Seventeen Slain In Olympian Bloodbath

By NICKLUDINGTON
Associated Press Writer
MUNICH (AP) — Authorities counted 17 persons dead today as a result of Arab terrorism and police action growing out of the Arabs' raid on Olympic Village. The dead included 11 men from the Israeli team at the Olympics, 5 terrorists and a West German policeman. The Olympics were ordered to continue, resuming late today. Avery Brundage, the Olympic chief, said: "We cannot allow a handful of terrorists to destroy this nucleus of international cooperation and good will that we have in the Olympic movement. The games must go on." Two of the Israeli team members, a coach and an athlete, died in the first outburst of terrorism when Arab terrorists invaded the Israeli quarters Tuesday. The other deaths came when a gun battle erupted at an airfield 20 miles from Munich as the terrorists and their

Israeli hostages were ostensibly bound for a flight abroad. Three Arabs were captured. A German helicopter pilot was seriously wounded. The Olympics competitions are resuming at the point at which they were suspended Tuesday afternoon. That pushes each day's schedule back 24 hours—the closing ceremony will be held Monday instead of Sunday. The Israeli team's 18 surviving members will leave for home Thursday. They would have left today, "but we couldn't make arrangements in time," an official said. Brundage spoke at a memorial service in the Olympic Stadium for the 11 dead Israelis. He was to have met after the service with the full membership of the International Olympic Committee, but an informed source said the committee was cancelled before and during the ceremony and agreed the games should continue.

The stadium was packed with more than 80,000 West Germans for the service, while members of the Olympic teams filled the field. Shortly before Brundage spoke, the chief of the Israeli team, Shmuel Lalkin, told the throng that "the sportsmen of Israel will continue to take part in Olympic competition in the spirit of brotherhood and fairness." The guerrilla invasion of the Olympic village early Tuesday ended late that night in a gun battle at a military airfield 20 miles northwest of Munich in which a West German policeman and five

County School Lunch Prices Increased To 40 Cents

By STUART SAVAGE
Reflector Staff Writer
The Pitt County Board of Education raised the price of school lunches by 10-cents per plate, and approved low bids for milk and bread for the school lunchrooms at their meeting yesterday.

The school board voted to increase the price of lunches from 30-cents to 40-cents for students after hearing assistant superintendent Tom Craft say the move was needed in order to get full federal participation (reimbursement) in the lunch program. Craft told the board that with the new lunch fee, the reimbursement rate will be 8-cents per paid lunch, 28-cents per reduced-price lunch and 48-cents per free lunch served by the school lunchrooms. Last year, according to Craft, the reimbursement rate was seven cents per paid, 27-cents per reduced and 47-cents per free lunch. With the former 30-cents per lunch charge, Craft explained, the current reimbursement rate would be six-cents, 16-cents and 36-cents. Craft said the price increase seemed to be "penalizing the paying student," but noted the increase, in his opinion, was necessary. Although approving the increase, the board approved a resolution to be forwarded to Congressman Walter Jones expressing their

"disappointment and disapproval" of the regulations and encouraging the representative to work for legislation which would provide free lunches to all children attending school. The new 40-cents per lunch charge will take effect September 11. Board approval was given to low bids for milk and bread for the lunchrooms. The low bids included 7.6 cents for plain milk and 7.8 cents per half-pint for chocolate milk, with Carolina Dairy to service all schools in the county except two schools in Farmville which will be serviced by the Farmville Sealtest dealer. The low bread bid was 26-cents per loaf submitted by

Dainty Maid bakeries. The school board yesterday also reviewed low bids for the construction of eight classrooms and a cafeteria at the A. G. Cox school in Winterville. According to superintendent of schools Arthur Alford, J. Leo Hawkins submitted the low bid of $207,000 for the general construction contract with J. H. Hudson of Greenville submitting the next lowest at $212,612. Other low bidders for the project included Electricron Inc. for the electrical work at $27,760; Kinston Plumbing and Heating for the plumbing contract at $16,550 and

ECU School Of Medicine Opens Amid Hopes That Program Can Be Expanded Into Four-Year School

By STUART SAVAGE
Reflector Staff Writer
East Carolina University's one-year medical school opened today amid hopes the program can be expanded to a four-year school in the future. ECU has already asked the University of North Carolina Board of Governors to expand the one-year program to a two-year school by September, 1974. And an ultimate four-year medical education program at ECU has the backing of Gov. Bob Scott and most members of the General Assembly from Eastern North Carolina. Dr. Lenox Baker, secretary of the N.C. Department of Human Resources — principal speaker at the ceremonies this morning opening the medical school — said the need for a four-year medical school at ECU is just as great today as the need for Duke, Bowman-Gray or the UNC School of Medicine was when they were built. Dr. Baker, who will be 70 years old in November, was the first student admitted to the Duke University medical school more than 40 years ago — "on Easter weekend, 1929," he said. He spent 43 years at Duke — as a student and then as a medical school faculty member — and was termed "One of the first movers and shakers..." of a medical education program in Eastern North Carolina, by Dr. Ed Monroe, vice-chancellor for Health Affairs at ECU. Dr. Baker said at the time the Duke school opened, people wondered "how in the world can that little town have a school of medicine?" And he recalled the fight to establish the medical school at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, just 12 miles from the school in Durham. A champion of a medical school in the East, Dr. Baker said he came to the opening of the medical school here because "I like a new day...I like a new dawn...and certainly this is a new dawn in medical education in the state." "I think the need for a School of Medicine in Greenville is greater today than for the school in Durham 42 years ago." Then asking why, Baker explained that when the Duke school opened they only had 275 hospital beds. "Eastern North Carolina offers 1,500...in Greenville" and within a 30 mile radius with such facilities at new, modern hospitals in Wilson, Washington, Williamston, New Bern, and Kinston. "Duke, Carolina, Wake Forest had nothing like that, he emphasized.

According to Dr. Baker, a full medical school at ECU would improve the health services in the eastern part of the state, and would help attract high-type non-polluting industry to the state. The cost, he said must be measured in terms of the improvement of the welfare of the state, the increased industry and improved health care. As for cost, according to Dr. Wallace Wooles, Dean of the School of Medicine, the program now costs about $35,000 per student. He told reporters, "We could have a 400 per cent increase in the number of students for a 30 per cent increase in budget," noting that such an increase could include expansion to a two-year program.

ECU Chancellor Dr. Leo W. Jenkins, who emphasized the fact that the 20 students were all North Carolina residents (university officials had earlier given a list of addresses which listed the parents of three of the students of being from out-of-state) told the group that "on a state level, you are one of 328 students entering the four medical schools within our state," and among some 13,213 medical students entering 108 American medical schools this fall. He noted that the 20 local students were among over 200 students applying to ECU and among some 30,000 applicants who applied for the 13,200 places through the U.S. "You are among a very fortunate 43 per cent accepted," he said. Dr. Jenkins emphasized that "when you graduate you will be in a profession in which there is chronically too few people and too many demands on your service." The ECU chancellor added,

"when you are ready to enter the practice of medicine — approximately 1978 at the earliest — it is estimated there will be one doctor for every 650 people in the country. In North Carolina it is estimated that at that time we will have one doctor for every 832 people...an estimated one doctor for every 1,400 people in rural and Eastern North Carolina. Recognized at this morning's gathering of students and faculty members was the first student admitted to the medical program, James S. Parsons of Cary, a 1972 North Carolina State University graduate — and the first female student, Marjorie Rhodes Barnwell of Kinston.

OFFICIALS AT OPENING . . . Dr. Ed Monroe, vice-chancellor for Health Affairs; Chancellor Dr. Leo Jenkins; Dr. Lenox Baker, secretary of the N.C. Department of Human Resources; and ECU medical school dean Dr. Wallace Wooles at opening of the ECU School of Medicine this morning.

Worked Out

Mayor S. Eugene West this morning announced he has received word from Congressman Walter B. Jones that minor discrepancies in the proposed Newtown project had been worked out by Jones with the Federal Housing Administration in Washington. "In working these out," Mayor West commented, "this means that Greenville Housing Authority should be able to advertise for bids on the project within the next week or ten days." "I certainly am appreciative of the work Congressman Jones had done to expedite this project," the mayor commented. "Because of his initiative, we can look forward to moving ahead with the project."

Fike-Boyd Vows Spoken In Saturday Ceremony

In a double ring ceremony Saturday at three o'clock in the afternoon at the Salem United Methodist Church, Simpson, Miss Doris Kathryn Boyd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jasper D. Boyd Sr. of Greenville, became the bride of Robert F. Fike, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oran Paul Fike of College Park, Md.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Richard S. Arno.

A program of nuptial music was presented by Mrs. Lois Jane Stocks, cousin of the bride, and Mrs. Mary Frances Fornes, soloist, who sang "I Love You Truly", "The Lord's Prayer," and "Whither Thou Goest."

The chancel of the church was centered with a fifteen branch candelabra holding cathedral candles. Each side of the altar was enhanced with fan shaped arrangements of white gladioli, chrysanthemums and jade with springer foliage and standards of jade foliage. The pews were marked with white ribbons.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Ronnie E. Boyd, and her parents, wore an original gown in silk organza designed princess line with a high neckline of Venice lace with short sleeves and Venice lace panels down the front. The back was enhanced with a full built-in train finished at waist with a double bow.

She used a long matilla with matching Venice lace edge and topped with a flower. The bride carried a cascade of white bridal roses centered with a white orchid.

Mrs. Louretta Grubbs of Silver Springs Md. was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Geneva D. Warren of Falls Church, Va., and Miss Linda M. Tillet of Springfield, Va.

The attendants wore formal gowns of polyester crepe in lavender, floor length with low necklines, trimmed with white lace, high waists with straight front and gathers.

Their headdresses were rounded head crown in lavender with white lace and white net veiling. The attendants carried baskets of astors, Chrysanthemums, daisies and baby's breath in shades of lavender and purple.

The bridegroom had Ted Randall as best man of Waldrop, Md. Ushers were Bert Whitehurst, Sidney Hardee, Tony Hardee, cousins of the bride, and Ray Moore of Washington.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Boyd selected a pink short sleeved dress of polyester crepe double knit. The dress was accented with a pink lace coat. She wore matching accessories and a white orchid corsage.

Mrs. Thelma Hardee, maternal grandmother of the bride, chose a dress of hot pink polyester with complementary accessories. She wore a white orchid corsage.

WCTU Meeting Set Thursday

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union meeting has been scheduled for Thursday at 7:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. L. B. Tucker.

"Prayer, Our Greatest Source of Unused Power" will be the devotional theme and "Priorities For Victory" will be the program theme.

All members are urged to be present.

Marriage Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Joe L. Edwards of Greenville announce the marriage of their daughter, Alese Elizabeth, to Randy Darryl Carey, on Aug. 15 in Winemucca, Nev. The couple are residing in Lake Port, Mich.

MRS. ROBERT F. FIKE

directed the wedding.

The bride graduated from Grimeland High School and Greenville School of Commerce. She is presently employed by the Treasury Department, Washington, D.C.

The couple will reside in Springfield, Va. For the wedding trip to Wildwood, N.J., and New York, the bride changed into a polyester double knit dress of mint green trimmed with white. She wore an orchid lifted from her bridal bouquet.

After-Rehearsal Party On Friday evening following the rehearsal, Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Whitehurst, Mr. and Mrs. Noah T. Hardee, aunts and uncles of the bride, entertained the wedding party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Whitehurst of Greenville.

Guests were greeted by the hostesses and invited to the refreshment table which was covered with a white linen cloth and centered with an arrangement of mixed pastel flowers in a silver candelabra.

The bride-elect was remembered with a corsage of white miniature carnations which complemented her purple and rose gown.

Members of the wedding party were remembered with gifts from the bridal couple.

Engagement Announced

MISS BRENDA KAY HARDY, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allen V. Kennedy of Greenville announce the engagement of her daughter to James Kelly Butler Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. James Kelly Butler of Ayden. The wedding will take place Oct. 6.

Hide The Truth: Mother Counts Poorly

By Abigail Van Buren

(© 1972 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd., Inc.)

DEAR ABBY: How do you go about explaining to your mother that no matter how hard she tries she cannot pass off a 16-month-old baby as a 10-month-old infant?

My mother had a very good picture of my 16-month-old son taken with my brother's 10-month-old daughter, and she cut my son off that picture and pasted on a picture of my child taken when he was about 9½ months old. She keeps trying to pass off her two grandchildren as the same age because she is ashamed of the fact that I was six months pregnant when I was married.

When will she realize that her too-early grandson is not a mark against her, and that all babies are equally precious? CONDEMNED IN MASSACHUSETTS

DEAR CONDEMNED: Give her time, Dear, and she will eventually start counting her blessings and quit counting the months.

DEAR ABBY: I just read the letter from "SENSITIVE"—the only girl in an office with 18 men. She said she gets so nervous when they make personal remarks on her appearance. They notice when she wears a long skirt or a short one, pants or a dress, and even when she changes her hairdo. And they all have something to say about it.

Well, I also work in a one-girl office. Only there are 20 men in and out of this place all day. It's a taxi cab office. They also notice how I dress and wear my hair and I love it! I'd be hurt if they didn't say anything.

Believe me, it's better than working with a bunch of women who pick you apart when your back is turned.

My friends envy me with this job. I would never work with women again. TRIED BOTH KINDS

DEAR TRIED: Lucky you! Cab drivers have a reputation for goodhumored kidding, lively rhetoric, and quotable comebacks. Better keep your identity to yourself, Kiddo. The Women's Libbers will snatch you baldheaded.

DEAR ABBY: I am writing to obtain an impartial opinion in a controversy which arose in my family recently.

My son is married and has two children, a daughter 12, and a son 10. We have always had a good relationship with our son and his wife. She works as a waitress and saves her tips in a small bucket which she keeps on her dresser. It usually contains about $100. My son saves half dollars, which he keeps in a glass jar on his bureau.

My son and his wife leave for work before the children get up for school, and the children come to my place for breakfast, as we are neighbors. The children are expected to get their bus fare and lunch money from these jars.

Several weeks ago my daughter-in-law noticed there was about $3.00 missing from her jar. She drove to the ice cream parlor where she found her daughter just leaving after having treated several of her friends. She admitted having taken the money from the jar. My son spanked her

PICNIC BREAD
There's lots of molasses flavor in this Boston-type bread.
1 cup unsifted flour
½ teaspoon baking soda
¾ teaspoon salt
¼ cup sugar
1 cup unsifted stoneground wholewheat flour
1 egg
¾ cup molasses
1 cup buttermilk
1 cup raisins
On wax paper thoroughly stir together the flour, baking soda and salt; add the sugar and whole-wheat flour and stir again to mix well. In a medium mixing bowl beat egg slightly; add molasses and buttermilk and beat to blend. Add dry ingredients and mix well. Stir in raisins. Turn into a greased and floured loaf pan (9 by 5 by 3 inches). Bake in a preheated 350-degree oven until a cake tester inserted in center comes out clean—1 hour; cover top lightly with foil if bread browns too much toward end of baking time. Turn out on a wire rack; turn right side up; cool. Wrap tightly for several hours or overnight so crust softens and bread is easy to slice.

I maintain they should not leave the money where the children can help themselves, that their bus fare and lunch money should be laid out for them. My daughter-in-law says she wants to teach them to be trustworthy. My son agrees with her. What is your opinion?

Miss JoErn Connelly Weds Saturday Afternoon

Miss JoErn Connelly and Robert Russell South III were united in marriage in Grace Free Will Baptist Church on Saturday at 2:00 by the Rev. Chester Phillips in a double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest J. Connelly of Greenville. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Russell South Jr. of Little Plymouth, Va.

A program of nuptial music was presented by Douglas Randlett, soloist, and organist, Mrs. Faye Sutton.

The chancel of the church was decorated with two seven branched candelabra, a floor basket of mums, gladioli and bridal greenery. Bridal palms were used on the altar.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a street length dress of white and off white embossed polyester designed by Fabiani. Her fingertip veil of illusion was designed with white satin roses, lily-of-the-valley and ribbon. She carried a white Bible centered with a white orchid and matching streamers.

Mrs. Sandra Duke of Raleigh served as matron of honor. She was attired in a pink crepe polyester street length dress with matching accessories. She carried an old-fashioned nosegay of summer flowers with matching ribbon.

Robert Russell South Jr. served his son as best man. Groomsman were Gilbert Connelly, brother of the bride, and Lee Hartsell of Newport News, Va.

The mother of the bride was dressed in a yellow polyester street length dress with matching accessories and a white carnation corsage.

The bridegroom's mother wore a mint green dress with matching accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

Immediately after the wedding, the bride's parents entertained at a reception to honor the bridal couple and guests in the fellowship hall of the church. The couple will make their home in Smithfield, Va., after a wedding trip in the mountains of North Carolina.

Mrs. South is a 1969 graduate of Hopewell High School, Hopewell, Va., and graduated from Chowan College in 1972 with an Associate of Arts degree. She was employed at the Daily Reflector.

Mr. South graduated from York Academy, Shackelford, Va., in 1967. He is a graduate of Newport News Apprentice School, where he is currently employed as foreman.

Continuation Of Topics Planned By AAUW

The Greenville branch of the American Association of University Women announces a continuation for 1972-73 of four study items — "this beleaguered earth," "a dollar's worth," "we the people," and "the crisis in public education."

Under these broad areas, specific programs last year dealt with consumer protection, a study of the legal system, current trends in education, the emerging role of the Republic of China in the United Nations, redevelopment projects in Greenville, and the nation's economy.

The A. A. U. W., now in its ninth decade, is a nationwide organization of women graduates of regionally accredited colleges and universities. It has more than 170,000 members in every state, the District of Columbia, and Guam. In addition to the four current items, it has continuing interests in securing equal opportunities for women in education, industry, and government; in working to improve education at all levels; and in mobilizing volunteer woman power for community service. It operates a program to award 80 American and 50 International fellowships per year to women graduate students.

Local meetings are held the third Monday of each month at 8 p.m. in the Development Evaluation Clinic. Interested persons should contact Mrs. C. R. Kernan, membership chairman, 758-1584.

Teenage Mothers Receive Name

LONDON (WNS)—England now has a name for young teens with babies: "gymslip mothers." "Juvenile pregnancy appears to be becoming commoner in our increasingly permissive society," declared Dr. John Guillebaud of the Royal Buckinghamshire Hospital in his report to the Royal Society of Medicine. In 1969 four 11-year-old girls, eleven 12-year-olds and thirty-two 13-year-olds had babies in England and Wales. In 1969 there were no births to 11-year-olds, four to 12-year-olds and ten to 13-year-olds. Gymslip mothers tend to be taller and heavier than average for their age and to give birth to underweight babies.

BROCCOLI FRITTATA
Adapted from Italian cuisine.
1/4 cup olive oil
1 package (10 ounces) frozen chopped broccoli, thawed
6 eggs
1 teaspoon salt
1-3rd cup grated Parmesan cheese.

In a 10-inch skillet heat the oil; add the broccoli and cook gently, stirring several times, until tender-crisp—about 5 minutes. In a medium mixing bowl beat the eggs slightly; stir in salt and Parmesan; pour over broccoli in skillet and cook over moderately low heat. As mixture sets, with a wide spatula lift edges and tilt pan so soft portion runs down to bottom of skillet. While top is still slightly soft loosen edges, cut in 4 wedges and turn to brown lightly on the other side. Serve at once. Makes 4 servings.

HAMBURGER STROGANOFF
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 small or 1 medium onion, finely chopped (about 2-3rds cup)
1 pound ground beef round
1 teaspoon salt
Pepper to taste
1/4 teaspoon oregano
1 can (3 ounces) chopped broiled mushrooms, undrained
1 container (8 ounces) commercial sour cream
1 tablespoon catchup

In a 10-inch skillet melt the butter. Add onion and cook over moderate heat until golden-brown. Add beef, salt, pepper and oregano; mash with a fork until crumbly and beef loses its red color. Add the mushrooms, including the liquid in the can, the sour cream and catchup, stir well and heat but do not boil. Serve very hot over rice. Makes 4 to 5 servings.

TABBOULEH
A salad from Syrian cuisine.
1 cup bulgar (cracked wheat)
Boiling water
1 cup finely chopped parsley
1 cup finely chopped fresh mint
1/2 cup finely chopped scallion (green onion), tops included
1 pound tomatoes, coarsely chopped
1-3rd cup lemon juice
1-3rd cup olive oil
2 teaspoons salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
Lettuce

Cover bulgar with boiling water and let soak for 2 hours; drain. Add remaining ingredients and mix well. Serve on lettuce. Makes almost 6 cups. Refrigerate any remaining wheat mixture, covered; it keeps well.

A Break For Aged And Disabled

Fortunately for older people and the disabled the Pitt Board of elections will have registration periods on Saturday Sept. 9, 16, 12 and 30 on the first floor of the Court House.

We say it is fortunate because the Board of Election's office is so poorly located for anyone who may have difficulty climbing stairs. The office is located high on the third floor on the east side of the old Court House Building. Elevators are on the west side in the new annex and getting across is difficult because the Superior Court room is in the way.

Thus it is almost essential for anyone who wishes to register during the regular office hours of 9 to 5 on week days to climb the steep stairs to the third floor. This is impossible for some people and it is also an inconvenience to the general public.

The Elections office personnel do their best to arrange for meeting disabled people on the first floor of the Court House. In addition the Saturday registrations during September will also be held on the first floor. Still people must climb the outside steps of the Court House to gain access to registration books.

Voting is a right and a duty of citizenship. The office where citizens register to vote should be conveniently located so that all our citizens can easily get to it. The office should be in a ground floor location, or adequate elevator service should be available for reaching it if the office is to be above the ground floor. This is something that the Pitt County commissioners should attend to without delay.

Tobacco Loan Stocks Show Program Works

Tobacco is much maligned these days, but it has to be encouraging that Flue Cured Tobacco Cooperative Stabilization Corp. has sold 266 million pounds of its government loan stocks since Jan. 1.

Stocks Stabilization now holds total 391 million pounds, lowest since 1961.

The tobacco price support program has worked over the years, and this year's figures show that it is working at its best.

Arab Govm'ts Look To U.S.

By ROWLAND EVANS and ROBERT NOVAK

WASHINGTON — Secret negotiations looking toward a partial resumption of diplomatic relations between Syria and the U.S., broken since the 1967 Arab-Israeli war, are the latest sign that the Soviet ouster from Egypt is causing a profound political upheaval in the Arab world that could lead to a Mideast settlement.

What the Syrians want in Washington is some form of diplomatic representation, under cover of a third country, such as the U.S. now has in Cairo through the Spanish embassy.

Confidential talks have been going on for some time and no imminent arrangement is expected. But the mere fact that the Syrian regime, one of the area's most virulently anti-American governments, wants a diplomatic outpost in Washington is the most spectacular piece of evidence yet available that the U.S. holds the trump cards in the Middle East today.

Thus the expulsion of the Russians last month is now perceived within the Nixon administration as an unpredictable sea change which has transformed the Middle East from the most dangerous threat of war between the Soviet Union and the U.S. to a potentially stable area in which Moscow's huge investment verges on bankruptcy.

In recent weeks, the Nixon administration had reopened formal diplomatic relations with Yemen and Sudan (where a Communist coup plotted by Moscow failed last year). Iraq has agreed to accept an American diplomat — officially assigned as an attaché in the Belgian Embassy — in Baghdad this month.

Moreover, the rancid aftermath of President Sadat's ouster of Soviet military technicians, missile experts and pilots shows not the slightest sign of abatement. To the contrary, Cairo and Moscow now wage a long-distance warfare via government-controlled press that becomes more vitriolic every day.

Sadat has not fulfilled the pledge in his July 18 speech (when he first signalled the ouster of more than 12,000 Soviet troops from Egypt) that he and the Russians would arrange a high-level meeting soon "for consultation regarding the upcoming stage" of relations between them. No such conference has been arranged. Since July 18, in fact, the only serious conversations at all between the two treaty-bound allies has been to arrange speedy departure of Soviet troops.

Although the full explanation of Sadat's shocking switch on Moscow is still debated, most officials here now accept this as the primary reason: Sadat's conviction that Moscow would never risk confrontation with the U.S. to expel Israel from the Sinai peninsula, seized in the 1967 war.

Sadat's Arab friends — notably the Syrians and Iraqis — are also making friendly passes at Washington instead of accusing Egypt of a sellout — thus closing the Arab circle on the Soviet Union. Egypt, anti-Soviet, pro-American posture which is changing the face of the Middle East.

This political sea change has taken place despite President Nixon's decision early this year to give Israel just about all the military equipment it wants, from a steady flow of Phantom jets (now guaranteed through 1973) to the most advanced U.S. electronic gear.

Sadat is not about to come kowtowing to Washington. His approach is circuitous and devious, starting with an expected appeal for the United Nations to underwrite

Strength For Today

EAST AND WEST
So great is God's forgiveness, we are told in the Psalms, that "as far as the east from the west, so far does He remove our transgressions from us."

There could hardly be a better image for the relationship of human nature and sin than east and west. East and west are as far apart as the poles — or as near as the two sides of a sheet of paper.

East and west are a matter of direction — and so is sin. The minute a man turns his back on sin — faces east instead of west, so to speak — his sins are behind him. It just takes just one step — facing in the right direction — to be on the road to goodness. But a man who is going east may at any time start going west simply by facing the other way. So it is with human nature and sin. At his most secure moments the virtuous man is never more than a step from sin.

We stand always on the narrow line between east and west, between sin and goodness. No matter how long we have resolutely faced east, we are always liable to forget ourselves and turn toward the west. It is a sobering thought. But God's goodness is such that when we have turned the wrong way we may always turn back again — and our transgression will be removed from us "as far as the east is from the west."

Christianity and Judaism both stand gallantly for a second chance for everyone.

Big Steak Expo Of '74

FLUSHING, N.Y. — "Ladies and gentlemen. We are standing here on the floor of Joe's Meat Market on Main Street, where the 1974 Prime Steak Exposition is being held. With me is Joe Barnside, proprietor of Joe's Meat Market and considered one of the greatest authorities on beef in New York.

"Mr. Barnside, it says here in the program that there is at least $10 million worth of steak being displayed here at the exposition."

"That's correct, Charley. We have 30 Brink's men guarding all the glass cases where our meat is on exhibit, and Lloyd's of London, which is insuring the exposition, has sent over its own people to protect the show."

"How many steaks are you displaying?"

"There are 100 pieces in all. But each one is a rare item that cannot be duplicated anywhere in the world. Over here, for example, is a choice New York strip weighing two pounds."

"How much is that worth if someone wanted to buy it?"

"That steak would go for $100,000 at today's prices. But if someone were to purchase it and freeze it, I'm certain it would double in value in another year."

"What makes steaks so expensive, Mr. Barnside?"

"Well it's like with diamonds — supply and demand. The more people who want steak the higher the price. Many people used to buy it to eat. Now they buy it for an investment."

"You mean there are collectors of steaks?"

"I should say so. The Mellon Collection of Beef is estimated to be worth $50 million. At a recent auction at Safeway a small rib eye steak from an unknown steer was sold to Henry Ford for $350,000."

"This is a magnificent piece in this case."

"That's the famous L.B.J. Porterhouse. It weighs five pounds and comes from Texas. I'm asking $800,000 for it."

"I imagine it's hard to find a buyer at those prices."

"Are you kidding? I could have sold it last week, but I wanted to keep it for the exposition. I know three people who would take it now, sight unseen, fat and all."

"I see quite a crowd around that glass case over there."

"That's where we're showing a priceless pair of T-bone steaks. There are only entire world — they are in Argentina's national museum. J. Pau Getty has offered us $1 million for them, but Aristotle Onassis has asked us not to sell them until he can get here and put in a bid."

"It gives one goose pimples just to think of it. Mr. Barnside, don't you get nervous knowing you're responsible for all this?"

"To me, it's just meat. I've been handling it all my life."

"Let me ask you this. Why

Other Editors Say States Must Act

(Rocky Mount Telegram)

The private sector — the area in which private citizens are allowed to conduct their affairs with a minimum of government interference — is shrinking.

Many of the powers of the states have been submerged in federal social programs.

The fight to save some semblance of the principle of local initiative is real and grim.

The only way this fight can be won is to do a job well at the state or local level that no leverage remains for federal action.

Currently, intensified efforts are underway to standardize and improve state workmen's compensation systems.

Various authorities, together with segments of the insurance industry, are working for national minimum guidelines for workmen's compensation coverages and benefits that will assist the individual states in improving their laws.

As one insurance authority said some time ago, "We believe that the involvement of the federal government can be positive to the extent that it stimulates the states to bring about needed improvements in workmen's compensation laws."

"At the same time, the heavy hand of a federal bureaucracy could easily stymie the effectiveness with which many of the state systems are operating. The ideal would be to apply just enough federal influence to bring about state action, without getting the federal government excessively involved in systems that require a delicate balancing of equities, incentives and administrative controls."

Workmen's compensation is an area in which many states have in actual operation some of the best social insurance systems ever devised.

They provide strong incentives for safety, incentives for seeing that the injured get quality medical care, incentives for rehabilitation and for re-employment of the handicapped.

No other social insurance program is so compatible with the competitive private enterprise system as workmen's compensation.

Every state should endeavor to make state compensation laws conform to standards that will assure the preservation of local control of a vital, social service — reparations for the industrially disabled.

Always Liked Work

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — At 14 the childhood dream of Frank Yablans was to be a champion chicken flicker.

"In the Kosher poultry industry, you flick the feathers off chickens," he explained. "In the other kind you pluck them."

Frank never stayed in the poultry game long enough to win fame as a chicken flicker. But now at 37, as president of Paramount Pictures, he is the youngest head of a major Hollywood studio.

HAL BOYLE

Yablans, a relaxed executive, is a product of the lower East Side here and came up the hard way.

He got up at 5 a.m. at the age of 12 to deliver newspapers from a small wagon.

"I'd always liked working," he said. "I never held a job I didn't come out of with a lot more experience. I got a lot out of everything I ever did. It fed my curiosity."

After a stint at the University of Wisconsin, where he studied business administration, and a two-year hitch in the Army, Yablans walked off the street into the office of Warner Bros. here and talked himself into a job as a management trainee at $32 a week.

Frank proved to be a genius at film distribution and just 15 years later was named head of Paramount at an annual income in six figures. Today he is convinced that a man's attitude toward his job is a key factor in his success.

"The biggest problem I had working as a young man," he said, "was that I always felt there was a way to do things better—and always met with a management reluctance to let me try it."

"Attitude is all-important in business. With the right attitude anything is possible. I'd rather hire a man with the right attitude than one with a spectacular I.Q."

Paramount Pictures reached its No. 1 role in the industry by producing back-to-back two of the most profitable and popular films of all time—"Love Story," and "The Godfather."

What is the big problem Yablans feels he faces now?

"Well, I guess it might be to come up with another picture that successful," he said smiling. "It would be nice to have three in a row."

Yablans doesn't dismiss, but

The price situation reflected a distinct gain over last year as the Greenville tobacco market swung open for the 1932-33 season today. Although official figures were not available, conservative estimates placed the average at between 10 to 11 cents a pound as compared with $6.90 a hundred pounds on the opening day last year. It was estimated that there was about 800,000 pounds of leaf on the floors of the various warehouses and that the five sales running simultaneously would not be completed before mid-afternoon.

Schlitz, the nation's second biggest brewer, demonstrates the weight of plant expansion. Beginning with a lone Milwaukee brewery in the 1940s, Schlitz has opened breweries in New York, California, Kansas City, Florida, Honolulu, Texas, North Carolina and Tennessee.

Busch, with breweries in St. Louis and eight other cities, leads national production, tapping 24.3 million of the United States' 126.4 million barrels in 1971.

Five Collisions Here Yesterday

Five collisions here yesterday resulted in two persons being injured and caused damage estimated by investigators at more than $5,100.

Police reported a passenger in a car driven by Russell Velpoe Killete, 46, of Route 1, Warsaw, and Henry Turner Barrow, 65, of 1706 Myrtle Ave., the driver of a second car, were injured when the autos collided about 11:45 a.m. at the intersection of Memorial and South Village Drives.

Damage was estimated at $800 to the Killete auto and $400 to the Barrow car by officers who charged Barrow with failing to see his intended movement could be made in safety.

Vehicles driven by George Alfred Williams, 21, of Skyland; Samuel Riley Rule, 47, of Mt. Airy and William Eugene Hill, 47, of 200 Glenwood Dr. were reported involved in a 3 p.m. collision at the intersection of Dickinson Avenue and Memorial Drive. Police charged Hill with failing to reduce his speed enough to avoid an accident and estimated damage at $150 to the Williams car, $1,200 to the Rule auto and $3 to the Hill vehicle.

Joe Louis Daniel, 31, of 1209A Myrtle Ave. was charged with failing to see his intended movement could be made in safety following investigation of a 5:10 p.m. wreck at the intersection of Memorial Drive and Farmville Boulevard.

Investigators reported the Daniel auto collided with a car driven by Joseph Daniel Joyner, 26, of Greenville, causing an estimated $900 damage to the Joyner auto and $700 damage to the Daniel car.

Frederick Allen Ellis, 16, of Grimesland and Charles Wayne Kesler, 20, of Salisbury were identified as drivers involved in a 2:30 p.m. mishap on Tenth Street east of the Wright Road intersection.

Officers reported Ellis was charged with improper passing and estimated damage from the collision at $300 to the Ellis car and $100 to the Kesler vehicle. Richard Wayne Legan, 19, of Raleigh was charged with failing to reduce his speed enough to avoid an accident following a mishap at 4:08 p.m. on Elm Street about 50 feet North of the Brookgreen Road intersection.

Investigators reported the Leagan auto collided with a school bus driven by Kelvin Troy Williams, 16, of 1413A West Fifth St.

Damage to the Leagan car was placed at $300 while no damage was reported to the bus.

"We are in hopes the people are going to come back to the buses. I think that in the future with so many automobiles in the streets there is going to be a greater need than ever for mass transit system."

When asked a similar question, Duke Power Company replied with a statement noting that "transit operations across the nation are finding it increasingly difficult for revenues to equal operating expenses."

"At this time, Duke sees no reversal of this trend in cities the size we serve," it added. "Notwithstanding this, our philosophy on transit operations will continue to be to give the best service we can, consistent with the use of public makes of this service."

Bradshaw was asked what the city of Raleigh would do if the Raleigh City Coach Co. went broke.

"I don't really know that I have an answer," he said. "We may find ourselves in the transit business."

The real test will come next year, when Sadat will quietly appeal to the U.S. for help on grounds that Cairo has expunged Soviet influence and is ready for U.S. mediation with Israel. A settlement under U.S. mediation, therefore, looks more helpful than at any time since the 1967 war — but only if Israel, now riding so high in the Mideast saddle, also agrees to negotiate.

Cerebral Palsy Fund Campaign Set This Weekend

United Cerebral Palsy's Pitt County chairman Mrs. Jane D. Davis, teacher of D. H. Conley High School, announced today that Saturday and Sunday, the time set for hundreds of household and business in this county's 1972 campaign. "We have a real need if we are to continue to provide all the services that victims of cerebral palsy in our community must have," Mrs. Davis reported.

Treatment of cerebral palsy is complex because the condition, caused by brain damage occurring usually at birth, produces a multiplicity of handicaps. These range from an inability to use the muscles to handicaps in speech, vision, hearing and intelligence. "Funds raised in this area support a growing program of services, including medical diagnosis and supervision, treatment, education and recreation, which make a more meaningful and productive life possible for these youngsters," Mrs. Davis said.

The UCP campaign leader said that a portion of the funds needed are for a stepped-up research program to find cerebral palsy's causes and to develop means of preventing the condition.

She pointed out that United Cerebral Palsy Associations has already invested $10,000,000 in research and in the training of scientists and other professionals. The campaign committee, in addition to Mrs. Davis, includes treasurer, Bill Ross; publicity chairman, Tommy Payne; Greenville residential chairman, Mrs. Lois Hecker; commerce and industry chairman, Mrs. Jeanette Cox; special events chairman, Mrs. Beulah Mebane; honorary chairman, Dr. John Fletcher; Jay-cettes chairman, Mrs. Nancy Higdon; town chairmen as follows: Ayden, Billy Nobles; Bethel, Mrs. Frances Young; Falkland, Jamie Norville; Farmville, Miss Sarita Hardy, Grifton, Dwight Myers; Grimesland, M.W. Rountree; Stokes-Pactolus, Miss Ann Edwards, Simpson, Mrs. Frances Edwards; and Winterville, Mrs. Billie Elam.

Scott Points To Emergency Care

HILTON HEAD ISLAND, S.C. (AP)—Governor Bob Scott of North Carolina says his state is moving to provide a program of emergency transportation and care of persons injured in traffic accidents. "It is our goal to provide for the citizens of our state an emergency service that will help save every life that modern technology and immediate access to medical help can save," Scott said.

Scott made the comments in a talk prepared for the Southern Governors' Conference. "We began early this year a study upon which we hope to base a program of action geared to the specific transportation and medical care needs of people injured in traffic accidents in North Carolina," Scott said.

The study is to be completed this fall," he added. "It will provide guidance to the 1970 General Assembly in its consideration of a statewide plan for emergency care."

Scott praised the work of rescue squads and noted North Carolina has at least one squad in every county except about four. The Tar Heel governor said many communities that do not have rescue squads have been unable to satisfactorily provide for emergency transportation of traffic accident victims.

"The Governor's Highway Safety Program," Scott said, "has negotiated over the past four years with 40 political subdivisions to provide for acquisition of needed ambulance vehicles and communications equipment. These projects have helped upgrade emergency service capabilities."

Scott said additionally that medical training has been made available to ambulance attendants in all 100 counties on a continuing basis.

All Of Housing Project Units Reported Rented

The tenant occupancy report, which revealed that all units in the four projects operated by the Housing Authority were rented as of the first of the month, was one of several routine matters on the Authority's agenda Tuesday night.

The report, submitted by the director of tenant affairs, Mrs. Sallye C. Streeter, indicated that the 65 units available in N. C. 22-1 (Meadowbrook) were rented and residents paid an average of $32.88 in rent.

Also, the 160 units in N. C. 22-2 (Kearney Park) were occupied,

Mrs. Streeter reported, and residents living in that area averaged some $33.45 in rent for the month of August.

All 188 units in N. C. 22-3 (Moyewood) were occupied and rent there averaged $36.06 while the 40 units in N. C. 22-4 (Moyewood) were rented and residents living in the area paid an average of $29.85 in rent.

Executive director Joe Laney told commissioners that Charles Bunting, a noise expert from the Greensboro area office of Housing and Urban Development, visited Greenville Aug. 17 to inspect the Newtown Project area in respect to possible railroad and street traffic noise near projected housing units.

Laney said that Bunting indicated that he saw no problem with excessive noise in the area and as long as housing units are located at least 100 feet from the railroad, noise should not be a factor. Commission architect Cameron Dudley, the director added, said that the 100-foot requirement would necessitate only one change in placement on unit drawings and that would be a small change.

Laney reported also on the visit of Congressman Walter Jones to the Authority and Redevelopment Commission on Aug. 28 for a progress report on local project status.

In other matters, commissioners gave their approval to annual contributions contracts for N. C. 22-1, 2, 3, 4 and 5 and approved a Declaration of Trust for N.C. 22-6 (Newtown) which certifies that the Authority has ownership of property in the project area.

Commissioners also approved the inclusion of death benefit provisions in the Authority's retirement system and an addition to the hospital insurance package available to employees. The changes, assistant director J. C. Lamm noted, makes the commission more comparable to the city and other agencies.

Record Price At Farmville

FARMVILLE — The highest average ever recorded on the Farmville tobacco market was obtained Tuesday when the market sold 486,673 pounds of tobacco for an average per hundred pounds of $89.76.

According to Louis Williams, sales supervisor, the volume of sales continued heavy yesterday and offerings consisted of more quality leaf than any previous day this year.

The volume of leaf grades continued to increase as primings and lugs decreased. The volume of nondescript grades was the lowest of the season.

Stabilization receipts for the 16 selling days so far this season is zero.

To date, the Farmville market has sold 6,105,444 pounds of tobacco for $5,353,133, giving an average per hundred pounds of $87.68 for the season.

CHARGES DROPPED
HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — The government yesterday dropped charges against the Rev. Philip Berrigan and seven others in an alleged plot to kidnap presidential adviser Henry A. Kissinger.

Second Creative Writing Course Begins Thursday

Greenville's second creative writing course sponsored by the Recreation Department begins on Thursday.

Classes are being held in three hour sessions for eight consecutive weeks on succeeding Thursdays. Interested writing students will have a choice of morning or evening classes. Morning classes begin at 9:00 a.m. and continue until noon; evening classes run from 7:00 to 10:00 p.m.

A fee of $10.00 per person is being charged for the 24 hour course. Enrollment is being accepted by phone (752-2355), at the Elm Street Recreation Office prior to class time, or at the class site (upper level of Elm Street Gym for morning classes, Elm Street Center for evening classes).

Mrs. Betty Casey is instructor for both the morning and evening classes.

Lessons In Exotic Dance 'A Bargain'

By CARL C. CRAFT
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — A few shakes and a fast shimmy down the street from the White House, Turkish Princess Ayse and the former Fifi LaFemmie are teaching Washington, city of movers and shakers, how to wiggle for fun and profit.

In a cosmopolitan capital of the Western world, a model from Las Vegas is running a belly dance school.

"Cosmopolitan?—I don't feel Washington is cosmopolitan at all, it's terribly hokey. I'm sorry. Like clothes I buy my clothes in Vegas," says Lynn Van DeWalle, mother of eight, who has opened a school for "exotic dance" two blocks from the President's mansion.

Why belly dance? "Well, for one thing," she says, "it can improve your sex life." She explained fully, but an interviewer's notes were illegible at this point.

Who belly dances? "Well, students are doing it to have more fun at parties, housewives are doing it to shed unwanted pounds, girls are doing it to improve their figures, and some men are doing it to get rid of their spare tires," adds Mrs. Van DeWalle.

Eight lessons in "exotic dance," at a fee of $100 per person, "a bargain, an investment," she says, include 24 hours spent shaking along with the princess from Turkey or with the former Fifi from the Folies Bergere and elsewhere.

The former Fifi, a mixture of Cuban and French, is known these days as Lalin, "King Farouk's favorite dancer." She is especially endowed by nature and by a stack of scrapbooks attesting to travels through everyone's favorite dancing capitals wherever they may be.

"I've worked all over," she says, "and beautiful people like exotic dancers—it builds your body, gives you grace, gets you exercised, and keeps you from getting bored."

Two afternoons and two evenings each week, the pupils, no more than 15 to a class, go through their belly dancing practice on the second floor of a downtown office building.

Belly dancing composes part of the diverse educational activities called "Earpower," operated by Mrs. Van DeWalle and Fred Hansen of New York City, in a building which once housed a more traditional dancing studio. They said they signed up 60 paying customers in the first three weeks "exotic dancing" was available.

Hansen says of belly dancing: "Every woman should be able to know how to do it. We've even had husbands enroll their wives."

See Disposable Income Growth

NEW YORK (UPI)—Real disposable income per household will rise to $11,200 in 1982 from $8,500 in 1971, says General Electric's review of economic forecasts.

Living standards will rise "even faster due to the expansion of government services directed towards consumers' need," said GE.

Plastic Gasoline Tanks Indicated

NEW YORK (UPI) — The plastic gasoline tank, which has made some headway in boats, should start taking over in a year, says Modern Plastic magazine.

The tank can be made of fiberglass or high density polyethylene with the latter preferred. The magazine reports that under tests, plastic tanks have shown longer life and less risk of explosion.

Obituaries

Braxton

Mrs. Fannie Atkinson Braxton died Saturday morning in Pitt Memorial Hospital.

Funeral services will be conducted Friday at 4:30 p.m. at the Sycamore Hill Baptist Church by her pastor, the Rev. B. B. Felder. Burial will be in Brown Hill Cemetery.

Born in Pitt County, she spent all her life in this area and was a member of Loving Union Tent No. 464, the Court of Calanthe, and the Household of Ruth. Surviving her are three daughters, Mrs. Ernestine Harris of Greenville, Mrs. Daisy Franklin of Norfolk, Va., and Miss Edna Braxton of the home; a foster son, Willie Merritt of Oriental; five grandchildren; and two great grandchildren.

Family visitation will be Thursday from 8 to 9 p.m. at Phillips Brothers Mortuary.

Flake

Mrs. Mary Jane (Mamie) Flake, 77, widow of Noah A. Flake, died in Guardian Care Nursing Home in New Bern Tuesday afternoon.

Funeral services will be conducted at 3:30 Thursday afternoon at the Wilkerson Funeral Chapel by the Rev. David Paramore, pastor of the Bethel Free Will Baptist Church of Kinston, and the associate pastor, the Rev. Lloyd Barnett. Burial will be in Pinewood Memorial Park.

Mrs. Flake, a native of Pitt County, had lived in Kinston for the past 17 years and was a member of Piney Grove Free Will Baptist Church near Greenville.

Surviving are a son, James W. Flake of Durham; five daughters, Mrs. George B. Weatherington of Jacksonville, Mrs. G. B. Haddock and Mrs. Clinton R. Toler, both of Washington, Mrs. Jesse Ray Harris of Greenville, and Mrs. Wayne Tucker of Kinston; two brothers: Bill Langley of Jackson, Miss. and Johnny Langley of Greenville; 13 grandchildren; and nine great grandchildren.

The family will be at the home of a daughter, Mrs. Jesse Ray Harris, 2611 Dunn St. in Greenville.

McKenzie

FARMVILLE — Mr. Lester Earl McKenzie died Monday in Kinston.

He was the son of the late Frank and Queenie McKenzie of Farmville. Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

Ruff

Funeral services for Mr. Robert L. Ruff will be conducted Thursday at 2 p.m. at Flanagan and Parker Funeral Home by the Rev. Jesse W. Williams. Burial will be in Oak City.

Mr. Ruff died Sunday in E. G. Williams Hospital in Richmond, Va., where he had lived for the past several years. Son of Mrs. Roxie Williams Ruff of Hassell and the late Oscar Ruff, he was born in Martin County and spent his early life in the Oak City community.

Surviving him besides his mother are four daughters, Miss Barbara Ruff of Norfolk, Va., Mrs. Lavern Evans of Washington, D. C., Mrs. Rosetta Phillips of Roanoke, Va., and Mrs. Darlene Blue of Linden, N. J.; a sister, Mrs. Stanley Collier of Hassell; three brothers, Nathaniel and James Ruff, both of Richmond, Va. and Theodore Ruff of New York; and five grandchildren.

Funeral services for Mr. Jerry Sharpe Jr. of Rt. 4, Greenville will be conducted Thursday at 2 p.m. at the Brown's Chapel Holiness Church by Bishop R. A. Griswold of Hertford. Burial will be in the church cemetery.

Report 64 Fires During August

Pitt County Fire Marshal Bobby Joyner, reporting the tally of fires occurring in the county during August, notes that a total of 69 alarms were received covering 64 fires.

Of this number, a majority were the result of the tobacco harvest season, with a total of 50 barn fires recorded. There were three house fires, and one commercial fire. In addition, three false alarms were received during the month.

There were five instances of mutual aid, where one fire department goes to the aid of another to help in fighting larger fires.

Of the county's 18 fire departments, Ayden Fire Department responded to the largest number of fires, making 13 calls.

Estimated property value lost due to the 64 fires amounted to approximately $111,200. Property valued at $267,000 was involved in exposure to the August fires.

Fares Hiked

WASHINGTON (AP) — As authorized by the Civil Aeronautics Board, U.S. airlines have raised domestic fares by 2.7 per cent.

The hike means transcontinental first-class fares will now average $5 more, about $199. Economy fares will rise $4 to about $159.

The CAB ruled Aug. 11 that airlines needed the increased fares to meet rising costs.

The increases do not apply to international services or on routes to Alaska, Hawaii, Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands, American Samoa or the Trust Territory of the Pacific. Most shuttle fares also remain unchanged.

Nominated To Scouting Board

GREENSBORO (AP) — A Greensboro woman, Mrs. Blair daily, has been nominated for the board of directors of the Girl Scouts of the USA.

She is immediate past president of the Tar Heel Triad Girl Scout Council and will run on a single slate to be voted on at the Girl Scout National Committee's 39th convention in Dallas, Tex., Oct. 22-25.

If elected, she would become chairman of the Region 3 of the National Council.

Rams, Chargers Are Facing Key Tests

Two key games in the Eastern Carolina Conference will be played this Friday night, and the outcome of them could tell a lot about the eventual outcome of the championship.

Greene Central, the pre-season favorite, travels to Spring Hope to meet Southern Nash, one of the two teams figured to give the Rams the biggest battle for the title. Ayden-Grifton, a dark horse in the conference, hosts the other top rival for the title, Southern Wayne.

Other games find Farmville Central traveling to Eastern Wayne, Conley visiting Charles B. Aycock, and North Lenoir at North Pitt.

D. H. Conley and Southern Wayne opened the season last week with the first conference meeting of the year. Southern Wayne came out on top of that one, 27-6, and thereby grabbed the early lead in the loop with a 1-0 conference mark.

Whether that will stand up depends a lot on the Chargers of Ayden-Grifton. And those Chargers have only three days to prepare for the game, having played Monday night when their game was delayed by the weather.

The Chargers beat Weldon in a non-conference affair. "We moved the ball real good," Ayden-Grifton Coach Mike Overton said. "But we stopped ourselves with penalties and fumbles most of the time. It was a mark of our inexperience."

Overton praised the defense for the job they did in the 12-3 victory of the Chargers. "They held in key situations. Twice we gave them the ball in good field position, but we turned it back." He also singled out Willie Stewart for his fine offensive performance, gaining 169 yards.

This week's opponent, Southern Wayne, will be "real tough," Overton said. "They are experienced and if we can beat them we'll be in the thick of things."

Overton said, however, that the Chargers will have to stop the fine running game of the Saints, especially Robert Platt. Greene Central opened its year with a 24-7 victory over

Saratoga Central. "With the weather conditions like they were," Coach Stewart Smith said, "I was pleased. I saw some things that looked wrong, but overall we did fairly well. I thought we did an excellent job passing all things considered."

He felt the defense provided the turning point in the game, stopping Saratoga on an early drive deep in Ram territory.

In Southern Nash, the Rams have a fine opponent. They beat Vaiden-Whitley, 20-0, last week. "They looked good, and they're going to be tough to beat," Smith said. "Their offense is more mobile than last year, and they have a good runner in Dwight Joyner. Their defense is comparable to last year."

Smith feels it's a definitely a key game for the Rams, and the added pressure of being on the road is a problem.

Danny Wilmer of North Pitt brought his team a 6-6 tie with surprisingly strong West Craven over the weekend. "We played well enough to win," Wilmer said, "but we just couldn't pull it out. They are a vastly improved team, and one of the officials said that he was surprised how much both of us have come in the past year."

While the coach was disappointed in not winning, he feels that things are looking up. A practice injury early this week, however, has lost one Panther for four weeks. Marion Barnes, will miss four weeks with a wrist injury.

This week, the Panthers face North Lenoir, which fell 30-14 to South Lenoir, in the Hawks opener. "They are fairly good sized," Wilmer said, "and they came back well late in the game. Their passing game looked good."

He was impressed by the play of quarterback Mack Braxton and the end Bobby Soles. "They'll be fired up for us, I'm sure. I hope we're fired up for them."

Conley's Ken Treadway felt that his charges performed pretty much as expected. "We made a lot of young mistakes," he said. "They ran a lot off-tackle where we have newcomers. Their quarterback did a fine job in running the belly series and it has us quite confused."

The turning point apparently came late in the game after Conley drove to the 20, trailing only 13-6. They failed to score, however, and with 1:20 left in the game, Southern Wayne scored again. They got good position just seconds later when a fourth down play failed and scored again just before the game ended.

"We learned a lot, and got some experience," Treadway said.

This week, against Aycock, Conley has another tough opponent. The Falcons downed North Johnston, 26-0, in their opener. "They're not real big physically, but they're well coached and they have two real good running backs."

For Conley to get by, they'll have to have improved line play, the coach believes. "We've got to come through in the defense line and shut off their fullback, and also contain their passing."

Farmville Central's foe, Eastern Wayne, has had a week off since their early 28-6 loss our big problem — we just don't have much of it."

"We didn't do a whole lot of things right," Coach Gene Brewer said. "Experience was our big problem — we just don't have much of it."

Brewer said that he wasn't that displeased with his defense. Three of the Rose touchdowns came on defensive plays, and the other three were on long runs. Aside from that, Rose got less than 100 yards rushing the rest of the game. "The defense wasn't outstanding, but it did improve in the second half. We made a lot of mistakes and this hurt us."

Offensively, Brewer said, the team didn't block well and that cost the offense.

Of Eastern Wayne, Brewer

said the Warriors have the best quarterback in this part of the state in Robert Price. "He runs well, passes well and can kick too. It's really an all-around player." Brewer also had praise for Price's top receiver, Bobby Body. "We're going to have to pressure Price and contain him if we're to do well."

Lion Offense Might Make Them Contender

(One of a Series)

By LARRY PALADINO
Associated Press Sports Writer
DETROIT (AP) — That old sports philosophy that "the best defense is a good offense" may get a good test from the Detroit Lions in the National Football League this year.

If quarterback Greg Landry can put enough points on the board for the Lions they won't have to worry about their defense, which has gone downhill the past few years. But it could improve enough this season to make Detroit a legitimate contender for the National Conference Central Division title.

Landry is the key. He has blossomed into one of the league's top signal callers, and a top quarterback often able to turn a questionable team into a Super Bowl challenger.

Last season the former University of Massachusetts star rated second in the conference behind league champion quarterback Roger Staubach of Dallas. Landry completed 136 of 261 passes for 2,237 yards and 16 touchdowns. He carried the ball 530 yards for an NFL quarterback rushing record. "Last year we oversold ourselves," the fifth-year pro said after a recent exhibition game. "This year we are more mature."

Detroit, considered title timber for several seasons, got kicked around severely by opponent offenses in 1971 and settled for a 7-6-1 record—second in the division to Minnesota's 11-3 mark.

Head Coach Joe Schmidt used to shudder when Landry ran, advising against it because he might get injured. But when Landry kept getting big first downs or long gains by running, Schmidt decided to make it standard procedure.

"We have certain plays designed for him to run," Schmidt said. "... I don't encourage running out of the pocket, but if he has to be can. He stays in the pocket more than he did his first two years."

If anything should happen to him, Schmidt is fortunate in having a top replacement in Bill Munson.

A deep and outstanding receiving corps complements the passing game. Charlie Sanders may be the best tight end in the NFL, and there are super-fast receivers in Larry Walton, Earl McCullouch and Ron Jesie.

Steve Owens, Detroit's first 1,000-yard rusher, goes after that total for the second straight year and has a fleet running mate in Altie Taylor.

All-Pro center Ed Flanagan, guard Chuck Walton, and tackle Rocky Freitas highlight an outstanding offensive line.

Defensively the question is whether the front four of ends Jim Mitchell and Larry Hand, plus tackles Bob Bell and Joe Schmlesing, can do the job that wasn't done last year.

Heels Are Favorites

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP) — Writers who recently completed a tour of the seven Atlantic Coast Conference football camps have picked North Carolina as the champion in the season starting Saturday.

Several newsmen made part of the trip, but only the 15 who made the full tour and visited all schools voted. Seven points were given for a first place vote, six for second and down to one for last.

North Carolina received 96 of a possible 105 points on 10 votes for first, two for a tie for first, one for a tie for second and two for fourth place.

Clemson was second in the poll with 83 points. The Tigers received one first-place vote and two to tie for the title.

Duke was third with 79 points, including two for first place and one to tie for first.

The voting came before Mark Johnson, sophomore quarterback who was running No. 1 for Duke, suffered a shoulder dislocation in a scrimmage last Saturday.

Maryland was ranked fourth with 51 points, followed by Wake Forest, 42½; North Carolina State, 40; and Virginia, 28½.

Nebraska, Tampa, Alabama And Games Must Go On Brundage Says East Carolina Get Opening Nods As Athletes Mourn Their Fallen

By HERSCHEL NISSENSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Will Nebraska get off on the right foot in its quest for an unprecedented third consecutive national championship?
Is second-ranked Colorado strong enough to overtake the Cornhuskers?
Will Southern California or Arkansas bite the dust in the first match-up of Top Ten teams?
Can Toledo extend its 35-game winning streak, second longest in modern times?
Who'll win out in the American League East?
Oops, wrong sport. The sport we're concerned with is college football, which will start answering some of the first four questions when the 1972 season gets under way this weekend.

We'll try to answer some in advance with the first selections of the year. Last year's regular-season record had enough right answers for a .720 percentage.
Nebraska at UCLA—The Cornhuskers have a 23-game winning streak and an unbeaten string of 32 games and they know that if they want that third national crown UCLA better stand for U-Can't-Lose-Any. Nebraska has dropped both previous meetings with the Bruins, but those games were in 1946 and 1948. This is 1972. Nebraska.
California at Colorado—Hmmm. Did you know that Colorado has never beaten California, losing the only clash in 1968? That should change, too.

Colorado.
Southern California at Arkansas—Southern Cal has never beaten Arkansas, if you must know. Of course, Arkansas has never beaten Southern Cal. In fact, this is their first meeting and it should be quite a start. Arkansas hopes to ride Joe Ferguson's strong right arm to the national championship but the suspicion exists in this corner that John McKay may be building a powerhouse out in ... Southern California.
Toledo at Tampa—Wouldn't it be a scintillating debut for Tampa if the Spartans debuted as a major football school by ending Toledo's three-year winning streak? It would, and it says there they will. Tampa.
Duke at Alabama—Alabama came within one game—that 38-6 loss to Nebraska in the Orange Bowl—of the 1971 national title, but it pretty much of a surprise. Bear Bryant was pointing toward 1972 as the year the Crimson Tide rolled in ... Alabama.
Tennessee at Georgia Tech—The Rambling Wreck put up quite a struggle last season before bowing 10-6 and they'd like to make Bill Fulcher a winner in his first game as Tech's fifth coach in history. This is the first TV game of the season. Keep your eye on ... Tennessee.

Florida State at Pitt—Florida State's pass-happy Gary Huff against Pitt's new Wishbone ground game. Pitt is suspect on defense, which means Huff could have a field day. Florida State.
Houston at Rice—Rice almost caught Houston looking ahead to Arizona State a year ago but the Cougars prevailed 23-21. The same situation exists this time ... with the same result. Houston.
Temple at Syracuse—In its second year as a major football school, Temple could be the surprise team in the East. So, for that matter, could ... Syracuse.

Other games:
South — Clemson over The Citadel, Morehead State over Xavier, North Carolina over Richmond, Maryland over North Carolina State, South Carolina over Virginia, Southern Mississippi over Texas-Arlington, Vanderbilt over Chattanooga, East Carolina over VMI, Wake Forest over Davidson, William & Mary over Furman.
MUNICH (AP) — International Olympic Committee President Avery Brundage declared Wednesday that the Munich Games "must go on."
Brundage said: "We cannot allow a handful of terrorists to destroy this nucleus of international cooperation and goodwill that we have in the Olympic movement."
"The Games must go on."
Brundage made the announcement during an Olympic Stadium memorial service for the 11 Israeli Olympians killed in the Tuesday Arab commando raid.
The Games had been suspended Tuesday afternoon at least until after the memorial service.

They had been due to end Sunday.
By BOB JOHNSON
Associated Press Sports Editor
MUNICH (AP) — "I had a bad day," Duane Bobick understated after being soundly thrashed by Cuban Teofilo Stevenson. It was, more to the point, a bad day for the spirit of these 20th Summer Olympic Games.
Bobick, the heavyweight from Bowls, Minn., who had been pegged by former world heavyweight champion Muhammad Ali as "the latest Great White Hope," was no match for the Cuban buzzsaw he had beaten in last year's Pan-American Games.
In one of the few events conducted Tuesday before competition was suspended because of the Arab guerrilla assault on the Israeli team in the Olympic Village, Stevenson decked Bobick twice and won when the bout was halted in the third round by the East German referee.
By the time Bobick had climbed through the ropes and into the ring, the Arab guerrillas had climbed over a fence and into the Olympic Village and had attacked the Israeli Olympic team, killing two members of the delegation.

It was some 15 hours before that ordeal came to a tragic end. According to West German government officials, all nine Israeli hostages were dead and, in a running gun battle between the Arabs and police, several of the guerrillas were slain along with at least one policeman.
Bobick knew of the guerrilla attack but called it only a slight distraction, and refused to use it as an excuse for his loss, the first time an American heavyweight had been eliminated in Olympic boxing since Percy Price Jr., was beaten in a 1960 Games preliminary.
"Stevenson was in a lot better condition," Bobick said. "He was a better fighter. Last time I faced him, all he had was a jab."
Bobick's left eye had been completely closed and his face reddened and puffed by the tattooing. "I felt a little tense and a little slow," Bobick said after failing to follow in the steps of Joe Frazier and George Foreman, who had won the gold medals in the 1964 and 1968 Games.
It was shortly after Bobick's bout that Avery Brundage, retiring president of the Olympic International Committee, called a temporary suspension to all competition as a result of the guerrilla attack.

It wreaked havoc with the schedule, forcing a one-day postponement in many events, one of them the basketball semifinals. The unbeaten U.S. team's game against Italy and undefeated Russia's contest against Cuba were rescheduled for Thursday night.
In Tuesday's only game, Australia edged West Germany 70-69. The Philippines was given credit for a 2-0 victory when Egypt, returning home in the wake of the Arab attack, forfeited its game.
Early Greco-Roman wrestling matches, conducted before the suspension, were a disaster for the United States, which lost five bouts.

New Meaning To Olympic Flame

By HUBERT MIZELL
Associated Press Sports Writer
MUNICH (AP) — The flame kept burning.
Perched silently above cold, empty Olympic Stadium, it blazed in the name of international sport. Of peace. And brotherhood.
Suddenly, there was added meaning.
Olympians who had marched proudly, faces asmile into the magnificent athletic arena 10 days before were now dead, innocent victims of man's political differences.
The boxscore, this particular one, was ghastly:
—11 Israeli teammates murdered.
—1 Munich policeman slain at his work.
—4 Arab terrorists dead amid their chosen cause.
The flame burned somehow in a new color.
It wasn't the same as the glorious torch which lit the paths of Jesse Owens, Paavo Nurmi and—in latter days—Mark Spitz.

In four years, when an honored Canadian runner jogs triumphantly into an as yet unconstructed Montreal Stadium for the Olympics of 1976, the memories of the terror of Munich will live on.
It will live at the 1980 games. And in 1984, and 1988. As long as the Olympians run, jump and play, victims claimed in this Bavarian wonderland will be remembered.
Germany was trying hard to live down the snub of black hero Owens at the Nazi Olympics of 1936. The ghost of Hitler was to fade in a peaceful cloud. Proud Germans called these the "Gemutlich Games." It means friendly, warm, comfortable.
Then came Tuesday, September fifth.

Brook Valley
Brook Valley Country Club will hold its annual Father-Son Golf Tournament this weekend at the club. Those who would like to take part are urged to sign up in the pro shop.
John Moye had his best back side at the club recently, firing a 35. He was playing with his son, John Jr., and Allan Moye.
Howard Wilson had a 38 on the front side for his best nine of the year.
Scrappy Proctor Jr hit a wedge into the hole on nine for an eagle two.
Ed Dixon had a 78 for his best round.
Farmville
The Farmville Golf and Country Club recently completed its two-day championship tournament, winning with a 142 score. Jim Lancsater finished second, 10 strokes back.
Milton Barnett was the first flight winner with a 155, while Carter Smith was second with 157. In the second flight, Chester Outland Jr. won with a 161, followed by Joby Griffin with 166. Ivey Smith was the third flight winner with 174, while Jimmy Pollard was next with 186. Ben Hardison was the fourth flight champ, firing a 181 to beat Jay Brumbelee, who had a 186. P. K. Ewell had a 190 to win the fifth flight, while Sam Tyson had a 198 to finish second.
Sidney Davis of the Farmville club was second in the 12 and under flight in the Happy Valley Junior Tournament in Wilson.
The club will hold a member-guest tournament this weekend. All interested members are urged to sign up in the proshop.
Greenville
The Greenville Golf and Country Club will play host to the Pitt County Ladies Invitational Golf Tournament on Friday. Pro Gordon Fulp said he expects a large field to participate, and urges all local members to call the pro shop if they plan to play.
This coming Sunday, the club will hold a Captain's Choice tournament which will get underway at 12:30 p.m. Again Fulp asks that all those wishing to play call the pro shop.

PREVENT WASTE.

Electrically speaking, it's good for your budget.
Because while the electricity you're using today is one of the best buys around, the electricity you waste is expensive. The television set that's on while you're out of the room, for example. Or the thermostat that's set too high in the winter.
To help you avoid wasting electricity — and get the most for your electric dollar — Vepco would like to give you a copy of a new free booklet, "How to Save on Your Electric Bill." You can pick up a copy at any Vepco office, and it's filled with easy, sensible money-saving ideas anyone can use.

Some of the suggestions are as simple as remembering to close the refrigerator door, or cleaning the lint filter on your electric dryer.
But some of the ideas aren't quite so obvious. Like repairing that leaky hot water faucet: one drop a second adds up to almost 200 gallons a month — and that's a lot of hot water (and electricity) down the drain!

And what about turning out the lights when you leave the room? Some people don't, because they think turning a light on and off uses more electricity than leaving it on. They're wrong, as our enlightening little booklet quickly points out.

The booklet includes tips on efficient air conditioning and heating, too, plus freezing and dish washing advice. It even tells you how to boil water! The ideas are all the kind you can use without being an electrical engineer, and they'll all help you get the most for your money — which is always a bargain.

We want you to enjoy the convenience of electricity, but we want you to enjoy the economy, too. So we hope you'll stop by or call your Vepco office for a free copy of "How to Save on Your Electric Bill" today. Because when it comes to economy, there's nothing we'd like more than for you to see the light.

Detroit Moves Into First Place Seaver Comes Up With Another Injury As Cubs Dump Him, Mets

In American's Frantic East Race

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Baltimore Orioles are the team to beat in the American League East. You can tell because everyone keeps beating them.

Tuesday night it was the New York Yankees' turn with a 7-6 victory that saddled the Orioles with their fourth defeat in five games and dropped them from a first-place tie down to fourth, which is the equivalent of a disaster area for the three-time AL champs.

Detroit took over sole possession of the top spot with a 4-2 triumph over Cleveland. The Tigers are one-half game and three percentage points ahead of the Boston Red Sox, who rallied to beat Milwaukee 5-3. The Yankees, also one-half game out, trail Boston by one point while Baltimore is one full game and seven points behind the Tigers.

Elsewhere, the Chicago White Sox set up a crucial two-game series against front-running Oakland by beating Minnesota 5-2 while the A's were idle. In the only other game, Kansas City whipped Texas 7-2.

National League scores: Los Angeles 9, Cincinnati 4; Atlanta 5, Houston 3; Chicago 3, New York 0; St. Louis 5, Montreal 3; San Francisco 4, San Diego 3 in 11 innings.

The contenders all play one another over the next few days—Detroit at Baltimore and New York at Boston for three games apiece in the East and Oakland at Chicago for a pair in the West.

The Yankees erupted for five runs against old nemesis Dave McNally in the first inning and were never headed, although the Orioles rallied for three runs in the ninth against Sparky Lyle.

The Yankees got two decisive runs in the fifth on doubles by Felipe Alou and Rich McKinney and an RBI single by winning pitcher Lindy McDaniel. Boog Powell accounted for three Oriole runs with a single and two doubles.

Detroit skipper Billy Martin, undergoing some daily post-game fencing with newsmen, said it was "easier to play in a tight race than to answer some of these questions."

It wasn't easy against Cleveland. The Tigers trailed 2-1 until the fifth, when Mickey Stanley walked, Aurelio Rodriguez doubled and Eddie Brinkman laced a two-run single. Frank Duffy homered for one of six Cleveland hits off Joe Coleman, who promptly said, "I think Baltimore is the team to beat."

The Red Sox also came from behind to beat Milwaukee. They trailed 3-1 against Skip Lockwood until the eighth when Tommy Harper beat out a bunt, Carl Yastrzemski singled and Reggie Smith homered. Ben Oglivie then doubled home an insurance run.

The White Sox broke a skid that saw them lose six of seven by downing the Twins despite Harmon Killebrew's 537th career homer for Minnesota, moving him ahead of Mickey Mantle into fourth place on the all-time list.

Chicago snapped a 2-2 tie with three runs in the seventh, including pinch hitter Tony Muser's tie-breaking double and a triple by Pat Kelly.

Tom Seaver, who has had a sore arm, bad back and muscle pulls in both legs, has come up with a new twist: an injured external rotator.

"I don't think I'll be a cripple for the rest of my life, though," said the New York Mets right-hander after departing midway through Tuesday night's 3-0 loss to the Chicago Cubs.

Seaver hurt himself while throwing a curve ball to Don Kessinger in the fifth inning and a doctor later diagnosed the injury as an "injured external rotator," which is a muscle in his buttock.

"I thought I had a muscle spasm in my left buttock," said New York's No. 1 pitcher. "I thought it was a spasm that would go away, but it didn't."

Despite the pain, Seaver stayed in to pitch to Rick Monday and was hurt further when the Chicago center fielder hit a home run.

"If the muscle is just a pull, then he'll probably miss one or two starts," said a team spokesman. "If it's torn, however, he'll no doubt be out the rest of the season."

In other games around the National League, the Los Angeles Dodgers pounded the Cincinnati Reds 9-4; the Atlanta Braves tripped the Houston Astros 5-3; the St. Louis Cardinals turned back the Montreal Expos 5-3 and the San Diego Padres nipped the San Francisco Giants 4-3 in 11 innings.

American League results: Chicago 5, Minnesota 2; New York 7, Baltimore 6; Boston 5, Milwaukee 3; Kansas City 7, Texas 2 and Detroit 4, Cleveland 2.

Monday was pleasantly surprised when Seaver's pitch came in with less velocity than usual. He spanked it over the left center field wall to break a scoreless tie and sent Rick Reuschel on his way to his seventh victory this year.

Reuschel gave the Mets but three hits and never allowed more than one baserunner in any inning.

Don Sutton, backed by a 14-hit attack that included a two-run homer by Billy Grabarkewitz and a solo job by Frank Robinson, pitched Los Angeles over Cincinnati. Sutton scattered nine hits, one of them a homer by Pete Rose, and struck out 10 Reds en route to his 15th victory in 24 decisions.

Atlanta's Pat Jarvis continued his mastery over Houston, beating the Astros for the 18th time in 22 lifetime decisions. The Braves bombed five Houston pitchers for 16 hits, including a two-run homer by Oscar Brown in the second inning.

Jose Cruz got three hits and brought home the go-ahead run with a bases-loaded walk in the seventh inning to lead St. Louis over Montreal. Cruz, batting only .220 at game time, hammered a triple and two singles and scored a run before drawing the game-winning walk off Mike Marshall.

Tito Fuentes knocked in the game-winning run with a single in the 11th inning to pull San Francisco over San Diego.

PAST PITT DEMOCRATIC CHAIRMAN HONORED — The past Pitt County Democratic Executive Committee, High Winslow, left, was honored last night at the committee's planning session. Refuse Extra Leaf-Selling Time Plea

RALEIGH (AP) — Pleas for additional sales opportunity for several flue-cured tobacco belts

Will Ask Review Of Trial Order

CHARLOTTE (AP) — The Mecklenburg County solicitor Mecklenburg County solicitor says he will ask the state Supreme Court to review an order granting a new trial to Howard Mack Miller, accused of slaying a county policeman.

Solicitor Thomas F. Moore said Tuesday he wants the court to decide the constitutional issues in the Miller case before Miller is retried for the Oct. 17, 1970 killing of patrolman Ronnie McGraw.

The state Court of Appeals ruled last week that policemen illegally entered, searched and seized evidence in the gambling house where McGraw was tally wounded.

were rejected Tuesday night by the industrywide Flue-Cured Tobacco Marketing Committee. The committee said that schedules previously approved will be followed through next week. The committee will meet here again Sept. 14 to make changes in sales allocations reflecting changes in crop estimates by belts. These estimates will be released Sept. 12.

Before acting Tuesday night, the committee heard pleas for more selling time from spokesman for the South Carolina and Border Belt, the North Carolina Eastern Belt, the Virginia-North Carolina Old Belt and the North Carolina Middle Belt.

The pleas were rejected because at least three major buying firms had indicated they might find their processing facilities overloaded if major increases in selling time were granted to any belts.

Some grower members of the committee said they could not vote for any increases in sales allocations if there was any chance of reduced competition and lower market prices.

Priority Given City's Problems

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Mayor Frank Rizzo says he will shun the campaign trail and remain in the city to wrestle with its problems rather than travel to support President Nixon's reelection.

"I'd like to go all over the country and speak out," said Rizzo, a Democrat. "But my time is limited. Timbuktoo or Harrisburg. It's the same thing. My presence is needed here."

Although not stumping for Nixon, Rizzo said Tuesday that he will use his influence locally in support of the President.

"I'm doing plenty," he said. "Philadelphia's an important city."

Spokesman from the North Carolina Border area said their farmers were "hurting badly" and needed additional sales time. They said after this week, the belt's remaining sales opportunity will amount to only 10 million pounds while an estimated 20 to 21 million pounds remains to be sold of the belt.

An Eastern Belt spokesman asserted that much of the selling time allocated to the border area had actually been used to sell tobacco from other belts.

Seventh District congressional candidate Charles Rose of Fayetteville told the committee that Border area warehousemen "deserve to sell every pound" of tobacco they can attract. He said the formula under which the committee has allocated sales opportunity was "discriminatory, in restraint of trade, and in violation of the Sherman Act—and I predict the courts will strike it down."

Spokesmen for the Eastern, Middle and Old Belts asked that four million pounds weekly of the late-season sales quota for those areas be shifted to the September schedule.

Each request was rejected. "The crop can't all be sold in two or three weeks—there's just no way," said Frank Bryant of Booneville, committee chairman. "Marketing has got to be spread over about 14 weeks."

Trader Has Just Taken New Guise

By ANDY LIPPMAN
Associated Press Writer
SACATON, Ariz. (AP) — The frontier Indian trader hasn't vanished, he's just changed with the times.

At least that's the case of Jerry Collings, an aggressive, young man who is a far cry from his whiskey-trading counterparts of a century ago.

Collings, like any other trader, buys his wares wholesale from Arizona Indians and sells them to tourists who visit his elaborate shop on the central Arizona Gila Indian Reservation.

"Those first few months, someone would bring in a pot and I'd give them $20 for it," Collings says. "Then, I'd mark the pot up to $30 and everyone would say that I cheated the artist."

"They don't understand the idea of wholesale and retail," he adds. "To them, if you buy something for a certain price, then you should turn around and sell it for the same price."

Collings travels by car—not pack mule—to the Indians and works out of a $650,000 federally subsidized arts and crafts center of which he is the director.

Collings, 29, first became interested in Indians while a child in Parker, Ariz., a small community along the Colorado River.

"Maybe it was because I was an only child and I felt the closeness that exists in Indian homes," he says.

Later, after graduating from college, he returned to Arizona and that's when he met an old woman weaver who touched off his career as a trader.

"This old woman said she wouldn't weave, but I said I would help her if she promised to start working again."

"So I went out and collected a bunch of willow twigs and came back and said, 'Here are your materials, now get to work.' Well, she found fault with every twig."

"It was then I really discovered how hard it was to make baskets. I knew it took time, but only then did I realize that weaving was the culmination of over 1,000 years of experimentation."

Collings continued his close association with Indians, and, two years ago, was asked to run the federally subsidized craft shop here.

"It started out with the idea of just having local crafts," Collings says, "but we soon found that idea too limiting. So now, I believe we're the only Indian-controlled store which sells crafts from Indian artists and craftsmen in Arizona, New Mexico and California."

Despite this, Collings is having some problems.

"Easterners come out here and they think they can get goods cheaper by going straight to the reservation," he says.

"They offer those people $30 for a pot that I had previously bought for $15 and the next time I come around, the artist says he is charging me $30 too. Lately, it's been a never-ending spiral upwards."

In order to compete, Collings says he must travel 5,000 miles a month and spend one full week a month on the road.

HouseflyCurbed By Sanitation

STORRS, Conn. (UPI)—Practice good sanitation as one means of curbing the housefly population.

The University of Connecticut Extension Service recommends: Use garbage and refuse containers that have solid bottom and tight lids. Dispose of garbage and refuse at least once a week and more often in the warm months. Dispose of the droppings of pets and don't permit excessive amounts of pet food outside the house.

TRUCK TAXES
NEW YORK (UPI)—Federal excise taxes on new trucks totaled $639 million in 1970 with an additional $85 million provided by excise taxes on truck parts and accessories.

Invasion Of Asians Will Face Britons

By JOSEPH W. GRIGG
LONDON (UPI)—The advance guard of an expected "invasion" of tens of thousands of Asians from East Africa is likely to descend on Britain this month.

The British government, aided by private organizations, is speeding plans to deal with the influx.

It is likely to mean this country having to take in and find homes, jobs and schools in less than three months for 50,000 or more people whose only real connection with Britain is that they hold British passports.

The Asians have been expelled from their homes in Uganda by President Idi Amin and given a 90-day deadline to get out.

The exact numbers involved still are uncertain.

Amin himself has said there are 80,000 Asians in his country. The British government estimates between 40,000 and 50,000 of them hold British passports, about another 10,000 are citizens of India, Pakistan and Bangladesh and about 23,000 hold Ugandan passports.

No Refugee Camps

But Amin, after first serving expulsion notices on Asians with foreign nationality, now has ordered all Asians out of his country.

Kenya, which also has an estimated 55,000 Asian holders of British passports, now is hinting it may ease them out, too.

So the British government has only a vague idea of the problem facing it, although it does know it will be one of frightening difficulty.

It has given public pledges that any British passport holders expelled from Uganda will be admitted to Britain. It also has ruled out housing them in refugee camps.

"These people cannot be treated like cattle," said Geoffrey Rippon, a British cabinet minister who recently was sent to East Africa to study the problem on the spot.

Prime Minister Edward Heath promised them "humane, responsible and fair treatment."

He has said they will be given some freedom of choice where they can settle and should be allowed to bring their savings with them.

But it is far from certain Amin will let them take money out of Uganda.

'Invasion Of Poor'

So the British government may, despite its hopes, find itself facing an invasion of tens of thousands of people who are virtually destitute and who have no homes to go to.

The government is getting up a board to handle resettlement of the Asians when they arrive. It has been promised help by a committee representing 40 voluntary organizations.

The private organizations say they are ready to station at all ports and airports representatives who speak both English and the languages of the Asians to help and advise them on their arrival.

Although the government has promised not to pressure the Asians about where they will settle, officials say it will try to persuade them to go to places which do not already have large black or Asian immigrant populations.

"The whole purpose is to spread them out as evenly as possible over the whole country," said a Home Office spokesman.

The government already is running into protests from industrial cities which have big black or Asian immigrant populations. Some say it would place an impossible burden on housing and schools if thousands more Asians suddenly were dumped on them.

Big Investment In Insecticides

NEW YORK (UPI)—U.S. manufacturers turn out about $350 million worth of chemical insecticides a year to help farmers produce the largest possible yields of food and fibre per acre, reports Arthur D. Little, Inc.

The research company says headway also is being made in developing biological, or natural, methods for eliminating insect pests.

MORE 5-DAY WEEKS

TOKYO (UPI)—The Fuji Bank, Ltd., reports the five-day work week now applies to 24 per cent of all Japanese workers, an increase of 6.1 per cent in the past year.

The Worry Clinic

Horse Sense Is Still In Demand

Hugo resents the attempt of many newscasters and manufacturers to ridicule "horse sense." He insists a lot of old-fashioned ideas and methods far surpass the jackass variety. Note his example of the pig fiasco!

By GEORGE W. CRANE

Ph.D., M.D.

is a Minnesota farmer.

"Dr. Crane," he began, "why do people get the stupid idea that anything old-fashioned must be inferior?"

"Nowadays many writers and politicians act as if thrift and honesty and elbow grease are out of style."

"Even our government at Washington talks about 'borrowing us out of debt.'"

"It's high time we showed up these modern nitwits as lacking in horse sense."

"I'm a pig farmer and have found that even some of our Agricultural Colleges must go back to old-fashioned ideas."

"For example, in recent years we pig farmers were urged to invest in overhead heaters during the winter to protect our hogs."

"With such overhead heaters and bare cement floors, we were told our pigs would do better."

"But now they admit that such hogs have far more lung congestion, sore legs and other ailments, so 20 per cent of them die."

"But by using our old-fashioned method of bedding pigs on oat straw on top of cement floors, even without any overhead heaters, they are healthier and gain weight."

"And this is in spite of winter temperatures that go down to 26 degrees below zero!"

"So the addition of those fancy overhead heaters not only cost us farmers more to install them but then more pigs died."

Science Boomerangs Sometimes new scientific methods boomerang and cause more harm than good.

Our human food, for example, has been tampered with by the addition of chemicals to keep bread soft for a week.

Also, it has been urged that additional vitamins and minerals be added to our menu items.

In fact, the government urged bakers to increase the amount of iron in ordinary bread.

Then some of our medical experts protested that this is dangerous for it would be possible to ingest too much iron.

Female sex hormones have also been added to farm animals, including chickens.

So some astute medical researchers are wondering if they may not be causing a partial chemical castration effect on human males.

All this may be in the debatable state at the moment. But we often find that new drugs which are launched with great enthusiasm, then are proved bad after long periods of investigation.

DDT, for example, which in World War II was reported as one of the greatest boons to mankind, now is being criticized as causing deaths of birds and helpful insects, plus possible some human beings!

It may thus be possible to tamper too much with the Almighty's balance of nature. Scientists seem obsessed with the desire to concoct NEW drugs and NEW foodstuffs.

Maybe it would be wiser to follow the simpler method of letting our bodies have access to the natural watersoluble trace chemicals that used to be in our soil but are often dissolved away by centuries of rainfall.

So send for my medical booklet "The Ocean's 44 Trace Chemicals," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 25 cents and make the 120-day test.

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 25 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

CARROLL RICHTER'S
HOROSCOPE
from the Carroll Richter Institute

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A day to force nothing of any type or description. Quietly, in motion. Benefits will come later. Look at your surroundings and put them in perfect working order.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Listen carefully to any complaints co-workers may have. Strive to bring about more harmony at home. Take health treatments. Evening is best spent at home relaxing.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Working on creative ideas is good but going off on recreational activities that are too expensive is not. Come to a better understanding with mate. Show that you are thoughtful.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Relieve the tense condition at home by handling personal matters in a most thoughtful fashion. Smile more and avoid arguments. Think along more affluent lines. Be wise.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Much care in motion will be a safeguard against trouble tonight. Go over any writings or reports for possible errors. Make your meaning clear. Relax tonight.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) You think if you spend more money you can easily gain your aims, but this is not true now. Don't commit yourself financially or there could be serious repercussions. Be patient.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Take whatever treatments will help you gain more energy now. Not a good day to attend a social affair. Ask for a raincheck and avoid possible

The bidding:

Opening lead: Ten of A

Precise timing was the essential ingredient to South's success in his four spade contract.

South's opening bid of one spade and North's jump raise to three spades were quite routine. Conditions of vulnerability deterred East from entering the auction at an advanced level and when South routinely carried on to game, the bidding subsided.

West opened the ten of clubs and East captured dummy's king with the ace.

When the jack appeared from South, East was reluctant to continue the suit for fear of presenting his opponent with a ruff and discard.

He shifted to the nine of hearts, declarer played the deuce and West signaled encouragingly with the eight.

South paused to assess the situation before he played from dummy. If the spade finesse succeeded, there would be no problem in taking 11 tricks—five spades, five diamonds, and one heart. If East turned up with the guarded king of spades, however, the contract was in jeopardy, for a heart continuation thru the queen could net the defenders two tricks in that suit before South could obtain a discard.

The only chance then was to find East with a doubleton heart. The nine of hearts was permitted to win the trick. When the five was continued, South played the queen, West covered with the king and North put up the ace. A diamond put South in to lead the queen of spades for a finesse. Altho this lost to East's king, the latter was out of hearts and exited with a diamond. When both opponents followed, declarer was safely home. He drew trump with one more pull and then cashed his diamonds, overtaking the fourth round with North's king to lead a fifth diamond and dispose of the six of hearts. South lost one trick each in spades, hearts and clubs.

Observe that if dummy wins the heart shift at trick two with the ace, East can play a second heart when he gets in with the king of spades and give his partner the opportunity to cash two tricks in that suit and defeat the contract.

danger. Take it easy tonight.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Make sure you handle duties that are important before you get into the specifics of a new plan you have in mind. You are able to help a friend who is having a troublesome time.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) If you clear up that work ahead, you can go after a personal aim that means so much to you. Avoid an individual who brings nothing but trouble. Show that you have power.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) If you get into those civic tasks that you can do so well, you will gain much prestige. Be sure to pay an important bill. Don't waste time with loafers. Avoid arguments.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Take care of daily responsibilities before you start on those new ideas that mean so much to you. Later you can give new project your full and undivided attention.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Talk over with kin important financial matters. Mate may be peevish, but be cheerful and all blows over nicely. Avoid a troublemaker in the evening. Be alert.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Give others the benefit of the doubt and have better relations with associates. Try not to argue with others and rest when you feel tired. Evening is fine for watching television.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be one of those young people who loves to solve problems and will even create some in order to show ability at so doing. Give as fine an education as you can, stressing the practical. Give ethical training and spiritual knowledge early. Sports are a must here.

College Is Open

To Everybody

NEW YORK (UPI)—What happens when a college puts out the welcome mat for any and all high school graduates who apply? It happened at the City University of New York, beginning in the fall of 1970.

At the end of the first year of the open admissions policy, 30 per cent of the freshmen did not feel like coming back. That is the "open admissions" freshmen. They did not return. This attrition rate among the open admission freshmen compares with 20 per cent among regular freshmen, those meeting stiffer entrance requirements.

Some conifers that shed their leaves are larch, bald cypress and Chinese water fir.

Mexico Building CoastalComplex

MEXICO CITY (AP) — A vast industrial complex that will include iron mines, an $800 million steel mill, hydroelectric plants, highways, railroads and a modern seaport, is being constructed along Mexico's Pacific coast.

To be known as Lazaro Cardenas-Las Truchas, the complex is being financed by the government. The first stage of construction will be completed in 1976, the second stage in 1980.

Reduced Dental Decay By Half

HASTINGS, New Zealand (AP) — This was the first New Zealand city to fluoridate its water supply to avert tooth decay, but today Hastings is short of dentists.

Since the city council began injecting sodium fluoride into its water supply in 1954 at the rate of one part per million, dental decay among residents under 25 years has been halved.

Now, the city of 45,000 has only seven dentists, and three of those are over 50.

In The Armed Services

T. Sgt. Jimmy C. McLamb, son of Mrs. Ralph Sutton of Rt. 1, Grimesland, is on duty at Nakhon Phanom Royal Thai AFB, Thailand. McLamb, an airborne electronic warfare technician, is assigned to a unit of the Air Force Security Service. Before his arrival in Thailand, he was assigned at Tan Son Nhut AB, Vietnam. The sergeant, who attended Grimesland High School prior to entering the Air Force in 1955, is married to the former Rowann Elks of Grimesland.

Lt. Ted D. Taylor (above), of Rt. 1 Grifton, has entered Air Force pilot training at Laredo AFB, Tex. Taylor, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred D. Taylor, will fly the newest jet trainers and receive special academic and military training during the year-long course. He will be awarded silver pilot wings upon completion of the Air Training Command flying program. A 1968 graduate of Grifton High School, Taylor received his B.S. degree from North Carolina State University and was commissioned there through the AFROTC program.

Seaman Rct. Walter Steven Norris (above), son of Mr. and Mrs. Loran E. Norris of Greenville, has completed basic training at the Naval Training Center, Orlando, Fla. Norris is currently enrolled in electronics school and following completion will receive instruction at the Navy's torpedomates school. The recruit is a 1972 graduate of Rose High School.

Airman Robert E. Freeman (above), son of Mr. and Mrs. Columbus Freeman of Williamston, has completed Air Force basic training at Lackland AFB, Tex. During his six weeks training, he studied the Air Force mission, organization and customs and received special instruction in human relations. The airman is remaining at the Air Training Command base for specialized training in the security police field. Freeman is a 1972 graduate of Williamston High School.

Spec. 5 Garry E. Oakley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter L. Oakley of Rt. 1, Winterville, was awarded a certificate of achievement while serving with the Army Security Agency and Communication Unit, Tokyo, at Camp Drake, Japan. He earned the award for meritorious service as a communications specialist in the unit. Oakley entered the Army in 1969, received basic training at Ft. Jackson, S. C., and was stationed at Ft. Gordon, Ga. before arriving overseas. He is a 1969 graduate of Winterville High School.

Airman I.C. Henry R. Berry Jr. husband of the former Kathy Moore of Williamston, has graduated at Keesler AFB, Miss. from the Air Force radar repairman course conducted by the Air Training Command. Berry was trained to operate and repair aircraft control and warning radar equipment.

Pvt. Clyde O. Cowey Jr., son of Mrs. Grace M. Cowey of Hamilton, graduated from basic training at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot at Parris Island, S. C.

Cynthia A. Fleming, (above) daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Christopher Fleming of Greenville, is participating in an Air Force ROTC field training encampment at Gunter AFB, Ala. During the encampment cadets become familiar with the life and activities on Air Force base and can examine careers in which they may wish to serve as officers. Cadet Fleming is a member of the AFROTC unit at North Carolina A&T University at Greensboro. She is a 1970 graduate of Rose High School.

Pfc. Joseph L. Smallwood, son of Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Smallwood of Rt. 4, Greenville, has reported for duty at the Marine Corps Base, Camp Lejeune.

Airman Rct. Michael F. Peszko, (above), son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry T. Peszko of Greenville, graduated from recruit training at the Naval Training Center in Orlando, Fla.

William M. Parker, (above) son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas M. Parker of Williamston, recently was commissioned a second lieutenant upon graduation from the Artillery Officer Candidate School at Ft. Sill, Okla. Gunnery training was emphasized during the 23-week course, designed to prepare men for officer duties in artillery units. He was also trained in artillery survey and transport, communications, map and aerial-photo reading, electronics, counterinsurgency and leadership. Parker, a 1964 graduate of Williamston High School received his B.S. degree in 1968 from East Carolina University.

Bloodbath . . .

(Continued from page 1) of the terrorists also were killed, a German helicopter pilot was seriously wounded and the other three Arabs were captured.

In the confusion of the night, one terrorist was believed to have escaped, but his body was found at the air base this morning.

The Arabs killed two Israelis when they first invaded their quarters in the Olympic village at dawn Tuesday and took nine other members of the team hostage. Five hours later Brundage suspended the late afternoon and evening sports events.

After an ambush of the terrorists backfired and the Arabs killed the nine hostages, the IOC said it would meet after the memorial service and decide whether to terminate the games for the first time in modern Olympic history. Five days of events remain.

Willi Daume, the West German chairman of the organizing committee for the 1972 Olympiad and a vice president of the IOC, commented: "it will be difficult for me to recommend that the games be continued."

The West Germans, who had hoped for the Munich games to erase the Nazi-era image of the 1936 Berlin games, were shattered by the tragedy.

Chancellor Willy Brandt in a television address said: "The joyous games are over. In the coming days we will have to prove ourselves anew."

Rezoning Request In Farmville For Proposed Apartments Site

By CAROL TYER
Reflector Staff Writer

FARMVILLE — Farmville residents Tom Willis and Dr. William Fulford asked the Farmville Commissioners last night for the rezoning of a lot on Highway 258 North inside the city limits for use as a five-unit townhouse apartments site.

The request was granted after Miss Janie Johnston, who has property adjoining the lot, appeared before the board. Miss Johnston said she is not opposing the rezoning, that she only attended the public hearing to "find out what is going on." Willis assured her that he would do nothing to harm her property. He showed architectural drawings of the proposed apartments and photographs of the University Townhouses in Greenville, an apartment complex the proposed units would resemble. Besides Willis and Dr. Fulford, R. Tim Brinn of Rocky Mount is owner of the recently purchased lot, located between Miss Johnston's house and Red's Radio and TV Service at the corner of Highway 258 and W. Horne Avenue here. This is some of the first spot rezoning the Farmville Board has agreed upon.

Southern Piping Co. for the heating, $44,444.

The entire project, including $23,000 architects fees, according to Alford, amounts to about $321,000. He emphasized that the $321,000 figure would not include several alternates including a covered walk, epoxy paint in the halls, wiring for the covered walk and kitchen equipment which would cost an estimated $20,000 more.

Acting on a request by the Town of Ayden, board members voiced their approval to allow the municipality to place park benches, swings, slides and some lighting on the South Ayden school campus as soon as the old portion of the former school building has been cleared from the site.

Approval was also given to allow Pitt Technical Institute to use the remainder of a building on the W. H. Robinson school campus. PTI is currently using half of the structure located on the school campus. The move gives them the use of the entire facility located near the county elementary school there.

In other business, school board members approved January as the month for mid-term exams in the schools and designated the Bank of Winterville as depository for W. H. Robinson school funds and Wachovia Bank in Bethel as the depository for Bethel Primary school funds.

According to Alford, enrollment in the county schools this year totals 12,258. Included in the total is 96 students enrolled in the trainable mentally retarded program and 635 kindergarten students.

Of the total 3,843 are enrolled in the high school while the remaining 7,684 children are elementary students.

Following their regular session, the school board held a supper meeting with the Board of County Commissioners for an informal discussion of mutual problems.

The dinner was sponsored by Richard Worsley, a member of the Board of Education for the past seven years who will leave the board at the end of the year.

Pledges Big State Effort

ELIZABETH CITY, N.C. (AP)—Democratic candidate for governor Hargrove "Skipper" Bowles says if elected he is determined state government will make its "major effort in the forgotten regions, in the lost provinces."

In a talk to supporters at Elizabeth City that came after a day of campaigning in north-eastern North Carolina, Bowles said to help those "lost provinces" he would:

—"Strongly support efforts to strengthen and diversify both agriculture and industry.

—"Improve public services to make rural and small town areas as attractive as big cities.

—"Ask you to join in a statewide effort of planning our growth. Only in that way can we avoid the mistakes of big cities and make sure we attract the very best economic development."

Bowles said he plans to run the same type of campaign as he waged last spring.

"We are going to talk about the issues, not our opponent. No mudslinging," he said.

He added that he would bring "modern and efficient management" to state government and reiterated his pledge of no tax increases.

Davis Furniture Store into a town storm sewer. Her son, Cedric, made the request.

Davis, himself a former Farmville commissioner, suggested to the Board that they consider sitting on the side of the conference table facing the audience and that they even consider getting a public address system as it is virtually impossible for citizens attending the meeting to hear the proceedings.

Acton Place from George Street to the Norfolk-Southern Railroad was put on the assessment roll for curbing, guttering, and paving. One hundred per cent of the property owners signed the petition.

A street light for the 200 block of S. Green Street was approved. A preliminary resolution for curbing, guttering, and paving of Williams Street was drafted and a public hearing was set for the regular Oct. 3 commissioners' meeting.

It was reported that the town has agreed to purchase 26.87 acres of land on the Stan-tonsbury Road (County Road 1200) for use as a municipal cemetery. The price is $1,250 per acre. The board authorized Mayor Will Joyner and Town Clerk Andy Martin to sign the purchase agreement.

It was agreed that a much-disputed parking place in front of the Savings and Loan Building on North Main Street should continue to be designated as a no parking area.

Town engineer Jack McDavid said a driveway to the drive-in window of the Savings and Loan will be widened soon and the space will be eliminated then anyway.

The Board agreed to share with the Pitt County Schools the cost of paving a 300-foot portion of a new street near H. B. Sugg School.

McDavid suggested that the town clerk check to find out whether an easement across the Farmville Central School property has ever been obtained for extension of sanitary sewer lines.

Joe Griffin appeared on behalf of the Committee for Midget Football and the Commissioners agreed to contribute $600 for the program plus $150 to pay a director if this is necessary.

Sgt. Alton Hathaway asked for a town contribution toward a $1,295 fence that would protect new equipment, trucks and the like, the local National Guard unit is getting as part of a reorganization of the Guard. The commissioners agreed to help and said they would appeal to the County Commissioners for help also. The Farmville unit contributes more than $56,000 in payroll annually to Farmville and Pitt County, Sgt. Hathaway said.

The board agreed to accept bids for a fence for I. S. Bennett Park on South Main Street and for repairs to the roof of the municipal building.

Jack McDavid was appointed Civil Defense Director to replace Lloyd Engelhardt who is moving to Elizabeth City.

The Board agreed to buy shelves for storing town records at a cost of $752.96 from Taff Office Equipment Company in Greenville.

Building codes recommended by the state were adopted. The board agreed to rezone Jim Craft's Highland Trailer Park so he can locate a self-service gasoline station there.

A petition from residents of Wallace Street prompted the commissioners to ask Police Chief Carl Tanner to erect signs at the Main Street and the Fields Street entrances to Wallace Street, reading "No thru trucks", and to enforce the measure.

Residents have complained about large trucks using the street for a shortcut, creating much noise and damage to pavement.

Toxic Plants Are Reason For Center

GALVESTON, Tex. (UPI)—The child falls to the ground, perspiring heavily and clutching his stomach in pain. Only moments before, he had been quietly playing with a sprig of yellow jessamine.

He has been poisoned, but not by any chemical compound or insecticide. He has been poisoned by a flower, and unless quick action is taken, he may die.

This scene, or one similar to it, is repeated at least 12,000 times annually in the United States. It is one of the major reasons for the existence of the University of Texas Medical Branch's Poison Prevention Center.

Michael Ellis, the associate director of the Center, says some plants are so dangerous that a single leaf can kill.

"Houseplants and ornamental shrubs, such as poinsettia, mistletoe and holly make the Christmas holidays a particularly bad time of the year as far as poisonings are concerned," said Ellis, a graduate student in pharmacology and toxicology.

"The leaves, stems or flowers of poinsettia, green or dry, are poisonous," he said. "They contain vesicant resins. A boy, 2, died after ingesting a single leaf."

Other common plants or flowers which are poisonous are English ivy, caladium, elephant ear, sweet pea, wisteria, lily of the valley, iris, rhododendron, lantana and buttercup, he said.

Ellis said the jessamine is so poisonous that children have died from sucking the nectar of the blossoms.

"Oleander is so toxic that adults have been poisoned by an oleander twig swizzle stick or a Weiner toasted on a branch—green or dry—of the plant," he said.

Certain parts of otherwise edible fruits and vegetables are also extremely toxic," he said. Apple seeds, for example, will not keep the doctor away.

"On the contrary, apple seeds are cyanide producing," he said. "A man ingested a cup full of apple seeds and died of cyanide poisoning."

The twigs, brack leaves and pits within the fruit stones of peach and apricot trees all contain cyanide producing compounds.

Death Comes Quickly
"The reaction is rapid with little outward signs of poisoning," he said. "Death usually occurs less than an hour after the material is eaten."

Ellis said rhubarb is a spring tonic, but the leafy part of the plant is poisonous, as is uncooked pokeweed.

"Raw pokeweed produces a burning sensation in the mouth, or severe cramps, vomiting and diarrhea," he said. "If recovery does not occur within 24 hours, pokeweed may be fatally poisonous."

He said there are antidotes for most plant poisonings, however, if the active agent is known.

"In so many of these poisonings, however, what we have is an unidentified proteinaceous substance," he said. "The axion is 'don't leave the patient to look up the antidote' or you may come back with the right answer and find you are too late."

SUN SPRAY
BRADFORD, England (AP)—Britain's sun-deprived gardeners may soon have less difficulty ripening their tomatoes and reddening their apples. A spray-on sunshine product will be available in Britain next spring.

Manufactured in aerosol cylinders, a couple of whiffs of the spray will work as well as a week of warm, sunny weather, the Yorkshire makers claim.
