

Nominated Nixon Looks Ahead; Promises Fight For Youth Vote

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — A confident Richard Nixon, selected by cheering Republicans as their presidential nominee a record third time, is looking already to "the next four years" as a united GOP prepares to name Spiro T. Agnew once more as his running-mate.

Only the renomination of Agnew, expected to be unanimous in contrast to a floor fight four years ago, and the acceptance speeches of the two nominees remain tonight before the Republicans end their convention and set forth to do battle with the Democratic team of George McGovern and Sargent Shriver. Nixon emphasized in a pair of speeches here Tuesday, one upon his arrival at Miami International Airport, the other to some 8,000 young supporters within the hour of his convention triumph, that he intends to make a major pitch for the vote of young people in the fall campaign. "We've got just as good a shot at it as the other side, and we're going to get it," the President told a rally in Miami Marine Stadium across Biscayne Bay from Convention Hall. Just a few minutes earlier, a cascade of red, white and blue balloons tumbled down upon delegates, spectators and marching Nixon supporters and others floated upwards towards the ceiling as vast Convention Hall broke into pandemonium following the 76-minute rite of nomination. As expected, the roll-call vote stood at 1,347 for Nixon, one for Rep. Paul N. McCloskey of California. Rep. Manuel Lujan of New Mexico dutifully cast the one vote won by McCloskey in the state's primary.

An array of carefully selected speakers, spanning the party's ideological bridge from right to left, hailed the President in a smooth show of unity that contrasted sharply with the drawn-out displays of division that marked the Democratic selection of McGovern here last month. Outside the hall, meanwhile, throngs of youthful antiwar protesters demonstrated in the rain, jostling some delegates. Earlier, police made the first mass arrests of week, hauling off 212 protesters after they pounded cars and jostled pedestrians outside Convention Hall.

Sen. James L. Buckley of New York, one of those who seconded Nixon's nomination, was escorted into the hall by police after about 100 demonstrators ringed him and

FBI Kills One, Captures Another After Robbery

By TOM DIEMER
Associated Press Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — FBI agents shot and killed one alleged bank robber and captured his accomplice today at Kennedy airport as the pair prepared to board a private jet for a flight out of the country. Seven hostages they had held for more than 14 hours were unharmed.

The gunmen, one a self-admitted homosexual demanding the release of his male "wife" from a mental ward, had robbed a Brooklyn branch of the Chase Manhattan bank of $29,000 Tuesday afternoon and then held the employees hostage when they were surprised by police. The dead man was not immediately identified. In a bizarre drama that stretched through the night, the gunmen negotiated with FBI agents and police on their demands for the plane and a car to take them to the airport. A two-engine Hansa jet was brought to the airport about 2:30 a.m.

At 3:40 a.m. a limousine pulled up in front of the one-story bank and the homosexual, John Wojtowicz, came out of the building with a rifle slung over his shoulder to search the car. Wojtowicz, who had earlier demanded the release of his male "wife" from a hospital psychiatric ward, then surveyed the street, apparently looking for the hidden police sharpshooter. Satisfied, he got into the car with his accomplice, the hostages and an FBI agent for the driver. They drove off for the airport, arriving there at 4:45 a.m.

McGovern: Keep Power To Resist Foreign Powers

By H. L. SCHWARTZ III
Associated Press Writer
CHICAGO (AP) — Sen. George McGovern today deplored a campaign pledge to slash military spending, "no hostile power will succeed in threatening this country if I am president. No foreign power will push us around."

McGovern is to carry Illinois, a crucial swing state. McGovern flew in to Chicago fresh from an effort to win the whole-hearted support of another old-line Democrat, former President Lyndon B. Johnson. In his speech to the Legion, McGovern over and over reminded the veterans that he, too, had served in a war, as a bomber pilot in Europe during World War II.

"We will always have sufficient power to resist attack, the threat of attack or diplomacy by blackmail," the Democratic presidential nominee told the Legionnaires. McGovern, who has pledged to slash $32 billion from the current defense budget of more than $80 billion, said that even with those cuts "my budget would give us enough fire power to destroy Russia and China simultaneously 20 times over."

Daley, who was barred along with his Cook County delegation from last month's McGovern-dominated Democratic National Convention, has said he endorses the Democrats' national ticket. But Daley pointedly has refrained from a specific embrace of McGovern and has refused to say if he will work actively for McGovern and his vice presidential running mate, Sargent Shriver. In a planeside interview Tuesday night after arriving here from his get-together with Johnson in Texas, McGovern said he planned "just a friendly visit" with Daley.

Sugg New Chairman

RALEIGH (AP) — Democratic gubernatorial nominee Hargrove "Skipper" Bowles has picked New Bern lawyer James R. Sugg as his choice for party chairman. The state Democratic committee will meet in Raleigh Thursday morning to select a successor to John T. Church of Henderson. Disclosure of Bowles' choice came when his staff began notifying members of the state committee today that he was recommending Sugg.

John F. Malone, special agent in charge of the FBI's New York office, told a news conference that his assistant, Richard Baker, walked up to the limousine as it reached the plane and talked to the men inside. While he was talking, the agent-driver, who was not identified, pulled his gun and fired one shot, fatally wounding one man in the chest. The shooting took place at a remote runway near Jamaica Bay at the southern end of the huge jetport. Malone said the agents recovered from the limousine the $29,000 taken from the bank and three guns, a .38-caliber snub nosed pistol, a shotgun and a 30-06 rifle.

The gunmen originally seized nine hostages but released the bank guard, Calvin Jones, three hours after the holdup, and left one woman hostage when they drove off with six other women and the bank manager. The 13-hour drama at the bank was punctuated by several bizarre incidents. Homosexual friends of Wojtowicz came to visit him at the bank and kissed him as he stood in the doorway while a crowd of hundreds of onlookers cheered. About 11 p.m. the gunmen got hungry and asked FBI agents to go for pizzas and soda. When they returned, the agents sampled the food before leaving it in the doorway, apparently at the gunmen's directions. Newsmen were in contact with the hostages and with Wojtowicz on the bank telephone during the early hours of the drama. "I expect to get out of here," he told a radio newsmen. "I know they're going to get me sooner or later, but they've got to play it cool."

Greenville topped the 17-market Eastern Belt in poundage Tuesday as the belt completed its first full sales day for the 1972 tobacco season. The local market reached the magic mark of the one million in both pounds and money as operations began on a regular schedule following two weeks of limited sales.

Operating with four sets of buyers, Greenville warehouses sold 1,582,461 pounds Tuesday for $1,372,727, an average of $86.75. The average was three cents higher than Monday's figures. In addition to Greenville, other markets selling at least one million pounds yesterday were Wilson with 1,473,994; Kinston, with 1,150,134; and Rocky Mount, with 1,133,114.

Williamston and Windsor shared top average honors as they posted $87.04 figures. Wendell averaged an even $87 per hundred pounds. Beltwide, eastern markets sold 10,408,805 pounds Tuesday for $9,032,846, an overall average of $86.78. To date, the belt has sold 32,379,901 pounds for $28,039,698, a season average of $86.60.

Stabilization receipts for Tuesday totaled 3,820 pounds. The Farmville market improved on its average over Monday as warehouses there sold 580,776 pounds for $504,433, an average of $86.86 per hundred pounds.

The sales supervisor for the Farmville Tobacco Board of Trade, Louis Williams reported that offerings yesterday consisted mostly of primings and lugs with the volume of leaf and cutter grades showing an increase. Top price on some grades of leaf and cutters reached $88, he said, and the volume of non-descript tobacco was slightly heavier than on Monday. Daily averages are running approximately $8 above last year, he said.

To date, Williams reported, the market has sold 2,572,472 pounds for $2,226,922, an average of $86.57 per hundred pounds. The following figures, compiled by the Federal-State Market News Service in Wilson, shows totals for Tuesday's beltwide operation.

The Board of Directors of the Pitt County United Fund adopted Tuesday night a 1973 fund goal of $157,526, an increase of approximately $16,000 over last year's budget. Joe Clark, first vice president and chairman of the budget committee, reported prior to board approval that most of the agencies funded through UF received increases under the recommended 1973 budget.

He explained that a budget sub-committee met with the various agencies and recommended, according to the needs of each agency, the budget allocations. Total requested for this year was $179,955, Clark added, and the budget committee recommended what it felt was justified. Totals approved by the board for 1973 include: Association for the Blind, $3,250; Pitt Mental Health, $10,980; Salvation Army, $26,611; 4-H Club Council, $1,080; Girl Scouts, $10,800; Boy Scouts, $23,000; Retarded children, $13,135; Red Cross, $21,717; Boys' Club, $7,000; and North Carolina United, which includes the Children's Home Society of North Carolina, the Florence Crittendon Services, the N.C. Mental Health Association, the N.C. United Community Services, and the United Service Organization, $9,022. Also, $13,500 was budgeted for local community services and $7,500 was approved for a contingency fund to cover unpaid pledges. Office expenses for the county UF office was set at $19,931. United Fund president Jack Whichard reported that the Girl Scouts and the Boys' Club of Greenville and Pitt County had been notified that their request for additional funds for 1972 had been denied. Whichard noted that a surplus did not exist, as had been rumored.

Gene Carson, UF treasurer, reported that some 80.8 per cent of the 1971-72 funds had been collected through yesterday, leaving $27,119.57 needed to meet the goal of $141,299.04. Carson said that the majority of the funds yet to be collected involve payroll deductions.

The board also approved Tuesday night the continuation of four organizations' practice of conducting sustained membership drives to collect membership fees that would supplement the UF allocations. Whichard, who expressed his appreciation to Clark and the members of the budget committee for their work in preparing the 1973 recommendations, reported that the upcoming drive will be kicked off on Oct. 2.

The campaign chairman for this year's drive has been selected and will be announced in the near future, it was reported.

Send Relief For Flood Victims

WILKES-BARRE, PA. — A young man and his wife were mowing the dust-covered grass in their yard and trimming the shrubbery around their front steps. But the steps only led to where their home HAD been prior to the June 21-22-23 visit of tropical storm Agnes. Piles of debris lay beside the streets waiting to be hauled away, and the streets themselves in some areas — although paved—produced dust as bad as an Eastern North Carolina dirt road on a hot, dry Summer day because of the dirt deposited there when the Susquehanna River flooded. Efforts to settle the dust by having water trucks douse them at intervals failed to meet the demand. A mile from the river, the high water marks on the buildings and homes were six feet or more above the level of the street, while nearer the river, there was evidence water completely covered one-story homes and water marks were visible midway up the second floor or higher on two-story dwellings. That was the scene in this Wyoming Valley city of 60,000 as a U.S. Marine Corps C-130 transport from Cherry Point, N.C. at the Wilkes-Barre-Scranton airport with 20,000 pounds of clothing and cleaning supplies for the flood victims yesterday. The relief material was the second shipment of goods collected by the Veterans of Foreign Wars and Jaycees in North Carolina and delivered by the Marines. Although some of the residents have left the area disheartened, others remain, determined to rebuild. Many American flags can be seen flying from houses once covered by water. And signs abound. "Don't Look - Help", "We Came Back", "Vally With A Heart - Coming Back" are just a few. —Stuart Savage

Police said the man escaped in a car which was seen going toward Durham.

Doesn't Call Wife By First Name

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1972 by Chicago Tribune—N.Y. News Synd., Inc.

DEAR ABBY: I am married to a man who has not called me by my first name for the past 20 years.

If the phone rings and it's for me, he will look at me and say, "Telephone!"

He will ask, "What do you want from the store?" Or, "Who's coming over?"

At times he communicates with me thru the children by saying, "Tell your mother, etc."

Yes, I have asked him hundreds of times to kindly use my name. His answer, "Why is it so important to you?"

Abby, I can't make him understand. This name quirk of his applies only to me. He calls everyone else by their names. Even the dog!

Why should a man refuse to call his wife by her first name? During the honeymoon years he called me "Baby," and "Snooky," but that's long gone. Sign me,

NAMELESS

DEAR NAMELESS: YOU may be nameless, but there are several names for a man who deliberately needles his wife for 20 years. He probably derives a sadistic pleasure out of your reaction. Try ignoring it and see what happens.

DEAR ABBY: I am a widow with one 16-year-old daughter. She is a good stable girl and never gave me any problems. She started going steady with a very nice young boy of 17. Thru this boy I met his divorced father. We took an instant liking to each other, and are now going together.

At first the children thought it an amusing novelty, mother and daughter dating father and son. Now they are concerned because if the father and I should marry, they will become legally sister and brother and should they want to marry later on, they won't be able to.

Another problem comes to mind. If the father and I marry, how about two young people who are romantically involved sharing the same house?

THINKING AHEAD

DEAR THINKING: If you and the father should marry, your children will be related by marriage, not blood, and they can marry if they so choose. As for the other problem, if your daughter is "stable," you'll not have to worry about her horsing around.

DEAR ABBY: Having had a very strict Christian upbringing, I was taught never to let a man kiss me passionately until after the vows, "I do" were spoken. But I did. Just once.

After being courted for eight months, Brownie said good night to me. Then he turned suddenly, grabbed me and said, "Kiss me good night." I did. And what a kiss that was!

He held me close and whispered, "Little girl, I could never live without you now." That's how Brownie proposed to me.

Perhaps you'd like to know about the first supper I served him?

Being a country girl, our big meal was always at noon, eating a hearty breakfast, but very little in the evening.

It was July, and extremely hot in Rocky Mount, N. C., where we lived, so when Brownie came home, I had a big pitcher of ice-cold lemonade on the table with a platter of peanut butter sandwiches. He looked at it and asked,

"GEORGIA GIRL" [formerly of Savannah]

DEAR ABBY: This letter is in reply to "Tempted Teacher" who admitted that he found one of his young female students somewhat tempting: Being a 28-year-old male teacher who has taught in the public schools for a few years, may I share with you and your readers the following:

A few weeks after school began [last year] some male teachers were talking about some of the girls in their classes. One of them said, "I can hardly keep my mind on my teaching because of the way some girls are dressed!" [I am sure this is the case in 90 per cent of the schools in America.]

Many girls come to school wearing miniskirts, and the teacher must teach in full view of their underclothing, which is bad enough. But try teaching with girls in your class who have absolutely NOTHING on underneath!

Some teachers say nothing because they enjoy looking. Others are too embarrassed to say anything.

Parents say nothing because they don't make parents any more like my Mom and Dad.

So, you tell me. What is a teacher to do when tempted? Keep his eyes off? Ha! In my opinion the girls need to put something ON!

Long Hours, But She Enjoys It

By CAROL TYER
Reflector Staff Writer
Margaret Laughinghouse is spending her second summer raking silage on the Randolph Dairy Farm near here.

She works 10 to 12 hours a day lifting forks full of shredded corn (stalks, leaves, ears, and all) from a cart onto a conveyor which carries it to the top of a silo into which it is allowed to fall. It's a "man's job," but Margaret maintains she can do it as well as anyone and she loves the exhilaration of hard physical work in the open air.

"I tried working in a department store one," she said. "I liked the people fine, but I couldn't stand being inside for hours at a time. I hope there's never a time in my life when I have to work inside exclusively. I'd hate it."

The Rose High School graduate says she plans to attend Louisburg College next year and hopes eventually to transfer to East Carolina University and major in art. After that she would like to attend a good horseback riding school, preferably world-renowned Heather Hall in England, where one can earn a bachelor's degree in horsemanship. She also would like to work at a horse race track one summer for the experience, she said.

Margaret was reared on a farm and she said she grew up working hard. "I've always helped Daddy mend the fences, tear down a house if need be, work in the garden, or do anything else there is to do," she said. "Also, there were always lots of animals to tend to—horses, ducks, peacocks, as well as cats and dogs. I have a two-year-old German Shepherd named Tara that I love dearly. She's the main reason I hate to go off to school next year, although I know I'll be home practically every weekend and I have brothers and sisters to take care of her."

"The work Margaret does for us is backbreaking," Mrs. Herbert Randolph said. "But she always acts as if she likes it and she does a good job, so we were more than willing to hire her again this year. I try to relieve her for a few minutes every so often, but usually she refuses to let

Lawyer Makes More Money Sewing

By ALISON LERRICK
PARIS (AP) — It can be hard to be a lawyer if you know how to sew.

Eight years ago, Sara Shelburne left her hometown, Richmond, Va., to finish her thesis in international law. Now, the 28-year-old is still in Paris...but using scissors instead of a pen.

"I absolutely adore clothes," says the dark-haired Miss Shelburne, who has always done her own sewing. She started making clothes for other people as a hobby and slowly it got the better of those dusty law books.

"I have no fashion experience," she says with pride. "But I draw, sew, drape, cut, make patterns and design my own prints. I guess you learn by doing."

It all began with three enormous suitcases and $1,000. The first she lugged to New York stuffed with her initial collection. The second she used to buy the plane ticket.

"I knew from nothing. No one had ever heard of me," she reminisces. "I just called up a store and said, 'hello, may I speak to a buyer?'"

About a year ago she opened her very own boutique, called "Sara Shelburne." Subtitled "American Fashion in Paris", her clothes often go to department stores and specialty shops throughout America. "I'm all over the mid-East, from Chicago to Texas," says the designer. The North and the West are fertile grounds too, "but not so much the South."

Wherever they go, the clothes come out of her atelier upstairs. "We dress some women from A to Z, except for their undies. They aren't young, though. Of course," adds Sara, "it depends on what you call young. They are my age, from 24 to 45 years old."

But A to Z isn't enough. Her real aim—to resurrect a dying breed, "the faithful customer." As bait, she offers those little services that have made the French dressmaker famous through the centuries. This means a missing button or singed sleeve replaced, with the only charge being a word of thanks. If you have a special dress in mind, Miss Shelburne—or rather, her eight workers—will whip it up for the same price as any dress in the shop.

"This pays off," she admits. "Anyway, our prices are cheap for France. Fifty dollars for a crepe de chine dress is just nothing."

Apparently, the price is right, for she will soon open a chain of "Sara Shelburne's" in France, beginning with a second store in Paris.

Should Tuition Be Equalized?

The Board of Governors of the state's universities has made a step in the right direction by setting up an equalized system of tuition and fees for all of the institutions.

Until last week the tuition varied from school-to-school, having grown up in a hodge podge way. Tuitions have ranged from a high of $306 at Greensboro to Fayetteville State's low of $188.

The Board of Governors set a three level tuition rate for the universities over the 1973-75 biennium. Those with doctorate programs—N.C. State, Chapel Hill and Greensboro—would have an annual tuition and fees rate of $330.

Five year institutions, including East Carolina, would have tuition of $282. Four year institutions would be at the rate of $242 annually.

Of course for schools like East Carolina, the new formula will mean an increase in tuition and fees over the two years of the biennium. The present rate at ECU is $248.

Still, the new system brings some order out of chaos in the matter of what is charged for an in-state student to receive an education at a state supported institution.

The only thing that disturbs us about it is why should a freshman at a school offering doctorate training pay more for his education than a student at a four year institution?

It is well known that the graduate programs cost far more than undergraduate; however the freshman at a doctorate offering institution is a long way from receiving any benefit from the graduate programs.

Perhaps some thought should be given to a system of tuition and fees which cost the student equally for undergraduate courses, regardless of where he is in school. This might mean that the graduate student would have to pay more; but he is also getting more and his training is going to mean more for him upon graduation.

Bowles To Use Republicans

By BRYAN HAISLIP
Raleigh, N.C. — Could a Republican head a major state department in the administration of a Democratic governor.

The answer is affirmative, if Hargrove (Skipper) Bowles, Jr. is elected.

The possibility, a sharp departure from politics as it has been practiced in North Carolina, was raised by Bowles in an interview to illustrate his determination to throw open windows and let fresh air into state government.

"I think the people who voted for me in the primary felt that I represented a change, a new approach to running state government," said Bowles.

government reorganization, he predicted. The key factor, he added, will be those placed in the cabinet level positions over major departments and agencies.

Personnel turnover is only one phase of changes Bowles has in mind. He also plans to implement new policies in money management and new priorities in state services.

Spending for built-in programs can be pruned, he said. "Not with a meat cleaver, but with a surgeon's knife and skill to trim out the real fat," he said.

That sort of budget surgery is one of the ways Bowles intends to stick to his campaign theme of no new taxes.

Vocational education and mental health are among the areas he will emphasize in setting a direction for the state.

Between the plans being made in later summer and their realization next spring lies the fall ballot battle with Jim Holshouser, the Republican gubernatorial candidate. Most observers size it up as a race in which the traditional Democratic advantage will be eroded by the voter trend to ticket splitting.

Polis Shows Lead

A poll taken in recent weeks showed a substantial margin for Bowles in the race for governor. By almost an identical percentage, it indicated Tar Heels prefer President Nixon over Democrat George McGovern.

The mood in the Bowles camp is confident, tempered by recollections of the spring primary. Then, early polls gave Taylor cause for confidence but the lead evaporated in the heat of the campaign.

"We're taking nothing for granted," remarked a Bowles campaign aide.

His background in business and experience as head of a large state agency (Conservation & Development, under Gov. Terry Sanford) give Bowles an appreciation for the role of administrator. It must be someone skilled in organization and accustomed to directing large numbers of people, he said.

"Thank goodness, we have a corps of dedicated career people in state government who can take a new, capable administrator by the hand and guide him," Bowles added.

An avowed absence of further ambition will give him a freer choice, he said. "I think Max Gardner said, 'Nothing is more productive of cowardice than a sustained desire to remain in public office,'" Bowles said.

"I will not run for, or accept appointment to, any other office. I will be able to make my decisions on the basis of what I want to accomplish as governor, not whether it will help or hinder some future political goal."

Another Step Is Made In Planetarium Plans

Another step toward the fulfillment of plans for an ECU planetarium has been taken with the announcement of a $20,000 grant from the National Science Foundation.

The funds will be used for equipping the planetarium.

Donations from firms and individuals have reached the $300,000 mark for construction of the planetarium. The NSF grant will help assure that the unique facility is well equipped.

Watergate Caper Dulls Happiness

By ROWLANE EVANS and ROBERT NOVAK

MIAMI BEACH — High-rise euphoria enveloping the Republican national convention has been somewhat reduced by this grim word passed to state party leaders by Presidential aides: expect more bad news soon about the Watergate Caper.

Perhaps as early as this week, these aides have warned, criminal indictments will be returned against officials in President Nixon's campaign organization in connection with the break-in at Democratic national headquarters in Washington's Watergate building. What's more, the impact of the expected indictments will be all the worse, some Nixon lieutenants admit privately, because of unwise high-level strategy decisions made weeks ago.

Thus, the specter of the Watergate Caper has a double meaning for the Republicans assembled here. It is a needless, potentially dangerous issue in Mr. Nixon's reelection campaign against Sen. George McGovern. But even if it never reaches its potential danger point, the handling of the Watergate Caper by the Nixon campaign Organization is giving thoughtful Republicans the shakes over how other sticky questions will be handled in the weeks ahead.

Just who will be indicted is not now being revealed, but Presidential aides say the accused will be the middle-level operatives already publicly implicated. Chief Nixon fund-raiser Maurice Stans, who may be forced to resign, is not expected to face criminal action.

But even if a John Mitchell or a Maurice Stans is not directly implicated, indictment of little-known Nixon lieutenants will contradict earlier protests of innocence and provide fuel for McGovern. The reason goes back to a major tactical dispute among Presidential aides which began on June 17 when the Watergate buggers were caught red-handed.

At that time, several political and public relations aides at the White House submitted this advice in written memoranda: don't hide anything; the instant any evidence implicates a Nixon aide, take it at once to the public; the watchword should be that we have nothing to hide.

In the fuzzy formlessness that passes for political decision-making in the Nixon White House, there is no sign these memoranda were ever discussed. Nor is it likely that the President directly involved himself at that stage. However murky the decision-making process, there was no doubt whatever about the decision: the policy of openness was rejected.

Some Presidential aides say a recommendation to that effect was made by White House political operative Charles Colson. But the basic decision came from two lawyers who believe in giving the public the least possible

Republican Roller Derby

MIAMI BEACH — "Ladies and gentlemen, from our booth high above the Miami Convention Center we bring you the Republican TV Roller Derby. The first event is about to start, featuring the derby teams of NBC, CBS, ABC and PBS floor correspondents. The object of this race is for the news teams to get from one side of the convention floor to the other with their microphones in order to interview Tricia Nixon Cox in the presidential box. The first one who gets there and manages to stick a mike up to Tricia's face wins the race.

"The correspondents line up at the starting line. The gavel goes down and they're off! Douglas Kiker of NBC is in the lead, Dan Rather of CBS is pulling up on the inside, Herb Kaplow of ABC has just elbowed NBC's Garrick Utley in the kidney. "Cassie Mackin of NBC has leaped over three chairs, and now she is out in front. Wait a minute. Kiker has tripped, and Rober Mudd of CBS has tripped over Kiker. Frank Reynolds, the ABC sprinter, has just grabbed Cassie Mackin by the leg, and she has been slowed down.

"Mike Wallace of CBS is making his move now by cutting through the North Dakota delegation—actually he's crawling across their laps. But he's been stopped. Someone is asking for his autograph. "Tom Pettit of NBC has suddenly appeared out of nowhere. Pettit is only 50 yards from Tricia. Hold it! Sander Vanocur of Public Broadcasting is holding on to Pettit's throat. They've disappeared underneath the Alaska delegation chairs.

"Kiker and Mudd are both up again, and they are now neck and neck, not more than 35 yards from the finish line. Kiker has just thrown his mike wire around Mudd's neck, and Mudd is strangling. But wait! John Hart, the CBS man, has kicked Kiker in the shins. Kiker is down on his knees. Mudd is untangling the wire from around his neck. I don't see Cassie Mackin. There she is, struggling through the Wisconsin delegation! Her cameraman is now lifting her over to the Minnesota delegation. She can't be more than 25 yards from Tricia.

"Sam Donaldson of ABC has pushed Cassie back to Wisconsin. She has lost her balance and is falling into the laps of the Puerto Rico delegation.

"Dan Rather has taken over the lead. No, Garrick Utley has just stabbed Rather in the thigh with his portable head antenna, and Rather is receiving first aid. Utley is now in front.

"Robert MacNeil of Public Broadcasting is just behind Utley. MacNeil swings his clipboard, and Utley is stunned.

"Something's happening now! I can't make it out. The ABC team is being called off the floor! Yes, ladies and

Mitchum: Box Office Durable

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Remember when Robert Mitchum was one of the bad boys of Hollywood?

There was a time when the big handsome actor seemed to be involved in more romantic and fistic misadventures off the screen than on it. Some of his critics predicted he was too boisterous to last as a star.

But time has calmed him and now that he has made some 61 pictures in nearly 30 years—his latest is "Wrath of God"—he has become one of the most durable box-office names in the industry.

HAL BOYLE

Directors rate him as one of the best and most dependable actors in films. But Bob himself, who once worked in an aircraft factory, still talks as if he regarded acting as a temporary source of livelihood.

"This business has robbed me of my initiative," he said, smiling. "It's so easy to do. There are only two hard things about it—wiping off the makeup at the end of the day and putting on and pulling off your boots while you're making a Western."

But Mitchum, despite a lifelong skepticism of people and their professed motives, is no goldbrick. On the set he is known as a hard and conscientious worker.

"I take life myself pretty much as it does. I've never been bored. I could sit in a closet and be pleased. I like the day as it comes."

Mitchum has pretty well lived down the public's image of him as a heavy-drinking, tough playboy.

"I don't know what my public image is—there have been so many versions," he remarked. "Worrying about that could drive you into schizophrenia. But I think the most dangerous thing for an actor to do is to try to live up to any public image of him.

"My friends say I've changed over the last 25 years. I haven't. I have kept the same values. The best value, I think, is honesty. You always have to keep searching yourself to see whether your motives are clear—or whether you're kidding yourself."

Here are the things Mitchum likes: "Any excellence in any field—early morning, because it stands for another chance—autumn—soft moans—true self-possession—ham hocks, steak and kidney pie—milk—leather and stable smells—feminine scents—good relations with women, and I've always had them."

And here are his dislikes: "Poseurs—half the people in the world are faking it—the roar of the city with everyone talking at once—overpowering perfumes—joiners—if you have to be 50 people to be one man, better back up and try again—self-prerogative in women—creamed foods—and exotic drinks that make you blow your nose in a canoe."

What would Bob Mitchum like to be on his 75th birthday?

"Quietly forgotten," he answered. "I don't think I can hack it the long. No way. I'm still in a state of shock that I even made 30."

Other Editors Say Tobacco: Cure-all

(Goldsboro News-Argus)

Back in the "old" days, ever kid in the neighborhood knew that the best cure for worms in a dog was a good chaw of tobacco.

And we have come to know that by pressing a wad of chewing tobacco against a bee sting or wasp sting or horsefly bite, we can somehow "cure" the ill effects in a matter of minutes.

Old wives tales?

Perhaps.

But we always do it. And it somehow seems to work.

Now the kids have come up with an observation that further kindles our interest.

They've been cropping tobacco this summer. Invariably one gets cut or blistered or has some minor abrasion of the fingers or hands.

They were sharing experiences the other night.

"I got this one today," said the oldest boy.

"Look at where I cut my finger this afternoon," offered the youngest daughter.

There was no sign of infection.

The kids insisted there was no sensation at all of their having been cut or scraped.

"The tobacco stain just seems to cure it right up," one of the kids offered.

It occurred to us that while the tobacco research people are spending all their time trying to prove tobacco isn't harmful, some attention should be given to the plus side.

Imagine one day seeing on the side of a package of tobacco: "Greetings! The contents of this package may be helpful in the treatment of insect bites, cut, bruises, worms, falling hair, flat feet ..."

Strength For Today

SEASONS IN WORLD AND IN LIFE

There is a natural decline and decay of all living things. The verdure of spring becomes the teeming harvest of midsummer. Then come the rich colors of autumn to dress the growing world for burial. The leaves drop off the trees.

Among humans we begin to die almost as soon as we begin to live. The forty-year-old person feels that a turn downward has taken place in his life. At fifty, sixty, seventy, vast and noticeable changes take place.

Yet this is all part of God's creation. It is the outcome of his will. We live, we are tested, we die. We grow, we yield our harvest, we fall into the sere decline of autumn.

Yet there is nothing about this that should give us either the least concern or the least regret. It is part of a cycle within the great cycle of God's love. We have nothing to do with the creation of this order of things. On the other hand, we alone are responsible for what takes place in our lives between birth and death. Adverse circumstances? Heredity? Ill fortune? Do these not count? Oh yes, but what counts more is our energy, our unwavering purpose, our determination to reach a goal.

The cycle of birth, growth, harvest and decay is not hopeless. It is inspiring, although for just one reason — it is part of a larger plan of God. It is our privilege as well as our duty to enter into that cycle with joy — with resignation to its leading.

Short Tax Form Makes Comeback

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — In 1969 the Internal Revenue Service eliminated the 1040A short form tax return, supposedly to save the taxpayer money. Now it is being brought back, purportedly for the same reason.

The about face exemplifies more than the dilemma of the IRS in devising a satisfactory reporting method for the small taxpayer. It also symbolizes the growing dispute between the IRS and the nation's tax services.

More specifically, it involves the services and IRS Commissioner Johnnie M. Walters, who believes that most small taxpayers can work out their own returns and should be encouraged to do so. Thus the return of the short form.

The tax preparers claim that while small taxpayers might save the fee involved in obtaining aid, which runs from $5 up, they are likely to lose many times that amount in overpayments.

They claim that the short form, on which deductions are not itemized, will encourage overpayment, especially as a result of recent changes in the law.

Understandably, the position of the tax preparers is influenced by self-interest. Mass acceptance of the short form would cost the larger preparers millions of dollars and drive out of business thousands of smaller ones. But they claim their concern goes beyond themselves.

Richard Bloch, chairman of H & R Block, insists that return of the 1040A is an injustice to millions of taxpayers, an injustice he says is compounded by a more complex set of tax requirements.

The short form, he says, will encourage taxpayers to ignore itemizing their returns for, among others, "the new child care provision which offers a potential deduction of $4,800, sick pay, retirement income credit and more."

Walters believes it is necessary to make tax filing easier. While the long form is felt to be only slightly more complicated than the short, there is an indisputable psychological barrier involved.

This barrier often motivates the 30 million or more taxpayers with income mainly from wages, dividends and interest to seek out the services of private tax preparers, to whom they pay a fee that Walters sees as wasteful.

The preparers disagree. Says Bloch: "We have seven million clients and in general they save far more in taxes than they pay us for our services." The preparers maintain that the IRS' own studies fail to support the contention that the short form is a money saver.

Fore Is Pitt Nixon Chairman

Dr. William W. Fore of Greenville has been named Pitt County chairman to re-elect the president.

DR. W. W. FORE

"We hope to organize Pitt County, with the help of loyal Republican workers, so we can carry the county for Pres. Nixon with the largest Republican majority in the county's history," Dr. Fore said.

A Virginia native, Dr. Fore was educated at Duke University, he did post graduate work there and at Johns Hopkins Hospital in Baltimore, Md. A specialist in internal and nuclear medicine, he has practiced in Greenville since 1966.

He serves as vice president of both the North Carolina and the Eastern North Carolina Diabetic Associations and is a past president of the Pitt County Cancer Society. A member of St. James United Methodist Church, he is on the Board of the Salvation Army. He is a member of the Board of Governors of both the Greenville Kiwanis Club and the Greenville Golf and Country Club and belongs to the Pitt County Medical and Dental Society and the American Medical Association.

He and his wife, Betty, have three children, Whately, nine, Tommy, seven, and Mary Tyler, two.

Evans-Novak . .

(Continued from page 4) information — John Dean at the White House and Robert Mardian (former Assistant Attorney General) at the Nixon reelection committee. Dean and Mardian, in turn, reflect the closed-door politics of former Atty. Gen. John Mitchell, Mr. Nixon's campaign manager at the time of the Watergate Caper. There is the unmistakable Mitchell touch in the policy of reveal-nothing, admit-nothing and apologize-for-nothing adopted for the Watergate Caper (just now replaced by a belated move toward more candor by Clark MacGregor, Mitchell's successor).

The Mitchell policy held through June when G. Gordon Liddy was fired as the reelection committee's finance counsel for refusing to answer FBI questions about the Watergate outrage. Under the open policy recommended but rejected, this would have been quickly publicized. Instead, Liddy's firing leaked out weeks later, reinforcing the impression of something to hide.

The button-down policy is at work in the determination not to reveal who contributed $10 million to Mr. Nixon just before the deadline requiring public exposure. Republican leaders in close states — most notably New York — would rather not have McGovern talking about a $10 million "secret fund" all autumn. Indeed some McGovern advisers believe this could be more politically lucrative than the Watergate Caper.

In short, the suspicion and hostility of Mr. Nixon's domestic advisers in dealing with the outside world persist after nearly four years. That's one reason why state Republican leaders here have little confidence in the President's campaign organization and thank their lucky stars that McGovern's seemingly unending blunders so far dwarf Republican mistakes.

Buchwald . .

(Continued from page 4) gentlemen, the ABC team is being called off the floor. We have just received word that ABC, who covered the convention for 12 minutes, is now going back to local programming.

"It now seems to be a race between NBC and CBS. Vanocur and MacNeil of Public Broadcasting have just been sent to the penalty box by the White House Television Adviser and have been told to stay there.

"Tom Pettit has overtaken Utley, but John Hart has body-checked him and Pettit is sailing across the floor into Bebe Rebozo's arms.

"Mike Wallace is two yards from Tricia, Doug Kiker has just slipped under Wallace's legs and is a yard away. Wait a minute, Cassie Mackin is coming in on Kiker's blind side. Ohh, she sent Kiker flying into the podium! Roger Mudd has now got his mike a foot away from Tricia's mouth. He gets a karate chop on the arm from Tom Pettit. Mudd has dropped his mike.

"John Hart hands Mudd his mike. Garrick Utley shoves his mike over Mudd's head. Tricia has two TV microphones at her throat and two others at her ears.

"Now here comes a question."

"Tricia, what do you think of the convention?"

"Oh, I think it's just hunky-dory."

"Thank you, Tricia, and now back to Walter, John and David in the booths."

FORECAST FOR THURSDAY, AUGUST 24, 1972

CARROLL RIGHTER'S HOROSCOPE

from the Carroll Righter Institute

GENERAL TENDENCIES: The early part of the day is your best time for taking any action of a definite nature. In the latter part of the day it is best not to force anything or take any chances. You make out best by carefully observing others and making no commitments.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Fretting over private worries makes matters worse, so do something constructive about them. Try to assist one who is in trouble and you will feel better. Take it easy tonight.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Don't give in to temptation by lashing out at good friends who are now acting peevishly for some reason they can't help. Show kindness and help them out of their predicament.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Show others that you are a good citizen. Do nothing that would jeopardize your good reputation. Be careful a higher-up doesn't blame you for another person's error.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Not the right day to engage in a new interest. Tomorrow could be much better. Make no promises to a fast-talking person or you could regret it later. Be wise.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) You have so many responsibilities that it is best to take care of the most important ones now and leave the rest to later. Try to be more harmonious with the one you love.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) An associate has right to own opinions, so don't take this person to task, but listen carefully. You have a problem that needs careful attention now in order to solve it properly.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Don't run away from any chores facing you today. Handle them in a most positive and deliberate fashion. Take health treatments and build up your energy. Stop worrying.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Don't try today to make others do things contrary to their wishes. Try to please family more and add to harmony at home. Avoid one who is trying to take advantage of you.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) You want to have a fine time but be sure you stick to the proven and the inexpensive or you could regret it later. Put your creative talent to work. Use care in travel.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) More care in motion is necessary now when others could be jittery. Don't lose your temper and write a letter that you may regret. Await a better time to handle the matter.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) You think by spending money you are able to get your way with others, but this is not the case. Use wiser tactics and get better results. Not a good day for making investments.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Although you are under some kind of pressure, be careful not to use unkind words with others or you could get into trouble. Take the time to make yourself look more attractive.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY . . . he or she will be one of those temperamental young people who has to be disciplined early in life. Although the nature is a trouble-shooting one, teach early not to get into altercations with others just for the fun of it, or this could ruin the fine promise here. Much spiritual training is necessary early in youth. Give some sports.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

Ground Broken For Jamesville Project

JAMESVILLE — Ground-breaking ceremonies for a ten town, five county 340 unit housing construction program took place in this eastern Martin County village on Tuesday morning.

Jamesville, one of the ten locations that will receive new houses under the Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) program, was the scene at 11:00 a.m. of ground-breaking on the site where new homes will be constructed. Congressman Walter B. Jones was principle speaker for the occasion. Others on hand included Mrs. Christine Farris, chairman of the Mid-East Regional Authority; Dennis Carr of the HUD office in Greensboro; Jack Runion, chairman of the Mid-East Commission in Washington, N.C.; and representatives of the county commissioners of the five counties.

Application for construction of housing units under Section 23 of the Leased Housing program of HUD was submitted in December 1969.

The houses are to be constructed in Hamilton and Jamesville in Martin County; Lewiston and Aulander in Bertie County; Roper and Creswell in Washington County; Chocowinity, Aurora and Belhaven in Beaufort County; and Swanquarter in Hyde County.

"The first units are expected to be completed about April 1973," Mrs. Farris commented. Construction is beginning now in Lewiston. By April somewhere between 80 and 100 units will be completed in the first phase, with the remaining units due for completion about September of 1973.

The standard housing units will provide homes for 340 low income families in the five county area, and will also be used as training and rehabilitation facilities for many of the families through planned programs of tenant participation.

Construction of these units will replace a similar number of sub-standard housing now occupied by the families. Under the program, tenants will be encouraged to become home owners through a rental-purchase arrangements.

Mrs. Farris praised the efforts of Congressman Jones, Runion and Carr for the invaluable assistance these officials have provided in the formative stages of the program. She also said "our appreciation goes to the county commissioners of the five counties who gave us valuable assistance in many ways."

LONG HAIR DEVOTEE — Former President Lyndon B. Johnson seems to be a devotee of the long-hair look, as two of these three portraits suggest. Left to right, they show him: When he was President in 1968; in April 1972 and on Tuesday when he met Democratic presidential hopeful Sen. George McGovern in Stonewall, Texas.

VEPCO Lets Plant Bid

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — Virginia Electric & Power Co. has announced the selection of Daniel Construction Co. to build a proposed pumped storage hydroelectric facility in Bath County in western Virginia.

Stanley Ragone, Vepco vice president-power, said the preliminary cost estimate for the 1.5 million kilowatt plant is more than $263 million.

An application for a construction license will be filed with the Federal Power Commission late this year, Ragone said. The plant tentatively is scheduled for commercial service in 1979.

Too Many Papers In The Pentagon

By CARL C. CRAFT
WASHINGTON (AP) — Jokes aside, says a member of the House Armed Services Committee, it's time to defoliate the Pentagon's paper jungle.

There are 11,916 separate paper forms in use at the Pentagon, says Rep. Otis G. Pike, D-N.Y., most of which are seldom read but which consume "a fantastic amount of wasted time, effort and money."

In a letter Tuesday to Rep. F. Edward Hebert, D-La., the committee chairman, Pike urged "a major investigation of the paper jungle which is costing both our military and our taxpaying citizens so very dearly."

He said the situation is so bad that it has given rise to such jokes as: "An aircraft carrier is ready to launch only when it weighs as much as the paper it took to build it," and

"No military plan has ever been built which could lift the paper it took to make it fly."

Pike cited the case of a prospective manufacturer of a simple felt washer who was given plans, specifications and forms which "weighed seven and one-half pounds, and some of them were on microfilm."

During committee hearings into military manpower needs, Pike said the Pentagon was asked to provide one copy of every standard form in use.

"The forms alone totaled 11,916, occupy nearly a hundred square feet and weigh more than 200 pounds," he said.

He said "hundreds of millions of man-hours are wasted each year in filling out pieces of paper ... other hundreds of millions of man-hours are wasted in sorting, filing and storing them," but relatively little time is spent reading them.

Chemical Warfare Is Charged—By Spassky

By JULIE FLINT
EYKJAVIK, Iceland (AP)—Bobby Fischer's team responded with laughter and derision Tuesday night to Soviet charges of American electronic and chemical warfare at the world chess championship match. But referee Lothar Schmid said he would treat them seriously, just as he did Fischer's beefs.

The 17th game in the 24-game series adjourned for the night with champion Boris Spassky in a favorable position after daringly aggressive play. With Fischer leading 9½-6½, the champion abandoned the caution that has characterized much of his play.

The Soviet's delegation circulated a statement during the game asserting it had received letters saying that "some electronic devices and chemical substance which can be in the playing hall are being used to influence Mr. B. Spassky."

The statement from grandmaster Efim Geller, Spassky's second, said the letters mentioned in particular Fischer's chair and the special lighting installed at the American challenger's demand.

Geller cited Fischer's refusal to have the games filmed and suggested he didn't want the camera checking on him. "The same could be supposed," he continued from Fischer's repeated demands to transfer the game to a private room and to clear the first seven rows of spectators.

Geller also cited the presence of Fischer's aides in the playing hall when the games were not in progress and Fischer aide Fred Cramer's "demand that Mr. R. Rischer should be given 'his' particular chair, though both the chairs look identical and are made by the same American firm."

The statement said the Russian delegation had asked Schmid and the Icelandic Chess Federation for an examination of the playing hall and the "things in it" and also that "the possibility of the presence of any outsiders in the place allocated to the participants should be excluded."

Schmid said he would treat the Russian demand "with all seriousness, as I have all the American protests."

"It sounds a little fantastic," the referee said, "but there is some truth in it."

He explained that an aide of Fischer on several occasions had interfered with the playing podium, altering the lighting and changing Spassky's chair.

Geller's suggestions were greeted with hilarity in the American camp.

Reconsider Directive Takes Big Jump

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — The State Corporation Commission has agreed to reconsider a decision last month directing Virginia Electric & Power Co. to discontinue all customer installation allowances and related advertising allowances.

Earlier this month, the Home Builders Association of Virginia petitioned the SCC for a rehearing and said the commission's order could severely harm the organization's members.

In its order Monday, the SCC said it will hear additional arguments in the promotional allowances case Oct. 6.

The commission directed Veeco to file, but not to pay, claims received from developers.

The company will submit to the SCC at least 10 days before the hearing copies of promotional allowance agreements, along with estimates of the cost of continuing the program.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The cost of living, pushed by higher food prices, increased by four-tenths of 1 per cent last month, but consumer purchasing power jumped twice as high, the Department of Labor says.

Higher prices for meats, fish and poultry led to increased food costs, the department said Tuesday.

However, purchasing power increased by eight-tenths of 1 per cent, the highest boost since monthly figures became available in 1964, the department said.

The increase in the cost of living index was the largest in five months but was not unexpected, the administration said. A spokesman predicted a slackening of inflation during the remainder of the year.

Average weekly earnings went up four-tenths of 1 per cent in July. The department said workers earned $1.09 more a week in July than in June, for an average weekly paycheck of $136.47.

Food prices jumped 1 per cent in July in terms of the homemaker's dollar.

The increase put the Consumer Price Index at 125.5 for July, meaning that it cost $12.55 to buy goods and services that cost $10.00 in 1967.

Edgar R. Fiedler, assistant Treasury secretary for economic policy, said the over-all statistics show that the inflation rate for prices paid by the consumer has been cut in half in the last three years.

But Democratic presidential nominee George McGovern viewed the figures a different way, saying they "confirm what every housewife already knows: inflation is alive and well."

Jr. High Groups Damage To Pieta Will Be Repaired By Experts

Saying that "individualized instruction is the ideal goal of education Greenville City School Superintendent Dr. Cleet C. Cleetwood outlined to school board members the pupil placement plan in use at E.B. Aycock Junior High School.

He reported that "to provide for continuous progress while building on the achievements made in the elementary schools, grouping of students will be such that the needs of exceptional children as well as the average child will be met."

A team, consisting of the school psychologist, guidance counselors and teachers will be placed in flexible groups based on the special needs of students who need remedial help.

On the program for the exceptionally talented student Dr.

Cleetwood informed the board that "students identified as exceptionally talented will be eligible for specialized programs which will be designed to meet their needs." He noted that such students "will meet guidelines established by the N.C. State Department of Public Instruction. These students would need to score in or near the superior range of intelligence and would need to be working approximately one and one half to two years above the year-grade level in their academic areas."

An additional program in the overall pupil placement program is one that will be funded by ESEA Title III funds. "This project will be staffed by five people who will serve approximately 120 students who have learning disabilities," Dr. Cleetwood reported.

VATICAN CITY (AP) —

Vatican art experts are about to begin the delicate task of gluing and shaping the battered pieces of Michelangelo's Pieta statue.

"Only an expert, upon close examination, would be able to tell there had been any work done," said Deoclecio Redig de Campos, director of the Vatican Museum.

On May 21, Laszlo Toth, 34, a geologist, walked into St. Peter's Basilica and battered the masterpiece that depicts the Madonna holding the dead Jesus in her arms.

With 10 hammer blows, the vandal broke off the Madonna's left arm and dented the veil and the left side of the face. The figure of Jesus was untouched.

Preliminary work toward restoring the 6-foot-7 statue began almost immediately.

Within hours, workmen had collected the fragments, about 50 in all.

"We collected everything but the most minute of chips," De Campos said.

To replace those missing fragments, about 100 grams of material will be chipped off the statue's base.

At first it was feared that the Virgin Mary's left eyelid, sculptured to show the suffering of the Mother of Christ, had been chipped off. Closer examination revealed it was dented — a difficult but not impossible job to restore, experts say.

De Campos, Vittorio Federici of the Vatican's scientific research laboratories, and two other experts have studied photographs and a plastic replica of the masterpiece. This replica, made 30 years ago, is preserved in St. Peter's Sacristy.

Work is continuing in the Vatican's laboratories and the statue has not yet been touched. One problem still to be resolved is the type of adhesive to bind shattered parts.

Federici is experimenting with glues from the United States, France, Germany and Italy; some of resinous bases, others artificial, others developed by the Vatican experts.

The Pieta may go on view again next year. Plans are under way to erect a glass barrier between it and the public.

In prison, Toth has been undergoing psychiatric tests. Charged with damaging a work of art and offending a religious object, he faces up to four years in jail.

Durham Newsman Claims Forced From Convention

MIAMI (AP)—A Durham, N.C., newsman, Louis Redden, has filed suit in U.S. District Court charging that police seized his Republican Convention press credentials and forced him to leave Convention Hall grounds.

Redden, a reporter for radio station WDBS in Durham and a member of the Vietnam Veterans Against the War (VVAW), asked a federal judge Tuesday to force police to return his credentials and to restrain them from further interference.

Redden's suit named as defendants Dade County Public Safety Department Director E. Wilson Purdy; a subordinate of Purdy, Capt. Irving Heller; and Lt. Arthur Ganz of the Miami Beach Police Department.

The Durham newsman claimed Ganz and Heller accosted him Sunday as he walked within the restricted area of the 50-acre Convention Hall complex. Press credentials give bearers access to the area. Redden said he and his car were searched, his press card taken from him and he was forcibly escorted to the gates.

He also claimed Ganz and Heller informed him that the action was a form of harassment against him because of his affiliation with the VVAW and his appearance which included a number of antiwar buttons on his fatigue uniform.

Redden alleged that the actions were an unconstitutional "prior restraint" of freedom of the press and a denial of due process of law.

An attorney for Redden, Gustin Reichbach of New York, said "We are reluctant to file a suit because we wanted to iron things out with police. But the policies of harassment have continued and we can no longer wait to work things out by negotiation."

Six members of the militant VVAW were indicted in Tallahassee, Fla., last month on charges of conspiring to disrupt this week's Republican National convention with bombs and bullets.

Body Found In Car Trunk

RALEIGH (AP) — Raleigh police are investigating the death of an unidentified man whose body was found stuffed in the trunk of a car at a Raleigh apartment complex Tuesday.

Wake County Coroner M. W. Bennett said the man had been dead about five days and that he had ordered an autopsy to determine cause of death.

Nixon Looks . . . Heavy Fighting Near Que Son

 er, New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller. He declared: "We need this man of action, this man of accomplishment, this man of experience, this man of courage."

Then came the 11 seconds, ranging from the conservative Buckley to liberal former Interior Secretary Walter J. Hickel, who was fired from the Cabinet by Nixon two years ago, to a trio of Democrats, including the wife of Milwaukee Mayor Henry Maier.

Fifty minutes had elapsed when Anne Armstrong of Texas, cochairman of the Republican National Committee and the convention secretary, began to call the roll for voting.

The Nixon tally mounted steadily until Missouri put Nixon over the top in a vote that its chairman, Lawrence K. Roos, said showed "its regard for Sen. Tom Eagleton."

Brigid Shanley, a 26-year-old New Jersey delegate, said she would support a lawsuit against the plan. So did Senate GOP Leader Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania and the liberal Ripon Society, which won a court test earlier this year against the party's current apportionment plan.

In the background was the first maneuvering toward the party's 1976 presidential nomination. Many of those who supported the plan that was adopted came from states likely to support Agnew, if he seeks the presidency four years hence.

The vice president, however, declined comment on the developments.

His press secretary, Victor Gold, termed "utterly erroneous" a copyright story in the Detroit News that Agnew agreed to run again for vice president only after receiving Nixon's assurance of support for the presidency in 1976.

In Convention Hall, meanwhile, delegates moved quickly to the major business, the re-nomination of Nixon, after finishing the preliminaries in an afternoon session that ran nearly five hours.

At 9:46 p.m. EDT, Chairman Gerald R. Ford signaled the start of the roll call for presidential nominations. By 11:02 p.m. he was declaring Nixon the nominee.

The nominating speech for the President was delivered by his erstwhile-rival-turned-boost-

SAIGON (AP) — Heavy fighting was reported at the mouth of the Que Son Valley Tuesday, and 30 miles to the north the North Vietnamese shelled Da Nang for the third time in less than a week.

Officers in the field said South Vietnamese infantrymen and rangers advancing into the valley ran into three North Vietnamese battalions numbering as many as 900 troops.

The Saigon command claimed 108 North Vietnamese troops were killed, but reported only 24 weapons captured. South Vietnamese losses were one killed and 28 wounded, the command said.

The South Vietnamese launched a spoiling operation Monday, two days after the North Vietnamese ran them out of the valley. Now they are trying to keep the North Vietnamese from continuing their push toward Da Nang and the populous lowlands along Highway 1.

Enemy gunners fired five rockets into Da Nang before dawn today, wounding 11 civilians and wrecking five houses. Twelve mortar rounds hit the Marble Mountain air facility on the edge of Da Nang, but there were no reports of any U.S. or South Vietnamese casualties.

Eighty miles to the north, the two-month stalemate in the battle for Quang Tri continued with casualties mounting on both sides. The Saigon command said 79 North Vietnamese were killed Tuesday, while eight government troops were killed and 73 wounded. North Vietnamese gunners slammed nearly 1,400 shells into government positions.

U.S. fighter-bombers flew 235 strikes Tuesday and today in support of the South Vietnamese fighting at Quang Tri and east of the Que Son Valley.

Pilots said they knocked out nine supply trucks and one tank just south of the demilitarized zone.

Overcast skies again reduced U.S. air activity over North Vietnam on Tuesday and only a little more than 150 strikes were flown. But the U.S. Command reported a record 23 bridges were knocked out, most of them along the coast north and south of Vinh, which is 145 miles above the demilitarized zone.

The commander of the U.S. 7th Fleet, Vice Adm. J. L. Holloy III, said Tuesday that the Navy's air attacks on North Vietnam and the mining of its harbors have had a tremendous adverse effect on the Communists.

Visiting the carrier Hancock in the Philippines on Tuesday, he said no oceangoing vessels have entered or left any major North Vietnamese port since the mining of the harbors last May.

Course Needs Approval

An offering of a cosmetology course as part of the curriculum at Rose High School, approved by the Greenville City School Board Monday night, still has to receive state level authorizations before it is certain the course can be offered.

Claude West, head of the vocational program at Rose High School, today said that the course must receive approval of the State Department of Public Instruction before it can be considered officially approved from the curriculum standpoint.

Dr. William Fulford, president of Pitt Technical Institute, commented that "we are extremely interested in the possibilities, but cannot move on this matter until we have received authorization from the State Department of Community Colleges."

Fulford noted he would be in Raleigh on Thursday on this and other matters and was hopeful about receiving authorization.

Pitt Technical Institute has been working with personnel at Rose High School and with Mitchell's Hair Styling Academy in making preparations for setting up a cosmetology training course for students at Rose High.

The Gran Rex Movie theater in Buenos Aires, with 3,281 seats, is the largest in South America, says Argentine Airlines.

Raiders Count On Less Injuries, More Depth To Add To Offense

By ERIC PREWITT
Associated Press Sports Writer
OAKLAND (AP) — The Oakland Raiders' running backs are standing in line to second Bob Brown, the big offensive tackle whose blocking makes their lives happier.

"I've played on some great offensive lines, but this is by far the best," says Brown, the 6-foot-4, 280-pound veteran, starting his second season with the Raiders.

"We've got a great team leader in Jim Otto and a great athlete and leader in Gene Upshaw," Brown continues. "We've got the makings of a really great year."

The Raiders' offense had a great year in 1971, even with Brown out part of the season with a knee injury and guard Jim Harvey bothered by a bad back. Oakland runners averaged 4.5 yards per carry and the team's point total of 344 was second to Dallas in the National Football League.

On defense, however, the Raiders suffered two injuries they could not afford. Tackle Tom Keating and linebacker Gus Otto each missed about half the season, and Oakland opponents discovered some vulnerable spots because of their absence.

Coach John Madden is counting on more defensive depth this year and hoping for better luck in the injury department.

Offensively, the Raiders seem to have everything going for them. The strength starts with the line, and quarterback Daryle Lamonica has a wealth of receivers and running backs to work with.

Fullback Marv Hubbard became a starter for the first time last year and ran for 867 yards behind Brown and his brawny friends. Fred Biletnikoff led NFL receivers with 61 catches, good for 929 yards.

Center Otto and guard Upshaw are two of the best at their positions. Tight end Ray Chester is also an all-pro candidate, after catching 70 passes for 998 yards his first two seasons.

Lamonica played most of 1971 with an injured hand but still held the No. 1 quarterbacking spot, with relief help from George Blanda and Ken Stabler.

This year, besides a healthy passing hand, Lamonica may have receiver Warren Wells and running back Charlie Smith back. Wells, who caught 36 touchdown passes in his last three seasons, spent last fall in jail after he violated probation terms. Smith, who ran for 681 yards in 1970, was injured last year.

Lamonica threw only 16 touchdown passes last season, after tossing 111 in his first four years as the Raiders' quarterback.

But Oakland still scored a lot of points in rolling to an 8-4-2 record and second place in the Western Division of the American Football Conference.

Second place was a shock after four straight division titles for the team that has never aimed for anything less than a Super Bowl championship.

If the Raiders' defense has improved enough—perhaps matured is the proper word—the team could get another shot at the big game, which it lost to Green Bay, 33-14, in 1968.

Madden started three rookies on defense last year, but still relied heavily on such veterans as Keating, middle linebacker Dan Conners and defensive backs Willie Brown and Nemiah Wilson.

Safety Jack Tatum, line-backer Phil Villapiano and defensive end Horace Jones were the 1971 rookie starters. Several newcomers are challenging for backup jobs this summer, but the starting lineup should be an all-veteran one.

The team's most promising rookies include No. 1 draft pick Mike Siani, the receiver from Villanova, and speedy Cliff Branch, a receiver and kick returner from Colorado.

On the other end of the age scale is 45-year-old Blanda, ready for a 23rd season of place kicking and passing.

Rhodesia Out Of Games

By HUBERT MIZELL
Associated Press Sports Writer
MUNICH (AP) — Rhodesia's confused Olympians, their dreams of Munich buried under a political ax, packed their green bags for home today as the games again became a spectacle of sports.

Just as it barred South Africa four years earlier, the International Olympic Committee voted Tuesday to send home the athletes of white-controlled Rhodesia in the face of a walk-out threat of blacks from Olympic Village.

It was a bruising defeat for 84-year-old IOC President Avery Brundage, in perhaps his final battle before stepping down as czar of the Olympics for 20 years.

"It is political blackmail," the Chicago millionaire said earlier regarding the withdrawal threat initiated by nations of black Africa with heavy ideological differences with the Rhodesians.

It was somewhat of a technical knockout of the Rhodesians as the IOC voted 36-31 to snatch back its Munich invitation on grounds that the athletes from the small country had no British passports as specified in a 1971 agreement.

Artwell Mandaza, a black Rhodesian, was a man who accepted the dismissal with emotions. His speed is 10 flat at 100 meters, which could perhaps have won an Olympic gold medal.

It's a great disappointment, he said, "because I know my speed would have won an Olympic medal. On the other hand, it is quite fair for the black African nations who know what they are fighting for."

As Rhodesia prepared to pull out, some athletes with tears in their eyes, the remaining 122 countries continued honing sports skills for the quadrennial which opens Saturday amid the usual pomp and splendor.

A pre-Olympic track meet was scheduled today in the giant stadium with its now-famous spider-web glass roof with most of the international powers expected to enter full squads.

Black Americans, along with athletes of a dozen African nations and some from the Caribbean, were apparently poised to depart Munich if the Rhodesians were allowed to compete.

"The decision means I will stay and run," said Vince Matthews, a New Yorker who will run the 400 meters. "Most American black track athletes were going. We felt more determined to leave over Rhodesia after reading comments from others who thought we were a bunch of kids unable to think for ourselves."

Killanin Chosen To Fill Spot Left By Brundage

MUNICH (AP) — Lord Killanin of Ireland today was elected president of the International Olympic Committee, succeeding Avery Brundage.

Killanin, 58, was chosen in a straight contest with Count Jean de Beaumont of France.

Brundage, announcing the result of the vote, said the voting figures will never be disclosed.

By GEOFFREY MILLER

MUNICH (AP) — Two noblemen—one French, the other Irish—contend today for the toughest administrative job in the sports world, the presidency of the International Olympic Committee.

Count Jean de Beaumont, a 68-year-old French banker, and Lord Michael Killanin, a bluff 58-year-old Irish peer, are the candidates for the job held for the last 20 years by Avery Brundage.

By the end of today, either Beaumont or Killanin will know he has a load of responsibility on his shoulders.

Brundage, 84, whose iron will and strong personality have been stamped on the IOC for two decades, steps down at a critical time. The new president will have to defend the IOC against charges of sacrificing its principles and bowing to political pressure.

One of Brundage's last public duties as president was to announce Tuesday night the IOC's decision to oust Rhodesia from the Munich Olympics to avert a solid walk-out by the black African countries.

Almost as soon as the vote was taken critics were saying the IOC would never again recapture its former image as an upholder of the Olympic ideals, free from political pressures.

The new president will have other massive problems to deal with—the growth of professionalism in sport and the increasing commercialism of winter sports. Brundage has said openly the Winter Olympics should be ended.

The candidates were nominated Tuesday. The names of Beaumont and Killanin have been openly canvassed all this year, ever since Brundage's de-

Second Wackiest Chase Shaping Up In AL East

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer
It is a simple mathematical fact of baseball life that if all the teams ahead of you in the standings lose and you win, you'll gain ground.

And that explains how the unlikely American League East pennant race has another applicant today with the Cleveland Indians now just 6½ games behind in the wackiest chase since the Keystone Kops were in business.

The Indians find themselves in the picture after nipping Minnesota 3-2 Tuesday night. The top of the division remained unchanged with Detroit losing to Oakland 6-3, Baltimore bowing to California 2-0 and New York losing to Chicago 5-4.

Fourth place Boston tried valiantly to snatch defeat from the jaws of victory but didn't quite make it, beating Kansas City 10-7. In the other AL game, Texas trimmed Milwaukee 2-1, keeping the Brewers a mere 17 games behind.

In the National League, Atlanta ripped Philadelphia 11-7, Cincinnati downed Montreal 5-3, New York topped Houston 4-2, Los Angeles blanked St. Louis 1-0, Pittsburgh shut out San Francisco 1-0 and Chicago trimmed San Diego 4-3.

Detroit began the month of August atop the AL East and the Tigers are still there despite a woeful 8-15 log over the last three weeks. The slump has, of course, cost the leaders. Surging Baltimore, 10-13 this month, has chopped two games off the lead to move within one-half game of the lead.

The status remained quo with Oakland using homers by Angel Mangual, Blue Moon Odom and Joe Rudi to defeat Detroit and Mickey Lolich Tuesday night while Nolan Ryan's four-hitter pushed California past Baltimore.

The Tigers and A's stirred some extracurricular excitement with a seventh inning brawl that started when reliever Bill Slayback buzzed a pitch too close for Mangual's comfort. The A's outfielder said Tiger Manager Billy Martin was the culprit.

"I never fight in my life," said Mangual. "I heard Martin tell the catcher to have the pitcher knock me down. If he tries to hit me, what do I do. I've got to protect myself."

Mangual rushed Slayback and the brawl was on with fights breaking out all over the field.

Oakland's victory kept the A's one-half game ahead of Chicago in the AL West. The White Sox erased a four-run New York lead and beat the Yankees with Dick Allen's 31st home run of the season deciding the game.

It was the fifth loss in the last seven games for New York but the Yanks have lost no ground during that slide and remain only 1½ games behind Detroit. New York, with a 13-10 record for August has clipped four games off the Tigers' lead.

Boston raised its August record to 12-10, impressive in the AL East, by holding off Kansas City. The Red Sox, seven games back of the Tigers when the month began, are now just 2½ behind.

The Red Sox gave Marty Pattin an early five-run cushion against KC with Carl Yastrzemski's third-inning homer providing two of the runs. Boston built the edge to 9-2 but the Royals kayoed Pattin with two runs in the eighth and three more in the ninth before Don Newhauser came on to get the final out.

Ryan stifled Baltimore, striking out 11 batters along the way and ending a personal four-game losing streak.

The Angels gave him the only run he needed in the third inning when Sandy Alomar tripled and scored on Bob Oliver's sacrifice fly. Two-out doubles by Oliver and Ken McMullen in the seventh inning gave California its other run.

Gaylord Perry won his 19th game for Cleveland as the Indians raised their August record to 14-9, best in the division. They have sliced five games off the 11½-game deficit they faced at the start of the month.

Tom McCraw's two-out single in the bottom of the ninth inning delivered the deciding run for the Indians. Jim Nettles and Bobby Darwin homered for Minnesota.

Rich Hand allowed just two hits in 8 1-3 innings but needed help from reliever Casey Cox to move Texas past Milwaukee. Dick Billings and Larry Biittner doubled home runs for the Rangers.

Brundage Dismayed Over Committee's Decision

By WILL GRIMSLEY
AP Special Correspondent
MUNICH (AP) — A bitter and disappointed Avery Brundage, his voice shaking with emotion, said today the Olympic movement is dead if—as in the case of the Rhodesian-African controversy—principles continue to be sacrificed for expediency.

"It's the first time in 20 years that the committee has gone against me," the retiring 84-year-old champion of Olympic purity and idealism added. "I am heartsick."

The International Olympic Committee, faced with the threat of a walkout by African nations and sympathetic American blacks, voted 36-31 with three abstentions Tuesday night to expel the little Rhodesian team from the Munich Games.

"It was a blatant intrusion of politics," Brundage said. "They had a gun to our heads. It was political blackmail—nothing but blackmail—and we gave in."

"I fought as hard as I could, but I lost." The Rhodesians, consisting of 35 white and eight black athletes, were ousted on the fragile technicality of passport identification after fulfilling all other obligations.

White-controlled Rhodesia, a former British colony which declared its independence in 1965, was admitted to the Games by the IOC a year ago with the stipulation that its athletes compete as British subjects and use the British hymn and flag.

At the time, the African bloc went along with the agreement, apparently feeling that Rhodesia would refuse to field a team under such conditions.

When the Rhodesians showed up in Munich, wearing identification cards labeled "South Rhodesia, British subject" and flying British colors, the Africans were caught off guard.

Jockey Laffit Pincay was the top rider in the nation last year with 380 winners and a world record $3,719,694 in purses.

Brundage will continue as president until the end of the Munich Olympics Sept. 10. The jaunty old president will speak at the opening of the games Aug. 26 and give his last farewell speech at the closing ceremony.

The next day the new president will assume his duties.

Giants Lose Johnson On Last Play

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A separation of the collarbone has knocked New York Giants' No. 1 quarterback Randy Johnson out of action, although the injury is not as serious as the one which recently sidelined Dallas passer Roger Staubach.

Johnson, who took over the starting role when the Giants traded Fran Tarkenton to Minnesota following the 1971 National Football League season, suffered the separation just below the shoulder of his throwing arm, the team said Tuesday, and will miss at least three weeks of action.

Staubach may miss the entire season because of his shoulder separation.

The injury occurred on the final play of the Giants' game last Sunday against the New York Jets when Johnson slipped and John Little of the Jets fell on him. The Giants' backup quarterbacks are Ed Baker and Norm Snead.

Injuries were also reported on Tuesday by the Cleveland Browns, Philadelphia Eagles and Los Angeles Rams.

Rookie defensive end Lester Sims, the Browns' second-round draft choice from Alabama State who had been counted on heavily, has apparently been lost for the season, the team said.

He suffered torn cartilage in his right knee Sunday against Detroit and was to undergo surgery today.

The Eagles said middle linebacker Steve Zabel, who gained a starting berth when Tim Rosovich was traded to San Diego, also suffered torn cartilage in his right knee in practice Tuesday but Philadelphia said he is expected to be back in time for the team's regular season opener Sept. 17.

Kermit Alexander, cornerback for the Rams, will be out four to six weeks with a broken elbow suffered in the exhibition game against Oakland.

Among Tuesday's deals, the

Briles Taking On New Role

By KEN RAPPOPORT

Associated Press Sports Writer
Nelson Briles of the Pittsburgh Pirates has done some acting during the off-season, but never played the role of Superman.

He looked every bit the part Tuesday night, though, when pitching against the San Francisco Giants.

"It's really a funny feeling to be happy and disappointed at the same time," said Briles after losing a perfect game bid in the seventh inning and winding up with a one-hitter to beat the Giants 1-0.

That one hit—a line drive by Ken Henderson off first baseman Willie Stargell's glove—turned out to be the only base-runner off Briles, an actor and night club performer when he isn't playing baseball.

"There's nothing wrong with beating Juan Marichal 1-0," said Briles. "But I'm disappointed because I came so close and had it go down."

Pittsburgh stayed 11½ games in front of New York in the National League East race. The Mets also won Tuesday night, beating the Houston Astros 4-2 for the second straight time.

Elsewhere, the Cincinnati Reds moved to an 8½-game advantage in the West over Houston by stopping the Montreal Expos 5-3; the Atlanta Braves trimmed the Philadelphia Phillies 11-7; the Chicago Cubs defeated the San Diego Padres 4-3 and the Los Angeles Dodgers nipped the St. Louis Cardinals 1-0.

American League results: California 2, Baltimore 0; Cleveland 3, Minnesota 2; Texas 2, Milwaukee 1; Boston 10, Kansas City 7; Oakland 6, Detroit 3 and Chicago 5, New York 4.

Briles, winning his 12th game in 17 decisions this year, retired the first 20 Giants before Henderson ripped one off Stargell's glove. It extended Henderson's hitting streak to 18 games.

"It was hit real well, but in my own mind I should have caught it," said Stargell, who doubled in the game's only run in the first. "There was just no time to stick the glove up. It was one of those things. I didn't talk to Briles about it—what could I say?"

Second baseman Dave Cash and shortstop Jackie Hernandez earlier made some great plays to steal potential San Francisco hits. Then Rennie Stennett made a leaping catch in left field off Bobby Bonds' bat for the final out.

Jim Beauchamp came through with his second game-winning hit in as many nights for New York.

"I can't expect things to go on like this—but at least I'm contributing for a change," said Beauchamp, who drove in all four Met runs Tuesday night, including two with a single in the eighth inning that decided it.

Beauchamp's big night helped New York ace Tom Seaver win his 15th game while outdueling Dave Roberts. Seaver's complete game was the 100th of his career.

Johnny Bench, Pete Rose and Bill Plummer slugged home runs to power Cincinnati past Montreal, sparking elation from Reds Manager Sparky Anderson.

"We are in a position where we can win the National League West pennant by ourselves now," said Anderson. "We're 10 games up in the loss column and that's all I'm worried about. I'm not worried about the other column."

Nixon Strategy: Take Nothing For Granted

Editor's Note: What course will President Nixon's re-election campaign follow? Gaylord Shaw, who covers the President, outlines the way that Nixon hopes will lead him to victory in November's presidential election.

By GAYLORD SHAW
Associated Press Writer
MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — President Nixon, leaning over the wide desk in his White House office, set the tone for his re-election campaign strategy.

"Regardless of what the polls show, whether we are ahead or behind, this will be a close, hard-fought election right down to the wire," he told a group of newsmen three weeks before his renomination at the Republican National Convention.

"People who make predictions now could look very, very bad later. We are going to assume throughout this election that we have a very hard fight on our hands. We think it will be close and we hope to win."

Translated, the message Nixon is flashing to his political lieutenants is this: We're running scared. We're ahead now, but we expect that lead to slip. We're taking nothing for granted.

The Nixon strategy is keyed to combining victory in large, electoral vote-rich states with sweeps in the smaller Midwestern and Southern states.

If he carries four big states — California, New York, Texas and Illinois — Nixon will have more than half the electoral vote total he needs. But his advisers say he should run so well in the South and Midwest that he could afford to lose one or two of the bigger states and still ride to an easy victory.

Nixon himself has indicated to aides that he considers California crucial to his re-election chances. That is one reason Clark MacGregor has made two trips to California since taking over as campaign chief July 1.

The President won't campaign in all 50 states, but instead will concentrate on the larger states with fatter electoral vote prizes. Vice President Spiro T. Agnew, Cabinet members and other administration officials will carry the campaign load to smaller states.

Ten days before the GOP convention began, a Louis Harris poll showed Nixon with a 57-34 per cent lead over Sen. George McGovern, the Democratic nominee.

But this didn't budge the Nixon camp from its avowed caution. "We were way ahead of Hubert Humphrey in '68, but we almost got beat," said one Republican strategist who, like most Nixon associates, remembers well the fast-closing Democratic campaign four years ago.

Nixon himself has decreed that he wants the campaign to be "a good, hard, clean fight on the issues." A key factor in the decision to focus on the issues is the recognition that Nixon's policies seem more popular than Nixon the man.

"Let's face it," said one GOP strategist, "our man is not the political charmer that Eisenhower was."

But he ticked off polls which show strong public approval of Nixon's actions, especially in foreign affairs.

The centerpiece of the President's record is what Republicans view as Nixon-initiated steps toward a new era of peace. Specifically, the campaign will make heavy use of the President's break-through trip to China and his follow-up journey to the Soviet Union.

Democrats see Vietnam as a flaw in Nixon's image as a peacemaker. McGovern, in his early campaigning, criticized him for failing to keep his 1968 promise to end the war and he seemed to place Nixon spokesmen on the defensive.

The campaign plea for understanding on Vietnam likely will be coupled with a sharp attack on those, McGovern especially, whose statements on Vietnam are viewed by Republicans as undercutting Nixon's negotiating position.

Even before Nixon's formal renomination, the President's forces were striving to put McGovern on the defensive over his economic proposals.

In a harbinger of full-fledged campaign attacks, MacGregor resurrected McGovern's $1,000 per person income grant suggestion and charged it "would split America permanently into a welfare class and a working class."

Nixon is expected to charge that McGovern's economic proposals would result in massive tax increases or require major, inflation-spurring budget deficits.

At the same time, Nixon will recite favorable economic indicators to contend that his administration is winning the war against inflation.

Aycock Is Praised

A resolution of appreciation to Dr. Edwin Burtis Aycock, former chairman of the Greenville City School Board, was unanimously approved by school board members Monday night.

Taking note that Dr. Aycock has recently retired following 14 years of service on the Board of Education, ten of them as chairman of the board, the resolution states:

"(He) has given generously of his time and talents, rendering service to boys and girls of Greenville City Schools in many ways and on many occasions; he exercised leadership during a period of dramatic change and progress in public education; and he has shown a strong sense of responsibility in carrying out the duties imposed upon him and has exemplified loyal cooperation in all school endeavors."

The resolution concludes that on behalf of current and past school board members, (we) express "heartfelt appreciation and sincere gratitude for his many services rendered in an unselfish and devoted manner."

Tobacco Loan Program Planned

The U.S. Department of Agriculture has announced an interim price support loan program for the 1972 crop of flue-cured tobacco stored on farms.

The program is designed to provide flue-cured tobacco growers cash needed to complete the harvesting and curing of their crops and to facilitate orderly marketing and curing of their crops and to facilitate orderly marketing. Department spokesmen pointed out that because of the general rush to market many producers are having difficulties obtaining space on the warehouse floors. Loans under the program will provide immediate cash even though the tobacco is not sold until a later date.

Under the program the grower may request a farm storage loan on flue-cured tobacco on his local ASCS county office in the same manner as for farm storage loans on grain and other commodities. A representative of the County ASC Committee will visit the farm to inspect the tobacco for quality and to estimate the total poundage. If the tobacco is of average quality or better, an interim loan at the rate of 55 cents a pound for regular varieties, or 28 cents for discount varieties, will be made on that portion of his production which has not been marketed, up to 110 percent of his farm's poundage quota.

A loan cannot be obtained by a farmer who has failed to comply with his farm's acreage allotment, or who has been found to have used DDT or TDE on his tobacco after it was transplanted in the field. Also, a loan cannot be obtained on tobacco which is subject to lien unless the lienholder waives his prior rights. The tobacco upon which a loan has been obtained will be sealed and retained in storage facilities which must be of a type that will maintain the quality of the tobacco until it is eventually sold at the warehouse.

Any grower who obtains a loan on a portion of his tobacco, then harvests, cures, and stores more of it later, may obtain a second loan on the later harvested leaf up to a season total of 110 percent of the farm's poundage quota less any quantity already marketed or placed under loan. A loan-handling service charge of $8 will be deducted from each loan at the time it is made, the same as for grain and other farm-stored commodities.

When the tobacco upon which a loan has been obtained is sold at auction, the amount of the loan plus interest at 30 cents for each $100 for each month or fraction thereof will be deducted by the warehouse. If the tobacco is delivered to the Flue-Cured Tobacco Cooperative Stabilization Corporation, only the principal of the loan will be deducted. If the amount of money received for the tobacco in the market or from the Stabilization Corporation does not equal the amount of the loan, the grower will be required to pay the difference.

Action Theme Of Shows

BY BOB THOMAS
Associated Press Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — What will you be seeing in prime-time television when the new season starts next month? More action and adventure, blockbuster films and original movies; less comedy and variety; and very little news. The three networks already are displaying the "promos" or station-break commercials that herald the attractions of the new season. These teasers make the new series look so good that a wag has suggested that the networks cancel the series and play only the promos.

Alas, the product is not always as good as the ads. The programming that prevails will probably reflect the mixture as before. In fact, Variety has already tagged the 1972-73 season "Son of Last Year."

The three networks have scheduled the new season pretty much in character. CBS, which has remained No. 1 in ratings with the help of its situation comedies, will offer 11 in the new season, including five new ones.

NBC, which believes firmly in the long form, will be presenting more 90-minute and two-hour dramas.

ABC, which as the No. 3 network must try harder, continues to be more adventurous in its programming, with such a departure as pro football in prime time.

All three networks have an impressive bag of theatrical films to offer. ABC paid many millions for "True Grit," "Patton," "Lawrence of Arabia," "Goldfinger," "The Odd Couple," "Dr. Dolittle" and "Z."

NBC's movies include "In the Heat of the Night," "The Anderson Tapes," "The Andromeda Strain," "Marooned," "The Green Berets," "Cactus Flower" and "It's a Mad, Mad, Mad, Mad World."

CBS has "Around the World in 80 Days," "The Dirty Dozen," "Goodbye, Mr. Chips" (the musical version) and "Oklahoma!"

Most of these blockbusters will be presented early in the season. The strategy is obvious: The networks want to amass big ratings at the start of the rating race and hamper the regular programming of the opposition.

This is likely to be the last season of the blockbuster films on television. Nearly all have now been sold to the networks, and the film studios simply aren't making them any more. Besides, the networks have found that ratings with made-for-TV movies can be as good or better than the high-priced theatrical films.

All three networks have proclaimed that their 1972-73 schedules are well balanced. But Variety points out thaghtened to entertain. Less than one of the 63 hours has the purpose to inform. Among the more promising of the new shows: a variety hour starring Julie Andrews (ABC); Yul Brynner in "Anna and the King" (CBS); a laundered version of "MASH" (CBS); an added starter to NBC's Mystery Movie starring Richard Boone; George Peppard in "Banacek;" and a situation comedy with Paul Lynde (ABC).

Teachers Welcomed

Forty new teachers in the Greenville City School system were extended a hand of welcome Tuesday morning in an informal "Get Acquainted Social Hour."

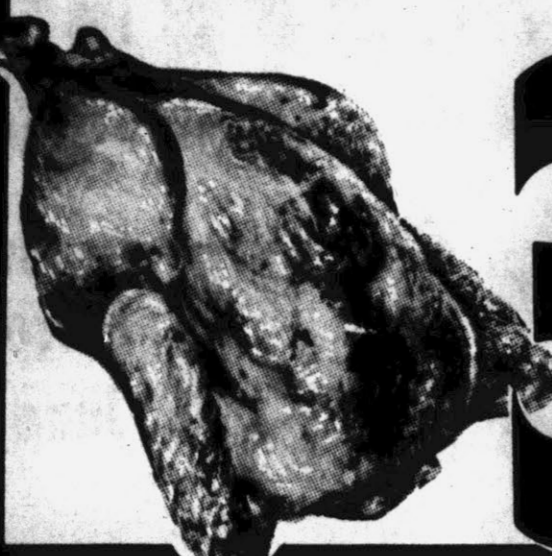

Sponsored by the Greenville Unit of the North Carolina Association of Educators, the social was held at 10:30 at Wahl Coates Elementary School.

A number of city, school board and school officials were on hand to meet and talk to the 40 who this year will for the first time be members of the faculty of the Greenville schools.

Among those on hand to greet the newcomers were Mayor S. Eugene West, School Superintendent Dr. Clet C. Cleetwood, school board members Edward Carter and Mrs. Teresa Shank, Director of Elementary Education Charles Ross and Director of Secondary Education Mrs. Audrey Whitehurst.

Parking Meters Going Out

By REESE HART
Associated Press Writer
Mushrooming shopping centers with free parking space are causing many North Carolina cities to consider doing away with parking meters.

Wilson discontinued on-street meters about three years ago. Rockingham eliminated them a year ago. Forest City did the same about eight months ago, and Whiteville followed suit last May.

Goldboro, which has a population of 26,800, never has had meters.

Howard Jones, city manager at Whiteville, said, "The present parking situation is working beautifully. We're marking tires and have a two-hour parking limit in the downtown area. The turnover of parking is great."

Jones said he recently counted 28 empty downtown parking spaces one Saturday. He added, "We're going to sell the meters. We have no plans to go back to them."

Perhaps the key to the Whiteville situation is the free parking space made available by merchants for store employees. Stickers are provided for the employees' windshield. Jones said the merchants leased several parking lots for use of employees and customers.

Anne Small, executive secretary of the Greater Whiteville Chamber of Commerce, said, "It's the best thing that ever happened in Whiteville, and it's working well. Very few overtime parking tickets have been written since the meters were removed."

We have no vacant stores downtown. Not many towns can say that," she said.

Al Wiley, city manager at Forest City, said the opening of Tri-City Mall just outside Forest City prompted the town to discontinue parking meters.

Forest City merchants provide space for employe parking, but Wiley said "some employes still park on the streets. It's a matter of educating them to park in the lot."

Wiley said Forest City was getting about $10,000 annually from the meters "and it was costing us $8,000-$9,000 to administer them."

"We are happy with the situation now," he added.

At Rockingham, Town Manager Herbert Hicks said the town board decided a year ago to discontinue on-street meters.

"We acquired three off-street lots that have parking meters," Hicks said. Merchants also provide free parking space for employes but some employes complained about having to walk the distance to the lots.

"Some of the bigger merchants provide employes with enough money each day to park in the city meter lots," he explained. "It's working very well. The posts for the meters are still on the downtown streets, but we're giving thought to taking them down."

Hicks said Rockingham was getting about $20,000 a year in revenue from meters. He added, "It was costing us about that much to administer them."

Like many cities, Rockingham has a nearby shopping center with free parking. This figured in the decision to eliminate meters.

Kenneth Kyle, Goldsboro city manager, said cities under 50,000 population should consider doing away with meters.

The no-meter plan at Goldsboro, he said, has been "well received by shoppers and merchants. I'd say we have adequate parking spaces except during peak periods like Christmas. The merchants have worked well with the city. They set up three off-street lots on which employes could park."

Goldsboro has unusually wide street with angle parking which provides about 700 spaces.

Bruce Boyette, city manager at Wilson, said, "I don't believe we'll ever go back to meters. We have a two-hour parking limitation. The majority of the merchants favor our present system."

Raleigh's merchants also want meters removed from Fayetteville Street, the city's main downtown thoroughfare and once the heart of the city's business district.

George Goodwin, chairman of Raleigh's Downtown Advancement Corp., said removal of the meters was "something that is urgently needed to rejuvenate business downtown."

The world's first motion picture theater was operated in Atlanta in 1895 by C. Francis Jenkins at the Cotton States Exposition.

The Worry Clinic Different Ages To Be Considered

Senator Leo Sullivan shows the problems that state legislators face when Uncle Sam lowered the voting age to 18, re voting or buying whiskey?

By GEORGE W. CRANE, Ph.D., M.D.
Case U-567: Leo Sullivan is a distinguished member of the Indiana State Senate. "Dr. Crane," he began, "at our last session of the Legislature, we considered a bill to let 18-year-olds drink hard liquor."

"The issue was debated, back and forth, but a majority felt that if adulthood and voting privileges had now been granted to those 18-year-olds, it would be difficult to deny them ALL adult rights."

Test of Adulthood
Many people originally opposed lowering the voting age to 18 years.

But others said that if Uncle Sam was drafting such teenagers for war purposes, then those same teen-agers should have a right to vote for the U.S. Senators who get us into foreign wars.

If, therefore, 18-year-olds are deemed adults, with the resulting rights to vote, to sign legal contracts in business and to marry, how can they be denied the usual right to buy whiskey?

This is obviously a good topic for high school debaters.

But we must recognize there are several "ages" to consider! On P. 188-120 of my college textbook "Psychology Applied," I have listed the 5 different ages by which we psychologists rate human beings.

First, there is the chronological (calendar) age. Second, the physical age, for many youngsters don't mature in body and muscle as fast as others.

Third, we consider your mental age, for many big, 6-foot adults may still have the mind of a 3-year-old (idiot).

Fourth, there is your educational age, which covers both your amount of formal schooling, plus other valuable training and practical experience (horse sense).

Lastly, we discuss emotional age, for many adult college graduates may still throw temper tantrums or squander all their pay checks on gambling and frilly, non-essentials, leaving nothing for rent and groceries.

The new law lowering the voting age to 18, thus focussed only on that first type of "age" listed above.

Even if you are a feeble-minded person, with the mental age of only 7 years, or have the emotional instability of a kindergarten tot, you still can vote when you reach 18.

Obviously, we should have used some other criterion than mere calendar age to determine adulthood and voting privileges!

For example, many psychologists feel it is wrong to let anybody vote who cannot bear arms in defense of this Republic.

Since feeble-minded folks are "screened" out of military service, then that would rule out their right to vote.

Also, people who are emotionally immature and thus react like sheep to social pressure, as by stampeding toward use of drugs or drag racing on public highways, or hard liquor to make it appear they are he-men, might also be viewed askance regarding the ballot.

Remember, adult American Indians were long denied access to whiskey because of their emotional response to it!

Similarly, thousands of teenagers will become an extra hazard on the auto highways when allowed to buy hard liquor at roadside taverns!

So it would be wiser if we could employ some of those other "ages," instead of mere chronological age, to determine adulthood and voting!

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 25 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

After 20 consecutive victories, Italy's Blue Team finally suffered its first setback in the 1972 World Bridge Olympiad held in Miami Beach in June, at the hands of Formosa.

The Taiwan Team, which plays the Precision Club System scored a major upset in its 1969 debut in international competition by finishing second to Italy whose Blue Team then went into temporary retirement after having won its ninth consecutive World Title.

Today's hand netted the Chinese a key swing which enabled them to edge Italy in their qualifying round match. The bidding is presented as it occurred at the table where Massimo D'Alelio was seated South and Camillo Pabis Ticci was North for the Italians.

South opened the bidding with one heart and West overcalled with two clubs. North's raise to three hearts is competitive and not forcing in their methods. South's four diamond bid was a mild slam try and when North merely returned to four hearts, the auction subsided.

West opened the king of clubs on which East dropped the seven. West continued with the ace and when his partner completed the echo by playing the six to show a doubleton, he continued with the jack of clubs. D'Alelio chose to ruff in dummy with the ten of hearts and East overrudded with the queen, and then cashed the ace of spades to register a one trick defeat on the deal.

When the hand was re-played at the other table, the final contract was again four hearts and West again started the defense with Patrick Huang who was declarer for Formosa in the South position, decided to ruff the third club with North's king of hearts on which East took a discard.

A small heart was led from dummy and when East followed with the eight, South successfully finessed his jack. The ace of hearts dropped the two outstanding trumps. The dummy was entered with the queen of diamonds to lead a spade. East put up the ace for the third and final defensive trick. The 420 points for a nonvulnerable game (120 trick score plus 300 game bonus) added to the 50 points scored at the other table, netted the Chinese a 470-point net profit on the deal.
