

Nixon Wants Time For Breakthrough

By FRANK CORMIER
Associated Press Writer
SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (AP) — Predicting he will win the November election "twice as big" as in 1968, President Nixon says he wants four more White House years to pursue what he terms a "breakthrough for peace" in dealings with Peking and Moscow.

Nixon spanned the continent Thursday — just hours after accepting renomination by the Republican party at Miami Beach. It quickly became apparent that the convention chant of "Four More Years" will be the official litany if not the announced slogan of his drive to defeat his Democratic opponent, Sen. George McGovern. Arriving at the Western White House here after dark, Nixon told several thousand devoted well-wishers from Southern California communities where he has lived or studied: "Why do we want four more years? So we can continue to make this breakthrough for peace. I think I have learned now to negotiate. I think I know what we want and what they want. I think I know what steps can be taken. I know that we have to be strong, and yet I know that we have to negotiate." Before helicoptering to his seaside villa, he recalled to a jubilant throng in San Diego that after his nomination four years ago he had immediately gone to San Diego from Miami Beach. "This crowd is twice as large as we had in 1968 and we're going to win twice as big in 1972," he declared. The crowd began chanting, "Four more years! Four more years!" Nixon, who had spoken earlier in Chicago and in a Detroit suburb, lost no time in directly challenging McGovern on two key campaign issues: defense and busing policies. Before the American Legion in Chicago, he didn't mention McGovern by name but said if his opponent's defense economies were carried out the United States would be a second-rate power and peace would be imperiled.

In a statement issued upon arrival in Michigan, he called anew for antibusing legislation and accused the Democratic-controlled Congress of failing to act on the matter. McGovern favors busing as one tool to achieve desegregation, as do many federal courts. Nixon saw few demonstrators during his cross-country journey. Virtually every audience was gathered by invitation. But a few opponents of the Vietnam war did raise a chant outside the Dwight D. Eisenhower High School he dedicated in Utica, Mich. The President wrapped up his long and obviously arduous day by riding toward his home here in a golf cart past scrambling well-wishers.

Schools Open In Greenville

By JERRY RAYNOR

About 6,000 Greenville young people — from the traditionally bewildered six year olds to the happy to be senior teen-agers, trooped into classrooms of the six elementary schools, the junior high and the senior high school this foggy, warm summer morning of August 25, 1972. An abbreviated day of school, opening day is being spent with students becoming acquainted with their new teachers, looking around to discover last year's favorite schoolmates, and listening to orientations about programs for the new school year.

A familiar routine, but like Christmas and the county fair, there's always an air of excitement for teachers and pupils in the realization that school days are here again. Dr. Cleet C. Cleetwood, Superintendent of the Greenville City Schools, said today's opening appears to be "one of our finest opening dates yet. Principals have been on the job during the summer, and as a result we have the highest degree of readiness ever experienced for this day." Dr. Cleetwood said indications are that "the students reported virtually 100 percent on opening day." The only minor problem he noted was that of "overly conscientious bus drivers who get out a bit early and leave some stops before the earliest appointed time. This of course "will be simple to adjust." The superintendent expressed delight about the "spirit and mood of the professional staff. This, I feel," he stated, "is in large part attributable to the concern shown by Greenville citizens in the work of the Citizens Advisory Committee and in programs like the School Appreciation week and the Teacher Appreciation Banquet."

Sniper Kills Another Briton

BELFAST (AP) — A British soldier was killed early today, the 14th in two weeks, by a sniper who fired three shots at a patrol in North Belfast. His death brought Northern Ireland's three-year fatality toll to at least 531, more than 300 of them this year. Another soldier was badly wounded when a gunman opened fire on a foot patrol in Londonderry. The army claimed to have hit a gunman on the roof of a building in another part of Londonderry, near the Bogside Catholic district.

The Provisional wing of the Irish Republican Army came under new pressure to stop its bombing and shooting campaign. Appeals for a cease-fire came from priests, politicians, and civil rights and community leaders — and from the Marxist-oriented Official wing of the IRA. The Officials' laid down their arms in favor of political action some weeks ago. The Civil Rights Association in Newry, where nine people were killed in an explosion Tuesday, sought a meeting with Sean McStofian.

Tobacco Market Has Another Big Sale Day

By TOM BAINES

The Greenville tobacco market led the 17-market Eastern Belt in poundage once again Thursday as local warehouses continued to record record averages. Sales of 1,640,652 pounds were reported yesterday for $1,438,071, a record average of $87.65. The average topped Wednesday's figure of $87.52 by 13 cents. All 17 markets in the belt posted averages over $87 Thursday as the previous day's record average of $87.19 was erased. Markets combined to sell 10,364,329 pounds yesterday for $9,076,338, an overall average of $87.57. Wendell paced the belt in average with $88.09 per hundred pounds and was the first market to top the $88 average. Kinston's mark of $87.04 was the lowest reported for Thursday. Once again, markets in Greenville, Wilson, Kinston and Rocky Mount sold over one million pounds and Greenville and Wilson were the only markets to go over the one million dollar mark in sales. Season totals for the belt through Thursday were 52,753,490 pounds, which sold for $45,842,823, an average of $86.90. Stabilization receipts, according to the Federal-State Market News Service in Wilson, totaled only 338 pounds. Prices on the Farmville market were stronger yesterday than any day of the season, according to Louis Williams, sales supervisor of the Tobacco

Board of Trade there. He said that better grades of leaf and cutters accounted for most of the gain in average with the top price recorded at $88. Primings and lugs continued to account for most of the volume, he said, and offerings of non-descript grades were off in volume but higher in prices. The market recorded its highest average of the season Thursday as sales totaled 578,120 pounds for $507,132, an average of $87.72. Season totals, to date, are 3,726,130 pounds for $3,234,062, an average of $86.79. Williams said that Stabilization receipts remained at zero for the marketing season.

Six American Flyers Are Missing After Being Shot Down In North

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — Three American fighter-bombers were lost over North Vietnam last weekend, a fourth was downed today and six of the eight fliers are missing; the U.S. Command announced. This raised losses over North Vietnam to 82 planes and 91 missing airmen since the resumption of full-scale bombing on April 6, the Command said. North Vietnam has announced the capture of more than 20 of the fliers.

The weather over the North cleared somewhat Thursday, and American planes flew more than 310 strikes, the largest number in a week. The Command said its fliers knocked out 25 warehouses, 10 ammunition storage buildings, 15 bridges and 31 water supply craft. The Command launched an investigation today into a charge by Peking that American bombers attacked a lifeboat from a Chinese merchant ship off the coast of North Vietnam on Tuesday and killed five men. Peking termed the attack "a grave provocation against the Chinese people" and called on United States to "guarantee against the recurrence of similar incidents." Peking said the captain of the ship, a deputy political commissar and three seamen were killed. It claimed that the boat was flying the Chinese flag and that the American planes circled it at low altitude repeatedly "for reconnaissance before the bombing."

The U.S. Command admitted that Navy planes attacked a water craft Tuesday off Hon Ngu Island, 11 miles northeast of the port of Vinh. This was the location specified by Peking. But while the Chinese claimed that the craft was a lifeboat from the merchant ship Hon Gai No. 151, the U.S. Command described it as a 30-foot water supply craft trying to circumvent the American

Polio Problem

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — A potential problem could develop if polio were introduced into inner city areas where 50 per cent of the children are not immunized, a spokesman at the Center for Disease Control says. "We've been lucky that polio has not been introduced into these areas in recent years," said Dr. John J. Witte. "But we are quite concerned that if the polio virus is introduced, we could have a real problem." He said summer and early fall are the most dangerous times for polio. In an interview Thursday, Witte said physicians are concerned because one out of every three children in the 1-to-4 age group have not been given polio vaccine.

Teachers Honored By City

By TOMMY FORREST
Reflector Staff Writer
Teachers and school officials were honored by citizens last night with an appreciation dinner sponsored by the Greenville Chamber of Commerce and Merchants Association. George Shoe, president of the chamber, introduced T.J. Payne who made opening remarks. Dr. James Bearden, Dean, School of Business, East Carolina University, introduced the speaker of the evening, Dr. Noah Langdale, president of Georgia State University to the crowd of near 500.

Dr. Langdale opened his speech by saying that there was a growing awareness of the teaching profession by the public, as Greenville's School Appreciation Week indicates. "What you honor you will cultivate and what is cultivated will bear fruit in its season," Dr. Langdale said. Thus, he said that by honoring our teachers, we are cultivating the better schools we want. "People who build education are my fellow workers (teachers)," Dr. Langdale said. "What are teachers going to do?" the educator questioned. "Over come nature by teaching Christian principals of life." Dr. Langdale continued, "The greatest goal is to over come nature. The future belongs to him or her who only is willing to cultivate reality." The educator advised, "Make a friend of your son." "By the time he is 20, he can be friend of foe," Dr. Langdale closed, "depending on whether friendship has been cultivated."

Showdown On Bagladesh Set

By ALEC COLLETT
Associated Press Writer
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The U.N. Security Council scheduled a showdown vote today on the admission of Bangladesh to the United Nations. But with a Chinese veto promised, some diplomats forecast new delaying moves. Chinese Ambassador Huang Hua declared Thursday that if the Soviet Union, India and others push the issue to a vote, he would "categorically vote against" the new nation that the Indian Army carved out of Pakistan last December. The council met for 2½ hours Thursday to rule on the Bangladesh application for membership, made three weeks ago, and then adjourned until this afternoon. Soviet delegate Viktor L. Israelyan fought against putting off the vote, charging there were "political considerations lurking underneath" the proposal. He said "certain delegations are trying to see that we block this application of Bangladesh," and demanded a guarantee "that no further delays will be asked." The adjournment was proposed by Sudanese Ambassador Rahmatalla Abdulla, who offered to mediate what many diplomats see as a contest between China and the Soviet Union for influence on the Indian subcontinent. Abdulla suggested delegates needed time to consult on two resolutions before the council, or needed instructions from their governments. One resolution, backed by Britain, the Soviet Union, India and Yugoslavia, calls for the immediate admission of Bangladesh. The other, backed by China, would postpone a decision until Bangladesh complies with the U.N. resolutions of December calling for the repatriation of 90,000 Pakistani soldiers taken prisoner during the two-week war between India and Pakistan. Indian Ambassador Samar Sen accused the Chinese of laying down "irrelevant preconditions relating to bilateral relations between states." He said there was no reference to Bangladesh in the December resolutions and pointed out that Bangladesh was denied a voice at the United Nations during the December war.

Dead Girl May Be From State

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP) — Investigators are trying to find out if a girl who died under a mound of sand last weekend had hitchhiked to Florida from Winston-Salem, N.C. "We are not closing the door on other possibilities," said Broward County Sheriff's Capt. Edward Roehling, "but as of this moment we are concentrating mostly on Winston-Salem" in the effort to establish her identity. He said some information was received Thursday night from Winston-Salem but it was inconclusive and more was being sought. The 14- to 16-year-old girl's body was found nude under a mound of sand near a beach-front apartment house. A medical report said sand in her lungs indicated she may have been buried alive. Police said they had talked to three youths who reported that on Saturday they met a girl who matched the victim's description—5-foot-4-inches tall, 130 pounds with long auburn-brown hair. They said the girl told them her name was Pat, she hitchhiked from North Carolina and had no money. They saw her later walking away with another young man. Police are seeking her. The youths said she wore blue jeans like the ones found under the girl's body. Police and sheriff's officers have received numerous calls from South Florida and North Carolina from parents who fear the dead girl is their runaway daughter.

Couple Exchanges Vows In Saturday Ceremony

On Saturday at 6 p.m. in a semi-candlelight profile ceremony, Miss Brenda Bell became the bride of Charles Harper in Mt. Calvary FWB Church.

The Rev. Clarence Gray officiated at the double ring ceremony.

A program of nuptial music was presented by the Tones of Joy of St. Augustine College, Raleigh. They sang "Rejoice" and "You'll Never Walk Alone." Mrs. Florence Daniels, soloist, sang "The Wedding Prayer" and "The Lord's Prayer." They were assisted by Clarence Anderson, organist, of St. Augustine College.

The church was decorated in traditional green and white. In the center of the background was a fifteen branch candelabra entwined with greenery, flanked by two coronet candelabra filled with white gladioli, chrysanthemums and pom poms in the background. In the choir loft and on either side of the church were tall standards of woodwardia and emerald greenery. At the altar was a profile priedieu where the bridal couple took their vows.

Pews were marked with white satin bows and ribbons to enclose the church.

The bride, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alexandra Bell of Greenville, was given in marriage by her father. She wore an Alfred Angelo formal candlelight schiffi embroidered silk organza gown designed with short puff sleeves with ruffled edges tiered in Venise lace bands. Matching lace encircled the scoop neckline and accentuated the princess-line gown. A silk organza band circled the waistline and formed a bow in the back of the gown.

A detachable chapel length train of panels of organza and embroidery trimmed in lace extended from the train.

She wore an elbow length illusion veil which was attached to a headpiece of silk blossoms and foliage with pearl peps. She carried a nosegay of pink and white miniature carnations centered with a white orchid and tied with white, pink, and blue satin streamers.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Harper of Winterville.

Miss Angela Barnes was maid of honor. She wore a formal length gown of blue organza designed with an Empire bodice of white chantilly lace over blue organza styled with a round neckline edged with white Venise lace flowers. The long sleeves were banded in deep cuffs of white lace. Miniature blue satin buttons extended down the bodice front. She wore a floral silk organza headpiece attached to a veil of illusion. She carried a nosegay of mixed carnations tied with pink and blue satin bows and streamers. Bridesmaids were Miss Esther Morris, Miss Pearl Best, Miss Carolyn Smith, Miss Patricia Daniels, Miss Annette Barnes, all of Greenville.

They wore gowns styled identical to that of the honor attendant in petal rose organza. They wore headpieces of petal rose blossoms and carried long-stemmed white chrysanthemums centered with hot pink miniature carnation tied with pink, white and blue bows and streamers.

Flower girls were DeCathrie Gray and Demetria Glover. They wore gowns styled identical to that of the honor attendant in white chantilly lace and candlelight. They carried baskets filled with colorful petals and mixed miniature carnations.

Andranette Bell, sister of the bride, was train bearer. She wore a gown identical to that of the flower girls. Her headpiece was a crown of mixed miniature carnations.

William Wilkins of Washington, D.C. was best man. Ushers were Donald Ray Bell, Marvin Earl Bell, brothers of the bride, Steve McQueen, Thomas Wilkins, James Staton and Gover Rook, all of Raleigh. Robbin Harper of Washington, D.C. nephew of the bridegroom was ring bearer.

The wedding was directed by Miss Esther Porteur. She wore a full length gown of seuwane over yellow icy lace.

Mrs. Bell, mother of the bride, wore a chapel length gown of blue satin with matching accessories. The bridegroom's mother wore a dress of blue organza with chantilly lace and matching accessories. Both mothers wore white pom pon corsages.

The bride is a graduate of Rose High School and a sophomore at St. Augustine College. The bridegroom is also attending St. Augustine College. Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church.

The guest table was covered with a white lace cloth and centered with an arrangement of pink carnations and greenery.

Assisting in serving were Mrs. Martha Jean Darden, Miss Angenette Taylor, Mrs. Naomi Dunn, and Mrs. Reba W. Wilkes. Good-byes were said by the bridal couple.

A rehearsal party was given Friday night by Mr. and Mrs. Willie Barnes. The couple was entertained with a wedding breakfast Saturday morning, given by the bridesmaids, the mothers of the bridal couple, Miss Porteur. The event was held at the home of Mrs. Naomi Dunn.

Woman Wonders If Honesty Pays Off

By Abigail Van Buren

(© 1972 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd., Inc.)

DEAR ABBY: I am writing to relate two separate incidents and would appreciate your opinion.

The first incident: My husband was driving down a busy city street when he noticed a box in the street which apparently had fallen out of someone's car. He stopped and picked it up. It contained 12 freshly laundered white shirts. The owner's name was on a slip inside, so my husband immediately went to a phone booth and tried to locate him. There were three people by the same name, so my husband called all three. The last one was the man who had just lost his laundry. My husband drove [out of his way] to the home of the man, and he rang the doorbell. The man came to the door, took the box, said, "Thanks, Buddy," and shut the door.

Incident Number Two: Last week my young daughter and I were getting out of our car in a shopping center when she noticed a woman's billfold on the ground. I picked it up and saw that it had money and credit cards inside. I took it immediately to the parking lot attendant and turned it in. I left my name and phone number.

I went back later and asked if the lady who lost the billfold ever got it back. He said she had. I then asked if he had given her my name and phone number. He said, "Yes." End of story.

Sometimes I wonder, Abby. Does it pay to be honest? HONEST OR STUPID

DEAR HONEST: In the above cases honesty didn't "pay" except in the currency of honor and self respect. If that isn't enough for you, then honesty does "not" pay. The choice is yours.

DEAR ABBY: Those women who complain because they have small breasts should count their blessings. AND their breasts.

I was always small, and even went to a doctor about it. He laughed and told me that's why they sold so many padded bras.

Well, I never thought it could happen to me, but I had to have both my breasts removed in life-saving surgery.

I couldn't have written this letter six years ago without tears dropping all over the page, but I can say truthfully that now it doesn't bother me. I can thank God for a loving, sensible, understanding husband who I thought I'd lose, but didn't.

Now I am trying to adjust to this topless, bra-less era minus bosoms. It isn't easy, but I'm doing the best I can with the assets I have left.

OFF MY CHEST

DEAR OFF: You have a soul sister in Marvella Bayh, the beautiful wife of the handsome, young Indiana senator. She told the story of her mastectomy in the June issue of Today's Health Magazine with such courage and candor she was an inspiration to all women who shared that experience.

DEAR ABBY: Please, be the judge in this controversy: When a woman is told, "You think like a man"—is that a compliment or not? Sign this...

"A WOMAN WHO THINKS LIKE A MAN"

DEAR WOMAN: It's a compliment only to a woman who thinks a man's thinking is superior to that of a woman's.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "LIED AND REGRET IT": Tell him the truth. Not because you think he will find out anyway [he may not], but because you will feel better if you do. But it's not necessary to give him the names and numbers of all the players.

Problems? Trust Abby. For a personal reply, write to ABBY, BOX 69700, L. A., CALIF. 90069 and enclose a stamped, addressed envelope.

Write to write letters? Send $1 to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069, for Abby's booklet, "How to Write Letters for All Occasions."

Women Are Test Drivers

MESA, Ariz. (AP) — Test driving is one of the latest fields to be invaded by women.

Sherry Cromwell and Jeanett Jenkins are driving station wagons 300 miles a day at the General Motors Desert Proving Ground in a test of tires.

Once that is completed, they will be assigned to another test because they like the work and General Motors likes its first two female test drivers.

Miss Cromwell thinks it's logical for her to do the testing because with so many women driving cars, "they aren't safe for anybody if they aren't safe for us."

She's the daughter of a truck driver and applied specifically for the job.

The receptionist job Miss Jenkins applied for had been filled, but GM suggested the test job when it learned she changed the oil and spark plugs in her own car.

Robert Stewart, personnel administrator, says the reaction from the 60 male drivers has been favorable. Miss Cromwell says she thinks some of them are a little more careful of their dress with girls around.

With time out for lunch and rest stops, the women put their cars through the paces of any normal driver, going over city streets, freeways and country

SAVORY MEAT LOAF

- It slices well.
- 1 egg
- 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
- 1/2 teaspoon prepared mustard

- 2 tablespoons minced parsley
- 1 tablespoon instant onion
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon pepper
- 1/2 cup milk
- 3 thin slices bread, crumbed (1 cup)
- 1 pound ground beef round
- 1 tablespoon chili sauce

In a medium mixing bowl beat egg with Worcestershire and mustard until blended. Add parsley, onion, salt, pepper and milk; beat to mix. Add bread and let stand, mixing well several times, until bread almost absorbs liquid—about 5 minutes. add beef and mix thoroughly with a fork or your fingers. Pack into a small wet loaf pan (7 1/2 by 3 1/2 by 2 1/4 inches); turn out into a shallow greased pan (11 by 7 by 1 1/2 inches). Spread top and sides of loaf with the chili sauce. Bake in a preheated 350-degree oven for 45 to 50 minutes. Makes 5 servings.

Wash scatter-size rugs in electric washer or a tub. Do not wring or twist. Hang them dripping.

N.C. Demos Quickly Approve Officials

By NOEL YANCEY
Associated Press Writer
RALEIGH (AP) — The North Carolina Democratic Executive Committee quickly approved Thursday a slate of party officials recommended by gubernatorial nominee Hargrove "Skipper" Bowles despite some cries of "rubber stamp" and a move to postpone action.

The committee voted unanimously to name James R. Sugg of New Bern as state Democratic chairman succeeding State Sen. John Church of Henderson and then it chose three vice chairmen by acclamation.

Bowles pointed out that the new party officials represent all the party's major factions — men and women, white and black, young and old, and Wallaceites and McGovern supporters.

He said that in recommending Mrs. Alfreda Webb of Greensboro, only black woman ever to serve in the North Carolina General Assembly as first vice chairman, he had contacted "both women and black leaders."

He said that in naming one of the other vice chairmen, C. J. Hyatt, a Winston-Salem realtor, he had consulted Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace. Hyatt was an area coordinator for Wallace during the spring presidential preference primary.

Bowles said that before naming Susan Phifer of Morganton as third vice chairman, he had contacted McGovern supporters in the state and youth leaders.

One leader of the scattered band of dissidents at the meeting was Hugh Wilson of Orange County who moved that the election of the party officials be postponed until after Labor Day.

Wilson said Bowles' recommendation had been made public only this week and that the committee members had not had time enough to consider them properly.

Wilson asserted that it would "leave a bad taste in people's mouths if you go on and ram this thing through today."

The Orange County delegate raised a formal point of order saying party rules require that 10 days notice of a meeting must be given if officers are to be elected. However, William

Joslin of Raleigh, the parliamentarian, held that there was no such provision in the rules.

The committee by an overwhelming margin shouted its approval of a motion by State Rep. Liston Ramsey of Madison County to table Wilson's motion to defer action.

In a brief acceptance speech, Sugg, a New Bern attorney, appealed for party unity. He said there are things about the Democratic Party that he does not like, "but I've never been so disenchanted with the Democratic Party that I ever considered leaving it."

Two Hurt In Wrecks

Two persons were injured and an estimated $1,050 property damage estimated in two mishaps investigated here yesterday by police.

Officers reported Rufus Nathan Purvis, 31 of Bethel was injured when a backing car caught him between another vehicle at the Harris Super Market parking lot on East Tenth St. about 7:10 p.m.

Investigators identified the driver of the car involved in the mishap as Yoon Hough Kim, 42 of 116 Park Dr.

No charges were made and no damage reported.

Both drivers involved in a 5 p.m. mishap on Memorial Drive one-tenth of a mile South of the Clark Street intersection were charged, police reported.

Officers said Frederick Feran Pollard, 36 of 304 Crown Point Rd. was charged with improper passing, while Lewis Hardison, 54 of 1011 Van Nortwick St. was cited for failing to see his intended movement could be made in safety.

Hardison was injured in the collision according to investigators who placed damage to the Hardison vehicle at $50 and set damage to the Pollard car at $1,000.

Building Permits Are Up

RALEIGH — For the second straight month, the value of building permits increased by 25 per cent in North Carolina cities of more than 10,000 population, State Labor Commissioner Frank Crane said today.

Crane said July permits reported by the 36 cities were up by 25.4 per cent to a total of $70,035,937, compared with $55,835,405 for the month of July, 1971. June permits also showed a similar increase.

Crane said $404,082,879 worth of building permits were issued during the first seven months of 1972, for a six per cent increase over the $381,351,589 reported for the comparable period in 1971. Durham led the cities with July permits totaling $21,908,763. Greensboro was second with $11,363,223. Raleigh third with $7,808,364, and Charlotte fourth with $6,222,341.

Greenville building totals for July came to a total of $832,950, while Kingston's building permits totaled $173,281. Goldsboro totaled $495,485 in building permits, Wilson's permits were $721,664 and Rocky Mount received $748,726 in building permits.

For the first seven months of 1972, local totals of building permits are as follows: Greenville, $10,311,709; Goldsboro, $11,971,748; Rocky Mount, $8,668,629; and Wilson, $4,975,268.

Pot Raids Nab Three

Law enforcement officers charged three men with illegal possession of marijuana following two separate raids here during the night.

According to Chief of Police E. G. Cannon, Greenville police, Pitt ABC officers, Sheriff's Department deputies and East Carolina University police raided a home at 807 Charles St. about 12:30 a.m. today and found about 100 grams of marijuana in the dwelling.

Charged with possessing marijuana with intent to distribute the illegal weed were Kelly Martin Harrington, 21 of 3003 East Tenth St. and Wade Carl Davis, Jr., 21 of Route 8, Greenville.

Moffette Tony Harris, 24 of 1200 Myrtle Ave. was arrested at 2:25 a.m. on charges of possession of marijuana.

Chief Cannon said officers searched the Harris home at 11:55 p.m. yesterday and found a gram of marijuana in the attic of the Myrtle Avenue home.

Harris, not at home at the time of the raid, was taken into custody when he returned home.

Alice Blue was a name given a particular shade of the color favored by Alice Roosevelt Longworth for her wardrobe.

Eastern Belt Prices Hold Up

The remainder of the markets on the Eastern Belt opened for sales this week and those with early sales increased their selling time. There was no change in the high prices which are being paid to producers.

There was very little variation in the prices paid for tobacco all over the market on the first full day of sales. The belt averaged $86.41 with the lowest market's average being $86.71 while the highest was $87.04.

Thus the buyers continued the pattern which developed on the first day of opening sales of paying nearly one price for tobacco.

It is a reasonably delightful situation for the farmers, although most of them will quickly point out that burning cost were astronomical this year.

Tobacco is rapidly moving out of the fields in this area and into the barns. Just as rapidly farmers are moving it to market for quick sale.

It appears that the price pattern established on the early market sales will continue to hold and, thus, we can look forward to a good selling season on the Eastern Belt.

Choice Of Easterner Is Most Encouraging

It is most encouraging to us that Hargrove "Skipper" Bowles has chosen an easterner for the Democratic party chairman.

Bowles announced his recommendation of New Bern attorney James R. Sugg for the post.

It is gratifying to us that Bowles has looked to the east for his party chairman choice. We feel that New Bern's James R. Sugg will fill the post well.

Nixon Wanted No Anti-Labor Plank

By ROWLAND EVANS and ROBERT NOVAK
MIAMI BEACH — When President Nixon learned last Friday that Sen. John Tower of Texas was mobilizing to add a "right-to-work" anti-labor union plank to the platform, he cracked his whip for the first time to discipline the 1972 Republican National Convention.

Mr. Nixon, at the Presidential retreat in Camp David, Md., instructed top domestic policy aide John Ehrlichman in Miami Beach to send word to the Platform Committee (using Rogers Morton, Secretary of the Interior and former Republican National Chairman, as a conduit). Morton's instructions: Tell the committee's conservatives—particularly Tower—that the President insists on the strongest pro-labor plank in Republican history and certainly no right-to-work nonsense.

Morever, Mr. Nixon ordered Ehrlichman to leave the definite impression, without stating it flatly, that the President would publicly repudiate any right-to-work plank that was adopted—perhaps in his Wednesday night acceptance speech, perhaps some other way. Tower promptly subsided, dooming right-to-work chances.

What makes this Presidential intervention so remarkable is that the White House at the same time was letting the Platform Committee move rightward on busing, amnesty and other issues. In greater contrast, the Nixon political operation was extricating itself from the fight over shaping the 1976 convention while the President cracked the whip on the labor plank.

The reason: As of this momentous week, Mr. Nixon is interested neither in ideology nor the future Republican succession. His sole interest is a landslide reelection, his new coalition of Jews, organized labor and other disaffected Democrats added to his 1968 support. Thus, the convention must do nothing to offend this new support.

That's why Mr. Nixon was so upset when he heard of Tower's efforts to endorse Section 14 (b) of the Raft-Hartley law, permitting state right-to-work laws prohibiting compulsory unionism. Nixon staffers vigorously lobbied Platform Committee members, particularly members of Congress.

So, when state Republican Vice Chairman John (Slim) Wells of West Virginia introduced the 14 (b) amendment behind closed doors Friday night, the Congressional members descended on him. Rep. Bob Michel, a downstate Illinois Bourbon conservative, expressed sympathy with right-to-work but stressed that this was no time for the GOP to indulge itself in labor-baiting, Wells lost badly.

The labor plank adopted was a panegyric ("we salute the statesmanship of the labor union movement") written weeks ago at the White House. "It made me just a little bit sick," a Southern platform member told us. "But who's going to buck the President?"

As we reported earlier, the White House last week seemed to be supporting the drive by conservative party leaders from the South and West to maintain their disproportionate delegate strength for 1976.

Nixon campaign aide Harry Fleming had been working secretly with the conservatives for weeks. He was much in evidence a week ago as the rules deliberations began at the Eden Roc Hotel. Suddenly, Fleming was gone—called off by an Ehrlichman order barring intervention on either side in the struggle for 1976 poster. Since then, the President's agents have indicated they would like a compromise but have not insisted on it.

So, Gov. Nelson Rockefeller got a sympathetic hearing but no promises when he telephoned. Nixon campaign manager Clark MacGregor replied only that he would be available for negotiations. But he did not press for a compromise or even inform Mr. Nixon of Rockefeller's call.

To further minimize White House connections in the fight, there were plans afoot Monday for the three Cabinet members who are convention delegates—John Volpe and Elliot Richardson (Massachusetts) and Rogers Morton (Maryland)—to resign as delegates and thereby avoid taking sides in

Strength For Today

REINTERPRET!
We are constantly being called upon to reinterpret the conditions amid which we live. The open-minded scientist is at work on this sort of thing all the time. The great discoveries come out of the fact that he never admits that anything is impossible. He stands humbly before the facts of the natural world and keeps on asking questions. His most amazing discoveries come not as the result of his receiving definite answers to his questions but as the result of his being led into greater areas of truth.

Reinterpret! Reinterpret! This is the whole of like and progress. The marriage problem is never settled. Millions of people are working on the problem all the time and out of their experience comes new truth. We have certain fixed revelations in the field of religion, but we only appropriate these religious truths and use them to our benefit when we submit them to continued interpretation and reinterpretation. Never say about any subject that you know enough about it. Remember that when you have learned everything you can, you have learned only a small part of the whole truth of anything. Our relations with our fellow men, our life under free government, our religious and philosophical beliefs, our ways of carrying on business—these things have to be constantly reinterpreted.

GOP Welcomes (?) Demos

MIAMI BEACH — I must say the Republicans went out of their way to be nice to the many "Democrats for Nixon" that showed up for the Republican National Convention in Miami Beach.

I was in a restaurant the other night. There were two Republican couples at one table, and the headwaiter seated a "Democrats for Nixon" couple right next to them.

One of the Republican men said to his friends, "They seem terribly well dressed for Democrats."

"Oh some of them have good jobs," the other Republican man replied. "Of course they spend all their money on Cadillacs and clothes. You should see the houses they live in."

"I'll bet," said one of the Republican ladies, "they saved up all week to come to this restaurant."

"She's rather attractive for a Democrat," the other Republican woman observed.

"I'll say this," her Republican husband said. "When you see an attractive Democratic woman she's really attractive."

"I think it's something they do with their hair," his wife said.

"It's funny how times change," the other Republican man said. "A few years ago if the headwaiter had seated a Democratic couple next to me I would have left the restaurant. Now it hardly bothers me at all."

"Let's talk to them," the Republican man said. "Hi, where you folks from?"

The "Democrats for Nixon" man smiled showing all his white teeth. "Garden City, Long Island," he said.

"We know a Democratic couple from Garden City," the Republican wife said. "They're fine people. They've never been in trouble with the law or anything."

"Our butcher is a Democrat," the other Republican wife said, "and you won't find a nicer man in the whole town. He's not pushy or anything. His son became a dentist and we're all proud of him."

"Let me ask a question," one of the Republican husbands said. "Do your people really think Paul Newman is good looking?"

The "Democrats for Nixon" wife chuckled, "I wouldn't kick him out of bed."

The Republicans blanched. One of the Republican men said, "What kind of music do your people like?"

"Jazz, rock, blues, show tunes," the "Democrats for Nixon" husband replied.

"Your people have given our country great music," the Republican wife said. "It has had a tremendous effect on our culture."

Redford Is Most Individual

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Of all the individualists in Hollywood, Robert Redford is perhaps the most individual. The actor, currently starred in "The Candidate," an uncompromising look at politics, seldom runs with the herd and insists on being his own man.

HAL BOYLE

"Bob Redford is a solid, confused citizen" is the way he describes himself—with a wry grimace. A lifelong victim of wanderlust, he prizes the "mystery and privacy of life," and says, "I never have been comfortable except at the beach, the desert or the mountains."

"I like places where the people put no demands on you," he remarked. "You are what you are, and you create your own existence. I love space, freedom and the outdoors, wandering through unexplored territory where you don't feel under constant pressure."

Tall, handsome Redford became a candidate for matinee idolism with his rousing and likable role in "Butch Cassidy and the Sundance Kid." But the idea of being pigeonholed in any way is repellent to him. He feels that modern life tends too much to package man and label him.

"I operate on the principle that you should always keep from feeling completed—to feel that you always have somewhere else to go, and something more to find out, and to be free of tags and labels. That's the only way to stay alive."

"The idea is to play tag with life, but never be 'it.' Then you are free to grow." Bob led a reckless playboy existence until his career ripened and matured him.

"From 18 to 21 in college I drank myself into oblivion every day," he recalled.

"Then I decided that was stupid and a waste of time."

"Now I think that perhaps one of my best qualities is that I try to think myself

Chowan River On Verge Of Dying Because Of Excesses In Pollution

RALEIGH (AP) — State water resources officials say that the Chowan River is the first river in North Carolina found to be "on the verge" of an early death from eutrophication. Eutrophication, a problem which has struck highly polluted waterways such as the Potomac River, is characterized by widespread algae blooms such as have been reported on the Chowan this summer. This buildup of plant life and bacteria robs the water of oxygen and threatens fish life. A. C. Turnage, a member of the staff of the Board of Water and Air Resources, reported to the board Thursday on a study of the Chowan. Turnage said eutrophication has struck the still reaches of the lower Chowan, an arm of Albemarle Sound. He said eutrophication has been accelerated by great quantities of nutrients dumped into the river by industries and by runoff from a million acres of agricultural land in the river basin. Great algae blooms have turned much of the lower Chowan blue-green, and have even painted the sand along the banks, he said.

On Aug. 15, the board ordered Farmers Chemical Association Inc., a fertilizer company at Tunis, to stop dumping untreated waste into the river as a step toward halting the eutrophication process. The plant had been emptying 1,000 pounds of nitrogen a day into the river. E. C. Hubbard, assistant director of the Department of Water and Air Resources, said that while the fertilizer company was the single largest polluter, the problem will continue and even worsen since nutrient buildup is a cumulative process. P. Greer Johnson, chairman of the board's Water and Air Quality Control Committee, asked why the river problem had become so bad in the past few years. Turnage said, "The nutrients are slightly higher. Apparently the river was right on the verge of trouble, and a slight rise put it over."

He said the opening of the fertilizer plant three years ago may have been the "trigger." The board decided to ask the federal government for help in trying to restore the river. It voted to ask the Environmental Protection Agency's Eutrophication Research Center in Oregon for help in a study to see what can be done.

High Polluters Should Pay Cost

RALEIGH (AP) — The North Carolina Board of Water and Air Resources is recommending that cities asking for grant money from the Clean Water Bond Act of 1971 should charge large industrial users a significantly higher sewer rate than that charged individual users.

The board's decision followed lengthy debate especially in the Water and Air Quality Control Committee meeting which preceded Thursday's board meeting.

Committee member James A. Wallace, an outspoken environmentalist, said if bond act money is used to help cities build sewage systems which undercharge industries, the effect is a state subsidy.

"The issue is, who pays?" he said. "My feeling is it's the single user, and the industries in effect get a subsidy. We must not use state money to subsidize industries that are not paying their own way."

Wallace said charging the industries more would encourage them to build their own pre-treatment facilities so that they would not depend so heavily on municipal treatment plants.

But committee Chairman P. Greer Johnson, said, "When we begin to tell cities what they must charge individual users, we are opening a box that we just can't control. I think the cities will feel it's their business how they raise the revenues to pay the local share."

The proposed regulation reads that "each category of user will pay substantially its proportion of the total cost of construction, operation and maintenance" of the sewer systems financed under the bond act.

The Board of Water and Air Resources is one of four agencies that must approve the regulations for grant applications. Regulations must also be approved by the state Board of Health, the Department of Administration and the Advisory Budget Commission.

The bond issue was approved by the voters in a May 6 referendum. It will provide grants to cities and counties for projects to clean up their water.

Fund Limitation Talks Collapse

RALEIGH (AP) — Efforts by backers of gubernatorial candidates Jim Holshouser and Hargrove "Skipper" Bowles to agree to a limitation on campaign spending ended in failure Thursday with each side blaming the other.

But Jake Froelich, campaign manager for Bowles, said that the Democratic nominee would limit his spending anyway. He displayed for newsmen an agreement signed by Bowles in which he agreed to limit his television advertising in the fall campaign to $175,000.

Froelich made his comments at a news conference and Holshouser replied in a public speech at the Wake County Courthouse 90 minutes later.

Republican Holshouser said Bowles' proposed television advertising ceiling represented a "false start and that's worse than none at all."

"Our proposal was the only one that could be honestly agreed to in the midst of a political campaign," Froelich said. "It limits spending for the big controllable item—television advertising."

Froelich said Holshouser had first proposed a $440,000 ceiling on total campaign spending and then had upped this figure to $660,000.

Holshouser commented that it is obvious that Bowles "has not been seriously interested in campaign spending limitation." He said Bowles apparently feels "that the only way he has a chance to win this election is to go out and spend another huge amount of money this fall, just as he did in the primary and simply try to buy the election."

Bowles reported that he spent more than $800,000 in winning the Democratic nomination in the two primaries last spring while Holshouser said he spent about one-fourth this much.

Women Receive Almanac Rights

By PHYLIS AUSTIN
Associated Press Writer

LEWISTON, Maine (AP) — The Farmer's Almanac has spent 156 years poking gentle fun at women with lines like, "Many women would be more spic if they had less span."

But times have changed, says editor Ray Geiger. "The belief that it's a man's world' quite evidently becomes less valid with every passing day and year," Geiger said.

Not that the Almanac is going to give up its one-liners aimed at women, but Geiger has written a two-page article for the 1973 edition, available Sept. 17, which is quite complimentary of woman's role in the world.

Among other things, Geiger, 62, points out that tests have shown a woman's intelligence is equal to a man's and that women control the purse strings of the United States.

Redford is strongly critical of the conforming tendencies of American civilization.

"We are being robbed of our sensual pleasures," he said. "We eat pills instead of food. We are headed for a stratified, sterilized existence in which everything will be packaged for us, and we'll have no choices left."

"The only hope we have is to revitalize the past," said Bob. "A return to the past is the best thing we have to look forward to—the past with all its glories, its class, its style. There is no class or style today."

All this greatly disappoints those conservative state party leaders, particularly Southerners, who expected Mr. Nixon's support in perpetuating their power in future conventions and his passivity in their plans for an ultra-conservative platform. This week they discovered just how narrowly Mr. Nixon's interests are focused on Nov. 7.

"Do your people read books?" the other Republican wife asked.

The "Democrats for Nixon" husband grinned again. "We belong to the Book of the Month Club."

"Well what do you know?" the Republican husband said. "I guess you'll be catching up with us pretty soon."

"It's a question of opportunity," the other Republican wife said. "President Nixon says if you give a Democrat a chance to pull himself up by his bootstraps, he can be as good a citizen as the next person."

"Can we buy you people a drink?" the Republican husband asked.

"No, we're going to have wine with our dinner."

"Wine?" the other Republican said. "I didn't know your people liked wine."

making 80 per cent of all consumer purchases. Geiger said in an interview Thursday he included the article because of a letter from a Maryland woman complaining that certain jokes, bits of verse and capsules of wisdom in the 1972 Almanac were insulting to women. Barbara Collier of Bethesda, Md., cited 36 items she said were demeaning of women, including this bit of advice: "One of the best ways for a woman to catch a man is to keep her trap shut."

A man's meaning behind that, she said, is "women are always after men, and women talk too much."

She said she did not believe there was "conscious intent behind this. Most men and many women (even little girls) have the popular cliches so ingrained that they simply do not realize what they are doing."

"However," she wrote, "I find it hard to believe that many men find jokes using all the tired old stereotypes uproariously funny, and I am sure most women are not terribly amused."

Geiger said the woman's letter "got me thinking" and article was the result.

The 1973 Almanac, with a circulation of 4.5 million, still contains one-liners on women ("My wife leads a double life — hers and mine") and its usual round of helpful hints and predictions.

It says the 1972-73 winter will be milder than last year's version and there will be an early spring next year.

Discrimination Charge By Nader

WASHINGTON (AP) — Calling for Civil Aeronautics Board Chairman Secor D. Browne to resign, consumer advocate Ralph Nader has accused the CAB of job discrimination against racial minorities and women.

A study by the Aviation Consumer Action Project, of which Nader is chairman, Thursday cited statistics to show that white males hold most of the best CAB jobs, and blacks and other racial minority group members, and women, are confined largely to lower-paying work.

"The CAB's employment practices within its own walls demonstrate that the agency is delinquent in implementing the national policy of equal employment opportunity," wrote Nader intern Marc Mihaly, a student at the University of California School of Law, who prepared the report.

Nader sent the report to Browne and, in an accompanying letter, said the CAB chairman should resign because under his leadership the CAB has:

—Granted airlines the highest single-package fare increase in CAB history.

—Approved for the first time anti-competitive agreements among airlines which have reduced coast-to-coast flights by 30 per cent.

—Failed to enforce regulations requiring airlines to disclose the identity of their stockholders.

—Failed to prevent illegal control of airlines by a few large banks and insurance companies.

—Failed to act on consumer complaints about airline overbooking, overcharging, flight delays and baggage losses.

Aides said Browne would have no comment on the report until he has seen it.

Fischer's Position Stronger In 18th Game

By JULIE FLINT
Associated Press Writer
REYKJAVIK, Iceland (AP) — Bobby Fischer appeared to be in the stronger position with a chance for a victory in the resumption of the 18th game of the world chess championship today.

Grandmasters said defending champion Boris Spassky had some chance of a draw, but no prospects of winning. A victory for the 29-year-old American challenger would give him a four-point edge over Spassky, an unprecedented margin in the history of the championship.

Neutercane Is New Storm Breed

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Thanks to a sharp-eyed satellite, hurricane forecasters have identified a breed of sea-going storm. Half-hurricane and half-tornado, it's been dubbed a "neutercane."

The National Hurricane Center in Miami issued the first warning of the mermaid of marine storms Thursday. It said Neutercane Bravo was located over the North Atlantic 600 miles northeast of Bermuda.

Packing winds of only 40 miles per hour and moving along at 10 m.p.h., Bravo seemed an unlikely candidate for landfall, however. "There is no potential for rapid development," said forecaster Joe Pellissier. "There is a chance, however, that it could evolve into a hurricane or tropical storm."

Before the advent of weather satellites, neutercanes were lumped in with cyclones and tropical storms. The AT33 satellite changed all that when weathermen got a chance to see detailed pictures of the ocean.

Neutercanes are smaller than hurricanes, have a different energy source and travel different areas of the ocean, according to center director Dr. Robert Simpson. "Its identity as a circular storm often less than 100 miles in diameter ordinarily would go undetected except for satellite pictures," he said. "As a marine storm ... it generally remains at sea, a threat only to shipping in its path."

Alpha, the first in the June-to-November neutercane season, carried gale force winds into Georgia May 27 but went largely ignored because it struck an unpopulated area.

The neutercane season will mean a whole new list of names for forecasters, who are

Bakers Asking Higher Prices

By R. GREGORY NOKES
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — American bakers are asking the Cost of Living Council to approve price increases for bread and other products to offset rising costs resulting from the U.S.-Soviet wheat trade deal.

At the same time, a bill has been introduced in Congress for a government-backed program to promote demand for bread and other wheat products in the United States. Opponents say this could also result in higher prices.

The American Bakers Association, which represents about 1,000 bakeries, said Thursday that an "extraordinary price movement for flour" since the Soviet wheat agreement has increased their costs by approximately two-thirds of a cent per pound of bread.

In a letter to Cost of Living Council Director Donald Rumsfeld, it asked for "immediate compensatory price relief," adding that "the failure of even one bakery will, indeed, be a tremendous price to pay in furtherance of our expanded trade with Russia ..."

A pound loaf of bread currently costs about 25 cents. There was no mention of how much of an increase is anticipated, but industry spokesmen said earlier this week it could be from two to three cents per loaf.

The bakers requested a meeting with Cost of Living Council representatives next week. Joseph M. Creed, general counsel for the bakers group, said pre-tax profits for bakeries on a one pound loaf of bread averaged 1.13 cents in 1971. Costs now have increased by an additional .67 cents per loaf, he said, and it will place most bakers "in a deficit position."

He said the increase results from price fluctuations which followed the "tremendous and unexpected sales" of some 400 million bushels of wheat to Russia.

Bakers say wheat has gone up from $1.57 a bushel in mid-July to $1.86 per bushel last weekend, at Kansas City, and flour from $5.40 to $6.70 per hundredweight in the past year. Industry spokesmen also claim that federal export subsidies are another factor.

Congress, meanwhile, is considering a bill to establish a Wheat Industry Council to promote demand for wheat products through a research and advertising campaign. It would be financed by a levy on processed wheat that would rise from one cent per hundredweight the first year to 2.5 cents after that. Opponents argue that the cost of up to $6 million a year ultimately would be passed onto the consumer.

Can't Help Man Who Beat Him

CONCORD, N. C. (AP) — State Rep. James C. Johnson says he cannot support Raleigh broadcast executive Jesse Helms for the U. S. Senate because of Helms' stand on President Nixon's farm and domestic policies.

Johnson, who was beaten soundly by Helms in the Republican primary for the U. S. Senate, Thursday endorsed Democratic U. S. Senate nominee Congressman Nick Gallifianakis.

Johnson said, "I feel the Republicans need to pick up strength in the Senate, but judging by Helms' past editorial positions against federal revenue sharing and improving our relations with Peking and Moscow, I don't see how his ('Helms') presence in Washington can help the administration one bit."

The Concord attorney said if Helms were to change some of his decisions regarding Nixon administration policy he "might consider voting for him."

Johnson said he is not bolting the GOP, but noted he hasn't decided which way he will vote in the gubernatorial election between Democrat Hargrove "Skipper" Bowles and Republican Jim Holshouser.

Helms' campaign manager, Tom Ellis, issued a statement saying he was commenting in the absence of Helms who had a speaking engagement.

Ellis said: "Mr. Johnson certainly wants Jesse elected to the Senate. Mr. Nixon has written Jesse endorsing his candidacy and this week Jesse attended the Republican National Convention at the invitation of the White House."

Ellis added, "If Mr. Johnson is concerned about Mr. Nixon, he should check with the White House."

Commenting on the governor's race, Johnson said he considers Bowles and Holshouser "about equal in ability." However, he predicted Bowles would win in a close election.

Bridge Collapses
SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Eleven persons were injured, two critically, when tons of steel beams suddenly fell on their vehicles at a highway underpass being built east of here.

Two cars and a truck were crushed by the steel which fell late Thursday onto four-lane U.S. 50, the highway patrol said.

The victims were in vehicles which happened to be passing under the bridge at the time. A California Division of Highways spokesman said three workmen were on the site at the time, but the falling beams missed them.

"They looked like they were falling like dominoes, and I cut to the left," said Ed Williams, 41, of Sacramento, who was driving under the structure at the time. "But I saw they were going to hit me. So I hit the seat and I prayed for the best."

Williams' car was crushed, but he didn't receive a scratch. The beams were being used to hold up concrete forms while the overpass structure itself was being poured.

Highway Patrol Inspector Louis Brown said the cause of the collapse was not known.

Developers Are Economics Said Charged By U.S. Palace For Few

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Justice Department said today it has filed civil antipollution suits against three land developers on the outer banks of North Carolina.

The department said the suits, charging violations of the 1969 Refuse Act, were filed in U.S. District Court in New Bern, N.C.

Named as defendants were Owen Fulford of Harker's Island, Lawrence Owens of Phillip's Boat Yard, Wanchese, and Sam Beacham, owner of Outer Banks Contractors, Inc., of Kitty Hawk.

All were charged with excavating and filling lands adjacent to navigable waters without obtaining a required permit from the Army Corps of Engineers.

The suits said dirt and sand have been dumped on the banks where the materials are liable to be washed into the water and impair navigation.

One suit said Fulford has conducted excavations and fill operations in Core Sound for about the past year.

Another suit said Owens and Beacham have been filling in land adjacent to Croatan Sound since last May 15.

The third suit said Beacham has been filling in land adjacent to Currituck Sound and Kitty Hawk Bay since last Jan. 1.

The suits asked for court orders enjoining the defendants from further excavating and filling lands adjacent to navigable waters.

In addition, the suits asked that they be ordered to restore the lands to their natural state or pay damages to the federal government.

The proposed damages would be $100,000 for Fulford, $90,000 for Owens and Beacham, and $100,000 for Beacham separately in the third suit.

Celebrates

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Gov. George C. Wallace returns to the executive mansion in Montgomery today to celebrate his 53rd birthday.

A party complete with cake, candles, friends and family is a good possibility, a spokesman for the partially paralyzed Wallace said.

The governor will return Sunday to Spain Rehabilitation Center here where he is undergoing physical therapy to make himself independent despite his paralysis.

Hiep was replaced by Col. Tran Van Nhut, a marine officer considered by many Americans and Vietnamese to be Saigon's outstanding officer in the siege of An Loc.

South Vietnamese military officials disclosed that a battalion of government rangers suffered heavy losses in an ambush on Highway 43 North of Saigon four days ago, with 67 men wounded and 75 missing out of a total force of about 300. There was no report of how many were killed.

The reports said the rangers walked into a trap just after dawn Monday about six miles north of Lai Khe and 36 miles north of Saigon.

By H. L. SCHWARTZ III
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. George McGovern said today President Nixon had turned the economic structure of the United States into "a palace for the privileged few."

The Democratic presidential candidate, in a statement issued after a four-day, cross-country campaign swing, criticized the speech Nixon gave Wednesday night when he accepted nomination to a second term.

"Mr. Nixon said Wednesday night that since our economic structure has some broken windows, we Democrats want to tear it down and start again," McGovern said.

But, he went on, "we're tired of Richard Nixon turning it into a palace for the privileged few. Rather than tear anything down, we want to join Franklin Roosevelt, Harry Truman, John Kennedy and Lyndon Johnson and restore 'that temple to the ancient truths.'"

McGovern planned a working day in his Senate office and a speech to the International Union of Presidents and State Coordinators today before leaving for a quiet weekend with his family on Maryland's Eastern Shore.

The South Dakota senator gave two speeches Thursday in Minneapolis-St. Paul—to the American Federation of Teachers, which received him warmly, and the Veterans of Foreign Wars, which greeted almost all he said on stony silence.

The AFT, representing some 300,000 teachers, broke a 56-year tradition to endorse McGovern's candidacy and pledged $250,000 to his campaign.

McGovern, with his defeated primary campaign rival Hubert H. Humphrey at his side, also met with Minnesota's top labor leaders. If he can get their help it could spell the difference in the traditionally Democratic state.

In his statement today, McGovern ridiculed Nixon for borrowing a phrase from McGovern's own campaign theme: "Come Home America."

"To those millions who have been driven out of your home in the Democratic party," Nixon said in his acceptance speech, "We say—come home—not to another party but to the great principles we believe in together."

"It is Richard Nixon who has sent America's greatest principles into exile," McGovern said.

Landfill Funds Are Granted

First District Congressman Walter B. Jones announced today the Farmers' Home Administration has approved a $75,000 loan and a $30,000 grant to Martin County for a solid waste disposal system.

Project plans call for installation of a landfill site, necessary equipment, and 65 containers scattered throughout the county for use by the rural residents. Williamston, the only town in Martin County with a population over 5,500, will have $20,800 contributed by the county for its participation in the system. The FHA loan is repayable in 10 years at five per cent interest. Funds are provided under the Rural Community Facilities Program of the FHA.

Munich Set For Olympic Opening

By HUBERT MIZELL
Associated Press Sports Writer
MUNICH (AP) — Bavaria's festive capital welcomes the Olympic torch tonight as a relay runner from Greece jogs into historic Koenigsplatz where Hitler plotted his course to infamy.

The 20th Olympic Games, a $1 billion undertaking of contemporary West Germany, becomes a reality Saturday with athletic teams of 122 nations marching into the 80,000 capacity Olympia Stadium.

On the eve of that opening ceremony, the Olympic torch, ferried by hundreds of runners from Olympia, Greece, will reach Munich to be received by Olympic officials and a likely international ovation from tourists and sports fans gathered in Koenigsplatz.

That monumental central square of neoclassic architecture was the site of the "Brown House" which served as Nazi Party headquarters at the time of Hitler's rise to power in 1933.

It was also the scene of the signing in 1938 of the Munich Pact, the ill-fated agreement to guarantee what Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain of England called "peace in our time."

When the pomp and pageantry fades into the cool Bavarian night, the 10,000 athletes in Olympic Village will be poised to match their skills for 195 gold medals in 22 sports.

The International Olympic Committee announced Thursday night it had offered to welcome Communist China into the athletic festival, but Peking says no as long as Taiwan is admitted.

In other IOC action, the four-man bobsled competition was eliminated from the 1976 Winter Games as too expensive a sport — with an estimated possibly cost of $100,000 an entry.

The move will allow Denver the Winter Olympics' next host city, to conduct all events in Colorado. Tentative plans had been made to switch the four-man bobs to Lake Placid N.Y.

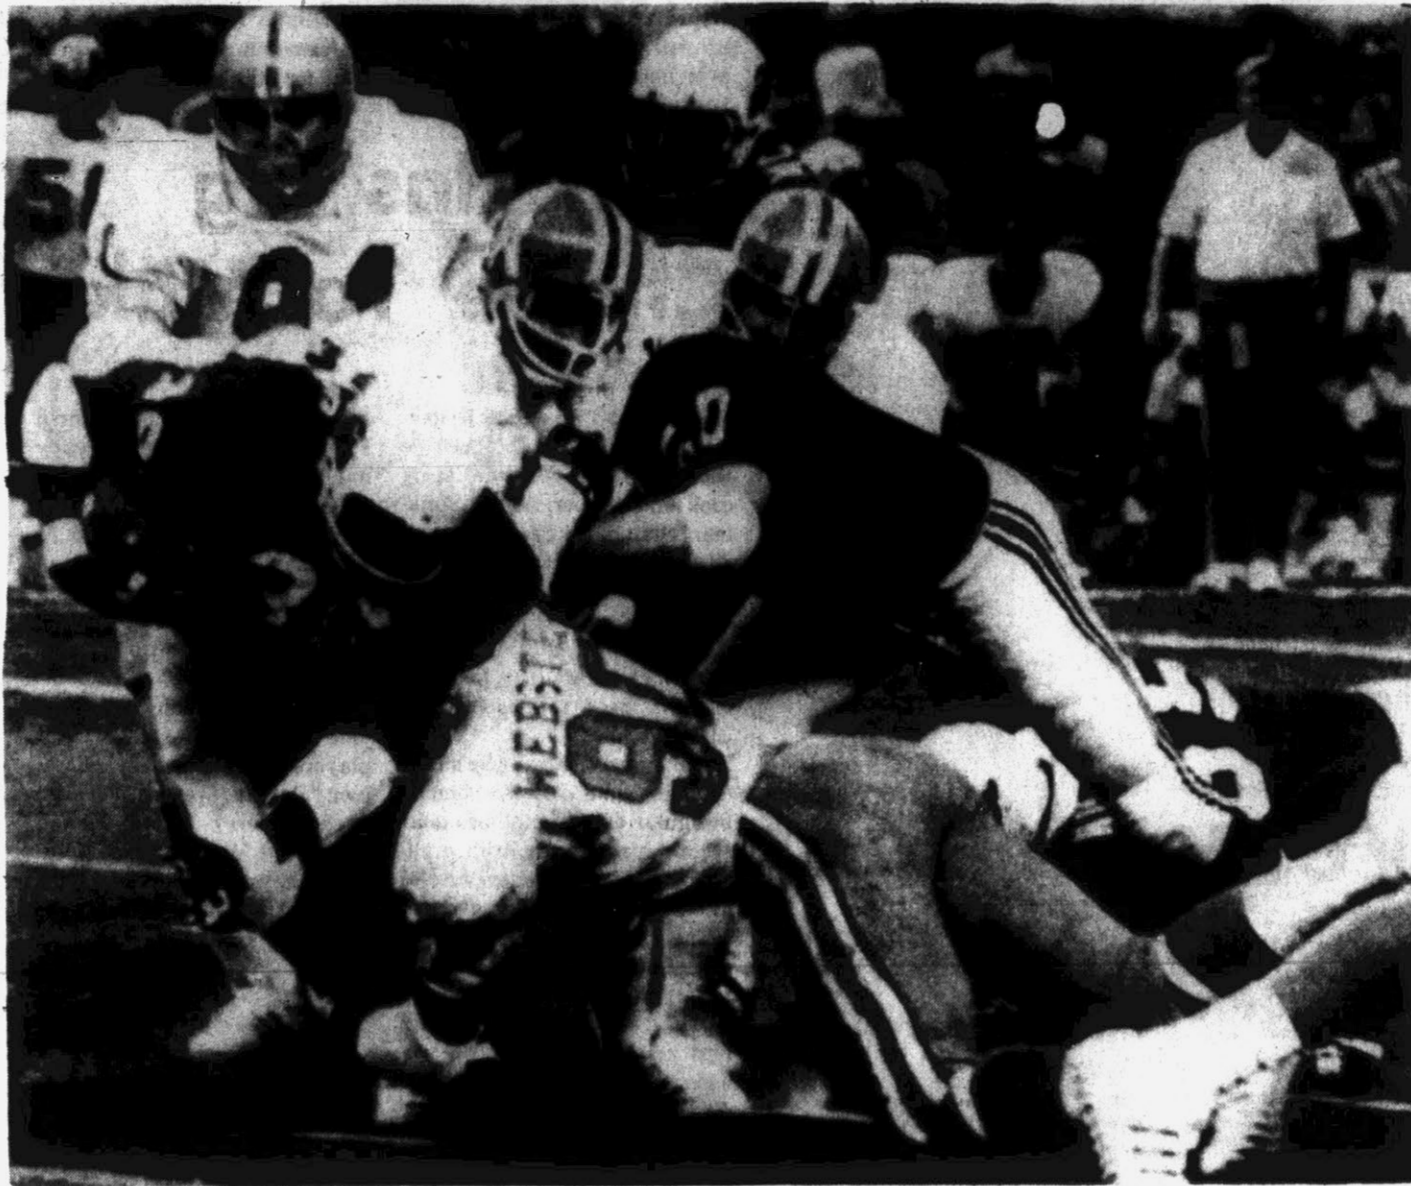

The IOC added six women's rowing events to the 1976 Summer Games calendar at Montreal before reaching Friday's closing business session.

Jesse Owens, the svelte black man who won four gold medals in the 1936 Olympics in Berlin, returned to the country of his famed accomplishments. The welcome was more than warm.

"It gives me a good feeling," said the Chicago resident, now 58 years old. "I walk down the street with my wife and grandchildren and I hear people say: 'There he is—Yesssee Owensness.'"

Owens, snubbed by Hitler due to his heritage, is an honored guest of the German Organizing Committee for the Olympic Games.

Owens won the 100 and 200 meters dashes, the long jump and helped on the 400-meter relay team. His one-Olympics record of four golds has been equaled just once, by U.S. swimmer Don Schollander at Tokyo in 1964.

Quarterback Problem?

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Washington Redskins Coach George Allen has a quarterback problem—and the other teams in the National Football League are hoping he solves it soon.

Allen's problem is deciding on a starting quarterback—Billey Kilmer or Sonny Jurgensen? Jurgensen is the 15-year veteran, a former NFL passing champ who holds numerous NFL records and ranks as the league's premier lifetime passer.

Kilmer, meanwhile, is the 10-year veteran who came to the Redskins last year and, when Jurgensen suffered a preseason shoulder injury, stepped right in and led the Redskins to a postseason playoff berth.

In order to decide on a starter, Allen has been letting Kilmer work the first half of each of Washington's preseason games, with Jurgensen handling the second half.

And the results have been nothing less than spectacular. Washington has won all three games played thus far, and won them with ease—33-3 over Baltimore, 41-0 over Denver and 34-10 over Philadelphia.

Kilmer has completed 21 of 41 passes for 294 yards and five touchdowns. Jurgensen has hit on 15 of 23 for 245 yards and four TDs.

All of which means the Detroit Lions, Washington's opponents in tonight's nationally televised exhibition game, figure to have their hands full.

In tonight's only other exhibition contest, the Miami Dolphins host the Atlanta Falcons.

In Thursday night's single game, Houston's Dan Pastorini passed for three touchdowns as the Oilers beat St. Louis 33-24.

The Cardinals scored on a one-yard run by Jim Hart, two TD passes by Gary Cuozzo to Ara Person and Don Heater and a Jim Bakken field goal. But Pastorini hit Ken Burrough for 28 yards, Dennis Hughes for seven and Rhet Dawson for 12, all for touchdowns. Charlie Joiner and Lloyd Walsh also ran for Houston tallies.

Oiler second-year quarterback Lynn Dickey dislocated his left hip in the first quarter. There was no immediate word on how long he would be lost to the team.

Five games are scheduled for Saturday. In the only day contest, Buffalo plays Oakland at Berkeley, Calif. In night action, the New York Jets are at Dallas for a nationally televised game, Minnesota is at Cleveland, Pittsburgh meets Baltimore at Tampa, Fla. and San Diego is at New Orleans.

In Sunday's two day games, Denver is at San Francisco and the New York Giants are at New England. Sunday night, it's Los Angeles at Kansas City for a nationally televised game and Chicago against Green Bay at Milwaukee.

In the wind-up to the five-day weekend schedule, Cincinnati plays at Philadelphia Monday night.

Michigan State will play its first night football team in nine years when the Spartans meet Southern California Sept. 30 in the Los Angeles Coliseum.

Torre's Switch May Catch On

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer
Look out, Joe Torre. Your switch from catcher to third baseman may be catching on.

Torre, who blossomed into a full-fledged superstar when he gave up his chest protector and shin guards, may have given Johnny Bench, already a superstar, some ideas. Cincinnati's slugging receiver showed up at third base for the Reds Thursday and tagged his 29th homer of the year in a 6-0 victory over Montreal.

That was the only game played in the National League Thursday. In the American League, Texas split a doubleheader with Milwaukee, winning the first game 4-1 but dropping the nightcap 4-3.

"It's tough to catch everyday," said Bench. "The bat gets heavy after awhile. I find it easier if I can play in the field. It's almost like a rest for me."

The rapid development of rookie catcher Bill Plummer has enabled Manager Sparky Anderson to let Bench work elsewhere in the lineup. Mostly, the Cincinnati slugger has been in right field but he switched to third base Thursday and handled two chances including a bunt flawlessly.

The same couldn't be said of the Expos, who committed three errors to make it easy for the Reds and Jack Billingham, who tossed a six-hitter. It was the second straight shutout for the veteran right-hander and evened his season's record at 10-10.

The Rangers scored three unearned runs in the first inning of the opener the last two on a misjudged fly ball which fell for a triple by Tom Grieve.

Frank Howard homered and Elliot Maddox contributed three singles to the Texas attack. Mike Paul and Pete Broberg combined for the six-hitter.

In the nightcap, Dave May clubbed a two-run homer, tying the score for the Brewers and then beat out an infield single in the eighth inning to deliver the winner.

Dalton Jones' bases-loaded double drove in all three Texas runs.

New Swing Record

DUNNELLON, Fla. (AP) — That swinging record for consecutive holes of golf has been broken again—this time by a couple of men in their 30s.

Ed and Chuck Massey of Ocala played 1,100 holes at the Rainbows End Country Club between 6 p.m. Monday and 1:30 p.m. Thursday. They said they could play fast because rain kept most golfers off the course.

They broke the record of 1,067 holes set last week at Orlando by teen-agers Jess and Bubba Riles.

For Dallas, Every Week Is Super Bowl Week

By DENNE H. FREEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer
DALLAS (AP) — "Every week is Super Bowl week when you play as champion."
That's the week-by-week obstacle the Dallas Cowboys, champions of the national Football League, face this season, and Coach Tom Landry knows it well.
"We have to realize that each team we play will make us prove we're world champions," Landry said.
Landry has perhaps the best material in the NFL to accomplish his goal of a third straight trip to the Super Bowl, but a big question looms: Can the Cowboys get there without both Roger Staubach and Duane Thomas?

Staubach, sidelined with a shoulder separation in the Cowboys' exhibition game with Los Angeles, has vowed to return by late November.
Meanwhile, Craig Morton, who took the club to the Super Bowl in 1970, is in the saddle.
Morton, bothered by arm trouble in the past, says, "I'm throwing as well now as I ever have."
The Cowboys obtained Jack Concannon from Chicago as backup quarterback insurance.

Meanwhile, Landry is keeping a close eye on the other veterans to see if they are showing signs of slowing down.
"We'll be watching carefully for that one lost half-step," Landry says. "You never know when age is going to slow a player down."
Landry has young players groomed at almost every position, but it's unlikely they'll see much action.
Toomay looms as a possible replacement for George Andrie at defensive end. Andrie has been bothered by back trouble. Toomay and Andrie split time at the position last year.

The Cowboys are deep at running back, despite the departure of Thomas to San Diego.
Fullback Walt Garrison proved his clutch ability against Miami in the Super Bowl and tough rookie Robert Newhouse and Claxton Welch give depth at the position. Running back belongs to Calvin Hill and Mike Montgomery, obtained from San Diego in the trade for Thomas.
The receivers include Bob Hayes, Ron Sellers, Lance Alworth, and Billy Parks at the wide posts, with Mike Ditka and Billy Truax at tight end shuttling the plays for Landry.
The offensive line of Coach Jim Myers is solid with the return of left tackle Ralph Neely, who suffered a broken leg last season.
Guards Blaine Nye and John Niland are tremendous run blockers and all-pro right tackle Rayfield Wright can handle any defensive end in the league. Dave Manders is a dependable center.
The Doomsday Defense should again give quarterbacks across the league the shakes. All-pro tackle Bob Lilly, tackle Jethro Pugh, end Larry Cole, and the Andrie-Toomay duo don't give a quarterback long to look for that secondary receiver.
Linebackers Chuck Howley, an all-pro, Dave Edwards and Lee Roy Jordan are tested veterans. Cornerbacks Herb Adderley and Mel Renfro team with safeties Cornell Green and Cliff Harris for an excellent secondary.
The placekickers are Mike Clark and Toni Fritsch, two good performers.
You look at the Dallas roster on paper and figure there's only one way they can be beaten—that's to beat themselves.

The More The Fans Boo, The More Calvello Loves It

By ANDY LIPPMAN
Associated Press Writer
TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — "I love for people to hate me."
That's the reason for which Ann Calvello says she has been competing in the Roller Derby for nearly a quarter of a century.
"When I played in San Francisco for a while, I could do no wrong. I was miserable. The more they boo, the more I love it," said Ann, at 43 one of the sport's oldest participants.

"It's a funny thing. The fans love me because I've been around so long, and yet they hate me," she said Thursday.
But Ann draws a line between her professional and her personal life.
"The fans pay their money to boo me in the rink," she said. "But once I'm out of that rink, I'm my own woman again."
Ann is in Tucson touring with the Jolters, a team representing five Midwestern states.
She says she has been a leader on the tour since she started in the Roller Derby at age 18 in 1948. A scout saw her in San Francisco and asked her if she wanted to go to Europe. Her answer was, "Why not?" "Every scent has to have color and showmanship," Ann said. "I started the first day to know I was out there. I was a neutral leader."

match. She thought the gimmick up one St. Patrick's Day, when she said she looked around and "saw too many blondes."
She retired brief from her tour when she married derby referee Roy Langley, but has been divorced for the past 15 years. She lives near San Francisco with her daughter, who, she never gets to see.
Travel is the reason for which she says she may quit after she finishes her 25th year.
"I don't like to be on the road six months each year. I'm tired of all the traveling, the one night stands, the car rides from place to place. Basketball players think they got it tough, at least they get to fly. Have you ever tried driving across the country? I must drive about 75,000 miles a year."

Being noticed for Ann includes spraining her hair green for a Ann is bothered by the idea that Roller Derby is a fraud.

Seeks Restraining Order

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago Black Hawks want to keep Bobby Hull from making public statements about their current contractual battle and from lending his name to promotion of the Winnipeg Jets.

Arthur Morse, Black Hawk attorney, asked U.S. District Court Thursday for a temporary restraining order muzzling Hull.

Morse showed the court a newspaper advertisement in which Hull encouraged persons to attend the World Hockey Association Opener in Chicago Oct. 31 between the Jets and the Chicago Cougars.

He said Hull's contract with the Black Hawks, which expires Sept. 30, provides that Hull can only lend his name to Hawk promotions.

Morse said Hull also should be silenced "so he can't induce other players to join him" in leaving the National Hockey League to play in the WHA.

Hull, 33, longtime superstar of the Hawks, signed a multi-million dollar contract June 27 with the Jets. The Black Hawks filed a suit last week charging Hull with contract violation. Hull filed a counter suit Wednesday charging the Hawks and the NHL with violation of the Sherman Anti-Trust Act.

May Have Best Team

By ROBERT MOORE
Associated Press Sports Writer

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The Kansas City Chiefs may come up with the best team they've ever had this National Football League season, says Hank Stram, the Chiefs' coach who guided them to three titles in the old American Football League and to the world championship in 1970.

Stram has one major objective for the new campaign: "We must regain the world championship, and that is the goal we will dedicate ourselves to in 1972."

The Chiefs need to improve their specialty teams, mainly kickoff and punt returns, and find a running back who can grind out the yardage with the same authority as Ed Podolak and Wendell Hayes.

Stram may have found the answers in Jeff Kinney and Larry Marshall. Kinney, a tough, slashing inside runner and a star on Nebraska's No. 1 ranked team the past two seasons, was the Chiefs' first draft selection.

Marshall, drafted 15th from Maryland, ran a punt back 75 yards for a touchdown in an exhibition game with the St. Louis Cardinals and set up another three points with a 34-yard return.

The Chiefs' offense is loaded with veterans. Len Dawson, the quarterback, is in his 16th pro season. A year ago, he completed 167 of 301 passes for 2,504 yards and 15 touchdowns, ranking him second in the American Conference.

Dawson's big target again will be Otis Taylor, only pro receiver ever to catch passes for more than 1,000 yards in a season. Taylor grabbed 57 passes for 1,110 yards in 1971, seven of them for touchdowns.

Kansas city has two of the game's best kickers, Jerrel Wilson, who had a 44.8-yard punting average in 1971, and Jan Stenerud, the Norwegian placekicker, who made good on 32 of 32 extra points and 26 of 44 field goal attempts.

The Kansas City offensive line is a rugged collection of veterans—tackles Jim Tyrer and Dave Hill, guards Ed Budde and Mo Moorman and center Jack Rudnay. Tyrer has been around for 12 years and Hill and Budde for 10.

The Chiefs' linebacking corps of Willie Lanier, Bobby Bell and Jim Lynch may be the best all-around trip in pro football. Bell is in his 10th season and Lynch and Lanier each in his sixth.

The front four is awesome—ends Marvin Upshaw and Aaron Brown and tackles Curley Culp and Buck Buchanan, Jim Marshalls and Emmitt Thomas, both veterans, are the corner backs.

If the Chiefs have a weakness on defense, it results from the loss of free safety Johnny Robinson, who retired after 12 seasons. Mike Sensibaugh, a second-year pro from Ohio State, Robinson's understudy, takes over.

ATLANTA (AP) — The Atlanta Flames of the National Hockey League announced Tuesday the signing of six players for their opening season, including who received multiyear contracts.

The six include Keith McCreary, a veteran of 12 NHL campaigns, who has been named team captain; forwards Billy MacMillan, 29, and Ernie Hicke, 24, who played with Toronto and California respectively, last year; and amateurs Jean LeMieux, Don Martineau and Johnny Martin.

Karl Has Big Choice To Make

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Golf Writer

PINEHURST, N.C. (AP) — Richie Karl, a one-time Army cook and former Alaska Amateur champion, was not at all dismayed he may have to relinquish a lead in a $100,000 golf tournament to face one of the game's great stars—perhaps Jack Nicklaus or Lee Trevino—in head to head-to-head competition.

The longshot Karl, who's never even come close to winning a regular event on the pro tour, set a course record with a career-best seven-under-par 65 Thursday in the opening round of the $100,000 Liggett & Myers Open.

But, should he retain the top spot in that chase for a $20,000 first prize through today's second round, he's required to drop out of the L & M Tournament and move into the 16-man bracket for the U.S. Professional Match Play Championship, a $150,000 event offering $40,000 to the winner.

That one will be played Saturday and Sunday, with two rounds each day, on the same Country Club of North Carolina course that is the site of the L & M. The two rounds of match play on the weekend will be sandwiched around the third and fourth rounds of the L & M Tournament.

Nicklaus, Trevino, Arnold Palmer and five others already have their spots in the match play and were on the sidelines in the first round of the L & M Thursday. After today's play in the L & M, the eight players leading the field drop out of that tournament and move into the match play.

In addition, to Nicklaus, Trevino and Palmer, the exempt players are defending champion DeWitt Weaver, George Archer, Jerry Heard, Frank Beard and Miller Barber.

"I'm trying to improve," the obscure Karl said. "That's why I'm here. I want to make the top eight and move over. I just want to play as good as I can."

The 27-year-old Karl, a tour sophomore who had a career best finish with a tie for 14th in the Phoenix Open early this spring, held a one-stroke lead over Bob Barbarossa, another relative unknown, and little Deane Beman, tied at 66 after the first round over the 6,988 yard course in the Croline Sandhills.

Paul Moran and Jim Marshall had 67s, with former PGA champion Dave Stockton and rookies Chuck Thorpe and local favorite Lanny Wadkins tied at 68.

Gable Backed Into A Corner

MUNICH (AP) — Dan Gable, a strong U.S. contender for an Olympic gold medal in freestyle wrestling has backed himself into a corner.

"I feel I should win the gold medal. I'm the best. If I lose it will be my fault," Gable said.

Gable, 23, from Waterloo, Iowa, says he has been single-mindedly preparing himself for the gold medal since he graduated from high school.

"I decided then if I worked harder than anyone else I'd end up beating them," he said.

Gable has punished himself with a seven-day-a-week training schedule which ends only when he cuts a deck of cards and does the same number of pushups as the number shown on the card.

While other wrestlers relax after a training session here he grapples with men heavier than is 149-pound class.

"Working with Dan is murder," wheezed teammate Wayne Wells, of Norman, Okla., a gold medal contender in the 163-pound class, after working out with Gable. "If you try anything new he really drums you."

Gable, who has won more than 200 matches and the 1972 world championship, believes his strongest competition will come from Japanese, Russian and Iranian wrestlers.

The effort, Gable says is partly for personal reasons but more for the people who are rooting for him, "my family, my friends, people I've worked with."

"If I lose I'll be able to face myself easier than to face them."

Chinese Temple Emphasizes Past, Present

By HORST FAAS
PEKING (AP) — The awesome distance between the Chinas of yesterday and today is keenly felt at the mystic Altar of Heaven, in the southern suburbs of Peking.

From its triple terrace of carved marble the emperors of two dynasties and 500 years conversed twice a year with the heaven under whose mandate they ruled.

With sacrifices at summer and winter solstices, each emperor confirmed himself as the sole intermediary between heaven and the world at large. It was the concept of Imperial China that all power and therefore all good came from a non-personal heaven and was transmitted solely through the emperor.

The Temple of Heaven was the architectural platform on which the mystical structure of imperial power and government rested.

Today the temple, built to raise the emperor above the common world, has become a park for the common people.

Visitors don't seem to stand in awe of the superhuman powers and position of the emperors of old China. All that's left is an architectural masterpiece, built during the early decades of the Ming Dynasty in the 15th century and kept in repair up to now.

Among the wonders of the temple's architecture is the Hall of Prayers with proportions that correspond to old Chinese cosmology, rising to a triple roof with Prussian-blue tiles and topped by a golden lotus bud. Inside are tablets denoting dead emperors.

A long marble path leads south toward a circular walled enclosure with a round building, where the sacred tablets were kept. It has a famous whispering wall — prayers spoken along the wall could be heard around the whole compound. In the old days the temple was barred to all common folk. On the eve of the solstice the emperor was borne in a yellow sedan chair, curtained off with blue cloth, through empty Peking streets. The emperor spent the night at the Hall of Abstinence and on the following morning ascended the Altar of Heaven for awesome ceremonies. Knocking his head nine times on the marble while crouching on echoing stones, he talked to Heaven.

Fire Code Is Distributed

Inspectors with the Greenville Fire Department's Fire Prevention Bureau have distributed copies of the city's fire code — dealing with places of assembly for entertainment — to operators of amusement facilities in an effort to have them comply with fire safety regulations.

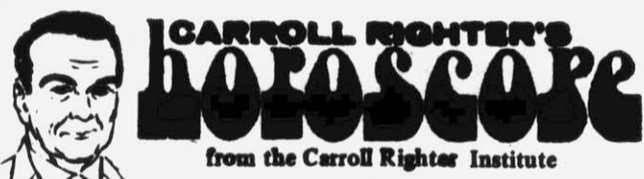

The Fire Prevention Bureau's action was spurred by the closing of a downtown night spot for one night for fire code violations which included having an overcrowded building and having a rear fire exit secured with a hasp and lock.

According to Fire Inspector Jerry McLawhorn, inspectors have been visiting operators of places of entertainment such as athletic facilities and night clubs, to explain the Fire Code regulations. He emphasized that effective September 4, provisions of the code "will be strictly enforced" and noted that violations may lead to "order to close or court action."

Among other things the fire code provides that in places of assembly, exit doorways shall be plainly marked; that during periods of occupancy, no exit door shall be locked, bolted or otherwise fastened or obstructed so that it cannot be opened from the inside by the use of the ordinary door latch or knob; that clear aisles be provided leading to exits; and that exits should be well lighted.

FORECAST FOR SATURDAY, AUGUST 26, 1972

GENERAL TENDENCIES: The early part of this day could be disappointing to you and a time to use care and caution not to upset others. Later you can see clearly how to put an interesting new plan of action in motion and grasp an opportunity to make headway where it counts most. Make future plans.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Handle private affairs early in the morning and then you can help those who need your assistance. Dress in fine style and make a good impression on others. Make your own happiness.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) A pal could be annoying in the morning but don't let this bother you, since he or she is under some kind of pressure. Try to be of service where it counts most. See expert for advice.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Put a clever plan to work that will gain the backing of a powerful individual. Advice from a good friend can also be most helpful. Pay an important bill. Spend evening with good friends.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) You are tempted to engage in a new interest, but this would only get you in trouble with a higher-up, so remain steadfast. Do an exceptionally fine job and gain respect of all.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Stop worrying about a bill — just pay it and get it off your mind. Later you can easily add to your abundance. Listen to those whose experience is different from yours, and benefit therefrom.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) An associate could be annoying in the morning, but if you stuck to work that needs to be done, you derive fine benefits. Show consideration to those you encounter in the business world.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) If you don't take care of a troublesome matter in the morning, you could encounter a serious altercation with fellow workers. Take advantage of spare time by influencing people.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) You want to have a good time in the morning, which is fine, but be sure to take care of your duties first. Don't insist that others do things the way you always do them.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Show kindness in handling one at home and you get the right results now. Go to the amusement that appeals most to you. You have fine talents that should be put to use.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Wait until the afternoon before mailing a letter or making a long-distance phone call and you get far better results. A home affair can now be handled well. You are highly inspired.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Money matters are hard to handle early in the day, but much easier as the day progresses. Regular associates now comprehend your complicated ideas. Get their cooperation.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Morning is the best time to improve your health through exercise. Later handle those money matters well. Try to stretch whatever money you have. Avoid any gossip tonight.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be one of those charming young people who will have a great desire to learn as much as possible in the shortest time. Give as fine a college education as you can and then your progeny will get an early start on a fine career, since there is determination and perseverance here, as well as fine intellect. A good family person in this chart.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

Shriver Calls Nixon Biggest 'War Maker'

By LAWRENCE L. KNUTSON
Associated Press Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — In a full-scale onslaught on the Nixon-Agnew administration, Democratic vice presidential candidate Sargent Shriver has called President Nixon the world's biggest "war maker" and Vice President Spiro T. Agnew the nation's "great divider."

Campaigning across Ohio, Pennsylvania and into New York, Shriver met hard hat steel workers in Pittsburgh Thursday, got the endorsement of a 75,000-member union in Cincinnati and said in New York that Nixon's acceptance speech at the GOP national convention convinced him the President is living "in fantasyland — Disneyland — not in the United States."

Shriver was to spend most of today campaigning in upstate New York after breakfasting with the mayor of Bayonne, N.J.

Dissecting the Nixon acceptance speech and the Nixon record, Shriver in numerous appearances, blamed the President for permitting inflation to grow and for allowing unemployment and crime to rise.

The President has also refused to acknowledge Republican links to the bugging of the Democratic National Committee, Shriver said, and has declined to reveal the sources of what Shriver called a secret $10 million political "slush fund."

He accused Republicans of distorting and twisting the proposals of his presidential running mate, Sen. George McGovern, and he reacted to reports Nixon fund-raisers have suppressed a report on the alleged bugging incident and GOP political contributions with this statement:

"The smell of corruption has been surrounding the Nixon administration at least since the ITT scandal. This report just adds to the odor."

At a Democratic picnic in Pittsburgh and in an earlier speech before the International Molders Union AFL-CIO in Cincinnati, Shriver polished his political imagery:

"Richard Nixon's idea of a party line is a bugged telephone."

"Nixon says he is a peace maker but in the 1,004 days of his administration there has been nothing but war."

"Nixon is the number one war maker in the world at the present time."

"He has refused to muzzle his vice president, a man who has become the great divider." Landing in New York City after a campaign tour that has taken him this week to cities in Texas, Louisiana, Georgia, Ohio and Pennsylvania, Shriver plunged into meetings with leaders of the New York black and Puerto Rican communities.

Shriver's deputies identified the men as Billy Bonds of Andalusia and Fred Calhoun of Elba. The child, a girl about 10 years old, was not identified.

Officers quoted witnesses on the ground as saying the plane was preparing to land when it dropped to the runway and bounced along it. Witnesses told police the plane finally ran off the grassy strip and into a utility building of a residence beside the runway.

The men and the child had landed at the strip Wednesday and had flown to nearby Salisbury Thursday and were returning when the accident happened, officers said they were told.

Disaster Aid Not For N.C.

RALEIGH (AP) — Gov. Bob Scott said today the President's Office of Emergency Preparedness has rejected his request that eight North Carolina counties damaged by Tropical Storm Agnes' floods be declared major disaster areas.

Scott said the action was "a great disappointment to me and to the citizens of the eight counties affected. The disaster designation would have entitled the affected area to federal funds for the restoration of government facilities damaged by the storm.

Scott had asked major disaster area designation for Rockingham, Yadkin, Forsyth, Surry, Stokes, Davidson, Davie and Buncombe counties.

In rejecting the governor's request, George A. Lincoln, director of the Office of Emergency Preparedness, said his investigation had prompted the conclusion "that this situation does not appear to be of such severity and magnitude to warrant a major disaster declaration."

Lincoln pointed out that the secretary of agriculture and the head of the small business administration had designated the counties of Davidson, Davie, Forsyth, Rockingham, Stokes, Surry and Yadkin counties as eligible for low interest rate loans for flood losses.

Scott said in a news release that property damaged in the eight counties was estimated at more than $6.5 million including $2.8 million in Rockingham County. He said damage to municipal facilities totaled about $140,000 and damage to highways in the area amounted to $165,325.

Scott said he felt he had supplied the federal agency with "full and ample information to justify favorable action on the basis of the facts in this case."

More than a FRIEND

Did you ever have a pal who was like a second shadow to you . . . a friend who was always there when you needed him . . . someone who laughed with you when you were happy, and comforted you when your turtle died or your puppy ran away?

Our world is a big place, and people, even close friends, can't always stay together. One day you had to say "goodbye" and go your separate ways.

Since then, you've found new friends. You've also found an emptiness, a need, which people alone could not satisfy. We need a goal at the end of life's path and unflinching strength and guidance along the way.

Only God can fill this emptiness.

Only God can be with you the entire length of your path. And when you reach the end? Only God can take you safely beyond.

Come to church this Sunday. You don't have to walk alone.

Grocery Robbed

The Pitt County Sheriff's Department and State Bureau of Investigation agents are investigating a Wednesday afternoon armed robbery at a Rt. 1, Grimesland store.

Sheriff Ralph Tyson said that Mrs. J. T. Maye, who operates a grocery at Galloway's Crossroads reported that she was robbed at gunpoint of some $400 around 4:45 p.m. Wednesday.

The sheriff said that Mrs. Maye told deputies a man entered her store and asked her to change a bill for him and when she opened her pocketbook, the man pulled a gun. The victim reported that her billfold was taken.

Mrs. Maye, Sheriff Tyson noted, observed that the man then ran out of the store and got into a waiting car driven by another man.

Blackout Called Off

WINTERVILLE — A blackout announced by Winterville officials to enable utilities workers to make needed repairs to the town's electrical distribution system has been called off.

Town Clerk Elwood Nobles said the blackout announced yesterday for Sunday was cancelled when Greenville Utilities Commission crews moved in to help Winterville workers remedy the situation.

In School Of Nursing

Escape Unhurt

CONCORD, N.C. (AP) — Two Alabama men and a child escaped without injury Thursday when their small plane crashed after landing at a Concord airstrip.

Sheriff's deputies identified the men as Billy Bonds of Andalusia and Fred Calhoun of Elba. The child, a girl about 10 years old, was not identified.

Officers quoted witnesses on the ground as saying the plane was preparing to land when it dropped to the runway and bounced along it. Witnesses told police the plane finally ran off the grassy strip and into a utility building of a residence beside the runway.

The men and the child had landed at the strip Wednesday and had flown to nearby Salisbury Thursday and were returning when the accident happened, officers said they were told.

General Phone To Up Rates

RALEIGH (AP) — General Telephone Co. of the Southeast, which operates in the Durham area, has notified the state Utilities Commission it will put a $1.5 million rate increase in effect Sept. 4.

The company told the commission that the higher rates were needed to afford it financial relief while the commission is considering a $2.5 million rate boost which is pending.

"When we petitioned the commission last year, we emphasized the need for prompt rate relief to support continuation of our efforts to meet the service needs of our North Carolina customers," said Claude Sykes, the company's Durham manager.

A utility can legally take action such as General Telephone's if six months have passed in its rate case without a decision.

Under the new rates, one-party service in Durham would advance from $7.30 to $8.75 months and business service would rise from $20 to $24 a month.

The Worry Clinic Verbal Bouquets Winning Friends

God must be doubly delighted by superb teachers like Mrs. Zeravica. For she encourages her pupils to place the Golden Rule into effective daily action. How? Via verbal bouquets, even to strangers! The results are miraculous. See below!

By GEORGE W. CRANE
Ph.D., M.D.
Case U-569: Mrs. R. A. Zeravica, of Trafford, Pa., deserves a special salute. "Dr. Crane," she began, "I launched your 'Compliment Club' experiment with a class of teen-age girls. "And 12 completed the project. "These girls had been in need of methods by which to start conversations. "And this idea of analyzing one's companions for commendable traits thus extroverted their attention from themselves. "One girl reported that a certain young man had never spoken to her and seemed un-friendlly. "So she purposely took the initiative the next time she met him and cheerily raised her hand in the peace symbol, meanwhile saying 'Hi.' "At first, he though her a real ding-a-ling but soon he began to warm up, smiling back at her. "And finally he began to return her cordial greeting. "Dr. Crane, I feel that this 'Compliment Club' is delightful for instilling the beginning toward real personality development. feat and altho East's penalty double strongly suggested that the latter's high card strength was concentrated outside of the spade suit, West chose to open the ace of spades—which gave South a chance on the deal. The first trick was ruffed with North's three of hearts. The closed hand was entered with the king of diamonds which was followed by the ace. The jack of spades was trumped with the ten of hearts and on the queen of diamonds, South discarded the deuce of clubs. The king of hearts was led and East was in with the ace. The trick was aware that a club trick had now been irretrievably lost, but he also observed that if West could be put on lead, a fourth round of diamonds would assure East of scoring the setting trick on an over-ruff with the jack of hearts. In desperation, East under-deried the ace of clubs. West captured declarer's queen with the king and inasmuch as the play to this point suggested the unlikelihood of cashing any more club tricks, he shifted to the jack of diamonds. North followed suit with the nine and East produced his jack of hearts which South was unable to top. The defense took two hearts and one club to set declarer down by one. When West failed to open a club originally, declarer had it in his power to cinch the contract. After he sluffs a club on the queen of diamonds, if he merely continues with a fourth round of diamonds and disposes of his remaining club, the queen, it immobilizes the defense altogether. There is no way that they can take more than one more trick in hearts and once the ace is dislodged, East's jack quietly succumbs to North's queen. South loses one trick each in diamonds and hearts.

Heavy competition by East and West drove South to the five level in order to buy the contract. When West failed to uncover the killing lead against five hearts, South had his opportunity to score a profit, however he did not press his advantage to the fullest and East launched a counteroffensive to recover the lost trick and assure his side of a profit on the deal. South opened the bidding with one heart and West overcalled with one spade. Altho North had only four trumps, his concentration of high card strength in hearts and the void in spades influenced him to give a jump raise to four hearts. East competed by bidding four spades and altho this contract can be defeated one trick since North-South must score three diamond tricks and one spade, South was reluctant to defend on the deal. His spade holding did not appear to be well placed—in front of the overcaller—and he persisted to five hearts as an insurance measure, which was doubled by East. A club lead by West would have assured declarer's de-

Nixons To Entertain

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — President and Mrs. Nixon will throw a party for 250 celebrities of the entertainment world Sunday afternoon in San Clemente, Calif.

The poolside party at the Western White House will be the main weekend event for Nixon, who was renominated for another term at the Republican National Convention here.

Among the guests expected at the party are John Wayne and Art Linkletter, who participated in convention activities here.

Mark Death Of Valentino

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Singer Rudy Vallee, with a crowd of elderly movie fans gathered at Hollywood Memorial Park, helped to mark the 46th anniversary of the death of silent screen star Rudolph Valentino. Vallee, a friend of Valentino's, delivered a brief eulogy, saying, "Of all the stars in the world, none had the popularity of Valentino. His personality created more excitement than anyone else in entertainment history."

When Valentino died in 1926, more than 500,000 fans of the great screen lover filed past his casket in New York City.

The group at Wednesday's services was predominantly elderly women. Onetime silent screen star Mary MacLaren, who appeared in films with Valentino, participated in the ceremony.

Contributors Got Price Supports

WASHINGTON (AP) — Large campaign contributions by dairymen's organizations to President Nixon's re-election campaign helped influence a decision to raise 1971 federal milk price supports, according to letters uncovered in a lawsuit and reported today by The Washington Post.

Reports of the timing of the campaign contributions with a decision to increase federal milk price supports from $4.66 to $4.93 per hundredweight on March 25, 1971, had been published previously. The decision reversed an earlier announcement on March 13 that price supports would not be increased.

But the Post said its information shows that officials of one large dairymen's organization believe their contributions helped bring about the reversal on the price supports, which increased total support payments to the industry by as much as $700 million.

The Post said it obtained the information from letters in connection with a lawsuit brought by the National Farmers Organization against major national dairy cooperatives.

It also said NFO attorney Ward Rowley has forwarded the letters to Atty. Gen. Richard Kleindienst with the statement that "this material ... seems to raise the most serious questions of violation of federal criminal statutes."

A spokesman for the Justice Department said the material is under study. A Senate Judiciary subcommittee also has copies of the letters.

One letter, from William A. Powell, president of Mid-America Dairymen, Inc., which contributed $65,000 to Republican coffers, said:

"The facts of life are that the economic welfare of dairymen does depend a great deal on political action. If dairymen are to receive their fair share of the governmental financial pie that we all pay for, we must have friends in government."

"We dairymen as a body can be a dominant group. On March 23, 1971, along with nine other dairy farmers, I sat in the Cabinet room of the White House, across the table from the President of the United States and heard him compliment the dairymen on their marvelous work in consolidating and unifying our industry and our involvement in politics. He said, 'You people are my friends and I appreciate it.'"

"Two days later an order came from the U.S. Department of Agriculture increasing the support price of milk to 85 per cent of parity, which added from $500 to $700 million to dairy farmers' milk checks. We dairymen cannot afford to overlook this kind of economic benefit. Whether we like it or not, this is the way the system works."

The letter was sent by Powell to another member of the organization.

The reported meeting of dairymen with President Nixon followed by one day a contribution of $10,000 to four Republican fund-raising committees by TAPE, the political arm of Associated Milk Producers, Inc., another dairymen's group.

The Nixon administration, the Post said, previously denied charges by consumer advocates, including Ralph Nader, that the increased milk supports were a payoff for political contributions, saying its reversal on the issue resulted from a new analysis of the milk market situation. A consumer group also has filed a lawsuit seeking a rollback in the supports.

Sales Tax Reported

The State Department of Revenue released an analysis of sales and use tax gross collections and gross retail sales for the fiscal year 1971-72.

According to G. A. Jones Jr., commissioner, gross collections for Pitt County for the fiscal period totaled $4,150,460.83 while gross retail sales amounted to $187,564,308.

A breakdown of the figures indicated that the gross collections included: $62,776 for one per cent retail sales; $437,810 for two per cent auto, planes and boats; $166,714 for apparel; $338,882 for automotive; $1,222,905 for food; $305,730 for furniture and $773,372 for general merchandise.

Also, under gross collections were $343,873 for building materials; $338,452 for an unclassified group; $157,872 for one and three per cent use taxes; and $2,070 for licenses.

Food and general merchandise accounted for the largest figures under gross retail sales with $43,314,023 and $36,091,038. Automotive sales totaled $28,134,972.

For the July 1, 1971 through June 30, 1972 period, Greenville's gross collections totaled $2,960,889 and gross retail sales amounted to $123,071,983.

Other are cities included: Washington, $1,421,152 in gross collections and $65,958,562 in gross retail sales; Rocky Mount, $3,939,377 and $169,813,413; New Bern, $2,297,867 and $104,241,177; Kinston, $3,053,366 and $128,943,726; Jacksonville, $2,616,591 and $113,918,151; and Goldsboro, $3,693,920 and $159,462,690.

Gross collections and gross retail sales amounted to $1,995,419 and $91,128,230 in Beaufort County; $252,521 and $14,250,427 in Greene County; and $1,221,646 and $47,436,858 for Martin County.

You've got a lot to live

Pepsi's got a lot to give

What we mean is this: living isn't always easy, but it never has to be dull. There's too much to see, to do, to enjoy. Put yourself behind a Pepsi-Cola and get started. You've got a lot to live.
