N.C. Employment Up

RALEIGH (AP) — Nonfarm employment in North Carolina April but 19,000 higher than in May of last year. Crane reported hourly earnings rose one cent on the average in May to $2.75 while the factory workweek held firm at 40.5 hours. Average weekly earnings rose 41 cents to $111.38.

U.S. Dollar Plummets

LONDON (AP) — The British government set the pound sterling free today to find a new rate of exchange without government support. The surprise action plunged European money markets into confusion, started a run on the U.S. dollar and jumped the price of gold more than $2 an ounce. The British Treasury closed the London foreign exchange market until Tuesday. The Common Market governments closed their exchanges, at least for today. But before the Frankfurt market shut down, the dollar plummeted to its floor of 3.15 marks. Markets were open in Switzerland, and the dollar made a sharp drop in Zurich to 3.72-3.74 Swiss francs. French Finance Minister Valéry Giscard d'Estaing announced that the governors of the central banks of the six Common Market nations will meet in Paris Saturday. The price of gold was pegged in London at $64 an ounce, up from $61.85 at Thursday's closing. In Zurich gold reached $64.45, up from $61.75.

Border Sees Shelling

Building Activity Up

RALEIGH (AP) — Building activity showed a big gain in North Carolina last month, state labor Commissioner Frank Crane reported today. Crane reported that building permits totaling $66.3 million

Unavoidable Effect On Environment By Highway Relocation

The relocation of a portion of U.S. 264 east of Zebulon will have some unavoidable effects on the environment according to the State Highway Commission but, in exchange, will have economic benefits to Nash and Wilson counties. In the final environmental impact statement, the Commission stated that construction of a new highway less than a mile north of the existing U.S. 264 will require about 1,000 acres of land and result in stream siltation in the Turkey and Moccasin Creeks. The report further stated that noise and pollution along the existing highway would be reduced and that stream siltation could be minimized if necessary measures are taken by the contractor. The project requires acquisition of about 950 acres of woods and pastureland. Fourteen families will have to be relocated. The relocated U.S. 264 is intended to be an east-west controlled access link between Zebulon and Interstate 95 which is being designed for a southern route through Wilson County. The new route will provide bypasses for the towns of Middlesex, Bailey and Sims. Estimated cost of the project is $9.6 million. The Commission stated it will require the contractor to take necessary precautions to prevent siltation in Moccasin and Turkey Creeks.

Stokes Store Destroyed By Fire In Early Hours

STOKES — An early-morning fire today destroyed the Jerome Perkins store here.

Firemen, hampered by the lack of water, were unable to stop the blaze from engulfing the two-story brick building, estimated by Stokes residence at 70 to 80 years old.

Trucks and men from six fire departments, including Stokes, Station-House, Bethel, Pactolus, Winterville and Robersonville, help combat the fire.

A heavy brick wall, which fell after the fire had cooled, and the direction of the wind, were credited with helping prevent spread of the fire to a near-by wooden storage building.

The destroyed building housed a general merchandise store which sold groceries, meat, hardware, paints and house-wear items, among other things.

No estimate of the loss was available this morning.

The fire was reported at 1:45 a.m. and firefighters seemed to be able to keep the fire from blazing up until the first-in units ran out of water. By the time other water tankers arrived, the fire in the store was out of control.

Cause of the fire was unknown this morning.

According to Pitt County Tax records, value of the land and building was set at $10,780 while value of the inventory and equipment at the first of the year was listed at $18,500.

Reds Strike Again At Northern Defense Lines

By GEORGE ESPER Associated Press Writer SAIGON (AP) — North Vietnamese forces launched new attacks on South Vietnam's northern defense lines today despite the heaviest B52 U.S. bombing of the Vietnam war.

The South Vietnamese command said 99 North Vietnamese were killed and one tank was destroyed in three fights between dawn and noon, while South Vietnamese losses were five killed and 22 wounded.

A hundred B52s dropped 2,500 tons of bombs across the northern front today. Informants said the strikes were aimed at cutting off North Vietnamese troops and supplies. They also noted they could be setting the stage for a new South Vietnamese spoiling operation westward from Hue toward the A Shau Valley, a major North Vietnamese base camp and staging area near the Laotian border.

The informants called attention to President Nguyen Van Thieu's statement Monday that he had ordered a three-month campaign to retake the territory lost in the North Vietnamese offensive.

The B52s hit troop positions and supply caches along the My Chanh River defense line north of Hue and through the foothills and mountains stretching west of the old imperial capital.

The South Vietnamese command reported that 126 North Vietnamese troops were killed and 13 tanks destroyed Thursday at My Chanh, 20 to 25 miles north of Hue, and on the western flank 12 miles from Hue.

The communique reported one South Vietnamese soldier killed and 16 wounded, but field reports said nine were killed and 62 wounded.

On the southern front, reinforcements were rushed in as fighting continued this morning in a village 55 miles northwest of Saigon. A total of 85 North Vietnamese were reported killed in the battle in Suo Da hamlet since fighting broke out Thursday. Field reports said eight government militiamen defending the hamlet were killed and 41 wounded.

In the central highlands, South Vietnamese forces trying to reopen Highway 14 between Pleiku and Kontum battled more than 100 North Vietnamese troops 500 yards south of the Chu Pao mountain pass. The Saigon command claimed 34 North Vietnamese killed.

More Rain Dumped On Flooded Areas; Evacuations Go On

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Tropical Storm Agnes and a new storm developing inland dumped more rain on the soaked communities of central Pennsylvania and southwestern New York today, while the Ohio River at Pittsburgh surpassed flood stage.

The death toll in the storm's wake climbed to 47 by late morning, with a score or more missing and feared dead.

Major evacuations were under way in parts of western Pennsylvania and New York State.

The National Weather Service in Pittsburgh reported the water level at The Point—the juncture of the Monongahela and Allegheny rivers where the Ohio begins—was 25.9 feet. Flood level is 25 feet. The Point is in downtown Pittsburgh.

"As of now, we're saying the river could go as much as 10 feet over the flood stage," the spokesman said, noting that radar had tracked new rain moving toward the area from Ohio.

"Before this thing is over, we are going to be in for a major flooding on the Ohio, Allegheny and Monongahela rivers," predicted William Long, a weather service hydrologist.

Meanwhile Agnes—demoted several days ago from hurricane status—continued her pout, packing a ravaging clout.

In Elmira in western New York State, where up to half the city's 40,000 residents had been evacuated, the Chemung River left its banks.

At Corning, where the Chemung also flooded, water poured over 23-foot high dikes and cascaded into the downtown area. Virtually all the 17,000 residents had been evacuated.

The Allegheny broke from its banks in Olean and Salamanca, N.Y.

National Guard units in both New York and Pennsylvania were assisting the evacuation of thousands from flood-threatened and rain-ravaged communities.

Flood warnings were issued for all of western Pennsylvania as the new rains moved into the area from the west. State police said the death count in the state at midmorning stood at 22, up from 12. Eight persons were listed as missing.

Bulletin

CHAPEL HILL — The board of governors of the University system this morning approved a recommendation by President Bill Friday that a five member committee be created to study the feasibility of requesting funds for a two year medical school at ECU.

Friday said the recommendation was made after he and Dr. Leo Jenkins reached agreement on it.

The committee had not been named late this morning.

Nixon May Lift Restrictions On Meat Imports

By BILL NEIKIRK Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon says he is considering lifting meat-import quotas temporarily to slow the rise in food prices, while keeping open the option of tougher controls on food.

Nixon told newsmen Thursday that he has directed a study of the impact of lifting the quotas, a move designed to expand the U.S. supply of meat. He conceded it may take a while for such a move to work.

"It will not affect the problem immediately, but at least it would affect it over the next few months," Nixon said.

As the President spoke, his Cost of Living Council, overseer of wage-price controls, met at the White House to consider whether price controls should be expanded to try to combat the sharp rise in food prices.

The council had before it a recommendation by the Price Commission that the current exemption of raw agricultural products from controls be ended, or that "firm and immediate" action be taken to try to bring the food-price situation under control.

Nixon didn't mention that recommendation at his news conference, but he did say the possibility of expanding meat imports does not rule out "the possibility of moving on the control side...."

After the council meeting, a spokesman would say only that the nine-member agency merely discussed the options without acting. Any recommendations will go to the President, the spokesman said.

But Donald Rumsfeld, council director, remarked to reporters that he regards the Price Commission's action as a "modest little missive." The spokesman said the commission's recommendation had been under study for some time.

Besides removing the exemption on raw agricultural products, the government has considered a temporary freeze on farm products, limiting the costs that wholesalers and retailers can pass through when they sell food, and tougher enforcement.

The sharp food-price rise, not expected a few weeks ago, has turned out to be the biggest challenge to the wage-price control system, posing delicate economic and political problems for the administration.

Recalling how food-price controls after World War II led to black markets, the President said "controls will not work unless you also move on the supply side."

Downes New President Of Center's Directors

Dr. Sheldon C. Downes was elected president of the Eastern Carolina Sheltered Workshop and Vocational Rehabilitation Center Board of Directors at the annual meeting last night.

Other officers named to serve during 1972 include: Dan Bowen of Williamston, Vice-president; Henry Dunn of Greenville, secretary; Warren Whitehurst of Greenville, treasurer; and Mrs. Ella Abbutt of Williamston, assistant treasurer.

Dr. Ray Minges of Greenville was among the new board members who were named to serve until 1975. Other members include Dr. Bill Fulford of Greenville, Bill Bellesheim of Greenville, Miss Betty Speir of Bethel, George Cullipher of Williamston, Dr. E.M. Hunt of Williamston, Jack Sfloughton of Greenville, and Rep. Sam Bundy of Farmville.

Certificates of appreciation were presented to the Pepsi-Cola Bottling Company, Mt. Pleasant Christian Church, Pitt County Association for Retarded Children, Pitt Technical Institute, Alpha Omega Chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha Sorority in Greenville, Civitan Club, Lakewood Pines Garden Club, and the Welcome Wagon.

Joe Clark of the president of the board presented the certificates. He also presented certificates to Miss Betty Levy, Mrs. C. G. Garrenton, Hugh Martin, Mike Johnson, Henry Dunn, and Kenneth Quiggins.

Dr. Downes presented another certificate to Joseph Clark, who had been president for the past three and a half years. Clark installed Dr. Downes as president of the board. Then Dr. Downes installed the other officers for their two year terms.

Martin County Board of Commissioners appropriated $5,000 to the workshop. This money was used to purchase a maxivan bus, which will be used to transport clients.

Mystery Organization In Break-In, Bugging

By H. L. SCHWARTZ III Associated Press Writer

MIAMI (AP) — An organization known as Ameritas, initially described by police as an anti-Castro revolutionary group, is emerging as a focal point in the investigation of the break-in at the Democratic National Committee.

Police in Washington say hotel reservations were made on Ameritas stationery for nine men who are either in custody or sought for questioning in connection with the break-in.

In another development, a District of Columbia judge reduced the bond for four of the five men jailed in the incident. Their attorney said he expects the four to post bond and gain release today.

Superior Court Judge James A. Belson set a cash bond requiring a $3,000 deposit for the release of James W. McCord Jr., reducing it from $30,000. Bond for the other three, Bernard L. Barker, Virgilio R. Gonzales and Eugenio R. Martinez, was reduced from $50,000 to $40,000 each with a $4,000 cash deposit required for release.

The judge let stand the $50,000 bond set for Frank A. Sturgis, the fifth man arrested for the break-in last weekend at the Democratic offices in the same Watergate complex as the hotel where the name of Ameritas surfaced.

District of Columbia police called the organization a secret Cuban revolutionary group, but public records in Florida show it to be a corporation formed in 1969 with the stated purpose of developing real estate.

Most of the key officers and directors are refugees from Castro's Cuba and one is reported to have been involved in the abortive Bay of Pigs invasion.

The current president of Ameritas, Miguel A. Suarez, confirmed Thursday that one of those arrested inside DNC headquarters, Barker, was associated with Ameritas as a salesman.

But Suarez said Ameritas was formed to develop real estate and is in no way connected with revolutionary activity.

Suarez has denied any knowledge of, or part in, the DNC break-in.

Clara Barker, wife of Bernard, said in a telephone interview Thursday she had never heard the name Ameritas and was certain her husband was not involved in it.

Federal officials well connected with Miami's large Cuban population said they had never heard the name, as did Cuban sources involved in antiCastro activities.

A check of Dade County real estate records turned up no evidence that Ameritas had transacted any business since being formed in April 1969.

Leaf Export Promising

NAGS HEAD, N.C. (AP) — A U.S. Department of Agriculture analyst says the demand for flue-cured tobacco on the world market appears promising.

However, B.G. Andrews cautioned Thursday that the demand "for cigarette type tobacco has been offset by drops in use of other types of leaf, previously used in home consumption."

Andrews, chief tobacco analyst for the USDA's Foreign Agricultural Service, spoke at the closing general session of the Bright Belt Warehouse Association convention. The association represents the five-state flue-cured tobacco area.

Andrews said the demand and production of tobacco on the world market appears to be shifting to developing nations.

He told the warehousemen he has misgivings about predictions by the U.N. Food and Agricultural Organization that tobacco demand would increase 2.5 per cent through 1980.

Andrews said insufficient weight had been given a trend by some world manufacturers "to make products with less tobacco content."

Named For Commission

Mrs. Fannie P. Jackson and Miss Kathryn Whichard, both of Greenville, have been named to the Governor's Advocacy Commission of Children and Youth, authorized by the 1971 General Assembly.

The group was formed to act as an advocate for children and youth within the state and local governments, and with private agencies serving children and youth. The Commission is also expected to provide assistance in the development and coordination of child advocacy systems at the regional and local levels, and conduct a continuing review of existing state and local programs for children and youth.

Mrs. Jackson, who retired as a Greenville public school teacher this year, operates Meadowbrook Day Care Center here. She is a member of a state-level committee on day care. She and her husband, George, have a grown son and a daughter.

Miss Whichard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Whichard II, is a rising senior at Rose High School. She is a member of the Youth Council of North Carolina.

Mother Sulks On Her Day

By Abigail Van Buren

(© 1972 by Chicago Tribune-M. V. News Synd., Inc.)

DEAR ABBY: I am 21 and have an 8-month-old girl. My husband's mother lives 90 miles from here and my husband is the only son she has left. [She lost a 19-year-old son in Viet Nam three years ago.] She has one daughter, 17, who is dying of leukemia. Abby, this woman is so brave and wonderful. With all her trouble she never complains.

Well, my husband and I decided to drive up to be with his mother on Mother's Day, but first we stopped off at my mother's so I could give her a Mother's Day present. We found her sulking like a child, and you should have heard her carry on. She said she was hurt that I chose to spend Mother's Day with my mother in law instead of with my own mother. Abby, my mother has three other children [all healthy and living nearby] and she had been invited to spend Mother's Day with them, but she stayed home instead, and told them all that I gave her a migraine headache! Now she's barely speaking to me. She says she could have forgiven me if it had been any day besides Mother's Day. Was I wrong?

HEARTSICK

DEAR HEARTSICK: No! Under the circumstances I think you did the right thing, and unless your mother isn't playing with a full deck, she knows it.

DEAR ABBY: I am 20 years old and have a 5-month-old baby, which makes me a mother, right? Well, as a mother I think I should be honored on Mother's Day, don't you? My mother doesn't seem to think so. She wants all her children to honor her, regardless.

Since this is my first Mother's Day as a mother, my husband planned to take me out for dinner. He bought me an orchid and everything. My neighbor said she'd watch my baby if I brought him over. Then my mother called and blubbered into the phone, "You mean you aren't spending Mother's Day with ME?"

When I told her of our plans, she said, "You have the rest of your life to spend Mother's Day with your husband. Who knows how many years you'll have me?" [Mother is 58 and in good health.] So I went to my mother's and had a miserable time. Never again! Should I have gone?

REGRETS

DEAR REGRETS: You should have done what you wanted to do. But once having made the decision, you should have put a smile on your face and tried to have a good time.

DEAR ABBY: My mother in law is a widow, but she is only 50 and she still likes a good time. Well, she told me that on Mother's Day she would keep my 5-month-old baby so my husband and I could go to my mother's who was making a big dinner, and having a houseful, and if I took my baby with me I wouldn't be able to help her.

Well, I later found out that at the last minute some man called my mother in law to go dancing, so she put my baby in a basket and took him to the dance! Imagine, Abby, a 5-month-old baby in a dirty, smoky hall with all that noise and a bunch of strange people breathing all kinds of germs into the air.

You don't have to answer this. I just wanted to get it off my chest.

FEELS BETTER

DEAR ABBY: For Mother's Day I received a lovely card signed, "Todd, Jennifer and Lauri," who are my grandchildren, ages 5, 3, and 14 months old. Their mother [my daughter] didn't remember me, however, and I was very hurt.

Please don't misunderstand, Abby, I love my grandchildren very much, but they are NOT my children, and even tho I am a proud grandmother, I am no less a mother.

I realize that my daughter bought the card which read, "To Granny on Mother's Day" and she signed her children's names, but it wasn't the same as receiving a sentimental Mother's Day remembrance from my daughter.

I would like your opinion.

SENTIMENTAL

DEAR SENTIMENTAL: Your daughter probably feels that the best gift she's ever given you are your grandchildren. And she is reminding you of it. I'd say you were "remembered," but you'd have preferred a sentimental remembrance from your daughter, which is understandable.

Problems? Trust Abby. For a personal reply, write to ABBY, BOX 6700, L. A., CALIF. 90009 and enclose a stamped, addressed envelope.

CHILE CON QUESO — It's a savory Mexican concoction that may be used as a dunk for vegetables.

Chile Con Queso Is A Dip

By CECILY BROWNSTONE

Associated Press Food Editor

Look into Mexican cookbooks and the chances are you'll come upon recipes for Chile con Queso (Green Chile with Cheese). This is a savory dip that the Mexican cookbooks suggest you serve with corn chips or tostadas (fried quartered corn tortillas) at cocktail time or with refried beans and tortillas at brunch. Offered this way, Chile con Queso is extremely popular in the American Southwest and in California. New York cooks sometimes serve the dip with vegetables, raw or parboiled.

When the weather is warm

Chile con Queso tastes good with iced tea. To make the tea add 8 to 10 teabags (tags removed) to a quart of cold tap water. Cover container and let stand at room temperature or in the refrigerator for at least 6 hours or overnight. Squeeze

teabags as you remove them and stir the tea. Pour into ice-filled glasses. Makes 5 to 6

servings. Amounts may be doubled, using cold water prevents the tea from clouding.

'Tailored' Look For Fall Wins Vote Of Confidence

By ANN HENCKEN

Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The tailored look has been given a final vote of confidence at the 1972 Coty American Fashion Critics' Awards announcements. John Anthony won the "Winnie" Coty Award, for "his leadership in the revival of tailored elegance . . ."

Anthony took Seventh Avenue by storm last year, when he opened his own firm. His collections have been well-edited, strong statements for sophisticated, sometimes severe clothes, such as the man-tailored pants suit and the wide-lapelled jacket.

"I design for the woman over 30," he said after the recent opening of his fall collection.

In a way, his triumph is also a vote for the mature woman.

In contrast, the two other nominees for the "Winnie" were designers Stephen Burrows and Willi Smith. Both are highly talented creators of a kooky, upbeat look in fashion. Their clothes are good for young or very young-thinking women.

"I use knits because they suggest skin and its flexibility," says Burrows, who designs colorful, clingy clothes.

"I'm trying to strip my clothes of nostalgia, of age, of everything that isn't practical," says Smith, who likes a tailored look with a youthful flare.

Yet John Anthony was given the award. He's a believer in the generous cut, influenced by the '30s. There isn't much whimsy in his bold, classic clothes. "Elegant" is the word.

The "Return Award" was given to R. Halston Frowick, known as Halston, for "his ever-widening influence on American fashion" and his "elegance and subtlety in dress."

Halston's lush, quiet knit and cashmere dresses, sweaters and slacks are worn widely by many international socialites. However, he's branching out to a lower-priced ready-to-wear line, priced up to $400, in addition to his sportswear and made-to-order collections.

These winners were voted in by some 400 fashion editors across the country. Nominees were suggested by a committee of 70 fashion editors.

The committee picked designer Bonnie Cashin for a Hall of Fame Award. A designer who has been deeply concerned with function in fashion design, Miss Cashin was cited for "pioneering truly modern clothes."

Dorothy Weatherford of Mountain Artisans, Appalachia, W. Va., was given a Special Award for "reviving native handicrafts."

Valuable Addition For Campus

A $392,400 grant from the Economic Development Administration and Coastal Plains Regional Commission will provide a most needed facility on the ECU campus.

The funds, along with $98,200 from the state, will be used to construct a new office building for the East Carolina Regional Development Commission.

The 16,000 square foot facility is to be constructed on the university property bordered by First, Reade, and Second Streets and it will contain 16 offices, a library and an auditorium which will seat 300 persons.

Tom Willis, director of the institute, has worked many hours on obtaining the funds needed for the project, as have many other public officials.

The Regional Development Institute was established with little more than a dream. Now it is working on 110 economic development projects and serves 32 counties including 200 towns.

"I feel it (the building) will be an asset, not only to Greenville, but to the whole area, in that it will give us more adequate working facilities and make us more accessible to the public," Willis said.

The construction is expected to get underway in about six months and about 15 months will be required to build it.

The realization of this building is an example of cooperation among various levels of government to provide a facility which can uplift our area.

It is being constructed with state and federal funds, but we should also remember that its site was once the location of some of the city's worst slums. Through urban renewal, the city cleared the area and rebuilt the streets and other facilities. Then this portion of available land was sold to the state for use by ECU. This will be the first building on the Shore Drive property in the area between First and Fifth and east of Reade.

Patience and cooperation has paid off in the realization of a dream — the construction of the East Carolina Regional Development Institute building.

Majority Rule At Convention

By BRYAN HAISLIP

RALEIGH — A noisy throng of North Carolina Democrats, ready to fight about practically anything but the will to win against the Republicans, put on a rousing state convention in Raleigh this week.

Vitality and divergence kept it an open, exciting show. Whether the outcome a two-thirds majority vote, provoked acrimonious cries from the Alabama governor's partisans. Over the echoes of the adjournment gavel, they yelled that the party would suffer for it in the fall.

Discordant Finale

That discordant finale contrasted with the cordial response delegates gave to unity pleas voiced by Gov. Bob Scott and Hargrove (Skipper) Bowles, nominee for governor, at the start.

Sixth District Congressman Richardson Preyer struck the keynote on a theme of harmony. He said the party can accommodate followers of both Wallace and Sen. George McGovern whatever happens in Miami.

bodes good or ill for the party remained to be debated at the close.

Optimists in the ranks said the new involvement of women, youth and blacks would give vigor to the fall campaign. Some were left dubious about the shift of power among party elements, and deplored the absence of stalwarts from the past.

All eyes were fixed towards Miami and the Democratic National Convention next month when a presidential nominee will be chosen. The name at the top of the ticket, many delegates agreed, will have more bearing on how Democrats fare against the GOP in the fall than anything done or undone at the state convention.

"Diversity is the strength of our party," proclaimed State Chairman John T. Church at the start of the biennial conclave. "When we truly speak with the voice of the people, the majority will listen."

Delegates Spoke Freely

The delegates spoke, sometimes in a confusing chorus that kept Convention Chairman Charles Winberry sweating and swinging his claw-hammer gavel. And the majority finally heeded decisions ground out through the party machinery in precinct, county and congressional district meetings.

In a steamy, seven-hour stretch inside Dorton Arena, the 2,500 or so delegates adopted a platform with a liberal slant not much changed from the document written by the platform committee after deliberation and public hearings.

They elected a slate of at-large delegates to the national convention put together by the delegate selection committee virtually shutting out George Wallace supporters.

Demos Losing Jews' Support

By ROWLANE EVANS and ROBERT NOVAK

WASHINGTON — In a politically volatile shift, the Religious Zionists of America spurned the Democrats and sought out Vice President Spiro Agnew as speaker for its annual dinner at New York's Waldorf-Astoria Hotel last Thursday.

Even by itself, that seemingly insignificant symptom of growing political ties between the American-Jewish community and President Nixon carries large portents for the 1972 election.

When viewed against other, unpublicized alliances now being formed between traditionally Democratic Jewish leaders and Mrs. Nixon, the invitation to Agnew—the Republican symbol of law and order—hints at a massive pro-Nixon swing among Jewish voters.

It is inconceivable that his shift would occur without the blessing of the Israeli government. Indeed, blunt-spoken old soldier Yitzhak Rabin, Israel's highly competent ambassador here, is being accused of giving aid and comfort to President Nixon's reelection campaign.

The unpublicized alliances start with a confidential letter to the President from Dr. William A. Wexler, of Savannah, Ga., the former head of B'nai B'rith, and present chairman of the politically powerful World Conference of Jewish Organizations.

Wexler's private message: Mrs. Nixon will have Wexler's vote and help this fall. He has seen a good deal of Mr. Nixon in the past three years, particularly in connection with Israel's successful battle over U.S. policy in the Middle East with Secretary of State William P. Rogers (who is loathed by many American Jews for his abortive demand that Israel withdraw from occupied Arab land).

That battle by Wexler was won when Mr. Nixon finally approved long-term supplies of U.S. Phantom aircraft for Israel, ending Rogers' courageous pressure campaign for Israeli withdrawal from the Sinai peninsula.

Personal letters of support from traditional pro-Democratic Jewish leaders have also gone to the President from Sam Rotherberg, of Peoria, Ill., a long-time Democratic backer and sparkplug in the multi-million dollar annual Israel bonds drive in the U.S., and Louis Boyar of Los Angeles, another Israel bonds leader who spends much of his time in Israel.

Boyar has been a fundraiser for Sen. Hubert Humphrey. His commitment to back Mr. Nixon is conditional on the nomination of Sen. George McGovern, whose foreign and military policies are one source of the American-Jewish community's serious flirtation with Mr. Nixon.

Thus, McGovern's call for a major unilateral pullout of American troops from Europe and a cut in the military budget of some $32 billion over the next three years are perceived by Jews as potentially dangerous to the future security of Israel. So is his pledge of total withdrawal from Vietnam within 90 days of his election.

But the concern in the Jewish community goes well beyond McGovern's foreign policy. Equally important to such non-rich Jewish groups as the Religious Zionists of America—militant orthodox Jews called Mizrahi—is liberal Democratic ideology on such inflammatory issues as school busing and "scatter housing" for poor blacks in such suburban areas as Forest Hills, N.Y.

Low-income Jews, like the proprietors of black ghetto mom-and-pop shops, have been on a political collision course with liberal Democrats—including many Jewish middle-class youths and intellectuals—ever since the civil rights revolution started. No political event proves this Jewish disenchantment with the Democratic party so well as the surprising invitation to Agnew by the Religious Zionists last week.

With or without McGovern as their Presidential nominee, shrewd Democrats

The White Flag Fiasco

WASHINGTON—Secretary of Defense Melvin Laird has suggested that if Sen. McGovern's defense budget of $55 billion is ever adopted, we might as well throw in the towel and spend a billion dollars for white flags which we will hoist all over the world.

On the basis of past performance of our defense contractors, $1 billion for white flags is a wholly unrealistic figure, and Laird knows it.

This is what might happen if the Defense Department let it be known that it was planning to contract for white flags to fly around the globe: Washington, D.C., April 30, 1973—The chairman of the House Armed Services Committee announced today that the Lockheed Flag Co.

has been given a $1 billion contract to produce 500 white flags for the Defense Department. The chairman denied the fact that Lockheed Flag was located in his district of Swampville, La., had anything to do with the company's winning the order.

Swampville, La., July 14, 1973—The president of the Lockheed Flag Co. displayed a prototype of the WF1 (White Flag One) for the

Other Editors Say Playing Politics

(Durham Herald)

Social Security has no link with welfare. It is a paying system under which employees and employers contribute through specific taxes for benefits for workers in their retirement years, while welfare is solely a public expense.

The two should be kept separate. But once again, regrettably, they are lumped together in Social Security benefit increase-welfare reform legislation being considered by Congress.

By itself the matter of Social Security benefit increases could be expected to win easy and early approval. With controversial welfare proposals tied in the package it is a different story, however.

Whether the increase granted is the 10 per cent voted by the Senate Finance Committee, the 20 per cent that has substantial support in Congress, or whatever the figure that finally is approved, Social Security recipients ought not to be penalized by the delay resulting from the link with welfare legislation.

The increase that is approved is expected to be made retroactive, to be sure.

But that is no excuse for delaying from June until August or September, or November, a matter of major importance to the millions who depend upon Social Security benefits for support.

A retroactive increase is a poor substitute for an increase in hand at an early date. It ignores pressing needs of the present in the struggle against inflationary pressures.

And not to be overlooked is the fact that some Social Security beneficiaries will not live long enough to receive retroactive benefits.

Congress again is playing politics with Social Security by including the highly controversial welfare legislation in the package.

Such action reflects disregard for the best interest and the daily needs of the millions of Americans who depend heavily upon Social Security payments for their livelihood.

Social Security benefit increases should not be used as a vehicle to pull controversial welfare programs through Congress.

The two packages should not have been put together in the first place.

Congress can still separate them. Such action is regarded as unlikely, unfortunately.

But failure to take such a course will reflect insensitivity by Congress to the present needs of those who have made contributions for their own support.

press this morning. The president said the WF1 would outperform any white flag now flying. It would be an all-weather flag which would fly at night as well as during the day, and could stand gusts of wind up to 100 miles an hour. Lockheed Flag said it hoped to have the WF1 in production in 10 months.

Edwards Air Force Base, Calif., June 15, 1974—The first WF1 was tested here today and Defense Department officials announced they were very pleased with the results. The WF1 flew at an altitude of 23 feet for three hours. Although it showed some fabric fatigue under stress, Lockheed Flag engineers said the damage was minimal, and easily could be repaired.

Swampville, La., Sept. 2, 1974—The president of Lockheed Flag announced today that due to increased labor costs, fabric fatigue and hikes in flagpole ropes, his company would not be able to fulfill its WF1 contract for $1 billion. He said he was asking for a supplementary $800 million, which was still a bargain for the country.

Washington, D.C., Dec. 15, 1974—The chairman of the House Armed Services Committee said he was recommending the $800

AMA's Fresh Look

By BILL STOCKTON
AP Science Writer
SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — At the height of debate this week on a touchy issue before the American Medical Association, a silver-haired delegate stepped to a microphone and thundered: "If this matter is deferred, someone else is going to take the ball and run with it and we'll be left out in the cold."

There's an air of change these days about the House of Medicine. The 241-member AMA House of Delegates frequently was admonished during four days of deliberations this week to change medicine or someone else would do it.

Organized medicine's most powerful body made some efforts to respond.

Delegates approved sweeping changes in the control of graduate medical education, for the first time giving hospital officials and the public a say in how interns and medical specialists are trained.

The delegates voted major constitutional and by-law changes which gave medical students a seat in the House of Delegates and new membership status in the AMA.

After giving interns and residents (doctors training to be specialists) a seat in the powerful House last year, the delegates this week approved in principle opening membership on the AMA's powerful inner councils and committees to the young physicians.

And, after long debate, they voted to support making possession of "insignificant" amounts of marijuana only a misdemeanor, although the House condemned production, sale or use of the drug.

But despite the changes, the AMA to many doctors remains a citadel of medical conservatism.

The delegates, for example

The first barn of tobacco cured in this county was reported today from the farm of E. O. Smith of the Clay Root section. Mr. Smith housed his tobacco last Friday and completed curing the single barn Wednesday.

A Martin County man was held under bond today for his appearance in county court next Tuesday to face a charge of violation of the prohibition law. The charge grew out of the confiscation of an automobile containing 32 gallons of whiskey on Cotanche Street last Wednesday night by members of the police department.

Strength For Today

COMMUNISM ALWAYS FAILS

We read in the Book of Acts (2:44-45) that in the beginning the Christian believers held all things common, "and sold their possessions and goods and parted them to all men, as every man had need."

Many call this communism and insist that the first thing the Holy Spirit led the believers to do was to form a communistic society. The answer to that is that even if this was a communal dorm of society it was, in the first place, voluntary and in the second place, nonpolitical, and accordingly it was as different from Russian communism today as heaven is different from hell. But there are two other things also which need to be said.

The first is that this communism soon failed. It engendered murmuring and discontent. It was one of the few great failures in the early Christian movement.

The second thing to be said is that we would always remember that those early disciples believed Jesus would return in a few weeks, or at most in a few years. Under the power of such a belief all earthly possessions lose their value. It was a belief in the speedy Second Coming of our Lord which caused the early Christian believers to go all out for a communal ownership of goods.

It may be that this failure was divinely ordained in order to warn people that communal schemes such as this do not work even among the most devoted Christian believers and so could not be expected to work in the world at large.

Food Prices An Emotional Issue

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — At a most inopportune time for Republicans, the wholesale price of food is rising. That means storm flags probably will be flying over retail outlets at election time.

It isn't only the time element that makes this issue of food prices a politically potent one. The emotional factor is incalculably deep: It involves health and the nourishment of one's family and it involves life itself.

There is still another ingredient that agitates the mixture: Food is bought daily or weekly. So the impact of rising prices, of the menace to life and security, is multiplied.

Motivational psychologists find that the reaction to a 2-cent increase in the price of a food product is sometimes as great as a $50 increase in the price of a durable product which might be purchased three times in a life.

Families that pride themselves on saving a few cents here and there by driving from one market to another to save on specials somehow feel that the 13 cents a mile it costs them is money well spent.

And women who rebel at a penny markup on a 46-ounce can of tomato juice will be thrilled to spend $10 for one ounce of a beauty product whose powers never have been proved and which costs less than the jar that contains it.

American families now spend less of their income for food than any other people on earth—less than 20 per cent. And the percentage is steadily falling, thanks more to rising incomes perhaps than to food industry efficiency.

The percentage can be misleading, however, especially when applied to poor families and to those on fixed incomes. For such people the percentage is much higher and steadily rising because of the inability to obtain higher income.

Still, in every income class Americans are showing a decided preference for the more expensive foods. We eat less starch, more protein than in years gone by. Many families of two adults and two teenagers devour more than 800 pounds of meat a year.

Not all this meat is in the raw state either, as it was 50 years ago when a comparable family probably ate less than two-thirds that amount. Now it often is processed and packaged and presented frozen as a gourmet meal.

In summary, Americans like to eat, most of them are afforded the opportunities to eat well, and a growing percentage—notwithstanding their price complaints—thoroughly indulge themselves. They are spending more for food because they choose to.

On the other hand, there is a minority on fixed or low incomes whose eating standards must be lowered as prices rise. The poorer you are the greater the percentage of income that must go for food.

In all ways, therefore, food pricing is an emotional issue and consumers are inclined to lash out at those they feel are responsible for increases. In the past they vented their ire on the grocer, but they might not do so again.

For one thing, having been attacked so often in the past five years, food retailers have been busily promoting their side of the story. It is fairly well known now that some big chains make only 1.5 cents on each $1 of sales.

That leaves the polls as a logical, timely outlet for feelings.

perceive this Jewish love affair with President Nixon as ominously portentous.

A fairly close election in California (1 million Jewish citizens) or New York (2½ million Jews) could well be decided by a switch of Jewish voters, who vote more heavily than any other ethnic group. In 1968, the President got a mere 18 per cent of the Jewish vote in New York, but he would have carried the state against Humphrey with a switch of only 185,000 votes, a swing by no means improbable if the Jewish vote splits closer to 50-50 on Nov. 7.

No one is more aware of McGovern's vulnerability with the Jewish vote than George McGovern. Whether he can stop the drain is highly questionable for reasons to be examined in a subsequent column.

million overrun for the WF1 as the security of the nation was at stake. He also said he was adding $100 million extra for Christmas bonuses for Lockheed Flag executives.

Anchorage, Alaska, March 8, 1975—Two WF1s crashed to the ground yesterday and Pentagon investigators suspect the wooden flagpoles used to fly the white flags were at fault. Termites were found in both flagpoles, and the Defense Department has grounded all WF1s until a new aluminum flagpole could be designed.

Swampville, La., May 11, 1975—The president of the Lockheed Flag Co. said he would need another $1 billion to replace the flagpoles in the WF1. He said it was the Defense Department's insistence on wooden flagpoles that caused the overrun, and he would need the money immediately if the white flags were to be delivered on schedule.

Washington, D.C., May 12, 1975—Sen. William Proxmire called the WF1 the biggest Defense Department bungle of the year and suggested the contract be canceled.

Testifying in front of Proxmire's committee, the president of Lockheed Flag said that if he doesn't get $1 billion immediately, his company would go bankrupt and not only would this create a hardship for its stockholders but it would put 35 people out of work.

Washington, D.C., Sept. 11, 1975—Congress, at the urging of the White House, voted today to give the Lockheed Flag Co. $1 billion to complete work on the WF1 and also lend it another $1 billion to develop a new multiwhite flag project which could fly six white flags from the same flagpole at the same time.

Swampville, La., Nov. 9, 1975—The President of Lockheed Flag Co. announced today that because of a strike he was asking the Defense Department for another.....

The bidding:
North 1 ♠ 3 ♠ 3 NT Pass
East Pass Pass

Opening lead: Three of ♠

When East made a preemptive jump overcall of three spades after North opened the bidding with one club, it posed quite a problem for South. If the vulnerability conditions were not in his opponents' favor, South might have been tempted to double and extract whatever penalty was available on the deal. With a strong club fit, he was reluctant to settle for a smaller profit and he bid three no trump. As it develops, East can be set a mere 100 points if permitted to play three spades doubled.

West opened the three of spades against three no trump. East played the queen and South won the trick with the ace. A diamond was led to the king and then the club suit was run. East discarded three spades and one heart, while West gave up two hearts.

On the last club declarer stuffed a diamond.

The ace of diamonds was cashed, on which West alertly dropped the queen. A third diamond was led in the hope that West would go in with the jack and then be forced to lead up to South's king of hearts. East produced the jack of diamonds, however, and, after cashing the king of spades, he switched to a heart and West took the last three tricks in that suit—leaving declarer one short.

South did not require West to hold both the queen and jack of diamonds. The queen was sufficient for the former's purposes, provided that he timed his play properly. After the diamond has been led to North's king at trick two, the closed hand should be entered with a club to play another diamond. If West puts up the queen, he is allowed to hold the trick. When East's jack drops under the ace on the next round, South's long diamond becomes established for his ninth trick.

If West plays low again on the second diamond the ace is played from dummy. South switches back to clubs, but only for two more rounds—till West is exhausted of that suit. Now comes the third diamond and West is in with the queen and has only hearts left in his hand. He must not only surrender a ninth trick to declarer's king of hearts but the latter obtains a tenner in the form of the long diamond which has become established.

ple, readily adopted a report critical of an amendment to the Social Security Act, now before Congress, that would permit professional standards review organizations to oversee doctors' medical practices and fees.

The AMA argues that only doctors should judge how doctors handle medical problems.

A movement to put the AMA on record as recognizing the public's right to participate in setting medical fees in federally financed health care programs was deferred for further study.

Likewise, the delegates skirted the touchy issue of doctors' unions.

And the doctors adopted a strong resolution attacking the practice by some medical insurance companies of setting "prevailing" fees that they will pay on claims. The resolution made it "unequivocally clear" that such prevailing fees should be established only after consultation with "duly constituted representatives of organized medicine."

Almost half of the nation's doctors don't belong to the AMA, and many critics say that only when its tradition-bound ruling cliques are ended will the AMA become truly responsive to the needs of medicine.

FORECAST FOR SATURDAY, JUNE 24, 1972

CARROLL RIGHTER'S HOROSCOPE

from the Carroll Righter Institute

GENERAL TENDENCIES: You may well be depressed in day hours about some vague longings or fears, but if you will cultivate an attitude of cheerfulness and goodwill, you will be surprised how it lifts. Then in the evening you have every chance to gain the goodwill of others and to do something unusual, interesting.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) You need to ferret out more information if you are to get that idea working properly, so do just that during day. Make plans for that trip now, even if mate seems adamant. It is important.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) You may be worried about certain vexing problems you have. Do not irk others with them, but handle them objectively and well. One you like could be annoying during day, but delightful tonight. Keep busy.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Try to please a partner who thinks straight, but is blunt. Then get together for amusements in p.m. That outside affair could be disappointing in a.m., but fine tonight. Think cleverly.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Handle those duties that only you can do well during day and free time for whatever you most like to do in p.m. Get that wardrobe matter handled well. Show you have good taste.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Show others you are a good-natured person and know how to overcome any difficulties you may have. Your creative ideas may not be so good during day, but are fine tonight. Mate is in excellent mood tonight, too.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Showing consideration for those who dwell with you can make this a happy Saturday, especially if you do some entertaining at home in p.m. Get rid of whatever stands in the way of success. Think constructively.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Although a bit difficult to do, you had better get busy with shopping and errands that are important during day. You are not able to communicate well with others until p.m., but will then have a delightful time.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) You may feel lack seriously during day, but if you think along constructive lines, you know just what to do by p.m. to change all that. Analyze your position accurately. Then pay whatever bills you can.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Improve your health and appearance early so you can have a delightful time socially in the p.m. A tendency to downgrade a good friend early should be forgotten. You find later that you were in error.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) You are apt to be analyzing yourself too harshly today, but by tonight you see everything in right focus. Get busy utilizing that fine organizational ability you possess. Feel more sure of yourself.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) You know exactly how to gain the goals you are after now, but don't rely on friends so much, since they are too busy. Work hard and then be off to recreations that you enjoy in the p.m. Dress well.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) If you get into the civic work at which you are adept, you can do much to add to prestige you now enjoy. Bigwigs you want to contact are not available until p.m. Make sure you do see them then, though.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be one of those outspoken and direct persons who would do well to associate with individuals of like nature. Must be taught early to criticize only constructively, or this youngster could make enemies through harsh speaking. Slant education for work in other lands, dealing with imports, exports, etc., and be sure that the study of foreign tongues is included in the curricula.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

No-Fault Plan 'A Better Way'

MYRTLE BEACH, S.C. (AP) — Massachusetts Insurance Commissioner John Ryan says his state has "dramatic proof" that no-fault automobile liability insurance "is the better way that had been predicted."

He and Thomas F. Lambert Jr., editor and chief of the American Trial Lawyers Association, debated the merits of no-fault insurance Thursday at the annual meeting of the North Carolina Bar Association.

Also present were members of the Governor's Automobile Insurance Study Commission and members of the Independent Insurance Agent's Auto Reparations Action Committee.

Massachusetts has had no-fault insurance for more than a year. Ryan said drivers in Massachusetts paid some $76 million less for auto insurance in 1970 than they would have paid without no-fault insurance.

However, he admitted that claims and amounts paid by companies also had declined. He said he was concerned about the reduced number of claims because "they should have increased, not decreased."

Lambert suggested that the no-fault concept will benefit the companies more than the public. He asked, "If not, why are insurance companies mobilizing behind the no-fault concept?"

The Boston attorney said the Massachusetts no-fault plan is just a sample of "what's waiting in the wing."

He said more drastic plans are under way on the national level "that would prevent anyone from bringing suit against anyone else no matter how serious the injury or how great the loss."

Lambert questioned the reduction in insurance cost in Massachusetts as an accurate picture of what is happening in that state.

He said, "To buy the insurance protection that will protect the motorists against all his losses, options have to be added. When you start adding on options, you knock out the savings."

Being Held For Break-In

A Norfolk, Va. man has been arrested by the Pitt County Sheriff's Department in connection with an Aug. 30, 1971 break-in at a store at Belvoir.

According to Pitt deputy Dalton Respass, the arrest of William Samuel Fulford, 20 of 5821 Townley Avenue, yesterday followed his extradition from Norfolk where he had been held by Virginia authorities since March.

Respass said that Fulford was charged here with the breaking, entering and larceny of Belvoir General Merchandise Store where some $702.64 in merchandise was reported stolen.

Fulford, the deputy reported, is being held under $5,000 bond in Pitt County Jail and a hearing has been scheduled for July 17 in District Court here.

Greenville Crushes Tarboro By 17-2

Greenville's American Legion Baseball team rolled to a 17-2 victory over Tarboro last night in an Area II contest.

The victory brought the Greenville conference record to 6-1, leaving five games to be played.

Greenville did most of the damage in the third inning when they erupted from a 1-1 tie to score nine runs and take an unbeatable 10-1 lead.

Mike Weaver tossed a one-hitter at Tarboro, giving up the lone hit in the fourth inning. Even then, the ball didn't get out of the infield. Tarboro failed to get one ball out of the infield all evening.

Weaver fanned 15 and walked six in going the distance.

Tarboro actually pushed into the lead in the first inning with an unearned run. Joe Brewer walked and was safe at second on an error on William Parker's grounder to short. Ronnie Crisp hit into another fielder's choice, this one getting Parker at second. But another error on the play, on the relay to get Brewer allowed him to score for a 1-0 lead.

Greenville got off a threat in the first, but it was the second before they finally tied it up, 1-1. That came on a bases-empty homer by Phil Blount.

In the third, however, Greenville went to work, pushing over nine runs to put it out of reach. Robert Brinkley got it started with a single to right. Bill Lee reached on an error and Stanley Cobb singled. Dale Manning singled to center, scoring both Brinkley and Lee.

Blount followed with another hit, bringing in Cobb and Manning. Johnny Barwick was hit by a pitch and Duncan Charlton got an infield hit, loading the bases.

Randy McKinney singled in Blount and Weaver singled to score both Barwick and Charlton. McKinney reached third on an error and Brinkley brought him home with a sacrifice fly. A wild pitch then scored Weaver with the 10th run for Greenville.

Tarboro got its only other run in the fourth. Stan Letchworth got an infield hit and stole second and third. Brewer walked and the two worked a double steal, scoring Letchworth. Greenville got another run in the fourth. Blount walked and took second on a passed ball. McKinney doubled, driving him in for an 11-2 lead.

Two more came over in the fifth. Brinkley walked as did Lee. They moved up on a passed ball and Cobb hit a sacrifice fly to score Brinkley. Manning walked, and Blount singled to score Lee with the 13th Greenville run.

Three more came over in the sixth. Weaver singled and moved to third on two wild pitches. Lee walked and another wild pitch scored Weaver and moved Lee up. He stole third and Cobb walked. Locke Conrad then singled in Lee, and a hit by Blount brought in Cobb.

The final run came over in the eighth. Brinkley singled and took second on a wild pitch. Lee reached on a bunt single and Conrad singled to drive in Brinkley.

Greenville travels to Wilson Saturday night to meet the only team in the area to have beaten them so far. Game time is 8 p.m.

Little Mint Captures 7th; Big Value Wins

The Little Mint and Big Value Discount came out on top in a doubleheader played in the Senior Babe Ruth League last night at Guy Smith Stadium.

The Little Mint downed Taff Office Equipment, 8-4, and Big Value took a 9-3 victory over Moore-King-Sullivan. The win left Little Mint with a 7-0 record, while Taff is now 7-3. Big Value is 3-3 and M-K-S is 3-6.

In the opening game, M-K-S took the lead with a run in the first inning. Steve Fuchs reached on an error and moved up on a passed ball. He scored when Grimes singled and moved up on an error.

Big Value came up with the tying run in the top of the second. Finklea singled and moved up on an out. He took third on a passed ball and scored on Lewis' single.

In the third, Big Value moved into the lead with two more runs. Horn singled and Dwyer got a hit. Both advanced on an out and Joyner singled in Horn. Finklea followed with another hit, scoring Dwyer for a 3-1 lead.

In the top of the fifth, Big Value came up with another to lead 4-2. Finklea reached on an error and Lewis walked. Fuquay reached on a fielder's choice, scoring Finklea.

Moore-King-Sullivan came back with a run in the fifth. Ronnie Perry doubled and Herb Wilkerson singled. Perry then scored on an error.

In the sixth, Big Value pushed over five more. Dwyer reached on an error and stole second. Joyner was hit by a pitch and Finklea slammed a three-run homer. Daniels reached on an error and Lewis singled. Fuquay walked to load the bases and Cobb singled in both Daniels and Lewis, making it 9-2.

The final M-K-S run came in the seventh. Wilkerson singled and Perry got a hit. Rick Boles reached on a fielder's choice and Grimes hit a sacrifice fly to score Wilkerson from third.

Wilkerson led the M-K-S hitting with three, while Finklea and Lewis each had two for Big Value.

In the second game, Little Mint pushed over five runs in the first to get all they needed. John Willis singled and Tom Craft got a hit. Sim Herring singled, scoring Willis and James Willis got a hit to score Craft. Greg Nelson reached on an error, bringing in Herring and Dalton Williams singled to score Willis and Nelson with the final runs of the inning.

Little Mint got another run in the second. Doug Phillips singled and stole second. He scored on Craft's hit.

In the fourth, Taff came up with its first run. Donald Cannon reached on an error and moved up when Willie Streeter also was safe on an error. Cannon came around to score on the third miscue of the inning.

In the fifth, Taff got another run. Jack Jones did it all with a homer.

Little Mint came back with two in the fifth. John Willis reached on an error and scored when Craft doubled. He moved up on an out and scored on James Willis' ground out.

The final runs of the game came in the seventh. Taff got Cleve Averett on with a single and Jones walked. Singles by Cannon and Streeter brought them around.

Craft led the Little Mint hitting with three. No one else had more than one.

Grace Holds Half-Game Lead

Grace Free Will Baptist managed to hold onto its half-game lead in the National Division of the Church Softball League with a forfeit win over Maranatha last night. Second place Immanuel downed Mt. Pleasant, 6-1, and Trinity surprised Oakmont, 8-7, in the other games.

Grace is now 10-2, in the league while Immanuel is 9-2. Mt. Pleasant has a 5-7 mark, while Oakmont is 8-4. Trinity is 5-5 and Maranatha is 0-11.

Immanuel pushed ahead with a run in the first inning, then got what proved to be the winning run in the third. D. Evans tripled and scored when C. Camy singled, making it 2-0.

Immanuel added three in the fourth and one more in the seventh. Mt. Pleasant's lone run came over in the sixth inning.

In the other game, Oakmont pushed ahead with a run in the first, then added two in the second. Trinity came back with two in the bottom of the second, then pushed ahead with two more in the third. They added another in the fourth for a 5-3 lead. Oakmont rallied to score four in the fifth and regain the lead, 7-5.

In the bottom of the sixth, however, L. Johnston led off with a single for Trinity and with one down, S. Cayton got a hit. S. Worthington tripled to drive in both runs and tie it up. K. Manning then singled in Worthington with the winning run.

Crown Nearing For Little Mint

The Little Mint crept within two games of clinching the Ladies Softball League title with its 12th straight victory last night. They downed Coca-Cola, 18-2.

The only team with a chance to catch them is Beltone, a 15-8 winner over Piggly-Wiggly last night. Any combination of two Little Mint wins or Belton losses would sew it up. In the other games, Three Steers rolled to a 23-11 victory over Azalea Mobile Homes.

In the first game, Piggly-Wiggly took the lead with a run in the first. Belton came back with four in the second, and then scored three in the third for a 7-1 lead. P-W came right back with seven in the bottom of the third to gain an 8-7 lead. Belton tied it up with one in the fourth, then charged ahead again in the fifth.

Peggy Morris led off the fifth with a single and Julius Gurganus reached on a fielder's choice. Georgia Potter singled in both runs and Debra Pfeil singled. Cynthia Averett reached on an error, scoring Potter for an 11-8 lead.

Belton added two in the sixth and two more in the seventh to finish it off.

In the second game, Little Mint got all it needed in the first inning, scoring five. Bobbie Jones singled and Carol Manuel got a hit. Linda Tripp doubled and Pat Kilpatrick got a hit. Sandra Kelly tripled and scored on Darlene Briley's single with the fifth run.

Little Mint then added four in the second, three in the fourth and six in the sixth for their 18-run total. Coke got two in the bottom of the first.

Three Steers took the lead in the final game in the first, scoring five runs. Azalea came back with three in the top of the second, but Three Steers got one for a 6-3 lead. In the third, Azalea pushed ahead with six runs, taking a 9-6 lead.

But in the bottom of the third, Three Steers came up with six more runs to take the lead for good. Tink Grenwald singled and Cissie Owens got a hit. Jackie Erhman singled and Judy Dunn got a hit. Hettie Tolson singled and Beth Harrington doubled. Sandy Hardee reached on an error, scoring Harrington with the final run.

From the 12-11 lead, Three Steers added six in the fourth and five in the fifth to wrap it up. Azalea added two in the fifth inning.

R.C., Coke In N.S. Victories

R. C. Cola kept its slim chances in the North State League alive with a 6-5 victory over leader The Optimists yesterday. In the other game, second place Coca-Cola took a 2-0 win over the Kiwanis.

The Optimists are now 9-3, while Coke is 7-4, and R. C. is 6-6. The Kiwanis are 3-8.

In the opener, Coke pushed over both of its runs in the first inning. Gary Chapman singled and Ronnie Chapman got a hit. Jerome Ross was hit by a pitch, loading the bases. Joe Downing then walked and David Johnson did too, forcing in both Chapman with the only two runs of the game.

Winning pitcher Ross, allowed only two hits by the Kiwanis as he tossed the shutout. That was a first inning single by Greg James.

Gary Chapman had two hits to pace Coke.

In the second game, the Optimists pushed ahead with a run in the first. That came on a solo homer by Gary Allen.

R. C. came back in the third, scoring four runs to take the lead. Reggie Selby doubled and Leon Hardee walked. Bill Tugwell doubled to drive in Selby and Doug Selby reached on an error, scoring Hardee. Bryant Morton walked and a single by Jay Wood brought in Tugwell and Selby.

In the fourth, the Optimists came up with a pair of runs to cut it to 4-3. Jeff Aldridge singled and Greg Lee was walked. A passed ball moved both us, and James Shoe singled to score Aldridge. An error let Lee come over.

In the fifth, the Optimists got two more to push back ahead, 5-4. Allen reached on a fielder's choice, as did Aldridge. Lee singled in Allen, and Bubba Rowlette got a hit to score Aldridge.

R. C. came back in the bottom of the inning, however, to score twice and take the victory. Tugwell walked and Doug Selby did the trick, hitting a two-run homer to finish off the scoring.

Eric McCormick led the Optimist hitting with two, while Ricky Bolonde had two for R. C.

Houston Pulls Back Into Lead

By BILL WINTER
Associated Press Sports Writer
CINCINNATI (AP) — The Houston Astros don't need reminders about the last time they faced the Cincinnati Reds.

It was late May in Houston, and the Reds stormed to four straight wins by the unkind margins of 8-3, 9-5, 12-4 and 10-3.

Thursday night the Astros returned the favor.

They struck for six runs in the third inning, three on a home run by Doug Rader, and rolled to a 9-5 victory over the Reds.

The win moved Houston back into first place in the National League West, one-half game ahead of Cincinnati.

In the only other major league game played Thursday, Chicago trimmed Milwaukee 5-2 to climb within 3½ games of first place Oakland in the American League West Division.

St. Louis' National League contest at New York was rained out, as was the New York Yankees American League game at Cleveland.

"That other series (in Houston) is history now," professed Houston manager Harry Walker. "The last time we just happened to catch them when they were hot as a firecracker."

Which is exactly what the Astros were Thursday night. Houston scored two runs in the first, but the Reds went ahead with a single run in the bottom half and a pair in the second inning.

Sikes, Jamieson Take Western's First Lead

By JERRY LISKA
Associated Press Sports Writer
NORTHBROOK, Ill. (AP) — R.H. Sikes, exploiting a pair of ancient clubs donated by old Dutch Harrison, and Jim Jamieson, still a tour non-winner led the free-for-all $150,000 Western Open Golf Tournament into the second round today.

Sikes, whose last triumph was in the 1966 Cleveland Open, and Jamieson, at the peak of a modest five-season pro career, conquered a chilling north wind gusting up to 30 miles per hour for three-under-par 68s at the Sunset Ridge Country Club Thursday.

Defending champion Bruce Crampton, five strokes off the pace with 73 in the comparatively starless chase for the $30,000 top prize, conceded that "the fellows who shot under 70 did a super job."

That included only three other entries—Steve Opperman, Hale Irwin and Tom Weiskopf—all deadlocked at 69.

A quartet of 70 shooters over the par-71, 6,716-yard Sunset Ridge layout included Charles Coody, Jim Wiechers, Dave Graham and Bob Barbarossa. Doug Sanders, J.C. Snead and Lee Elder were among seven grouped at even par 71.

Sikes, breaking out doldrums that won him "only a couple of thousand dollars" this year, came up with a 35-33 round with the best putting of a pro career that started after his back-to-back triumphs in the National Public Links meets of 1961 and 1962.

"I visited Dutch Harrison at St. Louis last week and he helped me tremendously, especially with my driving," said Sikes. "He gave me one of his putters and a driver, both about 25 years old, and this is what happened."

Sikes played the entire first nine without a par, carding four birdies, three bogeys and a double bogey. But, starting with the seventh hole, he tapped in two 20-foot putts and one of 15 for birdies. Then, he started his final nine with birdie putts of 15-feet and one foot, and on the 13th hole, sank a birdie 40-footer.

Jamieson, who captured headlines earlier this year with a surprise challenge in the Masters before finishing fifth, coaxed a 31-37 against the chilling gale.

Jamieson played the back nine first, stumbling for three bogeys, but he recouped by playing the first five holes of the front nine in five under par, including an eagle three on the 507-yard fourth.

Graniteers, Pepsi Take Tar Heel Wins

The two leaders in the Tar Heel Little League, the Graniteers and Pepsi-Cola each picked up victories yesterday. The Graniteers rolled to a 13-2 victory over the Moose, while Pepsi crushed Integon, 19-5.

The wins left both winners with 9-2 records. The Moose are now 4-6, while Integon is 0-11. In the opening game, the Graniteers pushed over three runs in the first inning. Timmy Allen reached on an error and Kevin Haut singled. Chris Moye then slammed a homer to account for all three runs.

In the second, the Graniteers came up with five more runs for an 8-0 lead. Billy Coltrain reached on an error and Wayne Stokes walked. Micah Dixon doubled in Coltrain and a single by Allen brought in Stokes. A pickoff play was errored scoring both Dixon and Allen. Haut singled and Moye got a hit. Both moved up on a passed ball and H. L. Austin sacrificed in Haut with the final run of the frame.

The Moose came back with their only runs in the bottom of the inning. Steve Lawler reached on a two-base error and moved up on an out. He scored when Scott Peele singled. Peele moved around to third when another pickoff play was errored. He scored on Paul Lemmond's infield out.

The Graniteers added two more in the third. Stokes reached on a fielder's choice and was wild pitched to third. Allen also reached on a fielder's choice, and Haut singled in Stokes. Moye got a hit to drive in Allen.

The Graniteers added two more in the fifth to wrap it up. Haut reached on an error and Moye hit his second homer of the game to end the scoring.

Moye led the Graniteer hitting with four, while Haut had three and Coltrain had two. William Brewington had two hits for the Moose.

In the second contest, Pepsi took the lead with five runs in the first. MacDonald Avery walked and stole second. Michael Shank also walked and Steve McClanahan did too, loading them up. Danny Carmon walked as did John Coffman and Timmy Eubanks, forcing in Avery, Shank and McClanahan. A passed ball scored Carmon and a wild pitch brought Coffman over with the fifth run.

Integon got one in the second. Bruce Redgate walked and moved up on a passed ball. Howard Tucker walked and Sandy Abbott reached on a fielder's choice. A walk to Jimmy Miles brought in Redgate.

In the third, Pepsi pushed over three more runs. Coffman singled and Eubanks walked. Stuart Bowman drew another walked and a wild pitch brought Coffman over. Another scored Eubanks and Mark Shank walked. Avery hit into a fielder's choice, scoring Bowman for an 8-1 lead.

Pepsi then broke it open with 10 in the fourth. Michael Shank and McClanahan both walked and Coffman drew a walk, loading them up. Eubanks walked to force in Shank and a passed ball scored McClanahan. Borman walked to reload them and Mark Shank singled to drive in Coffman and Eubanks. Avery singled to reload them and Perry Worthington singled in Borman. Michael Shank doubled, driving in both Mark Shank and Avery. Worthington scored on an error, as did Michael Shank. Carmon singled and Coffman got a hit. A double by Eubanks scored Carmon with the final run.

Pepsi added one more in the sixth, while Integon got four more in the sixth.

Coffman led the Pepsi hitting with two, while no one else had more than one.

Dempsey Will Be 77 On Saturday

By EARL GERHEIM
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — The once jet-black hair has turned gray, his panther-like walk has lost some of its quickness and it has been 53 years since he won the heavyweight championship, but Jack Dempsey is still instantly recognized wherever he goes.

Admirers of all ages gather at the Broadway restaurant which bears his name, hoping for a glimpse of the Manassa Mauler whose two-fisted bob and weave style captivated the sporting world during the Roaring Twenties. Some peer through the windows, craning their necks for a look. Others sit at the bar nursing a drink and cast quick glances at the hulking figure occupying a table near the entrance.

Grasping menus and napkins for him to sign, fans work up the courage to ask for an autograph. Dempsey, a warm, sincere man, is only too willing to shake a hand and say hello.

He celebrates his 77th birthday Saturday and the restaurant is now the biggest part of his life. He spent most of the fortune he earned with his slashing fists, but he still has the memories and an army of fans.

His popularity transcends any generation gap as young and old share a common admiration for the former champion who gave boxing its first million-dollar gate and whose exciting style reflected an era of wild abandon. He still is "The Champ" to people of all backgrounds.

Relaxing in his restaurant, Dempsey talked about himself and boxing.

"Would I do it again?" he asked in response to a question. "Sure. I loved it. Boxing was very good to me.

"I'm sorry to see how things have changed, though. The small clubs have died out and there aren't that many fighters who keep active. A fighter has to have a place to start and a place to finish. Since the small clubs have disappeared it's hard for a boy to get back-ground and experience."

How does the current crop of heavyweights compare to those of 50 years ago?

"Joe Frazier is a good fighter. He can punch and take it but he ought to fight more. Clay (Muhammad Ali) is a good boxer but he's not a fighter. The game today is losing out to basketball, football and baseball. That's where the money is. If the small clubs got going again things probably would improve."

Dempsey's early years in boxing were hard. He rode Colorado freight trains from town to town in search of bouts. When he couldn't land a match, he chopped wood or labored in the mines. Some of his purses were as little as $2.50 but he never lost faith in himself.

Rains Slowing Scharfer Drills

MOUNT POCONO, Pa. (AP) — Mario Andretti, race driver extraordinary, has been commuting 35 miles daily from his home to Pocono International Raceway for a week. On only one day has the effort been worthwhile.

Andretti, the 1969 Indianapolis 500 winner and five times national driving champ, is one of 43 entries in the July 2 Schaefer 500 mile championship race. He rates high among the favorites to win.

He also is a member of Pocono's board of directors. And he is being blamed for the bad weather that has closed the 2.5 mile tri-oval four of the five scheduled practice days and brought about a change in qualifying schedules.

"Believe me, if I could do anything about the weather by standing on my head, I'd be out there standing on my head," Andretti laughed.

The Pocono area was drenched by more than seven inches of rain from the outer fringes of tropical storm Agnes.

The worst of the storm had passed during Thursday night, however, and race officials hoped to get in a full day of practice today.

The track was to open at 8 a.m. and close at 8 p.m., providing the drivers with needed practice time. Some 14 of the drivers had had no time on the course.

Dick King, competition director for the sanctioning United States Auto Club, scheduled an extra four-hour practice for Saturday morning—a day that originally had been scheduled for first qualifying runs to set the 33-car field.

Deacs Are 41 Behind

By HUBERT MIZELL
Associated Press Sports Writer

CAPE CORAL, Fla. (AP) — Texas sophomore Ben Crenshaw is probably the most explosive collegiate golfer since Jack Nicklaus came out of Ohio State in 1961.

But, he's not ready to challenge the Golden Bear.

"Every time I tee it up with Nicklaus and the other great pros," says the 20-year-old from Austin, "I realize I'm not quite in their league just yet."

Ben, however, does pretty well in his own league.

Crenshaw eagled two of the first three holes Thursday and shot a six-under-par 66 in the NCAA Golf Championships as his Texas team rolled to a 14-stroke lead after 36 holes of the major college event.

Crenshaw won last year's NCAA individual title with a record 273 and answers a firm "Yep" when asked if it's possible to capture four straight championships.

"I've got plenty of incentive to win back-to-back, even I have to beat my old buddy," said Crenshaw, slapping Longhorn teammate Tom Kite on the knee.

Kite commanded the NCAA tournament through the first half, shooting rounds of 65-68 for an 11-under-par 133 total on the wind-blown Cape Coral Country Club course. Crenshaw stood at 137.

"The main goal for both Ben and me is to help Texas win a second straight team title," said Kite, a 22-year-old senior from Austin. "That seems well in hand so I'll just have a little battle with Crenshaw. We fight hard between ourselves, but it's a friendly rivalry."

Wake Forest was a pre-tournament favorite but the Deacons barely made the halfway team cut of 602 and were 41 strokes behind Texas. Jim Simons of Wake Forest, the top amateur in the last two U.S. Opens, was well back in the pack at 73-72-145.

12-year-old Nell Newman holds falcon on gloved hand, one of the birds she came to know on bird-watching expedition to Snake River Canyon, Idaho.

Nell's guide and mentor is Morlan Nelson, National Audubon Society wildlife expert—and old friend.

Nell agreed to filming of eagle-watching adventure to help save endangered birds of prey.

Picture above and those below show part of exciting descent to eagles' aerie on sheer rock face.

Aerie can only be reached by dropping down past the overhang—climbers securely held by ropes.

Eagle and the Hawk

"Eagle and the Hawk" is the real life adventure story of a young girl and a wildlife expert who teaches her about eagles and hawks. It's an adventure story which can be shared—and which may have a vital effect on the birds' survival—because it was filmed for a color television special.

The girl is Nell Newman, 12-year-old daughter of Joanne Woodward and Paul Newman. The outdoorsman is a 52-year-old ornithologist, Morlan Nelson, an old friend of the Newman family. They went on an expedition for a few weeks to the rugged Snake River Canyon, Idaho, to observe the habits of eagles and hawks, two of America's most magnificent birds of prey, now endangered species. It's hoped the telling of the birds' plight may help to save them. The expedition was filmed exactly as it happened. Nothing was staged. The result is a General Electric Monogram series special, produced in association with the National Audubon Society.

This Week's PICTURE SHOW—AP Newsfeatures.

Nell and Morlan adopt mountaineering techniques to reach the young eagle alone in the aerie. Its parents are away from the nest, flying.

They finally reach the beautiful young creature, below. Very soon it will fly, for first time, launching itself into air from aerie's dizzying height.

Refuse Seat Social Security Slay Gunman Fl. Group Hike Is Probable In Shootout

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Democratic Convention Rules Committee refused today to seat members from Florida because their delegation was not equally balanced between men and women.

The ruling of chairman James G. O'Hara, sustained by the committee by a vote of 68 to 17, was a victory for the party's new delegate selection process, which is under attack in the federal courts and in other convention committees.

Committee representatives from 13 states were not in compliance with the ruling when the committee opened its meeting Thursday, but negotiations continuing through Thursday night brought all but Florida into line.

Dewey E. Smith, a delegate from Florida, said legal action will be taken by the delegation to try to overturn the committee's action.

The steam went out of the seating fight when Illinois, one of the states originally uncertified, brought its 18-member delegation into conformity early today.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A 20-per-cent across-the-board increase in Social Security benefits appears headed for congressional approval by the end of next week.

Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, chief sponsor of the move in the Senate, reported that he discussed his plan with Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., and received a sympathetic hearing.

Mills' position is important because Church hopes to add the increase as a committee rider on a debt-limit bill and Mills, chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, would have to agree to such an amendment to assure quick approval by the House.

The debt-limit bill has been chosen as the vehicle for the rider because it is an administration measure which President Nixon must sign into law by next Friday.

The Social Security hike first was tacked onto the mammoth Social Security-welfare bill passed by the House last year and approved by the Senate Finance Committee last week.

But lengthy debate on the welfare-reform sections covering families with dependent children probably will delay final action until September.

Democratic leaders are pushing to enact the 20-per-cent boost at once so it can be reflected in the monthly checks of 27 million Social Security recipients before the national elections Nov. 7.

It takes about three months after passage for an increase to show up in the checks.

The House is to act on the debt-limit bill early next week.

Mills is said to have agreed to push it through as early in the week as possible so the Senate will have more time to consider it.

Church claims 64 backers for his 20-per-cent amendment, almost two-thirds of the Senate.

If the amendment is adopted, the bill must go back to the House for action on the Senate change.

Mills originally favored a 5-per-cent Social Security increase, the figure recommended by Nixon, but later changed his mind and announced his support for 20 per cent.

Church's amendment would make the boost retroactive to June 1 this year.

It also would include a cost-of-living increase guaranteeing that, whenever the price index rises 3 per cent or more, Social Security benefits automatically would go up by the same amount.

It was learned that Church and Mills have agreed tentatively that the measure would be financed through increases in the wage base, the amount of annual earnings subject to tax.

Opposes Farm Products Price Control

ELIZABETH CITY, N. C. (AP) — North Carolina Agriculture Commissioner Jim Graham says he is "bitterly opposed" to proposed controls on the price of raw farm products.

Graham said Thursday he has asked the Cost of Living Council for a chance to testify against the controls. He was in Elizabeth City to attend a meeting of the FCX cooperative.

"The American farmer," Graham said, "has for too long taken a beating and any control on the price of raw farm commodities at this time would be too much. The return on investment is lower on agriculture than for any other industry."

He added, "Every input in farm production is at an all-time high. This must be considered when controls on raw agricultural products and are contemplated."

Drowns In Well During Rescue

LEWISVILLE, N.C. (AP) — A Forsyth County man, Joe Carter, 58, of Lewisville, drowned late Thursday night as he was being pulled from a 70-foot well into which he had fallen some three hours earlier.

Carter, a well cleaner, was working in a well in Yadkin County when he plunged some 50 feet into the water.

After several rescue squads and firemen were balked in their rescue efforts, Frank Barnes of Elkin managed to lower a hook and rope to Carter, who secured them to his belt. As he was being raised, the belt broke and he dropped into the water and drowned.

The water was pumped out and his body was retrieved. Some of the rescuers, exhausted by their efforts, required hospital treatment.

STRONGLY OPPOSES NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The American Baptist Ass'n which has more than 700,000 members in over 3,400 churches, said Thursday it strongly opposes any attempt to give federal aid to church schools.

Jailer Dies In Breakout

HAMILTON, Ga. (AP) — Three inmates of the Harris County jail escaped early today after beating a 66-year-old jailer who died a short time later of an apparent heart attack, Sheriff Sam Jones said. One inmate was recaptured.

Jones said the jailer, George Davis, a first cousin of the sheriff, was found dead in the jailyard about 10 minutes after the escape.

Davis' body was taken to Maddox Funeral Home in nearby LaGrange. An autopsy was to be performed to establish the cause of death.

Davis had been jailer for 18 years.

The sheriff identified the escapees as Byron Scott, 22, of New Bern, N. C.; Edom Walker, 21, of Lincoln, Del.; and Willie King Jr., 26, of Manchester.

Jones said King was recaptured a short time after the breakout about a mile north of Hamilton near U. S. 27.

He said state troopers have joined in the search for Scott and Walker.

The sheriff said the three men ripped a toilet from the wall in their cell and crawled out through the resulting hole. He said Davis was checking the cells and came upon the three men, who beat him and took his gun. The three then climbed over the jailyard fence and escaped, Jones said.

Area Kiwanians At Convention

Greenville and Winterville Kiwanis Club were recently represented in Atlantic City at the 57th annual convention of Kiwanis International June 18-21.

Representing the Greenville Kiwanis were Mr. and Mrs. Jim Hudson and Jack Stoughton. From Winterville came Mr. and Mrs. Norman Worthington and Mr. and Mrs. Randolph Harris.

Approximately 16,000 people were on hand for the three and one-half day event. Official business of the convention included the election of a president and president-elect, two vice-presidents, a treasurer, and six trustees for 1972-73. The adoption of amendments to the constitution and the passage of resolutions were also a major part of the convention.

A pistol was recovered. The guns of the officers were being checked to see which one fired the bullet which killed Mackie.

Stewart Invited To Fla. Session

Dr. Donald D. Stewart, Associate Professor in the Department of Sociology and Anthropology at East Carolina University, has been invited to the Institute on Research and Teaching in Gerontology to be held in St. Petersburg, Fla. on August 10-17.

The Institute will be concerned with the problems of aging and the aged in contemporary American society. Experts from the fields of sociology, psychology, social welfare, medicine and allied fields will participate.

Removed From 'Missing' List

HONG KONG AP — Eighty-three persons missing in the landslides last weekend turned up today when the government began distributing emergency relief money.

This reduced the total missing to 69. At least 100 persons died in landslides and floods caused by three days of heavy rains.

Church Outing Slated Sunday

Meadowbrook Church Sunday School is having a picnic this Sunday at the Albemarle Presbyterian Church Camp at Bogue Sound.

Following a short devotional and singing, there will be swimming, boating, fishing, and horseshoe competition. Each family will pack a picnic basket and bring tea.

Everyone will meet at the church at 9:00. Anyone desiring to go, but lacking the transportation, is asked to contact Charles Dudley. There will be no Sunday School or church services at Meadowbrook Sunday.

All members and friends are invited to attend this event.

FEATURED SINGERS
AYDEN — The Calvary Quartet of High Point will be the featured singers for a gospel singing at Community Baptist Church here Saturday at 7:30 p.m.

Pastor Stanley E. Wingard invited the public to attend the service.

SPACESHIPS AND SANDWICHES

“Okay, we’ve landed, now let’s get out and look at this old moon!”

My two small boys are at it again. Today, the old gray stump is a spaceship. Tomorrow it may be a fort or a castle. More practically, at lunchtime it’s a picnic table.

Right now the side yard is my sons’ world. Behind a picket fence, they roam the seas and sky in imagination, the sound of their voices reassuring me of their safety.

It won’t always be this way. Someday, they’ll leave the back yard forever, washbuckling through a world of schools and camps, friends and parties.

How strange it will be—not to guide their every footstep. Where am I to get the courage? Fortunately, I can answer my own question. I have my church, and so do my boys. As a source of great goodness, it will guide them all their days.

With this plan, you CAN build a BIG home on your property, and still not be chained to a "never-ending" mortgage. Here's how...

You see pictured here a man that has a real sensible plan to help you build a big home on your property and still keep your overall costs LOW. This particular picture happens to be MR. ROBERT DEESE, manager of Jim Walter Homes in Greensboro, N.C. But it doesn't really matter where you plan to build, because all Jim Walter managers are pretty much the same. What we mean is simply that every one of our managers was selected because he is friendly... easy to talk to... he "understands". And he has been trained to work with you... to work for you, his customer. He'll help you work out the details of building on your property... what home to choose... its size and how to situate it on your land. And then, the important part... now he'll talk money... what your cost will be and your monthly payments... and how you can reduce your cost... whittle your payments down to a figure you can live with... and still not have a mortgage that will take forever to pay off. He'll show you how you can join right in... actually do some of your own building, not on the outside, but inside where it's easier. You can actually do just about as much of the inside work as you want to... to save money. How much you do is up to you. We'll stop at almost ANY stage of inside completion, then you take over. Whatever you do, no matter how much or how little, will save you money. We'll even add the cost of the materials you'll use to your mortgage.

• OVER 20 low cost HOMES
• BUILT ON YOUR PROPERTY
• INSTANT MORTGAGE FINANCING to qualified property owners

Your new home will undergo a prescribed set of quality inspections to see to it that you get what you pay for. We'll use exceptionally high quality, low maintenance building materials. So, get complete details and costs from your local Jim Walter manager. These details are FREE and we want you to have them. So, write, call, or stop by your LOCAL Jim Walter Display Park today.

Myrtle Walgreen was a true scientist and thus a devoted newspaper reader. Note the surprise gift that she had her son Charles mail to me following her death. Smart people become their own professor and use the newspaper as a practical textbook!

By GEORGE W. CRANE Ph.D., M.D.

Case U-51: Myrtle Walgreen passed away last summer at the age of 92.

Charles Walgreen, Jr. Chairman of the Walgreen Co., asked me to participate in the private funeral at Dixon, Illinois.

For his mother, who had been a faithful member of my Bible Class at the Chicago Temple, was a favorite of Mrs. Crane and me.

But several months later, we received a large cardboard box from Charles.

When Mrs. Crane opened it, we found 5 big scrapbooks, containing the past 5 years of these "Worry Clinic" newspaper cases, clipped from the Dixon TELEGRAPH.

Mrs. Walgreen had told me in previous years that she was maintaining a complete scrapbook.

And she assured me she was going to give it to me at her death.

So her son dutifully fulfilled her wish.

And I was surprised to find that she had clipped this column clear up to her final illness.

Thousands of women (and men, too) also maintain such scrapbooks. Why?

Because I bring university psychology down to terra firma and offer you tested recipes by which to win friends, prevent divorce, etc.

"Dr. Crane," thousands of young adults have protested, "I graduated from college with a major in psychology."

"But those courses were largely 'up in the sky' and thus far removed from my everyday needs."

"They never explained how to win friends by gay repartee, as per your H-E-L-P formula for easy conversation."

"Nor did they even mention your 'Sandwich Method' for giving criticism without engendering ill will.

"They didn't show us how to write 'Salable Copy' nor dominate the sales interview via your 'Reversible Why' strategy."

"And the many sex problems that euphemistically you discuss under the heading of 'Boudoir Cheesecake' were largely ignored."

"So we scrapbook your 'Worry Clinic' as a practical textbook for solving everyday problems."

A survey of dental surgeons in Milwaukee showed that 5 per cent had their secretaries clip this column daily for an office scrapbook on Practical Psychology!

For I mix medical psychiatry with the various university courses in Applied Psychology

The Daily Reflector, Greenville, N.C.—Friday, June 23, 1972—13

When I was Director of the Psychology Laboratory at Northwestern University, I also employed the tachistoscope (quick exposure machine) to derive many new laws of print psychology.

This include the short paragraphs for newspaper columns, as evidenced herein, plus the use of quote marks, Arabic numerals and many other attention-attractors.

Over a period of just one year, I dissect 52 Child Psychology cases, which equal a small book on Child Rearing.

Plus 104 cases on Love and Marriage.

And 52 on Personality Improvement; another 52 on Psychosomatic Medicine, and 53 more on Advertising, Selling, Sermonizing or Public Speaking, etc., making a total of 313 true office cases per year!

After 4 years, you faithful newspaper readers have thus earned a Major in useful, everyday psychology or "Human Relations!"

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 25 cents to cover taping and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.) Copyright 19 2.

Have You Missed Your Daily Reflector?
First Call Your Independent Carrier. If You Are Unable To Reach Him Call The Daily Reflector, 752-6166 Between 6:00 And 6:30 P.M. Weekdays And 8 'Til 9 A.M. On Sundays.

TAKING OFF? HAVE FUN!

WE HOPE you'll have a great time on your vacation. We'd be happy to help make this vacation more enjoyable for you. Here's how:

WE'LL SEND the newspaper to your vacation address while you're away. Just give us your vacation mailing address, and we'll mail every issue to you whether it's for a few weeks or several months.

WE'LL SAVE the newspapers for you, if you've going to be on the go this year. Your newspaperboy will deliver the back copies when you get back. It's fun to catch up on what happened while you were gone.

WE'LL START delivery again when you return if you will let us know the date you plan to get back.

ONE CALL to our Circulation Department can do it all. Why not call us as soon as your vacation plans are set? (BY THE WAY, DON'T FORGET TO PAY YOUR NEWSPAPERBOY BEFORE YOU LEAVE. HE'LL APPRECIATE IT.)
