Two Beaten To Death

FAYETTEVILLE, N.C. (AP) — An elderly woman and her granddaughter were found beaten to death in a bedroom of their Fayetteville home, police reported today.

The victims were identified as Mrs. Ethel Kinlaw, 71, and Becky Parker, 9.

Police said both had been raped and beaten with either a hammer or a hatchet. No weapon was found in the house.

Entry apparently was made through a side window that had been broken.

Mrs. Kinlaw's 75-year-old husband, Willie, who was sleeping in a rear bedroom, discovered the bodies at about 7:30 a.m. when he awoke, he told police.

SBI agents and Fayetteville police were investigating. The deaths were similar to two others in Fayetteville earlier this year. Both are unsolved.

Mobilized For Work

HONG KONG (AP) — North Vietnam has ordered all its workers mobilized "to serve in any capacity or any mission assigned them," and warned that those who disobey will have to perform up to two years' forced labor.

Radio Hanoi said today the mobilization was necessary to "meet the present serious situation now facing the nation," an obvious reference to the damage done by intensive U.S. air raids.

"All citizens who have the strength and the ability to work must absolutely carry out the state mobilization orders and serve in any capacity or any mission assigned to them by the state," North Vietnam's ruling State Council declared.

"Those who do not want to work or do not carry out the state's orders will be forced to carry out work in order to be useful to our society in accordance with the regime of compulsory work for a period of six months to two years," the order warned.

Sustained Speed Mark

WASHINGTON (AP) — The stiletto-like SR71 reconnaissance jet has set a record for sustained speed at high altitudes, and the two fliers who made the test are to get the top Air Force award.

An Air Force citation said the needle-nosed craft was flown April 26, 1971 "on a record 10½-hour flight, a distance of 15,000 miles at speeds over Mach 3 and altitudes above 80,000 feet."

Mach 3 is three times the speed of sound, or more than 2,000 miles an hour. Other planes have flown higher and faster, but never before for such a long time at extreme speeds.

The pilot, Lt. Col. Thomas B. Estes, 38, of Eubank, Ky., and the navigator, Maj. Dewain C. Vick, 38, now a lieutenant colonel, of Lorain, Ohio, are to receive the Mackay Trophy at a Pentagon ceremony Tuesday.

Shooting And Knifings

ELDELSBURG, Md. (AP) — State police said three persons received gunshot wounds and two others were stabbed in what officials described as a "bloody confrontation" at a rally of some 2,500 cyclists and fans near here.

Authorities charged 11 persons with violations ranging from carrying a concealed weapon to assault with intent to murder in the Sunday afternoon melee.

The disturbance erupted as cyclists were told by rally organizers that scheduled races were canceled because of the crowd's rowdiness, police said.

About 30 riot-equipped state troopers were called to the rally site to quell the disturbance.

One of the arrested, Eugene L. Johnson Jr., 27, of Wilmington, Del., was charged with assault with attempt to murder, state police reported.

The 10 others all were charged with carrying concealed weapons, police said.

Justice Powell Dislikes Work

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va. (AP) — Supreme Court Justice Lewis F. Powell Jr. says he doesn't enjoy his role as a justice on the high court, but he would still accept the job if he had to make the decision again.

Powell, a former Richmond, Va., attorney who has just completed his first five months on the bench, told members of the Virginia Bar Association Saturday night that he does not enjoy working 6½ days a week and almost every night at a time when "I had planned to be tapering off."

Applications To Enroll In Universities Decline

RALEIGH (AP) — North Carolina's state-supported universities report a decline in applications for enrollment this year and a number of opening for fall still available.

Dr. William Friday, president of the 16-campus University of North Carolina, said, "Although I haven't checked the figures in the past few weeks, it is my understanding that there are available spaces in all institutions with the exception of Appalachian State and the university here at Chapel Hill."

Officials at both Duke and Wake Forest University, however, said they have seen an increase in applications this year and have no more openings for fall.

Friday agreed with the results of a survey conducted recently by the National Association of College Admissions Counselors which showed that 87 per cent of U.S. college and universities still had openings this month for all.

The survey also estimated that there are 300,000 to 500,000 current student openings in U.S. universities and colleges.

The report attributed the large number of openings to economic conditions, changes in draft laws that no longer make college attendance necessary to avoid the draft; growing doubt about the value of a college degree and the breaking of "lock step" school attendance.

"The economic factor and the mobility of today's students are especially important considerations," Friday said. "Increasing number of students are getting out to work for a while."

North Carolina State University Admissions Director Kenneth D. Raab said other reasons for the opening are the growth of junior colleges and trade schools and the rising out-of-state tuition costs at state schools.

He said NCSU has openings in every area except design and psychology.

The Western White House in San Clemente, Calif., the Department of Defense in Washington and a spokesman for the National Security Agency at Ft. Meade, Md., would not respond to the article entitled "U.S. Espionage: A Memoir." The article, appearing in the August issue of the magazine which went on newstands today, is based on an interview with a man purported to be a former NSA analyst.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Government officials have declined comment on a Ramparts magazine article which says U.S. intelligence can pinpoint the location of Soviet military and space craft and monitor every transatlantic telephone call.

The ex-analyst, identified by a spokesman for the magazine as "Winslow Peck," a pseudonym—is quoted as saying flights over Russian territory are made routinely by jets "which climb high enough to reach the edge of outer space."

Knowledgeable sources other than the Defense Department denied that U.S. reconnaissance planes fly over Russia.

Contacted in San Diego at a telephone number supplied by Ramparts, a man who said he was "Peck," 26, refused to give his real name but said he was employed by NSA for 3½ years after enlisting in the Air Force in 1966.

He said he quit because he was disillusioned in Vietnam.

The Ramparts article said the United States monitors every government in the world, including its allies, and listens in on all transatlantic telephone calls to or from this country, even those by private citizens.

"As far as the Soviet Union is concerned we know the whereabouts at any given time of all its aircraft, exclusive of small private planes, and its naval forces, including its missile-firing submarines," the former analyst said in the article.

Asked whether the United States makes surveillance flights over Russia, "Peck" replied:

"Routinely, as a matter of fact, over the Black Sea, down to the Baltic. Our Strategic Air Force flies the planes, and we support them. By that I mean that we watch them penetrate the Soviet air space then analyze the Soviet reaction—how everything from their air defense and tactical air force to the KGB reacts."

He said he also had indications that U.S. reconnaissance planes had flown over China.

He said he briefed then-Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey on the Soviet tactical air force in 1967 and once listened to a tearful conversation between Soviet Premier Alexei Kosygin and a Russian cosmonaut about to be killed during re-entry.

Nearly 4,000 Women And Children Protest British 'Occupation'

By COLIN FROST
Associated Press Writer
BELFAST (AP) — Nearly 4,000 Roman Catholic women and children camped overnight in a football field after leaving their homes in a Belfast battle zone to protest the British Army's occupation of the area.

Five more deaths Sunday pushed Northern Ireland's toll this year to 236 killed, already the worst since 232 died in sectarian battling in 1922. A land mine killed two British soldiers at Crossmaglen; a policeman and a civilian were shot in Belfast, and an 18-year-old youth died in a riot in Strabane.

The Catholic women and children followed their priest, Father Jack Fitzsimmons, out of the Lenadoon Avenue area Sunday claiming the army's show of force was "endangering their lives."

The troops and gunmen of the Irish Republican Army have been squared off in the area since last Thursday. Despite army fears that the exodus was planned to clear the ground for a massive IRA attack, there were only sporadic incidents.

Father Fitzsimmons and other community leaders negotiated until after midnight with British officials in an attempt to get the troops pulled out. Meanwhile, the women and children bedded down in the open or in tents at nearby Casement Park.

The Lenadoon area is a modern housing development where the IRA's 13-day cease-fire broke down last week in a row over housing allocations.

Early today, troops claimed they had shot two gunmen in the open or in tents at nearby Casement Park.

Enthroned Church Leader Tuesday

ISTANBUL (AP) — Metropolitan Demetrius, the new Ecumenical Patriarch of the Eastern Orthodox Church elected Sunday, is expected to lean heavily on the advice of Metropolitan Meliton, whom the Turkish government blackballed.

Demetrius, 58, will be enthroned as Ecumenical Patriarch and Archbishop of Constantinople in St. George's Church on Tuesday. As archbishop of Constantinople, his patriarchate includes the Orthodox churches in Western Europe and the Greek Orthodox Church in America.

Demetrius succeeds Patriarch Athenagoras I, who died July 7 at the age of 86. During his 24 years as the symbolic head of Eastern Orthodoxy, Athenagoras worked constantly for reunification with the Roman Catholic and Protestant churches and for closer relations among the 15 independent Orthodox churches.

Demetrius in his enthronement address Tuesday is expected to announce his dedication to the goals of his predecessor. Athenagoras had planned a Great Synod of Orthodoxy to update the church and draw it together, and his successor is believed certain to go ahead with this project.

Demetrius was said to have been favored for the throne by Meliton, the dean of the Holy Synod which elects the patriarchs, and informed sources said in most matters Demetrius would be guided by him. Meliton is also a strong advocate of church unity and an outspoken progressive.

Meliton had been considered the leading candidate to succeed Athenagoras, but the Turkish government struck him from the list,

McGovern Eyes Two-Week Rest

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. George McGovern, the Democratic presidential nominee, flew today to the Black Hills of his native South Dakota for two weeks of rest, staff reshuffling and strategic planning for the fall campaign against President Nixon.

He left National Airport at 10:35 a.m. EDT on a chartered plane for Rapid City.

The vacation spot picked out weeks ago in anticipation of McGovern's victory in last week's Miami Beach convention is a lodge at Sylvan Lake in Custer State Park, near the gold rush town of Custer, south of famous Mount Rushmore.

The South Dakota senator will be accompanied by a small personal staff. Starting later this week, his top political advisors, financial planners, and his running mate, Sen. Thomas F. Eagleton, of Missouri, will come to the lodge for conferences.

The shape of McGovern's campaign organization is largely settled.

Gary Hart, the 35-year-old Denver lawyer who managed the senator's drive for the Democratic presidential nomination, will head the organization, with George Cunningham, a McGovern aide for 17 years and now his administrative assistant, as deputy.

The three regional coordinators are expected to be Eli Segal, who managed McGovern's California campaign; Harold Himmelman, number two man in the Ohio primary; and Rick Stearns, who supervised the senator's efforts in non-primary states. Their exact roles are scheduled to be worked out later in the week when Hart and Frank Mankiewicz, the senator's national political director until now, return from a brief Virgin Islands vacation.

Mankiewicz and Frederick G. Dutton, who joined McGovern in California and has been at his side since, are scheduled to be the top traveling advisers. Other staff positions, including traveling press secretary, remain to be filled.

One major decision that will have to be made before the end of the South Dakota stay, expected to be July 29, is how to allocate the time of both McGovern and Eagleton in the five weeks between then and the traditional Labor Day start of the formal presidential campaign.

Two Dead In Car Collision

WILLIAMSTON — Two men were killed and two were injured early Sunday morning in a two car collision on U.S. 17 about eight miles south of here.

The dead were identified as David Earl Dixon, 20, of Rt. 5 Washington, and David Rawls, 28, of Rt. 2, Williamston. They were driving the vehicles involved in the accident.

The two men injured, both passengers in the Rawls car were Hallis Peele Jr., 20, of Washington, and Calvin Rogers, 19, of Rt. 2, Williamston.

Rogers was transferred to Pitt Memorial Hospital in Greenville from Beaufort County Hospital in Washington. He suffered severe head and chest injuries. He was reported in critical condition after coming out of surgery.

Highway Patrolman Wilbur Sessoms, who investigated the mishap, said the southbound Dixon car crossed the center line and struck the Rawls vehicle almost head-on.

The accident occurred at about 6:20 a.m.

Martin Sweig Free On Parole

LEWISBURG, Pa. (AP) — Dr. Martin Sweig, an aide to former U.S. House Speaker John McCormack, was freed from federal prison today after serving a year for perjury in connection with influence peddling.

Sweig was an aide to the Massachusetts Democrat for 24 years before he was fired in 1969 following charges of alleged use of the speaker's office to help friends and clients.

Montreal Forum Blasted

MONTREAL (AP) — A bomb exploded outside the Montreal Forum early today under a truck loaded with equipment for a concert by the Rolling Stones, a police spokesman reported.

No one was reported hurt, but the windows on the north side of the building were broken.

Peter Rudge, manager of the British rock group, said the concert would take place as scheduled.

The Forum building covers a whole block and is the home of the Montreal Canadiens of the National Hockey League.

The building watchman, Gaston Lesage, 56, was sitting by the back entrance about 15 feet from the truck.

"There was a hell of a bounce," he said. "All those windows broke, a ball of fire came out from under the truck, and then there was a lot of smoke."

The motive for the bombing was not immediately apparent.

A police bomb squad was investigating the possibility that another explosive device had been placed under another truck parked nearby.

Whitehurst Appointed To Adjustments Board

William Burgess Whitehurst, Greenville native and a retired Navy man of 29 years active service, has been named for a three year term to the Greenville Board of Adjustments. He replaces Fred Mattox, who had completed two full terms.

Whitehurst, who came to Greenville in 1968 after retirement from the Navy as a Commander, is currently Superintendent of Grounds and Buildings at East Carolina University. During his Navy career, his years of service covered World War II, the Korean and the Vietnam conflicts. He at one time was commander of the destroyer U.S.S. Brush. Whitehurst, served in Japan, Korea, the Philippines and in Europe.

Educated at public schools in Greenville and Bethel, Whitehurst also attended East

Carolina University and is a graduate of several Naval schools, including the Navy War College.

He is married to the former Audrey Kathleen Middleton of Monroe, La. who is now a teacher at Rose High School. They are the parents of four sons — Robert, Frederic, Mike and Mark, two now in service and one who has just recently completed his military tour.

The new Board of Adjustments member formerly served on the Newport News and Williamsburg, Va. Chambers of Commerce. He is a member of the Greenville Moose Lodge.

"I look forward to serving on the Board of Adjustments," Whitehurst said, "and feel its a civic duty representing the need of the public in a growing town."

Sanderson Is Announced ECU Dept. Chairman

Dr. William C. Sanderson, assistant dean of the East Carolina University School of Education, has been named chairman of the school's Department of Educational Administration and Supervision.

He succeeds Dr. Ralph Brimley, who resigned the post in order to resume full-time teaching duties at ECU.

ECU Provost Dr. Robert W. Williams commented that ECU "is pleased to have a person of Dr. Sanderson's experience and knowledge of the field of public school administration" assume the chairmanship.

He noted that the chairman's duties in past years have been "ably performed" by Dr. Brimley.

"It is a particularly fortuitous circumstance," he said, "that Dr. Brimley will be on hand to assist Dr. Sanderson during his first year as chairman."

Dr. Sanderson, who holds degrees from East Carolina and Duke University, previously served as a public school administrator before joining the ECU faculty. He has worked

The Worry Clinic It Is Possible They Do See Us

David, aged 8, may have stated a fact about his departed Grandmother Miller. For spiritual contacts with Heaven may have long preceded mankind's attempts at the Tower of Babel and our recent moon flights! Elisha apparently could tune in on Cosmic TV.

By GEORGE W. CRANE
Ph.D., M.D.

Case U-536: Emma Miller was my wife's mother.

At the age of 81, she passed away.

As we stood beside her casket, Mrs. Crane placed a flower in her mother's folded hands.

"She was always so fond of flowers," Mrs. Crane added, "so I wish she could see the beautiful bouquets here in the room."

Our youngest child, David, was then about 8 years old. "Maybe Grandma does see the flowers," he chimed in.

And we nodded assent, for that is certain.

When I spoke at the recent funeral of Nelle Cossey, I mentioned that maybe Nelle and a vast but unseen audience of her friends and relatives might also be present.

For I told the visible audience in the chapel that morning that man's inventive mind had now made it possible for hundreds of invisible people to be surrounding us.

"At this very moment," I added, "if we had a TV set and could tune in upon the proper frequency wave length, we could see scores of human beings, singing, playing athletic games, speaking or preaching."

"Yet our ancestors even 50 years ago would have said no such thing could be possible."

"If living human residents of this planet Earth can now be present as a vast invisible audience in our homes and churches, maybe a similar unseen audience could also be here from Heaven."

"Just because we can't yet tune in upon the proper cosmic wave length to witness them, doesn't preclude their being present."

"You Bible students will recall that the great Hebrew Prophet Elisha was approached one morning by his excited servant. 'The latter told Elisha that he had just looked over the walls and found the city was surrounded by a vast army of soldiers and chariots.'

"So he asked Elisha what could they do."

"Elisha calmly told him that 'They that be with us are more than they that be with them.'"

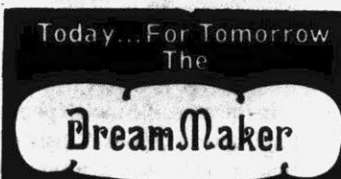

"The young servant still was puzzled, so Elisha pleaded: 'Lord, I pray thee, open his eyes, that he may see.'"

"And when the servant's eyes were opened, he saw that the mountain was full of horses and chariots of fire round about Elisha!"

"So the Almighty may permit our loved one to look down, or even descend, to be with us at moments of high spiritual exaltation."

"When we are entertaining our noblest thoughts and suffused with love for our fellowmen, maybe mankind ascends to such a lofty pinnacle that Heaven then drops down so our former departed loved ones can join us."

"Moses likewise caught such a glimpse of Deity for after he returned from atop Mt. Sinai, his face shone, till he needed to cover it with a veil, so the scriptures tell us. "At the Tower of Babel, mankind tried to erect a physical link to Heaven, much as we are now doing with our flights to the moon."

"But maybe spiritual contacts are already possible to those who love God and tune in via daily prayer."

Such were my opening remarks at the funeral of Nelle Cossey and they are not far

"Planning for Community Appearance and Historic Preservation" will be discussed in an institute at Appalachian State University July 26-29.

The objective of the institute is to give background and know-how to persons interested in the appearance of their community and in the preservation of historic sites, landmarks, and unique architectural structures. Participants will be told what historical preservation is, how it can be undertaken in their own communities, and what programs and sources of funds are available for it.

There is no tuition charge nor charge for materials. A $10 registration fee will help defray the cost of activities during the Institute. Participants will be responsible for their own food and lodging.

A brochure on the Institute may be obtained by writing to Dr. Richter H. Moore, Jr., Director, Summer Institute: Planning for Community Appearance and Historic Preservation; Department of Political Science; Appalachian State University; Boone, N.C. 28607.

Doctor Shows How To Bathe Away "Corns"* and Calluses in Minutes

By INA LEE

YESTERDAY at the offices of a foremost New York foot specialist, I experienced what may prove to be the answer to the foot problems of millions. I was shown a quick, easy way to relieve tired, aching, itching feet — even feet tortured with corns and calluses!

As a reporter, I'm on my own feet about 12 hours a day. For years I've suffered — not only from corns and calluses — but also from recurring athlete's foot, and that tired, aching feeling so familiar to salesmen, postmen, policemen, teachers and others who must stand on their feet for their livelihood... I tried everything from specially made $45 shoes to all kinds of foot powders, creams and salves — all to practically no avail. So I was naturally skeptical when I was assured, in a doctor's office that in a few minutes I would be relieved of all the foot miseries that had been plaguing me for years. I just couldn't believe it — but here is what actually happened!

In just 20 minutes, the itching misery of my athlete's foot had subsided. My corns were softened and dead skin washed away. So were my calluses! In fact, my feet felt simply wonderful — and that is why I am writing this article — so that others will be helped as I have been! For this doctor's simple method is now being made available to the public for home use!

PART 1. A Mineral Bath for Your Feet

For the first part of this 3-way method the doctor had me place my sore, tired feet in a basin of hot water. To this water he added a green powder containing Potassium, Iron, Magnesium, Lithium, Iodides and other minerals (similar to those found in the waters of famous natural Spas). Almost immediately I began to feel a new and wonderful sensation. All the pressure and the heavy feeling in my legs seemed to float away. My feet felt as though they had no weight at all. My foot and leg muscles seemed to relax. I could actually feel soreness and pain diminishing.

"The perspiration, the dirt and the odors so common to your feet is now being cleansed from your pores," the doctor informed me. "The hot mineral solution is easing surface tension, stimulating circulation and sending a fresh supply of new blood to your feet. This helps cleanse out the pores that soap and water cannot reach."

I could see dry, dead, scaly tissue being flaked away. I touched the hardened surfaces of my feet and found that they were now soft and smooth. I could feel the dead dry skin of corns and calluses softened and loosened.

PART 2. Corns and Calluses

After about 15 minutes the doctor had me remove my feet from the bath. Then while they were still moist, he began to massage them with a special volcanic lava stone, which he had already soaked in the Foot-herapy bath. It felt as if my feet were being gently caressed with wool. In just 3 or 4 minutes this volcanic stone began to buff away the dead skin of corns and calluses that had bothered me for years. Best of all, one particularly painful corn on my little toe which I had to have cut off at least once a year was gradually being buffed away. It was as if I had grown a new pair of feet.

PART 3. Athlete's Foot, Unpleasant Odors

The third and final step of this doctor's treatment is a medicated cream designed to correct the condition of athlete's foot, prevent sweating and remove unpleasant foot odors. It contains a tested chemical which is now being used in hospitals, to help combat fungi, dangerous bacteria and relieve skin rashes. As the doctor rubbed this cream into my skin, I felt a cooling, mint-like sensation. Itching between the toes disappeared. A special combination of natural oils helps lubricate the entire skin surface leaving a soothing, protective, invisible film to help guard against reinfection of the area.

"Even though we have gotten such wonderful results with just one application," said the doctor, "you must remember that the secret of well being, pain-free feet is constant care and attention. Your shoes must be fitted correctly and your feet must receive the proper hygiene. That's why you'll find that if you use this simple medicated method everyday after work, your feet will not only continue their remarkable improvement but will feel healthy, rested and cool even after your toughest working day."

Nothing Else Like It
If you suffer from tired feet, aching feet due to foot fatigue, you can now rinse away those aches and pains with nature's own minerals. You can even aid painful, stubborn corns and calluses without "razor blade" surgery, and if your feet are cracked, itching, sore from fungus infections... perspire excessively... give off unpleasant odors... you can relieve these conditions practically overnight!

But even more important, you can give your feet a daily hygienic "doctor's" care — right in your own home — that will help keep your feet strong, impart a feeling of well being; inhibit the growth of fungi, bacteria.

The medically developed products used in this doctor's treatment are Footherapy Mineral Bath, Footherapy Lava Stone and Footherapy Medicated Balm. These 3 items are sold as a complete application kit for only $3.98 and $5.98. Quite a bargain when you think of what it can do for the condition of your feet, your sense of well-being and even your disposition! — consult your chiropodist.

N.C. Traffic Claimed 15

by THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Fifteen persons died in traffic accidents in North Carolina over the weekend.

The toll for the year rose to 961, or 69 more than at the corresponding period last year.

Two persons died in a collision near Benson and two more in a collision near Williamston. The Benson victims were James Crawford Wood, 27, and Dan William Oakley, 19, both of Wake Forest. The Williamston victims were David Earl Dixon, 20, of Washington, N.C., and David Rawls, 28, of Williamston.

There were five pedestrian victims. They were Dale Jones, 17, of Lumber Bridge in Robeson County; John Burn Koenig, 7, of Jacksonville, N.C.; Felicia Lashun Battle, 5, of Rocky Mount; Robert Lee McGee, 20, of Lenoir; and Lloyd Daniel Norton, 18, of Gastonia.

Paul Ervin Painter Jr., 23, of Sanford, was killed when his tractor-trailer hit a bank near Franklinton. The Highway Patrol said he lost control when the load shifted.

Other victims were Martha Gardner, 32, of the Bronx, N.Y.; Larry Scott, 28, of Yonkers, N.Y.; Danny Ray Millsaps, 18, of Robbinsville; Gloria Leigh Drum, 29, of Stony Point in Alexander County; and Ruby Sprinkle Conrad, 76, of Lewisville in Forsyth County.

DESKS

There's no question about it, the desk has been back in the home for sometime, and it's here to stay. This is largely due to the fact that the housewife of today is master of the budget as well as the kitchen. It serves as a home-office for day. Junior can be found working out his most difficult home work problems there. You may find in many cases the desk has taken on a new look, but it's a practical piece for your home.

There's no question about it, only you can decide what carpet you should have for your home or business. Eastern Carpet Inc., 602 West Greenville Blvd., Greenville, 756-1944. "Where There's Always A Sale."

Practical Alternative Offered

It is a far-reaching, yet practical recommendation made by the chief administrative officer of the North Carolina court system in dealing with the Supreme Court ruling that the state must provide legal counsel for indigent defendants in all cases where a prison sentence may be imposed.

Faced with the alternative of finding huge sums of state money with which to pay such legal fees, or removing the possibility of active prison sentences in routine traffic and certain other misdemeanor cases, the courts chief administrator has recommended the latter.

Since no active prison sentences are now imposed in 99 out of every 100 of the cases covered by the recommendation, there would be little difference in the punishment handed down by the courts in such cases even if the possibility of active prison sentences is removed.

The recommendation covers minor traffic violations and certain other misdemeanors, which the court's chief administrative officer says constitute about half the cases appearing before the state's court each year.

The recommendations made to district and superior court judges appear to be sufficiently broad to leave to the discretion of the presiding judge the matter of discarding or retaining the possibility of a prison sentence even in the most minor cases. As the administrative officer pointed out, the recommendation to discard prison sentences applies only to "routine, first offense cases where there are no aggravating circumstances," even in the categories covered by the recommendation.

While the recommendations should receive careful consideration by those responsible for operating the state's court system before they are implemented, they appear both reasonable and sound, and in the interest of the state and its court system.

State Ticket Given Priority

By BRYAN HAISLIP
RALEIGH. — The North Carolina Democratic Party will campaign for the state ticket in the fall general election, and let George McGovern paddle his own canoe.

That seemed the prospect as many Tar Heel Democrats viewed the Miami Beach proceedings which bestowed the party's presidential nomination on the senator from South Dakota.

They felt the part in North Carolina has been left up to the creek so far as the national ticket is concerned.

"It will be a handicap, certainly. I only hope it won't be a disaster," said an eastern legislator.

Hargrove (Skipper) Bowles will have to take into account McGovern's victory in plotting strategy for his race for governor. Sources close to the candidate say he will keep his hands full with his own campaign, and remain arm's length from the national ticket.

That reflects a general feeling that identification with the presidential nominee will get a negative reaction with most voters. Facing a strong GOP challenge across the board, the Democrats will be cautious about taking on any further liability.

Bowles To Take Over
The Bowles camp will take charge of party machinery as soon as dust settles from the national convention.

Jake Froelich of High Point, a key aide in Bowles' primary, is expected to be recommended to the state executive committee as the new chairman. In the post, he will direct the party's fall drive against the Republicans.

Froelich will take the reins from John T. Church, a Henderson business executive and state senator. Church, named by Gov. Bob Scott, steered the party through the primaries and the complex preparations for the state and national conventions.

Although he had early personal loyalty to Lt. Gov. Pat Taylor in the gubernatorial primary, Church kept a posture of neutrality than won respect on both sides.

He was prepared to step aside after the state convention, but agreed to Bowles's request that he remain through the national convention. Church and Gov. Scott were among a handful of top-ranked party leaders in the delegation to Miami Beach.

For his part, Bowles kept clear of any shadow of involvement in the presidential politics.

GOP Position Different
The Democratic dilemma over the state and national tickets is in sharp contrast to the Republican position.

Tar Heel GOP leaders are tickled pink with their slate, from President Nixon on down the line. They radiate confidence that Nixon can again carry the state, as he did in 1968, and provide a coat-tail boost for state candidates.

"If there was any doubt, the nomination of McGovern removed it," exulted one GOP partisan.

Jim Holshouser, the Republican candidate for governor, has made much of his close ties with President Nixon. His campaign will be keyed to the theme of urging voters to keep a Republican in the White House and put one in the State House.

Delicate Strategy Seen
In directing the Democratic campaign, Froelich will have the delicate task of charting a course between outright rejection of the national ticket and any semblance of endorsement.

It will not be a drastic departure from history. In the past, the state party has on occasion been lukewarm about the national ticket while promoting state candidates.

For example, four years ago Gov. Scott kept his distance from Hubert Humphrey. Scott won, and Humphrey finished third behind Nixon and Gov. George Wallace of Alabama on the American Party ticket.

Scott's role is likely to be minimal in the fall campaign. There's little chance Froelich will ask the governor to get deeply involved.

Bowles won the nomination with a strategy of disassociation with the Scott administration. The distinction won't be so clearly drawn for the general election, but Bowles will get across to voters that his election will mean changes in Raleigh.

Between the national ticket, on one side and the state administration on the other, it will mean a Bowles campaign theme with emphasis on the man rather than the party.

Free Trading Bloc To Expand

RICHARD C. LONGWORTH
BRUSSELS (UPI)—If all goes as planned, 16 European nations will form the world's largest free trade area this week.

The idea is to protect industry throughout all of Western Europe when the Common Market expands from six to 10 nations.

The area will embrace 292 million persons in the present six Common Market nations of France, Germany, Italy, Netherlands, Belgium and Luxembourg and in the four nations that will join in January—Britain, Denmark, Norway and Ireland—plus six other nations which will not join. The latter are Switzerland, Sweden, Austria, Finland, Iceland and Portugal.

These later six all belong to the European Free Trade Association (EFTA), which was set up in 1960 in competition with the Common Market.

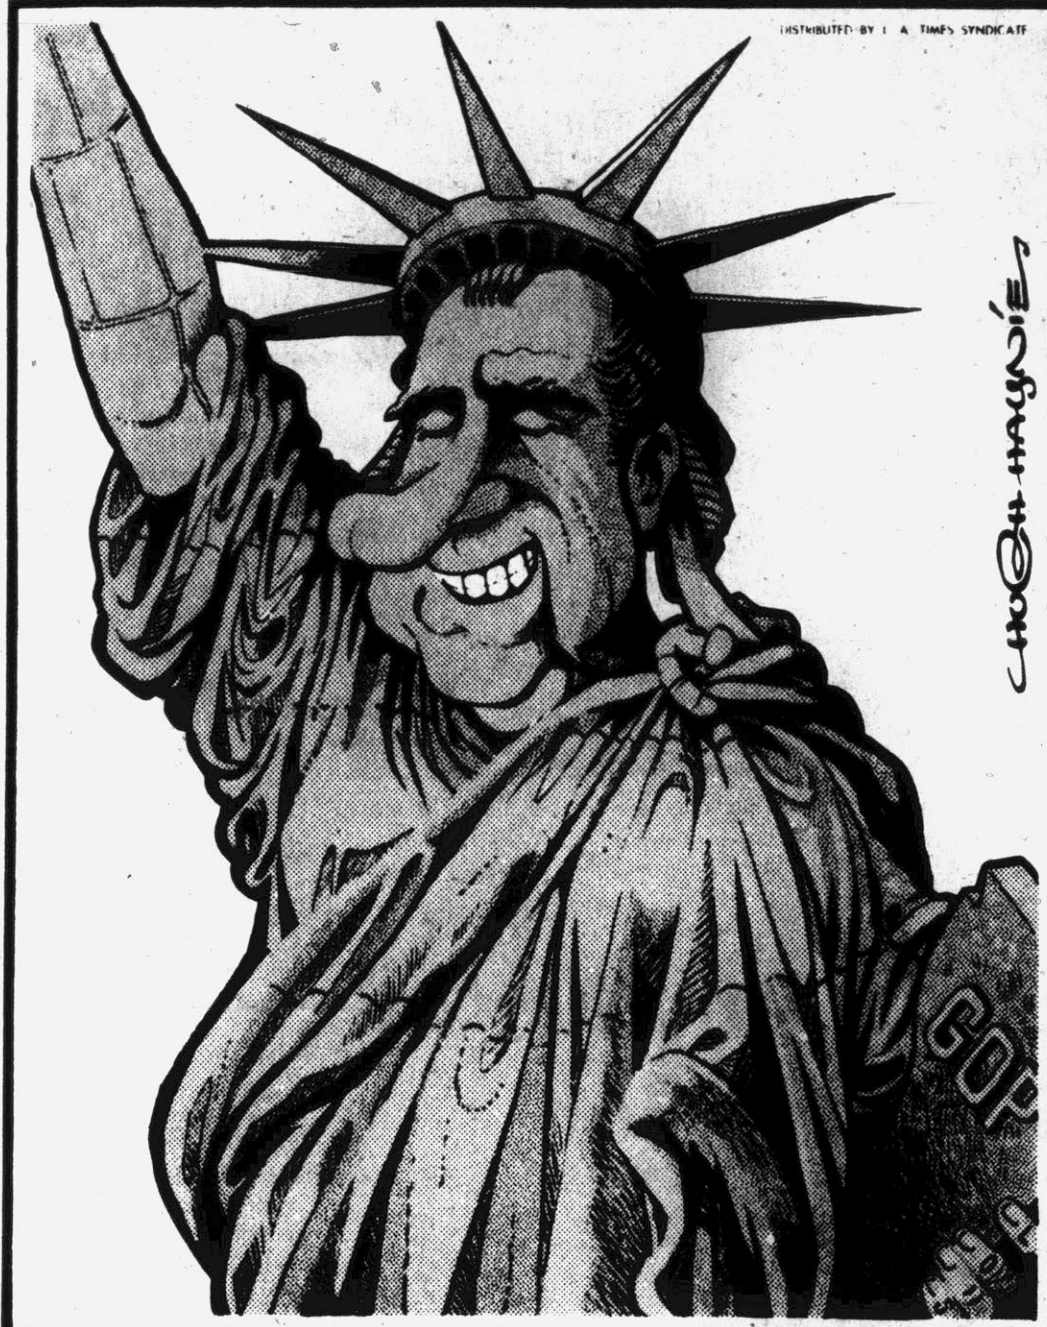

Three of the new Common Market nations—Britain, Norway and Denmark—are EFTA members and their defection to the market threatened their old EFTA partners with a loss of traditional markets.

For this reason, talks began early this year to set up the free trade area to give these nations access to low Common Market tariffs without giving them the right to join full members in making Common Market policy.

Tariffs Must Go
Only a handful of details remained to be settled in talks this week. Common Market officials reserved Brussels's Egmont Palace for Saturday for a signing ceremony by foreign ministers of the 16 nations.

The treaty will obligate the EFTA and Common Market nations to eliminate their tariffs against one another's products—with a few exceptions—during the next five years. This means that German textiles, for instance, can go to Sweden duty-free by 1977 and vice versa.

But unlike the Common Market itself, it is not a full customs union which sets up a standard tariff against the rest of the world. This means

The Rich White People

By ART BUCHWALD
MIAMI — I was walking into the convention center when I saw a man being thrown out by two Democratic Party marshals. He was surprisingly well dressed and as I picked him up from the ground and brushed him off I asked "What happened?"

He wiped his face with a silk handkerchief. "They threw me out because I was lobbying for Rich White People."

"Rich White People?"

"Yes," he said brushing his Gucci shoes with his handkerchief. "No one at this convention cares about Rich White People. They pay lip service to us, but when it comes to doing something about our plight they ignore us. We're the only minority that's been disenfranchised at this convention."

"But that's terrible," I said.

"We Rich White People are sick and tired of being used as pawns by the politicians. We're fed up with them coming to our country clubs and promising us everything—depreciation allowances, tax shelters, lower income taxes. And then after Election Day we're no better off than we were before. We have a right to be heard."

"Of course you have," I said. "The Rich White People are the backbone of this country. They made it what it is today."

Several Rich White People joined us as we were talking. One woman stood up on her Rolls-Royce and shouted, "We have as much right to be in the hall as the blacks, the Chicanos, the Indians, the women and the youth. The Democratic Party used to care about Rich White People, but now that they're fat with their telethons they don't give a damn about us any more."

The man in the Gucci shoes said, "We're not going to sit around and take it. We're going to turn this convention around. If our voices aren't heard, we're going to shut down this country."

"Right on!" the small crowd shouted.

"There aren't enough jails to lock up all the Rich White People who are sick and disgusted with the system."

"We're not doing this for us," a lady in a Dior pantsuit yelled. "We're doing it for our children. We want them to have a better life than we had. We want them to inherit what is theirs. Why should the 'have-nots' get everything and the 'haves' be thrown out of the convention hall?"

Another man in tennis white said, "Those people in there have no right to speak for us. They've never had money, so how do they know what it is to be rich? They've never been audited by the Internal Revenue Service or seen their stock portfolios go down because of inflation. They don't know what it is to put their fortunes in tax-free municipal bonds or try to deduct a dinner for 50 as a business expense."

Just then a man from the Democratic National Committee came out and said, "Mr. Lawrence O'Brien would like a delegation of Rich White People to be his

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

A million Americans now undergo plastic surgery each year. Back in 1946, only an estimated 15,000 people had facelifts.

If your teen-ager is moping because he can't make up his mind what career to follow, tell him to take heart from Bob Hope, the multimillionaire superstar. He had the same trouble. Before going into show business, Hope worked as a dance instructor, clerk, boxer, and newspaper reporter.

Hunters don't have to hit ducks or geese with their pellets to kill them. A study showed that three per cent of the wild fowl population wintering in the United States dies each year of lead poisoning from swallowing shotgun pellets that have fallen into their feeding waters. That is a million birds each year destroyed inadvertently by hunters.

Quotable notables: "Every life is a work of art, shaped by the man who lives it." — G. Lowes Dickinson, English scholar.

Unusual legislation: In Elizabethan England you could be hanged if you opened and read the message in a floating bottle. The law was passed after a fisherman found a bottle containing an important political secret. The Queen then appointed an official "Uncorker of Bottles" who was solely authorized to read their contents.

Mighty waters: Ocean currents are one of the strongest forces visible in nature. They may travel only a mile a month or as fast as 100 miles a day. The largest in the world is the current around Antarctica. According to the National Geographic Society, it carries more than 100 billion tons of water a second.

Worth remembering: "Nothing makes a man go places like a woman who likes to."

Safety note: The reason experts warn motorists against excessive smoking while driving is that smoking puts more carbon monoxide in the blood stream. This can deprive the brain and eyes of the total amount of oxygen they need to function at top capacity.

Strength For Today

THE FULFILLMENT OF LIFE
Life becomes more complex for almost everybody as the years advance. By the time we come to three-score years and ten we have faced almost every variety of experience an individual can have. Some of these are pleasant and some are tragic. Fortunately, most of them are neutral, being neither exalted beyond measure nor depressed to despairing.

This growing complexity of life sometimes plunges people into bitterness. They feel that they are getting a bad deal all the way around. As the years pass one thing after another keeps occurring so that it seems that life has no peace or repose in it.

Of course we have to face the fact that life is a period of testing, a proving ground, as it were. Whether we like it or not, life is cluttered with problems and difficulties. We get one problem solved only to encounter another. We clear one hurdle and find another looming up before us. But this is life. We think we should like to change it. But would we? Life is a period of training for us, and therein lies the possibility of growth and devotion.

We often speak of wanting to simplify life. There is some virtue in such a desire but not a great deal. The complexities of life constitute its discipline, and only through that discipline is life fulfilled.

Early Promises Stir Curiosity

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — James J. Needham, the new chairman of the New York Stock Exchange, must understand today how a candidate elected to political office feels when cawled upon to implement his promised program.

As a member of the Securities and Exchange Commission, Needham was a sometimes sympathetic but often severe critic of securities practices. Few brokers considered him unfair, but some thought him an irritant and others felt he was a bit extreme.

But it is Needham's interpretation of that vague future envisioned by the SEC in its report "On the Future Structure of the Securities Markets" that arouses curiosity now.

That document called for the gradual structuring of a central market system, the nature of which was stated so imprecisely that it stirred up a great deal of speculation, an old trait of the Street.

One interpretation was that some of the best known institutions in the industry, such as the NYSE, the Midwest Exchange and the Pacific Coast Exchange, would cease to exist as separate entities.

A more widely accepted view was that the central market place would be a loose federation of autonomous exchanges sharing certain facilities in common and reporting their prices on a common tape.

Needham's own views were stated last year before an American Management Association group called to study "Financial Imperatives for the '70s." He expressed this outlook:

"All existing exchange organizations would be combined into a stock corporation. The shares of the new corporation would be issued to all members of exchanges prorata, based on the respective value of their seats."

"Simultaneously, the existing exchange organizations would transfer their net assets and operational and self-regulatory responsibilities to the new corporation . . ."

And then? "Go out of existence." And now Needham heads the Big Board, selected by the brokers he had helped prod and lead into reforms, welcomed enthusiastically by them as the man who can lead them into that vague future.

Whatever that future is to be, almost everyone agrees that it must evolve slowly so as to avoid disrupting the capital financing process so critical to corporate fortunes and the nation's economy.

But one wonders if the process hasn't been slowed even more in taking one of the most forceful agents of change from his position with the mover, the SEC, and placing him in control of the object to be moved, the NYSE.

Remind Bishops Of Church's Supremacy

LAKE JUNALUSKA, N. C. (AP) — Six newly elected bishops of the United Methodist church were reminded of the supremacy of church law as the Southeastern Jurisdiction of the church finished its quadrennial Conference Sunday.

After the consecration ceremonies Sunday night, the six prepared to return to their homes and pull up stakes. Church law forbids new bishops from serving in the areas from which they were elected.

The Rev. Robert M. Blackburn of Orlando, Fla. will move to Raleigh; the Rev. Frank L. Robertson of Valdosta, Ga. moves to Louisville, Ky.; the Rev. Edward Tullis of Ashland, Ky. goes to Columbia, S. C.; the Rev. Joel McDavid, Mobile, Ala. will be in Lakeland, Fla.; the Rev. Carl J. Sanders, of Arlington, Va., has been transferred to Birmingham, Ala.; and the Rev. Mack B. Stokes of Atlanta will be in Jackson, Miss.

Among the senior bishops, Bishop William R. Cannon of Raleigh was assigned to Atlanta and Bishop Kenneth Goodson of Birmingham was assigned to Richmond, Va. Bishop Earl G. Hunt of Charlotte, Bishop H. Ellis Finger of Nashville and Bishop L. Scott Allen of Knoxville will remain in their present posts.

It took the 500 delegates 25 ballots, from Tuesday to Friday, to select the six new bishops, who replace six retirees.

The retirees are: Roy H. Short of Louisville, Ky.; John Owen Smith of Atlanta; Paul Hardin Jr. of Columbia; James W. Henley of Lakeland; Edward J. P. Pengrass of Jackson; and Paul M. Herrick of Dayton, Ohio, who retired from Richmond in 1970.

WELCOME . . . OUR NEW CITIZENS

Dickie and Kaye Rook

Greenville has a new family among its citizens. They arrived recently with just one purpose in mind, to serve the people of the Greenville area.

Dickie and Kaye Rook came from Goldsboro a few days ago to purchase and operate the "A Cleaner World" Garment Care Center at 622 East Greenville Boulevard.

Dickie brings to the local operation much experience in the area of clothing and textiles will prove invaluable over the years as they strive to better serve their customers.

In three busy years Dickie and Kaye were preparing for store ownership. His many customers in both cities came to know they could depend on him for all their garment care needs. They are convinced that the only way to achieve their personal goals is through providing a better life for the customers they serve.

Dickie says that garments and fabrics have changed greatly in the last few years and are changing with each passing season.

He and Kaye feel strongly that only garment care professionals who keep abreast of technical developments in the garment industry and who understand current styles and fabrics can offer the wardrobe maintenance today's garments demand.

Kaye, a very style-conscious young lady, speaks from a woman's viewpoint. She says, "I want to know when I purchase an outfit I really like that someone will be able to care for it without my having to worry about it. I have watched Dickie develop his technique. I know, that for me as well as for our customers, he can take the uneasiness out of wardrobe shopping and make it fun."

Dickie will operate his establishment Tuesday through Saturday from 7:00 a.m. to 6:30 p.m. He asks Greenville customers to pay him a visit and to watch the ads in the paper for special gift offers of free Eisenhower dollars with which he will reward his customers.

The 1972 Extension-Research on Wheels Tour will kick off in Pitt County tonight with a "Welcome Dinner" at 7 p.m. at the Pitt Wildlife Club.

According to an itinerary issued by the North Carolina State University Extension Service, a tobacco talk and fellowship hour sponsored by Radio Station WPTF in Raleigh with station farm director Wally Ausley speaking will precede the buffet dinner. The three-day state tour of tobacco disease control test and demonstration plots will begin Tuesday morning with two stops in Pitt County.

Following a "dutch" breakfast at the Holiday Inn here tomorrow morning, the tour will leave the motel around 8 a.m. and make a stop at the Floyd Mills farm located on Memorial Drive. From there, the tour will progress to the Eastern Pines community and a 10:30 stop at the Wayne Stokes farm. A noon luncheon at the Greenville Golf and Country Club will follow the morning tour stops.

Tuesday's tour will leave Pitt County following the luncheon and go to Craven, Greene and Halifax Counties. After a "pig picking" in Halifax County at 7 p.m. the tour will return to Pitt around 9:45.

A bus "shuttle" system will replace the car caravan for the 1972 tour. Buses will leave the designated motel each day, travel the tour route and return in the afternoon.

After Tuesday's tour, buses will depart the Holiday Inn in Battleboro around 8 a.m. Wednesday, and the Holiday Inn Four Seasons in Greensboro at 8 a.m. Thursday for the other two days of the tour.

Expenses of the trip, including meals, will be furnished by participants.

Tobacco Barn Losses Mount

Total losses of tobacco barns are steadily mounting as the tobacco harvest season gets into full swing in Pitt County.

Pitt County Fire Marshal Bobby Joyner reports that of eight recent barn fires, seven resulted in a total loss of the barn and contents. This results in an estimated loss for each barn of $2,500.

The seven total losses were: —July 12, — At 12:27 p.m., a barn burned on the Joe Haddock farm. Winterville Fire Department responded to the alarm. At 12:29 p.m. Ayden reported to a burning barn on the Elton Garris farm.

—July 14 — Two barns were total losses on this date. The first, at 3:45 p.m. was on the Mrs. Susie Corbett Joyner farm, with Farmville Fire Department reporting. The second loss, a barn on the Carlton Stocks farm, occurred near Black Jack. The Black Jack Fire Department answered the alarm at 5:45 p.m.

—July 15 — Two total losses occurred on Saturday. One, at 10:55 a.m. was a barn on Mrs. Preston White's farm, with the Winterville Fire Department answering. The second loss occurred at 7:30 p.m. on the farm of Glenn Best. Bell Arthur responded.

—July 16 — One total loss was recorded on Sunday when a barn burned on the Robert Pierce farm on highway 121. Falkland Fire Department answered the 5:10 p.m. alarm.

On July 14, the Winterville Fire Department responded to a 10:31 a.m. alarm for a tobacco barn fire on the Ralph Britt farm. No appreciable damage occurred as a result of the fire.

In addition to the eight tobacco barn fires, a total of three car fires were reported during the period covered. The first, on July 11, near Grifton, resulted in about $30 damage to the vehicle concerned. Extent of damage is unknown in the case of the other two car fires, one on Saturday and one on Sunday.

Claim 'Fake' U.S. Pullout

MOSCOW (AP) — Pravda accused the United States today of faking its withdrawal from Vietnam and called for peace negotiations on the basis of Communist proposals.

"There is no Pentagon withdrawal whatsoever from Vietnam."

"American units are simply moving to other positions," commentator Vitaly Korionov wrote in the Soviet Communist party newspaper.

He said the missions of troops removed from Vietnam were being assumed by U.S. forces in other parts of the Pacific area.

"But the courageous Vietnamese people and patriots of Laos and Cambodia have inexhaustible will for victory," the article continued.

"The facts show ever more convincingly that the Pentagon will not be able to get a military solution to the problem in Vietnam. The only way to a peace settlement is the way of negotiations, the effective basis of which is provided by the world-known proposals of the Provisional Revolutionary Government of the Republic of South Vietnam and the Democratic Republic of Vietnam."

Two Charged In Auto Accident

Both persons involved in an early morning accident were charged with traffic violations, according to police.

Milo Nelson of Simpson was charged by police with failure to give a proper signal after his vehicle collided with a car being operated by Donald K. Norman of Blount's Creek. Norman was charged by police with improper passing.

Damage to the Nelson auto was estimated at $175, while damage to the Norman auto was $150. The accident occurred at 6:10 a.m.

Pledge Control Effort Of Tobacco Infestation

RALEIGH (AP) — Major U.S. tobacco manufacturers and independent tobacco dealers have pledged their support for an effort to control infestations of cigarette beetles and tobacco moths in the flue-cured states.

The president of Tobacco Growers' Information Committee Inc., Carl T. Hicks, said Sunday, "the cooperating buying representatives for our domestic and overseas bright tobacco customers have pledged to repair and clean their burlap sheets free of insects before they are distributed throughout southern markets."

Hicks added, "I am told that the major buying forces on the flue-cured markets are in agreement that proper cooperative efforts this year can reduce the beetle and moth populations."

"Small particles of flue-cured tobacco clinging to the sheets offer an ideal breeding place for the beetle and the moth," he said. "Thus the tobacco then can become infested when it is marketed from contaminated sheets."

Hicks warned growers that infested tobacco "could be spotted by graders" but "conscientious efforts by farmers could result in higher cash returns ranging from 10 to 15 cents per pound."

He suggested that farmers "avoid putting new crop tobacco in the same building housing holdover old leaf. Where possible, the new crop should be placed in an auxiliary storage space. We know the scientists say the longer one keeps any tobacco, the chances increase to breed more insects."

All growers, he said, should contact their county tobacco extension specialist about possible ways to clean infestation from packhouses and carry-over tobacco.

Six U.S. manufacturers and 10 independent dealers have agreed to support the program, he said. Hicks who is president of the Flue-Cured Tobacco Cooperative Stabilization Corp., said that Tobacco Growers Services, a wholly owned subsidiary of the corporation, would also cooperate in the fumigation program.

Natalie And Bob Are Remarried

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Natalie Wood and Robert Wagner are honeymooning on the yacht in which they were remarried 10 years after their divorce.

Among the guests at the ceremony off the coast Sunday afternoon were Wagner's daughter, Katharine, 8, and Miss Wood's 21-month-old daughter, Natasha Gregson.

It was the third marriage for the 42-year-old actor and the 33-year-old actress. Wagner was married to actress Marion Marshall and Miss Wood to producer Richard Gregson in the 1960s. Both second marriages ended in divorce last year.

Young Netters Are Honored By Jaycees

The first and second place winners of the annual Jaycee Junior Tennis Tournament were honored Thursday night at the Jaycee's general membership meeting.

Honored were Becky Piner, first place winner in the girls division, and Marty East, second place finisher. In the boys division, David Walton finished first and Tracy Finch received honors for second place.

The four winners earned the right to go on to Wilson to compete in state Tennis competition. Some 21 Greenville boys and girls participated in the local tournament.

Other discussion during the meeting concerned the success of the July 4th celebration on the Town Common. Floyd Little and Joe Ratcliff, co-chairmen for the event, said that the crowd, which

Greenville Out Of Sr. Ruth Tourney

Greenville's Senior All-Stars and the Stars from Catawba Valley were the first two teams to be ousted from the Babe Ruth Baseball Tournament yesterday.

Catawba Valley was first to fall as they were slammed by Coastal Carolina 10-1. Catawba could manage only three hits in the contest.

Greenville lost to South Buncombe 8-2 as the locals again suffered through a one-hitter, thrown by Buncombe's Jerry Reed. Greenville lost Saturday 3-1 managing to come up with two hits. South Buncombe lost to Clark Griffith Saturday but still have a shot at the tourney crown if they can continue to win.

In other games, Clark Griffith is still unbeaten as they edged Statesville 2-1 and Smokey Mountain has also to lose. They beat Parkway 6-4.

Coastal Carolina pushed over enough runs in the first to insure the win as they came up with three after pulling off a double play in the first. Ernest Gaskins singled and moved up as Butch Martin reached on an error. Frank Floyd walked loading the bases. Tommy Johnson got a base hit to score Gaskin and an error on the play let Martin and Floyd move around the diamond to score.

Coastal Carolina added four more in the second. Mitch Ivey singled and went to second on a passed ball. Martin singled to move Ivey to third. After Martin stole second, an error on Floyd's grounder to first let Ivey come across and a passed ball brought Martin over. Floyd moved to second.

John Bullard walked putting men on first and second. Johnson laced a double driving in Bullard after Floyd had scored on a passed ball.

Three more came across in the fourth.

Catawba moved a runner around to third in the fifth as Mick Miller singled for one of their hit and moved around on a passed ball and a wild pitch. The next three men went down in order to strand him at third.

Catawba ended the shut-out in the sixth, however, on a hit by Raeford Russel. He moved up on an error to Richard Moretz and one to Bill Barkley. Russell scored on a sacrifice by Mike Walters.

Johnson and Gaskins each had a pair of hits for Coastal Carolina.

South Buncombe jumped out to a 2-0 lead in the top of the first. J. D. Hinson got a hit to right center and Lloyd Arrowwood singled to deep short. Tim Fore also singled to short to drive Hinson in and put Arrowwood on second. Arrowwood stole third and scored as Frank Brank reached on a fielder's choice.

They added two in the second. Reed singled and Hinson brought him in with a smash over the wall in right.

Greenville came up with one in the second. Johnny Willis walked and went to second on an out. A balk moved him to third and Danny Tripp got a hit to bring Willis in.

South Buncombe got two more in the third and two in the fourth. Greenville's other run came in the fourth as Jack Jones walked, advanced on an error and a walk and scored on a wild pitch.

Statesville moved into the lead in their contest with Clark Griffith in the second. Randy McDaniel slammed a triple into right-center and was brought in by Randy Allred on a base hit.

Clark Griffith tied it up in the sixth on a hit by Steve Tucker and Robert Neal. Tucker moved to third on the hit. Earl Armstrong laid down a bunt to bring in Tucker.

Then in the seventh Clark Griffith took the lead. The first batter flied out and the second went down swinging. But Dean Hyatt had other ideas and cracked out a homer over the center field wall to put them ahead.

Statesville put Paul Ijames on with a hit but he died at first.

Smokey Mountain, who had beaten Coastal Carolina Saturday 3-0 to advance in the playoffs, inched out into the lead in the first with a pair of runs.

Steve Hyatt walked and Randy Chastain was hit by a pitch. Craig Cable bunted his way on to fill the sacs. Jerry Cagle doubled to drive in the two lead runners.

That was the way it stood until the fourth when Parkway cut the lead to 2-1. Brent Williamson doubled and went to third on a passed ball. A hit by Tommy Smith drove him in.

After seeing Smokey Mountain add a run in the top of the sixth, Parkway took the lead as they rallied for three runs. Williamson singled and Johnny Lee walked. Bobby Ferguson was hit by a pitch. Ernie Lasher singled in Williamson and Lee and Lasher scored on a passed ball.

Smokey Mountain came back in the top of the seventh to take the lead again and the win. Chastain walked, went to second on a passed ball and scored on an error on the Parkway catcher. Cable doubled and Cagle walked. Cable scored as Bergin Tatham reached on a fielder's choice. Cagle scored as Mike Gentry walked.

Play continues today with Clark Griffith taking on Smokey Mountain at 8 p.m. Statesville and Coastal Carolina go at it at 4 p.m. and South Buncombe meets Parkway at 6 p.m.

All Franchise Needs Is Imagination

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Former University of Kentucky basketball coach Adolph Rupp, the new president of the Memphis Tams of the American Basketball Association, says all the franchise needs is development by people with imagination.

Rupp, 70, was named Saturday to the position by Charles O. Finley, a Chicago millionaire and sports promoter who officially acquired the team July 6. Rupp retired at Kentucky this summer after massing the most victories in college basketball history.

"This thing (Memphis) has hit bottom and the main thing now is to bail it out," Rupp said from his home in Lexington, Ky. "All it needs is development by people with imagination."

Rupp said he would be responsible only to Finley "and that will be only if I should make a flop of the thing." Finley said from Chicago that Rupp has accepted a three-year contract, but declined to disclose terms.

Finley, who also owns four hockey and baseball franchises, took an instant dislike to the old name of his Memphis property, the Pros, and conducted a $2,500 contest to re-name the club.

It will now be the "TAMS," with the initials standing for Tennessee, Arkansas and Mississippi.

Rupp had been at Kentucky since 1930 and led his squads to a fantastic 979-190 record during his tenure.

By RONALD THOMSON
MUIRFIELD, Scotland (AP) — Lee Trevino, still bubbling over his second straight victory in the British Open Golf Championship, admits that his great rival, Jack Nicklaus, is a better player.

By winning the British title Saturday, Trevino put an end for this year to Nicklaus' dream of capturing the first Grand Slam in modern golf—sweeping all four major professional titles.

Trevino survived a charge by the 32-year-old Nicklaus in the final round over Muirfield's 6-, 892-yard, par 71 links. Then the man who calls himself "Super Mex" paid this tribute to Nicklaus: "I don't think I am in the same class as Jack. Nicklaus can be beaten, simply because nobody can win all the time. But to beat him, you really have to play well," Trevino said.

"There was no one in the field who could honestly say he was in the same class as Jack," Trevino said he hoped Nicklaus would go on to win the Professional Golfers Association Championship next month at Birmingham, Mich., the last of the Grand Slam tournaments.

"Then I'll be known not just as the British Open champion but as the man who stopped Jack from doing the big one this year," Trevino said. "There's a kind of immortality in that alone."

Nicklaus had already won the 1972 Masters and U.S. Open and needed the British championship and the PGA to achieve the all-but-impossible dream.

Trevino picked up the winner's pay check of $14,300 with a 72-hole total of 278, six under par. His rounds were 71-70-66-71.

Nicklaus took second place, one stroke behind with 70-72-71-66-279.

"I rate my last round as one of the finest I ever played," Jack said.

record, set earlier in the week by talented young Johnny Miller and later equalled by Trevino.

In one of the most exciting finishes in the history of this ancient tournament, Nicklaus made up a six-shot deficit and at one stage actually overtook Trevino, the third-round leader.

Lee holed a chip shot from a green-side trap at the 17th for a par five that saved his title when it looked like it was slipping away.

Tony Jacklin, the young Englishman who held both the U.S.

and British Open titles, was third at 280. Doug Sanders tallied 281 for fourth place, British Ryder Cup star Brian Barnes was next with 283 and South Africa's Gary Player, winner of every major title in golf, had 285 for sixth place.

Allison Finishes First By Seconds

TRENTON (AP)—Bobby Allison, after coming close to winning the Northern 300 in four of his five tries, got the elusive win Sunday, albeit by a narrow margin.

Allison, of Hueytown, Ala., drove his 1972 Chevrolet across the finish line at the Trenton Speedway 1.4 seconds ahead of Bobby Isaac's 1972 Dodge for his fifth major win of the of the NASCAR grand national season. The victory was made even sweeter for Allison by the $6,160 he received of the $41,000 in purses.

Isaac, of Catawba, N.C., led the race for 117 of the 200 laps around the 1 1/2-mile asphalt track.

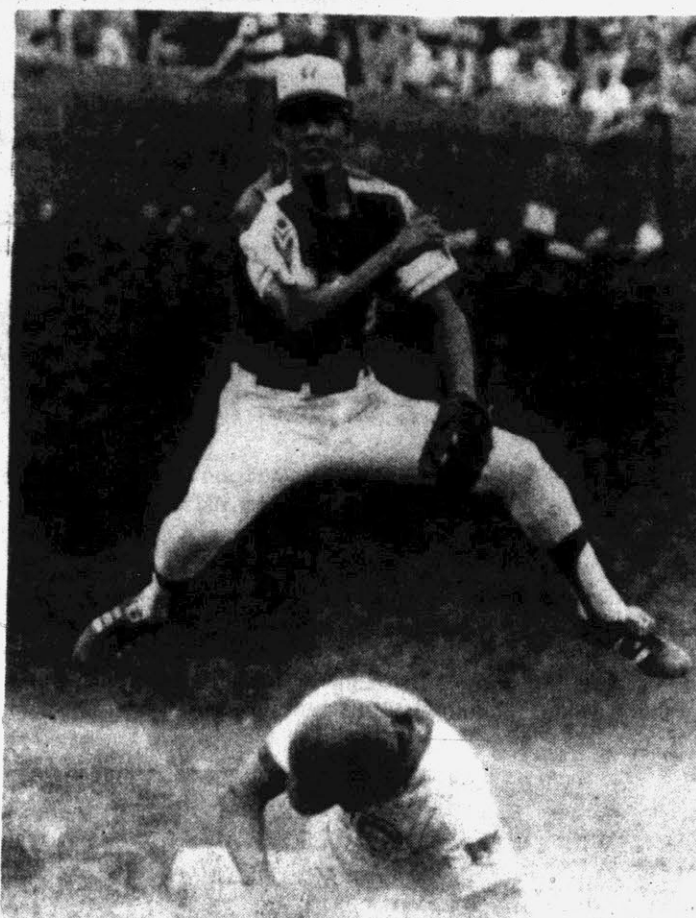

Allison's time for the race was two hours, 38 minutes, 25 seconds for an average speed of 114.03 mph, well below the 121.008 record for the race set in 1969. The win also allowed him to keep his lead for the second phase of the Winston Cup, the NASCAR driver point championship.

300 races, Allison finished second twice and third twice. His victory this year was unusual because it came in a car he'd never driven. The car is owned by Richard Howard of the Charlotte Motor Speedway and was built in Allison's shop.

Third place went to three-time Northern 300 winner Richard Petty who held the lead from lap 110 through lap 135. It was on lap 136 that a pit stop proved disastrous for him.

Petty, driving a STP Plymouth, pulled in for fuel and two tires, but as he was starting onto the track, his engine stalled. The delay due to repairs put him one full lap behind, the same margin by which he lost the race.

Finishing out the top 10 in the race were Fred Lorenzen, Elmhurst, Ill.; Cecil Gordon, Horse Shoe, N.C.; James Hylton, Inman, S.C.; Larry Smith; LeNoir, N.C.; Benny Parsons, Elberle, N.C.; Raymond Williams, Chapel Hill, N.C.; and Walter Ballard, Houston, Tex.

If They Are Not Hot They May Be Brewers

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer
When you're hot, you're hot and when you're not, you're probably the Milwaukee Brewers.

The baseball Brewers were stuck in one of their cold spells Sunday—six losses in eight games including a 1-0 two-hitter at the hands of California's Rudy May in the first game of their doubleheader.

What's worse is that the second game was also 1-0 in California's favor as Milwaukee came to bat in the bottom of the eighth inning. The Brewers weren't cold—they were frozen.

Clearly, it was time for action and so Manager Del Crandall used his old pinch runner for a pinch runner move.

The double pinch runner strategy paid off—helped considerably by George Scott's two-run single—as the Brewers rallied for a 2-1 victory and a split of the doubleheader.

Elsewhere in the American League Sunday, Oakland rapped New York 5-2, Detroit shut out Kansas City 2-0, Boston whipped Minnesota 6-1, Texas defeated Cleveland 3-2 in 12 innings and Baltimore downed Chicago 6-1 in the rain-abbreviated first game of a scheduled doubleheader. The nightcap was washed out.

In the National League, Pittsburgh swept a doubleheader from Houston, 3-2 in both games, Chicago dropped Atlanta 5-3, Cincinnati took St. Louis 4-1, San Francisco ripped Philadelphia 10-7, San Diego dropped New York 7-3 and Los Angeles trimmed Montreal 4-2. Starter Lloyd Allen and reliever Rick Clark had limited the Brewers to just four hits in the nightcap when pinch hitter Ron Theobald opened the eighth inning with a single. Here Crandall started working. Pinch Runner Number One.

"When the first guy up in the inning singled, I didn't want to use a player we might need later, so I sent in pitcher Skip Lockwood," Crandall explained. The situation cried for a bunt and Rick Auerbach delivered it.

What's more, Auerbach beat it out. And here comes Pinch Runner Number Two, not for Auerbach, but for Lockwood.

"We get men on first and second and this is our chance to win the ball game," said Crandall, "so I sacrifice a little speed at second base for experience by sending in Bob Heise to run for Lockwood."

Brock Davis followed with another bunt single and Scott delivered with his game-winning two-run single.

Questioned about the double pinch runner strategy move afterwards, Crandall shrugged it off, saying, "It worked pretty good, that's all I know."

Oakland completed a sweep of its four-game series at New York and opened a 7 1/2-game lead over Chicago in the AL's West Division.

The A's got home runs from Joe Rudi and Mike Epstein to build a comfortable early lead over the Yankees and were able to ride out John Ellis' two-run homer in the bottom of the ninth.

In the East, Detroit maintained its one-game lead over Baltimore, shutting out Kansas City while the Orioles were knocking off Chicago.

Norm Cash and Aurelio Rodriguez tagged home runs, giving rookie Bill Slayback all the offense he needed to defeat the Royals.

Slayback scattered five hits for his first major league shut-out. Cash's homer was his 17th and Rodriguez hit his fourth. Boog Powell bombed his third homer in four games for two runs and Brooks Robinson also drove in two as Baltimore kept pace with the Tigers by knocking off Chicago.

The game was called in the seventh inning when a rain squall soaked Baltimore's Municipal Stadium.

Powell's ninth homer of the season came in the sixth inning and helped Jim Palmer gain the victory. Palmer, 13-4, allowed only three hits and one unearned run.

Marty Pattin hurled a four-hitter and Danny Cater and Reggie Smith crashed home runs, helping Boston beat Minnesota.

Pattin, who hurled a one-hitter in his last start, improved his record to 7-8, besting Bert Blyleven, 9-11.

Dave Nelson's 12th inning single scored Lenny Randle with Texas' winning run as the Rangers edged Cleveland.

The game started at 7:30 p.m. local time by special permission of the American League to avoid the hot Texas afternoon weather.

Pirates Use Home Advantage To Their Benefit; Beat Astros

By KEN RAPPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer
"We hit the ball and they caught it," said Lee May of the Houston Astros. "They hit the ball and it was in the hole. That's baseball."

No, that's the Pittsburgh Pirates. The Pirates use the home field advantage as well as any team in the National League—and Sunday turned it to their advantage again.

Base hits whistled through the infield on the hard, artificial surface at Three Rivers Stadium and the Pirates literally ran off with a pair of 3-2 victories over the Astros.

"I've never seen so many ground balls shoot through like they do for the Pirates," said Houston Manager Harry Walker. "Manny Sanguillen hits that ball on the ground and boom—it's gone."

The Pirates killed two birds with the double triumph. For one thing, the East leaders moved 4 1/2 games up on the second-place New York Mets, who lost a 7-3 decision to the San Diego Padres. For another, they dropped the Astros five games behind Cincinnati in the West after the Reds beat the St. Louis Cardinals 4-1.

Elsewhere in the National League, the Los Angeles Dodgers cut down the Montreal Expos 4-2; the San Francisco Giants defeated the Philadelphia Phillies 10-7 and the Chicago Cubs downed the Atlanta Braves 5-3.

In the American League, the Oakland A's tripped the New York Yankees 5-2; the Detroit Tigers turned back the Kansas City Royals 2-0; the Boston Red Sox walloped the Minnesota Twins 6-1; the Baltimore Orioles defeated the Chicago White Sox 6-1 in the first game of a doubleheader cut short in the seventh inning by rain; the California Angels blanked the Milwaukee Brewers 1-0 in the first game of a twin bill before losing the second, 2-1 and Texas edged Cleveland 3-2 in 12 innings.

The Pirates' first-game victory was fashioned with the help of speed, combined with that Tartan-Turf surface. The contest was tied 2-2 when Willie Stargell opened the 10th inning with a walk. Stargell raced to third when Sanguillen rifled a sharp single through the infield.

After Rennie Stennett was walked intentionally to load the bases, Bob Robertson was struck on the right wrist with a Fred Gladding pitch, forcing in the winning run.

In the second game, the Pirates took a 1-0 lead with an unearned run in the first inning—then used that tailormade combination of speed and playing-surface again to build their lead.

The Pirates scored their eventual winning runs off Houston's Don Wilson in the fourth when Al Oliver singled and scored on Stargell's double. Stennett then drilled a ball through the Astro infielders for a run-scoring single.

Bruce Kison got the second-game victory with last-out relief help from Dave Giusti, who nailed it down after giving up a two-run single to May.

Throwing errors by pitchers Jerry Koosman and Danny Friesella helped San Diego break a tie with four runs in the seventh inning as San Diego defeated New York.

The Padres tied the game 3-3 on Enzo Hernandez' two-run single in the sixth inning.

Bobby Tolan hit a tie-breaking home run, then doubled and scored again as Cincinnati took St. Louis behind Jack Billingham's eight-hitter. The Reds' victory was their sixth straight, boosting their front-running lead to its biggest of the year.

Metcalf, Walke Win Men's, Women's Singles

ATLANTA (AP) — Things got a little tough when Ross Walke lost the third set, but he was equal to the task Sunday. And so was Janice Metcalf.

Walker, No. 1 foreign seed from London, England, beat James Delaney of Potomac, Md., 6-2, 7-6, 6-7, 6-4, to win the men's singles in the U.S. National Amateur Clay Court Tennis Championships.

"I was confident, felt I had it all the way even after I lost the third set," Walker said. "I knew I had to work then because Delaney is dangerous coming from behind."

"I think that I played well today, perhaps better than I did yesterday," DeLaney said, "but Ross was the best on the court this afternoon and certainly deserved to win."

The women's singles turned out to be a rematch between Miss Metcalf of Clairmont, Calif., and 15-year-old Jeanne Evert of Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., who upset Miss Metcalf at the Southern Championships at Raleigh, N.C., two weeks ago.

It was a different story this time as Miss Metcalf came up with a 6-4, 3-6, 6-1 victory over Miss Evert, sister of Chris Evert who lost in the Wimbledon semifinals to Evonne Goolagong.

"I tried to play Jeanne the same way I did at Raleigh, working for a steady back court game and to be aggressive," Miss Metcalf said. "It worked her because I made less mistakes in the front court."

"Janice played just great," Miss Evert said. "She did what she had to do to win and did it well."

In the men's doubles, second-seeded Raz Reid of Greenville, S.C., and Fred McNair of Chevy Chase, Md., beat the No. 1 seeded team of George Hardie, Long Beach, Calif., and Tim Vann of Los Altos, Calif., 3-6, 6-3, 6-4, 7-6.

Pat Bostrom of Seattle, Wash., and Ann Lebedeff, San Diego, Calif., the No. 2 seeds, won the women's doubles, beating top-seeded Miss Metcalf and Jane Stratton, Salt Lake City, Utah, 4-6, 4-6, 6-0.

Miss Metcalf said she made fewer mistakes than in her Raleigh loss to Miss Evert. "I knew that I would have to go to the net and hit to her backhand if I was going to beat her," she said.

"I completely lost concentration in the second set," Miss Metcalf said. "But I wasn't afraid just because I was playing an Evert. I've played her before."

Miss Evert agreed it was Miss Metcalf's lack of mistakes that made the difference. "I don't think it was that I was playing bad as it was that she was playing good," Miss Evert said. "She's really a strong player."

"The only way to beat me is to go to the net, and that's what she did today," she added.

Miss Evert agreed it was Miss Metcalf's lack of mistakes that made the difference. "I don't think it was that I was playing bad as it was that she was playing good," Miss Evert said. "She's really a strong player."

Potter Takes Second Title

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP) — As the National AAU Outdoor Diving Championships concluded a five-day stand here Saturday, with Cindy Potter claiming her second title of the week and Rick Earley winning his second ever, the spotlight switched to Chicago and the Olympic Trials July 29-30.

"I wasn't thinking about how many individual championships I might win during this meet," Miss Potter said after picking up the three-meter crown to go with the one-meter title she won earlier.

"I was just trying to be consistent with each dive. Consistency is what wins, and that's what I'll need in Chicago to make the Olympic team," she said.

Earley echoed the statement. "This is probably my last shot at the Olympics," the 27-year-old school teacher from Fresno, Calif., said after claiming the men's ten-meter platform event. "I was seventh in 1964. Last time (1968) I was in the Army and didn't have enough time to prepare and finished 10th."

Both Saturday champions are Indiana University graduates. The 22-year-old Miss Potter, from Houston, Tex., became the first woman in history to complete a grand slam last summer when she won all three AAU events. A victory by Janet Ely of Ann Arbor, Mich., on the ten-meter tower prevented a repeat performance.

Don Dunfield of San Jose, Calif., captured the one-meter springboard competition and Columbus, Ohio's Mike Finne- ran became the three-meter king in men's division action earlier in the meet.

Lady Golfers Seek Week Of Rest

MASHPEE, Mass. (AP) — Former New England women's titlist Janie Blalock of Portsmouth, N.H., and Sandra Palmer of Fort Worth, Tex., hope to get a little rest this week after winning the $20,000 Angelo's LPGA four-ball golf championship.

"I plan to rest for a while, the pressure has been pretty great," said Miss Blalock, whose share of the $3,200 first prize went into escrow pending the outcome of her $5 million suit against the LPGA.

"I'd like to take a week off—I'm beat," Miss Palmer said Saturday after she and Miss Blalock combined for a six-under par 66 and a 36-hole total of 130 in winning the four-ball title in New Seabury.

Misses Blalock and Palmer collected 14 birdies without taking a bogey in the tournament shortened by rain which washed out the scheduled opening round last Thursday.

Three teams tied for second place at 138. They were Kathy Ahern and Peggy Wilson, Joanne Prentice and Beth Stone, and Gloria Ehret and Sandra Haynie.

Defending champions Kathy Whitworth and Judy Kimball tied for 18th, collecting $50 apiece for their 148 total.

Two and a half year-old Amy Napier of Hattiesburg, Miss. apparently isn't afraid of heights as she meets two giant Saints in the likes of defensive and Lawrence Estes (84) and tackle Doug Mooers during press day for the New Orleans team Sunday. Estes and Mooers are nearly 6-foot-7. (AP Wirephoto) but it was Johnson, one of seven blacks on the tour, who electrified the crowd of 13,250 with a spectacular finishing kick.

Johnson, whose only pro victory was in the 1971 Azalea satellite meet, fell to seven-under with a double bogey on the third hole and bogeys on each of the next three.

But he started the back nine with a birdie, eagled No. 11, and birdied 12 and 13 to close to within two strokes.

Johnson missed the birdie he needed on No. 18 when his 12-foot putt hit the right of the cup and spun out. Allin, who had been two strokes down after three rounds, almost birdied 18 with a 20-foot chip shot that rolled over the hole.

Colbert said he played the best pressure golf of his life in posting his second victory in seven years on the pro tour, but the Greater Milwaukee Open nearly lasted one hole too long Sunday for the 31-year-old Kansan.

Colbert was 14 under par for the meet and nursing a two-stroke lead when he bogeyed the 72nd hole. Then he watched under heart-stopping tension while charging George Johnson and steady Bud Allin, the final twosome, each barely missed birdies which would have forced a sudden-death playoff.

Colbert's final 69 on the par 71 Tripoli Golf Club course earned his $25,000 with a 13-under total of 271. Johnson, who had shared the second and third round leads with Colbert, finished a stroke behind along with Allin, Grier Jones and Chuck Courtney.

Courtney's 64 Sunday was the tournament's best single round,

Semi-pros Win

Greenville's semi-pro team took a 7-3 victory over Hamilton in a game played at East Carolina's practice field yesterday.

Greenville scored first in the opening inning when Wilson singled and reached home on successive singles by Beaman and Jarman.

Hamilton countered with a run in the third. A Leggett singled, moved around on a fielder's choice, went to third on a fly ball by Hardison, and scored on Crisp's sacrifice fly.

Evans led off the Greenville half of the third with a single, stole second before Wilson walked, but was thrown out at third on a fielder's choice hit by Beaman. But a single by Jarman and an error by the left-fielder allowed Wilson and Beaman to score.

Greenville scored three more in the fourth. Vincent singled and reached second on a balk. Successive singles by Brewer, Evans, and Wilson pushed across the three runs that meant victory.

The final Greenville run came home in the fifth when Jarman singled, Meeks also got a base hit, and Gurganus sacrificed Jarman home.

Hamilton came up with too little too late in the seventh when Scott and Leggett singled. Leggett was forced at second, but Scott and Coffield, the latter reaching on a hit, scored on a triple by Hardison.

Vincent was the winning pitcher for Greenville, while D. Hardison was the loser for Hamilton.

Falcons Have Day

GREENVILLE, S.C. (AP) — An estimated 10,000 supporters of the Atlanta Falcons showed up for "Fan Day" at the National Football League team's training camp Sunday.

The players met the fans and signed autographs for them.

Coach Norm Van Brocklin said the veterans are physically ready for their first practice today. He said the team physician reported the am to be in "the best physical condition of any Falcons team in the past."

Van Brocklin attributed the good report to an off-season weight-lifting program.

Surprised At Motorsport Win

By BLOYS BRITT
AP Auto Racing Writer

Old pro Joe Leonard had known all along that he didn't have the fastest car in Sunday's 200-mile race for Indianapolis-type cars at Michigan International Speedway.

But he knew he could finish the race and that was what he set out to do—hoping for a bit of luck along the way.

He got it with less than two miles to go. Mel Kenyon, another warhorse racer, was leading Leonard by almost a lap. Suddenly, Kenyon's Gilmore Special-Offy lost power going down the back stretch. He was out of gas.

Leonard moved into the lead and went on to win handily over Wally Dallenbach in an STP-Lola, with Kenyon coming in third and Sammy Sessions fourth. Lee Kunzman, a rookie, was fifth.

The race was stopped twice for a total of more than an hour and a half. The first red flag flew when Merle Bettenhausen crashed into an aluminum guard rail. He lost an arm in the accident and was hospitalized in critical condition.

In other weekend activity, Chevrolet-driving Bobby Allison won a 300-mile race for Grand National cars of the National Association For Stock Car Auto Racing at Trenton, N.J. His race speed was 114.030 m.p.h. Bobby Isaac was second in a Dodge, Richard Petty third in a Plymouth, Fred Lorenzen fourth in a Chevrolet and Cecil Gordon fifth in a Ford.

It was Allison's fifth triumph of the season and his $6,106 payoff boosted his season's money total to $133,266, tops on the NASCAR circuit.

Emerson Fittipaldi, the Brazilian star, beat Jackie Stewart to the wire by five seconds to win the British Grand Prix for Formula One cars.

Fittipaldi, who drives a Lotus sports car, now has a firm grip on his campaign to win the world driving title that Stewart hates to give up. It was Fittipaldi's third triumph of the season and he now leads Stewart in the points race 43-27.

American Peter Revson got his second third-place finish in his first year of Grand Prix competition. He drives a McLaren.

Graham McRae of New Zealand won the weekend's biggest purse, $22,100, when he captured the Continental 5000 race at Elkhart Lake, Wis. McRae won the first heat and was run-up to winner Skip Barber in the second heat.

Sam Posey placed second over-all and collected $12,950.

Warren Tope took his first victory in the Sports Car Club of America's Trans-Am series by driving a Mustang to an easy triumph at Elkhart Lake Saturday. He was paid $5,450.

Second place went to Milt Minter in a Firebird, third to Bill Collins in a Javelin.

Ramo Stott, the Keokuk, Iowa, veteran beat Roger McCluskey to the finish line by about one second in winning a 200-mile race for stock cars of the U.S. Auto Club at the Michigan oval.

McCluskey, wheeling a Plymouth, was the only driver in the same lap with Stott's Dodge at the finish. Third place went to Butch Hartman in a Dodge.

Farm Scene

By STEVE C. RIDDICK

Swine producers in Pitt County farrow approximately 6,000 sows twice each year. From these sows 120 thousand or more pigs are born. After about one week of age approximately 20 percent of these pigs are dead and within three weeks another 7 percent die. The loss of 30,000 new born pigs during the first few weeks of their life represents a staggering loss of potential profits which the swine industry is forced to bear.

If you are one of the producers that keep losses down to at least half of this average loss then no doubt you have had satisfactory profits and like the hog business. On the other, if your losses equal the average figures, you are probably wondering if you should remain in the hog business.

Raising your pig-per-litter average is the best profit opportunity you have in cutting costs and increasing returns in your hog enterprise. In planning for increased pig-per-litter averages, analyze your records and determine your strength and weakness. If records are not available, inventory your present situation and start some,

for records are the first step in improved management.

Next, develop your plan and establish goals for the future. A realistic goal should be ten or eleven pigs weaned per litter. In order to do this you must be prepared before the pigs arrive, and you must stay with your sows during farrowing.

Other factors influencing decreased litter sizes are: overfeeding of the breeding herd; cool, damp, dirty farrowing houses; absence of farrowing houses; insufficient milk supply; improper removal of needle teeth and care of the navel cord at birth; unequalized litter size, and presence of anemias. All of these are areas in which a producer can work to increase his pig-per-litter average and also increase his profit-making opportunities.

PRETTY POISON

MIAMI (AP) — Sea anemones appear to be flower-like plants. Actually, says Capt. Bill Gray of the Miami Seaquarium, they are carnivorous animals which use their "petals" as stinging tentacles to catch and destroy their prey.

Farm Tips

By Dr. J. W. Pou
Agricultural Specialist
Wachovia Bank & Trust Co., N.A.

Two new peach varieties with high quality fruit, superior disease resistance and cold tolerance during bloom have been developed at North Carolina State University.

The new peaches, named "Winblo" and "Rubired," were developed at the Sandhills Research Station, Jackson Springs, by horticultural scientist Franklin N. Correll and plant pathologist C. N. Clayton.

The researchers said the new peaches "could make significant contributions to the North Carolina peach industry in at least three areas: disease resistance, resistance to browning and tolerance to cold weather at bloom time."

When the commercial peach crop was heavily damaged by cold weather in 1964, both Winblo and Rubired were less severely damaged than the crop in general. Compared to the 15 percent "normal" crop produced in the area that year, Winblo produced 25 percent of a full crop of excellent fruit. During the same period, Rubired produced from 30 to 50 percent of a full crop.

Varieties with this apparent bud-hardiness are sorely needed by our peach industry, Dr. Clayton commented. All too frequently, the North Carolina crop is heavily damaged by late spring freezes.

Rubired is of Redhaven and Dixired parentage. At the Sandhills Research Station, this new variety has ripened between June 12 and June 26. This harvest period indicates that Rubired could give growers a variety that ripens just after the Candor variety and just before the varieties Pekin and Redhaven, thus filling a gap in the harvest season.

The fruits are medium to large, medium yellow and semi-freestone. Rubired's resistance to bacterial leafspot is described as "very high" and is one of its outstanding characteristics.

First picking dates for Winblo have ranged from July 10 to July 21 at the Sandhills Research Station. This is at about the same time the Loring variety ripens. Researchers Correll and Clayton said data indicate Winblo has an advantage of resistance to bacterial leafspot, which is rated "moderate to high."

The flesh of Winblo, which has the Redskin variety as one of its parents, is bright yellow. Fruits are very firm with excellent flavor. They are fully freestone when ripe and medium to large in size.

Both new varieties have shown good resistance to flesh browning when it is exposed to air. Rubired's rate of browning is described as "very slow" and Winblo's as "slow."

The new varieties have been going through a period of plant increase from foundation stock and are expected to be generally available for commercial planting by the end of this year.

FORECAST FOR TUESDAY, JULY 18, 1972

Carroll Richter's Horoscope

from the Carroll Richter Institute

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Until sundown you have an excellent chance to put into motion the decisions you made the past several days. Your keynote now should be, "I produce results." You can certainly do so through your own ingenuity and resourcefulness. However, take it easy tonight and get a good rest and don't annoy those in power.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Ideal day for paying bills, making collections, attending to government affairs, and good for pleasing romantic tie. The day can be most productive, but care is required during the p.m. Others are not in a very good mood.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Try to reach a better understanding with mate during a.m. Then cement improved relations with partners. You have to use care not to upset a clever partner in p.m. Avoid one who has a trick up his or her sleeve.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) You can get rid of all that extra work early in the day if you labor intelligently, so get at it quickly. Take the health treatments you need in p.m. Make this a constructive day, p.m.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Get into the activities that please you the most during spare time, but take care you do not argue with mate in p.m. Put those fine skills to work also. Bigwigs will appreciate them.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Try to do what mate or other family ties expect of you and make them feel happier and more secure. Get rid of tensions quickly. Take a little time for meditation.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Get into whatever is of an inventive nature and accomplish much today. Rest on your laurels in p.m. Plan better ways to be highly efficient in the future. Stop all that fussing and worrying.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) You can consult with experts if you want to handle those money problems really well, and also plan for increased income. Cut down on expenses immediately. Take it easy tonight and rest so you build up your energy.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) You can now push those personal aims easily provided you do favors for others. Plan how to be more socially active and popular, successful. Show you have true savoir faire.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) You have clever methods for quietly convincing bigwigs you deserve backing you want. You are able to help others get rid of their big problems, but do not spend much money. Advance.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Be thoughtful of good pals and show how much you appreciate them. Do some angling that will help you gain your aims. Save time by being alert to what has to be done next, otherwise you waste time. Keep active.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Show your talents to bigwigs and bring about fine results and benefits now. Get your ideas across in civic matters. Show you are a person of ability and charm, warmth. Think.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Use your finer principles in aiding the people you like who look to you for assistance. Show you are most understanding. Find the information you need and then put it to work intelligently.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be one of those fascinating young people who wants to make a real mark in life early, so be certain to give the finest spiritual and ethical training possible early. Having the right philosophy of life is most important here for stability and knowing exactly how to steer the ship instead of letting it flounder. Surround with many young playmates early in life so this youngster can learn how to handle others well upon maturity.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

GOREN ON BRIDGE

BY CHARLES H. GOREN

(c) 1972, By The Chicago Tribune)

BRIDGE QUIZ ANSWERS

Q. 1—As South, vulnerable,

you hold:

AKJ94 AKJ862 443

The bidding has proceeded:

East South West North

1 ♠ 2 ♠ Pass 2 ♠

Pass ?

What do you bid?

A.—Three diamonds, intending to bid and rebid hearts if circumstances permit. It is not necessary to take any more drastic action at this particular time inasmuch as a game forcing signal has already been flashed.

Q. 2—Both vulnerable, as

South you hold:

AK2 AK103 KJ5 4Q72

The bidding has proceeded:

North East South

1 ♠ Pass ?

What do you bid?

A.—One heart, with two hearts as a very close second choice. A trump bid is tempting,

however, the top limit of that bid is 18 points. On this hand, however, we have an additional ten and the added factor that the queen of clubs, in view of partner's bid, is apt to be worth more than the two points normally assigned to it. While our preference has been for an approach bid, we would not look down

our noses at anyone who chose a three no trump bid.

Q. 3—Neither vulnerable,

as South you hold:

AK874 A92 073 AKQ62

The bidding has proceeded:

East South West North

1 ♠ Dble. Pass 1 ♠

What do you bid now?

A.—Your double is of minimum proportions, and it is not appropriate for you to make a free raise. If partner has any constructive values, he will act again and a delayed raise by you will indicate you had no distinct excess values.

Q. 4—Your partner has opened with one spade, and

you hold:

AKQ442 765 082 AK33

What is your response?

A.—Two spades. This is an evenly balanced hand and is worth only nine points in support of spades. It is, therefore, just a raise.

Q. 5—As South, vulnerable,

you hold:

AJ92 J84 083 A7642

The bidding has proceeded:

South West North East

Pass 1 ♠ Dble. Pass

2 ♠ Pass 2 ♠ Pass

What do you bid now?

A.—A raise to three spades is clearly indicated. Up to this point

you have promised no values

whatsoever, and yet you have distinct support for partner who has shown a very fine hand by doubling first and then bidding at the level of two later.

Q. 6—Both vulnerable, as

South you hold:

10542 A1097 AJ9 AJ

The bidding has proceeded:

North East South

1 NT ?

What do you bid?

A.—Pass. This hand does not measure up to the requirements for a double of one no trump.

The takeout double should have a hand presumably as strong as the one he has doubled. To double one no trump, therefore, he should hold at least 16 points.

Q. 7—Both vulnerable, and

as South you hold:

AJ72 AJ94 AKQ93 46

The bidding has proceeded:

North East South

Pass 1 ♠ ?

What do you bid?

A.—We recommend a trap pass,

as calculated to produce the best results in the long run. A take-out double might result in an awkward situation if partner responds two clubs.

Q. 8—As South you hold:

AK2 KJ93 QJ98 109

The bidding has proceeded:

East South West North

2 ♠ Pass 2 NT Pass

3 ♠ Pass 3 ♠ Pass

4 ♠ Pass Pass Pass

What is your opening lead?

A.—Without straining the imagination, one can visualize a short suit in dummy and, in order to impair the ruffing value of that otherwise feeble dummy,

it is essential that the ace of spades be led, to be followed immediately by another spade.

Television Workshop Is Announced

WCTI-TV, New Bern, announces the commencement of a television workshop beginning Monday, August 7, in the Channel 12 studios located on Glenburnie Road.

Anyone interested in learning the many facets of the television industry is invited to join the workshop.

Supervising the instruction will be William R. Reel, a graduate of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill with a major in Radio-Television-Motion Pictures. Employed by WCTI-TV for over two years as a Producer-Director-Switcher and Associate Production Manager, Reel feels that to fully appreciate television as a public service to a mass audience, one must have the proper understanding of the "how and why" operations of the medium.

Emphasis of the workshop will be placed in two primary areas: TV's obligations to its viewers, and actual production of programs and commercials.

A special invitation is extended to all high school and college students interested in becoming associated with WCTI-TV on a part-time employment basis.

Each evening workshop will begin at 8 p.m. and last for approximately an hour and a half and will continue each Monday for as long as enough interested persons wish to attend.

Premier Noted As Developer

KUALA LUMPUR (UPI) — Malaysian Prime Minister Tun Abdul Razak is noted for his dedication to development projects, particularly the second five-year development plan launched last year. Urging its successful completion, he said on June 1: "We have only 1,270 days left."

Oil And Gas Explorations In N.C. Produce Trickle

RALEIGH (AP) — Millions of dollars have been spent in the search for oil and natural gas in North Carolina but, so far, more than 100 exploratory wells have produced only a trickle.

Only natural gas — not enough to be commercially worthwhile — has been found. But the state's top geologist, Steve Conrad, is not ready to give up. And neither, apparently, are the oil companies.

Conrad, director of the Office of Earth Resources in the State Department of Natural and Economic Resources, pointed out in an interview that Eastern North Carolina, where it's possible for oil or natural gas to occur, is so vast that "we've just barely scratched the surface" so far in the search.

"The Atlantic coastal area is the last major sedimentary basin in the continental United States with a potential for oil and gas production," Conrad said.

"Over the next few years a significant increase in oil exploration activity will be much in evidence," he predicted.

Conrad expects exploration of oil and gas to begin in the so-called Cape Fear Arch off the North Carolina coast once the U.S. Supreme Court decides on the ownership of offshore oil deposits and once the government completes a study of the environmental impact of offshore drilling.

"Statistically," he said, "the chances are better to discover oil off-shore because there we will be dealing with a thicker sedimentary section."

"But, it's possible that oil and gas may occur inland for some distance," Conrad added.

That's where he is expected "quite a bit of activity over the next few years ... simply because no one has the authority to do any drilling in the offshore area right now and it's a tremendously expensive operation offshore."

He noted that it's possible to drill on land and make projections into the offshore areas.

Right now, the Colonial Oil Co. and Cities Service Oil Co. have leases to explore for oil and gas on state-owned waterways in Eastern North Carolina. They are required to do 20,000 feet of drilling every two years to keep their leases alive.

Again Invited To Help Nixon

CAREY, Ohio (AP) — Vickie Lynn Cole, the Ohio school girl whose placard provided the 1968 inaugural theme for Richard Nixon, says she has been invited to work for the President's re-election and she says she thinks she'll accept.

Vicki said the Ohio Republican committee sent the invitation to her Friday night in a telegram.

Vickie who was 13 when she went to the Deshler, Ohio, railroad station with her eighth grade class to hear a Nixon campaign speech. She carried a sign reading "Bring Us Together Again." Nixon spotted the sign and later said the sight inspired his theme "Forward Together."

Karl Schmidt of San Antonio, Tex., has started drilling a well near Peletier in Carteret County for Colonial. Conrad said this was the first of a series of wells Colonial proposes to drill, principally in Carteret County.

Conrad said Cities Service has just completed a geophysical survey in the waters of Pallico Sound to assist it in planning for additional drilling.

In addition to the oil exploration on state-owned submerged lands, Conrad noted that R. R. DeKay Jr. has just drilled an exploratory well near Gum Neck in Tyrrell County.

Conrad said the oil searches in North Carolina has resulted only in "one or two wells where a fairly good show of gas has been detected."

"But remember the old saying that 'where there's smoke, there's fire,'" he stated.

"That's what keeps them interested."

Aggressive Fischer Is Said Ahead In 3rd Game

By JULIE FLINT
Associated Press Writer
REYKJAVIK, Iceland (AP) — American challenger Bobby Fischer forced the third game of the world chess championships off the stage and into a private room, gained the initiative from Russian titleholder Boris Spassky and was given a good chance to win when play resumes today.

But the future of the competition remained in suspense as aides of Spassky warned that the Soviet champion would refuse to play any additional games in the private room.

Play continues at 1 p.m. EDT with the referee opening a sealed envelope in which Fischer wrote out his 41st move at Sunday's adjournment.

The 29-year-old Brooklynite backed down on a threat to fly home Sunday and appeared for the third game in a small upstairs room of the Reykjavik sports hall. Spassky, 35, playing the white pieces, had already made his first move.

Fighting to overcome the Russian's 2-0 lead, Fischer forced Spassky to the defensive midway in the 5-hour, 18-minute session. At adjournment he was in a position to threaten the Russian's king. At the pause, each player had his king, queen and one bishop remaining while Fischer had six pawns to Spassky's five.

Isaac Kashdan, the international grandmaster analyzing the match for The Associated Press, said Fischer had excellent winning chances. He said in a clash of grandmasters, the one pawn advantage could be decisive.

Spassky won their opening game at Reykjavik last week and was declared winner of the second by forfeit when Fischer failed to appear because he objected to hidden television cameras filming the match.

Officials overruled the American's appeal against the forfeit, and until the last minute it was uncertain if Fischer would continue. He and two lawyers assisting him in Iceland had seats booked on a Sunday afternoon flight to New York, but they did not leave. Instead, at Fischer's insistence, the match was moved to the small room and the audience of paying fans in the big sports hall downstairs watched on closed circuit television. Apparently Fischer had no objection to that TV equipment.

But Referee Lothar Schmid announced he had moved the third game into the private room "just for today ... just to save the match."

Schmid said the rest of the games would be played in the hall.

Spassky's aides described the offstage room as a "chess cupboard" and warned that the Russian would not play any more games in it.

Looks Forward To His Holiday

CASTEL GANDOLFO, Italy (AP) — Pope Paul VI says the current rest he is taking at his summer estate in the Alban Hills will be good for him physically and spiritually.

The pontiff's praise for the "silence of the country" and the rest it would give him was contained in his Sunday noon blessing before a crowd of 3,000, the first of the year from his summer estate.

Vatican observers took the pontiff's reference to spiritual rest as reflecting his deep concern about criticism from within his own church, particularly on such matters as birth control, celibacy and papal infallibility.
