Scott Took Care Of Alamance

By REESE HART
Associated Press Writer

RALEIGH (AP) — Gov. Bob Scott's constitutents in his home county of Alamance can't say he hasn't done his job in providing them with paved secondary roads.

In fact, apparently no North Carolina governor in recent history has done more in appropriating funds for secondary road paving in his home county than has Scott. He has allocated $4.3 million since 1969 to Alamance.

Highway officials can't recall that a Tar Heel governor ever had more surplus or unappropriated road funds available than Scott—$41.9 million.

Where did this huge sum come from and how does it compare with the amounts available for Scott's immediate predecessors, Govs. Dan Moore and Terry Sanford?

George Willoughby Jr., state highway administrator, said in an interview the money came mainly from the state gasoline tax and positions that became vacant in the highway department and were not filled.

The revenue from the nine-cent per gallon gasoline tax was much greater than the 1971 General Assembly anticipated.

Willoughby said Gov. Moore had about $21.7 million available in funds he could appropriate without approval of the Highway Commission.

He said he did not have figures for the first two years of Moore's administration, but during the last two years only $70,000 was designated to Moore's home county of Haywood.

"He may not have had a surplus the first two years," Willoughby said.

He explained that Moore and Sanford split the surplus funds up among the highway commissioners for use in allocations in their divisions.

Willoughby noted that Scott also followed this policy, but in addition had earmarked $4.3 million for specific projects in Alamance.

Sanford had $13.3 million in surplus road funds from which to make allocations during his four-year term. Willoughby said Sanford appropriated $318,000 in his home county of Cumberland.

Scott issued a statement in September in which he said he "has no apology to make" concerning the allocation of funds to pave more than 100 miles of roads in Alamance.

"I am proud of every foot of blacktop that has been put on the ground there (in Alamance) just as in other sections of the state," Scott said.

He added, "I have taken a personal interest in projects that I am familiar with and am satisfied that they are justified."

It was disclosed earlier that the $4.3 million for Alamance was more than the allocations in 54 other counties combined.

Willoughby said that for the past decade or more the state legislature has made lump sum allocations to the Highway Commission for use in paving secondary roads. This has averaged between $16 million and $18 million a year.

The money is allocated to the counties on the basis of the percentage of unpaved roads in the county and the unpaved roads statewide.

In addition, $75 million was made available for secondary roads in North Carolina under a $300 million bond issue approved by voters in 1965. This money was allocated to the counties on the same basis.

State Sen. Ralph Scott, D-Alamance, an uncle of Gov. Scott, strongly defended Scott's action in channeling funds to Alamance.

He said Alamance is "only catching up" in road construction.

"There have been at least 20 years since Gov. Kerr Scott (Bob Scott's father) started his program to get North Carolina out of the mud," Sen. Scott said in an interview with a Burlington radio station. "As time passed and as emphasis shifted from each governor and Highway Commission, certain counties who had it good in the early years have not had it so good in recent years."

No Mention Of U.S. Role

Thieu Demands Separate Pact

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — Shunting aside the United States, President Nguyen Van Thieu demanded today that the Communists in both North and South Vietnam negotiate a peace settlement with his government.

He repeated his demand for the withdrawal of all North Vietnamese troops from South Vietnam and his rejection of a "disguised coalition government."

The South Vietnamese president outlined a plan calling for separate conferences between his government and North Vietnam to work out a cease-fire and between Saigon and the Viet Cong to negotiate a political settlement. He made no mention of U.S. participation.

"Today, the Republic of Vietnam government and myself, representing the South Vietnamese people, demand that the North Vietnamese Communists conduct serious discussions in order to sign a treaty on peace and a cease-fire between South and North Vietnam in any place, whether in Paris or in any other country in the world," Thieu declared.

"Today, we also demand that the so-called South Vietnamese Liberation Front organization discuss seriously the issues in order to sign a political solution for South Vietnam's internal affairs, in Paris, or right in Saigon, or in any other country in the world."

Thieu spoke in a recorded broadcast commemorating South Vietnam's National Day today, the anniversary of the overthrow in 1963 of President Ngo Dinh Diem.

The cease-fire agreement worked out in Paris last month by U.S. presidential adviser Henry A. Kissinger and North Vietnamese representatives remained unsigned, and sources close to the Paris peace talks said North Vietnam has not responded yet to Kissinger's request for further negotiations.

The North Vietnamese in Paris attacked the Nixon administration for failing to sign the peace agreement Tuesday, the day Hanoi claimed Nixon had agreed to formalize the agreement. The North Vietnamese demanded that the United States "proceed rapidly" with the signing.

Despite the delay in the agreement between the United States and Hanoi and Thieu's rejection of its major points, preliminary arrangements were being made in foreign capitals for a force of 1,000 officers to supervise the cease-fire. Informed diplomats in Washington said Canada, Indonesia, Hungary and Poland had agreed to provide the men.

Thieu said that the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong forces had been instructed "to cheat and sabotage a cease-fire ... at a time they call the 'twilight period,' when they are subject to the control of no one."

Meanwhile, Gen. Duong Van "Big" Minh, one of the leaders of the non-Communist opposition to Thieu, broke a long silence and urged a sincere and just national conciliation to bring peace to Vietnam. He indicated he is ready to serve

Crash Killed Driver

GRIMESLAND — A Grimesland man apparently was killed instantly when his car was split in half as it struck a bridge abutment near here early this morning.

Ptl. W.E. Basnight said Christopher Joe Hodges, 24, died of multiple injuries in a one-car accident on rural paved road 1565 about two miles north of Grimesland. He apparently was driving along, Ptl. Basnight said, when he lost control of the car and hit the bridge abutment sideways. The back part of the car stopped at the abutment and the engine and front half traveled 160 feet before it came to rest on the bridge. Hodges was thrown out at the point of impact, he said.

Basnight said the time of the accident has not been ascertained. The wreckage was found between 4:30 and 5 a.m., but the accident may have occured several hours earlier. An attempt will be made to trace Hodges' movements prior to the accident to determine the approximate time.

Hodges was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmore Hodges of Grimesland.

$87.66 Season On Greenville Market

The Greenville tobacco market held its final sale of the 1972 auction season Tuesday.

According to J.N. Bryan, sales supervisor of the Greenville market, the 1972 season was an outstanding and successful year.

The poundage sold was 46,869,306, and the money paid out totaled $41,086,281. The season average was $87.66 per hundred pounds.

"In veiw of the fact that the total poundage sold in 1971 was 46,203,489 and the total money paid out was $36,142,794, this reflects a substantial increase of 665,817 pounds and $4,493,487 above the 1971 season," Bryan explained.

"We want to thank farmers for selling their tobacco in Greenville this year and will be looking forward to selling their tobacco in 1973," Bryan said.

Bryan also suggested that farmers schedule their tobacco with the warehouseman of their choice in Greenville for the 1973 season as early as possible.

"Early scheduling will make the operation of the 1973 selling season as successful as the 1972 marketing year," the supervisor added.

McGovern Has Doubts

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF
AP Political Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Sen. George McGovern said today he believes President Nguyen Van Thieu of South Vietnam is blocking a peace agreement, adding he has doubts President Nixon can bring off a settlement with North Vietnam.

Appearing on NBC's Today show McGovern said, in response to a question as to whether the chance for an agreement has been lost, that "My own guess is that Gen. Thieu is blocking the negotiations just as he did four years ago."

Asked if he had serious doubts that the U.S.-North Vietnamese peace plan will come off, he replied: "I do have doubts about it." But he said, he hopes that "somehow Mr. Nixon is going to be able to pull this off" before next Tuesday's election.

Meantime, the Democratic presidential candidate canceled a campaign stop in Hibbing, Minn., today in order to give his overworked vocal cords a rest.

He planned to complete a series of appearances in New York City, however, including a rally in the heart of the city's garment-manufacturing district before flying to Chicago to make a scheduled telethon appearance Thursday morning.

McGovern, at a party Tuesday night honoring his 29th wedding anniversary, told reporters that "after Nov. 7, you'll still have George McGovern to kick around."

Ask 7th Fleet Inquiry

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Thirty-one sailors flown here from the Philippines under armed guard last week say they lived under unbearable conditions aboard ship and at a naval base, and they say the conditions led to drug problems and racial unrest.

The group presented a petition Tuesday to a representative of Sen. Alan Cranston, D-Calif., asking for a congressional investigation of conditions aboard 7th Fleet ships in the Pacific and on the Subic Bay Naval Base in the Philippines.

"Servicemen are required to work long hours — 24-36-hour shifts are not uncommon," the sailors said in statement. "The ships are hot and bug-infected. The officers and noncommissioned officers harass and intimidate the lower enlisted ranks and discriminate against black and brown sailors. These conditions lead to drug problems and racial tension."

They said men who refuse to work or who take drugs are transferred to Subic Bay, where conditions "are more explosive than on the ships...."

Last week 200 men from Subic Bay were flown here, some for disciplinary hearings, some for drug treatment and some for discharge, the Navy said. Navy spokesman say the men were not involved in recent racial disorders aboard the carrier Kitty Hawk and the oiler Hassayampa.

The petitioners did not mention the disorders specifically Tuesday but said shipboard conditions caused "tension leading to racial conflicts."

Last Bill Is Signed

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon has signed his final bill of 1972, a $4.9-billion supplemental appropriation for continuing domestic programs.

The bill was the first sent to Capitol Hill that was not part of the budget Nixon presented last January. It subsequently was trimmed by more than $800 million before the 92nd Congress approved it.

The need for the extra money, a White House source said, was not because of higher spending either by the White House or Congress.

Of the $4.9 billion, $4.2 billion goes toward such programs as manpower training, vocational rehabilitation, virtually all activities of the antipoverty agency and aid to higher education.

Private Jerry Garrett Serving In WAC Unit

HEIDELBERG, Germany (AP) — Pvt. Jerry Garrett, 18, Greenfield, Ind., arrived in Europe last Friday and to his dismay found himself assigned to a Women's Army Corps unit. He's surrounded by girls.

What for any other soldier would be a dream come true is a nightmare for Garrett.

"I've got a fiancee in the States and I doubt if she would like the idea," Garrett said.

"I enlisted in the Army to serve my country. I didn't come to work with a bunch of girls," Garrett complained. "There's no other male here. I'm the only one, and that's what I don't like."

Garrett wanted to become a military policeman, but the Army trained him as a personnel clerk.

Capt. Anna Young, commanding officer of Company B where Garrett is assigned, said WAC company clerks are scarce and when she heard Garrett was available, she said, "Sure! Great!"

"When I reported to Company B," Garrett said, "they were expecting me, although the first sergeant said the assignment would be difficult because I wouldn't be able to sleep here."

On Monday, Garrett spoke to Col. C.J. Shay, commander of special troops. "He said he will try to get me into the MP school that will open two months from now," Garrett said. "But for two months I'm stuck here doing paperwork and all the personnel actions for the girls."

Tobacco Companies Considering Possible Import Of Foreign Leaf

RALEIGH (AP) — Some domestic tobacco companies are waiting for an announcement of the 1973 U.S. flue-cured tobacco quota in order to decide whether to "go the import route" to get the leaf they need, it was reported today.

The News and Observer reported that some companies have examined hundreds of samples of foreign-grown leaf in recent weeks and are considering the possibility of importing considerable quantities of tobacco to meet the soaring demands for cigarettes.

The newspaper said both domestic and export buying firms are greatly concerned over the U.S. flue-cured supply situation. Eight years of acreage-poundage controls have reduced total supplies by 850 million pounds, or 25 per cent.

A large increase in imports had already occurred. The Bureau of Census figures for January through August show that flue-cured and burley import totaled 14.8 million pounds this year compared with 4.8 million during the same months of 1971, an increase of 207 per cent.

The buying companies said the tobacco was brought in because the desired grades were not available in this country, the newspaper said.

The paper said dealers and exporters are unanimous in warning that U.S. growers stand to lose highly valuable foreign markets unless production in this country is increased.

But a drop in market prices two weeks ago, during the closing weeks of the season, has caused many farmers to look upon the proposed quota increase with skepticism. They say that some buyers were able to fill their 1972 orders and pull off the markets before the season ended.

The National Farmers Organization, at its annual state convention in Fayetteville this week, went on record opposing an increase in the quota.

Agriculture Secretary Earl Butz must announce the 1973 quota by Dec. 1. The quota remained at 1.126 billion pounds during the first five years of acreage-poundage controls, but was reduced by five per cent, to 1.071 billion, beginning in 1970.

'Wired Nation' Idea Said Long Ago Discarded

By ROBERT L. CAMPBELL
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House says a secret suggestion to give the government a direct electronic link to every home and car in America was just on of many ideas that were rejected as too extreme before it even reached the planning stage.

And, said President Nixon's science adviser, the Democratic congressman who disclosed the proposal Tuesday was just seeking headlines.

Rep. William S. Moorhead, D-Pa., said the plan for a "wired nation" apparently was designed to provide the government with a disaster-warning system and a wise-scale means of dispensing various services.

Moorhead, a member of the House Committee on Government Operations, said the plan is also a blueprint for a government-operated propaganda and spy system. He called on the administration to let the nation know of the plan, which he said was prepared for Nixon's Deomestic Council.

Dr. Edward E. David Jr., Nixon's Science adviser, said afterward that Moorhead's suggestion that the council was advocating some sort of "big-brother" communications link to every house in America was "absolutely wrong."

David said the suggestion was one of many received, of which "some are good and some are terrible." He said this one was rejected because "it did not take account of the right of privacy of citizens, nor of the scoial acceptability of such a scheme."

"Had the congressman asked anyone, we would gladly have informed him of the facts," David said. "But I guess he was more interested in a headline than a fact."

The study Moorhead disclosed was stamped "Administratively Confidential" on each of its 300 pages. It was dated August 1971, and, Moorhead said, was delivered to his subcommittee last Saturday by someone in the Nixon administration.

The study contains detailed descriptions for disseminating disaster information, educational, cultural and social services through a public broadcasting network based on the required installation of a special receiver in every radio and television set and every car and boat. The receivers could be turned on only by the government.

Turnabout Now At Action

CAMBLAIN, France (WNS) — Nearly three centuries ago the annual Fair For Girls was established here so that young ladies could rent themselves to the highest bidder as servants. After the French Revolution, the yearly fair stopped acting as an employment agency and instead introduced girls who were looking for husbands. This year male bachelors were allowed to show themselves off in an effort to find brides. Lucienne Thomas, 33, who picked 28-year-old Remy Lefebvre as possible groom, explained that "French girls are leaving villages to work in big cities so farmers are left with nobody to marry."

Correction

The Rev. Leamon Dudley and the Rev. Richard Gammon officiated at the double ring ceremony Saturday afternoon when Miss Annie Louise Moore became the bride of Pervis Cohens.

A program of organ music was presented by the Rev. John Taylor.

It was stated in Sunday's edition of The Daily Reflector that the Rev. Leamon Dudley and the Rev. John Taylor performed the ceremony.

No Candidate Can Fully Please

We hear so often, as major elections approach, the lament that there is no one to vote for.

At this time of year, when most races have come down to two men, the complaint by potential voters sometimes is that neither man in a particular race is worthy of election. Finally, the conversation sometimes concludes, since neither man is worth voting for, the voter will just stay home and not cast a ballot.

Well, there are times when neither man in a particular race is exciting to the voters, but never does this justify the conclusion that a voter should not cast his ballot.

It should be remembered, as we approach the November election, that often the various candidates have reached their positions only after long and often gruelling primary elections. After coming through all this, they should be the best their party has to offer and, if they were chosen by party members in primary elections, they are definitely the ones who the party members preferred.

So every voter, whether he is enthusiastic or not about candidates in a particular race, should take it upon himself to examine the positions of every candidate. Then each should make his choice, based on the merits of the candidates and cast our ballots on election day.

There are important differences between the candidates and we should study their statements carefully to determine how they stand. None of us will agree with the candidates we choose on every issue; however each of us will find we agree with one candidate more than we do with his opponent.

RALEIGH, N.C. — The 20th century agricultural revolutinn boosted production, but uprooted people.

Mechanization and the substitution of capital for labor in farming spurred migration to the cities and weakened the base for public services in rural areas.

BRYAN HAISLIP

In the economic perspective, low rural per capital income (only three-fourths that of urban residents) gives emphasis to the thrust for rural development, said Dr. W. D. Toussaint, North Carolina State University economist.

Urban congestion and pollution adds urgency to the need for rural development, he said. Nationally, planners have come to recognize that solutions for metropolitan problems are directly related to revitalized rural areas, he explained.

In North Carolina, he noted, urban sprawl and spoil can be avoided only as the quality of rural life is enhanced and the rural economy stablized.

"We are being asked continually by our city friends to the north what we are doing to develop the rural areas of North Carolina so that the migration out of our state into urban centers may be reduced or stopped," Dr. Toussaint commented.

Agriculture Has Changed

Agriculture changed little in the first 100 years of U.S. history. The best estimate, said Dr. Toussaint, is that in the colonial era one farm worker produced food and fiber for our persons. Up to 1920, the ratio had only doubled.

"The rapidity of change can be seen when we note that from the beginning of our nation until 1940 we had a change from 4 to 11 in the number of people supplied food and fiber by one farm worker. Since 1940 we have had an increase from 11 to 50."

Significant mechanization has come about in North Carolina only since 1950. A parallel trend, Dr. Toussaint said has been the decrease in the number of arms.

"There were approximately 300,000 farms in North Carolina in 1930 and still about 290,000 farms in 1950. However, by 1964 the number of farms had fallen to approximately 150,000, and today the number is less than 120,000," he said.

Communities Feel Impact

Depopulation of the rural community, brought about by changes in agriculture, has left a deep economic and social mark, Dr. Toussaint listed these changes:

"It has resulted in the closing of many businesses which depended primarily on rural customers."

"It resulted in a shrinking of the economic base, and hence the tax base, to support public facilities and services in these local communities."

"Many uneducated and unskilled adults who formerly served as farm wage workers or tenants were left without job opportunities."

"The net result of all these changes," he concluded, "has been low income, underemployment and generally poor quality public facilities and services, such as health, education, recreation, transportation, communication and related services."

Problems Severe Elsewhere

Dr. Toussaint, head of the NCSU economics department, is a native of North Dakota. All of the rural problems cited, he said, are less serious in North Carolina than in much of the Midwest and the Great Plains.

"Nevertheless, they are still severe problems, and they occur in part as a consequence of the agricultural revolution, which left many small farmers with few resources and low levels of managerial ability unable to take advantage of technological developments," he said.

"These people receive few benefits from commerical agricultural policies. In essence, they have been bypassed."

Location of industry in rural areas offers economic advantages, he agreed, but efforts must be concentrated on those suited to the environment.

"Most companies want to be near some city — even one of only 10,000 people — which is growing and progressive and can provide them with adequate community facilities," he said.

Rural development depends upon a sound agricutlure and good public services, Dr. Toussaint asserted.

In farming, he said, there must be larger, more efficient units which can take advantage of the new technology. In community facilities, multicounty planning regions provide a way to look at problems from other than a county or local community view, he added.

'Moralism' In The Campaign

By ROLAND EVANS and ROBERT NOVAK

LOS ANGELES — Within hours after the White House's Thursday announcement of an imminent Vietnam cease-fire, an adviser to Sen. George McGovern recommended a new emphasis for the campaign's last ten days: feed public doubts about President Nixon's ability to guarantee jobs once the war is over.

That course seemed particularly appropriate with McGovern arriving the next night in California, a state whose aerospace and defense industries suffered heavy unemployment during President Nixon's first four years. Moreover, well before Thursday, California Democratic leaders were pleading with McGovern to say more about bread-and-butter issues and less about Vietnam. His visit here a week earlier, concentrating on Vietnam with monomaniacal intensity, brought these state leaders to despair.

In response, McGovern did talk about jobs during his speeches here. But he scarcely switched emphasis to the economic hazards of a post-Vietnam Nixon administration. Instead, he concentrated heavily on questions of moral corruption, even describing Mr. Nixon's vetoes Friday of spending bills as "a moral outrage" and ending his speeches with biblical quotations. Even though the Vietnam issue now is clearly in Mr. Nixon's favor, McGovern was unable to stop attacking his war policy. To a San Fernando Valley rally Friday, he escalated his rhetoric by calling Vietnam "the most barbaric experience in the history of this country."

Indeed, throughout his frantic crisscrossing of the continent, McGovern has shown himself congenitally unable to do what might actually have generated wholesale defections from Mr. Nixon: attack the President's handling of the economy, stressing such mundane matters as grocery prices.

McGovern's persidtence in reducing the campaign to Good vs. Evil reflects how completely he has reverted to his roots as the son of a prairie Methodist minister who became a lifelong peace crusader.

In recent weeks, he has fallen back on his old Senate staff, which shares his own outlook. Ex-Senate aide John Holum, described by another McGovern lieutenant as "a carbon copy of George McGovern," is now his closest adviser. Another old Senate hand, Gordon Weil, reappeared at the Senator's side a month ago after being exiled to McGovern's Washington headquarters in August by politically experienced newcomers to McGovern's high command.

But those newcomers are now isolated from McGovern. It is doubtful whether the pleas to stress the economy sent by California supporters to McGovern's Washington headquarters ever actually reached the Senator. A staff memorandum discreetly suggesting that McGovern tone down his moral fervor went unnoticed. Important state Democratic leaders find it impossible to get McGovern on the telephone.

Even in face-to-face conversations with the Senator, staffers and politicians outside his inner circle are not certain the message gets across. McGovern listens carefully, then politely expresses thanks without agreeing, disagreeing or even discussing the recommendations.

Thus, McGovern seems what he has always been: a loner from the Plains who trust only old friends, asks help from few and keeps his own counsel.

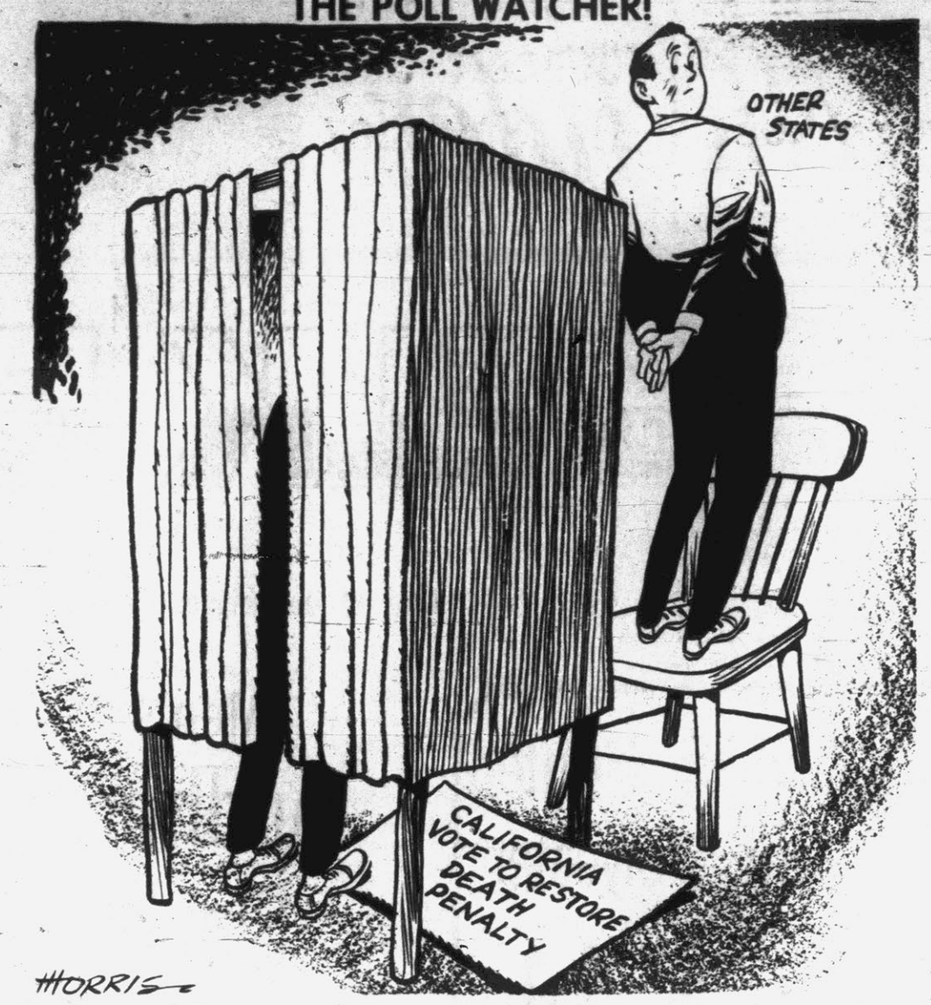

He long ago turned down recommendations to launch a neo-populistic attack on big government and big spending, wooing the Wallace vote. Buttressed by Holum's concurrence, he has emphasized heavily the Watergate incident even though most state politicians feel it alone cannot close the huge gap between him and Mr. Nixon.

Nor does McGovern seem changed in the slightest by the unique experience of running for President. In the face of overwhelming defeat, he has ended with a campaign identical in tone to what he was saying as a lonely, ignored candidate of the Democratic party's left fringe nine months ago.

Both McGovern and his closest aides take comfort in the retuen to him nationwide of some, but almost surely not enough, defecting blue-collar Democrats. However, their return was inevitable, unrelated to McGovern's furious campaigning. Oblivious to political reality even as that campaign ends. McGovern retains the

Let's Draft Money, Too

WASHINGTON — As the war comes to an agonizing, screeching halt, great minds are at work in this country trying to figure out a way we can avoid getting ourselves into such a mess again.

Many solutions have been offered. My favorite is the Haak Plan, suggested by Leo Haak of East Lansing, Mich.

Mr. Haak told me, "The reason the war lasted so long was that only the young people in this country were truly involved in Vietnam. While the rest of the country grew rich and fat, this small minority of the population, with no political clout, was shipped off to Indochina to hold back Communist aggression. This made it rather easy for the rest of the Americans to show no urgency to end the war."

"That's true," I said. "But what do you propose?"

"The Haak Plan provides that if you draft young men to fight a future war, then you must also draft the money of the men too old to go, to pay for it."

"How would it work?"

"When a man became 40 years old, he would register for a wealth draft. His peak earning years are from 40 to 53, just as the peak physical years of a young man are 18 to 26. a lottery would be held and the man would be assigned a number according to his birthday. Those with low numbers would have to turn over all their money to the government to finance the war.

"Those with high numbers could go about their lives just as young men with high draft numbers go about their business without fear of being called up."

"Would you have draft boards?" I asked.

"Yes," Haak replied. "They would be composed of young men under the age of 26."

"Why young men?" I asked.

"Well, you have older men sending off young men to die in a war, so you should have young men deciding who must give their money to pay for it. The draft board could give exemptions in hardship cases and deal with conscientious objectors."

"By conscientious objectors you meant ose who refuse to give money to a war because it's against their religion?"

"Yes, exactly. If a man can prove he is a serious conscientious objector, we would let him donate his wealth to a hospital or an educational institution."

"What about men over 40 who would flee to Canada to avoid having their money drafted?"

"The Haak Plan does not provide for amnesty. We think it's the patriotic duty of every American to proudly serve his country, if not with his body, then with his fortune."

"How much of his fortune?"

"Everything," Haak said. "When we draft young men we ask them to give up everything, don't we?"

"It sounds like a crazy plan," I said.

"No crazier than what we've been doing for 10 years. Had the Haak Plan been in effect when we first got into Vietnam, the howls of the

Hirsute Triumph

(Greensboro Daily News)

The baseball season is at last over, will after the first frost, but the fashion in which it ended already has us looking eagerly forward to spring training and the season of '73. The pastime may or may not be national, depending on one's point of view, but in the World Series just concluded it certainly was glorious.

The triumph of the Oakland Athletics has been compared in a number of quarters to the equally improbable victory three years ago of the New York Mets, but what it most puts us in mind of is the 1969 Super Bowl and Joe Namath's Jets. Like the Jets against the Colts, the Athletics against the Reds was a case of the Mod Squad against the Super Squares, and in each case the hirsute rebels triumphed over crew-cut vitue.

The victory of the mustachioed Oaklanders is being widely ascribed to an extraordinary visitation of luck, and doubtless there was much timely fortune involved. What it was mostly, though, was a case of good pitching beating good hitting, a formula that almost always works in short baseball series. The Oakland twirlers had a relapse in the sixth game, to be sure, but aside from that they kept the Cincinnati basemen off the bases or, if by some lapse they permitted them aboard, kept them from home plate. The Oakland hitters, meanwhile, led quite unexpectedly by one Fury Gene Tenace, scored just enough to win four ball games, each by one run.

The Series was thick with excitements and old-fashioned baseball tension, and for North Carolinians its pleasures were heightened by the performance of two native sons. In a losing cause, Tom Hall (born in Thomasville) repeatedly came out of the Cincinnati bullpen to silence the Athletic bats with a whipping fastball and a great, sweeping curve. Though most of the post-Series applause went to Rollie Fingers of the Athletics, Hall was the outstanding relief pitcher in the seven games.

Then, of course, there was Catfush Hunter of Bear Swamp, a suburb of Hertford. He won a gritty victory in the second game, then came in as a reliever in the seventh to hold off the Reds while his teammates applied the clinching runs. Catfish came home to Hertford a couple of days after the Series and was honored with appropriately enough, a fish fry. We have no doubt that every fish in the Perquimans River would gladly make the supreme sacrifice in order to adorn the Catfish platter.

Dream Job In Offing

By JOHN COTTER
Associated Press Writer

PITTSTON, Pa. (AP) — At 20 minutes to one on a fall Friday the young man with the mustache and Philadelphia Phillies baseball cap slammed a $5 bill on the bar and announced his retirement.

HAL BOYLE

"It's the end of an era, buddy. and it might as well stop here. Give 'em all one on Mo."

With that Joseph "Mo" Mullarkey, a master of time and space in his early 20s, stepped down from a job that had made him a hero to his peers: driver of a beer truck.

Mullarkey's announcement drew the expected reaction from the older afternoon regulars in Lou's Place. Hands quickly shot out to empty the beer glasses; eyes flickered between the whisky shelf and the $5 bill on the bar.

But two young guys next to Mullarkey groaned.

"Impossible," said one. "Say it ain't so Mo," said the other, smiling a bit that he used the line.

"Amen, I say unto you," said Mullarkey, giving his shoulder-length hair a tug and breaking into his madman giggle.

The two guys returned to their beers, but they weren't through. Both were fresh out of college and headed for computer and life insurance lives. Driving a beer truck was the modern dream. Ah, the romance of it all.

"I mean, it's got everything," said one. "Good money, no hassles. You're out there cruising, man. You can do anything you want."

"Kegs," said Mullarkey.

"Huh?"

"I'll never lift another one in my life," he went on. "They're heavy, buddy. And it's gettin' cold again."

He took a swig from his beer. "They think you're always

The price situation took a pronounced jump on the Greenville tobacco market yesterday and the highest price average of the season was established. The high average was recorded on over a million pounds of bright leaf and farmers from many sections of the belt benefitted by the price rise. The market handled a total of 1,095,012 pounds of tobacco for 157,175.62 at an average of $14.35 per hundred. Offerings were comparatively light today in face of the rainfall throughout the community and there was only about 400,000 pounds of leaf on the warehouse floors when sales got under way.

Playing tonight at the State Theatre is "Rackety Rax" starring Victor McLaglen.

Strength For Today

BLOT OR BLESSING?

An officer in charge of a large number of men on a naval vessel once told me, "I never cease to be amazed at the complicated network of human relationships. If Jones breaks the rules, then Smith will. If Robinson decides to do his work extra well, then Brown and White will, too. Occasionally I am lucky enough to find someone like Black whom almost every man looks up to and who always does the right thing. But everyone, down to the newest seaman aboard, has at least someone whom he particulary influences."

One of the greatest responsibilities in life is a responsibility that many of us overlook — the example we set for others. We all know how others influence us, how we admire, imitate, even envy them. But it is harder to remember that there are always people who are looking the same way at us.

The Reverend John Cumming once wrote, "Every man is a missionary, now and forever, for good or for evil, whether he intends and designs it or not. He may be a blot, radiating his dark influence outward to the very circumference of society, or he may be a blessing, spreading benedictions over the length and breadth of the world. But a blank he cannot be."

Skiers Move Into Controversy

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — If you view skiing as an industry, you get one point of view:

—Business never was better. Ski lifts are crowded all day long, say the resort operators. Sales of ski clothing and equipment are soaring. Hotels and motels are booked far in advance. Farmers have a winter income in rentals.

There are about 4.5 million skiers now, and the number is increasing at a rate of 10 to 15 per cent a year, says the United States Ski Association. Skiers mean dollars.

It is difficult to break out the dollar figure for retail purchases of ski equipment, but you obtain some idea of the trend by examining the total spent on all winter sports equipment.

In 1951, about $9.9 million was spent. By 1970 the figure had grown to $88.4 million. And the National Sporting Goods Association projects a minimum of close to $184 million by 1975.

—If you are a skier, you might have a different viewpoint.

"Skiing gets more enthusiasts each year, but the quality of the sport is declining," says Michael Erickson, executive vice president of the USSA. "We spend more time standing in line than we do skiing."

Erickson, who makes his headquarters in Denyer, estimates that, on a busy weekend at some popular areas, a skier may spend 20 minutes waiting for a two-or three-minute ride up the mountain just to make a 30-second descent.

And so, a battle is developing that is likely to dispel the illusion that winter weekends are one big frosty carnival of rosy cheeked enthusiasts who have left all cares behind in the city.

Since the sport is now almost nationwide, with an estimated 312,925 skiers residing in the South, according to Daniel Starch & Staff, and tours making it available to others, the developing problems also is national.

In one aspect of the coming battle, skies are pitched against resort operators, who quite understandably like crowds. In another, it is skiers against conservationists.

The courts already have become the battleground for the latter. The USSA is actively campaigning to open public lands to skiers. But the Sierra Club and Friends of the Earth and others are opposed.

"Skiers love the out of doors as much as the conservationists," says Erickson. "That's what is so ironic about the controversy. We are just as concerned that an ecology balance be maintained."

If the sport continues to expand as it has, the pressure for land inevitably will grow. And so the USSA, which once concerned itself almost solely with competitive ski programs, is developing a master land program.

Erickson insists that skier should be represented when decisions are made about using the 187 million acres of national forests, just as are conservationists and mining, lumber, agricultural and leisure industries.

DEAR ABBY: I am a boy, but please don't mention my age. My problem is that I like sports, but I am a rotten loser. I get hotheaded and angry and blow up whenever I lose. Sometimes when I am behind, I even quit before the game is over. Once when I missed the basket in a basketball game, I kicked the ball and walked off the court.

I know I can't win all the time, but I wish I could just have fun and enjoy the game without getting so mean and angry.

I guess I am just a born poor loser. Can you help me?

POOR LOSER IN LEAVENWORTH, KAS.

DEAR LOSER: There are no "good" losers. Just good actors. Everyone wants to win, but it takes self control and maturity to lose with grace. Holding your anger inside is unhealthy, so when you lose, sock it to a punching bag and get the hostility out of your system. But do it privately!

DEAR ABBY: Every so often I see a letter in your column from some wife complaining because her husband calls waitresses "Honey," and gets too chummy with them.

My father had that habit, and my mother didn't mind. In fact, she said there was a good reason for it. She said a waitress will always give better service to customers who compliment her on her looks and show a special friendliness toward her.

SPARTANBURG, S.C.

DEAR SPARTANBURG: Could be. But the best insurance for good service is to have been there before and have left a generous tip.

DEAR ABBY: For the last four years I have been married to a man whose wife died after a 25-year marriage. This is my first marriage. We didn't marry until his first wife had been dead for five years, so it couldn't be said that I rushed him into anything.

All of our friends are people my husband and his first wife knew. And whenever we are in their company, they never fail to bring up the past, discussing in great detail "old times involving my husband and his first wife. It's not just a casual reference to her. It's one long, drawn out story after another in which my husband and his first wife are the main characters.

This hurts me, but I am at a loss to handle it.

We are very happy, and he has told me often that a person cannot live in the past. He has also told his friends that, but it doesn't seem to penetrate. What is your suggestion? Or have any of your readers had this problem and found a solution?

NUMBER TWO

DEAR NUMBER TWO: If your husband is as considerate as he should be, he should let his friends know that their constant references to his first wife are out of order. And if they don't cut it out, perhaps new friends are the solution.

Sitter Expense 'Legitimate'

KALAMAZOO, Mich. (AP) — Is a baby sitter a legitimate city expense?

Yes, sometimes, the city commission has ruled.

The commission has ordered city administrators to pay the $25 baby-sitting bill that Commissioner Thea Barton ran up while attending a three-day conference in Lansing, the state capital.

The administrators had balked at paying for the baby sitter, who watched Mrs. Barton's three children until her husband returned home from work.

stoned, too," he said.

The bartender brought more drinks. There was some idle talk. Then:

"Well, what are you going to do now?" one of the young guys asked Mullarkey.

"I got something good, buddy," he said. "Old Mo's coming out of the cold."

"You going on unemployment?" someone asked.

"Nope. Going to be an optometrist's assistant," said Mullarkey. He didn't bat an eye.

Silence.

"Yep," he continued. "I'm going to measure people's heads."

Sudden silence and then you could even hear the grins.

"He's beautiful," said one of the guys.

"A winner again," said the other.

"Let me have the salt, will ya'," said Mullarkey. He dabbed some at the beer, drained the glass and picked up his change in one movement and headed for the door to take the beer truck away.

The two guys shook their heads.

Ten second later, Mullarkey's head popped in the door.

"And from now on it's Joseph," he said and bobbed away.

Youth Band Concert Set On Saturday

The Salvation Army North and South Carolina Divisional Youth Band presents a concert at the Salvation Army Citadel, on the Farmville Highway, Saturday night at 7:30.

This group, of 32 selected musicians between the ages of 15 and 25 from the states of North and South Carolina, is divided almost equally between high school and college students.

Duke University, the University of North Carolina at Charlotte, and East Carolina University are represented by these young musicians, who excel in a field of music long emphasized by The Salvation Army.

The band has been in existence several years, but was recently reactivated and functions under the baton of Captain John White, a euphonium soloist.

A variety of music, all published by Salvation Army musicians around the world, will be performed by the band. The program includes marches, tone poems, intricate festival numbers, and favorite selections.

Capt. Alvin Smith and members of the Greenville Corps issue an invitation to the public to attend this concert.

PRIZE-WINNING COSTUMES — Dewan Umplett, Connie Rae Hardee and Tinney Cannon (left to right) won prizes last night for the "most original", the "ugliest" and "prettiest" Halloween costumes at the carnival sponsored by the Greenville Moose Lodge. An estimated 750 guests, including children and parents, attended the affair which featured many booths, games, refreshments, prizes and clowns.

Farmville Mart Had $78.55 Day

FARMVILLE — The Farmville tobacco market yesterday sold 78,286 pounds of tobacco for $61,495, for an average per hundred pounds of $78.55.

To date the market has sold 20,630,698 pounds of leaf for $18,077,252, for an average of $87.62 per hundred pounds.

The quality of tobacco on the Farmville market yesterday was much better than on the previous sales day.

Most of the volume consisted of leaf and cutter grades. Leaf grades accounted for top prices.

The Farmville market will hold its final sale for this tobacco season Thursday.

Bomb Killed 2 Children

BELFAST (AP) — Dressed in masks and witches' hats, 6-year-old Paula Strong and 4-year-old Clare Hughes left their Halloween bonfire Tuesday night and knocked the door of Benny's Bar to ask for pennies.

Just then a 100-pound bomb exploded in a car parked outside the Roman Catholic bar. Paula died instantly, Clare in the hospital.

"They were just like bloody bundles of rags lying there," said a woman living nearby.

It was the first major bombing in Belfast in two weeks, and 10 other persons were injured. Houses and offices were damaged for several hundred yards around.

Two other killings were reported in Belfast Tuesday, raising the confirmed toll to 624 in more than three years of communal violence in Northern Ireland.

Suspect Area Is Gang's Burial Ground

By JEANNINE YEOMANS
Associated Press Writer

UKIAH, Calif. (AP) — Sheriff's investigators continue their search today for more bodies on a tree-screened ranch which a state attorney says is rumored to be a "burying ground" for the Hell's Angels motorcycle gang.

The remains of two men and a woman already have been found on the ranch in what Dick Adams, special assistant to state Atty. Gen. Evelle J. Younger, said were originally well holes.

"Since there are other similar holes in the area, these will now be examined, although we do not have specific information concerning additional bodies," Adams said.

Investigators used earth moving equipment to search the area where the bodies were found alongside a circular driveway leading to the house.

The owners of the rolling ranch land three miles southwest of Ukiah where the three bodies were discovered Monday night, George "Baby Huey" Wethern and his wife Helen, have been charged with possession and sale of drugs. Wethern also was charged with possessing stolen property.

Wethern, 33, and his 29-year-old wife were being held at the Mendocino County jail in lieu of $100,000 bail each.

Authorities said that Wethern is a former Hell's Angel.

Younger said the search for bodies on the Wethern ranch began "in response to rumors the area was being used as a Hell's Angels burying ground".

Adams added that "some of the victims were believed to have been murdered by several members of the Hell's Angels, and Contra Costa County has issued warrants of arrest for these subjects."

However, Contra Costa Dist. Atty. William A. O'Malley denied warrants had been issued, and Mendocino County Sheriff Reno Bartolomei said it was still uncertain how the three victims died.

"George Wethern apparently gave a statement to some investigators yesterday in which he confirmed certain details of a report they had previously received that there were some bodies buried on his land on Boonville Road," public defender Joseph Allen, appointed temporarily to represent the Wetherns, said Tuesday.

"We don't know how they died," Allen said, "but the attitude of the sheriff and district attorney definitely indicates they don't suspect natural causes."

Asked if he could state the three did not die of natural causes, Bartolomei repliedG "I'm not even sure about that."

FORECAST FOR THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 2, 1972

CARROLL RIGHTER'S HOROSCOPE

from the Carroll Righter Institute

GENERAL TENDENCIES: An odd day in which you can get much cooperation from others if you make a special point not to bring up subjects that could bring on arguments. Most everyone feels benign and cooperative even though worldly judgment is not at its best. Show affection. Strive for harmony.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Associates are vital to you at this time so be sure to carry through with any promises made to them. Do favors for close ties. Generosity is wise, even if only of the spirit.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Show that you are dependable and with no desires to go off on any tangents. Do whatever is necessary to make your surroundings more charming. Buy the accessories you need today.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Steer clear of co-workers who are in an argumentative mood. Engage in the activities you enjoy and have a good time during spare hours. Make future plans and add to present happiness.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Show that you are willing to go halfway with kin in order to increase the tranquility at home. Avoid a higher-up who wants you to do what does not suit you. Relax tonight.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Improve daily routines so that they are easier and bring in more benefits. Talk over your plans with associates and arrive at a better understanding. Forget business tonight and be happy with mate.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Discuss with financial expert how to have more benefits in the future. Forget the ridiculous and frivolous for the time being and concentrate on the practical. Show that you have wisdom.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) You are charming and magnetic now and can easily sway others to your way of thinking. Accept an invitation to a party or give one yourself. This can help to gain your finest aims.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) You are able to do some research today that will bring you the right answers to a puzzling situation. Then forget the practical and have a fine romantic evening with the one you love.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) A fine day for being with good friends you have not seen in a long time. More cooperation with others brings an important aim within reach. Help others via your cheerful attitude.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) You need the assistance of an official today if you are to make advances in your career. Contact this person early. Try not to be too forceful concerning civic involvement.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Your new ideas are fine but you need to use a more modern system if you are to make them workable. Eliminate any anxiety. It's not your style. Do some positive thinking.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Take advantage of your good hunches now so you can discharge your duties in a most efficient manner. Forget emotionalism and use good judgment when planning the future with mate.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY . . . he or she will be one of those delightful young people who likes to cooperate with others and will have a positive flair for bringing greater happiness into the lives of others by being helpful to them. An ideal chart for the psychiatrist, the personnel worker and the government worker. A perfectionist is very much in this chart. Marriage here can be a most happy one.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you Make of your live is largely up to YOU!

The East Carolina University Mathematic Club has chosen four new officers for the 1972-73 academic year.

They are:. Bob Hudgins, president; Kenneth Bright, vice president; Carolyn Vick, treasurer; and Ann Williford, secretary.

The four began their year's duties at the club's first regular meeting. Guest speaker was Sammy Fadel, Data Processing Officer for Wachovia Bank and Trust Co., Greenville, who spoke on computers of the future.

Auxiliary Rally Set Thursday

The fall rally of the Woman's Auxiliary of Greenville District churches of the North Carolina Pentecostal Holiness Conference will be held Thursday at 7:30 o'clock, with the First P. H. Church hosting the meeting.

Mrs. Louis M. Jones, Greenville District director, will conduct the meeting.

Churches to be represented in this fall rally are located in Pitt, Lenoir, Greene and Wilson Counties.

Arrest 2 On Drug Counts

RALEIGH (AP) — Two officials of Wake Memorial Hospital in Raleigh have been arrested and charged with three counts each of drug possession and possession with intent to distribute drugs.

The two are Larry Sink, 32, director of nursing, and Sidney Kakitz, 56, an assistant administrator for purchasing.

Hospital Executive Director William F. Andrews said Tuesday that two have been granted a leave of absence from their posts "until the matter is settled."

Hospital and police officials declined to say whether the case involved drugs from the hospital.

Sink, who has been at the hospital one year, was arrested at his residence Monday night. He was charged with simple possession of amphethamines, possession with intent to distribute meprobamate and simple possession of methlorylon.

Kaitz, who has been employed at the hospital since 1961, was also arrested at his residence. He charged with possession with intent to distribute phenobarbital and simple possession of phenegan with codeine.

The drugs are various forms of stimulants and depressants.

Both men were released on bond. Trial was set for Nov. 29 in Wake District Court.

Grad Student To Direct Seminar

Thomas R. Ward, graduate student in the East Carolina University Department of Biology, will direct a departmental seminar Friday, at 1 p.m.

Ward will discuss his research on some of the biochemical aspects of injury to the liver resulting from chronic alcohol consumption.

Woman Officer Is Beaten By Inmates

RALEIGH (AP) — Four prisoners, including former death row inmate Marie Hill, are being held in segregation cells at North Carolina's Correctional Center for Women after a woman officer was beaten early Monday.

State Correction Commissioner Lee Bounds said Pauline G. Hicks escaped serious injury when she was attacked while making a routine check of rooms in a cottage classified for youthful offenders.

Others placed in segregation besides Miss Hill, 20, were Linda Neal, 18, Beatrice Richardson, 24, and Glenda Smith, 19.

Bounds said Mrs. Hicks opened the door to the room assigned to the Neal girl to find out why she was awake at 1:15 a.m. He said the girl pulled the officer into the room, pushed her onto the bed and placed a pillow over her face. He said she was "choked and pummeled", and when the attack was over only the Neal girl was in the room.

Bounds said he was "satisfied" from a preliminary investigation that the other three inmates were in the room at the time of the beating.

Miss Hill was sentenced in Edgecome County in 1968 to die for murder, but the sentence was later changed to life in prison.

Miss Richardson is serving 4-5 years for possession of marijuana with intent to distribute and possession of a hypodermic syringe and needle. Miss Neal was sentenced in Rockingham County in May, 1971, to a maximum of six years for attempted burning of a dwelling house.

Glenda Smith is serving two years for issuing worthless checks in Guilford County.

EXTENDED WEATHER OUTLOOK FOR N.C.

Occasional rain Friday night and Saturday, ending from the west Sunday. Warm, with highs mostly in the 70s and lows in the 50s.

U.S. Steel Reports Rebound In Profits

PITTSBURGH (AP) — U.S. Steel Corp., the nation's leading steel producer, reports it earned $30.9 million in the third quarter of 1972, compared with a loss of $21.5 million in the corresponding period a year ago.

Third quarter sales totaled $1.34 billion, up from $1.06 billion, while earnings per share were put a' 57 cents, compared with a loss of 39 cents a share for the 1971 third quarter.

But U.S. Steel said Tuesday the improved third quarter still left the company lagging behind last year's earnings pace.

Net income for the first nine months of 1972 was $102.31 million, or $1.89 a share, down from the same period last year when net income reached $108.08 million, or $2 a share.

Nine-month sales, however, were up from $3.88 billion to $3.91 billion.

Board Chairman Edwin H. Gott attributed the slackening profits to rising costs, including increased wages and pension costs which took effect Aug. 1.

The company said "the improvement in earnings as compared with the loss in the depressed third quarter of 1971 was expected."

In the 1971 third quarter, the industry suffered from sluggish shipments as customers built up stockpiles in anticipation of a threatened steel strike.

Bethlehem and National Steel Corps., the nation's second and third-ranked producers, respectively, both had earlier reported sharply increased earnings for the third quarter of this year.

School Of Art Senior Shows By Trio Are On Display This Week

For the second consecutive week, the East Carolina University School of Art senior shows comprise the work of two young men and one young woman artist with one-week shows on view.

This week, art viewers will have a bit more mileage to make to view the efforts of the artists — the shows are scattered out — one in the Student Union gallery; one at Baptist Student Center's gallery; and one in the gallery on the third floor of Rawl Hall.

Miss Sarah Ellen Adams, candidate for the BS degree in art, is the daughter of Cornelia Adams of Kernersville. In her show on the third floor of Rawl gallery, Sarah Ellen displays several portraits, flowers in watercolors, and large pen and ink drawing crammed to overflowing with figures — Overpopulation No. 1 is the title. A convincing touch is scored where the artist has extended the field of the outline of the drawing at one point with an outward curve to accommodate the swollen stomach of a woman about to add to the population growth.

Both Michael T. Barnes and Edgar (Gary) Lyston Pyle III, the other two seniors showing this week, are candidates for the BS degree in commercial art.

Barnes, son of Leo Barnes of Morehead City, notes he is a member of ECU's AFROTC and plans to become an Air Force pilot after graduation. He expresses a hope, however, to be able to continue his work in art while he is in military service.

His exhibit, installed in the gallery of the Baptist Student Center, features a variety of commercial designs, some very colorful, and a few black and white photographs.

Gary, whose exhibit occupies the flats and the showcase in the lobby of Student Union, has a charming doll house type of creation that would fascinate children. He also exhibits a modeled clay head (self-portrait?). A series of black and white photographs of men at work in a forest is very well done and creates interest with different individuals posed in the same locale.

These shows, like all senior art student shows, can be viewed at any hour coinciding with the opening hours of the places where the exhibits are shown.

Philippine Fish Exports Grow

MANILA (UPI)—Philippine exports of fish and other fishery products reached a record 29 million pesos ($4.15 million) in the first half of 1972, the Philippine Bureau of Fisheries reports.

Last year's exports for the same six-month period was only 16.7 million ($2.4 million) making the increase this year 73.6 per cent, said Fisheries Commissioner Gandres M. Mane.

Californians Have Auto Repair Shops Licensed

By CHARLES McFADDEN
Associated Press Writer

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — When Californians have a beef with an auto repair shop, they can tell their troubles to a new state consumer protection agency.

It's part of what state officials regard as the most sophisticated government-backed auto consumer protection plan in the nation.

To stay in business, all of California's approximately 35,000 auto repair shops must have a $50 license from the California Bureau of Automotive Repair.

The law that created the bureau last March says a license can be revoked or suspended for — among other things — "any willful departure from or disregard of accepted trade standards for good and workmanlike repair."

For instance, a driver in the San Francisco area recently paid more than $200 to have his car engine replaced, then found the original engine was still in the car. A bureau investigation resulted in a criminal complaint charging the garage owner with grand theft.

Bureau Director Robert Alexander says his agency is the only one of its kind in the nation. It was created as a unit of the state Department of Consumer Affairs.

In the first three months of this fiscal year, the auto repair bureau handled 7,436 complaints, Alexander said in an interview. The figure represented more than one-third of all consumer complaints logged during the period.

Alexander's agency doesn't handle new car warranty disputes and it doesn't step in on auto repair cases until the customer has complained unsuccessfully to the garage owner.

The bureau will then call the garage owner, let him know there has been a complaint and try to work things out so everyone is happy.

About two out of three cases are settled that way, Alexander said.

"If we get some feeling of fraud we turn it over to the Division of Investigation in the State Department of Consumer Affairs," Alexander added. "If we can prove our case, we go to the district attorney."

So far, the bureau has seven criminal cases in the works, Alexander said. The bureau has not yet revoked a license, but Alexander said about 100 investigations are under way.

Alexander said honest incompentence is the cause of more than half the complaints.

As part of its investigative work, the bureau has a small fleet of what Alexander calls "funny cars." They have been placed in perfect condition by the bureau's own mechanics or fixed so there is one specific thing wrong with them. If a garage being checked without the operator's knowledge recommends major work on one of the "funny cars" or tries to replace something that doesn't need replacing, it's in trouble.

Resistant Bumpers May Reduce Insurance Rates

By G. DAVID WALLACE
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — New bump-resistant bumpers on 1973 cars have triggered a drop in insurance rates, holding out the hope that for the first time car owners will save in operating costs the equivalent of the price of the federally ordered safety feature.

For some high-and moderate-risk drivers in metropolitan areas, the drop in insurance rates alone will make up the difference. For others, such as car owners in rural areas, the new bumpers will not pay off in cash unless their cars are involved in an accident, if then.

The current federal standard of protection for the new bumpers is limited. They must protect the safety-related items on a car when it is driven into a flat barrier, 5 miles per hour in front and 2½ m.p.h. in the rear.

"That's not the same as a bumper into a telephone pole, or a tree or another car," said one insurance company executive. "But we're betting our costs are coming down, so we can discount our rates by 10 per cent."

A survey of the five largest auto insurers showed all are offering 10-per-cent discounts on collision insurance for 1973 cars. Allstate and Travelers are offering bigger discounts for the handful of cars equipped with bumpers that exceed the new federal standards.

The 10-per-cent discount amounts to a $9 saving on the $88 estimated as the nationwide average annual premium for collision insurance that pays for all but $50 of repair bills.

Over a short term, that savings alone will not make up for the added $70 that the Bureau of Labor Statistics estimates customers will pay for the new bumper systems.

But the figures come closer to balancing out over 10 years, the estimated life of a car in the United States.

The balance can be more immediate for drivers with above-average insurance premiums.

With Allstate and Travelers, the better the bumper, the bigger the savings.

All of the 1973 Chrysler Corp. cars and American Motors Ambassadors and Matadors are certified for 15-per-cent discounts, which applies to cars that sustain no damage when hitting a barrier at 5 m.p.h. front and 2½ m.p.h. rear. The federal standard permits dented hoods and fenders as long as safety items such as lights or the cooling, exhaust or fuel systems aren't damaged.

Computing the savings on accidents is more difficult, but available figures indicate they are likely to be significant.

The Insurance Institute for Highway Safety found in a survey of auto damage claims that 47 per cent of them were for damage of $100 or less. In crashing 1972 cars into barriers at 5 m.p.h., the institute found the damage averaged $230.

Concerts Slated For Homecoming

The Beach Boys, Stevie Wonder and Tiny Alice are the three all-star attractions chosen this year to provide the music portion of entertainment for East Carolina University's 1972 Homecoming Weekend beginning Friday and continuing through Sunday.

The performers, who were at their height of public popularity during the sixties, are still strong contenders and are currently riding on a nationwaide wave of nostalgia for earlier sounds in rock music.

On Friday evening at 8:00 p.m. in Minges Coliseum, Stevie Wonder, who became something of a child wonder at the age of 12 in 1963, will headline the evening's bill. Tiny Alice, a not so tiny group of seven musicians, will lead off on the twin bill for the concert.

Admission to the Friday double-fare is $2.00 for ECU students and $3.00 for the general public.

— The Beach Boys make their appearance Sunday afternoon, also at Minges Coliseum. The beginning time for this second homecomingconcert is 2:00 p.m.

Tickets for the Beach Boys concert are priced at $3.00 for ECU students and $4.00 to the general public.

Tickets for either or both concerts are now available at the ECU Central Ticket Office.

$16 Million Suit Against Brother And Actress

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Actress Debbie Reynolds and her husband Harry Karl are named in a Superior Court suit seeking $16.2 million damages in which he is accused of gambling away $1 million in company funds and cheating his sister.

The suit against Miss Reynolds and Karl, the former owner of a shoe store group, was filed Tuesday by Karl's sister, Sarah Karl Pollack, and her three children.

The suit charges that Karl made misrepresentations to his sister about the company's financial condition that caused her to hold 7,100 shares of stock she and her children owned.

The stock declined in value from $7 million to $800,000, the suit charged. It also said Karl lost about $1 million in company funds in Las Vegas casinos and at the Friars Club in Beverly Hills.

Mrs. Pollack named Miss Reynolds since the actress holds joint property with her husband.

Why does the Anti-Tobacco lobby support Galifianakis?

A couple of years ago Senator George McGovern founded a campaign organization to help elect Ultra-Liberals to the United States Senate. The first name of this organization was "1970 Campaign Fund". It is now called "1972 Campaign Fund".

Two years ago this McGovern pressure group gave $70,000 in campaign contributions to help re-elect Senator Frank Moss, of Utah, The number one enemy of tobacco in the United States Senate.

In 1970, 1971, and 1972, Frank Moss introduced a bill to terminate all price supports for the Tobacco Industry.

Senator Herman Talmadge said it was "vicious" and that it would "abolish the Tobacco Program as we now know it . . . it would make paupers out of Tobacco Growers".

Senator Strom Thurmond said "it would carelessly and casually destroy an entire segment of the agricultural economy".

Senator William Spong said "it would destroy the livelihoods of thousands of small farmers and farm families".

Senator Sam Ervin said "it would take the bread out of the mouths of hundreds of thousands of little children".

Senator John Sherman Cooper said the Moss Bill "would destroy over 500,000 farms and farm families".

On the Board of Directors of the "1972 Campaign Fund" which funded Senator Moss are Brooks Hayes, Bayard Rustin, and former Senator Maureen Neuberger, whose book, "Smokescreen", is a vicious attack on our Tobacco Industry.

On September 26, the "1972 Campaign Fund", which was founded by Senator McGovern and so generously supported the Anti-Tobacco Senator Moss, gave $5,000 to Mr. Galifianakis

WHY?

What does this Anti-Tobacco lobbying group expect from Mr. Galifianakis for its $5,000?

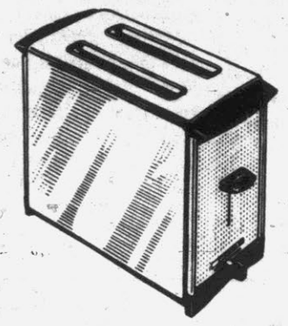

As Senator Jordan asked in the Primary: "Where do Nick's loyalties lie?" We think that is a good question.

Jesse Helms stands four square with our farmers, and will fight in the United States Senate FOR price supports.

Jesse Helms will be YOUR Senator, He's one of us!

Angel Flight Hosts Party For Children

The East Carolina University's General Chennault Squadron of Angel Flight and Arnold Air Society entertained 30 local chlidren Monday night in a Halloween Festival.

The Angel Flight is an honorary service organization for college women and is an auxilary of the Arnold Air Society - the Air Force ROTC cadet organization at E.C.U.

Members of both organizations dressed in costumes appropriate for Halloween. Some of the characters portrayed were Dracula, Ragedy Ann and Andy, a fireman and a fighter pilot.

The party was held in the Salvation Army building. The party room was decorated in orange and black colors with a scare crow and jack-o-laterns highlightling a fall harvest scene.

The children, ranging in ages from five to 13 years old, began the evening with a game of musical chairs with the winner receiving a prize. Bean bag throwing, apple bobbing, fishing, and fortune telling were enjoyed by all.

Refreshments of cake, popcorn, and Halloween candy were served and the evening was ended by each child receiving a present.

The Pony Express ran for only 19 months in 1860 and 1861 before the transcontinental telegraph put it out of business.

Name Three To Bowles' Group

The Pitt County steering committee for Bowles for Governor as appointed three area citizens to the Farmers for Bowles committee.

The committee announced that Lloyd Fornes, Jack S. Warren and R.H. McLawhorn have been named to the group and will help coordinate Farmers for Bowles activities.

Fornes, a Pitt County farmer lives in the Porter town section of the county and has been active in civic and community affairs.

Warren, who lives in Stokes, is also a farmer and is engaged in the fertilizer chemical business.

A prominent farmer, McLawhorn is president of Eastern Carpet. He is a former president of the Pitt County Farm Bureau and was instrumental in organizing the Farm Bureau hog market.

Tight Battle Pondered By Canadian Politicos

OTTAWA (AP) — Whether Pierre Elliott Trudeau or Robert Stanfield will be Canada's next prime minister remained in doubt today as political leaders and their advisers pondered the tightest general election battle in the nation's history.

Complete returns from Monday's vote gave Stanfield's Conservatives a one-seat edge — 109 to 108 — over Trudeau's Liberals in the new House of Commons. But the Conservatives were 25 seats short of a majority, and recounts in half a dozen close races could change the result.

It appeared unlikely that Prime Minister Trudeau would decide whether to relinquish the government reins he has held since 1968 until the recounts are completed.

The balance of power now lies with the socialistic New Democratic party, which won 30 seats. The Social Credit Party elected 15 members, all from Quebec, and two independents also won, completing the total of 264 members.

Trudeau was meeting with his Cabinet today to discuss the election outcome.

The prime minister could resign and let Stanfield form a minority government, or he could face Parliament and risk defeat by the combined opposition.

Most constitutional experts say Trudeau should face Parliament before resigning, but there are precedents for both courses of action.

Stanfield made clear that he is ready to assume power. He told a news conference Tuesday night that Trudeau "has lost the confidence of the people ... he should resign."

Liberal leaders offered a variety of reasons to explain their party's decline from 147 seats in the outgoing House to 108 and the Conservatives' comeback from 73 to 109.

Regional Expansion Minister Jean Marchand said the more affluent English-speaking provinces didn't like Trudeau's efforts to improve the lot of French-speaking Quebec and eastern Canada. The Liberals swept 56 of Quebec's 74 seats but failed to win a majority in any other province.

Environment Minister Jack Davis said the Liberals ran a weak campaign that invited defeat. "We campaigned on a record, and you don't win that way," he said.

Tricia Hosted 150 Children

WASHINGTON (AP) — Tricia Nixon Cox has hosted some 150 children and their foster grandparents from the ACTION program at a White House Halloween party.

Witches were stirring a bubbling cauldron on the White House porch and a great pumpkin covered the front door when the children and their escorts arrived Tuesday night.

Mrs. Cox was there to greet them, wearing a long dress and a sequined mask.

Special 'Emmy' Rites Scheduled

By JAY SHARBUTT
AP Television Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Academy of Television Arts and Sciences, which takes the tube very seriously, is doing something unique at Emmy Awards time next spring.

For the first time in its relatively young life, the academy is televising a separate awards show to honor what the judges deem national television's best news and documentary programs of 1972.

In the past, broadcast journalists picked up their Emmies either unnoticed or in a group that on television resembled the lineup at the 15th Precinct house after a burglary wave.

Now, with their own 90-minute show, they can take individual bows and won't have to stand in the shadow of assorted actors, singers, producers and other folk who deal only in entertainment fare.

The academy's Emmy Awards for entertainment are being distributed next May 20 from Hollywood in a one-hour special on ABC.

The newsmen will get their honors and show excerpts of their winning entries about a week or 10 days later in a program broadcast by CBS from New York.

"For a long time, the network news divisions have felt, quite properly, that they've been given short shrift on the Emmy show," said Thomas W. Sarnoff, a top NBC executive and academy chairman.

The work of the three networks, syndicated producers and the Public Broadcasting System will be considered for news Emmies.

They'll compete in five basic categories — hard news, magazine-type programs such as "60 Minutes," cultural documentaries, news documentaries and special events programs, such as coverage of last September's Munich tragedy during the Olympics.

The judges? They'll be what Sarnoff calls a "blue-ribbon panel" of at least 40 television critics and columnists from around the nation; they'll be flown to New York to see the shows and make their judgements.

Endorse 3 Amendments

RALEIGH (AP) — The North Carolina League of Women Voters has endorsed three proposed constitutional amendments that will be on the Nov. 7 ballot.

One amendment would allow the legislature to set mandatory retirement ages for judges and justices. Another would permit creation of a Judicial Standards Commission and machinery for censure and removal of judges.

Janes Hamner of Raleigh told a press conference the amendments "would give citizens a workable and effective recourse against incompetent judicial behaviour, a recourse that is fair to the citizens and fair to the judges."

Both amendments are strongly opposed by North Carolina Chief Justice William H. Bobbitt and Sen. Sam Ervin, D-NC.

The league also endorsed the amendment known as the "environemtal bill of rights." it took no stand on two other amendments on the ballot.

Driver Hurt In Collision

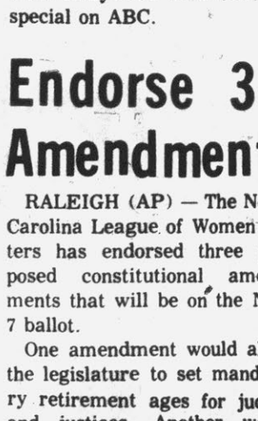

A Greenville man was injured Monday afternoon when the car he was driving crashed into the rear of a parked trash truck owned by the City.

Investigating officers reported that Jimmie Bradford Cannon of 111 Camelia Lane was injured in the 3:10 p.m. accident on Brownlea Drive near the Englewood Drive intersection.

Officers said that lights on the rear of the city-owned vehicle were not in operation at the time of the accident. They estimated damages to the car driven by Cannon at $1,200.

George David Lewis Jr. of Rt. 1, Box 204, Grimelsand was charged with passing on the right following a traffic mishap this morning on E. Tenth Street west of Wright Road.

Involved in the 6:30 accident were cars driven by Lewis and Richard Grimes of 1002 Bancroft Avenue. Damage was estimated at $100 to the Grimes vehicle and $95 to the Lewis automobile.

JANE, CLOSE THE REFRIGERATOR DOOR. QUICK.

You'll be on your way to a slimmer figure in more ways than one.

Because it's not the economical electricity you use that gets your bill out of shape; it's the electricity you waste. That refrigerator door you held open again. Those full loads of hot hot water for a dishwasher that's only half full. The front porch light that's been on since you came home from the movies last night.

Tips to help you reduce wastes like these—and get the most for your electric dollar—are what our new money-saving booklet is all about. It's called "How to Save on Your Electric Bill," it's available free at any Vepco office—and it's full of simple money-saving suggestions for every room in the house.

Today's electricity is more convenient than ever, but we want you to enjoy the economy, too. So we hope you'll make it a point to stop by or call for your copy of "How to Save on Your Electric Bill" soon.

NEW YORK (AP) — Prices rose rapidly today in the stock market, accelerating from Tuesday's broad rally. Volume was heavy.

The 11:30 a.m. Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was up 13.25 to 968.77. Gaining issues on the New York Stock Exchange were ahead of losers nearly 3 to 1.

The Big Board's volume leader was Digital Equipment, up 4 to 84¼, rebounding from a drop of 5¼ in Tuesday's trading. The loss followed a company statement that it was experiencing supply problems.

In second place was Deere & Co., up ¼ to 41½. The company recently increased its production schedule and raised its dividend.

Exxon Corp. also was active, up 1¾ to 85¼. It formerly was Standard Oil of New Jersey.

U.S. Steel, which reported a third quarter profit compared with a loss in last year's third quarter, was up ¾ to 28¾.

On the American Stock Exchange, Teleprompter led the actives, up 2⅛ to 32⅝.

Also active were Ponderosa Systems, ahead 1¼ to 56⅞, and Leasco Corp. warrants, off ¼ to 6⅛.

At 11 a.m. the New York Stock Exchange index was ahead .41 to 61.53.

The Amex's price change index was up .06 to 25.99.

On a percentage basis the Big Board's best gainer was Mountain Fuel Supply, up 5½ to 63 for a rise of 9.6 per cent. The issue rose 4¼ Tuesday after reporting preliminary indications of a potential for gas and oil at a Wyoming well.

Development Body Selected

FARMVILLE — A committee was appointed to plan development of downtown Farmville when merchants, property owners and other interested persons met at Chamber of Commerce-called meeting here last night.

Named to the committee were Eli Joyner Jr., chairman, Horace Allen, Cedric Davis, and Jack McDavid.

The group discussed improvement of store fronts, instituting more uniform shopping hours, seeking offstreet parking space, and investigating the feasibility of widening Main and Wilson Streets in the downtown area.

Yellowstone National Park was established by Congress on March 1, 1872.

Repeats No New Taxes

By LESLIE WAYNE
For The Associated Press

WINSTON-SALEM, N.C. (AP) — Democratic gubernatorial candidate Hargrove "Skipper" Bowles repeated his pledge Wednesday that the state can make "real advances" in the next four years without raising taxes.

In an airport news conference, Bowles predicted a $900 million surplus in the next biennium, and called for additional funding for career education, mental health and state kindergarten programs.

"We can have these programs, and more, without new taxes," he said.

The $900 million surplus will come from state bond issues, federal revenue sharing, reordering of state budget priorities and from revenues caused by "normal economic growth," he said.

Bowles called for additional funds for health care, nutrition education, crime and drug programs, and said he would ask for a $40 million state parks bond issue.

Bowles termed "reckless" charges made by his Republican opponent, Jim Holshouser, that Bowles' career education program would be the "most radical and reckless change in the history of education in North Carolina."

"It's strange that he is talking about this when our plans have been known for over a year," Bowles said.

Bowles repeated that he was confident of victory on Nov. 7. "I'm convinced that people want a new brand of politics, politics of issues, not personalities," he said.

Pettyjohn Runs Economical Race

Arlis Pettyjohn, the American Party candidate for governor, made an abrupt change in his campaign plans today and drove two hours and 100 miles out of his way to keep a last-minute appointment.

In a campaign where the main means of transportation is Pettyjohn's 1966 automobile, a 100-mile departure from the schedule is a major change.

However, a Washington, N.C., television station offered Pettyjohn some free news time and Pettyjohn rarely passes up an opportunity to get free television exposure.

"That way I can reach a lot of people," Pettyjohn said in an interview.

The Washington television station, he said, offered him a minute of news time and promised to play the interview more than once. "I couldn't pass that up," Pettyjohn said.

It would have cost "a lot of money" to buy that much time, he said.

Pettyjohn has not bought any television ads in his campaign.

During his low-budget campaign, Pettyjohn said he has spent a major portion of his time talking to newsmen.

He said he fully expects to win but, "If I don't get elected, I'll have informed the people and done a good education program."

Pettyjohn was to resume his schedule later today and head to Charlotte, where he has a full day of campaigning planned for Thursday.

Agreement Ends Discrimination Suit Complaint

GREENSBORO (AP)—A consent decree has settled a Justice Department employment-discrimination suit against Pilot Freight Carriers with back payment of $110,000 to some 125 blacks by the trucking firm.

Under the decree, the firm, with headquarters in Winston-Salem, agrees to take certain action to dispose of the case, but does not admit guilt.

The Justice Department had charged last year that Pilot, which operates in 13 states, discriminated against blacks. The consent decree requires Pilot to distribute the back pay to the blacks, mostly of whom were rejected job applicants, and to offer jobs to those who were rejected. The company also is required to allow quaified black employes to transfer to higher-paying road-driving jobs, and to fill future road-driving vacancies with an equal number of black employes and white employes. Pilot has 2,500 employes.

The family will be at the home Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Speight near Greenville.

Monroe Gratified By Academy's Recognition

Dr. Edwin Monroe, dean of health affairs at East Carolina University, expressed gratitude for the North Carolina Academy of Family Physicians' commendation of the ECU Medical School.

The Board of Directors of the Family Physicians' Academy enacted the commendation resolution during the Academy's recent 24th Scientific Assembly meeting in Raleigh.

The resolution states that "The Academy of Family Physicians especially commends the role being played by Family Physicians on the Medical School admissions committee; the use of Family Physicians as preceptors in the School's Community Medicin program; the involvement of Family Physicians in the Medical School's organization and academic committees."

It further states that the Academy "commends the East Carolina University who have expressed the desire to become Family Physicians to serve the people of North Carolina."

Dr. Monroe said, "We are extremely pleased and gratified that the Academy of Family Physicians of North Carolina has recognized the effort we have made to include practicing physicians and particularly family physicians in the planning of our programs and in the procedures to select and teach medical students. We really have tried very hard to select students who are interested in practicing medicine and to work closely with practicing physicians in our medical education program."

His Name Is Plain 'Bear'

DETROIT (AP) — John Edward Olson is now Bear. That's all. Just plain Bear.

The 20-year-old Plymouth, Mich., youth answers to Teddy, Yogi, Smokey and other bearish nicknames after having his named changed legally last week.

Wayne County Probate Judge Joseph J. Pernick approved the name change after Bear explained nobody knew him by his real name. Pernick said he could find no law against having a single name.

Bear said the name calling began when he was a boy. He was small for his age, and people considered him cuddly, like a teddy bear. Sometimes they would call him Johnny Bear, or Yogi or Smokey.

"And then it was just plain Bear," Bear said. "It's been that way for about eight years."

Having a one-word name has both advantages and disadvantages, Bear said.

When he registered to vote, for example: "The lady said, 'This can't be right. You've got to have more than one name. Come on now.'"

But girls like his name.

"It's miraculous how many dates I can get this way," he said. "It (the name) stops them. They think it's unique."

Reinstate Tax

RALEIGH (AP) — Passengers boarding planes at the Raleigh-Durham Airport today will have to pay a $2 head tax.

The boarding tax was reinstated by the Airport Authority Tuesday in the wake of President Nixon's veto last Friday of a bill that would have outlawed the tax.

The authoirity had first levied the tax Sept. 1, but halted collection Oct. 14 after Congress gave final approval to the bill banning the tax.

Clothing Bank Opens Thursday

The Moose Clothing Bank will re-open on Thursday, November 2nd for the benefit of needy families. Members of the Women of the Moose will be on hand every Thursday morning during the hours of 10 to noon as announced by Clothing Bank Chairman, Miss Evelyn Beasley.

Entrance to the Clothing Bank is at the Maxwell Street side door of the Moose Lodge.

Davis Elected Fund Trustee

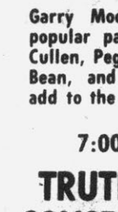

NEW YORK (AP)—Archie K. Davis, chairman of the Wachovia Bank & Trust Co., has been elected a trustee of the Duke Endowment.

He replaces the late Dr. Wilburt C. Davison.

Teams Enter Final Week Of Grid Year

Ayden-Grifton's Melvin Stewart

The final week of the regular season is here, and most teams are hoping to finish up with a victory before packing their gear away.

But at least one area team has already sewn up a post-season berth and another is hoping to do Firday night.

For area Eastern Carolina Conference teams, however, it's "wait until next year" for them.

Southern Nash has wrapped up the Eastern Carolina Conference playoff berth, downing Charles B. Aycock last weekend to clinch at least a tie for the title. A victory by the Firebirds this week over D.H. Conley would give them the title outright, while a loss, coupled with a Greene Central win over Eastern Wayne, would bring about a tie.

The Firebirds, however, having beaten Greene Central, would still get the playoff nod.

Robersonville of the Tobacco Belt League, will be seeking its 22nd straight victory, and 10th of the year over Pantego, as it wraps up its league play. The Golden Eagles have already assured themselves of a playoff berth in the 1-A ranks, and will face Camden of the Tidewater Conference in Elizabeth City on November 10. Camden tied with Knapp for the title, but got the playoff nod. They carry an 8-1 record going into this weekend's games.

Williamston's Tigers, of the Albermarle Conference, must win this weekend or at least tie, to pull out their championship. They face Edenton, one of two teams still with a chance at the title. The Tigers are 8-0 in the league, while Murfreesboro and Edenton are 7-1. Edenton could only win if they beat Williamston and Murfreesboro also loses. Murfreesboro cannot win outright since a victory by them, coupled with an Edenton win would result in a 3-way tie, bringing on a vote for the title. A Williamston win or a tie, however, would give the title to the Tigers.

In Eastern Carolina play this weekend, North Pitt goes to Southern Wayne, Greene Central visits Eastern Wayne, North Lenoir hosts Ayden-Grifton, Conley travels to Southern Nash and C.B. Aycock is the guest of Farmville Central.

The toughest job belongs to Conley, trying to stop Southern Nash from a perfect season. The Vikings gave Farmville Central a hand-full last week before finally bowing.

"It was a right good game to watch," Coach Ken Treadway said. "We drew first blood, but they moved the ball well on us and tied it up in the third quarter. Late in the final period, we drove but then stalled, and they took it in to get the win."

Treadway said the Jaguars wore his team out, and that was the story of the game.

He praised Calvin Hawkins and Willie Hawkins for their ball-carrying, Johnny Smith for his play at offensive end, Charlie Tyson at center, and Wayne Maness on defense.

"I'm sure Southern Nash wants to go undefeated, and they'll be aiming for them," Treadway said. "They may slack off, but I look for them to come at us hard. Tye have the best line in the conference, but we're working hard and won't give up. But I'll admit that it'll take a great effort to beat them."

Ayden-Grifton can't win the title now, but the can still have a fine 8-2 record with a victory. The handled North Pitt easily last week, scoring every time they had the ball. "One of their touchdowns was the result of four straight 15 yard penalties, and then they scored after recovering a fumble and running it back," Coach Mike Overton said of his opponents.

Overton singled out Tom Craft for his defensive play. "He made the first six tackles in the game, and ended up with 14 or 15 for the night," he said.

He also praised the running of Willie Stewart, who ran for 216 yards.

The Chargers will face North Lenoir, a team that has "been banged up most of the season," according to Overton. "We don't really know that much about them, we'll prepare for them like we have everybody else."

Farmville Central, after dropping four of its first five, can end up even, 5-5, if they pull off a victory over C.B. Aycock this week. After their game with Conley, however, Coach Gene Brewer wasn't too happy with the effort.

"It was a long night," he said. "We didn't play real well. The game was about as tight as it could get. But we finally decided to start blocking and tackling and that brought us back."

NP's Johnny Vines

FC's Roger Marston

Brewer praised the play of Conley, however, and singled out Willie Hawkins for his fine play. "We were lucky to get by them," he said.

On his own team, he had praise for the running of Jimmy Langley and the play of Roger Marston.

"Aycock hasn't won a conference game after getting their opening game (a non-conference affair). I don't know what their roblem has been, but I certainly hope they don't get it worked out this week."

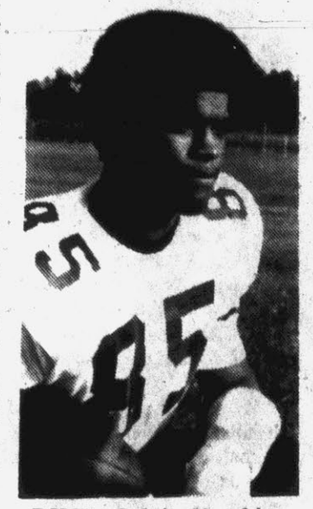

After the Farmville Central comeback from 0-4 to a chance at 5-5, Brewer says he's still not overjoyed with the record. "The boys have done a good job," he said "since the Ayden-Grifton game."

North Pitt, going against Southern Wayne, has a chance to win its third game of the year, after a disappointing performance, defensively, against Ayden-Grifton.

"I think it was our worst defensive performance since we started football," Wilmer said. "Offensively, we ran when we wanted to and did a good job of blocking them. We just didn't have the ball enough. We never forced them to kick."

Wilmer singled out Darrell Cogdell, Ben Johnson and Johnny Vines for their play in the game. "The whole offensive lind did well, too, he added. "It's a shame that Johnson is a senior. He's just coming into his own. He may be the best passer in the conference now."

Southern Wayne, after a disappointing season, downed Eastern Wayne last week for its third win of the year. "If we can get fired up, and play some defense, we'll have a chance," Wilmer said. "But we know we're going to have our hands full with them. We've got to stop Phil Platt. We know we can score now, we just hve to get our defense going."

Murphy's Shot Nips The Hawks

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

"That's the way to win them, man," little Calvin Murphy declared. "Why get a big lead at the start and take away all the suspense?"

Murphy, Houston's 5-foot-10 backcourtman, almost went too far with the suspense bit Tuesday night, but came up with the big play that gave the Rockets a 106-105 victory over the Atlanta Hawks in National Basketball Association action.

With 15 seconds to go and Houston in front 104-102, Murphy lost the ball on a turnover. Atlanta's Pete Maravich sank a 14-foot jumper with 10 seconds left to tie the game, was fouled on the play and hit the free throw to put Atlanta up by one.

But Murphy atoned for his mistake by coming right back down court and sinking a 15-foot jump shot with just three seconds showing on the clock, giving Houston the one-point victory.

Three Weeks To ACC Title

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The next three weeks will decide the Atlantic Coast Conference football champion. Four teams are in the running—defending champion North Carolina, 3-0 in the league, Duke, Clemson and North Carolina State, each with one conference loss.

State's 24-24 tie with Maryland in the opening game may become a factor since a tie counts as a half win, half loss.

North Carolina is at Clemson Saturday, and the Clemson Tigers must win to remain in contention.

The other league game sends the high-scoring State Wolfpack against the Virginia Cavaliers at Charlottesville.

Duke will be home to Georgia Tech, Maryland will be at 10th-ranked Penn State, and Wake Forest will be at South Carolina in a night game.

North Carolina has won its last 12 games, tieing a record also held by Duke.

North Carolina will have Virginia and Duke remaining the following two Saturdays. Clemson will have to face Maryland and State. Duke will close out against Wake Forest and North Carolina.

The ACC record against non-conference competition is 13-13, the best at this stage in four years. There are nine games remaining against outsiders. Last year's tally against them was 15-24.

Coach Lou Holtz was pleased with the work of three sophomore defensive tackles in North Carolina State's workout Tuesday. They were John Goeller, Randy Lail and Sam Senneca.

North Carolina Coach Bill Dooley said Clemson has jelled and is a definite threat for the ACC championship. He told his weekly news luncheon that Ken Pengitore has become a more consistent quarterback in the last few weeks, and that has made a big difference in Clemson's offense.

Clemson was on the practice field nearly six hours. Coach Hootie Ingram said, "We worked on fundamentals more than usual, but it was something I thought we needed."

Virginia said that Dave Sullivan, top pass receiver in the league, was running at full speed, apparently recovered from a pulled hamstring.

Squire Rally Tops Carolina

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Virginia Squires played a waiting game and all the self-control paid off with a victory Tuesday night.

The Squires, leading the American Basketball Association East, trailed Carolina 60-52 at the half and 90-85 after three quarters. But then they began to move behind center Jim Eakins and forward Julius Erving.

Eakins and Erving each scored 10 points in the fourth period and the Squires pulled the game out 120-114.

"I think our team, even though it got behind, went right ahead with its game plan," said Johnny Kerr, the Virginia general manager. "They got the ball in to our center and it worked just beautifully."

Virginia had used up much of three periods trying to shut off the hot-shooting Joe Caldwell, who finished with 36 points. Teammates Billy Cunningham and Mack Calvin added 19 and 15 points, respectively, for the Cougars.

As it was, it took a 35-point period for Virginia and a defense that held Carolina to 24 points to get the victory. Eakins scored a total of 31 points while Erving had 24 and Bernie Williams added 17.

In other ABA action, Denver whipped Utah 116-103 and Kentucky beat San Diego 119-109.

Warren Jabali scored 28 points, 13 in the fourth quarter, and had 10 assists as Denver snapped its four-game losing streak. The victory also broke a four-game Utah winning streak. Jabali and Dave Robisch, who had 20 points, helped the Rockets pull away after the game was tied 88-88 early in the fourth period. Willie Wise led the Stars with 25 points.

Dan Issel and Artis Gilmore hit 36 and 22 points, respectively, in a game where Kentucky pulled away strongly from a 68-68 tie in the middle of the third period. The Colonels were scoreless for 6½ minutes of the period but then held San Diego without a points for 5½ minutes. Stu Johnson scored 32 points while Chuck Williams added 20 for the Conquistadors.

Cougars Ink Brown

GREENSBORO, N. C. (AP)—The Carolina Cougars of the American Basketball Association announced Wednesday the signing of 6-11½ center Roger Brown, bringing the club's roster to the maximum 12 players.

Brown, a native of Chicago, was graduated from Kansas University in 1971 after being drafted No. 4 by the National Basketball Association Los Angeles Lakers and No. 1 by the Dallas Chaparrals of the ABA.

He signed with the Lakers but spent last season with Rome in the Italian league.

Cougar Coach Larry Brown said the big center would be a welcome addition. Brown said Mike Lewis and Tom Owens "have been doing a super job" at center for the Cougars but if either got hurt, Brown added, the team would be in trouble.

"Roger is a great kid and he's going to help," said the coach.

Brown was a mainstay on the 1970-71 Kansas team, which bowed to UCLA in the National Collegiate Athletic Association semifinals. During his senior year, Brown contributed 11.2 points and 11.1 rebounds per game.

Schools Might Protest League

Formation of an 11-term 4-A league in Eastern North Carolina may have hit a stumbling block. Reportedly, some schools are unhappy with the proposed setup, and plan to enter an appeal to the North Carolina High School Athletic Association.

The NCHSAA, which will have final say in the situation, has entered a plan calling for 11 teams in the east to form the new Division I. The teams would be Northeastern (Elizabeth City), Bertie Central, Northern Nash, Rocky Mount, Wilson, Greenville, Goldsboro, Kinston, New Bern, Jacksonville and New Hanover (Wilmington).

Several of the teams in the proposed grouping, however, are unhappy with the travel distances which will be involved, despite a ruling that only eight games would be played each year in football and 16 in basketball. Some sort of plan would then be devised to allow equal playing of each with the other over a period of years.

Three of the teams, however, said they would not enter such a wide-spread division, and would request to be put in with teams in the Raleigh area instead.

This brought about another move to try and keep the teams together if possible, and alternate plan was developed.

Under this plan, Northeastern, Bertie Central, Northern Nash, Rocky Mount, Wilson and Greenville would form one division, while Kinston, Goldsboro, New Bern, Jacksonville and New Hanover would form another. This would mean more than eight divisions in the state and would hamper or alter state playoffs, but it is felt that some plan to continue these could be worked out, going to a 14th game if necessary.

This plan will be submitted to the NCHSAA, unless something develops prior to the deadline of next week for submitting appeals.

Two other area schools affected by the realignment of the state's classifications say they are happy with their new leagues. Robersonville, a member of the Tobacco Belt Conference, plans to enter a 2-A conference involving teams in Wilson, Johnston, and Edgecombe counties. Williamston, now in the Albemarle, will advance into the 3-A Northeastern Conference.

The removal of Robersonville from the Martin County Conference in both basketball and baseball would leave that league with only three members, and it is uncertain what Oak City, Bear Grass and Jamesville plan to do.

Club Shines In Tournament

East Carolina's Karate Club won the North Carolina state championship this past weekend in Charlotte. This is the fourth straight year the club has taken top honors in the tourament.

The club's instructor, Bill McDonald, stated that "this year was the hardest yet as the club won the team trophy by only two points with two other clubs tying for second. "The ECU club won 15 trophies for 38 points while the other two had 36. "It was a team effort," stated McDonald, "If any one of our winners had lost, we would not have gotten first place."

Ronnie Rowell, a black belt, was a double winner for the club as he took a first in Kata (form and movements) and a third place in Kumite (sparing). In the Junior division, Terry Barnes won in the Kumite. She is 15. William Joyner, a 14 year-old, won his fifth straight first place in the sparing competition. He has yet to be beaten.

Barnes and Joyner were part of a group of participants entered by the Greenville Recreation department in the children's division. This division is made up of peewees and Juniors, ages 6-16. The group won a total of six trophies out of apossible 12.

Competition began Saturday morning with 460 entrants and the finals were held that night.

There will be a tournament in Greenville on Saturday, December 2, the Geju-Shorin Classics. It will be held in the Rose High school gym. Eliminations will begin at 10 a.m. with the finals to be held at 8 p.m. Entrants will be in groups from age six to 15 and college groups, white belt to black.

Gaylord Perry Gets AL's Cy Young Award

By WOODY PEELE
Reflector Sports Writer

Gaylord Perry, who came out of Martin County to be a big-league pitcher, achieved the pinnacle of his career yesterday when he was named the 1972 American League Cy Young Award winner.

Perry, 34, joins his brother Jim, 36, a pitcher for the Minnesota Twins, as a winner of the award. They are the first brother duo to each capture the coveted award.

"It's a happy day in my life," Perry said yesterday from his home in the San Francisco area. "It's the real high point of my career. I put the entire season on the line, and it came out real good and I got the top award."

Perry was entertaining company from Greenville when the news came through. Dr. and Mrs. M.W. Aldridge were visiting him at the time. "We uncorked a bottle of champagne and had a toast right there," Perry said.

"It was my best season ever," he added. "There were two or three factors in having it. First my manager (Ken Aspromonte) put me out there every four days." The big right-hander, who earlier was one of two American Leaguers named to the Ap's All-Star team, never missed a turn throughout the season, starting 40 games. He completed 29 of them, tops in the majors.

"My catcher, Ray Fosse, did an outstanding job in setting up the batters for me, and also there is only one Astroturf infeild in the American League. The rest are all natural grasses. I'm a low ball pitcher and try to get them to hit the ball on the ground. On Astroturf, the ball moves through a little quicker. Grass helps out in slowing it down."

Perry added that the National League has six artificial turf parks.

Perry pitched for 10 years with the San Francisco Giants but was traded to Cleveland this past spring. During the year, he posted a 24-16 season for the fifth place Indians, winning a full third of their games. He had the best earned run average of his career, 1.92, which was second in the league to Luis Tiant's 1.91. Eight of the 16 losses he suffered were by one run.

The Williamston ace fanned over 200 batters, going 341 innings, second only to Wilbur Wood.

He compared the American League hitters to that of the National saying they were quite equal. "No club in the American has the power of the Pirates," he said. "But after that, the rest are all pretty much equal. Oakland showed that the American League is no pushover," he added.

Perry also said that the competition for the pitching honors was quite stiff. He won out, 64-58 to Wood of the White Sox. Mickey Lolich of Detroit, along with the fine Baltimore staff and the Oakland staff, make competition difficult in the league.

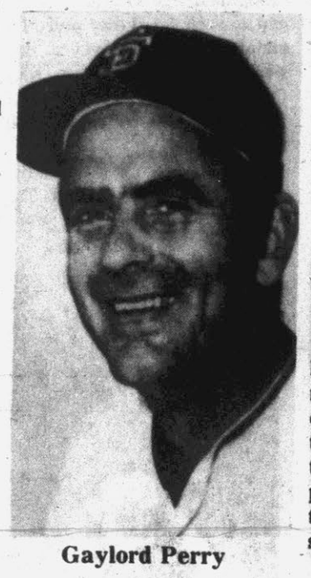

Turning to next year, Perry said he hoped Cleveland "still wants me," refering to his surprising trade of last year. "We had a lot of young players this year. Next year, they'll have to prove that they're big leaguers and not rookies anymore. I'm sure that the management is also looking around for some good trades, but I don't think they're going to give anything away."

"I still think I have a few good seasons left, and I'm going to take them one at a time," he added.

Perry's joining of his brother with the Cy Young makes twice the two have made history. Two years ago, when Jim won the Cy Young, the two were the first brother combination to both win 20 games in a season. Gaylord, who was 23-12 that year, lost out to Bob Gibson that year for the award. At the time, he said that the Parry mantle was large enough for two. "Jim's got his. I'll get mine."

Yesterday, Gaylord finally got his.

He and his family plan to be in the area in a "couple of weeks," he said.

ANGELS FEATURE RYAN

ANAHEIM, Calif. (AP) — The California Angels are featuring pitcher Nolan Ryan these days, and with good reason. Going into August the young fastball pitcher had a 12-8 record and 170 strikeouts in his first 152 innings.

On July 9 he shut out Boston 3-0 for his fifth straight victory and his fifth shutout of the season. Ryan was obtained from the New York Mets for Jim Fregosi.

Colorado Has Difficult Task

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Can Colorado do to Nebraska on Saturday what it did to Oklahoma two weeks ago?

The unpredictable Buffaloes, who seem to be involved in an upset in one way or another just about every week, entertain the third-ranked but once-beaten Cornhuskers this weekend with a chance to destroy once and for all their dream of an unprecedented third consecutive national college football championship.

Colorado has been a puzzlement, struggling past lowly California in the opening game, losing to underdogs Oklahoma State and Missouri but defeating highly ranked Oklahoma and Iowa State.

Nebraska, on the other hand, has outscored its last six opponents 315-14 after dropping its opener to UCLA. In addition, the Cornhuskers are second nationally in total offense, third in passing, first in scoring, tops in total defense—including four straight shutouts—eighth in rushing defense, sixth in pass defense and third in scoring defense. Colorado isn't among the leaders in any of those categories.

Nebraska's Bob Devaney doesn't lose many games and he's never lost in Boulder. The pick ... Nebraska.

Oklahoma at Iowa State—This one matches the Big Eight's other two bowl teams of a year ago. Oklahoma's statistics are almost as impressive as Nebraska's—No. 1 in total offense and rushing, third in scoring, eighth in total defense, seventh in rushing defense and tied for first in scoring defense with Michigan. Next for Iowa State is Nebraska. For the present, it's ... Oklahoma.

Southern California at Washington State—Top-ranked Trojans are looking ahead ... to a week off, followed by UCLA and Notre Dame. Southern Cal.

Mississippi at Louisiana State—Ole Miss has been in and out and might catch the Tigers looking ahead to Alabama ... were it not for the Rebels' 24-22 triumph a year ago. LSU.

Stanford at UCLA—UCLA is the nation's No. 1 basketball school and Stanford's quarterback is Mike Boryla, whose old man used to put the round ball through the hoop with regularity. Mike is the NCAA's No. 4 passer. Upset Special of the Week ... Stanford.

Southern Methodist at Texas—Mustangs gave Texas a battle royal (no relation to Darrell) before losing 22-18 a year ago but were caught looking ahead by Texas Tech last week. It'll be SMU's fourth-rated rushing defense against the eighth-ranked ground game of ... Texas.

Auburn at Florida—Tigers are the surprise team of the country. Auburn.

Tennessee at Georgia—Tennessee's defense has been super, Georgia's offense has been mostly nonexistent. Tennessee.

Air Force at Army—Ben Martin says the Falcons are "almost as good as some of our bowl teams." Army has no speed. Air Force.

Purdue at Michigan State—Believe it or not, Purdue is tied for the Big Ten lead with Michigan and Ohio State, but the Boilermakers are underdogs in this one. Okay. Michigan State.

Mississippi State at Alabama—Next week it's 'Bama-LSU. This week it's just ... Alabama.

Michigan at Indiana—Hoosiers' bubble has burst with two straight setbacks. Make it three. Michigan.

Missouri at Kansas State—Missouri has knocked off Notre Dame and Colorado and faces Oklahoma next week. Logical spot for the Second Upset Special of the Week ... Kansas State.

Dartmouth at Yale—Bulldogs have won 'em all this year in the Bowl and lost their one road game. Enough of that. Dartmouth.

Other games:

South—Louisville over Tulsa, Penn State over Maryland, The Citadel over Richmond, North Carolina over Clemson, William & Mary over Davidson, Georgia Tech over Duke, East Carolina over Chattanooga, Florida State over Houston, Kent State over Marshall, Memphis State over Wichita State, Miami, Fla. over Nevada-Las Vegas, South Carolina over Wake Forest, Tampa over Florida A&M, Tulane over Kentucky, Furman over VMI, North Carolina State over Virginia, Virginia Tech over Southern Mississippi.

Murphy's . . .

"We were fortunate to win," Murphy said afterwards. "Maravich made a great shot to put them ahead, and I just made a lucky one to win it for us."

In other NBA games, Cleveland topped Philadelphia 126-116, Chicago beat Kansas City-Omaha 104-95 and Golden State defeated Detroit 112-104.

Houston's Jack Marin had a game-high 26 points, while Murphy finished with 20. For Atlanta, Walt Bellamy had 23, Maravich 21 and Lou Hudson 20.

Change Might Improve Money

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Third baseman Don Money says that maybe this is just what he needs, a change of scenery and a chance to start off with a fresh viewpoint and a clear mind.

The 25-year-old Money was traded by the Philadelphia Phillies along with pitcher Billy Champion and minor league infielder John Vukovich to the Milwaukee Brewers for pitchers Jim Lonborg, Ken Brett, Ken Sanders and Earl Stephenson.

"It was simply a case of having too many people wanting to help you," said Money after learning of Tuesday's seven-player deal. "There was too much advice and too many suggestions when you were in a batting slump. It's the sort of thing that can be overdone."

"I've had too much instruction already and now I want to go on my own," said Money, who hit .222 last season with 15 home runs and 52 RBI.

Lonborg said he was excited about the idea of pitching in a new league (National) and that his arm was as good as ever. He said the knee he injured in a skiing accident the winter after he won 22 games for Boston in 1967, hasn't bothered him since the operation.

The 29-year-old Lonborg won 14 and lost 12 for Milwaukee last year.

Brett, a 24-year-old left-hander, won seven and lost 12 for Milwaukee in his third major league season.

If you're thinking about buying a house in the next few months, you're probably worried that interest rates may go up again. They may. But you don't have to worry.

In fact, if you have an Early Mortgage when interest rates go up you'll be far from worrying.

You'll be smiling.

You see, The Early Mortgage is a commitment from First Federal to give you a mortgage even before you start to look for a home. You find the house. The money will be there waiting.

And, should interest rates go up during the term of The Early Mortgage (three months), you're not affected at all. You get the exact interest rate we agreed upon when you first came to see us and we approved your Early Mortgage.

That's why you can smile. We're committed.

But you're not. You don't have to use all of the money we've reserved for you. You don't even have to use any of it. All we ask is that once you've found the house you want you'll let us look it over to be sure it justifies your investment. And that you pay the closing costs.

Now if that sounds good to you, you've got a treat in store.

Pirates Back On Top In Rushing Defense

East Carolina University's Pirates, allowing only 11 yards on the ground by Furman University Saturday, have returned to first place in the nation in rushing defense.

According to the latest statistics from the National Collegiate Sports Service, the statistical arm of the NCAA, the Bucs are allowing 68.6 yards per game. Southern California is in second place, giving up 70.1 yards per game.

The Bucs are third in total defense allowing 198.6 yards per contest over the seven games so far. Nebraska leads in the category with an average of 173.9, while Notre Dame is second with a 198.3 average just three-tenths of a yard ahead of the Bucs.

Two individual members of the Pirate offense rank high in three national categories.

Carlester Crumpler, averaging 107.3 yards per game after his 152-yard output Saturday, is now tied for 11th in the nation in rushing. Bob Hitchens of Miami of Ohio leads that group with a 142.4 yard average.

Crumpler has also broken into the All-Purpose Rushing category, standing 21st with a 130.1 average. This includes rushing, pass receiving and punt, kickoff and interception returns. Louisville's Howard Stevens leads this category with a 229.2 average.

Ricky McLester has moved into the kick-scoring group, tieing for eighth place with a 6.6 point average per game. Rich Sanger of Nebraska leads with a 7.9 average.

Harry Lynch of the Citadel stands 24th in total offense this week with a 170.1 yards per game average. Jay Jones of Richmond is 16th in punting at 41.3, while The Citadel's Jim Hughes is 20 at 41.0.

Stan Fritts of N.C. State is fifth in scoring with a 10.0 average. Mike Stultz of State is fourth in punt returns with 17.3 yards per return.

Dwight Mosley of Dayton is third in interceptions with an 0.9 average, while Paul Scolar of William & Mary is tied for eighth at 0.8.

State stands ninth in total offense averaging 423.8 yards per game, while they are 15th in passing offense, 202.1 yards per game. They are 12th in scoring, 32.6 points per game.

'Microfiche Readers' Provide Data On Jobs And Applicants

The local Employment Security Commission now has four "Microfiche Readers" that provide current and more detailed information on available jobs and applicants.

According to Mercedes Howell, Interviewer II in charge of placement with the local ESC office, the new viewers show the different jobs that are available throughout the state of North Carolina as well as the United States.

Before the local office received the new equipment, information was handled by mail.

"When the information was handled through the postal service, it was hard to keep the information updated," Mrs. Howell explained. "It took so much time from typing the forms, sending them to the main office in Raleigh, receiving answers, and then sending forms to cancel the jobs."

The material received on the viewers is updated each day. The local office receives its material from Greensboro each morning. Referral forms are mailed the same day the ESC office receives them.

The new system is done by telephone rather than by mail.

NEW READERS . . . The four "Microfiche Readers" at the local Employment Security Commission office make it easier for Mrs. Mercedes Howell, seated, and Mrs. Fran Churchill to check on available jobs in the United States. (Reflector Photo by Blanche Hardee)

There are four job bank offices in North Carolina. They are located in Greensboro, Charlotte, Lumberton and Wilmington.

"Greenville is not a job bank office because we do not have the necessary computers, key punch operators and other control people here in our office, Mrs. Howell said.

"We call in our activity to the Greensboro office," Mrs. Howell stated. "This new system should be a tremendous help to people willing to relocate."

"Each day we receive 'fiche' (negatives) that include a listing of all job openings in the Greensboro area and clearance viewer film that has available jobs throughout the United States," Mrs. Howell said.

The various jobs are indexed and coded. This makes it easier to find the various jobs on the negatives. The code used is worldwide.

"The good thing about the new readers is that the information we receive is current. It is only 24 hours old," stated Mrs. Howell.

Asterisks are used to show the new jobs included in the listing. Available jobs are included on the list until they are filled.

"There is a considerable amount of paper work involved with the new system," Mrs. Howell explained.

Forms that must be filled out include: updating; referrals; job order; order status request; delete referrals form; applicants statistical correction forms; back sheets; job order action summary.

"The reader does not save time as far as interviewing the applicant is concerned, but, it is much faster in receiving and sending information about the applicant and the available positions," Mrs. Howell emphasized.

The local hopes to increase its number of machines to eight in the near future. Operating the new equipment in addition to Mrs. Howell are Jim Hannan, manager of the local ESC office and Fran Churchill, Interviewer I.

The service is free to any and all employers.

"If we receive a local order and know we cannot fill it locally, we put it on the machine immediately," Mrs. Howell said. "We can call anywhere in the United States to inquire about available jobs."

Zoo Helped By Recycling

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — This city of jazz, spicy creole cuisine and fever-pitched Mardi Gras celebrations recently received what might be called a "roar" of approval for its observance of Glass Recycling Day.

A cleanup and glass recycling campaign called Operation Double Barrel was held to spruce up the environs of the city and to help raise funds to improve the Audubon Zoo.

Residents responded by turning in 57,000 pounds of used bottles and jars for recycling, and a member company of the Glass Container Manufacturers Institute paid a penny a pound, which will be contributed to the Audubon Park Improvement Fund.

WORKING WIVES

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Married women in recent years have made up the largest portion of the labor force gain. In the latest figures, the number of working wives reached 18.4 million in March, 1970, about 780,000 above March, 1969.

Find out why Mrs. Joyce Windsor wouldn't swap and you can save 15¢ in the bargain too.

Mrs. Joyce Windsor wouldn't swap her Tide for even twice as much of another leading detergent. Why? Because she knows how Tide cleans clothes. Mrs. Windsor says: "My boys play out every day. They're playing out today in the mud. So I stick to Tide...Tide works. That's all."

We think there's a good chance, if you try Tide, you'll be as loyal to it as Mrs. Windsor. So, to get you to try it, we're giving you this coupon worth 15¢ off on one Giant, King, or Family size or 2 Regular size boxes of Tide.

Salt Mine In Poland Is Tourist Lure

By NICHOLAS LILLITOS
Associated Press Writer

KRAKOR, Poland (AP) — The gray-haired Polish guide gazed up with the others and said: "I know what you're thinking. Everyone gets that feeling when they're down here."

Above them, stretching endlessly from left to right and seemingly as high as the night sky, was one large expanse of nothing.

They were standing in what is probably one of the largest underground chambers in Europe. It's so enormous that Nazi troops even managed to install an aircraft factory inside to protect it from Allied bombing.

The cavern's walls, their craggy surface marked by massive salt slabs of irregular shapes and sizes, shoot crazily up to a height of 138 feet and then disappear into the darkness of the awesome void.

But the sight is no freak work of nature. It was caused by human hands—thousands of Polish miners who over the centuries axed one gigantic hollow from a solid layer of salt.

The chamber is part of the Wieliczka salt mine which has been preserved by the Polish government and turned into a museum.

Every year nearly a million tourists visit the complex, close to the ancient royal city of Krakow, southern Poland.

Its wonderland of treasures includes several huge 17th and 18th century chapels whose altars and holy effigies are entirely carved out of salt.

On one chapel wall is an intricate, 12-foot-long picture showing Christ at the last supper. All the figures have been cut in such a way as to give them a three-dimensional effect.

"The miners' permanent fear of death created a strong religious life at Wieliczka," said one official. Most of the carvings are the work of miners who had an unusual artistic flair.

Perhaps the most staggering sight is the Chapel of the Blessed King. It is located hundreds of feet below ground, and the onlooker has to keep reminding himself that it's made out of salt.

The chapel's floor measures 177 feet long, by 48 feet wide. All its silver-gray salt walls are adorned with beautiful sculptures representing biblical scenes.

But the greatest surprise occurs when one looks up at the ceiling. There, hanging 35 feet above the ballroom-size temple, are five giant chandeliers made of crystalline salt.

For the technical minded, there's an array of priceless wooden machinery dating back 400 years. Horse-driven capstans and iron carts are all shown in their original working positions.

Undoubtedly Wieliczka is today one of Poland's top tourist attractions, with its three levels and 125 miles of corridors.

Planning Attend First Meet Of Watercolor Soc.

At least three Greenville residents have expressed plans to attend the first general meeting of the newly organized Watercolor Society of North Carolina to be held in Greensboro on Saturday.

Mrs. Edith Walker, director of the Greenville Art Center and vice-president of the society and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Pittman have scheduled attendance at the meeting to be held at Holiday Inn-Four Season in Greensboro.

Guest speaker for the occasion will be Barclay Sheaks, artist and author. Sheaks is author of a book on techniques of using actylic polymer emulsion paints, Paints, Painting With Acrylics From Start to Finish.

The purpose of the newly formed society is to promote watercolor throughout the state; to elevate the standards of excellence for the benefit of artists and collectors; and to formulate plans for two juried watercolor shows annually, to be held in different parts of North Carolina.

Canvassers Hunting For Nixon Votes

By CRAIG AMMERMAN
Associated Press Writer

BOSTON (AP) — "Somewhere, out there," said a registered Democrat with a Nixon button on his hat, "there's a lot of people in my party who won't vote for McGovern. Our job is to keep finding them."

This belief that many Democrats in heavily Democratic Massachusetts may be disenchanted with their presidential candidate has sent canvassers of both major parties on a house-to-house walk across metropolitan Boston.

Results of the surveys depend upon who's talking. Republicans say President Nixon will win Boston. Democrats say that's absurd.

In any case, the canvassing effort is massive, particularly an upper middle class and in Italian, Irish Catholic and Spanish neighborhoods. Sen. Hubert Humphrey did well enough in these neighborhoods in 1968 to defeat Nixon in Boston 171,000-41,000. Over-all, Humphrey won the state nearly 2-1, compiling a 700,000-vote margin.

The estimated 20 per cent of registered Democrats and independents in Boston who remain undecided hold the key to Massachusetts' 14 electoral votes. Canvassers say the number of undecided is declining, however, and Sen. George McGovern is the apparent benefactor.

With the Republican canvassers, party labels are conspicuously absent. With the McGovern volunteers, the theme is both one of coming home to the party and of supporting "the man for the people."

Early reports of Nixon's apparent strong position in the West Roxbury section led to increased Republican efforts throughout Massachusetts, where a poll taken in early October gave Nixon 48 per cent of the vote and McGovern 44 per cent.

Those who claim to be decided can expect visits from party workers on Nov. 7. It is their job to get out the vote.

Both sides are continuing daily, house-to-house canvasses.

Manhattan Has Noisiest Train

NEW YORK (AP) — The noisiest subway stations in the world are on Manhattan's west side where the "A" trains run express at high speed between 59th and 125th streets, according to a noise surveyor.

"It sounds something like a tornado going directly overhead when you're in a storm cellar," said Martin F. Huss, a transportation engineer at Brooklyn's Polytechnic Institute.

Huss said, "The very best system in terms of low noise would appear to be Montreal's, which runs on rubber wheels."

Rubber tires aren't the only answer. Huss points out that Berlin and Hamburg have trains with steel wheels running on steel tracks that are far quieter than New York's subways.

New Records By Radial Tires

NEW YORK (UPI)—Radial passenger tires are rolling towards new records in the U.S. replacement market for passenger cars, says a leading tiremaker.

Radials today hold nearly 10 per cent of that market, compared with 6 per cent for all of 1971 and less than 1 per cent for 1967, according to Patrick C. Ross, president of the B.F. Goodrich tire division. He estimates that in the first five months this year 5.6 million of the 61 million replacement passenger tires shipped in America, including imports, were radial.

Safe Bicyclists Keep To Right

CHICAGO (UPI) —Is it true or false that bicyclsts should ride on the left side of the road facing oncoming traffic? False, according to a report in Family Safety, magazine published by the National Safety Council.

Unlike pedestrians, bike riders should keep to the right. Bikes are vehicles, and riders are subject to the same traffic laws and regulations that auto drivers must follow.

Ski Resorts In Colorado Adding Lifts

By ERROL W. KING

DENVER (UPI)—The nation's skiers flock to Colorado resorts in increasing numbers each year, seeking the Rockies' famed powder but frequently encountering hour-long lift lines instead.

But after a summer of feverish construction around the state, the situation could be easier this winter.

Three brand new ski areas are awaiting the winter onslaught, and seven other major areas have constructed a total of eight new lifts. The grand total is 18 new lift facilities, most of them double chairlifts.

The new names to be added to the list of Colorado ski areas this winter are Copper Mountain, Telluride and Sunshine Peak.

Copper Mountain, less than two hours drive west of Denver, is a large new area with a 2,350-foot vertical drop, four chairlifts (including an enclosed double chairlift) and a poma.

Telluride is an equally promising area. Although a little more off the beaten track, it will open with five double chairlifts in operation. It is located in southwestern Colorado, five miles from the sleepy mining town of the same name where Butch Cassidy robbed his first bank.

Sunshine Peak is a new expansion area with two chairlifts located immediately next to the existing Steamboat ski area in northwestern Colorado.

Other areas which have added one or more new chairlifts over the summer are Vail Lionshead, Ski Cooper, Keystone, Steamboat, Crested Butte, Breckenridge and Purgatory.

Keystone, which was forced to close early last year because of bare spots at the base, also has invested in $350,000 worth of snowmaking equipment on the lower third of the mountain.

Thanksgiving is Colorado's traditional season opening, and eight areas are aiming for the Nov. 23 date again this year. They are Arapahoe Basin, Aspen Highlands, Mountain and Snowmass, Breckenridge, Purgatory, Steamboat and Winter Park.

Areas opening earlier or later than that are Aspen Buttermilk Dec. 16, Copper Mountain Nov. 15, Crested Butte Nov. 22, Keystone Nov. 10, Vail Nov. 17, Telluride Dec. 16, and Lake Eldora Nov. 11.

Perhaps the earliest-opening ski area in the nation this year is Loveland Basin. It scheduled an October opening.

ECU Choral Concert Set

A joint concert of sacred music will be presented by two East Carolina University choral groups Thursday at 8:15 p.m. in the School of Music Recital Hall.

Appearing in concert will be the ECU University Chorale directed by graduate student Danny Tindall of Tallahasee, Fla. and the ECU Chamber Singers, directed by Dr. Charles W. Moore.

Chamber Singers will begin the program with a setting of St. John's text "In the beginning" for chorus and electronic tape.

The program will proceed through a Christmas group featuring settings of the same text by several composers to a final selection for two choirs by Benjamin Britten.

The Chamber Singers will perform American composer William Schuman's setting of Walt Whitman's "Carols of Death," and the Chorale will perform a selection by North Carolina composer Norman Cousins.

All interested persons are invited to attend the concert, for which no admission charge is being made.

Ribbon Cut By TheirCustomers

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — The Shelby Street Federal Savings and Loan opened a new Eastside office recently with a new twist.

There were no speeches and not a city, county or state official or political office holder in sight.

Instead, the ribbon cutting was handled by Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Denges, long-time customers who live in the area.

The Pill Can't Protect Girls

Girls, heed Miriam's plight! For the "Pill" does not protect you against the two dire venereal diseases. And they can cause insanity, heart attacks, paralysis, arthritis, and even prevent your having children when you marry! Beware!

By GEORGE W. CRANE Ph.D., M.D.

Case V-533: Miriam D., aged 16, is a high school junior.

"Dr. Crane," her Guidance Counselor began," "Miriam joined a sorority of ultra modern teen-age girls.

"And by that, I mean they began to use the 'Pill' and then have promiscuous relations.

"So Miriam contracted gonorrhea.

"Her Fallopian tubes were so inflamed, her parents first thought she had appendictic.

"Miriam hesitated to tell them she had been sexually loose, but the physician soon diagnosed her case as a venereal disease.

"Meanwhile, Miriam infected at least 5 boys in our high school and they then passed along gonorrhea to many other girls.

"Dr. Crane, a U.S. Public Health Bulletin is asking us teachers to warn young people about the alarming increase in such sexual diseases.

"So could you explain them more fully and tell us the dangerous medical aftereffects?"

Gonorrhea And Syphillis

The two widespread venereal diseases are named gonorrhea and syphilis.

You can become a victim of either one along, or may contract both at the same time.

As a rule, they are usually caught by sexual relations with an infected person.

And homosexuals likewise get infected, especially with syphilis.

Gonorrhea is produced by a specific germ that produces a whitish discharge from the mucous lining of the sex organs.

It produces knife-like pain in males when they urinate.

But it may go unrecognized by many females, so they may be infected and spread the disease without realizing that fact.

Later, it can flind their baby's eyes!

But the male gonorrheal victim usually is well aware when he is afflicted.

Syphilis, however, is caused by a very different germ, which must get into your blood stream.

This may occur die to erosion of a spot on the genitalia.

Or from a cracked lip when kissing a syphilitic.

For at a certain stage in the onset of syphilis, the victim may have a very sore throat that is teeming with literally millions of syphilis germs.

That's why an innocent girl may contract syphilis just from kissing an infected escort.

And also why lesbians, as well as male homosexuals, often contract and spread syphilis via an infected mouth.

Modern drugs and antibiotics are very helpful in checking the dire results of both gonorrhea and syphilis, if used early.

But prevention is far superior to cure!

Before the advent of antibiotics, we medics had this adage re syphilis:

"One night with Venus may lead to a lifetime with Mercury!"

For mercury was one of the drugs employed to combat the dire ravages of syphilis.

Alas, syphilis can cause all sorts of ailments of heart and brain, as well as produce insanity, paralysis, etc.

Gonorrhea also can produce arthritis as well as blindness and permanent sterility.

For when the gonorrheal germs go up through the womb and out into the Fallopian tubes, they may produce a sticky exudate like glue, which seals the Fallopian tubes so the girl can never get pregnant.

Gonorrhea also can lead to sterility of males, if the germs reach the gonads.

So send for my booklet "Sex Problems of Young People," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 25 cents.

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 25 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

The bidding:

East	South	West	North
Pass	3 NT	Pass	6 NT
Pass	Pass	Pass

We dug into our archives for today's hand taken from a World's Championship Match between the United States and England several seasons back, in which both North-South pairs reached the wrong slam contract.

When the American team held the North-South cards, the bidding proceeded as depicted in the diagram. In this partnership's methods, the three no trump bid was employed as a gambling opening based on a long solid suit without much on the side. North was aware that the partnership had the assets for a slam undertaking inasmuch as he held 18 high card points himself. In an effort to avoid giving any information to the opposition which might prove useful in defense, he chose to shoot it out by jumping to six no trump.

West was confronted with an out and out guess on the opening lead, and he finally selected the jack of spades. South had no trouble taking all 13 tricks for a score of 1,020 points on the deal.

At the other table, the English player who was seated South selected the more orthodox opening call of one diamond. North made an immediate jump shift to two hearts which is the customary strength showing response employed in England even where no fit is held. South jumped to four diamonds on his rebid to designate a solid suit. North now bid four no trump. It is not certain whether he intended this as a Blackwood inquiry, but South in any event chose not to treat it as such, for he leaped directly to slam.

He did not bid six diamonds, however, which was impregnable against any defense. Instead, South bid six no trump, and with North as the declarer, East found himself an opening lead. The latter proceeded to cash the first two heart tricks, and the 50 point profit swelled the total swing on the deal to 1,070 for the American team.

APPOINTED

RALEIGH (AP) — The appointment of State Sen. Russell Kirby, D-Wilson, to the Board of Control for Southern Regional Education was announced Monday by Gov. Bob Scott.

Best Hold Hand On Escalators

CHICAGO (UPI) — Hold child's hand when on an escalator, says the National Safety Council. Also: keep child from sitting on the escalator steps. His clothes can get caught in moving parts. Also: don't allow sneaker-clad youngsters to rub their shoes along skirt guard of escalators. They can get pulled into the works.
