Her mother, Mrs. Diazel Sparkman lives at 809 Douglas Ave., Greenville.

Might Include Beach Erosion

RALEIGH (AP) — The state Board of Water and Air Resources Thursday studied the possibility of adding beachfront protection measures to a proposed state park bond issue.

It was estimated that halting erosion along the North Carolina coast would cost $30 million even with federal aid.

Raymond Talton of Raleigh said that adding beach protection to the state park bond referendum would give the proposal statewide appeal.

the direction of energy

When the big wheel turns clockwise, the little wheel turns counter-clockwise at a greater rate of speed. Thus man controls energy in the physical universe, determining, according to his own will, its direction and effect.

There is a spiritual universe, too. A world in which God, who gave us freedom of will, provides the guidance, help and inspiration which unite our minds with His for purposes which are GOOD.

We realize with trembling in this nuclear age that the physical and spiritual universe are not two—but ONE. We cannot live in the one and forget the other. For the world we know will perish unless man's spiritual vision governs his use of the energy he controls.

Wise and reverent minds have always known this. That is why we have CHURCHES... why we share their Life and Work with one another.

Record Enrollment At PTI Reported

Summer school enrollment at Pitt Technical Institute is at an all-time high with 350 students.

According to Douglas M. Morgan, PTI Registrar, this summer's enrollment represents a 50 percent increase over last year.

Heavy Damage In Car Collision

An estimated $4,500 property damage resulted from a 4:20 p.m. collision here yesterday at the intersection of Chestnut Street and Memorial Drive.

Police identified the drivers of the three vehicles involved as Minnie Dail Avery of 205 West Martinsboro Rd., Jean Walston Allen of Route 1, Greenville, and Jessie Frank Warren, 47, of Route 1 Snow hill.

Officers, who reported a passenger in the Allen car was injured, set damage at $2,000 to the Avery auto, $1,500 to the Allen car and $1,000 to the Warren vehicle.

Mrs. Allen was charged with failing to see her intended movement could be made in safety.

Curriculums reporting major increases in the number of students are Accounting, Electronics, Mental Health, Police Science, Secretarial and Veterans Farm Cooperative Program.

In accounting for the large increase in this summer's enrollment Pitt Tech President William E. Fulford, Jr. said, "Many of the students are taking advantage of summer school to upgrade their skills and improve their employability. Some of our full-time students take courses during the summer to reduce their work-load during the fall, winter, and spring quarters, when they take their advanced specialty courses."

Morgan stated that even with the increased enrollment, the majority of the students continue to hold part-time jobs, probably as many as 85 percent of them.

Annexation Is Discussed At Grifton Meet

GRIFTON—Engineer Willis Barlow of L.E. Wooten and Co., consulting engineers, attorney Louis Gaylord, and Grifton mayor Dave Bosley explained the facts and answered questions at a public hearing Wednesday night on the question of annexation of two tracts of land into the corporate limits of Grifton.

The hearing was called to answer questions on the Report of Services which has been prepared by the town in compliance with law as one step in the "Statutory route" of annexing areas. As explained by Mayor Bosley, the statutes require that areas annexed into the town must be provided services such as water, sewer, fire hydrants, etc. on substantially the same basis as services are provided in town.

Other ways of annexing were explained as 1) 100 percent petition of property owners within the area to be annexed, and 2) an act of the Legislature.

Mayor Bosley explained that the Town Board had felt for some years that there was a need to extend the Town limits for the following reasons: 1) Desirable building sites within the corporate limits of town have been nearly exhausted; 2) Businessmen cannot participate in municipal government because most of them do not live in town; 3) Providing the kind of services that the community expects and needs is difficult without expanding the tax base. Such services would include recreation, library, and police protection.

Attorneys Mark Owens representing a group of people from Country Club and Fitzhugh Wallace, representing a group of people from Forest Acres stated they plan to take the matter to court. Wallace, speaking for both lawyers, stated, "We petition the Town Board to go back to the Local Government Commission and see if they could not now, since they know these two areas do not want to come in, reduce the original project to merely the internal limits of the Town of Grifton needs for water and sewer and disposal."

Attorney Robert Browning, representing a group of people presently residing in town, voiced protest to annexation also. He later stated that this protest was based on the fear by those he represented that the water and sewer expansions planned for Country Club and Forest Acres might be built before the work in town was done. During the meeting, engineer Barlow stated that while they preferred to do the whole project in one package as this offered economies of construction and finance, it appeared that the project would have to be done in two parts because of the annexation litigation. He said the in-town portion of the project would therefore be done first.

No action was taken as a result of the meeting. Attorney Gaylord stated that by law the Town Board could not decide anything on the matter for at least six days, but must decide something within 60 days. Wallace requested a copy of the minutes of the hearing as well as seven days' notice of the Town Board meeting when a decision will be reached.

East Carolina Outlasts Tar Heels, 3-1

CHAPEL HILL — East Carolina University's Pirates won their fourth straight North Carolina Summer Collegiate League baseball game last night, taking a 3-1 victory over the University of North Carolina in 12 innings.

Little Mint Wins Sixth In Row; Moore-King-Sullivan In Victory

The Little Mint of Ayden-Grifton continued to roll along in the Senior Babe Ruth League last night with a 6-2 victory over Big Value Discount of Farmville. In another game, Moore-King-Sullivan gained an 11-2 victory over Kinston.

The Little Mint is now 6-0, while Big Value is 2-3; Moore-King-Sullivan is 3-5, and Kinston is 1-5.

In the game played in Greenville, Moore-King-Sullivan pushed ahead in the first inning, scoring four runs. Perry reached on a fielder's choice and stole second. Fuchs singled to score Perry. An error allowed Fuchs to advance, and Bowles singled him across. Bowles stole second and scored when Wallace singled. He also stole up a base and moved to third on an error on the pickoff attempt. He scored when Dash got a hit.

In the third, two more came over. Grimes singled and scored on a double by Wallace. Dash reached on an error, scoring Wallace, making it 6-0.

In the fourth, another run crossed. Perry got a homer to account for it.

Kinston came up with both of its runs in the fifth. Fisher reached on an error and Blackwell was safe on another. McDuffy singled in Fisher and a passed ball scored Blackwell, making it 7-2.

In the sixth, M-K-S finished it up with four more runs. Bryan was walked and Wilkerson was safe on an error. Perry singled in Bryan and Hudson reached on a fielder's choice that was errored, scoring Wilkerson. Perry and Fuchs came around on outs.

Bryan, in hurling the win, allowed Kinston only two hits. Wallace led the M-K-S hitting with three, while Perry had two.

In Grifton, Little Mint had no trouble with Big Value as winning pitcher Danny Tripp tossed another two-hitter. He had a no-hitter going until the sixth inning when Big Value finally put things together for two hits and two runs. Tripp struck out six and walked one.

The Little Mint pushed into the lead in the first inning, scoring five big runs. Doug Phillips, Johnny Willis and Tripp all drew walks, loading the bases. Moore singled, scoring Phillips. Tom Craft followed with a double, scoring Willis, but Tripp was thrown out at the plate. Jim Herring then hit a three-run homer, finishing off the scoring for the inning.

The other Little Mint run came in the second. James Willis scored when Tripp doubled.

Big Value got both of its runs in the sixth inning. Glenn Dwyer walked and Hayward Joyner cracked a two-run homer for them.

Moore led the Little Mint

Optimists Get Win Over Lions

The Optimists widened their lead in the North State Little League with a 7-2 victory over the Lions yesterday.

The Optimists now hold an 8-2 record, while the Lions are now 5-5.

The Optimists scored the first of their runs in the opening frame. Mack Stokes did all the damage with a lead-off home run.

In the second, the Optimists pushed over two more runs. Randy Hodges walked and James Shoe reached on a fielder's choice. Jim Kernan singled, scoring Hodges. An error then allowed Kernan to score for a 4-2 lead.

In the third, another Optimist run came over. Hodges reached on a fielder's choice and Keith Ward singled. Kernan walked to load the bases and Stocks scored when Hodges, making it 4-0.

The Lions pushed over both of their runs in the bottom of the third. Krage Garinder was hit by a pitch and took second on a wild pitch. Marty Worthington brought him around with a triple. Mike Adams then singled in Worthington.

In the sixth, the Optimists finished up their scoring with three more runs. Gary Allen led off the inning with a home run. Shoe was later walked and Ward was hit by a pitch. Kernan singled to score Shoe and Stocks singled to bring Ward over.

Kernan led the Optimist hitting with two, while Ray Kilpatrick had two for the Lions.

before the Pirates finally pushed over two runs in the 12th win it. The victory raised the Buc record to 4-2 for the season, tying them with Carolina for first place. Through Wednesday, Wilmington was leading the league with a 4-1 record. They played Appalachian at Red Springs last night.

The Bucs got only three hits of UNC ace Jim Chamberlain, but they proved to be enough. The Pirates' Tommy Toms got the victory, going the full 12 innings. He scattered nine hits, and got out of some tough spots along the way.

The Pirates pushed over their first runs in the second inning. Larry Walters led off the inning with a triple. Ron Staggs then hit back to second, and the ball was thrown wildly to the plate, with Walters scoring easily.

But from then, until the 12th the Bucs saw few baserunners. In the sixth, Toms led off with a single and Mike Bradshaw sacrificed him up, but he died at second.

No one else reached until the 11th when Rick McMahon walked and was also sacrificed up, this time by Ron Leggett.

The Tar Heels meanwhile, were keeping the pressure on the Bucs, but they refused to wilt.

They got their first real threat in the fourth inning. With two away, Mickey Hickerson and Chamberlain both singled. Tom Kennedy followed with a walk, loading the bases. But Russ Niller hit into a fielder's choice that got the Bucs out of that one.

In the fifth, the Tar Heels got their lone run of the game. Randy McNeil singled and Don Davis sacrificed him up. McNeil moved to third on Bobby Guthrie's infield out, and then scored when Pete Franklin singled, tying it at 1-1.

The sixth saw another North Carolina threat. With two down, Kennedy doubled, and Niller singled without scoring him, and a pop-up got the Bucs out of it again.

In the eighth, Hickerson got a one-out double and took third on an infield out. The suicide squeeze was attempted, but the ball was missed and Hickerson was easily tagged out.

In the 11th, Carolina got its single to score both Worthington and Shank with the final runs of the inning.

In the second, they added two more. Stuart Bowman singled and David McClanahan got a hit. Mark Shank singled in Bowman and Avery's hit scored McClanahan.

Pepsi then added two in the third and two more in the fifth.

The Elks got two in the second. Reggie Spain walked and Don White reached on an error. Mack Stocks sacrificed in Spain and Greg Hargett walked. William Sneed was hit by a pitch and Len Jackson walked to force in White.

The Elks then added three more in the third.

David McClanahan led the Pepsi hitting with four, while Mark Shank, Coffman and Avery each had three and Michael Shank had two. No one had more than one hit for the Elks.

Pepsi-Cola In 16-5 Victory

Pepsi-Cola moved back into sole possession of first place in the Tar Heel Little League with a 16-5 victory over the Elks.

The win left Pepsi with an 8-2 record, while the Elks fell off to 5-5.

Pepsi got all they would need in the first inning, rolling to a 10-0 lead before the Elks were able to get a bat in their hands.

MacDonald Avery led off with a single and Perry Worthington reached on an error. Michael Shank singled and Steve McClanahan reached on a fielder's choice, scoring Avery. John Coffman singled to score Worthington. Tim Eubanks got a hit, driving in both Shank and McClanahan. Coffman and Eubanks moved up on a wild pitch and David McClanahan singled. Mark Shank got a hit, scoring Coffman. Avery's hit brought in both Eubanks and McClanahan, but Shank was thrown out, on Worthington's fielder's choice. Michael Shank walked and Steve McClanahan singled in Avery. John Coffman

Home Builders, Planters Win

Home Builders and Planters Bank captured victories in the Babe Ruth League last night. Planters took a 4-2 win over Pepsi-Cola, while Home Builders beat College View, 10-2.

Pepsi is now 6-5, while Planters is 7-6. Home Builders has a 4-7 mark, while College View, eliminated from the title race, is 3-8.

In the opener, College View pushed over two runs in the first inning. Keith Jones singled and stole second. Ron Hunt was hit by a pitch and both scored on Lee Moore's double.

Home Builders tied it up with two in the second. Ricky Harris singled and Carlton Walls walked. Both advanced on an out and Mose Stocks singled in both runners.

In the third, Home Builders took the lead with one more. Chris Manning singled and Joe Godette reached on a fielder's choice. Both moved up on a passed ball, and Wall's single scored Manning.

Home Builders broke it open in the sixth, scoring five more runs. Jon West singled and moved up on a passed ball. Stocks walked and Jim Wilkerson singled in West. Mark Conway singled to score Stocks and Manning got a hit, scoring Wilkerson. Both Conway and Manning moved up on a balk and Godette reached on an error scoring Conway. An error allowed Manning to come across with the eighth run.

The final two came in the seventh. Wilkerson reached on an error and Conway walked. Walks to Mike Belton and Manning forced in Wilkerson and Harris reached on an error, scoring Conway.

Manning and Harris led the Home Builders' hitting with two each. Moore had two to pace College View.

In the second game, Planters broke open a scoreless deadlock with four runs in the fifth. Greg Coward singled and was sacrificed up. Bobby Sasser singled and that scored Coward. Sasser moved up on an error and Wayne Elks brought him in when he reached on an error. Elks stole second and was wild pitched to third. Ed Connolly walked and stole up. Both runners came over on a double by Greg Jester.

Pepsi came up with two runs in the seventh. Bill Ellington singled and Doug Causey doubled. Henry Baker singled in Ellington and a balk brought Causey across with the final run.

Dennis Cristiano led Planters with two hits, while no one had more than one for Pepsi.

National Teams Shine In Wins

The National Division swept three games from the American Division last night in the Church Softball League. Black Jack edged by First Christian, 7-5, Immanuel Baptist nipped First Presbyterian, 1-0, and Trinity Free Will Baptist beat St. James, 9-2.

Presbyterian is now 4-5, St. James is 3-8, and Christian is 3-7 in the American. In the National, Black Jack is 5-3, Immanuel is 7-2 and Trinity is 4-5.

In the opening game, Black Jack pushed over two runs in the first, but a homer by J. Wilson countered one of these for Christian. Then Christian added two more in the second and one in the third for a 4-2 lead.

In the fifth, however, Black Jack rallied for four runs to take a 6-4 lead, enough to win. B. Elks walked and B. Carson doubled. G. Holland doubled and S. Peele finished it off with a homer.

Black Jack added one in the sixth, while Christian got one more in the fifth.

The lone run in the Immanuel-Presbyterian game came in the second inning. K. Raper singled and J. Mullin brought him around with a double.

In the final game, St. James got a homer by M. Board to take the lead in the second, but in the third, Trinity came up with three to push ahead for good.

A. Davis singled and S. Cayton got a hit. L. Sasser singled and scored on K. Manning's double for a 3-1 lead.

Trinity added one in the fourth and five in the sixth, while St. James pushed its other run in the third.

Pitch, Hit & Throw Winners

Four Greenville boys have won preliminary competition and have qualified for the next round of the Pitch, Hit and Throw Contest.

The contest was held last Saturday at Elm Street Park, sponsored by Major League Baseball, Phillips Petroleum Co., the local Phillips 66 dealers, and the Greenville Jaycees.

Competition was held by age groups. Each winner received a plaque and a jacket patch. The winners will compete in the district competition, to be held Sunday at the Needham Broughton High School ball park in Raleigh.

Winners were determined by scores compiled in the three events—pitching for control, hitting for distance and throwing for accuracy.

The four winners were Barry

Tyson, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Tyson, 1604 E. Greenville Blvd., 9; Ashley Taylor, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Taylor, 211 Southview Dr., 10; Leslie Robinson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley H. Robinson, 109 Glenwood Ave., 11; and Ricky Bolonde, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert D. Bolonde, 2604 Jefferson Dr., 12.

Runners-up, who also received plaques, were Bobby Champlin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Champlin, 1900 S. Charles St., 9; Krage Gardiner, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Krage Gardiner, 1010 W. Wright Rd., 10; Danny Wood, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Wood, Azalea Gardens, Lot 51, 11; and John Cleetwood, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Cleetwood, 223 Churchill Dr., 12.

final threat off. With two down, Kennedy doubled, but the next batter again popped-up, and that ended the Tar Heel hopes.

The Pirates got their win in the 12th. With one down, Ralph Lamm got all they needed with a home run.

But they decided to add another. Walters walked and stole second. He then scored when Eason reached on a fielder's choice. McMahon then walked, and both advanced on a wild pitch, but no more runs came across.

The game ended one hitting steak for the Pirates. Jimmy Paige had hit safely in the first five games of the Bucs, but failed to keep it going last night.

East Carolina travels to Wilmington tonight to face the leading Seahawks, seeking their fifth victory. They return home on Saturday night at 7:30 p.m., hosting Campbell College at Harrington Field.

Jaycees Set Jr. Tennis

The Greenville Jaycees will kick off their Junior Tennis Program this Saturday with the first of three free clinics.

The program is conducted for youngsters from 8 to 18 years of age.

The first clinic will be held Saturday at 9 a.m. at Elm Street tennis courts, and the next two will fall on the following Saturdays, June 23 and July 1, at the same time and place.

On July 8, a tournament will begin with two classes of competition by age groups, 16 and under, and 18 and under. Local winners will be eligible to participate in the state tournament, to be held July 17-20 at Wilson.

All interested youth may register at the first clinic Saturday.

Pirates Regain Top; Colbert Wins First

By KEN RAPPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer
Bob Robertson's bat was singing in the rain, hitting high notes for the Pittsburgh Pirates.

His performance Thursday night helped Pittsburgh waltz back into first place in the National League East.

The beefy first baseman broke out of a wicked slump with three hits and four runs batted-in as the Pirates grabbed a rain-delayed doubleheader from the San Francisco Giants 4-1 and 9-7 and nosed a half-game in front of the idle New York Mets.

"One night isn't going to change everything as far as the slump goes," said Robertson, who was hitless in 21 appearances before Thursday's second game. "I haven't had my timing ... and I didn't have it tonight.

"But it's nice to know the fans have been behind me all the way. They were cheering me even before I got to the plate. And it's got to make you want to come through."

After Robertson drove in a run with a sacrifice fly in the first game, he collected his first hit of the night with a two-run single in the first inning of the nightcap. Then he delivered a run-scoring single in the seventh. Robertson also singled in the third, keeping alive a Pirate rally that scored two runs.

The Chicago Cubs defeated the San Diego Padres 10-1 in Thursday's only other National League game. In the American League, the New York Yankees defeated the Chicago White Sox 8-1; the Kansas City Royals turned back the Boston Red Sox 13-9 and the Cleveland Indians topped the California Angels 1-0.

The Pirates started the night's work a half-game behind the Mets, but climbed back into first place by percentage points after their first-game victory fashioned on the combined pitching of Nelson Briles and Dave Giusti.

In the nightcap, the Pirates wiped out a 1-0 Giants' lead with a three-run first and never trailed thereafter.

Billy Williams celebrated his 34th birthday with two home runs as Chicago crushed San Diego.

The veteran outfielder ignited a six-run fourth inning with a two-run blast, then launched his 11th homer his next time up in the fifth inning when the Cubs scored three runs.

"I don't think I ever hit a home run before on my birthday," said Williams, who collected the 329th and 330th of his illustrious 12-year career.

Bill Hands improved his won-lost record to 6-2 with a five-hitter.

Bobby Murcer's three-run homer in the third inning sent ex-teammate Stan Bahnsen to an early shower and New York went on to an easy victory over Chicago. The Yankees clipped Bahnsen for a single run in the second on the first of two sacrifice flies by Bernie Allen before Murcer chased Bahnsen with his shot in the third inning. Horace Clarke later added a three-run homer for the Yankees.

Five double plays helped Fritz Peterson notch his fifth victory in 13 decisions after an 0-6 start.

John Mayberry knocked in six runs with a homer and a pair of two-run doubles, leading Kansas City past Boston in a wild baseball game flushed with 32 hits. The hit total was the most in the American League this season.

The Royals trailed 4-1 going into the sixth inning when they made their comeback, scoring six runs in the sixth, three in the seventh and, finally, three in the ninth when Mayberry hit his two-run homer.

Vince Colbert pitched a five-hitter—all singles—and Graig Nettles knocked in the game's only run as Cleveland defeated California.

Ray Fosse singled with two out off Clyde Wright and rode home on Nettles' double in the fourth inning. Then Colbert protected that one-run lead, pitching out of a ninth-inning jam after the Angels came through with two singles.

Jack Says Course Not As Tough As Indicated

By WILL GRIMSLEY
AP Special Correspondent
PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP) — "You breeze through the first six holes," said young Jim Wiechers. "You struggle through ten and then to try like the devil to finish."

"It's the sand," complained Gary Player. "It's the grass." "The poa annua on the greens comes up and bites you," said Chi Chi Rodriguez.

It's none of these things, it's just a case of being afraid of the Pebble Beach course and overly cautious in the opening round of the Open, contended Jack Nicklaus.

"The course is not as tough as the scores indicate," said the Masters titleholder and prime favorite to rack up the 12th major golf championship of his career.

"I think everybody is being very cautious. 'Nobody wants to have that big hole. I didn't try to be cautious. It's too early to go for double bogeys.'"

Nicklaus was one of a crazy quilt collection of six tied at one-under-par 71 today going into the second round of the 72nd U.S. Open championship—and almost everybody in the field of 150 was going around with the glazed look of a man banged on the head with a sledgehammer.

It was downright spooky. The old Pebble Beach links, with the crashing waves of the Pacific whipping up on the rocky beaches and with its gun-barrel fairways and marble top tables for greens, left them reeling after the opening round Thursday.

Tied at 71—the biggest logjam in the opening round since 1896—were the favored Nicklaus; Orville Moody, the moon-faced army sergeant who won the open in 1969, now wheezing with hay fever; Puerto Rican Chi Chi Rodriguez, who has found new peace in running and meditation; Blond Tom Shaw, shooting an erratic round of six birdies and five bogeys; Tennessee's Mason Rudolph, who can't see the tee without thick-lens glasses; and Kermit Zarley, whom comedian Bob Hope once introduced as "Pro on the Moon."

The 71 equalled the largest score ever to lead the Open in the modern history of the game.

Former winner Gary Player was tied at 72 with a group that included fellow South African Bobby Cole, Don Massengale and Cesar Sanudo. Tom Weiskopf was in a large cluster at 73. The ailing defending champion Lee Trevino and former winner Bill Casper were in a flock of more than a dozen at 74.

"I feel miserable," said Trevino in a rasping voice. "I shot 74, should have shot 85 and should be in a morgue somewhere."

The colorful, wisecracking Mexican-American, stricken with bronchitis and viral pneumonia, left a hospital bed in El Paso against doctor's orders to defend his crown. He stuffed himself with pills and trudged over the layout swatched in layers of jackets and sweating from fever.

Arnold Palmer, bidding for his first major title in eight years, struggled to a 77. Doug Sanders, who won his last start at Charlotte, soared to an 81. Former Masters champion Charles Coody had an 82 and Frank Beard, a consistently high money winner on the tour, skied to an 85.

The 6,812-yard, par 72 ocean-side course took a heavy toll although the weather was comparatively good—early morning fog burned away by a hot afternoon sun with negligible winds.

Bunky Henry of Atlanta, and Russell Helwig, a pro from Westfield, N.J., each stumbled in with 86s.

"I started to quit," said Henry, who had a triple bogey seven at the 15th. Helwig climaxed his round with an eight on the par five final hole which stretches along Carmel Bay and lamented: "It was so embarrassing. I invited my parents here to see me play."

Tony Jacklin, the young Briton who won the British and U.S. Opens in the space of a year in 1969-70, four-putted from 15 feet on the 10th hole, taking three strokes from 36 inches away. He shot 75. Doug Sanders took a drop in a sand trap when his ball was buried so deep it became an unplayable lie.

Wiechers was three-under-par through eight holes, then took a seven on the ninth, shooting 74. Ras Allen of Dallas was one under at Charlotte and finished with 86. Forty-eight failed to break 80.

It was the nature of the Pebble Beach beast. The first six holes play comparatively easy. Seven through ten are a nightmare. The finish can be catastrophic.

Steve Hannan of Wilmington, Del., captains Army's track team.

Little Mint Wins Again

The Little Mint moved a step closer to the Ladies Softball League title with a 22-2 victory over Azalea Mobile Homes last night. In the other games, Beltone stayed close with a 7-4 win over Three Steers, while Coca-Cola outlasted Piggly-Wiggly, 17-13.

Little Mint is now 11-0, while Beltone, the only team that can catch them is 9-2.

In the opener, Little Mint pushed ahead in the bottom of the first, scoring twice. Azalea had opened the first with a brief one-run lead.

In the second, Little Mint pushed over three more to sew it up. Wanda Oakley reached on an error and Cheyenne Kelly walked. Doris Garrish singled and a passed ball scored one run. Bobbie Jones sacrificed in another and Carol Manuel singled. Another sacrifice, by Laura Kilpatrick brought in the final run.

Little Mint added six in the third, with Homers by Linda Tripp and Garrish. Three more scored in the fifth with Jones homering. They finished it off with eight in the sixth. Azalea added one more in the fourth.

Beltone pushed into the lead in the first with a run, while Three Steers got their first in the second. Beltone added two more in the top of the third, but Three Steers came up with three in the bottom of the inning to tie it up.

Beltone then scored three in the fifth to wrap it up. Georgia Potter reached on an error and Joyce Sawyer singled. Cynthia Averette cracked a three-run homer to close out the scoring.

In the final game, Coke pushed over three in the first to take the lead, but Piggly-Wiggly came up with five in its half of the frame to move ahead. Dolly Johnson hit a homer to spark them. Coke got one in the top of the second, but two by Piggly-Wiggly in the bottom made it 7-4. Coke tied it up with three in the top of the third, but fell behind again as Piggly-Wiggly got three in its half of the inning. Two coke runs came in the fourth, while two scored for P-W.

But in the fifth, Coke pushed over eight runs to charge ahead this time for good. Carol Johnson singled and Ruth Weilder walked. Lonnie Turner reached on an error and Mary Warren was safe on another. Nancy Taylor singled and Connie Summers got a hit. Linda Summerlin singled and Elva Weatherington doubled. Kathryn Phillips followed with another double, scoring Weatherington with the 17th Coke run.

Piggly-Wiggly was able to pick up one more in the bottom of the fifth.

What ham did for Virginia, Old Crow did for Bourbon.

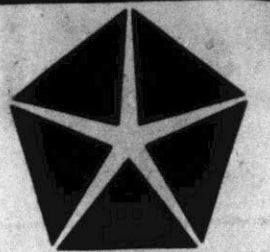

Even before Virginia's George Washington became President, Virginia was famous for the good taste of her country hams. Not long after, the good taste of Old Crow made Bourbon famous.

Before 1835, Bourbon was made every which way. That year, Dr. James Crow took it out of the hit-or-miss league and created the process that gave Bourbon its mellow taste and good name: Old Crow.

Mail-Order Cigarette Operation Said Halted

RALEIGH (AP) — U. S. Attorney Warren Coolidge says the biggest mail-order cigarette operation in eastern North Carolina has been halted and he plans to bring legal action to stop other shippers.

Coolidge said a Thursday consent judgment was entered in federal court against Bobby Lee Burnette, president of Coastal Shipping Co. at Wilson. He said Burnette admitted selling cigarettes through the mail to persons in other states and had ceased operations.

"The court found," Coolidge said, "that he was engaged in violations of the Jenkins Act by selling cigarettes in other states without first filing with the tobacco tax administrator of each state statements required by law."

Coolidge, attorney for the eastern district, said the operation was designed to avoid payment of taxes on cigarettes in other states.

He added similar civil suits will be instituted against other shippers in the eastern North Carolina.

Coolidge said Burnette placed ads in publications offering cigarettes at $3.25 per carton postage paid. The minimum order was two cartons.

"During March his postage bill was $1,000 to $2,000 per week," he said.

Coolidge noted that during a nine-day period last August Burnette shipped to 27 states 1,212 parcels containing at least two cartons of cigarettes.

He said, "Based on two cartons per order, the tax loss was $3,757.79."

He said Burnette had been in the mail-order operation three years and had three employees.

The court permanently enjoined Burnette from offering for sale and shipping cigarettes in interstate commerce.

Opening lead: Jack of ♠
Despite West's best efforts to obscure the issue, South found a way to expose his opponent's "red herring" and still give himself the best chance to land his six spade contract.

When South's Blackwood calls revealed that the partnership had all four aces but only two kings, he settled for a small slam. Had North put down a third heart or a black king, instead of the king of diamonds, South could have virtually claimed his contract after the opening lead was made.

West opened the jack of diamonds and dummy's queen won the first trick. Declarer observed that two club discards were forthcoming on North's diamonds, so that the fate of the contract hinged on one of two finesses—clubs and spades.

Prudence dictated testing trumps first, so a small spade was led at trick two and when East followed with the deuce, South played the queen. West followed smoothly with the three. While this play would not have worked out well if East held the jack, West had carefully reviewed the action in his mind and it seemed extremely remote that South would have looked for a grand slam with only a five card spade holding headed by the ace-queen.

When the first trump finesse succeeded, declarer contemplated crossing over to the ace of hearts to repeat the spade play. If East held the king, then it must succumb to another finesse and South can afford to lose a club trick.

Declarer observed that the ace of hearts was the only remaining entry to dummy and, if West had engaged in skulduggery in his spade play, South might never have an opportunity to try the club finesse. Presently, the latter uncovered a method to cope with all possibilities.

The king of hearts was led and overtaken by the ace. The king of diamonds was played and declarer discarded his queen of hearts, thereby converting North's jack into the master card in hearts. Now a spade was led and the East showed out. South retained control of the hand. He merely played the ace and another spade, putting West in with the king. Whether the latter exited with a heart or a diamond, dummy was in again and after two small clubs were discarded on the jack of hearts and the ace of diamonds, South led the queen of clubs for a finesse in that suit. When East turned up with the king, declarer was safely home.

As the cards were distributed, South could have tried the club finesse when he was in dummy for the second time with the ace of hearts. The objection to this play is that if West turns up with the king of clubs, he may give his partner a ruff in that suit if East holds a singleton.

CARROLL RICHTER'S HOROSCOPE

from the Carroll Richter Institute

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A wonderful day and evening for you to show charm to all others in whatever you do. This is the best manner in which to make the right sort of progress now. You have an interesting urge to make yourself more attractive which is fine.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) You have much energy and enthusiasm now and can accomplish a great deal in whatever field that means the most to you. Try to please fellow workers more. Take it easy tonight.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Do whatever you can to make others feel happier, especially those who have been good to you. Entertain them generously. First make sure to take care of routine chores.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Concentrate efforts today on improving conditions around your home, then make plans for more accord there in the future. Start an uptrend in your personal affairs.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Show others that you are an ambitious person and not one who procrastinates. Buy items that can make your routines easier. Avoid one who bickers. Take health treatments.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Start making your surroundings nice and clean. Put everything in order. Add to the value of your possessions. Talk over with an expert ways to improve financial status.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Showing others that you are charming will find them going along with your views. Engage in affairs that can be mutually helpful. Show you are a good conversationalist.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) If you converse with others at length, this paves the way for greater success in the future. Don't broadcast your aims to strangers now. Show consideration for others. Be wise.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) A good day for sociability and ingratiating yourself into the good graces of others. Show others you are a charming and magnetic person. Make several new contacts of worth.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Ideal day to get into the activities that bring you closer to influential persons or any others who can be of assistance to you. Engage in civic matters. Think logically.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Show others you are thinking on a high plane and gain their respect and goodwill. Engaging in philosophical or educational fields is wise. Learn a great deal.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Take care of chores that are difficult to do during the work week and get them out of the way early. A word of encouragement to mate can be helpful. Be happy together.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Instead of being negative, accept the fine backing which associates give you so that a joint affair works out successfully. One who has opposed you will now go along with your plan.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will develop into a most conscientious and hard-working person, so give little duties around the home that will help develop this innate trait early in life. Life will become a successful one, since it is well known that genius is pretty much 90 per cent perspiration and 10 per cent inspiration. Offer only constructive criticism.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

The Worry Clinic Extremes Due Guilt Complex

Jane's excessive religious fanaticism probably is compensation for a sexual sin," a psychiatrist would say. So analyze her case with care. Violators of God's laws (unlike ordinary criminals) fear the dramatic forms of divine punishment noted below!

By GEORGE W. CRANE, Ph.D., M.D.

Case U-511: Jane K., aged 36, has a sexual problem. Dr. Crane, her husband asked, "could you please explain why my wife has become so fanatical in her zeal for a splinter type of religion?"

"For she now neglects our 4 children.

"She refuses to let them salute the flag or have any pictures of Christ in our home.

"And she insists that we all join her religion or she will leave us and get a divorce."

Religious Fanatics

Often we psychiatrists find that when patients carry their religious fervor to an abnormal degree, they are compensating. For they have an inner guilt complex, usually in the sexual realm, that makes them try to swing the pendulum to the opposite extreme.

Maybe some of you readers will recall the play called "Rain," wherein a missionary zealot was obsessed with the sinful life of an attractive young prostitute.

But the play ended with his succumbing to her wiles.

His earlier fanatical religious hostility had thus been due to an inner conflict of conscience with his erotic desire for her.

When I had an interview with Jane, she was openly defiant and took the attitude that I knew nothing about religion, for hers was the "one and only" true worship of God.

But I side-stepped the religious issue.

For in counseling, you need to by-pass the obvious, since such symptoms are generally a camouflage, to hide the real culprit.

Finally, Jane confessed. She had been promiscuous in "insane." Many such victims then subconsciously try to sprout the symptoms of insanity, as a form of penance as they anticipate God's wrath.

For violators of divine laws (not civil codes) expect God to strike them down with one of his sudden, dramatic forms of punishment, such as lightning, apoplexy, heart attack or insanity.

So send for my booklet "How to Stay Sane and Happy" (How to Prevent Nervous Breakdowns), enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 25 cents.

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 25 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.) Copyright 1972.

WHAT DID THE COUNSELOR SAY, CHARLIE BROWN?

I'M BEING SENT HOME... THEY SAY THAT I'M A TROUBLEMAKER!

YOU? A TROUBLEMAKER? THAT'S RIDICULOUS!!!

THEY SAID THAT SOMETHING HAPPENED OVER AT THE GIRLS' CAMP AND MY NAME WAS MENTIONED AND THAT OBVIOUSLY I WAS A TROUBLEMAKER SO THEY'RE SENDING ME HOME...

WE'LL SUE THEM, CHARLIE BROWN! WE'LL TAKE IT TO THE SUPREME COURT!

MY NAME WAS MENTIONED AT THE GIRLS' CAMP! WOW!!

B. C.

HAVE YOU HEARD THE ONE ABOUT THE TRAVELING CAVEMAN AND THE NEANDERTHAL'S DAUGHTER?

I DON'T KNOW, ... START IT OFF.

... IT SEEMS THERE WAS THIS TRAVELING CAVEMAN, ... I'VE HEARD IT.

NUBBIN

I STILL SAY YOUR DOG IS GOOD FOR NOTHIN'! HE CAN'T DO A THING!

NOW, THAT'S NOT A NICE THING TO SAY ABOUT PIERRE!

HE'S AN EXCELLENT WATCHDOG!

BLONDIE

JUST THINK, DEAR--WE'VE SAVED ENOUGH TRADING STAMPS TO GET A NEW STEAM IRON

BUT I WAS THINKING OF GETTING A BOWLING BALL WITH THEM

DON'T BE SILLY

YOU CAN'T PRESS CLOTHES WITH A BOWLING BALL!

BEETLE BAILEY

I KNOW WHAT'S WRONG WITH LT. FUZZ? HE'S...

SHHH, SIR, HERE HE COMES

I'LL WRITE IT FOR YOU

"NOSY." WHY DID YOU WRITE THAT?

THE PHANTOM

THOSE--NATIVES PULLED UP THE COPTER.

SO WHAT? IT WAS SHOT DOWN--IT'S NO GOOD ANY MORE.

NO MEN INSIDE--

NO--THEY FELL OUT OR JUMPED--THEY'RE GONE.

HOW CAN THIS FLY?--IMPOSSIBLE.

WHAT DO YOU WISH WITH IT?

NO GOOD? YOU CLICK--IT'S GOT MAPS IN IT MARKED WITH THIS LOCATION!

I WISH TO FIND SOMETHING INSIDE--MAPS.

JULIET JONES

WHAT HAPPENED?

RENE BESON FELL FROM THE BALCONY!

YOU COULD SAY IT WAS THE HAND OF FATE THAT PUSHED HIM. MY ONLY REGRET IS THAT IT WASN'T MY HAND!

SOLANGE!!

MINUTES LATER... IS HE DEAD?

PRACTICALLY. LET'S GET BACK INTO OUR REAL IDENTITIES, AND QUICKLY!

BROOK VALLEY

Do you need only 3 bedrooms and yet would like to be in a golf and country club area for less than 40,000. If so, let us show you this unusual rustic house with all the charm of a grand home. Of course, — it has modern conveniences... air conditioning, dishwasher, disposal, built-in range. How can you resist this great buy and with no city taxes.

This 2-story 4 bedroom house has everything and more you could possibly want in a home. A unique cook-island, plus lots and lots of cabinets, and well planned space make this kitchen any woman's dream. The double arched fireplace enhancing the family room is a rare beauty. A formal living room and formal dining room also grace this fine home in addition to many other features too numerous to mention.

Located on a wooded lot overlooking the golf course is the setting for this spacious home custom built 2 1/2 years ago for present owner. 5 bedrooms, 3 baths. The immaculate garage with finished walls, features an electronic door for your convenience. This lovely home has all the extras: carpeting, built-in cabinets, built-in desks in bedrooms, built-in oven, dishwasher, complete with washer in the laundry room. The very spacious 5th bedroom is ideally located for a recreation room, a guest bedroom, a study — just many possible uses. The foyer, formal living room, family room with cozy fireplace, formal dining room, and a large breakfast area all make this a luxurious home.
