

Some 80 Vehicles Slam Into Each Other Seven Dead, 96 Hurt In Pileup

BAKERSFIELD, Calif. (AP)—Seven persons were killed and 96 injured, some seriously, as some 80 vehicles slammed into each other in dust storms that shrouded two separate locations in the Bakersfield area Sunday.

About 30 vehicles were involved in a pileup on Interstate 5, 30 miles southwest of here, and about 50 vehicles in another pileup on U.S. 99, 15 miles to the south.

The accidents tied up traffic at both locations for several hours.

Lt. Max D. Smith of the California Highway Patrol said the zero-visibility dust storms were caused by unexpected, 20-25-mile-per-hour winds at about 5 p.m. Sunday over recently plowed fields running along both highways. Some of the gusts were reported at 50 m.p.h., he added.

Smith said three persons were killed and 16 injured in the U.S. 99 collisions while four died and 80 were injured on Interstate 5.

The National Weather Service said the storm was one of many ringling Southern California on the north and east as unstable winds moved in from the northeast around a low-pressure system centered around Blythe.

Interstate 5 is the main thoroughfare in the San Joaquin Valley and is a heavily traveled corridor between Los Angeles and San Francisco.

One motorist said he sat in his car during the dust storm and heard the sounds of cars crashing in front and back of him.

Glen Perry, 20, an attendant at a gas station two miles south of Bakersfield, said he heard sirens of 15 ambulances going by. "All I could do was hear them because the dust was so heavy, you could hardly see past your hand," he said.

Wreckage on Interstate 5 was cleared at 9:30 p.m. and U.S. 99 was cleared about an hour later.

U.S. Spokesman Denies Retaliation Reduced Assessment By UN Is Sought

By GEORGE BRIA
Associated Press Writer
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The United States has launched a new campaign to get the American assessment for the United Nations reduced to "no more than 25 per cent" of the world organization's regular budget. The U.S. tab in 1972 amounted to 31.52 per cent, or $64 million, the highest of the 132 U.N. members.

In his first budget as U.N. secretary-general, Kurt Waldheim has asked the General Assembly to approve expenditures of $224 million in 1973, and increase of 5.17 per cent over 1972.

A highly placed U.S. official told reporters the American move for a reduction "is not in retaliation for things the U.N. has done that we don't like ... although there are individuals in this country who would portray it in this light."

A storm of criticism of the United Nations boiled up in Congress and elsewhere last year when Nationalist China was expelled in a stunning defeat for the United States. The U.S. delegation advised the General Assembly last year that it wanted a reduction to 25 per cent. It renewed the campaign in a memorandum just issued to all members.

The document, which became available for publication today, says that "the position maintained by the United States and a number of other member states in 1946, that it is unhealthy for a worldwide organization to be excessively dependent upon the financial contribution of any one member state, continues to be reflected strongly in American public opinion."

"The view is widely held in the United States that in a virtually universal organization of sovereign, equal states, the total membership must share its financial responsibilities more equitably."

In addition to the budget assessment, the United States pays larger sums in voluntary contributions to U.N. activities. The memorandum points out that in 1971, for example, "the contributions of the United States to the activities of the United Nations system approached one-half billion dollars, including humanitarian relief."

The memorandum said the U.S. government hopes the reduction in its assessment can be accomplished through the admission of new members and hikes in the assessments of a few members, "reflecting their comparative economic growth."

Uncle Could Hear But Unable To Rescue Six Children From Flames

MACDEVILLE, N.C. (AP) — The uncle of six children who died in a house fire early Sunday says he heard them moaning as he groped through a window trying to rescue some of them.

"I kept yelling to them," said T.C. Crawford. He said he tried to reach five of the children who usually slept on a single twin-size bed in a back bedroom of the tiny four-room house in Gaston County east of Charlotte.

"I tried to get in the window," he said, "but the heat and smoke was too bad. So I put my arm in and yelled for the kids to grab my hand. I thought I could drag them out that way."

"I know they were on the bed right under the window," Crawford said, "but I never felt a one touch me. They were moaning at first and Calvin (one of the children) called out one time."

"When I didn't hear any more noise I figured they were dead," he said.

The bedroom where the five children were trapped was not much larger than the bed. The sixth child, a six-month-old baby, was in another room.

A seventh child, Sandra Graham, 4, escaped through a rear window. The parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Erwin Graham, were not in the house at the time.

Graham, 26, said he had gone outside to the bathroom and when he returned he found flames "licking out the front door of the house."

Mrs. Graham, 24, was at the house of her father, Johnny Crawford, who lived only about 75 feet away.

The dead children were Calvin Crawford, 8; Jackie Graham, 7; Andrew Graham, 3; Milton Graham, 2; Dafney Graham, 1, and Johnny Graham, six months.

1,300 Below

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Command announced today that American troop strength in Vietnam dropped to 37,700 men last week, 1,300 below the 39,000-man level President Nixon ordered by Sept. 1.

Nixon is scheduled to announce another withdrawal quota this week, and the expectation is that it will total about 15,000 men. This would bring the total American force remaining in Vietnam to below 25,000, compared to a peak strength of 543,000 in April 1969.

The U.S. Command said in the seven-day period ending last Thursday, the force was reduced 1,500 men.

U.S. Wins First Olympic Medal, Could Win Two Golds Tonight

MUNICH (AP) — The United States won its first medal of the 20th Olympics today—a silver in small bore rifle shooting—and can win its first two golds tonight if American swimmers continue their assault on Olympic records.

America also has a solid chance for at least a bronze in women's diving.

Li-Ho-jun of North Korea broke both the Olympic and world records in the small bore rifle shoot with 599 out of a possible 600.

Vic Auer of North Hollywood, Calif., tied for the silver medal with Nicolae Rotaru of Romania with 598, which tied the old Olympic record.

Mark Spitz of Carmichael, Calif., sped through his 200-meter butterfly qualifying heat in 2:02.11, one of three Americans to shatter the old Olympic standard of 2:06.6 set by Australia's Kevin Berry in 1964. The other U.S. record-breakers in the event were Gary Hall of Garden Grove, Calif., timed in 2:03.70 and Robin Backhaus of Redlands, Calif., timed in 2:03.11.

In the men's 100-meter backstroke, the Olympic standard of 58.7 seconds set by East Germany's Roland Matthes in 1968, fell twice to Americans.

First, Mike Stamm of San Diego, Calif., was timed in 58.83 and then Mitch Ivey of San Jose, Calif., lowered the mark to 58.15. Matthes won his heat in 1:00.01.

Meanwhile, there was good news for pole vaulter Bob Seagren. The International

Hanged In Jail

An autopsy will be performed on the body of a Rt. 8, Greenville man who hanged himself this morning in his cell at the Pitt County Jail.

Pitt County Coroner and Medical Examiner E. W. Harvey Jr. set the time of death at around 10:15 today. The man's name was withheld pending notification of next-of-kin.

Sheriff Ralph Tyson reported that the man, who was alone in the cell at the time of the incident, fastened his belt to bars above the cell door and hanged himself shortly after deputies left the area.

Sheriff Tyson said that the victim had been arrested earlier in the morning on a charge of making false reports to law enforcement officers.

New Industry

RALEIGH (AP) — Gov. Bob Scott announced today that Gulf General Atomic Co. will locate a new $20 million plant that will employ 1,200 persons in economically underdeveloped Franklin County.

The new plant, near Youngsville, about 25 miles north of Raleigh, will produce special carbon-coated fuels used by utilities in nuclear generation of electricity.

Scott said company officials hope that the plant will expand so that in a decade the investment will grow to $80 million and the number of jobs to 4,000.

The new plant, Scott said "will be designed to meet all current environmental protection criteria and will be clean and quiet in operation."

"The facility will also be safe," Scott added. "Processes used in the fuel plant will involve only small amounts of radioactivity—that which occurs naturally in the feed materials. "These materials can be handled safely in the bare hands," he said. "Stringent industrial safety precautions which are standard in the nuclear industry will be adhered to, ensuring the safety of plant personnel and the community."

Shooting Spree In Williamston Fatal To Youth

By JERRY RAYNOR
Reflector Staff Writer

WILLIAMSTON — Dallas Ward Jones, a 20 year old Williamston youth, was murdered Sunday afternoon in a shooting spree that also resulted in Gary Tyson, 19, of Williamston being shot in the left breast and a third Williamston youth, Ronnie Gurganus, being slightly injured from pellets lodging in his shoulders. Tyson was released from Martin General Hospital early Monday afternoon.

Eugene Edmondson, 23 and Ricky Scott, 16, both of Williamston, were apprehended at 2:45 a.m. Monday morning in Pitt County and have been jailed without bond. Both are charged with murder, larceny of the deceased's car, and assault with a deadly weapon with intent to kill.

Martin County Sheriff Raymond Rawls related that at 6:11 p.m. Sunday he received a call informing him that a boy had been shot at Ballards Bridge in the Poplar Point Community, about six miles north west of Williamston.

"I went to the bridge," the sheriff said, "but saw no one, so went to the nearest house, the home of a Mrs. Bullock to check on it." Rawls said when he arrived at the Bullock home, Mrs. Bullock was giving assistance to Tyson. "Tyson had been shot in the left breast. I talked to him briefly then carried him to the emergency room at Martin General Hospital in Williamston without waiting to call the rescue squad," Rawls said.

Rawls said that enroute to the hospital, Tyson told him that he and a friend, Ronnie Gurganus, had gone to the creek at Ballards Bridge to go fishing. "Tyson said he and Gurganus had heard a noise in the bushes, had investigated and saw a young man on the ground, covered with blood. The two, according to Tyson, then spotted two men on the road. They called out for help, saying there was someone in the bushes who was hurt and needed help. At that moment Tyson said he was shot and fell

$63,276 Is Awarded To Support ECU Program

The Mid-East Economic Development Commission has awarded the correctional services program at East Carolina University $63,276 to support the program during the academic year 1972-73.

The grant is the final one of a series of three given to ECU since the program's inception in 1970, said Ted Shaw Jr., project director of the Commission's Law Enforcement Planning Division.

Vessel Seen In Haiphong

By FRED HOFFMAN
WASHINGTON (AP) — A

Communist Chinese minesweeper has slipped into Haiphong harbor for the first time since the U.S. Navy sealed seven North Vietnamese ports with mines last May.

Intelligence sources suggested the action could be a forerunner to an effort to reopen North Vietnam's most important port.

Pentagon officials said the single minesweeper, which reportedly has not yet attempted any clearing operations, would have only limited effect by itself. But they are watching for reinforcements.

Officials stressed the United States intends to keep the ports closed and that fresh mines would be laid to replace any that are removed.

And they left open the possibility that U.S. air and naval units might attack to stop attempts to clear the channel into Haiphong.

U.S. warplanes struck heavily in the Haiphong area over the weekend but there was no indications the minesweeper was hit.

Intelligence specialists identified the Chinese-built craft as a Wouong class minesweeper, a 136-foot ship believed capable of clearing acoustic and possibly magnetic mines.

The minesweeper normally operates in the Shanghai area, they said.

Sources speculated the ship probably eluded U.S. observation en route by taking advantage of its shallow draft to hug the coast of China and North Vietnam.

Some Pentagon officials said the minesweeper may have been transferred by the Chinese to the North Vietnamese navy but they had no evidence of this.

They said it is likely the Chinese sent the minesweeper to Haiphong partially to embarrass their Russian rivals.

The Soviets have a powerful fleet in the Pacific, including minesweepers, but have avoided any naval moves to breach the U.S. blockade of North Vietnam.

Previous grants of $50,519 and $35,000 were awarded through his office to support the ECU program through its first phases of development. The recent award is matched locally by $21,217 in university funds.

The Mid-East Commission, covering Beaufort, Bertie, Hertford, Martin and Pitt Counties, administers federal funds for use in improving its five-county region in housing, recreation, health care, tourism and other areas of resource development. The original grant to ECU's correctional services program was awarded after application was filed by ECU and Mid-East Commission officials with the Division of Law and Order in Raleigh.

The ECU program is organized under the Department of Social Work and Correctional Services in ECU's School of Allied Health and Social Professions.

dazzling performance by 19-year-old Cathy Rigby. The Soviet Union was in first place.

Couple Speaks Vows Saturday

MRS. MACK EVANS HADDOCK

LAWTON, Okla. — In a satin with hand crocheted lace candelight ceremony on Saturday afternoon, Miss Linda Lola Deavers became the bride of Mack Evans Haddock in the home of Capt. and Mrs. Douglas L. Raper here.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Laura S. Jones of Washington, N.C., and Mr. Joe Deavers of Greenville, N.C. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Mack R. Haddock of Greenville, N.C.

A program of pre-recorded wedding music was played.

The nuptial altar was decorated with a white wrought iron archway covered with lemon foliage. Each side of the arch was flanked with a pair of seven branch candelabra covered with jade palm greenery and white killiam daisies. Centering the arch was a decorated profile prie dieu where the vows were exchanged and the bride and bridegroom knelt for the closing prayer.

To the right of the altar the stair rail was decorated with swags of bridal ribbon and the end of the steps were marked with satin bows and greenery.

To the left of the arch was a three branch candelabrum for the candle lighting ceremony to symbolize the union of the two united as one.

Chaplain Charles E. Gray officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride wore a self-designed formal gown of white slipper and a matching train. Her shoulder length french silk illusion veil was arranged from a cluster of Venise flowers with sequins and pearls. She carried a cascade of white daisies, baby's breath, white satin streamers centered with a corsage of white daisies.

Mrs. Douglas L. Raper of Lawton, sister of the bridegroom, was the matron of honor. Miss Jenny L. Haddock of Greenville, N.C., sister of the bridegroom, was a junior bridesmaid.

Flower girl was Miss Angela Raper of Lawton, niece of the bridegroom.

The attendants wore formal gowns of nylon floral fashioned with fitted bodices, rounded necklines and short cap sleeves. The empire waistline was accented with hem length ribbon ties of Nile green. Their headpieces were shoulder length veils of Nile green tulle attached to daisies. They carried hand bouquets of white daisies and yellow cushion poms with satin streamers.

The flower girl carried a basket of rose petals.

Capt. Douglas L. Raper, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, was best man.

The bride graduated from King's College in Charlotte, N.C. and the bridegroom is a graduate of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.

After a wedding trip to Texas, New Orleans, La., and Atlanta, Ga., the couple will reside in Chapel Hill, N.C.

Immediately following the ceremony, the bridal couple was entertained at a reception by Capt. and Mrs. Raper.

Mr. and Mrs. Jackie Haddock of Greenville, N.C., greeted guests and directed them to the register.

The credenza was decorated with a brandy sniffer filled with floating flowers and candles. A white plum feather was used by the guests to sign the register.

The refreshment table was covered with an Army-Navy white linen table cloth and centered with an arrangement of white daisy poms with green and yellow cushion poms in a silver candelabra with white tapers.

After the couple cut the first slice of cake, Mrs. Don Phillips served cake and Mrs. Jackie Haddock poured punch.

Good-byes were said to Mr. and Mrs. Jackie Haddock.

Mrs. Bill Staffa of Lawton was mistress of ceremony.

On Friday night, Capt. and Mrs. Raper entertained at a rehearsal dinner at the Fort Sill Officers Club.

The wedding party and guests were honored at the home of Maj. and Don Peters Thursday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Vance Perkins and Mrs. Charlie Robertson attended the 75th anniversary of the Port Norfolk Baptist Church, Portsmouth, Va., Sunday. Mrs. Robertson and Mrs. Perkins were former members and Mrs. Perkins' father, the Rev. H. Frederick Jones, was pastor there from 1915-1925, when he moved to Greenville.

Readers Speak Out On Judge Sepe Article

By Abigail Van Buren

(© 1972 by Charles Scribner's Sons, Inc.)

DEAR ABBY: Beautiful! Beautiful! Beautiful! I refer to that lecture given by Judge Sepe. I am having copies made and am sending it to all my nieces and nephews in the teen group. What this country needs is more people like that judge. May he live to be a hundred! LEXINGTON, KY.

DEAR LEXINGTON: Many readers shared your enthusiasm. But many did not. In the interest of fair play, the other team will have equal time. Please read on:

DEAR ABBY: How could you? Generally your judgment is pretty good, but your column quoting Judge Sepe was a disaster!

The judge, well-intentioned, but misguided, typifies the cause of youth's alienation when he characterized young people's grievances as "garbage." He reveals himself as narrow-minded, petty, ignorant, and vindictive. The self-righteous sermon perpetrated on a helpless 17-year-old prisoner demonstrates Judge Sepe's power, and also his inhumanity. DISGUSTEDLY, H. R. [RETIRED—FROM WORK BUT NOT FROM LIFE]

DEAR ABBY: Re Judge Alfonso Sepe's sentencing of a 17-year-old for one year for possession of drugs: It appears to me that you have made a grievous error in praising the sheer idiocy of such a sentence.

Can you imagine what it would be like for a 17-year-old to be dumped into a jail with a group of hardened criminals? It seems to me that Sepe is the criminal in this case—he obviously has no sense of justice. Also, his verbose sermon on "your lousy, rotten drugs" sounds like the retort of a man who pours a quart of bad corn whiskey over his ulcer every day, and then lectures his kids that there's no better way to relax. Sonorous Sepe also probably suffers from delusions of grandeur—judges, contrary to popular opinion, do not receive their verdicts from God.

By selecting the Sepe tirade for print, I believe that you have shown an inclination toward pandering the judge's self-righteous authoritarianism. That is a perverse direction, but I suppose most of your readers—those bourgeois back-fence voyeurs—enjoy having someone prop up their prejudices in print. I despise your cheap, vulgar toadying to the unjust sentencing of the young man in question. Your "advice" is about as controversial as apple pie, as stereotyped as the flag, and as novel as motherhood.

Adios, TIMOTHY IN TULSA

DEAR ABBY: About that lecture Judge Sepe gave the 17-year-old kid in court: Some of what he said may have been true, but he's only making the kid feel more guilty, and more antiestablishment, and what will that accomplish in the long run?

This reminds me of the girl who tells her mother she is pregnant and the mother retorts, "How could you do that to ME?" The judge tells the kid "I don't know you from Adam." Well, he doesn't know the kid's parents from Adam, either. What kind of background did the boy have? His early influences must have played some part in his going on drugs. Talk to most kids who have done drugs, and they will tell you their parents were there, but they really weren't "there" at all. Sure, the parents "loved" them, and they gave them everything money could buy. But what their children wanted and needed most—they didn't give them. Time and attention, and a willingness to listen and understand.

If that judge had assigned the boy to a year of work in a medical rehabilitation center where he could have seen how drugs destroy mind and body, he would have done a lot more for him than locking him up with hardened criminals and forcing him to stare at four walls to brood over society's injustices to him. Hawaiian Luau Entertains Brides-Elect

A Hawaiian luau was the setting when Mr. and Mrs. Ray Webb and Mr. and Mrs. James Lewis entertained at the Lewis home, Whispering Pines, at Bell Arthur on Thursday night.

Honored guests were brides-elect Miss Jilayne Erwin of Bell Arthur, Miss Linda McLawhorn of Bell Arthur and Miss Belinda Page of Durham, and their fiances Glenn Johnston, Neal Walston and Tim Johnston.

Upon arrival the brides-elect were presented flowers for their hair and a Hawaiian lei.

Guests were greeted by Miss Jessica Johnston and were presented a Hawaiian lei by Miss Denise McLawhorn.

Miss Johnnie Erwin invited the guests to the back yard, which was decorated with colored lights, yellow and pink flowers and fruit arrangements.

Refreshments were served around a small lagoon which featured floating flowers and floating burning candles.

Mrs. Webb and Mrs. Lewis presented each honoree with gifts of silver and linen.

Liberal View Said Held By A Minority

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP) — The latest Gallup Poll shows 44 per cent of Americans view Democratic presidential nominee Sen. George S. McGovern as liberal, while only 24 per cent label themselves as liberal.

The poll, taken Aug. 5-12, also showed 22 per cent of the 1,465 persons interviewed nationwide chose the label "very liberal" for McGovern.

Gallup reported that the proportion who viewed McGovern as very liberal had almost doubled since a similar survey was taken in April, when the figure was 12 per cent. In the April poll 33 per cent viewed the South Dakota Democrat as liberal.

President Nixon's image was considerably more conservative and more in line with the image the voters have of themselves. Twenty-five per cent saw Nixon as middle of the road, 52 per cent as conservative, 11 per cent as liberal, and 12 per cent had no opinion.

Of those polled, 41 per cent saw themselves as conservative, 30 per cent as middle of the road, 24 per cent as liberal and five had no opinion.

Eleven per cent thought McGovern was conservative, 22 per cent saw him as being middle of the road, and 23 per cent had no opinion.

Greenville Optimist Is Installed At Convention

RALEIGH — The 31st annual North Carolina District Optimist Convention was held here Thursday through Sunday.

A highlight of the meeting was the installation of Max Stephenson of Greenville as lieutenant governor of Zone 20.

Optimist International Vice President Kenneth C. Emery of San Antonio, Tex., was a special guest and speaker. N.C. Optimist Governor Robert H. Rogers Jr. was the presiding officer during the convention. The convention featured several business sessions, a Hawaiian luau, installation of new officers, an Old Timers breakfast, concluded by the Governor's Banquet and Ball Saturday night.

Entertainment for the banquet was presented by the Handbell Choir of Boy's Home at Lake Waccamaw.

It was announced that the next board meeting for the N.C. District will be held in Greensboro on Oct. 14.

In addition to Stephenson, attending from Greenville, were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ross, Mr. and Mrs. Jim O'Brien, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Ward, Mr. and Mrs. John Trotman and Mrs. Stephenson.

Charles Ross is president of the Greenville Evening Optimist Club while Jim O'Brien is State Membership chairman and Gene Ward is chairman of the Rules and Order of Business Committee.

The Raleigh clubs were hosts for the convention which was held at the Hilton Inn.

Two men were arrested here Saturday night on charges of possessing more than a gallon of tax-paid whiskey following a raid on a Bonners' Lane night spot by members of the Greenville Police Department, Pitt County ABC officers and State Bureau of Investigation agents.

Charged in connection with the raid were Brooks Newton, 40 of 802 Tyson St. and Larry Hardy, 20 of 623 Hudson St.

In addition to the 2½ gallons of liquor found, officers uncovered more than 23 gallons of beer.

Partly cloudy Wednesday with chance of showers Wednesday night. Partly cloudy Thursday and Friday generally fair.

Damage to the car was placed at $2,000 while damage to the pole was set at $150. Jackson, who was reported injured in the mishap, was charged with exceeding the stated speed.

Ethel Huntley Daniels, 408 Cadillac St. was charged with careless and reckless driving after her car collided with a parked vehicle owned by Ira Brown, Route 1, Bethel about 9:20 p.m. on Ward Street, 30 feet West of the Cadillac Street intersection.

Officers set damage at $600 to the Daniels vehicle and $1,000 to the Brown car.

N.C. Traffic Fatalities Run Ahead Of Last Year

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

North Carolina's highway death toll continues to run ahead of last year as 11 more persons died in traffic accidents on highways in the state during the weekend.

That figure pushed the toll for the year to 1,220, an increase of 83 over the corresponding figure for last year.

A Rt. 2 Creedmoor man, James H. Minor, 36, died when his car overturned on a rural dirt road in Granville County near his home.

Willie L. Flippen, 43, of Stuart, Va., died on a rural road near Collingstown when he fell from the back of a truck.

A China Grove resident, 30-year-old Robert E. Beaver, was killed when he fell asleep while driving on U.S. 29 near his home and smashed into a bridge abutment, police said.

A Rt. 1 Hamlet youth, John W. Leviner, 9, rode his bicycle into the path of a car and was killed on N.C. 381, three miles south of Hamlet.

Police are seeking the hit-and-run driver who struck and killed Joey Lee McCurry, 19, of Rt. 4, Burnsville. McCurry was hit by the driver and then two other cars struck him on the Weaverville bypass.

Authorities said a man whose license had been revoked for drunk driving, Earl Webb, 41, and another man were killed when the car Webb was driving ran off N.C. 50 near Raleigh and overturned. The other victim was George Henry Moss. Both were from Creedmoor.

Curtis William Boyd, 30, of Rt. 1, Pelham, was killed when struck by a car as he lay on a rural road 11 miles north of Reidsville, the patrol said.

Twenty-four-year-old Carolina Beddingfield of Raleigh died in a head-on collision on U.S. 1 five miles north of Raleigh.

A car struck a utility pole and overturned after running off a rural road about two miles west of Chingquapin. The driver, 22-year-old Jimmy Lee Williams of Rt. 1 Beaulaville, was killed.

Elijah R. B. Creech, 54, was killed when struck by a car on U.S. 13 in Wayne County.

A Shelby infant, eight-month-old Darrell Camp, was killed when he fell from his mother's car and was struck by the right front wheel of the car, authorities said. The death occurred in the parking lot of a hamburger place and was not included in the weekend fatality toll.

Probe Utilities Robbery Incident

Local police are continuing their investigation today into an early morning robbery at the Greenville Utilities Commission's power plant on West Third St.

According to Chief Glenn Cannon, four men allegedly took a guard's .32 caliber pistol, $10 in cash from him and $74 from a cash register at the plant canteen.

The incident occurred about 1 a.m. the chief noted. Later this morning, officers charged a 15-year-old with participating in the robbery.

Two Wrecks Here Sunday

An estimated $3,600 property damage resulted here yesterday in two wrecks investigated by local police.

Officers reported heaviest damage resulted from a 2:50 a.m. mishap on Fourth Street, 50 feet East of the Oak Street intersection, when a car driven by David Earl Jackson, 20, of 102 Raleigh Ave. went out of control, struck a utility pole and overturned.

Damage to the car was placed at $2,000 while damage to the pole was set at $150. Jackson, who was reported injured in the mishap, was charged with exceeding the stated speed.

Ethel Huntley Daniels, 408 Cadillac St. was charged with careless and reckless driving after her car collided with a parked vehicle owned by Ira Brown, Route 1, Bethel about 9:20 p.m. on Ward Street, 30 feet West of the Cadillac Street intersection.

FORECAST FOR TUESDAY, AUGUST 29, 1972

CARROLL RICHTER'S HOROSCOPE

from the Carroll Richter Forecast

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A beautiful day to make your work more pleasant and easy by showing others that you value and appreciate what they are doing with you and the special things they do that carry you closer to your personal or joint goals. A day that has much vitality and energy to be used.

ARIES (Mar 21 to Apr 19) If you listen to what experts have to suggest, you can do much to add to present prosperity via right channels. Your intuition is good, also, so use it. Stop being content in that little rut you are in.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) If you do the things that you like and can do, you find you get results quickly, instead of beating your head against the proverbial stone wall. Dress well, go out and meet people, have fun. Advance.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Listen closely and follow what advisers have to suggest to get the results you want at this time. Be guided by intuition which is working accurately for you now. Make more of your life than in the past.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Gain the backing of good pals who have much character and are definite in purpose, successful. Out to the social in p.m. and add to your circle of friends. Meet the one for you if you are unmarried.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) The planets are favorable where your career is concerned, so get together with influential people and make big headway. That civic work you can do so well should be handled now with promptness. Think. Act.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) You have fine ideas that need only new personalities to make them workable. Bring out your finest talents. Involve yourself in whatever is of a scientific or educational nature, or both.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Talk over with loved one how to make the future brighter and more prosperous, happy together. Add to present security by studying your books of record more carefully. Avoid that tendency to splurge for recreation.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Work out those questionable problems with associates early and reach a fine understanding. Reconciling any differences of opinion with those who oppose you is also possible. Show you are a reasonable person.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) You can now pitch into all that work that is facing you and get it done with speed and efficiency. Spend some time taking health treatments you may need. Build up your energy considerably.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 21 to Jan. 20) Find the right recreation that will add to present vitality and give you freedom from worry, overwork. Show more affection for the one you love. Reach a far better understanding for the future.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) You have to give your home more time and attention now so that everything there is spic and span and harmonious as well. Handle only business matters that are important. Evening is fine for entertaining.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) You are feeling dynamic and can get much accomplished in the business world now. Talk over with a clever person how to handle routine matters more intelligently. Show you are definitely on the ball.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY . . . he or she will be so full of energy that it is important you give regulated exercise and sports to work it off properly while young, otherwise your offspring could get into trouble because of being bored. Anything of a detailed nature is fine for your most intelligent youngster, and he or she would do well working in laboratories, research and the like. Definitely college material here, and as parents you should spare no expense on education.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

This Is Season Of Extra Care

It cannot be pointed out too often that schools are open again and motorists should be especially watchful for children in school zones.

The local police have launched their annual campaign to alert motorists to drive with caution in school areas. "School's Open" posters are being displayed throughout the city to remind everyone of the dangers.

Drivers should watch out for bicycles and for children walking along highways and streets. Parents have been urged to walk their children to school for the first couple of days to make certain they take the safest routes and exercise due care. Children are being reminded to cross streets only at marked crossings, looking both ways and then walking across. Bicyclists are urged to follow traffic laws and to ride single file. Of course, motorists should watch for loading and unloading school buses, stopping as the law requires.

All of these things are good common sense safety precautions, but they take on added meaning when schools open.

Traffic becomes heavier each year in Greenville and more and more school children must cross busy thoroughfares to get to their schools.

The highways leading to county schools become more hazardous every year as traffic builds.

There is no reason that any child should be killed or maimed because of an accident on the streets and highways. No motorist has to suffer the anguish of seeing a child suddenly appear before his vehicle and then feeling the sickening collision of flesh with metal.

These terrible scenes can be avoided if everyone becomes safety conscious. Due care on the part of motorists, children and their parents can bring the accident rate for school children down to zero.

Accounting To Clear Picture

By BRYAN HAILSIP
Raleigh, N.C. — Wise management depends on knowing where the money goes and what it goes for.

The principle is the same whether it applies to the citizen balancing his check-book, the business determining its profit margin, or the government studying the cost of services.

Savings Through Cooperation

The response was cooperative. Florida not only made available computer tapes and documents, but sent two men up last June to assist the Tar Heels in adapting the system.

That means the advantage of a $300,000 developmental program for an expenditure so far of something like $1,700, Bridges said. More important, he added, it will save three to four years of hard work in getting a uniform accounting system on line.

Even so, he added, it's a three-to-five year program which must be taken step by step. What it costs in time and money will be more than repaid in benefits from the system, he said.

Dealing with the figures of state government spending is something Bridges has been doing for 25 years. He's seen the totals soar since Gov. Gregg Cherry appointed him state auditor in 1947.

State Budget Growth

In that year, general fund expenditures amounted to approximately $160 million; in 1971, the figure was more than $1,300,000,000 (B). For the current biennium, the state budget is $4.4 billion, including the highway fund and other monies.

State law gives the auditor and his staff the responsibility for determining that every penny has been spent for the purposes intended by the legislature in making the appropriations. On occasion, audits have turned up instances of mis-use of state funds; more often, any differences with agencies have concerned procedures and methods, Bridges said.

From the central Raleigh office and branches in Asheville, Charlotte, Fayetteville, Greensboro, Greenville, Morganton and Winston-Salem, the 65 auditors under Bridges' direction cover the far-flung operations of state government.

In addition to the auditing section, the office includes a staff of 12 in the accounting systems section plus administrative and other personnel for a total workforce of 104.

Bridges, 65, keeps a low profile which hasn't handicapped him in winning reelection through the years. He's on the November ballot again as Democratic candidate for another four-year term.

The soft-voiced auditor remained unflinched when an irate department head called him a moss-backed old fogey in a disagreement over accounting procedures.

Professional competence is the image he aims for. "We have a professional staff and we try to do a professional job," he said. "The new uniform accounting system is another step in assuring accountability for all expended funds."

Teacher Appreciation Was A Good Gesture

Local teachers and school officials have been welcomed for the new school year by an appreciation dinner sponsored by the Greenville Chamber of Commerce and Merchants Association. The dinner was a part of the School Appreciation Week which, we believe, will help to get our school opening off to a good start.

The appreciation dinner was a fine gesture on the part of the Chamber-Merchants Association and we would like to add our thanks to the teachers for the outstanding job they are doing.

White House Offer Declined

By ROWLAND EVANS and ROBERT NOVAK

MIAMI BEACH — The steady resolution always displayed by the dominant conservative wing in Republican intraparty warfare was dramatized again in the wee hours Tuesday morning when an eleventh-hour offer for mediation from the White House was peremptorily brushed aside.

At that point, the convention's rules committee was nearing a vote in the two-week battle over 1976 delegate apportionment. Suddenly, word was secretly relayed that if the committee would slow down, Presidential campaign manager Clark MacGregor would be available to work out a compromise. Former Rep. William Cramer of Florida, the rules committee chairman, blithely ignored the offer and pressed on to pass the conservative delegate formula.

Here was the classical "hard" political pattern displayed by conservatives in this and past Republican conventions: self-assured, tough, determined to win maximum political advantage. In contrast, the party liberals, as in years past, were classical "softs": irresolute, disorganized, confused about goals.

Actually, although some Southerners boasted after their Tuesday afternoon floor victory that their 1976 convention forces were thereby increased by at least 200 delegates, the outcome was not that clearcut. What's more, conservatives were forced to yield to the 1970s by accepting new rules aimed at increasing youth and minority group delegates.

Thus, the conservative victory of Miami Beach was more symbolic than substantive.

"This has a whiff of 1964," muttered liberal Sen. Charles H. Percy of Illinois as he stalked from the rules committee after one Monday night recess. He was right in the sense that the liberals, in 1972 as in 1964, had been outmaneuvered, outfought and outnumbered.

The hardness of the conservatives was shown most clearly in the remarkable, climactic developments in the rules fight. While Percy and his friends were getting bloodied in the rules committee at the Eden Roc Hotel, his allies at Convention Hall 30 blocks away were turning in desperation to President Nixon's political operation for help.

Nixon operatives earlier had been clandestine confederates of the conservatives but were ordered into neutrality. Now liberal Rep. John Dellenback of Oregon approached campaign manager MacGregor, seated in a front row convention box. Would he use his good offices to effect a compromise to prevent humiliation of the liberals?

Minutes later, MacGregor was in a caucusroom where negotiations were underway between conservative Sen. (Continued on page 5)

Strength For Today

NATURE OF TRUE GOODNESS

On the cross Jesus gave utterance to the immortal words, "Father forgive them for they know not what they do." This is generally considered, and rightly so, the perfect setting-forth of the forgiving spirit. These men were perpetrating the most heinous crime in history and the victim's prayer was that they be forgiven. What a divine example of love this is!

But it also shows forth another truth frequently overlooked. Here was perfect goodness on the cross. Jesus extended complete forgiveness to his persecutors. We see emerging from these circumstances the great truth that genuine goodness has no enemies. It has opponents. It may even have persecutors. But real goodness has no enemies. It is impossible for any thoroughly good man to look upon anyone as his enemy.

This does not mean that we are to take a wishy-washy attitude toward the marked difference between right and wrong. We are not to be blind either to our own mistakes or to the mistakes of others round about us. We are to be well aware of the fact not only that we are sinners but that others are sinners also and perhaps very grievous sinners.

But they are not our enemies. Opponents? Yes. Mised and mistaken persons? Yes. But not enemies. True goodness knows no enemies.

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Women at last are doing something about cigars. More than 100,000 U.S. women now smoke them regularly, according to industry sources.

Over 2,000 years ago, the Roman orator Cicero listed what he considered man's five most common and serious mistakes. His list still seems timely today. Mankind erred, Cicero said, by:

1. The delusion that individual advancement is made by crushing others;
2. The tendency to worry about things that cannot be changed or corrected;
3. Insisting that a thing is impossible because we cannot accomplish it;
4. Refusing to set aside trivial preferences; and
5. Neglecting development and refinement of the mind, as a result of not acquiring the habit of reading and studying.

Quotable notables: "Well, if I called the wrong number, why did you answer the phone?" — James Thurber.

Before they won fame: Bette Davis was a movie usher. Rock Hudson was a truckdriver. James Garner laid rugs and upholstered furniture. Sportscaster Howard Cosell was a lawyer. Allen Drury was a political reporter, and Jackie Gleason earned $75 a week as a diver at Atlantic City's Steel Pier.

Cherchez la femme: In tracking a deer, there's an easy way to tell whether it's male or female. A buck rarely places a hind foot exactly in the print made by a forefoot. The doe, on the other hand, does so precisely — so that her track look as if they had been left by a two-legged animal.

Worth remembering: "Love is like hash. You have to have confidence in it before you can enjoy it."

It was Henry Adams who observed, "It is impossible to underrate human intelligence — beginning with one's own."

Ways To Spend Money

MIAMI BEACH — The money keeps rolling in for Nixon. Conservative estimates indicate that by October the Republicans will have $2 billion to re-elect the President.

The concern here in Miami was that since it won't cost more than $50 million for the 1972 campaign, the Republicans will have a surplus of $1.950 billion.

This problem was given serious discussion at the convention. I overheard a group of Republican financial people discussing it in the Boom Boom Room at the Fontainebleau on the last night. "We've got to spend the money," one Republican executive said. "How do we do it?"

"Why don't we bug the offices of every Democratic Party club in the country?" "That would only take care of $2 million," another Republican said. "We've got to come up with something dramatic to make the people who donated money believe their gesture was worthwhile."

"I think we should invest the money in tax shelters. There's no sense giving it to the government who will throw it away on wasteful welfare giveaway programs."

"Why don't we buy our own television network so we can tell it like it really is?" a Republican suggested.

"That's not a bad idea. We could make Spiro Agnew news director."

"Dammit," said one of the men, "we're not thinking big. Surely there is something we can do that will catch the imagination of the American people."

"How about buying Alaska? Then we wouldn't have to worry about it going in the Democratic column." "You're on the right track."

"We could make a bid for ITT. We've got a close association with them anyway."

"No, I think we should buy the telephone company instead. Then we could make sure the Democrats don't get any phone service for the next four years."

"What about bailing out Lockheed? Surely they could use the money and it would help us win California."

Other Editors Say Job Not For Govm't

(Raleigh Times) Government has no business getting into the accrediting of educational institutions. That applies to federal, state and local governments.

A recent news story reported that the U.S. Office of Education has "quietly" launched a study "which conceivable could recommend that the federal government step into the ticklish business of accrediting colleges." The $142,300 study "will evaluate the federal government's reliance on accrediting agencies in determining eligibility for higher education assistance," and will "assess the extent to which the government's use of such private, voluntary agencies for accreditation serves the public interest, and what changes may be warranted in establishing federal eligibility requirements."

Under the present system, accrediting is done by regional associations. Educators from several institutions will study another institution to determine whether it should be accredited, or whether its accreditation should be continued. This process is carried out by independent experts. They are interested in only one thing: To keep the standards of accreditation at the highest possible level.

This system keeps politics and politicians out of the business of accreditation. There were rumblings from some North Carolina legislators a few years ago about what they planned to force an accrediting agency to do regarding state institutions. This never got beyond the rumbling stage, for the legislators soon realized that the accrediting agency paid no attention to their threats.

Because of this independence and integrity, the public knows that accreditation of an institution means something, means that the institution has quality, and that it is doing its job well. On the other hand, if the government were doing the job, there would always be the possibility that the accrediting decision could be influenced by politics.

Then, there also would be the constant threat that accreditation could be removed from an institution whose officials or students might annoy higher ups in Washington. The Nixon administration has made it plain again and again that it didn't like student protesters or educators who permitted such protests. Suppose that accrediting were done by a commission of the federal government? Would that commission be deaf to the howls from the White House?

America is fortunate to have honest, threat-proof accrediting procedures. The government should stay out of it.

Swarm Of Recreation Vehicles

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — If you are on the road Labor Day weekend, you might obtain the impression that some Americans are not content to have a mere second home but that they must have one that moves.

That impression precisely describes the feelings of recreation vehicle owners. There are about four million RVs on the road. More than half a million join the ranks each year. They are growing in size also. And they are being used year-round.

This life style is catching on so suddenly that some of the business community can't seem to understand it.

In Wall Street, for example, analysts who otherwise are adept at making distinctions continue to confuse recreational vehicles with mobile homes when, in fact, the two industries are quite distinct. Mobile homes are rarely seen on the road. They do have wheels and they can be towed, but generally their mobility is restricted to a trip from the dealer to a permanent site, where they are attached to a foundation.

Broadly speaking, that leaves most of the other housing accommodations being towed or driven or hauled along the turnpikes in the RV category, which means they are generally travel trailers, camper trailers, truck campers, pickup covers or motor homes.

Even the big automotive manufacturers, which stand to be among the biggest gainers from the boom, were surprised a year or so ago when they noticed a sudden rise in demand for pickup trucks to haul trailers and hold camper bodies.

In 1970, General Motors sold 560,000 pickup trucks. In 1971 the figure rose to 680,000 units and then soared to 840,000 in only the first six months of 1972. Catching on, some automotive dealers now sell RVs as well.

To call some of these vehicles home is, as even a fleeting glance will show, a bit of an overstatement. But it is no exaggeration for others, which have modern appliances and comforts, and their number is growing.

"A lot of these people don't miss a thing in their rolling homes," says one manufacturer. "They have their TV sets, air-conditioning, modern appliances and other conveniences."

The industry has compiled statistics showing that the average RV family — 4.1 persons, headed by a white-collar worker, 45, making $12,000 plus — spends 10 per cent of its time in its vehicle.

Production is soaring to accommodate buyers. Fewer than 100,000 units were shipped in 1961, but the total this year will be more than 600,000, and dollar volume might reach $2 billion. The dollar figure is actually growing faster than the unit increase as buyers move up from the small, hut-like camping trailers to huge, bus-like motor homes and to the latest rage, "fifth-wheel" travel trailers.

That fifth-wheel designation seems to be a misnomer, but the label sticks. The wheel reality is the coupling device that clamps the trailer's front over the rear of a pickup truck.

Prices at the beginning of the year ranged from an average of $328 for the very basic pickup cover, which is only an enclosure for the rear of a pickup truck, to $10,000 for the motor home, in which the driver sort of sits in the living room.

Rentals ranged from about $90 a week for a 16-foot camping trailer, which folds into a compact unit for towing but opens like a jack-in-the-box for usage, to $225 a week and 10 cents a mile for a 22-foot motor home.

County Extension Chairman

One of Pitt County's 1972 Extension Tobacco Test Cooperators is looking seriously at System Control for flue-cured tobacco diseases for his 1973 crop. He is considering a system that permits continuous tobacco culture in 1973 crop. He is considering a system that permits continuous tobacco culture in fields where blackshank, wilt and root knot infestations are moderate or low.

Late in the 1972 growing season, this grower discovered a few stalks of blackshank in tobacco on one of his better tobacco soils. Since he has a limited amount of suitable tobacco land, rotation is not a practical practice. The system he is considering, therefore, would combine a high blackshank-resistant variety with use of a multi-purpose chemical soil treatment.

System Control-A Prescription for flue-cured tobacco diseases is the subject of an Extension publication prepared by Furney Todd, Extension Professor of Plant Pathology. Six systems, developed to cover most disease situations found on North Carolina tobacco farms, are discussed. Copies of the bulletin are available from the County Extension Office.

Landscape for Living

Landscape for living is the title of USDA's 1972 Yearbook of Agriculture. It focuses on gardening, a pastime favored by 80 million Americans, and contains much practical, basic background information.

You can read about plants that will withstand and actually reduce pollution, go around the world with USDA's plant scientists searching for new and better plants, learn about plants that will attract birds to your garden, how to control garden pests, how to control erosion...even how to be a "lazy" gardener with carefree plants.

It's all just a part of the information in the 62 chapters of the 1972 Yearbook of Agriculture, available now.

The USDA does not give out or sell copies of the Yearbook. Copies are for sale by the Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C. 20402. The price is $3.50.

Forestry Practices

Pitt County has more privately owned woodlands than any of the surrounding counties. According to records compiled by a County Forestry Practices Committee, the most common type of management, however, is neglect. These woodlands are a valuable natural resource but they will not yield maximum, or even adequate, returns without proper management.

The North Carolina Forest Service can offer valuable assistance to woodland owners in their management problems. Reforestation services can be provided on a fee basis. REAP funds are available to help with the cost of approved practices. Better management of your woodlands can pay you big dividends. Call the Agricultural Extension Service or the North Carolina Forest Service for more information.

So you're thinking about buying a horse? Join the crowd. Horse owners are increasing rapidly in North Carolina and animal numbers are higher than at any time since the heyday of the plowhorse.

The rub is, many people buying horses these days have limited or no experience with the animals. Experience in selecting and buying a horse is probably more limited than in any other area.

"This is a very critical area and one that can easily lead to mistake and disappointment," comments Jim Heird, extension horse specialist at North Carolina State University.

"Making a good selection of a horse can lead to a happy and pleasant experience, but a wrong selection can result in loss of interest and abandonment of horses altogether," he added.

Heird has some suggestions that may benefit inexperienced horse buyers.

The first of these: "If you don't know anything about selecting a horse, go to someone who does and get their help. Find someone who is experienced and trustworthy."

"Next, select a horse according to the use that will be made of the animal: a big horse for a big rider, a small horse for a small rider, and an older, experienced horse for a younger, inexperienced rider. The younger, less experienced horse is for the older, more experienced horseman."

"It's for sure," Heird cautioned, "one or the other — the horse or the rider — should be experienced."

The sex of the horse can also be important. Specialist Heird points out that a gelding — a male that has been castrated — will likely be the most even tempered of the three possibilities. The mare, or female, is likely to be more unpredictable than a gelding. And the stallion is the most unpredictable of all and can be dangerous.

"I think the stallion is for the most experienced horseman only — particularly if it is a breeding stallion," Heird said.

Many potential horse owners want to know which breed of horse would be best for them. There are a number of breeds suitable for pleasure riding and showing. "Which one a buyer chooses will depend on what he wants the horse to do," the NCSU specialist said. "Disposition of the horse is usually more important than breed. But, of course, if you want a gaited horse, you probably wouldn't want a Quarter horse or Appaloosa. On the other hand, if the horse will be used strictly for pleasure, those two breeds or any of the others would be acceptable."

Price is another factor. "It is tempting for parents buying their young son or daughter a first horse to select one that costs the least," Heird said. "The danger here is, the lowest priced animal is likely to be young and half-trained. If the horse throws the child on the first ride, the child develops a fear of his horse, and possibly all horses, and the family ends up with a horse that isn't used and a potential horseman who is no longer interested."

Heird believes that, in most cases, "A few dollars more will get the kind of horse that a child or other inexperienced rider can enjoy for a long time."

John Tower of Texas and a liberal group headed by Sen. Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania. Hearing Tower and state chairman Clifford Jones of Pennsylvania agree on a compromise formula, MacGregor thought peace was near. He offered his help and suggested the rules committee deliberations be slowed.

At Convention Hall, liberal Gov. William Milliken of Michigan telephoned Rep. John Anderson of Illinois at the Eden Roc to tell him MacGregor wanted a chance to mediate. Anderson quickly sent up a note to Chairman Cramer, presiding in a sweltering, cramped hotel room. The moon-faced Cramer blandly ignored Anderson's note and gavelled through the conservative delegate allocation.

Cramer was not the only conservative who wanted no further compromise. Mississippi state chairman Clarke Reed, the disciplined dynamo leading the rules fight, flatly rejected the Tower-Jones formula. He wanted the South's disproportionate delegate strength kept intact.

On Tuesday morning, the liberals once again sought negotiations. No, said Tower, his people were tired of talking. That left the liberals forced to choose between capitulation or a losing floor fight. Nobody felt this more keenly than Percy, aggressively committed to a more liberal delegate apportionment.

In the manner familiar among Republican liberals, Percy vacillated. Facing open hostility from the Bourbon-dominated Illinois delegation, Percy recommended going along with the conservative majority but added that he might well vote the other way. Bourbon state Rep. Pete Miller of Chicago exploded over Percy's ambivalence, correctly reflecting the mood of the Illinois delegation.

At Convention Hall Tuesday afternoon, the liberals lacked strategy, floor managers or even compelling arguments. Their foes, under Reed's generalship, had prepared well.

"We've been getting the hell kicked out of us since 1960," a veteran New York Republican liberal told us after the vote. "I'm used to it." Neither he nor anybody else would predict that things would be different in 1976.

Tobacco TIPS

By EDWIN L. YANCEY
County Extension Chairman

Operation Reduce 6 Pests (OR6P) is a program that will make money for you. It will make money by reducing the cost of labor and chemicals needed for production of your crop. It will make money by increasing the yield and quality of your crop. It is a program developed by careful research and proved by years of farmer tested practice.

OR6P is a fairly simple program that has just four steps. First, cut or shred tobacco stalks. Then, destroy the root system by plowing or discing. Two weeks later, disc or plow the field thoroughly. Finally, seed a winter cover crop to prevent soil erosion.

These practices will greatly reduce the diseases Mosaic, brown spot, and nematodes, and insects budworms, hornworms, and flea beetles. These pests are reduced because their winter home is destroyed. All of them depend on undecayed tobacco plants as a haven for the months between this crop and the next one.

Another point about OR6P is important. It's a neighborly program. Since most of these pests can move from farm to farm, it is important for every field to be in the program. Otherwise, next summer, your neighbors poor management might cost you money.

Our goal for Pitt County is 100 percent participation in OR6P. If we reach it, you're invited to a big celebration—down at the bank next fall.

"I don't think we should use Republican money to bail out Lockheed. That's the government's job."

"How about building Richard Nixon football stadiums all over the country? That would please the President."

"We could buy him a pro football team for his birthday," someone suggested.

"These are all good ideas but they don't seem right," the leader of the group said. "You have to remember this is not our money. It belongs to millionaires and bankers and corporation executives. They earned this money through their own sweat, and they're going to be watching what we do with it."

"Why tell how much money we took in?" a man said.

"Why not just declare $50 million. Nobody will be the wiser."

"That would be illegal. Besides, someone will find out about it and try to make it a political issue."

A man jumped up. "Wait a minute! Wait a minute! I think I've got it. Why don't we announce that for the week before the election, the Republican Party will pay for the bombing of Vietnam. It won't cost the taxpayer a cent."

"That's it," everybody said at once. "We'll give the country a free week of bombing. It's a taxpayer's dream!"

NEW YORK (AP)— Stock prices squiggled erratically in early trading, then settled on an almost flat course Monday. Volume was light.

The 11:30 a.m. Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks was up 15 to 959.51. At the New York Stock Exchange, advancing issues barely outnumbered losers, 540 to 530.

The New York Stock Exchange index of some 1,400 common stocks was off .01 to 60.92. At the American Stock Exchange, the price change index was up .01 to 26.75.

The Dow had plunged nearly 12 points Thursday after the prime-rate rise by some major banks, including Chase Manhattan.

Spurred by a block trade of 50,000 shares, Twentieth Century-Fox led the Big Board's morning active list. It was down 1/8 to 10 1/4.

Curtiss-Wright, the second-most active issue, was up 1 to 49. Analysts said renewed rumors that General Motors was planning an announcement concerning the Wankel engine had spurred the rise. Curtiss-Wright owns North American rights to the Wankel.

Credit Reservists With Saving Research Work

A Greenville-based Army Reserve unit has been credited with helping preserve a number of scientifically important research projects in the Biology Department at East Carolina University this weekend.

A campus-wide electric power cut-off Sunday that university officials said was necessary to complete a switchover to a new electric power system created a need for auxiliary power to provide controlled temperature for various projects and experiments underway in the department.

The department, which has no auxiliary generators nor emergency sources of power, contacted Army Reserve Unit No. 398 Supply Co. (HM) (GS) of the 120th Army Reserve Command, commanded by Capt. Ivey C. Gentry Kinston, to seek assistance.

The company's operations officer, Sgt. Johnny Phelps of Greenville, reported that the unit agreed to furnish two new 5,000 watt generators and supply two operators to feed electricity to the ECU Biology Building during the power outage. Power was cut off on campus from 6:30 a.m. until 6:15 p.m.

Department officials reported this morning that the Reserve unit had the generators set up and ready for operation by the time the power went off on schedule Sunday morning.

Officials said the generators provided the power necessary to save the controlled research experiments and prevent months of work from being wasted.

Jerry Freeman, laboratory manager for the department, said the experiments included: a viral freezer experiment being conducted by Dr. Wendell Allen which requires a very cold temperature of minus 80 degrees centigrade constantly; and a growth chamber experiment on milfoil and its life cycles being conducted by Dr. Graham J. Davis, chairman of the Biology Department, during which controlled environment and temperature must be maintained.

Concern had also been expressed about laboratory animals, such as rats, mice and rabbits suffering heat prostration, and the effects of loss of temperature control upon other laboratory experiments, but this morning it was reported no problems were incurred.

back into the creek. Gurganus ran into the woods, with two shots following him. Sheriff Rawls said Tyson told him he struggled from the creek and began to run, and was shot at again two more times. (Gurganus later emerged in a field from the woods about three miles from the bridge and was treated for a few pellets that had lodged in the back of his shoulders.)

Tyson had sought refuge in the home of Mrs. Bullock, where Sheriff Rawls found him.

"After what Tyson told me," Rawls said, "I immediately called out my entire force and put out a bulletin for Edmondson and Scott. We reported back to the bridge and discovered the boy in the bushes Tyson had told us about. "It was Jones," Rawls added. "My deputy said we didn't need the rescue squad, as the boy was dead."

Highway patrolmen found the get away car in a ditch between DuPont Plant and Kinston early Sunday night. Bloodhounds picked up the trail of Edmondson and Scott. The two were apprehended inside Pitt County at 2:45 a.m. Monday.

No date has been set for a hearing for Edmondson and Scott.

NORTH CAROLINA HOSPITALS OPERATE ON OIL.

A modern hospital uses hundreds of things that come from oil: surgeon's gloves and gowns, plastic tubes and syringes, x-ray film, bed sheets, and even the paint on the walls.

But most of all, hospitals use energy. In the operating room, the intensive care ward... wherever patients are treated.

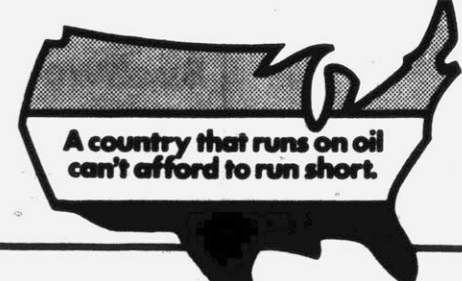

75% of all our energy comes from oil and natural gas (including 40% of our electricity).

But today, we're using these petroleum fuels faster than we are finding them. That's why America faces an Energy Gap.

We're your local oil companies. Working to bridge the growing Energy Gap. Because it's as sure as a surgeon's hands... a country that runs on oil can't afford to run short.

(Second of a series)
BETHEL — After a miserable 1971 season, North Pitt's football team will be trying in 1972 to come up with a winning formula and move out of the cellar of the Eastern Carolina Conference.

The Panthers won only one game — their last of the season — last year to end up with a 1-9 overall record. The only win came as the Panthers downed Enfield 14-12. Johnny Murphy tied the game in the last quarter and they won on a two-point conversion by Clarence Mooring.

North Pitt has all but three of last year's team returning this season. Those three were lost to graduation. Ronnie Briley and Lionell Carney, two of those graduates, were, as Head Coach Danny Wilmer put it the Panthers' best players.

Turning to this year, Wilmer commented, "We had speed last year and we have pretty good speed this year. Speed and quickness are our best asset. Our fastest player if probably Mooring."

The Panthers have in Mooring and Billy Perkins, a fullback on offense, two men that can go both ways. Wilmer noted that Charles Young, a wingback, would be a good utility man. Young has good speed and is "a good all-around athlete."

Referring to a recent scrimmage with Robersonville, Wilmer singled out Ricky Harrell, Spencer Barnhill, James Boone, and John Vines, for their line play.

Still the most hopeful prospect for the Panthers this season will be Perkins, a 6-foot-2 halfback and linebacker. "This young man is a hitter, a real sticker. He's quick and strong and is definitely a college prospect."

One major thing the Panthers need is timing. Several times during the scrimmage, North Pitt committed errors as a result of bad timing. However, the coach is not too worried. "We went after them pretty good," he noted.

One cause of worry to Wilmer is the pass defense. At the moment that part of the game seems to be weakest. "We had a late start on our pass defense. We haven't adapted as well yet." Wilmer also pointed out that there are several good defensive players that he will be calling on regularly. Among those are Perkins at a linebacking spot and Young at safety, as well as John Griggs and Louis Ayers at tackle spots. "Perkins," Wilmer said, "Has hands like claws." Another young man that looks good in the defensive line is Francis Stator.

Along with Young in the backfield will be James Moore at the corner. "They (Robersonville) played away from Moore the other night. The one time they did throw to his side, he picked it off," Wilmer explained.

The offense this year will be led by Ben Johnson. He will be challenged for the No. 1 quarterbacking spot, though, by Fred Glisson. Johnson is a senior this year. He is one of the bright spots in Wilmer's offense.

The Panther kicking game is coming along "pretty good" in Wilmer's estimation. North Pitt has been working on it from the first day of practice and three young men have been carrying most of the weight during practice. Wayne Pierce has been working on his punting during the off-season. "He averages 37 or 38 yards a kick which is good in high school." Young and Phillip Brown will be sharing the kicking-off duties. Wilmer has stressed the kicking game because, "I believe in good field position."

For the Panthers to have a good year on the gridiron, Wilmer feels that his team will have to be more aggressive. They will also have to eliminate the little mistakes that plague the team.

"If we can play together, we'll be better than last year. We might not win a game but we will still be better," Wilmer added. "We still have a lot of work yet to do."

Wilmer feels that his year's race will boil down to three teams — Greene Central, Southern Wayne, and Ayden-Grifton. "Greene Central's Junior High has been feeding the Sr. High a lot of good athletes. Southern Wayne had an undefeated J.V. that will help them out," he stated. A-G will be in there, too, according to Wilmer, fighting for a top place.

This year Wilmer will have four assistants helping him. John Cassazza, a former East Carolina quarterback, will be working with that department. Tony Maglione, also a former ECU star, will be in charge of the ends. The offensive and defensive backs are being coached by James Stator while Bill Godwin will also be assisting. "With this set-up we have a better organized squad," Wilmer said.

Starting positions are pretty much still up for grabs with more than two vying for several slots. On offense, it will either be Johnson or Glisson at the helm. They will have Jim Glisson or Perkins behind them in the backfield at fullback and Mooring, Darrell Cogdell, Young or Jeff Price at wingback.

Brown will be pushed by Steve Fuchs and Barry Bullock for one of two end positions. Pierce, Milton Alston and Harrell are fighting it out for a pair of tackle spots, while Barnhill and John Vines are looking good at guard. Boone and Donald Shepard are seeking to start at center.

Mooring and David Brown are looking to hold one outside linebacking job while Curtis Moore and Fred Glisson are after the other position. Pierce, Perkins, Jim Glisson, and Johnny Dickson are all looking to start in one of two middle linebacker holes.

Woody Andrews, Cogdell and Moore will share the cornerbacking duties with either Eddie James or Young at safety. The defensive line will be manned by Griggs, and Ayers at the tackles and Stator, Jessie Brown, Ronnie Pierce, or Ronnie Howell at the ends.

The season will open for the Panthers on the road against a non-conference foe, West Craven. The home opener for North Pitt will be on the next Friday against North Lenoir.

'Skins Biggest Asset Is Experience; Weakness Is Age

By BOB GREENE
Associated Press Sports Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Coach George Allen beat down the skeptics and a host of injuries last year to lead the Washington Redskins to their finest season in more than two decades.

This season the 'Skins should at least match last year's feat of making the National Football Conference playoffs.

Between Washington and the East Division title stands the World Champion Dallas Cowboys. But Washington's biggest asset—its experience—is also one of its biggest weaknesses—age.

With age, injuries take longer to heal, and injuries knocked the 'Skins out of the 1971 race.

Quarterback Sonny Jurgensen hurt his shoulder in the Miami preseason game and saw limited service the remainder of the season. Tight end Jerry Smith was in-and-out all year with an aggravated groin injury and wide receiver Charley Taylor broke his ankle in the sixth game and was lost for the remainder of the season.

But Billy Kilmer, a journeyman quarterback throughout his National Football League career, stepped into the breach and directed Allen's transplanted warriors to the final playoff spot, only to lose to the San Francisco 49ers in the opening round.

With a confident Kilmer and a sound Jurgensen, the 'Skins are exceptionally strong at the signal-calling slot. And Taylor and Smith are joined by Roy Jefferson and Clifton McNeil on the receiving corps, giving the 'Skins a top-notch passing combination.

Larry Brown, hampered with leg troubles last season, still managed to rush for 948 yards while Charley Harraway added 635 yards on the ground and caught 20 passes. Both are superb blockers.

For backup help, Allen, who would trade his grandmother and three future draft choices for a veteran, obtained George Nock from the New York Jets to relieve Brown and Harraway. Then there's exciting Herb Mulkey, a 6-foot, 190-pound speedster who showed up at a free agent camp and impressed everyone.

The offensive line received a blow early in training camp when tackle Jim Snowden was felled with an unusual knee injury. He will be out until at least November. Then, Terry Hermeling, also a tackle, created a scare when he injured his knee the very next day.

Veteran Ray Schoenke probably will switch from guard to tackle opposite Walter Rock. Allen then will install Paul Laaveg, a former starter, at guard to team with John Wilbur. At center will be Len Hauss.

Defense is Allen's name for football. Veterans Brig Owens and Richie Pettibon operate at safety while Pat Fischer, recuperating from an off-season back operation, and Mike Bass man the corners.

Up front, the defense is anchored by ends Verlon Biggs and Ron McDole, with Manny Sistrunk, an emerging superstar, and Diron Talbert operating from the tackle posts.

The defense, affectionately called the Over The Hill Gang, is personified by the linebackers—31-year-old Chris Hanburger, 33-year-old Myron Potlios and 36-year-old Jack Pardee. Between them, they have 35 years of pro experience.

Pushing hard for a starting berth, however, will be Harold McLinton, a four-year veteran from Southern University.

The special teams also delight Allen and the Redskins fans. Field goal kicker Curt Knight won the NFC scoring title and twice booted five three-pointers in a game. Mike Bragg ranks third among the top active punters in the NFC.

"Speedy" Duncan paced the NFL in returning punts while Ted Vactor finished third in the NFC. And in the off-season, Allen obtained Alvin Haymond, a premiere kick returner, from the Los Angeles Rams.

Montgomery, Sellers Like Winning

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer
There's nothing like playing for a winner. Just ask Mike Montgomery and Ron Sellers of the Dallas Cowboys in pro football.

"It's a very good feeling," they commented after they had led the Super Bowl Champions to their 15th straight victory, a 34-27 come-from-behind nod over the New York Jets in one of 11 National Football League exhibitions over the weekend.

Montgomery, who came to the Cowboys in the deal that sent Duane Thomas to San Diego, scored three touchdowns, including a leaping catch of Craig Morton's 12-yard pass in the closing minutes that broke a 27-27 tie.

Sellers, obtained from New England in another deal, caught three passes for 128 yards from Morton, including one for 54 yards and a TD.

The Cowboys put their winning streak on the line this week against Kansas City in the Chiefs' new Arrowhead Stadium where the Chiefs downed the Los Angeles Rams 19-13 in a nationally televised exhibition Sunday night game.

In the other weekend preseason games, Denver shaded San Francisco 27-24; Green Bay edged Chicago 10-7; the New York Giants humbled New England 31-10; Minnesota tripped Cleveland 20-17; Baltimore topped Pittsburgh 16-13; San Diego dropped New Orleans 16-14 and Oakland overwhelmed Buffalo 31-13.

Cincinnati plays at Philadelphia tonight in the last game before the 26 NFL clubs must cut their rosters to 49 players by 4 p.m., EDT, Tuesday.

Four field goals by Jan Stenerud from 37, 40, 57 and 36 yards out gave the Chiefs their triumph over the Rams. Veteran quarterback Len Dawson hampered by an attack of the flu, held the ball on Stenerud's four FGs, but otherwise played only a few minutes.

The Packers nipped the Bears on a 40-yard field goal by rookie Chester Marcol with only 13 seconds left the clock. Another FG, a 37-yarder by Jim Turner in the last quarter, insured the Broncos' triumph over the 49ers.

Veteran Norm Snead replaced the injured Randy Johnson and paced the Giants over the Patriots by throwing two touchdown passes and scoring a TD himself on an end run from the four.

Jim O'Brien's 20-yard field goal with just two seconds left won for the Colts over the Steelers.

Durocher Wins Debut; Wants To Catch Reds

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer
Leo Durocher says the Houston Astros can catch the Cincinnati Reds ... and Leo the Lip isn't talking through Harry Walker's hat.

The 66-year-old Durocher is wearing his own hat these days as manager of the Astros and his debut Sunday—one day after Houston fired Harry "The Hat" Walker—a wining one by an 8-2 score over Montreal.

"The guys were all relaxed and happy," said Durocher, who was canned himself one month earlier by the Chicago Cubs. "It's been a long time since players, like most of the ballclub did, came up and said congratulations and let's get 25 more."

Even 25 more might not help the Astros, who remained eight games behind Cincinnati in baseball's National League West when the Reds trimmed Philadelphia 7-2.

Elsewhere, Los Angeles made it three in a row over Pittsburgh 7-4. Chicago battered San Francisco 9-3, the New York Mets walloped Atlanta 13-6 and St. Louis trounced Montreal 9-2.

In the American League, Detroit took a pair of 11-inning games from Minnesota 5-3 and 1-0. Oakland nipped Baltimore 2-1. Milwaukee edged the Chicago White Sox 4-3. Boston drubbed Texas 10-3, the New York Yankees swept Kansas City 7-6 and 9-8 in 16 innings and California stopped Cleveland 1-0 in 12 innings.

Durocher, who managed the New York Giants to a come-from-behind pennant against the Brooklyn Dodgers in 1951, said Cincinnati's "only weakness is that they have to lose and we have to win."

The Astros scored three runs in the second inning Sunday, three more in the third and Doug Rader hit a two-run homer in the eighth in support of Larry Dierker's eight-hit pitching.

Durocher said he had no plans to return to baseball until the past weekend.

"I was all set to go to Korea," he disclosed. "My wife and I had already taken our shots and were ready to take a couple of months' vacation. Lo and behold, at midnight Friday the telephone started ringing (Houston General Manager Spec Richardson) and it didn't stop until 3 a.m."

"I was very happy to get the call. This team has speed, good defense and power. I like a running ballclub, a hustling ballclub, and I like speed."

The Reds tagged Philadelphia's Wayne Twitchell for six extra-base hits in 5 1-3 innings, including two doubles and a triple by Pete Rose and a two-run homer by Denis Menke. Joe Morgan also homered for the Reds, who have won 12 of their last 15 games in pulling away from Houston.

Chris Cannizzaro lashed a tie-breaking two-run double with two out in the eighth inning as the Dodgers downed Pittsburgh. Despite their third consecutive setback, the Pirates still hold a 10-game lead over the Cubs.

Cannizzaro's double followed an intentional walk to Bill Russell. Earlier, Frank Robinson hit a two-run single and Bill Buckner socked a two-run homer for the Dodgers while Pittsburgh's Roberto Clemente also drove in a pair of runs with a single and sacrifice fly.

Shortstop Don Kessinger, who committed two damaging errors that helped San Francisco to a 3-0 lead, drilled a tie-breaking two-run single in the seventh as the Cubs overtook the Giants. Chicago wrapped it up with four runs in the eighth on Billy Williams' 28th homer and three consecutive bases-loaded walks.

The Mets got home runs from John Milner, pitcher Tom Seaver, Tommie Agee and Ken Boswell and ended Atlanta's five-game streak as Seaver notched his 18th triumph. Seaver had a shutout until Darrell Evans belted a three-run homer in the seventh.

St. Louis chased San Diego starter Clay Kirby with a six-run first inning, highlighted by pitcher Rick Wise's three-run double off Fred Norman.

Orioles Want Jackson To Lose Pain; AL West Still Running Tight

By KEN RAPPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer
Reggie Jackson has a pain in the ribs, but is just a pain in the neck to the Baltimore Orioles.

"In a way, my injury is good because it's keeping me from swinging too hard," said Jackson after driving in both runs despite torn rib cartilages as the Oakland A's beat the Orioles 2-1 Sunday.

Jackson came back to work just last Friday night after spending two weeks on the disabled list. Obviously the layoff didn't hurt—Jackson hit a home run in his first appearance since Aug. 9.

"I thought I might be a little rusty," said the slugger, who drove in Oakland's tying run with a single in the third inning and then the winning run with an eighth-inning double Sunday. "I never allowed myself to think that I might not be ready to come back, though."

"Of course, I didn't expect to do what I've been doing." Oakland's victory kept both American League races in an extremely fidgety state. The A's moved within a half-game of Chicago in the West after the White Sox lost to the Milwaukee Brewers 4-3 and the Orioles dropped to second in the East by 1 1/2 games after the Detroit Tigers swept a doubleheader from the Minnesota Twins in two, 11-inning affairs, 5-3 and 1-0.

Elsewhere in the American League, the Boston Red Sox trounced the Texas Rangers 10-3; the New York Yankees swept a doubleheader from the Kansas City Royals 7-6 and 9-8 in 16 innings and California nipped Cleveland 1-0 in 12 innings. In the National League it was: Los Angeles 7, Pittsburgh 4; Chicago 9, San Francisco 3; New York 13, Atlanta 6; Cincinnati 7, Philadelphia 2; St. Louis 9, St. Louis 2 and Houston 8, Montreal 2.

Jackson's heroics helped stop a Baltimore jinx. The Orioles had won nine straight games in Oakland before Sunday.

"You can't win here all the time, I guess," said Baltimore Manager Earl Weaver.

George Scott's run-scoring single capped a two-run rally in the bottom of the ninth for Milwaukee. Scott's game-winning hit followed an RBI single by John Pelske that tied the game 3-3.

The crowd of 18,914 appeared to be White Sox-oriented, despite the fact that the game was played in Milwaukee. Chicago is within easy driving distance of Milwaukee.

Detroit won both games on 11th-inning home runs—Willie Horton hit one with a man on the opener and Aurelio Rodriguez reached the seats with the bases empty in the nightcap. Detroit's Joe Coleman pitched a brilliant second game, allowing just four hits over 11 innings.

The Yankees won both their games in dramatic fashion. Johnny Callison struck a tie-breaking, 407-foot single off the top of the bleacher wall in right-center with the bases loaded to pull out the opener in the ninth inning. Horace Clarke's bases-loaded sacrifice fly in the 16th, after the Yankees had wasted several earlier scoring opportunities, gave them the second game. Carlton Fisk drove in four runs with a homer and a single and Rico Petrocelli knocked in three runs with a homer and a double to power Boston over Texas.

Smith Out For Season

BALTIMORE (AP) — All-Pro defensive end Bubba Smith, injured on a freak play in an exhibition game, has been lost to the Baltimore Colts for the entire 1972 season.

"I feel sick," Coach McCafferty said after a two-hour operation Sunday revealed that Smith had suffered extensive damage to his right knee. "No one will know how much we'll miss Bubba."

Smith, who played a key role as the Colts led the National Football League in defense last year, was injured in the final quarter of Saturday's 16-13 exhibition victory over the Pittsburgh Steelers in Tampa, Fla.

While running interference after teammate Rick Volk intercepted a Pittsburgh pass, Smith crashed into a first-down marker on the sidelines.

A team spokesman said the person holding the marker apparently "froze" in terror at the approach of Smith, a 6-foot 8, 265-pounder, and failed to drop the metal pole.

There was speculation that the mere collision with the pole may not have caused all the damage to Smith's knee, but team films of the game failed to show any unusual twisting of the leg that may have contributed to the injury.

No Approval From Nicklaus

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Golf Writer
PINEHURST, N.C. (AP) — Jack Nicklaus had just picked up his sixth title of the season, a personal high, and had pushed his year's earnings to new record proportions of $280,482.16 but he wasn't about to put the stamp of greatness on the tournament that made it possible—the U.S. Professional Match Play Championship.

It is the fondest hope of the sponsors and founders to make the event one of pro golf's major tournaments, to elevate it to the status of the current Big Four—the U.S. AND British Opens, the Masters and PGA.

"It can't be a major tournament under this format," Nicklaus said Sunday after disposing of Frank Beard 2-and-1 in the final match and claiming the $48,000 first-place prize.

"We only have 16 players in the finals. The format was set up to accommodate television. It can't be a major tournament unless you have more players than that competing."

The new complicated and confusing format was devised after all the game's great names—Nicklaus, Arnold Palmer, Gary Player—were eliminated prior to the televised weekend matches in last year's inaugural Match Play Championship.

So this season it was set up differently to assure that the top players would be playing on the weekend—when the matches are televised.

Eight players were given exempt status. They included the defending champion and the seven leaders off last year's point list.

Eight more came out of the $100,000 Liggett & Myers Open, a regular stroke-play event which was played Thursday through Sunday on the same 6,988 yard, par 72 Country Club of North Carolina Course. The eight leaders after 36 holes in that tournament joined the eight exempt players in the match play.

Nicklaus, who had scored previous victories over Deane Beman, rookie Lanny Wadkins and Don Bies, had to work hard to subdue the veteran Beard, winner of 11 four titles but slump-ridden this season.

"I was having trouble with my concentration," said Nicklaus. "Then I made that putt on No. 9 and think it woke me up, got me going."

The Worry Clinic

Viewers Want Ending To Shows

Frank Kromm's irritation shows take a few lessons from that TV scenario writers need to newspaper reporters! And they should realize that adults resemble kiddies in wanting the hero and heroine to be easily identified!

By GEORGE W. CRANE Ph.D., M.D.
Case U-570: Frank Kromm is basically a newspaperman. For he heads the Hopkins Syndicate with some 500 newspaper customers. "But, Dr. Crane," he grumbled recently, occasionally I watch a romantic movie on TV. "The other night Mrs. Kromm and I intently followed a one-hour program. "The characters were attractive and the plotting was good—except for the conclusion. "At the end, neither my wife nor I knew whether the hero and heroine finally got married or were left apart. "So I felt disgusted at this waste of my valuable time. "We certainly would rate above average in education, so if we couldn't figure out the ending, what about millions of other Americans with lesser education?"

TV Foibles
It so happened that Mrs. Crane and I had chanced to see that very same TV show. And we were also left dangling, uncertain as to what really occurred at the finish. For many supposedly sophisticated scenario writers either credit us with occult powers.

Or they fail to clinch their conclusions in an evident manner. Most people, if they watch a love romance, prefer to see the hero take the heroine into his arms in a final embrace. In movies for children, it has long been customary for the "baddies" to ride black horses. "Who is the good guy?" a 5-year-old recently asked his 7-year-old brother. "Oh, you can always tell that," disdainfully answered the older child. "For the goodies always ride white horses."

Well, a lot of modern TV plots need to heed that simple way of illuminating even the college viewers.

Looted Offices Just Next Door

ISTANBUL (AP) — There are some red faces at Istanbul's police headquarters. Thieves recently entered an office block next door to the graystone building and systematically looted 148 offices, according to a press report. The mass burglary of the four-floor building must have taken all night to accomplish, the report said.

GOREN ON BRIDGE

BY CHARLES H. GOREN
c 1972 By The Chicago Tribune
BRIDGE QUIZ ANSWERS
Q. 1 — Neither vulnerable.
As South you hold:
♠AJ10643 ♠KJ4 ♠A64
The bidding has proceeded:
North East South West
Pass Pass 1 ♠ Pass
3 ♠ Pass ?
What do you bid now?
A.—Despite partner's previous pass, we would have high hopes of settling to a slam, but it is important not to make the mistake of employing a four no trump bid at this point. If partner has a singleton club or the king-queen of clubs, the slam will be a virtual cinch. It is better, therefore, to describe your hand in such a fashion that partner will realize that all he needs is second round control of clubs. You should, therefore, bid four hearts. He will presumably return to four spades, whereupon you will bid five diamonds. If he has a singleton club, he may then bid six.

Q. 2—East-West are vulnerable and have 70 part score. As South you hold:
♠A92 7532 643 ♠QJ5
The bidding has proceeded:
North East South
1 ♠ 2 ?
What do you bid?
A.—Pass. There is no need for you to assume the role of the great defender. Tho the two diamond contract completes their game, a raise by you is not necessary for partner is still alive to defend and he should not be misled regarding your strength.

Q. 3—Partner opens with two no trump and you hold:
♠A75 ♠106 ♠QJ932 ♠862
What is your response?
A.—Three no trump. Since partner's maximum high card value is 24 points, there is no reasonable prospect for slam.

Q. 4—As South, vulnerable, you hold:
♠9743 ♠Q62 ♠A2 ♠AQJ2
The bidding has proceeded:
North East South
1 ♠ 2 ?
What do you bid?
A.—A jump to three clubs is our choice. A mere free raise to two clubs, tho it designates a good hand, would be quite inadequate.

Q. 5—East-West vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠75 AK3 AK2 ♠K10643
The bidding has proceeded:
South West North East
1 ♠ Pass Pass Dble.
What do you bid now?
A.—Pass. When partner failed to keep one club open, offensive prospects for your side virtually disappeared. The best chance for a profit lies in the hope that complete silence will induce the enemy to overreach themselves.

Q. 6—As South, vulnerable, you hold:
♠AJ10964 ♠AKQ97 ♠62 ♠5
The bidding has proceeded:
South West North East
Pass Pass 1 ♠ Pass
What do you bid now?
A.—Three hearts, a jump response, is absolutely forcing for one round even tho you have passed. It is your intention to bid four spades on the next round, and in this way you may be able to induce partner to try for a slam if he can.

Q. 7—Partner, vulnerable, opens with one heart and you hold:
♠J42 ♠J1053 ♠Q65 ♠K52
What is your response?
A.—Despite the fact that you have ample trump support you should refuse to raise to two hearts. Some action must, however, be taken and the proper procedure is to respond with one no trump. Where the choice rests between a response of one no trump or a single raise, with evenly balanced hands the no trump bid should be preferred if the raise is to of minimum proportions.

Q. 8—As South, both vulnerable, you hold:
♠AQJ1085 ♠KJ4 ♠1095 ♠7
The bidding has proceeded:
West North East South
1 ♠ 2 ♠ Pass ?
What do you bid?
A.—Pass. There is little doubt that your best contract would be two spades, but there is also little likelihood that you can buy the contract at that, for partner will surely construe your call as a cue bid. Under the circumstances silence is the best policy.

Fighter Bombers Strike Hanoi-Haiphong Facilities

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — American fighter-bombers destroyed or damaged more than 170 buildings Sunday at military camps in the heaviest raids on the Hanoi-Haiphong area in 4½ years, the U.S. Command announced today.

The command said that Air Force and Navy jets attacked 20 different targets in the Hanoi-Haiphong area, including three army barracks, the northeast rail line to China, railroad yards, supply barges, storage and fuel depots, and anti-aircraft missile and artillery batteries.

It was the heaviest attack in the Hanoi-Haiphong area since March 1968, U.S. officials said.

North Vietnam claimed five American jets were shot down and some pilots captured. The U.S. Command made no mention of any plane losses.

Among the raids Sunday was the first attack of the war on the Xom Bai army barracks 37 miles northwest of Hanoi. Pilots said their bombs destroyed 13 barracks and 10 storage and support buildings, and damaged another 46 buildings.

The Xuan Mai military training complex 17 miles southwest of Hanoi and Hai Dong Barracks West, 23 miles northwest of Haiphong also were hit.

The U.S. Command confirmed a report from Washington that a Chinese minesweeper had slipped into Haiphong harbor despite the U.S. minefield raid last May. The Command said the sweeper has been in Haiphong about a week and is tied up next to a Chinese freighter. It said it was "not aware that any mines have been swept," and the Navy said the minesweeper had not attempted any clearing operations yet.

The Command said it had planted new mines "at various locations to cover areas not previously seeded."

The Navy said that the Chinese minesweeper was the only ship that had slipped into Haiphong, and none of the 27 ships there when the harbor was mined had left.

The U.S. Command announced that an American Air Force adviser was killed in South Vietnam Saturday when his small observation plane collided with a South Vietnamese jet near Que Son. A Vietnamese pilot with the American and the two Vietnamese in the jet were also killed.

In the ground war, North Vietnamese forces fought their way back into the district headquarters compound in Que Son Sunday night, but government troops were reported still holding other sections of the town.

The South Vietnamese were reported driven out of the military compound that was the district headquarters at dusk Sunday after a series of North Vietnamese artillery and mortar attacks and ground assaults. The compound is about the size of an average city block.

The heavy shelling attacks wounded at least 40 South Vietnamese troops, and helicopters trying to evacuate them were driven back by North Vietnamese anti-aircraft guns ringing the town.

South Vietnamese rangers and infantrymen were reported trying to consolidate their positions at Que Son in an effort to hold the district capital. It fell to the North Vietnamese on Aug. 19, and the South Vietnamese recaptured it last Friday.

About 25 miles to the north, U.S. helicopter gunships apparently thwarted a rocket attack on Da Nang, South Vietnam's second largest city. Field reports said the helicopters attacked about 35 enemy troops carrying rockets about six miles south of the city. At least three of the North Vietnamese were reported killed.

Farther north, fighting was reported to have decreased sharply at Quang Tri. Field reports said less than 500 rounds of shellfire hit South Vietnam positions Sunday, compared to between 1,500 and 2,000 rounds a day in the week before. There was no immediate explanation for the drop.

The Saigon Command around Quang Tri Sunday. It claimed 54 North Vietnamese troops were killed in and said eight government troops were killed and 34 wounded.

The Communists in the Central Highlands freed four French priests captured last April, and informants said they appeared to have been treated well.
