Claim Irregularities

DURHAM, N.C. (AP)—A Republican election security officer says GOP officials suspect there were "a great deal of irregularities" in last Tuesday's 4th District congressional election in Durham County.

But the officer, Theodore R. Budine, head of the GOP's election security operation in Durham, has declined to specify the alleged irregularities.

Other Republican officials and workers in the unsuccessful 4th District campaign of Republican Jack Hawke of Raleigh, also declined to discuss specific allegations or their reasons for suspecting irregularities, the Raleigh News and Observer said Sunday.

The North Carolina Board of Elections has impounded Durham County election records in compliance with a court order obtained Friday by Hawke.

Durham Superior Court Judge James H. Pou Bailey of Raleigh, who signed the order, has scheduled a hearing for Thursday to decide whether the court or the state Board of Elections will have jurisdiction over the matter.

Fragging Before Jury

FT. ORD, Calif. (AP) — A military jury of two black and five white officers begins deliberations today on the fate of a black soldier accused of murdering two young Army lieutenants in a Vietnam "fragging" incident.

Although there have been numerous such incidents in the war — 96 in 1969 and 209 in 1970 resulting in 101 deaths — the court-martial of Pvt. Billy Dean Smith on charges of using a fragmentation grenade to kill fellow soldiers is the first conducted in the United States.

The presiding judge, Col. Rawls H. Frazier, said he would give his final instructions today and then send the case to the jury. He has ruled the jury will deliberate only during normal work hours.

When the trial began Sept. 6, Frazier ruled that Smith could not receive the death penalty. But he still faces the possibility of life imprisonment.

The prosecution and defense concluded their cases in lengthy final summaries during the weekend.

Smith, 24, of Los Angeles is charged with killing 1st Lt. Thomas Dellwo of Choteau, Mont., and 2nd Lt. Richard Harlan of Dallas, Tex.

Both died shortly after midnight March 15, 1971, at the Bien Hoa Army Base near Saigon when a grenade exploded in their quarters.

The Army also has charged Smith with assault and attempted murder.

The latter charge is based on the government's contention that Smith was attempting to kill his commanding officer, Capt. Randall L. Rigby of Ft. Sill, Okla., and 1st Sgt. Billie Willis of Big Stony Gap, Va.

Hearings For Seamen

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Disciplinary hearings are expected to last through Tuesday for sailors who refused to return to the carrier Constellation after they were put ashore to discuss racial-discrimination grievances with personnel officers.

By Sunday, about half the 123 rebellious seamen were reported to have faced captain's mast hearings and received punishment. The hearings are being conducted by Capt. Robert McKenzie, commandant of the North Island Naval Air Station.

A Navy spokesman said various penalties were given and that McKenzie is authorized to order extra duty, reduction in rank and loss of up to a month's pay.

The sailors, all but eight of them black, refused to return aboard the huge carrier last Thursday and were charged with being absent without authorization for about six hours.

They complained about discipline aboard the ship and racial discrimination in jobs.

First Talks In Strike

NEW YORK (AP) — Talks will be held for the first time Tuesday in the 10-day-old strike by 1,200 cameramen, engineers and technicians against the Columbia Broadcasting System.

J. Curtiss Counts, director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, announced Sunday that both sides had agreed to meet in Washington to discuss the issues.

Supervisory personnel have been taking the place of the striking members of the AFL-

CIO International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers since the walkout began a week ago Friday.

CBS presented its schedule of televised football games Sunday without incident. A week earlier, severed cables forced the network to cancel coverage of the New York Jets-Washington Redskins game.

At issue in the dispute is jurisdiction over certain technical equipment in a three-year contract to replace the pact that expired Oct. 1.

Storm Over Europe

LONDON (AP) — A storm of violent winds, rain and snow swept across Europe today, leaving more than a score of persons dead, homes destroyed or flooded and uprooted trees, still bearing golden leaves of autumn, lying across roads and highways.

Germany was hardest hit. Winds up to 124 miles an hour howled through the Harz Mountains. Twelve persons were killed, at least five by falling trees.

The Netherlands, battered by winds of 90 m.p.h., lost six persons, including three from falling trees.

In Gosselies, Belgium, a woman was killed when the roof of her house was lifted and fell back, crushing the top story.

Southern Europe appeared to have been protected by the Alps where the main passes were closed by six inches of snow.

Snow fell, too, in the Pennine Hills of England. Trees blocked roads.

Main roads in London's fashionable West End were blocked with debris and trees, and traffic was brought to a standstill near one of the river crossings.

High Court Green Light For Trial Of Pair For Pentagon Papers' Theft

By BARRY SCHWEID
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court today allowed the government to proceed with the Pentagon Papers trial of Daniel Ellsberg and Anthony Russo without revealing to them who in the defense team was overheard in a "foreign-intelligence" wiretap.

Ellsberg and Russo are charged with espionage, conspiracy and misuse of government property in the publication of the once-secret study of the origins of the Vietnam war. Their trial in Los Angeles has been delayed since July 29 by the dispute over wiretapping.

The court did not comment on the issues as it handed down a routine order declining to hear an appeal by Ellsberg and Russo, who argued also that "foreign-intelligence" wiretaps without warrants are illegal.

A dissenting opinion was filed by Justice William O. Douglas who stayed the trial in July while the court was in its summer recess. Justice William J. Brennan Jr. also dissented.

Ellsberg and Russo needed the votes of at least four justices to have their appeal taken up by the court. The vote against them was seven to two.

Douglas said he regretted that his colleagues did not take the occasion to lay down some further ground rules for the conduct of criminal cases involving electronic surveillance. He also said that it was time "we hold that the confidences of the lawyer-client relationship remain inviolate."

Douglas said he had examined the logs "and it appears that the electronics surveillance was of a telephone of a foreign national and that the intercepted conversations in this case had nothing to do with respect to activities of foreign persons or their agents."

Last Aug. 9, U.S. District Judge Matt Byrne of Los Angeles, who was presiding at the trial, sent the jurors home until the court settled the appeal.

Shortly after the trial had begun, the government submitted to Judge Byrne a surveillance log on one of the defense's 16 lawyers and consultants. Subsequently, the government said the wiretap was for purposes of "foreign intelligence" and was authorized by the attorney general without the supervision of a judge.

Ellsberg and Russo argued that the defense should be permitted to see the log to determine if the government gained evidence through an illegal tap. They also contended there should be a hearing in the federal district court on the wiretap issue.

Byrne, who examined the log, concluded the surveillance was irrelevant to the case.

Ellsberg and Russo's appeal challenged this holding primarily on the basis of a 1969 Supreme Court decision that defendants in a criminal trial are entitled to examine "bugging" records.

The defendants also contended the government violated the Constitution by not obtaining judicial permission for its wiretapping. This issue was not considered by lower courts.

The Justice Department, in opposing the appeal on all grounds, argued that Ellsberg and Russo were, in a sense, trying to obtain double-review by appeals courts since they could be expected to raise the same wiretapping arguments if they are convicted.

Another Kissinger Session Expected

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's special emissary to Saigon returns today amid widespread expectation that adviser Henry A. Kissinger will soon head for another peace negotiating session in Paris.

Gen. Alexander M. Haig Jr. was slated to report to Nixon following his homecoming after two days of talks with South Vietnam President Nguyen Van Thieu and short stops in Cambodia and South Korea. The U.S. embassy described the talks with Thieu as "cordial and constructive."

Nixon came back to Washington from Key Biscayne, Fla., Sunday night for a few hours' stay before proceeding to his Camp David, Md., retreat.

Kissinger weekendened in New York, seeing a Broadway play and a professional football game after which he mingled in the locker room with quarterback Joe Namath and others of the New York Jets.

Just when Kissinger will head for Paris to meet again with North Vietnam's Le Duc Tho remains a secret. Administration officials maintained their air of confidence, however, about moving toward final accord on ending the war.

Hanoi envoy Xuan Thuy anticipated a further Kissinger-Thieu meeting in a Paris interview over the weekend, though he held to North Vietnam's position that the session should be devoted to procedures for signing the proposed nine-point pact—not to altering it.

U.S. officials in Saigon indicated Haig's talks with Thieu narrowed U.S.-South Vietnamese differences, apparently clearing the way for resumption of the private negotiations in Paris.

But the Saigon newspaper Tin Song, which is controlled by Thieu's closest adviser, said Haig and the president had made "no further progress" in their talks.

The report said three major points still were to be resolved: the withdrawal of North Vietnamese forces, the administrative organization to maintain the cease-fire and supervise elections and under what conditions and when will the international body to police the cease-fire begin work.

Base Closings To Eliminate Many Jobs

WASHINGTON (AP) — With the election over, the Pentagon is preparing a new round of base-closings and reductions that will eliminate thousands of civilian defense jobs.

The cutbacks probably will not be announced until after Congress returns in January, defense sources said.

The base cuts are being planned in response to President Nixon's orders to trim the rolls of civil service employees and Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird's promise to Congress to absorb $1.5 billion in budget cuts this fiscal year.

Just before the 1972 election year began, David Packard left office as deputy secretary of defense with a parting complaint that the Pentagon could save $1 billion a year by closing unneeded bases, were it not for political constraints.

The Army, Navy and Air Force long have wanted to shut down a number of bases they consider marginal. But, anticipating election year protests from congressmen and senators with large numbers of defense employees among their constituents, they waited.

Now the "political realities," as one Pentagon official termed them, are temporarily over though the list of bases most likely to be closed or cut back is being kept under wraps for the time being.

However, the Army is known to be planning a reorganization that, among other things, likely would merge the First Army headquarters at Ft. Meade, Md., and the Third Army headquarters in Atlanta, eliminating one of them. The Army also is expected to recommend retrenching helicopter training- and maintenance bases now that American forces are virtually out of Vietnam.

Some sources indicate that possibly two naval shipyards, one on each coast, might be shut down. They were not named either.

Nixon gave a fresh indication of things to come last week when he said in a published interview that civilian defense employees "are getting in the way of each other over in the Pentagon and around the country" and that "they are going to have to take a thinning down."

There are reports that a 5 per cent slice in civilian employment may be applied throughout the government under Nixon's new policy, designed to reduce spending.

There now are fewer than 1.1 million civilian workers on the payroll of the Defense Department and its agencies, compared with a payroll swollen to more than 1.3 million in 1969 before the beginning of the Vietnam withdrawal and corresponding reductions in the size of the military establishment.

A 5 per cent cutback in the present civil service force in the Defense Department would amount to about 55,000 people. Officials hope that much of this can be accomplished through normal attrition, retirements, resignations and deaths.

Materiel Is Sent ARVN

SAIGON (AP) — The United States delivered 31 amphibious vehicles to South Vietnam today as part of its equipment buildup anticipating a cease-fire. Meanwhile, U.S. B52 bombers continued heavy raids across all four countries of Indochina in attempts to blunt the similar North Vietnamese buildup.

The 30-foot amphibious troop and cargo carriers arrived by ship from Okinawa. They were the same models as those used by the U.S. Marines when they operated in the northern provinces of South Vietnam in the late 1960s.

A team of at least 10 U.S. Marine engineers also arrived to train Vietnamese marines in operating and maintaining the vehicles, which can carry 34 troops or 18,000 pounds of cargo.

At the same time, U.S. military and chartered planes continued to land more war materiel at Saigon's Tan Son Nhut Air Base. More than half a dozen transports arrived today.

In the U.S. air war, more than 100 B52s struck in North and South Vietnam, Cambodia and Laos, dropping more than 3,000 tons of explosives on supply caches as part of a two-week air campaign.

The ban on air attacks in the Hanoi-Haiphong region and other areas of North Vietnam above the 20th parallel remained in effect, but the U.S. Command reported 150 strikes by fighter-bombers in the southern panhandle Sunday.

Communist attacks in South Vietnam slackened to their lowest level since Sept. 30, the Saigon command said. It reported 62 assaults, including 39 rocket and mortar attacks, during the 24-hour period ending at dawn.

But South Vietnamese marines and paratroopers battling for territory in northernmost Quang Tri province were hit with 1,000 artillery and mortars rounds. The Saigon command said casualties were light.

Enemy commandos attacked three government militia outposts in three adjoining provinces in the southwestern part of the Mekong Delta.

Possible Loophole

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Republican committee that channeled $100,000 into President Nixon's re-election campaign says it does not have to make known the sources of its funds despite a new federal law requiring disclosure of all over-$100 contributors.

Auditors for the General Accounting Office say the position of the Executive Club of the Republican party of New Jersey, if upheld in the courts, could open a major loophole in the elections law which took effect last April 7.

The club contends its money came from dues and that dues are not contributions. GAO auditors say there could be a proliferation of such clubs to evade the full disclosure provisions of the new law.

The auditors say they will press the club for disclosure, possibly launching a field audit in the next few weeks and then turning their findings over to the Justice Department if the club remains adamant.

The name of the Executive Club first emerged in October in reports by national and state-level Finance Committees to Re-elect the President. In all, the club reported contributing $3,000 to each of 33 Nixon committees and $1,000 to a 34th.

Lockout At Port

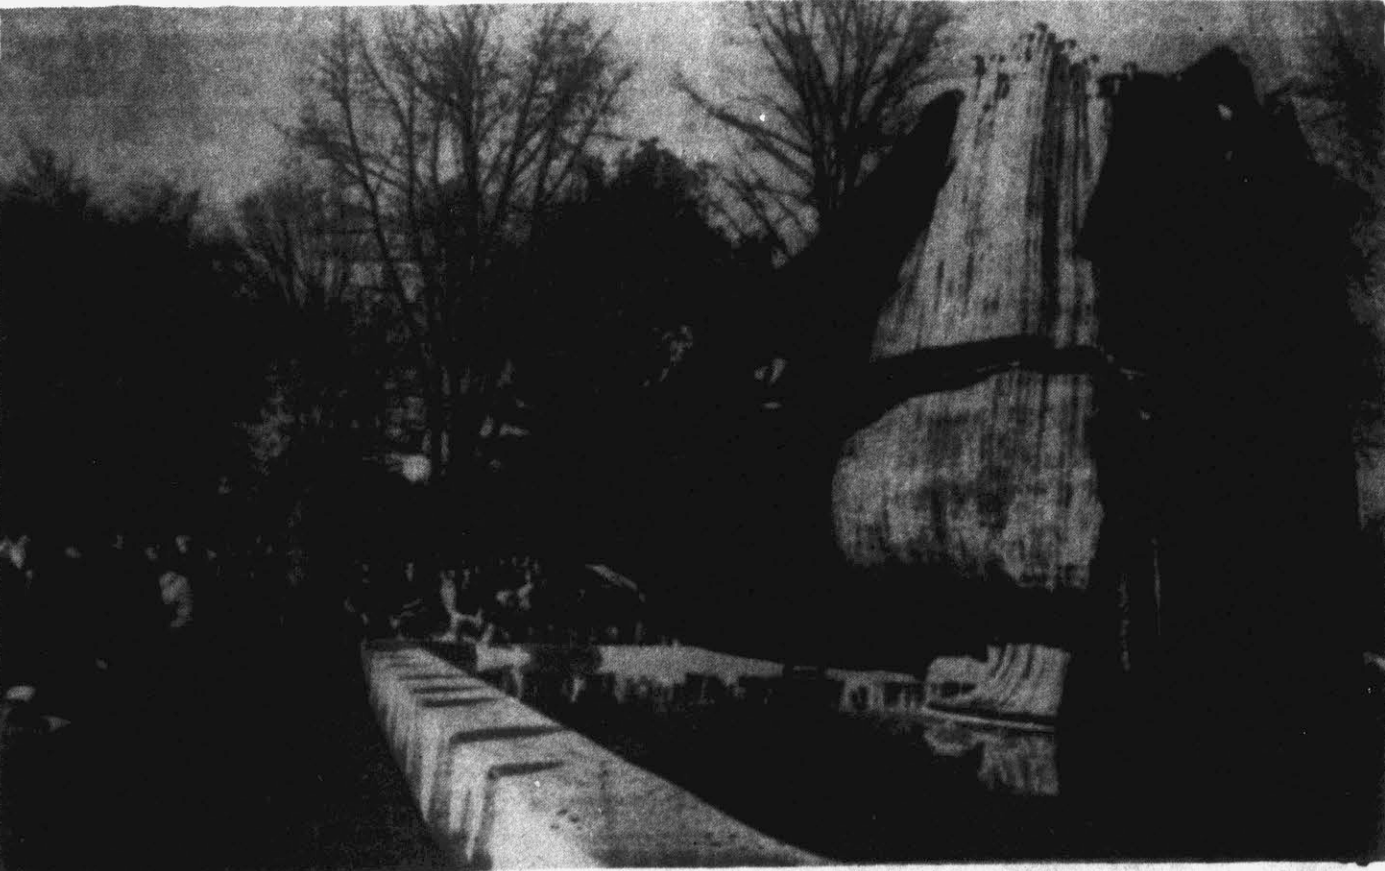

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — The threatened lockout of International Longshoremen's Association work gangs took effect in the port of Hampton Roads this morning, with three of the six gangs ordered for duty being rejected by stevedoring companies.

Three ships, which entered Hampton Roads over the weekend and worked Sunday, will be finished today, Ed Brown, president of ILA Local 1248 said. Two of the vessels are at Lambert's Point Docks in Norfolk and another is at Portsmouth Marine Terminal.

A fourth ship, though, The Prudential-Grace Lines Santa Barbara, was idle this morning and will not be worked here until the dispute is resolved.

The dispute stems from an attempt by ILA leaders to rotate the working gangs and thus spread the workload to more union members.

Some gangs, union officials have said, work nearly every day, while others have worked just one day this month. The union men blame much of the problem on a slowdown of the cargo flow through the port.

from the Carroll Righter Institute

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A day to accept delays philosophically and to work quietly to put your affairs on a more secure structure. Don't enlarge your overall aims and ambitions at this time. It's necessary to know you are exact in what you do for others so doublecheck on what is expected.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Show that you are exact in the handling of personal duties, and don't procrastinate any longer. Try not to disappoint a friend in distress who looks to you for assistance.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Try not to pressure good friends who seem to have an uncompromising attitude and are busy. Take care of your own affairs instead. Good hard work improves personal aims. Keep steady.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Forget the personal and engage in those important outside tasks that need your immediate attention. You can push through on career matters tomorrow, but make right preparations now.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) You have a new project in mind that requires getting the right ideas and data before it can be put in operation successfully. A new ally could take advantage of you. Be careful.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) You are able to take care of bills and other obligations easily today, so be sure to do just that. Don't rely on attachment so much since this is a busy period. Avoid one who bickers.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) You think that some associates are not keeping up with promises made, but this is not the case. Tomorrow the picture changes. Make sure you carry through nicely on your end of deals. Have faith.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Handle those duties in a new way so that they are not so difficult. Show that you are an ingenious person. co-workers are worried and not cooperating very well now, but have patience.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Important you don't spend above your means for the good time you feel like having. Give kind words of advice and encouragement to mate who is depressed. You can help relieve worried state.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) If you are too blunt with others today you may have more trouble than you bargained for. Plan to listen more to others instead of talking so much. You can gain helpful knowledge.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) You want to indulge in new interests which could prove to be worthless, so get busy with regular duties instead of taking any risks. Check reports and statements for possible errors.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) You want to make more money, but make sure you use ethical methods. Talk things over with an expert who is conservative and get right advice about whatever it is that puzzles you.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Although you think that others are out of tune, it may be that you are also, so use patience and this becomes a good day. Improve your health and appearance. This will perk up your spirits.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be one of those delightful young people who may require special training. Your progeny could easily be one of psychic type of people who instinctively seeks shelter but needs to be brought into the mundane world early so that the career can become successful, especially in artistic or cultural fields. There could be fame in this chart.

NATO Will Tackle Urban Traffic Jam

By CARL HARTMAN

Associated Press Writer

BRUSSELS (AP) — Holding the Soviet forces in check could be child's play compared with the next problem to be tackled by the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. It's going to try to figure out how to get rid of the urban traffic jam.

A pilot project is due to be launched next week at a meeting of NATO's Committee on the Challenges of Modern Society. Among the devices it will study:

—Traffic free zones.

—Special lanes for buses and taxis, which have been tried with some success in Paris and Johannesburg.

—"Draining" commuters from outlying districts for more efficient use of trains and buses; for example, by setting up systems which enable passengers to telephone for a minibus.

—Forecasting the growth of cities, a slow and expensive process that needs to be standardized.

—Improved use of delivery trucks.

Work is expected to take about two years under the supervision of Lee Huff, who deals with policy and planning at the U.S. Department of Transportation. There will be help from France, West Germany and other NATO members.

At the end there will be recommendations to the national governments.

This will be the eighth project the committee has started since President Nixon proposed its organization more than three years ago—partly to give NATO a less military image. The United States already runs three other pilot projects: on air pollution, health care and auto safety.

Elections In Japan Slated

TOKYO (AP) — Prime Minister Kakuei Tanaka dissolved the Diet today, clearing the way for a general election Dec. 10 that will be his first test with the voters since coming to power in July.

The election for 491 seats in the lower house of Parliament will be Japan's 33rd and its 12th since the end of World War II.

Tanaka expects to win big, largely on the strength of his foreign policy and particularly his trip to Peking and establishment of diplomatic relations with Communist China in September.

A dynamic man who rose from rags to riches, Tanaka, 54, has a large following. And his party, the Liberal-Democrats, has maintained a wide lead over their main adversaries, the Socialists, since it was formed in 1955.

At dissolution, this was the standing of the parties: Liberal-Democrat, 297; Socialists, 87; Komeito, 47; Democratic Socialists, 29; Communists, 14; Independents, 3. There were 14 vacancies.

Reflecting confidence in victory, Tanaka is reported to have scheduled a special Diet session Dec. 22 and inauguration of his second cabinet on Christmas Day.

Tanaka's domestic program, a drastic face-lifting to resettle industries in country areas, and his defense policy are the chief campaign issues.

Man can live as long as five weeks without food.

The 1972 soybean crop is forecast at 1,270 million bushels. That is 100 million bushels more than the record crop harvested last fall, but it will not provide an excessive supply of soybeans. The price of soybeans depends largely upon the value of soybean meal.

Recent quotations showed that soybean meal provided about 69 percent of the value of soybean products. While there are many potential substitutes for soybean meal, none of them are expected to increase greatly in the coming year. On the other hand, increased supplies of soybean meal will be needed for beef cattle, broilers, turkeys, and dairy cows. The increased demand for these purposes will help to prevent any large decline in the price of soybean meal.

The Soybean Industry in North Carolina is in the process of developing a new image, according to James F. Wilder, Executive Vice-President of the North Carolina Soybean Producers Association. A bright and attractive yellow sticker has been designed in the shape of a soybean and over-printed with the words, "Soybeans—Tarheel." The stickers will be used with all correspondence from the Association and are available to others who might have a use for them.

New Private Army Emerges In Ulster

BELFAST (AP) — Another private army is emerging in Northern Ireland, this time composed of former Roman Catholic servicemen who say they are banding together for protection from the Protestants.

The province remained relatively quiet Sunday night, but police said a man was shot in the head and seriously wounded in the countryside outside Belfast.

The Catholic Ex-Servicemen's Association, which claims 20,000 members, announced Sunday it is forming active "defensive" units to patrol areas of Belfast. However, it claimed not to have any guns.

The association said it began recruiting in strength last week after Protestant gasoline-bomb attacks on Catholic houses in the Andersonstown district of Belfast. The Catholics claimed the British army was not providing sufficient protection.

The Catholics already have the underground guerrillas of the Irish Republican Army. The new organization apparently will pattern itself on the Ulster Defense Association, a Protestant group which claims more than 50,000 adherents.

Conscience Eased After Years Of Guilt

By Abigail Van Buren

(c 1972 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd., Inc.)

DEAR ABBY: I have had something on my conscience for many years, and because I trust you completely, Abby, the idea of working thru you came to mind.

I am sending you a check for $50. Please cash it, and send the money to: The Reverend Robert Holbrook of the East Avenue United Methodist Church in York, Neb.

Please tell him that the money is for the Ladies Missionary Society. Here is my story:

I grew up in York, Neb., during the depression, and we never had a spare nickel for extras. My parents were active in church work, and on several occasions I would take a nickel or a dime out of the collection fund before it was counted. I doubt if the amount I took came to $10, and I'm sure it was never missed.

Our family left Nebraska many years ago, and altho I have prayed for forgiveness, I want to make restitution now.

Please don't disclose my name as it might embarrass my family. Very truly yours,

ANONYMOUS

DEAR ANONYMOUS: Your instructions have been carried out to the letter. God bless you. It's never too late.

DEAR ABBY: I am going to remarry my ex-husband. Our children are 8, 6, and 5. We were divorced two years ago after almost 10 years of marriage. We've both learned a lot from our mistakes and feel this time we can make a go of it.

The first time we were married at the City Hall by a Justice of the Peace. The whole thing took 15 minutes and there was nothing spiritual or beautiful about it.

Now, I want to have a lovely church wedding with all the trimmings. Does that sound strange to you? I mean with a white gown and veil, which I know only virgins should wear, and altho I earned the right to wear it the first time, we couldn't afford it. My husband was [and is] the only man in my life, and I still feel entitled to wear white. Am I wrong? My husband says it's up to me. What do you say?

CHURCH BELLS OR NOT

DEAR BELLS: I say you're entitled! Let those bells ring out, and I wish you every happiness.

DEAR ABBY: I don't have a problem, but I do have a question. Why do some people think they have to pay for everything?

I make my living as a deputy sheriff, but I belong to several volunteer organizations because I love to help people. I am captain of a Rescue Squad and First Aid crew, a member of the Civil Defense Disaster Team, I'm a member of the Volunteer Fire Department and chairman of the County Highway Safety Commission. I am also a first aid instructor for the Red Cross and Boy Scouts.

Whenever I've performed some kind of volunteer service, it really gets to me when somebody asks, "How much do I owe you?"

LIKES TO HELP

DEAR LIKES: Don't let it bother you. Most people think they should express their gratitude in dollars and cents. I'm reminded of a clergyman who wrote to say that his pet peeve was the bridegroom who asks, after the marriage ceremony, "How much do I owe you?" The clergyman said he was often tempted to reply, "How much was it worth to you?"

DEAR ABBY: I shall never forget the memorial service I attended for the slain Israeli Olympic athletes. The young rabbi delivered an eulogy worthy of an international literary prize. I also thought of the noble Scandinavians who left a game in which there was no fair chance for Israel. Altho the Norwegians sacrificed the opportunity to win medals for athletic prowess, they deserved a medal for human decency and fair play.

Engagement Announced

MISS PHYLLIS MARIE HEATH, . . . is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Thomas Heath of Greenville, who announce her engagement to Randy Gorden Hodges, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Hodges of Greenville. The wedding will take place Jan. 26.

Williams-Gardner Vows Exchanged In Ceremony

The wedding ceremony of Miss Susan Louise Gardner and Allan LaRalle Williams was solemnized at the Black Jack Free Will Baptist Church parsonage Saturday, Nov. 4, at 11:00 in the presence of the immediate families.

The Rev. Bobby Bazen performed the double ring ceremony.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Morgan O. Gardner, and Mr. and Mrs. Oscar M. Williams, all of Greenville.

The bride wore an A-lined street length dress with an empire waistline and full bishop sleeves. The bodice and sleeves were chantly lace outlined with seed pearls, and the skirt was of angel skin satin.

Her headpiece was a shoulder length veil of silk illusion attached to a double bow appliqued with motifs of lace and sprinkled with seed pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of white pom poms tied with streamers of satin and tulle.

After a wedding trip to the mountains of Virginia and to Washington, D.C., the couple will reside in Greenville.

The bride is a 1970 graduate of Beaufort County Technical Institute, and is employed at the Greenville Nursing and Convalescent Center. Seasonal Decorations Program Given

A program on seasonal decorations highlighted Wednesday night's meeting of the Greenville Jay-C-Ettes held at the Moose Lodge.

Mrs. Marie Cox, of Cox Floral Service, used Thanksgiving theme for her program. While demonstrating ways to combine flowers, fruit, candles and other items pertaining to the harvest season, Mrs. Cox made several arrangements.

During the business session, Mrs. Arlene Hoot reported on results of the candy sale and gifts were awarded to members selling the most candy. Mrs. Sheri Carter placed first, Mrs. Sylvia Measmer, second and Mrs. Joyce Steinbeck received third.

In discussing plans for Christmas, Mrs. Marguerite Anthony said that the date for the annual "stuffing party" would be on Nov. 21. Members stuff animals and the stockings to be used for the party at the Crippled Children's Clinic.

Mrs. Karen Turner informed the club of plans for the Boys Club Christmas party which will be held in cooperation with the Greenville Jaycees.

Mrs. Helen Parrot, co-chairman, reported on the information received from the Department of Social Services. The club decided on five local families that will be helped during Christmas.

Mrs. Sue Turcotte announced that the Muscular Dystrophy canisters had been delivered to local merchants and will be picked up during the first week in December by the group.

Guests for the meeting were Mrs. Carol Smith, Mrs. Bobbie Jackson and Mrs. Pat Messick.

Personal

Mrs. Mary Brewington, of 1710 S. Pitt St., left the New Bern Airport Thursday to attend the International Annual Convocation of the Church of God in Christ.

The meeting, which began Nov. 7 will continue through Nov. 17 and the headquarters at the Mason Street Church, Memphis, Tenn. Mrs. Brewington is staying at the Sheraton Motor Inn, Memphis.

Galas Raise Money

NEW YORK (AP) — Shocking pink invitations herald a glittering charity gala priced at $250 per couple, and despite a recession the benefit raises money.

Charity balls are not dying or even on their last legs at United Cerebral Palsy of New York, Inc.

This year the annual "Evening In Vegas" party is expected to garner more than $125,000 for the fund, which boasts that 85 per cent of every dollar collected goes into the organization's work in developing things such as rubella vaccine or establishing rehabilitation centers. A $2,885,170 budget comes from campaign income and government fees.

"This annual gala is successful because it's a good party," said Mrs. Phyllis Barchas, chairman of the women's division. "It is helpful, it is productive, but it is still fun. People have no guilt about spending their money in a way that brings hope and help to youngsters."

Dr. Hardy Is WOTM Speaker On Thursday

Dr. Michael Hardy, of East Carolina University, presented the program at the meeting of the Women of the Moose Chapter 1308 Thursday night.

Assistant professor in the Department of Drama and Speech at the University, Dr. Hardy explained how the ECU Summer Theater was put on. He showed a film explaining the behind the scenes of putting on a play. The Summer Theater will be in its 10th season and several of the productions will be "Applause," "My Fair Lady," and "You're A Good Man, Charlie Brown."

In winter, the East Carolina Playhouse has a balanced program of drama, opera and musical comedy. Dr. Hardy was introduced by Mrs. J. H. Withers, library chairman.

Senior Regent Mrs. A. W. Diehl held the enrollment of new members, Mrs. Hugh Carroll and Mrs. Kirby Hudson. Edwin Baldree, of the Greenville Moose Lodge, awarded pins to Mrs. Ed Bradford, Mrs. Leon Singleton and Mrs. Diehl from the American Cancer Society for their help in the crusade.

It was announced that a pre-Thanksgiving bake sale will be held at the Moose Lodge on Nov. 22 by the WOTM. The Moose Lodge will have a "trash and treasurer" sale on Nov. 18 from 9 a.m. until 6 p.m.

The WOTM business meeting has been set for Nov. 16 due to Thanksgiving.

No Tax Hike For Basic Needs

With the rosey outlook for sate suplus this year it appears that North Carolina's basic needs should be met without any tax increase.

State treasurer Edwin Gill said recently he believes the Legislature "will be able to balance a progressive budget for the biennium for 1973-75 without any new or increased taxes."

Gill said revenues are coming in "substantially in excess of predictions" and the credit balance may exceed $200 million. On top of that the state is to receive $45 million in federal revenue sharing funds.

Confrontations Almost Certain

By BRYAN HAISLIP
RALEIGH — The next governor of North Carolina is blue-eyed, slight of build, and a Republican.

He is a mountaineer by birth, a lawyer by profession, and a stubborn fighter in politics.

BRYAN HAISLIP

James E. Holshouser Jr., the candidate some in his own party said couldn't win, will take the oath next January as the first GOP chief executive in the 20th century.

His inauguration will end Democratic dominance in state government and begin a new era in Tar Heel politics. It will bring fresh faces to top capital offices, affect policies and programs, and sharpen two-party competition in future campaigns.

"I read from the election that the people of North Carolina are ready for a change after 72 years of the Democrat party in power," said Holshouser following his victory over Hargrove (Skipper) Bowles Jr.

The gubernatorial outcome was the major upset in the Republican sweep paced by President Nixon's ballot burial of George McGovern. The GOP also snagged a U.S. Senate seat, with Jesse Helms' defeat of Nick Galifianakis, and emerged with its largest state legislative delegation of the century.

The Big Prize
Among the trophies, the governorship is the most significant prize. In the scheme of politics, that's where the action is. It gives a party the exercise of power and the patronage opportunities for building its future.

Holshouser said he will use the office to strengthen the Republican position and promote further development of the two-party system.

He looked on his election, he added, as evidence that two-party politics, often heralded and long delayed, finally has arrived on the North Carolina scene.

Dealing With Democrats
As governor, Holshouser will assemble a team for his administration. He will have to deal with Democrats in the elective Council of State offices in the executive branch, as well as a General Assembly firmly in Democratic hands.

Soft words in the election aftermath promised an initial honeymoon. Gov. Bob Scott gave assurance of a smooth transition, and instructed department heads to facilitate the transfer of administrations.

Holshouser said he anticipated no difficulty in serving with Jim Hunt, the Wilson Democrat elected lieutenant governor. "I believe we can work together in a spirit of cooperation for the best interest of the state," the governor-elect said.

His own experience in four terms as a Watauga County Representative will fit him to work with the legislature, Holshouser added.

Hard days seem certain to lie ahead. Democrats anxious to repair their party for a bid to return to power are unlikely to sit by idly as a Republican governor enlarges a base of support.

If Hunt has ambitions to run for governor four years from now, as widely speculated, his actions will be shaped towards that objective.

Sooner or later, some partisan confrontations will be inevitable. How Holshouser, as governor, meets them will be the test for the tenure of Republicans in power.

Youthful Start
At 38, Holshouser will go into office one year younger than his predecessor did, and youngest among governors of recent history.

He will take with him the commitment to find greater room in government for youth, women and blacks, and to give consideration to the goals of educators.

Money management with the pledge for more economy, state government reorganization to shake bureaucracy and bring efficiency, and improved mental health services are among objectives he has staked out. His campaign also laid stress on an overhaul of the highway department to root out politics.

The election of a Republican governor in North Carolina has been talked as a future possibility for a number of years. Jim Gardner of Rocky Mount came close in 1968, and lost his bid for another try to Holshouser in the spring primary.

What closed the gap was a rash of ticket-splitting, given momentum by the Nixon tide. The President visited the state the weekend before election days to boost the Tar Heel candidates.

Still outnumbered in voter registration, the Republican party puts its hope with Gov. Elect Holshouser for building strength for elections yet to come.

On the local and county level, the federal revenue sharing funds should allow local governments to hold the tax line. The picture is not so clear on the federal level; however, President Nixon pledged no new taxes if his guidelines for federal spending were not exceeded.

Taxes may have been the number one issue in this year's campaigning. The politicians recognized this and the successful ones generally opposed additional taxes.

We frankly would be extremely surprised to see any major tax cuts; but it will be refreshing if this is the year when taxes are held at all levels of government. There is a good chance that they will be. Certainly this will be the case if the political promises are kept.

Inflation Is Not Only An American Problem

Inflation is certainly not a problem that is peculiar only to the United States, and in fact, recently Europe has had difficulties with this vexing problem.

Last week British Prime Minister Edward Heath clamped a 90-day freeze on wages and prices to curb inflation.

It shows once again that inflation is not just limited to one nation. It is a world problem and it will take careful handling by all nations to control it.

Westwood Has Survival Fight

By ROWLAND EVANS and ROBERT NOVAK
WASHINGTON — The enormity of the stunning McGovern debacle has magnified pressure for immediate dismissal of Jean Westwood as Democratic national chairman, confronting the party with a bloody battle testing its determination to return to centrist politics.

Our post-election telephone checks of National Committee members reveal that many liberals, previously unconcerned about Mrs. Westwood's fate, are insisting she be purged at the Dec. 9 National Committee meeting. Her flat refusal even to consider quitting sets up the struggle for the soul of the Democratic party, far transcending the relatively puny powers of her office.

To Democrats now demanding Mrs. Westwood's head, she symbolizes the McGovernite politics that drove off the essential and traditional white workingman's vote and now threatens to turn the party into a heavily ideologized faction of intellectuals and minority groups. Although the party's inherent strength easily survived the McGovern debacle this time, mainstream Democrats fear continued control by McGovernites could lay waste down to state and local levels the next time.

But in their blithe reaction to Tuesday's massacre, Mrs. Westwood and her supporters see little more than ineptitude and bad luck (as in the Eagleton affair) by candidate George McGovern. They seem determined to maintain the party's leftward crawl, retaining the full reforms, including quotas, of 1972. Keeping Mrs. Westwood as chairman symbolizes McGovernism without McGovern.

The attitude is seen in the mind-boggling decision to name McGovernite lieutenant Rick Stearns as top staffer of the party's new Charter Commission (granted immense powers to reshape the party). Though of unquestioned ability, Stearns unhappily is a red flag to important Jewish fund-raisers because of past anti-Zionist connections.

"I simply cannot believe it, and please quote me on that," super fund-raiser Eugene Wyman of Los Angeles said about the appointment of Stearns, barred from California during the campaign. Non-participation of such Democratic fund-raisers as Wyman was a heavy burden to the McGovern campaign. Thus, Stearns' appointment indicates no lessons have been learned by Mrs. Westwood.

Typically, the pro-Westwood campaign is far better organized than the anti-Westwood effort. Mrs. Westwood's Watergate operation has been preoccupied not with the McGovern campaign but with nailing down her chairmanship. For example, she is using 26 unfilled, at-large seats on the expanded National Committee, plus the 100-member Charter Commission, as patronage to solidify her precarious perch.

Advising her is the shrewdest old pro on the party's left fringe: John F. English of New York, whom Mrs. Westwood will name this week as the committee's general counsel. The Westwood-English strategy is to argue that dumping her would (1) constitute an "impeachment" of the party's first woman chairman and (2) require the removal of deputy chairman Basil Patterson, a New York black politician (on the one-man, one-woman rule). Would the party dare offend both women and blacks in one bloody afternoon?

"That's the kind of bull that made us end up with McGovern in the first place," one influential state chairman told us. But even if the old quota argument is now threadbare, McGovernites prosper mightily from the division and disorganization of their foes.

Robert Strauss, the hard-boiled Dallas lawyer universally praised as the party's pre-McGovern national treasurer, now has substantial—but minority—support to replace Mrs. Westwood. His backing: governors, Capitol Hill, state chairmen and, not in-

A Mandate For Apathy

WASHINGTON — APATHY WINS IN LANDSLIDE! was the headline in Wednesday morning's newspaper.

I went to Apathy's hotel headquarters in hopes of interviewing the winner, but his aides said he was resting. "Did he have a tough night?" I asked.

"No, he's always resting. He sleeps a lot."

Refusing to be put off, I sneaked up to his room and without knocking walked in. Apathy was lying on his bed in his underwear.

"I'm sorry to break in on you," I said apologetically. Apathy yawned. "I couldn't care less."

"You apparently are the big winner in this election. How do you feel about it?" "All right, I guess. I really didn't care if I won or not. Frankly, I don't feel any different now than I did before the race."

"That's interesting," I said writing very fast. "What made you enter the campaign in the first place?"

"I was drafted," Apathy said. "Early in the year the pollsters and pundits indicated there was tremendous grassroots support for Apathy in this country. It started when people suddenly realized they might have four more years of Nixon. The McGovern was nominated in Miami and that put the clincher on it. People came to me and said, 'Apathy, this is your year! Well, I didn't have anything else to do so I agreed to run.'"

"And you did well," I said. "Can you tell me a little about the strategy you used?"

"My strategy was not to do (ital) anything (unital). I let McGovern campaign on TV. I let Nixon campaign on radio and I let Angew and Shriver go all over the country. The more exposure they had the more Apathetic the country became. By Election Day I was 75 points ahead in the polls."

"But surely you did something to lull the country into a false sense of complacency."

"I'm not being modest when I say I didn't make a speech, issue a statement or spend one cent on my campaign. But I got all the press."

ART BUCHWALD

The columnists and the commentators kept talking about Apathy in this campaign every day. Wherever people gather to discuss the election, Apathy was the first thing mentioned. Both parties were knocking themselves out for their candidates, but I was the one who got all the exposure."

"I imagine," I said, "you became very nervous when the Watergate bugging scandal broke."

"My staff panicked; they wanted me to do something about it. They were afraid the American people would lose their Apathy after that. But I just told them to sit tight. I knew it was impossible to get the American people shook up about anything any more. And I was right. No matter what came out on the Watergate the electorate stayed Apathetic, and I didn't lose a vote."

"The only time I had a scare was when technicians striking against CBS cut the cables before the New York Jets - Washington Redskins game on Sunday."

"For the first time everyone in the country was aroused and lost their Apathy and I was afraid they would remain infuriated until Election Day. But CBS gave them all another football game to watch and everybody went back to sleep."

given a mandate by the American people. What do you intend to do with it?" "Nothing," Apathy said. "If I did anything I'd just shake people up."

Strength For Today

THE HOLLY WREATH

A minister on Easter Sunday stood before his congregation and held up a holly wreath as he began his children's talk. There was embarrassment on the part of many of his listeners. Some laughed outright. The minister had his seasons mixed. This is not Christmas, they said. This is Easter. Yet that holly wreath is the bridge between Christmas and Easter. It is made in the form of a wreath to represent the crown of thorns pressed down upon Christ's brow. The red berries represent his blood. The holly leaves — as imperishable as anything in the world of nature can be — stand for everlasting life.

No, the minister was not wrong. The holly wreath is wonderful as a Christmas symbol but also as an Easter symbol. For our King has triumphed. His presence is in the world. We live in the spiritual security which his death and resurrection have purchased for us. We await his final coming.

Let us get in mind and hold in mind the fact that Christ is God's gift to the world. God sent not his Son to condemn the world but that the world through him might be saved (John 3:17).

We are truly Christians when we await his coming with anticipation and joy.

Brokers Hope Apathy Will End

By JOHN CUNIFF

AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — With the election over, the war apparently nearing settlement and corporate profits surging, there is going to be a sharp focus on the stock market during the next few weeks.

These circumstances should, Wall Street is saying, produce a new mood among investors. Apathetic odd-lotters should become excited. Big traders who banked their money in American Telephone stock will speculate again.

The renewed interest, they add, should result in an upward adjustment of price-earnings ratios from about 17, based on Dow Jones industrial average stocks, because of greater investor confidence.

This is what the brokers are saying — this is what they are hoping. As one analyst said: "Investor apathy has been one of the major hindrances to a sustained advance in equity prices from current levels."

But whether hope can produce the result is another matter, and pervading the letters that analysts write to keep their clients informed and excited is the fear that maybe the gray public mood isn't going to brighten.

The fact is that the market now is highly professional. It is dominated by the trading of institutions and has been for at least a couple of years.

The public, or those Americans who own small amounts of stocks and trade infrequently, has been almost absent from the market. Unlike the institutions, which must invest in stocks, individuals can put their cash elsewhere.

And they have. The malaise of the spirit that seemed to have depressed all markets for a few years has almost completely lifted from some. Automobiles are selling briskly. So are second homes. And savings accounts are bursting.

But that same public hasn't re-entered the stock market, where they were such a potent force during the 1960s. And so, mutual funds are redeeming more than selling. Stock salesmen are being laid off.

There has been another effect also. Because they have been trading against each other, the institutions can't seem to get a good rally going. For months the market has sputtered and lost power every time one got started.

The hope now is that the public mood will change, especially as attention is drawn to the Dow Jones Industrial Average as it hovers near 1,000 points. So far, however, there is only slight indication that this will be so.

Small investors have bitter memories of recent years. They have seen how sudden price swings from institutional trading could strip them of assets it took years to accumulate. They aren't eager to play that role again.

South's Political Position Said Vastly Improved

By ED ROGERS
WASHINGTON (UPI) — The South vastly improved its political position in the nation by voting solidly Republican in the presidential election last week, in the view of one GOP campaigner.

While other GOP strategists switched their signs to 1976, presidential adviser Harry Dent, a South Carolinian, began tallying gains he believes his region made for itself.

"The Southern wing of the Republican party is an increasingly important power in the national Republican Party and, in addition, is strengthening the South's position in the whole nation," Dent said.

Dent, the only political adviser remaining in the White House at the near-end of President Nixon's first term, once served as an aide to Sen. Strom Thurmond, R-S. C. He was also the state GOP chairman.

In Dent's view neither party can now ignore the region which Republicans wrote off and Democrats took for granted in the decades it voted solidly Democratic prior to 1960.

Using election charts published in newspapers here plus a bit of arithmetic Dent made these points in an interview:

—While the published returns showed Nixon received 62 per cent of the popular vote, compared to 38 per cent for Democrat George McGovern, the Nixon margin in 11 Dixie states was 70-30.

Subtract the 11-state Dixie vote and you get a Nixon margin of only a fraction above 59 per cent compared to the fraction above the 70 per cent he got in the South.

By individual state, Nixon's percentages ranged upward from the 66 per cent he got in Texas—well above the national average. No other state can match the 80 per cent he got in Mississippi.

Dent's percentages have been altered slightly by later returns.

—While much comment has been published about Nixon's "only landslide," in which he won an overwhelming personal victory but gained little in Congress, this was not true of returns from the South.

The Republicans suffered a net loss of two Senate seats, which reduced their number to 43 out of 100. But they picked up two seats in the South, which kept the loss from being worse.

With a newcomer from Virginia and from North Carolina as a result of the election, there will be seven Republicans among the 22 senators from Dixie.

The Republicans lost one of two house seats held by Georgians, but picked up two in Mississippi and one each in Florida, Louisiana, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas and Virginia. This was a net gain of seven. These are far from being

Want To Keep Oswald Building

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — Owners of a building once used by Lee Harvey Oswald are objecting to the government's efforts to tear it down and build a courthouse.

They describe the building as a "monument of national and local significance" because it housed an office of the Free Cuba Committee operated by Oswald in 1963.

Will Offer Compromise At Baptist Convention

WINSTON-SALEM, N.C. (AP)—The president of the North Carolina Baptist State Convention is to offer a compromise tonight on the controversial baptism issue as the convention opens its 142nd annual meeting in Winston-Salem.

The Rev. Tom Freeman of Dunn said in a weekend interview that his solution "will be pleasing to everyone" and will cancel out the need to vote on two pending amendments.

Freeman said he would reveal the solution in his presidential message to the 2,500 messengers, or delegates, expected to attend the convention.

The baptism issue has centered around whether individual churches should be allowed to continue admitting new members who have not been immersed in baptism.

An amendment to the convention by-laws was defeated last year that would have barred from convention membership persons who had not been fully immersed in baptism. The proposal won a plurality but failed to get the two-thirds approval needed as an amendment.

When asked about the baptism amendments the convention will consider, Freeman said he is "very hopeful" that the matter can be finally settled.

"I am going to present in my presidential message Monday night a proposal which I hope will be pleasing to everyone and acceptable," he said.

The two amendment proposals scheduled to be brought are by the Rev. Thurmond Allred of Concord and the Rev. M.O. Owens of Gastonia.

The Rev. Allred's proposal, if approved, would require only that messengers to the convention to be immersed Baptists, leaving the rule on the mode of baptism to the individual churches.

The Rev. Owens' proposal, defeated last year, would require all convention Baptists to be immersed.

The present constitution has no specific ruling on immersion.

In other convention business, Wake Forest University is expected to get its first black trustee.

Howard Lee, the black mayor of Chapel Hill, has been nominated as one of nine new trustee for the Wake Forest board. The nomination needs only the formal approval of the convention.

University officials said as far as they knew Lee would be the first black trustee of a predominantly white college or university in North Carolina.

Other topics for discussion include the relationship of the North Carolina Baptist Hospital at Winston-Salem to the convention; an increase of $750,000 in the annual budget to $8.5 million; and pastors' salaries.

Predicts Import Of Land Use Is Gas, Oil Will Rise Prime Topic

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Commerce Peter G. Peterson says the United States soon will greatly increase foreign imports of natural gas and oil.

He said discussions are under way with the Soviet Union about a trade deal for Siberian natural gas.

Even though importing large amounts of fuel will complicate America's balance of trade problems, Peterson said, "We are going to probably have to import a lot of gas, a lot of oil, at least in the near term."

Interviewed Sunday on ABC-TV's "Issues and Answers," Peterson said talks are continuing on the Soviet gas deals, but reports of an imminent agreement are premature.

Such other nations as Japan are considering putting up some of the credit necessary for the deal, he said. Those countries also would get some of the gas in exchange for natural gas processing equipment and pipelines.

Peterson made no mention of an announcement on Nov. 2 by three Texas firms that they expect to sign an agreement before the end of the year for the importation of 2 billion cubic feet daily of liquefied natural gas from the Soviet Union.

November is "Land Use Planning Month" according to Mrs. Vince Bellis, chairman of the League of Women Voters' Land Use Planning Committee.

Meetings will be held throughout the month to discuss all aspects of planning and policy connected with land use. The first will be held Tuesday, at 8 p.m. at St. Gabriels's Church School Hall, 1101 Ward Street. The public is invited to hear several experts in land use planning and policy discuss zoning, hydrology, physical and environmental resources, and state land use policy. Included on the panel are Wes Hankins, head of Urban and Regional Planning at East Carolina University; Dr. Richard Stephenson, of the ECU Geography Department who has worked with planning commissions in Knoxville, Tenn. and Columbus and Akron, Ohio; and Morton Congleton, regional planner with the Mid-East Commission.

Mrs. Bellis said one of the basic problems concerning land use is that zoning has historically grown before planning and is, therefore, not the useful tool of comprehensive planning that it should be.

Riddick Spoke To Lions Club

Pitt County Agricultural Extension Agent Henry Riddick spoke to the Greenville Lions Club last Monday night on food production in the United States.

The 2000 farmers in Pitt County are among 10 million farmers throughout the United States who feed more than 50 million people in the U. S.

Investment in equipment is about $60,000 per farmer in Pitt County, he said. For every dollar the consumer spends for groceries, the farmer gets about 40 cents.

Woody's Ramblin's

By WOODY PEELE

Contrary to the views of some of the Virginia sportswriters, East Carolina University's Pirates didn't turn into a pumpkin during the game Saturday with William & Mary. Their glass slippers didn't prove fragile, as they kept right on rolling in the Southern Conference, wrapping up their first title in football since 1966 when they posted a 4-1-1 record and shared the crown with these same Indians. The Bucs finished second the next year to West Virginia, and since then haven't fared as well.

Until now—that is. They're now the champs—all by themselves. This year, there is no automatic bowl bid to the Tangerine, but it appears likely that the Bucs will get it, providing they don't fall apart completely the rest of the way.

And it's for sure that they can't rest easy for these last two games. Bowling Green, the team they are likely to meet, had its hands full Saturday in beating Dayton, 5-0, of all scores, so the Bucs must beware of the oft-beaten Flyers this Saturday.

Then, the following week, the Southern and ACC champs meet in Chapel Hill as the regular season ends.

Much of the attention throughout the year has been placed on the "Wild Dog's defense of the Pirates. Now, the offense is beginning to make itself known. For the past three weeks, the Bucs have rolled up over 400 yards a game in offense. And the record book is beginning to show it.

Carlester Crumpler broke the single season mark in the Southern (and for ECU, too) Saturday. He now has 275 rushes, and still has two games to go. The old ECU and SC mark was 252, set in 1967 by Butch Colson.

The big junior has 1,005 yards so far, and the school record is 1,135 (Colson 1967). The conference mark is 1,286, so he has a chance to snap both. He also has 78 points, just 18 short of Dave Alexander's mark of 96, set in 1964 and tied in 1965. The Conference record is 99 points. In touchdowns, he needs just three to tie the school and SC mark of 16, held by Alexander.

Carl Summerell has 1,490 yards total offense, while Alexander's ECU mark is 1,587, set in 1965. Summerell is also just one short of ticks, Bill Cline's 1964 record of 12 touchdown passes.

Flanker Tim Dameron has passed Dick Corrada's 1970 record of 512 yards in pass receptions with 567 for the year. He has tied Jimmy Adkins 1967 mark of five touchdowns caught in a season (tied by him also last year), and the career TD mark of 11 first set by Dave Bumgarner in 1962-64. His chance to snap both came Saturday, but a fumble killed that chance. He has also set a new career record for receiving, 1,112 yards, snapping Bumgarner's mark of 1,023 in 1962-64.

Ricky McLeister, who has set new marks in field goal kicking at East Carolina, is just two short of the Conference mark of 10. He and William & Mary's Terry Regan each have eight.

The team as a whole has 3,453 yards, tying the 1967 season record. Their rushes, 584, broke the old mark of 571 in 1967, and they have rushed for 2,317 yards just one short of the record, also in 1967.

The 10 yard penalty against them Saturday was the fewest yards the Bucs have been penalized in a game. They've also picked up 194 first downs, one more than the 1970 record.

And they've now won eight straight in the league, another new ECU standard, one that has a chance of continuing.

Dolphins Smother Patriots

By BRUCE LOWITT

Associated Press Sports Writer
"I'm proud to get 100 wins," Miami Coach Don Shula said, "but it is only really meaningful if it happened in a year we get a world championship."

And the Dolphins looked every bit the champions Sunday. They didn't just win. They slaughtered New England 52-0 to run their streak to nine victories without a defeat this National Football League season.

And more and more, it appears the Dolphins are going to cruise through an entire season unscathed, a feat no team has achieved since the Chicago Bears did it back in 1942.

In Sunday's other games, Philadelphia edged Houston 17-17, San Francisco beat Baltimore 24-21, Minnesota defeated Detroit 16-14, Green Bay clipped Chicago 23-17, Washington whipped the New York Giants 27-13, Dallas outlasted St. Louis 33-24, Pittsburgh topped Kansas City 16-7, Oakland turned back Cincinnati 20-14, Atlanta rolled past New Orleans 36-20, Denver upset Los Angeles 16-10 and the New York Jets shellacked Buffalo 41-3. In tonight's game, Cleveland is at San Diego.

Mercury Morris and Marlin Briscoe led the carnage against New England. Morris rushed for 90 yards and three touchdowns and Briscoe caught a pair of scoring passes—a 16-yarder from Earl Morrall and a 51-yarder from reserve quarterback Jim Del Gaudio. Meanwhile, the defense smothered the Patriots' attack, yielding just 92 yards rushing and 77 passing.

The Dolphins, incidentally, piled up 482 yards against New England, 301 of them in the air. And they can clinch an American Conference playoff berth—and all but wrap up the East Division crown—next Sunday when they host the Jets.

"It's a thrill to win a game with six field goals," said Tom Dempsey of Philadelphia, who did just that against the Oilers, "but it's still not the same as kicking the 63-yarder." That's the NFL record he set two years ago. Against Houston, his longest was a mere 52 yards. He had a chance to tie the league record of seven field goals in a game but blew it when he missed a 22-yarder in the third quarter. Still, his boots dumped the Oilers' record to 1-8, worst in the league.

Johnny Unitas made his return as Baltimore's quarterback with one play in the fourth quarter—and it was one play too many for the Colts.

He took over when Marty Domres was hurt and was immediately blitzed by the 49ers. The result was a fumble that gave San Francisco the ball on the Baltimore 49-yard line. "He just didn't have the protection," Colt Coach John Sandusky understated.

Moments later, Steve Spurrier threw his second touchdown of the game, a 25-yarder to Ted Kwalick that put the game out of reach. It also put the 49ers right back in the National Conference West race. They remained a half-game back of Atlanta and moved within a game of the front-running Rams.

Fred Cox kicked a pair of fourth-quarter field goals to boost Minnesota ahead of Detroit—but it was Bobby Bryant that came up with the biggest play of the game for the Vikings.

With five seconds remaining, Errol Mann tried to kick a game-winning 33-yarder for the Lions but Bryant stormed in to block it and preserve the victory. "It hit me right in the face mask," the defensive back grinned through a bloody mouth, "but it was one of the greatest feelings I ever had."

The victory locked the Lions and Vikes in second place in the NFC's Central Division as the Packers grabbed first by one game. And they grabbed the game against the Bears with a pair of quick first-period touchdowns, one of them set up by Ike Thomas' 89-yard kickoff return. Chester Marcol added three field goals for Green Bay.

Larry Brown rolled up 106 yards for Washington, falling just five short of the 1,000-yard mark for the season. But he didn't fall short in another department. After the Giants had scrambled back to tie the Redskins 13-13, Brown crashed over for touchdowns from four and five yards out to keep the 'Skins a game ahead of Dallas in the NFC East.

Four field goals by Tony Fritsch and Charlie Waters' two interceptions, one of them returned 28 yards for a touchdown, provided the Cowboys with the cushion they needed to clip the Cardinals. The Steelers, denied a title of any kind for 40 years, took a big step toward the AFC Central crown by beating the Chiefs and moving 1½ games ahead of the idle Browns and two ahead of the Bengals. "The defense won the game," said quarterback Terry Bradshaw after linebacker Jack Ham pounced on two Kansas City fumbles, paving the way to Roy Gerala's third field goal and Franco Harris' seven-yard touchdown run in a 13-point fourth quarter.

And by losing, the Chiefs fell back into second place in the AFC West scramble, half a game back of the Raiders. It was running back Charlie West that provided the Raiders the power to beat the Bengals.

"I had a lot of bad habits and a lot of things to clean up," West said after steaming 146 yards on 25 carries for the best game of his five-year pro career.

Bob Berry, throwing for one touchdown and running for another, powered the Falcons to a 33-3 lead, then relaxed on the bench for the final 24 minutes as they held off the Saints.

Floyd Little rushed for 79 yards—six more than the entire Los Angeles ground attack—and Jim Turner booted three field goals in the fourth quarter to lead the Broncos over the Rams.

And the Bills, with fumbles, errant passes and penalties, gave the Jets all the opportunities they needed to roll up their biggest winning margin—38 points—since 1966. Emerson Boozer scored two touchdowns on a one-yard run and four-yard pass from Joe Namath.

ECU Title-Winning Season A Surprise To Randle

By MARSHALL JOHNSON
Associated Press Writer
When Sonny Randle took over the head football coaching job at East Carolina in 1971, he stuck his neck way out by predicting big things and almost had his head chopped off when they didn't develop.

Only a 3-1 finish in the last four games pulled the Pirates up to a 4-6 over-all record and Randle, who lost 23 seniors from that team, had learned his lesson when the 1972 campaign began.

"A guy couldn't have been in his right mind if he thought we'd win the Southern Conference championship," Randle remarked Saturday as he stood in the shower after his Pirates had just won that title with a 21-15 victory over William and Mary's fumble-plagued Indians. "You know where I put my team on the preseason ballot."

William and Mary lost fumbles the first four times it had the ball and the Pirates, with Carl Summerell running and passing them into position and Carlester Crumpler scoring, ran up a 21-0 halftime lead.

It barely stood up as the Indians, getting a big break when flanker Tim Dameron fumbled for a touchdown into the end zone what appeared to be a 59-yard scoring pass play from Summerell that would have made it 28-0, marched 80 and 57 yards to come within a touchdown.

That was as close as they got, their last chance evaporating when an apparent first down pass on fourth down by punter Russell Brown was nullified by an illegal receiver penalty—an infraction spotted by an East Carolina coach but apparently not by the officials at the time.

"We started with a whole lot of football players, 110," said Randle. "By the time we opened with VMI, we had 65—but we had 65 we could go anywhere with, the kind of kids we can win with."

The Pirates' 8-1 over-all record testifies to that, and there's a beginning of bowl talk around Greenville, N. C., if East Carolina can stay respectable in its closing games with Dayton and North Carolina.

East Carolina's victory eliminated any chance the conference title would be decided for the third year in a row by a meeting of William and Mary and Richmond's defending champion Spiders, who outlasted Davidson's Wildcats 20-14 in another league game Saturday.

The Indians and Spiders, now tied for second at 4-1 behind the Pirates—who closed out at 6-0—meet this Saturday in what Randle referred to as "the Losers' Bowl."

Another conference game Saturday saw The Citadel's Bulldogs whip Furman's Paladins 19-13 as All-Southern quarterback Harry Lynch, playing with two broken ribs, scored twice.

Appalachian State's Mountaineers won their fourth in a row by mauling Eastern Kentucky 55-7 in one of two non-league encounters, but Virginia Military's Keydets took a 50-24 drubbing at West Virginia.

Crumpler had 124 yards on 34 carries for East Carolina, while Summerell ran for 69 yards and passed for 172. More importantly, he made the big play in every scoring drive.

Sophomore quarterback Bill Deery ran for 128 yards and passed for 99 and touchdown strikes of three yards to Mark Smith and 15 yards to Bruce McCutcheon, but he was guilty of two of the fumbles.

"We played stinking, lousy football for a half," said William and Mary Coach Jim Root, visibly upset by both his team's performance and the ineligible receiver call. "I'm not contesting whether or not we had an ineligible receiver, but the delay in the call. If he (the official) didn't see it, he can't call it."

Root added "I'm not taking anything away from Sonny Randle and his team. They are tough defensively, come at you and move the ball."

An East Carolina assistant and onetime William and Mary star, Vito Ragazzo, "called the play on the ineligible receiver," said Randle. "We played real well the first half and they played real well the second half."

As a parting shot at newsmen he thinks haven't really taken the Pirates seriously enough, Randle said "I really would appreciate it if we got credit for having a helluva football team."

Touchdown runs by Barty Smith and Billy Meyers in a 1:45 span of the fourth period snapped a 7-7 tie and gave Richmond its victory over Davidson, whose Scotty Shipp hit 15 of 32 passes for 245 yards.

Meyers had 90 yards and two touchdowns on 26 carries, Smith had 65 yards and one score on 13 tries.

"I hate to say that we were looking ahead to William and Mary, but that might have been true," said Richmond Coach Frank Jones. "I just don't know what it is. We never play

Buddy Baker Edges Out Petty And Foyt In Torrid Texas 500

By BLOYS BRITT
AP Auto Racing Writer
COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — Richard Petty and A. J. Foyt, two of auto racing's millionaires, climbed out of their cars a Texas World Speedway and shook hands.

"I've got to hand it to you," Petty told Foyt. "You sure can drive a race car. I'm tickled just to be in your league."

Not far away, however, Buddy Baker was being congratulated for winning the Texas 500 in a torrid late-race battle with Foyt and Petty. It came very near being a photo finish, and only Baker's iron-nerved, 6-foot-4 frame prevented it from being so.

Baker, son of still active driving Buck Baker, had dominated this final event in the Winston Cup Grand National series almost from the start. He never completely escaped Petty, but he had Foyt a lap down—two miles—at one point, only to see the Texas veteran roar back into contention in the final 100 miles.

At the end, Baker had the nose of his Dodge about a hood length in front of Foyt's Mercury, with Petty trailing another four lengths back. A crowd of 33,500 watched in awe as the big stockers ran door-to-door and bumper-to-bumper down the stretch.

Petty's third place gave him a fourth Grand National driving title in the National Association for Stock Car Auto Racing. No other drive has won more than three.

Not only that, his $6,220 payoff ran his season's total to $202,015 and his career winnings to $1,340,000. Only Foyt, who captured the United States Auto Club driving title five times, has won more trophies and more money.

Bobby Allison, who drove an ailing Chevrolet to fourth place, wound up as the 1972 money leader with $254,050. Baker, who had won the World 600 in Charlotte earlier this year, led the race over the two-mile Texas World oval seven times for a total of 130 laps. Petty, who needed only to drive half the race to clinch the point championship, paced the 44 starters nine times for 100 laps.

Despite his early race troubles, Foyt led six times for 20 laps. He was the only other driver to lead.

Baker's speed was a track record 147.059 miles per hour, eclipsing Bobby Isaac's 1969 mark of 144.277.

Appalachian Wins Conf. Soccer Crown

BOONE, N.C. (AP) — Appalachian State, which has been a member of the Southern Conference for only a year and one-half, has won its first league championship—in soccer.

Coach Vaughn Christian's Mountaineers clinched the crown Saturday with a 1-0 playoff victory over William and Mary. Sophomore Chip Hilger's first period goal, off an assist by John Giminez, was all that goalie Ben Toler needed to beat the visiting Indians, the Northern Division champions and runnersup for the title last year.

Appalachian, now 11-4, clinched the Southern Division title earlier last week on Hilger's sudden death overtime goal that produced a 1-0 victory over Davidson, last year's conference champion.

Wind Hampered World Cup Play

MELBOURNE, Australia (AP) — For Tom Weiskopf, the World Cup Golf Tournament was a "good experience." But he nevertheless could not wait to get out of town.

"All I want to do is get home," the Columbus, Ohio, golfer said after finishing among the also-rans Sunday—a disappointing posture of the Americans in the field.

While Weiskopf ballooned to a 79 on the last day to finish with a three-round total of 223, Hsieh Min-nan won the individual title with a 217 and also led the Nationalist China to the team title.

Jim Jamieson of Moline, Ill., came in with a 222, winding up in a tie for fifth place. The United States team finished in a tie for fourth.

"I thought we still had a chance until the 17th hole," said Weiskopf. "Then I crashed with a double bogey seven and it was all over so far as we were concerned."

"We could hardly stand out there against the wind...it was impossible to score well," said Jamieson.

Even the individual winner had a problem with that brutal wind at the Royal Melbourne course. Hsieh soared to a final-round 78, but had good enough early rounds to win it.

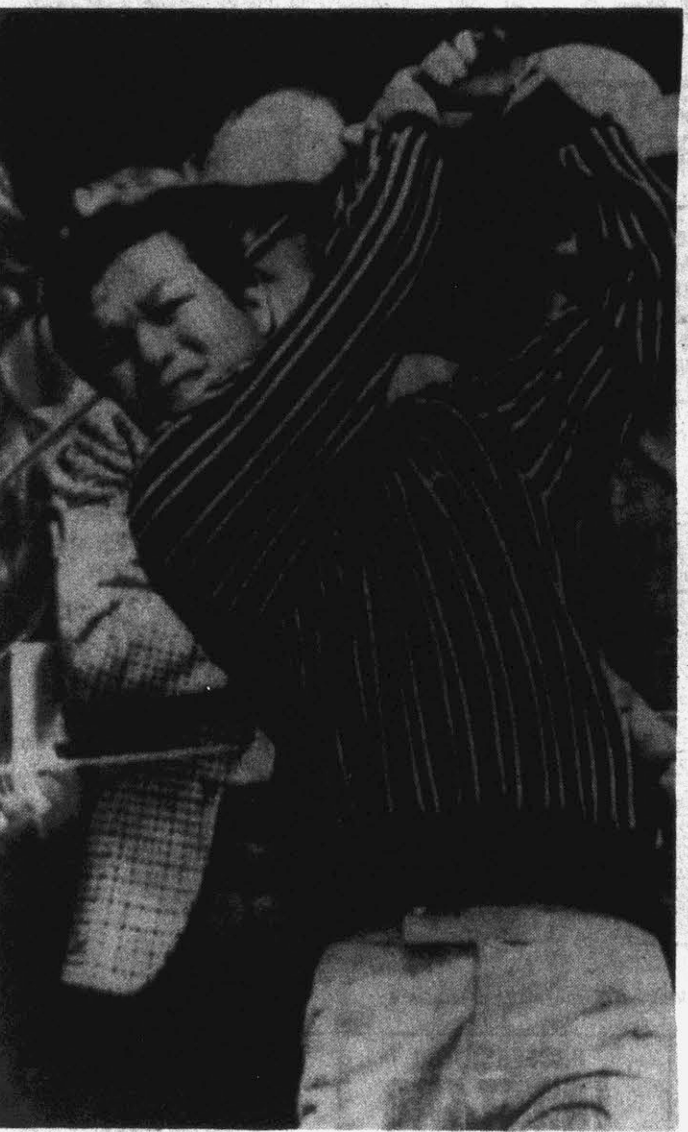

"It is the happiest day of my golfing life," said Hsieh. "I was nervous all the time, but my partner kept telling me we could win it."

"It was very tough playing in these conditions," said Hsieh's teammate, "Mr. Lu."

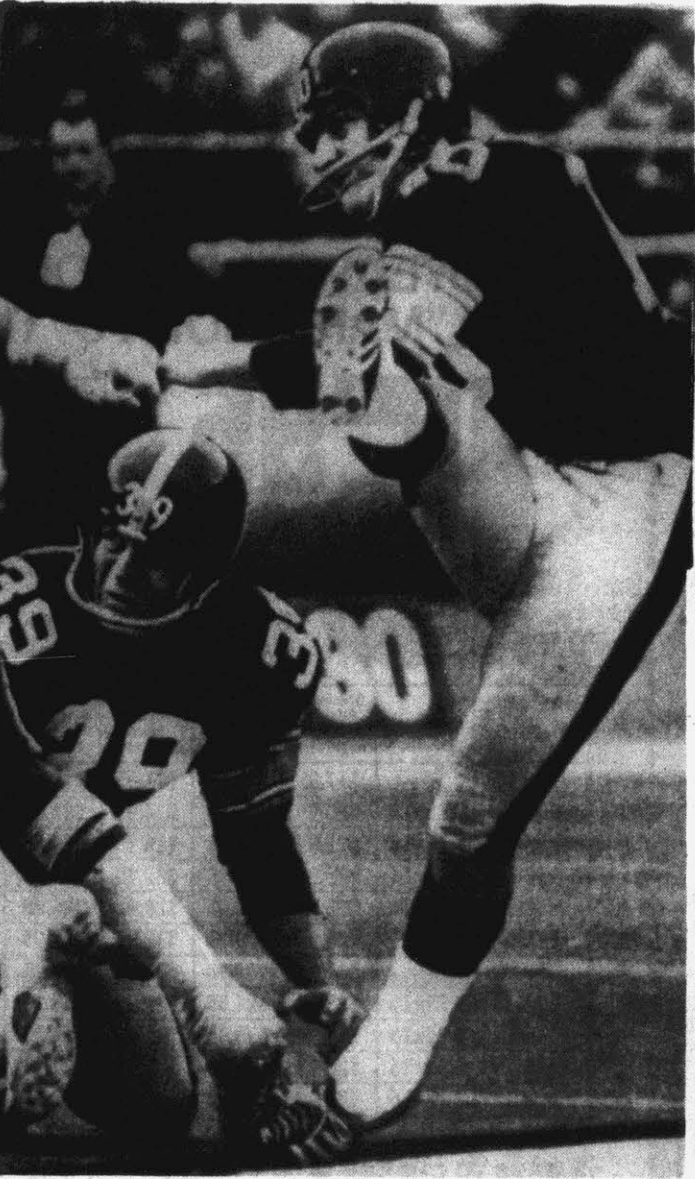

The Chinese clinched the victory at the 575-yard, 17th hole with a pair of birdies. First, "Mr. Lu" rolled in a 35-footer and then Hsieh sank a 10-footer.

Their combined efforts gave the Chinese the team title with a 54-hole total of 438, two strokes ahead of runner-up Japan.

South Africa was third at 444, one stroke in front of the U.S. and Australia.

LEADS TAIWAN TO TRIUMPH — Hsieh Min-nan of the Republic of China (Taiwan) hits off the 18th tee at the Royal Melbourne course Sunday during the World Cup Golf Tournament. Hsieh won the individual title with a 54-hole total of 217 and led the Taiwan team to the tourney championship. Defending champion U.S. team finished in a disappointing tie with host Australia for fourth place, seven strokes back. (AP Wirephoto)

WATCHING THE BALL — Steelers field goal specialist Roy Gerela (10) and holder Bob Walden watch the ball in flight on one of several field goal attempts in Pittsburgh Sunday in action with the Kansas City Chiefs. Gerela, who leads the AFC in scoring with 80 points, kicked three more Sunday afternoon to help his team defeat the Chiefs 16-7. (AP Wirephoto)

The Worry Clinic

How To Handle Hand-Tremor

Even teen-agers can sympathize with Rev. James. And most people above middle age also suffer to some degree from "intention tremor." So use the methods below to checkmate it. Then you will not rattle your notes or spill your coffee at the table!

By GEORGE W. CRANE
P.N.D., M.D.

Case V-542: Rev. James, aged 64, has a common problem. "Dr. Crane," he began, "when I lift up a page of my notes to read a poem to the congregation, my hand shakes terribly. "It embarrasses me so much that I immediately become a victim of stage fright, though I have preached for 40 years. "So what can I do to prevent this excessive tremor of my right hand?"

Tremor Strategy

As we grow older, many of us develop excessive tremor of the right hand.

"It is called 'intention tremor.'"

If you are normally left handed, then it will be that hand which shakes so abnormally.

Even at the dinner table, it may tremble so violently that you spill coffee when bringing the cup to your lips.

But teen-agers also may have a marked tremor, just due to their unusual excitement when suddenly called upon to speak or sing a solo.

Their tremors are not the typical "intention tremor" of their grandparents.

But with both age groups, the same helpful strategy can be employed to checkmate the tremor.

Just seize the sheet of paper with BOTH hands and pull gently in opposite directions.

Thus, the tremor of one hand tends to neutralize that of the other.

You may still be jittery and a victim of stage fright.

But at least your paper or sheet music will not be rattling violently to advertise your nervousness!

And at the table, move your coffee cup or glass of milk over to the left, if you are right ended.

Then use that left hand to life the drink to your lips.

Or employ BOTH hands, cuddling the cup between them.

And if you are to read a passage in public, as the clergyman reads his Scriptural Lesson for his sermon text, keep your index finger under the line you are uttering.

Then drop your finger down one line at a time to keep your place, as you keep on reading.

For it is wise to look up and maintain eye-contact with the audience.

But many preachers and professional speakers, if they don't keep their finger on the line, then lose their place and must pause to locate the next sentence on the page.

Also, if there is a microphone at the lectern, then push it down so it doesn't hide your mouth and chin.

For a mike should be at the level of your throat!

The congregation can then follow you much better if it sees your lips and facial expression.

Besides, the power in the electrical circuit can easily be increased so don't talk into the stage mike as if it were a telephone!

And learn to turn your eyes from one side of the room to another so you can maintain eye-contact with everybody.

Jesus did this routinely, as when he noticed Zachaeus up the sycamore tree and called out to him.

Also, illustrate your text with a series of actual cases, told as stories, for narration always beats exposition in holding the interest of the crowd.

Send for my booklet "Public Platform Strategy," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 25 cents. (Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 25 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

NARCOTICS DOWN UNDER
SYDNEY, Australia (UPI)—International syndicates are turning more to Australia to peddle narcotics, Customs Minister Don Chip told Parliament.

Chip said seizures of hashish had doubled each year for the past four years. But that, he said was only about 10 per cent of the drugs smuggled into Australia.

Dirigible Will Assist Builders

MOSCOW (UPI) —A dirigible will be used to help lift and assemble prefabricated blocks of four and five apartments into a multi-floor building in Kiev, the newspaper Vyskha reported. Using the dirigible to move the huge factory-made sections to the construction site means builders do not have to run a railway line to it or build cranes at it, the newspaper said.

GOREN ON BRIDGE

BY CHARLES H. GOREN
BRIDGE QUIZ ANSWERS

1972 By The Chicago Tribune
Q. 1—With both sides vulnerable, your right hand opponent opens with one diamond and you hold:

♠AJ10532 ♥632 ♦7 ♣AK2

What action do you take?
A.—Two spades. This is a close choice between a jump shift to three clubs and the reverse bid of two spades with the preference leaning toward the latter call. At this point, the jump is therefore recommended to describe that you have an above average hand.

Q. 2—Both vulnerable, and as South you hold:

♠Q52 ♥A9862 ♦KQ10 ♣J6

The bidding has proceeded: North East South West 1 ♣ Pass 1 ♥ Pass 2 ♣ Pass ?

What do you bid now?
A.—Three no trump. A mere bid of two no trump by you at this point would be regarded as a bid made under some pressure. The jump is therefore recommended to describe that you have an above average hand.

Q. 3—You are South, vulnerable, and hold:

♠KJ5 ♥AKJ93 ♦K106 ♣K4

The bidding has proceeded: East South West North 1 ♣ Dble. Pass 3 NT Pass ?

What do you bid now?
A.—It is quite clear that East has thrown a red herring across your trail. Your partner's hand is equal to a very good opening bid. Remember that he could have shown a strong hand by jumping to two no trump. His jump to three, therefore, shows a hand of great value. We would be inclined to take our chances on a direct slam bid, but surely we would bid at least five no trump.

Q. 4—Both vulnerable, and as South you hold:

♠A105 ♥QJ6 ♦J73 ♣QJ95

The bidding has proceeded: West North East South 1 ♣ Dble. 1 NT ?

What do you bid?
A.—Double, by proceeding along the lines of simple arithmetic we reach the conclusion that East will be unable to fulfill a contract of one no trump. Your hand contains 11 points in high cards, and partner's hand is presumably worth at least 13. Your side, therefore, has at least 24 points to 16 for the adversaries.

Class Ring Has Increased Value

NEW YORK (UPI) — While diamonds may be a girl's best friend, don't sell your graduation ring short, says a leading manufacturer of motivational products for young people.

The price of gold has been soaring, says A. J. Hackl, president of Indianapolis-based Herff Jones Co., and class rings with substantial gold content may grow in value as time passes.

With gold prices historically rising through the years, he says, the legendary Sweetheart of Sigma Chi may soon discover that the senior ring or fraternity pin she received from her swain has hatched into a nest egg.

Tornadoes can appear any time of year, but are most common in April, May and June.

Passengers Safe In Miami After Wild Hijacking

By KEN GEFFERT
Associated Press Writer
MIAMI (AP) — Their 28-hour, 3,800-mile flight of terror ended, passengers aboard a hijacked jetliner have returned from Cuba with bizarre tales of three "deranged" sky pirates. They also had words of praise for the Southern Airways crew which landed the crippled DC9 on a foam-covered Havana runway. Another Southern DC9 returned the 27 passengers and four crewmen to Miami and finally to their original destinations Sunday after an attempt by FBI sharpshooters to halt the hijacking failed Saturday night and forced the emergency landing in Cuba. All three hijackers were taken into custody by Cuban officials at Havana. Passengers said Cuban authorities also confiscated ransom money demanded and collected by the hijackers from Southern. "Everyone thought they would be dead in an hour," said passenger Gale Buchanan at a Miami hospital, recalling how FBI agents shot out four of the plane's tires as it prepared for takeoff after a refueling stop at Orlando, Fla. Buchanan, 35, of Auburn, Ala., who suffered a sprained knee, was one of four persons injured during the hijacking. Copilot Billy Johnson, 37, mayor of College City, Ark., was shot in the shoulder by one of the hijackers. Buchanan said the hijackers acted in a bizarre manner during the circuitous, three-nation flight. He said they alternately handed out fistfuls of ransom money, forced male passengers to remove their pants and shot the copilot after threatening to "put a bullet in your head." The hijackers, reportedly armed with guns and grenades, had demanded a $10-million ransom for the plane and its passengers. An undisclosed amount of money was given to the sky pirates during a stop in Chattanooga, Tenn., Saturday. Southern refused to say how much money had been given to them. There also were several other unanswered points: —Were the hijackers screened for weapons when they boarded the Southern jet at Birmingham shortly before they commandeered the plane Friday night? —Will Cuba return the ransom money and the hijackers to the United States? —Why did the FBI order its marksmen to shoot the tires of the hijacked Southern DC9 and endanger the lives of the passengers and crew? An FBI spokesman declined to comment. Police and family members identified the hijackers as Melvin Charles Cale, 21, of Oak Ridge, Tenn.; his half-brother, Lewis K. Moore, 27, of Detroit, and Henry D. Jackson, 25, also of Detroit. The FBI here said the U.S. attorney's office in Birmingham, Ala., had been authorized to file air-piracy charges against the three. Cale was described as an escapee from the Nashville Community Work Release Center. Jackson and Moore were described as close friends who became embittered after losing a $4-million lawsuit in which they accused Detroit police of brutality. They were freed on $500 bond in a rape case last month. Buchanan said it was the hijacker called "Henry" who shot Johnson after FBI agents opened fire on the plane's tires in Orlando. Johnson told newsmen in a Miami hospital that the FBI gunfire "really provoked the hijackers. They told me they were going to kill me in front of everyone to make an example out of me." Buchanan said the copilot ducked as the hijacker fired. Buchanan said the pilot, Capt. Bill Haas of La Grande, Tenn., was "as courageous a person as I ever met. He instilled confidence." When an ambulance returned Johnson to the Southern relief plane after hospital treatment in Miami, passengers waiting to be flown to their original destination gave him a standing ovation. The flight out of Miami Sunday night, which retraced the hijacked plane's original course in reverse, marked the end of a hopscotch journey that started when the twin-engine jet was commandeered over Alabama Friday night. During its commandeered flight, the plane landed at Jackson, Miss.; Cleveland, Ohio; Toronto, Canada; Lexington, Ky.; Chattanooga; Havana; Key West and Orlando, and Havana again for a final landing. Along the way, the three hijackers demanded $10 million in ransom, threatened to crash the plane into a nuclear facility at Oak Ridge, Tenn., and asked to talk by radio with President Nixon while the plane circled above the Florida White House at Key Biscayne, Fla. Nixon's deputy press secretary, Neal Ball, said presidential aides "decided that such a conversation would not be helpful." After the first landing in Havana on Saturday, the hijackers ordered Haas to take off when Prime Minister Fidel Castro refused to meet personally with them.

After a refueling stop at Key West, the DC9 landed at Orlando's McCoy Air Force Base, where FBI marksmen shot four tires. Big chunks of tire rubber and large amounts of oil were found on the runway. The crew and passengers were shielded from newsmen at Miami International Airport. Also injured during the marathon flight were Frank Robinson, 47, of Tampa, Fla., who broke his leg while jumping off a wing when the plane landed in Cuba, and Alvin Fortson, 83, of Trumann, Ark., who suffered head injuries and a broken wrist.

WATT'S THIS? — This is a rear view of Renault R-4 showing the 16 batteries that will power the first electric car that goes into service next year in Dijon, France. $9,600 Bottle Of Wine Gift For Her Husband

HOUSTON (AP) — Jan Pruitt, a Houston housewife, wanted something unique as a Christmas surprise for her lawyer husband, Ronald. She bought him a bottle of wine. Unique? Well, it cost her $9,600. Mrs. Pruitt was the high bidder at a wine auction at a downtown department store. The bottle she bought is indeed a rare wine—Chateau Mouton Rothschild 1925. Only eight jeroboams of it were vinted. Six of these jugs—each four-fifths of a gallon—have disappeared. The seventh was auctioned recently in New York for $9,200. Mrs. Pruitt said she knew very little about wine. But she said her husband, who is putting in a wine cellar at their home, has given her so many nice things. "He's such a unique man," she said. "He's the one man who ought to have this wine."

Balloon Antenna Beats Blackouts

MIAMI (AP) — Larry Garfield, a Miami carpenter, has found a poor man's way to beat the television blackout of sports events—a toy balloon antenna. The balloon is filled with helium and attached by 50 to 75 feet of insulated wire to his television antenna. Garfield then floats the makeshift receiver and picks up on a Fort Pierce station about 100 miles north. "It's worked just great," he says. "Except when it rains."

Twelve Killed In State's Traffic

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Twelve persons were killed in North Carolina traffic accidents during the weekend, pushing the state's highway death toll for the year to 1,680, or 119 more than had been killed at the same time last year. A pedestrian, Larry Ross Killam, 32, of McLeansville, was killed Sunday. He was struck by a car as he walked across I-85 near Burlington, the Highway Patrol reported. A Jacksonville, Fla., man, 47-year-old Charles Otto Nelson, was killed when his car ran off Interstate 95 and overturned 15 miles south of Roanoke Rapids. Carlos David Sluder, 32, of Rt. 1, Alexander was killed when the car in which he was a passenger in ran off N.C. 63 and struck a utility pole nine miles north of Asheville. Two young men were killed in a wreck on a rural Granville County road near Stem when a car being driven at high speed by Daniel Harris Jr., 22, of Rt. 1, Stem overturned and burned. Harris was killed along with John Irvin Tuckoff Rt. 2, Oxford. Gary Wayne Blackburn, 27,

Kissinger Takes Time Out For Football, Show

NEW YORK (AP) — Presidential adviser Henry A. Kissinger took time out from affairs of state to attend a Broadway show and a professional football game matching the New York Jets and Buffalo Bills. After watching the Jets smash the Bills 41-3 Sunday, Kissinger mingled with the Jet players in their locker room and commented, "They were all so friendly after having been so tough on the field minutes earlier." Kissinger also posed for photographs with Jets quarterback Joe Namath, linebacker Larry Grantham and coach Weeb Ewbank. Kissinger said that, as a boy, he was a "baseball nut who idolized Yankee players like Joe DiMaggio and Tommy Henrich."
